Local security firm helps protect kids

By Linda Telesco

What would you do if your child failed to come home today. Vanished, without a trace. The possible victim of an accident or kidnapping.

Astonishingly, most people could more easily trace lost articles through serial and registration numbers, yet little protection is available for any family's most precious possession.

That concern motivated a Belleville security firm, to implement a program issuing protective identification cards for children.

"We see this as a real act of community service," said Bernard Ricketson, president of The Research & Development Security Agency, a licensed detective firm recently located at 308 Washington Ave.

Discussing the growing problem of missing children during a recent interview in the agency's offices, Ricketson criticized a recent Times headline indicating that with only 30 cases reported last year, "runaways (are) not a serious problem (in Belleville)."

"How do you determine what constitutes a serious problem? Even a single case is traumatic for the family involved," he said.

The detective cited a recent New York Daily News report that school officials in Union County plan to fingerprint, with parental approval, 44,000 elementary schoolchildren as protection.

Following that lead, Middlesex County recently announced similar plans to print 111,000 schoolchildren.

"We're providing a more complete service than those," Ricketson said, adding, "We'll provide parents with a confidential identification card for each child bearing the child's fingerprints, blood type, photograph, and other pertinent information. A fee of $5.50 is charged for each card.

Issuing the cards was the brainchild of the agency's vice-president Jerry DiNicola, a Belleville resident and activist citizen who has long been associated with Ricketson in the security services.

DiNicola urges parents to have their children printed because "kids are the least likely to have identifiable physical characteristics." A child's height, weight, bone structure, and even hair color and texture can alter in a matter of months because of rapid growth rate. Also, kids are not likely to bear scars, tattoos, or other distinguishing marks.

Moment of silence faces court hearing

Belleville students are no longer starting each school day with a moment of silence due to a court injunction blocking the state law until a hearing can be held to determine its constitutionality.

U.S. District Court Judge Dickinson Debevoise last week ordered that a hearing on the constitutionality of the state law requiring public schools start each day with a moment of silence be held Feb. 23 in Newark.

"Since a judge has made the order, Belleville has stopped its practice of conducting a minute of silence before each school day," said Dr. John Greed, superintendent of schools, in a telephone interview Monday. "I would like to restore it, but I have to obey the law."

The American Civil Liberties Union of New Jersey has brought suit saying the law violates the principle of the separation of church and state as contained in the First Amendment. The U.S. Supreme Court has never ruled on the constitutionality of a moment of silence, but did rule in 1962 that the recitation of prayers in school is unconstitutional. The New Jersey law does not mention prayer, but would allow students to pray, if they want.

The state passed a law requiring the all school students in New Jersey take part in a moment of silence at the start of each school day back in December. Gov. Thomas Kean, under the guidance of his legal counsel vetoed the bill, but it later passed both state houses.

Belleville has been conducting a moment of silence in its school system since 1977, after the School Board defeated a resolution calling for school prayer at the start of each school day.

Two residents declare candidacy for Board of Commission election

By Eddie Capparucci

The Belleville Commission race is underway.

Last week two popular residents announced their intentions of running for one of the five Town Father seats up for grab this year.

Michael Pizzi, who has taken part in various charity events throughout the community and Joseph Fornarotto, one of the most outspoken township critics, have both said they will be among the candidates during the May 10 election.

Both candidates ran in the last commission election held in 1979, as Pizzi finished sixth, collecting 2,713 votes, while Fornarotto placed seventh with 1,929 votes.

"The major problem residents are confronted with is services," said Fornarotto. "People in this town are not being treated fairly when it comes to services. If you know somebody, then you can get something done. If you do not know someone, then you have to fix it yourself."

Pizzi feels that there is a need for a change in the community government and that his experience and background will be an asset in the upcoming election.

"In order to effect that change, we must all work together," said Pizzi, "and get involved and look to the future of Belleville. Our commissioners should be more involved with the community and the people they serve."

Pizzi, 35, is a member of the Belleville Optimist Club and has served as the club's president. He is also a member of the Belleville Athletic Advisory Council, the Educational Vocational Council, the Varsity Club, Veterans Boxers Association and president of the St. Peter's School Sports Association.

The Michael P. Pizzi Civic Association has sponsored two charity softball games with the Jim Jensen all-stars and has taken part in raising funds for various charity groups throughout the community.

Calling It Quits — Trustee Thomas Zampino (r) announced this week that he will not seek re-election to the School Board (see story below). Sitting with Zampino at last Monday's board meeting is President John DiStasi (c) and Vice President Thomas Spillane.

School Board Likes The Idea

Middle School officials seek intramural sports program

By Ed Capparucci

Belleville school officials are attempting to rejuvenate an intramural sports program at the Middle School which was abandoned 10 years ago due to school budget cuts.

The program, which is the brainchild of Middle School Principal Mario DiMaggio and Alfred LoBalbo, physical education supervisor, calls for a sports program to be held three or four times a week, involving seventh and eighth graders.

"The philosophy of the Middle School is to build a well-rounded student," DiMaggio told School Board members when explaining the program, "and we believe that an intramural sports program will aid in that cause."

"The program will provide diverse competition activities and educational experiences for a maximum number of participants on all levels of skills," according to an outline written by DiMaggio and LoBalbo. "The program challenges the gifted and encourages and develops the potential. Emphasis is on participation, not winning."

Stressing that participation is the principle concern of the program, LoBalbo, told the board, "An intramural sports program concentrates on participation and not winning. The students enjoy the games and have fun. There is no peer pressure involved and no parent's egos to contend with. All the kids involved are out here to have a good time."

The program, which is budgeted at $2,600, will be divided into four

Zampino will not seek re-election to board

Trustee Thomas Zampino announced this week that he will not seek re-election to the Board of Education in April.

"I would like at this time to announce that I will not be a candidate for the Board of Education this year," Zampino told the crowd and his fellow board members during the board's weekly meeting held Monday night. "I am making this announcement now so that interested candidates will know that there is a vacancy available."

Zampino, who was elected to the board back in 1980, said his decision was one he gave much thought to.

"This is not a decision which I made overnight," he said. "I came to this decision long ago. I have two children, ages 4 and 8, and I need more time to spend with them."

"I am sure that my decision will make some people happy," he continued, "but I would like to thank the people who voted and supported me in the 1980 election. I know I have tried to do my best."

Board President John DiStasi later said that Zampino would be missed on the board.

"I am sorry to see that you have decided not to run once again," DiStasi said, "but we all wish you well in the future."

Looking back at his three years of service, Zampino pointed to the board's "changed image with the public" as something to which he was proud to be a part of.

"Over the course of three years the change of image and the gaining of respectability from the public is something which the board worked to improve," he said, "and I believe we have gained that. We are seven people working toward the goal of giving the residents of this community a productive school system. We have set a base for a foundation of credibility, but it is something which must still be worked on."

"I will honestly miss the people I have worked with over the years," he continued. "My colleagues have become my friends. We have all tried to work together and I believe we have done a successful job of it."

Zampino, a local attorney, placed first in the 1980 election, gathering 2,366 votes.

Fidelity Union directors announce quarterly dividend rate of 70 cents

Peter Cartmell, chairman of the board of Fidelity Union Bancorporation announced that the board of directors voted the regular quarterly dividend of 70 cents per share, payable Feb. 11, to shareholders of record Feb. 1. The annual cash dividend rate on the Bancorporation's common stock is $2.80 per share.

Cartmell also reported income from continuing operations before securities transactions of $12,596,000 for 1982 which compares with $24,877,000 for 1981. On a per share basis, earnings amounted to $3.33 in 1982 and $6.57 in 1981. The primary reasons for this 49.4 per cent decline were lower net interest income taxes.

Net interest income, on a fully taxable equivalent basis, amounted to $131.6 million in 1982 and $142.9 million in 1981. This decrease was largely the result of a narrowing of the net interest rate spread which was partially offset by a modest increase in the volume of interest earning assets. The spread declined principally because of an increase in the proportion of interest earning assets supported by interest bearing sources of funds.

Total other operating income increased 7.4 per cent during 1982 to $28.6 million from $26.6 million a year earlier. This improvement was attributable to an increase in trust income and higher service charges on deposit accounts.

Total other operating expenses, which include a contribution for two years to the employee savings plan, amounted to $118.1 million in 1982 compared with $114.6 million in 1981, a modest 3.1 per cent increase.

Applicable income taxes increased largely as a result of the Bancorporation's inability, in 1982, to recognize the maximum Federal tax benefit related to its operating results for the year. This was not the case in 1981 when the Federal tax benefit associated with that year's operations was recognized thereby lowering total income tax expense.

The provision for loan losses amounted to $6.7 million in 1982 compared with $5.9 million in 1981. This increase was primarily reflective of a significant growth in loan volume during the latter part of 1982. Net loan charge-offs were $4.7 million in 1982 and $6 million in 1981. The allowance for loan losses applicable to continuing operations totaled $19.9 million or 1.09 per cent of loans at Dec. 31, 1982 compared with an allowance of $17.9 million or 1.13 per cent of loans at year-end 1981.

A significant step was taken in late 1982 to correct the Bancorporation's unfavorable federal tax position. During the fourth quarter, $104 million of tax-exempt securities were sold at a net after-tax loss of $9.8 million. This step will result in four major benefits: It positions the Bancorporation to enter 1983 in a positive federal tax position, it allowed the Bancorporation to invest the proceeds from the sale in higher yielding asset, it shortened the maturity of the investment portfolio, thereby providing more flexibility in managing the balance sheet and it allows the Bancorporation to claim a $10 million refund of federal taxes paid in prior years. Including this loss and a $1.1 million loss on the discontinued operations of Suburban Finance Company, net income amounted to $1,761,000 in 1982. Net income for 1981 amounted to $17,523,000 which included a $7.2 million after-tax loss on the discontinued operations of Suburban Finance Company. Net income per share for 1982 was 46 cents compared with $4.63 for 1981.

There is much discussion today about the drug caffeine. The toxic dose is ten grams or the equivalent of seventy to one hundred cups of coffee. As with all drugs, individuals respond to it in accordance with their own body's chemical make-up. One decided benefit from caffeine is for those who suffer from headache caused by high blood pressure in the brain. Caffeine reduces the size of arteries in the brain. Following ingestion, there is a decrease in the oxygen uptake to the brain and a marked reduction in the brain's blood flow. In addition, caffeine also dilates the blood vessels of the heart and increases blood flow to muscles.

In addition to a complete selection of medications we provide prompt service in filling prescriptions. "Your Doctor Knows Us," "Your Doctor Trusts Us." Local parochial schools celebrating National Catholic Schools Week

By Marianne Lombardi

National Catholic Schools Week, an annual event to commemorate the existence of Catholic education, will be celebrated by Catholic schools throughout the Belleville and Nutley area beginning Jan. 30-Feb. 5.

Activities featuring faculty and students are scheduled throughout the week to accent this year's theme, "In God We Trust and Teach."

The celebration of CSW spans Catholic educational institutions throughout the nation. It is also an acknowledgement of religious freedom in the education system in the United States.

Church devotions at 1 p.m. will begin the week of festivities at St. Peter's School. On Tuesday the public is invited to review academic and extracurricular work displayed throughout the school. A special invitation is extended to grandparents of the student body to enjoy refreshments at 2 p.m.

Wednesday is "Student Appreciation Day" and faculty will prepare and serve breakfast to the entire student body. This activity will be followed by a film presentation.

Academics throughout the school will be conducted by the eighth grade class on Thursday. Also planned for Thursday is a luncheon at which the fifth grade class will present corsages to faculty and staff members. Culminating the celebration is a family mass at 7 p.m. in St. Peter's Church.

Invitation is extended to the community to attend the week of festivities.

Activities at St. Mary's School in Nutley will begin Monday evening with a 7:30 p.m. Mass. After the Mass will be an open house where special student projects will be on display. Parents interested in enrolling their children at St. Mary's may also visit the school during open house.

"Teacher Appreciation Day" will be the feature on Tuesday, Feb. 1, followed by a luncheon sponsored by the Home and School Association.

On Wednesday, grandparents of students K-3 are invited to join their grandchildren for lunch. Thursday will be "Student Appreciation Day" and Friday all parents and community volunteers will be recognized on "Volunteer Appreciation Day" at a breakfast. Concluding the week's activities will be a 1:15 p.m. Mass.

Holy Family School will begin its celebration Sunday morning with a 9:30 mass. An open house will follow and the community is invited to come and meet School Board members as well as home school officers.

There will be a "Hat and Tie Parade" on Monday for grades 1-3 and all classes will be involved in a "Door Decorating Contest." The community is invited to visit classroom settings on Tuesday.

"A Teacher Appreciation" luncheon will be served on Wednesday and classes will only be in half-day session. Following an afternoon student assembly, on Thursday, will be an evening gym presentation which features contemporary and folk dancing performed by grades K-8.

Friday's activities include a volleyball game at 1 p.m. followed by a social on school premises.

seasons, with both girls and boys participating in various athletic sports. During the fall, boys will play touch-football, while the girls take part in volleyball. In the winter, a basketball program will be developed for both the girls and boys. At mid-winter, wrestling will be available for the boys and tennis for the girls, and finally in the spring, both the boys and girls will compete in softball.

DiMaggio noted that the schedule of events could be changed or even expanded depending on student participation.

Presently the Middle School has an interscholastic athletic program consisting of a wrestling team, and a girls' and boys' basketball squad. All three teams practice daily and compete against other neighboring schools.

"The number of students who participate in varsity sporting events is relatively small," DiMaggio said. "With an intramural program, many students who do not take part in the varsity sports will be able to be involved in athletics."

LoBalbo agreed saying, "Why should we shut out the kids who want to play and say to them that only the best can participate in sporting events? Why should we deny them a chance and lock them out from participating? It is not fair."

DiMaggio also pointed out that an intramural program may reduce school vandalism.

"I remember back in the late 1960's all freshmen sports were cut out of the program and discipline around here was horrendous," he said. "If students are involved in school programs they seem to gain more respect for the school."

Hopefully the two men would one day like the program to expand to the elementary schools.

"This is just a beginning step," said DiMaggio. "One day we would like to see an intramural sports program in the elementary school as well as the Middle School. It is

Head injury group meeting on Feb. 3

The New Jersey Head Injury Association, Kessler Chapter, will hold its next meeting on Feb. 3, at 7:30 p.m. at the Kessler Institute for Rehabilitation, West Orange facility, located on Pleasant Valley Way.

This support and education group for families of persons recovering from traumatic head injuries, serves as a treatment, social and legal resources center for its members.

The February meeting will feature Mal Ginsburg, assistant manager, and Van Terrell, associate manager, of The Travelers Insurance Co., Morris Plains. They will discuss N.J. "no-fault" and workers compensation regulations.

Also present will be Theodore E.B. Einhorn, Esq., of Einhorn, Harris and Platt in Denville, and Jack Gavin, a private investigator. Einhorn will discuss the legal consequences of head injuries.

Thomas Zampino

This week Thomas Zampino announced he will not seek re-election for the Board of Education in May. This comes as shocking and sad news to both the Board of Education and the community.

Tom Zampino has helped the Board of Education regain the credibility it had all but lost over the years. Zampino proved himself to be an excellent and competent board member, voting with both his heart and his mind. While some of his decisions as a trustee have not always been popular with members of the public, Tom has proved over and over again that his intentions have been reputable and honest.

Back in 1980, running for public office for the first time, Zampino finished first in the balloting, ahead of several incumbents. We endorsed Thomas Zampino back then, and today we believe our decision was a correct one.

For Tom Zampino his career as a father has loomed more important than his career as a board trustee. Many men would not make a decision for that reason. Many men are too selfish, but not Tom Zampino. Tom is a man who has his priorities set straight and we commend him for it.

For the community of Belleville this is a sad time. Both the Board of Education and the community are losing a fine representative. Let's hope that one day Thomas Zampino will be back on the political scene in Belleville.

School Budget

The School Board has introduced its budget for the 1983-84 school year. The $16.2 million budget calls for no tax increase for the second consecutive year, and that is a figure which Belleville taxpayers should be happy with.

Much of the $1 million increase in the budget will go to pay for salaries and repairing school buildings throughout the district.

Members of the Belleville Board of Education Budget Committee put in many long and hard hours of work preparing a budget which its members are proud to present to the public.

As almost everyone in Belleville knows, the School Board budget has not been very successful at the hands of the voters in the past 20 years — winning approval just once.

It is time that the voters in Belleville examine closely the budget presented by the School Board last week, before making any final decisions on how to vote in April. If the budget is defeated and must undergo cuts by the Board of Commissioners once again, many programs which are vital to our students will be in jeopardy and teachers will face lay offs. In this day and age where education is a key factor in the outcome of our young people, Belleville can not afford to cut its children's education short.

Ticket Scalping

Many of the area football fans who took advantage of the current $99 discount airfare to Florida and paid $250 for seats to Sunday's Jets game may not care too much about the practice of ticket scalping.

But for most folks, especially those who must suffer great inconvenience to beat scalpers for tickets to pop music concerts, a strict state law prohibiting the practice would be welcomed.

What ticket scalpers do — and this is a profession, mind you — is either personally or by hiring dozens of helpers, buy up as many seats as possible at box offices, through mail orders and at remote agents such as those operated by Ticketron. The result is that within hours, sometime minutes, all available seats are gone, whether for the Byrne Arena or the larger Giants Stadium.

The $15 ticket is then resold through newspaper ads, part-time agents and the like, for astronomical prices. So profitable has the practice of ticket-scalping become that even a mediocre arena event is affected. If all the seats aren't held by the scalpers, certainly all those within range of center stage are.

The N.J. Legislature presently has before it a bill sponsored by Sen. Richard Codey that would prevent markups in excess of $4 or 20 percent of the face value of the ticket. And persons not registered with the state as agents reselling tickets would be in violation of the law.

Sen. Codey's bill already has won the support of consumer groups including Robert Russo, director of the Consumer Services Division in Essex County. Whether or not this particular bill is the perfect answer, the need is great to adopt legislation at the state level to prevent ticket scalpers from flourishing.

Proud parents extend gratitude and thanks

To the editor:

We are deeply honored by the prestigious Rhodes Scholarship awarded to our daughter Patricia and overwhelmed by all the messages of congratulations and pride we have received from so many in our home town. On behalf of Patricia and our entire family, we wish to take this opportunity to express our sincere gratitude.

We extend our appreciation to The Belleville Times, Dr. John Greed, superintendent of schools, the administration, teachers and students of Belleville High School, the public officials who sent their congratulations, friends and all the people of Belleville who so warmly acknowledged the achievements of our remarkable daughter.

We are very proud of Patricia as we are of our other three children, Joanne, Mary and Michael. It is a unique honor to be their parents.

We wish to quote Mr. Orechio, publisher of The Belleville Times who captured our feelings so accurately, "the impossible is within one's reach."

Senator Bradley pleased with community meetings

To the editor:

A standing-room-only crowd of nearly 500 area residents attended my recent town meeting at the Nutley Recreation Center on Nov. 29. It was the latest in a series of such get-togethers that I've organized throughout New Jersey since becoming your U.S. Senator in 1979. The purpose of these meetings is to answer your questions and to be responsive to your concerns.

Early in the meeting, a Bloomfield man referred to our distressing economic conditions and noted that many citizens are hard-pressed to pay for high utility bills, high health care costs, and high income taxes. Later, a member of the New Jersey Tenants Association stated her support for stricter controls on excessive rent increases.

In responding, I outlined my efforts in the Senate to ease the plight of low and middle-income families who are struggling in hard economic times.

One of my objectives has been to provide relief to New Jersey ratepayers who are paying an extra penalty in their utility bills due to the Three Mile Island accident. I have sponsored a bill to require all nuclear utilities to pay part of the cost of the Three Mile Island cleanup, rather than have the whole cost passed on to ratepayers. I have been able to guide this legislation through two Senate committees, but it is unfortunately stalled in the House. I also explained my support of energy assistance for low-income citizens and incentives for home energy conservation and weatherization programs. I'm pleased that additional funds were just passed by the Senate for these programs. On the state level, the "Lifeline Program" is available to help low-income and elderly persons pay their utility bills.

Controlling health care costs remains a very difficult task. The Senate Finance Committee, of which I am a member, soon will be considering ways to cut costs while maintaining quality care. It is my hope that we can pass a comprehensive home health care bill that will allow senior citizens to receive care in their homes at lower cost than that provided in a hospital or nursing home. In the meantime, the state-operated "Pharmaceutical Assistance to the Aged Program" is providing some relief for senior citizens with high bills for prescription drugs.

I also explained my plan to make our tax system fairer, simpler and more efficient by lowering tax rates and by eliminating most tax loopholes. I was pleased to hear many people applaud after they heard me describe the plan, which would drop the tax rate to 14 percent for the vast majority of taxpayers and eliminate most credits, exclusions and deductions other than those such as home mortgage interest, charitable donations, some medical and business expenses, state and local income and property taxes, and Social Security and veterans benefits, and a few others. If we were to restructure the tax system along these lines, we could realize some of the tax burden on low and middle-income families, while encouraging the productive work and investment required for enduring economic growth.

Many participants in the Nutley town meeting made clear that they were deeply concerned about threats to the environment, such as toxic wastes and acid rain. One woman was particularly interested in the renewal of the Clean Air Act.

All of us, as New Jerseyans, have a special concern about the abandoned toxic waste sites that threaten our public water supplies. Soon after I was elected, I wrote each of the counties and asked them to join me in surveying the toxic dump sites in their areas. I heard back from most of them, and together with the State Department of Environmental Protection, we found over 220 sites in New Jersey. In 1980, I pressed the Senate to create the "Superfund" — a fund of $1.6 billion to pay for the clean up of toxic waste sites across the country. Since winning that battle, I have fought for adequate funding for the Superfund, and I have urged the Environmental Protection Agency to speed up the implementation of the program. I am pleased that the Superfund is now beginning to work for us — more than $12 million has been allocated to New Jersey, and eight toxic waste dumps in the state have already received cleanup funds.

Acid rain also poses a threat to our ground water supplies, to fish and lakes, and to our forests. Although we are not really certain what causes acid rain, we suspect that much of it comes from air emissions from utility plants that burn high sulfur coals and from "Smokestack" industries. It is my expectation that Congress will address this problem early in the next session, since the Senate failed in this session to act on revisions of the Clean Air Act. When we do consider it, we must weigh the costs of cleanup against the pollution risks of doing less.

Several people in the audience expressed their concern about the danger of nuclear war. One woman argued against increasing our nuclear weaponry, while another said she would not trust the USSR.

In answering, I cited my support for the Kennedy-Hatfield "mutual, verifiable and negotiated" nuclear freeze proposal. In my opinion, it is an important symbol of the American people's desire to halt the arms race with the Soviet Union, and I think the November elections offered further evidence in the passage of similar resolutions by voters in New Jersey and other states.

But as I said in Nutley, I recognize that this approach is not sufficient in itself because it leaves unresolved many questions central to the strategic balance, such as development of quieter submarines or a new air defense system. Therefore, in addition, I favor some specific steps to reduce the risks of nuclear war, including negotiations for a total ban on testing of nuclear weapons, verifiable reductions in the size of U.S. and Soviet strategic arsenals, and an expansion of the hot line between Washington and Moscow to avoid war due to miscalculation.

Late in the meeting, a man referred to reports that Members of Congress were seeking a pay raise. In responding, I stressed that I do not think it's appropriate for Members of Congress to vote themselves a raise at a time when our economic problems require all Americans to make sacrifices. Many are struggling to make ends meet as a result of the recession and the cuts in domestic programs. When pay increases were proposed in the post-election session, I voted to delete them and rejected the final bill in part because it provided a pay increase for members of the House of Representatives.

I intend to continue holding town meetings on a regular basis during the remainder of my term in office. When the next one in your area is scheduled, I will let you know and I hope you can attend.

In the meantime, please contact me if you want to bring other issues to my attention. And if you have a personal problem relating to a federal agency, please get in touch with my office in Union. The telephone number there is 688-0960 and the staff is ready to assist North Jersey residents.

Before closing, I want to extend best wishes for the New Year.

Sincerely,

Bill Bradley
United States Senator

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

The banal lethargic aftermath that follows the Holiday Season in conjunction with the adjustment to the rigors of winter's tempestuous climatic vagaries may soon be shaken from its somnolence as a local political activity, much as in the manner of the groundhog taking his bearings to determine if its time to put in an appearance or go back into its hole, is galvanized into a flurry of activity.

This is the year of many local elections; Three, in fact, within three months...the School Board election in April, the Commission election in May and primary elections in June. It gives an early indication of much campaigning by a host of candidates with much rhetoric and verbiage accompanying their efforts to hold onto their room at the top or to gain a place in the sun.

It is generally presumed that most incumbents will seek re-election, however, a few may well be confronted with formidable opposition from competent challengers who have already had their mettle tested in previous local political skirmishes in the which they garnered sufficient votes to justify their likelihood of ousting any present office holder who may have lost favor of the voters.

The local political piece de resistance is the town commission, the local governing body of five members elected at-large. The mayor is chosen by a majority vote of the five elected members at the reorganization meeting after the May 10 election.

The saddest disappointment of recent local town elections has been the dearth of eligible voters who have come out to vote. We often find the biggest fault finders with various complaints carping about conditions they are discontent over, yet, when they get the chance to have their voice heard the loudest, by casting their vote, they don't come out to be heard.

The more candidates that flood the field of contenders, that split up the votes, and the fewer eligible voters who take the time to vote, greatly enhances the chances of the incumbent office holders, with their strong organizational following, to remain in their seats. Popularity, too, determines many elections, but, doesn't always produce good public office holders.

The economic trends of changing employment opportunities, unemployment, reduction in both federal and state subsidies, tighter budgets and increasing taxes are forcing a tightening of the purse strings for all of us.

The carefree days of plentiful money and easy credits are no longer with us. The people's indifferent attitudes toward politicians capricious antics and building up of dynasties by placing political "hacks" on the public pad and securing relatives and friends in "cushy" sinecure positions irritates and rangles the thinking voters who no longer "buy" the old laissez faire "let them alone" attitude to politicians.

Things are different now. The patient, the taxpayer, no longer just suffers from a headache...the pangs of pain are now excruciating he needs a better doctor to pull him through. The charlatan with the great bedside manner and his placebo pills, must be replaced by the highly trained medic to provide the proper remedy to cure the patient's ills.

In too many instances have voters, like the young lady swept off her feet by a handsome swain, been mesmerized by the glib politico with a bland smile and an ingratiating unctuous manner...who later rued her folly by being ensnared in his often insidious, deceptive web.

There can be no accurate, true evaluation of the electorate's sentiments unless more that the majority of the qualified voters, in any election, come forth and exercise their franchise by voting for the candidates of their choice...otherwise, they forfeit and relinquish their suffrage rights and allow a handful of political faithful to perpetuate their champion in office, in order to share in their portion of the spoils of politics.

Within the close to next three months the Belleville voters will be called upon to make momentous decisions of whom they choose to participate in the running of our community's public schools, our township government and the leaders of our political parties. The duty to make the wisest selection is awesome, but, it is yours to make.

We urge that careful consideration be given to the qualifications and talent of those who seek to occupy these responsible positions. Study it wisely and select with intelligence.

Belleville's past

Ownership of slaves was a customary attribute of wealth in Colonial days. The Schuylers, Van Rensselaers, and other first families of the neighborhood farmed their large tracts of land with slave labor. In the beginning the Schuyler mine too, had been worked by slaves. Even the Reverend Gerardus Haughoort, famous for his part in the stormy history of the early Dutch Reformed Church, had been able to find the ownership of slaves congruent with the tenets of the love of man he preached. In his will he left to his second wife "my negro man, Sip, and the wench Phoebe," and to his son Nicholas the "negro Daniel, now living at New York; also the half in that negro now in the possession of John Wendle, at Portsmouth." The other half interest in the unnamed slave who evidently had been hired out to the Portsmouth master, together with "the negro man, Harry," was inherited by the younger son, Garritt.

Treatment of slaves seems to have been more humane at Belleville than elsewhere. For on June 20, 1780, John Blanchard, of Hanover, Morris County, advertised a reward of "Twenty hard Dollars and all reasonable charges" for the apprehension of "a very black slim Negro man, named Prince, about twenty-four or five years old, can talk low Dutch, who formerly belonged to one Van Riper at Second River."

Slavery continued in Belleville until the beginning of the 19th century. Matthew Banks, who lived in the Woodside section in the 1820's, reputedly was the last large-scale slave-owner. And a scant five years before Belleville became a township, Captain Abraham Speer manumitted in his will Old Black Nancy, a life-long house servant. Nancy's husband, however, owned by Daniel Van Winkle of the Franklin section, died a few years later in captivity, the last remaining slave in Belleville territory.

Until the middle of the 18th century Second River retained its characteristics of a predominantly Dutch settlement. In the neighboring Third River section Plums, Ogdens, Dodds and others of English extraction had already settled in the 1690's. But in the Second River proper, English names did not appear until the Schuylers began to import Welsh and Cornish miners. Then public documents began to note such names as Davis and Griffiths, Rogers, Ludlow and Dempsey.

Simultaneously, others must have come up the Passaic from Newark. For there also appear family names that trace their lineage directly back to some of the Connecticut Puritans who accompanied Robert Treat in his settlement of "Our Town on ye Passaic." As early as 1730 Azariah Crane recorded property including "land on a branch of the Second River between James Huttman and Nathaniel Ward." John Baldwin, a shoemaker, dispensed in his will of "land between two branches of the Second River." Jonathan Davis Jr., of Newark, mentioned "my swamp by Second River" and "all my land lying by the mines."

Still, the ingredients in the Belleville melting pot did not immediately merge into a perfect amalgam. For decades both, English and Dutch, retained their ethnic identities and respective languages. As late as 1769 it was still worthy of note that "an Irish lad, named Robert Campbell, about 18 years ago," who had run away from his bond-master, Evant Van Zile, "is very fluent of speech...and can speak English, Dutch and High-Dutch."

It was left to the Revolution to give these people a common bond. Their common grievances and their fight for freedom joined them closer than intermarriages and blood-ties ever could have done.

Fornarotto also said that he will not accept any salary if elected.

ED-ITORIALIZING

School Board budget could be a real bargain

The Board of Education introduced its budget for the 1983-84 school year last week.

Trustees presented a $16.2 million budget, which represents an increase of more than $1 million over last year, but for the second year in a row, the board has turned in a budget calling for no tax increase to the community, something which should bring a smile to the faces of many taxpayers.

Members of the board and school administrators spent many hours trimming and adding, cutting and reducing, to bring a budget to the public, which the board is proud of — now that was the easy part. Now trustees must spend as much time, if not more, trying to sell the budget to the taxpayers and voters of this community. And over the years, that has become a burdensome problem.

For 19 of the past 20 years, voters have rejected budgets proposed by the board, forcing the Township Commissioners to do some trimming of their own. Unfortunately, this year may be no better than any others.

Last year, voters had good reason to vote down the $15.1 million budget presented by the board. Two schools could have been sold to the public sector, bringing in tax rates, giving the School Board addition revenue. Instead the board elected to keep School 1 and use it for offices.

The sale of School 2 brought the board $275,000. After the board finished paying the debt still owned on the school, it was left with approximately $200,000. It would have been nice to see the same situation involving School 1 — and voters agreed.

This year the situation is a little different. Much of the money in the 1983-84 budget will go to pay for the work being done in schools throughout the community. Board President John Distasi pointed out in an interview last week that Schools 5 and 8 had already been worked on and the board was now setting its sights on the Middle School, which is in despair need of repair.

Perhaps this year the Belleville voters should take a long look at the 1983-84 school budget. Undoubtedly there are probably some funds being wasted, but that will be found in any budget, whether it be political, educational or militarily.

Voters should decide carefully if the board has made cuts where cuts were needed to be made. Then, and only then, should a voter make a decision. If the board is forced to bring its budget to the commissioners this year for its annual trim, the taxpayers may gain a little something extra in his pocket, but the children of this community will lose out in the long run.

Linda Telesco received a letter of thanks from a teacher at the Middle School this week. The letter dealt with Linda's series about some of the educational programs going on throughout the system. It is an interesting series, and as I said a few weeks ago I hope that administrators and board members are taking notice to some of the positive articles being written about the school system. The fourth part of the series is on page 13 of this issue.

It is only January and already there are several candidates tossing their hats into the May commission race. I have a strange feeling that the field this year will be the largest ever. Remember the last commission race back in 1979? There were a total of 16 candidates.

I had the opportunity to interview Hazel Hulme, the organist at Fewsmith Church, last week. Hazel just celebrated her 30th year as organist for Fewsmith. Before that she performed on Sunday at the Belleville Reformed Church. She is a very intelligent and lovely woman, and most of all, she is a woman who loves her work. That is becoming increasingly more and more important to many people these days.

I have to apologize to the Suburban Cable Company for an article I wrote two weeks ago about its "foolish" move of placing another health station on its cable format. Since that time, I have come to enjoy the channel and have gathered many interesting and informative tips about dieting, exercising and health in general. I have the channel on quite frequently and have become a devoted fan. I guess I spoke too soon.

Local security agency protecting children

DiNicola referred to the recent case of a Brooklyn youth found wandering in Belleville last November. Unable to recall much for police to work with, the boy was reunited with his family only through massive media publicity.

"If that boy had been fingerprinted, the matter would have been resolved much sooner," said DiNicola.

The children's identification card is only one of the many services provided by the 25-year-old agency which moved to Belleville from its Matawan location last November.

The president credited DiNicola as the inspiration for locating in Belleville.

"We're at the center of an industrial community here and can provide both security service and employment to area residents," said the detective.

A Matawan resident, Ricketson is a licensed private detective who previously worked as security director for companies throughout the nation.

DiNicola, a community activist and self-employed insurance man, has been associated with Ricketson in security services since 1973.

They declare their commitment to the community through a range of services that include providing security surveys, officers, guard dogs, alarm systems, and various investigative procedures

According to the president, 95 percent of the agency's business is providing security teams for companies. "We serve about five local companies," he said, stressing the firm's aim to "upgrade the image of detective work."

Presently employing a staff of about 20, the president said he hopes to offer work to as many as 200 people by the end of next year. "We'd certainly give priority consideration to any Belleville residents who qualify," added DiNicola.

Both officers agreed they were attracted to this area because of the high unemployment rate and, therefore, potential for employable workers.

"We're an asset to the community," said DiNicola who noted that although there was no negative reaction from the township to having local detective agency, "We didn't get a welcome mat either."

tee, the Belleville Taxpayers Association and the Rent Leveling Board.

Fornarotto is best known, however, for his work with veterans groups. He has served as past veteran council commander, past commander of AMVETS Post 26, past chaplain of American Legion Post 299, past state vice-commander of AMVETS, chairman of the veterans Monument Committee and served as a member of the Essex County Veterans Employment Training organization.

A resident of Union Avenue, Fornarotto is a graduate of the Belleville school system and worked for the department of Public Works for 10 years. Presently he is employed by the Essex County Welfare Board.

"Belleville is a nice community," said Fornarotto, "but there is a large amount of money being wasted. I feel for the people of this comblighted condition of Washington Avenue as one of the major problems confronting the community.

"The revitalization of Washington Avenue was a major topic four years ago, and still is one today," said Pizzi. "I realize that there is a plan in the works at the moment, but I would like to see that the plans go through. The town will be severely crippled if Washington Avenue does not undergo changes."

"Washington Avenue is a monster," said Fornarotto. "It was a political issue 12 years ago and nothing has been done to correct the problem. A program to rebuild the area must start immediately."

One thing is for certain. The commission race has started and it should be exciting.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nitti of Bernice Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Laurie Anne, to Mark Patrick Avino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Avino of Crestwood Avenue. A formal announcement will be made in April at a party hosted by the prospective bride's parents at the Nutley Elks Lodge.

Miss Nitti, an alumna of Belleville

High School and the Fashion Institute of Technology, is with Petrie Stores Corp., Secaucus.

Mr. Avino, a graduate of Belleville High School and Electronic Computer Programming Institute, Paterson, is a computer operator with Time, Inc., Lyndhurst.

A September 1984 wedding is planned.

Junior Woman's Club involved in numerous holiday activities

The Junior Woman's Club of Belleville was involved in several projects during the holiday season.

Over 80 Christmas gifts were delivered Christmas Eve to recipients of the Essex County Nutritional Program. Home Life chairman Debbie Gardner supervised this year's Wish Tree project at St. Peter's Church. Homemade ornaments decorated the tree, each one specifying a gift requested for homebound senior citizens on the nutritional program. Parishioners took home the ornaments and returned the gifts.

Gardner also supervised a Christmas party at the Therapeutic School of Community Mental Health Services of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley. Cookies, juice, cupcakes and potato chips were given to the 15 children present as they enjoyed a play, "Fenwick, the Littlest Elf." Cast members included Mrs. Georgeann Ventola, Mrs. Kathy Shandra, Mrs. Linda Caputo, Mrs. Anne Pekrol, Mrs. Debbie Gardner and Leigh Gardner. Christmas gifts from the school were also distributed.

Mrs. Anne Pekrol, Music Department chairman, organized caroling at the Geriatrics Hospital with the Nutley Juniors and the Belleville and Nutley Sub Junior clubs. Christmas cards were given to all patients and a wreath made by Mrs. Georgeann Ventola, Conservation Department chairman and Mrs. Kathy Shandra, Arts chairman, was placed in the activities room. The carolers enjoyed a party at the Belleville clubhouse.

Mrs. Pekrol also supervised caroling at the Parkview Nursing Home, Bloomfield. Members' children and sub juniors, Georgina Janowski, Lisa Slader and Lee Ann Santora joined the Juniors.

Mrs. Shandra organized pet-a-pet for the patients at the Geriatrics Hospital. PAWS Animal Shelter in Montclair supplied two kittens and a puppy and Shandra brought her own hamster. The patients spent an hour petting and playing with the animals.

Women from 18 to 35 interested in joining the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville can call membership chairman Mrs. Cathy Watson at 759-6529 for more information. The non-profit organization is a member of the New Jersey Federation of Woman's Clubs.

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,

My daughter is 15 years old. She is a nice girl but with one big problem. She does not leave our house until every hair on her head is in place. She spends hour after hour combing and brushing it and cannot understand why her hair splits even though she uses every hair conditioner on the market. Her cabinet is full of every imaginable conditioner — cans, pumps. Everytime a new hair product is advertised, she runs out and buys it.

Which hair conditioner would you recommend?
Mother with Big Problem Daughter Dear Mother,

Ha, ha, ha! Shame on you! You believe all those girls on TV look so nice because they used the conditioner they are promoting. Not so. The advertisers use girls with naturally beautiful hair. Most likely, she may not even use the product. All the conditioners on the market are good, but the best suggestion I can give you is not to brush or comb your hair too much. This is what causes split and broken ends. And don't put the hot hair dryer close to your hair.

Tax Rate Cut Once Again

Shapiro introduces $277 million budget

County Executive Peter Shapiro proposed a $277 million budget for Essex County last week, which cuts the county's tax rate for the fourth year in a row.

The budget, which increases spending 4.7 percent over last year's $264.5 million appropriation, translates into an estimated tax rate of $1.109, a one percent reduction from last year's $1.119 per hundred of assessed value.

The tax levy proposed by Shapiro is $156,261,493, which is $8 million below caps. Last year's levy was $146.3 million.

Good and Bad News

In announcing the tax rate, Shapiro said the news was good and bad: "The good news is that, despite the worst recession in most of our lifetimes, the tax rate in Essex County will go down again, continuing the trend of the past four years. The bad news is that the decrease in the tax rate will not be as significant as it was last year — or as much as it could have been if the federal government were not inundating us with their cast-off obligations."

Despite earlier predictions of a revenue gap of nearly $17 million, which would have meant hundreds of layoffs, severe cuts in services, Shapiro said proposed budget "is a balanced spending plan that requires no massive layoffs and no cuts in services, and indeed contains a few areas for hope."

Balancing the growing need for services with the ability of Essex residents to pay the bill is made more difficult by the federal and state governments' cutbacks and mandates, Shapiro said.

"There are two kinds of cutbacks — real cutbacks (such as when the federal government reduces farm subsidies or defense spending) and fake cutbacks, when they don't really reduce government spending as a whole, but rather withdraw their contribution and force other levels of government to spend more and, therefore, to tax more. These false cutbacks — which have characterized so much of recent federal and state actions — simply shift the burden from one taxing level to another, often another with much less ability to pay."

Shapiro said mandates have a similar effect. "They are the lazy man's way of setting up a program and the coward's way of paying for it. A state and federal official says: Let's do something new. We'll pass a bill or write some regulations and then get someone else to carry it out — and let them find the money to fund it."

Holding the Line

He characterized mandates as "revenue-sharing in reverse," saying, "We are ordered to set up a program and they take a share of our revenue to pay for it."

Shapiro said holding the line on spending is reflected in three aspects of the budget: strict economies in operational costs. The budget calls for 6805 employees. That is a decrease of 171 positions, but actual layoffs will number less than 20, due to attrition and reassignment of employees into vacant positions.

Other economies include such actions as: eliminating the opening of the Passaic River bridges during times of sparse or non-existent river traffic, for a savings of $102,000; entering into a regional agreement with Hudson County to house the small number of girls now held at the Youth House, for a savings of $100,000; restructuring of security schedules for an eight-hour, rather than a seven-hour day, which allows for greater efficiency in shift assignments; initiating a new gas rationing system to reduce gas consumption by 10 percent.

Shapiro also called for a reduction in the number of election districts for a savings of nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

"It is now time to accomplish this," Shapiro said. The new census figures are available and districts should be drawn to approximate 705 voters each. As it is now, some districts have fewer than 300 voters. With consolidation, we would need nearly 100 fewer districts."

Overcharging Residents

Shapiro said that specialized accountants working for the county turned up the fact that the state is overcharging Essex $5.2 million for residents who are treated in state facilities for the mentally retarded.

"An evaluation of the rate structure indicates that the state is billing both us and Medicaid for the care of the same patients," Shapiro said. "I expect this issue may involve a confrontation with the state, so rather than remove the full $5.2 million from the budget, I am requesting half that amount, $2.6 million, as a safety cushion. I will, however, fight to have the state adjust its bill as closely as possible to reflect its Medicaid reimbursements."

Shapiro said the county increased its revenue from other sources by 14 percent, or $14.8 million. Included is an additional $2 million reimbursements for state prisoners being held by the county. Although negotiations have resulted in an increase in the reimbursement level, it is not yet equal to the cost the county bears for housing state prisoners.

Another boost in revenue from non-tax sources is from the cooperative effort known as IV-D, child support enforcement, which involves the Division of Welfare, the Judiciary, the Sheriff's Department, and the Department of Administration and Finance. That program doubled collection on delinquent payments over the past two years. As a result, the county expects $10 million in payments in 1983.

Top Priorities

Shapiro said the proposed budget does not sacrifice the county's top priorities: delivering basic services, especially to our most vulnerable citizens, maintaining programs that contribute to the safety of our residents, enhancing economic opportunities within the county and making Essex a better place to live.

Shapiro said the impact of federal and state mandates and cutbacks is extremely severe. Cuts in social services block grant funding has caused the county to pick a 48 percent share of a program that originally cost the county 25 percent. A new reporting system for welfare clients will increase administrative costs of welfare $599,413. Initiation of the new Family Court System will probably cost the county as much as $1.5 million annually.

American Legion Post installs new officers

Last month American Legion Post 514, Newark, held the first installation of officers. The post has recently been chartered as The Khe Sanh Post for Vietnam Era Veterans in the North Jersey area.

Installed to officer were: Abubakr Sadig, commander; Gary Edwards, senior vice president; Marty Lewandowski, chaplain; Ed Everson, adjutant; Bob Butler, finance officer; Sylvester Mosley, service officer; Ernest Fogel, historian; and John Matthews, sergeant at arms. Bob Pidcock will serve as chairman for the North Jersey American Legion POW & MIA's Council.

Post 514 wishes to thank the following, Commander Al Pico and all the members of Belleville Post 105 for allowing them to make themselves at home in their headquarters.

Public Service substation is vetoed

By Eddie Capparucci

Thirty Years Ago

By unanimous vote the Board of Commissioners instructed Building Inspector Thomas Greco to refuse a building permit to the Public service electric and Gas Company for the proposed substation on Washington Avenue, where its power lines cross the thoroughfare.

The Commission was prompted by the appearance of a group of citizens from the Carmen Avenue section, who were vigorous in their protest. Acting Mayor Waters said he and his fellow commissioners visited the Nutley substation and found that there was a humming 24 hours a day from the transformers.

"Put the substation on the other side of Washington Avenue 100 yards away from the proposed site, among the factories and no one will hear the noise," said Waters.

The Board of Commissioners agreed to accept a minimum bid of $5,100 for 4.5 acres of land between Maple Avenue and Mill Street along the bank of the Second River to the Ka-De Associates. The group wanted the land to build 15 houses in the Soho area.

Twenty-five Years Ago

The Brotherhood Committee of the Belleville school system met to make plans for its observance of National Brotherhood Week. Seymour Grossman, principal of School 7 and chairman of the group for almost a decade, reported that all but two members had served for that length of time.

The Belleville Citizens Tax Council for the municipal budget presented Mayor Isadore Padula with a definite set of recommendations which would drastically reduce municipal expenditures. George Turtorello, chairman of the committee, said the list pointed out that approximately $20,000 could be cut from the existing municipal budget.

Twenty Years Ago

The Belleville Board of Education awarded $2.3 million to six contractors for the construction of the proposed 1,000 student facility at the stadium site at Greylock Parkway and Nolton Street. The awards marked 12 years of planning, the defeat of two referendums, approval of a third and indictment of school officials for alleged malfeasance in office which added up to the loss of accreditation for Belleville High School.

The awards spelled defeat for various political factions, led by the Citizen Tax Council, which had sought to prevent construction of the school with claims of exorbitant construction costs, improper estimates and "hanky-panky" by board members, eight of whom had been indicted.

Westlake-Belleville Inc., a New Jersey development group, announced its plans to build a plaza shopping mall on lands formerly known as Plenge Farm located at the intersection of Joralomen Street and Franklin Avenue. W.T. Grant Company announced plans to place a junior department store on the site. A branch of Peoples' Bank was already under construction on the corner of the project.

Ten Years Ago

A Nutley woman died after sustaining injuries in an automobile accident. The 73-year-old woman was struck at the intersection of Washington Avenue and Van Houten Place by a 17-year-old Belleville youth, who police said was driving at a normal rate of speed.

One Year Ago

The New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association announced that Belleville would be placed into the Northern New Jersey Interscholastic League starting with the 1982 fall sports schedule.

Dr. Anthony Losardo, a cardiologist affiliated with Clara Maass Medical Center, will speak to the South Bergen Disabled Adult Club about "The Healthy Heart" on Feb. 4 at 10 a.m.

The meeting will be held in the Lyndhurst Park Recreation Building at 250 Cleveland Ave.

He is on the staffs of Columbus Hospital, Beth Israel, and Clara Maass. He teaches at Beth Israel and the Newark College of Medicine in Newark.

Dr. Losardo will speak under the auspices of the Clara Maass Medical Center Speakers Bureau.

Interested organizations may contact the public relations department at Clara Maass for information about bureau speakers and topics. No fee is charged and every effort is made to accommodate community groups.

Speakers are available days and evenings. For further information, contact Eileen Vigue at Clara Maass, 450-2267.

Judges for the contest are Mary Ellen Baker, children's librarian; Cindy La Rue, young peoples librarian; Fred Lewis, technical services librarian and Adrea Cohen, assistant library director, who initiated the contest four years ago.

The New Jersey Library Association will be sponsoring a "National Library Week Photo Contest," open to all amateur photographers residing in New Jersey, who visit their local public library, school library, college library, or special library. The theme of National Library Week is, "Go for it at your library."

Contestants may enter any of seven categories. They are: public library, children ages 6-11; public library, children ages 12-18; public library, adults; elementary school library children, kindergarten-grade six; middle school and high school library, grades 7-12; college library and special library.

All entries must be submitted to the Belleville Public Library by Feb. 15, with an entry form attached to the back of each photographic print.

Entry forms, which contain the complete rules of the contest, are available at the Belleville Public Library.

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

Sinus trouble is another condition that often responds to chiropractic treatment. Probably the surest symptom of sinusitis is the characteristic headache. Breathing difficulties and sinus drainage are also symptoms.

Sinus trouble and the consequent symptoms occur because the body is "out of tune". Chiropractic examination locates the cause of the difficulty. Chiropractic adjustments remove the obstructions that prevent the normal flow of nerve energy, thus restoring good health.

BHS bowlers finally getting recognition

Bowling. It's been one of the most underrated sports at Belleville High School for more than a decade now.

However, this year, under third-year coach Mike Early, the kegglers are starting to get the recognition that they have deserved for quite some time. Playing their first season in the NNJIL, Belleville takes a 44-19 record and second place showing into this week's big match with Montclair that was held yesterday. The Buccaneers will then take on Paul VI next Monday and Passaic Valley on Wednesday.

The varsity bowlers are led by senior co captains Nick Guy and Joe Lunetta. Both men have been a part of the program for four years and both are relied upon to lead the team, both on the lanes and as team leaders.

Guy has been the most consistent member of the squad, tallying a 165 average into this week's first place showdown with the Mounties. Lunetta, according to his teammates, is just starting to come around now and will be a big factor for the Buccaneers down the stretch.

There are four varsity positions open and five men who are more than capable of filling them. Rodney Battista, a junior, Sammy Danchack and sophomore Anthony Cook fill out the roster. Cook has the honor of hitting the highest game of any Buccaneer this year, a 246 in a match. Shortly after that performance, Early called him up to the varsity team, and rightfully so.

With such good bowlers, competition for the four available spots is keen to say the least. However, playing on the Buccaneer junior varsity squad is not a slap in the face either. The younger Bucs have posted an incredible 57-6 record and lead the NNJIL by a wide margin over second place Clifton.

The JV roster shapes up with Anthony Paserchia; the newest member of the Times staff who does the weekly bowling coverage. Laurie Scott has been on a tear lately, tallying three 200 games in two matches last week.

Sophomore's Lou Saccehiro and Michelle Petrillo are bright additions to the squad who should make a big mark on the teams success over the next few seasons. The squad is rounded out by junior George Davies and senior Jim Filipek.

The scoring for a bowling match goes something like this. There are three matches, and each match is worth two points. Finally, one additional point is given for total wood, in other words, the total amount of pins scored by both teams. Thus, a team can pick up a maximum of seven points for winning all three matches and picking up total wood.

The Buccaneers bowl all their matches at Leisure Lanes, on Route 46 in Fairfield. All matches start at 3:45 p.m., and the team bowls every Monday and Wednesday for the rest of the season. The Times will be covering the bowlers for the duration of the 1982-83 season and will inform all fans and interested spectators of all matches and starting times.

It was not a very good week on the court for the Belleville boys or girls basketball team. Joe Papisidero's team finished on the very short end of an 80-50 and 63-32 decision to Paterson Eastside and Paterson Kennedy respectively. The double losses dropped the Buccaneers record to 6-7 for the season with some big matches with Bloomfield and Passaic Valley on tap this week.

For the girls, they lost a 61-49 decision to Paterson Eastside before turning it around with a 69-47 rout of Paterson Kennedy. For the season, the girls are now 9-2 with Bloomfield, PV and Passaic on the schedule for this week.

Moving over to the New York Jets, they were beaten by the Miami Dolphins, 14-0 and missed out on a shot at Super Bowl XVII. The Dolphins will of course battle Washington's Redskins, winners over the Dallas Cowboys, 31-17. The pick here would be to go with Miami and that awesome defense. Also, Shula has more playoff experience and has been to the big game four times already. For Joe Gibbs and Washington, this is their first trip to the Super Bowl and the organizations first trip to the big game since a decade ago, when they lost 14-7 to the Miami Dolphins.

Last week, we took a look at some former BHS students who are making a mark on the college level. I failed to mention Don Roll, a 1978 BHS grad, who just graduated from Kean College last semester. Roll played high school basketball for Danny Grasso and the Bellboy hoopsters from 1975-78 and collegiate ball for two seasons before a shoulder separation ended his career.

Most of the players at BHS now know Don as the assistant basketball coach at (boo) Kearny High School. Now in his second year, Roll has done a super job at the Group IV school. Don't be surprised to see him as a head coach somewhere real soon. The man has a tremendous amount of dedication toward the game and devotes a lot of time to his players. Perhaps his only fault is having officials like Jack Neupower officiating Kearny's basketball games. Just a joke, Don.

The Belleville High School athlete of the week is Lenny Russo of the boys basketball team. You may not be able to tell from the box score, but Russo has done a super job coming off the bench for Joe Papisidero this year and is a very hard worker with a strong determination to win.

Next week, the Belleville High School athlete of the month for January will be profiled.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, when was the last time that the Dallas Cowboys did not make the playoffs and the teams record that year. The answer: Dallas last went playoff dry in 1974, posting an 8-6 record.

For this week's quiz, who has the better record from 1967-1982, the Los Angeles (Oakland) Raiders or the Dallas Cowboys. Actually, I'm looking for the winning percentage the two teams had from 1967-82. Also, name the last time that the Cowboys and Raiders had losing seasons.

Season Record Stands at 9-2

Girl hoopsters bow to Eastside; come back and whip Kennedy

Citing a lack of "tenacity" on her team's part, head coach Karen Fucello watched her team suffer through an off week, bowing to conference rival Paterson Eastside before bouncing back to whip another rival, Paterson Kennedy at the friendly confines of Belleville High School last Thursday afternoon.

The girls took their 9-2 record and number three ranking in the area into Bloomfield on Tuesday. Tomorrow evening, Passaic Valley invades BHS for a 7:30 p.m. start and next Tuesday, it is off to Passaic at 3:45 p.m.

"We've been lacking on defense the last two weeks," said Fucello following the victory over Kennedy. "We have to be more tenacious on defense. Allowing Kennedy 47 points was unnecessary. They scored 23 points in the final quarter, and that's too much."

The defense was at its worst last Tuesday when the girls lost its first conference game to Eastside, 61-49. "They played a good game," Fucello said of Eastside. "Our defense was poor to say the least. We fell behind early and also, some untimely calls by the officials took us out of the game as well."

Eastside jumped out to a 19-12 first quarter lead and extended that margin to 35-25 at halftime. The home team boosted the lead to 48-35 by third quarter's end and then coasted in to victory.

The local girls were paced by Jennifer Apicella's 18 points. The junior suffered through an "off" game, and was hampered by the ankle injury that has affected her play for the last two weeks. Apicella did feel that her team could handle Eastside when the two met later this season at BHS.

"We played really bad," the junior said. "As a matter of fact, if we just had played mediocre, we probably would have won."

Dina De Aquino tallied 12 points and Donna Brooks 11 to pace the Belleville effort. Loreli Wells and Theresa Critchley closed out the scoring with four points each. The girls returned to winning fashion by whipping Kennedy, 69-47 last Thursday. Apicella led the way here, tallying 42 points, a season high for her and pulling down 14 rebounds. De Aquino finished with 13 points, Brooks tallied six, Marlene Talmadge hit for four, Kathy Woods scored two and Critchley closed out the scoring with a field goal.

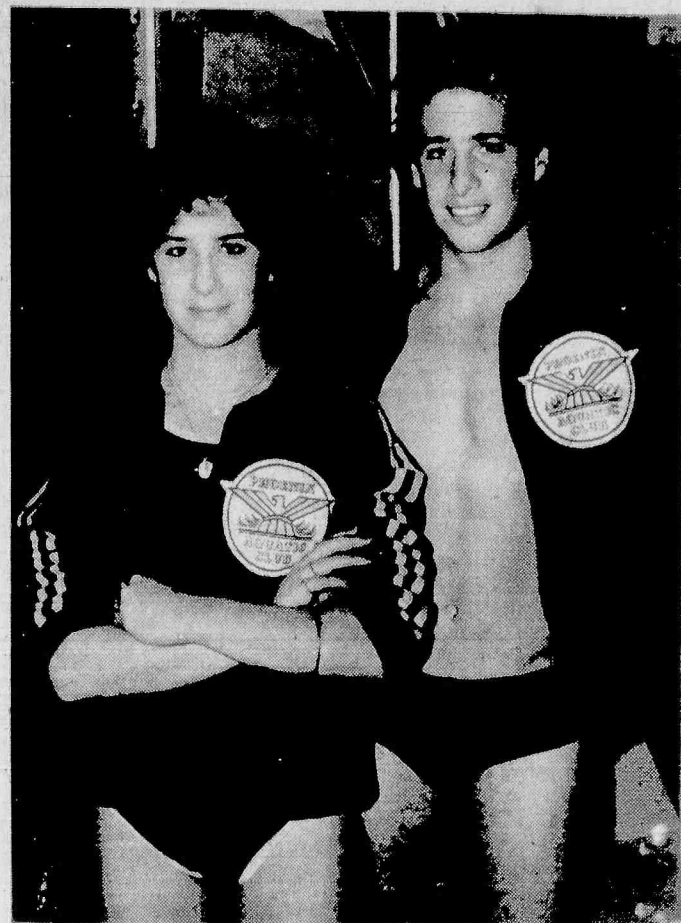

For all intents and purposes, the game was over in the first quarter. Belleville jumped out to a 20-6 lead after one and were comfortably ahead, 37-18 by halftime. The girls extended the margin to 50-24 after three quarters and coasted home.

"We have some tough games ahead," said Fucello. "Bloomfield will be much tougher than the first time we played them and Passaic Valley has vastly improved. We're going to need a strong effort under the boards and just a total all around game from everyone. The tough games are approaching."

NEI NOTES: Apicella booster her season average to 30 ppg. She also is shooting 80 percent from the free throw line, tops on her team in that category. De Aquino second in scoring at 11.7. As a team, Belleville is tallying 57.2 ppg, while allowing 41.8, a statistic that bothers the coach a bit. "Our defensive figure should be lower than that, we get a little sloppy late in the games." As a team, Belleville is shooting 52 percent from the free throw line. Fucello would like to see the team shoot 70 percent from the stripe by season's end. Belleville defeated Bloomfield

61-40 earlier this season in championship game of Essex County Holiday tourney. Passaic Valley was a 50-15 victim back on opening day. Both squads have improved immensely since then, as a matter of fact, PV was beating Eastside at halftime of their game last week. Eastside leads the NNJIL with a 6-0 record followed by Belleville's 6-1 mark.

Brother and Sister Team — Maria Domenick and her brother, Angelo, were recent medal winners in two invitational swimming meets. Both are students at Belleville High School and member of the Phoenix Aquatic Club in Verona.

Belleville grapplers continue to streak

By Dino Ibelli

With half the schedule completed the Belleville grapplers are at 6-1 with two impressive wins over Nutley and Essex Catholic last week. This week has Paterson Eastside on Wednesday, Kearny on Thursday and Paterson Kennedy on Saturday.

As far as Nutley goes Belleville won big and impressively by a score of 49-6 in Nutley. Nutley's record is 2-3 and the Raiders are having a tough time this season.

At 100 and 107 pounds the Bucs picked up major decisions with Cerret beating Ray Johnson once again by a 12-2 score. Sophomore Cami Rispoli knocked off Larry O'Rourke by a 9-1 margin.

At 114 Nutley picked up one of its two decisions, Lee Balpardo, who is definitely the best wrestler on the squad, knocked off Mike Giuffreda of Belleville by a score of 8-7. This match went right down to the final seconds. Balpardo picked up a couple of late points and Giuffreda just ran out of time.

Belleville then picked up two pins. At 121 Anthony Stefanelli pinned Steve Mitchell and at 128 Rick DePrizio pinned Ed Rossi. The next two matches turned out to be superior decisions for the Bucs. At 134 Ron Caruso beat John Pesci 18-6 and Al Henry shut out Frank Ferrarese 18-0.

At 147 Jim Meyler upped his record to 7-3 by beating Jeff Just 8-2. Ron Charles picked up a pin for the Bucs at 157. This made the score 39-3 in favor of the Bucs.

C.C. Giuliano at 169 manhandled Joe Powell and at 187 sophomore Mike Gibbons pinned Bill Padner in 1:23. Heavyweight was a loss but Anthony Cappacio who was giving about 70 pounds away looked tough.

Belleville also defeated Essex Catholic this past week by a score of 53-6. Pining for Belleville were Cerreto, Giuffreda, Meyler, Gibbons and Capaccio. Picking up major decisions were Ricky DePrizio, Ron Charles, and C.C. Giuliano. Decisions were recorded by Rispoli and Stefanelli. Ronnie Caruso picked up a superior decision over Imanuel Gonzales by a score of 15-3.

At 140 Al Henry had a tough time against Mike Gianetta getting pinned at 2:59 for the Eagles' only points. Essex Catholic is now at 2-3.

Bucs Facts: Last week's Wrestler of the Week went to Mike Gibbons with come from behind win over Dave Szott of Clifton and his 50 second pin over Kevin Diggs of Montclair. This week it goes to senior Ron Caruso who upped his record to 8-2 by outscoring his opponents 33-9.

Clifton is on top in the NNJIL race with Belleville second.

Paterson Kennedy and Eastside hand Bucs 2 tough losses as record slips below .500

One day, when Joe Papisidero appears on the show, "This is Your Life," the chances are very good that the week of January 17-21 will not appear on the coach's top 10 list.

The reason for Papisidero's negative feeling for last week is simple, his Buccaneers lost two games. And to make matters worse, his team lost two games in very rough fashion.

The team hosted Bloomfield on Tuesday and will travel to Passaic Valley tomorrow night for a 7:30 p.m. tip off. Next Tuesday, Passaic comes to town for a 4 p.m. start.

Belleville's record dipped to 6-7 for the season as Paterson Eastside and Paterson Kennedy administered 80-50 and 63-32 defeats respectively. The latter game was coached by assistant Rocco Colucci, Papisidero having been confined to bed with a bad case of the flu.

"It was a bad week for us, plain and simple," said the coach last weekend. "We got off good against Eastside but made some mistakes before halftime and before you knew it, we were behind by 20 points. Against a state ranked (10th in the state) team like Eastside, you can't afford to make mistakes."

The Bucs played the Ghosts even for one frame and were down by two points in the waning moments of the first half. However, Belleville missed six straight jump shots down the stretch, Eastside converted them into fast breaking layups and the Bucs found themselves dazed and down by 12 at the half.

Eastside put the nail in the coffin in the early part of the third quarter, tallying the first eight points of the half to open the lead to 20 points. "We lost the game in a short time span," the coach said. "We were playing a good game, but some mistakes cost us dearly."

One thing Papisidero was happy about was his team's ability to handle the vaunted Eastside press. "We did not turn the ball over once against them," the coach said. "As a matter of fact, their coach told me he took the press off because it wasn't working for him. That's a pretty good compliment to our team."

Nevertheless, Belleville found itself on the short end of an 80-50 score, with a trip to Kennedy two days later seeming to be just as tough a chore.

Without Papisidero and top scorer Phil Colalillo, the Bucs were no match for Kennedy. The home team jumped out quickly and by halftime were in command by 20 points. Colalillo played a half, but a vicious shot to the head during a rebound kept the junior on the bench for the second half, a precautionary move used by Colucci. The area leader finished the game with nine points, well below his 25 ppg average.

Dave Grant and John Healy filled the gap in the Kennedy game. Grant played a strong game under the boards and was the top rebounder. Healy, scoring 14 points, was the Bucs high scorer.

"I'm very happy with our team's effort," said Papisidero. "We played against some tough ball clubs and have done a pretty effective job. I am especially pleased with the play of Lenny Russo. He has been plugging hard, coming off the bench and playing a very inspired game. It's very tough to take him out of a game, he's playing so well."

The games with Bloomfield and Passaic Valley take on a very special meaning. In order for Belleville to make the state tournament, they must play at least 400 basketball by February 1. That means that the Bucs must defeat either Bloomfield, PV or Passaic by February 1 to qualify for the states. "It's going to be tough," the coach admitted.

Bowling squad moves into 2nd in NNJISL

By Anthony Paserchia

The bowling team, paced behind the strong bowling of senior Joe Lunetta, moved into second place in the NNJIL, as the team improved its record to 44-19.

Monday the Buccaneers will face Paul VI and on Wednesday they will go against Passaic Valley. The team bowls at Leisure Lane on Route 46 in Fairfield.

After a tough one-pin loss to Nutley 664-663 in the first game, the Bucs came back to beat Nutley in the second game 695-646. Leading the team to victory in the third game was co-captain Lunetta with a 191.

The next victory for the Bucs was Clifton. Again paced behind Lunetta they beat the Mustangs 720-702. Lunetta and Rod Battista led the Bucs in the second game with scores of 181 each which gave the team a 65-pin victory 687-682. Again Lunetta led the Buccaneers with a strong 234. The team had little trouble beating Clifton 707-662 in the third match.

The junior varsity also had a successful two days beating Nutley 7-0 and losing one game to Passaic Valley.

Against Nutley the Bucs were paced by Laire Scott and Anthony Paserchia. Scott hit a 220 which helped the Bucs beat Nutley 688-608. Paserchia led the Bucs in the second game with a 190. The Bucs beat Nutley 656-586. The third game the Bucs pulled out a 566-554 victory.

Against Passaic Valley the Bucs won the first game 619-556. The second, the Bucs lost by a score of 689-624. Behind the strong bowling of Anthony Cook, the Bucs came back to beat Passaic Valley 616-579.

PIN POINTS: The jayvee team has been in first place for six consecutive weeks. Leading both teams with a 175 average is co-captain Nick Grey.

Heard at ringside

By Steve H. Frank

25-year-old, power-punchin' Mark Medal of Jersey City scored his most important victory when he put the lights out for another "hitter" in Chris Linson of Sante Fe, N.M., in the sixth round. The junior middleweight battle was a thriller that had the fans at New York's Felt Forum screaming with excitement for the first four rounds. From the fifth until the end, Medal took charge. Medal's six-year record is now 16-1. Linson has managed a 9-6 chart. In other bouts: Heavyweight Tony Hill of Bermuda WTKO in the fifth round over Tony Costa of Newark; Heavyweight Eddie Gregg of Kew Gardens, N.Y. WTKO in the eighth round over Barry Funches of New York City. After the bout Funches said, "I've had enough of the fight business."

NABE featherweight titleholder Jackie Beard of Detroit has been matched to defend against Mexico's Marcos Villasana in the semi-final to the WBA featherweight tilt between champion Eusebio Pedrosa of Panama and Rocky Lockridge of Maple Shade, N.J. The fights are scheduled for Feb. 26 at Las Vegas. ABC-TV Ch. 7 will broadcast.

Bobby Goodman, matchmaker for Promoter Don King, has the heavyweight tiff between Greg Page of Louisville, Ky. and Larry Frazier of San Francisco, Calif. for a main go on Feb. 12. Heavyweight David Bey of Los Angeles will trade punches with Lynn Ball of Dallas, Texas and Jumbo Cummings of Chicago will lace them up against another heavyweight, Mitchell Green of Queens, N.Y. It'll be an ABC-TV Ch. 7.

The surprise of the month of December was the third round knockout of Victor "Flash" Gordon of Hillside, N.J. by Phurmond Dressler on Dec. 22, at Lake Tahoe. Gordon had a highly successful career in the amateurs and was undefeated as a pro until this upset. We hope the setback doesn't affect his future in boxing.

Manager Lou Duva objects to the WBA featherweight title fight between his charge, Rocky Lockridge of Maple Shade, N.J. and champion Eusebio Pedrosa of Panama, only being 12 rounds. Duva insists on 15 rounds. Nevada instituted the 12 rounds instead of 15 rounds for title fights as of January 1, 1983. The fight is scheduled for February 26 at Las Vegas. There may be a different site announced if Nevada don't relent.

Dr. Charles Gellman, who fought out of New Jersey as middleweight Chuck Halper from 1933 to 1940, is now president of Jewish Memorial Hospital in New York. Dr. Gellman announced at a dinner-meeting at New York's Del Summa Restaurant, "We're opening a Ring 8 Ray Arcel Medical Center for ex-fighters in need of medical care at the hospital." 83-year-old, master trainer Arcel, retired from the rough, tough sport of boxing after working with heavyweight champion Larry Holmes for the Gerry Cooney fight.

Former WBC light heavyweight Matthew Saad Muhammad of Philadelphia, was going wacky being retired from the action. He's back in the gym and seriously training. Saad Muhammad should not come back! He takes too many punches to the head.

One of the smoothest boxers to don the mitts was Ruby Levine. He was born in Russia and settled in Lewiston, Maine. Levine fought and boxed the ears off of Chuck Suggs, Augie Pisano, California Joe Lynch, Andy Martin, Eddie Polo, George Bolduc, Terry Parker, Lou Prince, Young Kansas, Joe Ketchell, Young Dempsey, Tony Carney and over 100 other top-rated pugs of the time.

Mike Trainer, lawyer who handled the financial details for multi-millionaire Sugar Ray Leonard, and WBA junior welterweight titleholder Aaron Pryor of Cincinnati, Ohio, may join in a business deal.

Welterweight Kevin Howard of Philadelphia, scored his sixth straight triumph by a 10-round unanimous decision over Jose Vellejo of Santo Domingo. Judge Richard Murray scored the fight 9-1, while judges Harold Lederman and Tom Kaczmarek saw it 7-3. Howard boosted his chart to 18-2-1. Vellejo dropped to 27-7. The bout was fought at Atlantic City's Resorts International, Thursday.

Applications available for baseball leagues

Application for peanut, junior and Little League baseball for children ages eight through 12 will be available in each public and parochial school, as well as at the Recreation House, as of Jan. 31.

Children who are eight years old before August 1, 1983 and who will not be 13 before July 31, 1983 are eligible for organized baseball in either the peanut, junior or little leagues.

Those children wishing to try out for Little League must completely fill out their applications and return them to their schools by March 4. Those preferring to play in either the Peanut or Junior Leagues must completely fill out their applications and return them in person to the Recreation Department at 407 Joralemon St. before March 18 with their birth certificates. Late applications will be treated accordingly. All children attending required practices will play in every game. Our leagues stress sportsmanship, basic skills and fun.

Applications for girls' softball and senior/intermediate baseball will be available by mid-February.

Belleville soccer squad continued strong showings

In the Northern Counties Indoor Tourney at Rockland, N.Y., Belleville Soccer Association Division 3, led by the brilliant play of Jack Dunphy, won its opening round of action against Dumont Division 3. Joe Chufar scored the lone goal in a great 1-0 win.

Cougar-Adidas Tournament saw the Belleville Blast, sponsored by Flowerama, defeat South Orange Sounders 2-0 on goals from Emilio Farino. The first on an assist from Scott Dorey and the second assist from Chris Marcantano. John Macaloon stopped nine shots for the shutout. Macaloon has not been scored on in 90 minutes of play.

The Americans, sponsored by DeBacco Brothers, were not as lucky losing to Bayonne Sparks, 7-3. Strong board play led to the three goals. The first score was by Steve Tice from John Scorehiola. Fab DeFabrizio scored the second goal on an assist from Ron DePiro. Anthony Zarrillo passed off the back wall to Steve Tice for the final goal. With Steve Tice and Rich Searls splitting goal time, Belleville played strong, but not strong enough.

At Wayne PAL, the Flash, sponsored by Casa Polizzi, Chandelier and Pro Lumber, were beaten by a strong Garfield club 4-2. Rich Pretto stopped Duane Sorrentino and Mike Capasso. The Flash were down 3-2 at half, tightened up but with the insurance goal in the second half, couldn't get the needed scoring punch to pull it out.

BSA Division 1 was also a loser 5-2 at the Wayne PAL tourney.

Jets win third consecutive football title

The Jets won their third consecutive Belleville lightweight football title with an undefeated and unscored upon record for the season.

The team's offense was precise and efficient, with a lot of variations that kept the opponents off balance. They were not as potent as in the past, however, they scored when it was crucial and decisive in keeping their record unblemished.

The defense was terrific all season long. They did not allow a point in any game, and on many occasions, outstanding individual efforts combined with the team effort, kept their opponents shut out. The Jets' three-year record is 24-0, with 19 shutouts. Offensively they've scored 451 points, and allowed but 37 points defensively.

The offensive backfield was led by quarterback Gerard Cimolo, running backs Mike Kraus, Joe Scaperotta, Jr., and tailback P. J. Olivio. The offensive line was anchored by Mike Harvey and Chris Raimo at tackle, Mike Rosa, B. J. Melson, and T. J. Stella at offensive guard, Kevin Burbank at center, and George Villano and Ray Caruso at ends.

The defense was led by linebackers Mike Kraus, Jamie Serritella, Frank Orreik Steven Iannuzzi, and Bobby Mulcahy. The defensive line was composed of Michael Senesky, Philip Molinari, Michael Petrillo, John Zazzalli, Rich Ramage, HJohn Schuster, and Ralph Nicastro. The safeties were John Napolitano, Gereard Cimolo, P. J. Olivio, and Joe Scaperotta, Jr.

The team party was held at the Belleville Little League Field House on Jan. 8. At this time the boys received trophies and championship jackets. Team captains P. J. Olivio and Gerard Cimolo presented plaques of appreciation to Coaches Phil Galioto, Earl Wake, and Joe Scaperotta on behalf of the team.

Recreation wrestling off to a slow start

The Belleville Recreational Wrestling team under the guidance of coaches Joe Nisivocia and Lou Riccardi opened up its season against a top ranked Caldwell team with a 59-29 loss.

There were several fine performances from the Belleville team, registering pins were Joe Cerreto 75 pounds, Mike Kraus 85 pounds, Armando Nardone 112 pounds and Dawson Bloom 145 pounds winning by a 4-2 decision. John Stampone 85 pounds while Phil Zamloot drew to a 2-2 tie at 95 pounds.

Revengeing their earlier loss the Belleville Grapplers defeated a very tough Maplewood-South Orange team 44-36, on Jan. 13.

Each team had won eight of the 16 matches however, Belleville's point advantage came due to a greater number of falls. Winning by pins for the Belleville squad were 75 pounder Joe Cerreto at 1:43; 95 pounder Phil Zamloot at 2:40; 135 pounder Al Best at 28 seconds; 145 pounder Dawson Bloom at 1:30, and heavyweight Mike Gaglioti at 56 seconds. Winning by major decisions were 65 pounder Joe Perna 17-6, and 112 pounder Armando Nardone 10-0.

FISHIN' TIPS

from Tom Mann

WHEN I WAS A KID in Alabama we laughed at a tongue-twister that went like this: "The stump think the skunk stunk, and the skunk think the stump stunk!" Well, it reminds me to tell you about fishin' stumps if you don't want to get skunked. Stumps are favorite hangouts for fish.

There are two kinds of stumps, mainly, those you can see and those you can't. But if you'll stand up when you fish stumpy areas you'll see a lot more submerged stumps than you can sitting down.

Here's how I fish stumps: First, I pick out the shady side because that's usually where a big, ol' bass will bask for two reasons. One, he's hidden in the shadow where other fish can't see him. And two, 'ol' fish will be in the sun so he can see better to ambush them.

I make my first cast well past the stump so as not to spook a wary bass, pike, musky, or trout. Then I retrieve my lure up to the stump and pause to work it slowly past the fish hiding there. Fish all sides of the stump, then move on to the next one. Stump fishing is fun, try it!

BRETT TOM'S CLOSING TIP: If you get skunked fishing stumps then you might agree with the skunk that think the stump stunk. On the other hand

Girls' Rec team drops close one

The Belleville Recreation Department entry into the Suburban Junior Girls' Basketball League fell short last Saturday in its quest for its first victory of the season, losing to a rejuvenated Verona squad 28-22. The Seventh and Eight grade Bucanettes slid to 0-2 while Verona improved to 1-1. Laura Caruso led the local squad with 15 points, while Judy Nehilia also played a steady game for Belleville. The pursuit for win number one continues this week in action against Florham Park and Springfield.

Officials Are Impressed By Plans

Belleville school system beginning new writing program for students

By Linda Tesesco

For the past decade, American parents asked "Why can't Johnny read?" However, Belleville parents may soon be pleased to find that Johnny can not only read but also write with fluency.

(Part 4 of a School Series)

A massive writing improvement program is underway at Belleville High School under the direction of Leonard Marciano, supervisor of the district's grades 7-12.

In a recent interview at his office in the English Department, Marciano expounded on the ambitious program.

"I would judge the Belleville High students to be average in skills according to the national statistics," said Marciano who aims to raise the modest appraisal.

Optimistic with cause, the supervisor noted a great improvement in the recent scores of the statewide Minimum Basic Skills Test among Belleville students. In 1978, 75 percent of the students scored above passing on the MBS test, which is administered annually. That figure rose to 82 percent last year, an improvement Marciano attributes to a purposeful approach by Belleville educators and students alike.

"What we did for MBS, we'll do for writing," he declared, dismissing any suggestion that improved scores resulting from easier tests.

"The test is not simpler, but it is just minimum skills we're talking about," he said. "In some ways that standard has hurt many students by demanding so little of them."

Time To Move

He thinks, however, the Thorough & Efficient plan, which encompasses the MBS, implemented by the State Department of Education served a valuable purpose by "holding a mirror up to the entire population, not just the few."

Insisting the time has come to move beyond basics, the Belleville English teachers are concentrating on improving students' scores in the Scholastic Aptitude Test, a determining factor in college eligibility and on the new writing test to be administered statewide for the first time this March.

Presently, special SAT preparation classes are offered to students after school and in the evening. Students are encouraged, but not required, to apply for the classes which are taught by the regular faculty members.

"We're proud of this program and hope to include it in our regular course of study during the day," said Marciano, an idealist who hopes to extend the program's efforts to all faculty members. "Every department should have a hand in this by insisting on good writing skills in every assignment."

He continued, "We need a more dynamic program in writing and vocabulary and this plan is the first step of many."

Taking top priority now is the new writing sample to be administered to ninth graders in conjunction with the regular MBS test on March 24.

Women's volleyball becoming exciting

There has been some exciting play for the past two weeks in the Women's Volleyball League. Last week the Misfits, led by Pat Pfeil and Debbie Guarino, defeated the Shooting Stars 9-15, 16-14, 15-13. This week the Misfits forfeited to DeBacco. In last week's action, DeBacco, behind the excellent play of Eileen Apicella and Pat Cunningham, won their first match by upsetting the Rookies 15-10, 15-5. The Rookies got fine play from Maddy Dunn and Sue Clenaghan in the losing effort. This week the Rookies forfeited to the Shooting Stars who were led, last week, by Cindy Morel and Ann Paladino against the Misfits.

In the "A" Division, the Netters, who received outstanding play from JoAnn Monahan and Becky Bridge, took over sole possession of first place by defeating the Fragiles 15-7, 15-7 and the Jammers 15-6, 15-9. This week, despite good play from Tracy Quale and Joyce Recinello, the Fragiles went down to defeat to the Set-Ups, who were led by JoAnne Muse and Gerry Paoletto 16-18, 15-10, 15-5. In the last match of the past two weeks Connie Guarino and Lynn Alfone led the Jammers over the Set-Ups 15-8, 15-4.

Two-Part Test

Introduced by the state to ensure that students who graduate high schools can demonstrate adequate writing skills, the test will consist of two parts, a writing sample and a multiple choice section.

Marciano pointed to an August 16 memo from Trenton indicating the tests would be "holistically scored" to determine that students can write clearly grammatically and logically.

If a student fails to pass the test at some time during his high school career, Marciano said a panel will evaluate the student's competency for graduation.

"We need more concentration, articulation and standardization," said the supervisor who targeted as a major student problem the inability to read and comprehend material included in lengthy passages.

"Students have difficulty concentrating and have lost much of the competitive spirit that encouraged excellence years ago," said Marciano, a Belleville teacher for three decades.

Aiming to correct as much as is realistic in the early stages of the program, he adheres to the state standards of what should be covered and mastered in each grade level in the Minimum Exposure Guide.

Many Involved

An elaborate organization plan brings Marciano together with his 31 English and reading teachers to regularly pinpoint priority areas of student weakness, material covered in each marking period, and improvements noted.

Moreover, each teacher also submits a Professional Improvement Plan, a written outline of goals to be attained that year.

"We hope soon to alert all teachers, not just English teachers, to the need for clear, clean self-expression in student's papers. We want to extend this effort school wide," said Marciano.

With teachers evaluating the success of both the students and themselves, the program clearly emphasizes a need for goals and having a sense of purpose and achievement in academic success.

That is embodied in a major project required of all 11th graders called "The Career Papers."

Based on the results of the Kuder Research Associates Interest Survey, designed to determine a student's aptitude for various occupational fields, the students must research information about their field of interest and write a paper about it.

Research Taught

A multi-dimensional project, the Career Paper teaches students to research, think, and write with a purpose — skills that, once mastered, will ensure them success in any future endeavor.

On the prosaic side, Marciano also introduced a massive indexing system in his offices to permit teachers access to a wealth of reference material, recordings, and filmstrips.

"I want them to have as much as possible at their fingertips and to eliminate the frustrations of misplaced or unreturned items that unnecessarily interfere with teaching, the supervisor explained pointing to the strict sign-in and out lists on the doors of the room.

The Belleville High School's writing program may well show the results it aims for because unlike other ambitious plans, it practices what it preaches.

Students are more likely to recognize the value of effective communication if the classroom and school system reflect those values day in and day out.

Nazziola enters race for School Board seat

Gabe Nazziola, a "community activist" has announced his candidacy for the Belleville Board of Education, becoming the first person to throw his hat into the race.

This will be Nazziola's second try for a board seat. Last year he made what many viewed as a very impressive bid, receiving 1,232, finishing third behind second place incumbent Charles Miele by 412 votes.

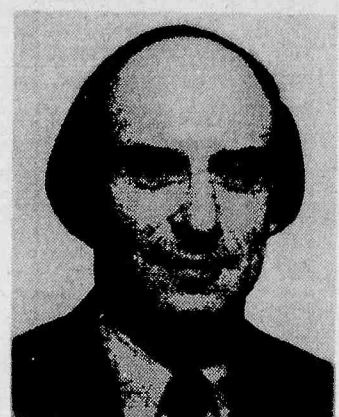

A resident of Belleville since 1969, Nazziola has earned himself the title of "community activist" through his attendance — usually vocal — at various community meetings.

"Through my involvement in various educational support groups over the years of my children's education here in Belleville," Nazziola said, "I have noted a need for improvement in various areas in our educational system which I feel I could be instrumental in bringing about."

"Our educational system should operate like a successful business," he continued, "with a constant eye on operating costs and continuing efforts toward delivering the best quality education to our children. I have the energies to do whatever it takes to get the job done. I will exercise openness, responsiveness, consideration and understanding, striving to emulate the fiduciary performance criteria necessary to be a Belleville Board of Education trustee."

His community involvement over the years includes: member of the Belleville-Music Parents Association Executive Board, two years as its president; member of the Middle School Home and School Executive Board, member of Belleville Blue and Gold Halftimers Association, past member of the Belleville Wrestling Parents and Friends Association and the Belleville High School Home and School Association.

His civic involvement includes membership in the Mary V. Senatore Civic and Welfare Association, the Matthew Pica Civic and Welfare Association, the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. Nazziola and his wife Camille were recently accepted to membership in the Belleville Italian-American Civic Association.

The 46-year-old insurance agency owner, with 20 years in business, has served the chairs of president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary, national committee man and director in county, state, and national organizations of his peers in the insurance industry.

Commissioner John P. Renna of the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs recently announced the appointment of Nazziola as the state appointee to the Belleville Redevelopment Agency.

Nazziola is a graduate of Lincoln High School in Jersey City and has attended courses of study at Stevens Institute of Technology and Purdue University. He and his wife, Camille have three children: Mrs. Janice Lynn Leffebine, 23, Gabriel R., 21 and Eric, 13.

The committee to elect Gabe Nazziola will hold its campaign kickoff meeting at the Little League Field House (just off Mill Street above Franklin Avenue) on Feb. 15 at 7:30 p.m.

"4th Smash Week!" FRIDAY NITES GET "COUNTRIFIED"

KAREN ANN & "SOUTHERN REIGN" Country With A Kick!

Easily comparable to Ann Murray, Crystal Gayle and Dolly Parton, it's been said, "There has never been a person who has heard Karen Ann sing that didn't like her voice."

Southern Reign makes a brand of country music which covers the spectrum of the country western sound from the soft ballads of Dolly Parton's "I Will Always Love You" and Patsy Cline's "Sweet Dreams" to the rock fire sound of Elvis Presley's "Promised Land" and Charlie Daniel's fiddle rousing "The South's Gonna Do It Again."

Karen Ann and Southern Reign are five talented entertainers who know the country sound, feel the country beat and have put together a blended country repertoire that will move your feet and surely leave you "countrified."

Karen Ann and Southern Reign will appear Fridays through January at the Marquee Lounge in Bloomfield. Call 429-1949 for details.
