Channel has dazzling opening planned here

Channel Home Centers will open its Belleville store a week from today with a series of entertainment features and loads of in-store specials.

The store, Channel's 42nd home center, will be located at 352 Franklin Ave. in the building which previously housed Grant's.

A retail mart offering over 50,000 products useful to the do-it-yourselfer, the new Channel store here covers roughly 36,000 square feet.

It will be open seven days a week and employ mostly local people, some of whom live so close by that they will be able to walk to work, Channel's personnel department noted soon after hiring the Belleville store.

Channel Home Centers boast eight stores in one, and the newest Belleville addition to the chain is no exception. It will contain departments for lumber, paint, millwork, garden supplies, housewares, hardware, electrical and plumbing goods.

"The home center will have very little warehouse space — all stock is on the shelves," Gail Solomon, director of corporate image and customer relations for Channel, said.

Miss Solomon noted that this helps keep a store's inventory up-to-date.

A subsidiary of W.R. Grace & Co., Channel tends to get involved in community affairs; for example, it hires local residents to work in its stores, it offers lectures on do-it-yourself techniques at no charge and it involves itself in programs to promote good business in the national and community interest.

In keeping with this community involvement, Channel is offering a

Election hinges on town's voters

BY MARY FREEMAN

Belleville will play a crucial role in deciding the outcome of the race for state senator, according to the town's Democratic and Republican chairmen. Election polls open Tuesday at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

Three candidates are vying for the 30th District senate seat — incumbent Independent Anthony Imperiale, Democrat Frank Rodgers and Republican Harry Romeo of Belleville.

Since Rodgers, the mayor of Harrison, is expected to do very well in his home territory, and Imperiale is expected to score heavily in Newark, some observers feel the Belleville vote could be decisive.

Romeo has been shunned by the Republican establishment, including the party's gubernatorial candidate Ray Bateman. Imperiale has endorsed Bateman, and Romeo feels Bateman has been cool to his own candidacy as part of a deal.

Both party leaders here in Belleville said Belleville is not being effectively represented by Imperiale because of his independent stance in the senate.

"I have nothing against Sen. Imperiale," Mary Senatore, town commissioner and Belleville Democratic Party chairman, said. "Belleville, though, has never been able to receive anything from him as an independent."

Jerry Ferrara, the Republican Party chairman, echoed Mrs. Senatore's comments, noting that "an independent cannot give representation to anyone."

Sen. Imperiale, as an independent, is not recognized in Trenton all of the time," he continued. "Also, his absenteeism has been atrocious."

Ferrara admits that the public hasn't heard much from Harry Romeo, but he attributes that to the press.

"The press seems to think that there are only two candidates in this election, but all three are very much in the race," he said.

He continued, "The Republican candidate has been quiet, but it doesn't necessarily take a lot of noise to get elected."

The party chairman noted that Romeo has canvassed door-to-door

Williams here for Demo fete

New Jersey Sen. Harrison Williams will be the guest speaker at the Essex County Democratic Party's 13th annual campaign breakfast which begins 10 a.m. this Sunday at Branch Brook Manor.

The breakfast's theme will be "A Salute to Harry Lerner," Essex County Democratic chairman. The entire Democratic line seeking reelection this Tuesday will be honored guests at the Sunday morning affair.

A capacity crowd is expected by the breakfast's organizers. With that in mind, Belleville Democratic chairman Mary Senatore has advised those wishing to attend the breakfast to get tickets as soon as possible.

The ticket chairman is Ernie Zoppi, and the ticket co-chairman is Michelle Dalbo.

Chairman for the breakfast is Paul MacDonald. The co-chairman is Louise Sylvestro. These two party members were responsible for the choice of a breakfast speaker and succeeded in persuading Sen. Williams to attend.

The reception chairman Sunday will be Frank Carragher, with Kate Burke serving as reception co-chairman.

The Democrats are hoping the breakfast will provide an effective, get-out-all-the-stops sendoff for the Tuesday election, which several recent polls agree is very close at the gubernatorial level.

A New York Times-CBS News poll called the race between incumbent Democratic Gov. Brendan Byrne and his Republican challenger, Ray Bateman, virtually neck-and-neck. Another poll showed Bateman two points in front of Byrne, but even that is encouraging to Democrats, whose man was considered to be far behind Republican Bateman at the outset of the race.

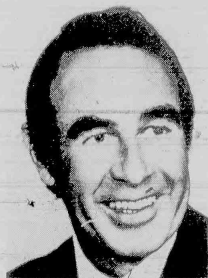

Locally, the Democrats are hoping Mayor Frank Rodgers of Harrison, their candidate for state senator from the 30th legislative district, which includes Belleville, can unseat incumbent Independent Anthony Imperiale. This contest also appears to be close, and the balance of power, local leaders of both parties feel, may lie in Belleville.

Vets council plans parade

The Belleville Veterans' Council, in conjunction with town officials, will present the annual Veterans' Day Parade Nov. 11 at 7:30 p.m. along Washington Ave.

The parade will include at least 12 divisions, including bands, drum and bugle corps, floats, marching groups, army units, police departments, fire departments, senior citizens, the first aid squad and dignitaries from state, county and town.

In case of rain, the parade will be rescheduled for Sunday, Nov. 13, at 2 p.m.

BHS new addition awaits state okay

The State Department of Education is reviewing the final plans for the addition to the senior high school until Monday, when it is hoped they will be approved, Caesar Romano, president of the Board of Education, reports.

The School Board president noted that the architect, Gilbert L. Seltzer Associates, has prepared a time schedule for the Board.

The schedule outlines for the trustees exactly where the plans will be as the phases leading up to actual construction of the addition continue.

The plans were brought to the State Department several weeks ago, Romano said. Bids will be accepted from Nov. 13 to Dec. 12 and awarded until Dec. 20.

Meanwhile, the final plans are before the town Planning Board, awaiting its approval.

Trustee Matthew Pica, an advisor to the Planning Board, presented plans to the Board Oct. 13 for a three-phase addition to the high school.

"Phase one includes this addition, phase two is the addition of a library and cafeteria to the high school and

Secret tapes made public; Romano 'clouded by emotion'

By MARY FREEMAN

Although Caesar Romano, president of the Board of Education, admits that he committed "an impropriety of sorts in attempting to remove three pieces of lumber from Belleville High School, the tapes of a secret School Board meeting reveal that he saw no impropriety at the time of the incident.

"I see the impropriety now because it's been blown right out," Romano said at the August 2 meeting, which was closed to the public and the press.

Romano noted that "emotion clouded it" when he tried to obtain the lumber to finish construction at his Belmoor Ave. home late in July.

This and more information about the lumber incident was found on the tapes of the School Board meeting which resulted in the Romano incident being turned over to the Essex County Prosecutors' office. The tapes were released for the first and last time Oct. 25.

Only seven people came out to hear the minutes of the August 2 meeting, indicating that the interest in the incident has either died or been forgotten here in Belleville.

The release of the tapes coincides with the decision by the County Prosecutor that "no criminal intent" was involved in the entire incident.

The tapes did reveal some information that had been, until now, a matter not on the public record. For example, it was only on the advice of Frank Pomaco, Board Counsel, that several Board members agreed to participate in the meeting.

Matthew Pica, Lawrence Schwartz and James Risoli participated in the meeting only after Pomaco assured them, "The meeting is not in violation of the Sunshine Law as the newspapers are well aware of it as a practical matter, whether or not there was strict compliance with the law.

Several local newspapers, such as the Belleville Times/News, were made aware of the meeting through anonymous phone calls, but no official notice was received from the School Board itself.

In view of the absence of strict compliance with the law, Pomaco suggested that the meeting be taped and the Board voted 7 to 0 in agreement.

The meeting opened with the rendition of a report by Mary Shader, Board secretary and business administrator, as to what happened at the high school. Caesar Romano's version of the incident followed.

Trustee Richard Mahmarian first reacted to the information, followed by almost every board member.

"It frightens me that you (Romano) would do something potentially embarrassing to the Board of Education," Mahmarian said. "When a mistake affects the Board of education, I believe I am potentially embarrassed because of your actions."

Trustee Michael Chieffo added, "I personally don't want to be involved in hanging you out to dry or raking you over the coals, but I am concerned as to what is the proper action now."

The Board members once again turned to their attorney for advice. Pomaco said, "The safest, and most cautious and prudent course of action is to turn the matter over to the prosecutor, which would protect each Board member."

He noted that the Board of Education is not an investigative body and thus, Anthony Renna, the custodian involved in the incident, and Edward Brecka, the School Plant Supervisor, were not called into Board Chambers for any kind of testimony.

Some discussion on whether or not Romano should step down as Board president ensued, with negative responses emanating.

Schwartz and Ralph Risoli both agreed that the whole issue had been blown out of proportion and the Board went to work on preparing a proper course of action, which resulted in Romano turning the matter over to the prosecutor on the recommendation of the other Board members.

Even though Superintendent of Schools Dr. John Greed said, "Caesar's statement will be enough," the matter, of course, did eventually go to the prosecutor, with those results a matter of public record.

Romano has been cleared of all guilt in the matter, but the feeling that the case had to be decided by an outside faction was best summed up by Pica, when he said, "Deep down in my heart, I know the possibility exists that I might be biased in my honest opinion through an investigation, so I say get the truth and an investigation."

Inspirational book now on sale

The Belleville Educators Scholarship Fund is selling copies of the book, "Valentines, Reflections on a Marriage," to raise money for its support of Belleville graduates in college.

The book, donated by its publisher, John L. Joseph of Hasbrouck Heights, can be obtained by calling fund president Jerry Weiss in the junior high school counseling office.

The fund is hoping for donations of up to $5 apiece for each copy of the book which was written by Belleville Peter Bridge. Since there are no expenses involved, all money realized from the sale will be used to support college scholarships granted each year to high school graduates.

The book cannot be purchased through regular commercial outlets except in a few select book stores throughout the state which have agreed to sell them free.

The book is the story of the 28-year marriage of John and Louise Joseph, each chapter punctuated with one of the annual valentines devised by Joseph. Mrs. Joseph died of cancer in 1974.

Joseph has published the book as a "loving memorial" to his late wife and offered it for fund-raising purposes to any worthwhile charitable and non-profit organization free of cost.

The Belleville Scholarship Fund

regards the book sale as a "unique way to raise money for a worthy cause while bringing some pleasure into the lives of those who would donate to the fund."

The fund has received an initial order of 200 books but will provide copies to anyone who wishes to purchase them.

Before its release October 15, Joseph sent the book to a number of well-known personalities with whom he is acquainted.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, who is himself dying of cancer, wrote, "During my recovery in the hospital, and now as I recuperate at home, I have had a chance to spend some time reading and writing. Your book has helped me in these hours."

Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, the 1972 Democratic presidential candidate, wrote, "A touching and eloquent portrait of a marriage — a warm, moving account of nearly 30 years of loving partnership which cannot help but enrich and uplift."

The Joseph marriage began shortly after John was discharged as a lieutenant in the Army after World War II and ended with Louise's death in 1974.

Joseph, an MIT graduate engineer, worked at a variety of engineering and sales jobs until he successfully invented and marketed a cardboard children's building block.

The Joseph's new wealth changed their lifestyle but not their relationship which remained strong and honest until the very end.

Brendon Byrne for Governor

The overriding issue of this gubernatorial campaign is fiscal responsibility for New Jersey. On this score, we favor the reelection of Governor Brendan Byrne. Four years ago, Governor Brendan Byrne won the election in a landslide. Who among us doesn't enjoy basking in the glory of popularity? By his actions Brendan Byrne has indicated he would rather be respected than elected.

For two and a half years, state government was tied up in a knot because it faced a dilemma as to the manner in which state aid-to-education was to be funded. It took the New Jersey Supreme Court to force the Legislature to take affirmative action — and this after a two-and-a-half-year struggle.

Eventually, emerging from the fiscal crisis was a personal income tax, the reason that in all of Northeastern United States, New Jersey is the only state that enjoys a Triple A Bond rating — reflective of our solid fiscal stability.

Since the adoption of the personal income tax, New Jersey has experienced a sound fiscal policy which has won the confidence of New Jersey business, Wall Street investors, professional educators and taxpayers. The experience has seen a number of converts to a pro-income tax position. We are among them.

Senator Raymond Bateman,

Governor Byrne's Republican opponent, believes he can run New Jersey without an income tax for the next four years. Bateman is relying upon cancellation of a promised $100 million additional subsidy of state aid-to-education. Senator Bateman is also relying upon a period of prosperity to increase state revenues to meet the cost of operating state government. If there is a short-fall, Bateman favors enactment of a one-cent increase in the sales tax.

A major accomplishment of Governor Brendan Byrne's administration is the elimination of corruption from state government. He is the first Governor in almost two decades who hasn't seen a member of his cabinet indicted and convicted for a criminal act. Moreover, organized crime leaders have left New Jersey in droves. Both Byrne and Bateman are good and decent persons. They have demonstrated ability and integrity in public office, but only one can be our next Governor.

To repeat — we believe fiscal policy to be the major difference between the Byrne and Bateman candidacies. The Byrne position is more credible.

Freeholder election

Republicans are trying to oust incumbent Democrat Freeholders from the County Court House.

Nothing we have heard from the Republican candidates leads us to believe we need a change.

The Democrats have managed county government reasonably well, free of scandal and, surprisingly, very efficiently.

Republican candidates for freeholders this year give us every indication it is just a battle of the outs trying to get in without any perceptible change in direction. We would rather stay with the known quantity than speculate with the unknown. So, for County Freeholders we recommend the election of Rita Greenstone, Thomas P. Giblin, Thomas M. McCormack and James Zangari.

No man could have more integrity than Joseph Lordi

To the Editor:

I have read with disgust, and am totally appalled at the articles which appeared in your paper concerning Joseph P. Lordi.

I cannot understand how a man's character is maligned for incidents which occurred many years ago and, furthermore, are absolutely inconsequential and meaningless.

We are told that under our system of government, every person is entitled to be represented by a lawyer of his or her own choice. We are further told that there is no such thing as guilt by association. Yet, these two fundamental principles have been violated through your articles and then used as a political ploy by the candidate for Governor, Raymond Bateman.

How is it so easily forgotten that Joseph P. Lordi served with distinction as the Prosecutor of Essex County for approximately ten years, carrying on the fine tradition of Brendan T. Byrne? Why is it that this has been forgotten and innocent items brought up from the past to disparage a man of fine character? Even though I am a non-Italian, I have no choice but to believe that this is motivated by an ethnic slur with political overtones.

I have had the good fortune to serve as an Assistant Prosecutor under

Joseph P. Lordi (as well as Governor, then Prosecutor, Byrne), and I believe that his record as Prosecutor speaks for itself, and that no man could have been more dedicated to his job and could

Why should an average voter support a complete party line?

To the Editor:

I am always amazed when I am approached about ten feet from my election district on an election day by party "workers" who hand me campaign literature and ask me to vote for so-and-so! I feel that to be an insult to my intelligence! If, as a voter, I am not familiar with the qualifications, intentions, achievements and educational background of a candidate or his planned intentions for achievements, as well in advance of Election Day, then I should stay home from the polls on Election Day.

The American voter has many opportunities to read and study numerous newspaper articles, magazine publications and television comments many weeks and months before an election day to help him make up his mind as to his choice for a candidate who, in his honest opinion, shall do the best job if elected to office. The American voter also has opportunities, his American rights, to attend campaign nights held for the various candidates in many local places. So, why should an eleventh hour approach make up his mind for him?

Which brings me to the reasons for my letter, sir. Should we vote for a candidate solely because he is a Democrat or a Republican? At the June 7th elections this year, I could not vote the way I desired because I had not declared myself some forty days before as desiring to change my record as a "Democrat" in Essex County. (The would have required the same procedure had I been a registered Republican.) However, on the records as of June 7th I was listed as a Democrat. I chose not to use my vote. However, the local Democratic County Committee member solicited my vote for the candidate of his choice, a Mr. Ralph DeRose. "Don't throw away your vote. We want to get rid of that 'GUY' in Trenton. Meaning of course, Governor Byrne. If these local Democratic leaders found the 'Guy' in Trenton not any good and went to such great lengths to unseat him as Governor, how come the book suddenly becomes the GREAT GUY, the best choice for Governor? Only five months later?

I can well remember the Thursday, June 2nd, 1977 of your Belleville Times, and only five days before the June primary election, these comments: "Mrs. Mary V. Senator said, 'I feel they made the wrong choice four years ago and the right choice now is Ralph DeRose. It's DeRose all the way. He should have been elected four years ago and we never would have had the income tax,'" said Mrs. Senatore, "Whoever wins the primary, I will support wholeheartedly."

So, they have "won" in the primary. Let's not make the "wrong choice" again, like we did four years ago! Remember, we never would have had the income tax! I recommend for election the following: Stop AND READ, LOOK AND LISTEN, AND DON'T MAKE THE WRONG CHOICE FOR GOVERNOR AGAIN!

Respectfully submitted,
Sally F. Hood

ON CHARTER CHANGE

Surprised by editorial

To the Editor:

I have known you for years and despite our concurrence or differences on various issues, I have always respected you as a capable business executive. Therefore, I am surprised at the conclusion you reached in your editorial of October 13th in which you do not recommend a "yes" vote for Charter Change.

I agree with your statement that perhaps we do not need County Government at all. However, because we cannot achieve a millennium in one step, does not mean that we should not support improvement.

I cannot envision your newspaper, or any business for that matter, being run without a Chief Executive such as yourself, or your delegated administrator, coordinating the entire operation. Yet this is precisely what is being done in our County Government. There are approximately 68 autonomous bodies, established by the legislature over the years, that independently establish their own budgetary requirements with very little or no control from part-time freeholders, some of which have limited or no administrative business experience and are simply there because they were sponsored by a political machine and elected by the people because there was no plurality of choice.

I also agree that it is quite possible that the County Executive could be influenced by a political boss. However, this is no different than the offices of Mayor, Governor or the President of the United States. The principal advantage of having an executive is that he can no longer pass the buck as the freeholders are doing under the present form of government. Therefore, just as the governor is now doing, he must account to the electorate for his past actions, if he expects to be re-elected. This very fact should provide more incentive for some improvement in efficiency.

Moreover, since Mr. Lerner is so strenuously opposed to this proposed change of government, it would appear to me that he believes he would lose much of his political control which would revert to the people where it rightfully belongs.

As you know, I am an independent voter, belonging to no party and have friends in either. My interest is solely in the people and not in parties. I believe I have established this posture over the years.

Therefore, as on Business Executive to the other, with an open mind, I implore you to re-evaluate your position and perhaps someday, after this first improvement is achieved, we can work together to implement your other suggestion and eliminate County Government completely.

On the basis of this discussion and the facts presented, I must, therefore, advise all my friends, acquaintances and the people in general, to vote "YES" for Charter Change.

I would appreciate your publishing this letter in your newspaper.

Tribute to police officers deserved

BY JIM GOLDEN

The scene was the posh, famous Belleville reformatory, The Fountain. The time Saturday evening, Oct. 15. The occasion, a memorable, well-earned tribute to an accumulated 75 years of dedicated, faithful service in protection of the town and its citizens by three of Belleville's finest with exemplary, unblemished records that command respect and deserve recognition.

The affair, sponsored by PBA Local 28 with its president, Billy Escott, serving as master of ceremonies, was staged for the purpose of presenting lifetime silver PBA membership cards to Deputy Chief George Lister, Detective James Pindar and Officer Harold O'Rielly (Badge 106) whom M.C. Escott called "one helluva cop," notwithstanding his lack of superior rank. The lifetime Silver membership card is earned after 25 years of service in police protection service by members of the various PBA locals and on isolated occasions to non-police persons who promote outstanding services in behalf of the organization. Its ownership is much cherished and respected.

The testimonial to these fine minions of the law was well attended with most all the off-duty officers of the department and their ladies present and was a jovial, well-planned and deserved success. Commissioners Strumolo, Senatore, Mayor Marotti and Saletta, who as department director commended the men, were in attendance to extend congratulations on the auspicious occasion.

While Police Chief Joe Smith was away on vacation and unable to attend the affair, a call from your writer established his regret at not having been at the gathering and his enthusiastic response in praising the outstanding service record of all three of the men honored. He noted all had been appointed to the department in 1952 by then Public Safety Director Harry Sullivan.

Chief Smith, with 30 years of service, said he had worked with the men that they "did a full time job" and "there were no complaints" about any of them.

We say, a fine tribute to three dedicated police officers of whom the town can be proud. We take our hats off to you and the best of everything.

There are a lot of things about this Carter "deal" to give up the Panama Canal that deserve clarification before any "giveaway" of our possession of the Canal should be considered.

Last Saturday, the people in Panama voted in a plebiscite being rammed down their throats by dictator Torrijos to accept a proposed treaty which would give control of the canal to that country. In this country there is no provision for such a popular vote on the question. If there were, there is little doubt about the outcome. The American people would vote overwhelmingly to keep the canal. And why not?

All this sugary talk and sweet smiles between Carter and Torrijos seems just that and nothing more. The salient necessary guarantees about the United States having the right "to act against any aggression or threat" to the canal is only couched in abstruse, ambiguous diplomatic parlance that is subject to divergent interpretation.

One Panama treaty negotiator, Carlos Lopez Guevara, states proposals by the United States along the lines being orally proclaimed by Carter and Torrijos were rejected by the Republic of Panama and never written into the proposed treaty. In fact when Torrijos got back to Panama from his "step in the right direction" talk with Carter he flatly denied he signed anything.

Sen. Robert Dole (R-Kan.) is on the right track when he insists a clarification must be "incorporated into the treaty itself" in writing. He points out clearly that the Carter-Torrijos joint statement, by itself, is not binding and has no legal effect.

Dole intelligently says: "Neither Carter nor Torrijos will occupy positions of authority when the treaty provisions take effect in the year 2000, so there must be some basis in law to insure that their pledge will be honored." He's right. Carter is trying to "push" this unpopular treaty too fast.

PLAY REVIEW

'Cuckoo's Nest': Who is crazy?

BY JOHN JURICH

A Great Psychiatrist once had the disconcerting thought that the mad may be watching us with their own peculiar rationality and shaking their heads at what actually is our insanity. The idea is not just that things the mad do appear reasonable to their own world. The point is that everything they do is reasonable because their world is just as legitimate as ours.

The psychiatrist committed his thought to paper. Here it remains today, but questions linger. What is "normal" and who defines it? Who has the right? These are some of the questions posed in "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," which opened Friday night at the Family Playhouse. The play was adapted from the novel written by Ken Kesey in the early 1960s. A movie starring Jack Nicholson also grew out of the book. The play has similarities to both.

"Cuckoo's Nest" has two main protagonists, Randle P. McMurphy and Chief Bromden. McMurphy is a 35-year-old bachelor who won the Distinguished Service Cross for leading an escape from a communist prison camp. Since then, he has had a history of drunken disturbances and has been convicted of statutory rape. McMurphy has been committed to a psych hospital, though he often appears to have more sense than anybody else. Dr. Spivey explains, however, at a group therapy session, that "society decides who is sane and who is not." It is also explained that the mental institution is a "factory" for repairing those of society's robots which have gone haywire.

The hulking Chief lives in terror of the world despite his size. He pretends to be deaf and dumb, though his thoughts are heard through an offstage narrator.

McMurphy immediately comes into conflict with the institution's chief of thought police, Nurse Ratched, an oppressive mother figure who prefers castration to wet-nursing. Ratched has every man in the house cowed from stuttering young Billy, whom she petrifies with thoughts of his mother, to Dr. Spivey, who meekly accepts her domination.

McMurphy definitely does not, and he bets the other inmates that he can break her. He doesn't violate many rules to do it, but he does the unorthodox, and rules are suddenly created to proscribe behavior that disturbs the system's equilibrium.

The game becomes more desperate than amusing when McMurphy finds out that his stay at the institution is indefinite, and freedom, if there is any, can come only through "correct" behavior. The other inmates admit that they are voluntarily committed and can leave anytime they like. They are captives by choice.

With the help of a guard, McMurphy throws a party for his comrades complete with hookers and booze, the two sure ways for men to be liberated, according to the play. Nurse Ratched breaks up the party and discovers Billy with one of the hookers. When she threatens to tell his mother, Billy kills himself and McMurphy tries to strangle the nurse.

A week later, he is wheeled into the common room, a patient lobotomized upon a table. Unable to bear the sight of the vegetable McMurphy, the wreck of a man who had been his inspiration, the Chief smothered him and escapes.

Friday night, all this was portrayed quite well by the Family Playhouse cast. Michael Mulcahy was fiery as McMurphy, playing him with manic intensity. I liked him more in "Camelot," but that was a happier show. Karen Makowski was suitably imperious as Nurse Ratched, and the audience boomed her heartily, a tribute to a well-played villain. Art Turnbull (Chief Bromden) was also fine, though he didn't say much, and the lighting heightened his presence on his stage even more.

Arthur Kiduff, (Billy) did a very believable stutter, and Kathy Leonardo, as McMurphy's girl, Candy, was a wild favorite with the audience. Ray Napolitano gave "Cuckoo's Nest" its usual expert direction and production.

On the way back from the play, I stopped for a light at an intersection with a sign that said, "No Turn on Red." I turned right. It felt good.

"One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" continues this weekend and next with performances 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, 3 p.m. Sunday at the Playhouse at 28 Brookline Ave., Nutley. Tickets are $3.50 and $4 with special rates for students and senior citizens. Tickets can be obtained at the door. So see "Cuckoo's Nest" before somebody locks you up. Due to mature subject matter, etc.

Imperiale deplores 'scared' opponent's election tactics

(Editor's Note: The following statement, released by Imperiale headquarters, was made in response to one last week from the Rodgers camp.)

Sen. Anthony Imperiale, Independent from the 30th District, says that Frank Rodgers of Harrison is running scared, therefore he (Rodgers) is making false statements in a vain attempt to win.

The record shows that Senator Imperiale was needed he was there, whether it was on the street or in Trenton.

Senator Imperiale said, "Some people have the feeling that a senator need only to go to Trenton, vote on some bills and that is the extent of being a good senator. But that is not the case. To serve the people anywhere or place that they are in need, that is what being a good representative is. The label of being the worst senator in the state is a brand that Mr. Rodgers has given, and that is because he cannot control me as he has others."

"There have been many votes that I missed," stated Imperiale. "However, for the record, one of the main reasons for that is that when the president of the senate sends you a telegram that 10 bills will be heard, then the 10 bills cited are studied. Arriving at Trenton, there are then 30 bills on the board.

Senator Imperiale continued, "When I find that there are 30 bills instead of 10, I refuse to vote without studying the other 20 bills first. That is how the money is wasted, and I have no one to push my voting button as other legislators do to cover up for their friends. Only I myself will vote for the bills I know are good."

"But while Mayor Rodgers, the man of a thousand faces and jobs, mentions bills I did not vote on, the following are bills I did vote on:

Senate Bill 281, I sponsored this bill for the victims of Cooley's Anemia for free blood testing. When it was signed into law March 3, it was the only bill in the history of this state signed for an independent senator.

S. 755, Pharmaceutical assistance to the aged. Imperiale voted yes and it was signed into law in 1975.

S. 545, which Imperiale cosponsored. All senior citizens receiving government checks on the first of the month have five days grace in paying their rent under this law signed in 1976.

S. 913, The law, which went into effect last year, provides an increase to senior citizens for tax reductions. Imperiale voted yes.

The Generic Bill for senior citizens. Imperiale voted yes, and the bill was signed into law Sept. 29.

The following are bills Imperiale voted for: S. 3221 Police and Fire Bill, S. 3067 State Aid for the Handicapped, S. 1789 Tax Exemption to Widows of Disabled Veterans, S. 1220 Jobs for the handicapped and many more.

Senator Imperiale stated that Mayor Rodgers the candidate that can not be found has a lot to say in the press, but has hidden from public debate from the people. Mayor Rodgers has refused to give his name to the public why, what is there to hide Mayor Rodgers that you refuse to answer?

Senator Imperiale said, "That while Rodgers makes claim that I was silent during the election for Governor on primary day and did not support Italian candidate, Mayor Rodgers forgot to say the reason was that I myself at that time was a candidate for the governorship. And this is just another cheap Rodgers trick that he is using to pull.

Senator Imperiale has received the endorsements of The Essex County PBA, The Newark PBA Local #3, The Kean Taxpayers Association, which awarded Imperiale a association award against the tax.

Democrat and Republics for Imperiale, headed by Mrs. C. Kryzwick, the Federation of Italian American Societies, headed by Mr. Bruno Russo, The North Ward Property Owners Protective Association, headed by George Wilson. The North Ward Citizens Committee, headed by Mr. James Lyons, and the Ironbound Citizens Committee headed by Mr. Chip Barbatta as well as the Belleville Citizens Committee.

Attractive women and men have healthy skin and a healthy skin is dependent on a well-nourished body, vigorous physical exercise which stimulates the circulation, and by cleanliness. Most experts agree that the face should be washed with a mild soap and warm water each day — in case of dry skin, application of some mild cream can be helpful. While pure preparations of rouge, lipstick, face creams and powder can be harmless and helpful in complementing beauty, extreme care should be used in employing cosmetics to disguise skin disorders.

Party trays for holiday depositors

First DeWitt Savings of Belleville, Bloomfield and Hopatcong is getting the Noel Season off to a gala start by offering colorful party serving trays to its 1978 "holiday club members."

The Association is further sweetening the season by paying dividends due on completed holiday clubs according to a joint announcement made by John P. Daily, chairman, and Henrik Tvedt, president and chief operating officer.

Daily and Tvedt explained a person saving $10 per week would receive $515 for the 1978 holiday period. Similarly, a member saving $20 per week would receive $1,030.

"All clubs must be completed on schedule to be eligible for the dividend" they said.

First DeWitt Holiday Clubs are available in weekly saving categories of $1, $2, $5, $10 and $20.

The party trays, designed for decorative or functional use, feature a Currier and Ives reproduction, "American Homestead-Winter." Trays are for members opening accounts of at least $2.

The circular tray features brilliant holiday designs and are available for members opening $1 accounts.

First DeWitt's Main Office is located at 463 Washington Ave., Belleville.

United Way begins appeal for Essex and West Hudson

The official opening of the 1977-78 annual fund raising campaign of the United Way of Essex and West Hudson was staged Sept. 21 at the Robert Treat Hotel in Newark.

John F. Betz, president of Public Service Electric and Gas Co. and general chairman of the drive, told more than 400 business, civic, labor and community leaders, "Most of us who have worked within and given to the United Way have only remote connection to the final result.

"Each of us has a special role to play. Through contributions of time and money, all of us can maintain a very personal connection to the role of helping people," added Betz.

Betz noted that as a result of last year's campaign, $3.8 million was allocated to top priority programs to aid every age group among the 310,000 people served.

Belleville Chamber holds annual dance

The President's Family — The Belleville Chamber of Commerce hosted a dinner-dance Saturday night in the Branch Brook Manor for over 200 guests. Pictured are John Gallagher, president of the Chamber, with his daughter and William McDowell, executive director of the Meadowlands Commission, and seated, Mrs. Gallagher and Mrs. McDowell.

Gifts For The Gifted — Aaron Cohen, owner of Charles Jewelers, and chairman of the Chamber dinner-dance, presents Susan Santiglia with a gift from the organization. Miss Santiglia is New Jersey's Junior Miss and placed fourth in the national competition.

Chamber Dignitaries — Members of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors posed Saturday for a group shot. They include Harry French, Aaron Cohen, Edward Bennett, John Gallagher, Ralph Ciccone, Leonard Calandriello, Robert Hickock, Anthony Testa, William Rheinhold, John Tanko, William Desmond and George Mead.

An Exchange of Greetings — William McDowell welcomes Susan Santiglia to the annual Chamber-affair while Al Nunzio looks on. The dinner drew businessmen, professionals, shopkeepers and industrialists from all of Belleville. The dinner-dance is an annual event.

Proud Parents — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Santiglia flank their daughter Susan during a break in the festivities at the Branch Brook Manor affair Saturday evening. Susan was the guest of honor at the dinner-dance and exhibited her singing ability several times throughout the night.

Grand Jury to hear counterfeit charges

A Bloomfield man, charged with passing counterfeit money at two different local businesses, had his case referred to both the Essex County Prosecutor and the Grand Jury in Belleville Municipal Court last week.

The 20-year-old defendant was arrested September 28 after attempting to distribute a spurious $50 bill at the Grand Union on Main St., police report.

The man is also charged with stealing $15 from a Washington Ave. service station following an attempt to pay for gas with the phony money.

According to authorities the defendant grabbed the real money out of the gas station attendant's hand when the attendant hesitated before making change because he and questioned the authenticity of the customer's cash.

Complainant in the case is Belleville Detective Salvatore LoCoco.

The defendant is currently free on bail.

Kean favors charter change

Assemblyman Thomas H. Kean today called for an overwhelming vote in favor of Charter Change for Essex County. "It is time," Kean stated, "for our county government to move into the 20th Century. Other large counties have already started to make the change, but Essex has held back."

Kean pointed out that the current freeholder system of government is inefficient and expensive. "The kind of representation being proposed for Essex would streamline its government, improve services, and lower the cost," Kean said.

"This is one of those rare opportunities when citizens can vote to improve government and save tax dollars. I hope that a large majority will vote yes for Charter Change" he said.

Thieves net $1,000 in cigarette heist

Burglars broke in and entered a Washington Ave. luncheonette two weeks ago and escaped with a $1,000 worth of cigarettes and candy Belleville police report.

According to authorities thieves broke into the B and H Luncheonette, 545 Washington Ave., in the early morning hours of Oct. 10 and made off with assorted candy, gum and cigarettes totaling $1,000.

Police said the burglars apparently entered the store through a rear cellar door by breaking the outside lock and forcing an upstairs door leading up to the luncheonette off its hinges.

A crow bar was found at the scene of the crime, authorities stated.

Belleville detectives are currently investigating the case.

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

Two outcasts of members of the Belleville Senior Citizens Club went to the Meadowbrook in Cedar Grove on Oct. 19 to enjoy an early lunch and then the musical play "Fiddler on the Roof." Mary and Michael Cicerale are signing members up for the musical "Shenandoah" to take place in December, first to Bepys for lunch and then the play.

The original date had to be changed. That complicated matters somewhat, those who have signed up please note. The price had to be changed, too, because it is now a week-end date. Check with our tour directors for the latest details.

The fourth anniversary of the Belleville Senior Citizens Club was celebrated on Monday at the Meadowbrook in Cedar Grove. Music for dancing and sing-a-long was provided by our resident musician, "Ramblin' Sam." The management of the Meadowbrook went all out to see that we were comfortably over-fed, if there is such a thing. An atmosphere of conviviality prevailed and our committee of Harry Reynolds, Frances DiMiceli, Evelyn Phillips, Louis Vuono and Joseph DeFabio and their able assistants are to be commended for taking care of every last detail and insuring us a good time.

We announce with sorrow the passing our fellow member and friend Jim Spera. Jim was one of the original elected officers of the Belleville Club and he served on the Executive Board. Our sympathies to his family, your loss is shared with his many friends.

The candidates from Essex County running for state senator, assemblyman, county freeholder and representatives of the gubernatorial candidates were invited to attend the meeting of the Essex County Council of Senior Citizens Clubs, Inc., at the Civic Center, Bloomfield, Oct. 17. Most of those invited and who could not appear sent regrets. The delegates to the Council were afforded a chance to listen and later ask questions of the candidates. The talks were within a five minute limit. We believe that most of the candidates were sincere in their presentation and we had a chance to meet and help decide whom we may vote for in the Nov. 8 election.

Others may find it to their advantage, even non-partisan and/or non-political organizations, to have candidates from their district appear at their club meetings to become better acquainted and more knowledgeable to help in deciding whom to vote for on election day.

Governor Byrne signed bill number S4790 into law on Oct. 20 in honor of Mrs. Jimmy Carter's visit to New Jersey. One paper in the county explained the bill by stating that it was for a new method of reimbursement for the Pharmaceutical Assistance Bill. Actually it is a senior citizens bill that would allow all senior citizens, depending on their income, to have any prescription filled for the price of one dollar. This is to go into effect on Jan. 1, 1978. Unlike the previous assistance bill, paper work to apply for the lower price would be kept at a minimum.

Breast cancer exam begins 2 p.m. today

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital is sponsoring a free screening program for detection of breast tumors today and tomorrow 2-8 p.m.

The American Cancer Society says about 90,000 women will be afflicted with breast cancer during 1977. One of every 13 women, or approximately seven percent, will develop breast cancer during her lifetime.

These statistics are especially frightening since the percentage of the incidence of cancer in women has grown dramatically in recent years.

Breast cancer now kills every 17 minutes and is the most common type of cancer in women.

Certain women are more prone to breast cancer. Those with a family history of breast cancer or those who have been treated with X-rays have a higher incidence of cancer than others.

It must be stressed, however, that not all breast tumors or lumps are cancerous. A large percentage which must be surgically removed are harmless. An extremely important aspect of combatting breast cancer is to diagnose it as early as possible and start appropriate therapy. A physical examination at Clara Maass could possibly save your life!

No prior registration for the screenings is necessary. It is suggested women dress appropriately for the examination.

The screening program is one of a continuing series of clinics conducted by Clara Maass for the local community.

Acceptance With Honor Essex County Surrogate Nicholas R. Amato is pictured above with Freeholder Reita Greenstone who is running for another three-year term. Amato accepted a post as Mrs. Greenstone's campaign manager praising her as an advocate of patients' rights, expanded services for senior citizens and community care for the deinstitutionalized.

Pony Pirates ride into Stadium next

By MICHAEL COREY

The Pony Pirates of Seton Hall ride into Belleville High School Stadium Saturday for a 1:30 p.m. contest as the Bellboy gridders look to pull off still another upset over the top ranked parochial school club.

The Hall comes into the weekend clash fresh from last Sunday's disappointing performance against Paterson Kennedy which ended in a 0-0 deadlock.

By contrast Belleville, showing steady improvement in each game, will lineup against the Pirates following a pair of come from behind victories versus Irvington, 17-14, and Essex Catholic, 26-18. In both confrontations the Bellboy opponents were heavily favored.

"We've just been real pleased with the way our kids have been coming along," stated Belleville coach John Senesky. "Our players keep improving and gaining confidence in themselves and the way they've been going what started off as a slow learning season may turn into a surprising year."

The Pirate squad has recorded wins over Nutley, 18-0; Bergen Catholic, 22-6; Franklin Township, 14-0; Newark East Side, 49-0; Paterson East Side, 26-0, and Sunday's goose egg tie.

Directed by coach Tony Verducci, who has been at the varsity reins for the past 22 years, The Hall runs a verve of offense similar to Essex Catholic which allows the quarterback four options each time he takes the snap from center.

Among the possibilities the visiting signal caller will have at his disposal Saturday are a pass, hand off, pitchback or quarterback keeper.

The Seton Hall backfield catalyst is QB Mike Ragan (5-11, 165-pounds) who is the field general. Basically a running team, the Pirates backfield rushing attack is led by halfback Paul Villanova (5-10, 185 pounds) and sophomore back Joe Merklinger (5-7, 160).

"They have the potential of breaking open anytime," pointed out the Belleville coach. "If you miss a tackle on them you'll be staring at the back of their jersey."

For Belleville's starting quarterback the last be a family affair. Two of his cousins compete between the hash marks for the parochial school. Ed Aulisi (6-2, 235) at left tackle and Joe Aulisi (5-11, 195) in the cornerback position.

The Hall will be starting the biggest football squad the Bellboys have squared off against this season. Led by left end the Times/News.

The Blue-Gold women of the court are seeded sixth in the eight school tourney while the Cougarettes are ranked third.

Belleville's racketeers play out the regular season schedule with Irvington on the road tomorrow in the final matchup of '77.

"The Bloomfield match was a good one for us," said Blue-Gold mentor Karen Fuccello.

The Bellgirl coach pointed out she was forced to move the doubles pair of Donna Fantacone and Sue Klein, a junior, up to first doubles because of a hand injury to Tina Ogilvie.

"She performed well in her first starting assignment and both she and Donna played intelligent tennis, stated Coach Fuccello.

In Montclair Thursday against I.C. High, Belleville's Toni Sperduto opened up initial singles play by defeating Immaculate's Patty Maddaloni, 6-2, 6-3.

Second singles action saw Denise Juliano handily knockoff her I.C. opponent 6-0, 6-1, while Bellgirl LuAnn Graffeo took away the rubber match of the solo contests 6-love, 6-4.

The Blue-Gold duo of Patty Connelly and Tina Ogilvie scored the victory by

Irvington Campers blank Bellboys, 3-0

A pair of first period Irvington goals helped lift the Campers past the booters of Belleville, 3-0, in an away soccer confrontation Friday afternoon.

The Bellboys were scheduled to square off Tuesday with East Side, listed among the top 20 teams in New Jersey, but results of the p.m. clash were not available as the Times/News went to press.

This afternoon the Blue-Gold European football squad trucks over to Cedar Grove for a contest before heading home for a make up game Friday with the Nutley Maroon the contest, originally slated for last Wednesday, was forced into postponement because of rain.

Belleville closes out the '77 season next week by taking on East Orange twice. Once at home and again on Wednesday there. Both contests are makups of matches which were rescheduled because of inclement weather.

The Camper offensive squad cracked into the scoring column first Friday in the opening period to take the early advantage and force the Blue-Gold into an up hill struggle.

"Both of those goals came after we had missed two opportunities of our own right in front of the Irvington net to score," pointed-out Belleville booster

Bronco 'D' squad still unscored upon

Belleville's Broncos kept its unbeaten and unscored upon record intact by routing Fair Lawn, 43-0, under the lights at BHS Stadium Saturday night.

The locals host Cresskill this Saturday with the kickoff slated for 8 p.m.

The Broncos jumped to an early lead on the third play of the game when Danny Palumbo recovered a Fair Lawn fumble on the visitor's 40-yard line to ignite the drive.

Behind the running of Bronco backs Angelo Centanni, John Bucciarelli and Bob Scucci the home town offense utilized seven plays to score the game's first touchdown.

Scucci's run for the extra point was good and the Broncos had the 7-0 advantage.

Moments later Fair Lawn fumbled again on its 25 and Scucci once again took charge sprinting 24 yards for the TD on the very next play from scrimmage.

Eugene Cancelliere snared a pass from QB Frank Fazzini for the extra point to put the home squad up by 14.

Late in the initial period Robby Cancelliere returned a punt, behind a wall of Bronco blockers, 61-yards for another score.

The home club kept rolling up points as halfback Centanni, who gained 75 yards on 10 carries, scored on a 13-yard jaunt. Back Bucciarelli ran for the point after.

Just before the end of the first half Bronco Joe Zangari intercepted a Fair Lawn pass to provide still another scoring opportunity for the Broncos.

Signal caller Fazzini connected with Scucci on a 43-yard toss as the back made a sparkling run to get into the end-zone.

Scucci, seven carries to 67 yards, scampered over the TD line for the extra point and the locals took a 34-0 lead into the lockerroom as the halftime gun sounded.

The Broncos "Big D" got into the offensive scheme of things in the third quarter when Belleville's Joe Iacona

Racers finish '77 with 5 wins

By MIKE LAMBERTI

It was a rough five days of running for the Belleville High Cross Country Team last week as the Blue-Gold trackers were stopped by Bloomfield, 22-31, and placed ninth in the Big 10 Championships.

The Bloomfield meet concluded the squad's regular '77 season record at 5-10.

Yesterday the cross country club competed in the Essex County Championships but final results were in too late to make the deadline of this edition of the Times/News.

Saturday the cindermen and women of Belleville are scheduled to conclude the cross country year by running in the state sectionals.

"We just weren't up for the meet," stated Blue-Gold Coach Rich Ruffalo shortly after the team's loss to the Bengals. "With the exception of Mike (Graham) we ran very flat and didn't work as hard as we normally do."

Mike Graham showed his usual level of consistency by winning the meet in a Right Bellgirl runner Mary Connelly is the picture of concentration as she competes in the annual girls cross country meet in Newark. The Blue-Gold tracker knocked off two minutes of her best previous time.

Lead Cheerers

Below members of the Belleville Cheerleading team take an unscheduled break but strike a familiar pose following the local grid club's initial win of the year over Irvington last week.

Belleville Bellboys upset Eagles, 26-18

Coming from behind for the second straight week, the Bellboy gridgers registered victory number two of the year by upsetting the Essex Catholic Eagles, 26-18, at Belleville Stadium Friday night.

Bellboy halfback Frank Pizzi rushed for three touchdowns and quarterback Ed Aulisi ran for another to provide the scoring punch for the Blue-Gold.

"The game was typical of the way our kids are," stated Belleville coach John Senesky. "They were the same way against Irvington. They just kept coming back."

Trailing 18-14 going into the final period the Bellboys hit pay dirt twice in the fourth quarter to ice the victory.

Belleville began the go ahead march to the goal line when Blue-Gold center Angelo Santinelli recovered a bad Eagle pitch-out on the Essex 22.

Sophomore signal caller Aulisi connected with end Ted Zangari for 14 yards to give the Bellboys a first down one yard away from TD territory.

Fullback Dante DeNotaris, starting his first varsity contest, made up half the distance with a line snuck the pigskin over to give the home team a 20-1 lead.

Opportunity again knocked on the Blue-Gold door two minutes later when guard Joe D'Agostino bowled over Essex quarterback Nick Emperio forcing him to lose control of the ball. Mike Limongelli recovered the fumble on the Eagle 35.

"We know we are a second half club and we said in the lockerroom at the half that the next two quarters were ours," stated Coach Senesky.

Senesky pointed out the Bellboy defensive squad forced a lot of the Newark school's bad breaks by hitting hard and causing Essex into turnovers. The Eagles lost possession three times on fumbles and twice on interceptions.

"We were changing assignments on defense," explained the Blue-Gold coach. "Their quarterback had a difficult time reading it. A couple of occasions he made the wrong decisions which forced a bad exchange in the backfield which resulted in a fumble."

The Belleville coach cited the Bellboy offensive unit for doing an outstanding job protecting the passer and for opening up holes for the runners.

The offense includes tackles Sam Fusaro and Ron Costa; guards Mauro Tucci and Lou Valenti; center Angelo Santinelli; end Ted Zangari and halfback Jerry Paladino.

"We really have to give credit to the entire team," added the Belleville coach. "The kids are fighters and refuse to quit now they have confidence in themselves and can see the steady improvement. They are starting to realize that when they carry out their assignments and execute like their supposed to they are hard to beat."

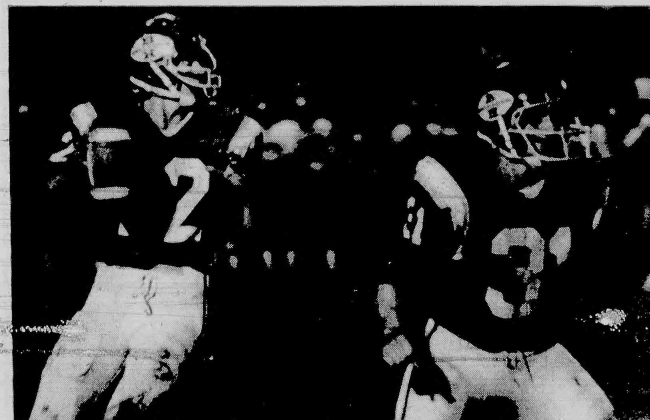

Passing On — Belleville quarterback Ed Aulisi follows through past the outstretched arms of an Eagle defender in the third period of Friday night's Blue-Gold win under the lights at BHS Stadium.

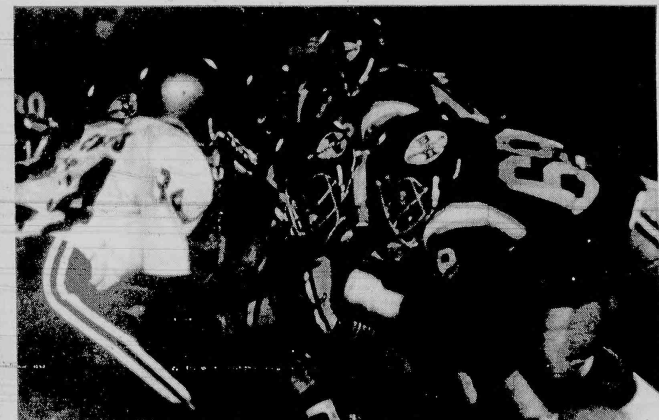

Misdirection — Blue-Gold halfback Frank Pizzi, who has scored five touchdowns in the last two games, turns the corner beyond the reach of an Essex defenseman and heads up field to keep a fourth quarter scoring drive alive.

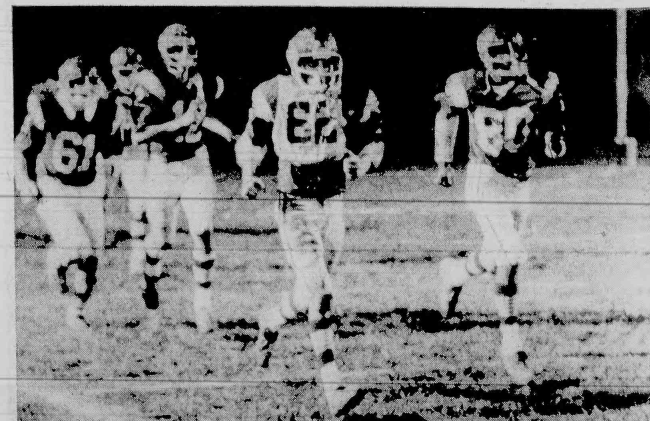

Center Tackle — Bellboy center Angelo Santinelli reaches out for Essex Catholic signal caller Nick Emperio on a quarterback keeper in the opening quarter. The Blue-Gold scored 12-points in the final period to come from behind and beat the parochial players 26-18.

Pocket Paise — Quarterback Aulisi steps into the pocket behind the protection of fullback Dante DeNotaris during the first half of action. The Blue-Gold gridders meet a highly touted Seton Hall squad this Saturday.

On The Line — Belleville's offensive linemen won praise from the Blue-Gold coaching staff for their performance Friday night between the home hash marks.

Halftime Return — The Bellboys, rapidly gaining a reputation as a second half ball club, invade the Belleville gridiron following the halftime intermission. The Blue-Gold defense allowed the Essex just 10 plays from the line of scrimmage in the final quarters of the contest.

Masked Musicians — A couple members of the Belleville High marching band got into the Halloween spirit a few days early when they donned glasses, a mustache and a big nose to hide their true identities.

Blue-Gold face biggest team yet

Mark Pemberton at 6-5 200-pounds. "Deensively we plan to set up basically the same as against Essex," admitted the Blue-Gold coach. " (Saturday) it will be a good little football team against a good big football team."

The Pirates main strength seems to be in the play of their defensive unit which has recorded five shutouts on the year and allowed its opponents just six points to date.

"What happens is they play such tough defense it continually gives the offense good field position and it's just a matter of time until they break our backs," stated Senesky.

The Seton Hall gridders boast one of the best linebackers in the state in Chet Parlavacchio who at 6-3 and weighing 210 pounds provides good movement and strength on the strong side.

"Their defense is so big they really don't have to blitz much or do a great deal of things they just attack you," pointed out the Belleville coach.

Belleville's offense the past two weeks had been centered around the running of senior Frank Pizzi and the passing of sophomore signal caller Aulisi. Pizzi has scored five touchdowns the last pair of games.

"We feel everytime the ball goes near Frank it's certainly going to draw the defense," said Coach Senesky. "Now our play action and misdirection plays will be that much more effective."

The Bellboy squad will be fielding a relatively healthy squad on Saturday, incurring no serious injuries against the Eagles last Friday night.

"We've been very fortunate this year in avoiding injuries," said Senesky. "We've been stressing physical conditioning since the beginning of the season and in fact interior line coach Bill Trimmer does the exercises right along with the players so he's in pretty good shape also."

Junior QB Jerry Fazzini, however is still nursing a bruised leg which has forced him to miss both the Irvington and Essex.

"Jerry didn't even dress up Friday night," said the Blue-Gold coach. "He still has a lot of pain in the league. He's taking whirl pool treatments and it is improving but he really can't run at full speed yet."

Football bets bring arrest

A 19-year-old Belleville man was arrested for possession of betting paraphernalia Oct. 26 by Nutley Patrolman Jack Barry.

Barry had observed the youth engaged in suspicious activity in the vicinity of the Dairy Queen for a day or two before he made the arrest.

Upon making the arrest, the officer checked out the youth's vehicle, and found a number of football ticket slips, both sold and to be sold.

The case was heard in Nutley Municipal Court early this week.

Pair is caught with stolen car

A 20-year-old Newark man was convicted of unlawful use of a stolen vehicle during Sept. 27 proceedings of Belleville Municipal Court.

Ronald Early, 41 17th Ave., Newark, was arrested Sept. 18, by Belleville Police, for riding in a car which had been reported stolen.

The driver of the vehicle, a minor, is scheduled for a hearing in juvenile court at a later date, authorities said.

Presiding Judge Edward Abramson fined the adult defendant $150, placed him on a year's probation and handed him a 30-day suspended jail sentence.

Complainant in the case was Sgt. Philip F. Salmon of the Belleville police force.

Bellevillites cited for performances on national achievement tests

One Belleville resident has been named a national semi-finalist for his performance in a standardized aptitude test, while another Bellevillite received a letter of commendation for his abilities on the test.

Stephen Semienick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Semienick, Fairway Dr., is one of three seniors at Seton Hall Preparatory School, South Orange, to be designated a semi-finalist by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

For his performance on the 1976 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, Stephen will have the opportunity to compete for nearly 4,000 Merit Scholarships to be awarded this spring.

He ranks in the top one-half percent of senior-year students in the state of New Jersey and numbers among the 15,000 students cited nationwide.

One of Stephen's classmates, Michael Rauth, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rauth, Bernice Rd., received a letter of commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

As one of the 35,000 commended students nationwide, Michael is included in the top two percent of the nation's secondary school senior class.

Although commended students scored below the level required for the 15,000 semi-finalists who will continue in the Merit Scholarship competition, their test performance indicates exceptional academic promise. Edward C. Smith, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, said.

Other academic awards were presented to students attending Seton Hall Prep at an awards assembly in mid-September.

WHO will pay for a new County Executive? YOU WILL!

Today, Essex County citizens have a lean, productive Freeholder form of government that is totally responsive to their growing needs.

Next year — if we permit Charter Change to take root in Essex — we will have created a powerful new County Executive's office and staff that will cost you, the taxpayer, a minimum of $1 million more in new salaries, offices and related administrative costs!

- When you go to the polls on November 8, remember that Charter Change means an immediate increase in the cost of County government . . . plus additional yearly increases as the County Executive's office takes hold and expands.
- Remember that there are hidden costs. In Atlantic County, the executive became so involved in political squabbling with the freeholders that the county was forced to hire an attorney for the executive, a second attorney for the freeholders, and a third attorney for the county itself.
- Remember that change means one-man rule. The tradition of home rule in each municipality may well become only a memory if the county executive form of government takes over in Essex.
- Remember that bigger government does not spell economy. Charter Change will create an entirely new layer of government — more accurately, a new layer of bureaucracy that will stand between you and the responsive Freeholder form of government that exists today!

In short, we believe that more government will never mean better government, just higher taxes.

Join with us to preserve our Board of Freeholders — able men and women from all of our communities, who have produced some of the finest hospitals, parks, geriatric care, roads and educational facilities in New Jersey.

the final phase involves a new gymnasium," Pica said.
He added that the only phase the Planning Board is asked to approve now is the initial portion of the addition.

Approval by the Planning Board is required to comply with the year-old Uniform Building Code.

Technically, the Board of Education must begin construction on the new addition by Dec. 7, or 90 days after the official approval was received from the Economic Development Administration (EDA).

Construction means anything from digging a hole in the ground to putting up a shack, according to architect Seltzer.

Belleville must reroute electrical wires before it can begin actual construction on the site of the new addition, but this work qualifies as construction and will begin before the 90-day time limit expires.

Pica noted that the Board will have to be wary in accepting bids because of a new rule that 10 percent of the bid must be awarded to a minority contractor.

"Ten percent of the entire bid must be awarded to a minority contractor, or else we will lose federal funding for the project," Pica said.

He added that this 10 percent can come in anywhere as far as the total monies goes, and can be done at any phase of the construction.

Finally, the Board asked its Attorney Frank Pomaco to submit the architect's contract to the Board of Education for its approval.

REPRESENTATION AND SERVICE

The Democratic team of Mike Adubato and Jack Cali for re-election to the Assembly and Harrison Mayor Frank Rodgers for the Senate in the 30th District has presented an open campaign based on the issues and the needs of the people. This team is dedicated to support for law enforcement, quality public and non-public education, dignity for senior citizens, and protection for the homeowner.

SLING MUD AND YOU LOSE GROUND

The other tickets have done nothing to bring out in a positive approach what they intend to do for the 30th District. This is a negative campaign based on statements which have been proven to be false. Tearing down and cry-babyism has never helped the people who will reject this kind of campaign.

over 6,000 homes in the 30th district.

Meanwhile, the Democrats are supporting a candidate from another part of the district. Whereas Romeo now lives in Belleville and previously resided in North Newark, his Democratic counterpart, Frank Rodgers, comes from Hudson County.

"I feel Belleville could be a deciding factor in the race," Mrs. Senatore said. "Four years ago, the town went for Imperiale, but this time we're going to work hard to put a Democrat in that seat."

She added that she is supporting the entire Democratic ticket, from the gubernatorial candidates to those running for the state assembly.

"I am supporting Brendan Byrne as I said I would back to the time of the primary when Ralph DeRose, who I was campaigning for, lost," she said.

She said Bateman offers the worst tax platform and hopes that the voters of Belleville will consider that Byrne, through his income tax, did give a rebate.

Ferrara disagrees with Mrs. Senatore, and says that the Bateman tax platform is plausible.

Through a telephone canvassing of Belleville, he said that Bateman seems to be ahead of Byrne 2 to 1.

"Belleville seems to be for Bateman, but the existence of a large undecided vote could make a big difference," he noted.

In the 1973 gubernatorial election, Belleville favored Byrne over the Republican candidate, Charles Sandman, 7,110 to 3,985 votes.

At that time, Belleville had 18,390 registered voters, 11,888 of whom turned out at the polls, according to statistics supplied by Eugene Barnett, town clerk.

"The gubernatorial election is the second best in terms of turnout," he said. "Only the presidential election surpasses it."

The number of Bellevillites registered to vote in this election is 18,388, virtually the same as the number who were eligible four years ago.

These voters also will choose between candidates for the state assembly and vote on three referendums.

The candidates for the assembly on the Democratic line are Jack Cali and Michael Aduabato, both incumbents, and on the Republican ticket, Dan Russo and Belleville George Riepe.

Referendums on cleaning the shore areas and beachfronts, the refacing of a building of the state dentist's school and the charter change question are included on next Tuesday's ballot.

Mrs. Senatore said that she opposes all three propositions. She also said charter change, probably the most-talked-about issue on the referendum, is too rich for Belleville's nocks.

Belleville's state delegation pegged as worst in Trenton

Republican Assembly candidates Dan Russo and George Riepe have been supported in their charges that incumbents Aduabato and Cali are inept and incapable of representing the people of the 30th District.

For several months, the Russo-Riepe team has been claiming that the present Assemblymen have improperly spent over $152,000 of taxpayers' money which should have been used for legislative offices and staff, but instead just seems to have disappeared, according to the candidates.

"We now have proof," said Dan Russo, "that our charges are not unfounded. In fact, it has just been reported by New Jersey Monthly, a widely read, non-partisan publication, that our district is the worst represented out of 40 districts in New Jersey. Likewise, Aduabato has been labeled the worst Assemblyman out of 80, and Cali has been termed a 'drone' or a do-nothing."

"The magazine," continued George Riepe, "gave Aduabato the distinction of being the worst Assemblyman because of his 'long-winded obstructionism.' His fellow legislators even refer to him as a 'yo-yo' who's endorsement of a bill is a kiss of death. Cali, on the other hand, has been called a drone because his only accomplishment in the Assembly has been to sing happy birthday to his colleagues."

"It's a shame," added Russo, "that these men have been in office for four years and have done absolutely nothing for the people. They are only interested in feathering their own nests. We're sick of their 'I don't give a damn' attitude, and we're going to get rid of them in November."

"I'm working hard to get more jobs for Essex County"

— Thomas P. Giblin
Essex County Freeholder

"One issue close to my heart as an Essex County Freeholder is jobs. More jobs for the people of Essex County. How? By creating a tax environment that will attract more business and industry. My record shows how hard I've been working to reach that goal. Property taxes in our County have remained fairly stable—and I want to keep them that way. I understand the employment problem well — both through my father's activities as a Labor Leader and my own as President of Local 68, Operating Engineers. Jobs are a serious business. Especially if you don't have one. That's why I'll continue to work hard to get more work for the people of Essex County."

Tom Giblin is well qualified for the responsibilities of Freeholder. His impressive credentials include: Chairman of the Essex County Civil Service and Personnel Committee; President of Local 68, Operating Engineers, West Caldwell. Formerly member of the Essex County Overall Economic Development Study Commission; Legislative Aide to the Essex County Senate Delegation. In addition, Tom Giblin has actively served the community as member, board of trustees of the United Way, Ironbound Executives Association and the 200 Club. Tom and his wife have 5 children.

Telephone computers speed information to all operators

The telephone operator ain't what she used to be. In many ways she — and he, too — is a whole lot more, thanks to computer technology that helps speed and simplify operator assistance.

There was a time when every call went through an operator. Then New Jersey Bell introduced local dialing, direct dialing of long distance calls and international distance dialing.

Customers can talk to almost anyone, anywhere without having to go through an operator.

"The telephone is easier, faster and more convenient to use — and more reliable, too. But technology hasn't replaced the human element — the operator. Chances are it never will," said Richard Lewis, district traffic manager in the Essex County area.

"Computerization and new customer calling patterns have changed the form of the job, but operators still give the same kind of personalized, one-to-one service that the phone company was built on."

Stories of operator's help and heroism are legendary in hurricanes and other disasters and emergencies, operators have stayed at their stations to handle the inevitable flood of calls and, in some cases, to pass on emergency messages to local residents and businesses. Following a recent oil refinery explosion, many operators rushed to the office to help handle the increase in calls, including one operator whose home was shattered by the blast.

Every year, a number of operators are cited for their life-saving assistance in personal emergencies.

When most people are celebrating Mother's Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas, extra operators are on duty to handle the increased calls. It's been that way for 100 years.

"A lot of things have changed in the last century," the manager said. "We like to think the operator isn't one of them."

Years ago, most operators worked at the switchboards, handling long distance, coin box, emergency and other calls requiring assistance. But with most calls now being direct, dialed, switchboards have been replaced by lightning-fast computerized consoles called Traffic Service Position Systems (TSPS).

TSPS allows customers to dial their own coin box, credit card, third number and other operator-assisted and completed calls. The operator comes on the line only to handle the billing details or, for person-to-person calls, to assure that the connection is completed.

In 1951, when just about every long distance call went through a switchboard, New Jersey Bell operators handled 622,500 calls every day last year. TSPS operators assisted on about 683,400 calls a day, though those calls represented only a small fraction of the total.

Calls to directory assistance have risen steadily over the past decade, so more and more operators have been needed to handle the increased volume. They answered 733,720 calls each day last year compared to 578,960 a day in 1966.

The shift in personnel in the past decade is equally dramatic. In 1966, there were 1,660 directory assistance operators to 3,300 long distance operators. Now there are 2,130 directory assistance operators and 1,950 TSPS operators.

Among members of the committee are Mae Mead, Mazza of Belleville.

Guests, at the parties watched the debate and discussed it afterwards. The Women for Byrne committee then put together reactions and opinions coming out of the discussions for feedback to the governor's campaign.

Women for Byrne hold television house parties

The recently organized Essex County Women for Byrne committee held TV house parties around the county Thursday, the evening of the last TV debate between Gov. Brendan Byrne and his Republican challenger, Ray Bateman.

The Church Women United of Belleville will celebrate World Community Day tomorrow at Grace Baptist Church. Theme for the annual activity is "Heart Change — Global Change," with women from all Belleville churches participating.

The origin of World Community Day can be traced to 1941 when the United Council of Church Women met in Atlantic City, proclaiming a "day of peace" for the following year.

The service has become traditional since then, with a major part of the program being the presentation of the "least coin" in this country the penny.

Participants in the service include Virginia Lee, Alice Corbett, Ruth Hogan, Leah Gedrian, Frances Zeiss, Mrs. Bertha Batoff and Mrs. Harriett Hammel.

A Newark man, wanted since July for stealing a pair of shoes from a local store, was found guilty during Belleville Municipal Court proceedings Sept. 27.
Ralph Generazio, 20 South Pine Lane, Newark, was charged with shoplifting the shoes, valued at $20, from the Fayva Shoe Store, 298 Main St. on July 28.
According to authorities the man was spotted taking the shoes by the store's assistant manager but fled the scene when police were summoned.
The defendant was later arrested when the assistant manager identified him from a mug shot file at police headquarters.
Generazio was fined $250, placed on two years probation and given a 60-day suspended jail term.
Presiding Judge Edward Abramson allowed the man a year to pay the fine.

Retarded adults get workshops

A bill increasing state support for vocational training for retarded and emotionally disturbed adults sponsored by Assemblyman Peter Shapiro (D-Essex) was approved by the Assembly last week by a vote of 68-0.
The bill, which increases appropriations $450,000 for sheltered workshop programs received widespread bipartisan support in the Assembly. The aim of the bill is to provide handicapped adults with job training to enable them to become economically functioning, self-supporting citizens.
"This bill will both save money and provide more humane treatment for these people," Shapiro said. "Instead of being confined to a life of institutionalization, these adults will be able to live and work and hopefully support themselves in communities throughout the state."
Citizen groups dedicated to helping retarded citizens throughout the State have pushed for enactment of the bill, which will now go to the State Senate.
There are currently 40 sheltered workshops in the State serving 1500 adults. The bill will allow services to be given to over 560 additional adults.

RE-ELECT ANTHONY IMPERIALE INDEPENDENT SENATOR, 30th DISTRICT

ANTHONY IMPERIALE

Ladies and Gentlemen of the 30th District, I am Anthony Imperiale, Independent candidate for re-election to the New Jersey Senate.

The issues in this election are clear — taxes, education, home rule, benefits for Senior Citizens, employment and integrity. My opponent, Frank Rodgers, a man who emanates from the Kenny machine and who has spent his entire 30 years of public life building a personal empire, knows nothing about the issues. His age dictates a forced retirement from his "plushy" Hudson County Clerk's position, and now he needs a place to "hang his hat."

On three separate occasions, Mr. Rodgers has refused invitations to debate. His reluctance to disclose his personal financial worth is total proof of his contempt for the public. What he is telling you is, it's none of your business.

It is obvious that Mr. Rodger's first love is his insurance business. He has been heard to say that insurance is a graceful and legitimate way to profit from politics — and he has? His flagrant use of municipal telephones to make calls to a well-known brokerage firm in Chatham is outrageous. His featherbedding of the major municipal service organizations in Harrison has cost the people a ten-point tax increase in 1977 alone.

Frank Rodgers is the last hold-over of the infamous Hudson County bosses, who, for years, suppressed Hudson County; and his roll in the Meadowview Hospital scandal has never been defined.

Now is the time for all the people of the 30th District to stand-up and be counted. Let Mr. Rodgers know that you disapprove of his self-indulgent style of government. VOTE ANTHONY IMPERIALE — LINE F-51
