Police will seek contempt citations

By CHUCK JACKSON

Belleville police will go to court within the next week seeking contempt citations against the town's five Commissioners and the Town Treasurer, the Times News has learned.

PBA Local 28 will, it was revealed, return to Superior Court and seek contempt findings against the town leaders for failure to implement the town's agreement with the police. That agreement was reached last spring, but the contract has not been signed.

The town is currently under a court order issued July 9 and reaffirmed August 9 by Judge Irwin Kimmelman directing implementation of the negotiated settlement.

PBA president William Escott denounced the town's "delaying" tactics, and said, "We will take steps to find the Commissioners in contempt if the contract is not signed in the very, very near future."

Escott went on to blast the Board for ignoring the court order, saying, "We are playing the game by their rules. They were the ones who took this to court and now they won't honor it. The Commissioners are making a joke of the court order and fools of us."

Despite Judge Kimmelman's order, some town officials have said privately it would still be possible to delay payment of the contract almost indefinitely. They point to the protracted legal wrangling over revaluation, which continues now even though an order has also been issued in that area.

The police-Commission split may be complicated even further in the near future. Next week, on September 15, the PBA and the local government are scheduled to begin negotiations for next year's contract.

Many police officers are reportedly angry at the town's failure to implement the contract, and, Escott said, the men are also disgruntled over recent manpower cutbacks.

"We are now working with 10 less men than this time last year," said the PBA president. "Eight men have left the department and two are out sick. We are at the point where it is just not safe working. I only hope someone doesn't have to get hurt for the Commissioners to realize that."

Escott said that though he has spoken with Commissioner Rocco Saletta on the telephone, the Public Safety Director has not met with union officials in more than a month.

Escott would not comment on the possibility of a police job action, but he added, "We have been playing by the rules. We haven't taken any job action to date, and we have obeyed the law."

School 3 opening delayed by Board

Approximately 250 School Three students will not begin school this week because of problems in readying their classrooms.

The Board of Education voted 4-3 Tuesday to temporarily postpone the start of classes in the 1955 wing of the school. All other classes, those scheduled to be held in local churches, will go on as scheduled.

The decision to put off the start of school came after the Trustees rejected a proposal by School Superintendent John Greed and School Three principal Austin MacArthur to hold split sessions at the churches.

An overflow crowd packed Board chambers Tuesday, virtually all School Three parents, the majority of which opposed the split session plan.

After almost two and a half hours of discussion and debate, the seven member Board voted approval of a modified plan, put forward by Trustee Michael Chieffo which postponed opening of the 1955 wing. The Board will meet Saturday at 11 a.m. to determine what further steps might have to be taken and to update parents on progress being made at the school.

According to Board president Matthew Pica, demolition of the burnt out portion of the school is incomplete, proper plumbing has not yet been installed, and an outside fire escape from the second floor must be added. He went on to say, however, he expected the demolition to be complete and the plumbing installed by tomorrow. The president had no estimate on how long it will take to erect the fire escape.

Until the fire escape, recommended by Fire Chief George Sbarra, fourth grade students who were attending classes on the second floor of the structure will have to go to school in Christ Church on Washington Avenue.

The final vote by the Board came after a plan, also set forth by Chieffo, to close down the entire school, including satellite classes, was withdrawn. That proposal was killed after superintendent Greed spoke with the head of the Belleville

Cable decision coming Tuesday

Town Commissioners will decide which company will be awarded the cable television franchise in Belleville at their next scheduled meeting September 14.

The Town notified the competitors, Suburban Cablevision and UA-Columbia, this week of its intention to go beyond the 30-day deadline to make the decision. Today would have been a month since both companies made presentations to the Commissioners at a public hearing in August.

Both firms offer the same basic services, bringing in 35 channels to their subscribers including all New York stations and events from Madison Square Garden.

Nutley has awarded its franchise to UA-Columbia but Suburban Cablevision of East Orange has won contracts in Bloomfield and Millburn.

Olympic banner

Town Hall is bedecked this week with a banner reminding Bellevilleites of the Fun Olympics sponsored by the Rotary Club at Great Adventure on September 15. Team selection will be finalized this week. If Belleville wins the games, the competitors could bring home as much as $6,500. Maybe that's why it's being proclaimed from the rooftops.

Demolition deadline

Work is continuing on the demolition of School Three but it was not completed in time for the opening of the surviving wing of the destroyed building. Tuesday the Board of Education discussed where the children slated for School Three would go to classes on the opening day of the fall semester.

Cop union pays a debt to charity

The Belleville PBA will make good on a promise it made to the Rocco Saletta Civic Association, and will contribute $150 to the restoration of St. Peter's Church.

Local 28 president William Escott promised earlier this year to make up any losses incurred by the Saletta group when the police picketed a fund raising function.

Escott said the union was happy to make the contribution, but he added, "This is in no way meant to be an apology. We felt we did the right thing when we picketed, and if we had to do it again, we would. We just don't want to see a charity suffer by our actions."

The union president could not resist taking a verbal jab at the public Safety Director, saying, "This shows we are men of our word, which is more than I can say for Commissioner Saletta."

Escott was referring to the Director's failure to sign the new police contract.

The donation to St. Peter's restoration fund came after the PBA received a letter from Sandra Metta, Corresponding Secretary of the Saletta group, which said:

"In compliance with your statement to the Belleville Times, (That the PBA would donate the loss of the Rocco H. Saletta Civic Welfare Association Dinner-Dance) a check to our favorite charity would be appreciated at this time.

"In lieu (sic) of the tragedy at St. Peter's Church, we would appreciate your check in the amount of $150 (which would have been the organization's (sic) profit from the ticket proceeds from people who would not cross the picket line) be made payable to St. Peter's Restoration Fund.

"Kindly forward the check at your earliest convenience...and it will be presented by Commissioner Saletta at the meeting for the Restoration fund."

Escott pledged the PBA money at a public Town meeting, when Saletta said police pickets protesting impending layoffs had resulted in a decreased attendance at the function. The $150 donated by the PBA will go towards funds being raised for the reconstruction of St. Peter's Church, which was destroyed by fire earlier this year.

War buddies reunited

World War II was a time of destruction and turmoil for most of Europe. Many families were broken up and many friends lost forever but for Neil Stefanelli of 132 Union Avenue and Don Harfield of Stockbridge, England, the war began a friendship which has survived over 32 years.

Neil met Don, then a member of the Royal Air Force, while recovering from a wound received while serving in the Fourth Infantry Division.

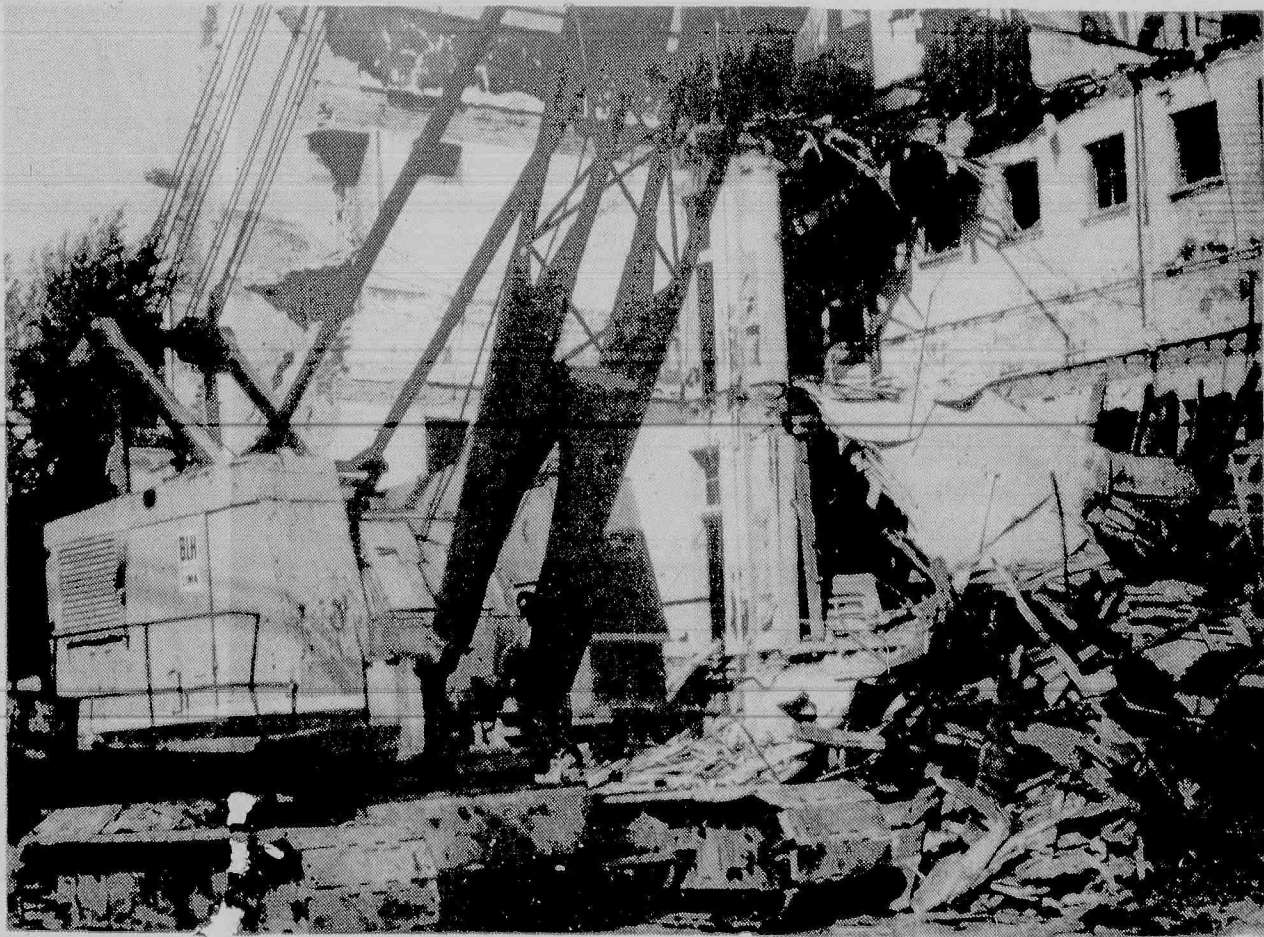

"We met in a pub," Neil explains, "which is where almost everyone met in England during the war."

The two friends made a pledge to visit each other's country when they parted in 1944 and three years ago Neil held up his end of the bargain by vacationing in Stockbridge.

"The hospital I was in has disappeared and the pub has been renovated," said Neil, "but many things there are still the way I remember them."

Neil and Don were able to keep their friendship strong thru correspondence across the ocean and last month, August 12, Don and his wife, Midge, made it to America and fulfilled the second half of

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

For a long time, renters have been paying the increase in real estate taxes. Every time there is a tax increase, it is usually followed by a rent increase. Under the recently passed Homestead Act, why aren't renters who are living in a building with fewer than four apartments getting a break when it comes to rebates? The tenants who live in an apartment with four or more in a building are entitled to a rebate, we are told. Why is this distinction made?

We have written many letters to our state legislators in the past in regards to tax restructuring, and we have been informed by word of mouth and the written word that, "any benefits derived by senior home owners would also be participated in by renters."

Whatever happened to this theory that our senators and assemblymen would have us believe is a fair and equitable solution? Where does it say, "any benefits EXCEPT for apartment dwellers of less than four in a building?" We think these legislators speak with forked tongue. Any legislation that is allowed to pass and ignores the need for ALL tenants relief is unconstitutional and discriminatory.

The Belleville Senior Citizens Club has a busy schedule for this week, senior. There is a meeting Tuesday, a trip to Asbury for the one day convention of the Coordinating Council on Wednesday, Stop and Shop luncheon on Thursday and bingo for the members on Friday. Most every day is taken up with some form of activity and many of the club's 800-plus members take advantage of the various programs.

Participating golfers were Past Exalted Ruler Raymond MacDonald, Vincent Mirra, and George Urchol.

Thomas Goldrick attended the Elks Shuffleboard Tournament Meeting at the West Orange Lodge No. 1590. Goldrick reported that the Belleville Lodge plays its first games on Friday, September 17 at the local lodge.

The Ritualistic Contests will start September 9 at the Nutley Lodge No. 1290.

The first meeting of the autumn for the Crippled Children's Committee will be held at the Lyndhurst Lodge No. 1505 on September 15.

British man missed brew

Neil, in anticipation of the visit, had devised a schedule of activities to do and places to go.

"We were always on the move," exclaimed Don, "and examined a lot of sight seeing into our three-week stay."

The Statue of Liberty, Empire State Building, St. Patrick's Cathedral, Smithsonian Institute, the Lincoln Memorial and President Kennedy's grave were only a few of the places Neil and his wife, Marie, showed to the English couple.

"We covered more than 1500 miles during their stay," claimed the Belleville residents.

Although Don and his wife saw much of east coast America it was Willowbrook Mall, in Wayne, which impressed the former member of the R.A.F. the most.

"I never saw anything like it," confessed Don; "it was huge."

Besides Italian food, popsicles and waffles were high on the list of the Harfield's favorites.

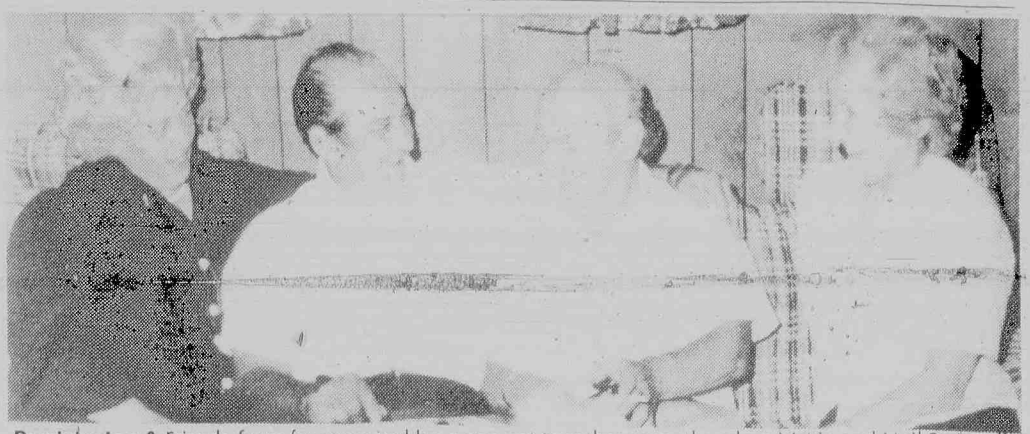

"They must have had waffles every morning since they arrived," said Neil.

The United States was found lacking in one area, however, at least according to Don. "I do miss a good pint of English beer," he admitted.

The Harfields returned to Britain last Thursday and brought back with them lifelong memories of the trip.

"We had to buy an extra suitcase just to put all our souvenirs in," volunteered Mrs. Harfield.

Next year Neil intends to vacation in Germany to visit his daughter who is living in Berlin and plans to stop off for a few days in Stockbridge, see Don and his family and keep alive the friendship formed in another time and another place when a world war brought the two together.

Reminiscing & Friends from far away and long ago got together recently, when Marie and Neil Stefanelli (left) hosted Don and Midge Harfield of Stockbridge, England. The two men became friends during World War II, and have continued their friendship through letters. This was the Harfields' first visit to this country, and the two couples took time out to look at the Stefanellis' scrapbook of memories.

teacher's union, Michael Harvey.

Though the content of that telephone call was not revealed, Chieffo said publicly the union opposed the plan, "because we would have to deviate from the set calendar and some items would have to be negotiated."

The original plan, to hold split sessions until all needed work was completed, was reached last week by superintendent Greed and principal MacArthur. Greed said Tuesday the plan was devised after studying three options. Those options were to allow the students to stay home; to send them back to School Seven on split sessions, or to hold split sessions at the churches for three days.

"I decided on the third option," said Greed. "We waited until the eleventh hour to make the decision, and I believe we did the right thing."

Board members Viola Spray, Chieffo, Mahmarian and James Risoli voted in favor of postponing classes, and members Pica, Lawrence Schwartz and Caesar Romano voted against the motion.

THE STATE WE'RE IN

Why our cancer rate is so high

By DAVID F. MOORE

In New Jersey, where the densities of population, concentration of chemical industries and cancer are all higher than in any other state, we should at least be able to combat the density of reactions to this dilemma.

That's why a planned public hearing by a Senate commission this month should provide an excellent forum for intelligent assessment of the mess we're in. One hopes that the committee can even establish sane ground rules for long-term recovery.

Right now, with news of significant concentrations of cancer-causing compounds in the air around northern New Jersey chemical complexes, we're in danger of cancer becoming a bigger politica, football than the income tax. Not even cancer is too loathsome for politicizing.

Senator John M. Skevin of Bergen County is Chairman of the Senate's commission looking into causes of so much cancer in New Jersey, and that's the group which will hold the hearing.

SINCE NOBODY should expect a handful of legislators to make discoveries which so far have eluded generations of scientists, the commission can best address itself to cataloging the available evidence, which is generally circumstantial in nature.

The only certainties are statistics showing New Jersey with more cancer per thousand population than any other state, laboratory proof that numerous chemical compounds cause cancer in lesser species, and presumably in man, and evidence that these same substances are prevalent in New Jersey's air.

That's what makes it so easy for politicians or political appointees to call for further investigation, or even to cloud the issue by proposing that the poisons might drift into New Jersey from distant places. Some probably do, but it's silly to doubt that most originate right here.

At this juncture, it looks like honest people will have to agree that the only way to keep cancer-causing chemicals out of our air (and water and ground, too) is to keep them from escaping from industries which manufacture, use or store them.

WORSE YET, science is utterly incapable of establishing the danger or harmlessness of the myriad combinations of chemicals which can merge in our environment. There are just too many of them.

So, all chemicals will have to be kept in bounds. Those which are normally released into the environment, like pesticides, herbicides or even exhaust fumes, will in truth have to be scientifically studied as never before, and that goes especially for their various interactions.

Senator Skevin and his cohorts will not have an easy task. They will be bombarded every step of the way by vested interests who will raise every possible doubt about every bit of evidence, just to forestall expensive safeguards against pollution.

In the end, we may have to learn to live with the politics of cancer as well as the danger itself. But in the meantime, I, for one, reserve the right to pursue the impossible dream.

The car industry is his life

Would you buy a car from this man?

Twenty-five years in the auto business with experience throughout the east coast have convinced Bill Book the Belleville and Nutley area is an ideal place to begin his dream of a lifetime.

Book is the new owner-manager of Book Buick, formerly Belleville-Nutley Buick, 66 Washington Avenue, Nutley.

Since World War II when Book worked in vehicle maintenance for the Army Air Corps, the auto industry has been Book's life. He worked for a Buick dealer following the war and graduated from the General Motors Institute in Flint, Michigan in 1951.

Book and Buick have been working together ever since. His quarter century of experience includes stints as a claims administrator, district service, sales, and parts manager, and regional parts manager. His travels with Buick have taken him from Boston to North Carolina but Belleville and Nutley are the towns he decided to pick to start his own dealership.

Book said he first fell in love with the area when he called on Belleville-Nutley Buick owned by George Symonds. The neighboring towns are well organized and clean, according to Book, and he is optimistic about the future in this area.

"One factor that impressed me the most is the people like to do business locally," Book said. "They seem to enjoy a personal relationship with whomever they're doing business. They're not shoppers."

"I've been working on purchasing this business since 1971," Book added. The optimism he express for the future is based on some of his research. The car dealer notes much of the Meadowlands is scheduled for housing projects, business, and recreation zones. Book pointed to the emergence of 125,000 families in the Meadowlands within the next 10 years as an indicator of the growth potential for business in Belleville and Nutley.

The immediate future for the car industry should also be rosy, according to Book. His company expects 1977 to be the best year for car sales in the seventies. Book also has confidence in his cars. "Buick has been a very well accepted product," he said. Chevrolet, Ford, and Buick are the best selling autos in the North Jersey area, Book said.

Book understands people can be wary when they chose a new dealer or mechanic. There's a lot of trust involved in the process of turning over a car for repairs. Book said. "It's very much like a doctor, he helped you before and you go back to him."

Morven, White House compared

By FRANK A. ORECHIO

Last week Republican Assembly Minority leader Thomas H. Kean, a respected member of the New Jersey legislature, bearing a famed family name, took a cheap shot at Governor Brendan T. Byrne. Kean accused the Governor of using the Governor's mansion, Morven for political purposes. It appears Governor Byrne entertained some Democrat county chairmen at his Morven house and Kean thinks such a political group should not benefit from the taxpayers support of the Governor's mansion.

Not too long ago we were in the Blue Room of the White House with Thomas Kean, President Gerald Ford was attempting to make time with New Jersey Republican delegates — a strictly political reception. It is assumed taxpayers pay for the up-keep of the White House. We see no difference between Byrne's use of the Governor's mansion or President Ford's use of the White House to entertain his political friends — for after all, they are the respective homes of the public officials and one would imagine each public official has the right to invite personal or political friends. By the very nature of the governorship or the presidency, the jobs are political — and it is expected the possessors of those offices will be entertaining people of various political persuasions. Tom Kean is too big a man in the public life of our state to demean himself by reaching down to a chicken dung level.

Sunday, September 12, Nutley's Citizen Committee for Prayer in the Bicentennial Year has established a beginning hour at 7:14 p.m. It is not 7:15 — it is not 7:30 — it is 7:14 p.m. My secretary says, "That's an odd time," — the typical reaction from thousands of Nutleyites who wonder why 7:14. Jan Houston, the Prayer Committee Co-Chairman, explains it this way: It reflects a reference to the 2nd Chronicle, Chapter 7, Verse 14. It seems the Committee selected this verse as a theme for the charismatic in case you are in the same boat as I — unfamiliar with 2nd Chronicle, Chapter 7, Verse 14, here it is: "If my people who are called by name will humble themselves and pray, and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, forgive their sin, and heal their land."

The silly political season is upon us. Jimmy Carter kicked off his campaign Monday. His prose was typical of an opening speech by a presidential candidate. The rhetoric sounded like a talk from Senator McGovern's 1972 campaign. Just listen for a moment — "We have a divided nation. We must bring our people together again."

Well I don't know where Jimmy Carter has been for the past two years since Jerry Ford became president, for I remember the country very divided during the last days of the Vietnam War — and especially during the horrendous 18 months of Watergate. Don't you remember how we all prayed to get Watergate behind us so that our country could be one again — so that our people could begin again to love instead of hate. How many of us gave thanks to God that Nixon resigned, Jerry Ford became president, Nixon was pardoned, and for all practical purposes, Watergate was indeed part of our past. So two years later the nuclear submarine commander, who was trying to peddle the image that he is just a simple little peanut farmer, comes along and is trying to unravel the harmony to be found among our people which has taken two years to build.

Of course, 220 million Americans are not a homogeneous body. Of course we have our differences. That is what makes America — that we can disagree without being disagreeable. We have disagreements within our personal families. We have disagreements within the membership of the governing bodies of our communities. We have disagreements within each major political party from the town level through the county level, at the state capitals, and even at the national levels. We have disagreements among members of the state legislatures, among members of the U.S. Congress — and so it goes — in America we have the liberty to disagree but that does not mean we are a divided country.

It means to me that I see democracy at work.

I resent Carter's effort to destroy the harmony among the peoples of our country. I would like to see everybody who wants a job with a job. The fact of life is that since the depression of 1929 the only time we have had no unemployment of those who seek employment was not under the rule of FDR, but it was under wartime conditions. Let's go back into history and note that FDR did not take us out of the depression. W.W. II did — and then the Korean War. The only war that did not solve the unemployment problem was the Vietnam war. Before Vietnam, whenever we had a depression accompanied with tremendous unemployment, a little war here and a little war there helped solve unemployment, the illegitimate offspring of a depression. For me, Carter's speech Monday morning did nothing. I hope his future talks hold greater promise.

I will never forget Tuesday, August 31 and Wednesday, September 1. Tuesday marked the invasion of Nutley by CBS' Jim Jensen Laser Beams. They came to participate in a softball game calculated to aid the Michael Reiley fund — and what a job the Jensen people did. As great as was their enthusiasm and performance, the joy that touched my heart was to see 3,500 of my fellow Nutleyites turn out for an event which had to measure the compassion of the people that populate this finest of cities — Nutley, New Jersey. For me, the experience was a once-in-a-lifetime thrill. Wednesday, September 1st was the opening night of the Meadowlands race track at the new Sports Complex on Route 3, New Jersey Race Track Commission Chairman Charles Carella invited a group of friends and associates to participate in the track opening over dinner and drinks in the V.I.P. dining room, mid-way between the third and fourth floors. It took an hour of stop and start driving to reach the front gate of the race track, only to find all doors locked and an official-looking guy with a bullhorn announcing the track was full — "sorry, but you will have to come back some other night." Well, of course I would not accept his pronouncement. Twenty minutes later Edith and I were upstairs, untrampled, finally sitting down for dinner one hour late. It was my first visit to a race track. The lucky one was Edith. Telly Savalas and Joe Namath came by. Savalas stopped to give Edith a kiss. The kiss was the highlight of the night — I lost money at the races. In order to avoid the crowds departing the complex, we left after the fourth race. It was a beautiful experience, a rare one for me, especially in view of the fact that mass confusion is not my trick. There is no doubt in my mind the Sports Complex contributes to making New Jersey a member of the small community of states that are considered among the most progressive in the nation.

Our Nutley Sun Newspaper office is also in a state of suspended confusion — we purchased production equipment for the exclusive production of our newspapers, future daily included — and as we always do, things are going through the debugging process — that means we have production troubles dealing with new equipment — prototypes included, — and adjusting to the interfacing of production department personnel with editing, advertising, classified and administrative personnel. In the end we expect to produce newspapers with few, if any typographical errors. In the end we expect to produce more informative newspapers. In the end we expect to achieve a grade of quality that has eluded us for some time. I only hope the end is near.

Woman is critical of tree department

To the Editor:

The following letter was sent to the Mayor, and I thought you might be interested in it also.

On June 8, I called the Shade Tree Department to let them know that my tree looked like it was dying and needed immediate attention, since it was an emergency. I was told I would be placed on a list and when my name came up, they would take care of it.

I said that was not good enough, since the tree would die. I asked how long it would take before they could come to look at the tree. The answer was, he did not know. I hung up very dejected.

Early in July I called again. This time I was told they would write beside my name "second call." Once more I pleaded with them to send someone to look at the tree. I was told the department was short handed and they were doing the best they could.

August came. I called again. This time, a young fellow answered and said he was only a worker, that the supervisors were on vacation. He took my telephone number and said he would look up the list and see where my name was and would get back to me. He never did. I then waited a week and called once more. This time I was told they were up to June 1, and perhaps by September they would get to my name.

This week the tree was really dried up. Mayor, it was a sad day at our home, since we had the tree planted when we built our home 23 years ago. I called up and told the department the tree was dead because no one had responded to my pleas. I was told they were not aware it was an emergency and they cannot take everybody's word. With that, I decided to call your office, Mayor, and a young girl working for the summer answered the phone. I explained my tale of woe and she said she would call the department herself and get back to me. Her answer came back to me, and it was what I had already heard. They had my name and when it got to the top of the list they would take care of it.

Finally, I got Mr. Al DeChara, who was extremely helpful. The very next day, two fellows came over, looked at the tree and said the tree was dead. What a shame!

They said only Mr. Fusaro had gotten the messages, it would not have happened, since he loves trees. I asked them not to cut the tree down just yet and see if it could be saved. They made some holes around and put some kind of feeder in them. They said on Tuesday, September 7, Mr. Fusaro would come and try to inject something in the tree to see if that would help.

How I hope so, although they doubt it. Now tell me, Mayor, is that an efficient way to run a department? If the calls are put in categories, as to what the problems are, we would not have to cut trees down. After all, if you have a toothache and call your dentist, he does not put you on a list and say I'll take you when I can. Emergencies should be dealt with accordingly.

I would appreciate your comments. I have withheld the name of the gentleman I spoke with in the Shade Tree Department out of courtesy.

Mrs. S. DiBiase 78 Cedarhill Avenue

Recent news story was ambiguous

To the Editor:

I wish to clarify a slight ambiguity growing out of your August 12 story about the Mental Health Association's "Ball on The Top of The World."

I was listed as announcing the ball, because I am a Board member of the Mental Health Association, which will be the sole beneficiary of the event. The Essex Child Development Center, of which I am Clinical Administrator, was mentioned in the story because it is located in and administered by the Town of Belleville, which the Times-News serves. However, the center is in no way associated with the ball.

I wish to express my appreciation for your fine and generous coverage of this most worthy event, and thank you for allowing me to clarify its sponsorship. Robert J.F. Stepney Mental Health Association

A guide for parents to follow

Helen's thing

by Helen Maguire

SCHOOL STARTED yesterday and for the first time in eleven years, I am alone estimation of the situation.

A friend gave me the following for our church newspaper and I share it with you because I think it too good and to the point not to share. I don't know the author so no credit can be given. It's called: "A Child's Plea to His Parents."

"GIVE ME MORE than food to nourish me. Give me the warmth and the security of your love.

Let me enjoy all five senses. Give me plenty of things to look at, to feel, to smell, to listen to, to taste. And even some

Teach me to take my turn. Watch me play so you can see how I am trying to work out my problems and what I am up against.

WHEN YOU TELL me to do something, please tell me why I should do it. Let me feel that I am a contributing member of the family. And be sure to include me in making the family plans when you can.

Please don't keep me your baby when I want to feel grown-up. Don't transfer your fears to me. I have enough of my own to cope with and I don't need any more.

Help me not to act when I am angry. But don't make me so afraid of showing anger that I lose my capacity to feel strongly about anything.

LET ME LEARN bit by bit to bear pain, to want things but to be strong enough to postpone gratification of certain feelings I am not yet ready to experience.

Let me try out my new powers as my body develops — to creep, to stand, to walk, climb, jump and run when I am ready. Don't limit the natural needs of my body because you have some unresolved hang-ups.

Give me a little corner in the house that is all mine and nobody else's. I need moments of peace and quiet that cannot be invaded by anyone.

GIVE ME MY share of consideration and attention. I must know every day, even if for just a few moments, that I am the only one you are thinking about and loving.

Let me ask any question that pops into my head. Don't make me ashamed for having asked it, even if it seems stupid.

Be patient with me when I don't do things very well at first. Remember I have so many things to learn and almost everything takes some practice.

LET ME BEAR the consequences for whatever I do. I need to be punished as well as rewarded. And when you punish me, make sure the punishment fits the "crime."

Above all, grant me, without reservation, your debt to me — unconditional love. For if I know it is there, I will be able to give the same to my children, and they will be able to give it to their children."

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Gonsalves

Gonsalves - Condon Rites Are Held in Holy Family

polyester with matching floor length capes and matching picture hats. All carried carnations, roses, daisies and babies breath in pastel colors.

Mental Health Services Will Combat Child Abuse

The Community Mental Health Services for Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, located on the grounds of the Essex County Geriatrics Center, has been selected as one of six agencies in a countywide system to combat the growing incidence of child abuse and neglect in Essex County, according to Mrs. Ann Klein, Commissioner of Institutions and Agencies. Mrs. Judith Mack, social service worker, has been appointed by the Board of Trustees of the Services agency as director of its Family Life Program to deal with these programs.

Mrs. Ruth O. Cowell, executive director of the agency, noted that the child abuse program is being provided at no extra cost to the three communities. Through a contract with the Division of Youth and Family Services, the agency will receive $63,593 or a program of counseling, child development, individual and group therapy and pediatric psychological and psychiatric consultation to a minimum of 30 families at any time. Title 20 of the Federal Social Security Act provides for the funding on a 3 to 1 basis, with local matching funds for the year coming from Hoffmann-LaRoche, Inc., the Florence and John Schumann Foundation and State Social Service Initiative funds.

To help equip its rent-free quarters on the third floor of the mental health building, donated by the Board of Freeholders, the staff of the Family Life Program is planning to participate with a table in the September 12 Park Festival in Nutley as a fund-raising event. Contributions, large or small, will also be most welcome so that the contractual funds may be used for the stated purpose of helping in child abuse.

The other agencies which have contracted with DYFS to provide child abuse services in Essex County include: United Hospitals of Newark, Babyland Nursery, Family Service and Child Guidance Center of the Oranges, Maplewood and Millburn, CHR-ILL Service, Inc. of Montclair, Newark Housing Authority and the Newark Tenants Council Inc. Local funding besides that provided to the Services agency came from the United Way of Newark and West Hudson, St. Rose of Lima Church in Newark, the Victoria Foundation, Ohl Foundation and the Newark Housing Authority. The annual budget for the countywide program totals $656,800.

MRS. RUTH O. COWELL discusses a new program to combat child abuse with Mrs. Judith Mack who has been appointed to direct the program.

LORRAIN SALERNO, popular member of the faculty at Montclair Academy of the Dance, 551 Valley Road, Montclair, will be teaching tap dancing this year at the Academy.

Cats are remarkably hardy animals that never complain unless they are in great pain. For this reason, it is often difficult to detect oncoming problems.

One potentially serious feline condition, affecting male cats in particular, is blockage of the urinary tract, which makes urination painful and difficult.

The signs of discomfort due to urinary blockage are fairly typical. The cat may make frequent trips to the litterbox, often the first clue that an irritation is present. Being alert to this symptom could save your cat from undue suffering. If the condition progresses, your cat will stand in the litterbox for several minutes at a time straining to urinate, and what little urine passes may be bloody.

The causes of urinary blockage are varied. Undissolved material may have accumulated in the bladder outlet, so that the cat is unable to pass its urine. Or stones, sometimes quite large, may have collected in the urinary tract to obstruct the normal flow of urine. Some scientists researching the problem believe a virus infection may cause stone formations.

If the obstruction goes untreated and passage becomes impossible, your cat could develop uremic poisoning, which means the body's toxic waste products will accumulate in its bloodstream.

If attended to quickly, however, this condition can be corrected. Your veterinarian can prescribe effective treatment, including antibiotics to control the infection. In some cases, surgery may be necessary to eliminate the stones or to re-route the tube and bypass the obstruction.

A long period of treatment may be required. Once the blockage is cleared, your veterinarian may also suggest changes in your cat's diet. Perhaps lightly salting of food will cause your cat to drink more water and help to prevent further problems.

Remember, it is important for you to be aware of the signs associated with urinary blockage and to get your pet to a veterinarian promptly. Knowing the symptoms and seeking professional treatment could lengthen and even save your cat's life.

Burstein, new spiritual leader of the Congregation will address the group.

Bnai Emunah picked for program

The National Commission for Parent Education of the United Synagogue of America has selected the Bnai Emunah Religious School of Montclair to participate in a pilot program for parents of teenagers.

The Bnai Emunah Religious School, headed by Mrs. Herbert Witkin, principal, has instituted a Parent Education Program for parents of students in the school. Parents are taught the same curriculum as their children. This program develops an improved understanding by parents of what their young are being taught. It has also resulted in a better appreciation by parents of religious instruction.

To further enhance this existing program, classes for parents of teenagers will be added. Problems confronting today's Jewish teenager will be discussed.

Public Service floats ferryboat for 1976

A 75-year-old ferryboat has become the youngest member of this Burlington's Bicentennial program, and jumping-off point for a walking tour of an impressive historic area.

The boat is Public Service Electric and Gas Company's "Second Sun," a floating energy information center. Since 1969 — its decks have been trod by 287,000 visitors — its regular display of energy information has been supplemented in the Bicentennial year by a 24-minute presentation — "New Jersey 200" — which traces the march of history and progress in the state since its early days.

It is obvious that the greatest need for building new cells in the body occurs during the periods of most rapid growth. It must not be assumed, however, that when you are mature, the need for building materials comes to an end. Cells continue to wear out as long as life continues. Replacement of worn out cells is a requirement for maintaining life. The need for protein to build antibodies and to help in producing enzymes and hormones continues all your life. For this reason, an older person must avoid reducing his or her intake of protein.

Poekel calls for House

Charles A. Poekel, Jr., the Republican candidate for Congress in New Jersey's 11th District today stated that in light of the recent Hays-Ray incident there should be a complete audit of all accounts of the House of Representatives before October 1, 1976, so that the American people can be made fully aware of any improprieties and illegalities before the November elections. Poekel stated that the Democrats' study commission report was not due before the end of 1977.

"Congress ought not be afraid to disclose how it uses the taxpayers' money," said Poekel, who also called for public hearings to begin immediately.

The Republican candidate stated that the audit should cover the payrolls and expenses of each Member of Congress, each Committee, and each Officer of the House of Representatives, and should be conducted by an independent, private, external source.

Poekel also advocated expert external analysis and recommendations for improvement of the workings of the Congress based on known system weakness and in part on the results of the audit.

Poekel concluded by saying that he feels that cosmetic reforms and delays in investigations by study commissions would not be acceptable to the electorate in November.

Ladies BFD group sets fall meeting

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Belleville Fire Department will begin its fall season with a meeting Thursday, September 9, 8 p.m. at the Recreation House.

Officers of the auxiliary this year include: Mrs. William Buckley, president; Mrs. Walter Cole, vice-president; Mrs. Dawson Bloom, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Shaughnessy, treasurer.

HSA dinner speakers listed

Senator John Skevin of Bergen County; Msgr. William J. Daly, former Superintendent of Schools and currently pastor of St. Philomena Parish, Livingston; and Rev. William C. Harms former Moderator for the Federation; are the recipients of the first Outstanding Service Awards to be given by the Newark Archdiocesan Federation of Home-School Associations at their first annual dinner to be held on September 18th, it was announced here today. Mrs. Alice Aimette, President of the Federation said that the awards resulted from the desire on the part of the Archdiocesan Coordinating Committee to honor those individuals who have contributed greatly over the years to the progress of Catholic schools and the benefit of nonpublic school children generally. The awards will be presented during the annual Scholarship Honor — the Principals Dinner which will be held at Seton Hall University for 1500 parent-leaders of Home-School Associations throughout the Archdiocese.

According to Mrs. Aimette; "Senator Skevin is being honored for his outstanding leadership in the New Jersey Legislature, but most particularly for his role as the author and prime sponsor of the legislation that has provided transportation to nonpublic school children throughout the State for over a decade. Msgr. Daly has been a champion of parental rights for years and a forthright spokesman for the Catholic schools throughout the State during his service as Superintendent. Similarly, Father Harms, while Director of Planning for the Archdiocesan School Office, served as moderator for the Federation during its formative stages. His support, as well as the support of Msgr. Daly and the leadership of Senator Skevin have been invaluable and we are happy to give each of them some small indication of our gratitude for their service."

'Intrepid' sailors are being sought

A unique U.S. Navy search for 50,000 men who served on board the aircraft carrier USS Intrepid was launched last week at the Naval Base in Philadelphia.

"We're looking for Intrepid sailors, whose efforts helped make American history, to attend the ship's first official reunion on October 9 and 10," said Commander Bob Brewer, former air boss on the ship and acting co-chairman for the reunion.

The Intrepid, which was decommissioned in 1974 after 31 years of Naval service, is now serving as the flagship for the Navy-Marine Corps Bicentennial program at the U.S. Naval Base, Philadelphia.

An alert to Navy commands throughout the United States has informed the Navy Community of the reunion plans. Announcements are also being carried by official Navy publications.

"It's a massive effort, complicated because the thousands of former crew members are widely scattered, and many are no longer affiliated with the Navy," said Commander Brewer. "We're attempting to spread the word so that every Navy man who has ever served on the Intrepid has the opportunity to meet former shipmates and see the old ship once more."

In addition, letters are being sent to former commanding officers of the ship and commanders of air groups and squadrons which flew from her flight deck. Navy astronauts Scott Carpenter and John Young, who were recovered by the Intrepid after their space missions are being invited to attend and address the reunion.

"Lots of Navy men get together to swap sea stories about their favorite ship," said Chief Petty Officer James E. Rubright, "but not many get to see their old ship. This is a really special occasion for the Intrepid's crew to meet on her decks again."

"It's appropriate, too, to hold the ship's first reunion at the end of the Bicentennial year and at a time when Intrepid is concluding her Naval career," said Chief Rubright. Rubright served on board the ship as the leading chief of Helicopter Squadron 11 and is acting as co-chairman of the reunion.

The ship's ultimate disposition has not yet been determined, but there is an effort to maintain her as a permanent floating exhibit at the Naval Air Museum in Pensacola, Florida.

As flagship for the Navy's Bicentennial observance at the historic Naval Base and Shipyard at the foot of Philadelphia's South Broad Street, the Intrepid has, on her flight and hangar decks, exhibits of Naval history and progress over a 200 year span. The exhibits have been viewed by 400,000 people this past year.

For more information, contact Chief Journalist Bill Liedtke, COM-FOUR Public Affairs Office, U.S. Naval Base, Philadelphia, Pa., 19112, or call 215-755-3271-3807.

Quiz grid coaches on TV next Monday

New Jersey's two most popular college football coaches, Rutgers University's Frank Burns and Princeton University's Bob Casciola, join New Jersey's most popular sportscaster, Dick Landis, in kicking off a new season with a live telephone call-in show on "That's It In Sports" next Monday, at 8 p.m. on WNJM, channel 50.

A special call-in toll free number will be set up to question Princeton's Bob Casciola or Rutgers' Frank Burns.

As usual, Rutgers will meet Princeton's Tigers with one game (Navy) under their scarlet belts and a 9 and 2 season last year which makes coach Frank Burns confident of a great upcoming season.

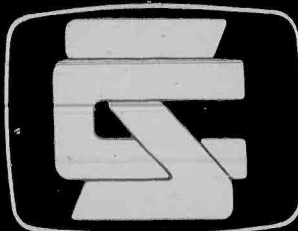

Princeton is also determined to break away from its past losing streak (1970 was Princeton's last winning season) and begin the new season with a win over Rutgers.

Bellboys begin

The fall sports program at BHS is in gear with pre-season practices. Above, football coach Tom Testa watches prospective quarterback Joe Gelpi call a pass pattern. Only 75 Bellboys came out for the 1976 squad but the coach says it's an enthusiastic group of gridirers. The team has been working since September 1 and will open at home September 27 against Livingston.

Bruins end

The Belleville Bruins finished their season Monday and their chances for a second state title in two years when they lost to Woodbridge, 6-4. The post season games did have some bright spots for the Bruins however. Coach Dennis Sasso called Greg D'Allesandro's pitching performance in the stretch "a good job." D'Allesandro, at right, held Linden to seven hits and three runs Saturday. Bob DiJianne also provided some power at the plate. Below, DiJianne is greeted at the plate by teammates after hitting a three run homer in Monday's loss to Woodbridge.

Ball season ends for Bruin squad

By JOSEPH RYAN

The Bruins found themselves Monday trailing by two runs with two outs in the ninth inning and the bases loaded. The pitcher was due to bat, so the situation called for a pinch hitter but there weren't any left. Belleville coach Dennis Sasso picked up a bat and went to the plate. The Bruins lost to Woodbridge, 6-4.

A depleted bench was a leading cause of the Bruins downfall in this year's Tournament of Champions. Four or five Bellevilleites absent without leave might have made the difference with a clutch hit or two. "If you go down with all your players, then there's no excuse," Sasso said. "The players should have been there, there's no excuse," the coach added.

The Bruins lost to Woodbridge was their second in the tourney and eliminated the defending champions from the state title matches. Saturday the Bellevilleites downed Linden, 5-4, and the baseball bears won again Sunday, 14-4, over Clifton. Labor Day's effort was lost however, to Woodbridge, a team Sasso called "the best we faced in the tournament."

The baseball bears started the scoring against Woodbridge in the first inning. Tony Roselle walked and was advanced to second on a sacrifice fly by Kevin Goy. Bob DeJianne, who drove in all the Bruin runs for the day singled in Roselle for the first score.

Three more runs crossed the plate for

BHS gridirers hit the field

The proving grounds are open. Seventy-five aspiring athletes are pounding tackle dummies, running pass patterns, and performing pushups, trying to become football players; members of the 1976 Bellboy varsity.

The weather has been mercifully cool but they still sweat during the double session workouts while they run out the kinks of a year away from the gridiron.

Third year varsity coach, Tom Testa yells advice and encouragement to the trainees. "Where's your mouthpiece? Get used to it. You-quarterbacks aim for the helmets. Don't go deep on delay. Never throw a long pass short. Get down in a three point stance. Look in, at the ball, not at me.

Testa said he is very pleased with the first week of workouts, he called the 75 a very "dedicated group." The only drawback against the prospective players enthusiasm is there are fewer of them than last year.

More than 100 players tried out last year but this season's prospects have dwindled to 75 and coach Testa said, "don't ask me why." The lower turnout means the Bellboys will have to spread their talent out and perhaps be forced to play double positions on the field. When the year starts September 27 against Livingston the Bellboys will field some ironmen who will be playing both offense and defense.

"We may have to depend on two-way performers," Testa said. The coach noted most of the double threat players will have to acclimate themselves to offense in the pre-season because of their experience on the defensive platoons.

Although many will have to learn new assignments, Testa said the football candidates seem to be more enthusiastic and the coaching staff is very pleased with their attitude. This fall's squad is a close knit group, according to their coach, who called them, "a very dedicated bunch of kids."

The start of the season will feature the 48-minute men but the coach said as the younger players get more experience, the Bellboys will probably revert to offensive and defensive platoons. In the meantime, according to Testa, "we've got to go with the football players."

Final positions are far from set but coach Testa knows who most of the leading candidates for starting assignments are. Joe Gelpi, a six foot one inch senior who saw action at the helm in a few games last year, is the leading candidate for quarterback. Testa called Gelpi's running ability good and noted the Bellboy also has some passing talent.

Girls' physicals are Saturday

Girls and boys tennis are the newest sports on the Belleville High School schedules this year. Athletic Director Jim Silvestri has announced Karen Fucello will coach the girls team and Mike Polaris will instruct the boys in the spring.

Girls sets will start this fall so physicals have been scheduled for this Saturday at 9 a.m. in the Boys Gym for prospective Bellgirl tennis players. Anyone who missed the earlier sports physicals can also attend the Saturday session at the high school.

Cross country men face tough times

The loneliness of the long distance runners at Belleville High School could be twice as doleful this year. First there are only about a dozen of the hearty joggers and second, there are no returning lettermen the squad.

Coach Rich Ruffalo contemplating a season without a letterman announced "it's rebuilding time." The bright spot for the team in the coaches estimation is its youth and enthusiasm. Practice started this week but many of the cross country squad have been running on their own during the summer months.

The Bellboys were 5-7 last year but Ruffalo sees this season as work for the future. The 13 dual meets for Belleville will probably not be team triumphs for the Blue-Gold. Ruffalo said he has told his band of runners if they keep their noses in there, "with hard work, we might win a couple couple."

"They're all very young," Ruffalo said. "I'm not very pessimistic, just realistic." The dozen or so autumn runners will be tallying 45 to 50 miles a week to make the team and all this exertion will be without the encouragement of cheerleaders. The team will have no individual captain either. "The whole team will be the captain," Ruffalo announced. This will presumably spread the leadership tasks evenly throughout the cross country team.

Seniors and juniors on the Bellboy squad will include Dave White, Rich Drake, Craig Lordigyan, and Rich Cavanaugh. Two girls will also be running with the Bellevilleites but they will compete with the Bellboys since women's competition has yet to be organized for cross country on the high school level.

Ruffalo said the team will spend this first week of practice on conditioning and distances. The second week will concentrate on speed work and endurance leading to the intra-squad competition in the third week.

The home dual meets for Belleville will be run on a 2.86 mile course through Belleville Park in all kinds of weather. Tuesdays and Thursdays are the usual meet dates. The Blue-Gold cross country team doesn't expect to draw crowds but they'll be running just the same.

Soccer team preps

England calls it football, America calls it soccer, and at Belleville High School it's called "a building program."

This is only the second year for varsity soccer at BHS and the first year with both a varsity and jayvee squad planning matches. However the small turnout of competitors poses some problems for the future of the junior varsity team. Coach Tony Cahill is hoping more Bellboys will come out for the team, specially on the freshman level. "They will be playing, no question about it. Probably jayvee, but they will be playing," Cahill said.

The coach called last year's 2-14-1 record for the varsity its "baptism of fire" and added this year, "there's much room for improvement."

The hope for the future is the fact 11 seniors are returning to the team including last year's high scorer Herman Borja, who scored half of the Bellboys' goals. The Blue-Gold soccer men will meet St. Cecilia's in an upcoming scrimmage and coach Cahill expects to have a better idea of how things will be going for the second year team.

first practices the week before school but Cahill said the door is still open to further additions to the field. The jayvee soccer men, coached this year by Tony D'Aquino, are especially in need of recruits. The coaches will probably be recruiting ninth graders this week to try their feet and one of the world's most popular sports.

The Big Ten has some of the top soccer teams in the area, so the Bellboys will have some good competition to hone their skills this year. Kearny, Columbia, and Bloomfield are all teams cited by Cahill for their soccer success. The Bellboys will begin this season away at Orange on September 21.

If the Blue-Gold can win for the early part of their schedule, Cahill expects an improved season with the prospect of competing in the County Tournament. Orange on September 21, followed by Montclair and Columbia matches are expected to be the indicators for the team's chances the rest of the year. Cahill said he is optimistic about the season but a little bit nervous about the future.

Three players from the potential offensive line are also vying for tackle defensively. The ironmen include Ralph Amicano, George D'Allesandro, and Bernie DalCortino. Three more double threats could also be linebackers: Frank Mozeika, Mike Limongelli, and Rocco Balsamo.

Scott Ochse might be doing double duty as a defensive end along with Ken Nicosia and Jerry Patrizio. The secondary will be drawn from a field of contenders including Chris Cervasio, Greg Grasso, Anthony Speer, Frank Pizzi, Joel Brooks, and Robert Raccioppi.

Testa said he would have a better idea of starting roles for the Bellboys after a three team scrimmage Tuesday afternoon this week but the results were in too late for this edition of the Times-News.

The coaching staff for the Bel-

Bronco gridders are to weigh in

The Broncos will weigh in for the 1976 football season September 11 as the 25 man squad prepares to open against Montclair September 19.

Coaches Rich Luzzi, Lenny Longo, and Mike Lemongelli have said they are optimistic the team can improve on its 5-4 record from last year. The encouraging prospects are highlighted by the three scrimmages the Broncos have dominated against North Arlington, Queen of Peace, and Garfield.

Defensively speaking for the Bellboys John Coppla and Frank Constantino are leading candidates for mid guard spots.

UA cable company makes basketball deal

UA-Columbia Cablevision Inc.'s, President Robert M. Rosencrans and Roy L.M. Boe, President of the New York Nets and New York Islanders, announced today, the signing of a four year contract to carry all of the blacked-out home games of the New York Nets and New York Islanders sports teams.

"Approximately 100 pre-season, regular season and play-off games are being added at no additional charge for all of our cable subscribers in the New Jersey area," stated Steve Sinn, UA-Columbia Vice-President. He indicated the merger of the NBA and ABA removed the last major obstacle to conducting this multi-year pact. "With the addition of the Nets and Islanders, UA-Columbia now offers the most complete 36 channel service in the country today," added Sinn.

UA-Columbia presently serves more than 16,000 subscribers in Passaic, Bergen, Essex and Morris Counties. The company has municipal consents to operate in 24 North Jersey communities and will have constructed cable in front of 10-0,000 homes by the end of 1977.

Sinn stated that UA-Columbia was able to provide the Nets and Islanders, together with the Knicks and Rangers, as part of its regular cable service for two reasons. "First, UA-Columbia is in a very strong financial position and secondly, our company's philosophy is committed to providing the maximum in programs and services for the standard monthly charge."

UA-Columbia was the first cable company in New Jersey to offer the New York Knicks and New York Ranger events and the first company to offer Home Box Office movie service. UA-Columbia will now become the first cable company in the state to offer the New York Nets and Islanders as part of the standard cable package.

UA-Columbia is a publicly held company which has 200,000 subscribers in 15 states, nationwide. Their recent expansion in New Jersey has been prompted by completion of a half million dollar head-end site atop the General Hospital in Wayne. Programs are microwaved to several regional head-end locations in Essex, Bergen, Passaic and Morris Counties. From each of these locations, special local programs are added which are of interest to the residents of these communities.

Presentation Plans for a multimillion dollar advertising campaign to announce the 1977 Ford cars were presented by Ford executives to members of the Ford Dealer Advertising Fund at a recent meeting in San Francisco. Fall park lectures start Tomorrow marks the start-up of the Fall 1976 Public Programs sponsored by the Essex County Park Commission's Center for Environmental Studies.

Three programs, each free and designed to interest the entire family, are scheduled for the weekend of September 10-12. The three programs are:

Friday, September 10 at 8 p.m., "Geologic Hazards of New Jersey," will be the subject of a program conducted by Dr. Philip A. Justus, Associate Professor of Geology at Fairleigh Dickinson University. The program, which will include films, will focus on the dangers and consequences of geologic hazards (such as floods, earthquakes and beach erosion), when and where they are most likely to occur and what can be done to minimize or prevent the damage they can cause.

Saturday, September 11 at 10 a.m., "Useful Plant Hunt." A staff naturalist from the Environmental Center will show how to identify, collect, cook and otherwise make the most of wayside plants.

Sunday, September 12 at 1 p.m., "Trees." Just about everything you ever wanted to know about trees - and probably a number of things you never thought to ask about - will be covered by a staff naturalist in the course of this outdoor program.

Loan program is success

Response to a Bicentennial eight percent home mortgage program sponsored by Provident Savings Bank from March 4 through July 4 generated a tremendous public response, resulting in 660 loans totaling mortgages of nearly $23,000,000.

"The overwhelming response to our initial $5,000,000 Bicentennial Mortgage program was so great that the Provident board of managers authorized additional mortgage funds to meet the unprecedented demand. The Provident is very gratified to stimulate real estate activity, promote the local economy and provide opportunities for home ownership to the citizens of the cities and towns served by the Old Beehive," said Kenneth F.X. Albers, bank president.

Library hours are changed

As of last Tuesday, the Belleville Free Public Library returned to its winter hours.

Those hours are as follows: Main Library, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The branch is closed on Sundays.

Silver Lake Branch of the Library will be open Monday through Friday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. The branch will be closed Saturday and Sunday.

The Veterans Administration's National Cemetery System consists of 4,136 areas of cemetery land.

Mrs. Gerald Ford is honorary chairwoman of the Veterans Administration's Bicentennial Art Contest.

TELLERS
Billion Dollar First National State Bank has immediate openings for experienced tellers. These positions are available throughout our system, as well as our Suburban locations.

Take a long look ahead. If you're certain that the position you hold now promises ample rewards for capable effort - now and in the future - we advise you to stay right where you are. But if you're doubtful about your chances to move ahead, consider what we have to offer.

First National State begins by paying excellent salaries and providing unequalled benefits for savings and commercial tellers. But that's only the start! What we're looking for is banking talent, people who want a future commensurate with their abilities. Busy, dynamic First National State with its headquarters in Newark and 30 branch offices is building its future on people of talent. With our rapid growth and our policy of promoting from within there is plenty of room for you to soar. The future may be closer than you think.

Unity Travel lists films

Ten journeys to far-away lands spanning the entire globe will thrill the audiences to the 54th Unity Travelseries. All 10 films, to be shown in Montclair High School Auditorium, are full color motion pictures narrated in person by distinguished travel-film producers.

The season opens on Thursday, September 16, at 8:15 p.m. when Thayer Soule gives his audience a tour of "Mexico-Wonderful Mexico." A traveler's delight, Mexico is a land filled with fascinating sights revealing its Spanish and native Indian traditions. In this, his eighth film on Mexico, Soule presents much that is new and unexpected, together with the well-known and happily remembered.

From these sunny southern skies, the audience will then travel across the Atlantic as Phil Walker takes us on a "Journey in Denmark and Greenland." The film shows such spectacular events as the midnight sun, local festivals on the mainland, and the dramatic fjords of Denmark's and the world's biggest island, Greenland! The tour will take place on Thursday, September 30 at 8:15 p.m.

Art Wilson returned back across the Atlantic with his trip through "Canada's Maritime Provinces," to be shown on Thursday, October 21 at 8:15 p.m. From Prince Edward Island, through Nova Scotia and on to New Brunswick and Newfoundland, the film explores the natural and historical attractions of the island including Charlottetown, the capital and founding site of the Confederation of Canada; the Acadia

National Park; and the fossil cliffs at Joggins.

Eric Pavel points out the "Ten Stars of France." The Loire Valley with its idyllic chateaux, Normandy with its enchanting cities that still retain a late Medieval flavor; and the Basque country are only a few of the places visited when Pavel presents his film on Sunday, November 14 at

John Jay's Hilarious ski film entitled "Winter Magic around the World" combines the sublime and the ridiculous. Packed with adventure and loaded with laughter, the camera travels the winter resorts including Japan, the Andes and the European Alps. The film will be presented on Sunday, November 28,

at 3:30 p.m.

Sherilyn Montes will lead the audience through Poland on Sunday, January 16 at 3:30 p.m. From Gdansk at the borders of the Baltic, to Zakopane in the Tatra Mountains, Ms. Montes introduces us to Polish culture, exemplified in the well-preserved medieval town of Cracow, and the peasant farms throughout the countryside. The producer also emphasizes the changes in Polish life that have occurred since World War 2.

Other films on the Unity Travel Series include "The New Korea" on Sunday, February 13 at 3:30 p.m.;
"Tunisia" on Sun., Apr. 24 at 3:30 p.m.; "A Taste of Israel" on Thursday, May 5, at 8:15 p.m. and "Discovering New Zealand" on Thurs., May 19 at 8:15 p.m.

Vocational Schools List Fall Courses

The Essex County Vocational and Technical Schools evening classes will hold registration for the fall term
Monday and Tuesday, September 20-21, 7 to 9 p.m., at all schools in

Team eliminated in tourney play

for Belleville in the fifth when De-Jianne boomed a homer over the left-field fence. His round tripper drove home Bill Otskey who doubled and Frank Petite, who was on base with a walk. Jack Rake started the contest for the Bruins but was relieved by Tom Intiso.

Sasso cited the lack of hits in key spots during the two Tournament of Champions losses as part of the Bruin problem. The coach also noted the Bellevilleites stranded many on base in the two defeats. The late season absenteeism loomed largest however in the coach's analysis of the loss.

Despite the depleted bench the Bruins weren't deterred from their effort late in the Woodbridge game. Though trailing by two, Petite doubled to get on base and DeJianne and Jim Catalano both drew walks with two outs to keep hopes alive in the ninth. Sasso stepped into the gap but hopes will await next season.

Sundays game against Clifton saw the Bruins belt out 18 hits for 14 runs. Steve Wacker held the Clifton team to five hits with relief help from Brian Karl.

The Bellevilleites started their batting barrage in the second inning. Designated hitter Tom Scull walked and advanced to third on singles by Jim Rake and Willie Puentes. Bill Otskey drove in two runs with another hit. Tony Roselle drew a base on balls and Otskey and Roselle scored when Bob DeJianne hit a ball that caused a shortstop's error and two more Bruin runs came home.

Five more bears' runs crossed the plate in the fourth to total nine. Danny Dunn clubbed a bases loaded single driving in Otskey and shortstop Kevin Goy. Bruin Bob DeJianne followed by slamming a home run with Dunn and Petite on base and Belleville was up 9-4.

Otskey doubled home Puentes, who was on with a single and stolen base, for the tenth run in the fifth inning. Puentes drove in a run himself in the sixth when he singled home Scull.

The Bruins capped their scoring game in the seventh when three runs came in with two outs. Scull singled, Rake doubled, and Puentes, who was four for six for the day, singled home Scull. Two more scores came when Otskey walked, Goy hit safely and Petite singled home Otskey.

Greg D'Allesandro pitched a two hitter with relief help from Tom Intiso against Linden Saturday. Coach Sasso said D'Allesandro, who was 8-2 in the regular season and won three games in the playoffs and tournament, "did a pretty good job down the stretch."

Bruin scoring against Linden started in the second inning when leftfielder Jim Rake tripled and was driven home by Puentes' single. The rest of the baseball bears' runs came in the sixth. Petite drew a walk, DeJianne singled, and Dunn singled to load the bases. Tom Scull was patient enough with the bases jammed to draw a walk to force in a run and Jim Rake followed up by driving in three with a bases loaded double.

"I don't care who he is, I'm not happy" seems to be Marc Andriola's reaction to Mickey Mouse's mother, Mrs. Joseph Andriola does her best to reassure him. The Belleville tot was among the children the Pediatrics department at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital who were visited by the legendary Disney character last Friday. Mickey's appearance was sponsored by Bradlee's Department Store, Clif

'Tradition' playing at Gatsby

MIKE GABRIELE

Bill Santillo and John Cinquino of Belleville and John Gualberto of Nutley, "The New Tradition," will be featured musicians on a six-week engagement at the Great Gatsby Room of the Lyndhurst Holiday Inn, near the hub of activities at the new Meadowlands Sports Complex.

The trio, Cinquino on electric bass and lead vocal, Santillo on drums and Gualberto on box organ and vocal, opened to a full house

August 23 at the Meadowlands nightspot. They will perform six nights a week until October 1, and the music begins at 8 p.m.

The New Tradition performs mellow cocktail-dinner hour music, popular favorites such as "Feelings," and "My Way," but also appealed to the up-tempo crowd with arrangements of "Wildflower," "Bye Bye Love," and "I Only Have Eyes For You."

Aside from the cocktail lounge at the Great Gatsby Room, there is an ample dining section and a modest-sized dance floor. Drinks are moderately priced, and there is no cover charge.

Dress is casual evening attire and the atmosphere is low lit, and low key, despite the action sports photo blow-ups which grace the walls. The pictures were hung, no doubt, to get patrons in a "Meadowland" mood.

The Great Gatsby Room is located in the Lyndhurst Holiday Inn, just off Route 17. For further information about the lounge and The New Tradition, phone 933-9800.
