Processional March

Altar boys of St. Anthony's Parish in Silver Lake begin the processional march Sunday afternoon as part of the traditional festivities celebrating the feast of St. Bartolomeo. Pictured are Robert Charles, Michael Salzano, Dominic Papalari, Joseph Pereira and Ronald Charles. Additional photos will appear in next week's issue of the Times/News.

Emergency Aid

Members of the newly formed Belleville Emergency Medical Unit together with Fire Chief George Sbarra and Public Safety Commissioner Rocco Saletta hang the sign at Fire Headquarters on Washington Ave. which will be displayed at the town's three fire stations designating the stations as a place where emergency medical services are offered. See story on this page. Pictured are firemen Walter Beresford, Bill Buckley, Bill Hands, Bob Moraski and Ed Saulino.

Town has no money to cover pay hikes

Belleville Town Hall is running out of money and Trenton is being asked to authorize sort of a tax loan to finance the additional $312,213 needed to make good the just-promised wage hikes for municipal employees.

And Isadore Padula Jr., assistant town treasurer, says unless Trenton soon exempts public utility expenses from the new caps law, the town is going to be in deeper trouble next year.

"We don't have enough money to pay for insurance and utilities as it is," Padula told Belleville Commissioners in persuading them to declare a fiscal emergency which finally took place Tuesday night.

Beside declaring the fiscal emergency, Belleville Commissioners also ratified an ordinance authorizing the expenditure of $312,213, and finally, Commissioners introduced a lengthy list of town employees and the proposed pay boost each would receive.

Commissioners are asking that police and firemen be given an average 7.75 increase before the end of this year while white and blue collar workers' boost will average out at 5.36 per cent.

All of this week's action — which followed several conference sessions — means absolutely nothing, however, unless the Division of Local Government in Trenton offers its stamp of approval.

Trenton's approval, in this case, is far from automatic. Commissioners here and Town Attorney John Scott aren't too sure Trenton will buy Belleville's "fiscal emergency" story.

Under the new cap spending law in New Jersey, no municipality can budget more than a five per cent increase. Belleville already has used up its five per cent increase for 1977.

But there is a way out of that 5 per cent ceiling so long as a town can show some kind of unexpected emergency. The problem now is whether providing municipal wage increases constitutes an emergency. Neighboring Nutley was talking about such a route only to have its plan knocked down by the State Attorney General. There are reports, however, that other municipalities have been more successful.

Working closely with Padula in See "Emergency ordinance" on page 11.

Sunday food shopping outlawed by commission

By MIKE GOREY

Belleville homemakers will have to go elsewhere to do Sunday grocery shopping the Town commissioners decided Tuesday night.

By a 3-2 vote, Commissioners decided to outlaw the Sunday operation of large supermarkets here. The law upheld by Tuesday's vote "disallows" Sunday openings by businesses that employ four or more people.

"I think my colleagues were remiss in their duties to the entire community by voting to continue the ordinance," stated Public Safety Commissioner Rocco Saletta, who, along with Mayor Michael Marotti, voted to lift the ban.

Following the vote, a heated exchange broke out between Public Works Commissioner Mary Senatore, who many observers believed held the crucial vote, and Commissioner Saletta.

"I had many phone calls saying the stores should be closed on Sunday," Commissioner Senatore responded to a citizen.

"And I must have had" more phone calls saying we should open them," countered Saletta. "Anyone who voted to not to repeal the ordinance doesn't know his rear end from a hole in the ground."

Finance Commissioner Joseph McGreevy cited a case currently before the New Jersey Supreme Court involving the legality of Sunday openings, suggesting that the board wait until the court makes a judgment before coming to a decision.

"I'm sorry Commissioner McGreevy couldn't have been to our caucus meeting Monday when the town attorney (John Scott) agreed with me that this case before the courts has absolutely no bearing on the resolution," Saletta said.

Scott agreed that no similarity exists between the case, Vornado (Two Guys) vs. the state of New Jersey, and the Belleville situation.

He did add, "The Supreme Court could hand down guidelines that would encompass our particular situation." Those citizens in attendance who voiced their opinions to the board seemed in favor of Sunday openings.

"K-Mart is coming along (across the street from the Grand Union on Main St.) and more people would be employed in town if it were allowed to open on Sunday," stated Betty Barr, 96 Chestnut St. "Belleville is in the stone age and it better

First aid centers added at firehouses

Belleville residents requiring emergency medical assistance now have a better chance of receiving help faster and more efficiently with the establishment this week of three emergency aid stations throughout the town.

The medical aid stations are located in the three Belleville fire houses including the main headquarters at Washington Ave., the Silver Lake Station and the Williams St. fire unit.

"I'm proud of it," stated Belleville Commissioner of Public Safety Rocco Saletta during an inspection tour Tuesday afternoon. "The program was initiated by the firemen themselves which shows their great concern and interest in the citizens of the town."

"If the men are doing it because they want to do it and not because they were ordered to do it then you know the program has to be successful," added Saletta.

According to Fireman Walter Beresford, one of the prime movers of the medical aid project, each of the three stations carries medical needs including supplies for burn and heart attack victims. "Heart attacks were one of our major concerns and one of the most common emergencies we experience," said the fire fighter.

The idea to provide the emergency aid came from the men working on the ambulance unit, pointed out Belleville Fire Chief George Sbarra.

"Some of our men actually have even more training than is required," added the Chief. "And are ready to become paramedics but the state does not allow such units to operate here."

According to Sbarra, all firemen who now join the department are required to take medical technician training and currently eight veteran firemen are slated to begin the schooling at St. Barnabas Hospital in Livingston.

"The program fits in well with our aim to make the town's uniformed employees more responsive to the needs of the community," said Commissioner Saletta.

Bradley completes machinist's course

Navy Machinist's Mate Fireman James T. Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman J. Bradley, 8 Fairview Pl., Belleville, has completed the Basic Machinist's Mate Course. A 1976 graduate of Belleville High School, Bradley joined the Navy in January, 1977.

During the course at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, he received instruction on the use of hand tools and machine shop equipment.

Bradley studied the basic operation, maintenance and repair of ships' propulsion equipment, evaporators and generators.

Finally, along with his mates, Bradley was introduced to the types of duty watches that Machinist's Mates stand aboard ships.

Infantry unit plans confab

The 312th Infantry Association, composed of veterans of World War One, including several from Nutley, will hold its 58th annual convention in Newark on Friday, November 11. Prior to the start of the convention-luncheon at the Clipper Ship, the officers and members unanimously adopted a resolution calling on Congress to establish nationwide the date of November 11 as Veterans Day.

Commander Samuel Sachs, who introduced the resolution, called attention to the successful efforts of his group and other Veterans organizations in New York to change the date officially in New Jersey this year from October 18 to November 11.

Governor Brendan Byrne listened to the demands of veterans and acted in a manner solidifying of all wars are proud of," Sachs said. He pointed out, however, that on a national level the date was shifted by business-oriented lobbyists to October so it wouldn't interfere with profits to be gleaned in November. "They had no concern, no interest whatsoever in a date which has become sacred in the minds of people ever since the end of World War One," Sachs said, adding that in recent years many of the rights of veterans have been shunted aside by persons in responsible positions and that its resolutions acted on by groups such as the 312th which keep alive the traditions and the rights of veterans.

The Association, formed in 1919 and meeting annually since that time, has a membership reaching from the Metropolitan area as far south as Florida and as far west as California. The 312th saw action in France during World War One and was cited for honors by the French Government in Bordeaux at the end of the war.

Officers besides Commander Sachs are William Gartner, secretary, of Irvington, a former machine-gunner in Company "C" of the 312th Infantry Regiment and now a retired businessman; Harry Feldman of Hill-

Grad joins Air Force; to attend Texas school

A June graduate of Belleville High School enlisted in the U.S. Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program early in July. Staff Sergeant John Daws, Air Force Recruiter, said.

Michael A. McManus, son of John J. McManus, 11 South Wilbur St., is scheduled for enlistment in the regular Air Force Sept. 13, 1977.

In September, McManus will attend basic training at Lackland AFB, Texas, for six weeks. Upon completion of basic, he will receive technical training in the mechanical area.

While attending basic and other Air Force training schools, McManus will be earning credits toward a Career Education Certificate through the Community College of the Air Force.

Side, also of Company "A" and also retired, senior vice commander of the group.

FIRST OFFICERS of the Association include John Schroeck of Olympic Ter., Irvington, John J. Smith of Nesbit Ter., Irvington, Roscoe Tassell of North Newark, and Emil Silverman of Florida.

Commander Sachs is chief of Newark's Bureau of Recreation Maintenance Division. He has been a municipal employee more than 40 years.

Sachs and Gartner have held their respective positions the past four years. Both are active in veterans' affairs. Members of the 312th Infantry Association include the following: George Schmidt, Jake Hessler, Harry Feldman, Joe Isaacs, C. Jack Browne, Vincent Calucci, Chas. Duerf, Nick Garafola, Joseph Davis, Clarence Jacobus, Frank Lanzara and Herman Linn.

The Clipper Ship is located at 122 Roseville Ave., Newark. Commander Sachs would appreciate any communication to be addressed to his home 299 South Harrison St., East Orange.

Jubilee Cruiser — Navy Torpedoman's Mate Seaman Francis E. Koehler, son of Mrs. Connie Koehler, 14 Howard Pl., has just returned from a cruise to the United Kingdom in honor of the Silver Jubilee of Queen Elizabeth. He also visited France, Scotland and Ireland during the cruise, participating in athletic and social functions within the host countries.

Navy seaman back from Jubilee cruise

Navy Torpedoman's Mate Seaman Francis E. Koehler, son of Connie Koehler, 14 Howard Pl., Belleville, has returned from the Silver Jubilee cruise to the United Kingdom.

Koehler, who joined the Navy in June, 1975, is serving as a crewmember aboard the frigate USS Jesse L. Brown, homeported in Charleston, S.C.

His ship was a member of a seven-ship task group that visited the United Kingdom during June and July in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of Queen Elizabeth's coronation.

The task group, which included 400 midshipmen from the U.S. Naval Academy and collegiate Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps units, conducted intensive training during the cruise. Exercises included task group operations, shiphandling, gunnery, engineering, communications and electronic warfare.

In addition to the United Kingdom, Koehler visited France, Scotland and Ireland during the cruise and participated in athletic events and social functions within the host countries.

Planning Board OKs firehouse site plans

The Planning Board has unanimously approved two site plans for a new firehouse to be built on Franklin Ave. north of the Essex County Geriatrics Center.

John Nakrosis, the architect for the firehouse, submitted two plans to the board because Belleville may get more land to put the building on.

Essex County had already given the town land for the firehouse, and if the county grants more, plans for the position of the building on the property will change.

Because the Planning Board didn't want to hold up construction, it approved plans for two contingencies — the town receiving or not receiving the land.

Planners had not seen either plan they approved Thursday and were not familiar with the alternate plan prepared in case Belleville gets more land for the building.

Town engineer Fred Busch told them of the second plan and said he considered it "far superior." Planners gave the go-ahead to both plans subject to his approval.

Speaking about the first plan, board member Joseph Doyle worried the noise of fire engines might disturb patients at the Geriatrics Center and in nearby houses. Public Safety Commissioner Russo Saletta replied, "As it happens, Mr. Doyle, I don't see this as a problem because all the present firehouses are now adjacent to houses where people live."

Saletta said area residents, including those at the Geriatrics Center, had been told about plans for the firehouse after the town acquired the property for it. "They didn't see any problem with it," he said.

Officials said the alternate plan with the increase in property would be better for several reasons. First, the building would be placed perpendicular to Franklin Ave. thus increasing the buffer zone between the firehouse and the surrounding neighborhood.

Saletta estimated Tuesday that the town would save $100,000 under the alternate plan because architects would have the freedom to position the building in such a way that major landscaping problems would be avoided.

Saletta also said fire engines would exit from the left side of the building facing Franklin Ave. under the alternate plan rather than from the right side. This would mean engine noise would affect houses which are on the right less.

At the same time, the fire boys would be facing only the steam turbine plant of the Geriatrics Center on the left, Saletta said.

Whether a firehouse is built in any shape or form still hinges on the federal Economic Development Administration's approval of funds for the project. Rich Gasparini of Bruno Associates, the public relations firm handling Belleville's application for approximately $650,000 for the firehouse, said this week that EDA still had not given approval.

He said the agency must let the town know by September 30, although he expects to hear earlier than that. If the funds are granted, the town must begin building the firehouse within 90 days, which is why the town is hurriedly readying plans.

In other action Thursday night, planners adjourned a controversial application for an office and six apartments at 727 Joralemon St. until the board's September 8 meeting.

Robert Gaccione, attorney for the applicants, asked for the postponement because board counsel Thomas DiBiase was absent and Busch, the town engineer, had been vacationing and had not had a chance to look at site plans for the apartments.

The board unanimously approved soil conservation and landscaping plans submitted by Draisen Levo Venture Co. for a parking lot at Main and Joralemon.

Fund new laws before adoption

A Belleville resident suggested the Board of Education submit a resolution to the State Legislature stating that the legislature first find funding for any educational bills it wants to enact.

Cora Boyce referred to the State Department of Education Aid to Parochial Schools Bill currently under debate.

"The bill will give services to parochial schools, not tangible items," Lawrence Schwartz, board member, said. "By services is meant nurses, doctors and reading specialists, for example." Schwartz noted that the state cannot give direct financial aid to parochial schools.

Ms. Boyce asked the board members where the money for these services would come from.

"No local board of education would pay for the aid to the parochial schools," Schwartz said. "The costs would be absorbed by the State Department of Education."

He added that, if passed, the bill would not be instituted until the following year.

Retirement fete tomorrow for Stanley Wackowicz

Belleville High School's chief engineer the past 17 years, Stanley Wackowicz, will be honored at a retirement dinner tomorrow (Aug. 26) at 7 p.m. in the Chandelier Restaurant, 340 Franklin Ave.

The event is being sponsored by the Belleville Custodial and Maintenance Association headed by Anthony Renna, president.

About 60 people are expected at tomorrow's dinner including members of the Board of Education and other town officials.

Tickets are available by telephoning Belleville High School at 751-7242.

Mike Marotti picnic scheduled Sept. 18

Rain or shine, the Michael V. Marotti Civic Association will hold its annual picnic Sunday, September 18. The picnic will start at 1 p.m. and last until 7 p.m. at the Old Cider Mill Grove, Union.

Soda, beer and coffee will be served along with the regular menu of appetizing picnic foods.

A variety of games and events has been planned for all who attend the festive event, picnic chairman said.

Aldo F. DiChiara, president of the civic association, named John Marotti chairman of the picnic and Anna Marie Cosenzo and Pat Barbone, co-chairmen.

The proceeds of the picnic will go to the annual scholarship fund. For tickets to the September 18 event, contact Aldo DiChiara, 759-4722; John Marotti, 759-3905; Pat Barbone, 759-0421, or Anna Marie Cosenzo, 751-1110.

New bus coming for special ed

Belleville's special education classes will have use of a new 22-seat passenger bus this fall.

The Board of Education awarded an order for the bus to the Viet Chevrolet Company, at a cost of $12,021. The base price of the bus is $11,475, but the board decided to include a rear heater, at a cost of $106, and four rear snow tires, studded and mounted on rims, for $440.

Chinese auction this Saturday

A Chinese auction for the benefit of muscular dystrophy will be held this Saturday at Bethany Lutheran Church, corner of Joralemon and New Sts., sponsored by a group of college students.

Refreshments will be sold.

Post to picnic this Sunday

All is ready for the Annual Orphans Picnic sponsored by the Joseph J. Carbat Post 299 and Unit 299 of the American Legion. The picnic will be held Sunday from noon to 6 p.m.

Hot dogs, hamburgers, Italian sausages, clams, clam chowder, corn and beer will be served at the yearly event.

Proceeds from the affair will be donated to the orphans at Christmastime, Anthony Mattia, Post Adjutant, said. Donations are $10 for adults and $5 for children under 12.

Anyone interested in attending the family picnic should contact: Joseph J. Carbat Post 299, 118 Belmont Ave., or call 759-9716. Donations are also accepted from those persons unable to attend the picnic.

Washington Avenue

The Planning Board has recommended to the Town Commission basic land uses for the north and south ends of Washington Avenue. The Planning Board wants these areas used basically for office buildings.

We do not agree.

It is our opinion that major consideration involving the future of Washington Avenue be given to demolish the Junior High School, the Elks Club building, and utilize the whole block for a new shopping center. The rest of Washington Avenue could be used for specialty retail shops and apartments.

Chamber of Commerce spokesmen for years — and The Belleville Times/News, too — have urged the Town Commission to get on with the business of providing off-street parking. The off-street parking lots need not be a 500-car or a 1,000 car parking lot. What Washington Avenue needs in the way of parking is number of mini parking lots — and the sooner the better.

Moreover, once off-street parking is established, the avenue is broad enough to consider converting Washington Avenue to a boulevard-type thoroughfare.

Fort Lauderdale's most attractive and most successful street is Las Olas Boulevard — a street that doesn't have a single shopping center. It is loaded with specialty shops and it doesn't have a single supermarket as a magnet to draw shoppers. The street has one thing uncommon with Washington Avenue. It is clean and populated with neat and attractive shops.

What Washington Avenue needs is mini parking lots and a new fact. These needs are within the power of the Town Commission to grant.

A Ridiculous Suggestion

Last week, School Board President Cesar Romano was asked to resign from the School Board because he borrowed $7 worth of lumber which he intended to replace.

A citizen asked that a committee of School Board members be created to investigate the matter.

The Essex County Prosecutor's Office has been requested to investigate the incident, and the fair thing — to Mr. Romano and the Town of Belleville — is for everyone to await the report from the top law enforcement agency of the county.

Mr. Romano has admitted that he's used poor judgment. Of this there is no doubt.

Mr. Romano has served Belleville for many years — and has served it well. Fair play alone requires us to withhold further critical comment until the Prosecutor's office has made a final determination.

Pledge of Allegiance

U.S. District Court Judge H. Curtis Meador last week ruled that 16-year old Debora Lipp of Mountain Lakes should be allowed to sit during the Pledge of Allegiance. For anyone of us to fail to pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States and everything for which it stands, in our judgment is an act of rejecting the country where freedom has the most meaning.

The court ruling suggests that a person should have the right to stand or sit during the occasion — and this right of itself is allegedly equated to freedom.

Taken one step further — what about our everyday courtroom scenes — the moment a judge enters the courtroom, everyone rises — not because the presiding officer is clothed in a black robe — but out of respect for the judicial authority which that robe represents.

In view of Judge Meador's recent decision, are we to look forward to a disrespect of the judicial robes by witnessing people refusing to stand when a judge enters a courtroom?

This illustration could go on and on — even into our personal religion. Somewhere along the line there must be rekindled in the hearts of people everywhere respect for freedom's institutions and the people that represent those institutions.

Let's hope grand jury isn't needed for Belleville

Of courage, Joseph Bryant Conant offers a comment about the turtle: "Behold the turtle, he makes progress only when he sticks his neck out."

THE ERIC MAYERS in mid-summer had guests over from Germany who acquainted them with the use of "Underberg." In Germany, some natives use "Underberg" as a stomach tranquilizer — and for affiliated uses. Upon Eric's insistence we tried a sample he gave us — and it works.

ONE OF MY favorite poems is William Wordsworth's "Perfect Woman": She was a phantom of delight When first she gleamed upon my sight.

A lovely apparition, sent To be a moment's ornament; Her eyes as stars of twilight fair; Like twilight's, too, her dusky hair; But all things else about her drawn From May-time and the cheerful dawn;

A dancing shape, an image gay, To haunt, to startle, and waylay. I saw her upon nearer view, A Spirit, yet a Woman too! Her household motions light and free,

And steps of virgin liberty; A countenance in which did meet Sweet records, promises as sweet; A creature not too bright or good For human nature's daily food; For transient sorrows, simple wiles, Praise, blame, love, kisses, tears, and smiles.

And now I see with eye serene The very pulse of the machine; A being breathing thoughtful breath, A traveller between life and death; The reason firm, the temperate will, Endurance, foresight, strength, and skill;

A perfect Woman, nobly plann'd, To warn, to comfort, and command;

And yet a Spirit still, and bright With something of angelic light.

THE POLITICAL silly season is wide open. Candidates are receiving mail from hitherto unheard-of organizations claiming authority to make or break a candidate. One legislator has received questionnaires from at least 29 different organizations — each with its own axe to grind — and each questionnaire calculated to pin down, in a straightjacket, the candidate's thoughts on almost every conceivable question that a future legislature may face. Some questions are sound, well thought-out, and others border on the insane. It's a difficult tight-rope for candidates to walk — but walk they must, for to offend five people who claim to be an organization of some political clout may trigger five tongues wagging daily against the candidate who refused to bestow recognition on the unholy five.

Candidates and public officials have my sympathy. At best, elected public office for conscientious citizens is too great a sacrifice. Under no circumstances — and for no amount of money — no amount of prestige — no amount of anything would I run for any public office — from dog catcher on up. The voting public has a short memory, is too critical and ungrateful.

ESSEX COUNTY PROSECUTOR Joseph Lordi is investigating a summer work program in Belleville where some 30 teenagers quit or were fired because they failed to meet the financial qualifications. The project was a make-work effort funded by the Federal government. It appears some people believe the 30 teenagers who were put to work in Belleville had the right political connection to get a summer job.

Newark's program is due for a presentation to a grand jury real soon. I hope the Belleville investigation is closed out without a grand jury investigation. Belleville has had too many grand jury investigations.

OTHER THOUGHTS For today, We know a woman that the only way she can make up her mind is to powder her forehead.

Then, there is another one of our acquaintance who is such a prude that she blinks herself when she is taking a bath.

A friend of ours — a born loser — apparently has a motto: "Let a smile be your umbrella" — and he always ends up getting a mouthful of rain.

All of us will recognize this American character. He always thinks twice before speaking so he can come out with something real nasty!

And what about the cold-blooded person we run into once in a while who, if a mosquito bites him, will die of pneumonia!

There is a promiscuous gal around town, when and if she gets married, should call her home the "last lap."

Thought For Today

A person obliged to live in close proximity with other persons laid down these simple and practical rules which everyone might well follow to advantage: — the absent are never to be discussed to their detriment and belittling stories are not to be told of anyone. An old Arabian proverb carries this practical advice further: when you are tempted to tell a story about another, make the story go through these three narrow gates: is it true? is it necessary? is it kind? If the story can pass through all these gates, you may tell it without fear.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

You've been working on your job for twenty-five or thirty years, gotten an advancement or perhaps a few wage increases and paying Social Security taxes on your earnings in proportion to your salary. It's a pretty big bite, it keeps getting more every few years when Congress feels they have to bring in more money to pay the Social Security benefits of those who have filed on attaining 65 or 62, with a 20% loss in benefits.

It's not compulsory that you retire, unless your employer has adopted such a policy. Should you continue to work beyond 65 and not apply for your Social Security benefits you still must pay F.I.C.A. (Social Security) deductions on your earnings.

If you do elect to collect your Social Security benefits you may still work and earn up to $3,000 a year without penalty. If you earn over that you must sacrifice one dollar reduction for every two dollars you earn.

So up to the present, under existing Social Security law, there is considerable personal option as to what course the individual wishes to take. If the person decides to apply for his benefits, their spouse on attainment of the age category they have elected to retire at, may also qualify for some portion of benefits.

Most workers who are forced to pay into this Social Security fund into which their employers also must pay, look forward to the day they may be able to collect their retirement benefits. Up to now it has worked reasonably well. Inflation and changing Medicare costs against the fund are now rapidly depleting the funds reserve.

Along with this, is the growing suggestion that the retirement age be raised beyond 65. In fact, President Carter's Commerce Secretary, a woman, Juanita Kreps is "pushing" the money saving possibilities of withholding full Social Security benefits until the recipients reach the age of 68.

Now how does that "hit" you Mr. & Mrs. American Worker who have been paying into this fund all these years, whether you wanted to or not, because you had to and were told that at 62, or 65 depending upon your choice (you get less at 62, but might live a longer retired life) you could retire on a small pension, if you were lucky enough to have made it to that age.

According to the National Center of Health Statistics male life expectancy is 68.3 years and is shorter than that of females. In most families the principal bread-winner is the male which indicates that, in most instances, the Social Security benefits of married women are chiefly predicated upon the eligibility of the husband under Social Security regulations.

So what it all seems to add up to is an attempt at a big RIP-OFF of the workers of America. If a guy is only expected to live until he's 68, and too many don't, and this new Secretary of Commerce dame wants everybody to wait until they're dead before they could be eligible to collect their benefits under Social Security. That would mean that all those weekly F.I.C.A. deductions would be mere contributions without any expected benefits, because you couldn't expect to live long enough to collect them.

The congressmen don't squawk about the billions they give away in foreign aid and the billions of government extravaganzas and their ridiculously high salaries, but they will "toy" with the idea of "shaking" the little people who are paying their earnings for a promised retirement pension that THEIR OWN GOVERNMENT now would like to take away from them.

Even the suggestion of such a despicable breach of contract STINKS. America's workers should rise up in righteous indignation — write their congressmen, petition their unions and let Jimmy Carter know just where the workers of America stand on this vital issue.

THE STATE WE'RE IN

Alternative to ocean dumping

By DAVID F. MOORE

Every hot summer the practice of dumping sewage sludge in the Atlantic Ocean gains attention because of fears of beach contamination and "red tides." This year the nearby Atlantic has been looking good, despite an unexpected dose of raw sewage when the recent blackout cut off power for New York City's treatment plants.

There is general agreement that an ocean is no place to dump sewage sludge. Sludge is an important part of the carbon cycle, in which our wastes are converted into new living things. But that's a land-based cycle; sludge can be helpful on the land but not in the sea.

Unfortunately in a crowded, industrialized area like New Jersey especially in our northern half of the state, putting sludge on land to grow crops for us to eat remains an impractical dream.

That's because so many kinds of industrial and chemical wastes "pollute" the sewage that it's unsafe for agricultural uses. Heavy metals like mercury, cadmium and others are present in the sludge, along with a multitude of toxic and often carcinogenic chemicals.

Those unwanted materials would permeate our vegetables and the feed eaten by cows, getting to use as certainly as if we had ingested them directly.

There is a solution to this problem, but it is guaranteed to bring an outcry from some industries. It is pre-treatment of industrial sewage before it gets into the municipal sewerage systems. That means an industry would have to install complex equipment to remove whatever unwanted ingredients it contributes to the local load of old-fashioned sewage.

The sludge products from some New Jersey treatment plants are probably safe right now for agricultural use, because no dangerous industrial wastes are present. But those are exceptions. New Jersey's Department of Environmental Protection is fully aware of this and proudly points to a pioneering step in which Camden's sludge will soon be used for composting. When that happens, no more Camden sludge will go to the ocean.

Thus it was with real regret that DEP recently had to support temporary continuation of ocean dumping, during testimony at a hearing of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

If the millions of people New Jersey could know that their wastes were being used to nourish crops in their "Garden State," they would know that they were reducing the need for petroleum-based fertilizers and saving tax money now spent on unwise disposal methods.

But pressure has to be built for industrial pre-treatment of sewage so this sensible solution to pollution can be reached. Everybody must come to realize that nature's way of doing things is best, and we cannot continue to cram strange chemicals into places where they do not belong.

Belleville cut out of HUD grant

By JOHN JURICH
Belleville is the only town of 10 in Essex County cut out of a $759,000 U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development grant to the county.

The county Office of Community

Development had asked HUD for $140,000 to repair a sanitary sewer line on Newark Ave., but the request was denied the week before last.

Belleville officials have protested the denial before the Community Development Office and are still angry about it this week.

Public Works Commissioner Mary Senatore said Essex County needed to show HUD that 200,000 people would be affected by proposed projects before the county's application for the block grant would even be considered. In past years,

Mrs. Senatore said, Belleville had added its name to the application without asking for funds just so the county could come up with the requisite number of people affected.

"This is the first year we came in with a project for ourselves, and I feel it's very unfair that we were denied," Mrs. Senatore said.

Walter Johnson, director of the Newark area HUD office, said Belleville was denied because the town failed to meet at least one of three criteria needed to get the federal money.

"The three criteria are, first, that the project must be addressed predominantly to the needs of low and moderate-income people; second, that it contribute to the elimination or prevention of slums and blighted areas, and third, that it must meet the urgent needs of the community."

It was on this last point, the urgent needs of the community, that Belleville based its case. Town engineer Fred Busch told the Community Development Office about 2,000 feet of the sewer line along Newark Ave. that was urgently in need of repair.

Mrs. Senatore pointed out nearby Clara Maass Memorial Hospital has expanded three times in the last decade. The expansion has greatly increased strain on the sewer line, she said, adding, "I feel that is an emergency."

"It's collapsing, it's old," Busch said of the line. "We repaired about 150 feet of it in 1976. We did it with our department (Public Works), but the cost is high and we don't have the manpower to do that," he said.

Busch said the county had tried to get approval for the project by showing it would benefit a low-income area. "The county fellows attempted to tie it into a housing rehabilitation program in Newark, but the lines there cannot be tied into town lines," Busch said. "I couldn't demonstrate to them that it was an urgent need."

Some criticism was directed at Belleville after the meeting for not having filed a backup application which could have been submitted in case the first for the sewer line was rejected.

However, officials also said since the $759,000 in federal money was in the form of a block grant to the county and not divided into parcels for individual communities, Belleville may have been left out anyway. Commissioner Senatore was especially upset that other towns got money and Belleville didn't. "I want to know where the blighted areas are in the other nine towns that submitted applications," she said.

Schools okay $13,409 expense for new testing, scoring materials

The Board of Education has authorized the purchase of $13,409.05 worth of testing materials and scoring services from Houghton Mifflin Company for the upcoming school year.

At its August 15 meeting, the Board agreed to the expenditure after Dr. John Greed, superintendent of Belleville schools, explained the Board will not incur that amount every year.

Seymour Grossman, assistant superintendent of schools, was in charge of reviewing various testing services. Dr. Greed said. The Houghton Mifflin service was chosen after the assistant superintendent had met with representatives from the company.

"After looking over the needs of the school district, Mr. Grossman recommended this particular service," Dr. Greed said. "We think it is the best available testing and scoring service."

The testing materials will be given to students once in the end of September and again at the end of the school year, in May. All students in grades K through 12 will take the tests, Dr. Greed added.

"This type of testing is long overdue," he told the board members. "Similar tests were administered to selected grades before, but overall testing is now needed."

Approximately 5,000 students will be serviced by the Houghton Mifflin service, at a cost of less than $3 per student.

"It's an average-priced test — not expensive at all," Dr. Greed said. "It will supply all of the testing needed in the school system this year, except for a few IQ tests."

The first test administered in September will be returned scored to the school system after about three weeks. It will be used for the current school year to discover deficiencies that need extra help and also special abilities that can be advanced, the superintendent said.

Testing at the end of the year will enable school officials to determine the progress made by a student through the year.

"A student can then be grouped according to his needs for the following school year," Dr. Greed noted.

Taxpayers checks being held for many by IRS

The Internal Revenue Service today announced that 5,307 federal taxpayers in New Jersey have undelivered refund checks waiting to be claimed.

Taxpayers who filed on time and have not yet received 1976 tax refunds should check with the local IRS office as soon as possible, Cornelius J. Coleman, IRS director for New Jersey explained.

The most common reason for an undelivered check, according to Coleman, is that the taxpayer has moved and left no forwarding address with the U.S. Postal Service. The check's are not kept in local IRS offices, but at IRS Disbursing Centers.

Mrs. Stephen Powell Jr. — nee Sandra Cheatham

Mr. and Mrs. William Klein — nee Dolores Ferriero

Sandra Ann Cheatham Doloress Ann Ferriero wed to Stephen N. Powell bride of William L. Klein

Second Baptist Church was the setting August 13 for the marriage of Miss Sandra Ann Cheatham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Cheatham Sr. of 26 Academy Street to Stephen Noble Powell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen N. Powell Sr. of Durham, North Carolina, and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. L. Dickerson of Montclair.

The Rev. A.E. Goldston, D.D., performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at Gateway-Downtown Inn, Newark.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of angel chiffon fashioned with a high neckline, beaded cuffs on the long sleeves and a chapel train appliqued with Venice lace.

A Juliet cap was trimmed in matching lace and she carried white carnations, roses and babies breath.

Miss Joyce Cheatham was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included other sisters, Mrs. Julia Kelly and Miss Patricia Cheatham.

of Belleville and a cousin, Miss Robin Jones of Linden.

Their gowns of blue knit were topped with printed capes and they wore forget-me-not sprays as headpieces.

Perry Knight of Montclair was best man. Ushers were Robert Taylor, Larry Cox and Robert Cox, all of Montclair and George Woods and Isaac Hayward of Newark.

Mrs. Cheatham chose an apricot chiffon gown with beaded neckline and long bishop sleeves. Her cap was of beaded chiffon leaves.

Mrs. Powell, an alumna of Belleville High School and Felician College, Lodis is a teacher in the Newark Public School System.

Mr. Powell, a graduate of Rutgers University, is an insurance investigator for Atwell, Vogel and Sterling, New York.

The couple honeymooned in the Bahamas and have made their home in Menlo Park.

Wedding vows were exchanged June 12 by Miss Dolores Ann Ferriero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Ferriero of North Arlington and William Louis Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Klein Jr. of 18 Mitchell Street, Belleville.

The Rev. John R. O'Connell performed the ceremony in Our Lady Queen of Peace Church, North Arlington. A reception followed at San Carlo Restaurant, Lyndhurst.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of white sateu and Venice lace fashioned with a keyhole neckline, bishop sleeves and attached chapel train. A matching headpiece held her fingertip veil accented with lace appliques over a long lace edged mantilla and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, daisies, miniature carnations and babies breath.

Miss Kathy Ferriero, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included the bride's sister, Miss Donna Ferriero, the groom's sister, Miss Susan Klein and Miss Susan Lotto.

They were attired in baby blue neyasta gowns accented with Venice lace and matching picture riding hats. All carried colonial bouquets of mixed spring flowers and blue babies breath.

Robert Klein was his brother's best man. Ushers were the groom's brother, Louis Klein, the bride's cousin, Charles Mondaro and Lyle Davis.

Mrs. Ferriero chose a mint green gown with a detachable chiffon capelet and wristlet of mint green cymbidium orchids. The groom's mother was in an apricot gown with a sheer handkerchief capelet and a wristlet of apricot cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Klein is an alumna of Our Lady Queen of Peace High School, North Arlington.

Mr. Klein, a graduate of Belleville High School and Jersey City State College, is a research scientist with Beecham Products, Clifton.

After a honeymoon at Paradise Island, Bahamas, the couple has made their home in North Arlington.

Miss Marilyn Mobilio engaged to Edward Breitkreitz Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Mobilio of 19 Rossmore Place announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn to Edward Breitkreitz Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Breitkreitz Sr. of Lyndhurst.

The troth was made known July 16 at Lee's Hawaiian Islander, Lyndhurst.

Miss Mobilio, an alumna of Belleville High School, received her degree this June from Douglass College.

Mr. Breitkreitz, a graduate of Bergen Tech, is an executive chef. The wedding will take place next May.

Dear Grandma,

I hope you're enjoying your vacation. I'm having fun too. School starts soon. I miss school. I miss the other kids. I can't wait to see all of them again. They must be bigger because I am. I'm going to need all new clothes. The old ones don't fit anymore. Mother lost you? You got me all those nice new tops, dresses, and that coat was great. I went shopping with Mommy the other day at Janette Nutley Center. Maybe you could look there too.

You know, Grandma, I like too get dressed up and look real pretty.

All my love, Grandma

Rotarians to learn about twin towers Minish tribute set for September 15

Development and operation of The World Trade Center in lower Manhattan will be outlined at a meeting of the Belleville Rotary club next Wednesday noon at the Chandelier, 340 Franklin Ave., John J. Collura of the Port Authority will be the guest speaker.

Collura will augment his remarks with a dramatic color slide presentation of The Trade Center, built by the Port Authority on a 16-acre site bounded by Vesey, Barclay, West, Church and Liberty Sts. With two 110-story tower buildings, and two plaza buildings and the new United States Customhouse surrounding a five-acre plaza, the Trade Center complex will consolidate in one convenient location the services of government agencies and private firms essential to the processing of this country's expanding foreign commerce.

Collura joined the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey in 1970 as an auditor. Since that time he has held positions of increasing responsibility in the comptroller's department where he now serves as the accounting supervisor responsible for the twin towers.

H&R Block opens school in September

The H & R Block Income Tax School will begin in mid-September in more than 2,000 communities across the country including Belleville and Nutley.

Enrollment is now underway with more than 50,000 students expected to register for the course. The tax school is the largest of its kind in the nation.

Classes begin in mid-September and continue 12½ weeks with 8½ hours of instruction by experienced Block personnel. The school covers application of tax laws for federal, state and local returns and students will work actual tax forms in solving problems, using H & R Block's own course materials.

The school, designed to fit individual schedules of work and family commitments, offers morning and evening sessions. Prospective students need no previous tax experience or accounting knowledge.

The $85 cost includes all texts, reference materials, tax forms, supplies, registration and tuition.

Job interviews may be offered to top graduates if desired; however, there is no obligation to seek or accept employment, the company states.

July's temperature average only slightly above normal

Record highs and lows were recorded in July, according to Raymond J. Daly of the U.S. Cooperative Weather Station at Union College.

While the high of 100 degrees on July 21 fell short of the record 101 degrees in 1966, it is the second highest recorded at the Union College Weather Station, Daly noted. The month's low of 48 degrees tied with the lowest daily temperature for July set in 1963.

Despite the reported heat wave, Daly noted the mean temperature of 75.05 degrees was only 0.75 degrees above normal. Temperatures did, however, he said, register 90 or more on 13 days of the month.

In terms of precipitation, the 1.99 inches of rain that fell in July was 3.70 inches less than normal, a little more than an inch above the record low for July rains of 0.81 inches in 1966. The greatest July rainfall on record was 13.96 inches in 1975. Total precipitation for the year through July was 23.88 inches, as opposed to the greatest snowfall in seven years, March, a record high temperature; April, extremes of heat and cold (no record), and May, the lowest rainfall in 12 years, and June, the coldest on record.

ble for tunnels and bridges revenue accounting.

He obtained a BS degree in accounting at St. John's University where he also has done graduate work. Collura is presently a director of the National Association of Accountants, New York Chapter.

He and his family live in Tallman, N.Y.

Rene Gabbari of the Belleville Rotary Club scheduled Wednesday's presentation through the Port Authority's Speakers Bureau, One World Trade Center, Room 68W, New York, N.Y. 10048.

Marty Venieri of Nutley and Sidney M. Weinstein of West Orange will serve as co-chairman of a "tribute dinner" to Congressman Joseph G. Minish Sept. 15.

The event, planned at the Town and Campus, West Orange, will honor Minish, representative of the 11th District which includes both Nutley and Belleville.

Venieri is president of the Industrial Union Council while Weinstein has long been a leader in the New Jersey Jewish community.

The chairman report "Congressman Minish will be recognized by the State of Israel and the Israel Bond Organization for his consistent efforts on behalf of Israel and the Jewish people during the entire 15 years of his tenure in the United States Congress." Recently, the Congressman was among the first to introduce legislation against the Arab boycott and he has also been active in trying to secure the release of Russian Jews.

A resident of West Orange, Minish recently was named chairman of the House Banking and Currency Sub-Committee on General Oversight and Renegotiation.

Bruins eliminated from Essex tourney

By MIKE COREY

Despite an opening round win in the best of three semi-final playoff series, the Belleville Bruins dropped the next two games to South Orange last week and were eliminated from the Essex County Baseball League Tournament.

The Bruins tossed out the regular season with a 20-12 record and an overall mark on the year of 21-14.

The local hard ball squad closed out the season in second place a half game behind league leading Cedar Grove.

The Times/News will feature a complete wrapup of the Bruin year including individual player statistics in next week's issue.

Saturday the Belleville bombers finished out the season at home on the BHS field falling to the South Orange nine 4-2.

Fireballing Bruin hurler Steve Whacker (5-5) notched a team high of 13 strikeouts allowing nine hits and two walks in posting the complete game.

The rubber game of the playoff contest slated for a neutral field was played in Belleville because Friday's game under the lights in Union ended after 11 p.m. and there was not enough time to make arrangements to compete on another diamond, explained Bruin scorekeeper Daniel Dunn.

The visitors bunched four runs in the top of the seventh to take the lead they would never relinquish. A double, a triple, a pair of walks and a single provided the fireworks which knocked the home club out of the post season playoff picture.

Belleville scored twice in their half of the eighth but it was too little too late. Bruin infielder Kevin Goy led off the frame with a base on balls. Tony Roselli followed suit by reaching on a walk. Left-fielder Danny Dunn capitalized on the South Orange hurler's wildness and notched an rbi with a single. First sacker Dennis Astrella then drove in what proved to be the final run of the '77 season for the home club when he clubbed a two-bagger.

Southpaw pitcher Bill MacDonald (1-1) fell victim to some shoddy fielding and lackluster hitting as South Orange outdistanced the Belleville diamonds, 6-1, Friday night under the lights in Union.

The left-handed Belleville moundsman pitched the complete game striking out nine, walking one and allowing five hits.

The South Orange offense, with a little help from the Belleville defense, drew first scoring blood in the initial inning pushing across three runs on only one base hit.

Three errors in the frame sandwiched between a double by South Orange's Byron provided the ingredients for the early lead.

The thunder of the South Orange bats could be heard once again in the fourth

Alignment slips twice on Island

Joe's Alignment scored 29 runs in two games but came out on the short end both times as the Belleville slow-pitch squad was eliminated from the regional tournament in Baldwin, Long Island.

Despite a Ruthian slugging performance by the home club's Ed "Turk" Salvesen, who slammed four round trippers and knocked in nine runs, the Alignment men dropped the opening round of the regional double elimination playoffs Friday, August 12, to Levitt Town Legion, 34-16.

"We scored more runs in losing in that first round than any other team did in winning with the exception of Levitt Town," pointed out one Joe's Alignment player, Butch Pavel.

The Legionnaires of Levitt Town, however, opened up some heavy artillery of its own powering 14 home runs in the 9 p.m. kickoff contest.

Heavy rains forced the remaining weekend games to be postponed until last weekend. The Belleville squad lost again to Casino Rest of Rochester, N.Y., 15-13, and was eliminated from the tourney.

Belleville outfielder Pete DeSimone collected five hits on five trips to the plate in the losing effort including a four bagger for the local club.

Among the eight teams participating in the tournament, besides Belleville and Rochester, were Tops Metro of Buffalo, Legion of Long Island, Sonny's of Long Island, Trenton Caps of New Jersey, Brothers AC from New York City and Summer Lawn of Syracuse.

"It was an experience competing in the tournament," said Pavel. "The field itself (the Baldwin Complex) is really impressive."

The complex has four ball diamonds and is equipped with lockers and a shower, added Pavel.

Olympic lifter set for convention clinic

Olympian Phil Gripaldi of Belleville is slated to be on hand at the New Jersey Kiwanis convention September 10 in Atlantic City to give a weightlifting demonstration to emphasize the plight of the amateur American athlete hoping to compete in the Olympic Games.

The appearance by Gripaldi, as well as other athletes at the convention, was formulated by the Belleville Kiwanis Club in order to focus attention and further the cause of Olympic athletes seeking sponsors to help defray the expenses incurred while competing in meets across the country.

The project is spearheaded by the Belleville Kiwanis Club Athletic Development Committee and is under the direction of club president Vinnie Sorrentino and chairman Bucky Cairo.

The Belleville Kiwanis has sponsored five weightlifters plus a coach to the Amateur Athletic Union Junior National competition in Colorado and one lifter who qualified for the AAU Senior Nationals in California.

"It is our idea to have our type of sponsorship program spread throughout Kiwanis clubs across the nation as well as other organizations and companies," stated Sorrentino.

The Belleville Kiwanis has the backing and the sanction of Kiwanis International with this project, added the local club president.

In Atlantic City Gripaldi will demonstrate the various types of lifting done for developing different muscles for different sports. The mini-weightlifting clinic will be conducted in Haddon Hall

Clippers nip stars for Quigley Fund

A dramatic three run rally in the home half of the final frame gave the Junior League Clippers a 19-18 victory over the Junior League All-Stars in Sunday's Richard Quigley Benefit game at Clearmen Field.

A check for $406 was presented to Mrs. Donna Quigley between innings of the afternoon contest which drew a crowd of over 150 people.

"It was a great team effort on the part of both clubs," stated Clippers coach Morris Renna, president of the Junior League Coaches Association and one of the prime movers of the fund. "And a day of enjoyment for everyone attending the game."

Richard Quigley is a member of the Bombers of the Junior League this season and was struck by a car on Greylock Parkway July 31.

The nine-year-old youngster suffered a concussion, a fractured skull and a broken wrist and hip in the accident and is currently recovering in Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. The fund was established to help defray some of the cost of medical expenses.

"We would like to thank members of the Belleville Junior League Coaches Association for their effort as well as the young boys and girls who went out and collected money for the cause," stated Renna. "We would also like to thank the umpires of Sunday's game, Joe Guarino, Tom Morano, Bob Malack and Mike Limongello, for donating their time."

According to the association president, the players in the league have been out collecting donations in Newark for the fund. Belleville does not allow this type of collections here, he added.

The youngsters travel in groups of four and are under adult supervision, said Renna.

The Junior League All-Stars jumped off to an early 3-0 lead in the top half of the first inning of the Sunday exhibition but the Clippers, champs of the American division of the league, battled back to take the advantage with four runs in their part of the opening frame.

The All-Stars offensive unit scored four more times in the second, highlighted by the power hitting of Peter Arancio and Vinnie Sorce who each clubbed inside the park home runs in the inning.

The junior stars kept pouring it on, scoring six more times in the fifth but the Clippers rebounded back into the contest with eight runs of their own in the home half of the frame.

The Clippers outburst was sparked by a bases loaded triple by Patty Thompson along with key hits by Tracy Buono, Martin Lutz, Anthony Tramtola and Donald and Donna Brooks.

Trailing 18-16 going into their last at bats in the bottom of the seventh, the stage was set for the theatrical finish.

The late-inning rally began when Anthony Tramtola was hit by a pitch and Frankie Demverno and Donna Brooks both reached base on walks. A sacrifice fly, right fielder Frankie Mosca made a sensational diving catch on, sent one run across home plate.

The All-Star outfielder, Mosca, took away a base hit and saved the game from being over right then, when he made the diving grab in right center field.

The circus catch, however, only prolonged what seemed the inevitable. Greg Pertervo walked to refoad the bags and Bryan Thompson delivered the deciding blow when he doubled to knock in the tying and winning runs.

Other standouts for the junior star squad, in the game, include hurlers Robert Balchune and Louis Colavito along with centerfielder Greg Carpenter who turned a fine defensive play.

The All-Stars were managed by Peter Arancio Sr. and his son Frank and the Clippers were coached by Morris Renna, Joe DeFabio and Bruce Melson.

The uniforms worn by the All-Stars were donated by Chapter 22 of the Nutley-Belleville Disabled American War Veterans and the Bel-

where the main convention body will be housed.

The Belleville body builder will hold the demonstrations at various times during the day and the Kiwanis Club invites anyone in the area to attend.

Last June the local club also sponsored and coordinated a weightlifting competition at Belleville High which featured many of the top lifters in the Eastern United States. Five new American records were set at that meet.

Plans are currently being made to sponsor another such competition next year but details are still ironed out, said Sorrentino.

when with one down Bradley singled following a base on balls. Krause walked and Byron singled.

The Orange men of the South scored one more time in the eighth when Evangelista singled, Hunn was hit by a pitch and Wanemacker singled.

The Bruins left five men stranded on the baps in the contest and posted five fielding errors.

Belleville scored its only tally of the game in the eighth when with two down catcher Tom Scull singled, John Gurarino walked and designated hitter Mike Spurduto singled.

The home team County Club got off to a great start in the semi-final round with a 11-4 victory against South Orange in Bloomfield last Thursday.

Bruin mound ace Gus Hernandez notched the complete game win chalking up seven strikeouts, walking four and allowing seven hits to gain the ninth victory against only one loss. He leads the league in won-lost percentage.

Belleville started its offensive assault early with three runs in the first frame. Centerfielder Tommy Wise led off the playoffs with a walk and promptly placed himself in scoring position by swiping second. With two outs, Roselli made the larceny pay off when he singled him home to break the ice.

Spurduto and Guarino each followed with hits of their own and when the smoke cleared from the ravaged base paths the Bruins had taken an early three to zip advantage.

In the second inning Rocky Gurarino reached on a base on balls to start off the frame. He stole second and went to third on a sacrifice fly by shogstop Kevin Goy. Roselli singled, scoring the "G" man and Astrella walked.

Dunn doubled home two more runs as the Bruins of Belleville jumped off to a commanding 6-0 lead.

South Orange came back with two runs in the fourth on a pair of singled and a triple by Evangelista but the Belleville offense countered the mini-uprising with a run of its own in the fourth on a single by Wise and a two-bagger by Roselli.

Roselli opened up the sixth inning for the Bruins with his fourth hit of the game. Dunn walked. A double steal put both runners in scoring position for Johnny G who delivered with a single to collect the easy pair of ribbys.

The Southern diamonders scored twice more in their half of the sixth on a walk followed by a home run by Schumann to end the Orangemen's scoring for the day.

Chipper Biafore kept the frame alive with a single to knock in another run and Rocky G followed with another hit notching another run batted in.

The post season County tourney pits the top four teams in the six club league against one another. The opening semi-final round matches the second place squad with the third place team and the first place club against the fourth place finisher.

Clairidge LINCOLN MERCURY

PRESENTS THE ALL NEW VERSAILLES

Engineering made it happen. Now, a car with a 110-inch wheelbase, with a superb luxury car ride.

Now there is a luxury car similar in size to the finest European luxury cars, with the smooth, quiet, distinctly luxurious ride of an American luxury car. It is the new Lincoln Versailles and, like the bridging of a river, the construction of a tower, its ride is true engineering achievement.

Test drive Lincoln Versailles. You will quickly understand its uniqueness, and the many benefits of its engineering, in the Lincoln Continental tradition.

Emergency ordinance appears appropriate

preparing the necessary ordinances has been Town Clerk Eugene Barnett who has taken it upon himself to try and coordinate Belleville's case with the Division of Local Government in Trenton.

Up until this week, Mayor Michael Marotti and other Commissioners were reluctant to go along with declaring the "fiscal emergency." However Barnett explained he had several conversations with Trenton, and while officials there wouldn't rule on the validity of Belleville's "emergency," the Division of Local Government reportedly told Town Hall to proceed as planned.

"I spoke with a Mr. George Legner of the Auditing Department in Trenton," Barnett told the Times/News this week. "He advised us to go ahead and pass the emergency ordinance and then to submit three copies to Trenton along with various certified papers."

Barnett said the Division of Local Government "told me on the telephone they will review our ordinance and then schedule a hearing."

A hearing? What kind of a hearing? "I don't know — I suppose they will call some of us down and look into why we have this problem," the Town Clerk said.

"They did tell me one thing," Barnett continued. "They told us to be sure and not spend one cent of this money until they have given their approval."

With Trenton monitoring the Belleville progression of events, Mayor Marotti and others cautiously proceeded with the "fiscal emergency" route and adopted the local legislation by a unanimous 5-0 vote.

Sunday sales banned here

wake up and get the hell out of it." "The whole thing should be constitutionally done," Anthony Di Paolo, 49 Center St., said. "We should have home rule and let each individual person decide whether or not to have his store open. Free enterprise is 90 per cent of ownership."

Mrs. Senatore noted that the stores knew that they could not open Sundays when they decided to move into Belleville.

"I think we were negligent in our duties as a complete body, regardless of who voted for it or not," summarized Saletta after the meeting. "The other commissioners heard the town attorney say the Supreme Court case has no bearing on us and that's what ticks me off."

Emergency aid at firehouses

firemen take out the ambulance while the rest man the trucks, pointed out Chief Sbarra.

Belleville's top fireman also noted the money for the medical supplies and equipment comes out of the fire fighters part of the Public Safety Commissioner's budget.

"If the people around town would like they can even come into their closest fire station and if the firemen are available, have their blood pressure checked free of charge," Sbarra offered.

Paterson College purchases 16.8 acres for its campus

William Paterson College has increased the size of its campus by acquiring 16.8 acres of land from Greater Paterson General Hospital. The college has given top priority to raise funds for construction of new dormitories.

Contiguous to the 250-acre campus, the hospital land is adjacent to College Road in the western portion of the campus in Wayne. Other parts of the campus are within the municipalities of Haledon and North Haledon. Purchase of the property completes negotiations which began in 1972.
