

North Caldwell Teen Named Queen In Jr. Miss Pageant held at BHS

JUDGES CONFER before choosing the winner in the Essex Jr. Miss contest held at Belleville High School last week. Judges (l-r) Carlette Winslow, Jane Ruocco, Kae Payne, Marie Blasi and Donald Vaillan-

Miss Lucia Sadlier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sadlier of North Caldwell, was crowned 1973 Essex County Junior Miss during the Pageant held Sunday at Belleville Senior High School, sponsored by the Nutley Jaycees. All four of the entrants from Belleville failed to place in the contest.

Lucia is a senior at Mt. St. Dominic Academy, Caldwell. Born in Bogota, Columbia, S.A., she is 57, has brown hair and brown eyes. Her "talent" was a dramatic rendition of Euripides' The Trojan Women. Lucia's favorite subject is French and she intends to major in language and linguistics at Boston College, Chestnut Hill, Mass.

She carries a heavy extracurricular schedule, including editor, academic section of the yearbook; member of the drama club; drama yearbook editor; freshman and sophomore years, for which she received honors. She won 2nd honors for scholastic achievement as a freshman and sophomore and first honors in scholastic achievement as a junior.

Among her hobbies are handwork, crafts, forensics and reading. Lucia chose a career in language, because "I believe that in this field there is ample opportunity to work at a diverse job, better myself as a person and hopefully bridge the communication gaps in language barriers among nations."

Barbara Pignatore, Nutley High School, was first runner-up and Donna Alagna received the "most talented" trophy and was second runner-up in the three-hour pageant. The Sheldon Nagrod Memorial Award was presented to Lynne Jacobson, Verona High School, as the "most congenial".

An ordinance to bolster the police force by adding three extra brass comes up for a public hearing and final vote when the Commission convenes Tuesday, 8:30 p.m., at Town Hall. Robert Laterza, director of Public Safety, is urging passage of the measure "to give the public that extra measure of protection."

The Laterza-sponsored bill, which passed unanimously on first reading a week ago, calls for the appointment of one more deputy chief and two more captains to the Police Department. Should the proposal become law it would boost the department's executive force from two deputy chiefs to three and from three captains to five. Laterza would have the power to make the appointments. The public safety director has indicated he would fill all three positions from the ranks of the current force.

Laterza's main target seems to be an expansion of the superior officers on the force. As of now, there are times during evening hours, holidays or weekends when there is no superior officer on duty and the entire force must be commanded by a lieutenant or lower grade officer.

"It is important that the police force have a superior officer on duty seven days a week, 24 hours a day," remarked Laterza.

"We in Belleville are in the middle of a metropolitan situation and we can be very vulnerable without the proper protection. We are crossed by highways from Paterson and Passaic to Newark and from Jersey City to Newark and it's just a short car ride from any of these points to Belleville. We must provide that extra measure of protection."

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

I sometimes wonder if someone is "paying-off" the "linotype operator" to sabotage my column copy.

The omissions, changed words, dropped lines and general mutilation keeps chasing me back to my carbon copy to convince myself that there are others, like myself, who also are capable of making glaring "Boo-Boos".

This is not intended as criticism, especially, since I'm surely not the best typist and do make many errors, however, perhaps if we both try a little harder things may improve. Gee! I sure hope so.

In previous copy submitted, but "cut" because of increased ads which required space I had cited the proposed Senior Citizens legislation, referred to as the "Senior Bill of Rights" which called for:

* Reduced Gas, electric and telephone rates by 50% for those over 65.

* Freeze property taxes for a senior homeowner or tenant at the level they are in 1973, or when a resident becomes 65, whichever is later.

* Permit the same property tax deduction or rebate to senior citizens who rent as that given senior citizen homeowners ($180 a year).

* Reduce fares for senior citizens on buses, rapid transit and passenger railroads within the state 50% between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily—and provide for reimbursement to the companies from the State Department of Transportation.

Belleville has a very active Senior Citizens group which is most busy in "pushing" for such legislation. They also share many enjoyable social activities, including a planned visit to Radio City Music Hall and a Xmas luncheon at the Fountain Restaurant on Dec. 14th.

Any interested, eligible senior citizens should contact Mrs. Sally Hood at 759-0274. She is the very active secretary of this group, dividing her time with her other role as "watchdog" over our town commissioners at Town Hall meetings, where she keeps them on their toes.

School No. 10 May Get Help

Hopefully, the electrical problem at School No. 10 will be rectified within the near future and if the Board of Education receives the okay, maybe during the Christmas vacation.

That optimistic opinion was rendered by School Board president Richard Mahmarian earlier this week, before an electrical survey of School No. 10 was due to be completed sometime today or tomorrow.

Parents of School No. 10 pupils have been complaining for years that electrical equipment in the building, namely the main fuse panel box, is inadequate; thus creating a danger and possibly a fire hazard. At a recent Board of Education meeting Roy Tice, president of the Home and School Association at School 10, claimed that an "emergency situation" exists at the school and revealed that "at times janitors must keep a window open near the panel box to keep it cool."

In return, promised that action on the box would be taken and School Board president Mahmarian told Tice a complete electrical survey of the Belleville System was being taken by an area firm and School 10 would be the first matter of business when that survey was initiated. Bickford and Spaeth of Elizabeth, electrical consultants, were slated to initiate their survey Monday with School 10 as the top priority. The results of the survey on that school is due

Enter Christmas Display Contest

Belleville residents who decorate their homes for Christmas may receive handsome prizes from the Recreation Department as Commissioner Michael V. Marotti announced the Home Christmas Display Contest for 1972.

Members of the Woman's Club of Belleville, E.M.D. will do the judging during the holiday season, trying to view every house in Belleville. Five homes will be chosen as winners and will earn handsome prizes.

Over the years, the judges have been inclined to choose displays because of their artistic beauty, originality and good taste rather than because they were elaborate.

School Board May Submit Bond Issue

Board of Education president Richard Mahmarian revealed this week that elaborate plans to modernize the Belleville School System and possibly present a bond issue to voters in a special election are upwards of 80 per cent towards finalization.

According to Mahmarian, architect Michael Trotta of Belleville has already taken a comprehensive survey of the physical requirements of schools here and he is now in the midst of drawing up detailed plans to submit to the School Board.

"Hopefully, we can inform the public of our plans by way of some type of public hearing near the end of February. Most likely, we will submit a bond issue but it must be remembered that he just introduced the ideas. It's up to the voters to okay them."

SPECIAL AWARD of a football autographed by the entire Bellboy varsity squad was presented by coach Rocky Cafone to Commissioner Michael Marotti at last Saturday's Varsity Club fete. Marotti was lauded for his care of the football field.

Children of Belleville who wish to write to Santa Claus may do so by dropping their letters in the special bright red mail boxes set up by the Recreation Department.

There is one Santa's Mail Box at the Town Hall on Washington Avenue, and another at the Silver Lake Fire House on Franklin Street. Santa has made arrangements for the Recreation Department to handle his mail in Belleville and each letter will be answered.

Essex County Junior Miss Pageant, Entertainment was by Evans and Hulme, accordionists. Miss Shirley Evans hails from England. Donald Hulme, accordion virtuoso, from Belleville. Charles Green, WNJR was MC and entertainment was also provided by pianist Nick Castellano of Newark.

Judges were: Carlette Winslow, publisher and editor of "Suburban New Jersey Life"; Donald Vaillancourt, assistant director of public relations for the Grand Union Company; Kae Thompson Payne, director of the Thompson Dance Studio in Newark; Marie Blasi, chairman Essex County Cultural and Heritage Commission and Jane Ruocco, fashion editor of the Telegram.

During the tense last moments of the show, each contestant was asked a question, Lucia's question - "What do you think of the Women's Lib Movement?" Her answer: "As in all movements, the women's lib movement has both its good points and its bad points: One of its good points is that a woman would be able to find a job if she needs one, without any discrimination because of her sex. A bad point would be that the woman would be drawn away from the home. A woman's most important role in life is to be a good wife and a good mother."

should the ordinance be okayed by the Commission he would not make the appointments for at least a month, which would follow the customary procedure. The three additional appointments would bring the total of the force to 83 members and, of course, that then would create three vacancies at the lower level.

Besides creating "that extra measure of protection," according to Laterza, the staff changes would also make a ranking officer in the detective bureau during evening hours. Also, Laterza would like to see a superior used as a traffic survey officer and would like to have an officer in charge of the police training program.

Laterza doesn't see any opposition on the Board of Commissioners to his proposal and he is hoping the measure will pass without a hitch Tuesday.

will take action to appropriate emergency funds and have the problem corrected during Christmas vacation. The board, however, seemed unimpressed with the School Board's promises and last Thursday appeared before the Board of Commissioners, where he explained the School 10 problem to Mayor Joseph McGreevy and his colleagues. McGreevy promised that he would "make a call tomorrow morning" but Maharian this week denied that the Mayor had contacted him.

"To my knowledge the electrical box at School 10 doesn't need immediate attention but if the situation has changed we will gladly have the proper work done on it," concluded the Board of Education president.

Maiorano was arrested on the evening of October 25 by Patrolman Richard Gough after Gough investigated a report of gunfire in the Silver Lake section of town. Police found no gun at the scene.

Essex GOP Leadership

From the moment the November 7 county election results were in and the indication was present that county Republican candidates were going to lose there was an outcry from various people asking Republican County Chairman George Wallhauser to step down.

The blame for the defeat of the county Republican ticket was placed at the footstep of George Wallhauser and the Essex County Republican County Committee.

Republicans lost control of the county supervisor's post and failed to elect freholder candidates to three seats formerly held by Republicans.

President Nixon carried Essex County by less than 10,000 votes - and this is not a remarkable achievement in view of Nixon's landslide win in many counties of the state as well as the national level.

Some Republicans refuse to accept the fact that Essex County is a normal Democrat county. Some knowledgeable Republicans refuse to concede that control of the county court house gives the Democrat county organization a base from which to operate and deprives the Essex Republican County Committee of the tremendous patronage clout reflected in such control.

George Wallhauser has been Essex County Republican Chairman for three years. During his tenure many Essex Republicans received well paying jobs at the state and county levels. A number of these people has been disloyal to Mr. Wallhauser and quite a few failed to lift a finger to help the Republican ticket this November.

There is a rebuilding job to be done within the Republican Party in Essex County. Such a task does not necessarily begin with chopping off the leader's head. What needs to be done is to induce the lazy, disloyal, patronage jobholders to have more respect for the hand that fed them. These people should stop bad-mouthing a leader like George Wallhauser whose personal integrity is above reproach.

Under the most difficult circumstances Mr. Wallhauser has attempted to do the impossible - unifying a party which has more leaders than followers.

Next year we face a crucial gubernatorial election. To be ready for the job - an enormous burden - it is necessary that Republicans of all stripes stop calling names and unite behind the leadership we have. There is nothing wrong with the Republican county leadership which cannot be resolved. All the leadership needs is the cooperation and support of those among us who would replace it.

Your Community Needs You

After a slow start the Belleville Historical Society has picked up speed and support in an amazing fashion. There are now 197 charter members.

On Friday evening, December 15, the Society will stage its first town-wide public affair when a "Night of Nostalgia" will be held at Belleville High School where movies taken of many facets of the town thirty to forty-five years ago will be shown.

The Society has raised half of the necessary funds for the acquisition of these priceless films (we know of no other town in the state - and perhaps the nation - that can boast of such a complete record of town life and organizations of so many years ago.) They expect to raise the balance at this showing.

The Belleville Historical Society deserves every encouragement, for it goes without saying that an organization of this calibre is an asset of incalculable value to the town. We urge your support, either by your attendance or a donation to the acquisition fund.

Puerto Rico

In the recent Puerto Rican election forces in favor of commonwealth status happily surprised pollsters and the local government by winning a smashing victory. Rafael Hernandez won the governorship, ousting Governor Luis Ferre, and Hernandez's party won control of both houses of the legislature.

The encouraging feature of the victory is that Hernandez believes in commonwealth status for Puerto Rico, not statehood, which has been espoused by Ferre.

Belleville's new high school came a step closer to realization when the School Board received seven bids for construction of the proposed facility. The lowest bid exceeded the $2,120,000 estimate by some $540,000. The 26 per cent increase was blamed on the disagreement between Board members and the possibility of work stoppage brought about by such unsettled conditions.

FAITHFUL FIVE HUNDRED."

It asks, Wouldn't you like to see movies of the last trolley on Washington Ave? Rutan Estates when it was Pleng Farm? Belleville from the air? Such notables as Frank Carragher, Sam Kenworthy, Police Chief Flynn, Fire Chief Hirdes and their men. (One Belleville woman was thrilled to see her late father, a mailman, whose picture had been taken, unbeknownst to her).

The society is acquiring over ten reels of film taken in Belleville thirty to forty-five years ago. Half of the required price of $1,000 has been raised and the Society is now calling on the members and townspeople to make up the difference to close the transaction.

On Friday evening, December 15th, at the Belleville High School Auditorium, a showing of these films will be presented. Tickets are only $1.00. The Society hopes that the sale of, at least, 500 of these tickets will "put them over the top" in their drive to acquire these films.

All faithful old-timer Bellevillians are urged to participate in this worthy drive to give our Belleville Historical Society a big "lift" under the capable guidance of Allan Crisp, who is President and Norman Thompson, who is Treasurer.

Postscript: Handwritten note from "Silent" Eddie O'Neil, that great first-sacker of the thirties, in which he writes, "going to show some films of the Belleville Twilight League. Hope you can make it."

I sure hope so Ed. In fact, it would be just great if we old timers packed that auditorium for old times sake and rekindling of memories.

As always, it seems, anytime any disciplinary action is meted out to law enforcement personnel, the entire matter is shrouded in secrecy and "hush-hush" appears to be the order of the day. Such secrecy breeds outrage and distrust in the minds of the people who are paying the cost of governmental administration and they are entitled to know the facts pertaining to any such punitive penalties inflicted by the administrative directors upon erring members of their department. This is public information and should not be hidden under subterfuge guises of not easy to detect reprisals for breaches of departmental regulations.

It has been like "pulling teeth" that I've only, at this late date, been able to ascertain that two of Belleville's finest, well off-duty, after attending an outdoor outing for one of this area's more prominent politicians, ventured into a local pub and proceeded to get into a real dooneybrook that occasioned the need to call the local police to "break-up" the battle.

The big brother of one of the butlers wanted no part of it and did his best to minimize the incident, much to his credit. It's strange how two buddies can get so "worked up" foolishly after such a convivial outing.

Anyway, as always, it seems in Belleville, tongues wagged, and the Director got word of the unfortunate incident and assessed both participants three days' leave of absence.

Under present Belleville record making, this fact might never have been noticed unless some investigative reporting ferreted out the attendant circumstances. Who were the parties involved? Ask the Public Safety Director or the Police Chief. Let them tell you.

Fragging

The nation's news media wholly has gulped the misnomer "fraggings." There's no proper meaning or usage for fragging—a juvenile slang term for assault and murder. But the press and television going for the sensational, parrot the silly term.

When a soldier throws a hand grenade into his officer's room or tent, and the officer or he and others are killed, it's murder and no mumbo-jumbo language is appropriate in news dispatches of the tragedy or resulting trial.

A Big Step Forward For Haiti As A Nation

I AM PLEASED to congratulate Dr. Roger Lafontant, Haiti's 37 year old, New York based, Consul General, recently promoted to Minister of Interior and National Defense. Dr. Lafontant enjoyed great popularity in New York and is one of the reasons why greater interest in Haiti is manifested by the American public and investors.

Dr. Lafontant enjoys the confidence of Haitian President Jean Claude Duvalier, who is very discreet and enjoys an international reputation for his personal integrity. A compassionate young man, Dr. Lafontant is a medical doctor and places great emphasis on cultural activities in his native country.

Dr. Lafontant's promotion to what probably is the most important post in Haiti, next to the Presidency, augurs well for Haiti.

Dr. Lafontant is identified in Washington political circles as a devotee of democratic government. This image should help open the doors and hearts of America to Haiti. Dr. Lafontant's appointment should remove any lingering doubts Americans may have over the progress Haiti has made from the old dictatorship of the late Papa Doc Duvalier and the current rule of Papa Doc's son, Jean Claude Duvalier, who, in a short year and a half, has replaced dictatorship with democracy. I was in Haiti in July and didn't see a single soldier or one firearm. All I observed during my stay in Haiti was sunshine, nice people, first-rate hotels and good beaches—and incidentally—the price was right.

WELL THERE IS A NEW MEMBER of the Orechio household today, her name is Ju-Dee and she is four months old. Ju-Dee is a miniature schnauzer and was purchased from Jean B. Little's "Joybrook" Schnauzer Breeding Kennels in Plantation, Florida, one of Fort Lauderdale's outskirts. Ju-Dee takes the place of Susie, our seven-year-old dachshund who died September 12 from a crippling paralysis which saw her expire in two weeks. As sad as Susie's demise was, is the happiness that accompanies the possession of Ju-Dee. Ju-Dee joins our six year old schnauzer, Toni, who Sunday afternoon greeted me with a long question mark. Forty eight hours later Toni seemed to like the idea and so from Edith, Toni and Ju-Dee and the undersigned a Merry Christmas to all, and if some of our friends happen not to read this column, they will not be tuned in on our Merry Christmas and Happy New Year for it will be the second successive year that we will not be mailing Christmas and New Year greeting cards.

SOCIAL AND CLUB NEWS OF COMMUNITY INTEREST

You And Your Pet Exercise Your Animals

By Raymond Minor, D.V.M.

Exercise ranks second—behind food—in a list of items crucial to the well-being of your dog or cat. And the task of giving your pet enough activity has become more difficult in our urbanized society.

In a typical old-fashioned home, with a cellar and an attic, a cat experienced a good bit of exercise simply by running up and down stairs, checking every nook and cranny.

But there aren't too many lofts or crannies (or stairs) in an apartment or modern ranch house.

Outside exercise has also become more difficult to obtain "naturally." In many communities, dogs are forbidden by law from roaming free in public places. The same laws don't normally apply to cats, but threats of injury or theft make many cat owners follow the same policy that dog owners are forced to adhere to.

One solution to the problem of sufficient exercise, for both dogs and cats, is the leash. Yes, cats trained at an early age enjoy a walk around the block on a leash.

Where time or other factors prevent leash exercising of a cat, an outdoor cage can prove useful.

Cages can be purchased commercially. Or, if you are handy, you can build one yourself with old window screens. Ordinary window screening should be replaced with two-inch mesh chicken wire to prevent the cat from catching his claws.

The larger the cage, the more exercise for your cat. And when the weather is good, the cage can be profitably left outside for an hour or two in his cage.

For dog owners, the task is a bit more arduous. Dogs should be walked twice each day. And they should be taken as far as they can go without seeming tired.

If you are uncertain about the distance your dog can walk, start with a short jaunt and gradually increase the distance each day. If you have any doubts, consult your local veterinarian.

In addition to their twice-a-day walks, a dog should be exercised and played with regularly in his yard. If possible, he can be taken for a romp in the woods or a field.

Do not feed your pet immediately before or after exercise. If it is very hot, try to exercise in the early morning or evening. Dogs in particular find the going tough on icy pavements.

If your pet gets caught in the rain, dry him off when you return home. Be sure to check his feet for thorns, cuts or abrasions and his coat for burrs or ticks.

And one more note of caution: the danger of poisoning is a very real one, particularly for pets left to wander alone outdoors.

Poisoning is often the result of eating something left to kill rodents, or eating the rodent which has already eaten the poison. If you also come from eating grass or plants that have been sprayed for insects.

The important rule in treating a poisoned pet is speed: Give your pet an emetic to make it vomit, then rush it to your veterinarian.

Some effective emetics are: two or three tablespoons of salt water and a teaspoonful of peroxide diluted with an equal quantity of warm water.

DR. MINOR REGRETS THAT HE IS UNABLE TO PERSONALLY ANSWER LETTERS FROM PET OWNERS. HE RECOMMENDS THAT READERS CONSULT THEIR OWN VETERINARIANS WHEN THEIR PETS HAVE PROBLEMS.

Christmas Trees Will Last Longer If They're Fresh

Mountains of pine and spruce trees tied in bundles are arriving, waiting to be sold for Christmas. Many of these trees were cut weeks ago and shipped long distances.

If you live in an area where you can get your Christmas tree from a local grower, you can be assured of a fresh tree by going to the farm and cutting it yourself or having it cut when you call for it.

In either case, what you do with the tree after you get it home will determine its appearance and safety when you set it up indoors.

William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County, has some tips on how to maintain good color, reduce needle drop, and keep the tree moist and more resistant to fire.

*When you bring your tree home from the market place in a bucket of water outdoors or in a cool place until you are ready to decorate it. Exposure to snow or rain won't hurt it but heat will dry it out and cause the needles to drop early.

*When you're ready to bring it indoors, make a fresh cut across the trunk about an inch above the original one. The tree will absorb more water.

*Place the tree in a container or tree holder filled with water. Never place the tree near a fireplace.

Keep the tree surface covered with water at all times. A tree in a warm room may use a pint of water a day.

Christmas Trees Will Last Longer If They're Fresh

Mountains of pine and spruce trees tied in bundles are arriving, waiting to be sold for Christmas. Many of these trees were cut weeks ago and shipped long distances.

If you live in an area where you can get your Christmas tree from a local grower, you can be assured of a fresh tree by going to the farm and cutting it yourself or having it cut when you call for it.

In either case, what you do with the tree after you get it home will determine its appearance and safety when you set it up indoors.

William F. Munk, senior county agricultural agent of Essex County, has some tips on how to maintain good color, reduce needle drop, and keep the tree moist and more resistant to fire.

*When you bring your tree home from the market place in a bucket of water outdoors or in a cool place until you are ready to decorate it. Exposure to snow or rain won't hurt it but heat will dry it out and cause the needles to drop early.

*When you're ready to bring it indoors, make a fresh cut across the trunk about an inch above the original one. The tree will absorb more water.

*Place the tree in a container or tree holder filled with water. Never place the tree near a fireplace.

Keep the tree surface covered with water at all times. A tree in a warm room may use a pint of water a day.

Hair Stylist For Men Opens Shop In Nutley

There's a new business in Nutley whose proprietor is well qualified to follow his profession.

Michael Vee, known professionally as Michael Vee, has opened his hair styling emporium at 74 Franklin Avenue and the barber shop's services are available to area men.

Michael Vee has been a hairstylist since 1946, has entered numerous competitions at the National Hair-Styling shows at the Statler Hilton Hotel in New York City and won numerous trophies (32 plus many plaques) and was elected 1964 "Barber Of The Year." He has performed platform demonstrations in hair styling throughout the United States and Canada and was the only hair stylist to perform at the New York World's Fair representing New Jersey in the state's pavilion.

The only certified authorized stylist in the state approved by the Federal Government, he has been appointed On the Job Training director and demonstrator, instructing the barbers in the art of hair styling, dyeing and the different phases of hair pieces. He received the Governor's Trophy from former Governor Richard Hughes for his World Fair appearances and his OJT affiliation.

Mr. Vee, an instructor in advanced hair styling at the Atlas Barber School, New York, for the past six years, has appeared on "To Tell The Truth," demonstrated a Clairor commercial, conferred with the press, styled Marty Allen's hair and was interviewed by actress Helen Hayes and authoress Anita Loos who are writing a book about New York and its times in which a chapter deals with the field of barbering and its advances.

Juniors Represented At District Conference

On October 11, seven members of the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville attended the Eighth District Fall Conference of the New Jersey State Federation of Woman's Clubs, Junior Membership Department.

The Conference was hosted by the Arlington Juniors at their Woman's Club in Arlington. Mrs. Harold Marrara, Eighth District Advisor, called the conference to order. Special guests were Miss Jean Porte, Jr. Chairman, and Mrs. James M. Moore, Northern Vice-Chairman. Miss Porte discussed how one can use her talents in service work, and Mrs. Moore informed everyone about the value of the District.

Begonias Brighten Your Winter Home

If you want to add some color to your home during the coming winter, begonias are the answer. There are many varieties to choose such as the Wax Begonia, Angelwing, Beesfeast, and Rex. The advantage of selecting begonias as houseplants is the minimum amount of care they require. Begonias will take hot, dry conditions and will bloom all winter if you keep them in a sunny window, or in a brightly lit northern window.

RUBBER DUCKIE makes a big splash with the girls — and with the audience. The interlude occurred in what was referred to as a "Youth Fitness Competition," but it was more like a song and dance by the contestants to entertain the spectators.

WAITING IN THE WINGS — Before their grand entrance, the girls waited in the hallways of Belleville High School, where the pageant was staged. Facing the camera is Belleville's Kathleen Janiec.

North Caldwell Girl Wins Junior Miss Title

PUBLIC SPEAKING is the forte of winner Lucia Sadlier, and she showed her ability during the talent competition when she gave her interpretation of a scene from Euripedes "Trojan Women."

THE ORGANIZERS — Behind the scenes of the pageant were the Jaycees, who have sponsored the affair for several years until it has become an Essex County tradition.

MUSIC AND COMEDY was provided by Evans (l) and Hule (r) who filled in the long moments while the judges deliberated.

TWO WINNERS — Nutley's Ellen Nemesnyik (left) smiles after crowning the 1973 Essex County Junior Miss, Lucia Sadlier, a North Caldwell senior who attends Mount Saint Dominic Academy. Like Ellen, Lucia is an accomplished public speaker and impressed the judges with her poise and dignity.

A COMPLICATED MANEUVER is executed by Judy Partington of Memorial High School during the talent competition.

MISS CONGENIALITY — Lynne Jacobsen flashes the winning smile that captured the prize for the Verona lass.

"SUNNY?" — Barbara Pignatore of Nutley selected that song for musical accompaniment during the talent competition. Barbara was first runner-up to Lucia Sadlier.

ON STAGE — Some of the contestants for Essex County Junior Miss, shown here, (l-r) are Arlene Moore of Montclair, Jean Nieuzytek of Irvington, Judy Partington of Memorial High School, Nutley's Barbara Pignatore, Debra Pronel of Bloomfield, Karen Ross of Immaculate Conception High School and Lucia Sadlier of North Caldwell.

THE PANEL — Judges for the Junior Miss Pageant were (l-r) Karlette Winslow, publisher and editor of Suburban New Jersey Life, Jane Ruocco, fashion editor for the Belleville Telegram, Kay Thompson Payne, director of the Thompson Dance Studio in Newark, Mazie Blasi, chairman of the Essex County Cultural and Heritage Commission and Donald Vaillancourt, a distinguished journalist and assistant director of public relations for Grand Union.

Crowd Of 500 Attends Card-Fashion Affair

Fete Held At Sr. High

On Wednesday, Nov. 29, the Home and School Association of Belleville Senior High held a card party/fashion show. It was the first such event in a number of years and a record crowd of some 500 plus turned out to play cards and view the parade of fashions from the CP Center, narrated by Mrs. Vernick, director.

Loretta DeSantis was the chairlady and she gave thanks to her workers - president of the HSA, Mrs. Grace Purdue, the ticket committee - Mrs. Lucille Gasiewicz, Mrs. Viola Narucki and George Nucera, Sweepstakes - Mrs. Mary Lembo, Mrs. Ann Sylvestro, Mrs. Audrey Taskolos, Mrs. Joan Sheridan, Mrs. Connie Solamone, Mrs. Dolores Centanni, Mrs. Lois Servidio, Mrs. Andre Morel and Mrs. Betty Fabian. Smith was on hand to say a few words and a special guest appearance was made by Santa's helper - Mrs. Helen Oertel, courtesy of The Women's Club of Belleville, Evening Membership Department. The gymnasium was lavishly decorated in a holiday motif, courtesy of Morton Birkin and his art class students.

Browsing In Belleville With Pat Diana...

I USUALLY TRY to start this column off with a very interesting item...now hear this! The Belleville Historical Society has its first large-scale public affair planned for December 15. The event, "Night of Nostalgia" will be held at Belleville High School and will feature movies taken of many familiar areas of interest in town, dating back some forty-five years. Some very interesting "oldtimers" will appear in the "film festival of oldtime Belleville." Scenes will show the Plenge Farm (now Rutan Estates), trolley cars, etc. Sounds like a most entertaining evening, tickets only $1 and may be purchased at the Library, Rosary Florists, Town Hall (via Dave Connolly) Bertha's Tavern, Boston Store, Laterza's Drug Store, McGreevy's Tavern, Yudin's Paint Store and McNally's Tavern, to name a few...The Society has raised half the necessary funds to purchase these priceless films (what other town in the state, or even nation, could boast of such a complete record of town life?)...the $1 ticket will help add to the purchase...if you can't attend, maybe you could make a donation...heard that one woman who saw the film, was thrilled to see her late father making his rounds as a mailman.

Congratulations to Ted DeGrossa of Bremont St. He will be 17 on Dec. 9 and is quite young to rack up an achievement of attaining his Black Belt in Karate...but he did, on Nov. 20. Ted belongs to the N.B. Jitsu Club, 234 Washington Ave. and the Club (who are nominated for "a future business spotlight") Dec. 2 at Parillo's. Understand Ted also instructs on this art of self defense...mom and dad quite proud, natch.

Have you seen the November issue of "Focus"? That's the informative brochure put out by the Belleville Public Library, under the direction of Harry Maghione, adult services librarian. This one is about "How to do..." you name it, they'll tell you how to do anything, from "The Art of Macramé"...to (would you believe?) "How to find and fascinate a mistress"...wow!

This Saturday, Dec. 9, enjoy Christmas 1972 with the Metropolitan Organ Club members who will hold a carol-sing and Christmas presentation at the Second Reformed Church of Little Falls. Time is 8:30, hostess: Laura Simonsen. December birthdays include Janice DiQuattro - 12th, and Edna Schulz, 28th, (believe both are from town)...have a happy. Welcome to new members Helen Capizzano and Bessie Tiron. If you want to attend the Dec. 9 Christmas program, contact Connie Simone for details 759-4782.

THE KIWANIS CLUB of Branch Brook Belleville will hold a Christmas party at Parillo's on Dec. 19. January 20 will be Past President's banquet, honoring Sig Swiderski.

The Kiwanis Club of Belleville members will hold a Christmas party ladies night Dec. 21, plans underway for Candle Light bowling Jan. 20, they are also holding a kids Christmas party Dec. 16.

WINTER WONDERLAND

As a mother of a high-schooler, publicity officer for the high school Home and School Association, and, as a reporter, traveled to the Card Party/Fashion Show held Nov. 29 at the Sr. High. There were about 500 people present, a very good turnout. President Grace Purdue and chairman of the event, Loretta DeSantis, thanked one and all. Upon entering the gym, which was decorated in a holiday motif, Santa Claus gave each woman a little gift. Santa's "helper" was Mrs. Helen Oertel, and she appeared courtesy of The Woman's Club of Belleville, Evening

Membership Department. (You all know, of course, you can get kids pins taken with Santa at the mobile stationed outside Town Hall. Proceeds will be used to purchase a kidney machine, I believe).

Saw many people enjoying the evening, including: Raymond Smith, principal, John Westlake, vice principal, Herman Knuppel, Sy Grossman and Pat Barbone, to name a few. Lois Servidio paused for a pic with friends - Lillian DeAngelis, Eileen Boehmer, Francis Oldak, Betty Smocovic, Phyllis Servidio and...a young man I finally met...Steve Rogers! (more about him later). Was happy to see Antonette Viscaro out, she fell just before Thanksgiving. Her daughter, Paula and Eva Costanza completed the table. Jo Izzo was on hand with Helen Tsouhnikas, Stella Belli, Angie Linfante, Jennie Silvestri. Wandering around, also saw Dot Sutton, Angie Rosania, Mary Immarato, Adelaide Fisher, Mrs. Cor. Vanderwan and chatted with three of the teacher/models - Carol Ayres (Math), Judith Knight (home economics) and Mary Jeanne Crowley (French).

ALSO MET Sue Tufariello and Tony Donadia...he is the finance manager for Steve Rogers. Steve, as you all know, is a candidate for the Board of Education. Spent quite an illuminating time with him, learning his views, etc. I feel he is quite sincere in his efforts and the challenge is to the voters. Being a young man, he could probably relate more readily to the problems confronting our youth today. At the same time, he has an unbiased and fresh outlook, which would certainly be refreshing on the BOE.

Back to the party...I met a delightful gal, Mrs. Grace Worley, Phys Ed teacher at the school. In addition to being quite helpful in identifying the models, Mrs. Worley manages the girls who participate in boys wrestling. Hmmmm...should I rephrase that? Sr. girls act as scorekeepers, work clocks, keep team scores during district meets and act as runners, when the boys wrestle in competition. They spend numerous hours, perfecting their skills, and they travel around just as the team does. They get involved in all areas, except in "action." As such, they should rate a varsity letter.

Right now, the gals are trying to raise funds so they can buy jackets and blouses to identify themselves. They are selling a variety of cookies, with different prices - all reasonable. How about helping them out by ordering some? (make great Christmas presents)...meet the gals - Donna Raimone, Jean Strutsky, Darlene Kerner, Karen Pica, Donna Pessini, Kim Raabe, Adele Tufariello. They are also selling those hats (think they're called goobolini's) that are so popular with kids today. To order, hats or cookies, here are a few numbers: Donna - 759-0661, Kim 759-3825 or Adele 759-1719. When kids work to help themselves, I like to give them support, don't you?

Teacher/Models, in addition to the above three names were Candice Boile, Jan Marin, Barbara Rossi, Ethel Williamson. Mrs. Vernick of the Cerebral Palsy Center in town, was the fashion coordinator. Mrs. Vernick drew a loud round of applause (especially from me) when she said she loved the "larger" size models...For information on fashions from the CP Center, call 751-0200. They also feature bags, jewelry, boots, etc. In short, everything for most every woman. It was a delightful evening and spied Matt Pica, Jim Rosili and Caesar Romano...

Saturday was more than hectic this week...I apologize to Miss Karen Fuccello, who was to be my "Sparkling Personality" this issue. I just got so carried away interviewing "Business Spotlite" (Umberto of Naples), that I missed seeing Karen. Do watch next issue. After doing laundry, grocery shopping, visiting mom, I took some tranquilizers and took both daughters clothes-shopping. We ended up in a delightful place in Nutley, "Ciccione Shoe Store," 277 Franklin Avenue, where they feature shoes for the entire family. The owners are very nice and helpful, and one of the Viccones, Joe, is a Social Studies teacher at the Jr. High.

VIEWED THE Essex County Jr. Miss Pageant on Sunday, all the gals did well and some were exceptionally talented. Lysette Coraggio of Bloomfield High did a ballet number then Charleston...very good...Joan Nieuzyet of Irvington had real natural rhythm as she danced. I was very impressed with Arlene Moore who attends Montclair High. Arlene, dressed in a long, brilliant red dress, exhibited a feline grace and prestigious poise in her interpretive dance.

I also noticed, when she ended in a bow to the floor, she held it, long after the curtain closed, like a real professional. Kathleen Janice of Belleville, a very popular miss, was first to exhibit her talent. She danced in the dark wearing a glowing orange skirt...really tremendous.

Those poor judges who had to come up with a few winners out of all those great girls. Lynn Jacobsen, Vernon High School, won the Sheldon Nagrod Memorial Trophy for "Miss Congeniality." Donna Alagna, West Orange Mountain High, won the "Most Talented" trophy and second runner-up. Barbara Pignatore, Nutley

High School, last to appear on the stage who performed a dance in blue-sequined bodysuit with plastic top and carrying an umbrella and wearing white boots, was first runner-up. Congratulations to the 1973 Essex County Jr. Miss - Lucille Sadler of Mt. St. Dominick Academy. As her talent she gave a dramatic monologue on Trojan women.

Most impressive was the team of Evans and Hulme. Donald Hulme, of course, is Belleville's tremendous performing artist and accordion virtuoso. It was the first time I've seen and heard him, and to say he was delightful is an understatement. His partner, Miss Shirley Evans of England, is not only talented, a good performer, and pretty...she displays an equal warmth and audience appeal.

THOSE NAMES I have missed, will try to list next week, for example, the great pianist. A young man whose name I didn't get, really entertained the audience during intermissions. The MC, Charles Green of WNJR, had everyone in his corner and kept the Pageant rolling smoothly. Again saw Steve Rogers and Tony Donadia.

The Nutley Jaycees have done it again...can't wait until next year.

The Belleville Italian American Civic Association Ladies Auxiliary held their Christmas dinner meeting Dec. 6 at Natoli's in Saddle Brook. The president, Mrs. "Clem" Christiano also celebrated her birthday...happy 39th!

So...what's new, pussycat? As we went to press, found out the pianist's name is Nick Castellano - of Newark.

A very happy birthday is wished to Josephine Marx of Nutley...should also send her a sympathy card, she's married to Mrs. (Triple-M-Mert)

American Legion Post 105 holding Children's Christmas Party Dec. 19.

Why only Adjust-a-Drape Drapery Cleaning can guarantee... Exact length Even hemlines...
There's a difference between drapery cleaners. And a difference between Adjust-a-Drape and all other drapery cleaners.
Adjust-a-Drape is more than just a cleaning. It's a blocking/shaping beauty treatment for your draperies.
Only Adjust-a-Drape can guarantee exact length and even hemlines. Here's how:
Our completely enclosed blocking cabinet gently relaxes fibers so blocking/shaping can be done to exact dimensions.
Blocking/shaping in vertical position. Rather than in horizontal position, eliminates sagging and blocks/shapes draperies in their normal hanging position.
Our computation system lines up seams and panels vertically, the same way drapes are hung, so all areas are square, free from distortion. Pre-measured length is automatically attained by programming into the machine.
Our unique holding device actually holds pleats securely at top and folds at bottom for perfectly uniform blocking/shaping.

Belleville Senior Citizens Schedule Christmas Party

The next regular weekly meeting of the Belleville Senior Citizens, Essex County Park Commission Groups, will be held today at 1 p.m. at their headquarters in the "pink" building in the Belleville Section of Branch Brook Park, Belleville Avenue.

Weekly meetings of the group are held every Thursday afternoon of each month. Five new members were welcomed into the group at last Thursday's meeting.

The chairman of the entertainment committee's trip to Radio City Music Hall Christmas show, reported that the 90 members attending the show on November 28 enjoyed the show immensely.

Reservations for the group's first annual Christmas party to be held at The Fountain in Belleville, were still being accepted, according to the treasurer, Anthony Paul. Paul suggested that those members who wish to attend the party must secure their tickets no later than the Seniors' next weekly meeting, December 7. The Christmas dinner is scheduled to start at 1 p.m. The Park Commission's bus will be available to those seniors in need of a ride to and from The Fountain that day.

The entertainment committee chairman reported that

Santa Claus will be at the party with his bag of gifts. Also scheduled to entertain the Belleville seniors at their party will be the children of the Belleville School system, who will sing Christmas carols under the leadership of Mr. Thomas Finetti. The Senior group's membership includes some very talented musicians, who will also be present at the party and have promised to perform.

Turnpike Gearing For Show

The New Jersey Turnpike is all set for the worst in snow and ice this winter.

Former Governor Alfred E. Driscoll, chairman of the New Jersey Turnpike Authority, said "our maintenance men are ready, our plows and heavy equipment have passed inspection and tons of rock salt are spotted at strategic locations along the roadway."

"Since the Turnpike is New Jersey's major north-south artery, we feel dutybound all year long to keep it open and functioning smoothly and safely."

Four contracts are in effect with outside firms who will be on ready alert through next April to help clear the mainline and extensions in the event of heavy snow.

"Each contractor has been assigned a specific stretch of roadway, and will be compensated on an hourly basis, only when responding to our call."

"Snow removal," Chairman Driscoll stated, "is only a fraction of the Turnpike's winter maintenance program. Icing conditions offer the greater threat and higher cost to the Authority."

"While 20 years of experience plus information provided several times a day by our two weather advisory services make it possible to prepare for snowfighting on short notice, the threat of icing exists every time we have light snow, rain or sleet."

"The Authority awarded contracts in September totaling nearly $390,000 for 28,500 tons of rock salt and 295 tons of calcium chloride to bring inventory up to authorized levels. Whatever is not used this year will be the foundation of next year's supply."

Gridders surmount challenge by Clark

By MIKE LAMBERTI

You would have thought that after their very emotional and highly contested battle with Seton Hall the previous week, the Belleville Buccaneers would have been in for a slight letdown in last Saturday's contest.

If you thought that, then you were absolutely right.

You would also have thought that the team the Bucs played last week, the Crusaders of Clark, would have been able to capitalize on the Bucs' letdown.

If you thought that then you were absolutely wrong.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Bucs hit the scoreboard first when Mike Nicosia scored a touchdown from quarterback Eddie Aulisi on his own 5-yard line and raced 95 yards for a score. Gabe DeFabrizio added the conversion and later in the period added a 20-yard field goal. The Bucs closed out their half of the scoring late in the fourth quarter when Ralph DePasquale intercepted a pass and ran 63 yards for a touchdown.

Meanwhile, the tenacious Buc defense limited the Crusaders to a lone touchdown enroute to a 16-7 win. The win bolstered the locals' record to 5-3, while Clark fell to 4-3-1. Belleville will close out its season Thanksgiving Day when the team travels to Kearny to battle the Cardinals who have a 2-6 record. If the Bucs can win they will have posted their best record since 1969.

The Clark game had a bit of a sad note. Sophomore linebacker Richard Racioppi suffered a broken leg in the fourth quarter. He will obviously miss the final game of the season but should be back in action for next year's season. Racioppi, you might remember, scored the only Buc touchdown in the Seton Hall game when he picked up a fumble and raced 61 yards for the score.

Head coach John Senesky was very pleased with his team's defensive performance this past Saturday. "Clark was a very sound team," noted Senesky. "They had a very strong defense and a steady offense. Our offense played pretty well on occasion but had a tough time with their defense."

The Bucs won the opening kickoff and returned to their own 28. However on four downs the Bucs could manage only two yards and were forced to punt. The Crusaders took over on their own 10 and moved the ball to their own 19 before having to punt. Punter Neil Esposito was in punt position, but the ball never reached him. Instead it was snapped to the up man Mark Franciotti who rambled 32 yards to the Buc 49. Clark got the ball to the Buc 36 but lost the ball on downs.

The Bucs could not move the ball on their next possession and punted to Clark. After a two-yard gain, quarterback John Dispenza threw a 12-yard strike to Joe DiBibio. From their own 42 the Crusaders continued to drive downfield. Franciotti ran 21 yards on the next play to the Buc 37. He ran for nine more on the next play to the 28. Dan Hering picked up a yard for the first down. The Crusaders then drove to the 22 but once again lost the ball on downs. The first quarter ended 0-0.

For the third time in as many tries the Bucs could not manage a first down and once again had to punt. The Crusaders could not pick up any steam and returned the punting favor to Belleville. From his own 2, Bob LaBruzza picked up a yard. Two plays later, Nicosia ran 11 yards to the 12. Aulisi was sacked for a six-yard loss two plays later. On third down, from his own five, Nicosia broke some tackles and sprinted 95 yards for the first score of the day. DeFabrizio added the conversion, and it was 7-0.

The Belleville defense was once again overpowering and forced the Crusaders to punt. The Bucs drove from their own 36 to the Crusader 3. Nicosia picked up 25 yards on the drive and Aulisi threw a 21-yard pass to tight end Perry Meyers. On fourth down from the Clark 3, Belleville added a field goal by DeFabrizio. The half ended with the Bucs in front 10-0.

Clark took the kickoff for the start of the third quarter and drove from its own 37. Hering started the drive with an eight-yard run. Franciotti got the first down with three-yard plunge. Dispenza, on a quarterback keep, rambled seven yards for another first down at the Buc 42. Franciotti got the next Clark first down by himself. He ran for four yards and added another six on his next carry. From the 38, Hering added another nine yards. Franciotti chalked up another first down with a four-yard run to the 19. Dispenza then threw his first pass of the drive, a 19-yarder for a touchdown to Keith Meehan that was partially deflected by Buc safety Jerry Fazzini.

Please see "Kards" on page 16.

Broncos take title; bowl this Saturday

The Belleville Broncos tallied twice within the span of two minutes in the second quarter, breaking a scoreless tie, and they held on to defeat Bergenfield Sunday 13-0 to capture the championship of the Metropolitan Junior Football League. The Broncos have now won three straight league titles.

The championship game was played in beautiful Clifton Municipal Stadium. Both teams were unable to mount any scoring drives at first as the defensive units played extremely well.

Just minutes into the second quarter, however, with Bergenfield in possession on the Bronco 49-yard line, Rob Cancelliere intercepted a pass and raced 55 yards to put the first points on the scoreboard. The extra point pass fell incomplete.

After the Broncos kicked off, Bergenfield took over on its own 47-yard line. On fourth down, Bergenfield was forced to punt the ball away. Jimmy Castelli took the kick on his own 23-yard line and returned it 77 yards behind a wall of Bronco blockers for a touchdown. Jack McCabe ran in the extra point, making the score 13-0.

The Broncos ended their league play with a record of 8-1 and congratulations should go to their great coaches, Rich Luzzi, Len Luongo and Barry Dunleavy. This year's championship team members were John Borrello, David Mozeika, George Anderson, Tom Zecca, Tony Lombardi, Jack McCabe, Rob Cancelliere, Jim Castelli, Bob Humphries, Graig Mack, Ron Charles, Vin D'Agostino, David Montemaran, Anthony Gammara, Ray Kimble, Fred Scherrer, David Grant and Mike Murphy.

This Saturday night, the fifth annual Marotti Bowl will take place. The Junior Broncos open the double-header at 6 p.m. against the Demarest White Knights, and the Broncos follow against the Caldwell Chargers.

Net season forecast proves letter perfect

By MIKE LAMBERTI

At the outset of the 1978 Belleville High School girls tennis season, head coach Karen Fucello predicted her team would probably finish the season over around the 500 level. The reason why she felt her team would come down a bit from the 10-6 record of 1977 was the tougher schedule the girls would have to endure. The team was to face more suburban schools this year than it did last year.

The final outcome was that Karen Fucello was exactly right. The girls finished the regular season with an 8-7 record. Their overall record including tournaments was 8-10. The highlight of the girls' third varsity season was a 3-2 triumph of arch rivalry and power Nutley.

The great advantage the suburban schools have over Belleville is that they have had tennis programs longer. Their girls have been playing since for 10 years and have the great advantage of experience over the Bucs.

"We did come a long way in three years," said Fucello. "Some of the other schools we faced have girls playing since the age of 9. We worked very hard and played as well as we possibly could."

Denise Juliano was the team's first singles player. She had the very difficult task of playing some of the top girls in the area. She worked hard all summer and finished with a 7-10 record for the season. The record is not indicative of the fine brand of tennis Denise played. She worked her way up from doubles to second singles and finally to first singles in 1978. She hopes to attend college and according to Fucello has a great chance of playing tennis on the collegiate level.

In the second singles spot was Toni Sperduto. She was hurt at the start of the season and consequently got off to a slow start. She pulled out some key wins though and was an asset to the team. Toni's overall record was 7-10.

Junior Lu Ann Graffeo came through with an 11-7 record playing in the third singles spot. "Lu Ann displayed brilliance at times that I knew she was capable of," according to Fucello. "She played very well in the tournaments and should be a very valuable asset next year."

The doubles combination of Suzanne Reiman-Carol Salerno finished with a very impressive 9-6 record. "They both did very well all season," said Fucello. "Suzie played very strong and seemed to adjust to whoever her doubles partner was without any problem." Reiman also played singles a couple of times during the season and could possibly see action in that position next year.

The other doubles team was split among Sue Klein, Donna Fantacone, Leonora Siubis and Peggy Gilday. "They played us in some very difficult matches and were very competitive," said Fucello.

"I'm going to miss my seniors," summarized the coach. "I've watched them grow and they are all great individuals. We all shared in some good moments together."

NET NOTES: Fucello expects a massive rebuilding program for next year. The young players who played in the bonus matches are going to have to work extremely hard over the summer. The girls who will be returning next year are Kathy Constantino, Carol Salerno, Gina Pasquale, Karen Pettimeo and Rose Narie Leonidis.

Bellboy Cagers Host Garfield Boilermakers Tomorrow Evening In '72 Season Opener

By Tony Calabrese
At 8 P.M. tomorrow night the 1972-73 basketball season will begin for eleven determined young athletes of Belleville High School. With the promise of a successful season shining brightly for the cagers at the present time, they will open their season against the traditional opening night rival, the Garfield Boilermakers, at the Belleville High School gymnasium.

this season. Mark and Vin will be expected to run the Belleville offenses and be the stabilizing forces in keeping their inexperienced teammates in the disciplined patterns which Belleville must play to have any sort of success this season. For should the team decide to play free lance and do whatever they want on the floor, then troubles will set in for them as coach Palma has pointed out to them and which the boys themselves have found out in practice.

Obviously then, Corino and Turturiello can't do things all by themselves and should receive a great deal of support from their fellow teammates.

Two fellows who should make worthwhile contributions are seniors Mark Canyon and Ed Colon. Both of these fellows are forwards yet each have varying skills that will aid the team cause.

Canyon is a strong leaper capable of pulling down many rebounds, even though he is shorter than six feet tall. He is one of the quicker players on the team and is a good ballhandler as he had much experience performing the latter task as a guard for the junior varsity last season.

Colon also played a good deal of jaycee ball last season. Ed may just be the purest shooter on the team and he is also quite competent from the foul

Belleville Hoopsters Young But Determined

line. He has always been a fine team player in the true sense of the word.
Underclassmen will figure prominently in the team picture this season, and it is from these fellows that the hopes of Belleville basketball will either rise or fall in the next few years. Six juniors are members of this year's team, with an even split of three young men in the backcourt, and three at the forward positions.
Harry Baumgartner, Bob DiQuattro, and Lauman Goon are the three backcourt men who should provide important bench strength behind Corino and Turturiello this season. All progressed greatly in their basketball knowledge last season, by getting a lot of playing time on both the sophomore and jayvee squads. The three boys should be capable replacements and will also be able to do the job if pressed into a starting role.
The three junior forwards are all over 6 ft. tall and all have fine futures ahead of them for Belleville this and next season. The three are 6 ft. 4 in. Bob "Satch" Sanders, the 6 ft. 3 in. Gary Tufo, and finally Tony Cotugno who measures in at 6 ft. 1 in. tall. All are different style of ballplayer.

Sanders while not much of a shooter is expected to do a lot for Belleville off of the boards. Tufo, who is a husky fellow that is tough to push around, also should get his share of rebounds, and Gary has developed an excellent jumpshot which he has been hitting consistently anywhere from as far as 15 ft. out ever since practice began on November 15. Cotugno may just be the most talented individual on the ballclub.

A strong rebounder, fine shooter, excellent ballhandler and fine passer, he excels in just about every department of which a basketball player must perform. Tony's big problem is putting it all together, both on the court and off, but if he does, something which he is connected with the team expect him to do, then he may just about be the biggest surprise for Belleville this year.

Last season Belleville had the best center in the Big Ten Conference in Ken Zoppa who personally accounted for more than half of the Belleville offense. Zoppa has since graduated and gone to college, yet there are many in the Belleville area who feel that the Belboys may just have the best center in the big Ten again this year. His name is Abdel Anderson; he stands 6 ft. 6 in. tall, and he is only a sophomore. Last season he led the freshman team to a respectable 500 record almost single-handedly. Abdel has all the tools, a good shot, a fine rebounder, and an excellent ballhandler in spite of his size. He also possesses two qualities which are not coachable. One is that of an outstanding defensive ability with the power to be an intimidator, capable of blocking many shots per game. The second is just a total love for the game constantly playing and practicing every chance he gets. His future may just dictate Belleville's future in basketball, and his present will definitely alter what is to occur this season.

There it is then in a capsule: summary of a team which can go places and give Belleville its best basketball record in six or seven seasons. Belleville is again a member of the Big Ten Conference which has such basketball powers as East Orange, Orange, and Bloomfield. The team will be playing an 18 game regular season schedule, along with having a spot in the State Tournament playoffs no matter what their record.

In their two scrimmages thus far with Lyndhurst and Newark Tech, the team has looked spotty, dominating when they are playing their control game, yet running into trouble when they have gone free lance. Tomorrow's opponent Garfield has played two exciting two point decisions with Belleville, the last two seasons, Garfield winning two years ago, with Belleville returning the favor last year.

Belleville doesn't expect things to be as tight this year. They feel things will definitely get off to a flying start.

Back's Column
Something "new" has been added in retail selling, the "Catalog Showroom." Actually it is not new, it is a revival of the original beginning of the so called "discount" stores. They showed an item of the merchandise they had to offer, you made your choice, paid for it and took it. No service, no delivery, no credit. If there was something wrong, you could not go back to the store, you had to go to the manufacturer or his service organization. It simply boiled down to "You pay less, you get less." By and by, "discount stores" became like the conventional department stores, only they located in the suburbs, where there was parking. They added services, credit, arranged for delivery for which they charged, but still do not want to have anything to do with servicing. All of this raises operating expenses. Customers found out that there were hardly any "discounts" any more. They went back to the dealer in their home town who gave them service.
The catalog showrooms do just about the same thing as the original "discount" stores. You pay less, you get less, it is as simple as that. This is O.K. if one buys merchandise which does not require service.
The merchandise which we sell, TV sets, radios and stereo, needs service. It also requires adjustments in many cases on location, particularly color TV. If this is what you want, it stands to reason that you can't get it "for nothing." You have to decide whether you want to gamble for the gain of a few dollars in the way of a "discount" or whether you want to play it safe and buy from a dealer who has his own service facilities. We emphasize "his own service facilities," because there are some dealers who also don't have their own service department.
We service what we sell.

Bellboy Cagers Host Garfield Boilermakers Tomorrow Evening In '72 Season Opener

By Tony Calabrese
At 8 P.M. tomorrow night will begin for eleven determined young athletes of the 1972-73 basketball season, Belleville High School. With the promise of a successful season shining brightly for the cagers at the present time, they will open their season against the traditional opening night rival, the Garfield Boilermakers, at the Belleville High School gymnasium.

This season, Mark and Vin will be expected to run the Belleville offenses and be the stabilizing forces in keeping their inexperienced teammates in the disciplined patterns which Belleville must play to have any sort of success this season. For should the team decide to play free lance and do whatever they want on the floor, then troubles will set in for them as coach Palma has pointed out to them and which the boys themselves have found out in practice.

Obviously then, Corino and Turturiello can't do things all by themselves and should receive a great deal of support from their fellow teammates. Two fellows who should make worthwhile contributions are seniors Mark Canyon and Ed Colon. Both of these fellows are forwards yet each have varying skills that will aid the team cause. Canyon is a strong leaper capable of pulling down many rebounds, even though he is shorter than six feet tall. He is one of the quicker players on the team and a good ballhandler as he had much experience performing the latter task as a guard for the junior varsity last season. Colon also played a good deal of jayvee ball last season. Ed may just be the purest shooter on the team and he is also quite competent from the foul

Chamber dinner- dance honors John P. Dailey and war veterans

Patriotic Spirit — During the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, (l-r) Rev. James Heavey of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, Aaron Cohen, dinner-dance chairman, and John P. Dailey, honorary guest who was a World War I veteran, rise and face the crowd during the Chamber of Commerce dinner-dance last Saturday honoring war veterans.

Chamber Guests — Over 200 merchants who are members of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce participated in the annual dinner dance at the Branch Brook Manor last Saturday. The theme for this year was a patriotic one and the honorary guest was John P. Dailey, a World War I veteran.

Members enjoy patriotic theme

On Veterans' Day, the Chamber of Commerce held its annual dinner-dance in honor of the many war veterans at Branch Brook Manor, Washington Avenue.

John P. Dailey, a World War I veteran and chairman of the board at First DeWitt, was the honored guest.

Dailey was presented with a plaque recognizing his service to Belleville and his country by Harry T. French, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce, and Aaron Cohen, vice president of the chamber and also dinner-dance chairman.

"I've been a resident of Belleville over 40 years," Dailey said. "Belleville has given me an awful lot. I only hope I have given something back to it," he added.

The evening began with a cocktail hour with entertainment by famed accordionist Charles Nunzio. Susan Santiglia sang the Star Spangled Banner. Miss Santiglia, honored last year at the chamber dinner-dance, was New Jersey Junior Miss of 1977.

"Susan Santiglia placed fourth in the world in the competition," Cohen explained. "She put Belleville on the map as a resident."

Rev. James Heavey of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, gave the invocation and recognized the day set aside to honor the country's war veterans.

Merchants who are members of the Chamber of Commerce attended the dinner which attracted over 200.

Music was provided by Lefty and the Dominoes, a Gay 90's group whose selections range from polkas to disco.

Driscoll joins N.J. air base

John A. Driscoll, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Driscoll of Belleville, has joined the 514th Military Airlift Wing at McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey.

Driscoll left for six weeks of basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, last month and will continue intensive study at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, where he will qualify to become a medical technician.

A 1978 graduate of Jersey City State College, Driscoll will earn individual college credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force upon completing this training.

Star Spangled Singer — Susan Santiglia, New Jersey Miss of 1977 accompanied by famed accordionist Charles Nunzio puts Chamber of Commerce members into a patriotic mood as she sings the Star Spangled Banner at the dinner-dance last Saturday at the Branch Brook Manor. Miss Santiglia is a resident of Belleville.

Orechio Association scored an early touchdown and fought off second half drives by The Hair Company to win Sunday's benefit game for Alex D'Antonio at DeMuro field.

The Hair Company, Lyndhurst Flag Football titleists, and they weren't disappointed as good hard-nosed football and a few breaks made the game even closer than the 7-0 final score. It didn't take long for the fans to know that defense would provide the highlight of the morning. The Hair Company kicked off to Orechio's and quarterback Jim Corino tried to get things rolling. It was no go, however, as Hair Company safety Lou Ciccone made the first of many fine defensive plays to calm Orechio's and force a fourth down punt.

Tom Buel, throwing for THC, brought his offense into the game, and in one play brought it right back off again as his first aerial was picked off by defensive cornerback John Immediato.

From the outset, bruising interior line play by both sides kept the quarterbacks at bay, and an exchange of punts gave Orechio Association good field position at The Hair Company 35-yard line early in the second quarter.

Corino completed a flare pass to Rich Luzzi to set Orechio's up with a first down on the enemy 18-yard line, but The Hair Company defense stiffened behind an aggressive pass rush by Mari Zinicola and Jerry Faldut. The Hair Company took over on downs at the 18, but found the going just as rough.

With a fourth and 12 at their own 28, Jim Rusignuolo went back to punt. A charging rush by Orechio's force Rusignuolo to hurry the kick and the ball went off the side of his foot giving Orechio's first down inside the 20-yard line.

On third down and 11 to go, Corino rolled left and under pressure got off a bullet on the run in the direction of receiver Ralph Llore. The pass was overthrown, but the 5-7 Llore went high in the air to come down flat on his back with the pass in the endzone. A complete pass on the fake conversion put the score at 7-0.

Com-pen-sa-tion, d-line, and back he key Adamo on fine nbling Librd down, got a pass off in to the flat. Cornerback Bob Thom-son got in front of Luzzi on the run near the Orechio sideline at midfield. He had the interception in his hands and Vassallo out in front, the sideline was clear but Thom-son couldn't hang onto the ball and the score remained 7-0.

It was Orechio's turn to move the ball, and twice they got within field goal range. From the 28, Rich Luzzi, who has converted from outside 30 yards, missed his first field goal attempt, and the second, a fake, fell incomplete.

In the last moments of the game The Hair Company tried desperately to get on the board and in the last play Buel had Tesi open, long up the middle but the ball was overthrown, and a touchdown that had seemed almost insignificant in the early going decided the game.

It was a hard fought, well played game between two evenly matched teams, and the score couldn't have been much closer. A good indication of the brand of defense played at DeMuro park Sunday was the impressive statistic that each team was held to their lowest offensive score of the season.

The contest was a clean one, Nutley was treated to an exciting game, and Alex D'Antonio will benefit from the generosity of the local fans. At press time, total proceeds were not known because The Hair Company contribution of half a day's receipts will not be counted until after Saturday.

AMENDMENT TO PROPOSED RATE INCREASES BY PSE&G

On June 16 of this year, PSE&G filed a Petition with the New Jersey Board of Public Utility Commissioners for a general increase in electric and gas rates. Increasing costs have forced us to revise this original request.

Costs have increased in one area through the enactment of the National Safety and Health Act. For example: Abandoned buildings or those destroyed by fire, and there have been many in our urban areas, can no longer have gas service simply turned off in the building. We must now dig up the street, excavate, cut the line, plug the main, fill in the excavation and repave the street.

Also in the interest of safety, we have shortened the replacement time of larger gas mains. Because traffic weight has increased dramatically, the risk of cracks developing in older cast iron gas mains has also increased. These are being replaced with steel or plastic mains at a stepped-up pace.

Still another example of changing times is reflected in the salvage value of electric lines: we must replace on a periodic basis to maintain efficient service. Since, for many years, we have been replacing copper lines with the aluminum type, we are no longer benefiting from the high salvage value of the copper wire.

These are but a few examples of why we must amend our original rate increase petition. The amendment would add $32 million to the original request of $95 million. This total of $127 million would represent an increase of 13.0% in electric revenues and 15.5% in gas revenues as compared to the 10.3% in electric revenues and the 10.1% in gas revenues filed for on June 16, 1972. The tabulations below show the proposed monthly increases for residential customers that would apply to various dollar amounts. Rate increases for other than residential customers would approximate the per centages shown above, depending upon the specific rate schedules involved.

'Echoes' Present Banquet-Concert

The Heavenly Echoes of Belleville will present their annual Christmas banquet and concert on Friday, December 8th at Nutley High School, 300 Franklin Avenue, Nutley. The Banquet will be between 6:30 and 7:45 p.m. and the concert at 8 p.m. Sam Zaccone of Belleville, leader of the Echoes, Denise Zaccone of Belleville and Barbara Ruffo of Nutley, all members of the Heavenly Echoes say that the title of this year's program tells all "A Christmas Feast" featuring the Roast Beef, Chicken, Sausage and Peppers and Steak and Onions you can eat! ALL HOME COOKED.

BLUE RIDGE QUARTET and Mark Four are two gospel singing groups and bands featured tomorrow evening at the annual concert in Nutley High School sponsored by the Heavenly Echoes of Belleville.

THE ABRAHAM BROTHERS, six teenage boys from Ohio, will be seen for the first time in New Jersey tomorrow when the Heavenly Echoes of Belleville present the group at a concert in Nutley.

Harrisburg, Pa. as the music feast continues the Torchbearers of Harrisburg, Pa. will join with their unique sound. The Heavenly Echoes are proud to introduce for the first time in New Jersey, the group of six teenage boys from Ohio known as the Abraham Brothers. They sing full time and have a contemporary sound. This is expected to be a great evening for all ages.

Zaccone says that this is definitely not a weight watchers menu.

The featured Gospel Singing Group will be the Blue Ridge Quartet of North Carolina and their band Mark Four. This group is the busiest group in gospel music. They appear weekly on the Buck Owens TV Show, they are the only Gospel Group to sing for the U.S. Senators in Washington, D.C. and were the first group to introduce the great song, How Great Thou Art.

In 1971 Laverne Tripp, lead singer of the Blue Ridge Quartet, won the song writer of the year award and his song, "I Know" has been No. 1 in gospel music for almost 2 years. Put all of this together and you can only have the BLUE RIDGE QUARTET, America's most dynamic Gospel Singing Group. Also appearing is a group that are no strangers to Nutley, a group that has helped make Nutley the gospel capital of New Jersey.

The Couriers of

THE HEAVENLY ECHOES of Belleville, present a Christmas Banquet and Concert tomorrow evening at Nutley High School. Seen are (l-r) Barbara Ruffo and Sam and Denise Zaccone.

College Chorus To Sing At Carnegie Hall Program Some 400 years of outstanding yuletide music, highlighted by Marc-Antoine Charpentier's Midnight Mass, will be presented at Carnegie Hall, Sunday, December 10, at 8:30 p.m. by the Orchestra of America and one of the nation's foremost soloists.

Dec. Induction Call Is Between 1-95 For Winter Term

Colonel Edward J. Henderson, Acting State Director of Selective Service, announced today that New Jersey's induction call for December has been issued to all draft boards in the state.

In filling this call, local boards will order between December 1 and December 11, 1972, all eligible men with lottery numbers 1 thru 95 who have not already been issued induction orders for October or November. These are members of the 1972 First Priority Selection Group which is composed of registrants in Classes I-A and I-A-O who were born in 1952 or earlier.

County College Adding 3 One-Year Programs

Essex County College is adding three one-year certificate programs to its curriculum for the winter term. Designed to meet the needs of area residents, the programs offer beginning instruction in operational, accounting, data processing machine operation and business career development.

Through these courses, the college will encourage students to work towards one of all of the following goals: completion of a high school equivalency diploma, development of a marketable job skill or commencement of a career ladder which can lead to associate degree study at the college.

While enrolled in the certificate program, students will receive credit which may be applied towards a degree. They will also be provided with developmental services where necessary and with job placement services

Must Register Now With Art Museum

Registration for the Winter Term of all art classes at the Montclair Art Museum is now open. Classes begin January 9 and continue for ten sessions.

Adult classes are offered in drawing and basic design, ceramics, watercolor, painting, portraiture, the figure, and weaving. Sessions are held on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings; Tuesday and Thursday afternoons; and Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Children's creative classes for five and six year olds are held Tuesday, Wednesday, or Thursday afternoons from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

The certificate program was developed by the Business Division of the college in conjunction with Project DEEP (Degree Educational Equivalency Diploma). Project DEEP provides adults with an opportunity to acquire a high school equivalency and to advance to an educational level commensurate with their abilities and goals.

Belleville Jaycees Schedule Membership Meeting Tonight

New projects already initiated by the group include the donation of a large artificial Christmas tree to the Cerebral Palsy Center at Clara Maass Memorial

Business Spotlight

'Emberto's' offers Continental flair

As I entered the former Zodiac Beauty Salon, now known as Chez Umberto of Naples, at 542 Washington Avenue, my hand was swept up in a courtly kiss of greeting by the entrepreneur, Umberto Lombardo. On Nov. 26, Umberto celebrated his "first year in town" and invited one and all to drop in for a wee bit of champagne. In a very courteous and formal manner, he wrote an "expression of thanks" to his customers for their friendship and patronage, stressing "complete customer satisfaction" as his goal. The Salon is open seven days a week, and appointments are preferred on Friday & Saturday. From 9-5 is the time for ladies; from 5-8 make way for the men! Thursday and Friday evenings Umberto stays open until 9 p.m. and caters to the female clientele. His specialty is hair cutting and blow drying. He claims the distinction of introducing the Roman Cut (a version of the Shag) to the U.S., and participated in a trade show in Chicago this past summer. Umberto came to the U.S. eight years ago and, prior to opening his salon, created music for publishers. Very artistic and continental, he also writes poetry and won a contest in Italy for his creation, "Mama," penned in Italian. To quote an excerpt from one Umberto original: "Ode to the Bride and Groom" - "... I raise my cup to wish you blessed life, that love will gladden every tomorrow, and keep you free from strife."

Working with Umberto are Nina Poto, originally from Umberto's home town in Italy, now a resident in Kearny;

Lavita DeCroce and Helen Dolph, both of town. Customers come from all over the map as "I was told he was great." He further claims the distinction of being the first salon in town to offer the senior citizens a reduced rate for beauty services, "done" Umberto said, "because my mother is a senior citizen." All his family including five brothers and two sisters remain in Italy. Originally, Umberto was destined to become a priest, as he had an uncle who was a Bishop; but his creative talent did out and his customers are glad. Umberto considers himself an artist and relates with much pleasure a story involving a young lady who had her hair ruined by a cut in another shop. After Umberto worked his wizardry, the young lady was so elated she gave him a kiss. His entire goal seems to be in pleasing the customer. A very confident young man, Umberto has precedence for high fashion, but boasts "the customer will be satisfied, or the money returned."

DEFTLY STYLING customers' hair at Chez Umberto of Naples, 542 Washington Avenue, is owner and operator Umberto Lombardo, one of top stylists in area.

Ever hear of Naturopathy?
Naturopaths are drugless healers who rely upon forces of nature: water, air, fire, sunlight, electricity, exercise, rest, diet, and mental and moral science for the cure of disease. Naturopaths believe that no one natural force can cure all disease, and so the positioner works out the best combination of these forces for each individual case. Although authorities are doubtful, naturopathy con-

Festival To Highlight
Union Homecoming Gala
A gala evening of festivities led by a 18-piece orchestra will highlight Union College's 1972 Homecoming during the coming holiday season.
Homecoming will be held on Friday, December 29, in the Campus Center
Gymnasium at Union College's Cranford Campus, beginning with a reception at 8:30 p.m., according to Flanwood Menzer, Jr., of Cranford, president of the Union College Alumni Association.
Dancing to the Music Makers Big Band of Cranford, which plays tunes from the forties through the seventies will begin at 9 p.m. and last until 1 a.m. Refreshments will be served.
Admission to the Homecoming is complimentary to Union College's graduates, former students, faculty, and guests. It is held during the holiday season in order to enable recent students who are now attending four-year colleges and

A tiny bribe cannot hurt...
Think so? We hear a lot about lakes dying Entropy they call it. When pollution reaches a certain level, it can't be reversed. That's what bribes do. Contribute to moral pollution. Trust turns to sewage in the community of man. You know what to do about it.

PHOTOGRAPH BY LARRY SILVER

The community of man... God's club.
It's not exclusive. It includes you and me.
