100th year at St. Peter's for the Sisters of Charity

The Sisters of Charity will mark their 100th anniversary of teaching at St. Peter's School this Sunday. The parish will celebrate the occasion with a Mass of Thanksgiving 2 p.m. at St. Peter's Church.

Principal celebrant and homilist will be the Most Rev. Joseph A. Francis, auxiliary bishop of Newark and episcopal vicar of Essex. Priests who are now serving or have served in the past at St. Peter's will concelebrate the Mass. A buffet will be held in the school cafeteria following Mass.

St. Peter's parishioners established a school in 1859. Headmaster Patrick Smith and a lay staff conducted classes for 20 years. Following Smith's death, St. Peter's pastor, the Rev. William Dornin, invited the Dominican Sisters of Charity from Convent Station to direct the school.

Mother Mary Xavier, the order's mother general at the time, sent Sister Mary Teresa Dornin to St. Peter's School which had an enrollment of 20.

Today, Rev. Msgr. John M. Byrne continues the pastoral work of his predecessors and Sister Beatrice Guider. St. Peter's principal, heads a teaching staff of 10 sisters assisted by a lay faculty. Enrollment at the elementary school was at 437 pupils last week and that number is likely to go up one or two with late arrivals.

Thirteen young women from St. Peter's have become Sisters of Charity. The six surviving nuns still only teach but help with the financial affairs of the entire congregation at Convent Station. Sisters who formerly taught at St. Peter's will be on hand Sunday along with those who do now.

"It is expected I shall be the mother of many daughters," St. Elizabeth Ann Seton once said. She pronounced the vows of poverty, chastity and obedience as a Sister of Charity on March 25, 1809, and from that day was called Mother Seton by her four spiritual daughters. St. Elizabeth and her "daughters" established the first Catholic parochial school in the United States in New York. It was from there that Mother Mary Xavier came to New Jersey to found the order in the state and establish the teaching presence of the Sisters of Charity at St. Peter's.

Assistant School Superintendent Seymour Grossman was listed in critical condition Tuesday at St. Michael's Hospital in Newark after suffering a heart attack.

Grossman was attending a Kiwanis Club past presidents dinner Saturday night when he complained of feeling ill. He was taken to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital and transferred at 12:15 a.m. Monday morning to St. Michael's where he was placed under intensive cardiac care.

The 59-year-old Grossman has been with the Belleville school system 33 years. A former Latin teacher and principal of the Junior High School, he has been assistant superintendent the last seven years.

Restaurant operating without proper papers

By Donna Abate

The case of the Wendy's Restaurant proposed for Franklin Avenue appears to be drawing to a close, but the case of the Chandelier Restaurant may be about to open. It was revealed last week that the establishment has been operating without a certificate of occupancy since it opened three years ago.

How this situation occurred is just one of the questions being posed now by town officials. The possibility has also been strongly hinted at that other restaurants and buildings in town may be without certificates of occupancy.

The situation at the Chandelier was discovered by Planning Board members seeking information for use in the Wendy's case. Phil Fucetola, who owns the property on which the

A & P food store stood before it burned last January, has been seeking to put a Wendy's Restaurant and a Fabric Emporium on the lot.

Three years ago, however, Chandelier owner Tom Apiselli was given permission for his restaurant only after he told the Zoning Board he had a "gentleman's agreement" with Fucetola to use 99 parking spaces on the A & P lot for his customers.

The Planning Board has sought to pin down the terms of that agreement and those of the Zoning Board approval in order to make its judgment in the Wendy's case. At their meeting last month, planners asked the town's construction code official, Robert Domenick, to find out the terms of the Chandelier's certificate of occupancy.

It was then that the discovery was made that the Chandelier had no certificate. The restaurant was granted a building permit to add 2,293 square feet to an original structure of 4,356, but the certificate of occupancy was never issued because the town fire code of 1922 required a sprinkler system in "all new structures that hold 20 or more persons."

Fire Capt. Edward Dunleavy, who served as the department's investigator, refused to sign the certificate. Please see "Tangled events" on page 8.

Belleville shoppers will soon enjoy the added services of a Pathmark "super center." The Planning Board conditionally approved the expansion of the Silver Lake store last Thursday night.

The Pathmark store, located on Belmont Avenue, will be expanded from 42,315 to 54,560 square feet. The expansion will include an optical center and an enlarged pharmacy, and items such as film, small cameras, small appliances, records, magazines and toiletries cosmetics will be available.

The expansion also provides for a satellite store near the Pathmark building, but what that store will be for is not yet known.

Planners basically favored the expansion but expressed concern about deep potholes, litter and poor upkeep of the property and told Pathmark representatives that the store would have to better maintain the area.

Board Chairman Joseph Grande also noted that a large number of muggings have taken place in the lot and suggested better lighting in the parking areas to increase security.

"I'm going to insist on increased security," Grande said. "You're worried about shoplifting, I'm worried about protection in the parking lot."

Pathmark has two security guards within the store now. Grande suggested one more be hired to patrol the parking lot.

Pathmark officials, represented by attorney Myron D. Waxberg of Woodbridge, agreed to repave their lot and install two light poles between the lot and an unpaved area on the westerly side of the store.

Fire Chief George Sbarra, who attended the meeting, asked the board to stipulate that no more building be permitted on the property in the future without the

Planning Board meeting tonight

A special meeting at which residents may make suggestions for the new zoning ordinance will be held before the Planning Board 7:30 tonight at Town Hall.

Planners, who were given recommendations from the Board of Commissioners to study several weeks ago, will report their final findings to the board late this month.

Senior Notes

By George Chenoweth

Several publications that should be of interest to senior citizens are available at a reduced rate. For only $2.25, members of the National Council of Senior Citizens may obtain copies of the new book, "The Rights of Older Persons." The book is one of a series of handbooks published by the American Civil Liberties Union and informs seniors of their legal rights under Social Security, the Internal Revenue Act, age discrimination laws and many other statutes affecting older persons.

The book is written in simple, easy-to-understand language. It explains the various laws to older persons, their families, non-lawyer professionals such as social workers and nurses, and lawyers who represent the elderly. The handbook's is geared primarily to rights of older persons who receive important benefits such as Social Security, Supplemental Security Income, Medicare and pensions and shows how to be protected against illegal behavior like employment discrimination based on age. To order, send your check or money order to the National Council of Senior Citizens, 1511 K St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20005.

Senior citizens are being offered an opportunity to purchase another valuable book to make life a little easier in dealing with the bureaucracy that seems intent on denying their rightful benefits. The book is "Guide to Recovering Medical Expenses" plus "Family Medical Ledger" by Karl Waller, a syndicated columnist writing on personal and family financial matters. The guide takes senior citizens step by step through Medicare, supplemental insurance and federal income taxes to secure maximum reimbursements and benefits. This is a comprehensive detailing of steps to be followed by seniors in filling out the various forms connected with Medicare. The guide leads seniors from identifying whether the medical expense was covered through the process of filing the necessary claim forms whenever entitled to reimbursement and finally using unrecovered sums as an income tax deduction. To obtain this book, write Waller at P.O. Box 5151, Cleveland, Ohio 44101. Make check or money order of $2.95 payable to the author.

The fall and winter program of the Belleville Public Library has many goodies in store for seniors who may care to take advantage of them in a relaxing atmosphere. The Reader published by the library lists these activities. Call at the library for your copy and while there inquire about the extensive film service. Films are loaned to Belleville residents at no charge.

Shapiro coming here for Tuesday meeting

County Executive Peter Shapiro will be at Town Hall 6:30 p.m. Tuesday for a meeting with commissioners. The topic of the meeting, to which the public is invited, will be what Shapiro calls the "ongoing process" of reorganizing county government under the new county administrative code.

Commissioners will gather at 5 Tuesday to discuss specifications for a new town garbage disposal contract. The present one runs out at the end of the year. At 8 the same night at Town Hall, the public is invited to give its views on housing and other needs in Belleville and present proposals for the Essex County Community Development Block Grant Program.

For more information, call the Essex County Division of Community Development at 759-4710.

Prayer for today

O God, before I say or do anything I turn to Thee to ask for self-control and silence before I act. Supply the strength that I need just now if I am not to act impulsively.

Quiet the demands of my bruised feelings. Bring calmness and confidence to my troubled spirit.

Restrain any desire to hurt the one I feel has let me down. And, most of all, make me want to understand him for Your sake. Amen.

Grand jury investigation

It took Jim Golden, the people's watchdog, to focus public attention upon the professional audit of the books of the Town of Belleville.

It was Jim Golden who discovered the Belleville Town audit was not filed. It is a document that should have been published no later than July. As Golden pointed out in his correspondence, the audit of the Town of Nutley conformed to the state requirements.

After writing to Trenton, Golden was informed by the Division of Local Government Services that "we are aware that the report is long past due."

Shortly after Golden put the heat on Trenton, the report was finally filed at Town Hall and Jim Golden decided to take a look at the document. Here are some of the things he found: The audit report referred to the fact that "general records do not provide for an accumulation of payments for similar categories of materials and supplies for related work and labor."

The audit document reported the finding that six vendors were favored with business in excess of $2,500 without compliance with the bid statutes.

The 1978 taxes Receivable Account was out of balance with the ledger.

Properties were acquired by the Town for taxes but no action was taken to sell them off and place them back on a revenue producing basis.

There are ten items of unidentified cash receipts?

The Payroll Bank Accounts were not reconciled.

Additionally, money was transferred from the Department of Public Affairs to the Department of Public Safety despite advice from Trenton that the statute does not provide for such a transfer.

The public already is cynical. This audit report gives no comfort to the taxpayer.

What Belleville needs is a Grand Jury investigation to seek the facts concerning the questions raised in the professional audit of the Town of Belleville. If the Essex County prosecutor needs a formal invitation to come to Belleville, we hereby extend it.

School Maintenance

Recently the Town Commission made a deal with school trustees and as a result the educational system budget was approved which permits the School Board to undertake much needed repairs to some of our schools.

Prevention maintenance is the most important investment a landlord can make. However, the Belleville schools are in a condition that goes well beyond the preventive maintenance stage. At the moment maintenance is needed mainly to keep the buildings from caving in. The school building maintenance program has been hurt primarily because voters have vetoed the school system budget 16 of the last 17 years.

No one can fail to repair a building without suffering the consequences — higher costs later on. Public buildings are no different than a private home, they need tender loving care — and the Belleville schools have been denied that care by Belleville voters.

Soon the School Board will be tackling next year's budget and once again the people of Belleville will be provided the opportunity of rejecting another sound document. Optimists that we are — it is our hope the voters will recognize the need to provide the School Board with the funds to maintain school buildings.

Frank A. Orechio

Letters

Readers react to school editorial

To the Editor:

I have just finished reading the Oct. 4 issue of the Belleville Times. I just can't believe what I have read — "Close Down Schools One and Nine" — in the editorial column by one Mr. Orechio.

Mr. Orechio, who resides in Nutley no less, has the nerve to tell the people of Belleville to close our two schools. He states that both schools are too old to maintain economically. Apparently, Mr. Orechio you need to do some homework. School Nine was built in 1926. It was one of the last schools built in Belleville. Pay a visit to School Nine. You will see a school that has been newly painted and is well maintained. As for these schools being a burden on the taxpayer, we too are taxpayers. We are entitled to have a neighborhood school just as the people above Washington Ave.

Joan Current
327 Stephens St., Belleville

To the Editor:

In response to your editorial of Oct. 4, referring to the closing of both Schools One and Nine in the Valley section of Belleville, we wish to comment, as members of the citizens committee, homeowners, taxpayers and parents of children in School Nine.

In your editorial you single out our schools as a burden to the taxpayer of Belleville. We wish to bring to your attention that there are two other schools in Belleville with an equally small enrollment and old buildings.

By cutting off our school boundary to the east of Washington Avenue, you are totally separating the Valley from the rest of the town. Also, by closing Schools One and Nine, the town would be eliminating the segregation problem, but would leave the Valley with no schools. It should also be noted the state will not allow the board to solve the segregation problem by the closing of these schools.

We would like to ask you, Mr. Orechio, where do we send the almost 300 grade school children from the Valley? The residents west of Washington Avenue do not wish to send their children to our segregated schools, and we would like to inform the town we do not wish to send our children above Washington Avenue and out of their own neighborhood.

We firmly believe in the neighborhood school concept. We also believe we can speak for the majority of the parents in Schools One and Nine.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Michael Wesolowski
Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Watkowski
25 and 37 Davidson Street

To the Editor:

As a resident of Nutley your concern with the Town of Belleville astonishes me.

I am a resident of the School Nine area.

I am a taxpayer of the School Nine area.

I do not have a child in the Belleville School system.

I do have two daughters graduated from School Nine and Belleville High School.

As a taxpayer in the School Nine area, who bought my house because of its proximity to the school, as I am sure many of the people in this area did: I do not feel that School Nine is a burden on the taxpayers. Will you or anyone else guarantee me that if the school is closed my taxes will be reduced? Are the children of "the Valley" not entitled to a neighborhood school just as is every other child in the system? Not only are you advocating the closing of one school in the area but of both. How would you feel if you were a resident of the Valley rather than of Nutley?

"Grant that I may not criticize my neighbor until I have walked a mile in his moccasins." Do not judge for the people of Belleville until you have gone through the experiences of the same.

Sincerely,
Lois Servidio

(Publisher's Note: It probably will come to you as a surprise that I attended School 5 way up atop the Greylock Avenue hill. I lived in Big Tree. At age 4, I walked a mile — not for a camel — but for School 5. That school, by the way, was considered a "neighborhood" school.)

Those who have the responsibility of making the painful decisions about which schools to close cannot narrow their focus to four blocks in the Valley. They must consider the good of the community as a whole which doesn't have the money to support two underpopulated schools — Frank Orechio.)

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

The leisurely, carefree days of summer only a few weeks behind us, we were startled into the stark reality that we must prepare ourselves for another year of the harrowing ordeals of winter, with the earliest snowfall ever recorded in this area coming last week.

The forbidding prospects of rising fuel oil prices, now around 90 cents a gallon, falling stock market reports that remind older people of the crash of 1929, coffee up 15 cents a pound, prohibitive mortgage interest rates and income constantly falling behind living expenses, especially for the aged struggling to get by on a fixed income, are matters of concern.

Stress was described back in 1914 by the famous Harvard physiologist, Dr. Walter B. Cannon, as a predictable reaction to danger in which we decide to either repel or run away from that which plagues us. Today we call this anxiety "tension," a condition of ambivalence, a desire to do one thing, yet a reluctance to do it. This situation can have a harmful emotional effect.

There can be little doubt that for the average person these are indeed troubled stressful times. Our federal government has contributed little in the way of relieving our tensions. There has been a lack of forceful leadership in either the White House or the Congress. On Capitol Hill, politics has remained the name of the game. Our nation founders as a rudderless ship in heavy seas. Shapeless policies that are ever being changed have weakened the dollar, increased the national debt, Social Security and income taxes and inflation amid rising unemployment rates. Add to that the fact that we consistently show an unfavorable balance of trade.

What has Congress done? The members raised their own pay, gave away the Panama Canal, slapped the wrists of a few of their number who did wrong and refused to discontinue duplication of taxation whereby the money you earn gets taxed as you earn it, then again when you bank or invest it as they tax your interest or dividends. (We're one of the few major countries in the world to do that.) Now Congress wrangles over SALT II, not so much on its value toward preserving peace, but as to how it will better their chances of getting re-elected.

What about the United States Supreme Court, that august, dignified, austere body that is supposed to be revered and held in awe? Yea, what about it? By its rulings, the court has flouted and destroyed ideals Americans have held sacred from the inception of this great country, rights for which brave men have fought and died — religious freedom and a free press.

The justices have shackled the free press, imprisoned reporters who refused to disclose sources of information or violate confidences, denied the press and the public from trials, denying a right of access provided for by the Constitution in the Bill of Rights. They have seemingly set themselves upon a false, imperious pedestal from which they seem to take delight in shattering time-honored precepts of national custom in the manner of a iconoclastic, demonic regime, separate from our accepted American way of life.

Were their patent oligarchical grab for power by throttling the free press not enough, the justices' unconscionable attempt to stifle the right of freedom of religion by ordering the arrest and incarceration of a priest for refusing to testify as to what a penitent confessed is a disgraceful affront to the Roman Catholic faith. It is the high court's attempt to abridge and abrogate the sacred vows of the priesthood.

We feel such aberrational conduct on the part of the highest court in the United States requires an amende honorable from this government to the Vatican. Freedom of religion must be construed to mean acceptance of all the teachings, vows, customs and policies of the faith, without limitations imposed by judicial decree.

We feel that if more sensible policies and rulings are not to be expected from our Supreme Court — than have come down in the matters referred to above, then it is about time for Congress to inject itself into the situation in order to preserve the inalienable rights granted us in that sacred instrument, the Constitution of the United States of America.

Adubato, Cali promise a fight for middle class

Assemblymen Michael F. Adubato and Jack F. Cali, Democratic incumbents in the 30th Legislative District, have pledged their support to the home and property owners they represent.

NJEA backs local Demos

The political action arm of the New Jersey Education Association (NJEA) has endorsed the candidacies of Assemblymen Michael Adubato and John Cali. The two incumbent Democrats are running in the 30th District which includes Belleville.

The NJEA, the state teacher union, has endorsed 51 other State Assembly candidates in addition to Adubato and Cali. The organization's president, Frank Totten, who also heads the NJEA Political Action Committee, said the political endorsements were based on the past records of the incumbents as well as responses to written questionnaires and personal interviews.

Totten said group would make its members aware of the endorsements through its two official publications, The NJEA Review and NJEA Reporter.

Adubato and Cali were given high marks but not endorsements by the Environmental Voters Alliance (EVA), a Princeton-based group. Both men got 70 percent "right" scores based on 10 votes concerning environmental issues. The EVA considered critical. The EVA ranked both Adubato and Cali, who voted identically, 17th among the 80 assemblymen. The organization gave its backing only to the top seven.

working class citizen has always been the minority of the population, yet they always bear the disproportionate burden as far as taxation is concerned. People work for years to achieve some security — a home, a place of their own. It does not make sense that once you reach that goal you have to work even harder just to pay the taxes so you can keep it."

The two said stabilization and maintenance of working and middle class communities have always been a prime concern. Adubato and Cali introduced legislation passed into law that allows homeowners to make up to $10,000 in improvements without additional tax increases. Given the large number of homeowners in the 30th District, which includes Belleville, the law takes on added significance, according to the candidates. "Both Mike and I are homeowners," said Cali. "We know how hard it is for a breadwinner to keep a roof over a family. Inflation and taxation affect all of us. That is why much of our thrust in Trenton over the past six years has emphasized the plight of the homeowner."

Of particular concern, the two stated, have been those homeowners, primarily senior citizens, living on fixed incomes. Both assemblymen worked for passage of the Lifeline Credit Program, designed to give a $100 rebate to seniors to help them meet gas and electric bills for the winter months.

Concluded Adubato, "The working people in this country lose on both ends. They money is being siphoned away and directed towards the needs of the poor, as well as bearing the burden of taxes that the very rich can avoid. We intend to stop this flow of dollars away from the working middle class homeowners. The most sacred institution in this country, the American dream, is the home. If that foundation is destroyed, our whole country will rest on shaky ground."

Pica testimonial is next weekend

Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica will be tendered a testimonial dinner Oct. 26 at the Branch Brook Manor on Washington Avenue.

Many friends and co-workers are expected to attend the event, being held to honor Pica for his contributions to the town as president of the Board of Education, a post from which he resigned after being elected a commissioner this past spring.

Members of the dinner committee are Jack and Mary Baldwin, Russ and Grace Purdue, John and Bridget DiStasi, John and Viola Nirucki and John and Joyce Frade.

A hospitality hour is planned from 7-8 p.m. with dinner to follow. Tickets are $20 each and may be purchased by calling Mrs. Frade at 759-7421 or Mrs. DiStasi at 751-0372.

Nuclear Energy Forum

Public Service Electric and Gas Company has invited distinguished scientists to participate in this forum of views on nuclear energy. No personal fee or payment of any kind has been made to individuals expressing their opinions here. In lieu of personal payment, PSE&G has made a contribution to Scientists and Engineers for Secure Energy.

STORAGE OF WASTE FROM NUCLEAR PLANTS

"There are several available methods for the safe, long-term disposal of all nuclear wastes."

"Anti-nuclear activists are trying to lead the public to believe that scientists still haven't discovered any way to safely store wastes produced by nuclear power plants. This information is absolutely untrue.

"A study group of the American Physical Society recently confirmed the feasibility of several waste disposal methods. Most of these methods would bury waste deep underground in geologically stable rock formations. For example, we know that many salt beds are stable and have been free from ground waters for hundreds of millions of years.

"The problem is that the U.S. Government still has not decided which method to adopt. Other countries such as Sweden have already moved ahead in the choice of waste disposal repositories.

"A typical nuclear station produces only about 2½ cubic yards of waste per year requiring long-term storage. This kind of waste requires about 500 years for its radioactivity to diminish to the point where it is actually less than that of the uranium ore from which the nuclear fuel was made in the first place.

"Unfortunately, opponents of nuclear technology are using legal and regulatory systems to cause delays in making a waste disposal decision. President Carter has promised that a method for permanent waste storage will be selected before the end of this year. Let us hope the U.S. Government will be able to keep this promise."

John McCarthy
John McCarthy
Professor of Computer Science
Stanford University

Formed in 1976, Scientists and Engineers for Secure Energy is a society concerned about incorrect, confusing and untrue information being spread by organized groups against nuclear technology. The efforts of these groups are designed to scare, bewilder and mislead Americans into abandoning a domestically available nuclear resource that's been thoroughly tested and proven over the past thirty years. Nuclear energy has kept the lights on in much of the country during coal strikes, oil embargoes and natural gas shortages.

The society does not claim that technologies, including nuclear energy, are free of faults. It also encourages frank and vigorous debates in search of better understanding. The society hopes this series of statements will contribute to the understanding that nuclear energy has the potential to bring enormous benefits to America and the world. It has served us well for a third of a century. The society supports the musing of our best thoughts—not our worst fears—to continue to utilize this potential wisely and safely.

Planners give approval to Wendy's Restaurant

By Donna Abate

Town planners have approved a conditional use for the proposed Wendy's fast food restaurant and Fabric Emporium on Franklin Avenue, but they are insisting that new parking arrangements between Wendy's lot owner Phil Fucetola and Chandelier owner Tom Apiselli be submitted to the board.

The Chandelier received a variance three years ago to open based on a "gentlemen's agreement" between Fucetola and Apiselli that allowed Chandelier customers to use the 99 parking spaces in the old A & P lot across the street.

But when the A & P was destroyed by fire last January, according to Fucetola, an unusual hardship developed for him in that he was no longer making profitable use of his property. Fucetola sought to nullify the "gentlemen's agreement" so that the Wendy's and a Fabric Emporium could be built on the lot. Planning Board members, however, told Fucetola at their meeting last Thursday that he would have to come up with a new parking agreement in order to receive final site plan approval.

"A parking problem exists right now," Planning Board Chairman Joseph Grande said. "The agreement may be terminated but all of a sudden we're stuck with 99 parking spaces."

At a previous meeting, Apiselli stated that he was looking into other parking alternatives including spaces near People's Bank, but this did not satisfy the board.

Planner Al Schmitt once again asked that Fucetola withdraw the application, make new parking arrangements and approach the board at a later time.

But Attorney John Scott, representing Fucetola, argued that the time spent deciding on the application was costing his client money since continually rising inflation was driving building costs up.

Asked about the possibility of coming to a new parking agreement with Apiselli, though, Scott said, "We are willing to come back with a formal contract, a written and valid agreement."

Fucetola agreed, telling planners "There's plenty of empty space in that area."

"We fell for a gentlemen's agreement once before," Grande later added. "We're not going to buy this again."

"We've been too lenient," Planner Chris Albanese added in pushing for a written agreement to be submitted.

Although Schmitt said, "We shouldn't take positive action until these points of parking are settled," he voted with the other board members to approve the conditional use.

The conditional use was granted provided that a long-term lease between the applicant and Chandelier owner Apiselli acceptable to the board is made.

The vote was 8-0. Henry Kellenbence, the ninth board member, did not participate in deliberations on the case, stating earlier that he wished to avoid the appearance of a conflict of interest since he is a resident of Marion Court which runs adjacent to the proposed Wendy's property.

The site plan will be up for discussion during the next Planning Board meeting Thursday, Nov. 8, at 7:30 p.m.

The question of parking is a major one holding up the plan. "Another has been the effect the Wendy's might have on area traffic. Thursday, planners heard a report from Harvey Yesowitz, a traffic consultant with Bramble Associates Inc. of Passaic Park, who was hired by the board after its last meeting.

Yesowitz testified that the proposed Wendy's and Fabric Emporium would not have a significant impact on traffic conditions in the area of Franklin Avenue and Joramelon Street.

"A lot of traffic that will utilize the Wendy's will already be there," he said.

He did suggest that the flow of traffic might be improved by a restriction of left turns both in and out of the establishment.

Tangled events surround okay of first certificate of occupancy

tificate of occupancy and Chief George Sbarra backed him up. "It was a matter of holding to the old code," Sbarra told The Times/News. He added that the Fire Department normally has the final say in issuing certificates of occupancy for businesses.

Apiselli argued at the time that the addition was already adequately protected since it was made of fireproof materials.

Planning Board members are wondering how the Chandelier was permitted to open for business without a certificate of occupancy when buildings must be inspected by the construction code official to make sure all conditions of their approval set by either the Zoning Board or the Planning Board are met.

The latest question involves code official Domenick and how he could have issued a certificate of occupancy to the Chandelier when a condition set by the Zoning Board three years ago for operation of the restaurant was not being met. Domenick issued the certificate to the Chandelier Oct. 3 — two days after the "gentlemen's agreement" was nullified by Fucetola in a written letter to Apiselli.

The zoning ordinance stipulates that restaurants as a conditional use

Question Mark — The Planning Board learned last week that the Chandelier has been open three years without a certificate of occupancy. How that came about is one of the questions members are hoping to find the answer to.

must have one parking space per two fixed seats or one space per 60 square feet available for patrons in a business which does not have fixed seating. The Chandelier requires 99 spaces aside from the two at its entrance. Fucetola denied the restaurant those 99 spaces in his letter.

Domenick explained that he had inspected the Chandelier two weeks prior to the day that he issued the certificate of occupancy, and that his issuance of the certificate was based solely on the results of his inspection, without taking into account Fucetola's letter, which came afterwards.

Domenick said that he inspected the Chandelier according to a new business code, which, he explained, contains revisions passed down from the state. "Anything I run into such as this, I use the codes of today, I have to move forward," he said.

While checking into this case, Domenick said he also consulted Sbarra and town attorney Frank Zinna. "I didn't know which way to turn," he said. "I wanted to abide by the laws."

Domenick said his procedure was to consult the original blueprints to see if everything that was stipulated to be constructed was in fact included in the building. He also said that he checked the resolutions and made sure that conditions ordered were carried out.

In the Chandelier case, Domenick said, "Nothing at all was said about parking in the conditions."

However, the 1976 Zoning Board resolution approving the Chandelier application reads in part, "whereas the owner presently enjoys a gentleman's agreement with regards to parking on the property on the other side of the avenue." The question has also been raised as to how Domenick checked the Planning Board resolution made at the time when board members requested transcripts of that document this year and discovered they had been destroyed. Nonetheless, the certificate of occupancy was issued.

Senatore Association meeting on Wednesday

The Mary V. Senatore Civic & Welfare Association will hold its regular monthly membership meeting 8:15 p.m. this coming Wednesday, Oct. 24, at the Chandelier Restaurant, 338 Franklin Ave.

Frank J. Carragher Jr. will preside at the meeting.

Craft sale here to benefit blind

The Junior Woman's Club of Belleville will sponsor the New Jersey Commission for the Blind's mobile craft bus tomorrow and Saturday at the old A&P parking lot on Franklin Avenue.

Items for sale on the bus have been made by the homebound blind. The bus is open tomorrow 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Planning Conference — Planning Board members hold a caucus over the Wendy's case last Thursday night. Standing are board members Jack Hudson, Joe Doyle and Al Schmitt; seated are board attorney Thomas DiBiase, member Ed Heibert and chairman Joseph Grande.

A correction

On page 21 of the Sept. 27 edition of The Times/News, an error appeared in a caption under a picture taken at the American Legion Post 105 installation.

Raymond Wellen was incorrectly identified as Roy Willis.

Open house set at Junior High

The administration and staff of Belleville Junior High School will hold an open house for parents of junior high students 7-9:30 p.m. this coming Wednesday. The purpose of the evening is to allow parents to become acquainted with their child's school.

Parents will follow a mini-version of their child's daily schedule, meet with teachers of each subject and get an introduction to each course. Parents will be shown textbooks and be given an idea of course goals and requirements.

Guidance counselors will also be available to discuss any problems. Parents and teachers will join in the cafeteria for coffee and other refreshments following the tour.

GOP Assembly hopeful: Demo 'base' here a ploy

Republican Assembly candidate Michael R. Bucco said today he believes the Democratic candidates in the 30th District "have lost their constituency in Newark and Kearny."

"That explains why," said Bucco, "they now proclaim Belleville as their home base."

Bucco, who lives in Kearny, added that he considers the Democrats' latest declarations about Belleville "pure cosmetics... a frantic attempt to impress intelligent people with a public relations gimmick."

The Republican noted that while he has never sought public office in the past, "I have considered Belleville a very important spot."

"I have many longtime friends in Belleville — some of them in public life — that I want to grammar school with."

"After the election, these people will still be my friends," said Bucco. "I will continue to come to Belleville to visit, to shop, to sell.

"I predict, however, that the same would not be true of my opponents if they should win election," continued Bucco. "Belleville will become to them as Kearny has already become — a name on a map."

Stated Bucco, "I am a candidate for State Assembly for this very reason. As a citizen I want my representatives to be visible and active."

"I want them to be accessible and I want them to know my views on important subjects."

"I have not had such representation in the past six years. I have had one grandstander and one invisible man."

"I live in Kearny, but the only time I see the so-called 'Hudson County Assemblyman' from my district is around election time."

"The people of Belleville until this year haven't even been that fortunate because he, like the 'Essex County Assemblyman' on the ticket has always considered Newark as his base."

Bucco referred to incumbent Assemblyman John Cali, who lives in Kearny, and Michael Adubato, who is from Newark.

Asserted the GOP candidate, "My life has been spent in these three towns and much of my career has been spent in Secaucus."

"My family lives all over this district and I am well known to individuals."

"The Democrats are parochial candidates, with a small, withering base which they are now attempting to replace with a public relations switch."

"My experience with people tells me they will see through this ploy and, for once, elect people who care, people who listen and people who will represent them."

Independent Giordano rakes press, 'law and order' claims

Independent Assembly candidate Michael Giordano told his campaign workers last Friday at his 189 Washington Ave. headquarters that the bias "of some weekly papers is beginning to show."

"We who have been in the forefront in the battle for law and order and for the preservation of our communities are shocked to discover that the very ones who were our chief adversaries in our struggle are now claiming they have been law and order men. What a switch?" said Giordano.

The Independent candidate referred to incumbent Assemblymen Michael Adubato and Jack Cali, his Democratic opponents in the 30th District, which includes Belleville.

"We do not presume," said Giordano, "to tell the press how to run their newspapers, yet some editors would tell us how to campaign and because they don't like what we have to say, censor us."

"Michael Adubato," continued Giordano, "through the grace of federal funds and support from rich foundations, such as the Rockefellers, injected himself into politics in place of his brother who resigned outwardly from politics. Of course this transparent trick fooled a lot of people, but not all of us."

"But what private individual could compete with all the resources now at the command of the Adubato family?" asked Giordano. "They successfully evaded the federal Hatch Act by the simple expedient of calling their organization 'educational'. Yet they hang on the edge of a razor, for the NWECC (North Ward Educational and Cultural Center) is steeped in politics and but for that, Michael Adubato would still be the hang-on and follower of his brother."

"Why would a newspaper whom we invited time and again to attend some of the meetings in the North Ward in the past and who consistently refused to send even one reporter suddenly give such pleasant coverage to the ones who sided with the people who called the police 'pigs'? Why have the politicians who joined with those who yelled 'police brutality' in order to destroy the police department suddenly taken on the aura of responsibility?"

"Why," continued Giordano, "have these same politicians threatened the harassed and pressured people of the North Ward that either they reformed or else they would face a revolution at the hands of the worst radicals in the country? And the Adubatos were on their side against us and their own neighbors. The Adubatos played a major role in hurting Newark for their own gains. They were getting money to play the role of Judas while we, the true representatives of law and order and community stabilization, didn't get one red cent. They became richer while the residents became poorer and many fled Newark selling their homes at a frightful loss. Those of us who have remained face decay, robbery, rape, muggings and murder."

"Any decent person who does not denounce those responsible is dishonest! a demagogue and just as crooked as the politicians they are boosting," charged Giordano. "And it is clear that with these same taxpayer dollars, the NWECC can buy lots of newspaper space, which may explain why some papers are censoring this election and denying the public at large the right to read and decide for themselves who they want for their representatives."

"Should I gain election to the Assembly," Giordano concluded, "the first piece of legislation I will introduce would be to forbid anyone, person or family receiving large sums of federal tax dollars to dispense within a community from running for any political office. The propensity to buy huge blocks of votes is clearly possible as is the case with the Adubato family."

"I once warned Bellevillites, you have no cement wall separating you from Newark," Giordano told his workers here. "What Adubato did to Newark, he can easily do to you."

SNAPPER "High Vacuum" riding mowers not only do a good job of cutting grass, they pick up the cuttings, leaves and litter in a hurry. Depending on the size of your spread, optional catchers are available with six and thirty bushel capacities. That means you may be able to mow and vacuum your entire area without stopping to empty.

If your lawn area doesn't require a riding mower there's also a SNAPPER walk-behind mower to get fall chores out of the way in a hurry. With an optional Snapperizer attached to the bottom of a SNAPPER mower, you can shred leaves so the bag holds over twice as many and you have to empty it less often.

Ask for a demonstration of a SNAPPER. You'll see why SNAPPER owners are able to enjoy more of the games.

Air Force recruits BHS to see an aviation show

The United States Air Force Orientation Group recently visited Belleville High School to inform students and teachers of major military and civilian events and personalities in aviation history.

With the help of instructor Nick Grande and U.S. Air Force Col.

Arthur F. Creighton, "Stretch the Limits of the Sky" was presented using flashback techniques to depict the extraordinary progress of aviation from 1903 into the future.

Creighton commented that the show proves to be interesting for media classes working with multi-image documentary and classes studying mass communication techniques.

"Music teachers use the show to give classes the opportunity to observe how music can enhance a presentation," he added. "The show is also informative for history classes, particularly those studying United States, 20th century and aviation history."

"Stretch the Limits of the Sky" was shown to about 40 to 50 people at a time with the presentation running 16 minutes.

Students and teachers commented that the show was both "educational and entertaining."

Club News at BHS

By Russell Monticello

Belleville High School has initiated a new club called the Octagon Club which is sponsored by the Optimist Club of Belleville. Like its parent club, the Octagon Club will be a service group to the community concentrating specifically on helping youth. The faculty advisor is Mr. Daniel Grassie.

Its first project will be a battle of the bands to be held Nov. 7 from 6:30 to 10:30 in the Belleville High School gym. Donations are $2 and everyone is welcome.

There are now 20 members in the club. The officers are Sharon McLaughlin, president; Russell Monticello, vice president; Donna DeVito, secretary, and Maria Nasello, treasurer.

SGO officials hear committee reports

By Rich Ottenstroer

On Oct. 10, the Belleville High School SGO held its second meeting of the 1979-80 term. The first order of business was to hear the reports of the recently formed committees. There are basically eight committees — Constitutional Revision, Cafeteria Advisory, Guidance Advisory, Fund-Raising, Publicity, School Pride, Social Activities and Grievances — with others to be added and dissolved as needed.

Topics of discussion after the committee reports were the grievance of bathrooms dirtied by cigarettes, and the social activity of teacher or teachers of the week. The problem of the bathrooms was evident last year and is being worked on this year. Teacher/teachers of the week is a feature by which the SGO spotlights the teacher or teachers with a cafeteria bulletin board and a short paragraph in the Belleville Times and This Week in Belleville school pages.

Another topic of discussion was the possibility of the SGO taking part in the homecoming arrangements with the Key Club and Keywantes. Possibilities of floats representing each class and the addition of a court for the king and queen were the first discussed. One system for selecting the court was the selection of two girls with escorts from each class. Presently, these possibilities are not definite and an ad hoc homecoming committee was formed to handle the arrangements.

Yearbook gets credit

By Joe Fischer and Michele DeMeo

Students Publications, the Belleville High yearbook class consists of 20 students who contribute work toward the annual "Monad." Karen Falzo has been the class advisor for three years.

When Mrs. Falzo first came to BHS in 1977, the yearbook was a club — not a class. Since students were in demand, school officials decided to give five credits for those participating.

Since Mrs. Falzo has been in charge, the yearbook has steadily improved in the opinion of many, and this year's is no exception. The number of color pages will double to 32, and there will be a 30-page supplement for year-end activities not usually included in high school annuals.

Many long hours of work go into preparing a yearbook of this caliber and Mrs. Falzo as well as the students dedicate their free time, in addition to regularly scheduled class hours.

The cost of putting a high-quality yearbook together is prohibitive, so in order to help pay the high price, the students raise money by selling boosters, candy and business advertisements.

The yearbook staff is optimistic about its undertakings, and it would be well appreciated if the students and community of Belleville would support in any way possible. The staff wishes to remind students that it's their yearbook that they'll be supporting. The cost for the yearbook will be $15 a copy and the annual will be available in June.

'Oz' auditions are held

By Kelly Sweeney

Under the direction of Mr. Lefebvre on Oct. 5, Belleville High School had student auditions for the 1939 musical production, "The Wizard of Oz." The play will premiere on Nov. 29 and shall run nightly through Dec. 2.

The auditions consisted of approximately 60 to 80 students ranging from 10th to 12th graders. An estimated 50 to 60 girls and 10 to 20 boys auditioned, high above what Mr. Lefebvre anticipated, insiders say.

The musical aspect was under the supervision of Mr. Finetti, musical director at Belleville High School. Mr. Finetti requested each girl to sing various segments of "Over the Rainbow," depending on her voice range. He then requested each boy to sing an equal number of segments from "If I Only Had a Brain," also from the popular musical. Each participant was asked to sing acappella and along with the piano at one portion of the state with only Mr. Finetti and Mr. Lefebvre observing.

At another portion of the stage, Mrs. Lefebvre, an established choreographer, conducted the dancing aspect of the audition. At first the assembly of boys was assigned to the stage where Mrs. Lefebvre taught a few minor steps to the tune of "If I Only Had a Brain." While the boys were rehearsing, the girls proceeded to assemble on stage where they were also taught a few steps to the same music. Then the assembly was gathered as Mrs. Lefebvre called a boy to do the required dance so that on cue two girls could follow in succession with their steps, finishing their routine.

The boys did a series of two and three steps, then for a finale, did a variety of kicks forward while hopping on one foot. The girls were requested to do a variety of steps with legs, feet and hips twisting, finishing with a few jerk-full head turns.

The auditions concluded with Mr. Lefebvre giving each participant a chance to perform either by using material derived from the musical, non-verbal actions, portraying characters, or reading various lines. All methods were used to determine participants' dramatic talents for this specific musical.

Those chosen were assigned parts in the play based on the area they excelled in. With information given, Mr. and Mrs. Lefebvre along with Mr. Finetti concluded the day's audition tired, yet extremely hopeful. The following day the cast list was presented with astounding results. Rehearsals began immediately with a tremendous, optimistic response.

Please come see Belleville High School's rendition of "The Wizard of Oz" as a tribute to the hard work and tremendous effort of the Belleville High School Drama Club.

School 7 teaches with video

By Sue Cardillo and Rich Caruso

Belleville elementary School 7 has just purchased a new educational tool. Paid for by the Organization of Parents and Educators (OPE), it consists of a camera and a videotape recorder.

School 3 also is equipped with video tools, but School 7 has the capability to work with color.

Every class in the school, from kindergarten to the sixth grade, will get a chance to be taped. They hope that taping youngsters in a normal learning situation or atmosphere and playing it back for them will help them and their teachers to clearly see if any improvements are necessary.

There are also tapes of educational programs available that can be shown to students for learning purposes. Mr. Rosamilia, School 7's principal, may also tape, certain shows from television, providing they serve as a learning experience and he is notified in advance.

He has already made a tape of a science program which he thought might be of use to one of the sixth grade classes.

In addition to viewing programs, Mr. Rosamilia will ask the teachers to have their students prepare reports or have them research a certain topic for group conversation. Mr. Rosamilia stated that he would divide up the taping time and average about two to four hours taping sessions.

Later, at regular intervals, parents of children participating from various grade levels will be invited to see their children in action.

Mr. Rosamilia also suggested that teachers learn how to operate the machinery. He's giving some crash-course lessons and many interested teachers wasted little time signing up.

Special events at School 7

The Organization of Parents and Educators recently had its first meeting. This meeting, open to old and new members alike, was conducted to introduce teachers and newly appointed officers.

Open house was also included in the program. First the principal introduced the teachers, then he introduced Mrs. Aherns, a speaker from the Board of Health. She spoke of services available in town and other health-related subjects.

The television program in which School 7 first graders will be participating will air on TV-3 Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 and Saturday or Sunday at 9 or 10 o'clock in the morning.

Buc Shots

Weekend win was one of the biggest

There have been some great victories for the Belleville High football team in the '70s, but it's tough to top the beauty the 1979 squad pulled off this past Saturday. For the record, Belleville defeated Passaic 26-14, the Bucs' third win of the young season.

The win was so significant because Passaic was unbeaten (3-0) and had a very dangerous offense, perhaps the toughest the Bucs will face all season. Passaic beat the Bucs 38-13 last season behind junior quarterback Mark Stevens and the tough running combo of Dan Buggs and Cecil Smiley. Smiley has since taken his talents to Rutgers, but Stevens and Buggs were back and consequently Passaic was a favorite to beat Belleville for a third straight year.

Mark Stevens has got to be considered one of the best quarterbacks in the state. He has an arm of high collegiate quality, the quickness of a halfback from USC and he is a highly respected leader on his team. That's probably why Ohio State, Michigan and a number of other top football colleges are actively seeking his talents for next fall.

Last season, Stevens rushed for 150 yards against Belleville, passed for 145 and scored two touchdowns. He also threw two touchdown passes. In this year's game, his rushing and passing stats weren't as impressive, but that's because the Buc defense, which is much more seasoned than last year, had Stevens' number. He still had some fine runs and displayed his powerful arm with some 70-yard tosses, but the Bucs cut him down with three interceptions, one by Frank Fazzini, one by Mike Nicosia and a beauty by Ralph DePasquale that must have looked like an optical illusion to some people.

But in the end, it was Belleville's smooth offense, led by its devastating offensive line, that made the difference. With such monsters as Russ Pagano, Carl Lordi, Rich Vitiello, Paul Scheuplein and Anthony D'Agostino plowing holes through Passaic's vaunted defense line, and with quick backs such as Mike Nicosia, Bob LaBruzza and Lenny Mendola streamlining upfield, the Bucs used the running game to their advantage.

LaBruzza played just like his last name, braising the opposition time and again. He must have cracked a number of the Passaic defenders' helmets with his devastating pops. He found the hole, accelerated and when a would-be tackler would come up to make the stop, LaBruzza would put his head down and grind out another three yards. It was by far the finest game of his three-year career, as he rushed for over 140 yards and scored the decisive touchdown.

Nicosia is the running back everyone has been trying to stop all year. Against Livingston, he piled up 150 yards rushing but was cut down a bit in the loss to Montclair and the 7-0 win over Nutley. Mike was back in top form for the Passaic game as he rushed for over 70 yards, threw some nice blocks and scored a touchdown.

Mendola has been a steady performer all year. The senior scored his third touchdown of the season in the first quarter to give Belleville an early 7-0 lead. Every time he gets the ball, it takes two players, sometimes three, to haul him down.

The Buc defense was just as good. It has allowed just five touchdowns all season, and the one supposed weakness, the secondary is also starting to jell. Frank Fazzini, only a sophomore, plays with reckless abandon and is starting to read the opposing offense quite well — his interception of Stevens' pass was a good example of that. Fazzini does the punting chores and is a fine return specialist on kickoffs and punts.

DePasquale, nicknamed "The Bear," is a super athlete with great intelligence. He plays safety on defense and does the kicking for the kickoff team.

Behind all this success lies the Buc coaching staff. Head coach John Seneky is turning into a folk hero in Belleville, Ralph Borgess and Carl Pappiani are fine teachers, Joe D'Ambola has earned the respect of all the players and Carl Corino is up with the varsity after a very successful career as head football coach for the freshman team. By the way the freshmen, coached by Vinnie Casale and Mike Welsh are undefeated, having not lost a game since back in 1977.

The Bucs are home to face Irvington tomorrow night, a game that they should win. As a matter of fact, the team stands a good chance of having a 5-1 record going into the Seton Hall contest on Nov. 3. It should be quite a game.

As I write this Sunday, the 1979 World Series is everything a baseball fan could want. Despite the cold weather, the teams have displayed some fine defense, good offense and strong pitching, especially from the Baltimore Orioles, who lead the Pittsburgh Pirates 3 games to two. The Orioles have been out in the Series but make the most out of every hit and every scoring opportunity.

Earl Weaver has been looking like a magician these days. He's the only manager that I know of who can send his pitcher up to hit and have the pitcher, who has never had a major league hit before, deliver an RBI single.

The only negative part of this Series has been what has been happening off the field. The problem is in the broadcasting booth. Most of you know him as the Mouth that Roars, Kid Naeucoe, the baron of drivel and needle nose. His name is Howard Cosell, and he is the only announcer in America who can consistently drive the average sports fan to watch a sporting event with the sound off. The fans silence their tubes just so they don't have to listen to Howard's obnoxious, nasal voice drone on more about himself than about the games that he usually displays his ignorance of when he does talk about them. Please, Howard, do us all a favor, shut up.

Finally, here is the answer to last week's sports quiz. The question was who was the last AL West Division champ to go to the World Series and how did that team do? The answer — the Oakland A's in 1974 and they beat the Los Angeles Dodgers for their third straight title. Since then, the Red Sox, Yankees (three times) and the Orioles have been the AL entrants in the Series.

And now for this week's quiz. Belleville's victory over Passaic last week was a big game for the locals. The Bucs defeated an unbeaten team, a team considered by many a possibility for the state crown. In 1972, Belleville pulled off a similar feat. Who did the Belibays beat, what was the score and where was the game played? The answer will appear next week. Stay tuned.

'Underdog' grid squad wins smashing victory

By Mike Lamberti

Freezing temperatures and a red-hot quarterback named Mark Stevens could not prevent the Belleville Buccaneer football squad from capturing its third game in four tries, a 26-14 win over the previously undefeated Indians of Passaic.

The Bucs' 3-1 start is the best for a Belleville team since 1970. Passaic, now 3-1, received a strong performance from Stevens, but unlike last year, he could not do it all by himself. The Buc secondary intercepted him three times, and the defense recovered a Passaic fumble that was later converted into a touchdown.

Belleville jumped out to a quick, 13-0 lead after the first quarter. The Bucs won the toss, the fourth straight time they have done that this season, and started from their own 32. They moved into Indian territory, thanks to a 13-yard run by Mike Nicosia and a 15-yard penalty against Passaic. However, the drive stalled at the Indian 33, and the Bucs punted. Stevens picked up a yard and Larry Johnson three before the senior quarterback went back to pass. If you've ever seen him pass, you know what a frightening thing it can be. He tossed a 65-yard bomb in the air to David Lucianin, but the split end dropped the perfect pass and the Indians had no punt.

From the Passaic 49, Belleville scored its first touchdown. Bob LaBruzza, who played his finest game, started things off with a nine-yard run. Lenny Mendola picked up two yards for the first down. LaBruzza got eight to the 30 and Nicosia broke free to the Indian 16. The Bucs did not pass in the entire drive and Mendola culminated the series with a two-yard run for a touchdown. Ralph DePasquale hit the point after attempt and Belleville led 7-0.

Melvin Ross fumbled the ensuing kickoff, and the Bucs recovered and took over on the Indian 38. Ed Aulisi's first two passes were incomplete, but on third down, he hit Mendola with a 22-yard strike to the 16. LaBruzza pounded out nine yards to the 7. The Bucs were then stopped by the stingy Passaic defense and DePasquale came in to attempt a field goal. It would have been a 34-yard boot, but the ball never made contact with his foot. Instead, John Norton, who was holding for the kick, took the snap, rolled out and found sophomore Frank Bucciarelli wide open in the end zone for a touchdown. On the point after at-

and the Buc lead was out to eight.

In the third quarter, Passaic started another long drive from its own 8-yard line. After gaining a first down at the Passaic 20, Stevens hit Stacey Hilliard for 24 yards. Johnson picked up seven to the Buc 49. Stevens then found his favorite target, Johnson, for 17 yards to the

from the 2. Belleville tried but failed to get the two-point conversion.

The Bucs' defense got mean and forced the Indians to punt. From the Passaic 49, Belleville put the game away with a fine drive that again saw no passing. LaBruzza, Nicosia and Frank Swain were the key runners, tempt, the snap was low and Norton rolled out trying to pass for a two-point conversion. His pass was bobbled and dropped by Bill Walsh who was in heavy traffic, and the Bucs held a 13-0 lead.

The Indian defense stiffened, and in the middle of the second quarter, the Passaic squad started its first effective drive. From its own 19, Passaic used some fine running by Stevens, coupled with a 21-yard pass from Stevens to Johnson. Stevens accounted for 47 yards rushing and 21 yards passing in the drive and scored the first Indian touchdown, a six-yard run. Stevens then passed to Johnson for a two-point conversion, 32. Some good running by Stevens put the ball on the 7 where he hit Hilliard for the go-ahead score. The conversion failed, but Passaic led 14-13.

The Indians could have extended that lead to 21-13, but Ralph DePasquale made a beautiful interception of a Stevens pass in the end zone that ended an Indian drive that had brought them to the Buc 26.

Belleville scored the game-winning touchdown following DePasquale's interception. LaBruzza was the workhorse of the drive, gaining 32 yards before Mike Nicosia, who played a strong game offensively and defensively, scored with LaBruzza scoring the very much deserved touchdown at the three-minute mark of the game to put it out of reach. DePasquale hit the point after, and the Bucs led 26-14.

Stevens attempted to get the Indians back into the game, but his last-ditch pass was picked off by Nicosia, and shortly after the Bucs ran off the field with a hard-fought victory over a team that is considered one of the best in the state. The game also avenged two embarrassing losses to Passaic, 38-13 last year and 36-12 in 1977. The way the Bucs are playing now, a lot of teams had better watch out. Hear that, Seton Hall?

School Board will vote tomorrow on joining Watchung Conference

By Mike Olohan

Belleville's 11-member school Athletic Advisory Council will decide tonight whether to join the National Division of the Watchung Athletic Conference, which includes Cranford, Hillside, Rahway, Clark, Carteret, Kearny and Roselle.

School trustees will vote by an informal telephone poll tomorrow to either accept or reject the council's conclusion since a decision is needed by Monday morning when Watchung Conference officials meet to plan next year's schedule.

At this past Monday's School Board meeting, Athletic Director James Silvestri stressed that joining the conference will give Belleville's athletes more incentive to win because they'll be competing for a league championship and trophies.

Belleville left the now disbanded Big Ten Conference in 1978, and like other towns, found scheduling contests independently a major problem. The Big Ten Conference began disintegrating in 1977 when Nutley pulled out after refusing to play East Orange. Both teams had been involved in fights during and after several athletic events.

"I think we should join," said Silvestri Tuesday. He noted traditional rivals like Kearny, Montclair and Irvington probably will join the conference and Belleville will find it much harder to schedule nearby competition.

Silvestri said he didn't think travel expenses would increase much more than at present since most Watchung teams are from Union County. He stressed that having regularly scheduled games for Belleville teams is the most important reason for joining the conference.

The school farthest away in the Watchung Conference is 22 miles from Belleville and can be reached in about 30 minutes, says Silvestri, although trustees were not so certain about such swift travel. School Superintendent Dr. John Greed says school administrators aren't allowed to let athletes leave early for any athletic event.

Silvestri assured schoolers Monday that Belleville will still be on Belleville's schedule, despite the fact that the Nutley School Board has voted not to join the Watchung Conference. Trustees Mike Chieffo and Anthony D'Agostino wouldn't vote on joining the conference Monday because they said the athletic council should be consulted.

"We play a pretty competitive schedule now and will if we join the conference," said Silvestri, although Chieffo believes a stronger effort should be made by neighboring towns to begin a new conference, an idea also proposed by some Nutley trustees.

Hot Pursuit — The Bucs' Jeff Hageman takes control of the ball in the third quarter of Tuesday's game with Irvington, won by Belleville 3-1. Hageman's goal tied the game, the only one played this past week due to rain. More on soccer next week.

Youthful Campers in town tomorrow

By John Jurich

The Irvington football team that comes to Belleville at 8 p.m. tomorrow is the epitome of a squad in the rebuilding process, and this season it has been getting torn down with regularity.

The Campers are 0-4. They played respectably in losing to Montclair 19-0, were beaten by Nutley 20-0 in a game that wasn't even that close, fell to Union 21-0 and last Saturday got on the boards but lost to Linden 28-6.

Although the Bucs aren't taking Irvington for granted, a Camper victory doesn't seem too likely. With a stronger squad in 1978, the Campers actually led Belleville 7-6 after the first quarter. The Bucs pounded Irvington the rest of the afternoon, however, and wound up 27-7 winners as Lenny Mendola scored three touchdowns and Ed Aulisi completed 10 of 14 passes for 136 yards.

Irvington's main problems this year have been inexperience and a lack of size. Juniors and sophomores heavily outnumber seniors on the squad, and there is just one player in the line-up over 200 pounds. Most are a lot smaller than that.

Defense has been the team's strongest point, according to second-year coach Jim Gillick who had a 2-7 record in '78. "Our defense has been good," he said. "Believe it or not, we give up an average of three touchdowns a game. We held Union pretty well. We went into the second half down only 9-6, but by the end of that quarter, their size just knocked us down."

Penalties and the way the young Please see "Campers" on page 16.

Net Earnings — Bob Smith (left), director of the Essex County Department of Parks, Recreation and Cultural Affairs Youth Tennis Tournament, poses with instructor Brenda Lupo of Nutley, winner Lisa Mastronardi of Nutley, runner-up Cheri Tillman of Belleville and instructor Pat Cimino. ## Rec soccer champs all off to fine starts

Despite threatening weather and muddy grounds, the Belleville Recreation Soccer Leagues managed to kick off their 1979 seasons last week with a lot of close competition.

In Division I, last year's champs, the Lancers, continued their winning ways by shutting down the Spurs 6-1. The Lancers displayed a balanced scoring attack with Rich Moraski, Bruce Alexander, Mike Silletti, Mike McGreevy, Chris Magno and A.J. Serafino driving shots into the goal. Steve Mulhearn scored the lone goal for the Spurs.

In other Division I action, the Toros turned back the Aztecs 4-3. Alberto Chafar scored three times and Frank Bavo once for the victors, while James Dasaro chalked up three goals for the Aztecs.

In Division II, the defending champion Toros blanked the Comets 6-0. The Aztecs topped the Spurs 3-0.

and the Cosmos defeated the Lancers 2-0.

The Cosmos defeated the Lancers 5-2 in Division III. Steven Hywel scored twice and Steven Tice, Walter Capozucca and Ron Caruso once for the winners. Chris Cantarella scored both goals for the Lancers. The Spurs III shut out the Aztecs 3-0. Anselmo DiIulio scored twice and Billy Marshall once for the Spurs. The defending champion Toros topped the Comets in the final game of last week's action.

Rec Cheerleading Begins

The cheerleading program for girls 6 to 14 will start 6:30-9 p.m. next Thursday, Oct. 25, at the School 3 gym. All participants are requested to use the DeWitt Avenue entrance.

All participants must wear sneakers and be Belleville residents.

Caruso's record brightens a bleak cross country week

By Mike Lambert

Her name is Dana Caruso and her specialty is long-distance running. Last week, the junior harrier for the Belleville High cross country team broke the girls' record on the local course with a sizzling 18:19, shattering the old mark of 19:02 set by Sue Smith in 1977.

Caruso's performance was a bright spot in an otherwise bleak week of action for the still winless Buccaneer cross country team. The locals fell victim to Paterson Kennedy 16-49 and East Orange 24-33.

This past Tuesday, the Bucs traveled to Nutley to face the awesome Maroon Raiders who last week stopped Essex Catholic's 35-meet winning streak. Today the team will be at Irvington and next Thursday hosts Orange. Saturday, the squad will compete in the Essex Catholic Invitational at Branch Brook Park.

Against Paterson Kennedy, a 17-0 squad last year and 5-0 this year, the Bucs were simply outclassed. "They were a great club," said Rich Ruffalo, the Bucs' head coach. "They're one of the better teams in the state."

The JFK team captured the first four spots before Tom Graham finished in fifth. Caruso placed third among the girls and might have done better had she not just come off a win in the Belleville Chamber marathon two days before the Paterson race. Caruso was the first woman across in the grueling six-mile marathon, clocking a 40:04. Buc Dean Santulli won the six-mile event in a sizzling 36:09. Tom Graham tied for first place with his brother Mike in the three-mile marathon the Sunday before last.

Against East Orange, a number of runners turned in their best times. Santulli finished fourth with a 17:02 clocking, his best of the season. John Vaccaro was fifth in 17:05, his career best. Tom Fuscaldo ran his best time at 19:53, and Leann Long and J. Pico finished with times of 21:31 and 21:34, respectively. Those times were the best of the season for Long and Pico.

It was in the East Orange race that Caruso broke the girls' mark. "Dana is something else," said Ruffalo. "She is a super athlete, a first student and could very well break the 18-minute mark before the season ends."

Graham, who is in the middle of a brilliant season, had a subpar race finishing in 16:55 and third place, but the senior has certainly come a long way from last season and has done an absolutely fantastic job for the Bucs this year.

Hit Down — The Bucs' Dan Amadeo dives but can't catch Chris Buggs of Passaic who's headed for a even-yard gain in the fourth quarter. Belleville, however, held the speedy Indian to just nine yards for the night.

Raising the Ante — The official signals a touchdown after Mike Nicosia (No. 20) plunges in from the 2-yard line in the third quarter to score what would prove to be the winning goal for Belleville Friday.

First on the Board — Belleville's Lenny Mendola gives the Bucs six points as he caps a 51-yard BHS drive with this touchdown in the first quarter. Belleville would score soon after to take a temporary lead over the Indians.

The Bruiser — Bob LaBruzza bulls ahead for nine yards to the Indian 7 late in the first quarter. Belleville was thrown back, but the Bucs got a TD on a faked field goal attempt.

Getting It Back — Passaic's Melvin Ross fumbled on this play in the first quarter and the Bucs recovered at the Injun 38 from where they would soon score their second touchdown.

Best Game — Indians Hezekiah Griggs and Robert Wagner converge on Bob LaBruzza but not before the Belleville back gains eight more yards. He got 146 yards Friday.

Bump and Grind — Buc back Mike Nicosia plows forward for four yards as all manner of mayhem takes place around him. Passaic intercepted the ball two plays later. The Indians had two pickoffs for the night, the Bucs got three, one a 25-yarder by Nicosia who had a fine all-around game. The steady senior scored a touchdown, rushed for 87 yards and added 40 yards in kickoff returns. Friday's game was lengthened considerably when the lights went out at Municipal Stadium during halftime.

Pro wrestling bouts slated at BHS Nov. 2

The Michael V. Marotti Civic Association will sponsor a professional wrestling exhibition at Belleville High School 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 2.

The card will include a four-man-to-man tag team title match between the Valiant Brothers, Jimmy and Jerry, and Tito Santana and Ivan Putski, known as the "Polish Power" around the wrestling circuit.

Negotiations are in progress to have "Bulldog" Brower meet 400-pound Gorilla Monsoon in a special match.

Tickets to this second annual event, $4, $6 and $10, can be obtained by calling co-chairmen Vincent Cosenzo (751-1110) or Gail Boscano (751-7069). All the proceeds go to charities and the Marotti Association scholarship fund.

Cobras trounced 8-0 by Wyckoff's Wolves

By Fred Lardaro

The Cobras suffered an 8-0 thrashing at the hands of the Wyckoff Wolves Saturday. It marked the first time that the Cobras had surrendered as many as five goals in one game since Sept. 16, 1978, when they were beaten 5-1 in Kearny.

Wyckoff scored early and ran off to a 3-0 halftime lead. Brian Cook was courageous in the Cobra goal, but his supporting cast was less impressive. Cook made 18 saves during a long and trying afternoon.

"Some of his more spectacular saves spared us a double-digit humiliation," said Coach Gabe Michelli of his lanky, elastic goalkeeper.

The Cobras have added several new players to the roster in the hopes of discovering a legitimate scoring threat. The team is averaging less than one goal a game.

This Saturday, the Cobras play host to Oakland at 1 p.m. in Belleville Park.

Campers lack size and sock

Campers reacted to them were the story against Linden. "The flags were flying all over the place," said Gillick. "I think when officials start throwing flags around, the kids don't know what to do and so sometimes they start hitting after the whistle and things get sloppy."

Senior Paul Cocuzza (5-8, 161) started the year at quarterback, but junior Michael Davis (5-7, 148) replaced him in the latter part of the Nutley game and looked more effective. The switch has done little for the team, though. "Offensively, the problem isn't with either of our quarterbacks," pointed out Gillick. "The front line just hasn't been doing the job blocking, and if we straighten that out we're going to beat somebody."

Cocuzza is now at wingback. Other notables on offense include senior wide receiver Darrell Orr (5-11, 147), junior wide receiver Keith Collier (6-0, 152), junior running backs Mike Perez (5-6, 142), Tyrone Daniels (5-7, 140) and Phil Gregory (5-8, 169). Michael Davis, the fastest player on a team that has good speed, is a talented quarterback who gets little protection. He is also a decent punt kicker.

Players to watch on defense are senior linebackers Ron Russo (5-8, 158) and Mark Glover (6-1, 174) and senior guard Robert Shaw (5-11, 160).

The team to watch tomorrow is Belleville. "They have lots of unity, they play as a team and they're very explosive which is surprising because they're not all that big," said Gillick who has scouted the Bucs personally. Tomorrow his team will get a chance to play them and an opportunity for what would be a major upset indeed.

Dentists, barbers, clerks, machine operators and others who stand for long periods of time, find it desirable to move around as much as possible for the sake of improved circulation. They have also discovered that standing will be less tiring if their shoes fit loosely, if they stand on a soft or elastic surface and keep weight evenly distributed on their feet and hold their heads as erect as possible. The body should make as few extraneous motions as possible during times of strict concentration. That way, all force can be directed on the line of motion.

School 5 PTA president worries over district teacher imbalance

By Mike Olohan

School 5 PTA President Clara Wujciak is worried about now, not the future. She is concerned about a different kind of imbalance in the schools than the one that has drawn so much attention over the last few months.

Monday, she told trustees School 5's two second grade classes of 52 students have only two teachers while School 7's first grade of 44 students has three teachers — pointing out the distribution of teachers is unequal and may lead to an inferior education.

Wujciak asked board members to consider hiring an extra teacher for School 5, but trustees appeared hesitant, noting other school PTAs with similar problems will want an extra teacher if trustees set such a precedent.

Trustee Charles Miele said schoolers must look at the whole system when deciding to add teachers. He said if they add a teacher at School 5, "next week, we'll have School 8 complaining."

Wujciak noted that enrollments in specific elementary grades are varied in all nine schools and emphasized that trustees must take action to eliminate the imbalance.

Tuesday, Wujciak elaborated on the problem facing School 5. "There are 17 SCE (state compensatory education) children there," she said. "These children need more help. This (second grade) is a critical stage, and they (trustees) said they wouldn't be able to do anything until January."

By December, the board's restructuring committee, of about 45 members, will recommend what "restructuring" is needed, possibly school closings, class consolidations or redistricting to balance declining and fluctuating enrollments. The board's plan will be ready by January.

State Department of Equal Educational Opportunity officials have okayed the plan to "restructure" Belleville's school system as an alternative desegregation plan, pending final approval in January by state officials.

"Basically, education up at School 5 has been excellent. This is the first time in several years I've had to go before the board," said Wujciak. "But being right doesn't always get you what you want."

She said the board's answer to wait "is not very good. And I was very disappointed in the (parent) turnout also. I'm concerned about this year, not next year," she said, adding that Trustee Anthony D'Agostino did empathize with her concern about the high number (17) of SCE students. SCE students are those requiring extra help in basic reading and math.

"Three years ago this happened to third graders at School 5," Wujciak. "The principal requested another teacher but got turned down. We just didn't have enough voice this time, but it (adding a teacher) has been done in the past."

In other school developments, a press release from Belleville's restructuring committee notes that the group "has taken the first steps in developing a plan for (school) consolidation." Both press and public are barred from committee meetings under an interpretation of the Sunshine Law that exempts "advisory" committees from holding public meetings. In addition, because only three trustees — Caesar Romano, Ernie Zoppi and Charles Miele — are on the committee, and not four which would constitute an official meeting under the law, the meetings do not have to be open.

Belleville's school master plan, mandated by the state, calls for School 2's closing and the gradual phase-out of Schools 10, 9 and 1 as enrollments decline. The $6,000 master plan was okayed in July.

The restructuring committee's four subcommittees are "engaged in extensive fact finding" and have "assessed the statistics and studies necessary as background information for the committee members," reads the committee's release.

Zoppi heads the committee studying redistricting, the neighborhood school concept, school size and consolidation. A committee reviewing the town's master plan and zoning study, town and county mobility trends is chaired by Miele. Romano leads a committee assessing magnet schools, open enrollment structures, demographics and what to do with closed school buildings.

School Superintendent Dr. John Greed heads a group evaluating possible curriculum changes and whether the ninth grade should be transferred to the high school.

Classic show-biz script lands local girl big part

By Donna Abate

Many people are aware of how Shirley MacLaine achieved instant success when she was plopped into the leading role of "Pajama Game" because the original star broke her leg. Well, a similar misfortune occurred at the Club Bene last weekend that put a familiar Belleville face into the starring role of "Funny Girl."

The anxious crowd awaited the rising curtain expecting to see the talented Mimi Hines. She appeared on stage but speaking in a raspy voice plagued by laryngitis, apologizing and introducing Marla Miller who would perform the lead role of Fanny Brice.

Marla Miller was born and raised in Newark and spent much of her time in Belleville. She is now a resident of Clark. Her twin brother, Michael, lives here in Belleville and will soon graduate from the Newark College of Medicine.

Though she graduated from Newark State College with a psychology degree, Miss Miller has since traveled along the east coast taking on various roles, mostly in musicals. Future possibilities include a part in Broadway's "Best Little Whorehouse in Texas."

Miss Miller, meanwhile, slipped into the taxing lead role at the Club Bene with lots of charm and style and made a somewhat disappointed audience feel very much at ease.

"It all happened so fast," Miss Miller said after the performance. "I was never an understudy before."

Still shaking with nervousness,

Miss Miller said she "was just numb" when she found out she would play the lead in "Funny Girl," but wore a big smile at the outcome. Her original roles had included two minor characters — Mrs. Meeker and Jenny.

For those who need refreshing, "Funny Girl" is a hilarious musical about the life and times of Fanny Brice, her success as a Flo Ziegfeld girl and her marital problems with gambler husband Nick Arnstein.

Miss Miller bounced right into the character of zany Fanny Brice, warmed a hesitant audience with the choreographed by Richard Natkowski.

Several highlights include the fancy tapping in "Rat-tat-tat" and "Cornet Man" which are successes thanks to talented Tom Offt as Eddie Ryan and Miss Miller's stylish humor.

But the show-stoppers belong to Miss Miller who gives thunderous performances in the numbers, "Don't Rain on My Parade" and "The Music That Makes Me Dance."

Deede Darnell is darling as Mrs. Brice and Walter Pidgeon look-alike Steve Lincoln who plays Flo Ziegfeld is superb. Also excellent is Norman Green as Nick Arnstein whose fine acting and singing would put Sharif to shame.

Though scenic design and lighting left much to be desired, the effects were held together with perfect costuming by Nancy Falloon and the great, period-piece props by Joanne Long.

Streisand's nose would have twitched if she had caught the wonderfully energetic, impromptu performance by Miss Miller, especially amazing considering the lead role was reassigned only an hour before showtime.

Sympathies and get-well wishes go out to Miss Hines and a loud applause for future spotlights to a fine local talent — Marla Miller.

Jaycees seek Junior Miss

The search is on in communities throughout the area for the Essex County high school senior girl most representative of her classmates. The young woman chosen as Essex County's Junior Miss will compete with other finalists from the state and country for the coveted national title in the 22nd annual Junior Miss Pageant.

More than $1,000 in scholarships, savings bonds and merchandise will be presented to participants in the local, state and national contests sponsored by the Jaycees in the 1980 pageant year.

Girls between 16 and 19 presently in their senior year in any Essex County high school are eligible to participate.

Judging is based on qualities and abilities in the areas of poise and appearance, youth fitness, academics, talent and personal interviews.

Entry forms may be obtained by writing contestant chairman Michael Paolino, 161 Ohlson Ave., Nutley, N.J. 07110 or calling him at 667-7315.

The 1978 season proved to be a great one, as Head Coach Frank Burns led the Scarlet Knights to a 9 - 3 record and an appearance in the nationally televised inaugural Garden State Bowl, against Arizona State University.

With a core of 29 returning Lettermen, including 14 Starters to work with, Coach Burns believes 1979 will be another proud season. 1979 will also be a major step to the '80's and fulfillment of the future of Rutgers University Football.

Coach Burns and the entire team look forward to seeing you in the stands. The Scarlet Knights want and need your support. Winning is a total team effort; and, with your tickets, you're a part of the team.
