ROTARY SALUTES Town officials as part of 50th anniversary of local organization. Above, Allan Crisp, head of Historical Society, enlightens Commissioners about how Belleville looked 50 years ago. Looking on are

Rejuvenate Nine On Civil Rights

Not many residents realize that Belleville staffs a nine-member Commission to deal with civil rights here but it's up to the Rev. Albert Alspach, that will be changed soon. Rev. Alspach recently took over as chairman of that Commission and he is now seeking to rejuvenate the group, bringing it before the public eye and giving it a more active role in community affairs.

At present, the Civil Rights Commission has a display in the main room of the Belleville Library but Rev. Alspach believes the group should go beyond that.

"We have a role to play in Belleville. There is a place for us here. Most people, when they hear the word civil rights, think of blacks being discriminated against, but actually it encompasses more than that. Women, for instance, may be having trouble securing jobs, or landlords may be discriminating against minority groups. There are so many areas that can be reached," Rev. Alspach said.

Besides Rev. Alspach there are currently six other active Commission members. They include Harold Salters, (Continued on Page 9)

Local Judge Warns Tardy Ticket Payers

A Newark man was given 30 days in jail after he failed to pay a $100 traffic fine that was outstanding since last August. Judge Edward Abramson indicated that he will continue to sternly deal with convicted defendants who have asked to pay off fines in installments but don't keep their promise.

Abramson levied the $200 fine plus $15 in court costs against Wayne Gabler, 24, of 942 18th Avenue in Newark, on August 16 of last year. Gabler had been charged with driving while on the revoked list. At the time of his conviction, Gabler had said he (Continued on Page 12)

Cops Recover Hot Cameras

A 41-year-old Ligham Street resident was taken into custody last week by the Newark City-County Strike Force on Organized Crime after he was found with stolen cameras valued at $4,000. Assisted by members of the Belleville Police Department, the man has been charged with larceny and receiving stolen property in connection with 80 cameras he had. The cameras were speculated to be part of a shipment of 2,120 such items valued at $128,000 which came into Port Newark from Japan on March 26 aboard the U.S. Lines American Lancer.

According to Martin Holeran, leader of the area task force, the cameras arrived in (Continued on Page 12)

Primary Registration Deadline Is Today

Today is the deadline to register to vote in the June 6 primary election, reports Town Clerk Eugene Barnett. Special office hours to facilitate the handling of transfer and new voters have been set tonight, 7 to 9 p.m. in the Town Clerk's office.

The last day to file petitions for candidacy for a member of the County Committee is also today, added Barnett. Those petitions must be picked up at the clerk's office in Town Hall during regular office hours, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., or during the special evening hours tonight.

Residents not permanently registered here or with a change of address must notify the Town Clerk to be eligible to vote.

Here One Day; Gone The Next

School officials have fired an electrical investigator hired last week to survey electrical systems at nine schools here.

After two days on the job in Belleville, Joseph Babernitsch, an inspector for the Middle Department Association of Fire Underwriters based in Trenton, was told he was no longer needed. School Board president Richard Mahmarian termed the dismissal of Babernitsch "unfortunate" but added that the electrical inspector was not giving the board what it wanted.

"I don't think he (Babernitsch) was doing what we (Continued on Page 9)

School Board Requesting Bus Help From Governor

The Board of Education last week sent a special letter to Governor William T. Cahill advising him of the safety hazards existing in Belleville due to the Transport of New Jersey bus strike.

The School Board asked Cahill to take notice of communities suffering from the strike, and suggested that the Governor intervene to end the strike.

"We have a problem here and we wanted to advise the Governor of our problem," said School Board president Richard Mahmarian. "We are getting many complaints from parents asking what we are doing about transporting students. Normally, we bused 5-600 students per day. We have exhausted all means of hiring temporary busing and we would like the Governor to take notice of our problem."

According to Mahmarian, there exists safety hazards for students walking to school here. Students that are normally bused to school now must walk. He cited as an example seventh or eighth grade students that must cross several dangerous thoroughfares on their way to school.

"It would be nice if the Governor intervened in Belleville and could acquire busing for us," Mahmarian added.

Belleville has solved the problem of transporting handicapped students by utilizing several old School Board vehicles but there are not enough cars and vans to drive regular students to and from school. School Business Administrator Harold Dufford for several weeks has tried unsuccessfully to hire temporary busing for Belleville. He is still involved in contacting area bus firms but has yet to get a favorable response.

The letter to Governor Cahill follows:

Dear Governor Cahill: The Belleville Board of Education is under contract with Transport of New Jersey for the transportation of students to and from its special classes, junior and senior high

Sidewalk Sale Set Tomorrow, Saturday

Tomorrow and Saturday local shoppers should expect to see unexpected bargains on Washington Avenue as the Belleville Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a sidewalk sale.

Participating merchants will be identified by red and yellow posters displayed on board windows of their businesses. Hours for shoppers are Friday, 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday, 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Local businessmen are planning huge clearance specials on leftover Easter merchandise and many unusual specials will be offered just for the two days.

"This sale is a real family shopping event of the year," reported Harry T. French, Chamber executive director.

The event is unique of its kind in the entire area and previous sidewalk sales have proved it a success for both merchants and local shoppers.

Lynne Sutula, Jacqueline Zatorski and Maria Zarra. Thousands of residents viewed parade Sunday in perfect weather. Times-News has devoted two full pages of pictures of festivities.

Petrochemicals Seen At Belleville Library

Petrochemicals, or chemicals from petroleum, are continually changing the living habits of mankind, Dr. James Zielinski of Esso Research and Engineering Company, told the Belleville Public Library yesterday at the library's branch on Magnolia Street in Belleville.

Synthetic rubbers, plastics, cosmetics, paints, drugs and scores of other chemical products commonly accepted as necessities of modern life find their beginnings in the hydrocarbons of crude oil and natural gas.

The speaker, in a speech entitled "Petrochemicals: A Girl's Best Friend," traced the history of this comparatively young industry from 1919 when isopropyl alcohol, the first commercial petroleum-based chemical was produced by Esso Research and Engineering Company.

It was not until the 1930's when the early synthetic rubbers and plastics emerged from the laboratory, that the petrochemical industry received its impetus and began to change our living habits, the speaker said.

Butyl, a man-made synthetic rubber, was discovered by two Esso Research and Engineering Company scientists, the speaker continued. At first the white, rubber-like mass was regarded as a laboratory curiosity with no commercial value. This was not the case. Last year more than 150 million pounds of Butyl were used in the United States, and an average of 4.5 pounds of Butyl automotive parts can be found in each new model car.

Butyl's impact on the living habits of mankind was only a prelude of things to come, the speaker said. Changes made since the commercial debut of polypropylene and polyethylene plastics in the early 1960's have been astounding.

Plastics are all around us, the speaker continued. When we drive, plastics are there as part of the car. We sometimes eat with them, drink from them, wash our clothes with them, sit on them, brush our teeth with them, play with them and wrap and pack with them.

Plastics are molded, woven, pressed, stamped and intertwined into every facet of our lives, the Esso Researcher said. We couldn't get through a single day without them.

Yet, even this relatively new industry has undergone a change. Originally thought of as material for cheap toys, plastics have moved from the replacement stage to the innovative stage, making possible things never produced before.

The speaker said the home has become a plastics showcase with plastics present as vinyl asbestos flooring, door and drawer fronts, laminated countertops and wall coverings to name only a few items.

How to fall asleep? Begin by relaxing the body consciously while sitting in a chair, for instance. Make your body movements very slow and deliberate. Read or watch TV to relax your senses. Sip a warm drink. When the desire for sleep comes, do not fight it. Walk very slowly to your room. Repeat very quietly and slowly your routine before you go to bed. Get your mind set to relax, climb slowly into bed, stretch, think how good the bed feels, let yourself be drifted into slumber.

Young Demos Discuss Pot

The report by the National Commission on Marijuana and Drug Abuse is drawing considerable attention by the Essex County Young Democrats. Several local Young Democratic Clubs have submitted statements to the Resolutions Committee pushing for an open floor debate during the annual convention on April 28 at Dodd's Town House in East Orange.

The club presidents want as a focal point of the convention the problem, and its pros and cons, to be fully aired. The basis for the debate centers on the commission's recommendations that there be a wholesale decriminalization of marijuana use, and that private possession of it would no longer be illegal.

The commission further recommended that marijuana intoxication would not become a valid defense for a criminal act and that driving while under its influence would bring stiffer penalties than drunken driving - up to a year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

The club presidents want the convention Rules Committee, chaired by Richard Leonard, to allow a half hour debate in support of the National Commissions report and a half hour debate against the recommendations.

After a floor vote, the results are to be forwarded to the U.S. senate and congress in the form of a resolution urging appropriate legislation.

The problem is serious and most relevant to the young people of this county. It is commendable that the Essex County Young Democrats are taking the initiative and being politically courageous in taking a position for or against such a controversial issue.

Convention chairman, Bob Tarantino of Orange, has directed the Rules and Resolutions Committee chairman to seriously consider these requests and to make a decision that is in keeping with the democratic philosophy of open debate on issues.

Congressmen Rodino And Minish

Congressman Peter W. Rodino, Jr., who has served us in Congress since 1948, announced this week his candidacy for reelection from the new 10th Congressional District. In the court-ordered Congressional redistricting plan, Nutley and Belleville were removed from Rodino's 10th Congressional District and placed into Congressman Joseph G. Minish's 11th Congressional District.

Rodino's new district includes all of the City of Newark, East Orange, Glen Ridge and Harrison. Opposition to Rodino's candidacy is sparked by the black community of Essex County. Announced candidates are Newark Assemblyman George Richardson and East Orange's Mayor William S. Hart. Both are black, and both have indicated a black must be elected to represent the new 10th Congressional District.

Both Richardson and Hart have not found fault with Rodino's 24-year record in Congress. The only reason they are running against Rodino is because the Congressman is a white man and Hart and Richardson believe Rodino should be superseded with a black man. This circumstance is a tragedy—more tragic when one examines Mr. Rodino's 24-year record in Congress and realizes the Congressman has championed the rights of the black man with greater vigor than some black members of Congress. Year after year Rodino has been cited for his liberal record. We think a voter should cast a ballot based upon a candidate's public record in office and not upon his race, color or creed.

On the basis of his record, it is extremely difficult for Democrats to elect the new 10th Congressional District to oppose Mr.

Rodino's candidacy. Certainly he has been a good Democrat, a loyal Democrat, a Democrat candidate who bi-annually has immeasurably aided his Democrat running mates. If Rodino wins the Democrat Congressional nomination at the June Primary, he will make a major contribution to the Democrat Party's chances of success in November.

Congressman Joseph G. Minish appears to be headed for an uncontested Democrat Primary election. Since Minish will be campaigning half the time in an area new to him, it might serve his better purpose were he to have a Primary contest, although at this writing it appears very unlikely.

Former State Senator Milton Waldor has received the Essex County Republican organization's endorsement as its nominee for the 11th Congressional District to oppose Minish. Waldor is a formidable candidate with very impressive credentials. A Minish-Waldor contest in November will be no tea party. Both men are fighters—both men are able, experienced campaigners. We trust the contest between Congressman Minish and former Senator Waldor will be conducted on the basis of Minish's 10-year Congressional record and his party's philosophy versus former Senator Waldor's legislative record and the philosophy of the party he represents.

Health Fair A Success

Nutley's First Annual Health Fair held over last weekend in the Nutley High School Gymnasium under the sponsorship of the Public Affairs Department was a huge success. More than 30 exhibits were featured. Free health tests and immunizations were made available to the 1500 local residents who turned out for the occasion.

Among the 1500 examined there were some persons discovered to have heart ailments, high blood pressure, diabetes, low blood count, eye defects, car defects, and in two individuals there was found positive sickle cell anemia symptoms. In every instance where a health defect was discovered, the individual involved was urged to visit his or her doctor.

Organizations participating in this pioneering effort to bring aid to Nutley residents included the North Essex Child Guidance Clinic, American Cancer Society, Essex County Heart Association, Suburban Air Pollution Commission, Passaic Valley Water Commission, Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, Mobile Meals, Nutley First Aid Squad, Agriculture Extension Service, National Council on Alcoholism, Lions Club, Family Service Bureau, American Red Cross, State Health Department V.D. Information Bureau, American Red Cross, State Health Department V.D. Information Bureau, Salvation Army CLA W and the Associated Humane Societies of New Jersey.

PEMBLES, THE INTERNATIONALLY FAMOUS NEW YORK CITY RESTAURANT-DISCOTHEQUE, is in the enviable position of seeing patrons form lines in the rain, standing some nights for one hour or more waiting to be permitted in the place.

The two men most responsible for this unusual success in New York City today are co-owners Con Errico, a former jockey, and Pete Van Arthos, a former Ohio University football star. Pete is the nuts and bolts part of the combination. He sees that supplies and personnel are available in abundance to serve the S.R.O. crowd. Almost every night the lounge bar is three to five deep with patrons coming from all over the nation. Con Errico's heavy accent is on the P.R. side. Visiting from table to table and bar stool to bar stool, Errico and Van Arthos make a terrific combination.

What is unique about Pemples is the fact that many other restaurants in New York City are closing down for lack of patronage. Others that are surviving are hobbling along and just about making it.

Pemples is the setting for a scene in the "French Connection." In that popular movie "The Che" restaurant is actually Pemples on East 56th Street. Con and Peter tell me that it took five days for the TV crews to set up shop to shoot the scene.

RALPH D'ANDREA principal at Nutley's Lincoln School, is a candidate for a berth on the Montclair Town Commission. Ralph brings outstanding credentials to his candidacy. He received his M.A. plus 30 degree credits in School Administration from Seton Hall University and has been employed by the Nutley Board of Education for the past 26 years. During his service with the Nutley School System, Ralph has served as football coach and head baseball coach. He also has seen service as head basketball coach at Immaculate Conception High School in Montclair. For the past 15 years Ralph has been a member of the Nutley Juvenile Conference, a post he was appointed to by the Domestic Relations Court of Essex County. A veteran of World War II, Ralph served with the Fifth Army in Africa and Italy—and this is only part of a rich biography of a gentleman any town would be fortunate to have as a member of its governing body.

Seems Only Yesterday Former Belleville Resident Named Outstanding Soldier

By Elaine Auerbach

One Year Ago

The Belleville Town Commission said it would invite all town apartment landlords to meet with them to discuss rent control measures. The Commission had passed a resolution asking the State to pass binding rent control legislation. The action by town officials had come after several apartment dwellers had complained that landlords were raising rents arbitrarily and blaming the hikes on tax law increases.

The proposed shutdown of Public Service Bus 37 was strongly opposed by townspeople who testified at a three-hour meeting at Town Hall that the Public Service Company wanted to discontinue the line. Residents and municipal officials charged that Public Service was out to "purposely destroy the line." At one point in the hearing, the traffic manager for the company admitted that the published schedule which had been distributed to the public was in error. Mayor Kenneth Smith testified that in certain instances Bus 37 drivers did not directly hand in their fares, but gave their collections to Bus 13 drivers who then handed in the fares in order to "show a loss and thus gain support for applications for rate increases."

Fifteen Years Ago

The Essex County Park Commission announced the sale to the New Jersey Highway Department of its Passaic River parkway land in both Belleville and Nutley. The sale of the land was the final step in clearing the way for the expansion of Route 21 into a six-lane expressway from Newark to Route 3 in Clifton. The agreement, negotiated by representatives of the Commission and the highway department, set the sale price at $1,393,175. Included in the land to be transferred was all Commission property west of the Passaic River and east of Main Street in Belleville and River Road in Nutley.

Director of Public Affairs Robert C. Gruhn revealed at a Commission meeting that he was preparing to introduce a resolution which would change the zoning classification of a large part of the Silver Lake section from its business designation to a class "B" residential zone. Gruhn said that the measure had been drawn up by Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan but that he needed some time to check over details in the new regulations. The affected area involved about one square mile of territory in the northeast section of Silver Lake.

Forty Years Ago

The Hill-Top Improvement Association addressed a letter to the Board of Commissioners in which that group objected to the afternoon conferences and so-called "secret sessions" held by the board and urged the discontinuance of the meetings. The letter was read at both the conference and the evening meeting and was discussed at great length.

A ten ton rock was dug out of a bank in Division Avenue near Reservoir Place which was to be dedicated on Memorial Day in memory of Belleville's war dead. A bronze plaque was to be affixed to the face of the stone by the veterans of Foreign Wars at whose home the monument was to be located. The Board of Commissioners had adopted a resolution granting the VFW post the use of a building at Belleville Avenue and Stephens Street for five years.

Fifty Years Ago

Belleville Chapter Women of Mooseheart-Legion celebrated its first anniversary. Guests were present from the Irvington and Newark chapters.

Saint Peter's team defeated the Continentals on the Meadowcroft oval by a score of 2-1. They also scored a victory over the Park A.A. by an 8-5 score. The game was played on Columbia oval.

Save Money

A study by the Federal Bureau of Mines shows most 191 and 1972 automobiles can use "subregular" and "economy" designated fuels without noticeable loss of performance.

The study of an eight-state area showed the octane rating of third grade gasolines averaged 92.3. The average rating for regular was 94 and for premium 99.8.

The study means that owners of most new cars can safely utilize lower prices. Cecil Ward, Bureau official, says the best way to determine whether a car is suited for cheaper fuel is to try it. If the engine knocks, the octane rating is too low.

None of the octane mystery nor the millions consumers waste each year buying premium grade gasoline is necessary. Congress should long ago have passed a law requiring filling stations to post octane ratings at every pump. Likewise, every automobile engine should be stamped, where easily read, with the minimum octane rating for its fuel.

The Reader

One of the poorest commentaries on American citizenry is to be seen in what the majority reads. One reason so many eager-beaver publishers were hooked on the Hughes biography scandal stems from their eagerness to offer something sensational, to pass it on at great profit to the glib, lightweight, American-reading public.

Most American readers devour fiction, not because it is more informative, interesting or beneficial than non-fiction but because it contains more sensation, sex and vulgarity (four-letter words).

Too many obtain half baked historical backgrounds from novels alone, which the main theme is entertainment and assorted thrills and spice for the reader. Without this added "sugar," most informative books are ignored. That's why publishers push trash, profitably.

Helen's Thing Times Change And People Change Too

By Helen Maguire

ROD WAS heading out the door Sunday afternoon to take Ryan to the Cherry Blossom Parade in Belleville when he met our next door neighbor, Marion Gross. "Tell Helen that I'm emptying out the garage," she said, "and if she wants to come over, she can garbage pick before I put the stuff out at the curb."

Well, it took her roughly ten minutes to deposit the twins in bed where they were heading anyway and say a few comforting words to Gavin who was incubating what turned out to be strep throat and hic myself over to the Gross' to see what koodles Marion was consigning to the trash. I came home with a few gems including an old lantern and a cast iron pot.

Confirmed garbage picker that I am however, this was not a particularly joyful occasion if it heralded the fact that Marion, Charlie and Susan are moving and will put their house up for sale within the next few weeks. And none of the Maguires are happy about their leaving.

WE HAVE BEEN neighbors for almost ten years. My little ones learned what fun it was to climb over the stone wall that separates properties and go visit Marion who was always glad to see them. My cat found that the steps up to the artist's studio which is above the garage make a glorious sundeck spot from which to survey the terrain.

The older boys remember the carnivals that were held in the Gross' yard and driveway, two day events that included virtually every child and mother on the block and provided months of fun planning the various booths and games and rehearsing the musical extravaganza that played four times daily in Charlie's garage.

JACK AND DENNIS both learned to swim in their pool and I spent many a hot summer afternoon sitting on a poolside bench usually with an infant on my lap enjoying the coolness and getting splashed regularly by the exuberant swimmers. Rod enjoyed a few dips himself until the night he came close to drowning in the depths and was saved by Charlie who literally dragged him to the edge.

I couldn't begin to count the summer evenings Marion and Jean Stottlenrye and I spent playing Canasta, unearthing any fourth we could find and moving the game to whichever house was lacking a baby sitter. And the innumerable times we all joined in the search for Teddy Bear, a raskish devil with the face of an innocent and the soul of a wonderer who took off for parts of unknown whenever he had the chance.

AND THE DAY Marion came home with Snoopy, a round ball fur who rapidly grew into a size to rival a pony. And the charcoal fires we shared since neither family could see the sense of lighting a brazier if your neighbor was finished with his fire and it was still going strong.

You know, I have a feeling Alexander Avenue is never going to be quite the same for us again.

Pemples Was Used As Setting For 'French Connection' Flick

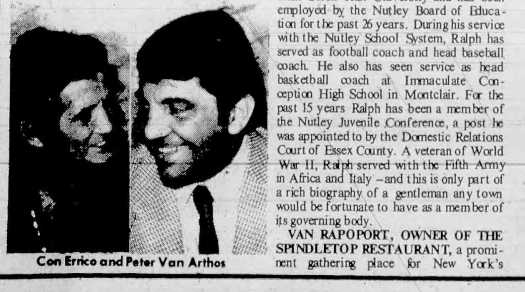

Theatre District performers and patrons is a major financier of a Broadway play which opened this week at the Bijou Theatre. The play, "The Divorce of Judy and Jane" involves the life and times of seven girls, among whom is Constance Forslund, a beautiful, long-haired blonde who has collected many acting credits. After taking a glance at the handsome Van Rapoport, one of wonders why Hollywood scouts have not recruited him for a major part in a Hollywood production.

RALPH GUALBERTO, PRESIDENT OF GEM CONSTRUCTION CO., has progressed satisfactorily enough so that he can get around with a cane. Four months ago Ralph fell off a ladder and broke his leg in three places. Tough break for broke Ralph.

NUTLEY IS AMONG THE 47 TOWNS mentioned in the book "Safe Places" which was published last month. In addition to men of integrity representing Nutley residents in Town Hall, perhaps of equal importance in giving Nutley the reputation of being a safe place is the eminent jurist, Edwin J.C. Joerg. During the course of 25 years Judge Joerg's reputation for fairness and sternness has caused many criminally-motivated people to skip Nutley. Induction of Nutley among the safe places in America is as much a testimonial to Judge Joerg as it is for the community itself.

I WAS SURPRISED ON EAL'S 727 JET, FLIGHT 897 this weekend to be served by a Miami-based stewardess who was born and reared in Lindhurst. Tall, attractive Chris Ginni is Lindhurst's contribution to EAL and with only four months of experience, Chris carried on like she was working at the job for a lifetime. On EAL's Flight 896 to Newark, senior stewardess Terry Cullen was the take-charge girl. I have flown three times in the last few weeks on flights which Terry Cullen worked. Betty Nielsen was her sidekick and both girls led the same flights. When the girls bid rider meets up with flight attendants like Terry Cullen and Betty Nielsen, in my case it makes me feel like I'm at home in my own living room with old friends.

Belleville Resident Organizes Exhibitions At Vassar College

Two important exhibitions will run concurrently in the Vassar College Art Gallery from April 4 through April 30, 1972.

Selections from the Asian Collections of Vassar College, organized and installed by Annette Juliano, instructor in Oriental art at Vassar, displays Vassar's extensive holdings of Asian art for the first time in a way befitting their excellence and importance. The exhibition is comprised largely of Chinese, Japanese, and Korean ceramics and sculpture, given the College by Charles M. Pratt, Olga Hasbrouck, '05, J. L. Onberger Davis, Trustee, 1925-32, and others. Examples of paintings and prints are also included. Among the outstanding treasures are early and unusual Chinese neolithic bronze age pottery, Tang three-color glazed ware, Korean celadons, Japanese raku tea bowls and jars, and a fine sculpture from the Pala period.

A fully-illustrated 60 page catalogue, written by Miss Juliano, accompanies the exhibition.

Miss Juliano resides at 359 Union Avenue. She is a graduate of the Belleville Schools with a BA from Rutgers University, an MA from the University of Pennsylvania and is a doctoral candidate at New York University in Far Eastern Studies. She is also a Woodrow Wilson Fellow.

An enthusiastic man is one who discovers what most everyone else has already learned.

Dr. Gisela Ucko Speaks At Clinic's Workshop

Dr. Gisela Ucko, medical director of the North Essex Child Guidance Clinic, was the keynote speaker at the first of a series of workshops for nursery schools and day-care centers of Bloomfield, Belleville, Nutley and surrounding communities, which were begun in April at the clinic. The second meeting of the series will be held on April 27 at 7:30 p.m. Interested staff members are requested to call the clinic if they wish to be included in the workshop.

In the opening session, Dr. Ucko stated that one of the prime purposes in starting the workshops was to prevent further emotional problems in the young child, as teachers in regular nurseries and day-care centers are alerted to the special needs of some of their children, and to examine ways of meeting these needs in the "normal" setting of their facilities.

The child psychiatrist directed her remarks to the topic of identifying the young child who may have problems which will prevent his assimilation in a regular school population, unless he has special consideration and treatment in the pre-school years.

In the following sessions, problem behaviors and ways of handling them will be discussed, as well as the value in conferring with parents, to help them understand more fully their atypical children.

"BEAUTY TIPS"

By Justin

Yes, you can exercise your eyelids. Keep them youthful by lifting brows as high as possible, then dropping them, at least 20 times a day.

Before polishing, wipe each fingernail with cotton dipped in vinegar. Clean them thoroughly and make them more pliable, so polish will stay on longer.

This, silky-fine hair is easiest to care for if it's blotted to one length, preferably not below the chin line.

To give elbows, knees and heels a super-polishing, rub them after your bath with a paste made of cleansing grains mixed with water. Scrub to remove dry, flaky skin.

'If You Ever Knew Chip'

By Ruth E. Dillon

So our little friend then went next door to Bradlee's to buy his record and again, when another customer walked in, Chip bounced into Bradlee's and rushed over to our friend. An employee of the store approached and told him his dog could not be in the store. He protested, "MY dog? He's not my dog!" The woman said, not quite believing him "I'm sorry son-but take him outside and come back alone. On his fourth trip back into the store with the same monotonous routine going on all the time, the lady got so mad, she chased both of them out of the store and our little friend will never forgive us or Chip because he never did get his record. I tried to console him with the fact that he had wonderful protection going and coming back-but he's still not talking to either Chip or me.

I did feel it was my duty to tell him about the wonderful protection he gives because of the day he scared the thief from entering our home after he had removed the door-jamb. I can't help it if the mailman was terrified of him because he took the mail from him through the slot in the door. Have you ever felt a wet mouth on your hand and you couldn't see what was behind the door?

Uhuh-we've had all the aggravations, the worries and tears that go with Chip. We have tied him only to have him chew through the rope; we have chained him; he has broken every chain; we have locked him in and no one has ever been able to figure how he gets out. Worst of all-no-body believes us.

But-we've had the good times too. Like the day a neighbor across the street from us, during our brief stay in Nutley, called to complain about him and I broke down and cried, "Come and take him; chop him into little pieces of meat, I don't want him anymore," and she said the fine that time and said, "Every kid needs a dog and I can't break the hearts of those kids".

Or the time my daughter was in the second grade at Spring Garden School in Nutley. We lived directly in back of the school playground and this, of course was Chip's heaven on earth. Mary Beth's patience in bringing him home each and every day was a beauty in itself to behold. But one day she burst into tears and her principal took the loose rope that hung from his neck and consoled her by saying, "I think we're just going to have to enroll Chip in the second grade with you so that he can be with you all the time." And all the kids laughed with her as they all walked him home.

And the night he jumped on the sofa in the den to watch T.V. with Anthony, and fell into Anthony's lap so hard he somehow scratched him on the eye and we all scrambled into the car to take Anthony to the doctor and I swore we'd had enough of this dumb, uneducated animal. And I became the villain and Anthony apologized to the dog when we got back home. We never did see T.V. that night but we sure did laugh.

And when we moved back to Belleville and Chip returned to Nutley each day I wish I knew who the unidentified woman was who called me everyday to tell me he was laying on the lawn in front of the home we'd just left. When we'd go to pick him up, someone had tied him to the handle of the garage door - just in case.

Ah yes -he's been all sorts of anguish -and the cause of lots of human emotions. We have had untold pleasures and happiness from him. I'd like to thank Marie and Joe Barrett for giving him to us and letting us love him all these years and for having him love us.

And just for the record -he still smiles and winks everytime he looks at you. So if you see this lovable piece of animal -just smile back and tell him he's a good dog. He'll wag his tail -he'll try to talk -and he'll be your friend too - forever, I hope.

The Board now proposes to hire an electrical engineer to make specific recommendations on how to improve electrical conditions in schools here. Schools Business Administrator Harold Dufford is expected this week to contract several area engineering firms in hopes of securing an engineer to survey schools here.

"The Board wants specific recommendations but the outfit we hired didn't want to give us that," said Dufford. "He (Babernitsch) gave us a thorough investigation. He went into detail on everything. He did a fine job but failed to give us the things we need."

According to Dufford, Babernitsch did a survey of School No. 8 on Friday and submitted his report to Dufford Monday. Next, he went to work in the Junior High School, Dufford, meanwhile, showed the report to the Board of Education but members were dissatisfied with the report, saying it was not what they want. Babernitsch was on the job here two days. He was hired at the rate of $125 per day and School Board president Richard Mahmanian said he will be paid for his efforts, even though the Board can not use the information. Civil Rights Gets Revamped Effort vice chairman, Mrs. Louise E. Brown, secretary, Mrs. Alfreda Cameron, John Grant, Roy Oakley and Mrs. Mary Shader. The Commission may soon get school principal Joseph Grosch as the eighth member. They are seeking to enlist the services of a Belleville High School senior as the ninth member of the Commission to represent teenagers. Rev. Alsop reports that he has a meeting next week with high school officials and hopefully a senior can be named to the Commission by next month.

The Belleville Commission of Civil Rights meets the fourth Thursday of every month, excluding December, July and August, 8 p.m. at Town Hall. All meetings are open to the public. In an ordinance adopted by the Town on October 28, 1963, the Commission was created and established. The ordinance declares, in part, "To the end that prejudice, intolerance, bigotry, and discrimination shall never threaten the peace and welfare of the Town of Belleville, this local law is enacted to provide an instrumentality through which the Town of Belleville may officially encourage and bring about mutual understanding and respect by all racial, religious and ethnic groups in the said Town of Belleville, eliminate prejudice, intolerance, bigotry, discrimination and disorder, and help give effect to the guarantee of equal rights for all as assured by the Constitution and Laws of the State of New Jersey." (Section 1, Ordinance 1667).

The nine-member Commission is appointed by the Mayor and Town Commissioners for a term of four years. Periodically, Town Fathers sit in on regular Civil Rights Commission meetings, although this hasn't been done yet this year.

The Commission recently met with the Chief of the Bureau of Education of the State Division on Civil Rights, William Barnes, in an attempt to better equip themselves in meeting the needs of the Community.

The Commission has visited annually the high school to meet with various staff members there in order to see what programs were being inaugurated in the school system in dealing with various aspects of the civil rights movement in America. The Commission, according to officials, has always been pleased with the programs implemented in the high school and has found Superintendent of Schools Anthony Greco and the members of his staff both open and anxious to further the program.

"Most people seem to think 'black and white' whenever they hear the phrase civil rights. This is a mistake. The civil rights movement is concerned about discrimination in whatever form it may take, whether religious, housing, draft counseling, equal employment opportunities for women or whatever. Our Commission here in Belleville can act as the liaison between the citizen in need and the State Commission, which can bring a significant weight to bear in assisting an individual."

Walter DeVoy, 74; School Cross Guard

Mr. Walter E. DeVoy of 197 William Street, died suddenly on April 22. He was 74.

Mr. DeVoy, a retired truck driver with the Abcar Trucking Co. of New York, was born in New York and moved here 20 years ago. He retired five years ago as a school crossing guard, and was a member of the American Legion Post 105 of Belleville.

He is survived by his wife Hazel M. Gilby, and a stepson, Arnold Haight of Nutley.

Services were held Tuesday in St. Peter's Church, and burial was in Calvary Cemetery in New York.

His Opinion

Reports It's Clear As Mud

By Anthony Buccino

Yesterday I believed that when they said that one had to go to college to load garbage trucks that it was all an enormous joke being played on the naive children of the day.

Today as I look around trying to pick a simple career that will be easy on both my mind and body I find that the joke was on me. Without a college education there will most likely be no success in a man's life.

Success was always something that a man had when he was thirty or forty years old. About thirty years after he had his success, he could retire on Social Security and the government would support him with the money the alleviated from his salary over the years. Success won't make you obese!

I am only seventeen. My entire future is in my hands. Every little decision that I make today will undoubtedly be reflected in my success tomorrow. It is so important today that WE make the right decisions. It is not too easy, you must understand; decisions are hard to make, as a matter of fact, they are as clear as mud.

U.S. History Instructor Subject Of Interview

By Suzanne Reynolds

Mr. Gavitt teaches United States History at Belleville High School. He received his Bachelors and Masters Degrees in history at Montclair State University and is planning on taking further courses at Columbia University. While at Montclair State, Mr. Gavitt was a member of the soccer team. During his years as a member, the team became NCAA finalists. One thing that Mr. Gavitt regrets is that Belleville High school does not have a soccer team, but he hopes that there will be one in the near future.

As a student teacher here at Belleville High School, Mr. Gavitt was under the supervision of Mr. Graves, who is the Head of the Social Studies Department. Mr. Gavitt has been teaching at BHS for the past three years. He is a "firm believer in independent study where the students, with proper supervision, can pursue their own topics and interests in the social sciences." He feels that, "this type of study is very important in the complex world that we live in."

Many of Mr. Gavitt's students have won prizes in oratorical contests. He is a member of the Organization of American History and the American Historical Society.

In addition to all of his other activities Mr. Gavitt is also the Weight Track coach and the Junior Varsity Basketball coach. He has held both of these positions since he came to teach at Belleville High School three years ago. As the coach of the Weight section of the Track team, Mr. Gavitt feels that Belleville has some very promising young athletes in the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior classes. He likes the way that Commissioner Marotti has improved the stadium in Belleville for the Track team.

Mr. Gavitt also tutors students who are unable to attend school. He hopes to continue taking courses and learn more about Economic Colonial History, which is his favorite Social Studies topic. At the moment Mr. Gavitt lives in West Orange with his wife and two-month old daughter.

Teacher For the Day

By Barbara Michelli

Morning. It looked like any other day except I knew that it would be different. Because today I would transform from a common student into the role of teacher. The first thing I felt after this realization was fear. Sure, they were my friends and fellow students but what will happen when I try to teach them?

The subject I was to teach was math for Mr. Lang, but upon looking for him before school this morning, I discovered that he had gone to a convention and left me defenseless. This did nothing for my nerves which were bad enough already. Somehow I gathered up enough courage to approach the task with a reasonable amount of cool.

When the time came for me to get in front of the classroom and begin, I felt the slight panic of not knowing where to start. Teaching something you know about is one thing, but just trying explaining something that you never heard of two nights ago, and maybe you will see what I mean. Not having Mr. Lang there for moral support was good and bad. Good because I was on my own but bad because I had no one to fall back on if I got stuck. I managed to get my message across to the class and I found that the second trial was much easier.

I must admit, getting taught wasn't half as much as the actual teaching and I feel sorry for the ones who didn't get a chance. Although many may say Student Day was a waste of time; that the teachers will over everything we taught today tomorrow; even though, it was an experience that I'm sure all of us "teachers for the day" will never forget.

Can't Love 8 Days A Week

By ABIE

My wandering mind has isolated two incidents from my younger life to remind me of a love which has lasted long through the years and which will last until the final remaining breaths have left the body.

Chronologically speaking, the primary incident is a series of events. In my third grade class, we were drawing. Drawing on that level constituted filling in lines on a mimeographed sheet of paper with crayons.

I was filling in the lines with circular motions of my crayon when the teacher passed by. She proceeded to reprimand me for not coloring with lateral motions. I was perplexed. There was a discrepancy in my art work. I explained it to myself in revealing to my conscience that my older sister had taught me to color with circular motions. After the teacher left, I continued to color my picture with circular motions.

Several years after that incident, during the Beatle dynasty, I asked her a musical question as she was listening to the Beatles' "Eight Days A Week." In all of my romantic innocence, I asked, "How can he love her eight days a week? There are only seven days in a week!" I thought I had her stumped. She replied, "That's easy, every day and twice on Sunday!" Her answer cooed my naive mind.

Today in my capricious teens, I am not really sure if there are eight days in a week or even if I should color with circular or lateral strokes, but there is one thing I am sure of: Through all of my innocent years and even today, I still love and look up to my sister.

Sweet, Sweet Youth

By Marco

Three stooges came along. Two of them were from Newark, so I immediately called them Sir. The three stooges were drinking some Scotch which they had obtained through underhanded means; they hid the bottle in a bush on the next street. While illegally intoxicated, they broke some garage windows on the next street.

Eventually, later in fact, two of the three were caught by the police-the fine men in blue. Also, one of the two who was apprehended informed the gentlemen in blue of the third's identity. He was called to the station to answer for his actions.

schools. The safety of these children, in their travel to and from home and school since March 1, has been a matter of deep concern to the members of the Board, the school administration and the parents. We have been unable to secure any replacement service although we have made every effort in this area.

The Board has directed that I advise you of the safety hazards existing in this community for our children because of lack of transportation, and to respectfully urge you to exert all the powers of your office to resolve this situation without further delay.

The letter is signed Richard E. Mahmarian, president.

Judge Warns Tardy

didn't have the funds to make the fine, and Judge Abramson permitted him to make the payment in small sums, a common practice in the cases of those without the means to pay immediately.

However, Gabler never made a payment and never called the court to explain why not, according to Court Clerk Mrs. Ruth Spangler, who added that even if Gabler "had offered to pay only two dollars a week," he might have avoided the jail sentence.

Mrs. Spangler said about 45 defendants are on the partial payment plan.

Thirty convicted defendants are currently paying fines by partial payment to the Belleville court, but 15 of these are long overdue and bench warrants for contempt of court have been issued in these cases. It is expected that, if these fines are not paid soon, Judge Abramson will take similar action as he did with Gabler.

Recover Stolen Goods

the United States intact, but the consignment, W. Carson and Co. of Toronto, reported that 73 cartons of the goods were missing and that one container arrived empty.

The task force received information that the cameras were being offered for sale in the Essex County area and Belleville in particular. When assisted by local police, the Newark crime fighters got a break in the case. They first traced leads in New York, Los Angeles, Miami and Brazil.

Sunday. Viewed by thousands of residents lining sidewalks, parade was most successful in recent years. Grippaldi, Belleville resident, is national weight lifting champion. He was an olympic team member and was Pan American Champ in 1967-71.

Parade Highlights Cherry Blossom Festival

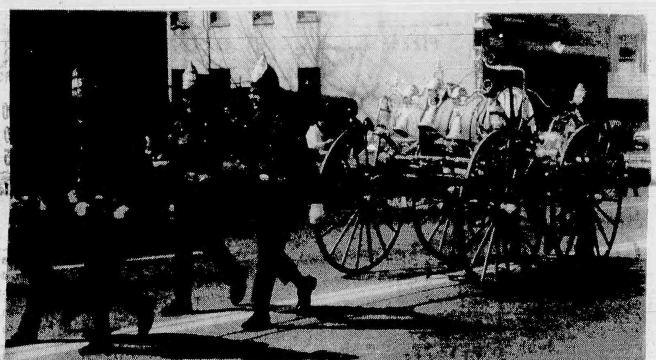

THE NOVELTIES VENDOR is as much a part of a parade as the parade itself. Here, one of many such vendors peddles his wares on Washington Avenue Sunday.

BELLEVILLE'S OWN marching group, the Sabre Cadets, are led down Washington Avenue by two local youngsters. Nine full divisions were viewed by thousands lining Washington Avenue Sunday.

FIRE ENGINE COMPANY from neighboring Nutley accepted invitation to the Belleville Cherry Blossom parade. Parade and came with unusual antique hose cart, pulled by company members. Belleville firemen also participated in parade.

MICKEY MOUSE made his grand debut in Belleville Sunday during Cherry Blossom parade as he stops above to thrill two local tots while their pretty young mother also enjoys Mickey's surprise visit.

SHOWING THEIR COLORS is an area color guard group, one of many that marched down Washington Avenue Sunday to celebrate the Cherry Blossom Festival.

THE KIWANIS CLUB FLOAT depicted the theme of Sunday's parade down Washington Avenue as the local fraternal group chose to decorate their float with cherry blossoms and oriental pagoda. Float was one of many seen.

SMOKEY THE BEAR and Leo the Lion were unexpected visitors at the Cherry Blossom Parade as youngsters rushed to greet the cartoon characters.

SNOOPY leads Magilla Gorilla down Washington Avenue as these two cartoon characters were favorites of youngsters viewing Cherry Blossom parade.

BELLEVILLE BOY SCOUTS and younger cub scouts were seen marching in the Cherry Blossom Parade Sunday as these youth organizations were well represented.

MAYOR Joseph McGreevy and Commissioner Michael Marotti headed the Cherry Blossom Parade Sunday as nine full divisions marched down Washington Avenue.

Action Packed Week Sees Cindermen Sinking To 1-3

By Robert Luongo

Last Monday, against Vailsburg, the Belleville track team suffered their second loss. Vailsburg took the meet 47 to 70. Later that week, on Wednesday, Belleville faced Columbia High School, who are big ten champions. Although giving the opponent squad a good fight, the local team was beat 28 1/2 to 93 1/2. Belleville's season record is marked at one win and three losses.

Tomorrow Belleville hosts their biggest rival, Nutley. Nutley has beaten the local track team three years in a row. The battle should be an electrifying one due to the strong competition of the opponent school. The meet at Belleville's Municipal Stadium will start approximately 4 p.m.

In the high hurdles against Vailsburg, senior stalwart Donald "Killer" Kowalski took first in 17 1/4 seconds. Spruill of Vailsburg took second and followed closely by Belleville's Portuese. Portuese took third place at two tenths of a second. Against Columbia, the weather was very warm, therefore, the times were better. Kowalski, also, took first in this meet in the high hurdles. His time was 16 1/2 seconds. This is Kowalski's best time. Second and third places were taken by Columbia's Jones and Richardson, respectively.

In the 100 yard dash Vailsburg's first place was taken by the Vikings' Morgan with a 10.9 second time. Second place was taken by another Vailsburg sprinter with Belleville's Bob Cozzarelli taking third place by two tenths of a second.

Against Columbia in the 100, the Columbia sprinters were just too strong. Columbia took all three places in a dead heat, each place only one tenth of a second apart. In the mile, against Vailsburg, a Viking runner took first with a 4:58 minute time. Against Columbia, once again, their runners were strong. Columbia took all three places. However, the times were not better than the Vailsburg meet.

In the two mile run, first was taken by Vailsburg's Clark. Belleville's sophomore standout Bob Spillane took second with 12 minute timing. Third was taken by Vailsburg's Santura. Against Columbia, the opponent winners were just too powerful for the Belleville distance men. All three places were taken by them.

In the 440 yard dash, senior star Michael Petronaci took first place. Vailsburg's senior Towford took second as Belleville senior Robert Frake took third by only ten feet.

Against Columbia, Petronaci again took a first with 54.4 second timing. Second and third places were taken by Columbia's seniors Morgan and Wingo.

In the 220 yards dash, Michael Petronaci took another first for the Belleville team against his Viking opponents.

Second and third places were taken by Vailsburg sprinters Brookie and Rappaport, respectively. Against Columbia, Washington and Santilli took first and second for Columbia. Third place was taken by Belleville's senior John O'Donnell. O'Donnell just started running the 220 this week.

In the low hurdles, once again, Belleville's spark Donald Kowalski took first. Second place was taken by Vailsburg's Spruill barely with Belleville's Tony Portuese taking third by one tenth of a second. Against Columbia the speedster took another first. This is Kowalski's eleventh season first. Second and third places were taken by Hunter and Mauchione of Columbia.

In the half mile against Vailsburg, soph standout Steve Budrich took first with a two minute 17 second run. Second and third were taken by two Columbia sprinters. Against Columbia, the competition was much harder. Budrich, who bettered his time by two seconds were taken by junior Krisken and senior Evers of Columbia.

In the first of the field events, the shot put, against Vailsburg, first and second were taken by seniors Strong and Fischer. Third place was taken by juniors, Robert Luongo, who lost to second by one and a half inches. Strong's number one throw was - 46 feet nine inches. Against Columbia, first place was again taken by the opponent, senior Hopkins of Columbia. Second place was taken by junior Robert Luongo and third place was taken by Columbia senior Hard.

In the discus against Vailsburg, weightmen Fischer and Strong took first and second places, respectively. The first place throw was 133 feet. Third place was taken by Belleville's sophomore Tom Sanders with an excellent throw.

Against Columbia, Belleville's opponent Alan Blum took first on the last throw. Belleville's Robert Luongo took second with a throw seven inches shorter. Third place was taken by Columbia senior Tom Hopkins.

In the broad jump against Vailsburg, first place was taken by Viking jumper Jeff Acosta. Second place was taken by Belleville's Tony Portuese with a superb jump of 17 feet eight inches. This is Tony's career best. Third place was taken by Belleville star Donald Kowalski.

Against Columbia, Sole of Columbia jumped over 18 feet to take first. Donald Kowalski took second with a 17 feet eight inch jump and third place was taken by Columbia's Sam Richardson.

for that match, Simone, later in the week, captured two points against his owboy opponent from West Orange. Cindy Ferro, who is the school's first female team participant of any sport, participated in the West Orange match. Cindy is a senior and a member of the girls basketball team. She shut out her owboy opponent. Before the season started, Athletic Director, Herman Wische had to contact Trenton to clarify Cindy's eligibility. After receiving the O.K. from the state, Cindy was out practicing with the squad. Coach Salazar, who is very happy about Cindy's playing, hopes she will be very profitable for the club. Cindy, who has participated and won many golf tournaments, is a perfect example of an outstanding female athlete. She will be shooting regularly at the number four spot.

Richard Villano, against Irvington beat his opponent by several strokes. Villano, although shoots at the number five spot has the talent to shoot third or fourth. Against West Orange, Richard shot sixth because Cindy Ferro participated. He captured two points in that match.

Senior Jesse Damato, who is the regular sixth place shooter did not participate in the West Orange match. However, against Irvington he received three points on a forfeit.

Some customers want to know whether imported TV sets or phonographs and tape recorders are more expensive since the currency reallocation. The answer is yes, they are.

The U.S. dollar has devalued and the currencies of those countries which export to the U.S. has been upvalued. Consequently, the prices in the stores had to go up. The difference due to these currency adjustments is much too high to be absorbed by the trade. Some exporting countries give subsidies to the exporters to compensate for all, or at least part, of the higher prices due to these currency adjustments.

Although for a time there was a slow-down of imports, they seem to come along just as strong as ever. The wage difference between the U.S. and most exporting countries are very high, so that in spite of some price increases we still can not compete. How can we compete when we have to pay an hourly wage of 10 times the wages of the countries from which the merchandise is imported. Some importers offer transistor radio sets complete with earphones, neatly packed, for about $3. This is about the hourly wage for many workers in a U.S. electronics factory. Even if the prices goes up 10% (30%) for such a radio, we still can not come close to these prices for domestic production.

Crew Still Undeclared; Race Kardinals Next

A narrow one second victory over Upper Merion last Saturday keeps Belleville's undefeated crew squad for a tough race against neighboring Kearny Saturday on the Passaic River. Off time is expected about 10 a.m., according to time conditions.

The Belleville varsity, in traveling to the Philadelphia area Saturday for its race with Upper Merion on the Susquehanna River, was fortunate to return home with the win. The varsity boat had to hold off a fourth quarter effort by Upper Merion to hold on for the win.

"Our boys didn't race a good mile. They must have had an off day," said head coach Sam Guiffria. "We have to consider ourselves fortunate to come home with the win."

According to Guiffria, several adverse conditions could have affected the Belleville team in its race Saturday. First, the weather, pouring rain, made it difficult for rowing, and secondly, a two-week layoff by the varsity could have made the squad "rusty." Third, Belleville was racing on an "S" shaped course, totally unfamiliar to the local squad.

"We happened to get the win but I feel we could have run a much better mile," added the coach.

Belleville must improve upon its rowing if the crew expects to beat Kearny. Although the Kardinals have posted only one win in four outings, coach Guiffria forecasts a close race. Belleville defeated Kearny three times last year but each time the Kardinals closed the margin of defeat. This year the Kearny crew carries more experience than Belleville although the Belleville pack may use physical toughness to only four feet, closed off, all Belleville victories this season.

feated Atlantic City this season but the Kardinals lost to Upper Merion, Blessed Sacrament and neighboring Nutley.

"We've learned to respect them. They always row well against us," remarked Guiffria. "Since we share the same bathhouse there is a big mental thing when we row against Kearny."

Belleville's scheduled race with Blessed Sacrament, considered one of the toughest opponents on the schedule, has been cancelled. According to coach Guiffria, he received word Monday night that Belleville will not be racing the New Rochelle, N.Y., club. The coach said Blessed Sacrament has dismantled its eight-man shell in favor of racing in doubles and fours.

"We were looking forward to racing them. They beat us last year," Guiffria commented.

Besides the varsity, the jayvies and sophomores registered victories against Upper Merion. Only the third shell was defeated last Saturday. The jayvies won by 12 seconds while the freshmen breezed by 44 seconds. The third shell lost by three seconds. The frosh last Saturday defeated Roosevelt by an astounding 32 seconds.

Against Upper Merion, the Belleville varsity, fell behind in the early going of the race but they regained the lead by the half-mile mark. After pulling out to a half-length lead in the third quarter the Belleville hung on for the one second victory by holding off a comeback by Upper Merion surge in the closing stages of the race. The margin of victory was physical enough to only four feet, closed off, all Belleville victories this season.

Golfers' Rally Continues With Second, Third Wins

Belleville's golf team defeated Irvington high school last Monday 17 1/2 to 11 at Pleasant View Golf Course. With this victory it marked their season at two wins and the one loss mark. The following Friday, the local Duffers swamped West Orange High 16 to two. The match was at Belleville's home course, Forest Hill. This win gives the Belleville squad an outstanding three-wins and one loss season.

This Friday the Duffers have a rematch with Bloomfield High School. Against Bloomfield during the first match, the team suffered a brutal loss. However, with the experience and the confidence that the golfers have received, the match against the strong Bengal club should be such an exhibition.

Against Irvington, number one shooter, Larry Di Miro shut out his opponent. This boosts his season totals to six points. Later that week against West Orange, he again captured three points shutting out his opponent, raising his season point total to nine points.

Captain Mike Zarra, also shut out his opponent for both matches. Zarra, who shoots at the number two position feels even more strongly now about the team's success. He receives credit for pushing the team into practicing harder for wins.

Third place, shooter, Dominick Palamara, captured six points in the two matches. By beating his opponents scoreless, Palamara, who is second in total season points, has been shooting rather well despite his putting problems.

Against Irvington, junior Neil Simone allowed his opponent only to get 1/2 of a point. Receiving two and 1/2

for that match, Simone, later in the week, captured two points against his owboy opponent from West Orange. Cindy Ferro, who is the school's first female team participant of any sport, participated in the West Orange match. Cindy is a senior and a member of the girls basketball team. She shut out her owboy opponent. Before the season started, Athletic Director, Herman Wische had to contact Trenton to clarify Cindy's eligibility. After receiving the O.K. from the state, Cindy was out practicing with the squad. Coach Salazar, who is very happy about Cindy's playing, hopes she will be very profitable for the club. Cindy, who has participated and won many golf tournaments, is a perfect example of an outstanding female athlete. She will be shooting regularly at the number four spot.

Richard Villano, against Irvington beat his opponent by several strokes. Villano, although shoots at the number five spot has the talent to shoot third or fourth. Against West Orange, Richard shot sixth because Cindy Ferro participated. He captured two points in that match.

Senior Jesse Damato, who is the regular sixth place shooter did not participate in the West Orange match. However, against Irvington he received three points on a forfeit.

the Bengals etched out a win. The first defeat of the season for the Bellos put them one-half game of Bloomfield's pace.

Another tough week will be facing the home club when they travel to Irvington tomorrow afternoon. Saturday they go to West Essex and Tuesday they play Nutley at the Park Oval. The Bellos will be facing one of the toughest pitchers in the area tomorrow when they meet Dean Unlik, who already has a one-hitter and a no-hitter to his credit.

In their 5-4 loss to Bloomfield, the Bellos fell behind early in the game and failed to come back strong enough. Home runs by John Stanford and Charles Puleo put the Bellos in a hole. Losing pitcher Rich Centenni helped his cause by homering in the fifth inning. Belleville scored three more in the seventh but it was too little, too late.

Congressman Minish Seeking Reelection

Congressman Joseph G. Minish has announced his candidacy for re-election from the 11th District which he has represented since 1963.

Referring to the new boundaries of his district set by the court, Minish commented:

Joseph G. Minish

"I am pleased that Verona will join the 11th district, and I look forward to meeting the residents of the new communities. I have many good friends there and I am most gratified by the warm response that I have already received from so many officials and individuals in the areas."

I am proud and grateful to the present residents of the 11th District for the increasing majorities by which they have returned me to office. I shall work hard to convince the citizens of the communities brought into the district that I shall represent them vigorously and effectively in the Congress. I will submit my record of service for the past 10 years to the electorate of the 11th District, new and present constituents, and I am confident of re-election."

Minish is a member of the Banking and Currency Committee and of the Subcommittee on Consumer Affairs, Domestic Finance, and Housing, and was recently named to the congressional oversight task force on housing. His activities as chairman of a special committee which unveiled loan sharking of overseas servicemen won him national recognition, and resulted in the establishment of overseas credit unions to provide servicemen with loans at reasonable rates.

As a member of the Banking and Currency Committee, which has jurisdiction over economic stabilization legislation, Minish headed the successful drive to compel the granting of retroactive pay raises to teachers and other workers affected by the administration's freeze order.

He is currently pressing for revision of the rent guidelines which he has charged are being used to raise rents when no increase would normally have been due.

A long time critic of the Food and Drug Administration's performance in safeguarding food and health standards, Minish has initiated legislation to establish an independent Federal Food Safety Administration with full responsibility for insuring the quality of all food products.

Seventeen members of the House are cosponsors of the Minish bill.

Minish also was a prime sponsor of the original Conquest of Cancer legislation which led to the enactment of the recent law to step up the Federal Government's effort to eradicate cancer. He is now pressing for full funding of the program.

Minish resides in West Orange with his wife and two children. He has a married son and two grandchildren.

Group Views Computer Orientation

Monmouth College Hosts Residents

Less than a month ago, a group of Monmouth College students decided it would be a good idea to invite high school and junior college students to take a look at the computer facilities at Monmouth.

Recently, more than 800 students from throughout the state took the Monmouth students up on the invitation. Included in the group were students from Belleville High School.

Busloads of students from schools as far away as Wildwood, Woodbury and North Bergen began arriving on the Monmouth campus for a day-long "Computer Orientation Program."

The 13-member Computer Science Society conceived the idea as a club project "to introduce interested students to the computer facilities and courses at Monmouth."

Society members, all students interested in computers and computer applications, drafted a letter which was sent to some 500 schools in New Jersey.

A few days later, they began receiving telephone calls from teachers making reservations for groups of high school students ranging from two to 50. However, the largest contingent to travel to Monmouth was a group of more than 125 from James V. Ferris High School, Jersey City.

The students, with the guidance of Mrs. Betty Jane Cook, director of the college's academic computer center, lined up faculty members to help with the activities they were planning.

And the night before the program, the club members showed up with mops, pails, and brooms, for a complete clean-up operation of the computer center.

Activities included a tour of the college's computer center, demonstrations of related equipment, workshops on a variety of topics ranging from course offerings at Monmouth, a talk by Dr. Charles J. Lewis, chairman of the college's Mathematics Department, and a welcome from Dr. Richard J. Stonestorfer, college president. The day concluded with a question and answer session.

Other departments at Monmouth were also pressed into service with the college's Community Relations Office providing tour guides, the Public Information Office setting up displays, and the college's Admissions Office staffing the event to answer questions of prospective students.

Enthusiasm for the project spread beyond the campus as officials of the Interdata Co., an Oceanport computer manufacturing firm, agreed to underwrite incidental costs of the program. Company officials also provided additional computer equipment for exhibit and were on hand to provide demonstrations of the equipment for the students' benefit.

Joseph V. Sciacca Jr., 103 Fairway Avenue, Belleville, enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Scranton has been named to the Dean's List for the fall semester.

Dr. William J. Parente, dean of the college, said the academic honor is given each semester to students who earn a grade of "B" or better in each subject. He also noted that each student must carry a full program of study—12 credits minimum—to be eligible for Dean's List honors.

Achieving honors were Gilbert L. Cuffari, 44 Sylvan Place; Sydney M. Evans of 339 Walnut Street and Edward Teepie Jr. of 94 Alexander Avenue, all of Nutley, and Michael Ventura of 38 Division Avenue, Belleville.

Journey To Stratford

Belleville Students See Shakespeare Festival

Forty-one students from Belleville High School journeyed to Stratford, Connecticut on April 5 to see the American Shakespeare Festival Theatre's production of Julius Caesar, which is playing in Student Audience Season repertory with Anthony & Caesar through June 16.

Each spring thousands of students from over a dozen states enjoy the benefits of the Student Audience Season reduced ticket prices. In addition to fine professional performances, the same ones as those offered during the regular season, visitors may view both the extensive Shakespeare art collection and the Costume and Design Exhibition which displays costumes worn in various productions, throughout the American Shakespeare Festival Theatre's eighteen seasons, ranging from traditional Elizabethan outfits to the death masque and blue jean ensembles worn during a past production of "Henry V."

The nationally known Student Audience Season has been recognized by educators as the ideal method to teach plays as living theatre through live performances. Briefed by study guides prepared by the Festival and by in-class introductions to the plays, students who visit ASFT are well-prepared for an introduction to live theatre augmented by a lesson in English language heritage.

The American Shakespeare Festival Theatre's Artistic Director Michael Kahn has directed both of the Shakespeare plays being presented this season, "Julius Caesar" and "Anthony and Cleopatra." One of Shakespeare's strongest and most incisive plays, "Julius Caesar" examines the cold and violent world of politics, power and revolution. Paul Hecht makes his first appearance at the Festival Theatre as the young Marc Antony, joining Joseph Maher as Casca, James Ray as Brutus, and Josef Sommer as Cassius. Settings were designed by Robin Wagner, the costumes created by Jane Greenwood.

Chaplin Film Showing Set At Museum

A free program of Charlie Chaplin's early films will be shown at the Newark Museum, 49 Washington Street, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 28-30.

The program includes "Dough and Dynamite," "Shanghai'd" and "The Fireman." The program is scheduled at 12:15 p.m. on Friday and at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday. Two showings will be given on Sunday at 1:30 and 3:00 p.m.

"Dough and Dynamite" was made in 1914 and involves fast slapstick knock-about in a bakery. Charlie Chaplin is assisted in this film by Chester Conklin, Charlie Chase and Slim Summerville.

"Shanghai'd" (1915) presents Chaplin as an inefficient cook aboard a perpetually rocking boat.

Edna Purviance is the female star. In "The Fireman," made in 1916, Charlie rescues Edna Purviance after a series of false alarms and misadventures.

Teacher talks stalled

Discussion over class size, board hiring practices and loss of programs and faculty has erected a wall between Belleville's teachers and the local School Board, and caused an impasse in employee contract negotiations.

The teachers, represented by the Belleville Education Association, began negotiation proceedings last October, but failed to come up with a meeting date with the trustees until this year.

"They kept putting us off until January," Michael Harvey, BEA president, said. "They've also hired a labor consultant who many times is not prepared, even though the Town is paying him."

Harvey, a member of the BEA Action Committee dealing with negotiations, is working along with Eleanor Arthur, Jerry Kennelly, Paul DelPolito and Louis D'Elia in firming up a new contract for Belleville's educational employees.

"The attitude of the Board of Education toward its educational staff has caused a great deal of unrest and concern among the members of the association," according to a statement issued last month by the negotiating team.

The report continued, "Negotiations between the Board of Education and the Belleville Education Association are at a complete standstill. After numerous meetings, the board initiated cancellations, and upon the board's refusal to meet again, the association was forced to declare an impasse."

The "high-priced" labor consultant hired by the trustees to aid in employee negotiations agreed the two groups have reached an impasse where negotiations are concerned.

"They have reached the point where they just can't agree," Jake Green, consultant, said. "Our recourse now is to apply to PERC (the Public Employment Relations Commission) for the appointment of a mediator."

Auxiliary leads tri-state marchers

Marching bands and auxiliary police units will gather at the intersection of Mill Street and Washington Avenue this Sunday at 1 p.m. to start off the 7th Annual Tri-State Police Auxiliary Parade.

Belleville's auxiliary, which captured first prize as the best marching unit in last year's parade, is finalizing plans for the event's New Jersey debut.

The local auxiliary will lead all other marchers Sunday, with the Belleville High School band in the musical foreground. Close to 20 auxiliaries and 11 bands from throughout New Jersey and New York will follow.

Marchers will continue from their starting point along Washington Avenue to Division Avenue and then west on Division to the senior high school, where refreshments will be provided for parade participants only.

Mugs and decals, bearing the insignia of the 7th Annual Police Auxiliary Parade, will be sold along the parade route for $3 (mug) and $1 (decals). Marching is expected to end at 4 p.m.

Drugs grip 60% of teen populace

By MARY FREEMAN

Undercover police and school officials are cooperating to erase drug abuse, but authorities still estimate 60 percent of Belleville schoolchildren have tried or are currently using drug forms.

Detective Sergeant Martin McNish and Counselor Rita Leone, both of the local juvenile bureau, made the announcement Monday night at the third meeting of the Town-wide Drug and Alcohol Committee.

"Sixty percent is a conservative figure and not realistic," McNish told 100 parents, students, teachers and Town and school officials gathered in the BHS cafeteria. "We could offer higher estimates, but no surveys would back them up — the 60 percent figure is a pretty safe one."

The problems Belleville is facing today with drug abuse are not new to society, the detective said, but rather an age-old concern.

"I am not here to indict the kids in the Town of Belleville," he said. "The situation you see here exists nationwide."

He traced the drug culture in America to Civil War days, when morphine was used on the operating table, to the present, when commonplace drugs include heroin, LSD, hashish, mescaline, "angel dust," seconal, barbituates and amphetamines.

"Our society always is trying to answer a drug problem with another drug," McNish noted. "When we arrest juveniles for drugs, it's important to try to get to the real problem — to go beneath the surface."

The juvenile bureau, established through a grant from the State Law Enforcement Planning Agency, enables McNish, Detectives John Marotti and Martin Natale, and Miss Leone to spend more time with juvenile drug offenders.

"Now we have a place to treat juveniles away from police headquarters, plus the time and resources needed," the detective said. "Someone works at the bureau day and night."

McNish told the gathering Belleville is fortunate in having school administrators who work hand-in-hand with police in combatting drugs among youths.

"Policemen and educators alone can't solve the problem, though," he noted. "Community assistance is essential."

He suggested parents take notice of their children, noting youths here drink anything they can get their hands on and smoke marijuana between class breaks.

"Guys and girls here are using and selling drugs but they do exhibit signs of it," according to the detective. "Drug users often regress from family life, become engrossed in themselves and their peer group and face some drop in grades."

He called peer group pressure to use drugs one of the hardest obstacles a youth can confront.

Miss Leone related the case of 16-year-old "JJ" as an example of one youth drawn to drug abuse through a friend's influence.

"The need was there already, but

Rec house razing sought by town

By PHIL WHITE

The Jorammon Street Recreation House may be razed later this year to make room for an enlarged facility which could be used both as a community meeting room as well as a youth center.

Mayor Michael Marotti, director of Parks and Recreation, said this week he's hopeful funds will be available later this year to undertake the Jorammon Street project. He estimates the projects cost at $20,000 to $25,000.

The Parks Department last week received an additional grant from the N.J. Green Acres program for work presently underway at the Municipal Stadium.

"If we've got the money left over from that project in our budget, we'll use the funds to buy supplies and have our own men construct the building's shell," Marotti said.

The existing Recreation House is not used for recreation at all, the mayor emphasized. In addition to housing a small office for the department, the structure serves mainly as a meeting spot for local organizations.

Tenants level 5-count suit against complex landlord

Unreasonable late rent charges, a $10 per month per pet fee and failure to paint apartments in accordance with state law is prompting 70 tenants residing at the Bridgebrook Gardens, 725 Jorammon St., to fight Narsen Belleville, Inc., their landlord, in a five-count suit this month.

Under the direction of a six-member steering committee, approximately 30 percent of the complexes residents have contributed $30 each to pay for the legal services of William Goldberg of Hackensack, who will plead the tenants' case in court. "What our landlord is doing is illegal," Dorothy Gottheimer, committee representative, said. "We had a meeting to gain support for our cause late last year with dynamic results."

Charges the Tenants' Association is levelling against the landlord include:

1. An attempt to collect a $10 per month fee for each pet;
2. Extra parking spot and swimming pool fees which have nearly doubled in three years should be regulated by the local Rent Levelling ordinance and subject to a five percent increase per year.

3. A lease renewal form containing unreasonable late charges and eviction if rent is 10 days late;

4. Failure of landlord to return tenants' portions of taxes consistent with the N.J. Tenants Property Tax

Rebate Act; and

5. Failure of landlord to paint apartments in conformity with state law.

"They are trying to evict me now because I won't agree to the $10 fee for pets, a clause which is included in the lease renewal," Miss Gottheimer told the Times/News. "I signed my

Poster Prizewinners — Fifth-graders from local elementary schools concocted a variety of posters with the "Be Aware" theme in preparation for the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville's annual competition last week. Winners included, from left, Cammy Rispoli, Donna Caruso, Linda Annunzio, Chairman JoAnn McGough, Marlene Ortega, Kimberly Santora and Lisa Mattia.

Middle School Mix-up — Trustee Richard Mahmarian tried to explain his plan for the institution of a pair of middle schools in buildings now housing Schools Seven and Eight when parents and educators jammed Board of Education offices last week, mostly in opposition to the plan. This Monday, junior high school officials, including Principal Mario DiMaggio, will present their views on the educational system now in effect for Belleville's seventh, eighth and ninth-graders.

Open House For Lazar Successful

An open house at Commission candidate Joe Lazar's campaign headquarters at 106 Park Avenue was a social success in spite of the heavy downpour of chilling April showers last Saturday. Those who braved the rain to meet the candidate and discuss issues with him found sandwiches, cookies, punch, beer and coffee to lend a festive and warming note to the occasion.

As the campaign rolls into its final two weeks Lazar, like many of the other candidates, finds himself engaged in a busy schedule of Candidates' nights and coffee hours to meet the voters. Among the homes in which these meetings already have taken place are those of Mrs. Thomas O'Rourke, Fernwood Terrace; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haines, Highfield Lane; Mrs. Eugene McCormack, Satterthwaite Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Carolan, Glendale Street; Mr. and Mrs.

NICOLS PARK ESSO

ARIES (March 21-April 19): First day comes up like a doffed Ari, but from then on events tend to go downhill. Your lachrymal glands may work overtime. By fifth day, you pull yourself out of the mire and once again are your old snappy self.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): The greatest of fense of all is to be unloving. Taurus. In days ahead, you meet one in need. You will be in position to give. Do so, willingly. For very often, need is the first step to love, you know.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Rather tacky week ahead, Gem. Sorry, my sweet. Limp along as best you are able. If energy is low, don't overtax yourself. Avoid trips, if possible. All kinds.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Something new on the horizon. Maybe a new love. Will it be a permanent relationship? Perhaps. Depending on how you, Moonbaby, handle the situation. Early in May, warm days can suddenly turn chilly. Should this happen, button up your sweater and remember that one love follows another as surely as day follows night. Small comfort, but true.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Don't be too quick to place blame on another if events snarl during first three days. Leo. Things are not what they seem on the surface. As week drags to a close, you may be tempted to sell your birthright for a mess of pottage. Don't do it, am.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Bang out important letters/messages before end of third day. Virgo honey. They could result in cash. By mid-week have your mental ducks up. Don't allow local clown to get you all out of joint. Before last day, communications-media-play-key-note-in attitude you assume toward neighbors.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Your shell of understanding is broken wide open this week. Scorpions are highlighted in week ahead, dear Sai. You fly on the wings of joy. The warm May breezes carry you to uncharted shores.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Togetherness is highlighted in week ahead, dear Sai. You fly on the wings of joy. The warm May breezes carry you to uncharted shores.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Cupid beckons, Cap. If you follow him, remember that though his way is beautiful, it is often hard and steep. Keep your mountain climbing gear handy.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Ritzzy newsmag, may call and extend invitation. Have your best threads ready, just in case. Before last day, offer is made. Move with alacrity in making decision. Worry about tomorrow... Tomorrow.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): May is the maddest, merriest month of the year, Pisces, and before week is over you hear from one whom you have been thinking of recently. You are sustained by events which follow. Tra la, tra la.

Fiddler on Roof Already Sell-Out At Paper Mill

The Paper Mill Box Office has already hung the "sold out" sign for performances on May 10, May 20 at 5 o'clock, May 28 and June 4. The musical, which has broken all records on Broadway, promises to be a hit in Millburn also.

Jerry Jarrett, a "singing actor" turned Newark businessman and returned to Broadway as "Tevye" in Fiddler, will be rehearsing for the Paper Mill production at the same time he is nightly playing on Broadway.

Jarrett has done extensive research into the world of Sholem Aleichem and brings a dimension to the part that others do not have. The stories, which were made into the musical which has played 'round the world, have "a universal appeal," said he. Dolores Wilson will be costarred with Jarrett at Paper Mill.

Off-Broadway Plays Continue At Actors' Cafe

The Actors Cafe Theatre, South Munn and Central Avenues, East Orange, is continuing a five week run of two long-running off-broadway plays, "Adaptation" by Elaine May and "Next" by Terrance McNally. Curtain time will be at 8:30 P.M. every Thursday, Friday, and Saturday night through May 20.

The cast of "Adaptation" includes Jo Anne Lonow, Geoffrey Main, Robert Steiger, and Paul Nadas, and is directed by Richard Becker. The cast of "Next" has Lois Kampf and Oscar Stokes, and is directed by Barbara Kennedy.

SCRIPT SESSION — Reviewing lines for "The Pajama Game" being presented by Roche Chorus Players May 19 and 20 at Nutley High School are (l-r), front, Diane Medvecky and Mary Ann Rembish; rear, Dick Scheibner of Nutley, Oksana Krochak and John Round. Proceeds of the show, the Players' first major musical production, will be donated to the North Essex Child Guidance Clinic.

Roche Players Ready 'Pajama Game' Benefit

The Roche Chorus Players, sponsored by Hoffmann-La Roche, will present their first major musical production, "The Pajama Game," at the Nutley Senior High School auditorium, Friday and Saturday, May 19 and 20, at 8:30 p.m. Open to the public, the entire proceeds will be donated to the North Essex Child Guidance Clinic.

The Clinic, a voluntary, non-profit organization, provides out-patient study and treatment of emotionally disturbed and behavior-problem children under age eighteen whose parents and families reside in Belleville, Bloomfield or Nutley. Located on the grounds of the Essex County Geriatric Center in Belleville, it also offers consultation and education service to school personnel, public health nurses and other adults who work with children.

The Roche Chorus Players, for their first venture into musical comedy, have assembled a cast of talented people from all areas of the Nutley-based company—accountants, chemical operators, laboratory technicians, secretaries, typists and other plant workers. To stage and direct their show they have selected Jerome I. Goldstein, one-time musical director for Buddy Hackett, known locally for his successes with St. Mary's Theatre Guild, Nutley. Merel Poloway, who performed on Broadway in "A Fly" and "Hillya Darling," created and staged dances for "Can-Can" and "Guys & Dolls" in summer stock, is choreographer.

Book for "The Pajama Game," a show based on the novel "My Cents," by Richard Bissell, was written by George Abbott and Bissell, words and music by Richard Adler and Jerry Ross. Tickets for the two benefit performances are available in Belleville at the Boston Store, 538 Washington Avenue, and at the Belleville Rosery Florists, 304 Washington Avenue, in Bloomfield.

Greek Film Being Shown This Evening

"Impressions of Greece" will be the second to the last film to be shown on Unity's Travel Course. This color travelogue, narrated in person by its producer, Philip Walker, may be seen tonight at 8:15 in the Montclair High School Auditorium.

The popularity of Greece on travel agenda's prompted the inclusion of this beautiful and unusual country on the Travel series. It is an excellent opportunity to plan your up-coming trip or live in the memories of a past visit. Walker uses the antiquities and historic sites as a background as he acquaints you with the modern and village life of Greece today. Not to be missed are the trips to the famous Greek Islands: Crete, Rhodes, Mykonos, Delos and Hydra.

Girl Scout Council Gets Two Week Canoe Trip

The Girl Scout Council of Greater Essex County will co-sponsor, with the Frost Valley YMCA, a two week canoe trip July 13 to July 26 through the Fulton chain of lakes in the Adirondack Mountains.

ON MOVIE SET — Joe Egger, (left) formerly of Nutley, visits with Glen Ford during the filming of the last episode of CBS-TV's "Cade's Country." Mr. Egger left Nutley a year ago this month to become regional sales manager for Caroline Emmons Jewelry in Southern California. Egger visited the set at 20th Century Fox Studios where he had worked while studying at the University of Southern California.
