Superintendent says sell

School Board to act on fate of School 1

By Linda Telesco

Two weeks ago, the Board of Education empowered the administration to study the feasibility of reopening School 1 as an educational facility.

The Valley district school has been closed, along with School 2, for over a year, a result of desegregation restructuring plans.

Although the Board had determined the selling of School 2 on the open market, debate centered around the best use of the Valley building.

Presently used for parking and storage, the property was considered for relocating the Board of Administration's offices from the crowded Washington Avenue facility.

Others protested that a school building should be used for educational purposes only, or else be sold in order to bring monies into the school system.

Two weeks earlier than expected, Superintendent of Schools John Greed presented his recommendation at Monday night's board meeting.

"We should divest ourselves of the building and purchase an office building if that's what we need for board functions. We don't need a building that size for office space," Greed said.

Adhering to the Board request that he study the educational possibilities for that facility, Greed determined that the only feasible recommendation, if any, would be to use it as an alternate high school for problem and non-achieving students.

The superintendent explained that in the face of declining enrollments, Belleville schools have more than enough room to accommodate the student body.

Greed said the dropout rate for grades 10-12 averaged about 50 or 60 students yearly.

Although the alternate high school suggestion was the most feasible educational use, he did not recommend maintaining the building for what he estimated would be a student body of about 100-150 "non-achievers."

He also noted that such a program could never be implemented by September. "We must identify the students in need, develop a curriculum, obtain state approval and renovate the premises," he said.

The superintendent advised that problem students could be better served in special Saturday or evening classes than in what he labeled "a sophisticated isolation ward."

The Board will consider both Schools 1 and 2 at the August 31 meeting.

Geriatrics center gets new director

A new chapter in the history of the much troubled Essex County Geriatrics Center begins on September 21 when 34-year-old Sandra L. Stiles, assumes her new position as administrator of the Belleville-based facility.

Nominated last month by Essex County executive Peter Shapiro, Stiles received the unanimous approval of the Board of Freeholders last Wednesday. She will fill the $34,000 a year post vacant since last March.

Presently administrator of Concord Nursing Home, a 123-bed facility in Brooklyn, Stiles previously worked as assistant administrator of Lincoln Medical Center in the Bronx, and as director and coordinator of programs in various New York hospitals for the past 11 years.

Stiles, a Georgia native, graduated summa cum laude in 1975 from Long Island University with a master of science degree in health administration and is presently a candidate at that institution for a master of business administration degree. A 1969 honors graduate of Fisk University, she earned a bachelor of science degree in physical education there.

Stiles cleared the first hurdles in the road to her appointment almost effortlessly when she faced the Freeholders on August 4 for a one-hour interview.

Parrying sharp, demanding questions, Stiles cited her administrative achievements at Concord which included bringing the facility to state approval, eliminating a $3 million debt, and revising admittance procedures to achieve 100 per cent occupancy.

She also described her success in

Officials agree over center

In a major effort to correct the many ills of the Essex County Geriatrics Center, County Executive Peter Shapiro and representatives of the Center's Family Council last week agreed to cooperate in a drive to improve conditions in the 272-bed Belleville-based facility.

Following a two-hour conference in Shapiro's office last week, the county executive and Council President Donald Vaillancourt issued a joint statement expressing optimism that progress in correcting the center's problems is under way.

"After examining the issues and engaging in a meaningful dialogue," Vaillancourt said, "I believe we are prepared to embark on a new era of cooperation with the county executive's office."

Frequently at odds with county officials in the past, the Family Council represents relatives of patients in the center. Since last November, the council has persisted

County children's shelter to close doors in a month

By Suzi Hedrick

The Essex County Children's Shelter in Belleville and the shelter for Juveniles In Need of Supervision (JINS) in Verona will close their doors within the next two months making way for a newly conceived network of youth and family services.

This shift from county-owned institutions to commissioned neighborhood social services is part of a philosophical reform throughout the county. "It is our strong belief that what these youngsters need is the support system built into their own families, not an institutional setting," says County Administrator Daniel Boggan, Jr.

Following two years of research and planning, Essex County has concluded that "the institutional setting that has traditionally been provided now seems to set a pattern of institutionalization that all too often points to career incarceration when the juveniles become adults," says John Clancy, Director of Youth Services.

At the hub of the new social services network will be the Family Crisis Intervention Center in East Orange which will serve as an around-the-clock referral headquarters for those youths traditionally institutionalized because they are "problem youngsters" or have been abused, neglected or abandoned. Services are expected to be available to the youths within four hours of their referral by police, judicial or social agencies.

A staff of professional social workers will be on hand at the center 24-hours-per-day to evaluate each youth's problems upon referral. One of the courses of action will be pursued, dependent upon the results of the evaluation. The most desirable course of action for DYS would be to return the youth to his or her family with support from local social service agencies. If that is not possible, the youths will be placed in foster care or sent to a 10-bed group home in Newark to be operated by the Protestant Community Council.

The Division of Youth Services' optimistic plan to coordinate community-based social service agencies to help these youths and keep them in a "nurturing" environment is still questioned by some. In a recent interview with The New York Times, Richard O'Grady, deputy director of the state's Division of Youth Services said, "It's easy to say that we'll close a shelter and somehow meet children's needs, but it's a lot more difficult to develop the resources that will be in place as the facilities close." The county DYS

Belleville police bust auto body 'chop shop'

By Jeff Weinberger and Linda Telesco

In what state police have described as "one of the biggest operations" ever discovered in organized automobile theft in New Jersey, $50,000 worth of allegedly stolen auto parts was discovered last week in a local auto body shop, according to Detective Sgt. Martin McNish.

Richard DeMarco, 36, of Fairfield, owner of DeMarco Auto Body Ltd., was arrested and charged with conspiracy. He was later released on $1,000 bail, but police say other charges are pending.

McNish said the "chop shop" was uncovered by Patrolmen Jack Kerber and Arthur Connelly after making a routine parking violation charge. The patrolmen noticed a car parked across the sidewalk late Tuesday afternoon on Cortlandt Street, where the auto body parts shop also is located.

The two men inside the vehicle,

Santiago Ayala, 22, and Jose Rivera, 20, both of Newark, were unable to produce a registration, which led the officers to search the car, McNish said Monday.

Inside, they found what McNish described as "a sophisticated set of tools" for burglarizing autos, and a T-roof from a Corvette. The roof was later claimed by a doctor at Clara Maass Memorial Hospital who had complained to police that the roof to his car was missing.

Ayala and Rivera were charged with possession of stolen property, including the car and T-roof, possession of burglary tools, larceny and conspiracy. They were later released pending trial.

The conspiracy charge stemmed from further investigation by McNish and Oese, who learned that Ayala and Rivera were planning to sell the property to DeMarco.

The detectives came to the shop, (Please see 'Belleville' on page 17.)

Belleville Jaycees will be recruiting new chapter members on Saturday

This Saturday local and state Jaycee officlas will be canvassing shopping centers throughout Belleville in an effort to recruit members for newly formed town chapter.

Nutley Jaycee President John K. Tiene along with state Jaycee officials will be at the Belmont and Washington Avenue Pathmarks, the K-Mart shopping mall and the Franklin Avenue shopping center in an attempt to recruit new club members.

Two weeks ago Tiene started to form the new Belleville chapter along with members of the Nutley Jaycees. Last Saturday he along with New Jersey Jaycees Regional Director Bob Greenwood and New Jersey District Directors Ron Zucker and Nick Goldsack canvassed the Belleville area in an effort to find new Belleville candidates.

Also last Saturday Sam Greenfield was sworn-in as the president of the Belleville Jaycee Chapter. Greenfield said he confident that a Belleville chapter could be one of the state's strongest.

"The people in Belleville are at a point where they are looking to get involved with the community and help deal with the problems it faces," he said. "And that is what the Jaycees are all about. We are young men who care about the community and what to get involved with the activities and problems of the town."

"Citizens in Belleville are becoming more aware of the community and are becoming active," he continued. "The Jaycees will give many young men that chance to get involved."

The Jaycees is an organization for young men aged 18 through 35. The purpose of the Jaycees is the development of leadership skills in its members through community service projects. Jaycees learn by doing and by their involvement they make better communities. Jaycees come from all walks of life. There are occupational, religious, geographic or other requirements for membership.

As stated, the defined purpose of the Jaycees is to build leadership through community involvement. There is however, much more to the Jaycees and there are many other ways Jaycees help each other to develop their potential more fully. Attendance at meetings helps members to understand the rules of parliamentary procedure. Speakers as well as fellow Jaycees members keep the membership informed about what is happening in their local communities. A variety of internal, social and sports activities does much to develop the Jaycee. Perhaps more important than any of these is the opportunity for the Jaycee to do his own thing. The Jaycees will give the individual the chance to air his ideas and, if approved, the membership will support the idea both financially and with manpower to insure that it turns into a successful project.

Any young man who works or lives in Belleville is eligible for membership in the new Belleville Jaycee chapter. Anyone interested can call John Tiene at 667-5853 anytime.

Jewels & Gems

Natural and cultured pearls are both adversely affected by acid, abrasion, alcohol and dust. It is wise to wipe them with a clean chamolais cloth after each wearing. Pearls that are kept in a safe deposit box, lose their moisture and can become discolored. Consult your jeweler, either before this happens, or afterwards to determine restorative measures. Above all, never treat your pearls in a rough manner. To toss them carelessly into a jewelry box filled with hard metal objects, is to risk scratching and chipping. Pearls should be kept in a separate chamolais, or velvet-lined roll to prevent damage.

Do you want us to design a special wedding ring for you? Come see me, Lou, at CHARLES JEWELERS, 163 Washington Ave., Belleville, and let my 34 years of experience help you with the design. Silver Lake Bank office robbed for second time

By Jeff Weinberger

The driver of the getaway car used in last Tuesday's robbery of the People's Bank Tri-City branch has been arrested and charged with what was the bank's second robbery in five weeks.

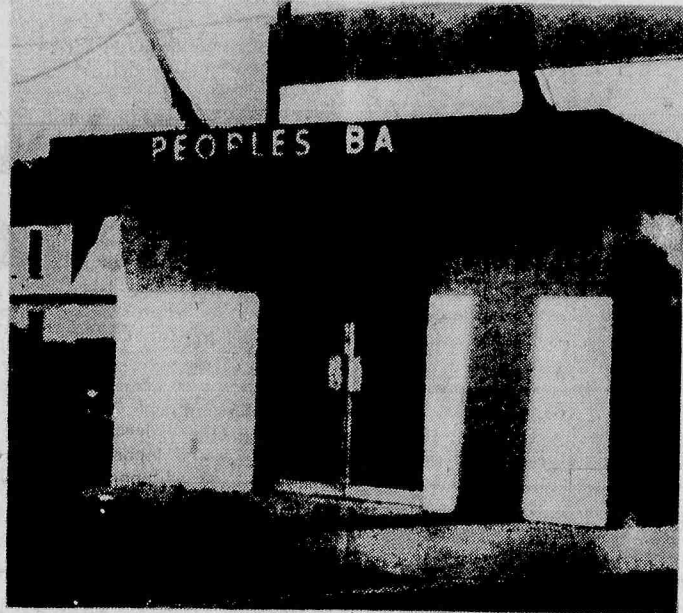

While his alleged accomplices, identified by police as a male and a female, have still evaded custody, Randall Booker Evans of Union was charged with operating the brown 1972 Dodge used to escape the noon-time robbery. He is still awaiting arraignment in Essex County Jail, Newark.

Deputy chief Frank Haight said "a definite connection" existed between Tuesday's robbery and a July 8 hold-up at the bank, located at the intersection of Bloomfield and Belmont Avenues.

In both cases, Haight said, a black woman, believed to be in her late teens or early 20s, entered the bank and showed a threatening note demanding money to a teller. After the teller complied, the woman hastened from the bank, according to the chief.

In Tuesday's robbery, the woman ran from the bank up Bloomfield Avenue, where Evans and the other male waited in the getaway vehicle. The car was involved in a minor accident a few blocks from the bank and kept on going, Haight said.

The robbery was being investigated by Detective Michael Petrillo and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, according to Haight. A senior bank executive declined to comment on the theft.

Struck Again — The People's Bank Belmont Avenue branch was robbed last Tuesday, marking the second robbery to occur at the branch office in the past five weeks. Police have caught one suspect and are still investigating.

Two township women found guilty of assault

Two Belleville women were found guilty on aggravated assault charges this week in Belleville Municipal Court.

The women, Patricia Josey, 20, and her sister, Nancy, 22, both residents at 34 Bayard Street appeared before Judge Edward Abromson last Wednesday night for attacking another woman with a knife on August 3.

The younger of the two women, was charged with supplying the knife used by her older sister in the assault of Barbara Spencer. The women were each fined $400 each, and an additional $25 for the state's violent crimes fund. Officer Joseph Rotonda was credited with the arrest.

In other court business, a Belleville man, who failed to appear for his trial, was charged with theft by deception.

Robert Dion, of 563 Franklin Ave., was charged by Francine Luberto, of 86 Little St., with taking $4,400 to renovate the first floor of her home, and failing to do the work. A warrant was subsequently issued for Dion's arrest.

A woman who was caught shoplifting at the Belmont Avenue Pathmark by Joseph Graney, of the supermarket's security staff.

Beatrice Silva, 36, of 596 North 4th St., Newark, was fined $200 for attempting, on August 8, to shoplift a container of car wax valued at $5.99.

Oh Caesar (Part II)

Well, we are back to School Board Trustee, Caesar Romano, whom we reviewed in this column last week.

Caesar says he never characterized any stories appearing in the Belleville Times as "irresponsible journalism."

Specifically, Caesar was referring to a story which appeared in a prior issue of the Times concerning the appointment of Michael Lally as principal of Belleville High School. The Times quoted School Board Trustee Thomas Zampino as stating the Board was unanimous in its vote for Michael Lally. Of course as we know, the action was not unanimous — it did not meet with the approval of Caesar Romano. He voted no.

The reference to a unanimous vote for Lally appeared in the Times because it was a direct quotation from a responsible member of the School Board, Thomas Zampino. The comment was not our opinion and clearly bore quotation marks indicating the opinion was someone else's. After Romano brought it to our attention, the Times reporter wrote the correct account for both the Belleville Telegram and the Belleville Times — and wouldn't you know the accurate paragraph appeared in The Telegram, but the production department cut it from the Times story!

Romano is of the opinion the Belleville Times only should publish quotations given by members of the Board authorized to do so; i.e., the president, vice-president and superintendent of schools.

We disagree.

In the instant case, the school superintendent admitted a decision was made but refused, properly, to divulge the confidence. Our reporter obtained the information from another responsible source — and so the story appeared in public print. While we appreciate what Caesar Romano is trying to accomplish, the obligation remains for reporters of this newspaper to make every effort to obtain news and print the facts. This we will continue to do.

We believe Caesar has been a responsible member of the Board of Education. We further believe his desire to see that public statements emanating from the Board of Education go through channels. That is all well and good. However, when the channels dry up — or take the Fifth — then we owe it to our reading public to go beyond the normal channels for our information.

We have no quarrel with Caesar Romano. He is doing his job as he sees it — and we are doing our job as we see it. Caesar Romano has assured us that he has a deep and abiding faith in the need for a free press in our society. The Belleville Times aims to remain so. So, Caesar, you are a nice fellow, you have contributed much to the welfare of our school system and students — and we trust you will continue to do so for a long time to come.

SANE is right

The small Central American country of El Salvador has been very much on the minds of many Americans.

There are many patriotic Americans who believe that the conflict in El Salvador exists because of differences among the natives of that country.

It was not too long ago the Reagan administration accused Russia and Cuba for being the promoters of strife within El Salvador.

Military operations have included the bombardment of civilian areas, creating thousands of refugees. Hundreds of civilians have been murdered by both right wing military units and the forces that are attempting to overthrow the government.

SANE believes the solution to the present El Salvador conflict can be found in a political approach. We agree. It is time to end the bloodshed. It is time for the parties to be called to a conference to stop the murders, stop the military action, and start rebuilding the country.

Legion post wishes to straighten out fan

To the Editor:

This letter is in reference to a letter written in the August 13 issue of the Belleville Times.

We, the officers and members of American Legion Post 105, Belleville, would like to answer a letter with untrue and unfair statements made about our Post by a "fan" of the Outlaw Drum and Bell Corp. We understand with the writer being just a "fan," they could not know of the years the American Legion Post 105 has dedicated to children in the Town of Belleville and surrounding communities through twirling, essay contests, and for 19 years, Drum and Bell Corps, giving up their time and money as well as their building and grounds even to our executive director of the Outlaws taking out a personal loan to get the corp started and on the street even though it was paid by the Outlaws.

Furthermore, the Outlaw Drum and Bell Corp is still owned by the American Legion Post — uniforms and equipment. They are only an offspring of the Sabre Cadets which was in existence 12 years and it is also stated in their bylaws all equipment is the property of American Legion Post 105, Belleville.

To get to the reason for this reply, the Outlaws were warned for five months by the Post officers and executive director that unless something was done by the director and supervisor of the Corp to keep the corp members under control, they were going to be disbanded. There were considerable damages being done to both building and grounds. Due to poor directorship and supervision, there was no change in the damages.

The executive board of the American Legion did not want to hurt all the children so they decided to let them use the uniforms and equipment providing they found a new place to practice. The director was notified that he may use all equipment up until something happened that the corp broke up and then all equipment would have to be returned to our post.

The Outlaws are a part of the American Legion Child Welfare Program and all equipment is owned by Post 105 and stated in our and their bylaws. Our child welfare programs are very important and we are proud of our record.

We hope this will set the record straight to the misinformed "fan" about the Outlaws and our American Legion Post.

Nutley judge's ruling being called unfair

To the Editor

Politics once again has reared its ugly head!

One has to wonder as to the wisdom of selecting judges. One must realize a judge must be fair, impartial and above all, decide cases on fact, merit and evidence. When a judge is appointed, it is done by politicians. When a judge has to hear a case involving a citizen and a politician, are we naive enough to think the verdict will be a fair one?

In my opinion one of the most disgraceful decisions was rendered several weeks ago in the courts of Nutley. If any jurist attended that kangaroo court and heard the decision rendered, he would have collapsed. The judge heard the testimony of the politician and a character witness. Then he heard the testimony of the citizen and the only eye witness. He, of course believed the politician and the character witness (who is employed by the Belleville Board of Education.) The character witness testified as to his ex-boss' actions when he sat on the Board of Education. This character witness never mentioned the arrogance, rudeness and the gagging of citizens displayed by his ex-boss. (Of course not). This fair impartial judge who incidentally has a wife that is employed by the Board of Education rendered his decision. According to the judge, in his opinion and view, the citizen and the only eye witness were lying. The politician and the character witness were not.

I must be fair to the judge, after all he really had to perform an act good enough to convince the people he was conducting a fair trial. His name should be submitted to the Academy Awards for the Best Actor of the year. People of Belleville, was this case decided on the night of July 29, 1981 or was it decided the moment the case was transferred from Belleville to Nutley.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

The Conference of Chief Justices was held two weeks ago in Boca Raton, Fla. There Robert D. Lipscher, administrative director of New Jersey's courts, revealed a planned statewide computer system for the state's judiciary, including compilation of additional data dealing with the fragmented structure of municipal courts in our state, aimed at establishing a more unified court system at the local level.

He said, "A lot of attention has been given to the gathering of municipal court data. I won't say that it will lead to a restructuring; this is just an early step toward improving the municipal court situation."

The National Center for State Courts conducted a study during the mid-1970s and found scandalous inefficiencies. Little has occurred to alter conditions in the state's local courts since.

There has long been an undercurrent movement within the higher echelons of the state judiciary to restructure the municipal courts to improve their efficiency and uniformity of adjudication, however, local political "home rule" philosophy has, so far, blunted the objective.

While on the subject of the local courts, we observe our magistrate, Edward Abromson, being mentioned often in the press involving cases that have captured public attention, such as the battle of the beagle being lost in a surprising turn of events.

That was an odd case that inspired a by-line story by Star-Ledger reporter Charles Q. Finley. It involved a Roseland doctor troubled by a persistent beagle dog crawling under his fence and wrecking his lawn.

He called the police telling the cop the owner should curb his dog or be made to pay for the inconvenience, whoever he might be. The cop expressed sympathy, then left.

Later, he was notified to appear in Roseland Municipal Court to press dog trespass charges. A notice followed that the case had been transferred to Belleville.

The doctor was both dismayed and annoyed at the venue change to a community with different ordinances, but having had enough of that beagle he appeared in court on the appointed date, Wednesday night, Aug. 5.

The doctor stated: "There sat the defendant — Superior Court Judge William F. Harth — with his attorney by his side.

"After I was sworn in as a witness, the defense attorney asked me if I knew the dog and I informed him we never had been informally introduced. He asked me if I had witnesses with me." (quotations from Star-Ledger reporter Charles Q. Finley's story.)

The doctor told the judge (Magistrate Abromson) nobody informed him he needed witnesses....The judge dismissed the case.

A spokesman for Roseland Municipal Court said Municipal Judge John L. Shanahan had disqualified himself in the case since he was a friend of the defendant and because Harth also was acquainted with a number of other Roseland officials.

Why was the case sent to Belleville? Was the Superior Court judge loth to have the episode brought to the attention of hometown folks? It could have been heard in any of the nearby towns, such as Verona, North Caldwell, Fairfield, West Caldwell, Caldwell, Livingston or Essex Fells.

Anyway, just as in the Zoppi-Fornaratto matter, all these cases should be heard in the community in which the event occurred. The courts should not operate for the convenience of the judges, but, for the public.

Doubts have been provoked about the propriety of a judge sitting under certain circumstances through the comments of more than a few who acquainted themselves with the Zoppi-Fornaratto case and the description of the hearing, along with the new development, brought out in a "Letter to the Editor" which asserts that the wife of the jurist who heard the case "is and has been an employee of the Belleville Board of Education in the capacity of a teacher since Sept. 1, 1979."

It will be noted that if, indeed, the judge's wife had been hired on that date, that Mr. Zoppi, a contestant in the case, was a board member at the time... theoretically participating in her hiring. These points, if factual, could sustain a justifiable claim for an appeal. Would it not have been a conflict of interest?

Family group agrees to help county officials

in efforts to elicit action from the county to correct what Vaillancourt termed "intolerable conditions."

Matters came to a head last month when the council issued a six-page resolution calling for reform of 24 areas in the center's operation. The resolution complained of inadequate medical and nursing staff, poor housekeeping, insect infestation, deteriorating physical environment and unsatisfactory administrative practices.

Copies of the resolution were mailed to various county and state officials. The county dismissed several of the charges as false, but acknowledged others and said numerous corrective measures had been initiated.

Those issues were discussed at last week's meeting and underscoring Vaillancourt's optimism, Shapiro commented, "The goal of this administration and the goal of the Family Council is one and the same — to provide the best care possible for the patients of the Geriatrics Center."

Center."

Vaillancourt later remarked that the council is "very confident" about improving the center. "We do not intend to run the center, but with this agreement, we now have the best of both worlds," he said.

While Vaillancourt acknowledges that many of the longstanding ills of the facility were under study by the county for several months, he believes the forceful action taken by his 80-member group formed last January motivated recent reforms.

He noted that the council scored another triumph when the county reversed its hotly protested proposal to eliminate the center's on-premises staff. Now senior residents from the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry are on duty at the facility from 6 p.m. to 11 a.m. and around the clock on weekends.

Vaillancourt publicly thanked the Freeholders at their meeting last Wednesday for the 24-hour on-premises staff and for "taking action already on many of the council's complaints."

Town Treasurer Francis McCoy predicted that Bellevillites would be looking forward to a tax jump of at least 23 tax points. To the owner of a $25,000 home, that would have meant a boost of $57 in his yearly tax bill. McCoy said the town lost $550,000 in surplus funds and that the money was to be made up in the next year's budget. That figure would have increased significantly if the town appropriated funds to pay the town's police officers' raises.... When Congress overrode President Ford's veto of the Public Works Employment Act of 1976 in July, it might have saved the jobs of some town policemen. According to John Bruno, of Bruno Associates, the town was in an exceptionally good position to take advantage of the Public Works funding. Mayor Marotti and Commissioners Joseph McGreevy, Rocco Saletta and Mary Senatore then decided that police employment was one of the priorities to seek under the bill's requirements. Bruno explained that the legislation was designed to relieve unemployment especially on the municipal level.... School 3 was on its way to being rebuilt after a January fire gutted the building. The completion of the new structure was proposed at 16 months according to the architectural firm.

10 Years Ago

Repercussions from the August 1 electrical and thunder storm climaxing a week of rain in the area were still being felt as damage to a 48-inch sewer system running parallel to the Second River at the Belleville-Newark line would cost the town almost $50,000 and threatened the aquatic environment in the area. The sewer line, constructed in the early 1890's and serving seven towns, had been exposed and was in danger of further damage due to a cave-in of a bank of the Second River near Mill Street and Washington Avenue. Emergency work got underway by an area construction firm until permanent repairs could be made.... A full investigation into Belleville's official census figure was being taken by the federal government. Mayor Joseph McGreevy said census officials were also convinced that the official census figure for the town was a mistake. Town population figures presented by the U.S. Census Bureau for the Northern New Jersey area were lower than the preliminary tabulation by nearly 5,000 people. According to McGreevy, the town would get a $15,000 reduction in state aid for the Health Dept. in 1972 if the figures held. The final census showed Belleville's population at 34,643. Preliminary figures tabulated 39,225.

Health Officer Edward G. Burdzy charged his office was practically "powerless" to do anything about an "alarming" jump in VD cases among Belleville teenagers, largely because 1961 budget increases urged for the Health Dept. by Public Affairs Director Nuncio R. Pico last January were squelched by Mayor Padula's Revenue and Finance Dept. Burdzy said it would be difficult if not actually impossible to cope with any increase in VD incidence in Belleville unless more personnel were added to his department.... The Civic Pride Committee, organized to raise $1,000 for accordionist Donald Hulme's entry in the World Accordion Olympics next month in Italy, during the first week, raised more than half of the goal. The committee, according to Chairman Dominic A. Lally, collected over $500. Donald Hulme, who had won the U.S. Accordion Championship three years in a row, placed second in the World Olympics in '60. He had been named the sole representative of the U.S. to compete in Italy.... Board of Education members sought a new superintendent of schools after the death of Evan H. Thomas. Among the candidates were Dr. Frank Durkee who served as assistant superintendent and expectees, Henry Minasian, principal of School 2 and Frank A. Spotts, principal of School 4. Seymour Grossman, principal of School 7, had been discussed as a candidate but was reported not to have the intention of applying for the position.

Magistrate Everett H. Smith informed Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan and Attorney Newton H. Porter, Jr. representing the Westmont Service Center, Inc., at Belleville and Smallwood Avenues that he had found that the storage of trucks on the Westmont property was a violation of the zoning ordinance of the Town of Belleville. Sentence in the matter would be pronounced by the magistrate at the Magistrate Court session.... Three streets off Franklin Street in Silver Lake were made one-ways during the weekend to facilitate the movement of traffic in the vicinity of the Bloomfield warehouse of L. Bamberger and Co., the scene of a million-dollar fire sale. It was estimated that 25,000 people flocked to the warehouse for the sale. About 20 percent of the structure was situated in Belleville.

Belleville's past

The church was consecrated by Bishop Doane in June of 1842, although the First Holy Communion had been served in September of the previous year.

The church grew inadequate as environmental and Parish needs changed with the times. In 1908 property on Washington Avenue between Joralemon and Essex Streets was purchased and a Parish House was erected and served as a church. The Rectory also was completed in 1914 on these grounds.

The Parish continued to expand and in 1928 a movement was begun to raise funds for a new church building. The plan was to build a church at the corner of Washington Avenue and Essex Street. However, a survey showed that it would be more advantageous to erect the new church plans to build on Washington Avenue were abandoned. In their stead, land was purchased at Van Ryper Place in Belleville, the intention being to build the church there and sell or lease the Washington Avenue property to provide funds for the new venture.

The sale of the property was never consummated. The depression was then at its greatest depth and not only could the property on Washington Avenue not be sold, but neither could a tenant be found to rent it.

In March of 1937 the church had to release the Van Ryper land because of increased liabilities. The depression squeeze forced the church to curtail many of its current expenses and salaries; the Rector Rev. Peter Deckenbach on his own suggestion, voluntarily took a $500 pay cut in 1933.

On February 13, 1951, Senior Warden George E. Miller acknowledged receipt of a deed to the triangular piece of property at the rear of the church, donated by Belleville Masonic Lodge No. 108, making possible the building of a retaining wall and an entrance to the garage from both Washington Avenue and Essex Street.

In February of 1955, the Wells organization was authorized to organize a campaign to solicit $100,000 and on June 8, 1955 the firm of Kruger and Fava was authorized to proceed with the drawing up of plans and specifications. On March 12, 1956 a groundbreaking ceremony was held with the Rev. Peter Deckenbach taking out the first shovelful of dirt. Assisting in the ceremony were the Rev. Paul Deckenbach and Senior Warden George E. Miller.

The Church was completed and dedicated by the Right Rev. Benjamin Washburn, Diocesan Bishop in 1957.

Historically, the present church bell was recast from the original imported from England that was destroyed in the fire of 1837. Into this bell also went the metal from the fire-melted brass and silver altar vessels. The bell hangs in the present Parish House Tower where it was placed in 1944.

Also the organ in the new church is an unusual and happy combination of the old and new. Basically the instrument is No. 455 built in 1875 by Johnson and Son, Westfield, Mass. for the old Christ Church on Main Street. When the present Parish House was opened, the organ was moved from the Old Church and installed without any changes or improvements except an electric blower to do away with hand pumping.

In 1919 the organ underwent a partial renovation and modernization. A new console and necessary electro-pneumatic actions to eliminate the worn and noisy old-type mechanism was done.

In 1956 the organ was completely dismantled and removed from the Parish House and sent to the Johnson Organ Company's factory in Upper Montclair, where it was remodeled and modified in order to better suit the musical requirements of the new church. It was placed high over the narthex in the new church.

Ministers of the church were:

- 1810 — William Berrian, D.D.
- 1816 — Rev. George Moorehouse
- 1819 — Rev. Augustus Fitch
- 1821 — Rev. Lawson Carter
- 1823 — Rev. John Griggs
- 1825 — Rev. Matthew Matthews
- 1831 — Rev. Ralph Williston
- 1832 — Rev. Holmes and Whittingham
- 1834 — Rev. Robert Davies
- 1841 — Rev. Dr. Chapman
- 1844 — Rev. Samuel Southard
- 1845 — Rev. H.B. Sherman
- 1862 — Rev. J.F. Blake
- 1864 — Rev. S.W. Sayres
- 1875 — Rev. C.S. Abbett
- 1911 — Rev. Charles Popham
- 1924 — Rev. Peter P. Deckenbach
- 1958 — Rev. Frederick Long

IRRIGATING DEVICES

Recently, the water pick or oral irrigating device has become popular. How do they work? The water pick cleans teeth by irrigation with tiny jets of pulsating water which clean around the gums, between the teeth and under bridges where the toothbrush and even floss sometimes cannot reach. The pulsating water jets, flush out food particles from difficult-to-reach spots where food collects.

The dental irrigator is not recommended for small children, but for children over 12 years with orthodontic bands, the device is invaluable in flushing out food particles. Some dentists have reservations about the use of a water pick depending on the condition of your teeth and gums, so it might be wise to check with your dentist who is familiar with your particular condition before buying one. In any case, remember that water picks do not remove plaque - only food. So, it is to be used as a part - not as your whole cleansing process.

NJ cancer registry commends hospital

Clara Maass Memorial Hospital recently received a commendation from the New Jersey Cancer Registry for complete and accurate reporting of 1979 cancer incidence statistics by the Tumor Registrar.

The Tumor Registry functions as a data collection system to provide lifetime follow-up of all cancer patients treated in the hospital and to compile results of these patients for evaluation. Data includes such variables as primary anatomic site of the cancer, methods of treatment and extent of spread.

The survey by the State Cancer Registry was conducted to determine the completeness of reporting of 1979 incident cancer cases. Pathology departments, medical records and tumor registries were visited and surveyed. The survey enabled the state to identify cases that otherwise may have been overlooked and identify areas where improvements in reporting could be made.

Residents still helping out Hinds family

By Jeff Weinberger

When Donald Hinds was killed on July 29 in a fatal bicycle accident, neighbors of the 13-year-old responded by seeking donations to help pay for the youth's funeral.

Two weeks ago the Times reported on an effort by four local girls, who raised $238.77 for the funeral. The boy was buried in St. Peters cemetery on August 1.

But it was not known then that others, too, had sought donations for the funeral.

Lisa and Mark Lamana, and Karin Asher collected $200, which they gave to Donald's mother. They also gave a basket of fruit to the boy's father.

The family of Donald R. Hinds would like to thank all those involved who shared their kindness and thoughtfulness in our time of need. A special thanks to Umberto, classmates and all young friends of Donald.

Recreation playgrounds coming to a close

As recreation playgrounds wind down to the final week, children are still coming to the playgrounds in large numbers to enjoy their last days of summer before school opens.

At Fairway Park, children enjoyed playing various games such as five-hundred rummy, gin, war and muf. Participants included Gina and Jimmy Krupka, Lisa Salvatore, Jodi Prosperiti, Bob Weckenmann, Billy Donnerstage and Kim Izzo.

The children at the Friendly House are in the midst of a three-day whiffle ball tournament. Eight two-man teams battled their way through preliminary rounds and Tom and Aaron Crowther will meet P.J. Olivio and John Wirth in the final.

At the Stadium, children were busy collecting donations for the Recreation Carnival, and in between, all enjoyed a game of spud. Participants and collectors included Patti and Joe Bliss, Laura Newberry and Kim and Doug Decker.

At the Rec. House, children collected over $200 to aid the carnival for cerebral palsy, and the children were also busy constructing a haunted mansion. Contributing greatly were Jeff and Joe Corio, Dave Fox and Anthony Salamone.

At School 8, children enjoyed celebrating softball championships in both the junior and senior leagues. Leading the way for the junior champs wre Dean Mauro, Tim Buckley and John Auriemma. The seniors were led by Chris Paoello, Mike and Robert Dalla and John Borrello. At Kelly playground, frisbee football was the game of the week and participants included Michael Martinez, Ron Spera, Kevin Burbank and Pepe Cofone. At School 1, children who donated their time in collecting donations for the carnival were regarded with a watermelon party. Participants included Troy Talmadge, Danielle Millar, Barbara Torres, Steve Galvaín and Lynn Minieri.

Monopoly was a favorite game at the Little League Field House as children enjoyed learning the game from the directors. Participants included Kevin, Brian and Nancy Hildreth, Aide Jimmy Fox and Directors Joan Pennetti and Elizabeth Frank. At School 9, David Bern showed off his basketball skills by winning a foul-shooting contest, sinking 9 out of 10. He also led his teammates, Mike Carbone, Vince Molar and Anthony Insano to victory in a four-on-four game. At School 10, children enjoyed a lunch party from Wendy's and McDonald's on Wednesday. Participants included Steven Tice, Stacy Johansen, Alice Aiello and Brian Tice.

County to hold senior festival

In an effort to display the cultural contributions that many senior citizens have made, the Essex County Department of Parks, Recreation and Cultural Affairs, will host the "Second Annual Senior Citizens Cultural Festival" on Tuesday, September 15, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at South Mountain Arena and Turtle Back Zoo, 560 Northfield Avenue, West Orange, New Jersey.

This Festival held in cooperation with the Essex County Division on Aging will feature a cultural parade, antique car show, dance and dramatic presentations, hay rides, a craft sale and a flea market. A special highlight will be an art show featuring an original work by Grandma Moses.

Individuals and/or senior groups interested in participating in Essex County's "Senior Citizens Cultural Festival" are asked to contact the Department of Parks, Recreation and Cultural Affairs.

William C. Scalzo, Director of the Essex County Department of Parks, Recreation and Cultural Affairs and Louis Hull, Acting Director of the Essex County Division on Aging, have given their full support to this event. Over 50 county agencies have agreed to set up booths to exhibit and discuss the services they offer the senior population.

This Festival presents the opportunity for seniors to actively participate in cultural workshops, dances and/or demonstrations. All seniors are encouraged to attend this event dressed in cultural costume and participate in the parade scheduled to begin at 12:30 p.m.

Tables are available to seniors and senior citizen groups to sell or display their arts and crafts. Odds and ends can be sold at flea market tables. If interested in securing a table, registration is required.

For further information on the "Second Annual Senior Citizens Cultural Festival," please contact the Essex County Department of Parks, Recreation and Cultural Affairs at 482-6400.

Nutley Little Theatre ready for 47th season

With the installation of officers and the announcement of its coming season of productions, Nutley Little Theatre is gearing up for its 47th year as one of New Jersey's outstanding community theatre groups. Victoria Chalk Little of Montclair was elected as president of the local organization, and was sworn in last month. Also installed were Linda A. DeSimon, Nutley, as vice president; Gretchen Kanter, Paterson, as secretary; Mary Tiene, Nutley, as treasurer, and Gail Rog of Wallington and Robert McCormick of Nutley as members-at-large.

Chalk Little will direct the season opener in September with a production of Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest." Marsha Norman's "Getting Out," which deals with the trauma of a young woman's years in prison and her readjustment to society upon her release, will feature some of the members of NLT's Youth Action Committee; an adjunct group comprised primarily of Nutley High School students. This show will be directed by Dennis McGuire of Montclair, and will be presented in November.

The final show of 1981 will be offered in December and will highlight two one-act comedies by Noel Coward — "Shadow Play" (to be directed by Lin Weber Cort of Nutley), and "We Were Dancing," which will be directed by Robert Pace of New York City. Both pieces are part of Coward's nine one-act plays that come under the umbrella title of "Tonight At 8:30."

The first offering of 1982 will be a

January presentation of Alan Ayckbourn's "Bedroom Farce," directed by DeSimon. In March, the group hopes to present the New Jersey premiere of "A Couple White Chicks Sitting Around Talking," which recently concluded a successful run off-Broadway. The work will be directed by John Loan of Nutley.

Other spring productions will include an April presentation of "Who's Life is It, Anyway!" directed by Gail Rog, and the season will conclude with "The Boys in the Band," directed by Glen Ridge's Lee Guest-Moore and to be presented in June. "We're on the brink of an exciting season," commented Chalk Little. "The consistently outstanding quality of our productions has increased our following to the point where we get ticket requests from people who don't even care what we're presenting, because they know they're going to get an inexpensive, high-quality show without having to travel far to see it," she concluded.

A subscription series will be offered for the second year. Anyone seeking further information on how to subscribe should call 667-2319, or write to Nutley Little Theatre Subscriptions, P.O. Box 131, Nutley, New Jersey 07110.

High school teams look strong this fall

It seems like only yesterday that we bid a fond and reluctant farewell to the Class of '81. Now it's just three weeks until the start of another school year and the excitement that goes along with it.

This fall, the football, cross country, tennis, soccer and gymnastics teams will represent Belleville on the varsity level and based upon last year's results, the outlook for all of those sports looks bright.

Let's take a look at the gridiron squad. For many years, football was a way of life for Bellevillites. The Saturday afternoon football game would be one that would attract fans throughout the town and the games were always exciting and hard fought. Then, a couple of years ago, it seemed that the program was beginning to lose a bit of fan interest. Enter John Senesky in 1977. In four short years, he has turned that program from one which specialized in below .500 teams, to one of high state rankings and playoff appearances for the past two years.

From a 2-6-1 record in 1977 to last year's 9-2 mark and appearance in the state finals, Senesky has formed one of the most feared teams in the area. Chances are good that the 1981 team will stick to that format.

In 1979, Belleville was 8-2 and made its first appearance in the Group IV, Section II playoffs, dropping a 15-12 heartbreaker to eventual state champ, Union. The Bucs lost 22 seniors from that squad and many football "experts" predicted that the '80 season would be one of rebuilding for the Bucs. After dropping its opener, 36-12 to Livingston, it appeared that possibly the '80 season would be a rebuilding one. However, Belleville used some new faces to stop Montclair, 7-6 in week two, and from then on, it was all uphill. The Bucs stopped previously unbeaten Passaic, Marist and Seton Hall along with knocking off powerful Clark and then stopped Morris Knolls, 14-7 in the first round of the playoffs.

This year, the Bucs did not lose as many players as the '80 squad did and at early glance, it appears the Bucs should be strong. This is not to say that Belleville doesn't possess weaknesses. Some Buc coaches have expressed their concern about the offensive and defensive lines. That is where the Bucs lost heavily after the graduation of such players like Anthony D'Agostino, Luj Chimento and John Cataldo.

The Bucs do have some familiar faces, namely Frank Fazzini, a 1000-yard rusher in 1980 and one of the most feared runners in the county. Phil Cerza will spearhead a good defense while Tom Apicella and John Bucciarelli will provide strength on the line. If Angelo Centanni can stay healthy, the Bucs backfield will be that much better. Centanni has super speed and good power, but has missed some of the '79 and '80 seasons due to injuries. Pete Haverick, who led the way in the Bucs 7-6 win over Mounties last year returns as does Eugene Cancellieri. Brother Robbie Cancellieri will also see action in the backfield and look for a surprise kicking prospect in player-manager Dino Ibelli.

The quarterback job is up for grabs, but Bob Woodcock, the Bucs top JV quarterback of a year ago, looks to be a good choice. "Woody" has a strong arm and good speed and will try and fill the shoes of John Melillo, the Bucs All-Area quarterback of 1980 now playing at Rutgers.

While there are some questions, remember that the Buc freshmen squad of 1980 was super and with many players anxious to make their mark for the Buc gridiron squad, the 1981 season could be one of great promise and success.

Turning over to cross country, Tom Fuscaldo and Barbara Gundry figure to lead the way. The Buc runners turned in some fine individual performances in 1980 and the turnout for the '81 team appears to be the largest in quite some time. Under the direction of Rich Ruffalo, the harriers might open some eyes this fall with a renewed interest in the sport. Cross country is the type of sport that doesn't require any special equipment, other than a decent pair of sneakers, but really needs runners that want to work hard and put out. The ultimate reward will be one of contributing to the success of the school and also leads to some individual satisfaction.

Over on the soccer field, Anthony D'Aquino has a world of talent returning to this year's team. Last year, the Bucs were 4-11-1 with a very young squad. D'Aquino started four freshmen on last year's team and the Bucs top player, John Lee went down with a broken leg midway through the year. However, the Bucs were gutsy all year long and never once gave up. Brian Woods will be the team captain and D'Aquino has nothing but the ultimate respect for him. "He's the toughest kid I've ever seen," D'Aquino said. For a person like D'Aquino to make such a statement, you know that Woods is indeed a super player. Santiago Borja, brother of the Cosmos Hernon Borjo, enters his sophomore year and this player has a world of potential. Borja plays the game with style not seen in a sophomore and he might be a future star in the NASL one day. In the meantime, look for Borja to pick up a lot of fans along the way this year.

The gymnastics team, under Carol Giuffrida enters its third year of experience. Giuffrida is indeed one of the finest coaches in the area and has a very young squad with which to work. While the girls might not be the best team in the state, they do have the basis for optimism. Now that they have devoted two full years, and with a fine coach, the team might make bigger strides this year than many people had originally thought. It's an interesting sport and with much more coverage being devoted to this year's squad, the gymnastics team will be a team to watch.

That's just a small look at what to expect come September. Of course, once the teams start to practice, the Times will be devoting coverage and at close glance, it appears that 1981-82 will be another classic year in the annals of Belleville sports.

There's some good news for local sports fans. Rosie Leonidis, the fine athlete for the tennis, basketball and softball squads is doing very well after her second knee operation in 1981 three weeks ago. Whether Rosie will be able to compete this year will be another story, but more important, she is coming around nicely and has already started a rehabilitation program.

Did you watch the All-Star game last Sunday? NBC-TV did a nice job promoting the game and made it rather exciting. They didn't speak about the strike too much, but rather concentrated on bringing the fans back to the game. Well, the next day, the creep of the year, Howard Cosell, said on his radio show that NBC was overlooking the facts of the strike and should have discussed that instead of baseball. Howard, I realize that being morbid is part of your attire, but don't you realize that the strike lasted seven weeks and the fans don't want to hear about litigation, collective bargaining and unions any more. Your Monday night baseball show last week stunk in plain fact. Who really cares

Belleville girls' softball squad looks promising for next year

By Mike Lamberti

Having just completed its first year in the garden state class A softball league, the Marotti Association squad of Belleville can look back with satisfaction after finishing its inaugural season with an 11-7 mark.

Head coach Denise Zarra pointed out that had her club had more practice time during the course of the summer, the team might have been that more successful. The girls, because of varying commitments, were unable to practice as a team for a good portion of the summer, and the result was visibly noticeable with some costly errors that took away some key wins.

The girls lost only one game by way of a blowout and many of the losses could be attributed to some sloppiness in the field. However, what must be remembered is that the girls did play .611 softball and with the team sure to be voted in as a regular squad next year, the chances are good for continued success. The girls could have been playoff material this year, but because this was their first year, the team was ineligible to compete in post-season play.

"I would say the major flaw in the league, as far as we are concerned was the travel," said Zarra. "In the midst of a hot summer, it gets to be a bit difficult to travel a rather long distance and then get up to play a game."

Indeed, while the girls did have a successful year, its competition, outside of Nutley, came from Clark, Ramsey, Chatham, East Rutherford and Bergenfield. Now, while these towns are not located on the end of the map, they are a considerable distance from Belleville and with the girls driving to these locations, it could be a drain, especially when the weather reached above 85 degrees, which it has done many times this summer.

There were some bright spots on the team, many as a matter of fact. And what made these bright spots even more impressive is that the key players will be back for the Belleville softball team next March. Let's take for example, Nancy Coffey, an all-state third baseman who'll be at the hot corner next spring for Carl Corino. Nancy batted .322 and led the team in hits with 19. She also sparkled in the field possessing a fine fielding percentage of .909, while bashing home two-triples.

Rosie Leonidis, who was sidelined with a knee injury late in the year, came through with a .275 average, including a triple and a double. She played a very steady second base and hopefully can be ready for the softball season come March.

Tracey Buono, who really came around in the second half of the year, batted .324 with 12 hits, two doubles and a homer. Tracey, who'll be a sophomore this fall at BHS will indeed be a force to be reckoned with.

Marilyn McCaffery, a 1980 graduate of Belleville High School, and former all-county catcher batted .281 with nine hits. McCaffery, the "Pete Rose" of the team had tremendous enthusiasm and was a hard worker. Marilyn spends a good deal of her spare time helping out the high school softball team and hopefully she'll be out there come next year.

Let's not forget head coach Denise Zarra who hit a robust .476 with 10 hits in 21 trips to the plate. Zarra, a 1979 grad of BHS was an all-state catcher in her day and still is one of the finest players in the area. Jane McNeill, of Cedar Grove High School, hit .250 while Joyce Iacullo batted .244 with a homerun. Mona Stampe came through with some key hits but most importantly, led the team in fielding with a super .953 percentage.

Downfield Dancer—Belleville's Chico Borja moves downfield in a recent Cosmo soccer game at Giants Stadium. Borja currently leads all first year players in the North American Soccer League, with seven goals and eight assists for a 22 total point total, making him a strong candidate for Rookie of the Year honors this season.

Commissioner finding problems with baseball's second season

By Mike Lambert

Whoever thought three weeks ago that the split major league baseball season would cause so much fury.

When the idea was originally presented for approval, it went through without a hitch because everyone, players and owners combined, were itching to start the season. Obviously they didn't review the idea in enough detail.

While the idea has some good points, the bad points were blatantly brought out last week by two major league managers. The original plan went something like this. The teams in first place when the strike started would be declared the "first half" winners.

The season would begin anew with the records for the teams starting at 0-0 and everyone getting a new start. Most of the clubs loved the idea, especially teams like Houston, Kansas City and the Mets. Had the owners voted to keep the season as it was, many of the teams would have already been out of the pennant race and those clubs would have taken giant losses for the 1981 season on a financial basis.

If a first half winner won the second half as well, then that team would face the team with the second best record for the entire season in a divisional playoff. If another team won the second half, then obviously the first half and second half winners would play for the division playoff.

Sounds exciting, doesn't it? Eight teams now have a shot at the ultimate crown, the World Series. Ball parks would be filled until late September and the split season would remove the bad taste of the strike.

But wait, there's a major flaw to be contended with. The Chicago White Sox and Baltimore Orioles, two clubs who were fighting for the division lead when the strike occurred have figured out that losing their seasons finales to the Yankees and A's respectively would gain them a playoff berth anyway.

The White Sox manager Tony La Russa even came out and national TV and said he would forfeit the games if it meant his team would make the playoffs. A couple of days later, Whitey Herzog, the Cardinal manager, reiterated La Russa's statement. "I would do the pitching and catching myself and tell players to wear their gloves on the opposite hand," Herzog said.

Immediately baseball fans thought of the great Black Sox scandal of 1919 and how horrible it would be for America's pastime to have teams throw games. The reason why this fiasco occurred is that should the Orioles or White Sox come down to the final series of the year and this year it's against the Yankees and A's respectively, the Sox and perhaps the Orioles would benefit by losing the series, thus handing the Yanks and A's the second half title as well as the first they already won and the Sox and Orioles going to the playoffs as the team with the best second place record. The reason is simple: Should the Sox or Orioles or even the Cardinals win their seasons finale they could knock the Yanks or A's or Phillies out of first place and perhaps another team could sneak in ahead of them. Thus, there would be a different second half winner and those clubs (the Cards, Sox and Orioles) would watch the playoffs from their living rooms.

The Commissioner's office is aware of the problem and is working on a way to reverse the second place rule. What might happen is that the team who finishes in second place for the second half of the season will be awarded the playoff spot should the second half winner be the first half winner. Thus the Orioles, White Sox or Cardinals would have to play hard in that season's finale because if they were to lose, the might be nudged out of second place for the second half. If they go out to win and do, they would then have a shot at the division crown. Most importantly the incentive to lose, something that major league baseball has never seen before, will be erased.

Hopefully a plan similar to this one will be used. If the Commissioners Office doesn't change the plan, the integrity of baseball, which was somewhat damaged by the strike any way would take a tremendous beating.

For the 1982 season, the old playoff format should be brought back. The split season is a good idea this year, but in future seasons, the division winner should go to the playoffs. That's the way baseball has always been played and it shouldn't be changed now.

Cosmos' corner

Anyone who thinks that soccer is a non-contact sport probably thinks that the NBA is a non-contact league and that the players in the NFL don't make contact on the field, it just looks that way.

Last Sunday night, the Cosmos stopped the Manic of Montreal, 2-1 at Giants Stadium before some 39,000 fans. For the record, Bob Iarosci tallied his first Cosmos goal of the year while Johann Neeskens tallied the other goal on a beautiful header. Iarosci wasn't through though. He tallied his third goal of the season, second for the opposition when poor Bob headed a ball into his own net. Earlier this season, Iarosci accidentally kicked a ball past his goalkeeper, Hubert Birkenmeier.

The big news, however, was the total ineptitude of the referee, Gordon Arrowsmith. He has always been a nemesis to the Cosmos and last Sunday his inability to keep control of a tough physical contest resulted in a brawl breaking out late in the first half.

Here's what happened. The Cosmos' Roberto Cabanas kicked the Manic's Gordon Hill, sending the defender down in pain. Enter Bobby Smith, the fiery ex-Cosmos' defender now playing for Montreal. Smith either a) hit Cabanas in the face, b) pushed Cabanas down or c) did nothing at all other than point his finger at Cabanas.

Nevertheless, Cabanas went down upon Smith's gesture and the referee, who believe it or not didn't see the play, had to check with his linesman to see exactly what happened. The linesmen told Arrowsmith his side of the story and he consequently red carded both Cabanas and Smith. Smith was totally outraged by the move and tore his shirt off and threw it at Arrowsmith. The Academy Award Committee had to be on hand to see this as Arrowsmith fell to the ground upon being hit by the full fury of the four-ounce shirt.

After the game, the Manic head coach, Eddie Firmani was steaming about the officiating. "It happens every time," the coach said. "The league reviews the films and then calls us to apologize for the the bad officiating. That doesn't help us though because we've already lost out. Smitty never hit him (Cabanas) but the bleepin referee throws him out anyway."

There were many versions to the story. I was right in front of the play and it looked as if Smith did punch Cabanas. The Cosmos' Ricky Davis said that Smith never did hit him while a security guard that broke up the fracas said that Smith belted Cabanas pretty hard.

Luckily, the second half was uneventful other than the winning tally by Iarosci. The game was tied, 1-1 at halftime and Iarosci's goal, a beautiful shot by goalie Bob Rigby had to have been sweet news for the Canadian born sweeper.

The victory boosted the Cosmos mark to 23-8 while Montreal fell to 14-17. Most importantly, the Cosmos win guaranteed them the best mark in the NASL for the regular season, thus earning the team a bye in the playoffs first round which begins later this week. The Cosmos will not see playoff action until early September now and have already scheduled an exhibition against the Brazilian champions on August 30.

Earlier last week, the Cosmos snapped its three game losing streak by beating the Diplomats of Washington, 4-2. Cabanas who made his return to the lineup after missing a month with an injury scored once and assisted on the other three goals.

COSMOS CHATTER: The Cosmos finished the regular season with a game in Toronto yesterday. The Blizzards are having its worst year in its history and came into that contest with a 6-25 mark and a 15-match losing streak to the Cosmos dating back to 1975. Neeskens has been by far the Cosmos best player over the last few weeks. His aggressive play has been a motivating factor to his teammates. Firmani, who coached the Cosmos to a soccer bowl crown in 1978 and led Tampa Bay to the title back in 1975 has been very chummy with the Cosmos chairman of the board, Steve Ross, lately. There are rumors that Hennis Weisweiler will not be back next Spring, whether the Cosmos win the Soccer Bowl or not. Iarosci was given the "Good Guy of the Year Award" at halftime of the Montreal game and some of the fans greeted him with some boos because of his goal for the other squad. Bob took it all in stride saying with a smile after the game, "I felt about two feet tall when they gave me that award. I had to redeem myself."

Smith was humorous after the game and was quite surprised to hear that the referee fell after Smitty threw his shirt at him. "It figured," Smith said. "I took my shirt off and said to him 'you took my job, so take my shirt.'"

Nutley Pet streaking

The Nutley Pet Shop made it four post-season wins in a row by mowing down the greatest team to ever play in the JDSL in two straight games in the quarter-finals of the James Dombrowski Softball League playoffs. The Lyndhurst Reds, a team of great distinction, is the only team to win back to back World Series championships. But 1981 saw the Reds for the first time eliminated in the quarter finals by a powerful Nutley team.

The Pet Shop was led by Walt Harris, Bobby Labanich, Billy Gallagher, and Bob Mullany who combined for 26 hits, 2 home runs, and 17 RBI's in the two game sweep. The Pet won the first game, 14-13, and rolled to victory in the second game, 13-2.

New Nurses — Two Belleville women became part of the largest group of graduate nurses hired at one time by a medical facility in the state of New Jersey when they and forty-three other nurses began June interships at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center. Belleville residents Patricia Gudaitis (l-r) and Mary Pastirik attend to Temeka Moore in the pediatric wing of NBIMC.

Deteriorated rooming house denied permit by Zoning Board

By Linda Telesco

A rooming house already in operation at 52 Academy St., may soon send its residents packing as result of a zoning board decision denying the owner permission to continue operations.

Anthony Passafume, contractor, of Montville, appeared before the board last Thursday pleading that when he purchased the "completely deteriorated" house from a friend nearly two years ago, it laid out as a rooming house with a bed and refrigerator in each room and showed clear evidence of having been used as a rooming house in the past.

Passafume said he decided to restore the property for that same use and never knew a variance was required. The house is located in a one and two-family zone, but Passafume noted that over 50 percent of the surrounding area is commercially developed.

Passafume claims that he renovated the entire house, putting on new siding, painting, remodeling the inside, and more at a cost of $25,000. "The house was built as a rooming house and converting it to meet the one or two family use allowed would create a hardship," the contractor said.

Unconvinced, Al DiChiara expressed shock that a contractor would invest that sum prior to finding out how the house was listed.

In a surprise move, member Michael Ippolito produced a signed copy of the building permit, obtained from Belleville's construction code official Robert Domenick, which bears Passafume's signature indicating intention to use the structure as a one-family dwelling. Passafume failed to explain the contradiction.

The board expressed doubts about several other aspects of the application. The house contains 9 rooms, 7 of which are presently occupied by "working men," according to Passafume. The zoning ordinance requires one parking space for each room, but only 7 spaces appear on the applicant's plan.

The ordinance also prohibits accommodating transients. Board members questioned Passafume's practice of collecting rents on a weekly basis since that might encourage short stays.

Also, neither the owner nor the house manager lives on the premises, a fact that disturbed the board despite Passafume's claim that a live-in superintendent watches over the facility.

Area residents Raymond Sobanko and Robert May registered objections to the application. Although both conceded that Passafume "greatly improved" the premises, Sobanko questioned the safety of several points in the plan.

May said he never knew this was a rooming house until the application was introduced several months ago, opposed it.

May opposed the application explaining that the Board of Education recently began a study to determine the feasibility of re-opening a now-closed area school. "If that happens, we have to keep track of residents there for the safety of our children," he said.

Convinced that Passafume created most of his own hardships, the zoners unanimously voted to deny the application.

Passafume's attorney Robert E. Personette of Hackensack said the case may be appealed but no definite decisions were made yet.

Knights of Columbus to elect 1981-82 officers next month

Council No. 835 will install their officers for 1981-1982 on Monday, September 14 at Knights Hall, 94

Bridge St. with a mass celebrated by (Chaplain) Rev. James Heavey at 8:30 p.m. Refreshments will follow at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

The newly elected officers have been formulating plans for the 1981-1982 with social and fraternal programs.

The Belleville Knights have an added incentive this coming year. The Knights of Columbus will be celebrating its Centennial nationwide. "A tradition of devotion, a century of service", from October 1981 to October 1982.

During seventy eight of the one hundred years the Belleville Council has established its own tradition of honor and respect. Grand Knight Frank Corbo, announced contributions recently to the following: $3669 to Camp Fatima for the retarded, $1000 to Belleville Boy Scout Troop #364, a special unit of boys who are mentally retarded who are led by Scoutmaster Larry Dempsey, and $1000 to the Mal Condon Canteen which opened on September 19 and meet twice a month at the Knights of Columbus rooms plus another worthy endeavor was the raising of $1,200 for the arthritis fund.

These are just the types of service which the Belleville Council has contributed to and will continue to do charitable work for the community.

Children's shelter closing next month

has not yet contracted the essential social services needed to make this program work. They plan to do so soon.

The decision to close the shelters came about as a result of a 9-month study by the county DYS. In essence, the report revealed that a majority of adults in jail (67 percent) had been in youth detention centers at one time. It was also discovered that 89 percent of children in those detention centers had at one time been in foster care, JINS facilities or other children's shelters.

Some concern has also been raised concerning the ability of foster parents to deal with the problems of these troubled youths. Few foster families undergo formal training for their roles and are at times more concerned with their own family's troubles than with that of the stranger in their midst. This is not to say, however that all foster families are uninvolved in the "nurturing" process important to the new program.

Foster parents themselves seem to feel that further training is needed. Sue Don Diego of Middlesex has been a foster mother for 20 years and works in public relations for the Foster Parents Association of New Jersey. Don Diego recently told the New York Times, "I think we foster parents need more training, because the children we get today they're neglected more, they're a little more streetwise, they've been on their own, they're a little more hurt."

The Essex County Children's Shelter currently houses six children and will close its doors on August 31.

BHS sport teams are looking strong

about your obnoxious views on the strike. It's over now and the fans want to watch baseball and enjoy what's left in the summer, not listen to someone who's idea of a good time is watching paint dry and attending funerals. NBC-TV did a great job and thank God they did the All-Star game. Furthermore, Keith Jackson and Don Drysdale deserve a better partner on Monday night baseball than "needlenose."

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, who did the Steelers play in the 1975 Super Bowl, who did they beat in the playoffs and the Steelers' record that year. Also, who finished in second place in the AFC Central that year? The answer: Pittsburgh defeated Minnesota 16-6 in the '75 Super Bowl. They defeated both Buffalo and Oakland for the title and finished 10-3-1 for the season. Cincinnati and Houston tied for second place with 7-7 records.

For this week's quiz, think back to 1976. The New England Patriots made the playoffs for the first time in 10 years and traveled to Oakland for the first round. They took a 21-10 lead entering the fourth quarter but lost, 24-21. The Raiders decisive touchdown came after a controversial call. Ken Stabler threw a desperation pass on fourth and 17 that was incomplete. However, the referee called roughing the passer and that set up the Raiders winning score. Now, can you name the player who was called for that penalty and the Raider who scored the winning TD. A hint: The New England player is still active with the Patriots. Oakland later went on to the Super Bowl and won. The Raiders were 13-1 in 1976. Can you name the only team that beat them that year? Finally, name the Patriots record that season.

The feast of St. Bartholomew to continue through Sunday

Fire Chief — Bobby Carselva enjoys sitting in the fire engine during the Silver Lake feast on Monday. Bobby and his mom were two of the first Belleville residents to attend the week-long festivities.

A Sticky-Sticky Mess — Frank DiPasquale has his hands full with cotton candy. You can find plenty of food stands where ever you wander at the feast, including zeppoles, pizza, sausage and Italian ice.

Hi-Ho Silver — Geraldine Walling prepares to take a thrilling ride on the merry-go-round during the feast of St. Bartholomew held in the playground of St. Anthony's school on Franklin Street.

Taking a Spin — These three young ladies took advantage of the many rides which are set-up on the grounds of St. Anthony's schoolyard for the St. Bartholomew feast. More than six rides, including a funhouse are in operation for the feast which will run through until Sunday.

Belleville police bust auto body 'chop shop'

at 2 Cortlandt St., on Wednesday, and discovered a large quantity of dismantled auto parts.

Police later returned to the shop with a search warrant and discovered, according to McNish, three new Corvettes, allegedly stolen goods in a lot adjacent to the shop, and motors and transmissions in a garage across the street, which DeMarco also owns.

The detective said most serial numbers on the goods had been obliterated.

McNish said investigation of the case had been taken up by the National Auto Theft Bureau, Internal Revenue Service, Federal Bureau of Investigation, State Police and State Department of Motor Vehicles.

DeMarco's attorney, Philip Saginario of Paterson called the entire incident "wholly unjustified."

Saginario claims the arrest and investigation has put his client in the position of going out of business.

The attorney said he was present during the search and advised police not to remove any of the goods unless they had probable cause to believe they were stolen. "I'll sue for the return of the confiscated cars and parts," Saginario commented.

Both the lawyer and DeMarco insist they have receipts and vouchers to prove valid purchase and ownership of all goods.

DeMarco said on Tuesday that most of the parts police examined were "junk parts" obtained from wrecked cars and used bit by bit.

DeMarco, who has operated the Cortlandt Street shop since January, also manufactures cars on the property. In an earlier interview with the Times, DeMarco described his design, which officially bears the model name "DeMarco" as a "reincarnated Corvette convertible," taking over where Chevrolet left off in 1975.

"I buy the parts and construct the car, that's why serial numbers don't appear on the vehicles," he explained. DeMarco noted that once completed, the cars are issued titles by motor vehicle agency.

He complained that police impounded the vehicles and also took his identifying information. He also noted that goods were confiscated from a garage located at 46 Mill St., but police displayed warrants for only 2-4-6-46 Cortlandt St.

"All I've done since I began operation here is purchase property and improve the neighborhood," DeMarco said. "Now my business is ruined."

He also expressed disbelief that police would accept statements against "a conscientious local businessman" provided by two men who, according to DeMarco, have been arrested on similar charges in the past.

The case is scheduled for today in Belleville Municipal Court to determine referral to the grand jury.

organizing family and residence councils, de-centralizing administrative functions to permit input from all department heads, and increasing activities programs for the patients.

"I'm impressed by your experience," said Freeholder Pearl Beatty during the conference. "The Geriatrics Center, however, has monstrous problems. Are you prepared for them?"

Stiles replied that she had toured the 272-bed facility, but required more time for analysis before she could recommend specific solutions to its problems.

"Like most administrators, my goal is to turn the institution around and this facility presents special challenges to me," she said.

An unmarried Bronx resident, Stiles assured the Freeholders of her commitment to nursing home administration and her intention to reside in Essex County, as required by county code, once appointed.

At the close of that interview Freeholder president Jerome Greco commended Stiles on displaying "the sensitivity needed for this position."

Later that day, Stiles won the endorsement of the Family Council, Inc., a group representing relatives of patients in the Geriatrics Center.

Prior to Stiles' nomination, the Council had launched a vigorous protest of "further deteriorations in the operation of the Center." Among their criticisms was the lack of a full-time administrator at the facility and the failure of former ones to measure up. They asked to review nominated candidates and Stiles complied by meeting for two hours, following her interview, with Council officials.

As a result, Council president Donald Vaillancourt appeared at the August 12 voting to declare Stiles "an excellent, compassionate candidate who can lead the Geriatrics Center on the road to recovery."

Although the vote to appoint Stiles was unanimous, Freeholder Lorryne R. Lane was disturbed that as of that morning, Stiles, who holds a New York nursing home administrator's license, had not applied for a New Jersey license.

Make your lawn a feast for the eyes-not for the birds!

Time to call Lawn King

All lawns need an annual program of lawn care and every program must contain both granular and spray. Some chemicals work better when applied in a granular form, and others, like weed controls and post emergent crab grass controls, work better in a liquid form. All lawns also require periodic aeration and seed, but only Lawn King gives all these via LAWN COMBINE & SPRAY — THE BETTER WAY! WE KNOW IT'S THE ONLY WAY!!!

| LAWN KING ANNUAL PROGRAM | | | | |
| 1. Balanced Fertilization Broadleaf Weed Control Fungus Control Chinch Bug Control Sod Webworm Control Grub Control (Liquid) | 2. Power Aeration Power Rolling Balanced Fertilization Broadleaf Weed Control Fungus Control Pre-Emergent Crabgrass Control Pelletized Lime. | 3. Balanced Fertilization Broadleaf Weed Control Fungus Control Chinch Bug Control Sod Webworm Control Multiplex (Micronutrients) Grub Control (Liquid) | 4. Power Aeration & Rolling Balanced Fertilization Broadleaf Weed Control Fungus Control Post-Emergent Crabgrass Control Seed Pelletized Lime. | 5. Balanced Fertilization (Extra Heavy Rate) Pelletized Lime. |

We are chemical applicators, not miracle workers. We know what your lawn needs and when it needs it. What you see in the program, is what you get. Top quality chemicals and seed — only the best — that's all we use. There's no such thing as "specially formulated for drought."

Aeration, seed, lime, Fungus controls and grub controls are part of our program — not options at extra cost when you need them. By the time you know you need them it's too late anyway. No slopes please.

If we can't aerate twice a year we can't help you.

There's a one time charge if you need any extras like a preparatory service, extra seed or additional lime. We may not be the cheapest lawn service around, but we are the only ones who give your lawn everything it needs at a price you can afford to pay. You can figure your costs from the chart below. No contracts to sign, no guarantees, no promises, no slopes, and no nonsense. Pay from service to service or prepay for the year and we'll give you a 5% discount too!

If you compare our program and prices with any other company, you'll find that either they are charging too much, or we are not charging enough! Look at it real close and you may even arrive at the conclusion that not only is it better to do business with us — it's cheaper too!
