Primary elections take place Tuesday

By CHUCK JACKSON

Party loyalists will head for the polls next Tuesday to select their county committeemen and committeewomen in the state's Primary Election.

There will be no opposition to the Belleville Republicans seeking county posts, but there will be a few contested Democratic positions.

Mrs. Mary V. Senatore, Belleville Democratic Chairman, has challenged four of her former district leaders, and two other citizens have also joined in the battle.

Former party regulars Allan Conklin and Anna Mallack of district four and Henry G. McEnery and Dorothy F. Stepich of district three, have apparently fallen from Mrs. Senatore's favor and are being challenged by opposition hand-picked by the town chairman.

Paul J. MacDonald and Joseph T. Fornarotto have also entered their names, but are not backed by the town organization.

Mrs. Senatore said she decided to challenge her former followers because, "the people in those districts don't know their leaders, and I feel they should."

"These people didn't do anything for their districts. I never heard from them from November to November," said Mrs. Senatore. "I want people there to help the citizens of their area, then they will be helping both me and the people. I have no prejudice against them (the people she is opposing). I just want good leadership."

Mrs. Senatore has placed the names of Anthony DeFeo and Cathleen M. Noonan in opposition to Conklin and Mallack and Thomas and Jean Nisibocia against McEnery and Stepich.

All four of the challenged district leaders disputed Mrs. Senatore's charges, each claiming he or she had done the required work.

"Mrs. Senatore can say what she wants," said Conklin. "I have been a district leader for 20 years. I believe I have been doing my job properly and have

New center slated

A state-sponsored nutrition center for low income senior citizens could open in the Belleville-Nutley area as early as July 1.

The program, funded under the Older Americans Act, Title Seven of 1972, would provide meals for senior citizens unable to prepare their own. Currently, a site is being sought somewhere near the Belleville-Nutley line.

According to the Reverend Elbert Maxwell, district director of the program, the Nutley American Legion, Post #70, 45 Franklin Avenue, has tentatively been chosen as the location for the center. Maxwell said he expects representatives from the state to inspect the facilities within the next two weeks, and if approved, the center would open between July 1 and July 15.

There are now four such centers operating in Essex County — in Bloomfield, Montclair, East Orange, Irvington and Newark. More than 500 meals a day are now being served at the centers.

According to Maxwell, the center would operate without cost to the towns involved. Some cooperation from the communities would be required, such as assistance in transporting seniors to the center and the assignment of a public health nurse to the facility.

According to Maxwell, the state must approve all facilities and costs before the center can be opened. He said, however, he did not expect very much difficulty in having the Legion hall approved, but he added, "We will not try and second-guess the state. We will wait until they inspect the facility."

While he hopes the hall will be approved, Maxwell said the search for other potential locations was still going on.

Assistant Commissioner of Public Affairs Ralph M. Risoli said Vincent Strumolo, head of his department, had been trying to get one of the centers established in Belleville for some time. Several weeks ago, Risoli said the Commissioner was "negotiating for several sites."

The program would be selective, serving people 69-years-old and over who, according to Risoli, "cannot afford to eat adequately, or lack the skills or knowledge to select and prepare well-balanced meals."

A spokesman for the Essex County Office on Aging, which is also sponsoring the program, said, "This would provide not just nutritional meals. There are other services provided which the senior citizens may take advantage of."

The program would also be restricted, said the spokesmen, to "isolated people, not just anybody."

"A person couldn't just drop down to the site because he didn't feel like cooking. There must be a real need."

Officials said between 100 and 125 people a day from Nutley and Belleville could be served at the center. In addition to meals served at the location, meals would be delivered to the homes of seniors too ill to make the trip.

The location of the individual sites has been determined, officials said, by the highest concentration of seniors with low incomes. The other four sites were established in this statistical order, with the combined Nutley-Belleville area coming next.

Memorial Day

The firing squad of Belleville VFW Post 275 gave a gun salute to honor the deceased veterans of the country during Memorial Day observances at the monument on Union Avenue. All of Belleville's veteran organizations participated in the days ceremonies at the Rutgers Street bridge, the Union Avenue memorial, and at Town Hall.

Bicentennial luncheon

The Student Council of the Cerebral Palsy Center sponsored its annual luncheon for the students and advisors recently and this year the occasion had a Bicentennial theme. All participants dressed in colorful colonial garb. Shown below are staff members Nancy White, Barbara Weingartner, Peggy Tyminski, and students John Monahan, Anthony Ruggiero, and Jennifer Greenhalgh.

Heavey marks his silver year

Reverend James F. Heavey, Assistant Pastor of St. Peter's Church, Belleville, will celebrate his 25th anniversary of ordination with a concelebrated mass on Sunday, June 13, at 4 p.m. in St. Peter's School auditorium, followed by a testimonial dinner at the Robin Hood Inn, Clifton.

The priest, son of Margaret Heavey and the late Edward J. Heavey, was born in Jersey City and went to St. Joseph's Grammar School there, where his mother is still a parishioner of the church.

He was one of four children, and one of three who chose to make religion his life's work. A sister, Sr. Margaret Heavey, S.C., is principal of St. John's Parochial School, Orange, and his brother, Edward, a Jesuit priest is Dean of Students at St. Peter's College, Jersey City. Another sister, Mary, lives in Jersey City with her mother.

Father Heavey, continuing his Catholic education, attended St. Peter's Preparatory School, Seton Hall University, and Immaculate Conception Seminary, Darlington. He was ordained to the priesthood in St. Patrick's Pro-Cathedral, Newark, May, 1951, by the late Archbishop Thomas J. Walsh, and immediately following his ordination was assigned to Queen of Angels Church in

Valley plan tabled

The Belleville Planning Board once again tabled action on changing the zoning for portions of the Valley so it can study the matter more thoroughly.

More than 40 citizens turned out last Thursday for what one Board member called "one of the more lively meetings we ever had." Many citizens were objecting to the possibility of changing the Eastwood Neally property on Joralemon Street into a restricted business district.

Stanley Slavin, owner of the Terry Shops and a spokesman for the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, addressed the Planners and read from a New York Times article published last October. The story dealt with the city of Harrison's policy of converting deserted industrial areas into residential districts.

Many of those present voiced support for such a plan, indicating opposition to the Board's apparent desire to create a new shopping district in the Valley.

The Planners have been presented with a feasibility study for two family housing on the Eastwood Neally site, but Board member Joseph Doyle said no specific plans for such a project have been put forward.

Some developers have expressed an interest in the property, according to several Board sources, but only conditionally. The builders say they would consider purchase and development of the property only if the Board rezones the area to allow businesses.

When the subject of the Eastwood Neally land came up several weeks ago, Planner president Joseph Grande indicated the group opposed construction of two-family housing, but would be in favor of a restricted business district.

Board member Doyle said the Planners would study the Slavin proposal and weigh its merits. He also said the matter would come up for discussion again at the group's June 10 meeting, and expressed the hope many citizens would attend.

"We are interested," he said, "in hearing the views of the entire town. We would like the people to show their interest or disinterest in the project. The Board wants to hear both sides of the story."

Should the Board decide to recommend a zoning change, such a suggestion would be forwarded to the Town Commission.

Pankewicz named to board

Peter Pankewicz, Vice President and Treasurer of Provident Savings Bank, was elected to the Board of Managers, it was announced by Kenneth F. X. Albers, bank president.

Peter Pankewicz

Pankewicz fills the unexpired term of Marston Ames who resigned after serving on the Provident Board since 1960.

For Pankewicz, a native of Jersey City, election to the board is the culmination of a 29 year banking career that began as a part-time custodian. He performed a variety of odd jobs which included everything from taking out the mail to acting as an interpreter for immigrant depositors who patronized the "Old Beehive" from the time they arrived in the United States. When he joined Provident in 1947, Pankewicz furthered his banking profession by pursuing night courses at the American Institute of Banking from which he graduated with a Major in Savings Management. During the course of his career, he advanced from the position of bank teller to assistant secretary and secretary. In 1971 he was appointed Vice President and Treasurer and subsequently assigned added responsibilities as chief investment officer for the institution.

In announcing his appointment, Albers said, "Peter Pankewicz's experience, knowledge and devotion to Provident is an invaluable asset. We are pleased that he will now share in formulating bank policies along with other members of the Board."

Pankewicz is a member of the Hudson County Tax Research Council, Jersey City Chamber of Commerce, Bergen Carteret Club, Knights of Columbus Council #747, and served as a delegate to the New Jersey First Aid Council. He resides in Moonachie with his wife, the former Mary Sliwosky of Bayonne. They have 3 children.

Cullari is a senior accountant in the comptroller's office.

Cullari and the other employees honored became members of the Port Service Club.

Port Authority chairman William J. Ronan and executive director A. Gerdes Kuhback were guest speakers at the affair. They were introduced by club president, deputy inspector of Police, Thomas J. Coffey of Passaic.

Since its establishment 25 years ago, 2,176 have joined the Port Service Club.

Car case goes to jury

The defendant was arrested May 11 for possession of a 1970 Plymouth reported stolen to Newark police by Aristomena Artilus, 60 Berwyn Street, Orange.

Judge Edward Abramson released the defendant on her own recognizance after referring the case to the Grand Jury.

Officer John Longo of the Essex County Park Police was the complainant in the case.

Verona man is embezzler

A 30-year old Verona man, arrested May 6 for embezzling more than $1,000 worth of cash deposits, was fined $200 and received a six month suspended jail term during proceedings in Belleville Municipal Court on May 20.

Charles Marion, 83 Derwent Avenue was arrested May 6 for receiving $1,115.50 worth of cash deposits between January 30 and April 26 and failing to turn them over to Allen Pontiac, 645 Washington Avenue, Belleville.

Marion told customers the cash deposits were for motor vehicle fees, purchasing deposits, and COD balances.

Judge Edward Abramson imposed the fine and suspended sentence on Marion who pleaded guilty and made direct restitution of the funds.

Norman Allen, of Allen Pontiac was the complainant in the case.

the city where he was made Assistant Pastor.

In 1955 he was sent to St. Peter's, Belleville, where he retained his Assistant Pastor title. Moderator of the Holy Name Society, Guard of Honor, and the Knights of Columbus, the assistant pastor was initiator of the Catholic Young Adult Club, for people in the parish over 18 years of age.

Consistently involved with promotional activities at the church, including bingo and bazaars, Father Heavey has now 350 workers visiting parishioners to obtain funds for restoring the church which was damaged by fire not too long ago. Unknown, perhaps to many, was the fact that Father Heavey was the person responsible for saving church vestments and for bringing the Blessed Sacrament out of the burning building.

Reverend Heavey

Never too busy or too tired to help parishioners and non-parishioners alike, Father Heavey is as much a part of Belleville as St. Peter's Church. Bellevillites will prove that on Saturday, June 12 at 8 p.m. in St. Peter's School auditorium, when they gather together to hold a reception in honor of the assistant pastor.

Cozzarelli group to hold elections

been representing my district the way I should."

All four have served as district leaders for extended periods of time, McEnery serving the shortest period of five years.

None of the four said they had been notified they would be challenged, but learned it "through the grapevine."

There are no challengers to the Republican party organization, but that group is not running a full slate of leaders. Three districts, the fourth and the tenth have no candidates. Political observers in Belleville say the traditional weakness of the local branch of the Republican Party is the cause of the partial slate.

In addition to selecting their county representatives, the voters will also vote for delegates to the National Democratic Convention.

The following is a list of the town's polling places:

Guest editorial

(The following is a guest editorial written by Joseph Cancelliere, a Belleville firefighter and public relations officer for FMBA Local #29.

The Times/News will supply equal space for editorial replies.)

As a spokesman for the firemen and officers of the Belleville FMBA Local #29, I would like, through the editor of this paper, to enlighten the citizens of Belleville. I've spent my entire life in this town and 20 years of it have been on the Belleville Fire Department. I'm sick and tired of hearing the "knocks" from the sidelines concerning both the Fire Department and the athletic field by the self-proclaimed experts.

When the recent award was granted by PERC the Belleville policemen, we felt no animosity toward the police for their opportunity for binding arbitration. PERC is an objective agency in handling disputes in matters of salaries and benefits. Although the Commissioner of Public Safety has gone back on his promise of binding arbitration for firemen, he has had posted the same layoff notices in the firehouses that appear in police headquarters.

As a reply to out town fathers and other "experts" in public safety, whose comments and opinions have recently appeared in print, we would like to pose the following questions:

1. Why are Belleville's police and firemen the lowest paid in the County of Essex, when our tax rate is among the highest?
2. Why should firefighting—the most dangerous occupation in the USA both as to deaths and injuries—be taken on cheaply by the Commissioners of Belleville? The second most dangerous occupation, "mining", has recently received "staggering awards" in pay and benefits (and deservedly so) while being a good 15 percent safer than firefighting.
3. Why hasn't the ISO's (Insurance Services Organization) survey on the level of fire protection in Belleville ever been released to the public?
4. Why are layoff notices posted in the firehouses when we are already dangerously undermanned?
5. Why have jobs been created and handed out (permanent and temporary) over the present administration's reign while the fire department is being destroyed?
6. Why do certain members of the Town's Administration want to do away with Civil Service?
7. Why do other departments in town continue to grow and grow while the Fire Department loses men and officers through attrition?
8. Why is it that the Public Safety Commissioner has shown so much concern for certain police department employees who were out of town residents laid off from other police departments or were ruled illegally appointed by Civil Service? Shouldn't such concern be redirected toward his regular employees?

9. Which services will the Commissioner sacrifice in the Belleville fire department? Will he choose to give up our second ambulance which is now run by only one fireman or will he choose to do away the lone fireman who operates and drives our only ladder company?

10. How long will surrounding communities come into Belleville and assist our undermanned and ill-equipped fire department when they are paying substantially higher salaries and are maintaining safer manning procedures?

11. Why, but for political purposes, should a few knowledgeable loudmouths seem always the ones to be heard and sway the rest of our community?

12. Why is an ex-bus driver "ex"-politician, and present columnist of this paper surprised at a "staggering award" in the offering for our Belleville Policemen? This same columnist was receiving over $1 an hour more than the present Belleville fire and police officers' rate before the new "staggering award" was granted to the bus driver.

13. Why does this same columnist feel that the public should have participation in police contracts when they had none with Transport of New Jersey and it's employees?

14. Why blame binding arbitration for a large award granted to police when this same agency has found in some cases that no money would be granted for a raise in 1976?

15. We do agree with this columnist as to looking to other communities for their treatment of uniformed employees whether it is for binding or non-binding arbitration. He must remember though that the lower the salary is in comparison to prevailing rates, the higher the award will be granted by PERC.

16. I find it hard to understand the destruction of our fire department which is the only department in town that is consistently praised in this same column for efficient, courteous, and skilled service. The many citizens who have required our services are aware of the professionalism of the Belleville fire department, and we will continue to do the best possible job under the most trying conditions for our town's people.

In closing I wonder why Belleville's elected politicians and would-be politicians completely ignore the fact that surrounding communities are accomplishing what they cannot? Perhaps their town leaders take into account the professional opinions of PERC, Civil Service, and the ISO.

Scholarship winner—Mayor Michael Marotti congratulates Anthony "Chipper" Biafore, the winner of the Michael V. Marotti Civic Association Scholarship. The $1,000 award for future education was presented to the Belleville High senior at the fifth annual Scholastic Awards Program at the school.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

"Our constitution works. Our great republic is a government of laws not of men. Here the people rule." This is a statement by Gerald R. Ford, the president of the United States.

Since Belleville, N.J. is still presumed to be a town within the United States of America, although at times it would appear little consideration is given by its elected governing officials either because of stupidity or ignorance of their incumbent responsibility to respect the interests of the people who have entrusted them to govern, we seemingly are being subjected to the type of poor governmental mismanagement that sways the will and right of the people to rule.

I unanimously, our five town commissioners yielded to pressure and agreed to binding arbitration on a police contract that no other community in the area has entered into... a contract that provides a clothing allowance of $250 a year for each officer even though detectives do not wear uniforms nor some of the higher ranking superior officers, a provision for unlimited sick leave, longevity pay, life insurance and Blue Cross-Blue Shield, including Rider J and Major Medical coverage all paid for by the town and time and one-half for overtime in an agreement that continues in effect until a substitute agreement is executed which could mean forever.

All this was done without the participation or voice of the people, notwithstanding R.S. 40:72 et seq. provides all salaries shall be fixed by the governing bodies by ordinance, likewise, R.S. 11 - Civil Service law calls for public hearings to change salary ranges and provides no salaries may be paid above established ranges.

The sorry mess our poorly qualified town leaders have heaped upon themselves and us by abdicating their responsibility to represent and respect the interests of its citizens and taxpayers raises some pointed questions which should be answered.

Were the commissioners shirking their responsibility in acting to protect the taxpayers in an impoverished town faced with bankruptcy or a tax rate increase its people can't afford because they feared the police and firemen who now are asking for the same things the police were allowed to bargain for?

Why didn't they call for a referendum vote if they lacked the courage to deny the demands of their charges whom they had promised the voters before election they would not meet?

Has town attorney John Scott, who represented the town in the arbitration matter with the P.B.A., become an honorary member of that body, and if so, when?

Since it was publicly stated at the last budget hearing the town is faced with a surplus loss of $550,000 and there is no provision for payment of the salary increases which seems to make probable the laying off of 12 police officers which is unthinkable, what are our commissioners going to do to solve the dilemma?

How long will the public tolerate the stark reality of their denial of their inherent right to voice their views and wishes on matters of such significance?

It is clearly established that salary increases can not be paid without action establishing salary ranges which clearly call for passage of an ordinance requiring a public hearing after publishing of legal notice, after first reading passage, and which provides public debate and the prospect of a taxpayer's suit in the courts if passed by the governing body... an action which seems very likely in this matter should our town fathers not resolve this "hot potato" in the public's best interest.

It is becoming increasingly apparent that mounting dissatisfaction is evident among large groups of indignantly concerned residents over the shoddy treatment meted out to them in respect to their ability to cope with ever increasing local taxes... it is doubtful if the spiraling trend continues that they will sit back in silence. It is unlikely they will put up with three more years of the kind of administration they have been receiving. Perhaps it is time to consider some form of more progressive and efficient government more responsive to the will of the people who pay to make it run.

Court blasted on school issue

To the Editor:

When a law is bad, it must be defied, as it was in the time of our Forefathers, who fought for freedom for all the people.

Our Senators (God bless them) remembered the heavy tax load placed on the people by some politicians. Their actions against the income tax defeated six times in the past two years was a step in the right direction.

Any attempt to close our public schools, paid for by the taxpayers, is a new twist in politics.

In my opinion, the ruling by the Supreme Court, is a miscarriage of the law. Those judges were not elected to office, but appointed by the Governor.

If that ruling, as bad as it is, should stand, it should also apply to the county boards of taxation. They are also appointed by those in power and receive tax dollars from the cities to keep them in operation.

I am sure those judges received their educations from the good old tax dollar.

The school children are entitled to an education without any interference by the state. I am not a school teacher. I have no degrees. But I am qualified to teach and since our schools must remain open, I will be willing to donate my services free to keep them open.

I like kids, and someone must pay for their education as other did for us. I, as a taxpayer, and others like me all over the state won't let the kids down.

The school tax has been carried by the property owners for ages. This is no time to change, because it will create serious problems and hell will once again break loose.

The decision of the Court must be appealed to the Federal Courts since they have the power to overrule the state.

Accent On Action

Camp Hope: have fun and learn

Accent on Action is a public service feature written by Barbara Alden of the United Way to inform readers of services and agencies available to them in Belleville. Today's column is about Camp Hope for retarded children and young adults, run by the N.J. Association for Retarded Children, a United Way agency.

Camp for a retarded child or young adult must be only fun but a recreational and learning experience as well. The program at Camp Hope is centered on this premise.

There are five "learning stations", each one supervised by a highly qualified specialist in his or her field. These "stations" include arts and crafts, music and rhythms, physical fitness, a unique educational reinforcement program and swimming instruction. In addition to these, there are special activities, including cookouts, overnight and visits to various places of interest.

The staff at Camp Hope includes over 50 counselors and specialists and 15 dedicated volunteers. Many of these have been affiliated with the camp for many years. A full time school psychologist, Mr. Pat Antonelli of the Nutley Schools, is on the staff, and a registered nurse is always on duty. Charles Martin, camp director, teaches and lives in Nutley.

Camp Hope features two Olympic sized heated swimming pools, a playground, athletic field and picnic groves. There are a number of large, well equipped buildings, including one for rainy day activities and arts and crafts.

Between 350 and 400 children use the camp every summer, averaging about 135 children a day. All retarded young people, from six to young adult, residing in Essex or West Hudson counties, are eligible to attend Camp Hope. Chartered buses provide transportation from pickup locations to the camp site.

The cost of the camp is modest, on a sliding scale, based on ability to pay.

Funding is made possible by your United Way gift, private contributions and government funds.

Campers are taught swimming by certified Red Cross instructors, who hope to have at least 15 campers pass the Red Cross Advanced Swimmer test this year.

It is not surprising that Camp Hope with its varied programs, large professional staff and high standards of health and safety, has been accepted as a member of the American Camping Association. Camps which meet the exacting ACA standards are camps of high quality programming and administrative operation. Camp Hope is the only camp in New Jersey catering specifically to mentally handicapped citizens that has received this coveted accreditation.

If you know of a retarded young person who would benefit from this camp experience, the place to call is the Essex Unit of the N.J. Association for Retarded Children. The phone number is 676-8070.

The State We're In

Jangled nerves don't need more noise

By DAVID F. MOORE

One of the byproducts of crowding, as in this state we're in, is an increase in nervous tension. If crowded people are subjected to loud noises where they live, work or try to relax, tension can be translated into emotional breakdowns and a surprising list of physical problems—possibly even increasing cholesterol levels!

A case very much in point is Lake Hopatcong which, while proclaimed as New Jersey's biggest lake, is really pretty small when you consider that 25,000 persons live along its shores and many times that number seek its recreational advantages.

Inject the nerve-racking roar of unmuffled racing speedboat engines into that crowded scene and you've got a very successful situation indeed. The lake is popular, not only for formal powerboat racing, but for practice runs for such boats.

Not unexpectedly, a lot of people are disturbed at this violent disruption of their lifestyles. One woman claims that noise readings have approximated the expected sound level of the controversial Concorde supersonic airliner.

The New Jersey Marine Police officially rule the waves on Lake Hopatcong, and that includes sound waves, too. An arm of the Department of Environmental Protection, the Marine Police have the statutory power to either permit, prohibit or otherwise control the operation of unmuffled powerboats on the lake.

So far, according to complaining local residents, they've pretty much given the small but noisy group of racing boaters an unobstructed green light.

All of which raises to obvious question: Should a tiny segment of the population enjoy special privileges at the cost of the comfort and safety of the great majority? It doesn't seem right.

None of the foregoing relates to the ordinary powerboat, which is required by law to be equipped with an efficient muffler.

Other states are enforcing noise limits on recreational waters like Lake Hopatcong, which may account for the influx there of practice operation of racing boats. California and Arizona, for example, have agreed on a maximum noise level for the Colorado River which is dramatically lower than the sounds bouncing off the northern New Jersey lake. On top of that, relatively few people even hear the boats along the desert shores of the Colorado!

As I said, New Jersey's Marine Police already have the legal muscle to control such noise by boats.

Even more control waits in the wings, should it be deemed necessary. It is embodied in a bill, A-1747, recently introduced in the New Jersey Legislature by Assemblyman, Walter J. Kozloski, of Monmouth County.

The Kozloski bill, referred to the Assembly Agriculture and Environment Committee, would require an environmental impact statement to accompany an application for licenses, permits or authority to operate airports and to conduct motor vehicles or motorboat races.

Record Review

Tubes' second album

By ANTHONY BUCCINO

Last year the Tubes burst out of the San Francisco Bay Area to take the United States by storm, breaking attendance records in the process. The Tubes were voted "Best New Band of the Year" by the readers of "Creem," one of the leading rock magazines. Their second album "Young And Rich" (A & M) should reinforce their cult popularity or banish the Tubes into obscurity.

The title track could be the opening theme of a movie, a didactic screenplay. I can see the credits rolling by. Listen to that music, it's the "International Animation Festival." No, actually it's a "dream-come-true." That's the way the lyrics go, but there's no more to this song than I can scratch with my fingernail.

Hacking its way into the Bicentennial hearts of America are the choppy vocals of "Proud To Be An American." It is not as good as it could be. It's more like a toddler playing with the speeds on the phonograph.

"Stand Up And Shout" was drawn from the drawers, written "a full decade anon", it might as well have been left to catch the dust for all the good it does here.

"Poland Whole/Madam I'm Adam" is about as screwy as the music gets on "Young And Rich." Poland Whole" is like the vocalists are in the next apartment. "Madam I'm Adam" picks it up. The music builds, the pretense is off the wall but I like it. The sundry instruments and the pace are as tasty as a liverwurst on rye.

The best song on "Young And Rich" is "Brighter Day". The music is very good, lively, enlivening, and simply a pleasure to hear. The vocals are better here, by way of clarity, than on any other cut. I still may not be able to figure the lyrics out - but at least I can hear them.

"Don't Touch Me There" is about exactly what you think it is. The lyrics are very colorful, "The smell of burning leather as we hold each other tight..." And the melody is precisely as it way intended, the rich sound (which cost thousands to reproduce) comes out like "Leader Of The Pack" in dialogue.

The Tubes put on an exciting stage show (banned in West Virginia) moving about with wild abandon. This explains the inaudible lyrics. Different mikes were used to keep up with the erratic styles of the singers. They should have just tied the singers in a chair.

The "Tube World Tour" is not spectacular but worth a listen. "Tubes World Tour" does have some new rhymes, "Bonjour mi amor" is one. And a camp of Maurice Chevalier's "Thanks Heaven For Little Girls". The two messages are completely different. But then The Tubes is something completely different.

The Tubes seem to want to keep their identities secret, they have such unusual names. "Fee Waldo Waybill" and "ReStyles" are just two members, a prime example of what I mean. Is this anyway to run a rock group? I doubt it.

I wouldn't want to meet this group in a dark alley. The Tubes "Young And Rich" doesn't take me anywhere I want to go. This is my idea of a "Monty Python Loose In A Recording Studio" album. I just have one question: Is this supposed to be funny? If it is, the joke must be on me, I don't get it.

Radio's no toy to Thompson

The Citizens Band Radio fad has caught the imagination of a public that finds a need fulfilled by talking from the security of a car to other unseen mobile broadcasters. Even the First Lady is out spotting smokies. It might be the American Dream.

This latest manifestation of the dream is frowned upon however by Norman Thompson, Belleville's Civil Defense Radio Officer. "It's too bad so much emphasis is on CB," Thompson said. "Mainly because youth isn't getting to learn about radio. CB is instant gratification to talk on the air. As with everything else today, it's turn a switch, it's on."

Thompson, 56, became interested in amateur radio when his grandfather gave him a crystal radio set in the 1930's. He has been a member of Belleville's Civil Defense radio unit since 1949. The emergency radio system of Belleville, Thompson notes, is not citizens band but amateur radio.

The members of the Belleville radio net, which is associated with the American Red Cross and American Relay League, are all amateur radio operators, according to Thompson. Each Sunday, a Civil Defense radio drill is conducted by the eight stations of the unit. A complete amateur radio station located at the Essex County Geriatrics Center is one of the Belleville unit's stations.

All the members of the Civil Defense network in Belleville are also members of the Belleville Amateur Radio Club, according to Thompson. "We are looking for additional members to join our Radio Club and our Civil Defense activities," Thompson said. The radio officer added the new members could be trained by the group through an adult education program at Belleville High School.

"The world of amateur radio is an interesting place, filled with adventure, it is one of the frontiers still left for the youth of today," Thompson said.

The world of radio was opened to Thompson when he earned his amateur license as a student at Belleville High School. He subsequently earned a degree in Physics from Muhlenberg College in 1941. During the war Thompson worked on Long Range Radio Navigation for M.I.T. and later helped run the multi-channel radio teletype station for the Supreme Headquarters of American Expedition Forces in Frankfurt, Germany.

After the war, Thompson went into business with his father's real estate and insurance company. He is now head of Appraisal Research, a Belleville company that appraises fund values for the veterans administration and environmental protection agency.

Transcendental meditation is recommended by Thompson for relaxation and relief of stress. He is a director of the Montclair chapter of the International Meditation Society. Thompson said meditation accents the positive in life and is not a religion. If one percent of the people of Belleville meditated, the crime rate would drop 10 percent, according to Thompson.

Born in Belleville, Thompson said, "The town has been good to me." He is past president of the Belleville Rotary Club, vice-president of the Belleville Foundation, a member of the Belleville Historical Society, a member of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, and dean of the Realtor Institute at the County College in Morris.

Mayor moves to improve avenue

By JODI MASSONE

One year ago

One year ago Mayor Michael Marotti took the first official step toward creating a unified Belleville business district improvement when he called for the cooperation of all citizens and governmental bodies in reaching that goal. The Mayor, concerned about the deterioration of Washington Avenue business, enlisted the aid of the Planning Board of Adjustment, Commercial and Industrial Development Committee and others to come up with some kind of a plan for causing business to improve in town.

Taking priority was the improvement of Washington Avenue's physical appearance, particularly along the avenue's southern portion.

Representatives of both the PBA Local 28 and FMBA Local 29 were to meet with four Belleville Commissioners in Town Hall to discuss terms of 1975 contracts for the Public Safety Department.

The police and firmen had been working without a contract since the beginning of the year.

A change was due to take place that following July in the Belleville Times/News. The newspaper was to adopt a six column format for editorial matter and a nine column per page format to take care of the display advertising material.

Five years ago

The Town of Bloomfield filed a complaint against the Town of Belleville. It seemed that flood conditions in Bloomfield were caused by Belleville, and Belleville was ordered by the State Department of Environmental Protection to demolish Hendricks Dam and lower the soil level of the Second River in order to control Bloomfield's flooding problem.

The state's instructions were a result of the complaint which charged Belleville with narrowing the stream by dumping debris into it.

Nine years ago

The movement to halt county government from erecting a vocational school on the land in the Soho section of town continued to grow. Members of the Bellwood Park Homeowners Association, a flourishing group which was in opposition to the plan, was intensifying its efforts to obtain signatures on petitions which vigorously condemned the construction of the building on property which had been allotted solely for the use of Soho Hospital. The Town Council had sent a resolution to the county censuring the school plan.

Fourteen years ago

Wilford Yudin was to be installed as president of Congregation Ahavath Achim. Also to be installed were: Dave Robbins, first vice president; Lou Chaiken, second vice president; Nathan Weiss, treasurer; Henry Creditor, financial secretary; Don Tuchman, corresponding secretary and Mrs. George Sosin, recording secretary.

Nineteen years ago

The Town Commission accepted an ordinance paying $59,000 for water mains in the Rutan development. The ordinance, which had been tabled at a previous meeting of the board, received its strongest opposition from Commissioner Robert Gruhin, who stated that the town shouldn't pay for the water, but rather that the company should. In opposition to Mr. Gruhin, Max Sherman related that it was stated as law that any municipality should meet the regulations of the proposed ordinance without charge.

Twenty-nine years ago

News leaked out that L. Bamberger and Company was planning to construct a large warehouse in the Silver Lake section of Belleville. At a Commission meeting two men had conferred secretly with the Board prior to its regular meeting. It was reported on good authority that the one represented Bamberger's and the other Thomas Edison, owners of the property the Newark department was interested in.

Forty-four years ago

A second fire within two months caused considerable damage to the loft and roof of the barn at Lampert's Dairy at 482 Joralemon Street. A previous fire had damaged two milk trucks. Fireman Harry White was overcome with smoke at the blaze and had to be revived by his companions who carried him from the burning building.

Fifty-four years ago

Twenty members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Reformed Church attended a picnic and inspection given by the C. E. Union at the Fresh Air Home near Roseland.

Health Commissioner and Mrs. W. B. Watson and Charles Watson motored to Atlantic City for the holiday.

Baseball is really Ryan's game

Rod figures he may finally have a baseball player in the family. Ryan, 8, is a member of the Yankee team in B League and loving every minute of it. Hauled me off to Drowes to buy his cap, a bright royal blue, and that and the blue baseball socks are the only parts of his uniform that really fit him! The pants could accomodate another child with no trouble. I'd take them in but frankly, I don't know where to start.

I've come up with a solution however. Somewhere in the house are a couple of pairs of regulation Yankee knickers that belonged to the Stottlemire boys and if I can only lay hands on them, the kid may have some hope of getting through the "season" without the embarrassment of descending trousers.

But the fit of the uniform is a very minor thing. The only thing that's important is that he enjoys himself and that his coaches are wise men who realize that the name of the game is teaching the fundamentals of the great American pastime and not emerging victorious every week at the expense of some little one's hurt feelings.

I have long contended that one of the unfortunate things about organized baseball for young children is the attitude of some parents who take every strike out, every missed catch, every tag out at base as a personal affront. You'd almost think they had the family home riding on the outcome of the six innings!

Ryan has classmates on opposing teams and was quite concerned about the ribbing he would have to take after his team lost. "Look, Ryan," I said, "if anyone kides you, tell them the season's only begun, that you've only played the first game." "Yeah," he agreed, "but what do I say if we keep on losing?" "Don't worry," I consoled, "I'll give you a new comeback every week!" Fortunately, I haven't had to.

Congratulations to Belleville and Nutley officials and others who presented such a strong case for the retention of the #15 line and won. When we first moved to town, the #15's driver was a grand old gentleman who ran what came close to a taxi service for his regular patrons. Thought nothing of taking a detour down some side street if one of his passengers was loaded with bundles. I remember him stopping at our door many times, leaving the bus and helping my mother and her belongings safely to the door. Never met a man who enjoyed his work so much. Met plenty who couldn't stand it!

Speaking of buses, Rod would rather not. DeCamp is on strike and he's sure all 16,000 of their passengers have descended on him at Port Authority Terminal. Came home hoarse the other night from yelling. There were so many people on his platform, he couldn't reach the booth to use the public address system and had to depend on lung power instead. "Thought I had everything under control," he moaned, "and when I looked around, there was another multitude pouring off the escalator." Courage, my friend. Nothing lasts forever.

YOU AND YOUR PET

Compassion

Every year at this time, the American Humane Association sponsors "Be Kind to Animals Week." It's a good time, I think, to salute the Association's many achievements and to review its ongoing animal care programs.

The American Humane Association will celebrate a century of service next year. During the past 99 years, the AHA has worked to prevent cruel treatment of animals in human custody and to see that they are not deprived of their basic needs.

The AHA has led campaigns for inspection, regulation, legislation and enforcement. These campaigns have resulted in the growth of veterinary services, rabies control in pet animals and wildlife, humane transportation and slaughter of food animals, and pet animal population control programs.

Consultative services to motion pictures and television producers are also provided by the AHA during the filming of animal action. Additionally, the AHA provides inspection services for zoos, circuses, horse shows and rodeos. And once each year, the AHA awards prizes to animals whose antics are directed on television or in film. Lassie, Pyewacket the cat (from Bell, Book and Candle) and Trigger the horse are among the long listing of PATSY (Performing Animal Television Star of the Year) award winners. These awards help to call public attention to the value of kindness toward animals.

In many communities across the country, there is a growing cooperation between veterinarians and humane organizations. By working part or full-time in an animal shelter, these veterinarians help solve problems that involve the community's overall animal population. They help direct programs of nutrition, sanitation, isolation and vaccination. And since most of the animals entering the shelter have unknown health histories, the veterinarian makes a careful examination of the pets for parasites, inherited abnormalities and signs of infectious disease.

Both the American Humane Association and the veterinarians who work with the Association are particularly concerned with the pet population explosion. The AHA has calculated that one female dog, under ideal conditions, can be responsible for the birth of nearly 500 female dogs in a 5-year period if each litter produces two females. If, on the other hand, each female produces three females per litter, the end result in 5 years is close to 5,000 females! These are startling figures when we consider that any community with a human population of 50,000 might have from 100 to 300 stray female dogs within its boundaries on any given day.

Kindness, benevolence and compassion are important aspects of the humane movement.

Batsmen capture Big Ten crown

By JOSEPH RYAN

The Bellboy batsmen won the first Big Ten championship for the Blue-Gold in ten years by defeating Montclair last Wednesday but the satisfaction of the crown was soon dimmed by a state tournament loss on what Coach George Zanfini said was "an ugly call."

Livingston beat Belleville, 3-2, in eight innings last Saturday in the state tournament. The BHS coach said he planned to file a formal complaint to the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association on the officiating of base umpire Fred Bell at the tourney game.

Today the 22-4 Bellboys will end their season with a home match against Columbia at 3:45 p.m. This year's Belleville diamond team has a chance of accumulating the best record in the history of baseball at BHS if they defeat Orange and Columbia.

Tuesday's Belleville game at Orange was rained out and the make-up date, tomorrow or Monday was announced too late for this edition of the Times/News.

The Blue-Gold nine suffered their second tournament loss of the year to the same team, by the same score, when Livingston downed them on Saturday, 3-2.

The Bellboys also suffered from what Coach Zanfini called an "incompetent" umpire. The coach said half a dozen of base umpire Fred Bell's calls were questionable ones that hurt the Bellboys. Livingston executed a double play in which, according to Zanfini, the Livingston second baseman never touched the bag. A Livingston batter who claimed to be hit by a pitch was awarded first on a consultation by the plate ump who did not see the ball hit the batter, with Fred Bell the base path man in blue, who maintained the batter was hit.

The most controversial call according to eyewitnesses was the one that won the game for Livingston with two out in the bottom of the eighth. A bases-loaded hit by Livingston firstbaseman White, was fielded by Bellboy Doug Stone at first and Stone dove and tug the base with his glove. Zanfini said Stone had the runner beat by a "good stride" but White was called safe by Bell and Livingston won, 3-2.

"It's a shame a game of that magnitude had to be decided on a play like that," the Blue-Gold coach said. "It's not sour grapes. If it went both ways you'd say, well, but we seemed to get the brunt of it," Zanfini added. "The base umpire was atrocious."

The coach also noted Fred Bell was the umpire at last Wednesday's Blue-Gold game against Montclair. Zanfini said he was almost ejected by Bell at the Montclair game after Bell as the plate ump threw Cancelliere out of the game.

Track season ends one contest short

The Bellboy cindermen have finished their track season with a 6-7 record because they were unable to reschedule a rained-out meet with East Side.

Track coach Rich Ruffalo said he would have liked to have made up the meet to give the team the opportunity to finish the season with a .500 record. He said the team members were eager to run one more time but the arrangements couldn't be made with East Side.

The Blue-Gold cindermen were downed last week by Bloomfield's runners and jumpers, 70-52. Nick Semaca was the high Belleville scorer in the meet taking 10 points for BHS with two first place finishes.

Semaca won the high hurdle event with a 15.8 second time and conquered the intermediate hurdle field with a 44.2 second time.

Hurdler Mark Romanel was second to Semaca in both events and scored six points for the BHS column. A 16.5 second finish in the high hurdles gave Romanel three points and he picked up three more with a second spot in the intermediate hurdles running the 330 yards in 44.7 seconds.

Track coach Rich Ruffalo said Semaca's and Romanel's time in the intermediate hurdles were the best on Belleville's track for the year. Fran Morel's seven points in the Bloomfield meet was the second highest point total for the Bellboy effort. Morel won the pole vault event with an 11 foot vault for five points. The senior Bellboy also took a second place in the discus with a 144 foot eight track inch toss.

Belleville co-captain Nelson Seda won the mile run clocking four minute 46 second time. This race was Seda's best of the year by two seconds according to cinder coach Ruffalo. Bellboy Bob Cavanaugh finished third in the mile for a Blue-Gold point with a five minute 23 second run.

Blue-Gold cinderman Jim Del Guercio took second in the long jump and

Rowers fared well

Crew coach Sam Giuffrida said his 1976 Bellboy team "let people in the crew world know that Belleville is here, take notice."

The team announced its arrival this season with victories at the Poughkeepsie and Stotesbury regattas and by qualifying for the finals in national competition.

The varsity eight shell let the world know its talent by rowing to an undefeated river season and taking the top prize at the Poughkeepsie meet. Sixteen shells from different schools found out where the Bellboy varsity was — in front at the finish.

The junior four boat announced Belleville by defeating 17 shells and finishing the season as the fourth best shell in this country and Canada.

The senior four man spotlighted the town with 10 wins on the season and the junior varsity eight shell came on strong at the end of the season to take second at the Poughkeepsie Regatta and post a 12-6 season's record.

The varsity crew win at Poughkeepsie was the first win at the Hudson regatta for Belleville in 13 years. Shell coach Giuffrida called the varsity the best boat he's ever coached. "I don't think the kids doubted themselves once through the whole season," Giuffrida said.

Mr. "G" also praised the varsity's initiative. "They coached themselves," he said. "The big thing of the season was their attitude. It was the first crew I didn't pick a captain for. They pushed each other. Every guy knew his responsibility."

The river coach also noted the maturity of the young varsity boat. "They were constantly looking for things to improve the shell. On the water that

Lifters lug home titles

Last week at the Junior National Weightlifting Championships in York, Pennsylvania, Frank Falgares won the 132 lb. class with lift of a 209 lb. snatch and a 259 lb. clean and jerk.

Although Falgares is only 16 years old, the term junior does not indicate teenage. It merely means that the entrants have never won the U.S. National Championships previously. So it can be seen that Frank was in some tough competition against men in their twenties in a sport that usually favors older athletes.

This is the competition Belleville's Phil Grippaldi won in 1966. Phil won the first of his many national titles the next year and the Belleville Barbell Club is hoping the same thing will happen to Frank Falgares.

The club had another place winner in Brian Derwin who was third in the 242 lb. class. Derwin made 314 in the snatch and 418 in the clean and jerk. The 418 was actually a Junior National record for a few minutes, until the winner of the class, Garry Drinnon of Chattanooga, Tennessee made 440, a few minutes later. Derwin's lift probably secured a berth for him on the U.S. Olympic Team, so Derwin is only 22 pounds behind Olympic caliber.

Other lifters for the Belleville Barbell Club who lifted but did not place among the top three were John Maynard in the 165 lb. class; Bob Giordano, 242; and Terry Manton and Bruce Klemens in the Superheavyweights. The team was coached by New Jersey Olympic Chairman Bucky Cairo.

The next meet for the Belleville lifters is the big one, the U.S. Senior National Championships to be held next month in Philadelphia. The meet will also serve as the Olympic trials. Belleville's Phil Grippaldi is in the best shape of his life and hopes to win back the 198 lb. crown which he lost last year.

Jim Silvestri given AD post

The Board of Education announced last week the appointment of eleven year wrestling coach, Jim Silvestri as Athletic Director at Belleville High School.

Silvestri said he was very happy with the appointment and was eagerly anticipating next September when he officially assumes the duties of retiring Athletic Director, Herman Wische.

"I always like a challenge and I hope I can do as well as Mr. Wische," Silvestri said. The new director added that Wische had been very helpful in solving the immediate problems of scheduling and bus contracts for next year to make the transition in the office smooth.

There are no immediate big plans for the department according to the new director. "For the present time I want to get my feet wet," Silvestri said. More girls varsity sports will be on the agenda for the future, however.

"It's very discouraging for girls to compete with boys. Every child should be able to participate. In the future the girls should have separate teams," Silvestri said. The former wrestling coach added the school's financial situation will have a big say in how soon girls varsity teams are formed.

The future of the Big Ten will be the

Olympic day

Belleville Junior High School held its annual Olympic Day at Belleville Municipal Stadium last week. The events included girls and boys softball throw, shown above and at the right, student races, faculty races, and relay events. The event in this olympic year had a Bicentennial look with some participants dressed in colonial costumes.

Number one

Frank Falgares of the Belleville Barbell Club, took first place in the 132 pound class at the Junior National Weightlifting Championships in York, Pennsylvania. Falgares, 16, won in his class with a 209 pound snatch lift and a 259 pound clean and jerk. The Belleville weightlifter is next scheduled to compete at the United States Senior National Championship this month in Philadelphia.

Tourney marred by call

Bell returned to toll the end of the Bellboy state tournament chances with the last call at Livingston. Zanfini said he would not protest the game because it was a judgement call but he said he intended to file a complaint against Bell. "I think the man's incompetent," Zanfini said.

Base hits by Bellboys Scott Osche and Chipper Biafore drove home runs for the Blue-Gold in the seventh and eighth inning of the loss to Livingston. The BHS bats trailed going into the seventh when they tied the contest on a single by Michael Cancelliere followed by a sacrifice bunt by Greg Dunleavy and the RBI hit by Osche that scored Fred Racioppi, who was running for Cancelliere.

Belleville went ahead in the top of

Circle II team leads its league

Two teams remain undefeated after four weeks of play in the Recreation Mens Softball League. Circle II has won three in the Monday night league and Fashion Habitat in the Tuesday night schedule is also undefeated at 3-0.

The Circle II team has yet to face DeBacco Brothers or Viola Brothers. Watco is tied with De Bacco in the Monday meets and they are trailed by Viola Brothers, Garden State Pet Supply, and McDonald's.

Fashion Habitat is trailed in the Tuesday schedule by Mr. Foamy and Chandelier with 2-1 records. Also tied are Roselli's American and Corrine Motel while the Circles are winless.

Rossmore Pharmacy and Joe's Alignment share the lead in the Wednesday League with 3-1 standings. Second place is shared by B.B.G. and Landolfi at 2-2 and the Shamrocks are tied with the Edsons at 1-3.

A real contest is in the making in the Thursday League where first place is jointly held by Vee-Bee Exxon and Ron's Pub. Next, at 2-2 is a three-way tie among Belleville Hess, Marson's Plumbing and De Witt Savings and Loan. Bel-Lap is still trying to find the way into the win column.

BHS linksmen upset Essex C.

The Bellboy golf team upset previously unbeaten Essex Catholic, 10 -8, last Friday to even their season's record at 5-5. Essex Catholic won 15 matches in a row before falling to the Blue-Gold. A confrontation between the two teams earlier in the season resulted in an identical score with Essex victorious.

The Blue-Gold linksmen finished at .500 last year and will have a shot at a winning season when they play Irvington away today.

The Belleville golfers started with only five men in their upset victory so they automatically relinquished three points to Essex Catholic. The Blue-Gold golfers were accurate enough last Friday to overcome the handicap and took the contest with five men.

Number one golfer Joe Cassase scored three points for the Blue-Gold linksmen with a 39 round. Second linksman Hugh Mallack also brought home three points for Belleville with a 41 stroke score.

The Bellboys took 2½ points thanks to Dan Tribune's 42 round and 1½ points on Joe Widuch's 42 stroke performance.

The Bellboys forfeited the fifth man spot and Mike Flynn was beaten by the sixth man on Essex Catholic.

Golf coach Mike Salzarulo said the win was a very big one for the BHS linksmen and he added the team had an excellent chance of beating Irvington today to end the season with a winning record. Salzarulo said although the team would lose some seniors this spring, most of the steady players are underclassmen and the Blue-Gold has good prospects for next year.

Today's final match at Irvington is a make-up of a contest that was rained-out two weeks ago.

Crew put town on the map

boat was as serious as could be. Nothing I asked was too much of them," Giuffrida said.

The shell coach said the highlight of the varsity season was the victory at Poughkeepsie. The strategy, according to Giuffrida, was to take one race at a time, all the while aiming for a win at the Poughkeepsie. The coach said the varsity undefeated, 16-0, season was almost an accidental result of the race by race strategy. "To me, all the races were tough," the shell coach said.

Giuffrida called the second varsity victory over Nutley the turning point of the season. The Blue-Gold had defeated the Maroon Raiders in a close early season contest in Philadelphia but after the 16 second win over Nutley on the Passaic, the coach and the rowers began to realize the shells potential.

The Belleville shell men knew Nutley had a majority of last year's varsity returning and wondered if their 16 second win was a fluke. Coach Giuffrida said the 11 second triumph by the Bellboys over Nutley at the Goodwill meet increased the rowers confidence in their abilities.

The defeat of Nutley at the Goodwill also brought the varsity Goodwill trophy to Belleville for the first time in two years. While Giuffrida said it was disappointing not to take the overall trophy, he considered the varsity race the main event. The coach also noted the four man shells will compete at the Goodwill's next year. If the four man race had counted at this year's Goodwill meet, Belleville would have tied Nutley for the overall point total.

Coach Giuffrida, summarizing the Bellboy varsity 1976, said "they were intelligent, spirited, full of pride, certainly a group of guys Belleville could be proud of. We rowed up and down the east coast and when we left, people knew where Belleville was."

The oarsmen who rowed the "Excalibur" to an undefeated varsity season were, Keith Waddell, Don Paterno, Mike Barbone, Rich Budrick, Mike Davis, Paul Melchionne, Doug Dorival, Paul Denning, Joe Donnataria, and coxswain Mike O'Connor.

After the varsity ended its season at Poughkeepsie, the shell broke down into the senior and junior four boat. The juniors kept right on winning, conquering all opposition.

third in the 100 yard dash to score four points in the meet. A 20 foot four inch leap secured second for Del Guercio in the long jump and his 10.6 second time gave him third in the dash.

Bellboy runner Mike Lamberti ran his best time at home for the year when he finished second in the two mile run at eleven minutes 12 seconds. Keith Allum also took a three point second place in the 880 run with a two minute 12 second race.

Two Belleville field event men also took seconds. Leo Dunham cleared the pole vault bar at nine feet six inches for a second spot and co-captain Vito Guarino won three tallies for the cindermen with a 46 foot one and a half inch heave of the shot put.

Freshman Mike Graham placed in two events for the Blue-Gold by running the two mile event in 12 minutes three seconds for third and taking another bronze point for his two minute eighteen second run in the 880.

John Matera also placed twice for Belleville starting with his best 440 race of the year according to coach Ruffalo. Matera's 56.4 second 440 race was followed by his best long jump of the season when he leaped 19 feet three inches for a Belleville third in the jump event.

Despite a recent muscle pull, Bellboy Doug Jackson finished third in the high jump when he cleared the bar at five feet six inches.

the eighth after Anthony Marino singled and was advanced to third by Bob Giordano's double and scored on Biafore's hit. The scoring opportunities ended when Giordano was thrown out at the plate trying to score on Marino's single.

The Bellboys lost their third game of the year in a regular season contest against Hillside last week. Downed 8-5, coach Zanfini called it a day "we just didn't do anything right."

The Bellboys opened their scoring in the second inning when Greg Dunleavy walked and crossed the plate on a single by Scott Osche. John Guarino batted in Rocco Balsamo and Anthony Marino with a single. Hits by Osche and Frank Mozeika in the fourth led to runs and the final Belleville run came in the seventh when Biafore on with a hit scored when Michael Cancelliere reached first on a fielders error.

Last Wednesday, the Bellboys took their first Big Ten championship in ten years by taking Montclair, 5-4.

Diamond coach Zanfini said the Big Ten championship was the title the team had set its sights on at the start of the season. All of the Bellboys runs came in the third with three hits that followed three walks.

Marino, Biafore, and Michael Cancelliere walked and Greg Dunleavy singled with the bases loaded to start the rally. Hits by Nicky Cancelliere and Scott Osche brought home the runs that clinched the win and the Big Ten title.

the biggest project for all schools in the league next year according to the new AD. "Right now, I don't know if it will still be in existence," Silvestri said. He added the Big Ten's future is "very cloudy" at the moment.

Silvestri said he will probably keep teaching a couple of math courses at the school while he has the AD post. He has been at Belleville High School for 13 years and coached wrestling for 12 years, eleven as head coach.

Safety Tips for . . .

Backyard Barbecues

Outdoor cooking offers hours of fun and relaxation for the entire family and for friendly gatherings, providing that certain safety steps are recognized and followed.

To guide barbecuing enthusiasts in their cooking, John Deere, a distributor of barbecue grills, makes these suggestions:

1. WHERE to use the grill is an important consideration. Place the grill on level ground, where it will be stable. An anchored grill is a good choice, because it can't be tipped over. Select an open area for proper ventilation. Never attempt to cook indoors on a charcoal grill; the burning briquets can generate poisonous carbon monoxide fumes.
2. WHEN to barbecue is influenced by weather conditions. On windy days, even if the grill's cooking area is protected by a windshield, be extra careful to prevent flames from escaping and doing damage to the surrounding area.
3. WHAT to use to start a charcoal fire is important, because some materials are more dangerous than others.

Do not use kerosene or gasoline! A small amount of special charcoal lighter fluid is the preferred method of starting charcoal. Use a long, kitchen-type wooden match to ignite the fire, and immediately move away from the grill. Don't try to add more starter fluid after the charcoal begins burning. When lighting a gas grill, always raise the cover before turning on the gas.

4. HOW to be cautious during cooking involves both the operator and the design of the grill. It is recommended that you wear a large apron and insulated cooking mitts. When lifting the grill's cover, keep your distance from the heat. Some grills feature side-mounted lid handles to help eliminate the burn hazard. Be sure to use long-handled cooking utensils that have sturdy, heat-resistant handles to provide a firm grip. Keep children away from the grill during cooking and until the grill has cooled.

By following these tips, avid barbecuers can be sure of safer, more enjoyable years of outdoor cooking.
