Board of Ed vacancy leaves trustees angry and divided

By Mike Olohan

Nearly 40 persons crowded Monday's Board of Education meeting to support defeated trustee candidate Felix Linfante's bid to fill the vacancy created by School Board President Matthew Pica's election to the commission.

Former board member Viola Spray presented trustees with 500 petitions endorsing Linfante, who lost a one-year term to Trustee Anthony D'Agostino by about 200 votes April 3.

Trustee Mike Chieffo recommended Linfante be appointed at the board's reorganization meeting 8 p.m. this coming Monday. Trustee Eric Zoppi, meanwhile, nominated Peter Clarizio to fill the open position. Clarizio had previously been appointed to fill another vacancy on the board but was defeated in the April election when he ran for a first term.

Besides naming a new member, the board will choose its president and other officers at Monday's meeting.

Chieffo, along with Charles Miele, who officially becomes a board member next Monday, attacked Zoppi for trying to push through Clarizio's appointment. The two said Clarizio's appointment would create an unethical "voting bloc" on the board which they said citizens had already voted down.

Chieffo claimed D'Agostino, Zoppi and Clarizio ran together "as a team" in the elections. He charged Zoppi's proposal of Clarizio "is a direct affront to the voting intelligence of the Belleville people."

Miele suggested eliminating both Linfante and Clarizio from consideration since "You know who would get elected if you (Zoppi) propose Clarizio." Miele intimated that the board's public image might further decline if more political infighting over Pica's replacement took place.

"You talk of a bloc, there's no bloc. I'm voting for an individual... we need every ounce of experience we can gather now," said Zoppi, noting the short time several trustees have been with the board.

"I resent you (Chieffo) calling me part of a voting bloc," said Zoppi. "You can resent it all night, but you're still part of a voting bloc," responded Chieffo.

Lately, trustees have shown weariness over what is perceived as the lack of public trust in the School Board. Attempting to restore public confidence, several board members have publicly spoken out against alleged back-door politicking.

D'Agostino told Chieffo to "watch your words," especially when accusing trustees of unethical conduct. "I will think on my own, I'm not part of any voting bloc," D'Agostino added.

Clarizio declined comment on Chieffo's and Miele's accusation that he is part of a voting bloc. "I'm like a fifth wheel," he said.

"I think the election speaks clearly, not against Mr. Clarizio, but that we the people have been for and want Mr. Linfante," said Mrs. Spray. Pica later noted he supports Linfante but declined to state so publicly because he is leaving the board. "I'm like you, a lame duck member," he said to Clarizio while other trustees debated.

Chieffo urged all residents interested in filling the open board position to contact any board member. So far, only Linfante and John DiStasio, a parent active in school affairs, have filed written letters for consideration.

SCOTT OUT, STRUMOLO VOTES 'NO'

Zinna town attorney; Marotti mayor again

By John Jurich

Commissioners Tuesday replaced John Scott, municipal attorney here the last eight years, with assistant town attorney Frank Zinna, and elected Michael Marotti mayor for a second term, though not without dissent.

The nomination of Zinna, who has served as assistant attorney and municipal prosecutor since June 1975, was approved 4-1. Commissioner Vincent Strumolo cast the lone 'no' vote to get rid of the controversial Scott, criticized in the past for ineffectiveness and inaccessibility.

Strumolo was also the only commissioner to vote against the nomination of Marotti for mayor, made by Finance Director Joseph McGreevy. Strumolo expressed an interest after last week's election in becoming mayor himself. Though he finished over 800 votes behind Marotti in the balloting, Strumolo then cited his 15 years in public office, a longer period than any of the other commissioners has served, as a reason for his re-election and, added, concerning his chances of being mayor.

That "seniority certainly helps," he could not be reached for comment Tuesday either on his vote for town attorney or the mayoralty, but he told the Town Hall crowd, "I'm voting 'no' on general principal."

As expected, commissioners did not switch departments at their organizational meeting Tuesday at Town Hall. The board voted unanimously to keep Marotti as director of parks and public property, Strumolo as director of public affairs, Mary V. Senatore as director of public works and Joseph McGreevy as head of the Department of Revenue and Finance. Matthew Pica, elected to his first commission term last week, is the new public safety director, replacing Rocco Saletta who did not run for re-election.

Commissioners also voted unanimously to approve five resolutions delegating departmental authority. There was no change in responsibilities except that the town attorney's office is now a part of Pica's Public Safety Department and not Strumolo's Department of Public Affairs.

At McGreevy's suggestion, commissioners also amended a resolution calling for them to meet the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month so that they would meet only once in July and August.

In brief speeches to the large audience Tuesday, commissioners thanked their election supporters and promised a new beginning, a unified approach to problems like the declining Washington Avenue business district and street conditions. "We pledge to work with the people of Belleville to see if we can get things done as a unit," said Marotti.

"It's nice to see all the faces out there smiling for a change," joked McGreevy, adding that commissioners had "all agreed to work in harmony and give you four good years."

"I'm looking forward to cooperation," said Pica. "I think it can be done."

Mrs. Senatore and Strumolo echoed the same themes, Strumolo making a particular point of pledging his support for Mayor Marotti.

Officials downplayed Scott's departure Tuesday. "The only reason for that was that Scott resigned," said Pica. "Then the assistant was pushed up."

Zinna, a 33-year-old Bloomfield resident, is married and the father of two children. He is a partner in the law firm of Piro and Zinna with offices in Naples.

A 1961 graduate of Belleville High School, Zinna graduated from Fairleigh Dickinson University in 1968 with a bachelor of science degree in business. He received his law degree in 1972 from Seton Hall School of Law, placing 11th in a class of 184.

Students organize to help needy here

By Donna Abate

With Mother's Day just having passed and Father's Day not far in the future, some might be tempted to forget the contribution young people of parks and public property, contribution being felt more than in Belleville where students are working hard to help the town's needy.

Throughout the year on each holiday, from Halloween to the Fourth of July, two representatives from each Belleville school and interested parents and teachers meet as a group with American Red Cross officials to set up projects to help organizations serving those in need.

For the upcoming Memorial Day holiday, students will be making patriotic favors that will be donated to the Children's Shelter, the Pediatrics Center at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital and the Veterans Hospital in East Orange.

Students are also filling up "friendship boxes" in homerooms at each school to gather various items for a particular needy boy or girl.

At the group's final meeting the Friday before last, American Red Cross representative Sophie Bade boasted about the enthusiasm of the Belleville helpers. "They do more than most children almost anywhere," she said.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Bade, representatives from each school volunteer in their homerooms and attend at least four or five meetings during the school year. Interested parents and teachers act as sponsors and escort the students to meetings that are held in different school lounges.

Body discovered in Passaic River

The body of a man was found floating in the Passaic River Tuesday on the Belleville side of the Belleville Avenue Bridge.

The bridge attendant spotted the body of a white male about 4:30 p.m. near the river's edge and police and an ambulance were called to the scene.

Belleville detectives had not yet identified the man late Tuesday.

President Pica lauded for service to schools

Hard working, well-respected, fair, a tough questioner, well-prepared and dedicated. Those were the words that flowed easily from several trustees Monday when asked to assess departing School Board President Matthew Pica.

Trustees warmly congratulated and thanked Pica for his eight years on the board, three as president. Pica was elected a commissioner last Tuesday, the only new face among Belleville's five commissioners.

"The man is not always easy to deal with because he just wants to know your ideas, not who you know or anything else. He is always asking you 'Why?' and 'What's the best way?' I like to deal with people like that," said School Superintendent Dr. John Greed.

PLANNER TELLS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE:

New types of stores, merchant pride keys to revitalizing business district

By DONNA ABATE

The Chamber of Commerce will meet with the Town Commission next month to present suggestions on parking and retail improvements for Belleville's troubled Washington Avenue business district. In preparation for the meeting, merchants along the avenue will be asked to review the suggestions and be given an opportunity to indicate what role they feel they can play to improve the area.

At Tuesday's meeting of the Chamber Board of Directors, President Henrik Tvedt and members discussed the possibility of inviting at least one commissioner to the June meeting, a get-together the Chamber hopes will become a monthly one.

"We have to establish a cooperation between Chamber members and the commissioners," Tvedt said. "They must be aware of what we're doing."

Harry T. French, the Chamber's executive director, noted that when the organization's parking committee met with directors and Mayor Michael Marotti, "we saw results the next day."

"I told the mayor I felt that at least 75 percent of the meters in Belleville are not working," French said. "The mayor told me I was wrong. Ninety percent weren't working."

French said repairs are now being made on the meters and that there is also a meter maid on duty along Washington Avenue. "I know they're doing their job, and I even have a ticket to prove it," he said.

Grace Harris, executive director of the Planning Association of North Jersey and consultant to the local Planning Board, stirred many suggestions for Washington Avenue as the guest speaker Tuesday.

"When we talk about improvements for Washington Avenue, we can't just think of retail development," she said. "We must think in terms of more diversified development."

Mrs. Harris said the Chamber should encourage more professional offices such as those for doctors and dentists or clinics and business offices, all of which, she said, would bring more employees downtown.

"Probably the biggest single employer downtown now are the various municipal office buildings," she added.

In her talk, Mrs. Harris said that service establishments such as barber shops and beauty salons, fast-printing, TV and appliance repairs, dry cleaning and eating and drinking establishments would drum up business along the avenue and bring in a steady flow of customers.

"All of these services can interact with each other," she stressed. "A person who comes to work downtown will eat lunch, may visit the hairdresser and do some shopping."

"We cannot hope to attract comparison shopping, but we can try for convenience shopping such as camera and photo equipment, hardware, cards, gifts, books, specialty food stores, cheese stores and records and stereo equipment," she said.

Mrs. Harris also suggested commercial uses to include business, beauty and drafting schools.

On the issue of parking, Mrs. Harris commented, "It's an important area, but it is only one element of a comprehensive plan to revitalize Washington Avenue."

She said that plan should also include promotion and rehabilitation of existing buildings on the avenue.

Planning Board member John Hudson stressed Mrs. Harris's point that the merchants should get involved in the plan.

"The merchants cry about how nothing is being done, but they sit back and don't do anything about the problem themselves," he charged.

"They can't expect the town to do everything," Hudson said. "They have to sell themselves to the people."

Hudson suggested the root of the problem is lack of cooperation from all the merchants in pitching in and helping to clean the area, starting with their own stores.

"Parking isn't the only problem. If we have what the people want, they'll walk a few blocks to get it," Hudson noted. "Do you always park right by the door when you go to Willowbrook?"

Hudson approached Mrs. Harris at the meeting and asked for her speech notes which he said he would photocopy and send to various merchants.

"We've got to start with the cooperation of the merchants," he concluded.

Mrs. Harris mentioned various funding available for small businesses through state loans, and noted those could be quite "generous."

She stressed that the Chamber is also eligible to get a CETA employee, who could be on the city payroll. "In Clifton, CETA employees work with businessmen for special promotions and advertising," she said.

"If the Chamber takes a lead role in revitalization of Washington Avenue, we have to encourage a joint effort to involve town officials, property owners and business people," she concluded, "but we have to work together in a partnership for results."

Planning Board Chairman Joseph Grande, who also attended the meeting, commented, "The Planning Board will keep plugging these suggestions and try to encourage the new Board of Commissioners to implement some changes."

sociated with 40 to 50 board members, but Matt Pica is the hardest working board member I've ever seen. He understood his job and honored the positions of other board members. There was a certain respect toward the office of president with him there," said Greed.

"The man was always prepared, he always did his homework and you can honestly say things did get accomplished during his tenure," remarked Trustee Pete Clarizio.

"Matty's a very close friend and I'm happy he's still going to be with the town. He's dedicated. I look forward to working with him in his new capacity," said Trustee Mike Chieffo.

"It has been a pleasure being with you and a pleasure being with the school system. You've got some tough decisions to make. I hope in the future you vote your conscience as you have been. Lay aside personalities, stick to the gut issues," said Pica, who was then applauded by citizens and trustees.

ASK RITA

Comments and letters can be sent to RITA, care of the TIMES/NEWS, 108 Greylock Ave., Belleville, N.J. 07109. Letters may be signed or submitted anonymously. Rita is a social worker at the town's Juvenile Aid Bureau. Her weekly column is geared to those problems facing adolescents, their parents and anyone else dealing with teenagers.

Dear Rita,

There doesn't seem to be any way to please my father. I really try to do most of what he tells me, but what's the use...I'm always wrong! I get so mad that I just walk out of the house when he starts with me or else I'll freak out! What's a kid to do?

Going on 15 and going out of my head.

Dear Going on 15,

Obviously, you and your dad are not speaking the same language! Since the situation apparently bothers you so much, maybe it's time to sit down and try to figure it out...WITH HIM!

When you're ready to work it out, keep your purpose in mind. Many times, people get off on the wrong foot by starting out trying to prove who started the problem or who was to blame. You want to solve the problem, not start a new argument. The best way is to concentrate on your own experience of the situation, not your opinion of how the other one was acting, etc. How did the problem affect you? Were you hurt or angry at him? Did you feel both? What were you trying to accomplish by doing what you were doing? Did you honestly misunderstand his instructions or were you purposely trying to do it wrong to get even because you were mad? Be honest!

Ask him to share the same way with you. Was he mad at you for something else and unable to talk to you about it? Remember your purpose is to find out what was going on underneath the fact that you were both not getting along. Then you'll have the opportunity to solve the real problem.

It is not unusual for many parents and their teenage children to go through this kind of a stage of being unable to relate to each other. It's just as difficult for parents to understand their children growing up as it is for kids to grow up. Once you both recognize what you expect from each other, you'll find it a lot easier to get along and handle the problems that arise. Good luck!

Rita

Adubato and Cali will seek Assembly terms once again

Assemblymen Michael F. Adubato and John F. Cali, Democrats from the 30th District, have declared their re-election candidacies. Both are seeking fourth terms.

Both Adubato and Cali were first elected to the New Jersey State Assembly in 1973 and were re-elected in 1975 and 1977. The 30th District is composed of Belleville, Kearny, Harrison, Secaucus, East Newark and part of the North and East Wards of Newark.

"I am confident that when the voters examine our records, they will re-elect us," said Adubato.

"Both Mike and I have worked hard in Trenton over the last six years, and we have the means to provide free mass transit for the elderly and handicapped, establish a pre-paid ticket program at reduced fares and require the commissioner of transportation to develop and revise a master plan for transportation every five years.

"In this era of rising fuel prices and declining energy resources, mass transit provides the means to help alleviate both problems," Cali said.

Cali and Adubato, who chaired reform hearings for the Legislative Ad Hoc Committee on auto insurance rates, stressed a teamwork concept in their statements.

"Mike and I were elected together in 1973, and we work well together to serve the people of the 30th District," Cali said.

"I've always felt that much of Jack's and my work has been complementary," Adubato said. "We both feel very strongly about the 30th District — our roots are there — and we work hard together to serve it. We are optimistic about the next two years in Trenton, and we are confident that the people of the 30th District will give us the opportunity to continue to serve."

Adubato, a life insurance agent, lives with his wife, the former Peggy Cullen, and three children, Richard, Lisa and Michael, in Newark.

Cali, a warden in the Hudson County Department of Corrections, lives in Kearny with his wife, the former Dolores Kelly, and two of his children, Patricia and Gary. John, Doreen and Ellen, his three other children, are married.

The Mary V. Senatore Civic and Welfare Association will hold its regular monthly membership meeting 8:15 p.m. Wednesday, May 30, at the Chandelier, 340 Franklin Ave.

President Frank J. Carragher Jr. will preside over the business portion of the meeting which will include reports from the scholarship committee and Marie Gammara, chairman of the annual picnic.

Ben Schaffer, recreation administrator for senior citizens, and Mrs. Piff Fitting, senior aerobics director of the Essex County Park Commission, will present on a program on senior aerobics.

The fitness program is one carefully designed for persons over 60 and is adaptable to almost any level of physical condition. Members will be given a series of exercises, stretches and simple movements and turns set to music. Aerobics has been compared to dancing, and when the exercises are over, the speakers say, members will feel as if they had more energy than when they started.

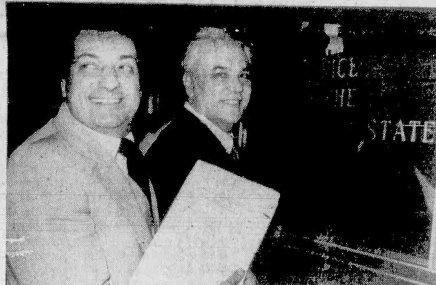

Bell accepts lawyers' ads

New Jersey Bell is now accepting advertising for its Yellow Pages from state attorneys.

Following guidelines established for the state's attorneys by the New Jersey Supreme Court, the company began April 1 to accept the advertising for directories that will be published in July or later.

Under the guidelines set down by the state's highest court, attorneys must approve the advertising in advance and retain a copy for three years. There are no restrictions on the sizes of advertisements.

Jersey Bell will not publish fees charged by lawyers for their services because each directory is in circulation for a full year.

Running Again — Michael F. Adubato and John F. Cali prepare to present their nominating petitions for the New Jersey Assembly at the office of the secretary of state. The two Democrats will be seeking fourth terms.

Commission election results

The Town Commission election results of last week turned out pretty much as expected. The surprises were the low voter turnout and the finishing place of the five winners.

Commissioner Mary Senatore's fifth place, with 3,371 votes was a major surprise to the political community. Mary was expected to finish one, two or three.

Apparently, Belleville voters thought much like the Belleville Times/News — the election of the incumbents would best serve the community for the next four years and the vacant commission berth held by former Public Safety Commissioner Rocco Saletta was the right place for Board of Education President Matthew Pica.

Tuesday's re-organization of the new commission was also a foregone conclusion. Mike Marotti was returned as mayor; the other incumbents were voted back to their respective departments, and Matthew Pica picked up the Public Safety Department.

The appointment of Frank Zinna as town attorney is a good one. Zinna is an articulate and effective attorney who can be expected to ably represent the town of Belleville.

The bid enigma to us is why only 43 percent of Belleville's registered voters thought it was important enough to visit the polls last Tuesday. It is obvious the voters who stayed home could have made a difference in the election results. Some way must be found to encourage and induce more voters to turn out on Election Day.

We congratulate the winning five. Somehow we expect a better performance in the next four years than we have seen during the past four. Maybe the political independent Matty Pica may make the difference.

We commend the 11 losers for helping maintain a record of clean municipal campaigns. They tried and they lost. Why they didn't win is anybody's guess, but the important thing about the losers is they participated in a democratic exercise. The competition compelled the winners to exert themselves and speak out on major issues.

Belleville is a good town. It lacks aggressive, innovative leadership. It may be that this missing link in our community life might be recognized by the newly sworn Town Commission, and one may rise above the pack to provide the sorely needed leadership. We hope so.

Reader analyzes gas shortage in Belleville

To the Editor:

Of interest to Belleville residents should be the growing shortage of gasoline evident throughout the country and the measures with which many are preparing to deal with the problem.

To serve as a catalyst, California has instituted an odd-even license plate system to keep the gas crunch from becoming a statewide nightmare. Still, lines of cars at the pumps are growing and the precious commodity is becoming a luxury for those patient drivers who are willing to sacrifice their time, and for those drivers who have no choice.

These are scenes reminiscent of the 1974 gas pinch and the ways in which Americans dealt with the crisis. Looking back, Belleville and neighboring towns "fought back" by joining the motorists in line and by paying the gas stations the prices they asked. Belleville is a well-traveled community by many who commute to New York City and vicinity via the Belleville Turnpike each morning, and its ideal location as a suburban municipality just north of Newark can almost guarantee gasoline's existence as a necessary and affordable luxury, just as Baseball, Hot Dogs, Apple Pie, and yes, Chevrolet.

So what are we to do? The government has warned us that driving is a privilege and not a right — a hint to use public transportation or own two feet. But with the escalating fares imposed by the bus companies and others, where are we to turn?

Perhaps our best hope is to examine the crisis and its origins. The oil companies have stated that the gasoline panic erupted out of the Iranian cut-back and that a greater gasoline consumption by Americans forced the inevitable. The American People, however, have indicated otherwise, terming the panic a hoax and a runaway rip-off for the gluttonous oil companies. True, their profits are setting new records and their investors are growing wealthier daily. Consumer advocate Ralph Nader is screaming "fraud," and public opinion polls would banish the oil companies' executives from the face of the earth, if at all possible. In addition, the scrapping of President Carter's windfall profits tax has left us in a state of dismal confusion.

Both sides of the argument must be carefully examined and scrutinized. Once done, the clear and emerging truth of cover-ups, astronomical profits, and the occurrence of a willful shortage created an implemented by the already wealthy and overweight oil companies comes to light. And though this in itself seems an atrocity, there is then the matter of the vulnerability of our elected officials in allowing this situation to occur, and escape without penalty.

Guglicelli says election destroyed civic concern

To the Editor:

The results of the election were very disappointing. I will no longer take an active part in town affairs.

Too many voters deserted the ship and joined the politicians. All promises made to me proved worthless. All candidates I supported in past elections sold me down the river and that includes the Citizens Union which rated me eighth because they could not control me.

My platform was the best thing for all homeowners since Proposition 13 but the voters let it go down the drain. The picnic is over they will now receive the type of representation they voted for. Inflation will be with us for a long time. Property taxes will go sky high. The fire house in Silver Lake will be closed. With the conditions we are facing today, more serious problems will be created since the politicians are still in control.

The change in our form of government is not the answer here in Belleville. It's the people you choose to represent you. I will not support it. It's just a waste of taxpayers' money.

When the people do not come out to vote and remove the politicians from office that gave us the highest assessment in the state which hurt many homeowners and made industry fly the coop, it is time for me to quit, and let the chips fall where they may.

I will no longer get involved since the people do not appreciate a good man with good ideas to help them.

Sincerely Yours,
Albert Guglicelli

Joseph Yeamans' reflections on town commission election

To the Editor:

Thank you is so often the brief expression we give for the much deeper inner feelings of gratitude and appreciation we possess. So, to express my deep and inner most feelings to all of the fine and wonderful people who have assisted and aided me in the past municipal election campaign, I simply say thank you. For without you and your efforts, so much of what was accomplished would never have been possible.

To come from obscurity to the recognition of approximately thirteen hundred votes is a fine accomplishment, and it is good and right to recognize all those who have made this accomplishment possible. Again, to all of you, a heart felt thank you.

Sincerely,
Joseph R. Yeamans

Fornarotto thanks supporters

To the Editor:

At this time I would like to thank all the Belleville residents who came out to cast a vote for me this past Tuesday. The homeowners who gave me permission to erect signs and all the poll workers, I would like also to give my thanks.

Again, thanks
Joseph T. Fornarotto

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

An election is defined as the taking of a public vote. Sure, we had an election in town last week, but, comparatively speaking, we seemed to have had more candidates than voters.

Under ideal weather conditions which, if for no other reason, because of the beauty of the fresh, delightful spring day should have lured out large masses of voters, especially, all those who had been moaning and groaning about what they found intolerable about the way they considered the town run; Where were all those vocal malcontents when the chips were down? Even the anonymity of the ballot box failed to flush them out.

The time honored adage still prevails... The people get what they generally deserve, while the politicians, at times, get considerably more.

As in almost any race of consequence, the papers speculate upon the outcome be it a horse race or a contest for public office. Whatever effect this may have upon the outcome is speculative, however, both our local newspapers proved accurate in their prognostications.

DESPITE A FEW last minute feeble roofbracks (A false statement put out late in a political campaign to injure one of the candidates) the campaign was conducted on a high plane, devoid of personalities.

The disgracefully poor turnout of the over 17,000 eligible Belleville voters is a sad commentary upon their civic interest and sense of duty as American citizens to perform their duty to vote and participate in the manner in which their country is run.

We commend those who did show interest and voted; For those who didn't give a damn let them not complain... their apathy has contributed nothing to improving or making our community a better place in which to live.

With the election campaign over, with all its enlightening nuances of the subtle behind the scenes maneuvering of the forces behind the moves and strategy of the participants, we feel we are better equipped to interpret some of the motivations and designs of impending political developments.

Individually, I'd like to thank and express my appreciation to all those who supported and sponsored my candidacy during the period of the absence of the column during the campaign. Likewise, my congratulations are extended to the winners with the best well wishes for a successful administration. After all, Belleville's future is now in their hands.

AND NOW, with my shattered dreams of better serving the people of our town in the lofty realm of politics (or is it so lofty a station? Didn't I read some place that politicians only rate one notch above used car salesmen in the people's regard poll?) and return to the humble role of a roturier (You'd better look that one up in the lexicon to savor its full meaning) I'll close my comments on my return with the admonishment that anyone speculating upon wrestling control of the Democratic party leadership from the lady commissioner is in for one helluva battle that could prove more devastating and costly than war. It has been said fools walk where angels fear to tread.

It is nice being back at the same old stand and we hope that absence hasn't made your heart grow fonder for someone else.

Height limits on fence are stupid

To the Editor:

Today I crossed paths with yet another show of Belleville's bureaucracy. I went to the Town Hall, like a good citizen, for a fence permit. I was informed that there was a town ordinance passed stating that a stockade fence could only be constructed at a height of 2 1/2 feet!

We want this fence for privacy but we also need it to keep children from using our property as a short cut. This size fence could not hold back a three year old, you can imagine the difficulty a six foot teenager would encounter!

You buy a home, pay what I consider to be outrageous taxes, and cannot even erect a fence on your own property.

It's amazing that with all the other pressing problems facing Belleville, (such as state ordered busing, an overcrowded Junior High School to name a few) that the town commissioners wasted their time on fences. It's absolutely ludicrous. If there is a reason, I would appreciate knowing what it is.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Pat Guarnaccio

Divorce workshop scheduled Tuesdays at Montclair YMCA

The trauma of divorce or separation is an experience shared by a significant segment of the population. In addition to emotional upheaval, the divorcing woman may, for the first time, be fully responsible for financial management, legal decisions etc. without adequate preparation. There are special difficulties faced by women who have spent a large part of their lives as homemakers, without the opportunity to continue job training, gain seniority or accrue benefits.

A five-part workshop will be held at the YWCA for women contemplating divorce, in the process of separation or beyond the final divorce decree.

This series has been held several times previously with great success. The information presented, the sharing of experiences and, especially, the support of the group, have been invaluable to the participants.

The workshop opened this month with a discussion of the emotional aspects of divorce led by Ann Gallagher. That's being followed on successive Tuesdays from 8-10 p.m. with discussions of matrimonial law, finances, social problems and career alternatives.

The cost of the series is $10 plus YWCA membership. Registration is limited. For further information, call 746-5400 or come in to the YWCA at 159 Glenridge Ave., Montclair.

The second annual bike-a-thon will be sponsored by the Belleville Optimists Sunday at 1 p.m. (See story on page 13.)

Cystic fibrosis is a presently incurable disease which is inherited, and it is estimated that one out of every 20 persons may be an unknowing carrier of the recessive gene for CF. "Most people do not know there are millions of children and young adults with lung-damaging diseases who can be helped with the research made possible through the monies raised," said Springob. "In its relatively short history, the work of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation has increased the average life span of suf-

Promotion comes quickly for airman

Mark J. Sterlacci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony T. Sterlacci, 225 Main St., has been specially identified for early promotion to senior airman in the United States Air Force.

Being selected "below-the-zone" means that an individual has been awarded a senior airman stripe up to six months in advance of normal promotion eligibility. Competition in this category is highly intense and reserved only for those airmen who excel on the job and are recommended by their unit commanders.

Sterlacci is a law enforcement specialist at Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii, and serves with a unit of the Pacific Air Forces. He is a 1976 graduate of Belleville High School.

Navy Seaman Apprentice Frank J. Coram, son of Frank J. and Christine F. Coram of 15 Overlook Ave., recently departed for a deployment to the Mediterranean Sea.

Coram is a crewmember aboard the aircraft carrier USS American, homeported in Norfolk, Va., and operating as a unit of the Sixth Fleet.

During the cruise, Coram's ship is scheduled to participate in training exercises with other Sixth Fleet units and with ships of allied nations. Additionally, port visits in several Mediterranean coastal cities are scheduled.

Coram joined the Navy in February 1977.

Navy Firearm Recruit John P. Calderone, son of Anthony and Mary Calderone of 68 New St., has reported for duty aboard the aircraft carrier USS Constellation, homeported in San Diego, Calif.

A 1978 graduate of Belleville High School, Calderone joined the Navy in August of last year.

Spec. 4 Darlene R. Halrston is a member of the 197th Infantry Brigade that participated in cold-weather training at Fort Drum, N.Y., this past winter.

The training was designed to test the unit's ability to conduct sustained cold-weather operations such as skiing and snowshoeing, unit maneuvers and vehicle and equipment maintenance.

The brigade traveled by air to Fort Drum from Fort Benning, Ga., while the vehicles and equipment were carried by rail.

Halrston is a personnel clerk with the brigade at Fort Benning. Her mother, Mrs. Ruby Fernandez, lives in Newark. Her father, Samuel Halrston, lives in Belleville.

YOUR MONEY.

EIGHT WAYS WE MAKE IT WORK FOR YOU.

Whether you have it on hand for a day or a decade, your money should always be working earning interest. And First National State has a variety of savings plans designed to meet all of your savings needs.

To begin with we offer this wide range of high yield savings certificates. Each pays the highest interest rate allowed by law. All interest is earned from day of deposit, compounded daily. Interest is paid at maturity or by a check mailed quarterly or deposited to your checking account. Just choose the certificate that's right for your money.

EFFECTIVE ANNUAL YIELD	INTEREST PER YEAR
Minimum Deposit $1,000 for terms of 8 to 10 years
8.17%	7.75%
Minimum Deposit $1,000 for terms of 6 to 8 years
7.90%	7.50%
Minimum Deposit $1,000 for terms of 4 to 6 years
7.63%	7.25%
Minimum Deposit $500 for terms of 2 to 4 years
6.81%	6.50%
Minimum Deposit $500 for terms of 1 to 2 1/2 years
6.27%	6.00%

Annual yields are effective when principal and interest are left on deposit for a full year.

FirstRate Savings Certificates

FirstRate Six Month Savings Certificates pay you an interest rate equal to the discount rate paid on U.S. Treasury Bills in effect at the time you purchase the certificate. (The effective annual yield on actual U.S. Treasury Bills is slightly higher.) With a minimum investment of $10,000 you earn a high rate of interest over a six-month period. Then you may renew your certificate (again at the prevailing six-month Treasury Bill rate) or withdraw your money without any penalty.

Regular Passbook Savings

First National State's Regular Passbook Savings pays 5% annual interest which is compounded and credited quarterly on balances of $25 or more.

Five Star Passbook*

This hard-working savings account pays 5 1/2% annual interest from day of deposit and is compounded quarterly. (90 day notice of withdrawal is required.) A minimum deposit of $500 is required to open the account and additional deposits of $50 or more may be made at any time.

With these eight great ways to save, First National State is sure to be the One for your money.

*Federal law and regulation prohibit the payment of a time deposit prior to maturity unless three months of the interest thereon is forfeited and interest on the amount withdrawn is reduced to the current passbook rate. Federal regulations prohibit compounding of interest on Five Star Passbooks.

If you lose your Pharmaceutical Assistance Card, you should report it to the PAA Program, CNO 38, Trenton, N.J. While waiting for the replacement, if drugs need to be purchased, have the pharmacist call 800-792-9745 to verify your participation in the program. It usually takes three to four weeks to receive a new card.

We who are older have learned many things that our successors have yet to learn. We have learned that caring about human needs is necessary to make our lives full and whole. We know that in voicing our concern for the needs of others, we are indeed helping ourselves.

"New Frontiers" is the theme of this year's Senior Citizens Jamboree May 23 at South Mountain Arena. There will be the usual free medical testing plus information and referral services from social agencies, also entertainment by seniors. Pack a lunch or eat at the cafeteria. Plan on making a day of it with old friends and a chance to meet new ones. Booths are to be sponsored by the many communities in the county, and prizes will be awarded for the best showings.

Persons receiving Social Security checks, Railroad Retirement cash benefits and Supplemental Security Income payments can expect to receive an increase of about 9.9 percent in their July checks.

Ann Klein, New Jersey commissioner of human services, has announced that an additional $3.4 million will be available for social services programs under Title XX of the Social Security Act during 1979. Title XX covers such services as day, home health, child and adult protective care and family planning.

Sen. Harrison A. Williams said that he will introduce legislation to head off a decrease in the production of senior citizen housing under the nation's principal housing program. Senator Williams said that his measure would continue funding for the federal government's section 202 housing program three more years at levels of $875 million for 1980, $950 million for 1981 and $975 million for 1982.

A new ballpoint pen called "Eraser Mate" is about to be introduced on the market. This pen is different from other ballpoint pens in that the ink can be erased. Warning: Don't use it to write or endorse checks or other legal papers.

Social Banner — Officers of the Senior Citizens Social Club of Belleville (l-r) Helen Reynolds, Betty Barr, Alice Tilli, President Harry Reynolds, Sally Hood, Tom Basso, Della Draghi, Margaret Landon Basso and Joseph Piscopio celebrate the dedication of the club's first commemorative banner, made by Mrs. Tilli. The group formed Nov. 3, 1978, a fact noted on the banner.

Belleville Scouts plan weekend spectacular

Belleville schools are given kit on teenage alcohol abuse

Ray Iannuzzi, a physical education and health teacher at Belleville Junior High School, attended several recent workshops in West Orange and Morris Plains on teenage drinking.

A free kit of materials for a new educational program aimed at curbing alcohol abuse among youngsters was donated to the Belleville school system.

The kit, entitled "Al-Co-Hol," is designed for five 45-minute classroom sessions for seventh and eighth graders. A short talk by the teacher on the day's topic is followed by a series of activities using puzzles, game-show formats and role playing.

The Al-Co-Hol kit includes a 16mm color-sound film, "Alcohol: How Much Is Too Much?," student handbooks, a teacher's guide and complete instructional materials.

The program is being sponsored by the New Jersey Automobile Club's Foundation for Safety in cooperation with the other AAA clubs in the state and the New Jersey Division of Alcoholism under a grant from the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles' Office of Highway Safety.

dent Kim Santora, vice president, Carla Dente and treasurer Lisa Brizzi, the group discusses ideas for future projects. Each school is assigned to a holiday which makes the particular group responsible for making appropriate favors.

Miss Santora explained that representatives go to each homeroom in their schools and make students aware of the holiday projects. Students then wishing to participate do so through their homerooms.

"Some students don't want to participate, but most of them do," Miss Santora said.

In the past, the group has donated money which it collected from schools to many charities, including a $100 gift to the Cora Smith Fund in Belleville.

Group representatives and sponsors include School 1, secretary Marie Fabrizio, Blanca Perez and Mrs. Mary Ann Bush; School 2, Melissa Gorianello, Kimberly Higgins and Mrs. Del Priore; School 3, Gabrielle Minniti, Dawn Duncombe, Ariadne Roig and Miss

Sports

Equals brawn athletes

ment will be held for yet another of whose members will make the way in the future. One student United States, one could be the work Knicks, another might be the Belleville has not had such a successful season in sports since the class of 1975 was on the courts and playing fields. But the '79 athletes are not only good on the field, they also excel in the classroom.

Many of the Buccaneers' top athletes will be attending college this fall. For example, Angelo Santinelli, the co-captain of this year's 6-3 football team, is in the top 3 percent of his class and has narrowed his choices of colleges down to Moravian, Rutgers and Penn State. Angelo intends to play football next year, wherever he decides to go.

Joe D'Agostino, a triple letterman in football, wrestling and track, is also a top student. He will be attending Gettysburg College in the fall where he plans to continue his careers in football and track. Joe is the type of man who is often overlooked athletically. He is an extremely quiet but overwhelmingly talented individual. He was co-captain of the football team and is currently the co-captain of the track team, an honor he has held the last two years. During the football season, he was the team's starting tackle on offense. In the Bucs' eighth game of the season against Clark, Belleville lost its top defensive tackle, Rick Racioppi when the sophomore suffered a broken leg. In came D'Agostino who filled in the role for the rest of the game and did an outstanding job.

Over the wrestling season, Joe grappled in the 188-pound class and earned the respect of his opponents in each match. He competed on the varsity level for two years at 188 pounds and had a couple of key victories that eventually led to Belleville team wins.

On the track squad, Joe has been a very steady and consistent performer in the shot and discus events. He figures to earn a place when the Essex County championships come around next this week. Joe possesses a great deal of strength, and under that quiet exterior, he possesses a great deal of class.

Another triple letterman, or should I say letterwoman, Denise Juliano, will take her talent to Seton Hall University next fall. Denise excelled on the tennis and basketball clubs and currently shines on the softball team.

As a tennis player, she competed in the first singles, a spot reserved for the team's top player. Denise went up against Essex County's best and always came through with convincing performances. On the basketball team, she earned the nickname, "Jack Lambert." If you ever saw her play, you would probably agree the nickname was well chosen. In case you don't know, Jack Lambert is the middle linebacker for the Pittsburgh Steelers. Now before you write any letters complaining that I'm comparing Denise to a 225-pound linebacker, let me explain a little further. The comparison is apt because Jack Lambert is an extremely motivated athlete. He plays the game with a great deal of fire and zest and encourages his teammates to do the same. So does Denise. She played her team up before each game with her desire to win and played aggressively. Her dedication was rewarded when she led Belleville to a first-round victory over Weequahic in the Essex County Tournament by scoring 16 points, a career high.

In softball, Denise occupies the first base position and has powered a homer for the Buccaneers. Next year she intends to devote her full athletic efforts towards tennis.

These are only a few athletes who will be employing their talents at college next fall. There are many more, and if I wrote about each one of them, this column would be the size of "War and Peace." The point is that the class of 1979 has produced some fine athletes and more importantly some fine people. They will definitely be missed.

Most sports fans may be familiar with the name, Paul Mirabella. Paul was a job with the New York Yankees in spring training as a relief pitcher. What you might not know about Paul Mirabella is that he once pitched for the town's semi-pro team, the Belleville Bruins. Paul is from nearby Parsippany.

Unfortunately, he was sent to the Yanks' minor league camp this past week to make room for Jim Kaat. Chances are that you'll probably see this 25-year-old back on the mound for the Yankees before too long, though. He was the team's top pitcher in spring training, and a person of his talent should very likely become a big star within the years to come.

Have you been watching the NBA playoffs recently? The Howard Hughes of sports, or more familiarly the players, have actually been performing quite well. That little extra money for winning the NBA title seems to motivate the players. It must be because the $250,000 they're making for the regular season doesn't seem to impress them too much. The San Antonio-Washington series for the Eastern finals has been quite interesting. The Spurs are just a game away from eliminating the defending champs.

The Seattle Supersonics and Phoenix Suns played a deciding seventh game in the NBA for the Western Conference title and a shot at the finals yesterday. The Sonics are a very well coached team and play the game with great team unity. They are one of the few teams in the NBA who like to play with five men on the court. I personally would like to see a rematch of last year's final, Washington and Seattle, and look for the Sonics to win in seven games this time.

Speaking of very rich athletes, do you watch the Cosmos play Tampa Bay last weekend? The Cosmos by far have the largest payroll in soccer and were 7-0 before the Tampa game. They are also the defending two-time champs of the NASL. The Cosmos lost, a rarity for them, 3-2 to the Rowdies, a team many feel is the only squad that can possibly match up with the talented bunch from the Meadowlands.

Buc nine spring to life in rout over Montclair

By Mike Lamberti

George Zanfini has been saying it all year: "Our pitching and fielding have been super, but our hitting has to improve. If we can combine all three of these assets in one game, we should be very tough to handle."

Well, last week the Buc baseball team took its coach's advice as it pounded out 10 hits, en route to an 8-1 rout of the Mounties of Montclair last Friday at Montclair.

It was only the second time this year that the Blue-Gold had reached the double figure area in hit production. Dan Borgo earned the victory, his fifth in six tries this season, while Gregory took the loss.

On Tuesday, the Bucs hosted East Orange and yesterday traveled to Passaic. Both games were 3:45 p.m. starts, and the results of those contests were in too late for this edition. Today at 4 p.m., Belleville is host to Barringer in the first round of the state tournament. Tomorrow the Bucs will stay home for a contest with the Tornadoes of Orange in a 3:45 p.m. start. On Monday they will travel to South Orange to play the Pony Pirates of Seton Hall Prep.

"It was our best hitting day of the year," said Zanfini of the Montclair effort. "We had better concentration and thus better contact with the ball. I've been coaching some of these guys for three years now, and I know that they're capable of doing this well each game."

The Bucs struck quickly with two runs to begin the first inning. Leadoff batter Mike Nicotia started the game by reaching safely on the second baseman's error. The Mountie error was one of six that they would commit on the day. Borgo walked and Jim Tensfeldt sacrificed Nicotia and Borgo to third and second respectively. After two outs, Richie Vitiello, the team's designated hitter, smacked a two-run single.

In their half of the first, the Mounties scored their lone run. Borgo was wild in the beginning, allowing walks to Strauch and Sarra. Strauch stole second and moved to third when the catcher's throw went into centerfield. Eric Lutz then lofted a sacrifice fly to center that drove home Strauch.

The game remained 2-1 until the Buc half of the third inning. Borgo and Tensfeldt reached safely with infield singles. Joe Franceschini got aboard on the left fielder's error. Vitiello hit an infield fly that automatically was scored as a putout. However, the shortstop dropped the fly, and Borgo raced home with the Bucs' third run. Under the infield fly rule, the batter is automatically out and the runners can advance at their own risk.

Belleville changed a close 3-1 game into a 6-1 rout in the fifth inning. Once again, Borgo led the inning off and drew a walk. Tensfeldt hit into a fielder's choice, erasing Borgo at second. Tensfeldt then raced to second on the second baseman's error trying to convert a double play. Franceschini reached on another miscue that moved Tensfeldt to third. Franceschini then stole second, and both runners came home two outs later on a Jim Kelly single. After Kelly's timely hit, Anthony Dondarski walked and Joe Guarino doubled home Kelly.

Belleville added two more runs in the seventh inning. Tensfeldt singled and Coffey came in to pinch run. Franceschini singled, and both runners took an extra base when the shortstop committed an error. Dondarski then singled home the two runs.

BUC BOUNCES: The game marked the first time all season that Nicotia did not have a hit. Gregory pitched the entire seven innings for the Mounties, striking out two and walking four. Borgo had 11 strikeouts and walked six. The Mounties had five hits, while the Bucs committed only one error.

Belleville's record for the year is now 10-3.

Will crews travel to Philadelphia?

By John Jurich

"Fair, good, not great," was the way Coach Sam Giuffrida described his crews' performances at the Mid-Hudson Regatta in Poughkeepsie.

That so-so effort now has the coaching staff assessing whether or not to go to this weekend's Stotesbury Regatta in Philadelphia, preliminary races for which begin tomorrow afternoon.

"You just don't go to the Stotesbury as just another race," said Giuffrida Monday. "Some of the best crews in the country will be competing. It's sort of the east coast championships, the preliminaries for the nationals."

The best showing for Belleville Saturday at Poughkeepsie was by the third varsity boat that took second in its qualifying heat and third in the finals.

"The freshmen were in a very difficult heat," said Giuffrida. "The luck of the draw put all the best boats in the same heat, and all the weaker boats in others." The freshmen placed fourth in the qualifying round and so did not make it to the finals.

The junior four were overtaken in the finals to finish third, while the senior four placed a "very disappointing" fifth.

The performances of the two girls' boats, meanwhile, were very encouraging considering that both were far outstripped in experience by other shells. The freshmen girls were second in the finals, while the varsity four took fourth in an extra-try competitive field and were quite close to the third-place finisher.

If Belleville does go to the Stotesbury, the boys' senior four and girls' varsity four will most likely be making the trip. It was to be decided in practices this week whether the two boats had enough of a chance to make the effort worthwhile.

Line Protection — Belleville's Joe Guarino guards the third-base line closely in Friday's away contest with Montclair. The Buccaneer defense committed just one error the entire game as opposed to an army of miscues by the Mounties.

Fibrosis bike race slated for Sunday

The Belleville Optimist Club's second annual bike-a-thon for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation will be held Sunday. Registration will take place at Belleville High School on the Division Avenue side from noon to 1 p.m. the bike-a-thon will run from 1-5 p.m.

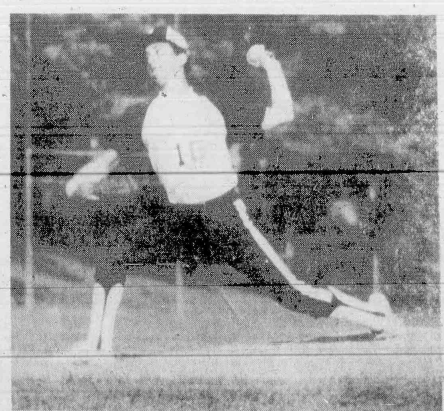

The contest is open to boys and girls of all ages. Entry forms are available at all public schools in Belleville and Olympic Bowl on Washington Avenue.

Prizes will be awarded to contestants every hour. Hot dogs and soda will be available free to all participants.

Two major prizes will be awarded this year, a bicycle for first place and a stereo for second. Judging will take place May 31. The winner will be the participant who collects the most money from his pledges and turns it in by 9 p.m. on that date. Contestants will be told the day of the bike-a-thon where they should turn in the money.

All participants who bring in $25 or more will receive a free T-shirt from the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Fast Fan — The smack of Dan Borgo's pitches in the catcher's glove could be heard throughout Woodman Field. The senior lefty struck out 11 but walked six. Borgo earned his fifth win against one loss.

Swing Time — The Bucs' Joe Guarino takes a cut early Friday's game with Montclair. Though he grounded out here, he later socked a double that drove in a run in the fifth-inning rally that gave Belleville the game.

One for Another — Jim Tensfeldt flies into first after hitting into a fielder's choice. Tensfeldt advanced to second and then third on errors before scoring on a single. The Montclair outing was an encouraging one for the Belleville batsmen.

DeBacco, Circle leaders in men's softball league

DeBacco Brothers and Circle II Bar share first place in the Monday night division of the Belleville Recreation Men's Softball League. Both teams are 2-0.

DeBacco's defeated Chief Motors 25-5 this past week and Circle II took a 9-3 decision over Garden State Pet. Wallace & Tiernan evened its record at 1-1 by beating Belleville Shoes (0-2) 7-1.

In the Tuesday league, Roselli's (2-0) edged Scordo Tile (0-2) by a 4-3 score. Marson's Plumbing (2-0) shared first place by taking a 12-11 decision from 4-J's (1-1). The Red Shingle Inn evened its record at 1-1 with a 9-1 tally over 0-2 Circle Bar.

Joe's Alignment and Rossmore Pharmacy, both with 2-0 records, lead the Wednesday night league. Joe's beat Silver Lake 13-4, and Rossmore registered a 14-5 win over Michael's Towing. In other action, Howard Hustlers evened their record at 1-1 by nipping Garden State II 8-6.

The Thursday night league was rained out.

Senior League

The Giants continued their winning ways in the Rec Senior League by defeating the Braves 15-2. Steve Poto had a bases-loaded double to drive in three runs. Joe DeGregorio brought Poto home with a double. Bob Bolchune ripped another bases-loaded double in the fourth inning. Vic Lombardozzi was the winning pitcher, scattering three hits and striking out 10.

The Yankees squeaked by the Pirates 8-7 but lost later in the week to the Giants 11-1. The Cubs were victors over the Braves 7-4. The Mets defeated the Pirates 4-3 on Friday.

Intermediate League

The Yankees remained undefeated with a 7.5 victory over the Cubs. Mike Murphy hit a home run for the Yankees. Other big hitters were Tony Lombardi, John Guarino, Lenny Iannia, Bob Slater, Frank Zicaro and Sergio Chavnia.

The Yankees also beat the Giants 5-3. The Giants had beaten the Braves 7-3 earlier in the week. Frank Tursi turned in a strong pitching and hitting effort for the Braves in the loss.

The Braves rebounded by beating the Mets 5-1. The Mets, behind the two-hit pitching of Charles Bocchino, defeated the Cubs 1-0. Tom Zecca had a two-run homer for the Mets in their loss last week to the Giants. The Cubs have now lost games 1-0, 2-0 and 7-5 and tied one 4-4.

Junior League

The Belleville Recreation Junior League opened this past week with last year's defending champions, the Clippers, beating the Cardinals 24-0. The Clippers were led by the pitching of Donna Brooks and the bats of David Donnannaria and Tricia Tramutola.

The Clippers defeated the Aces 17-2 later in the week, and the Aces suffered another loss, this one 11-3 to the Tigers. The Bombers were winners over the Indians 33-5, while the Giants dropped a decision to the Pirates 19-2.

The Cubs were victors over the Dodgers 21-5. They were aided by Rich Luberto, Pete Copala and Mike Marzullo combined to pitch no-hit ball and strike out 14 batters. The Bears took two games this past week. They first beat the Bombers 34-5.

Billy Williams had three home runs and Anthony Cappachio two. In the second game, the Bears were led by the pitching of Joe Marano as they topped the Cardinals 15-10. John Muzzacato led the hitting attack.

The Braves won this week by a 44-6. Jim Siclani and J.R. DiVincenzo got hits for the Dodgers in a losing effort. The Indians edged the Tigers 9-8 Saturday morning in a steady drizzle.

The Dodgers are also 2-0, dropping the Indians 13-7 and the Aces 17-14. The Aces had won their opener 24-11 against the Bears on a home run by Gerard Cimolo and triples by Cimolo, Vincent Vollers and Alex Labate. The Indians bounced back and defeated the Tigers 19-9.

The Braves rebounded by beating the Mets 5-1. The Mets, behind the two-hit pitching of Charles Bocchino, defeated the Cubs 1-0. Tom Zecca had a two-run homer for the Mets in their loss last week to the Giants. The Cubs have now lost games 1-0, 2-0 and 7-5 and tied one 4-4.

The Yankees remained undefeated with a 7.5 victory over the Cubs. Mike Murphy hit a home run for the Yankees. Other big hitters were Tony Lombardi, John Guarino, Lenny Iannia, Bob Slater, Frank Zicaro and Sergio Chavnia.

The Yankees also beat the Giants 5-3. The Giants had beaten the Braves 7-3 earlier in the week. Frank Tursi turned in a strong pitching and hitting effort for the Braves in the loss.

Domenick is third in U.S. swim meet

Anthony Domenick of Belleville took several medals at the YMCA National Swimming and Diving Championships April 25-27 at the Swimming Hall of Fame in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. His Montclair Marlin YMCA team placed fourth among 304 squads from all over the United States.

Domenick, 17, was third in the 200-yard backstroke with a time of 1:57.73 and fourth in the 100-yard backstroke in 54.6 seconds.

The Belleville placed 10th in the 200-yard individual medley event in two minutes and was a member of the 800-yard freestyle relay team that won second place in 7:03.66.

Domenick will graduate in June from Montclair Kimberly Academy and will be attending and swimming for North Carolina State University in September.

BHS sport schedule washed out by rains

What started out as a week of sunshine and warm weather ended in a week of clouds, rain and sticky climate.

The sports schedule at Belleville High was cut down because of the inclement weather, but all signs point to a good week of weather ahead.

The Belleville tennis team competed only once, and it probably wishes it hadn't as it was overwhelmed by the Panthers of East Orange 5-0. The Buc team record is now 2-7, with its only two victories coming at the expense of the hapless Cardinals of Kearny.

On Tuesday, the local squad traveled to Verona where it hooked up with a very good team indeed. The results of that match came in too late for this edition, however. Tomorrow the racketmen will take to the road as they battle the surprisingly tough Maroon Raiders of Nutley in a 3:45 p.m. start. The regular season is due to end next Tuesday with a home match against the Indians of Passaic, winners over the Bucs last week 4-1.

The Belleville track team, 3-6 on the season, competed in the Essex County and Long Branch Relays last week. There will be a full report of their success in those relays next week, but for now suffice it to say the team did perform rather well.

In the Essex County Relays at Nutley, the team scored 14 points and finished in a tie with Bloomfield. It was by far Belleville's best effort in that particular relay ever.

Last Saturday the team journeyed down to Long Branch to take part in the relays there. Once again the local runners performed well, scoring six points to finish in seventh place in Group IV.

On Monday, the team had been scheduled to host Queen of Peace, but the meet was postponed because of wet grounds. Today the Bucs will have a tough double dual meet with Essex Catholic and West Orange. That action will take place at Belleville Stadium and will commence at 3:45 p.m. The Essex County Championships will be held on Saturday at Montclair High School.

The team is scheduled to end its regular season next Tuesday when it travels to Bloomfield. Next Saturday the Bucs will journey to Elizabeth to take part in the sectional championships.

The softball team had its entire slate rained out this past week. Tuesday, it was scheduled to be at East Orange, yesterday to host Passaic and this coming Monday to face East Orange again, this time at home.

Local boxer avenges loss

Richard Hamlish of Belleville, who had lost to Harold Conte in the finals of the 1979 Golden Gloves tournament, avenged that defeat May 7 by going to Conte's hometown of South River and winning a decision in an amateur tournament.

Hamlish, who represents the Jersey Spartans, promised Conte a rematch May 25 at the Belleville High School gym in an amateur tournament sponsored by the Jersey Boxers Social Club of Belleville.

The show, which will include 10 bouts, will begin 8 p.m. Fighters will have an opportunity to establish their credentials for international amateur competition when they clash with the Jersey Pan-American and Olympic hopefuls in the Belleville bouts, sanctioned by the New Jersey AAU.

Another Jersey Spartan battler, Jerry McGrellis of Jersey City, won the 79 Golden Glove champ at 178 pounds, also won in South River via second-round knockout of Isaac Fadden of Newark. McGrellis also agreed to fight in the Belleville tournament with an opponent yet to be named.

The Jersey Spartan Boxing Club is organized by Paul Minal, 27, 1800 Washington Ave. Members train and out of Bufano's Gym in Jersey City under the supervision of owner Dom Bufano, Joe Weaver and Minal, who is vice president of the Jersey Boxers Social Club.

For information or tickets to the May 25 tournament, call Ernie Minal at 751-2260.

Midwest showers bring more auto hours

Shake Instead Of A Shield — Belleville High School principal John DeCesare (left) shakes hands with auto instructors Victor DePaw (sitting) and Ted Hahula through a new 1979 Buick Skylark which was donated for the course by General Motors. The car is fully equipped aside from a missing windshield.

Auto Shop courses set young mechanics in gear

By PAT KIERNAN

Since almost every Belleville High student will be driving a car by junior and senior year, the school offers a beneficial auto body program to provide helpful mechanical information.

Auto Shop, which is taught by Victor DePaw, guides students on auto parts and how to repair sections in emergencies.

The program is divided into three sections. The first is an introductory course where students learn the general theory and practice skills on a lawn mower.

The second section deals with practical work on a dune buggy, repairing brakes and learning how the vehicle operates.

The third section, Vocational II, provides "live work" for students where they actually take apart sections of the auto, repair and replace them.

For a small service charge and the cost of parts, these student mechanics also do work on teachers' cars. The money is then put toward new equipment — tools and repairs.

Presently, the students work on cars donated by various auto companies in a garage at the high school. But plans are in progress to locate an off-site garage paid for by the state.

"Students taking the course get a self concept of the job, experience with hand tools and testing procedures," DePaw commented.

"They get a feel for the job of mechanics and can make a decision whether to go into the field," he added.

Junior Gary Schroek, Vocational I student, said, "We get a lot of experience and knowledge from the class."

Both students and instructors requested if anyone has an old or broken lawn mower not in use, please contact the high school.

By MAUREEN CONWAY

"Into each life a little rain must fall" is an old saying which has taken on a new meaning for the Belleville High School auto shop. In fact, through the efforts of Principal John DeCesare, the "Midwest" storms turned into "Pennies From Heaven" for students interested in learning the newest techniques in automobile repair.

It seems that heavy rains flooded a General Motors plant in Detroit, ruining dozens of new automobiles and prompting the company to offer them to public institutions free of charge as a good will gesture.

DeCesare, who had heard about other General Motors giveaways in recent years, wrote to company officials and asked that Belleville High School be considered.

The end result: A 1979 Buick Skylark, fully loaded with optional equipment, is now the proud possession of the BHS Auto Shop.

The car is without serial numbers and cannot be driven on the street, but is expected to become an invaluable teaching tool, according to Victor DePaw, instructor.

"Everyone's really happy," explained DePaw, "because now the students will have an opportunity to work on the very latest equipment."

In addition, the car is already there. This simply means that the auto shop students no longer have to wait for someone to bring a car into the shop to see work done or participate in repairs.

Students will also be able to "experiment" somewhat with the car, according to DePaw, something that many car owners might not appreciate were their own vehicle used.

Belleville High's new Skylark only proves that behind every storm, there's always a rainbow, especially a rainbow free of taxpayer cost.

Give A Hoot — Children of School 9 enjoy a special presentation from a representative of Turtle Back Zoo about an owl and how they don't always "give a hoot." During the show, students were able to view and touch various animals such as snakes and skunks.

Student finds future in computer work

By PAULA SANTUMO and NANCY MARINO

Stephanie Kizskiel, who hopes the future will include computer programming, is starting to pave her way into the future with the help of Belleville High School's new job program.

As a result of the Cooperational Office Education program, Miss Kizskiel presently works for Mass & Waldstein on McCarter Highway in Newark.

Working half a day after attending school, Miss Kizskiel contacts customers over the telephone, keys orders into an IBM computer and is responsible for basic clerical duties.

Miss Kizskiel was seeking employment when she first heard of the program. After filing an application, she was accepted and placed at Mass & Waldstein.

"I'm very happy with the job," she said, "it's very beneficial to work while I'm attending school."

"I'm hoping the job will prepare me a great deal for my future," she added.

In her spare time, Miss Kizskiel enjoys ceramics which she says, "is relaxing after a hard day's work." After graduation in June, she plans to stay at Mass & Waldstein and attend college in the evenings for accounting and computer programming.

Alarming facts on fire safety

By SCOTT GRISANTI

Fire drills are an important part of the safety system at Belleville Senior High School. Under law 18A41-1 of the state statute, each school of more than one room must have at least two live fire drills each month.

Although the state government initiated this law, it is the duty of each community to see that this and all other laws are carried out. These drills become extremely helpful in the event of a real fire. They may, in fact, save lives.

When executed as a safety precaution, a fire drill is one of the best ways that a school can protect its students. However when a fire alarm is pulled as a prank it poses a serious problem, even danger.

The first danger that comes to mind is to the students themselves during a drill. There are other dangers that the average person may not be aware of. When an alarm is pulled the fire department does not know that it is a false alarm until they reach the school.

During this time, a fire may occur elsewhere or the truck may become involved in a traffic accident on the false alarm. Everytime a fire truck leaves the station, precious tax dollars are wasted.

According to vice principal John Westlake, if a student is caught pulling an alarm he is prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. The student is immediately suspended for a minimum of two weeks. Depending on the age of the student, the police may take further action. If someone is injured during a false alarm, the violator could face more severe charges.

Car Care — Instructor Ted Hahula (standing, left) guides students Jerry Perrione, Matt Martin and Lugie Chimento (kneeling) on the workings of a car engine as part of the auto body program at BHS. During regular class hours, all students must wear safety glasses for all lessons.

N.J. State Tour Van makes pit stop at School 1

The New Jersey Division of Travel And Tourism enlightened many local students with an expose' of the state's highlights as the company tour van made its first visit to the district at Belleville School 1 last Friday.

After checking with Governor

Brendan Byrne's office, School 1 principal Pat Forte contacted the division and requested a visit to the Cortlandt Street school.

"We wanted to expose our fourth, fifth and sixth graders to a visual aspect of the state especially since it is part of their curriculum," Forte noted.

"With this," he said, "knowledge about New Jersey can be reinforced. It's better than a field trip."

"Students were quite enthused" by the various pictures in the van along with an enlargement of the New Jersey State Seal.

Frank Gerard of the N.J. Division of Travel And Tourism, drove the van from Trenton to School 1. He met with several groups of children explaining each picture and answering questions by the children about the state.

"We began the division recently to promote the state," Gerard said. "And the response is overwhelming."

Gerard explained that the division presently has only one van on the road but is constructing a new and more elaborate one which is upon completion.

New Jersey Facts — The New Jersey State Motto is "Liberty and Prosperity" which appears on the state seal and state flag.

The purple violet was adopted as the state flower in 1913 legislative action. The same year, the eastern goldfinch was named officially as the state bird. The honeybee was designated officially as the state insect in 1974 and in 1950 the red oak became the state tree. And with the Meadowlands just around the corner, the official state animal is the horse.

The first incandescent lamp was made by Thomas A. Edison at Menlo Park, N.J. along with the first phonograph, the development of the first motion picture and the first flexible photographic film.

The first boardwalk in the world was erected in 1870 at Atlantic City and the first "drive-in" movie theaters had their origin on a 10-acre plot in Camden in 1933.

New Jersey also deserves the credit for the first Episcopal Church, the first ferry services, the first national park, the first public library and even the first intercollegiate football game played in New Brunswick in 1869 by two twenty-five member teams, Rutgers University and Princeton. Rutgers won.

For more information about New Jersey or the Tour Division, write P.O. Box 400 St., Trenton, N.J. 08625.

Shore point — Evelyn Matos of School 1 points out her favorite New Jersey attraction, Seaside Heights, as she learns about her state in the promotional van from Frank Girard of the N.J. Division of Travel and Tourism.

Jersey Talk — Frank Girard (far left) of the New Jersey Division of Travel And Tourism explains about the information center van to fourth graders from School 1.

'Disco Denky Show' blasts off Saturday

By David S. Vaughan

Close to 800 young people are expected to file into the Nutley High auditorium 8 Saturday night to be a part of the television premiere of the Disco Denky Show, a rock 'n' roll disco program featuring six well known local artists. A dance contest will highlight the evening, with awards going to the best and worst dancers. First prize is $100. Five other awards will also be given.

Among participants in the program will be Soul Simone of Nutley. Soul has appeared in Las Vegas and Atlantic City and plays music like that of James Brown and Otis Redding.

Billy Joe Sands, also of Nutley, is another performer who has toured Vegas as well as New Jersey. Sands, whose "Lisa's Prayer" recently hit the charts, strikingly resembles the immortal Elvis musically. He also sings many of the works of Wayne Newton and Frank Sinatra.

Don Oldham, who appeared at Carnegie Hall in 1972 as a member of the group Koslo and who was a songwriter for B.J. Thomas, will be on hand together with his current group, The Hook Mountain Band. Olham is presently under contract to Columbia Records as a songwriter.

The James Grier Band and Zebra II are also scheduled to perform.

"We are trying to project a format for youngsters to have something here in town in an alcoholic and drug-free environment," said Craig Shepard, co-producer of the program along with Disco Denky. "We hope to have the show on a regular basis. The cable television will give some incentive to all those involved."

The affair will be filmed by Nutley's Channel T and will be broadcast at a later date.

Tickets for the show are $6 and may be purchased throughout Nutley at the Sweet Shop, Half Penny Pub and the Hair Company, all on Franklin Avenue. Seats will also be available at the door.
