Hearing Set For Feb. 7

Pucillo Co. files law suit over new garbage contract

By Linda Telesco

For the first time in 20 years, the trucks of L. Pucillo & Sons, Inc. of Lodi were absent this week from township streets, replaced by a new garbage collector, Browning-Ferris Waste Industries of North Jersey (BFI).

Refusing to be dumped, however, the Pucillo company last week filed suit against Belleville, the local Board of Commissioners, and BFI, challenging the township's Dec. 28 decision to award a new five-year $2,778,992 contract — effective Jan. 1, 1983 — to the Fairfield firm which submitted the lower of two bids last December 14.

Servicing Belleville for two decades, Pucillo's most recent three-year $1.5 million contract expired last Friday. Two weeks before, they submitted a new bid proposal of $620,000 for one year and $2,160,000 for three years, but were edged out by BFI which named a figure of $477,928 for one year, and $1,554,952 for three years, and offered a five-year bid promising long-term savings.

According to Assistant Township Attorney Frank Cozzarelli, who represented Belleville in court last Friday, the Pucillo firm and a private citizen residing in the township filed a joint complaint against the three defendants and also sought a restraining order to prevent BFI from commencing service in Belleville until the matter is resolved.

Judge Edmund Kirby, temporarily assigned to Superior Court, denied the injunction request and set a Feb. 7 date for plenary hearing of the complaints.

Cozzarelli said Monday the suit named two allegations: that there were deficiencies in the bid specifications provided by the township to bidders and that the Fairfield firm failed to submit an affidavit of non-collusion and a proper financial statement.

The plaintiffs claimed the reports submitted pertained not to the North Jersey branch of BFI, but to the parent company which is headquartered in Houston, Texas and services municipalities nationwide.

According to Cozzarelli, the BFI did submit acceptable statements with their bid and turned the required non-collusion report in "a day or two after the bids were opened."

The Belleville attorney said, "We took the position under case law that BFI's problems were immaterial and were corrected, not simply waived by the township." He noted that under the technicalities cited by Pucillo, the plaintiff's own bid must be judged

"incomplete" since it did not name a five-year contract figure nor did it include eight of the nine possible options suggested by Commissioners for cost saving.

In what he termed a case "with little merit," Cozzarelli said Pucillo

School Board Concerned

Computers will aid curriculum updating

By Marianne Lombardi

Termed as "outdated and containing inadequate guidelines," Belleville school officials are making efforts to improve the systems academic curriculum.

Upon recommendation by the Belleville Instructional Council to update the curriculum in the elementary schools, the School Board will purchase approximately 12 new computers.

The council, composed of teachers and administrators from each elementary school, was formed by the board to review the present elementary curriculum. The council's findings suggested the existing curriculum "lacked adequate guide lines," and concluded computers to be the most effective means to updating the system.

"Curriculum is fine as long as it is current, if not then it is behind the times," said school Trustee Anthony D'Agostino, who sees curriculum as the key to the job market for most students.

According to D'Agostino, the board attributed the council's conclusions to "a lack of teacher input" in formulating curriculum guide lines.

To introduce the practicality of the computer in the classroom, the board will hold an In-Service Day at the high school on Jan. 19 from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. The State's Education Improvement Center will host the computer orientation program and teachers from grades four through six are expected to attend.

The computers were funded by a federal grant which was allotted to each school according to enrollment. Although computers from Apple, Texas Instrument and Commodore have been sampled, a decision has not been reached as to which company will be awarded the sale.

With a September installation date scheduled for the computers, Middle School Vice Principal Mario Di Maggio, is proposing a computer literacy course be required, beginning this fall of all seventh and eighth grade students.

The course will last from seven to 12 weeks and will instruct students on the history, knowledge and operating techniques of the computers.

"With the computers a teacher will be able to diagnose exactly what skills a student may be lacking and provide direct instruction for the individual needs of the student," Di Maggio said.

Seymour Grossman, assistant superintendent of schools, believes once a student masters computer literacy his overall comprehension skills will improve.

"I feel computers will be the future of education in our public schools, however we will always need a teacher in the classroom," he said.

The board also plans to conduct a summer workshop and employ

Hello Little One — Kathleen Ferrara holds her new born child Megan, who was born on Jan. 1 at 1:32 a.m. making her the first Belleville baby for 1983. On hand to welcome the newest resident were Mrs. Sol Sherman and Joseph Dasaro of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce. The proud daddy was busy at work when the photo was taken.

Welcome Megan!

By Eddie Capparucci

One highlight for any new year is the birth of the year's first baby. Well, welcome the newest resident of Belleville — seven pound, 15 ounce, Megan Ferrara.

Megan was born at 1:32 a.m. on Jan. 1 at Clara Maass Medical Center and her New Year Day arrival shocked many people, including her parents, Nicholas and Kathleen.

"I was not due until Jan. 9," said the new mother in an interview Monday morning. "As a matter of fact I was at the doctor's office the day before (Dec. 31) and he said there was no way the baby would come early."

The proud parents were scheduled to go out and celebrate the coming of the new

Commissioners agree to license contractors working in Belleville

By Linda Telesco

An ordinance to license all contractors who wish to perform work in Belleville was unanimously approved by Commissioners last week.

Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica said the new restriction was imposed to protect residents from fraudulent or incompetent service people. "We want to keep our citizens from being ripped off," he explained.

A significant new source of revenue, the measure requires all contractors — under pain of penalty — to apply, for a $25 fee, to the construction code official for a license.

All applicants will then be investigated by the police for past criminal activity. Additionally, the code enforcement department will review each case for adequate qualifications, length of experience and responsible business performance in the past.

Granted licenses are valid until Dec. 31 of the year issued and are automatically renewable by the code official for $10 annually.

Licenses will be granted successful applicants in one or more of seven contracting classes, including general building, roofing and siding, demolition, moving structures, swimming pool, sign or billboard, and miscellaneous contracting.

Once licensed, to perform work in Belleville, a contractor must then follow the existing procedure to obtain a permit for the proposed job, at the appropriate fees.

The licensing requirement does not apply to homeowners performing work on their own properties, according to Township Attorney Frank Zinna.

Violation of the ordinance carries a penalty of a fine up to $500 or a prison sentence of 90 days or both.

Any contractor validly licensed who violates state or local laws in his work may have his license revoked.

Belleville woman named Rhode Scholar

By Marianne Lombardi

One of the most eventful days in the life of Patricia Connelly was Dec. 18. It was the day her name was added to the prestigious list of Rhode Scholars.

"It was such a long shot," said Connelly, who attends the University of Chicago and is the first Belleville resident ever to receive the award. She was one of 32 winners selected from 1,183 national applicants.

The scholarship will allow Connelly to study at Oxford, the internationally acclaimed university in England, for two years with all expenses paid.

But it involved a lot of hard work and includes rigorous interviews.

"I don't think the interviews were as bad as the anxiety of waiting to find out if I won," she revealed.

The interviewing committee, composed of past Rhodes Scholars, selects students on the basis of their general character, academic standing and personal accomplishments.

A member of the Chicago University basketball team, Connelly also was the poetry editor of a Chicago Review publication, employed as a counselor administering the university work study program and did free work as a free lance research editor in the field of psychiatry.

"The committee looked for assertiveness, maturity and a desire to achieve the goals one sets for oneself," she said.

Connelly, who began to seriously consider applying for the Rhodes this past summer, received much support from faculty members, however, the best advice to battling the interviews and essays came from a close friend who simply stated, "relax and have a good time."

"And I did have a wonderful time meeting all the people involved in the competition," she admitted.

Connelly, who graduated in the top 10 of her high school class, has always wanted to be a lawyer. She worked for a lawyer's office her senior year of high school, however,

Three Kings Mass scheduled tonight at Saint Peter's

A special Mass in honor of the Three Kings will be celebrated in Spanish tonight, Jan. 6 at 8 p.m. in St. Peter's Church.

Rev. Anthony Lionelli will be the main celebrant and assisted by Deacon William Valladares.

Traditionally the feast of the Three Kings has had special significance in the Hispanic culture. Special music and an offertory procession of the Three Kings will be highlights of the celebration.

Refreshments will be served after the Mass and special treats will be provided for the children.

Good Show — Patricia Connelly, recent Rhode Scholar winner, poses in front of congratulatory banner designed by her younger sister displayed in front of her family's home in Belleville.

Bell system changing phone center locations

There will be some changes in the way customers obtain Bell System telephones starting this month.

Thirteen of New Jersey Bell's 44 phone centers will be transferred to American Bell, Inc. (ABI), a separate subsidiary of AT&T. These phone centers, located in major shopping malls, will sell telephone equipment but will not provide other services. The ABI stores will compete with other suppliers of equipment on an unregulated basis.

New Jersey Bell will continue to sell or lease telephones in inventory as of Dec. 31, 1982 until the supply runs out. The supply of standard, princess and trimline sets is expected to last throughout 1983 although shortages may occur in some models and colors.

New Jersey Bell's 31 remaining phone centers will be renamed service centers. They will offer telephones for new service or changes in service, arrange for replacement of defective New Jersey Bell equipment, and accept returned sets when service is discontinued.

An additional 16 New Jersey Bell service centers have been opened for the convenience of customers. These changes are required by a Federal Communications Commission ruling that, as of Jan. 1, the Bell System must offer new telephone equipment (except that in inventory as of Dec. 31) and enhanced services through a separate subsidiary only. Enhanced services are those that change or store information.

Two Cars Stolen From Lot

Washington Avenue salesman voices complaints over security

By Linda Tedesco

In an ironic twist, just moments after 12 policemen received awards for excellent work at the Dec. 14 township meeting, a local businessman publicly decried the rise in crime along Belleville's main thoroughfare.

"We are facing a crisis for the businessmen of Washington Avenue," said Michael Chieffo, owner of Chief Motors, a car dealership at 352 Washington Ave. plagued by recent auto thefts.

Directing his complaints to Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica, Chieffo insisted he did not come "to cast aspersions," yet his description of recent thefts from his lot implied lack of adequate police surveillance along the Avenue.

Corvette Stolen

Specifically, the businessman complained of having a Corvette, the second one since October, stolen from his lot during the night of Dec. 13.

Arriving at work on Dec. 14 morning, Chieffo said he found a 1981 Corvette, worth $14,000, stolen in a manner he described as "highly unusual."

According to the dealer, the car was parked in the second row of the lot and had no battery in it while a 1979 Corvette worth $11,000 was parked in the front line and still there in the morning.

Chieffo said the battery from the older car was removed by the thief and put into the newer Corvette which was then, he said, "driven right off the lot," at some time between 9 p.m. Dec. 13 and 7 a.m. the next morning.

He described the procedure used to rob the Corvette as very intricate and time-consuming even for a team of professionals because of the car's special features.

He called it "inconceivable" that such a project could have been carried out in very cold weather conditions which would further slow a thief's work without detection.

Good Business Town

Declaring Belleville a "good town for business," Chieffo urged the Commissioners, "We need tougher police enforcement," and voiced intention to return to the Dec. 28 meeting with a representative of National Auto Theft Association.

The dealer said that with an annual record of $2 million in sales, he is the smallest of three Washington Avenue car dealerships experiencing substantial losses from theft and vandalism.

He named Crown Chevrolet at 514 Washington Ave. and Supreme Oldsmobile at 36 and 53 Washington Ave. as also suffering from the problem.

Chieffo claimed that since April 1981 the three lots experienced a combined loss of $112,000 from the robbery of 11 vehicles and other vandalism.

Predicting a rise in his insurance premium, Chieffo asked for "a cooperative effort" among auto dealers and local officials to stem the crime.

"I don't know if 11 cars is a high or low number, but even one is too much," said Pica suggesting that he and Police Chief George Lister meet with the dealers "to thrash out" some plans.

The Commissioner added that foot patrolmen do survey the area in question, but the force is spread thinner when some men are out sick.

Effort to reach the car dealers mentioned by Chieffo were not successful, but a check with other car dealers on the Avenue showed that not all were experiencing the same problems.

Minor Problems

Bob Scherle of the Ford Agency, a new car showroom at 515 Washington Ave. said "We've had very few problems here. Our losses are minimal," citing only the theft of "half a dozen batteries" in the past year.

Claiming many years of experience in various locations, Scherle said, "Belleville has a better situation than most places."

He also attributed Ford's few problems to "having a well lighted, highly visible lot."

Similarly, Peter Sabatino, owner of Branch Brook Auto Sales at 372 Washington Ave. said he experienced "no serious problems at all," beyond some minor vandalism he attributed to "possible school kids passing by."

Sabatino said he knew many of his fellow Avenue dealers well and was aware of their problems, confirming Chieffo's complaints.

"I don't know why some have the trouble and others don't," he said, suggesting that his location, directly across from the Casa Polizzi restaurant, might be one reason.

"The valets parking cars are always around and can see whatever happens, so maybe they deter possible thieves," said the businessman, who found police protection satisfactory except, "too many unauthorized cars park in my driveway. I wish police would get on that."

Taxes, Taxes, Taxes

No one wants to pay taxes but everyone wants to be served. We want good highways, reliable public transportation, excellent school systems, health support, and on and on the list goes and grows.

Early in life we have learned nothing is for free — especially public services.

Faced with a reduction in state income resulting from the Reagan depression of the 80's, Governor Thomas Kean, by law, was obliged to advise the Legislature that he needed more money to meet budgetary goals or else he would be obliged to cut back upon things like state aid to the cities and counties and a number of state programs that are essential to the safety and well being of the people of our state.

Initially, Tom Kean wanted a gas tax. That didn't fly. The Democrats wanted an income tax on the rich. That didn't fly. Governor Kean wanted a sales tax increase, and early on, that didn't fly.

Because compromise is the art of politics — and the welfare of the State of New Jersey was uppermost in the minds of Governor Kean and Democrat legislative leaders, the end result found both Republicans and Democrats going for taxes neither one wanted.

So today — we have a $.01 sales tax increase expecting to raise $240 million annually — a Republican measure, and we have an increase of one percent on gross incomes above $50,000, a Democrat measure, which is expected to generate $110 million.

The sales tax was passed by the Legislature only because a provision was adopted extending tax exemption for paper products, soap and over-the-counter drugs effective July 1.

In these circumstances, to maintain the high standard of life quality in New Jersey, the cuts proposed by Governor Kean would set us back 20 years. Much as we have a distaste for new or higher taxes, we believe Governor Kean and the Legislature did the best that one could expect from a difficult choice.

President Cuomo

New York's Lieutenant Governor Mario M. Cuomo took the oath of office as Governor of that great state this week. His inaugural address reflected a class guy. At age 50, Governor Cuomo is a young man. He is recognized for his intellectual achievements as well as his deep-seated religious beliefs. It was an emotional address he delivered New Year's Day and one that will be long remembered for its substance and style.

If Governor Cuomo achieves only half of his aspirations and dreams for New York State, he is well on his way to becoming a future President of the United States.

Alcohol

Drunk driving has claimed thousands of lives.

When the drinking age was reduced to 18, there was an immediate upsurge of drunk driving deaths applicable to the 18 to 21-year age group.

A new law which takes effect Friday night raises the drinking age to 21. Grandfathered in, are youngsters between the ages of 19 to 21.

The lower age limit was a social experiment. The tragic record shows it didn't work.

Based upon the experience of the past, the 21-year-old minimum for the sale of alcoholic beverage makes sense — and saves lives.

Smoking is killing hundreds each day

To the editor:

Imagine two airplanes crash in mid-air today, killing 1,000 people. Imagine this disaster follows a similar crash yesterday. Further imagine this has happened every day for years. Pretend more crashes will occur tomorrow, the next day, and the day after that. One thousand people with die terrible deaths every day.

There is a real-life parallel to this imagined horror. It's the premature death of more than 350,000 Americans every year from the use of tobacco. Tobacco use is not a trivial problem. I hope my imaginary scenario illustrates this.

The far-reaching devastation of tobacco use touches many areas of our lives. Compare some actual news happenings with the effects of tobacco:

For instance, the New Jersey State Assembly is currently dealing with the state's fiscal problems. It's estimated a smoking employee costs his or her employer $5,000 more per year than a nonsmoking employee. What impact can this have for New Jersey, which employs 80,000 people?

We're working to decrease the highway deaths due to alcohol use. Smoking drivers have up to 250 percent more auto accidents than nonsmokers and 1/3 of all adults smoke.

We agonize over eight unexpected deaths due to poisoned Tylenol. But what about the anticipated 1,000 deaths daily from tobacco, a known poison?

Concern is growing about the fires linked to portable space heaters. But smoking and matches are the main cause of residential fires that result in loss of life.

A special commission studies ways to protect the well being of firefighters. The Alexandria, Virginia Fire Department found that every firefighter who retired on heart-lung disability was a smoker.

Mrs. Reagan heads a well-publicized campaign against drug use but in her return to elegance puts out cigarettes in crystal dispensers in the White House.

We work for energy conservation but areas where there is smoking requires 600 percent more clean air exchange, with resultant energy costs.

My point? I want our society to direct appropriate attention to tobacco and the death and destruction it produces.

I'm happy the New Jersey Assembly will soon consider smoking restrictions in government buildings, restaurants, public places and the workplace. Logic demands we act to discourage tobacco use and to protect the nonsmoking majority. I encourage my fellow citizens to support the Assembly's modest response to an enormous problem.

Sincerely,
Dr. Douglas Chester,
President
New Jersey GASP, Inc.

Extra money may save Social Security funds

To the editor:

I understand nationwide there are 115 million people employed paying into the social security system which the politicians claim is in trouble. Just think if they would enact a law and have an extra $1 taken out of their pay checks weekly of all those people which is also deductible that would solve many problems, there would be no need for more taxes of any kind.

Those funds cannot be used for wage increases but to keep the social security system solvent and to repair highways and bridges and other important projects.

Generations after generations would be collecting their social security checks. This is just an idea that would be a blessing in these hard times and the increase in fares and toll highways will be a thing of the past. It would take in $578 million a year.

Since every state in the union will be involved in this plan I would recommend each state receive one million dollars from that fund, and used wisely for education to keep those students who cannot afford to pay to go to college. Leaving a balance for social security and the other projects of $528 million.

Sincerely yours,
Albert Guglicelli

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Senior citizens got another pleasant jolt in their November Social Security check envelope which contained Social Security Administration Publication No. 05-10300 dated December 1982.

It was a notice of new hospital insurance amounts for benefit periods in 1983, the Medicare hospital insurance deductible and daily amounts paid by inpatients. In four categories substantial increases in the amount the Medicare patient must pay are listed.

• For the first 60 days in the hospital (hospital insurance deductible) — $304 (up from $260).

• For the 61st through the 90th day in the hospital — $76 a day (up from $65).

• For the 60 reserve days — $152 a day (up from $130).

• For the 21st through the 100th day in a skilled nursing facility — $38 a day (up from $32.50).

This is in conformity with the Reagan Administration policy of eliciting greater patient payment input for their hospitalization, much as in the manner of the proposal to tax Social Security benefits which are now non-taxable.

Those discernible with the Stockman-Reagan motif of what appears to be a policy of reducing Social Security benefit entitlements to only welfare levels to qualify for tax exemption, while taxing all income, including Social Security, that totals any amount set to exceed what is arbitrarily established as a poverty level.

This is looked upon by those on Social Security as cruel and unreasonable punishment by an aristocratic motivated administration that favors the rich and squanders federal funds on needless aramant while "giving away" billions of dollars in foreign aid to governments whose people despise us.

It must be recognized that those now receiving Social Security, or soon to become eligible to receive it, have "paid their dues" under the terms of a contract written into law back in 1935. That sacred covenant cannot be abrogated by the capricious whim of an arrogant administration that would demand of the present membership of the Congress to repudiate the plighted word and honor of the Government of the United States of America.

36,000,000 million strong, Social Security beneficiaries must band together in a massive assault upon the Reagan Administration policies as they affect Social Security. Every member of Congress must be besieged with letters warning them of an impending drive to oust any of them who would support a move to tax Social Security benefits.

Remind them that those on welfare receive Medicaid medical and hospital care free, and that they never contributed toward this government funded program; Remind them that Social Security beneficiaries paid F.I.C.A. taxes while working on their pay checks deducted from their wages and that their employer paid a matching amount to the Social Security fund.

Remind them that presently each Medicare participant has $12.20 deducted from his or her monthly benefit, to be covered by Medicare; That besides that they first must have to have paid out $75 before they can apply for reimbursement which only pays 80 percent of what Medicare allows as an acceptable fee for medical services (usually less than doctors' regular fees), that prescription drugs are not covered and that almost every year payment deductibles are increased, so the Medicare patients constantly must pay more and more for less services than they had when they worked and were better able to pay for them than now.

Remind the members of Congress that collectively the senior citizens of this country are damn sick and tired of being made the "fall guy" victims of President Reagan's folly that seemingly would like to get the aged and the poor figuratively out of his hair.

Remind the Congressmen and women that Social Security was never designed to reduce those of its beneficiaries to the poverty level to collect their benefits, nor to penalize the forehanded who may have husbanded their funds for a rainy day in the twilight years of their lives.

No! President Reagan and his "hatchetman" Stockman must not be permitted to alter the course of traditional American custom of providing the comforts of retirement in the Autumn years of life.

Local woman named as Rhode Scholar

while studying in Chicago, she discovered "a passion for the humanities."

In June she will obtain an interdisciplinary major in the humanities focusing on the German and English literature and European history.

While at Oxford, she plans to concentrate on literature of the medieval period.

"Oxford is a medieval community which has a great collection of medieval literature that not many American universities offer," said Connelly.

"Part of my mission of study is to view the role of women in the medieval church," she said. Connelly believes this will aid her in analyzing the present role of women in the church. In addition, she would also like to touch upon the area of archeology.

"Medievalists rely heavily on the findings of archeologists," said Connelly, who she feels it would be beneficial to pursue this area as well.

While in England, Connelly expects to travel throughout Europe. Previously, she has visited Italy, Ireland, and Czechoslovakia but she has never seen England.

"Traveling takes away the myths of Europe and allows you to see what it is really like," she said.

Connelly attributes winning the Rhodes to a lot of hard work and the blessing of God.

"It's been so exciting for my parents, I feel it is half theirs because they provided so much encouragement," she said. The rest of her family is equally as proud of her accomplishment.

She already has begun to acquire formal recognition. Sen. Bill Bradley, himself a Rhode Scholar, sent a letter of congratulations and Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro awarded a proclamation of her achievement. Connelly has also been featured in various publications.

The scholarship, which began in 1902, was not available for women until the British Parliament passed legislation in 1976 making them eligible. Connelly became the 78th woman to receive the award since then.

Although she anticipated teaching German and English literature in the private school sector, winning the Rhodes had altered her plans. Connelly hopes to return to the states after obtaining an additional B.A. from Oxford, and attend graduate school.

"There's a push to be practical in our society," she said, "but there is also a need for good scholars."

WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

Belleville's past

By 1682 the "Second River" settlement was definitely reported to have a "considerable" population. At about that time the legendary Hendrick Spier had neighbors. Adjoining his tract on the northeast, another Dutch family, the Vreedlands, had settled. Their lands also stretched as far as the river. On the south Spier's property touched upon that of Stephen Van Cortlandt. The Coeyman tract lay to the west of Van Cortlandt's and Spier's lands.

But recorded history did not begin for the little settlement until the next turn of the century. A Reformed Church was founded then, and now births, marriages, deaths and other vital statistics carefully noted down either by the "dominie" himself or the clerk of the congregation. The names of Van Dyke, Kleinhoff, Jarrat, Dow, Van Emburgh, Van Zile, Van Riper and many others of obvious Dutch derivation appear again and again in the old records.

In all probabilities the settlement was in every respect a typical Dutch village of the early Colonial period. Lack of bricks and mortar forced the Dutch builder to substitute lumber, which was available in abundance. But his house still showed the typical Dutch lines. The low roof curved over for two feet or more over the rear wall. Windows were increased in deep recesses. Each house had its "Dutch door," lower and upper part of which opened independently of each other.

The influence of Dutch architecture prevailed for a long time in Belleville, though there is but one example of it left today. The "Rose Cottage" on 221 Main Street, dating from 1720, still shows the sloping saddle roof, the deep window seats and other characteristics of a characteristic building style.

In the rear of his dwelling "the sturdy boer built his...great barn, laid out his fields of wheat and rye, kept his cows and hogs and planted his vegetable gardens and his orchard. It was his custom to load his little sloop with beef, pork, butter, cheese, turnips, carrots, cabbage, etc. and set out for the canal in Broad Street (New York), there to dispose of them to shopkeepers on either side." The prevalence which Belleville, until the coming of the railroads, accorded river transportation over all forms of land traffic had at least a contributory cause in this custom of the first Dutch settlers.

Large families were the rule with these sturdy husbandmen. Hendrick Brown, Sr., a blacksmith and descendant of the original Braun, listed seven sons and daughters and several grandchildren in his last will and testament of January 6, 1745. Jacobus Joralemon, who was a carpenter and wheelwright, in 1760 was survived by eight children beside "Phoebe, daughter of deceased son, Hendrick."

With this latter proviso Dirck Joralemon established himself really as a public benefactor. For Aunt Margaret was the little community's midwife, and as such she did not merely officiate whenever a new Bellevillian made his entry on life; because of the lack of a physician, she was also in demand for nursing the sick and curing them with herb teas and mustard plasters and such other home-brand remedies as she possessed.

Cynthia Rossi, John Sullivan have exchanged wedding vows

Cynthia Ann Rossi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rossi of Hill Street, became the bride Nov. 6 of John Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan of Summit. The Rev. Richard Carlson celebrated the nuptial Mass at Holy Family Church, Nutley and a reception followed at The Bethwood, Totowa.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan — nee Cynthia Rossi

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a silk organza gown with an appliqued bodice of Alencon lace, seed pearls and sequins and a cathedral train. Her headpiece was a lace and pearl trimmed mantilla and she carried a cascade of spider mums, stephanotis and ivy. Debra Burns of Clifton was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Marie Clarizio and Carolyn Rolandelli of Belleville and Nancy Schlueter of Bayville. They were attired in blue qiana gowns featuring accordin pleated skirts and matching lace trimmed jackets. Bouquets were of white baby carnations and mums with blue babies breath. James Gross of Summit served as best man. Ushering were Andrew Handel of Alexandria, Va., John Carr of Summit and Louis Schlueter of Bayville.

Mrs. Rossi chose a cranberry qiana gown and wore a wristlet of baby red roses and babies breath. The groom's mother, in a green chiffon gown, had a corsage of baby white roses and babies breath. Mrs. Sullivan, an alumna of Montclair State College, is an accountant in the Financial Standards and Procedures Dept., Hoffmann-LaRoche, Nutley. Mr. Sullivan, a graduate of Fairleigh Dickinson University, Madison, earned a master's degree at New York University and is a senior accountant with Deloitte, Haskins & Sells, Morristown. The couple honeymooned in St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, and have made their home in New Providence.

Welcome Gift — Marge Giancespro of Glen Ridge, president of the Clara Maass Medical Center Guild, presents easy-listening records to nursing students Pamela Grant, Katherine Shoemaker and Michelle Geller. The Guild entertains students at an annual Christmas tea and presents them with records, the traditional gift. Through its many activities, volunteer Guild members raise funds for the School as well as for other hospital needs.

Mrs. Mary Addeo celebrates milestone birthday at parties

Mrs. Mary Addeo of Belleville celebrated her 75th birthday several ways the beginning of December. A birthday party on Dec. 4, hosted by her four children, was given at her son's Denville home. Attending were relatives and friends including her nine grandchildren and her great granddaughter, Marie Renee, who was born on Thanksgiving Day.

Pamphlet on salt is now available at local ShopRites

Salt is such a popular food additive that it is second only to sugar in the amount added to our food each year.

Estimates place sodium consumption by adults at 2,300 to 6,900 mg. per day. The National Research Council indicates that a "safe and adequate" sodium intake per day is about 1,100 to 3,300 mg. for an adult.

The newest ShopRite Supermarket pamphlet, "Salt and Your Diet", deals with the amount of sodium in various foods, its influence on our health and diet and also includes some low-sodium recipes to try and enjoy.

Copies of "Salt and Your Diet" are available at all ShopRite Supermarkets or can be obtained by sending a self-addressed, business size envelope to "Salt and Your Diet", Consumer Affairs Dept., ShopRite Supermarkets, 600 York

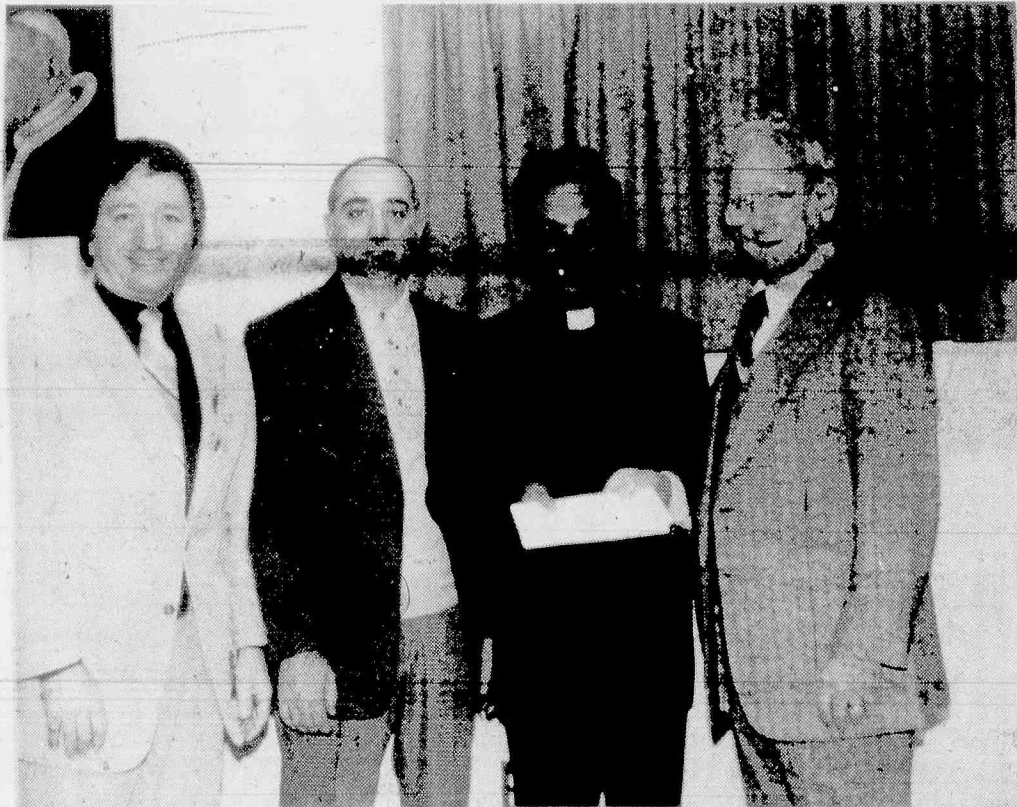

Her cousins' club took her to dinner at the Bethwood in Totowa Dec. 5 and on her birthday, Dec. 6, she celebrated at the senior citizens' Christmas party at Beppy's.

Cardiac rehabilitation program started at Clara Maass Hospital

Recovery from a heart attack is something that the typically active person knows little about. Suddenly, his lifestyle becomes restricted, leaving him with serious questions about when he will be able to function "normally" again.

With this idea in mind, a group of student nurses at Clara Maass Medical Center devised a cardiac rehabilitation program which would aid the cardiac patient in the hospital and after discharge to return to optimal functioning.

The project, which was completed for the advanced nursing course at the Belleville hospital's School of Nursing, may well become implemented at the 575-bed facility.

Need To Know

"Through their work in the clinical setting, students discovered that patients who had suffered from a heart attack really had a need to know about rehabilitation," Pat D'Ambrosio, R.N., CCRN, advanced nursing instructor at the school said.

Students found, after beginning their research, that rehabilitation programs for heart patients were not uncommon. After discussing their plan with heart specialists, nurses and instructors, they designed a teaching program to "help a patient understand his illness and how it relates to his current lifestyle as well as his future lifestyle."

At the hospital, the program would require the cooperation of the physicians, nurses, physical therapists, recreation therapists and the dietary department. Physicians would enter the patient into the program while staff nurses would comprise the cardiac team, evaluating the patient and completing progress reports as the patient improves.

A physical therapist would meet with the patient on a daily basis and conduct appropriate exercise based on the patient's condition. Recreation therapists would provide crafts and recreation projects in an effort to keep a patient in good spirits. The dietician would introduce the patient to his "new" diet, explaining to him the reason for a change and encouraging him to stay with it on the road to his recovery.

Encouragement Needed

"Encouragement plays a large role in assisting a patient to gain independence and control of his emotional and physical environment," Maureen Hester, student nurse said.

For the "at home" patient, students compiled a drug booklet to aid the patient and to teach the differences between medication, the purposes and effects. This included a guideline for safe drug use. An exercise guideline is also a necessity for the cardiac patient as he is rehabilitated.

New Nursing Program — Nursing students Maureen Hester and Linda Orme of the Clara Maass Medical Center School of Nursing use visual aids to help explain their proposed cardiac rehabilitation program. The program was devised for an advanced nursing class.

Pharmacy Footnotes

When a pharmaceutical company develops a new drug, it is usually patented and given a brand or trade name. The company then is given exclusive rights to the drug for seventeen years. After this period of exclusivity has expired, other drug companies are allowed to manufacture the drug under other brand names or under the drug's generic or common name. In most cases, the cost of the generic drug is lower than the branded item. In most states, with doctor approval, pharmacists are permitted to dispense a generic drug instead of the branded product. However, be aware that not all multi-source drugs are "therapeutically equivalent," meaning that they have the same effect on the body.

We stock a wide selection of drugs at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956 in order to have them available when you have a prescription that needs to be filled. Baby needs, cosmetics, toiletries, cameras and film and gift items are stocked. Free prescription delivery is provided. Hours: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm.

Although the idea of "New Year's Resolutions" has worn a little thin, there is nothing wrong with spending some time evaluating our performance in the year just ended and setting our sights for the next twelve months.

Experts tell us that if long-term objectives are going to be achieved, they must be converted to intermediate and short-term plans. What better time for goal-setting than the first week of the brand year?

Our efforts have to be organized into simplified steps which can be done each and every day. These steps, if performed regularly will bring the results we desire. So far, so good.

The problems arise when we begin to let time slip away without us taking the little steps we know must be done. Each day that passes makes it harder for us to meet our weekly objectives. Each week affects our monthly objective. Soon we find ourselves well into the year and far behind where we thought we would be.

If there is one Resolution each of us should make and keep, it is to "Plan our Work and Work our Plan". Here's to your successful 1983!!!

"NASHVILLE" comes to Bloomfield when Karen Ann, New Jersey's country western sweetheart and the Southern Reign band appear Friday at the Marquee Lounge at 6 Orange St., located four blocks from exit 148 of the Garden State Parkway. Left to right above are Andy Solymos, Fred Farina, Karen Ann, Perry Senn and Doug Senkowski.

Only on rare occasions do audiences get the opportunity to hear a relatively unknown artist whose vocal talents and abilities match those of the Nashville stars. Such a voice belongs to Karen Ann who fronts the band Southern Reign. Karen Ann, New Jersey's own country western sweetheart, has one of the most professional and enjoyable voices in today's country scene.

Easily comparable to Ann Murray, Crystal Gayle and Dolly Parton, it's been said, "There has never been a person who has heard Karen Ann sing that didn't like her voice."

Southern Reign makes a brand of country music which covers the spectrum of the country western sound from the soft ballads of Dolly Parton's "I Will Always Love You" and Patsy Cline's "Sweet Dreams" to the rock fire sound of Elvis Presley's "Promised Land" and Charlie Daniel's fiddle rousing "The South's Gonna Do It Again."

Joining Karen Ann is Andy Solymos, Southern Reign's rhythm guitar and lead male vocalist, whose rich baritone voice captures the sounds of Jim Reeves, Eddy Arnold and Elvis Presley. Together, they do such duet greats as Jim Reeves and Debra Allen's "Take Me In Your Arms" and the Everly Brothers' "So Sad To Watch Good Love Go Bad."

Doug Senkowski is Southern Reign's multi-virtuoso who plays lead guitar, fiddle, banjo and harmonica and lends vocal backup to the group.

Behind the guitars, the insistent beat from drummer Perry Senn and bassist Fred Farina adds fullness and strength to the even tempo of the rhythm section.

Karen Ann and Southern Reign are five talented entertainers who know the country sound, feel the country beat and have put together a blended country repertoire that will move your feet and surely leave you "countrified."

Karen Ann and Southern Reign will appear Fridays through January at the Marquee Lounge in Bloomfield. Call 429-1949 for details.

Big week of action for BHS athletics

It was a big week of action for the basketball program at Belleville High School. The girls' team, paced by the marvelous shooting of Jennifer Apicella, won the Essex County Holiday Tournament for the first time in three years, defeating Bloomfield in the finals.

For the boys, they advanced to the finals of the Nutley Holiday tourney, bowing to the hosts, 40-36. For the Buccaneers, Phil Colalillo led the way with a 25-point effort in the opening round win over Bloomfield and following that with an 11-point showing in the finals versus Nutley.

For their efforts in the tourney, and for that matter, their outstanding play for the month, Apicella and Colalillo are the Belleville High School athletes of the month for December.

Let's start with Apicella. Now a junior, she has rewritten every conceivable record in school history. Entering this week's action, she has tallied 1,386 points for her career, and for this season, is averaging 37.5 ppg. For her career, Jennifer is averaging an incredible 28.8 ppg and has missed just one game in her varsity showing.

Apicella made the scene quickly. As a freshman in 1980-81, she started the opener of the varsity season against Verona and tallied 28 points in leading the Buccaneers to a 58-39 victory. Her season was riding along quite nicely until a sprained ankle in the Essex County Holiday Tournament against Bloomfield forced her to miss the finals against Livingston High School. It was the only game she was to miss.

Apicella finished her freshman campaign strong, scoring 457 points and earning second team all-county and first-team all-area.

Her sophomore campaign was phenomenal. Avoiding the nagging ankle injury, Jennifer tallied 779 points, broke the 1,000-point mark in the second Nutley game and helped her team to a 17-6 mark and a semi-final appearance in the state sectionals.

At season's end, she was named first team all-area, all-county and second team all-state. She led the state in scoring with a 33.8 ppg average and is being looked upon to break the state scoring mark of 2,745 points. With two seasons ahead of her, the chances looked awfully good.

This year, she has taken off with a flourish. Starting with a 36-point effort in the season opener with Passaic Valley, Apicella has been on a tear, scoring 41 versus Passaic, 32 against Newark Westside and finishing with a 41-point effort in the championship game of the holiday tournament. For the second straight season, Apicella was named MVP of the tourney.

With nearly 1,400 points and a handful of memorable games, it's not easy to pinpoint Apicella's best performance. Perhaps, in my opinion, that top performance came in her freshman season. Versus Morristown in the second round of the state tournament, Apicella scored 35 points and did everything but run the scoreboard. It was indeed a tremendous effort, in my opinion, her best ever and that's saying something very special about this very talented athlete.

For Phil Colalillo, success has come with hard work and dedication. Also a junior, Colalillo started for Joe Papisidero mid-way through his freshman campaign and hasn't let up since. Last year, as a sophomore, he averaged close to 20 points an outing and entered this season with a total of 497 points for his career. Colalillo has a chance to become the first Belleville player in school history to break the 1,000-point mark in his junior year. Abdel Anderson and Wayne Bubet, the two most prolific scorers in school history, did not crack the mark until their senior seasons.

"He's a very dedicated player," says Joe Papisidero. "Anything I ask of Phil, he does. He is a hard worker, listens and wants to become a very good high school player. Phil has the tools to be a good player and if he stays at this level for the rest of his career, he will be a good player. However, I believe, and Phil does too, that he can be a great high school player."

Colalillo certainly has the tools. At 6-3, 215 pounds, he is the team's power forward and possesses a sharp shooting ability from 20 feet and closer. Already this year, Colalillo has tallied 150 points, averaging over 24 points an outing. In the season opener against Passaic Valley, the junior popped home 33 points. He's been on a hot streak since.

Phil Colalillo certainly has worked hard to achieve the plateau of excellence that he displays on the court now. With continued work and the same type of enthusiasm, this man can very well set every scoring record in school history. For both Jennifer Apicella and Colalillo, the sky's the limit. Both athletes certainly are something special.

Thumbs down to the coaching staff of Newark Westside and Bloomfield High School for their sub par behavior in the Essex County girls' Holiday Tournament. Their attitude towards Belleville coach Karen Fuccello left an awful lot to be desired. While Fuccello has the team to win a lot of games this year, she certainly does not go out to blow a team off the court or to embarrass them. Furthermore, the name of the game is winning and if you put your team out on the court, you should give 100 percent at all times. This idea of letting up at the end of a game should not apply. The athletes should give it their best at all times. If the other coaches don't like it, then they should find another profession. Another thing to remember. When Fuccello's team lost in the finals the last two years, she was the first to applaud the winning team, (remember Bloomfield won the tourney last year), not to criticize the opposing coach for leaving his best players in.

Here is be the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, who played in the 1972 Super Bowl and how did those two teams do in the playoffs. The answer: Dallas and Miami played with the Cowboys winning, 24-3. Dallas beat San Francisco and Minnesota while Miami stopped Kansas City and Baltimore.

For this week's quiz, name the participants in the 1978 Orange Bowl and the final score.

Finally, the Belleville High School athlete of the week is Joey Borrello for his outstanding play in helping the boys' basketball team off to a good start.

Girl hoopster beat Bengals; capture holiday tournament

By Mike Lambert

After two seasons of frustration, the Belleville girls' basketball team brought home all the apples with a resounding 61-40 victory over Bloomfield to win the Essex County Holiday Tournament championship.

The girls hosted Clifton on Tuesday and will battle Montclair this afternoon at home. Tomorrow, Kearny will be visiting BHS for an 8 p.m. tip off.

The victory over Bloomfield last week boosted the team record to 4-0 and gave the girls their first holiday championship since the 1979 season. The win also avenged a 64-48 loss to the Lady Bengals in last year's final.

"We played a sharp game," said head coach Karen Fuccello. "It was nice to win this tournament after losing in the finals the last two years."

The key to victory was the outstanding play of junior Jennifer Apicella. The sharpshooter tallied 41 points on the night and was named the outstanding player of the tourney for the second straight year. Apicella has now scored 1,386 points entering this week's action and for the season is averaging 37.5 points.

Marlene Talmadge, the senior captain, hit for eight points on the night, Theresa Critchley tallied four as did Dina De Aquino. Donna Brooks had three and Loreli Wells finished the scoring with one point.

After trailing 9-6 after one quarter, Belleville rallied for a 26-17 halftime lead. The third quarter was relatively even with Belleville outscoring its opponent, 13-11. The final frame was all Bucs as Apicella and Company poured it on for the 21-point victory.

Grapplers place 5th in tourney

By Dino Ibelli

Once again the Belleville wrestling squad had a hard time in the annual Bloomfield Holiday Tournament, as the Bucs placed a fifth in the tournament, which consisted of Passaic Valley, Clifton, West Essex, Bloomfield, Nutley, Kearny and Caldwell.

Each team is a perennial power and a couple state ranked.

The Bucs sent three wrestlers to the finals. Dom Cerreto beat Ray Johnson of Nutley 7-3 in the finals at 100 pounds. Cerreto had a tough match in the semi-finals losing by a point with about 10 seconds left. Cerreto reversed his opponent to beat him. He is now 6-1 in the early season.

Anthony Stefanelli ended up taking a second in the tournament. "Stef" got pinned in the finals but has really come around to prove that he is back to his sophomore form. Anthony went 128 in the tournament. Now at 5-2, Anthony has not been complaining about a knee injury he sustained last season.

(Please see 'Grapplers' on page 12.)

In order for Belleville to make the finals, they had to defeat Newark West Side in round one. Once again, Apicella led the way, tallying 32 points and pulling down 19 rebounds to lead the Bucs to a 57-43 win. Donna Brooks played a very effective game, hitting for eight points, Talmadge scored five, Kathy Woods and De Aquino scored four points. Loreli Wells tallied two points and Critchley closed out the locals' scoring with a field goal.

After leading by two points after one frame, Belleville outscored West Side, 19-8 to take a 27-14 halftime lead. That was all Belleville needed as the lead held up in the second half thanks to the steady shooting of Apicella and the timely rebounding of Brooks.

"They (Apicella and Brooks) seem to play well against the running teams," Fuccello said. "They both played very effective and did a good job of neutralizing them. West Side was a much bigger team than we, but we made up for that by shooting well and positioning well."

So, after losing the tournament the last two seasons to Livingston and then Bloomfield, Belleville returns the trophy to the proud halls of BHS. The season now focuses on the NNJIL and the girls' quest to win the conference. The first key test will come in two weeks when powerful Paterson Eastside visits BHS. The two teams will later meet in Paterson.

"Our biggest tests will be Eastside and Paramus Catholic," said Fuccello. "Paramus Catholic is ranked number one in the state and supposedly have their best team ever, so that will be a big challenge. Eastside should be big because they are a conference rival. Both games will give us a good indication of how good we are."

Disappointing Tournament — The Belleville wrestling team had its problems during last week's tournament in Bloomfield. The boys have not been very successful in recent years at the Christmas Tournament and this year finished fifth.

Hoopsters stun Bloomfield but fall to Nutley, 40-36

By Mike Lambert

When the season started back in late November, head basketball coach Joe Papisidero promised that this year's team would be different. There was a total business approach toward the practice sessions and the Buccaneers took the attitude that they were going to win the close ball games and make a strong impact on the NNJIL conference.

That philosophy has apparently paid early dividends. Last week, in the first round of the Nutley Holiday Tournament, Belleville won its biggest game in over seven years by defeating defending conference champion Bloomfield, 53-52 to advance to the finals.

This week, the Bucs (3-3) traveled to Clifton on Tuesday night and will be in Montclair this afternoon for a 3:45 p.m. start. Next Tuesday, the Bucs travel to Nutley for another conference game.

Following the big win over Bloomfield, the Bucs battled their arch rivals, Nutley, in the championship game and came up just short, 40-36. The Bucs then took out their vented frustrations on St. Cecilia's of Kearny last Monday, winning by the astounding count of 76-32. If you were at that game, you know the game was not as close as the final score might indicate.

Getting back to the Bloomfield game, this was a contest for the entire program to remember for years to come. The Bengals came into the game undefeated and favored to win the holiday tournament. For Belleville, there was a 1-2 record and the horrifying memory of last year in the holiday tournament. The Bucs were beaten by Nutley and Clifton last season to finish dead last.

This time around, it was sweet revenge for the Bucs as they rallied from a 16-9 first quarter deficit to win a one-point thriller. Phil Colalillo led all scorers with 25 points. John Healy tallied 10, Joe Borrello had five, Ray Kimble scored four, John Borrello, Dave Boyd and Dave Grant all closed out the scoring with three points apiece.

"This was a great win for us," an elated Papisidero said following the game. "Our guys did a great job, rallying back against such a good team. We're really psyched for the finals, we really want to win this tournament."

The following evening, Belleville and Nutley battled for the championship before a packed house. The Raiders jumped out to a nine-point lead in the first quarter and then held their breath as Belleville, behind the key jump shooting of John Borrello, chipped away at the lead.

"We fell behind quickly in the first quarter," Papisidero explained. "Perhaps we looked past Nutley. I guess after the win over Bloomfield, our guys felt they had a good shot at the entire tournament. I don't think we played as well as we could have."

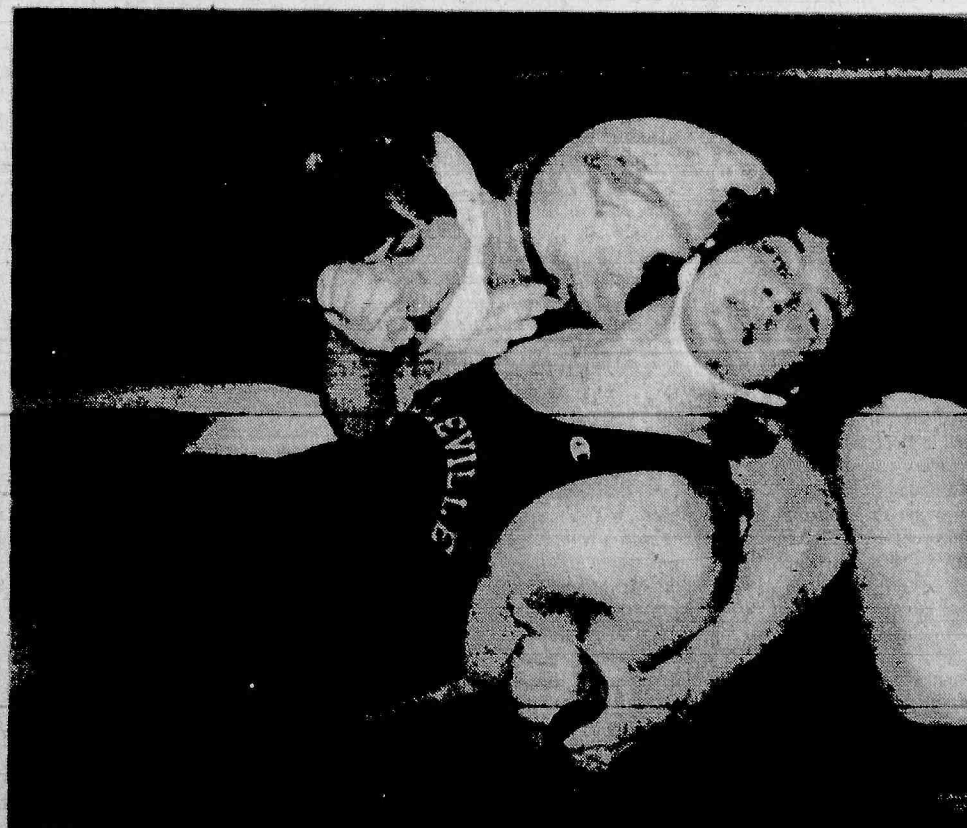

Poor St. Cecilia of Kearny ran into the Buccaneer express last Monday and were blown away by the final score of 76-32. Colalillo led the way with 26 points, while John Healy Bad Spot — The Belleville wrestling team had its share of trouble at the Bloomfield Holiday Tournament last week as the boys finished fifth in the eight-team competition.

Heard at ringside

By Steve H. Frank

Daryl Penn of Portland, Oregon, scored an upset fifth-round disqualification win over highly-favored Philadelphia's Tony Suero in a scheduled 10-round middleweight bout, Tuesday, at Atlantic City's Tropicana. Suero had the edge after the first two rounds. Penn took the play away from Suero in the third and fourth, rocking Suero with hard rights near the end of each round. To start the fifth, Suero clinched and deliberately backflipped Penn to the canvas. Penn got up limping and apparently could not continue. Referee Vinnie Rainone had to stop the fight at 55 seconds into the fifth round. Penn's chart is now 23-18-1. Suero dropped to 15-5-2.

As of Jan. 1, the referee is no longer one of the official scorers for all future professional boxing matches in the state of New Jersey as mandated by state athletic deputy commissioner Robert (Bob) Lee. Three judges will be the only officials having the power to score a bout.

Matchmaker Harold Weston announced, "The boxing show scheduled at the big arena in Madison Square Garden on Jan. 10 must be cancelled." One of the fighters, undefeated middleweight Mike De La Rue of Kew Gardens, N.Y. was on receiving end of a few solid blows on his nose before knocking his opponent (Felix Pinter) out in the first round. The injured nose did not respond to medication. Surgery will be necessary. De La Rue was to have thrown leather with another undefeated middleweight Jose Baret of New York City.

Youngsters, 16 and older, who are interested in training for the 1983 New Jersey Golden Gloves tournament are welcome to train at Lou Costello's Sportsmen Gymnasium, corner of Pacific and Gould Avenues, Paterson, N.J. Boxers can train under director Al Moore, head trainer Bernie Taylor and trainer Oscar Suarez. Following the Golden Gloves the tournament of the Diamond Gloves will get under way at the Dover Armory.

Junior welterweight Caesar Cuzman, native of Puerto Rico, now of Paterson, will travel to Montreal, Canada, to tangle with Donnie Poole of Toronto, Canada. Poole is a power-puncher who won the first six of eight fights by a knockout in the first round. Cuzman will need all his boxing savvy to defeat the Canadian.

Heavyweight Ernie Shavers, native of Warren, Ohio, was sentenced to two years probation by United States District Court Judge Ann Aldrich for federal income tax violations. The judge warned Shavers he must straighten out his tax returns for the years 1977 and 1978, for which he was indicted in August, 1982. He had falsified his tax return report for those years. Wednesday's court action was the latest in a string of legal and financial blows dealt the former title contender. 1981, he was arrested for passing a $9,000 worthless check. April, 1981, a Warren, Ohio, bank filed a foreclosure action because of nonpayment of $338,000. Earlier in December Shavers was hit with a $62,000 judgement by a Common Pleas judge in connection with a 1979 real estate transaction. "And you think you have trouble."

50-year-old Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Michigan, is back in the fight game. He recently won an eight-round decision over lightweight Bobby Pledge of Portsmouth, Ohio. Lane had hung up the mitts, October 25, 1965, after being in the slam-bang business since April 9, 1953. He had a diary in 94 bouts, 78 won, 15 lost and fought two draws. Lane tried for the lightweight crown on two occasions: July 23, 1958, he lost a 15-round decision to Joe Brown and April 11, 1964, lost to Carlos Ortiz by a 15-round decision. Lane also he had a go at the junior lightweight title when he lost to Carlos Ortiz by a second round, KO, June 12, 1959.

We are pleased to inform that Antoinette Nardiello, the energetic wife of former outstanding lightweight Anthony (Ernie Ratner), is home from the hospital, recuperating from a knee operation.

Undefeated Charlie "White Lightning" Brown, sensational lightweight out of North Haledon, has been battling a cold and resting for a busy schedule of fights in the near future. The good looking, sometime referred to as the "Fighting Matinee Idol," Brown will travel to Davenport, Iowa, for an eight-rounder on Jan. 8; In Memphis, Tenn. on Jan. 18 for an eight-rounder; Back to New York for a 10-rounder at the Felt Forum and Chicago promoter Ernie Terrell is working on a deal to have the youngster fight in Chicago. Brown in a native of Silvis, Illinois.

Boxing columnist Sailor Don Sauer of Kingston, Mass., informs that the Marvin Hagler-Tony Sibson fight for Hagler's world middleweight title, is a complete sellout. The new Centrum Arena, capacity 13,217, in Worcester, Mass., is considered the best, not a post, all good seats, in the East. Hagler, a native of Newark, is now fighting out of Brockton, Mass. Sibson is from England. Veteran trainer Johnny Dunn will do the tapering off training of the Englishman at Jimmy Connelly's gym in South Boston.

Three 10-rounders will be featured at New York's Felt Forum, the next fight card, Friday, Jan. 14. Middleweight Mark Medal of Jersey City will clash with Chris Linson of Santa Fe, N.M.; Welterweight Pedro Vilella of the Bronx, N.Y. takes on Richard Gregory. In the third feature fight it is expected to be a "war" with heavyweight Eddie Gregg of Brooklyn, N.Y. tossing bombs with Barry Funch of New York City or Harold Rice of Somers, Conn.

WBC featherweight champion Juan La Porte of New York, will defend his crown against top-ranked challenger Ruben Castillo of Bakersfield, Calif. on Feb. 20, promoter Don King announced Tuesday. The fight will be a 12-rounder, WBC's limit on all title bouts as of Jan. 1.

WBA junior middleweight champion Davey Moore of New York, will defend his title against highly-competent challenger Gary Guiden of Muncie, Ind., at Atlantic City, Wednesday, Jan. 22. In the semi-windup heavyweight Pinklon Thomas of Philadelphia and Gerrie Coetzee, native of South Africa, now fighting out of Pleasantville, N.J. will throw punches at each other. ESPN will broadcast.

Met up with Leonard Liotta who fought under the moniker of Tony De Marco out of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Johann (De Marco) Liotta. Was informed they are back in Boston and expect to remain. Tony had been operating a tavern-restaurant in Phoenix, Arizona, for about 10 years. At the end of his fighting days he had hung up a record in 71 bouts, winning 58, losing 12 and fighting one draw. He was world welterweight champion for two months and two days, from April 1, 1955 when he KO'd Johnny Saxton of New York in 14th round. Tony had the crown knocked off by Carmen Basillio of Canastota, N.Y., via a KO in 12th round. At age 50 he is still 145 pounds — his fighting weight.

There actually was no split between lightweight Howard Davis, Jr. and manager Ed Gersh. The disagreement was between Gersh and Davis, Sr., father/manager. Gersh tried to tell junior how to fight Claude Noel at Miami, Fla. Nov. 12. Davis, Sr., objected and senior told Gersh to buzz-off. Everything has been ironed out and everybody is happy — on the surface. Davis, Jr., is scheduled to fight Tony Baltazar on Feb. 12. Still unnamed.

NFL REPORT

Giants and Jets close out their seasons as the playoffs get underway Saturday

The New York Jets took a major step backward last week, losing to the Kansas City Chiefs, 37-13 in the season's finale. The loss dropped the Jets final record to 6-3 and begins the team's second season next week in Cincinnati for round one of the playoffs.

Meanwhile, the New York Giants closed out their season on a positive note, beating Philly, 26-24, and finishing the season at 4-5. Ray Perkins will now take over the reigns at the University of Alabama and Bill Parcells will assume the role of head coach at Giants Stadium.

For the Jets, last weekend's game with Kaycee was a disaster, not only on the scoreboard, but on the training table. The Jets lost three starters to injuries, and are looking very weak for next week's game in Cincinnati.

The matchups in the AFC will be the Jets at Cincy, Pittsburgh hosting San Diego, the LA Raiders at home to Cleveland and Miami to host New England.

Over in the NFC, the pairings were not set at press time, but look for Washington, Dallas, Green Bay and Atlanta to emerge victorious after the first round this weekend.

For a closer look at the AFC pairings:

JETS AT CINCINNATI: While the Jets are hurting — Lyons, Rudolph and Klecko are all out — the Bengals aren't as good as everyone thinks. The key for the Jets lies in the secondary. If Collinsworth, Curtis and Ross can be neutralized, and if the Jets pass rush can give Anderson trouble, there is a good chance of victory. Too many people may count New York out here. Jets 28-24.

SAN DIEGO AT PITTSBURGH: This one should be a dandy. First of all, Pittsburgh has not beaten San Diego since 1977. The Chargers have that explosive offense, but how well can they do in the frigid confines of Three Rivers Stadium. The Steelers return to the playoffs for the first time since the Super Bowl season in 1979-80 and many of the boys realize this could be their last big chance. Pitt 27-14.

NEW ENGLAND AT MIAMI: Show no mercy. The Dolphins will show no signs of letup here, not after that 3-0 snowplow loss in Foxboro three weeks ago. The Dolphins are a class team, with big things in mind. The Pats are simply an average team, showing signs of improvement, but in no way will they win here. Miami 35-10.

CLEVELAND AT LA RAIDERS: The Browns enter this game with a sub .500 record (4-5). The Raiders come in at 8-1, flying high after the 41-34 win over San Diego last week. We've said it all year long, the Raiders are a facsimile of their 1980 Super Bowl team. Plunkett is back in high gear, King is running with reckless abandon and to make matters worse for Cleveland, there's Marcus Allen to contend with now. The Browns have some good personnel, but the only way for them to win here is a total breakdown of the Raider offense. These two met in the 1980 playoffs in frigid Cleveland and the Raiders came away a 14-12 winner. It should be easier here. LA, 31-14.

We're still sticking with our original prediction for the Super Bowl. When the smoke clears, the participants in the 1983 Super Bowl at Pasadena's Rose Bowl will be the LA Raiders and Dallas Cowboys.

Hoopsters beat Bengals but lose to Raiders tallied 10 and John Borrello eight. For Healy and Borrello, all their points came in the first quarter as the Buccaneers opened up a 28-4 first quarter lead.

The Bucs breezed through the second quarter and held a commanding 54-8 lead at half. The second half was merely a jayvee tuneup as the Buccaneers coasted to victory.

BUC NOTES: Colalillo also collected 11 rebounds, seven assists, eight steals and three blocked shots in the St. Cecilia game. The win over Bloomfield was especially sweet because the Bucs lost a summer league game to the Bengals in the league semi-finals by one point. Colalillo is averaging 24 points an outing. Dave Boyd had four points and eight rebounds in the St. Cecilia game.

Grapplers finish fifth in holiday tournament

The third finalist was senior Al Henry who took a second in the tournament to Clifton's Rob Monaco. Al got pinned but the tournament was not a loss for him. He pinned his opponent in the first round and gained a little revenge against his semi-final opponent, Al has never beaten O'Rourke from Caldwell. He came out and pinned him in 31 seconds.

"Weight problems and injuries could have darkened the outcome of the team standing," admitted Coach D'Alessandro.

At 114 freshman Mike Iacona wrestled and inexperience was shown but his weight class was challenging.

No one wrestled heavyweight for the Bucs due to an injury to sophomore Anthony Cappaccio. Anthony should be back this week.

This upcoming week the Bucs have their first conference match since the Big Ten. On Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. the Bucs face Passaic Valley led by Dan Eliezer. On Friday the Bucs invade Indian country at Passaic at 5:30 p.m.

BUC NOTES: The jayvee team beat Paramus Catholic. The whole team pinned. The wrestler of the week December 26-January 2 goes once again to Dom Cerreto with his first place trophy in the Holiday Tournament.

Recreation department starts health program

The Belleville Recreation Department in cooperation with Hoffmann-La Roche Inc., the New Jersey Nets and Montclair State College, will be conducting a community-based Health-Sports Program targeted to youths 13 to 15 years of age.

The program is slated to begin with an instructional basketball clinic on Jan. 10, at 4 p.m. at the Friendly House on Frederick Street in Belleville. Present at this clinic will be a member of the New Jersey Nets basketball team, whom will be named later. The pre-clinic as it is called, will be open to any youths in this age group who would like to attend. The Nets' player will demonstrate techniques and the youths will have an opportunity to participate.

Following the opening day clinic, which should last approximately one-and-a-half hours, will be an eight-week program for the 13-15-year-old group. This activity will be open for both boys and girls, and will meet one night a week from 6-8 p.m. at the Friendly House. Tentatively, it will be on Wednesday or Thursday evening during this time period, beginning in mid-January.

The focus of the program is the maintenance and development of good health habits through regular exercise, good nutrition and the development of lifestyle disciplines including good study habits.

The first part of each session will consist of discussions of a health topic led by a health education student intern. This will be followed by a basketball practice and skills session led by a physical education student intern. From time to time, the students will be joined and their presentations augmented by representatives of the Nets' staff.

At the clinic on Jan. 10, the Health-Sports Program will be explained and the children will be invited to join the program which will begin the following week. The program will be limited to 25 boys and girls, each of whom will be provided with a notebook and instruction sheets, a T-shirt, one ticket to the March 11 Nets-Celtics basketball game at the Meadowlands Arena, and one trip to a Nets' practice session.

COUPON Something Special Happens When You Buy Eight Delicious Pieces Of Roy Rogers Chicken

You Get 2 FREE FRIES

Sure, Roy Rogers fried chicken is mighty good eating all by itself. Because our fried chicken is made from meaty, tender pieces of chicken dipped in our own fresh-egg batter and special seasonings, then fried to a crispy, golden brown. But our chicken tastes extra delicious with crisp french fries.

That's why, with this coupon, Roy Rogers will give you TWO FREE REGULAR FRIES when you buy eight pieces of fried chicken. Just bring in this coupon and you'll SAVE $1.18

 Roy Rogers

Offer good through 1/14/83 and will be honored only at Roy Rogers, 147 Blvd. Ave. Not good in combination with any other offer. Customer must pay applicable sales tax. Cash value 1/50¢.

Morbus Sabbaticus

By Rev. Robert Paul

This strange word, Morbus Sabbaticus, is a very common disease peculiar to church members. You may better understand this disease if we would call it Sunday Sickness.

The symptoms vary, but it never interferes with one's appetite. It never lasts more than two hours. No physician is ever called. It always proves fatal in the end — to the soul. It is becoming fearfully prevalent, and is destroying thousands every year.

The attack comes on suddenly every Sunday. No symptoms are felt on Saturday night. The patient sleeps, and wakes feeling well. He or she eats a hearty breakfast, but about church time the attack comes and continues until services are over around noon. Then the patient feels easy again, and eats a hearty dinner. He or she is able to take a walk and read the Sunday papers. Of course he or she is hungry again, so eats a snack for supper.

However, about church time there is another attack of Morbus Sabbaticus, and so they stay away from the evening service. The evening is usually spent recuperating by the television.

Monday morning the patient awakens refreshed and able to go to work. The patient does not have any more symptoms of the disease until the following Sunday morning about church time.

Morbus Sabbaticus is the diagnosis. The remedy? Well, Dr. Jesus has given us the "Gos-pill."

Seriously, why don't you open up, and be honest with God and with yourself. The Bible says, "Let us not forsake the assembling of ourselves together (in church), as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another; and so much the more, as you see the day approaching" (Hebrews 10:25). "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord" (Psalm 122:1). The church is a recruiting station from which men should go to fight the battles for the Lord; not a hospital in which to live idly upon God's pension. Don't stay away from church because there are too many hypocrites; there's always room for one more. "Be thou an example of the believer —"

Start 1983 right by taking your family to church every Sunday. You will be the better because of it.

Pucillo files law suit over garbage contract

complained the bid advertisement requested proposals "at 8 p.m. on Dec. 14," but BFI submitted its at 6:30 p.m., thus violating the bid terms.

"In that case, Pucillo was equally in error," the attorney continued. "They gave their bid at 8:07 p.m." He conceded the usual wording for such ads requested bids "on or before" a specified time. "It just happened this one was worded differently," added the attorney.

Apparently seeking to retain its lucrative Belleville contract, Chester Pucillo suggested to the court his firm continue to collect Belleville's garbage until the matter is resolved and agreed to be reimbursed on a per diem basis according to the rate of the lower bid contract, namely BFI's.

However, the judge ruled to allow the new scavenger contracted rights until a decision is rendered in the suit, leaving Pucillo with only one other municipal contract in Fair Lawn.

According to court papers, Cozzarelli said the complaints focused only on legal technicalities, not on quality of service by BFI, a possible issue since the firm won its contract by a divided vote.

Commissioners Vincent Strumolo and Mary Senatore opposed the resolution in favor of issuing BFI a one-year probationary contract. Both officials claimed mixed evaluations of BFI's service obtained from other municipalities contracted with them prompted caution and they wanted time to see if negative reports were valid.

"That does not appear to figure in this suit," said Cozzarelli. When asked about the private citizen's complaint, the attorney explained "any taxpayer has the right to challenge means by which public contracts are awarded."

According to court papers, Arthur Angelo resides at 16 Cuzzo St. but is a taxpayer at 14 Belmont Ave. the address of The Stoned Crab, a local seafood restaurant.

Efforts to reach him there on Monday for comment were unsuccessful.

Volunteer Award — Ida Meyers, (l) and Richard Lukowiak of Belleville were recipients of the first volunteer award given by the Essex County Geriatrics Center for dedicated service at the Belleville facility.

Special Education group holds annual Xmas party

The Special Education Parent and Professional Organization (S.E.P.P.O.) Christmas Party was held on Dec. 11 at Belleville Senior High School. The annual event was headed by Mrs. Bernadette Naso, president of SEPO and John Bruno, president of the Kiwanis Club.

The Belleville High School Key Club under the supervision of George Zanfini helped out along with many other members of the community. This year the students, their siblings and parents enjoyed feasting on a pizza luncheon. They were entertained by Shriner clowns and singing Christmas carols led by Dr. Anthony Chirico. They were also mystified by a fine magician, Randy St. James.

The highlight of the afternoon, as always, was the arrival of Santa and the distribution of gifts. A good time was had by all and SEPO is now beginning to draw up plans for its next big event — The Special Olympics.

teachers to revise curriculum at all levels in the system.

Under the recommendation of Mrs. Paula Cummis, reading supervisor for grades kindergarten through eight, the board has announced the adoption of a new reading series.

According to Mrs. Cummis, the 1981 addition of the Ginn Reading Series will be introduced to grades kindergarten through third this fall.

Mrs. Cummis says the Ginn series has a more direct instruction in developing the process of specific reading skills and will also allow children to grasp the phonics easier because in its presentation it separates similar vowel sounds so as not to confuse the child while he or she is learning.

"I don't think materials produce a better performance in children, however, teachers with better materials can produce better performances," Mrs. Cummis said.

First baby is welcome year, but those plans were cancelled when Kathleen started experiencing labor pains about 5 p.m.

"There will be plenty of New Year's to celebrate," said Kathleen. She did not seem even slightly disappointed that she missed ringing in 1983.

By being the first Belleville baby of 1983, Megan and her parents were awarded with a series of gifts by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

This marks the 17th annual first baby contest held by the chamber. Merchants taking part in the contest were: Vac-U-Max, Sherman's Children's Wear, BJ Variety, K-Mart, Jovial Card and Gift Shop, Belleville Shoes, Total-Tel-USA, First DeWitt Savings, Flowerama, Tarantino's and Charles Jewelers.

For Nicholas and Kathleen, Megan is their first child. The couple reside at 155 Branch Brook Drive and have been married since 1973.

Kathleen is a sales representative for Ayerst Laboratories and Kathleen has served as a school teacher at the Kearny Day Care Center.

You don't know me ...yet.

But you will. See, I've been assigned to help you learn how to protect yourself against crime. I'll be giving you tips on how to discourage burglars, disappoint muggers, and generally make life a little harder for criminals.

Like, for instance, did you know if a burglar can't break into your place after four minutes, chances are, he'll quit? So locking your door could ruin a crook's night.

Another example. Don't carry a purse when you don't need one. It makes a lot of sense; if you don't have your purse, it can't be snatched.

You'll be seeing a lot of me, but in the meantime, find out more. Write to: Crime Prevention Coalition, Box 6600, Rockville, Maryland 20850.

Find out what you and your neighbors can do to prevent crime. That's one way to help.
