TOWN NOT CONSERVING

Latest water figures discourage officials

Whether Belleville residents just aren't taking New Jersey's drought seriously or don't know how much they're conserving is a mystery, but what's known is that they are definitely not conserving anywhere near the 25 percent water cutback mandated more than a month ago by Gov. Brendan Byrne.

"They must think they've been doing a good job conserving, but they aren't," said local water monitor Steve Vogel, trying to ascertain why water use was up last week after a 2 percent drop just 14 days before.

After compiling readings from Belleville's "factory book," which lists the top water users in town, Vogel emphasized it's obvious that neither industries nor all townspeople are really doing their best in conserving water.

Just two weeks ago, the town showed a 10.6 percent water savings, but that mark, an improvement over the 8.8 percent readings for the previous two weeks, fell to 9.1 percent last week. From a low daily average of 561,129 cubic feet two weeks ago, the average rose to 570,700 cubic feet daily.

The Newark Water Company has reported only a 2.4 percent total reduction from previous consumption levels for all its customers, with reservoir levels at 32.2 percent on Saturday. The poor showing by Newark is disastrous, say state officials, who stress that unless everyone manages to cut back, they may be forced to begin tough enforcement of the mandatory 50-gallon per person daily limit and perhaps shut down some industries.

Since Belleville gets most of its water from Newark, the poor record is reflected in Newark's showing, though it's apparent other towns are even doing worse.

Vogel pointed out that several of Belleville's big users have cut back significantly, notably Universal Foods, the town's largest individual consumer, which reduced demand from an average 107,000 cubic feet per day in July, August and September to 61,000 cubic feet per day in October.

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital went from an average 33,000 cubic feet daily to 29,000 in October. Wallace and Tiernan went from 25,000 to about 20,000 daily October average and Walter Kidde cut usage from 22,000 cubic feet a day in July to 15,000 cubic feet daily in October.

Savings for most big users ranged about 10 to 15 percent over past months, but some still aren't reducing consumption enough, says Vogel. "Some are doing the job and some aren't," he said Tuesday afternoon, emphasizing a meeting with Belleville's big users will probably take place soon to enable them to discuss water conservation ideas.

Work underway on BHS addition

By next May, Belleville High School's new $775,795 vocational arts addition should be completed and the occasion will be cause for both celebration and somber reflection.

School trustees, local students and parents will rejoice that more room for vocational programs has finally been added to Belleville High, but are obviously upset now by the increasing costs of construction — soaring prices that will definitely limit the renovation and building of any future educational facilities.

"This (vocational addition) is something that's been needed very badly," says Board President Ernie Zoppi. "You need the space up there," he added, referring to the ninth grade's scheduled move to Belleville High next year.

Just recently, Belleville High Principal John DeCesare said next year would be "a disaster" if the vocational addition weren't finished in time for September 1981 since the school will be overcrowded for several years even with the addition.

Construction began last week, with heavy machinery scooping out the dirt area along Division Avenue behind the arts department. The addition was originally estimated at $679,000, to be paid by the state after Belleville trustees decided to sell either short-term notes or long-term bonds for financing.

However, because of state delays in approving the contract since the February bond referendum passed, trustees have been unable to keep the cost below $679,000. The September estimate was $775,795, some $96,000 above what the board will be getting. Most of the cost overrun, say trustees, will be paid from capital outlay and returned budget money.

The nine-month delay between local bond approval and the start of construction irritated several trustees at a September board meeting at

First snow comes early

As this season's first light covering of white filtered down from above Monday night, most local residents stayed indoors and no accidents were reported due to the snow.

About an inch of the moist, white flakes gathered on the ground locally, but further north several inches were reported. Numerous small accidents took place on major roadways, but local people just watched the unexpected white night unfold from the comfort of their warm homes.

"No," responded a police dispatcher who worked through Monday's snow panorama, when asked if there were any fender-benders. He noted it was a typical, quiet Monday night in Belleville, with not much local activity.

After the snow had fallen late Monday, a misty, soft rain began, pretty much melting down some of the accumulated white stuff and

Quiet Critics — Listening closely to Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro last Wednesday night are Geriatrics Center volunteer George Meyer, Resident Council President Bill Rundle and Vice President Bob Dayton.

Elderly blast conditions at the Geriatrics Center

By Mike Olohan

That big building on the hill was visited last week by several local politicians, among them Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro. He told the building's residents, at least those who could make it downstairs to hear him, that there would be improvements in food quality at their home. Not many thought there would really be any changes, but some at least felt it was heartening to see their County executive show up.

The big building on the hill is Belleville's Geriatrics Center, run by the county which Shapiro heads. About 300 older adults, many abandoned by their children, live in the building — formerly a hospital used to house those with contagious diseases.

Some 50 elderly activists, still chipper in their 60s, 70s, 80s and 90s, gathered along with about 75 family members of hospital residents to discuss problems at the center.

Although roaches have made permanent residence in different rooms throughout the hospital, new director John Merrigan says they'll soon be eliminated when an exterminator is hired. Several patients and their families complained about the roaches, "describing them as 'disgusting,'" while stressing they're a "horror story" that no one knows about.

One lady told about "the scum" that surrounds her bathtub that no one ever cleans. Shapiro asked her for her room number, adding the bathtub would soon be cleaned. Although no problem seemed to shock Shapiro, he occasionally seemed unsure what could be done to help residents, especially about their No. 1 complaint, lousy food.

Merrigan said warm food arrives cold "and cold food arrives warm," which pleases nobody. He didn't have any quick answers to remedy the problem, nor did he or Shapiro know what to do when both 90-year-old Tillie Till and 94-year-old Louise Maniscalco told them they, along with others, often go to bed hungry because their food tastes so bad.

"The food's prepared like they're feeding animals," said George Meyers after the meeting. Meyers spends part of every day at the center helping out. He is looking for volunteers, "anyone willing to give just maybe an hour several times a week, or even less, to show a little 'tender loving care and concern'" for the many patients whose sons and daughters have long ago deserted them.

A shortage of nurses also hurts the hospital's care of its residents. "It's a difficult situation to improve because of the competitive market... certainly, there are problems here like a lack of nursing staff," admitted Shapiro. He said the 5 percent budget cap and inflation will cause him to axe $23 million worth of

Judge delays ruling on School 1 lawsuit

No decision has been reached on the Board of Education's request to dismiss the PTA suit seeking to reopen School 1, however Newark Administrative Law Judge Arnold Samuels is expected to issue a ruling in two to three weeks.

Contending that Belleville trustees were going to close School 1 whether State Education Commissioner Fred Burke approved their desegregation plan or not, board attorney Lawrence Schwartz last Thursday charged that the PTA should have filed a lawsuit within 90 days of trustees' March desegregation decision to shut down the school. Since the PTA didn't, its case should now be tossed out of court, he said.

However, Schwartz stressed that School 1 parents still have a legal right to challenge the entire desegregation plan, not just School 1's closing, since they filed their legal appeal within 90 days of Burke's July 24 desegregation approval.

Judge Samuels failed to reach a decision after hearing about an hour of oral argument on whether the 90-day legal appeal limit began from March 3 or July 24, but comments he made seemed to indicate he'd uphold the Board of Education's position.

Case of two teachers sent on to Essex jury

The case of two teachers accused of reselling Belleville High School football tickets and pocketing the receipts will now be sent to an Essex County grand jury for review to determine if there is enough evidence to indict the pair.

The two BHS teachers and an attorney appeared before Municipal Court Judge Edward Abromson last Thursday morning and waived their right to a probable cause hearing, preferring to have their case reviewed by the grand jury right away.

Had the teachers not waived their right to a hearing, the state would have presented its case against the two to Judge Abromson. He would then have had the power to refer it to the grand jury.

As it stands now, it is up to the grand jury to determine if there is enough evidence to send the case to trial. If the jury decides that there is not enough evidence to indict, the case could end up back in court here with the teachers facing lesser charges, probably "disorderly person" counts.

The men are also being brought up on charges by the Board of Education for conspiracy and improper disposition of entrusted funds.

The two were suspended without pay last Monday night when the Board of Education met to discuss the matter. School officials said that the suspension was the first of several steps that could lead to the dismissal of the teachers. A date will soon be set for the teachers to appear at a State Department of Education hearing.

The daily costs of psychiatric hospitalization are often less than the cost of hospitalization for other reasons. Many health insurance plans today cover the cost of treatment for mental conditions while the patient is confined to a hospital. This is so although there is a wide variation as to the extent of such coverage. Many will also pay for treatment as an outpatient but the percentage of the bill covered, or dollar limits, are usually less than in the case of other types of illness. Outpatient benefits, however, are being written into an increasing number of group policies including many Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans.

When the treatment for your illness includes a prescription drug be sure to bring it to us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956 for prompt service. We are Medicaid and Blue Cross approved and stock a wide selection of convalescent aids for sale or rent. Don't forget to pick up enough film, and perhaps a new camera, for the holiday. Fitter Faucets — The water shortage has hospitals as well as residents concerned. The Clara Maass maintenance department recently conducted a check of faucets in hospital rooms to help put an end to water waste. Here Gerald Messina, director of maintenance, gives advice to Ralph Cicalese of Belleville on how to stop a leaky faucet.

Belleville's consumer affairs director offers tips for holiday sales shoppers

By Mike Olohan

Even the smartest shoppers can't remain constantly vigilant, so as the holiday season gets closer and closer, local consumer affairs director Ed Leonard offers some nuggets of wisdom.

Since food and drink tend to be plentiful around Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's celebrations, Leonard advises anyone shopping to check the prices on food items, and watch the items as they're put through the computer scanner checkout, which is featured at several area supermarkets.

He says sometimes a store will be charging more than the price marked on a particular item, and that the real price will be programmed into the computer which scans the product's code numbers.

Other times, he says, although an item is on sale, sometimes the management fails to readjust the price on the computer for the sale.

Though the price marked on the item is the sale price, the computer still has that product down for its regular price.

Thus, when the item is scanned, the computer rings up the regular price rather than the sale price, and you're overcharged, says Leonard.

Leonard notes that sometimes stores have circulars, distributed only in-house, which place certain items on sale. Unless you remind the cashiers, he cautions, they may not be aware of what products are on sale, and again, you can be overcharged.

Leonard stresses that stores should not be doing any of the above things, however, he says it's possible that stores can make mistakes unintentionally. Some don't, though, and that's why it pays to double-check things yourself.

According to Leonard, there's no consumer affairs law to force stores to immediately change either price stickers or computer scanners when a sale begins.

"Unless you say it's on sale (when it is), most places will charge you the old (higher) price," says Leonard. The local consumer affairs inspector, also Belleville's weights and measures monitor, has repeatedly attacked New Jersey's consumer affairs laws as "too vague," with innumerable "gray areas" where consumer inspectors aren't given any power to help marketplace victims.

"A lot of times it's just carelessness and errors," says Leonard, referring to sale prices not changed or small overcharges. But he points out that one small overcharge can lead to big profits especially in high-volume stores.

Leonard said he wished consumer affairs laws were "as tough as weights and measures laws." Those laws set a short-weight tolerance level. Stores may vary a specific percentage from weights which are spelled out.

But Leonard dislikes that system; he feels corporations will simply short-weight all products the allowed tolerance, possibly saving millions over the long run while only seldom being caught and fined. "We didn't need scaled (allowance) percentages. I don't know of anyone who went out of business because of what we had," he stressed, referring to allowing a weight difference of one-half of one percent of a product's weight, minus the tear, or packaging surrounding the item.

Anyone with questions about any consumer-related problem, or anyone needing more information about weights and measures rules can contact Leonard at Town Hall by calling 759-9100.

Two residents suffer from traffic injuries

Two Belleville residents injured in traffic accidents remained hospitalized with serious injuries this week.

Eleven-year-old Michael Blair of Washington Avenue was in critical condition at Mountainside Hospital after being hit by a car last Wednesday night.

The boy was walking his dog on Park Avenue in Nutley at approximately 9:45 p.m. when the pet apparently pulled him into the street. A car traveling west on Park Avenue struck both the boy and his dog. The dog was killed.

The driver, a 33-year-old Belleville man, told police he was driving 25 mph when the accident occurred.

An ambulance from the Nutley Rescue Squad took the boy to Clara Maass Memorial Hospital where he was placed in the intensive care unit. The boy was transferred to Mountainside Monday. He is "suffering from a fractured skull."

Twenty-two-year-old Dennis Sisharro was still in serious condition at Mountainside after an accident Nov. 9. The man was driving his motorcycle north on Passaic Avenue toward Greylock Parkway when he apparently lost control of the bike and skidded into a car traveling south on Passaic and turning left onto Greylock. He was suffering from head injuries.

Nutleyite nabbed for selling drugs

Belleville police arrested a Nutley man last Thursday after an extensive investigation into drug selling in and outside of Belleville High School.

The man was apprehended at about 4:30 p.m. in the parking lot of the Plaza Shopping Center. According to Deputy Chief of Detectives Frank Haight, the suspect had in his possession over 500 "black beauty" amphetamines and a half-pound of marijuana with a street value of $2,000.

The suspect was charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance, possession of over 25 grams of marijuana and possession with intent to distribute. He is being held in lieu of $25,000 bail and will appear in Municipal Court Dec. 14.

Haight said the investigation was about two weeks old, the police acting on information which had been received in connection with drug dealing in and around the high school. He also added that principals in the investigation were Sgt. Martin McNish, Det. Michael Petrillo and Det. William Escott. Haight said the investigation was continuing, "with police looking for any possible accomplices."

Prayer for today

You are ushering in another day
Untouched and freshly new
So here I come to ask You, God
If You'll renew me, too,
Forgive the many errors
That I made yesterday
And let me try again, dear God
To walk closer in Thy way . . .
For, Father, I am well aware
I can't make it on my own
So take my hand and hold it tight
For I can't walk alone!

School Board's early planning

The Board of Education has begun planning now — and not months from now — for the spring school budget vote. The budget has been defeated 17 out of the last 18 years, and the board, concerned that there will be another defeat in 1981, has formed a budget committee to help make sure that it doesn't happen.

The first priority of the committee, as the Board of Education recognizes, is to make sure the message that the budget must be passed gets to as many citizens as possible. That means more budget hearings than the two held last year.

The second priority of the committee is to see that the budget presentations made are detailed and yet clear enough for people to understand them. That means giving citizens who come to the hearings something substantial — in the form of reports — that they can walk away with and study.

We trust that the committee and the Board of Education as a whole will quickly and efficiently come up with a plan to get the budget passed. A good and early beginning has already been made.

Providing fairly for federal judges

Almost anyone asked today would respond that salaries are too low. What they really mean is that the dollar buys less, and in order to stay even, inflation-produced cheap dollars require more dollars to stay even.

These economic facts have not escaped the federal judiciary, but inflation is only one dimension of the horrendously low-salaried federal judiciary.

An average attorney makes the $55,000 federal judges receive as compensation. A federal judge worth his salt is worth $100,000. How can one place a price on justice? A federal judge has within his voice and hand, the power to strengthen or weaken justice — and the direction justice takes depends entirely on the quality of the judge.

In order to retain the high quality of federal judges who serve us today, one of the priority items for the new Congress is an equitable adjustment of wages for the federal judiciary.

Youngsters in BIPPY program aren't classified 'slow learners'

To the Editor:

On Thursday, Oct. 30, 1980, The Belleville Times printed an article on page 21. In that article, the BIPPY transitional kindergarten class was referred to as a class established for "slow learners." This statement is an inaccurate description of the class and gives a false impression of the children who are benefiting from it.

We would like to clear up this misunderstanding by giving a little background information about BIPPY (Belleville's Intervention Program for Pre-School Youngsters). The program is funded by a Title VI grant awarded to Belleville through a proposal submitted by Director of Special Services Anthony P. Chirico, and is based on the school system's recognition of the fact that all children do not develop at the same rate. Some may mature more slowly than others. These differences are sometimes called developmental lags or discrepancies. There may be delays in certain fine and gross muscles which determine the degree of coordination a child has; or delays in the area of social skills; or language development. Perhaps hyperactivity is involved, or certain types of emotionality. Some children may have a lag in acquiring information that will be needed to succeed in school. Audio or visual perception problems may be a part of the picture for some. But these difficulties do not mean that the children who are in the program are "slow learners."

BIPPY began last March with two classes for 3 and 4-year-old children under the guidance of an early childhood special education teacher, two aides and a program coordinator. It continues this year at School 7 with the staff and an additional teacher serving 14 pre-school children and 10 kindergartners.

This transitional kindergarten was established in September 1980 to give 5-year-old children an opportunity to have special help in a small class with specially trained teachers. They have been selected through an established screening process to determine those who would most benefit from this type of kindergarten experience. Because of their special needs, the usual kindergarten class would not serve their best interests at this time. Some may need further special help and others may not. We do know that studies indicate that the earlier special needs are discovered, the greater the opportunity for specialists to work together with the family to reduce long-term difficulties.

We feel the community is indeed fortunate to have a school system which seeks to meet the individual needs of all the children who live within its boundaries.

Sincerely,

The BIPPY Staff

Geriatrics Center thanks Bell Telephone Pioneers

To the Editor:

Tuesday, Oct. 21, there was a Halloween party thrown at the Essex County Geriatrics Center by the Bell Telephone Company of New Jersey Pioneer Club 540. We all had a wonderful and joyous time. It was the second time that the Pioneers were here to entertain us, about 160 residents. The first time was in June and they gave us a party. We are all very happy that they adopted us as their children. Thank God for that.

One of the things that they brought with them this time was a barbershop quartet that sang some songs — "Down by the Old Mill Stream," "Baby Face" and "Swanee River," to name a few. We all enjoyed the singing. One of the residents, an elderly woman, got up and danced. She is about 93 and very good at dancing.

For snacks, they gave us cookies, cupcakes and apple juice. I can assure you nobody got drunk.

They also donated a movie screen for our recreation hall. All we need now is to put it up and get the curtains to cover the screen doors. Then we're in business. We hope to see real movies after this is done.

On behalf of all the residents, I thank you dearly once again for coming. You can be sure it was much appreciated. We are looking forward to Christmastime.

Sincerely,

Wm. H. Ruffide

Trustees make secretary post at Junior High permanent one

Board of Education President Ernie Zoppi said last Tuesday that "most" trustees were aware a new secretarial position they set up at the Junior High was only temporary, but did not say so in order to avoid more controversy than had already been generated when School Superintendent Dr. John Greed refused to recommend creation of the post. Last week, the matter was straightened out, with the board rescinding the temporary position in favor of a permanent one.

It wasn't until last Monday night when trustees rescinded the 10-month position that Zoppi pointed out it had been only temporary. No other trustees commented. Soon after, the board unanimously okayed Irma Sicurello for a 12-month post at the Junior High since another secretary resigned Nov. 1.

Apparently trying to give Mrs. Sicurello some assurance that her job was secure after 10 years' service at the recently closed School 1, Zoppi asked trustees three weeks ago to okay an additional 10-month position at the Junior High. The resignation of the other secretary was then expected in December.

Trustees Tom Zampino and John DiStasi voted no on the resolution creating the position. They felt the board might wind up bumping or transferring another secretary from her position by establishing the extra spot. They said Greed, and not trustees, should handle all administrative hiring and reassigning, and that was the crux of the controversy.

"There was no reason to create a 10-month position...but it wasn't such a big thing," said Trustee Tom Zampino last Tuesday night. Zampino stressed that Greed's authority shouldn't be infringed upon by trustees, but said the controversy was merely over procedural differences of opinion.

"I feel we shouldn't have had this controversy," said Greed following Monday's meeting.

Zoppi stressed that trustees had no intentions of creating another secretarial position at the Junior High by approving the temporary one. "We knew we weren't creating another position," he said.

Senior Notes

By George Chenoweth

Most retired senior citizens keep money in savings accounts knowing that such accounts are the safest form of investment and are not likely to have the risk factor that stocks, bonds, mutual funds and other forms of investment may present.

Are you getting the most for your money in savings accounts? When it comes to interest, do you know the difference between "day of deposit to day of withdrawal" vs. "accrued interest"?

Accrued interest is interest earned on your money which has not yet been paid or credited to your account. Day of deposit to day of withdrawal interest is computed daily from the day you open your account until the day you receive a statement or close the account. However, there are various ways of crediting the interest, as well as calculating it so you should shop around and ask different banks which methods they use.

You should know if the crediting is monthly, quarterly or even semi-annually. You will earn more if interest is compounded and credited daily than if it is compounded semi-annually or annually. In these days of inflationary costs of goods, and believing that most seniors are on fixed incomes, it is important that you get as much as you can from your savings.

The governor's office through the State Office on Aging has awarded Kean College a grant to host the governor's mini-conferences. These conferences are a natural lead into the governor's conference on aging scheduled for March 25, 1981, at Trenton State College.

The mini-conferences will be held at Kean College on Thursday, Dec. 11. In accordance with the guidelines, six concurrent conferences will be held dealing with older women, the rural elderly, the frail and vulnerable, ethnic and racial minorities, images and stereotypes of aging, and crime and the aged. Participants will be aided by experts in these areas to develop position papers and recommendations to be delivered to the governor at his March conference.

This mini-conference will provide an opportunity for older adults and professionals alike to have input into documents that go with the delegation from New Jersey to the White House conference on aging next November. All those who work with the aged, as well as older adults themselves, are urged to attend. Your local County Division on Aging can provide additional information or you can call the gerontology office at 527-2605 for information and a registration brochure. Come on Dec. 11 and make a significant change for New Jersey's older population for the future.

Tri-Town Women honor Miss Elizabeth O'Malley

Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley celebrated Business Women's Week by honoring Elizabeth A. O'Malley, former executive director of the Nutley Family Service Bureau, with its first Woman of the Year Award.

The presentation was made Oct. 23 at the Branch Brook Manor. Miss O'Malley addressed the group and talked about social work.

Miss O'Malley has had an active career in family service, both before her Nutley assignment and since her retirement. She served with the Family Service of Montgomery County, Rockville, Md., before coming to Nutley and is now a member of the Resources Consultants Bank of the Family Service Association of America. She has provided consultant services as far away as Santa Barbara, Calif., and also provided part-time service as a marriage and family counselor. She works for the Nutley Bureau's auxiliary as a volunteer and is active in The United Way, the Nutley Senior Citizen's Housing Corporation and other local service organizations.

Tri-Town BPW meets every fourth Thursday and offers programs about health care, consumerism, safety and education for women. It sponsors an annual card party to provide scholarships and typing awards to graduates of schools in the three towns and sponsors a five-week babysitting training course in conjunction with Clara Maass Memorial Hospital.

Membership information may be obtained from membership chairman Pat Diana at 751-6861 or club president Helen Hunt at 743-6173.

Moms of multiples gathering tonight

Grandmothers of twins will be honored guests at tonight's meeting of Essex County Mothers of Multiples, 8:15 p.m. at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, 307 Main St., West Orange. Sue Mopsick of West Caldwell will demonstrate the preparation of specialty and molded chocolates.

The club is a member of the National Organization of the Mothers of Twins. For more information, contact Joan Gialanella at 751-0252.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Marcantuono — nee Ann Hughes

Ann Hughes married to Pat Marcantuono

Christ Episcopal Church was the setting recently for the marriage of Miss Ann Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hughes of 27 Bridge St., to Pat Marcantuono, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcantuono of Bloomfield.

The Rev. Frederick Long performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Wayne Manor, Wayne.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white Qiana gown with spaghetti strap bodice and removable jacket of point d'esprit net appliqued with Venice lace. A picture hat covered in lace and accented with sequins and pearls held her fingertip veil, and she carried white and lilac rosebuds with white babies breath.

Mrs. Cheryl Bauman of Belleville was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Cindy Leahy of Belleville, cousin of the bride, Rita Marcantuono of Bloomfield, sister of the groom, Maria Bardi of Belleville, Annette Cetrulo of Newark and Karen Schiavone of Totowa. Kimberly Bauman, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

The attendants wore lilac Qiana gowns with sheer chiffon capes. The honor attendant wore one lilac orchid with lilac babies breath in her hair and carried the same. The others had lilac orchids with white babies breath, and the flower girl carried lilac and white mixed daisies and babies breath.

John Hughes of Belleville, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushering were Paul Bauman of Belleville, brother-in-law of the bride, Larry Varone of Nutley, cousin of the bride, Fred Weitzel and Michael Dougherty of Belleville and Harry Versen of Secaucus. Jonathan Varone of Nutley, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

Mrs. Hughes chose a blue Qiana gown with sheer chiffon cape, while the groom's mother was in a wine Qiana gown with silver sequins. Corsages were of white orchids.

Mrs. Marcantuono, an alumna of Belleville High School, is a secretary with Health Learning Systems Inc., Bloomfield.

Mr. Marcantuono, a graduate of Essex Catholic High School and Steven's College, Hoboken, is an account executive with National Telephone Directory, Rochelle Park.

The couple honeymooned in Bermuda following the Aug. 31 ceremony and have made their home in Belleville.

Umberto's Corner

It is my pleasure to announce that Belleville American Italian Civic Association had their 14th annual dinner dance at the Wayne Manor in Wayne, N.J. It was a successful event. 300 people participated in the affair. There were many officials of Belleville, most of them belonging to the association. I'm proud to be a member of this association. From this corner I'd like to congratulate all the members that took part.

I was present and I heard from the people who attended that it was a great night. By the way parts of the night were video taped and it will be shown on Monday, Nov. 24th 6:30 p.m. on Channel MUN-2 Cable T.V. of Belleville & Bloomfield.

Hospital Headliner — Halloween is a magic time of the year and patients at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital were treated to some magic Halloween night. Joe Fischer, an accomplished magician from Belleville, helped patients forget their troubles as he entertained them with an assortment of stunts and illusions, including the guillotine act. Fischer has performed at several other recreational functions at the hospital and has become a favorite of both staff and patients.

Battle of bands slated next Wednesday night

Several local groups will be participating in a battle of the bands being sponsored by the Junior Auxiliary of Montclair Community Hospital 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 26. The musical fund-raiser for the hospital will take place in the Montclair High School auditorium on Park Street in Montclair.

The search for talented groups from local high schools produced many fine musicians who not only perform but who compose as well. The bands participating are Static from Belleville and Bloomfield, Paradox from Nutley, the Grinders from Montclair and the Roxx from West Orange.

Static includes Larry DeRogatis on lead guitar and vocals, Bob Malone on rhythm guitar and vocals, Glen Ritschel on bass guitar, Chris Laycock on keyboards and vocals and Gabe Nazzola on drums. The members of Paradox are John Klemovitch on lead guitar and vocals, Keith Andreotta on rhythm guitar and vocals, Rick Paul on bass on vocals and Vic Savoia on drums.

Music professionals judging the contest will be David Amoscatto, president of Engineering, T.D. Audio, Inc. of Montclair; Larry Fried, Montclair High School band director; Ford Kinder, Michlin and Company composer, arranger, singer and producer from Upper Montclair, and Stacey Foster, audio visual producer for Pan Avid of Bloomfield. Shepard Stern, an New York underground producer, will act as master of ceremonies.

In addition to a first-place prize, there will be merchandise gift certificate for the runner-up band.

Tickets will be sold at the door. However, Junior Auxiliary President Rebecca Storms reports that tickets are selling fast since many students are taking advantage of the discount being offered. For ticket information, call the Montclair Community volunteer office at 744-7300, extension 216.

Resident to exhibit miniature art work

Robert Humphrey, 44, Hilton St., will exhibit his work in a miniature art show at the Korby Gallery, 479 Pompton Ave., Cedar Grove.

The gallery will hold an opening reception 2-5 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 30. The public is invited. The exhibit will continue through December.

Sean O'Casey plays on stage next month

Nutley Little Theatre's December production will be an evening of Sean O'Casey one-act plays, "The Moon Shines on Kyleneamoe" and "Bedtime Story."

The two comedies are set in Ireland about 1920. They are being presented by the Little Theatre in honor of the playwright's 100th birthday.

The cast includes Jim Cort, Dolores Helsel and John Kenney of Nutley, Fred Hutter of Upper Montclair, Richard Kaye and Tom Cort of Bloomfield, Mike Mulrenan of Jersey City and Miriam Orner of Pompton Plains.

Performance dates are Dec. 12, 13, 14, 19 and 20. The Friday and Saturday night curtain time is 8 p.m. with a Sunday matinee at 3 p.m. The plays will be presented at the NLT Barn, 47 Erie Place, Nutley.

Tickets, $3.50 each, are available by calling 667-5492.

'Lunch with Santa' set for Dec. 6 at St. Mary's

The Belleville Junior Woman's Club will hold its annual "Lunch with Santa" Saturday, Dec. 6, in the basement of St. Mary's Church, Monsignor Owens Place, Nutley.

Lunch will be served and pictures with Santa will be available. Each child attending will receive a gift from Mr. Claus, and a movie will be shown. In addition, a Christmas boutique will be held during the festivities.

Tickets, $3 each, are limited and the lunch committee urges those who wish to attend to call 759-9263 or 751-5894 soon.

Michèle Monica is general chairman of the event. Her committee includes Sandra Zampino and Issy Villano, who are in charge of tickets; Lucy Cappello, publicity; JoAnne Bramiff and Diane Schroeller, art; Linda Caputo and Pam Van Holland, pictures; and Vincenze Piegari and Elaine Ruffes, food.

Marotti appoints three to mental health board

Mayor Michael Marotti has announced the appointment of three residents to the board of trustees of the Community Mental Health Services of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley. Those named are Rev. John A. Shay of Wesley United Methodist Church, Joseph Cappello of 50 Charles St. and Thomas Spillane of 53 Lloyd Place.

Rev. Shay served three years in the U.S. Army in Korea. Upon discharge, he entered the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and worked in the heavy construction division for 14 years. At the age of 34, he decided to enter the Methodist ministry and while attending college was the manager of a low-income, federally subsidized housing project, supervising 500 apartments while serving two churches and attending class full-time. In addition to being the minister at Wesley, Rev. Shay is also attending Drew University full-time. He is married and the father of four teenage children.

Cappello is employed by the Essex County Educational Services Commission in East Orange. A former teacher, he received a bachelor of science degree in business administration from Gannon College and a master's degree in education from the same institution. He matriculated his doctoral candidacy in the division of administration and supervision at Fordham University and is writing his dissertation. A former principal of a parochial school, Cappello has been involved in several archdiocesan activities.

Cappello is a member of several professional organizations and locally belongs to the Optimist Club in which he has served as youth activities chairman. He also works with his wife in Belleville Junior Woman's Club activities and serves on the BHS vocational education advisory council. He is chairman of that group for 1980-81.

Spillane is an engineer with New Jersey Bell Telephone Company where he has been employed for 21 years. He is a charter member and past president of the Belleville Optimist Club, a state officer of New Jersey District Optimist International and was the recipient of the Optimist of the Year Award in 1979. He is a member of the BHS vocational educational advisory council.

Food lectures this Saturday

A Belleville educator will present one of two lectures at a creative gourmet cooking workshop Saturday at the Upsala College Chapel in East Orange.

Participants will be shown how to prepare inexpensive entrees during the morning half of the workshop, starting at 9:30. Professor Catalina northern of head and tail Greek, high protein versus low protein diets at 12:15 p.m., and Dr. Charles Coles will present a lecture entitled, "The Keys to Rejuvenation," at 2:15.

Refreshments and a luncheon featuring some of the foods prepared in the morning will be available. For information, call 266-7247 or 923-8644.

Halloween party aids tenant paper

The Branch Brook Garden Tenants Association hosted its first Halloween party for neighborhood children Oct. 31 on the Rec House grounds.

Judges for the best costume contest were Commissioner Mary Senatore, Ron Plati, a member of the Belleville Rent Leveling Board and president of the Belleville Organization of Tenants, and Leigh Ann Vaolino, coordinator for the Tenant Resource Center in Montclair. Magician Frank Pastula Jr. presented a half-hour show for the children.

Proceeds of the party went towards the purchase of a typewriter to be used by the Branch Brook association for its monthly tenant news publication, "The Garden Variety."

He also attended Rutgers's graduate school of business administration and Montclair State graduate school. He and his wife Barbara, who is very active in the Junior Woman's Club, have three children, Tricia, Thomas Jr. and Melanie. Spillane's community involvement includes serving on the Belleville school restructuring committee, bicentennial commission and Historical Society.

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

Scoliosis is the medical name for curvature of the spine. Some types of scoliosis are known to be the result of birth defects, nerve degeneration or muscular weakness caused by polio. If the causative condition is not known, we call it "idiopathic scoliosis", meaning unknown origin.

Chiropractic research reveals that this latter type of scoliosis is the result of an imbalance of the muscular support of the spine, due to imbalance of nerve function or other energy patterns.

When discovered early, as in teenagers or preteens, chiropractic adjustments are often effective in treating and correcting scoliosis.

School 5 Cub Scout Pack enjoys active schedule

It was a busy October for Cub Scout Pack 305. On Oct. 4, Webelos, their leader, Ralph Rosamilia, and some fathers took a trip to Rifle Camp Park for a nature walk.

On Oct. 18, all the boys traveled to the Franklin Mines to see an exhibit of rocks and minerals. They picnicked (in the rain with the bees) and were taken into a reproduction mine shaft. The day's highlight came when they dug for their own rock samples.

The Webelos started the Oct. 24 pack meeting with a special flag ceremony. Advancing to Webelo rank in another ceremony were John Berry, Vinnie Colaninno, Craig Clinton, Ralph Guancione, Vincent Gonzales, P.J. Grande, Joe Kampe, Mario Lemongello, Eric Monahan, Joel Nazario, Scott Odorizzi, Gerald Pudula, Michael Rosa, Peter Russo, Michael Ruzzano, Michael

Roskiewicz, Joe Sequiere and Richard Weinbel. Each Webelo received an athlete activity badge, and Eric Monahan and Mario Lemongello were awarded aquanaut activity badges. The main event was the Webelo father and son cake decorating contest. Three judges, Barbara Pucci, Ginger Nemeo and Mr. Klena, awarded prizes to Scott Odorizzi for most original; Gerald Padula, intricate; Richard Weinbel, smallest; Peter Russo, flattest, and Michel Rosa, comical.

Dens 1 and 2 spent Oct. 26 at Turtle Back Zoo with their leaders, Connie Guancione and Lorraine Leming. Cubs were shown how to operate a voting machine and each chose their favorite animals in three different categories.

Crowded School 9 fifth grade will soon be split up

Acting after a recent visit to School 9's fifth grade, trustees decided last week to begin looking for a new teacher so they can split the overcrowded class.

Board President Ernie Zoppi said it would probably take a week or so before a new teacher could be at 9.

The class has 31 pupils, a situation for which School Superintendent Dr. John Greed has taken full responsibility. Greed said he could have transferred some children newly arrived this year from other schools out of 9, but instead decided to keep them all there, not realizing how many were fifth graders.

Although School 9 Principal

Joseph Grosch says splitting the class will cause no problems, some parents wonder if special education programs will suffer once their room is taken by the extra fifth grade. However, special ed will probably be moved into the gym.

"Educationally, we agree there's a need for a teacher," said Trustee Tom Zampino last week. He said trustees are used to hearing citizens criticism and when they finally do take action, nobody gives them any credit.

"I just want to point out an awareness of things we've done," said Zampino. "I'm not looking for any praise for the board."

Case of accused burglar sent to Essex grand jury

The case of a Newark man accused of 14 counts of burglary or attempted burglary here was sent to an Essex County grand jury by Belleville Municipal Court Judge Edward Abromson last week.

The 30-year-old Newarker was arrested on Nov. 8 while allegedly attempting to break into an apartment, one which was occupied by a resident at the time. The resident called the police, and the suspect was apprehended on the scene.

After further investigation by police, the man was charged with five counts of burglary and nine counts of attempted burglary. All of the attempts occurred at apartment complexes on either Brighton Avenue, Rocco or Cuzzo Streets. According to the charges, the man pried open the doors of several apartments with a tire iron.

Another case sent to the grand jury was that of a Mill Street man who, it is alleged, "recklessly" injured a woman with a deadly weapon. The defendant was accused of slashing the woman with a 12-inch knife, cutting her right palm and fingers on Oct. 10. The man was arrested by Officer Joseph Simonetti.

A Newark man was arrested by Officer Leonard Burrell Oct. 21 for possession of a throwing knife. The Parker Street resident's case came before Judge Abromson last week for a probable cause hearing, along with the case of another man arrested at the same time on similar charges. The second man, also a Newarker, was with the first man at the time of their arrests. Abromson referred the cases of both men to the grand jury. Both were released on $1,000 bail.

In another case, Vincent Cifelli of Newark Place was found guilty of shoplifting $51.96 worth of merchandise from the Belleville Pathmark on Nov. 5. He was arrested by a Pathmark security guard, Michael Daniluk. Judge Abromson fined Cifelli $200.

Buc Shots

A 'year away' team off to Meadowlands

What a difference three months make! Back in mid-September, the Livingston Lancer football squad was The Star-Ledger's answer to the Dallas Cowboys, while the Belleville gridiron squad received its usual low rating and was termed "a year away."

While the team was not rated as highly as some people, myself included, felt it deserved to be, Buc head coach John Senesky put it into perspective. "Let's wait until the end of the season, that's when the ratings will count," the coach said then.

Now in mid-November, the Belleville Bucs are going back to Giants Stadium for a second straight appearance in the Group IV, Section 2 playoffs, while Livingston can view the action on TV-3. Belleville takes its 7-1 record against a very good Morris Knolls team on Saturday at 5:15 p.m.

Let's examine the amazing achievements of the Buc team this season. The Bucs lost their season opener to Livingston by a 36-12 count and then rambled on to win their next seven games, a very big accomplishment considering the competition. Three of Belleville's opponents, Seton Hall (6-1-1), Marist (6-2) and Passaic (7-1) are all in the state playoffs, while Clark sports an impressive 6-2 record and Montclair is 5-3 with victories over powerful Westfield and Rahway. In other words, Belleville's victories were against some of the state's better teams.

As you also might have noticed, Seton Hall and Passaic have but one setback each and those were to Belleville. The 1980 Bucs might be better than last year's marvelous 8-2 squad. The '80 Bucs ripped Seton Hall 34-8, Marist 35-7, Essex Catholic 34-0 and beat a very strong Clark team last week 20-12. (Clark, despite its 6-1 record going into last week's contest, was rated only ninth in Union County and deserves higher recognition.)

Perhaps Belleville's biggest win this year was the 13-9 victory over Passaic in week number four. Senesky later said that that victory was the turning point in the season.

The Bucs have a number of new heroes who have contributed to this year's success. Quarterback John Melillo has been very impressive since the beginning of the season. Every time he sets to pass, you have the feeling that the throw will be complete or that Melillo will run for a big gain. He is a super weapon on both the run and the pass and will have to be watched very closely by Morris Knolls.

Frank Fazzini, only a junior, switched from the halfback position to the fullback slot for the Passaic game and has been there ever since. Fazzini's bruising, bullying type of running makes the opponent wish that he'd run in the opposite direction. Since Frankie switched to fullback, the Buc offense has accounted for 19 touchdowns. Frank did not score in the first three games, but has scored nine times since. He currently leads the team with 54 points and has broken the 200-yard barrier in two games this season.

Bill Walsh has established himself as a premier tight end. He started off slowly this year but has come on like gangbusters the last few weeks and has made some very important receptions. Saturday against Clark, Bill led the team with three receptions. Against Seton Hall, Walsh made a big catch early in the game that set up a first down which later turned into Belleville's first score. He also made a big catch against Passaic to set up the winning score. Walsh has accounted for two touchdowns.

On defense, the linebacking jobs turned in by Rick Racioppi and Phil Cerza have been phenomenal. They have been extremely effective in covering the short pass and stopping potentially long runs. Cerza intercepted two passes against Seton Hall and added a third interception last week against Clark. Racioppi wrapped up the Clark game when he recovered a fumble late in the game and returned it to the Crusader 13. The accomplishment was very important for Ricky because two years ago he broke his leg against Clark. This time, he sealed Belleville's biggest victory of the season with his clutch recovery of a Clark fumble.

The real story of the 1980 season has been the incredible work of the offensive and defensive lines. Anthony D'Agostino, Adam Pappas, Bob Cassin, Danny Palumbo, Fred Scherrer, Ron Charles, Kevin Esposito, Phil D'Agostino, Louis Greco, Russel Cirillo, Joe Murphy, Lugie Chimento, Tom Apicella, Bob Mullany, Anthony Passarella and Steve Sorce — these unknown men in the trenches open the holes for the big Fazzini runs and provide the protection so that Melillo can find Bill Walsh, Paul Scheuplein or Ken Constantino. Melillo's favorite target, open. It's their hustle, determination and pure desire that have Belleville with a 7-1 record and a high state ranking.

As for the game Saturday, Morris Knolls is a fine team with a similar 7-1 record. Unlike Belleville, Morris Knolls is entirely offensive, witness the scores of its last three games. Morris Knolls defeated West Essex, Roxbury and Livingston by scores of 35-34, 31-29 and 28-26. While the offense is potent, the defense is questionable and the fact that most of the Morris Knolls players play both on offense and defense leads me to wonder if they can remain strong for four quarters against the rugged Belleville line. Past opponents will tell you that Belleville has worn them out by the time the fourth quarter comes around.

For Belleville, which has allowed just 49 points since the opening loss to Livingston, the return to Giants Stadium is very special. They are the only team from Group IV, Section 2 to make a second straight appearance. Westfield, Livingston and Union all failed to make it this year. Furthermore, Belleville has an experience edge over Barringer, Morris Knolls and West Essex when it comes to playoff competition. The Bucs' chances look really good this year, after last year's near miss against Union.

Finally, a big crowd is expected this Saturday which is no surprise because the Belleville football program is very popular in town and has always drawn a large following. The fans of Belleville are some of the most knowledgeable people in the area and show a great deal of loyalty towards their team. There are some who feel they can do a better coaching job from the stands, though, and elect to call the coach a "bumb" among other words when things temporarily go wrong. When a team is 7-1 and has lost just three times in the last two years, it's very hard to criticize that program with any validity. The 1980-Belleville Bucs have proven their ability to come back and win. They have had a damn good season and should do well this Saturday. The entire program, from John Senesky down, deserves applause for the tremendous showing this year.

For this week's pro picks, the Jets face Houston at home where they figure to make it 10 losses for the season. The 1980 campaign is as big a success as Jimmy Carter's and the team won't get a break here. The defense was blamed for last week's loss to Denver but don't forget, the offense only accounted for seven points in the second half. Any time the game gets close, count on Todd and company to blow it. It won't change here. Houston 28, Jets 14.

The Giants could make it three in a row against San Francisco. The 49ers haven't beaten anyone since the Jets back in week three, and that doesn't really count. The Giants are playing good ball and might salvage something out of this season after all. Giants 17, 49ers 13.

The game of the week takes place in Philadelphia as the Eagles

Gridmen defeat Clark and gain playoff berth

By Mike Lamberti

It's off to the playoffs for the Belleville Buc football squad following a very emotional 20-12 win over a well drilled, hard-nosed team from Clark.

The Bucs' next opponent will be Morris Knolls this Saturday in the first round of the Group IV, Section 2 playoffs. Game time will be 5:15 p.m. at Giants Stadium and BHS athletic director Jim Silvestri will have tickets available at his office through tomorrow.

Head coach John Senesky was very happy with the result of the latest contest. "Our defense did it when they had to," said the coach following the game. "We had to beat a very good team in Clark and our guys did the job they had to on both sides of the field."

The first quarter was scoreless but Belleville drew first blood in the second period when super runner

Frank Fazzini took a handoff from John Melillo and ran 75 yards for a touchdown. The point after conversion was missed but Belleville led 6-0.

On their next possession, the Crusaders drove to the Buc 18. Please see "Gridmen" on page 15.

He's Gone! — The scoreboard shows 0-0, but not for long. It's way too late for Clark's John Buckowitz to stop Frank Fazzini who is on his way to a 75-yard touchdown run in the second quarter Saturday. The Bucs won 20-12 and in the process earned themselves yet another berth in the state football playoffs which begin Saturday.

Morris Knolls Eagles a team that wins by skin of its teeth

"We're basically a Group II school with a Group IV heart," said Coach Bill Regan of his improbable Morris Knolls football team Monday night.

That team, sapped of many experienced players due to graduation and starting many men both ways, has come a long, long way. Saturday afternoon, beginning 5:15 at Giants Stadium, the gutsy Denville squad will see if it can go even further, challenging the bigger, deeper Belleville Buccaneers in the first round of the Group IV, Section 2 state playoffs. Morris Knolls is actually seeded second in the tournament. Livingston is first, Belleville third and West Essex fourth.

What began as an easy season has turned into one cliffhanger after another for Coach Bill Regan and his Morris Knolls football team. After drubbing Paterson Kennedy 38-12, Parsippany 46-14 and Columbia 28-0, the Golden Eagles were edged by Morristown 7-6. "We came out of the Morristown game knowing if we didn't play hard we were going to have a losing season," said Coach Regan.

And so the team really set to work. The going was not at all easy — each game that followed was decided in the final quarter. However, the Eagles were victorious every time, edging Parsippany Hills 14-12, West Essex 35-34, Livingston 28-26 and Roxbury 31-29 this past Saturday on a last-minute field goal.

Even Coach Regan was not expecting his club, 7-2 last year, to do as well as it has done this season. "Neither quarterback could take a snap prior to this year and the whole line is new, so we're just happy as hell to be here," he said with chuckle.

Those two quarterbacks, both seniors who alternate in and out during a game, "are not exactly bookends," according to the sixth-year coach and he's obviously correct. Dave Schwarzmann stands just 5-4 and weighs 140 pounds, while Kevin Graney is 6-1, 170.

The running backs are the most experienced members of the team. Seniors Nick Schmidt and Pat Luzzi, both speedsters, have been playing three years. Like the rest of their teammates, they are relatively small. "We're not very big, but the kids are playing very hard and that's about all you can ask," said Regan.

The coach's tight ends, Rocco Tironi and Tim Ruther, are both about 180 pounds. Tackles Pete Merle and Jim Timmer average around 215, while guards Jim Wesley and Tony Terraciano weigh in at approximately 165 apiece. The center is Joe McDonald, the wide receiver is Mike Schwarzmann, Dave's younger brother.

The tackles are the same on defense, with Ruther and Dwayne English the ends. McDonald and Jay Suk occupy the linebacker spots, while Wesley and Tironi are the outside linebackers. The secondary consists of Mike Schwarzmann, Ed Bornemann and Winfield Brookes.

Coach Regan has seen the Bucs himself just once, and that, he says, was just "by accident" when he was scouting Livingston back in September. Nonetheless, he fully realizes there is big trouble ahead. "We think it's a long shot, but we're going to come down and do the best we can," said Regan. Regardless of how well the Eagles do, they will definitely have proved that they belong in Group IV, heart and all. The Bucs will be out to break some hearts Saturday.

Soccer squad looks to future following frustrating season

By Mike Lamberti

Head coach Anthony DeAquino could not be prouder of his team had it won a state title. Even though the Belleville High soccer squad was just 4-11-1, the Bucs lost a number of games by just one goal and were hit by injuries all season long. Considering the obstacles, they did pretty well.

John Lee, a senior and the team captain, broke his leg midway through the season. He still managed to score five goals and assist on four more during the part of the season he was active and Coach DeAquino hopes Lee will receive some recognition later on. Lee was the epitome of hard work. He was one of the hardest hitting players the team ever had and has a great deal of talent. A number of colleges are after his services and he will be a welcome addition to any school he selects.

Brian Woods will be next year's captain after a very good 1980 season. Woods, who was termed "incredible" by his coach, did a good job of holding the team together during the season.

Tommy Dunn did a fine job in his senior year in spite of a series of injuries. He is just starting to blossom as a soccer player and will be a strong player on the college level.

Lenny Cardinale also completed his senior year in good style. Like Dunn, he is just coming into his own and should be a major force on the college level should he continue his playing there. Dennis Dilican, another senior, earned his second varsity letter in spite of a number of injuries. Seniors Jim Gilday, Ruben Kingalaha, Vicente Flores and Steve Drake all showed marked improvement during the season and will be missed in future years.

As for next year, there are a number of players returning with this year an excellent learning experience. Frankie Dunn, Russell Mazza, Rick DiPrizio, Mike Van Emburgh, Jesse Lombardozzi, Joe Hulley, Santiago Borja, Carlos Kingalaha and Brian Cook will be back next year and should be a big help in making the 1981 squad a success.

Besides his players, DeAquino also thanked the cheerleaders and former players Vito Tamborino and Gabe Michelli for all their support during the season.

Town turkey shoot Sunday from 11-4

The annual Recreation Department turkey shoot will be held this Sunday at the pistol range, Joralemon Street and Hoover Avenue. Belleville's pilgrims are invited to gather at the range beginning 11 a.m. and the shoot will go until 4 p.m. Men, women and children over 12 accompanied by an adult are invited.

Winning is largely a matter of chance with each participant purchasing a random target for $1. One shooter out of each eight will be declared a winner based on highest score. The winner of each flight will receive a certificate worth $8 for a turkey. Guns and ammunition will be furnished.

Random targets are used so that everyone has an equal chance to win. The targets are marked off into small numbered squares. The numbers cannot be read from the firing line. A shooter gets three shots at a target. If the shot goes clean into a square, his score is the number of that square. If a shot breaks a line between the squares, he gets both numbers, and if it breaks the intersection of four squares, the total of all four numbers will be scored.

Starting Up — Paul Scheuplein takes the handoff from quarterback John Melillo (left) and gains two yards. The series resulted in a fourth-quarter TD which Scheuplein scored.

First Down — Mike Dalla Riva turns before racing 12 yards for a first down early in the game. The Bucs soon gave up the ball.

Bucs best Clark

Air to Ground — Crusaders Greg Roszkowski, Lou Massarelli and Phil Wood converge on Bill Zeimer who has just caught a 19-yard pass early in the second period.

Pressure Cooker — Glenn Bodnar's pass sails above the hands of the Bucs' Rich Racioppi, but the intense pressure on the Clark QB resulted in a second-quarter interception by John Melillo.

Slight Flight — Frank Fazzini prepares to tackle Crusader Greg Roszkowski who gains 15 yards. The play was nullified by a penalty, however.

Breaking Around — Frank Fazzini sweeps around the left side on his way to scoring Belleville's final touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Fast Starter — Frank Fazzini is hung up by Clark's Steve Poggioli but not before gaining 10 yards on a third-quarter pass reception.

Flying Stop — Ed Naspinski is thrown back hard after gaining three yards early in the first quarter. The early stages of the game saw a tough defensive battle between the two teams.

Division V booters shoot down Flyers

By Fred Lardaro

Spectacular offensive fireworks and the defensive effort of Anselmo DiFabio at sweeper paced Belleville's Division V soccer team past the Franklin Lakes Flyers 4-0 Saturday in Belleville Park.

The remaining BSA representatives did not fare quite so well in Northern Counties competition. Division IV earned a 1-1 tie against Allendale. Division III dropped a tight 3-0 match to Wyckoff, while Division II sustained a 9-0 loss facing an experienced Franklin Lakes club.

Division V's convincing 4-0 victory propelled the team into third place with a 4-3-2 record.

Belleville wasted little time breaking through to the scoreboard. Like gunfighters shooting from the hip, the locals seized the offensive initiative with Steven Hywel passing smartly to Lance Bannister, a youngster who is touted as one of the swiftest strikers in the league. The pass was as good as gold and Bannister was quick to cash in for the score.

Division V continued to pressure and it was a credit to the Flyers' defensive unit that the visitors managed to escape the first half trailing by a slight 1-0 margin.

However, the Flyers ultimately collapsed in the second half. Scoring menace Alex Araya notched his fifth and sixth goals of the season with assistance from Oscar Valeira and Hywel. Araya later assisted Moses Ferreira for the final goal.

Steve Tice played strongly in goals, collecting the shutout victory with good support from the likes of Ray Caruso, Mike Finan, Ray Zimlot, Robert Travers, Anselmo and Anthony DiFabio.

Contributing fine performances in the midfield were Doug Hougendyke, Chris Oese, Walter Capozucca and John Napolitano.

Coaches Walter Hywel and Manny Valeira are pleased with the play of their team which has showed marked improvement after a shaky start.

Division IV, trailing 1-0, salvaged a 1-1 tie with Allendale when Sal

Woodcock threaded a fine pass through a tightly knit defense for Billy Bustamonte. Bustamonte charged into the penalty area and booted for a goal with four minutes remaining in the match.

Earning one point in the standings with the tie enabled Division IV to move into fourth place in its group.

The Division III Cobras, fired up for a confrontation with the high scoring Wyckoff Wings, fell victim to that Premier Division powerhouse from the north 3-0.

The Cobras surrendered a quick goal off a corner kick. At 33:26, Wyckoff scored once more. Charging unmarked through the heart of the Belleville defense, the Wings' center-forward stroked a bullet which goalkeeper Billy Donnerstag nearly managed to parry wide of the net. However, the ball snuck inside the right post.

The favored Wyckoff had to scratch and scramble to mount offense and found itself in an unaccustomed position of playing defense, though.

"We wasted numerous scoring opportunities," said Coach Gabe Micchelli. "We were outplayed, but we didn't just roll over and die."

"I think Belleville players are beginning to believe that they can knock heads with anyone. The Gunners proved that in winning the State Cup championship," he said.

Complimenting his team in typically left-handed style, Micchelli said, "We've got some characters on this team, but with the way in which they have meshed, we've got a team of good character in victory or defeat."

The Cobras are currently enjoying a 6-2 record.

And looking forward to the start of the Division I season, Coach Tony Cullen's Gunners are training for their opener this Sunday.

Two weeks ago, Cullen flatly refused to make any predictions, offering only that his team was "grossly out of shape." But the team appeared to be anything but out of shape at a recent training session.

Cheering clinic begins tonight

A cheerleading clinic sponsored by the Recreation Department for girls 6 through 14 opens 6:30-8:30 tonight at School 3. Men's open basketball starts 1-4 p.m. Saturday at the Junior High, with an elementary basketball clinic for boys 8 through 11 getting underway the same day 1-3 p.m. at the Friendly House.

Three recreation programs begin this coming Monday. Junior basketball for boys 12 through 14 starts 7-8:30 p.m. at the Junior High. Gym for youngsters 8 through 12 will be held at School 4, with the girls' session 6:30-7:30 p.m. and the boys' 7:30-8:30. The second leg of the program starts next month at School 9, with boys' class 6:30-8 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 3, and girls' 6:30-8 Thursday, Dec. 4.

Men's league basketball begins 6-10 p.m. Dec. 4 at the Junior High, with senior basketball for boys 15 through 18 starting 6-10 Tuesday, Dec. 9, also at the Junior High. The men's over-30 basketball league starts 6-10 Wednesday, Dec. 17, at the Junior High.

All activities are open to Belleville residents only. Participants must wear sneakers to gain entrance to the free programs.

Gridmen struggle way past tough Clark team

thanks to some good running and a big penalty against Belleville. From the 18, quarterback Glen Bodnar went back to pass, could not find an open receiver and ran the final distance for the tying touchdown. Belleville blocked the extra point conversion and the game was tied at 6.

Before the first half ended, Belleville drove to the Clark 6, thanks to a big pass by Melillo to wide receiver Ken Constantino that covered 31 yards. However, Melillo couldn't get the Bucs in and the score remained knotted.

The third quarter went by rather quickly as both teams could not mount a drive. However, Belleville started to move late in the third period after a Clark punt nailed the Bucs deep in their own territory. From their 14, Belleville began one of its time-consuming drives. This one lasted seven minutes. Fazzini, who finished the day with 216 yards rushing, did the bulk of the work with some bulling, bruising runs. Paul Scheuplein added the go-ahead score when he took a handoff and ran four yards for the touchdown.

This time, Robbie Cancelliere added the point after conversion and Belleville led 13-6. But Clark was not about to give up. Following the kickoff, the Crusaders began a long drive very similar to Belleville's. Bodnar completed some very important passes, the biggest a 17-yard strike to Greg Roszkowski that brought the ball to the Buc 12.

Clark managed to move the ball to the Buc 6, but on fourth down, Bodnar appeared to be sacked and the Bucs looked to be home free. However, the 6-5 quarterback eluded two men and managed to hit Roszkowski with a six-yard touchdown pass to move Clark within a point.

The Crusaders elected to go for two points, but Roszkowski was stopped a yard short of the goal line and Belleville still led 13-12.

On the Bucs' next possession, Fazzini took a handoff following a bad onside kick and raced 44 yards for the clinching touchdown. Cancelliere added the conversion and it was 20-12.

Clark had one more chance, but Ed Naspinski bobbled Bodnar's pass and Ricky Racioppi picked up the loose ball and raced 20 yards to the Clark 13 to assure the victory. For Racioppi, it was a complete reversal of fate. Two years ago, he broke his leg in the game against Clark. Saturday, he wrapped up the win with the humble recovery.

and Oakland Raiders do battle. The Eagles are sky-high with a 10-1 record and are mighty tough to beat at home. Oakland has done an about-face since Jim Plunkett took over at quarterback and will be ready for this game. Both teams are fighting for the playoffs and Oakland might want it a little more. Oakland 27, Philadelphia 24.

The Belleville High School athlete of the week is wide receiver Ken Constantino. Ken caught two passes, one a 31-yard bomb, and has been consistent all season long. He has excellent hands, great concentration and has scored five touchdowns so far.

The answer to last week's quiz. The question was who scored Belleville's first touchdown of the 1977 season. The answer: Joe Salters. Salters scored on a handoff from Jerry Fazzini in the Passaic game. Unfortunately, Belleville lost 30-12.

For this week's quiz, let me take you back 10 years. In 1970, the Belleville football team lost its last game of the season. It was a heartbreaking loss in the final minute of the game. Do you remember how the Bellboys lost the game, who they lost to and the score?

Professional wrestling tomorrow night at BHS

The stage is set for thrills and excitement at Belleville High School tomorrow night as "Gorilla" Monsoon comes to town with his troupe of World Wide Wrestling Federation champion professionals. The doors will open at 7 p.m., with the action beginning at 8.

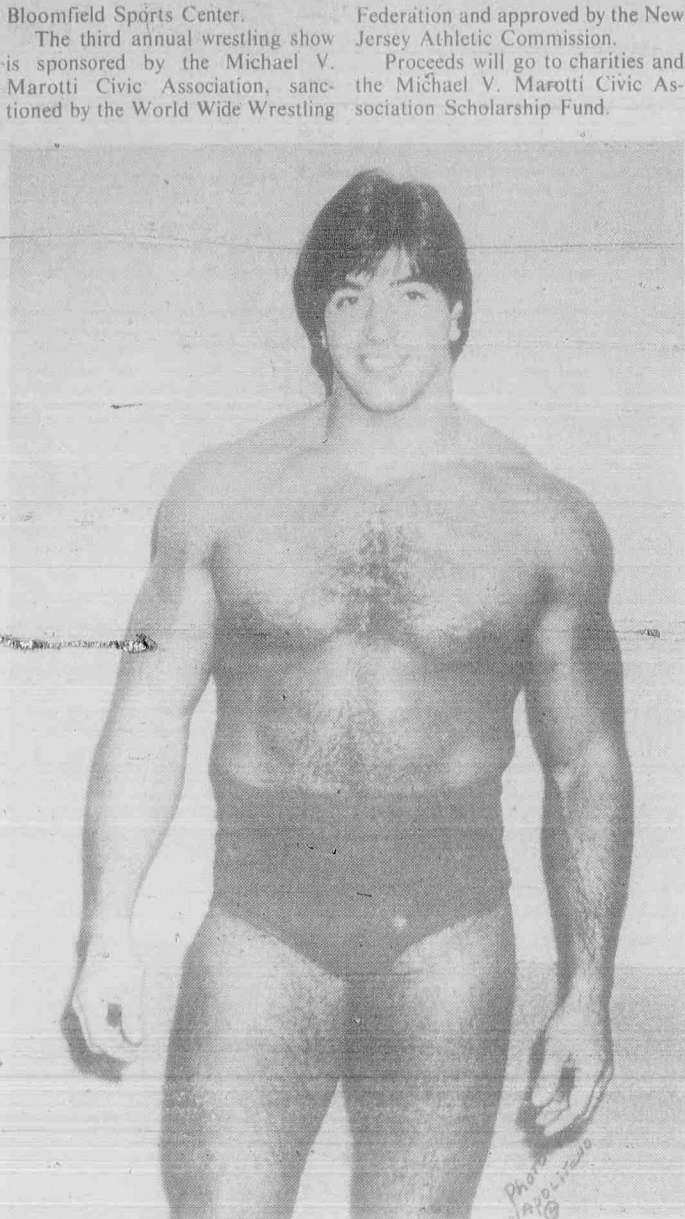

Monsoon assured the event's chairman, Vinnie Cosenzo, that the line-up remains as originally scheduled with the "grudge" match between Larry Zbysko and Tony Garea the feature.

Additional bouts will see the usual bad guys enter the ring smirking, kicking at imaginary objects, making gestures at the crowd and possibly chewing on the ring-rope turnbuckles, with the fans cheering them on and enjoying every bit of their antics.

Other matches will pit Jose Estrada vs. Manuel Soto, Larry Sharp vs. Rick Martel, ex-Marine Sergeant Slaughter vs. Rick McGraw and Baron Mikel Scicluna vs. Rick Stalone.

Cosenzo was assured by Monsoon that these wrestlers will not pull any unnecessary shenanigans. They'll put on good, exciting contests.

Tickets are available at $4, $6 and $10 by calling Gail Boscano at 751-7069, Aldo DiChiara at 759-4722 or Vinnie Cosenzo at 751-1110. Tickets can also be purchased at Garden Meat Market, Flowerama Inc., Belleville Tobacco & Hobby Center, Pico's Tavern, Lombardi Realty and

Steelers drub rec Rams 31-0

The heavyweight Steelers made it four straight by defeating the Rams 31-0 in recreation football play this past weekend.

The Steelers scored six plays after blocking a fourth-down punt on the Rams' 25-yard line. Scott Hulley went 10 yards off right tackle behind Joe Mundy and Jon Westpy to score the first touchdown early in the first quarter.

Jim Demgard scored the second touchdown on a 40-yard run also off right tackle. The third score came on an end-around by Danny Ward with a key block coming from Dean Sternick. The score at halftime was 19-0.

Ken Kotchowski scored in the third quarter as Anthony Monticello and Donald Washington opened the holes. Jim Demgard, starting at halfback for the first time, gained his second touchdown later on.

The Rams mounted a threat with seconds left on the clock but fumbled on the 5 as the game ended.

In lightweight action, the Jets finished out the regular season undefeated by downing the Falcons 24-0. Mark Mills and Lou Lucante paced the Jet attack. The Jets will now meet the winner of the Charger-Falcon contest to determine the league champion.

Recreation Soccer

The league champion Spurs were edged 2-1 by the Toros in Division I tournament action. The game was knotted at 1-1 through overtime, but the Toros gained the victory on Freddy Calvache's penalty kick goal. Jim Disaro had the Toros' other goal and Eddie Acosta had the Spurs' lone score. The Toros will next meet the Lancers.

In Division II, the Cosmos edged the Spurs 3-2 on Joe Perna's overtime goal. It was his second goal of the day. Eric Nordmann also had one for the Cosmos. David Jiosi tallied both goals for the Spurs.

The Cosmos next met the league champion Toros and were defeated 2-1 in a well played game. Giorgio Ricci and John Arrietta had tallies for the Toros and Eric Nordmann registered the Cosmos' goal. In one other game, the Spurs edged the Aztecs 2-1 behind the shooting of Dave Jiosi and Nick Auriemma. Phillip Zamloot scored for the Aztecs.

Division III fans saw the Lancers down the Spurs 5-0 Saturday. Lance Bannister, Kevin Burbank, Gerard Ortiz, Steve Iannuzzi and Chris Young all scored for the Lancers.

The Toros nipped the Aztecs 2-1. Steve Tice and Anthony Rodriguez paced the Toros. Bob Travers had the Aztec goal.

In Sunday's games, the league champion Cosmos were edged 2-1 by the Lancers. Oscar Vateria and Steve Iannuzzi both scored for the Lancers. Steve Hywell had the Cosmo goal. The Spurs, behind Manny Borgo's two goals, squeezed by the Comets 2-1. Anthony Cultrara scored for the Comets.

Bloomfield Sports Center.

The third annual wrestling show is sponsored by the Michael V. Marotti Civic Association, sanctioned by the World Wide Wrestling Federation and approved by the New Jersey Athletic Commission.

Proceeds will go to charities and the Michael V. Marotti Civic Association Scholarship Fund.

Aged not optimistic over end to center woes

Thomas and Don Vaillancourt, members of the center's family council.

budget requests for 1981-82.

"We need your help in doing this (running the hospital)," Shapiro told the residents. However, one woman chastised him for telling them to help themselves, and get volunteer help. She said residents want, and need, more money from the county treasury, and asked Shapiro if that was possible.

Failing to answer her, Shapiro turned quickly to another resident, with a presumably more innocuous question. But again he was confronted with another lady complaining of the food. "I got a pancake of meat that tasted like sawdust," she said, with Tillie Till pointing out that many nights, cookies are the only food residents are given worth eating.

"You'll never have meals here like the home-cooked ones you used to have," said Merrigan, with many patients looking askance. Both residents William Rundle and Robert Dayton, president and vice president of the center's residents' council, had little to smile about during the meeting, and didn't.

"My first priority is where there are human beings in need," said Shapiro, before telling everyone why he couldn't spend any more money at Belleville's Geriatrics Center.

Gina Thomas, vice president of the center's family council, which includes relatives of patients, told Shapiro the council would take up the center's cause and the need for more money there by "making it a moral issue."

Although Shapiro at first seemed against the idea, he added it was very possible the council "could become part of our weapon" to get more funds. "I think we may very well need to do that," said Shapiro of rallying people behind the center. He suggested a "Coalition for Human Services" might be formed to help county citizens realize the high cost of hospital care.

"If anything, you really need nurses," said Shapiro. However, Shapiro could offer little encouragement to residents about getting more nurses.

"We thought we were the forgotten souls of Essex County," said Meyers. "We just wanted people to know that we're here," he added.

During one of the many discussions held about food, Shapiro pointed out, "It's (shortcomings are) just a lack of performance with the budget that's there."

"We get very little in the form of state aid," said Shapiro, when questioned by Rundle. Federal aid "has too many strings attached," the county executive also noted, adding he wants to stay away from that.

"We're not going to get nothing," said residents' council vice president Dayton, while Shapiro mingled with family council members after the 45-minute meeting. Dayton just shook his head, saying by the time anything's done to really improve Belleville's Geriatrics Center, "I'll probably be dead."

Judge leans toward trustees in School 1 suit

Judy Wright, who signed the legal appeal, disagreed with Schwartz's contention that trustees would still have closed School 1 had Burke rejected their plan. The two parents said newly-elected Trustees John DiStasi and Tom Zampino were both awaiting Burke's decision to decide whether they'd vote to keep School 1 open.

When Burke gave Belleville a desegregation green light, both Zampino and DiStasi decided in favor of keeping 1 closed since the plan had already been accepted. Since no official vote was ever taken saying trustees would rescind School 1's closing if Burke rejected their plan, Schwartz was legally correct in saying 1 would have been closed whatever Burke did.

The 4-3 vote March 3 to close both Schools 1 and 2 and create three magnets created much controversy, controversy which will undoubtedly continue over the next year at least.

Although Schwartz conceded that both Belleville's desegregation plan and School 1's closing were "interrelated," he emphasized, "The mere fact they're interrelated doesn't mean that the 90-day time limit doesn't apply."

School 1 PTA attorney Kenneth Petrie tried to point out to Samuels that School 1's closing, as stated in the board's March 3 resolution, was integral to solving Belleville's de facto segregation problem.

Petrie said the 90-day time limit shouldn't have begun until Burke made the desegregation plan "official" July 24. However, Samuels pointed out that it wasn't Burke's action that closed School 1, but rather the board's 4-3 vote on March 3.

"We feel the whole thing (desegregation plan) would have been thrown back" if Burke rejected it, said Petrie. He also charged trustees had violated the Sunshine Law by not taking out ads beforehand in newspapers saying they had decided to close both School 1 and 2. He said that fact confronted residents only when they entered Belleville High's auditorium March 3.

He said the decision to close School 1 was made in secret, without public discussion, and called that another violation of the state Sunshine Law, which demands public dialogue on public business. "Nobody knew what they were going to close. They were relying on word of mouth, not official notification," said Petrie.

Belleville's 51-member restructuring committee, charged with presenting possible solutions to the desegregation problem to trustees, recommended closing School 2 only, but word leaked out March 3 that School 1 was also on the chopping block. A small parent demonstration early that afternoon showed some people already knew of trustees' impending move.

Samuels conceded there could have been a "technical violation" of the Sunshine Law since trustees did not print beforehand an agenda of what topics were scheduled for discussion March 3, apparently knowing ahead of time that School 1 might be closed down.

When Samuels asked Petrie how he'd "get around" the 45-day time limit for filing complaints about Sunshine Law violations, and Petrie again said no action was official until approved by Burke, Samuels replied, "I can't buy that. I really can't Mr. Petrie." The judge dismissed Petrie's arguments that New Jersey's Sunshine Law should be interpreted broadly. "I can't be expected to add to the Sunshine Law here," he said.

Petrie charged not saying before the meeting that School 1 might be closed was "another element of misleading the public," with Samuels later adding, "Somebody, somehow got involved in a fast switch," referring to closing School 1 instead of School 9, as recommended in several school building studies.

If Samuels dismisses School 1's suit because it wasn't filed within 90 days, the PTA will appeal the ruling to Burke, then to the State Board of Education, then to the appellate division of Superior Court, then to New Jersey's Supreme Court.

During conference held briefly after Samuels reserved decision, the judge and both attorneys tried to find areas of agreement and disagreement to avoid needless haggling over details should the board's dismissal motion be rejected and should January hearing dates for the PTA suit be granted. During that discussion, the alleged Sunshine Law violation was mentioned, with Samuels saying to Petrie, "I feel you lost that... (but) you should have the opportunity to change my mind if I'm wrong."

He limited each side to one "expert" witness should the hearings take place, and allowed any number of citizen testimonies, as long as they would not be repetitive. Ten days' advance notification will be given either attorney if an expert witness is to testify.

Contacted Monday, Board President Ernie Zoppi said he had "no doubt" that ultimately the board's desegregation decision, including School 1's closing, will be upheld. "This (court case) shows that you have concerned parents. It's (the legal battle) unfortunate, but it has to happen. School 1 parents have been constructive in their comments. At the beginning, I didn't like it... but they're doing it in a proper manner now," he added.

"It's very hard to take something from people once they've had it... but this board had enough nerve to stand up and do something (to save dollars)," Zoppi stressed. He noted that if Belleville was to build its school system over again, there would probably be just four centrally located schools, rather than the seven grammar schools now in use.

Water figures show use remains too high

something, tell them to please start conserving," said Vogel, obviously worried that local residents seem indifferent or just don't realize that they're not saving enough water to meet their required 25 percent daily cutback. That reduction still allows 50 gallons per person per day, he emphasized.

Despite Belleville's poor showing, Vogel agrees with state officials' determination that all residents can survive on 50 gallons per day with a minimum of sacrifice.

By keeping track of water usage (a toilet flush is five to seven gallons, a shower uses three gallons every minute, a bath uses 15 to 25 gallons and running water uses two to four gallons a minute) people can get a clearer idea of how much they're allowed to use.

"I think that both (industry and residents) can get down to the 25 percent... we're getting desperate, the way they're talking at these (state) water meetings it's a possibility" roving enforcement squads will be sent out to keep people honest, said Vogel.

Vogel said he attended a state meeting Nov. 7 at which he found that North Jersey residents are "using the same amount" of water they did during the 60s' drought.

"We'll try to get tougher with the large users in town," noted Vogel. He pointed out that the "factory book" would be read again beginning today through next Wednesday. Vogel also had a word of advice for residents yet to tell water meter readers how many persons occupy their houses. "Pets don't count as people. They don't count when you're saying how many people are in your house."

The biggest problem is that not enough people are keeping tabs on their water usage, whether in defiance of or anger at state officials, but ultimately all will suffer, says Vogel.

"People think they're conserving. They'll do it for a couple of weeks, then forget about it," he said, pointing to the paucity of precipitation recently. He repeated that much more rain is needed than what's fallen lately before the mandatory water cutbacks ordered nearly two months ago are ended.

Slush Search — Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coppla search for hidden metals beneath the freshly fallen snow Tuesday at Belleville Park. The white stuff, dropping from the heavens for the first time this season, didn't last long — a heavy rain combined with warm grounds and warmer temperatures to take it away.

First snow comes early

causing slippery roads throughout Belleville.

No salt trucks were dispatched by Belleville's Department of Public Works, according to Commissioner Mary Senatore, who added that although the DPW kept a close eye on the storm, it didn't warrant any salting.

Local schoolchildren, however, were delighted with the sight of white, though schools remained open. The Nov. 17 snowfall was one of the earliest in recent years, but unfortunately, did little to alleviate the drought now choking northern New Jersey.

School Board members enthusiastic about vocational ed addition at BHS

which they learned how much the project's cost had risen.

An auto shop originally expected to be built under the high school administrative wing was scrapped when the price leapt from $180,000 to $235,000, a victim of the nine-month legal delay.

"We're trying to give them (students) a more rounded education," noted Zoppi, referring to the nearly 60 percent of high school students who go to work right after graduation. He said the increased vocational focus will help all Belleville High students, giving them a better opportunity to take different vocational courses.

Zoppi pointed out that many people look down on Essex County's vocational education system, but that vocational education is crucial nowadays. "Without a doubt, this (addition) is going to help the academic program," added Zoppi.

Five contractors have been hired to complete the addition by May, and face penalties of $50 a day for every day after the 200-day deadline expires.

Trustees are now paying off construction costs with local funds, hoping bond market interest rates fall so it will cost less to build the addition.

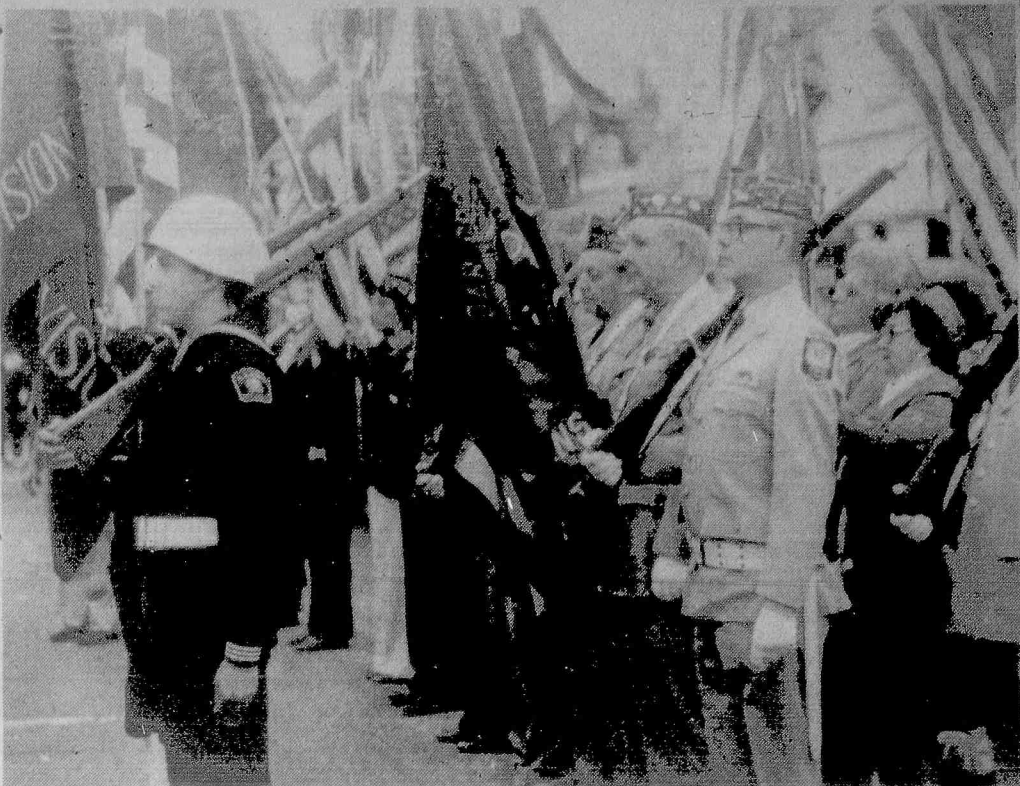

According to Ed McManimon, a lawyer at Kraft and Hughes, Belleville's bonding attorneys, trustees will sell either notes (usually of one-year obligation) or bonds (usually permanent financing over three to five years).

Belleville marks Veteran's Day with a parade

Multitude of Flags — Representatives of dozens of organizations stand at attention in front of Town Hall Nov. 9 as the Veteran's Day observance comes to an end with a massing of colors.

Big and Small Salute — These marchers, members of the Outlaw Drum and Bugle Corps, salute as they pass the reviewing stand.

Rear Guard — A member of the BHS marching band brings up the rear as the parade makes its way down Washington Avenue.

Home Review Stand — Watching the parade from their front steps are Kay Ricci, Thomas Kelly, Eduardo Chamba and his children Melissa and Edward.

Flag Bearers — The BHS color guard moves down the avenue with Lori Marino, Maria Trindade, Christine Rossi and Lorrie Grisanti in the lead.

Pack Parade — Cub Scout Pack 305 takes its turn marching past the reviewing stand. Boy Scouts, Girls Scouts, Cubs and Brownies all took part in the parade.

Bring Them Back — Sue Welter and her friends sit on the Belleville High float with signs demanding the release of the American hostages in Iran.

Baton Brigade — Advisor Dolly Rodriguez (center) poses with BHS twirlers Paula Casale, Maria Carnevale, Rebecca Bridge and co-captain Lisa Brown prior to the start of the parade.

THANKS FOR HELPING TO KEEP UNITED WAY IN BUSINESS.

Every year, United Way successfully continues to support local human service agencies in communities all across the United States.

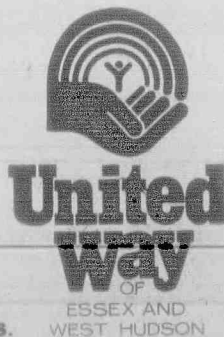

A lot of the credit for this success goes to the dedicated efforts of people in business—to top corporate leaders who volunteer their organizational skills and financial expertise, to middle-management people who work lunch-hours and evenings to help organize local campaigns and collect money, to the newest mailroom clerk who swallows his shyness and asks his fellow workers for a last-minute contribution.

And by operating like any other modern, well-run business enterprise, United Way succeeds in delivering the maximum in human services for the dollars that are collected.

Thanks again for your help.

A public service message from the Carver Savings and Loan Association.

Thanks to you, it works. FOR ALL OF US.

DO YOU KNOW?

...That alcohol and medicine, like oil and water, do not mix. Alcohol can cause many unpleasant or dangerous drug interactions. In some cases it may add to the effect of a drug, perhaps strongly intensifying the drowsiness component of antihistamines or tranquilizers. Conversely it is capable of reducing the wanted effect of other medications such as Dilantin, a popular anti-convulsant drug. Alcohol's range of action and interaction is alarmingly wide and should be approached with extreme caution by any user of medicine.
