Town Hall offers Trustees $458,000

By JOSEPH RYAN

Belleville Commissioners decided at a caucus session Tuesday night to offer the Board of Education a $458,000 share of the Public Works funds granted the Town earlier this month.

A Trustee meeting has been scheduled for tonight to give Board Members an opportunity to formally accept the offer from Town Hall which represents a third of the $1.3 million windfall from Washington. Town Commissioners and School Board Members will then have until July 14 to prepare their application for construction projects to the Economic Development Administration in Philadelphia.

The School Board construction project was included in the Town's priority list after Commissioners decided to drop a proposed expansion of the library from the application for funding. The $1,374,000 offered through the Public Works bill will be split between the costs of building a new firehouse, repairing local water pipeline systems, and the Trustees' project to expand Belleville High School.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. John

Greed called the share offered by Town Hall, "the best news the schools have had in 20 years." Dr. Greed added, "I commend the Commissioners for having the foresight in assigning a priority to the schools and I think it's something the entire community should share with joy."

Board President Caesar Romano called the Commissioners decision "a magnanimous gesture" and said he expected the Trustees would accept the offer tonight. Board Members James Risoli, Michael Chieffo, and Ralph Risoli all indicated Tuesday they would accept the Commissioners offer.

After Mayor Marotti phoned the Commissioners' offer to Board President Romano he said he was pleased the Trustees indicated the share would be accepted. "At least this way we're getting something, we're getting something started," Mayor Marotti said.

Essex superintendent requests equality plan

Superintendent of Essex County Schools, Dr. Harold White met with members of the Belleville Board of Education Tuesday night to discuss the district's delayed desegregation plan for the system.

The closed door session with the Trustees resulted, according to Board President Caesar Romano, in a request for the district to develop an "equal education opportunity plan" that will encompass the future growth of the community or any reduction.

Romano said the Trustees never specifically discussed any desegregation plans for School One with Dr. White. The Board President added the requested plan is to provide for "every possible contingency" economically, demographically, and educationally.

Dr. John Greed, superintendent of Belleville schools, said the County superintendent is looking for assurances from the Trustees that minority students are not "being shortchanged in any way."

President Romano said the full Board of Education will meet in the future to discuss implementation of Dr. White's requests.

Monday night the School Board purchased a 12-foot extension for the Clearman Field fence by Union Avenue. The extension will bring the height of the wire to 30-feet and is intended to prevent softballs from being hit over the fence onto neighboring property.

Union Avenue residents Cindy Cammarato and Mrs. Benjamin Dominguez complained to the Trustees the PBA police league played a game there last Sunday after the Board restricted adults from playing on the field.

County Miss

Karen Ann Notare, a Belleville resident, displays both her crown and trophy awarded her for being chosen Miss Essex County last month in the first step to the Miss America crown. The 20-year-old Franklin Street resident journeys to Cherry Hill next week to compete in the state finals.

Homicide

Belleville police dust for fingerprints in the car in which the body of a 31-year old Newark woman, apparently shot to death, was found Tuesday morning. According to authorities the victim had been dead for more than seven hours before the body was discovered.

Newark woman found dead in parked car

The body of a 31-year-old Newark woman, apparently shot to death, was found slumped in the front seat of a parked car along Academy Street Tuesday morning Belleville police said.

The woman, identified by police as Rita Alexis, 351 Broad Street, Newark, was pronounced dead by Dr. James Cozzarelli at 10:45 a.m. Tuesday but according to authorities had died approximately nine hours earlier.

According to witnesses at the scene the woman was discovered by two youngsters who passed the parked car while delivering magazines about 9:55 a.m. They summoned a nearby patrolman when they became suspicious of the condition of the victim when they walked by the auto.

"The woman, a black female, had several bullet wounds in her body," Belleville Deputy Police Chief Frank Haight stated.

The make and model of the car in which the victim was found, a white Cordoba, was being traced back to its owner as this edition went to press.

Investigating the case are Belleville police captain Ermin Oliveri and Belleville detectives Michael Petrillo, Salvatore Lo Coco and Thomas Ricci along with detective Fred Reitzel of the Essex County prosecutor's office.

Belleville's Miss Essex competes in state contest

By MIKE COREY

Miss Essex-County of 1977, Karen Ann Notare, 162 Franklin Street, Belleville, is slated to compete in the New Jersey finals of the Miss America Pageant in Cherry Hill July 5-9.

The 20-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Notare won the Miss Essex County crown May 28 at Bloomfield High School also capturing the talent portion of the contest for her rendition of Puccini's opera "O Mio Babbino Caro."

"My neighbor downstairs, who I have known for almost 18 years; has always been after me to enter contests like this," said Karen. "This time, although I was working, I decided maybe I should enter this competition and do something to earn money for school."

A graduate of Villa Walsh Academy, an all girls high school in Morristown, the lifetime Belleville resident now attends the Manhattan School of Music in New York.

Villa Walsh's academic philosophy is based on Plato's idea of individual attention by teachers to students. Her graduating class only consisted of 13 girls and in fact the entire enrollment of the school was just 68 pupils.

Belleville's Miss Essex County originally intended to study languages which she has an aptitude for but she readily admits music is her first love and she has her sights set on an operatic career.

"Languages have always come easy for me," pointed out Karen. "And I believe it helps in my interpretation of the opera songs."

Karen was exposed to opera at a comparatively late in life. "My cousin took me to my first opera when I was about 14 years old," stated the county journey winner.

Karen will not be disappointed if she doesn't win next week's state pageant in Cherry Hill. "You have to try even if you don't win the fact that you try is an accomplishment in itself," states Karen. "There will always be people who are better than you."

Please see "Jersey" on page 10.

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

The Belleville Senior Citizens Club ran a bus ride to the Garden State Arts Center on Sunday to be entertained by some of the best talent available. The event was the Irish Festival and the members agreed that it was one of the best affairs that they have ever attended. The place was filled to overflowing, over 6,000 people, and the day long festivities were enjoyed by all. M and M Ciccarele were in charge and deserve credit for their accomplishment. Come to think of it, every scheduled event has been successful.

We are looking forward to the town sponsored trip to Asbury in July and the boat ride up the Hudson also in July. In August it will be a trip to the shore for "Salt Water Day" and later in the fall its off to Wildwood Crest for a 5 day sojourn. Notice to all Seniors of the Town of Belleville, sign up for the town sponsored trip to Asbury.

Congratulations to Nick Mauncele named Father of the Year at a seniors party at the Branch Brook Manor recently.

The Essex County Council of Senior Citizens Clubs changed the by-laws at the last meeting of the council to allow for thirteen members on the Board of Directors instead of the previously allowed eleven. The added two members were allowed to correct what was termed a geographical imbalance in that more representation was needed from Newark and other heavily populated areas. Reverend Henry A. Spellman of the Newark Office of Elderly Affairs and Mr. Theodore Thomas of the Emanuel Senior Organization were welcomed as new members of the board.

We are reminded by the Essex County Legal Services that some services are available to seniors free of charge. There never is a charge for advice and other legal aid may be obtained for a nominal fee. They can help with wills, civil problems and with filling out complicated forms. Seniors will do well to remember this available legal service. Sandra Dick is in charge of the Senior Services at 81 Main St., Orange.

Increases in Social Security benefits are due in the July checks, this increase is supposed to be in line with the national consumer price index. However, it does not portray a true picture for seniors. The Consumer Price Index takes in all goods purchased in the country including yachts, cars, new homes and other things that people of advanced age are not likely to buy.

Alarms will provide link to fire department

Board Member Michael Chieffo said he would take responsibility for the misunderstanding between the Board and the softball players on the availability of the field Sunday. Deputy Chief George Lister told the Trustees he would investigate the delay in the police department's enforcement of the Board ban after complaints were filed Sunday.

The Trustees also awarded Monday night a contract to Clover Contracting Company, Hoptacong, to furnish and install a fire alarm system for Schools One, Two, Four, Five, Seven, Eight, Nine, Ten, and the Junior High School. The $17,200 system will connect the schools directly to the local fire department. Both the high school and School Three currently have the system.

Board Member Lawrence Schwartz emphasized Monday the Trustees did not reject the Master Plan last week. He said the report will be studied until November 1.

Director Saletta in intensive care

The firehouse included as a Belleville construction priority is slated to be built on Franklin Avenue on the north end of the Essex County Geriatrics Center property. Early cost estimates discussed by the Commissioners Tuesday night put the firefighter center in the $750,000 cost range.

Bruno Associates, Belleville's public relations firm will handle the Town's application for approval.

Another Commission business, Mayor Marotti asked citizens at Tuesday's meeting to pray for the recovery of Commissioner Rocco Saletta from a heart attack suffered last Saturday night. Marotti said the public safety director was in Clara Maass Hospital in fair condition in the intensive care unit.

The resolution to allow Belleville businesses to open on Sundays was tabled by the Commissioners on second reading. Public Affairs Commissioner Vincent Strumolo, who proposed the table the resolution, said he wanted more time to take the pulse of the people on the Sunday opening issue. He also asked some of the ministers and churches in the town, "how they feel about it."

Steven Audiere, an attorney for Grand Union, told the Commissioners during the public hearing that people want to shop on Sunday and while many regret it others, "no longer have the opportunity to sit back in repose on Sunday."

Rocco Constantino told the Board stores in Belleville are already open as many as 84 to 144 hours out of a possible 168 hours a week. He added he looked forward to Sundays as a relief from shopping traffic in his Heckel Street neighborhood.

The Sunday opening resolution will be on the agenda under old business at the next Commission meeting.

Craig Fund money aids local disabled

Once again this year the Craig Fund, Incorporated will be accepting donations at the Fourth of July celebration at Belleville Municipal Stadium. Members of the organization will be posted at each entrance with the usual candles, pencils, and patches given for each donation.

Since 1970 the Craig Fund has been dedicated to aiding its recipients for their physical, medical, therapeutic and educational needs. Prominent medical equipment has been supplied as well as ongoing drugs and periodic therapy sessions arranged.

A spokesman for the fund says, "the Craig Fund is indeed very proud of the accomplishments a small group of people, along with town support, have made."

Martin McNish and detective Raymond Caruso headed the investigation of the case.

Newark teenagers arrested for rape

Five Newark teenagers have been charged with "carnal knowledge" and three others as material witnesses in the rape of a 16-year-old Bloomfield girl last week in a Belleville motel police said.

The men, ages 18-19, were arraigned in municipal court late last Tuesday night and are currently free on bail pending a court appearance in July authorities stated.

According to police the girl had been standing near her Bloomfield home early Tuesday night and apparently voluntarily accepted a ride in a car driven by three of the accused teens who took her to a Belleville motel.

They were later joined by five others police stated.

The girl was later taken back to the vicinity of her home about 9:30 p.m. and released authorities stated. She then notified police.

FLIGHT 897

The lesson of a raindrop

By FRANK A. ORECHIO

*Florida in the summertime, believe me, isn't all that bad. The beaches were crowded this weekend.

Thursday night at 8:10 p.m. I decided to take Eastern's flight 407 leaving Newark at 9:05 for Fort Lauderdale. Brother Carmen was available to drive me down to the airport — and just in time. I had no ticket which meant that I was obliged to wait in line to purchase one. Walking on-the-double was Customer Passenger Agent Fred Niedenstein who took me under his care and within five minutes I was aboard Flight 407 becoming airborne heading for Fort Lauderdale.

*Three blondes made up the flight crew. Senior Stewardess Julie Horn assisted by Jutta Beard and Harriet Mahan. An unusual thing about this flight was the men up front in the flight deck were brothers, Captain David Gibson and his kid brother, Randy Gibson. They did one helluva good job bringing the two-engine jet down to a beautiful landing in Fort Lauderdale.

Six unaccompanied children were on the flight and this circumstance is rather unusual especially for a late night flight. However, the stewardesses handled the kids with much tact.

Jutta Beard loves dogs — Dobermans especially, and is an active member of the Humane Society of Broward County in Florida. Fort Lauderdale is the hub of Broward County.

Jutta Beard looks 23-24 but her main concern was that her chronological age added up to a little more than that, so now she jogs four blocks a day and ends up with aching calves. To tell the truth, if I jogged one block I'd end up with more than just aching calves but that's the physical fitness program to which stewardesses are attempting to adhere.

Service aboard Flight 407 was great — an event that I take for granted aboard Eastern.

*Here is something to mull over in your mind during your idle moments: "DO YOUR PART"

There are many people in our time who never take sides. They commit themselves to nothing. They go through life evading duties, sidestepping responsibilities and dodging issues. When some issue arises they stand aside, when some cause solicits their aid they wrap the garments of icy isolation about them, and with pharisaical smugness hold aloof. They feel no responsibility for the world. On the stage of the world they refuse to be actors; they are content to sit in the bleachers and not even applaud.

*The noted Sam Levenson recently had published his last will and testament to his grandchildren:

"I leave you my unpaid debts. They are my greatest assets. Everything I own, I owe:

"1. To America I owe a debt for the opportunity it gave me to be free and to be me.

"2. To my parents I owe America. They gave it to me and I leave it to you. Take good care of it.

"3. To the biblical tradition I owe the belief that man does not live by bread alone, nor does he live alone at all. This is also the democratic tradition. Preserve it.

"4. To the six million of my people and to the thirty million other humans who died because of man's inhumanity to man, I owe a vow that it must never happen again.

"5. I leave you not everything I never had, but everything I had in my lifetime: a good family, respect for learning, compassion for my fellow man and some four-letter words for all occasions: words like help, give, care, feel and love.

"Love, my dear grandchildren, is easier to recommend than to define. I can tell you only that like those who came before you, you will surely know when love ain't; you will also know when mercy ain't and brotherhood ain't.

"The millennium will come when all the 'ain'ts' shall have become 'ises' and all the 'ises' shall be for all, even for those you don't like.

"Finally, I leave you the years I should like to have lived so that I might possibly see whether your generation will bring more love and peace to the world than ours did. I not only hope you will. I pray that you will.

"Grandpa Sam Levenson"

*If you want some advice on how to minimize the effects of stress, the following paragraphs might serve you in good standing:

Whenever a new challenge presents itself, decide whether it is worth tackling, before letting it drain you emotionally and physically.

When faced with a task that is painful yet indispensable to your aims, don't procrastinate.

Equalize stress in your life so that one part of your body doesn't wear out before another part does — sort of like occasionally switching a rug around so that it wears evenly.

When you feel like a failure or everything seems hopeless, take stock of your past achievements. Such recollection is keenly effective in mitigating stress and reestablishing your self-confidence for the future.

Did you ever stop to wonder at the beauty of a raindrop — the lesson it contains for all mankind? If you didn't take time now to do it:

The Legend of the Raindrop

The legend of the raindrop

Has a lesson for us all

As it trembled in the heavens . . .

Questioning whether it should fall —

For the gleistering raindrop argued

To the genie of the sky

"I am beautiful and lovely

As I sparkle here on high,

And hanging here I will become Part of the rainbow's hue

And I'll shimmer like a diamond

For all the world to view!"

But the genie told the raindrop,

"Do not hesitate to go,

For you will be more beautiful

If you fall to earth below,

For you will sink into the soil

And be lost a while from sight,

But when you reappear on earth,

You'll be looked on with delight;

For you will be the raindrop

That quenched the thirsty ground

And helped the lovely flowers

To blossom all around,

And in your resurrection

You'll appear in queenly clothes

With the beauty of the lily

And the fragrance of the rose;

Then, when you wilt and wither,

You'll become part of the earth

And make the soil more fertile

And give new flowers birth!"

For there is nothing ever lost

Or eternally neglected,

For everything God ever made

Is always resurrected;

So trust God's all-wise wisdom,

And doubt the Father never,

For in His Heavenly Kingdom

There is nothing lost forever.

Name calling — Barbara Sougelas of the Belleville High School class of 1977 had the job of reading the names of the graduates who received diplomas during the 80th commencement ceremonies of the school.

Safety committee thanks helpers

To the Editor:

The Safety Committee of the Home and School Association of School Ten, Belleville, would like to publicly thank all the parents, neighbors, senior citizens, passing motorists, police, and news media who helped to make our peaceful demonstration a success.

The hazardous intersection of Fairway and Belleville Avenues is now being put to further strain because of the new shopping center located a half a mile away on Belleville Avenue. We are concerned not only for our children, but as citizens who must use this intersection. Why must someone be injured before a traffic signal is installed?

Our battle with the county and state has been a lengthy one. We shall not give up! We have a petition with over 500 signatures of people who agree that a traffic signal is needed here.

The county has finally agreed to do a survey; however, we feel that numbers should not be the only consideration. All the extenuating circumstances existing here combined with the numbers are what creates the hazard. We would be satisfied with a "demand" light, whereby the light would remain green on Belleville Avenue at all times and would only turn red when a car exiting

Fairway Avenue or Rhode Place trips a switch in the street, or a pedestrian pushes a button to cross Belleville Avenue. With a "demand" traffic light the traffic would flow smoothly, yet it would still enable us to exit Fairway Avenue and Rhode Place, and pedestrians would be able to cross Belleville Avenue, a major artery, safely.

We have been given the run-around by our town, county and state. We, as citizens and concerned parents, want to know the answers to the following questions:

Where is the original survey by the Belleville Police Department? We have been told it is not available. Why?

Where are the copies of the county and state surveys that were supposedly taken? We have requested the results several times. Our requests were ignored.

Why can a newspaper reporter in one day get the county to agree to do a survey when we as taxpayers have been trying for over a year?

Mr. Saletta, Commissioner of Public Safety, where are you?

Develop beaches with caution

By DAVID F. MOORE

The National Park Service is completing plans for utilization of the new Gateway National Recreation Area, which it will administer. Unfortunately, I'm afraid it will go ahead and repeat mistakes already made elsewhere in permitting overuse of fragile environments.

It's the plan for utilization of the Sandy Hook section of the Recreation Area, most of which has been off limits to the public because it's in the Fort Hancock Military compound.

Preliminary planning by the Park Service would have three intensive beach developments on the ocean side of Sandy Hook. This raises the probability that the oceanfront just won't be able to stand so many footsteps, with the result that a fragile environment will be overwhelmed by the sea.

ALTHOUGH ONLY about 20 miles in distance separates the tip of Manhattan Island from Sandy Hook, in terms of time it could be 20 centuries.

That's because patterns of warfare in simpler days dictated that New York Harbor should be guarded by the big guns of Fort Hancock on Sandy Hook. Thus the fragile ocean and bayfront ecosystems have survived for many years in an outdated military compound while urbanization spreads across the surrounding landscape.

But overuse of beachfronts makes them shortlived, as has been demonstrated elsewhere. Better than the nearly three miles of virgin oceanfront and a rare forest of holly trees be restricted to more limited and cautious recreational exploitation.

I concur with the New Jersey Chapter of the Sierra Club, which has called upon the National Park Service to limit beach centers to only two, instead of three, and to make them smaller.

ANOTHER GOOD IDEA is to make passenger ferry service available to Sandy Hook, rather than putting a superhighway up its middle. The boats would also be an extension of the recreational experience.

The holly forest and surrounding features should be managed as a unified natural area, and not broken up into segments as proposed by the Park Ser-

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

A good piece of legislation has been introduced by Assemblyman Carl Orechio, Assembly bill #171, which would require that persons who lose civil lawsuits would be required to pay their adversary's legal fees. Such a proposal had been recently recommended by a New Jersey Superior Court jurist.

The Assemblyman expressed the belief that much litigation is not properly adjudicated because a would-be plaintiff can't absorb the legal costs in going to court. He cites, as an illustration, an individual might purchase an item from a merchant offering a check in payment, then stopping payment on the check, claiming some invalid reason for his nonpayment.

While the merchant has the option of instituting action to recover payment, he still, even in winning, loses because he must absorb the attorney and legal fees involved which often exceed the purchase price of the article.

"Under our present system, only the affluent are able to obtain civil justice. I can imagine the utter frustration a person experiences when he feels he has been victimized, and then he is further intimidated by not being financially able to pursue the matter in court," Orechio stated.

In urging passage of his bill, the Assemblyman stressed its enactment would deliver a fuller measure of justice to those who seek access, or are drawn into the courts.

It is noteworthy to observe that were those who might frivolously institute legal action or resort to harassment for purposes of harassment, in the way of inconveniencing, embarrassing or subjecting to expense defendants on flimsy grounds, might be hesitant to pursue such a course were they to be held financially responsible for all legal costs were their adversary returned the victim. Which the proposed new law would provide.

In the interest of promoting a fuller degree of impartial justice in our courts, we strongly urge that a full measure of support be lent to encouraging passage of this proposed bill, Assembly bill #171.

For our sister paper, The Nutley Sun, a few weeks back a social story relating to the induction of forty members into a local organization ran the caption, "Local Group Indicts Forty." We all make mistakes.

Essex Assemblyman Dick Codey is an honest man. He got an envelope from NBC in which was enclosed a check for $10,700. There was no explanation and had the signature of two NBC officials. Puzzled, he couldn't figure out why, but assumed it was a computer error, since he had been on a TV show for NBC a short time ago for which he received a small check for traveling expenses.

The Assemblyman said he knew of a few things he could do with the money, but that he'd call them to tell them about their mistake. His chief concern about the incident was that the amount of the check was for more than he makes for a full year as an assemblyman.

Seems like Essex County State Senator Frank Dodd shares the same sentiments as Belleville school trustee Ralph M. Rioli in proposing schools that might be "less fun" than presently structured public schools which have lost touch with their essential mission of education — to educate.

Sen. Dodd stated, "We seem to be so concerned with making school a pleasant experience that we have lost touch with their essential mission of education." He claimed, "It is the worst kind of intellectual arrogance and hypocrisy to spend millions upon millions of dollars on an educational establishment that perpetuates educational mediocrity because many public school systems find it easier that way."

vice. Nor should any major recreational facilities be allowed within the natural area.

Something needed is installation of better mass transit facilities to the base of Sandy Hook, which is already a seething mass of cars on summer weekends. Add the Gateway section, and things will really get snarled.

One idea which has been shoved at the Park Service from many well-meaning sources is mooring of the World War II battleship New Jersey in a cove on the Raritan Bay side of Sandy Hook. While I think a lot can be said in favor of the patriotic and recreational values of keeping the great ship available to the public, that's no place to put it.

Keep the natural areas natural, and let the ship be berthed in one of the waterfront sections of Gateway.

People wanting to make last-minute inputs to the planning process for Gateway can do so by writing to: Superintendent, Gateway National Recreation Area, Floyd Bennett Field, Headquarters Building 69, Brooklyn, New York 11234.

Class of '77 must consider future goals

By THOMAS TENSFELDT

Honored guest, parents, friends and members of the Class of 1977, tonight we will witness a ceremony that not only signifies an ending but also a beginning within each of our lives. It evokes of us the need to look to our futures and think long and hard about them. Each of us must decide upon those goals which we will follow throughout the rest of our lives. For many of us, this is our most important consideration. Yet, there exist many problems and issues that face each of us not only individually but collectively as well. The impact of our decisions will produce far-reaching effects upon both our society and the world as a whole.

Specifically, I cite decreasing energy and food supplies, controversial alternative energy sources such as nuclear power, and recombinant DNA research. These are fancy scientific terms you may think but their names alone have a bearing on their true importance and relevance to each of us. Each one of them presents conflicting issues that must be resolved before work in these fields can be done to alleviate the problems which affects each of us within them.

All of us, I am sure, realize that these are common issues — appearing in the newspaper frequently, if not daily. However, how many of us can honestly say that they know the real facts — pro and con — that exist for any one or all of these issues. You might say to yourself these are problems for science and technology — the engineer — to determine and ultimately take action upon. They aren't. Each of us must decide, so that collectively we may voice our opinions. How can this be done, however, if the average man or woman has no real knowledge of the issues at stake?

Ralph Waldo Emerson in his essay on Intellect said, "Intellect is void of affection and sees an object as it stands in the light of science, cool and disengaged." Yet science is far from a disengaged field. Apart from the remainder of society, science would have no real importance or relevance to the man in the street except as a curiosity. However, if it could create new industries with a new labor market, putting clothes on his back, feeding his children and changing his whole life style for the better then science has meaning. This is not just a fanciful dream turned out by an imaginative mind, it has happened many times — in industry, mining industries, automotive industry, power industries, etc. The list is endless. It is a reality.

Science and technology may form the backbone of our modern culture but the people within society are the ones who make the world we live in happen. Yet with either his acceptance or apparent apathy many continues to pollute his world. If all the people knew the extent of the pollution that exists at this moment, and were willing to work even a little bit towards changing the condition, it could be halted and even reversed to some extent. Remaining aloof from a problem, however, never helped any in getting it solved. Action among all of us to not only know what is happening around us but to take part in decisions affecting our futures is vital. We must each think, not only to ourselves but outloud, establishing our own desires behind the motives of those who pull the actual strings.

This hard task behind us, we may relax, but not until we have thought.

Army's 'Headstart' program helps Americans overseas

Today, there are more than 300,000 American soldiers in Europe, many of whom have studied the language of their host countries through Army education programs.

A program called "Headstart" begins within a month after the soldiers first arrive in Europe. They attend 30 hours of classes in language and spend another 10 hours learning the history and culture of the country to which they are assigned.

John Burlazzi, Class of '77 president

Hats off — The beginning and an end merged as Belleville graduates sat together with many they will never see again and wondered what the future would hold.

Valedictorian echoes Emerson's challenge

By LINDA WINSHIP

Ralph Waldo Emerson once posed the question, "What is the hardest task in the world?" Some people might contest that the hardest task is establishing world peace; others, eliminating poverty and pollution. I'm sure some of my classmates would answer the question by saying the hardest task in the world is defeating the Nutley football team in two consecutive seasons, or remaining awake through one of my mom's sessions on the importance of squares, circles, and triangles.

On a more serious note, Emerson's conception of the hardest task is to think. If everyone would stop for a minute and ponder on a definition for the words, to think, a cross section would show a collection of widely differing opinions and ideas. Webster's dictionary alone gives fourteen definitions of the word. All agree that thinking employs the use of the mind, but differ as to the purpose of thought. Emerson believed that "thought, ruled the world and was a revelation and a miracle, and advent of truth into the world, a piece of genius or immeasurable greatness." He also said that "thoughts are things. Let unguarded we can expect them to rule as with ruthless persistence."

Which, then, is the lesser of evils? Letting our thoughts control our lives, though the thoughts sometimes are destructive, or allowing routine to replace our dominance over thought and action. When we realize that thought is not just sifting facts, but also permitting the mind to amble freely from idea to idea, the detrimental aspects of constant routine can be recognized. If we move across life's pathways, performing daily chores and duties without thought, then life has little meaning or continuity.

Society has made life on continual alarmclock. Time for school, time for work, time for a favorite T.V. show, and barely enough time in twenty-two hours for lunch at

Education should stimulate thought

By SUSAN SANTIGLIA

Parents, Honored Guests and Friends:

What event, what ceremony, could be more synonymous with the institutions of learning and education than a graduation?

Because we are gathered here to witness the commencement of the Class of 1977, which marks the end of high school education for each senior, it seems natural to question and discuss the purposes and value of that education.

In a broad sense, what is the purpose of education? Ralph Waldo Emerson once questioned "What is the hardest task in the world? In a phrase at once obvious and yet paradoxical, he replied, "to think". For is it not the thought process that separates humankind from the animal world? Is it not the quality of thought which separates the great thinkers from everyone else? True thinking, active, fruitful thinking on the part of each individual, is an essential feature of any successful free society. Is this then the purpose of education — to teach students how to think?

No, it is not, for no government, regardless of ideals, no institution regardless of efficiency, no school, regardless of quality, no teacher, regardless of wisdom can teach a student how to think, they can frequent substitute teaching students what to think as a meager facsimile.

The ultimate and only valid purpose of all and any education is not to teach thought, but to stimulate

Hope for original thought

thought. To pose questions which in fact students must think to answer them. To devise problems which invite students to think to solve them. To plan lectures which seek not merely to instruct but to encourage thought — this is the purpose of education duty of every teacher.

The value of such an education is eternal. The best education is that education which provides the student not only with a broad command of memorized subject matter, but stimulates and encourages the mind. To use, to implement that subject matter. The best teacher is the teacher who dares his or her students to think originally, to devise their own original ideas, to recognize that each person possesses the same asset, possessed by all great thinkers — a mind, to be cultivated and utilized to the pinnacle. And the best student is the student who, although receptive to education, can judge it for its true value, and after recognizing the great ideas, theories and discoveries of the past, can step into the future to develop to the acme his or her own original ideas and unique discoveries.

This type of education, so dependent on both the teacher and the student, cannot be judged by a state committee or a middle state board — it can only be judged by future generations who, in looking back upon the actions, decisions; thoughts and culture of their predecessors, can say, "That was an era of original thought." The highest hope I can have not only for my fellow graduates, but for an entire generation of youth across an entire nation, is that someday their descendants may use these words in praise of them.

They tried to solve their problems. They attempted to improve their world. They strove to foster great ideas. But they accomplished the hardest task of all: They Thought.

Belleville High. No time is left for contemplating, day dreaming, or just doing nothing. But there is a time and a place for everything. Lost leisure hours have been discovered most inappropriately in the middle of English class or during a Physics lab. Staring off into space or doodling on desk tops, while certainly more interesting and entertaining than work, did not prove advisable or productive during my school years.

Deadlines, deadlines! There is always a deadline to meet that prevents us from passing time pleasantly. Often, moments of creative silence produce solutions for previously unanswered problems or questions. During a period of idleness the mind has a chance to relax, unwind, to begin operating more efficiently. In the words of American author William Matthews, "Knowledge is acquired by study and observation, but wisdom cometh by opportunity of leisure. The ripest thoughts come from a mind which is not always on the stretch, but is fed at times by a wise passiveness."

Unfortunately, thoughts are fleeting and are difficult to grasp. Even more quickly than time seems to pass, thoughts come and go, never again to be recaptured. Great wisdom and knowledge are hidden away in these evanescent thoughts. To secure this information for all generations to experience, the concepts must be made permanent through writing. John Locke, an English philosopher, once said, "The thoughts that come often unsought, and, as it were, drop into the mind, are commonly the most valuable of any we have, and therefore should be secured because they seldom return again."

For us, as graduating seniors, the most fitting definition of the phrase "to think — is — to muse, meditate, reflect and recollect. Hopefully, the memories we each have of our years at Belleville High School are not as fleeting as thought or time. Every experience shared at school has had some measure of influence on our daily lives. May of the reminiscences have tucked aside to be rediscovered and relived at a later date. Surely, we have all learned or gained something from our days at Belleville High. Not all the experiences have been good, but then not all were bad either.

I think that the greatest task that lies ahead for the students of the class of 1977 is to enter into the big wide world and to begin to think as individuals. Leaving the security of Belleville High is a giant step that all must take in the process of maturing, if each graduating senior remembers that refuge from the confusion of the world inside and outside of Belleville can be found through individual recollection and meditation, than a step has been taken toward a sane and successful future. Our life's goals will never be too far distant if we can take time to think about where we have been and where we are going.

The moment — Four years of hard work and study added up to that cherished high school diploma presented here by BHS principal Raymond Smith.

All 5% interest rates are not created equal.

Although these four savings accounts all give a 5% interest rate, they each earn different amounts of money. Because they each compute the interest differently. Midlantic Bank computes its 5% interest using the "Day-of-Deposit to Day-of-Withdrawal" method. As you can see, this is the one that earns the most money for you.

Another advantage of our 5% savings plan is that it doesn't require a passbook. Instead, you receive a statement in the mail every three months that shows you everything a passbook would.

Come in and we'll be glad to assist you in opening a 5% Day-of-Deposit to Day-of-Withdrawal Savings Account and answer any questions you may have on why our 5% interest rate is just a little more equal than some other banks' 5% interest rate.

It's "Storybook Time" at Turtle Back Zoo every Tuesday and Thursday throughout the summer. It's the perfect time for children to experience the wonder and excitement of outdoor storytelling.

The colorful and entertaining stories are narrated by a Turtle Back Zoo guide, often with a bit of assistance from animal friends whose presence helps make the stories come alive.

When the sun sets and darkness falls the traditional fireworks display will take over the sky above Belleville to top off the days festivities.

Town recreation officials recommend those planning to attend to come early to assure a good seat for the holiday light show.

Helping hand — Cecilia O'Tool, president of the Craig Fund, and JoAnn McCough, secretary of the fund, kick off their campaign for donations at the Fourth of July celebration at Belleville Municipal Stadium. Members of the organization will be posted at each entrance Monday. Since 1970 the Craig Fund has aided those in their physical, therapeutic, medical and educational needs.

Class of '77

More than 300 members of the Belleville High School class of 1977 were presented with diplomas last Tuesday evening at BHS stadium at the school's 80th graduation ceremonies.

Parents, grandparents, relatives and friends jammed into the stands to share the moment with the graduates as they prepared to leave the security of a structured supervised environment and out into the world.

Following the entrance of the graduates to the traditional tune of "Pomp and Chivalry" The Rev. Alfred Stone of Fewsmith Memorial Church gave the invocation and Felix Lingante, president of the Belleville Key Club, led the crowd in the flag salute.

Valedictorian Linda Winship, Salutatorian Susan Santiglia, and Honor Group, Tom Tensfeldt, each addressed the crowd directing their speeches toward the commencement theme based on a question and answer by Ralph Waldo Emerson "What is the hardest task in the world To think."

Belleville Board of Education members as well as various town officials including Mayor Michael Marotti and Commissioner Vincent Strumolo were all on hand for the occasion.

Board president Caesar Romano speaking from a personal stand point pointed out to the graduates the night marked the end of the spring of their lives and entering into the summer. His daughter was among those to receive a diploma Tuesday evening.

Barbara Sougelas, Susan Sorrentino and John Burlazzi each took turns in reading the names of the graduates as they came forward to accept their diplomas.

Some premature shouting and celebrating by some members of the class of '77 while the presentation of diplomas was still going on, was the only point which marred the ceremony and caused the school board at its last meeting to contemplate various alternatives to restrain the exuberance of the 1978 BHS grads.

When the final name, Frank Peter Zatorski, was called the motorboards followed tradition and went skyward, graduates embraced each other, and then filed through the exits in search of loved ones signaling the conclusion of one adventure and the beginning of another.

Singing seniors —Members of the 1977 Belleville High School Choral Group gathered for one last rendition of the Blue-Gold "Alma Mater" during the high school's 80th commencement exercises at Belleville Stadium last Tuesday evening.

Cast aside —Despite a painfully sprained ankle this Belleville senior said he waited for this moment for four years and would not miss it for anything. He didn't and when his name was called took his crutches under each arm and sauntered to the podium for his diploma.

Happy days —Graduation day sometimes brings a tear to the eye for many a senior but this trio was able to find the lighter side of the moment

Musical class —Taking to their instruments for the Blue-Gold one last time, senior members of the graduation class sat in with the

Bruins fall to Verona but club Caldwell 11-1

By MIKE COREY

The Bruins of Belleville experienced its worst streak of the young summer baseball season losing to a red hot Verona-Cedar Grove club three times over the past nine days. The Bellbros came out of the tailspin long enough to take out their frustration against Caldwell.

The local Essex County club (8-4), despite the mini-losing skid, still clings to the top spot in the league. Belleville lost to Verona-Cedar Grove last Wednesday at home and last Thursday away by identical 7-3 scores, drubbed Caldwell, 11-1, at BHS field on Sunday but fell once again to the Verona club, 10-9, on the road Monday night.

The Bruins are slated to take on Caldwell again here 6 p.m. Thursday and Union Saturday in a 2 o'clock home matinee before traveling to South Orange for another 2 p.m. contest on Sunday, Monday, the fourth of July. Belleville will host Livingston with game time set for 2 p.m.

Last Monday's third confrontation with Verona in six days was a seesaw battle which saw a late inning Bruin rally fall one run short.

The first four hitters in the Verona lineup did most of the damage against the Bellbros combining to knock out seven hits and account for eight runs.

Verona shortstop Albano clubbed two home runs and drove in five runs and a Belleville native, Gregory Petite, came in in relief at the start of the fifth frame to record the pitching victory.

Verona scored first in its half of the initial inning pushing across three runs to take the early lead but Belleville bounced back to gain the advantage in the top of the second with five runs.

Bruin leftfielder Dan Dunn started off the offensive eruption with a walk, fellow outfielder Dan Hornaschek followed with a single, Bob Kennedy also singled, shortstop Kevin Goy was hit by a pitch and second sacker Chip Biafore singled.

Belleville forged ahead with two more runs in the top half of the fifth when Biafore was hit by a pitch, third baseman Tony Roselle doubled and Dunn singled.

The Big V machine closed the gap to two with a pair of scores in its half of the fifth and pulled in front to stay with five runs in the sixth to take a commanding 10-7 lead.

The Bruins made it close with a late inning surge when Roselle went to first on a base on balls and first baseman Dennis Astrella powered a homer.

"We played three of our worst games of the year against them (Verona-Cedar Grove)," said Belleville Bruin coach Dennis Sasso. "We made mental mistakes, like throwing to the wrong base, and we're not communicating with each other on the field. But it's a long season and there are a lot of games yet to be played."

Sunday's contest versus Caldwell at home had a much happier ending as the Bruins snapped its miniature two game losing streak to outpower Caldwell 11-1.

"We had a good game," stated the Belleville coach. "We made three double plays in the game." The most the club has made so far this year.

"We were loose and we were hoping the win would put us on the right track again," added Sasso.

Gus Hernandez was credited with his third win of the year against no losses in striking out seven and walking three allowing one run on five base hits. He was relieved by Jimmy Clark in the eighth inning. Caldwell scored its only run of the contest in the sixth on a hit batsman and a triple.

The Bruins struck pay dirt first with a run in the opening inning when Astrella singled, and came around to score after a walk to catcher Tom Scull and an error by the visitor's first baseman.

Scull was in the thick of things again in the third when he singled and scored on Dunn's second home run of the year.

The Belleville assault continued with two more runs in the fourth as Armiiello singled, Biafore reached on an error, Roselle walked, Astrella walked and Scull doubled.

The hits kept coming and the runs kept scoring in the sixth when both Rocky Guarino and Kevin Goy walked and Biafore singled.

Dunn, Hornaschek and John Guarino walked to load the bases in the sixth and Rocky G. came through again with a single to account for another Belleville run.

The Bruins put an extra layer of icing on the cake in the seventh as it scored four more times to provide plenty of breathing room.

Biafore led off the frame with a walk, Roselle singled, Astrella was safe on an error, Scull singled to knock in a pair, Hornaschek reached on a walk and the final run of the contest came across the dish on a fielder's choice play.

Against Verona last Thursday on the road the home club scored all the runs it would need on only two hits thanks to three fielding miscues by the Bruins and a wild pitch.

Brian Karl started for the Bellbros and was hung with the loss. He was relieved in the sixth inning by Craig Dellasandro.

Grippaldi repeats as national champ

Belleville's Phil Grippaldi regained his 198 pound championship at the United States National Weightlifting Championships at Culver City, California last week. The Belleville Barbell Club's Frank Falgares took a third place in the 148 pound class of the competition.

Grippaldi, who is the current Pan-American champion and a member of three Olympic teams, made lifts of 325-pound snatch and a 419 pound clean and jerk in winning his sixth national title despite incurring a leg injury while warming up.

The 30-year-old school teacher was selected as a member of the U.S. team which will compete in the World Championships in Stuttgart, West Germany, in September.

Falgares, lifting in the lightweight division, snatched 231 pounds and clean and jerked 297 to take a third.

The 18-year-old Belleville was making his first appearance in the Nationals. He was sponsored at the Senior National Meet by the Belleville Kiwanis who paid his travel expenses to the coast out of the Kiwanis Athletic Development Fund.

"I am grateful to the Kiwanis," said Falgares. "Without their help the trip let alone a third place medal would not have been possible."

Tag out — Belleville PBA third baseman Bill Adehelm slaps a tag on a sliding West Orange runner after taking a relay throw during the local lawmen's 16-15 victory at Clearman field Sunday.

Cops collar West Orange with ninth inning rally

With two down in the bottom half of the ninth-inning the Belleville police softball squad rallied back with a pair of runs to edge second place West Orange, 16-15, at Clearman Field Sunday and maintain its league lead in the standings.

The local lawmen have the Fourth of July weekend free from slow-pitch competition but return between the foul lines and travel to Bloomfield next Sunday, July 10, and close out the season at home against the Newark police July 17.

Complaints by home owners in the neighborhood of Clearman Field about damage caused by batted balls during adult softball games has made further adult contests on the diamond an issue.

According to the police team's playing-coach George Sheridan, the club has volunteered to add an extension onto the left field fence to cut down the trajectory of the balls in over the fence and into the street causing damage as long as the materials are provided by the Board of Education.

Board members and adult softball league officials are scheduled to meet and resolve the problem before the next home meeting versus Newark

July 17. Last Sunday's action on the playing field saw second baseman Joe Simonetti blast a three run homer and Tony LaVista follow with another round tripper with a man aboard to give the Belleville men in blue the early lead.

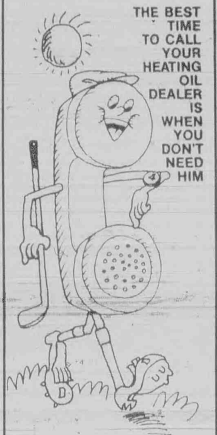

The lead swung back and fourth between the divisions premier clubs throughout the contest and the home team found itself down by two in its last at bats in the bottom of the ninth.

With two men out and two men on catcher Bill Escott drove a base hit up the middle to score Ronny Edwards from second and deadlock the game at 15-15. Moments later Joe Simonetti rounded out a productive day at the plate by also singling over second base scoring Richie Fatone and notch the Belleville victory.

Ray Kimble's hustling in the last inning taking the second baseman out of the play to break up a double play kept the rally alive and enabled us to win the game," pointed out Sheridan.

The league playoffs are slated to begin Saturday, July 23. If the Belleville team can repeat its performance of last year and win the division crown it will draw a bye in the opening round of post season play.

Cubs crowned softball champs

Posting an undefeated 9-0 season the Cubs clinched the Belleville Recreation Department's Pigtail Softball crown marking the first time any team has won every game in the four year history of the league.

Long ball hitting and strong pitching were the cornerstones of the Cubbie squad.

The championship club, coached by Gerry Paoletto and Pat Scheible, includes Donna Campana, Doreen Yurkinin, Lisa Juliano, Marion Apple, Dina Bassford, Linda Cozzarelli, Maureen Estelle, Ruth Fabian, Robyn Forsyth, Elizabeth Goldrick, Christina Johanson, Sally Juliano, Gina Missaggia and Jacqueline Mitchell.

Bellgirls compete in County meets

Although the regular high school season track year is over many of the Belleville Cinderwomen are staying sharp by competing in the various Essex County Park Commission sponsored developmental track meets.

Bellgirls participating in the series include, in the half-mile for ages 14-15, Peggy Gilday, who notched a first, and Barbara Hagin, who took a fourth.

In the 16-17 year old age group the Blue-Gold's Sue Smith won first honors and Jill Harris took the number two spot in the half-mile run and Linda Mallon competing in the mile race for the over 18 athletes, copped the top place.

Marge Farrell wins women's golf division

Marge Farrell won the Women's Division crown with an 89 and "Balanine Pete" Galotti posted a low score of 69 during "Guys and Dolls" Mixed Foursomes Golf Tournament at the Branch Brook Golf Course last Saturday.

A buffet style dinner, provided by the Chandelier Restaurant's Tommy Apicella, was served in the links cafeteria after the day's golfing and prizes and awards were presented.

The tournament committee was headed by Ernie "Bake" Christian, co-owner of Guys and Dolls, 524 Washington Avenue, Jimmy Torre, one of the area's leading amateur golfers, and Connie Montefusco.

The trio of tournament coordinators provided a unique twist to the tournament play by serving refreshments at the seventh, ninth and 10th holes.

"It was a way of pacifying the divot diggers who were a bit unhappy with their game up to that point," said one observer on the links. "And it worked wonders with many of them."

Sluggers clinch morning league glory

The championship of the Belleville Recreation Department's Ladies Morning Softball League was decided in the final contest of the 1977 season as Pat Scheible's Sluggers defeated Maryann Stetz's Belles to clinch top honors.

The Sluggers and Belles both had identical records going into the season finale.

Eileen Primavera's Wizards and Carol Giuffrida's Dazzlers were close on the high heels of the front runners and helped to make it a close pennant race.

The championship Slugger squad includes Carol Bonavita, Mary Jo Cardinale, Rudy Cherenne, Ann
