Strumolo defends paying daughter 'extended' leave

Public Affairs Commissioner Vincent Strumolo denied Tuesday that he had done anything unusual or illegal in paying his daughter sick leave and vacation time she apparently did not have coming to her.

The Newark Star-Ledger, reported in its Monday edition that Nicky Ann D'Andrea, a clerk-typist in her father's department since June 1976, had received a full year's salary in 1979 though she had worked only about seven months.

According to the report, Mrs. D'Andrea took a three-week vacation June 11 to July 1 after applying for a $597.12 advance. She was admitted to Mountside Hospital in Montclair July 9 when she gave birth to a girl and was discharged July 13. However, the Star-Ledger said her attendance card was marked "P" for present from July 2 to 22.

Mrs. D'Andrea was then paid for 78 sick days and two holidays from July 23 to Nov. 2 before going on "extended" sick leave until Dec. 31. Strumolo told the Star-Ledger his daughter "had a cold" but refused to elaborate Tuesday as did Mrs. D'Andrea's immediate superior, town registrar Ralph Risoli.

Strumolo reported his daughter's termination in anticipation of 1980 budget cuts to the Civil Service on Oct. 30, but the report did not reach the town treasurer's office until year's end.

The town allows its employees one sick day and one vacation day a month during their first year and 12 days' vacation and 15 days' sick leave annually when they have been with the town one to five years. Mrs. D'Andrea had worked part-time for two months in the summer of 1975 and began full-time the next year. Thus she theoretically had a total of 80 days coming to her. Her vacation last summer brought that number down to 60, and that was not counting any sick days or vacations she had taken in the past.

Strumolo refused to comment in detail Tuesday on the apparent discrepancies, but said his daughter owed the town no more than "two to three weeks." He added, "She'll make it up when she comes back."

Though his budget has been drastically reduced and he has already laid off two employees and is planning on laying off a third, Strumolo said Mrs. D'Andrea would be back in January 1981. He said he had planned to bring her back sooner "but with all this stuff going on, I'm going to hold off."

among other topics.

Senior citizens may sign up for the Vial of Life program Saturday, and the Essex County Bloodmobile and the Health Wise Van, sponsored by the Belleville Rotary Club, will be on hand.

The theme of the fair is "Good Health Is Up to You," and the purpose of the event is to promote better health for the community by encouraging fair-goers to learn more about the benefits of proper nutrition, exercise and good health habits.

Health care professionals will review tests conducted at the fair with each participant, and any unusual or abnormal results will be reported and explained to residents. Check-ups by physicians will be recommended if needed.

The anemia test is designed to check whether persons have enough red blood cells in their systems to meet the body's needs. The simple, painless blood pressure test detects hypertension, a major cause of illness, disability and death in the United States.

The hearing test, sponsored by Montclair State College, measures a person's ability to discern noises at various levels of loudness and softness and at high and low pitches. The screening will help identify hearing loss, but participants will have to see their doctors to find out the cause.

The routine hemocult test detects signs of intestinal bleeding which can indicate cancer.

Fair personnel will explain several health programs. Tel-Med is a health information hotline operated at Clara Maass, while the Vial of Life program offers seniors a chance to write down important facts about their health and store them in a place where they can be easily obtained in an emergency.

The fair will also offer career

REJECTS RELAXATION OF LAW

Commission reverses itself on rent controls

Reversing themselves Tuesday night, town commissioners decided to leave Belleville's rent law as is and keep controls on buildings with three or more units. In doing so, they rejected a proposal for less stringent controls to which they had earlier given tentative approval.

Commissioners had agreed by an informal vote of 4-1 last month to exempt all one, two and three-family buildings as well as owner-occupied four-family structures from controls. That would have permitted many more Belleville landlords to raise rents at will, but Commissioner Matthew Pica, the author of the proposal, argued that the decontrols would allow owners to keep pace with inflation and make it possible for them to keep their property in good shape.

Commissioner Joseph McGreevy objected vehemently to the easing of controls, saying it would hurt tenants badly, and this week his position carried the day as Mayor Michael Marotti and Commissioner Mary Senatore went along with it.

Pica continued to push for decontrol and compared the costs paid by tenants with those borne by homeowners, saying "You have to get the relationship balanced out." He added that tenants weren't paying "their fair share."

Pica has said that in formulating his ideas for the rent control ordinance, he is looking at the health of the town as a whole. He believes that apartments can become run-down because landlords bear a disproportionate share of the cost of keeping them up, and that when apartments deteriorate, neighborhoods begin to go downhill.

While tenants may have gained a bit as a result of Tuesday's decision, another of Pica's proposals unlikely to please them seems headed for adoption in one form or another.

Commissioners agreed at their March 11 meeting to a change in the law that would allow landlords to pass through rising fuel costs to their tenants. Under the present 1974 ordinance, owners may apply for hardship increases when they fail to get at least a 10 percent return on their investments. Fuel surcharges have been illegal up until now, but Pica's proposal separates fuel costs from other hardship claims.

Tuesday, commissioners seemed in favor of the idea but were uncertain exactly how to apply. The options are assessing tenants fuel costs by a percentage based on the rent they pay, or according to a dollar figure based on the number of units in an apartment.

Commissioners reversed themselves on another decision made earlier when they voted to let non-residents sit on the Rent Leveling Board. In March, at Pica's suggestion, they had limited membership to Bellevillians.

Mayor Marotti didn't like that idea, however, since it meant Daniel Del Tufo, whom he had appointed to the board in 1974 and who has since moved from town, could not serve again once his term had expired. "You don't think that's a slap in the face?"

Please see "Non-residents" on page 21.

Senior project up for talks Tuesday

The Zoning Board of Adjustment will meet 8 p.m. this coming Tuesday at Town Hall to take up once again the question of the senior citizen housing project at Mill Street and Franklin Avenue.

The session will be the third held to consider variances for the proposed 11-story, 137-unit building, and it's likely there will be more meetings before the issue is decided. The special corporation set up by commissioners to develop senior citizen housing in Belleville has yet to present all of its witnesses.

Those witnesses will be cross-examined by the numerous objectors to the project, and after that has happened the objectors will testify and perhaps undergo cross-examination themselves.

The project is opposed by members of the senior clubs that meet in the senior citizen recreation center at Franklin and Mill. They have gotten together anti-project petitions with several hundred signatures.

The seniors feel a better site could have been found for the building than one right next to the recreation center. They fear the project will cut into the present parking space there and say that the existing bridge on Mill Street isn't wide or strong enough to accommodate fire equipment in the event of an emergency. Lack of access to the site is an objection that has also been raised by the Fire Department.

Some senior citizen opponents also say the building's height would be out of proportion with the surrounding area.

Land for the project was deeded to the town by the old Jergens Company 16 years ago with the stipulation that it be used for a senior center. Please see "Project" on page 12.

School cuts: no progress

Unable to reach agreement on where to slash the defeated school budget, Belleville commissioners and trustees postponed their Tuesday night meeting on the cuts until next Monday at 9 p.m.

While commissioners apparently expected trustees to recommend to them where cuts could be made, trustees were likewise expecting commissioners to suggest what types of cuts they wanted. Thus neither side showed up prepared.

After bandying about several cost-cutting ideas like dropping some teachers and programs, with schoolers taking offense at all suggestions, both groups decided to call it quits for the night.

"We just wanted to see what they

First DeWitt now insures accounts up to $100,000

Accounts at First DeWitt Savings will now be insured up to $100,000 according to Chairman John P. Dailey and Association President Henrik Tvedt. The extended coverage is guaranteed by an agency of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation and applies to all types of savings accounts or certificates of deposit.

Dailey said the new insurance coverage was approved by both houses of Congress in Washington recently, and the measure was sent to the White House for a special bill-signing ceremony March 31.

The new coverage is effective immediately at First DeWitt, according to Tvedt, and savers will be notified of the additional protection through advertising in all local newspapers.

"This is an effective extension of the safety and security that has always been available at First DeWitt," Tvedt said.

"Our association is rapidly approaching its second century of operation," he continued. "In all the time we have been servicing the financial needs of our marketing area, no saver has ever lost a penny, come depression or prosperity, war or peace, good times or bad. And in all those years, we have never missed an annual dividend. The new insurance coverage simply reinforces the confidence that savers have always had in First DeWitt."

Tvedt also warned savers to be especially cautious about the placement of their funds in institutions or financial organizations that do not provide insured coverage. "Savers placing their hard-earned dollars with funds not offering the high insurance coverage and security available at First DeWitt could experience financial jeopardy," he said.

The association's branches are at 463 Washington Ave., Belleville; 667 Bloomfield Ave., Bloomfield; 20 Watsessing Ave., Bloomfield; Broad Street and Watchung Avenue, Bloomfield; 60 Belleville Ave., Bloomfield, and Sharp Avenue and Hopatcong Road, Hopatcong.

Nuclear Energy Forum

Public Service Electric and Gas Company has invited distinguished scientists to participate in this forum of views on nuclear energy. DR. EUGENE WIGNER ON NUCLEAR SAFETY.

"Nuclear plants have the best safety record of any major technology in America."

Eugene P. Wigner

Eugene P. Wigner
Emeritus Professor of Physics
Princeton University
Nobel Laureate

Dr. Wigner's scientific contributions have dealt with atomic and nuclear spectra, and have earned him numerous honors, including the Nobel Prize for Physics, the Albert Einstein Peace Award and the Albert Einstein Award. He holds 23 honorary degrees from universities worldwide.

"Nuclear plants have been producing commercial electricity for more than twenty years. In all that time there has not been a single nuclear-related death or injury to any member of the public or plant workers!

"In the past ten years more than 450,000 Americans have been killed on our highways. Nearly 2,000 have died in coal accidents, 2,700 perished in plane crashes. Yet, no one is demanding a stop to these activities. They are part of the risks we assume in our lifestyle. In the face of nuclear's safety record, it simply doesn't make sense that certain groups ask for a stop to nuclear power.

"Nuclear plants have always been designed with safety as the top priority. The fact that no major industry anywhere can boast a better safety record is proof of the nuclear industry's dedication to safety.

"Even the highly publicized Three Mile Island accident—an event viewed very seriously by the nuclear industry—did not cause a single death or injury. This even though several errors were committed—errors which in the future will certainly be prevented.

"No technology is 100% safe. But the elimination of technology would cause very much more harm than its maintenance. This also applies very much to nuclear energy technology.

"Nuclear energy is a source we desperately need. Without it our dependence on foreign oil would be greater than it is now and energy costs would be even higher."

Formed in 1976, Scientists and Engineers for Secure Energy is a society concerned about incorrect, confusing and untrue information being spread by organized groups against nuclear technology. The efforts of these groups are designed to scare, bewilder and mislead Americans into abandoning a domestically available nuclear resource that's been thoroughly tested and proven over the past thirty years. Nuclear energy has kept the lights on in much of the country during coal strikes, oil embargoes and natural gas shortages. The society does not claim that technologies, including nuclear energy, are free of faults. It also encourages frank and vigorous debates in search of better understanding. The society hopes this series of statements will contribute to the understanding that nuclear energy has the potential to bring enormous benefits to America and the world. It has served us well for a third of a century. The society supports the mustering of our best thoughts—not our worst fears—to continue to utilize this potential wisely and safely.

Senior Notes

By George Chenoweth

Due to the fire at the Knights of Columbus Hall, the Old Guard of Belleville will meet at the Dutch Reformed Church, Main and Rutgers Streets, 9:30 a.m. on the first and third Tuesdays of every month until further notice.

Drop a line of cheer to those seniors in the hospital; Bill Grainger and Mary Ross are in Clara Maass. Meanwhile, Mary D'Armiento, Mary Lyman and Paul Sandomero were welcomed back into circulation at the meeting of the Belleville Senior Citizens Club.

There is a demand for wool for the arts and crafts class that meets 1 p.m. every Monday at the Senior Recreation Center. This group of senior citizens has turned out articles including throws, scarfs and booties. The articles are then donated to the various charitable institutions in the county. Our group likes to fashion these articles and they have the know-how and the time, all that they need to keep going is the material. Anyone can donate, so drop off your contribution any Monday at the Belleville Seniors Recreation Center, Mill Street and Franklin Avenue.

The meeting last Wednesday between a group of concerned seniors and Mayor Marotti was very fruitful. We were assured that we senior citizens will continue to be able to use the Belleville Senior Citizens Recreation Center if and when seniors housing is erected on the nearby site. We were also assured that adequate parking would be available.

A call has gone out for representatives from all senior citizens' organizations to attend the pre-White House conference sponsored by the Essex County Office on Aging. Every club is being urged to send two delegates to the conference 9:30 a.m. May 1, at the Essex County College, 303 University Place, Newark. Your cooperation is urged to assure the success of this endeavor. The definite needs of the seniors will be discussed and people will be chosen to attend the White House conference. Sen. Bill Bradley will be the keynote speaker. I have information bulletins and delegate pre-registration forms, but time is of the essence. Send your delegates' names in now so that plans can be made by the people in charge.

On the national scene, it appears that President Carter has changed his mind about a different way of determining Social Security benefits that would have reduced the increase by 25 percent. He mentioned last week that the fund would not suffer any cutbacks. This would lead us to believe that we would not see a 25 percent over 43 percent in our July checks. He has received many letters, telegrams and mail-o-grams in protest of any cuts, ours included. The turnaround was probably due to the deluge of responses from seniors and senior organizations.

Construction starts on library addition

A ground-breaking ceremony marking the start of construction of an addition to the Belleville Public Library took place March 29. In attendance were Library Board members, town commissioners and library patrons.

The two-story addition, a longtime dream of the Library Board, took a step closer to becoming a reality last March when the Town Commission passed a resolution awarding the board $120,000 towards its proposed building project.

Delays followed, however, and with them month-to-month increases in construction costs, and bids submitted by contractors on the 4,600-square-foot addition exceeded the original estimate of $240,000 by $70,000.

With the need for space and speed so pressing, the Library Board, following the recommendation of architect Jerry Valk and Library Director Gerard R. Hickey, authorized changes in specifications for the addition, and the reapplication of 1979 library state aid funds from the library's 1980 budget to the building construction project. Although the changes meant many sacrifices in plans for the building and in the operating budget, board members felt that before spiraling costs put an end to the project they should proceed with construction. The project crossed its final hurdle in November when the Planning Board unanimously approved construction plans after stipulating some minor changes.

With all available money being used for the addition, the Library Board will have to raise fund for furnishings and decorations when the building is finished. A fund-raising campaign will be launched late this month or early in May.

Prayer for today

O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek
To be consoled, as to console;
To be understood, as to understand;
To be loved, as to love;
For it is in giving that we receive,
It is in pardoning that we are pardoned,
And it is in dying that we are born
To Eternal Life.

Joe McGreevy is right

Finance Commissioner Joseph McGreevy suggested to the School Board not to dip into surplus but to cut back on expenses, especially in view of the pending closing of two schools.

Joe McGreevy is right. The people have spoken. They have rejected the budget. They want the School Board to spend less money to operate the system.

We look upon the vote as a mandate to cut funding to the school system. Moreover, we agree with Joe McGreevy that the School Board should look into economies to be affected by the school closings.

What price safety?

Members of the Belleville Fire Department are warning both public officials and citizens that the department is underfunded. Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica agreed but can't find the money to fund a Fire Department adequate to cope with large emergencies.

Commission form of government, establishes five separate governments — each with a head — and each with its own budget. Each commissioner is anxious to preserve the integrity of his or her department and is unwilling to reduce the department's operation in order to preserve the department of another commissioner. These actions are normal — one could expect nothing less from a commissioner operating under our system of government.

So one wonders — what price safety?

We believe there should be a citizen input into the promulgation of our municipal budget. The time soon will be arriving. There will be a public hearing on the budget. If members of the Belleville Fire Department believe they need more men, the time to be heard is at the public hearing. If Belleville residents fear for their personal and property safety, the time to be heard is at the public hearing. That date is Tuesday, April 29.

The safety of the lives of Belleville residents should be maintained at any cost. There is nothing more valuable than life itself. We could put up with potholes and uncut grass but we cannot long maintain a safe community without adequate police and fire protection.

Frank A. Orecchio

Iran

Well, the bubble burst. President Jimmy Carter finally took action which was delayed for too long.

We should have tightened the bolts on Iran five months ago. We should have been tough with Iran five months ago. The world should have been outraged with Iran five months ago.

The current Carter policy regarding Iran is inadequate. The measures President Carter has invoked against Iran will not mean much. The hostages are in greater jeopardy today than ever.

Be that as it may, the time has arrived for America to have taken dramatic action in obtaining the release of the hostages. Jimmy Carter's action is not so far enough.

Letters

Students say they received good education at School 3

To the Editor:

Recently you got a letter from June Snyder, a graduate from number Three School. (March 27, Page 4.) She said many unkind and unreasonable things. For instance she wrote there was no guidance in the school. Well she's got that all wrong! Number Three kids are well mannered, well disciplined, develop good study habits and keep the school and its grounds clean.

She also said there were no clubs. Well there weren't any because the teachers were too busy trying to teach you the academics needed for a good education and develop good citizenship. If she really wanted a club, why didn't she just ask? You know the teachers can't read your mind.

Perhaps Miss Snyder got more out of School Three than she realizes. She sent a well written letter to the paper, is obviously civic minded and now has the ability to evaluate her strengths and weaknesses.

The secret is that you can only get out of something what you put into it.

Spillane thanks his supporters

To the Editor:

My sincere thanks to all of the Belleville voters for their support in the recent Board of Education election.

Although I was unsuccessful in my bid for a seat on the board, the large number of votes recorded in my behalf indicates that many residents do not want politics as usual.

I am looking forward to next year's election.

County should have permitted Imperiale to storm the Bastille

To the Editor:

Someday the people will learn that they have been the victim of a gigantic bluff carried on for years by Anthony Imperiale.

That he has gotten away with it for so long is an indictment of the people and their gullibility.

During the recent disturbance at the Essex County Jail in Newark, Imperiale called for a "Storming of the Bastille," as in the days of old. Given the true nature of the situation which came to light later on, which was allowed to emerge through patient and mature coolness on the part of the people in charge, particularly on the part of Peter Shapiro, it would have indeed been a tragedy had Imperiale's advice been heeded.

To those who are aware of the antics of Imperiale and his small band of blind followers, we saw just one more attempt to manipulate the media in order to get more free publicity for himself.

It is a real pity that he and his followers could not have been put to the ultimate test. He should have been granted permission to lead his men in an assault on the tenth floor. I say this with the full conviction that the first thing he and his men would have done would be to flee from the scene as rapidly as they could.

Mr. Imperiale, the alleged protector of the North Ward and elected representative of the 4th District, was far from his home territory in front of the Essex County Jail. What the hell is he doing in the Central Ward where he has no constituency?

Many individuals, groups helped make Knights' drive successful

To the Editor:

Belleville Knights of Columbus Council 835 recently conducted its annual retarded drive with the cooperation of the Knights of Columbus Women's Auxiliary, PTA of St. Peter's Parish, Mal Condon Canteen and Boy Scouts of Belleville.

The Knights in a further expansion of their community service programs, conducted a special fund-raising drive for retarded children with learning disabilities on March 28, 29 and 30. This drive helped such organizations as the Mal Condon Canteen, Boy Scout Troop 364 — a special unit of boys who are mentally handicapped — Camp Fatima and other organizations.

Grand Knight Frank Corbo and co-chairman Tom Dillon would like to thank all the people who helped in this successful drive which was for such a worthy cause. The Knights wish to thank the Belleville Times/News for the coverage and the business people who allowed us to collect at their place of business and also the great people of Belleville and vicinity for their generosity in this meaningful drive.

How to buy a $10,000 26-week Certificate with $3,000.

$3,000 earns you more than it's ever earned before.

Until now you needed $10,000 to earn high rates on 26-week savings certificates. But with First National State's 26-week Certificates you can earn the high rates shown on the chart with a deposit as small as $3,000.

How does the Certificate work?

You deposit any amount from $3,000 to $9,000 in increments of $1,000. You then borrow the remaining amount to reach the total sum of $10,000. In other words, First National State lends you the difference between what you deposited and the $10,000 cost of the certificate. For this we charge only 1%. A quick look at the chart shows you the rate your investment will earn.

Beats Money Market Funds, Savings Banks and Savings and Loan Associations.

Just compare the return on the First National State Certificates to what you can earn at Savings Banks and Savings and Loan Associations on amounts under $10,000. Plus you don't have risks of Money Market Funds.

RISK #1: Money Market Funds fluctuate daily, so you have no long term assurance of a high rate.

RISK #2: Money Market Funds are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other governmental agency.

First National State Certificates will not fluctuate and are insured by the FDIC up to $100,000 plus you have the convenience of investing through a full service bank where you can also take care of all of your other banking transactions.

Get in on the Investment Action.

If you have from $3,000 to $9,000 to invest for six months, don't settle for anything less than the First National State Certificate. Go to your local branch and purchase your certificate in person.

Or...

If you have $10,000 or more, get in on the money making action now. Just fill out and mail the coupon to us. Or stop in at any First National State office and purchase your certificate.

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,

Your recent advice to reperm hair within two weeks of original loose perm is dangerous. On most hair it could mean breakage and most certainly dry frizzy. Reconditioning and rebuilding the hair before permanent waves is the first answer. Secondly, if you have a loose perm, dead spots or floppy areas, a good reshaping can help to satisfy most patrons. But I feel it is poor advice to get another perm. You'll never get one in my shop, a professional.

Dear Professional, Most of the time my answers are answered to people who do perms at home. Before anything let me tell you that in our shop we use conditioned perms and our knowledge in permanents is far ahead. The permanents that people use at home are very mild and if they follow the instructions they shouldn't go wrong. I don't know how long you are reading my corner but in many of my answers I said that a permanent requires a good cut and you must wind the hair on the rods just right. Not too loose and not too tight. You must time it right...do not over-process.

Some foods such as eggs and sweetbreads are rich in fats and cholesterol. Cholesterol is a substance deposited in the walls of the arteries and tends in some people to contribute to circulatory disorders. Cholesterol can be manufactured from proteins or carbohydrates but it is more likely to be manufactured from fats. Overweight individuals should regularly check with their physicians to have the serum cholesterol level in their bloodstream determined and to obtain a recommended weight-control plan. This is really the best way to be sure that the intake of fats can be controlled.

Students learn what makes Belleville tick

By Donna Marie Jones

How will the future government of the town of Belleville be operated, and what will our town officials be like in years to come?

Well, residents were given a chance to witness the younger generation take control of Belleville for a day. Wednesday, March 12, a number of seniors from Belleville High School participated in Student Government Day when they spent the entire day performing the duties of Belleville officials.

The students were elected in each of their social studies classes, and each student was appointed to a specific position. Although the time was limited, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., the students learned a great deal. They were actually able to view the precise operation of each job, and this helped them to realize what was expected of the person involved. If they ever dreamed of becoming a town representative, they came to realize that hard work, dedication and a deep concern for others is vital.

However, not all of the day consisted of work and study. A portion of the day was set aside for entertainment and relaxation. For example, some students were taken out and treated to lunch, while a few more had breakfast already prepared for them when they first arrived.

In addition, after the day had ended, all of the student participants were invited to sit in on the monthly town meeting. Attending an assembly such as this made the pupils aware of the problems that each town faces and how to overcome them. Furthermore, Kim Santangelo and Michael Rock were permitted the honor of taking part in the actual discussion.

March 12 was a day inspired by knowledge, cooperation and enjoyment. Each of our seniors agree that it was a most memorable and cherished experience. Just think, in only a few short years, Belleville will be in the hands of these same students, and we could say that we helped them achieve their destiny.

HS twirlers are chosen

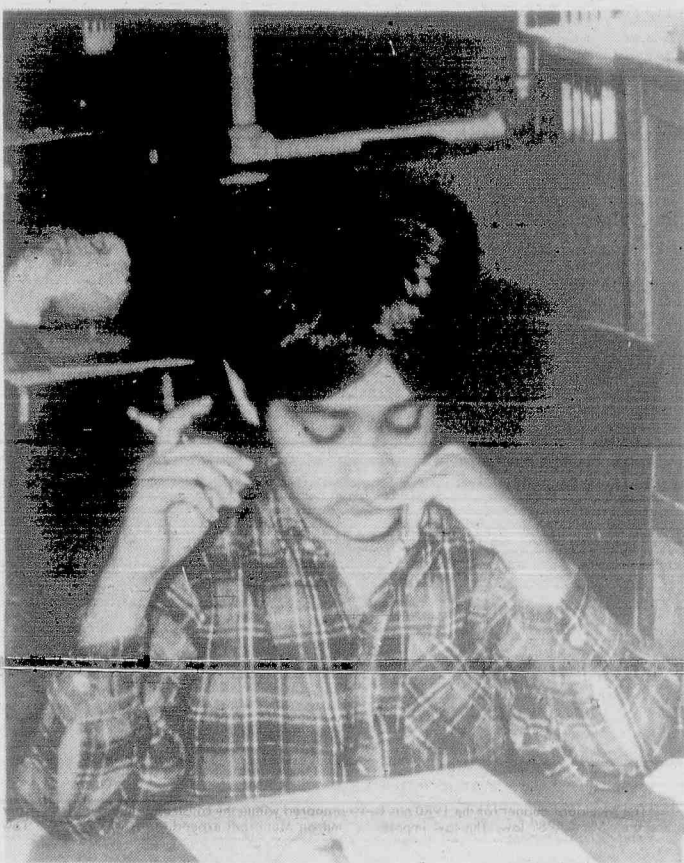

By Ava Zarrello

Thursday, Jan. 31, was a day of suspense, uneasiness and thrill for five girls on the Belleville High twirling squad who were trying out for captain for the 1980-81 school year.

The final decision was made 3 p.m. in the Belleville High auditorium. The tryouts began with a twirling routine introduced by a strut, and music chosen by specially by each of the girls. The routines followed a dance performances also accompanied by music.

The twirling routines were made up by each individual and the dancing performances were also solo. Each girl wore her own costume for the dances.

The judges, two out-of-town twirling advisors, finally revealed the future captains. Lisa Bongo will be captain and Lisa Brown and Karen DeRose will be co-captains.

Time to Think — Wayne Fahmi of School 10's first grade gives his best effort in tackling a typical grade school conundrum. Wayne is in Mrs. Panzios's class which on this day was being overseen by substitute Doreen DeVogt.

Key Club going to state confab

By Ava Zarrello

The Belleville High School Key Club is planning to attend the state convention April 18-20. The gathering will be held in the Poconos.

The cost will be $45 per member. The price was originally $75, but recent fund-raisers and drives helped to reduce the cost. A further reduction is also possible.

The purpose of the state convention is to familiarize the group with procedures and to gear up the juniors who may become officers next year.

The group will travel by bus with one chaperone per eight members. The exact number of students going is not known yet because of the limited number of chaperones now available. Those members chosen to attend will be picked on the basis of their club participation, involvement and loyalty.

School 9 play salutes spring

By Maryann Fass

On Thursday at School 9, kindergarten, first, second and third graders put their talents together and presented a play entitled "Hello Spring." The play was about animal springtime in the forest.

The children sang and danced to various selections, one of them called "Be My Little Bumble Bee." All the students at the finale concluded with a tune called "Sing Spring."

The play was written by third grade teacher Marion Castellano and choreographed by kindergarten teacher Marylou Miele. Costumes were designed by first grade teacher Mrs. Carol Spina and second grade teacher Pauline Orsielak.

Many aided 'George M!'

By Mike Bliss

The Belleville High School Drama Club, under the direction of Mr. Robert Leffelbine, presented the smash hit musical, "George M!" which is based on the life of the famous composer, George M. Cohan, March 20 through March 22.

As the audience members watched the show, many undoubtedly said to themselves that the people on stage really did an excellent job, but few probably realized that the students on stage were not the only cast in the theater. There was another very important "cast."

This cast did all the very arduous work backstage such as cleaning up, working the lighting, painting the scenery and designing the costumes. This group did all the heavy backstage work which the performers usually don't take part in, but these students were as much a part of the theater cast as the performers the audience saw the nights of the play's performance.

Squad readies for big event

By Nancy Lisboa

Mrs. Marianne Fass, the Title I teacher at School 9, supervises the 1980 twirling squad. Her assistants, Jackie Lazaro and Marlene Ortega, build new techniques for the squad to learn.

The age groups vary from 9 to 12 years of age and practice every Tuesday from 3 to 4 p.m.

The squad is getting ready to perform at the annual father-daughter event. They are working very hard to make the event special.

The captain, Dawn Scheumeister, and the co-captain, Cathy Lazaro, take the performance very seriously and like everyone else to work hard at it too.

The squad is looking forward to the performance and hopes many people will attend.

Orchestra, chorus in concert April 29

By Toni Grippaldi

On Tuesday, April 29, the Belleville Junior High orchestra and chorus will hold their annual spring concert. There will be no admission fee, but there will be a bake sale to help raise money.

The chorus will perform "Sounds of the Sixties" and many other favorites. Ron Hackling and Robert Gizzi will direct the chorus.

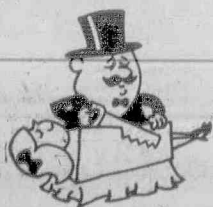

The orchestra, under the direction of Edwin Black, will perform "Canyon Sunset," "You Don't Bring Me Flowers," "Swing Your Partner" — a square dance tune — "I'd Like to Teach the World to Sing" and "Eccosaisses" by Shubert.

On Tuesday, May 6, the orchestra and band will hold another concert. There will be a donation of $1. Robert Wing is the director of the orchestra which will be performing the theme from "Welcome Back Kotter," other television themes and show tunes.

Pair of Painters — Carey and Chrissie Woodruff of Mrs. Angela Panzios's School 10 first grade class are immersed in the wonderful art of painting. In this case, two painters are better than one.

Dimetrodon Aficionado — Before he's wrapped in tin foil and painted, this creature's partially assembled frame is proudly displayed by Tommy Sauchelli, Marc Walden and John Falco of Mrs. Geri Corwyn's School 3 sixth grade. The dimetrodon, by the way, is a dinosaur.

Explanation of Appropriations for "Other Expenses"

The amounts appropriated under the title of "Other Expenses" are for operating costs other than "Salaries and Wages."

Some of the items included in "Other Expenses" are:
Material, supplies and nonbondable equipment.
Repairs and maintenance of buildings, equipment, roads, etc.
Contractual services for garbage and trash removal, fire hydrant service, aid to volunteer fire companies, etc.
Printing and advertising, utility services, insurance and many other items essential to the service rendered by municipal government.

The following schedule compares the components of this 1980 levy with those of 1979 for Town purposes only:

	1980	1979	Increase*	1980	1979	Increase*
	Estimated	Actual		Estimated	Actual
For All Municipal Purposes	$3,678,374.49	$3,554,226.54	$124,147.95	$83	$80	$3
For Reserve for Uncollected Taxes	1,224,621.89	1,135,133.61	89,488.28	27	26	1
Total Local Tax for Municipal Purposes	$4,902,996.38	$4,689,360.15	$213,636.23	$110	$106	$4
Assessed Valuations	$444,762,300.00	$442,678,500.00	$2,083,800.00

The above comparisons deal only with Municipal Purposes. While County and School tax levies and rates cannot be accurately forecast at this time, the amounts for these purposes used in establishing the "Reserve for Uncollected Taxes" or the so-called "Cash Basis Overlay" conform to mandatory provisions governing the preparation of the Local Municipal Budget. The County Budget and its distributive effect on our Town has not been determined as of this date and the amount to be raised by taxation for School Purposes will not be determined until a later date. When School and County Taxes are finally determinable their effect on the 1980 tax rate will be made known to the public.
It should be noted that the rate calculated for 1980 does not include provision for Veteran and Senior Citizen Tax Credits, since the State assumed this obligation as part of the so-called State "Income Tax Package."

The Municipal Budget for the 1980 has been prepared within the constraints imposed by Chapter 68, Public Laws of 1976, commonly referred to as the "5% CAPS" law. This law imposes a limit on Municipal expenditures, which, for the Town of Belleville is calculated as follows:

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

After deliberations on the details of departmental requests, operating appropriations have been set at minimum levels to continue to provide needed services. In this connection it is pointed out that a substantial portion of operating expenses is determined by contractual obligations for both salary and other expense elements, over which the Governing Body had little or no control.
The Board of Commissioners urge all taxpayers to attend the hearing on the Budget for the year 1980 to be held at Town Hall on April 29, 1980. The Board of Commissioners shall be pleased to respond to any questions at that time.

1980 CAPITAL BUDGET AND CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

This section is included with the Annual Budget pursuant to NJAC 5:30-4. It does not in itself confer any authorization to raise or expend funds. Rather, it is a document used as part of the local unit's planning and management program. Specific authorization to expend funds for purposes described in this section must be granted elsewhere, by a separate bond ordinance, by inclusion of a line item in the Capital Improvement Section of this budget, by an ordinance taking the money from the Capital Improvement Fund, or other lawful means.

CAPITAL BUDGET

A plan for all capital expenditures for the current fiscal year. If not capital budget is included, check the reason why:

☐ Total capital expenditures this year do not exceed $25,000, including appropriations for Capital Improvements Fund, Capital Line Items and Down Payments on Improvements.

☐ No bond ordinances are planned this year.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

A multi-year list of planned capital projects, including the current year. Check appropriate box for number of years covered, including current year.

☐ 2 years. (Population under 10,000)

☐ 3 years. (Over 10,000, and all county governments)

☐ 4 years. (Exceeding minimum time period)

☐ Check if municipality is under 10,000, has not expended more than $25,000 annually for capital purposes in immediately previous three years, and is not adopting CIP.

NARRATIVE FOR CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

The Capital Improvement Program for the Town of Belleville is presented herein. The capital projects planned for 1980 are detailed on Sheet 36c. The Town of Belleville, exclusive of the Board of Education, does not have any capital debt and, in continuation of that policy, does not contemplate any capital projects beyond 1980. CETA recruit drive here proves successful Belleville Mayor Michael V. Marotti and Commissioner Mary V. Senatore were on hand Monday to welcome Vincent Marzullo, director of the Essex County Division of Employment Training, and the division's Mobile Recruitment Van to Belleville.

Also on hand for the CETA recruitment drive in the Belleville-Nutley area was Nutley Mayor Harry Chenoweth.

The van, staffed by intake professionals from the division's East Orange office is making stops in all communities served by the division.

Marzullo noted that the van was aiding in efforts to fill approximately 200 Public Service Employment jobs as well as a number of training positions.

"Our mandate," he added, "is to provide training and employment situations to prepare economically disadvantaged, unemployed and underemployed citizens of Essex County for entry into the private employment market."

To be eligible for CETA programs administered by the division, individuals must be unemployed 10 out of the last 12 weeks, or 15 out of the last 20 weeks and be residents of Essex County, exclusive of Newark, East Orange, Bloomfield and Irvington which administer their own programs.

Persons interested in applying for CETA positions can contact the CETA Hotline at 676-4000 or Spanish Hotline at 676-4415.

Included in Public Service Employment are such community service areas as child care, health care, crime control, prisoner rehabilitation, transportation, recreation, housing and neighborhood improvement.

Body discovered in river identified as missing boy

An unrecognizable body found floating in the Passaic River near a dock by Doremus Avenue in Newark has been identified as Vincent Bove, a 16-year-old Belleville youngster who jumped off the Rutgers Street Bridge in January.

Bove leapt from the bridge into the icy Passaic, said Belleville police officials, when he was surrounded by both North Arlington and Belleville officers after being chased through North Arlington on the Belleville Turnpike. He was suspected of driving a stolen car.

The youngster was reported missing by his father at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 27, just about nine hours after he apparently made his fatal escape attempt.

County search crews, assisted by Belleville, Nutley, Lyndhurst, Kearny and North Arlington police, made several fruitless searches of the Passaic in January after Bove's alleged escape attempt, but gave up after nearly 11 hours, figuring his body was caught on a piling or temporarily wedged between something.

A couple Newark men discovered the body and called the police, and when Belleville police learned a body had been pulled from the river, they contacted the coroner with descriptions of Bove's clothing and the personal belongings he had.

Many Belleville police officers were surprised that Bove's body turned up at all, since bodies of those who drown are often never recovered.

Bove, who lived at 228 Stephens St., was first identified through his house keys and then through dental records. At first, the men thought Bove's body was that of a 30-year-old man, since chemical decomposition and bloating had taken place.

Psychic Dorothy Allison of Nutley was contacted by Bove's father, and she predicted he'd be found April 6, just three days after he was actually discovered last Friday.

Bove's father relentlessly searched for his son close to a month after his disappearance, scanning the shores of the Passaic every day, while prodding police to continue searching.

Driver who killed two children here gets three-year sentence

The Belleville woman who ran a curb last spring and killed two small children in front of their mother was sentenced last Thursday to serve two to three years in jail.

Cynthia Bogle, 46, who was convicted on two counts of causing death by reckless driving, was given the concurrent sentence by County Court Judge Edward F. Neagle Jr.

The woman was driving northbound the wrong way on Belmont Avenue May 19, 1979, when she lost control of her car and jumped the curb onto the sidewalk, striking Judith Ferdine and her two sons, George, 9, and Joseph, 5. The younger boy was killed instantly, the older died three hours later at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Ferdine suffered minor injuries and was released. The family dog was also killed in the accident.

Bogle, who did not have a valid driver's license, was driving under the influence of alcohol at the time of the crash. She will probably be spending her term at the state women's correctional center in Clinton, a county court spokesman said Tuesday afternoon.

It almost breaks your heart to see it. She's two days old and there's a question about a hole in her heart. She's fortunate. Something can be done about it. Each year, 25,000 infants are born with heart defects which can disable them for life.

The American Heart Association is fighting to reduce this form of early death and disability with research, professional and public education, and community service programs.

But more needs to be done. You can help us save young lives by sending your dollars today to your local Heart Association, listed in your telephone directory.

Project opponents knock site choice, parking plans

tion that the property be used as a park or for recreational purposes. The corporation worked out a release from the terms of the dedication last summer with Hoffmann-LaRoche which owns a diagnostic equipment manufacturing center next to the property. Critics have contended that proper legal procedure was not followed in obtaining the release, but the corporation has denied that.

Corporation members point out that because the project would be located on a dip in the terrain, the profile of the building would actually be lower on the landscape than Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

They also say it's highly unlikely that cars owned by people living in the project would take up any space in the existing recreation center lot. Building plans show a total of 84 parking spaces, 61 on the project site, another 23 coming from the recreation lot. However, the corporation says studies have shown a typical senior housing project needs parking for only about 15 to 20 percent of its units. If that were true, the building proposed for Belleville would require about 27 spaces and so there would be no conflict with cars at the recreation center.

Corporation representatives say they made a thorough search for project sites all over Belleville and after considering many factors, including cost, decided that the property at Franklin and Mill was best.

The corporation will have to get variances from the Board of Adjustment for the height and bulk of the building and for placing it in a two-family zone. Then the project will have to go before the Planning Board for approval. Proponents had hoped to have the project started by this summer, but now they say if everything goes they way, construction might begin in spring 1981.

Mayor Michael Marotti said Board Secretary Administrator Mary Shader would soon provide commissioners with recent audit reports of the school budget so they can get a clearer idea of where reductions can be made without hurting educational quality.

Graham and Caruso make most of talent

There is an old saying that records are meant to be broken. Over on the Belleville High cinders, there are two athletes who are making a do or die effort to validate that statement.

Senior Tommy Graham and junior Dana Caruso turned in strong performances in the season openers for the Belleville track teams.

Graham, the best miler Belleville has seen in a number of years, won that event in a sizzling time of 4:46. He then came back to win the two-mile in an equally impressive time of 10:28.

Caruso was leaving her competitors in the dust in the same two events. The junior came through with a winning time of 6:06 in the mile and won the two-mile with 13:35 clocking. Caruso is after the girls' two-mile mark of 12:47 and the mile record of 5:49. Graham is trying to break the mile record of 4:22.6.

Graham is a good example of an athlete with good potential who works long and hard to excel. He started running for the team as a freshman back in 1977. He was then strictly a two-miler and turned in some good times for his age level. In the Big 10 championships, he finished in a strong time of 11:07. In 1978, Graham broke the 11-minute mark in the two-mile and showed signs too of breaking through to stardom. The biggest break in his career came in 1979 when Larry Jinks was hired as an assistant coach.

Jinks is one of the best track coaches in the area and his wisdom quickly paid off for Tommy. Graham was tested in both the mile and two-mile, and the results were an "A" plus. Tommy's times were superb in both events and he was set for what looked to be an impressive 1980 season.

Thus far, he has not disappointed anyone. Furthermore, he has shown great leadership on the club while his maturity has been evident in his more consistent running. Before he leaves, he might be considered the finest pure runner in Belleville High School history. Keep an eye on him, you'll hear a lot from this senior during the next two months.

Caruso's story is similar. She is very hard working and ambitious and an excellent leader. She never rests on past laurels and looks always to the future.

Dana has already proven herself in cross country by setting the new girls' record for the Belleville course. She has also earned a number of medals for her efforts.

Graham's and Caruso's efforts remind us of the great performances by Belleville tracksters in the past. For instance, in 1975, a runner named Jim Beck was one of the premier two-milers in the area. He won 12 of 14 races and placed fourth in the two-mile in the prestigious Big 10 championships at Nutley.

On that day, he held off some pretty good runners, only losing to Jim Davis of Columbia, a Bloomfield harrier, and Columbia's Frank Prial. Beck's time was a fine 10:08, a mark that has yet to be surpassed by a Belleville runner.

Meanwhile, Nelson Seda dominated the mile run for Belleville. Seda's best time was a 4:33 in the state championships back in 1975. His clockings have yet to be duplicated, but the way Graham has been cooking, it's only a matter of time.

From 1975 to 1978, Sue Smith burned up the track for the female harriers. What she did to most opposition runners was demoralizing. She usually left them some 40 yards in the dirt with strong, superb running. She still holds the half-mile record at 2:29, the mile record with 5:47 and the two-mile mark of 12:47. When Caruso broke the cross country mark for Belleville this past fall, she broke Smith's record.

Smith and Caruso are very much alike. They both have similar running styles, they both like to set the pace and both dedicate themselves fully to the sport of track.

Athletes like the ones I've mentioned don't grow on trees. They develop after years of hard work, dedication and a lot of sacrifice. When people watch them on the track, they don't really know what these runners have gone through. Maybe now, they'll realize.

Congratulations to the Belleville High baseball team on its first victory of the 1980 season. The Bucs defeated Montclair 7-3 to win their debut. Anthony Coco, a star pitcher for last year's squad, was the winner, hurling seven strong innings.

Russ Pagano, the Bucs' all-state football player, appears headed to either Trenton or Montclair State College next fall. Lenny Mendola will probably end up at Trenton State, and Mike Rainone is a candidate for Ramapo. Mendola, as almost everyone knows, was the star halfback on this year's football team, while Rainone played defensive halfback.

The Cosmos opened their 1980 season with a tough 4-3 victory over Houston. The game was decided by a shootout that required all 10 players. Giorgio Chinaglia scored the decisive goal in the shootout for the winning margin. The game of soccer is a very exciting sport and will continue to grow in popularity. If the baseball players go through with their strike, it will be a disaster for their sport, but a boon to others. The NASL season, for instance, runs parallel to the baseball season and if the players are out on strike, soccer will benefit even more.

The only bad thing about the sport is the shootout. After two teams play tough soccer for almost two hours, it seems a bit unfair to have a game decided by a contest between a goalie and a kicker. Soccer is not a one-on-one game, and it seems silly to end things that way.

The shootout is strictly an American idea and is not used in Europe. What the teams should do is keep playing until the game is decided. The game started as a team sport and should remain that way.

Say, how about Muhammed Ali attempting comeback number 105? Ali is already the three-time champion and would like to make it four with a fight against WBA champion Mike "The Beaver" Weaver. Don't be too surprised if Ali wins the fight. Even though he is 38 and the legs aren't what they used to be, I have a feeling that the great champion has one good fight left in him. Besides, I'd much rather see him fight Weaver than Larry Holmes. People shouldn't count Ali out. He is a champion and will be a tough match for Weaver.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was what team did the Knicks beat for the 1973 NBA championship? The answer, the Los Angeles Lakers. The Knicks beat the Lakers four games to one to capture the title. They haven't been close since.

For this week's quiz, can you name the fighter who first defeated Muhammed Ali?

BHS diamondmen take opener in familiar style

By Mike Lamberti

As was the case time and again last year, some late-inning heroics by the Belleville High baseball team resulted in a big victory last week.

The Bucs opened the 1980 season with a 7-3 win over the Mounties of Montclair on Tuesday. The Blue-Gold was notorious for its cliffhanging victories last year. The result was an impressive 18-4 mark, and if head coach George Zinfani can have another season like that, he'll take the last-second victories any day.

"The fact that we didn't play that much on the field in pre-season definitely mattered," said Zinfani. "Our pitching was good, but overall, we left a lot of room for improvement. We'll get an idea this week of how far along we are."

The Bucs played a tough Baringer team on Tuesday and host Bloomfield 3:45 p.m. today. On Saturday, the team travels to Passaic for an 11 a.m. game.

Against Montclair, Anthony Coco hurled the full seven innings to notch victory number one. Coco, a junior who went 6-0 last year, allowed just one earned run. The losing pitcher was Tim Cummings.

The game was scoreless for two innings, but in the top of the third, Buc Bob LaBruzza doubled and stole third. Anthony Guarino walked and stole second. Mike Rainone then singled both men home and the Bucs led 2-0.

Montclair tied the game in its half of the fifth, but Belleville regained the lead in the sixth. Steve Coffey doubled and advanced to third on a throwing error by the leftfielder. Mike Nicosia's sacrifice fly sent Coffey home and boosted the Bucs' lead to 3-2.

The Bucs waited until the seventh inning before they took total control. LaBruzza singled and Dave Starr came in as a pinch runner. Starr promptly stole second and advanced to third on a wild pitch. Meanwhile, Guarino walked and stole second. Rainone was intentionally walked to fill the bases with the dangerous hitting Nicosia due up.

Nicosia hit into a force play that erased Starr at the plate. With the bases still loaded, though, Dominick Vazzano singled in two runs and the Bucs led 5-2. Kenny Constantino then came in as a pinch runner and scored along with Nicosia on a doubled by Rich Vitiello. The Mounties scored a run in their half of the seventh, but it was too much, too little, too late.

Track squads get off to slow starts

By Mike Lamberti

The Belleville-High boys' track team opened its 1980 season in rocky fashion, bowing to a very good Nutley squad 101-20. The Bucs were also topped by a strong Ramapo team in the triangular meet.

The Bucs were at Caldwell yesterday and will journey to Montclair this afternoon for a 3:45 p.m. start.

Despite the big loss, Buc head coach Rich Ruffalo was rather happy with some of his charges' performances in the Nutley meet. For instance, Tommy Graham, the team co-captain along with Joe DeLorenzo, won the mile in a sizzling 4:46 and came back to place second in the two-mile at 10:28. "Tommy has been working real well all season long," said Ruffalo. "If he keeps on working like a man, he'll be pumped up for some record-breaking times by the end of the season. If he bolts the way I know he can, he'll be tough to stop."

Russ Pagano had a good day in the field, placing third in the javelin and first in the shot put. Pagano threw 149-6 in the javelin and rallied from fourth to first in the shot with a toss of 41 feet, 10 inches. "I feel that Russ will break the javelin record that was set last year," Ruffalo said. "He's really improved since the beginning of the year."

John Renninger took a third in the 220 with a time of 25.8, and Joe DeLorenzo took second place in the shot and disc. His throws were 41-5 and 125-7 respectively. DeLorenzo stands a good chance of breaking the school shot record of 154 feet.

For the girls and head coach Pat Ritacco, the results were not too much better. Nutley was overpowering against the youthful Buccanettes and won 91-27. Ramapo was even better, besting Nutley 72-58 to win the triangular contest.

Dana Caruso provided the biggest bright spot for Belleville on an otherwise dismal day. She was, as usual, awesome in capturing the mile and two-mile races in times of 6:06 and 13:35.8 respectively. Caruso, still only a junior, is trying to set records in the half-mile, mile and deuce and she has a good shot at all of them.

Cecilia Graham, just a sophomore, broke her own high jumping record with a leap of 4-8. Her efforts earned her a first-place finish. Lori Debelak took a second place in the shot put with a toss of 20-10. Jo Ann Benecchi placed third in the shot with a heave of 20-9. Franchette Polite captured a second place in the 110-yard low hurdles and Barbara Gundry was second in the 440 with a time of 71.6.

Balancing Act — Joe DeLorenzo follows through on his discus toss. The Buc trackman took second in the event with a 125-7 throw. His team fared poorly though last Thursday at Nutley.

Softball team drops first but shuts out Glen Ridge

The Blue-Gold softball team opened its season by losing to Queen of Peace and then rallying to defeat Glen Ridge.

Yesterday, the Buc girls were host to Bloomfield and tomorrow will travel to Lyndhurst. On Saturday, Belleville will host Montclair Immaculate in a 10 a.m. start.

Against Queen of Peace, the local girls lost a 4-2 lead in the last frame and lost 9-4. Debbie Jinks started the game and took the loss. "Debbie threw very well for the first six innings," said head coach Eve Corino. "In the seventh, our pitching kind of broke down and they took advantage."

Joycie Iacullo had one hit for Belleville and drove in a run. Marilyn McCaffery went two for four and drove in two runs. Nancy Coffey had a hit and an RBI, while freshman Kim Indiero walked twice, had a sacrifice and scored twice.

The Queensladies' pitching was the difference as the North Arlington school allowed the Buc girls just four hits.

Against Glen Ridge, Michele DeMayo pitched the first six innings, allowing no runs and five hits. She was lifted in the seventh because of a back injury and Jinks came in to save the game.

The Buc girls won it 3-0 with three runs in the fifth inning. Freshman Lois DeLuccio doubled and Jinks walked. Rosie Corio singled and DeLuccio was held up at third. However, the outfielder's throw was wild and all three Buc girls came in to score.

DeMayo was the hitting star as well with three safeties. Donna Campana, another strong freshman, came through with a hit. All told, the Blue-Gold collected seven hits, a statistic that worries Corino a bit. "Our pitching has been good, but we need some help in our hitting," said the coach. "If we come around, we can be a very strong club."

Special olympics Saturday at BHS

The Belleville Special Education Parents and Professional Association will sponsor its second annual special olympics for mentally handicapped youngsters this Saturday.

Again this year, all Belleville special education children from 5 to 16 will have a chance to compete in athletic events. Brothers and sisters are also invited to join in the fun. All participants will receive special T-shirts and winners will be awarded medals.

The association has expressed its gratitude to the many volunteers who have agreed to participate and to the various individuals and community organizations that have made contributions to the special olympics program.

This year it is hoped that more

Spot Check — Blue-Gold third baseman Donna Campagna eagerly awaits the catcher's throw as she tries keeping a Glen Ridge runner honest Monday at Clearman Field. Belleville won 3-0, helped by some sharp glove work.

Rec House champ of Over-30 League

The champion of this year's Mens' Over-30 Basketball League is the Rec House. The Rec House defeated Radio Shack in the championship round of the playoffs 49-37 to take the crown.

Rich Nisivoccia and Tom Joyce led the Rec House attack with 12 points apiece. Other members of the winning team are Captain, Russ Purdue, Bob Byers, Jim Nisivoccia, Ray Cozzarelli, Rich Lowack, Joel Pisano and Jim Hunt.

Frank Carascia scored 10 points and John Reilly had nine points for Radio Shack.

Ladies' Volleyball

There was a major upset this week in the Ladies' Volleyball League as the Rookies won their first set of the season. The games were tension-filled as the Rookies put forth a team effort to defeat the Set-Ups 16-14, 9-15, 15-13. The loss to the Rookies put the Set-Ups in a tie for second place.

In the other action, the Mad Netters continued their devastating play, defeating the Court Jesters 15-9, 15-3. Once again a team effort gave the Mad Netters an unprecedented edge over their opponent.

This week the Mad Netters will try to keep their seven-game winning streak alive as they battle the Set-Ups. The Fragiles will play the Court Jesters.

The standings as of last week:

Mad-Netters	7-0
Set-Ups	3-3
Fragiles	3-3
Court Jesters	2-4
Rookies	1-6

San Filippo, Borgo playing for Hawks

Jim San Filippo, a starter in the summertime for the Belleville Bruins, led the Monmouth College baseball team in hitting during its spring exhibition series.

The six-foot, 185-pound San Filippo, a four-year starter for the Hawks, had a .352 average over eight games during the Florida trip. He also turned in several fine fielding plays at third base.

Also aboard the diamond squad at the West Long Branch school is Dan Borgo, a left-handed pitcher who set numerous Buc records before graduating from Belleville High in 1979. Borgo, six feet and 175 pounds, joins a six-man Hawk staff.

Phoenix Aquatic Club slates swimming clinic

Juliano playing softball at Seton

Denise Juliano of Belleville is a first-base hopeful on the Seton Hall softball team which opened its season last week.

Juliano, a freshman at the South Orange university, is a graduate of Belleville High School where, among other sports, she played softball.

Not Forgotten — Senior Doug Jackson of Belleville wound up his basketball career at Stevens Institute of Technology in Hoboken. "Jackson was key player in three of our late-season wins," noted Duck Coach John Lyon. Jackson, a 1976 graduate of Belleville High School, had three solid twin-figure games at the end of the year for Stevens Tech. The Ducks ended up a disappointing 7-13 this season following a mid-campaign slump that they never quite recovered from.

Varsity eight brightens disappointing crew day

By Mike Olohan

If you're a pessimist, you'd make it known that Belleville's crew team won only one out of seven races Saturday, but if you're an optimist like Blue-Gold Coach Sam Giuffrida, you'd stress that despite only winning one, "that was the biggie."

Only Belleville's varsity eight was victorious on the wind-swept, fast-flowing Passaic River, but the varsity race is the one that carries all the prestige and excitement because it pits the best of each squad against the other.

Just last week, Kearny, which shares a boathouse with Nutley and Belleville, swept four of six races from the Maroon Raiders, but most importantly zipped by Nutley's varsity eight in about 11 seconds.

Belleville's varsity boat won by 1.4 seconds, barely beating Kearny which also rowed a powerful race. On opening day against Upper Merion, the Buc crew again took only one race, but that win was by a lone jayvee eight boat, made up of sophomores and juniors just at race time.

"We won the big one that we had to," said Giuffrida exultantly on Saturday afternoon as Kearny coach Mike Pasqua sauntered by, good-naturedly mumbling about how his team is being ignored by the press.

Manning Belleville's varsity eight were coxswain Scott Watkowski, stroker Tom O'Kean, George Skrutskie, Matt Martin, Donald McKinstry, Cliff Williams, Joe Giuliano, Chris Nash and Joe Stanzone replacing flu-felled Bob Cassin.

"It was close in four of the races," said Giuffrida, referring to close finishes by the senior four, jayvee eight and junior four shells, who each lost by under five seconds.

"These guys won a pressure race because they were losing and they came back," emphasized the coach. "I'm very pleased with their performance," he said, while a flicker of a smile turning to a grin made it all seem worthwhile.

The junior four lost by 3.9 seconds and the jayvee eight by 4.4 seconds while the senior four only fell short by 4.9 seconds. However, the third-eight boat lost by 14.8 seconds, and the freshmen A boat fell by 19.9 seconds. The freshmen B shell lost by 24.8 seconds.

Giuffrida said he and his two assistant coaches will begin to reassess and regroup to prepare for Arlington and Lower Merion, whom Belleville challenges Saturday at home.

Amateur boxing scheduled May 2

The Veteran Boxers Social Club will sponsor a 10-bout amateur boxing show in conjunction with the Belleville Telegram Friday evening, May 2, at Municipal Stadium.

The bouts, which are sanctioned by the New Jersey AAU, will begin at 8 p.m. In the event of rain, the show will be held Saturday evening, May 3.

Ringside seats are $5, general admission $3. For tickets, call Frankie Bove at 751-0436, Ernie Ratner at 751-2260, Loy Centi at 998-2898 or Jo Ann Plunkett at 759-5706.

Distance Drop — Carl Lordi checks out his toss in the discus during practice throws. The Bucs lost to Nutley, the winner of last week's three-way track meet, 101-20.

Seniors Guarino and Petite cogs in MSC baseball wheel

Two Bellevillites are starters on this year's Montclair State baseball team. John Guarino will be in center field for the Indians, while Greg Petite will be pitching.

Guarino, a 5-11 senior, is moving over from leftfield. He is considered an excellent defensive player who has a strong, accurate throwing arm. He had an off-season last spring but came back to lead the team in hitting with a .420 average in the fall.

A Belleville High graduate, Guarino is a right-handed power hitter who likes the short fence at Montclair State. He led the team in people in the community will take time to come and cheer the children on, to provide the applause that mentally handicapped youngsters so rarely receive.

The program will be held 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Belleville High School gym. Admission is free and refreshments will be available.

home runs and RBI as a sophomore and hopes to have his best season this spring.

Petite, also a senior, is a third-year varsity player who should be one of the mainstays of the starting rotation. The 5-10 right-hander is a hard thrower who has a good fastball and a much improved curve. He led the Indian staff with a 2.17 ERA in the fall. As a sophomore, he was tops on the team in appearances and saves.

Seeing Cinders — Standing on the grass at DeMuro Park in Nutley, BHS head track coach Rich Ruffalo analyzes his boys' performance. The girls had competed the day before.

Set Position — Belleville pitcher Michele DeMayo checks the runners during Monday's Glen Ridge game. The BHS southpaw allowed just five hits over six innings and got three safeties herself at the plate.

Tennis squad is blanked by powerful Verona 5-0

By Mike Lambert

Hoping to improve on last year's 9-15 mark, the Belleville High boys' tennis team began its fourth season of action earlier this week with a match against powerful Verona.

The Bucs were blanked, 5-0 Monday, but Coach Mike Pollard feels confident about the upcoming season.

"The Verona match was just a badly executed match by our kids," said Pollard. "Verona is a strong team, but we didn't play well at all. There were some foolish mistakes."

The Bucs have a veteran squad on the courts this year. At first singles is senior Anthony Collarsordo. Anthony DeMeola plays at the second singles position and Richie Cook occupies the third singles position. Both DeMeola and Cook are seniors.

The doubles combinations are Kenny Beck and Jerry Gold and Mark Dombrowsky-Amedeo Salomoni.

The Bucs battled Caldwell on Tuesday and Kearny on yesterday. Tomorrow at 3:45 p.m., the Blue-Gold will host a very talented Seton Hall squad.

As Pollard said, "It's quite an opening week."

Belleville children hunt elusive Easter egg

Town's Optimist Club makes certain each youngster goes away a winner

The Belleville Optimist Club conducted its first Easter egg hunt at Branch Brook Park Saturday, and an estimated 180 youngsters, toddlers to 12-year-olds, participated.

Optimist President Jack Gurrera announced the winners of the hunt. They were John Lowack, Michael Bazarewski, Rodd Lande, Tina Frazzano, Jacqueline Gurrera, Michael Iacona, Vicki Weegar, Karen Conti and Toni Cimolo. Gurrera made sure no one was a loser, though, as he distributed jelly beans to those children who came up empty handed in the hunt.

Optimists Art Caruso, Mike Pizzi and Mike Porecco were in the park at 8:20 a.m. organizing children and parents as they arrived. Past president Frank Santasieri served as chairman for the hunt. He will be honored by Optimist International April 25 as the Belleville club was number one in the state during his tenure last year.

The Belleville Optimists were gratified by the large number of children who participated Saturday. Joe Cappello attributed the turnout to the cooperation of the elementary school principals who distributed the club's flyers in their schools. Said Cappello, "It is rewarding to see the schools and civic groups working together in promoting youth activities in the community."

The Belleville Optimist Club is a member of Optimist International, an international civic organization whose purpose is to work with and promote youth. The Optimist slogan is "Friend of Youth," and Saturday Belleville Optimists proved that their club indeed is.

The Winners — Garnering the chocolate Easter bunnies this past Saturday were (front, l-r) John Lowack, Michael Bazarewski, Rodd Lande, Tina Frazzano and Jacqueline Gurrera; (back, l-r) Michael Iacona, Vicki Weegar, Karen Conti and Toni Cimolo.

Basket Bosses — Maria Piserchia, Paul Santinelli and Frank Piserchia came properly equipped for the big hunt Saturday.

Talkative One — Richie Sweeney holds Danielle Rotonda who asked us to tell our readers that she found two Easter eggs and that her mother's name is Angela.

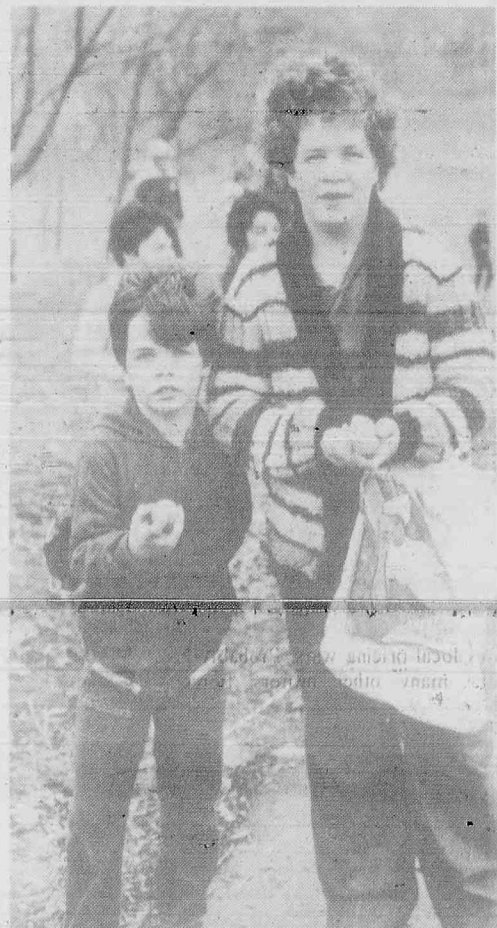

Biking Pals — Taking a ride through Branch Brook Park to inspect Saturday's proceedings were Monique and Sherri Bowie. The Easter egg hunt attracted an estimated 180 participants.

Tree Peekers — Looking out from among the branches at Branch Brook Park are Julie Hanson, Lori and Karen Tirrell. They were among the scores of children who turned out for the Belleville Optimists' first Easter egg hunt Saturday. — Photos by John Jurich.

Prize Find — Young Michelle D'Agostino beams as she shows off the egg she found Saturday morning.

Yoke Display — Kenny and Ronnie Henry arrived early at the park and came away with a slew of eggs.

Egging On — Scrambling up the hilly terrain is Raymond Misko, one of the many children who braved the chilly, overcast weather Saturday morning.

Bush Beater — Bag in hand, Michael Trezza pokes through the undergrowth looking for concealed eggs. The children had a great time at the big pre-Easter event which the grown-ups of the Belleville Optimist Club made possible.

Belleville's small liquor store owners fear deregulation will hurt their business badly

By Mike Olohan

Several Belleville liquor store owners think New Jersey's new law deregulating liquor prices to insure competition will drive them out of business.

While many of the liquor store owners spoken to requested anonymity, and some didn't even want their stores mentioned, a couple did speak out.

The 40-member State Senate recently voted to push back deregulation until 1981, but the 80-member Legislature still has not voted on a delay.

As of this week, deregulation is moving ahead as planned, but much of the savings initially expected won't be seen until summer's end under the three-phase plan.

In April and May, retailers have to keep prices at least 18 percent above cost, in June and July, the markup would only have to be 9 percent above cost. After that, the retailers can set their own prices.

Many local owners felt once price controls are eliminated, many smaller stores will gradually be forced out of business because large-volume stores like Home Liquors will be able to drop prices much lower than a neighborhood store can.

Also, they stressed, since they can't usually afford to buy and store large quantities of liquor, they won't get the bigger price breaks that larger chain stores will get, further hurting their businesses.

However, State Attorney General John Degnan has long been in favor of deregulation because he feels too many liquor store wholesalers and retailers are conspiring to rip off consumers by keeping prices unnecessarily high.

"Any customer who comes in, we'll try to satisfy them. We'll try to give them the best price on whatever they want to buy," says Abi Sehgal, co-owner of Washington Liquors. During a brief noontime interview, numerous customers ventured in to purchase cans of beer, while others purchased "nips" of Smirnoff vodka or Bacardi rum.

Sehgal appeared confident, undoubtedly because of his fairly large volume business, that he'd survive any local pricing wars. Probably his and many other owners' fiercest competition will be Home Liquors at 927 Franklin Avenue, Newark, near the Belleville line, and Willner's Liquors on Washington Avenue, also part of a chain.

"We might gain from it, but we don't know," said Sehgal, as he waited on customers along with his wife, Asha, in their crowded, well-stocked Washington Avenue store.

Many of the owners spoken to last week were joyous over the Senate's approval of deregulation delay, and had the newspaper article detailing the vote taped behind their sales counters.

All of Belleville's smaller liquor store owners emphasized that with rent and utilities soaring, it'll be almost impossible, if not completely impossible, for them to cut prices and remain competitive against larger chain stores. Their success or failure will probably rely more on customer loyalty, the fact that they're usually closer, and possibly offer more personalized service than larger liquor outlets.

But most small businessmen are wary that eventually, despite their best efforts, they'll be undercut by larger competitors simply aiming to drive them out of business so they can have the market for themselves.

Once that happens, many smaller retailers believe consumers might be shafted even more since only the large retailers would then be left to manipulate liquor prices, without any legal restrictions except for the watchful eyes of the Alcoholic Beverage Commission (ABC) and Attorney General's Office.

"It'll (deregulation) kill us...how could I survive if they take all the legal restrictions off liquor prices?" asked the owner of a small local store. However, a U.S. Supreme be there playing and they'll be using their lunch money," said Commissioner Mary Senatore, whose idea it was to raise the legal age to 19 to provide more insurance against youths hanging out at the gaming machines.

Commission cites concern for youth

Zinna said raising the age could obviate the need for the footage restriction, but commissioners disagreed. "If you keep the footage in, you eliminate the possibility of kids playing," said Commissioner Joseph McGreevy.

Court decision recently declared California's similar pricing regulations unconstitutional, while emphasizing that protecting small retailers was not as important as promoting competition.

Competition and lower prices will be assured, says Attorney General Degnan, rebutting charges by small retailers that larger chains will subtly begin fixing prices, even at lower levels.

The antitrust department of New Jersey's Division of Criminal Justice will scrutinize wholesale price records, says Degnan, and wholesalers will be required to file price lists with the department monthly, and will not be allowed to change prices once they have filed.

Any wholesalers suspected of non-competitive pricing or price collusion will be investigated, and if necessary, prosecuted, stresses Degnan. He points to tough federal and state antitrust laws that wield stiff penalties, notably a loss of liquor license, to wholesalers bent on evading deregulation.

According to most local owners, they're just waiting and hoping, either waiting for the Assembly to okay a liquor deregulation delay or hoping they don't go out of business when total deregulation goes into effect.

Over the last few weeks, since deregulation commenced March 11, more and more advertisements have been boosting the price reductions deregulation will bring.

An ad, now appearing frequently, sponsored by Home Liquors, exclaims, "It took a Supreme Court ruling before we could run this ad," and it lists retail liquor prices along with a brief message from Home distributors.

Consumers urged to beware when selling precious items

By Mike Olohan

Most people would probably love to be worth their weight in gold today, with prices soaring at about $520 an ounce. Other precious items such as silver, coins, jewelry and cutlery have also increased in value making accurate measurements of their weight crucial to consumers cashing in heirlooms or antiques worth thousands of dollars.

Belleville Consumer Affairs Director Ed Leonard warns local residents to be very cautious with any coin dealer they become involved with, stressing because a dealer's ripoff profit can be so high, anyone could be tempted to have a precious metal scale weigh in his favor.

Leonard said any local businesses with scales must be inspected by him and given a tag by the state department of weights and measures to insure complete accuracy.

He emphasized that some shrewd coin dealers and fly-by-night operations gyp customers by using avoirdupois measurements or 16 ounces per pound. However, precious metals are weighed in troy weight, or 12 ounces to the pound. By using a different weight scale, like avoirdupois, dealers might be able to get an extra four ounces of whatever metal they're purchasing, says Leonard.

Before a coin dealer or jewelry store is legally allowed to use any scale for weighing metals, it must first be okayed by New Jersey's Division of Weights and Measures, and then by the local consumer bureau, if there is one.

In February, State Consumer Affairs Director Adam Levin noted that more inspectors from county weights and measures bureaus would help out local inspectors, who are often swamped by complaints and can't effectively investigate each one.

The weight in ounces should be visible on both sides of the scale to enable the consumer to be sure he's getting the right price for what he's trading in or paying the right price for what he's purchasing, noted Leonard.

Ever since the price of gold surged upwards last year, speculators have been buying into and out of gold stocks like wildfire, and the price appears to be ready to stabilize. But that stabilization price is very high, just the same.

Leonard said many older people are being taken advantage of because usually they're the most trusting of unscrupulous coin dealers. He warns all sellers to doublecheck their coins and precious metals before making any deals, and say they shouldn't just trade away things they may later regret losing because coins and heirlooms can't always be retrieved.

Anyone caught trying to rip off consumers can be fined $2,000 for the first offense and $5,000 for the second. Not having a properly calibrated scale can also cost a dealer a $50 or $100 fine.

Belleville has about four shops that sell precious metals like coins or jewelry, and last month Bell Coins of Washington Avenue was fined $85 for using a scale not okayed by the state department of weights and measures. Belleville Municipal Court Judge Edward Abromson imposed the fine.

"They said they were unaware of what scales were approved by the state," said Leonard, apparently in disbelief. He stressed most coin dealers should and usually do know what type of scales are required to legally operate.

He said he'd continue to watch the local stores to make sure Belleville consumers are being protected but emphasized that more citizens must become aware to protect themselves from underhanded businessmen. Leonard added that most local businessmen are honest, but that no one should stop being a conscientious, comparison-shopping consumer.

face for a man who served on the committee for X number of years?" Marotti asked.

In the end, Mrs. Senatore, who had voted to limit the board to residents, changed her mind and voted with Marotti and McGreevy to let non-residents serve. The membership of Del Tufo, a landlord, on the board had been opposed by town tenants. However, they have been impressed by his expertise in rent law, and Ron Platt, a tenant leader who now sits on the board, sent Marotti a letter of support for Del Tufo.

Pica had argued that Belleville residents know and care more about the town than non-residents and said they should be given preference for board membership by legislation.

The rent ordinance will be introduced at the next regular commission meeting April 22 and will be up for public hearing May 13.

"Generic Drugs"

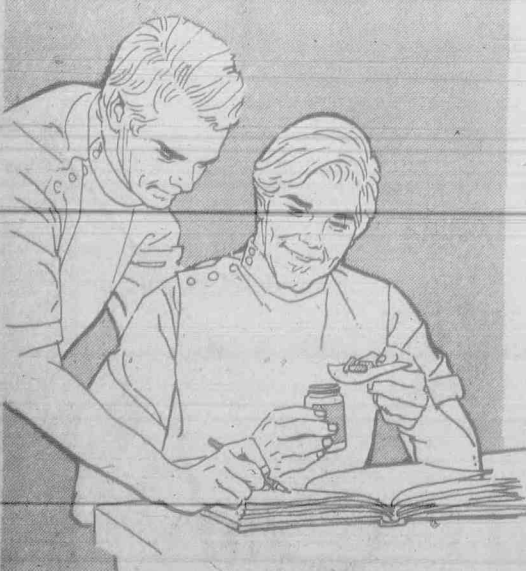

The New Jersey Drug Utilization Review Council has published a drug formulary showing acceptable manufacturers for certain drugs where substitution on a prescription is mandated for the pharmacist, unless the patient or doctor specifies otherwise.

Question-How much can I save on a generic prescription?
Answer-This figure can vary from drug to drug, but a good ball-park figure is about 30 percent.

Question-Are all generics manufactured only by small generic companies?
Answer-No. There are many "branded generics" or other generic drugs manufactured by some of the larger drug companies in our country specifically to capitalize on the generics market.
