

Channel challenging ban on Sunday sales

Channel Home Center's new Belleville outlet apparently is going to test the validity of the town ordinance prohibiting sales on Sundays.

Executives of the Belleville store were issued four citations for illegally opening on Sunday. Police Commissioner Rocco Saletta disclosed yesterday. Ironically, Saletta is one of the most outspoken critics of the Sunday closing law, calling the ban "discriminatory and ridiculous to begin with."

Channel Home Centers, when told of the Belleville sales ban on Sundays, seemed surprised but later told reporters before the local outlet's grand opening that the firm would abide "by all town ordinances and laws. If this means closing on Sundays, that's what we'll do," a spokesman for Channel told the Times/News.

But the very first weekend after its grand opening, Channel stayed open on Sunday.

"Police went up there and issued four summonses," Commissioner Saletta continued. "Four customers were stopped who had purchased items. We took their names, addresses and cited them in the summonses," Saletta said. None of the Sunday customers at Channel was arrested however.

Attorneys and store managers for Channel are expected to appear in Judge Edward Abramson's Municipal Court next week. Saletta said if Channel is open this Sunday, additional citations will be issued.

"We didn't issue any summonses last weekend because we had suspended the Sunday sales ban at the request of Grand Union and Pathmark. The supermarkets ask to remain open before major holidays and we've accommodated them," the Police Commissioner notes.

Saletta said he plans to renew his attempt to persuade at least one more member of the Belleville Town Commission to join in support of abolishing the blue law. Saletta and Marotti both strongly favor Sunday retail sales but the measure is being opposed by Commissioners Mary Senatore, Vincent Strumolo and Joseph McGreevey.

"We're like an island in Belleville on Sunday," Saletta repeated yesterday. "All around us on all sides — Newark, Bloomfield, Nutley, Lyndhurst, Kearny — stores are open on Sunday, but not in Belleville. We're only hurting ourselves."

Belleville's ordinance specifically bans retail sales in stores having four or more employees. "That in itself is discriminatory," Saletta concluded.

Belleville School Board split 4-3 in naming new principal for BHS

By MARY FREEMAN

Belleville High's new principal will not be a local resident or even a New Jersey native, according to a variety of sources that point in the direction of Reading, Pa.

School Trustees recessed into a private session shortly before midnight Monday to discuss the appointment of the man who will succeed Raymond Smith who retired as high school principal earlier this year.

Belleville Trustees, however, are split, 4-3, on the Reading, Pa., appointment.

"I'm sure we're not unanimous on the selection of the new principal," Caesar Romano, School Board president said. "We're not unanimous on anything."

From a list of more than 100 applicants, the School Board was down to discussion on two men as of Monday night — one from within the Belleville system and the other from out of state.

George Nuscera, administrative assistant at Belleville High School, along with a Pennsylvania educator are the two candidates under final scrutiny by the Board, but it is expected that the trustees will confirm the appointment of John DeCesare, of Reading, Pa., when they hold their public meeting next Monday.

DeCesare, who is principal of Muhlenberg High School, has served as a secondary principal four years and as a vice principal three years.

He publicly has been endorsed for the position of high school principal by Trustee Ralph Risoli who noted at the Nov. 9 meeting of the School Board the merits of the educational atmosphere he found when he visited the Pennsylvania high school.

"In Pennsylvania, I found the cleanest school I've ever seen in my life," Risoli said. "The tardiness there does not compare with the problem we have in Belleville."

Risoli added that he believes in promotion from within the school system first, but that this administrator was the one and only recommendation of Belleville Superintendent Dr. John Greed.

Risoli, along with Greed and Trustee Michael Chieffo travelled to the Reading school to interview DeCesare earlier this month; DeCesare also has visited Belleville.

"We've done a very thorough job in this," Dr. Greed said. "If we thought the best man was in Belleville, then he would have been chosen for the position."

The superintendent noted that of the 20 administrators in Belleville eligible for the high school principalship, only three applied.

Among the other candidates were one superintendent of schools, more than a dozen high school principals, many vice principals and several members of the State Department of Education.

Although the superintendent's office and the School Board refused to release the names of the applicants, two local groups have expressed their disapproval at reaching out of the local community for a new principal.

The Board of Commissioners, at its pre-conference meeting Monday afternoon, expressed wonder that the School Board would consider educators from other towns when eligible men are already working here.

"Such action loses all the incentive for present employees in the Belleville school system," Public Safety Commissioner Rocco Saletta said. "It's a slap in the face to praise some of our administrators so highly and then to go out of state to bring in an educator."

Mayor Michael V. Marotti

echoed Saletta's sentiments, noting, "I don't think it's fair to go out of the school system — it is the Commission's feeling that the School Board should draw from within."

Another Belleville organization conveyed its displeasure regarding the rumors that a Pennsylvania man might get the principal's job in a letter to the School Board Nov. 17.

The Belleville High School Home & School Association said, "We do not believe the proper consideration has been given to those highly qualified applicants for the high school principalship who already work in the system. Therefore, we respectfully urge the board to reconsider its decision before a final vote is

Will homeowners bear brunt of revaluation?

By PHIL WHITE

Property values in Belleville have increased 85 percent since 1969, the town-wide revaluation has found. However the report issued today was not sufficiently complete to enable homeowners to estimate the revaluation's effect on the average homeowner.

The official news release from the Realty Appraisal Company is somewhat misleading in that the report suggests homeowners can estimate 1978 taxes by multiplying new property assessments by a hypothetical $3.90 tax rate.

The problem with such a formula is that it does not take into consideration a probable shift of the town's tax load from commercial and industrial properties to the individual homeowner.

Tax Assessor Peter Torres says he has no breakdown of the totals for residential, commercial, industrial and apartment properties. "That information won't be finalized for some time," Torres said, after noting the responsibility of providing those kinds of figures is still Realty Appraisal Co.'s and not his.

During an interview with the Times/News, however, Torres left little doubt that he personally expects commercial and industrial property owners to be paying less and the single-family homeowner more once the revaluation program has been completed.

"The reason for the decline in industrial and commercial properties is due to the fact they're not selling at the same percentage of ratio as are the residential," Torres said. He believes apartments will be in line with the homes but that commercial and industrial real estate in Belleville will show a decline in value.

Torres has until Jan. 10 to certify the work of Realty Appraisal Co., a West New York-based firm which won the Belleville revaluation work with a low bid on a $149,000 contract.

Realty Appraisal is several weeks behind schedule, and Torres can't certify the final figures until the firm itself completes its work. Realty Appraisal this week has mailed thousands of letters to Belleville property owners. Each owner is now given an opportunity to discuss or even protest, on an informal basis, the newly assigned assessment.

Owners have been given telephone numbers and dates to call Realty Appraisal for such appointments.

According to the total property value figures released Monday by Realty Appraisal, Belleville is now worth $437 million, up 85 percent from the $236 million total assessment established by the previous revaluation in 1969. Realty Appraisal also did the 1969 survey.

The total figure also signifies that Belleville's current assessment, based on the 1969 survey, represents only

Dedication Ceremony — Parents, pupils and a throng of local residents welcomed the new School No. 3 to Belleville with a dedication ceremony and open house

Residents throng opening of new School No. 3

The public unveiling of School No. 3 drew over 150 townspeople, plus local officials, school administrators and School Board members to the long-awaited edifice last Saturday.

Dedication of the building had been planned for the previous week, but switched to Nov. 19 by the School Board because of a conflict with Homecoming Weekend here.

Starting at about 11:45 a.m., parents, pupils and neighbors of the new building began drifting toward the rows of folding chairs that had been set up around the face of the new school.

When dedication ceremonies and speeches began 15 minutes later, the crowd filled the aislesways and overlapped onto the sidewalk adjacent to Union Ave. and to Joramemon St.

Individual speeches were offered by trustees, by School Principal Austin MacArthur and by Superintendent of Schools Dr. John Greed.

"School No. 3 is really the learning and love between teachers and their students," Dr. Greed told the crowd, "and that never diminished. But

Santa Claus is coming to town 1:30 Friday

Santa Claus is coming to town, escorted by the Belleville High School Band and Twirlers, this Friday at 1:30 p.m.

Santa will serve as the main attraction at the Chamber of Commerce's annual parade hailing the official arrival of the Christmas season here.

The parade starts at the corner of Greylock Parkway and Washington Ave. and continues throughout the center of Belleville until William St., when it backtracks to the Town Hall to be met by Mayor Michael V. Marotti and town commissioners.

The Fire Department is providing an engine in which Santa Claus will ride for the second consecutive year.

"We used to have Santa ride atop a float," Harry French, executive director of the Chamber and chairman of the parade, said, "but we found out that the children enjoy seeing him riding a fire engine more than standing on the float."

In past years, Belleville's Santa arrived here via helicopter onto Clearman Field, but then the part of Belleville from Holmes St. to the Nutley border missed out on the parade, French noted.

French added that the parade purposely will be short so it will not jam up traffic on Friday, which traditionally begins the Christmas shopping season.

"We have always chosen the day after Thanksgiving for our Churches slate services today and tomorrow

Belleville's churches are celebrating Thanksgiving with religious and community services ranging from the traditional evening ecumenical service to services on the day itself.

Congregation Ahavath Achim and the Wesley United Methodist Church are cosponsoring a service this evening at 8, while, at the same time, representatives from more than five local churches will meet for an ecumenical service at Montgomery Presbyterian Church on Mill St.

The Rev. Dominic Scibilia is coordinating the Montgomery Church event, which will include representatives from Bethany Lutheran Church, of which he is pastor, Montgomery Presbyterian Church, the Belleville Reformed Church, Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church and the Belleville Assembly of God, along with members of other Protestant churches here.

The church officials will celebrate the service, with Rev. Scibilia delivering the Thanksgiving Eve message. Other representatives are scheduled to lead the congregation in prayer.

The service, which is held in a different church each year, will vary from the norm in at least one way tonight. For the first time, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated jointly by all church members present, regardless of denomination.

"We want to emphasize the importance of a united Christ witness, especially in these days," the Rev. Alfred Stone, of Fewsmith

Memorial Presbyterian Church, said. "Normally, Christians have difficulty because of the different traditions they hold regarding the Lord's Supper."

Rev. Stone continued, "This year, we are emphasizing more what it means — and less how you administer it."

Lay leaders from each of the participating churches will distribute the elements to the church members present at the ecumenical service.

Meanwhile, Christ Episcopal Church plans on continuing its Thanksgiving Day service tradition morning at 9, but Congregation Ahavath Achim is joining Wesley Methodist Church at 8 p.m.

The two groups will meet for a Thanksgiving Eve service at the Wesley Methodist Church.

Schwartz concurs with Byrne priority

Lawrence Schwartz, president of the New Jersey School Boards Association and member of the Belleville Board of Education, recently expressed appreciation for Gov. Brendan Byrne's comment that quality education for all New Jersey's children will be a first priority in his new term.

"It's notable that Gov. Byrne, within moments of his re-election victory, singled out public education as the first issue that would occupy his attention during the next four years," Schwartz said.

He continued, "Board members around New Jersey are heartened by this significant commitment to our children."

Schwartz added that the completion of the legislative and gubernatorial elections will allow swift passage of a tax formula hopefully and also might permit the NJSBA to turn its attention to maintaining and improving the public schools.

Noting the unsettled nature of school finance over the past three years, Schwartz commented, "While the Association has difficulties with certain provisions of the educational funding program, we're now confident that planning for the 1978-79 school year can go on in an orderly and responsible manner."

"We're optimistic that the next four years under Gov. Byrne and the newly-elected legislature will prove exciting and successful to the public schools in our state."

Summer, Inc., undertakes management of local co-op

Newest addition to the professional management roster of Alexander Summer Inc. is the 100-unit Parkway House, a luxury co-operative apartment building in Glen Ridge.

Alexander Summer Jr., chief executive officer, in reporting the appointment, noted that sound operating principles will be recommended to the Parkway House board of directors.

"Then," he said, "those programs approved by the directors will be implemented."

The nine-story Parkway House, 926 Bloomfield Ave., Glen Ridge, was converted to the co-operative form of ownership four years ago. As a co-operative, a board of directors elected by resident shareholders governs the operations of the apartment building.

Summer praised the Parkway House for recognizing the need for professional management which is designed to promote high maintenance standards, while holding operating expenditures to a minimum during a period of inflation.

"We will periodically review all competitive service contracts," he explained, "in order to verify that the best service is being received at the lowest possible cost."

The Glen Ridge structure contains 4-, 2-, and 3-bedroom apartments, plus indoor parking. Under the co-operative concept, apartment owners enjoy the tax benefits of home ownership including federal tax credits for real estate taxes and mortgage interest.

parade because the children are home from school and the shopping season is kicked off then," the executive director said.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. John Greed has sent notes to the principals of all Belleville elementary schools, asking them to have teachers notify the pupils of the time and place of the parade.

While the children of Belleville are watching Santa's arrival during the day, shoppers will be greeted by bright lights upon holiday Christmas trees Friday evening.

The trees have been put up on 22 poles along Washington Ave. between Rutgers St. and William St., evenly spaced diagonally across from each other.

The lights are turned on and off automatically, French said. They go on when the street lights do and are turned off when the sun comes up.

"The Christmas lights are good for Washington Ave. — anything which helps to stimulate the Christmas spirit helps business," he added.

In past years, only businesses along the area of Washington Ave. between Rutgers and William Sts. contributed to the Christmas lights, but this year, all members of the Chamber of Commerce were asked to donate to this town tradition.

taken on this matter."

Nothing the group did not want to comment on the qualifications of the potential employee from out of state, the Home and School Association still wished to protest his hiring "as strongly as can be perceived by the Board."

In response to that letter, Risoli noted his willingness to go before the Home & School group and explain the situation, adding that they must have heard only one side of the story.

Another trustee, Richard Mahmarian, said he wrote the letter because those who wrote it are his constituents, even though he takes personal exception to the comment.

"I take personal exception to teachers trying to dictate to me what to do as a policymaker of this school system," Mahmarian said. "But, I will take the letter under advisement before I take my final position on the principal appointment."

College sponsoring trip to England next month

The public is invited to join Montclair State College students in a winter session trip to "Literary England" Dec. 27 to Jan. 16.

The tour, which can be taken for three undergraduate English credits, if so desired, will be led by Dr. Rita Jacobs of the Montclair State English faculty. Dr. Jacobs holds degrees from Queens College of the City University of New York and the University of Pennsylvania, and has had additional study at the University of London.

The three-week trip includes four visits to the theatre, and guided walking tours in London, a boat trip on the Thames, and excursions to Canterbury, Stratford, the Lake Country, and other points of interest. Additional theater tickets and a weekend in Paris are offered as options.

The fee of $739 covers air fare, hotel accommodations, continental breakfasts, coach excursions, various admissions and other charges. The reservation deadline is this week.

TOWN GETS EXTENSION

Fire captains' promotion set

Three captains will be assigned positions as deputy chiefs in the Belleville Fire Department as a result of an ordinance that was scheduled to be passed at last night's Commission meeting.

The three, Jack Baldwin, Dawson Bloom and Ralph Castellano, are numbers one, two and three on the promulgated Civil Service list which expired yesterday.

Commissioner Rocco Saletta says he has until Dec. 3 to appoint the captains to the new posts because of a 15-day extension he procured from Civil Service.

Saletta called Civil Service Friday requesting a certified list of those men who had scored highest on the test from the promulgated list.

"Calling for a certified list puts the expiration date of the promulgated list in limbo," the Public Safety commissioner said. "The certified list must be used within 15 days of the expiration of the promulgated list, which brings the deadline up to early December."

By Dec. 3, Town Commissioners will have had enough time to uphold the ordinance in its final form and wait out the 10-day period necessary for it to become law after it is published.

Once the promotions are effective, the three firemen will immediately assume duties relegated to deputy chiefs.

"Through reorganizations, thought and a pilot program, these men are more than capable of filling these positions," Saletta said. "The same three have been at the top of Civil Service lists for the past six years."

He added that their salaries will be increased in accordance with their new duties and responsibilities.

Pair is caught with stolen car

A 20-year-old Newark man was convicted of unlawful use of a stolen vehicle during Sept. 27 proceedings of Belleville Municipal Court.

Ronald Ealy, 41 17th Ave., Newark, was arrested Sept. 18, by Belleville Police, for riding in a car which had been reported stolen.

The driver of the vehicle, a minor, is scheduled for a hearing in juvenile court at a later date, authorities said.

Presiding Judge Edward Abramson fined the adult defendant $150, placed him on a year's probation and handed him a 30-day suspended jail sentence.

Complainant in the case was Sgt. Philip F. Salmon of the Belleville police force.

Football bets bring arrest

A 19-year-old Belleville man was arrested for possession of betting paraphernalia Oct. 26 by Nutley Patrolman Jack Barry.

Barry had observed the youth engaged in suspicious activity in the vicinity of the Dairy Queen for a day or two before he made the arrest.

Upon making the arrest, the officer checked out the youth's vehicle, and found a number of football ticket slips, both sold and to be sold.

The case was heard in Nutley Municipal Court early this week.

Assassin awaits Anwar Sadat

Egyptian President Anwar el Sadat made an historical visit to Israel which may establish a point in history when disputes between nations are settled across the negotiating table and not on the battlefield.

Ten days ago it was impossible to dream that an Arab leader would stand on Israeli soil and genuinely shake hands in an act of friendship and express a desire for reconciliation. The impossible is achieved if people of good faith are determined to seek such a destination.

We believe Sadat's unprecedented move will probably end, for all time, a settlement of disputes on the battlefield by major countries.

Hanging in the balance, by reason of Sadat's visit to Israel, is the safety of Sadat himself. Assassination plots will be uncovered almost hourly — and it may just be that one assassin may be successful.

Sadat will have more security in Israel than he will find in Egypt, for members of his own party are determined to get rid of him and will stop at nothing — even murder — to achieve the objective. This is not to downgrade the interest of the Palestine Liberation Organization in the extermination of Sadat. The PLO radicals see in Sadat a danger of their future, and as illustrated of the Israeli athletes participating in the Olympics in West Germany, PLO radicals have no regard or respect for human life. And Sadat would be just another killing to them.

So the Free World must fear for the safety of Sadat's life, jeopardized by his desire to seek world peace, even at the expense of his own life.

We read into Sadat's effort a sincere determination to convince Israel that at long last the state of Israel is recognized as a country whose existence can not be challenged — as a country whose existence will be guaranteed by the Egyptians. This is a dramatic change in the thinking of Egyptians and should ensure a speedy resolution of the outstanding problems that isolate Israel from the rest of the Mideast.

Avondale-Big Tree reunion

Recently, natives of the neighboring northeast section of town got together in an old-fashioned neighborhood party to relive yesterday's memories. Three hundred thirty people turned out for the unprecedented event. They basked in the glory of yesterday's fame — and talked about dreams and aspirations of the tomorrows to come. They talked of the old Belleville neighborhood — they talked of the gridiron greats — and the baseball greats — and the golfing greats — a unique social experience in this great democracy of ours. Imagine your old neighborhood — for that matter, any neighborhood — giving birth to such an event. How wonderful it all was.

Wish that all our people went back to their old neighborhoods for an old-timers reunion. The experience does something for the heart that words cannot describe. It was beautiful. And after it was all over, the crowd wanted more and they want to come back again next year to spin off some more yarns of yesterday — the handicaps, the burdens, yes, and the joys of being born into a "ghetto" and rising to heights far beyond the horizons of our youth.

The scene was most touching — and those it touched became richer for it.

GOLDEN COMMENTS

Campaign incident injures Belleville

BY JIM GOLDEN

It is regrettable that our town should be sullied by out-of-town demonstrators bent upon venting their ire on the governor over the state income tax. We accept the concept of peaceful picketing and lawful assemblage, but does that justify forceable denial of ingress to a public building by anyone, let alone the governor of the state? We think not.

Without attempting to prejudice the complaint of the individual who charges the governor as being disorderly, we find it difficult to presume that with all the duly authorized police protection afforded the governor, both local and state, that it would be necessary for such a mild-mannered as Brendon Byrne to resort to aggressive conduct in making his way into a political rally at which he was the main attraction.

Aside from the unfortunate adverse publicity the incident inflicts upon the town, we feel confident that if the case ever goes to court that the testimony of those police officers who were on the scene will help exonerate the governor.

The day before Election Day, I watched from the window those dedicated, underpaid Public Works employees cleaning up the leaves from the street in the pouring rain. There were plenty of leaves, but the men were doing a masterful job in loading them into the trucks and carting them away as the rain pelted down.

As good as their job was done mounds of leaves still remained in the streets in places where cars were parked which prevented the men from getting at them, notwithstanding the signs which called upon the car owners to move their cars on street cleaning days.

A little more cooperation from the public in this matter would facilitate the work of the town workers and help all of us keep our streets clean. How about it? Let's all give the fellows a helping hand and get those cars off the street on those designated street cleaning days so we can get rid of those bothersome leaves that become dangerous and slippery.

While plans go on apace for construction of the new fire station on Franklin Ave. by Soho Hospital, we hear disturbing muttering from a few about the prospects of having to hire additional firemen and purchasing of new engines to make the new facility functional. Likewise, even from within the ranks of the fire ladders themselves there are evidences of dissatisfaction in some quarters.

Fears are being expressed in subtle tones about the closing of some of the present fire station locations and the possible affect it might have upon the fire protection of the Valley section, especially with its heavy concentration of industry.

In the Silver Lake section, where people take great pride in having their own firehouse, there is growing apprehension that even that monument to the identity of the Lake's respected entity may be taken away from them. Not now with an election coming up in May 1979, only little more than a year away, but they realistically have a right to wonder what will happen after that. They realize how short-lived political promises made before an election can become.

We don't profess to know the reasons for, nor the answers to these impendable riddles and enigmas, however we do recognize that the cauldron continues to bubble in Belleville when it pertains to almost anything that concerns town politics.

Home and School Assn. believes next HS principal is already here

To the Editor:

Quality public education is the source of great pride in Belleville and an important factor in the spirit of the community. Likewise, the state of the community spirit is a powerful contributor to the quality of public education.

We like to believe that the school administrators and policymakers are partners with the citizenry in developing and maintaining the important character of this, our most valued resource.

The Belleville High School Home & School Association greeted with regret the decision by Raymond O. Smith to retire as principal of the high school this year. Still, despite our misgivings about Mr. Smith's retirement, we felt confident in the knowledge that within the Belleville Public School system there exist many people of high quality who, if appointed as Mr. Smith's successor, would do honor to his record of accomplishment.

It has come to our attention, however, that the Belleville Board of Education is considering or may have already decided to reach outside the public school system, beyond the town limits of Belleville and, indeed, past the New Jersey state line for a new high school principal.

We do not wish to comment on the qualifications of this potential appointee, for we know nothing about him including his name. But we do wish to protest, as strongly as can be perceived by the Board, this action.

Were it not for the impressive pool of talent already working in our public schools; were it not for the need for continuity of administration; were it not for the extreme community need to solidify its pride in Belleville's educational system, such an action would go without comment.

We do not believe the proper consideration has been given to those highly qualified applicants for the high school principalship who already work in the system. Therefore, we respectfully urge the Board to reconsider their decision before a final vote is taken on this matter.

Sincerely,
Margaret Hester, president
Belleville High School
Home & School Association

Opposes concept of rating school teachers in state

To the Editor:

This letter is in reference to an article in last week's Times. According to the article the PTA and the NJSBA and a member of the Belleville Board of Education have endorsed the use of student progress as a measure of teacher competence.

It seems to me, everyone is shocked that our high school children are doing poorly on state testing and that they were allowed to reach high school without anyone doing something about the fact that they were having trouble learning.

Today, we are taking measures to try to prevent this from happening in the future, but I do not feel supporting such a rating system of our teachers is one of the good measures.

If we put teachers jobs on the line by rating them on the quantity of A's and B's they give out rather than the quality of these grades, then we will be doing our children a great injustice.

We will be forcing our teachers to cover up the fact that there are children in their classrooms who need the extra help that we are fighting hard to give them. It will be easier to give a "B" to a student who honestly deserves a "D" so it looks good on the teachers record and his job will not be affected.

Please, let's not put this kind of pressure on our teachers by backing them into a corner by supporting this type of policy in our schools.

Sincerely,
Mrs. J. Sobanko

"What's load management, and will it save money on electric bills?"

Using generating equipment efficiently. Load management is one of the important ways PSE&G is trying to save money by using electric generating equipment more efficiently.

Every day, electric use by our customers goes up and down, depending on the time of day. Low at night, high in the daytime. And of course there are enormous extra demands for electricity to power air conditioning systems in hot weather. It's expensive to build and maintain all the generating equipment that's needed just to meet these big, heavy electric demands.

Load management is an effort to spread out electric usage more evenly during the entire day and night, and throughout the year.

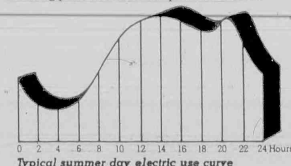

Reducing "peaks" benefits customers. If our customers could stretch out the use of electricity more evenly throughout the day and year, PSE&G would not have to maintain so much generating equipment. This would result in a more efficient system which could eventually result in lower bills.

Load management has always been a basic ingredient for good utility management. In fact, PSE&G's rate structure has incorporated seasonal provisions for residential customers and seasonal and off-peak provisions to industrial customers for years.

PSE&G testing new rate structures. Now we plan to test so-called "time of day" rates with 500 residential customers to evaluate the effectiveness of spreading electric use throughout the day. This means, for example, using appliances such as dishwashers and clothes dryers at night.

Load management is just one of many ways PSE&G is exploring new and better ways to provide customers with adequate supplies of electric energy at the lowest possible cost.

New York, New York, what a town!

Helen's thing

by Helen Maguire

THERE ARE MANY things I don't enjoy doing and high up on the list is giving birthday parties. As soon as feasible, I try to persuade the young Maguires to opt for a trip instead and so far, I have met with success with the two boys.

This year, Gavin elected to go to New York City, one of his favorite haunts and after consulting that marvelous book published by Rutgers University Press, "Away We Go", decided to concentrate sightseeing in the financial district. I told him that my absolute walking limit was 50 blocks and I would joyously settle for a lot less hiking. Surprisingly, the spots he picked were within a five block area and mother breathed a sigh of relief. My feet took a long time to recover from the last escape.

ARMED WITH A MAP provided by our new neighbors and accompanied by brother, Ryan and friend Brian, we drove into the city, found a parking lot with no trouble (and a $7 tab) and started the day with a visit to Frances Tavern (located on the corner of Pearl and Broad), and the spot where Washington bid farewell to his officers at the end of the Revolutionary War. It's a neat place to see, admission is free and the museum boasts such treasures as a piece of Washington's tooth, a lock of hair from the head of the Marquis de Lafayette and a cane fashioned from a leg of the table on which the Declaration of Independence was penned. Ryan was impressed with the visitors' book which bore Liza Minnelli's signature a scant five or so lines above his own.

On to lunch down the block at "Chicago" where the food is good and plentiful and not outrageously priced and where the hostess, appalled that the boys were considering leaving some onion rings uneaten, stood over them while I went to wash my hands, quoted how much hard earned cash they were wasting and watched with satisfaction at the last ring disappearing down a reluctant throat.

A SHORT WALK down Broad Street brought us to the New York Stock Exchange whose free guided tours include an animated cartoon entitled "How The One Man Band Got to Wall Street", a visit to the gallery over the exchange floor and an explanation of what is transpiring below, a look at the highly complicated computers which record minute by minute changes in the market and an illustrated talk on how stocks are bought and sold. That spot alone was worth the trip.

A block away is Trinity Church, founded in 1697. Alexander Hamilton and Robert Fulton are among the famous people buried in its churchyard and some of the stones date back to the early 1600's.

FEDERAL HALL National Memorial was the last stop on the tour. It's the site of Washington's inauguration as president and its excellent exhibits include one on John Peter Zenger and freedom of the press. Beats birthday parties any day.

Patricia Grace Vocaturo to marry Harold Fischer

Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Vocaturo of 36 Tiona Avenue, Belleville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Grace to Harold Keith Fischer, of 128 Brighton Avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Stuhler of Lyndhurst.

Miss Vocaturo, a graduate of Belleville High School, is with Qualified Decorators Inc., Clifton.

Mr. Fischer an alumna of Lyndhurst High School, attended Bergen Community College and is with Wallace & Tiernan-Div. Penwalt Corp., Belleville.

The wedding date has been set for June 3, 1978.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kepeck — nee April Winters

Miss April Jean Winters bride of Walter Kepeck

Miss April Jean Winters, daughter of Mrs. Marion Winters-Dean of Linden Ave. and Walter Kepeck Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kepeck Sr. of Newark, were married Sept. 10 in Christ Episcopal Church, Belleville.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Paul Long and a reception followed at Amvets Hall, Nutley.

Given in marriage by her brother, Robert Thompson, the bride wore a gown of organza and lace with a matching flowered aproned veil. She carried white roses with white carnations, babies breath and lily of the valley.

Miss Michelle Winters was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Miss Linda Lepeck of Newark, sister of the groom and Miss Kathryn Sullivan of Belleville.

They were attired in apricot crepe gowns topped with orange and apricot chiffon capes. The honor attendant wore a derby hat while the others had hats in the sweetheart style. All carried apricot mums, orange pompons and babies breath.

Michael Rigada of Newark was best man. Ushers were Richard Thompson of Belleville, brother of the bride and Joseph Dellisanti of Newark.

Mrs. Winters-Dean chose a beige polyester gown with brown lace trim and angel sleeves. Her corsage was of yellow tea roses. The groom's mother was in an aqua crepe gown with long sleeves and pearl trim. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Kepeck, an alumna of Belleville High School, is with Cedar Hill Oil Company.

Mr. Kepeck, a graduate of Essex Catholic High School, attends School of Electronics and is with American System Company.

The couple is residing in Belleville after honeymooning in Orlando, Fla.

Troth is announced of Laurie Leier, to Rocky Ferraro

Mr. and Mrs. George Leier of Esmond, North Dakota, announce the engagement of their daughter, Laurie of Toledo, Ohio to Rocky Ferraro of Toledo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Ferraro of 350 Belleville Ave.

The troth was made known Oct. 17.

Miss Leier, an alumna of North Dakota State University, received her masters degree at Case Western Reserve University and is a registered dietitian at Mercy Hospital.

Mr. Ferraro, an alumnus of Rutgers University, earned his masters degree in city and regional planning at Ohio State University. He is a land use planner for Toledo Metropolitan Area Council of Governments.

The wedding will be held May 28, 1978 in Toledo.

Republican Party is not dead Renna says after Byrne win

A surprising victory for Governor Byrne and a time to reflect and evaluate the make-up and goals of the Republican party. These were the sentiments of John Renna, chairman of the Essex County GOP, following last Tuesday's Democratic victory in New Jersey.

Renna pointed out that many lessons were learned in the campaign, not the least important of which was the necessity to keep the Republican Party in Essex County unified and moving as it has over the past six months.

"There are many reasons for victory or defeat," Renna said, "and one or two events rarely determine the outcome. Our people in Essex worked hard, and for this they deserve credit and praise. But many problems cropped up during the campaign over which we had little or no control, and these contributed to defeat."

"I would like to state categorically, however, that the Republican Party in New Jersey is not dead, nor do we have any intention of rolling over. We will continue to be the loyal opposition, and I serve notice that the elephant will be heard from, our candidates will be elected and the one-party rule in New Jersey will be terminated. These goals are attainable in the near future."

Renna stated he intends to bring county leaders together for evaluation and to decide upon new approaches for the future. He emphasized that the process of change must begin on all levels and has to include every leadership echelon.

Ahead as the first goal of the Republican Party, is selection of the strongest and most attractive candidates for county executive and freeholders under the charter change. The qualifications for the former, he pointed out, include a broad understanding of government, business and politics; freeholder aspirants must possess these attributes plus a strong position in their respective districts.

"We will be meeting with the charter change group as well as with members of our own party, Democrats and Independents to find the right candidates and to make sure that the new county districts will be acceptable to all parties," he stated, "we feel that our interests coincide with those of the charter faction and other independent thinking citizens, and our total commitment to this cause will be forthcoming."

"This will represent our first effort at bringing the Republican Party back to a position of prominence, to its rightful place as a responsive and responsible voice in government. I plan a positive, all-out effort to bring the Party together," he said, "and I sincerely hope that all the candidates who were defeated will continue their efforts in behalf of the people of Essex County as well as the Republican Party."

Tennis classes beginning soon at Montclair Y

What's going on in Belleville schools?

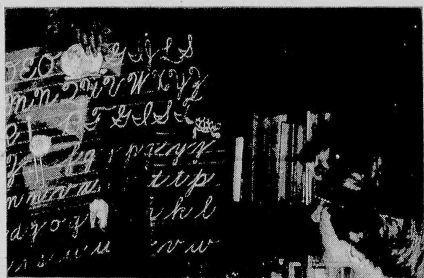

Dear President Carter — Second graders at James G. Shawger School wrote President Carter lamenting the possibility of discontinuing the penny by 1980. A Weekly Reader article aroused the youngsters who received an autographed color photo of the president and a letter from the White House. Their teachers, Mrs. Vera Magistro and Mrs. Lucille Balnicki, are proud of their young citizens.

School One students spell with fingers

A group of School Number One students are spelling with their fingers. They are members of a recently formed special education class at School Number One.

Finger spelling is being used with hearing children as a multi-sensory approach to teaching spelling and phonics and to improve reading skills. These children learn to use all their senses at the same time so that touch and motor skills can add meaning to the usual ways of learning through seeing and hearing. Within one week, every child in the class has learned the "code" and spelling is a favorite subject of the day. It gives a visual and motor clue to students who never before related letters and sounds well by listening. They are looking forward to improved and pleasurable reading as a result of finger spelling.

Writing Workshop — Schools Ten and Two held a writing workshop recently on the handling of writing, cursive and manuscript, in the elementary schools. Above, Leonard Jones of Zaner-Bloser Company, demonstrates a chart useful when transferring from manuscript to cursive writing. Mrs. Lauren Del Priore looks on. Arthur Pico, principal of both schools, participated in the discussions. The workshop was sponsored by Miss Dailey.

Halloween parade at School No. 8 draws large crowd

Students of all sizes, ages, and descriptions marched from Belleville's School 8, around Clearman Field and back into the building, in a gala culmination of Halloween activities at the school. Costumes ranged from authentic, to beautiful, to clever, to grotesque, to colorful, as just about everyone chose to parade for the enjoyment of dozens of parents, grandparents, neighbors, and interested citizens.

Parties were enjoyed following the parade, which Nicholas Petti, principal, has made an annual event much to the delight of spectators and paraders.

Prior to the parade, students of the sixth grade of Mrs. Eleanor Arthur spent many days painting happy faces on huge and tiny pumpkins and creating paper bag clowns, and other characters for decoration and wearing.

Candy was collected by the student of fifth and sixth grades to be donated to the children of the Belleville Shelter in an effort to share with others the fruits of their Halloween trick or treating.

4-H agent presents program on food to School 9 students

John A. Hassert, Essex County 4-H Agent presented a program to the students at School Nine. He spoke of the many activities and the opportunities available in the 4-H Clubs. The aim of the program is to make the best better.

Mr. Hassert showed slides depicting the importance of the Garden State as a producer of fresh fruits and vegetables. He spoke on the complexities of getting the food from producer to consumer.

The students came away from the program aware of the state's overwhelming agricultural output and the realization that the output is also dwindling.

Achievement tests, new gym floor at junior high

Achievement tests were administered to all Junior High students during October. Seventh and eighth grade subtests included vocabulary, reading comprehension, spelling, capitalization, punctuation, reading of graphs, maps and tables, and concepts in mathematics. Ninth graders were tested in social studies, composition, science, reading, mathematics and literature.

This pre-test will be followed by a post-test scheduled for May. Results will help provide a measuring tool to evaluate the academic progress of individual students, evaluate the progress of the school's academic goals and evaluate present curricula and courses of study.

The girls' gym at the Junior High received a fresh coat of blue and white paint during the summer and a new oak floor has been installed. Future plans to improve lighting conditions call for a rejuvenation of the electric lights in both the girls' and boys' gyms.

Rosary Altar Society fur fashion show next Tuesday night

Darling fur combinations and stunning new designs will be seen at a fur fashion show sponsored by the Holy Family Rosary Altar Society at the Meadowbrook on Tuesday, at 6:30 p.m.

All women who love the elegance and romance of furs and the fascination of the new "fun furs" are invited to see a large and stunning collection of new fur coats, capes, stoles and accessories from the Flemington Fur Company. Latest innovation is the "his and hers" combination of fur coats with hats, leathers and suedes.

Esther Meola, president of the Rosary Altar Society, said that if advance ticket sales are any indication, the show will be a complete sell-out.

Asked about plans for the show, Mrs. Meola extended special praise to Erma Mastro, chairman, and Julia Sabadies, publicity chairman. "They've both done such a marvelous job that this show is going to be the most exciting event we've ever sponsored."

Fashion commentary for the show will be given by a fashion coordinator of the Flemington Fur Company, while the lovely furs will be modeled by members of the Rosary Altar Society.

Tickets are priced at $10 per person for the dinner and may be obtained from ticket chairman Ann Greenberg.

Twins Club Changes Name to Mothers of Multiples

After almost 20 years as the Mothers of Twins Club of Essex County, the growing number of multiple births involving not only twins but super-twins — triplets, quadruplets — has prompted club members to change the organization's name to Essex County Mother of Multiples.

The club meets once a month at Holy Trinity Church, 307 Main Street, West Orange. This month's meeting featured lessons in cake decoration by Rose Murphy of Verona. All mothers or guardians of multiple birth children are invited to attend the meetings. For more information contact Mrs. Anthony Mossecco of 34 Fairview Place, Belleville.

Jean Humphries crowned princess at sclerosis ball

Miss Jean Marie Humphries of Belleville was crowned "Princess" at the Eleventh Annual Charity Ball of the Multiple Sclerosis Service Organization of N.J., held at the Wayne Manor in Wayne.

The Organization's Essex-Hudson Chapter sponsored Jeanne as a contestant in the Princess of the Ball contest, which is a fund raising venture running over a period of many months. The young ladies secured ads for the Souvenir Journal, held garage sales, and car washes, and raised money in various other ways to provide for the care and treatment of people with Multiple Sclerosis, the debilitating disorder that strikes young adults in the prime of life. Thanks to the fine support of the Chapter, Jeanne was crowned "Princess of the Ball."

In commenting on why she joined the contest, Jeanne said "I wanted to do all that I could to help my mother and everyone that has MS."

Knights of Columbus gives spelling awards, aids retarded citizens

Belleville Knights of Columbus, Council 835, sponsored a spelling bee recently, open to 8th grade students at Belleville Junior High School, St. Peter's School and St. Anthony's School. All candidates were selected by their teachers.

Public Safety Commissioner Rocco Salletta presented awards to the following winners: Michelle Jeanotte, 1st place; Karen Ferriero, 2nd place and Pam Sincok, 3rd place. All were from the junior high. Delays in making the presentations were due to the recent illness of Commissioner Salletta who was chairman of the event. He offers his apologies.

The Council conducted a retarded citizens drive last spring with cooperation of the Ladies Auxiliary and Parent Teachers' Guild of St. Peter's Parish. Checks of $737 each were presented to Sister Virginia Thomas of Our Lady of Fatima Camp for Retarded Children and Father Cornelius of St. John of God School for the Retarded.

Frank Corbo was chairman of the drive and Past Grand Knight Robert Cusick made the presentations.

Council of Catholic Women Plans Annual Xmas Luncheon

The Newark Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women will hold its traditional Christmas luncheon at Town Campus Restaurant, 350 Pleasant Valley Way, West Orange, Dec. 3 at noon.

This year's event will feature a Chinese auction and entertainment by Ron Owen, who contributed greatly to the enjoyment at last year's luncheon.

Ticket information may be obtained by calling Miss Margaret VanEtten at 746-0619. While the luncheon provides an opportunity for Council members, past and present, to get together, it is not limited to members of the NACCW. Friends and guests are invited to attend.

Attending from this area will be Mrs. N.A. Maurillo, 2nd vice-president of the Essex-Montclair District; Mrs. Sally Boland, legislative chairman of the District and delegate to the NACCW executive board and Mrs. F.L. Aires, parliamentarian of the District.

PET PARADE

Battling the bark

Doubtless you've heard the expression "this bark is worse than his bite." For someone spending a sleepless night listening to his neighbor's dog howling, I'm sure nothing could be truer.

Barking is a dog's normal response to a variety of circumstances. How long or how vigorously a particular dog will bark depends on the situation and the dog's breeding.

Terriers or crossbred terriers, for example, are generally nervous, rather high strung and full of energy. They may work off excess energy by barking, especially if they don't receive enough exercise. Other breeds like the Norwegian elkhound, bred years ago to protect herds and property, bark to defend their homes from intruders, including birds, squirrels and the like.

Boredom is the main reason for long periods of senseless barking. A dog left alone indoors for hours at a time has little to do and will bark in the hope of attracting attention and companionship. It can respond to the telephone or the sound of people in an apartment hallway with an hour or more of nonstop noise.

Even more annoying is the night barker. This dog usually has slept all day and has excessive energy left over at bedtime. In such cases, a hard run at nightfall may help the dog become tired enough to sleep.

Anything you can do to provide some distraction while you're away for long periods can help control a barking dog. Some pets respond to a few new toys. Others are comforted by the sound of the television.

A major part of the solution is to let your dog know that he cannot bark indiscriminately and get away with it. "Informing" your dog will require time and effort on your part.

The next time your dog begins to bark at the wrong time, reprimand him with a firm, loud "NO!" Clap a folded newspaper against his hind quarters to impress your order upon him.

Then leave the area so that the pet cannot see you. Stay within earshot, and return quickly with a sharp reprimand if he begins to bark. Each time stay away for a longer period of time, but always return to scold him at the sound of barking. You may have to enlist the help of several friends, but the idea that you are unhappy with the barking must be reinforced for several days. If you stop too soon, your dog will resume the 54 percent of true value. Essex County last year estimated Belleville's assessed worth was only 58.4 percent. And when the Essex County Board of Taxation mandated local commissioners to proceed with the revaluation, Belleville's ratio to true value then was 60.9 percent.

Torres tax assessment office in Town Hall will have to launch a crash program to meet the Jan. 10 deadline for the new assessment figures to be certified to the County Board of Taxation.

"I'm going to do my darndest to make that deadline, but we are short-handed and naturally, it's going to be a very difficult task," Torres said. He ruled out the possibility, however, that should he miss the Jan. 10 deadline, "the delay wouldn't be so long as to hold up the figures from going on the books for 1978."

The press release from Realty Appraisal cautions homeowners here against trying to guess 1978 tax bills by applying the new assessment to the current tax rate of $7.09 per $100 assessed valuation.

"It has been estimated that if the revaluation had been used for 1977, the tax rate this year would have been $3.90 rather than $7.09," the press release states.

Nowhere does the Realty Appraisal press release caution homeowners that their tax estimate for 1978 most likely will be further inflated because of the expected decline in industrial and commercial real estate values.

now we have a new building to encase our educational program."

Trees were planted outside the school by members of the Home and School Association at the School No. 3 and by the contractor, Cerami Brothers.

Inside, the public was invited to partake of refreshments while touring the building. A plaque was unveiled in the main lobby by members of the Board of Education, and a portrait of Max M. Schwartz, the late attorney for the School Board, was given a place in the school library.

Postmaster needs Santa Clauses

Children still believe in Santa Claus, as the Newark Post Office can attest. Each year, the post office receives at least 1,000 letters addressed to "Santa Claus, North Pole," and each year, charitable organizations, fraternities and individuals who enjoy keeping such faith alive come to the post office to pick up letters and send the youngsters an answer.

Postmaster Joseph J. Benucci said, "We answer all the letters. Our staff sends out a Christmas card signed by Santa to all the youngsters who write us." Youngsters can use any mailbox in the city to send the letters and get an answer. Benucci added that anyone who wants to write to a child may come to Room 150 of the post office, Federal Square, Newark, and pick up as many letters as he feels he can answer. He said the post office could not send the letters out to groups or individuals who want to answer them.

"There are many children in our community who have never known the joy of Christmas," he said, "and we, in our special way, help make their simple dreams come true."

Describing some of the letters he receives, Benucci recalled one child had written: "Dear Santa, I'm the only kid on my block who doesn't have a Cadillac; how about it?"

"But of course there are the sad ones from the small and often forgotten children," Benucci added. "There was one from a little girl, who has no father and mother and who may never see another Christmas."

TO THE BELLEVILLE COMMUNITY:

IT IS OUR FEELING THAT THE APPOINTMENT OF A NEW HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL SHOULD COME FROM WITHIN THE BELLEVILLE SCHOOL SYSTEM. WE FEEL THAT THE HARD-EARNED RAPPORT WHICH EXISTS BETWEEN THE FACULTY, THE ADMINISTRATION, AND THE COMMUNITY, WHICH HAS TAKEN YEARS OF HARD WORK, HAS HELPED TO MEET THE NEEDS OF OUR STUDENTS.

DURING THE PAST YEAR THE PROBLEMS OF DRUG USE, VANDALISM, AND GENERAL DISCIPLINE PROBLEMS HAVE BEEN GREATLY DIMINISHED THROUGH THE HARD WORK AND SPLENDID COOPERATION EXISTING BETWEEN THE PRESENT HIGH SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS, MR. JOHN WESTLAKE, ACTING HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL; MR. GEORGE NUCERA, ASSISTANT TO THE PRINCIPAL; THE STAFF; AND THE LOCAL POLICE DEPARTMENT.

THE POLICY OF HIRING OUTSIDE THE SYSTEM CAN ONLY HAVE AN ADVERSE EFFECT ON STAFF MORALE. THE BOARD OF EDUCATION AT ONE TIME FELT THIS TO BE TRUE BASED ON THE FOLLOWING QUOTE FROM OUR CONTRACT: "THE BOARD OF EDUCATION WILL ENDEAVOR TO GIVE ITS PERMANENT EMPLOYEES EVERY OPPORTUNITY AND CONSIDERATION TO ASPIRE TO ADMINISTRATIVE POSITIONS OR HIGHER LEVEL POSITIONS AS MAY BE CREATED OR BECOME VACATED, FROM TIME TO TIME." THERE SHOULD BE AN INCENTIVE FOR OUR PERSONNEL TO DEVELOP THEIR EDUCATIONAL EXPERTISE FOR ADVANCEMENT WITHIN THE SYSTEM. WILL BELLEVILLE ONCE AGAIN BECOME THE TRAINING GROUND FOR OTHER SYSTEMS? THERE ARE HIGHLY QUALIFIED PERSONNEL WITHIN OUR OWN SCHOOL SYSTEM TO ASSUME THE POSITION IN QUESTION.

WE STRONGLY URGE THE BOARD OF EDUCATION TO CONSIDER HIRING QUALIFIED PERSONS FROM WITHIN THE SCHOOL SYSTEM.

Hillside gridders play holiday host

BY MIKE COREY

Belleville's gridders will be looking to close the '77 season on an optimistic note and have a little something extra to be thankful for when it invades Hillside tomorrow for the traditional 11 a.m. Turkey Day clash.

"If we can beat Hillside we will have lost only one of our last five games which is not a bad way to end the year," stated Bellboy head coach John Senesky.

The return of senior quarterback Glenn DeLeo should help diversify Hillside's already multiple offense. The signal caller has missed most of the season due to an ankle and thigh injury, but returned last week to lead his club to victory by connecting on a pair of TD tosses.

After a slow start, which saw its record slip to 1-4, Hillside has won its last three encounters including victories over Roselle, Vailsburg and Berkely Heights.

Hillside coach Bob Larsen is at a loss to explain why the sudden turn around in his team's fortunes other than to say, "We expected to win all our games at the beginning of the season."

"We have a lot of juniors and sophomores," added the second year coach. "Out of 20 starters a good 11 of them are underclassmen."

Although the Hillside mentor has not been able to personally watch the Blue-

Gold in action his scouts were in the stands at BHS Stadium for the Essex, Catholic confrontation to see the Belboys upset the Eagles, 26-18.

"The scouts came back impressed with Belleville and thought they were very good," said Larsen. "Our men especially noted the performances of running back Frank Pizzi, quarterback Ed Aulisi and tight end Ted Zangari."

"Belleville is a much improved ball club from last year," continued Coach Larsen. "There defense hits hard and they'll come out at you. We look for a close game and a good game."

The Hillside chief explained his club will rush anywhere from four to eight men from the line of scrimmage but the Blue-Gold's scouts report the club will more than likely set up in a 5-2

"Monster Defense."

Offensively the Belboys look for Hillside to alternate between the air and ground by utilizing a power sweep. The team's primary pass catcher is senior Haron Smallwood, who caught a TD pass from QB DeLeo in last year's 14-8 victory over Belleville.

Hillside is not an overly big team and both coaches agree size will not be that much of a factor in tomorrow morning's game.

The Hillside game is an especially important one for us, pointed out Coach Senesky. "It's important for our seniors to close out their careers with a win and important for our younger players to end the season with a victory in order for them to look forward to next season."

Broncos take county crown

The Bronco "Big D," which has carried the club throughout the season, again provided the key to victory as the Belleville traveling pigskin squad recorded its 15th successive shutout, blanking Dumont 33-0 Sunday, to capture the championship crown of the Bergen County Football Conference.

The local junior squad has now won 21 straight games.

The fourth annual Michael V. Marotti Bowl will be played this Sunday at 1:30 p.m. in Belleville Municipal Stadium.

This season the Broncos will look helmets with St. Anthony's of Union City. The visitors are an independent team which has compiled a record of six wins and two losses in 1977. Belleville has won the last three Marotti Bowl classics posting wins over Clifton, 12-7, Saddle Brook, 13-6, and Dumont, 21-0.

Sunday the Broncos started off slowly as a fired up Dumont 11 held the locals scoreless in the first period.

Belleville quarterback Frank Fazzini got the offensive attack rolling early in the second quarter when he connected with Eugene Cancelliere on a 22-yard pass to spot the ball on the Dumont 10.

Bellboy youth drive key to booter future

The future of soccer at Belleville High School seems to rest with the young as this season's Blue-Gold booter squad (4-13-2) will only lose five players to June graduation.

"The best aspect of this year was that we were able to develop a lot of our younger players," pointed out Bellboy coach Tony Cahill. "We didn't have that much choice losing 15 seniors from last season's squad we had to try to get as many people playing as possible."

Freshman Mike Mittiadous perhaps exemplified Belleville's crop of young soccer turks. The Bellboy became a starter the third game of the season and notched 73 quarters of playing time for the Blue-Gold.

"He made a lot of mistakes at first. The kind you don't like to see but more or less expect from such a young player," said Cahill. "Toward the end of the season, though, you could almost count on him beating the opposing fullback two or three times per game."

A lackluster offensive unit plagued the Bellboys all season as the club posted 24 goals in 19 games averaging just a little more than a point per contest.

"Ramiro Borja will be the key next year as far as scoring goes and right now it looks like Galo Calvache who played mostly a defensive role will hopefully be able to move into the offense," said Coach Cahill.

Calvache picked up six assists and scored one goal as a defender during the '77 season.

Next year we look for more effective work by the halfbacks at midfield."

Blue-Gold trackers end year in optimism

By MIKE LAMBERTI

To rebuild means to start at the beginning and to slowly work up. It usually is a very slow process. For the 1977 Belleville High School Cross Country squad there were three stages of rebuilding.

The first is starting over again. That was done in 1976. Number two was a steady improvement and three was to put together a winning season. Thus far the Blue-Gold club have successfully completed stage number two. Number three will not start until next September.

After losing practically his entire team to graduation in 1975, Belleville track coach Rich Ruffalo knew it would be back to the drawing board in 1976.

The Blue-Gold cinder mentor recruited a very young and inexperienced club which did not know a great deal about cross country running.

"Our team, one year ago, had a lot to learn about long distance running, getting in shape and pacing themselves during a race," stated Coach Ruffalo. "We weren't in very good shape and it took a long time to learn the process."

The 1976 squad's season record was indicative of the coach's statement as it posted two wins and 11 losses. Six of the defeats were shutouts.

In 1977 the team reported to practice in much better physical shape and as a result won five meets, were blanked only once (by Essex Catholic-ranked number seven in the state) and were in almost every meet it competed in down to the wire.

"You can't expect miracles overnight," said the Belleville mentor. "We improved rapidly in 1977 and I feel we can have our first winning campaign in four years next season."

One of the major contributors to this year's team was junior tracker Mike Graham. He was the club's top runner in 11 of its 18 meets and placed in the top five in 12 of those meets. All told he scored 53 points and has an excellent shot at breaking the school record, for the long distance course, of 15:20.

Junior classman Weddy Tremontola, who was not a member of the team a year ago, came through with 43 points. He, like Graham, was one of the top runners on the squad this season finishing in the top five in seven meets along with being the first Bellboy across the finish line in the Big 10 championships. The Blue-Gold runner is expected to play a major role in the 1978 cinder year.

Sophomore Tom Graham was a very pleasant surprise for the '77 version of Ruffalo's runners. "We expected Tom to be running the course in the low 17s and possibly breaking the 17 minute mark," pointed out the coach. "He has an excellent chance of breaking the 16 minute mark and has come along much faster than we anticipated."

The younger Graham ran consistently in the 16:40s all season with his best time clocked at 16:37.

Dean Santulli and John Vaccaro, both sophomores, are expected to be major

'Perfect' Aztecs win crown in recreation Division I

Belleville's Recreation Soccer League finally won out over "Mother Nature," and concluded the '77 season with three contests in Division I last Tuesday, rounding out the schedule.

The Aztecs, by virtue of a perfect record, became champions of the initial division. The Lancers were the final victors of Division II, dominated by the Cosmos who not only were never beaten but were also never scored upon.

The Division I champs closed out the rec soccer slate by notching a 3-2 squeaker over the Cosmos on a pair of goals by Tommy Dunn and a solo score off the foot of Joe Hullyay. Points for the Cosmos were posted by James Dasaro and Mark Fortino.

Next the Aztecs won a big game over the Comets, 4-1, as Mario Frappalo connected with the long goal for the Aztecs and Brian Woods, two, together with one each from Dunn and Paul Radziewicz supplied the victors firepower.

Toros I nailed down second place, for posterity, when it split its last two games. The club gained a win over the Lancers and dropped a decision to the Cosmos. It was goals by Lenny Cardinale and Andy Siciari which gave the Cosmos the victory.

The Lancers defeat was masterminded by Gerald Persaud who collected four goals. Jimmy Kane who notched three and Nicky Celso who posted one.

Also splitting its final two decisions were the Spurs I, who lost to the Lancers, 2-1, before knocking over the Comets, 6-2. Arthur Cavalas scored both goals for the Lancers as Charlie Kingalaha accounted for the Spurs solo point.

In the Spurs-Comets exhibition, won by the Spurs, 6-2, Mario Frappalo provided the Comets offense netting two goals while the winners score came off the toes of Vito Antonio, two, supplemented by one each from Pete Ferns, Charlie Kingalaha, Ossie Stefano and Brian Tice.

Division II wrap-up games saw the Lancers seal the championship as it beat the Spurs and played the last place Comets to a scoreless tie.

It was Luke Sillitti, with two and John Magno and Tom Pravata, with one each, who led the winners to victory while James Demagard contributed the only Spurs score.

The second place Toros II split with the Cosmos II and Aztecs II beating the former 2-1 and losing the latter 4-1.

In other Division II games the Comets won over the Aztecs, 2-1, and the Cosmos defeated the Spurs, 3-2.

Cosmos III continued its domination of its division to the very end as it recorded a perfect season with victories over the Spurs, 2-0, and Toros, 1-0.

Until the final game both the Toros and Cosmos had not been scored upon. The Cosmos goals in the last two contests were by Louis Lucante, two, against the Spurs, and Mark Palumbo, off a penalty kick, which wrapped up the division crown for the Cosmos.

The third place Lancers III went out in a blaze of glory with a 2-0 shutout over the Comets and a 2-0 drubbing of the Spurs. Lancer goals were made by Tommy Miele, Mark Husman and a pair by Bobby Alessio.

John Kitricks solo score was enough to give the Aztecs III a win over the Comets but a goal by Jimmy Dunphy notched the win for Toros II over the Aztecs.

With a trio of division championships decided, the teams are now entering into a double-elimination tournament to provide a little more competitive action and allow some clubs a second shot at squads who beat them.

Booters will lose 5 players in June stated the Blue-Gold Coach. "This season our halfbacks were sometimes a little sluggish getting back on defense and left our goalies all alone to protect the goal on a breakaway."

The Coach admits the formation of a freshman soccer team at the high school would strengthen the booter program at BHS.

"Unless you establish a freshman team you're just not going to go anywhere in a hurry," stated the Coach. "You can't be successful."

The Belboys will be losing Joe Coscarelli (seven goals and four assists), Mike Licameli (one goal), Goalie Vito Tamborino (227 saves), John Cordaro and Rod Gobencion to graduation.

The club's leading goal getter was Ramiro Borja with 10 scores and two assists. The junior also led the team in shots on net with 105 as well as being tops on the squad in quarters played at 75.

Coscarelli and Borja were both recently selected to the second team All Big 10 Squad while Mike Licameli, Vito Tamborino and Galo Calvache won honorable mention.

Cahill selected Ramiro Borja along with trainer "Colonel" Sanders as most valuable players on the club.

The Belleville coach also cited Mary Pontrella, who kept team stats, along with Sue Whelan, Rita Bono and Patty McLaughlin for their devotion to the club throughout the year.

Drum Roll — Despite a season plagued by bad weather, the Belleville Band, paced by its drum and bugle sections, could always be counted on to provide a downbeat and lift the spirits of the fans even when the Blue-Gold's gridiron fortunes were looking grim.

into the end zone on the very next play to break the scoreless duel. John Bucciarelli ran in the point after.

With Dumont in possession on its own 46, Ray Kimble recovered a fumble to set up another Bronco score. It took Belleville four plays to drive to the one-yard line as Fazzini culminated the march with a QB sneak to make the score 13-0.

Bronco Bob Succi picked off a Dumont pass to give Belleville possession on the 33. Fazzini found Succi open, on the next play, and connected on a toss which placed the ball on the Dumont 12-yard marker. The versatile Succi circled left end for the TD a play later and Centanni galloped across the line to record the extra point.

Belleville began the third period in poor field position but mounted a drive from its own 13 to the home team's nine-yard line. Succi capped off the drive when he banged his way into pay dirt for his second score of the afternoon. Signal caller Fazzini hit flanker Jeff Walsh with an aerial toss for the PAT.

Late in the final quarter of action, linebacker Danny Palumbo scooped up a loose ball on the Dumont 38 and raced into the end zone unopposed for the Broncos final TD of the day.

Bearcats

The Bearcats were unsuccessful in its attempt to match the Broncos and capture the junior league crown as it lost to Dumont 12-6 on Sunday.

The locals came out firing on its initial possession as QB Bob Woodcock connected with Carmen Cerreto for a 58-yard scoring strike to give the Bearcats the early 6-0 lead.

Dumont tied the contest in the second quarter but the Belleville defensive unit stopped the point after attempt.

The Bearcats posted a 6-2 record in its first season of competition. Bearcats players include Nick Amato, George Anderson, Anthony Capaccio, Ron Caruso, Jim Castelli, Carmen Cerreto, Bill Corbalis, Rover Dalla Riva, David DePiro, Herb Feder, Glenn Fisher, John Guarino, Robert Hayes, Anthony Lombardi.

Graig Mack, David Montemaran, Jim Racanelli, Mark Richardella, Anthony Ritacco, Neil Sargentelli, David Stefanelli, Rich Strothers, Mark Walsh, Robert Woodcock and Andy Zoppi.

The team was coached by Lou Montemaran, Joe Falcone and Earl Wake.

contributors to the team next year.

"They both ran well this past season and both are capable of breaking the 17 minute mark next season," said Ruffalo. In addition the club expects the return of sophs Steve Gatti and Paul Long as well as junior Mary Cannelly to strengthen the team's future prospects.

Two members of the squad who won't be returning are Nitin Chitnis and Sue Smith. Both will be graduating from BHS in June.

"Nitin was a quiet guy who did his work and always gave 100 percent," explained Ruffalo. "He is an excellent athlete and student and I was glad to have coached him."

Sue Smith did an outstanding job for the team in 1977, not only as a runner but also as a team leader. She placed seventh in the Big 10 Championships, ninth in the County Championships and eighth in the state sectionals. She was also the only member of the team to advance to the group championships where she placed 58 among a field of 140 runners.

Musical Moves — Belleville Drum Majorette Linda Fabian, back, and twirler Bernadette Dempsey seem to be coordinating their movements perfectly in time with the music between periods of the Blue-Gold grid-ders Homecoming clash versus Kearny last week.

Belleville Band marches through the '77 grid season

Solo Artist — Belleville trumpeteer Bob DiStash was spotlighted this season with his solo rendition of the theme from "Exodus," during this year's between quarters show.

Marching Majorettes — Drum Majorettes Linda Fabian, right, and Lynn Synarski doubletime off the field at the conclusion of the band's performance at the half of the Irvington contest. The game marked the first victory of the season for the Bellboys.

Vantage Point — Blue-Gold team physician Dr. Emilio F. De Lia gazes out on the deserted gridiron awaiting the start of the second half of football action as BHS Athletic Director Jim Silvestri calls out to a fan during the intermission at the Kearny game.

Well Armed — Laurie Dominguez presents her weapon as part of the rifle section of the Belleville Band's Color Guard.

Baton Burner — Joanne Lucas strikes a well-lit pose as part of a fiery display put on each week by the Belleville twirlers.

Concessionaires — Many volunteers donated their time to man hot dog and pretzel booths, during the course of the season, to provide munchies for the fans who filled Municipal Stadium.

Beat Goes On — Members of both the drum and Color Guard sections of the band perform the song "Rocky" at a gridiron show earlier in the season. According to director Pepe, the Belleville Band was restructured this year from the Big 10 marching style to the more linear and precise college drum corp one.

LEGAL NOTICE

Take Notice That the Suburban Savings and Loan Association to 1401 Valley Road, Wayne, New Jersey, has made application to the Commissioner of Banking for authority to establish a limited facility branch office to be located within the confines of the Grand Union Supermarket, 354 Main Street, Belleville, Essex County, New Jersey. The proposed unannounced limited facility branch office will be shared with the Charter Savings and Loan Association of Randolph Township, Morris County, Equity Savings and Loan Association of Kenilworth, Hudson County, Lakeland Savings and Loan Association of Dover, Morris County, Volunteer Savings and Loan Association of this Jersey, Bergen County, New Jersey. Objections, if any, should be in writing and submitted within ten days from the date of this notice to Virginia Long, Commissioner, Department of Banking, 36 West State Street, Trenton, New Jersey, 08625. The Belleville Times/News, Issue: November 23, 1977. Fee: $6.60.

Thousands of Christmas clubbers in Spencer Savings and Loan Association's service areas are receiving over $2,365,000 in Christmas club checks. The checks are being mailed to over 9,200 of the association's 1977 club members.

Charles Dues, president of the association, noted that Spencer Savings' new 1978 bonus-paying Christmas club is now officially open for membership at all offices. Clubs may be opened in amounts from $1 to $20 weekly.

According to Dues, everyone completing the club next year will receive one week's bonus, "to help make next Christmas a little greener." In addition to the bonus payment, everyone joining the club now will receive a beautiful free gift.

Anyone opening clubs for $1, $2, $3 or $5 weekly will receive a handy 8 1/2" attractively designed stainless steel serving spoon with hardwood handle. Those opening clubs for $10 or $20 weekly will take home a hand-carved 4" alabaster Owl from the famous Volterra Quarries of Italy.

Spencer serves savers with offices in Garfield, Lodi William, Saddle Brook, Clifton and Lyndhurst.

'Adventure' set Sunday Nutley musical to start Dec. 9

"Northwestern Adventure," with Don Cooper will be on the Unity Travel Film Series this Sunday at 3:30 p.m. at the Montclair High School auditorium.

Don Cooper, the photographer-producer of the film narrates his film in person. His humorous tales of his outdoor adventures while filming his travelogues are highlights of the show as well as the spectacular scenery of the North West region. Cooper, a strong advocate of conservation efforts, learned to love the out-of-doors as a lumberman in Montana.

He opens his film with a brief history of the northwest. After a visit to the Rose Festival at Portland, Oregon, and a look at the Sea Lion Dives on a coast, the audience is then taken on a unique steamboat trip through the wild animal-filled wilderness of Oregon, Washington, and Idaho. Seen along the way is some of the most spectacular natural beauty in North America: The Columbia River Gorge, the Tetons, Hells Canyon of the Snake River, Mt. Rainier and Mt. Hood in the Cascade Mountains, and the rapids of the Clark Fork River. There are some exciting scenes of a bull caribou battling a grizzly bear and smoke jumpers parachuting into a forest fire. The film also shows one of the last log drives in the United States in which thousands of board feet of lumber rush down the Clearwater River in Idaho.

Sunday afternoon, Dec. 4, 3:30 p.m., followed by "Florida's Big Cypress Swamp." Sunday afternoon, Feb. 5, "Germany." Sunday afternoon, Feb. 19, "The Italy of Leonardo Da Vinci." Thursday evening, April 20, "Trails of Tembo, the Big Tusker," (Africa) Thursday evening, May 4, "O Canada," Thursday evening, May 18.

Beginning Dec. 9, Family Playhouse will present "The Sound of Music" by Rodgers and Hammerstein and Lindsay and Crouse on two consecutive weekends.

Set in the Alps of Austria, the musical centers on a whimsical young novice who cannot adjust to the life of the convent, but goes out to bring love and happiness to an empty house.

The show will be held Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 3 p.m. Tickets are $3.50 and $4 — reservations can be made by contacting the box office at 284-0404.

Homecoming Winners — Bill Guiliano and Gina Nicolette won Belleville High School's Homecoming King and Queen titles early this month. The pair entertained them on the float in the Homecoming Parade Nov. 12.

Although choosing a Homecoming Queen has become a tradition at BHS, the school decided for the first time to also pick a Homecoming King.

King and queen reign Nov. 12

By CAMILLE BUCCIARELLI

The annual Homecoming Parade and Football game was held Nov. 12. This year, the main attraction were the Homecoming King and Queen.

Gina Nicolette, a senior at Belleville High School, has been chosen by the Key Club to be the 1977 Homecoming Queen.

Gina, and 25 other senior girls had their pictures submitted to Mr. Zanfani, advisor of the Key Club, along with a resume of their school activities.

The boys voted Oct. 28, but there had been a tie so they re-voted Oct. 31.

The Queen is chosen by appearance and activities that she participates in. Gina is a member of the National Honor Society and a cheerleader.

She says that she'll feel bad because the Homecoming Football game is the last home game of the year, and she'll be seated on a float, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Belleville, and won't be able to cheer.

Gina was very surprised to be chosen Homecoming Queen. Her boyfriend, Michael Limongelli, submitted the picture for her.

Belleville High School has a new tradition this year, a Homecoming King. This year's King is Bill Guiliano, a senior at Belleville High.

Bill, along with six other senior boys, had their pictures submitted with a resume of their athletic and scholastic activities. The Keyettes had to consider looks and activities.

Bill is on the varsity football team and advises that it is going to be very hard to be in the annual Homecoming Parade as before the football game. He says that being Belleville's Homecoming King is a little embarrassing but an honor.

Bill did not submit his picture and resume. Liz Guglia, also a senior at Belleville High submitted it for him.

Keywanettes set school projects

By B. HAGIN

During the past month, members of the Keywanette Club have been quite active in school and community affairs. Such activities are discussed and planned at the club's meetings, usually held twice a month.

The first project on their agenda was the first annual election of the Homecoming King. The winner, William Guiliano, received a button-needle and a plaque at the Homecoming Football game Nov. 12.

The King rode on the Homecoming float decorated by the Kiwanis, Keywanette, and Key clubs. Following the float, the theme of which is "The Key to School Spirit is Participation," were members of the Key and Keywanette clubs.

In honor of the Homecoming King and the Homecoming Queen, the Keywanette and Key clubs held a dance Nov. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the BHS gym. Admission fee for the dance was $2 at the door and the dress was casual, but no jeans were allowed.

On Nov. 4 the Keywanettes provided their services at the BHS Card Party. Their jobs were to serve refreshments to the parents and to help hand out prizes.

Other activities that the Keywanettes have participated in are collecting money UNICEF on Halloween and guiding parents at the Open House which was held Oct. 19. A cake sale was also held.

15 members join Key Club

The Key Club is a community-serving organization whose members are high school students. The word KEY stand for Kiwanis Educated Youth. The Kiwanis Club offers guidance and supervision to the Key Club.

The Key Club serves all high school functions. Besides working with children at the Essex County shelter, members also tutor elementary grade children.

The Key Club also holds many fund raising activities. They recently created a Homecoming float for the Homecoming Parade, Nov. 12.

New Key Club members must maintain a "B" average or better. They must be well-rounded and be able to take the lead in high school activities.

There are fifteen new key clubbers. They are Anthony Dondarski, Joe Longo, Ed Aulisi, Joe Cafone, Adam Frank, Joe LaMonica, Brian McManus, Chris Mussmanno, Jeff Deio, Mike Rainone, Joe Draco, Scott Grisanti, Glen Raucio, Michael Ross and Tom O'Keefe.

The president of the Key Club is Vito Tamborino, vice-president, Angelo Santinelli, secretary, Michael DeMayo, and treasurer, James Cali.

$14 yearbook is 'reasonable'

By MIKE GRAHAM

Miss McLean the advisor for the 1978 Belleville High School yearbook is sponsoring a drive to sell boosters to defray publication costs for the Belleville High School yearbook.

The sale of 30 boosters enables the student who is selling boosters to receive a free yearbook. The cost of each booster is one dollar.

Miss McLean thought that selling the boosters was an excellent idea. She stated, "I think that the price of the yearbook which has been set at $14 is very reasonable."

If the boosters keep selling, the school will be able to keep the price of the yearbook down to a minimum. The yearbook would be made available financially to a larger part of the student body who may not be able to afford it.

"We have an impressive number of students selling boosters," Miss McLean said. "We have been giving out booster sheets quite frequently. I'm glad to see the interest the young people have established."

Today is the current deadline for the booster money to be handed in to Miss McLean.

DRAMA IDEAS, GOALS

F. Falzarano aids in production, dance

By MIKE GRAHAM

Felicia Falzarano, president of the Belleville High School Drama Club, has been working on the play "Mack and Mabel" which is being presented by Belleville high school.

Felicia, a junior, has been involved in dancing for the past 11 years. For the last three years she has been under the tutelage of Dick Shell, who has a well known dance company.

Felicia's talents have yet to cease. She also has been seriously studying the piano for four years and has become a master of the keys. She is qualified and has been teaching piano lessons to several aspirants.

Felicia took part in many recitals during her learning years with the dance instructors. Through this experience she has become a very confident, poised and lovely performer of the art of dancing.

Felicia gave recognition to Linda Fabian, commenting, "Linda has an excellent singing voice. She is also an interpretive actress with a smooth but projected acting voice. She is a fine and accomplished dancer."

Linda Peterson though an amateur in so far as this is her first adventure on the stage is singing her best and doing an excellent job. "She has a melodious voice, and it is very pleasant to the ear."

John Dillon was also highly regarded in the play. Felicia stated, "It's an honor to work with John because he is such an outstanding actor. He seems to be able to portray almost any character."

Felicia's reactions to the production staff of the play included the talents of choreographer Janice Lynn Nazzola and music director Lee Romano. "Janice has really helped the dancing flourish into one of the bright spots of the play."

Lee Romano also has given inspiration to some of the cast members. "Lee has no set time to leave the Belleville High School building where play rehearsal is held. Lee stays with the cast members until they are singing up to their finest potential."

As president of the Drama Club, one of Felicia's goals will be to stage more school assemblies. "The assemblies are a lot of fun, and I think the student body would also like to see more of them."

Comedy cast gets along; actors enjoy play roles

Joseph Ferraro, playing the part of Frank, feels that the cast of "Mack and Mabel" gets along fairly well. He was interested in finding out what it was like to be an actor and enjoys his part in the play.

Dawn Huselton, a member of the chorus, also feels that everyone is working well together. She liked working in the junior high school production of "Damn Yankees," and decided to join the cast of "Mack and Mabel."

Ken Lusnia, portraying Taylor, is very pleased with how things are turning out. He enjoys his part in the play and is interested in becoming an actor.

Gerard Iaria, playing the part of Wally, had this comment, "I really wanted the lead, but I am very pleased with the part I have." He is extremely interested in theater and was in last year's talent show.

Diane Preuster, one of the chorus members, is happy with her role in the play and had this to say, "I enjoyed doing 'Sugar' last year and so decided to audition for 'Mack and Mabel.'"

Gary Chazewski, lighting technician, was asked by Robert Lefebline to participate. He has been involved with all of Lefebline's productions and others in Nutley.

Sharon Giamo, a member of the chorus, is a member of the drama club. She has performed before and decided to audition for "Mack and Mabel."

Chris Oleartchick, as Mr. Fox, liked acting and appeared in "Damn Yankees." He is pleased with how things are coming along.

Michael Rock, as Andy, commented, "I enjoy doing musicals and acting." He appeared in "Damn Yankees," and enjoys his part in "Mack and Mabel."

Jackie Wis, portraying Phyllis Foster, noted, "If I feel that the members of this play work as a family, I enjoy acting and I am pleased with my role."

Gottheimer now at BHS

Reading Specialist — Sandra Gottheimer, a new reading teacher at Belleville High, is shown helping one of the high school students in Belleville's spacious and well-equipped reading lab. Mrs. Gottheimer calls reading "an important and necessary part of life in our media-oriented society."

There is a new teacher working in the Belleville High School reading lab this year. The teacher is Sandra Gottheimer, who formerly taught reading at Belleville Junior High School.

Mrs. Gottheimer said she enjoys working at the high school because the reading lab is spacious and well equipped, and the students are serious about reading.

The program is for all students at Belleville High School. Any student who wishes to improve his reading skills may take the course for one semester or the entire year.

The classes in the lab are small. Each student has the opportunity to work on his specific weaknesses and build up his reading strengths.

back books.

"Reading is an important and necessary part of life even in our media-oriented society," says Mrs. Gottheimer. "Students need to be prepared for all types of reading. Together with academic reading, I give my students practice in reading newspapers, magazines and other materials they will meet after high school."

Mrs. Gottheimer began her career teaching English and English as a second language at East Side High School. She then taught remedial reading at Belleville Junior High School for three years and started a developmental reading program for the seventh grade.

Mrs. Gottheimer had presented demonstrations on reading in the content areas to the faculties of both the Junior and Senior High Schools. She has a degree in English and reading from Montclair State College and is currently completing a Master's Degree in Reading.
