Westlake named new high school principal

Upon accepting the resignation of Raymond O. Smith, principal of Belleville High School, the Belleville School Board appointed John Westlake acting principal, effective September 1.

Westlake has been vice principal at the high school the past 12 years. His appointment is temporary, extending until November 30, when a permanent appointment must be made by the School Board.

Westlake, who was born and raised in Belleville, was graduated with a bachelor's degree in physical education from Seton Hall University, South Orange.

He was awarded a master's degree in secondary school administration from Columbia University and took additional courses at the graduate level in guidance at Seton Hall.

In 1956, Westlake came to Belleville High School as a physical education instructor. In the subsequent years, he coached basketball there and served as a counselor.

"When the new school opened 12 years ago, I became a full-time administrator," he said. "Under the direction of the principal, Mr. Smith, I dealt primarily with discipline."

Now Westlake is faced with a job which he noted includes everything and anything. "Everything that goes on in the school is the principal's responsibility — it is an all-encompassing job," he said. "Scheduling, guidance and problems with teachers and custodians all must be checked by the principal."

Westlake mentioned that he would like to become more involved in classroom activities through the coming months.

"I hope to expand the teacher-rating and observation that became active last year," he said, "as well as meet with students to see more of what's going on within the high school."

He said he is not sure if the superintendent of schools intends to appoint someone to take over the duties he performed as vice principal of the high school.

Westlake added that, "Although this position is a temporary one, I have applied for the permanent opening as high school principal, which must be filled by December 1."

As of that date, the resignation of Smith becomes effective. Until then, he will stay on as a consultant to the high school should any problems arise.

Smith also will be working with the New Jersey Secondary and Elementary School Principals in Trenton starting this month.

His resignation marks the end of a 36-year career with the Belleville educational system.

He began his career here as a social studies teacher at School No. 8 in 1941 before moving to the head of that department.

School Trustees exchange blows

By Mary Freeman

A fistfight between two members of the Belleville Board of Education at Monday night's meeting marked the fourth time trustees have come to blows in the past five months.

Trustee Ralph Risoli said he intends to write a letter to Board President Caesar Romano asking for police protection at all future Board of Education meetings.

Risoli said the police protection is necessary because he believes his life is in jeopardy.

"The public is keeping order very nicely," he said. "It is the Board members who are violent."

Risoli's request was sparked by an apparent attack on him by Trustee Lawrence Schwartz.

The fracas began when Risoli refused to sit in private session for a discussion of employees. He questioned the necessity of going into private session at all unless it is a matter of vital importance, like a rape case, that must be discussed.

In the hallway outside the Board's chambers, Schwartz explained to Risoli that it is a Board policy to go into private session whenever a discussion of personnel takes place.

Risoli countered by calling Schwartz

"yellow" and said he didn't care what the policy was — that all meetings should be out in the open for the public to hear.

Risoli said Schwartz then called him a f--- and had to be restrained by Board members Michael Chieffo, Matthew Pica and Richard Mahmarian.

"I told them to let him loose," Risoli said. "Schwartz kept saying 'Let me at him.' Let me at him."

He said Schwartz attacked a board member on one previous occasion and that since Risoli has been sitting on the Board, two other fights have erupted.

Earlier in the meeting, Schwartz told Risoli that he listened to him only two per cent of the time.

"He said he pays attention to me only two per cent of the time — in other words, I mean nothing on that Board."

Please see "Risoli" on page 4.

Drop in students forcing staff cut

Enrollment in Belleville's elementary, junior and high schools has dropped considerably in the last five years.

Dr. John Greed, superintendent of Belleville schools, estimated schools here teach 500 students less than in 1972. Dr. Greed added that the number is declining even more this year.

"The exact enrollment for this year is unpredictable," he said. "I will have a figure sometime after the first week of school, though."

The superintendent said the number of kindergarten pupils definitely is down, probably by one class size. That means a decrease of approximately 25 youngsters.

He added that a reduction in enrollment usually means a smaller class size and more individual instruction.

"Class size is small in the elementary schools here and favorable in the senior high," he said. "It's the junior high where we have a problem class size."

Personnel has been drained from areas in the elementary and senior high schools where it is unnecessary and put in the junior high school, the superintendent noted.

"Five teachers left this year and were not replaced because we don't need as many people," Dr. Greed said. "Belleville schools probably will go down a couple of staff members next year, too."

School 3 won't be ready Wednesday

Although every contractor working on the building is ahead of schedule, School No. 3 will not be ready in time for the opening of school September 7.

School principal Austin MacArthur said he has no criticism of any kind for the contractors because they all have been bending over backwards to complete the school as soon as possible.

"At times during June and July, we thought the school might be completed in time for a September opening," MacArthur said. "That was an outside hope. We always had a plan to continue classes at the three churches until the building was completed."

Superintendent of Schools Dr. John Greed said he has received no complaints about the school not opening in time for the new school year.

"It wouldn't be fair for people to complain that the school is not opening because it actually isn't scheduled for completion until around Christmas," Dr. Greed said.

The superintendent said there is a chance the building will be ready by October.

MacArthur is contacting the homeroom mothers who will notify parents of all children attending the school as to grade assignments.

Grades one through four will attend classes in the 1955 portion of the school which was not destroyed by fire. Ten classrooms are available there for the students — four regular classrooms and six areas that have been partitioned within the gymnasium.

Morning and afternoon sessions of the kindergarten will be located in Bethany Church, at the corner of Joramelon and New Sts.

Fewsmith Church, corner of Union Ave. and Little St., will house the fifth grade, while sixth-graders will attend classes at Christ Church, corner of Washington Ave. and Essex St.

Books remained packed in the churches all summer in readiness for the coming school year, MacArthur noted.

Vandals hit old cemetery

Vandals struck twice last week in St. Peter's Cemetery overturning grave markers and damaging headstones some more than 100 years old, Belleville Police reported.

According to St. Peter's caretaker Jeffery Jaronan, more than eight gravestones were knocked over and broken either late Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning.

Vandals invaded the cemetery again Friday night, authorities said.

"This is the first time something like this has happened in awhile," said the Rev. Robert O'Leary of St. Peter's Church. The last incident of vandalism in the cemetery occurred about two years ago, he recalled.

According to the priest the tombstones will have to be repaired or replaced by the survivors of the deceased.

Juvenile Detective John Marotti is investigating the case.

Sit for pledge, sit for judge, Trustee says

Richard Mahmarian, member of the Belleville Board of Education, asked the Board to back a recommendation that citizens not be required to stand up when a judge enters a court of law.

Belleville's delegate to the New Jersey School Boards Association (NJSBA), Mahmarian made his request at Monday night's meeting of the School Board.

"Who is a judge that he demands us to rise before him as a hallowed person when Judge Meador rules that a young misguided girl does not have to stand for the Pledge of Allegiance?" the Trustee questioned.

Mahmarian referred to the recent decision by U.S. District Court Judge H. Curtis Meador ruling that 16-year-old Debora Lipp of Mountain Lakes be allowed to sit during the Pledge of Allegiance.

"This young girl does not have to 100 percent accept the United States, but she, along with all citizens, has an obligation to pledge her utmost allegiance to this country," Mahmarian said.

Trustee Matthew Pica agreed 100 percent with Mahmarian, and both James and Ralph Risoli, board members, said the Board should act to support the Trustee and give him the right to state his recommendation in Trenton.

Mahmarian wants to go to the legislature and present a recommendation from the entire Board citing its disagreement with the recent decision by Judge Meador and its suggestion that a law be passed that citizens not stand when the judge enters court.

Trustee Lawrence Schwartz suggested that it would be better for the Board to recommend that all citizens stand before the flag instead of them not standing before a judge.

He noted that it was only last year that the Belleville Board of Education reinstituted a salute to the flag in the high school. Before the Board's ruling that Belleville High School students salute to the flag on a daily basis, it wasn't being done, he added.

Board President Caesar Romano ended the discussion when he suggested that the Board continue its discussion of the matter at its next meeting.

School 3 will have a cheery, new look

Pupils attending classes in the 1955 portion of School No. 3 and in three nearby churches will be surrounded by a bright, modern decor when they finally are welcomed into the new School No. 3 sometime this fall.

Four color combinations illuminate the new school with freshness and life inside while a medium brown brick covers the building's facade.

"It's a very simple building," School Principal Austin MacArthur said on a tour through the still unfinished school. He added that no frills were included in the new building, largely because of financial limitations.

Cinder block and sheetrock walls are covered with yellows, oranges, pinks and blues, with the color combinations separated in four wings of the building.

Bookcases have been color-coordinated with the walls of the classrooms, MacArthur said. The bookcases were retrieved from the portion of the building destroyed by the fire more than one-and-a-half years ago.

Adjustable desks have been purchased, he added. They will be used by grades one through six, set at a level appropriate for the grade in which they are being utilized.

A ramp leads from the 1955 section of the school to the new building, MacArthur noted.

"The state mandates that such provisions be made for the handicapped," he said. "The work would have had to be done within two years, so we decided to do it when the school was being built rather than at some later date."

Another provision included especially for the handicapped is an elevator operated by a hydraulic lift system.

"The elevator will not be used for faculty members and staff," the principal said. "It is only for those students who are unable to use the stairs."

As a special safety device, a buzzer warns occupants of the elevator that the door is about to close.

Most of the space on the second floor of the new building is occupied by classrooms, while the lower level houses classrooms plus the school library and administrative offices.

A music and art room also is situated on this lower level. To maximize the use of the new room, music will be taught Monday, Wednesday and Friday while art periods will be scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday.

Stockrooms adjacent to the room will store musical instruments and art supplies, MacArthur said.

The school's public address system has been set up in this lower area. By switching a lever, MacArthur said he can communicate with any classroom in the school.

"The teacher will know when I want to speak with her or with the class, by a button that lights up in the classroom," he said. "This eliminates someone listening in on a class without the teacher's knowledge of it."

Dystrophy carnival planned tomorrow

A carnival and mini-flea market, all to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation, is planned for tomorrow at 122 Union Ave., near the corner of Belleville Ave.

Roseanne Glaser, who is coordinating the activity, says persons wishing to donate used toys or items for the flea market may telephone 751-4957. "If they call, I will be glad to pick up anything anyone wants to donate," she says.

The carnival is planned from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. and will feature games, prizes, the mini-flea market, drinks and clowns.

'Hands-on' science program comes to Belleville's elementary schools

This year children in Belleville's elementary schools will learn science through a new, contemporary approach developed by a group of researchers under a grant from the National Science Foundation.

The program, which Belleville has purchased from the Rand-McNally Co., is called SCIS, an acronym for Science Curriculum Improvement Study.

"SCIS is a comprehensive program which gives youngsters a look into the various areas of science," Seymour Grossman, assistant superintendent of Belleville schoools, said.

He continued, "Pupils learn about the life and the physical sciences through the program. General science, chemistry, physics and biology are all taught at various levels of the system."

No textbooks will be used for science in any of the elementary schools here, he said. Pupils learn through a "hands-on" curriculum which emphasizes experiments performed by the child and coordinated by the teacher.

"Along with the child the teacher will be a seeker for what is going to occur," Grossman said. "That means the teacher and the pupils must work together."

In-service workshops for teachers have been arranged throughout the coming school year, the assistant superintendent said.

"Workshops already have been coordinated by Rand-McNally science consultants Dr. Harris Goldberg, New York University, and Dr. Joel Berger, City College of New York, Richmond campus," he said. "In June, principals of all Belleville elementary schools were familiarized with the program at an in-service day."

Children will work with live animals like frogs and preying mantises. They also will be taught the hunter and the prey system that works in ecology, Grossman noted.

Depending on the level, children will have their own terrariums and aquariums with which to discover the phenomena of science.

"We expect the parent reaction to be one of curiosity and wonder when they see their children coming home excited about the program," the assistant superintendent said.

Children will be working in groups of three or four with live animals and they will be learning concepts in a contemporary manner so there's bound to be excitement and interest in the program, he added.

Grossman said teachers initially expressed interest in this particular program after a two-year study by Belleville into a variety of science programs.

"The program cost $27,000 for the initial outlay," Grossman said. "In three years, that amount will equalize with the price of textbooks for the same period of time."

In other words, Grossman said, there is no actual cost of the program after the initial outlay, except for refills of materials that have run out.

"The program can be taught right in the science rooms that each school has so there is no cost for extra equipment. The kit will fit into a regular classroom," he said, and pupils can take experiments out of drawers that are specially marked for easy reference.

Leo Fallon, New Jersey consultant for Rand-McNally, noted that the SCIS service meets all the guidelines for a thorough and efficient education (T & E).

"We feel that SCIS meets the needs of every student in grades K through six through this type of science curriculum," Fallon said. "The scientific concepts and vocabulary built up by the child must be better than those learned by traditional methods."

Fallon said the statistics were compiled during a two-year evaluation of the SCIS program by a group of researchers at the University of Southern California at Berkeley.

One addition Grossman sees as a possibility is a house coordinator of the program in Belleville. Should any teacher within the Belleville school system have a question regarding SCIS, he would be able to turn to the house coordinator for assistance.

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

The Office on Aging of Essex County under the aegis of Director Bernard Gallagher has notified us that there will be hearings on a needs program for seniors in the county. This is an annual happening and is done in accordance with the regulations of the Older Americans Act 1965.

The proposals for the projects in aging in Essex County for 1978 will be discussed and accepted at the Office on Aging until October 1, 1977 where they will be reviewed by the staff to determine their feasibility in light of identified priorities and available allocations. There will be a series of public hearings held throughout Essex County in September and testimony will be given by leaders of the many seniors groups.

From these hearings will come a determination of the more worthy and needy programs, it is then up to the Essex County Office on Aging to plan and develop the senior services. Money is allocated and hopefully spent on those programs that have the highest priorities and are the most important to the needs of seniors. We do hope that the existing programs now being funded by the county will continue. We have in mind the nutritional program and the many instructive classes offered by the Senior Services of the Essex County College, transportation should also be high on the needs list as well as the much needed Seniors Housing. The hearings being held in our area will be at the Civic Center in Bloomfield on Wednesday, September 21 at 10 a.m.

Senior leaders in the county have a duty to attend these hearings and let their needs be known for it is only by expressing their wishes on these matters that requirements can be established. We will be watching with much interest.

GOLDEN COMMENTS: Overreaction to Romano affair

While neither condoning nor over looking the importance of some little things, at the very best this furor about School Board President Romano's three pieces of wood in pot. Even more ridiculous is referral of the matter to the County prosecutor's office. Can anyone imagine that busy office, with all the crime in Essex County, getting involved in a $7.03 imbroglio?

We learn of Bert Lance's improprieties in bank over drafts and other questionable banking policies and hear and watch President Carter on TV stoutly defend his appointees as having done nothing illegal or unethical. In fact, Carter admits to having himself made overdrafts. still the skies haven't fallen and nobody seems headed for the "slammer."

Mr. Romano has admitted to an impropriety. He has been editorially chided for a stupid act and called upon by others to resign for his supposed "sin" and his pillorying continues. Why?

Could it be because there are many people in town who believe Mr. Romano is a protégé of Commissioner Mary Senatore, whom they fear may influence actions of the school board in matters such as teacher assignments, etc?

Is it a well conceived plan to "do in" and board's Vice-President, Jim Risoli, also, in a plot to defeat Mrs. Senatore's supposedly supported candidates? Many surmise this may be so.

Rumored indications of Viola Spray's waiting in the wings for another shot at getting back on the school board in next year's early election are rampant with indications of strong support for her return.

Mr. Romano appears to be as much a victim of "politics" as NYC's Mayor Beame claims he is, in the timing of the Security Exchange Committee report.

If nothing else, politics in Belleville is an exciting and alarming undertaking.

There is scant wonder why so many are clamoring for "boss" Rega to take a stand in this upcoming school board battle. His track record is good in electing candidates to the board. His support of Ralph Risoli played a big part in this year's upset victory of the board's newest member. Now the pressure is being applied from all sides for his support. He knows it. He's like the runner caught off base between second and third. He's a "pickle" and they are trying to run him down.

Rega has, in the past, resorted to an open letter attack on school trustee Mrs. Spray on a charge of nepotism. Now he is being beleaguered to pursue a similar campaign against what many contend amounts to just about the same thing because of alleged predilection being shown to a prominent town official's offspring, by some school board assignments.

This offers a serious dilemma for the "boss." If he doesn't act his shining armor will be tarnished. If he does act, which he must, he'll soon learn it isn't the best way to win friends and influence people, but what else can he do?

Come on Rega. Stand up and be counted. Show the people you're a guy with guts. This is the way leaders are born. If they live. Good luck Jackie.

Smith resigns after 36 years in schools ment at the high school in 1950.

He became vice principal of the high school in 1957 and then left Belleville to spend three years in Manville as principal of the high school there.

His return to Belleville High School as principal in 1962 began an era that is ending this fall. Smith pioneered in scheduling the high school by computer only one year after he returned to the Belleville system.

Active in the Middle States Association of Secondary Schools, the former principal authored curriculum guides for courses in data processing and in computer technology.

During his years at Belleville, he served as assistant coach for the basketball and football teams, coach of the tennis team, newspaper and class advisor and instructor in the Belleville Adult School.

The former principal will be feted at a dinner October 7.

Risoli and Schwartz Battle

he noted. "I am a little smarter than he is, though."

Risoli said he intends to expose the Board gradually and that there are many unanswered questions about it.

"I am going to press charges against Schwartz," he said. "I am 60-years-old and he could have killed me if he wasn't held back."

He said he will charge him with assault.

At future meetings, Risoli plans to bring up a resolution that trustees be appointed by the Commissioners rather than elected by the people of Belleville.

"I have not talked with the mayor," he said, "but I have had this on my mind for the past two months, and I feel that it would be best for all concerned — the children, taxpayers and all personnel."

The Concord

The British-French supersonic jetliner, known to the public as the Concorde, is a mode of transportation that should receive a fair trial.

The Port Authority of New York and New Jersey has banned its use at New York's Kennedy Airport. Without a London/New York or Paris/New York scheduled flight arrangement, the Concorde will have a hard time justifying itself economically.

A few people living in the area of Kennedy Airport have used their political muscle to blackmail public officials into a do-nothing posture.

As a result, the British and French governments have had to resort to the courts to obtain the legal right for the Concorde to make the New York run on a trial basis. All that the British and French governments are asking is to give the Concorde a fair trial. Fair trial is an American institution, and it should not be denied to the Concorde. If in actual practice the Concorde registered a decibel count that is untenable, we believe the British and French governments on their own initiative will withdraw the plane from commercial service.

The Port Authority of New York and New Jersey should change its "flight pattern" and get out of the courts and onto the runway with the Concorde. The sooner the better. The court action is costing hundreds of thousands of dollars — millions to the French and British governments — all because of the delays arising from the various court actions. In the end the United States Supreme Court will undoubtedly vote to permit the Concorde to land at Kennedy Airport. This may prove to be a costly misadventure for the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey — and should not be tolerated.

Pros and cons on returning to school

Helen's thing

by Helen Maguire

MOTHERS ALL OVER Belleville and Nutley are keenly aware of one fact: school starts next week. After 70 or so days of the quartet's company, I face their return to the halls of learning with mixed emotions.

On the negative side, I will miss the long, lazy days of summer, and sleeping later than usual (much later!). In fact, the kids and I have turned into such bed lovers that Rod, returning from New York one morning and finding us still sacked out, queried what had happened to his early rising brood. I couldn't speak for the offspring but explained that, not bidden to get up by an impending school bell, the mother responded only when duty called or danger.

I SHALL ALSO miss the casual dress of summer when shorts and halats or "seen better days" polos replace decent pants, shirts and dresses. There is no hassle when a child can wear anything out of a drawer that covers his frame and know that mother is not going to care if the top matches the bottom or the stripes go with the polka dots.

The "eat when and if you're hungry" approach to lunch also vanishes with back to the books. As long as you eat breakfast and appear for dinner during July and August, lunch is up to you in this house. I've never had a kid starve on me yet and reason that if you're old enough to ride a two wheeler, you're old enough to know if you need nourishment at noon. I find this approach only works, however, if you eliminate junk foods from your cupboard. I don't stock them myself, illustrated aptly the other night when Ryan, looking for an after dinner snack, had to settle for the leftover salad (which he did quite willingly).

ON THE POSITIVE SIDE, I will have two small segments of time each day to myself with only Sam and the cats for company. Mothers who anticipate long empty hours when the last of the children go off to school soon learn that long hours only materialize if all of them eat in school. Otherwise by the time you get the dishes washed and the beds made and a load of laundry in the machine, it's time to think of feeding the multitude.

Eliminated, hopefully, will be the constant refrain, "I have nothing to do," or its companion "Nobody wants to play with me," or worse yet, "Here comes the ice cream man. Why CAN'T I have lemon ice three days in a row?"

ROD AND I will also have the pleasure of sharing the quartet's excitement the first day, listening to them detail who is in their classes and how super their teacher is etc. etc. and we smile at each other and are glad that they are enthusiastic about this school business. They've got a long way to go!

Junior women, Belleville Lions sponsor vision, hearing tests

The Junior Women's Club of Belleville and the Belleville Lions Club recently sponsored a free vision and hearing screening test for preschoolers. Approximately 150 children were tested at the Montgomery Presbyterian Church.

The purpose of the program was to discover amblyopia or "lazy eye" and other problems in eyesight and impaired hearing that go undetected in preschool years. It was also to alert parents of children with eye and hearing problems to the need for a complete physical examination and the necessary follow-up treatment.

Mrs. Jane Thompson of the Belleville Junior Women's Club and Frank Picone of the Lions Club served as chairmen of the program.

The New Jersey State Commission for the Blind set up the vision portion of the screening and graduate students from the audiology department of Montclair State College conducted the hearing discrimination tests.

Ear Screening — Michael McGough has his hearing tested by Mrs. Talia Gottlieb, audiologist, Donald Bowden and Frank Picone, project chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmine DeMaio — nee Patricia Marbach

Patricia Marbach bride of Carmine A. DeMaio

St. Thomas the Apostle Church, Bloomfield, was the setting August 6 for the marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Marbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Marbach of Bloomfield to Carmine Anthony DeMaio III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmine G. DeMaio Jr. of Fairfield.

The Rev. Msgr. Joseph Marbach performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at The Chanticleer, Millburn.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of Alencon lace over organza with an empire bodice and full princess train embroidered with pearls and iridescents.

A matching headpiece held her three tier illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses, orchids and babies breath.

Mrs. Deborah Barowski, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Susan Capasso, Mrs. Sandra Olzak, sister of the groom and Ms. Charise Salomone and Paula Marbach, cousins of the bride.

Their tunic gowns of peach Qiana were complemented with natural straw hats.

Michael Olzak served as best man. Users were John Barowski and cousins of the groom, Nicholas Lucarella Jr., Joseph Virgilio and Louis Grasso Jr.

The couple honeymooned in San Francisco, Hawaii and Las Vegas.

Processional Preview Stalwart parishioners of St. Anthony's Parish carry down the statue of St. Bartolomeo from the church steps to begin the processional march up and down the streets of the Silver Lake section of Belleville.

Rising Expectations Robert and Christopher Curcio look upward for a little guidance at a sharp turn on the Whip. Rides, games and food were the order of the day two weekends ago at the St. Bartolomeo Festival on Heckel St. Festivities began at 4 p.m. last Saturday and ended midnight the next day.

Frank Bank & Gene Tardien pedal a little bit of "Americana" at the celebration in honor of the Saint. Sausages, pizza, nuts, Italian pastries and candies were also available from concessionaires.

Belleville celebrates St. Bartolomeo Feast

Parishioner Parade Members of St. Anthony's manned the float, as towns people kept with tradition by pinning money onto the replica of St. Bartolomeo.

Tiny Donation Trayman Gerald DeMeo collects a donation from a young Silver Laker as the procession pushed on throughout the district of the town.

Happy Days Dina Conway reflects with her smile the fun of the feast experienced by many of the children who attended.

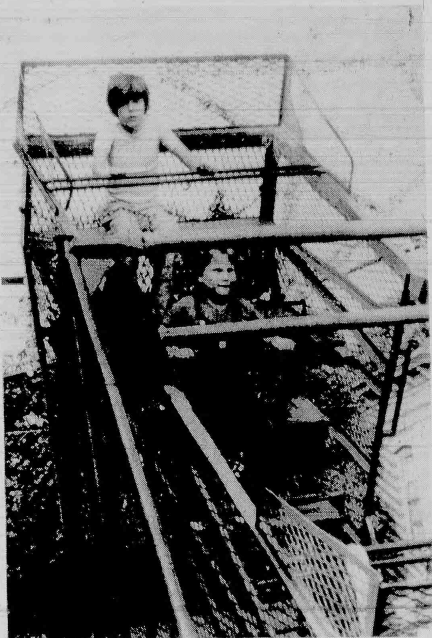

Senatorial Stride Belleville State Senator Anthony Imperiale was in the forefront of the procession as it wound its way up and down the streets of Silver Lake.

Short Order Louie Accaria and Freddy Struke fry up some sausage and steak for one of the festival patrons during the celebration planned by the St. Bartolomeo Society in conjunction with St. Anthony's Church.

Bottle Maker Anthony Gammaro inspects a decorative bottle of his own creation at the street fair. Other stands featured religious articles, jewelry, toys and balloons.

Riding High Youngsters from all over town were attracted to the rides and amusements set up along Heckel St.

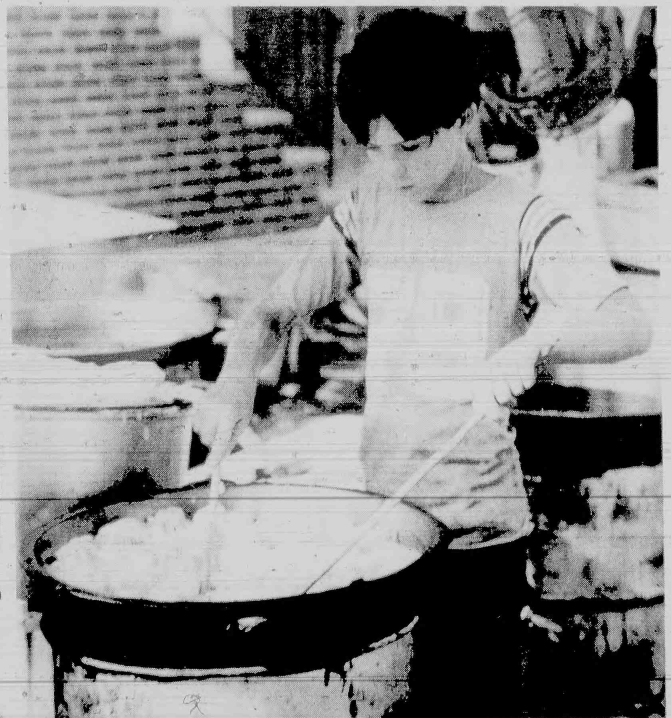

Watermelon Patrol Stevie Rett seems equipped for any kind of emergency as he chows down on a slice of watermelon.

Stallone Cone Joseph Siciliano pauses a minute to get in some licks and reflect on the weekend's festivities gradually growing to a close.

Flour Power Mixing and rolling the dough and meat to make calzone was Alice Shumbis, one of the most popular foods sold at the fair.

Cauldron Cookery Robbie Postel did some cooking of his own whipping up a perfect batch of zeppoles for the hungry festival patrons. Extra money earned at the celebration was donated to St. Anthony's Church.

Ranger rink site sought by Mayor

By MARY FREEMAN

A hockey rink costing the town between $2,300 and $4,600 is being stored in Mayor Michael Marotti's garage until a suitable site for the rink can be found.

"I bought the rink last year," the mayor said, "and we are looking for a place to put it."

The mayor said that property used by Commissioner Mary Senatore on Cortlandt St. was originally considered as a site for the rink.

"Commissioner Senatore's property was examined as a possibility for the hockey rink, but we found that it is not feasible because trucks back into the fence there," Mayor Marotti said.

Meanwhile, Paul Ciccone, coach of Belleville's street hockey club, is losing patience with Mayor Marotti and with the town.

"I have given up all hope of seeing a rink go up in Belleville," Ciccone said. "The town was under no obligation to buy the rink for us, but they told us we would get it. Well, here we sit one-and-one-half years later with no hockey rink."

Ciccone said that he had received a letter from the mayor telling him that the Cortlandt St. property could not be used for the rink.

"The letter came as a shock and a great disappointment," he said. "If there is some way that I could get a lease for a section of land, I'm sure we could get the funds somewhere."

Ciccone said that the hockey rink the town purchased is a structure of interlocking wood sides. When it is erected, a surface of asphalt or macadam must be laid before it is ready for use.

Street hockey is played with a ball, and is a non-violent sport, Ciccone noted. In fact, if someone fights during a game, he is immediately ejected from it.

"The sport is played outdoors all year long," the hockey coach said. "It is new in the sense that it has sprung up within the last 10 years."

Ciccone coached a group of men in the sport from 1971 to 1976. His team, the DeWitt Rangers, was registered with the American Street Hockey Institute.

The team practiced and held games in the playground at School No. 3, he said.

They played clubs from Harrison, Nutley, Ocean City and Collingswood.

"We stopped playing after the 1976 season," Ciccone said. "The playground is too small to have regular season games in, and, after one player cut his head on the fence top we decided that it was not safe to stay there."

Most of the guys who started out playing on the DeWitt Rangers are in their twenties now, Ciccone noted, but he is confident that street hockey could be a major sport in Belleville if a piece of land were available for a rink.

"We have the coaches, the administrative ability and the interest for a hockey club here — all we need is a piece of property," he said.

Cottage splits tavern tourney

Town Cottage of Belleville took the opener and Nutley Pub the nightcap in a twinbill at Belleville Ave. Park Sunday to force the championship series of the Essex County Tavern Softball League into a third game.

The adjacent town rivals will set it up for one more round at 9:30 a.m. a week from Sunday, Sept. 11, for the finale of the best two of three playoff, at the Belleville Ave. diamond to decide who will wear the league's top crown.

The Cottage clubbers battled back from a five-to-zero deficit, in the first game of the Sabbath day contest, to post a 7-5 victory but dropped the finale to the Raider Pub men, 5-2.

Nutley scored two runs in the second inning, one in the third and two more in the fourth to take the early advantage.

Belleville bounced back in the home half of the fourth frame with four runs to cut the Maroon edge almost to the marrow.

Cottage men Yosh Moraski, Rocco Marrotti and Bobby DeRosa all singled to load the bases. With the table set Billy Zion cleared the bases with a shot to left-center field over everybody's head for four runs and put the local slow-pitch squad on the board.

Belleville's offense continued to pound away with three more runs in the bottom of the sixth.

After two were out centerfielder Marrotti and first baseman Jack Barletta each singled, Zion came through once again slicing another base hit and scored moments later on a double by short stop Steve Senatore. The batting explosion put the Belleville club ahead to stay, closed out the first game's scoring.

Gridiron sessions set to open today

More than 50 candidates for the Blue-Gold varsity football squad turned out for physical exams and weigh-ins at Belleville High School Saturday.

Since Saturday Bellboy first year coach John Synekis reports many phone calls from BHS athletes interested in coming out for the pigskin club but who were away on vacation and missed Saturday's introductory program.

"Players wishing to compete may do so but must receive physical exams from their own physician," said Synekis.

Belleville begins gridiron practice today at 7:15 a.m. with a 10 event Bellboy decathlon to help the coaching staff determine the physical conditioning of the athletes.

The decathlon will include push ups, sit ups, squat thrusts and pull ups along with a mile run, a 440-yard dash, a 100-yard dash, an obstacle course, a rope jump and weightlifting.

Many of the team candidates as well as other town youngsters have been taking advantage of the Belleville Recreation's Summer lifting program to build stamina and strength, said the Bellboy coach.

The weight portion of the decathlon includes three exercises the total of which is divided by the body weight of the lifter to get a "power index."

"This makes it fair for everybody regardless of size," states the Belleville coach. "We may not be very big but we should be very very strong."

County club closes year of frustration

A lack of pitching depth and inconsistent hitting hamstrung the Belleville Bruin's 1977 effort to repeat as champions of the Essex County Baseball League.

The local hard ball club finished out the regular season with 20 wins and 12 losses and an overall mark on the year of 21 and 14.

"We had more 300 hitters than we had last season," pointed out Bruin scorekeeper Daniel Dunn. "But we didn't have the pitching and we lost a few of our long ball hitters."

Outfielders Tom Wise, Dan Dunn and John Guarino all tied for the club leadership in home runs with four while eight Bruins posted batting averages of .300 or better.

Righthander Gus Hernandez led the Belleville moundstaff in strikeouts with 50 and won-lost record at 8-1 while Steve Whacker was tops on the club in innings pitched with 71.

The Bruins were eliminated from the playoffs two week's ago by South Orange after the Belleville squad had taken the first contest of the best two out of three series.

The Orange men of the South defeated Verona-Cedar Grove, the league leaders during the regular season of the Essex division, in the post season action and, along with Verona, went on to compete in the Tournament of Champions which decides the top team in the state.

Verona, which ended the season with the best winning percentage in the Essex League, was automatically invited to the tourney although many questioned the validity of the club's first place finish.

According to one league observer the Verona-CG squad closed out the season with the best percentage simply because it refused to make up games which were rained out during the year including three.

Mystery booters capture crown

Belleville's Mystery Soccer Club outbooted Nutley, 5-1, last Friday in Bloomfield to capture the Summer League Soccer Championship.

The club under the direction of Belleville High School soccer coach, Tony Cahill, knocked-off previous state champs Columbia, Kearny and Bloomfield in order to advance to the final round of the European football finals in Volley Field.

Goal scorers in the deciding contest for the Belleville squad include Herman Borja, Bobby Freda and Liberato Ainielli.

The game was broadcast over Channel Three of cablevision.

The Bellboy booters have been competing in the Bengal league for the past six years and closed out the 1977 season in first place with a 9-3 mark.

Team members include captains Johnny Pontrella and Herman Borja along with Liberato Ainielli, Oleg Kozin, Mark Savastano, Bobby Freda, Tony Cordaro, Robert Nebulung, Fred Ladaro, Gary Cerio.

Rumble in Nutley Oval planned

The second edition of "The Rumble in the Oval" boxing card has been set for Friday night, Sept. 16, in the Nutley Oval on Franklin Ave.

Price of tickets are $8 for ringside seats and $5 for general admission. They can be purchased at Nanny's Bar and Grill, Belleville, San Carlo Restaurant, Lyndhurst, and Jack's Sweet Shop, Nutley.

Nutley natives Paul Denkinger and Jim Botbyl are listed as promoter and matchmaker for the card which features some of the top pugilistic talent in the state.

Denkinger had his baptism in Bar finals set for September 11 boxing last year when he sponsored the comeback of Jerry Judge, a Margate heavyweight in '74. The Pennsylvania fighter got off auspiciously by knocking out Jerry Huston, then heavyweight champ of New England, in five rounds in Jersey City.

Judge experienced some tough times in the ring since that showing but through Denkinger headlined last year's first "Rumble in the Oval," dropping a decision to Rodell Dupree.

Johnny Sullivan, a Kearny lightweight, who looked impressive reaching the semi-final round of the ill-fated ABC-TV championship boxing series will top the bill of next Friday's Denkinger-Botbyl promotion.

Sullivan's opponent is in the signing stage," stated Denkinger. "We're signing as many Jersey boxers as possible," added Botbyl. "There are a number of promising Jersey fighters who deserve a chance."

Ron Vassakim, a teacher at Nutley High School, and Bobby Mann, one of Vassalo's students, will appear in special bouts. Vassalo is a heavyweight and Mann is a lightweight who owns an amateur record of 43-3.

and played the Cottage of the Town the victory.

Denkinger, wearing sizzling bats from the 1960s, started off the second exhibition with a pair of runs in the opening frame.

Second baseman Skip Dolan began the proceedings with a single, followed by a triple and third sacker Tony DeMasi kept the inning alive with a bsc hit to collect the last run batted in the Cottage squad was to post the rest of the day.

Nutley scored all of its five runs in the fifth frame to record the 5-2 win.

Pub leftfielder Don Kiwoi sparked on defense for the Nutley club making several fantastic circus catches to preserve the victory and send the playoffs into the rubber game.

Both Town Cottage (12-2) and Nutley Pub (12-3) clinched their respective divisions to advance to the championship playoff rounds, with the Belleville club winning its last nine contests during the regular season.

The local tavern squad is coached by Joe Weiner and Bobby DeRosa.

Eight 300 hitters pace Bruin attack

At the start of the season we thought everyone had to play a 40 game schedule," stated Dunn. "Verona had eight games rained out which it never played, he added.

The Belleville moundsmen records were Gus Hernandez, 8-1; Jimmy Clark, 3-2; Steve Whacker, 4-5; Brian Karl, 2-4; Jack Rake, 1-0; Dan Dunn, 1-0; Bill McDonald, 1-0.

Rec weigh-ins set for Tuesday

Weigh-ins for the Belleville Recreation Football League are slated to be held Tuesday between 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. and 3 p.m. at the Rec House on Jerusalem St.

Youngsters who have not yet applied to play in the local pigskin program may still pick up an application at the Recreation House.

Those athletes who have already applied for either the Broncos or the Bears, need not apply again for the Rec League, however they still must report for the weigh-in.

Individual teams are scheduled to be set up by September 8.

'Fish market' menu latest at Don's 21

It's hard to top Don Francello, the Newark restaurateur, for originality.

Francello, who resides in Nutley, is the owner of Don's 21 on McCarter Highway at Bridge St. He's made it a policy since he opened the restaurant 11 years ago to annually introduce a special dinner to his patrons.

His latest is The Fish Market Award Dinner. It debuted on a specially printed sheet inserted between covers of the regular menu last week.

Clams, mussels, calamari, crab legs, sea shell macaroni, dessert and bottomless cup of coffee comprised the new dinner that Don says is fit for a king.

A platter of Long Island Little Neck steamed Italian style in their own natural juices introduces a diner to the latest special: Mussels from Cape Cod stuffed on a half shell follow. Then come the sea shell macaroni with lobster sauce. Next fried calamari with sweet hot or extra hot sauce.

Alaskan King Crab Legs make up the main dish. They are broiled over hot coals and served with butter and lemon-Italian lemon ice is the dessert.

"We had a near capacity turnout for the inaugural night of the dinner last Friday," said Francello, whose big smile spelled satisfaction over his latest idea. "Customers like to try different dishes and I enjoy putting them together."

Francello said the restaurant received numerous queries if it were going into the retail fish business. "I may open a fish store as a part of the restaurant if the calls continue," he chuckled.

The Fish Market Award Dinner special is available Monday through Saturday from 5 p.m. — Sunday from 7 p.m. —

More than two dozen dinner selections, including special Mediterranean and Venetian fare, are on the regular menu available at all times. Don's 21 opens daily at 11 a.m. ready to serve its large luncheon clientele.
