Comptroller approves VNB merger program

The Comptroller of the Currency has approved the acquisition of Liberty National Bank, Hillsdale, New Jersey and the merger of Fair Lawn State Bank with Valley National Bank headquartered in Passaic, New Jersey. This action by the comptroller follows previous approvals by the boards of directors and shareholders of all three banks.

The combined organizations will operate 18 banking locations throughout the North Jersey Counties of Bergen, Essex, Morris and Passaic, under the name of Valley National Bank. Assets of the merged banks are expected to exceed $500 million with deposits in the range of $475 million.

Samuel F. Riskin, chairman of the board and president of Valley National Bank, said, "We look forward to the addition of the three offices of Liberty National Bank and Fair Lawn State Bank. Valley National Bank is anxious to provide their existing and potential customers with the wide range of our quality services."

It is anticipated that the transaction with Liberty National Bank will be consummated by the end of 1981 followed by the merger with Fair Lawn State Bank in early 1982.

Dr. Moeller gives lecture at Stevens

Dr. Joseph J. Moeller, associate dean for educational development at Stevens Institute and a resident of Belleville, lectured before 200 Western Electric engineers and engineering managers on "Engineering Education: Curriculum Trends and Campus Activities" in Kearny recently.

Last summer, Dr. Moeller's paper on "Increasing career awareness among pre-college students and counselors: the Stevens approach," was accepted for presentation at the American Society for Engineering Education's annual conference in Los Angeles.

Dr. Moeller, who received the B.E., M.E. and Ph.D. degrees from Stevens, joined the institute's faculty as an instructor of electrical engineering in 1970. In 1975, he was named an assistant professor of electrical engineering and director of associate degree programs, which Stevens administers for Hudson County Community College. He became assistant dean for educational development in 1977 and was promoted to associate dean for educational development in 1979. In 1973, he was honored by Stevens with the Freygang Award as outstanding teacher of the year.

Dr. Moeller was selected as an Outstanding Educator of America by the Outstanding Americans Group, and in 1977, he was named an Outstanding Young Man in America by the same group. Dr. Moeller is a member of several professional societies, including the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers and Sigma Xi. He is also listed in the 1981-82 edition of "Who's Who in the East."

Wallace & Tiernan charity fund holds successful membership drive

Through a drive during the month of October, the employees' charity fund organization at Penwalt Corporation's Wallace & Tiernan Division, here in Belleville, increased its membership from 582 employees to 820 employees and increased its annual income for charitable purposes from $15,000 per year to $28,000 per year.

The organization is known as the "Watco Employees' Charity Fund Association." This association was formed by the employees a number of years ago for purposes of substantially contributing to charitable and health research organizations, and eliminating many individual drives by such organizations. Employee members have contributions deducted from their pays through payroll deductions. These contributions by the employees are distributed periodically to the United Way and its agencies, the American Cancer Society, the Heart Fund and other organizations.

The association's chairman is Nicholas Sicurello of Belleville, who is also president of Local 370

I.U.E. at Wallace & Tiernan, and the honorary chairman of this year's drive was Thomas B. Walker, who is president of the Wallace & Tiernan Division.

Tom Kean

After a month of cliff-hanging days, Jim Florio conceded the gubernatorial election to Tom Kean.

We congratulate both candidates on the remarkably intelligent campaign their oratory developed. Setting aside their campaign accusations, the fact remains both candidates talked sense to the people of New Jersey — and in their own way they made sense with their proposals.

Tom Kean will assume the office on Jan. 19, burdened with adverse effects resulting from President Reagan's economic policies. There will be a shortfall to the state of New Jersey of at least $1 billion — about 17 percent of our state budget. Governor Kean either will be compelled to reduce services or increase taxes.

During the primary and general election campaigns, Tom Kean made commitments to reduce corporate business taxes — with an emphasis on a reduction in business taxes. In view of the state's present, bleak economic posture, Tom Kean would be better advised to go slow — very slow — with his proposal to reduce business taxes. New Jersey cannot afford to lose one penny of revenue; it is losing enough from the federal government without increasing the shortfall burden any more by actions of its own.

Tom Kean assumes the office of the governor facing a legislature controlled by the other party. The circumstance should not pose a problem — it has a built-in challenge — the Democrats and Republicans are obliged to confer and work out a mutually acceptable program serving the best interests of the state of New Jersey.

We believe Tom Kean and the Democratic legislative leadership can rise to that non-partisan plateau that the circumstances require.

The waving of a magic wand will not create jobs for the unemployed in New Jersey; neither will a reduction in business taxes create jobs in New Jersey. The national climate is directly responsible for the growing numbers of unemployed. The housing industry is in bad shape. The automotive industry is in bad shape. High interest rates have placed such tremendous burden upon the average person who has become accustomed to living on credit that he and she find themselves in bad shape.

So, what we are saying is there is no simple cure for the unemployment problem. New Jersey needs new jobs. Unless Reagan and the Democratic Congress make it happen, New Jersey alone cannot turn the tide.

Our economic problems aside — we wish Governor Kean a successful term — because if Tom Kean is successful, the people in the state of New Jersey will benefit. It behooves all of us who are proud to be part of New Jersey to rally around the new governor — and give him a chance.

Frank Williams

Belleville voter upset over election coverage

To The Editor:

I am a concerned citizen of Belleville who was and still is very disappointed with the election results of Nov. 3. The first thing I was disappointed in was the article written after the election by the Belleville Times stating that Mr. Orechio won "easily" and Mr. Orechio "handily defeated" Mr. Crecco. The final total of votes was 30,891 to 29,071. I don't call that an easy win.

The reality of the situation is the results were very close. The truth of the matter is that Mr. Crecco, a councilman, did extremely well against Mr. Orechio, a mayor and already a state senator. Why wasn't the truth printed and why, during the entire campaign, wasn't Mr. Crecco given a chance for some press release in the Belleville Times? Is the Belleville Times becoming a one-sided and unfair newspaper because of its owners?

My opinion is, I think it is an insult to the people of Belleville. We have a right to have as much information available on each candidate during an election so we can decide without any reasonable doubt who we are going to vote for. I know that is the way I vote. I hope the Town of Belleville is not going to allow politics to become a dirty game.

I met Mr. Crecco during the campaign when he was going around to different houses in Belleville and from what I gathered, Mr. Crecco had such an honest and hard working campaign and a very sincere one.

I also read an article in the Herald News which I hope the people of Belleville read. It seems Mr. Orechio, while at a meeting with Mr. Crecco, poked his finger at Mr. Crecco while in a debate that Mr. Orechio started and that Mr. Crecco received threatening phone calls from people in Belleville. The article also said Mr. Crecco didn't release this information during his campaign because he didn't want his campaign to become a battle against two men and by using dirty methods to win votes. Mr. Crecco wanted his campaign to remain honest and fair. I wonder if Mr. Orechio's campaign was the same.

Ann Brave

Editor's note: The article written after the election was based on voting figures for the Township of Belleville only, in which Sen. Orechio defeated Mr. Crecco by nearly 2,000 votes. We here at The Times think that it was a very convincing win for the Senator, especially since this was the first time Sen. Orechio ran on the ticket in Belleville.

Barringer football fan defends playoff system

To the Editor:

I'm a Barringer football fan who read Mr. Montague's article about the high school football playoff teams chosen. It's been put in the paper that other schools refuse to play Barringer, thus Barringer can't schedule group four teams. It wouldn't be fair to the kids to just leave them out of the playoffs every year.

Under your point-system, Mr. Montague, Barringer would just about have to go undefeated which also wouldn't be fair to the kids. Belleville was the better team, but Barringer was younger and had no pre-season scrimmages.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Town officials still deciding about offices

Mindful of the serried, cramped space restrictions at Town Hall, while concerned over the lack of centralized administrative control in this overcrowded edifice which has already occasioned the need to spread out to diversified locations the Department of Public Affairs and the Department of Public Works at two different town areas, Mayor Michael Marotti has set about to seek a remedy to overcome this anomalous travesty of having town government offices strung out all over town.

With the closing of Schools 1 and 2 by the Belleville Board of education, the mayor has been engaged in a plan to effectuate a "swap" of either of the two school buildings, in exchange for the town owned structure located at Washington Avenue and Joralemon Street, which presently houses both the town's Board of Education and office of Public Affairs.

Having been rebuffed in his first attempt to acquire School 2, the mayor has cast his eye upon School 1. In fact, last week, the mayor and Commissioner Vincent Strumolo along with Planning Board members Chris Albanese, a local businessman, and Joseph Grande, school plant superintendent, accompanied by a structural engineer, conducted a tour of the entire School 1 building with a view to formulate a feasibility evaluation as to the prospects of its use as a centralized base of operations for municipal town usage.

Opinions we have garnered from those in informed circles regarding educational matters conclude it would be most prudent for the local Board of Education to retain control of School 1 and use it for its administrative offices, depository of books and supplies, public meetings and teacher conferences, storage of school buses and overall educational business of the public school system; likewise, should the school population in the Valley increase, the needed classrooms would be available for their use. We observe much merit in their conclusion.

Were the school trustees to recognize the wisdom of such a practical move, their vacating of their present Washington Avenue offices would make available for the present, at least, additional space annex at Washington Avenue and Joralemon Street which is centrally located and easily accessible by public transportation. This building now contains the offices of the Public Affairs department, including the offices of the town registrar, health officer, plumbing inspector, town nurses, senior citizens' health care with medical and dental professionals in attendance, as well as the welfare department.

On the facetious side, that might be a smart move...after the anguish of paying your local tax bill, factually you could drop in to have your blood pressure checked or possibly be given a sedative to calm you down or maybe apply for relief on welfare to meet your next tax bill.

Whatever! As Archie Bunker might say, Mike Marotti is trying to alleviate the cumbersome overcrowded conditions at town hall. There is a compelling need for a solution to the problem, but should all else fail, there still remains the bright prospect that a solution may be found through the instrumentality of the newly created Belleville redevelopment Agency, which upon designation of an area as "blighted" could start the wheels of "condemnation procedure" turning with the resultant revitalization of present decadent area through redevelopment and financing by private interests...it could even provide the ultimate answer to the overcrowded conditions at town hall and the question of centralization at the citadel of Belleville town government.

From our own standpoint, regarding future use of School 1, should the school trustees not opt to move their offices there and continued its use within the domain of local public school control, we would respectfully suggest that they advertise, in principal newspapers throughout the country, this desirable piece of property as being available by competitive bid for office or manufacturing purposes. The increase rates and resultant tax income from such use of this property by private interest would be most welcome, while offering employment opportunities to the local labor market.

Collection drive starts

Senior notes

Once again as the Holiday Season approaches, we hope for a good response to our appeal for canned goods and dry groceries for the less fortunate people in Belleville. Last year our appeal was well met as the boxes at the Senior Recreation Center filled up. We hope to have this year. The collection boxes are situated just inside the door in the meeting room. We have asked members to each bring at least one item for food for the Christmas collection. Non-members can stop by anytime, Monday through Friday and make contributions, we will have boxes collected until December 22 by the Welfare Department of Belleville. They will in turn make up baskets and be in charge of distributing them, names of the recipients will not be divulged. This then is a true charity, unadvertised and direct.

The Belleville Chapter of the Old Guard Christmas Party was one of its more successful undertakings. Music was supplied by the well known Maestro, Bob Conn. Surprises were in store, the food was excellent and the holiday mood prevailed as Santa paid a visit. The group is already looking forward to the next party. This men's club is still accepting members. If you are interested please contact Bob McCabe, Anthony Ciampietro or Hubie Wingfield, they are in the phone book.

We have been informed by the Essex County Division of Aging that it has the 1981-82 Resource Directory for Older Adults on hand ready to be distributed to those who need them. The directory is a 36-page booklet which describes programs and organizations which serve older residents of Essex County. Some of the categories covered include: Adult education, Consumer Protection, Financial Assistance, Health Services, Information and referral, Legal Services, Mental Health, Nutrition Projects, Recreation, Senior Citizen Centers and Transportation. The booklet is available free of charge to all interested individuals and organizations. Contact Susan Larkey at 678-9700, or visit the Division on Aging at 19 High St., Orange, N.J., between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Due to the high cost of postage, none will be mailed.

Five arrests made in scam operation

A ring of phony repairmen operating a scam against an elderly township woman was discovered last Monday, according to local police.

The five men were arrested and charged with attempting to defraud a 75-year-old Linden Avenue woman into having her chimney cleaned and repaired for a $2,000 fee, Deputy Chief Frank Haight said last Tuesday.

According to Haight, police were called at 12:30 p.m. Monday by a neighbor of the potential victim who reported "suspicious looking men" near the house next door.

Detectives Michael Petrillo and George Sheridan responded to the call and took the five men who were driving a light blue van with aluminum ladders, to headquarters for questioning.

The men reportedly asked the woman to withdraw $2,000 from the bank to finance cleaning and repairing on her chimney.

The woman resisted the pitch because, Haight said, she had been ripped off similarly in the past.

It was determined that the "repairmen" never went on the roof to check the chimney. Later, Robert Domenick, construction code official, examined the chimney in question and reported to police that it needed no repairs and that such repairs as the accused men recommended could be determined only by an inspection from the roof.

Haight added that Harrison police were contacted and brought in a victim of a scam in that city who identified two of the five men as "repairmen" who cheated him out of $3500.

They were released on their own recognizance by Belleville police pending court hearing on December 16.

Two of the men were turned over to Harrison police for action on that town's attempted fraud case.

"There have not been any other reports on this in town," Haight said, adding, "I'm glad we caught it. The elderly get preyed on and it's a shame."

More Retirement Dollars For You

Good news for everyone planning a retirement program: Congress recently voted to make a major expansion in the eligibility and deductible amounts for Individual Retirement Accounts (IRA).

The new regulations become effective January 1, 1982.

I.R.A. $2,000
Individual Retirement Account

If you are presently enrolled in an IRA, that is, not covered by a qualified pension plan, you will now be able to deduct up to $2,000 of earned income annually. If there is a non-working spouse, the deductible amount increases to $2,250.

The new law also expands the eligibility to workers already covered by qualified plans at their place of business. These individuals may open a Nutley Savings' IRA of their own and contribute up to $2,000 of earned income annually. A household with two working spouses can contribute up to $4,000 annually.

Remember, the taxes on interest and principal are deferred until retirement. At this point your income will probably be much lower.

For all the details on the new IRA regulations come to Nutley Savings.

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,

I am writing to you because I believe that you have a Unisex shop which provides service for women and men. My problem is that I am sick and tired of washing my husband's pants when he comes home from the barbershop. The reason I have to wash his pants is because he comes home with pieces of hair stuck to the bottom of them. Sometimes there is more hair than others going up his legs for about one to one and half feet! Does he have a magnet between his heel and tibia? I am going crazy... if there is an explanation for this phenomenon, please advise me.

The sick and tired woman Please do not go crazy, there is a solution to your problem. When you send your husband to the barbershop, send him in jeans! Let me offer you an explanation for the phenomenon of your husband's magnetic legs. I know that he goes to a talented barber because he cuts hair dry. Your husband must be a nervous person because nervous people generate electricity and when they walk, their bodies will attract pieces of hair. A nervous person can be like a human vacuum cleaner! When the weather becomes humid, his body generates more electricity than usual and he becomes an even better vacuum cleaner. If he wears jeans, the material will interfere with the electrical attraction between his body and the pieces of hair on the barbershop floor so they will not stick to his pants as easily.

THE FIRST VISIT TO A PEDIATRIC DENTIST:

The first visit to a pediatric dentist will be a surprise to parents accustomed to treatment in the traditional dental office. The waiting room typically is transformed into a play room and even the treatment areas are modified to make the atmosphere more relaxed and child-oriented.

The method of treatment also is more relaxed. The attention of the pediatric dentist is on the child and the family, in addition to the teeth. As a result, the pedsiatric dentist takes a little more time to understand the lifestyle of the family and then to individually counsel the parents on ways to prevent dental disease.

Belleville Fire Department purchases Lucas Tool

Tool can save lives of accident victims

Removing the Door — A member of the Universal Fire Equipment Company shows Belleville firefighters how easy it is to remove a car door with the Lucas Tool.

A new piece of Belleville Fire department equipment, which according to Fire Chief George Sbarra will "help save many lives," was demonstrated to members of the fire force last Saturday at the Franklin Avenue firehouse.

The Lucas tool is a device used to remove people trapped in automobiles following a car accident, and has recently been purchased by the Belleville Fire Department under the request of Chief Sbarra.

According to Sbarra many fire departments throughout the country have made the Lucas Tool part of their standard equipment.

"This is something which I have been trying to obtain for some time now," the chief said. "It is going to be instrumental in helping save the lives of accident victims."

The Lucas tool was demonstrated by Sandy Weinberg, a sales representative for the Universal Fire Equipment Company last Saturday behind the Franklin Avenue firehouse. About dozen members of the Belleville fire department attended the demonstration, which was performed on a junkyard Lincoln Continental.

The new apparatus has costed the township of Belleville $11,000, but Sbarra feels that the tool's benefits will shortly make up for the cost.

"Before firemen and emergency rescue teams had to cut people out of cars from automobile accidents by hand," the chief said, "and at times that procedure took several hours to complete. With this tool we can free an injured person in a matter of minutes, therefore helping to save lives."

The Lucas Tool can remove any part of an automobile in a matter of minutes, and Sbarra says that all 72 members of his squad will get to train with the new equipment.

"Most of the men have handled some of the new equipment by now," he said, "but all the men will get a chance to operate the machinery if the weather continues to hold up. This is indeed one of the best investments we have made at the Belleville Fire Department."

Testing It Out — Members of the Belleville Fire Department take a shoot at using the Lucas Tool recently purchased to help accident victims. The tool cost the township $11,000, but Fire Chief Sbarra feels that it is a good investment.

Sales Demonstrator — Sandy Weinberg, (r) a sales representative from the Universal Fire Equipment Company, demonstrates the new Lucas machine to members of the Belleville Fire Department.

Cutting the Wheel — Many victims of car accidents suffer injuries to the chest resulting from the steering wheel. With the Lucas Tool, rescue teams can remove the victim by cutting away at the wheel.

Open Wide — The Lucas Tool is designed to expand parts of the wrecked automobile by spreading the metal apart. Therefore making it easier for rescue teams to reach injured automobile passengers.

Setting Up — A member of the demonstration crew prepares the Lucas Tool for action last Saturday. Members of the Belleville Fire Department received a lesson on how to operate the machine which will probably save many lives throughout the years.

Off With the Roof — A Universal employee starts to remove the roof from the practice automobile last Saturday at the Franklin Avenue Firehouse during a demonstration of the Lucas Tool.

What a Mess — This is the junkyard Lincoln Continental which was used in the demonstration of the township's new Lucas Tool. Much of the automobile was taken apart as members of the Belleville Fire Department were taught how to operate the machine.

Plan ahead for leisurely holidays

The Christmas holidays are a joyous time but, with all the things to do—presents to get ready and parties to plan—it can become frantic.

One way to avoid this is to start preparing way in advance. The cool days of October, when activity moves indoors and the kitchen seems a nice warm place, is the perfect time to begin.

Leisurely peruse cookbooks, for some recipes for Christmas cookies. After baking, wrap them well and place in the back of the freezer.

It is very helpful to keep a list of what you have frozen. Also, remember to label everything to avoid confusion later on.

THE FIRST CHRISTMAS CARD

What probably was the first Christmas card appeared in 1843, and was designed by John Colcott Horsley.

Horsley was a fashionable artist of the day, and also a strict Victorian who led a campaign against the use of nude models.

His first Christmas card was commissioned by Sir Henry Cole, and took the form of an oblong sheet with three illustrations. In the center was a drawing of a middle class Victorian family at Christmas dinner.

On one side, was a depiction of a good Samaritan feeding the hungry. On the other, a drawing showed another good soul clothing the naked, though in this case the supposedly naked figure was drawn fully clothed.

Horsley presented his card to Sir Henry Cole with the inscription: "To his good friend Cole/Who's a merry young soul/And a merry young soul is he/And may be for many years to come/Hooray!"

Bloomfield businessman can build warehouse in Silver Lake section

By Linda Telesco

Excused by legal technicalities from proving his case last week a Bloomfield businessman won a Zoning Board decision to establish a furniture warehouse in the Silver Lake district.

As a result, legal action against the decision was threatened by one of the nine area objectors who attended last Tuesday's hearing.

"The area will go downhill," said Harold Brennan of 56 Heckel St. after the session. The resident, who lives across the street from the premises of the future storage area, complained that the hearing was a "whitewash" and he would take measures to guarantee the value of his property.

The application, in question involved a proposal of Bruno Castellano, owner of Castleton Furniture, Inc. of Bloomfield to establish a furniture warehouse at 57 Heckel St.

Castellano, who operated his business for 17 years in Newark and five in Bloomfield, testified that the Belleville building would be used only to store furniture for customers who could not have their purchases delivered immediately, such as newlyweds.

Castellano said furniture will be delivered from the Bloomfield location to Belleville storage area and picked up from there about twice weekly. "We're presently renting another warehouse for that purpose and that's how often we have to go there," he added, assuring objectors that constant traffic would not result from his proposal. He also noted that there would be no retail selling at the Belleville location, nor would there be employees on the premises.

Brennan and eight other local residents maintained during the hearing that the property at 57 Heckel St. had been abandoned for nearly a dozen years by the previous owners, now deceased.

In the case of such an abandonment, the Zoning Board would have to hear the case as a use variance.

However, Castellano's attorney, Salvatore Beninati of East Orange argued that to label the property as abandoned would be "an arbitrary conclusion on the township's part." He also cautioned the board against reaching that conclusion on the evidence that the property had been deteriorating over the years, that being the complaint of the objectors.

Citing previous court decisions, Beninati noted that if the zoners could not find proof of "intention to abandon" on the part of the previous owners of the property, they would have to hear Castellano's case as a continuing, nonconforming use, an argument affirmed by Jon Campbell, the Zoning Board attorney.

Beninati produced an affidavit in which Angelina Lo Bello and Elizabeth D. Masini asserted that their brothers, Thomas, Eugene, and Peter D'Avella, owned and operated the property in question from the early part of the century until March, 1978 when Eugene, the last surviving brother, died.

The document contained statements by the sisters that the building had been used variously and sometimes simultaneously as a bakery, grocery store, macaroni factory, and storage area for the family's olive oil import business.

The affidavit was signed on November 20, 1981 by attorney Joseph Masini, nephew to one of the sisters.

Objectors said that in the last several years of business operation, activity had been drastically reduced since one of the brothers operated only a small grocery store and left the rest of the building virtually abandoned.

Tri-Women are holding Christmas party

Christmas festivities will take place at the annual holiday meeting of the Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, on Thursday, Dec. 17, at the Glen Ridge Country Club.

In keeping with the holiday spirit, each member has been asked to bring a gift for a resident at the Essex County Geriatric Center.

At November's meeting, Mildred Spatz, of Bloomfield, was honored as "Woman of the Month," for her outstanding service to her community and club.

Over the next few months, the Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Club has planned some very interesting programs for its members: Jan. 28th - "Women Travelers" (what to do and not to do.) Feb. 25th - "Young Adult Rehabilitation," presented by Judge P. Cass, March 25th - "International Night" (foreign visitors,) and April 22nd will be "The Hospice Program" (how to cope with death.)

The Tri-Town BPW is open to all women, 18 years or older, who are employed in business or a profession. For further information please contact Membership Chairman, Toni Marone, at 759-6455.

Brennan said, "It's been a safety and health hazard for years. There's broken glass all around. If that's not abandonment, I don't know what is."

Noting that he purchased his home in April 1980, Brennan said he didn't want to "throw money away."

Residents also complained that furniture deliveries would be inconvenient and even dangerous on the narrow Heckel Street, prohibiting traffic flow.

To the first objection, Castellano's attorney replied that the last surviving brother reduced extent of operation due to poor health continued to run some activity until his death three years ago.

Beninati asked the board whether "sickness or death can be construed as intent to abandon." Most zoners agreed that it could not be seen that way.

One resident who lived in the area 48 years added, "I wouldn't say the building had been abandoned but it did deteriorate. I just want the new owner to care for it."

Continuing, Louis Giandonato of 44 Belmont Ave. said, "That building was occupied and the taxes were paid. These people (the objectors) should have gotten together a long time ago to get the place kept up."

The seven-member panel, with one exception, agreed that there had been no intent to abandon. Dissenting was Joel Pisano who believed the building had been abandoned and, in the interest of the objectors, would have preferred to hear the applicant prove his case for a use variance.

In a related part of the discussion, board members examined the intensity of the proposed use to that area.

Alternate member John Di Stasi noted, "This use will certainly intensify, but it's a less abrasive use." He added that the furniture warehouse might be a better use than the prior one which was a food processing business with related problems of rodents and shipping.

Joining the majority who approved the use, Aldo DiChiara said, "The property is an eyesore and a disgrace. Mr. Castellano will spend money to beautify it. If I lived there, I'd want it improved."

Walter Kidde Co. receives award for defense security

Out of a competitive field of over 11,000 eligible industrial firms, Walter Kidde, Division of Kidde, Inc., was among a highly select group of companies chosen in 1981 to receive the coveted James S. Cogswell Award, presented annually by the Defense Investigative Services, U.S. Department of Defense, "for outstanding achievement in industrial security obligations on government defense contracts."

Walter Kidde, the world's leading manufacturer of fire protection equipment, received the award, a handsome engraved plaque, in ceremonies at the company's headquarters in Belleville, attended by representatives from the Department of Defense through the defense agencies office located in Philadelphia, New York and New Jersey.

John Held, regional director and Dan Kellerman, director of defense investigative service made the award presentation to B.L. Eisenberger, president of Walter Kidde, and Ms. Helen R. Smazenuk, Kidde's security administrator who coordinated the work with the defense agency.

Recipients of the James S. Cogswell Awards, named for the late Col. J.S. Cogswell, U.S.A.F., who was the first Chief of the Office of Industrial Security, were selected from thousands of industrial firms in the United States having Department of Defense security clearances. Winners are chosen on the basis of criteria that included the degree of security consciousness and cooperation by management; effectiveness of employee security education and motivation programs; security practices and procedures; and ability to sustain progressive security systems.

For more than half a century, Walter Kidde has been supplying the U.S. Government and aerospace industries with components and sub-systems, including manufacturing and installing safety, security, protection and operational systems and equipment.

New Customer Service System Rings In Your PSE&G Connection

Over the next several months, PSE&G's new customer service system will be brought into full operation. Two inquiry and accounting centers — one in Newark and the other in Bordentown — have been specifically designed with the latest in computerized equipment to respond rapidly and effectively to your calls. It's all part of a PSE&G program to meet growing customer needs for prompt service.

Person-to-Person Service

Our centralized system automatically puts you in touch with a customer representative for service, questions about your bill, or round-the-clock emergencies. All you need do is simply dial the appropriate toll-free number(s) shown on your bill and state your request. If you have your account number available, it will help us speed your request. When we're busy, our new equipment will make sure your call is answered in the order received by the first available customer representative. You can also help by calling after 2:00 p.m.

All Customers To Benefit

By the spring of 1982, the new system will be available to all customers. Right now, the system serves the Newark, Trenton, and Orange areas. All customers will be notified with further details when their areas become part of the system.

Because We're Changing . . .

Due to the relocation of necessary personnel to the new inquiry centers, you may experience some delay in calling our existing district offices. This is temporary until the changeover is completed. The best time to call the old offices is between 2:00 and 4:00 P.M., our least busy period. Naturally, call us any time if there's an emergency.

The Door's Still Open To You

Although we're reducing the staff and the size of our existing district offices, sixteen customer service centers will still be located near their present sites for those customers who find it necessary to visit us.

A Change For The Better

Any change of operation has its temporary rough spots, but the improvement in service is permanent. We're confident that the new customer service system will respond promptly and courteously to all customer needs — a PSE&G priority.

Play Review

NLT offers a murky excursion into one-act coward comedies

By Michael C. Gabriele

Nutley Little Theatre opened two Noel Coward one-act plays this past weekend at the NLT Barn on Erie Place. "We Were Dancing" and "Shadow Play" were vignettes billed as "sophisticated comedies," and perhaps that was the problem. While the plays attempted to work on a level of drama and deep emotion between the sexes, they did not function as "comedy" in any sense of the word. Any intended comic vehicle, however sophisticated or in keeping with the tradition of "dry" British humor, was lost or completely over the head of the audience.

An accurate barometer was provided by the audience at a matinee Sunday. The majority of those present were an "older" crowd (the 50-and-over set). If any audience were to appreciate the humor of these plays, it would have been this crowd. Aside from a few chuckles over catty comments and some twitty situations, there was no laughter. The feeling throughout was that one was missing an intellectual joke.

The content of the plays was decidedly off-beat and difficult to absorb. One had the feeling that the veiled-statements of the players were supposed to convey deeper meanings on the theme of woman-wife relationships. On this level, the plays were thought-provoking and interesting. The curiosity engendered by the plays over the struggle of the sexes was something like the curiosity aroused hearing a far-out modern jazz solo. Though one is puzzled by the initial impact of the augmented, dissonant notes, it is all somehow an emotional experience. The echoes of the music pull the heartstrings, though the effect isn't immediately understood.

The "music" of these Coward plays was augmented, dissonant and often too murky. To be sure, the material was difficult and required more-than-average concentration from the audience. Yet the dark themes were never fully resolved as something fell short or was missing in the player's translation of the subject matter. The lack of sufficient comic spice and flair kept the murky situations from becoming illuminated.

One answer could be that playwrights like Noel Coward are more rewarding and accessible to the actors than the audience. It is fair for performers to expect "something more" from a crowd. In this case there was a breakdown of communication.

Both plays shared underlying themes voiced by the actors on the subject of woman's trials and conflicts. Three statements which surfaced the strongest were: "You can't live without loving someone, you can't love without leaving someone." "Nothing remains the same, everything changes." "Grab for every scrap of happiness you can." The manner in which these themes were voiced was bittersweet, sober and distant. The subject matter was serious, not comic, and this was the perspective which the players assumed.

Simon Gayforth (Robert Conte) sat with his wife Victoria (Lin Weber Cort) trying to understand their disintegrating marriage. "Nothing stays the same," Simon told Victoria. "It's no one's fault. It's just the way we all are."

In this scene the couple sat to the far left of the stage, creating an off-centered composition on the dark set. Was position of this set a symbolic placement, mirroring the empty, off-center feeling of their relationship?

Another good scene was the dream dance of Simon and Victoria with their respective lovers, played by Ellen O'Boyle and Dennis McConnell. The slick sneers and whirlpool of repeated statements — all done to piano music supplied by John Peccarelli — transformed the scene into a nightmare of a Fred Astaire movie.

Lighting was simple but effective, forming the dark tones for the players. The dancing and singing were entertaining elements. Other performers in "Shadow Play" were Madeline Nitti, Elyse Kelly, Fred Hutter and Jack DeVries. "Shadow Play" was directed by Weber-Cort.

"We Were Dancing" involved the sudden infatuation of Louise Charteris (Robyn Murray) with Karl Sandys (Art Turnbull), all on the basis of one "magic moment" as they danced. The situation became an absurd one as Louise explained it to her husband Hubert (Jack DeVries). The actors were deliberate, direct and sincere, yet the "situation comedy" never developed. The actors were too deliberate and pronounced, telegraphing their actions many times. Again, something was missing.

There were curious, unanswered questions in "Dancing." Hubert appeared to know quite a bit about Karl's life and job. How? Karl made a statement to end the play, saying that he admired a woman named Eva, who appeared at the start of the play. Eva had ran off with a lover while her husband searched the dance floor for her. As Eva returned to the room, Karl said he admired what she had done — taking a lover and "catching the magic moment of love." "Grab for every scrap of happiness you can" was the statement made by Louise and Karl. Unfortunately, they didn't hold their magic moment.

Players in "We Were Dancing" included Eric Hartmann, Robert Conte, Janis Falk Sullivan, Elyse Kelly and Fred Hutter. "Dancing" was directed by Bob Pace.

The set for "Dancing" was one of the most colorful and creative ever produced by NLT, designed by Tom Cort. Splashy greens, yellows and reds captured the lavish accommodations of a 1920s country club. Edward DeSimon and Samantha Getting were the production and stage managers for both one-act plays.

The Little Theatre's production of an evening of Noel Coward one-acts continues tomorrow and Saturday nights, with curtain time at 8 p.m. For ticket information, call 667-5492. The Nutley Little Theatre Barn is located at 47 Erie Place, off Brookfield Avenue, adjacent to Yamacaw School.

Whole Theatre Co. starting new kid show

The Whole Theatre Company announces "Kaleidoscope," a new entertainment series for young people. Presented by the Arts Council of North West Essex, with cooperation from the Whole Theatre, "Kaleidoscope" consists of four colorful, exciting programs designed to entertain and enrich young people during the upcoming winter season. With performances by clown mime, Fred Yockers, a mini-carnival of percussion and Caribbean music, Rosenshontz Folkmusic and illusionist Danny Orleans, "Kaleidoscope" offers something to appeal to all ages, adults as well as young people.

Fred Yockers, a clown mime, opens the series on Jan. 9, when he emerges from his "toy box" and proceeds to entertain the audience with juggling, unicycle riding, mime and magic, while introducing a host of characters from his imagination to illustrate the clown's range of pathos, vitality and wit.

The mini-carnival, scheduled for Jan. 30, features Danny Barrajanos and Vincent Taylor, a lively musical duo who dramatize the history and significance of conga and steel drums in the development of music in Trinidad and the Caribbean.

Middle school to present Xmas concert

The Christmas party will be held Saturday, December 12 from 1 to 3:30 p.m. in the Belleville High School cafeteria.

Belleville graduates making the grades

A group of ex-Belleville athletes are making some big marks on the collegiate level.

Anthony D'Agostino, Wayne Bubet, Dana Caruso, Anthony Coco, Billy Walsh and Carl Lordi have been doing quite a job in the basketball, track, football and baseball programs of their respective school.

D'Agostino, now a freshman at the University of Connecticut, saw a good deal of action on the varsity level this past fall and will be heard from a great deal in the future. While at Belleville, D'Agostino achieved all area and all state honors, playing the offensive and defensive lines for John Senesky. A 1981 graduate of Belleville, D'Agostino was one of the key players on the 9-2 Buccaneer squad that made it to the Group IV, Section II finals against West Essex. Anthony also competed on the wrestling team, winning some very big matches at the heavyweight slot.

Wayne 'The Train' Bubet, the second leading scorer in Belleville High School basketball history is now a freshman at New Jersey Institute of Technology (NJIT). In his first varsity game, he led NJIT to an 85-24 victory by scoring 18 points coming off the bench. The headlines in the Star-Ledger the following morning said it all "Bubet's 18 leads NJIT". Wayne scored over 1200 points in his Buccaneer career, highlighted by his biggest game, a 23-point effort against Weehawkin last January that put him over that magic 1000 point plateau.

Dana Caruso, another of those fine 1981 grads, is now a freshman at Montclair State College where she just completed a fine freshman campaign on the cross country cinders. Always a class athlete and fine competitor, Dana filled the headlines for three years with her record setting performances, great leadership ability and all out determination. The Belleville High School record holder in the 1500, 3000 and 800 meters, Caruso had a fine cross country season, finishing third on the varsity squad. She is already into the indoor season at Montclair State, competing in the mile and two mile events and will take part in the outdoor season this March.

Anthony Coco will always be remembered for that great game against Bloomfield in the semi-finals of the Greater Newark Tournament last May against Glen Ridge, 10-4 with Coco picking up the win with a complete game effort. Some seven months have passed since that memorable time and Coco is now attending Upsala College, having just completed a fine fall baseball season.

The freshman saw considerable action, and was a pleasant surprise to his coach. Coco will continue his efforts for Upsala this spring.

Billy Walsh was a tight end for John Senesky during the Bucs great 1980 season. Now he is a freshman playing for Boston College and that same style of hard work and determination has continued on the collegiate level. Walsh had a number of big games in his senior year, but I'll never forget the catch he made in the Passaic game that set up the Bucs winning touchdown in a 13-9 victory back in October of 1980. Walsh's over the head catch of some 35 yards set it up for quarterback John Melillo to hit Paul Schepien with the winning TD pass early in the fourth quarter.

Carl 'The Bull' Lordi, a 1980 graduate of Belleville High School and a stalwart offensive tackle is now at Ramapo College, having just completed his sophomore season football there. Lordi played his freshman season on the offensive line but in 1981 pulled a big surprise by making a major move to the offensive backfield. The plan worked well as Lordi scored his first collegiate touchdown and all in all had a fine season for Ramapo.

The Belleville basketball teams will start it's 1981-82 seasons this Friday night. The boys will start in Weehawkin High School where they have won in their previous two meetings. The girls will open up with Verona at Belleville High School. Both squads are scheduled for 8 p.m. tipoffs.

How about a special hoorah for the Rutgers and Seton Hall basketball programs. Last Wednesday, Rutgers, both men and women, defeated UCLA at the Brendan Byrne Meadowlands Arena. The women were very impressive winners while the men rallied from a 12-points halftime deficit to register one of the biggest upsets in this still young college basketball season. On Friday night, Seton Hall University pulled off another upset, once again in the Arena, with an overtime victory against the University of Houston. Danny Callandrillo led the way with a 30 plus point performance and the winning basket in overtime with just three seconds remaining. For the New Jersey schools, those victories were certainly historic ones and proves that these teams can indeed play with some of the best schools in the country.

Joe Fraizer, please don't fight again. Although smokin Joe came through with a 10 round draw against Jumbo Cummings last week, the basic consensus was that Joe was given the benefit of the doubt by the judges. Thankfully, Fraizer was not hurt badly in this fight, but if he continues to fight in the future, it could prove very costly. Joe Fraizer has always been a model of class and professionalism. Please don't ruin all you've accomplished. As for Muhammad Ali, it isn't funny anymore. He fights Trevor Berbick this weekend and if things go the way it is expected, Berbick will have an easy win and Ali, once a legendary folk hero to many will become a washed up bum who is making a fool of himself. Once again, it would be a shame for Ali to ruin all he has accomplished.

In two weeks, we'll do a wrap up on the 1981 sports season, from January to December covering both Belleville and some major sports events that filled the sports pages for the last 12 months.

The Belleville High School athlete of the week is Sterling Lutz of the boys basketball team. Lutz played a fine game in the Harrison scrimmage last week and will be a big man for Joe Papasidero this fall.

Here is the answer to last weeks quiz. The question was, name the four teams who made the 1978 NCAA college basketball final four and the two clubs who made the finals. Also, name the MVP of the championship game. The answer: Kentucky, Duke, Notre Dame and Arkansas made the final four. Kentucky beat Duke, 94-88 in the finals as Jack Givens was named the tourney MVP.

For this weeks quiz, let's go back to football. Who won the 1977 Sugar Bowl, who was that teams quarterback and who did that team defeat in the Sugar Bowl?

Girl hoopsters opening season this Friday against Verona High

The Belleville girls basketball team will open the 1981-82 season this Friday night when Verona High School comes to town for an 8 p.m. tip off.

On Tuesday, the team will be in Caldwell and next Friday will host Columbia.

Head coach Karen Fuccello got a good idea of what her troops are made of last Friday afternoon when Shabazz High School came visiting for a scrimmage. Although the game didn't count to the records, both teams played extremely aggressively and as Fuccello pointed out, "After the first quarter, we played pretty even with them."

Belleville, after overcoming some first quarter jitters, did indeed give Shabazz a good game. The Bulldogs are considered one of the best teams in the county according to the preseason polls and are coming off a 21-4 record a year back.

"In the third and fourth quarters, we controlled the tempo of the game," Fuccello said. "I think we might have been in better condition than Shabazz, and if we played the game to win outright, we might have pulled it out."

Fuccello, of course, does play the every game to win, but being that this was a scrimmage, the coach made a number of substitutions during the contest, changes that in a regular game would not have come about.

Senior captain Barbara Gundry played by far her best game of her career last Friday afternoon. The 'Bouncing Bubble' was all over the court, directing traffic on defense and shooting with fine efficiency on offense. Gundry was also a terror under the boards and showed a good deal of leadership, something the young squad will definitely need.

"I'll be expecting that of Barbara this year," said Fuccello. "She played a good game last week and I think she has an idea of the kind of game she'll have to play this year."

Sophomore Jennifer Apicella was of course, marvelous. In addition to shooting the eyes out of the ball, her man to man defense has showed marked improvement over last season. In addition, the 5-8 swing did a great job of breaking the feared Shabazz press and will supply a good deal of the teams offense this season.

"She really has come around on defense," continued Fuccello. "Jennifer is a fine talent, but needs to work hard if she is to continue that success. A lot of teams will be working to double team her and that should be a big challenge for her."

Dina D'Aquino, another sophomore, will see a good deal of work at a power forward position.

(Please see 'Girls' on page 14.)

Easy points — Senior girls' basketball captain Barbara Gundry takes a foul shot during last week's scrimmage against the girls of Shabazz High School. The girls will open their 1981-82 season tomorrow at home against Verona.

Bubet still scoring in the college ranks

Wayne Bubet has taken up where he left off. And that means "Wayne the Train" is still scoring points.

Bubet, the New Jersey Institute of Technology's freshman forward, is averaging 12.5 points per game after four games and coach Jim Catalano feels he can do a lot better.

"Wayne isn't even shooting well," said Catalano, whose team opened the season by winning the NJIT Winter Classic. "He's been making all inside baskets. In our offense, he hasn't really had the opportunity to shoot the 15-foot shots."

"And he hit those with great consistency in high school. Wayne could be one of the leading scorers in the history of the school before he leaves here."

Bubet is no stranger to area basketball fans. He was the leading scorer in North Jersey last season with a 26.5 per game average at Belleville High School. In fact, he is Belleville's all-time leading scorer, having tallied over 1,000 points for the Buccaneers. "I wanted Wayne to play for us," Catalano said, "we knew each other when he was a junior in high school. I saw him play quite a bit since I also played at Belleville and still consider myself a local. He's very coachable, I knew he would come in and do a good job for us."

The 6-foot-5, 240-pounder isn't the quickest player on a given basketball court, but he does the things necessary to win. In the first several games, he was averaging eight rebounds per contest.

"A lot of people don't think he

(Please see 'Bubet' on page 15.)

Boys' starting lineup still in the air as the new season opens tomorrow

With just a few days before it's opening game, the Belleville boys basketball team is quickly trying to fill in the final pieces on what looks to be a very exciting season.

Joe Papasidero's crew will open the 1981-82 season with a game in Weehawkin tomorrow night starting at 8 p.m. The jayvee contest will precede the varsity game at 6:30. On Monday, the Bucs will host Wallington in a 3:45 p.m. start and on Tuesday will stay home for a battle with Caldwell.

When asked about his starting team for the opening game, Papasidero replied, "I really don't have a set starting lineup. Right now, we're about eight or nine men deep and I plan to use as many combinations as possible."

One man expected to see a lot of work is sophomore Phil Colallio. The 6-1 forward saw alot of action in his freshman season and has looked very impressive in the teams scrimmages. "He played well against Harrison" said Papasidero referring to the sophomores performance last Friday afternoon. "I look for alot of good things from Phil this year."

Senior Sterling Lutz will play at a forward position and will play a big role under the boards. The 6-1, 190 pounder has a soft outside shot and is a good passer.

Billy Cook, a senior in his fourth year with the team will occupy another forward spot. A good shooter with fine range, Cook can be looked upon as the teams main outside threat this year.

Joe Zangari, the team's senior point guard, has looked very good in the scrimmages thus far and is pretty well assured of a starting spot. A very intelligent player with good speed, Zangari will be looked upon to break the opponents press and to set up the teams particular offense.

Junior John Healy, Ray Kimble, Mike De Staci, John Borello and Dave Grant round out the varsity squad. Healy has rapidly improved from last season while Kimble is one of Papasidero's favorites because of his tremendous enthusiasm and nose for the boards. De Staci is a potent outside shooter while Borello adds speed to the backcourt. Finally, Grant, the teams biggest player this year at 6-4, 230 is a natural at the center position and with his size will help snare some big rebounds for the club.

While it is true that the Bucs have good size this year, something it hasn't possessed in recent seasons, Papasidero warns that success might not come easy. "We have a lot of work to do yet," he said. "The kids are working hard and will be ready

(Please see 'Boys' on page 14.)

JV basketball squad is ready for new season

The boys' junior varsity basketball team, behind the leadership of second-year coach Rocco Collucci, is rearing and ready to accept the challenge of the new season.

"We have no starting team yet," said Collucci, "but our sophomores, such as Brian Cook and David Boyd, show excellent potential and dedication."

The fight for positions will be competitive with Mario Silvestri, Bill Nankervis, and Carlos Kingalahu, sophomores, all pushing for the final few spots. Also seeing some action will be juniors John Bocchino and Lenny Russo, veterans from last year's team.

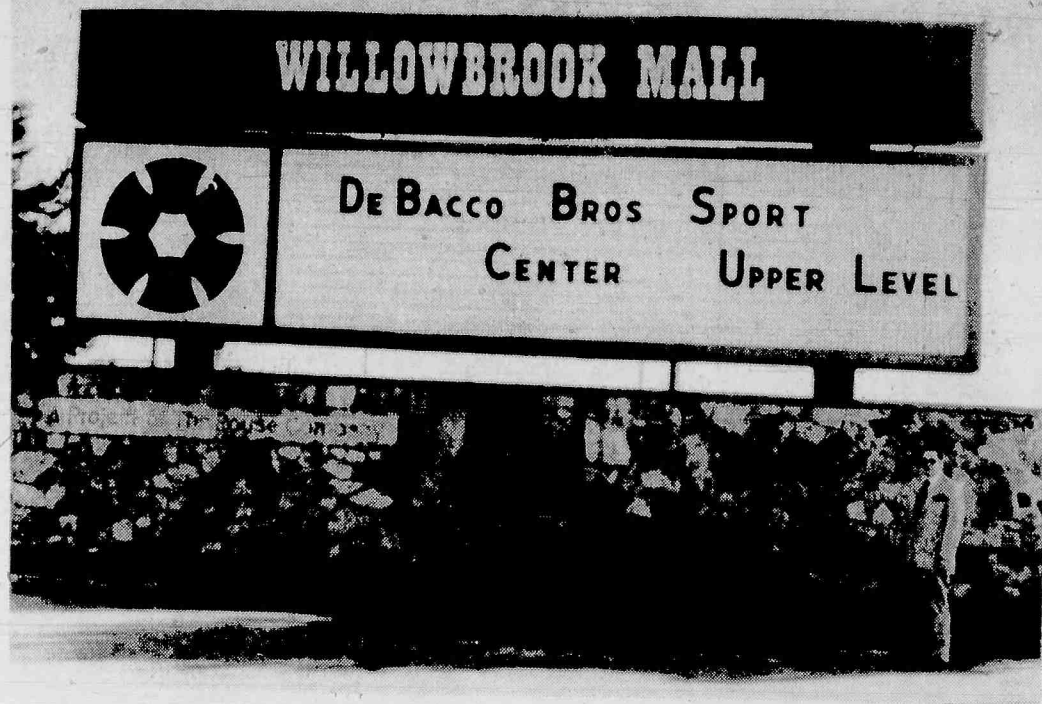

There has been some injury

(Please see 'BHS' on page 15.)

Returning Stars — Joe Iacona puts a friendly hold on teammate Jaime Lijo during a recent practice of the boys' wrestling team. Next week The Times will preview the 1981-82 wrestling season, which promises to be a successful one for the Bucs.

New Store — Joseph DeBacco, who is the owner of DeBacco's Sporting store in Belleville has opened a new store in the Willowbrook Mall, Wayne. Mr. DeBacco has been in business at Belleville for almost 25 years. The people at Willowbrook offered him a warm welcome.

Jets continued Seattle slump as Giants pull a Ram upset

They are the Seattle Seahawks. By rights, they aren't supposed to give a playoff contender like the Jets a battle. Certainly, the Hawks aren't supposed to beat the Jets.

Folks, welcome to the NFL. While the Jets are able to beat the Miami Dolphins on a regular basis they can't for the life of them beat Seattle. They've tried six times, including twice this year, without any luck. Not even a tie, not even a one point game.

The rest of the NFL stacked up like this. The Giants are now 7-7 and still alive for a possible wildcard berth by beating LA. San Fran traveled to Cincy and ate the Bengals up. Dallas added another notch to Baltimores losing belt. St. Louis is now 4-0 with Neil Lomax at the helm. Miami moved into first place by beating New England and Buffalo took over second place by upsetting San Diego, 24-23.

The Jets, with that loss, are now 8-5-1 and worst of all, fell from first to third place in the AFC east. Cleveland and Green Bay remain on the schedule and if the Jets are really serious about making the playoffs, a victory this Saturday over the Browns in Cleveland is a must.

The Seahawks started a rookie quarterback named Steve Krieg, in for Jim Zorn, the usual Jet killer, who is out for the year with a broken ankle. All Krieg did was complete 20 of 26 for two touchdown passes. The Hawks 27-23 win included just one sack from the famous "New York Sack Exchange" of Joe Klecko, Marty Lyons, Mark Gastineau and Abdul Salaam. Richard Todd threw 50 passes, completing 26, but it wasn't enough to win this game. Perhaps the Dolphins should try out Seattle's uniforms next year in an attempt to beat the Jets. It certainly works for the Seahawks.

The Giants beat the Rams, 10-7 in a wind blown Giants Stadium to even their mark at 7-7. The last time the Giants won seven games in a season was in 1972 when they went 8-6. The Rams, meanwhile, are assured of their first losing season, also since 1972. The 49ers, who weren't supposed to play the game with Cincy too hard because they had already clinched the NFC west, beat the Bengals, 21-3, in Cincy. The 49er defense is awesome and will be very tough to crack come playoff time.

The NFC central is a mess, with Green Bay, Minnesota and Detroit battling with 7-7 records. During all this mess, Tampa Bay has snuck into first place with an 8-6 record under John Mc Kay. The Denver Broncos now have sole possession of first in the AFC west following the 16-13 win over KC while Buffalo was edging San Diego.

Now for this weeks picks:

JETS at CLEVELAND: The Jets have never beaten the Cleveland Browns in their history and need this one very badly. Cleveland, despite it's 5-9 mark, is better than that record and might be ready for one last upset. If the Jets aren't careful, it could happen. Cleveland 24-20.

GIANTS at ST. LOUIS: The Cards are red hot, have won four straight with Lomax at the helm and are raring for a better than .500 record. The Giants, also, 7-7 struggled by the Rams and might have a very tough time with the Cards. A big game by Carpenter is needed here, especially to take some pressure off the defense. St. Louis 17-10.

MINNESOTA at DETROIT: The Vikes are suddenly dragging while the Lions are on an upbeat despite the loss to Green Bay last weekend. The Lions, with Hipple and the home field, will be raring to go while Minnesota might have dug it's own grave. Detroit 28-14.

CINCINNATI at PITTSBURGH: The big game in the AFC central. The Steelers certainly remember the 34-7 loss to the Bengals eight weeks ago and since this may be the last hurrah for many of the old Steelers, this game might belong to them. The Bengals are one of the NFL youngest teams and are destined to be one of the best, but not this week. Pitt, 31-27.

SAN DIEGO AT TAMPA BAY: Both clubs need this one very, very badly. Both squads are 8-6 with the Bucs leading the division by a game. San Diego has faltered in the second half of the year and might be ready for the big fall here. Tampa has the horses and the momentum, might win it going away. Tampa Bay 28-17.

PHILADELPHIA at DALLAS: The Eagles and Cowboys always play a barn burner, but in this case, the Eagles might have already burnt out. They have lost three straight, will probably go as a wildcard team in the playoffs and Dallas is riding high. Danny White, healthy or otherwise will be enough for Dallas while the Eagle defense and specialty teams are suddenly blowing easy games. Dallas 31-17.

MIAMI at KANSAS CITY: The Dolphins have a game lead over the Jets, half game over Buffalo but will find the pickings very difficult this Sunday in KC. The Chiefs, at 8-6, have to win here if they hope to make the playoffs and probably will, thanks to Delaney, Lowery and a good defense. Miami counters with Woodley, Harris and a potent defense. Kansas City, 21-17.

CHICAGO at OAKLAND: A battle of nowheres. Both clubs were considered top teams in their divisions when the season began but now are just riding it out. With the homefield, the Raiders will probably win. Chicago has looked good the last two weeks and the game will probably be close. Oakland 23-20.

The rest of the NFL: Washington over Baltimore, Buffalo over New England, Green Bay over New Orleans, San Fran to stop Houston, Seattle an upset winner over Denver and finally on Monday night, Atlanta over Los Angeles. Last week: 8-5. For the year: 97-69.

Toros defeat spurs, 7-0; to win title

The Toros proved their supremacy in the "A" Division of the Belleville Recreation Soccer League as they defeated the Spurs 7-0 in the final round of the playoffs last week. Dave Long (four goals), Vincent Farina (two) and Heinz Nordmann (one) powered the champions to their shutout victory. The team, which had captured the regular season championship with a 5-1 mark, ended the year for coach Vincent Farina at 8-1 overall.

A recap of the "B" Division season shows the Cosmos winning the regular season title with a 5-0 record and the Toros, 3-2 in regular season, bouncing back with four straight victories to win the post-season tournament.

On Tuesday, Dec. 15 at 6:30 p.m. in the Belleville High School Auditorium, the "Belleville Recreation Department will be showing the film "Soccer: Hands Off" and presenting the awards to this year's winning teams in the recreation soccer leagues.

"Soccer: Hands Off" is a brief film which deals with some of the rules in the game of soccer. The film will kick off the program for the evening, and will be followed by the presentation of awards to the regular season champions and to the tournament winners. All residents are welcome to attend.

Recreation basketball league begins its 1981-82 season

The Belleville Men's Basketball League tipped off its 1981-82 season last week as several perennial powers rose to the occasion. Jeff Smedburg scored 32 points to pace the Knicks to a 93-57 decision over Journey's End. Gary Mascitelli scored 24 points, Dennis Kiel 19 and Bob Thrash 16 for the winners. Neal Aurechio tallied 18 for Journey's End.

while Rockies was led by Pat Blacer (21). Mike McAwoy (19) and Fran O'Keefe (12).

Rich Clark scored 24 points as Maggie's Garter beat De Bacco Bros. 64-54. Bob Laird tallied 14 points and Walt Murry 10 for the winners. Erich Sherbak equalled Clark's performance for De Bacco's, while Allan Talmadge threw in 16 points.

Girls sharp in scrimmage; season opens tomorrow

D'Aquino has a fine outside touch and is a battler under the boards. "We'll need her for rebounding and some offense" said Fuccello. "Dina has the tools to be a fine player."

Players like Theresa Critchley, Marlene Talmadge, Kathy Woods, Loreli Wells, Franchette Polite and Cecilia Graham will supply the team with speed and strength on the offensive and defensive boards. Graham is the defending Essex County champion in the high jump and should be a natural for basketball.

With a 102-74 career record coming into this season, Fuccello has already proven her ability as a fine and respected coach. Although she won't predict the success of this years squad, it's a sure bet the girls will be a competitive bunch who will be tough to handle.

for the opening game, but size doesn't necessarily constitute a good team. We'll have to prove it on the floor."

Township rehires grant consultants

By Linda Telesco

Bruno Associates of Newark will remain as grant consultants to Belleville in 1982. Commissioners unanimously approved recently a contract renewal with the firm and set the fee at $22,000 total for next year.

The ordinance acknowledges the township's need for "the services of a firm specializing in the investigation, research, planning, preparation and pursuit of programs submitted to various County, State, and Federal authorities for obtaining vital financial and other aid for municipal programs."

The legislation also notes that such services involve professional knowledge and that "specifications cannot reasonably be formulated and public bidding is not feasible." Bruno Associates, which has sought funding for Belleville programs over the past seven years, will be paid a monthly sum of $1,833.33 for each month in 1982. The firm will also receive $250 quarterly for expenses, not to exceed $1,000.

Mayor Michael Marotti noted, in response to a citizen's inquiry, that the consultants' fee was $15,000 annually when first hired in 1974.

During last Tuesday's conference session, Bill Katterman, a consultant for Bruno Associates, reported to the commissioners on current and future projects for the township.

Projects already underway or soon to be started include water main installation in Smallwood Avenue, reconstruction of Belmont Avenue, and construction of a Senior Citizens Recreation Project all funded partly by Essex County Community Development Block Grants totalling $400,000 in 1981 monies.

The grants were secured through efforts of Bruno Associates on behalf of the township.

Katterman noted that the firm is presently applying for next year's grant monies to fund a proposed footbridge between Greylock Parkway and the Valley over the railroad tracks.

Katterman also described the firm's efforts to secure new buses for Belleville's senior citizens programs, for a township disaster plan, and for redevelopment of Washington Avenue.

Belleville resident writes news magazine article

"Management World" magazine's October, 1981 edition carries an article "Unfettered Free Enterprise: It Can't Happen Here" by William S. Brown of Belleville.

In it Brown, who is manager of wage and salary administration at Fairleigh Dickinson University, debates the issues of governmental regulation of industry and the social responsibility of business. Brown holds that business cannot operate with an indifference to the common good. And, if industry does not respond to its moral obligations, it is then the legal responsibility of the government to impose regulations to ensure that obligations are met.

The article raises questions on both sides of the issue and was written in response to an ongoing debate in the international publication.

Brown is a candidate for a doctoral degree in American history at Rutgers University.

School 4 students get safety lessons

School Four recognized Fire Prevention Month by having an excellent demonstration by the Belleville Fire Department on Wednesday, Oct. 28. This was a culmination of many projects going on around the school to acknowledge Fire Prevention Month.

Here are some third graders' reactions — Erica Catenacci liked when school Principal Mr. Pat Forte climbed the ladder. Ezra Lustado was impressed by all the equipment on the ambulance and the different techniques they used to save people. Sherri Pindar enjoyed putting on the oxygen mask. Richard Casuga found it amazing how they use 2,000 pounds of pressure to secure the truck to the ground. Kelly Meckalavage was excited when she rang the fire bell, and she loved wearing the fireman's hat. Byron Fogle found it interesting to learn about all the different equipment on the trucks.

Overall, it was a very exciting and educational learning experience for all of the students involved.

Belleville schools to receive funding for communication and other areas

Under the Amended Elementary and Secondary Education Act, now called the Basic Skills Improvement Program, Belleville has received funds to provide remedial instruction in the communication and computational areas.

More bodies are crowding BHS hallways

By Donna Gonnello

When upperclassmen walked into school on the first day, they happened to see 415 extra bodies walking around the halls.

As many people know, this school year is a little different than previous years. When school started, the freshmen came up to the high school and began to experience a new lifestyle. The students were coming to the school not knowing what to expect, for this was a whole new world opening up to them.

When speaking on this subject, Mr. Lally stated that it was "a wise move."

"They belong up here," according to our new principal. "It seems to be like a high school now. It gives the school more spirit because many contribute in sports, student government and many other extra-curricular activities."

The new vocational program has proved to be successful because approximately 275 students are using that wing every day, thereby cutting down on all the traffic in the hallways.

This state and federally funded program supplements the regular reading and math programs sponsored by the Belleville Board of Education. Title I and SCE classes are held daily and usually in half hour sessions for all children in the program.

Seymour Grossman, director of the Basic Skills Program, announced the following teacher assignments: Mrs. Jeanne Orefice, Mrs. Melinda Troise and Mrs. Lorraine Corrado are servicing School 3. At School 4 are Mrs. Michele Addis, Miss Linda Bove, Mrs. MaryAnn Marino and Mrs. Marilyn LoCoco. School 5: Miss Maria Christiaho; Mrs. Carol Kane; and Miss Christine Friedella. School 7: Mrs. Cynthia Devenney; Mrs. Constance Larcara; and Mrs. LuAnn Scarpelli. School 8: Mrs. Angela Salinger; Mrs. Carol Passarella; Mrs. Michele Volpe; and Miss Flora Aulisi. School 9: Mrs. Marianne Fass and Mrs. Ann Cocchi. School 10: Miss Sherrie Manara and Miss Marlene Mandra. The middle school has Mrs. Genevieve Trocolor and Mrs. Linda Albanese. The high school has Mr. James Russomanno, Dr. Richard Shannon and Mr. Salvatore Mauriello. Servicing the non-public schools are Sister Dolores Walsh, Mrs. Patrice Hermes and Mrs. Beverly Kwiatkowski at St. Peter's School; Mrs. Carolyn Fuscaldo at St. Anthony's School.

Mrs. Isabelle Giordano, teacher/coordinator, divides her day between School 8 and the Basic Skills Office located at School 1. The program's new secretary is Bea Clinton.

'Frozen Image' band howls at BHS dance

By Denise Dalton

Halloween was really "howling" as some BHS students sang along with "Frozen Image," a popular punk rock group which appeared at the annual Belleville High Halloween dance.

The dance, which was sponsored by the Belleville Music Parents' Association, was a benefit for the members of the high school band and squads.

"Frozen Image" features BHS alumni Toni Spurduto, lead singer; Gabe Nazzola, drums; Bob DiStasi, key boards and Scott Ramirez, bass player. Other members are Peter Natale, lead guitar, and Paul Cervalis, rhythm guitar.

The band, with its lead singer appearing in her purple jump suit, gave off the radiance of a neon light. The group itself has an extremely "visual" "Dance Orientated Rock" theme. Most of the arrangements done by "Frozen Image" are original and primarily written by Toni Spurduto, Peter Natale and Gabe Nazzola.

A soon to be released album by "Frozen Image" will consist of such songs as "Anesthesia," "Rocken Out," "Two to Tango," "Run Away and Hide," and "Jane," all originals played at the dance.

The band itself is a close-knit unit of friends as well as musicians with a goal to "achieve stardom," but also to work as one, pulling for each other, "according to Toni Spurduto. "We want the leaving audience to feel that the show was as good as the music."

The Great Pumpkin couldn't hold a candle to this dynamic band, and the audience appeared to enjoy every moment of "Frozen Image."

Belleville High School holds its annual Homecoming day

In an age of rapidly changing trends and styles, it's nice to know that some traditions still exist.

One such tradition at BHS is "Homecoming," an annual event that includes the election of a Homecoming King and Queen, a Homecoming dance, Homecoming parade (and float) and the Homecoming football game.

The elected king and queen for the '81-'82 school year are seniors Angelo Centanni and Ruth Marotti. The Homecoming Court comprises of underclassmen. Winners in those grade levels were freshmen Mark Walsh and Renee Luzzi, sophomores Carmen Cerreto and Sherry Muccigrasso and juniors Linda Cozzarelli and Robert Cancelliere.

A Homecoming dance on the evening of Nov. 4 in the high school gym honored the Homecoming King and Queen and their "courtiers." Music for the dance was provided by Mr. Bill Hollis. It was an evening of traditional fun.

There was only one lone set back. That came during the Homecoming football game when the Ponies of Seton Hall defeated the Belleville Buccaneers by the score of 27-7.

Class representatives are elected at BHS

By Sue Post

The election in Belleville High School on last month was not for governor but for class representatives.

The representatives for the senior class are: President Jamie Lijo; Vice-president Karen Lordi; Secretary Beth Arena; and Treasurer Barbara Gundry.

For the junior class, the representatives are: President Karen Pravata; Vice-president Anthony Stefanelli; Secretary Catrina Sharon, and Treasurer Kevin Tice.

The responsibilities of the junior and senior representatives are basically fund raising and arranging social events.

The junior class representatives are going to start making arrangements for their senior prom and also have fund-raisers throughout the year.

Hopefully, all juniors and senior classmates cast their ballots towards the right person to represent their grade and make decisions for the classes of 1982 and 1983.

Newspaper editor speaks to students

By Loretta DiNicolas

An editor of the Montclair Times, Mrs. Eileen Vigue, gave almost an hour of her time answering questions from the students of Mrs. Karen Falzo's Journalism classes on Oct. 22, at the senior high school.

She also enlightened them about her own career.

The students asked questions varying from journalism and writing to her own career as an editor and as a freelance reporter.

Mrs. Vigue writes about education, religion and theatre for the Montclair Times.

The students seemed to be interested in learning new facts about the field of journalism.

Sophomores, freshmen elect 1981-82 officers

By Traci Sherman

Sophomore and freshmen may not be eligible to vote in state and local elections, but they recently exercised their franchise by electing their class officers.

The freshmen officers for 1981-82 are, Valerie Cardillo, president; Dana Fazzini, vice president; Donna Vollero, secretary and Cindy Lillis, treasurer.

The elected sophomore officers are, Carmen Cerreto, president; Vinnie D'Agostino, vice president; Karen Cardone, secretary and Traci Sherman, treasurer.

The sophomore and freshman senates, which advised by Miss Mango and Miss Bongiorno respectively, basically have the same purpose, which is to raise money for future activities, such as the senior prom.

This is achieved by sponsoring dances and selling tee-shirts and other items. Another purpose is to help students generate some spirit and pride in their school.

"The senates give students a chance to get involved in making decisions that affect their lives in Belleville High School," said Miss Bongiorno.

Miss Mango explained the difference between the SGO and the senates.

"The SGO involves the entire school, but the senates just involve each grade," she said. "All the senates work together and separately with the SGO, though. I just hope it's going to be a good year."

50th Anniversary Graduation — Among the 1981 graduates of the five Berkeley Schools receiving associate degrees or diplomas at the commencement exercises at the Felt Forum, Madison Square Garden were Nicolette Kondas of Westwood (l) and Belleville's own Patricia Scarpelli. Graduation Cheers — Angela DiGiovanni of Belleville (l) and Betty J. Van Beke of Parsippany, were among the 1981 graduates at Berkeley School's 50th graduation commencement exercises held in the Felt Forum at Madison Square Garden. Both are graduates of the intensive secretarial program.

Some parking is suspended by Senatore

Commissioner Mary Senatore announced this week that all alternate side of the street parking will be suspended starting Dec. 8 and going through and including March 31, 1982. The commissioner said the reason for the change was to make it easier for snow plowing.

"I hope that all residents of Belleville will cooperate with the public works department in this important move," the commissioner said. "This is something which is done each year."

Food fund by Jaycees is forming

The first project of the Belleville Jaycees is about to get underway either this weekend or next.

The Jaycees are setting up a Senior Citizens Christmas Food fund. They will be locating baskets outside of the Silver Lake Pathmark, the A & P on Belleville Avenue and the Grand Union on Main Street. As well as connisters throughout town. Everyone is asked to contribute whatever they can to this needy cause. The baskets of food will be donated to senior citizens throughout Belleville.

The Belleville Jaycees announced the resignation of Sandy Greenfield as president effective December 1.

Bob Boyer was elected to the new president post. Sandy was appointed the office of chairman of the board.
