Clarizio reappointed school board trustee

By Mike Olohan

Former member Peter Clarizio was appointed to Belleville's Board of Education by a 4-2 vote Tuesday night, filling the position left vacant when former president Matthew Pica was elected a town commissioner.

Despite accusations dividing the board that Clarizio would be part of a "voting bloc," President Ralph Risoli, Vice President Ernie Zoppi and Trustees Anthony D'Agostino and Caesar Romano approved Clarizio's appointment.

Some observers stressed that the board's ability to effectively tackle issues like desegregation, redistricting and school closings will be hampered by Clarizio's appointment.

Clarizio was a board member for six months after being appointed to fill departed trustee Richard Mahamarian's term in December.

Nine people were interviewed by board members for the open slot with Trustees Mike Chieffo and Charles Miele voting against Clarizio because he lost his reelection bid in April's school race. Both Chieffo and Miele backed Felix Linfante, who finished first behind the winners.

However, other trustees said that the two-man race Linfante entered "cannot be equated" with the seven-man race Clarizio was defeated in.

"I can't understand how you can compare those two races," said Trustee Caesar Romano, stressing Clarizio is "experienced" and "has proven his ability. He's stable and tremendously thoughtful," said Romano. "I'm humbled by his ability."

Romano said he was glad that nine people came out and applied for the open board seat, saying he looked forward to working with many of them on board committees.

As Trustee Ernie Zoppi proposed Clarizio to replace Pica, and Romano seconded the motion, several profanities and booing could be heard from some of the 90 spectators.

"I'd like to apologize to all the

Panic worsening gas crunch here

By Mary Dominski

Panic buying may be the chief cause of the gasoline shortage in the Belleville area. That's the conclusion of a random sampling conducted by The Times/News of service stations in town, some of whose workers say "greed" is the word best describing their customers.

"The best advice I could give to people would be not to panic or listen to TV commentators," Bob Wasner, manager of Bell Washington Chevron said.

The Washington Avenue Chevron, like other stations here, found itself without fuel last Saturday when scores of people, afraid of running out of gas over the long weekend, stopped to fill up their tanks.

"We have people coming in here to fill up their tanks when they are half full," Wasner said. "Why can't they just wait till they are nearing empty to fill up?"

Wasner said the increased use of his service station has affected the regular customers, who are forced to patronize competitors on the Avenue.

"This gas shortage is nothing but

Demo sheriff race highlight of Tuesday primary election

Next Tuesday's primary election will be the latest salvo in the continuing battle between Essex County's regular Democratic organization and the reform movement which has gained successive victories over the last two years with its campaigns for charter change and the election of Peter Shapiro as county executive.

Here in Belleville, organizational Democrats, headed by Public Works Commissioner Mary Senatore, are working with the Essex regulars for the line headed by incumbent Sheriff John Cryan and incumbent Receiver Larrie Stalks who have also received the backing of the town's popular mayor, Michael Marotti.

Cryan has been a popular figure here for some time, and laws and store windows all over town carry posters calling for his nomination. Cryan, first elected sheriff in 1970, was the organization's candidate for the Democratic county executive nomination last June, and, though he was beaten by Shapiro countywide, he trounced him in Belleville. The Shapiro forces then barely edged Republican Bob Notté there in the November general election.

Of the four Democrats opposing Cryan, the one most likely to give him the strongest battle is Newark City Councilman Anthony Carrino, who locally has picked up the endorsements of School Board member Michael Chieffo and former Public Safety Commissioner Rocco Saletta. Former freeholder and county supervisor Philip C. Rotundo is also expected to be a factor in the race, with county corrections officers E.T.

Gaines of Newark and Ellis Waters of East Orange bringing up the distant rear.

The next Democratic battle will be over the chairmanship of the Essex County Democratic Party, a position occupied since last summer by Horace "Bus" Gausepohl, a regular Democrat from Bloomfield.

Peter Shapiro supports Montclair Democratic Chairman Charles Walther for the post, and has reportedly asked Gausepohl to step down. The vote on the chairmanship will be conducted by secret ballot later this month, and it is difficult to tell exactly how Belleville county committeemen will go.

"Who cares about the county chairmanship?" asked Belleville Town Chairman and County Vice Chairman Mary Senatore. "That's 12 days away. Right now we're concerned with winning the primary, and it's high time that was the concern among the other municipalities."

Mrs. Senatore emphasized her hope that the organizational line

Rescue squad sought on a permanent basis

By DONNA ABATE

Belleville Fire Chief George Sbarra, in an effort to establish more firefighting manpower, will soon ask Public Safety Commissioner Matt Pica to set up a permanent ambulance squad within the Fire Department.

Belleville's ambulance squad is now manned by 12 Comprehensive Employment Training Agency (CETA) workers who would become the town's permanent squad under Sbarra's plan.

Sbarra investigated the CETA program last year and after the town approved a resolution calling for it, he sent written specifications to the agency detailing the type of workers he was looking for.

Sbarra interviewed about 35 persons for the positions and commented, "We screened them thoroughly for our need in the department."

"It didn't cost the town a nickel," Sbarra explained, noting the $137,779 for the cost of the emergency medical service technicians was covered by the CETA agency.

The 12 CETA workers began training last September and during that time attended the 81-hour course for emergency medical technician (EMT) certification.

Previously, each CETA worker manned one rescue ambulance with another certified EMT fireman.

Schools receive $695,000 grant

By Mike Olohan

Belleville's school system has been awarded $695,000 in additional state school building aid money after months of local lobbying in Trenton.

School Superintendent Dr. John Greed announced the grant at last Monday's Board of Education to elated trustees. The State Board of Education granted Belleville $695,000 in Category 1 money. Category 1 funds are to be used for construction or renovation of general-purpose facilities.

Belleville was one of 85 districts that applied for money under Chapter 74 of the state's School Building Aid Act.

Greed, said Belleville's school system needs improvements in its library, gym, health and cafeteria facilities. He also noted that industrial arts programs need more space. "Maybe we can accomplish just some of these things," Greed said.

Board members must decide within a year what the money is to be used for. Citizens must then ratify the board's recommendations in a referendum.

Chieffo, Saletta endorse Carrino in sheriff's race

Belleville Board of Education member Michale Chieffo and former Public Safety Commissioner Rocco Saletta have endorsed Anthony Carrino for the Democratic nomination as county sheriff in Tuesday's primary election.

"Anthony Carrino has ably served the citizens of Newark and the residents of the North Ward for five years as a member of the Newark City Council," the two officials said in a joint statement.

Said Chieffo and Saletta, "The candidate's achievements as chairman of the City Council's Criminal Justice Committee were instrumental in bringing millions of dollars in state and federal aid to help fight crime in Newark.

"This experience coupled with his 16-year teaching career and five years as a Newark policeman give Anthony Carrino the background and professionalism needed to run an efficient and effective Sheriff's Department," the two concluded.

Children's Shelter meet slated June 5 in Belleville

The Friends of the Children's Shelter of Essex County will meet at the shelter 8 p.m. June 5. The shelter is located on Franklin Avenue in Belleville behind the Essex County Geriatrics Center.

Some women prefer to have their babies born at home. In England and Wales, 45 percent of the delivered in the home; in the United States, about 13 percent. However, most people agree that there is no safer or more convenient place than an approved modern hospital. Also, most physicians prefer hospital delivery because nurses, technicians, other specialists, modern medical equipment and drugs are immediately available. On the other hand, home deliveries can enable the husband and sometimes the entire family to feel an important part of the occasion.

Cryan, Stalks deserve votes

Three weeks ago we expressed the opinion that incumbent Essex County Register Larrie W. Stalks and incumbent Essex County Sheriff John Cryan were entitled to renomination by the Democrat Party because of their excellent records in office.

During the current election campaign, their opponents have had all the opportunity required to challenge the records of incumbents Stalks and Cryan. Frivolous attacks have been made upon both Cryan and Stalks. Their challengers offer nothing in the way of improving the public services of the offices held by these excellent, dedicated employees. We continue to believe that both Stalks and Cryan, by virtue of their performance in office, have earned the right to renomination by the Democrat Party.

Some of the thoughts expressed in the editorial three weeks ago are worth repeating:

Cryan has an unblemished record in office. He is a good man. He is a dedicated public servant. He is a good sheriff. He has interfaced well with the various law enforcement organizations which are obliged to come in contact with the sheriff's office. His nine-year record reflects a clean administration. Cryan is entitled to renomination on June 5.

Essex County Register Larrie Stalks also has served well in the job. She is concluding her first five-year term and wants to serve another.

The register's office is a county activity which the general public almost never sees in action or even realizes exists, but exist it does and valuable work it performs.

During her five years in office, no one has criticized the performance of Mrs. Stalks.

In fact, up to this writing all we have heard is praise for Mrs. Stalks. We like her. We like her performance in office. She has prudently managed the public service office. She has treated taxpayer money with tender loving care.

On her record Mrs. Stalks is entitled to renomination.

Angelo is vindicated

Former Essex County Treasurer Sam Angelo received a pay raise as of Jan. 1. Angelo was appointed to the position in March 1978, the resolution stipulating $26,000 as the minimum wage and $30,000 as the maximum. This was the first time in the history of the job that a minimum/maximum wage was established.

In preparing the 1979 departmental budget, Angelo listed his 1979 salary at the higher level. The budget was approved by everyone in authority, including Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro and the Board of Freeholders.

Recently Shapiro made an issue of the raise, and the matter was presented to the Essex County Grand Jury by the prosecutor. The evidence was so overwhelmingly in favor of Sam Angelo that the grand jury didn't bother to take a vote and dismissed the matter, concluding that Sam Angelo did nothing wrong.

For Sam Angelo, the Essex County Grand Jury action was complete vindication. We never did think the jury's answer would be any different. At issue, by the way, was $900 — the difference between what Sam Angelo received in the first three months of 1978 and for the same period of time in 1979.

Music pupils deserve more public support

To the Editor:

Belleville has an exceptionally good music program offered to all school children who will take the time to participate. However, very few adults take the time to support all of the various bands in our school system.

The students who are involved have given so much to make music enjoyed by young and old alike. They practice hours on end to get the music, or dance routines just right, but their audiences are small. We enjoy listening to them at football games, parades and other town functions, but what about their school concerts? Are you aware of them? They really need more support from the town residents, so that they will know that we really care about their music as much as they do.

I personally want to thank them all, for all the enjoyment which they have given me, and a special thanks to all of the teachers and advisors who have given their students the incentive to perform and to be performers.

I sincerely hope that more students will get involved in music bands and I hope that more adults will be aware of the great enjoyment which can be found in student music.

Thank You.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Judith Lavecchia
Union Avenue, Belleville

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

In a troubled world which is a far cry from the traditional values of another era in which dedication, loyalty, honesty and integrity were an accepted and expected way of life, it is a reassuring novelty to find that in Belleville appropriate reward has been accorded one of our finer citizens who by lucubration and self-education has risen from humble Depression penury to one of the most exalted offices within the grace of the people to give.

It is said that a man is a success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much, who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of children, who has filled his niche and accomplished his task, who leaves the world better than he found it, who looked for the best in others and gave the best he had.

Such a man has just gained the codign privilege of having been chosen the president of the Belleville Board of Education. Endowed with exceptional, natural discerning talent and an instinctive acumen which has gained him recognition as being the cleverest political analyst in this area, Ralph M. Risoli was chosen by a 4-2 vote to serve as head of the local school system for the coming year.

Perhaps one of the board's most inspiring acceptance utterances was extemporaneously given by Mr. Risoli when, emotionally choked with conflicting pride and humility, he commented about his limited formal educational opportunities cramped by his adolescent years with his family on welfare and of his "pulling himself up by the bootstraps" to ultimately become the head of welfare in town. His poignant story evoked wild acclaim from those in attendance.

We have always admired the concept of recognition of the self-made man. Our respect and admiration for Mr. Risoli's pragmatic policy judgments inspires our confidence in his competence to wisely guide the destinies of the Belleville school system under his leadership. Congratulations and best well wishes for a swimmingly good administration, Rimpdy. You have, indeed, gained the prestige and esteem your ability and talents deserve. It is fortunate that we have within our midst independent-minded citizens such as Mr. Risoli.

More than mounting interest is spreading throughout the county in the outcome of the pending June 5 Democratic primary. There seems to be more than usual skulduggery rampant with serious concern over what appears to be a drive by County Executive Peter Shapiro to effect a complete "takeover" of patronage control by installing Charles Walther, the Montclair chairman and a friend, as county chairman.

More than a few good Democrats are piqued at Shapiro's insatiable grasp for power and his wanton disregard for those whose help and assistance aided his getting where he is. There is dissension and growing resentment spreading in the ranks.

Bus Gausepohl, the present Democratic county chairman, is a former outstanding Belleville athlete who has won his spurs as a loyal, capable party worker who deserves a better fate than to be "done in" by the perfidy of one who would "bite the hand that fed him."

Bus and Commissioner Senatore, Belleville town chairman, have worked in close harmony up to this point. It is hoped there will be no defection at this crucial stage that would compromise Gausepohl's retaining his hold on the county chairmanship.

Bus advises us he feels he enjoys the support of the "backbone" element of the Democratic Party leaders, and Commissioner Senatore assures us she is not seeking the chair. What comes next is anybody's guess. The county committee of the party elects the chairman.

Newark Mayor Gibson's role in the matter is being watched carefully. He ran against Gausepohl last year and lost. Now many suspect that having supported Cryan for sheriff, Gibson might swing over to the Shapiro side of the party and use his weight to unseat Gausepohl as county chairman.

Sheriff Cryan says this won't happen because the regulars still control the county committee. Our relationship with Bus Gausepohl, like that of a good many old-timer Bellevillites, goes back a long way, and we know about his sense of sincerity and loyalty. Mr. Shapiro has yet to establish his.

Cryan calls experience his strength as sheriff

Essex County Sheriff John Cryan, running for re-election in Tuesday's Democratic primary, stressed his administrative and law enforcement experience in a series of stops throughout Essex County during his final week of campaigning.

Cryan said that of all the candidates seeking the nomination for sheriff, he is the only one who has the experience, expertise and managerial competence to manage a department with a multi-million dollar budget and a staff of nearly 400 law enforcement personnel. Cryan, making note of his experience as a New Jersey state assemblyman, Essex County undersheriff and businessman, charged that his opponents lack the "wherewithal" to guarantee the safety and welfare of county residents.

"The demands on law enforcement officers today require service with pride, discipline and proper leadership," said Cryan. "It is a principle I am committed to wholeheartedly."

"During my administration, the Sheriff's Department has upgraded law enforcement services for the citizens of Essex County and has done so with efficiency and service in mind," Cryan said. "I have personally supervised a series of citizen education programs whereby

The announcement was made at the Knights of Columbus convention recently held at Mount Airy Lodge in the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania.

The contest theme was "The Person I Most Admire." Miss Codento will receive her award soon in a presentation at the local hall.

The Knights will sponsor a blood bank 3-7 p.m. Friday, June 15, at the organization's hall. Full details will soon be announced by Past Grand Knight Eugene "Cappy" Barnett who is serving as blood bank chairman.

Memorial gifts help in battle on cancer

"There can be no more fitting way to honor the memory of someone who has died and at the same time contribute to the ultimate conquest of cancer than by making a memorial gift to the American Cancer Society," Patrick Kiernan, memorial chairman of the Essex County unit, said today.

"These gifts support the society's programs in research, education and service, all of which are aimed at saving lives from cancer," Kiernan continued.

This year, more than $800,000 from Cancer Crusade contributions have been allocated to research projects in New Jersey institutions. Similar projects are supported in every state.

For further information about memorial gifts, visit the Essex unit of the American Cancer Society at 336 South Harrison St., East Orange, or call 678-1990.

Umberto's Corner

O. Dear Umberto,
I am an artificial blond with fine hair. Last week after I complained to my beautician about my hairset coming out, she persisted to give me a permanent. Now my hair doesn't go up at all. Some parts are broke, the rest are gummy. I would like to know why this happened and what I should do. Now I'm wearing a wig and scarf. So please hurry your answer.

Yours,
Wig and Scarf Lady
Dear Wig and Scarf Lady,
Wig and scarf should be off. They both are damaging your hair. The hair and scalp need air to breathe. The reason your hair came out like that, is because it was previously over bleached and over permed. There is nothing you can do, just condition it and keep the wig and scarf off.

Sincerely,
Umberto
P.S. On behalf of Nina I would like to thank you for the numerous cards and calls. The baby's name will be Joey Gerard. Guess who's going to be godmother and godfather? Maria and Umberto.

Lorena Clark's art in library exhibit

For 20 years, Mrs. Clark gave instruction in oil painting in private classes for children and adults in Belleville and Bloomingdale. She also taught oil painting 12 years in the Belleville Adult School.

Mrs. Clark conducted classes in oil painting and watercolor painting several years for members of the Belleville Woman's Club Art Department.

Over the years, Mrs. Clark has exhibited in many art shows and has received numerous awards for her oils, watercolors, and professional finger paintings. She is also presently exhibiting at the First DeWitt Savings and Loan Association as well as the library.

Mrs. Clark enjoys painting landscapes and still life. Her first love is seascapes. She has had the opportunity of studying with William Fisher of Kennebunkport, Maine, and New York City, and the late William Ehrig, the renowned seascape artist.

Some of Mrs. Clark's works are done entirely with palette knife. Practically all water and rock paintings in this exhibit were inspired by the Maine Coast.

Mrs. Clark is a graduate of the Fawcett School of Art where she received a diploma in fashion design and illustrating.

Gibson gives endorsement to Cryan-Stalks campaign

Skrutskies mark 30th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Skrutskie of 31 Maier St., celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary April 21 with a dinner at Hanover Trails hosted by their children.

A surprise party followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Drexler of Whippany.

The couple is from Scranton, Pa.

Newark Mayor Kenneth A. Gibson today called upon Essex County voters to support Sheriff John F. Cryan and Register Larrie W. Stalks, Democratic candidates for re-election in the June 5 primary.

Gibson, now serving a third term as Mayor of Newark, cited Cryan and Stalks' distinguished records

19 youngsters finish baby-sitting course

Nineteen area youngsters received certificates of accomplishment for participating in the annual baby sitting course, sponsored jointly by Clara Maass Memorial Hospital and Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley.

The five Saturday training sessions were conducted by physicians, nurses and personnel from Clara Maass, the Belleville Fire Department, the Bloomfield Police Department and the Nutley Emergency and Rescue Squad. Students learned how to feed, bathe and change a baby, entertain children, handle emergency situations including life saving and were shown a demonstration on artificial respiration.

On hand for presentation of the awards were Mrs. Irene Banaszak, director of volunteer services, whose daughter, Doreen, was one of the participants and Donald Hook, assistant volunteer director at Clara Maass; Mrs. Josephine Rubestello of Belleville, Tri-Town's chairman of the baby sitting course and Mrs. Caroline Theisz of Bloomfield, president of Tri-Town.

Certificate achievers include Catherine M. Gallagher and Catherine Mary Sudal of Belleville; Patricia M. Cook, Patricia A. Nadeo, Maria Seged and Susan V. White, all of Bloomfield; Doreen Banaszak of Glen Ridge; Patricia Altieri of Newark; Michelle L. Anderson, Maureen V. Cullen, Ginny DeNisco, Mary Guiliano, Kim A. Kelly, Michelle M. Leotta, Donna J. McClintick, Marielena Vitale, Diana Zoina, Jacqueline Zampetti and Gavin E. Maguire, all of Nutley.

Gavin, son of Helen and Rod Maguire, is the first and only boy to complete the course. The Franklin School eighth grader says, "There's no easier way to make money at my age. And although I was the only boy in the class, there are quite a few teenage males in my church (St. Paul's Congregational in Nutley) who have been babysitting for years."

Relaxation gives way to tension for squad

Quiet firehouse atmosphere can break with suddenness of an emergency call Daily Report — Deputy Chief Dawson Bloom (left), Deputy Chief Robert Shaughnessy (center) and CETA worker John McManus, go over the squad's previous reports which they submit each day. The group is gathered at Shaughnessy's room at the new Belleville Fire House on Franklin Avenue.

T-Bird Crunch — CETA workers Larry Leeds and Anthony Wieners aid Joseph DeMunno of Belleville after he lost control of his car and hit the Miss Victory statue in front of Town Hall earlier this month.

CETA Strength — CETA's Anthony Wieners and Belleville Fireman Vincent Abbott lift accident victim Joseph DeMunno from his car.

But Can They Cook? — CETA workers and firemen are also skilled in cooking as they join together for a burger dinner at the Washington Avenue Firehouse. Hungry workers include (l-r), John McManus, Fireman Kenny Tarps, Larry Leeds, Don Back and (standing cook) Anthony Wieners.

Now, the two town rescue ambulances are run by three CETA workers and one fireman assigned for each shift. Before September, the ambulance was manned by EMT certified firemen alone.

"In establishing the permanent squad, we could relieve firemen of the ambulance duties and establish a more properly manned department," Sbarra said.

"We want to alleviate the possibility of four firemen missing on a rescue job in the event of a fire," he said. "We hope to keep the firemen's duties strictly for firefighting."

Sbarra explained that establishing a permanent squad would be cheaper for the town. "Firemen's salaries will be going up in 1980 to $18,000. We can start the CETA workers at $10,000," the chief said.

Both Sbarra and former Public Safety Commissioner Rocco Saletta approached the Board of Commissioners with the idea several meetings prior to the recent election. The board denied the permanent squad, preferring to wait "until CETA monies run out before making any decisions."

The program will end in September if we can't get an extension for six months. If the permanent squad is established, we can set up qualifying tests and be prepared for the program's conclusion," Sbarra said.

"These are very reliable people," Sbarra said. "We want to see them employed." The permanent squad would be under the supervision of the Belleville Fire Department.

The fire chief noted that the rescue ambulance squad handled over 2,000 calls last year, broken down to 56 percent emergency calls, 27 percent service calls, 12 percent fire emergencies and 6 percent accident calls.

Belleville residents require the help of the emergency medical technicians every day, but few residents know anything about the team and what it does until an emergency arises.

Since most people were even unaware that the ambulance squad is under the Belleville Fire Department and not the Police Department, The Times/News decided to ride along on one of the team's shifts and find out just what services it supplies to the town.

The Times joined Deputy Chief Robert Shaughnessy and CETA workers May 2, for the after-5 evening shift.

While Rescue Squad 2 was stationed at the new Franklin Avenue fire house with CETA worker John McManus and Fireman Don Back, The Times was traveling with Rescue 1 workers Anthony Wieners and Larry Leeds from the Washington Avenue fire house.

They gave a full rundown on the vast amount of equipment included in each ambulance and explained that they are in radio contact with the station at all times while on the road. Each ambulance also contains a special radio hookup to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital to report vital signs during emergencies.

Visions of "Emergency" and other TV shows danced in the head as the tour continued, but it was later apparent just how valuable the team really is.

Unlike the newspaper atmosphere of constant get-up-and-go, the Belleville firemen read, watch television and engage in conversation until a call comes in.

And a call did come in, a brush fire at Washington Motel. The time was almost immeasurable as both CETA workers and firemen sped to their vehicles and hit the road. The Belleville ambulance always accompanies any fire emergency call unless it is on call itself. In that event, Rescue 2 covers.

The fire was easily taken care of and the team left after being assured that no one needed medical service. In noting that three engines and both rescue squads answered the call, Leeds commented, "Our main concern is to see that the people are safe. It's better to have too much aid at the scene until we find out just how serious the fire is."

Back at the firehouse, Joanne Skinner, one of the two female CETA workers to start a new trend in the Fire Department, stopped in to reveal how it is to work as an emergency medical technician. "My first thoughts about working in the department made me nervous," she said. "Several changes had to be made."

She explained that locks had to be put on the bathrooms and that an old office in the upstairs of the Washington Avenue firehouse had to be converted into a bedroom for herself and Cynthia Vaughn who works an alternate shift.

When asked whether she did extra work since she was the only female, Skinner responded, "When I first came, they joked and asked if I was going to be the cook. No way!" "We all do our house chores. I do no extra work," she said.

Is it an emotional job? "Yes," she said. "But emotions don't always work negatively. Sometimes people respond to women more, and other times they're uncomfortable."

Skinner may be remembered as the ambulance worker who delivered a baby at a residence on Ralph Street after a call that a woman was in labor.

The time seemed to move slowly and the phone was not ringing. Both Leeds and Wieners explained that the squad also handles service calls from residents who must visit doctors or hospitals but cannot transport themselves.

About 1:30 a.m., as The Times was about to head home, the phone rang and another emergency was reported.

The team rushed out toward Town Hall. Wieners said there was a car accident in front of the building. As the team neared the scene, which had already drawn a hefty crowd, the Miss Victory statue could be seen shifted from her base by the impact of an automobile. Leeds and Wieners, aided by police, managed to open the car door in an effort to rescue resident Joseph DeMunno, 43.

Quickly checking vital signs, breathing passage and possible neck injury, Leeds hurried for equipment to transport the victim to the ambulance.

With the help of Fireman Vincent Abbott, who was in the area at the time of the accident, DeMunno was lifted out of the car and onto a stretcher. Wieners sat with the victim in the rear of the ambulance as Leeds drove to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

Wieners explained that the team usually stay for awhile in the emergency room if hospital workers need help. After about 20 minutes, the squad members returned to the ambulance which was cleaned and taken back to the station.

It was surprising to note that after the excitement was over, both Wieners and Leeds didn't even notice the statue or the color of DeMunno's car.

Squad Speed — CETA workers with the help of the Belleville Police, rush the accident victim into the town's fully equipped ambulance after the Town Hall collision.

Rec leagues' races sputter in the rain

Six days of rain, coupled with sloppy field conditions, limited play in the Belleville Recreation baseball leagues this past week.

In Junior League action, the Cardinals edged the Tigers 10-9, the Clippers topped the Indians 16-4, the Cubs defeated the Yankees 9-8 and the White Sox beat the Giants 22-10. In addition, the Yankees bested the Giants 11-10 and the Pirates 23-7.

In earlier Junior League play, the Clippers set back a pesky Tiger team 15-5. Carmine Fortunato went four-for-five and drove in six runs, while Donna Brooks pitched for the victory. The Tigers stayed in the game until the Clippers rallied for eight runs in the final inning.

The Junior League Cubs won their second consecutive victory of the young season 5-1 over the Giants. It was a pitcher's duel in which the Cubs' Rich Luberto got the best of the Giants' Mike Maurizio. Luberto struck out 14 and yielded only one hit en route to his second victory. Maurizio struck out nine and allowed five hits in a losing cause. The Cubs' offensive attack was led by Joe Della Vecchia and John Kozlowski.

The Junior League Cardinals dropped three games — 11-4 to the Indians, 23-14 to the Bombers and 24-0 to the Clippers — before picking up their first victory which came over the Bears on a technical rule violation. The Cards' plus points are ning by David Nuzzo, Joe Cicala, John Marone, Jeff Lentz, Carlo Lombardo, George Rivera, Frank Divermo and Philip Bever.

In the Intermediate League, the Braves defeated the Giants 9-2 and the Mets edged the Cubs 7-6.

The Braves won another, 5-1 over the Mets, behind the two-hit pitching of Charlie Muccigrasso. The Braves scored four runs in the top of the seventh with David Boyd, Mark Frahm and Carmen Cerreto socking doubles. Dan Martinez went two-for-three with a stolen base.

Frank Tursi pitched a three-hitter and struck out nine as the Intermediate Braves beat the Cubs 4-1. Charles Muccigrasso went two-for-three with two doubles, and Tursi and Boyd also smacked two-baggers. Frank Harrington scored twice and stole a base.

In Senior League action, the Cubs edged the Mets 3-2 and the Giants improved to 4-0 by defeating the Pirates 10-0. The Giants remained undefeated in first-half play. After three walks in the second inning against the Pirates, the Giants' Sterling Lutz lined a double to score three runs. Later in the inning, Andrew Zoppi hit a double driving in two more runs. Joe DeFeo and Robert Walker also contributed timely hits. Joe DeGregorio was the winning pitcher, allowing only two hits and striking out four.

Men's Softball

In the Monday night Men's Softball League, first place is shared by Circle 11 Bar and DeBacco Brothers which each have 3-0 records. Circle 11 defeated Chief Motors 13-3, and DeBacco's beat Wallace & Tiernan 17-5. Belleville Shoes edged Garden State Pet 10-9.

Roselli's Amoco (3-0) continued to lead the Tuesday night league with its win over Red Shingle Inn 12-7. Marson's Plumbing whipped Scordo Tile 14-2, while in an excellent defensive battle, the Four J's topped Circle Bar 4-2. The Wednesday and Thursday night leagues were postponed due to rain.

Peanut League

In the American League, the Giants (4-1) are holding first place. They received their only loss at the hands of the Cardinals (2-1) this past week by an 8-6 score. In other games, the Pirates outsluged the Clippers 25-9, the Yankees beat the Cubs 18-8 and the Pirates 13-12. The Astros were winners over the Clippers 15-4 but dropped a 10-5 decision to the Giants.

In the National League, the Braves and Dodgers are locked in a tie for first with 4-0 records. The Braves defeated the Indians behind the hitting of Gus Lijo, Mike Sasso and Joe Chafar and a strong defense. The Dodgers were victorious over the Bears 12-4, while the Tigers picked up their first win by edging the Bombers 6-5.

Pigtail Softball

Due to rain delays, Pigtail League standings are very close. At the moment, there is a four-way tie for first place between the Cubs, Tigers, Cardinals and Dodgers. The White Sox are in second place, followed in third by the Yankees, Giants and Braves. In fourth place are the Mets, The Reds are in fifth.

In some past games, the Dodgers beat the Braves 14-6 behind the good defensive play of Cara Norbut and a fine catch by Camille Curto. Contributing big hits were Stefanie Martinez and Margo Simi. The Braves bounced back and defeated the Mets 7-4. Gina Dellaacqua hit a home run, and Lisa Mattia and Sandy Doernerst had doubles to drive in Nicole Marino and Karyn Wychell.

Girls' Junior Softball

The Cheetahs remained undefeated in girls' junior softball, led by the excellent hitting attack of Lois DeLuccio, Barbara Gundry and Donna Campana.

This week's eyesores

Bellevillites report neighborhood trouble spots

Burned Out — Piles of grass, dirt and general refuse together with charred remains are turning the gutted A&P building on Franklin Avenue into a local dump. A stale odor fills the air around the area.

Another View — Of the area around the burned-out A&P. Residents have reported rodents infiltrating the spot. Fire destroyed the vacated grocery market late last year.

Lost In Space — Angela Lapas and her children Alkes and Marie (l-r) are lost in the high grass in a lot near their home on the corner of Greylock Parkway and Austin Street. Many residents have contacted the town about the unkempt lot.

Scenic Drive? — This driveway harboring accumulated garbage and dirt is located on Rutgers Street just off of Washington Avenue. Neighboring residents say the area also houses rats.

Town's service stations complaining of tank-topping and 'hoax' by big oil

a game contrived by the oil companies," Wasner said. "It was the same back in 1976. It's incredible that gas has gone up 33 cents in the past three years."

Wasner said that a $5 limit is placed on customers only when the gas gets "real low." Hours at the station have been forced back from a 9 p.m. closing to a 6 p.m. shutdown.

Attendees at the Belleville Amoco on Washington Avenue agreed that drivers were really their own worst enemies when it came to the present gasoline shortage.

"I'd say that the people on the whole have been really uncooperative," one worker remarked. "They panic and don't seem to realize that we are trying to stretch the gas for everybody," he said.

Workers reported that drivers are filling up needlessly just so to top off tanks.

"Greed" and "panic" are the words I would use to describe the customers," another worker said. "People are coniving. If you don't fill up their tank they try to convince you that they are your regular customers." He added that the oil companies want the drivers to panic so they can reap the revenue.

The Amoco station is presently pumping a $5 maximum. In the past two weeks, it has also been forced to cut its hours from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. to an 8 to 5 schedule.

Casey Tuncavice, owner of Casey's Arco on Franklin Avenue, said that it is the "hobo" customers who are affecting his business.

"There's plenty of gas here for my regular customers," Tuncavice said. "But it's the unfamiliar ones who are emptying the pumps."

Carl Insalaco, owner of Carl's Service Center on Belleville Avenue, said that he is glad that the bulk of his revenue is dependent on the mechanical work that the station offers. The Chevron station is imposing a $3 to $5 limit presently on fuel.

Insalaco ties in the gas shortage with the other blunders he feels that the government has been making.

"Fifty years from now this country is going to run out of everything," he remarked.

A worker at Ronnie's Texaco on Washington Avenue lamented the fact that every time a shipment of gas was brought in, the price went up. The station is pumping premium for 89 cents a gallon and regular for 85 cents. Most Belleville stations are averaging 84 cents a gallon for regular gasoline.

Clarizio chosen for board again

people who came out for interviews because you only wasted your time and my time," said Miele, as most of the crowd applauded him loudly.

Chieffo said Linfante "should have received the nomination. Someone who has just lost a re-election try should not be immediately reappointed." Chieffo criticized Clarizio's first appointment in December, saying Clarizio's association with the Planning Board would worsen the board's "political stigma."

Risoli said his choice to succeed Pica was a woman, "but not having the votes when (I) hit the gavel...I have to go along with Peter Clarizio."

D'Agostino said he interviewed all candidates in their homes but picked Clarizio because of his experience, background, education and involvement. He called the "voting bloc" charge conjecture, saying, "Hopefully, if there's a bloc, it's composed of seven members, not just five."

Zoppi said he voted for Clarizio because of Clarizio's experience, not to perpetuate a "bloc." Zoppi said if all trustees would be "constructive" rather than making destructive charges, more action on issues would take place.

"I hope to reaffirm the confidence put in me by the board. My aim is to work with them. We have to go forward constructively as a unit," said Clarizio.

"Right now we have very little gas left in the ground," he said. "We've had to cut people to a $2 to $3 limit."

One Belleville service station seems to be benefitting from the present gas situation is Budget Rent-A-Car and Belleville Getty on Washington Avenue. Owner Mike Muckle, whose primary attention is focused on renting cars, says that his business that is really becoming lucrative with the gas situation the way it is.

"We've had a good allocation from our suppliers, and so far we have had no problem with a shortage at all," Muckle said.

He added that more people have been renting cars lately.

Muckle said that there is no limit on the gas that one can get and added that some people might not be aware that his station pumps gas.

"I was trying to get a hold of a green flag to fly out on the pumps so that everyone would know that we can service them," Muckle said.

In the general motoring desert of Belleville, Muckle's station is, for the time being, an oasis.

would be the choice of voters here since the candidates "were screened at a convention and deserve the support of the Democratic Party." She added, however, that "whoever wins will be in a position to do the best in November."

"I'm not even going to discuss that subject," Mrs. Senator told The Times/News when asked if she would support Gauseph for the county chairmanship.

Other than the Democratic county races, the rest of Tuesday's primary contests appear pretty much cut-and-dry. Charles A. Cummings of Montclair, a former commanding officer of that town's detective bureau, is the lone Republican candidate for county sheriff. Benjamin Mintz of Livingston is the only GOP candidate for register, an office he promises to work to eliminate if elected. He served as register from 1969 through 1975.

Incumbent Larrie Stalks is opposed by four other Democrats in the race for the register's nomination. None of them, Raymond Rizzo of Newark, Cheryl Ann Alvarez, Peter Fingero-Caldwell or Max Wohl of C.O.D., "any apparent ties to the

Senior Notes

By George Chenoweth

The government's official poverty level has been raised an average of $460 a year to better reflect the nation's rising prices. The Labor Department says that the poverty level for a single urban dweller is now $3,400 a year, $4,500 for a family of four, and $8,000 for a family of six.

To find out how badly inflation is eroding your income, the American Council of Life Insurances suggests this test: Look up your 1967 tax return and write down your income, after deducting Social Security, federal and state income taxes. Take your 1978 tax return and get the same after-taxes income. If the 1978 figures are not twice as large as your 1967 figures, you have suffered a loss in your buying power. Prices have increased that greatly in 11 years.

Bill A1660 Kern (R-40) to allow "reverse mortgages" was passed by the Assembly in February. The bill, which had its second reading in the Senate April 6, would allow persons over 60 to either receive a direct payment from a bank or other lender in an agreement for purchase of their property over an extended period of time or use a loan against the property to purchase an annuity to which the homeowner would get monthly payments for the duration of the loan.

As many as half of all Americans with property to pass along after death fail to make wills. Many have good intentions but don't get around to talking with lawyers. The result: Their assets will be parceled out by state laws under narrow and rigid rules, sometimes going to persons the property owners never would have selected as beneficiaries.

Why is it so important to have a will? The simple answer, legal authorities say, is that a properly drawn will is the only way to make sure that the property one leaves at death goes to those for whom it was intended.

Many people assume that joint ownership of property — a home, savings, bonds, stock and the family car — can rule out the need for a will. Experts caution us that this is not necessarily the case. For example, a husband and wife may die simultaneously in an accident. Jointly owned property in this case could go to unintended inheritors. Besides, estate taxes can be higher under joint ownership arrangements. A will can be changed at any time, joint ownership cannot unless both owners agree to the change. Your best bet is to see a lawyer and listen to his advice. For a nominal fee, you can have a will.

Dystrophy shows due this Sunday, Monday

The Three Sisters Organization will sponsor two variety shows for the benefit of the Muscular Dystrophy Association. The shows will be held 1 p.m. Sunday and 7 p.m. Monday at the Disabled American Veterans Hall, 251 Washington Ave.

Attractions will include the Razu Band, Uncle Ed the Magician, Durl doing a tribute to Elvis Presley, country-western musicians Big Slim and Hawkeye, Larry and the Frog and a special round-up finale. Making a special appearance will be north New Jersey's poster child, Danny Terrington.

Chairman for the organization are Pat Keen, Nan Labanich and Jean Johns.

All proceeds from the show will go to the Muscular Dystrophy Association and will benefit victims of the disease in north Jersey. Money will be contributed to United Crippled Children's Hospital in Newark, orthopedic hospitals throughout the state and a summer camp for muscular dystrophy children.

Grease Is The Word — BHS student recently performed a benefit show of the musical "Grease" for special children at the Forrest Glenn School in Bloomfield. Cast included (l-r, top) Donna Dombroski as Putzie; Lisa Monar as Marty; Jina Fay as Rizzo; Mike Rock as Sonny; (l-r, bottom) Sharon Giamo as Sandy; Joe Negro as Kenickie and Charlette Roberts.
