Negra to supervise Tiernan plant here

Joseph Negra

The Wallace & Tiernan Division of Penwalt Corporation has announced the promotion of Joseph Negra to supervisor at its plant in Belleville.

Negra joined Wallace & Tiernan in 1971, starting in the company's receiving department. As supervisor he is assigned to the firm's shipping department.

Negra is married to the former Angela Bolcato. They live in Nutley with their sons Brian and Mark.

Wallace & Tiernan is an international leader in the manufacture of equipment for metering and controlling gases, liquids and solids, as well as the manufacture of instrumentation for water and pollution control systems.

ASK RITA

Comments and letters can be sent to RITA, care of the TIMES/NEWS, 108 Greylock Ave., Belleville, N.J. 07109. Letters may be signed or submitted anonymously. Rita is a social worker at the town's Juvenile Aid Bureau. Her weekly column is geared to those problems facing adolescents, their parents and anyone else dealing with teenagers.

Dear Rita,

My 11-year-old son talks back to me and is very fresh! What can I do, short of smacking him in the face? I'm sick of yelling at him.

Spare the Rod or Spoil the Child

Dear S.O.S.,

I suggest that you spare the rod and save the child. Your children are a product of how you raised them. The best approach to reach your child is through example. Examine your methods of talking to them. Some parents are often unaware of how much a child really does pick up from mom and dad. If you are dissatisfied with your child's behavior or his way of talking to you, then maybe it's time to look to yourself for changes too. Your child is still young enough for a parent to be a significant model for his behavior.

If he needs a little extra help, try some sincere communication about what you expect from him. Then open up the floor for what he expects from you. It may involve some legitimate compromise and a lot of patience.

Rita

Bellevillites serving together aboard Navy aircraft carrier

Two Bellevillites serving in the Navy have both recently returned from a deployment in the western Pacific.

Seaman Dennis McMenamin, son of Jacqueline McMenamin of 39 Overlook Ave. and Fireman Recruit John P. Calderone, son of Anthony and Mary Calderone of 68 New St., are both assigned to the aircraft carrier USS Constellation, whose homeport is San Diego, Calif. The ship operates as a unit of the U.S. Seventh Fleet.

During their eight-month cruise, the two residents participated in a number of training exercises and traveled to the South China Sea and Indian Ocean in response to the turmoil in Iran and North Yemen. The Indian Ocean assignment has resulted in both being eligible for the Navy Expeditionary Medal.

The Bellevillites also had an opportunity to visit Japan, Korea, Singapore and the Philippines during the cruise.

Calderone, a 1978 graduate of Belleville High School, joined the Navy in August 1978, while McMenamin, a 1973 graduate of Newark East Side High School, joined in September 1975.

Jimmy Carter is A-Okay

Over the weekend, the usually reliable polls tell us that President Jimmy Carter's popularity is lower than that of any other president except Truman and Nixon.

Too bad. Jimmy Carter has been a good president. He has been an effective president. The economy is in bad shape because the Congress refuses to follow Jimmy Carter's lead on the major issues of the day — the economy, inflation, and the cost of living. Jimmy Carter rightfully opposes the imposition of wage and price controls. At one time, in the long ago, we were of the opinion that wage and price controls might work. We are satisfied that wage and price controls will never work as a means of controlling the orderly development of America's economic base.

A major force influencing the economy of our country is beyond the control of President Jimmy Carter — or for that matter — any American president. International economic forces are removing from American leaders the power and authority we once had over our economic destiny.

Jimmy Carter is an honest man. We believe he is doing everything within his power to solve the problem of inflation and curb the increasing cost of living. The 1980 presidential election is 18 months away. Jimmy Carter has enough time to prove to the American people that he is truly a great leader. We trust him. We have confidence in him.

The Cryan win

Last week incumbent Sheriff John Cryan shellacked the County Executive Peter Shapiro's hand-picked candidate, Newark Councilman Anthony Carrino, by a margin of better than 2 to 1.

The Shapiro followers had reason to believe that Sheriff Cryan was an easy target. The voters obviously thought otherwise.

Cryan's landslide victory bears a message and Peter Shapiro should read it well.

Unless Cryan suffers adverse publicity from an ongoing investigation which commenced a year ago, it looks like the people of Essex County will have the pleasure of Sheriff John Cryan for another three years.

In his eight years as sheriff, John Cryan served well. His experience gives him a substantial lead over his Republican opponent come the November election.

Ten more commandments

The Associated Humane Societies of Newark, the animal control wardens for both Nutley and Belleville, are celebrating "Be Kind To Animals" week and look forward to the day when that week will be celebrated 52 weeks of each year. Lee Bernstein, the executive director of the Associated Humane Societies, shares with everyone the Ten Commandments:

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS
1) Thou shalt show mercy to man and animal, and thou shalt not remain silent where cruelty abounds.

2) Thou shalt not mistreat animals to satisfy appetite, vanity, a desire for thrills, or for profit.

3) Thou shalt not hunt for sport.

4) Thou shalt not abandon unwanted animals.

5) Thou shalt not torture any living creature.

6) Thou shalt oppose bullfights, rodeos, and all brutal sports, and thou shalt condemn the keeping of animals in cramped quarters.

7) Thou shalt control the dog and cat population and do everything possible to reduce the astronomical surplus.

8) Thou shalt not wear the fur derived from tortured trapped animals.

9) Thou shalt not accept any creature unless thou art willing to give it loving care.

10) Thou shalt teach the young the meaning of humanness and instill within their hearts compassion for all life.

Prayer for today

Slow me down, Lord.

Ease the pounding of my heart by the quieting of my mind.

Steady my hurried pace with a vision of the eternal reach of time.

Give me, amid the confusion of the day the calmness of the everlasting hills. Break the tensions of my nerves and muscles with the soothing music of the singing streams that live in my memory. Help me to know the magical, restoring power of sleep.

Teach me the art of taking minute vacations — of slowing down to look at a flower, to chat with a friend, to pat a dog, to read a few lines from a good book.

Slow me down, Lord, and inspire me to send my roots deep into the soil of life's enduring values that I may grow toward the stars of my greater destiny.

FAA negligent in delaying grounding of more aircraft

Total inspection of the DC-10-airliners following the Chicago tragedy and total grounding of all DC-10's were logical results that everyone expected. What no one expected was the inability of the Federal Aviation Agency to make an early and decisive decision to ground all DC-10 equipment. Moreover, I could not understand why the other wide-bodied aircraft like the L-10-11's and A-300's were exempt from thorough examinations. Two weeks after the DC-10 Chicago tragedy that witnessed 283 lives lost, finally, the FAA has ordered limited inspection of the L-10-11's and the A-300's. A commuter wonders why all aircraft with suspended engines are not subject to an order for re-examination. The FAA is charged with the safety of airline passengers. Its recent inability to act decisively in an emergency is not only cause for concern, but is an indictment of the present FAA management. I think it's time for a change.

May was not a good flying month. Just a couple of weeks ago, my flight to Fort Lauderdale out of Newark Airport was delayed four hours due to a hydraulic system problem. The attitude of Stewardess Lorraine McLaughlin Quinn entitles her to the title of "Stewardess of the Month". After waiting four hours, passengers were subject to frayed nerves, bad tempers — almost distemper, and through it all, Stewardess Lorraine McLaughlin Quinn kept her cool, kept her smile, kept her patience and mollified many of the passengers who were angry, frustrated and disillusioned. I can't say the same for the other stewardesses on Flight 759 that left Newark two weeks ago. The plane arrived in the few hours of the morning at the Ft. Lauderdale Airport and all passengers, including this one, were simply exhausted because of the long delay. Lorraine McLaughlin Quinn is worthwhile writing home about and worthwhile writing Frank Borman about.

A group of other Eastern Airlines stewardesses to look for when you're taking your next flight are Stewardesses Barbara McCabe and Patty Redling. They were a cut above the average courteous stewardesses, keenly interested in passenger comfort, and most important — giving the impression that every passenger was special. That's a great feeling which not all stewardesses are able to convey.

The gas shortage is hitting different parts of the country in different ways. In the Nutley area there are some gas stations that will pump all the gas you need. Still others will limit sales to $5.00. Most are closed on weekends and evenings. In Ft. Lauderdale there doesn't seem to be any problem. I have yet to see a line of cars form at any gas station here, and during the past four days, I have passed many. I believe there's more gas in America than motorists need. I continue to believe the suppliers are doing everything they can to force up the price of gas. I have no confidence in the proclamations and pious statements from the big suppliers that there is a real gas shortage. That, to me, is a bunch of baloney.

This year's political season hasn't even started and some of the big guns already have their sights set on 1980 and 1981. There are at least 10 serious candidates for the 1981 gubernatorial election. They are running now, and they are running hard. In this connection, one of the leading candidates is Port of N.Y. — N.J. Authority Chairman Alan Sagner of Essex County. Alan's braintrust consists of himself, Dan Gaby, president of Keyes Martin Advertising Agency and Peter Shapiro, Essex County executive. It's Shapiro's clout as chief executive of the county that is relied upon to deliver Essex County to Sagner in '81. The scheme is to make Sagner the county's favorite son, and Dan Gaby is moving out throughout the state lining up support for Sagner. The Gaby-Shapiro-Sagner combination must contend with the favorite son candidacy of Congressman Joe Minish, who in 1981, can retain his membership in Congress and become a viable candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

It seems like Belleville's Commissioner Mary Senatore has cooked her goose, and it's only a question of time before her popularity drops from fifth place in the Commission to sixth, and even beyond. Her divided loyalty at the county level is the most recent mistake Mary has committed. Whether she holds on to her $12,000 county job, only time will tell, but for sure, her grass roots' support is dwindling.

In the fall, Nutley's cable-television Channel T will sponsor a commuter's salute to Eastern Airlines. This television program will be my way of saying "thank you" to the personnel at Newark and Ft. Lauderdale. I am also including the flight crews who have made commuting between Nutley and Ft. Lauderdale an adventure every time I boarded a flight. It should be a two hour gala with our TV cameras visiting both Ft. Lauderdale and Newark for the spot footage of Eastern Airlines' staff in action. Readers of this column will be able to place the faces with the names that have appeared here from time to time.

"This is Jani Tobias. May I help you?" — a pleasant surprise introduction to a banking facility. It was Ft. Lauderdale City Commissioner Dick Mills who recommended a financial institution five minutes from our new Ft. Lauderdale plant. Ms. Tobias is a junior executive of the First Bank of Oakland Park who handles new accounts. The voice was just as pleasant as the salutation. Jerry Gay and I were quite surprised with the friendly, personal attitude of the bank staff. It's a local bank with no branches. In this bank, you are not a number but a somebody. In fact, as we waited, we were able to observe a friendly environment the employees created. In every sense of the word, it was a hometown bank. You knew you were not simply a file number in that bank. We hold to the philosophy that big is bad and this little bank proves it.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Governor Byrne has been getting his lumps of late, especially from State Sen. Jimmie Wallwork who is seeking an investigation to determine if Byrne had violated the state's conflict of interest laws by the "acceptance of expenses for his family" when he spent a week in Florida as the guest of the New Jersey Savings League.

Wallwork contends the "New Jersey conflicts of interest statute clearly prohibits the governor from accepting a family vacation paid for by a special interest lobby group."

The governor spent five days in Orlando as the league's guest at its convention in Disneyworld. He was accompanied by his wife Jean and two of their children. That the trip was paid for by the league has been conceded by the administration, while the league declines comment. Now the governor says he'll pay the bill, but would he have done so had not Senator Wallwork brought out the facts?

The senator said there is nothing in the law that allows the governor's family to have its expenses paid, unless the governor received a payment for his part in the convention and used that to pay the expenses of his family members. Stated Wallwork, "I feel integrity in government can never be maintained under such conditions." There was no comment on his charge from the governor's office.

Accompanying Byrne on the trip were Banking Commissioner Angelo Bianchi and Deputy Chief of Staff Harold Hodes. Their expenses were paid by the state (us). Hodes said he went because he often travels with the governor. "I got the supersaver fare," he said. The conflicts law prohibits Bianchi from accepting expenses from the bankers because he regulates them.

Others making the trip were Richard Van Wagner, an Democratic assemblyman from Monmouth, and our congressman, Joseph Minish (D-11th District). The Savings League picked up their tab. Van Wagner said he was invited to the Florida convention to discuss a tax bill he had sponsored and commented, "They paid my travel and board," estimating his air fare and hotel bill came to about $600. The legislative conflicts code allows for such an arrangement.

Representative Minish said, "I went. I spoke and I came home. They paid my expenses." He said he was not given an honorarium, but if he had received one under $1,000, he could have accepted it. Congressmen are allowed to accept expenses and honorariums for such trips.

This latest attack by Wallwork upon the governor's junkets is but another in a series of charges citing, among other things, Byrne's gas-wasting dispatch of both a state-operated helicopter and state trooper-driven limousine to squire him about Washington in a move supposedly designed to bring additional gasoline to New Jersey's dwindling supplies, and a previous incident in which it was pointed out that the governor's daughter was using a state-owned car driving out the nation's capital where she attended school. Governor Byrne has indeed gained the reputation of being a traveling man whose family seems to share in the privilege.

The U.S. Supreme Court's recent decision upholding the right of state governments to grant preference to veterans in hiring policy will surely add more woes for Governor Byrne's civil service reform bill which has administration backing and is strongly opposed by all veteran groups.

Presently, veterans passing entry-level civil service exams automatically go to the top of the job list. The Byrne-backed bill (A-1675) eliminates absolute veterans' preference for civil service job applicants.

State American Legion Commander Anthony Lori, in urging defeat of the bill, stated, "Preference for veterans is not a handout or a gift, it is a hard-earned right that many veterans paid for dearly."

There is a serious question as to why the administration is pushing so hard for this bill. Is there no sense of gratitude in the State House at all?" he asked.

Under the Byrne-backed bill, able veterans passing the test would receive seven extra points, partially disabled veterans 10 points and those more than 30 percent disabled would receive absolute preference.

Senatore picnic scheduled July 1

The Mary V. Senatore Civic & Welfare Association will hold its fifth annual picnic 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sunday, July 1, at Riverside Park, Area A, Lyndhurst.

Marie Gammaro is chairman for the picnic and Louise Petito ticket chairman. Tickets are $12 for adults. Children under 7 will be admitted free when accompanied by an adult.

There will be continuous activities for children and adults, and a menu including hamburgers, hot dogs, sausage, corn on the cob, clam chowder and assorted beverages will be served. Prizes will also be awarded for various competitions. For tickets, call Louise Petito at 759-8357.

Eyesore of the Week — According to neighbors, this rundown building behind an abandoned house on Cuozzo Street is used as a junkyard. Nearby residents have complained continually about the unkempt area. The owner could not be reached for comment.

Tri-Town Woman's Club lists state participation

Members of Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley have been active in state-wide events besides the group's monthly sossinos.

Reports show the local club active at district and state conferences. The last District 3 meeting, for example, found the following members in attendance at the session held at the Club Navaho, Irvington: Josephine Socha; Ruth Williamson, Fay Williamson, Mae Anderson and Lillian Westcott, all of Belleville; Caroline Theisz, club president, Marion Hansen and Gudrun Hansen, of Bloomfield; and representing Nutley were Helen Hunt and Marion Johnson.

The state board meeting at King's Grant Inn, Point Pleasant, featured Ruth B. Mandel, director of the Center for the American Woman and Politics (CAWP) at the Eagleton Institute of Politics, Rutgers University, as the speaker.

Tri-Town attendees included Ruth Williamson, Fay Williamson, Lillian Westcott, Mae Anderson, Caroline Theisz, Marion Hansen, Gudrun Hansen and Marion Johnson.

At Taylor Park in Millburn, a mini-workshop was held on the topic, "What You Always Wanted to Know About BPW." Tri-Town members participating included Eleanor Storer, Francis Williamson and Caroline Theisz, Bloomfield.

Women over 18 who wish to learn about the activities of the Tri-Town club are asked to contact Miss Ruth Williamson, membership chairman, at 125 Union Ave., Belleville.

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,
Last fall I got a curly perm at a department store using the Uniperm system. Something went wrong, and I had to have most of my hair re-permed a week later. Even then, there were portions that weren't as curly as the rest.

When I got a curly perm at your salon, I was very pleased with it. Three months have passed since then and it's still looking good.

Thank you and thank you to "Metro Newark Magazine", May issue, for mentioning us as being one of the best salons in N.J. Thank you to those that spoke highly of us.

P.S. Last week I stopped at Hall-Penny Pub in Nutley. I had a splendid veal parmigiano and the drinks were great. My thanks to a fine host, Ronald.

Expanded letter grades, marks for 'effort' will appear on new Belleville report cards

By Donna Abate

Parents of Belleville school students can look forward next year to what it is hoped will be more understandable and comprehensive report cards.

The Board of Education has given approval to several changes suggested by its elementary report card revision committee.

Chairman Celeste Brucalero and committee members Vera Magistro and Mildred DiNardo proposed a list of changes including an expanded number of letter grades for pupils in grades one through three and a section noting student participation in supplemental instruction.

Primary school grades will expand from good, satisfactory and unsatisfactory to excellent, good, satisfactory, poor and unsatisfactory.

The committee also suggested moving the subject order of "math" from the fifth position to the third position on the report card.

A checklist for attendance in supplemental instruction such as Title I, State Compensatory Education, speech, special reading and bilingual instruction will be among the new features in the report cards for both primary and secondary students.

A grade for "effort," which has not been included before in primary grades, will also appear on the new report cards. Intermediate grades four, five and six will receive "effort" grades for each subject.

The committee also suggested a special cover sheet to explain marking procedure to each teacher and asked the board to set up promotion policy or re-issue the present one to all teachers.

Reading grades will also be expanded for both primary and intermediate students both for achievement on an individual level and as a standard grade level in subject areas. A parent would then be able to note a student's progress in reading since the report card will list reading marks from earlier grades.

Committee members urged uniform marking procedures for teachers as well as "understanding" of grading policy for parents.

Grades for intermediate students will be changed to letters with standardized numerical value. Grades, instead of denoting "A equals excellent," will denote "A equals 90-100" and so on.

The cards will also appear different in that the committee suggested a three-fold card for more marking space. The front cover will remain the same except shorter to allow for the student's name on the centerfold. The outer ends of the cards, will provide more space for parent comments.

Board member Caesar Romano suggested the card include whether a parent attends conferences set up by teachers and administrators. "We see a lot of one way communication to the parents, but what about the parent's say?" he asked.

The committee explained to the board's surprise that a vast number of parents fill in the "comments" section regularly. "We get a lot of ideas from the parents," one committee member noted.

The "comments" section also includes feedback from special teachers that the student may have had in supplemental instruction.

Parent skills seminar slated Monday at BHS

The Belleville Juvenile Aid Bureau will sponsor a one-evening seminar entitled, "Improved Parenting Skills: As a Means of Prevention," Monday beginning 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Speakers will include Rita Leone, a bureau social worker; Robert Mackey, residential treatment director at the Brookside Academy for emotionally disturbed adolescents, and Phil Weck, director of WAY Counseling Center in Wayne.

Mackey and Weck are both consultants to the counseling service of the Belleville bureau and each has a private practice in the community area.

The seminar will include a discussion of adolescence today, the role of the parent in a changing society, opening family communications, and ideas for developing skills in order to raise a child whose choice of behavior is motivated by self rather than by fear of punishment.

Sign-up deadline June 21 for summer music school

Students have until next Thursday, June 21, to register for the summer music school being sponsored by the Recreation Department in cooperation with the Belleville Music Parents Association. Tuition will be $22, and any Belleville student is eligible to attend. Classes and lessons will be geared to meet the needs of students attending.

The music school will operate for five weeks, Mondays through Fridays, June 25 through July 27. Classes will meet daily 8:30 a.m. to noon at School 7, located on the corner of Joralemon Street and Passaic Avenue.

Instructions will be given in fundamentals of music, beginning wind instruments and strings, intermediate and advanced bands, orchestra, high school, marching and dance bands.

Instruments being taught are flute, oboe, clarinet, saxophone, bassoon, trumpet, trombone, french horn, baritone, tuba, violin, viola, cello, string bass and drums.

There will be assembly programs to which parents and other interested persons are invited 11 a.m. to noon July 6, 13 and 20 in School 7's all-purpose room.

For registration information, contact Frank Seelba, director of music at Belleville High School.

Senior Notes

By George Chenoweth

We had occasion a week ago Saturday to go grocery shopping at one of the area supermarkets. This type of pastime is not my forte, but what I found out made an interesting morning. There were clerks in one store overpricing goods like the practice was going out of style. I listened to a few of the shoppers, mostly senior citizens, and they agreed that prices were increased in some markets on the day of delivery of Social Security checks and/or the day after. This was a common practice, we were told.

We have heard this complaint before but have never witnessed this happening first-hand. We, as a group, are not exhibitionists, not too vocal, and we do not, as a rule, call attention to ourselves, but we think that it is about time to disclose some of the rip-offs perpetrated against senior citizens, and it is time that we let our feelings be known about such outrageous practices.

Of course it might be hard to prove and yes, we do agree that the practice of raising prices on certain days of the month would also affect those of other age groups who shop on those days when Social Security checks are delivered. We talked to people, seniors with a just complaint; who had occasion to shop the day before, and we were told about food items (perishable fruit) that had risen in price as much as 20 cents on each a day later. This fruit looked to be the same packages as the previous day, a day older and 20 cents higher! We were also told that prices had been known to go back to normal after the seniors' shopping days.

Our advice to the senior population which deals with these unscrupulous merchants is to shop elsewhere where the procedure of raising prices is not common practice. If it is possible to hold out, shop in the middle of the month. Better still, we repeat, patronize those markets that do not take advantage of the elderly.

Woman's Club hosts district presentation

The Eighth District of the New Jersey Federation of Woman's Clubs held its annual drama and music festival recently at Bethany Lutheran Church in Belleville. Members of the Belleville Woman's Club acted as hostesses.

Mrs. William T. Cusick, president of the local club, welcomed members and guests, and Mrs. Richard A. Shafter and Mrs. Richard Drake, chairmen, respectively, of the district's music and drama departments, introduced participant clubs from Rutherford, Hoboken, North Arlington, Arlington, Clifton, Lyndhurst, Garfield, Nutley and Belleville.

Mrs. William T. Cusick, drama chairman of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs, presented certificates of merit in several categories. Among three groups receiving awards for original, one-act plays was the Woman's Club of Belleville for "Memories," written by Edith Richards.

PSEG&G nuke inspection finds equipment breakage

Public Service Electric and Gas Company has reported that after completing an inspection of all 53 control rod assemblies at Unit No. 1 of its Salem Generating Station, a total of seven rodlets in five assemblies had been found broken.

The company said the five assemblies will be replaced by new ones supplied by the Westinghouse Electric Corporation. In addition, five fuel assemblies, in which the broken rodlets were discovered, will be replaced by five assemblies that had been originally earmarked for removal to spent fuel storage under the nuclear plant's current refueling program. The fuel in those assemblies was only partially used and so can be returned to the reactor core.

The cause of the broken rodlets is under study at PSEG&G, Westinghouse and the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC).

Each control rod assembly consists of 24 individual metal rods known as rodlets. The rodlets, which do not contain any fuel, are slightly more than 12 feet long and about a half-inch in diameter. Each control rod is attached to a multi-fingered web mechanism at the top of the fuel assembly.

Sisters mothers on the same day

Thursday, just about one hour after Mrs. Estrada gave birth to Shawn Abel, eight pounds, one ounce, at 10:09 the same morning.

"We knew we would deliver at the same hospital, but we never expected to deliver the same day," Mrs. Trindade explained. "I came in earlier because I was due on June 7." Her sister Mrs. Estrada was due yesterday.

Both sisters are originally from Newark and also work for the same company - New Jersey Bell. Mrs. Trindade works at the Newark office and Mrs. Estrada in East Orange. They are eight years apart in age.

What's the most special aspect of having children on the same day? "We're going to have one big party every June 7," Mrs. Trindade said with assurance.

"You'll be in a lot of trouble if you forget my son's birthday too," Mrs. Estrada joked.

Alice and Fernando Trindade and new son Nicholas reside at 85 Malone Ave. Fernando is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Trindade of Belleville.

Louise and Abel Estrada and new son Shawn live at 2343 Laurana Road in Union. Their first son, Christopher, is 3 years old.

Nicholas Trindade was delivered by Dr. Gerard Giacalone and the Estradas' son by Dr. Traudel E. Panullo. Both doctors are in residence at Clara Maass. The sisters were in adjacent rooms on the maternity floor at the hospital.

Midlantic offering discount on radio

Midlantic National Bank is conducting a new account promotion until the end of July. Customers will have the opportunity to purchase a General Electric AM/FM portable radio for only $18.95 plus tax. The radio has a manufacturer's suggested retail price of $30.95.

In order to qualify for the special offer, a customer must open a new checking, regular passbook or statement savings account for $250 or more, add $250 or more to an existing regular passbook, statement savings or 5 1/2 Gold Star passbook account or open any new savings certificate or 5 1/2 percent Gold Star passbook account.

The GE radio being used, as a premium item in this promotion, operates on either battery power (batteries not included) or regular household current. Other features include improved selectivity for better station reception and continuous tone control.

Wood Work — Belleville High student Mark Cammarato crouches beside his creation, a coffee table he made in class. Cammarato was one of dozens of students displaying works at the festival.

Art Form — Lynda Swinarski labors over a silk-screening project in the Belleville High art room where many eye-dazzling creations were born. — Photos this page by John Jurich.

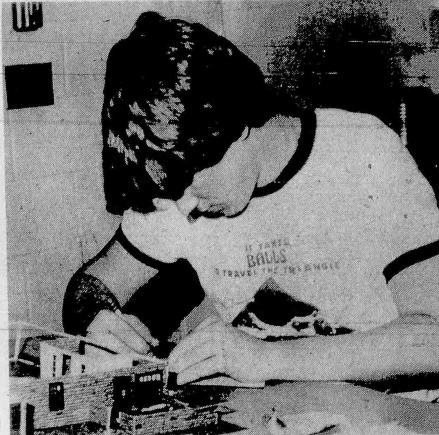

House-Builders — Mike Trabucco and Joe Diaco (l-r) stand by a display in the BHS lobby of the model homes they designed in class. Diaco holds the first prize certificate he won for architectural drawing. It was the only award to be given at the fine and industrial arts festival two weeks ago.

Canvassing — Art major Ange Pace views some of the drawings and paintings on display at the festival. The hand in the upper right corner is her work. A senior, she'll be attending the School of Visual Art in New York City.

Intricate Study — John DeLaney does some architectural drawing for a home he's designing in class. Homes, paintings, woodwork and much more were on display at the well-attended evening festival.

Thematic Art — Carolyn Tramutolo views some of the drawings done by herself and other BHS art students. Here the works reflect a theme; others were whimsical and imaginative.

Classroom Craftsman — Mark Cirelli stands proudly beside the cabinet he made in class. The cabinet was one of a number of strikingly professional pieces of furniture designed and assembled by Belleville High School students.

Auto Refurbishing — William Dougherty does some body work on a car. Students' work in the BHS auto shop also included the display of some sophisticated gadgets they put together. It was part of the industrial section of the festival.

Belleville students honored for academics

Achievement awards are presented at second annual scholastic dinner

Dozens of local students received recognition for their academic achievements at the second annual Raymond O. Smith Scholastic Awards Dinner which was held Wednesday evening, May 30, in the Belleville High School cafeteria.

The dinner, sponsored jointly by the Belleville High School Home and School Association and Belleville High School, honors students who have demonstrated outstanding ability in some aspect of their school programs and also recognizes the parents of the students.

Dr. Richard Benninger, director of student personnel services, coordinated and served as master of ceremonies for the program which included a welcoming address by Belleville High School Principal John DeCesare and remarks by Dr. John Greed, superintendent of schools. Also on hand for the awards program were Mayor Michael V. Marotti, Public Works Commissioner Mary V. Senatore, members of the Board of Education and the town's official and business community, school administrators, parents and teachers.

Over two dozen organizations presented awards to local students, and several of the young people were double or triple winners. Belleville High School Home and School Association scholarships went to Kristine Rovell and Eduardo Grisolia, while Cynthia Leahy and Michele Saobato won scholarships from the Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley.

The Van-Dyk Company Scholarship went to James Cali, while Richard Gaschke and Thomas Rosamilia won scholarships from Hoffmann-LaRoche Inc. The Margaret DiNicola Pacelli Memorial Award was presented to Cynthia Leahy, and James Cali, Thomas Rosamilia and Kristine Rovell won awards from the Junior Women's Club.

Thomas Rosamilia received an award from the Mathematic Association of America, and Plymouth Trouble-Shooting Awards went to William Gilbert, Joseph Schrock, Thomas Scarnegi and Fred Weitzel. The Belleville Educators Scholarship was won by Suzanne Reiman.

James Cali and Robert McTeigue were presented with National Merit Certificates for their performances on a standardized achievement test, and the Belleville Patrolman's Benevolent Association, Local 28, gave a plaque to Deborah LoCoco.

The National Orchestra Association Award went to Toni Benecchi, while Dean Bennett won a certificate in the Century III Leadership Contest. The Emano Award went to Sharon Giambo, and selections were announced for the American Legion Jersey Boys' State. Juniors Michael Rock, Gary Martins and Carl Lordi will attend the weeklong annual conclave which seeks to teach students good citizenship and the mechanics of government through practical experience.

Cynthia Livingstone received the Rotary Club Scholarship, and Kristine Rovell was awarded a Belleville Foundation grant. The Optimist Club presented its scholarship to Mary Alice Wancho, while John Lombard received the Kiwanis Club Scholarship.

Four students — Joanne Lucas, Teresa Cassin, Thomas Rosamilia and Robert DiStasi — were recipients of Belleville Music Parents Association Scholarships, and the Belleville Crew Parents Scholarships went to Teresa Cassin and James Cali.

Cali also won the Bausch & Lomb Award. Belleville High School Business Department Awards were presented to Cheryl McKinney, Brenda Stallone, Michele Saobato and Cathy Kokos. Patty Vincent received the Michael V. Marotti Civic Association's award and a scholarship from the Mary V. Senatore Civic & Welfare Association.

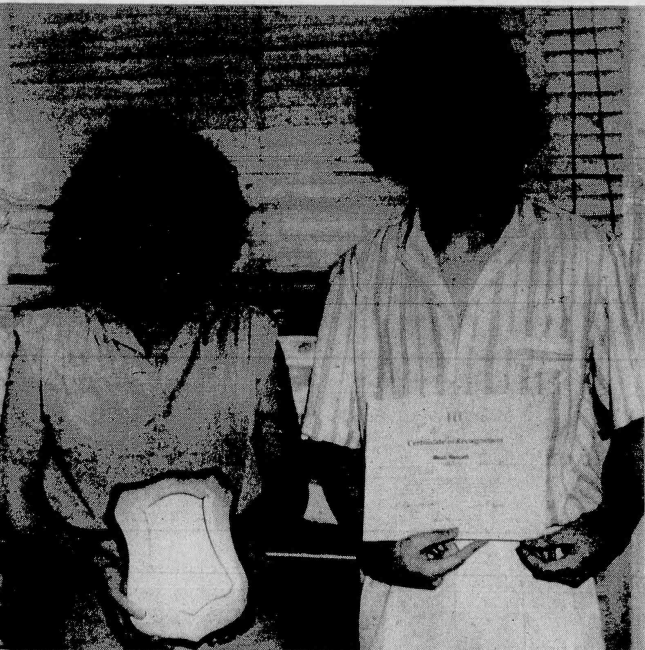

The New Jersey Foreign Language Association Award went to Barbara Giordano, and Angelo Santinelli received to Belleville High School Football Coaches Scholarship. Gabe Nazzola received the Musical Theatre Award, and I.U.E. District 3, AFL-CIO, presented its award to John Lombard.

Academic Achievement — Pictured (l-r) are Mary Alice Wancho (Optimist Club award-winner), James Cali (Van-Dyk Company, Junior Women's Club, Belleville Crew Parents, Bausch & Lomb, National Merit Certificate), Robert DiStasi (Music Parents Association scholarship) and Joanne Lucas (Music Parents Association scholarship).

Police, Century Winners — Deborah LoCoco and Dean Bennett display the awards they received at the annual Raymond O. Smith Scholastic Awards Dinner May 30. Miss LoCoco was given a plaque by the Belleville PBA, while Bennett won a certificate in the Century III Leadership Contest.

Grants and Scholarships — Among the many award recipients May 30 were (l-r) Suzanne Reiman (Belleville Educators Scholarship), Tom Rosamilia (Hoffmann-LaRoche Inc., Mathematic Association of America, Music Parents Association) and Kris Rovell (Home and School Association, Junior Women's Club, Belleville Foundation Grant).

Association Recipients — Antonia Benecchi (left) shows off her National Orchestra Association Award. With her is Patty Vincent who won awards from the Michael V. Marotti Civic Association and the Mary V. Senatore Civic & Welfare Association.

BHS grad of 1940 wins a new degree

Former resident Arthur F. Brown of Brick Township graduated with master of arts degree June 3 from Rider College Division of Graduate Studies in the School of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Brown re-entered college in the evening program for administrators in the spring of 1976. He had received a bachelor's degree from Stockton State College in 1974, majoring in criminal justice.

Brown, 57, has been undersheriff of Ocean County since 1960. He has served continuously since 1964 as administrator of the county jail and supervisor of the Coordinated Police Emergency Network (police, fire and first aid).

Brown is credited with organizing the Sheriff's Department Tactical Unit and Criminalistics Laboratory and holds numerous awards and certificates from law enforcement and corrections schools.

Brown is immediate past president of the Atlantic chapter of Associated Public Safety Communications officers and a member of the Ocean County College Law Enforcement Advisory Board.

Brown, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Brown of Florida, is a 1940 graduate of Belleville High School where he lettered in football. He served in the Army and saw action in the South Pacific during World War II.

Brown is married to the former Frances A. Garvey of Montclair. The couple has six children.

Carmela Bono named to Berkeley dean's list

Carmela Bono of Belleville is among students and recent graduates named to the dean's list for the past term at the Berkeley School of Garrett Mountain.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bono of 9 Lloyd Place, Miss Bono was named from the executive secretarial program. She is an alumna of Belleville High School.

Excellent season largely unnoticed

Question: Which varsity teams at Belleville High School compiled .800 winning percentages this past spring?

Answer: It wasn't just the baseball team, it was the golf team as well. The diamondmen put together an .809 percentage this past season and got all kinds of attention in this spot especially, but hardly anyone was aware that the BHS golf squad compiled a 12-3 record. The linksmen, coached by Mike Salzarulo, have just completed one of their most successful campaigns in a number of years.

Now it is a known fact that golf matches are not the big talk around the hallways of BHS, but stop a minute to realize what this team did. Golf is a sport that requires a great deal of concentration and intelligence. Maybe you don't have to possess a great deal of stamina or be a weightlifter to excel at golf, but like any other worthwhile sport, golf is an endeavor that requires long periods of practice and most importantly, large reserves of self-discipline.

To the average spectator, golf is an extremely slow and somewhat tedious event to view, but to the participant, golf played well can be a beautiful thing to watch. It isn't easy to play 18 holes of golf and still be able to concentrate on the final hole when there is a 90-degree sun beating down on your skin which by then has the quality of worst-odder leather.

The local team couldn't have a better man coaching it. Mike Salzarulo is a gem of a coach. First of all, he is practically a pro at the game and consequently he brings to his BHS pupils an expertise that gives them a definite advantage. More importantly, like most of the other coaches at Belleville High, Mike is a man well liked and very much respected by his athletes. The end result of these pluses is a good team with a great desire to perform to its utmost capacity.

The chances are that the golf team will never draw any large crowds, and if it were to win a state crown one of these days, it might not draw a lot of deserved attention. But the squad's performance this year has been indicative of all the varsity sports at Belleville: There's a great pride, tremendous desire and the will to win.

All the coaches and the players at Belleville High this past year should be commended for an outstanding job. They have put Belleville back on the sports map, and it looks as if we'll occupy a prominent place there for some time to come. The teams deserve a great deal of thanks and applause.

A couple of weeks ago, I mentioned the job that the class of 1976 did on the BHS sports scene. During the summary of the football team, I failed to mention Vito Guarino, a star lineman at Belleville High for three years who will be a senior at Moravian College in Pennsylvania this fall. Vito, an honors student at BHS and a pre-med candidate at Moravian, was a star not only for the football team but also for the track squad where he excelled with the shot and the discus.

Another member of the class of 1976, Anthony Bialore, or more familiarly, "Chipper," was drafted in the 24th round by the Chicago Cubs last week in the amateur draft. Whether he will join the Cubs' farm team or finish out his collegiate career at Monmouth isn't known as of this writing. Chipper has one year left at college and is currently a member of the Belleville semi-pro baseball team, the Bruins.

Speaking of baseball, here's a little trivia for you. What softball pitcher who lives in Belleville has been hurling for the same squad for the last 30 years? Well, his name is Bill Vogel and he pitches for Westinghouse. He's been team's starting pitcher now for at least 30 years, if not longer. Keep up the good work on the hill, Bill.

Two of the bigger names in sports made rather loud noises in their respective fields this past week. One man was Larry Bird, the college basketball player of the year from Indiana State. Bird, who was drafted in his junior year by the Boston Celtics but elected to complete his college eligibility, just signed a contract with the NBA club.

When the college season ended in late March, the Celtics went to work immediately in an effort to sign the highly talented Bird. Bird was asking for $1 million a year to play for the Celtics. Obviously Red Auerbach, the team's general manager, found that request a bit absurd.

After months of negotiating, the Celtics and Mr. Bird came to an agreement. Bird became the highest paid rookie in NBA history (or for that matter in the history of sports) when he signed a $3.25 million contract that extends for five years. If you break down that figure, Bird will be earning $650,000 per year to play basketball. What made this entire sequence of events even more ridiculous was that Bird stated after he signed that he would have played for nothing and that money was never the main issue in the negotiations. Nice try, Larry. You're about as convincing as Bill Walton.

The other big name in sports to make news this past week was the 19-year-old Mr. Know It All Ronnie Franklin. Franklin, the jockey who rode Spectacular Bid, has gotten a little too big for his small britches. As most of you know, Bid fell short in its quest for a triple crown when the colt was beaten in the Belmont Stakes.

I felt the riding by Franklin left a lot to be desired. The stretch at Belmont is one of the most grueling in all of horse racing, and most horses have met their match there. Witness 1958 when Tim Tam, a triple crown candidate, broke its leg on the stretch but still limped home in second place. Then in 1971, Cannellino II, another triple crown threat, was beaten in the stretch mainly because he ran out of gas.

Spectacular Bid simply made his move too soon, and a horse by the name of Cozzani, who was ridden with great skill, came up on Bid and won the race rather handily. Spectacular Bid came in a distant third.

The reason why I say Franklin has a lot to learn is not because of the poor display of riding he gave in the Belmont, but because of something that will hit home with animal-lovers. After a race at Pimlico, the Maryland track where the Preakness is held, Franklin stepped off his mount and proceeded to slap and kick the horse. This cry baby likes to beat horses, but I wonder if he'd have the courage to tangle with something that might hit him back—like a human being over five feet, six inches tall. If the little fellow doesn't respect the animal that brings him glory, then he shouldn't be allowed to ride one. Franklin's display was a black mark in the annals of his sport, a sport that, after all, has a lot more to do with horses than it does people.

Finally, did you get a chance to see the Cosmo game last Wednesday night against the Argentinian national team. Argentina is considered the best team in the world, witness its World Cup championship in 1978, and was the premier test of the Cosmo's soccer skill.

Diamonder stat sheet glitters with tiny ERA

By Mike Lamberti

day at Princeton

Great pitching and great defense typified this year's edition of the Belleville Buccaneer baseball team.

The hitting, a trademark of Belleville baseball teams of the past, was not as much of a factor on this year's team. Still the Bucs finished with a 17-4 season, and, according to head coach George Zanfini, "With a little more hitting, who knows where we might have gone?"

The Bucs' season came to an end two weeks ago with a 1-0 loss to Linden in the championship round of the state sectionals. Linden, by the way, eventually won the state Group IV title. For the Bucs, 1979 is now history, but there are some pretty impressive statistics for the locals to look back upon.

"The defense and pitching were phenomenal," said Zanfini. "We had a team earned run average of 1.16 and committed 36 errors on the season which is a very impressive figure for high school baseball."

An important figure to keep in mind is that the Bucs committed seven of the 36 miscues in the first three games of the season and then settled down to play excellent baseball the rest of the way.

There were some bright spots on the hitting scene, mainly in the play of senior Jim Kelley. He batted a team-high .439 and started most of the second half of the season after working as a pinch hitter for the first part of the campaign. Some timely hitting earned Kelley the starting position.

Mike Nicocchia, junior with potential to be an all-state player, batted .375 and led the club with three home runs. The irrepressible Dan Borgo, "Mr. Everything," batted .323 and was even better in the pitching role.

Jim Tensfeldt hit a steady .280 and clubbed two homers. The senior, who might have seen more pitching action had it not been for an injury and the rapid development of younger hurlers, is headed for NJIT in the fall.

Great defense was turned in by seniors Anthony Dondarski, Anthony Cossentino and Joe Franceschini. Dondarski was the type of athlete who gave everything he had with what he had. Cossentino provided some key hits, the most memorable being a home run which cut down Nutley in the sectional semifinal. Franceschini, a pure athlete, played a steady first base all year for Zanfini.

The Bucs batted .255 as a team, the lowest average for a Belleville team in six years. The pitching, however, more than made up for it.

Borgo was absolutely magnificent. He compiled an 8-2 record with an ERA of 0.76. In addition, in 73 innings, he recorded 93 strikeouts and allowed just 31 walks. His three-year statistics were 176 innings pitched, 205 strikeouts, 74 walks, an ERA of 0.80 and a career record of 22-7. "I think most of those totals have to be records," said Zanfini. "Danny had three great years and he was a pitcher who will be sorely missed."

Borgo has been selected to play in the New Jersey High School Baseball All-Star Game this Satur-

Sophomore Anthony Coco compiled an outstanding record of 6-0. In addition, the soph had an ERA of 1.49. Coco hurled 42 innings and should be a major factor in the next two years.

Eddie Aulisi, a junior, finished the season with a 3-1 record and an ERA of 1.22. Aulisi pitched 23 innings, and the junior's only loss was a tough 2-1 decision to Caldwell.

Zanfini also pointed out that senior Jerry Fazzini was sidelined with a hamstring pull for practically the entire season. "I think Jerry would have been a big help," said the coach. "We can't go back to the season, but with a couple of breaks, we might have gone just a little further."

BUC NOTES: The jayvee and freshman teams had excellent seasons. The junior varsity, under Jim LaConti, finished 12-4, while the freshman team, under the leadership of Carl Corino, was 20-2 and won the Clifton Freshman Invitational Tournament... Of the varsity Bucs' four losses, three were heartbreakers. The team fell 2-1 to Caldwell, 3-2 to Irvington in the Greater Newark Tournament and 1-0 to Linden in the sectional final. The Bucs' other loss was an 8-3 drubbing at the hands of Middletown in the second game of the season-opening doubleheader.

Freshman baseball team breeds fine future varsity

In case there are any questions about next year's varsity baseball team, get ready for this. The 1979 Belleville High School freshman baseball team compiled a 20-2 record and won the prestigious Clifton Coaches' Freshman Tournament for the first time.

The varsity team, 17-4 this past season, loses 11 seniors to graduation this month, but the way the freshman class of '79 performed this year, the varsity squad should continue its winning ways for sometime to come.

The freshman team, coached by Carl Corino and Jim DiGiovanna, had an extremely large number of applicants this year, with 71 prospective players trying to fit into 18 uniforms. "We had a great turnout," said Corino. "The guys knew what I expected of them, and they knew what to expect of me. This past year was really something else."

The closest the freshman Bucs ever came to winning the Clifton tourney was in 1977 when Belleville advanced to the finals before losing to Livingston. This year's team rolled by North Bergen 11-6, Wayne Hills 4-0, Pequannock, the top seed in the tourney, 7-1 and won in the finals against a strong Rutherford team with a 17-3 record, 12-8.

Eugene Cancellieri and Frank Fazzini were co-MVPs of the tournament and rightfully so. Cancellieri won three of the four games for the Bucs with some fine pitching, while Fazzini won the other contest and came through with some excellent hitting.

The Bucs went through the regular season with a 16-2 record, their only two setbacks coming at the hands of Seton Hall and Montclair. In both instances, the Bucs came back to win the rematch. "With a couple of more runs, we could have gone through unbeaten," said Corino.

With such impressive statistics, there was an obvious team effort. The pitching staff was simply magnificent. Cancellieri went through the year with a 7-1 record in 51 innings pitched. When he wasn't pitching, he could be found occupying the first base position. Fazzini was 5-0 and pitched 41 innings. He was also an excellent shortstop and an athlete who has Corino very excited. "He has to be one of the finest pure athletes I've seen in my five years of coaching," said the coach. "He is an honors student and has tremendous athletic capabilities, just like the rest of the team."

Bobby Brave pitched 23 innings and finished with a very impressive 4-0 mark. Joe Britling was 1-0, but his true value did not lie in his record. Britling led the team with six saves, and his one start on the year was a two-hit no-run over East Orange. "Six times we went to Joe to save the game for us, and every time he came through," said Corino. "He pitched 16 very important innings."

Rounding out the impressive pitching staff was Mike Forte. Forte hurled 16 innings and finished the season with a 2-1 record.

The team hitting was just as productive. Overall the squad scored 181 runs, an average of almost nine a game. Once again, Cancellieri headed the list, hitting a robust 421 with 32 hits in 76 at-bats. Fazzini finished with 17 extra-base hits, nine of them being triples. Fazzini also hit seven doubles and a home run. Joe Murphy batted a strong .377 with a grand slam home run to his credit. Murphy was the team's designated hitter and saw a little time at first base.

Brave, when not pitching, the team's third baseman, batted .344. Jeff Walsh, the starting second baseman, hit an impressive .325. Catcher Phil Cerza, one of the most promising athletes on the freshman level in any town, had a .301 average and did an outstanding defensive job behind the plate.

Centerfielder Danny Polumbo hit .275 but his true talent lay in his Please see "Frosh" on page 17.

Ceaseless spring rains held softballers to just good year

Closing out a fine year of women's athletics, the BHS softball team compiled an 11-6 record in 1979, despite having five potential wins rain out.

The team coached by Eve Lautenschlaeger won the Big 10 Championship in 1978 and was expected to do big things this year. Some fine hitting and some equally strong fielding produced the impressive record.

The team is losing five seniors to graduation but has a host of freshman who look to be very good for the next three years.

The five seniors are Denise Zarra, Toni Sperduto, Denise Juliano, Leonora Siubis and Tracy Morrison. Zarra led the team with a .388 batting average. She had 13 hits, 26 walks and an incredible on-base percentage of .667. Zarra, the team's catcher, led the club in average, on-base percentage and walks.

Sperduto played four years on the varsity level and came through with another solid season. The outfielder batted .348 with an on-base percentage of .508. She compiled 16 hits and 15 walks. Denise Juliano completed a fantastic athletic career with a .333 average and an on-base percentage of .557. In addition, the senior, who will attend Seton Hall this fall, chalked up 17 hits, 10 walks and smacked a home run. She also led the team in enthusiasm.

Siubis, a pitcher, had an on-base percentage of .400. Morrison was also a hurler and had two walks and an on-base percentage of .400.

The juniors were led by Joyce Iacullo. The shortstop batted .314 and had 16 hits. Michelle DeMayo played a strong outfield and earned six walks. Jeanne Fornarotto hit .222 but had an excellent on-base percentage of .435. Dawn Ritacco had nine hits and batted .250. When she wasn't in the outfield, she was used as a pitcher.

Marilyn McCaffrey hit .321 and had an on-base percentage of .417.

Sophomore Michelle Jeannotte hit .321 and had 11 walks along with an on-base ratio of .564. Debbie Jinks saw action as a pitcher and should be a key member to next year's squad. Some strong performances were turned in by the freshman, most notably Nancy Coffey. Coffey batted a robust .375 and had an on-base ratio of .400. She led the team in hits with 21.

Rose Leonidis hit .219 and powered a home run for the Buccaneers. Her on-base percentage was a strong .477. Brenda Davis, a girl with outstanding potential, hit .205, and Angela Chimento batted an even .200. — Mike Lamberti.

Upsets in men's softball league; Giants clinch spot in senior loop

Rain once again washed out the Monday and Tuesday night men's softball leagues, but Thursday night was filled with surprises.

In the Wednesday league, meanwhile, Joe's Alignment has the top spot with a 7-0 record followed by Rosmore Pharmacy at 6-1. This past week, Joe's picked up two victories. It edged the Howard Hustlers 4-2 and in the second game defeated Silver Lake 10-1. Rosmore also had two victories: The first was over Garden State 11 8-1. In the nightcap, Rosmore took a 24-9 decision over Michael's Towing. The Howard Hustlers won their night game 16-6 over Garden State 11.

The Thursday action was loaded with upsets. Previously unbeaten DeWitt Savings dropped two games. Giordano's handed DeWitt its first loss with a 11-10 edging, and the Belleville Political and Social Club, in a stunning upset, squeezed past the Bankers 4-3. Belleville Hess won its first two games to spring back into first place. In its first game, Hess defeated Clyde Paul Insurance 13-5 and in the nightcap drubbed Giordano's 19-3. Bell Lap Tavern also won twice, shutting out the Political and Social Club 6-0 and later beating Clyde Paul 9-4.

Senior League
In the Senior League, the Giants clinched a playoff spot and the first-half title by defeating the Mets 14-1. The Giants then won their first game of the second half over the Mets 15-10.

Both the Cubs and the Pirates stand at 3-0 in the second half. The Cubs beat the Yankees 5-1, while the Pirates picked up two victories, over the Braves 11-5 and Yankees 7-4. The Braves and Mets played to an 8-8 tie in the only other action.

Intermediate League
The Yankees, coached by Pat and Steve Gerard, coasted to victory four times last week to clinch the Intermediate League baseball title. The Yankees defeated the Cubs 7-1 and 7-3, and they beat the Giants 6-3 and 10-4. The victories improved the Yanks' record to 10-0-1. Their remaining game will be against the Braves, the team which tied them.

Members of the championship squad are Lenny Iannita, Frank Zicaro, John Guarino, Tony Lombardi, Mike Murphy, Joe Bunucci, Sergio Chavarria, David Fulda, Ronnie Hromoko, Mike Yacullo, Robert Slater, Thomas Vaccaro, Henry Fink and Anthony Ferrara. In one other Intermediate League game, the Braves edged the Mets 4-3.

Junior League
The Bears won the first-half title in the American Division of the Junior League by defeating the top contender, the Clippers, 43-5. Billy Williams pitched for the victory. In the National Division, the Cubs and the Braves are tied at 5-0 in the first half. The Cubs extended their winning streak to five games by defeating the White Sox 7-6 in nine innings.

The Cubs were led by superb pitching by Joe Della Vecchia who struck out 12 and yielded only eight hits. Offensively, the Cubs were led by Mike Marzullo (two hits, three RBI), Rich Luberto (home run) and Fred Farino (two RBI). The White Sox were led by Billy Nankervis who struck out 14 and gave up six hits. Nankervis had three hits of his own.

The Braves' fifth win was a 16-3 decision over the White Sox. The Braves are 2-0 in the second half of the Junior League season after beating the Dodgers 20-3. Sam Dotro, Rich Schmaltz, and Mike Kozlowski combined to limit the Dodgers to four hits by Jim Siclari, Tim Buckley, Jim McGuire and Mike Dandunione. Kozlowski hit a home run for the winners.

The Cubs picked up their first win of the second half by shutting out the Dodgers 19-0. Mike Marzullo starred for the Cubs, hitting two triples, a double and a single and driving in four runs. Marzullo went the distance on the mound, yielding only two hits by Jim Siclari, and Mike Dandunione made a spectacular catch in centerfield for the Dodgers. Tim Buckley added a few fine defensive plays.

The Tigers stand 2-0 with victories over the Aces 10-8 and the Indians 12-5. John Scricco and Rich Curto pitched for the victories. The Bombers are 2-0 after beating the Bears 8-6 and the Indians 16-4. Frank Moses and Art San Filippo pitched for the victories.

The Giants are also 2-0 after decisions over the Yankees 14-9 and the Pirates 7-2. Mike Rott got the victory in the Yankee game, and Maurizio Biondo pitched well for the Pirates, despite losing. Joe Corio and Steve Mobilio had hits for the losing team.

The Yankees defeated the White Sox 12-8 behind the pitching of Anthony Rock. Hits by Paul Holly, Bill Nople, Mike Gibbons, Mike Debelak, Mike Jeffers, Andy Rusano and Roch powered the Yankees to their first victory of the second half. Centerfielder Holly also contributed a fine defensive play.

The Clippers edged the Aces 20-19. Clipper stars were Donna Brooks, Rick Tranikola, Carmine Fortunato, David Donna Maria and Anthony Torromeo. Sherry Mucigrosso pitched and played well for the Aces. Other scores were Bears 21, Cards 10 and Aces 23, Cards 8. Peter Hywell was the winning pitcher for the Aces.

Peanut League
In the American Division of the Peanut League, the Giants are holding first place with a 5-1 record. The Giants beat the Yankees last week 25-5.

In an upset, the Cubs edged the Cardinals 9-8. Peter Malloy and Lenny Gerst played excellent defense, and Steve Glogoya's triple with Chris Ose's double sparked the Cubs' offense. The Cardinals had two wins, a 22-7 victory over the Pirates and a 7-3 win over the Clippers. The Pirates and Astros played to a 5-5 tie after nine innings.

In the National Division, the Braves are 6-1 and the Aces 5-1 in the battle for first place. The Dodgers and Braves met with undefeated records last week, and the Dodgers came away with a 20-16 victory. Lou Cucolo had four hits, including two home runs and 8 RBI. Other big offensive weapons were Vinnie Colaninno, Marc Infozino and Anthony Meglio. The Dodgers had also beaten the Tigers 10-9 earlier in the week. Donald Rock had the game-winning hit.

The Aces, however, came on to down the Dodgers 15-6. Triples by Gerard Amolo and Brian Goergen and doubles by John Mele, Vincent Vollero and William Sypher spearheaded the Aces' attack.

The Indians came on strong in the late innings to defeat the Dodgers 20-12. The Dodgers led 6-0, but the Indians fought back. John Berry, Joe Duna and P.J. Grande got hits to start the Indian attack. The next inning, Charlie Montalbano and Mike MacDonald were aboard to score on a double by Ralph Iannuzzi. Chris Chironomte made a key catch for the Indians to stop a Dodger rally.

In other games, the Braves picked up two victories, beating the Bears 15-7 and the Bombers 14-11. The Bombers bounced back with a win over the Bears 16-15 in extra innings, and a 31-17 victory over the Indians. The Tigers picked up a victory over the Indians 12-10.

Pigtail Softball
So far, the Cubs and Tigers are sharing first place in the girls' Pigtail Softball League with 4-0 records. The Tigers picked up two wins this week. They beat the Yankees 14-2 on a big home run by Jeri Amorosi and defeated the Mets in the second contest as Michele Turiello and Michele Petrillo blasted round-trippers and Karen Rischetelli played good defense. Kathy Zamora had a homer for the Mets.

The Cubs shut out the Yankees 9-0 on a great team effort led by Marion Apple's fielding. The Braves defeated the Giants 12-9 behind the hitting of Lisa Mattia, Cathy Rossi, 851.

Gina Dellaqua, Kathleen Sheedy, Nicole Marino and Karyn Wychell. First baseman Valerie Cosaleo played a big part in the strong defense. The Giants defeated the Reds for their first win of the season.

Junior Softball
The Cheetahs with a 5-0 record are in first place with the 4-0 Bobcats close behind in the girls' Junior Softball League. The Bobcats picked up two victories last week, playing an excellent all-around game to defeat the Pumas.

Donna Jinks and Janine Alfone played fine defense, and the offense was powered by a three-run homer by second baseman Brenda Yurkanin. The Bobcats also defeated the Cougars. Donna Jinks hit two home runs and Maria Meglio a big double. Larraini Bini made the defense solid.

Tennis Instruction
The Recreation Department's beginner's tennis clinic continues tomorrow and June 22 at the School 3 gym.

Hours are 6:30-7:30 p.m. for boys and girls 8-11 and 7:45-8:45 p.m. for those 12-15. The purpose of the clinic is to teach the most basic fundamentals of tennis—forehand, backhand, serving, scoring and etiquette.

Town golf tourney tees off on June 28

The Recreation Department will hold its annual golf tournament Thursday, June 28, at Hendricks Field. A dinner at the Chandelier will follow at which prizes will be awarded to the day's winners.

Tickets, $20, include the price of both golf and dinner and can be obtained by calling 759-9100, extension hitting of Lisa Mattia, Cathy Rossi, 851.

For Blue-Gold track team, 6-10 felt nearly like a winning record

By Mike Lamberti

For some sports at Belleville High, a 6-10 record may not raise many eyebrows, but for the Blue-Gold track team, that record may just be the start of something good.

The fact is that the 6-10 record is the best for the harriers since the 1976 season, and with a large number of runners due back next year, the team could very well enjoy its first winning season since 1975.

Head coach Rich Ruffalo and his staff of Jon Semcer, Larry Jinx and girls' coach Debbie Meola have been working long and hard to rebuild the BHS track team into a solid unit, and the squad's performance this year was an indication of how successful their efforts have been. Three athletes — seniors Mike Graham, Joe D'Agostino and Karen Protusewicz — advanced to the A.I.I. group championships in the half mile, discus and javelin, respectively.

Mike Graham concluded four years of excellence on the local cinders and established two records for the half-mile in the process. In 1978, Graham broke the school record with a blazing time of 1:59 in the state sectionals. This past season, he broke his own record with a 1:58 clocking. Graham is scheduled to attend Fairleigh Dickinson University where he will continue to develop his talents.

D'Agostino was another member of the squad who performed well for four years. He was captain of the team last year and shared the honors with Graham this year. His tosses in the discus and shot put won a lot of close meets for the Bucs, and his overall ability as a leader is something that will be missed. The triple letterman will be attending Gettysburg College in the fall.

Portusewicz competed for three years in the javelin toss and anywhere else that head coach Meola needed her. She established records in the javelin that will be hard to top. Portusewicz also was the first member of the girls' weight team to advance to the state championships. Indications are that Port will attend Keen College in the fall.

Another bright and pleasant surprise this year was the performance of senior Kenny Duva. Duva scored a total of one point in 1978 but reported for practice at the beginning of the season in excellent shape and turned in some excellent times, excelling in the 440 and 220.

Some big things will be expected from juniors John Vaccaro, Dean

Santulli and Tom Graham. Vaccaro is the team's top quarter-miler and 220 man but went through an injury plagued season in 1979. If healthy next year, Vaccaro could very well rewrite the record books.

Santulli, a miler, half-miler and occasional two-miler, has shown steady improvement each year. If he continues to work hard, he could be the team's top miler and a definite threat for years to come.

Graham did a magnificent job in 1979, doubling in the mile and two-mile. His times for both events decreased substantially this past year, and the junior seems to have come into his own. Look for him to possibly earn state and almost definitely county honors next year. He has a great deal of talent, and some of that talent has yet to be fully displayed.

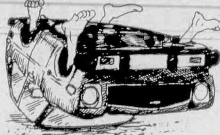

Over the on the girls' side, the talk of the town has been the great performance of sophomore Dana Caruso. Caruso was a miler and two-miler for the team and established metric records at BHS in those events during The Herald News meet last week. She should be even better next season with a year of experience behind her and will be a runner to reckon with in 1980.

With good talent returning next year and a good turnout, the start of the new decade could be the start of a new track era at Belleville High.

defensive abilities. Joe Britting hit .333 (three hits in nine times up) and usually played leftfield. Bill Cooke was the team's rightfielder and an excellent defensive player.

The talent did not end after the starters, however. Back-up catchers were Brian Woods and Anthony Guarnino. The utility infielders who filled in so well were Bill Corbalis, Anthony Torree and Joe Zangari. Zangari also saw action as the designated hitter and sported a .256 batting average. In the outfield were Anthony Pomatore, Rich Gough, Ronnie Young and Mike Forte.

The team statistician — in many ways just as important a figure as any of the players — was John Nigro.

Pharmacy Footnotes

Vincent Cozzarelli
Reg. Ph.

The ability to hear and to see accurately is fundamental to the learning process. To protect the ear and promote accurate hearing, it is important to have a complete medical examination periodically. This should include a hearing test. Consult a physician upon the first indication of discharge from the ear, any tendency to move closer to a speaker or to cup the ear to hear better. Avoid an environment where high, shrill noises or sharp explosions occur. Regular use of ear protectors are advised for prolonged exposure to high decibel noise levels. Hearing loss is generally gradual and not immediately noticed.

FEWER LUNCHES, MORE OVERCROWDING

School to undergo repair

Less lunch periods, more faculty members and probable overcrowding are among a few of the features students who plan to return to Belleville High School can expect during the next school year.

Along with the major addition of the new south wing which will accommodate over 300 students, the school will virtually eliminate the staggered schedules that have been a part of BHS in recent years.

Next year, only four lunch periods will be allotted instead of five with the extra time donated to homeroom for announcements. And in spite of the new addition, the school cafeteria, gym and most shop classes will remain overcrowded.

Students, however, will be able to enjoy a large amount of new equipment as well as a wider selection of courses. Such courses as US History I and US History II will become compulsory in the tenth and eleventh grades rather than in the eleventh and twelfth grades.

A new course, "The Student And The Law", is among the tentative list of additional selections along with a course in "Machine Transcription." The present "Industrial Math" course may also become mandatory for all students taking a shop section next year.

Faculty faces will also change in the upcoming school year as Belleville High welcomes a new band leader, an added guidance counselor and possibly a "media specialist."

The new guidance counselor will be qualified in either vocational or general advising. The media specialist will teach students and faculty alike to use television as an educational tool by utilizing the newly acquired video tape equipment.

Among the new equipment will be a set of electric typewriters that will be installed in the business department.

Look Out, Eyewitness News! — School 4 students (l-r) Theresa Bonfante, Roxanne Carselda, Marc Simone, Billy Benenato and Carlene Hahn recently formulated their own radio show which is broadcasted each month over the public address system. The fourth grade reporters cover topics as famous birthdays, riddles, question and answers, contests and playing hit records from the current top ten list on the station they entitled as WKIDS with the help of teacher Mrs. Gioia Crawford.

Ready For Flight — Belleville High School's new wing will be in full use during the upcoming school year and students can look forward to new lab space and several air conditioned classrooms.

Students tune in to health methods

"Good Health Is Up To Me" was the theme recently promoted by School 9 during the observance of the fourth annual statewide Health Education Day last month.

Proclaimed by Governor Brendan Byrne, Health Education Day focused on the promotion of good health habits through activities and information. Students were encouraged to become more involved in health care and take greater responsibility for their own well being.

Health Education Day activities at School 9 included a visit from an instructor for Essex County Heart Association. Among the topics discussed were high blood pressure, stress, smoking, exercise, diet and nutrition.

In addition, students were made aware of first aid instruction in case of an emergency resulting from fire and smoke inhalation.

The program concluded with students participating in a demonstration showing the proper method needed to help a choking victim or person suffering from a heart attack.

Debelak tops town poet list

Michael Debelak, a student at School 7, recently placed in the top ten position in a poetry contest sponsored by the New Jersey Writers' Conference at the New Jersey Institute of Technology.

His entry, "The Night," was one of the 354 submissions in the contest from all over the state. Debelak's poem will be published as a result in an anthology entitled "The Best Works of Young People."

Several other students from School 7 also became winners in two additional literary contests: the Picture-Storybook contest and the Senior Citizens' Essay Contest. The Picture-Storybook contest was held at the Belleville Public Library during National Book

Week. In the sixth grade category, Tommy Pravata won first prize with his book, "The Alphabet Book of Verbs." Michael Siletti for "The Heroic Maritan," Donna Musmanno for "The Three Little Clouds Plus One" and Marie Fabrizio for "The Lonely Little Tulip."

Junior High School students who were formerly from School 7 were also recognized in this category. Arnold Aquino won first prize with his book entitled "Sol's Luck Has Changed." Second place winners were Claudia Arcaro, "Valentine Land," Kathleen Petracca, "The Chick-napper" and Robert Annunzio, "The Sweetest Dream."

Honorable mention in the seventh grade category went to Steven Smith for "The Mouse Who Loves Cheese," Jack Martin for "The Day Harold Grew Up," and Darren Sneddon for "The Rabbit With Short Ears." Each student was awarded a certificate and a book as a prize.

The Senior Citizens' Essay Contest was won by Danny Ruggiero. He will be presented a savings bond at the Senior Citizens Jamboree at the South Mountain Arena for his entry, "What Senior Citizens Mean To Me."

All students completed their work as part of the language arts program at School 7 under the direction of teacher Mrs. Cathy Chiric. The picture-storybooks were funded by a mini-grant received by Mrs. Chirico last year.

School's new wing ready for take-off

By RICK KIERNAN and SCOTT GRISANTI

With the grand opening of Belleville High School's new additional wing, students for the upcoming school year can look forward to new lab facilities, air conditioning and equipment for the handicapped.

The new addition will hold an average of 375 to 425 students in the 14 new classrooms. It will also feature chemistry, physics and biology labs which enables labs for every class.

The upper floor will basically be used for the school's science department and the lower floor for the mathematical department.

Students will be able to enjoy air conditioning in two of the classrooms which do not have windows.

The new wing will be fully equipped for the handicapped students of the Belleville School System including an elevator and a ramp for easy classroom access between periods.

Bathrooms are also designated specifically for handicapped students so they can be reached from a wheelchair. These facilities will be restricted to use of handicapped students only.

Berkeley gives $100 to business student

By MICHELLE JEANNOTTE

Michele Salvato, BHS senior who resides at 31 Beverly Ct., recently received the 1979 Berkeley School Award in recognition of outstanding achievement in high school business education.

She received a $100 Savings Bond given by the Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club for her efforts at a dinner held last month at the Chandelier Restaurant. However, a special presentation will be included at the upcoming BHS Awards Assembly in June.

Miss Salvato previously received third place honors in Intermediate Shortland in Taylor Business Institute Business Skills Olympics in 1978.

The BHS senior feels it is a great accomplishment and honor. After graduation, Miss Salvato hopes to get a job with a noted business company and also to attend a business school to study airline and travel.

Students find Mother Nature hidden behind careless litter

The grounds at School 7 have recently acquired a newly-scrubbed look which resulted by accident from Louis De Lia's sixth grade science project.

As students initially intended to search for signs of Spring, the project turned into a clean-up session when they discovered how careless people left signs of their litter.

"Mother Nature has endowed us with much beauty and we should take better care of her gifts," student Angela Killeen said during a classroom discussion after the observation.

"We should have more litter baskets strategically placed in our community," Cammy Rispoli added.

The children discussed whether signs should be erected and whether or not people would obey them. "There should be rigid fines if people disobey," Michael Siletti responded.

In conversation about broken glass, Deann DiNardo said, "I play at the school and I don't want anyone to get hurt." Her sentiments were echoed by Ralph Chimento who commented, "I want all the children laughing and playing all sorts of games outdoors."

Students talked about such things as new grass forming under dead grass, the buds almost in full bloom on the cherry blossom trees and the insects getting their homes ready for the long, hot summer.

"Now is the time to plant trees and put in new grass seed," Albert Conover concluded.

School 7, under principal Michael T. Rosamilia, is located at 20 Pas-saic Ave.

Junior and boys' golf tourney will begin June 26 in Newark

The qualifying round for the 32nd annual New Jersey Public Golf Organization Junior and Boys Championship will be played Tuesday, June 26, at the Weequahic Golf Course, Weequahic Park, Newark.

Entries close June 18 and no post entries will be accepted. Starting times will be assigned.

Match play for qualifiers will be held June 27-28. Eight places will be open in the boys' division, ages 12-14, and 16 places in the junior division, ages 15-17.

For information and entry blanks, call 485-3370.

BHS Addition — Board of Education president and newly-elected Public Safety Commissioner Matt Pica (center) takes Mayor Michael Marotti (right) on tour through the new addition of the senior high school along with Tony Lombardi. The new wing was constructed through the cooperation of the Belleville School Board and the Board of Commissioners.

Hats off to contributors

For all those who anxiously awaited and enjoyed the Belleville School page may tip their hats to contributors Maureen Conway, Scott Grisanti, Michelle Jeannotte, Jim Kaye, Pat Kiernan, Chris Neidenberg, Paula Santumo, Nancy Marino and Lisa Pitera of the BHS journalism class under instructor Walt Amjes.

Future Authors — School 7 writers (l-r) Donna Musmanno, Michael Siletti, Maria Fabrizio, Tommy Pravata and Angela Killeen display their winning works in recent literary contests.

No Sign Of Spring — Sixth grade science students (l-r) Thomas Pravata, Luke Siletti, Domenick DiPaolo and Frank Dinverno help clean up the litter near School 7 in order to discover the nature underneath.

Some people have never heard of a CLU

Chartered Life Underwriters rank among the elite of their field. To receive their CLU designation they must successfully complete five years of intensive, college-level studies including life and health insurance, law, pensions, taxation, finance, economics and estate planning.

They are also committed to keeping up with the rapid pace of change affecting their profession. In addition to passing the ten examinations required for the CLU designation—candidates must meet high requirements of moral character and ethical business practices. In short, they are the key counselors on insurance aspects of family and business financial security.

There's a chapter of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters in your area. Get to know them better so that they can better serve your life insurance needs.

Branch Brook Garden manager sees need for a rise in town's rent ceiling

the present management took over in 1972 and that a "10 percent return on rental property with all the risks and headaches involved is no great return on investment."

Since "present management took over Branch Brook Gardens in November 1972," wrote Geltman, "we installed all new roofs, painted the exterior twice, added a parking lot for 40 cars, added costly exterior lighting, maintained uninterrupted heat and hot water in spite of skyrocketing fuel costs and an antiquated heating system and continue to promptly take care of all legitimate service requests of our tenant/residents."

Geltman also said it was management's first request for a hardship increase since the advent of rent control here in 1973. He also noted Branch Brook had had to borrow $128,000 "to pay current operating bills. In addition," he wrote, "we still owe Eastern Oil Company $50,000 for last heating season's fuel bills."

Geltman went on to urge homeowners to back the Branch Brook increase, arguing that were it not for the increase, the apartments would deteriorate and that that would lead to an influx of "undesirable" tenants and a lowering of the apartments' assessed valuation which would place a greater tax burden on homeowners.

The effects of inflation were apparent in the arguments of both sides. Geltman said the average cost increase of running a home was closer to 10 percent a year than 5 percent and added, "If housing costs of the home owner increase by 10 percent per year, then so should the housing costs of the tenant/resident. We also believe the local rent ordinance should be changed, but to permit regular annual rent increases based on the full Consumer Price Index or 10 percent, whichever is less."

Said Branch Brook resident

Helen McAloon, "I think the Rent Leveling Board didn't take into account that we're raising small children and our husbands didn't get a 13 1/2 percent increase in their salaries."

It was Mayor Michael Marotti who suggested the meeting between himself, Commissioner Matthew Pica, two members of the Rent Leveling Board and tenant representatives. Tucker asked the mayor who were the tenants on the board, but he did not reply except to say he would ask commissioners to submit new names for appointment to the body.

BHS graduation set for Tuesday

treasurer LuAnn Graffeo. The commencement program will conclude with "May the Good Lord Bless aAnd Keep You," performed by the high school band, under the direction of Degenshein.

Principal DeCesare complimented the seniors of 1979 saying "they are a very good and cooperative senior class."

"They have certainly proved that they are leaders," he added. DeCesare said he felt the graduation would proceed "nicely" as a "traditional ceremony." When asked if he expected any rowdy behavior, he said, "Last year, the ceremony went well, and this year it should run even better."

This year, more students plan to go directly to work after graduation from high school, according to a student survey conducted by senior counselor Miss Mary Herelick.

Students who planned to work made up 43 percent of the senior class, while 33 percent planned to attend a four-year college.

Students planning to attend vocational or technical schools made up 14 percent of the seniors, while only 4 percent wanted to enter the armed forces. Only 3 percent were undecided.

Of the students in the "undecided" category, the largest group planned to relocate in other parts of the country, with very few being actually undecided or having plans that do not fit into any other category.

This may indicate, according to Dr. Richard Benninger, director of student personnel services, that approximately 98 percent of the graduating seniors plan to have some ties through their families and 99 percent have some plans for the future.

In the event of rain, graduation will be held the following day, Wednesday, June 20.

Just Checking — Commissioner Mary Senatore (left) vouches for the credentials of Belleville Democratic county committee members at the committee's meeting Tuesday night in West Orange. Mrs. Senatore, who heads the local party, was ousted as county vice chairman.

Commissioner Senatore out as Democrat vice chairman

pressed hope the party would unite to elect candidates this November.

The struggle at the county level is between forces headed by Shapiro and those of the pre-charter change era in Essex. Shapiro told The Times/News Tuesday night that a Walther's victory would mark the beginning of "clean" slate of party leaders.

Many expect the struggle between the Shapiro and Gausephol forces to continue. The party machinery controls most of the patronage which in turn helps local leaders produce votes for Democratic candidates.

And without control of the party itself, Shapiro is left to a post that is largely administrative and one tied to legislative decisions made by the Board of Freeholders.

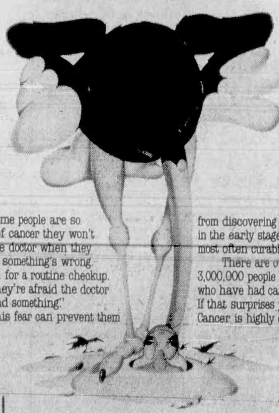

Mrs. Senatore, a year ago was working enthusiastically for Sheriff John Cryan's victory over Shapiro in the county executive race. After Shapiro won, that battle, she participated in a "truce" between the Cryan and Shapiro forces and ended up supporting Gausephol for chairman with herself being seated as party county vice chairman.

Then during the past six months or so, Mrs. Senatore had drifted toward the Shapiro forces and away from Gausephol's traditional party organization. She has even been accused of supporting Cryan's opponent in last week's primary battle, Anthony Carrino. Carrino had the Shapiro camp's support in challenging Cryan's bid to win renomination as the party's candidate for sheriff. Cryan won that battle by a 2-1 margin.

Cancer is often curable.

The fear of cancer is often fatal.

Some people are so afraid of cancer they won't go to the doctor when they suspect something's wrong. Or even for a routine checkup. They're afraid the doctor will "find something". This fear can prevent them from discovering cancer in the early stages when it is most often curable. There are over 3,000,000 people alive today who have had cancer. If that surprises you, it shouldn't. Cancer is highly curable.

Theater offers acting lessons

The Actors Cafe Theatre, in residence at Bloomfield College, Franklin and Fremont Streets in Bloomfield, will hold acting classes 7-9 Wednesday nights June 27 through Aug. 15.

Dr. Barbara Kennedy will be the instructor. Mrs. Kennedy holds a bachelor of arts degree in education from Rutgers, Newark, a master's in theater from Montclair State College, and a doctorate in education from Rutgers, New Brunswick.

Basic acting technique plus scene study and improvisation will be emphasized. The course is geared mainly towards beginning actors or those with some acting experience who wish to sharpen their technique.

Sweet Taste Of Revenge — Caped villian Egbert VanHorn (Robert Diacheysn) has much to fear as Richard Blair (Louis Morano) threatens his life before onlookers (l-r) Anna Alvarado (Rosemary Marnell), Bertha Blair (Jan Meyer), Jack Dalton (Mark Malanga), Eloise Dalton (Samantha Getting) and Mrs. Dalton (Rosina Getting) in a tensity comic scene from the upcoming NLT presentation, "Curse You, Jack Dalton," which will be one half of a one-act doubleheader starting 8 tomorrow night at the theater barn.

Little Theatre presents two comedies tomorrow

As its final offering of the season, Nutley Little Theatre will present a doubleheader of one-act comedies — "Overtones" by Alice Gerstenberg and "Curse You, Jack Dalton" by Wilbur Braun — beginning 8 tomorrow night at the theater barn on Erie Street.

"Overtones," directed by Lee Guest Moore of Nutley, is a light comedy about two allegedly cultured women and their less sophisticated alter-egos, who express the women's true feelings about their situations in life.

Cast members for the play include NHS Spanish teacher Paula Benson of Kearny and her alter-ego, Susan Foote of Nutley; and Mildred Bel Bruno of Clifton and her bold ego, Gail Rog of Wallington.

The second half of the amusing evening features "Curse You, Jack Dalton," a melodrama, complete with a helpless heroine and ruthless villains. It's being directed by Nutleyite Joyce Getting.

The play, which touches all emotions from greed and jealousy to friendship and love, allows a variety of predicaments to creep up in every corner. Cast members include

Robert Diacheysn, Rosina Getting, Samantha Getting, Mark Malanga and Rosemary Marnell, all from Nutley, Louis Morano of Orange and Jan Meyer of Bloomfield.

"Overtones" and "Curse You, Jack Dalton" will be presented tomorrow and Saturday night at 8 and also on June 22, 23, 29 and 30 at the Nutley Little Theatre Barn, 47 Erie Place, off Brookfield Avenue in Nutley. Tickets are $3.50. For more information or reservations, call 667-5492 or 667-5739.

Local singer shines as 'Company' bride

Belleville resident Janice Lynn Nazzola lit up the stage of the CDC Theatre in Cranford where she starred as Amy in the Tony Award-winning musical, "Company."

Billed simply as Janice Lynn, Ms. Nazzola tackled the role of the frantic bride-to-be with verve and vigor in the sparkling Cranford production. She displayed her vocal and comedic talents in the uproarious musical number, "I'm Not Getting Married Today," which was greeted by cheers and laughs from audiences nightly. Her song and dance abilities were further highlighted in the show-stopping "Side by Side" and "Company" numbers.

Though Ms. Nazzola is new to the CDC Company, she has appeared in "West Side Story" in Edison, in "Play It Again, Sam" at MacAteers Dinner Theater, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" in Montclair and other New Jersey theaters during the past season. Ms. Nazzola has also appeared as a performer in supper clubs in New Jersey and New York.

In addition to being a full-time student at Montclair State College, Ms. Nazzola has been resident choreographer for Belleville High School's recent productions of "Mack and Mabel," "Cabaret," "Seesaw," "Charley Brown" and "Pippin."

Sci-fi film showing at library Monday

A classic film, the third in a series, will be shown at the Belleville Public Library 7 p.m. Monday.

Because of the terms under which the films are provided by the East Orange Public Library, the Belleville library is not permitted to name the picture version of the science fiction gem written by H.G. Wells and presented as a radio program in October 1938 which scared a vast audience.

In color, with many photographic special effects, the film will run 85 minutes.

Essex Rec Department to run sports tourneys this summer

The Essex County Parks and Recreation Department will hold several tournaments in a variety of sports July 2 through Aug. 17. Games will be played at sites throughout the county.

To register, call 482-6400, extension 298, and ask for Mr. Willard.

Pushcart Players will open musical

Pushcart Players, a professional repertory theater company for young audiences, is currently in rehearsal with its newest original musical entitled "Play It in the Key of Me."

A gala opening of musical for invited guests will take place tomorrow at Montclair State College's theater, while public performances are scheduled for Wednesdays, July 11, 18 and 25 in Montclair State College's Summerfun Series. The show will then be available to elementary schools and other facilities throughout New Jersey from September through June 1980.

A rainbow of songs, stories and characters in a variety of settings, "Play It In The Key of Me" is a play about behavior — about how different people act out their feelings and thoughts.

The show explores several concepts. The first one is that the way a person acts affects the way others act toward him, the second that a person must take responsibility for his behavior — even on days when things don't go well. Other concepts are that certain roles of behavior must be followed because a "me first" attitude is not in anyone's best interest, and that a person seldom acts in a totally consistent manner because his behavior changes with circumstances.

Pushcart Players, a non-profit theater ensemble, is funded in part by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts in cooperation with the National Endowment for the Arts, by the Florence and John Schumann Foundation and by the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation.
