Another debate due next Tuesday

By JOHN JURICH

The Town Commission may reverse itself this Tuesday and vote to allow food stores employing four or more people to open on Sundays.

Commissioners voted 3-2 at the August 9 meeting to table an ordinance which would have eliminated the Sunday "blue laws" here. Commissioner Joseph McGreevy, who offered the tabling motion, said Belleville should wait until the state Supreme Court decided the legality of Sunday openings before adopting its own ordinance.

It now appears Commissioner Mary Senatore, who voted with McGreevy and Commissioner Vincent Strumolo to table the ordinance, may hold the key to its fate.

"I didn't think we had a right to vote on it while the matter's before the Supreme Court," Mrs. Senatore said Monday. "But I understand since that we do have such a right to vote on it."

Mrs. Senatore gave no indication, however, which way she would go on the issue. "I'm going to decide before the next meeting how I'll vote," she explained in an interview with the Times/News this week.

Earlier, there were reports she favored the Sunday openings because the Mary Senatore Association had "voted" in favor of the concept during a June meeting. Mrs. Senatore said those reports were groundless.

"After the meeting, we took a break," Mrs. Senatore explained. "It was coffee time. Just to get an idea of how many people were in favor of the openings and how many people were against them, I asked for a show of hands. But there was no decision on how I was going to go into the meeting and vote. We're a welfare and civic association, and we don't get into that," she said.

"But everybody came out of the meeting and went hog wild," Mrs. Senatore continued. "They said, 'We voted! We voted!'"

The ordinance had been on the table since June supposedly to wait until the full five-man board could debate the issue. Commissioner Vincent Strumolo has been in Florida and Commissioner Rocco Saletta had suffered a heart attack. Both were absent until the last meeting. Commissioners had said the matter was too important for less than the full board to consider.

Saletta, a strong supporter of Sunday openings, said Tuesday passage of the ordinance proposed for Belleville had nothing logically to do with the "blue law" case now before the Supreme Court so there was no reason the town should wait to make its decision.

St. Bartolomeo feast underway this weekend

Residents of Belleville's Silver Lake will celebrate the feast of St. Bartolomeo this weekend.

Festivities begin Saturday at 4 p.m. and end midnight Sunday. The weekend has been planned by the Saint Bartolomeo Society, in conjunction with St. Anthony's Church.

During the festival, two blocks on Heckel Street, between Honiss St. and Lawrence Ave., will be blocked off to all automobiles. Peter Della Terza, president of the society, tells the Times/News.

"Lights will be strung over the whole area," he said, "with food stands and kiddie rides lining the streets."

Sausages, pizza, hot dogs, nuts, Italian pastries and candies will be available from the concessionaires who have been contracted for the festival.

Other stands will feature religious articles, jewelry, toys and balloons. No liquor will be served by the concessionaires, Terza notes.

Sunday's procession starting at St. Anthony's Church at 2 p.m. and leading through the streets of the Silver Lake area will provide the highlight of the weekend.

The bust of St. Bartolomeo leads the procession, accompanied by a display of fireworks and musical groups. A ground and aerial display of fireworks can be seen again Sunday evening in the St. Anthony's schoolyard, Della Terza promises.

He estimates the weekend expenses will amount to about $5,000, all of which is paid through donations.

"We obtain the funds for the festival by collecting door-to-door in the community and also through the donations of people during the procession," the society president reports. "Money is pinned onto the statue of St. Bartolomeo itself as the group passes through the streets of the area."

Everyone is invited to attend the celebration of the feast, Della Terza adds. People come from all over, he notes, and any extra money earned will be donated to St. Anthony's Church.

Still hope, but School 3 now marked for October opening

Although he said that it's still a little early to make a prediction, Dr. John Greed, superintendent of Belleville schools, does not think that School No. 3 will be ready to open September 7 when classes are scheduled to begin.

"The construction people are trying hard to have the building ready for us, but in my personal opinion, work at School No. 3 will not be completed in time for the start of the school year," Greed said.

He reported that he and Austin MacArthur, school principal, are contacting churches to absorb the fourth, fifth and sixth grade classes until the school is completed.

"About 150 students may have to attend classes in three nearby churches," the Superintendent told the Times/News Tuesday. "The remainder of the students attending School No. 3 will be placed in either the auditorium or in two classrooms that are part of the 1955 school building."

All of school No. 3 was destroyed by a fire more than a year-and-one-half ago, except for a portion of the building constructed in 1955. The school's auditorium, located in the older portion, was divided into eight classrooms last year, so that a total of 10 classrooms will be available for grades K through three if the schools do not reopen on schedule.

"I want to emphasize that we are not complaining that the school may not open in time for September classes," Greed said. "We are actually delighted at the progress, since we originally did not expect to occupy the school until December."

The three churches Greed is contacting are Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church, Christ Episcopal Church and Bethany Lutheran Church.

The furniture and books used for class last year still remain at the churches, Greed said.

Residents ask Romano to resign

By MARY FREEMAN

Two Belleville residents called for honesty on the part of their school board officials at the first public of the board since president Caesar Romano admitted taking several pieces of No. 1 pine from Belleville High School.

Joseph Fornarotto stood a sign reading, "Be honest and proud of it" on a chair next to his front row seat in the board's official meeting room, while another resident, Bob Conway, called Romano's actions a big black mark on Belleville.

board president had set a bad example for the children of Belleville. He added that if the leaders of the town have problems, residents should not just go along with their actions.

"For the record, what you did was absolutely wrong," Conway told Romano. "If I had a child, I would not want him to follow in your steps."

Conway suggested Romano's behavior cannot be tolerated and it would be best for the town if Romano resigned. Fornarotto agreed with Conway.

Addressing the school board president, Fornarotto said, "In good faith and in honesty, I would ask you to resign until you are cleared of all charges. You, above all, in whom the taxpayers have put their trust, owe us honesty."

"The whole thing does not sound right — there are a lot of discrepancies," he continued. "If the taxpayers keep letting the little things go by, they'll add up someday."

Fornarotto asked that an investigating committee be set up to look into what he called "the wood problem."

When he addressed board members on the Romano affair, board attorney Frank Pomaco advised that it would be improper for any of the board members to comment on the incident at this point.

Pomaco noted the case has been turned over to the Essex County Prosecutor's Office for review. It was later learned the matter has been referred to the Fraud and Special Investigation Section of the Prosecutor's Office for analysis.

The matter was discussed by the board members in a private meeting held August 2 in the board's administrative offices. Romano allegedly attempted to have the wood taken for his personal use the preceding Friday, July 29.

No newspapers were notified of the meeting directly, but they knew the meeting was taking place because they were standing outside of the building when the meeting was going on, Romano said.

"I suppose that there was a violation of the Sunshine Law if you talk strictly and technically because no official notice of the meeting was distributed," Romano said. "Practically and substantially, there was compliance, though," he maintained.

Attorney Pomaco said he advised

Free gifts still available at Spencer

There's still time to get an attractive free gift at Spencer Savings' new Lyndhurst Office, corner of Riverside and Kingsland Avenues next to the Pantry Pride, according to Charles R. Duess, president.

Spencer Savings continues to introduce its complete line of savings and home financing services to the area with a grand opening celebration at the new Lyndhurst facility. To date hundreds of local residents have visited the office to open savings accounts and partake in the festivities which have been extended through Aug. 31.

Highlighting the celebration are gifts for those depositing specified amounts in a new account.

"We sincerely thank all those who already came out and made our new Lyndhurst opening such a great success," Duess said. "To those who have not yet stopped by to open an account with us, we extend a cordial invitation to do so and see why Spencer Savings is one of the most progressive financial institutions in the area." Duess concluded.

Spencer Savings offers the highest savings rates allowed by law, including a regular passbook savings account returning 5.45 per cent effective annual yield on $25 per cent a year, compounded daily, payable monthly, from day of deposit to day of withdrawal. Savers never lose a single day's earnings as long as $50 remains on deposit until the end of the month.

A four year savings certificate offers an effective annual yield of 7.90 percent on 7.50 per cent a year, compounded daily, with a minimum deposit of $1,000. Other high-earning savings plans are also available.

Spencer Savings, with assets exceeding $235 million, is a member of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation which insures accounts to $40,000.

United Hospitals gets accreditation

United Hospitals of Newark has received accreditation from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals following a recent survey of the complex by the Joint Commission.

In a letter addressed to James R. Cowan, M.D., the new president and chief executive officer of United Hospitals, the Joint Commission commended the staff for providing patient care of quality.

The accreditation was welcomed by United Hospitals, especially since the complex has been subjected to strong criticisms in recent weeks.

The Joint Commission on Accreditation is the nationwide hospital accreditation organization. On the basis of its surveys it either refuses accreditation, provides a conditional accreditation, or gives accreditation for one or two years. Two year accreditation is the maximum given to any hospital.

United Hospitals encompasses four affiliated units including Presbyterian Hospital, Children's Hospital, Newark Eye and Ear Infirmary, and the Hospital for Crippled Children and Adults.

The Joint Commission did offer recommendations for administrative and service improvements all of which have either been implemented or on which corrective action is now being planned.

Seniors to enter zoo crafts show

Essex County senior citizens are invited to display original artwork at "Yesterday," the Essex County Park Commission's Annual Senior Citizens Arts & Crafts Show at Turtle Back Zoo, West Orange Sept. 9 and 10, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

All forms of arts and crafts will be accepted at no fee for exhibiting. Essex County residents aged 60 and older are eligible to enter the show.

Each exhibitor is allowed three entries in arts and crafts combined.

Ribbons will be awarded in several categories in both areas.

Apple doll-crafting, rug braiding, tinsmithing, candle-making and other unusual old-fashioned skills will be demonstrated each hour in the Education Building at the zoo.

In keeping with the "Yesterday" theme, craftspeople will display their work in a colonial-style "village shoppe" outdoors near the Education Building. Paintings will be hung near the tracks of Ol' Ironhorse, the zoo's antique miniature railroad.

The exhibit is free with zoo admission. Exhibitors will not be charged any admission and seniors 60 and over will pay only $.25 for entry.

North Ward Center lists credit courses

The Neighborhood College of the North Ward Educational and Cultural Center, 346 Mount Prospect Ave., Newark, has opened its rolls for applicants to register for college classes beginning in September.

The school, which is located in the Center's main building, is operated in conjunction with Essex County College and is fully accredited. A full range of liberal arts courses will be offered as well as courses in accounting, English, history, Italian, mathematics, music and psychology.

The location of the Neighborhood College is the 35-room mansion built in 1873 for William Clark, the thread magnate of Newark, and designed by William Halsey Wood, the famous architect. Among the main advantages of the program is the convenient community location, the comfortable facilities and additional services rendered through the program structure of the NWECC.

"What we are basically offering is a small campus atmosphere with more individualized attention on the college level," said NWECC Executive Director, Stephen N. Aduhato, "and the advantages of a neighborhood college within a short distance from the students' homes."

In addition to the college, the NWECC maintains a college financial aid and career planning counseling program which serves the college students.

ACCORDING to Wendy Molinari Arseneault who heads up the program, applicants are urged to register as soon as possible in order to secure places in the classrooms and to explore possibilities of financial aid. The tuition for the college is $21 per credit and students may elect a full-or part time program.

The basic concept of the college is to provide a neighborhood location for college students who prefer a community setting and who want to become involved in a college program. The highest quality standards prevail and students are aided by close attention from staff and faculty.

Clara Maass celebrates 20th anniversary in Belleville

By JANE M. WITTMAN
Clara Maass Memorial Hospital
Public Relations

Old-timers from Belleville may well remember Nanny Goat Hill and the long-abandoned Morris Canal — but how things have changed.

Today, August 18, marks the 20th anniversary of the move of Clara Maass Memorial Hospital from downtown Newark to the picturesque knoll overlooking the Belleville-Newark borderline. Appropriately nicknamed "The Hospital in the Park", Clara Maass commands a lovely view of Branch Brook Park and its famed cherry blossoms; and the impressive Manhattan skyline.

There have been many changes since the initial move to Belleville the story of how Clara Maass Memorial Hospital came to settle in the heart of this town dates back longer than just 20 years.

Originally founded in 1868 as the Newark German Hospital, the name

School of Nursing, Clara Louise Maass, who gave her life during Yellow Fever Experiments in Cuba.

The bottom line of this decision to move from the small, outdated site in Newark was the purchase of a 14-was changed during World War I to Newark Memorial Hospital under anti-German sentiment. Through the intervening years, the hospital grew and prospered in Newark until the 1940's, when financial problems beset the institution.

Clara Maass 20 Years Ago — Clara Maass Memorial Hospital operated out of this location in Newark before moving to Belleville 20 years ago today. The new location allowed for the expansion of facilities and service.

The Lutheran Church offered its support and, in appreciation, the hospital was renamed Lutheran Memorial Hospital in 1945. In the following years, the idea to expand and remodel the hospital was shelved in favor of relocation. Many of the facilities of Lutheran Memorial were outmoded and in 1950, one of the original buildings burned — its wooden frame collapsing within minutes. Fortunately, no one was injured but this helped convince the administration, Board of Trustees and Medical Staff to pool their efforts and move from Newark to a larger location where expansion could easily be carried out.

The name of the hospital changed again in 1952, this time to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital to honor one of the first graduates of the acre tract in Belleville on Franklin Avenue. Ground-breaking took place in 1955 and on August 11,

Sunday shopping

Since June 28, the Belleville Town Commission has been considering an ordinance which would allow the larger food stores to remain open on Sundays.

Every community surrounding Belleville permits Sunday opening for supermarkets.

The contention of Commissioners Mary Senatore, Joseph McGreevy and Vincent Strumolo is the desire to wait until the New Jersey Supreme Court rules on one facet of Sunday closing.

The matter before the Belleville Town Commission has nothing to do with the issue before the Supreme Court.

The Town of Belleville now permits food stores to remain open on Sundays — the only difference being Sunday opening for food stores is limited to the number of employees and not to the merchandise.

This is clearly unconstitutional, idiotic, and does not serve the interest of Belleville residents who want to spend their money in Belleville.

We believe Belleville residents should be accommodated by permitting supermarkets to remain open — and the sooner the better.

Belleville supermarkets pay thousands of dollars in real estate taxes. They should not be discriminated against because of erroneous belief that to open Belleville stores on Sundays would be a political mistake. When it comes to serving our people, political considerations should go down the drain.

If the ordinance fails to pass, then it is time the people took the matter into their own hands and place the question on the ballot for a vote. It is our belief Belleville voters would overwhelmingly approve Sunday opening for supermarkets.

Professional advertising

Now the "Bar" is down against public advertising for attorneys. We think this change is in the public interest.

Now how about veterinarians? Assemblyman Carl A. Orechio, eight months ago, introduced legislation that would permit vets to advertise their services and prices charged. What is wrong with letting the people know what to expect in the way of costs when they take a pet to the vet?

We believe this legislation should be promptly reported out of committee and adopted by the Legislature as another measure reflecting legislator interest in the common folk.

Frank A. Orechio

Our thought for today

Let me not live a life that's free
From "the things" that draw me close to thee —
For how can I ever hope to heal
The wounds of others I do not feel —
If my eyes are dry and I never weep,
How do I know when the hurt is deep —
If my heart is cold and it never bleeds,
How can I tell what my brother needs —
For when ears are deaf to the beggar's plea
And we close our eyes and refuse to see,
And we steel our hearts and harden our mind,
And we count it a weakness whenever we're kind,
We are no longer following the Father's Way
Or seeking His guidance from day to day —
For, without "crosses to carry" and "burdens to bear,"
We dance through a life that is frothy and fair,
And "chasing the rainbow" we have no desire
For "roads that are rough" and "realms that are higher" —
So spare me no heartache or sorrow, dear Lord,
For the heart that is hurt reaps the richest reward,
And God enters the heart that is broken with sorrow
As he opens the door to a brighter tomorrow,
For only through tears can we recognize
The suffering that lies in another's eyes.

New N.Y.C. disco is worthy of superlatives

The latest New York "In" spot is the semi-private Club Sybils at street level in the New York Hilton on 53rd St. at 6th Ave.

The Club Director is our old friend, Peter Buonconsiglio, an internationally prominent violinist, former Professor of Music at Columbia University and, currently, doing a two-night concert stint with Frank Sinatra in Milwaukee.

Sybils is unique in the world of discotheque. You have to see it to believe it.

Judy recently took a job as photographer at the Waldorf Astoria.

The girls like to bike and jog, and when they are not doing either, they love to disco every Friday night at Sybils.

Disc jockey Susan Payne does a fantastic job with the sound system imported from London. In doing her job, Susan sings, swings and sways with the music. She really loves her work.

ANOTHER LAVISH New York night spot is La Vie En Rose where they say, nightly, one can see New York's more unique floor show. Peter Jackson's "POUFF" The literature reads as follows:

"A spring-time check on the juiciest and most lavish club revue in town finds both show and cast in better shape than ever. The long-running "POUFF" (for "zany" — and the shoe fits) at La Vie En Rose, one of Manhattan's few surviving theater-cabarets of size, is still good, raunchy, sophisticated fun, now streamlined into a fast hour with few lulls.

"At times it suggests a seasonal salute to nature, with the healthiest-looking array of near-nudes on the neon scene. The women are beauties, partnered by strapping specimens who double as club waiters. Leaping and bounding on stage and onto trapezes above the tables (you may duck), they all seem to be enjoying themselves, contagiously."

La Vie En Rose is at 227 East 56 St., New York, between 2nd and 3rd Aves.

Spino is the man in charge and the fellow to see to get the table you like. He is quite a host.

The New York Times reviewer, Howard Thompson, writes that "POUFF" is the juiciest and most lavish club revue in town.

CUE magazine reviewer, Chip Orton, says "POUFF" is the splashiest evening in town."

The New York Magazine quotes:

"It's not a show but an atmosphere." Whatever it is, we recommend our readers to see it at least once.

THE PROMINENT local barrister, Charles L. Goldberg, is no longer at his Thirteenth Ave., Newark, address. A Walnut St. resident, Charlie Goldberg is now a Nutley attorney and can be found at his new address, 610 Franklin Ave. "Welcome Home" Charlie, and lots of luck.

TO OUR ANONYMOUS postal card writer, we owe thanks for this gentle thought:

"For the varied tones of nature's song

For the gentleness of life

For the truth shown in all God's creatures, We love."

I JUST FOUND out that our local fireman and former neighbor, Charlie Gross, is an official of Stillwater Township, way up in Sussex County, one hour via Rt. 80. Our Charlie is in charge of the Departments of Police and Public Roads. To Charlie Gross, we say "Good Luck and God Bless You."

WE HAVE received reports in the office that when a person misdials our telephone number and reaches 751-2828, a male voice answers that "The Belleville Times is out of business and has been for a long time."

One irate Belleville Times subscriber didn't believe the male voice and telephoned me personally to let me know that insofar as she is concerned The Belleville Times is in good shape and is a very enjoyable newspaper to read. I should like to advise our readers The Belleville Times never was in better shape — is very healthy and is very much alive and will continue to be so. So if you dial the wrong number and you are told The Belleville Times no longer exists, you may be talking to the voice of a dead man!

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Not unlike many of our Country's recent Presidents Jimmy Carter is a sport enthusiast. Eisenhower had his golf, Nixon liked football while Ford chose to swim, ski and golf. Jimmy's favorite is closer to our national pastime of baseball. He's a soft-ball pitcher who takes his win-loss statistics very seriously.

When Congress adjourned for their annual August vacation to escape the torrid Summer heat of the Nation's capitol, in a "rush" session Friday night July 29th (they only work seven months a year for their $57,500 a session) President Carter took off for a short sojourn back home at Plains, Ga.

Among the highlights of Jimmy's homecoming was the scheduled "world-series" soft-ball classic between the White House press corps, to be lead by the President's brother Billy, and the soccer force of the White House with President Carter on the mound.

As it sometimes turns out the pressmen beat out the President. Carter lost the first encounter in a 10 inning contest and the second 11-9 when brother Billy imported a "pitcher" who clouted three home runs off the President while the White House second sacker, the President's personal physician and a Navy man made two costly errors that lost the game. . . all of which occasioned brother Billy to taunt the Chief Executive with the inquiry of what rank a Navy PFC (private first class) is called. Suggesting a summary demotion for the good doctor who cost Jimmy the game. Carter got two hits, a double and single, in losing.

Several White House aides sensed that Jimmy might extend his short planned Plains vacation long enough to get back into the vic column to even out the score. The President's enthusiasm was so intense in the game that he ordered an emergency "time-out" so that he could take an important state department call, presumably from Secretary of State Vance. Well! just goes to show that even the President can't win them all!

Statistics conclusively establish that despite the contentions of Andrew Young, the United States U.N. delegate and President Carter that the looting by the blacks in the N.Y.C. blackout was caused by hunger was not the case. . . in fact, it was found that many involved were actually city or government workers with good paying jobs. . . isn't it time that we focus our attention on these crimes, rather than looking for excuses to justify them? We believe we might expect better things from men in high office.

A recent request in NEWSWEEK from the Medical Society of New Jersey that patients pleased with the performance of their doctors so notify that body, brought prompt responses from at least two Belleville patients of our town's Dr. Noonan for his fine care and treatment of their ills.

Say Hey Jackie Rega sure is taking a lot of flack lately. First he gets bounced around about being a "boss", now a gentleman scores him for "hacking off" as a critic. . . What's it all about Jackie? Has somebody got you over a barrel? You should know you can't carry water on both shoulders without spilling some of that you can't sail under two flags either. What's the score? Come clean . . . everybody wants to hear from you. What "gives" with you? Are you "ducking" something? . . . SPEAK UP "BOSS".

Imperiale refutes accusations, calls himself true representative

To the Editor:

First Mr. Romeo, let us establish the record correctly. I did not stand on the Senate floor and threaten anyone. I objected to the appointment of Mr. Joel Jacobsen because he did not have the qualifications to be head of the energy commission in New Jersey. My objection was resented by another Senator, and it was in my absence from the Senate Chamber that I was attacked by this Senator, who used the immunity of the Senate floor to call me a name. I went into the mens room and I spoke to this Senator. There was no such incident on the Senate floor.

In my tenure as an assemblyman, I held the key vote, which when exercised, was used for the people of the 30th district, as well as the people of the state of New Jersey. I led the opposition against the income tax and we, the people, won. In my freshman year as an assemblyman, I was voted the most conservative legislator in the house.

In 1975, Senate Bill 281, which I sponsored, was signed into law. It permitted county freeholders throughout the state to vote monies to allow free testing for children for Cooley's Anemia. Incidentally, I introduced you to join me to raise blood and money for Cooley's Anemia. This is a matter of record as reported in the Star Ledger.

As for my attendance, I would not have defeated the building of Kawada Towers in Trenton had I not been there. This building, sponsored by Le Roi Jones of Newark, was opposed by my constituents of the 30th District. Let us put this to rest once and for all since you saw fit to bring it up. I was in the hospital twice, as was my wife, and I was required to take care of my five children. My family is FIRST ABOVE ALL, except God.

The important thing is that I have not missed a session where the 30th District is concerned. I led the fight against the state income tax and won the first round against the present governor and I have continued to this date to oppose the unfair taxation of my people. In the past four years I have secured some $3,000,000 in loans enabling businesses to settle and operate in the 30th district. I have worked very hard and I have succeeded in formulating several thousand dollars in grants for the 30th district.

I never tried to invoke sympathy for myself. I merely demand justice for the people I represent. In 10 years as a controversial maverick, I have never worried about those attacking my honor, for those attacking have no honor. You ask in a question, "What Of The People's Honor?". It is the honor of the people that I am concerned with when I expose the truth, no matter what the consequences are. For the people's honor has been offended by many, but emphatically defended by me at all times.

I will conclude, Mr. Romeo, candidate for my seat, by telling you this, "There is no express route via the gutter to taking my seat." I worked for 10 years and have established that I am truly a representative of the people and you should be more aware of this than anyone, for my wife and I were your best man and matron of honor when you were married.

Remember, as I taught you several years ago when you honored me at your dinner, "It Is Better To Live One Day A Lion, Than A Hundred Years A Lamb."

Senator Anthony "Lion" Imperiale
30th District

Injured Firefighter Belleville firemen carry an injured co-worker away from the scene of a fire that heavily damaged the inside of a home at 76 Roosevelt Ave. The injured fireman suffered a twisted knee and was taken to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital for treatment. One of the residents of the damaged home is pictured on page 1.

Roosevelt Ave. blaze causes heavy damage

The cause of a fire heavily damaging a Belleville home is still undetermined. George Sbarra, fire chief, said.

"The fire began in the vicinity of the oil burner," Sbarra said. "It's possible that the oil burner caused the fire, but nothing is definite."

The residence, situated at 76 Roosevelt Ave., was the home of Mrs. Jennie Landolfi, 91, and her daughter, Mrs. Mary Lubertazzi.

"Jennie was yelling 'fire' when I rushed outside after my son told me that smoke was coming out of the house next door," Yolanda Russo, 74 Roosevelt Ave., said. "It was impossible to hear her calls from inside the house because we had the air conditioner going."

Ms. Russo noted that another neighbor had already called the fire department and that fireman arrived shortly after.

"Knowing that the two women were out of the house eliminated some of the worry," Ms. Russo said, "but seeing the possessions of a lifetime go up in flames was a traumatic experience, both for the two women who lived in the house and for their neighbors."

Residents in the area were concerned that the fire might spread to the Walter Kidde Co., Ms. Russo added. Sbarra later ruled out this possibility.

"The blaze was contained within the home," he said. "It seems that it began on a first floor level, before spreading to the street floor and then to the bedroom on an upper level."

Firemen worked hard to keep the blaze under control, Ms. Russo said. It was amazing how fast they got here.

Although no injuries were reported by residents, one fireman was taken to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital with a twisted knee.

Mrs. Landolfi and her daughter could not stay in the house because of the extensive damage, Sbarra said.

Journeys, clocks, and bees

GAVIN IS SPENDING five weeks in Europe with Dennis and Judi and Ryan wrote him a letter the other day which read, "I hope you are having a good time. I don't miss you at all and I'm being just as crabby as you are. Mommy is still dragging me off to that Vacation Bible School. Love, Ryan." A day later, he was looking desperately for someone to catch ball with him and I think at that moment, he realized the advantages of a brother.

When we took the kid out to JFK, we discovered there were six unaccompanied children on his flight, all under 12 with the youngest about seven. I was really impressed with the care Lufthansa took of their charges, although Gavin was not thrilled with the orange pouch he had to wear around his neck containing his passport, tickets, boarding pass and the form detailing who would pick him up in Stuttgart. He felt better when he saw five others similarly tagged and we all laughed when the pack of gum he was carrying to keep his ears from popping set off the sensitivity device and he had to pass through the security check again. No matter what Ryan says, he'll be glad to see him home again since he has inherited, along with his allowance, his chores and added garbage detail and dog walking to his jobs.

I DISCOVERED to my distress the other night that the alarm clock was not working and shaking and threatening did no good. Since it was the only one in the house, its malfunction caused some consternation and Rod was forced to call the Paterson Garage and leave a "wake up" call. The next day, I purchased a new timepiece and heaved the old one into the garbage. Erin went into the kitchen later and came back bearing the discard, merrily ticking away. "Your clock's working," she reported with a big grin on her face. And it was.

We had a very interesting experience Tuesday involving a swarm of bees which were buzzing frantically around our driveway, making it hazardous for the children to play in the yard. We first noticed them Monday and as I said later to Rod, it's a good thing we hadn't planned a cookout for the fourth 'cause I couldn't envision any of our friends sitting in the midst of them or anywhere near them for that matter.

WHEN ROD CAME home on his break, he called the Parks Department which referred him to someone in the Health Department who promised to appear shortly and survey the situation. He appeared, announced they were honeybees who had made a home under a bush in the next yard and departed promising to send someone who might be able to help. The "bee lady" arrived in short order, carrying a hive and toged out in long sleeved shirt, slacks, boots, gloves and netted hat (all in 93 degrees!). Employing a combination of old combs, smoke and sweet talk, she persuaded the bees to accompany her home to our everlasting gratitude. Thank you, again and again!

Here's all you do. If your gas furnace pilot light remained on this summer, simply set your thermostat above room temperature. If the pilot is off, light it according to instructions on the unit. Allow it to burn for a few minutes before raising the thermostat. Your gas furnace should come on.

IF IT WON'T START, MAKE THESE CHECKS:

Re-check that the thermostat is above room temperature. Check all switches to make sure they are in the "on" position. (These switches are usually at the head of the basement stairs, and on or near the furnace itself.) Check all fuses and

Remember to set back thermostat when test is completed circuit breakers. If furnace still does not come on, re-check the pilot light. If it is out, follow the manufacturer's instructions attached to your heating unit.

• IF YOUR HOME HAS A STEAM HEATING SYSTEM, check the water level in the sight glass. If necessary, open the water supply valve to bring the level up to normal.

• IF YOUR HOME HAS A HOT WATER HEATING SYSTEM, check that the circulating water pump is operating.

• IF YOUR HOME HAS A WARM AIR HEATING SYSTEM, check that the blower is operating. Also inspect the air filters to make sure they are not clogged.

IF IT STILL DOESN'T COME ON...CALL!

If your heater still will not come on after you've made these checks, move the thermostat back to its lowest point and call PSE&G. The telephone number is listed on the enclosed bill.

IT MAY COST YOU TO WAIT.

There will be a service charge if we are asked to turn on your furnace during our busy fall season — between Labor Day and October 15. Also, when the weather suddenly turns cool and we are faced with unusually heavy service demands, there may be an unavoidable delay in responding to your request. So to avoid a turn-on charge and the inconvenience of having to wait for this service, you are urged to make your own furnace start-up check now.

Hospital's anniversary

1957, dedication ceremonies were held.

The actual move on August 18 was a well-coordinated effort involving each and every member of the hospital staff along with hundreds of volunteers. About 150 Civil Defense volunteers offered their services and six ambulances and 10 station wagons loaned by local rescue squads and other nearby hospitals made the transition a smooth one.

At the time, there were 33 patients to be transferred and this major undertaking was accomplished without incident — the new hospital was even officially "broken in" with the arrival of tiny Clara Maass Ramos Nunes that same afternoon.

Within days, the hospital was a definite success. Opening with 125 beds, more had to be added to keep up with the added patient load — all this after the initial fright of moving day when there were 90 empty beds and a patient-staff ratio of 1 to 8. For a brief period, the administration was worried about the truth of a report issued only months before by an experienced hospital consultant who warned: "Based on current hospitalization rates in Newark, it would take the combined populations of Belleville, Nutley and North Newark to keep this new hospital completely utilized. It is unlikely that this concentration will occur."

In the spring of 1972, the new Continuing Care Center was opened. This innovative idea became a reality with a modern facility of 150 beds offering patients a home-like environment where they can eat in a pleasant brightly-lighted dining room, wear their own clothing and move about a bit more freely than in the conventional section of the hospital.

Facilities have expanded and changed through the years. As the hospital moved from Newark to Belleville in 1957, the space age truly began as the Russian Sputnik was launched into outer space.

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital has moved with the times and evidence of this is the variety of special departments available to treat patients. Nuclear Medicine can scan a human body for specific ailments in a matter of moments while rehabilitative medicine helps patients resume their lives as productive citizens when only a few years ago they would have been forced to spend the rest of their lives in a wheelchair or bed. The ultra-modern Intensive Care Unit performs miracles each and every day with the staff utilizing space-age technology to bring patients back from the brink of death.

The newest facility offered by Clara Maass is the soon-to-open Cancer Treatment Center, which will provide one of the most advanced methods of dealing with early forms of cancer. This is an especially valuable piece of equipment for this area since a federal study released in recent years shows New Jersey — and Essex County — suffered the highest incidence of cancer in the United States. Times have indeed changed — this new Linear Accelerator is being built at a cost of nearly one million dollars while the new hospital, when it was built in Belleville cost approximately four million.

The "Hospital in the Park" has expanded through the years and in 1975, Hoffmann-LaRoche generously donated four acres of land adjacent to the property, enlarging the Belleville institution's parcel of land to 18 acres.

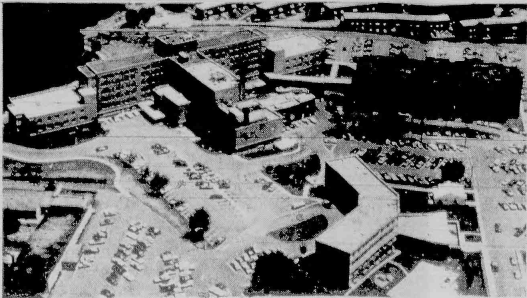

Through the years, there has been continual growth and progress but still the words that dedicated German Memorial Hospital back in 1868 ring true, "This institution is organized on broad principles, admitting cheerfully the afflicted of every class, nationality and creed."

Lehigh Club picnic to greet incoming frosh on Tuesday

The Lehigh Club of Northern New Jersey, one of 52 clubs across the nation affiliated with the Lehigh University Alumni Association, will host a "Freshmen Sendoff" picnic for the schools incoming freshmen next Tuesday at Lewis Morris County Park, Morristown.

Lehigh incoming freshmen and their parents are invited to be guests at the informal get-together scheduled to begin at 5:30 p.m. All Lehigh University undergraduate students, alumni and their guests are invited to attend. Admission for undergraduates will be $2 per person; $3 each for alumni and their guests.

Lehigh Director of Intramurals and Recreation John S. Steckbeul will be a special guest at the picnic.

A Study in Contrast The familiar facility on Franklin Ave. had a history of name changes before its move to Belleville. The hospital began in 1868, known as German Memorial Hospital.

Dedication Day The driving force behind this Dedication Day ceremony was provided by Drs. William D. Crecca, Gerald I. Cetrullo, Raphael E. Remondelli, Julius S. Rippel and John Kidde.

Veterans' benefits running out for many widows, wives

Widows of veterans and wives of disabled servicemen could easily lose monetary benefits during the coming 18 months, Max Cleland, administrator of Veterans Affairs warned today.

The VA education benefits provide up to 45 months of schooling to eligible wives and widows and to children between the ages of 18 and 26, Cleland said.

But the eligibility of a spouse ends on November 30, 1978, or 10 years from the date the veteran was found to have a total and permanent service-connected disability — or ten years from the date of his or her death, whichever is later.

Dependents of MIAs and service personnel who were captured, interned or forcibly detained in line of duty for more than 90 days may also qualify for these benefits, the VA Administrator said.

Spouses of service personnel declared missing in action, captured or detained in line of duty, are eligible for education benefits until December 24, 1980, or for 10 years from the date the listing was made, whichever is later, Cleland notes.

Coach reaction is mixed on sex rule

By John Jurich

Belleville school administrators and coaches have given mixed reaction to a new State Board of Education regulation which makes it legally possible for girls to play on teams now dominated by boys.

The rule says a student cannot be barred from any varsity sport on the basis of sex, though size and ability are still valid reasons for exclusion.

The state board had previously said students could not try out for a sport if an equivalent one was offered their sex. This meant a girl could not go out for baseball if girls' softball was offered by her school.

The new regulation goes further than this in breaking sexual barriers. Provided she has the size and ability, a girl could now conceivably play on the baseball team or go out for football and wrestle.

A survey of Belleville High coaches and administrators this week revealed many are opposed to having girls on boys' sports or at least feel strong doubt about the possibilities of it happening.

"I would be opposed to having a girl on the football team," school superintendent John Greed said. "I think boys and girls are anatomically different. I think it would be very poor judgment on the part of a coach to put a girl on the football team, and it's the same thing with having a girl on the wrestling team," he said.

"I think we're pushing equal rights beyond the point of reason," Greed continued, "especially when there are so many sports like gymnastics and golf in which girls are given the opportunity to play."

Greed said the new rule could open another can of worms. "I think if we're going to have girls on boys' teams that boys can play on girls' teams," he said.

This could mean some girls' teams could become dominated by boys, leading to the strangulation of girls' sports.

Softball Coach Eve Lautenschlager was not particularly worried about that possibility. "About four years ago when I first started out, a whole bunch of boys came to the first meeting at the beginning of the year. But they were boys who were going out for baseball so it was more or less just for fun," Miss Lautenschlager said.

The softball coach said she did not see why boys would want to go out for her team when baseball was available. "If there's a baseball team then boys should go out for the baseball team. If there's an equivalent sport then that's enough."

"But there's not much interest in the sport," Miss Lautenschlager said. "There's no feeder program for softball. The boys have Little League, of course, and the girls are starting to get pigtail softball, but other than that, there's not much interest."

Football Coach John Synesky hoped girls would not take too much interest in his sport. "I hope the situation doesn't get to that," he said, "but if they can play better and tackle harder than boys, it wouldn't be so bad."

"In all seriousness," he continued, "I think the physical contact involved with football — not to imply that girls are the weaker sex — but it could present more problems for girls than other sports."

"In many other areas, girls have proven themselves competent, but it wouldn't be wise to expose them to football. Even boys who are supposedly physically stronger and who have built themselves up with weights and other conditioning, if they take a shot at a certain angle, they can get very seriously hurt," Synesky said.

"I would think it would be a good idea to form a touch football league for girls where contact isn't involved," Synesky suggested. He said there had been some talk of this several years ago after some girls from Nutley and Belleville had gotten together for such a game, but nothing had come of it.

High school athletic director Jim Silvestri was even more vehemently opposed to having girls play contact sports. "As an old wrestling coach, I can't see girls participating on the wrestling team whatsoever," Silvestri said.

"I really believe girls should not play Please see "Coaches" on page 13.

Bruins dropped by Livingston

When we last left the Bruins of Belleville, they had just beaten first-place Verona-Cedar Grove 7-2 and were looking forward to the weekend Essex County League playoffs.

Not much has changed since then except that the Bruins (20-12) are one game heavier in the loss column having dropped a darkness-shortened contest to Livingston Wednesday 5-4. Last weekend's playoffs were rained out, and the games may be on for this weekend.

Scheduling difficulties made it impossible for anyone to say for sure when or where the playoffs would begin, but the Bruins will take on South Orange (17-12) in the opening round of the two-out-of-three series.

The Belleville diamonders have beaten the Orangemen six times this season, but Bruin Coach Dennis Sasso said Monday, "As far as I'm concerned we've never played them."

"Anybody can beat anybody else in our league this year," Sasso said. "No one team is dominant, and in a two-out-of-three series, anything can happen."

The game at Livingston was a make-up of an earlier game which fell to the rain. It was a frustrating loss for the Bruins who nearly tied the game in the top of the sixth when darkness fell.

"It was a good game, but we got beat," Sasso said. "We had a little wildness from our pitcher. He walked eight batters, and each one seemed to hurt."

Livingston scored all its runs off Frank Less who went the first four innings. In the first, a walk and a hit produced the first enemy run. In the second, it was a single, two walks and an error for Livingston's next tally.

In the third, three walks and a single gave the opposition another run, and in the next inning, Livingston's Lyons homered with a walked man on base to end the scoring for the Giants. Gus Hernandez relieved Less in the fifth inning.

The Bruins came achingly close to victory in the sixth. Coach Sasso and John Guarino singled, and Chip Bifore drew a base-on-balls. Mike Sperduto then drove in two runs with a one-sacker. Tom Wise followed with a triple to bring in Bifore and Sperduto. However, Wise was waved on and was out at the plate trying to stretch his triple into a home run. That ended the inning and the game for the Bruins.

"Basically, we got a little too late," Sasso commented.

Benefit game set for Quigley Fund

The Belleville Junior League Coaches Association is sponsoring a benefit baseball game, 1 p.m. Sunday at Clearman Field. Proceeds from the game will go to the Richard Quigley Fund.

The game will be played between the Junior League All-Stars and the Junior League Clippers, the league's first-place team. Admission to the game will be 50 cents.

Richard Quigley, who is on the Bombers of the Junior League, has been in Clara Maass Memorial Hospital since he was hit by a car July 31.

The Greylock Parkway accident caused the nine-year-old to suffer a concussion, a fractured skull, a broken hip and a broken wrist.

Quigley also incurred concrete burns over the front part of his body.

"Richard is so incapacitated that it's really killing him," Donna Quigley, his mother, said. "He was in intensive care for three or four days and is having a hard time accepting all of this emotionally."

Mrs. Quigley has stayed by her son's side around the clock since he was hospitalized, sleeping in a chair in his hospital room and traveling home only for a change of clothing.

"My boss at Midlantic Bank has been fantastic about me taking days off work," she said. "The personal days that I had accumulated over a couple of years were given me all at the one time and this week I'll be taking regular vacation days."

Mrs. Quigley said her son, who is going into the fourth grade at school No. 3, will need a tutor and a nurse after he leaves the hospital. That will not be for some time, though, because Richard will be in traction four more weeks before he can be sent home in a body cast from the waist down.

"The Junior League is really helping out a lot," the boy's mother said. "It has organized the benefit game, which I'd like to attend to show my appreciation, and has been collecting for Richard, too."

The kids from the league have been collecting donations in cans at an A.P. and on the streets in Newark, Morris Renna, president of the Junior League Coaches Association, said.

"Having a boy in need, all the team members have volunteered to collect for Richard," Renna said. "I hope people will find a place in their hearts to give because it could be their own child that was injured by that car."

The boys travel in groups of four, he said, with adult supervision at all times. He added they would like to collect in Belleville, but the town prevents them from doing so.

Renna estimates about $200 has been collected so far, but much more could be amassed if the boys were permitted to collect money in their hometown.

"Seven or eight years ago, we collected $1,800 for Debbie McCool, who had leukemia, through a benefit game and by collecting throughout Belleville," he said. "We are no longer allowed to collect here, though, so I'm sure that that amount will not be realized again."

The benefit game is being coordinated by Renna and by Lucille Arancio, who is helping the Junior League Coaches Association plan the game and the fund-raising campaign for Richard.

Sportsmen to express views on fishing recommendations

Sportsmen and other concerned persons will have an opportunity to express their views on the proposed New Jersey fishing regulation for next year at a public meeting in Trenton September 13.

The State Division of Fish, Game and Shellfisheries said today that the public hearing to consider the Proposed New Jersey Fish Code for 1978-79 will be held at the division's Trenton office at 363 Pennington Ave. at 8 p.m.

The proposed regulations remain the same as for the current season with several changes included. They are for:

- the trout season to reopen on April 8. The custom is the second Saturday in April.
- in-season stocking of the 45 major streams with closure dates, and also the Ramapo River, to commence during the week immediately following the opening-day weekend. This would maintain a high potential for trout angling success during the period angling interest for trout is at or near its peak. It would add one more closed day till 5 p.m. on each stream, except for the Ramapo River which is not closed for in-season stockings. The recommendation recognizes that the loss of trout stocked pre-season is highest in this category of stocked water, a condition shown by past tagging studies.
- the descriptions of the limits of closure on several trout-stocked waters to be adjusted to reflect the - conditions more appropriately.

- Electric Brook in Morris County not to be stocked. It was already removed from the trout stocking list during 1977 because there is only one stocking point on the stream. Because of the physical character of the stream, the fish would not disperse and provided angling only in one small pool.
- the trout-stocked stream in Somerset County, formerly listed as Toms Brook, to be shown as Middle Brook. E. Br., its official name.
- Black Brook, McAfee in Sussex County, to be deleted from the trout stocking list because of posting against angling. It was not stocked during the 1977 season for this reason.

- Pond Brook, Middleville in Sussex County, to be on the waters stocked-with-trout list. It was added to the 1977 stocking schedule after the current code was approved.
- the wording of the trout-possession-limit rule to be revised to clarify the meaning. No change in the number of fish is involved.
- the bag limit of largemouth bass and smallmouth bass to be five in the aggregate in Round Valley Reservoir. Recommended since the largemouth bass population in the reservoir is increasing. This would provide a more equitable distribution of the harvest among anglers.
- the baitfish designation for alewife (herring) to be limited to the landlocked form to clarify the intent of the existing regulations.

• the Delaware-Raritan Canal from U.S. Route 1 to Alexander Street, Princeton in Mercer County, to be stocked with trout. Colonial Lake and Whitehead Pond to be removed from the trout stocking list because of deteriorated fishing conditions.

• Lockatong Creek in Hunterdon County to be stocked only three times in-season during the first, third, and fourth weeks, with no change in the seasonal quota of trout. The stream tends to become virtually waterless near the end of the in-season stocking period.

• provision to be made for the director, upon approval of the Fish and Game Council, to issue emergency closure notice. This would provide the division with the authority to ban fishing on any body of water where it is considered necessary because of the fish population or users of the fish. Emergency conditions may include, but are not limited to, lake drainings and contamination of the water or fish population.

• jiggling lure limitations to be revised to allow a wider variety. Copies of the proposed fish code may be obtained from the Division of Fish, Game and Shellfisheries, P.O. Box 1809, Trenton, New Jersey 08625.

'Have-A-Heart' golfing to assist county group

'77-'78 game code adopted in Trenton

The New Jersey Division of Fish, Game, and Shellfisheries announced today that the Fish and Game Council has adopted the 1977-'78 Game Code following public hearings in Trenton.

The seasons and regulations approved are essentially the same as

Former Bellboy named coach

Tom Long, former Blue-Gold athlete, has recently been named head football coach at Edison Township High School.

Long played quarterback while attending BHS and compiled one of the best averages in New Jersey, on the high school level, as a punter. He was a member of both the Bellboy basketball and baseball squads and competed in both sports at Bloomfield College.

The former Belleville has been assistant gridiron coach at Edison since 1972 where he also coached lacrosse.

Before coming to Edison, Long was head football coach at Montclair High and prior to that coached football and basketball at Great Hills High, Maryland, where he also served as athletic director from 1964-1967.

Edison's football squads over the past five years have posted a 32-20-5 record capturing the Central Jersey Group IV Championship last year with a 8-2-1 mark.

Married to the former Fay Faragalli, the couple have four children and now live in East Brunswick.

Long replaces Vinnie Capraro as coach of Edison. Capraro plans to join the Upsala College football staff in the fall of 1978 following a year sabbatical.

presented in the proposed code.

The opening dates for various hunting seasons are as follows: deer with bow — October 8; raccoon and opossum — October 8; small game — November 12; regular deer — December 5 (6 days); special permit deer — December 14 (1 day); and deer winter bow — January 7, 1978, (13 days).

GENERAL TRAPPING season for most furbearers opens November 15, except for mink and muskrat in the southern zone which opens December 1.

The division said that the approved expansion in the area for the use of muzzle-loading rifles for deer to all management zones and the extension of the winter bow season for deer will both provide more recreational opportunity afield.

The approval to allow the use of 22 caliber rifles, with short rimfire cartridges, by trappers (except for muskrats) and by raccoon hunters will provide for more efficient dispatch of trapped animals and higher quality pelts from raccoons taken by hunters.

Coaches don't see coed teams at BHS for the near future

football or any contact sports like wrestling. I have three daughters of my own and I know I wouldn't want to see it," Silvestri said.

"It should just be girls against girls," he continued. "I think they're capable of achieving a great deal of their own. They shouldn't be tagging along behind the boys. They should be individuals."

Some coaches were more enthusiastic about having girls on their teams. "In the past, we have had girls on the team as coxswains," crew Coach Sam Giuffrida said. "But crew is a sport of strength, and I think it would be very difficult for a girl. If a girl could row better than a boy, though, I would have no hesitation about having her on crew," he said.

Giuffrida was impressed by the girls who have been on his team. "They're very light, they take command very well, they're very ambitious and enthusiastic."

Giuffrida said he had girls on crew up until two years ago. He doesn't think a girl will make it as anything more than coxswain on a boys' team though. "I think you'd have to find a girl who is as big as a boy and there just aren't that many girls 190 pounds and 6'2".

Crew is an up-and-coming girls' sport, according to Giuffrida who estimates there are about eight area girls' teams now. Girls race in the Stotesbury Regatta and the National Championships," Giuffrida pointed out, and women rowers took silver and bronze medals at the Olympics for the United States.

"Girls' crew is at about the level that gymnastics was for them about 10 years ago," Giuffrida said. "And it's a good sport for them. It's not a contact sport, and it takes endurance and I think women do have more endurance than men."

Baseball Coach George Zanfini said he was not against having girls on his team but didn't think it too likely. "A few could hold their own maybe, but on the starting team, I don't know," Zanfini said. "I would judge them fairly and abide by the ruling."

"Right now, I don't see too many girls coming out for the baseball team. I may be wrong, but I don't see them wanting to do it," Zanfini said.

"But then again," he continued, "you may get a straggler along the way and if she could help the team as a starter or as a reserve, I definitely

Hole in one for Joe Hali

Joseph E. Hali Jr., of 245 Branch Brook Drive, is eligible to win a free trip to Scotland and $1,000 as a result of scoring a hole-in-one at the Wate Gap Country Club. Hali's ace qualified him for the 17th annual Rusty Nail Hole-in-One Sweepstakes, a national competition sponsored by the Drambuie Company of Edinburgh, Scotland.

Pharmacy Footnotes

The concept that excessive amounts of sugar and refined starches are the chief offenders in dental health is not a new one. Research as early as 1867 indicated there was a relationship between the ingestion of sugar and tooth decay. Fortunately, the saliva has a tendency to neutralize harmful acids produced by bacteria on foods. But fibrous foods such as fruits and vegetables are also helpful in keeping the mouth clean and free from acid-producing factors that can be so harmful to teeth.

We keep a wide selection of drugs in stock in order to have them for you when you need them. For complete prescription service, come to us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. Our stocks include cameras and film, gifts, Timex watches and transistor radios. Open 9am-10pm daily, 9am-7pm Sundays.

would keep her as a part of the ballclub."

Basketball Coach Dan Grasso's comments ran along the same lines. "I tell you, if a girl was really good and she could help the team, she'd be on it because I want to win."

However, Grasso felt size and ability, the other criteria the state allows for excluding students from a sport, would work against girls. "You always have that outlet," Grasso said. "You can always resort to the girl's ability or stamina. Let's say a girl is 5'11" or 6'. She might be able to play guard on a boy's team whereas she could play forward or center on a girls' team. On the boys' team, if she wasn't quick or agile enough, she couldn't handle it, we couldn't use her," Grasso said.

Still, Grasso believes the time may come when at least some girls will be able to compete with boys. "The game is coming along in stages. To watch the girls play basketball you're watching a slower tempo," Grasso said, "but it's getting quicker. And I think girls have natural skills for basketball, it's a finesse."

Another coach, who asked not to be identified, was more doubtful about the possibility of girls playing any sport. "There's not much enthusiasm or dedication among the girls, not that I've seen. They're all interested in getting married," the coach said.

Better Than Swallowing — Lisa Caravelle and Dawn Pierette (l-r, foreground) compete for fun and prizes in the goldfish toss. The event was one of many at Thursday's charity affair.

Bellevillites turn out in droves to help the handicapped

Best Friends — Brian Hartman from the Belleville Cerebral Palsy Center is surrounded by other youngsters from the Recreation Program. Brian's friends are Bob Capece, Laurie Dondarski, Roseme Mucigarasso, John and Jude Muzzicato and Greg Lowark.

A Ringer — Susan Glogozza tested her skill at the ring toss. She had to get the ring around one of the cans of the table to win a prize. No word whether she did.

Cooling Off Period — Lucille Galioto was peacefully eating when along came Vito Guarino who poured a bucket of water on her head. Flanking Miss Galioto are Joanne Conte and Pia Velandi. Mr. Guarino's partner in crime is Sal Silvestri.

Spinning Vegetables — Lisa Silvestro runs a rather unusual wheel of fortune. The prize was not pocket money but plants. Pat Lurrule is shown trying her luck.

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

The Essex County College, in cooperation with the Belleville High School, is offering college credit courses and non-college credit courses again this fall. In the non-credit category there are courses for career and self improvement, sports and physical fitness and crafts and hobbies. An opportunity is offered to all county residents to further their education or for just added enjoyment. Of particular interest to seniors, those age 58 and over, the tuition for courses is free, only a $5 building service fee is charged.

The days and hours of classes are Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 9 and Saturday mornings from 9 to noon. If you are interested, write to Belleville Adult School, 100 Passaic Ave., for more information or call 751-0225 between 2 and 5 p.m.

The Essex County Park Commission with Cordio Records is presenting an opportunity for seniors to show their talents by having a Seniors Musical Talent Show. If you play an instrument or vocalize and wish to participate and be heard, a Fun Music Course is offered at no charge. "Ramblin' Sam" is the musical director and instructor of this program. To join the Swinging Senior Orchestra call the Essex County Park Commission at 482-6400 ext. 209 to request a registration form.

New Jersey has established a toll free number for senior citizens to use to obtain information about the state's Pharmaceutical Assistance to the Aged Program. The program helps persons who do not qualify for Medicaid. The number, which will be answered from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays, is 800-792-9773.

In our country, old age (after a slow start) is on an extended boom, without an end in sight. In the last 75 years, the average life expectancy has zoomed from 47 to 70. At 65, a man can now expect to live to 78.5 years, a woman to 82.5. For some time, medical advances in conquering disease have suggested a possible further three to five year increase in life expectancy by the end of the century, a potential doubling of the 21 million now 65 and over.

Commission may okay Sunday food openings

saw fit to wait until the Supreme Court decision on Vornado vs. the State of New Jersey when it has absolutely nothing to do with what we're trying to pass is beyond me," Saletta said.

The state closing law prohibits the selling of clothing and hardware on Sundays. It does not ban food stores from opening. Food sales on Sunday can only be accomplished by town ordinances such as Belleville's.

In the Vornado (Two Guys) case, the chain store is challenging the state ordinance, Saletta explained, so regardless of the court's decision, Belleville's Sunday closing law will be unaffected. "I feel if we keep this thing tabled to await the decision of the Supreme Court, it could be a year or so in the making," Saletta said.

"I'm a little annoyed at the Commission's decision," Saletta said, "because I feel we're really doing a big disservice to the entire citizenry of Belleville."

Saletta called Belleville an "island" surrounded by towns which allow food stores to open Sundays. "Because the economy is the way it is and husbands and wives are working five and six days a week, the only time they can shop is on Sunday, and all the people in Belleville are going to surrounding communities to do just that," Saletta said.

The Commissioner denied small, neighborhood food stores would be hurt by having supermarkets open Sundays because, he said, customers will continue to shop at small stores for the same reasons they did in the past. "I'm not going to stand in a long line at Grand Union just for a quart of milk and a pound of ham," Saletta said.

Pomaco sees no Sunshine violations

the board that holding the meeting in private was not a violation of the law. This question, however, was never under debate since the board was discussing personnel, a legitimate reason for closing a meeting under the law.

"You have to understand the nature of this thing he said. 'It was an emergency meeting called on very short notice.'"

Pomaco emphasized that the meeting had not been for any adjudication of the case.

"Any judgment is for the prosecutor and possibly the courts to handle," he said. "The board was just trying to decide what to do about the situation."

Legion's picnic to aid orphans at Christmas

A family picnic to benefit orphans has been scheduled for Aug. 27 by the Joseph J. Carbot American Legion Post 299. The event, set to run from noon until 6 p.m., will be staged on the grounds of the Post Home, 118 Belmont Ave. Anthony Mattia is the post adjutant who is finalizing plans which include games and a menu of hot dogs, hamburgers, Italian sausages, clams, clam chowder, corn and beer.

Tickets are $10 for adults and $5 for children under the age of 12. Reservations are being handled by a committee which can be reached by telephoning the Carbot Post at 759-9246.

Mattia notes the entire proceeds raised at the picnic will be donated to orphans during the Christmas season. Legionnaires note donations for the cause are also being accepted.
