Trustees rebut charge of committee stacking

By Mike Olohan

The Belleville school "restructuring committee," which is already under attack for allegedly excluding people who wanted to fight the state desegregation order, is now being criticized as "top-heavy" and "stacked" with teachers and administrators — precluding parents from having a majority vote on their children's future.

Trustees stressed this week that since the restructuring committee is only advisory, not official or able to directly approve a plan, the committee's make-up is not as important as the decision it reaches. The board members' decision on the committee's recommendation is final.

Frank Montagna, a parent with children in School 3, says trustees have deliberately "manipulated" and "hand-picked the people who are on the restructuring committee." He alleges those chosen are picked only because they hold ideas similar to committee chairman Caesar Romano.

Romano outrightly denied the charge Tuesday. "There's absolutely no truth to anything he says. Here it is, the first article you're going to write, and it's controversial. Just because one person holds a negative view of this committee doesn't mean he should get (coverage)," said Romano.

"The committee is well intentioned and well motivated," said Romano, noting only 13 teachers and administrators presently serve on it. Montagna believes parents should decide what "restructuring" is needed because their children will be directly affected. He says administrators, politicians, teachers or businessmen who live out of town or don't have children in Belleville schools should not vote on a "restructuring" plan, even if it is just "advisory."

Enrollment dips below projection

A master plan for Belleville schools says School 2 should have been closed two years ago because of declining enrollments and its deteriorating structure and that Schools 10, 9 and 1 should be phased out as enrollments drop.

Bouman Blanche Fariday, a planning company in Trenton, which prepared the report, projected that by 1982 school enrollment would drop to 4,737, down from the 5,611 children in class in February 1977 when the report was first formulated.

Already this year, however, school enrollment has dipped to 4,939, and officials here foresee an even greater falloff than the plan predicted. The plan projects a drop to 3,996 students by 1987, and that estimate again appears too high.

Some School Board critics charge trustees have "buried" the master plan because they fear the repercussions of taking stands on thorny issues like consolidation, desegregation, restructuring and school closings. Over the past few years, several board committees have called for redistricting, but nothing has been done. Closing schools has been discussed sporadically, but no final vote has ever taken or any decision made.

The board's critics have said trustees formed the current "restructuring committee" not to resolve questions about school closings or moving the seventh or ninth grades but rather so trustees could avoid bearing full responsibility for the fate of Belleville schools.

Trustees, these critics have said at several board meetings, will point to

Vest fund backers laud 'little people'

By John Jurich

What began as a daughter's challenge to her father culminated Sunday in a gala breakfast that marked the successful end of a drive to outfit all of Belleville's police officers with bulletproof vests.

The Concerned Citizens of Belleville, the group that spearheaded the fund-raising effort, announced that enough contributions had been received to equip about 80 officers and estimated that after all the donations were in, there would be enough money to buy 100 vests.

With that many on hand, the town's auxiliary forces could also be protected. "The animal outside does not recognize whether you're a cop with a gun or a cop with just a uniform," Frank Stanecki, a Concerned Citizens founder, pointed out to the scores of persons attending the breakfast.

"I've never seen anything move so fast, so smoothly and efficiently," Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica said of the Police Vest Fund drive that raised several thousand dollars, mostly in small contributions, in the space of only about four months.

The drive began in a simple way one night this past spring. "We were watching TV back in March," recalled Stanecki, "and one of the first things that came on was that a couple of cops had been shot in New York. Shortly after, there was a demonstration by the PBA president of the way a bulletproof vest works. They shot a .357 from about 15 feet right into the center of the guy's chest and all he received was just a slight bruise."

"My daughter asked the question whether the police in Belleville had bulletproof vests, and I said I didn't think so," continued Stanecki. "I said, 'Somebody has to stand up and do something about it' and she asked, 'Why not you?'"

Thus the Police Vest Fund was born. Stanecki sent a letter to town commissioners about his idea for the drive and things got rolling soon after. Officer Vincent Cosenzo was appointed as coordinator between the Public Safety Department and the fledgling citizens' committee. He got in contact with residents Richard Melham and Vito Sylvestro to help work on the project.

The Concerned Citizens began mailing letters for contributions to local businesses in June, and the first donations began to trickle in the next month.

At first, the committee worried

Belleville marathon takes off on Sunday

Registration for this Sunday's Chamber of Commerce marathon runs has been extended until noon the day of the race. A variety of awards is being offered for winners of the races which start 1:30 p.m.

Applications blanks can still be obtained at Fidelity Union Trust Company, First DeWitt Savings & Loan, Peoples Bank and Provident Savings or at the Town Hall parking lot starting 10:30 Sunday morning. Completed registration forms should be turned in with a $4 fee to the marathon committee Sunday.

Five checkpoints will be designated for each run and the Town Hall parking lot will be restricted to participants. All competitors will be given an official number to wear.

To compete, a runner must be at least 10. Awards will be given in six age groups, 11 and under, 12 to 16, 17 to 21, 22 to 30, 31 to 40 and over 40. There will be trophies for first-place finishes and ribbons for second and third places. In addition, trophies will be awarded for best time, male and female.

Prayer for today

The day returns and brings us the petty round of irritating concerns and duties. Help us to play the man, help us to perform them with laughter and kind faces. Let cheerfulness abound with industry. Give us to go blithely on our resting-beds, weary and content and undishonored, and grant us in the end the gift of sleep.

Close down Schools 1 and 9

A citizens committee has been charged with the responsibility of analyzing the needs of our school system and determining which, if any, school or schools should be abandoned.

Any knowledgeable school official or involved citizen knows that Schools 1 and 9 should be closed. They are too old to maintain economically. Pupil enrollments for both schools are below an acceptable level. They are a burden upon the community which the taxpayers should not be asked to continue.

The easterly line of the school district should be Washington Avenue and not Main Street.

Shapiro loses again

Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro keeps trying to throw his weight around in political circles — and each time he tries, Democrat party leaders reject his bid for political leadership.

The latest incident was Shapiro's effort to nominate Newark West Ward Councilman Michael Bottone to fill the 28th District Senate seat recently vacated by Martin Greenberg.

Newark's Fire Director John Cauffield was the candidate of Essex County Chairman Horace "Bus" Gauspohl and Newark's Mayor Kenneth Gibson. Cauffield overwhelmed Bottone, collecting 135 votes to Bottone's 53. The man Shapiro hates most, former Freeholder James Zangari, won the nomination for the 28th District Assembly seat. When Shapiro lost the Cauffield-Bottone contest, he dropped all opposition to Zangari.

Once more we would advise Shapiro to tend to his job as Essex County executive and leave the political leadership to the elected political leaders.

Pope John Paul's visit

Pope John Paul II arrived in our country Tuesday for a week-long visit. He is appearing in most of the major cities in the United States, including New York where many residents of our town have had an opportunity to see him in person.

The pope's simple message of love, delivered in Ireland last weekend and at the United Nations this week, is one that people have been hearing for almost 2,000 years, but not paying much attention to. Our prayers go with John Paul in the hope that his mission will be a success.

Vandalism at high school is actually on the decline

To the Editor:

I am writing regarding the article entitled "Trustees May Hire High School Security Guard" by Mike Olohan. Once again the reporter has taken facts out of context and distorted them.

The article states that the new discipline policy for the high school has increased attendance three to four percent; however, it does not seem to be reducing vandalism which is on the increase. This is not the case. Not only has the new policy increased attendance, it has brought truancy, class cutting and tardiness to an absolute minimum. Vandalism during the school day has been practically eliminated. Ninety nine percent of the vandalism occurring at the high school occurs evenings and weekends. It is often perpetrated by non-high school students. The administration, faculty and student body of Belleville High School have been working diligently and cooperatively to instill a positive school spirit and attitude throughout every phase of the educational program. The result has been two hundred percent successful. The effort that has gone into this by all concerned deserves accurate and positive commendation. Attempts to sensationalize what has not occurred pay few dividends to the community, school or the news media.

Sincerely,
John L. DeCesare,
Principal

Wake up, Belleville! Town Hall a Watergate waiting to happen

To the Editor:

Is everyone in our town sleeping or just closing their eyes to what is going on around us? Can the commissioners of this town answer why we pay taxes? I doubt it because if they cared enough about our town it would be improved instead of steadily going downhill.

I am starting to believe it's not what you know but who you know if you want something done. I have also seen certain citizens improve their property and have building materials picked up while we had to get permits and hire a private truck. If it happened to us, it has been done to others. Do you, the public of this town, want to have a place like Newark to live in? Then close your eyes. One person cannot fight alone. In reality, we, the citizens of Belleville, have nothing done for our tax dollars. Start remembering Watergate, then seriously think of our town. We can make it better.

Sincerely,
Eileen Alessio

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

It took a lot of prodding, but our efforts finally paid off. On several occasions, this column has hammered away at the failure to have the Belleville town audit filed on time. It should have been published no later than July, the month Nutley's was. We repeated our concern over the dilatory filing of this legally required report which must also be filed with the Division of Local Government Services in the Department of Community Affairs in Trenton.

Disgusted with the unconscionable delay, we took the bull by the horns and sent off a letter Sept. 5 to the director of the Division of Local Government inquiring about the delayed report and calling for prompt compliance with regulations of his department.

We received a reply dated Sept. 18 signed by Barry Skokowski, deputy director, Division of Local Government Services, acknowledging receipt of our communication. His letter stated, "As of the above date, the report of audit has not been filed in this office. We are aware that the report is long past due and we are monitoring the situation. When the report is filed, we shall review it for compliance with the statutes." The audit report was received by the town the next day, Sept. 19. A copy of it may be reviewed at the public library.

We examined this report and were dismayed by our findings. This writer was sufficiently alarmed over his observations that he betook himself to the Town Commission meeting Sept. 25 to impress upon the commissioners their responsibility to heed the repeated recommendations of the town auditor to conform with the regulations set down by the Division of Local Government.

Let us look at a few of the significant matters of our local town government that the auditor touched upon. In doing so, bear in mind that this gentleman is a registered municipal accountant, licensed by the state, who MUST cite any evidence of deviation from auditing fiscal practices and ~~was~~ ^{is} ~~was~~ ^{is} recommendations to bring them into conformity with the state's requirements. So here goes, as taken verbatim from the audit report:

The general records did not provide for an accumulation of payments for similar categories of materials and supplies or related work or labor. Our accumulations of selected expenditures, however, show that total payments in excess of $2,500 were made without bid award to the following vendors: (six listed. Total amount, $31,370.52).

The foregoing should be reviewed by town officials as to applicability of bid procedures under the Local Public Contracts Law. The award of contracts or agreements for services in excess of $2,500 per N.J. 40A: 11-5 were not adopted nor advertised. Reference is made to "Local Public Contract Regulations" published by the Division of Local Government Services in the Department of Community Affairs.

Controls for 1978 taxes receivable, in the sum of $415,877.23, exceed the audit listing by the sum of $552.28. Effort to locate this difference should be initiated in the tax office in order to avoid a possible revenue loss.

That all means provided by statute be utilized to liquidate tax title liens in order to ~~be~~ ^{be} such properties back on a tax-paying basis.

That properties acquired for taxes, that action be taken toward their disposition by public sale to bring them back to a revenue-producing basis: It is essential to good government that all means provided by statute be utilized to liquidate tax title liens in order to get such properties back on a tax-paying basis.

Requirement that action be taken to clean up prospective assessments funded by taking action to assess the costs to benefited properties. (Repeated from prior year reports of audit.)

Payroll Fund: It is noted that the payroll bank accounts were not reconciled. The last cash reconciliation appears to be as of June 30, 1977. Statements appearing herein reflect abstract of payroll records only. It is recommended that cash reconciliations of payroll bank accounts by updated and routinely reconciled on a monthly basis.

We are not happy with these findings. Another communication has been forwarded to the deputy director of the Division of Local Government with the request that he, personally, give his attention to the review of the audit of the town to determine what corrective action may be needed to bring this community into conformity with the operation requirements spelled out in the auditor's report.

John Kelly to chair United Way's drive

Nutley Savings and Loan Association President John V. Kelly has been appointed regional chairman for the 1979-80 United Way campaign in Belleville and Nutley. Kelly has worked on United Way drives the past three years.

Kelly is a trustee of Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, the Nutley-Belleville Cerebral Palsy Association and St. Mary Church. He is treasurer of the St. Mary's Knights of Columbus and a member of the Nutley Elks and American Legion.

The goal for this year's United Way campaign is $6.2 million. The organization offers services to 785,000 persons living in Essex County and West Hudson through its more than 100 participating agencies. Last year, over 300,000 persons, or one out of every three, received services from United Way agencies.

Legion auxiliary installs officers

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 105 installed a new slate of officers Sunday at the Belleville Women's Club. The new president is Rose Patti.

Others installed by County President Margaret Rosania and her staff were Mary Kapuscinski, first vice president; Josephine Marx, second vice president; Irene Hess, treasurer; Theresa Gorman, secretary; Adelle Mitchell, historian; Dolores Lee, chaplain, and Dorothy Halpin, sergeant-at-arms. Refreshments were served following the ceremonies.

Names sought for monument to veterans

Belleville-Nutley Disabled American Veterans (DAV) Chapter 22 is seeking names of deceased residents who served in the Armed Forces during World War II, Korea or Vietnam. A monument with the names inscribed at the base will be unveiled 12:30 p.m. Nov. 11 in front of the chapter headquarters, 251 Washington Ave., Belleville.

DAV members are hoping for a large turnout of citizens, and officials from the town, county, state and federal levels at the ceremony. The annual Veterans Day Parade will be held after the unveiling. To have a deceased veteran enshrined on the monument, send his name, last address, branch of service and date of death to Joseph T. Fornarotto, Belleville-Nutley Chapter 22, 251 Washington Ave., Belleville, N.J.

Residents will attend Army Division reunion

Peter Mackiewicz and John Vitkowski will be among several Bellevillites in the 307th Infantry Veterans Society attending the 77th Division Reunion Nov. 9-11 at Downingtown Inn, Pa.

The three-day affair will unite veterans of World Wars I and II from all over the country. For more information, write P.O. Box 2131, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Call Tel-Med tape for health reports

One facet of the Clara Maass Memorial Hospital health education program is Tel-Med, a free-tape collection as near and private as your telephone. Among the many topics covered by Tel-Med are several tapes dealing with "Eye Care."

To reach the Clara Maass Tel-Med system, simply dial 751-1000. When the volunteer operator answers, request the tape you wish to hear.

If you would like a complete tape listing of the Clara Maass Tel-Med system, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to "Tel-Med, c/o Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, 1 Franklin Avenue, Belleville, N.J. 07109.

If your husband had a Heart Attack in bed tonight, would you know what to do?

It may go on for a little while before you notice. He may say it's indigestion or nerves. He may have a feeling of uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of his chest (that may spread to the shoulders, neck or arms) which lasts for two minutes or more.

Dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath may also occur, but these signals are not always present. Sharp, stabbing twinges of pain are usually not signals of a heart attack.

Call your emergency medical service immediately. Or, if you can get him to a hospital with emergency cardiac care faster in any other way, do so.

He may refuse to accept the possibility that he is having a heart attack. Many heart attack victims do just that. Don't let him make you wait. Because seconds count! Get help and get it fast. Remember, if it isn't a heart attack, it doesn't matter. If it is, nothing matters more.

Umberto's
Corner

Dear Umberto,

I can't believe my ears! My girlfriend just came back from Italy and she told me that they excavated her father from the grave to put him in a little box and she viewed the ceremony. She told me that her father had short hair when he died and when they opened the casket he had long hair. I can't believe it. Does hair grow after death? Do you know anything about excavating people in Italy? Hoping that you print this letter.

Your Reader

Dear Reader,

Why shouldn't I answer if I was sent a letter? In Italy they excavate dead bodies after 10 years and put the remains in a little box. So when I die I want to be buried here. I have my spot all ready. Over here graves are eternal.

Yes, in many cases hair does grow after death. Not only the hair grows but even the nails. Not for long and not too long. Hoping I didn't offend you good readers, but, this letter was sent to me. I promised to answer anything.

Information Break — Health information from Clara Maass Hospital is just a free phone call away for visitors and employees of Blue Cross Newark headquarters. Here David Moran and Audrey Finney find the phone system and its directory of health topics easy to use.

Medical data offered to 'waiting' visitors

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of New Jersey have become the first major businesses in the state to offer their visitors and employees on-site health information through a complete Tel-Med installation at their home office, 33 Washington Street in Newark.

The newly-installed system provides a pair of Tel-Med phones for use of subscribers and visitors in the first floor Service Center. Another pair for use of employees of the plans and other firms in the building is located in the cafeteria. "It's the easiest and most convenient system yet to be installed," says Don B. Porter, director of public education.

The phones require no dialing. By simply picking up the receiver a caller is immediately connected to the Tel-Med unit at Clara Maass Hospital, Belleville, one of 20 hospitals in the state participating in the program. Directories at each station list the many health topics available. The caller gives the number of the requested tape, and Tel-Med plays it back.

Tel-Med, a medical tape library offering information on more than 300 health topics, was first introduced last year by the New Jersey Hospital Association, with grants from the Fannie E. Rippel Foundation and from Blue Cross and Blue Shield. Fourteen of the original tapes were prepared by the plans.

The installation at the plans' own headquarters at 33 Washington St. marks a continuation of their commitment to health education, according to Porter.

"Sometimes just not knowing the facts can be distressing. Tel-Med can help answer a person's questions and lessen such stress," he said. Porter said the system, which is physician-approved, should never be used to diagnose or treat a problem.

Test for glaucoma, cataracts offered free at Clara Maass

A free eye screening clinic to test for glaucoma and cataracts will be held Wednesday, Oct. 10 from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m., at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital, 1 Franklin Avenue, Belleville.

This annual eye screening tests for evidence of any eye disease or systemic disease reflected in the eyes. The program is open to all persons over the age of 35 not already receiving regular ophthalmological care.

Those interested in the screening should be aware this is not a complete eye examination. The testing detects many — but not all — abnormal conditions. If a positive diagnosis is made, treatment or follow-up by a licensed physician is recommended.

Two major causes of blindness are glaucoma and cataracts. Today, one of every eight blind persons is a victim of glaucoma. Practically all of them had normal vision most of their lives — they lost their sight because of undetected glaucoma.

Basically, glaucoma is the building up of fluid pressure in the eyeball. If detected in the early stages, it can be controlled to prevent blindness. The primary reason why older members of the population should be tested is because glaucoma is like a sneak thief — stealing sight without one being aware of its presence.

Cataract is the clouding of the lens within the eyeball which blocks passage of light rays necessary for sight. There are no ointments, pills, drops or magic potions which will dissolve, absorb, retard or prevent the progress of cataract. There is only one known possible cure — surgery.

Banking at Peoples saves me time and gas.

I used to save at a Savings and Loan so I could get a little more interest on my account until my Peoples Banker pointed out that the difference in interest was just $2.50 or so per year on $1,000. That doesn't even pay for the gas it takes to drive to two banks, not to mention the loss of my valuable leisure time. Now I do all my banking at Peoples. They have all the services I need. I make just one stop and I feel like I'm banking with friends. To me, that's worth $2.50 any day.

Senior Notes

By George Chenoweth

Back in the early 1970s, nationwide attention was focused on the deplorable conditions for patients in nursing homes. There were no regulations then to prevent operators of the homes from taking away the civil liberties of patients. Reports came out that numerous seniors were being deprived the right of free association, free speech, the right to do without sedation is they didn't want it and the right to their own property.

The laws were spelled out in a 1974 federal regulation and a 1976 New Jersey statute. It was forbidden by law to deprive patients of their rights. A recent survey of conditions in homes shows that the new laws are working: Patients no longer have to suffer many of the injustices they had to before the laws were passed.

Working on patients' behalf is the Office of the Ombudsman for the Institutionalized Elderly, the Department of Health, the Department of the Public Advocate and many volunteer groups such as the Retired Senior Volunteers who check now and then on conditions in the homes.

Before the laws were passed, it was not unusual for a family that wanted to get rid of a senior to "put away" a patient, merely by getting a letter from a cooperating physician. Now, it is reported, Medicaid social workers will not place anyone in a home who does not want to be placed. The law used to allow a definition of "medical incompetency," giving a doctor the right to decide that a patient should not remain at home. Now the law insists that "incompetency" must be defined legally, and only a court case can decide that. Carol Kurland, chief social worker in the Division of Medical Assistance and Health Services, says, "A person has a right to be involved in his or her own care, and no one else can make that determination. If the person wants to die at home, that decision is his."

Judy Johnson, a Medicaid social worker, reports that the visits of social workers to the nursing care facilities have helped in changing restricted hours to a more reasonable schedule, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. as the law allows. Hours are no posted at the nursing homes. Patients now have the right to be kept informed of their rights.

Just because a senior is in a nursing home does not mean that he must be deprived of his rights as a citizen. Nursing homes must inform patients of public elections and must not deprive them of membership in local residents' councils at the homes. Before the laws were changed, some homes punished residents for exercising their rights. Great strides have been made in making patients comfortable and reasonably happy. We are looking forward to the day when all seniors will be treated in the manner that they deserve.

GOP hopeful supports initiative, referendum

Michael Bucco, Republican State Assembly candidate in the 30th District, has announced his support for the initiative and referendum amendment, calling it the "most democratic movement to come along in a long time."

Bucco said the 1947 state constitution was flawed because it lacked such an article and said that lack had "caused decades of public suffering at the hands of insensitive and in some cases greedy politicians."

Bucco said he believes the ability of citizens to initiate legislation and referenda "will develop a whole new attitude in the legislature and the governor's office."

"Without this basic tool," he added, "a long string of Democrat governors and legislatures has pressed its will on the people without regard for negative consequences."

Bucco pointed to dramatic increases and proliferation of taxes in the state since the 1960s and the "arrogant manner in which policy is developed, appointments made and government machinery misused."

"I'm for government by the people, for the people and by the people," said Bucco. "I don't like sealing it up every two or four years away from the people."

Said the candidate, "If every elected and appointed official realized he or she must perform competently and in the best interest of the people every day of his or her term of office, I guarantee we will see progress in New Jersey."

"It is because initiative is not possible that they now can hide behind the protective custody of politics and thumb their nose at the rest of us."

Bucco said he does not believe the amendment would result in a spate of initiatives or recalls. "We may see a few at first, just to prove the point," he said. "Buc once the point is made strongly, I believe it will show its effect on New Jersey government just as it has on California's government, where voters have had this right for years."

Federation of Seniors will meet here Oct. 10

The New Jersey Federation of Senior Citizens will hold its northern regional meeting 10 a.m. this coming Wednesday at Montgomery Presbyterian Church, 638 Mill St.

All seniors are invited. For more information, call Kay Taylor at 759-3705.

State Election Commission fines Assembly candidates

Two independent State Assembly candidates have been fined by the New Jersey Election Law Enforcement Commission for filing late campaign reports from the 1977 general election. Both were running in the 30th District which includes Belleville.

Candidate Anthony J. Esposito and his campaign manager, Catherine Centanni, were fined $100 jointly for filing a report required seven days prior to the election 19 months late and $50 for filing a report required 15 days after the election 18 months late.

Candidate Theodore R. Murnick and campaign treasurer Alfred Mattia were assessed $50 jointly for filing the pre-election report 51 days late and $25 for filing the post-election report 16 months late. In addition, two Democratic candidates and their campaign managers were fined for late reports in the June primary election. Raymond Rizzi, running for county register, and his campaign manager, Thomas P. Donoghue were assessed $50 jointly for a report overdue seven days, while Clifford Minor, a county sheriff candidate, and his manager, Joyce Roberts, were fined $25 for a report late eight days.

Councilman Anthony Carrino, another unsuccessful Democratic candidate for sheriff, and manager Richard Paraboschi drew a reprimand for being two late with a report.

Flu, diabetes clinic set next Wednesday

The Health Department's annual flu and sugar diabetes program will be held 1-6 and 6-9 p.m. this coming Wednesday at the department building, 383 Washington Ave.

Immunization will be provided for influenza viruses A/Brazil, A/Texas and B/Hong Kong, all of which are expected to be prevalent this year. Residents in high-risk groups — those over 65 and those 30 and older who have diabetes, heart, lung or kidney disease — are urged to receive the vaccination.

Vaccine will not be administered to pregnant women, those with a fever or acute illness, persons under 30, those who have received another vaccine within the past 14 days or anyone with an allergy to eggs, chicken or chicken feathers. Residents are advised to consult a physician regarding the vaccine.

Persons over 40 who are overweight or have a family history of diabetes are encouraged to attend the free diabetes screening program. For an accurate reading, a balanced meal should be eaten one-and-a-half to three hours before the screening.

Special Ed Parents hear progress talk

The Special Education Parents and Professional Association held its first meeting of the academic year at School 4 recently. Guest speaker for the evening was Anthony Chirico, the district's director of special services.

Chirico spoke of the progress made within the Special Services Department during the past year, detailing how services would continue to improve. He then distributed literature on the regulations which apply to the education of the handicapped. Copies will be provided to parents on request.

Chirico has worked closely with the association since last year when he also spoke before the parents. He commended the group for its efforts, particularly for the special olympics which it sponsored last April.

The group meets about six times a year at School 4. The organization's purpose is to aid Special Education children and parents through informing sharing and activity planning. Besides planning for another special olympics, the organization is involved in bowling and a summer recreation program.

Efforts are being made to reach all parents of Special Education children to inform them of upcoming meetings, speakers and topics. The next meeting will be 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 25, at School 4. Anthony DeTullo will speak on the topic, "Rights of Parents of Handicapped Children."

Clara Maass maternity wins grant of $150,000

The Kresge Foundation of Troy, Mich., has awarded a $150,000 challenge grant to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital for the renovation and modernization of the obstetrical department.

After considering nearly 1,200 grant proposals, the foundation made commitments totaling $35.1 million. Clara Maass joins 177 organizations in 35 states, Washington, D.C., and three foreign countries as a beneficiary of the grants.

The grant will be used for construction of an early labor lounge, additional labor and delivery room combinations which permit delivery in a homelike setting, a recovery room for optimum safety and comfort and the purchase of new equipment.

The projected cost for all the projects is over $1 million. So far, nearly $800,000 has been raised. To meet the Kresge challenge grant, the hospital must realize an additional $261,000.

Clara Maass has the third highest birth-rate among all New Jersey hospitals. The obstetrical department, featuring family-centered maternity service, has long been recognized by professionals in the field as one of the most progressive units in the state.

The Clara Maass maternity program is designed to meet the needs of parents, the newborn and siblings. Among the services offered are prepared childbirth classes for expectant parents and infant bonding with both parents immediately following birth. Parents are also given the opportunity to select any variation of "rooming-in" with their baby, in keeping with the hospital's family-centered approach.

A season dominated by surprise success

Another major league baseball season has come to an end. The 1979 year featured some surprises, disappointments and tragedy. The races were tight and tough in all but one division. In the National League, the Pittsburgh Pirates surprised some people as they captured their first divisional crown since 1975. At the outset of the year, the consensus was that Philadelphia would win the division for a fourth straight year. The Phillies had put a strain on the bank book this past winter in acquiring superstar Pete Rose. In addition, they bolstered the infield by getting Manny Trillo from the Chicago Cubs.

But the Phillie pitching proved to be the team's downfall, and the Phils struggled to an 84-78 season, good for fourth place. The team fired its manager, Danny Ozark, in mid-August and replaced him with Dallas Green on an interim basis. Chances are good that Joe Torre, the Met manager, might be the Phils' new head man next spring.

The biggest surprise of the season was the rise of the Montreal Expos. Montreal entered the majors in 1969 and going into the '79 campaign had never posted a .500 season. That came to an end as the Canadian team rolled to a 95-65 record, losing the division title on the final day of the season.

The St. Louis Cardinals finished in third place with 86 wins, their most productive year since 1974. The 1979 season marked the end to the great career of Lou Brock. The all-time base-stealing champion retired at the end of the season, but he went out with style. The 39-year-old leftfielder batted over .300 in his final season and broke through to the prestigious 3,000-hit plateau.

The Chicago Cubs started out like gangbusters but fell apart in the last half of the season and finished at 80-82. The Cubbies started off flying, led by the sizzling bat of slugger Dave Kingman. Kingman finished the season with 47 homers, but his magic dwindled in the last half of the season, as did the Cubs.

The 1979 Mets had two bright spots. One was Lee Mazzilli, who finally became a star centerfielder, and the other was their four-game winning streak at the end of the season. The skein enabled the Mets to avoid the 100-loss mark.

It was the timely hitting of Willie Stargell (he's 38 going on 20) and Dave Parker plus the pitching of Bert Blyleven and John Candelaria that led Pittsburgh to the title. The Pirates also boasted a bullpen of Kent Tekulve (31 saves) and Grant Jackson. They have to be considered a favorite to overtake Cincinnati and go to the World Series.

In the National League West, the Cincinnati Reds surprised a few of the experts by winning the title. Cincinnati had fired its very successful manager, Sparky Anderson, this past winter and lost Pete Rose via the free agent trade. Consequently, the Reds were written off in the West, figuring to finish no higher than third.

But Ray Knight, Pete Rose's heir apparent, had a super season, and veterans such as Johnny Bench and Dave Concepcion were playing like old times again. In addition, Tom Seaver started pitching like Tom Seaver and a rookie named Mike LaCoss led the staff. George Foster had an off-year (30 homers), but that's not bad considering he missed more than a full month due to injuries.

The Houston Astros were the only other respectable team in the division. The Astros fought to the wire before losing out to the Reds on the last weekend of the season. Pitching and speed were the Astros' strengths as the team finished at 89-73, the finest record in the team's 18-year history.

The rest of the division was a disaster. The Los Angeles Dodgers fell apart, finishing at 79-83, which wasn't too bad considering they were once 35-60. The Dodgers, outside of Steve Garvey of course, were just terrible. The pitching staff fell apart and the hitting just didn't seem to mesh. Davey Lopes, the team's second baseman had a fine year with 28 homers but other than that, the Dodgers were AWOL.

The Giants, Padres and Braves finished in fourth, fifth and sixth respectively. The Giants and Padres were expected to do well, but nothing seemed to go right for them. The Braves did manage one thing, they proved they were the National League's worst team, the Mets included, for a third straight year.

The American League East was a runaway for the Baltimore Orioles. Not too many people expected them to overtake the Yankees, Red Sox or Brewers, but the Orioles decided to stay away from the free agents and big money and just play good ball. The result: a 102-57 season, and Earl Weaver shining as brightly as ever.

The Brewers of Milwaukee played strong ball throughout the season and finished at 95-66, their finest season ever. The Boston Red Sox did the usual September flop, but this time flopped all the way to third place. About the only bright spot for them was the hitting of Fred Lynn, Jim Rice and, of course, Carl Yastrzemski. Oh, by the way, this year they did finish ahead of the Yankees.

The Bombers got off to the usual slow start but couldn't get untracked like they did in 1977 and '78. Of course everyone knows of the terrible tragedy that claimed the life of Thurman Munson, the team captain and a man loved by all in baseball. Reggie Jackson continued his bickering with team owner George Steinbrenner but did manage a .297 batting average, his highest ever. Jim "Catfish" Hunter concluded his final season in the majors in not so great fashion, but he should be a shoe-in for the Hall of Fame.

The Detroit Tigers hired Sparky Anderson as their manager midway through the season and finished with an 84-76 mark. The Cleveland Indians named Dave Garcia as their new manager midway through the year and rallied for an 81-80 season. The Toronto Blue Jays might just as well have named Ady Amin as their manager for next season. The Blue Jays were horrible in 1979, finishing with 109 losses.

In the AL West, the Kansas City Royals were dethroned after three years. The California Angels, with money man Gene Autry leading the way, captured their first title ever. Autry, the team owner, has spent millions of dollars but up to this year hadn't got much back on his investment. However, 1979 proved to be different: Don Baylor knocked the cover off the ball, Nolan Ryan threw loaded basebells and the Angels soared to the title.

The Royals had great hitting from George Brett, Willie Wilson and Al Cowens. The pitching staff was questionable, though, and proved costly in the Royals' bid for a fourth straight crown. Minnesota got a 20-victory performance from Jerry Koosman, the ex-Met, and some fine hurling from Mike Marshall out of the bullpen. The Texas Rangers were disappointing again, the Chicago White Sox were mediocre, the Seattle Mariners showed some promise and the Oakland A's were absolutely atrocious. The police in Oakland had to take people away screaming after an Oakland A's game. It's really a shame, considering what a great team the A's had just four years ago.

Mountie gridmen win defensive battle 14-7

By Mike Lamberti

Despite a great defensive effort, the Belleville Buccaneers football team fell victim to the powerful Mounties of Montclair 14-7 Saturday. The Bucs will travel to Nutley this coming Saturday for a 1:30 p.m. start.

"I was very impressed with our defense," said BHS head coach John Senesky of his team's most recent effort. "They did a fine job in stopping (Steve) Puryear and Frasier. The Mounties beat us with some passing and took advantage of the big play."

The Bucs won the opening kickoff but gained only six yards on their first possession. After punting to Montclair, the Bucs stopped Puryear and Frasier for a total of one yard.

But on third down, quarterback Calvin Drew threw a short pass to Mel Gordon who turned the play into a 56-yard reception. Frank Fazzini caught the Mountie on the Belleville 1-yard line. One play later, Puryear cracked over the goal line, and Montclair led 6-0. Todd Carnevale added the point-after conversion.

Montclair was doing a good job stopping Belleville's offense, but the Buc defense was doing likewise to the Mountie offense. Puryear was finding every yard grueling, and the tempo of the game increased with every play.

The Bucs took advantage of a poor Mountie punt in the second quarter and started their most impressive drive of the afternoon. Frank Swain, the Bucs' tough fullback was the workhorse of the drive, gaining 25 yards and scoring the Buc touchdown on a one-yard dive. The drive, which started from the Montclair 43, took up seven plays and four minutes. After the touchdown, Ralph DePasquale added the conversion and the game was tied.

Both teams had possession for one more series in the first half, but neither club could score.

Montclair quickly grabbed the lead at the outset of the second half. Puryear returned the kickoff to the Mountie 47, and Montclair started moving via the air. Drew hit Aubrey Lewis with a 21-yard strike, then hit Len Jackson for 12. After a four-yard run by Puryear put the ball on the Buc 21, Drew pitched out to the all-state back who in turn threw a 21-yard touchdown pass to Lewis who was alone in the end zone. Carnevale added the point and Montclair led 14-7.

The game got extremely defensive from thereon. Belleville did mount a drive in the third quarter when backup quarterback John Norton hit Lenny Mendola for 44 yards to the Mountie 31. Mendola might have gone all the way with the pass, but guess who caught him? That's right, Puryear. The Bucs got to the Mountie 25, but the drive stalled on two straight incompletions by Norton.

The Mounties were contented with the lead and rarely passed after gaining it. Meanwhile, the defense had star BHS running back Mike Nicosia pretty much contained. Nicosia, who had 150 yards in the opener against Livingston, found the Target Practice — BHS quarterback Ed Aulisi searches for an open receiver in Saturday's football game at Montclair. The Bucs took a 14-7 loss, though they played the Mounties evenly. They face an improved Nutley this weekend away.

Maroon Raiders improved team

By John Jurich

When the Buc football team met Nutley last year at Municipal Stadium many expected a closely fought contest. Both teams were 1-1. Belleville had "upset" Livingston in its opener and had taken a routine beating from Montclair.

This year, Belleville clobbered Livingston, as not a few expected the Bucs would, and came near to upending Montclair. And the Blue-Gold football squad goes into Saturday's game with Nutley remembering last season's smashing 31-0 victory. The Bucs have to rate the favorite in the contest which starts 1:30 p.m. at the Park Oval.

Tennis team wins its first

By Mike Lamberti

The Belleville High girls' tennis team captured its first victory of the 1979 season with a 4-1 thrumping of the Irvington Camperettes.

The win boosted the team record to 1-4. On Tuesday, the team hosted Immaculate Conception and today will travel to Cedar Grove. Next week, the girls will compete in the county tournament.

"It was a good win for us," said head coach Karen Fucello of the Irvington match. "The girls played their own game and concentrated very well."

Carol Salerno led the team with an impressive 6-2, 6-1 win. "She had good strokes," said the coach. "Her concentration was good and she showed me a lot with the win."

Rose Leonidis performed well in winning. "She is only a sophomore but has shown signs of brilliance," said Fucello. "She needs time to develop her stroke. She goes to the net well and has a great backhand."

The doubles team of Karen Pettino and Gina Pasquale looked good as did the other doubles combo of Joyce Iacullo and Cathy Constantino. "They both showed good team work which is essential in tennis,"

Please see "Netwomen" on page 12.

Last year's win was the first by a Belleville football team over Nutley since 1971 and the point explosion represented the first time a Belleville club had scored on one from next door since 1974. Such a dry spell is not likely to be repeated for a long time, but last season's lopsided score is also unlikely.

The Maroon Raiders are bigger and better than last year. They gave Seton Hall, number three in the state, a tough defensive battle, losing by only a 13-6 score. Last weekend at Irvington, Nutley demolished the Campers 20-0 in a game that shouldn't have been that close.

"We expect a good, hard-nosed football game," said Raider head coach Bill Farkas, making his stock pre-game statement. "We're going to have to play solid defense and offense and our execution has to be perfect."

"We respect Belleville," continued the coach. "They're an explosive club. John Senesky has done an excellent job."

And Farkas says he isn't fooled by the outcome of Belleville's previous game. "Our scouts told us that Belleville outplayed Montclair," the coach said. "They're (Belleville) well drilled and have good balance. Their play execution is almost run to perfection." So much for Belleville. Farkas will be shouting himself hoarse Saturday at a capable Maroon team led by senior quarterback Bill Ferinde and excellent passer and scrambler.

Ferinde, one of three captains, will be handing off about two-thirds of the time to a backfield contingent with good, but not great, speed. Seniors Jim Viola, Tom Lazar, Bob Laraca and Mike Nisovicchia have all performed well so far and are the nucleus of a fine punt and kick return team. Laraca scored two touchdowns against Irvington.

Other players to watch out for on offense are senior back Don Rosa and end Bill McDaniel, who grabbed a couple of passes Saturday, one for a touchdown. Senior Dave Lindstrom, an excellent center, is

Soccer squad coasts over Essex Catholic

By David S. Vaughan

The Belleville High soccer squad won its second game in a row last Wednesday afternoon, a 5-1 victory over Essex Catholic, but the streak was short-lived as the Bucs lost Friday at Nutley.

Prior to the five-goal outburst Wednesday, the Bucs had scored only three times in as many games, though they had still managed to win two of those contests.

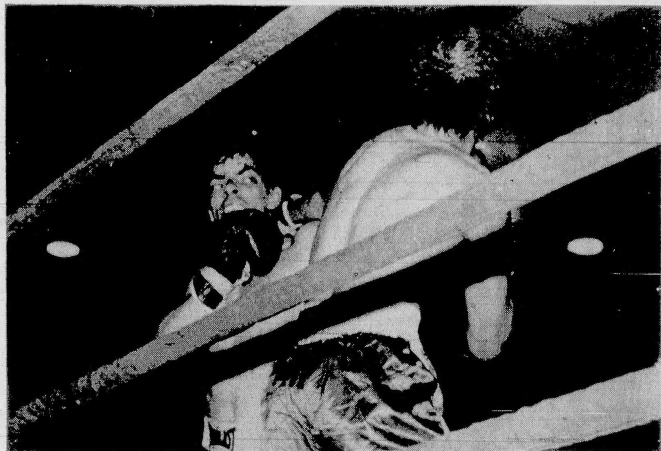

Dennis Dilican fired home two goals for the locals with John Lee, Gato Calabace and Jeff Hageman adding one tally apiece.

The Raiders of Nutley thoroughly outplayed the Bucs on Friday and handed Belleville its second loss against three wins by a 3-1 final. Pat Leonidis netted the Bucs' lone tally late in the match after the Raiders had scored both of their goals, one coming in the first quarter, one in the third and another in the final stanza.

Nutley goalie John McNulty kept Belleville from closing the gap late in the contest when he turned aside a Calabace penalty kick and stopped a Buc breakaway. "We were clearly outplayed over there," said Coach Anthony DeAquino of the game in Raider territory.

The Bucs hosted Seton Hall yesterday and play Montclair tomorrow at 3:45 p.m. at Clearman Field before traveling 10 St. Benedict's Monday. The Montclair game may be seen 8 p.m. tomorrow on Channel 3 and will be repeated 10:30 a.m. Saturday and 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Best Boxer — Don "Duffy" Nisiovica of the New Jersey Spartans squares off with Ed Kenney of Paterson during the annual multiple sclerosis boxing match at BHS Friday. Nisiovica won the 122-pound fight and was named best boxer on the 12-bout card.

Cobras once more fall back early, lose to Chatham 3-0

By Fred Lardaro

For the third successive Saturday, the Belleville Cobras soccer team displayed an annoying tendency to fall behind in the early moments of a game as they were shut out 3-0 by Chatham at Chatham Boro High School.

The Cobras surrendered all three goals before the game was five said the coach. "They are starting to learn their assignments better and are working well together."

Earlier in the week, the girls were beaten by a strong Nutley team 5-0. "We didn't perform well at all," said Fuccello. "Nutley is a good team, but I feel that we could have given them a better match. Carol Salerno looked good (losing 7-6, 6-4) and could have won the match. The rest of the team wasn't that impressive though."

Concluded the coach, "We have to continue to play the teams at our level tough and to beat them. We have a tough schedule, and a lot of the teams have more experience than us, but we have to hang in there and play aggressive."

minutes old, and it was only the reckless determination of first-year goalkeeper Brian Cook that prevented a rout.

Cook was forced to charge from the goal mouth to defend against six breakaways and was more than once involved in fierce collisions with opposing forwards. Chatham shelled Cook with 31 shots, and if the current trend of allowing opponents to take such liberties on the Cobra goal continues, the young keeper will be a calloused veteran before his 14th birthday.

"We're in need of one fullback who can settle us on defense," said assistant coach Gabe Micchelli. "Last season we had Guido Labate at center fullback. Labate was strong and had good size. More importantly, he was an intelligent soccer player."

Labate was eligible to return to the Cobras this season, but he is moving to California soon and did not sign up for the team.

"And if we could just shake the nervousness that haunts us at the outset," Micchelli continued, "we'd be one hell of a team. In every game, we've conceded early goals. This isn't too healthy a practice, so we're going to work hard to remedy the problem this week. We've been in situations where it would've been easy to roll over and die, but the kids haven't, and I give them credit. They refuse to quit."

Against Chatham, the Cobras did show signs of improvement in the midfield. Mike Seletti, Lou LaConti and Alan Ruopp demonstrated a feel for a concerted effort as the three overlapped when pressed on defense and made extensive use of give-and-go passing to advance the ball to the forwards.

Freddie Calvache played his usual strong game at striker and filled in at sweeper during the second half. Jimmy Murphy played well on the left wing and led the Cobras with four shots on goal.

QUICK KICKS: The Chatham game marked the debut of the Fidelity Union Trust Company's emblem on the Cobras' Columbia blue jerseys. Fidelity's generous, and timely, financial contribution assures the Cobras solvency over the 24-game season which extends into May. The Cobras had capped a week of intense training with a successful exhibition match against the Division I Spurs of the Recreation Soccer League last Thursday... Head Coach Sam MacArthur indicated that there will be some long evenings of practice ahead as the team primes for this Saturday's match with Bayonne. The Cobras are now 0-2-1.

terrain a little tougher in the Mountie affair. Starting quarterback Ed Aulisi tried his best to move the team, but his passes were being muffed by the huge Mountie line. The Buc penetrated as far as the Mountie 35-yard line, but no further. The game ended as Norton hit Bob LaBruzza with a 12-yard pass.

GRID NOTES: The Buc record is now 1-1. Senesky expects a tough game with Nutley on Saturday. "They are very aggressive and will be up for this one," he said. "They looked very good against Seton Hall (a 13-6 Nutley loss) and beat Irvington who is improving. It's always been a great rivalry and I'm looking forward to a tough game."... Last week's stats were incomplete. We reported that Lenny Mendola ran for 59 yards on eight carries. Those were just his first-half totals. Overall, he gained 87 yards on 12 carries. Apologies.

one of six 200-pounders on the squad, an unusually high number for Nutley in recent years.

Senior tackle Brian Jernick and senior defensive back Dave McChristal are both big and love to hit. They are the other captains. Other players who must perform up to capabilities if Belleville is to be stopped are senior defensive back Roger Il Grande, junior center Ed Guerino, senior guards Paul Cafone and Bob DeFuria and junior Mark Shergalis.

Farkas and his Raiders still feel the sting of last year's shellacking and after years of dominating Belleville teams aren't about to let it happen again. It's up to the Bucs now to start a domination of their own.

Cross country beaten by Bloomfield 18-40

It was a quiet week for the Belleville High cross country team. The Bucs ran just once and took an 18-40 shallacking at the hands of Bloomfield.

Last Saturday, the team competed in the Passaic County Coaches Invitational at Garret Mountain. Today they will host Montclair and a week from tomorrow will take on East Orange and West Orange in a home double dual meet.

Against Bloomfield, the Bucs got a nice performance from Tom Graham but after that were never in the race. "Tommy ran well" said head coach Rich Ruffalo. "He took second place with a good time (17:32). I was also impressed with Dana Caruso. She continues to improve, and we're looking for a lot from her."

The loss dropped the team mark to 0-6. In the Garret Mountain meet, it was Caruso who once again looked sharp. The junior harrier took 11th place and earned a medal. Overall her time for the three-mile course was an excellent 18:23. — Mike Lambert.

LEAF-RELIEF FOOTBALL SEASON IS NEAR AGAIN. BUT IF YOU DON'T HAVE A SNAPPER, THE RAKING SEASON IS HERE AGAIN.

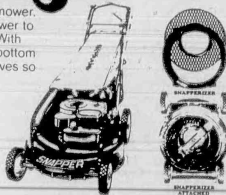

SNAPPER "High Vacuum" riding mowers not only do a good job of cutting grass, they pick up the cuttings, leaves and litter in a hurry. Depending on the size of your spread, optional catchers are available with six and thirty bushel capacities. That means you may be able to mow and vacuum your entire area without stopping to empty.

If your lawn area doesn't require a riding mower, there's also a SNAPPER walk-behind mower to get fall chores out of the way in a hurry. With an optional Snapperizer attached to the bottom of a SNAPPER mower, you can shred leaves so the bag holds over twice as many and you have to empty it less often.

Ask for a demonstration of a SNAPPER. You'll see why SNAPPER owners are able to enjoy more of the games.

Keeping It Even — Senior BHS tackle Joe DeLorenzo pulls down Montclair's super running back, Steve Puryear, late in the second quarter. Among those moving in to assist is No. 85, Danny Amadeo. The Bucs had just scored their one and only touchdown of the day to make it 7-7. Puryear played a large role in Belleville's eventual downfall.

Fire Out — In the third quarter, Frank Swain is brought down by a swarm of Mountie defenders at about the Montclair 25 after a gain of six yards. The Buc drive died there, however.

Drive Workhorse — Frank Swain gains to about the Mountie 20 in the second quarter as his teammates provide effective blocking. The Buc senior ran for 25 yards during Belleville's 57-yard scoring drive.

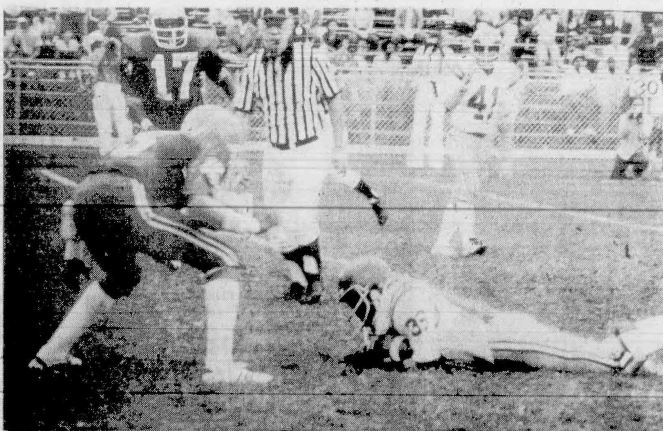

Good Beginning — Frank Fazzini grabs a Montclair punt early in the second quarter and returns it 21 yards to the Mountie 43 from where the Bucs started their touchdown drive.

Buc Hug — Belleville tackle Lugie Chimento gets a hold of Steve Puryear, something a lot of Buc fans would have liked to do before the game. Puryear carried for 85 yards and grabbed a 33-yard pass, in addition to tossing a 21-yarder.

Deep Territory — Bob LaBruzza crunches over Mountie Aubrey Lewis for a five-yard gain early in the second quarter. That put the Bucs on their own 15. They punted soon after.

Enough's Enough — Montclair's Daryl Giles menaces Frank Swain, but the play is already over as the Buc back has been tripped up from behind. Swain was Belleville's leading rusher on the day with 55 yards.

Trustees label citizen's charge of group's stacking 'ridiculous'

"I don't like what I see," said Montagna, claiming he has been kept off the restructuring committee because he wanted the board to wage a legal fight against the state's desegregation order.

However, Montagna comes from the School 3 district, which already has two representatives (each school has two), including Nadine Janik, also an advocate of legally battling the desegregation mandate.

Romano said the committee is "not stacked with administrators or teachers and I don't hand-pick anyone." He emphasized that only seven people on the committee live out-of-town and they're either administrators, teachers or business representatives crucial to comprehensively informing other committee members of the consequences of particular plans.

"Many of these people were chosen because of their expertise in a certain area," said Romano, emphasizing that nobody was excluded from the "restructuring committee" who wanted to join and could contribute a different perspective to the group.

He noted that 53 members now comprise the committee, although some have recently left because of time conflicts or personal business, leaving about 44 now.

"This restructuring committee should be praised, all the long hours and time they've given up, just because one man says negative things about it doesn't mean anything," said Romano.

"Restructuring means one thing: that children are going to be moved and that's it," said Montagna. "All these word games about 'de facto' and 'de jure' segregation and 'restructuring' just cloud that fact," he said, adding that parents should decide, with the help of experts, what restructuring is needed.

The exact number of parents with children in the schools is not known, said Montagna. "But there's no way you're going to get fair representation on these (three) subcommittees and steering committee if administrators (including teachers and business reps) make up more than half this committee."

"What he (Montagna) says is completely and totally ridiculous," said Romano. "There's good, honest people working on this committee. It's a very difficult task to always have to be defending this committee rather than working with it."

"This committee is not stacked by any stretch of the imagination. I think that's a poor statement to make," said Trustee Ernie Zoppi, who along with Romano and Trustee Charles-Miele heads the committee. Zoppi noted that trustees must soon decide what school or schools to close because the State Department of Education told them their next budget appeal might be turned down if they don't economize by closing schools.

Zoppi also stressed that trustees will not be closing schools under the guise of satisfying the desegregation order. "You cannot close a minority school or any school and just get rid of a racial imbalance," he said.

"He (Montagna) feels this is a school problem, not a town problem, but you don't have to have kids in school to be concerned," added Zoppi.

"The people on the committee were chosen because they can contribute," said Board President Ralph Risoli. "If you have to have children in the schools to be concerned with them, then I shouldn't be a board member."

"I can appreciate his (Montagna's) opinion. I know he's concerned. But it becomes self-defeating about something when you're only saying negative things. If we can satisfy 90 percent of the townspeople with this committee's conclusions, then we'll be being honest, and most people are looking for that," said Zoppi.

Vest drive at an end

that the idea might not catch on, but that fear soon proved unfounded. As news of the Police Vest Fund began to spread through the papers and by word of mouth, contributions began snowballing. About 200 businesses and 200 citizens, "the little people of Belleville" as Stanecki called them Sunday, had sent in money by the time the drive was over. Most citizens were from town, but not a few were former residents, some living as far away as Florida. Merchants from surrounding towns also made contributions.

By the end of July, the first 17 of the $185 point-blank body armor vests had been purchased. They were distributed as they arrived by lot, with officers on the street getting them first. Some policemen had already purchased vests with their own money. It was announced Sunday that the committee would reimburse them.

The vests considered the best made, weigh two-and-three-quarter pounds and have four removable panels which can be worn in different combinations to provide different protection levels. The vests are form-fitting and allow an officer easy access to his weapon.

The efforts of the committee and the contributions made by the people drew praise from Belleville's top officials at the breakfast. "It's nice to know that there are so many people out there who care about us," said Belleville PBA President William Escott.

The persons involved in the Vest Fund drive were presented awards. Perhaps the loudest applause went to Stanecki's 22-year-old daughter, Vicki, who received a bouquet of flowers.

the restructuring committee's recommendations if citizens attack their final decision on restructuring — using the committee as a scapegoat.

But School Superintendent Dr. John Greed disagrees, saying trustees always bear the brunt of their decisions, or indecision.

"I think there's been procrastination in the closing of schools," Greed told The Times/News Tuesday. "But the big implication of (the restructuring committee) is that we don't need nine elementary schools," he stressed.

Greed said trustees realize many problems are encountered in closing schools. "So they'll be relying on the recommendations of the restructuring committee. For me to make comments on exactly what should be done is not the democratic way. We don't want them to go into this with a ready-prepared menu," said Greed, alluding to charges that trustees are pushing some preconceived restructuring plan.

Many citizens questioned seemed to think the restructuring committee's recommendations will be both redundant and exasperating, since many committees that addressed such questions in the past have simply been thanked for their time, rarely being told publicly why their recommendations were subsequently ignored or rejected.

An interim report on Belleville's restructuring is due in November to the state Department of Education with a final plan due by January 1980.

The 53-member restructuring committee, chaired by Trustee Caesar Romano, has come under fire for allegedly trying to exclude residents who favored fighting the state desegregation order. (See story on this page.) On Aug. 9, schoolers voted 4-3 to "restructure" the school system, and desegregation was not even mentioned in their resolution.

Forty-two months ago, the state ordered Belleville to correct what it said were racial imbalances at Schools 1 and 9, which have a higher minority population than the town's seven other elementary schools.

Since that time, board members have admitted to deliberately trying to stall and give state officials the run-around to avoid having to comply, despite the risk of losing $3 to $4 million in state aid. The delay tactics gave trustees time to explore the feasibility of fighting the state order in court. They decided the fight would be too expensive and that there was a good chance they would lose.

Greed privately emphasizes that schools must be closed; how trustees and citizens settle the dispute over whether to maintain the present high-cost, gradually deteriorating, energy-inefficient school system is the pressing question. — Mike Olohan

An open letter to Garden Meat Market customers

Dear Customers:
 Recently, the Garden Meat Market ceased business after almost 50 years of continuous service to dedicated customers in Belleville and surrounding towns. We wish to thank our life-long friends for their trust in us and helping the business to succeed for nearly five decades.

We apologize for the abrupt closing which was not within our control, however, we welcome Mr. Vito Sylvestro as the new merchant occupying the premises. He is a reputable man with an established business and is anxiously waiting to serve you with the same sincerity and honesty as we tried to do during the past years.

Our family has been instrumental for many years with helping the town to grow and we openly encourage you to support this new business in the town of Belleville. We too, are planning on being steady new customers!

Again, our sincere thanks to all for your support and friendship and our very best wishes to Vito and Louise Sylvestro for a most successful and rewarding venture.

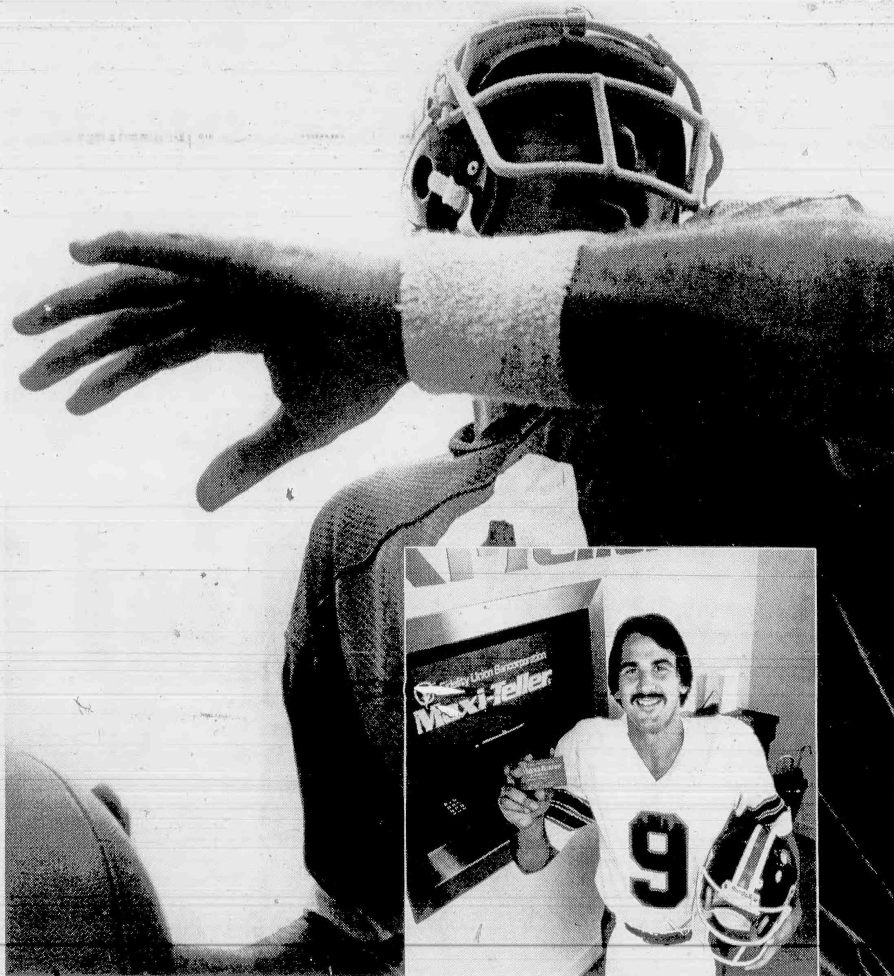

Sincerely,
 Angelo and Josephine Vuono

Advice from Local Podiatrist

Children's Foot Health Sometimes Overlooked

By Dr. Schail C. Frank

Parents are aware of the importance of their children's eyes, teeth, etc., but frequently are unaware of the importance of proper foot health. Recent surveys have shown one out of five school children have foot problems needing attention.

Here are some common misconceptions concerning children's feet:

1. "All babies have flat feet."

Not true. This myth tends to encourage neglect of those babies who truly do have this problem. Only when the infant takes his first step does an arch develop. This is a hereditary trait seen in at least one of the parents.

2. "Your child will outgrow his foot or leg problems."

The fact that older children have a higher percentage of problems than infants indicates that all problems do not spontaneously improve.

3. "If a child does not outgrow a foot problem, the child should be fitted with a good pair of corrective shoes."

This is a final guarantee that the problem will be left uncorrected. While good fitting shoes are a good investment, they simply cannot correct many different foot disorders.

The critical period of foot and leg development is in the first year of life. This is when the foot can be molded into either a deformed or corrected position. The use of angled shoes, casts or hurs are most successful during this period.

Parents should inspect the child's feet and legs for the presence of such problems as:

1. Flat feet evidenced by a bulge on the inside ankle or, with older children, on the medial counter of the shoe.

2. Knock knee, bowlegged condition, in toe and out toe, associated with abnormal foot, leg and or thigh development.

3. Unusual tightness or excess wrinkles of the skin. You may see this with a foot in a "down and in" or "up and out" position.

4. Feet and knees which don't face straight ahead. If the infant is in full control of his gait and trips over his feet, consult your podiatrist. Remember, the normal toe-to-heel gait occurs after ages 2 or 3.

Growing children rarely complain of pain or discomfort, another reason why problems are not diagnosed at an early age.

Once a foot disorder is isolated, an orthosis, a device worn in the shoe, will help correct the problem, straightening or improving the function of a growing foot.

Clara Maass Maternity Wins $150,000 Grant

The Kresge Foundation of Troy, Mich., has awarded a $150,000 challenge grant to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital for the renovation and modernization of the obstetrical department.

After considering nearly 1,200 grant proposals, the foundation made commitments totaling $35.1 million. Clara Maass joins 177 organizations in 35 states, Washington, D.C., and three foreign countries as a beneficiary of the grants.

The grant will be used for construction of an early labor lounge, additional labor and delivery room combinations which permit delivery in a homelike setting, a recovery room for optimum safety and comfort and the purchase of new equipment.

The projected cost for all the projects is over $1 million. So far, nearly $800,000 has been raised. To meet the Kresge challenge grant, the hospital must realize an additional $261,000.

Clara Maass has the third highest birth-rate among all New Jersey hospitals. The obstetrical department, featuring family-centered maternity service, has long been recognized by professionals in the field as one of the most progressive units in the state.

The Clara Maass maternity program is designed to meet the needs of parents, the newborn and siblings. Among the services offered are prepared childbirth classes for expectant parents and infant bonding with both parents immediately following birth. Parents are also given the opportunity to select any variation of "rooming-in" with their baby, in keeping with the hospital's family-centered approach.

The Kresge Foundation was created solely by the personal gifts of the late Sebastian S. Kresge and is not affiliated with any other corporation or organization. Since 1924, appropriations of over $346 million have been made to institutions in the areas of higher learning, health services, the arts, conservation and social welfare.

THE UNITED WAY IS A GIFT WE GIVE EACH OTHER FOR BEING HUMAN.

Sometimes it's not easy being human. Medical libraries are filled with diseases of the body and mind. And, as if that weren't enough, we humans tend to create many of our own problems.

Drugs. Child abuse. Family squabbles. The list goes on and on. Things we don't mean to do, but end up doing to each other and ourselves.

It's all part of being human, and all part of why there's a United Way.

The United Way is an organization devoted to making it easier to deal with the problems of being human. An organization dedicated to making humanity more humane.

And since each of us is responsible for keeping the United Way successful, it's like a gift we give to each other for being human.

A gift in the best of human traditions: sharing. Thanks to you.

Proceeds from Players' 'Sugar' go to Community Mental Health

Players Help — Doris Mianeki, representing the Roche Players, presents a $4,700 check to Steven Dranoff, executive director of the Clifton Mental Health Services. An identical check is presented to Dr. Robert Fruchtbau, chairman of the board of the Community Mental Health Services of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, by Robert Wald, manager of Roche personnel services. Leonard Silverman, assistant vice president and personnel director, looks on at left.

The Community Mental Health Services of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley have received a check for $4,700 from the Roche Players.

The presentation was made at a luncheon held at Hoffmann-LaRoche earlier this month. The money represented the proceeds of four benefit performances of "Sugar" given by the Roche Players in June at the Mount Hebron School in Montclair. The checks were presented by Doris Mianeki of the Roche Players to Dr. Robert Fruchtbau, chairman of the Community Mental Health Services Board of Trustees.

Puppet show is due in town next month

The Peppermint Playhouse Puppets are back in session again, performing "Feeling Good" for New Jersey elementary school children. The group will be appearing in Belleville next month.

The purpose of the traveling puppet troupe is to educate young audiences on the importance of developing good health habits. The fun-filled puppet show is made possible through funding from Hoffmann-LaRoche, the local pharmaceutical company.

Queen NERVES (N, nutrition; E, exercise; R, rest; V, visits; S, safety and sanitation) and her Health-Nuts star in the original adventure story about staying healthy. Among the cast of characters are a mischievous Party Pooper whose health is magically restored by Queen Nerves, superhero Zapman, who learns about the four food groups. The Puppets provide good advice well taken by children of all ages: Good health habits are the secret to feeling good.

"Feeling Good" is being made available to elementary schools throughout the state by the Roche Community Affairs/Department of Public Affairs. In addition, the company is providing materials to aid teachers in leading classroom discussions after the performance.

The show comes to Montgomery School 2 at 9:45 a.m. Nov. 13 and plays at School 10 1:30 p.m. the same day. Other performances are scheduled for 10 a.m. Nov. 29 at St. Mary's School, 2:15 p.m. Nov. 30 at School 1—and 9:45 a.m. Dec. 6 at Holy Family School.

Senior art, craft show starts here tomorrow

Senior talent will be featured at the Essex County Recreation Department's annual craft show 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday at the Belleville Avenue Senior Citizen Center.

Seniors from across the county will display a wide variety of crafts ranging from ceramics and sculpture to quilting and beading. In addition to arts and crafts demonstrations, there will be a presentation in wok cookery and origami (decorative paper arrangements) to highlight the theme of the oriental show, "Inn of the Seventh Happiness."

For more information, call 482-6400, extension 266.

Peppermint Puppets — The traveling puppet troupe, the Peppermint Playhouse Puppets, is the creation of the human puppet, Lois Mettler, and puppeteer Carol Saks. Former teachers with master's degrees, the Rivervale women are delighting audiences with their puppet family which includes superhero Zapman. The educational show comes to Belleville elementary schools next month.

Search begins across county for Essex Miss

The search is on in communities throughout the area for the Essex County high school senior girl most representative of her classmates. The young woman chosen as Essex County's Junior Miss will compete with other finalists from the state and country for the coveted national title in the 22nd annual Junior Miss Pageant.

More than $1,000 in scholarships, savings bonds and merchandise will be presented to participants in the local, state and national contests in the 1980 pageant year.

Girls between 16 and 19 presently in their senior year in any Essex County high school are eligible to participate.

Judging is based on qualities and abilities in the areas of poise and appearance, youth fitness, academics, talent and personal interviews.

Entry forms may be obtained by writing contestant chairman Michael Paulino, 161 Ohlson Ave., Nutley, N.J. 07110 or calling him at 667-7315.
