

Cozzarelli association holds second meeting

The second meeting of the James Cozzarelli Association was held Wednesday, June 23 at Parillo's Restaurant, 104 Harrison Street Belleville. The meeting concerned with the organization's adoption of a constitution, ratification of the by-laws, election of officers and the formation of various committees to implement the objectives of the association.

The purpose of the group is to promote the welfare of the community in general, and more particularly, to foster the development and socialization of mentally handicapped individuals.

Cozzarelli, speaking of the problems of the mentally retarded recently, said, "The mentally handicapped individual is one, who, from adolescence, encounters exceptional hardship in learning and is relatively ineffective in applying whatever he or she has learned to the problems of daily functioning."

"Mental retardation is found among every race, religion and nationality; every educational, social and economic background," Cozzarelli added. "The condition is four times more common than rheumatic heart disease, and nine times more prevalent than cerebral palsy. It affects 15 times as many people as total blindness. It disables 10 times as many children and adults than polio before research provided the Salk vaccine. And one out of every 10 Americans has a direct involvement with the problem by virtue of having a mentally retarded in his or her family. Each retarded citizen needs our special support and services in order to realize his or her potential."

There are over 28,000 persons in Essex County alone who are mentally retarded, Cozzarelli said, and he called it a "shocking statistic which we must attend to directly." He said it was the goal of his association "and other mental health agencies" to "create hope."

The James Cozzarelli Association is aiming to provide special support and services to retarded persons, with monies generated from fund raising events. The association is a specialized non-profit body whose major responsibility is promotion and, where necessary, providing effective services to the mentally handicapped. The group hopes to represent the needs of the mentally retarded and advocates in their behalf in such areas as community acceptance, public awareness and information. The association intends to develop a complete resource library, publish a news bulletin and found a mentally handicapped citizens' union building.

Cozzarelli is presently seeking business owners who will extend the mentally handicapped special consideration. The first professional business man to come forward in response to the plea was Frank Custode, owner of Fashion Eyewear, formerly Smith Opticians, 140 Washington Avenue, Belleville.

Custode is prepared to arrange special appointments so he may devote as much time as would be necessary to the proper fitting of eye glasses for the handicapped individual.

Custode, a member of the association, has previous experience in this aspect of his profession and said he is anxious to be of assistance.

"Remember," said Cozzarelli, "for the mentally handicapped, 'Friends make the Difference.'"

Let's give the country a ring

The New Jersey Bicentennial Commission is calling for a statewide ringing of bells on July 4 at 2 p.m. to herald this country's entrance into its third century.

Former Governor Robert Meyner, chairman of the Commission, said the pell-ringing program will take place simultaneously in all 50 states and the U.S. territories.

The time span will range from 2 p.m. Eastern time in New Jersey to 7 a.m. Bering Time in American Samoa. The time selected is exactly 200 years from the precise moment the Liberty Bell proclaimed the independence of the new nation.

Communities, churches, schools, fire departments, universities and individuals will toll bells and carillons for two minutes in commemoration of the nation's first two centuries.

In Philadelphia at 2 p.m., the Liberty Bell will be run (amplified electronically because of the crack) in a symbolic national ceremony conducted by the Sons of the American Revolution at Independence National Park.

The nationwide effort is being coordinated by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration in accordance with a Concurrent Resolution passed by Congress.

Meyner also called for a mass display of American flags on homes, public buildings and firms in the state for several weeks.

Bloomfield concerts start

The Bloomfield Civic Band, under the direction of Dominick Ferrara will begin its summer "Concerts on the Green" Monday at 8:15 p.m., June 28.

Staying with the Bicentennial theme, the band will present ethnic compositions featuring Irish and Scotch Monday, French and Polish on July 12, German on July 19 and Italian, July 26.

The band will also perform at the town's July 4 fireworks display.

The group is sponsored by the Federation of Music of Bloomfield.

Local cancer drive hits halfway mark

The local drive for funds for the American Cancer Society has just passed the halfway mark, it was announced recently by Vincent Strumolo, Public Affairs Commissioner and head to the town movement.

"So far this year, we've raised only $4,200. People have got to realize how important their contributions are and get behind the Society's programs in research, patient services and education," said Strumolo.

The Belleville chairperson noted any resident who has not contributed of been contacted through the Society's neighborhood volunteers can still help this life-saving organization's efforts by mailing a tax-deductible contribution to the American Cancer Society, P.O. Box 610, East Orange, New Jersey, 07109.

Countywide, the group netted nearly $4,000 this month from two fund raisers. More than $1,500 was raised at a Bike-a-thon held in South Orange June 12 and more than $2,000 was collected at a Celebrity Auction held last Thursday at Seton Hall University.

The heaviest bidding occurred when NFL Giant offensive guard John Hicks took the podium and offered celebrity auction goes a package deal, arranged through Rheingold Breweries, which included tickets to the Giant-Cowboy game scheduled for October 10 at the new Giant stadium and ownership of one of the first footballs kicked off during the opening game.

Besides auctioning the tickets and the collector's item football, Hicks also invited the highest bidder to dine with him after the game.

The winning combination heightened the bidding which culminated in an offer of $310 by Mrs. Shirley Moskowitz of West Orange.

Services scheduled to honor Maass

Graveside memorial services at Fairmount Cemetery, Newark, on Monday, June 28, will open observance of the 100th birthday of Clara Maass, the East Orange nurse who died in 1901 as a volunteer in U.S. Army yellow fever experiments, and for whom Clara Maass Memorial Hospital in Belleville is named. She was an 1895 graduate of the hospital's school of nursing.

Colonel Helen J. Mackey, chief of the department of nursing at Walston Army Hospital, Fort Dix, will place a memorial wreath at the monument which marks Miss Maass' grave. Henry C. Pfaff, Jr., board chairman of Clara Mass Memorial, Carolyn Benzell, representing the students of CMMH School of Nursing, and Mrs. Robin Dolobowsky of the Clara Maass Alumnae Association will also take part in the ceremonies, as will Pastor Donald E. Blume, director of chaplaincy services at Clara Maass, and Rev. William Mink, the hospital's Catholic chaplain.

Others attending the services include Albin H. Obert, president of the hospital; Mayors Michael V. Marotti of Belleville, Harry W. Chenoweth of Nutley and John W. Kinder of Bloomfield; members of the hospital's administrative staff and representatives of the nursing profession.

The monument was erected in 1931 through the efforts of Miss Leopodine Guinther, then superintendent of the hospital. It replaces the simple Army headstone that was placed at the grave in 1902, when the body of Miss Maass was brought home from Havana and buried in Fairmount Cemetery with full military honors.

At the Belleville hospital, patients, employees and volunteers will join the centennial celebration with a 600-pound birthday cake that will provide at least 2,500 servings.

The four-foot by eight-foot cake, designed and baked by Francis Cake Specialties of Belleville, features a three dimensional portrait of Clara Maass in full color, and is the largest ever prepared by Francis Cafone and his staff. Mr. Cafone, an accomplished amateur sculptor, has spend several weeks creating the portrait of Miss Maass.

Into the cake will go 30 pounds of sugar, 30 pounds of flour, 3 pounds of baking powder, 15 quarts of milk, a quart of vanilla and 18 dozen eggs; 250 pounds of filling will be used, and it will be iced with 200 pounds of butter cream.

Both the State Senate and Assembly will introduce resolutions commemorating the 100th birthday of Clara Maass. Congressman Joseph G. Minish has been asked to read it into the Congressional Record, and in Belleville and Nutley mayors Marotti and Chenoweth have issued proclamations designating June 28 as Clara Maass Day in their communities.

The centennial birthday observance is a prelude to the issuance of a commemorative postage stamp honoring Miss Maass which will take place August 18 at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. She is the first professional American Nurse ever to be recognized by the U.S. Postal Service.

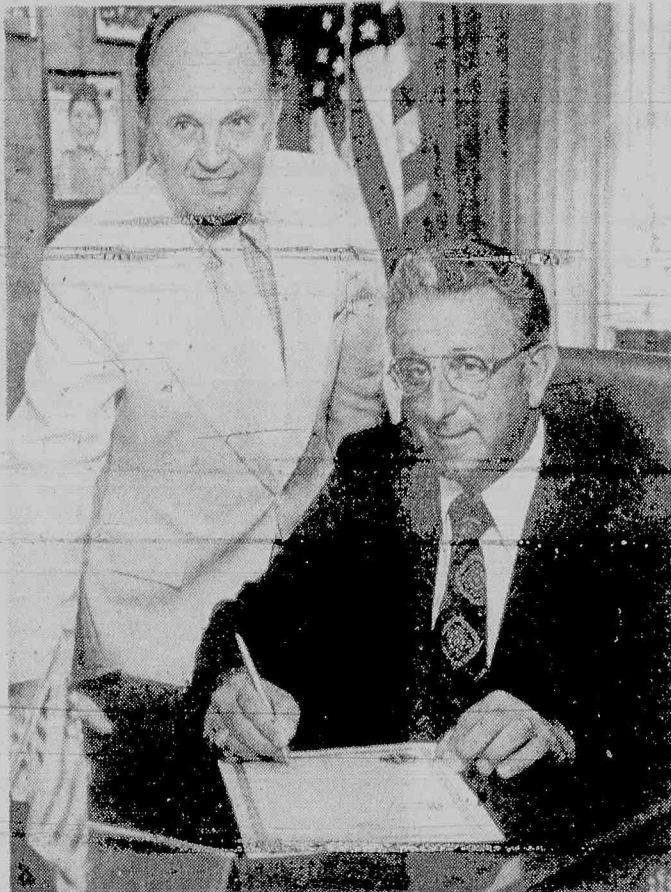

More than 100 area churches are joining in the observance of Clara Maass Memorial Sunday June 27. Ecumenical services honoring Miss Maass, who died as a volunteer in yellow fever research and whose 100th birthday is June 28, will also be held in the Clara Maass Memorial Hospital Chapel at 11 a.m., and broadcast via closed circuit television, to all patients in the Belleville hospital. Pastor Donald E. Blume, director of chaplaincy services at Clara Maass, and Father William Mink, the hospital's Catholic chaplain, will conduct the services.

An order-of-services bulletin for use in the June 27 memorial has been provided by Clara Maass Memorial for all churches. The bulletin, in two versions, features a stained glass window, in full color, which was presented to the Mountain View Methodist Church on Palm Sunday, 1941, by Emma Maass, Clara's younger sister.

The window, which is now installed in the United Methodist Church of Wayne, bears the inscription "In memory of Clara Louise Maass, who made the supreme sacrifice for science that others might live. Greater love hath no man than this" as a tribute to the East Orange nurse, whose death in 1901 during U.S. Army research on the cause of yellow fever, made possible the ultimate elimination of the disease, which had ranked as one of the world's leading killers.

CMMH President Albin H. Oberg, commenting on the June 27 memorial services, said that it is "heartwarming to know that so many churches will be taking part in this special tribute to Nurse Maass. Certainly, in her service to mankind, she is the epitome of both a selfless nurse and a practicing Christian, whose love for her fellow man surpassed her own love for life."

Mayor Michael Marotti signs a proclamation designating Monday, June 28, as Clara Maass Day in Belleville, as Harold C. Widman, vice president of labor and public relations at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital looks on. The date is the 100th birthday of Miss Maass, for whom the hospital is named.

Senior Ms to be chosen

Selection of Ms Senior Citizen of New Jersey will be the highlight of the fourth annual Ms Senior Citizen Pageant at Cherry Hill High School East this Sunday, June 27. The event will begin at 1 p.m.

Fifteen women, representing their counties throughout the Garden State will take part in festivities, which include ladies who are 62 years or older. The participants will express their lifestyle in formal dress, talent and "inner beauty."

The weekend activities include a stay at the Rickshaw Inn on Route 70, and a special dinner in honor of the contestants.

A special "Man of the Year" award will be made at the pageant, and judges from stage, screen and television are expected to be on hand.

Opinion

Ford vs. Reagan

The chips are down for the Republican presidential nomination. President Ford and former Governor Reagan are coming down to the wire with only a razor-thin division of delegates.

We expect the August presidential convention in Kansas City to be a Republican blood bath of major proportions.

The odds — slight as they are — favor a Ford nomination. We have a gut feeling that Reagan will emerge as the GOP nominee.

If the delegates to the Republican convention reject President Ford, it is a foregone conclusion that Democrat Jimmy Carter will be the next President of the United States. Carter's election in November will lead to convulsive changes in both major parties.

We predict that eight years of President Jimmy Carter will lead to the realignment of the American political base. Under Jimmy Carter the Democrat Party will be the home of the Conservatives and the Republican Party will be the refuge of the Liberals. There will be no conservative south for the Republicans to romance. It will be all Jimmy Carter country.

Maybe these developments will be good for America. Maybe these changes are just what our people need.

Despite our predictions of gloom for the Republican party, we believe that President Ford has acted responsibly and has restored integrity in the White House. When Ford came upon the scene the country was without leadership. Whatever else anyone may say about Jerry Ford, no one can doubt the fact that he has made every effort to provide this great country of ours with the leadership within his capacity to give. It may not meet with the high standards and high hopes of all Americans, but we believe President Ford's leadership has earned for him the right to be nominated by his party.

Harry Lerner Wins

The members of the Democratic County Committee held their annual meeting and reelected Harry Lerner as their leader. Under Harry Lerner's peerless leadership the Democrat party of Essex County has won practically every office in sight.

The party controls every county office, two seats in Congress, three State Senate seats and eight Assembly seats. The Republicans would probably settle for half of the loot.

By any measure Harry Lerner is the most successful political leader in the State of New Jersey currently holding office in either party.

In addition to his proven political leadership, the record shows that Harry Lerner is a man of great compassion, integrity and intellect. To know Harry Lerner is to develop a deep affection for the man. His handshake is his bond. His word is gospel. His friendship is to be sought and cherished. He is a good man. He is a Democrat — and we wish he were a Republican.

And while we are wishing, we wish for Harry Lerner continued health and happiness. In writing about Harry Lerner we salute one of America's leaders.

Belated Father's

Day Salute:

Hercules had his awesome tasks,
Which brought him so much fame,
But we all know another man,
Yes! Father is his name.

This lowly male just plods along
To keep the family quiet.
If he attempts to raise his voice,
Oh gosh! There is a riot.

His attributes are plainly seen,
The neighbors praise him highly,
But in his own dear domicile
He gives advice quite shyly.

So on this one day of the year,
Let all the family gather,
And let poor dad be boss just once,
Three cheers for dear old father.

Prayer For Today

LORD, Thou knowest better than I know myself that I am growing older, and will some day be old.

Keep me from getting talkative, and particularly from the fatal habit of thinking I must say something on every subject and on every occasion.

Release me from craving to try to straighten out everybody's affairs.

Keep my mind free from the recital of endless details — give me wings to get to the point.

I ask for peace enough to listen to the tales of others' pains. Help me to endure them with patience.

But seal my lips on my own aches and pains — they are increasing and my love of rehearsing them is becoming sweeter as the years go by.

Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally it is possible that I may be mistaken.

Keep me reasonably sweet; I do not want to be a saint — some of them are so hard to live with — but a sour old person is one of the crowning works of the devil. Make me thoughtful, but not moody; helpful, but not bossy. With my vast store of wisdom, it seems a pity not to use it all — but Thou knowest, LORD, that I want a few friends at the end.

Candidates thank supporters

To the Editor:

We wish to thank all who supported us in the June 8 primary election. This victory proves you do want us to remain with you, and that you do know your County Committee Members.

How you ever found us on Line C, or remembered to vote for us on such a confusing ballot, makes us even more grateful for your support.

Not only do we want to thank our supporters, but we want to extend an extra thanks to our challengers, who worked gratis. They stayed at the polls the entire day. One worker, who was ill, spent her day phoning to remind you to vote.

Woman wonders about dog noise

To the Editor:

We are so thoughtful of our townspeople that we won't allow the churches to ring the bells for the Angelus at 6 a.m., 12 noon and 6 p.m. We won't allow a striking clock to chime the quarter hours because it creates a disturbance.

We are complaining to Newark Airport officials because airplanes fly too low over Belleville, creating too much noise.

How is it that the dogs can howl and bark from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m., seven days a week and we don't hear a word of protest from those in authority?

ACCENT ON ACTION

Red Cross: only goal is to help

Accent on Action is a public service feature written by Barbara Alden of the United Way to inform readers of the services and agencies available to them in Belleville. Today's column is the second one concerning the Belleville Red Cross, a United Way agency. American Red Cross is unique in that it does not charge for its services, and receives no government funds. It is supported entirely through volunteer dollars. In Belleville, almost the entire Red Cross budget is derived from United Way allocations.

"Red Cross starts with man's desire to help others who have troubles," said Mrs. Sophie Bade, director of the Belleville Red Cross. "It's been estimated that over 2,000,000 volunteers are actively involved in Red Cross work — doing work that would take 50,000 paid staff members. There is one paid worker for every 155 volunteers!"

Mrs. Bade has special words of praise for her disaster preparedness service — Chairman Dave Hyde and assistants Cliff Amlung and Edward Shea. These men are on call at all hours, whenever disaster strikes. At the recent fire at St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, these three men, well trained in disaster procedure, were on hand to help. When necessary, Red Cross volunteers provide food, clothing, medical care and shelter for victims of a disaster.

The Belleville Red Cross Youth Council meets five times a year at the Belleville elementary schools. Junior Red Cross members make hundreds of tray favors every year. These favors are given to hospitals and the Children's Shelter, filled with candy, to bring cheer on holidays. These children "the most enthusiastic group I've ever seen," says Mrs. Bade, also make get-well cards and holiday cards for their "adopted grandparents" at hospitals and in senior citizens groups. At Christmas they collect canned goods for the Welfare Department, "several truckloads last year," said Mrs. Bade. They have recently been involved in a food drive for victims of the Italian earthquake. Junior Red Cross members pay a modest enrollment fee, and from this they contribute money annually to the Craig Fund, or other worthy causes such as Guatemala relief.

The officers of this group are, President, Marigrace Valvano; Vicepresident, Ken Fitton; Secretary, Angela Saulino; Treasurer, Denise Strothers. They are guided and advised by a teacher representative from each elementary school. "What better way is there for our young people to develop a sense of community responsibility?" said Mrs. Bade. "In Red Cross Youth they can see the pleasure they give to others, and know the feeling of satisfaction that comes with meaningful volunteering."

To many of us, Red Cross brings to mind a picture of a smiling woman in a Red Cross uniform handing out coffee and donuts. Mrs. Hetty Murray, Belleville Red Cross canteen chairman, is another of Sophie Bade's "fantastic volunteers." Mrs. Murray and her canteen ladies put on birthday parties at the Veterans' Hospital, provide food at blood banks, and are on hand with coffee and food at disasters.

Service to Military Families is a traditional Red Cross responsibility. Under the able direction of S.M.F. chairman, Mrs. Wm. Alling, the Belleville

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

With the conviction rampant that Jimmy Carter has the Democratic convention nomination in the bag, there still linger some taunting contrasts of facts and fancies about the former Georgia Governor who aspires to become President of these United States of America.

Carter has been charged by some of his primary adversaries as being fuzzy on issues and even two-faced. They said he had something to offer conservatives and liberals alike. Audiences with conservative views like to listen to him orate that there are over a million welfare recipients who are able to work and ought to be trained for and offered a job.

"If they refuse it," he would say, "they ought to be taken off welfare altogether."

This pleases the conservatives, although they generally miss the very next line, in which he would add fully 90 percent of the people on welfare are not able to work, and they should be treated with decency and respect and love and compassion.

Carter proved a subtle campaigner, who reflected all the qualities sought by all elements of our society — especially in the troubled aftermath of Watergate and the despair and disillusionment of the masses over the corruption and immorality of public figure.

He passed himself off as an optimist, somewhat of a hearler, and as a God-fearing man who could bandage the country's wounds with an often repeated speech that the government should be as good as the American people are. His catchall claptrap message was that all Americans — welfare recipients and welfare workers, black civil rights activists and white segregationists, hardhats and students — are good people. We would inquire: Are they?

In his "canned" speech, which he peddled to all his audiences, he sometimes altered his stand on some issued to conform to the sentiments of the majority of the people of that area, as in Florida. There, when speaking before a conservative group, he omitted Martin Luther King's name from a list of great Americans. Notwithstanding, that the general tenor of his rhetoric was positive and upbeat.

On the controversial question of Viet Nam draft evaders, Carter promised full pardon if elected. Amnesty implied draft evasion was OK, while a pardon merely granted forgiveness, he said, trying to influence his audiences to accept the pardon idea when, in fact, amnesty does not imply approval. He was advised of this by a correspondent. To this, Carter roguishly replied, "I'll define the word any way that suits me."

That kind of dictatorial demeanor doesn't fit too well with this writer's concept of Presidential exercise of constitutional power.

While black audiences respond to Carter's appeals for love and decency, they might take note of the fact that the average welfare recipient, according to published reports, gets a low $32.25 per month in Georgia, only $4 more than when Carter took office, and that state requires poor people to pay a share of that if they want medicare. All this doesn't make it like a very good bargain for them to be elated about in his candidacy.

Carter has consistently assailed the old-line political forces, yet he has seen fit to have long been courting Chicago Boss Mayor Richard Daley, often visiting him in Chicago and phoning him frequently.

Could Carter's "Jaws" smile be an affected, smug simper that he hides behind to cover his reputation as an ambitious man who places winning as his highest goal? Perhaps it confirms his reputation as a steel-hard man of many contradictions.

Red Cross offers help to returning veterans, advising on educational or disability benefits, and reviewing discharge problems. In addition, only Red Cross can arrange leave for servicemen in times of family emergency.

Belleville Red Cross has in recent months given office space to training sessions for the new Friendly Visitor program. These sessions are staffed by professionals from the Community Mental Health Service, who train volunteers to help people who are alone and ill or elderly.

Red Cross also gives courses in water safety and first aid. They have a production unit, ladies who sew and knit. "We are in particular need of volunteers for this unit," said Mrs. Bade. Volunteer nurses and nurses aides give baby sitting courses and help at veterans hospitals and blood banks. A group of staff aides come in to the office regularly to help with typing and record keeping. Belleville Red Cross has over 250 volunteers on their active list.

There was a "Red Cross Awards Tea" held recently at the historic home of Mrs. David Oakes, Bloomfield's "First Lady," to honor Bloomfield and Belleville Red Cross volunteers. Miss Kay Wilson serves as chairman of the Belleville Red Cross office of volunteers, and, like so many other unselfish volunteers, typifies what Mrs. Bade calls "caring in action."

If you have free time and would like to volunteer, Red Cross is the place for you. Call Sophie Bade at 743-5848, or 676-1616, and offer whatever time and skill you have. You'll like the feeling!

Bruno said he saw the need for consulting companies, such as Bruno Associates, assisting town because many suburban official are not full time government administrators and cannot keep abreast of federal funds available to their towns.

Once Bruno Associates finds the appropriate funds for a local project it files application for them and follows it through the morass of red tape generated by bureaucracy. Bruno said a typical request for government dollars might be 30 pages long and require 18 copies. Bruno will work with a town to outline the request, pass a resolution approving the project, accumulate the statistics needed for the application, formulate the goals, file the application, and see that its not lost in processing.

Belleville will also be informed by Bruno Associates of any pending legislation that could be advantages to the town. A public works bill currently in congress is being watched by Bruno so the town can be ready for application if the bill becomes law.

Bruno said his consulting firm has helped to generate hundreds of thousands of dollars for municipalities. He added now that a working relationship with Belleville has been established the town has a "great deal of potential for a great deal of money."

"Our people take a great deal of pride in what they do," Bruno said. "They're proud of that they do when a grant is finally approved. It's another stepping stone to help the overburdened taxpayer."

The efforts of Bruno Associates established one of the first mini-bus programs for senior citizens in the state and also helped Union City receive a $316,000 grant to redevelop Roosevelt Stadium. "I think our track record speaks for itself," Bruno said.

The conventional public relations jobs are also handled by Bruno Associates and their clients include Engineers Incorporated, Star Glow Industries, Red Oak Restaurants, Holiday Inns, Valley Fair Company, the City of Newark, and the Newark Chamber of Commerce.

On the line — Members of the Belleville Police Department, including PBA president William Escott (center) marched in front of the Branch Brook Manor Friday to protest the coming police layoffs. The Rocco Saletta Civic Association was holding a dinner-dance at the restaurant, and the men came to make their first march against the job losses. The men also marched in front of Town Hall Tuesday before the Commission meeting. Members of the West Orange Police Department joined their Belleville brothers on the line.

Barnett, all of the town's 41 taverns may now have to file appeals to the Alcoholic Beverage Commission, the organization regulating the issuance and renewal liquor licenses. Unless the Commissioners call an emergency meeting before next Thursday to pass the resolution, all taverns will have to close.

Commissioner Saletta and Strumolo were reluctant to vote on the issuances of the permits until the legality of the town's ordinance banning the coin operated games has been determined. The June 1 ruling which was handed down reportedly struck down only a portion of the ordinance. Town attorneys are contending the licensing required by the law is still valid.

Belleville police are continuing to issue daily summonses to the five establishments, Deputy Chief Frank Haight said Monday. Until a final determination has been made, all the bars are being considered in violation of the ordinance.

Many observers seemed suprised by the Commission's move, and Mrs. Senatore, when asked after the meeting, said she believed the measure had passed.

Town Attorney Scott said he could not comment on the action, because he wanted "to study the legal ramifications of the action."

Scott said he was not sure of the procedure the taverns could have to follow, though he said he assumed some type of appeal would be available to them.

Several onlookers joked with Scott, pointing out that the Town Attorney's tavern, "Fat Mary's" in Bloomfield had just been granted a liquor license by that town.

the afternoon.

First, second and third graders will attend classes in the undamaged portion of School Three, with the first and second graders sharing the partitioned all purpose room and the third graders in the basement of the structure.

Fourth grade classes will be divided between two sites. Two of the classes will meet in School Three, on the second floor of the "new" wing and the other class will gather at Fewsmith.

Bellevilleite busted for being suspicious

A 29-year-old Belleville man, suspected of being involved in an attempted break-in at a Nutley apartment, was fined $50 Monday on a charge of "failing to give a good account of himself."

Donald D'Angiolella pleaded guilty to the charge which also brought a 30-day suspended jail sentence in Judge Edwin J. C. Joerg's court.

D'Angiolella, 41 King St., Belleville, was arrested by Detective Sgt. Sal Centanni after residents at the Commons Apartments reported a prowler in the area. D'Angiolella was picked up fleeing from the property after marked police cars arrived.

"He came running from the apartment area," Sgt. Centanni reports, "and when we asked him what he was doing, he said he had just gotten off the No. 13 bus from Newark." D'Angiolella was picked up on River Road, about a half-mile from the Washington Ave. route of the 13 bus.

Centanni said police doubted his story and issued the summons for failure to give a good accounting of his presence at the River Road apartment complex, in court Monday. D'Angiolella pleaded guilty to the charge.

geographical basis, with those living closest to the church attending class there.

Fifth graders, three classes, will also meet in the Union Avenue church.

Sixth grade classes will be held at Christ Episcopal Church on Washington Avenue.

During the question and answer period of Monday's Board meeting, several parents expressed concern over students attending classes at School Three before the gutted structure is torn down. Schwartz assured the parents all safety precautions would be taken and Board president Matthew Pica indicated demolition of the building might be planned for a weekend, avoiding any remote possibility of danger.

Schwartz also said there would be a five minute difference in the times schools were dismissed, allowing parents with children at more than one location time to pick up each child.

Parents will be officially notified of the location of their children's classes when final report cards are brought home.

The churches involved in the project are donating the space to the school system, authorities said, and the Board is paying for any needed repairs. Utilities will also be paid by the Trustees, it was noted.

Board president Pica praised the townspeople and the churches for their assistance, adding, "The churches involved were always right up front when it came to giving us help, and they never reneged on any promise."

"I also want to thank the parents of Schools Three and Seven," continued Pica, "We may have gotten off to a bad start, but everyone has come through."

School Three principal Austin MacArthur, who also answered some of the parents' questions, received a loud ovation when the meeting ended. School Seven principal Michael Rosamelia was also praised by the Trustees for his work this year.

All 5% interest rates are not created equal.

Although these four savings accounts all give a 5% interest rate, they each earn different amounts of money. Because they each compute the interest differently. Midlantic Bank computes its 5% interest using the "Day-of-Deposit to Day-of-Withdrawal" method. As you can see, this is the one that earns the most money for you.

Another advantage of our 5% savings plan is that it doesn't require a passbook. Instead, you receive a statement in the mail every three months that shows you everything a passbook would.

Come in and we'll be glad to assist you in opening a 5% Day-of-Deposit to Day-of-Withdrawal Savings Account and answer any questions you may have on why our 5% interest rate is just a little more equal than some other banks' 5% interest rate.

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

Our inquiries into the ~~train~~ ~~rare~~ ~~train~~ on trains for seniors brought out the following information from Mr. Alan Sagner, Commissioner of Transportation for the state of New Jersey.

The New Jersey railroads refused to participate in the Senior Citizens' Reduced Fare Program for the month of March, 1976. On April 1, 1976, all of the New Jersey railroads were taken over by ConRail, a federal organization.

It is expected that ConRail will honor the reduced fare program, but as yet, the legal work has not been completed. The public will be informed when the rails start honoring this program.

Mr. Joel Jacobson, President of the Public Utilities Commission, was the principal speaker at the June monthly meeting of the Essex County Council of Senior Citizens Clubs. His subject was of a nature that would be of interest to all of the utilities users in the state.

He told us that the four reasons why our electric bills are so high are the cost of fuel to generate electricity, the taxes on utilities companies and the costs of materials, inflation, and the need for funds for expansion.

His explanation for the proposed "Lifeline" rates were noted and some good could come from this proposition and some bad. It all depends on whether you are a consumer or a producer. Some hard, tough decisions are needed, and he said his ultimate goal would be to help the largest number of people.

Some of the members of the Belleville Senior Citizens Club were shown pictures with a running commentary by Mr. Hulme last Friday afternoon about a trip to Europe. The hosts for last week were Marie and Nick Mauncele, Evelyn Phillips, Ann Wiedman and Joe D'Amato.

Smithville is the next scheduled trip for this club, and Mike and Mary Cicerale are in charge. It will take place June 30. Call 759-1652 for reservations.

Mr. Charles Dybas of the Essex County Council of Senior Citizens Clubs has been appointed parliamentarian and member of the Board of Directors of that organization.

Virtuoso Neil Weintrob leaving to teach in Tulsa

"Go West young man!" is the advice Horace Greely gave many young men a century ago. Virtuoso violinist Neil Weintrob and his wife, Susan, a Belleville couple, have taken his advice and are headed for Tulsa, Oklahoma, where Mr. Weintrob will be Assistant Professor of Music, teaching violin, chamber music and conducting the orchestra.

Concertizing will be part of Weintrob's schedule next year, including a recital with fellow Tulsa University professor and noted concert pianist, Aldo Mancinelli, at the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C. "This is the perfect opportunity to do what every musician enjoys: conducting, performing and teaching. An added benefit is the city of Tulsa, which is beautiful and cultures, not at all what northerners might expect of the Southwest."

Weintrob's background is impressive in both novices and experts in music. Degrees from the Curtis Institute, Manhattan School of Music, the Juilliard School and Temple University adorn his den wall. Study in Sienna, Italy and Paris, France also add to the artist's background. He has studied under world famous teachers including Oscar Shumsky, Yehudi Meuhin, Nadia Boulager, Ivan Galamian and Raphael Bronstein.

Weintrob heads the string program at the Amherst Summer Music Center in Raymond, Maine,

Like all growing tissue, growing teeth need adequate amounts of protein, minerals, fats, and other food elements. These are obtained through the blood which supplies the pulp area of the tooth. If there is a limited or poor supply of food, the blood will take the necessary elements from other body tissues. It is therefore imperative that a balanced diet be provided for the proper growth of teeth. This is especially true of children. Whereas adults teeth no longer need calcium, the bone tissue which keeps the teeth in place must be supplied.

where he has taught for the past 5 years. After receiving his masters from Manhattan School, Weintrob joined the faculty there for 2 years.

Weintrob did not enjoy the usual college social life the first years around. "I was only 12 when I entered Curtis, being the youngest student there," Weintrob explained. By the time he reached Temple University the situation has changed, for it was there Weintrob met his wife Susan, now an English and Journalism teacher at Belleville High School. Mrs. Weintrob will be completing her master's program in education at the University of Tulsa next fall.

Camp plans open-house

Camp Madeline Walden, a Greater Essex Girl Scout facility will hold an open-house to which the public is invited. Parents of potential campers will be particularly interested in visiting the camp at Dingman's Ferry in the Poconos. The open-house is scheduled for June 27 from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m.

In recent years, parents have indicated an increased interest in camp safety standards. It has been the practice and policy of the Greater Essex Girl Scout Council to encourage parents to visit the camp facilities.

A virtually unknown aspect of the camp is that you do not have to be a Girl Scout to attend. Any girl from 7 to 17 is welcome. No uniforms are required. And fees are exceptionally reasonable. While the camp offers many optional programs, the camper who chooses a general unit is afforded a well-rounded camping experience. In general unit activities include: swimming, boating, hiking, canoeing, cookouts, dramatics and dancing. For those interested in horses, a Boots & Saddles program is available at a small additional charge.

The camp is accredited by the American Camping Association and is available to be charged on MasterCard. The camp can be reached by Route 80 west, to 206 north to Dingman's Ferry, proceed over bridge to Silver Lake Road, turn left 1 mile past Child's State Park, turn right 500 yards to camp.

Roll on, Wagon Train, roll on

I want to say a word of thanks to Everett Johnessee and Sen. Carmen Orechio for providing Nutley and my children with a most enjoyable experience last week. I'm referring of course to the Bicentennial Wagon Train which camped in Kingsland Park on Wednesday and departed the next morning for Morristown.

Layne, Carol Ann and I picked the seven kids up at Spring Garden School (changing Erin into playclothes in the bus) and spent an enjoyable hour in the park, getting as close to a horse as my children have ever been, inspecting the wagons, climbing up onto the seat of one to be recorded for posterity via Layne's camera.

A few things impressed me most: the vast disparity of age in the members of the train, from an adorable three year old girl to a couple of (if you'll excuse the expression) "old codgers" who looked as if they were thoroughly enjoying this whole thing; the great care the travelers were taking of their horses, cooling them off in the stream, hosing them down, rubbing legs with liniment, brushing and grooming; the incredible number of incredibly well behaved dogs, one bloodhound in particular who stood amongst this horde of people, immovable and unperturbed; the willingness of the train members to answer questions which must have seemed at times ridiculous.

We left Kingsland Park around 4:45 p.m., rushed home to a fast supper and were back at the park by 7 p.m. for the Wagon Train show which was worth waiting for, believe me. A talented quintet from the University of Pennsylvania sang and played a ~~great~~ collection of folk songs, written especially for their appearances with the Train. They were followed by the Nutley Old Guard Glee Club, great, as usual and the finale was a series of sets by the Covered Bridge Squares, a group of dedicated square dancers who are based in Nutley and perform throughout the area. (The girls liked them best - quite taken with the pretty dresses on the ladies.)

We got home close to ten, a little bit damp but none the worse for wear and rose at 6 a.m. to pay a final visit to the Train and watch it depart for its next destination. And that was the most fun of all. Discovered we had missed seeing a few things the day before, like the baby pig and goat along for the ride, the lone team of mules, an Austrian sheepdog puppy (I think that's what its owner said it was).

There were far less people who had braved the dawn than had braved the deluge the night before or the heat the previous afternoon and we were able to talk to more of the riders and watch them prepare to pull out.

The Train crossed the bridge and, out of Kingsland Park, headed for Kingsland Road with the nine of us taking an alternate route and reaching Terrace Avenue, just in time to watch them pass again. I was willing to go home at this point and Layne was in complete accord, but we hadn't reckoned on the seven sprouts who pleaded for one more look. Back into the bus again, along Franklin Avenue and up High Street to Joerg Avenue and across to Kingsland and what do you think we saw? You guessed it and it was worth the trip.

BHS Seniors graduate amid cheers and tears

It was the end of a certain kind of lifestyle for some and the beginning of a new life for all.

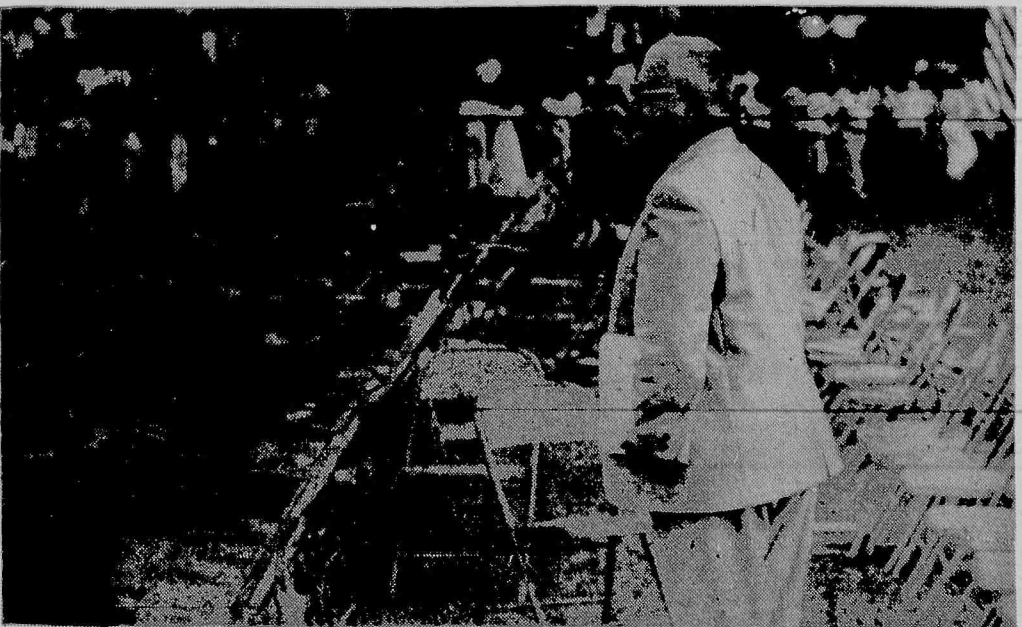

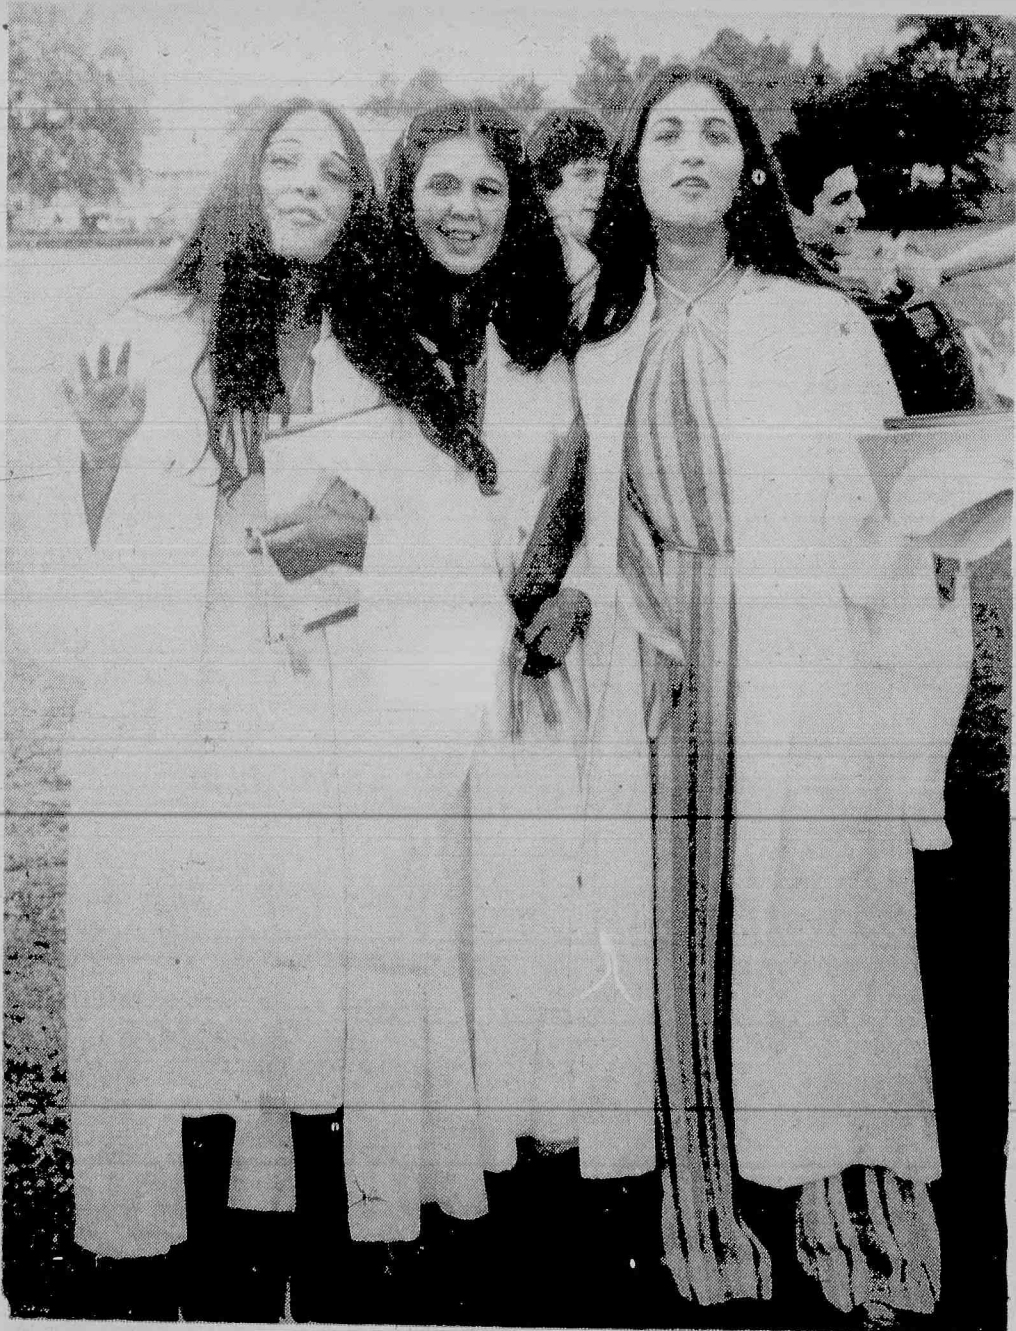

Belleville High School said good-bye to the class of 1976 last week in the annual rite marking the passage from child to adult. Friends, parents and well-wishers gathered at Municipal Stadium, bedecked by flags and decorated by the Belleville Maintenance Department. It was a moving ceremony for some and for others, one last high school obligation which had to be fulfilled.

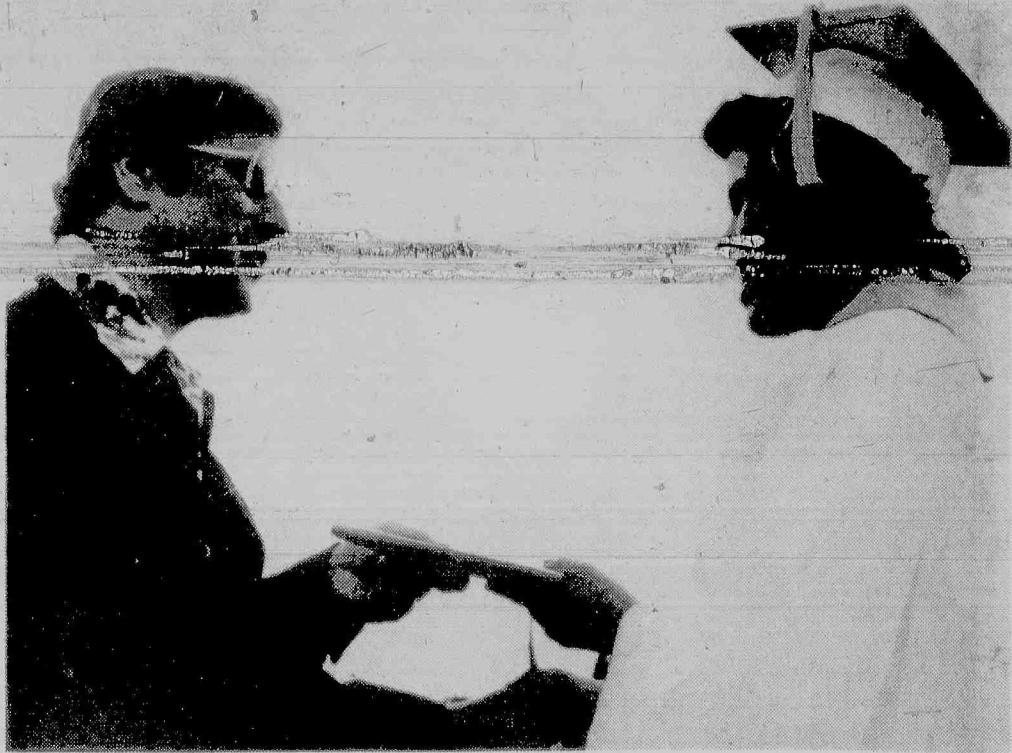

The students marched in ceremoniously, and listened as fellow classmates spoke on the future of this generation and the country. They also heard school officials praise them and give them that one last lecture before turning them loose. Some listened, while others chatted with parting friends.

School Board President Matthew Pica distributed the diplomas to the women of the class and vice president Michael Chieffo gave them to the men. The high spirits of the class were evident as some students, after receiving their sheepskins (and in some cases checking to make sure it was in the folder) raised their arms victoriously.

The joy at finally crashing the high school barrier was even more evident when the official ceremonies came abruptly to an end. The last student received his diploma, and the air was filled with a rain of mortarboards. After that, there was a blue and white stampede for the rear exit as the students, perhaps a little gracelessly, dashed for "freedom."

Tears were shed, hands were clasped, and it was over. The biggest moment in the lives of some of the people there was gone.

Patricia Pitrelli was one of more than 400 Belleville High School seniors who received their diplomas last week. School Board President Matthew Pica presented diplomas to the girls in the Class of '76.

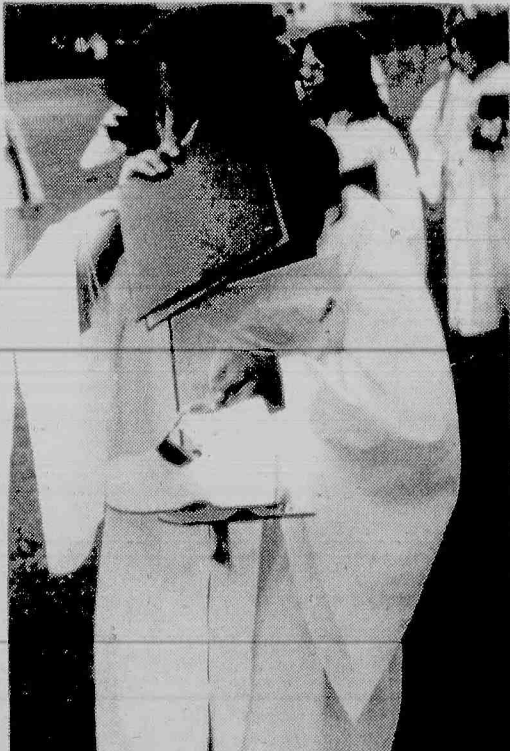

Mixed emotions — Gerard Venezia, William Villano, and Robert Villano seem to be marching toward graduation with different emotions and points of view. Maybe it's the future they face with their bemused expressions.

Mortarboards fly up and down like confetti over the seniors who tossed them skyward in celebration of the completion of their time at BHS.

Senior smiles — Deni Lijo and Madelyn Malanowski march into Belleville Municipal Stadium at the start of graduation ceremonies. Deni and Madelyn were both members of the senior honors group.

Shoes and diploma in hand a Bellgirl graduate leaves the field with her classmates to face the world with a high school degree and the memories of three years at Belleville High School.

Great group

It's nice to have a nice neighbor — but it's great to have a whole block full of nice neighbors. Proving that everyone can and does get along on Mt. Prospect Avenue, people of the block held a first annual reunion at Lyndhurst Park on Sunday, June 13.

The outing, which was organized by Geraldine Bernardecchi and Lucille Priolo featured volley ball and softball games, tug-of-wars and plenty of food and drinks between events.

Grandmothers, mothers and children of all ages were on hand to celebrate the reunion as was Frank Iannicelli, whose 67th birthday was the same day, and who was responsible for the same type of outing for Mt. Prospect residents some 14 years ago.

Families in attendance on June 13 included the Priolo, Auriemma, Scaglione, Bernardecchi, Iannicelli, De Feo, Porcello, Fagoli and Brogna clans.

Legion team splits to even up record

The Post 105 Legion baseball team split two games in the last week losing to Caldwell, 5-4, on Monday but defeating Livingston, 3-2, last Friday.

The Legionaires, now 2-2 for the year, will play their next three contests on the road. Tomorrow Belleville will meet North Newark at 6 p.m. Sunday the Legion nine will play at 8 p.m. under the lights at Orange. Next Wednesday the Legionaires travel to Maplewood.

Belleville played Verona yesterday but the results were in too late for this edition of the Times/News.

The Post 105ers, who are a majority of the Bellboy Big Ten championship team, faced their high school season's nemesis, Livingston last Friday. Many of the Livingston

Belleville golfers tee off in tourney

Local golfers will be shifting weight from foot to foot, glancing down the fairway one last time, and teeing off at the Branch Brook Golf Course today in Belleville's Annual Golf Day.

A spokesman for the Annual Golf Day Committee said the event was expected to be the biggest in the history of the contest in commemoration of the nation's Bicentennial celebration.

Mayor Michael Marotti, the Director of the Department of Parks and Public Property, has invited all who either live or work in Belleville to participate in the event. The cost for the entire day is $20 per person.

Last year's winners are expected to be back defending their championships. The 1975 winners include Bob Russamanno, George Debrowski, Ted Serritella, Izzy Padula, Bob Kennedy, Nick Landolfi, and Mayor Marotti.

legion team were also on the high school team that downed Belleville twice, 3-2. This contest saw the Bellevilleites take the game, 3-2.

Ricky Loma allowed six hits, struck out four and walked none in the Belleville victory. The Livingston pitcher walked in the first run to start the Bellevilleites scoring.

Bob Giordano led off the game by slamming a double and centerfielder John Guarino imitated the feat by following Giordano with another two base hit. Giordano was held to third but walked home for the first score when Despeky of Livingston issued consecutive walks to catcher Greg Dunleavy and Nicky Cancelliere.

The Legionaires scored again in the fifth on an RBI by Dunleavy. Chipper Biafore doubled and was advanced to third then batted home by Dunleavy's pop out.

The clinching run for Belleville came across in the sixth when second baseman Scott Ocshe walked and scored on designated hitter Rocco Balsamo's double.

The Bellevilleites scored one more run against Caldwell Monday but lost, 5-4.

Three base hits in the second started the local legion's scoring. Singles by Dunleavy, Nicky Cancelliere, and Ocshe pushed Dunleavy round the bases for a run. A base hit by Biafore in the third advanced him to third when Guarino got on base due to a Caldwell error. A sacrifice by Michael Cancelliere scored shortstop Biafore. Scott Ocshe singled, took second on a wild pitch, stole third, and scored on a catchers error.

John Guarino belted one over the leftfield fence in the fifth to round out the Belleville run count.

Caldwell tied the game in the seventh and scored the winning run in the eighth.

Frank is a sophomore and played in the infield for the school and Ross lettered as an outfielder.

Ross, a junior at Kean College, lives 12 Princeton Terrace and Frank resides at 35 Montgomery Place.

Kevin Goy

Goy adds power to Monmouth team

Belleville resident Kevin Goy, a former standout baseball player at Essex Catholic High School, has helped lead Monmouth College to their second consecutive N.A.I.A. District '11 Championship.

Goy, a junior, has been a starter for the Monmouth Hawks for three years at shortstop and finished the season with a lofty .415 batting average.

The Belleville diamond man has caught the eye of numerous major league scouts and was named to the District '11 and Area Eight All-Star teams for his outstanding play. Goy is playing this summer at shortstop for the Belleville Bruins.

Senior leaguers fight tight battles

Tie ball games played a big part in deciding the Senior League's first half winner as four of the six teams in the league each won three out of five contests.

Coach Dante DeNotaris and his Mets, however, finished with two tie games to put them in first place.

Some great team play coupled with a strong batting order including Mike SanGiacomo, Jim DeAngelis, and Tony Castelli have kept the Mets just one point ahead of the second place Yankees. Coach Otto Wolf's Yankees boast a sound defensive team while Joseph Wolf, Michael Rainone and David Colamonica each hit over .500 to supply to punch at the plate. Rainone and teammate Chris Rinaldi pitched for the Yankee's three wins.

Felix Rodriguez and Mike Barbuto did a fine job of hitting and pitching to pace the Pirates of coach Joe Restaino, Sr. to their three wins. Shortstop Eddie Aulisi and centerfielder Joe Tramantano led a tight Pirate defense. John Garuso's Cubs are tied with the Pirates in the standings. Gary Loma has been the mound standout while Al Salzano and Anthony DiGugliulno have provided strong support.

Coach Eddie Ryan's Giants picked up one win so far this season in which Michael Nicosia pitched a fine one-hitter against the Braves.

The Braves finished in sixth place with five losses but coach Andy Salerno is relying on the improving play of Robert Barbarba, Frank Alfano, and Doug Henle to supply some wins in the second half.

Our cops tops in league

The Belleville P.B.A. softball team has clinched first place in the American Division of the Essex County Police Softball League.

The policemen are 8-2 on the season and are the defending champions of the county cop league. Their last regular season game before the playoffs begin is away against East Orange on Sunday.

The police will then pursue their second title in a series of elimination games against the top eight teams in the league. The final clubs will battle for the championship in a two out of three series.

The P.B.A. nine defeated Bloomfield, Essex County Prosecutors, Orange, West Orange, South Orange, East Orange A, Montclair, and Maplewood to lock up the American division title. The only losses inflicted on the P.B.A. players were at the hands of the New Jersey State Police and an extra inning loss to Newark.

The Newark loss came in the twelfth inning after Newark took the lead in the ninth by two and Belleville tied the score.

George Sheridan, player-coach of the P.B.A. team, says the policemen's attitude on the field has helped win them the top spot in the league. "With the never say die attitude of the men, our team will be in the championship series," Sheridan said.

The coach also said he expects the competition in the league to be tougher this year since the league has been expanded with four additional police squads.

The power of the police at the plate has been provided for the Belleville nine by Sheridan with nine home runs. Tony LaVista with six homers, and Vincent Masi and Salvatore LoCoco with four round trippers each.

Sheridan said the team is excellent defensively especially with William Adelheim on the second base beat and Joseph Simonetti patrolling shortstop. The coach also pointed to the well rounded outfield as being instrumental in P.B.A. Local '8's success in the softball field.

Members of the defending champions of the Essex County Police Softball League include: Bill Escott, Salvatore LoCoco, William Adelheim, Joseph Simonetti, Al Spencer, Vincent Masi, Jack Kerber, Tony LaVista, Ralph Sia, Chuck Oese, Martin McNish, Raymond Kimble, and Robert McDonald.

Bruins maul Maples run streak up to ten

The Belleville Bruins downed the Maplewood Maples, 4-3, last Sunday to extend their victory streak to ten games.

The Bruins now 10-1 for the season will take to the road for three away games this weekend. Tomorrow the Bellevilleites will meet East Orange away, Saturday the bears travel to Livingston and Sunday the defending champions of the Essex County League will play the Dolphins in South Orange.

The Bruin ballplayers met Verona this Tuesday and Livingston on Wednesday but the results were in too late for this edition of the Times/News.

The Bellevilleites won their eighth, ninth, and tenth games of the season with two wins over the Maples, 9-4 and 4-3, and a 6-0 shutout victory against the Dolphins.

The Bruins squeezed out their second victory in four days over the Maples on Sunday with an extra-inning single by Tommy Scull that drove in Tony Roselle for the winning run. The bears started their scoring in the third inning of the game when left fielder Dunn clouted a home run that also scored Jim Rake, Belleville's designated hitter, who was on base with a walk.

First baseman Tommy Scull tripped in the fourth and was batted-in by Willie Puentes single for the third Bruins' score of the day.

Maplewood tied the game with runs scored in the fourth and eighth innings but Belleville's double and single in the tenth provided the winning margin.

Tony Roselle doubled at the start of the tenth and Dunn followed with a walk. Bob De Jianne beat out an infield hit to load the bases and Scull delivered the winning hit with a single to end the game.

Bruin throwers Steve Wacker and Greg D'Allesandro combined on the mound for the close win and hitter Scull went four for five at the plate to lead the bears bat attack in their tenth consecutive victory.

Jack Rake held the Dolphins to four hits in Saturday's 6-0 shutout victory over the South Orange team. Rake struck out seven and walked one for his fourth victory in five decisions.

It took the Bruins only eight hits to score their ten runs against the Dolphins. A Bill Otskey homer in the third tallied two runs by driving in designated hitter Rocky Guarino, who singled.

Bruin Guarino doubled in the fifth and batted home second baseman Joe Papisidero, who was on second as a result of Dolphin miscues.

Three runs crossed the plate as the Bruins made tracks around the bases in the sixth inning. Center fielder Tony Leopoldi walked in the sixth and stole second. When Bob Di Jianne walked, both runners advanced on a wild pitch. Tom Scull picked up two RBIs when his double scored Scull and De Jianne and center fielder Puentes capped the rally by driving home Scull with a base hit.

Last Thursday the Bellevilleites were scheduled to play the Red Sox but the game was rained out.

The Bruins clawed the Maplewood Maples in an away contest last Wednesday and won, 9-4. The bears scored most of their runs in the fourth inning of the game that was called after five rounds due to darkness.

Jimmy Rake singled home Bruno Giordano who had walked to open the fourth. Otskey followed with a single and shortstop Kevin Goy also batted a hit. Rake was thrown out at the plate on Goy's single.

Bruin Tony Roselle doubled home Goy and Otskey and Frank Petite cleared the bases when he blasted a two run homer for the five runs in the fourth.

Greg D'Allesandro pitched the abbreviated game, striking out four in his second win of the season.

Visitors — The Dutch Reformed Church of Belleville is hosting American Indians from Arizona this summer. The children are students from the Twin Wells Indian School.

Church to host Indians

Peacefully they come—those Indians from Arizona. They are students from Twin Wells Indian School, located near the town of Holbrook.

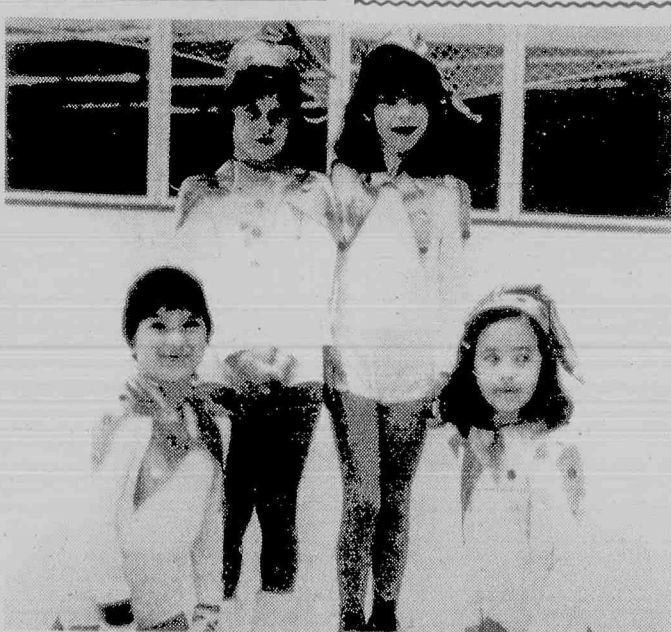

The Rev. Max Greene, Superintendent of the school, announced today that he and Mrs. Greene, along with two students from the school, will be in Belleville, New Jersey on July 4, 1976. The group will present a program of music and song, information and inspiration, at the Reformed Church, located at Main & Rutgers Streets. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m., and the children will have a significant part in it.

The children represent tribes of the American Southwest, and will be dressed in their very colorful Tribal costumes. On display will be items of beautiful, authentic Indian handicrafts, some created by the students, other items created by their parents and relatives. Included in the display will be Hopi pottery, Navajo silver and turquoise jewelry, and the incomparable, hand-woven Navajo rugs.

Twin Wells is an interdenominational mission boarding school for Indian children and youth. It offers kindergarten thru the tenth grade, and has an enrollment of 160 students. All the children live at the school for the nine months of the school term. The school provides housing, board, much of the clothing, and most of the personal needs of all the children; and depends entirely on freewill contributions to carry on this great work. The basic purpose of the school is to provide quality education for these Indian children and youth in an evangelical Christian environment.

The Rev. Paul Z. Ruter, pastor of the church, extends a cordial invitation to everyone who is interested in learning more about American Indians to meet and hear these Indian children, and Mr. and Mrs. Greene.

Title I team visits schools

Dr. David Spelkoman, Director of the Belleville E.S.E.A. Title I Program, reports that the New Jersey State Department of Education Title I Team visited our school system recently to monitor the program.

Documentation and review indicates that our program is in full compliance with the Federal and State rules and regulations.

The following components were reviewed: Administration and Fiscal Data, Basic Data, In-Service Training, Dissemination, Needs Assessment, Non-Public Involvement, Parental Involvement and Program Activities.

The Title I Program of Belleville is at present in the process of making the application for Federal funds for the E.S.E.A. remedial reading program for the 1976/77 school year. The program is a supplemental reading program which has proven to be advantageous to the participating students. This reading assistance is offered by the Belleville Board of Education in addition to their regular remedial reading program.

Due to the complete funding of this program through federal grants, the government has set certain strict and detailed guidelines which must be followed to determine the schools within the Belleville School District which are eligible to participate. This past year the program has operated at Schools 1, 4, 8 & 9. Children that reside in the above school districts but attend non-public schools are also eligible. As a result included have been students attending Saint Peter's, Saint Mary's, Saint Anthony's and Holy Family Schools as well as children residing in the Essex County Children's Shelter.

E.S.E.A. application meetings have been scheduled for June 16th at Number Four School, 30 Magnolia Street at 7:30 p.m. and on July 14th at the Title I Director's Office located in the Temple at 125 Academy Street. These meetings are open to all the citizens of Belleville. We urge all to attend.

Camp Eagle set to open

Camp Eagle Island, a Greater Essex Girl Scout facility, is readying for the influx of girls for the first camping session which begins on June 30.

The island, an unusual camp site is understandably water-oriented. The camp attracts non scouts as well as scouts.

Upper Saranac Lake is an ideal setting for sailing enthusiasts. And although a girl can enjoy a full, well rounded camp program and not sail, most 'islanders' do participate in some sailing. Then there are some experts as well as less proficient water skiers who have their share of dunkings in the crystal clear water.

Canoe-tripping units will incorporate a six-day trip through the Fulton Lakes chain along with their regular camp program. And senior mountain trippers will scale several of the Adirondack peaks.

Camp Director Sara Jo Waggoner is the Council's regular Program Service Director at 120 Valley Road, Montclair. Miss Waggoner, associated with the council since 1972, has been in Girl Scouting since her Brownie days. Her primary concerns, she says, are the safety of the girls and good programing. "Their days are full," she says of the campers, "and we are very alert to the needs of the individual. Occasionally we have the inevitable homesick camper. I rely on the sensitivity and skill of the counselor to gently involve that girl in activities that will be rewarding. She is monitored but at the same time not permitted to feel special, which could conceivably kick-off an epidemic of homesickness within her unit."

Miss Waggoner admits to an advantage over some camp directors. She, just as most of her staff, is 'girl-oriented.' They are involved with young people all year, not just during the summer camping season. "My staff," Miss Waggoner offered, "are for the most part, young women who are professionals at council headquarters or are counselors who have been in girl scouting for many years. There is less trial and error. Camping year round, girl-planned activity are part and parcel of the Girl Scout program," she concluded.

Eagle Island has some openings available in the 3rd session from July 28 through August 11th and for the 4th session from August 11th through August 25th. Additional information and brochures may be had by writing Girl Council of Greater Essex County 120 Valley Road, Montclair, N.J. 07042 or by calling, 746-8200.

Calling class of '36

Gerard Stootman is worried. He thinks that he might have been in Asia or Alaska when the Belleville High School Class of '36 held its reunion—if it ever has.

Stootman moved from Belleville in 1951, has been in many different parts of the world since then, but has recently taken a trip to Belleville to go back to Belleville High School to see if he could contact some of his former school-mates.

Needless to say, right off-the-bat he went to the wrong school (Belleville Jr. High) but he is determined to find someone he remembers that graduated with him.

Let's save Stootman a lot of trouble. He's a busy man, having his own business in Elizabeth.

Don't keep him roaming the streets of Belleville looking for a familiar face. If you were a member of the class, let Stootman know. Perhaps a reunion is imminent, even if it's between just the two of you.

Stootman lives at 400 W. End Avenue, Elizabeth. You can contact him by calling 289-2945.
