Mini-convention

Belleville Schooler, Lawrence Schwartz moderated the Young Democrats mini-convention last week. The forum featured addresses to the assembled delegates by county Democratic candidates and delegate candidates to the convention next month in New York City.

Judgement call

Town may receive funds for juveniles

By CHUCK JACKSON

Belleville is seeking $42,300 in state funds to improve and extend services offered by the town's Juvenile Bureau.

Public Safety Director Rocco Saletta has announced, and the Commission has approved by resolution, an application to the State Law Enforcement Planning Agency (SLEPA) requesting the funds. If approved, Belleville could receive a total of $126,900 over a three-year period for use in the juvenile department.

According to Saletta, the money would be used to move the department's facilities to larger headquarters, provide a fulltime social worker, a secretary and a parttime psychologist. Some of the money would also be applied to the purchase of office equipment.

The juvenile bureau is currently located behind Belleville Town Hall in a converted frame house. The building, more than 50 years old, was formerly used by the Health Department.

Saletta said there would be no cost to the town if the application for funds is approved. Saletta's department applied for the money through Bruno Associates Incorporated, a firm hired by the town to help seek out possible funding for various municipal projects. The company receives $10,000 a year from Belleville for its services.

Saletta said tentative plans called for moving the juvenile department away from the police station to a new location, possibly in the Valley section of town near Nutley. The department is looking for a relatively modern office building with at least 700 square feet of space.

The SLEPA funds, which could be renewed twice after the initial year, would pay for the rental of the facility. In addition to paying for the new offices, the money would also pay for employment of a fulltime social worker. The juvenile department in Belleville is currently manned by three police officers.

The social worker would work with

Upsets highlight races

The upset nature of the New Jersey state primaries carried down to the local level Tuesday when three organization district candidates were defeated.

Anthony DeFeo, Thomas S. Nisivocchia and Jean G. Nisivocchia — all backed by Mary V. Senatore, Belleville Democratic Chairman — were defeated by challengers Allan Conklin, Henry G. McEnery and Dorothy F. Stepich.

Statewide, presidential contender Jimmy Carter was upset by the slate of uncommitted delegates representing Hubert Humphrey and California Governor Jerry Brown. That pattern was also evident on the local scene.

Though a complete and final delegate count was not available when the Times/News went to press, Town Clerk Eugene Barnett said preliminary indications showed victory by the uncommitted delegates in this area.

The organization backed Democratic candidates for Freeholder were all victorious in Belleville, with local resident Paul J. MacDonald, a challenger, coming in fourth. He polled 1,124 votes. MacDonald was also unsuccessful in a bid for a district leader post, losing to Anthony Agresta in the Ward One, District One race by five votes, 92-87.

Voters braved what some observers believe was one of the most confusing ballots in history to cast their votes in the primary. There was also, according to Town Clerk Barnett, confusion locally because of recent voting law changes.

According to Barnett, new procedures, which required voters to declare themselves 50 days before the election contributed significantly to what he called "mass confusion at the polls in Belleville."

"People had to declare themselves 50 days before the election," said Barnett, "but the candidates didn't have to file petitions until 40 days before. This upset a lot of people."

Barnett also said many local voters complained because former California Governor Ronald Reagan's name did not appear on the ballot. Reagan had not filed in the state.

The defeat of the organization-backed district leaders came as a bit of a surprise. Mrs. Senatore had placed the names of the regular party candidates on the ballot because, she said, "I was not

Coach goes to court

By JOSEPH RYAN

The rules of a game and the boundaries of the law have been confronting each other in the sports world recently. Last week, some overzealous Celtics fans beat-up a referee. This summer, a few Philadelphia Flyers will face court charges in Canada. Tonight, a Belleville coach will appear in court to answer assault charges initiated by an umpire.

Belleville High School baseball coach George Zanfini has been charged with assault and battery by umpire Fred Bell. The alleged assault took place at the end of the Belleville-Livingston state tournament game on May 29 at Livingston.

Zanfini said Bell accuses the coach of "beating upon him and punching him. I was totally upset at what had happened but I have enough sense not to hit anybody," he added.

The incident occurred following Belleville's extra-inning 3-2 loss of the group four, section two championship game to Livingston. The contest was decided in the bottom of the extra eighth inning when a Livingston player beat out a grounder to the first baseman for a bases loaded hit to drive in the winning run in the tie game.

The controversy stems from whether or not the Livingston runner, White, was safe at first. If he was out the inning would have been over and the game would have gone into a ninth inning.

Zanfini said when the game ended with Bell's call of safe at first, "I went up to him and complained about the call. We went at it verbally. I was standing, yes, but I never put a hand on him."

Priest marks 70th year

Msr. Anthony DiLuca this Sunday will celebrate the 70th anniversary of his ordination into the priesthood. The pastor emeritus of Holy Family Parish will be honored with a 12:30 p.m. mass with Archbishop Peter L. Gerety as the principal celebrant.

Concelebrants of the noon mass will include the Rev. Francis J. Blake, Holy Family pastor, and other priests assigned to the parish including the Rev. Robert P. Cozzini, the Rev. Michael A. Saltarello and the Rev. Joseph F. Barbone. Neighboring pastors have also been invited to participate.

Holy Family is planning a luncheon after the mass Sunday. Only 300 tickets are available and reservations are being handled by calling 667-4430, 667-5483 and 667-9157.

Now 95 years of age, Monsignor DiLuca is retired from parish responsibilities although he remains in good health and offers mass daily in his room.

The Monsignor came to Nutley in October 1933 and has served here ever since.

He directed the construction of the present church and in 1950, the elementary school and a year later, the convent building.

This Sunday, Monsignor DiLuca will mark the 70th anniversary of his ordination which came in the province of Materna, Italy, where he was born on March 12, 1881.

He came to the United States in 1907, a year after his ordination, and first served as a missionary in a remote mining community in Texas.

His health then failed and Monsignor DiLuca returned to Italy for several years. Eventually, he came back to America and served in several parishes. Before coming to Holy Family in 1933, he was assigned to Our Lady of Libera Church, West New York.

Father Blake and Msr. DiLuca have been together the past 34 years.

Sunday's luncheon, which will also be attended by Archbishop Gerety, is being sponsored by the parish and will be held in the school auditorium.

Mayor to meet on revaluation

Mayor Michael Marotti has scheduled a meeting this Sunday to discuss possible methods of completing revaluation in Belleville.

Marotti said Monday he would meet this weekend with Sal Calabro, a spokesman for the Citizens' Union, Peter Torre, the town tax assessor, and G. Fred Burlazzi, a real estate assessor to discuss Calabro's plan for revaluation.

The town is currently under a Superior Court order to vote for funding for the task, and Marotti said he is attempting to find an alternate method which would fulfill the order.

Calabro has proposed having local officials complete the task of estimating the value of property in town, saying, "A clerk could do it in a couple of weeks with a calculator."

The Board of Commissioners has been ordered to appropriate $149,000 to pay for revaluation. Failure to vote for the money has placed several of the Commissioners in possible violation of the order.

Marotti said he would meet Sunday with Calabro, Torre and Burlazzi to determine whether the proposed plan is workable. "I am trying to find a less expensive way of performing revaluation," said the mayor.

According to Calabro, revaluation could be completed by taking the value of property in town and multiplying by .63, the current assessment rate used by the county. This would, he said, eliminate the need for an outside firm.

Some local officials doubt the feasibility of the plan, pointing out the complexities of revaluation. It has also been pointed out the town would have to assume all improvement to property have been reported to the assessor's office.

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

The Essex County Council of Senior Citizens' Clubs had its regular meeting May 24 at the Civic Center in Bloomfield, chaired by David Grossman. The meeting was of short duration in order to have enough time for the presentation of a program to celebrate Senior Citizens' Month.

The program consisted of local talent and it was easy to see some had professional background in the entertainment business. Songs were by Mrs. Miriam Grossman, Mrs. Mildred Blessing and Mrs. Lena Hooks. They were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Eleanor Lemassena.

Mr. Megliacano recited an original poem entitled "Spring," and Esther Usdin presented "Count Your Blessings" and a nostalgia trip of Newark.

Honors were bestowed on Jennie Hulse, 108-years-old and Phillip Jacobson, 98-years-old.

Mr. Bernard Gallagher, Director of the Essex County Office on Aging, was present and he mentioned, among other things, the Jamboree and the many needs of seniors. He suggested that seniors receive an increase in their benefits more in accord with the raise in the Consumer Price Index.

This most enjoyable and entertaining program concluded with the singing of "God Bless America."

The members of the Belleville Senior Citizens' Club who were on the Wildwood Crest trip last week, two busloads, arrived home on Friday afternoon with all members accounted for. Except for the bad weather of two days, the excursion was declared a success. The side trip to Cape May and the boat trip were most enjoyable as was the food and the hospitality of our motel hosts. We can now rest up and get ready for the next trip.

The hosts at the clubhouse last week, to whom we owe thanks, were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D'Amato.

The capacity to shed tears shows a greatness that not even genius is capable of.

Sherman, Harris named to Maass planning group

Mrs. Shirlee Sherman of Belleville and George Harris of Nutley have been appointed to the Long Range Planning Committee of Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. The committee will work with the hospital in updating the long range plan, developed in 1974 by Health and Institutional Consultants, Inc.

Institutional planning is required by Federal and state laws. The Health Care Facilities Planning Act makes it mandatory for hospitals and other health care facilities to prepare and review annually long range plans that are compatible with the overall state plan.

Long Range planning has two major purposes: to encourage institutions to utilize a proven management process in analyzing their present and future roles in the communities they serve, and to promote and improve area-wide health planning, so that all health care institutions in a given area will work together to provide the maximum patient care, with the most efficient, economical use of facilities.

The Clara Maass Memorial Hospital Planning Committee includes members of the Board of Trustees, the medical staff and hospital administration. The appointment of Mr. Sherman and Mr. Harris provide a necessary link between the community and the hospital.

MRS. SHERMAN, owner of Sherman's Children's Wear Shops in Belleville and Nutley, is active in civic affairs, and has chaired the "New Baby of the Year" project for ten years in Belleville and five years in Nutley.

One of the first women to be named to the executive board of the Jewish Center in West Orange, Mrs. Sherman is also vice president of the Redwood School and Lincoln Junior High School in that community, and a past president of B'Nai Brith Women. She and her husband Sol have three children.

MR. HARRIS, who is president of Oil-Ways Fuel Corporation, has compiled a long record of community service. He has been president of Nutley Rotary and the Nutley Chamber of Commerce, Exalted Ruler of the Nutley Elks, chairman of Nutley United Way and of that town's Red Cross, member of the Nutley Planning Board and a Commissioner of Assessment for Nutley.

Bicentennial prayer

An important thing is happening in Nutley — a group of citizens, on their own initiative, has organized for the purpose of emphasizing during this Bicentennial year, the need and value of prayer in our daily lives.

It is their method of direct participation in commemorating the Bicentennial of America's birth.

The leaders of this inspired group are Mrs. Jan Houston and Mr. Victor Palm. The community owes them a debt of gratitude.

They want to encourage Americans to pray for America. They want to encourage Americans to set aside fifteen minutes in their daily lives to pray for our country. They want to encourage Americans to pray at home — pray at work — pray anywhere — just as long as we set aside a few minutes daily in silent communication with the One who can help us most in this world — God. We think the Citizen's Committee for Prayer in the Bicentennial is one of the finest developments in a long, long time. We urge our readers to meditate for one moment to appreciate the joy of joining others to celebrate this Bicentennial with special emphasis upon prayer.

We believe in the power of prayer. We believe in God. We believe our country needs prayer now more than ever. Mrs. Houston and Mr. Palm need your help to make the effort successful. Prayer is not only the refuge for troubled people, its outstretched arms also provide a cradle for tranquility and inner peace. If you think you have a need for the best, the most inspiring company in the world, it is yours for the asking — all you need do is pray to God.

P.S. The leaders of the Nutley Bicentennial Prayer Group can be reached by phone — 235-0268 or 667-2885.

About Prayer

Author Paul McElroy gives us his version of the meaning of prayer. It is one man's view, but it is timely to repeat here:

Prayer is not an attempt to get what we want but an endeavor to give God an opportunity to do what He wants through us. Prayer is not begging from God but cooperating with Him. The thing to be sought is not how to get our way, but how to accept the will of God. The intent is not to change God's mind, but to change our attitudes. Prayer is really thinking in God's presence. As the level of our conscience is raised toward the level of God's thoughts, the happenings of life are seen in truer perspective. Effective prayer involves a deep yearning to know God, an eagerness to trust God all the way, an ability to relinquish our hold, and a willingness to "let go and let God."

A great season slightly tarnished

The Varsity Club honored Belleville High School's athletes last week and the Times/News joins the salute to those students who rounded out their education by participation in the athletic program.

The Blue-Gold athletes were particularly talented this spring on the undefeated varsity eight shell and the Big Ten championship baseball team. All of Belleville can be proud of all the athletes who represented the town in competition.

It is unfortunate the baseball team's state tournament hopes ended on a close call. It is even more regrettable the umpire confronted by diamond coach George Zanfini decided to charge the coach with assault.

Tempers often flare in the heat of competition and sudden loss. Coaches should know the limitation of anger and umpires should know the pain of disappointment. Baseball is a game, a recreation to be enjoyed, an athletic diversion that, especially on the high school level, should not have to resort to legal proceedings to resolve grievances.

Whatever the outcome of the court case, it cannot diminish the accomplishments of coach Zanfini and the 1976 Bellboy baseball team. Their Big Ten win and 20 game victory streak will be remembered much longer than the court contest.

Young Dems — Mrs. Mary V. Senatore, Belleville Democratic Chairman addresses the first Young Democrats Political Forum convened last week at Parrillo's. County Democratic candidates and local presidential delegate candidates addressed the mini-convention on their views of the local and national scene.

Student questions selection

To the Editor:

Many students of Belleville High School are not aware of the procedures followed in selecting students for the Key Club, the National Honor Society and the High Honors group.

It is not based on grades. Why not go strictly by grades alone and not for personal reasons?

Many students have been denied selection for the above groups simply because it is done on a teacher-voting system. This system of voting should be abolished. It can cause prejudice in the selection of students because he or she may not be liked by the faculty or may not have a popular name in town.

This system has resulted in many highly qualified students being bypassed or overlooked — denying them the right to be selected.

After a great deal of discussion with many students, we agree, in order to eliminate a great deal of anguish and mental depression, the Superintendent of Schools should be given a full report on the validity of the high school's method of selection for the Key Club, the National Honor Society and the High Honors group.

On June 3, I was informed that I was not selected for recognition for High Honors by the Belleville High School System. According to their system, I missed inclusion in the group by .08 of a point. I feel by grade average I should graduate with High Honors.

I felt I had a great deal going for me, having served on the sophomore senate, having been elected president of the junior class, and having served on the school executive council for two years. I also participated in football and track for four years. With all these responsibilities, I maintained a high academic average of 3.727.

I also coached a Recreation Department team of boys 10- to 12-years-old.

Teaching what I have to offer is important. That is why I want the underclassmen to know how these clubs and honor groups are run. They should go to the guidance department and be given rules on selections and told how the honor group is achieved.

I hope no one discovers, just 13 days before graduation that he or she was denied graduating with high honors by .08 of a point — by the school system of quality points given in addition to your grade average. This happened to the undersigned.

The system should deal only with a student's academic average.

ACCENT ON ACTION

They help people take a big step

Accent on Action is a public service feature written by Barbara Alden of the United Way to inform readers of the agencies and services available to them in Belleville. Today's column concerns the Cerebral Palsy Center in Belleville, a United Way agency.

"We try to get them out of wheelchairs and on to crutches!" said John Dickinson, administrator of the Cerebral Palsy Center. "We have youngsters walking around here who have never walked before. These are the most important steps of their lives, and our job is to provide the helping hands."

A summer camp program is planned again this year at the Cerebral Palsy Center, which is located behind Clara Maass Hospital in Belleville. The regular winter program offers therapy and regular academic work. "But the summer camp is just for fun," emphasized Mr. Dickinson. "The children spend a lot of time in the pool, and just enjoy themselves, as any youngster would at camp."

There are a number of volunteers helping with the children. "These volunteers, our foster grandparents, make it possible to give each child all the attention he needs," said Mr. Dickinson. "They work on a one-to-one basis with the youngsters. You can see why I say we couldn't exist without volunteers. If we had to pay all these people, the cost of care would be out of reach for most families."

"Our fees are on a sliding scale, according to need," Mr. Dickinson continued. "United Way provides about 25% of our funding; the rest we must make up through fees and fund raising activities by interested groups. We have several organizations who have taken on the support of specific services, such as our dental service. This makes it possible for our funds to be used to expand our other services and help more children. We are most grateful to the community minded people who make this possible."

The annual budget is around half a million dollars, according to Mr. Dickinson. This must cover the cost of salaries to 42 professionals, and maintenance of the building, which has been owned by the Cerebral Palsy Center since 1956. "There are 31 rooms in the building," said Mr. Dickinson. "It seemed like too much space at first. Now we have submitted a Certificate of Need application to the State Health Department asking for approval to add a floor to one wing. This will give us an additional 8000 square feet of space in thirteen rooms. We're just bursting at the seams, and this space is desperately

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

We feel obliged to warn Joseph Cancelliere, the frantic fireman spokesman for the local FMBA, that fulminating distortions of facts and casuist, specious statements are unpardonable, cardinal sins in the field of journalism. Abuses of this nature must be brought out and exposed for what they are — lies.

He says (Guest editorial, June 3, 1976), alluding to me: "This same columnist was receiving over $1 an hour more than the present Belleville fire and police officers' rate before the new 'staggering award' was granted to the bus driver."

He also wants to know why loudmouths sway the community and why the public should have a voice or participate in police or fire contracts.

We don't know what right firemen have to go around snooping into private citizen's personal business, although they being public servants, we have the right to delve into what they get from the town. I have done this in Mr. Cancelliere's case. The comparison is most revealing and puts the label "big lie" on his story.

Everyone knows that Internal Revenue W-2 form you have to file on your income tax tells what the whole story of your yearly gross earning from your employer. So let's look at the record for 1975 earnings.

Mr. Cancelliere was paid by the Town of Belleville $15,842. This year, he can expect an additional $275 because his last raise was for only nine months of the year.

From my employer, I grossed $13,863.53. I never received any portion of the latest rate increase in the new contract, which becomes operative in July, since I retired as of last week. Moreover, perhaps Mr. Cancelliere might like to tell us about his relatives earnings from the town.

The loudmouths are concerned citizens, many on social security or small pensions, who cannot cope with Belleville's ever rising tax rate caused by money-hungry lobby groups such as the PBA, the FMBA and the NJEA, whose members are already getting much more than union members in private industry.

In view of the foregoing, why shouldn't the public participate in police and fire contracts. They are the ones paying for them, not the politicians who play up to these groups to gain votes.

Another factor that is seldom taken into consideration when these discussions of salaries are figured in, and that is the matter of pensions. When salaries go up, the town's contribution to the pension fund increases, which means more taxes. The increase in the town's contribution to this fund is $80,500 over last year.

Since the adoption of the 1975 budget, before the last town election, when our candidates promised a freeze on all wages of town workers, the increases resulting from police and fire raises granted by our Commissioners, has to date brought about the following increases in the 1976 budget over 1975:

A deferred charge of $153,000 for the nine months of raises that were not provided for in the 1975 budget and a whopping $200,000 more to provide for the full year increases this year. This brings an increase in police and fire salaries to $353,000. Then, added to this must be included the $80,500 the town must put into the pension fund, bringing a total of $433,500 more to be raised through local taxation for police and fire protection than in 1975.

And still, they ask for more. If the foolishly entered into binding arbitration award were ever put into effect, it is easily discernible to many of our residents that they will be unable to meet their tax load.

It's not a case of picking on cops or firemen or teachers, it's now a matter of financial survival, especially for senior citizens and retired people, such as I have now become.

THE STATE WE'RE IN

Energy may soon wield money's power

By DAVID F. MOORE

Someday the economics of energy - how much has to be expended to get a given amount back - will shape activities in New Jersey and elsewhere much as dollar profit and loss figures do today.

For example, it's pretty clear to most people that what a farmer produces is energy. It's in the form of food, but of course food is a basic vehicle of energy which we consume so that we can expend energy while at work or play.

But it takes energy to make energy, so a farmer uses energy while he produces it. Not just the energy provided by his own muscles, but the energy from fossil fuels to run his machinery and, in most cases, to fertilize his crops and treat them with pesticides.

It say in most cases, because organic farmers use no "artificial" fertilizer or pesticides. They get laughed at a lot by those who label them kooks, zealots or faddists, and sneered at by chemically-oriented agricultural experts like Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz who, in 1971, said, "Before we go back to an organic agriculture in this country somebody must decide which 50 million Americans we are going to let starve or go hungry."

Maybe by this time Butz has read a report issued last summer by a research team at Washington University, St. Louis, which studied the economics, both in money and energy terms of organic vs. standard farms in the corn belt.

Operating costs of the organic farmer were $31 per acre, compared to $47 per acre for the farmer who bought fertilizer and pesticides. But higher productivity through use of fertilizer brought more income, so that in terms of money the conventional farmer received $132 in income per acre of production, and the organic farmer, $134.

The impressive finding was in the amount of energy expended per dollar. The conventional farmers averaged 18,400 BTU's per dollar, but the organic farmer got by with only 6,800 BTU's per dollar, practically a threefold difference!

Here in New Jersey we can, and should, employ the same energy overview in the way we use land. Organic farming isn't much different than observing natural laws in land use control; it's far cheaper both in money and energy to abide by the dictates of natural systems than to strive constantly to overcome them.

For example, the energy requirements are much less when we build something on level ground than on a steep slope. And it certainly costs less in money and energy alike to let a river flood its floodplain from time to time than to employ intricate engineering stunts in order to keep the river from flooding, merely to increase flood plain land values.

Finally, there's the most obvious energy factor of all:

Don't put sewage into the environment by way of streams and oceans—farm with it instead! That's one kind of fertilizer that won't be choked off by the Arabs!

Lady answers guest editorial

To the Editor:

In reply to the "Guest editorial" of June 3, I was afraid the firemen would be next with this binding arbitration thing like the police force. They have no regard or mercy for the poor people of this town.

A contract with such outrageous demands like those stated in Mr. Golden's column are a rip-off. These are disaster times. Cities are going bankrupt. They have the selfish nerve to initiate such a thing.

They are doing very well indeed with their $1,000 raise last year and their fringe benefits, sick leave and medical benefits, vacation with handsome pay, their time-and-a-half or even double-time overtime pay. They are getting much, much more than the surrounding towns are getting!

They are even getting paid $5 an hour or more for driving the senior citizens' buses and still they want more.

That alone contradicts Mr. Cancelliere's questions and statements. It is a known fact that the Belleville police and firemen are the highest paid in the county. Other towns have volunteer police and fire departments and so should we.

Civil Service is too extravagant with salaries and benefits when the poor people have to support it with their blood money.

The Board of Education needs more money if anybody.

The town employees are living high and mighty on the taxpayers' money. They don't care how the poor people who are unemployed and on fixed incomes are living and may even lose their homes.

I for one, have to live on a meager social security check of $193.70 a month. It is almost impossible and now it is a damn shame with all these demands and property tax increases.

So have a heart, please, at least during these disaster times.

Writer supports Calabro's view

To the Editor:

After reading the article in your paper several weeks ago by Mr. Sal Calabro (May 6), I fully agree with his statements. The people of Belleville have been ripped off by the majority bloc.

Ever since they entered into the real estate business, thousands of dollars in ratables have been lost. This is also true all over the state. New jobs have been created and our taxes have reached an all time high.

The Homestead Act, approved by the people for tax relief, is still in mothballs. All we got from those in power was lip service, while all new tax programs that bring in billions of dollars in extra revenue were for the benefit of the state.

Property valuation in some cities is too high and out of line compared with others. Successful appeals have been made by some people and that proves the point. Other business people closed their doors and left the state.

The Jergens Corporation, a good neighbor for many years, shut down in Belleville and moved away, increasing the ranks of the unemployed.

A new broom will sweep clean. All the people in town and the state fed up with power politics must now work together for a change and protect themselves in November.

We can no longer tolerate the actions of the big three and others in power. They refused to listen to the people at a special meeting, and this was a slap in the face.

In my opinion, the rights of the people have been violated by bending the rules. The meeting on the issues was a new one on a new day, and the people had a right to be heard.

If the people of Belleville do not protect themselves and the town from these politicians, no one else will. Too much time has been wasted and still they did not get the message.

The GOP is the party of the people. We must do what is right. Forget Watergate, that is a thing of the past. So are the Teapot Dome, Tammany Hall and the Pentagon Machine. They were under Democratic control. The party is not to blame for the sins of a few. All have been removed in time.

It is now up to the people to keep the record clean, or face more serious problems in the future. I've given those in power responsible for the mess in the state a nice package with a blue ribbon, all will be lost.

She's still a lead swinger

Eunice Conover, Belleville's premier senior citizen, says staying active is the secret to being a "Swinging Senior" in Essex County.

The Essex County Park Commission Senior Citizen Group has recently honored the lifetime Belleville resident for "her extensive involvement to help better the social and physical conditions in Essex County for her fellow senior citizens."

"I enjoy it and I think the seniors appreciate it because they show me confidence and I appreciate that," Mrs. Conover said. The confidence of the Belleville and Essex County seniors is evident in the fact Eunice Conover will be the local delegate to the New Jersey State Convention for Senior Citizens at Asbury on June 24.

Although Mrs. Conover admits to being a senior citizen, she declines to reveal her age. "It's a woman's prerogative and I'm old enough to know better than to tell."

Belleville is far ahead of many other towns in the state in its concern and programs for senior citizens, according to Mrs. Conover. The free bus in Belleville for seniors was one of the first in the state, Mrs. Conover said. She added the two seniors groups in town are very large and active. There are 700 members in the Belleville Park group and 800 participants in the Belleville seniors group.

Mrs. Conover notes Belleville association meets at the Senior Citizens building at Frankfin and Mill streets and that any senior from Essex County is eligible to join the Park group which meets on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays. Activities for these groups include arts and crafts, singing, aerobic dancing, and music.

Fixed incomes are a problem for the elderly, according to Conover, and she said she would like to see more attention paid to food prices health care, and housing for seniors by the national government.

"There are a lot of things that seniors get short changed on a national level," Conover said. Seniors are also fighting for housing and property rebates from the federal government, Mrs. Conover added.

While seniors have become activists, they have not lost a taste for enjoying themselves. Conover points to trips to Wildwood, Lakewood, Radio City Music Hall, the Garden State Arts Center, and the Senior Citizens Jamboree at West Orange as part of the recent itinerary for the local swinging seniors. Mrs. Conover said she was very pleased with the cooperation in Belleville and the county with all senior projects.

Some of Mrs. Conover's seniors projects include her work as secretary for the Thursday group at Belleville Park, trustee for the Belleville Senior Citizens, recording secretary for Essex County Office of Aging Council, and a three year term on the Advisory Council for the State Division of Aging.

"I enjoy my work here with the aging," Mrs. Conover said. "I love them all."

Eunice Conover lives at 80 Ralph Street and works in Food Service at the Essex County Geriatrics Center when she is not working voluntarily for seniors. She is a member of the School One PTA and the Belleville Historical Society.

SEEMS ONLY YESTERDAY

Town to make salary proposal

By JODI MASSONE

One year ago

The Mayor revealed the Belleville Board of Commissioners had promised to make its initial salary proposal to Public Safety Department employees within two weeks. In a two-two vote the Board of Commissioners nixed the purchase of three police cars from the State motor pool. Commissioner Rocco Saletta said the action might cost Belleville taxpayers more money.

After a meeting between three Commissioners and negotiators for both police and firemen, the Town was assembling data for its first counterproposal.

The 78th senior class was to graduate that following Tuesday from Belleville High School.

Principal Raymond O. Smith expected 3,000 to 4,000 people to attend graduation ceremonies at which 440 seniors were leaving the high school.

The Town was to be catapulted back into a time warp when seventh graders from the Junior High School proclaimed "Belleville Junior High School Living History Day."

Under the guidance of the Social Studies Department, Belleville seventh graders were to re-enact events out of the past history of Belleville in different locations around the community throughout the day. The program, entitled "A Glimpse Into The Past," was to have students performing their many parts dressed in costumes similar to clothing worn during the era to be depicted.

Five years ago

The Board of Education was expected to decide whether or not to build an addition to the Senior High School. Although Board president Leonard Backton said officials of the school were undecided, there were strong indications the majority of the Board of Education members were committed to construction and the only real question in the air was how many bond referendums to have.

Nine years ago

Army Specialist Four Steven Crowley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Crowley of 337 Stephens Street, was awarded the Combat Medical Badge for service in Vietnam. Spec. Crowley received the award for services as a medical specialist under hostile fire. He had entered the Army in 1965 and had been stationed at Ft. Lewis, Washington prior to his arrival overseas in October 1966.

Fourteen years ago

The Board of Education decided to board up temporarily the inside walls of the east portion of the James G. Shawger School and then determine the extent of permanent repairs which might be necessary.

According to architects called in to make an estimation on the job, the completed work would cost the Town somewhere in the neighborhood of $21,000.

Nineteen years ago

The Custodian of School Monies, Arthur Ackerman, was bonded for $250,000 on a resolution proposed by Board member George Brown. Ackerman was bonded by the Town of Belleville for $30,000, and the question of bonding him for the Board of Education had come up at a special meeting of the Board.

Max Schwartz, the Board attorney, stated that not having the Custodian of School Monies bonded was unthinkable.

Twenty-nine years ago

The Board of Commissioners agreed to reimburse the state in the amount of $7,000 for the utility cost of the temporary housing project in town. The matter had been the subject of a state-wide controversy and one which had threatened to hold up the additional 18 units which had been scheduled for construction on Belavista Avenue and Cortlandt Street.

Mayor Tully said that there was a moral obligation on the town's part to pay for the utilities in question.

Forty-four years Ago

Dr. Daniel E. Kavanaugh, of 252 Washington Avenue, was elected and installed as president of the Belleville Lions Club at a meeting of the organization. Mr. Kavanaugh succeeded A. Edward Locher in the presidency. Prior to his election, he had been chairman of the major activities committee.

Private George A. Younginger Post VFW held an Americanization meeting in Town Hall. Speakers were T.D. Gottlieb and Senior Vice Commander John DeWitt.

PTA elects new leaders

New PTA officers were installed in a special ceremony conducted by Mrs. Viola Narucki on Wednesday, May 26 at the Belleville Junior High School.

Receiving their new assignments at the candlelight ceremony were: Mary Jo Cardinale, president; Jany

Murphy, first vice president; Catherine Ritchel, second vice president; Mario Di Maggio, third vice president; Michael Lally, honorary vice president; Irene Nitti, recording secretary; Cora Boice, corresponding secretary and Beverly Wilkerson, treasurer.

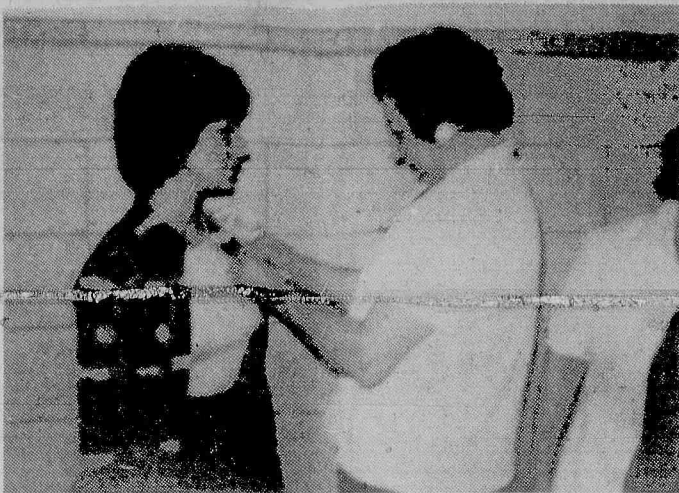

HSA chooses officers

At a special candlelight ceremony on May 19, Mrs. Joan Broo, school secretary installed new officers to the Home and School Association of School Eight.

Those installed were: Lillian Norton, president; Addie Cetrulo, first vice president; Marie Kimble, second vice president; Nicholas Peti, honorary vice president; Aileen Walker, corresponding secretary; Pat Gardner, corresponding secretary and Joan Holly, treasurer.

Newly installed president of the PTA, Mrs. Mary Jo Cardinale, receives her president's bar from Mrs. Marie Rainone, outgoing president of the group. Installation of officers took place May 26.

Maass volunteers honored

Adult and teenage volunteers who contributed nearly 70,000 hours to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital in 1975 were recognized recently during special volunteer awards presentation ceremonies at the hospital.

Adults, 132 in all, whose service hours ranged from 50 to 20,500 were honored and 96 teenagers, with service hours from 50 to 1,250 hours, received awards. Marion Vath, director of volunteers at Clara Maass made the presentations.

Among the adults, Julia Huemer of Belleville was the top volunteer, with 20,500 service hours, followed by Rose Clarke, also of Belleville with 12,250 hours and Edith Munzig of Nutley with 10,750 hours.

John Monaco of Lyndhurst led the teenagers with 1,250 hours, followed by John Malcolm of Belleville, recipient of the 1976 Kiwanis Juvenile Decency Award, with 750 hours.

The awards programs were timed to coincide with New Jersey Hospital Volunteer Month, which is sponsored by the New Jersey Hospital Association. The importance of volunteers in providing health care, demonstrate ever-increasing opportunities for volunteers and encourage wider participation by the community in these activities.

BIACA begins drive

The Belleville Italian American Civic Association has announced the naming of Aldo DiChiara, Zoning Board member, as chairman of the group's drive to appeal for funds to aid victims of the northern Italy earthquake.

"The acceptance of this position by DiChiara," said a spokesman for the IACA, "should prove a stimulus to the efforts of those seeking funds to aid the stricken people of northern Italy."

DiChiara pointed out that the recent earthquake resulted in 1,000 dead and 180,000 people left homeless.

He said workmen are still digging in the ruins for those reported missing. This number tops the 500 mark, and fear has been expressed that "the missing" are actually dead.

Churches and hospitals were damaged in the quake, and the financial loss of the disaster has not been estimated, although one report has it that all the hospitals in the northern section have been destroyed.

In complying with Governor Brendan Byrne's proclamation of June "Italian Earthquake Relief Fund Month," DiChiara announced the drive will only be for the one month and at the conclusion of the drive, a check will be presented to the Italian Consul or an official representative of the Consul.

All contributions may be sent to BIACA Earthquake Relief Fund for Italy, 6 Smallwood Avenue, Belleville.

Ginamarie Mignone scores for skate club

Ginamarie Mignone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mignone, Belleville Avenue, was instrumental in scoring points for her Silver Blade Skating Club, during the Ice Skating Institute of America's figure skating competition held recently at South Mountain Arena, West Orange.

The accomplished nine year-old, who skated to the tune "Love and Marriage," not only skates, but also takes lessons in swimming, baton twirling, tennis, drama and guitar.

When she isn't practicing any of her numerous activities she finds time to indulge in junior Girl Scouting and cooking, and in between finds time to do homework and just "gab" with the girls.

Grandmothers, grandfathers and others

An aunt of mine brought home the following dissertation the other day. A copy of it had been given to her by one of the professors at Rutgers and its too good not to share with you. I haven't a clue where it originated so I am unable to give credit where credit is due. It's called, "What's A Grandmother?" and was written by a third grader.

"A grandmother is a lady who has no children of her own. She likes other people's little girls and boys. A grandfather is a man grandmother. He goes for walks with the boys and they talk about fishing and stuff like that.

Grandmothers don't have to do anything except be there. They're old so they shouldn't play hard or run. It is enough if they drive us to the market where the pretend horse is, and have lots of dimes ready. Or if they take us for walks, they should slow down past things like pretty leaves and caterpillars. They should never say "hurry up."

Usually grandmothers are fat, but not too fat to tie your shoes. They wear glasses and funny underwear. They can take their

Grandmothers don't have to be smart, only answer questions like, "Why isn't God married?" and "How come dogs chase cats?"

Grandmothers don't talk baby talk like visitors do. When they read to us they don't skip or mind if it is the same story over again.

Everybody should try to have a grandmother, especially if you don't have television because they are the only grown-ups who have time.

Isn't that delightful? I hope my children's children think that kindly of me when I reach the grandmother stage. My own kids are the lucky possessors of two grandmothers. Neither of them is fat. Both have infinite patience. Both wear glasses and I won't comment any further on their physical appearance or dress except to say that their raiment is often a lot more stylish than my own. They also don't mind having their hair combed.

Butterscotch drops and extra spending money emerge magically from their capacious pocketbooks. Laps are always empty for sitting on and the same story sounds better the third, fourth or fifth time around, especially when read by someone who isn't rushing to get dinner on the table or a load of work in the machine or a column finished before a deadline.

The grandpa we own doesn't go for walks or talk about fishing with the boys. He fixes things that daddy never gets around to and relates tales of his life as a boy in Massachusetts and is always eager for a game of chess and doesn't care if his opponent knows beans about the game.

Ryan came home recently with a description, not of grandmothers, but of me. It reads, "My mom has black hair and blue eyes. She is pretty. She has a little bit of a pointy nose. But I don't care. I love her! She helps my brother and me do stuff and cooks dinner for my father and brother and me." And that says it all.

Community Mental Health Services will launch child abuse program

At the spring orientation meeting for members of the Board of Trustees of the Community Mental Health Services for Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, the professional staff discussed the work, objectives and accomplishments of the agency. The Board is composed of 21 members, seven from each town, five being chosen by the Mayor and the Board of Commissioners, and the other two elected by the Trustees. Officers of the current Board include Paul Cunningham, Bloomfield, president; Michael Nardiello, Belleville, vice-president; Marie Carlone, Bloomfield, secretary and Howard Fonz, Nutley, treasurer.

The Services agency is funded by the three municipalities on a basis of population and service rendered with matching grants, on a 40/60 ratio, from the State Department of Institutions and Agencies. Contributions and grants from other sources help round out the budget. A recent benefit, "The Boy Friend", presented by the Roche Players will help the therapeutic summer day camp for boys and girls. For the past five years the dramatic group of Hoffmann-La Roche Inc. has similarly aided the agency. Another May benefit was staged by the Auxiliary of the agency in the form of a Chinese auction held at the Amvets headquarters in Belleville.

Beginning in June the Service agency will have a child abuse program, according to Mrs. Ruth O. Cowell, executive director, at no extra cost to the three communities. A grant from the State secures the monies with some additional help from the Schumann Foundation and Hoffmann-La Roche Inc. The program will provide help for both the child abuse parents and their children. All references on child abuse will come through the Division of Youth and Family Services.

The Boston Store marks 57th year

The Boston Store was founded in June, 1919 by Mr. and Mrs. Abram Atkins. Because of its success, the original store was razed in 1922, and in its place a new more modern store erected, with a floor space of 1500 feet. New departments were added, and the Boston Store became an institution in the town of Belleville.

In as much as it kept on growing in public favor and confidence, a still larger store was required, and in 1925 a new addition was added, and it became the largest department store between Newark and Passaic.

In 1949 Mr. and Mrs. Atkins retired, and Mr. and Mrs. David Robbins took over the operation of the Boston Store. Because of the excellent relationship and good will created, it was decided to modernize the Boston Store to make shopping more pleasurable for our customers. In 1964 a complete facelifting took place.

Scholarship winner — David Ritacco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Ritacco (left), of Belleville, was one of the national winners of four-year scholarships awarded annually by the Bendix Corporation. Ritacco is being presented with the award here by George H. Siegel (right), general manager of Bendix Flight Systems Division at Teterboro. The scholarship winner is a senior at Belleville High School.

Bellboys compile best record ever

By JOSEPH RYAN

The 1976 Belleville High School baseball team compiled the best record, 24-4, in the history of the diamond game at the school. The Bellboys this spring won the first Big Ten championship for BHS in the last ten years. This year's Blue-Gold ballplayers won 20 games in a row and were ranked first in the state for a month.

Coach George Zanfini, who was named coach of the year, called the Bellboys accomplishments, "a team effort all the way. Everyone of the boys added something. They all played an important role in the final result. We put baseball back where it belongs in Belleville."

"Look at what we did and its phenomenal," coach Zanfini said. What the Bellboys did was complete their season with a team average of .328, a mound staff earned run average of 1.45, and collected only 51 errors in 28 ballgames.

"Without a doubt its the best ball club I've ever coached," Zanfini said. "It's going to be hard to duplicate again. It's a thing that comes once in a lifetime."

The 20 wins in a row for the Blue-Gold was the most remarkable accomplishment for the team in Zanfini's opinion. "The more I think of it, the more unbelievable it becomes. There are so many ways it can be undone."

Injuries early in a season can slow down a talented team and coach Z admitted that there was some luck in not encountering any major injury problems during the team's historic 20 game streak. The end of the season did bring some problems to the pitching staff however.

John Clarizio, who pitched a no-hitter this season, required ten stitches in his hand after cutting it in a freak accident. He was lost to the Bellboys for three weeks when the hand did not heal properly and had to be re-stitched.

Greg Petite, 5-2 for the year, also developed a sore arm just after the Greater Newark Tournament started and coach Zanfini said he believed the loss of Clarizio and Petite at tournament time might have been the difference between

Runners improve but miss 'gravy'

The Belleville runners and jumpers finished the year with a 6-7 record and track coach Rich Ruffalo said "I think we should have had a winning season but winning is gravy over self-improvement."

The coach added that most of the team had improved on their individual times from last year and in Ruffalo's philosophy of track, an individual sport, self-improvement is the essential accomplishment.

The 6-7 record, down from last year's 8-6 season, could have been improved according to the coach if the team had all its members for some meets that conflicted with school band trips. Some Bellboys were also missing for meets during the spring break and the coach noted losses to Mountain, 66-56, and East Orange might have been avoided if the team competed at full strength.

A couple of runners who quit the team during the season also might have helped turn the record around. A two-miler and a half-miler who left might have scored enough points in close matches to have made it an 8-5 season.

"I'm not faulting anyone," Ruffalo said. "Wins and losses are all academic after awhile. Track is an individual sport."

The coach said the new facilities at the Women diamonders end the hard way

The Blue-Gold softball team ended its season fast Friday with a heartbreaking loss to Kearny, 2-2.

Belleville pitcher Phyllis Longo retired 18 Cardinals in a row and the Bellgirls took a 2-0 lead into the seventh inning. The Blue-Gold diamonders failed to score in the bottom of the sixth when a home run by Michelle Giordano was ruled an out by the plate umpire because the Bellgirl's bat struck the Kearny catcher.

Kearny scored three runs to win in the seventh on the pitching of Alice Masotes and Masotes' bases loaded hit that scored three runs. The Blue-Gold scored its runs in the fourth inning when Lydia D'Amato drove in two runs with a double.

The loss was a make-up of a rained out contest and it brought the Belleville softball record to 7-12 for the season.

Belleville coach Eve Lautenschlaeger called the year "a rebuilding time" and noted only two seniors would be leaving the squad at the end of the year, Carol Lelio and Sharon Brady. The softball coach said, "I'm really going to miss Carol Lelio," and praised the Blue-Gold senior's contributions in team spirit, hitting, and base running during the season.

Lautenschlaeger pointed to the underclassmen as encouraging prospects for the future of the girls diamond team. This year sophomore Michelle Giordano led the Bellgirls in scoring and hitting, compiling 34 runs and going 33 for 70 at the plate for a .471 average.

The coach called Joann Conte, another Belleville soph, the "most improved player" on the team this season. Conte had the second best batting percentage at .355 and scored 20 Blue-Gold runs.

Bruins pound E.O.

The Belleville Bruins defeated East Orange last week, 12-0, as the defending Essex County League champions increased their winning streak to five games in a row.

The Bruins, now 5-1 on the year, will face the Verona-Cedar Grove Twins at home Saturday, 2 p.m. and Union on Sunday afternoon, home at 2.

A first inning single by Willie Puentes that drove-in Kevin Goy opened the Bruin scoring in the shut-out over East Orange. In the second inning a double belted by Bill Otskey scored Tony Leopoldi who stole second after a base hit.

The Bruins added three to the total in the third. Puentes was safe on an error and was advanced by Bob Di Jianne's single. Dan Dunn doubled home Puentes and Joe Papisidero clouted a double bringing home Di Jianne and Dunn.

The runs kept coming in the fourth when Otskey singled and was scored by Tony Roselle's triple. Di Jianne then clouted his second home run of the year, adding two to the Bruin's tally.

The Bellevilleites then capped the run rallies in the sixth with a four run inning. Dunn followed singles by Tony Marinello and Di Jianne with a double, scoring Marinello. Bruin Bruno Gzordano's base hit drove-in Dunn and Di Jianne. Tony Leopoldi was hit by a pitch and Otskey singled in Giordano.

Bruin mound-man Jack Rake threw the shut-out past the Panthers walking only one and striking out eight.

Jim Rake was the victor in the Annual awards

The Varsity Club presented its annual awards to the letter winners of Belleville High School's varsity sports program last week. More than 100 students were honored including triple award winner in cross country, basketball and track, Mike Lamberti. Above, crew coach Sam Guffrida displays the crossed-oars trophy presented to him by the members his undefeated varsity crew. At right, guests at the Varsity Club dinner inspect some of the trophies presented during the night. Below, members of the Blue-Gold 1976 varsity wrestling team stand with coaches Jim Silvestri and Joe Zarra and the special citation presented to the team for its successful season. The baseball and crew teams also recieved special awards for their memorable seasons.

field were "very good" and worked out fine. Ruffalo acknowledged it would be nice to have a track but that "takes time and money."

Next season, the runners' coach is looking for possible scheduling of more Saturday meets. Ruffalo said the relay competitions in the area would provide the team with a chance to run against the best. It would be an excellent incentive for the Bellboys during the regular schedule too, because Ruffalo pointed out, only the outstanding athletes in their event would go to a relay competition and it would increase competition on the squad. This would result in "quality track performances in Belleville" Ruffalo said.

The Bellboy runners and jumpers start each spring at a disadvantage because the school does not have an indoor track program. Schools with an indoor track schedule have the advantage in the early meets because Belleville has to start from scratch to get in shape, Ruffalo said.

There is also the possibility of adding new events to next year's program. The hop, skip, and jump is a possible new competition and Ruffalo, a javelin specialist, would like to see the javelin added to the Bellboy's event list. He is also in favor of a girls varsity track team at BHS.

This year's competition saw the following Bellboys compile most of the points: the high scorer for the season was Fran Morel, 123 points; Nick Semaca, 94; Doug Jackson, 84; Bob Feldman, 77; Mark Romanell, 64; Nelson Seda, 53; Jim Del Guercio, 51½; Vito Guarino, 40; Keith Allum, 34; Mike Lamberti, 30; John Matera, 24½; Leo Dunham, 16½; Rick Cavanaugh, 10; Ross Sherman, 9; John Carlo, 6½; Tom Coughlin, 6; John Cozzarelli, 5½; Michael Graham, 5; and Sal Tabia, 4.

Seniors were the backbone of this year's BHS track team and with the mass exodus at graduation inevitable, track coach Ruffalo has already begun to recruit runners and jumpers for next year.

"We'll take warm bodies," Ruffalo said. "There's some event everybody could do if they worked hard enough."

Ruffalo points out that football players could stay in shape for the fall season if they turned out for track. He thinks the gridiron men would be useful to the team, especially in the discus and shot put events.

Assistant coaches Angelo Corino of the crew team, John Semcer of the track staff and Dennis Villano freshman wrestling coach anticipate the awards ceremonies at the Varsity Club dinner and perhaps anticipate varsity assignments in their own futures.

Memorial Day contest against the Livingston Giants, 9-2.

The Belleville scoring began in the second when a hit by Bill Otskey brought home Papisidero, who was on by a walk and was advanced by Leopoldi's single.

Scully's homer for Belleville led the Bruin attack in the fourth. Di Jianne also homered for the winning effort in the fifth.

Otskey singled home Scull in the sixth. Leopoldi scored in the same inning on a fielders choice and Roselle doubled in Otskey.

Di Jianne walked at the start of the seventh and scored on a bases loaded sacrifice by Leopoldi. Tony Roselle homered in the eighth with Kevin Goy on first to complete the Bruin runs for the holiday contest.

The Bruins have now won five in a row in a starting effort Bruins general manager Mike Welsh calls "probably the best start we've ever had."

Welsh said last year's championship team is basically intact from their winning season. Paul Mirabella, a member of the Bruins pitching staff last year, is unavailable this season because he has signed with the Texas Rangers to play A ball.

Welsh also pointed out a new player, Willie Puentes, has joined the Bruins and according to the general manager is doing very well and displays excellent speed. Third Baseman Tony Roselle is also new to the Belleville team. Another Bruin who will be playing in the minors this summer is Al Caide, who was signed by the Cleveland Indians on the A level.

Back for a defense of the Essex County crown are first baseman, Dan Dunn; second baseman Joe Papisidero; short stop Kevin Goy; third baseman Frank Petite; catcher Bill Otskey; and fielders Jim Rake, Tony Leopoldi, Bob Di Jianne, and Willie Puentes.

Bruin pitcher Jack Rake is 2-1 for the season picking-up his only loss to Livingston in the season's opener. Greg D'Allesandro has one mound victory for the year and is joined in the hurling staff by Mike Zayac, a former pitcher for Seton Hall.

Dennis Sasso, who coaches at Essex Catholic during the school year, is the Bruins coach. All home games are played at the Belleville Municipal Stadium diamond. The team is sponsored by the Michael V. Marotti Civic Association.

Rec ball has second division

The Recreation Department of Belleville is in the process of forming a Junior Summer Basketball League for boys 10 through 14 years of age. Any boy interested in joining the league, which will hold its games on Monday and Wednesdays during July and August, is asked to register at the Recreation Department.

Adults, with a basketball background, interested in coaching the teams, are also asked to contact the Recreation Department.

Juniors at season's half mark

The first half of the Junior League baseball season has been completed with the Braves in sole possession of first place in the National League and the first spot shared by the Clippers and Aces in the American division.

The Braves won all six of their games boosted by the batting of Anthony Polito, Pat Ferrule, and Anthony Guarino who were hitting at a nearly .700 average. Guarino has also hit three home runs and pitched two victories. John Stumpe, Lou Calvito and Mike Schetlick came up with timely hits to keep the Braves undefeated.

The Pirates lost to the Braves, 15-13, for their only loss of the half after going into the fourth inning with a 8-0 lead. Billy Hood and Jeff Logan provided the Pirates talent from the mound and the plate. Hood won three games and hit .429 while Logan compiled two mound victories and batted .750. Frank Araneo and Charley View each hit over .400 to propel the Pirates to a one loss half.

The Yankee's Pat Morrison hit four home runs and had eight RBI's to contribute to the Yankee's four wins. Oxiris Barbot hurled two victories while a strong defensive backup of catcher Pete Arancio and shortstop Demetrio De Benedetto helped keep the opposition off the basepaths.

The Dodgers finished the first half of the season with a 23-21 win that featured homers by Walt Jeffers and Mike Ianuzzi.

The Cubs and White Sox played to a 6-6 tie in their first contest of the season and finished with half their games completed in a tie for fourth. Tommy Logue threw two victories for the Cubs and Herb Feders and Dave Fulda were the Cubs powermen at the plate.

Lou Ruggiero owns the only White Sox four-bagger this season and he also has a mound win along with Dave DePiro. First baseman Steve Skoleski has been picking up the consistent hits for the Sox.

The Giants are in fifth place with one victory but have received some bright performances from Frank Dunn, Tony Ritacco, Mike Horton, and Santiago Borga. The Dodgers are in the National League cellar at midpoint but the second half of the season could be helped by the talents of Ralph Schoener and John Morell.

Pitcher Fred Williams led the Aces to a 9-4 win by striking out 12 Clippers to tie for first in the American league standings. Aces hurler John Zecca had three mound triumphs and Billy Hahn and Mike Filardo provided the batting talent.

A number of experienced eleven year old players was one of the reasons for the success of the Clippers during the first half of the diamond season. The slugging of John Brooks with four round-trippers and Brian Thompson with five home runs, including three in one game, are a couple of more reasons.

The hitting and defensive play of shortstop Joe DeFabi and the pitching of Scott Sim and Mike Brown give the Clippers a well balanced team.

The Cardinals, with two losses, losing and winning the tourneys.

This year's seniors on the BHS team were part of the freshman team that Zanfini called a "coaches dream" four years ago. This year with the rest of the players combining with the seniors, Zanfini's dream came true. It was a year the coach said "everything fell into place."

The players who brought the dream into reality were: Anthony Biafore, Michael Cancelliere, Nick Cancelliere, Greg Dunleavy, Bob Giordano, John Guarino, Ricky Loma, Anthony Marino, Greg Petite, Fred Racioppi, Doug Stone, Anthony Speer, Rocco Balsamo, John Clarizio, Chris Cervasio, Anthony Gammara, Joe Gelpi, Scott Osche, Frank Mozeika, and manager Mike Swinarski.

Sleep is a natural phenomenon common to all animal life. It is a position on the scale of consciousness a periodic interruption of wakeful hours. If left to his own choosing, scientists have proved, the healthy human adult under normal conditions will sleep between seven and eight hours each night. When he has all the sleep necessary for a refreshed body, he will awaken slowly and naturally without mechanical aids. The average normal adult sleeps best in a bed to which he is accustomed and which is comfortable.

Cozzarelli association sets meeting date

The James Cozzarelli Association for the mentally handicapped will hold its second meeting Wednesday, June 23, at Parrillo's Restaurant, 104 Harrison Street.

The doors will open at 7:30 p.m. After the business portion of the meeting is concluded, refreshments will be served. The Association will be electing its officers, adopting its by-laws and constitution. Various committees will also be formed.

The group, according to founder James Cozzarelli, includes more than 200 parents, friends, community leaders and professionals united to form a new community spirit of acceptance for all retarded persons everywhere.

"One little known fact," said Cozzarelli, "is that one out of 10 Americans has a mentally retarded person in his family. An estimated 3 percent of the U.S. population — more than six million individuals — are believed to be mentally retarded."

Cozzarelli went on to say 100,000 babies born each year are likely to be retarded and, by 1980, natural population growth is expected to increase the total to more than 6.8 million.

Cozzarelli, the Standard Bearer of the Association, recently has met with many other mental health agencies. Representatives and administrators of these organizations will be present at the June 23 meeting. Some of these organizations Cozzarelli met with include:

The Community Center for Mental Health of Dumont, the Essex Unit of the New Jersey Association of Retarded Citizens and Nutley, the Garden School and the Special

"Mental retardation is the Number One health problem among children today and one of our greatest challenges," said Cozzarelli. He urged citizens to attend the upcoming meeting, urging citizens to "come to meet that challenge with your fellow townspeople. Remember, for the mentally retarded, there are no small differences."

Choir, orchestra travel to Virginia

By LISA HAYES

Alexandria, Virginia was the destination of this year's orchestra and chorus trip. The trip came about because of the hard work of the students and through the efforts of Mr. Thomas Finetti, Mr. Louis Kosma and Mr. Frank Seelba. The trip took place on May 14 and 15.

On the itinerary of the two day trip was a trip to the Smithsonian Institution, a walking tour of Alexandria and a night tour of nearby Washington D.C.'s monuments. A special treat was in store for a few students who chose to see the Royal Danish Ballet perform their two ballets at the Kennedy Arts Center in Washington, one was classical, the other was a modern.

On Saturday the group performed at Market Square in Alexandria. Alexandria is a town over two hundred years old and its residents have kept the town looking very much like it did when our country was just beginning.

The music group performed many of the works that were featured at their spring concert on May 13. The concert given was part of a series of concerts given every noon in the square during spring and summer. Groups from all over the United States will perform in this program. Even a group from England will perform later this spring.

Senior class trip set for Fernwood

By MADELYN MALANOWSKI

Indoor swimming, sauna baths, volleyball, ping-pong, and tennis are the many facilities available for the class of 1976 as they follow tradition and travel to Fernwood in the Poconos for their senior trip. The senior class will depart from Belleville 8 a.m. on June 10 and will return home the following day at 2 p.m. The cost of the trip will be $36 and students participating in the ticket sale for the senior play will receive credit of $1 for each ticket they sold. A $1C deposit is required for reservations and must be in school along with permission slip by Friday, May 14.

Adding to the students' enjoyment will be a dance featuring a rock band which will provide music for three hours on Thursday night. Following the dance at midnight all students and chaperones will have the opportunity to attend a barbecue until 1 a.m.

"This trip to Fernwood will not only be enjoyable but will leave me with many memories of my last days as a student of B.H.S.," says Natalie Aiello, a senior planning to attend the trip.

Three meals will also be included in the cost of the trip. Thursday's lunch will feature chicken in the basket along with dessert while a sirloin dinner with fruit cup, salad, two vegetables, soda and dessert will be served before departure on Friday and will include bacon and eggs, toast, pastry, juice, coffee, and milk.

Nominal fees will be charges for activities such as horseback riding, golf, ice skating, and bicycle riding.

Three are in limelight

By JONNE SANTIGLIA

As this school year comes to an end, there are certain academically successful students who now occupy the limelight. This year's valedictorian is Robert Feldman, while David Ritacco holds the position of salutatorian. Elizabeth Morgenthau placed third, followed by Nicholas Semaco ranking fourth.

David, Robert and Nick were all recipients of the National Merit Scholarship. One receives a National Merit Scholarship based on the P.S.A.T. and S.A.T. scores. After one has achieved finalist standing, certain corporations give financial grants.

Robert Feldman was awarded scholarships from the Belleville Home Association, the Junior Women's Club and the Optimist Club. Robert plans to attend Rutgers University, College of Engineering. One life in general Robert says, "I plan to be a rich full life in whatever it is I plan to attempt."

David Ritacco will attend Stevens Institute of Technology on an all paid for year scholarship. He also won a Bendix Corporation sponsored scholarship. He plans to make medical research his career.

David was also awarded a cer-

English and History join forces

By CHARLES KRAMER

"Gone With the Wind" and the Civil War era were the basis in a new joint team teaching project which was introduced to the students at B.H.S. by Mrs. Susan Weintrob, of the English department, and Mrs. Daria Bonavita, of the history department.

In this team-teaching unit, the teachers took an historical approach to "Gone With the Wind," covering the plot and stereo-typing of characters, the latter being done in group work and with oral presentations. The events prior to the Civil War, its major battles done in map work, and the results of the war itself and Reconstruction were the history covered.

They diversified their teaching techniques by employing the lecture and the question and answer techniques, group work, oral presentations by individual students, audio-visual material, supervised classwork, outside readings in the history text and literature anthology and joint testing, grading being done separately by each teacher. A final research paper was individually assigned by the teacher delving into one aspect of this era in depth.

The outcome of this project were beneficial to both the students and the teachers. It gave the students an exposure to team teaching and from this result, they were also able to interact with the students from the other classes. This was a professional opportunity for the two teachers to expand their teaching techniques and knowledge. This type of teaching correlated the subject matter, English and history, enabling students to see the novel historically and history through a specific example of literature. Also seeing the war from the southern viewpoint, a different view than normally taught was an excellent experience for the students.

The criticisms were largely based on the students bodies reactions. They commented that the tests should be graded jointly, with each teacher taking her own subject matter. A more constructed reading schedule should be assigned with more time allotted to the unit. Also, a better explanation of the unit was needed for the students.

Mrs. Bonavita, "enjoyed it tremendously. It is important to interact with the students of another class and to show the students that there is a relationship between two subjects. I also enjoyed team teaching, the working with another teacher and sharing knowledge."

Mrs. Weintrob felt "it gave us a chance to be creative and innovative. The book itself was enjoyable and we plan to repeat this project next year."

Town's history explored

By LISA HAYES

In 1668, a group of Dutch pioneers beached on a stretch of land near what is now Main and William Streets. These settlers started a community which is known now as Belleville.

Belleville is now mostly a residential community with some industry along the Passaic River, but in colonial times Belleville was a major industrial center. The wire for Samuel Morse's telegraph line from Washington to Baltimore, was made in Belleville.

Belleville was settled mostly by Dutch people, as was most of New Jersey. In 1683, The Van Cortlandt House was built. It was located between the Passaic River and Main Street and just south of Mill Street. The house was a stronghold against Indians and had tunnels underneath that aided in quick escapes.

The first landowner was Hendrick Spier. He built his home in the Soho section of town. In 1726, the Dutch Reformed Church was built. It had 125 members and was open to other denominations until their churches were built.

In 1792, the town's population was expanding and there was a need for a school. It was built on the grounds of the Dutch Church. By 1800, there were 75 houses between Barrick Land and Gully Road (Joralemon).

Belleville, which in French means "beautiful city", was originally part of Newark and then part of Bloomfield. On Feb. 23, 1839, Belleville claimed its independence as a separate town on April 8, 1839.

Soon Belleville had its first public meeting and the first town committee was set up. John C. Lloyd, Richard G. Humphrey, John Vreeland, Daniel Van Winkle and Abraham VanRipe were the first town commissioners.

Belleville became an industrial center and its profits grew. Belleville, famous for its shipbuilding, was the home of the Belleville-New York Stage Line and was a well-known summer resort. Summer guests liked the town because they were "accommodated in this delightful retreat, far from the bustle and noise of the great neighboring city."

In 1837, a depression struck the U.S. and Belleville was hit very hard. The industries were making $2 million and because of the countries financial problems they were forced to shut down.

Students visit museum

By BRIDGID FREDERICKS

On Tuesday May 18, 1976, thirty-five art students boarded a bus headed for New York City for the art department's annual visit to The Metropolitan Museum of Art. Chaperons were Mr. Morton Birkin, with his art major class and student teacher Mr. Ken Burde, along with Mrs. Bonnie-Clair Cook, her arts and crafts students and student teacher Ms. Nina Ammarosa.

Upon arriving at the museum, the group was disappointed to hear that their reservations for the Islamic art show has been cancelled due to the private viewing of the show by the Queen of Denmark. The Islamic gallery consisted of Mid Eastern Art, jewelry, pottery, paintings, tapestries and sculpture which the royal couple viewed.

However the students enjoyed other exhibits such as the Robert Lehman collection. Robert Lehman was a wealthy lawyer, who had a loving eye for art and price was no object when he purchases paintings. Lehman died about ten years ago and in his will donated six million dollars worth of paintings to the museum to be placed there in exact decorative form of his own home, where they were first displayed. The museum has many rooms patterned after those of Lehman's home.

A special exhibit was a bicentennial treasury with American masterpieces from the Metropolitan collection beginning with the unknown artists of the 1600's and well known artist of the 19th and 20th century up to the present day. This tribute consists of examples by American architecture painting, furniture, photography, prints, sculpture, glass, silver and textile. Selected are approximately one hundred objects of outstanding quality by some of America's finest craftsmen and artists.

Mr. Birkin said this trip was "a very fine experience because there is no other way to really appreciate art. You have to go and see the original paintings. The Metropolitan Museum of Art is one of the greatest museums in the world. We're lucky to be able to go."

The students had an enjoyable day at the museum including lunch at the museum cafeteria.

The loudest voice heard in heaven is not the one that speaks loudest, but the one that whispers from the heart.

Class tries to prove commercials' absurdity

By DENISE FRANZ

A closer look at commercials today will definitely prove their absurdity. This is the conclusion that Mr. McDonough's English classes arrived at while studying their present unit on advertising.

The class first determined what the meaning of satire was in this media unit and came up with examples of how ridiculous television commercials have become. Mr. McDonough liked the ideas so much, that he decided to have the commercials acted out and put on film.

Each class divided up into groups which acted as advertising agencies with their own names. The groups choose their topics and were responsible for the costumes and props. The 12 spoof commercials followed the format of real commercials as closely as possible.

Time was an important factor in the filming of the commercials, as the film equipment was quite costly. Television commercials were anywhere from 15-60 seconds in length. The satires were approximately the same length, some being as short as 20 seconds.

The satires were basically an entertainment project, but each one brought a message across. The projects first were filmed without sound and each individual group viewed its commercial. Later, the sound was added on a tape recorder and shown to all Mr. McDonough's English classes. Due to the lack of time in the school year, the commercials were not shown to anyone else.

A preview of the commercials includes several of the following "Drippies", a takeoff from the Kimbies commercial, and these will be the first non-absorbent diapers. Also included all-purpose cleaner that can be used for athlete's foot and fogging up windows (among other things). By fogging up windows, one eliminated the problem of needing curtains, Venetian blinds, or shades. The image of the sexy European car with an animal's name, accompanied by a beautiful woman in a long gown, is somewhat altered here. The satirical commercial shows a girl dressed as a panther, the narrator explaining how smooth and sleek the car is, onlookers moaning in the background, and the car was a dilapidated Volkswagen.

Mr. McDonough was thoroughly pleased with the participation and enthusiasm of his classes, which he had not anticipated.

Grizzly: gore but no plot

By FATIMA ANDERSON

Remember the movie "Jaws" that shocked and amazed hundreds of its viewers? It was about a 25-foot killer shark that terrorized a beach community. There is currently on the silver screen a movie called "Grizzly" that is said to be far superior to "Jaws." Concerning a gigantic 18-foot carnivorous grizzly bear who terrorizes a community and devours its inhabitants.

This film leaves much to be desired. The entire film is comprised of scenes showing the grizzly mutilating his victims. The plot to this story is so obscure that it tends to leave the viewer baffled. "Grizzly" is a film whose main purpose is to frighten and not necessarily entertain, certainly a basic concept of every film.

Also starring in "Grizzly" are Christopher George, Andrew Prine and co-star of the smash film "Jaws," Richard Jaeckel. Three very talented actors seemed to be wasted in this film. The only positive side to the movie is the scenery and its human actors.

Terror or fright movies are on the verge of becoming the new American craze. First "Jaws", now "Grizzly" and next, who knows?

Lamberti on sports

By MIKE LAMBERTI

As the summer rapidly approaches the head coach of the varsity basketball team Mr. Dan Grasso begins work on the 1976-77 varsity basketball team.

Although official practices don't begin until November 15, Grasso realizes that to train for basketball in a very strenuous thing. One can work out on his own all summer but still not learn alot.

Thus for the third straight summer Mr. Grasso is starting the Belleville Summer basketball league. For the second straight year, the teams in the league will have sponsors and will follow a set schedule. Grasso is hoping for eight teams in the league this summer and hopes to begin the games on June 1. The league is for men ages 15-19.

"This," explained Grasso, "is a big step towards success during the regular season. The boys can plan to play high school basketball this fall can learn game experience plus play under game situations." There will be regular high school basketball officials at the games and like a regular season high school game each game will be four quarters and each game quarter eight minutes long.

This is not the first league Grasso has started in Belleville. Since he was appointed head basketball coach at Belleville in 1973, he has started a league for kids between the grades of 1 to 6. He has started a league for kids in the seventh and eighth grades. Grasso feels that if a kid starts playing basketball in the first grade and continues to work at it there should be no reason why by the time he reaches the ninth grade, he could not be a very promising candidate for the varsity basketball team.

Grasso is very proud of the league for the kids in the first to sixth grade. The league drew a lot of interest and a lot of fans. Grasso also pointed out that there were many promising young candidates on the hardwood and if coached properly could be a big success in basketball in later years.

Grasso also urges all of the members of the junior varsity and varsity team to attend basketball camp during the summer. He also has the same advice for the younger kids stating "it would be a great chance to get off on the right foot."

BHS band banquet held last week

By SAL TAIBI

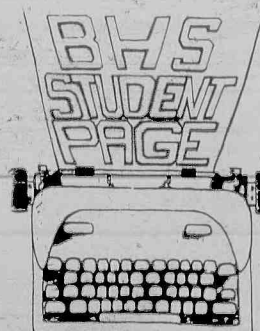

Belleville High School's band works very hard throughout the year with football games, shows, and constant practice. Therefore, the annual Band Banquet is an event that is looked forward to by all involved. The buffet was held at 7:30 p.m. at the Chandelier Restaurant on Franklin Avenue in Belleville, on Wed., June 2.

Organized by band president, Keith Allum; and vice-president, Mary Angelino, the dinner had approximately 200 people attending. Included were all band members, members of the twirling, color guard, and flag twirling squads, parents, Mr. Robert Wing, band director, and Board of Education members.

Music for the evening was provided by Gary Carnevale and his band. Gary, a former band member, also played at last year's band banquet and was well liked because of his style of playing a variety of songs from different eras.

The band banquet was especially looked forward to by the seniors. For, as graduation grows near, this was one of the last times that they would be together as a group.

Home improvement census underway here this week

Questions on expenditures for the improvements and upkeep of residential properties will be asked in a sample of households in this area by Bureau of the Census interviewers during coming week, John C. Cullinane, director of the bureau's regional office in New York City.

The home improvement survey, conducted four times a year, yields valuable information on this segment of the American economy which is of interest to many government agencies and private groups.

Umpire is claiming assault coach added "I know I didn't do anything" and said he was confident the judge in Livingston would find him innocent. The Board of Education in Belleville will provide a lawyer, Frank Pomaco, for Zanfini's defense. The maximum penalty for a disorderly person, assault and battery charge is 6 months in jail or a $500 fine or both.

Umpire Fred Bell, a teacher at Clifford Scott High School, told the Times/News he could not comment on the Livingston game.

Coach Zanfini said when he complained at the end of the game to Bell, it was with five previous calls by the base ump also in mind. The Bellboy coach described five incidents before the final call by Bell that were questionable.

Zanfini's list of close calls may be more suspicious in light of Bell's alleged remark to the Belleville coach following a Belleville-Montclair game the Wednesday before the Livingston contest. Bell was the plate umpire at the game the Bellboys won and he ejected Michael Cancelliere after the Bellboy complained about the ball and strike calls.

Coach Zanfini said he was almost ejected from the game when he complained to Bell about Cancelliere's dismissal. The coach said he more or less avoided Bell at the end of the Montclair game but was approached by the umpire who told him according to Zanfini, "I'll see you at Livingston."

"I didn't like the way he said it," Zanfini said. The coach then called an official of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association to find out if Bell would be the plate umpire at the state tournament game.

Barry Cohen, a NJISAA official who helped run the group four, section two rounds of the state tourney, confirmed to the Times/News Zanfini had inquired about Bell's position at the Livingston game. Cohen said Zanfini expressed concern about Bell's umping behind the plate. "I told him Bell was assigned the

Police apprehend teenage burglars

Two Belleville youths were arrested June 5 for breaking into School One and possession of several hundred dollars worth of school equipment, according to Deputy Chief of Police Frank Haight.

Belleville Detective Barton Rossi and officer Charles Oese stopped a 13-year old Belleville youth who was carrying a large cardboard box early Saturday evening, police sources said. The officers checked the contents of the box and discovered it contained cameras, tape recorders, and a projector, authorities reported.

Subsequent investigation by the police led to the discovery of an open window at School One, according to Deputy Chief Haight. Detectives Rossi and Oese were assisted at the scene by Belleville captain James Mundy and policemen William Adelheim and Vincent Masi. The police at the scene discovered several classrooms ransacked with glue and ink on the desks and walls, according to Chief Haight.

Captain Mundy was instrumental in apprehending a 14-year old who was also involved in the case, Deputy Chief Haight said.

Complaints were filed in Juvenile Court against both youths in juvenile Court by Belleville detective John Marotti.

The thirteen year youth is in detention of the Juvenile Center and the 14 year old is in the custody of his parents.

Deputy Police Chief Haight said the arrests came about as a result of "exceptionally good" work from the detective and uniform divisions of the Belleville police.

getting any leadership from the people in there."

Apparently, the voters disagreed with her in several cases.

The organization candidates and the challengers split the voting in Ward One, District Four, with Cathleen Noonan, backed by Mrs. Senatore, coming out on top and Allan Conklin, the challenger, defeating DeFeo.

Both Ward Two, District Three candidates put forward by Mrs. Senatore went down to defeat. Thomas and Jean Nisivocchia were beaten by Henry McNery and Dorothy Stepich, who had fallen out of the Democratic town chairman's favor.

In Ward Two, District Six, Joseph Fornarotto failed to unseat organization candidate Seymour Grossman.

Mrs. Senatore was not available for comment on her group's showing at the polls.

No figures on voter turnout were available immediately after the election.

Two Belleville girls will skate in show

Celeste Risimini, 6, and (Peggy) Margarette Anne Zita, 6, who live in Belleville, will take part in Ice World's first annual "Spice on Ice" show at the Totowa rink Sunday, June 13 at 6 p.m.

Santa Claus and an Easter bunny will make appearances for the initial extravaganza Sunday evening. They will be part of a cast of some 200 skaters who will participate in the various production numbers.

The program will include the following production numbers:

New Year's Eve, highlighting parties with adults and teenagers taking part; Valentine's Day featuring a guest soloist; St. Patrick's Day with shamrocks, leprechans, and St. Patrick's Day belles; Easter, with bunnies, parade girls, and an Easter Bunny; July 4th, featuring precision skating; Halloween, with cats, witches, and ghosts; and Christmas, with toys, elves, Christmas belles, snowflakes, and highlighted by the arrival of Santa Claus.

Tickets are now on sale at Ice World at a cost of $3. Group rates are available.

first time offenders in an effort to supervise the child. A psychologist would also work with the department on a parttime, 8-hour per week basis.

The submitted plan also calls for hiring a fulltime receptionist for the department to complete some of the paper work involved, and also act as receptionist.

Saletta said the secretary was necessary since the juvenile officers were frequently "on the road."

The proposed facility would also be equipped with a phone answering device to receive calls "any hour of the day or night."

The Commissioner said the facility would handle only first time offenders, since they are frequently referred back to the town from juvenile court.

"For example," said Saletta, "a child might be referred back to Belleville and he would have to report to the social for two hours a week. As it is now, he has to see the officer who arrested him in the first place."

Saletta said, if the funding came through, he would be constantly reviewing the project to determine its success and any problems which might arise. Follow-up reports to SLEPA, necessary to continue funding, would be prepared by juvenile detective sergeant Ronald Thompson.

A decision by the state on the funding application is expected by the end of this summer.

The Public Safety Department has applied in the past for SLEPA funds, but has been turned down. According to an assistant, Commissioner Saletta has been waiting for funding since he came into office last year.

Saletta said applications for the funds are not due until July, "but we wanted to get approval by the Commission early so we could possibly get a jump on other communities applying for the same funds."

Saletta was cautiously optimistic about Belleville's chances of receiving the money.

Rogers resigns seat on board

Controversial Rent Leveling Board member Steven L. Rogers resigned his post Monday, citing the group's failure to perform as his reason.

Rogers, 24, made the announcement at the Town Commission meeting. He was appointed to the Board four years ago by Commissioner Vincent Strumolo.

The Nutley Police Officer and Belleville resident read a prepared statement to the Commissioners and the citizens present during the "Hearing of the Citizens" portion of the meeting. Rogers quit the group, saying, "I have served as a member of the Rent Leveling Board for the past three-and-a-half years and...I have been frustrated and discouraged, and, therefore, I am announcing tonight my resignation from this body."

Rogers singled out a 1975 decision by the Rent Board as one particular reason for his resignation. He was referring to a ruling handed down by Board members Daniel DelTufo and Isadore Padula on an apartment house at 109 William Street. The two members presided over the case without the other Levelers being present.

The Board attorney has said the action taken by DelTufo and Padula was legal, and while Rogers did not dispute that opinion, he added, "In my opinion, the Board acted capriciously and arbitrarily and their action was contrary to the spirit and purpose of the Rent Leveling Act.

Mayor Michael Marotti needled Rogers for his criticism of the Board's action, adding, "If you were a member of the Board, why weren't you there when this decision was made? You are rapping the Rent Board and you are a member. If you were unhappy, you should have reported your unhappiness before now."

Marotti also said the Board of Commissioners would look into the 109 William Street case, and set a meeting with the tenants, the landlord, the Rent Board and its attorney, Frank Zinna for 6:30 p.m. June 22.

Rogers has been at odds with his fellow Rent Board members several times in the past, and boycotted the group's meetings for several weeks last year.

After Monday's meeting, Marotti also revealed plans to revamp the Rent Board. He said the membership of the Board may be increased to seven from its present five. The increase would avoid, he said, situations such as the 109 William Street case.

Rogers has also been critical of the Town Commission for failing to extend the power of the Rent Board to cover two-family homes. The present ordinance limits the group's authority to dwellings which house three families and more.

The Rent Levelers had requested extension of their authority, but the Commission struck that portion from the ordinance before passage.

Annual golf match set for June 24

The Belleville Annual Golf Day contest will be held this year on Thursday, June 24 at the Branch Brook Golf Course. The 1975 champions 'Bob Russamanno, George Debrowski, Ted Serritella, Izzy Padula, Bob Kennedy, Nick Landolfi, and Mayor Michael Marotti will all be back to defend their championships.

A spokesman for the Annual Golf Day Committee said the group is looking forward to making it the largest in its history to commemorate the nation's Bicentennial.

Mayor Marotti, the Director of the Department of Parks and Public Property, invites all to the Annual Golf Day who either live or work in Belleville. The cost for the entire day is $20 per person. For further information contact Pat Verian or Tom McLaughlin at 759-9100.
