Belleville losing battle for county tax rebates

By John Jurich

Monday morning, Belleville and eight other Essex towns will file briefs in their attempt to gain massive tax rebates from the county, but by that afternoon their quest may well have been ended in Trenton.

The New Jersey Senate passed a bill Monday excluding all county park land from the state rebate formula, and the Assembly will probably follow suit when the proposal comes before it 2 p.m. Monday. Should the bill pass, Governor Brendan Byrne is expected to sign it into law the same day.

A huge legal upheaval began the week before last when Newark and Millburn asked for millions of dollars in rebates from the county under a state law that allows municipalities to receive 50 percent back when they have 200 to 300 acres of state or county land under their jurisdiction, and 75 percent for 400 or more acres.

The 1923 state law exempted lands owned by park commissions from the rebate provision. However, the Essex Park Commission was dissolved when Executive Peter Shapiro reorganized county government, and that created the loophole through which Newark and Millburn sought rebates. Belleville, which has 326 acres of county property in its boundaries and stood to pay $6.586 million in county taxes, joined the fight along with six more towns last week.

The county acreage here, mostly park land, includes the Geriatrics Center, Belleville Park and Hendricks Field Golf Course. Belleville officials point out that they provide police and fire protection at those sites but receive no compensation for it.

The bill introduced this week by State Sen. Carmen Orechio of Nutley is retroactive to 1979 and deletes the words, "park commission," from the law. The measure moved directly to the floor without going to committee and was passed 37-0 with Sen. Frank Rodgers, who represents Belleville, among other towns, voting yes.

Assemblyman Michael Aduato, whose district includes Belleville, will introduce the bill in his branch of the legislature Monday. He and some other Essex assemblymen at first tried to tie the bill to a measure ending the rebates given to Cedar Grove, contending those placed an unfair burden on other county

Commissioners reduce school cut to $200,000

By Mike Olohan

Relenting at least partially, town commissioners voted last week to slice just $200,000 from Belleville's defeated school budget.

School trustees shrewdly worked out a compromise last Thursday which enables them to decide where cuts will be made. In return, trustees got a $100,000 reduction in the cut the commission originally made and agreed they wouldn't appeal the cut to State Education Commission Fred Burke as long as they could find places where costs could be sliced.

But what was most surprising was where trustees quickly decided to trim most of the money. On Friday, they decided to take $147,100 from capital outlay and $52,900 from current expenses. Repeatedly in the past, trustees have cringed whenever anyone has mentioned reducing the capital outlay budget and have stressed how Belleville schools are deteriorating and need renovation. But given the opportunity to make cuts themselves, that's where they made the biggest reduction.

Most trustees note that if they cut hundreds of thousands of dollars from current expenses — which they say is possible but not practical — they'll have no flexibility or assurance that surplus money will be available in case an unexpected expense arises.

Board President Ralph Risoli, along with Trustees Ernie Zoppi, Anthony D'Agostino and Charles Miele voted for the compromise, with Trustees Peter Clarizio and Mike Chieffo opposed. Trustee

Caesar Romano was absent.

Apparently, the cutback in current expenses should not affect any programs, teachers or supplies, though it will reduce the school tax increase from 23 to 19 points. Commissioner Matthew Pica, a former board president, said trustees could easily handle a $200,000 cut, con-

Recount upholds results of election — Risoli loses

His hopes that some untold votes would turn up in last Thursday's election recount dashed, School Board President Ralph Risoli now says his loss was more attributable to supporters who didn't vote and campaign for him than anything else.

The vote totals for the March 25 school election were verified by Essex County Board of Election officials, who checked all the voting machines and found no discrepancies.

Belleville's board president lost by 53 votes to newcomer John DiStasi last month in an election that shocked many people. Risoli was expected to win, but then suddenly, the votes just weren't there. Risoli was the only candidate not to show up at the board offices on election night.

"I didn't want to win an election that way," said Risoli of the recount.

"I was just disappointed with some places, like the American Legion Hall, School 3 and the Rec House and senior high," he said.

Besides DiStasi, local divorce lawyer Tom Zampino pulled in 2,366 votes, Trustee Anthony D'Agostino got 2,262 and Tom Spillane, a Bell Telephone engineer, wracked up 1,580 votes to place fifth.

Risoli said he talked to about 15 personal friends after the election and discovered only about five of them voted. "Ten didn't even vote. They didn't do half the work that they did last time," he noted. "All those who were for me, I guess they didn't feel I'd lose, so they stayed home. It was too sure...they became

Prosecutor taking look into Strumolo situation

The Essex County Prosecutor's Office last week began investigating charges that Public Affairs Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo paid his daughter for a full year in 1979 though she'd only worked about seven months.

Prosecutor Donald Coburn turned the case over to assistant

Peter Francis, who is in charge of the official corruption unit of the prosecutor's office, early last week. Tuesday, Francis declined to say how soon it would be before his office had reached any conclusions.

A report in the Newark Star-Ledger said that Nicky D'Andrea, a clerk-typist in her father's department, had gotten taken five months sick leave and vacation time though she had only about half that coming to her.

The story said Mrs. D'Andrea took an three-week vacation from June 11 to July 1 and was hospitalized from June 9 to 13 to have a baby though her attendance card was marked "P" for present from July 2 to 22. She was paid for 78 sick days and two holidays from July 23 to Nov. 2, the Ledger reported, before going on "extended" sick leave until Dec. 31. Mrs. D'Andrea's termination due to anticipated budget cuts was reported to Civil Service Oct. 30 but the town treasurer's office was not informed until the end of the year.

Strumolo has said that he did nothing illegal in paying his daughter the sick leave and vacation time and that Civil Service procedure was followed throughout. He added that Mrs. D'Andrea owes the town at the most two or three weeks which she'll have an opportunity to make up when, as he said had been the plan all along, she returns to service in January 1981.

Circus tickets on sale soon

Gabe Nazzioia, president of the Belleville Music Parents Association, has announced that the organization is sponsoring a Belleville Day at the All-American Circus to be held at South Mountain Arena, West Orange, Sunday, May 4.

Tickets will be on sale this coming Wednesday through May 4 for reserved seats. Show time is 4:30 p.m. "This effort by our organization," said Nazzioia, "will allow us to raise the needed funds for our group to help subsidize the Belleville High Marching Band trip to Disneyworld on May 14. We will receive half of the ticket sale price."

"We feel that this is a tremendous opportunity not only to raise funds for our group, but to offer the residents of our area and others and adventure in entertainment with a day at the circus," said Nazzioia. In

Zoning Board meets tonight

The Zoning Board of Adjustment has scheduled a special meeting for 8 tonight at Town Hall to continue hearing the proposal for a senior citizen housing project at Franklin Avenue and Mill Street.

As expected, no decision was reached at last Tuesday's meeting on granting variances for the structure, and so to speed things along, the Zoning Board decided to call tonight's session, the fourth since plans for the 11-story, 137-unit building were first submitted.

The board had originally set the special meeting for May 1 but later changed the date to today.

Post office offering address change kit

If you're one of the estimated 36 million persons who plan to move their residence this year, you should begin notifying everyone who regularly sends you mail at least one full month before you move.

That's the advice from Newark Sectional Center Postmaster/Manager Joseph J. Benucci who suggests you file change-of-address forms with the post office in your area and send them to correspondents and publishers.

The Postal Service offers free change-of-address kits to make it easier to notify everyone. Available in post offices and from letter carriers, the kits include convenient postcards to alert the postmaster and for mailing to department stores, friends and relatives, utility companies, banks, newspaper and magazine publishers and others who do business with the family planning a move.

Those who fail to give publishers at least a month's advance notice must either pay additional postage for forwarding or wait several weeks before the publisher changes the address. This means customers may miss one or more issues of their newspapers or magazines.

TRADE UP TO SNAPPER DEPENDABILITY!

SNAPPER walk mowers include these performance features:
1 "Vacuum" power for a smooth professional cut and the ability to bag cuttings under tough conditions.
2 With an optional Mulcherizer, your SNAPPER is converted to a mulching mower which chews up cuttings so fine they become lawn food.
3 Another option, the Snapperizer, converts your SNAPPER to a leaf shredder and lawn vacuum so you can go over four times as far without emptying the bag.
4 Self-propelled models have rear wheel drive and six forward speeds for mowing slowly in tough grasses or quickly in normal situations. A fingertip control disengages the drive for trimming in tight places.

The rear-engine SNAPPER Hi-Vac rider gives you a smooth, even cut. Plus: Immediate response steering for cutting in tight places; on-the-go adjustment of cutting height and speed; and a floating cutting unit which minimizes scalping damage.

SNAPPER Hi-Vac riders can vacuum cuttings, leaves and litter into an optional 6 or 30 bushel catcher, even during high moisture conditions.

Before you buy, compare the quality and performance features of a SNAPPER. You'll find SNAPPER is worth more because it does more. And its price is competitive with other quality mowers.

A correction

In a story appearing on page 21 of the April 10 Belleville Times, it was incorrectly stated that Bell Coins of Washington Avenue was fined $85 for having an unapproved scale.

Actually, the fine was imposed because the shop's scale lacked the proper state seal, not because it was inaccurate or faulty.

The Founder — Robert Raikes, who started the Sunday school movement, is depicted in this statue. The movement's 200th anniversary will be celebrated at Fewsmith Presbyterian Church May 9.

Prayer for Today

When everything is pleasant and bright
And the things we do turn out just right
We feel without question that God is real,
For, when we are happy, how good we feel...
But when the tides turn and gone is the song
And misfortune comes and our plans go wrong
Doubt creeps in and we start to wonder
And our thoughts about God are torn asunder—
For we feel deserted in time of deep stress,
Without God's presence to assure us and bless.
And it is then when our senses are reeling
We realize clearly it's Faith and not Feeling—
For it takes Great Faith to patiently wait,
Believing "God comes not too soon or too late,"

Belleville budgets

The proposed budget to operate Town Hall reflects an increase over last year's expenditures of approximately $592,000 — this equates to a 4 point rise in the tax rate. When one considers the enormous increase in the garbage collection costs — the increased fuel, salary and insurance bills — reasonable homeowners must conclude that our Town Commission has been very frugal in its budget-making process.

As for the School Board budget voted down by the electorate, it appears that the $200,000 compromise worked out among members of the Town Commission and the School Board represents a reasonable answer to Belleville's school system needs. Most of the cuts in the School Board budget con-

Jimmy Carter's recession

At no time during our lifetime did we ever contemplate a moment in history when a United States President would deliberately plan a depression in order to obtain prosperity. Strange as it may seem, that is the precise course that Jimmy Carter has set for us in order to stop the 18 percent inflation and 20 percent interest rate.

Carter is attacking our economic problem in the wrong way. What we need is a stern president who has the political courage to insist upon energy conservation and a meaningful reduction in the overall budget. From all indications, Carter has ignored the energy problem — is playing up the politicians in important electoral states by making federal grants when none should have been made — all to the detriment of our people and our country. For America to remain strong, our economy must be strong. The country is in disarray and this feeling of hopelessness inexorably finds its way into the homes and hearts of Americans throughout the land.

It's time something good was said about the future of our country. It's time somebody gave substance to the hopes, dreams and aspirations of Americans who were brought up to believe this was the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Time is running out on Jimmy Carter. Let us pray and hope time does not run out on America.

Slow down the ballot-counting to keep electorate in suspense

To the Editor:

It is a darn shame on primary and election days that we find out what candidate has won what offices even before all their votes are in.

Let me explain. When the New Hampshire primary was held in February, I was listening to WHS. Ten minutes after the polls closed, they were on the air counting the votes for president of the United States. Shortly after, they were on the computer system which is used now to pick the winners a lot more quickly than they did before.

I think they take the excitement out of the whole thing. To me I think it should be left on about two hours before the reporters so anxiously and excitedly announce who the winners are. I do not think I am the only one who feels this way, and is interested in election returns from any state.

As you know, there's going to be a lot of primaries between now and July before they hold the conventions. WINS and CAU will carry each and everyone I am sure. Then the main election in November will also be carried by television as well as the radio.

I think they should let the excitement roll on for a while and let the numbers come up on the board. After an hour or two, then announce some winners if they would like. But do not take the tension out of it. I do not think that way but if I am I am speaking my opinion for what it is worth.

This year I think the race in the Republican party will be a little more interesting than the Democratic. I have my eye on George Bush, Ronald Reagan and perhaps ex-president Ford. In my opinion, these are the guys to watch. All the rest of the candidates will eventually drop out. As far as the Democrats are concerned, I'm looking for Carter to be nominated for the second term. At this time I will not pick the winner in November, but I'm pretty sure I can say the race will be between Carter, Reagan and Ford.

Sincerely,
Wm. H. Rundle

Belleville AARP will elect '80-81 officers next week

The regular monthly meeting of the Belleville Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons will be held next Thursday, May 1, at Fewsmith Presbyterian Church, 444 Union Ave., beginning 1 p.m.

Chapter 2051 officers will be elected for 1980-81. Nominations may be made from the floor.

Westcott, president; Victor Rozycki, vice president; Edna Riepe, treasurer; Evelyn Burke, assistant treasurer; Gertrude Raymond, recording secretary; Evelyn Hollowell, corresponding secretary; Margaret Allaire, nominating chairman, and Robert Metcalfe, auditor. The slot for second vice president is open.

After the regular business meeting, a representative from New Jersey Bell Telephone will show a film entitled, "Here Is New Jersey," a new look at life in the Garden State. A picture profile of New Jersey from High Point to Cape May, the 26-minute film shows the state's mountains, cities, farms and beaches.

Senior Notes

By George Chenoweth

The Health Care for All Americans Act is receiving a boost from such stalwart advocates as the Health Security Action Council, the American Association of Retired Persons and the National Council of Senior Citizens. Senator Long's bill, known as the "Catastrophic Health Care Bill," is now being considered by the Senate Finance Committee. If passed, the bill would require patients to pay $3,500 of their own money. This could help them from being wiped out entirely and/or being placed into debt. If a comprehensive plan were adopted, all Americans would be covered, and the government would pay for the elderly and the poor.

We received an answer to a Mail-O-Gram sent to the White House in regards to our opposition to cuts in Social Security income. We are informed that the proposed revisions in the 1981 budget will not affect the automatic review of Social Security benefits. The letter was reassuring in that we were informed that the president has found other ways to eliminate deficit government spending without changing the method now in effect for determining raises in Social Security benefits. The letter was signed by Daniel M. Chew, director of presidential correspondence.

Have you signed up for the trip to the New Jersey Federation Convention May 28 at Wildwood? Call Kay Taylor at 759-3705 and make arrangements.

The Norman Towers Management Company is taking applications for living space for senior citizens, but the apartments are going fast. If interested, call 674-1918. These apartments are located at 500 North Walnut St. in East Orange and are federally subsidized. Norman Towers is exclusively for senior citizens and consists of a total of 405 apartments (94 efficiency and 311 one-bedroom), 45 of which are specially designed for the handicapped. Your rent rate will be subject to federal and state regulations; 25 percent of your total income is the criteria by which your rent will be ascertained.

The Belleville chapter of the Old Guard is now meeting at the Belleville Dutch Reformed Church at Rutgers and Main Streets on the first and third Tuesdays of every month. The change was necessitated because of the fire at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Interesting programs are presented, new members are needed and an orchestra is in the process of being formed. Retired musicians, take note. Call Bill Wittinger at 759-2207.

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,
I own a shop like you do. I have a daughter in on many occasions has modeled clothing. She is a beautiful blonde. Everytime she modeled I did her hair. Last month she performed in New York for a large firm. Among the models was a blonde with shoulder length hair. At the end of her hair she had a couple of inches dyed purple. Since then my daughter is begging me to dye her hair like that. I confess to you I'm an old hair dresser but a good one. I would like to please her but I don't know how this is done. In my opinion it's nice but weird. Do you have an easy solution? Hoping to meet you.

Yours,
Colleague

Dear Colleague,
For hair styles you should never call yourself an old hair dresser. When you are artistic, age is only a number. There is an easy way, if your daughter is natural or bleached blonde. (Family blondes, beige blondes, dark blondes, reddish blondes etc.) I'm sure you know about those Roux Rinses called party colors. Take the color that she chooses, decide the areas that she wants colored, saturate the hair with the rinse color, let it dry and wash. Hoping to meet you too. Feel free to stop in.

Yours,
Umberto

Second graders 'turn on' to class at School 1

Second graders at School 1, under the supervision of Mrs. Cantagallo and student teacher Mrs. Carney, have "turned on" learning what electricity is and what it does. The children learned that electricity comes from a powerhouse and that electricity comes to their homes through wires. House electricity is powerful and can be dangerous. Another source of electricity is a battery. The class learned that at least two wires are needed for electricity to flow. It flows when there is a complete path. Loren Brown, Any Kasmar, Alexandra Jackson, Jesus Rodriguez, Valerie Tremmel and Doris Rodriguez each made a house out of a box, using a battery, a bulb and insulated wire to build homes powered by electricity. The children enjoyed using the necessary equipment and working in groups to perform the experiments. Some learning comments were, "Wow," "Oh," "Ah," "Electricity's magic," "I'm going to be a scientist" and "Science is fun." As a follow-up, the children drew art works of the electrical powerhouse and showed that the current goes all the way to their homes. This learning by experimenting and using manipulatives motivated a fun learning experience and a sharing of knowledge that all the children now have a greater understanding of electricity that can be applied to the children's everyday living.

SGO supporting May walk-a-thon

By Ava Zarrello
A number of weeks ago, a luncheon was held by County Executive Peter Shapiro, the chairman of the Essex County March of Dimes, which was attended by our own Belleville High School faculty member and Student Government Organization (SGO) advisor, Patricia Pugliese. The purpose of the meeting was to initiate a walk-a-thon, a project to help children with birth defects. Many children suffer from defects as we know, and the walk-a-thon is a great way to say, "I care." It provides those who would like to walk any number of miles with sponsors who contribute a fixed amount of money per mile. About two-and-a-half weeks ago, a representative from the March of Dimes came to Belleville High to introduce to the SGO the coming May 3 walk-a-thon. A film was shown starring the well known television celebrity Robin Williams. On Saturday, May 3, those participating in the affair in our area will meet at Brookdale Park finishing up at Eagle Rock Reservation. The long walk is a lot of exercise but every step provides more financial aid for the unfortunate children.

Butterflies Are Free — Second graders Jennifer Aiello and Scott Milner in School 3's second grade class construct their own butterflies. The children are both in Miss Camille Casaletto's class.

Key Club chooses 1980-81 officers

By Rich Ottenstroer
The Key Club recently held its elections for next year's officers. In the presidential contest, Joe Cozzarelli defeated Mike Calabrese, Ken Constantino, Steve Drake and Wendy Rovell. Danny Palumbo beat Lu Ann Fiorendino, Barbara Gundry and Rich Ottenstroer for vice president. The race for secretary was won by Michelle Jeannotte over Steve DeCesare, Donna Marie Jones and Lisa Sisbarro. The treasurer's contest was won by John Bucciarelli over Lisa Aulisi and Jim Lijo. All of the contests were close, and it is hoped the officers for next year do as good a job as the officers this year have done.

High Rollers — Getting ready to roll the clay are Cara Watson, Jennifer Lynne Murphy and Angela Bowen. All three managed to make magnificent creations before class ended.

Tests measure student skills

By Denise Lardieri and Melissa Prill
The New Jersey Minimum Basic Skills Tests were distributed at both Belleville Junior and Senior High Schools Tuesday through Friday, April 15-18. The tests are considered an evaluation program designed by the state of New Jersey holding schools responsible for achieving aims that students are expected to meet for their particular age group. Each student is required to take this test annually, and results in some form appear on their records. The test is divided into four categories, reading comprehension, mathematics, written expression and use of sources. Results indicate the individual student's stronger and weaker areas. Students are warned to take the tests seriously since they are so important, for anyone who fails them is required to take a state compensatory course in the subject he needs the most help in. A student cannot graduate until the minimum standard is met.

Dr. Richard Benninger, director of the guidance department at the high school, comments that these tests could be improved, but says that at the present time, they are the best available.

Cheerleaders selected for next sports season

Another school year is coming to a close, and many athletic groups are already preparing for the fall semester. One such group is the cheerleaders. On Wednesday, April 9, 24 hopefuls auditioned in front of a panel of three judges, and each girl put forth her best effort. Their routines consisted of three cheers, five different stunts, a chant and an impromptu. Most important, however, were the girls' individuals which best demonstrated their athletic ability and creativity. Furthermore, all of the candidates were judged for poise, appearance, personality, agility and imagination. Unfortunately, only 16 of the total number of girls participating were selected for the 1980 to 1981 Belleville High School cheerleading squad. Four of those chosen are upcoming seniors. Each senior will become a co-captain. Sharon Robinson and Annette Brizzi will be the co-captains for the fall season and Terry Limongelli and Donna Marie Jones will lead the squad during the months of wrestling and basketball. The remaining part of the team is made up of seven future juniors and five soon-to-be sophomores. Of these girls, five will be returning to the varsity team. They are Runda Esquillo, Karen Lordi, Denise Lardieri, Lisa Brizzi and Beth Arena. The newcomers, on the other hand, are juniors Melissa Prill and Cathy Tortorello and sophomores Linda Cozzarelli, Alice Aiello, Carol Roig, Donna Gonnello and Patty Gonzalez. We wish each of these cheerleaders a most successful and inspiring season!

Senior prom proves a night to remember

By Sue Cardillo and Nancy Coffey
It's springtime, and with the tradition of cherry blossoms and beautiful weather, Belleville High School held its annual prom. The cost was $60 per couple and the event took place Tuesday, April 22, at the Manor. It turned out to be a very nice night with the cocktail hour starting at 8, followed by a dinner of prime rib and festivities until 1 a.m. The turnout cannot compare to past proms, but a glow filled the room with a warmth. It was not overcrowded as 110 couples danced and ate to add to the memorable evening. Chaperoning were all the Belleville Board of Education members, Mr. and Mrs. DeCesare along with several faculty members. The 1980 prom committee, consisting of five senior girls, organized and took care of all details for the senior class which sponsored it. Chairman Kathy Constantino and members Susan Costa, Gladys Greed, Ferly Esquillo and Marie Clarizio combined their efforts and presented a very sentimental theme, "The Long and Winding Road," a Beate great.

Suitable favors relating to this year's prom theme added to the tradition. Miniature champagne glasses with "Prom of 80" banners attached were distributed along with fancy programs to give all participants everlasting memories of such a special evening.

Paper drive due May 10

The Belleville High School Key Club has scheduled a paper drive for May 10 behind the cafeteria in the high school parking lot. It will take place between 9 a.m. and 12 noon that Saturday afternoon. Proceeds from the drive will be used to buy something useful for the school, such as an activity billboard for the main entrance. Anyone who wishes to contribute papers and can't get them to the high school can call Anthony at 759-8840 to make arrangements.

Patty Pair — Stephanie Dalton and Judy Krych take part in a School 3 art class last week. All the children were making little ornaments by themselves, along with assorted knickknacks they put together spontaneously.

A correction

The youngster appearing in the picture, "A Time to Think," on the April 10 School Page was incorrectly identified.

What other 26-week Savings Certificate gives you all this?

The First National State Certificate lets you:

● Buy a $10,000 certificate with $3000.

● Increase your investment by reducing your loan during the life of the certificate.

● Borrow against your certificate when you're in need of cash (as long as you maintain a $3000 minimum balance).

Low cash requirements.

First National State's 26-week Savings Certificate is one of the most flexible on the market. To begin with you can earn the high rates shown on the chart with a deposit as small as $3000.

Here's how that works. You deposit any amount from $3000 to $9000 in increments of $1000. You then borrow the remaining amount to reach a total of $10,000. In other words, First National State lends you the difference between what you deposited and the $10,000 cost of the certificate. For this there is a finance charge of 1% on the amount you borrow. It begins to accrue on the date of purchase at an annual percentage rate of 1%. Of course, that finance charge is deductible from your Federal and State income tax.

Total Flexibility

With the First National State certificates you don't lock yourself in the way you do with other 26-week certificates. As long as you keep a $3,000 minimum you can borrow against your certificate in $1000 increments. For example, if you've put $6000 into a certificate and an emergency comes up, you can borrow up to $3000, again at the 1% annual percentage rate.

On the other hand, if you've paid in $3000 or more and a month or two later have more money to invest (again, in $1000 increments) you can pay off part or all of your loan and earn the certificate rate of interest for the balance of the term.

What other certificate gives you that kind of flexibility?

High rates.

Just check this chart and see what your money can earn. Your money is invested for only 26-weeks at a time and may be automatically renewed for additional 26-week periods at the rate prevailing at that time.

INTEREST CALCULATION IS BASED ON 365/360 APPLIED TO ORIGINAL DEPOSIT AND/OR LOAN. * INTEREST ON THIS CERTIFICATE IS EXPRESSED AS AN EFFECTIVE ANNUAL RATE BASED ON REINVESTMENT OF BOTH PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST AT THE SAME RATE AT MATURITY FOR A FULL YEAR.

Beats Money Market Funds, Savings Banks and Savings and Loan Associations.

Just compare the return on the First National State Certificates to what you can earn at Savings Banks and Savings and Loan Associations on amounts under $10,000. Plus you don't have the risks of Money Market Funds.

RISK #1. Money Market Funds fluctuate daily, so you have no long term assurance of a high rate.

RISK #2. Money Market Funds are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other governmental agency.

The rate on First National State Certificates is set when you purchase the certificate and will not fluctuate during the term. The certificates are insured by the FDIC up to $100,000, plus you have the convenience of investing through a full service bank where you can also take care of all your other banking transactions.

Act Now!

If you have from $3000 to $10,000 or more to invest, don't settle for anything less than the flexibility of the First National State Certificate. Visit your local branch today and get in on the money making action. For further information, call (201) 565-3965.

'80 diamond team could be best ever

Did you ever stop and wonder what makes a team so successful. What makes the Pittsburgh Steelers and New York Yankees and Montreal Canadiens so much better than the opposition in their leagues?

Getting a bit more local, the Belleville High baseball team has been a great success for a number of years now, with this year no exception.

Under George Zanfani, now in his sixth year, the team is off to a 6-0 start and is ranked sixth in the state. They have been doing everything right these past few weeks, scoring runs in bunches and getting stingy pitching.

This has always been the case as far as Zanfani-coached teams go. Since he arrived on the scene in 1975, the team has usually played exciting, imaginative baseball that almost always has produced success.

In Zanfani's first year, the Bellboys finished at 14-10. Now this record might seem a bit mediocre, but listen to Zanfani. "It was my first year and it took a while to get adjusted. Besides, that Irvington game didn't help."

It certainly didn't. That famous Irvington game, played at Belleville in May of 1975, went 14 innings before the Campers won 4-1. At the time, Irvington was undefeated and ranked first in the state. Belleville was boasting an impressive 9-2 mark, having won seven straight. The Bellboys had numerous chances to win, but somehow they just couldn't seem to score that necessary run.

In 1976, the team lost its opener to Irvington by a 1-0 score. The margin of victory for the Campers was a wild throw in the last half of the seventh. Without that toss, that game might still be going on now. However, it was to be Belleville's last setback for 20 games. The Bellboys set forth on an amazing trip down victory lane, breezing past opponents and streaking to the number one position in the state rankings, a spot they held for six weeks.

It wasn't until game number 22 that year that Belleville lost for the second time. The opponent was Livingston in the finals of the Greater Newark Tournament. The Lancers benefited from a three-run homer in the second inning and held on to win 3-2.

Ironically, Livingston would hand Belleville defeat number three a couple of weeks later in the sectional finals on a disputed call in the last of the seventh inning. The Lancers won that game 3-2, and later on laid claim to the number one rating in the state.

Zanfani gets great pleasure talking about his bicentennial boys. "Those guys were loaded," he said. "We had all three cylinders working and the final stats were very impressive."

Indeed they were. The pitching staff had a combined ERA of 1.45 in 1976. Ricky Loma compiled an 8-1 record with a 2.14 ERA. Greg Petite, now a senior at Montclair State, was perhaps the team's best pitcher, but unfortunately one-hit with hard luck. He finished that season at 5-2, but his ERA was a phenomenal 0.64. Perhaps Petite's greatest performance came in that Irvington game in 1975 when he pitched the first 11 innings, allowing just one run and striking out well over 10 batters.

Bobby Giordano was 3-1 with an ERA of 1.93. Anthony Gammarr was just a junior in 1976, but came through with a 5-0 record and a 1.25 ERA. Johnny Clarizio, another junior, was 2-0 with an ERA of 0.00.

The hitting department was awesome. Michael Cancellieri led the way with a batting average of .457. For his efforts, the third baseman was later named to the all state team. Michael's cousin, Nicky Cancellieri finished with a .417 average while Greg Dunleavy, the club's fine catcher, batted a robust .437. John Guarino led the team in homers with seven and batted .337. Frank Mozeika batted .328 and Chipper Biafore hit .280, clubbing the decisive homer when Belleville clobbered Irvington 11-6 in the long-awaited rematch.

In the four years since that great season, the excellence of Belleville baseball has not diminished by any means. In 1977, the team jumped out to an 11-3 start with hopes for a shot at a state title. Those hopes were suddenly shot down when Zanfani suffered a case of hepatitis. The team finished a disorganized 18-15. Zanfani returned for the 1978 season with a clean bill of health. The Bucs also showed that they were cured, rebounding with an 18-4 mark. Last year, the team finished at 17-4, losing in the sectional finals 1-0 to Linden. Linden, by the way, eventually won the state title.

The Bucs of 1980 might very well be the best team Zanfani has ever had. Obviously, only time will tell for sure, but if they're anything like that 1976 team, championship cries could be heard again.

The Cosmos won their second straight game, beating a good Tampa Bay Rowdies squad 4-2 at Giants Stadium last Sunday afternoon. About the only disappointing aspect of the game was the poor attendance. Only 46,000 fans showed up for the game which is a surprise considering the Rowdies-Cosmos rivalry is one of the NASL's hottest.

As expected, Los Angeles and Seattle will battle it out for the Western Conference basketball championship. The Sonics, in my opinion, will win because of a good, balanced attack. Besides, they are the defending champions and the Lakers are a bit too cocky. In the East, the Boston Celtics and Philadelphia 76ers are tied up at one game apiece as of this writing. It still looks like the Celtics will win that series and challenge the Sonics for the NBA finals.

In the NHL, the New York Islanders are just about to wrap up their quarterfinal series with Boston while Philadelphia figures to dispose of the Rangers. The Islanders might surprise a few people this year and win it all. They're starting to come around with some good, defensive hockey.

The Belleville High Athlete of the Week is Marilyn McCaffrey of the girls' softball team. McCaffrey had a great week for the team and is batting a sizzling .667. Her four hits in the Bloomfield game helped lead the team to a big win.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was when was the last year the New York Mets had a winning season. If you answered 1969, you're wrong. The Mets were last winners in 1976 with a record of 86-76. That's when Tom Seaver and Dave Kingman were still members of the team. That was before board chairman M. Donald Grant decided to trade the entire team for the 1958 Edsel.

For this week's quiz, can you name last year's American League Cy Young Award winner?

Baseball team stomps on Valley and Wessex

By Mike Lamberti

It was an absolutely fantastic week for the Belleville High baseball team. As a matter of fact, things went so well that even head coach George Zanfani was satisfied with the recent turn of events.

Zanfani, never one to be overly enthusiastic, is very happy about his team's effort thus far. "Yes, I'm very pleased," said the coach. "Our hitting was good and the pitching has been super all season long. Our ERA is under 1.00 and the pitchers have allowed just 10 walks all season long. I hope it continues, but remember that the competition will be a lot better down the road."

In the meantime, the coach and his players can savour the moment. Last week, the Bucs boosted their record to an impressive 6-0 with a 5-2 victory over a good Valley team and a doubleheader romp over West Essex.

Today, the Bucs travel to South Orange, where the competition is a tough group from Columbia. On Saturday, they host Caldwell in a noon start. On Tuesday, Essex Catholic invades Belleville for a 3:45 p.m. game.

Against Valley, the fine pitching of Anthony Coco (now 2-0) and the continued hot hitting of Steve Coffey was the difference.

Coco pitched the entire game, striking out four and walking one. The losing pitcher was Brian Caravan. He fanned eight and walked just one. The Bucs jumped out quickly in their half of the first. Lenny Mendola started the game by reaching safely on the third baseman's error. Coffey singled him to third and Mike Nicosia doubled home Mendola. Rich Vitiello flied out to rightfield, but the throw back to the infield was wild and Coffey came in to score.

In the fourth inning, the Bucs added to their lead. Ed Aulisi doubled and went to third on a single by Bob LaBruzza. Joe Guarino singled home Aulisi and Mendola doubled in LaBruzza. Coffey (who else?) then singled in Guarino and the Bucs were in front 5-0.

Valley wasn't able to touch Coco until the sixth. With two outs, Ed O'Dell doubled and Steve Kares doubled him home. John Kelly then singled home Kares.

The West Essex doubleheader Saturday was as beautiful as was the weather. With the temperatures hovering around 70 degrees, the Buc bats were sizzling past the boiling point. In the first game, Belleville pounded out eight runs on 14 hits en route to an 8-0 win. Aulisi got the victory, his second in two tries, while Bob Devons lost the game.

The game was decided rather early when in the first inning, Nicosia cracked a home run and Belleville led 1-0. For all intents and purposes, that was all Aulisi would need. He would get a lot more support, though.

In the Belleville second, Frank Fazzini singled with one out. Dominick Vazzano singled and Aulisi loaded the bases when he reached safely on the shortstop's error. Guarino singled home two runs and Mendola singled in one and the Bucs led 4-0.

They would get one run in the fifth, two in the sixth and close out the scoring with a solo run in the seventh. Aulisi, meanwhile, was flawless, allowing just four hits and striking out 12.

In the nightcap, the Bucs had a laugh, scoring 20 runs on 20 hits and using the pitching of Nicosia and Eugene Cancellieri to cruise to victory. The Bucs won it 20-0 by scoring two runs in the second, eight in the third, two in the fifth, four in the sixth and four in the seventh. Rich Vitiello socked a solo homer and ended up four-for-four with three RBI. Joe Corbalis was one-for-one with three RBI. Dave Starr two-for-two with two RBI and Cancellieri two-for-two with a pair of runs knocked in.

Nicosia, meanwhile, continued the Bucs' fine pitching performance with 11 strikeouts over five innings. He walked just one. Cancellieri struck out three over the last two innings. Wessex managed just one hit off the super Buc staff.

Softball squad goes two for 3

By Mike Lamberti

Softball in the town of Belleville has always been successful but unfortunately not too popular.

All that may change, however. Last week, the Blue-Gold girls continued their fine play with an exciting 4-3 victory over the Bengals of Bloomfield. The Buccanettes also dropped Irvington 9-4 and lost a blowout to Lyndhurst 19-8.

The team's record is 5-2, with games this week against some stiff competition. The girls traveled to Kearny Tuesday and are off to North Arlington today for a game with Queen of Peace. On Monday, they return home for a battle against the Mounties of Montclair and on Tuesday begin action in the Essex County Tournament. The girls were seeded fifth in the tourney and host East Orange Catholic.

Against Irvington last Tuesday, Eve Corino's troops fell behind early but rallied behind strong pitching and timely hitting. The Campers jumped all over starter Donna Campagna for four runs in the first inning. Campagna pitched just one-third of an inning and had control problems. Debbie Jinks came in to

Oarsmen capsize Nutley to prime for Island races

By Mike Olohan

You might say they had an off weekend. But don't get the wrong idea...they didn't lose, they just weren't scheduled for any races Saturday, although on Friday Belleville's varsity eight crew was able to nip Nutley by 3.5 seconds.

The win over Nutley was significant because Belleville's varsity oarsmen have now taken races from their two boathouse colleagues, giving them boasting rights as Kings of the Passaic, if only temporarily. Because of its wins, Belleville draws a bye in the preliminaries of the Goodwill Regatta with Nutley and Kearny next weekend.

Besides the weekly practices, the Nutley race will serve as Belleville's only tune-up before the Long Island Championships this Saturday.

Belleville's jayvee crew lost by five-tenths of a second, but the third eight boat won by three seconds and the freshmen by 2.8 seconds. The girls' crew team didn't race, since Nutley does not yet have girls' crew. Both the boys' senior and junior four raced against Nutley Tuesday.

"It was a good race. I knew it'd be a good race," said Coach Sam Giuffrida of the varsity eight's contest. "They're a well coached team, but now we're the shell to beat," he said proudly. Belleville's varsity has now won three of its first four races and looks stronger each week.

The freshmen were neck-and-neck with Nutley several hundred yards into their race when it had to be restarted after oars from both shells collided. A Nutley rower was hurt, but not seriously.

The freshmen have shown they comprise a shell to be reckoned with if they can steady themselves and row consistently.

Assistant coach Scott Fabian said the jayvee shell lost because rowers on the starboard side were overpowering those on the port side, thus forcing the boat to go sideways instead of forward at a steady, strong pace.

Rowing for the jayvees were Greg Bevere at bow, then Jim Gilday, Troy Postelwaite, Glenn McCann, John Bucciarelli, Joe Stanzione, Mike McAlinden, Bob Cassin at stroke and Bob May at coxswain.

In the varsity shell were coxswain Scott Watkowski, stroke Tom O'Kean, George Skrutskie, Matt Marin, Donald McKinstry, Cliff Williams, Joe Giuliano, Chris Nash and Cassin at bow.

With momentum from Friday's win, Belleville should definitely put up a fight at the Long Island Championships, and could easily come home a big winner.

Post-Game Feast — Varsity volleyball team members help themselves to oranges after last Wednesday's match with Nutley. The locals lost 15-5, 15-7, not bad considering it's their first year and the Raiderettes are ranked fourth in the state. From left are Jocelyn Villadolid, Chrissy Lynne, Sandy Nardone, Rebecca Bridge, Marie Clarizio and Donna Chirico.

Peanut League needs umpires

Knowledge of rules and a desire to help youth are required. Umpires receive $5 per game and will work at least four games a week.

Softball team edges out Bengals in extra innings pitch the last six-and-two-thirds innings, not allowing a run.

Corino was happy about the girls' comeback. "Debbie pitched a strong game for us," said the coach. "Donna was wild and we had to take her out. As for our hitting, the usual girls came through with the big hits."

The "usual" consisted of Campagna, who chipped in with two hits, Marilyn McCaffrey with two, Joyce Iacullo with two and Lois De Luccio and Nancy Coffey with an RBI apiece.

Against Lyndhurst last Wednesday, the girls were simply outplayed. "They were very good," Corino said of the Golden Bears. "They simply played better than we did, no excuses. They got their revenge from last time."

The last time that Corino was refereeing to was a 3-2 Buccanette win over Lyndhurst two weeks ago. In the more recent game, though, the Bears bombed starter Donna Mundy and relief pitcher Jinks. All told, they pounded out 18 hits, en route to the 19 runs.

The game with Bloomfield last Thursday, was quite an affair. The Bengals led 3-0 with two outs and no one on in the last of the seventh inning. One more out and the Bloomfield girls would have kept their unbeaten streak.

It was, however, not meant to be. Marilyn McCaffrey started the rally with a single. She advanced to third on singles by Rosie Leonidis and Campagna. With the bases loaded, Coffey singled up the middle, bringing in one run. Lois DeLuccio, the sophomore hitting machine, then delivered the key blow, a double to leftfield, driving in two runs and tying the game.

The game went into extra innings, with Bloomfield retiring quietly in the eighth. In the bottom of that frame, Kim Indiero walked and went to second on a sacrifice bunt by Lisa Dinis. Iacullo singled up the middle, and thanks to a wild throw, Indiero was awarded home plate, and the girls were awarded an exciting 4-3 victory.

The winning pitcher for Belleville was Mundy who relieved Jinks in the seventh inning. For Belleville, McCaffrey continued her torrid hitting, going four-for-four and raising her average to a robust .667.

Frosh diamond team takes three of first five contests

By Barb Gundry

The freshman baseball team has won three of its first five games this season.

The young Bucs started the year off on the wrong foot, losing to Columbus Junior High School of Clifton 5-4. However, they rebounded to defeat Essex Catholic 4-3.

In its third game, Belleville topped Passaic 21-14 in a slugfest. Things calmed down a bit in the next as the Bucs won 10-6. They were defeated by Seton Hall 16-15 in extra innings in their last game as of this writing.

This year, the frosh squad has a new coach in Mike Welsh. Members of the team are Peter Arancio, Charles Bochjino, Robby Cancelliere, Gary Carfagno, Vinnie Ciallella, Ronny Coco, Vinnie Colabelli, Joe DeFeo, Anthony Gammara, Ray Kimble, Louie Lombardi, Vinnie Lombardozzi, Gerry Persaud, Mike Petrizio, Ricky Roselli and Lenny Russo.

Boys' and girls' track teams take two apiece before Passaic losses

By Mike Lambert

After winning two meets in a row, the Belleville track team fell back to the cold cruel world of reality in a matchup with Passaic.

The Indians shallacked the Buc boys 103-8, while the girls lost a close one to Passaic 65-44. Currently the teams' records are identical at 2-4.

Against Passaic, Rich Ruffalo's troops were simply outclassed. Had it not been for Joe De Lorenzo's victory in the disc and third-place finishes by Tom Graham, Steve Drake and Steve Gatti, the team could have suffered a shutout.

The girls were a bit more impressive, racking up victories over Orange and Newark Tech while losing a toughie to Passaic. In the shot put, Karen Lordi was second and Barbara Gundry third. The discus saw super thrower Jo Ann Benecchi rack up a victory with Dawn Jiosi pulling up third. Benecchi figures to break the girls' disc mark of 83 feet within the next few meets. She has already come very close.

Doreen Penetti came within a second of cracking the hurdles record, finishing third in a time of 17.8. Penetti also excelled in the 100 meters, clocking a 13.7. Franchette Polite and Gundry showed promise in the 400 meters with times of 68.3 and 69.1 respectively.

The big surprise came in the distance runs. Even without their superstar, Dana Caruso, sidelined with a bad cold, the distance team has been very good. Le Ann Long, Tamara Nahar and Lauri Nevins came in one-two-three the 1,500 meters, with Nahar coming back to place in the 3,000 meters.

Polite showed promise in the long jump with a leap of 13 feet six inches and ran the 200 meters in 28.9 seconds. The 400 meter relay team consists of Penetti, Lorena Navaro, Jo Ann Frederick and Cathy Danchak.

The boys were winners over Newark Tech and Orange last week thanks to some strong finishes in the distance events. The 1,500 saw Tom Graham, Steve Gatti and John Wankmueller sweep to victory. Graham then won the 3,000 meters in a time of 10:14. In the 1,600-meter relay, John Renninger, Dean Santulli, Scott Mills and Xavier Gonzalez came through in a time of 3:53.3.

Steve Drake set a school record in the 400 meter intermediate hurdles with a time of 64.8. Freshman Jim Castelli set a school standard in the

Tennis team loses pair but schedule is easing

The Belleville High tennis team continued on its torrid schedule last week, dropping two matches to powerful Verona 4-1 and Essex Catholic by the same score 4-1.

The Bucs' record is now 0-4, but there is some light at the end of the tunnel. On Tuesday, the team played Passaic and yesterday hosted Clifford Scott. Today, the Bucs travel to Orange for a match with the Tornados.

The Bucs stood a good chance of winning against all of those schools, something that pleased head Coach Mike Pollard very much. "The guys are starting to come around," said the coach. "We're up against some good schools, but I think we're making progress. A lot of our matches have been 6-4 and 7-5. In other words, the guys are becoming strong competition."

In the Verona match, the second doubles team of Mark Dombrowski and Amedeo Salomoni was victorious, while the first doubles team of Kenny Beck and Jerry Gold was the winner against Essex Catholic. Both doubles teams have been quite impressive for the Bucs in the past few weeks, and the singles players are starting to make some progress. Add that to an easier slate, and the Bucs could start to win some matches. — Mike Lambert

Gunners blank Queensmen 3-0 in latest state soccer cup round

By Fred Lardaro

There is no magic to their mastery. Coach Tony Cullen is no sorcerer supreme, the Gunners are no wizards.

Nevertheless, the Belleville soccer team continued its almost enchanted advance to the New Jersey State Cup as it convincingly humbled the North Arlington Queensmen 3-0 at Municipal Stadium Sunday.

Galo Calvache scored two goals and Ramiro Borja added one. But what captured the attention of soccer connoisseurs from across the state was the fact that Queensman David Mazur, Columbia High School's All-American midfielder who has already been drafted by the Cosmos of the NASL, was rendered a non-factor in the match. New Jersey's most celebrated booter was relegated to covering Belleville's Ramiro Borja. Mazur might just as well have been fed to a lion.

At the kickoff, a deadly hush fell over the crowd as the fans were overwhelmed by the intensity of the battle on the field. Calvache broke the silence at 28:16, trapping a Joe Puga pass on his thigh and firing a low, winding volley kick just inside the post. The goal ignited a crescendo of cheering nearly deafening in proportion. Many fans had brought hand-held percussion instruments and the applause was accented with an exciting, exotic beat.

Coach Cullen made good use of his team's versatility in the dangerously close first half. The Gunners demonstrated artistic flair as they played a very slow, methodical South American game. It was beautiful to watch, but the Queensman allowed themselves to be lulled to sleep.

In the second half, Cullen turned halfback John MacArthur loose and inserted Scott Swan and Carlos Gonzalez into the lineup. The three are noted for breaking an opposing defense with great speed and the Queensmen were caught flatfooted.

Swann rifled seven shots on goal with bad luck as he hit the post four times. But while Swann was causing the Queensmen fits, Calvache scored his second goal with an assist from Puga at 63:26.

At 74:59, Borja juggled the ball directly in front of the Queensmen goal and fired a scissors kick for an unassisted goal.

The most exciting play of the match occurred when John Lee stole the ball off an opposing forward at the Gunners' 10-yard line, led a lightning charge to the North

Arlington goal line and crossed a lovely ball to Carlos Gonzalez. Carlos had traveled the distance with Lee and dove forward to meet the pass, but his head flick was inches wide. The goalie sprawled to make a save but was beaten completely by Lee's feed across the goal mouth.

George Benedavitas played a strong forward with his one-touch passing throughout the game, and his dribbling off the play and changing the flow of the offense with the long pass that followed enabled the Gunners to constantly press on the attack.

The Gunners' defense logged another fine performance in support of goalkeeper Guido Vacacela who registered the shutout. Steve McCann may be the best sweeper in the state. Wascar Jennick, playing against much taller foes, was never once beaten to a headball. Hector Gonzalez was solid at stopper and Chino was simply Chino... enough said.

Brian Woods and Pat Leonidas also contributed greatly to the 3-0 victory over North Arlington.

This coming Sunday, the Gunners play host to the finest soccer talent of the Caldwelles as they square off against Essex United in the Northern New Jersey State Cup quarterfinals.

Kickoff is 1 p.m. at Municipal Stadium. The Belleville Soccer Association has invited the whole town to attend. Admission is free.

On Guard — Glenn Smith of Belleville was one of 212 athletes honored at Columbia University's annual sports awards banquet April 21. He earned a varsity letter in fencing.

Cobras come from behind to tie unbeaten Rockaway

By Fred Lardaro

Some people contend that "tying a match is like kissing your sister," and others contend that kissing your sister isn't so bad. But a tie was as good as gold to the Cobras who had to erase a two-goal deficit to earn a 2-2 draw with the unbeaten Rockaway Rockets at Municipal Stadium the before Saturday last.

Cobras' center-forward Jimm Jerez ran under a beautifully lofted lead pass from teammate Oswaldo Stefanon and kicked the tying goal at 72:31 of the match. The Rockaway goalie did manage to deflect Jerez's blazing shot and disconcertedly took inventory of his fingers to make certain they were all there.

Trailing 2-0 at the half, the Cobras got on the board nine minutes into the second half when Mike Silletti railroaded his way through the Rockaway defense to put his foot on a Freddie Calvache pass to make the score 2-1.

The Cobras, once famous for their irritating propensity for establishing new lows in soccer, shed that image as a snake sheds its old skin with a totally reconstructed lineup and four weeks of grueling practices.

Coach Gabe Micchelli had intensified practices at the Cobras' Clearman Field camp with greater emphasis on working to create open space with alert passing.

"Practice may not have made perfect, but it sure paid off," said Coach Micchelli. "Now the players know what they are capable of accomplishing. They just don't have to take my word for it."

For the 1980 campaign, the defense is anchored by Ed Acosta as sweeper. Mike Gable, Jim Dunphy and Mark D'Antonio are fullbacks.

The Cobras are very strong at halfback. Mike Silletti plays center and is difficult to contain. Oswaldo Stefanon with his long strides and even longer kicks is the playmaker. Luke Silletti is physical and defensive. Alan Ruopp is a utility player, strong as halfback but equally devastating on the front line.

Freddie Calvache plays the leftwing and is the unselfish pass-master whose shifts usually earns him double coverage. He plays by instinct and the only way to run him off the ball is to foul him. Other forwards are Alberto Chafar, "The Catman" Tom Morris, Joe Christ, Jim Eustace and George Ricci.

The goalkeeper is Brian Cook who looks forward to a less hectic existence as the Cobras continue to improve. Cook was credited with 12 saves against Rockaway and several of his punts traveled over 70 yards.

The Cobras have four more matches on their spring schedule and took to the road to play Mahwah this past Saturday.

Optimist Club encourages young speakers

St. Anthony's Winners — Sharing the spotlight at the Optimists' oratorical contest are Mark Dombrowski, Tina Zecca, Rich Skulte, Debbie Savage, Cassandra Camuso, Eddie Radin, Roseanne Fazio, Jami Messina, Michael Grant and Peter LaTorre. All are from St. Anthony's School.

Optimistic Bunch — Joviality abounded as Frank Santasieri, Dr. Mike Credico, Jack Gurrera, Tom Candura, Trustee Anthony D'Agostino and Tom Spillane gathered together.

Contest at the Branch Brook Manor

The Optimist Club of Belleville sponsored its fourth annual oratorical contest last Thursday. The contest was held as part of the club's regular dinner meeting at the Branch Brook Manor.

There were two separate competitions, one for boys and one for girls. The boys' contest was won by Mark Dombrowski. Edmund Radin placed second and Richard Skulte came in third. Peter LaTorre and Michael Grant also participated.

Cassandra Camuso won the girls' contest with Jami Messina as first runner-up. Roseann Fazio was second runner-up. Debbie Savage and Tina Zecca also participated.

All of the contestants were chosen after a series of eliminations held at St. Anthony's School and Belleville Junior High School. Dr. Michael Credico, who is the oratorical chairman for the Optimist Club, explained that the evening's contest was the culmination of months of practice for the participants.

The participants were coached by Marie Clarizio, an instructor at Seton Hall University; Leonard Marciano, department coordinator for Belleville's secondary schools, and Sister Lucille of St. Anthony's School in Belleville.

The topic for the contest was "Our Challenge of the '80s." Judges were Susan DiRuggiero, Laura Wake and Angela Castellano.

Walter Roberson, lieutenant governor of the New Jersey District of Optimist International, attended the meeting and explained that the two winners of the Belleville contest would represent Zone 3 at the district contest to be held May 17. At the final contest, which will be held at Somerset Marriot, the winners will each receive a $500 scholarship toward their college education.

Winners and Judges — Showing off their style are Rich Skulte, judge Sue DiRuggiero, Roseanne DeFazio, Debbie Savage, judge Angela Castellano, Eddie Radin, Laura Wake and Jami Messina.

Miss Wheelchair America pays call on town

By Mike O'ohan

There's no national television, no fanfare and no one singing at a gigantic coronation. Few people know about the Miss Wheelchair America contest and what it means, but to the contestants and to handicapped people all across the United States, it means a lot.

The Miss Wheelchair America contest is a competition designed to select the most articulate and ac-

Center in Belleville. Nobody clapped and no bands played, but it didn't matter because Nancy Pudvin needed no applause and no bands to evoke interest. She got everyone's attention by being honest and sharing her disappointments, joys and goals, intangibles that draw everyone closer.

"I don't know, maybe it's impossible for me to go out and change the world. Maybe it's impossible. But I'd all the stairs they had, so I knew I'd have to change," she said, noting she'll be beginning a new job with Southern Bell Telephone this week.

Miss Pudvin already has plans to go back to Georgia State, though, to get her master's degree, a degree that she's going to have to work extra hard for, not only to achieve, but to have it pay off.

Trying to understand people's varied, and often cruel, reactions to to eat like everybody else," and that a ramp should be installed, she said. She praised her brother as someone especially sensitive to her special needs.

"He's really aware of me, of exactly what I can and can't do," she explained, noting he often foresees where problems might develop ahead of time, and smooths things out before she runs into problems.

She noted that in some areas, curb cuts to allow wheelchair access have been established, but overall they are still too many places where handicapped people can't go and won't be able to until people decide it's worth spending the money to eliminate architectural barriers.

Sitting, talking and laughing with her newly-acquired friends at the Cerebral Palsy Center, Nancy Pudvin looked and acted no differently than any woman would, when with her friends. "They were having fun getting to know each other."

Only in words, words that draw mental distinctions between who's normal and who's "handicapped" was there any difference between this group and thousands of other groups of friends who would get together on a Monday. When Nancy Pudvin talked, everyone listened. Even though she wasn't using a phone, Southern Bell would have been proud.

Wheelchair Queen — Nancy Pudvin (center), recently voted Miss Wheelchair America, is surrounded by many of the new friends she made last week at Belleville's Cerebral Palsy Center. At right is Student Council President Karen Shaw, who escorted Miss Pudvin while she visited. Miss Pudvin will tour the United States to make people more aware of how they can help the handicapped.

complished spokesperson for more than 7,000,000 disabled Americans. That person has to try and get across a message of hope, understanding and empathy for handicapped people who often feel left out, pushed aside and thwarted not only by architectural barriers, but by the attitudes of people who refuse to share any part of their lives with someone different from them.

Monday of last week, Miss Wheelchair America, Nancy Pudvin, appeared at the Cerebral Palsy just like to think of a world with no more stairs in it," she said, talking to a group of young adults at the center.

"I hope to change some peoples' attitudes...I see a little change sometimes but it's hard," she said quietly, as her attentive audience nodded in agreement.

Miss Pudvin graduated from Georgia State University in June 1979 with a degree in journalism, but she had to adjust her ambitions after her first assignment. "I was sent out to cover court, but I couldn't get up them probably causes handicapped individuals the most discomfort and anxiety. "That's why we want to encourage young children to ask questions about handicapped people. Because if they understand about people different from them when they're young, it'll help them," said Miss Pudvin.

She stressed that barriers formed by peoples' thinking are the hardest to break down. "We have to work on changing attitudes...like trying to convince a restaurant owner that handicapped people actually go out complacent," said Risoli.

Risoli's campaign aide, Trustee Caesar Romano, told him there were six possible irregularities in the election, but Risoli said he wasn't interested in pressing his case any further.

"I just didn't want to subject the voters to this type of thing anymore.

I wouldn't want to win like that anyway," he said of a possible recount victory.

Risoli has been involved in local politics for more than 40 years and will remain as registrar of vital statistics and a Planning Board member when he leaves the School Board following its May reorganization meeting.

Jogger shot in arm on way to recovery

A 21-year-old jogger was wounded in the left arm last Friday morning when a man, who passed by her three times in his car, opened fire.

The Lyndhurst woman, identified as Sharon Romanowsky, was listed in fair condition Tuesday at Clara Maass Hospital. She underwent surgery after she was shot at three times 5:45 a.m. Friday morning.

"Her vital signs are stable, and there's indications for a good recovery," a Clara Maass spokesman said.

After being shot, Romanowsky managed to get help before she collapsed. She was aided by two unidentified passers-by who called an ambulance.

Her assailant is reportedly a 25-year-old white male, but police have not yet gotten any further clues, or motives, to the shooting. The man was driving a purple 1972 Ford Pinto, and Belleville police ask anyone with information about the shooting to contact them. All names will be kept confidential.

No suspects have yet been arrested or implicated, said Police Chief George Lister. Detectives Bart Rossi and Mike Petrillo are investigating the shooting.

A correction

An error was made in last week's coverage of the special education olympics held at Belleville High School.

It was incorrectly stated that the event was for mentally handicapped youngsters. In fact, the mentally handicapped were just one group taking part in the olympics. The special education program also includes children with minor learning disabilities, emotional problems and physical handicaps.

Contract time means new increases ahead sidering their $208,273 surplus from 1978-79.

Risoli said school principals along with Superintendent Dr. John Greed will have to decide where specific cuts will be. At last Monday's roundabout bargaining session on the budget, trustees embarrassed commissioners by asking them why they never returned $173,000 from two previous budget appeals. Finance Commissioner Joseph McGreevy bluntly noted nothing would be returned until each commissioner's budget was finished and approved.

Zoppi hinted that curriculum and transportation costs necessary to comply with Belleville's desegregation mandate would strap trustees if dollars were cut from current expenses. However, McGreevy emphasized money should be coming in, not only from school closings but teacher firings, which would boost the board's account.

McGreevy said trustees increased their budget about 3.6 percent over last year's 6.3 percent state cap when they didn't have to. "You didn't have to go up that much," said McGreevy last week, as trustees glanced away, ignoring the comment.

McGreevy, along with Mayor Mike Marotti, chastised trustees for not containing costs since the school budget cap was raised last year. They stressed commissioners had to stay under a 5 percent budget cap increase each year, while trustees were simply taking almost every budget increase allowed.

School boards statewide are now fighting to exempt heating and utility costs from state-imposed budget caps but have not yet been successful.

Commissioners were most annoyed because board members didn't help them out in pinpointing where cuts might be made, instead insisting that no account should be touched. Marotti grew most infuriated, charging trustees were useless because they refused to help make cuts. "We don't have enough time to go through that whole budget," he stressed, saying how year after year trustees tell commissioners nothing can be slashed.

Risoli said costs will go down through attrition, with about four teachers leaving this year. However, whether two schools will close remains uncertain since Trenton officials have yet to formally okay specific desegregation plans. Also, parents from School 1's neighborhood have been fighting to keep their district's school open ever since trustees decided to close it down.

Although trustees noted that 1980-81 was a big contract year, with teacher, secretary and custodian negotiations going on, commissioners wouldn't buy that reason for not reducing. They said salary increases should be kept to a minimum.

addition, the Belleville band will be performing at the circus during intermission.

The two-hour show will feature more than 20 individual events in all, including daredevil stunts, high wire and trapeze performances and wild and tame animal acts. For tickets, call the Music Parents Association at 997-2121 or the Belleville High School Music Department at 759-4700.

College workshop scheduled techniques of play writing

Creative artists capture the imagination in American theater audiences daily. Much of their success is technique — something almost anyone can learn.

Two Fairleigh Dickinson University professors will share the secrets of the playwright and actor in a special free "How to Write A Play... And How to Act In One" workshops at the Rutherford Campus on May 5, 12 and 19.

12 towns band together to block rebate demand

municipalities. A compromise was eventually agreed to, though, under which the original bill and Adubato's new proposal will be introduced separately and move without delay right onto the Assembly floor.

Orechio, the Senate's assistant majority leader, said he had spoken to Governor Byrne who assured him he would sign the bill when he returns to Trenton Monday night from a business trip to London.

The Essex County Tax Board said last week that Cedar Grove was entitled to its $1.8 million rebate. The county juvenile shelter, mosquito and share tree commissions and airport, along with Overbrook Hospital, are all located in that town, and Essex officials had contended that only properties with state or county institutions on them qualified for rebates under the state formula.

Despite its seemingly secure position, Cedar Grove joined with the 11 Essex County municipalities which each have fewer than 200 acres of county property and which could be disastrously affected if other towns won huge rebates.

Speaking at an emergency meeting of the 12 towns Saturday in Bloomfield, Cedar Grove Mayor Cornelius Lynch said: "It is clear that the intent of the legislature was that we should not include parks (in the rebate formula) and there was a good reason for that: Parks are not a detriment or a burden to a community, they are an asset. They are beautiful and give a benefit to all residents."

The main concern of the other municipalities, though, was money not beauty. "When you consider that the county is billing us for last year and we still have 1980 to pay, that works out to 214 points which means more than $1,000 for every home in Nutley," said Harry Chenoweth, the mayor of Belleville's neighboring town.

There was equally grave concern in other municipalities, especially in towns like Irvington which have high proportions of senior citizen homeowners living on fixed incomes. Whopping tax increases that could result from a sudden redistribution of the burden would destroy the residential characters of many towns, officials said.

Felicia Falzarano starring in Simon's 'Sweet Charity'

Felicia Jeanne Falzarano of 177 Malone Ave. has been selected for a principal role in the Montclair Operatta Club's production of Neil Simon's "Sweet Charity." She will be playing Helene, one of Charity Hope Valentine's two closest companions.

Miss Falzarano is now finishing her second semester at Montclair State College as a speech and theater major concentrating on dance. She has been studying dance at various professional studios both in New York and New Jersey for several years. Her voice coach is Donna Jeanne Schutz, who made her New York debut at Carnegie Hall April 13.

A member of Belleville High School's 1979 graduating class, Miss Falzarano participated in many of the shows produced there. This is her second endeavor with the Montclair Operatta Club — she was a dancer in its fall production of "Oklahoma."

In the past few months, Miss Falzarano has performed in Montclair State's spring dance festival and become a member of a small dance group, directed by Dick Shell, which won the Bergen County Talent Exposition in the jazz dance category. The group now has the opportunity to compete in the finals which lead to the 1980 Garden State Talent Exposition at the Garden State Arts Center May 30.

As Helene in "Sweet Charity," Miss Falzarano has a major singing and dancing role, as well as the task of portraying a three-dimensional character.

"Sweet Charity" will run 8:30 p.m. today, tomorrow and Saturday and 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Mount Hebron School Theatre, Bellevue Avenue, Upper Montclair. Tickets are available by calling 746-8175. Student rates are available today and Sunday.

NLT's venture into existentialism tiresome despite some fine acting

By Michael C. Gabriele

Nutley Little Theatre ventured into the existential wilderness last Saturday night with two one-act plays, "No Exit" by Jean-Paul Sartre and "A Day for Surprises" by John Guare. Though the boldness of the journey must be commended, there were pitfalls along the way.

"No Exit," directed by Gail Rog, suffered from slow pacing as the one act lasted for more than 90 minutes. The content of Sartre's play is such that plot and stage action are already eliminated as essential elements. The audience is locked into an absurd, one-room hell with three characters who gnaw away at the sinful secrets and flawed facets of each other's lives.

These character conflicts, as well as the ebb and flow relationships, temporary truces and frustrated arguments of the off-beat triangle, began to feel tiresome and seem repetitious.

Gretchen Kanter as Inez, with her acrid voice, sardonic temperament and clawed-finger gestures, set the tone for the hellish situation. Kanter's hardened expressions and caustic remarks became the catalyst of existential conflict for the trapped trio.

Rick Hathaway as Garcin skillfully played off of Kanter's aggressive, piercing remarks with a deliberately tragic, soul-searching optimism. Though Inez and Garcin formed the poles of conflict during the play, they eventually reached an unwholly alliance.

Mary Pavlovich portrayed the frail, frivolous Estelle, who was trapped between the conflict of the more dominating Garcin and Inez. Pavlovich was successfully vulnerable as Estelle who, despite her prim and delicate ways, had the greatest sins to hide.

The Valet who led Garcin, Inez and Estelle into the condemned room of hell was Robert Diacheyns, whose vacant, unblinking glance and monotone words captured the coldness of his character.

In Sartre's philosophy, human existence is always open to the possibility of radical changes and free will. As Garcin says to Inez: "A man is what he wills himself to be." In "No Exit," Sartre, who died last Tuesday of lung cancer, has created a hell where there is no longer room to "will" oneself. The characters are trapped in a room with strange chairs and a hideous bronze statue where there is "no exit" from the sins and guilt of their lives. For the trio in the "no exit" hell, change is no longer a human possibility, now that they are acting out their eternal death. Each member of the threesome has lost the ability to see and know himself and must now depend on the eyes of the others (Inez says to Garcin: "You've even stolen my face — you know it and I don't").

"A Day for Surprises," directed by Robert S. Pace II, was the second one-act play of the evening and followed the theme of absurdity, though here it turned into comedy.

Linda Roszkowski as the goofy, dizzy librarian "A" and Edward DeSimon as the restrained bookworm "B" provided several moments of absurd comedy, though each could have taken his character a bit further.

If "A" had been more dizzy and "B" even more of a nerd, the dry, absurd humor of the scenes would have been crazier and had more impact. "A" and "B" should have taken the risk of overacting the parts and let the "non-sense" of the situation control the stage.

Miss North Jersey Pageant here this Sunday afternoon

The Disabled American Veteran's Belleville-Nutley Chapter 22 will sponsor the Miss North New Jersey Colleges Scholarship Pageant 5 p.m. this Sunday at the DAV Building, 251 Washington Ave., Belleville. The young woman who captures state crown will carry it to Atlantic City this September in the Miss America Pageant.

The eight finalists in this year's competition include Ann Brucatto and Linda Zigmund of Bloomfield, Ulita Olshaniwsky and Wanda Carter of Newark, Debrah Naley of Rockaway, Anne O'Brien of Andover, Jane Dougan of Lyndhurst and Geriann Sylvestri of Kearny.

Any one of these delegates could become this year's Miss America. The winner of the Belleville-hosted pageant will enter the New Jersey scholarship pageant to be held in Cherry Hill this July.

The emcee for the evening will be Karen Notare, Miss Staten Island 1979. Special guest Mary Carol McGinnis, Miss New Jersey 1979-80, will be on hand to crown the winner.

Tickets, $3 each, may be obtained from Gary J. Politano, executive director, at 751-2178 or at the DAV Building. Tickets will also be available at the door.

BUT NEW FIGHT IS ON

State Assembly passes revised rebate formula

By John Jurich

The New Jersey Assembly followed the Senate Monday in passing a bill excluding county park land from the state rebate formula, but indications are the legal battle over big county money has just begun.

"It's going to be challenged," Finance Commissioner Joseph McGreevy said Tuesday night of the move in Trenton.

Nine municipalities, including Belleville, had applied for massive tax rebates from the county after learning of a loophole in existing state law. The 1923 law exempted lands owned by a park commission from the formula allowing towns to get back 50 percent when they had 200 to 400 acres of state or county land under their jurisdiction and 75 percent when they had 400 or more acres. However, when Essex County changed its form of government two years ago, the park commission was abolished, thus technically ending the exemption.

The bill passed in the Senate last week 37-0 and in the Assembly Monday 66-0 deleted the words, "park commission," from the law. In addition, the law was made retroactive to 1979 to cover all claims from the time the park commission was abolished.

It is that second provision that will be the crux of the fight being planned by Belleville and the eight other towns that stood to gain under the old law. Legal action was only in the discussion stage early this week, but it is likely the towns will base their challenge of the retroactive clause on its constitutionality.

Supporters of the bill were sufficiently worried by that question themselves to seek a legal opinion on it. Governor Brendan Byrne was supposed to have signed the bill into law Monday but delayed. The State Attorney General's Office studied the question and decided the clause was constitutional, though, and Byrne was expected to approve the measure yesterday.

All of Belleville's state representatives — Sen. Frank Rodgers and Assemblymen Michael Aduato and Anthony Imperiale — voted for the bill.

Aduato, in fact, sponsored it in the Assembly. The Newark Democrat was persuaded to do that after being promised his bill to take away Cedar Grove's county land rebate would move directly to the Senate floor just as the first bill sponsored by Sen. Carmen Orechio of Nutley had done in both the Senate and Assembly.

The Cedar Grove measure passed the Assembly overwhelmingly Monday but may have trouble in the Happy Birthday — Albert Carragher and Margaret Oswald of Belleville flank their mother, Mary Carragher, who celebrated her 100th birthday this week.

Belleville woman hits century mark

A gigantic family gathering was held Saturday at the Essex County Geriatrics Center to mark the 100th birthday of Mary Carragher, a longtime Belleville resident to say the least.

Mrs. Carragher's birthday was actually this past Tuesday, but the weekend was a more convenient time for most family members to get together. Mrs. Carragher was born April 29, 1880, to Henry and Catherine Boehmer in Newark. As a child, she lived on John Street, now Prospect Street in what is now Nutley.

In 1902, she was married to Michael P. Carragher at Good Counsel Church in Newark. The couple moved to Belleville in 1915, and prior to Mr. Carragher's death in 1942, they were caretakers of the Belleville Recreation House.

Mrs. Carragher had four children. Two, Elizabeth Sloan and Mary Rose Fitting, are deceased. Albert Carragher and Margaret Oswald, both of Belleville, led Saturday's festivities at the Geriatrics Center. Also on hand were many of Mrs. Carragher's 11 grandchildren, 41 great-grandchildren and 10 great-great-grandchildren.

In addition to music and a large cake, there was some official recognition of Mrs. Carragher's birthday. She received letters of congratulations from President Carter, Senators Edward Kennedy, Harrison Williams and Bill Bradley and Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro.

"You might say that senior citizen housing is finished in Belleville," The words belonged to Jack Soriano, the attorney for the Belleville Senior Citizen Housing Corporation, and though they were said in an emotional moment, they appear to be even more true this week.

Thursday night, the Zoning Board of Adjustment rejected by a 4-3 vote the corporation's application to build an 11-story, 134-unit senior housing project at Franklin Avenue and Mill Street. Tuesday, the corporation's president, Andrew Colanino, called local newspapers to announce his resignation, effective immediately. (See letter on page 4.)

Speaking after the vote was taken, Soriano said the corporation would not appeal the decision. "There's no money to appeal," he explained. Corporation members had been saying for months that the Franklin Avenue site was not just the best one for the senior project but perhaps the only one since other parcels of land around town had been looked into and their cost was found to be prohibitive.

It was not clear early this week what the effect of the vote Thursday would be on the corporation, especially in the wake of Colanino's resignation. A meeting had been planned for next week, but no one was certain if it would be held.

The Zoning Board's vote came after months of testimony in the case and over three years after the corporation was formed by commissioners to find and develop a site for senior housing. During those years, the non-profit corporation fought many battles on many fronts before making what it thought was its big breakthrough last summer when it obtained a release from the terms of a dedication of the old Jergens property to the town that said the site was to be used for a park or recreational purposes.

Hearings began before the Zoning Board this year. The project met with organized opposition from senior citizens who use the recreation center at Franklin Avenue and Mill Street. They feared if the project were built, there would not be enough parking both for themselves and the seniors who moved into the high-rise behind the recreation center.

Project plans called for 84 spaces, 61 on the project site, 23 coming from the recreation lot. And corporation spokesman cited studies which showed that in a typical senior housing project, parking was needed for only 15 to 20 of the units.

That would have meant only about 30 spaces would be required for the Belleville project, but opponents wouldn't buy the corporation figures. Thursday, they said their lot was already overcrowded during club meetings and added that when relatives came to visit seniors in the

Teachers just narrowly miss getting their walking papers

Fifty-six non-tenured teachers in elementary and secondary schools here came very close to being laid off yesterday, but a last-minute decision has allowed them to stay on the job for the time being.

Trustee Caesar Romano's plan to temporarily terminate the teachers because of the school system's uncertain financial situation was okayed by a 4-3 vote Monday. However, Romano quickly withdrew his plan after a brief meeting behind closed curtains on the high school stage.

Romano, agreeing with School

Superintendent Dr. John Greed after a second closed meeting had taken place, said his proposal "affects too many teachers" in too short a time.

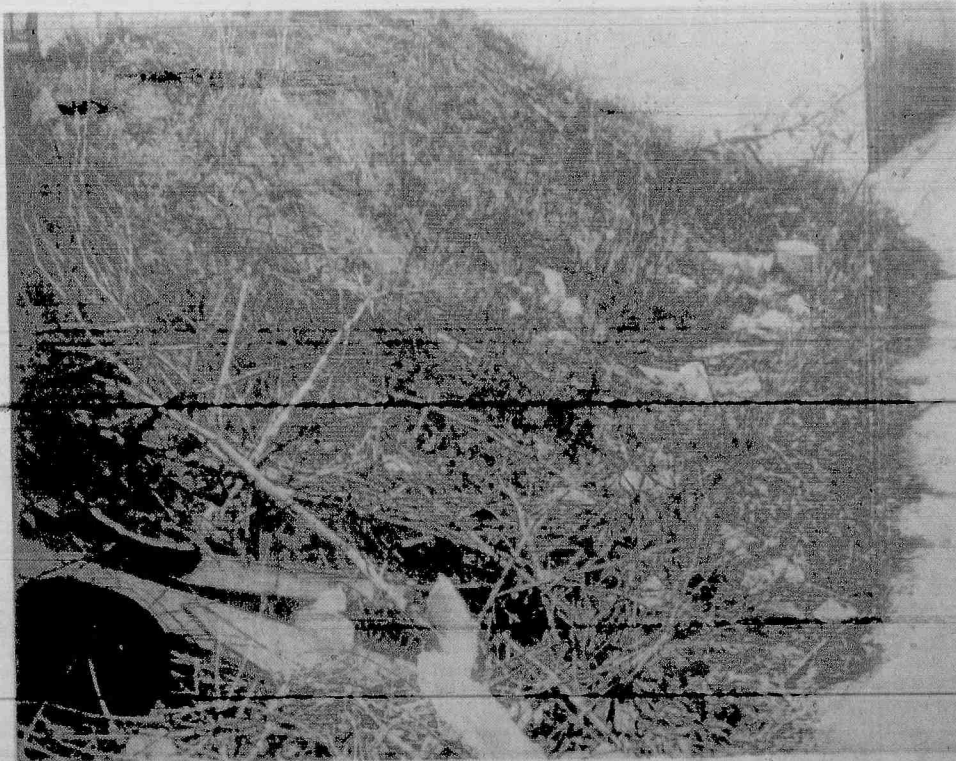

Romano wanted to conditionally terminate all non-tenured teachers by yesterday because trustees do not yet know if state officials are going to okay their desegregation plan. When final budget numbers were available, according to Romano's plan, then the necessary number of non-tenured teachers would be rehired.

But Greed disagreed, noting that some teachers would immediately begin looking for other employment if they were given layoff notices, thus putting administrators in the tough position of hastily having to find replacements for those going elsewhere.

Board President Ralph Risoli didn't want Greed to discuss the issue and several times tried to quiet him, but board attorney Lawrence

They are GSC Automotive, 681 Main St.; Valley Auto Body, 14-20 Holmes St.; Casa Polizzi Restaurant, 379 Washington Ave.; Bardan Photographers, 139 Washington Ave.; Tarantino's Restaurant, 140 Washington Ave.; and J.G. Young & Sons, Inc., 14 New St.

The Chamber's board of directors welcomed the new members at its April 15 meeting. At the meeting, plans for a membership drive were discussed and each present member was encouraged to enroll at least one new one. The next Chamber meeting will be held May 10.

Postal tests are due soon

Postmaster Joseph J. Benucci has announced that the Newark Post Office will be accepting applications for its clerk-carrier test May 12 through 16.

Benucci said he did not want to give the impression that many persons would be hired for the positions. However, he does anticipate that there will be openings within the next two years and that those qualified will be hired. He stressed that the Postal Service wants to offer people of the community the opportunity to compete for the openings by taking the test. He also urged those on the 1978 register who have not been hired to reapply for the examination.

Salaries, not including fringe benefits, for clerks and letter carriers begin at $8.10 an hour and increase to $9.43 over an eight-year period. Annually, this represents a $16,326 starting salary for a full-time employee that increases to $18,988 in eight years.

Applications are available in Room B-9 of the U.S. Post Office and Courthouse Building, Federal Square and Walnut Street, Newark, between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. beginning May 12.

Peacock also pointed out "that consolidated deposits increased by 19.4 percent to $82,086,514 as compared to $77,114,857 for the first quarter of 1979."

Ramapo Financial Corporation is a Wayne-based holding company and parent company for the Ramapo Bank and Pilgrim State Bank. Ramapo Bank operates five offices in Wayne and one in Clifton, while Pilgrim's two offices are located in Cedar Grove and Montclair.

DeWitt drive-ins will open earlier

The drive-in windows at two Bloomfield offices of First DeWitt Savings will open one hour earlier Monday to Friday, according to an announcement made by John P. Dailey, chairman, and Henrick Tyedt, president.

The extra hour will begin Monday at the Bloomfield center and the Brookdale offices. Windows at each office will open at 8 a.m. Monday through Friday until the close of business each day.

The Bloomfield center office is located at 667 Bloomfield Ave., and the Brookdale office at the corner of Watchung Avenue and Broad Street. Tyedt said the action is being taken as a result of demand for earlier banking hours and also because of the success of the early drive-in facilities at the Forest Hill main offices in Belleville.

Tyedt believes the earlier hours will be of particular assistance to teachers, workers, shoppers, senior citizens and others who find it difficult to complete banking functions at later times.

Senior Notes

By George Chenoweth

The New Jersey Federation of Senior Citizens in an action letter informs us that the legislature is now discussing the state budget for the year that begins July 1. Your help at this time can assure that the casino revenue funds dedicated for use by senior and disabled citizens are spent properly and that other senior programs are protected.

The governor estimates that by the end of the fiscal year, approximately $92 million in casino funds will be available. Of that, $39 million would be spent on Utility Lifeline credit, $18 million on the $50 homestead credit and $5 million on free fare transportation. That leaves a surplus of $30 million.

These funds were promised to help seniors with the high cost of rent and property taxes, yet no new programs have been established. The federation proposes that $20 million of the surplus be used to create a direct rental rebate program, increase property tax rebates based on need, and increase to $8,500 the income limits on the low-income property tax rebate.

Furthermore, no money has been set aside to cover the cost of a medically needy program. Such a program would extend medical assistance income guidelines for people who have high health expenses. The federation believes that New Jersey should be like every other industrial state in this country and institute a medically needy program.

Write and call your state legislators today. Help seniors benefit from casino revenues!

The food stamp program has been the major federal weapon in the war on hunger. By the end of 1978, the program was helping some 15.6 million poor people. However, 1977 legislation rewrote the original food stamp law and clamped a short-sighted spending lid on the program. Legislators had underestimated the current number of eligible poor people and failed to anticipate the skyrocketing cost of food over the last few years.

Keeping an unrealistic spending lid on the program threatened to cut off food assistance to the hungry. The state budget committee recognized this need and removed the funding cap from its version of the first budget resolution. Fortunately, an attempt to restore the cap, thus cutting $1 billion from the program, was rejected by the senate on April 25.

Vets Council details Memorial Day plans

The Belleville Veterans' Council has completed plans for the town's annual Memorial Day ceremonies Monday, May 26. Details were announced by the organization's president, Pat Wynn.

Memorial services will be held at the Rutgers Street bridge beginning 8:30 a.m. Following that, participants will meet for coffee at American Legion Post 105 headquarters, 621 Washington Ave.

Wreath-laying ceremonies at the veteran's monument on Union Avenue will start 10 a.m. Afterwards, participants will march south on Union Avenue, turning east onto Joralemon Street to Washington Avenue. There a wreath will be placed at the police and firemen's monument at Town Hall. A wreath will also be placed at the monument in front of the Disabled American Veterans postrooms, 251

Washington Ave.

All town organizations have been invited to take part in the day's activities. The council has requested the full support of all residents, groups and especially veterans.

For information, call Pat Wynn at 759-9650 between 2 and 6 p.m.

Fireman caution business on ads

Persons selling advertisements for a newspaper called Firefighters National Journal have said that sales will benefit the Belleville Fireman's Mutual Benevolent Association (FMBA). However, the local organization says this is not the case.

The FMBA holds a fund-raising event in the fall, but it is not involved in any way with the sale of ads for the Firefighters National Journal.

Senior aerobics starts classes here next week

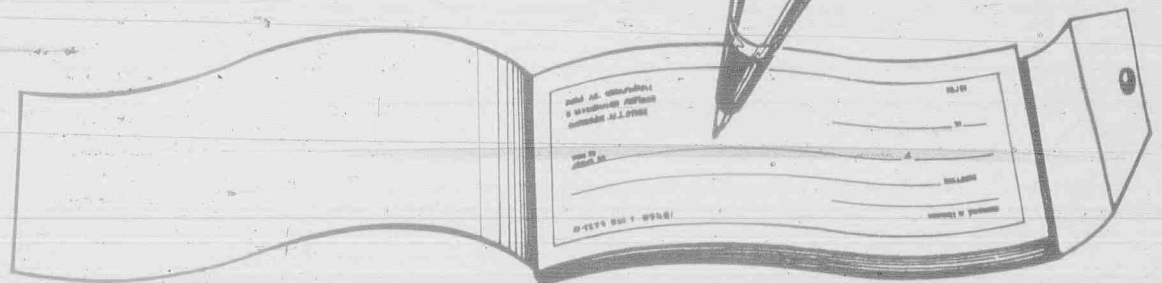

Seniors are moving with rhythm and purpose in aerobics classes all over Essex County. Senior aerobics is a multi-faceted fitness program for persons over 50. It is sponsored by the Essex County Department of Parks, Recreation and Cultural Affairs.

In each of the six programs which comprise senior aerobics — rhythmic, splashercises, Tai chi chuan, lifetime sports, belly dancin' and urban/suburban street walkers — there is an emphasis on thorough and careful exercise technique, proper warm-up, exercise form and cool-down. Care is taken to adapt, where necessary, to individual needs and limitations — the rhythmic program can even be done while sitting.

Most classes will begin this coming week. The free senior aerobics programs are held here in Belleville. For information, call 482-6400, extension 278.
