Eight policemen get 'pink slips'

By CHUCK JACKSON

Layoffs in the Belleville Police Department began last week when eight policemen were given notice of termination, effective July 30, the Times/News has learned.

Public Safety Director Rocco Saletta called the men into his office 5 p.m. Thursday and issued the "pink slips" personally to seven of the men. Officer Joseph Tortorello, who was in the hospital as the result of a car accident, was given his notification later.

Originally, 12 police officers were slated for dismissal for financial reasons, but the resignations of two officers and the scheduled retirement of another reduced the number.

The layoffs are the result, according to Commissioner Saletta, of the new police contract, which calls for a total of $92,000 in raises for the lawmen this year. The contract is the result of binding arbitration initiated by the Commissioner.

According to Civil Service regulations, the policemen must be given 45 days notice of termination. The town has given them until July 30, or 50 days from issuance of the layoffs slips. During that period, the officers must take any vacation coming to them. As a result, the power of the Belleville department may begin to decline slightly before the final

Controversy balloons over games in bars

The town will appeal a court ruling which struck down part of an ordinance banning coin operated games from taverns in Belleville.

According to officials, six separate establishments in the community have installed the machines in violation of a town ordinance banning their use in establishments without a license.

A portion of the ordinance which specifically prohibits installation of the games in businesses holding liquor licenses was ruled invalid recently by a County Court Judge. The town is in the process of appealing that decision.

The Town Cottage, an establishment on Washington Avenue next to Town Hall, was cited for violating the ordinance and convicted of the offense on May 12. The conviction was appealed, and County Court Judge John J. Dios ruled that portion of the ordinance relating to taverns invalid. He let the rest of the ordinance stand, however.

In addition to Town Cottage, there are coin-operated games in the Shamrock Tavern, the Circle Bar, Olga's, P.J. MacDonald's and the Olympic Lanes bowling alley.

Though the one portion of the ordinance has been struck down by the court, Police Chief Joseph Smith said the police were continuing to issued summonses to the bar owners for failure to obtain a license for the machines. The licenses cost $500 per machine per year, it was reported.

Smith said the police would continue to issue the summonses until the machines were removed.

The Board of Commissioners is scheduled to review applications for renewal of liquor licenses next Tuesday, and there may be some difficulty for the taverns involved in this dispute, sources said.

School insurance cancelled by firm

The Insurance Company of North America, which covers the Belleville school system, has notified the Board of Education the town's policies would be dropped as of July 1.

The Board and INA are currently engaged in protracted negotiations over the settlement on the loss of School Three.

Matthew Pica, president of the School Board, expressed anger at the company's move, adding sarcastically, "All I want to say publicly is thank you to INA for cancelling our insurance."

Though most of the Trustees withheld public comment on the insurance company's move, at least one privately called the cancellation "a bush move."

Some observers expressed the belief the INA notification was an attempt to bring pressure on the Board to come to a settlement on the School Three fire. Pica noted at Monday's business meeting the Board had recently been asked by the company if it would like to renew its policies, "and now this."

Board member Caesar Romano, who

DiLuca honored by friends

"I thank the Archbishop for coming to Holy Family and offering the mass, praising God for permitting me for 70 years to work in His Glory," Monsignor Anthony DiLuca said with tears in his eyes at a Sunday afternoon luncheon in the parish school.

The Monsignor's brief remarks ended a special day of celebration marking his 70th year in the priesthood. Sunday's observance was highlighted by a 12:30 p.m. mass with the Most. Rev. Peter L.

Gerety, Archbishop of Newark, as the main celebrant. The Archbishop was joined by 25 other priests as concelebrates at the service attended by nearly 1,000 persons.

Virtually every priest who has ever served with Msgr. DiLuca at Holy Family was at Sunday's event. Letters of Congratulation came in from around the world, including a personal note from President Gerald R. Ford.

Msgr. DiLuca, who sat just to the left of the main altar during Sunday's mass, reserved his personal remarks for the luncheon sponsored by the parish at the school. At the mass, the Monsignor spoke directly to the congregation only in rising to offer the final one-line formal blessing. When he had finished, the congregation applauded.

He had a special thanks for Archbishop Gerety's coming to Holy Family and the Monsignor also thanked the late Archbishop Thomas J. Walsch. "He was the man who sent me to Holy Family, to this Town of Nutley, and encouraged me to go on." Holy Family, founded as a parish to serve Italian-speaking Catholics in the Belleville-Nutley area, had its difficult times, Msgr. DiLuca recalled.

"One Day, in fact, I said, 'Archbishop. What can I do? After all, I have two parishes, one on my right and one on my left. One in Belleville and one in Nutley.' The Archbishop told me, 'Don't worry. Go on because I'm with you.'"

Then after thanking the sisters and

Town is appealing

Alcoholic Beverage Commission (ABC) regulations stipulate that a violation of a town ordinance is also an automatic violation of ABC regulations. By keeping the machines in the bars, the tavern owners may therefore be violating ABC regulations and placing their licenses in jeopardy.

The Times/News has also learned Chief Smith sent a letter to assistant Town Attorney Frank Zinna with copies to the five town Commissioners pointing out the violations involved, and stating, "At this time, there are renewals of these liquor licenses before the Board of Commissioners. It seems that the matter of these machines, their use and licensing should be resolved prior to the issuance of these liquor licenses in those locations having these machines."

The town's prohibition against regulations against games in bars regards the ban of pinball machines. James J. McCabe, Assistant Deputy Director of the Enforcement Bureau of the ABC said pinballs were not allowed, but, "if a game requires some skill, it would be permitted. No games of chance are permitted in licensed locations, however."

The machine in the Town Cottage is a bowling machine, and Inspector Charles Kroncke of the ABC said such machines are permitted.

Move angers Board

in the past has criticized the company for holding up negotiations, expressed anger at this latest move, saying, "I hope the people of Belleville find out what INA is doing here. I think they should know about this."

The schools' policies were due to expire on June 30, it was reported. Though the company's legal right to drop the town has not been questioned, the validity of the notification sent to Belleville is being explored.

Board president Pica said the Trustees would begin to seek out another insurance carrier, and said "We will have another company by the end of this month."

The Board has been involved in negotiations with INA since March. Recently, the company granted a partial settlement on the undamaged portion of School Three, allowing work to begin on that wing. Classes are scheduled to be held in that portion of the building this fall.

The old portion of the school, located on Joralemon Street at Union Avenue, was nearly totally destroyed by fire in early January.

Clara Maass is being honored by the U.S. Postal Service with a stamp being issued in her honor. The stamp will make its debut August 18, and first day of issue will be from Clara Maass Memorial Hospital in Belleville.

New Maass stamp design revealed

The design for the Clara Maass commemorative postage stamp was unveiled recently at the American Nurses' Association convention in Atlantic City.

The stamp, honoring the New Jersey nurse who died at 25 in 1901, during experiments to eliminate yellow fever, will be issued August 18 at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital in Belleville.

Miss Maass, a contract nurse with the U.S. Army in Cuba, was the only woman to volunteer and the only American to die in the experiments.

Participants in the unveiling ceremonies included Brigadier General Madelyn N. Parks, chief of the Army Nurse Corps; Albin H. Oberg, president of Clara Maass Memorial Hospital; Alfred E. Maevs, assistant postmaster general; Rosamond C. Gabrielson, president of the ANA; James A. Clements, publisher of RN magazine and Mary Ann Garrigan, chairman of the ANA Bicentennial Celebration committee. John J. Ryan of the Atlantic City Post Office was the master of ceremonies.

In accepting the stamp design, Oberg noted it is the first stamp in the history of the U.S. Postal Service issued to honor a professional nurse, although Cuba issued a stamp for Miss Maass in 1951.

The 13-cent stamp, which features a portrait of Clara Maass and the words, "She Gave Her Life," was created by artist Paul Calle of Weston, Connecticut, whose work for the U.S. Postal Service includes the first man on the moon stamp in 1969, the Apollo landing, and stamps honoring poet Robert Frost, General Douglas MacArthur and retarded children.

The unveiling ceremonies were preceded by dedication of the ANA Hall of Fame, which honored Miss Mass and 14 other nursing pioneers.

Cops to leave on July 30 work day.

The notices distributed by the Commissioner said in part, "I regret to inform you that because of the financial situation in which the Town of Belleville has been placed, there is a dire need for economy in town government."

"Consequently," it continued, "pursuant to law...I am notifying you that for reasons of economy and the welfare of the town, you are being laid off from your position as Patrolman in the Department of Public Safety, effective July 30, 1976."

The Belleville PBA, it was learned, met last Thursday also, but union president Anthony Fantacone was not available for comment on the situation.

Several sources indicated, however, the policemen had decided they would not take less than the amount awarded them in the contract. Saletta said earlier this was one way layoffs could be avoided.

It was also reported the officers who were notified urged their fellow officers to stand ground on the contract demands.

The salary provisions were among recommendations made by Julius Malkin of the American Arbitrators Association, according to Commissioner Saletta. The terms of the contract are binding on both parties.

The police officers are scheduled to receive a $750 raise immediately, retroactive to April 1, 1976; another $700 September; $650 January 1, 1977 and $650 January, 1978. Each increase also includes a 10 percent differential between ranks.

Without the layoffs, this year's increases would cost the taxpayers $92,000 and the total pay play would cost $227,000. Money for such raises was not included in this year's municipal budget.

Unless the police decided to turn down the raises offered them, Commissioner Saletta has said, "We don't have the money for this kind of raise, and there is no doubt about that."

The Public Safety Director has also vowed, "I will not seek emergency funding to raise the money. There are no alternatives other than layoffs."

Unless there is some change in the town's financial status in the near future, Saletta plans to lay off an additional six men January 1, 1977 and an additional four the following January in order to keep costs down.

There are currently 85 policemen on the Belleville police force. If all the layoffs take place, the force would be reduced by nearly 34 percent.

The following men were notified they would be released from the department as of July 30:

Salvatore Collatella, Robert Gellerman, Arthur Connolly, Peter Fraone, Joseph Tortorello, Ralph Sia, William Adelhelm and Robert Alves.

Officers Michael Petrillo and Robert Zahary, originally scheduled to be laid off, were kept on as a result of the resignations of James Fallano and Victor Staats.

Police officer John Donnelly filed for retirement recently, also eliminating some of the financial burden on the town, according to some sources.

Seniority is being used as the basis for the layoffs, with the most recent recruits being the first to go.

BHS ball coach fined for assault

Bellboy baseball coach George Zanfini said this week he would appeal the June 10 Livingston court decision that found him guilty of striking an umpire.

Judge Irving Vichness fined the coach $100 for assaulting umpire Fred Bell on May 28 after the ump's call cost Belleville the state tournament playoff game 3-2 to Livingston.

A bases loaded single by a Livingston player in the bottom of the eighth inning ended the game and started the controversy. The contest was tied, 2-2, when the Belleville first baseman fielded the ground ball and tagged first in an attempt to end the inning with three outs. Bell called the runner safe, a run scored, Livingston won, and the commotion began.

Zanfini thought the runner should have been called out. He testified, "I rushed across the field as any other coach would have done. I was excited, I was yelling, I had tears in my eyes, but there was no contact, not of my own accord. I never pushed my arms out."

The Bellboy coach did admit there was contact between him and the umpire caused by the crowd that surrounded the two during the argument.

Bell testified he was struck three times on the chest by Zanfini's closed fists and also punched in the stomach by the Belleville coach. The umpire also said in his court statements that Zanfini threatened his family.

Six witnesses for Bell, including two Livingston policemen, testified that Zanfini shoved or bumped the ump. No one said they saw the Bellboy coach punch Bell.

Sergeant Walter Ritt, of the Livingston Police Department, said he saw Zanfini shove Bell once. Thomas B. Coleman, another Livingston policeman, testified he saw Zanfini give Bell "a couple of short pushes" but under cross-examination revealed he couldn't say for sure if there was physical contact.

The shoves turned into "bumps" in subsequent testimony. Barry Cohen, an official for the state tourney, and the home plate umpire both characterized Zanfini's contact with Bell as a bump. None of the umpire's witnesses saw the same amount of bumps and shoves.

None of the witnesses who testified for Zanfini saw the coach shove or punch umpire Bell. Fred Puleo, a Belleville policeman and president of the Belleville High School Athletic Council said he observed "no physical contact" between the coach and the ump. Dennis Sasso, head baseball coach for Essex Catholic High School, testified he saw the two jaw to jaw but never saw Zanfini push or shove.

Mayor Michael Marotti and other witnesses testified to seeing a man with a beard hit the umpire but the mayor added he didn't see Zanfini come closer than two feet to Bell.

Frank Pomaco, defense lawyer for Zanfini, summarized the case by pointing out that all witnesses agreed the field was a wild scene immediately after Bell's call. He highlighted the fact that a letter by Bell describing the incident sent to the Belleville Board of Education was at variance with his courtroom testimony.

Pomaco reminded the court that one of Bell's witnesses could not say for sure if physical contact had been made and others were 90 to 100 feet away from the crowded scene.

The defense attorney said a defendant walks into a courtroom "clothed in the presumption of innocence" and added he didn't think there was proof of Zanfini's guilt "beyond a reasonable doubt."

Judge Vichness declared if the Bellboy coach shoved the umpire only once he would be guilty of assault. He added he respected the testimony of all the witnesses of the events but said "the court with a great deal of sadness is compelled to find the defendant guilty as charged."

Belleville high band takes to the road

Taking a break — The Belleville band hit several amusement parks in its travels and also had time to tour the Busch Gardens near Ashland, Virginia. After a lot of walking, some members of the group took time out to rest their weary bones. Left to right are Lauren Pisauo, Fred Steeb, Debbie Cardone, Denise Guerrero, Pat Verian, Carol Cozzarelli and Mike Swinarski.

Lorraine Romano, June Pisauo and Frank Scelba look weary but happy. While in Virginia, the BHS tunesters performed at the Veterans Hospital in Richmond, hopefully spreading a little joy and proving that Northerners can be as friendly as the folks south of the Mason-Dixon line.

Rotarians present student awards

At a recent meeting of the Belleville Rotary Club five Belleville High School graduates were presented with awards which are given out annually to deserving seniors.

This year's award winners were: Peggy Chatham, Thomas Zarro, Carol Cozzarelli, Wayne DiFeo and Dianne Giansoddi.

The plaques, given to the seniors by Renne Gabbai, Community Service Director of the Belleville Rotary, were the inspiration of Dr. Jack Grundfest, who, each year has the plaques made and engraved.

High School guidance director, Herman Knuppel was in charge of introducing the recipients to the audience.

The Rotary Club of Belleville meets every Wednesday at 12:15 at the Chandelier.

Anyone interested in obtaining any further information regarding the club is asked to call Harry T. French at 759-2633.

President answers local kids' letter

When President Gerald Ford took time out recently to catch up with some of his correspondence, Miss Barbara Ferraro's fourth grade class at School One was on his list.

The letter from the President was in response to a birthday card adapted from "The Weekly Reader," a children's newspaper, and sent by the students to Washington to wish America a happy 200th birthday.

The enthusiasm of the fourth graders was commended by President Ford, who cited the class for its "deep sense of patriotism and civic pride," and welcomed their commitment to help make the nation's bicentennial a memorable occasion.

95 Years Young

95 is a lot of anything — especially if it happens to be birthdays. Last week, one of our favorite citizens marked his 95th birthday — in a very special way — by celebrating his 70th year as a priest — our lifetime friend and spiritual advisor, Msgr. Anthony DiLuca.

Holy Family Catholic Church and School are the impossible products of this mortal man's perseverance against overwhelming odds. With clarity he heard his calling — and he answered in a manner that has become an important part of the rich history of his adopted community — Nutley.

His works, his dedication, his life has inspired many among us who have been fortunate to acclaim him as spiritual advisor and friend.

May he live as long as he wants — and not want as long as he lives.

Isaiah 61:1-2, cf. Luke 4:17 expresses in a way Msgr. DiLuca's mission on earth:

The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach the good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the broken hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound.

Frank A. Orecchio

Finally, good news

One of the few pleasant pieces of financial news to come out in recent months was revealed this week when Public Safety Director Rocco Saletta revealed his quest for state funds.

Saletta is seeking $42,300 from the State Law Enforcement Planning Agency to improve the local Juvenile Department.

The people of Belleville have been crying for help in relieving the ever increasing tax burden, and at the same time have had to endure a decrease in local services.

Commissioner Saletta deserves praise for his efforts to obtain state money. His persistence should also be noted. Though he was turned down earlier on such a request, he has come back again.

We urge the rest of the Commissioners to follow the lead set by their fellow Board member. Belleville should be reaching for every helping hand in sight.

Keep the 'dirt'

The old cliché about sweeping the dirt under the carpet is harmless, if not amusing. It's a lot less than amusing, however, when the dirt is potentially deadly mixtures of chemical wastes, and the carpet under which it is swept is the surface of this state we're in.

I'm referring to the final disposition of the wastes about which most people are ignorant. They are the dangerous residues of chemical industry processes as well as the stuff that's left over after smoke stack emissions are purified, or factory sewage is pre-treated.

Even though those things are kept out of the environment when they're first created, because of tightening environmental protection enforcement, something has to be done with them. All too often they pass through secondary loopholes in existing environmental protection enforcement and get right where they are not supposed to be—in our air or water.

For example, a lot of this is being land-filled, a site not far from New Brunswick. That location is still allowed for such disposal by the Department of Environmental Protection on grounds that there's no other place to put it. The substances involved are often likely to cause cancer or birth defects, if not outright poisoning. Nobody knows what deadly mischief could result from random combination in a landfill.

As we know, when something is land-filled, it's able to seep into rivers and streams and underground water supplies, and to vaporize and take to the air we breathe.

The familiar outcry, "We'll be forced out of business if you make us stop" can be heard about this problem, as with so many others. There are several points which should help reinforce DEP's judgement about closing the last chemical landfill.

One point is that other states are even more stringent than New Jersey in controlling such landfilling, so it's not such a question of becoming non-competitive with companies in more lax places. A second is that scientifically designed disposal places are available, where incineration or biological action can render dangerous wastes harmless. Those latter installations have to be carefully policed, also, it should be noted.

A third, and in the longrange the most sensible avenue is to recycle the poisonous pollutions, or at least put them back into the uses for which they were made. That would keep them out of our air and water, and would represent dollar savings for those currently trying to throw them away.

That through reminds me of one of my favorite environmental clichés: "There's no such thing as a pollutant; it's just a valuable resource which happens to wind up in the wrong place."

I shouldn't have to remind DEP or anybody else in New Jersey that there must be some reason why this state has the worst cancer record in the whole country. Careless disposal of dangerous substances in a crowded place might have a lot to do with it.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Underneath the reasonably tranquil calm of Belleville politics during the past week, unbeknown to but a few was the serried, secretive flurry of activity behind a move that could upset Belleville's wisely adopted ban on pinball machines. Machines which offer such attraction to youngsters and others whose gambling instincts are aroused by the glamorously illuminated mechanisms with their siren call that lures kids to squander their lunch money or allowances.

These monstrous noisesome coin collecting money makers are often allowed under the misnamed pretext that they are classified as games of skill.

The article in this week's paper spells out a disturbing picture which raises some pointed questions as to the motivations and methods involved in a move that appears unwholesome and suspect.

The scant information at the disposal of this writer concerning this matter precludes any overall judgement or evaluation of the scope or magnitude of this highly controversial development at this time. However, we do feel it is most regrettable and should not have occurred.

On the brighter side of this unfortunate incident, and to be commended for their fight and highly moral sense of integrity in marshalling the forces of decency in opposition to any attempt to permit the influx of coin-snatching pinball monsters in town, are the alerted members of the clergy, Commissioner Strumolo and his competent deputy Ralph Risoli and Deputy Police Chief Frank Haight. These men deserve credit for their devotion to duty and the desire to uphold the law and preserve the decency of the town. We should steadfastly stand as a monolithic giant army to thwart the incursion of these mechanized coin-collecting bandits any place in Belleville.

Having kept these pesky, profitable (to the owners and operators) playthings out of town all these years, why should we tolerate them now?

It is most rewarding to learn that the harassed and aroused residents of Malone Avenue, after presenting their complaint to the Commissioners about the harrowing experiences that they had been subjected to by bands of youths massing in a rented house in this once quiet residential neighborhood, will no longer be troubled by the noise and disturbance. They have been assured, as a result of their appearance before the Town Fathers with their complaint that they will have the matter cleared up. Very, very good. It sure proves that the place to go when a problem that never seems to get resolved is at a public meeting at Town Hall. If the petition and grievance are legitimate, you can and probably will get action and results.

The "Sunshine Law," that new measure that provides for open public meetings on almost everything, was well intentioned and has much merit. It was designed to "let the public in on what is going on." It's a good law and means what it says. In our town, however, it just doesn't seem to be working out that way, if the complaints of several who attend the caucus of our Commissioners are true.

Apparently at these caucus sessions, our Commissioners have no objection to letting the sunshine in or having the lights turned on, but they sure don't let you know what's going on. And that is what the sunshine law is all about. They don't use a public address system, and the public has to sit there like dummies as they inaudibly chat away. That ain't right.

Somebody should get up at the public meeting and put the question to John Scott, the Town Attorney. He should be asked about the propriety of keeping the public in the dark rather than in the sunshine at these caucus meetings.

Volunteer cop quits in protest

To the Editor:

I, Frank Stanco, presently a member of the Auxiliary Police Force for several years, will resign my position effective June 30, 1976.

My reason for taking this action is the proposed pending layoffs of 22 regular policemen, well trained and dedicated to serve the community.

I protest this action and could not serve in the Auxiliary Police, performing duties when regular policemen positions are terminated.

The 22 police officers were trained at taxpayers expense and to lay them off will create undue hardship on the community, greatly downgrade police service to our citizens, reduce the vital security and protection needed for the safety of our people, the elderly and the children of Belleville.

I urge the Town Commission members to take whatever means possible to save the jobs of the 22 men involved, plus keep the services of our Auxiliary Police Force for the betterment of Belleville, and if so, I would be glad to serve on the Auxiliary Police.

I would like to inquire as to whatever happened to the tree sprayers?

The tree sprayers used to spray the trees about twice a year, killing all the bugs and debris that would harm the trees.

Ever since the tree sprayers have been terminated, three trees in my area — two of them on my own block — have been cut down in the past year.

Also, the tree in front of my own house has been scheduled to be cut down soon (hopefully).

Friends and family from other towns, cities and states used to say what beautiful trees were on this block. Now they ask, "Where have most of your beautiful trees gone?"

Accent On Action

Volunteers make Red Cross work

Accent on Action is a public service feature written by Barbara Alden of the United Way to inform readers of services and agencies available to them in Belleville. Today's column is about the Belleville Red Cross, a United Way agency.

"We couldn't possibly provide this wide variety of services without the unselfish dedication of almost three hundred volunteers," said Mrs. Sophie Bade, director of the Belleville Red Cross. "Our volunteers drive for Motor Corps, help with office routine, serve at Blood Banks and in hospitals, are on call at all hours for disaster help...anywhere there is a human need, Red Cross volunteers are there!"

Belleville Red Cross Motor Corps made 2500 drives to hospitals or doctors' offices last year. Although the Belleville Red Cross now shares quarters with the Bloomfield office on Bloomfield Avenue in Bloomfield, where volunteer drivers take the regular responsibility of a half day shift, Mrs. Bade has sixteen drivers on the list, "but we always need more," she said. Appointments for rides are made by hospitals and doctors' offices, and Mrs. Bade says Red Cross makes every effort never to disappoint anyone who needs help. Mr. Emmert Bashore, Bloomfield Red Cross Motor Corps Chairman, has been especially helpful, according to Mrs. Bade. "Bloomfield volunteers have always been willing to lend a hand with Belleville problems, and Belleville volunteers are happy to return the favor. I guess a volunteer's sense of community responsibility doesn't stop at the town line!"

Most of us think of Blood Bank when Red Cross is mentioned. Belleville Red Cross holds three or four Blood Banks a year. In addition to providing a life-saving service to others, the blood donor builds credits for himself and his family against some future need. Many donors give through their church, union, club or place of business, and the credits earned are available to all the members.

"It only takes an hour to give blood," said Mrs. Bade, "and it certainly gives you a wonderfully secure feeling to know these credits are there if your family needs them. Kind of like hospital insurance you hope you never have to use," she added, "but you sure are glad it's there!"

Red Cross regulations make it possible for seventeen year olds to give blood, with parental permission. A phone call to the Red Cross can make your appointment to give. Blood Bank chairman is Mrs. Rosemary Cobiainchi, "another of our dedicated volunteers," said Mrs. Bade.

In answer to recently recognized need, Belleville Red Cross has provided office space for personnel from the Essex County Food Stamp Commission. Every Thursday interviews are held at the Red Cross office by appointment.

Next week I will tell you about more of the services offered by Belleville Red Cross, since there are far too many to cover in one article. Have you heard enough so far to make you think about volunteering? The feeling of satisfaction that comes with giving of yourself is unlike any other feeling in the world. Just ask the average Red Cross volunteer—whether it be the retired businessman who drives for Motor Corps, the sixteen year old Staff Aide, or the forty-year volunteer who has done a bit of everything—they'll all agree. Doing something for others. Isn't that what life is all about?

To volunteer, call Sophie Bade at 743-5848 or 676-1616.

Gospel brings memories of friend

By FRANK A. ORECHIO

Last Tuesday night was a great night for Nutley. The obvious heroine was Mrs. Ann Conway, an indefatigable worker. She led the effort that put together the 1st Annual Nutley Music Boosters Awards Banquet—an event that was successful by any measure. It was as if families throughout Nutley opened up their living rooms for a community festival.

A dinner programme normally lists committee members. This one did not. Ann Conway was invited to be in the pictures taken for The Sun. "No thank you, this night belongs to the high school students who we are honoring tonight," remarked Ann.

Mrs. Pat Gilhool is another major booster of the NHS band, choralettes, orchestra, twirlers and flag squad. Every year her squealing wheel can be heard at The Sun offices, demanding greater public recognition for those high school students who provide morale, spirit, color and class for Nutley football teams—winners and losers.

Raymond Kohere, the Director of the Choralettes was described during table talk as a "fabulous individual." He appeared to be too. School Board Vice President Gerard Restaino, representing the entire board, gave an inspiring talk. It was certainly a night to renew old friendships and add to them. The event should be an annual success. A news story and pictures covering the awards will appear in next week's Nutley Sun. I'm happy I was invited. Readers who didn't attend missed an inspiring, exciting affair. For those among us who think or say our high school students are bad their faith in the goodness of NHS seniors would have been restored last Tuesday night.

Words to live by —
God give me work till my life shall end, hard life till my work is done..... A gem is not polished without rubbing, nor a man perfected with out trials....

Recently, Nutley's perpetual Outstanding Citizen—Ann Troy—let me take a glimpse at "The Estate," written by William C. Mutch about the lives of his mother and father, tracing their steps from Scotland to Nutley. Naturally the chapter that gave me the greatest chuckle was "Politics and Baseball." A very nostalgic book—all 109 pages worth reading.

Tuesday's gospel reading, Luke 14, 26-35, reminded me of my old friend, the late pharmacist, Bill Lee, a Nutley institution in his day. I was a candidate for the Town Commission, soliciting Lee's vote. For him it was important that I know he had heard, "I hear you have a reputation for finishing every thing you start." A great idea but unfortunately not quite accurate. However apropos Lee's observation is Tuesday's gospel passage:

Luke 14, 26-35

"If one of you is thinking of building a tower, will he not first sit down and calculate the outlay to see if he has enough to complete the project? For fear that, if he lays the foundations and is not able to finish, all who see it will begin to laugh at him, saying: 'That is the man who began to build but could not finish.' Or if a king is about to march on another king to do battle with him, will he not sit down first and consider whether with ten thousand men he can encounter an enemy marching against his twenty thousand strong? If he cannot, he sends a delegation while the enemy is still at a distance, asking for terms of peace. So then, none of you who does not renounce all his possessions can be My disciple. Salt is good. But if even the salt loses its strength, what shall it be seasoned with? It is fit neither for the earth nor for the manure heap but must be thrown out. He who has ears to hear, let him hear."

Guest editorial sparks opposition

To the Editor:

This is a reply to some of the questions raised in the guest editorial by Joseph Cancelliere.

The police and fire departments are not the lowest paid in the county, but one of the best. Check the records.

Mining is a very dangerous occupation, but all jobs are dangerous. Operating a train, an airplane, driving a tractor trailer or a bus and many other jobs are also dangerous, including some in industry.

Notice of the layoff has been posted in the police and fire departments because there are too many men on the payroll and at least 40 men should be cut. I understand the town of Nutley has 72 men in both departments and they are doing a fine job for less money.

I agree, no new jobs should have been created. They were unnecessary.

Civil Service should be abolished. Many times a successful applicant was refused the appointment, as I was. Civil Service played along with those in power and looked the other way.

New York City is in default. Their huge payroll and all the benefits are gone. It could take 100 years to clean up that mess. Will Belleville be next to suffer the same fate? It was a mistake to hire more men for the police department. They must be the first to go.

The ambulance and ladder truck must stay. They are important to the town.

Belleville has the finest fire fighting equipment in the state. Jim Golden saw to that when he was a Commissioner.

I know you, Joe, and I have a lot of respect for you as a fireman, but the "loud-mouths" are paying the bills. Those fat wages and all the benefits have the taxpayers feeding their families pork and beans!

It was no suprise to Golden, a watchdog for the people that the men got the raise. He saw the increase coming. As a bus driver, he went to work in all kinds of weather and was responsible for his passengers. Dangerous? I'll say it is. I also drove a bus.

Public Service is not a profit making business. There should be no arbitration in local government. The people should decide by referendum. That law is on the books.

I agree the police and firemen are doing a good job, but the same can be done with less men — as it is in the town of Nutley and in other communities about the same size and population as ours.

The policeman is the only one that has the right to use his gun for protection and to protect the people. That is his job.

All others in a dangerous occupation must pray for a miracle.

They seem more moderate

The goals of the Class of 1976 may be more reasonable and moderate than the graduates of five to ten years ago, if the views of Belleville High School's three top students are representative of their classmates.

Valedictorian, Robert Feldman; salutarian, Liz Morgenthien; and David Ritacco speak of the future with lower expectations and greater skepticism than enthusiastic graduates of the past.

The three academic achievers don't speak in terms of changing the world or material success after they finish college. "I want to be comfortable and happy," Feldman said. "I don't necessarily want to be rich," he added.

Liz Morgenthien spoke of seeking a sense of security. "I want to know where I am. So many people go through life not knowing where they're going."

David Ritacco wanted to fully utilize his talents and do "what I'm capable of doing. The young scholar said his eventual goal is "to own a large house in California and stay home and read science fiction."

The three members of the Bicentennial year class also expressed a skepticism about the quality of our national leadership, including the current contenders for the White House.

"I think there's got to be someone else out there. I don't know who," Morgenthien said. "The whole idea of respect for government has lost a lot in the last 10 years," Ritacco added.

The lack of any real heroes for the Class of '76 was a deficiency pointed out by Bob Feldman. The three agreed there are no heroes for young people today. "I think we realize people are human with so many making mistakes. You realize no one is perfect," Morgenthien said.

The best and the brightest of Belleville said they got the most out of their education that they could. All three said some departments were weaker than others and they all said the math and science departments were the best at BHS.

Bob Feldman said the Belleville teachers who teach regardless of class complaints are "the ones you don't like too much but looking back, they're your best teachers."

The honors students spoke of Belleville as a good town to grow up in and a good place to raise children. They all spoke of an insular quality about the town however. "People just stay here. They grow up here, go to school here and live here," Liz Morgenthien said. She added, "I don't plan to stay here."

"People who live in Belleville are sheltered," Bob Feldman said. "They think things very near don't affect them. Newark is two miles away and they act like it's a thousand miles away."

All three top students will be attending colleges with scholarships awarded to them. Bob Feldman of 11 Cottage Street will attend Rutgers College of Engineering with awards from the Optimist Club, the Home and School Association, the Class of 1926, and the Junior Women's Club.

Liz Morgenthien, 30 Mitchell Street, has been accepted at Gettysburg College to major in mathematics on scholarships from Penn-Walt, the Class of 1926, and Gettysburg College.

David Ritacco, 10 Gregory Terrace, is going to Stevens Institute of Technology as a pre-med major with an alumni scholarship from Stevens and a National Merit award.

'Saucer' sighted by local youths

By JODI MASSONE

One year ago

Aunfo Mauriello, 14, didn't just read about UFO's, he saw them.

The boy, along with friends, described an unidentified flying object as having a dome-shaped top, white lights, red lights, and the size of a compact car. It was said, by the youths, to have descended on a baseball field on the Belleville-Nutley line near Passaic Avenue.

The Newark Weather Service claimed that it had no knowledge of a flying object in the sky. It further claimed that no weather balloons had been released. The control towers at Newark International Airport and Maguire Air Force Base also did not receive any reports on the object.

The kids in Belleville, however, said they saw it, and in addition to spotting the object, kids were screaming and girls were crying.

A similar sighting was also reported in Union County where three children reported seeing a UFO over the grounds of John Rannels Hospital in Berkeley Heights.

The Essex County Board of Taxation finally sent an order to Belleville to revalue all local real estate. The order was signed by the State Director of Taxation in Trenton, and required Belleville to undergo the revaluation process by 1976.

A postponement request, however, was thought to be necessary for the $140,000 job to be done properly, according to the Belleville Tax Assessor.

Five years ago

Belleville's Town treasurer, Francis McCoy was elected to the executive board of the Municipal Finance Officer's Association of the U.S. and Canada. McCoy had the distinction of being the first Jerseyman named to the Board in 20 years, and was also the only member of the 13 man financial body who was not a revenue official from a large city.

McCoy, who had been with the town's financial department for 31 years, was the secretary of the New Jersey Chapter of the Municipal Finance Officer's Association.

Fourteen years ago

Belleville voters went to the polls in a tremendous demonstration of the power of the ballot and brought the long-entrenched political machine to a screeching halt.

In an at-large contest two Commissioners and a former Commissioner were almost ignored by the electorate. Thomas B. Greco was high man at the polls, with James Golden coming in second. George Addonizio won the third at-large seat. The losers Commissioner Nuncio Pico, Commissioner Harry Sullivan, and former Commissioner Kenneth Smith.

Nineteen years ago

A testimonial dinner in honor of singing mailman Patsy Tortorello, was staged at the Fountain Restaurant.

The affair was highlighted by the appearance of Claire Tortorello, Patsy's granddaughter who displayed her dancing artistry.

Dr. Michael Róochvarg of 132 Washington Avenue was appointed Chairman to head the 1957 campaign to fight multiple sclerosis. The campaign was to run the entire month of June, with the funds used to provide various services to those afflicted with the disease.

Twenty-nine years ago

Scrap paper paid off in a big way for Cub Pack 307. With the cooperation of many adults, plus real hard work on the part of the Cubs, the scouts realized a long-time ambition. The proceeds netted from the drive enabled the scouts to buy 28 complete baseball suits, bats, hats, balls and other equipment.

Forty-four years ago

Approximately 150 teachers and principals took the matter of their past due May salaries out of the hands of the Board of Education and carried their appeal for prompt payment to the Board of Commissioners.

Headed by the executives of the Home and School Associations of Schools One and Ten, the teachers staged a quiet and orderly demonstration in the chamber by appearing at the meeting in a body to demand satisfaction.

Fifty-four years ago

The Board of Recreation Commissioners appointed Miss Cara B. Lehman as superintendent of playground and recreation work.

R.W. Brown, Chester Kraft, and William Patten were appointed to arrange the annual outing of the Belleville Rifle Club at Camp Kraft, Pine Brook.

Frank Pace: a good man

To the Editor:

I am taking time out to write to you about a man who has been good to the kids and to most of the people in Belleville. His name is Frank Pace, owner of the corner sweet shop on Belleville Avenue.

Most kids will remember him because if they didn't have money for candy, he would give it to them anyway and he always made sure they ate a good lunch.

Most grown ups will remember him for the things he did for them such as taking people to the store or to the doctor's office if they didn't have a ride.

He died at 4:30 a.m. Monday morning the 14th of June. I think the town will miss him. We need more people like Frank Pace, the world would be a better place.

Junior Woman's Club installed slate of officers for new year

The evening of May 19 marked the beginning of the sixth year for the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville with the installation of the new officers. Special guest for the evening was Mrs. Rose Mary Hood, Eighth District Advisor. Mrs. Barbara Spillane, Charter president, served as the installing officer for the candlelight ceremony held at the Ponderosa Restaurant in Bloomfield.

The theme of the candlelight installation ceremony was a wheel symbolizing the forward thrust of the club's aims and objectives. The president represents the hub, the officers the strong spokes and the department chairmen and members the rim upon which the club turns.

Mrs. Pamela Van Holland, who will be serving her second term, has chosen as the theme for this year's administration, "Free to live, Free to fly."

The additional officers for 1976-77 are: Mrs. Barbara Doyle, first vice-president; Mrs. JoAnn McGough, second vice-president; Mrs. Sherry Moccia, third vice-president; Mrs. Annabel Nardochone, recording secretary; Mrs. Nina Colannino, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ceil Ciaravino, financial secretary; and Mrs. Barbara Spillane, Federation secretary.

Mrs. Van Holland also announced the following appointments for department and committee chairmen: Miss Linda Dixon and Mrs. Deborah Woodward, Art; Mrs. JoAnn McGough, Bicentennial; Mrs. Jane Thompson, Braille; Miss Lyn O'Neill and Mrs. Sherry Moccia, Drama; Mrs. Nina Colannino, Home Life; Mrs. Marie Schmidt, International Relations; Mrs. Diane Schroller, Music; Mrs. Sherry Moccia and Mrs. Barbara Doyle, Program; Mrs. Dot Burt, Public Affairs; Mrs. Gail Pabst, Refreshments; Mrs. Ceil Ciaravino, Sunshine; Mrs. Camille Liloia, Yearbook; and Mrs. Barbara Spillane, Public Relations.

The evening concluded with the presentation of certificates to the members who had received recognition at the recent convention. Mrs. Diane Schroller won second place for Advanced Toys in the Home Life Department, and Mrs. Barbara Spillane won a president's award for bringing in five new members.

Lamberti wraps up sports

By MIKE LAMBERTI

Just one year ago every varsity sport at Belleville High School finished with a better than .500 record. The high lights of that year were the varsity basketball team reaching the coveted Essex County Tournament for the first time in 15 years; the track team finishing with a winning record for the first time in 16 years; and the addition of the sport of soccer to Belleville.

1975-76 despite being a promising year was not the year every Belleville sports fan expected. The football team came through with a strong season. Their best games were a 14-3 victory over highly rated West Essex and a 24-0 rout over Hillside. Overall, their record was 4 wins, 4 losses and 1 tie. The tie was a scoreless one with arch-rival Nutley. Three of the losses were by a total of 11 points. Their high game on offense was a 47-0 rout of Orange.

Soccer became a varsity sport for the first time at Belleville. It was a tough season for the team but also a promising one. They won 2 games, dropped 17 and tied 1. Most of the members of that team will be returning next season. Two of the players were voted All-County. They were John Pontrella a senior and Hernon Borja a junior. Their coach for the second straight year was Mr. Tom Cahill.

Cross Country in 1974 was a winner for the first time in 20 years. In 1975 despite some great individual efforts the team finished under the .500 level. Jim Beck the team's co-captain came very close to breaking the Belleville High record for the home cross country course. The record 15 minutes 20 seconds set in 1973 was one of Beck's quests. He came close, however, running a 15:32. Overall the teams record was five wins and seven losses. Beck won 8 of the 12 races. He was also named Honorable Mention by a top newspaper.

Winter sports as well had their good and bad parts. The good part was the wrestling team. Under coach Jim Silvestri, the team compiled a 13-1 record. Their only loss came to arch-rival Essex Catholic 25-21. The team also defeated Pascack Hills a squad that had won 56 matches in a row coming into the contest with Belleville. Three of their wrestlers made the journey to the state finals. They were Carl Arlt at 101 pounds, Robert Villano at 148 pounds and Chris Tremel at 158 pounds. Tremel due to an injury could not wrestle in the finals. Arlt finished the season with a 24-2 record. He was defeated in the first round of the state finals. Villano compiled a 23-4-1 record and like Arlt was beaten in the first round of the state finals. Tremel finished 24-1 but as mentioned before could not wrestle in the finals.

1974-75 for basketball was a great year. The team was invited to play in the Essex County tournament for the first time in 15 years. Overall their record for that year was 13-10 and coach Dan Grasso was looking forward to another strong showing. It did not happen that way however as the teams record tumbled to 2 wins and 20 losses. Injuries destroyed the team this season but there were still some good showings. Mark Montagna a senior who played only JV ball the previous campaign was a great success this season. Montagna averaged 14 points a game and despite being only 6 feet 2 inches tall did a great job in the center position. Rich Baker a junior earned a starting job early in the regular season and played very well for the rest of the season. He averaged 7 points a game and was an excellent ball handler. Girls' basketball, under the leadership of coach Karen Fucello, finished with a 5-13 record. Fucello should be optimistic about the future however. She is only losing three girls to graduation and has some very bright prospects. For instance Michel Giordano a sophomore who never played basketball before broke right into the system. She started on the varsity level averaging 10 points a game. However the top performer on the team had to be senior Carol Lelio. Lelio, a guard, averaged 19 points a game and was a tremendous outside shooter. She was the key factor when Belleville stunned one of the top girls basketball teams in the state, Mt. St. Dominics 42-31.

The spring sports at Belleville High School were very successful. The most successful one was the varsity baseball team. Under George Zanfini the team has compiled a 23-4 record with one game remaining. For four weeks straight during the season the team was ranked number 1 in the state by two prominent newspapers. After an opening loss to Irvington 1-0 the team went on to win their next 22 games. They routed Irvington in their rematch 11-6 along with many other convincing wins. Their victory bubble was broken when they were edged out by Livingston 3-2. John Guarino, the team's center fielder hit 7 homeruns during the season. Greg Petite one of the teams starting pitchers led the team in strikeouts and shutouts. It was a tremendous season and one that all of Belleville High School should be proud of.

The track team finished with a 6-7 record. They had a chance to finish with a .500 record but their last meet of the season against East Side was cancelled. Their top win of the season came against Kearny 63-58. Nick Semaca scored 96 points for the team this season showing consistency in the hurdles. Fan Morel score over 100 points competing in the pole vault and the long jump. Doug Jackson, the team's top high jumper and long jumper took second place in those events at the Big 10 Championships. Nelson Seda won nine of 13 races in the mile run.

Mike and Nick Cancelliere

Athletes run in family

By JOANNE SANTIGLIA

Athletic prowess runs in the Cancelliere family. This year the Belleville High School Baseball Team can boast of having the "Cancelliere Cousins" Nickolas and Michael on their team. The boys, both seniors, are classmates and teammates, as well as great pals. Mike's position is third base while Nick feels at home on first. Both boys remember playing baseball for many years, Mike starting in Little League at about 9, and Nick had his beginning at 10 in the farm league.

Baseball however isn't the only sport that the boys participate in. Mike can be remembered as the kicker and guard on the Belleville High School Football Team. He also spends time on the golf course and ski-slopes. Nick, who is also a golfer, remembers the time when both he and his cousin Mike were on the basketball team of the Recreation Department. Versatility seems an appropriate term for these two.

Both boys were excited over their

Yearbook staff produces memories

By ROSS SHERMAN

After 13 or more years of school, the biggest joy in the world is to graduate and receive a diploma. Many students go on to college while others go right out into the world and find a job. High School, according to some, is the best time in a person's life. Old boyfriends and girlfriends, teachers, friends, and sports are talked about years after graduation. One of the most cherished items a person could own is his senior yearbook, a priceless possession.

Every school has a yearbook staff and Belleville High School is not an exception. Since 1973, Mr. John Klotz, English teacher at B.H.S. has been advisor of the Monad staff. This May, between 12 and 15 students have been chosen on a voluntary basis for the staff. The yearbook staff receives no allocated funds and therefore they must raise their own money. The budget for this year's book was $12,000.00, raised by selling booster, ads, and yearbooks. The 1975-76 staff edited a book of 296 pages, almost 100 pages more than last year's. There will also be a 16 page full color introductory section.

Business is joy to Peggy Feder

By DONNA JACOBELLI

"All the world is business," says Peggy Feder, who has been taking business courses at BHS since ninth grade. She enjoys the business world and plans to venture out in it after graduation.

Peggy recently received an award from Berkley School for the highest achievement in business education at Belleville High School. She also received a bond from Tri Town Women's Club in winning a typing contest for typing 67 words per minute.

Peggy presently has a position as a secretary with a law firm of Oransky, Donovan, Scaraggi and Borg in East Orange.

After graduation Peggy plans to attend college to keep abreast of the events in the field of business law. She is a secretary of the Belleville Drama Workshop.

Scholars honored

By MADELYN MALANANOWSKI

Scholarships, plaques, and merit certificates were awarded to many students for their excellent scholastic performance at the annual Scholastic Awards Program held Thursday, May 20. Earning the three top titles were Robert Feldman, Valedictorian; David Ritacco, Salutatorian; and Elizabeth Morgenthien, Salutatorian.

The class of 1976 began the ceremony by presenting Robert Feldman and Liz Morgenthien with an award for being the top male and female students of the class of 1976.

Three $350 scholarships presented by the Optimist Club of Belleville were awarded to Peggy Bennett, Robert Feldman, and Madelyn Malanowski. Madelyn also received a scholarship of $400 from the Kiwanis Club.

Women are being slighted

By LISA HAYES

There has always been a strong emphasis on sports in the Belleville school system. The school system has always provided time and consideration to this program. There is one flaw however in the program, and that is the lack of more sports programs for girls.

Except for a basketball team and softball team, BHS girls do not have much of an extra-curriculum program in which to develop their physical education. It took such a vast movement as Women's Liberation to just illustrate that there is no harm in having a girl run and jump. Fortunately our ideas have changed on the subject for the better.

Female students of BHS are not asking for the right to participate with the boys in their sports but they are asking for formation of teams of their peers. One of the biggest injustices to the girls is the track team.

The girls are allowed to participate on the team but they are matched up unequally with other teammates while the boys are matched equally. Their points have no significance in the final score because they aren't counted. The girls who do substantially well in the meets, and there are many who do, are given no recognition in the community and are basically unknown athletes.

If the girls had their own team, then not only would it be more fair to the girls running, but there would be a larger turnout of students who in the past were reluctant to join a team dominated by boys. This surge of students will show educators that females are conscious of their athletic awareness. The girls have a valid request that should be listened to. We hope that the Board of Education will consider this proposal and will make a wise decision.

'Spirit of America'

By WENDI KNOWLES

The following poem was the first prize winner in the Junior Women's Club Poetry Contest. Wendi Knowles was awarded a prize of $10, a certificate and a trophy for her work.

They sailed the ocean farmed the land
They knew that it would someday pay.

They fought for independence even if it meant losing their lives just to see the day...

The day when they could stand alone without the aid from foreign lands.

And state that they are Americans
That this land belongs to them.

They did not want to be famous or heroic or brave...

They just wanted to be known as Americans and above all...

Robert Williams heads delegation

Robert M. Williams, president of DeWitt Savings & Loan, headed a delegation of directors from the Association to the 67th Annual Convention of the New Jersey Savings League.

Accompanying Williams were John Dailey, chairman of the board, Harry Ziegler, Frank Bridge and Clarence Lommerin, association directors.

The convention was held in Washington, D.C., this year in honor of the nation's Bicentennial. The meeting was in session from June 7 through June 11 at the Shorham Americana Hotel.

Williams attended a panel that examined problems and solutions that affect savings and loan associations with assets up to $100 million. DeWitt's assets now fall into this category, according to Williams.

The DeWitt president and other DeWitt delegates also attended panels, seminars and workshop sessions relating to the overall interests of the savings and loan industry. Of special interest were meetings that discussed the mechanics of checking accounts for customers of savings and loans. Mortgage financing and future methods of encouraging thrift and home ownership were other topics discussed.

The two principal speakers at the convention were Senator John Tower of Texas and Representative Joseph Minish.

Mary is made queen

Commissioner Mary Senatore, head of the Department of Public Works, will be crowned queen on June 29.

The coronation will take place at Don's 21 in Newark where Mrs. Senatore will preside over the summer Carnival Festival.

Owner Don Francello has booked Buddy Greco to highlight the entertainment bill for the 11th annual mid-year festival at the restaurant on June 22.

A spokesman for Don's 21 said "selection of Commissioner Senatore was rather easy. The lifelong resident of Belleville has a list of credits a mile long. She's a member of many civic and charitable organizations, including the cancer and heart funds. Mrs. Senatore is a former Girl Scout leader and past president of Belleville Democratic Club and the Essex County Women's League."

Mrs. Senatore will reign at the Carnival with a king who will be selected the night before her crowning. The crowning of the king and queen and the final night ceremonies is one of the most popular events at Don's 21.

Frank Tredici, whose golden voice furnishes Don's patrons with Italian renditions, will be on hand along with some special dancing. The 60-member service staff, always under the strict guidance of owner Francello, will join in the festivities.

Fred Steeb Jr. enlists in army

Fred J. Steeb Jr., a 1976 graduate of Belleville High School, will leave June 21 for basic training at Fort Dix, New Jersey.

Upon completion of training, he will be stationed in Virginia and will attend the Armed Forces music school.

Steeb has been a member of the school's stage and marching bands, the chorus, and was a member of the jazz rock group "Cliff."

Poster winner — Robert N. Taylor, Road Safety Director of the New Jersey Auto Club (AAA), presents an award in the 32nd annual AAA National Safety Poster Contest to John Lopushnak. John is a sixth grade student at School Ten and resides at 167 Smallwood Avenue. His classroom teacher Mrs. I. Finetti, accepts an award for John's art teacher, Geoffrey F. Fucoli.

Kathleen Janiec is cum laude grad

Kathleen Ann Janiec, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Janiec, will graduate magna cum laude June 5 from Jersey City State College. The graduate will receive her B.A. degree in speech correction, special education, and art education.

Janiec, who graduated from East Orange Catholic High School was on the honor list for her four years at that school, and while there served as a member of the Student Council, the cheerleading squad and the art club.

The student, who was selected as a member of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" for the year 1975-76, was a member of the dean's list at Jersey City State from 1973 to 1976. She was also a member of the Council for Exceptional Children, the Speech Club, History Club, Art Association, and the Performing Arts Committee.

A member of Belleville's Historical Society, Janiec plans to teach exceptional children in addition to studying for her master's degree.

Miss Janiec

Miss Ruth Iacullo makes Berkeley list

Bruin win streak climbs to seven

The Belleville Bruins extended their winning streak to seven games by taking two last weekend, 7-3 over Verona on Saturday and repeating the score Sunday with a 7-3 victory against Union.

Tonight the Bruins travel to battle the West Orange Red Sox but will host a home stand Saturday with the Dolphins and Sunday against the Maples.

The Maplewood Maples were also the Bruins opponents in an away game last night but the results were in too late for this edition of the Times/News.

The Bruins, now 7-1 for the season, downed Verona last Saturday behind the pitching of Jack Rake and the relief efforts of Greg D'Allesandro.

The defending Essex County League champs started their hitting attack early in the game with a lead-off double by shortstop Kevin Goy. Tony Roselle advanced Goy to third with a single before Goy was batted home by Tony Leopoldi's sacrifice.

The Bruins picked up two more runs in the third when Goy doubled again, was advanced by a Roselle single again, and scored again on a Leopoldi double. First baseman Dan Dunn also clouted a double in the inning to score Leopoldi.

Legion team starts slow

The Bellboys of the spring have become the Belleville American Legion baseball team of the summer and their only problem is the BHS varsity year.

The Legionaires lost their first two games of the season, 3-0 to Vailsburg and 7-4 to Bloomfield. Tomorrow the Bellevilleites will host Livingston home at 6 p.m. Caldwell will travel here for a game next Monday night at 6 and Belleville will play at Verona next Wednesday.

Legion coach George Zanfini said the first two losses season. The coach said "I just want them to go out and enjoy themselves, it's going to take a while to get into the flow."

Most of the players are from BHS and Zanfini has added freshman standout pitchers Jerry Fazzini and Danny Borgo to the Legion roster.

Pitcher Greg Petite went the distance in the loss on Tuesday to Bloomfield. Zanfini said Petite had lost all traces with the sore arm he developed during the end of the Bellboy year and his entering the pitching rotation is a bright spot for the Legionaires future.

The hitting also began to re-emerge for the former Bellboys in the Bloomfield game after the shutout loss to Verona. Chipper Biafore clouted a round tripper in the first to start the Legionaires scoring.

Second baseman Scott Ocshe scored in the fifth when Petite and Bob Giordano backed up Ocshe's walk with two base hits.

Belleville frosh team was best in history

The Belleville ninth grade diamonders went 16-3 this year to compile the best record ever in the history of Bellboy freshman baseball.

Jerry Fazzini led the young Blue-Gold team with six wins on the mound while batting over .400 at the plate. Frosh Fazzini's hitting talent paced the team with three homers and top totals in RBIs and extra base hits.

Catcher Anthony Cossentanio was "very impressive defensively" behind the plate, co-coach Carl Corino said. The Bellboy batted .310 for the frosh and has an excellent future according to the coach.

The ninth grade nine's pitching ability was the most impressive aspect of the team according to Corino. Danny Borgo led the mound staff with six wins and one loss. Borgo struck-out 75 batters this year and threw three shutouts.

Batting champ Fazzini, when he wasn't hitting the ball, was compiling six wins to two losses. Fazzini gave up only four hits in 10 innings in a 4-2 loss to Seton Hall in the Clifton Invitational tournament.

Bellboy thrower Jim Tensfeldt, 4-0, threw two shutouts for the frosh including a no hitter against East Orange.

The freshman who scored the best season for the Blue-Gold in the school's history included: Michael Fazzari, Weddy Tramutola, Anthony Dondarski, Jim Kelly, Anthony Bocchino, Jesse Marchese, Ken Miele, Carl Garafalo, Louis DiPasquale, Al DeMeo, Tim Nadzan, Joe Franceshini, Anthony Cossentanio, Jim Tensfeldt, Jerry Fazzini, and Danny Borgo.

Jim DiGiovanna was the co-coach of the ninth grade diamonders with Carl Corino.

The victor

Alvin Poindexter raises his glove in victory after the heavyweight bout at last Friday's amateur boxing night at Belleville Municipal Stadium. The event, sponsored by the Veteran Boxers Association and the Telegram, drew hundreds of ring fans and was sanctioned by the AAU. Twenty fighters from the area stepped into the ring and there were trophies for all the pugilists.

Rec programs start June 28

The Recreation Department is gearing up its summer playground program that opens June 28 with a playground director's workshop next Thursday.

Thirteen playgrounds in Belleville will feature interplayground sports, physical fitness programs, dodge ball, swimming lessons at Friendly House, and jai alai.

Robert Cook, Superintendent of Recreation, has also announced the formation of a summer program for special education students. Cook said the format for the special ed sessions is still in the planning stages. Special Education teachers have volunteered their services for the summer activities, Cook added.

The summer playground directors will be familiarized with the Rec Department's planned activities for the summer at the June 24 meeting. Cook said directors who displayed talents in certain areas in the past will chair sections of the workshop, so everyone can learn something.

The Recreation Department will also sponsor the annual Independence Day Field Day this year at Municipal Stadium. A super circus featuring 18 acts will highlight the coming holiday's program along with footraces, an obstacle course, tug of wars, and three legged races.

Cook also announced a summer wrestling program is in the planning stages.

Court was bad scene

By JOSEPH RYAN

Everyone arrived at least five hours early for coach George Zanfini's night in court. It was like an away game the local team scheduled for a later time without informing the visitors.

Livingston Municipal Court started hearings at 7 p.m. last Thursday but it was well past midnight Friday morning when the Bellboy coach's case came to trial. The trial the rest of the night was sitting on the hard benches in the humid courtroom listening to shoplifting, malicious damage, and attempted robbery cases while waiting.

Judge Irving Vichness avoided all deliberate speed by making sure all defendants knew their rights under the law, especially those who represented themselves without lawyers. It was good to see "the system working for everyone but exasperating to watch a judge plod step by step through cases no one from Belleville regarded as important.

So it was waiting and watching a mother accuse her son of trespassing on her property. The son pleaded guilty and after the fine was imposed he pathetically asked the judge what was wrong with going to his mother's house when he didn't have any money or anywhere else to go. The judge explained "that's the way she wants it."

The judge was the central character in each of the cases. A court clerk at his left remained silent throughout the night but gazed at every witness with a look of intense skepticism reminiscent of a grade

Bruins seven

The Belleville Bruins have won seven games in a row and took their sixth and seventh contests with seven runs in both games. At right, centerfielder Willie Puentes is congratulated for crossing the plate after he was walked-in at Sunday's victory over Verona. The Bruins are off to the best start in their history and the defending County League champions, below, will have to be contended with before another team takes the title. Coach Dennis Sasso has been especially pleased with the Bruins batting.

Bruin batsman Kevin Goy went two for five at the plate against Verona last Saturday, doubling two doubles to drive in two of the Bruins seven runs. Coach Dennis Sasso said he was pleased with the early season hitting of the defending champion diamonds.

the fifth paid off when he was batted home by Bruin Bob De Jianne's double.

The Bellevilleites completed their victory over Verona with three runs in the eighth. A double by Joe Papisidero drove in the third run following singles by De Jianne and Dunn and a walk drawn by designated hitter Bruno Giordano.

Brian Karl, in his first start for the Bruins, held Union to seven hits last Sunday as the Bellevilleites took their seventh in a row, 7-3.

A bases loaded single in the first inning by Danny Dunn started the Bruin attack. Tony Roselle and Willie Puentes, who were on with singles scored on Dunn's hit. Outfielder Rocky Giordano also singled in the first, driving in Dunn and De Jianne.

Puentes walked in the fifth inning and after advancing to third, scored when a balk was called on Curnal, the Union pitcher.

The last two Bruin runs came in the seventh when Dunn batted in Puentes, who was on with a hit and Giordano singled home Dunn.

Bruin coach Dennis Sasso said the bears have "a lot of good players" this year though the defending champions aren't as deep in the pitching department as they have been in the past. Sasso said the hitting of De Jianne, Dunn, and Roselle has been consistent and added the infield has been performing very well.

in the sixth when John Guarino doubled and scored on Michael Cancelliere's single that set off a series of errors that allowed both runners to cross the plate.

A final scoring opportunity arose in the seventh but the Bellevilleites stranded men on third and second.

The Legionaires lost the season's opener on Monday to Vailsburg, 3-0.

The Vailsburg nine scored in the first inning when the second baseman Daniels singled and was batted home on a double by Fagan and a pop out by Sheppard.

One run was all Belleville's opponents needed but they took two more in the seventh when Carroll reached base for Vailsburg on an error by the Belleville first baseman. A triple by Reardon put the Vailsburg legionaires ahead by two and another error resulted in Reardon scoring the final run.

Vailsburg pitcher Bob Selecky held the Belleville legionaires to seven hits. Selecky got into trouble in the bottom of the seventh when Belleville loaded the bases with two outs but got out of the jam when John Guarino lined out to second baseman Daniels.

Bob Giordano went the distance on the mound for Belleville, striking out three and walking none.

school nun or a bill collector.

The case of a property line dispute paraded before the judge. A school principal, a grown man, had pulled the surveyors stakes out of what he thought was his property. He freely admitted to doing it because he thought the stakes were a joke of the neighbors he had been feuding with for years. The neighbors weren't kidding, the stake-puller was found guilty and fined. The judge advised the families to settle their differences over lemonade.

Two men without a lawyer said they were innocent of attempting to break into a station wagon for a CB radio. Security guards testified they had spotted the pair from the roof of a shopping mall. The two crossed examined witnesses themselves. One asked a guard "did you actually see me break into that car?" The judge advised him that was a poor question. The two would-be lawyers lost their case the burglary tools that were found in their car provided the most damaging evidence against the inept burglars.

One of the best lawyers of the night was, unfortunately the Livingston prosecutor Levenson. He was about six feet five and honed his questions by leaning over toward the eye level of the accused and acting appropriately pleased or bemused at responses. James Stewart would play the Livingston prosecutor the same way Levenson did.

Finally around midnight there is a glimpse of how Judge Vichness might act in coach Zanfini's case. A grocery clerk testifies she saw a woman shoplift. The woman denies it with a story that elicits laughter in the courtroom. The judge admonishes the spectators and reminds the courtroom that if the case doesn't seem serious, it's very serious to the person involved. The judge decides that on the basis of the two conflicting stories there is a reasonable doubt. He finds the accused shoplifter not guilty.

Then after nearly six hours of waiting the Zanfini case is brought to trial. Bell testifies without recalling he threw Michael Cancelliere out of the Montclair game. For the first time he mentions that coach Zanfini supposedly threatened his family. He says he was struck three times and punched by the Belleville coach. Under cross examination by Frank Pomaco the umpire becomes a little tongue-tied. When presented with his description of the incidents in a letter that fails to mention incidents referred to in his testimony he says the letter was a condensed version.

The prosecutor questions coach Zanfini carefully on whether or not contact was made with the umpire. Zanfini admits contact caused by the crowd was probably made. The case is probably over.

None of the witnesses testified they saw the coach punch the ump. There are conflicting stories on both sides about the occurrences of any shoves or bumps. The judge yawned once during the trial. It was very late. Judge Vichness was very apologetic when he handed down the guilty decision. Even Levenson, the prosecutor called it a sad occasion. It was much sadder for the coach and his friends who had waited all night to encounter defeat. There was a feeling the host team had put one over on the visitors. So the case will be appealed. Everyone has a right to challenge a judge's decision, if not an umpire's.

Like this — A fighter from the Lou Costello gym in Patterson is advised how to punch to his best advantage by his manager between rounds. The boxer seems more intent on endurance than technique at that point at last Friday's matches in Belleville.

Although these four savings accounts all give a 5% interest rate, they each earn different amounts of money. Because they each compute the interest differently. Midlantic Bank computes its 5% interest using the "Day-of-Deposit to Day-of-Withdrawal" method. As you can see, this is the one that earns the most money for you.

Another advantage of our 5% savings plan is that it doesn't require a passbook. Instead, you receive a statement in the mail every three months that shows you everything a passbook would.

Come in and we'll be glad to assist you in opening a 5% Day-of-Deposit to Day-of-Withdrawal Savings Account and answer any questions you may have on why our 5% interest rate is just a little more equal than some other banks' 5% interest rate.

Cable television firm files application in Belleville

Suburban Cablevision of East Orange has filed applications for municipal consent to build a cable television system in Belleville, Nutley, Bloomfield, Millburn and Clifton. The company now holds 12 franchises in the state.

"These communities are included in Suburban's cable system design concept," said Mitchell Kleinhandler, vice president of operations. "The company has performed much of the necessary engineering work in these municipalities. Therefore, if the franchises are awarded to Suburban, the company is ready to provide cable service without incurring inordinate construction delays," he added.

The five communities project another 65,000 dwelling units in Suburban Cablevision's burgeoning cable market, bringing to over 170,000 in the company's anticipated system. This will comprise the largest franchised CATV operation in New Jersey.

"With our present and projected market, Suburban could become one of the largest CATV systems in the country," said Kleinhandler.

The application for municipal consent is the first step a cable company must take in seeking a cable TV franchise. The local governing body, in this case, the Belleville Town Commission, must set a public hearing date not earlier than 60 days nor later than 90 days from the date the first application is filed. Following awarding of a cable TV ordinance by the community and receipt of approval from the Public Utilities Commission, Office of Cable Television, application is made to the Federal Communications Commission for a Certificate of Compliance. A community can be activated for cable only after receipt of FCC approval.

Suburban provides 25 channels and later will supplement service to a total of 35, a company spokesman said. Many channels are available exclusively through cablevision: a Madison Square Garden channel bringing over 100 sporting events, including home games of the Knicks and Rangers; a 24-hour news Associated Press; a channel providing financial news from Reuters International and transactions of the New York and American Stock Exchanges, and an all-night, all-weekend sports channel, providing the latest scores and sports events.

In compliance with FCC requirements, Suburban has available for each municipality, an educational, municipal and public access channel. Time, weather and the weather forecast are available on a continuous basis. A special preview channel serves as an exclusive guide to cablevision programming. A local origination channel provides programming with local audience appeal and includes special events, news, local high school sports, opinion, talk and talent shows. A 24-hour community bulletin board channel announcing local activities is featured as is a channel carrying local classified ads, political spots and similar advertisements.

In addition to the above, all off-air channels are available, including VHF channels, two, four, five, seven, nine, 11 and 13; UHF channels 21, 25, 41, 47, 50 and 68, and independent channels 17 and 29 from Philadelphia.

A channel selector which operates as a remote on/off selector and fine tuning unit for the subscriber's television set will be provided by Suburban.

The company also offers an optional pay-TV service to cablevision subscribers at an additional cost. This Home Box Office (HBO) service provides a package of current movies each month plus excellent cultural and children's shows. This month, the company's HBO subscribers will receive what the company calls "two extraordinary shows." "Gone With The Wind" will be presented for the first time ever on television. According to a company spokesman, it has been considered "unobtainable" until now. Also, a two-and-a-half hour Bette Midler Show will come direct from Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas.

Those two shows are in addition to numerous other first run movies and children's programs. All movies and specials are presented uncut, unedited and completely commercial free.

Numerous sporting events are available through Home Box Office, including the Nets and Islanders home live coverage of selected Wimbledon tennis matches.

A Home Box Office program guide is provided to all subscribers by Suburban at no additional charge.

Costs for standard cablevision which includes all services with the exception of Home Box Office, are a $15 installation fee for the first set and $7.50 for each additional set. The company will waive the $15 installation fee if a resident subscribes within 30 days of cable service becoming available in the area. There is a $6.50 monthly charge for the first set and $2.50 for each additional set. The Home Box Office cost is $8 per month per household, regardless of the number of sets. There will be no installation fee for Home Box Office if installed with standard cable service. A $15 installation charge will apply if a subscriber requests HBO after standard cablevision hook-up.

Suburban Cablevision has more than 10,000 subscribers in the municipalities of West Orange, Livingston, Irvington and Maplewood. In addition to these towns, it holds franchises in West Caldwell, Maplewood, Verona, Fairfield, Roseland, Caldwell, East Orange, Orange and Harrison. The company anticipates it will have service available to all 12 municipalities by early 1977.

Betty Wood's paintings can be seen at YMCA

Paintings by Betty Wood of Essex Fells are on display this month at the Montclair YMCA. The public is invited to view the exhibit which is in the lounge area of the women's department at 25 Park St., Montclair.

The watercolors are varied in style, and although the artist paints in a realistic manner, she is experimenting with different techniques, influenced by her study with Marie Stuart, Frances McQuillan, Ed Havas, Nicholas Beak and others.

Many of her paintings have been accepted in juried shows by the Summit Art Center, the Art Center of the Oranges, Westfield Art Association and the New Jersey Watercolor Society. She has received prizes at several of the exhibitions, and her work has been purchased by individuals in New Jersey, Vermont, Connecticut, Michigan and Florida.

Peter Rainone of 104 Forest Street, a senior at Bloomfield College, received the 1976 Friends of the Bloomfield Town Library Award recently. He is shown above receiving the award from Morris Rubin, Esquire. The award is presented annually at the college's pre-

Mrs. Ritter honored

The annual assembly meeting of the Girl Scout Council of Greater Essex County with installation of officers and presentation of awards at ceremonies was held recently in the Memorial High School, Cedar Grove.

Mrs. R.F. Ritter of Belleville received a framed Services Award from president Barbara Romaine. Mrs. Ritter has been an active volunteer for the Girl Scouts since 1960. She has served as leader, troop organizer, assistant leader, neighborhood chairman and has been a board member. She also received a certificate of appreciation in 1973.

Miss Kathleen Weir, Senior Scout board member also received an award, certificate of appreciation. Miss Weir serves as a leader for a Nutley troop and has been an assistant in the summer day camp program.

Executive director, Roseanne Brennan, informed the assembly of the realignment of staff and priorities. "There is a renewed vigor and commitment to the existing program as well as an ambitious thrust toward innovative new programming," Mrs. Brennan stated.

President Barbara Romaine,

Mrs. R.F. Ritter

meanwhile reviewed the Council's progress toward increased commitment over the past year. She commented favorably on the group's sharing and communication inroads and ended on a note of optimism for future anticipated accomplishments.

Salvation Army opens its camp

The Salvation Army summer camp — it's "vacation" and "a dream come true" to children who never expected to leave the hot city. All summer long, children from Newark and other cities in New Jersey will be travelling to Camp Tecumseh in Hunterdon County to enjoy a full week of summer camp.

The 300 acre camp, situated on a private lake, offers all the beauty of nature and facilities for outdoor recreation. The varied program includes swimming, boating, archery and arts and crafts.

A small farm on the property enables the children to participate in the care and feeding of animals and the cultivation of a garden. An Indian Teepee Village provides campers with the opportunity to experience outdoor living.

Woman is guilty of slapping child

A Bellevilleite, charged with assaulting a 12-year old, was given a 10 day suspended sentence and fined $10 in costs, during proceedings in Belleville Municipal Court on June 10.

Carol Dolan, 54 Mt. Prospect Avenue, pleaded guilty to slapping the child in the face on May 25 at School Number Eight.

Judge Edward Abramson imposed the costs charge and suspended the sentence.

The child's mother was the complainant in the case.

Newarker fined for burglary tools

A 19-year old Newark man was fined $150 for possession of burglary tools after he pleaded guilty to the charge during proceedings in Belleville Municipal Court on June 10.

Carlos Alfonso Diaz, 169 Thomas Street, was arrested for possession of the tools on May 26.

Municipal Court Judge Edward Abramson imposed the fine and found the defendant not guilty on the charge of failing to give a good account of himself.

Sergeant Philip Salmon of the Belleville Police Department was the complainant in the case.

Muscular dystrophy is the chronic disease which causes the muscles to weaken and waste away. Although the exact cause of the disease is not known, it is not contagious. The disease is found in all parts of the world, and it occurs at all ages. The Muscular Dystrophy Association of America indicate that more than one half of the estimated two hundred thousand victims in the United States are between the ages of three and thirteen years. The wasting away of the muscles is progressive and there is no known treatment for stopping the progress of the disease.

Concelebrants — The Most Rev. Peter L. Gerety, Archbishop of Newark, prepares the Holy Eucurist at Sunday's Mass celebrating Monsignor Anthony DiLuca's 70th anniversary in the priesthood.

Msgr. DiLuca cited on 70th year in priesthood

Pastor Emeritus — Monsignor DiLuca, with Archbishop Gerety in foreground, expresses his appreciation to members of Holy Family Parish during an afternoon luncheon given in his honor.

Belleville Officials — Monsignor DiLuca greeted a long-time friend at Sunday's luncheon when 90-year-old Mrs. Jennie Buono greeted her parish priest at the Holy Family luncheon. Mrs. Buono is the mother of Belleville Public Works Commissioner Mary Senatore. From left are Commissioner Senatore, Mrs. Buono, Monsignor DiLuca and Public Affairs Commissioner Vincent Strumolo.

Parish Picture — Archbishop Peter L. Gerety led the recessional down the center aisle following Sunday's anniversary mass. This was the scene as the parish dignitaries reached the entrance to Holy Family: (l-r) the Rev. Mr. Michael Freda, the Most Rev. Gerety, Rev. Monsignor Anthony DiLuca, the Rev. Francis Blake who is Holy Family's pastor, and the Rev. Joseph Barbone.

priests who had come to help celebrate the 70th anniversary event, Monsignor DiLuca turned to the others in the audience and thanked God "for giving me a devote congregation, and one that was able to pay...pay for everything we've built here. God bless you all."

The Rev. Francis Blake, pastor of Holy Family and long-time associate of the Monsignor, addressed the congregation at the noon mass, centering his remarks from a phrase in the 109 Psalm, "You are a priest forever."

FATHER BLAKE said "No man is a priest for himself alone, but for the community of God on its entirety." Noting that 70 years is the physically allotted age of man on earth, "the Holy Family pastor continued, 'Seventy years of priesthood on earth has been the divinely allotted destiny of Anthony DiLuca.'"

The pastor ended his remarks by offering a tribute to the Monsignor in Italian — "the tongue of the mother who bore him 95 years ago." Again there was applause.

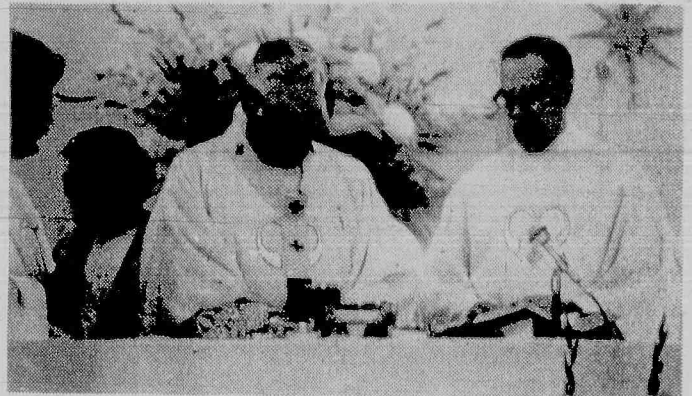

Archbishop Gerety also addressed the congregation as the mass ended. "We praise Almighty God for giving us a wonderful priest who has spent all of his adult life serving God and serving His people," the Archbishop said.

MONSIGNOR DILUCA came to the Belleville-Nutley parish in October 1933 and has served here ever since. He directed the construction of the present church, the convent and the elementary school. He was born in Italy and ordained in the province of Materna. His first assignment in America was in a remote mining town in Texas. There, his health failed and he went home to Italy to recover. In 1933 he returned to the United States and within a short period, was assigned to Holy Family.

BELLEVILLE'S OFFICIAL greetings were extended to Monsignor DiLuca by Commissioners Mary Senatore and Vincent Strumuolo, both of whom attended the afternoon testimonial luncheon. Commissioner Senatore's mother, Mrs. Jennie Buono, 90, also attended the testimonial to greet her parish priest whom she has known more than 40 years.

The Rev. Michael Saltarelli, a mass concelebrant, also was the master of ceremonies at the luncheon. In addition to the letter from President Ford, Father Saltarelli read letters of congratulation from Sen. Harrison Williams, Congressmen Joseph Minish, Peter W. Rodino, Auxiliary Bishops John J. Dougherty and Joseph A. Costello.

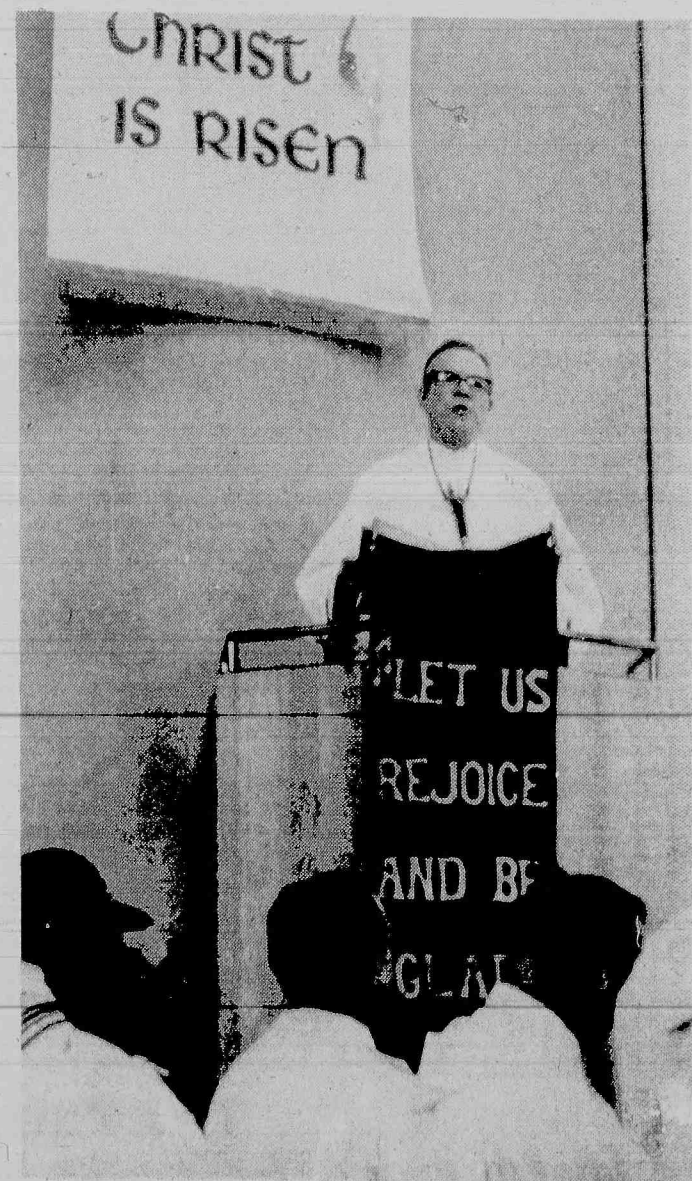

Other priests who concelebrated the mass, beside those already mentioned, were the Rev. Robert Cozzini, Rev. Joseph Barbone, Rev. Emmanuel Capozzelli, Rev. Daniel Danik, Rev. Henry Jancewicz, Rev. Charles McTague, Rev. Msgr. Joseph Przewdzicki and the Rev. Gerald Walsh.

The Communion — Archbishop Peter L. Gerety prepares the Communion during Sunday's mass. Others (l-r) are the Rev. Michael Freda, the Rev. Robert Vitillo and the Rev. Francis Blake, pastor of Holy Family.

Processional — The Rev. Joseph Barbone (right) escorts Monsignor Anthony DiLuca into Holy Family Church at the opening processional. Father Barbone is an assistant pastor at Holy Family Church.

Father Blake — Holy Family's current pastor, the Rev. Francis Blake, praises his long-time colleague and friend, Monsignor DiLuca, at Sunday's anniversary mass.

RECORD REVIEW

Louden Wainwright is wild

By ANTHONY BUCCINO

Combining his incisive sense of humor and unique capacity for capturing irony and absurdity, Loudon Wainwright III has got it all down on vinyl in a catchy collection of new songs called "T-Shirt" (Arista).

"Hey Paeky" is the anthem of all those souls "shuffling a lonesome trail." Beautifully done, with that rambling country-wide accent, Wainwright serves up Georges Gerdes' song with deserving reverence and camp.

Wainwright's "Talking Big Apple '75" delivers in folk tradition the direct, even innocent. In an accurate description of N.Y.C. ("five big boroughs chock full of stuff") Wainwright taps the mother lode citing, "Sure I know New York is dirty and ugly and fulla cockroaches— Ah but it's not boring." Beautiful, Loudon, just beautiful.

"Just like Neil Young Blues" is the first impression "Prince Hal's Dirge" gives me. Loudon Wainwright is in gallant form in this song about a roughish prince who declares he'll change his ways "When I'm good and ready/To become King of this land."

Like "The Star Spangled Banner", "Wine With Dinner" is a drinking song. Sung in the traditional drunken sing-along fashion with appropriate tongue-in-cheek, "Wine With Dinner" is a blank (though the lyrics are colorful) statement on the "lost weekends" and "cozy joints" where alcohol is better than "smack and nebulat".

Ecstatic electricity helps trace the life of "a rake, a rover" from his rambunctious young days to his death at fifty-five in "At Both Ends". If you abuse it, you lose it.

"Reciprocity" provides a slice of life from the "T-Shirt" pie. "Reciprocity" is about a couple, probably married, who are not as young as they used to be, and who are not as true to one another as they used to be. "Once they were lovers and practically best friends/Now he's into bondage and she's into revenge" explains the lyrics. Wainwright's observations are terribly sharp and cutting, his clarity almost hurts.

"Summer's Almost Over" provides some mellow mood music. "Summer's Almost Over" chronicles that pre-Labor Day feeling of getting "back to school". Again, Wainwright is on target with this mournful gem.

Loudon Wainwright III has a pleasant, easy to listen to voice. The music is pleasant, mostly in the background but handled in a precise, direct manner. Wainwright's mainstay is his ultra-sensitive, keen power of observation. He is definitely on his way to the upper echelon of the music world.

Watch For's: "Fifteen Big Ones" a new album from the Beach Boys celebrating fifteen years together... "The Watergate Comedy Hour" album by Burns and Schrieber to be released on the four year anniversary of the Watergate break-in, June 17th.

"Don't Smoke Dope, Fry Your Hair" a comedy album by Franklyn Ajaye will be out this summer.

St. Peter's drive continues

Saint Peter's Church Restoration Campaign has raised $180,400 in the first two weeks of seeking funds, it was reported recently. The money was raised by 300 workers, and the announcement was made at the second Memorial Gifts report meeting held in St. Peter's School auditorium. More than 250 memorials have been designated so far.

Led by Joseph R. Jarman, general chairman, the campaign workers are now canvassing the remaining parishioners, seeking a "restoration gift. It is hoped a minimum goal of $300,000 will be reached in this general phase of the campaign.

The purpose of the campaign is to raise funds to restore the church which was destroyed by fire March 28.

Church services are temporarily being held in the school auditorium, the rectory meeting room, and the convent chapel.

The church has received many gifts from outside the parish and even some from outside the spoke at all masses recently and expressed gratitude for the marvelous spirit of sacrifice and cooperation on the part of parishioners and workers. At the same time, he asked for an all out effort during the final stage of the fund raising drive.

The Bishop requested continuation of the crusade of prayer to the Blessed Mother for the success of the drive. School children and parishioners have been encouraged to pray daily for assistance.

Valley change proposed

The Belleville Planning Board passed a resolution last week, recommending to the Town Commission a change in zoning for a portion of the Valley section of town.

Though the group strongly favored making the Eastwood-Nealley property a restricted business zone, it bent to public pressure by passing a resolution which supports either a restricted business area or one- and two-family dwellings.

Board chairman Joseph Grande said the group would not object to the construction of homes in the area, but he added, "We would allow one- and two-family homes, but no multi-family dwellings. We don't want some fly-by-night builder to come in here and construct garden apartments, sell them, and let them run down. We don't want a slum."

While the Planners said the construction homes would be acceptable, one noted privately it was unlikely such a community would ever be developed. The cost of the land, it was noted, would require the price of a home would range as high as $70,000.

The motion passed by the Board would allow either all dwellings or all business, but not a combination of the two. According to Planning Board Attorney Thomas DiBiasi, "The intent of this motion is to prevent the piece-meal development of this property."

According to present zoning regulations, the Eastwood-Nealley property is now under a non-conforming use variance. If the building is taken down, the land would revert to a "B" residential zone. This would mean a developer could buy the property and begin construction on one- and two-family homes without a variance from the Zoning Board.

The Planners, along with their recommendation, sent to the Commissioners a list of suggested restrictions if the area is developed for business. Among those businesses prohibited are massage parlors, bowling alleys and funeral homes. Fast-food restaurants would also be banned.

Local merchants have opposed zoning the area for business, perhaps fearing a further migration of businesses from the Washington Avenue area. Stanley Slavin, a Belleville merchant and spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce, attended Thursday's meeting to present the merchants' point of view. He was apparently satisfied with the Board's dual recommendation.

The Planners also discussed the possibility of formulating a housing code which would mandate certain standards in buildings. Member Chris Albanese offered his services voluntarily for inspection of buildings if the Board could approve such a measure. Several other Board members said they too would be willing to give their time.

Orientation — Mr. and Mrs. Al Angelino of 28 Berkeley Avenue talk with Manny Menendez Montclair State College Student Government president and Ken Malmud (right) student representative to the college Board of Trustees. The couple visited the school on Orientation Day held recently. Their daughter Mary will attend MSC this fall.

On the march

Belleville's Police Department took to the picket lines this week, protesting the July 30 layoffs of eight men. Above, Ralph Sia, one of the eight slated to go, joins in the demonstration held Tuesday outside Town Hall. The men also picketed a social affair sponsored by Commissioner Saletta's civic association, angering the Public Safety head. The men feel the town could meet their contract terms without the layoffs.

Essay winner

Public Safety Commissioner Rocco Saletta presented Mona Nicoletta a $50 Savings Bond award on Tuesday for her winning essay on Malicious Damage and Vandalism. All grade schools in Belleville participated in the contest and Mona's was judged the best overall entry. Congratulating the young writer at the presentation were, left to right, Sergeant Ronald Thompson of the Belleville police, John P. Dailey, of the Belleville Manufacturers Association, Commissioner Saletta, and Harry French from the Chamber of Commerce.

Liquor license vote could close all bars

By CHUCK JACKSON

Every bar in Belleville will have to lock its doors next Thursday unless the Commission calls an emergency meeting to renew local liquor licenses.

A routine resolution granting renewal of tavern licenses failed, 2-1-1 at Monday's meeting of the Commission, following some complicated parliamentary wrangling.

The failure of the resolution to pass was the result of a dispute between the town and five local bars which have installed coin operated games. The taverns have installed the games without proper licensing, officials contend, and are being issued summonses accordingly by the Belleville Police Department.

The legality of the ordinance itself is currently being contested in court, and the town is appealing a decision by a County Court which struck down part of the ordinance.

Only four of Belleville's five Commissioners were present at the meeting. Joseph McGreevy, Director of Finance, was reportedly ill and did not attend the session.

When the resolution, number 13, came up for a vote, none of the four Commissioners would move it. Mayor Michael Marotti, after several minutes of silence, became angry, raising his voice, saying, "Let's go! Some one has to move this resolution because I can't. We're just sitting up here looking like a bunch of yoyos."

Commissioner Vincent Strumolo attempted to amend the resolution, deleting the five bars in question — Olga's, MacDonald's Tavern, Town Cottage, Circle Bar, and the Shamrock Tavern, Town Attorney John Scott, however, said such a move could not legally be made.

After some more moments of apparent confusion, Strumolo moved the original resolution and it was seconded by Mayor Marotti.

Strumolo and the Mayor voted in favor of granting the licenses, Public Safety Director Rocco Saletta voted against it, and Commissioner Mary Senatore abstained.

Commissioner Senatore said, "I have never voted on liquor licenses, since my brother owns a tavern." It was later discovered Mrs. Senatore had voted on such a measure last year.

According to Town Clerk Eugene. Please see "July" on page 5.

Board reveals relocation plan

The Belleville Board of Education announced Monday plans for locating the students of School Three for the coming school year.

Board member Lawrence Schwartz, head of the committee which studied pupil housing, presented the group's recommendations to the other Trustees.

The report was accepted and approved by a 5-0 vote.

According to the plan, the 465 students will be distributed in four locations. Some of the students will attend classes in the undamaged portion of School Three, and the rest will be relocated to Fewsmith Church, Bethany Lutheran Church and Christ Episcopal Church.

Nearly 200 people, most of them parents of School Three students, attended Monday's meeting. Though some parents said the arrangements would cause some inconvenience, most seemed satisfied with the solution to the problem.

School Three and School Seven pupils have been attending school on split sessions ever since the January fire.

Work is now being done at the facilities which will be used, including the "new" wing of School Three. Schwartz said work on the areas would continue even if schools must close on July 1, since school systems are allowed to prepare and maintain buildings for September 1 opening.

The plan calls for kindergarten students to attend classes at Bethany Lutheran Church on New and Joralemon Streets. According to Schwartz, there will be two morning classes and one in the afternoon.

Bruno Associates: the bucks start here

By JOSEPH RYAN

Sometimes you have to spend money to make money. Belleville pays $10,000 a year to a Newark public relations firm to seek out federal funds for local projects and the investment has begun to pay off.

Belleville's fund seekers are Bruno Associates and they have already made application to the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration for dollars to aid the Juvenile Division of the Belleville Police. John R. Bruno, head of the firm, predicts the town will be granted up to $110,000 over three years for its juvenile aid program.

Bruno said the job of his company is to go after the money available to the towns that are Bruno's clients. "With tax rates the way they are in all municipalities, we're going to try to get them as many dollars as we can," Bruno said.

The consulting firm's present projects for Belleville include the juvenile aid application, a green acres park project, a highway safety grant, and a police communications system. Bruno also said his firm is interested in helping the development of the Washington Avenue business district in Belleville.

Bruno Associates have had Belleville as a client for 14 months but learned the municipal assistance ropes with handling applications for Kearny, Union City, West New York, North Bergen, Guttenberg, Wehawken, Fairview, Cliffside Park, and Jersey City.

Police picket Town Hall

The gap between Commissioner Rocco Saletta and the Police Force widened this week as the men picketed Town Hall to protest coming layoffs.

The demonstration in front of Town Hall Tuesday was the second in five days as members of PBA Local #28 expressed their anger at the loss of eight fellow officers on July 30. Last Friday, the men marched in front of the Branch Brook Manor, where the Rocco Saletta Civic Association was holding a dinner.

The men came to the Commission meeting following the picketing, and police officers made up most of the audience. PBA president William Escott, a Belleville detective, spoke on behalf of the union. Executive Delegate Anthony Fantacone also addressed the Commissioners.

Escott, who addressed several questions to the Public Safety Director, prefaced his remarks, saying, "I want everyone here to know I was ordered to stay away from this meeting, and that is a violation of our contract."

Saletta took exception to Escott's remark, angrily denying he had issued such an order.

"I didn't say you issued the order," Escott shot back. "Deputy Chief Frank Haight ordered me to stay away. If you would be kind enough to listen to me, Commissioner, I will listen to you when I am done."

The PBA president asked Saletta why no official action had been taken on the contract, adding, "We haven't received any official information on anything. The only things we have learned, we have read in the newspapers."

Saletta said he would not comment on anything Escott said, but he did indicate the town was going to court in order to have the contract, awarded by an arbitrator, set aside.

The agreement, handed down April 14, is for a two year period. The town is contending the arbitrator overstepped his power when he issued it, since the town was seeking only a one year package.
