Judge orders town to act by August

By CHUCK JACKSON

The local government has been given until August 15 to appropriate funds for revaluation or the Commissioners will be held in contempt of court.

Superior Court Judge Arthur Blake met Friday with four of the Commission members and Town Attorney John Scott and issued the order. The local Board members later directed Scott to appeal the Judge's decision.

The Town Attorney said he would follow through on the Commission's request, but he added, "We have no legal grounds on which to base an appeal. We have absolutely none."

Town officials requested the meeting with Blake, hoping to be released from his court order after presenting their side of the case.

According to Commissioner Mary Senatore, who attended the meeting, the judge indicated he was "sympathetic to our sincerity" but would not lift the order. Judge Blake originally directed the town to appropriate the money early in April, but the Commissioners have continued to table the resolution, technically violating the judge's directive.

According to sources present at last week's meeting, Blake said he would not hold the Commission in contempt for its apparent stalling tactic, but the money had to be appropriated by August 15 or contempt citations would be issued.

Scott indicated an appeal might not be fruitful, and he said was not sure what grounds would be used in seeking relief from the Superior Court order.

Newark was recently granted a partial reprieve from revaluation, and according to sources, Belleville officials attempted to receive similar treatment. Scott said, however, the judge indicated Belleville was not "in the same league" as its larger neighbor, and therefore would not entertain such a suggestion.

July 4 plans are finalized

Plans have been finalized for Belleville's Independence Day celebration this coming Monday at Belleville Stadium at 7 p.m.

Day-long activities will start 10 A.M. when the entire playground staff, directed by Raymond Iannuzzi will conduct a field day program for youngsters aged 6 through 14.

The evening's activities, starting with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," will continue with an 18 act super circus which will include stars from Hungary and Italy, and to climax the ceremonies, a thrilling fireworks display.

The Dubsky Brother's Royal Palace Circus will feature animals such as leopards, chimps and dogs, in addition to acrobats, comic skits, and the ever-popular clowns and plate spinning chimps.

Since the program will be long and extra-ordinary in view of the celebration of the nation's bicentennial, spectators are advised to come early to be assured of a good seat.

Records wrong, Senatore says

Commissioner Mary Senatore announced this week she would resign as a voting member of the Excise Board, which passes on all local liquor licenses. The Board is made up of the Town Commission members.

Mrs. Senatore's decision follows a dispute over her voting record on liquor licenses over the past nine years. While Mrs. Senatore claims she has consistently abstained from the voting, town records show she has cast a ballot on the licenses, dating back to 1968.

The Public Works director has requested she be permitted to listen to nine years of Commission meeting taperecordings in order to prove town records are incorrect.

"I want to hear those tapes," Mrs. Senatore said. "I feel the tapes will show I did not vote on the licenses, except for one transfer."

Town Clerk Eugene Barnett maintains the signed resolutions in his files are accurate, and are the official town record.

"It is definitely not possible an error was made on the voting record nine years in a row," Barnett said. "The resolutions are the official record, but if the mayor orders us to find the tapes, we will."

Mrs. Senatore said that though she was requesting the tapes, she believed they would not be found. "I don't think they keep those tapes," she said. "They may record over the old ones."

The difference between the Commissioner's recollections and the official records came to light Friday when the Commission met in emergency session to vote on local liquor licenses. The resolution had failed at the regular Town meeting, threatening the possibility of all

Bars get permits

Belleville has been ordered to issue licenses for coin-operated machines to taverns by the end of this week.

Superior Court Judge Arthur Blake has directed the town to have the permits processed by July 2, and he further ordered the police department to stop issuing summonses against the tavern owners involved.

A town ordinance forbidding the installations of such machines in establishments with liquor licenses was struck down recently as being arbitrary, and the town is now appealing that ruling. Five local establishments have the machines operating, authorities said, and as of early this week, none had the required licenses.

Assistant Town Attorney Frank Zin-na said while one portion of the ordinance in question has been ruled invalid by County Court Judge John J. Dios, the licensing procedures are still proper. Zinna, who is handling the town's appeal to the Superior Court Appellate Division, said he was also filing papers this week requesting a stay on Judge Dios' decision.

A final decision on the town's ap-

Grade switch studied

By JOSEPH RYAN

The Board of Education is formulating plans to move the ninth grade at the Junior High School to the Senior High School by September, 1977.

Michael Chieffo, vice-president of the School Board has announced he is chairing a subcommittee charged with investigating the ninth grade move and developing plans to implement it. The Schooler said the committee's recommendations will be presented to the Board at a July 20 meeting.

It has been the feeling of the Board for some time now, according to Chieffo, that the junior high on Washington Avenue is too crowded and the junior high system is no longer favored over a four year program by educators. "The key thing is that this particular system is no longer a contemporary one," Chieffo said.

The move is designed to maximize the educational value of the school system, Chieffo said. He added it will be the goal of the committee to make sure what is currently being provided at both schools is not lost in the ninth grade transition.

Members of the committee planning the curriculum design change are: Ray Smith, principal of Belleville High School; George Nucera, assistant principal at BHS; Mario DiMaggio, principal at the junior high; Michael Lally, the junior high's vice-principal; and Sy Grossman, assistant Superintendent of Schools.

Board members Lawrence Schwartz and Viola Spray are serving of the committee to investigate the possibility of incorporating the dollars spent on the move into the capital outlay portion of the budget. If portable classrooms are needed at the high school to accommodate the increase of students, 50 percent of

New coach

The Belleville Board of Education appointed a new wrestling coach this week. Gene D'Alessandro will take the helm from Jim Silvestri, who has moved up to the Athletic Director spot. Learn a little about the new man from the story on page 13.

Happy birthday

It is, needless to say, the big Bicentennial time. Everybody is busy getting ready for the Fourth, but some of our advertisers and some town officials took time out to say "Happy Birthday, America," through the Times/News. See the greetings starting on page 16.

200 years

America begins the celebration of its 200th birthday this weekend, and everybody is celebrating. Flags will be flying and fireworks will be shooting. The staff of the Times/News joins the rest of Belleville and the rest of the country in the party, and in a prayer that our country may continue to prosper.

Flashback

Around the turn of the century, the people of Belleville turned out to celebrate the holiday too. This parade is moving down Washington Avenue, and the man in the straw boater is one of the town's early officials. Also featured in the parade, but not pictured here, was the first automobile in town, owned by Robert Wilson of Baldwin Place.

Knife wielder arrested after chase

Warning shots were fired early Sunday morning, June 20, by Belleville policemen when an 18-year-old Newark man threatened to kill two officers with a knife, Deputy Chief Frank Haight reported.

Robert Trabell, 201 McCarter

Highway, was arrested and charged with threatening to take a life, assault with intent to kill and carrying a concealed weapon, authorities said.

Belleville police officers responded to a report of a fight at the intersection of Joralemon and New Streets at 2:25 a.m. June 20, Haight said. When officers Joseph Sooy and John Kerber were enroute to the scene, they observed a man running south on Union Avenue and gave chase, police sources said.

Authorities reported the fleeing suspect turned on the officers chasing him, and pulled a knife from his rear pocket, threatening to kill them.

Deputy Chief Haight said officers Sooy and Kerber drew their guns and fired two warning shots each when the suspect continued to lunge at them with the knife.

The suspect turned from the police and ran, after the shots were fired, but was forcibly subdued and arrested, officials said.

Officers Sooy and Kerber were assisted in the arrest by Sergeant William Estelle and William Escott and Salvatore Collatella.

Police sources said the arrested man, Trabell, was also involved in the reported fight on New Street.

The suspect, currently being held in lieu of $5,000 bail, had his case referred to the Essex County Grand Jury, Wednesday, June 23.

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

It is the opinion of this writer, after listening to Mr. Joel Jacobson, president of the Public Utilities Commission, we, the people, seniors and the rest, are not going to receive too great a break in the restructuring of utility rates.

For every action, there is a reaction. For every reason for seniors to get a reduced rate on utilities, there is a reason why we can't have it.

If the rates are the same for industries as they are for home owners, we are told that industry will have to raise prices of their products in order to cope. If we get lower rates, we will have to pay higher prices on needed manufactured products, we are told.

In other words, WE CAN'T WIN!

News of the Belleville Senior Citizens Club Incorporated:

The members have been asked to participate in the dedication of a plaque in honor of the Hendrickson Family. The ceremony will take place on the part of the grounds where the club is now located and was once the location of the Hendrickson Copper Foundry. This will take place on Tuesday, July 6, after the meeting.

This club had a ride to Smithville scheduled for June 30.

Also in the works is a Bicentennial Festival sometime in July. The physical exercises classes will be starting on Wednesday, July 7. Sign up and attend for your own good health.

Joseph D'Amato will be steady host, assisted from time to time by volunteers. Last week's hosts other than Joe were Jean and Paul Sandamino and Anna Nisivoc-cia.

We, the officers and members of the Belleville Senior Citizens Club, wish to thank the Boxing Club for its generosity shown by the presentation of a sizable check to our club at our last week's meeting. Thanks, guys.

Bicentennial plate will be on sale

Belleville's commemorative bicentennial plate, designed and sold exclusively by the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville, will be on sale at the Independence Day celebration on Monday, July 5, at the Belleville Stadium.

Going to a price of $5 each, the plate will be sold by club members from 6:30 p.m. until dusk at the various entrances to the stadium.

The 12 inch china plate is a limited edition of 1500 plates and depicts historic sites in town including the first hose company, Number One School, Bennett's Mill, the first steam engine, Town Hall, the Dutch Reformed Church, the first steamboat sailed on the Passaic River, and the Belleville Hotel.

In addition to the above sale date, the plate will also be available at the Chamber of Commerce Sidewalk sale during the week of July 5th.

Local man busted for busting glass

A 26-year-old Belleville man has been arrested for breaking two large plate-glass windows over the weekend at the upholstery store, 345 Passaic Avenue, Nutley.

Detective Sergeant Salvatore Centanni said a neighbor jotted down the license plate number of the man's vehicle after the incident at 2:20 a.m. Sunday. The Belleville man, once located, eventually admitted to breaking the store windows.

Marotti and the remaining Hendricks family, who now make their home in New York.

Summer's here, School 8 still busy

Although schools are out for the summer, activities have been continuing for the faculty, students and Home and School Association of School Eight. At the end of the year, parting sixth graders went on a field trip to Riverside Park, accompanied by their teachers and classroom mothers. There, they picnicked and played games, and at the close of the outing each student received an autograph book, as a parting gift from the HSA. In addition to the sixth grade field day, the children and faculty of the school recently enjoyed a picnic sponsored, once again, by the HSA. On Monday, June 21, the School Eight HSA held a faculty luncheon for the faculty and executive board at the school. A hot and cold buffet was served, with the piece de resistance being a Venetian table. Following the buffet Mrs. Lillian North, HSA president, thank Nicholas Petti, principal of the school, and the faculty for their cooperation with the organization throughout the year. Mr. Petti served as host on Tuesday, June 22, when he entertained patrol boys and girls to a pizza party at the school.

My native land

The entire world knows that Sunday, July 4, is the 200th anniversary of America's war of independence. Out of that war came a Bill Rights and a Constitution — two documents of importance only outranked by the Bible.

America has come a long way in 200 years. Despite our advances, we still have a long way to go to achieve the objectives and the human rights spelled out in the Bill of Rights and the Constitution.

In these 50 states of ours, there still exists bigotry, prejudice, poverty, and denial of human and constitutional rights.

Despite our obvious failures toward our fellow men, July 4 gives us the opportunity to pause in our daily labors to dwell upon the blessings of America.

We have freedom of speech. We have free enterprise. As Harry Truman remarked a long time ago, "Anybody could be President." We enjoy the freedom to cross state lines without a police check. There is no secret police in America. Everyone reserves for herself or himself the right to embrace the God of her choice or his choice, and the freedom to reject God.

Our blessings are countless, and if we are permitted one request to make of our readers, we should ask that before condemning my native land, please count the blessings which are ours because we are Americans. America is beautiful.

Psalm for today

(Psalm III)

Happy the man who fears the LORD, who greatly delights in his commands.

His posterity shall be mighty upon the earth; the upright generation shall be blessed.

Wealth and riches shall be in his house; his generosity shall endure forever.

He dawns through the darkness, a light for the upright; he is gracious and merciful and just.

Well for the man who is gracious and lends, who conducts his affairs with justice; He shall never be moved; the just man shall be in everlasting remembrance.

An evil report he shall not fear; his heart is firm, trusting in the LORD.

His heart is steadfast; he shall not fear till he looks down upon his foes.

Lavishly he gives to the poor; his generosity shall endure forever; his horn shall be exalted in glory.

The wicked man shall see it and be vexed; he shall gnash his teeth and pine away; the desire of the wicked shall perish.

Have a happy and a safe

Every year, we are all urged to have a "Safe and Sane Fourth," but every year, some people do not heed the admonition. Hundreds of our fellow countrymen die senseless deaths on the nation's highways or suffer needless injuries from celebrations gone awry.

This is the Bicentennial Fourth, the biggest of our lifetimes. We will all, therefore, probably travel more and play harder than during any holiday in recent memory. And for that reason, we must all be even more careful than ever.

While we may look back on this weekend as the grandest of them all, there is also hidden the possibility that it will set some of the worst records of all time.

Let us all take our time, and remember our fellow travelers. Let courtesy and safety be the hallmarks of this Bicentennial celebration, and let's all return safely so that next year, we can all get together and talk about "The Fourth of July to Beat Them All."

Presenting Craig Fund president Michael Chieffo (center) with a check for $500 is Michael Rosamella, president of the Michael V. Marotti Civic Association. Standard bearer of the group, Mayor Michael Marotti also joined in the ceremony. The Craig Fund raises money throughout the year to assist handicapped Bellevilleites.

Parents voice some doubts

To the Editor:

This letter is about Injustice and to publicly thank the 75 Belleville High School teachers who did not nominate our daughter, Grace, a junior at BHS, for the National Honor Society.

We accept the fact all of the 75 teachers do not know her personally or her qualifications of being on the High Honor Roll continuously from the second marking period of her sophomore year through all of her junior year.

All it takes are nominations by three teachers but BHS records indicate that only two teachers out of 77 nominated her. This is ludicrous in itself, so possibly the teachers aren't capable of making nominations. We have a signed statement by a teacher to the effect she nominated Grace and we believe her, except she evidently made a human error, and Grace's name did not appear on her formal list.

We feel a great injustice has been done our daughter and we have been trying since April 15, 1976 to have the error rectified, but to no avail.

Evidently the "Process and system" used by BHS to select National Honor Society members has no provisions to correct human errors or other errors of omission caused by teachers not knowing whom they can nominate. A teacher, relatively new at BHS, declared he would have nominated Grace, a junior in his class, but thought he was restricted to seniors only, so he only nominated several seniors. Another teacher, knowing Grace's qualifications, supposedly only nominated seniors because her daughter is a junior.

We feel the people of Belleville and elsewhere should be made aware of this injustice and ask the questions we ask:

1. Is National Honor Society selection a popularity contest?

2. If a human error has been made why can't it be simply corrected?

3. Why aren't the teachers properly instructed regarding whom they can nominate?

4. How many students are selected for National Honor Society and don't belong there?

5. Should the National Honor Society be dropped at BHS and possibly other schools where injustices occur?

6. Why don't the principal, teachers, National Honor Society committee members, guidance counselors and others show any empathy? It seems their only concern is with the "Process and system."

7. How can a student who ranks in the top 10 of her class not make the National Honor Society when 34 juniors were selected?

8. What corrective action will be taken regarding the "Process and system" if they discover an error or errors made in selecting scholastically unqualified students?

9. How can teachers give a student grades to make High Honors and then fail to nominate the same student for National Honor Society membership?

We have been advised that some students not scholastically qualified

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

The hot, humid past few days of last week marking the early arrival of summer were accompanied by an equally torrid welter of heated tempers and angry reactions in the arena of local politics and Town Hall maneuverings.

Cops picketed the Town Hall Commission meeting, after having picketed a charity fund raising drive at a local refectory the week before, which was sponsored by their Director, Rocco Saletta.

The picketing was evidence of their umbrage over his necessity to lay-off eight police officers because of lack of funds to pay them. The hike is the result of the unexpected 21 percent arbitration increase award granted them, which consumed more than the appropriated monies in this year's town budget.

Under New Jersey law, deficit spending is prohibited. Commissioner Saletta, whether foolishly or otherwise, was joined by his Commission colleagues in consenting to binding arbitration of the police contract. The contract was supposed to be for one year only, somehow, in a manner which probably could best be explained by Town Attorney John Scott, who represented the town, the contract was extended to a two-year period, which has raised some questions.

It seems almost ironic that Saletta, who opened the door to further discussion of police salary raises, after they had been frozen and a cap placed on appropriations for the department by an administration before he took office, should be singled out for such demonstrations by his charges, which occasioned Deputy Commissioner, Joseph Granese, to call "disrespectful conduct."

Without becoming involved in the rapidly deteriorating conflict, it would appeal cooler heads on both sides of the controversy should prevail. We know it is the aim of both sides to be dedicated to the objective of best serving the people of Belleville. We accept the need of your living together for another three years with efficiency and harmony and urge that it must be realized that you can't always have it both ways. There are two sides to the coin.

From letters to the editor of "Time" magazine in its "Forum" column, "West Point provides a transition from Main Street, U.S.A., to the battlefield. Would you rather trust you son to the command of an officer who you know is honorable, whose integrity is of the highest order or to an officer who lies, cheats, steals and tolerates his peers who do?"

"Is it less dishonorable to lie about shining shoes than it is about an order under battle conditions? Can a woman be a little bit pregnant? I have just returned from my 40th reunion at West Point with the consoling conviction that the corps today, the current crisis notwithstanding, embraces the same sense of honor that has sustained it for 174 years. The corps will rid itself of the very few who don't measure up to its standards."

That hassle over bagatelle and pinball machines in taverns or anywhere else in town is far from over and all the legal eager-beavers had better perk up on their law on the subject and examine their role and responsibilities to their respective clients.

We can only speculate and wonder why this local ordinance which so clearly spells out rather plainly and bans those amusement devices any place in town should, after 32 years of unchallenged legality, be the subject of litigation at this time.

Cursory examination of some of the aspects of the looming court battle over the installation of coin operated games in taverns and the issuance of liquor license renewals, tends to indicate that even were the ruling of the County Court judge upheld on appeal, which seems improbable, were a proper appeal filed, in time, by the town with the proper petition to "stay" the judges ruling pending appeal, since actually, the judge's ruling would not become operative until his verdict was confirmed by the appellate division of the courts. Even then, if he were upheld, any applicants for such licenses would have to be screened and processed with fingerprinting and background checks to certify their eligibility.

FIDRYCH — For baseball fans this name is one to remember. It belongs to the 21-year-old rookie pitcher for the Detroit Tigers. Mark has an 8-1 record — before the ball leaves his hands he gives all the appearances of being the clown, but by the time the 92-mile-an-hour missile reaches the catcher's mitt, the viewer is aware a new hero is in the making. Mark Fidrych is referred to as "The Bird."

Monday night he stopped a New York Yankees five-game winning streak and in the process the Yankees lost one game in its leadership position. In all my life I have never seen a more competent baseball player look more like a clown than Fidrych.

...eliminated and are supposedly eliminated if they do not have a "B" average. Further, we have been advised that a student with a "B" average or better makes the class honor roll for that particular marking period.

With a list of student members of the National Honor Society furnished by Anthony Greco, Superintendent of Schools, it was a relatively easy task to check the BHS Honor Rolls which appeared in the Belleville Times/News and see how the 34 members of the junior class fared this year.

Based on this fact, at least three students do not belong as members. Going back to the 1974-75 school year reveals that possibly as many as eight of the 34 do not belong, based on their two year averages.

At the onset of this injustice, we contacted Michael Chieffo of the Board of Education. He couldn't believe such a thing could happen and has been trying to help us where possible.

On June 1, we made Mr. Greco, Superintendent of Schools, aware of our problem. Mr. Greco made the statement to the effect it was "dumb" that a High Honor Roll Student with all the other necessary qualifications did not get selected for membership in the National Honor Society.

Mr. Greco stated he would confer with the principal (which he did) and he also stated he advised the principal to have a report for him by June 7.

We went to the Board of Education meeting on June 7 at which time Mr. Greco advised he did not have the principal's report. Mr. Greco asked if we would be agreeable to a meeting with the principal at BHS on June 9 and we agreed.

A meeting took place on June 9th at the Board of Education Office with the following people in attendance:

Mr. Anthony Greco, Superintendent of Schools.

Mr. Raymond Smith, Principal, BHS.

Mrs. Muriel Cerami, Teacher, BHS, Honor Society Committee.

Mary Herelick, Guidance Counselor, BHS, Honor Society Committee.

Mr. Bernard Lelling, NJEA,

Field Representative.

Mr. Henry Miller, N.J. Association of Secondary School Principals, Executive Secretary.

Mr. George Ross, Grace's Father.

Missing from the meeting were: Mr. Michael Chieffo, Board of Education and Mrs. George Ross, Grace's Mother.

As far as the meeting went, we have no quarrel with Mrs. Cerami, (who on April 15 stated all records had been destroyed as is customary and no check could be made to see if in fact an error had been made. Later she somehow found out that M. Herelick had the records), Mary Herelick or Mr. Lelling.

Neither do we have a quarrel with Mr. Smith or Mr. Miller who stated BHS appears to have operated their "Process and system" for National Honor Society Membership in a legal manner and the recent selecting could not be negated and done over since it could lead to more problems.

After some nine weeks of this, the summation seems to be, "Sorry, possibly a human error was made. It cannot be corrected. Wait 'til next year."

We feel our daughter earned her way THIS YEAR and strongly urge all of those people involved to get this injustice rectified on the first school day of the 1976 fall semester.

On June 10, 1976 phone contact was made with The National Honor Society in Reston, Virginia. The main contact was Terry Giroux, Director of Student Activities. The problem was discussed several times with Mr. Giroux, with several transcontinental calls involved since Mr. Giroux travels extensively.

Mr. Giroux could only advise that any correction of the injustice has to be at the local level. Mr. Giroux contacted Mr. Smith on June 17 and us again on June 18.

We trust that this injustice will be corrected shortly without having to resort to lawyers and courts, which we cannot afford at this time.

Our true and sincere thanks to Michael Chieffo, Anthony Greco and Terry Giroux on behalf of Grace and us.

This man's work is his joy

"I've always enjoyed working with young people. That's why I enjoy doing what I'm doing. I enjoy it immensely."

George Zanfini's profession of teaching and coaching is the source of his pleasure. His satisfaction must have been greater this year when the Bellboy baseball team Zanfini piloted won the Big Ten and he was named coach of the year.

It wasn't all peaches and cream however, Zanfini, 33, was also found guilty of striking an umpire, a charge the coach said he would be appealing this summer. "It's a sad situation," Zanfini said. "I didn't do a thing. It's not like me. I'm sorry it happened."

Whatever the outcome, the accomplishments of Zanfini and the Bellboys remain. Aside from their title, they also won twenty games in a row and compiled the best record, 24-4, in the history of BHS.

Even after a championship season, Zanfini said he still enjoys teaching as well as coaching. A family of teachers led Zanfini into the profession. "My whole history was teaching. Two aunts, uncles, and cousins were and are teachers," Zanfini said.

When he wasn't on the playing field this year, Zanfini taught U.S. History 1,2, and two mini-courses, Famous People and Current America.

Teaching offers "a great deal of rewards" Zanfini said. "It's quite interesting to see the growth of students as young adults," he added. "With me it's more because I've had an opportunity catching them the second time at high school."

The coach, first taught at the junior high school before being transferred to BHS in 1974 and noting the growth of his former junior high students.

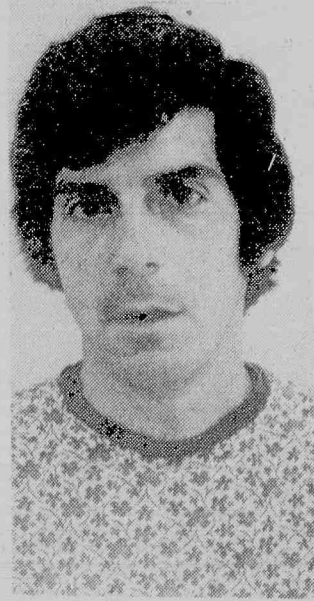

Since he started teaching in the Belleville system Zanfini said he found the students and their parents "friendly and warm people." "I've got many teaching friends in other communities and they all say the Belleville kids are much more warm," Zanfini said.

Zanfini said he thinks the jobs of coach and teacher are very similar. "They both have their strong points. Some days one is better."

An interest in American presidential politics is a hobby Zanfini traces to the election of Kennedy in 1960. The Current America teacher noted that Jimmy Carter's rise to the top this year was similar to Kennedy's. Zanfini added he has enjoyed Theodore White's series on the making of the presidents since 1960.

Sports is the main avocation of the teacher-coach when school is not in session. Zanfini said he follows the Knicks, Rangers, Mets, Yankees, and is looking forward to the opening of the Giants at the Meadowlands complex in the fall. "Most of my friends are sports oriented," he added. "Over the last ten years, through the world of athletics, I was able to meet many people who are now friends of mine because I coached their boys."

The coach has a 38-14 record as varsity Bellboy baseball leader and tallied a 64-16 score in his five years as frosh diamond skipper. He was also a coach of the freshman football team for five years before moving to the senior high.

Zanfini was born in Newark and moved to Belleville in 1953. He was a member of Belleville High's Class of '61 and received a degree in Social Studies from Montclair State College. He lives at 72 Salter Place.

All 5% interest rates are not created equal.

Although these four savings accounts all give a 5% interest rate, they each earn different amounts of money. Because they each compute the interest differently. Midlantic Bank computes its 5% interest using the "Day-of-Deposit to Day-of-Withdrawal" method. As you can see, this is the one that earns the most money for you.

Another advantage of our 5% savings plan is that it doesn't require a passbook. Instead, you receive a statement in the mail every three months that shows you everything a passbook would.

Come in and we'll be glad to assist you in opening a 5% Day-of-Deposit to Day-of-Withdrawal Savings Account and answer any questions you may have on why our 5% interest rate is just a little more equal than some other banks' 5% interest rate.

SEEMS ONLY YESTERDAY

Zinna is appointed assistant attorney

By JODI MASSONE

One year ago

Belleville Zoning Board Attorney Frank Zinna, was named Town Attorney.

The appointment, officially made a week before, came to light when the Board of Commissioners narrowly voted to approve the appointee's first paycheck.

Charging that Zinna had not yet been officially placed on the payroll, Commissioner Mary Senatore abstained from two confused rounds of voting on payroll payment. A mistaken vote by Commissioner Rocco Saletta, however, produced the three votes necessary to approve the appointee's payment, who was to receive $11,400 annually.

Five years ago

Sub par enrollment forced the Belleville Summer Music Program to eliminate all choral classes and to adopt a narrower scope of instruction. The registration decline was blamed on the Board of Education's decision to charge $10 for the previously free program.

Summer Music Director, Frank Scelba said that only 133 students enrolled for the program which was to span five weeks. The year before, 300 pupils showed up.

Nine years ago

The Essex County Board of Education attributed "ignorance" as the reason why Belleville residents were attempting to halt erection of a vocational school near Soho Hospital. The proposed facility, part of the county's program to provide educational facilities for the physically and mentally handicapped children of Essex was termed by a County Board member as a "project vital to the state." The Board scheduled a series of public hearings to review with residents the value of such a school. The County Board maintained that residents were apparently unaware of the benefits of the school, and its need throughout the county.

Fourteen years ago

Belleville's second annual outdoor art exhibit was to be held over the weekend. Frank Megaro, chairman of the project said that over 100 artists and sculptors would be exhibiting along Washington Avenue, with 50 to 75 coming from Greenwich Village.

Approximately 1,000 separate pieces of art would be displayed, and many of them would be for sale.

Nineteen years ago

In a vote of 4-2, the Belleville Board of Education voted that Mrs. Viola Spray would be full-time principal of School Nine.

The woman had been a part-time principal at the school because of a shortage of pupils. In addition to teaching fifth grade, Mrs. Spray had also been assigned to teach a first grade class.

When Mrs. Spray explained that she could not perform both duties with equal efficiency, Board President Eugene Kelly introduced the resolution which called for a full-time principal for the institution.

Forty-four years ago

Declaring that the reasons and excuses offered by the town Commissioners as explanations why the teachers and other school officials had not been paid gave him a "pain," former Assemblyman Homer C. Zink scored extravagance, petty politics, and nepotism as the cause of the delay in paying the employees.

Fifty-four years ago

A class of 43 was graduated from the high school and 200 were graduated from the grammar schools in town.

Constance Connelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Connelly of Williams Street and Justin McGuire, son of Building Inspector and Mrs. Hugh McGuire, were married in a Tom Thumb Wedding in Saint Peter's School.

There's fun on ice despite the heat

When the weatherman says "Hot and humid, with no relief in sight," the Essex County Park Commission says, "Summerfun on Ice."

With two Olympic-sized ice skating rinks, Branch Brook Ice Center in Newark and South Mountain Arena in West Orange, the Commission provides a heat and humidity-proof recreational and instructional program right through the worst of July and August.

The 13th Annual Summer Hockey School and "Sport Camp" will add tennis and golf instruction to its regular hockey curriculum when it opens August 9. Registrations are being accepted now from youngsters five through 18 for the school, staffed by collegiate hockey coaches and local tennis and golf pros.

Anyone who thinks fitness should also be fun will welcome the cool temperatures during the regular public skating sessions held Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at South Mountain and Monday and Friday nights at Branch Brook (beginning late July).

Ice skating isn't only for experts, so the Park Commission also offers a complete group instruction program at South Mountain.

Lawrence Gonnello, of 26 Wallace Street and president of the Belleville Kiwanis Club, receives an Honor Club Award from Dean Murphy (left) chairman of the Kiwanis International Committee on Achievement, as Roy W. Davis, Immediate Past President of Kiwanis International looks on.

Kiwanis club receives international award

The Kiwanis Club of Belleville was cited as one of six clubs for excellence in community service programming in the competition among Kiwanis clubs having 41 members or more.

The presentation of the Honor Club Award came during the awards luncheon Tuesday, June 22, in the San Diego Sports Arena as part of the 61st annual convention of Kiwanis International. Over 18,000 Kiwanians and family members attended the convention.

Kiwanis international is the worldwide service organization of over 282,000 members in 6,800 clubs located in 50 countries or geographical areas of the world. Dedicated to service to youth, community and nation, Kiwanis International operates under the motto, "We Build."

The Belleville club was honored, international officials said for providing the town "with a recreation facility for its some 500 active senior citizens, complete with a club building, landscaped lawns, a parking area, space for outdoor recreational activities, all as originally planned and with an appraised value in excess of $90,000.

"The year-long project required close participation with the municipal government, involved the varied expertise of many club members, and required the outlay of some 800 manhours and expenses of $1,040, exclusive of the thousands of dollars donated by club members to the senior citizen facility in the form of machinery, equipment and materials."

Scott says appeal has no legal base

Commissioners Senatore and Rocco Saletta have consistently opposed the appropriation of the money, and Commissioner Senatore commented recently, "We may have an obligation to perform revaluation, but we also have a moral obligation to the people to do it the least expensive way possible."

The resolution now before the Board calls for an emergency appropriation of $149,000 to pay for revaluation. Though several suggestions for cheaper methods have been put forward, notably by Sal Calabro, a spokesman for the Belleville Citizens' Union, no feasible alternative method has been found.

The court order issued by Blake names Belleville's five Commissioners — Mayor Michael Marotti, Mrs. Senatore, Rocco Saletta, Joseph McGreevy and Vincent Strumolo — "individually and as members of the Board of Commissioners," as defendants.

Marotti, McGreevy, Saletta and Mrs. Senatore attended the meeting last week. According to Mrs. Senatore, only Commissioner McGreevy did not address the judge.

McGreevy and Strumolo have, since the start of the controversy several months ago, voted in favor of revaluation. Strumolo said earlier this year he would support the move only if ordered to do so by the courts.

The town, unless an appeal brings about a reversal, must appropriate the money for revaluation by August 15, and complete the task of reassessing all the property in town by 1978.

Some local officials have said the town is losing money each month without the revaluation, while opponents of the measure, such as Mrs. Senatore, say the people cannot afford it.

"The way the economy is today," said Mrs. Senatore, "a lot of people can't afford the tax bills they are getting now. Revaluation will cost them even more."

Mary demands tapes

local taverns being forced to close.

Mrs. Senatore declined to vote on the licenses at both meetings, citing her nine year record of abstention.

Town Clerk Barnett, however, produced the original resolutions, which are signed by each of the five Commissioners. The resolutions indicated Mrs. Senatore had voted on each measure.

Barnett said it was unlikely errors in the vote tally would have been made for nine successive years, and he also said it was "absolutely impossible" for anyone to have changed the documents.

The Commissioner said she refused to vote after because of conflict of interest. Mrs. Senatore's brother, Louis, is the proprietor of "Vuono's Tavern," 190 Passaic Avenue.

"I discussed it with County Counsel informally," said Mrs. Senatore, "and I was told not to vote. I feel it is a conflict of interest to vote on licenses, because my brother owns a tavern, and I feel, morally, it is not right."

Commissioner Senatore said she felt it was also a conflict of interest for Finance Director Joseph McGreevy to participate in Excise Board decisions. McGreevy has a financial interest in another drinking establishment, it was reported.

Public Safety Commissioner Rocco Saletta, during Friday's meeting, said he felt both Mrs. Senatore and McGreevy should refrain from voting, stating, "I want to go on record as saying both you and Mary (Mrs. Senatore) should not vote."

McGreevy said, legally, he did not have any interest in the tavern but Saletta responded, "There are a lot of ways of bending the law."

their cost might be reimbursed by government funds provided the money comes from that section of the budget, Chieffo said.

This year there were over 1400 students at the senior high school who attended the school on staggered sessions. The sessions constituted three reporting times and four dismissal times. When the committee originally formed, principal Ray Smith expressed concern the added students would force split sessions at the high school.

Mario DiMaggio, junior high principal, recommended at the same time the investigation of the middle school concept for the seventh and eighth graders and added "if the curriculum can be duplicated without split session, I see no reason why the transfer of ninth graders cannot take place."

peal could take some time, Zinna said, and he added, "I would think that if we got the decision before the end of this year we would be lucky. We are talking about six to nine months for the appeal to come through."

The ruling by Judge Blake ordering the town to cease issuing summonses and grant the licenses, came on a request from Patrick Fitzpatrick, attorney for one of the taverns involved in the dispute. According to some sources, Fitzpatrick is also a part-owner in the firm which leases the coin-operated machines.

Police officers have been issuing summonses to the taverns involved for operating the machines without a proper license. A number of those cases were scheduled to be heard in Belleville Municipal Court this morning, Zinna said, but it was possible Judge Edward Abromson might delay making a decision on the cases.

Last week, the judge postponed action on a case involving the Town Cottage until he had an opportunity to read Judge Dios' formal opinion. Zinna said Tuesday the town had not yet received a copy of the opinion.

Assistant Town Attorney Zinna denied there had been any delay in the town's filing of an appeal on Judge Dios' opinion, saying, "There has been absolutely no delay in filing the appeal. We are given 45 days in which to appeal, and we filed our's on June 15 — two weeks after the

The greatest demand for protein comes during the periods of most rapid growth. During the first year of life, the protein requirements per kilogram of body weight is greater than at any other time. One must not forget, however, the maintenance requirement for protein which persists through life. When one ceases to grow, there is still a need for protein to repair or replace tissues. Meat, fish, poultry, and eggs are among the best primary sources of protein. But soybeans and dried beans, peas, and nuts are good plant sources of protein.

Purchasing immoveable objects

My addiction to garbage picking and garage sales extends naturally to house sales. Last week was a banner week. Came home with matching bedspreads, pillow shams and curtains for the twins room at an unbelievable price and two days later, waltzed off with a bedspread and two pairs of drapes for our room and it was just as good a bargain.

Therefore, when I saw the house sale sign on Vreeland Avenue, I couldn't resist a look and spent a good half hour wandering through three floors and inspecting all kinds of wares. What intrigued me most, however, were some heavy packing cases up on the third floor which would come in very handy, I was sure, for storing the overflow of out of season clothes which the trunk could no longer accommodate.

I saw them on a Saturday and why I didn't purchase them right then and there, I don't know, especially since it was the one day of the week when Rod would be available to move them back to Alexander Avenue. But I didn't. I came home empty handed.

The thought of those lovely wooden boxes kept intriguing me, however, and the more I thought of them, the more I regretted my passing them by. When Layne asked me if I wanted to accompany her to the store on Sunday, I went with the stipulation that we ride past the house sale again on the slim chance that it might be open and since I had already "sold" her on purchasing one of the boxes, she readily agreed. It was closed, however, and it took me the better part of Monday to track down the person who had run the sale and make arrangements to meet her back at the house Monday evening.

Leaving our combined six kids back home under someone's watchful eye, we piloted the Volkswagen over to Vreeland Avenue, trudged up to the third floor again and discovered to our delight that the boxes numbered four, two for each and were much sturdier and better built than the trunks we had been pricing and about one fifth the cost.

Fine. The only problem was that there wasn't a ghost of a chance that the two of us could wrestle these crates down the stairs much less out to the car and into it. Layne would have had no trouble upholding her end but I resemble nothing so much as the famous Charles Atlas 97 pound weakling and we were stymied. Neither husband was home.

By some great stroke of luck, another family was also making a purchase and the two teenage sons aided by their father, carted the four crates down the stairs and wedged them all into the van. Step one was accomplished. We paid the lady in charge of the sale, who had been most gracious, and tipped the boys and, very gingerly, drove home.

Now, however, we were faced with another problem. What goes in must come out, n'est ce pas? Mais oui, but the genius who had gotten them in wasn't around to get them out and we dispatched Maureen for my next door neighbor, a man of infinite talents and a mind attuned to fine detail. We wondered why he appeared with such haste until he relayed the message he had been given by the messenger. "Mrs. Maguire," she had reported, "is stuck in a trunk!" Not quite, my dear.

YOU AND YOUR PET

Diet planning

Many pet owners find diet planning for their pets a confusing chore. Should their dog have an all-meat diet? Are canned foods superior to dry foods? Should their temperamental tabby be persuaded to accept a different food that may be better balanced? Are rich foods good for older animals?

Diet planning is really not all that difficult if you follow certain guidelines. One is that well-balanced pet diets depend on a variety of ingredients. Another is that, through careful selection, you can provide appealing and nourishing food at low cost. A third is that serving too much — or too rich — food can lead to a variety of medical problems that can cause premature death. And a fourth is that certain stages of life or conditions of health require special nutrient adjustments.

In dog diets, high amounts of protein are necessary only during stress situations. These include puppyhood, pregnancy and nursing, hard work, extremes of climate and recuperation from major medical problems. If your dog is going through one of these situations, ask your veterinarian to help in selecting additional amounts of digestible, good-quality protein to include in your dog's diet.

Most commercial dog foods today supply enough protein for your dog. It is important not to provide excessive protein in your dog's regular diet. High protein consumption is suspected of contributing to urinary tract problems including cystitis and kidney disease.

Cat owners should be aware that their pets have a uniquely high protein requirement — so high, in fact, that a proper cat food contains much more protein than dog food. Cats actually need about 50 percent more protein than dogs. However, cats are also susceptible to kidney and bladder problems as they get older, particularly neutered male cats. Regular veterinary checkups, about twice a year, should help to prevent these problems.

Animal by-products and cereal grains are some of the most nourishing ingredients in pet foods. By-products include livers, kidneys, spleens, brains, fat and other trimmings. Cereal grains also contribute to "complete and balanced" pet food rations. Incidentally, both dogs and cats require a high amount of fat in their diets. It increases the palatability of most pet foods and helps guard against dry skin problems.

In choosing a pet food, your best bet is to read the label carefully. Whatever is listed first is the key ingredient, so the order of the listing will help you size up the product. Grains, legumes and meat and bone meal, which are important sources of a variety of nutrients, usually appear first in the ingredient list of pet foods. Fats and dairy products formulated to be acceptable to pets are also of high value.

One of the most commonly mistaken beliefs about pet food is that canned, moist and semi-moist products are superior to dry products. Nutritionally, this is not so. Your dog will easily accept and digest dry food. The crunchy texture is appealing to most dogs and helps to clean their teeth. If you decide to switch from canned to dry food, do it by mixing the dry with progressively smaller amounts of the canned food you are phasing out. An abrupt switch may result in the first couple of meals being turned down.

For cats, canned food is traditionally preferred, probably because cats often choose to obtain most of their water supply from the foods they eat. Once begun, it is extremely difficult to change a cat's diet. Your cat has remarkable ability to resist food he doesn't like — even for weeks. So, to a certain extent, you have to cater to your cat.

Many of you feel your pets need a vitamin or mineral supplement, but these may be unnecessary and can even be harmful if overused. There are times, however, when a special formulation may be needed, particularly if your pet is pregnant or nursing or if it has a medical problem. Special dietary foods for pets with kidney problems, heart disease, intestinal problems, liver disease, obesity and even skin allergy can be made available through your veterinarian.

Let me remind you that overfeeding, underfeeding or choosing food with little care can cause problems with your pet. As with humans, overfeeding may result in fatty degeneration of the liver, a strain on the circulatory system and heart disease. Careful, informed shopping and regular checkups with your veterinarian can stretch the life of the pet in which you have invested much concern and care.

Dr. Stear regrets that he is unable to personally answer letters from pet owners. He suggests that readers consult their own veterinarians when their pets have problems.

Belleville appoints new grappler coach

By JOSEPH RYAN

Gene D'Alessandro was appointed wrestling coach and math teacher at Belleville High School by the Board of Education on Monday night.

"I'm highly excited over it," D'Alessandro said. "I competed against them. They have great esprit de corps. Jim Silvestri has done one heck of a job. It's going to be very difficult to follow in his footsteps," the new coach added.

D'Alessandro has been a wrestling coach since he originated a grappling program at Essex Catholic High School in 1962. In a dozen years at the school, D'Alessandro trained over 50 district champions and the Essex wrestlers took eight straight district titles from 1967 to 1974.

Essex enjoyed over 100 dual meet victories in 130 contests and sent 14 wrestlers to state finals under D'Alessandro's guidance. One of his matmen, Jim Hickey, took a state title in 1968 in the 178 pound class.

Belleville's new wrestling coach has been guiding the Raritan High School team in Hazlet, New Jersey for the past two years. D'Alessandro said the Raritan mat team was a small group of 12 when he arrived and 50 members will be coming back to the team this fall. The results of his first two years will come to fruition

Bruins remain top team

Victories over Verona, Livingston, and East Orange kept the Belleville Bruins at the top of their league but they encountered their second loss of the season, 11-4, against the South Orange Dolphins on Sunday.

The 14-2 baseball bears will now take to the road for a Bicentennial weekend of baseball and away contests that will extend their traveling until July 18.

The Bellevilleites will challenge East Orange on the road tomorrow and will meet Livingston on Saturday. A home game that was scheduled with Maplewood for the Fourth of July has been cancelled due to the scheduling of an All-Star game in Wall Township.

Monday the Bruins will still be wandering from home turf when they meet Verona and the trip will last until a home contest with the Red Sox July 18.

Last week the bears came from behind in the top of the seventh to down the Verona nine, 4-3. The Bellevilleites were losing 3-0 at the start of the seventh when second baseman Tony Roselle ignited the Bruin rally with a base hit. Third baseman Frank Petite, who was named a most valuable player at Montclair State this year, proved his value with a double to advance Roselle.

Bob DeJenne's clutch single drove home Roselle and Petite and brought the bears to within a run of Verona. Belleville catcher Danny Dunn then blasted a triple to bat in DeJenne and tie the contest.

First year Bruin, Willie Puentes topped the rally with his third hit of the game, an rbi scoring Dunn in what proved to be the winning run. Greg D'Alessandro pitched the Belleville victory allowing Verona nine hits.

Livingston became the twelfth victim of the Bruin bats this year when Belleville beat them, 8-2, last Wednesday. Jack Rake led the bears on the mound and they contributed to his victory with 11 hits from the plate.

Left fielder Jimmy Rake, the brother of Belleville's pitcher, doubled in the third inning to begin the Bruin hitting attack. He scored after advancing on the bases on a bunt by Tony Roselle and Frank Petite's pop out. Roselle crossed the plate for the second run when the Livingston pitcher attempted to pick him off third and the move backfired.

Four hits in the fourth inning brought home three runs for the charging bears.

Drury nips first in town tourney

A good start clinched a first place finish for Mike Drury at the 1976 Belleville Annual Golf Tournament last week at Hendricks Field.

Drury's 69 strokes tied with Al LaBalbo's round but Drury had a three against LaBalbo's five on the first hole and was declared the winner.

Frank Law, with a 70, followed the top men and won the Belleville Championship which was open only to town residents.

Belleville policeman, George Sheridan shot a 78 to capture the Town Employee Trophy.

Victorious linksmen in the Handicap Division included Ed Bergmanno, who with a low net of 50 merited the Tournament Trophy. Tom Apicella, at 50, and Izzy Padula with 56, won the Employees prize in the same division.

Charlie Rossi's shot on the sixth hole was accurate enough to land four feet six inches from the pin to take the on target trophy and a 300 yard drive slammed by Tank Matraxia on the tenth fairway assured him the distance award.

Chris Albanese with an 80 gained the Angelo "Skee" Domenick Trophy and John Bruno took the Kiwanis Club of Belleville's prize with a 71 round.

The Michael V. Marotti Civic Association trophy went to Mike Rosamilia who tallied an 83.

Mayor Marotti and Commissioners McGreevy, Saletta, Senatore and Strumolo, all donated trophies which the winners received, while the Kiwanis Club, the Amvets and the Michael V. Marotti Civic Association also donated trophies.

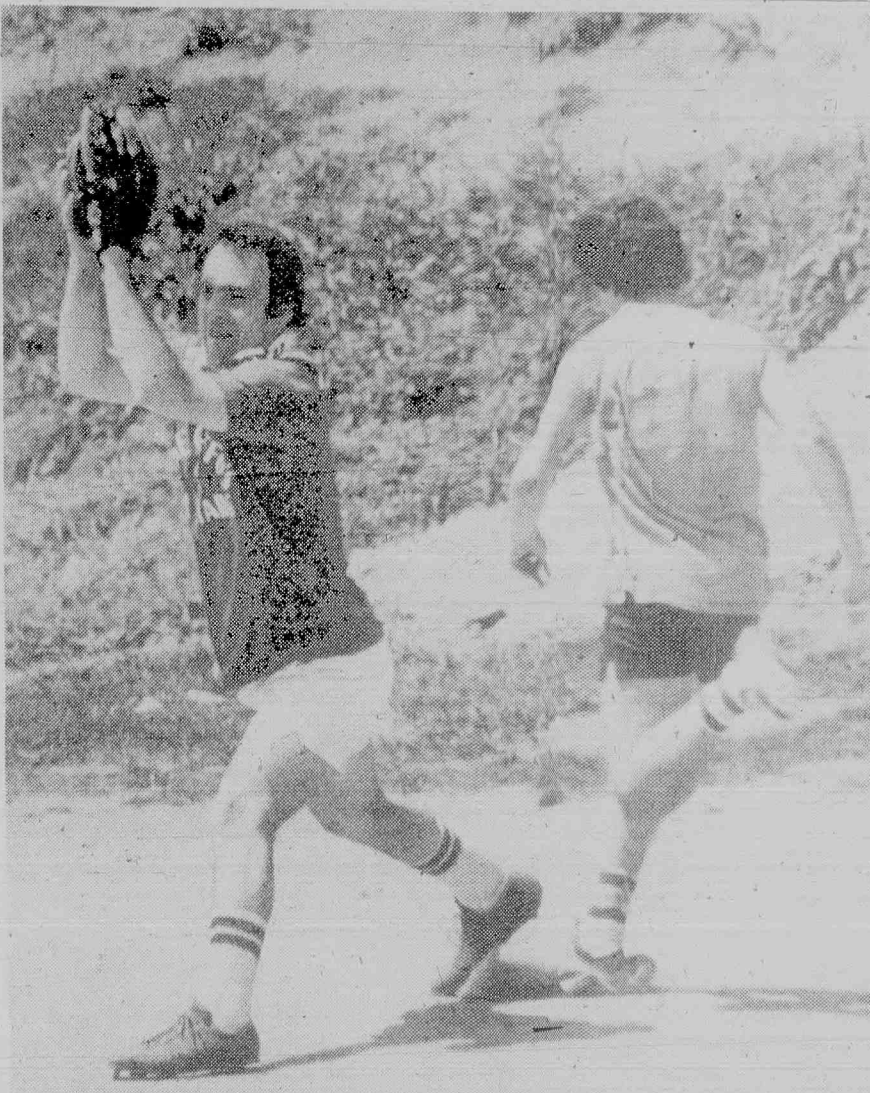

Ninety-nine linksmen participated in the tourney at Hendricks Field Golf Course where Dick Dacey is the P.G.A. golf pro. A spokesman for the event said the contest featured some fantastic play and some comedy shooting. A dinner for 110 at the Branch Brook Manor capped the day's activities.

The Tournament was sponsored by the Belleville Recreation Department under Mayor Mike Marotti and once again chaired by Tom McLaughlin who was also the master of ceremonies.

The top scores included:

Mike Drury, 69; Al LaBalbo, 69; Frank Law, 70; Ed Bergmanno, 70; John Bruno, 71; Skip Squatrito, 71; Tank Matraxia, 71; John Handricks, 73; B. Dabin, 73; George Debrowski, 74; Babe Christian, 74; C. Zimpo, 75; Bob Kennedy, 76; John Cappel, 76.

Jos Gonnello, 77; V. Simeone, 77; Larry Day, 77; V. Nardello, 77; George Sheridan, 78; Ben Fierro, 78; Izzy Padula, 79; C. Kenny, 79; J. Gall, 79; Carl Perrone, 79; J. Kerr, 79.

Legion team gains a little

The Belleville Legionnaires have lost their last three games but their power appeared to be returning when they came from behind in the late innings to tie Orange before losing the close game Sunday night, 9-8.

The Legion men, 2-5, will face Newark at home tomorrow at 6 p.m. Monday, the Post 105ers will face cross-town rival Nutley in the traditional Independence Day contest. Cedar Grove will meet Belleville home at 6 p.m. on July 7.

The Legionnaires faced Maplewood in an away game on Wednesday but the results were in too late for this edition of the Times/News.

BHS quits the Big 10

Belleville High School informed the Big Ten Conference this week of its intention to quit the league at the end of its present contract that expires in two years.

Newly appointed Athletic Director, Jim Silvestri, said he and outgoing director Herman Wische, recommended the exit from the Big Ten to the Board of Education which approved the move.

Belleville's departure from the Big Ten comes soon after Nutley's pulling out this spring, and Bloomfield and Columbia's resignation.

Silvestri said he recommended the move so Belleville wouldn't end up on the outside looking in following the series of school withdrawals. He added the Nutley resignation was the "final straw" in Belleville's decision to leave.

Football is the only BHS sport that does not participate in the Big Ten schedule, according to Silvestri. The league never was organized for football competition and this left it without a solid base, according to the new A.D. Silvestri said the school would play out its league schedule and investigate the possibilities of joining another conference or becoming independent in the next two years.

Nutley, since its resignation in April, has remained independent and Silvestri said Belleville will "more than likely go independent." Bloomfield has joined a Bergen County league and Columbia was accepted into the Iron Conference, according to Silvestri.

The schedules of most of the Belleville teams include many out of Big Ten contests that will remain in the coming seasons remaining in Big Ten play.

Silvestri said the school has sent out no feelers regarding prospect for joining other conferences. He also estimated Belleville has been a member of the Big Ten for more than 25 or 30 years.

Belleville is quitting because neighbors Nutley and Columbia started the exit, according to Silvestri. Nutley submitted its resignation in April after announcing its intention to drop East Orange from their schedule.

Baseball coach George Zanfini, who coached this year's Big Ten Baseball Champions, said after the Big Ten withdrawal he expected the Bellboys would still keep a playing relationship with neighboring schools such as Nutley, Bloomfield, Montclair, and Kearny. He added the Bellboys current schedule includes about six teams that are not now in the Big Ten.

Belleville would be permitted to drop from the league after just one year if a suitable replacement school joined the Big Ten in their place.

Real swinger — Mayor Michael Marotti follows the path of his ball after teeing off during the annual Belleville Golf Tournament. Though the mayor didn't come in first, like all the other men on the links, he seemed to be enjoying himself. Everyone also had a fine time at the banquet that followed the contest.

Boys drop close one day is a sign the Bellevilleites could be shaking the post Big Ten Championship doldrums. The Legionaires connected for a dozen hits and pitcher Jerry Fazzini went all the way on the mound for Belleville, striking out six.

Catcher Greg Dunleavy started the rejuvenated scoring attack with a single in the second followed by a Nicky Cancelliere hit and a double walloped by Scott Osche that drove home Dunleavy.

John Guarino drew a walk in the fifth that was followed by Michael Cancelliere's double for the Legion. Osche was hit by a pitch and designated hitter Rocco Balsamo drove home Guarino. Danny Borgo was walked with the bases loaded to bring home Cancelliere and Post man Bob Giordano hit home Osche to cap the three run fifth.

A double by Balsamo between walks to Osche and Borgo loaded the bases for the Bellevilleites in the seventh before Giordano batted home Osche. Guarino picked up a sacrifice run batted in when Balsamo scored on his out. A hit by Mike Cancelliere drove in Borgo and Giordano and gave Belleville the lead, 8-7.

The Orange Legion men scored twice in the bottom of the seventh however, to win the game Belleville came so close to pulling out of the fire.

North Newark shut-out the Belleville Legionaires Friday, 4-0. The Bellevilleites threatened to score in the third inning when they had the bases loaded but were unable to bring in a run. Hernandez threw the shut-out for Newark allowing just six Belleville hits.

Verona downed the Legionaires, 5-3, last week by holding the Bellevilleites to six hits.

Grid sign up is July 6

The Belleville Recreation Department announces that registration forms for the upcoming 1976 football season will be available at all playgrounds starting Tuesday, July 6.

Completed forms may be returned to the playgrounds or to the Recreation House. Applicants and their parents are reminded of the earlier start of the season this year with the weigh-in scheduled for 6 p.m. on Monday, August 23, at the Municipal Stadium.

Those who are interested in playing this season and who did not receive an application form at the school, are urged to pick one up at any of the playgrounds.

Mixed diamonds — Members of Eve Lautenschlaeger's Ladies recruited from past and present members of the Bellgirl softball squad and Mike Chieffo's All Stars, recruited from among the town's best athletes, pose after their contest. Times/News Editor, H.C. Jackson played for the All Stars but posed for this picture in disguise.

D'Alessandro gets nod

at Raritan in the coming season, the coach said.

D'Alessandro's own grappling career started at Saint Benedict's Prep in Newark and continued at Rutgers University from 1952 to 1956. His record on the mats is as impressive as they come, in seven years of dual meets from high school through college D'Alessandro was undefeated. He took four state AAU titles and placed three times in the Eastern Collegiate Tournaments.

Belleville's new coach knows his sport, he has participated in it since 1948 and has been coaching for 14 years.

D'Alessandro will also be teaching math at BHS. He received a Sociology degree from Rutgers in 1956 and is certified to teach math, social studies, elementary education, and driver's ed.

The community support the Belleville wrestlers receive is a strong point in his desire to coach the Bel-boys, according to D'Alessandro. He called the team one of the top in the state and said he looked forward to the beginning of the mat season at Belleville.

D'Alessandro lives in North Newark with his wife Theresa and three children.

Team takes second loss

Singles by Giordano, Otskey, Goy and Guarino accounted for two runs and Kevin Goy was brought in on a fly out by Petite.

More hits in the fifth pushed the run total for Belleville to eight. Puentes singled, Bruno Giordano singled and Bill Otskey hit home Puentes. Goy popped-up to score Giordano and Jim Rake connected for a double that blasted Otskey home.

East Orange fell to the Bellevilleites, 8-2, last Friday. Jimmy Rake collected the mound win as the bears swung for nine hits including a home run by catcher Bill Otskey.

Bruin Otskey's round tripper in the second inning was good for three runs driving home bears Frank Petite and Willie Puentes. A base hit by Rake and walks drawn by Roselle and Petite loaded the bases for a single by Puentes resulting in all three runners scoring.

Belleville third baseman Roselle doubled in the fifth and scored on Petite's hit. Puentes batted home Petite to give the bears their eight run triumph.

Livingston lost their second game in four days to the Bruins, 9-7, on Saturday. The Bellevilleites batted a dozen hits behind the throwing of Greg D'Alessandro for their fourteenth consecutive win. Bruin Bruno Giordano's single in the first led to a run after several Livingston errors. More errors by Livingston in the second and hits by Goy and De-Jianne accounted for two more bear runs.

Hits by Roselle and Guarino and an Otskey double with walks to Scull and Goy tallied four runs in the fifth. More runs in the sixth and seventh capped the Belleville scoring.

Junior basketball registration is soon

The Recreation Department has announced that registration for the Junior Basketball League will be held Tuesday, July 6 from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at Clearman Field.

Belleville residents in 7th, 8th, and 9th grades, including those going into seventh and current freshman are eligible to participate.

Games are scheduled to be played starting Wednesday, July 7, and each Monday and Wednesday night thereafter.

Tony Roselle homered in the third inning of Sundays loss to the Dolphins to drive in three runs. The Bruin also had a double and a single in the contest but it was not enough as the Dolphins handed the Bellevilleites their second loss, 11-4.

Mean cut — Local lawman Fred (Chick) Puleo takes a big cut at the ball during the All Stars vs. Girls game Sunday. The men, loosely organized and dubbed the Mike Chieffo All Stars, took the game quite seriously. The girls gave them a tough time, but the boys still managed to pull out the win.

Hitchhiking is still illegal on Turnpike

The arrival of spring may cause an increase in the number of hitchhikers along area roadways, but the New Jersey Turnpike Authority is warning that hitchhiking is both dangerous and illegal.

Francis G. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the Turnpike, said that State Police Troop D patrols have standing orders to enforce strictly all New Jersey statutes and Turnpike Authority regulations aimed at curbing hitchhiking.

Cozzarelli takes eye course

James J. Cozzarelli Jr., owner-manager of the Irvine-Cozzarelli Memorial Home, 276 Washington Avenue, recently participated in the Eye Enucleation Course at the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry in conjunction with the Eye Institute of New Jersey.

This program enables Cozzarelli to expand the scope of his professional services by qualifying him to enucleate eyes for the purpose of donation to the Eye Institute of New Jersey. The enucleated eyes are then utilized in transplants to needy recipients.

This service may be performed at local hospitals, nursing homes and occasionally at accident scenes, at no charge to the donor's family. In many cases, transplanted eyes have given back sight to visually impaired patients.

Key men visit Anaheim

John Burlazzi and John Cozzarelli, both students at Belleville High School, will be in Anaheim, California, July 4 through 7, where they, as local delegates, will attend the 33rd annual convention of Key Club International along with some 2500 Key Club members from across the nation.

On the opening day of the convention, Sunday, July 4, the program will open with an inspirational presentation of the Key Club International Theme and objective for 1976-77. The following morning, a member of the 1975-76 Key Club International Board of Trustees will deliver the Keynote Address at a kickoff brunch, and from then on the day will be filled with educational meetings, seminars and contests, concluded with the evening's session, Recognition Night, which is highlighted during the 1976-77 school year. On Tuesday evening there will be a talent show and awards presentation, with the introduction of America's Junior Miss.

Miss Morgenthien is Penwalt scholar

Elizabeth A. Morgenthien, 18, a graduate of Belleville High School, has been named winner of a $4,000 college scholarship by Penwalt Corporation. She is one of twelve students in eight states who have been named winners of the 1976 Penwalt scholarship program.

In addition, Penwalt increased its scholarship grants this year by $10,000 to a total of $51,000 to be shared by the winners over the next four years.

The daughter of Francis E. Morgenthien, a senior systems analyst for Penwalt's Wallace & Tiernan division in Belleville, she lives at 30 Mitchell Street.

Susan Lewis places high in national competition

Susan Lewis, a student at Belleville High School, represented her school recently at Washington, D.C., where she competed in a senior stenographer event in a Future Business Leaders of American conference.

Susan, who received honors when she took part in a regional conference at County College of Morris, Dover, this past February, won first place in the state at a State Leadership Conference held at the Hyatt House, Cherry Hill, on March 26 and 27. For winning that contest the business student received a trophy and certificate from the New Jersey State FBLA.

In Washington Susan competed with one representative from each state on the national level, where she

Ann Ingiño scores in school contests

Villa Walsh Academy in Morristown recently held its annual Senior Award day, and Bellevilleite Ann Ingiño received a scholarship and two awards.

Miss Ingiño was the winner of the New Jersey State Scholarship and received bronze medals for her high academic work in English and Sociology.

came in seventh in the entire nation. This was the first time in the history of Belleville's FBLA that there has even been a national winner. Susan placed in the top ten in the 15 events in which New Jersey had participants.

Miss C. Cianciulli will attend Berkeley

Miss Carmelina Cianciulli, 10 Naples Avenue, has been accepted in the professional secretarial program of the Berkeley School of East Orange.

The professional secretarial program offers options in legal, medical, fashion, advertising and airlines specializations. According to a school spokesman, it lays the groundwork for attainment of Certified Professional Secretary designation, and prepares the students for the type of position which can serve as a springboard to executive status.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Cianciulli, Miss Cianciulli graduated from Belleville High School this year. She participated in the cooperative education program and was the recipient of Gregg Shorthand awards.

Who'd want to invest in a bunch of revolutionaries?

They didn't exactly look like winners.

But then our revolutionary army beat the British at Saratoga in 1777.

And people recognized Washington's men as an army, rather than a band of renegades.

So faith was won as well as a battle. And investments in our government's securities started picking up.

It took courage to take stock in America back then. But it paid off.

And it can do the same for you now.

Just join the Payroll Savings Plan, or buy U.S. Savings Bonds at your bank. There's no safer, easier way to build your savings.

So, buy the specially designed Bicentennial Series E Bonds.

Those brave revolutionaries would be proud.

Series E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4½% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.

200 years at the same location.

She was the recipient of postdoc-

The ceremonies featured presentation of an honorary doctor of letters degree to University of Pennsylvania historian, Dr. Thomas C. Cochran, and the awarding of honorary degrees to newspaper publisher James Kerney Jr. and petroleum executive Paul R. Haas.

Vincent: above most

Keynote speaker was Joseph Campbell, the leading interpreter of myth in its relation to literature and religion, and the first person to hold the Chair in Mythology at Sarah Lawrence College.

Spinelli's past academic activities include a New Jersey Department of Community Affairs internship; two summers as an intern in the Washington office of Congressman Peter Rodino. He was very active in the Drew University Forensics Society and was a finalist at the Tulane University Mardi Gras Debate Tournament.

Police take town to court tomorrow

By CHUCK JACKSON

The town and the PBA will cross legal swords tomorrow in Superior Court over approval of the police contract.

Town Attorney John Scott and a representative for the local police will meet before Judge Irwin Kimmelman. Scott will be representing the local government in a "show cause" action brought by PBA Local 28.

The police are asking that the town present in court its reasons for not having approved the contract handed down in April by an outside arbitrator. Local 28 president William Escott said Tuesday the police officers anticipated a favorable decision by the judge.

If Judge Kimmelman orders the town to approve the disputed contract, approval could come at next Tuesday's Town Commission meeting. Members of the PBA are expected to attend the session, perhaps in anticipation of the vote, and to ask the Commissioners some questions.

Escott said it was possible the officers might picket the meeting in protest of pending layoffs.

Though officials would not comment, and attorney John Scott could not be reached, it is expected the town will refuse to approve the present contract because the arbitrator overstepped his authority. The local government claims the negotiated contract was to be for one year only, and the two-year package produced by arbitrator Julius Malkin is therefore invalid.

The PBA has also gone to Civil Service in an effort to prevent the eight layoffs planned for July 30. PBA president Escott said the union is requesting another "show cause" hearing before the Civil Service board, but no date has been set.

Attacking on still another front, the police have filed a grievance with the Commissioners claiming the present contract prohibits layoffs.

According to Public Safety Director

Rocco Saletta, the clause the PBA is citing, which deals with the table of organization of the police department, is open for interpretation. The Commissioner added, "They have filed a grievance, but I don't worry about that. It's a normal procedure. If they feel something is being done wrong, they have every right to file a grievance."

"Their interpretation of the contract," continued Saletta, "is that no layoffs are allowed, but according to our Please see "Officials" on page 9.

Summer school shut down now

Schools in Belleville, as in the rest of the state, have shut down pending passage of a tax bill by the state legislature.

According to Anthony Greco, Superintendent of Schools, the local Board has decided to "strictly adhere to the Supreme Court's ruling," and virtually all school activities have come to a halt.

Greco's main concern is with the plight of 21 students who were attending summer school in order to obtain high school diplomas. While the situation has not passed the point of no return, Greco said the situation may be critical if the legislators do not act by August 1.

"We could probably go to the end of the month," the superintendent said, "but I wouldn't like to do that. If we had to, we could take all of August for summer school."

He said, should the closing go beyond July, "we could have a tough time." A provisional plan calls for adding hours on to the summer school day in order to take up the time lost. If the closing goes beyond a reasonable point, however, Greco said the matter of graduation for the students could rest with the State Commissioner of Education.

"It has been suggested to the Commissioner," said Greco, "that he could order us to award a diploma to a student even though that student may have failed a course. I do not know whether he would be willing to do that, however."

Since the schools are not allowed to spend any funds whatsoever, any supplies delivered during the shutdown would have to be stored. Greco said any text books received would be placed in School Eight, the normal procedure, but they would not be opened and marked by the system.

Though Belleville's summer school students pay tuition and the operation is "self sustaining," the Belleville Board is interpreting the Supreme Court decision as a ban on classes. According to officials, the water and electricity used by the summer school could not be paid for under the ruling.

Greco also said the Attorney General's office had advised school systems not to attempt circumvention of the court's ruling by requiring tuition of students. Belleville has required payment for two years.

Schooler meeting is one of shortest

Prohibited from discussing financial matters, the Board of Education may have set a record for brevity Tuesday by conducting a ten minute public meeting.

Board president Matthew gaveled the meeting open at 8:10 p.m., and declared it over at 8:25, ending a meeting in which very little was discussed.

Though the meeting was brief, Pica pointed to three thick folders on the desk, saying, "This will be a quick meeting, because we can't discuss any of these items."

The Supreme Court ruling closing New Jersey schools after July 1 also prohibits boards of education from discussing any financial matters. As a result, few items were presented for discussion by Board members.

It was announced the Trustees would hold an emergency meeting tonight to discuss purchase of new insurance coverage for the school system. The Board's current carrier, Insurance Company of North America, has notified the town it will cancel all policies on July 30.

Board Secretary Mary Shader said requests for proposals had been sent out, but none had been received by the submission date of July 6. Mrs. Shader added, however, she expected at least two proposals to be received within the next few days.

Board head Pica also announced the town would have to pay for fact-finding in contract negotiations with the teachers' union.

"The state forced us into fact-finding," Pica said, "and now they turn around and renege on the promise to pay for it. There's no other way to put it," he added, "we have been given the shaft again."

The cancellation of Belleville's summer school program was brought to the floor by Board member Caesar Romano, sparking a brief discussion.

Romano said he was in favor of finding some method of running the program, similar to those being run in neighboring Nutley and Bloomfield. (See above story.)

Greco said the schools could remain closed until August 1 before the situation becomes critical.

Search for body fails

Members of the Belleville Police Department spent five, choking days last week searching for a body in the North Arlington dumps with no luck.

The officers were searching for the remains of Gladys Buie, 31, of 68 Mill Street, who disappeared May 1 and whom officials apparently believe was killed.

Though no arrest has been made in the case, the woman's boyfriend, Vertus Massena, 25, of Montclair has been questioned in the Bellevilleite's disappearance. He is currently facing charges in Union County of assault with intent to kill and atrocious assault. The indictment, handed down two weeks ago, is in connection with an alleged attack on Mrs. Buie in a Union motel.

Local detectives Barton Rossi, William Escott, Joseph Simonetti and sergeant Martin McNish supervised digging operations last week at the dump. The men were searching through a mountain of trash in an effort to find some trace of the missing woman.

Trash from Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, where the woman worked was being sifted through in the belief the body may have been placed in a trash compactor at the hospital.

Police successfully pinpointed the area in which the trash had been dumped on May 3, and began the difficult task of sifting through the refuse. As of late Tuesday, no clues had been found.

The men involved in the search began working early last week, wearing industrial gas masks to screen out some of the odor. After four days, however, they had given up the masks, saying, "You get sick at first, but after a while, you just get used to the air."

An earthmover provided by Bergen County had dug a pit almost 30 feet deep by last Friday, as detectives used rakes to examine the trash closely.

The Essex County Prosecutor's office is also involved in the case, and a detective from that office, Ralph Massi, was involved in the search.

Though news of the search was revealed only last week, it is believed officials suspected foul play in the disappearance some time before.

Mrs. Buie worked in the kitchen at Clara Maass, and disappeared some time early May 1. Her boyfriend, a Haitian alien who faces deportation proceedings, was a cook at the hospital.

Police work

Belleville detectives William Escott and Barton Rossi poke through garbage at the North Arlington dump where police hoped to find clues to the whereabouts of a Belleville woman missing since May 1. Police combed the debris for five days before giving up the search.

Circus fans

George Ferdine sits atop his father's shoulders to get a better view of the Royal Palace Circus that entertained the hundreds of Bellevilleites who attended the Independence Day festivities at Municipal Stadium. The show featured 18 acts, and George reported he and his father, Joseph Ferdine 236 Belmont Avenue, enjoyed all of them. For more pictures of the day's activities, please see page 14.

Inside

Fourth festivities

Belleville, like every other town in the country, celebrated the Fourth of July with a bang. Though the celebration actually took place the day after, it was still a big hit. See the pictures on page 14.

Never say die

The court may have ordered the town to revalue, but Commissioners Senatore and Saletta, staunch foes of the move, are continuing their battle against it. See the story on page 9.
