'MAGNETS' PROPOSED

Restructuring panel: Close down School 2

By Mike Olohan

After five months of what restructuring committee members called "intensive research and fact-finding" into Belleville's desegregation problem, the group Monday proposed closing down School 2, redistricting to satisfy desegregation requirements and beginning magnet programs at Schools 1, 3 and 7 in the hope of eliminating Belleville's "racial imbalances."

According to the state, "racial imbalances" exist at Schools 1 and 9 where more than 13.9 percent of enrollment consists of minority children. Since Belleville's townwide minority population is 8.9 percent, state officials say each school should not have more than 5 percent above or below the 8.9 to be racially balanced.

On Aug. 9, trustees created a 51-member restructuring committee to outline a plan which would end Belleville's "racial imbalances" while also improving educational quality. Over the last two months, about 12 members have left the committee, leaving only 38 to make a final decision on a "restructuring" plan — so-called to avoid any direct mention of the committee's real purpose, to end what state officials see as "de facto" segregation in Belleville caused by housing sales patterns.

Declining in their report Monday to tackle the educational effects of what any desegregation plan might bring, committee members apparently went along with School Superintendent John Greed's curriculum subcommittee interim report stressing that school trustees must make a final "restructuring" decision before any curriculum improvements can be evaluated. The committee also left line-drawing for redistricting up to trustees.

Before an interim report was made public Nov. 14, the 51-member committee was already losing members and during its regular Tuesday night meetings, observers stressed how strongly divided members were over which plan to choose: torn between pacifying residents or taking a strong stand to gradually and permanently improve educational quality.

Tom Zampino, press spokesman for the committee, compared any recommendations by committee members to upgrade educational quality to letting a committee of ordinary people decide how to do brain surgery, emphasizing that members were just not as qualified to handle curriculum changes as educators.

Besides closing School 2 in June, the committee proposes the start of a gifted and talented K-6 program as School 1's magnet offering, turning School 3 into a fine arts magnet concentration, and adding a magnet program in English as a second language at school 7 to help balance Belleville's racial mix in the schools.

The 91 children now at School 2 would go to Schools 4 and 10, saving taxpayers about $150,000 a year unless trustees decide to begin a federally funded pre-school program at School 2 as recommended by local teachers' union president Paul Del Polito. Federal funds would provide 100 percent program funding the first year, then 80 percent over the next four years until after five years when federal money would stop, leaving local taxpayers to finance pre-school education if trustees decide to keep it.

Although federal funds would pay most of the program's initial start-up costs, teaching salaries would only be reimbursed 40 percent for five years and maintenance costs would have to be paid completely by local taxes, said Del Polito.

Del Polito also suggested trustees might want to start a private pre-school program at School 2, charging parents tuition to enroll students, although that idea was opposed by two local nursery school owners.

Del Polito's alternative for School 2 was still a minority report that committee members felt should be considered.

Zampino said that although most members did not want to close down any school, a majority felt School 2's falling enrollments left them little choice. The School Board's master plan okayed last summer calls for closing Schools 1, 2 and 9, but the committee prefers phase-outs gradually to closing, said Zampino, although not directly mentioning the master plan.

Two phases are planned at each school to complete restructuring. At School 1 where academically talented kids will congregate, students can be transported to either 3 or 7 where other magnet programs exist or stay at their school if they meet academically talented criteria yet to be decided on by educators and administrators.

If School 2 closes, its seven

Believe It or Not — More than 400 persons showed up at Monday's restructuring committee meeting at the high school. The committee presented a desegregation plan to end "racial imbalances" in the school system by closing School 2 and through redistricting and magnet schools.

Desegregation report received with mix of criticism, confusion

Although most of Belleville's 38-member restructuring committee seemed pleased with proposals for magnet programs, voluntary redistricting, closing School 2 and giving parents options on where to send children according to their needs, no one is really sure whether the plan will work. However, most seem hopeful.

The restructuring committee reportedly was widely split for months over which plan to present to residents but seemed mostly in un-ison Monday night. Whether school trustees approve the desegregation plan is now the main question.

"It was a compromise. Life is a compromise. It's more acceptable than any other plan we had. It's the best plan we could have come up with," said Joan San Filippo, a committee member with two children in Belleville schools.

Confronted by Raymond Harris, who has a son at School 1, committee member Felix Linfante said turning School 1 into a total gifted and talented "magnet" program by 1981 is not discriminating against its students.

"Is it discrimination? Is he going to get a worse education? No, it's just a change," said Linfante, noting that many parents will have to go through "some changes" in deciding where to educate their children.

While mainly making positive comments in response to questions from about 30 of 400 residents who attended Monday's meeting, committee members noted that they had prepared well for answering any negative points made by citizens.

"If no children go down there to School 1, then we'll be forced to redistrict about 40 children to Schools 3, 8 and 9 if the magnet programs don't work," said Joanne Braniff, a committee member who spoke often Monday.

After more than three hours of give-and-take, almost all of the slowly depleted crowd filed quickly out of the high school auditorium when the questioning ended.

"The committee should be complimented," said Board President Ralph Risoli Tuesday. But quickly after saying that, Risoli compared the committee to the 50 hostages being held overseas by Iranian militants, stressing how much trouble just 50 people can cause.

"We could even go to war over that," said Risoli, noting how many problems State Education Commissioner Fred Burke has caused in Belleville. Again referring to the committee, Risoli said, "They remind me of the commissioners, they pass something then they go ahead and have a public hearing on it."

Risoli seemed angry that another public hearing would be held before a final board vote is taken, appearing exasperated although only one has been held. Asked his feelings about the plan, he said when it is formally presented to trustees Monday he will have a prepared statement in which will probably oppose any type of integration as he has done in the past.

"I'm not going to let state commissioner Burke terrorize us," emphasized Risoli.

"Whatever the committee comes up with, we'll give it a shot, we'll give it (the final plan) everything we can," said School 3 Principal Austin MacArthur. He declined to specifically criticize the plan, saying nothing's final on what magnets will

Vets, residents rally to support hostages

About 400 flag-waving bystanders braved strong winds and freezing temperatures Sunday to show their support for American hostages being held in Iran by rallying outside Belleville Town Hall.

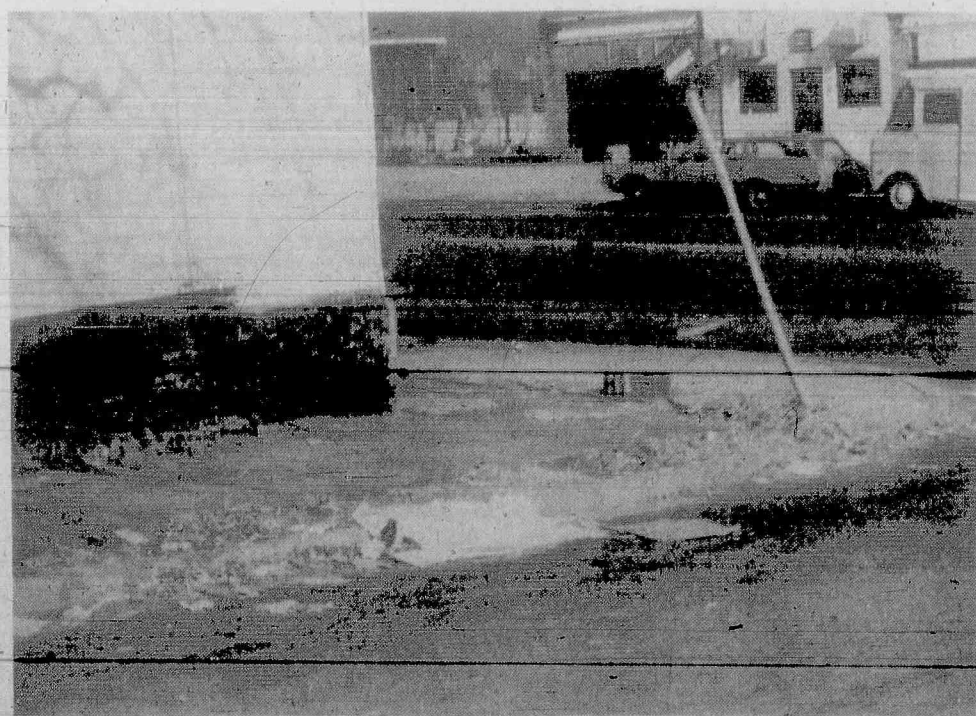

The rally was sponsored by local Veterans Council, whose members, along with those from neighboring towns, rode down Washington Avenue in a 13-car motorcade about 1:45 p.m., leaving from American Legion Post 105 and arriving downtown about 10 minutes later.

A large truck constructed to resemble a train engine led the way, occasionally firing off loud booms as

Frozen Flag Wavers — These four small patriots were on hand Sunday afternoon when Legion Post 105 held a rally for American hostages in Iran. The rally took place in front of Town Hall.

New CPAs — The New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants (NJSCPA) swore in 264 new CPAs recently, including Marguerita Pluck (center) of Belleville who was given the oath by John J. Meade (second from left), executive secretary of the state board of CPAs. A graduate of Rutgers University, Miss Pluck is now with the firm of Samuel Klein & Company, Newark. Also being sworn in is Pasquale DeAngelis of Kearny, Daniel S. Goldberg (far left), president of the NJSCPA, and Edwin H. Ruzinsky (far right), president of the state board, were on hand to congratulate the new CPAs.

PR Director — Linda P. Giorella of Belleville has been appointed public relations director at East Orange General Hospital.

Suburban introduces checking with interest

Suburban Savings and Loan Association, the third largest thrift institution in New Jersey, has introduced a 5 percent interest on checking account. The service eliminates all service charges and requires a $100 minimum to earn interest.

Announcement of the new checking service was made by Marvin Schwartzbard, executive vice president.

"While other institutions are generally calling for large minimum deposits — from $1,000 to $2,500 — to earn interest, Suburban has committed itself to a firm stand against any excess charges at all," reports Schwartzbard.

"In today's market, it's time to give the consumer a break, not

"We at Suburban feel also that since we have always paid interest on savings dollars entrusted to us, we want to continue to do so with our 5 percent interest on checking. It is, after all, another form of savings account," Schwartzbard noted.

Suburban's plan is to use the funds provided by its 5 percent checking for mortgages and other lending activities. Suburban is currently offering conventional mortgages at a 12.75 percent rate, lower than the 13 to 13.75 percent range offered by most other major institutional lenders in the state.

The nearest office of the Wayne-based institution is on Centre Street in Nutley.

Joseph Varkala is presented with France's highest honor

France has given Joseph C. Varkala, president and founder of MOULI, VARCO and T-Fall Housewares of Belleville, its highest award, promotion in membership in the French National Legion of Honor.

Varkala was decorated last month in New York City with the Officer's Cross in the Legion of Honor by French Consul General G. de la Villes Brunne in the name of President Valery Giscard d'Estaing. Varkala was honored for his outstanding contributions to the growth of French commerce and industry in the United States. Brunne noted that Varkala's work had resulted in the establishment by French companies of two manufacturing plants in this country.

Varkala, a member of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, was first decorated with the rank of chevalier or knight in the Legion of Honor by Gen. Charles DeGaulle as a lieutenant commander in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

A special reception and cocktail party, attended by about 150 American and French executives, was also held in Varkala's honor at the Ambassador West Hotel in Chicago just prior to the opening of the National Housewares Manufacturers' Association Exposition Jan. 14. Varkala was congratulated by French Trade Commissioner Jean Claude Lalou for his outstanding achievements in the development of the sales of French housewares products. The three companies Varkala heads have specialized largely in French household gadgets, non-stick cookware and small electrical appliances.

The local businessman received many other accolades from around the country for his achievement. Peter Kountz, executive director of university alumni affairs at the University of Chicago, called him "an outstanding alumnus in his field of whom the university was very proud." Varkala received a bachelor's degree from the university in 1935, a master's degree in international relations in 1936 and holds a Phi Beta Kappa key there.

William Dornburgh, senior vice president of the First Jersey National Bank, said he had come to greatly respect Varkala not only for his outstanding marketing ability but also for his integrity and fairness in all his dealings with the bank, its customers and employees. Varkala sits on the bank's advisory board.

Varkala, a leader in the houseware industry for many years, founded what is now Mouli Manufacturing Corporation in 1948 when he first represented Moulin Legumes S.A. (now Moulinex) in this country, importing and distributing a single item, the Mouli cheese grater. Since then, Varkala has expanded his operations to a firm with three divisions.

A native of Michigan City, Ind., Varkala graduated from the public school system there. In addition to attending the University of Chicago, he was awarded a scholarship to Harvard University for intensive study of foreign languages.

In 1940, Varkala was a representative for ARMCO Steel Corporation of Middletown, Ohio, in France. He married the former Francoise Mertz during the German occupation and smuggled her out of France through Spain.

Today, the Varkalas live in Montclair and are the parents of four children, Paul, John and Christian, all of Montclair, and Mrs. Jeanne Lovern of Wallingford, Pa. The couple has two grandchildren.

The French National Order of the Legion of Honor was founded by Napoleon Bonaparte in 1802 to reward his principal generals and admirals for their services and, in those days, to provide them with pensions that would permit them to maintain a decent standard of living in their later years. Since then, French presidents have included both military heroes and distinguished civilians in the Legion in recognition of their contributions to the nation. Varkala has the most unique distinction of having received the honor both as a Naval officer during war and as a civilian in time of peace.

Pharmacy Footnotes

Mental health depends in part on the body mechanisms that maintain appropriate chemical balances. When the body metabolism which regulates this balance is upset in some way, mental disturbance may result. The underlying causes of metabolic changes are still not clearly understood. However, present research studies indicate that such disturbances can be treated to some extent by chemical means. For example, the release of epinephrine (adrenaline) by the adrenal gland is subject to control both by nerve impulses and by chemicals. The metabolic imbalance can, therefore, theoretically be improved by proper use of chemicals introduced into the body.

Jersey Bell offering booklet on telephone privacy rights

New Jersey Bell has published a booklet that gives customers information about their rights to telephone privacy and how the company protects their privacy.

Entitled "Our Customers' Rights to Telephone Privacy," the booklet details New Jersey Bell's policies in areas dealing with consumer privacy issues and offers advice to consumers on how they can protect their privacy.

"Our customers have the right to use the telephone with the same expectation of privacy they enjoy when talking face-to-face," said Edward Spence, New Jersey Bell's consumer affairs manager in a prepared statement. "We have a special obligation to preserve the privacy of our customers."

Subjects covered in the booklet include the privacy of telephone conversations, telephone listings, wiretapping, annoying and harassing calls, sales calls, automatic announcements and customers toll records and credit information.

Restructuring group decides on magnet school approach

teachers would probably either be transferred or form a curriculum committee to analyze and propose curriculum changes to supplement restructuring, said Zampino.

Apparently, no teachers' jobs would be lost, but a temporary hiring freeze would be necessary, he added, noting that the committee does not favor anyone losing his job or expect that to happen.

No child would be forced to go anywhere under the voluntary magnet plan presented, and neighborhood kids would have first option on magnet programs in their schools without transferring, but without some movement to School 1 and out of 9 or vice versa to eliminate "racial imbalances," a mandatory plan redistricting specific children to specific schools may have to be drawn up.

On a large map at Board of Education offices on Washington Avenue are colored pins representing where every child who attends Belleville's elementary schools lives. Using this map, trustees, using pure statistics, could very easily redistrict schools to be racially balanced. That would leave many parents upset, however.

The committee chose voluntary redistricting, hoping parents would see merit in new magnet programs and agree to have their children try them out. If no local plan is successful, state officials can easily step in and arbitrarily redistrict without anyone's approval, stressed Zampino.

All children in grammar school can choose to attend any magnet program and will be provided with free transportation to and from that magnet school. They may choose to attend either School 1's grades 4-6 academically talented program or School 7's communication arts concentration.

In September, 1981, School 1 could become a complete K-6 gifted and talented magnet school, but beforehand there'll be "a total revision of its philosophy based on the needs of the community as derived from a survey," said Zampino, stressing that nothing will be done until local comments are heard.

The committee also recommended Belleville Junior High School be used strictly as a middle school, moving ninth graders to the high school on a staggered schedule. The committee also said an industrial arts program in elementary schools would be commendable, though offering no suggestions as to what should become of School 2 after its closing.

Most citizens appeared baffled by the plan's complexity, and while Zampino, Joanne Braniff, Felix Linfante, Candida Valiente, Joe Ciccone, John Grant, Andy Colanino and Rev. Al Stone of Fewsmith Church attempted to clarify it, other committee members stared off blankly.

The restructuring committee met Tuesday night to consider citizen suggestions. Though about 30 citizens spoke at Monday's meeting, few vehemently opposed the plan. Most parents were concerned about distances their children might have to walk and lack of crossing guards if voluntary redistricting is okayed.

The final report, including any citizen suggestions used, will be presented to trustees at their meeting this coming Monday. Under questioning from Robert Malanga, Linfante said $150,000 saved by closing School 2 will probably go to educational programs and that taxes might also be lowered.

"We're not sending students from one side of town to another, most won't have to walk any further than what they're presently walking," said Linfante, trying to allay parent fears that not enough safety precautions are being taken by guaranteeing crossing guards at Washington Avenue for children going to either Valley School 1 or 9 and at corners along the way.

"There's too many options, too much voluntary. If we had taken this to court last September, we probably could have won," said Anthony DiPaolo. He accused several committee members who either are or will soon become board candidates of putting politicking ahead of Belleville's children. Candidates remained silent.

Several parents of School 1 children accused committee members of "discriminating" against their school by converting it totally into a magnet school by 1981, obliterating its present pupil enrollment which will be transferred to other schools.

Only about 10 percent, or maybe 15 of the children now there will probably be able to meet the academically talented criteria to be established for School 1, forcing movement, said Zampino.

Remarkably, not one parent from School 2 attacked the committee for axing the school, a fact totally surprising to Zampino, who later joked about the lack of criticism from School 2 parents.

After the presentation, several committee members conceded that the report was a compromise between many competing plans, preferring to call it "the best" alternative — avoiding any mention of whether magnet schools represented the best educational alternative.

Because no one knows how many buses may be needed to transport children to different magnets, no one speculated on cost, but reasonable estimates range near $10-0,000 or more.

"If we've chosen the right (magnet) programs, hopefully they'll be only a certain amount of redistricting," said committee member Andy Colanino.

Specifics on redistricting will most likely be available when trustees okay a final desegregation plan, that is if they choose to go along with the restructuring committee. They are not bound by its proposals.

A final decision must be reached by February's end. Near the close of the presentation, a group of board members could be spotted near the back of the auditorium listening attentively to citizen comments. No trustee was present for the report's presentation, but several showed up later during a question period.

Board critics charge trustees are using the "restructuring" report as an "easy out" to avoid confronting tough issues on their own, but ultimately their desegregation decision, and only theirs, discounting state intervention, is final.

Under Fire — Restructuring committee member Andy Colanino speaks calmly under questioning by citizens about the desegregation plan at Monday night's session.

begin and where since the "restructuring" committee's recommendations are only proposals.

Monday, all administrators have been invited to attend the formal presentation of the restructuring plan to trustees in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m.

"They're just projecting and thinking in the abstract, it's very difficult to react to that," said School 4 Principal Michael Nardiello. "What was good is Monday's meeting gave the plan a good airing. Now at the next meeting the public at large should be able to ask more intelligent questions after digesting (what was said)," he noted. Children from School 2 will be sent to School 4.

"We want to be united with the board so we're reserving judgment. We've got to collectively examine all implications," said School Superintendent Dr. John Greed. He implied he didn't feel the magnet schools as proposed would be educationally sound until a committee of educators develops curriculum at each magnet.

"They could be made educationally sound, but they need time and staff to be worked on. They have to be fully developed," said Greed, who recommended forming a committee with the seven teachers from School 2 if it closes.

"I like magnets used for education, not desegregation," said Board Vice President Ernie Zoppi, who questioned whether an English as a second language magnet at School 7 might not be impractical since trustees are mandated by the state to provide all non-English-speaking children with ESL courses, no matter what school they're in.

Zoppi said he believes if each trustee was asked whether he felt each Belleville school was being used efficiently, there would probably be seven "no" answers, pointing out a need for more consolidations or closings than recommended.

He said the committee's idea of having a "central registrar" at board offices to redistribute School 1 minority students will not work because it focuses only on School 1. "If we're going to have a central registrar, then they should be for the entire district, not just one school," said Zoppi.

"Everybody has his or her own plan. This was a marriage of magnet schools and redistricting," said Zampino, pointing out that there were divisions within the committee. "We were happy to get the community's input," he added.

Frank Montagna, a committee critic who later joined it, said he was "totally confused" by the plan's presentation, asking others around him to tell a reporter to get lost. Finally, walking away, Montagna said, "No comment."

Reached Tuesday, committee chairman Caesar Romano, who didn't attend this week's presentation, said he was reserving opinion on the plan until Monday. "We're going to have the public involved with this," said Romano, noting trustees will hold their own public hearing before approving any plan.

Veterans call for Soviets to get out of Afghanistan

flag-bedecked cars traveled behind it. Local police had closed off the block in front of Town Hall so the Belleville High School Band could perform some patriotic numbers.

The marchers stood at attention and listened as several town politicians and veterans' leaders gave speeches while children waved flags emphasizing their support.

Rally organizers had expected more people to show up Sunday and were disappointed, but afterwards most veterans back at Post 105 felt the rally had made its point.

"We'd been advertising it for two weeks at the high school," said Anthony Mattia, the council publicity director. "So we are a little disappointed at the turnout." He added that more people must begin to realize the possible consequences of Iran's holding U.S. hostages and that unless Russian troops pull out of Afghanistan, there's a good possibility of war.

"I don't want to go to war, I don't want anybody to go to war, but there comes a time when we have to stop backing down to Russia," said Mattia. "Patriotism is our (vets') way of life."

Besides the high school band, whose members waited a half hour outside Town Hall before the motorcade showed up and looked frozen, the Outlaw Drum and Bugle Corps managed to play a few spirited songs before the half-hour rally ended.

Warming up later, like most paraders, with some free spirits and All-American hot dogs, Mattia said "A lot of youngsters today seem mis-oriented" because they lack true patriotism. "I think the media distorted the facts of the Vietnam War, they took a minority opinion of college kids and made it seem like that's what everybody said," he stressed.

Mattia noted that most veterans would probably re-enlist if another war came because they feel that strongly for their country. "We felt that revolution against the war was communist (inspired)," he said.

"Nobody wants to go to war... believe me nobody does. But you have to stand up to Russia some time," said Mattia.

Prayer for today

God, grant me
Courage and Hope for everyday,
Faith to guide me
along my way.

Understanding and Wisdom, too,
And Grace to Accept
what life gives me to do.

Police Chief Joseph Smith

For 32 years Joe Smith has served well as a member of the Belleville Police Department. He joined the force in the post war years, and his service spanned a period of time which included all kinds of emergencies. The fact that he is retiring as chief of police of the Belleville Police Department is adequate testimony to the fact that Joe's service was a few cuts above the average, for otherwise the promotions that led to his appointment as chief of the Police Department never would have happened.

Joe Smith is a man of high moral character and total dedication — a dedication only equaled by his ability to manage men.

We are sorry to lose Chief Smith, but after 32 years he has earned the right to take it easy. In his retirement we wish him good health and happiness.

Peter Shapiro recall

Meetings are being held among various Democrats in Essex County who are organizing an effort to obtain signatures to a petition to throw out of office Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro. Shapiro was elected to office about 15 months ago. At 27 or 28, Shapiro is a young man who, like his elders, will inevitably make mistakes if he makes decisions. Peter Shapiro has made decisions, and some of them have been mistakes. One of Peter's major mistakes is his attempt to establish the office of the Imperial Executive. Peter is perceived to stop at nothing to seize the power and position of Essex County Democratic Chairman. Unfortunately, that is not the job to which he was elected.

Peter does not seem to understand this simple truth.

Except for misusing his staff for political purposes and spending a substantial part of his workweek in political activity

Peter's performance as chief executive receives passing grades. Some of his decisions concerning personnel are suspected of being politically motivated. Taking the very nature of the political creature it is impossible for a public official in Shapiro's position not to bring a political dimension to his job. Not only has Peter done so but openly he has acted and spoken like the Democratic leader of Essex County.

At this very moment Peter Shapiro and key staff members are actively engaged in the presidential campaign of U.S. Senator Edward Kennedy. Peter is accused of using part of his work day advancing the Kennedy candidacy.

Does Peter Shapiro's behavior in office require a recall election? We do not believe so.

U.S. Senator Williams

News accounts have cast shadows over the name and reputation of U.S. Senator Harrison "Pete" Williams. For most of the past 26 years, Pete Williams has been in the public service. He has rightfully earned for himself the distinction of fighting for the underdog — of being the poor man's friend.

Pete Williams also has earned for himself the reputation of integrity and incorruptibility. Pete

Williams' reputation is out of an honest man. Our personal philosophy and the policy of this newspaper is that a person is innocent until proven guilty. Having said that, we have total confidence in the innocence of Pete Williams. It is for a jury of his peers to say otherwise.

Letters to the editor

Walk to School 9 in Valley too dangerous for children

To the Editor:

After having attended the restructuring committee meeting on the evening of Feb. 5, we feel compelled to write this letter.

The committee has given a great deal of time and energy to prepare this recommendation for your approval, and quite frankly, the report is very impressive, especially the area dealing with the magnet school proposal. However, our child is one of those who will be forced to relocate to another school in order to appease the state and its contention of racial imbalance in our town.

Our daughter is presently attending School Five, and if redistricting takes place, she would be placed in School Nine. We feel this move could prove hazardous to our daughter's physical well being. For her to travel from our home to School Nine, she must first cross Washington Avenue. She then must weave her way through the most highly industrialized area of our community, which is in a constant state of vehicular motion, namely large trucks. She must then proceed across Ralph Street, and finally to school. Also, through a point of omission, she must also cross railroad tracks on Little Street. Quite a task for a child who can hardly tie her own shoes, wouldn't you say?

We were told at the meeting on the Feb. 5th that if this move takes place, there would be sufficient crossing guards for the trek into the Valley. This has been made to sound like a cure all, but it falls way short. You must keep in mind that we are dealing with children, and no matter how much we do, or how hard we try, Murphy's Law usually applies. "If something can go wrong, it will."

We personally feel we don't want to jeopardize our daughter's chances by having her removed from what we consider to be much safer surroundings. We sincerely hope the residents of the Valley don't misinterpret the previous statement. Our concern is not the residents of the School Nine area, rather, it is the industry and the trucking.

We have recently purchased a home here in town, and one of our primary considerations was the schools our children would be attending. Having taken School Five into consideration, we were content with the idea that our children would go there. This was instrumental in our decision to settle in Belleville. Now that we have made our decision, and put ourselves in an almost irreversible position, we are being told, indirectly, that what we initially bargained for is no longer available. If this occurred in a business transaction, you could easily predict the ramifications. Since, however, we are only speaking of the future of our children, this would seem to be of minor consequence.

As residents and taxpayers in this community we feel we have the right to be heard. We also are sincere in our feeling that we will do everything in our power to avoid the impending situation. We only hope you feel the same.

Our daughter will not attend School Nine, and we will exhaust every means available to us to see this through.

We hope you will take this letter under serious advisement and arrive at an equitable solution for all concerned, especially the children.

Sincerely,
James and Florence Carlo

School district below average in hiring minority employees

By Mike Olohan

Although Belleville's affirmative action plan apparently complies with state requirements, only six people from "minority" groups hold jobs in local schools.

Since 1972, when Title IX, a federal regulation prohibiting discrimination in the classroom or extracurricular activities passed, any organization receiving federal funds was forced to begin complying. Another federal law, Title VI, prohibits employment discrimination based on race, creed or ethnic origin.

Three of those representing minority groups here were just hired over the last year, including one black male teacher in the Title I program, which helps out slow learners; a Hispanic art teacher and a Hawaiian custodian.

Before that, only three of 492 employees were from "minority" groups, which the government defines as being either black, Hispanic, American Indian or Alaskan native and Asian or Pacific Islander.

School trustees deny any direct or indirect discrimination in hiring practices, and last April when discussing affirmative action requirements became incensed because they felt state officials were forcing them to hire particular minority members instead of basing hiring on qualifications.

Dogged by state officials to comply with desegregation by ending "racial imbalances" at Schools 1 and 9, trustees lashed at state legislators who pass laws but then provide no money to get them working. Trustees also criticized affirmative action guidelines.

School 9 Principal Joseph Grosch, Belleville's affirmative action coordinator, says trustees first advertise locally to fill vacant positions in the schools, then advertise in The Star-Ledger and New York Times if no suitable local choice is found.

"Our plan calls for monitoring for equal educational opportunities in each school in the district," said Grosch Monday. "They (state) want you to achieve that level of minorities that's in the county locally," he added, stressing that Belleville surveys how affirmative action is working each year.

Grosch said trustees don't actually make a conscious decision to hire more minority people, but it is in the back of their minds in reviewing applications and resumes, even though the applicant's color is not listed on an application.

According to a letter sent by Grosch to Jesse E. Brown, a state coordinator of affirmative action, the percentage of minority administrators in Essex County is 25.2 percent whereas in Belleville it's zero. The county minority percentage for teachers is 26.8 percent; in Belleville 1 percent; the county clerical force is 25 percent minority and Belleville's zero; the county maintenance force is 47.8 percent minority and Belleville's zero.

Under affirmative action, women are considered minorities, and only in one county category does Belleville fall way below its norm. While 24.2 percent of women employed by the county are administrators, only 7 percent of those in Belleville's schools are in supervisory positions. Most women employed in Belleville are either elementary school, junior high or high school teachers or clerical workers, while men control most administrative positions. As for minority administrators, other than women, there are none.

"There's no discrimination, no lack of opportunity. It's just that Belleville doesn't draw them (minorities) for some reason," said Grosch, noting that most administrators in Belleville "hang around for so long a time" that many minorities may not feel there's much room for advancement in Belleville.

"Affirmative action makes you more aware of hiring minorities, but when you have a town like Belleville, you just don't find the selection of minority applicants say like in towns like Orange, East Orange, Newark or Montclair," said Grosch.

"He emphasized that because Essex County includes many predominantly black towns, 'this (affirmative action) is very limited when it comes to a town like Belleville. In this county, you're talking about a lot of towns that have many minority (people) to choose from. We have declining enrollments and just not that many people to choose from,' he added.

An eight-member committee, headed by Grosch, plans to meet soon to decide which areas each member will monitor. On the committee are Rose Candeloro, a junior high counselor; Betty Johnson, an elementary librarian; Sarah Gilliar, an elementary nurse; Grace Worley, a high school phys ed teacher; Wendell Parr, an elementary music teacher, and Mike Harvey, a junior high science teacher.

"This affirmative action is a continuous thing, so we'll be meeting several times this year. As far as I know, I guess the state's satisfied with our plan," said Grosch. In his letter to Brown last April, Grosch wrote:

"We have reviewed the salaries and have remedied the only inequity that we found: female coaches and officials now receive salaries equitable to males." He noted that application questions regarding marital status and number of children have been deleted.

"If we have not been successful in attaining our (affirmative action) goals, we will revise our hiring and recruitment procedures," wrote Grosch, although Belleville's affirmative action goals appear conservative.

"We will monitor promotions, terminations and transfers for all employees to ensure non-discrimination. This will begin in September 1978, and will be ongoing," says the paragraph outlining goals.

"We do not go by color, we go by qualifications," says Board President Ralph Risoli.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lupo — nee Mary Abidiwan

Miss Mary C. Abidiwan weds Carl James Lupo

Wedding vows were exchanged in St. Mary's Church by Miss Mary Catherine Abidiwan, daughter of Joseph M. Abidiwan of 66 Beech St., Nutley, and the late Mrs. Margaret Abidiwan, and Carl James Lupo, son of Mr. and Mrs. James V. Lupo Sr. of 36 Meucham St., Belleville. The Rev. James McMahon of Paramus Catholic High School performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the VFW Hall, Cedar Grove. Escorted by her father, the bride wore her late mother's gown of chantilly lace and bridal satin, fashioned with long lace sleeves, full skirt and cathedral train. A fingertip veil was held by a demitcap of pleated satin edged with lace and she carried a silk rose bouquet with floral cascade in fall colors.

Ms. Ginny Fulmer of Nutley was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Ms. Jeanette Kiall of Hazlet, Ms. Mary Beth Ford of Nutley, and Ms. Camille Morodan of Belleville. Flower girl was Laura Melillo of Belleville.

The honor attendant wore a wine colored Quana gown and a wine colored rose in her hair. She carried a basket of matching silk roses. The others were similarly attired in rose and carried baskets of silk fall flowers.

Thomas R. Fulmer of Nutley was best man. Ushering were the bride's brother, Michael Abidiwan, of Nutley, the groom's brother, James Lupo and Joseph Johnson, both of Belleville. Richard Coury of Cedar Grove was ringbearer.

The bride's aunt, Ms. Genevieve Kiall, wore a white gown while the groom's mother was in a pink gown. Corsages were of pink roses.

Mrs. Lupo, an alumna of Nutley High School and William Paterson College, was formerly with Primrose, Diner.

Mr. Lupo, a graduate of Belleville High School and Essex County College, is a petty officer third class in the United States Navy, stationed at Pax River, Md.

The couple honeymooned in Aruba and have made their home in Lexington Park, Md.

Martorano, Finan engaged to marry

Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Martorano of Lyndhurst announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Marie, to James Dennis Finan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Finan of 27 Reservoir Place, Belleville.

The troth was made known Christmas Day.

Miss Martorano, an alumna of Holy Family Academy, Bayonne, and Berkeley Secretarial School, is an executive secretary with Hartz Mountain Industries, Secaucus.

Mr. Finan, a graduate of Belleville High School, attends Montclair State College and is a sales representative with Nutley Oil Burner Supply.

The wedding will be held Nov. 8.

A'Kempis sets lunch Tuesday

The A'Kempis of New Jersey will hold a luncheon meeting noon next Tuesday noon at Mayfair Farms, Eagle Rock Avenue, West Orange.

The program, "Shipwreck in the Antarctic," will be presented by Mrs. Donald Wallace, a conservationist associated with a nature study group who has traveled extensively in many parts of the world including Alaska and Iceland. She will give a personal account of her experiences during a shipwreck.

Local residents Mrs. William Lauber and Mrs. Blanche Kraatz, members of the group, will be attending the meeting.

Reformed Church ladies' rummage sale tomorrow

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,
My husband became bald so he combs the hair from the cranium to the front. I told him he looks funny and he tells me to "Keep quiet, you're the one that made me nervous which made me gain weight and lose my hair!" Umberto, two year ago he gained a lot of weight and then he went on his own diet. He lost weight after a year or more. Can you lose hair by getting nervous or by dieting? Also, are there other ways to comb his hair? Please answer.

The Lady with the Bald Husband
Dear Lady,
You can lose hair over getting nervous, but it will grow back. If you go on your own diet, without your physician's advice, you can lose your hair faster and it will not grow back, especially if baldness runs in the family.

Yes, there is a way to comb his hair differently. He can let his hair grow longer on one side of his head and comb it to the other side. I assure you it will not look funny.

To the Belleville Italian Americans I thank you for the delicious fruit basket you sent.

Yours,
Umberto

Police Vest Fund drive officially ends its work

The Police Vest Fund drive has officially come to an end. The Concerned Citizens of Belleville, the group which sponsored the fund-raising effort, received $16,366.38 from 282 contributors.

That money was enough to supply bullet-proof vests for 78 regular police officers and 26 for the auxiliary police. In addition, four extra vests have been purchased for future police personnel.

The idea for the drive was born in March 1979 when the Stanecki family of Belleville was watching television and saw an officer demonstrate the life-saving capabilities of the bullet-proof vest. Vicki Stanecki asked her father Frank if officers here had the protective vests and he said he didn't know but would find out.

Stanecki learned that several officers here had bought their own but that the majority did not own vests due to their cost and the inability of the town to supply them because of the tight budget.

Stanecki made contact with fellow residents Vito Sylvestro and Richard Melham and together they formed the Concerned Citizens. Belleville Police Officer Vincent Cosenzo acted as coordinator between the Public Safety Department and the committee.

A meeting with town officials followed and approval was given for the project. Contributions began at a trickle and soon became a tidal wave, with businesses, community organizations and, most of all, individual citizens making donations.

Several officers have refused to wear the vests. The Concerned Citizens have stressed, however, that the vests are available to the officers if they eventually decide to use them.

Cosenzo noted that the vests are the "point-blank" type and have four removal panels which may be worn in different combinations to provide different protection levels. The vest is designed to protect the wearer from a .357-caliber Magnum shell at close range (six feet), and it is contoured to be form-fitting, which allows convenience while driving and easy access to weapons. The vest weighs only two-and-three-quarter pounds.

Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica presented a plaque to the three committee members and Cosenzo along with Steve H. Frank who handled publicity. Pica called the committee's work "an amazing accomplishment." William Escott, president of the Belleville Patrolman's Benevolent Association, personally thanked the committee members for their efforts.

MS Worker Awarded — Mike Tsamas, treasurer of the Multiple Sclerosis Association of Essex County, displays the plaque he was awarded for his work on behalf of the organization. With him are his wife Paula and (standing, l-r) association President Dick Renna, Secretary Phil Sagado and former president Rudy Rinaldi. The group is conducting a fund drive to put up a free MS clinic in Belleville. Checks made payable to the Multiple Sclerosis Association of Essex County Building Fund may be sent to 20 Belmont Ave., Belleville, N.J., 07109.

Senior Notes

By George Chenoweth

The latest in legislation on the national level pertains to the rejection of taxation of half of Social Security income. Reaction among concerned senior citizens to the recommendation of the Social Security Advisory Council has been swift and successful. The opposition to HR 3236 which has passed in the House and is on the Senate floor has been equally firm, and the proposed cut in disability benefits has been stalled and possibly stopped.

The rally Dec. 13 in Trenton, sponsored by the New Jersey Federation of Senior Citizens and supported by the Essex County Council of Senior Citizens Clubs, drew over 1,000 seniors to the State House where speakers presented two resolutions against Social Security cuts. The resolutions passed unanimously. There has been a response from all over the east coast and a call favorable to our cause was received from Sen. Harrison Williams. The New Jersey Assembly has passed the substance of the resolutions, and congressional Reps. Minish and Guarino have introduced legislation barring cuts in Social Security benefits. The Advisory Board proposals to use general revenue funds instead of payroll taxes for parts of Social Security and Medicaid and for having two cost of living adjustments a year were supported.

On national health, there has been little or no congressional action on various proposals, and the issue has apparently been seized upon by candidates trying for votes. Chances of seniors' legislative action have diminished.

The political campaign has apparently increased chances for preserving $2.3 billion in federal revenue sharing grants to states in the new budget. The total program is $6.9 billion. Additional monitoring is the probable basis for a Carter reversal of a previous decision; likewise a 20 percent increase in subsidized housing units has administration backing. This will reverse a three-year decline in housing subsidies to the poor. Who said elections are all bad?

The administration and others have indicated that there will be another effort to pass a hospital cost containment bill. As we know, HR 2626 was defeated 234-166 in the House. The New Jersey Federation and the Essex County Council are going to start the revival campaign locally with letters expressing their disappointment to New Jersey congressmen who have opposed the measure. It must be pointed out that some opposition was because of the weaker voluntary approach for the first year. However, the power of the medical lobby was a more likely cause. A step in the right direction was taken in New Jersey where a pilot program for rate reform was started in 26 hospitals. It will focus on costs of ailments instead of daily room rates for reimbursement purposes.

Woman's Club will work for burn treatment unit

The Evening Membership Department of the New Jersey State Federation of Woman's Clubs has designated the burn treatment unit at St. Barnabas Medical Center as the departmental project for the year, and the Belleville Woman's Club will hold fund-raising events to support the facility.

The local Evening Membership Department wants to help raise money to purchase equipment, such as an auxiliary hydrotherapy machine, for the unit's operating room and to assist a nurses' education fund.

The unit, located in Livingston, is the only specialized burn treatment facility in the state. Since its opening, more than 200 major burn victims have been treated, and use of the unit continues to rise. Patients come from New Jersey and surrounding states.

Fund-raising possibilities for the project will be discussed at the next meeting of the Woman's Club Feb. 20 at 51 Rossmore Place.

NOW-Interest on Checking

Now we can put all your money to work earning high interest. For your everyday funds, we have the new First National State NOW Account, a checking account that pays a full 5% interest per year for an effective annual yield of 5.20% when principal and interest remain on deposit for a year. Interest is compounded continuously on the collected daily balance of your account. You must maintain a minimum daily balance of $100 to earn interest in any given month, and there are no service charges if you maintain a minimum daily balance of $1,000 or more.

FirstRate INVESTMENT CERTIFICATES*

FirstRate Investment Certificates pay you an interest rate equal to the discount rate paid on 26-week U.S. Treasury Bills in effect when you purchase the certificate. The effective yield on U.S. Treasury Bills is higher. All you need is a minimum investment of $10,000 and you can earn the highest rate allowed by law. Your money is invested for only six months at a time and may be automatically renewed for an additional six-month period at the rate prevailing at that time. FirstRate Certificates are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Federal law prohibits compounding of interest during the term of the deposit.

Special Investment Certificates*

For your nest egg, we have our Special Investment Certificates. Lock in today's high interest rates for 2 1/2 years with a minimum investment of $1,000. The interest rate paid is 3/4% under the average yield on Treasury securities maturing in 2 1/2 years. At the time of purchase, the rate in effect for that month is guaranteed for the full term of the certificate. Interest is compounded daily from day of deposit when paid at maturity. You may choose to receive a check for interest earned at the end of each calendar quarter. The check can be either mailed to you or deposited in your checking account.

So start putting all of your money to work earning interest. Save and check NOW at First National State — the One for your money in New Jersey.

*Substantial interest penalty is required for early withdrawal. **Annual yields are effective when principal and interest are left on deposit for a full year.

Parents key to whether BHS band takes its trip

By Mike Olohan

So far, Belleville's Music Parents Association has raised $6,400 from a candle, candy and shampoo sale to help pay for the band students' trip to Florida scheduled for May.

The association hopes to generate another $7,600 or more from a show featuring Bee-line fashions Feb. 22 at the Branch Brook Manor and from a special performance by Jersey City State College's Jazz Ensemble at the high school auditorium March 30. Tickets for the fashion show are $5.

Besides that $14,000, another $12,152 must be raised through sales of $75 "association-member-family-sponsorship" grants. "The appeal for these grants is going out to all association members and parents throughout the elementary, junior high and high school music program," said Gabe Nazzola, president of the association.

A "Belleville Day at the Circus" is also planned for May 4 at South Mountain Arena, West Orange, at which the band will play to raise money.

One-hundred-and-ten students who need $237.75 apiece will be going on the five-day trip to Florida, along with 10 chaperones — probably five music faculty staff members and five Board of Education employees.

"We're also going to try to get many parents along on the trip to act as quasi-chaperones," said Nazzola, who wasn't sure how many parents or members had given $75 to support the band's trip as of January.

Because school trustees decided that band members and chaperones should go to Florida by train, instead of by bus, adding $3,000 to the trip's cost, board attorney Lawrence Schwartz has intimated the Music Parents Association could ask trustees to help subsidize the trip with several thousand dollars.

Since 10 chaperones, about one for each 10 students, were also requested by trustees, Nazzola said he may ask board members to reimburse the association for half of them, since five will be board employees.

What everything comes down to, said Nazzola, is the success of selling the $75 family membership grants. Without those being sold, the trip will be derailed.

"We feel confident the kids will get to go on this trip," said Nazzola. "We don't think any parent will turn us down for something like this since it's for their children," he said.

"This trip is for the kids, that's the most important thing," echoed John DiStasi, a music parent and School Board candidate. In December, Trustee Charles Miele warned that board members might be setting a bad precedent by giving money to the band association.

If the group's fund-raisers fall short, Nazzola says the association will either have to ask trustees for help or cancel the trip.

Special ed Scouts win awards, badges at Elks

Boy Scout Troop 364 for the educationally handicapped held its awards ceremony at Belleville Elks Lodge 1123 last month. Scoutmaster Larry Dempsey extended special thanks to the lodge's exalted ruler, James Salmon, for the Elks' continued support of the troop. The lodge in turn presented each scout with a down vest.

More than 100 friends and relatives of the scouts were assembled for the presentations. The boys received their awards from Dempsey and his assistants, Joseph Paglia and Michael Snyder. Also present were Robert Nehlong of Knights of Columbus Council 835 and William Breen, administrator of the Pioneers McCully Upstate Chapter of New Jersey Bell Telephone Company.

Two members of the troop, Thomas Durr and Robert Graham, achieved the rank of life scout, having moved up the ranks from tenderfoot, second class, first class and star scout previously. Their mothers were presented with corsages to mark the occasion.

Durr, also a junior assistant scoutmaster, holds a skill award for personal fitness and merit badges in cooking, rowing, canoeing, pioneering, wilderness survival, personal fitness and safety. Graham has a skill award and merit badge for personal fitness and a merit badge for communication.

Star Scout Chris Marinelli, a patrol leader, has a skill award and merit badge for personal fitness and a merit badge for archery. Star Scout Vincent Pernicola, also a patrol leader, holds the same awards. Among the second class scouts, Jim Durr has skill awards in citizenship, hiking, first aid, family living and personal fitness, and merit badges in the latter and archery. Joseph Giarratana has received skill awards in personal fitness and family living, while Steve Della Penna holds an award and merit badge for personal fitness. Joseph Shiner has skill awards in personal fitness and family living and a merit badge in woodworking.

Tenderfoot John Bergamini holds awards in personal fitness, family living and citizenship and a tenderfoot merit badge. Stewart Grudin has skill awards in personal fitness, family living and citizenship.

AARP meeting this afternoon

The monthly meeting of Belleville Chapter 2051 of the American Association of Retired Persons will be held 1 p.m. today at Fewsmith Presbyterian Church, 444 Union Ave.

The speaker will be Marilyn Askim, an attorney from the Essex-Newark Legal Services. A question-and-answer period will follow her address.

Members are requested to pay their 1980 dues of $2 at the meeting. The green national membership card and the blue chapter membership card must be shown when paying dues.

The chapter's official board will meet Friday, Feb. 15.

Masons to hold blood drive Saturday at Kearny temple

The Eighth New Jersey Masonic District, which includes the Belleville lodge, will hold its annual blood drive 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. this Saturday at the Triune Temple, 557 Kearny Ave., Kearny.

Nurses from the North Jersey Blood Bank will participate in the program. Donors may contribute to either the Masons' statewide blood bank or one operated by any organization of their choice.

The goal for this year's drive is 60 pints, according to Al Fritsch, worshipful master of Triune. Fritsch explained that the Masonic Blood Bank is affiliated with similar blood banks across the nation. Any donor or member of his family who should be in need of blood will be able to receive it free anywhere in the country after giving to the Masonic bank.

In addition, any person in need who asks a Mason for help in obtaining blood is entitled to make use of the fraternal association's bank — whether or not he has donated.

Fucello savoring fruits of her work

It has been quite a year for sports at Belleville High and there is still more to come. Thus far, the football team has turned in a fantastic year, the soccer team has completed its second straight winning season, the boys' basketball squad has surprised everyone with its aggressive style of play and the wrestling team has been performing at a steady pace all year.

There is one sport that I purposely failed to mention. The girls' basketball team is currently 11-4. Some people might not be aware of that fact, so this is a good time to bring to light the fine work that the team and its head coach, Karen Fucello, have been doing.

The girls are currently working on their third straight winning season, but the steady rise to the top is something that did not come easily for Fucello. Fucello can be called the founder of women's sports in Belleville. She coaches the tennis team, was the coach of the softball squad, started the volleyball program and actively supported the birth of the gymnastics team.

Her work in basketball can only be described as magnificent. She started coaching the sport in 1972 and led that first team to a 10-2 record. The following year, the team improved to a 12-4 mark and narrowly missed a berth in the state semifinals. After that season, Fucello took a year's leave of absence. "When I returned the following year, I predicted that it would take three years to rebuild the program," she said. "It's been a long, hard struggle, but I really feel that our program is one of the finest in the state."

Fucello was exactly right when she said that it would take three years to rebuild. In her first two years, the team finished with identical 6-16 records. In the 1977-78 season, the girls improved to 13-8 and a victory over arch rival Nutley in the first round of the state tourney. Last year, the team finished at 16-7, a year Fucello will never forget. "That group was so aggressive," she said. "They never gave up and were a tough bunch of competitors. I really would have to say that last season was my most enjoyable year. We didn't expect to be that good and the results were just beautiful."

The girls reached new heights last year by advancing to the semifinal round of the county championships. So far this season, the girls have been playing at a very impressive clip. The team has just three seniors; but the underclassmen have done a great job in filling the gaps left after graduation last year.

Robin Giordano, a senior center, is the team co-captain and without a doubt the most aggressive player on the club. She averages about 14 points a game and makes her presence well known under the boards. When she is right, and that is most of the time, she is one of the best centers in the county. Giordano has been with the team since her freshman year and has improved tremendously each year.

Joyce Iacullo is the team scoring leader. She plays guard and has been with the team for four years. Joyce's high game this year was a 29-point outburst against Bloomfield.

Carol Salerno is a quiet, tough player who is a big asset to the team. She doesn't score a lot of points, but her mere presence and all-out determination are a good model for the younger players.

Dawn Ritacco is enjoying a fine junior year with her strong play at center and forward. Along with Giordano, she makes an awesome obstacle for opposing players. Ritacco has been averaging about 12 points a game, but her true talent is in the rebounding department.

Marie DiPaolo has been a surprise for the girls this season. She is not very quick but is extremely strong and is a fine shooter. She is just a junior and can be counted on for the layups under the boards and to do a lot of rebounding.

Rosie Leonidis, or more familiarly, "The Kamakazi Pilot," is only a sophomore but already has made herself a reputation as a very aggressive guard. Her ballhandling has improved immensely and her all-around athletic ability make her a menace to opposing players. Furthermore, she never quits and will go to any lengths to help the club.

An aspect of the team that Fucello is extremely proud of is that her sophomores were her first elementary charges five years ago. Fucello started the elementary program in 1975 and the results are starting to pay off.

There are six girls now on the team who took part in the elementary program: Barbara Gundry, Leonidis, Donna Mundy, Doreen Pennetti, Cecilia Graham and Luisa Dennis started out in the elementary program and now are making steady progress.

Gundry, known as "The Made Bubble," scored a career-high 28 points for the jayvee team last Saturday and is described as a "great kid and lovely person to coach" but Fucello, Donna Mundy started with the program in the sixth grade and junior is currently seeing a lot of jayvee action and should be a key player on next year's varsity team. Pennetti is a popular member of the team who possesses great shooting ability. Graham has fine athletic ability and the sophomore can be counted on very heavily for the next two years. She is also a member of the cross country and track teams. Dennis will be a big help to the team in the next two years and is getting valuable time on the jayvee level.

Behind all this success lies the very efficient coaching staff. "They're fantastic," Fucello said of the coaches. "They're so dedicated and really make this program go." Debbie Meola is the jayvee coach also team trainer. Meola has coached the girls' track team for three years and is key member of the staff.

Camille Casaletto and Patty Pfel are in charge of the seventh and eighth grade and freshman teams. The seventh and eighth grade squad is currently unbeaten, while the freshman team holds the same distinction.

Fucello was disappointed with the Board of Education's decision not to join the Watchung Conference. "I think we could have tried the conference for a couple of years," she said. "Being an independent is not very enviable. We have a hard time scheduling games because a lot of teams are in a conference."

She also points out that the new conference Belleville hopes to start in 1982 will feature teams from Essex Catholic and Seton Hall schools that do not have girls' athletics.

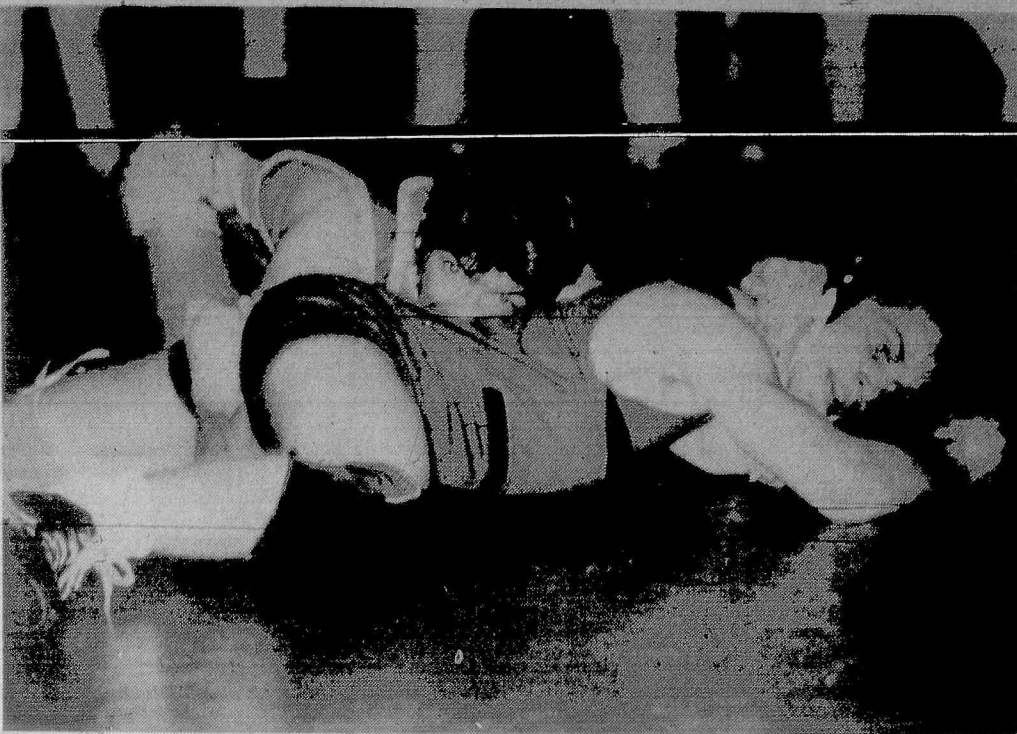

The coach has placed a great emphasis on parental cooperation for the future of girls' athletics at Belleville. "I think the parents should encourage their daughters to take an interest in athletics," she said. "It's a great way to meet different people and a good way to go to college for virtually nothing. Our turnouts for the elementary league have gone down considerably in the last couple of years. In high school, a student must take an interest in some type of activity and with the growing intensity of woman's athletics, it would be a great chance for girls to get off on the right foot."

Fucello has plenty of experience to back up anything she says. She coached in the East Orange youth games and eventually took that team to Detroit for further competition. She has coached at the AAU level and led a team there to a state title last summer and ended up second in the nation. She has also coached in the Montclair State Women's Basketball League for two years.

"I'm working at being a sideline coach," said Fucello. "Coaching is something that takes years of experience in order to be

Pair of heartbreakers leave grapplers at 5-6

Hide and Seek — Belleville's Lou Pomponio peeks out from behind Paul Jerry in the 115-pound bout of the last Friday's wrestling match with Kearny. Pomponio was defeated 10-6 as the Bucs lost 27-25.

By Mike Olohan

For the fans who were there, it was difficult to believe. Belleville wrestling captain Chris Musmanno had tears in his eyes, as he ran off the gym floor after the match. About 20 Kearny fans hoisted Kardinal Tom Reany on their shoulders, shouting "We're number one!" after his pin assured the Kards of victory.

Most Belleville fans sat stunned, not wanting to believe what had just happened. Several wrestlers looked heartbroken. For many, staring at Saturday's box score was like reading an obituary, but no one had died.

It read simply: Kearny 27, Belleville 25.

Maybe that sounds a bit melodramatic for a wrestling match, but just ask the local fans and wrestlers who were at Kearny last Friday night what that match was like.

"It was a real exciting match, wasn't it?" asked Buc coach Gene D'Alessandro, in classic understatement. "We were underdogs, but I think the majority of our kids did a good job. They did very, very nicely... we wrestled well," he said Sunday night, two days after the emotionally jarring bout.

Immediately after Friday's last bout saw heavyweight Anthony D'Agostino get nailed at 3:15 of the second after leading 2-0 at the end of one. D'Alessandro appeared momentarily distraught but quickly regained his composure, walking over to shake hands with Kearny coach Art Monaco.

Kearny was 8-0 going into last Friday's match, but barely escaped with win nine. Pounding the wooden bleachers with their feet, Kearny fans made themselves continually heard as Belleville's followers responded by banging almost as loudly. Besides a brief scuffle on the Kearny side, the banging and shouting showed no visible effects but certainly kept everyone on edge.

At 101, Tom Graziano was able to manhandle Kard Kevin Grier but couldn't quite pin him despite several opportunities, ending up with a 7-0 blanking.

Quickly after the 108 bout started, Buc jayvee recruit Ron Young was in trouble as Dave Petrozelli grabbed his left arm and began twisting it with ease, painfully contorting Young's body and caus-

Boy cagers stop Essex 67-60 and forget Montclair horror

By Mike Lamberti

Behind the magnificent performance of Wayne "The Train" Bubel, the Belleville High boys' basketball team won its 10th game of the 1979-80 season, beating Seton Hall 67-60 last Friday night.

Earlier in the week, the Bucs took a giant step out of their league and fell flat on their faces against the powerful Mounties of Montclair. Montclair won the game 115-38 in a game that head coach Joe Papisidero and his team would love to forget.

Tuesday, the Bucs traveled to Irvington and tomorrow will hit the road to battle unbeaten St. Benedict's. Game time is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Against Seton Hall, the Bucs did not play their best game of the year but played "well enough to win," according to Papisidero. "Gary (Farrar) was injured and we used him sparingly," said the coach. "We didn't play with great intensity, but we got a great effort by Bubel."

The Train was simply awesome as he single-handedly derailed the Pony Pirates. He scored a career-high 36 points and dominated the boards with 24 rebounds.

Belleville trailed 16-14 after one quarter but regained the lead 29-26 by the intermission.

In the third quarter, the Bucs pulled away behind the fine shooting of Bubel and teammate Ron "Swish" Wittman. Wittman tallied 18 points as the Bucs took a 49-39 lead into the last quarter. Seton Hall made a last-ditch effort behind the super shooting of guard Kevin Kelly but the Pirates' comeback attempt fell short.

Ed Aulisi had seven points, Magic Farrar popped in four despite a sprained ankle and Harry "Pistol" Anderson rilled in two points. For Seton Hall, Kelly was the leading scorer with 32 points.

The Montclair game was, to put it simply, a joke. The Bucs were never in the game against high school's version of the NBA all star team. What made matters worse was that Bob Lester, the Mounties' coach, had his team press the Bucs until seven seconds remained in the game. Sometimes one has to question the motives of people involved in sports at high school level. If the players were being paid like those in the NBA, it would be totally reasonable to pull out all the stops. But when one is talking about a high school game, a better approach could have been used. Montclair had the game put away by halftime.

The Mounties led 24-8 after the first quarter and extended that margin to 59-19 at the half. The lead increased to 82-31 after three quarters, and the Mounties finished strong, outscoring the locals 33-7 and winning 115-38.

Girls' hoop team snaps out of three-game slide

By Mike Lamberti

A week ago, the Belleville High girls' basketball team was in the midst of its worst slump of the season. The girls had tumbled from a 9-1 record to 9-4 and the team appeared tired and run down.

Suddenly, the girls found a new lease on life and the results were like old times again. Last week, the Buccaneers routed Montclair 64-28 and beat a tall Mount St. Dominic team 44-39. The local girls' record now stands at 11-4.

The girls hosted powerful Irvington on Tuesday and will host Bayonne this afternoon at 3:45 p.m.

Against Montclair, the girls actually were trailing after the first quarter. The Mountie ladies took off strong and led 11-10 after one period. After that, however, it was all Belleville as the local girls used the shooting of Joyce Iacullo and the aggressive play of Robin Giordano to pull away. The locals outscored Montclair 20-3 in the second quarter and led 30-14 at the half.

The first two quarters were a mere tune-up for Belleville as the girls poured it on against their inexperienced Montclair opponents in the second half. Iacullo led all scorers with 23 points, while Giordano popped in 20 and had five assists. Rosie Leonidis played an aggressive game and came through with eight points. Dawn Ritacco had six points and Marie DiPaolo four.

Head coach Karen Fucello was glad to get the win but admitted her team was still a bit sluggish. "We have to start taking the game to the opposition," said the coach. "Our press hasn't been what it should be and I think our girls need some rest. It's a long season and a lot of the players are getting sick."

The Mount St. Dominic game was a close affair with junior pivotwoman Dawn Ritacco making the difference for Belleville. Ritacco pulled down 15 rebounds and contributed 15 valuable points to pace the Belleville attack.

The girls trailed 8-6 after the first quarter and 18-16 at the half. Belleville rallied in the third quarter to regain the lead 28-27 and held on to win 44-39.

Iacullo had 16 points, Giordano was limited to two. DiPaolo had three, Carol Salerno scored two and Leonidis chipped in six. Stephen Farrell had 10 points for Mount St. Dominic.

"They were one of the tallest teams we've faced," Fucello said of Mount St. Dominic. "Dawn's rebounding was the difference for us. What we have to do is try and perform better in the first quarter. We have a tendency to play poorly in the first frame and it has hurt us in the past."

Net Attempt — But no net gain as Rich Cook tries for two in Friday night's basketball game against Seton Hall. The Bucs won 67-60, their 10th victory of the season.

Weightlifting meet next week at BHS

The 1980 Belleville Open Weightlifting Championships will be held Saturday, Feb. 16, at the high school. Some of the top lifters from the region and the nation are expected to take part in the third annual competition sponsored by the Recreation Department in cooperation with the Belleville Barbell Club.

Lifters will compete in the two hands snatch and the two hands clean and jerk with AAU rules in force. The program will be divided into two parts. Lots, for the 52, 56, 60, 67.5 and 75 kilogram weight classes will be drawn in the morning with lifting beginning at noon. Lots will be drawn in the afternoon for the 82.5, 90, 100, 110 and unlimited classes with competition starting at 5 p.m.

Awards will be given to the first three finishers in each class and the best lifters in the morning and evening sessions. In addition, there will be two team awards.

Tickets, $2, will be available at the door. Proceeds will go toward equipment and traveling expenses for the Belleville Barbell Club.

Upsets mark play in Rec basketball

Two stunning upsets highlighted an evening of exciting basketball action last week in the Belleville Senior Boys' League.

In the first of two close contests, the Silver Lakers edged DeBacco's Clifton Avenue 39-38. The lead changed hands several times throughout the game, but the Lakers outscored Clifton Avenue 14-12 in the fourth quarter to climb from a one-point deficit to the one-point margin of victory.

Sam DeCapua (13 points) and Kenny Constantino (12) paced the Lakers to their fourth win against two losses. John Melillo scored 22 points for DeBacco's Clifton Avenue which dropped its first game in six decisions.

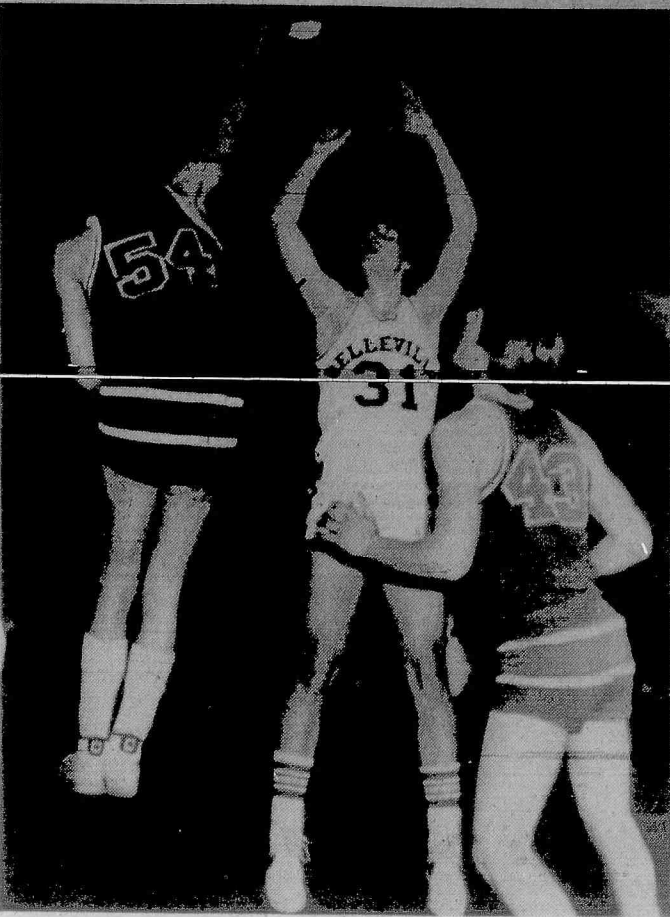

DeBacco's 76ers shocked Belleville-Newark Honda with their 37-35 victory, thereby improving to 4-2. With less than two minutes remaining, Ricky Kiernan sank three big foul shots to ice the victory for the underdogs. Kiernan scored a total of 15 points for the 76ers, but it was George Kalas's 16 points that helped the 76ers to their fourth straight win. Steve Coffey (12 points), Mike Nicosia (11) and Lou Ritacco (10) led the scoring for Honda which dropped to 5-1 and remains tied with DeBacco's Clifton Avenue for first place.

Mickey Music upped its mark to 4-2 by setting back T-Bird Sewer Service 48-33. Percy Flowers (12 points) and Allan Talmadge (10) led Mickey into a tie for second place with DeBacco's 76ers and the Silver Lakers. Tom Bini and Joe Mustachio threw in nine points apiece for T-Bird (1-5).

In a battle of winless teams, the 69ers rose to the occasion by beating the Maniacs 74-36. Jim Hutchinson scored 29 points and Frank Snyder 12 to lead the 69ers to their first victory. Steve Byers popped in 20 points and Dave Calmonica added 14 for the Maniacs.

Before press time, Belleville-Newark Honda and DeBacco's Please see "Chief Motors" on page 21.

Two from the Floor — Wayne Bubet shoots over a Seton Hall defender last Friday. The Buc junior scored 36 points and pulled down 24 rebounds to lead Belleville to victory.

JV girl cagers on the upturn

The Belleville High girls' jayvee basketball squad has won two out of its three last games to raise its record to 5-6, and the Buccanettes are planning to improve that mark.

The latest round of action actually began with an important loss to Nutley Jan. 22. At halftime, the local girls were down by 10 and the final score was 44-35.

Belleville's high scorer was Doreen Pinetti with 13 points. Other scorers were Barbara Gundry with eight, Luisa Dinis with seven, Debbie Mundy with three and Cecelia Graham and Franchette Polite with two each.

The girls then faced the Passaic Indians and scalped them 36-34. Barbara Gundry led the team with 12 points. Other contributors were Doreen Pinetti with nine, Debbie Mundy with five, Debbie Jinks with four and Franchette Polite with three.

The Buccanettes played Montclair Jan. 29 and defeated the Mountie girls 33-27. High scorer for Belleville was Luisa Dinis with 10 points. Doreen Pinetti had seven, Barbara Gundry and Debbie Mundy each had six and Cecilia Graham and Franchette Polite both ended with two.

Matmen drop close ones to Kearny, North Bergen

ing him to lose balance, and get pinned at 1:41.

One-hundred-fifteen-pounder Lou Pomponio came close to getting nailed but managed to escape disaster as time ran out before Kearny's Paul Jerry could pin both shoulders.

Lou made two fatal mistakes in a matter of 20 seconds which cost him nine points," said D'Alessandro. Pomponio lost 10-6.

At the end of three, it was 9-3 Kearny, but 122-pounder Gerard Minichini chalked up three points as he gently outmaneuvered Marty Brooks, nipping him 6-4 despite his opponent's several takedown tries in the final 30 seconds.

Wrestling at 129, Jim Lombard was swiftly behind 2-0 on a takedown, though he never touched the mat, one of several calls made that night by referee Jose Payne which Belleville fans disagreed with.

Lombard tied it 2-2 by the second period's end, but was overwhelmed in the third and was lucky to escape not being pinned as opponent Jim Hyde simply shoved Lombard around the mat to beat him 10-3.

Now it was 12-6 Kearny and 135-pounder Elio Gonzalez faced Kard Dave Montgomery. Neither grappler was able to gain the upper hand, both wrestling cautiously until about 20 seconds were left in the second period and Gonzalez was able to turn over Montgomery. Gonzalez held Montgomery to his back nearly 15 seconds until at 3:59 it was all over. Gonzalez jumped up, and it was all tied 12-12.

At 141, Bue Bob Scherrer gained a major decision by beating John Toriglio 12-3. "Bobby is getting much more physical and wrestling with more confidence," said D'Alessandro. Four points are awarded for a major decision — a win by at least eight points.

Next, Kard 148-pounder Mike Hyde beat Phil D'Agostino 5-1. "He's performing better, but still needs a lot of work," said the coach of D'Agostino.

Brian McManus (158) was able to just squeeze by John Wallentine 2-1 with cautious defensive wrestling by avoiding any points for stalling over the last minute, despite his opponent's constant efforts to pull him out of a crouched position.

With the Bucs leading 19-15, Musmanno was up and thoroughly outmaneuvered Jim Keim before pinning him at 1:41 in the 170-pound bout. Musmanno was psyched, racing to his teammates after the bout, clasping their hands and shouting. Belleville now led 25-15.

Once again, all the pressure was on the final two bouts. If either 188-pounder Rich Racioppi or D'Agostino could win or even just lose three-point decisions, the victory was Belleville's.

But neither alternative was to be. Though behind in his bout, Racioppi looked strong going into the third. However, at 4:10 he was nailed quickly, unable to escape by twisting or a neck bridge as Dennis Kalevas leaned into him.

Then at 1:15 of the second period, D'Agostino was put on his back and pinned. Beforehand both wrestlers had several times avoided pins by twisting and tumbling about. In the end, muscle became the deciding factor over balance.

D'Alessandro said that despite losing, most wrestlers had done their best, but some fans felt that several matmen seemed to be more interested in winning for themselves by conservative, cautious wrestling than racking up more points by going for pins to help out Belleville's team score.

"It's disappointing to see some kids not perform up to their capabilities," said D'Alessandro, "and it's unfortunate in wrestling that the pressure's always on the top weight classes. I'm upset because they like to win and because we like to win for the community," added the coach.

Last Wednesday, Belleville's matmen were nipped 26-22 by North Bergen, which appeared weak in upper weight classes. "The kids wrestled well, but again, even the Pittsburgh Steelers lost four games before they won the Super Bowl."

said D'Alessandro, optimistic about Belleville's post-season chances.

After Graziano had whipped by Ultima-Lita 16-0 at 107, Ron Young was zinged by Tom Flynn at 2:24 of the second giving Bergen a 6-5 team lead.

A 7-1 verdict by Lou Pomponio over Steve Trifoglio at 115 put Belleville ahead again and Gerard Minichini edged 122-pounder Ted DeGuilmi 3-2, making the score 11-6 Belleville.

After Minichini's bout, North Bergen swept the next five weight classes. At 129, Kirk DeLorenzo beat Jim Lombard 5-1 and 135-pounder Mitch Pascual pounded Elio Gonzalez 14-2.

Bergen's John Crowley at 141 flipped Bob Scherrer 4-0, a close match, before Phil D'Agostino was nailed at 2:32 of the second by Al Pascual. At 158, John Bott beat Brian McManus 6-1, giving Bergen a 26-11 team lead before Belleville's comeback.

Chris Musmanno did a "superior" job on Rene Quintero, whitewashing him 15-0 for five team points, and Rich Racioppi edged by Perry Plotkin 5-3 for another three.

Heavy

D'Agostino zipped Jim Juffano 10-0 for the final score but Belleville fell short. North Bergen upped its record to 7-2 by winning.

Yesterday, Belleville, 5-6, visited Caldwell. The Bucs, take on strong Essex Catholic tomorrow and face Clifton next Wednesday.

MAT CHIT CHAT: Despite losses to North Bergen and Kearny, the wrestlers overall have looked strong. However, some seem unable to be aggressive and smart at the same time...D'Alessandro's philosophy, generally conservative, is to simply work on and tire opponents, but in recent close matches it's proven to be a burden. Some wrestlers appear unwilling to take risks which might lead to more points or pins, too often willing instead to wrestle defensively rather than going after the opportunity to pin... Essex Catholic, long a wrestling powerhouse under D'Alessandro, visits Belleville tomorrow and watch for line-up changes if Belleville doesn't do well against Caldwell... Though many fans were downcast after Friday's loss, most are still hoping for the best against Essex Catholic and Nutley, two challengers to Belleville's wrestling

Topsy Turvy — Belleville 101-pounder Tom Graziano overturns Kearny opponent Kevin Grier in Friday night's opening bout. Graziano won 7-0 but the Bucs suffered yet another narrow defeat as they saw their

Weightlifting meet next week at BHS

The 1980 Belleville Open Weightlifting Championships will be held Saturday, Feb. 16, at the high school. Some of the top lifters from the region and the nation are expected to take part in the third annual competition sponsored by the Recreation Department in cooperation with the Belleville Barbell Club.

Lifters will compete in the two hands snatch and the two hands clean and jerk with AAU rules in force. The program will be divided into two parts. Lots for the 52, 56, 60, 67.5 and 75 kilogram weight classes will be drawn in the morning with lifting beginning at noon. Lots will be drawn in the afternoon for the 82.5, 90, 100, 110 and 125 kilogram weight classes with competing starting at 5 p.m.

Awards will be given to the first three finishers in each class and the best lifters in the morning and evening sessions. In addition, there will be two team awards.

Tickets, $2, will be available at the door. Proceeds will go toward equipment and traveling expenses for the Belleville Barbell Club.

Upsets mark play in Rec basketball

Two stunning upsets highlighted an evening of exciting basketball action last week in the Belleville Senior Boys' League.

In the first of two close contests, the Silver Lakers edged DeBacco's Clifton Avenue 39-38. The lead changed hands several times throughout the game, but the Lakers outscored Clifton Avenue 14-12 in the fourth quarter to climb from a one-point deficit to the one-point margin of victory.

Sam DeCapua (13 points) and Kenny Constantino (12) paced the Lakers to their fourth win against two losses. John Melillo scored 22 points for DeBacco's Clifton Avenue which dropped its first game in six decisions.

DeBacco's 76ers shocked Belleville-Newark Honda with their 37-35 victory, thereby improving to 4-2. With less than two minutes remaining, Ricky Kiernan sank three big foul shots to ice the victory for the underdogs. Kiernan scored a total of 15 points for the 76ers, but it was George Kalas's 16 points that helped the 76ers to their fourth straight win. Steve Coffey (12 points), Mike Nicosia (11) and Lou Ritacco (10) led the scoring for Honda which dropped to 5-1 and remains tied with DeBacco's Clifton Avenue for first place.

Mickey Music upped its mark to 4-2 by setting back T-Bird Sewer Service 48-33. Percy Flowers (12 points) and Allan Talmadge (10) led Mickey into a tie for second place with DeBacco's 76ers and the Silver Lakers. Tom Bini and Joe Mustachio threw in nine points apiece for T-Bird (1-5).

In a battle of winless teams, the 69ers rose to the occasion by beating the Maniacs 74-36. Jim Hutchinson scored 29 points and Frank Snyder 12 to lead the 69ers to their first victory. Steve Byers popped in 20 points and Dave Calmonica added 14 for the Maniacs.

Before press time, Belleville-Newark Honda and DeBacco's Please see "Chief Motors" on page 21.

Rollerskating craze hits BHS and June trip is set

By Denise Lardieri

Approximately three weeks ago at the senior high school, girls started to rollerskate once a week during their gym class. In order for them to participate, they must bring their own skates or borrow a friend's. Anyone without skates may use the time as a study period and listen to the music that is played to liven the atmosphere.

Meanwhile, the yearbook staff with coordinator Karen Falzo, is organizing a fund-raising trip to the USA Rollerskating Rink at Willowbrook Mall, Wayne. The event will take place Tuesday, June 10, from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Anyone from the high school may go, and the rink will be closed to the general public. The cost of each ticket is yet undetermined but will be approximately $2.50, not including skate rentals which will add $1 to the price. The yearbook staff is expecting about 44 students to attend its "party." Mrs. Falzo mentions that if this trip is as successful as expected, the staff will conduct them annually and future trips will be held earlier in the school year.

Scientist's workshop helps teachers add to knowledge

By Mike Olohan

Describing that vast area "out there," generally referred to as "the cosmos," can be tricky, especially when you try to do it without being bogged down by technical and obscure terms. Even searching your vocabulary for descriptive words and phrases can leave the most loquacious star-gazer tongue-tied with awe.

"Copernicus didn't publish his work because he was a priest. He didn't want it to seem like he was challenging authority since he had very little to prove his ideas. All of his observations were just naked eye astronomy," said Joseph Weisberg, professor of geoscience and department chairman at Jersey City State, at an in-service workshop at Belleville High.

The in-service program was part of a continuing science program, arranged by coordinator Bess Efstathiou, to supplement the knowledge of local teachers in science. The workshops began in September, every Wednesday after school.

Throughout his lecture, Weisberg was able to lucidly elaborate on varied aspects of astronomy, intriguing about 16 teachers who listened intently, while sipping coffee, taking notes and occasionally dunking donuts.

"You know it would take 1,000 light years to go from one end of our galaxy to the other...we didn't even discover the planet Pluto until the 1930s. Up until then, astronomers knew only of six planets, but irregularities in the orbit of the planets closest to Pluto led to its discovery. Actually, Pluto was discovered mathematically...the astronomers just plotted out where it should be by the movements of the planets around it, then they looked in the telescope and there it was," said Weisberg at a December discussion.

"Noticing patterns in observations (of the stars) were the Ouy's who later became the geniuses," noted Weisberg, pointing out "over thousands of years, very few changes have been made in (scientific) thinking up until the last 200 years."

He said because many early astronomers were "hard-pressed to cite any specific laws" to support contentions that the earth was not at the center of the universe, as believed by Christians, they remained silent to avoid any harm those in power might cause them.

"Some scientists even think Pluto may not even be a planet, but a lost moon of Neptune," said Weisberg, who showed about 30 slides detailing different types of stars and matter formations.

He emphasized that the famous "North Star" the wise men followed to discover Jesus may have been a combination of Jupiter, Saturn and Mars "when they came close to each other, which happened around then, and probably would have been visible in the eastern sky."

"Calculations can show, in fact, that the star was in the eastern part of the sky back then," said Weisberg, stressing that in all likelihood, the star the wise men were supposed to follow obviously did exist.

Slipping easily from one topic to another, Weisberg noted, "The sun has a mass 300 thousand times the mass of Earth, it's a huge gas bag. Because different kinds of gases are heated at different temperatures, they give off different colors, and color indicates elements in the star."

"The sun is a yellow dwarf star, and where there is an eclipse of the sun by the moon, this allows scientists a much closer observation of its atmosphere, and you know our solar system is in the atmosphere of the sun."

"There's no such thing as a typical star, some stars have as much as a million times as much energy as the sun while some are even a million times less bright than the sun," said Weisberg, flashing slides of colorful gaseous stars on a screen in front of the class.

Weisberg may be teaching another in-service workshop in geology next semester if School Superintendent Dr. John Greed approves the request submitted by science coordinator Bess Efstathiou, who arranged Weisberg's lectures.

"I didn't realize the intricacies of the earth and its activities. I've really gained by taking this course...I hope (this course) establishes a precedent because of its apparent success," said Richard Ruffalo, a high school science teacher.

"The students of Belleville will only profit from the in-service science workshop. I have already applied the subject matter towards our present curriculum" at the Junior High School. "I'm hoping similar programs will follow," said Ralph Kobberger, another science teacher.

Juniors beginning work on career paper project

By Kelly Sweeney

As in previous years, Belleville High juniors are beginning their career papers, a yearly requirement for these students.

Career papers were designed to help students research and investigate into an interesting field that they may wish to enter after graduation. Even if the student is undecided on which occupation to take after graduation, doing research on one subject will still determine if the student is ready or interested in that type of field. It is also helpful as it gives the student an idea of how much schooling is required for a certain type of work.

Students first learn information on how to begin in their English class. Each teacher explains various steps on how to approach an occupational interest. At first a teacher recommends that the students research at local libraries in order to obtain first-hand information. The students are given index cards so they are able to keep all information in numerical order. This is most effective when the student actually writes his paper. The teacher guides the student through the first parts by correcting introductions, explaining footnotes and finally where and how to establish the most informative information about the occupation.

One of the most essential and realistic parts of the career paper is the mandatory interview with a person in that specific field. A student is thus able to receive first-hand and up-to-date information in the field. Teachers and students select various questions focusing upon requirements, working conditions, employment trends and other facets of an occupation to discuss with the interviewee.

The length of the paper is optional, but it is expected that the paper be as precise and informative as possible. The guidance department also has many books based on how to enroll and the schooling needed for each interest field. Counselors, along with teachers, are more than willing to assist any junior in obtaining needed information. Most career papers are due during the months of March and April. With the guidance of the staff at Belleville High, any junior will be able to broaden his knowledge of any future plans he has in a specific field.

Key Club is planning volleyball marathon

By Ava Zarrello

The Key Club of Belleville High, an organization out to serve the community, is planning a volleyball marathon. The marathon will be run like a common walk-a-thon as each player will receive pledges from sponsors. It will be run all day long one Saturday this coming spring, from approximately 7 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Those participating in the marathon will be the Key Club members, and the money earned will go towards charity.

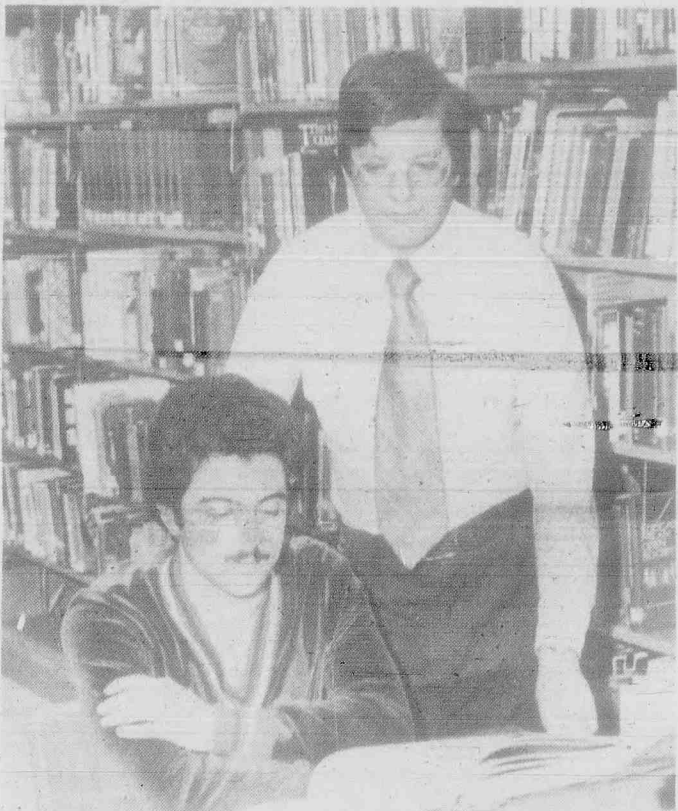

A type of fund-raiser like this is exciting and at the same time will serve a good cause. Much support and cooperation is needed to carry out an activity such as this. The members are looking forward to a successful marathon, so let's give the club our support.

School 9 holding buffet on Feb. 29

The School 9 PEA will hold a buffet dinner 7:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 29, in the school auditorium, 301 Ralph St.

Mary Ellen Scala is the dinner chairman. Tickets, $4 a person, will be sold on a first-come, first-serve basis. No checks will be accepted. Persons under 17 will not be admitted. For more information, call 759-3379.

New Librarian — Senior Scott Grisanti and Belleville High's new librarian, Larry Hermann, peruse one of the massive research volumes available at the library. Hermann began his new job Jan. 14.

Jersey City band due at BHS on March 30

By Toni Grippaldi

The Jersey City State Stage Band will be performing 8 p.m. Sunday, March 30, in the Belleville High School auditorium.

Under the direction of Dick Lowenthal, once president of the National Association of Jazz Educators, the Jersey City State College band has performed up and down the east coast of the United States. The group is also featured at the Indian Hills Jazz Festival and the Ramapo College Jazz Festival. The band's excellence is also known outside of the United States, as it has had several European tours.

Most of the members of the band are already playing and recording professionally. In fact, a former trombonist for the stage band, Robert Farrell, is now touring with Count Basie's band.

Tickets for the concert are not yet available, but the Belleville Music Parents Association will be selling them shortly. The proceeds from the performance will help to finance the Belleville High School Orchestra trip, the Belleville High School Band trip and a scholarship for music students.

Making Time — First graders Nicole Glunk and Patrick Dunn make the seconds and minutes count by measuring time on their paper clocks. Both are in Mrs. Carol Spina's class at School 9.

Newest Research Findings:
Low tar MERIT 100's preferred over high tar leaders in tests comparing taste and tar levels.

Merit 100's Victory!

Smokers Prefer MERIT 100's 3 To 1!

New taste-test results prove it.

Proof: A significant majority of 100's smokers rate MERIT 100's taste as good as—or better than—leading high tar 100's. Even cigarettes having 60% more tar!

Proof: Of the 95% stating a preference, 3 out of 4 smokers chose the MERIT low tar/good taste combination over high tar leaders when tar levels were revealed.

MERIT 100's: Proven Long

Term Alternative To High Tar Brands.

New national smoker study results prove it.

Proof: The overwhelming majority of MERIT 100's smokers polled feel they didn't sacrifice taste in switching from high tar cigarettes.

Proof: 97% of MERIT 100's smokers don't miss former high tar brands.

Proof: 9 out of 10 enjoy smoking as much since switching to MERIT 100's, are glad they switched, and report MERIT 100's is the best tasting low tar they've ever tried.

You've read the results. The conclusion is clearer than ever: MERIT 100's delivers a winning combination of taste and low tar.

A combination that's attracting more and more smokers every day and—more importantly—satisfying them long term.

Future BHS grapplers get training at Rec level

Eye On — Rec wrestling coach Mark D'Amico studies one of his young charges on the mat. Reading over a score sheet is coach Matt Pica. — Photos by Joe Zarra.

Small Tangle — Dominic Cerruto wrestles in the Rec team's match with West Essex, the league leader. Belleville lost but scored the most points any squad had against West Essex so far.

Minor Mat — John Stampone has some temporary difficulty. Belleville, 2-4-1, has its last regular match 10 a.m. Saturday at BHS versus Maplewood.

Chief Motors over-30 leader; junior girls remain unbeaten

Clifton Avenue squared off for the top seeding in the championship tournament. Mickey Music faced the Silver Lakers for a second-place tie, while DeBacco's 76ers played the Maniacs and T-Bird Sewer Service met the 69ers. Results in next week's edition.

Men's Basketball League

The Record Shop, losing by 18 points at halftime, came back to defeat Chief Motors 85-82 in triple overtime. Walt Murray paced Record Shop with 25 points. Dan Dunn and Frank Petite had 19 points apiece for Chief.

Then Play On was beaten by the Knicks 71-57. Rocco Marotti topped all scorers with 24 points for the Knicks. Bob Fuscano led Then Play On with 20 points.

Nu-Plas remained tied for first place following its 90-58 victory over the Lakers. Bruce Gardner poured in 32 points for Nu-Plas. Gary Sikora led the Lakers with 18 points.

The Red Shingle edged J&R Insulation 78-70. Mike Dondarski hit for 34 points and Steve Dondarski and Mark Veniero 18 apiece for Red Shingle. Dave Wilkes scored 19 points and Scott Oelke 18 for J&R.

Triple "S" Sports shared first place with its 108-51 win over OPAC. Abdel Anderson led Triple "S" with 26 points. Anthony Car and Bernard Cosby added 19 points each. Frank Maura scored 19 points and Jack Scura 18 for OPAC.

The Health-Spa pounded Small World 104-56. Larry Wagner led Spa with 32 points and A.J. Borensen added 20 points. Rich Baker had 14 points for Small World.

Men's Over-30 Basketball

The Rec House (3-2) beat the PBA (2-3) 37-30 in Men's Over-30 Basketball League play. Bob Byers led the Rec with 14 points and Jim Nisivoccia added 13 points. Jack Kerber had 14 points for PBA.

League-leading Chief Motors (5-1) defeated Jive Five (0-3) 33-23.

Walt Murray had 10 points for Chief. Earl Wake led Jive-Five with 12 points.

The night's upset came when Radio Shack (3-2) edged McCabe's Tavern (3-2) 41-39. Frank Carrachia scored 16 points and Bill Bierre 12 for Radio Shack. Ken Edwards paced McCabe's with 13 points.

Junior Girls' Basketball

The Belleville junior girls' suburban basketball team raised its league-leading record to 6-0 with victories this past week over Cedar Grove and Millburn.

The Blue and Gold rolled over

Cedar Grove 75-28, displaying unselfish offense and a tough team defense. Jennifer Apicella scored an incredible 52 points. Janine Renna 17 points, Lorelei Wells 10, Dina DeAquino eight, Cheryl Marion four and Ursula Maassmann and Paula Siclari two apiece.

In its second game of the week, the seventh and eighth grade squad defeated Millburn 60-20. Millburn was previously 4-1 but was no match for the balanced Belleville squad. Jennifer Apicella paced the home team with 30 points. Janine Renna scored 22. Dina DeAquino five and Cheryl Marion three.

THANKS FOR HELPING TO KEEP UNITED WAY IN BUSINESS.

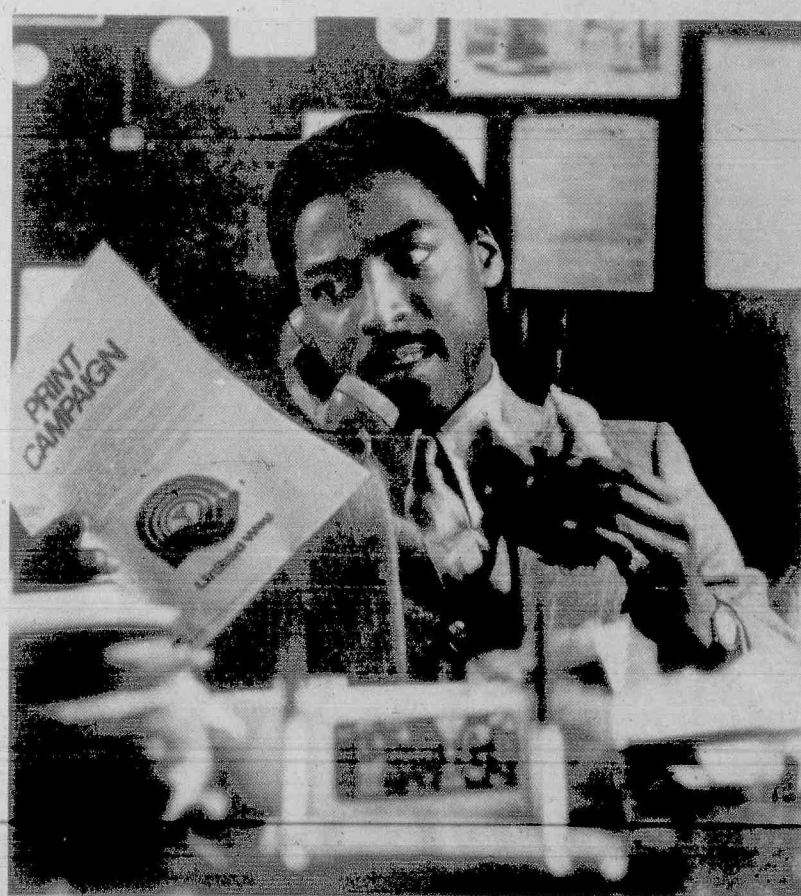

Every year, United Way successfully continues to support local human service agencies in communities all across the United States.

A lot of the credit for this success goes to the dedicated efforts of people in business—to top corporate leaders who volunteer their organizational skills and financial expertise, to middle-management people who work lunch-hours and evenings to help organize local campaigns and collect money, to the newest mailroom clerk who swallows his shyness and asks his fellow workers for a last-minute contribution.

And by operating like any other modern, well-run business enterprise, United Way succeeds in delivering the maximum in human services for the dollars that are collected.

Thanks again for your help.

A public service message from the Carteret Savings and Loan Association.

Lamberti's Buc Shots

really good. Coaching these other leagues gives me good experience in making quick decisions that are to the benefit of the team. Some coaches are good in practices. I hope to be good at both practices and the games.

The future of women's sports at Belleville High looks bright. One day, 50 years from now, after Belleville wins another state title in girls' basketball, people won't remember that Karen Fucello started it all. But right now, we all should.

A couple of weeks ago, I predicted in this column that Matt Robinson would be traded by the Jets to the Denver Broncos. Well, it happened last weekend. Robinson is all Denver needs to possibly get to the Super Bowl. The Broncos have an awesome defense, and with a good quarterback they have to be considered a strong possibility to beat the Pittsburgh Steelers. As for the Jets, they received two top draft choices and back-up quarterback Craig Penrose. It was a good trade for both clubs, but one thing is for sure, the Jets are not going to make the playoffs with Richard Todd as quarterback.

Finally, the answer to last week's quiz. The question was what was the starting infield of the championship Mets of 1969? The answer, Jerry Grote at catcher, Don Clendenon at first base, Ken Boswell at second, Bud Harrelson at shortstop and "The Glider," Ed Charles, at third base. The pitching staff included Tom Seaver, Jerry

Here is this week's quiz. The Denver Broncos made the Super Bowl in 1978, bowing to the Dallas Cowboys. That was the year of Craig Morton and his fine comeback at quarterback after years of mediocrity with Dallas and the Giants. What teams did the Broncos beat in the AFC playoffs to advance to the Super Bowl? A hint: One of the teams Denver beat was the defending Super Bowl champ.
