SOME PLANS ARE DROPPED

New stadium project scaled down in scope

Work on the new Municipal Stadium complex has gotten underway, but the tight town budget has forced plans for the project to be scaled down.

Seasonal Garden and Landscape Service has been working on the complex the past two weeks. The first task of the Spring Valley, N.Y., firm, has been to correct the poor drainage that has often turned the large area behind the high school into a muddy lake in the past. "They're laying down drainpipes and putting down peat moss and cobblestone," reported Mayor Michael V. Marotti who visited the site Tuesday afternoon.

The town received a $117,800 federal Green Acres grant for the project in April, a sum the town was supposed to match to pay for the total cost of the complex. However, bids received by the town for the work were higher than expected, and a decision was made to drop the two new basketball courts and three paddle tennis courts called for in the original plan. Marotti said these may be added in the future.

Though the project has been cut back, the complex should be a dramatic improvement over the existing facility nonetheless. The present track will be reconstructed and enlarged from a quarter-mile to 400 meters. It will have a surface of crushed cinders. Four tennis courts are also called for in the plans.

The existing football and soccer fields will be reconstructed to provide better drainage, and two new baseball diamonds for Little Leaguers will be added. The senior baseball diamond will be pitched at a different angle to cut down on the disruption to residences on Passaic Avenue. In addition, Stadium lighting will be upgraded, an important improvement considering the increasing popularity of night games on both the high school and elementary school level here. The new complex will be available for use to the entire community, however, not just for those residents involved in school activities.

Officials had hoped to have the project started by June but the bidding process held it up for two months. With cooperative weather, the complex might be completed by the end of the year.

Library to undergo a major expansion

By Mike Olohan

Knowledge-seekers, philosophers, poets and all ye Bellevillites who enjoy the pursuit and pleasure of wisdom from reading, take heed: The Public Library will soon be expanding its building size and increasing its book supply.

Belleville Library Director

Gerald Hickey says the town has already begun advertising for bids to add 4,250 additional square feet of space to the front of the library — a project that library trustees and town commissioners hope won't cost more than $250,000.

Back in 1968, library trustees realized that more space was needed to accommodate a growing town and its library needs, but not until recently were library directors able to obtain supplemental money from commissioners to finance the addition.

The library is contributing $125,000 to help pay construction costs, while the town is picking up the extra $125,000 tab. Hickey said to maintain the library's Romanesque architecture the addition will be built to conform to the original building.

"My predecessor and I both feel that there is a need for expansion," said Hickey. "The library is only about one-third the size of what normal library standards demand."

Hickey emphasized that he hopes the library's fiction collection can be enlarged to include about 100,000 books, although he realizes the goal may not be attainable. "It's all relative to what else happens," he said, adding he thinks groundbreaking for the addition will take place in October.

"This addition will relieve the pressure on the existing building," Hickey said. "Public Library" on page 15.

Plan Board decision due on Wendy's

The Planning Board may decide next Thursday night whether to permit construction of a controversial Wendy's Restaurant on Franklin Avenue.

Planners meet 7:30 p.m. at Town Hall to discuss the application of property owner Phil Fucetola of North Arlington for a Wendy's and Fabric Emporium on the site of the old A&P Shopping Store, destroyed in January by fire.

At issue is a "gentleman's agreement" made between Fucetola and Chandelier owner Tom Apicelli three years ago under which Chandelier patrons are allowed to use the A&P lot for parking. Please see "Wendy's" on page 15.

This week, an eyeful

To say that Joe Porcello has a green thumb would be something of an understatement. The young Belleville resident is not just good with plants — he has created a small, lush oasis in his backyard.

Porcello, who has lived with his parents Joe and Lucille at 56 Frederick St. the last eight years, is the master of a greenhouse containing 300 plants and of an adjacent man-made garden in which he is raising bonsai (miniaturized) trees. The vegetation is in striking contrast to the mostly concrete and brick neighborhood in which it stands.

"A got interested in this when I was about 6," said

Porcello, who entered his junior year at Belleville High School this week. "My father made a small box and gave me some seeds." Thus began the boy's fascination with growing things. His father continues to help him with his hobby.

Porcello bought his new greenhouse in April. It replaced a smaller one he had used previously. It is in operation year-round. Two electric heaters are used to keep plants at the right temperature in the winter.

The latest addition to the greenhouse is a small pool that contains two goldfish, two tadpoles and two newts. The last creatures are small salamanders.

The pool was created with a plastic lining held to the edge of a hole by stones. The pool is lined with cattleya orchids, earth stars and rabbit's foot fern.

Porcello speaks knowledgeably about his subject and in fact has lectured about plants a number of times. He has given classes on plants at the Belleville Public Library on Washington Avenue and from time to time has appeared before School 4 second-graders to show them his latest botanical works. His greenhouse and garden show what can be done in Belleville neighborhoods with a little interest and ingenuity.

Garden Spot — Joe Porcello of 56 Frederick St. stands beside the small pool he created in the greenhouse in his backyard. The pool contains goldfish, tadpoles and newts, the greenhouse about 300 plants.

Block offering tax prep classes

H & R Block offices reopen 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays from January through April, and the tax preparation firm has need for additional personnel.

Block is offering a course designed to teach applicants how to prepare tax returns for others, with job interviews available to top graduates. Students need have no prior tax-preparing experience. A $90 fee covers textbooks, reference materials, supplies, registration and tuition.

Classes, offered mornings and evenings, begin Monday. The three-hour classes meet twice a week for 13-and-a-half weeks, ending Dec. 7. The curriculum covers such topics as filing requirements, itemizing deductions, income averaging, investment credit, business returns and rents and royalties. For more information, call 235-1000.

NAME CLARA MAASS PRESIDENT

U.S. hospital group elects Oberg regent

Albin H. Oberg, president of Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, has been elected the Council of Regents of the American College of Hospital Administrators (ACHA).

The ACHA is a Chicago-based professional society of chief executives and their administrative staffs in the leading hospitals and health care facilities and agencies in the United States and Canada.

Installation ceremonies for Oberg were held Aug. 27 at the Hyatt Regency Chicago where the association held its 45th annual meeting concurrently with the American Hospital Association's annual convention.

As regent, Oberg will represent the members in New Jersey for a three-year term ending in 1982. Members of the council — the legislative body of the ACHA — are elected by the affiliates in their state or province and are responsible for guiding the ACHA's programs and services leading to better patient care through effective administration.

A 30-year veteran of the field, Oberg earned a master's degree in hospital administration from Northwestern University and a doctorate from Upsala College. He has been associated with Clara Maass since 1952, serving as president since 1975.

Besides being actively involved in the ACHA, Oberg is a member of the American Protestant Hospital Association, the Lutheran Hospital Association Board of Trustees, Middle Atlantic Health Congress Board of Trustees, the American Public Health Association and the New Jersey Hospital Association of which he was president in 1969. He has also authored numerous articles in health care journals.

Police charge man with uncle's killing

An 18-year-old Newark man was arraigned yesterday in Municipal Court on a charge of murdering his uncle.

Kenneth R. Kish of Agnes Street died Friday at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. He had been in a coma 14 days after being hit in the head with a baseball bat during a family dispute here Aug. 17.

Police said Kish told them he had been injured after falling off a chair and denied that anyone had hit him. His two brothers, one 19 and the other 17, also denied there had been a fight. Det. Michael Petrillo arrested them along with the murder suspect for concealing a crime.

Kish lapsed into a coma four hours after the visit by police about midnight Aug. 17. The murder suspect had at first been charged with atrocious assault and confined to jail in Newark. The charge was upgraded after Kish's death Friday morning.

Kish is survived by his father, James; a grandfather, Lester E. Van Nest, seven sisters and five brothers.

Arrangements were made by the S.W. Brown and Son Funeral Home, Nutley, where a service was held Tuesday afternoon. Interment was in Hollywood Memorial Park, Union.

Bellevillite promoted at Wallace & Tiernan

William Schroeder

The Wallace & Tiernan Division of Pennwalt Corporation has announced the promotion of William Schroeder to plant supervisor at its facilities here in Belleville.

Schroeder joined Wallace & Tiernan in 1967. He has worked in the company's machine shop ever since. In his new position, he is responsible for the operation of the milling, lathe and general machines department.

Married to the former Joyce Schwitz, he and his wife live here with their four children, William, George, Fred and Dawn.

Wallace & Tiernan is a world leader in the manufacture of equipment for metering and controlling gases, liquids and solids, as well as in the manufacture of instrumentation for water and pollution control systems.

David

There are different significances attached to the name David. Originally, the name was a biblical reference — David and Goliath. More recently, the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower named his retreat Camp David where many historical events have taken place, and today, we are confronted with Hurricane David.

This last weekend we lived through Hurricane David in Florida. David left a trail of death and destruction through the Caribbean. At this writing, it skirted the south Florida ocean front, banged into mid-Florida ocean front, and the killer storm whose winds reached 150 miles per hour is now heading north with storm warnings as far up the coastline as North Carolina.

On Sept. 4, David was 11 days old and still aging. By the time this newspaper reaches the hands of its readers, it may be that a hurricane warning may be sounded for the New York/New Jersey area.

"We survived" are the catch words that are being exchanged by the south Floridians. Unless you are physically in the middle of the problem area, the survival comment packs little meaning. We were there. We were there when the evacuation notices were given for ocean-front prop-ple to move inland. And we were among those who moved inward and upward 250 miles to be beyond the arms of David. Thirty-six hours later we made it back to the Fort Lauderdale sunshine.

Dodging a hurricane is no fun. Making preparations to secure your home from the onslaught of a hurricane is no fun. A hurricane is to be dealt with seriously — and indeed — the people with whom we came in contact found no time for comedy — David was a most serious fellow.

Although the Miami/Fort Lauderdale area was given a soggy kiss by Hurricane David, Hurricane Frederick, who is making his presence known in the southeast Atlantic, may decide to come ashore and do what David failed to do.

For the first time during the past 15 years; this weekend saw the real menace of potential hurricane damage.

Somebody up there was listening. Many prayers were answered. Thank God.

Gasohol not the easy way out of the energy crunch

By David S. Moore

Lately the media has been full of stories about "gasohol," the mixture of alcohol (10%) and gasoline (90%) which can power cars. Even a person who knows better can be swept away by pie-in-the-sky promises of easy solutions to terrible problems.

It's human nature to mentally veer toward a happy answer to a problem. But it's not good sense. Those lines of cars clamoring for gasoline represent the real world we're stuck with, and talk of gasohol is so far from being an instant realistic solution that it's pitiful.

Yes, any one of several kinds of alcohol can be mixed with gasoline, and can even fully substitute for it. But we should all bear in mind that, at present, it takes more energy to make a gallon of alcohol than it will produce.

If that doesn't sober you up, think about the number of acres necessary to grow the corn, sugar or whatever from which the alcohol would be made. The country isn't big enough, literally, to grow raw material far enough alcohol to replace all the gasoline being guzzled by American vehicles. Not if we intended to grow food and fiber also.

Now that we've established those points, I can safely say that all is not lost. We've got an awful lot of coal, from which liquid fuel can be made.

And, despite what I've just said, alcohol remains a viable way out of our petroleum shortages. At least partially, and eventually. It's just that a lot of research must be done, and a lot of sensible decisions must be made. Now that the crunch is arriving, the research will find plenty of support.

For an example of a sensible decision, let's try out this one: New Jersey and other states are faced with the necessity to end ocean dumping of sewage sludge. Ocean dumping has been a handy way of getting rid of stuff we can't stand sharing land space with. But the oceans can't take much more of that abuse, so we're stuck with finding a new disposal mode.

It happens that alcohol can be produced from sewage sludge.

If you travel through the Midwest you will see numerous giant "free yards," where cattle are kept in vast numbers for feeding and fattening prior to conversion to steaks and hamburgers. It's said that an average big feed lot produces sewage equal to a city of 100,000 population.

Right now the problem of safe disposal of all that animal waste is a real environmental headache. But that waste also can be used to make alcohol.

Human and animal wastes also can produce methane, the natural gas which boils our morning coffee. Methane can run a car too.

Really clever farmers can make alcohol from corn, feed the residue to cattle and hogs, make methane from the hog and cattle waste, and use the residue to put back on the corn fields for fertilizer. We have the technology to do that. It's recycling at its best.

Sometimes you can solve one problem and accidentally find the answer to another. Provided somebody gets busy.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

As the shades of evening slowly creep an ever earlier few minutes each succeeding day to cast a mantle of darkness on the rays of the setting sun in the western sky, we are brought to the realization that summer is waning and we must gird for the rigors of fall and winter with the foreboding prospect of a dollar a gallon for heating oil to warm our homes.

The reassuring promises of officialdom, that adequate supplies of number two heating oil will be available in this area offer little in the way of encouragement as to how most of us can be expected to cope with the increased cost of this scarce energy. Especially is this a matter of great concern for retired people trying to get by on fixed incomes.

The senior citizen groups are disastressed by Governor Byrne's tampering with the original Life Insurance Bill which was designed to offer seniors relief in meeting their increased utility bills. The emasculated, watered-down measure he guided through the legislature with the aid of his obsequious Democratic party solons offers only a yearly credit of $100.

The funds to sustain this program are obtained from the state taxing of Atlantic City casinos and are considerable with Governor Byrne attempting to have them augmented further by increasing the present 8 percent tax to 14 percent.

Unfortunately, many seniors may be overlooked or excluded from even this small utility help, since it will be tied in with the state Pharmaceutical Assistance to the Aged (PAA) Program which enabled qualifying senior citizens to purchase prescription drugs for $2 with the state making up the difference.

Only seniors enrolled in the PAA Program will get the utility credit since the names are taken from the computer files of approved PAA participants. To qualify, income limits are $9,000 for an individual and $12,000 for a couple. Seniors who have not enrolled in the PAA Program because they are in privately operated programs are advised to register anyway to get the utility credits in October. The names in the "computer" will be sent to their utility suppliers who will deduct the sum from their bills until the $100 credit is used up.

Applications may be obtained at drug stores, filled out and sent to the state for approval, which presumably entails checking income tax returns of those who apply. We are not familiar with what constitutes total income under the prescribed limits of eligibility, but we have been informed by some seniors who are enrolled that all income is included, even Social Security payments, pensions and dividends or interest. All of which knocks out of the box some of the retired who had saluted away a few bucks for that rainy day. Seems as if today you have to be either well heeled or in the poverty group to get by. The middle income group pays the freight and get no goodies.

Now, with vacations over and our purses thin and the kiddies getting fitted out for school or college, it begins to look like Sept. 11 might fever for most of us this week will be limited to TV's Miss America Beauty Pageant at Atlantic City and Bert Parks' "There she is."

The outlook for fall and winter appears rather bleak and cold. Polls show people preferring wage and price controls to halt inflation which is clobbering all of us. Carter wouldn't heed AFL-CIO President George Meany's advice calling for same. Wouldn't it be wiser for Carter to respond to the expressed will of the people? If he continues to ignore the will of the voters, he can expect a change of address early in 1981 and go back to planting peanuts, an occupation to which he might be better suited.

The slowed local political pace can be expected to pick up in September when the Board of Commissioners gets back into swing of two monthly meetings and after Mayor Martori's annual picnic Sunday, Sept. 16, at the Old Cider Mill Grove, Vauxhall Road, Union, an affair staged by the Michael V. Martori Civic Association. This is always an eye-opener of coming events in local and county political circles. The "who's who" of political luminaries never miss this big politico-social fall classic. Mayor Mike's friends are legion. Expect a big crowd.

Tenants should share costs of heating fuel

To the Editor:

The August 17, 1979, edition of the Kiplinger Washington letter states that a severe winter could cause supplies of heating fuel to be barely adequate in most parts of the country. We know that here in the east the problem could be a lot more severe.

This is where we are if our suppliers will agree to ship us the needed fuel. But why should they? We still owe them $25,000.00 unpaid from the last heating season and under present conditions, we will not be able to pay the cost of fuel for the next heating season.

On October 5, 1978 fuel oil cost $4.01 per gallon.

On April 20, 1979 fuel oil cost $3.56 per gallon.

On August 20, 1979 fuel oil cost $3.70 per gallon.

On November 1, 1979 fuel oil cost is now estimated to be $9.90 per gallon.

When the town of Belleville's Rent Leveling Board granted us a hardship rent increase, (February 8, 1979) the price of fuel oil averaged $4.00 per gallon for the year 1978 which was the year for the hardship appeal. The tenants filed suit in Superior Court to overturn the ruling of the board. The court determined that the Rent Board's ruling was correct and we were entitled to the increase. The tenants now propose to appeal the court's decision.

On this basis it will probably be 1980 before the matter is resolved in the Appellate Division of our court system and of course if the tenants again lose, they could try to appeal to the Supreme Court of the state of New Jersey. This could take years before being resolved.

Even with the hardship increase, rental income from Branch Brook Gardens is inadequate to pay for fuel oil that will cost twice as much as the hardship increase accommodates. We simply do not have the funds to purchase fuel oil at current prices. In the meantime, no money means no fuel, cold apartments, Health Department violations, frozen pipes, deteriorating housing conditions, and quickly the creation of a stum, where good housing now exists. Relief is not only needed for Branch Brook Gardens, but for all multi-unit residential property in Belleville.

I urgently submit the enclosed "Ordinance Concerning the Fuel Cost Emergency" for adoption by the commissioners at an emergency meeting to take effect immediately. The enclosed ordinance is fair, unambiguous, and the only viable alternative to the frightful conditions which will develop if prompt action is not taken. The prompt positive action of the commissioners is urgently requested.

Very truly yours,
Samuel Geltman

Senior Notes

By George Chenoweth

Senior Citizens Day is set for Sept. 13 at the New Jersey State Fair in Trenton. A large crowd of seniors is expected. It will also be Governor's Day and Governor Byrne and other dignitaries will be present to meet and greet our seniors. The Belleville Senior Citizens Club hope to send a busload of members to Trenton on that day. Tickets for seniors may be obtained by writing to the Committee for Senior Citizens, New Jersey State Fair, P.O. Box 8174, Trenton, N.J. 08650 or phone 609-587-6300.

The Essex County Office on Aging informs us that a series of public hearings will be held for the planning and development of senior services in Essex County. This is an area plan to determine amounts of financing for available services and methods of distributing funds. The priority needs and budget allocation for 1980 will be worked out from testimony offered at the public hearings. Those seniors wishing to offer testimony should contact Robert Misurell, acting director, Office on Aging, 520 Belleville Ave., Belleville, N.J. 07109. The hearing for our community will take place at the Bloomfield Civic Center, Broad Street, Bloomfield Sept. 24 beginning 10 a.m.

The Essex County Council of Senior Citizens Clubs will have its regular meeting at the Bloomfield Civic Center 9:30 a.m. Sept. 17. On or about 10 a.m., Robert Misurell will be sworn in as director of the Essex County Office on Aging by County Executive Peter Shapiro. Delegates and friends are invited to attend.

The Belleville Senior Citizens Club announces a change in its bingo date from Wednesday to Thursday of each week at the Recreation Center. This change was necessitated by a request from the members. The Tuesday after the meeting bingo will continue as usual.

Under the present New Jersey Senior Citizens Property Tax Program, elderly and handicapped homeowners with an annual income under $5,000, qualify for a $160 property tax exemption. State Assemblymen Newman and Doyle (Ocean) have introduced legislation that proposes a referendum, which if approved, would extend the income eligibility of homeowners who are retired or handicapped to $10,000 and increase the exemption to $200.

Mrs. Keith M. Bennett - nee Doreen Capriglione

Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Ruesch - nee Bonnie Jean Ingram

Mrs. Michael Maglio Jr. - nee Patricia Ann Santali

Doreen T. Capriglione bride of Keith Bennett

Miss Doreen T. Capriglione, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Capriglione of Nutley, was married May 27 to Keith M. Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Marvin Bennett of Clemson, S.C. The Rev. Pasemelli performed the ceremony at Holy Family Church.

The couple is living in Belleville after honeymooning in Bermuda.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a wedding gown of white chiffon, overlaid with Alencon lace on long sleeves, bodice and train. The lace was accented with small seed pearls. A cathedral veil fell from a wide brimmed chignon and lace hat and she carried a white orchid surrounded by white roses and stephanotis arranged in an old fashion bouquet.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Robert Perrotta. Bridesmaids were Miss Cynthia Capobianco, Miss Joanne Cirigliano and Miss Darlene Cocchi, all of Nutley. Flower girl was Cara Lynn Perrotta, niece of the bride.

Russell Gardner of Columbia, Mo., was best man. Ushers were Robert Perrotta of Nutley, and Adron Perry and Robert Hofess, both of Columbia. Ringbearer was Mark Smith of Millburn.

Mrs. Bennett, a graduate of Fairleigh Dickinson University, is an accountant with Touche Ross and Company, Newark, as is her husband, an alumnus of the University of Missouri.

Belleville Hadassah readies breakfast for September 16

The Belleville-Nutley Chapter of Hadassah will hold an Israeli breakfast meeting Sunday, Sept. 16 at 10 a.m. in the home of Hannah Gordon.

Rosette Halpern, program vice president, will introduce the second episode of the soap opera, "Continuing Saga of Natalia Belle-Yevnaya's Family."

Women interested in membership information are asked to contact Billie Schwartz, membership vice president, at 667-3971.

Art exhibit by Mrs. Nina Lalin featured at Belleville Library

An exhibit of the oils and watercolors of Mrs. Nina Lalin, Wayne artist, are on exhibit at the Belleville Public Library through the month of September.

exhibit is her second at the Belleville Library.

Her professional training includes studies as an Art Major at Hofstra University, the Art Students League in New York, the Montclair Art Museum and private lessons with Jacques Macorac of Wycoff.

In addition, Mrs. Lalin has taught arts and crafts classes at the Belleville Public Library.

Also on exhibit are the arts and crafts of the Belleville Recreation Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Healey observe golden anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Healey of 166 Belleville Ave. celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Aug. 17 at a family dinner in the Carriage House, Teaneck.

Mr. Healey is retired after 37 years as a bus driver for Transport of New Jersey. Mrs. Healey was employed by Hahne and Company, Newark.

The couple has four children, a son in Barrington, Ill., Mrs. Dolores Sacco of East Rutherford, Thomas of Nutley and the late Charles, and 13 grandchildren.

Wedding vows were exchanged in Brookdale Baptist Church, Bloomfield, July 28 by Miss Bonnie Jean Ingram and Harold H. Ruesch. The Rev. Claude Kummerer officiated at the ceremony which was followed by a reception in Fellowship Hall.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ingram of Upper Montclair. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ruesch of Nutley.

Following a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va., the couple will live in Belleville.

Miss Darlene Ingram, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Attendants were Mrs. Sharon Killian, sister of the bride, Miss Lori Ruesch, sister of the groom and Miss Deborah Dixon. Nieces of the bride, Michele and Carrie Killian, were junior bridesmaid and flower girl respectively.

Gerard De Matteo served as best man. Gary Ruesch, David Ruesch and John R. Albanese Jr. were groomsmen.

Maglio-Santali wedding at St. Anthony's Church

Miss Patricia Ann Santali, daughter of Mrs. Frances Santali of Belleville and the late Mr. Anthony Santali, was married July 8 to Michael Anthony Maglio Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Anthony Maglio Sr. of Belleville.

The Rev. John Colabelli performed the ceremony at St. Anthony's Church with a reception following at Westmont Country Club, West Paterson.

Escorted by her brother, Anthony Santali, the bride wore a gown fashioned with long fitted sleeves, high neckline and chapel train, all accented with Alencon lace.

A matching lace Juliet cap held her chapel veil trimmed with lace appliques and she carried roses, carnations and babies breath.

Miss Mary Shuhala of Newark was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included the bride's niece, Lisa Santoli, Joan Murray of Budd Lake, Beverly Carino of Belleville and Diana Gonnella of Cedar Grove.

They were attired in seafarm blouson gowns with split sleeves and accented pleated skirts and wore matching picture hats. The honor atendant carried pastel colored roses, and carnations while the others carried carnations.

Kenneth Murray of Budd Lake was best man. Ushers included Charles Kraemer of Heidelberg, Germany, nephew of the groom, Frank Simini of Morris Plains, Angelo Corino of Belleville and Lawrence Gonnella of Cedar Grove.

Mrs. Santali chose a long sleeved pink Qiana gown and wore a corsage of pink orchids while the groom's mother, in a blue chiffon gown, had a blue orchid corsage.

Mrs. Maglio, an alumna of Newark State College, is a teacher in School 8, Belleville.

Mr. Maglio, a graduate of Newark College of Engineering, is an engineer with Public Service Electric and Gas Company.

The couple have made their home in West Milford.

Belleville leader in cop vest drive

Many area towns continue to follow Belleville's lead in starting drives to supply their police officers with bulletproof vests.

Local citizen groups have launched efforts in Elmwood Park, Englewood, Westfield, Kearny, Orange, Clifton, Perth Amboy and Wall Township.

Residents Frank Stanneck, Vito Sylvestro and Richard Melham formed the Concerned Citizens of Belleville several months ago for the purpose of equipping the town's 74 policemen with the vests which cost $185 apiece. To date over 35 have been ordered. The first vests arrived just recently and several officers are already wearing them.

Contributions to the local effort have been received this past week from Frankie Corsi, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Apoldo, Franklyn Real Estate, Dr. William Greifinger, McGraw-Edison Company, Belleville-Nutley Glass Company, Nicholas Amato, Mr. and Mrs. W. Sutam, Harry Anderson Inc., Louis Gan, Bigelow Motors, Supreme Olds, the Lupo family, S.T. Cullen and Earl A. Haight. Also received

A disappointment at Giants Stadium

Johnny Mathis and Denise Williams sang a hit song in 1978 entitled, "Too Much, Too Little, Too Late." The lyrics to the song started with the words, "yes it's over." So goes the story of the 1979 Cosmos season.

For the first time in three years, the Cosmos failed to win the Soccer Bowl, the NASL's most coveted prize. The Wizards of the Meadows bowed out to a very good Vancouver team in the conference finals. The Whitecaps are hosts to the Tampa Bay Rowdies for Soccer Bowl '79 at Giants Stadium on Saturday.

For the Cosmos, the season turned out to be a bit of a disappointment. The team went through the year with a 24-6 record and accumulated 216 points, the most in the history of the North American Soccer League. They thrilled the fans with some great games, such as the exhibition with Argentina. You might remember that the Argentinians were the World Cup champions of 1978 and the Cosmos played them on an even note before losing on a late goal 1-0.

The Cosmos routed the Minnesota Kicks 4-1 on the Giant Stadium turf in a game that wasn't as close as the score indicated. What was so impressive about the win was the fact that Minnesota had the best record in the league at the time.

And of course there were some great individual efforts that led to the almost perfect season. Giorgio Chinaglia had a super year and led the Cosmos in all scoring departments. Late in the season, he suffered a groin injury and consequently lost out on his second straight scoring title. Franz Beckenbauer, the Cosmos' great midfielder, missed two months of the season with a bad knee, and when he returned, the Cosmos broke loose and ran away with the division title.

Then there was a guy named Ricky Davis, a young American who looks to be a bright spot in the future of the Cosmos. He started every league game but one; he scored six goals and thrilled the fans with some great defensive plays. Davis' strong play will be a mark of some great Cosmos' teams in the future.

Johann Neeskens joined the team midway through the season and by season's end was voted the Schaeffer Circle MVP. He took part in the playoffs with a separated shoulder, sprained wrist and badly bruised groin. He outjumped players who were taller and outlasted his own teammates at times. The steady play of Carlos Alberto will not be forgotten. Unfortunately, he was suspended and missed the Vancouver game that the Cosmos eventually lost.

Despite all the bright moments, there were some bleak ones for the Cosmos as well. Werner Roth, the team captain, missed the entire season with knee damage. The Cosmos were unsettled in the goalkeeper position until Hubert Birkenmeier took over the post late in the season. They started the year with Erol Yasin, switched to Jack Brand after eight games, then went to David Bricic for five games, switched to Yasin for one and then finally to Birkenmeier. The team traded away Brand to Tulsa, his fiery defender Bobby Smith to San Diego and Garry Ayre to Seattle.

Controversy followed them all over the league. Giorgio Chinaglia had a fight with a couple of workmen at Giants Stadium that eventually turned into a brawl that involved several players. There was the famous brawl with Vancouver that saw two players from each team, Chinaglia included, ejected along with a couple of fans arrested for trying to attack the beloved officials.

Then there is the story of Marinho, the Brazilian the Cosmos acquired before the start of the season. Not too many things seemed to satisfy him. He didn't want to play the position he was designated for, he missed practices without an excuse and missed a game against Tampa Bay that the Cosmos lost. When he did play, he shot the ball from as far out as 40 yards and seemed more interested in knowing the girls in the stands.

The team fired Eddie Firmani, the winningest coach in the NASL, after 11 games (the Cosmos had won nine of them), and assistant coach Ray Klivceka and interim director Julio Mazzei took over the reins.

The officiating was to say the least, horrendous. Against Vancouver in the first round of the playoffs, both Vancouver goals were clearly offside, but the officials failed to realize that. After the game, Alberto got into a squabble with the officials and allegedly spat in one's eye. In the return match, the Whitecaps, the officials made some unbelievably bad calls against the Cosmos.

And to top off all the controversy, there were the great Cosmos fans. You have to give them credit for one thing, they did show up for the games. But about all they did was boo Chinaglia, and boo the team anytime it made a mistake. The fans are the Peles of stupidity. In other words, they are the best at what they do.

But through it all, the team did finish with the finest record in the league. And it took a shootout and four hours of grueling soccer before Vancouver ousted the defending champs last Saturday at Giants Stadium. Next year we'll see Chinaglia, Beckenbauer, Alberto, Neeskens, Davis, Birkenmeier and, with any kind of luck, we won't see Marinho or the absurd people in the stands called the fans. There are plenty of true soccer fans who can lend their support to the Cosmos without being so critical. To the Cosmos, thanks, you were great. To the fans, well I'd rather not say.

Congratulations goes out to Joe Papisidero, the new head basketball coach at Belleville High School. Joe is a 1970 grad of BHS and takes over a program that is still in the first stages of development. He succeeds Dan Grasso, who resigned at the end of last season and who was a super coach despite a subpar win-loss record. Papisidero comes from a winning team. Last year, he was the assistant coach at Wood Ridge High School, whose basketball squad was the Group I champ. Let's hope he can rub some of that magic off on some of our heroes.

Stronger gridgers shaping up for '79

By Mike Lamberti

The Belleville High School football team, now in its second week of training, is slowly starting to get into good form, according to head coach

John Senesky. "We had our first session with pads last Saturday, and the guys are starting to get used to hitting with them."

According to the coach, the players are learning two positions, one on offense and one on defense. "We're still in the learning stages and are trying to put in as much time as we can before the start of the season," said Senesky. "We haven't had any heavy scrimmages as yet either."

Senesky figures to use the same defense he went with last year but with a bit more variety. "We are trying to flip flop the defense a bit by assigning each member of the defense a different task," he said. "For instance, we'll have two tackles, but each man will have a totally different job to do."

This is Senesky's third year at the head coaching helm, and he held a team decathlon last week as he has every year. The purpose of the decathlon was to test the players' strength in different job areas.

The decathlon was divided into 10 parts. The 10 events were the mile run, half-mile run, quarter-mile run, parallel bars, pull ups, rope jumps, sit ups, obstacle course, push ups and power index. They were all done in a time period of just three hours. "It was a very strenuous event," said the coach.

The power index is a weightlifting event that tests the team's power according to the athletes' individual power indexes. Nine players scored 5.0 or better. Sophomores John Bucciarelli, Jeff Walsh and Frank Buzinfi all broke the 5.0 mark along with juniors Mike Dalla Riva and Jim Tucci. The seniors who broke the mark were Lenny Mendola, Mike Vitiello and Carl Garafalo. Mendola registered a 5.8 and Vitiello had a 5.4. Garafalo outdid everyone with a power index of 6.2. He cleaned 240 pounds, was 225 pounds in the military press, 430 pounds in the squat and benched pressed 305 pounds.

All told, there were four athletes who broke the 1,000 point mark for the decathlon. Mendola, for the third year in a row, was the high scorer with a 1,070 out of 1,100 points. Xavier Gonzalez, a junior, scored a 1,020. Frank Swain had a 1,015 and John Bucciarelli, only a sophomore, scored a 1,005.

Senesky is quick to point out that there is still a lot of work to do. "We lost eight starters on defense to graduation, and we have a lot of guys eager to take the spot. On offense, we lost Angelo Santinelli, a fine center, and it will be tough to replace him."

"I'm looking forward to the season," concluded the coach. "Our power index this year is a bit higher than last year, but we have a lot of work to do with our plays. However, the talent is there, especially with our sophomores and the seniors who have a lot of experience."

LONG BOMBS: The team has two scrimmages scheduled. The Bucs host Ridgewood 10 a.m. this Saturday morning in Clearman Field. This coming Wednesday they travel to Scotch Plains and next Saturday will host Columbia in a game situation scrimmage.

Frank Stellatella; BHS football star

A Mass was offered Saturday morning in Our Lady of the Lake Church, Verona, for Frank R. Stellatella, 62, who died last Wednesday in Mountside Hospital, Glen Ridge.

Mr. Stellatella was an outstanding football player at Belleville High School in the early 1930s. He earned all-state honors as a guard, graduating in 1935. He went on to attend Lafayette College, Lafayette, Pa., on an academic and athletic scholarship and was named to the All-American football team in 1939.

Mr. Stellatella began his coaching career as an assistant football coach at Montclair High School. In 1943, he received a bachelor of arts degree in business administration from New York University. He went on to teach six years in Smyrna, Del., where he was also head football coach at the high school for four years.

In 1956, Mr. Stellatella turned down a pro football coaching offer to teach and coach at Bloomfield High School. There he was an industrial arts teacher, head wrestling coach for a time and assistant football coach. "He was a great guy, a super person," said Belleville High School Athletic Director Jim Silvestri who coached against Stellatella. "He was a great friend and a great competitor."

Mr. Stellatella was a member of the Fifth Quarter Club of Bloomfield and the Bloomfield Educational Association.

Born in Nutley, Mr. Stellatella lived in Nutley and Belleville before moving to Cedar Grove 21 years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Lucy; two brothers, Cosmo of Lyndhurst and Sam Jr. of Toms River, and four sisters, Mrs. Jessie Grande of Nutley, Mrs. Marie Wiener of Florida, Mrs. Anna DeFranza of Belleville and Mrs. Honey Lou Giordano of Nutley.

Arrangements were made by the Berardinelli Forest Hill Memorial, Newark, with the funeral out of the Cedar Grove Memorial Funeral Home, Cedar Grove. Interment was in Gate of Heaven Cemetery, Hanover.

Rope Run — Belleville High gridgers work out last week at Clearman field. Coach John Senesky reports that his players were somewhat stronger than last season in decathlon performances this past week. The first Buc scrimmage is coming up.

Cobras soccer team holding tryouts at 6

By Fred Lardaro

The Belleville Soccer Association has announced that tryouts for its 1979-80 Cobra soccer team will be held on the Municipal Stadium baseball field at 6 tonight. Boys 10-13 are eligible.

The Cobras are the association's entry in the Northern County Soccer League. Coached by Sam MacArthur, the team will be looking to improve on its 4-7-1 record of 1978-79.

MacArthur welcomes freshmen and recreation ballplayers to try out and emphasizes that the "county league offers an outstanding opportunity for players to perform to their potential as league games are governed by professional rules and regulations."

The Cobras will square off against all-star teams from other towns at home and on the road. The competition is always fierce and the experience immeasurable.

Vinnie Casale joins BHS football staff

The Buccanear football team continued to improve on its overall program by hiring Vinnie Casale to its coaching staff for the coming season.

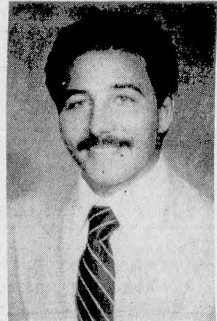

Casale, a 1975 graduate of Belleville High School, graduated from Seton Hall this past spring with a degree in secondary education. He played under head coach John Senesky when Senesky coached the freshman team and played three years on the varsity level.

Casale is a welcome addition to our staff," said Senesky. "He has a lot of enthusiasm and loves to work with the kids. He is also very easy for the players to relate to."

Casale played center for Seton Hall University but suffered a rather serious back injury that curtailed any future career in football. However, according to Senesky, "He's put all of his efforts into working with the team now."

Casale, 95 Passaic Ave., has been coach of the very successful Belleville

Bronco football team and last year was an assistant coach to Frank Verducci at Barringer High School. — Mike Lamberti

Soccer, football applications available at Recreation House

Applications are available for those youngsters who wish to play recreation football and soccer. The forms are at the Recreation House, 407 Joralemon St., and may be obtained 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. Applications are also available in all public and private schools.

To play football, boys must be at least 10 on Sept. 1, 1979, and no more than 14 after May 1, 1979. The minimum weight is 70 pounds, the maximum 145.

The Recreation Department hopes to have two football leagues this season if there is a large turnout. Boys will play with others their own weight and age, and all boys will get to play in every game if they attend practice regularly. All practices are adult supervised. Night games and clinics with the Belleville High varsity football team are planned.

Applications must be brought to the Rec House by each boy 10 a.m. this Saturday at which time weigh-ins will be held. Teams will be made up Wednesday, Sept. 12. Those who played last year must fill out forms again.

To be eligible for recreation soccer, boys and girls must be at least 8 on Sept. 9, 1979, and no more than 14 on Sept. 1, 1979. Players will be divided into three leagues based on age. Everyone will play every game. Shirts and shorts for soccer will be provided by the Rec Department. Applications must be returned to the Rec House by Friday, Sept. 14. Those who played last year must fill out forms again.

Coaches Sought

The Recreation Department is seeking adults to coach in the 8-9-year-old town soccer league. There are presently three teams in need of coaches.

Players are taught the very basics of soccer. Games are played Saturday mornings at Belleville Park. Those interested should call the Rec Department at 759-3121.

Belleville boy in homer finals

Jeffrey Luberto of 36 Little St. has advanced to the championship round of the Phillies Home Run Derby which takes place Sunday, Sept. 16, at Veterans Stadium in Philadelphia.

Jeffrey won the regional final at Youth Athletic Field in Rummelstedt this past Saturday. He was awarded a plaque for his first-place finish in a field of about 30 boys in the 8 to 9-year-old category. The 9-year-old resident won the town championship earlier this summer. On Sept. 16, he'll wear a special uniform given him by the Rec Department.

Schedule of High Holy Day services set at Congregation Ahavath Achim

Joseph Berkowitz, president of Congregation Ahavath Achim of Belleville, has announced the schedule of services for High Holy Days which begin the weekend following this.

The services will be conducted by Rabbi Noah Burstein and Cantor Samuel Dov Ritter. Ritter has chanted the liturgy of the High Holy Day services at Congregation Ahavath Achim for many years. Seymour Grossman and Dr. William Taffet are ritual co-chairmen.

Because of the absolute necessity of nutrition to life and health, it is often considered as a single, separate, health-producing factor. A balanced diet provides the body essential nutrients for three main purposes: growth and repair, regulation of body processes and to yield energy. The right kinds of foods, in proper balance, provide the nutritional needs of the body and markedly affect the quality of life. Sadly enough, improper nutrition is still an important health problem in the United States.

You'll have no problems getting your prescriptions filled if you bring them to us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. We're Medicare and Blue Cross approved and provide free delivery service. "Your Doctor Knows Us-Your Doctor Trusts Us". Hours: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays.

HELPFUL HINT:

What health services does your community offer? It is important for you to know.

Mrs. David Robbins is chairman of the seats and rentals committee in charge of tickets for seats for the services. Mrs. Donald Tuchman is chairman of the Koi Nidre pledges. Mrs. Robbins notes that there are a limited number of seats available for non-members of the congregation. Tickets are required for all services, including Yiskor.

Selichot services, which begin the ushering in of the High Holy Days, will be held Saturday, Sept. 15, at midnight. They will be preceded by a general congregation membership meeting and coffee hour at 4:41 p.m.

Rosh Hashana services start Friday evening, Sept. 21, and are followed with services Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 22-23. Koi Nidre will be on Sunday morning, Sept. 30, and Yom Kippur Monday, Oct. 1.

For information about seats and membership, contact Mrs. Robbins at 759-6557 after 4 p.m. Congregation members receive free tickets for the High Holy Day services.

The congregation is in the midst of a membership drive. Ahavath Achim is the only affiliated Conservative congregation in the immediate area. Services are held throughout the year 8:30 Friday evenings and 9 Saturday mornings.

The air-conditioned congregation building is located at 125 Academy St., behind the public library on Washington Avenue. For further information, call the congregation at 759-9731. Congregation Ahavath Achim is affiliated with the United Synagogue of America.

For day-in to day-out savings convenience, dividends paid monthly

Preferred Dividend Accounts are compounded daily, credited quarterly and earn the maximum yield when deposits and accumulated dividends remain in your account to maturity. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation requires a substantial penalty for withdrawal, when permitted, prior to the maturity of these time deposits. Time deposit accounts are non-negotiable but are eligible as collateral for a loan at Provident Savings Bank.

Now you have a choice!

Preferred Dividend Accounts not only permit you to select a high dividend rate, they give you the opportunity to lock in a high return for a long period of time with absolute safety. For example, you can select an 8.45% return for as much as 10 years - guaranteed! - if you allow your dividends to accumulate. You have the option of taking your dividend income quarterly, in which case your 10-year account will still grow at a generous 8% annual rate. Time means money! Today is the day to set your Preferred Savings Time-clock with the high Preferred Dividend rate that best suits your needs. There's no better way to make your savings grow.

Maass visiting hours extended for seniors

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital is offering extended visiting hours to older persons using the new weekly Belleville, Bloomfield, Nutley transportation system to visit relatives and friends confined in hospital. Robert Misurrell, director of the Essex County Division on Aging, and Larry Cuomo, division coordinator of the tri-town program, are hailing the move as an important benefit bonus to a service for the elderly which began June 21.

In effect, the expanded hours increase the visiting time by one-and-a-half hours each week which, however, is non-consecutive with the normal visiting hours of 2-8 p.m. The additional time each Thursday will permit patient visitation between 11-15 a.m. when the first minibuses is scheduled to arrive at Clara Maass and 12-45 p.m. when the last vehicle is slated to make the return run.

Seniors wishing to take advantage of this service must call the volunteer office at Clara Maass at least one day in advance to reserve the special visitation pass which they will require. The number to call is 751-1000, extension 869.

The transit service, a cooperative effort of the Essex County Division on Aging, the Essex County Transition Office and officials of the three towns, operates by using senior citizen minibuses for each municipality, requiring only minor changes in schedules. Inter-town passengers transfer at a depot located at the merge point of Joralemon Street in Belleville, Hoover Avenue in Bloomfield and Bloomfield Avenue in Nutley.

For additional information about the tri-town transit program, including schedules, contact the Belleville transportation department at 759-2600 or the Essex County Division on Aging at 751-0050.

COMMENTARY ON BELLEVILLE

School board - and not the schools - has now become issue in community

By Mike Olohan

Belleville school trustees and local parents have exchanged verbal barbs with each other over the past month — with both groups upset and tense about desegregation, possible school closings, alleged board politicking on school system jobs and committees, and continual decision-making delays by board members.

The public accusations stand out as an obvious sign of board members' declining public trust, a trust that a school board cannot effectively operate without. Many citizens seem to think school trustees pay only lip service to the demands made by parents confused by desegregation and accusations that the board is dominated by politics.

Rarely are such mundane but substantial issues like school curriculum discussed at board meetings. Instead, issues like desegregation, twisted and distorted by the emotions and personalities injected, monopolize the meeting, while topics like teaching quality, state test scores and parents' educational responsibilities are ignored or only superficially addressed.

Too often personal attacks by trustees and citizens create bad feelings at meetings, leaving the audience questioning the competence and maturity of their elected officials. The past eight months have seen numerous displays of outright hostility between citizen activists and trustees.

"The more we say publicly about it (desegregation), the more we seem to put our foot into our mouth," said Board Vice President Timmie Zoppi at the July 30 meeting, where trustees were under fire for delaying a desegregation decision for nearly 40 months.

Differences of opinion between trustees about whether to fight the state desegregation mandate and several trustees' comments attacking the state's order to desegregate had citizens confused over what would be done and if their children would be forced to relocate come September, causing anxiety and short tempers among many.

Though trustees vowed to fight the desegregation order at an emotional School I meeting March 12, months later they denied their action, making most citizens skeptical of their promises.

"Remember, it's our children you're talking about," reminded Maryjo Cardinale, as residents applauded at the July 30 meeting. She urged board members to be more open with parents about possible consequences of desegregation. Many parents seemed upset that their children could be forced to walk longer, possibly dangerous, distances to school if schools are closed to satisfy the desegregation order.

"Why didn't you start solving this from the beginning? Why wait until now to do something? Citizens at this point are so hot under the collar that they're not going to rationally think about what desegregation means," said Consolidated PTAs President, Cora Boice last month.

Why School Board members delayed action for 40 months on the desegregation mandate remains an unanswered question. Some citizens believe trustees delay taking strong stands on issues like desegregation because they fear citizen reaction that might split the community. Others note that both now and in the past boards of education in Belleville have steered clear of confronting tough issues — afraid to deal with the political, emotional and moral consequences of their decisions.

"I want good, competent teachers up-front. We run, at best, a mediocre school system, that's all it is. We (parents) can't make a decision about desegregation unless you tell us what you're plans are," said Candida Valiente, a month ago.

Last week, trustees were accused of trying to exclude people who supported fighting the desegregation mandate from the "restructuring" committee which will decide what plan is best to desegregate the Belleville school system.

"Belleville is not an isolated island. It must live with the realities of an entire nation. Our kids should not be secluded, sequestered and overprotected," said Valiente, a minority member, backing school closings to appease the desegregation order.

Trustees have lashed out at citizens for trying to "discredit" their restructuring committee with allegations that the board is excluding "troublemakers" and is pushing some preconceived restructuring plan.

Board members will vote on a restructuring plan by December, submit it to the state in January and begin implementing it by September 1980, whether their "restructuring" receives formal approval by the state as a desegregation plan or not. Trustees did not even mention desegregation in the restructuring resolution.

The board members' low public credibility is aggravated by charges of political favoritism and maneuvering, public meetings that get out of control, and sarcastic, vengeful comebacks by both trustees and citizens which continue to undermine officials' community standing and prestige.

Some trustees themselves charge that board decisions are strictly political and add that trustees must realize that public faith in the board cannot be restored until the board reputation for honesty is established unequivocally.

Quick action on issues is crucial to improving the public's opinion of the Board of Education, say many citizens, several of whom ridiculed schoolers for not debating sensitive problems like declining basic skill test scores publicly. More public discussion — with citizens, administrators and teachers — about school achievements and problems would create an atmosphere of cooperation and openness, rather than the adversary relationship now existing between trustees and parents.

Wendy's decision coming Thursday?

Fucetola contends the agreement is not legally binding and should have no effect on his application. Should the Wendy's and Fabric Emporium be built, Apicelli would lose 99 parking spaces. So far, he has made no public comment on the proposal, and it is not known whether he will be represented at next week's meeting.

The Planning Board postponed action on Fucetola's application at its meeting in August in order to study Zoning Board documents from deliberations three years ago when Apicelli won approval for his restaurant. That approval hinged on the gentlemen's agreement that allowed Apicelli to use the spaces on the A&P lot.

The plan for the Wendy's Restaurant has drawn fire from residents near the site who contend that it will become a hangout and create litter and parking problems.

The proposal was also criticized

Chamber marathon scheduled Oct. 7th

The Chamber of Commerce will sponsor two marathon runs through the streets of Belleville Sunday, Oct. 7. Two races will be run, one three miles, the other six.

Runners must be at least 10 years old to compete. Trophies will be awarded for first place in each class, ribbons for second and third places. Trophies will also be awarded for best time, male and female.

Race routes and details on how to enter will appear in a later issue of The Times/News.

by Police Chief Joseph Smith in a letter read at the last meeting. Smith said a Wendy's would increase traffic and parking congestion in the area. Fire Chief George Sharra, in another letter, asked the board to study what effect the restaurant would have on the ability of firetrucks at the Franklin Avenue station to respond to emergencies. Planners asked Fucetola to consult a traffic expert on the questions raised by the two safety officials. The report of that expert and the testimony of the project architect, who could not attend the last meeting due to illness, are expected to be heard at next week's meeting.

No other cases are on the agenda.

Passaic gym program conducts registration

The Passaic Turners, a gymnastic group whose membership is comprised of residents from Essex, Hudson, Bergen and Passaic Counties, will start classes today at the Passaic YMCA, located at 45 River Drive.

The program will offer learning skills on balance beam, uneven parallel bars, sidehorse vaulting, acrobatics, tumbling and rhythmic exercises.

Classes for advanced students will be held 7-8:15 p.m. Thursdays for those 8 to 13 and 8:15-9:30 p.m. for those 14 and over. Beginners' classes will be held Tuesdays with the same time schedule and same age group. To register, call 472-1380.

Public Library being expanded

Continued from page one. tremendously crowded condition we now have in the library," said Hickey. He said library frequenters will still have parking problems because adequate parking around the library does not exist.

"The town should paint lines along Academy Street so people can park there without problems," he said, noting that suggestion is "only a drop in the bucket" to ease parking congestion.
