Math scores still lag

Parents of the more than 1300 students tested were sent the test scores of their children in January. Some principals in Belleville also meetings to discuss student scores prior to the report being made public.

Specific areas of weakness in student scores was identified through Grossman's analysis of the results. Each question was specifically listed within the math and reading results. Problems areas in subtraction or word problems in the math tests can be traced to individual students or schools and reading weaknesses in comprehension or study skills can also be isolated.

Fourth grade reading results indicate the strength of Belleville students in study skills and word recognition. Assistant Superintendent Grossman has recommended emphasis in structural analysis, comprehension and abstract skills.

Math results for fourth graders showed skill in geometry, addition and subtraction but Grossman recommends review in all other areas.

Seventh grade reading test scores, "have indicated a substantial upward trend," Grossman reported. Grossman made a recommendation for review in subtraction, two-digit division, measurement and denominator problems, decimals, and word problems.

Reading test for the tenth graders also showed improvement. "Compared to all reference groups, we scored an average of satisfactory," Grossman reported. "Out of 80 items we registered only four poor scores. Although our scores are not extremely high, they indicate a steady improvement especially over the last two years, 1975 and 1976."

Tenth grader improvement in reading is attributed by Grossman to the junior high school reading program, including a modernized reading lab. Study skills seemed to be a weak area in the tenth grade reading scores. "We are pleased with the upward trend in the cluster," Grossman reported but added, "Our weakest areas are dictionary skills, maps and index. Although we are improving in the area, there is a dire need for more study."

Algebra skills were handled well by the tenth graders in the math section of the state tests. The average percentage score is approximately eight points above last year's score, better than the district grouping, and the community and state reference groups. Grossman reported, "on a majority of the items our students' performance ranged between satisfactory and excellent."

There is no one good posture for everyone or for every occasion. Posture varies with individuals and their needs. The most effective posture is one which is best adapted to the task at hand and which requires the least use of energy. The posture that permits freedom of body movement with a minimal use of energy and which best suits the individual in accordance with his own condition and the condition of his environment — the experts say that that is what can be considered to be normal posture.

The Sunday shopping law

There is an ordinance on the books of our community that prohibits supermarkets from opening on Sundays. The motive behind the legislation was to protect the interests of the small neighborhood merchants. The idea had much merit at the time of its consideration.

However, times and conditions have changed. Supermarkets all around us — Newark, Bloomfield, Nutley and Kearny — may remain open on Sundays — but in Belleville the answer is "No."

Belleville now has two major supermarkets — Grand Union to the east on the banks of the Passaic River and Pathmark to the southwest at the Bloomfield-Newark boundary. With today's cost of living requiring both spouses in the ordinary family to be gainfully employed, most of the family shopping is done on Saturday and Sunday.

If Belleville does not catch up with the seventh decade of the twentieth century, it will perpetuate a fraud upon the local merchant — for in the final analysis Belleville residents who must shop on Sunday — will.

The changes in lifestyles and shopping habits of Belleville's residents simply drain off the community's purchasing power for the benefit of out-of-town merchants. And this is not all. Suffering the consequences silently are the Belleville supermarkets that pay substantial taxes to the town.

Another oddity of the Sunday closing law permits drug stores to remain open — and what do you think is happening today? Next to the Grand Union on Main Street is a large drug store which advertises Sunday opening and also advertises the sale of fertilizer and other non-drug related items. This drug store has become a General Store.

The ordinance requiring supermarkets to close Sundays, while conceived with the noblest intentions, needs updating.

Practical considerations should lead our Town Commission to repeal the prohibition against Sunday opening.

Byrne Appoints Ricci

Last week Governor Brendan Byrne appointed the Acting Director of the Department of Environmental Protection to the permanent post of Director.

We have known Rocco Ricci since the first day he entered state government as Assistant to the former Department of Environmental Protection Director, David Bardin. Ricci is a professional without peers. He is esteemed and respected by leaders of private industry, as well as career public employees. Rocco Ricci was the best possible choice Brendan Byrne could make to head up the vitally important Department of Environmental Protection.

Ricci's appointment to the post underscores the high quality of Brendan Byrne's appointments. In seeking the best for New Jersey, Brendan Byrne has searched the entire country to seek the best talent to fill cabinet posts. Some Byrne critics have asked, "Don't we have qualified people in New Jersey?" Of course we do. But when one wants the best of anything, why limit the search to state boundaries? For example, the best heart doctor is not to be found in New Jersey. The best scientist is not to be found in New Jersey. The best educator is not to be found in New Jersey. The best water expert is not to be found in New Jersey. Why settle for a highly qualified state resident when the best is available out of state at the same price?

Among the credits that the Brendan Byrne administration has accumulated over the past three and one-half years is the acknowledged fact that Governor Byrne has gone to extremes to obtain the best talent to serve in his cabinet. The appointment of Rocco Ricci is a classic example of Governor Byrne setting his high political considerations in making a decision in the best interest of New Jersey residents.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Congratulations from the column to one of Belleville's finest citizens upon his induction into the Labor Hall of Fame. Former Assemblyman Joseph Biancardi, president of Teamsters Local 97 in Newark, and publisher of another local newspaper was chosen by the Newark Community Action Team on his effort to strengthen the labor movement throughout New Jersey.

Both Mr. Biancardi and his lovely wife are renowned for their generous philanthropic work. Mr. Biancardi has been a very visible and considerable clout in political circles and often plays an instrumental role in the outcome of many an election.

A large group of over 350 were present at the induction ceremonies at which Mr. Biancardi was presented with certificates by Paul Jordan, Mayor of Jersey City, and Bi-state Waterfront Commissioner Ralph DeRose, both candidates for Governor in this year's election, at the Terrace Ballroom in Newark.

An aroused, indignant, sizeable group of home owners in the vicinity of the High School aren't too happy about the indifference being shown by our Commissioners over their demand for action, in what they claim is a prolonged zoning violation whereby a one-family zoned structure is being used as a two-family dwelling. They contend the violation has been confirmed by local town officials and are complaining because no legal action has yet been taken to correct the alleged abuse. The irate citizens threaten to go to the prosecutor if action isn't soon forthcoming.

In a telephone interview with Chris Albanese, Vice-President and advisor of the Citizens Tax Union, this column was advised the taxpayer's group took sharp issue with a recently published statement by Belleville Finance Director, Joseph McGreevy, which claimed the 22 point County tax rate assessed against Belleville could be attributed to the tax union's strong opposition to the revaluation of town properties.

Albanese charged that McGreevy was trying to duck the real issues and the fact that he lacked the influence, as town Finance Director, to convince his Commission colleagues of the need for such a revaluation, until all alternative proposals of a less costly acceptable revaluation could be undertaken.

Albanese stressed that his group had offered the proposal that the local tax assessor's office, which is under Commissioner McGreevy, engage the services of a few qualified appraisers and conduct their own overall revaluation which is in conformity with law. It would be less expensive and conducted under the guidance and supervision of our own local tax assessor, thus obviating any expensive contracts with outside revaluation firms, which had been the practice in recent years and resulted in the reduction of the function of the Assessor's office to that of a perfunctory role.

Cautiously reminding McGreevy that it is he and his Board colleagues who govern the affairs of the Town of Belleville and who must make the ultimate decisions that affect the destinies of our town, Albanese sniped, "Since it is apparent that McGreevy failed to have been sufficiently able to persuade his colleagues to pursue his recommendations or counsel, it is obvious that the onus of any responsibility for the 22 point County tax assessed against Belleville rests, not with the Citizens Tax Union whose suggestions were ignored, but rightly devolves upon Finance Director McGreevy and his Commission colleagues."

In a parting shot Albanese stated the 10 points the Commissioners did cut from the budget came only from a $500,000 state windfall they didn't expect and that little relief was given the taxpayers, that their budget maneuvering will only result in a bigger surplus buildup designed to artificially reduce taxes in forthcoming election years. He stressed that without the State aid given them this year the town would be bankrupt and expressed fears over what might happen in the event such outside aid is no longer forthcoming.

Letters

Dog litter committee formed

To the Editor:

Little did we, the undersigned, ever imagine that a committee on dog litter would have to be formed.

Despite signs, ordinances, and threats of fines, the solid wastes of dogs have continued to mount, especially around School Eight and the health threat to our children remains a very real problem.

Since we feel the pet owner, and not the dog, is to blame, we are attempting to reach all pet owners in Belleville and offer solutions that must involve everyone. The inevitable disposal of these wastes cannot be ignored and the problem will not disappear unaided.

Some have been able to paper train their dogs at home or in the yard. The easiest solution is to take newspaper and a paper bag with you whenever you take your pet for its walk. Either place the paper under the dog when they are ready to evacuate or remove the waste after evacuation. Place in the paper bag and deposit in the outside trash upon returning home.

This whole procedure is not as difficult or disgusting as it may appear. It is just another part of the pet's care and responsibility that has been too long ignored. The paper and bag must be made an essential part of the walk and as necessary as the leash whenever leaving the house.

An alarming fact is that diseased solid wastes of dogs are not destroyed by cold, heat or rain, staying active for years to infect children or animals. This was highlighted last year on the TV program "60 Minutes."

What is the answer? Pogo puts it best, "We have met the enemy, and they is us." Each pet owner must become responsible for their own dog's wastes.

We are hoping for more suggestions on how to further publicize the paper and bag method. Future plans are to hand out this information at our rabies clinic. Perhaps we can contact our veterinarians to spread the word. Any other suggestions?

Thank you,
Joan Holly

EDITOR'S JOURNAL

The telephone terrorists line

By JOSEPH RYAN

The telephone is a blunt instrument, akin to the weapon television police describe after finding someone knocked senseless. Calling people on the phone amounts to threatening them with a fire poker or candlestick unless they talk to you.

Who would walk into a friend's house at dinnertime and shout, "answer me" yet still expect a civil reply? A phone performs the same function, it rings without regard to occasion until answered. No one responds to the caller, it's the phone that's answered.

I admit I'm in the wrong business to consider the telephone a blunt instrument. There are enough phones in the office here to ring with quadrophonic intensity, but I, too, intrude daily on the lives of unsuspecting citizens by announcing myself with a loud ring.

Since phones are blunt instruments, they should be treated as weapons and regulated as such. Calling-up privileges should only be extended to responsible citizens. A connected line should never be extended to children under five, and let's be thankful the Marines have never been issued phones for weapons training.

One group that should lose dialing rights consists of the underground network of telephone terrorists currently loose in society. These secret bands use guerrilla tactics to get their kicks over trunk lines. They strike unannounced and demand payments for magazines, insurance, storm windows and light bulbs.

Just recently I was a victim of such an organization. After a long night of work on the paper, I had accumulated well over three hours sleep when the phone rang, and I, the Pavlovian pupil of Ma Bell, responded. A woman's voice told my right ear her name was Tania, and she belonged to the Welcome Corps, which wanted to send me a gift package for moving into Belleville.

"Are you selling magazines?" I asked. Tania realized her cover was blown and moved-in for the kill. Her gift package amounted to demanding about $70 for two years worth of two magazines. I hung-up and Tania has not returned the call or offered any gifts from the Welcome people since.

Phone solicitation companies, like Tania's, that use deception as part of the sales pitch are a modern blight. I suspect they are headed by the kind of people who sold snake oil to cure asthma and are so ashamed of their work they don't want to see you in person.

Once I actually did see one of these telephone guerrillas. He had announced himself on the phone with, "bet you don't know who this is, do ya?" I made a fool of myself by assuming it was an old friend and agreed to meet the salesman out of guilt to discuss my financial future.

The rendezvous was in a dark entranceway of LaSalle College. The phone guerrilla wouldn't step on campus and suggested we go to a near-by restaurant and gave the future salesman's description to college authorities. "He carried an attache case and was wearing a three-piece business suit, glasses, and a wax nose and moustache."

Rousing welcome —New Jersey Junior Miss, Susan Santiglia, is welcomed with open arms at Mobile's Municipal Airport on her arrival for the 1977 America's Junior Miss competition. Susan was named fourth runner-up in the 20th annual nationally televised pageant hosted by Michael Landon. Girls from the 50 states were shooting for a share of $75,000 in scholarship awards including a $15,000 scholarship which went to the winner.

A Mobile salute —Susan and Florida's Junior Miss, Venetia Green, help to fire a salute to Mother's Day with the assistance of Mayor Lambert Mims of Mobile, Alabama. The pair of contest participants were special guest at Fort Conde, a recently restored landmark on Mobile Bay.

Ship ahoy —The New Jersey Junior Miss is presented with a sailor's hat by Lauri Spotswood, Miss USS Alabama, as a special memento of her visit. Susan was later welcomed aboard the battleship USS Alabama for a tour and luncheon.

Engaging cake —Enthusiastically celebrating the 500th birthday of the diamond engagement ring tradition are six of the 12 winners of the Junior Miss Diamond L-sign contest. Each of the 12 Junior Misses was awarded a $300 scholarship for designing her "dream" engagement

Susan, along with the rest of the girls participating in the pageant, was kept busy most of her stay with rehearsals, appearances and interviews but did find some time to visit several Alabama Gulf Coast attractions including Bellingrath Gardens, Dauphin Island, the battleship "Alabama" and Fort Conde.

During the televised interview section of the contest the Belleville High senior, who plans to study criminal law at Seton Hall University this fall, was asked her opinion of the American system of government which states a man is innocent until proven guilty.

"It was just a coincidence," stated Susan. "I picked the question at random right out of Michael Landon's hand the master of ceremonies for the affair.

The Jersey Junior Miss explained the hour went by very fast. "We had only 30 seconds to change from one outfit to the other," stated Susan. When it came time for the grand finale and announce the winner the Belleville she admits she was thinking more of whether her clothes were on straight than of who was going to win.

In the performing section of the show Susan performed the Musetta Waltz from the La Boheme opera by Puccini.

Monday's program was the culmination of a long journey which began when Susan first was crowned the Essex County Junior Miss on December 5 in Nutley High School.

Negatives and positives

Helen's thing

by Helen Maguire

NOBODY has ever sent me a telegram beginning, "Congratulations, Mrs. Maguire. You have just won the Irish Sweepstakes or the top prize in the lottery or $10,000 for your recipe for tamarind, date and rhubarb casserole." Never have I rubbed off those mysterious little squares on a ticket and found three of anything matching with the exception of 2 free tickets; $3 or once and only once, $6. The big prizes it seems are meant for others, never me.

NOBODY has ever, even suggested that I enter a beauty contest and I would think anyone who did so demented in more ways than one. The Flagg nose combined with the Shaw chin do not belong on candidates for Miss America, Miss U.S.A. or Miss anything else. I've thanked the powers that be many times that the kids look like their father.

NOBODY has ever come in the door and said, "Gee, Helen, you look like two weeks in Hawaii would do you a world of good. Here's the airline tickets, money for the hotel and sightseeing and a few hundred extra to spend on clothes. Don't worry about the kids. I'll take care of them, scrub the house while I'm at it and get caught up on everything you've put off doing for too long. Au revoir and have a lhas ever wanted to know why I don't sing in the choir in church, feeling that my dulcet tones would add to the quality of the music. However, nobody has requested that I keep silent either and I guess that's something to be thankful for.

BUT SOMEBODY wrote a story in school about his mom who cooked the food and took care of the children and did things with them and whom he loved, even if she did have "a little bit of a pointy nose".

AND SOMEBODY sent me a valentine that said, "Mom, you're cool!" And somebody picked the first dandelions and brought them home with a big grin on her face as a bouquet for mama.

AND SOMEBODY six feet tall with white hair sent me yellow roses everytime a baby was born and cheers me up when I'm depressed and copes when I'm incapable of coping and has set an example of courage that his children would do well to emulate.

AND THAT is enough. I don't need the rest.

New Jersey movie industry topic of Paul Spehr book

"The Movies Begin: Making Movies in New Jersey 1887-1920" has been published by The Newark Museum under a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Charles Edison Foundation.

The 172-page book was written by Paul C. Spehr, film specialist at the Library of Congress, who was consultant to The Newark Museum's recent Bicentennial exhibition on the same subject.

Many movie fans, Spehr notes, are unaware that from 1887 to 1920

New Jersey was the movie capital of the world, production location of many of the most famous silent films. The book is a result of two years of research in New Jersey and film archives across the nation.

Theda Bara and director D. W. Griffith formed the basis of the New Jersey film industry.

The book brings together information — much of it previously lost or forgotten — about the technical development of movie film and equipment by Edison and others, the early production of movies in New Loos, Mack Sennett, Rudolph Jersey, and the stars, directors and Valentino, Lionel Barrymore, vamp studios.

People as diverse as Thomas A. Edison, Pearl White (the original Pauline), Mary Pickford, Anite Loos, Mack Sennett, Rudolph Jersey, and the stars, directors and Valentino, Lionel Barrymore, vamp studios.

BHS offers cycle course

By JULIE SISTA

"BHS is one of four New Jersey high schools which will offer motorcycle safety education this summer," said Nick Grand, CIE Coordinator, project director and certified instructor.

Motorcycle Safety Education, open to both males and females, is a federally funded project sponsored by the office of highway safety. BHS has been given a $9,000 grant.

Motorcycles are provided to certified schools through the dealer-loan program. Neighboring leading motorcycle dealers supply this program with Honda, Yamaha, Suzuki, Harley Davidson and Kawasaki motorcycles.

Forty students have enrolled in this trail program and will be taught motorcycle safety through text books, films, and range skills in which they will ride around, in, and through various obstacles and street riding.

"I feel it's a good program, because it's more efficient and safe. A motorcycle gets about 40 mpg. and due to our fuel crisis, many people have turned to motorcycles. The concept of motorcycle driving has changed a great deal. Motorcycle riding is very popular with families, too. Safety is the best thing obtained from this project, though. New drivers have more accidents during the first 6 months than in succeeding months. Some people just get on a motorcycle and don't know the first thing about it. With this new program, they can learn the safety rules and hopefully prevent more accidents."

The Newark Police Motorcycle Team will put on a demonstration to show what this program can accomplish. This may have national media coverage.

When a student completes the Motorcycle Safety Education Program, he will be given proof of completion, and this certificate may serve as a means of insurance reduction. This will also hopefully help one obtain a license.

Prom styles take elegant approach

By JOANNE SANTIGLIA

The junior prom which was held on April 13 at the West Orange Manor has once again come and gone.

Some noticeable changes have occurred in regard to "prom styles." All fashions seem to be taking a more classic, elegant approach. The days of the frilly "promy" gowns seems to have given way to a style simpler in nature. More chiana dresses were seen than chiffon and there were some elegant off the shoulder gowns.

Tuxedo styles also have become more subtle. Men seem to prefer the newer earthy colors to the older velveteen flashy look. White tails have become a popular look and were quite complimentary to the girls' gowns.

Opinions on the success of the prom are far from concurring. On the average, most participants gave an overall positive reaction to the prom.

Junior Tony Yochum said, "I found the evening most enjoyable. The food left something to be desired, but the general atmosphere more than compensated."

Many students found the Manor's atmosphere to be quite impressive and awesome. As Arthur Masi, a senior, commented, "I think the Manor is gorgeous. A better place could not have been chosen. The band was unsurpassed, and the food was great."

Others, however, were not adequately impressed by the atmosphere of the Manor. As one student said, "I found the atmosphere to be little more than pure ostentation. Garishness usually does not sufficiently compensate for any inadequacies."

Others felt that all the elements of the evening balanced out to provide most everyone with a good time. As one student said, "The prom was very enjoyable, and the evening turned out to be quite pleasurable. The food and service were good, but not much can be said for the band. The evening could be summed up to be very elegant."

Vecchione said, "I suggested in my essay that the material (denim) should be heavier and of better quality. A dressier, tailored style could be incorporated into different sizes. This making for neater fitting pants. Instead of the regular stitching, there can be an assortment of colors to coordinate different shirts. Belt loops should be of variable sizes because and deepened so that they are easily accessible to wallets, keys, etc."

An article, announcing the winners, appeared in the March 24 issue of Voice.

Two months ago, Vecchione was introduced to this contest in Robert McDonald's English class. "It was a class assignment. We were all required to write an essay on our improvements of jeans. Mr. McDonald entered our compositions into this national contest, and my essay received an honorable mention."

Also, Phyllis Sabatino, Barbara Santasieri, Joseph Savastano, Janet Spinelli, Wanda Thompson, Rosemary Tuocione, Carol Vecchione, Irini Vecchos, Susan Vocaturo, Kathy Ward, and David White.

The new juniors members are as follows: Michele Botitta, Camille Bucciarelli, Ann Calabrese, Susan Carissimo, Patricia Connolly, John Cordaro, Cynthia Coros, Steven Cosentino, Corrie Costa, Annette Cozzarelli, Mary Ann DuCuzo, Paul Donahue, Marjorie Dopart, Michele Giordano, Toni Ann Giordano.

Also, Lisa Hart, Lisa Hayes, Judith Iacullo, Edmund Lijo, Anthony Longo, Sharon Marotti, Louise McO, Donna Mundy, Gina Nicolette, Lisa Parrillo, Joanne Santiglia, Lisa Siniscal, June Snyder, Mauro Tucci, Kevin Waters, Theodore Zangari, and Donna Zarra.

A brief reception was held April 26 at 7:00 in the BHS cafeteria for all members and parents of the new members.

Medha Chitnis plans to study medicine

By STEVE MISSAGGIA

Could one imagine having his parents arranging his marriage? Medha Chitnis, a senior at BHS, grew up in India where this is a tradition.

Medha Chitnis was born in Wai, India, on March 25, 1959. Shortly after her birth, her family moved to Bombay, where Medha attended grammar school through fifth grade. Bombay is a big city, much like New York.

Medha explained that in India there is no dating system, and the parents arrange the marriages of their children. India is a democratic nation, and women are now gaining freedom and equality in all fields.

When Medha was 11-years old, she moved to Long Island, New York, with her family. In one year, her family moved to Belleville, where Medha attended Belleville Junior High School.

A big adjustment for her was that she did not know the English language, although in Bombay grammar school she was taught basic English language. In a short time, she learned the language and made many friends, which made things much easier.

Medha explains "School in Bombay was stricter, and here was a great deal of discipline, also, all the students had to wear uniforms."

Columbia University in New Essex CYO now accepting applications for day camp.

The Essex County CYO is now accepting applications from boys and girls aged 7 to 13 for both four or eight weeks at the CYO Day Camp in Oakland this summer.

Campers who register for the full season will attend the camp from Monday, June 27, through Friday, August 19. Registration fee for the entire eight weeks is $295 per child.

York has notified Medha of her acceptance where she intends to study pre-medicine. Her goal is to become a pediatrician. Medha's reasons for this field are as she said, "In my family, there have been a long line of doctors. I enjoy science, and I would like to help people."

In her spare time, she enjoys playing tennis, playing the guitar, and performing Indian dances.

Her religion is Hindu. Hinduism has a belief in many gods. There is a God of Wisdom, God of Money, etc.

Medha lives with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Sitaram Chitnis, and her brother, Nitin. Dr. Sitaram Chitnis is a gynecologist on the staff at Columbia University in New York.

Medha has made a successful adjustment to the United States. She says, "In the future, I would like to travel around the world and see everything that I possibly can."

Diamond club pins Panthers with loss

By MIKE COREY

The Blue-Gold diamonders, main- tained at the top of the Big Ten and took the opening round of the Greater Newark Tournament as the Belleville baseball squad began play in the final month of the regular season.

Last Tuesday the Bellboys were blanked, 2-0, by Montclair at home and defeated East Orange, 12-6, in an away match Friday before overcoming West Orange, 6-3, in tourney action.

Belleville was slated to meet Columbia on the Cougar's field Tuesday but results were in too late for this edition.

Tomorrow the Blue-Gold tangle with Bloomfield at home in a matinee performance set for 3:45 p.m. in the season the Bellboys, behind the pitching of John Clarizio, shutout the Bengals, 1-0.

Belleville is scheduled to play the winner of the Verona-Barringer game in the second round of the one loss elimination tournament, but dates and times have not been finalized.

"Last week we really came out of our hitting slump after the Montclair game and started to attack the ball," said Bellboy coach Ralph LaConte. "The team is just about over the initial transition stage and it is just a matter of maintaining the winning streak." George Zanfoni, regular varsity coach, is still sidelined with a slight case of hepatitis.

The Bellboys pulled out ahead in the third inning of Saturday's contest with two runs. Centerfielder Anthony Speer started off the scoring by drawing a walk. Catcher Mickey Limongelli singled after two were down and Pat Nufrio led the bases when he wheeled a base on balls.

Right handed hurler, John Clarizio, aided his own cause with a timely single scoring a pair of runners and giving Belleville the early, 2-0, advantage.

The Blue-Gold widened its lead with two more in the fifth. Nufrio singled, stole second and advanced to third on Clarizio's second hit of the game.

The Belleville pitcher promptly stole second settling the scenario for sophomore first baseman Joe Franceschini to collect two ribbies with a two bagger. Franceschini was moved up from the jayvee squad when regular first baseman Doug Stone separated a shoulder in gym class. He is expected to be out the remainder of the season.

West Orange bounced back with three runs in the fifth frame. Catcher John Nigara reached first on a Belleville fielding miscue and Richie Webber and Terry Rucker both walked to fill the bags.

'Excalibur' gains

The Belleville varsity eight oared the Nutley octo-boat, on the Passaic River Saturday, to capture the first half of the Goodwill Regatta.

The Maroon made turnaround fair play by taking the four man shell competition later in the afternoon.

The Blue-Gold rowers travel to Poughkeepsie Saturday to defend their championship of last year in the Poughkeepsie Regatta. Qualifying heats are scheduled to get underway at 10 a.m. with the finals set for the second part of the day.

"We are naturally very pleased with the team's performance in the eight shell on Saturday," said Belleville crew coach Sam Giuffrida. "We've been improving steadily since the loss last week and are looking forward to competing at Poughkeepsie and defending our championship."

Last weekend's defeat to Poughkeepsie, the first ever for the varsity in the "Excalibur" shell, may have been a blessing in disguise.

"I think we grew up a lot in that race and attained the maturity we need and had been lacking," stated the coach.

The Bellboy eight showed both maturity and conditioning by handily outdistancing the Raider rowers by 14 seconds last Saturday. The Blue-Gold opened up a lead from the start and methodically widened the gap between the boats as the race unfolded.

"We raced our type of race," stated the coach. "We came out strong in the first quarter mile and took the lead right at the beginning. In the third quarter mile we really opened up, rowing 33 to 34 strokes exactly like we like to do."

The varsity four mile saw the lead saw back and forth throughout the race until the Maroon was able to slip ahead in the stretch and win the competition by eight tenths of a second.

Streaking Bellgirls take third in row

A pair of late inning rallies highlighted last week's Bellgirl softball action and helped qualify the club for the state tournament set for later this month.

Times, dates and opponents for the tourney have not yet been announced.

The Blue-Gold squad (6-5) engineered its longest winning streak of the season, three games, beating Montclair, last Tuesday, 11-8, in extra innings and nipping East Orange Friday, 3-2, at home with a run in the bottom half of the final frame.

The Bellgirls were slated to face

Columbia at home Tuesday and East Orange Catholic yesterday but results of both matinee meetings were in too late to make this edition.

The local female nine met Bloomfield in Bengal territory tomorrow afternoon and travel to Irvington for a 3:45 p.m. matchup on Tuesday.

Belleville receiver, Champ Hochstahl delivered the deciding blow in the last of the seventh inning Friday to give the Blue-Gold the 3-2 victory over East Orange.

Denise Juliano had opened the frame with a double over the centerfielder's head to set the stage for the dramatic finale. With one down the Blue-Gold catcher placed a single down the right field line knocking in the winning run delighting the partisan crowd.

East Orange lost an opportunity to take the lead in the top half of the seventh but a mistake on the base paths proved costly. The Panther baserunner left third base too soon attempting to tag up and score on a fly out to center.

The visitors took the early lead in the contest, twice interrupted by rain, with solo runs in the second and fourth innings but the Bellgirls, after being held to only one hit over their first three at bats, tied the score, 2-2, in the fourth.

Belleville was able to get on the score board with two walks and a pair of singles.

Blue-Gold underhanders, Tracy Morrison, evened her mound record at 2-2 by striking out seven Panthers and walking two.

Color guard completes first year of competition

"Los Diablos," Belleville's newest color guard sponsored by the Belleville Jaycees, recently completed its initial season of competition posting a score of 81.05.

The guard, competing in a Class A Group in the Metropolitan All-American Association which included 30 different guards, averaged a first position in carriage and a second in military bearing.

The local unit participated in 18 shows during the season in New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts, capturing eight trophies and placing in the top eight in all its meets.

"Special thanks should go to guard instructor Joe Policastro, who has done such a superb job teaching and training this year's fine group of youngsters," said unit director Jack Ferreira. "We are looking forward to an even better season next year."

Anyone from age 10 to 20, interested in joining the Belleville group is invited to come to School Eight Tuesday night between 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

"We would also like to express our appreciation to both the people of Belleville and the neighboring communities who supported us throughout the year," stated Ferreira. "We would especially like to thank Fidelity Union, the new Grand Union and Peoples and DeWitt banks for their help."

Digging in Belleville hurler Conte concentrates on the pitcher's delivery during Friday's contest against East Orange. The Blue-Gold pulled the victory out in the bottom half of the seventh frame to put the club over the .500 mark.

Pitching in Belleville hurler Tracy Morrison serves one down the pike during Friday's game. The Bellgirl moundswoman went the distance and was credited with the 3-2 decision.

Pulling together

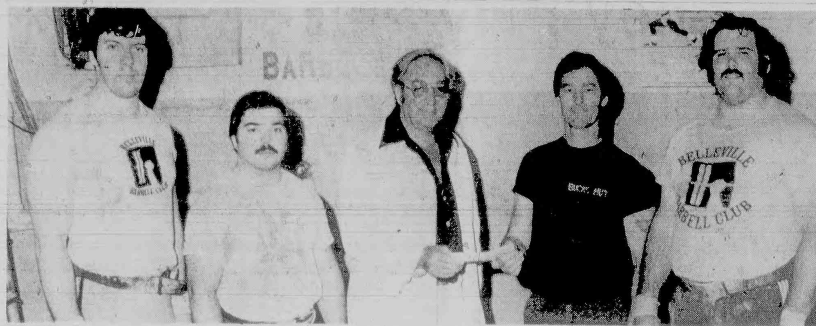

The Blue-Gold varsity eight shell show the form they used in gaining a 14 second win past Nutley in the Goodwill Regatta on the Passaic River Saturday.

Passaic-Clifton YMCA plans 'Karnival Kapers' for May 20

"Karnival Kapers" is the theme of the annual Passaic-Clifton YMCA Fair planned May 20 at the Y building, 114 Prospect St., Passaic. Activities will run from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

A variety of sales tables and booths will be open throughout the day with knick-knacks, flea market and food delicacies. Special entertainment highlights are scheduled throughout the day. Among them will be a "Kid's Karnival" for the "after school crowd" beginning at 3:30 p.m., a snack supper between 5 and 9 p.m., and a pool show at 6:30 p.m. and repeated at 7:30 p.m. Finally a "Variety Showcase of Talent" in the Y's large gymnasium is scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

Big lift — Belleville Kiwanis Club president, Vinnie Sorrentino presents Belleville Barbell Club coach Bucky Cairo with a check to help defray some of the cost of sending the organization's athletes to Wisconsin to compete in the United States National Weightlifting Championships scheduled for May 14-15. Kiwanis send lifters to Milwaukee contest

The Belleville Kiwanis is helping to send five members of the Belleville Barbell Club to Milwaukee, Wisconsin on May 14-15 to compete in the U.S. Junior National Weightlifting Championships. Kiwanis President Vinnie Sorrentino recently presented Barbell Club coach Bucky Cairo with a check to help defray some of the cost of sending the organization's athletes to Milwaukee. In addition, Kiwanis T-shirts and patches will be provided.

Tennis registration dates announced

Final registration dates to obtain an I. D. card to use the town tennis courts are Friday, May 13, from 7-9 p.m. and Saturday, May 14, 1-3 p.m. at the Belleville Recreation Department.

There is a minimum fee of $1.00 for the card and only those players bearing cards will be permitted to use the courts.

The bulk of the money in the travel fund was earned at the Belleville Kiwanis Open Weightlifting Championships held March 5 at Belleville high school. The Kiwanis, in cooperation with the Belleville Barbell Club, helped make the contest a huge success with nearly 100 lifters and some 400 paying spectators attending. All proceeds went into the travel fund.

Competing for Belleville in Milwaukee will be Wayne Guarino, 165 lb. class; Dave Stern, 181; Ray Lavender, 198; and Terry Manton and Bruce Klemens, both Superheavyweights. It should be pointed out that the Junior National Championship is not a teenage contest or in any way age-related. The word "Junior" merely indicates that the athletes have never won the Senior National Championships of the U.S. In the past two Belleville lifters have won Junior National titles. In 1966 Phil Gruppaldi was the 198 lb. winner, and last year Frank Falcigara took top honors in the 132 lb. class. The Club hopes to bring home some more first place trophies this year.

Trackwomen score points at Kearny

"Generally all the girls improved in Kearny," stated the Blue-Gold coach. "The beautiful condition of the track along with the high quality of runners competing was largely responsible for the individual improvement of our team."

Susan Kosturko took a fourth place in the mile run with a 5:51 giving the club two points and Melinda Amarosi snared a fifth with a discuss toss of 69 feet one inch.

Sue Smith posted her best time ever in the 880 yard run with a 2:30 good enough for a third place in that event.

Against Vailsburg Thursday, sophomore Anna Maria Fredericks took a second with a 13.4, her best time, in the 100 yard dash and Sue Kosturko nailed down miler honors with a 6:06 followed by Linda Mallon with a 6:39. Mallon's time was more than 30 seconds better than her previous time.

Mary Connelly finished second in the two mile race posting a 13:37 and Sue Smith won the 880 event with a 2:37.

Girls eye tourney play

"We played great defense throughout the ballgame," said Belleville coach Eve Lautenschlager. "We just weren't hitting the ball with as much authority as we would have liked."

In the first meeting between the two clubs there was considerably more firepower with the Bellgirls outlasting the Panthers 13-12.

The great defensive play alluded to by coach Lautenschlager came in the form of two running catches by centerfielder Joanne Conte and a diving snare of a line drive by short stop Toni Spertuto who after making the play threw to first from a sitting position to double off the East Orange runner who had taken off toward second with the crack of the bat.

The Bellgirls shifted into second gear with the first of the week's clutch performances, scoring three runs in the eighth inning. Jay Timoney led with an 11-3 victory over Montclair.

Belleville scored a pair of runs right off the bat, so to speak, in the first inning when a Mountie error plus back to back doubles by Spertuto and Conte produced the offense.

Montclair got the run back and a little more in the home half of the initial frame scoring three runs on four hits.

Lydia D'Amato capped off a six run Bellgirl offensive outburst in the third with a grand slam to tilt the advantage once more in favor of the Blue-Gold.

Spertuto led off the frame with a single. Denise Zarra walked and Denise Juliano singled home one run. Conte was issued an intentional pass, to set up a play at any base but D'Amato spoiled the strategy with her bases clearing shot over the Mountie centerfielder's head.

Singles by Dolores Polidino, DeMayo and Morrison rounded out the scoring in the inning.

The Montclair girls battled back to deadlock the contest at 8-8 with one run in the fifth, two in the sixth and two in the seventh setting up the Bellgirls extra inning heroics.

A Mountie error together with a pair of safeties by Spertuto and Zarra produced the three runs in the overtime frame which put Belleville ahead.

"We hit well against Montclair," stated coach Lautenschlager summing up the day's play. "But we made a few mistakes which could have cost us."

Tracy Morrison started for the Blue-Gold and went six innings before being relieved by Phyllis Longo in the seventh.

Put out Belleville second baseman Toni Spertuto prepares to take the throw from catcher Champ Hochstuhl and slap a tag on the East Orange baserunner attempting to steal during Friday's action.

Summer job applications now available

The Essex County Board of Freeholders has been allocated $1,106,000 for operation of the Summer Program for Economically Disadvantaged Youth under the Federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act. Freeholder Director Donald M. Payne announced today.

The 1977 funding, compared with $746,000 allocated for 1976, will permit employment of 1800 young people for the eight-week period starting July 5, during which the program will operate. Participants will work a 25-hour week, and receive the state minimum wage of $2.50 per hour. The program is open to persons aged 14 to 21, living in Essex County, outside the city of Newark, who live in families that meet the federal "poverty" income guidelines approximately $5500 per year for a family of four.

Applications are being distributed through municipal government offices in each of the 21 Essex municipalities. Applications, to be considered, must be returned before May 27. Screening and eligibility determinations will be made by the CETA staff, and youngsters will be notified of their eligibility during the early weeks in June.

Bellboys battle Bengals Friday

The home team right fielder Glenn Paladino gained an RBI when he was hit by a pitch and Mike Marcantonio drove in two more with a single to close out the West Orange scoring for the day.

The Blue-Gold scored two more times in the seventh when Nufrio walked, stole second and third, and after Jerry Fazzini walked and also stole second, Frank Biafore doubled.

Weekend tennis classic coming up in Morristown

Tennis stars Arthur Ashe, Bob Lutz, Fred McNeil and Stan Smith are not the only champions to play at the "Showdown at Morristown" tennis tournament tomorrow and Saturday. Basketball star Bill Bradley also will be battling on the court.

Bradley will play in the pre-celebrity match slated Saturday night. He ended his 10-season association with the Knicks April 10 when the New York team finished their season with a 144-126 victory over the Detroit Pistons.

"Showdown at Morristown" marks the second annual classic and offers $40,000 in prize money. Sponsored by Morsan's sporting goods stores, the competition will be held in the 3,500-seat William G. Mennen Sports Arena in Morristown. Sessions are scheduled tomorrow at 7 p.m. and Saturday at 12:30 and 7 p.m.

Belleville enjoyed its biggest inning of the year against East Orange Friday, scoring nine runs in the second inning and sending 16 men to the plate.

In the explosive frame Fazzini had two hits including his first homerun on the varsity level to go along with three RBIs and a stolen base. Pat Nufrio had two hits plus a stolen base and Scott Ochse also had a pair of safeties. Chris Cervasio, Limongelli and Biafore each had base hits in the inning as well.

The Panthers scored a run of their own in the second when three walks loaded the bases and Ken Daniels stole home from third.

Belleville got the run back quickly in the third when Speer laid down a bunt single, stole second and came around to score on a base hit by Limongelli.

East Orange rebounded with three in the third to narrow the Bellboy lead to 11-4. A lead off walk and a home run accounted for the first two runs of the frame and Daniels was in the midst of the action again, drawing a walk, stealing second and third and jogging home on a base hit.

F.O. scored another run in the fourth on three walks and a single by Daniels and added one more in the sixth on a Bellboy error and two fielder's choice plays together with some heads up Panther base running.

Belleville scored its final run in the fifth on a triple by Speer and a single by Limongelli. The Blue-Gold catcher was three for four on the day and knocked in four runs.

Southpaw Danny Borgo was credited with the win. He pitched four innings, struck out eight and walked eight uping his season record to 5-1. He was relieved by Dean Campana in the fifth who preserved the victory.

Mike Welsh, coach of the Belleville Bruins and a substitute teacher at the High School, has taken over the reins of the Blue-Gold jayvee club during coach Zanfini's illness. The junior varsity squad is riding the tide of a seven game winning streak.

Little Leaguers Belleville's Little League season officially opened Saturday with the traditional parade and accompanying first day ceremonies.

Legion tryouts set for Nutley Saturday

Nutley American Legion tryouts for both Belleville and Nutley athletes are scheduled for this Saturday at Monsignor Owens Park on Park Avenue in Nutley, at 2 p.m.

Any athlete not celebrating his birthday before August 1 and interested in trying out for the Nutley squad is asked to contact coach Al

Gargulo at 235-1667 or team manager Sig Bogdanowicz at 235-1242.

Due to a financial crunch Belleville will not field an American Legion team. Belleville players are eligible to compete on Nutley, Bloomfield or North Newark squads this summer.

"Nutley out-finessed us," said Giuffrida. "Our four man was rowing like an eight man shell and we were understroking." Down the stretch the Bellboy boaters lost the balance in the shell and the Maroon was able to spurt by and across the finish line ahead of the Bellboy boat. The Belleville four man oarsmen had a better day of it than the varsity small boat by out racing Kearny.

The Bellboys will compete in only the eight shell in this Saturday's Regatta.

"Barefoot in the Park" opens Friday in Nutley.

Neil Simon's Broadway hit "Barefoot in the Park" will be revived on stage tomorrow night at the Family Playhouse, 28 Brookline Avenue, Nutley. The comedy will be presented on Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. and on Sundays at 3 p.m. until May 29.

"Barefoot" has been considered one of Simon's best comedies, other works by the playwright include: "The Odd Couple," "Last of the Red Hot Lovers," "The Prisoner of Second Avenue," and "Plaza Suite."

"Barefoot in the Park" concerns the comic trials and errors of newlyweds who have moved into a walk-up apartment that isn't exactly house beautiful. The paint job is wrong, there is a hole in the skylight, and the bedroom is too small for a double bed.

The events resulting from the Spartan apartment choice keep the laugh lines coming from lawyer Paul Bratter and his zany wife Corie.

The "Barefoot" cast features six performers, Rose Zeim, Lyndhurst, will be seen as Corie. Ms. Zeim was last seen at Family Playhouse in "Scapino." She is a theatre major at Fairleigh Dickinson University.
