Boxed In — Though in the midst of the Easter season, town clerk Eugene "Cappy" Barnett is not pulling a rabbit from the box. Instead, he draws the ballot positions for the upcoming Commission elections on May 8. Albert Guglicelli, Jr. won position 1A while Mayor Michael Marotti seeking his third term won the last position.

BELLEVILLE GETS FEDERAL GRANT

New stadium complex going up this summer

By Donna Abate

The vast area behind Belleville High School will soon become an athletic paradise with new playing fields, basketball and tennis courts and a children's recreational tot lot as a result of a $117,800 federal grant announced today.

Belleville will be required to match the Green Acres funds in developing what Mayor Michael Marotti says will be a new Municipal Stadium complex involving reconstruction and enlarging the running track from a quarter-mile length to 400 meters. The new track will have a surface of crushed cinders.

The $235,800 complex also provides for two courts for basketball, four for tennis and three for paddle tennis.

Craig Brown of Bruno Associates, a consulting firm that lobbies for the town in Trenton and Washington, has been working on the needed grants for more than a year. Specifications were delayed, however, because of drainage problems in the Municipal Stadium area.

The present football and soccer field will also be reconstructed, Mayor Marotti told the Times/News. The existing field will be utilized for football practice and soccer matches. Two new junior fields for Little Leagues baseball are also included in the project's specifications.

Because of complaints from nearby neighbors of the senior baseball field, the new facility will include a diamond pitched at a new angle to minimize interference with residential areas.

Special drainage devices have been included in the specifications being developed by Bruno Associates. Improved lighting, trees and shrubbery are included on the site plans.

Construction is expected to begin as early as June with completion targeted for the fall. The proposed facilities will be open to public as well as high school activities.

Commissioners will cut rejected school budget

Town Commissioners are certain to cut the school budget rejected by voters last week. Commissioners for the past year have expressed displeasure with educational expenses and even agreed to appeal last year's restoration of school budget funds by Trenton to the Supreme Court.

With commissioners facing a reelection test as the polls in less than a month, one official predicted the school budget cut would be substantial. Voters here have now turned down school budgets in 17 of the past 18 years.

By law, the budget passes on from school trustees to commissioners. Should the School Board dislike the cuts made by Town Hall, the educational leaders can appeal to N.

J. Education Commissioner Fred Burke who has a reputation of restoring most cuts made by elected municipal officials.

Commissioners meet today at 4 p.m. to discuss how they'll handle the school budget. At 5 p.m. today, commissioners will sit down with the Board of Education for the first time to review possible accounts where monies can be eliminated from the budget.

"We'll be looking into certain areas and cutting the budget where we can, as long as the children aren't hurt by any change," Commissioner Mary V. Senatore remarked yesterday.

®The people let us know through their votes that they were not satisfied with the budget," she added.

Belleville School Board members were not surprised by the budget's defeat despite an unprecedented three months of public budget hearings. But members appeared frustrated because the budget was within Belleville's 6.38 cap limit increase.

Residents rejected the $7,204,035 current expenses budget 1,027-680 and capital outlay 1,026-646. Commissioners will now recommend cutbacks, possibly axing programs or employees to trim the budget tonight.

The defeated '79-'80 budget was only $769,354 more than '78-'79. The '79-'80 budget which contains $141,000 restored by State Commissioner Burke following last year's budget defeat and cut.

OFFICIALS HERE NOT TOO HAPPY EITHER

Next school administrator must be a lady, courts rule

By Mike Olohan

Belleville school trustees disagreed Monday with a New Jersey affirmative action mandate that the next administrator they hire must be a female member of a minority group.

Belleville's school system could lose $300,000 in federal aid if the Department of Health, Education and Welfare rules that their hiring procedures do not meet affirmative action guidelines, especially in employing minorities.

State Affirmative Action Director Nida Thomas also told trustees that because only two of the school system's 450 employees are from minorities, they must make an extra effort to hire minority members.

Schools Superintendent John Greed said the state's order that the next administrator hired must be a female minority member "might be the beginning of a quota system for Belleville. And I'm opposed to any sort of quota system," said Greed.

Trustee Ernie Zoppi echoed other board members' comments stressing, "People should be hired because they're qualified, not because they're the member of some minority."

Greed said he received Thomas's report March 20 and had some "heated" exchanges over its contents. He said Belleville's affirmative action coordinator, School 9 Principal Joseph Groesch, is discussing the conflict over state dictates with Thomas.

Greed said last year trustees hired two minority members strictly on their competence, not race or sex. These two minority members are the only ones in the school system.

Trustees argued against giving minority members any kind of hiring preference even if past hiring discrimination may have occurred.

"The state wants us to make a conscious effort to hire minority people," said Greed. Trustee Cesar Romano attacked the state ruling, emphasizing "We have never discriminated against any minority."

Greed conceded, however, that the Administration's attempts to recruit minority members, "is a relatively new practice." Greed said the administration advertises job openings in the Star-Ledger and New York Times, but not in specific minority circulation papers or magazines.

"If the federal government is correctly pursuing a policy of non-discrimination, then we shouldn't have to supply the race of job holders and applicants as we are asked to do," said Greed.

Town Commission, won the number one ballot position (1-A) during the drawing last Thursday afternoon. Mayor Michael Marotti, who is seeking his third term, wound up in last place on the May ballot.

James R. Golden and Joseph R. Yeamans, running together on the same ticket, were chosen in the second and third positions respectively.

2A and 3A.

The remaining ballot positions include Michael Attilio Biase, 4A; Joseph T. Fornarotto, 5A; incumbent Vincent T. Strumolo, 6A; Joseph Granes, 7A; Kevin G. Kennedy, 8A; incumbent Mary V. Senatore, 9A; Michael P. Pizzi, 10A; incumbent Joseph F. McGreevy, 11A; Jerry DiNicola, 12A; Matthew A. Pica, 13A; Harry J. Romeo, 14A; Joseph Capezzeria, 15A, and Marotti, 16A.

The Commission elections will take place Tuesday, May 8 from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. The term of office of all duly elected commissioners will commence Tuesday, May 15 at noon.

Challengers must file at Town Hall on or before Tuesday, April 24. Two challengers are allotted for each polling district for each candidate.

The last day to receive requests for civilian absentee ballots at the town clerk's office is Tuesday, May 1.

Private firm to manage school food operation

Noting the Belleville Board of Education lost $25,000 last year on food services in the schools, trustees decided to transfer the program to a private company. Servomation Corporation has been given a $23,400 contract to provide food management and services in all schools for the academic year beginning in September.

Servomation Corporation, Roseland, estimates that $10,000 profit can be made next year and up to $23,000 if prices are raised a nickel — eliminating deficits accumulated from past years.

Sam Petracca, a candidate in this month's School Board election who also manages food operations for the City of Passaic's schools, criticized trustees here for being too concerned with cost while ignoring food quality and nutrition.

Petracca questioned whether meals would be "nutritionally sound," instead of high-calorie, low nutrition junk foods.

"You don't consult the citizens enough before you decide on contracts like this," said Petracca. "It's very disappointing and I'm very upset about this. There's a lot more here that needs study."

Board Vice President Ralph Risoli could not cite exact menus or judge the nutritional content of food being provided by Servomation which annoyed Petracca. Chieffo, however, stressed Belleville school children "will benefit" from the new food service.

Previously, Belleville's school system had handled the food program locally but increasing losses in the past three years has mandated total reorganization.

Many of the 40 people at the high school session appeared surprised when Risoli admitted $25,000 had been lost on food services last year.

"What do you think we're trying to do, sell the children in the Belleville school system short?" asked Risoli of Petracca. "I think yes," Petracca responded charging trustees with wastefully specking $5,400 on "management fees" to run the food program.

Petracca stressed trustees are not asking citizens for advice "in their areas of expertise," and thus paying higher prices for goods and services.

Dandruff, unfortunately, makes its presence known whether we like it or not. Dandruff shampoos can control dandruff but have their limits. The scalp can become immune to the dandruff destroying element in a dandruff shampoo so that the shampoo loses its dandruff destroying power. Switch to another shampoo for a while, until the scalp loses its insensitivity to the first shampoo. If you can find at least three dandruff shampoos that work and use each for a few months at a time, your dandruff should be able to be kept under control.

Woman, 35, charged with Belleville murder

A North Arlington policeman was shot in the back here last week and a 35-year-old woman will face a preliminary hearing for murder next Thursday morning at 9 a.m.

Belleville police received a call last Wednesday night at about 8:30 from Hyland Street residents Street who said there was a man lying in the road.

Gerard D. Sica, 35, was found with a bullet in his back by police. He was taken to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital and was pronounced dead on arrival.

Sica, who resided at 15 Pershing

Place in North Arlington, rented an apartment at 5 Hyland Street within the last month.

Catherine Hogan, 35, was charged with the murder. Hogan, who resides at 62 Clinton Ave., Kearny, is currently out on $2,500 bail.

According to police reports, Hogan stopped at a friend's house in Bayonne after the shooting. The friend, in turn, called Hogan's husband, who notified the Belleville police of his wife's whereabouts.

Belleville Detectives Bart Rossi and Sal LaCoco and Lieutenant Raymond Kimble, who are investigating the case, recovered Hogan's vehicle in a Bayonne diner parking lot and recovered a .38 revolver which belonged to Sica in the vehicle.

The weapon is currently being held for investigation by the ballistic division of the New Jersey State Police.

Hogan, whose husband is both a Newark attorney and Kearny board of education member, will face a preliminary hearing next Thursday at Town Hall at 9 a.m.

BELLEVILLE HAS MOST DELEGATES

Demo mini-convention due next Tuesday night

Belleville's unusually large Democratic Party vote last November is giving the town a significant voice in the selection of November's candidates for the New Jersey General Assembly.

Most observers believe the two Democrat incumbents, Assemblymen Michael Aduhato of Newark and John Cali of Kearny, will be tapped to run for their own seats.

But Belleville Town Democrat Chairman Mary Senatore emphasized this week that "we're going to listen to everyone and consider everyone fairly." Senatore is also Essex County's Democratic vice chairman and wields considerable influence in party politics.

Whatever happens at the party's mini-convention next Tuesday, being held incidentally in Belleville at The Fountain Restaurant, this community will have the biggest say in November's district nominees.

"We have 17 delegates at the convention," notes Mrs. Senatore. Those 17 Belleville votes compare to 13 from the North Ward of Newark, and 10 from Newark's East Ward. Hudson county is sending observers but no delegates to the 30th state legislative district mini-convention.

Next Wednesday, Essex communities will meet again to select candidates for sheriff and registrar of deeds.

Belleville's County Committee met Monday night at Mrs. Senatore's home and selected 17 delegates. By party rules, nine of the delegates had to be non-county committee members.

The non-committee members selected include Charlie Miele who just was elected to the School Board; Joseph Ciccone, Vincent Capetta, Anthony DeSoussa, Joseph Petrillo, Katherine Noonan, Chester Prosperi, Marlo Tucci and Mary Kate Noonan.

The eight delegates who were selected from among the county committee members in Belleville are Edith DeFao, Eunice Conover, William DeVito, Sy Grossman, Frank Debonis, Frank Carragher, Phyllis Miele and Paul MacDonogh.

"Anyone who wants to be considered a candidate for the Assembly should present a resume to Mr. Gausepohl by Tuesday," states Mrs. Senatore. Horace (Bus) Gausepohl, chairman of the Essex County Democratic Committee, can be reached at 24 Commerce St., Newark.

The Fountain Tuesday night will also host delegates from the 27th legislative district which includes Nutley and Bloomfield. Nutley's chairman, Sen. Carmen Orchio, reports incumbent Assemblyman Buddy Fortunato along with Nutley High School teacher Robert Noonan and Verona attorney Kenneth Grubbs are the top contenders for the two ballot nominations. Noonan recently was tapped by County Executive Peter Shapiro for the Essex Community College Board of Trustees. Noonan presently is the trustee's vice chairman.

Construction of new street proposed here

Construction of a new road in the Harrison Street neighborhood is one of the items before tonight's Planning Board meeting. The session is set for 7:30 at Town Hall. Canella Courts and Francis Estates will be heard on a subdivision request for 10 Harrison Street lots where the developer hopes to build two-family homes. The subdivision application involves cutting a new street in the area.

The second case up for a hearing tonight involves a request for a conditional variance by John Giacometti who wants to operate an auto body and repair shop at 110 Roosevelt Ave.

The proposed Pathmark project, which was delayed last week due to a legal problem, next comes before planners Monday night at 7:30 in Town Hall.

School Board election

Voters went to the polls recently to re-elect Caesar Romano and elect incumbent Anthony D'Agostino to the School Board. Replacing Peter Clarizio, who served on the board by appointment, is Charles Miele.

Only 3,386 citizens turned out for the election — a sad commentary of our times.

Although Peter Clarizio had demonstrated much talent in his brief tenure on the board, the voters decided they wanted Charles Miele.

Miele has excellent credentials, and there is reason to believe that his election will add independent balance to the board. Candidates Sam Petracca and Felix Linfante have demonstrated substantial community acceptance, although failing in their election bids.

Belleville is in dire need of public servants dedicated to the public good. It is to fill this need that Linfante and Petracca should not lose interest in future candidacies.

We congratulate D'Agostino and Miele upon their well-earned victories and trust they will help give us a school system that will add to the greater glory of Belleville.

Peter Shapiro's problem

Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro was defeated last week for election as a district delegate to the Essex County Democratic mini convention which is to select candidates for the county and state office. The event is of no political consequence.

Peter lives in Irvington and it was his home town that done him in.

Since his election last November to the chief executive post, Peter has made some major errors. It appears that he is making an effort to seize political leadership of the county Democratic party and, at the same time, undertake a governmental task of monumental dimensions.

Peter can best serve himself and the County of Essex if he concentrated solely on his job as county executive and abandoned his quest for county political leadership.

We endorsed Peter Shapiro's candidacy in the General Election. We will continue to support Peter Shapiro as county executive if he would only tend to the business of his office and issue instructions to his staff to help him run a non-political office. The result will be that political power will automatically come to the door of the Essex county executive.

We like Peter.

We think he is a good man.

We think he could make an excellent county executive.

Unfortunately, his track record the last four months seems to indicate that Peter Shapiro has been more political than executive. For his sake we hope the next four months will prove us wrong.

School budget fails

Belleville voters turned out with a vengeance and defeated the school board budget items — Current Expenses by a vote of 1,027 to 680, and the Capital Outlay budget was defeated 1,026 to 646.

The vote on the budget indicates about only half of the citizens who visited the polls took a position on the budget.

Although we expressed no opinion on the budget before the election, the document was reasonably good for the taxpayers — and more important, did justice by the students of our community.

It is obvious the Belleville electorate continues to be shackled with the philosophy of California's Proposition 13. They seem to say — "Down with taxable expenses come what may."

It is time Belleville citizens realize that citizens steeped in civic pride will think twice about moving to Belleville when year after year its school system budget is defeated — and for no good reason.

Charter study question demands place on ballot

To the Editor:

In recent months your newspaper has occasionally printed stories and editorials on the question of change of government for Belleville. Your editorial on April 5 raised the question of whether there is a strong movement in that direction at this time.

At a recent town meeting several citizens brought the question before the Board of Commissioners and, according to your newspaper, were told that there didn't seem to be much sentiment for change but that the Commissioners would be responsive to the wishes of the people. The Faulkner Act makes provision for this question to be answered and I hope that our commission candidates, incumbents and challengers alike, will make a commitment to place the public question of a charter study commission before the voters on this November's ballot.

Under the Faulkner Act the Board of Commissioners may pass an ordinance calling for the following public question: "Shall a charter commission be elected to study the charter and the present form of government and to make recommendations thereon?" to be placed on the ballot at the next municipal or general election. The ordinance must be passed at least 75 days before that election. Candidates for the five seats on this charter study commission must file to run in that election at least 60 days prior to the election. When the voters go to the polls they do two things: they vote "yes" or "no" on the public question and at the same time select five citizens as members of the charter study commission. Of course, they only serve if the public question is approved. If the public question is approved, the members of the charter study commission must meet within 15 days to select a chairman and begin their work. They then have a maximum of 9 months to study the existing government and the other options which are available and to make their recommendations. If they decide that Commission Government, as it exists now, is the best, no further action is taken. If they recommend a change, this change is put on the ballot at the next general or municipal election and is voted on by the public.

In order for the public question to go on the ballot this November, the ordinance must be approved by our Board of Commissioners no later than its August 14 meeting. With this date in mind, I strongly urge all candidates to now commit themselves to proposing such an ordinance asking for the public question no later than the July 10 Commission meeting.

Change of government can also be initiated by petition. Unfortunately, when done in this manner, it takes on the aura of a semi-private battle between the group which spearheads the movement and the members of the governing body. It can easily become a battle of personalities rather than a cooperative effort on the part of everyone to determine the best way of running our town.

I sincerely urge every candidate to make a public commitment to the "ordinance by July 10" approach toward reevaluating our form of government.

Sincerely,
Al Schmitt

Student loans cost nothing with new rule

A new regulation governing student loans was recently passed. Now, regardless of family income, interest on all student loans will be paid by the federal government until the student begins repayment of the loan.

Announcement of the new regulation was made locally by Mark Schattner, student loan officer at the Howard Savings Bank.

"In view of the rising cost of tuition and other related educational expenses, we expect that students and their families will welcome this interest subsidy provided by the federal government," Schattner told the Belleville Times. "Howard student loans are now interest-free to students while they are attending school."

Students who qualify for loans may borrow up to $2,000 a year for undergraduate study, and as much as $5,000 a year for graduate study. Repayment of the loan begins 9 months after the student graduates or leaves school.

In order to qualify for a loan at the Howard, a student must be a New Jersey resident for at least six months prior to application and be admitted or enrolled as a full time or half-time student. The applicant should be in good standing with an approved educational institution.

FOR THE PAST two years the Howard has granted more student loans than any other financial institution in the state. Howard Student Loans are granted in cooperation with the New Jersey Higher Education Assistance Authority and the U.S. Office of Education. With assets of over $2.4 billion, the Howard is New Jersey's biggest bank with 34 offices in eight counties.

Legion, Auxiliary work for Special Olympics

The Essex County American Legion and its Auxiliary are working in a combined effort for the New Jersey Special Olympics for mentally retarded children and adults.

The group's aim is to send 80 athletes to the 1979 International Summer Games August 9-13 at the State University of New York at Brockport.

Chairman of the committee is past commander of Essex County Jack Gorman, of Post 70 Nutley. Secretary is past county resident Betty Doelling of Unit 70; treasurer is past county president June Januszewski of Unit 70 and department chairman for the special Olympics is Ann Shuster, past president of Unit 70.

Legion and Auxiliary have designed a special button with the Olympic logo and bumper stickers. Proceeds for the sales of these items will go the New Jersey athletes. It costs $300 to send one athlete.

Preliminary competition and elimination will be held at the Fort Dix parade field this month. Each child and adult competing will be given a ribbon whether he qualifies for the International Olympics or not.

The New Jersey Special Olympics is a volunteer program, with thousands of people from high schools, colleges, service and women's clubs, parents' groups, youth agencies, professional groups in education and physical education providing the people power. Special Olympics contributes to the social, physical and psychological development of the mentally retarded. Through successful experiences in sports, they gain confidence and build a positive self image associated with success rather than failure.

ONE-YEAR OLD AT CLARA MAASS

Cancer treatment unit exceeds expectations

The Cancer Treatment Center at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital opened one year ago. Since then, it has treated several hundred local residents.

The hospital's public relations office has produced a narrated color slide show depicting the work of the cancer treatment center as well as other areas of interest to the public.

This free 20-minute program is available for local organized groups. Following the show, there will be a question and answer period by a representative from Clara Maass. To learn more about this program, contact the Clara Maass Public Relations Department, 751-1000, ext. 817.

WHEN THE ultra-modern cancer treatment center was opened last year, statistics anticipated a daily average of 20 patients during the first 12 months of operation. However, within a few months, the million-dollar department reached a peak of 44 patients in a single day — more than double the original prediction.

Equipment purchase and installation cost well over $1 million for the center which is located in a specially constructed sub-ground floor area at Clara Maass. The new department provides advanced methods of treating many forms of cancer.

Included at the facility is an eight-million volt linear accelerator; the first "simulator" to be used for cancer treatment in New Jersey, and a treatment planning computer unique in the country.

The Clara Maass Cancer Treatment Center serves as the primary unit of the Cojoint Center of Academic Radiation Oncology of Northern New Jersey, an incorporated consortium of eight medical facilities that provide cancer treatment in this area.

An important aspect of this consortium is the cooperation involved. Clara Maass serves as a "back-up" facility for other members of the group.

The slide show about the Clara Maass Cancer Treatment Center is of interest to all area residents who would like to know more about the advanced trends in patient care available at the Belleville institution. For additional information about the program, contact Mrs. Jane M. Roll in the Clara Maass Public Relations Dept., 751-1000, ext. 817.

Clown show was popular

More than 100 adults and children attended the recent performance of Paulo the Clown by Paul Klingler at the Belleville Public Library Children's Room.

A long time resident of Belleville, Klingler has performed at many area schools and hospitals.

As a result of entertaining servicemen during the Korean Conflict, Paulo the Clown presents a highly specialized kind of magic.

Treatment Center — Sharon Arbo, dosimetrist in the Clara Maass Cancer Treatment Center, reviews work done by the treatment planning computer with Biomedical Engineer Guy Tirondola of Nutley. The computer is unique in the country. A slide show is available describing the center and other areas of interest to Belleville residents.

Smoking hazard to school health

By CHRIS NEIDENBERG

The latest general meeting of the Student Government Organization (SGO) drummed up a great deal of controversy on smoking in the lavatories at Belleville High School.

The entire auditorium rumbled as the school facilities committee discussed the unpleasant conditions in the high school bathrooms.

Non-smoking students complained that the lavatories are continually cluttered with cigarette butts and filled with an undesirable odor.

Various students commented that smokers have arrogantly violated the rule of using the designated smoking area located just outside the cafeteria. "Both teachers and administration fail to fully enforce the school policy against smoking," others charged.

Many student smokers stressed that one of the main reasons students smoke in the bathrooms is because they feel it's unfair that teachers can smoke in between periods while students face disciplinary penalties for the same action.

"Everyone, both students and teachers, should be able to smoke in the school or no one should," students argued.

Suggestions on how to correct the problem ranged from the moderate plan of establishing an outright smokers lounge to forcing students who are caught smoking in the bathrooms to clean up the facilities.

There were also suggestions that called for teachers to be specifically assigned to watch the bathrooms between periods as they do in the halls.

As the hotly contested debate continues, the School Facilities Committee will investigate the matter in conjunction with the Grievance Committee for possible proposals at the next regular meeting.

In other business, the Social Activities Committee reported on their recent 50's dress up day and suggested plans for an upcoming student teaching day.

The Fund Raiser Committee hopes to have the problem of obtaining money solved, due to the recent SGO cake sale and also proposed to organize several school dances including a square dance.

The Grievance Committee is looking into the complaint concerning the constant announcements being made by the main office during the school periods. Students complain that these announcements disrupt classes, causing them to fall behind somewhat.

Career day 1979 sparks engineers

Students from BHS who are considering a career in engineering attended a career day at Rutgers University two weeks ago which was sponsored by the New Jersey Society of Professional Engineers.

Participating students included Joseph DiPaolo, Tom Hammell, Dawn Hitchner, Leonard Mendola, John Nasisi, Michael Nicosia, Jeff Pico, James Slaters, Michael Sheldon and Michael Trabucco.

These future engineers heard various presentations by Johnson & Johnson, U.S. Army Communications And Electronics Command, Research-Cottrell Company and New Jersey Bell Telephone as well as talks on college life and curricula from New Jersey engineering colleges.

Dr. Richard Benninger, director of student personnel, and John Lemongello, mathematics coordinator, chaperoned the event.

Garden group holds meeting

St. Peter's Church parishioners, who are currently planning to establish a community garden to involve the town people, will hold a meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. at St. Peter's school cafeteria.

The meeting will help determine how land will be apportioned for the project, which is an outgrowth of an Archdiocesan program called RENEW.

All interested persons are invited to attend through the parking lot entrance of the school.

The group held an initial meeting last Saturday to discuss the community garden which would include various fruits, vegetables and flowers to be planted, cultivated and harvested by the community.

The land has been provided by and is located near the church property.

Anyone interested in more information on the group can call 751-2089.

OPINION

by JIM KASYE

Although most Belleville high school students feel that the Student Government Organization (SGO) is doing a good job, there is still room for improvement.

According to a recent survey, several students commented that SGO representatives do not seek out enough views from students about school issues.

A popular statement concluded that most students have problems to share with SGO, but they don't know who their representatives are and how to contact them.

Students suggest that SGO members should address their respective homerooms and collect student views on school policies.

If the students and the representatives speak up enough, eventually the policies of the school could be changed if a valid argument is presented. Students do feel the school is fair and they will be fair in their answers to representatives.

One of the major achievements of the SGO representatives was to get exemptions from final exams. The students wanted this and they received it, even though a senior needs a 3.8 average in four years to be exempt.

Since this is the first year in about nine that Belleville High School has had a student government, the group must be commended. But, let's see more improvement in familiarizing students with their representatives and utilizing means for receiving the utmost feedback.

Metric Maniacs — Fourth grade science students at School 5 proudly display the metric tee-shirts they received after labeling various objects throughout the building in the new system.

Metric mania hits School 5

Fourth grade science students at Greylock School recently caught "metric fever" as they measured and labeled various items throughout the school building. Fourth grade science students recently received "Metric Mania" tee-shirts after they utilized the system by measuring and labeling various items throughout the school.

G. Russo, Science instructor at School 5, taught the students how the metric system works and gave them various items in the school to measure and transform.

With the help of John Senesky, Industrial Arts instructor, the children participated in the silk screening process of putting "Metric Mania" on tee-shirts for the students.

Senesky himself designed the logo.

School features art

Principal Pat Forte of School 1 and art teacher Kenneth Burde features an "Artist Of The Week" at School 1 during the month of April.

The first winners, Jennifer May and Sofia Kingalaha, were awarded art supplies to further their artistic endeavors.

Miss May, a third grader, created a colorful poster showing herself surrounded by art work on easels in an artist's studio. Miss Kingalaha depicted a landscape painter.

Winning posters are and will be displayed in the main office of the building.

Industrial Artist — John Senesky, Industrial Arts teacher, designed the tee-shirt logo and instructed the students how to silk screen the design.

Cicci wins pin

Gary Cicci, a junior at BHS, recently won a mathematics pin at the Annual Scholastic Awards dinner for his mathematical achievement at the school level.

Tom Rosamilia, last year's winner, placed second and Ralph Sualterri finished third in the contest.

Eighteen juniors and 21 seniors from the high school participated in the 13th Annual Mathematics Contest sponsored jointly by the Mathematical Association of America and the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Puppets toast Spring

Marion Castellano's third graders at School 9 welcomed the first day of Spring with a puppet show entitled "Watch Out, Springtime."

Michael McGuire portrayed "Peep Frog," Vincent Smith played "Nutsy Squirrel," Chris Rivera played "Freezing Breeze" and Roxanne Kunzman was "Springtime." The students constructed the puppets from socks and various materials. After the performance they demonstrated what goes on behind the scenes during a puppet show.

Miss Castellano commented along with audience members that the children's animated voices and control of the puppets displayed the professionalism of the Muppet Show as seen on television.

Price Stitch — Dawn Price of School 2 displays her cross-stitch design "Girl With A Bird" which she learned how to create in a six week pilot program on the traditional art of counted cross-stitch. Local parents Barbara Higgins, Rosalie Paserchia and Rosalie Higgins taught the course.

Belleville Bass — Eugene Moriello (left) and Joe Sandora add to the orchestra music by playing the bass. Both students represented Belleville High School in a combination orchestra of 65 New Jersey participating high schools.

Orchestrator leads talented musicians

Edward Black, orchestra director for Belleville High School, led an orchestra composed of select musicians from various northern New Jersey schools in a symphony concert last Sunday night at the BHS auditorium.

Eugene Moriello and Joseph Sandora of Belleville High School were chosen to represent the school as bass players in the 93-student symphony orchestra.

Black met with other musical directors throughout New Jersey who each choose select musicians to represent the various high schools.

Each year the directors meet and gather together to select a symphony of New Jersey students. A different musical director is also selected each year to conduct the orchestra.

Black was chosen this year to conduct the orchestra which he chose to present at the Belleville High School auditorium.

"It's truly a combination of the best kids throughout New Jersey," Black commented.

Black also explained that 65 schools participated in the event and auditioned for the orchestra. Selections range from symphony pieces to various songs from the soundtrack of "That's Entertainment."

Black played for 10 years in the New Jersey Symphony. He specializes in the violin and French horn. He has also taught orchestra in various high schools in the northern part of the state.

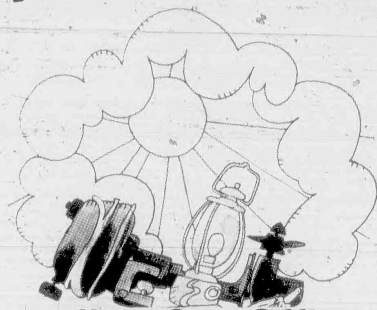

Edward Black — Music orchestra teacher Edward Black of Belleville High School led a 93-student band representing 65 New Jersey high schools last Sunday.

Buc Shots

Officials are guilty of more than error

They run across the plain with quickness and grace. They are horselike creatures with a black and white coat. They are called zebras and can be found in Africa and in a lot of zoos.

There is another type of zebra that roams across the basketball court, the ice on which a hockey game is played and on the football field. These zebras have been nothing but a pain to the athletes who are trying to perform their specific skills. These days they induce about as much joy and enthusiasm as winning a trip to Three Mile Island. The name of this very unpopular type of zebra is the referee.

There was a time when the referee was a welcome sight on the field of play. He was there to control the game and to make the best call possible. He was not there to root for his favorite team or to tell members of the other club that they were a disgrace and an embarrassment on the field.

In case you think I just made up the last statement, let me refresh your memory a little. On Nov. 4, 1978, the Belleville High School Football team traveled to South Orange to face the highly rated Pony Pirates. Seton Hall was undefeated and in the top five in the state. Belleville was having its best season in nine years and was primed for an upset. Seton Hall was a well drilled team, had an excellent running back in John Merklinger and in truth was the better team.

However, the officiating of the game had all the impartiality of a kangaroo court. When the Belleville players came onto the field (Seton Hall was already there), the officials were talking to the Pirate head coach. When the Belleville coaching staff came to its side of the field, none of the officials made a gesture to introduce himself. That is usually the first thing a referee will do when a coaching staff takes the field.

During the game, Belleville was hit with twice as many penalties as the Pony Pirates. This is not to say that some of the calls against Belleville weren't justified. But some of the "misread" calls against the home team were horrendous omissions. What made the performance even more pathetic was that the officials told the Belleville players during the game that they were a disgrace. One heavy-tongued zebra claiming to be from Belleville told a group of Bucs they were embarrassing him. When a Belleville coach asked the official why he seemed to be pulling against Belleville, the official gave the coach a dirty look and whined for the coach to leave him alone.

This, keep in mind, was from a man officiating a high school game, a game that was supposed to be fun. At the end of the contest, Belleville's low-key head coach, John Senesky, asked the official what his name was. The official's arrogant, unprofessional answer: "I don't have a name."

Belleville did lose the game, and Senesky was quick to point out to his very disappointed players that Seton Hall was a good team. Don't blame the officials, he counseled, because players are the ones who determine the outcomes of games. John Senesky is one of the classiest guys in high school athletics. He was burning at the calls the officials made but was quick to point out that the playing is done on the field.

Now everyone will say that the official is human and he does make mistakes in the course of a game. About four years ago, Belleville was playing Bloomfield in a basketball game at Bloomfield. Belleville had Abdel Anderson and Bloomfield had the Tripucka brothers, T.K. and Kelly. The Bellboys trailed 67-65 with 10 seconds remaining. Bloomfield took the ball out from under its own basket. Bob Tosi, a Belleville guard, stole the ball and hit a layup to tie the score. The official ruled that he traveled, though. There was no way that Tosi could have traveled. He stole the ball right under the Bloomfield basket and just layed it in. But the fact that the game was played in Bloomfield and in front of a packed house influenced the ref.

It is true that these men in stripes are high school referees and shouldn't be expected to do a perfect job. So what about the men who officiate at the college and professional games? Two weeks ago, I watched Indiana State and Michigan State play for the most coveted prize in college basketball, the NCAA championship. There were some calls that were never made despite obvious violations. Larry Bird, the Indiana State center, was in perfect position to draw an offensive foul. He had position three seconds before a Michigan State man came barreling into him. There was no call, instead an easy two points for MSU. That type of poor officiating went on all through the game. Finally the announcers — Billy Packer, Dick Enberg and Al McGuire — were moved to comment on how many calls these men were missing.

Last fall, I was at the Jets-New England Patriots football game. It was a tremendous battle, and it would have been a perfect game had the officials not made so many errors. The Jets led 17-16 with less than two minutes left. New England had the ball, fourth down and 10 to go. Steve Grogan, the Pat quarterback, threw a pass to Harold Jackson who dropped the ball. Jackson was so mad that he dropped the ball and bumped into the Jets free safety, Shafer Suggs.

The official threw a flag at Suggs claiming unnecessary roughness. New England got an automatic first down. One minute later, the Pat kicked a field goal and eventually won 19-17. If the fans had their way, that official would be hanging from the flag pole right now.

Then there was a call in the Super Bowl that was absolutely unbelievable. Steeler Lynn Swan was racing to catch a pass with the Cowboys' Bennie Barnes right on him. Now I'm a Steeler fan, but I couldn't believe that the officials called a penalty against Barnes. Swan tripped and fell under his own power as Barnes went diving for the ball. The pass was incomplete, but the official ruled that Barnes committed a pass interference violation, and the Steelers held possession of the ball and eventually scored the winning touchdown.

For all the bad things one can say about the referee, one shouldn't discount the decent things he does. The blunders that I pointed out were made by a select few. For the most part, these middle-aged men, who run up and down the court or field do a reasonable job. It's just a shame that you run into men who are influenced by crowds, controlled by favorites or shackled by their own ignorance and stupidity.

Buc diamondmen split controversial twin bill

By Mike Lamberti

Splitting a double-header isn't all that bad. It's when you lose a half of the double-header to poor officiating that begin to seethe inside.

That's exactly what happened to the Belleville Buccaneers baseball team in its 1979 debut last Saturday. The Bucs played a double-header at Middletown in weather that the New York Jets would probably find unsuitable. The Bucs won the opening game 6-2 as senior fireballer Dan Borgo continued his masterful pitching after a great campaign last year. In the night cap, the Bucs were beaten by Middletown and the umpires 8-3.

Tuesday, the Bucs were host to Barringer, the defending city league champs, and on Saturday will be the home team at Passaic.

Buc Coach George Zanfani was satisfied with the outcome of the first game. "We had some timely hitting and Danny pitched well," said the coach. "The first 10 days of April have been brutal weather-wise, and last Saturday was a bitter cold day. Danny was wild for three innings but then calmed down and threw very well for the last four innings."

Borgo's totals were 11 strikeouts and four walks over the entire seven innings. Dave Lynch started for Middletown and was relieved by Matt Lenzi in the fifth. Lenzi was the eventual loser of the game.

The Bucs collected eight hits and committed three errors in the contest. Belleville put the game away in the fifth inning when senior Jim Tensfeldt smacked a three-run homer to put the Bucs ahead 4-2. That was all that Borgo needed as it turned out since he mowed down the opposition rather easily the rest of the way.

The nightcap was a different story. "We didn't play well, but the officiating didn't help," said Zanfani. "I'm not saying that we would have won the game, but it would have been a different story if the officiating was a little bit better."

By the time the second game came around, the travel-weary Bucs were feeling the effects of the long trip and old man winter. Still, the Bucs were leading 3-2 when the fatal fourth inning came around. There was one out and Middletown had the bases loaded. Jim Kolacki of Middletown hit a grounder to second baseman Anthony Dondarski. Dondarski threw to first baseman Borgo for the apparent out, but the umpire ruled that Borgo had not stepped on the bag. Borgo then threw to third, hoping for a putout there, but the man was safe on another questionable call.

The next batter, Dave Scott, tried the squeeze play. The pitcher, Tensfeldt, fielded the ball and threw to catcher Anthony Cossentino trying for the putout. John Johnson, the runner, was ruled safe, and the score was tied. Jeff Kinkel then singled in the go-ahead run. At this point, Anthony Coco came in to pitch for Belleville. After he struck out Doug Seales, Bill Josko singled home two runs. On the ensuing throw from the outfield, a third run came in, and the Bucs were down 7-3.

Eddie Aulisi of Belleville pitched the sixth inning and didn't allow a run. Tensfeldt took the controversial loss. Brian Olarte of Middletown was the winning pitcher. He allowed three runs on four hits and struck out 10 Bucs. A glaringly negative statistic in the second game was that the Bucs committed another three errors.

Due to the inclement weather, the Bucs' first two games of the year against Montclair and Essex Catholic were postponed. Essex Catholic was scheduled for Sunday and Monday, but the game was postponed both times. The contest with Montclair is now scheduled for April 25.

Blue-Gold oarsmen beat Kards soundly

By John Jurich

The Belleville High crew team left Kearny barely treading water Saturday, winning five of seven races and upping its record at the varsity level to 2-0.

"It's the first time we've taken all the major races against Kearny," said Blue-Gold Coach Sam Giuffrida Monday.

The varsity eight — coxswain Jim Cali, stroke Mark Davis, Ken Nash, Perry Mayers, Cliff Williams, Joe Giuliano, John Prayata, Joe Ferrara, and George Skruskie — won by three seconds. A second varsity boat was victorious by six seconds, a third by five.

The senior four defeated the Kard boat by 10 seconds, while the frosh eight — Greg Bayere at bow, Joe Stanzone two, Frank Pizzarelli three, David Bambrock four, John Buccarelli five, Nick Massa six, Brian MacAlinden seven, Bob Cassen stroke and Robert May at coxswain — won by 25 seconds.

"They were very impressive," said Giuffrida. "We're looking for big things out of the freshman boat."

A second frosh shell fell by 12 seconds, while the jayvee four, rowing with but two practices, finished eight seconds behind Kearny.

The varsity eight race went "exactly like we thought," according to Giuffrida. "We expected Kearny in the first quarter to take the lead because they were out-stroking us."

Even with the higher number of strokes being taken by the Kards, the Buc oarsmen kept close through the first quarter eventually pulling even and away to win what Giuffrida called a "big, important race."

The Blue-Gold boat avenged last season's loss to the Cardinals and gained the impetus to try even harder for the races to come. The Bucs face Arlington High School in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., this Saturday and take on archrival Nutley this coming Wednesday.

"The thing that's really carrying our team is the attitude," said Giuffrida. "The kids are really doing the job — and not just the varsity. They're set goals for the season and they're taking their time to meet their goals."

Belleville High runners manage to scale Mountain but fall twice

Coping with freezing temperatures, high gusts of wind and dark clouds, the Belleville High School track team commenced its 1979 season by winning one of three meets.

The team started the season with a double dual meet against Mountain and Nutley. The local harriers split that contest by whipping Mountain 73½ to 57½ before having the favor returned them by the Maroon Raiders 86-44. The following day, the team traveled to Caldwell and ended up on the losing side of a 72-41 score.

On Tuesday the team was to host a fine Passaic squad, weather permitting, but the results were in too late for this edition. Today Belleville is host to powerful Montclair starting at 3:45 p.m.

The win against Mountain was especially surprising since the West Orange team had beaten the Bucs rather badly last year. The loss to Nutley came as no great surprise considering the Maroon has always had a very good team and has been dominant over the Bucs in the last couple of years.

Senior co-captain Mike Graham, sidelined with a stress fracture of his foot that kept him out for the entire cross country season, made a successful return to the cinders by winning the half-mile. The defending all-area runner seems to be in pretty good shape and could still break his own record of 1:59 that he set in the state sectionals last year.

Another upperclassman, Rich Gaske, was victorious in the javelin throw against Mountain but fell short against Nutley. A 184-foot heave by Nutley's Chris Teresi prevented the Bellevilleite from coming up a double winner.

Gaske is nearing the Belleville High javelin record of 167 feet, four inches, set in 1978. According to head coach Rich Ruffalo, "Rich should break that record before the county championships come around."

He threw 151-7 in a stiff wind at Caldwell and should be even more effective once the warm weather comes around."

The mile relay team came up a winner against Nutley and Mountain with a time of 3:50. The four men, Ken Duva, John Vaccaro, Dean Santulli and Mike Graham have an excellent shot at breaking the school record of 3:35 set in 1975.

Ruffalo was fairly satisfied with his team's effort in the double dual meet. "Last year," he noted, "both of those teams beat us, with Nutley beating us very badly. This year, we beat Mountain and I feel ran rather well against Nutley."

The Caldwell meet was ab- Please see "Buccanette" on page 13.

Softball squad stomps West Orange in opener

Behind some good hitting and some timely pitching, the Belleville High School girls' softball team started the 1979 season with a flourish by bombing a highly regarded West Orange team 11-5.

Yesterday, weather permitting, the girls were to have been at Bloomfield. On Monday they will host St. Cecilia beginning at 3:45 p.m.

BHS head coach Eve Lautenschlager was pleased with her team's debut against West Orange. "We played very well," said the coach. "Our pitching and hitting were very good for this time of year."

Belleville pitcher Leonora Siubis went the distance for the Bucs and allowed five runs on eight hits. Her control was excellent as she didn't walk a batter. Rosenboro started for West Orange and was relieved by Vitello in the fourth inning.

The Buccanettes started the scoring with two runs in their half of the first inning. West Orange answered with a run in the bottom of the first.

The score remained 2-1 Belleville until the third inning. It was then that the Buc girls broke the game wide open by tallying four runs. Marilyn McCaffrey's single with the bases loaded was the big blast of the inning.

Belleville boosted its lead to 9-1, in part thanks to Joyce Iacullo fifth-inning solo homer, before West Orange countered with its second run. The locals led 11-2 as the last frame began. West Orange scored three last-inning runs to make the final score a respectable 11-5.

"I feel that we're definitely ahead of last year's pace," concluded the coach. "We always had trouble with West Orange in the past, so this win was especially satisfying." — By Mike Lamberti

Holy Family sponsoring tour of Italy in summer

Holy Family Roman Catholic Church will sponsor a tour of Italy this summer.

Officially designated "Roman Holiday '79," the trip will be the ninth sponsored by Holy Family since 1971.

The tour will take travelers to Rome, Florence, Venice, Naples, Assisi and Padua in Italy and Lugano in Switzerland. In Rome, the group will have an audience with Pope John Paul II and visit the Vatican, the Sistine Chapel, the tombs of the popes, the catacombs and St. Peter's Basilica.

The party will travel by air-conditioned motor coach, and hotels will all be first class. Departure is set for June 23 from Holy Family courtyard from where transportation to JFK International Airport will be provided. Return will be July 8, and transportation has again been arranged from JFK to Nutley. Overseas travel will be by jet.

The church is sponsoring the tour in conjunction with Nutley Travel (235-1234). The tour is open to parishioners and non-parishioners.

Gale Winds Friday — Belleville police officers survey the scene after a large tree fell on Minkler Place Friday. The tree, toppled by winds which gusted up to 52 mph, took a cable wire down with it and scratched a car parked on the street but otherwise did little damage. —Photo by Diane Villanueva.

Four gypsies jailed in town for burglaries

Four Brooklyn "gypsies" are currently being held for attempted burglary of the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. DeFrosia at 277 Hornblower Ave. Belleville police received a call at 10 a.m. March 2, that two women and one male were "acting suspicious" in the area of 277 Hornblower Ave.

Police arrested Lutek Tabacek, 19; Aro Keli, 21, and Zussy Marno as they were exiting the home. A second male associate, Jan Curary, 50, was also arrested in a nearby vehicle.

The four "gypsies" face a break and entry charge before the grand jury.

Belleville Deputy Chief Frank Haight commented that both the uniform policemen and detectives worked together on the case.

Hearing set here on rape charges

Martin West, 23, of Irvington will face a preliminary hearing next Wednesday night for charges of raping a 23-year-old woman here last Tuesday at 6 a.m.

Catherine DellOsso, also an Irvington resident, approached Belleville police and said that she met West in Newark and planned to drive with him to Belleville for coffee.

DellOsso charged that West forced her to have relations at knifepoint then stole her money and pushed her out of the car.

DellOsso explained that she was not working when she met West in Newark.

The hearing will occur next Wednesday night at 7 at Town Hall.

THE DEADLINE TO REGISTER OR TRANSFER FOR THE PRIMARY ELECTION IS MAY 7, 1979.

Many voters couldn't find budget on ballot!

Why did 1,600 persons who were at last week's school polls decide to skip voting on the budget referendum?

The answer, say local trustees, is voters probably couldn't find the budget question on the ballot.

Several trustees admitted they personally had a "hard time" locating the budget question on election machines. Board members recommended putting "large signs or posters" at polling places depicting where each specific item or issue appears inside the polling booth.

Vice President Ralph Risoli told trustees no signs could be put inside the voting booth but detailed posters might increase voting on the budget if placed near the polling booth.

Trustees also urged Superintendent Dr. John Greed to check whether civic teachers are explaining to students how to vote and its importance. "We don't want students to be scared off by their first experience with voting," said Trustee Caesar Romano.

Town budget set for hearing Monday

The Board of Commissioners will hold a special meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the Senior High School for a public hearing on the proposed 1979 municipal budget.

All taxpayers and interested persons are invited to attend.

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

The Belleville Chapter of the Old Guard had a representative from the American Red Cross at their meeting last week who explained the life saving method, pulmonary resuscitation. There was a demonstration with the talk and the members were enlightened and alerted to what to expect and how to act in an emergency.

The members of the Belleville Senior Citizens Club were also fortunate to have speakers from the Essex County Heart Association at their Tuesday meeting. Mr. Pilsner of the coronary care unit of Beth Israel Hospital gave an informative talk on hypertension and Mr. Ed Mamary of the Belleville Health Department spoke on the "Vial of Life." We thank our local Health Department for arrangements that brought these speakers to our meeting. We gain an insight into some of our ills through people like these two gentlemen, from this added knowledge, for those who took heed, we can recognize symptoms of oncoming illnesses pertaining to the heart and then act accordingly. We are looking forward to the trip to Asbury to attend the New Jersey Federation Convention on April 18. Be on time seniors, the buses will be leaving at the appointed time. Bring a lunch if you wish or buy it in Asbury. Plenty of eating places will be open, we are told. Parking for buses will be close by and the delegates will be afforded every convenience. Belleville Senior Citizens Club members take note; the Spring Party is on the way, April 21 at the Senior Recreation Center and Mother's Day party tickets for May 14 at Beppy's are available.

It seems as if the Essex County Group have been moving around a bit while waiting for their clubhouse in the park to be completed. We have been informed that the three groups will now meet in the Moose Hall on Honis Street at Eugene Place, directly behind St. Anthony's Church in the Silver Lake section. The Monday, Wednesday and Thursday Clubs will all have meetings starting at 1:00 p.m. and the rooms will be open until 4:00 p.m. This moving around business should not reflect on the members of these groups. We are told that forces beyond their control are responsible for the shifts. So keep a stiff upper lip, seniors, you'll soon be home. It is to your credit that you are still waiting patiently and sticking together in spite of adversity.
