WOULD HAVE RIDEN AMBULANCES

Medic job positions nixed by commission

By Donna Abate

Although his last ordinance was rejected and anger flared at the approval of the self-insurance resolution, Rocco Saletta thanked fellow board members during his last town meeting as officiating commissioner last Tuesday night.

"I want to thank the mayor and fellow commissioners for many accomplishments in the last four years," Saletta said as he shook Marotti's hand.

Saletta was disturbed throughout the meeting, however, especially when Commissioners Vincent Strumolo, Mary V. Senatore and Joseph McGreevy rejected his ordinance to incorporate a division of Emergency Medical Ambulance Service within the department of Public Safety.

The ordinance, according to Saletta and Fire Chief George Sbarra, would establish job titles for CETA employees specifically to handle the ambulance services in Belleville.

But others on the commission feared Saletta might be setting up and guaranteeing job positions in a department he no longer will head after next Monday. If the money eventually runs out, that would be the time to create the new ambulance service positions, said the commission majority.

Saletta explained that CETA monies funded by the state, would run out by Sept. 30 and the new ordinance would establish positions for these 12 workers.

Sbarra later explained that since the fire department is understaffed presently after seven men recently retired, using CETA workers for the ambulance service instead of firemen would provide more town protection

He also noted that this would save the town money because the CETA workers would alleviate calling full time firemen to cover lacking areas for time and a half during sicknesses or emergencies.

Saletta questioned each commissioner about why they rejected the ordinance. Mrs. Senatore felt the ordinance "illegal" although Town Attorney John Scott stated it was legal.

McGreevy said the ordinance was "premature. When the CETA money runs out, then let's vote on an ordinance."

Strumolo, agreeing with McGreevy, questioned why the ordinance should be voted on before the money runs out.

In the middle of his last meeting, Saletta proudly awarded five policemen and one civilian with plaques for services beyond the call of duty to the Belleville Police Department.

Commissioners also put a moratorium on the number of coin operated gaming machines in Belleville businesses, limiting them to no more than three.

Belleville commissioners slashed $162,000 from the school board's $11,275,576 budget Wednesday but trustees are expected to appeal the cut this week.

The commissioners cut the budget, up $769,354 over last year yet within the 6.38 percent "cap" limitation. Two weeks ago, trustees seemed annoyed and troubled after pleading with commissioners not to butcher the budget because they knew cuts were inevitable.

The $162,000 reduction means a local tax bill still will rise "15 or 16" tax points, according to Finance Commissioner Joseph McGreevy.

Despite Commissioner Rocco Saletta's urgings to close schools and redistrict, the four incumbent commissioners left those so-called

Pathmark wins approval but could face legal test

Town shoppers may be able to finish up Christmas shopping right in Belleville this December at a new Pathmark Shopping Complex which was approved by the Planning Board Monday night.

Planners unanimously approved the site plan for the complex being built on the old Westinghouse plant property on Washington Avenue. Construction probably will be delayed, however. Plan Board Chairman Joseph Grande expects Pathmark developers to be forced into court by an irate neighbor objecting to the complex.

Newark attorney Louis Krieger, who represents Chatsworth Properties, has attended every meeting in the last several weeks objecting to the board's authority to vote on the project.

Krieger's client owns a strip of property 20-feet long just above the Transcontinental Pipe Line near the proposed employee parking area for the complex.

Krieger refused to give any information on his client or whether Chatsworth Properties would bring the Pathmark developers to court.

"I'm very happy with the planners' decision," Harold Wachtel, president of Shopping Center Developers Ltd. said. "I'm sure the people of Belleville will benefit greatly by their new shopping center."

Wachtel also stated that he had not heard from any representatives of Chatsworth Properties about a possible court case.

Throughout the meeting, Krieger urged the planners not to pass the site plan charging the complex to have "defective" storm sewerage. He also questioned whether the site plan fell under the correct zoning requirements.

After a brief caucus, the Planning Board approved the site plan provided eight conditions be fulfilled.

They required guard rails around three sides of each cart return, low lighting in the entrance driveway, stairs from the ground level to the parking garage and stipulated prohibition of placing refuse off the sidewalk area.

The planners also stipulated that the signs within the complex not exceed the zoning requirements and that approval be communicated to them by PSE & G, town engineer, Essex, Passaic and Hudson Soil and the fire department.

Planner Joseph Doyle noted that at least two fire exits would exist within each store as well as throughout the complex.

In an earlier application by John Giacometti during the last meeting, the Planning Board approved the proposal for a conditional use at 110 Roosevelt Avenue to conduct an Auto Body Shop under certain conditions.

Schools considering appeal of budget cut by Town Hall

By Mike Olohan

Belleville commissioners slashed $162,000 from the school board's $11,275,576 budget Wednesday but trustees are expected to appeal the cut this week.

The commissioners cut the budget, up $769,354 over last year yet within the 6.38 percent "cap" limitation. Two weeks ago, trustees seemed annoyed and troubled after pleading with commissioners not to butcher the budget because they knew cuts were inevitable.

The $162,000 reduction means a local tax bill still will rise "15 or 16" tax points, according to Finance Commissioner Joseph McGreevy.

Despite Commissioner Rocco Saletta's urgings to close schools and redistrict, the four incumbent commissioners left those so-called "political hotcakes" alone, not even mentioning them at Wednesday's meeting.

Commissioners Mary Senatore, Vincent Strumolo and Joseph McGreevy along with Mayor Michael Marotti, (excluding Commissioner Rocco Saletta who said he was not invited to Wednesday's meeting) unanimously okayed cuts of $130,600 from the instruction account (mostly salaries), $1,000 from the textbook fund, $7,000 from library and visual aids, $1,000 from teaching supplies and $7,500 from capital outlay.

Also cut was $8,000 from miscellaneous instruction fees, 5,000 for field trips and $2,000 from a general athletic fund.

Saletta charged the commissioners with "playing politics" by not cutting more than $162,000 from the budget, implying they feared talk about closing schools or redistricting — which could save money — but might hurt the incumbents' May 8 election chances.

School Board members have been discussing redistricting for years, even more vocally over the past six months, yet no action has been taken.

Although school closings appear inevitable because of declining enrollment, trustees deny any schools will close next year "or soon", trying to avoid a mass confrontation with parents.

Trustees emotionally defended the "neighborhood school concept", even when asked to speculate about possible school closings.

Surprisingly, commissioners trimmed $7,500 from capital outlay funds (building repair and upkeep) despite previous comments they would leave that account untouched. A long range planning study of Belleville schools shows $5.5 million in capital outlay is needed just to bring them "up to par" says trustee Ernie Zoppi.

Vice President Ralph Risoli said Tuesday cutbacks in school personnel — teachers, maintenance and secretaries — might be necessary to meet the reduction.

"I thought they were going to cut more," said Risoli. "We on the board have to get drastic in cutting back. The parents are not satisfied with what they're paying for," stated Risoli.

Risoli said because some Belleville school children are not adequately learning basic reading, writing and thinking skills, parents feel cheated and vote down the school budget.

Seniors will dedicate banner at recreation center tomorrow

The Senior Citizens Club of Belleville, which first organized in January of this year, will dedicate the club's first banner tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the recreation center on Franklin and Mill Streets.

Club members, under president Harry Reynolds, have invited all town commission candidates to join in the ceremony and then meet with Belleville's senior citizens.

SALETTA STRONGLY OPPOSES BUT HE'S ALONE

Self-insurance plan will save $76,000 this year

Belleville could save $76,000 on insurance costs this year because commissioners this week adopted a self-insurance program rather than contracting policies with traditional companies. The $76,000 savings' estimate comes from Finance Director Joseph McCreedy but Commissioner Rocco Saletta, who opposed the measure, contends rather than help budgeting, the McCreedy play will cost "a phenomenal amount of money."

Saletta is so upset with the plan that he said he had his fingers crossed the vote wouldn't be taken this week. "I didn't want to end my last regular meeting on such a bad note," Saletta said.

Saletta is not seeking reelection to a second term at next month's polls. But during a conference session Monday, he was extremely critical of the self-insurance plan commissioners adopted by a 4-1 vote Tuesday night. A day earlier, Saletta was even suggesting "someone is going to make a lot of money off of this." He was not more specific.

Addressing commissioners Monday afternoon was David Martin of Rasmussen Agency in East Orange, which will coordinate the Belleville self-insurance plan. Martin says his company is "the largest administrator of self-insurance programs in New Jersey" and lists among his clients more than 20 municipalities, boards and government agencies ranging from East Orange and Plainfield, to the city of Trenton, Newark Board of Education and the Passaic Valley Water Commission.

Belleville would protect itself against unusually large claims by "re-insuring" with the St. Louis Casualty Company which would enter the picture only when damages exceeded $150,000.

"We estimate that during 1979, your cost would be $139,990," Martin said. "That's a savings of $76,000 the first year."

As administrators of "this program — made for the town of Belleville at this time and taking into consideration the caps legislation and other restrictions, we would provide several additional services,"

Among them are field investigations, strict medical supervision, rehabilitation programs, attendance at hearings, disposition of claims, operation of a centralized claim center and a statistical print out issue once a month.

Only workman's compensation is involved in the program.

You couldn't do business with friendlier people

Senior notes

By GEORGE CHENOWETH

On April 18th groups of seniors from around Belleville and all over the state convened in Asbury Park for the 4th annual convention of the New Jersey Federation of Senior Citizens Clubs. Important business taking place included the election of officers for the coming year and the revealing of plans for the future. Past accomplishments were listed and we were informed of the importance of some of the legislation that this group was wholly or in part responsible for. We are talking about generic drugs, Homestead Act, life-line utilities rates (still waiting to be implemented) and the appropriation of a sum of money to save the state's contribution to the Supplemental Security Income payments. It was pointed out that the Federation was the only seniors group in the state to advocate a $2.00 prescription bill as a way out of the complicated Pharmaceutical Assistance program problem. Other senior groups in the state were willing to allow for a $20.00 basic charge plus the $2.00 per prescription. We were advised of the budget for the Federation for the coming year and although it seems high, we can understand that the desires of the seniors must be met through conventions, through approaches to our legislators, through travelling to distant points in the state, through the costs of a speaker's bureau, through office and administrative help and supplies. It is a never ending struggle and the New Jersey Federation of Senior Citizens deserves a vote of thanks for being the only state organization that is truly representative of the elderly and that really shows a deep down concern for our problems.

At the Essex County Council of Senior Citizens Club meeting last Monday, the discussion centered around the importance of a need for a National Health Bill for all Americans. Mr. Joseph Megliacano who is well versed proponent of a national health bill advised the gathering of the advantages of the Kennedy-Corman Bill over President Carter's proposals. The forming of a coalition of the larger groups of senior's organizations in the country could go a long way in persuading our legislators to act on a national health bill. The National Council of Senior Citizens and the American Association of Retired Persons combined millions of members should have some clout in determining the future of the health of our populace. The United States is still the richest country in the world, and the poorest in health care. Makes one wonder, doesn't it?

Orpheus will sing in Madison May 5

David Nistad, baritone member of the St. Louis Opera and New York Lyric Opera Company, will be guest soloist with the Orpheus Club of Newark in the second concert of its 91st season Saturday evening, May 5, at Madison Junior School, Main Street, Madison.

The program will include works arranged for male glee clubs by such composers as Brahms, Schubert, Bach, Work and Burleigh, and four timely selections by Rodgers and Hammerstein.

Members from this area include Joseph Dowling, Misak Murdichian and Howard Wolferz, all of Nutley, and Lawrence Cribben of Belleville. Henry Ohlandt of Nutley continues as an active, non-singing member.

John Bunnell, supervisor of music for the Madison public school system, is now completing his 14th year as director of Orpheus, founded in 1888 by Dr. Samuel Ward, organist of Grace Church, Newark. Ward composed the music which formed the setting for Katherine Lee Bates's poem, "America, the Beautiful," sung at every concert by the club.

Commission election

Sixteen candidates are campaigning for five Town Commission berths.

Commissioner Rocco Saletta is the only incumbent who is not seeking reelection.

Belleville voters have a wide choice of candidates for the commission election scheduled for Tuesday, May 8, 1979. There is only one candidate who stands high above the crowded field. He is Mayor Michael Marotti who is listed last on the ballot. Marotti has avoided the pitfalls of Belleville politics and has refused to become part of a voting block. In its purest sense Marotti is an independent in municipal service. His votes on the commission always have been cast on the basis of what is best for Belleville — without regard to special interest groups.

Based upon his public record we are pleased to join the thousands of Belleville voters who endorse Marotti for reelection.

There are other fine candidates in the field and The Times, in time, will make its position known with respect to other candidates, but for the moment, as Marotti is number one with Belleville citizens, he is number one with us.

Caesar Romano

In our post-school-board-election comments we congratulated winners Anthony D'Agostino and Charles Miele. Inadvertently overlooked was Caesar Romano.

We have endorsed Caesar Romano's candidacies to the school board and the endorsement of itself bore testimony to the high esteem in which we viewed him.

Belatedly we congratulate Caesar Romano on his victory. Romano was targeted for defeat by certain groups in our community and despite the effort, Romano scored a sound victory.

He deserved reelection. His record on the school board is exceptionally good.

A REBUTTAL

Report on public hearing was 'a bit strange' in itself

I resent the manner that Mr. Phil White, reporter for the Belleville Times/News, used in his article of April 19 entitled, "Public Hearing Was a Bit Strange". It certainly is strange when a reporter distorts the facts which is not in the public interest. Firstly, your statement that the major speakers at the budget hearing were officers of the Citizens Union is erroneous. The only authorized speakers were Angelo Veneziano and myself, Chris Albanese. The most recent Supreme Court decision indicates that a reporter has a responsibility to report accurately in the public interest. Mr. White, have you done this? I think not. Lets look at the facts, item by item as covered in your report and then discuss the omissions.

(A) Transfer of Funds. I never said the transfer of funds was illegal but rather is poor practice because it shows inept budget planning since the efficiency of one department carries the inefficiency of another department. An example I quoted in which one line item appropriated $135,951 and in November it was increased or modified to $165,000 showing that this department overspent by $30,000. There are other examples which could be mentioned.

(B) Community Health Services. I did not state that we should eliminate the mental health program. I simply stated that Mr. Strumolo got rid of it. The increase in cost went from $32,000 to $37,500 and I wanted to know whether our citizens were getting adequate care. Mr. White, apparently you misunderstood my figures, I did not say there was an increase in cost of $8,000, the actual increase was $5,500. The initial per department cost was $8,000, now it is $9,375 X 4, or $37,500.

(C) Town Gasoline Pumps. I was quoted by you, Mr. White, as assuming that town pumps were used for personal reasons. I actually said that "I have been informed, that town pumps were used for personal, rather than two business." Mr. Saletta replied that in his department he had a computerized system of control. However, the other Commissioners were silent indicating that they have loose supervision over their costly gasoline, which will soon approach $1 per gallon and I suggested, that if there are abuses, they should be eliminated. In no way did I apologize for my statements. There was no need for an apology.

(D) Social Security. As per my statement, I am aware of Social Security rules because I have been paying it for my employees for years. The payment date is procedural; however, the actual costs are known by year end. The fact that the payment is not due until January 15, is not important. I was interested in what was budgeted. Apparently, Mr. White, you missed the point. Also my comment that "I have another page of junk" referred to the Town Budget which eliminated valuable details such as names of personnel, longevity, etc.

(E) Sick Leave Benefits. I reminded the Commissioners that a year ago we had an ordinance on the books that allowed the employees to accumulate an unlimited amount of sick days with a maximum of $12,000 which could be collected upon retirement. I then asked, "Isn't it true that this ordinance being what it is will cost taxpayers $40,000 this year? Mr. White, where were you when Commissioner McGreevy and Town Treasurer Mr. Padula agreed with this statement? As a matter of fact Commissioner McGreevy indicated it might well be much higher.

(F) In Regard to Holding the Line. Holding the line is short of being truly accurate. It is more like there was a deferment of tax hikes because spending $400,000 more than in 1978 doesn't represent holding the line. Apparently you failed to realize that in order to "hold the line" as your headline states, $1,304,000 of surplus monies had to be used, leaving us with a meager surplus balance of only $124,935. Furthermore, new construction valued at $3,480,000 X 1.06 equals $36,889 which was additional revenue. In addition to this, the new revaluation of 1978 brought further revenue. All this additional revenue could have been taken into consideration not only to "hold the line" but to possibly decrease the taxes which would have off set the school board and county increases. That would have been holding the line.

Recommendations: Here Mr. White, are some recommendations which would have saved the taxpayers some money. (A) Elimination of the $118,000 expenditure which was previously paid by the Federal Government under anti-recession funds. (B) Save the taxpayers substantial savings of at least $300,000 by bringing the reserve for anticipated uncollected taxes now at 93.85% to a more realistic level with the actual revenues collected from those taxes which is 95.5%. Bloomfield and Nutley use 94.5%, why not Belleville. There are more, but limited time and space curtail my effort to elaborate. In conclusion, as an officer of the CU, I resent the implication that the speakers of the Citizens Union which I remind you were only two, were lacking in knowledge, of the budget and to illustrate how significant economies could be achieved. I firmly believe either you were sleeping, did not hear, or had a problem understanding. I suggest you listen to the tapes of the proceeding of the April 16 meeting, you will agree you misconstrued the main thrust of the matter. I'm not interested in carrying on a long drawn out fight with the Belleville Times; however, I'm looking for honest, accurate reporting so that interested citizens who give their services free to the people of Belleville are not subject to insults, being humiliated and clobbered to such an extent they prefer not to get involved. Maybe this is why we have such poor turn outs for the school and town budgets. (Who needs this abuse.)

Let's keep in mind when the taxpayer is given a choice between paying increased cost of government, or the well being of his family there is no doubt which way he will choose.

I try to service our people, Mr. White please do the same.

Prayer for today

To seek the heights and depths of thought

And pause in silence there;
Some call it meditation...I like to call it prayer.

To look out on the troubled world

And find the true and fair
Some call it contemplation...I like to call it prayer.

To give oneself for others,

To lift and love and share;

Some call it consecration...I like to call it prayer.

To sense a silent, reverent awe

At beauty everywhere;
Some call it adoration...I like to call it prayer.

Sound money management could have reduced budget

When will it end? When we lose our homes, or decide to leave town! After being hit with an increase due to revaluation in 1978, we now face another increase of about 20 points in 1979. This means, for example, that if your property is assessed at $45,000, your taxes will increase by an additional $90 for 1979.

The Town Commission will swear to you that it isn't their fault because they have not been responsible for any of this. This is double talk, or call it deception because town expenditures actually increased by $390,052, which amounts to about 9 tax points. But they are hiding this fact from you by juggling numbers because they are running for office and want to be re-elected.

Wait for next year and you will really be clobbered with a huge tax increase. I will discuss some of their deceptive techniques later, but first let me express my feeling about integrity.

Elected officials are supposed to be responsive to the people, but by their actions, it seems that politicians actually disdain people and think only of themselves. This was demonstrated during the recent budget hearing on April 16. Many citizens spoke to present their views. However, the principal speaker representing the Citizens Union was Chris Albanese. As he does every year, his committee spent countless hours reviewing the budget and prepared a summary report showing the many economies that could be made in municipal expenditures.

At the conclusion of the hearing of citizens, without any regard whatsoever for citizen's comments, a motion was made, seconded and passed to accept the budget in its original form.

Why have a budget hearing, if citizen's comments are disregarded????

The commissioners are smug because they are telling the people there will be no tax increase for municipal purposes and therefore, they feel this will ensure their election, and it probably will, unless you, Mr. Public, get out and vote and convince the politicians that you are not stupid and do not like to be fooled!

Let us look at the facts. How can there be an increase of $390,052 in costs of municipal government without increasing taxes? It was done principally by taking money out of the bank and using it during this election year, as well as by using other tactics. We had a surplus of $1,428,935 and they took out $1,304,000, leaving a small balance of $124,935. But they will want to build up the bank account (surplus) again next year and that is when you will feel it.

Actually, with proper administrative measures, we are prepared to show that the actual municipal budget could have been reduced by about 15 points, almost nullifying the increase due to schools and county.

This type of misrepresentation by public officials should not be tolerated by those of us who are paying the bills. May I therefore suggest that the whole town turn out on Candidates Night at 7:00 p.m., April 27, at the Belleville High School and simply ask the Commissioners: What will be the affect on our taxes next year as a result of the municipal budget increase of $390,052 this year and any additional increase in 1980? You might also ask what technique was used to misrepresent the current increase by saying it was no increase at all!

I would be interesting for you to find out for yourselves! Please be there!

TRI-TOWN PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB

Belleville program tonight to announce scholarships

One hundred fifty-one senior high school girls in Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield have anxiously been awaiting for today's date to arrive.

Tonight marks the moment the Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley will announce six scholarship and typing winners.

BELLEVILLE HAS 11 entries, Nutley 31 and Bloomfield 19 — all in competition for scholarship. The award for most proficient typist is conducted by the typing teachers in each of the three town's public high schools where a total of 90 entered.

Scholarship winners at tonight's Belleville dinner will receive $350 and typing winners a $100 savings bond.

Miss Elsie Ciccone of Nutley, chairman of the annual event, advises the criteria established for a scholarship winner is scholastic standing, financial need, involvement in community affairs and service to the school. The announcement will be made that evening and the winners will be present. Actual awarding takes place at various high school assemblies. Miss Ciccone admits it is not an easy job and she relies on her committee in judging the entries.

Committee members from Belleville are Toni Marone, Ruth Williamson and Lillian Westcott. Representing the other sponsoring towns are Ruth Bedford, Margaret Mostica and Helene Matti from Nutley, and Marion Hansen, Frances Foley and Hazel White from Bloomfield.

Three previous scholarship winners will be guests at tonight's program. Marion Johnson was a 1963 winner from Nutley. She holds a management position with Prudential. Mary Oertel, a 1971 winner when attending Belleville High School, now is a social studies teacher in Bloomfield. Mrs. Marion Furci Pulitano of Nutley teaches business education in the Bloomfield School system. A winner in 1966, she now conducts the typing contest for Tri-Town.

Tonight's program begins at 8 and is open to the public at no charge. The meeting will be held at The Chandelier Restaurant, 340 Franklin Ave., Belleville. Any woman over 18, employed in a business or profession, is invited to become a member, reports Miss Ruth Williamson, 125 Union Ave., Belleville. Tri-Town's membership chairman.

Nursery school sponsors trips

Belleville Fireman Andy Depczek visited Magic Cottage Nursery School to help the youngsters observe "Safety First Month."

Depczek's visit highlighted weeks of study on safety including fire prevention, traffic lights, corner crosswalks, safety at home and potholes.

The Nursery School sponsored trips to the Belleville firehouse to observe trucks, ambulances and the firemen sliding down the pole. The children also visited Clara Maass Memorial Hospital to see a puppet show, "Bobby Goes to the Hospital," produced by the Belleville Junior Woman's Club.

Another trip's destination was the Belleville Post Office where the children mailed valentines to parents. While there, they watched stamps cancelled and the mail sorted.

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,
My mother-in-law has gray hair and her daughter (my sister-in-law) used to color her hair. Now she moved and guess what? I inherited the job. She decided to go lighter. I applied it as she told me. (By the way the color is non-peroxide.) I applied it all over her hair like shampoo. When I rinsed it out it comes out two shades lighter on the roots and darker on the ends. What am I doing wrong? Please answer because she is calling me all names. I beg you to answer before I leave her son.

The daughter-in-law with the thought

Dear daughter-in-law,
Don't make any moves. Stay there. To fix that it is simple as 1-2-3. When you reapply the color your mother-in-law says to apply it like shampoo. Don't listen to her. Put the color only on the hair growth & covering the gray. Leave the ends alone, wash it out and you'll see in two or three applications the color will be unified. What you are doing wrong is that you put it all over the head and the dark hairs stay darker. Don't color it & it will wash out matching the other color.

An expansion of the facility is presently underway, and funds raised from the dinner-dance and a journal will help defray the cost of the specialized equipment essential to the special needs of the children.

Housewife sells 'glass plate' for $40; worth $1,700

NILES, Ill.—The story of a small fortune lost because a housewife had no idea her glass plate was a collector's item, recently came to light.

In a letter to J. R. MacArthur, chairman of The Bradford Exchange, world's largest trading center in collector's plates, a Madison, Wisc., woman wrote: "I had a Lalique 1965 plate . . . which I sold to a friend for $40. I had not heard of you at that time."

The plate she sold is actually valued at more than $1,700. Although MacArthur points out that this price is exceptionally high, he said, "I'm afraid others may be losing hundreds or thousands of dollars by not knowing what their plates are worth."

To aid in identifying valuable plates, the Exchange issues a report that includes current prices on more than 900 plates, guidelines on what to look for and when to buy, and the plate evaluation checklist used by the Exchange.

To obtain a copy without cost or obligation, send your name, address, and zip code by Saturday of next week to The Bradford Exchange, Dept. 58517, 9301 Milwaukee Avenue, Niles, Illinois 60648. (Not available to Canadian residents.)

Which of the 16 candidates will become commissioners?

Albert Guglicelli 1A

James R. Golden 2A

Joseph R. Yeamans 3A

Michael Attilio Biase 4A

Joseph T. Fornarotto 5A

Vincent T. Strumolo 6A

In less than two weeks, Belleville voters will choose five of the 16 candidates pictured on this page to govern the town for the next four years. But who are these candidates?

All citizens will be given a chance to meet every candidate tomorrow night at 7 p.m. at Belleville High School during a special program in the school auditorium. The following is a short preview of who each candidate is and what platforms they support.

Albert Guglicelli has resided in Silver Lake since 1923. A veteran, he is a former businessman who owned Dixie Shake a Chocolate Drink and the Rogers Chemical Company.

An experienced accountant preparing tax returns over the last 30 years, Guglicelli hopes to "reduce assessment for all homeowners."

"All assessments on your homes will be reduced by $10 thousand and up," he says. "All new homes built here will be tax exempt for two years along with major repairs and other improvements."

Guglicelli supports Proposition 13 and also wants to create Belleville's own tax appeal board for citizens.

"I will cut your taxes in half," he adds. "If you are a retired senior citizen living in your home at least five years on a fixed income under $10 thousand and unemployed, you are being discarded as garbage."

"Politics is a dirty game," he says. "I entered this race to protect the citizens of Belleville."

James R. Golden is a former Councilman-at-Large who sponsored a move toward a change of government in the 60's when he was elected. A lifelong resident of Belleville, he is also known for his weekly column "Golden Comments" which appeared prior to the current campaign in the Belleville Times/News.

Golden is running on the same ticket with Joseph R. Yeamans and both proclaim "an intelligent alternative." Yeamans is a local attorney who holds a BA and MA in science education and taught for seven years before receiving his law degree at the University of Baltimore.

Both candidates show concern over school board policies which Golden says are "saddling beleaguered local taxpayers with ever mounting tax hikes."

Golden charges that the school board "consistently awards salary increases to school administrators and teachers while ignoring the necessary remedial repairs and improvements in the physical school plant itself."

Golden suggests that "the time has come to reconstitute a move to revert back to the appointive type school district with the Mayor appointing school trustees."

Both Golden and Yeamans have spoken out on the condition of the Belleville firehouses, garbage contractors and possible increased services and Parrillo's Disco, all of which they project various changes.

"There is a dire need to have professional and businesslike leadership administering a multimillion dollar corporation like the town of Belleville," Yeamans says.

Both candidates also pointed out the "appalling poor response of the local turnout in the school board elections" and state that "it is a lack of representative voter participation as contributing to situations whereby a handful of politically active groups can manipulate the outcome of elections to the advantage of pressure groups determined to control elections."

"Good wholesome citizens must consider their right to vote as their badge of freedom and should exercise this," they comment.

Michael Attilio Biase, a lifelong resident of Belleville, resides on Bellevue Avenue. This May 8th election is the first time he will run for office in town.

Biase stresses "an open policy of government" and makes one promise to the citizens of Belleville. "I will return their right in internal affairs."

The candidate stated that his main concern is to hear the people's voice and work together with them and other commissioners. "We all have to work together and be a part of the government."

"I'm not a politician, I'm a public servant," Biase says. "There's a big difference."

Biase admits that the Parrillo's incident "pushed him further" to get involved in the town government. "It's unfair that neighbors of Parrillo's must face extra problems."

"People have given up hope," Biase said as he noted the poor turnout at the polls. "I hope to restore that."

Joseph T. Fornarotto is a lifelong resident of Belleville who was graduated from the Belleville School system and attended Bloomfield Technical School and Essex County College.

A veteran and active member of the local American Legion, Amvets and School Board committees, he says "vote for me, I'm for you."

Fornarotto suggests changes in manning both police and fire fighting headquarters and shows concern about the deterioration of downtown Washington Avenue.

The candidate proposes to establish a town senior citizens housing authority, free home visits for senior citizens and emergencies with town doctors, winter sports area for children and appointment of more qualified women on boards and committees.

Fornarotto further says he hopes to improve Belleville by establishing a teenage center, keeping the budget stable for four years, finding funds to rehabilitate and bring good businesses to Washington Avenue and giving residents priority in job openings before outsiders.

Vincent T. Strumolo is seeking his fourth term as commissioner of Belleville May 8. He was born in town and was graduated by School 4 and Belleville High.

A WW II Navy veteran, Strumolo served as an elected official in Belleville 15 years. In 1962, he was elected first ward councilman and four years later councilman-at-large. He served as commissioner of Belleville Public Affairs since 1967.

The commissioner is affiliated on the board of managers in the Essex County American Cancer Society, Belleville Cancer Society and has served as chairman of both the Boy Scouts of America and the United Way of Essex and West Hudson.

A past businessman who owned and operated Strumolo Drive-In, he is a member of many civic organizations including the VFW, American Legion and Amvets.

"I'm running on my record of health services to Belleville," says Strumolo. "I don't want the people to judge me on promises, but on what I have accomplished."

The commissioner also pointed out the different health services available at no cost to Belleville citizens including eye testing of amblyopia and glaucoma, diabetes detection, family planning, testing for hypertension, rheumatic fever and tuberculosis.

He also noted that citizens are also checked for breast cancer and can receive pap smears by appointment.

Strumolo states that his budget has not increased with the additional services. "We know where to go for funding dollars," he says.

"People may think I don't have much to say at town meetings, Strumolo comments. "I only talk when I have to. I like to perform through my department instead."

Joseph Granes has been the Deputy Police Commissioner the past four years and also the Deputy Fire Commissioner two years under Commissioner Rocco Saletta.

Granes is a lifelong resident of Belleville and was educated in the town school system and Drake's Business College. An Army veteran, he was attached to the Finance Department in Washington, D.C., while in service.

He is a successful businessman in such areas as real estate, insurance and restaurants and presently owns Granes Liquor Store and J.G.'s Bar and Grill, both in Newark.

Granes has been actively involved in school committees and organizations as well as the Italian-American Club, Optimist Club, Elks, Belleville Historical Society, Senior Citizen's Social Club and both the Saletta and Senatore Civic Welfare Associations.

In his platform, Granes stresses "age, knowledge and experience. I want to improve our governmental departments so that each taxpayer receives his tax dollar value."

Kevin Kennedy hopes to emphasize the "conflict of interest" in the Belleville government on his platform to become commissioner. "I want to rock the boat with some competition," he says.

"I want to test the people and see if they are concerned enough about their town by running," Kennedy states.

Born and raised in Belleville, Kennedy explained that he has very little money to run a large campaign and does "not want to tax my friends by running."

Kennedy stresses that he sees many problems in the present town government and hopes to work with the people to help settle these problems.

Mary V. Senatore is the only female candidate running in the May 8 commission race. She is seeking her fourth term under the slogan "for continuous service."

Mrs. Senatore was graduated by the Belleville school system and Drakes Business School and attended Panzer College. A former Girl Scout leader, she is a member of the Holy Family Rosary Society and active in many civic and charitable organizations.

She is the Belleville Democratic Party chairman and presently serves as secretary to the county planner. She is also past president of the Essex County Women's League, Belleville Democratic Club and past chairman of the Board of Adjustment.

Senatore stresses "maintaining continuous service" for the town of Belleville and a constant "open door policy."

In looking back, she notes the improvements her department has made on street improvements and sewerage. "We currently are getting ready to resurface Ralph, Little and Stephens Streets."

"I plan to continue to have my men on call for any citizen emergencies," Senatore said as she noted the department will soon receive a new sweeper and payload for the streets.

As far as being the only female candidate in the race, Mrs. Senatore comments, "I think a woman belongs in every phase of government."

Mrs. Senatore is running independently and also hopes to maintain a continual tight budget.

She recently accepted a public service award for starting the senior citizen's club nine years ago by the Essex County Parks Commission.

Michael P. Pizzi is a lifelong resident of Belleville and a graduate of William Paterson College, where he received a BS degree in criminal justice.

Pizzi is a law enforcement official and an investigator with the N.J. State Division of Motor Vehicles where he teaches a course to deter drunken and careless drivers.

A member of the PBA Local 1, Pizzi has geared his platform to concern for youth in Belleville. He hopes to initiate a Youth Employment Service which will eventually branch out into other youth activities.

"The kids are good in Belleville, but they just need more attention," Pizzi says. "They need alternatives and outlets that will be beneficial to them."

Pizzi also feels the town must commit itself to plan to revitalize Washington Avenue. "We have to get together—business people, commissioners and citizens," he says.

"With the gas prices at such a high level, the people could save if they could do their shopping right in Belleville," Pizzi continued.

Businessman are looking for the right town to grow with," he adds, "and Belleville could be that town."

Joseph F. McGreevy, present finance commissioner, will seek his fourth term in the May 8 election. He was educated at St. Peter's School in Belleville, St. Benedict's Prep in Newark and received his BS degree from Seton Hall University. "My goal in 1967, 1971 and 1975 was to give the people of Belleville a sound financial administration," McGreevy says. "This was accomplished always with the hope of a debt-free town which became a reality in 1973."

A lifelong resident, McGreevy is actively involved in such organizations as Amvets, Knights of Columbus and the American Legion. He is an Air Force veteran.

His platform calls for strict fiscal management including a strong property maintenance code, state senior citizen housing, continued rent leveling and improved community development and water system.

McGreevy also noted that through his years of service to the town, he invited Hoffmann-LaRoche to buy Jergins plant and locate in Belleville and also insisted on a public bid that saved the town $35,000 on the Main Street sewer project.

In his terms as finance director, he also installed a computerized accounting payroll, tax, water billing system for the Finance Department and negotiated a water rate contract with the City of Newark at a $36,000 savings to the Belleville taxpayer.

As far as this year's budget, McGreevy notes his department's budget was up "only three-quarters of one per cent."

Jerry DiNicola has been a Belleville resident 25 years. He is a local insurance broker and a representative for American National Insurance Company.

The candidate attended LaSalle University and majored in American Law and Procedures. He is also a graduate of Vail School of Real Estate and the Professional School of Business.

A veteran, DiNicola believed that effective leadership "is of paramount importance in order to have efficiency in government."

"Elected officials must discharge their duties in an efficient manner to insure success," DiNicola says.

DiNicola noted that over the past four years crime has increased at an alarming rate. "The better utilization of our police force and re-establishment of a narcotics unit should be our number one priority."

The candidate also wants to focus his campaign on one of the major issues in Belleville—a moratorium on property taxes.

Matthew A. Pica was graduated by the Belleville school systems and received a BS in business management and data processing at Fairleigh Dickinson University.

Pica has served the Belleville Board of Education for eight years and has been president its president the last three. During this period, he has also been a member of the Essex County School Board Association and was Board of Education advisor to the Planning Board.

In his platform of "the right man at the right time," Pica founded the Music and Parents Association. He is also a member of crew parents, wrestling parents and the Varsity Club.

Pica hopes to continue supporting community improvement, adherence to the rules and constant communication with the people on all matters.

The candidate says he "favors open meetings, returns phone calls, and be counted on to go the full mile in an effort to rebuild the town and make Belleville a place its citizens will be proud of."

Pica, who is running for his first time for commissioner, also worked on the Belleville Health and Drug Program and the Educational Advisory Council.

Harry J. Romeo is a graduate of Seton Hall University, where he received AAS, BS and MA degrees.

The candidate is a Newark policeman who has served in many capacities including foot, radio, car, plainclothes, crime prevention unit, investigation division, narcotics squad and central communications. He has also received various awards of Valor.

A veteran of the Marine Corps, Romeo is running "for the people of Belleville. I have the knowledge and ability to help it grow."

Romeo is a member of the Police Benevolent Association, Police Academic Association, president of Union Carabini and a member of Cooley's Anemia Foundation.

Joseph Capazzera stresses a "clean, efficient honest, open sound government" on his platform to become a member of the Belleville Commission.

The candidate supports lower taxes and says, "I know they can be lowered because the town does not have to pay Essex County taxes according to law."

"Lower tax rates can be achieved without laying off policemen and firemen which we so desperately need to protect our loved one," he notes.

Capazzera also shows much concern for purified water in town, consistent street cleaning and more attention to the voice of the town senior citizens.

As far as schools, Capazzera comments, "I have personally witnessed the deplorable conditions and have spoken to many parents and teachers. Citizens of this town deserve answers when it concerns waste of their hard earned money."

The candidate hopes to answer questions like "Why are businesses moving out?" and "is there ripoff or padded payroll?"

Mayor Michael Marotti will seek his third term in the Belleville town commission this year as he holds the last ballot position in the May 8 election.

Marotti is a lifelong resident of Belleville and was educated through the town school system. He was a member of the Police Department 19 years and a detective and head of the Juvenile Bureau.

The mayor is actively involved in the Amvets, the American Legion, Board of Education Athletic Council, Belleville Italian-American Civic Association, Varsity Club and commissioner of the town little league.

Youth run slated at Branch Brook

The first novice youth run will be held Saturday, May 26, at Branch Brook Park beginning 10 a.m. Two races are scheduled, two-mile and four-mile runs.

Participants will have their choice of races. The event will be open to boys and girls 7 through 15.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the County Park Commission Recreation Department, 115 Clifton Ave., Newark, or by calling 482-6400, extension 210.

An Air Force veteran, Marotti is stressing a platform of "performance, not promises." "I try to do whatever will better the town of Belleville. I'm not going to make promises I can't keep," he says.

"I'm for capital improvements," the mayor stressed. "Even if we go into debt, we should have some kind of improvements in the town."

"It's nice to have a debt-free town, but look at our streets," Marotti said.

The mayor's main concern is the parking and conditions along Washington Avenue. "We've gotten many good businesses in the last years — K-Mart, Grand Union, professional buildings, we don't want to lose them."

"We must maintain the buildings in addition to providing parking on the avenue," he said.

Marotti noted that one of his main reasons for serving the town is its youth. "We've provided much for the youth in the recreation department and we are now expanding many sports activities for girls."

The mayor also said he was pleased with the Green Acres funding which will open up a new athletic area near the high school by the end of this year. "The important thing is to find the funding necessary to help Belleville grow," he said.

Marotti was recently awarded the New Jersey Catholic War Veteran For Home Award and also Kiwanian of the Year.

Airman now bound for South Carolina

Airman Joseph T. Goodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Goodman of 67 Harrison St. has received a new assignment following graduation from the special vehicle mechanic course conducted by the Air Training Command at Chanute Air Force Base in Illinois.

Goodman, now trained to inspect, maintain, service and repair special vehicles used by the Air Force, will go to Charleston Air Force Base in South Carolina for duty with a unit of the Military Airlift Command. Completion of the course earned Goodman the individual credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Goodman is a 1977 graduate of Belleville High School.

Rent law here could be invalid

Branch Brook Gardens Apartment tenants plan to go to court to have Belleville's rent leveling law invalidated.

Tenants met with commissioners Tuesday to complain of "vagueness" in the ordinance. The session was closed to the press in an apparent violation of the N.J. Open Public Meetings Act. Commissioners called the session "an informal gathering" and were trying at the same time to be more responsive to the tenants who complained of a disinterest by officials.

Wanda Tucker, tenant and group spokesman, said only Commissioner Rocco Saletta was "responsive to the issue" during the meeting.

Ron Schwartz, counsel to the tenants, said "other commissioners showed interest but were very noncommittal."

The tenants are charging the board with failing to serve proper notice of rent hikes and challenged the methods of the rent leveling board to determine the increases.

Belleville athletics beginning to thaw

As the weather gets hotter, so do the spring teams at Belleville High. The varsity clubs are sporting some impressive credentials thus far, and there is still another month left in the season.

The baseball team, coached by George Zanfini, has posted a 5-1 record and is ranked number three in the county and number 16 in the state.

Zanfini broke into the varsity coaching ranks in 1975 and has put together winning seasons at Belleville ever since. The 1975 team was 14-10 but at one time was 11-1. The '76 version was 24-4 and for six weeks of the season was ranked as the top team in the state by both The Star Ledger and Daily News. The team lost its top ranking to Livingston on a very controversial call in the state championships. In 1977, Zanfini had the team off to a 6-2 start before he was struck by hepatitis and had to sit out the rest of the year. Without their coach, the Bucs fell to 18-15 for the season.

Last year, with Zanfini healthy, the team finished 18-4 and advanced to the state semifinals before bowing to Livingston. This year, the talent is just as good although Zanfini is concerned about his team's hitting. "We're walking a tightrope, and it's going to break unless we start making better contact," said Zanfini. The Bucs are only batting .248 as a team but should be turning around that statistic very shortly.

The girls softball team, coached by fifth-year woman Eve Lautenschlaeger, is currently 2-1. It has had a very impressive season thus far and has recorded victories over West Orange 11-5 and St. Cecilia 15-2. The girls' only setback has been at the hands of Bloomfield 13-3. The Buccanettes field a team that is loaded with desire and enthusiasm. As a matter of fact, the entire women's sports program at BHS has epitomized desire and enthusiasm.

The girls take great pride in playing sports and have a great deal of fun participating in the development of their fellow teammates. They constantly urge each other on and will hardly ever take personal credit, rather commending the team as a whole. They are great sportsmen, if you'll pardon the expression. The women's tennis team posted a .500 record, the basketball team had its best mark ever, 16-7, and the softball squad has the talent to beat anyone on any given day. The girls have power hitters in Denise Juliano, Joyce Iacullo and Rose Leonidis. They receive excellent pitching from Leonora Subis and Debbie Jinks. Team co-captains Denise Zarra and Toni Sperduto are not only excellent hitters but great leaders.

The track team possesses the ability to be a big winner. The Bucs have formed a nucleus over the past three years that is now starting to take definite form. Behind fifth-year coach Rich Ruffalo, the team is looking for its first winning campaign since 1975.

The Bucs returned to respectability in 1978 with a 6-12 mark after a 2-14 disaster in 1977. Ruffalo lost practically his entire team to graduation in 1976. He recruited a very young squad that had a great desire to run but had yet to show great potential. Athletes such as Mike Graham, Joe D'Agostino, Tom Graham, John Vaccaro, Dean Santulli, George Dulski and Brian Allum have been with the team for three years now and have endured the losing. They have been working extremely hard this year, and as long as injuries don't hit them, that winning season could be theirs for the asking.

They are currently 2-3, one of the victories over a fine Mountain team. Mike Graham set a school record for the half-mile when he ran a blistering 1:59 in the state sectionals last May. Tom Graham has been very sharp in the early part of this season, having run a 4:37 in the mile and 10:39 in the deuce. Vaccaro ran a 53 quarter in his freshman year in 1977 but currently is out of commission due to a foot injury. He is listed as hopeful for next week's meets, however. The squad has developed a positive attitude, something essential if winning track is to return to Belleville.

The girls' track team coached by Debbie Meola is in its third year of existence. The girls were 3-8-1 in 1977 and finished 5-10 last year. Thus far in 1979, they are 1-4 with a very young and inexperienced squad. One very bright hope is sophomore Dana Caruso. Dana made herself known in the cross country season by advancing to the state sectionals. She has been used as a miler and two-miler in track and is very close to breaking the records on those events set in 1977-78 by Sue Smith. Dana is also eyeing the 2:29 half mile record set by Smith and could very well have a new mark in her grasp by next season.

The boys' tennis team is in its third year of existence under Mike Pollard. After a 2-14 mark in their 1977 debut, the Bucs settled down to a 7-12 mark last year. Most of the team members have been on the squad since its inception and have gained valuable experience. The Bucs are just 1-4 this year, but with a few breaks could turn that record around very shortly.

The crew team, under the leadership of Sam Giuffrida, is 3-2. The varsity eight has recorded victories over Kearny and St. Mary's while losing to Nutley and Arlington. The senior four recently whipped Upper Merion by 18 seconds. Crew, in my opinion, is one of the toughest sports around. It requires strength and guts. The team practices about four hours a day, no matter what the weather is and puts a great deal of effort into its performances.

Golf at Belleville High is an almost unknown sport. But believe it or not, there is a team here, and it is doing quite well. Currently the club is 2-1. The Bucs, coached by Mike Salazarulo, have always had a most respectable team. Golf is a sport that requires a certain amount of discipline and a great deal of concentration. The Bucs play with a great deal of intensity and represent Belleville in a very fine if quiet way.

Diamondmen survive frigid bats, close calls

By Mike Lambert

Some baseball experts will tell you that the mark of a good team is that it wins the close games. If last week's contests are any indication, the Belleville baseball team is very good indeed.

The team boosted its record to 5-1 and jumped to the number three position in the county and 16th in the state with tough victories over West Essex, Valley and Irvington.

The Bucs traveled to Kearny Tuesday and were host to the Mounties of Montclair yesterday. On Saturday the team travels to Caldwell and on Tuesday will host the Eagles of Essex Catholic. All games with the exception of the Caldwell game will be 3:45 starts. The Caldwell game commences at noon.

"We're getting decent fielding, great pitching and not too good hitting," said BHS head coach George Zanfini. "We're only batting .248 as a team. We're not sticking the ball with any consistency. The hitting has been timely, we've bunched them, but we haven't gotten enough of them."

But Zanfini also pointed out that the team earned run average is an exceptionally stingy 1.20. "We've made only 11 errors in six games, and five of them came in the season opener double-header in the cold at Middletown," he said. "The fielding has been rapidly improving. I told the kids if we don't start hitting, then we're in big trouble because the opposing pitchers are going to be improving as the weather gets warmer. There is no reason in the world why we can't hit better, unless the opposition is Ron Guidry."

Against West Essex, the Bucs had to pull out all the stops to win. The Knights jumped out to a 2-0 lead with two runs in the third inning. With one out, Cushmore singled. He advanced to second on a wild pitch by Buc starter and winner Ed Aulisi and scored on a Del Guercio double. Two batters later, Giovianni singled home Del Guercio with the second run. Meanwhile, the West Essex pitcher, Augie Dellapi, was cruising along. He had a no-hitter for five-and-two-thirds innings before tiring in the sixth.

It was in that inning that the Bucs tied the game. With one out, Jim Tensfeldt reached on an error, one of two that West Essex would commit. Joe Francheschi walked, putting Bucs on first and second. After a Buc flied out, Carl Garofolo walked to load the bases. Jim Kelly, pinch hitting for Tim Narden, singled the first hit off Dellapi and drove home two runs. "Kelly was tough," said Zanfini. "He hung right in there and fouled off about five pitches. He stuck with the pitcher and finally got the big hit."

Belleville won the game with a run in the last of the seventh. Anthony Cosentino walked. After a Buc putout, Mike Nicosia hit a ground-rule double placing Bucs on second and third. Dan Borgo was intentionally walked and Tensfeldt won the game with a long fly to center that the Knights didn't even bother catching. Aulisi, in his first varsity start, struck out five and didn't yield a walk. Dellapi, although brilliant, took the defeat. He struck out six, walked seven and allowed just three hits. Belleville was error-free, and Aulisi allowed just six hits.

Against Valley, the Bucs scored three times in the third inning and used some great pitching by Small Single — Buc Mike Nicosia bunts his way on in the third inning of Friday's game with Valley at Belleville. The bunt advanced Anthony Cosentino to second in the three-run frame. The Blue-Gold won the game and two others this past week.

Blue-Gold four-man shells carry home bulk of week's rowing wins

By John Jurlich

For the Belleville High crew team, it was mainly the week of the four shell. The senior four defeated Upper Merion Saturday and Nutley Wednesday to raise their record to 3-0. In its only race of the week, the varsity eight lost to Nutley by eight-and-a-half seconds.

Saturday, the Buc oarsmen will row against Poughkeepsie on the Passaic beginning in the late morning. Coming up May 5 is the annual Goodwill Regatta with Kearny and Nutley.

Against that latter school, the Blue-Gold varsity eight boat turned in a subpar performance. "The Nutley race was again a very poor showing for us," said BHS Coach Sam Giuffrida. "We did not row well at all, exactly as against Arlington."

The junior eight shell took its first defeat of the season, a seven-second loss to the Raider crew. However, the Bucs triumphed at several other levels. The senior four — coxswain

Jim Cali, stroke Per y Mayers, Donald McKinstry, Joe Ferrara and Ken Nash bow — won by nine-and-a-half seconds. The junior four — coxswain Bob Tomaselli, stroke Mark Davis, Cliff Williams, Joe Juliano and at bow George Skrutskie — outraced the Raiders by four seconds.

The BHS freshmen swamped their Nutley opponents by 42 seconds, and Nutley Coach Ray Chapman admitted that his boat had been "totally outclassed."

Against Upper Merion, the senior four prevailed by 18 seconds, the junior four by three-and-a-half. "Upper Merion has one of the better four crews in the country, so we're pretty high on our fours," said Giuffrida.

The jayvee eight — coxswain Bob Tomaselli, Tom O'Kean, Chris Nash, Matthew Martin, Troy Postlewaite, Jerry Longo, Bob DePrazio, Joe Fischer and Jim Gilday — got back on the winning track with a one-and-a-half-second victory over the Pennsylvania crew. There was no varsity eight race.

Saturday also marked the debut of the Belleville girls' boats. Both were defeated by 21 seconds. The main factor in the losses was the inexperience of the BHS girls, though the fact that they were rowing in a 13-year-old shell didn't help either. Then too, the Blue-Gold novice shell was rowing against what was actually the Upper Merion jayvee boat. The varsity eight, one of the better girls' boats in the country, has been rowing together since junior high, whereas the local girls are almost brand new to the sport.

In the day's only other action, the Blue-Gold freshmen were nipped by three-tenths of a second. It was their first loss of the season.

Oar Adjustment — BHS crew manager Mark Adubato makes a last-minute repair as Angela Esposito of the frosh girls' crew looks on. Astern are Pam Klinger and Donna Owens. Both girls' boats, making their first races against Upper Merion, lost Saturday.

Belleville Barbell Club will host '79 national AAU weightlifting

The 1979 United States AAU Senior National Weightlifting Championships will be held May 12-13 at Ice World, Route 46, Totowa. The championships, hosted by the Belleville Barbell Club, will bring together America's strongest men in head-to-head competition and will also serve as the trials to pick the U.S. team for the Pan-American Games and the World Championships. The 114 through 181-pound classes will be contested Saturday, May 12, starting 11:30 a.m., followed by the 198 through superheavyweight classes the next day starting at noon.

The lifts to be contested are the snatch and the clean and jerk. In these two lifts — the same as those contested in the Olympic Games — the barbell is lifted from the floor to arm's length overhead. This is in contrast to another form of competition known as "powerlifting" which contests the deep-knee bend, the bench press and deadlift. Unlike powerlifting which tests strength only, the snatch and clean jerk, known as the "Olympic lifts," also require precise technique, speed and flex-

Pat Omori of Hawaii and former champ Dave Hussey of St. Louis.

With last year's champ, Donnie Warner, moving up to 148 pounds, the 132-pound class should be a battle between Phil Sanderson, 32, of Billings, Mont., and 18-year-old Stewart Thornburgh, last year's 123-pound champ, of Charleston, Ill.

The 148-pound class should be one of the most interesting. Last year's 132-pound champ, Donnie Warner, a 21-year-old York, Pa., police officer, will compete at the higher bodyweight this year. Conversely, Davey Jones, a 32-year-old grammar school principal from Georgia, has reduced down after winning the 165-pound class last year. Not to be left out after all this juggling of bodyweights, is the defending champion, Don Abrahamson of Florida.

With Davey Jones back at 148, the 165-pound class is wide open. Mike Cohen, 20, of Savannah, Ga., coached by his father, Howard Cohen, a former top lifter, is the pre-meet favorite.

Unquestionably the favorite in the 181-pound class is Mike will be looking for his third U.S. title. Another veteran coming off an injury is Belleville's Phil Grippaldi, a 32-year-old school teacher. An elbow injury kept the three-time Pan American champion out of last year's championships, but he, like James, is training hard once again. Sentimentality aside, Paul Salisbury, 31, a bartender from Albany, N.Y., enters the meet as a favorite. Winner of the 1978 Lifter of the Year Award, Salisbury is even stronger this year and has avoided injury.

Defending 220-pound champ Kurt Setterberg of Chicago faces a tough field. Pizzeria owner Bob Giordano of Belleville, Guy Carlton of Illinois and Ken Clark of San Francisco could all upset him.

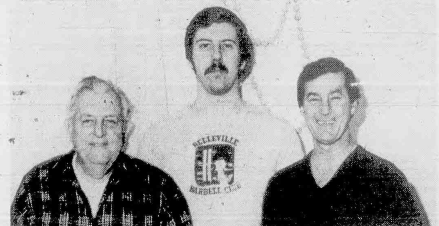

Hailed as America's best lifter, 26-year-old Mark Cameron, a graduate student at the University of Maryland, looks like a sure bet to repeat as 242-pound champ. Now at the peak of his form, Cameron recently snatched a new U.S. record of 374 and seems likely to break the other marks as well. He will be striving to become the first U.S. lifter of his weight to clean and jerk over 500 pounds. Other potential medalists include Mitch Mignano of Belleville, Ray Blaha of Ohio, San Francisco's Blair Kephart and Dr. Robert Suchyta of Detroit.

The superheavyweights are always the most popular class since the general public likes to see the biggest weights lifted by the biggest men. Tom Stock of Belleville, Ill., the defending champ and sixth-place finisher in the World Championships, figures to successfully defend his title. The 298-pound Stock has cleaned and jerked over 500 pounds in training recently, which is all the more remarkable when one considers he lost a finger in a childhood farm accident. Pushing Stock will be 340-pound Jerry Hannan of the Belleville Barbell Club, a deli clerk by trade. Terry Manton, a 350-pounder also from the Belleville club, and 285-pound Steve Cameron of Massachusetts should battle it out for the remaining places.

The team battle promises to be an exciting one as well. The perennial champion, the York Barbell Club of York, Pa., is favored. However, the host team and meet sponsor Belleville club hopes for an upset. San Francisco's Sports Palace could also come away with the title.

For more information, contact meet director Bucky Cairo, 326 Greylock Place, Belleville, N.J. 07109 (759-0833). Tickets can be obtained from Cairo or in person at Ice World. General admission is $5 a day and $9 for both days. Tickets are good the entire day, and there are no reserved seats.

Meet Preparation — The Belleville Barbell Club will sponsor the 1979 United States AAU Senior National Weightlifting Championships May 12-13 at Ice World in Totowa. From left are Frank Bates, AAU weightlifting chairman; Belleville Barbell Club President Bruce Klemens and meet director Bucky Cairo of Belleville.

ibility. Olympic lifters are athletes in every sense of the word.

Opening the competition May 12 will be the 114-pound class. The competition here should be wide open, since the top two men from last year have increased their bodyweight to 123 pounds. Favorites should be Pedro Anton of Auburn, Wash.; the Rev. Dale Holzbauer, a 32-year-old minister from Xenia, Ohio, and 21-year-old Randy Jackson from Baytown, Texas.

Two former 114-pounders will continue their rivalry in the 123-pound class. Rich Seibert, 18, of the Belleville Barbell Club, and Ron Crawley, 21, of Washington, D.C., will be striving for gold. Other possible winners are 35-year-old veteran Karchut, a 35-year-old mechanical engineer from Chicago and holder of all the American records in this class. However, Texan Jim Napier, a newspaper publisher and a veteran of two World Championship teams, should be pushing Karchut all the way. Tom Hirtz, 33, of San Francisco, should also be among the medalists.

The sentimental favorite of the meet, Lee James of York, Pa., is entered in the 198-pound class. At the 1976 Olympic Games, James, 24, won the silver medal and was hailed as a future world champion. But a series of debilitating knee injuries kept him from fulfilling his goal. Now after three knee operations, James is once again in top shape and

Cobras fall to Nutley despite heavy attack

By Fred Lardaro

Nutley United scored four first-half goals and sat on its lead to defeat the Belleville Cobras 4-1 in Division Three county soccer Saturday. In Division One, the Jersey Gunners scored a 1-0 forfeit victory over Franklin Lakes Sunday.

Cobra center-halfback Rich DePrizio scored for Belleville from the 40-yard line with three minutes remaining in the game Saturday. After Nutley had jumped out in front, Belleville launched an awesome, second-half counter-offensive which included 12 unanswered shots on goal, but the Cobras could not score.

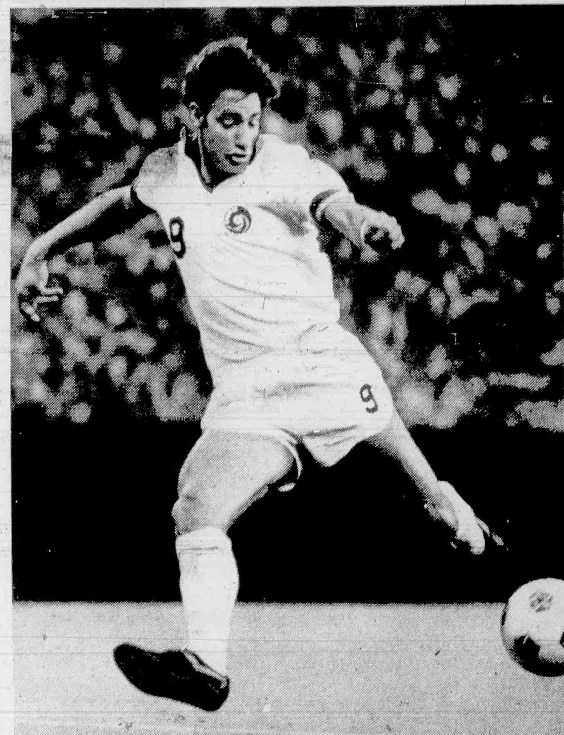

The Cobras had lost to Nutley 8-0 earlier in the season. "After that massacre, the boys had a lot to think about," said Coach Gabe Michelli. "We've improved greatly and in so many areas, I think we surprised Nutley. It's too bad we couldn't profit from all the hell we raised in the second half."

Santiago Borja played a courageous game even after having the wind knocked out of his sails, throwing himself recklessly in front of a flaming shot on goal that closed the first half. Charlie Kingaluhua, Henry Lopez, Mark Palumbo, Guido Labate, DePrizio and Ricardo performed well for the Cobras, who are now 4-7-1.

Franklin Lakes attempted to slip a ringer into its line-up against the unbeaten Gunners. The official was wise to the unsigned player and warned Franklin Lakes to remove the player from the field. Franklin Lakes argued that the commissioner of the Northern County Soccer Association had granted permission to use the unsigned player. The official said he was aware of no such ruling and again warned Franklin Lakes. When Franklin Lakes refused to comply, the Gunners were awarded the game.

This Sunday, the Gunners put their 5-0 record on the line against powerful Chatham Boro on the road.

Blue-Gold softball team defeats St. Cecilia after Bloomfield loss

Mound Maestro — Buc hurler Anthony Coco displays the form that gave him a 4-2 win over Valley Friday. The sophomore allowed just one hit, a sixth-inning single, in upping his record to 2-0.

Buc diamondmen find Irvington an easy prey sophomore Anthony Coco to win 4-2. Coco, now 2-0, fanned six and walked four. The losing pitcher was Riccardelli. He had five strikeouts and three walks.

The first two innings were scoreless. Valley failed to score in their half of the third, but Belleville tallied three times in theirs. Cossentino walked. After an out, Nicosia singled. Borgo then doubled home a run, his first of three hits in three at-bats. Tensfeldt reached on an error that drove home Nicosia. Francheschini then singled home Borgo with the third run.

Coco did quite a job for the Bucs. All told, he allowed just one hit, a sixth-inning single by Petrillo. In the fourth frame, Cuiaha walked and stole second. After two strikeouts, Cossentino committed a throwing error, and Cuiaha scored the first Valley run.

Belleville extended its lead to 4-1 when Borgo doubled and moved to third on a ground out. He scored on a Tensfeldt sacrifice fly. Valley's final run came in the sixth. DeLuca walked and two outs later moved to third on Petrillo's single. DeLuca came home on a wild pitch. Borgo relieved for Coco in the seventh and nailed down the victory.

The Bucs had four runs on five hits and committed three errors. Val-

Domenick takes golds in Y swim

Belleville's Anthony Domenick won two gold medals at his Montclair Marlin YMCA swim team overcame 37 teams from New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland to capture the Mid-Atlantic Region YMCA North-South Championship April 7 at Somerset County College. Domenick, 17, won golds in the 15-18 age group. He placed first in the 100-yard freestyle with a time of 56.11 and first in the 200-yard individual medley in 2:04.14.

Domenick will travel to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., along with the rest of the senior boys' team to compete in the YMCA National Championships next week.

After a complete blowout at the hands of Bloomfield, the Belleville High School girls' softball team rallied this past week to whip St. Cecilia 15-2.

The girls' record is now 2-1. Tuesday the team hosted Kearny and yesterday traveled to Montclair. The results of those two contests were in too late for this edition.

Last week, the girls were up against a very strong Bloomfield squad. "Bloomfield was an excellent team and had some great hitters," said BHS Coach Eve Lautenschlaeger. "The St. Cecilia game was really no contest. We just outplayed them on both sides of the field."

The Bengals jumped out to a quick 3-0 lead by scoring in the first inning. For all intents and purposes, the game was over after the second frame. The Bengals scored five times in that inning and had the game wrapped up.

After a leadoff flyout, Tara Francis started the Bengal barrage with a single. She advanced to second on a Cathy Bowen single, and the bases were quickly loaded when pitcher Leona Sibis committed an error. Chris Lardieri then singled home two runs. After a Kim Lawson out, Lisa Osman singled in another two. Janet Czarnecki, walked and Lisa Jones singled to once again load the bases. Pat Gasperini drew a walk to force in a run. The Buccanettes were able to finish the inning without letting any more runs by, but by that time the Bengals were comfortably ahead 8-0.

The Buc girls cut the gap to 8-1 when senior Denise Juliano hit a towering home run. However, the Bengals scored five more times in their half of the fifth to boost the margin to 13-1. Belleville tallied a couple of times in the sixth to make the final count 13-3.

Jackie Egan was the winning pitcher. She went the distance and allowed three runs on eight hits. The Buccanettes were their own worst enemy as they committed five errors.

The St. Cecilia battle was actually a close ballgame for two innings. The North Arlington school scored in its half of the first off Buc hurler Debbie Jinks. Jinks allowed just two hits in the entire game and both came in the first inning. Belleville scored twice in its half of the first for a 2-1 lead.

There was no scoring in the second inning, but in the third the Buccanettes struck for three runs. Denise Zarra singled and advanced to second when Dawn Ritacco reached safely on an error. Juliano drove home Zarra with a single. Joyce Iacullo, Rosie Leonidis and Lisa Coffey all singled in runs, and the Buccanettes were ahead 5-1.

Belleville exploded for eight runs in the fifth to boost its advantage to a whopping 13-1. Leonidis, only a freshman, drilled a homer in the fifth inning for a 14-1 Buc lead. St.

Belleville Zenobi wins midjet 3-mile bike race

Alan Zenobi of Belleville took top spot in the midjet three-mile bicycle race as the cycling season got underway at Brookdale Park recently.

Zenobi won the event in 10:39, racing for the North Jersey Bicycle Club. The races were sponsored by the New Jersey Bicycling Association and the Essex County Park Commission.

Cecilia scored its other run in the seventh inning on a couple of walks and two Buccanette errors.

The Blue-Gold pounded out 13 hits but committed five errors again. With the competition getting a lot tougher in the next couple of weeks, the girls will have to cut down on the misuses if they wish to have the season they are capable of having. — Mike Lamberti

Recount gives track club 63-59 win over Tornados

"Thanks to some timely bookkeeping, the Belleville High track team won its second meet of the season, a 63-59 edging of Orange.

The team record is now 2-3 but could easily have been 1-4 had the record books not been checked a second time. Originally the final tabulation had the Bucs losing by a three-point margin. However, BHS head coach Rich Ruffalo and his staff detected something wrong with that count and asked for a retabulation. The move proved to be to the Bucs' advantage.

"We had some good performances and some of the guys are starting to come around," said assistant coach Larry Jinx. "Mike and Tom Graham and Kenny (Duva) have been looking real sharp. If we can get steady performances out of Dean Santulli and Pat Leonidis, we can be even stronger."

Tom Graham has been looking very sharp indeed lately. The junior was a double winner in the mile and two-mile. He ran 4:58 on the Bucs' subpar track and came back to win the duce in a time of 11:06. "Tom looked really good in the mile," continued Jinx. "Orange didn't have a runner in the two-mile, so Tommy kind of coasted in."

The Tornados jumped out to a big lead by burning the Bucs in the sprints and hurdling events. Belleville countered with victories in the distance and weight events.

Mike Graham took a second place in the quarter with a blistering time of 54.0. A couple of minutes later he won half mile with a 2:14 clocking. The very surprising Kenny Duva took a third in the quarter with a strong 54.6 showing. Dean Santulli placed second in the half with a time of 2:20. Earlier he clocked a 5:13 in mile, good for third place.

Pat Leonidis performed well with an 11:50 mark in the two-mile; good for second place. The mile relay team of Mike Graham, Santulli, Duva and freshman Angelo Centanni lost to the Tornados but still looked strong in defeat. The Bucs' top quarter-miler, John Vaccaro, is still out with a foot injury, but all expectations point to the junior being back on the cinders in a couple of weeks.

"We have some relays coming up, and I think they should be interesting," said Jinx. "I'm especially optimistic about our distance medley. I hope to run Mike (Graham) in the half, either Duva or Vaccaro in the quarter, Santulli in the three-quarter-mile and finish with Tom Graham in the mile. The way those guys have been performing, we should have a very good shot."

The weight team looked extremely impressive in racking up the necessary points. Rich Gaschke, the team record holder in the javelin, won that event with a 153.4 toss. Sophomore Bill Walsh finished second at 148.9. The discus was won by Buc Joe DeLorenzo with a 115-10 throw. Gaschke took a second there with a throw of 115.5. DeLorenzo was a second-place finisher in the shot put with a 42-foot toss.

"Joe DeLorenzo has been looking very good," said Coach Ruffalo. "His throws have been improving, and his confidence is also getting better. I'm hoping to enter our weight team in the shot put relay at the Essex County Relays."

Those relays will be held May 2, at Nutley's DeMuro Park. — Mike Lamberti

Special ed olympics coming on Saturday

The Belleville Special Education Parent-Professional Organization will sponsor a special olympics day for resident classified special education students and their families Saturday beginning 9 a.m. at the high school.

Children ages 5 through 16 may participate in events which include kickball, an obstacle course, basketball, foul-shooting, the standing broad jump, a running relay and short distance running. All activities will be adapted for the children competing.

Participants will receive T-shirts designed by students of the Belleville High School resource room and their art teacher, Joanne Puleo. All contestants will be eligible to win medals and ribbons.

For information or an application, call Bernadette Naso (759-1584) or Joan Lukowiak (759-1419).

Blanking of Kards netmen's one and only triumph so far

Competing against some more than worthy opponents, the Belleville High tennis team has been victorious just once in six tries.

On Tuesday the Bucs were at Passaic. Today they will host the Pony Pirates of Seton Hall in a 3:45 p.m. start. Tomorrow the team takes on the Tornados of Orange at home.

BHS' head coach Mike Pollard has been relatively happy with his team's performance thus far. "The kids have started to learn some strategy," said Pollard. "They are improving and a lot of them are young. I'm only losing two seniors to graduation this year, so most of the kids will be using this experience for next season."

In its opener, the squad lost to Caldwell 5-0. Caldwell is usually a tough team and proved its overpowering ability against the Bucs. A fine performance was turned in by junior Anthony Collasorto. Collasorto won the second set 6-3 before falling in the finals of the second singles.

Against Verona, the team fell 5-0. In that match a fine effort was turned in by senior first singles player Garry Guancione and the second doubles team of sophomore Kenny Beck and junior Jerry Gold. Guancione was victorious in his opening set 6-0 but fell short in the next two, losing 6-1 and 6-4. The doubles team went the distance winning 6-1 in the middle set but lost 6-3 in the opener and 6-4 in the decisive set.

Victory number one for the Bucs was a 5-0 whitewash of Kearny. Guancione was victorious at first singles, 6-1, 1-6, 6-2. Collasorto provided a Buc first in the second position. He was victorious, 6-0, 6-0, the first time in the club's three-year history that a Blue-Gold netman has shut out his opposition twice. Senior Mike De Mayo was a 7-5, 6-1 victor at third singles.

The doubles team of Bradley Clinton, only a freshman, and Anthony De Meola, a junior, was a winner, 6-3, 6-2. Beck and Gold won the second doubles match, 6-4, 7-5.

The Mounties of Montclair romped over the locals 5-0. According to Pollard, "Montclair was awesome. They overpowered us. I think we only won five games during the entire match."

Belleville lost a toughie to East Orange 3-2. The three Buc singles players were beaten, but the Buc doubles teams of Clinton-DeMeola and Beck-Gold came out winners.

The first group was a 6-3, 6-0 winner, while the latter was an 8-6 victor. In their last match, the Bucs fell prey to the Eagles of Essex Catholic 5-0. Garry Guancione provided the bright note for the Bucs as he battled his opponent to the deciding set before losing. — Mike Lamberti

Golfing team starts quickly, beating Campers, Mounties

By David S. Vaughan

Belleville High's golf club has collected two wins in its first three attempts thus far in the 1979 campaign and, with the possibility of winning three more this week, could jump out to another one of its lightning-quick starts.

Montclair was the Bucs' first victim in a match at Hendricks Field April 11. Five of six starters for Belleville earned at least half of the possible three points in each of their matches and went on to win the nine-hole affair 11½ to 6½.

Number one man Chris Lowrey shot a 41, good enough for one-and-a-half points; Pete Bukunus took two points with the round of 48; Anthony Rosania, the squad's third man, was the sole Buc loser of the day, firing a 52. Mike Sheldon finished with a 41, taking all three points available, the only Buc to do so.

Ron Wittman, in the fifth position, was awarded two-and-a-half points for his nine-hole total of 46, and sixth man Dave Haight shot a 47, good for the same number of points.

The club had its mark evened at 45, 1-1 April 16, losing to Seton Hall in a close contest 10-8. Heavy winds hindered the Bucs' efforts and accounted for several golfers shooting above their averages.

Lowrey was unsuccessful in his match, losing all three points with a round of 49. Wittman finished in the same shape — not points — with a total of 52. Rosania mustered a half point in his contest, shooting a 48.

Sheldon earned two with his 49; Haight was the only Buc to win a match, getting three points for his round of 45, and alternate Lou Pompei outshot the Belleville field with a 44, good for two-and-a-half points.

Monday's nine-hole contest against Irvington proved to be no match at all for the Bucs as they stunned the hosting Campers 17-1. All six Belleville starters earned three-point victories over their opponents, except for second man Pete Bukunus, who gained two with his round of 47.

Top man Lowrey shot a 46; Wittman, in the third spot, finished the day with a sparkling 39. Rosania fired a 44, Sheldon a 43 and Haight a are a well balanced team," explained Coach Michael Salzarulo. "We've got no standouts. We'll take our lumps at the top of the lineup but we'll get back some needed points at the other end."

The Bucs faced Nutley Tuesday, Glen Ridge yesterday and Kearny today. "We're hoping to take at least two of those matches," said the coach.

Drug stores have been around for a long time. After all, they have been needed, in one form or another, since people started getting aches and pains. In frontier country America, the need was early. However, the original drug stores in our country did not look much like the ones in existence now. But, interestingly enough, they often carried the extremely wide range of products many full line drug stores carry now. Early drug stores were horse drawn wagons carrying everything from jewelry, clothing, kitchen ware, etc. to all sorts of remedies and medicines.

You'll find a wide range of products from convalescent aids to cosmetics, plus full prescription service when you come to us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1868, 759-1956. Hours: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays.
