Investigation underway after fire destroys A&P

Text and photos by David Vaughan

Fire destroyed the vacant A&P supermarket next to Channel Lumber on Franklin Avenue between 4 and 7 p.m. Tuesday. Cause of the fire has not been determined but is under investigation. The A&P vacated the premises about two months ago.

Public Safety Director Rocco Saletta showed up at a Town Commission meeting later the same night to complain of a lack of fire-fighting equipment. Saletta has been trying for more than a year to convince his colleagues to appropriate funds for a new ladder engine.

"We had to call in Nutley and Newark because they have the equipment," Saletta said in reporting details of the Tuesday night fire. Bloomfield firemen also helped battle the blaze which completely gutted the building. Photos here were taken about an hour after the fire was first reported. Flames shot more than 100 feet into the air and the blaze could be seen for more than 20 miles. Television news crews from the network stations in New York featured film of the Belleville blaze.

The fire was brought under control by 8 p.m.

Town Hall forced to pass zone code

Emergency meetings are planned

By DONNA ABATE

More than 125 persons turned out to protest adoption of a new town zoning law Tuesday, but commissioners, faced by a state mandated deadline, passed the unpopular measure, 4-1.

Commissioners, like most of the citizens as Town Hall Tuesday night, felt they were being rushed into adopting the law which redefines all of Belleville's zones, puts a brand new zoning map into effect, and changes the permitted use of many commercial, residential and business properties.

Commissioner Mary Senatore cast the lone negative vote. "I appreciate the work put into the construction of the ordinance, but I feel the last voice on this law should be the people's voice." She was applauded as she recorded her "no" vote.

Many of those addressing commissioners complained the value of their real estate was changing. Business properties, for example, along Union Avenue are being rezoned to residential areas.

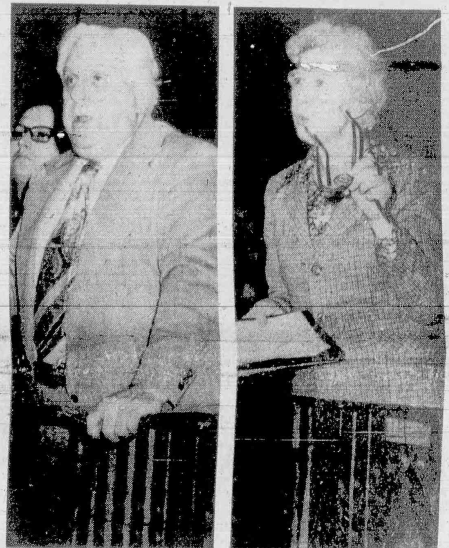

The Planning Board, whose members were at Tuesday's hearing, reported the ordinance was turned over to town commissioners last November. Thus apparently it was commissioners themselves who decided to wait until the last possible moment to introduce the controversial measure. State law mandates a new zoning code by adopted and in effect by Feb. 1 but commissioners could have scheduled hearings earlier and made amendments if they had so decided.

However Joseph Grande, Planning Board chairman, took the blame publicly this week for the lack of public hearings. "It was my fault. I should have scheduled some hearings on these changes at the Planning Board level, before it got this far," Grande told Tuesday night's crowd.

The detailed ordinance and map was prepared over the last two and half years by a special Planning Board Committee consisting of Ed Herbert, Joseph Doyle and Al Schmitt.

Because no real opportunity was given the public to air complaints, Grande this week volunteered to schedule what he called two "emergency meetings" on the zoning

Legal blunder forces another disco delay

By DONNA ABATE

Although last Monday's disco hearing filled town hall with community residents and a picket line of Parrillo's supporters, the commissioners adjourned the hearing until next Tuesday because the attorneys had not been notified in advance of the legal charges being pressed by the town. The new hearing date is next Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Disco attorney Allen C. Marra told Town Commissioners he couldn't possibly defend his client properly because he only received "general charges which lacked specificity."

Marra asked the board for an adjournment in order that he could accurately research the case after studying the specific dates and incidents mentioned in the charges.

The Millburn attorney was interrupted from an audience member who yelled "you should have done your research before tonight," Marra retorted. "I have the right to be charged specifically. I shouldn't have to go back to Mr. Scott."

"The burden is on the town of Belleville," he added.

In his opening comments, Marra also asked for a stay on all proceedings charging that town attorney John Scott, with a conflict of interest since he owns a tavern himself, should not be involved as a municipal official.

Marra cited several cases where a municipal official can't serve two interests especially since the establishment in question is "a competitor." Marra also cited Commissioner Joseph McGreevy for the same charge, since he, too, owns a tavern in Belleville.

"Neither of you," Marra said, "could act as a judge in this case."

SCOTT WAS ANNOYED with the charges and said it would be up to the board to seek out a new attorney for the town, "but it serves only to stall the case for another week or so."

Scott also charged that the disco attorney made no effort before Monday night to contact him for additional research. "The notice was served on Wednesday, Jan. 10 and Mr. Marra waited until the last possible moment to complain about the lack of specificity."

Scott asked for a brief caucus and after about fifteen minutes Mayor Michael Marotti adjourned the hearing until next Tuesday before a disturbed crowd.

After the adjournment, Marra expressed his frustration.

School Board gives Dr. Greed tenure

Schools Superintendent Dr. John Greed received a "vote of confidence" Monday when five Board of Education members extended his contract through June 1980 and thus granted Greed tenure.

Technically, Dr. Greed won't become a tenured administrator until this coming Aug. 2. But up until Monday, Greed had a contract running only to June 30 — one month short of gaining the job security offered by tenure.

Voting for the June 1980 contract extension were Trustees Matthew Pica, Ralph Risoli, Larry Schwartz, Michael Chieffo and Ernest Zoppi. Caesar Romano, who has openly differed with Dr. Greed over what both called "philosophical areas" was absent Monday night. A seventh trustee, newly-appointed Peter Clarizio, abstained.

Belleville Education Association President Paul DelPolito charged that the board was trying to award

Greed tenure with the contract. Trustee Lawrence Schwartz assisted by board counselor Frank Pomaco, legally refuted DelPolito's claims, citing a '68 Supreme Court case that held tenure is not automatic despite contract renewal.

"Dr. Greed must still work up until Aug. 2 and we can ask him to resign or remove him anytime before that," said Schwartz. He noted the educational system has "moved forward" during almost three years under Greed.

Schwartz, Greed and Zoppi are publicly on record opposed to administrative tenure, preferring renewable contracts instead. "A few months ago when this vote came up, I would have had to abstain," said Zoppi, but now after much "soul-searching" he realized, "Under our educational system, you either have to hire or fire people." Noting Greed's good performance, Zoppi said: "On that basis alone, I would have to vote 'yes'."

Other trustees acted quickly in approving Greed's "vote of confidence" without comment.

Greed began as Belleville's superintendent in August 1976, after being in a similar post for four years in Boonton. He has served in three other districts in Linwood, Pa., and Kinnelon and Florham Park. Greed's family includes his wife, Gladys, sons John, 21 and Christopher, 19, and daughters, Maria, 20 and Gladys, 16.

Local citizens attack "excessive" budget plans

About 40 local citizens and school trustees held peaceful budget discussions Monday night although one resident attacked the board's "pattern" for consistently coming up with "excessive" budgets.

Joseph Fornarotto accused the trustees of creating extra positions for friends, overspending on maintenance and failing to let employee attrition reduce the budget because vacancies are always filled quickly.

Fornarotto said it seems the board merely submits a yearly budget which has been unilaterally increased from the previous one, with no savings evident.

He also alluded to Board President Matt Pica and trustee Mike Chieffo in criticizing "experienced" board members who plan to run for Town Commissioner. He noted they will be leaving the budget's fate in the laps of "green" or inexperienced members.

While most citizens were content to sit back and sift through the tentative high school budget, Fornarotto blasted board members. "You just give us a lot of baloney. Use attrition, economize. You people have got to make budget cuts now. Where you can cut a little, do it?" he urged.

Trustee Ernie Zoppi said the board needs more time to pinpoint budget cuts, stressing that is the purpose of budget hearings.

Some trustees appeared nervous, others calm, as Fornarotto's rhetoric confronted them.

"I haven't seen attrition in this school system yet," said Fornarotto, noting about $66,000 is left in '78-'79's textbook account.

Sensing Fornarotto's jab at his commission candidacy, Chieffo said he never would use his board post as an "election" forum. "We've diligently tried to spend the money in the best possible way. I'm a taxpayer the same as you but I'm more concerned about children's education. Whether I'm a candidate or not, you ought to show common courtesy. If you want to antagonize then I can antagonize too," declared Chieffo.

Parents were told the controversial athletic budget, originally $173,600, is down to $142,500, a $17,500 increase over last year.

Zoppi and Fornarotto argued over possible cuts in athletics, and whether girls' gymnastics and volleyball programs should be started, costing $10,000. "Maybe you will convince us this should be cut," said Zoppi.

Town Cottage to close today

Town Cottage, located at 170 Washington Ave., will close for 48 days starting today after the state ABC board found Patrick J. McCabe guilty of violating his license restrictions.

McCabe, a former Belleville police officer, was found guilty of charges that he took an interest in the business of Town Cottage during the time he was an active police officer. Under New Jersey law, a police officer cannot run or work at an establishment which hosts a liquor license.

The first order was filed on Saturday, Nov. 4. It was recently appealed on Wednesday, Dec. 13, but the appeal was dismissed.

Director Joseph H. Lerner of the Division of Alcoholic Beverage Control announced the suspension of the alcoholic beverage license of Perry B. Mayers, Jr., Eleanor Mayers and Mildred G. McCabe, Town Cottage owners, on Tuesday, Jan. 16.

McCabe pleaded guilty to the charges alleging, in essence, "that it aided and abetted him in his exercise of a beneficial interest in the license, such person having been disclosed on the license application, and being disqualified to have such interest by virtue of his status as a police officer."

The Plenary Retail Consumption License issued by the Board of Commissioners of Belleville will be suspended beginning at 2 a.m. this morning and terminating 2 a.m. Wednesday, March 14.

Belleville youth group exhibits community care

"It is better to give than to receive," seems to be the motto for the Belleville Red Cross Youth, a group of various students from the local schools, who find much enthusiasm in helping the community.

The Belleville Red Cross Youth, which has been in existence for many years, is made up of two student representatives from each elementary school and the Junior High School along with one teacher-sponsor per school.

The function of the group is to promote special projects as well as make efforts to contact and involve the entire student body in participation. Each representative and sponsor works together to reach members in the school of which they attend.

As a result of the group's recent holiday efforts, 32 needy families of Belleville were provided with an abundance of food and household items for the Christmas season.

Serious misuse of federal funds

For the past few years, grants from the federal government have found their way to Belleville. Unfortunately, the monies have not always been put to the best use.

Washington, however, and not Belleville is at fault. Block grants from agencies like HUD and the Local Public Works Act are awarded with many strings attached.

In the case of community block grants, the funds must be earmarked for a "strategy area" — a neighborhood where at least 50 percent of the population is of low or middle income.

In the case of the Public Works grants from Washington, the firms bidding on contracts must be minority owned and a high percentage of construction workers of minority representation. Not only has that requirement prompted lots of red tape, which can be reckoned with, but has encouraged corruption throughout the United States. Companies have been formed with black presidents, for example, solely to qualify for projects funded by Washington under the Public Works Act.

And in Belleville's example, the HUD funds so far can be used solely, perhaps, for a senior citizens' housing projects, or improvements in the Valley and Silver Lake, the only two neighborhoods where our per-capita income is low enough to qualify for federal funds. Public Works Commissioner Mary Senatore has been able to apply federal funds to the water main replacement project scheduled for completion this spring in the Valley.

But a drastic change in the federal law and guidelines is in order. Here in Belleville, for example, we have a town that is hurting financially in the area of municipal budgets. The quality of municipal services has deteriorated. Streets are left in disrepair because of a shortage of funds. Police are riding around in cars which have seen more than 90,000 miles and which, because of a shortage of funds, are scheduled to be in service for at least another year. And Belleville's firemen are fighting blazes like Tuesday night's A&P fire with inadequate equipment — one of the reasons, Public Safety Director Rocco Saletta says, that we had to call in fire equipment from Nutley, Bloomfield and Newark during that emergency.

Yet, despite these problems, federal funds cannot be applied to improve police or fire protection, or make our streets safe to drive on, or walk on in bad weather. Yes, Washington, a change is needed. The guidelines for use of federal funds are tailor-made for the cities. Fine, but lets make some adjustments in how those grants can be spent in the suburban areas. Otherwise, suburban towns across the nation like Belleville will continue to spend millions if not billions of tax dollars on projects which really are not always of the highest priority but are undertaken merely because outside monies are available.

After all these years — we hit an air pocket!

By FRANK A. ORECHIO

To say that I was astonished at the views from inside the Meadowlands Hilton Restaurant known as the Kingsley's would be my greatest understatement for 1979.

The aesthetics of this fine North Jersey dining spot are magnificent. The food was excellent: The service left nothing to be desired.

In charge of the room is Dennis Connors who manages the place with tender loving care.

Our waiter was so solicitous one could think he was the son of the owner because of his super performance. Al De Mola was the bright, cheerful and efficient waiter, only a few weeks on the job. Al handled himself like an old pro.

I can't say enough about Manager Connors' interest in his patrons and the quality of the food and service afforded to us lucky enough to find such an elegant dining spot within minutes of the Nutley metropolis.

In my 14 years of commuting between Newark and Fort Lauderdale Miami, no plane that I rode in ever hit an air pocket — that is until last week. I laughed through the incident only because Jerry Gay was holding on for dear life to the arm of my chair while his body was suspended in mid air — with Jerry's face losing its Southern sultan and looking more like a palatial white man.

My 17-pound briefcase was on my lap and when the plane dropped, my briefcase floated skyward. What an experience! The crew was fantastic.

Stewardess Susan Kuchar's face wore such a warm, friendly smile that it would have been difficult even for the chicken-hearted to be frightened.

Safely arriving in Miami, I was pleasantly surprised to see the back of Eastern Airlines rep Jim Courtney at the Jet Way — tending to the ruffled feelings of delayed passengers. It's been three years at least since I have seen him — but — as always — solicitous Jim had Jerry Gay and me on our way to Fort Lauderdale via ground transportation 10 minutes after our arrival. Remember the name — Courtney — if you travel Eastern via Miami — it's a good name to remember — a totally dedicated company man — Jim believes what's good for Eastern passengers is good for Eastern.

The plane originally scheduled to make the trip to Fort Lauderdale was grounded because of mechanical problems and the ticketing and departure area Eastern officials were busy transferring Fort Lauderdale-bound passengers to a flight destined to reach Miami. Bill Schultz, the Newark Customer Passenger representative did one hellava job, ably assisted by Customer Passenger Agent Don Young of Nutley. Something interesting about Don Young. Living in New York about four years, Don and Mrs. Young decided to locate closer to his new Eastern Airlines base in Newark. They drove around for a few hours, cased town after town and not knowing in which town they were at the time, both husband and wife decided wherever they were it was a lovely town and they intended to buy a house in that community. As Don tells it: "My wife and I drove around, didn't know where we were, but we decided we loved that little town." The town Don was talking about was Nutley.

A belated welcome to Nutley, Don. At Christmas, New Year's and Super-bowl time, all airlines become over-burdened. The airports are wall to wall with humanity. It appears as if nothing moves. But move it does.

In the air, the flight crews that I personally enjoyed, and for whom I have the highest praise — all Eastern Airlines' personnel — are Captain Donald Spruck, Captain Jim Mahen, Stewardess Gayle Koscak, Jackie Pender's roommate, Stewardess Caryl Shaw, Liliana, Fernandezpumpido, Laura Satterly, Brigitte Heffernan, Carol Guerra, Kathleen Groh, Karen Kraig, Colleen Kradzinski and Ralph Rispoli.

These are all names to remember. Under the most trying circumstances — full passenger loads — when most people would be under maximum stress — these folks satisfied even the most ornery passengers. Especially did I like the performance of Gayle Koscak, Ralph Rispoli, and Susan Kuchar.

My very dear friend and distinguished public servant, Joe Benucci, recently received the Distinguished Service Award from UNICO President Anthony Roccia for exemplifying their motto, "Service Above Self." In addition, he received the Distinguished Honorary Citizen Award from Clark Mayor, Bernard Yarusavage, for his assistance in having a dangerous intersection diverted from the Town of Clark.

I enjoyed a recent trip back from Fort Lauderdale aboard Eastern Airlines because of the company of Bruce M. Stano, Assistant Treasurer of J. I. Kislak, Inc., a real estate company based at their Miami headquarters. Bruce is a cousin of Nutley policeman Jack Barry, and these are two good guys — Bruce and Jack.

Clara Maass Hospital is circulating a very valuable brochure entitled: "Help Yourself To Better Health." You can do that by dialing 751-1000 and listen to a medical tape on subjects from A to Z including: Aging, Arthritis & Rheumatism, Birth Control, Blood & Circulation, Cancer, Children, Dental & Mouth Care, Diabetes, Digestive System, Drug & Alcohol Abuse, Eye Care, Diet, First Aid, Heart, Mental Health, Sex, Skin & Plastic Surgery, Smoking, Venereal Disease, and a lot more.

The tapes are part of the Clara Maass Memorial Hospital Library. They are yours for free. So — health aid is as near to you as your telephone. The tapes are from one to five minutes' duration. The experiences are a worthwhile investment of your time.

Elston Howard, our dear friend and famous New York Yankee catcher, together with his beautiful wife, Arlene, have formed the Elston Howard Leasing, Inc. corporation with headquarters in Manasquan, New Jersey. Arlene is General Manager and her announcement states: "This corporation is designed to provide corporations and individuals long term leasing of all makes and models of cars and trucks anywhere in the United States." Their Manasquan telephone number is 449-2100.

These are two decent, honest individuals with whom doing business should be a pleasure and a privilege.

An apology

In his column which appeared in the Aug. 3, 1978 edition of the Belleville Times/News, Mr. James R. Golden attributes a job action allegedly taken by the Belleville Education Association to Mr. DelPolito's "riling up the teachers." This comment is factually incorrect as Mr. DelPolito did not become president of the Association until June 1, 1978.

The statement that the Board of Education should fire Mr. DelPolito expresses solely Mr. Golden's opinion and not that of the newspaper and in no way reflects his teaching abilities or performance. All attacks made by Mr. Golden concerning Mr. DelPolito's personal character, such as but not limited to, the comment that Mr. DelPolito is erecting "a narcissistic statue of himself," or that Mr. DelPolito lacks intelligence and is unable to engage in rational thinking again expresses solely Mr. Golden's opinion, never having met Mr. DelPolito, and not that of the newspaper.

Accordingly, the Belleville Times/News publicly apologizes for these unwarranted attacks and factual inaccuracies.

GOLDEN COMMENTS

Too much time wasted on disco

By JAMES GOLDEN

The irate residents in the area of the Parillo's disco are seething in anger over the protracted, long drawn out effort to resolve their quest to eliminate the indignities they feel they are being subjected to by many rowdy patrons of that establishment. They are dissatisfied with the interminable delay in putting an end to the assaults and needless taking place in this formerly quiet residential section of town.

They frown upon the phlegmatic court delays and postponements and hesitancy of the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Board in rendering a firm decision that will blot out these annoying disturbances which rattle the residents. They are demanding action now.

Spokesmen of the determined, strongly solidified group representing the area residents in the affected neighborhood are at variance with the views expressed by Town Attorney Scott that the zoning amendment proposed would have no effect on Parillo's since it is already in operation. They contend that because of numerous violations of long existent local statutes and regulations, Parillo's never legally could have nor, did, in fact, operate as a disco and therefore can not be considered to have been legally already in operation prior to any proposed ban on discos in town...an opinion which this column is in consummate agreement with.

Already too much time and superfluous litigation has been wasted in resolving this "touchy" problem. Either our town officials, all of them, if they are truly concerned about the peace, tranquility and welfare of their citizens, must find a more forceful effort to clear up this "is it or is it isn't" problem or take the consequences...town election is only four months away.

If that's not a big enough muddle for the town to cope with, how about this? Reports, as of the time of this writing, from usually reliable sources indicated that the Town of Belleville is without the services of a town engineer and a town building inspector. None of which tends to help nor aid in settling the vexing Parillo disco ticklish matter. If the reports are true, we wonder why Belleville Code Enforcement Officer Sy Lieberman chose to resign at this time?

Assemblyman Carl A. Orechio (R-27 Dist.) representing Nutley as indicated in the New Jersey Legislative Index, a compendium report of all N.J. State legislative bills and their progress, again introduced what appears to be a plethora of 78 wholesome pieces of legislation either sponsored by him or joined in with other members of the Assembly. He has consistently followed this pattern for many years as an Assemblyman, however, as he strongly protests, seldom, because he belongs to the minority party, do his bills get adopted because the Democrats seek to gain the glory by poaching good bills presented by the opposition.

A good illustration of how this 'takes place has been borne out by the public disclosure by State Senator Francis X. Herbert (D-Bergen) who said he was "embarrassed" over the behind-the-scenes maneuvering to "steal" a Republican bill called the "Safe Dam Act" and renamed by Democrats the "Dam Safety Act."

Sen. Herbert said he was asked by Senate President Joseph Merlino (D-Mercer) and Senate Executive Director Jeffery Laurenti to sponsor a bill to insure safety of dams and reservoirs in the state. Sen. Herbert, a high school teacher, said, "I told them I didn't know anything about dams, but they insisted, saying it was a good bill."

Admitting he sponsored the bill without reading it, Herbert said that when he introduced it he hadn't even noticed the bill's title "Dam Safety Act." The record shows he introduced the bill, but, didn't get around to reading it for a week and then found it a good bill. He didn't know that an identical bill, "The Safe Dam Act," sponsored by Republican Assemblyman Karl Weidel of Mercer County had already passed the Assembly 67-0.

Sen. Merlino, the Senate President, is a political foe of Assemblyman Weidel, and told Sen. Herbert when he complained that he had been duped into poaching a Republican bill, "When the Republicans were in power here they used to poach bills all the time." He said that Laurenti told him, "The bill is sponsored by a Republican and it won't move unless a Democrat's name is on it."

Sen. Herbert withdrew his bill, telling Merlino, "I am not going to be your cat's paw." The Weidel bill, as good as it is, goes back to committee to stay there because the Democrats don't want the opposition to get the credit they deserve. Isn't that putrid!

Troop 364 a special scout unit for boys educationally disabled

Boy Scout Troop 364, sponsored by Belleville Elks Lodge 1123, is a special unit consisting of 13 boys age 11 and over who are educationally disabled.

Under the leadership of Larry Dempsey, the troop has grown in number and accomplishments in the past seven years. Two more leaders have joined, Michael Schneider and Joseph Paglia. Some of the boys have been with the troop since it began while others are newcomers. Dempsey welcomes any eligible boy who may be interested in joining to contact him.

Beside weekly scout meetings at the Elks Lodge, the boys make several day and overnight trips to scouting-related places of interest. The main interest of the troop is camping. Through this activity the boys learn to become self-reliant and at the same time, have a lot of fun.

Last year, for instance, the boys toured Newark International Airport, Great Swamp National Wildlife Refuge in Basking Ridge, Museum of Natural History, Hayden Planetarium, Fish Hatchery in Hackettstown, New York Aquarium in Coney Island, a car factory and a police precinct.

Sometimes other activities such as bowling and movies take the place of scheduled meetings.

A number of camping trips were also taken last year. Some were day trips, some weekend trips and some for one or two weeks. The campsites included Scout Acres in Bonton, Camp Moore in Haskell, Stokes Forest, Charm Acres in East Hanover and Camp Glenn Gray in Oakland. The boys help purchase and cook all their own food, set up tents and equipment and participate in all available activities at the campsites.

Through the efforts of several troop supporters one distinguished troop member was able to spend two weeks this summer at Philmont New Mexico Boy Scout Reservation.

Name four freeholders to welfare, plan boards

County Executive Peter Shapiro has nominated four members of the Board of Chosen Freeholders to fill freeholder seats on the Planning and Welfare Boards.

Shapiro named to the Planning Board Freeholder Chairman Pearl Beatty (D-2nd District) and Freeholder Daniel Tindall III (D-3rd District).

He named to the Welfare Board Freeholders Martin Scaturro and Bernice Davis, both Democrats at large. Scaturro was already serving as one of the two freeholder representatives on the board.

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto:

My sister has been wearing the Bowl Style hairdo for years. Last year she asked me to frost it. I striped and colored it. When it was finished, she was unhappy because it was too heavily frosted on the bottom. Now she is ready for another frosting. Is there any way that we can prevent this from occurring again?

The Frosting Sisters

Dear Sisters:

You did nothing wrong. The reason the bottom was more heavily frosted is because the Bowl Cut is all one length. The hairs that were pulled through the cap on the top and middle of your head combined with the frosted hairs at the bottom thus creating the heavily frosted appearance.

To avoid this, either 1) frost only the top and middle leaving the bottom unfrosted, or 2) as you frost downward, skip one perforation, then skip two, then skip three in the cap. This will give you the desired uniform effect.

INCOME TAX TIPS

By ROBERT CARUSO CPA

Congress past new legislation in October, 1978, which can be beneficial to many homeowners and renters. The 1978 Tax Reform Act provides for a TAX CREDIT (not just a deduction) of up to $300 for insulation or other energy conserving components installed between April 20, 1977 and December 31, 1978. Examples of some of the items qualifying for credit are insulation, storm or thermal windows, weatherstripping etc. You must attach form 5695 to your return to obtain the credit.

To insure that you receive the maximum tax deductions and credits, thoroughly review all your records for 1978. Prepare a list of all possible deductions and either compare the list to the various governmental publications or review the list with a licensed tax professional.

If you decide to have someone prepare your tax return, you should seriously consider a tax professional. A professional devotes the entire year to working with and studying tax laws. He is not a part-time tax expert. As for cost, in many cases the licensed professional's fees will be the same as, or less than what you might end up paying the commercial preparer. So avoid the ordeal of waiting in line at a tax preparer's store. Call for an appointment with a licensed tax professional.

Peanuts Classroom — Gabe Nazzola as Charlie Brown tries to get through another school day with his famous Peanuts classmates during a rehearsal for "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown." The hilarious play will be presented by the Belleville High School drama club beginning Thursday, March 1.

Good Grief!

Charlie Brown to visit high school

By PAULA SANTUMO and NANCY MARINO

The Belleville High School Drama Club will present "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown" — the "Peanuts" Musical on March 1, 2, and 3 at 8 p.m. in the BHS auditorium.

R.W. Lefelbine, director, selected "Charlie Brown" because he felt that the club had been dealing with "adult" themes in recent shows such as "Seesaw," "Cabaret" and "Mack And Mabel." As a result, the staff decided to produce a show that was pure entertainment.

"The recent emphasis on 'Charlie Brown' television specials makes the show a timely selection," Lefelbine stressed.

The cast includes Gabe Nazzola as Charlie Brown; Jacqueline Wis as Lucy; Suzanne Grangrasso as Patty; Chris Olearchick as Snoopy; Ken Lusnia as Linus, and Guy Simpson as Schroeder. A chorus will also accompany the cast in various numbers.

Rehearsals are well ahead of schedule. The choreographer for the show is Janice Lynn Nazzola and she has created some inventive and unique dance routines which could become the highlight of the show.

Lefelbine has high hopes for a very successful production.

Workshop course notes student talent

By PAT KIERNAN

"The students taking woodshop at Belleville High are industrious and work hard," Joseph D'Ambola, woodshop teacher, noted.

The woodshop course at the high school seems to attract many talented students according to D'Ambola, and he explained that there are two types of shop.

"In general shop, students make small things like endtables and breadboards," he explained. "In vocational shop, the class attempts more complex projects like making hutches, beds and bedroom chests."

D'Ambola feels the students, which amount to 110, are ambitious about the work and are quite proud of the final results.

Recently, four seniors took part in redecorating Vice Principal Michael Lally's office. The students panelled and remodeled the room over a period of seven weeks.

By the time the seniors leave, D'Ambola said he feels they will have learned "responsibility and pride in their work." "It's the best course at Belleville High," he boasted.

SGO organizes committees to alleviate existing problems

By CHRIS NEIDENBERG

The Student Government Organization (SGO), of Belleville High School established various committees last Thursday in an effort to help investigate problems which affect the school.

The meeting was set to assign committees throughout the school that will act as tools to locate various problems or investigate different areas to improve the school.

The group chose eight committees: The Constitutions Revisions Committee, Teresa Cosin and Ralph Gualtieri as chairmen, which is geared to revise and change the SGO constitution; The Calendar Committee, chairman Leonora Siubis, which will suggest meeting and activity dates; The Fund Raising Committee, which will focus on raising money for the school and The Publicity Committee, chairman Tammy Carol, which will contribute publicity announcements and articles for SGO to submit information to the School Page, "New Horizons" or other publications.

The Rules Committee, chaired by Gary Martin, will draw up regulations which hope to insure that all SGO meetings are conducted in an organized and official manner; The Schools Facilities Committee, Chairman Gladys Greed, will promote school participation and spirit by decorations; The Social Committee, chaired by Cathy Pattoli and Kim Santangelo, which will aim toward planning social events for the students, other than fund raisers and The Grievance Committee, chaired by Chris Rovel, which will listen to student complaints and help to alleviate them.

Committee members are encouraged by SGO advisor Patricia Pugliese to promote each aim and seek student feedback.

Disco Dollies — Nicole Glunk and Scott Boyce give Donna Summer and John Travolta competition as they dance "disco" during the Christmas show at School 9. Both the kindergarten and first grade students joined in on the show presented to the PTA in the school auditorium.

Where is school spirit at Junior High School?

By Scott Grisanti

As reported a few months earlier the school spirit at Belleville High School is up 100 percent from last year. There are many reasons given for this sudden upswing from winning teams to a close Senior class. But what about the school spirit in the junior high, has it enjoyed the same sudden rise in school spirit?

To answer this question, I attended several freshman basketball games, unfortunately all of which they lost. At each of the games there always was the same small but highly spirited group of spectators. These fans, along with one of the most enthusiastic cheerleading squads that have ever donned the vest and skirt; gave the boys in blue all of the support they could muster.

I talked at length with the co-captains of the basketball team and several cheerleaders about this year's school spirit. Surprisingly I was exposed to contrasting views. Co-captain of the basketball team Joe Zangari, replied that there was "some but not enough," when questioned about the school spirit at BHS. In spite of this the other co-captain, Eugene Cancelliere rebutted with the statement "I think it's good anyway."

The captain of the freshman cheerleading squad, Lisa Brizzi, simply replied, "it's good," agreeing with Cancelliere. However the view of the cheerleaders was also split by the opinions of Betty Freda and Karen Lordi, who respectively were quoted as saying that "there's not enough, there should be more" and that "not as many people care about school spirit as they should." The cheerleaders' advisor, Miss "M" claims that "school spirit depends on whether or not the teams are winning."

Whether the school spirit is good or bad at the junior high school is to be left up to the individual. The best way to come to a conclusion would of course be to attend a sporting event at BHS. As for the small turnout at games many valid explanations can be put forth.

Firstly, one third of the school's student body consists of 12 year old children in the seventh grade. The parents of these children may be a little leary to allow their children to walk home after dark in this day and age. Another important fact is the time of these sporting events. They're mostly held after school when most adult would-be spectators are at work. Freshman sports get very little exposure because of this fact which does not help the situation any. Last but not least 50 cents is charged to get into these games, as one teacher put it, "students can hardly remember their lunch money let alone an extra 50 cents to watch a game in their own school."

In spite of all this there is always the previously mentioned group of fans and cheerleaders for twenty as they would for two thousand. So is there in fact anything wrong with the school spirit at the junior high? Why not come out to the next home game or match to see for yourself.

Classic Hutch — Tom Henry stands beside an exquisite hutch which he himself designed for his final project in the woodshop course at BHS. Henry was noted for his outstanding work during the recent New Jersey Craftsmen Fair.

French students learn art of making crepes

Perhaps you already know that crepe is a French word for pancake. Had you been a participant at a recent cultural happening at Belleville Junior High School, you would also know that varieties of crepes are the Mexican taco, the Jewish blintz and the Italian cannelloni.

Senior Notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

For the members of the Belleville Senior Citizens Club: The latter half of the 1978 exercise classes have come to a close and we are looking forward to the beginning of the new classes starting in February. No spring trip to Wildwood Crest this year. There will be a trip of 5 days to the Hotel Brickman in the Catskills instead. Three busloads of people have already signed up. Contrary to some opinionated rumors, we are still doing business at the same old stand. We do not advertise for new members and to anyone who attends the Tuesday afternoon meetings, it is quite obvious why.

Another educational opportunity, probably the best yet, is offered by the Division of Community Programs in conjunction with the Belleville Adult School. The semester starts on February 6th and runs through May. Most adults in town have received a brochure with the list of credit an non-credit courses offered. The best part of the offer is that it is free to Essex County residents 58 years or older and not currently employed on a full time basis.

There is no doubt that discrimination against the elderly is one of the greater problems in America today. We have reference to inflation which is the greatest crime against older Americans. Our savings and pensions are being eroded by the continually rising cost of food, heat, light, clothing, housing and the other essentials for a decent standard of living. Each succeeding generation is victim to higher living costs. Most retired seniors are on fixed incomes, some have the Social Security payments to live on and that is all. Pensions seemed adequate at the time of retirement and for those who do not have an escalator clause in their pension plans are finding that the things that could be bought for their dollar at the time of their retirement, are now out of sight. Inflation is stealing the wages earned through a lifetime of work out of the pockets of the elderly. The income of the aged should be linked to the cost of living and indexed accordingly. So its either stop inflation or raise the Social Security payments commensurate with the increase in the cost of living. One other choice, the poverty stricken can all go to the poor house. Our legislators need to be prodded into action to enact laws that will prevent this from happening.

This Sticker Means Home-Sweet-Energy-Saving Home!

Your home can earn this sticker by using energy wisely and by meeting conservation standards as established by the National Energy Watch (N.E.W.) program of the Edison Electric Institute.

Here's how the N.E.W. program works:

1. Pick up a National Energy Watch do-it-yourself score sheet at a PSE&G commercial office or mail the coupon.
2. Go through your home with the score sheet. Follow the easy instructions that assign point values to insulation, weather-stripping, appliances, air conditioning, etc.
3. If your home meets established conservation standards and attains a qualifying score, mail the completed score sheet to PSE&G. We'll send you the N.E.W. sticker as well as membership certificate.

4. If your home does not meet minimum N.E.W. standards, let us know and we'll show you how to make your home energy-tight.

So what if your home earns the N.E.W. sticker?

So plenty. It means you're saving energy... helping our nation cope with its energy problems... assuring adequate energy for future generations.

Another benefit of a N.E.W. certificate is that it may make your home easier to sell. And it should be worth more, too.

Join the National Energy Watch and it will be home sweet-energy-saving home. Mail the coupon today!

The Belleville Knights' first meeting was held in St. Peter's old school. The first social event was a clam bake held in 1904 on the property of member Edward L. Butler. It was known as Butler's Grove and was located on the present site of the Golf Links.

The beginning years were spent in building up the organization and signing new members. Subsequent meetings were held in the old Post Office, First National Bank, Peoples Bank and the V.F.W. building.

Heavy rains flood cellars in Belleville

The Belleville Fire Department has recently received several calls about cellar flooding in resident homes as a result of the heavy rainfall in the area.

Fire Chief George Sbarra explained that residents complained of floods over three inches deep in their cellars.

Belleville firemen visited the homes to pump the water. Sbarra said the department has three new pumps equipped to aid in these emergency situations.

Courtwomen have look of champions

By MIKE LAMBERTI

This is beginning to be serious. The Belleville girls' basketball team has been playing so well recently that even its head coach, Karen Fucello, who usually doesn't win awards for optimism, is happy.

Last week the lady Bucs defeated arch rival Nutley, 48-40 and won their biggest game of the year when they defeated Paterson-East Side, the number three team in the area, 54-50 in double overtime. The local girls' record is now 10-2.

On Tuesday the team traveled to Montclair, but results were in too late for this edition. Today they travel to Passaic for a 3:45 p.m. game. The girls were scheduled to play East Orange Catholic tomorrow at East Orange but the game was postponed.

Fucello is the type of coach who doesn't get too excited even though her team is performing well. But after last week's effort, even she was very happy. "Against Nutley we played pretty well after the first quarter," Fucello said. "It is always great to beat them because they are always aggressive. We were very cautious in the first quarter but employed our full-court press in the second frame and took control. Our press has been pretty effective all year, but it is still a gamble. If we aren't quick enough, then it is an easy two points for the opposition."

Nutley jumped out to a 12-5 first-quarter lead. At the outset of the second frame, Fucello called the full-court press and it worked quite well for the Bucs. Belleville outscored Nutley by nine points and took a 21-19 lead at the half. The locals extended their lead to 34-27

Buc cagers suffer year's worst loss

By MIKE LAMBERTI

Having played gutsy, all-out basketball for the first 11 games of the 1978-79 season, the Belleville Buccanier basketball team came out terribly short in its battle with the Nutley Maroon Raiders last Tuesday.

The final score of the game was 75-47, the Bucs' worst defeat of the season by far. The loss lowered the team record to 3-9. On Tuesday of this week, the Bucs were host to the awesome Mounties of Montclair. The Mounties feature an all-state center, 6-8 Craig Robinson and a fine, 6-7 forward in Gregory Hines. They also have a fine backcourt duo of Steve Puryear and Robert Hix.

Head coach Dan Grasso knows that his team has its hands full. "Montclair is powerful, but they aren't unbeatable," at the end of the third quarter. The final frame was pretty well even with Belleville coming out on top by one point enroute to the 48-40 win.

Belleville was led by Joyce Tacullo who scored 12 points, eight of those in the second half. Karen Portuese pumped in 11 points, nine in the second half. Denise Juliano had seven points, Robin Giordano nine, Denise Zarra five and Lisa Wells four. Tracy Dixon led the Nutley girls with 15 points.

Paterson East Side was ranked in the top 20 and was number three in the area. The Buc girls were ranked number six in the area, and both teams had 9-2 records going into last Thursday's contest at Belleville. The game itself was an outstanding effort on the part of both clubs.

Fucello was very satisfied with her team's victory. "It was a great win," said the coach. "It goes to show what we are capable of doing. Paterson East Side is a fine club, and we played them very well. We didn't use our press but stayed back in the zone. I think we could have handled their press in the third quarter a little better, but our conditioning has improved immensely since our double overtime loss to West Morris in the Christmas Tournament."

The Blue-Gold jumped out to an 11-9 first-quarter lead. The girls extended that margin to 26-17 at the half. "We played a beautiful first half," continued the coach. "I knew that they would be a little more offensive in the second half because a team of their caliber is hard to hold down."

Paterson East Side pulled to within one point, 30-29, at the end of the third quarter. In the final frame, a last-second basket by a Paterson girl sent the game into overtime. The first OT was even, but in the second, baskets by Denise Zarra and Robin Giordano proved to be the margin of victory. The Buccanettes played great defense in that second frame, shutting out the Paterson girls.

Belleville was paced by Karen Portuese's 19 points. Joyce Tacullo and Robin Giordano had 10 points apiece. Denise Juliano had nine points, four of them coming on foul shots in the crucial overtime. Lisa Wells popped in four and Denise Zarra had two points. Jeanne Hutchinson led Paterson with 19 points.

Star game's rosters set

Tentative line-ups for the Feb. 1 basketball game between the New Jersey All-Stars and the Belleville Board of Education have been announced.

Playing for the Stars will be Paul Blair of the New York Yankees, Greg Buttle, Burgess Owens and Randy Rasmussen of the New York Jets, base-stealing champ Willie Wilson of the Kansas City Royals and members of the Oakland A's and Minnesota Twins.

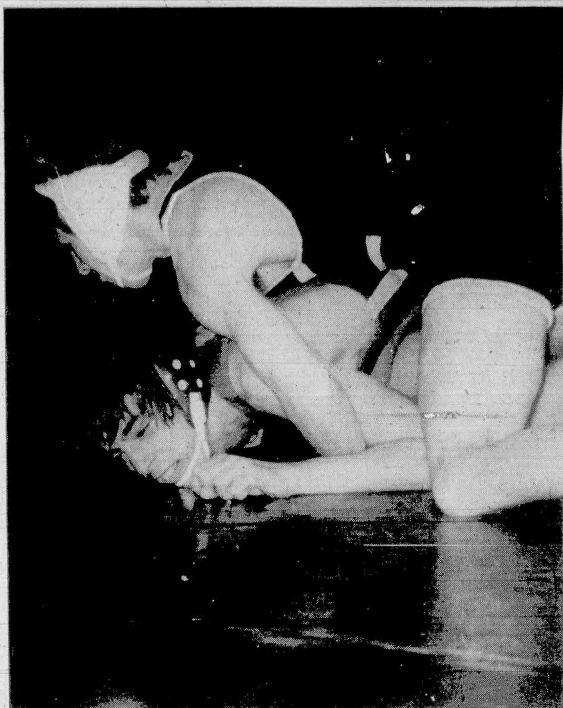

Yankee second baseman Willie Randolph may also be on hand for the game. The Stars will be coached by assistant Jet coach Joe Gardi and Fairleigh Dickinson University basketball coach Al LoBailbo, a former pilot of the BHS cagers.

Playing for Belleville will be the entire Board of Ed, BHS gym teacher Paul Szem and Bellevillites Pete Vaccarelli and Rich Luzzi.

The game will begin 8 p.m. at the high school gym. Proceeds will toward a courtyard in front of the high school for future use by senior students.

Tickets are $3 general admission, $2 for students and may be purchased at DeBacco's Sports Shop, 470 Washington Ave.; Rossmore Pharmacy, 338 Washington Ave.; Muscard Music, 325 Washington Ave.; Plaza Drugs, 351 Franklin Ave.; Belle Maid Deli, 460 Joralemon St.; Corner Deli, corner of Union Avenue and Greylock Parkway; Chief Motors, 352 Washington Ave., and at the junior and senior high school main offices.

The game will begin 8 p.m. at the high school gym. Proceeds will toward a courtyard in front of the high school for future use by senior students.

Mat Mash

Belleville's Jim Cali (above and underneath) struggles to get out from beneath Joe Spinazola of Seton Hall. Although a fine wrestler, Cali could not match the super aggressive Pirate who has beaten opponents on two continents. The Buc lost the 108-pound bout Friday night 16-0.

Cage Crunch

Back Brace

Buc wrestler Tom Graziano (below) is atop Jim Dugan, his Seton Hall opponent in the 101-pound weight class. The Bellevillite prevailed 2-0 in the closely contested bout. His victory gave the Bucs a 3-0 lead, however the home team lost 26-19 before a large crowd Friday night.

Grapplers fall to Hall but set Campers afire

By MIKE LAMBERTI

After a convincing 47-9 triumph over Irvington, the Belleville Buccanier wrestling team fell to a very strong Seton Hall team 26-19 last week.

The split of last week's action leaves the Bucs with a 3-2-1 record. On Wednesday they travel to Madison for a 4 p.m. match. Tomorrow night the team will host Kearny starting at 8. Next Wednesday they will host Caldwell, match time at 8 p.m.

Against Irvington, Belleville was in control most of the way. The Bucs' 101-pounder, Tom Graziano, defeated Steve Young 9-1. The win gave the Bucs a 3-0 lead.

Belleville's 108-pound entry, Jim Cali, pinned Fernando Lima at 1:08 of the first round. Cali has been performing quite well all season. The Bucs now led 10-0.

The Campers closed to 10-3 when their 115-pounder, Brian Roznoy, shut out Buc Gerard Minichini 6-0. Belleville got the points back in the 122-pound class when Mike Lou Pomponio outdueled John Caponigro 5-3. The win boosted the Buc advantage to 13-3.

Mike Stelletta of Belleville continued his impressive wrestling as he dominated his opponent, Mike Perez, 17-0. Stelletta has been doing a great job all season and seems to be improving each day. The Bucs were now comfortably ahead 17-3.

In the 135-pound bout, Ken Miele of Belleville had little problem in defeating his man, Don Collins, 9-1. Belleville's lead was 24-3 after Bob Scherer (141) edged Glen Dougosz 10-8.

Buc Matt Pica was victorious in the 148-pound class as he defeated Dewayne Ellison 9-5. The next two bouts, the 158 and 170-pound clashes, turned out to be pins for Belleville. In the 158-pound match, Jim D'Angelis showed Vinnie Mays the lights at 1:13 of the first round. Chris Musmanno, competing for the first time this year in the 170-pound class continued his excellent wrestling as he pinned Steve Yannotti at 1:14 of the first round.

Please see "Grapplers" on page 13.

Buc cagemen: you can outscore them but you'll never beat them

By MIKE LAMBERTI

To watch the Belleville High School basketball team practice, you would probably think that it is 11-0, ranked number one in the state and is a favorite to win the coveted Essex

so. "But it's also true that we couldn't buy a basket in the game. They performed very well, but I don't think that they're that much better than we are."

The Raiders took control of the game early as they jumped out to a 15-6 first-quarter lead. The second quarter was relatively even, with Nutley outscoring Belleville 12-10 and taking a 27-16 halftime lead.

The third quarter proved to be the deciding factor as Belleville was outscored 22-12 and trailed by a 49-28 score going into the last period. Nutley continued its fine play in the final frame and walked away with the verdict.

The Maroon's Glen Darden led all scorers with 23 points. Nutley's senior captain, Glenn Cocchiola, had 15 and Tom Gaccione added nine. The Bucs were led by Wayne Bubet who scored 15 points. Keith Isler added 13 and Pete Martin had 10.

This afternoon, the Bucs will host the tough Indians of Passaic. On Monday they will travel to Weehawkin for an 8 p.m. tipoff. On Wednesday they travel to Irvington for an afternoon game.

College session Feb. 3 for high school seniors

Academically talented high school seniors can attend Saturday morning freshmen-level courses at William Paterson College in Wayne, beginning February 3.

County Tournament in February.

The Buc head coach is Dan Grasso, a man who teaches business at Belleville High but whose true business is basketball. He has the enthusiasm of a 5-year-old kid who just got a new puppy when it comes to the game. He's the type of guy who can be losing 97-7 with two minutes left in the game and still be riding his team to give its fullest. Witness last season when Belleville was stomped 111-53 by Orange, one of the top teams in the state. The Belboys were without three starters but hustled and played hard until the final buzzer.

Grasso was named head coach at Belleville High before the start of the 1973-74 season. He wasn't given a world of talent to mold, outside of a fellow named Abdel Anderson, but worked those guys hard day in and day out. The result was only a 6-15 season, but to talk to Grasso, you would have thought that team had made it to the state semifinals. He is a man who doesn't know the word pessimism.

Grasso's temper is about as hot as a dorito on a summer's day in Mexico. But he loves his players, and all he expects from them is their fullest effort when it comes to basketball.

Since he became head coach, Grasso has established basketball leagues for kids from the ages of 8 to 13. He encourages all his players to attend basketball camp during the summer. During the summer, he conducts leagues in town that anybody from the age of 8 to 21 can play in.

So, you might ask, why hasn't the sport been a big success since Grasso's arrival? Grasso's winning percentage at Belleville going into this season was .350. So far this season the Bucs have a record of 3-9. They've lost five games by a total of 12 points this year which is typical of a Grasso coached club. His teams are rarely blown-out of the gym; they play good defense but lack a very important ingredient in basketball, height.

Every year, Belleville played such clubs as East Orange, Orange and Bloomfield. These teams had guards that were bigger than the Belleville forwards. It was pretty tough playing defense when a guy like Kelly Tripucka scored 40 points, 12 of them on slam dunks that almost brought the rim down, and a man six-foot, one-inch was covering him. Consequently Belleville's record against these three clubs was 1-33. Thankfully Belleville has dropped East Orange, Orange and Bloomfield from the schedule and only plays Montclair once this year.

There was one year though, Grasso's second of coaching in 1974-75, when it came all together. Belleville played tremendous basketball, finished 12-8 for the regular season and earned an invitation to the prestigious Essex County Tournament. That year Abdel Anderson was a senior. He scored 527 points that season and finished his illustrious career with 1,349.

On Jan. 7, 1975, Abdel broke the 1,000 point mark, the first time a Belleville player had accomplished that feat. The opposition was highly regarded Orange, and Abdel needed 37 points to break the mark. It was an afternoon game at Belleville, and the crowd was fairly sparse. Belleville led by a comfortable margin late in the contest, which was a surprise in itself, and Abdel was just two points away. The crowd although small was very boisterous and though it wasn't announced, everyone knew how close he was. His next shot, a jumper that swished the nets, sent the crowd into total delirium. Abdel practically needed a police escort to make it to the lockerroom. The fans just loved him.

The following game, a home battle with Montclair, Abdel was presented with the ball he scored his 1,000th point with. The gym was packed and Ab received a standing ovation that lasted over five minutes. Even the Montclair players, led by their great head coach, the late Gill Gibbs, were standing and applauding this Belleville legend.

In the Essex County Tournament, Belleville had the very unfortunate honor of drawing East Orange in the first round. East Orange had beaten Belleville twice that year and was 20-0 and ranked number one in the state. The Panthers were also the defending champions.

The game was played at Bloomfield on Thursday, Feb. 20, 1975, in a completely packed gym. Belleville led at the end of the first quarter 19-16 and was nine points ahead in the second quarter. It was at this point that East Orange called a time out. The Belleville fans had visions of victory, the greatest upset in the history of high school basketball. Could their team beat a team that was so good it could probably defeat some college clubs? The answer was no. The Panthers got their act together in the second half and won rather easily 85-55. They eventually won the tournament.

Belleville competed in the state tournament and advanced to the second round before losing to nemesis Montclair. The locker room scene after that game was a page out of Brian's Song. There wasn't a dry eye in the house as the team packed its things for the last time.

In April 1975, Abdel was named All-American by a prominent magazine. He is now a senior co-captain of the Rutgers University hoop squad.

Four years later, Belleville continues to play basketball with the same intensity it did in 1974-75. This year's team, as in the past, is scrappy, gutsy and filled with enthusiasm. You might be able to outscore them, but you'll never beat them.

Duck in Dock — Doug Jackson, a reserve on the Stevens Tech basketball squad, has been hampered by a leg injury so far but hopes to see more action later in the season. The six-foot junior out of Belleville High is on the team for the third year.

Grapplers lose closely fought battle with Pony Pirates in last three bouts

The Buc advantage was now a walloping 4-1-3.

In the 188-pound class, Irvington scored the remainder of its points when Alan Dougousz pinned Buc Joe D'Agostino at 2:49 of the second round. Belleville ended the match on a victorious note when Scott Grant notched a fall over George Georgeles in the heavyweight match. Time of the pin was 2:14 of the second round.

Last Friday night, the Bucs were host to a powerhouse Seton Hall team. The Pony Pirates had a 9-1 record, their only loss coming to Westfield, a team to which the Bucs had also lost.

The Bucs got off to a good start in the match when Tom Graziano blanked Pirate Jim Dugan 2-0. With the win, Graziano improved his individual record to 3-3.

In the 108-pound battle, Seton Hall's Joe Spinazola handed Buc Jim Cali his first dual defeat of the season 1-0. Cali has a 5-1 record in dual matches this year and placed second in the Caldwell Christmas Tournament.

Belleville regained the lead in the 115-pound clash as Gerard Minichini defeated Tom Madden 8-0. Minichini boosted his record to 3-3 with the win.

Seton Hall won the next two weight classes as Rich Wagner stopped Lou Pomponio in the 122-pound

Rec hoop teams go to 5-0 marks

Consistency seemed to dictate the action in the Belleville Recreation Senior Basketball League as three teams improved to perfect 5-0 records last week.

The Silver Lakers remained undefeated by handing Salvatore's Pizza its fifth loss. Sam DeCapua (22 points) and Anthony Dondarski (11) powered the Lakers to their 67-24 victory. Paul Bowles had seven points.

Jim Kelley (12 points) and Danny Borgo (11) led Belleville-Newark Honda to its 60-35 win over DeBacco's. Frank Danieli was high scorer for the losers with 14 points.

Mickey Music topped Three Guys Pizza 52-37. David Cary (13 points) and Percy Flowers (10) were high scorers for the winners. Ralph Velardi led all scorers with 16 points.

In the battle of the winless clubs, Town Cottage edged Giuliano's 52-46. Tom O'Kean (17 points) and Ron Pennetti (14) powered Cottage to its first victory. Jim Giuliano and Dava Calamonica each scored 12 points to keep Giuliano's close throughout the game.

Anthony Coco's 16 points powered Channel Lumber to a 45-35 victory over Guarino's. Wayne Edwards added 11 points for the winners, while Jerry DiGiori led Guarino's with 15.

After five weeks of action, the league-leading scorers are Ralph Velardi 78 points, Danny Borgo 72, Sam DeCapua 68 and Steve Coffey 62.

Suburban girls

The Belleville girls' suburban basketball team was handed its first setback of the season by an experienced Nutley squad. The score was 50-29.

Jennifer Apicelli had 20 points, Donna Campana six and Dina D'Aquino three for Belleville. Coach Camille Casaleto explained that Nutley has had a suburban team for a few years so her Belleville team had played well. The girls will have definite improvement as the season goes on, she added.

To supplement the suburban program the Rec Department runs a girls' elementary basketball clinic for those 8-14 years old. Wednesday nights 7-9 at the junior high girls' gym.

matchup 7-0 and Buc Mike Stellatella was stopped in the 129-pound class 7-3 by Mike Deehan. Pomponio's record is now 1-2, and Stellatella lost only his second bout of the year and stands at 4-2.

Belleville made the match a bit closer when Ken Miele (5-1) decisioned Jeff Canfora (6-1) in the 135-pound bout. Seton Hall got the points back when Keith Lamb outdueled Bob Scherer (2-2) in the 141-pound clash, 10-4.

With Belleville down 14-10, Matt Pica (2-0) won a big battle as he pinned the Pirates' Pete Montiverdi at 5:08 in the third round of the 148-pound bout. The win gave Belleville back the lead 16-14.

Belleville upped the margin to 19-14 when Chris Musmanno (6-0) defeated Dave Rotham 9-5. Unfortunately for the Bucs, their men in the last three weight classes went down to defeat. In the 170-pound division, Mike Gallo of Seton Hall outpointed Jim D'Angelis 7-5. The Belleville lead was still two points 19-17, but 188-pounder Joe D'Agostino was pinned by Bill O'Brien at 5:46 in the third round. Seton Hall led 23-19 going into the unlimited division bout.

It was a tough, bitter and down-to-the-wire battle for the Bucs' Scott Grant and the Pirates' Pete Geguzys. In the end, Geguzys came away with a hard-fought, 4-3 win and Seton Hall came away with a hard-fought 26-19 win.

plained that he would request specific reports immediately. He also said he would call several witnesses at the next hearing.

Scott commented that he was prepared to call about 10 Belleville policemen to testify on recent charges where they were called to Harrison Street disco. He said he had not intended to call any community residents to testify.

Pharmacy Footnotes

Despite wishes, calendars, formula, and science, no one can predict with complete accuracy the day a baby will be born. And regardless of predictions and precautions, babies are often born prematurely. In this country there are about 150,000 such babies born each year. A baby whose birth weight is less than 5½ pounds or who is severely underdeveloped at birth is usually classified as premature. Premature births have a number of causes. In many cases the cause can be controlled while in others neither the physician nor the patient can prevent what happens.

If your physician has given you a prescription to help control or prevent a problem be sure to bring it to us at ROSMARE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. We also handle baby needs; and for Valentine's Day greeting cards, Russell Stover candies and gift items. Hours: 9am-10m daily, 9am-9pm Sundays.

ordinance to take place on the first and second Thursdays in February. The meetings will be held at Town Hall Feb. 1 and 15 at 7:30 p.m.

Significantly, Grande and others on the Planning Board stated publicly Tuesday they were receptive to changing the ordinance and would favorably recommend amendments to commissioners perhaps as early as next month.

Planning Board Attorney Thomas DiBiasi made it clear, however, that the town had not erred or violated any law in not scheduling a hearing before this week.

Commissioner Vincent Strumolo, before his vote, pointed out for the record that both the board and the people could still make changes in the ordinance. "I want to verify that we would still have the power to make changes after the ordinance is approved."

Commissioner Rocco Saletta also stated for the record that "any pending action that has been filed before Tuesday's date, would not be affected under the new ordinance."

Attorney DiBiasi explained that if the board did not vote for the ordinance Tuesday night, "We could be operating under no ordinance as of Feb. 1. We could be under attack on this point for any proceeding in court. DiBiasi added, "and we want to cut this off at the start."

In the question of whether to pass the ordinance before public hearing and amend it afterwards, or table it until hearings later next month, Heibert commented "we could be vulnerable with the former, but we will be protected by the latter."
