Jewels & Gems

by Lou Cienia

Throughout history, rings have been worn for many reasons other than betrothal. The Pharaohs of Egypt considered the ring to be the symbol of eternal life because it has no beginning and no end. Adornment has certainly been a major function as well. The Romans wore huge rings on every finger with special styles for each season. However, there have been many practical uses for rings as well. Signet, or 'seal' rings were used to make a mark which was an acceptable substitute for a man's signature or an indication of a man's merchandise or property.

At CHARLES JEWELERS, 163 Washington Ave., Belleville, we design and make custom jewelry on the premises. Rings, charms, earrings, bracelets or a design of your own. Let my 34 years of experience help you make the right decision. We pride ourselves in giving you the best possible service and selection. We also offer a unique service — we are the areas only jewelry-pawnbroker establishment. Does this sound intriguing? Stop by to see us or call 759-2468 for more details.

Clara Maass is awarded two-year accreditation

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital has been awarded a two-year accreditation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. The announcement was made by Albin H. Oberg, president of the Belleville health care facility.

The accreditation means that Clara Maass has voluntarily sought to be measured against the Joint Commission's national standards and in doing so has been cited for abiding by stringent regulations related to all phases of patient care.

The accreditation program assists hospitals throughout the country in pursuing high quality health care through education, evaluation and consultation. JCHA accreditation means professional, national recognition.

Clara Maass was evaluated by the Joint Commission during a three-day, on-site survey in February. Included in the visit were lengthy conferences with members of the medical and professional staffs, supportive personnel and members of the Clara Maass governing board. The Joint Commission inspected virtually every area connected with the care and safety of Clara Maass patients.

Formed in 1951, the JCHA is a private, non-profit organization created by and composed of health care professionals. It is governed by representatives from the American College of Surgeons, American College of Physicians, American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association.

Clara Maass is a 570-bed, non-profit general community hospital providing complete health care services. Nearly 20,000 patients were admitted to Clara Maass last year and close to 29,000 were treated in the emergency room.

The hospital grew and expanded services but financial problems beset the institution after the Depression. The Lutheran Church assumed operation of Newark Memorial in 1945, changing the hospital's name to Lutheran Memorial.

In the early 1950's, it became apparent the hospital had outgrown its original home in Newark. A large tract of land overlooking Branch Brook Park on the Belleville-Newark borderline was purchased. In 1952, the hospital's name was again changed to honor the most famous graduate of the nursing school, Clara Louise Maass, who gave her life in 1901 in the yellow fever experiments in Cuba.

Bank Assistant — Belleville resident Mary K. Perry has been appointed assistant secretary of Provident Savings Bank. A graduate of St. Aloysius High School in Jersey City, she joined Provident in 1976 as a teller. Recently Mrs. Perry attended the American Institute of Banking. She is a past president of the Essex Catholic Mother's Club.

The fat-soluble vitamins are A, D, K and E. The vitamins in this group are not all single substances. The identifying letter refers to a group of substances with a similar vitamin function. An additional characteristic of fat-soluble vitamins is the fact that they are stored by the body to a greater extent than those that are water-soluble. Vitamin C and the B-complex vitamins are included among the water-soluble vitamins. Vitamin supplements are recommended for those with a known deficiency or doubts about the adequacy of their diets.

Consultants to study problems of Belleville's business district

In an effort to begin the redevelopment of Washington Avenue's business district, Belleville's capital improvement committee has appeared before town commissioners requesting $14,000 to hire a professional planning consultant for preliminary work.

The committee, which received two bids from New Jersey-based consultants to aid in its effort to rejuvenate the deteriorating Washington Avenue business area, presented the bids to commissioners for review last week. Mayor Michael Marotti asked that the committee give all commissioners copies of the bids.

A decision on which firm to hire is expected next week. The committee suggested commissioners fund the bid received by Townplanning Associates, which is making a three-phase redevelopment proposal.

But the committee asked the commissioners to fund only the first phase of the plan, which calls for "preliminary analysis and concept redevelopment." The cost of phase one will be $14,000.

The second bid received by the committee was from Grace Harris, executive director of the North Jersey Planning Association. Committee members dismissed her bid because it did not enclose a price.

"We did not feel that Grace Harris's bid was fully presented to us," said committee secretary Al Schmitt, "and that is why we presented the Townplanning Associates bid to the commissioners. I am really sorry that Grace did not enter a proper bid because with her knowledge of Belleville she would have been a big help to us."

Miss Harris has served as consultant to the Belleville Planning Board for many years.

Phase one of Townplanning's proposal consists of an analysis of the downtown business area. Phase two would include redevelopment of the town's master plan and a program for making recommended changes. Phase three would detail project designs, funding and construction.

The first phase consists of several steps which will give planners an idea of the major problems confronting Washington Avenue and how to solve them.

The first step will be designing an area map. The planners will then conduct a field survey, which will include examination of the condition of structures, streets, lights and sidewalks. The town's master plan will then be reviewed and regulations governing the area developed. Next, the firm will develop long-term proposals for the use of the area. By doing this, the consultants hope to determine what types of businesses will be successful on Washington Avenue.

An evaluation of all existing and potential assets and problems along Washington Avenue will be made as the first phase draws to a close. The consultants will then meet with commissioners, the Planning Board and the town's new redevelopment agency to firm up primary goals for the area.

Schmitt said hiring a planning consultant, rather than commissioning an outside study, would save the town almost $30,000.

"The cost for an outside study would be in the neighborhood of $50,000," Schmitt said. "That is why we are proposing this alternative. Washington Avenue is to be our major concern at the moment and we would like to act on it as soon as possible."

If commissioners give their final approval and accept the bid next week, Townplanning Associates says phase one could be concluded in 16 weeks.

New law would open up Sunday gambling

Atlantic City offers gambling seven days a week, and if an ordinance up for adoption here is approved, so will Belleville — at least in some forms.

Town commissioners gave preliminary approval last week to an ordinance allowing the operation of games of chance on Sundays. The ordinance restricts the games to bingo and flash four raffles only, however.

The town has issued gambling licenses to non-profit organizations for fund-raising purposes before, but has prohibited the games from being played on Sundays. However, a new state statute allows games of chance to be offered on Sundays, and several organizations have been requesting commissioners to issue such permits.

The ordinance will come up for a public hearing this Tuesday.

The games of chance include only bingo and raffles. The ordinance defines a raffle as "a game of chance played by drawing for prizes or the allotment of prizes by chance, by selling of shares or tickets or right to participate in such a game."

The ordinance does not allow raffles involving "the playing for money or other valuable things at roulette wheels, or with cards, dice, billiards, pool, tennis, bowling or shuffle board."

Slot machines are also disallowed by the ordinance.

Florio vs. Kean

The gubernatorial nomination election is over and the people of the State of New Jersey are most fortunate for the opportunity of choosing between two qualified candidates of the two major state parties.

Former Republican Assemblyman Thomas Kean of Livingston will face Democrat Congressman James Florio of Camden County. The November battle should be a classic. Florio, a former Assemblyman, is completing four terms as a member of the United States Congress. He is a formidable opponent. Florio is informed, able, and has the experience to stand the test of time. In winning the Democrat gubernatorial nomination, Florio was obliged to beat some very prominent and qualified competitors.

Tom Kean was not without tough competition in his quest for Republican nomination. The Tom Kean of last week's election is a different Tom Kean from four years ago when he lost the Republican gubernatorial nomination to former State Senator Ray Bateman. The Tom Kean of today made a deliberate effort to lose his Boston accent and the Tom Kean of today became a conservative Republican rather than the moderate Tom Kean of 1977. Tom Kean embraced completely the Reagan philosophy.

Florio is the first Italo-American nominated by either major party for state-wide office. Will this fact influence the November election? We doubt it. The New Jersey voter is sophisticated and very selective. Ethnic politics will not be the deciding factor come November.

Savings and loans

Among the financial institutions that have served our people and our country so well have been the savings and loan associations.

Almost from the beginning of time, for the most part, it was the savings and loan which gave to our people the opportunity to buy a home. Today these financial institutions are in great jeopardy. Their investment portfolio is burdened with longtime mortgages at interest rates substantially lower than the rate savings and loans are obliged to pay for money. Additionally, folks with a few dollars to save can now safely put the money with an investment banker at three times the rate of interest available through a savings and loan. This development drains the savings and loan institution of the only commodity it has to sell—money.

Many savings and loan institutions throughout America are in trouble today because of the foregoing circumstances. To relieve the problem, confronting savings and loans of America, their national organization has proposed federal legislation designed to permit the institutions to issue a certificate of deposit that would be tax exempt. The Savings and Loan Foundation of America refers to it as the FAIR Certificate. It is expected that such a certificate would lure money back into savings and loans and away from taxable investments, as well as keep some of the funds in America that are now being invested overseas.

The net effect of such a development would be the availability of savings and loan funds to meet the demand of home mortgages—and permit the savings and loan to be liquid. The savings and loan group claims the FAIR certificate of deposit would benefit the business community and the consumer, the wage earner and unemployed, the investor and the borrower.

Most important, the proposal would permit all financial institutions—savings and loan, commercial banks, savings banks and credit unions—to issue a tax-free certificate of deposit. It is a good idea whose time has come.

Stabbing of classmate makes grad wonder, where is justice?

To the Editor:

What a harsh and rude awakening from the euphoria of graduation I received today when I heard that Paul Scheuplein had been mercilessly and brutally assaulted. I know Paul as a fellow classmate at Belleville High School. I'll admit, we haven't always gotten along as well as we could have, but I'll also admit he's a damn fine human being. He's a good man at a time when good men are hard to find.

This kind of act upon a classmate, just a few days before graduation, certainly makes one disheartened, but the idea that this could have been prevented is what outrages me so. The person who assaulted Paul is said to have a rather lengthy criminal record, highlighted by numerous assaults. This angers me; is it impossible for a young man such as this to be placed in prison where he belongs?

I realize the fault lies not with the police, but the courts. Yes, the courts, that noble body which is designed to guarantee justice for the innocent and penalize the guilty. But in cases like this, where is the penalty? Where is the justice? Paul was evidently not the first victim, so what became of the justice for the others? Evidently this was not this person's first crime, so what became of his penalties?

The answers to these questions lie with the judge or judges who heard the previous cases. Were there "special circumstances?" For the first time, maybe, but what of the others? Can't judges spot problems in society when they are brought before them? Why can't judges give people like this the penalties they deserve, the penalties prescribed by the law? True, the law is not made of steel, inflexible, but it is also not mere putty to be manipulated and reshaped by a judge. I do not say do away with leniency in the courts, just that with leniency there should also be discretion. It is leniency without discretion and court inaction that leads to vigilante justice and personal vendettas, and thus, serves to make matters worse.

These words are nothing more than a feeble attempt to express my feelings. These words can't heal Paul's wounds and they will go blindly by the eyes of the politicians, who look, but do not see what is happening to the people who put them in a position to do something about these travesties. However, these words needed to be said and if they serve no other purpose than to satisfy my need to say them, then I will be sadly disappointed with my fellow citizens.

Sincerely,
Richard Ottenstroer Jr.

Taxes must be sliced to save U.S. economy

To the Editor:

At this time with inflation running wild and the cost of living reaching the sky, crime on the rise and an uncertain future, many states are facing serious problems, which began in Washington.

In order to solve some of these problems there is a solution that can help, and put an end to some of these ripoffs.

This is what millions of people are hoping for. My ideas come from real-life experience and should be given some consideration.

Abolish the sales tax, the personal property tax and remove as income the interest received from the banks. That would create more jobs, the people will save more and spend more.

Eliminate the state income tax sneaked in by one vote. It is not doing the job it was approved to do, to pick up all school budgets.

Unless these ideas are given serious consideration, we will be faced with a more serious depression than the one in 1929. Only Congress has the power to eliminate the administration in Washington that created this mess since they cannot be fired by the President.

It is time our representatives elected by the people do the right thing by them and bring peace and harmony back in New Jersey and all other states. The $2,300 allowed on the federal tax return for a single person? The same should be allowed for a married couple. If these ideas are approved, President Reagan won't have to fight for a tax reduction.

Sincerely Yours,
Albert Guglicelli

Ambulance men quick on the job

To the Editor:

Early Saturday morning a bike accident occurred in front of our home. When I reached the door, the young lady was lying on the lawn and she seemed in shock. I called for an ambulance, it arrived immediately.

Both my husband and I were so impressed with the speed with which they worked and how gently they handled the girl.

Accolades and a million thanks to all the good men on the Belleville Fire Department Ambulance, included must be the police cars that arrived so swiftly.

Senior Notes

By George Chenoweth

Spring is upon us and so are the confidence men and women who seem to thrive at this time of year. You may think that you are a shrewd judge of character and believe that you can spot a swindler from afar, but these unscrupulous practitioners of the underhanded arts are really professional in their line and it's usually the unsuspecting retiree or senior citizen who is the victim. They worm their way into your confidence and separate the elderly from their savings. The imaginative con artist plays a game and the unwary consumer is almost always the loser.

This doesn't have to be so if people are aware of the possibility that they may be the victims of a fraudulent scheme. This awareness is the best defense in protecting oneself. Here are a few tips: Say "no thanks" when a stranger offers something for nothing, whether it be in person or through the mail. Don't be pressured into making investments in "get-rich-quick" schemes. Check the company and its offerings with the Better Business Bureau or the Office of Consumer Affairs. Don't invest in any property until you study the prospective deal. Get in touch with an attorney who is expert in real estate law, heed his advice before making any decision. Avoid home repair ripoffs by asking for a written estimate of the work that has to be done. Better still, engage a local established contractor. Never pay for the work in cash, always pay by check and make sure that all agreements are in writing. Don't give information about your financial situation. Never give in to demands of a "friendly" stranger who asks you to take money out of the bank.

Most important of all: If you become involved in a fraudulent scheme, if you feel you have lost money to a swindle, complain immediately, call the Police Department, the district attorney, the Better Business Bureau and/or the Office of Consumer Affairs. In this way you stand a chance of recovering your stolen goods or money. These agencies are there to help and you may prevent others from being victimized.

From "The Retirement Advisor" comes this: If you're a gardener, you know the excitement of witnessing the first seedling of the year push itself up through the chilly, hard-packed soil, determined not only to sprout, but to thrive.

Momentum builds for change in rent law — but which way?

to have to move quickly. Tenants are crying that they cannot stand for more increases, while the landlords are threatening to abandon their apartments. We can't go on like this."

Many questions have arisen about the town's ordinance since the owners of the Branch Brook Garden Apartments, the town's largest complex, began fighting the law in court.

After granting a hardship increase to the Branch Brook owners, the Rent Leveling Board ruled that they could not impose the annual 6 percent hike guaranteed in the ordinance, since that would mean a hardship for tenants. But Judge David Landau of the State Supreme Court Law Division ruled that the board had erred in its decision-making process, and that it could not put a landlord in a position of choosing either the hardship increase or the annual 6 percent increase.

Landau also ruled that the board could not judge a landlord's income by using the projected rent roll, but rather had to use the rent collected as a measurement. Landau's rulings will affect all cases which appear before the board from now on.

Landau's ruling might make most landlords happy, but Chris Albanese, who owns an apartment house on Frederick Street and is former president of the landlord-backed Belleville Homeowners Association, says the decision could be a "bad sign of things to come."

"As an apartment owner, I have to be very happy with the decision," Albanese said, "but as a human being the decision to me solves nothing. How in the world will I be able to turn around and hit my tenants with two or three increases a year? I cannot do that."

"Last year I received the highest hardship increase of anyone ever appearing before the Rent Leveling Board," Albanese continued. "I received an increase of 22 percent, but I still have not hit my tenants with the entire increase. I have gradually given them increases, but I could never hit them 22 percent."

Frank Cozzarelli, the town's assistant attorney, who represented the town in the Branch Brook case, feels Belleville's law is fair.

"On the whole our rent control ordinance is a good one," said Cozzarelli. "There are several towns which have modeled their ordinances after ours. And also I must point out that in court our ordinance wasn't ruled as unfair or unconstitutional. Our entire system is working, and that can be seen with the Rent Leveling Board, which doesn't have a backlog of cases as many other communities. Recently Bloomfield's ordinance was ruled unconstitutional by the courts because of the backlog of cases to be heard."

"The ordinance reads that a landlord cannot receive more than one increase in a 12-month period," Cozzarelli continued. "The board was only following out the ordinance when it ruled that the landlord could not receive the hardship increase and the annual increase. The board members also did not want to impose a hardship on the tenants by making them subject to so many increases in a single year."

Cozzarelli says that the present ordinance is a workable one and the fact that the ruling had to come from a high court proved that, but many landlords and tenants want changes, and want them soon.

"When a landlord makes an investment, he is entitled to a fair return," said Albanese. "Rent control was imposed to prevent rent gouging and I will be the first to admit that if rent control was lifted there are some greedy landlords who would up their rents enormously, but they would be few."

"Take a look at two-family houses, where rent control doesn't apply," he continued. "You do not see rent gouging there. That is why I think the system could work without rent control. I would never put another apartment house up in Belleville. That is just no incentive to develop new apartment houses here with the rent control denying us a fair return on our investment, especially when the town tries to tell us how to run our investment. The situation is totally a mess and something is going to have to be done."

Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica agrees that the situation is becoming drastic, and moves will have to be made soon.

"Our ordinance is outdated by the economic situation we face today," Pica said. "Look around and all you see in New York, where rent control is mandatory, is decaying, crumbling and abandoned buildings. I can see it starting to happen on Washington Avenue and I think it is time we woke up and dealt with the problem."

"Last year the Rent Leveling Board gave us a list of proposals which were good and I am sorry that we didn't act on them," he continued. "There are a lot of senior citizens who cannot make it in this town any longer, and I don't want to go back to square one by forming committees to look into the situation. We know what the situation is and it is time we move on it."

In 1979 the town formed an ad hoc advisory committee made up of representatives from local landlord and tenant associations, the New Jersey Tenant Association, several commissioners and rent levelers and the two town attorneys.

BHS grad is stable following stabbing

A 17-year-old King Street youth, who was scheduled to graduate from Belleville High School Tuesday, was in the intensive care unit of Clara Maass Memorial Hospital this week after being stabbed six times early Monday.

Paul Sheuplein, a standout athlete at BHS, was assaulted at about 1 a.m. on the grounds of the Forest Hill Golf Course following a dispute at a pre-graduation party at a Hewitt Avenue home.

Belleville police have arrested a 19-year-old Belleville man and charged him with aggravated assault in the attack.

The man was arraigned Monday afternoon in Municipal Court before Judge Edward Abramson and sent to the Essex County Jail in Newark.

Police arrested the youth after witnesses had described what happened at the party. The two allegedly engaged in a shouting match and left the house after which the attack occurred.

Sheuplein was rushed to Clara Maass Hospital where he was treated immediately. He was listed in stable condition.

Belleville High School Principal John DeCesare said that Sheuplein will receive his diploma as soon as he is feeling better.

New bus routes to start June 27

Golden, chairman of Belleville's transportation committee, says he isn't pleased at all with new routes.

"I am upset with the schedule for the same reason that Nutley's Commissioner Harry Chenoweth is," said Golden. "The new plan will cause a massive tie-up in Nutley center which provides no comfort services for riders. If it rains or it is cold, there is no shelter for anyone on the Nutley routes."

"But what really upsets me is that riders will have to pay 10 cents more for a transfer in any direction," Golden continued. "What I proposed was a continuation ticket so that when a rider gets off a bus he can hand it to the next driver. The extra dime is going to be a big hardship to many people, especially senior citizens. They paid half fare to ride the buses and now they are going to get hit with an extra 10 cents whenever they transfer from buses. That is a hell of an imposition."

Public Affairs Commissioner Vincent Strumolo has been following the new bus line proposals closely. He and Golden met with NJT officials in January to make suggestions. One of them was that the 27 line, which now heads up Mount Prospect Avenue and turns left at Heller Parkway, instead continue straight on Mount Prospect Avenue onto Union Avenue, heading east into the Valley section either at Mill or Joralemon Streets. No one took him up on the proposal, however, and the 27 line will remain the same.

Belleville bus routes and changes go as follows: The 13 line will continue along the same route north on Washington Avenue to Centre Street in Nutley, running 4 a.m. to 3 a.m. weekdays, 5 a.m. to 12:30 a.m. Saturdays and 7 a.m. to 12:30 a.m. Sundays. That's an overall plus since NJT originally had proposed 4 a.m. to 1 a.m. everyday but Sunday, when, it would have been 5 a.m. to 1 a.m.

The 13 Joralemon branch will make a right north onto Franklin Avenue but instead of continuing on north will make successive rights onto Liberty Avenue and Wilber Street, looping back east on Joralemon.

The Joralemon branch will have the same operating hours as the 13 line. The bus now operates on 15 to 20-minute intervals during peak hours on weekdays, 60-minute intervals at midday and has no late night hours. Under the new plan, the bus will run every eight minutes during the rush hours, every 15 minutes at midday and every 30 minutes late at night. On Saturdays, the bus now runs with 60-minute intervals during the day and does not operate at night. It will run about every seven minutes during the day and every 30 at night. There is now no service on Sundays, but a bus will run on Joralemon every 15 minutes during the day and every 30 during the night starting June 27.

The 15 line which runs south on Franklin Avenue, turns west onto Franklin Street and then south on Belmont Avenue will be discontinued.

The 20 line, like the present 82, will run from Hoover Avenue, head east on Joralemon Street and turn south on Franklin Avenue to the subway. Nutley officials had wanted the bus to turn north on Franklin, but lost out. The line will run at 20-minute intervals during peak hours at midday and 60-minute intervals late at night on weekdays. The bus will run every 30 minutes during the day and every 60 minutes at night on Saturdays, and every 60 minutes throughout Sundays. Service hours will be 5 a.m. to 12:30 a.m. every day except Sundays when they will be 6:30 a.m. to midnight.

The 74 line north on Franklin Avenue to Nutley will run every 10 minutes during the rush hours, every 15 minutes at midday and every 30 minutes during the night on weekdays, every 15 minutes during the day and 30 minutes at night Saturdays and every 30 minutes day and night Sundays. Service hours will be 5 a.m. to 1 a.m. weekdays, 5 a.m. to 12:30 a.m. Saturdays and 7 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Sundays.

The 90 line, which now ends at Grove Street on Bloomfield Avenue, Bloomfield, will continue on, making a left onto Belmont Avenue, a right onto Franklin Street and a left onto Franklin Avenue to the city subway. The bus will run 5 a.m. to 12:30 a.m. weekdays and Sundays, 5 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Saturdays. There will be headways of 15 minutes at rush hours and at midday and 30 minutes at night on weekdays. The bus will run every 30 minutes during the day and every 60 minutes during the night Saturdays and Sundays.

Shapiro, freeholders squaring off on geriatrics director retirement

The battle to retire Dr. Roger A. Greco, medical director of the Essex County Geriatrics Center here, may be over — for now.

County Executive Peter Shapiro said last week he is in "no way" trying to force the 69-year-old doctor into retirement, despite charges from relatives of patients at the center that Shapiro is actively seeking to remove Greco.

Meanwhile, the Essex County Board of Freeholders has passed a resolution opposing Greco's retirement and requesting that he remain as chief caretaker of the 272-patient nursing home. The freeholders have given the doctor their complete backing, requesting he continue to serve in a "medical capacity."

Greco, who will turn 70 in August, has served at the Geriatrics Center for 40 years, and wishes to remain until his term expires in December 1982.

But there has been much talk about Shapiro trying to remove the doctor before the end of the summer. Shapiro denied he was planning to retire Greco, but he did admit that an evaluation of Greco's skills in "management" would be reviewed, as would the needs of the center.

"I do not have to force him to retire," Shapiro said. "I have the power to fire him. What I want is what is best for the center."

"I am exploring a number of possibilities concerning Dr. Greco," Shapiro continued. "There is a lot at stake with the center. We receive hundreds of thousands of dollars in federal and state aid for the center and we must be certain that it is being run properly."

Earlier in the year Shapiro moved to eliminate the entire medical staff of the center, with the exception of Greco, and have patients bring in their own doctors, who would bill the federal and state government directly. Shapiro hoped the move would save the county money by excluding the cost of the paper work involved in the billing.

Shapiro's plan fell through under the objections of patients' families who feared their loved ones would not receive adequate medical care, and only three of the six doctors were eliminated from the staff.

Essex County Freeholder President Jerome Greco, who is not related to the doctor, recently released a statement giving the doctor his full support.

"Dr. Greco has been a dedicated public servant to the county for 40 years, and is loved by all his patients and their families," the freeholder said.

"He has given himself selflessly to the county for all these years," Greco continued, "when he could have been enjoying a lucrative private practice."

Many residents at the center have said Greco sometimes puts in as many as 12 hours a day there since the dismissal of half his staff, and that his dismissal would be a "grave injustice."

Sara Mellinger wins art camp scholarship

Views On Dental Health

PHILIP WASSERMAN, D.D.S.
ARE PRIMARY TEETH IMPORTANT?

Want to make a dentist cringe? Tell him not to waste his time on your child's severely decayed tooth because, "It's only a baby tooth and he's going to lose it anyway".

Don't kid yourself! Primary teeth (a much better phrase than "baby teeth") play a very important role in the development of a child's future dental health. Obviously, they are necessary for chewing. Even more important, primary teeth create the proper spaces for permanent teeth. A primary tooth that is prematurely lost can no longer do this job. The teeth nearby will crowd into the empty space, and when the follow-on permanent tooth tries to enter there may be no room. As a result, it may become impacted (lean sideways inside the gum). It may come out in the wrong place (for example, through the front of the gum). Or, it may crowd its way in and destroy the delicate balance of the mouth.

Losing primary teeth prematurely is one of the commonest reasons for orthodontic treatment later on. Prompt treatment with a space-maintaining appliance is generally called for to reserve the room for the next tenant.

Padre Pio prayer group meeting next Thursday

The Padre Pio prayer group of St. Anthony's Church will meet 8 p.m. next Thursday, June 25, at the church.

Parishioners are invited to join the group and pray for the beatification and canonization of Padre Pio, a 19th Century Italian priest.

After prayers, a meeting, the last before summer vacation, will be held in the Blue Room. A new documentary film on the life of Padre Pio will be presented by Rose Pedica. The film will show the monastery at San Giovanni Ratondo where Padre Pio spent many years after receiving the Christ-like wounds of the stigmata.

Admission is free.

Belleville's past

Up until 1926, the Belleville High School athletic field was located at Belleville Park. John C. Lloyd sold this piece of property to the town for a very small sum of money and called it Clearman Field after David Clearman, the head of the Board of Education at that time.

The Belleville Historical Society has a film of one of the classic football games played in 1929 between Belleville and Nutley. Nutley won 12-7.

Brick and concrete stands were built for fans to sit and watch the baseball games. Back in the early 1930s, the baseball field was a busy place, with the high school games, the grammar school league and the Belleville twilight league all playing their games there. The only drawback for the players was that leftfield was too short and had a very high fence which is still there today.

Many oldtimers will never forget the catch that "Biddy" Carragher made while playing leftfield for the St. Peter's team in the twilight league. The ball hit the fence on a fly. Biddy jumped up and trapped the ball just as it hit the fence. He then fell down and went into all kinds of motions trying to convince the umpire, Bun Derbyshire, that he caught the ball on a fly. But Bun wouldn't buy it.

Tom Cruthers, a well liked policeman, was always on duty in the fall for the high school football games. When the high school baseball season started in the spring, he was ordered up to the field. The first time he came onto the field, he looked around and asked, "Who stole the goal posts?"

The field has served the youth of this town well and is continuing to do so right up to the present day.

The Belleville Historical Society would like to pay tribute in this space to the Belleville High School baseball team of 1981 for winning the championship of the Greater Newark Tournament. This is the first time that any baseball team at Belleville High has won a title, and by so doing, the team will go down in Belleville history. Belleville should be proud of these young men and their coaches. It took a long time, but this team finally made it.

Pre-school screenings to continue this week

Belleville's public school district is providing free confidential screenings for all 3 and 4-year-olds today and tomorrow. The tests began yesterday.

Children who seem to be having trouble with speaking, hearing, seeing, walking or manipulating small objects should be tested. Those who appear not to listen or who are very quiet or extremely active should also be screened for possible developmental delays.

The earliest detection of problems provides a greater chance of correcting them. Belleville's Intervention Program for Pre-school Youngsters (BIPPY) is specially designed to help children overcome difficulties before they get to school.

This program is in its second year and has made a difference both to the children it serves and the parents to whom it provides support.

Appointments for screening can be made by calling 759-7706.

Sale Thursday, June 18th Thru Saturday, June 20th.

Freeholders: park auto ban needs review

Essex Freeholder President Jerome D. Greco and Freeholder Angelo Cifelli Jr. have asked County Executive Peter Shapiro to undertake an "immediate" impact study of the recent decision barring Sunday vehicle traffic from county parks and to make the findings public.

The freeholders were responding to complaints from Belleville officials and Branch Brook area residents of the inconveniences and harassment resulting from the ban, such as littering and use of adjacent residential areas as parking lots.

Greco said he also received calls from Verona, Montclair, Glen Ridge and Bloomfield residents complaining of similar occurrences after neighboring Brookdale Park was declared off-limits to Sunday traffic.

"This is an experiment that has worked well in some areas," said Greco and Cifelli of the ban. "However, it is nowhere chiseled in stone that this policy remain in place everywhere. It is therefore imperative we understand the full ramifications of this plan and that the hardworking people of Essex not be subjected to policies that are counter to their interests."

The freeholders said they would sit with the Shapiro Administration officials next week to discuss the situation, and urged the public to communicate its views to the members of the board.

Several Belleville residents have appeared before town commissioners in recent weeks complaining about the ban and asking them to communicate their feelings to county officials.

The ban was started two months ago as an experiment to try and solve the traffic problem caused in the park on Sunday by vehicle owners.

New body scan due at Clara Maass

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital is gearing up this month for the emergence of what radiology experts believe is the most "monumental discovery since the development of X-rays."

A whole body CT (computerized tomography) scanner, eagerly awaited by physicians, technicians and hospital officials alike, will soon be installed in the Belleville hospital's radiology department. The addition of the scanner will create new capabilities for radiology at Clara Maass.

The CT unit is a new diagnostic tool which combines low level X-rays with a computer to create various views of the body on film. Computerized tomography is considered the "marriage" of radiologic and computer technology, as it enables cross-sectional images of an organ or other body parts to be carefully scrutinized. Tomography makes sectional images and brings one plane of the body into sharp focus for study while a computer with a moving X-ray unit makes it possible to obtain a true sectional image.

"Abnormalities which are too subtle to be seen in a conventional X-ray can be examined on a CT scan, and all without pain to the patient," Dr. Stanley Schatzman, radiologist, noted. "Scans allow for the inspection of soft tissue, such as the brain and liver."

In the past, a patient would undergo painful and uncomfortable radiologic procedures, such as examinations with catheters, tubes and dyes, in order to receive a diagnosis. Exploratory surgery was sometimes the only method physicians could use.

"Not only is the CT scanner painless, it provides us with detailed information in a matter of seconds," Schatzman explained.

When the $750,000 CT scanner is installed on the hospital's second floor, the X-ray unit and detectors will be housed in a large donut-like structure known as the gantry. The computer-based system moves the patient through the gantry to collect various views of the body. A computer receives the X-ray data and "reconstructs" an image. For each sectional image, the whole process lasts no longer than 25 seconds.

Presently, patients in need of the CT scanner must be transported to other hospitals to have the tests done. This involves additional length of stay and cost to the patient.

"We look forward to being able to offer these very special and important services to the community," said Dr. Barry Martin, director of radiology. "This technological advancement will allow our institution to become autonomous in the area of radiology."

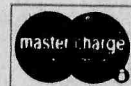

The new GE 8800 unit will be added to a new ultrasound suite, a room housing machines capable of using sound waves to create an image. Clara Maass hopes to have installed a new computerized ultrasound unit.

"Computers have made their mark on the medium in great force," Schatzman said. "It will enable us to increase the speed and safety with which the patient is treated."

"The CT scanner is a great breakthrough in radiology because it makes obsolete many tests that are potentially hazardous, painful and invasive," Schatzman concluded.

Law curtailing store hours up for hearing on Tuesday

Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica has introduced an ordinance which will enable the town to regulate the hours of retail establishments throughout Belleville. The ordinance will be up for a public hearing this coming Tuesday at Town Hall.

The proposal will force stores located in residential zones to close between the hours of 11 p.m. and 5 a.m. It will apply to any retail businesses bordering on or directly across the street from such zones.

The ordinance was introduced following a six-month campaign by Silver Lake citizens to limit the hours of the Belmont Avenue Pathmark, whose surrounding area has been plagued by vandalism, noise and assaults.

Pica said that while the main purpose of the ordinance is to control crime, it would also maintain the peace and comfort of residents in surrounding houses.

"Our main objective is to keep outsiders out of Belleville late at night," Pica said. "They seem to do nothing but create problems. But this ordinance will also cut down on vandalism and noise, which residents are faced with every night."

The ordinance defines a retail business as "any business which holds itself out to the general public for the sale of retail goods and services." The law does, however, exclude pharmacies and establishments which sell food and beverages for on-premises consumption.

Pica introduced his ordinance last Tuesday night, and during the discussion, Town Attorney Frank Zinna questioned whether it would affect fast-food establishments, since they have take-out facilities.

Zinna also noted that 40 to 60 businesses in town stay open after 11 p.m., but he did not know how many would be affected by the proposal.

"The survey was a general one and not very detailed," Zinna said. "What we are going to have to do is sit down with a zoning map and figure out what establishments will be affected. At the present moment I cannot give an answer."

Zinna said a list of affected establishments would be available before the public hearing Tuesday night.

names year after year. Trustee Ceasar Romano asked that the board consider dealing with the children and their parents in order to keep the problem from "compounding itself over the years."

After discussion by the board, Grossman promised to bring more precise statistics to next Monday's meeting.

In another action, the board met in closed session to discuss a letter sent by Mayor Michael Marotti concerning the possible sale of School 2. Before adjourning, Trustee Anthony D'Agostino read a statement he had prepared recommending the sale of Schools 1 and 2, both closed last year. D'Agostino stressed that the action should be taken "immediately" for reasons of "safety and revenue." The letter from Marotti will be read publicly at next week's meeting.

Town Democrats pick Mary Senatore again

Commissioner Mary Senatore was re-elected as Belleville Democratic town chairman last Monday night at the party's reorganizational meeting.

Chester Prospero was re-elected as the vice chairman for the 20th consecutive year.

Mrs. Senatore, who remained officially neutral during the recent party primary, says she is supporting Democratic gubernatorial candidate Rep. James Florio "100 percent."

"All the Democrats in Belleville are united behind James Florio in the upcoming fall election," Mrs. Senatore said. "And I am also giving him my full backing. Florio proved that he is a candidate of the people and because of that I will help his campaign in any way I can."

Mrs. Senatore will be running with Buddy Fortanato for the two 30th District assembly seats against Republicans John Kelly and Josephine Mongiello.

Other officers elected during the reorganizational meeting were Edith DeFeo, first ward chairman; Frank DeBonis, second ward chairman; Michele Dalbo, secretary; Cathy Noonan, treasurer, and George Mitchell and Anthony Naturale, sergeants-at-arms.

Despite repeated attempts, The Times was unable to contact representatives of the town's GOP organization for results of their meeting last week. It was, however, expected that Jerry Ferrara of Perry Street had been re-elected town Republican chairman.

Varsity Club toasts senior athletes at dinner

Flowery Honor — Jerry Ross poses with his mother after giving her the traditional carnation in honor of her unheralded but important contributions to his athletic career.

Another Pin — Anthony D'Agostino gives his mother her honorary carnation as his father looks on. Anthony was a star on the football and wrestling teams this past season and also threw a mighty shot put on the spring track squad.

Constantino, Coco — Athletes of Year

Choosing one Athlete of the Year for the past school term isn't easy. There were many talented seniors who competed in two or more sports and did reputable jobs.

Since I don't like to make difficult choices, I decided that my 1981 Belleville Boy Athlete of the Year Award will be shared between two performers this year. Both of these athletes led their baseball team to the Greater Newark Tournament, and did great things on the football and basketball squads, respectively.

The two to whom I am referring are Ken Constantino and Anthony Coco. Both these athletes came through with memorable senior campaigns and their all-around athletic abilities were the main reasons for their selection.

Constantino starred for the football squad last fall and was the shortstop for George Zanfina's championship squad. Kenny had a very "strange" football campaign. At the start of the practices, many thought that he would be the starting quarterback for the 1980 Bucs.

He possessed a good arm, fine speed and was quite durable. However, head coach John Senesky had three other players trying for the same spot and in the end, John Melillo got the nod.

Senesky realized that a player of Constantino's great athletic ability was too valuable a commodity to keep on the bench. Thus, Kenny was moved to the wide receiver position. It was a move that Senesky, the fans of Belleville or even Kenny himself never regretted. On opening day, against the number one ranked Lancers of Livingston, "Gotz" caught a 45-yard touchdown pass just before the half ended for Belleville's first score of the season.

Two weeks later, against Nutley, Constantino was once again in the limelight, hauling down a 72-yard pass from Melillo and trotting into the end zone to give Belleville an early 7-0 lead.

Against Marist and Seton Hall, Kenny caught touchdown passes and he added another in the Essex Catholic game. The battle with Seton Hall was a memorable one and Kenny's catch at the start of the third quarter put the Bucs out in front to stay.

Perhaps, Kenny's biggest games of the 1980 season came in the playoffs. He was never better than in the Morris Knolls game in the first round of the Group IV, Section 2 competition. While Morris Knolls was concentrating on stopping Frank Fazzini on offense, Constantino hauled in some key receptions.

In the state finale against West Essex, Kenny grabbed five passes and finished the season with the Bucs' last touchdown, a 45-yard pass from Melillo in the third quarter. Unfortunately, it was the Bucs' only score of the evening and not enough to stop West Essex. For the season, Kenny pulled in 18 passes for over 400 yards. Following the season, the Star Ledger selected Constantino as third team all county at wide receiver.

With the baseball team, Kenny was a fine defensive player at shortstop. Although he didn't hit for average, Constantino was once again up for the big games. In the Greater Newark final against Glen Ridge, Kenny made some outstanding plays in the hole to halt Ridger threats.

Finally, it seemed only appropriate, the last three outs of the GNT were to Kenny, who threw out two Glen Ridge runners and got the last on a pop to wrap up the first GNT championship in Belleville history.

Anthony Coco's story is quite similar to Constantino's. Known for his super work on the baseball mound, Coco gave basketball a shot for the first time in his senior year. For Joe Papasidero, his head coach, this was soon to be a pleasant surprise. Anthony was used in the center position this year and you have to know what a demanding job that was for him. After all, Coco stands around 5-11 and many of his opponents were well over 6-4. However, this never seemed to bother him and his play rapidly improved throughout the course of the year.

Coco was a fine defensive player all year for the Buc hoopsters and as the season progressed he turned into an offensive threat as well. His fine shooting touch made the Bucs dangerous at all five positions and his hard work on defense earned the respect of his opponents.

The baseball season was one that Coco will never forget. He entered his senior campaign with a career record of 10-3, having gone 6-0 in his sophomore year. He was anxious to make up for his disappointing 4-3 record of 1980, though in truth, Coco threw rather well last year. He didn't receive a lot of offensive support during the '80 campaign, but this year was different.

As most fans know, he was winning pitcher in the final game of the GNT tourney and finished his senior year with a fine 7-3 record. His 17 career wins rank second in the history of Belleville pitching.

Perhaps the wackiest week in Coco's career came about four weeks ago. One Sunday afternoon, he was scheduled to pitch in the second round of the GNT against Columbia. He started, but managed only one-third of an inning and in the process allowed eight runs. With his teammates down, 8-0 he watched as the Bucs rallied to win 15-9.

The victory might have lit a fire under him because the following Tuesday, he was on the mound against Irvington, this time for the first round of the Group IV, Section 2 playoffs. And this time, he was back in his old groove, holding the Campers in check most of the game as Belleville won 4-3.

The next Saturday, he was the pitcher in the semifinals of the GNT, this time facing Bloomfield and ace hurler Anthony Sarno. Any ill effects of his last GNT performance quickly were forgotten as Coco hooked up with Sarno in a classic duel. The two went 12 innings, with both men throwing 200 pitches or more. Coco ended up throwing 203 and won the marathon 5-4.

Next week, the winner of the Belleville Girl Athlete of the Year Award will be highlighted.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, who did the 1967 Cardinals defeat in the World Series, how many games did the series go, who were the winning and losing pitchers in the deciding game? For a bonus question, who hit a homer for the Cards in the decisive game? The answers: The Cards stopped the Red Sox in seven games. Bob Gibson won the decisive game while Jim Lonborg lost it. Lou Brock cracked a homer in game seven.

For this week's quiz, let's stay with 1967. Who were the Cy Young Award winners in the National and American Leagues that year and who were the MVPs in the National League and American Leagues? Finally, can you remember the score of the All-Star game that year and who came in with the winning run? A clue: the person who scored the winning run is still active and plays on the Red Sox. By the way, the player is not Carl Yastremski.

Post 70 baseball team tops Verona in opener

The Legion baseball team opened its 1981 season Monday evening with a 4-2 victory over Verona at Municipal Stadium. Anthony Coco tossed a neat seven-hitter, striking out six and walking just two.

Post 105 travels to West Orange tomorrow and plays away games with Irvington Monday and Vailsburg Wednesday.

Coach Joe Cocuzza's team boasts many of the men who made 1981 such a great season for the BHS varsity. After a brief interlude following their victory in the Greater Newark Tournament, the Belleville diamonders were back on the field this week for what should be another successful campaign.

The Legionnaires scored their first run in the second inning against Verona as Joe Corbalis doubled and veteran Dick Vazzano singled him home. In the fourth, Frank Fazzini singled and came in on another two-bagger by Corbalis.

Belleville tacked on its final two runs in the fifth frame. Singles by Rich Vitiello and Chris Paoello put one on the board and a single by Joe Guarino made it two.

The lineup Monday had Vazzano at first, Fazzini at second, Guarino playing short and Corbalis at third, with Bobby Brave the DH. Rich Vitiello handled the catching chores. Eugene Cancelliere started in right field, Paoello in center and Dave Starr in left. The outfielders shifted around as the game went on.

Other players this year will be Robbie Cancelliere, Mike Forte, Mike Murphy, Jerry Ross, Joe Lipoma and Joe Zangari.

More Mat — Belleville's Tommy Graziano has Ellis of Millburn under control in the 122-pound semifinals of the annual Belleville Wrestling

Parents and Friends Association mat tournament Saturday. He won 7-0. More pictures next week.

Joe's Alignment takes twin bill to retain lead in men's softball

Joe's Alignment improved its unblemished mark to 7-0 in the Monday Men's "A" Softball Division by setting back Roselli's 15-3 and DeWitt Savings 9-8. USA jumped to second place with a 5-2 log as it swept its doubleheader against BJ's Tavern 9-5 and Belleville Shoes 8-4. DeWitt (4-3) is in third place after defeating BJ's 6-3. Belleville Shoes edged Roselli's 8-7.

After suffering its first loss in Tuesday Men's "B" play, Minuteman Press bounced back to drub Hair Design 12-1 and remain in first place with a 6-1 count. Belleville Political and Social Club spoiled Minuteman's perfect record, winning its first game 7-3, before coming back in game two to hold back SPH Limousine Service 7-5 in eight innings. Hair Design and J&R Insulation share second place with 4-3 records. J&R defeated SPH Limousine Service 12-5 to move into third place at 3-4.

Mr. Dee's boasts a 7-0 tally in Wednesday Men's "A" Division action after defeating Belleville Hess 6-1 and Campbell Tools 5-4. DeBacco Brothers won both its games to improve to 6-1, beating Frenchy's 4-2 and Campbell Tools 13-4. Belleville Hess used an 8-4 decision over Howard to move into a tie for third place with Campbell Tools at 3-4. Howard and Frenchy's played to a 7-7 tie.

Peanut League

The Bombers extended their record to 7-2 with a 17-4 victory over the Dodgers in Peanut League action. Eddie O'Shea belted a home run and Tommy Klena hit two triples, while Anthony Zarro, Doug Phelps and Steven Hywel were also standouts at bat. The defense was supported by Brian Carlucci, Michael D'Achille, Dennis Petrillo and Darin Fiorendino.

In Monday-Wednesday standings, the Tigers lead with an 8-1 mark, followed by the Bombers at 7-2. The Tuesday-Thursday leaders are the Astros (10-0) and the Yankees (8-2).

Peanut League scores from last week were: Braves 33, Indians 5; Astros 15, Cardinals 7; Giants 22, Pirates 7; Tigers 22, Cubs 13; Yankees 21, Braves 5; Bears 15, Clippers 9; Bears 19, Bombers 13; Clippers 18, Dodgers 16; Yankees 34, Indians 5; Braves 14, Pirates 13;

Cubs 12, Aces 10; Tigers 19, Clippers 7, and Bombers 17, Dodgers 6.

Junior League

In the Junior League, the White Sox beat the Braves, 8-1 behind the outstanding fielding of A. Iannuzelli, the outstanding pitching by Eric Hochstuhl, the hitting of W. Davila and the swift base running of N. Turano and C. Patierno. In the fifth inning, Iannuzelli caught a long fly ball in left centerfield and threw to catcher J. Mele for a double play.

The Dodgers snapped a two-game losing streak by pouncing the Giants 23-6. Jeff Luberto paced the 23-hit attack, going four for five and hitting a towering home run to centerfield. Sal Marchello, Vinnie Cerca and Michael Pucci also slugged round-trippers. Marchello (3-1) struck out 16 of a possible 18, enroute to his third complete-game victory.

In other second-half Junior League action, the Pirates defeated the Cubs 15-4, the Bears downed the Cardinals 18-13 and the Tigers bested the Indians 13-8.

Intermediate League

In Intermediate action, the Giants, behind the strong five-hit pitching of Anthony Pravata, defeated the Braves 8-5 to even their second-half record at 1-1. Pravata helped his own cause by belting a home run. Tommy Maino led the Giants with four straight hits and four RBIs. Sam Zamloot chipped in with three hits and scored three times. Mike Marzullo and Steve Mulhearn had two hits apiece for the Braves.

Water-skiing cop preparing assault on record for July 4

A Saddle Brook police officer and champion distance water-skier will soon be off again — skimming ocean waves hoping to achieve a new non-stop skiing record.

Jimmy Carlin, 35, a Belleville resident, rides a jet-ski in his off-duty hours for challenge and endurance. The craft is basically a six-foot, 200-pound motorized surfboard on which a rider must stand. It can skim across water at speeds up to 45 mph. Carlin first gained national attention in July 1978 by skiing on his machine, dubbed the "Spirit of Saddle Brook," 1,200 miles from the Statue of Liberty to Florida. In April 1979, he extended his record with a 1,600-mile trek down the flood-crested Mississippi River. In January 1980, he undertook a solo winter water voyage skiing 2,210 miles from Portland, Me., to Daytona Beach, Fla. During the 1980 New York City Harbor Festival, the Marathon Man achieved the first non-stop, jet-skiing record by circumnavigating Manhattan Island for 24 hours.

To celebrate this July Fourth holiday and his fourth year on the waves, Carlin will bring his machine to the Jersey shore and ski in the Barneget Bay Marathon. He hopes to break his current record by continuous skiing between Seaside Heights and Point Pleasant.

The skiing cup will launch his craft, "Spirit of Saddle Brook," noon Thursday, July 2 from the Seaside Heights public boat launch located near the northwest side of the Mathis Bridge in Seaside Heights. Carlin will ski north on the bay through the Point Pleasant Canal to the Manasquan Inlet. He will then return to his original launch point for refueling. Guinness record officials allow a five-minute rest period for each 60-minute activity so the skier will rest and eat during stops at the Seaside Heights boat launch area.

The Kiwanis Club is gearing the marathon as a fund-raiser for EIP, Early Intervention Program, Inc. This non-profit agency aids handicapped or developmentally-delayed children from birth to 3 years. Area businesses and individual donors may make pledge donations for each hour skied during the event.

The U.S. Coast Guard has provided the skier with a permit to hold his marine event. Carlin will wear a wetsuit for protection from the wind, water and weather, as well as a life-vest for safety and flotation. The craft will also be equipped with running lights for nighttime skiing. Regardless of any weather conditions, the event will be held as scheduled.

Carlin believes he can accomplish his goal on the "Spirit of Saddle Brook." His philosophy is that anyone can do what he wants, if he tries hard enough. He has proved this in 8,000 miles of marathon skiing in 25 states and two countries. He has been bitten by a snake on the Mississippi, he has withstood 90-below zero wind chill factors on the St. Lawrence Seaway and fought 15-foot waves off the coast of New England. He has no doubt about his ability to complete the Barneget Bay Marathon.

July 4 will prove to be a notable day for the veteran skier. Not only will he have accomplished his goal of fund-raising for Kiwanis, but the day will have a special significance. At 3 p.m., July 4, Carlin must be out of his wetsuit and up at the American Legion Hall in Saddle Brook because it is there that the skiing cop will marry Lisa J. Humphreys of Elmwood Park.

Cosmos' Corner

They haven't been doing it easily, but the Cosmos continue to win. Last week, they made Fort Lauderdale and Toronto their latest victims with a pair of slim victories in both outings. This week, the Cosmos are in Washington and on Sunday will be home to face the always tough Los Angeles Aztecs in a 2:30 p.m. start at Giants Stadium.

Against Fort Lauderdale, the Cosmos were facing one of the strongest squads in the NASL. To make the situation more difficult, the game was in Fort Lauderdale. It was the first meeting between the two clubs since they faced each other in Soccer Bowl 80 last September.

An overflow crowd packed into Lockhart Stadium but left disappointed as the Cosmos won 2-1 on an overtime goal by Francois Van Der Elst. Although the Cosmos won, they knew they should have done it in regulation time. The Cosmos led 1-0 until late in the second half and had many opportunities to break the contest open. Only the goalkeeping of the NASL's leading keeper, Jan Van Beveren, saved the Strikers from a one-sided defeat.

Last Sunday, the team returned home to face the Toronto Blizzard. Every time the two teams meet, the result is an exciting game. You can throw away the records because the game is always a pleasure to watch.

Despite being only 4-10, the Blizzard did anything but lay down and die last week. Toronto came out and played inspired soccer and left the 33,000-plus crowd in shock. After Belleville's Chico Borja tallied the opening goal, Toronto came back to take a 2-1 halftime lead. One of its goals was scored by Cosmos defender Bob Iarsuci when the sweeper kicked the ball into his own net. Truthfully, it was a fine try by Iarsuci to save the ball because it appeared the ball was going into the net anyway.

"I felt like a real goat after that," Iarsuci said afterwards. "I was trying to save the ball and as it hit the line, I kicked it. The ball didn't have a good back spin and the result was I kicked it in. What more can you say?"

In the second half, Roberto Cabanas tied the game on his 10th goal of the year and Van Der Elst put the team ahead on a header. However, the Blizzard knotted the contest on a goal by Jomo Sono before Cabanas came back to score the winner minutes later on a beautiful kick past Blizzard keeper Tony Chursky.

Hennis Weisweiler, the Cosmos' head coach, was happy with the win. "We played well in the second half," the coach said. "I think we were a bit nervous after falling behind, but the young players did very well."

Iarsuci summed up the Cosmos this week by saying, "We're 13-4, have won four straight and we're still not playing that well," he said. "Can you imagine when we get it all together? There won't be any team near us."

Belleville fans have to be happy with the play of their hero, Chico Borja. Chico tallied the first goal in the Fort Lauderdale game the other night and scored the first goal in the Toronto game. Borja has already scored seven goals this year, four on the road, and has developed into one of the most dangerous offensive threats in the league. He is the top NASL scoring rookie at the moment.

Meanwhile, the Cosmos have to be happy with their success. Cabanas and Borja are playing excellent soccer and Van Der Elst is starting to live up to his clippings. Giorgio Chinaglia was held scoreless last week, but everyone knows that the big striker will be back strong. With Cabanas and Borjo doing so well, no longer can teams double team Chinaglia.

Finally, the Cosmos have acquired Ivan Buljan from Hamburg of West Germany. Buljan is a sweeper and that is bad news for Iarsuci. Although the Cosmos' fine defender is a bit bugged about the move, he said, "I'm in the best of both worlds. I have nothing to lose and everything to gain. I'm just going to play my game and see what happens."

COSMO CHATTER: Rick Davis, Angelo Bernardo and Steve Wegerle are due to return to the lineup within two weeks. With those three back, the Cosmos will be stronger than ever. The one thing the team hasn't been this year is healthy. Davis is recovering from an ankle injury, DeBernardo has a thigh injury and Wegerle is coming back from a broken wrist... The Cosmos now have an 18-3-5 record against Toronto. The Blizzard fell victim to the Cosmos 5-1 earlier this year... Cosmos will play the national team of Greece at Giants Stadium on July 1.

Frosh squad's 18-5 season bodes well for BHS baseball

By Mike Lamberti

The continuing excellence of the Belleville baseball program can be predicted by the fine showing this season on the freshman level.

This year's team, under the direction of second-year coach Mike Welsh, finished the campaign with an 18-5 record. The club averaged well over 10 runs a ballgame and as Welsh said, "We really did a good job offensively. On defense, there were some breakdowns, but they usually came when we had a big lead."

The frosh Bucs had depth at almost every position starting at catcher. Tony Lombardi, Lenny Iannia and Frank Zangari shared the battery role. Brian Cook, Iannia and Zangari were ove at first.

The second basemen were Joe Borello and Frank Zicaro, while the shortstop role was filled by Chris Joyce. Over at third base, Mario Sylvestri, Billy Baber and Carmen Serretto did a fine job.

Nanny's atop tavern league

Nanny's Cafe continues to lead the Northern Division of the Essex County Tavern League by a game over fellow Belleville club Town Cottage and Nutley Pub.

Games in the area softball loop were canceled Sunday due to wet grounds. The previous Sunday, Nanny's lost to Suppa's 917 of Newark 5-3. In other contests involving Belleville teams, Danny's Inn nipped Nutley Pub 3-2, FMBA was edged by Waterhole of Bloomfield 6-5, the Cottage was beaten by Dapper Dan's of Newark 7-4, Frea's and Pat's lost to Fric and Frac of Newark 6-4 and BJ's Tavern was shellacked by Half-time of Bloomfield 10-3.

This Sunday at Belleville Park, Danny's face BJ's and Frea's and Pat's plays Halftime in 9:30 a.m. games. At 11, Nanny's takes on Dapper Dan's, FMBA plays Suppa's and Town Cottage is at Waterhole. The standings after eight weeks:

Northern Division
Nanny's Cafe	6-2
Town Cottage	5-3
Nutley Pub	5-3
BJ's Tavern	4-4
FMBA	2-6
Frea's and Pat's	1-7
Southern Division
Dapper Dan's	8-0
Suppa's 917	6-2
Danny's Inn	4-4
Fric and Frac	4-4
Waterhole	3-5
Halftime Lounge	2-6

In leftfield were John Guarino and Dave Alfieri. Dave Mozeika and Anthony Tucci played center, while the rightfield slot was filled by Mike Murphy, Rodney Battifta and Frank Tursi.

"Our main objective on this level was to work on the fundamentals," Welsh said. "We obviously wanted to improve our offense and defense, but we also needed to work on the base running. That's a very important part of the game and I've seen many a high school player throughout the area display bad base-running ability. That's why I feel that it's so important."

The coach feels the team's biggest victories of the '81 campaign were an 18-7 thrashing of Seton Hall, a 10-9 win over the tough Kards of Kearny and a 15-4 victory at Middletown.

"The game with Seton Hall was very important because it was early in the season and it was against a very good team. That big offensive show really opened the doors for us," Welsh said. "The Kearny game was big because the Kards always have a good-varsity club and their freshman team is good. As far as Middletown is concerned, that victory was big because we had to travel all the way down there on a Thursday and play a very good squad. We came away with a very impressive showing."

The pitching staff this year was paced by Mozeika, Murphy, Tursi, Battifta, Alfieri, Borello and Guarino. Murphy and Battifta had five victories apiece, while Tursi chipped in with four.

"I don't place too much emphasis on statistics," said Welsh. "At this level, the main goal is to play the game as much as you can."

program's success throughout the years. Zanfini was the freshman coach for many years before taking over the reins of the varsity squad in 1975. "He's been great to us," Welsh said of Zanfini. "Anytime we need any equipment or any help, he's always there. A lot of the credit for the success of the squad belongs to George. Another thing that really helped was that he scheduled a lot of games for us. A lot of teams have only 12 or 14 games a year on the freshman level, we had 26 games scheduled. That's so important because the only way you're going to get better at this game is to play, constantly."

Welsh, who was 11-9 last season, feels very confident about his squad in the next couple of seasons.

"They'll probably see a lot of jayvee time next year because the varsity squad will be mostly a veteran ballclub. However, the following year, a lot of the positions will be up for grabs. Offensively, these kids can hit the ball with the best of them," said the coach.

Belleville has always been a big baseball town and this past year was no exception. The varsity squad of course won the Greater Newark Tournament this past year and with fine players coming up, more tournament victories could well be in the cards.

Track club holding meets this summer

The Greater Nutley Track Club is sponsoring a series of age group meets this summer. The next will take place 9:30 a.m. this Saturday at DeMuro Park on Margaret Avenue.

The competition is open to boys and girls 10 and up. Entry fee is $1 per event, with club members participating free. Events are the 55, 400, 800 or 1,500 meters, the shot put and long jump. Special varsity races (16 years and up) will be held in the 1,500 and 100 meters. Medals will be awarded to the first three placers in each event.

For more information, call the Nutley Recreation Department at 667-2800 or come to DeMuro Park 3-5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Nutley Track Club memberships are $5 and $10 a year. Other meets have been planned for July 11, 18 and 25.

Sportscaster Karvellas longtime success story

By Mike Lamberti

He is known as the voice of the Cosmos, the Knicks and at one time the Baltimore Bullets. His familiar "you are watching Cosmos' soccer" has been known to radio listeners and television viewers for years. But many people still don't know just how successful a man Jim Karvellas is.

Karvellas has been doing the play-by-play for the Cosmos since the 1976 season and is amazed by the growth of the NASL during that span. When he first joined the Cosmos, the team was stationed in Yankee Stadium and drew about 18,000 per game. "It was tough over there," Karvellas said. "When we came over to Giants Stadium, it was like a new life. I think the Cosmos coming over here was a shot in the arm for the entire league."

Karvellas was chosen as the announcer for the Cosmos by then team president Clive Toye. At one time, Karvellas was commissioner of the American Soccer League and he owned the Washington Diplomats, giving up his interest after the 1975 season. Jim attended many of the league meetings and Toye offered him the job.

"There have been some many memorable games here," Karvellas said of his years with the Cosmos, "but my most memorable had to have been the 1977 Fort Lauderdale game and the 1978 Minnesota game."

The Fort Lauderdale game was a playoff contest seen by some 77,000 fans, the largest crowd in the history of Giants Stadium. The Cosmos never played better, winning 8-3 and ultimately, taking the Soccer Bowl.

The following year, the Cosmos were beaten 9-2 in Minnesota in the first round of the playoffs and had to beat the Kicks in a regulation game and then a mini-game to advance to the conference finals. The Cosmos won the regulation game 4-0 and then took the shootout 1-0. It was a game that Cosmos fans will never forget because both goaltenders, Minnesota's Tino Lettieri and the Cosmos' Jack Brand, were brilliant in the mini-game and shootout.

Asked about his most memorable season, Karvellas replied 1977. "It was our first over at Giants Stadium and we won our first championship since 1972," he said. "The 1977 title was really the Cosmos' first big-time title because the league wasn't really settled in 1972."

Karvellas has been known to have somewhat of a steamy relationship with the Cosmos controversial striker, Giorgio Chinaglia, but that isn't really true. "Giorgio and I are very good friends," Karvellas said. "We have our disagreements because I tell him exactly what I feel about his play. If he plays well, I'll be the first to admit it, but if he doesn't, I'm a good enough friend of his to tell him what I think."

Chinaglia's autobiography mentions some confrontations with Karvellas. Jim looks back on them with a laugh, recalling some wild incidents with the Cosmos' star.

Karvellas feels that Carlos Alberto and Johann Neeskens, two former Cosmos players and big fan favorites, were two of the best he has ever seen. "Carlos did everything so easy and Johann worked so hard, but both of them were super players and I really enjoyed watching them play," he said.

Karvellas lives in Maryland and has done the play-by-play for the Baltimore Bullets, the Orioles and the Colts. The Orioles are a team that he enjoyed covering. "The 1969 club was amazing," said Karvellas. "They were as loaded as any team in the history of the game. However, they ran into the Mets in the series. The Mets had to be the luckiest team in baseball that year."

Karvellas has been working the New York Knick telecasts on the USA network for a couple of years now and also can be seen doing the NBA playoffs on USA. His best friends in the sports world right now are Wes Unseld, recently retired from the Bullets, Earl Foreman, the commissioner of the Major Indoor Soccer League, and Dave Nally, a fine pitcher for the Baltimore Orioles in the late '60s and early '70s.

Jim got his big break in broadcasting when he lived in Chicago. The Bullet job was open and his dream was always to be a broadcaster. When he got the job, he and his wife went celebrating with Dave DeBusschere. At the time, DeBusschere was a pitcher for the Chicago White Sox before joining the Detroit Pistons of the NBA.

"Dave's always been a good friend," Jim said. "He was a great guy and I couldn't have thought of a nicer guy to celebrate with."

Whenever the Cosmos are on the road or the Knicks are on cable television, you can be sure that Jim Karvellas will be supplying all the information. He is one of the most informative people in sports broadcasting and indeed one of the nicest individuals to talk with.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

We realize that our responsibility to you includes more than just handing a prescription bottle over the counter and taking your money. We want to make certain that you know just how to use medication. How frequently should it be used? Should it be taken with food or on an empty stomach? Should it be refrigerated? Does everyone know how to use an eye drop? All these and many more are the discussions we have everyday with you, our valued friends. We want to help you get the maximum benefit from your prescription dollars!
