Saving business district top priority, says panel

Driving along Broadway in Newark onto Washington Avenue in Belleville can be a depressing experience since it's becoming hard to tell where Newark ends and Belleville begins.

The decrepit and burnt-out buildings which line Broadway are also beginning to creep into Belleville. The charred top floors from 82 and 86 Washington Ave. are the most obvious evidence of that, but the surrounding buildings are also not in tip-top shape.

What Belleville's capital needs committee hopes to do is make sure people know where Newark ends and Belleville begins. The panel has decided that the revival of the Washington Avenue business district should be the town's top priority.

"If we don't put up a buffer zone, we're not going to attract any business," said committee member Chris Albanese Tuesday. He noted that there are 12 empty buildings between Mill Street and Belleville Avenue along Washington Avenue.

"You have to do something for those merchants willing to come in," he added. Albanese noted that builders would probably be interested in constructing high-rise offices or smaller storefront apartments, which is exactly what the town's long-standing master plan has in mind for Washington Avenue.

The choice of business district improvements as Belleville's first priority was a difficult one considering the pressing needs for senior citizen housing here and relief for the cramped conditions at Town Hall. Compounding the difficulty was the belief by committee members that Washington Avenue property owners would jack up the prices of their land just to make a bundle if they realized local officials were intent on making improvements on Washington Avenue. If they did, officials would probably be hard-pressed to purchase the land, thus paralyzing their efforts at revitalization.

That worry, coupled with the fear that land speculators might buy up property in order to make a killing, was the reason committee members decided to exclude both press and local citizens from their meetings, which began in the spring. It's also the reason the panel has declined to be specific about just which spots will be targeted for improvement. The capital needs committee is supposed to present its recommendations to spent under the order, was used to arrive at the 22 percent figure. The 8.8 percent reduction this past week was based on a comparison with the one-month figure for 1980, and so it would be wrong to say that residents were suddenly doing less conserving.

Vogel said local officials won't know for sure whether citizens are conserving until his three meter-readers "check the factory book," a listing of large industries in Belleville which account for about 50 percent of the town's total consumption.

Vogel noted that if Belleville's industries are using their regular amount of water, then residents themselves might actually be saving double the 8.8 percent figure.

The factory book will be checked Oct. 27-31. Vogel said each Belleville house is usually checked every three months, and his meter-readers are

TROUBLE CONTINUES TUESDAY

Youth fighting mars Friday night football

By Richard Leardo

Widespread fighting between Belleville and Nutley High students broke out at Friday's football game between the two schools, prompting Nutley officials this week to consider whether they would again play BHS teams at night. Violence between gangs of youths from the two towns erupted again Saturday and late Tuesday night along the Belleville-Nutley border and several arrests were made.

Nutley High School Principal Louis Zwirek said Tuesday night that his district would "have to think twice and give serious consideration" to any future night football game.

"Of course it would depend on who was requesting a night game and what kind of security they offered," he said. "A lot would depend too on what kind of reputation the opposing school had for these kinds of incidents."

The fighting Friday first started at halftime when groups of high school and junior high school students from Belleville and Nutley had an altercation at the north end of the stadium. During this incident, one 15-year-old youth from Belleville who was on crutches was reportedly hit on the back of the head with a wrench, and as he was falling was hit again with a crutch which had been wrested from him. He was treated at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital and later detained by police for questioning.

Play resumed in the second half, and as the action on the field became more heated, the crowd also became more volatile. Police who were in the area called for assistance in aiding the buses for the Nutley football team and band which were parked in front of the high school.

Shortly after 10 p.m., police Please see "Nutley's" on page 21.

Pair of teachers arrested for reselling grid tickets

Two BHS teachers were arrested during Friday night's Belleville-Nutley football game at Municipal Stadium and charged with reselling tickets. The Board of Education met in special session yesterday night to discuss the situation amid unconfirmed reports that both teachers had already resigned.

According to police, the alleged scam worked this way: One of the teachers, working in the booth, would make legitimate sales. The second teacher, who was stationed at the gate, would take the tickets and instead of depositing them in the ticket box, would hold onto them. He later would walk back to the booth and hand the first teacher the tickets for resale. The two would then split the money from the illegal sales.

The suspicions of some Belleville school officials were aroused when the visual head count of people at the Montclair game a week earlier appeared much larger than the paid attendance later reported. The officials reportedly complained to police that they weren't doing a thorough enough job of keeping youngsters from getting in free.

Friday night, Dets. Michael Petrillo and William Escott were stationed at the ticket gate. The detectives observed the two teachers allegedly reselling the tickets and arrested both men, charging them with theft.

Deputy Chief of Detectives Frank Haight said that the ticket scam probably had been pulled off "at least one other time" and that there was "no way of telling if it had happened more than that." Some school officials have been complaining for several seasons about apparent discrepancies between the crowds and the gate receipts at BHS football games.

Tickets are simply numbered to keep track of attendance and Haight criticized this method, calling it a "loose operation." He said he felt that the inability to get an accurate head count of paid attendance had made it easy for the alleged scam to be pulled off.

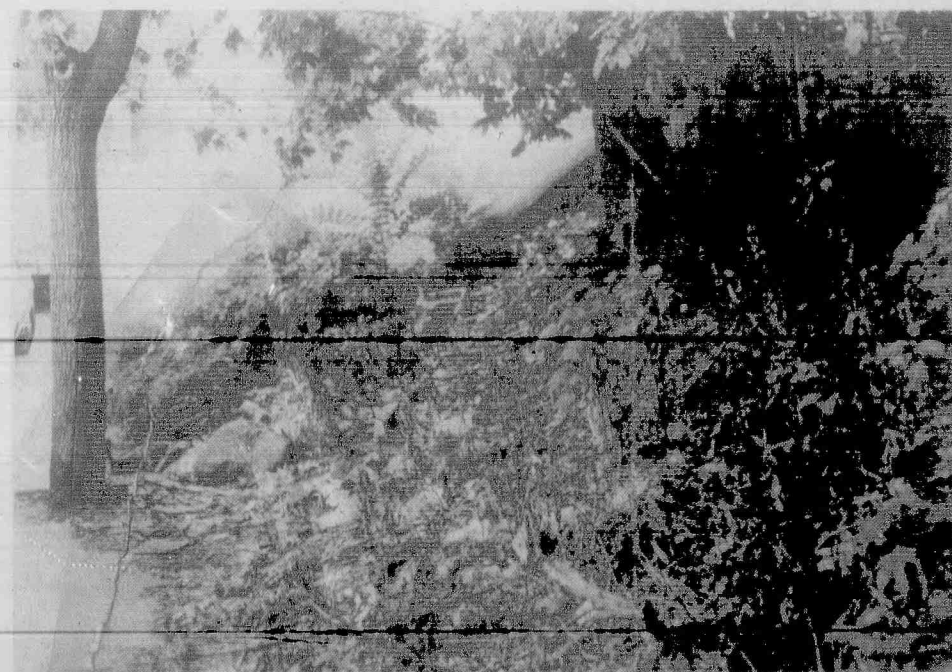

The two suspects, one a Belleville resident and the other from Nutley, were taken to police headquarters and later released on their own recognizance. Both men will appear in Belleville Municipal Court the night of Oct. 22.

JHS open house on Wednesday

The administration and staff of Belleville Junior High School are inviting parents of JHS students to attend an open house scheduled for 7-9:30 p.m. this coming Wednesday.

The evening is designed to allow parents to become acquainted with the school. Parents will follow a mini-version of their children's daily schedule. They will be able to meet with teachers of individual subjects, hear introductions to courses, take a look at textbooks and become aware of specific goals and course requirements. Guidance counselors will also be available to discuss any problems. Parents and teachers will join in the cafeteria for coffee and other refreshments.

Fidelity offers private service

A new program of personal banking service for high-income customers of Fidelity Union Trust Company has been announced by Peter Cartmell, chairman and chief executive officer.

Cartmell announced that Fidelity has established a private banking group as a separate new department whose officers would provide individual customers with across-the-board banking services and financial counseling.

Mortimer J. O'Shea, a vice president in Fidelity's corporate banking department, has been named director of the private banking group. The new group will be under the overall direction of Senior Vice President, Robert H. Dunker who heads Fidelity's trust department.

"The purpose of this service is to have a bank officer from the private banking group establish a close, working relationship with an individual customer in order to meet all of that person's banking needs," O'Shea said.

"In the traditional structure of banking," he continued, "a customer must deal with various people and departments for different services. Every banker from our group will have the knowledge and resources to assist a customer with the full range of services required. Customers in need of comprehensive banking arrangements such as financial planning, investment advice, tax advice, short-term investments, trust services and loans, in addition to basic banking services, need work with only one banker," O'Shea said.

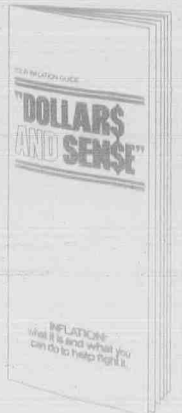

It is believed that Fidelity Union Trust Company, whose local office is at Washington and Belleville Avenues, is the first major commercial bank in New Jersey to consolidate all banking services in one department for major customers.

A detailed history, a thorough study of the patient's environment and allergy testing are some of the tools used to determine the specific allergen or allergens. Testing for sensitivity by means of skin and mucous-membrane tests is effective in many instances as well. However, it may take a long time to complete the extensive number of tests that can be made. ## The Bottom Line

By Ed White

Q: My charge customers seem to be paying me later than usual, yet my vendors want their money in 30 days. How should I handle this? J.L. Belleville

A: Cash flow is the movement of money in and out of your business. If cash flow is not controlled, it can create many problems. The worst problem develops when the cash flow is all out of the business with nothing coming in. This causes a "working capital" problem which can occur in successful as well as marginal or failing enterprises.

For a short-term problem, you can ease your cash flow and avoid a working capital shortage by taking out a short-term bank loan. But don't borrow unless you are sure the cash is eventually going to "flow in." If you have not taken steps to assure proper cash flow, your working capital problem will still exist and will even be made worse by the loan repayments.

The best solution is long-range planning. From the start of your business, clients and customers must be on a pay pattern you can live with. Payment in full within 30 days is not an unreasonable assumption. Longer terms must be individually arranged, particularly if your suppliers demand 30-day payments.

Frequently cash flow problems indicate the existence of more serious problems than mere collection difficulties. For instance, poor cash flow might be the result of too few sales, too many expenses, bad management or even impending bankruptcy.

Practically every business experiences cash flow difficulties from time to time. Good business people can almost chart and plan for those times. A business with a profit level high enough to allow a bank balance sufficient to cover dips in sales and still meet bills and expenses is at a level of business maturity envied by many.

But no well-managed business should experience consistent cash flow problems. If your business is constantly in cash flow difficulty, don't decide that this is one of the hardships of being in business. Face the problem realistically and obtain assistance.

School busing start successful despite some initial problems

Busing for Belleville's School 1 and 2 children who qualify under the local "hazard formula" began with a few problems last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, but considering the hasty scheduling and complex planning it entailed, the operation could probably be labeled a success.

A couple former School 1 children got off at the wrong stops last Thursday and others forgot where they had to get off, but the situations were quickly remedied when worried parents contacted School Business Administrator Mary Shader.

No problems were reported among School 2's 21 children, and though transportation supervisor Ed Appleton was absent, Mrs. Shader was able to handle the problems that developed — problems kept to a minimum through Appleton's thorough, tightly synchronized schedule.

Although Essex County Educational Service Commission officials told Appleton he'd have to rent another bus to transport School 1 children, Appleton rescheduled the present bus routes to take complete advantage of the buses trustees presently pay for.

Despite the generally smooth operation of the new program, there were of course some people left unhappy. "They're not going to say this was a success," said School 1 PTA President Judy Sobanko Monday night. "They instituted this too soon when they didn't have all the kinks worked out," she added.

Another School 1 parent, Amelia Augustowicz, whose two children, Adam and Jeffrey, attend School 9, noted that Thursday's bus left School 1 kids waiting at Belleville and Academy Streets for nearly 35 minutes past its scheduled 8:15 pickup time.

Only after Mrs. Augustowicz called Mrs. Shader did a bus finally arrive to pick up the children. Before and especially since the busing start, School 1 parents have been concerned about their children's safety, fearing trustees and administrators wouldn't take the proper precautionary steps to prevent any foul-ups which might endanger children.

Mrs. Augustowicz said School Board President Ernie Zoppi told her the busing was started too quickly. "There are some bugs to be ironed out," said Zoppi Monday. He said there'd always be problems with something new, but stressed mutual cooperation between parents and trustees will enable them to solve all the busing snags.

Mrs. Augustowicz brings her two children to Cortlandt and Academy every school day now, watching over what goes on. She noted that both Mrs. Shader and Zoppi were on hand Friday to watch the Valley children being left off at the buses.

She pointed out that because many letters about the busing weren't delivered to some parents until late Tuesday afternoon, many parents didn't receive them soon enough to know where to send their children. However, Mrs. Augustowicz said most knew what was going on by Friday.

On Wednesday afternoon, the first day of busing at School 1, seven youngsters remained at the school's last stop by Academy and Cortlandt, and Mrs. Shader had to send the bus back to retrieve them. A mix-up apparently occurred between School 1's bus aide and several children, with neither being sure where the other was supposed to get off.

On Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Augustowicz said a stray kindergartner from School 8 ended up down at Academy and Cortlandt.

"Those problems would have occurred whether we started Oct. 8 or Oct. 15," said Trustee Tom Zampino. "There are problems that have to be ironed out." He commended Appleton for sacrificing one day of his vacation to recheck the busing plan. Trustee John DiStasi had asked Appleton to begin the plan as soon as possible considering how worried School 1 parents were about safety.

Noting only one driver, apparently unfamiliar with the route, made some mistakes, Zampino emphasized that most problems would probably be eliminated within weeks, an estimate that Zoppi agreed with.

Mrs. Shader pointed out that the problems weren't major, but rather small mistakes that were corrected when the board office was notified. She said if the two new buses Belleville has ordered arrive by December when they're supposed to, the route will have a little more flexibility since eight buses will be available rather than the present six.

Bloodline — Nurse Ethel Caggiano and Dr. Robert Malella look on as Janet MacDonald displays the pint of blood she donated at Friday's Knights of Columbus blood drive for the North Jersey Blood Bank. The K of C bank was named this year for the late town clerk, Eugene "Cappy" Barnett, Mrs. MacDonald's uncle.

"The kid was trying to cross Rutgers Street and almost got hit," she said, noting that Mrs. Shader later sent a van to transport the child to his home on Washington Avenue.

A School 1 parent has now been hired by trustees to ride School 1's bus five days a week, making sure nothing goes awry. Mrs. Augustowicz said that although letters were supposed to be used to gain admission to the bus, neither the driver nor the aide asked for them. "Why have the system and not use it?" she queried.

Shapiro Is wrong

Last week, hundred dollar tickets to an Essex County Democratic fund-raising dinner were sent out over two signatures, one of which is Peter Shapiro, our Essex County executive.

This is the very sort of thing that Shapiro described during his campaign when he ran against the organization candidate. This is the very sort of thing Peter Shapiro, the crusader, condemned when he was seeking election to the office of county executive.

Nothing has changed since Peter's campaign of two years ago except his reported desire to be the next United States senator from New Jersey, replacing Harrison Williams. A noble ambition — and why not?

Can anyone doubt that Peter Shapiro's name on a letter of solicitation of hundred dollar tickets going to vendors selling to the county would not have an immediate message? In the public arena the truth is important, but of equal importance is the perception of the fact. The case of Peter Shapiro, affixing his signature soliciting hundred dollar contributions to a Democratic fund-raising effort, conveys a message that it would not do any harm for a vendor, or professional, selling goods or services to the county, to buy tickets sent out over the name of Shapiro. Peter has done some good things and some bad things. This is among the bad.

Buy American

The New Jersey Legislature this week adopted legislation which requires state, county and local governments to give preference to United States carmakers when buying fleets of automobiles. Governor Brendan Byrne was expected to immediately sign the bill.

Buy American is perceived to be a great patriotic gesture. Carried to its end, the Buy American proposal may be counter-productive. If every nation in the world assumed the same posture, very little would be imported from other countries. Our balance of trade payment is cockeyed because of the exorbitant cost of importing oil. Oil aside — American workers produce millions of dollars of goods shipped abroad. The trouble in America is not our failure to buy domestic products, but our inability to compete with foreign labor markets. Japanese workers produce better cars than American workers. Japanese workers produce better electronic equipment than American workers. And, by the way — at substantially lower prices. So the answer to producing more jobs for Americans may not be found in a Buy American statute — rather, we should look within and make a successful effort to be more productive with better quality. These are the long-range answers to the unemployment lines of today.

Initiative and referendum right would reinvigorate state politics

To the Editor:

On the November ballot, Essex voters will be asked to decide whether the county should petition the legislature to amend the state constitution, granting voters the right to directly initiate and approve legislation, known as initiative and referendum, which presently is the preserve of the legislature.

At present 23 states confer upon voters these prerogatives; some, such as Oregon, which held its first initiative in 1904, have a long and successful history with these procedures, which opponents in our state charge will lead to reckless actions by an unrestrained citizenry and weaken the legislature.

History, however, has shown that, rather than being capricious, voters are quite discriminating, passing only about one-third of all plebiscites reaching the ballot; direct election of United States senators and the establishment of women's suffrage are two measures approved through these means.

Far from weakening the legislatures, initiative and referendum seem to prod them on to better things. Eight of the 10 legislatures ranked highest by the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures are in states that have these rights. Moreover, half the high election turnout states use the initiative, while only 14 percent of the low turnout states use it.

Lastly, the notion there exists an ideological bias in the initiative and referendum process is false; Oregon voters, for instance, in 1978 passed an initiative that restored capital punishment, but defeated one to restrict the funding of abortions.

Initiative and referendum are important tools for invigorating political life in New Jersey. A "yes" vote on Nov. 4 will be a long overdue step in giving New Jersey citizens greater control over governmental and political processes.

Senior Notes

By George Chenoweth

The New Jersey Federation of Senior Citizens formed a seniors citizens action group at a meeting held recently at its Belleville headquarters. The committee was formed in response to a resolution passed at the state executive board meeting in Trenton which proposed the formation of a 21-county consumer enforcement set-up to be operated in conjunction with existing state and county agencies and the federation's three regional offices.

A research and steering committee has already been formed and a review made of existing laws, regulations and enforcement practices as well as available educational data and services through public and private consumer agencies.

On the local scene, meetings were set up to discuss the topic, "Justice in the Market Place," at the Belleville site of the federation at Montgomery Presbyterian Church on Mill Street. The first meeting was scheduled for yesterday, the second for Nov. 19. Adam K. Levin, director of the New Jersey State Division of Consumer Affairs, was asked to attend.

These meetings and the others in the state have been set up because of unfair practices in the marketplace, especially increased pricing of goods on senior citizen check day and the proposed use of electronic devices to determine the price of goods at the checkout counter. "No pricing while on the shelf" is another practice that is allowed in the state and it will continue if something is not done to stop it. We urge you to attend the upcoming meeting and voice your protests against these unfair practices.

We are getting good response from the return of the petition circulated by the New Jersey Federation of Senior Citizens in regards to changing state laws to allow more programs for seniors and others to benefit from casino gambling revenue and from general revenue. The state legislature has deferred the possible effective date of action until 1981, and the petition urges speed-up of the following long overdue programs affecting senior citizens and other low-income groups:

1) Direct rental rebate program. 2) Extension of the Pharmaceutical Assistance Program guidelines to $11,000 for single persons and $14,000 for couples. 3) Extension of PAA to the disabled. 4) Establishment of a medically needy program. 5) Creation of a free bus system. Immediate action is needed.

Scout leaders return from training camp

Junior leaders from Boy Scout Troops 304, 350 and 387 in Belleville attended a training orientation camping weekend at Scout Acres in September. The program was designed for patrol leaders and senior patrol leaders.

Anthony Bisognaro of Troop 304, Angelo LaFelic of Troop 350 and James Costanzo of Troop 387 acted as patrol leaders, while Paul Goglin of Troop 304, Jerry Martazzoni of Troop 350 and L.R. Zarro of Troop 304 shared the duties of senior leader.

Subjects covered during the weekend were camping planning, including trip preparations, campfires and meals, troop leader council functions, patrol leader and senior patrol leader responsibilities. All subjects were put into practice during the weekend.

To test the abilities of the Scouts, all cooking was done on charcoal stoves and food for meals had to be found by using a compass and following a trail marker course. District training chairman Al Symones, Walt Ponikin and Rich Dombrowski were the instructors.

The United States Air Force Band from McGuire Air Base, Fort Dix, will head the parade's first division. Susan Santiglia of Belleville will sing "God Bless America" during the massing of colors at Town Hall at the end of the parade.

The 1980 Veterans' Day parade is being run by members of VFW Posts 626 and 275, AMVETS Post 26, American Legion Posts 105 and 299 and Disabled American Veterans Post 22.

Would you ignore this hole in the wall of your home?

■ A 1/4" crack under a 36" exterior door is equivalent to a hole in the wall of this same size. And though you couldn't ignore a hole like this, you may easily overlook small cracks around the frames of your doors and windows.

Windows and doors are not airtight. They can let heat escape through cracks as easily as a hole in the wall. But you can prevent heat loss by properly weatherstripping and caulking the cracks.

■ First test your windows and doors for airtightness to determine where you need weatherstripping and caulking. Here are two simple tests:

- Hold a feather near the inside of the frame of your window. If the feather moves, you need caulking and/or weatherstripping.
- Try slipping a quarter under your exterior doors. If it goes through easily, you need weatherstripping.

■ Weatherstripping and caulking is inexpensive and you can easily do it yourself. You'll save up to 10% on your fuel bills by weatherstripping and caulking your windows and doors.

Visit your local home improvement center today and discover how simple it is to plug up the leaks in your home with weatherstripping and caulking.

Consumer Director Leonard getting scant help from state

By Mike Olohan

Get that license plate number! Don't just go to one person, get five or six estimates on a construction job. Read the small print, because it sometimes contradicts what is said so plainly in large print.

You might call the preceding advice vague, since you don't know exactly what it refers to. But that same vagueness is evident in New Jersey's consumer laws, whose main function, if they worked correctly, would be to fully protect the consumer.

The advice contained in the first paragraph was offered by Belleville Consumer Affairs Director Edward Leonard, commenting on a situation he constantly sees: the persistent fleecing of overtrusting consumers when they're having repairs done to their houses.

For Ed Leonard, consumer affairs week is every week of the year, not just Oct. 5 through Oct. 12, which was officially designated "National Consumer Education Week." But Leonard realizes his job as Belleville's lone consumer affairs inspector is never done; no matter where he turns there are more complaints to be dealt with, more people to comfort after the fact, and more paperwork to be completed.

Some local residents have been trying to clip Leonard's wings for several years, pointing out that New Jersey's consumer affairs office is less than 10 miles away, at 1100 Raymond Boulevard in Newark.

But Leonard's job is necessary — a fact easily backed up by the weekly outpouring of complaints from disgruntled, angered and frustrated residents he receives. About 25 cross his desk every week, complaints that he must do his best to resolve.

Besides handling consumer affairs, Leonard also takes care of weights and measures, specific, legal variances are allowed for the weights of different products. He wishes consumer affairs laws were as tough and specific as weights and measures rules.

Though Leonard devotes maximum effort to resolving consumer complaints, he stresses New Jersey's consumer affairs law is unjust because it forces local municipalities to pay the state any money collected from local consumer affairs fines. Even though local districts usually have their own consumer inspector, and their own attorney, all fine money still goes to New Jersey, despite the costs to towns like Belleville.

"There's a lot of consumer affairs laws that are too vague and very, very weak. You can't pin anybody down," says Leonard. He stresses there are too many "gray areas" where no determination on what action can be taken prevails. That sometimes leaves consumer affairs officials straitjacketed when it comes to forcing an issue with either a recalcitrant businessman or organization.

Vagueness is what prevents consumer affairs inspectors from quickly resolving complaints. Leonard says he must often mediate disputes (in which sometimes, he readily admits, businessmen aren't always at fault) because the consumer laws simply lack the muscle to permit him to make firm decisions.

"People always think it's fraud when you do something wrong," says Leonard, but often consumers are just dissatisfied with the work that's been done, rather than its quality.

Asked if enough local people take full advantage of consumer affairs advice and help, Leonard, despite his hectic schedule, replied, "No, there aren't enough people taking advantage of this. Some people call the office in Newark, then call back here. We're available when you need advice," he said.

Leonard says consumers should always take their time and think about any major construction or purchase. Don't be rushed into anything by anyone, he advises. If salesmen are giving you a good deal, it can usually wait for several days until you make your decision. If not, then it's probably not such a good deal after all, he says.

Weights and measures inspecting is also tied closely to consumer affairs work. By carefully examining a product and comparing it against those around it, obvious differences in weight can usually be detected, says Leonard. He often goes to Belleville's delicatessens and supermarkets to retest scales and products being sold to make sure consumers aren't being cheated.

"Commissioner (Joseph) McGreevy is very good. He backs me up to the hilt," said Leonard. He cited a recent case in which a gas station owner called McGreevy claiming he was harassed by Leonard after the two had exchanged heated words over a consumer's bill that suddenly leaped $80 overnight. The gas station owner claimed the man just needed a tune-up, but the next morning when the man went to pick up his car the bill was over $100. McGreevy told the station owner to either cooperate with Leonard or the Belleville police would soon provide him an escort to Town Hall. "He (McGreevy) told him I was just doing my job, and I was," said Leonard.

Leonard says businessmen often accuse him of being paid off, saying every decision always goes in the consumer's favor, but then if a consumer is found wrong or if the problem falls beyond his legal powers, the consumers accuse him of being bought off by the person or company they're fighting.

"No matter which way it comes out, I lose usually," he says. However, Leonard feels his job is exciting and plans to keep handling both consumer affairs and weights and measures unless an extra worker is hired to assist him. Though he admits he could surely use an assistant, he's also glad just to be on duty for townspeople since many communities don't have their own consumer affairs inspector.

Belleville students finish up at Kean

Three Belleville students have been awarded degrees by Kean College of New Jersey in Union. The three residents graduated in August.

James McHenry Armstrong received a master of arts degree, Mark Anthony Corino won a bachelor of arts degree in industrial education and graphics, while Frank Michael Salerno was awarded a bachelor of arts degree in psychology.

Three other Bellevillites are among the 13 Essex County residents named to the dean's list at St. Peter's College in Jersey City. The local students honored are Frank Valenti, Joseph Vassallo and Walter White Jr.

Twenty-nine Essex County residents were among the Jersey City State College students named to the dean's list for the 1980 spring semester. Five of them were from Belleville. They were Albert D. Chiappinelli, Maryann E. Dyba, Michael Melchionne, Ramona A. Minai and Salvatore Sorice.

To be eligible for the list, students had to attain at least a 3.5 grade point average on a scale of 4.0. Announcement of the list was made by Dr. Marco Cirincione, dean of students. Twenty-nine secondary school teachers, including three with Belleville ties, are participating in a special computer-related mathematics graduate program at Seton Hall University in South Orange. The program, which runs 20 evenings through March, is under the auspices of the National Science Foundation.

Local participants are Frank D. Law of 117 Beech St., a teacher at Bloomfield High School; Kathleen C. Serafino of 98 Hill St., a teacher at Nutley High School; and Belleville High School teacher Josephine Montemurro, who lives at 1 Vanderbilt Place, North Arlington.

The program is funded by a grant of $15,000 and carries three graduate credits. Its purpose, according to Dr. Charles H. Francke, department chairman, is to "provide striking examples of mathematical models for real-world problems and to provide significant applications of computers."

The participants, selected from a large pool of applicants from throughout the state, receive lectures from Professor Vernon Williams, while the computer problem sessions are conducted by Dr. Richard Gabriel. The classes are funded under the Pre-College Teacher Development in Science Program.

Belleville judge fines shoplifters

Belleville judge fined three of the more frequent shoplifters in the area, and the judge also fined the Belleville Municipal Court.

The judge handed down sentences of 30 days in jail and a $200 fine to one of the shoplifters, and two of the shoplifters were fined $200 each.

The judge also handed down a $200 fine to a shoplifter who was caught on Sept. 11, and a $200 fine to a shoplifter who was caught on Sept. 12.

The judge also handed down a 30-day suspended jail sentence and one year on probation to a shoplifter who was caught on Sept. 20, when store security guard Edward McCarthy stopped Mario Caruso of Summer Avenue in Newark. Caruso was found guilty of stealing $14 worth of merchandise, and he was fined $200 and given one year on probation.

The third conviction stemmed from a shoplifting charge pressed by Pathmark on Belmont Avenue against Christine Massa of Belleville. The complainant, Charles Hriczko, a security guard at the store, was on duty at the time of the theft. Miss Massa, arrested on June 11, was found guilty of attempting "to deprive the retailer of full or partial value" of the merchandise in question. She was fined $100, given a 30-day suspended jail sentence and one year on probation.

How we made Bell System Yellow Pages advertising 21% more effective.

One reason for the success of your 1979 advertising program was our advertising program.

A study conducted in New Jersey by a major independent research organization showed that usage of the Bell System Yellow Pages increased 21% in 1979.*

That means if you were a Bell System Yellow Pages advertiser, your ad program could have been 21% more effective than the previous year.

So what can you expect in 1980?

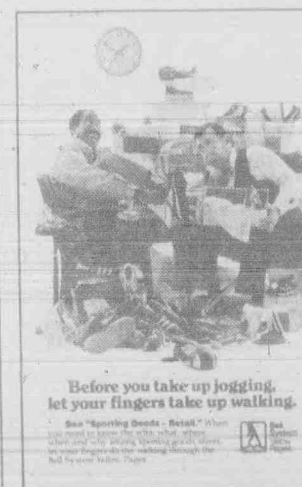

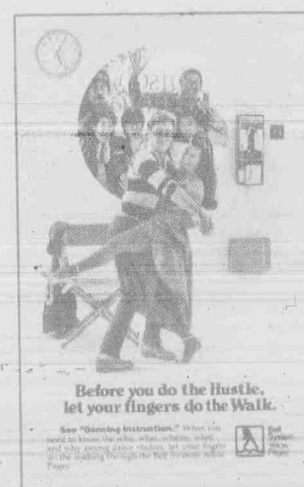

More of the same.

Because we'll be using, basically, the same ads in 1980.

"100% noted. 56% unaided recall."

"All four ads tested were high performers in terms of establishing top of mind awareness."

They'll be running in major newspapers circulated throughout the state. Plus, for the first time, in six consumer magazines in New Jersey. Where the ads will be even more effective because they'll run in four-color.

Again in 1980, we'll be supplementing our print campaign with a statewide outdoor advertising campaign that ties in with something that everybody is worried about these days.

The gas crisis.

Now that you've heard about our ad program for 1980, what about your ad program?

"Nearly total understanding of at least one major message."

"Main idea communication was immediate and powerful."

Buc Shots

Friday night victory good omen for '80s

That old Belleville-Nutley football rivalry is as hot as ever. If you were at the game last Friday night, the validity of that statement was easy to see.

Throughout the years, the Bucs (nee, Bellboys) and Maroon Raiders have been involved in some emotional, hard-fought contests that haven't been decided until late in the game. Such was the case Friday. As head coach John Senesky of Belleville has said all along, "When Belleville and Nutley play, you might just as well toss the records away."

The game last Friday was a 13-7 victory for Belleville, the Bucs' third straight success over their archrivals. The last time a Belleville team had beaten Nutley three straight times was back in the 1950s when gasoline was 15 cents a gallon and Eisenhower and Nixon were president and vice president.

On paper, it didn't seem the game would end in such a close score. Belleville was coming off a 7-6 victory over a good Montclair team, while Nutley was devastated by Irvington 35-0. A week previous, Irvington had lost to Montclair 52-0. So it seemed that the Bucs would have a field day. Even The Star Ledger favored Belleville to win this game.

Though the score turned out to be close, Belleville has still jumped out to a 1-0 edge in the 1980s in the series, perhaps the start of a trend unlike that in the past decade when Nutley held the upper hand most of the time.

Looking back over those last 10 years, Belleville and Nutley staged some impressive showings, but the Raiders seemed to be the better squad on most occasions. In 1970, the two teams played at Municipal Stadium and both held 2-0 records. If you ever see the Buc basketball coach, Joe Papasidero, ask him about that game. Papasidero played for Belleville that season and remembers the contest vividly. The place was packed, with people sitting on the fences outside of the stadium because of the overflow crowd inside. Nutley won the game 23-8 on some early touchdowns. Only a Rick Caruso touchdown late in the first half prevented a shutout.

In 1971, Belleville stunned the Maroon, 7-6 at Nutley. Joe Lotriglio was the hero of this contest for Belleville with a third-quarter score. Belleville then had to hold on as Nutley staged a late rally to score a touchdown. Only the Maroon's decision to go for the two-point conversion saved Belleville from a tie. Nutley missed the two-point try and Belleville won the game.

The series returned to Belleville in 1972 and Nutley scored a late touchdown to win 7-0. Belleville had supposedly scored a touchdown in the third quarter on a fumble recovery, but the play was nullified.

In 1973, Nutley won a one-sided game 21-6. Belleville's only touchdown came in the waning seconds on a Jim DiModica touchdown pass. Nutley had perhaps its finest team of the 70s that year. The Maroon won its first five games and was ranked second in the state behind Westfield. The two teams met in a dramatic contest at Nutley, and tied 0-0.

The series returned to the tough defensive struggle in 1974 as Nutley won 7-3. Belleville got a field goal by Anthony Speer in the first half, but Nutley won it in the fourth quarter on a touchdown to halt Belleville's upset hopes.

In 1975, the two teams met at a rainy Nutley field and battled to a scoreless tie. Belleville had two touchdowns called back on penalties. On one play, the mostly costly, a Chipper Bialore punt return for a TD was called back because of a clip. Guy Albanese of Nutley almost scored on the game's last play but was stopped on the 50-yard line by Kevin Godfrey.

A rather listless Belleville offense lost to Nutley 14-0 in 1976. The Maroon offense staged two long drives and Belleville never really had a good offensive drive.

In 1977, with new coach John Senesky, Belleville lost a heartbreaker to Nutley 7-0. The Bucs battled the Maroon even in the first half, but lost the game in the second on a blocked punt that was recovered in the end zone.

In 1978, after years of frustration, Belleville pummeled Nutley 31-0 before some screaming fans in Belleville. The Bucs scored their first touchdown since 1973 against Nutley, beat the Raiders for the first time since 1971 and stopped Nutley at Belleville for the first time since 1962. Mike Nicosia was brilliant in this game, scoring two touchdowns and intercepting a pass to set up a third score. Tom Henry also contributed by sacking Nutley quarterback Tom Gacione in the end zone for a safety. Sub quarterback John Norton hit Mario Colombrita for a late touchdown to ice the victory.

In 1979, a fired-up Nutley team gave Belleville a good battle, losing 7-0 on an Ed Aulisi touchdown pass to Lenny Mendola in the third quarter. Belleville's defense played especially well, stopping a late Nutley threat.

The 1980 game was typical scuffle. The Bucs scored first on a TD pass from John Melillo to Ken Constantino, but Nutley came right back to tie the game. Only a Melillo score late in the game saved Belleville from a tie. He is the Buc Shot athlete of the week.

Nutley played with great intensity and displayed a never-say-die attitude that is so typical of both sides in this series. But Belleville will hold the trophy for one more year while Nutley will try to break the skid next season. This was a game that will be remembered by all who played in it and many who didn't. A great rivalry hasn't faded at all.

Well, Muhammed Ali has stated that thyroid pills he was taking during training were the reason for his downfall and not Larry Holmes. As much as it is fun to listen to Ali talk and put on a show, I hope he doesn't want to make a comeback and fight again. He's going to make a farce of this big promotion and he can be seriously hurt. Besides, who in his right mind would actually promote such a fight?

How about the Kansas City Royals beating the Yankees in three straight games? The Royals looked awesome in that series, while the Yankees made some silly mistakes that contributed to their downfall. Third base coach Mike Ferraro should not be faulted, however, for waving Willie Randolph home on Bob Watson's drive in game two. The Royals' luck and skill and not any mistake by Ferraro were to blame for the fact that Randolph was out at the plate and the Yankees lost 3-2. If George Steinbrenner decides to fire Ferraro, it will lead to dissension on the team and perhaps the loss of Manager Dick Howser. The Yankees had a great year (103-59) and simply were outplayed by a better team in KC. Why point a finger at one person? You cannot blame Ferraro for the loss of the entire series — except if you are an arrogant fool like Steinbrenner who deserves to own the Seattle Mariners, not the New York Yankees.

Both Houston and Philadelphia deserve a stamper award. The NL series was awesome from game one. It was filled with controversy, excitement and the totally unexpected. I had hoped Houston would win it because the Astros have a better team attitude than Philadelphia, but the Phillies, cocky and sour-faced as they Please see "Buc Shots" on page 15.

Gridmen sigh in relief as Nutley leaves town

By Mike Lamberti

John Melillo scooted 33 yards early in the fourth quarter for the decisive touchdown as Belleville stopped a fired up Nutley team 13-7

Friday night at Municipal Stadium.

The victory boosted Belleville's record to 2-1 while Nutley fell to 1-2. This Saturday, Belleville will venture into Indian country to battle Passaic in a 1:30 p.m. kickoff.

Head coach John Senesky wasn't about to argue with the victory, though it came by a closer margin than many had expected. "We beat Nutley, and I don't care what the score was," said the rather hoarse coach right after the game. "It's always an emotional battle and Nutley and their kids really played a good game. After they scored, it really lifted their spirits."

Senesky expressed particular pleasure in the Bucs' winning a tight game. "Usually Nutley wins those close games," continued the coach. "It's good that we can win the toughies because it shows our maturity level."

It was clear that Nutley had come to play as the Raiders gave the Buc offense fits all night long. After a scoreless first few minutes, Belleville struck when quarterback Melillo threw a 72-yard touchdown pass to Kenny Constantino who found an opening and outran the entire Nutley secondary. Robbie Cancelliere added the conversion and it was 7-0.

If you thought that Nutley would roll over and play dead, you were sadly mistaken. Shortly after the Buc kickoff, sophomore Nick Petti stunned the large Belleville crowd with a 39-yard run for a TD around left end. John Canterelli added the extra point and the game was tied.

Late in the first half, Belleville started one of its patented long drives. From its 20, Belleville moved steadily downfield behind the running of Melillo, Pete Haverick, Mike Dalla Riva and Frank Fazzini. Belleville got as close as the Nutley 24 before losing the ball on a muffed handoff on a double reverse. Nutley recovered but could not mount a drive. The two teams went into the locker room tied 7-7.

The Nutley defense, victimized for 35 points the week before, was never better than early in the second half. It stopped Belleville throughout the third quarter, but the Buc defense was also awesome, not allowing the Maroon a single first down in the quarter.

As the fourth quarter began, Belleville began a drive from its own 48 that culminated in Melillo's touchdown. What made the score extra special was that Melillo was trying for a first down on the play. Belleville was down to its last down in the series and needed five yards for a first. Melillo gained that and a bit more.

So, the big game with Nutley is history and Belleville must now get to the business of dealing with 4-0 Passaic this week. The Indians lost just once last year and that was to Belleville. Ironically, the victory for Belleville came after a tough game with Nutley last year. Senesky is very cautious about the upcoming game. "They look real good," he said of Passaic. "I saw them against Bergen Catholic (an 8-6 win) and they have good balance on running and passing. Our kids will have to be ready for a big game because Passaic can beat you in so many ways."

BUC NOTES: Belleville defeated Passaic 26-14 last year after losing 38-13 and 36-12 in 1978 and 1977 respectively... The Indians have posted one shutout and beaten a strong team in Bergen Catholic... No injuries to report from the Nutley game, although the team had some new players in the lineup. Backup center Craig Mack, only a sophomore, was very impressive in his varsity debut.

Throw Back — Nutley's Ken O'Mara is stopped by a host of Belleville tacklers, losing a yard on a play in the first quarter of Friday night's football game. The Bucs prevailed 13-7 but not without some nail-biting.

Booters topple Mounties for season's first victory

By Mike Lamberti

It had been a very quiet week as far as the Belleville High soccer team was concerned. The Bucs had some time off after tying St. Benedict's on Monday of last week, but this past Monday they emerged from their break to defeat Montclair 1-0 in double overtime and record their first victory of the season. The team was trying to improve on its 1-6-1 record yesterday at Passaic.

Brian Woods scored the winning goal against the Mounties two minutes into overtime on an assist by Mike Van Emburgh. As was the case in last week's tie of the Bees, though, the Bucs took a physical beating. Brian Cook was rushed to the hospital after colliding with a Mount-tie opponent. The young Buc goalie received a rib injury. Just how serious it was wasn't known at press time.

Cook recorded a save before exiting in the second quarter. Lenny Cardinale substituted for him and had 10. Mountie starter Vinnie Marzullo had five saves, his replacement, Craig Thompson, recorded one. Belleville had 25 shots on goal to 30 for Montclair.

Coach Anthony DeAquino had used the off week to practice the players hard and work with the young kids. As a matter of fact, the freshman team played Irvington last week, but came away with a 2-0 setback.

What did the coach think of his younger players' effort? "I can seriously say we have some good talent with those guys," said the coach. "It still has to be developed but the kids are coming along and have a winning attitude."

In addition to the fine play of Brian Woods, John Lee and Tommy Dunn, DeAquino pointed to the strong performances of Lenny Cardinale. "Lenny has played striker and halfback and has done a really good job for us," said the coach. "He has really come along and once again, he has a great attitude for the game."

All season long, DeAquino has been stressing that his players have a good attitude and never quit. They inherit that attitude from their coach. DeAquino is a man who sets high standards and never gives up whatever the situation is. His hard work and attitude toward winning rub off on his kids' performances, and the team, which had been getting closer and closer each game to that first win, now at last has it. The Bucs will definitely win some more games before the season is over.

BUC BOOTS: Belleville has a rematch with Irvington coming up Tuesday afternoon. The Bucs will be trying to avenge a narrow opening game loss. The contest will be shown on TV-3 at 9 p.m. Tuesday

Girls' tennis team wins two matches

It was a pretty nice week for the Belleville tennis squad. The girls took victories over Rutherford and Immaculate Conception and also competed in the Essex County Tournament.

The team's record is now an impressive and surprising 6-4. Earlier this week, the team traveled to Orange and will be at Caldwell today. Tomorrow, the girls come home to host Nutley.

Against Rutherford, Karen Fucello's troops won 4-1 behind some impressive individual victories. Carol Ann Salerno snapped out of an early slump in which she had dropped the first set 1-6. She won the next 6-4 before her opponent forfeited the final set. Rosie Leonidis was a 6-4, 6-3 victor, while Karen Pettineo started out strong with a 7-5 victory, but fell by scores of 6-4, 6-4.

In the doubles, Gina Pasquale and Angela Chimento were 6-4, 6-1 winners, while Rose Cataldo and Kim Indiero won 6-3, 6-2.

Fucello was very pleased with the outcome. "I was glad we beat them because they felt they were going to beat us," said the coach. "We beat them earlier in the season (3-2) and I was happy with the outcome."

The Immaculate match was even easier. The girls were 5-0 winners in the tuneup for the counties. The same team that competed against Rutherford was victorious in this match and Fucello was impressed with the win. "I would have liked to use our younger players, but we needed the work for the county tournament," she said.

In the counties, Belleville lost to powerful Caldwell 5-0, and Glen Ridge 4-1 in the consolation match. The lone winner was the team of Indiero-Cataldo in the second doubles slot. The pair prevented a double shutout.

Immediate Gain — The Bucs' Frank Fazzini burst past the outstretched hand of Nutley's Brian Miller for a four-yard gain early in the second quarter.

Deep Run — Raider back Matt Noone takes the handoff from Anthony Anzevino and picks up three yards deep in side his own territory late in the second period.

Small Shock — Nick Petti burst from a pile of bodies to score Nutley's first touchdown of the season with 2:34 left in the first quarter. The TD made the score 7-6.

The Bomb — Ken Constantino gathers in a pass from John Melillo and runs 72 yards for a touchdown. The score at 5:04 of the first quarter put Belleville in front 6-0.

Trench Warfare — In the center of the mayhem, Matt Noone of Nutley is stopped by Anthony D'Agostino of Belleville for a one-yard gain, leaving the Raiders at their own 14 early in the third quarter.

Slippery When Wet — Behind the coverage of Danny Palumbo, Buc QB John Melillo gets off at a pass early in the first period. The intended receiver, Ken Constantino, had trouble hanging on to the wet pigskin.

Side by Side — The Belleville defense faces the Nutley offense in one of the first plays of what turned out to be a typical barnburner between the two teams Friday night.

Buc Boot — With John Melillo doing the holding, Robbie Cancelliere kicks the extra point after Belleville's first TD. Attempting a block is Nutley's Brian Miller.

Wary Eyed — Belleville's Paul Scheuplein picks up some short yardage early in the second half as Frank Fazzini heads off Nutley's Rich Cavalli.

Game-Winner — Buc quarterback John Melillo heads straight toward the goal line. A moment later, he cut sharply to his right to score the winning touchdown.

Lamberti's Buc Shots

were all season, came away with the championship.

The rather boring NBA has now started a new season and the teams will play 82 long games before the more interesting playoffs begin. These millionaires dressed in basketball uniforms should play about 65 games that count while the other 17 will be "off" games that put the most avid fan to sleep.

Now for this week's picks. The Giants travel to San Diego next week to face the great Chargers. If San Diego's passing game can be contained, maybe the Giants will make it close. Chances are they won't win though. San Diego 24, Giants 16.

The Jets return home to face a good Seattle team. The Jets have never beaten Seattle and are hurt by a number of injuries. Seattle has two shutouts in its history, one of them against the Jets in 1977. The Seahawk offense is as good as any in the NFL and the defense should give Todd a hard time all afternoon. Seattle 31, Jets 24.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was what team made the playoffs in only its third year in the NFL. The answer, the Cincinnati Bengals. Cincinnati entered the league in 1968 and won the AFC Central in 1970 with an 8-6 record. They lost in the first round of the playoffs to the eventual Super Bowl champ, Baltimore, 17-0.

For this week's quiz, name the first teams that the Tampa Bay Bucs and Seattle Seahawks ever defeated. A hint: Seattle won its first in 1976 over an AFC team, while Tampa Bay won its first over an NFC team in 1977.

Cobra soccer teams split pair of taut battles with Nutley foes

By Fred Lardaro

You might just as well wave a red flag before a bull for the players are never quite so intense or reckless as when Belleville and Nutley teams collide. The Belleville Division IV soccer squad upended the visiting Raiders 3-1 in Northern Counties League action Saturday. The Division III Cobras were not so fortunate, suffering their first setback of the season 2-0 facing a Nutley team at DeMuro Park, Nutley.

In other matches, Division II lost to strong Allendale 5-0, while Division V knotted Oakland 0-0.

High scoring Georgio Ricci put Division IV out in front early with a blast off a pass from Keith Woods. The ball exploded upon the goalie who almost managed to parry the ball over the crossbar. Belleville applied good pressure but was unable to score again until the second half.

Billy Bustamonte registered two goals which sandwiched Nutley's lone score in the second period. At the 56-minute mark, Bustamonte broke down the leftwing, splitting two defenders as he entered the penalty area. The diminutive forward feigned a pass to Sal Woodcock before firing a shot to the upper far post for a score.

On his second run, the ball was being volleyed about the midfield when stopper Michael Gable leaped high in the air, heading a beautiful pass to Keith Woods who swung the ball to Ricci. Georgio sent Bustamonte running onto a deep pass down the left wing. Bustamonte again worked the ball through double coverage to beat the goalie.

Late in the match with the score 3-1, Belleville goalkeeper Mondo Nardone was called upon to defend against a penalty kick which would have assuredly breathed new life into the opposing offense. Nardone leaped to his right making an incredible save but could not maintain possession of the ball. The ball rolled antagonizingly inside the 6-yard line and it seemed as if all of Nutley was charging to it. Nardone, with good reflexes, was quick to his feet to pull in the ball before the threatening onslaught, frustrating one of Nutley's golden scoring opportunities.

Playing very well on defense for Belleville were Jim Dunphy and Michael Gable. Tommy "Catman" Morris also played well at an unfamiliar position in the midfield.

This week Division IV signed Gustavo Lijo out of the Rec League to bolster the lineup. The team has also added the expertise of Nick D'Aloia to the coaching staff.

Meanwhile, the Division III Cobras added new meaning to the word futility by dropping a close 2-0 decision to Nutley while outshooting their opponents 36 to eight.

Billy Donnerstag was exceptional in Belleville goals. "The Doctor" as he is affectionately known to his teammates, turned in a courageous effort, making difficult saves on breakaway runs on goal.

Nutley scored off a corner kick with 10 seconds remaining in the first half, but the late goal failed to deflate the locals.

The Cobras returned in the second half determined to score, only to be denied time and time again by their inability to beat a very hot Nutley keeper. With such great effort being devoted to the offense, Nutley could only answer with breakaways using long-legged forwards to their greatest potential. That made for extremely exciting end-to-end soccer action.

With 12 minutes remaining in the match and Nutley in possession, Belleville fullback Freddie Cruz was forcing his opponent carrying the ball outside. The linesman waved his flag to signal that the ball had crossed the sideline, signalling that Belleville should be awarded a throw-in. The referee, from the far side of the field, overruled his linesman. Naturally the Nutley player wasn't going to halt his charge to the goal. However, defender Cruz and sweeper Eddie Acosta did stop. Realizing that the referee was allowing play to continue, Acosta began a dogged retreat in an attempt to head off the advancing Nutley player.

In goals, Donnerstag, assessing the dire situation, realized that his only appropriate course of action was to leave the goal mouth. Donnerstag charged from the goal, throwing his body before the kick. The ball smashed him in the stomach, sounding a loud, hollow "THUD," and rebounded high in the air. Under uncontrollable momentum, both the Nutley player and Acosta stamped over the fallen goalie. Remarkably, Donnerstag was able to emerge from mud and the twisted bodies to grab the ball out of the air, falling off balance onto his back. A beautiful save, right? Wrong. A second Nutley player kicked the ball out of the goalie's hands for Nutley's second goal.

The Cobras continued the pressure with Alan Ruopp, Joe Christ, Alberto Chafar and Freddie Calvache on the forward line, but Nutley managed to hold on for a victory.

Division II dropped to 2-2-1 with a 5-0 loss to Allendale. Players of merit were goalkeeper Brian Cook, sweeper Rick DePrizio, halfbacks Charlie Kingalua, Santiago Borja and Nick Amato.

Division V tied unbeaten Oakland 0-0. Steve Tice was impressive in goals. The team found great success with a 3-3-4 alignment, switching from its previous four-forward front. John Napolitano, Ray Caruso, Doug Hoogendyk, Chris Oese and Anselmo DiFabio played well

Football squad meeting tough Indians Saturday

Mark Stevens, the man with the magic arm who could throw a ball nearly the length of a football field, is hurling his perfect spirals at Purdue. But just when you thought it was safe to play a game with Passaic again, Indian Coach Tom Elsasser has come up with another fine team that should present a major challenge to the Bucs Saturday afternoon.

The game will begin 1:30 p.m. at Passaic, and the youthful but talented Indians will be looking to take their fifth scalp of the season without a loss.

Passaic opened campaign '80 by thrashing Memorial 23-0. A 22-12 beating of Don Bosco and a 29-6 whipping of Vailsburg followed before last Saturday's big clash with powerhouse Bergen Catholic. The Indians prevailed 8-6 in an extremely tight defensive battle. "It was our biggest win in three years," a proud Elsasser told The Belleville Times Monday night.

Elsasser, now in his seventh year at Passaic, could be extra proud because his team starts just four seniors. In fact, the three main agents of the victory this past weekend were all underclassmen. Junior right guard Frank Lipscomb scored a 76-yard touchdown to give Passaic a 6-0 lead in the third quarter, and it was sophomore quarterback Mike Volpe who passed to freshman fullback Craig Heywood (6-1, 220) for the two-point conversion.

The Indians aren't overpowering this season, but they have size where it counts and speed all over the place. "We're not a real big football team," said Elsasser, but I think we're quick. We don't have any fat kids, we're just very, very aggressive."

The offense contains a lot of talent. At center is Curtis Gaines, with senior Chris Mincey joining Lipscomb at guard. The right tackle is Pat Trestacost and the left tackle is 6-4, 245-pound senior James Moore. "Moore is one of the best tackles in the state, I would say. Everybody's after him," commented Elsasser.

Scott Durham, another senior, is the tight end, with junior Melvin Ross at tailback. Sam Ramos plays slot back, while Tom Doole and Glenn Washington are in and out as wide receivers.

The defense, which Elsasser feels is his best ever at Passaic, boasts many of the same players. Lipscomb and sophomore Tyrone Stowe are the inside linebackers, with Haywood and George Randolph on the outside. Junior James Battle and sophomore Roger Newsome are the defensive ends, while Moore and Roger Nelson play tackle. Durham is the safety, with Ramos and Ross the halfbacks. Stowe and Newsome turned in a critical play Saturday by sacking the Bergen Catholic quarterback as he was attempting to pass for a two-point conversion in the fourth quarter.

Elsasser has seen Belleville on two occasions and his scouts haven't missed a game. The coach is impressed if not overawed by the Bucs. "I think they're the same Belleville team they've been the last two or three years. They're well coached, they're a real good unit, they do things well as far as timing with that wing-T offense," said Elsasser. "They're probably the best wing-T team in the state year after year."

"They knocked off a good Montclair team and they beat Nutley last week," the coach continued. "The only time they were a little bit outclassed was against Livingston, but Livingston is probably one of the top teams in the state."

Elsasser sees his team as "pretty much even" with Belleville, even though they have gotten back to him that the Bucs can't think the Indians' youth might work against them. "That's something we're going to use," said the coach.

Kidney group holding dance in November

The Northern New Jersey chapter of the National Association of Patients on Hemodialysis and Transplantation (NAPHT) is sponsoring a fund-raising dinner-dance, "Thanksgiving Fiesta," Saturday, Nov. 15, at the Imperial Manor, Paramus.

Thomas Conforti of Bloomfield is chairman of the dinner-dance. Yolanda LaRossa of Belleville is a committee member. The Northern New Jersey chapter, primarily comprised of people with chronic kidney disease, encompasses Essex, Union, Hudson, Bergen, Passaic, Morris and Sussex Counties. Proceeds from the dinner-dance will help provide kidney patients with a second chance at life. The chapter's goal is program under which patient helps patient.

Since inception, NAPHT has been instrumental in easing the great financial burden of living with a chronic illness. It has provided a summer camp for children on dialysis and has made available educational programs to help patients better understand their "living on a machine."

To continue its work, NAPHT looks to people in the communities of North Jersey to assist its effort to raise funds. Tickets to the "Thanksgiving Fiesta" can be obtained by writing to Frank Caruso, 124 Newark Ave., Bloomfield, N.J., 07003. Donations to the organization can be mailed to Nora B. Ahmet, 822 Pennington St., Elizabeth, N.J., 07208.

Love of people key to success of town nurses

By Mike Olohan

There's what you might call a little intra-office rivalry between Belleville's Health Department and its nursing service. Located right next to each other on the first floor at 383 Washington Ave., both groups have big responsibilities thrust upon them, but all involved maintain a healthy sense of humor which enables them to do their jobs with care, competence and compassion.

When the health department received some ink a few weeks ago, the nurses were good-naturedly ribbing Health Inspector Tom Longo and his cohorts about their brief, but complimentary mention in the article and why Longo's department happened to be singled out. So Longo, engaging in speedy negotiations, decided The Times, or rather hinted that The Times, should also do a feature on the nurses. His suggestion was more than welcome.

The five nurses who work under Marie Sorrentino, supervisor of Belleville's public health nurses, do an admirable job. They must deal with people under stress, people worried about their problems, aches, pains and afflictions, and make them feel comfortable.

To do this requires dedication. To some the word "dedication" has become meaningless because it's tossed about so freely that it has lost its impact. But in nursing, dedication, along with a love of people is crucial to doing the often-fatiguing job of helping others and being there when you're needed.

"We're only a phone call away," says Joannie Kurek, who was first to return from last Thursday's appointed rounds. Miss Kurek, Mrs. Sorrentino and Judy Cantarella discussed the nursing services offered to residents.

But before any interviewing even began, the staff was paid perhaps the highest compliment it could earn. A middle-aged man with a slight paunch was having his blood pressure checked, by Mrs. Sorrentino when a Times reporter entered. The man was genuinely ecstatic about the warmth and helpfulness of the staff, especially Mrs. Sorrentino, who was then advising him to take his hypertension pills and continue reducing his weight.

When the reporter joked that it seemed the man had been hired by the nurses to boost public relations, the man replied that he hadn't and that all the nurses were doing an all-around great job. That honest assessment is one that attests to the constant effort made by Belleville's nursing staff.

Wednesday of last week, the department held a mini-health fair that provided a large range of tests. Besides the nurses already mentioned, Nancy Verian, Peggy Lally and Barbara Romano were on duty.

The nurses also perform several regular services. They will take blood pressure readings any day from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., and Belleville's is one of the few nearby health departments still performing this vital service. Close to 400 blood pressure readings are taken every month, said Mrs. Sorrentino, who emphasized that monitoring blood pressure is an easy way to guard against heart attacks and strokes.

Wednesdays, a free cancer-screening clinic is held. Women are checked with a pap-smear and breast examination, both preventive measures to guard against a cancer. Besides the pap-smear and breast examinations, a colo-rectal test can also be done to check for cancer. All tests are made by appointment only.

A pediatrician visits on Tuesdays, and parents can make appointments to see him from 10 a.m. to noon by calling the department. A complete physical check-up is provided, along with a conference between parents and doctor. The nurses also helped with the annual screening of Belleville schoolchildren for communicable diseases done in September, and that program succeeded spectacularly.

Asked why they decided to be nurses, Mrs. Sorrentino, Mrs. Cantarella and Miss Kurek all noted that helping people has always been an important part of their lives.

"I think they're covering the town very well," says Mrs. Sorrentino of her five-nurse contingent, adding that her department isn't understaffed. "No, we're very fortunate, all the nurses are very cooperative," she said.

She said some of the older people who frequent the nursing department come mainly to socialize, but she stressed that everyone enjoyed talking with seniors. "We're all very receptive," she noted.

Judy Cantarella, who visits many local senior citizens, pointed out you "have to be a good listener" when you visit Belleville's older residents. She said some feel abandoned by their children, their Social Security benefits fall way short of expenses, and skyrocketing prices bother elderly citizens.

Nursing Around — Sharing a smile after a hard day are Belleville nurses Joannie Kurek, Nancy Verian, Barbara Romano, Peggy Lally and Judy Cantarella who are standing around their warm-hearted supervisor, Marie Sorrentino. The nurses, who work out of Belleville's Health Department, find that the keys to doing their job are a good sense of humor and a love of people. They perform a wide variety of duties in providing basic medical services for residents here. Belleville is one of the few towns in the area that still provides some of those services, and they are free of charge.

Not having enough local volunteers to visit older people or just talk with them to show concern limits what Mrs. Cantarella herself can do. She said she wished more young people would help out. "Seniors won't ask for help," she said, adding that she sometimes gets depressed because so few townspeople seem to care about Belleville's older residents.

However, Mrs. Sorrentino, Miss Kurek and Mrs. Cantarella all find their work mostly "uplifting" rather than depressing.

Mrs. Cantarella noted, though, that a narrow perspective on life leads to many senior citizens' problems. "Part of the problem is they (homebound seniors) just worry. The seniors who are outgoing don't have the problems. They (homebound) can't realize the inflation that's occurred but others who get out do, and handle things better," she said.

"You have to be sort of a human services agency to help all the people," said Mrs. Sorrentino, noting that Belleville's nurses are still explaining the Vial of Life program, under which a capsule containing pertinent medical information is stored in an older person's refrigerator in case he takes sick so that the information is readily available to medical personnel.

"Some people just get lost in the shuffle (of daily living)," pointed out Mrs. Sorrentino, emphasizing that the nursing department offers refuge for those temporarily adrift. "Some people come down here all the time," she added.

The nurses can make patient referrals and tell them about New Jersey's Pharmaceutical Assistance for the Aged program, and other state and local programs they might benefit from. All the nurses said. Public Affairs Commissioner Vincent Strumolo backs them up, keeping department morale high.

Mrs. Sorrentino stressed that Belleville's school nurses also do an outstanding job in watching over Belleville's 5,000 youngsters. "I think Belleville (residents) are very lucky. They really are," said Mrs. Sorrentino.

Kiwanians plan youth program

The Kiwanis Club of Belleville will undertake a community service program aimed at informing the public about the extent and kind of communication disabilities faced by today's young people. disabilities which may be unrealized but cripple children. The program, called CD or "Communication Disabilities," is the result of studies available to Kiwanis showing that many youngsters with apparent behavioral or learning problems are really the victims of undetected communications deficiencies.

In announcing CD, Frank L. Pitt, president of the Belleville club, described the program as one of public education, followed by pinpointing for the public the most serious types of communication disabilities. The specifics, he said, will be the result of a Kiwanis-sponsored community survey. Following the survey, the club will undertake various action programs to help alleviate the problem.

Pitt noted that a sizeable percentage of the nation's young people may be suffering from some sort of functional disability, directly related to their inability to communicate properly. The most common of such disabilities are in the hearing, sight and speech areas. However, they are not confined to these obvious disabilities. They may include learning disability, language barriers and the "isolation barriers" of mental and physical problems which keep the boy or girl out of contact with the public and with their peers.

The new Kiwanis CD program was announced in Anaheim, Calif., this June by the newly-elected president of Kiwanis International, Merald T. Enstad of Hergus Falls, Minn.

Club Builder — Governor Roddy Coutts of the New Jersey District of Optimist International awards Tom Spillane of Belleville, new club building chairman for the district. Under Spillane's leadership, six new Optimist clubs were organized this past year in the district, two over the goal.

Spillane awarded by state Optimists

Tom Spillane of Belleville was recently presented with a plaque for his highly successful efforts this past year in building new Optimist clubs. Roddy Coutts, governor of the New Jersey District of Optimist International, made the presentation to Spillane, new club building chairman of the New Jersey district and a member of the Belleville Optimist Club.

"This is the first time in the history of the New Jersey district that so many new clubs have been built in one year," said Coutts at the award ceremony.

The goal of the New Jersey district was four new clubs. Spillane was able to help organize six, in Plainfield, Swedesboro, Newark, Chester, Woodbury and Springfield. That number represented 150 percent of the goal.

In accepting the plaque, Spillane said, "Exceeding our quota was a team effort of all New Jersey Optimists. I am proud to accept this plaque on behalf of their efforts."

An Optimist member for six years, Spillane has served a president of the Belleville club and many other district positions, including a two-year term as lieutenant governor.

Optimist Convention
Three Belleville Optimists and their wives recently journeyed to Cape May to attend the 16th annual convention of the New Jersey District.

President Jack Gurrera and his wife Angela, Spillane and his wife Barbara, and immediate past president Frank Santasieri and his wife Mary comprised the Belleville Optimist delegation.

The three-day convention opened on a Friday with a business session. That was followed by a boat cruise for husbands and wives. Saturday's activities included the closing business session, a wives' luncheon and pool party and the governor's ball.

The Optimist Club of Belleville was the No. 1 club in the New Jersey district last year and hopes to retain the title for the coming year.

Rabid BHS rooter cheers alma mater

By Keith Santulli

Why? Why would anyone who graduated from high school dress up like a pirate and run up and down the sidelines of a football field? Rick Kiernan does, and although he's not the school's official mascot, the 1980 graduate dresses up for the games and play the part.

Although last Tuesday he was hurt in an automobile accident and had to spend a couple of days in Columbus Hospital, missing the Montclair game, he attended the Nutley game Friday, cheering the Blues to a victory.

His enthusiasm and school spirit are an enigma to the Belleville fans who turn out each week for the games. He sets a good example of what a real fan is. Staying with your team and never saying die are a few rules to root by.

Rick may have graduated from school and may be hurt, but he will be out there rooting for our team with the rest of us.

The fact that Rick is minoring in drama at college contributes to his enthusiasm. As he explains, "I can use the experience — maybe I'll wind up in Hollywood someday."

Students split evenly on dress preference

By Colleen Nilsen

Designer or non-designer? This is a question Belleville High School students have been asking themselves more and more frequently.

It seems that since June the trend toward flashy, individualized attire has heightened the corridors of BHS to the point according to some students that "it's more enjoyable coming to school because of the electrified atmosphere."

The School Page realized that this has become a frequent question of our students and we ran a survey throughout the high school asking what kinds of clothes the students do wear.

Out of 96 students surveyed the results were surprising. It seems as though a third prefer designer clothes, a third prefer non-designer and a third of the students wear both types of clothes. This is somewhat amazing considering that if this survey were conducted last year, those wearing designer clothes would probably have been considerably fewer in number.

In addition to asking what kinds of clothing students wear, the School Page inquired as to the students' reaction to the attire of others.

Designer clothes brought comments about the wearers, including "must be rich" or "they are highly fashionable."

Comments about non-designer wearers included "cannot afford to pay outrageous prices for another pair of pants" or "These people are not concerned with impressing anyone."

The last question, "What do you think when you see people wearing contemporary clothes, that is, faded jeans, flannel shirts or T-shirts," brought a variety of answers. Many students felt that these people "like rock music" and "are really down to earth and comfortable."

Other reactions to this subject were "I don't want to be an advertisement for someone else," "As long as you look presentable it doesn't matter what you're wearing, as long as it is neat and clean," "People who come to school looking sloppy should be sent home because they give the school a bad name."

Unofficial Mascot — Rick Kiernan is caught in a pensive moment during Friday night's football game with Nutley. The 1980 BHS grad, garbed in buccaneer costume, has returned to his alma mater to root the Blue-Gold on in their weekend battles.

Gymnastics is forgotten sport at BHS

By Debbie Garofalo

Although Belleville is a sports-oriented town, gymnastics is not getting its full share of the press. The team has lost its first four meets against some of the best gymnastics squads in the state. The scores thus far have been Verona 64.15-46.75, Millburn 22.6-16.3, Montclair 63.35-48.95 and Madison 82.90-42.95.

The main reasons for the losses were inexperience and injury. The team has only been in existence for two years, while other teams have had eight to nine years' experience. "The girls are working hard," said Mrs. Carol Giuffrida, gymnastics advisor. "They are trying to do what they can't do, subsequently they get hurt."

Gina McCabe has done reasonably well in all three of her events. In the floor exercises, she has gotten from 3.45 to 4.4 points. On the beam, she has scored 1.3 to 3.45 and in her favorite event, vaulting, she has scored between a 5.35 and 6.66.

Laura Callahan, in my opinion, is the best all-around gymnast on the team. In all of her events, she has either been the top scorer for the team or tied for that honor. In the floor exercises, she has scored between 5.0 and 5.15, on the beam 4.25 to 4.45 and in vaulting between 5.3 and 6.9.

Mary Beth Del Tufo has done remarkably well in her two events. In vaulting, she's scored between 5.3 and 6.5 and on the floor exercises she's gotten 4.9 to 5.05. I feel with a little more practice, Mary Beth can become an excellent gymnast.

Heleen Dyas has done well considering she is only a freshman. She has gotten between 2.4 and 3.8 on the beam and 4.2 to 6.0 in vaulting.

Debbie Glaser is the only bar artist who hasn't suffered any injuries. She has scored between 2 and 3.5 on the bar.

Dayna Cetrulo was only in two of the four meets because of an injury to her ankle. In the floor exercises, she scored a 4.8 and 4.95.

Pam Zarrello had only performed in one meet because she sprained her back. She scored a 1.75 on the bar.

Because of an injury to her ankle, Sherry Muccigrosso has only competed in two meets. She scored a 0.6 and 1.65 on the bars.

Pupils at School 4 plan Halloween disco party

October days will be busy and exciting ones for School 4 special education classes.

A Halloween disco party has been planned for Oct. 31. This is an event which will combine a number of learning activities. For social studies, the children will be doing research into the origin of Halloween. Their home economics activities for this month will include planning a special menu. All refreshments will be prepared by the children. The menu will be black cat cake, goblin's brew, apple uglies and jack-o-lantern cookies.

Last but not least, the children are encouraged to use their imaginations by creating original and interesting costumes.

As plans for the party were discussed and reviewed, there seemed to be a rhythmic tapping of feet and clapping of hands. Some of the youngsters were heard to say, "Let's do this again next year." Anyone for trick or treat to the beat of your favorite disco tune????!!

Belleville High video class needs cameras to go with lights, action

Although Belleville High School now offers a TV course, it will probably be awhile before a couple of new cameras can be bought to help boost the town through locally-produced programs.

Trustee Mike Chieffo, also host of Channel 7's "Belleville in Review" show presented Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m., has been working with high school students since the new season began.

The students are in Miss Marilyn Mango's media communications class. Chieffo and media specialist Larry Herman, also the BHS librarian, hope that $2,000 worth of equipment can be bought. That would give the students an adequate video taping system.

The media communications club, which could be started if trustees go along with Chieffo's $2,000 request, would eventually reimburse them through fund-raisers. Although Belleville shares a local access cable channel with Bloomfield, Chieffo believes a board investment in cable camera and video recording deck now would more than pay for itself in the years ahead.

He said trustees could use the equipment for public relations purposes, and also tape messages for local groups in case their members can't attend live shows.

However, School Superintendent Dr. John Greed said all money requests are being held up until Board Secretary-Administrator Mary Shader determines exactly how much is available.

Even a $700 book request from Junior High Principal Mario DiMaggio remains in limbo "until we know exactly where we are," said Greed.

Last Tuesday, Miss Mango's

class was taping State Sen. Anthony Imperiale (R-30) on Chieffo's "Belleville in Review," but was delayed by confusion resulting from a baffling array of wires leading from camera and taping equipment jacks.

"We're far behind the times (in TV production)," said Trustee John DiStasi, noting how other high schools have advanced equipment while Belleville doesn't.

Chieffo pointed out that actually any local resident can produce a tape and have it aired on Channel 7 as long as it's not in "poor taste or has commercial overtones."

Using the communications club and class to publicize local talent and events while providing entertainment is possible if the needed money is obtained. And Herman stressed that students are being handicapped by not having a new camera or editing deck. "There's no practical application of their skills," remarked Chieffo, adding that not only would Belleville students benefit from getting decent equipment but the whole town would as well.

Miss Mango's class will be visiting William Paterson College today to learn more about TV production and camera work — an experience that'll come in handy if Chieffo's request is granted.

Trustees seeking help in getting outside aid

Is the Belleville school system receiving all the federal and state funds it could be getting in order to reduce school taxes for local citizens? And if not, why not?

Those questions are already weighing heavily on the minds of school trustees who will soon interview at least one or two more consulting agencies in effort to reap federal and state funds for local education.

Bruno Associates of Newark, which already handles the town of Belleville's consulting chores, sent three representatives to a Monday board meeting two weeks ago, but two other firms were unable to make their scheduled presentations that night. However, listening to John Bruno and associate Craig Brown, trustees got an inkling as to how much they're probably missing out on because they don't have a full-time consulting firm.

In June 1979, Cora Boice and Candida Valiente, two local school activists, both emphasized that Belleville grants director George Nucera (now one of two junior high principals) was unable to obtain thousands of dollars in grants because the schools lacked a desegregation plan.

But since the plan was okayed March 3, only one trustee, Caesar Romano, has put any kind of emphasis on applying for money to which Belleville should now be entitled.

Trustees seemed favorable to the Bruno Associates presentation, but felt that other consulting firms should be brought in. They learned from board attorney Lawrence Schwartz that because consulting services aren't an item that must be bid on, they aren't forced to hire the firm with the lowest price.

Contacted at the Junior High Tuesday, Nucera pointed out that he was no longer involved with obtaining grants and didn't know how much funding would be available now that Belleville has a desegregation plan. "I would assume you can" apply for more federal grants, he said, however.

He acknowledged federal funds are probably available under the Basic Emergency School Aid Act (ESAA) to help Belleville with programs stemming from desegregation, notably "magnet" schools in fine arts, basic skills and advanced courses for academically talented youngsters.

However, Nucera noted that his new job was vice principal in charge of discipline at the junior high, not at all a position related to his title last year as grants director. Only Romano has pointed out that trustees may be missing out on big money since the position of grants director has been abolished.

"If we don't produce (more funding), the agreement's terminated," said John Bruno last week in speaking about a possible contract with the board. "You'll be getting back far more money than you're paying us," he added.

The burden of filling out complicated application forms, falls on the consulting agency trustees decide to hire. And Bruno stressed his firm handles all applications, besides keeping trustees informed of what new educational funds are available. The agency also lobbies in Trenton to obtain more local funds.

Most trustees looked relieved as well as happy that Bruno and Brown appeared ready and willing to begin obtaining funds, the second their firm was hired. Brown also noted that his agency would help obtain other school funds free of charge, a point that is sure not to hurt the agency's chances.

Bruno now handles consulting for Union City's board of education and Hudson County Community College. He said there wouldn't be a conflict if other neighboring or county boards were also represented by his firm.

Brown pointed to obtaining funds as the number one priority. If trustees have any suggestions or questions, the firm would be available to help and would attend the board's monthly public business session if necessary, he said.

Nucera said time and again that thousands of dollars were going to other districts because Belleville didn't have a desegregation plan. Now that Belleville does have such a plan, trustees will soon be taking advantage of it.

Nutley's school officials critical of local security

received a phone call reporting youths fighting along Passaic Avenue. Officers Spenser and Masi were detailed to the scene where they found groups of youths stoning the Nutley buses one of which was occupied by NHS band members. One 16-year-old was arrested for breaking a window on one of the buses with a rock.

Hordes of youths from both towns became involved in what was called the "biggest fight I've ever seen" by one BHS student, an eyewitness to the whole scene. "The police couldn't do nothing," said the youth, referring to the back-up units that were called to disperse the crowds.

Other eyewitnesses reported seeing groups of students from Belleville rushing across the lawn of the high school to "head off" a group of Nutley students who were cutting across the lawn to get to Passaic Avenue. A Belleville student said that a bunch of his classmates ran into an alley behind the high school and pulled aluminum pipes from a resident's lawn to use as weapons. The bulk of the fighting took place at this point, and more than one person on the scene reported seeing police, with nightsticks drawn, attempting to restore order. In all, two teenagers were arrested at the high school, but eyewitnesses said that police were grabbing anyone involved in the violence or carrying a weapon, and then releasing them in order to go after others.

Officers McGinn and Valse, who were patrolling the parking lot at the time, saw two youths engaged in a fight and broke it up, arresting a 14-year-old and later releasing him to his parents.

At the police station, desk officers were being flooded with calls from both Nutley and Belleville residents who reported seeing groups of student-age youths gathering in the areas of Passaic Avenue, Mitchell and Meacham Streets along the Belleville-Nutley borderline. Belleville police notified their counterparts in Nutley about the situation, and all available units were detailed to the Belleville-Nutley line where they dispersed the youths. Around 11 p.m. the fighting was brought under control, and the police returned to their regular patrols.

Belleville High School Principal John DeCesare denied Tuesday that any Belleville students were among those involved in the melee, saying "The police haven't notified us of any disciplinary action against any of our students." Belleville students, however, felt that the administration had "anticipated" the incident, and backed their statements up with reports of a Friday morning public address announcement at the high school during which they were told, "If anyone gets hit (at tonight's football game), walk away."

Nutley High Athletic Director Thomas Gallucci was critical of what he felt was the failure of Belleville police to stop the "first wave of kids" — about 100 of them who approached the Nutley side of the field. "I was sure the police would turn them back in the end zone," Gallucci said.

Gallucci said he became alarmed when a "second wave of kids and then a third wave of kids came over. Fights were breaking out in front of us and by then, there was little the police could do."

"I asked one officer to radio for help which eventually he did," Gallucci reported.

The number of police proved inadequate in controlling the swarms of juveniles, most appearing to be of junior high age, who ran by the score to the trouble spots as fighting broke out in one place after another outside the stadium.

Belleville police did a "very good job" in clearing the stadium, in Gallucci's view. The bus stoning incident marred the exit of the NHS band from the stadium, however, although other buses returned safely to Nutley.

The comments of Nutley officials took place at a meeting of the district's athletic committee. No decision was made on Nutley's continued participation in night games, though the feeling was officials there would play each scheduling decision by ear.

A public service message from this newspaper and the Advertising Council.

Richard Brown thought he was too young to have a stroke. He wasn't.

Because having a family, a good job and a bright future doesn't protect anyone from a stroke. In fact, nearly one million Americans — many with those assets — die of heart disease and stroke each year. And 200,000 of them die "too young."

The American Heart Association is fighting to reduce early death and disability from heart disease and stroke with research, professional and public education, and community service programs.

But more needs to be done.

You can help us support research and education by sending your dollars today to your local Heart Association, listed in your telephone directory.

"Generic Drugs"

The New Jersey Drug Utilization Review Council has published a drug formulary showing acceptable manufacturers for certain drugs where substitution on a prescription is mandated for the pharmacist, unless the patient or doctor specifies otherwise.
Question-How much can I save on a generic prescription?
Answer-This figure can vary from drug to drug, but a good ball-park figure is about 30 percent.
Question-Are all generics manufactured only by small generic companies?
Answer-No. There are many "branded generics" or other generic drugs manufactured by some of the larger drug companies in our country specifically to capitalize on the generics market.
Question-Do all medications have a generic equivalent?
Answer-No.
