Trustees Face Serious Problem

State reduces funding for schools by $310,000

By Eddie Capparucci

"We may have to eat our words." Those were the comments of School Board President John DiStasi, as he announced a state plan to cut Belleville's aid by $310,000, thus placing the board's zero-tax increase budget in jeopardy.

It was just three weeks ago, that proud board members introduced a $16.1 million budget for the 1983-84 school year, marking the second consecutive year trustees have presented the public with a budget calling for no additional taxation. But the state's latest announcement has officials concerned on where budget cuts — if any — can be made.

"There are three ways we can make up for the cut by the state in school aid," DiStasi said. "That is in using any surplus we may have placed aside, making cuts in programs and staff, or finally by placing the burden on the public to pay for the increase. Right now we are going to have to sit down and decide what course of action we will be taking to face this crisis."

The total proposed figure of the $16,202,545 budget breaks down as follows: $15,273,002, current expenses; $595,000 capital outlay; $225,293, debt service and $109,250 for chapter 74 debt service payment. The state, before instituting its cut, was scheduled to give Belleville $6.3 million in school aid for the 1983-84 year.

"I suppose what is happening to us is better than what happened last year," said board Vice President Thomas Spillane, "when the state announced its cuts well after the budget was prepared. At least now we can sit down and try to solve this problem, but it is not going to be easy, and it isn't very fair."

Spillane who, along with DiStasi, Grace Purdue, and board administrators formed the budget council this year, said he is puzzled with the state legislators' lack of concern for their children's education.

"It seems to me that the legislators of this state are more concerned, and paying much more attention to items such as school prayer, than financing the educational system," Spillane said. "They do not seem to realize what a burden they are placing on the communities and the students. They just seem to fool around when it comes to finances."

Spillane said that the budget committee examined many problems

"with each expressing its checks and balances to provide a better education."

DiStasi said he has always demonstrated a sincere interest in the youth of the community and their need for the best education the Belleville taxpayer can provide.

"There is a continuing need for improvement of the educational system, which can be accomplished through the effective utilization of the professional staff, along with providing adequate facilities, materials, supplies and economy, without jeopardizing the quality of education."

During his tenure on the board, DiStasi believes he has contributed to the expansion and development of the vocational education, improvements in the area of guidance, and the renovations and improvements of the school facilities. Most importantly, he points to the board maintaining a no-tax increase budget last year as well as this current year, "while continuing a better educational

DiStasi seeking board re-election

School Board President John DiStasi, this week became the second person to publicly announce his candidacy for the April board election.

DiStasi joins local businessman Gabe Nazzola, as the only two persons who have announced their intentions of running for one of the three seats available this year. Dr. Anthony D'Agostino, who is also up for re-election, has filed with the board secretary, but as of Tuesday night, has not publicly mentioned his intention of seeking a second term in office. Trustee Thomas Zampino announced last month that he will not seek re-election to a second term.

DiStasi, who is completing his first three-year term on the board, has served as president for the past year, and according to the 21-year resident of Belleville, he is looking forward to "continuing his service in providing better education for the students of Belleville."

"I feel better education is evident when there is complete harmony, cooperation and input from parents, students, administrators, teachers and the School Board," DiStasi said,

Local cable programming may be available here soon

By Linda Telesco

Could Belleville be a new media mecca? Suddenly the township finds itself prime pickings for two area businessmen who seek to provide local programming over cable channels.

Approaching the Board of Commissioners Monday with their separate proposals, Belleville businessman Michael Chieffo and Philip White, representative for Orechio Broadcasting Communications, discussed putting Belleville on the tube.

Chieffo, the owner of Chief Motors, a Washington Avenue car lot, is a community activist with a pendant for communications.

A past School Board trustee, Chieffo has worked closely with the Belleville High School media classes in efforts to televise pertinent school events.

"I have had the idea for years to locate a TV station here in Belleville," he told the Commission, citing his experience in serving on the municipal committee that decided to award a local cable contract to Suburban Cablevision franchise.

Chieffo said he wants to form his own broadcasting company and can begin programming in six to nine months. "This is a commercial venture, a philanthropic one," he said, explaining his plans to underwrite 60 percent of the production costs and sell commercial time for added funding.

He proposed to make the project part of a current "redevelopment of Washington Avenue" by constructing a studio there.

Chieffo explained his intention to share public access Channel 34 with WBHS, the high school programming station. He was quick to point out though that the two will be independent of each other.

"I'm asking for the rights to broadcast over the public channel assigned by Suburban Cablevision,"

Valentine's Day — it's becoming profitable

Busy At Work — Sal Melillo, owner of Flowerama on Washington Avenue, prepares a flower arrangement for Valentine's Day. But flowers are just one of many gifts available for everyone's sweetheart.

By Marianne Lombardi

Certain businesses will be especially busy for Valentine's Day, as a certain array of gifts are purchased especially for the occasion, commonly known to many as "the sweethearts holiday."

"Everyone thinks of their sweetheart on Valentine's Day," said Sal Melillo, owner of Flowerama on Washington Avenue. Last year Melillo said he sold 4,000 roses and believes he will sell just as many this year.

"It's a one-day holiday and people don't worry about prices. If a woman wants roses she will get them," Melillo said.

The long stem red American beauty is available at Flowerama and Melillo says "it is the nicest red rose you can buy."

Depending on the size of the rose, the average price for a dozen can range between $45 and $50.

Expression of love

"Sending flowers is an expression of love and we get customers as young as 13 and as old as 80," Melillo said.

There is a fear that flowers could be scarce this year due to the trucking strike Melillo said, "but at this point a snowstorm would be more devastating."

Most people feel the reason the traditional holiday commands so much popularity is because it is an expression of friendship and love. If the sale of valentine greetings is any indication of the emotion surrounding this holiday, one could safely assume there is a lot of love going around. The number of valentine cards sent in the U.S. is second only to Christmas.

Greetings are not limited to sweethearts. There are cards with typical messages for husbands and wives, mothers and fathers, sisters and brothers, grandparents, and friends. And there are the not so typical greetings such as secret pal, teachers, boss, and even a valentine birthday card. Along with the comical valentine, commonly referred to as the "lite" valentine by store owners is the more elaborate "musical" valentine which plays "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," available at most gift stores.

Sweets For The Sweet

Those wishing to sweeten the holiday can purchase candy. Heart-shaped boxes of candy ranging in size from one pound to five are available in quantity.

"People like the effect of a heart-shaped box of candy," said George Feiands, manager of Plaza Cards and Gifts on Franklin Avenue.

According to Feiands more candy is purchased for the holiday at his store than cards.

"We sell Russell Stover which is a number one product people can afford as compared to various high priced chocolates on the market today," said Feiands.

For those who are looking for a gift that will materialistically last longer than candy or flowers, there is jewelry.

"Most people who buy jewelry for Valentine's Day feel it is an everlasting gift," said Robert Nasti, a salesman for Charles Jewelers on Washington Avenue.

The most popular items are heart-shaped and although the economy has affected sales, Valentine's Day at Charles' Jewelers is second only to Christmas in volume according to Nasti.

A little history

The origin of Valentine's Day and its traditional customs date back to ancient times during the reign of Roman Emperor Claudius.

A priest called Valentinus had generated much popularity among the Christians, and began to be called "the kindly priest." Infuriated with his influence among the populous, Claudius had Valentinus imprisoned and finally persecuted on Feb. 14, 269 A.D. Many years later the anniversary of his death was canonized by the Catholic church in Rome.

The holiday began to be observed on a regular basis throughout Europe around which various customs began to evolve. By the 14th century, a Scottish tradition encouraged a youth to claim as his partner the first girl he met on the morning of the 14th. England imitated this custom by employing a lottery from which partners were selected.

Initially, correspondence on Valentine's Day began with the sending of gifts. Among Kings and Queens expensive jewels were exchanged. The peasantry exchanged flowers and less other accessible items. However, each gift was accompanied by a "verse" which later acquired the name Valentine.

The writing of valentines developed into an elaborate hobby during the 1600's in England and France. Declared as one of the earliest creators of valentines was Charles, Duke of Orleans, who had been captured during the Battle of Agincourt in 1415 and confined in the Tower of London. While imprisoned he sent several valentines to his wife in France.

Until the 18th century, valentines were usually written by whomever was sending them, but by the 1830's commercial valentines began to appear throughout

Local nutrition expert is offering seminars

Coping with the nutritional aspects of aging will be the focus of an innovative health group provided by the Nutritional Health Consultants of Montclair. Various programs and seminars will be offered to the public during the month of February. The groups will be led by Rose Morra-Green, a nutritionist in private practice in Belleville and Montclair.

A four-week workshop will be devoted to distinguish the facts and fallacies of aging and to provide an understanding of the social, behavioral, and medical problems of nutrition in the older adult. All ages are encouraged to participate, particularly children of parents who are over 55.

According to Morra-Green, the importance of nutrition is particularly pertinent for all ages as a form of preventative medicine. The 1971 White House Conference on Aging estimated that one-third to one-half of the health problems of the elderly may be related to nutrition.

Morra-Green, director of Nutritional Health Consultants also offers programs in hypertension, weight control, and special diets to the public.

New tax form can be easier

Along with the many new tax changes, the IRS has added a new tax return form for 1982, and according to Bert Tobia, district manager for H & R Block, the new 1040EZ form is briefer and easier to complete than the 1040A short form.

The requirements which must be met in order to use the new form are: a person must be single, only one personal exemption can be claimed, no exemptions for age or blindness are allowed, dependents cannot be claimed, taxable income must be less than $50,000, income must consist only of wages and interest of $400 or less and interest from an all-savers certificate or dividends is not allowed.

Even those who qualify may choose not to use the new form because it does not allow the taxpayer to take advantage of many tax breaks (many are new for 1982) that can cut tax bills. Never assume that the form IRS sends in January is the most beneficial. Tobia adds that trained tax preparers can help taxpayers determine which form will result in the greatest tax savings.

The extent to which a drug will retain its effectiveness is often a function of its age. The type of coating on a pill, its exposure to air, the temperature and the bottle type can all affect a drug's potency. On occasion, age is not critical. For instance, when moisture seeps into a bottle of aspirin, it will simply render it harmless over a period of time, neither good, nor bad. However, a drug, such as an antibiotic, may undergo chemical changes after its expiration date, which make it potentially harmful. For example, taking an antibiotic after the expiration date can result in a serious liver disorder.

If you have any questions concerning the expiration date of your prescription talk to our pharmacists at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. Free prescription delivery is provided. There is a nice choice of gifts, cosmetics, toiletries, greeting cards and Russell Stover candy for Valentine's Day. Open: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm.

Gerard Hickey

Gerard Hickey, director of the Belleville Public Library for the past 10 years, announced last week that he is retiring as of July 1 of this year.

During Hickey's tenure the Belleville library underwent a major structural change when a 4,320 square-foot addition was built back in 1980.

Those who have had the pleasure of meeting him, find Mr. Hickey to be an intelligent and sincere person. He has always offered his time and knowledge to the residents of Belleville and has been an asset to the community.

Mr. Hickey played a major part in adding life to the Belleville Historical Society in the early 1970's, and at one time had the society membership numbering over 200.

Gerard Hickey has always been a hard-working and ambitious person and his contribution to the community of Belleville will never be forgotten.

As Mayor Michael Marotti said, "Gerard Hickey always had the best interest of the people of Belleville in mind. He always did a great job, and he will be hard to replace."

Kean's Budget

This week Governor Thomas Kean presented his budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983. The spending level anticipates no new taxes. All but three departments of state government are asked to maintain their present levels of expenditures, thus effectively freezing the cost of running state government.

Governor Kean's proposal is reasonable. It meets the test of fairness. It meets the requirement of bi-partisan government.

Governor Kean's budget proposal should be the least controversial of any governor's in these modern times.

No doubt that special interests and partisan political pot shots will make Kean's budget appear less than a just document.

Partisan politics aside, we endorse Governor Kean's proposal.

Women's Campaign

The Women's Campaign Committee is actively seeking requests from School Board candidates who would like to be supported by the group.

In a departure from the past, in recent years, the Women's Campaign Committee will consider male endorsements as well as female.

To meet the credibility test, it would be well for the Women's Campaign Committee to publicize the criteria it intends to use to evaluate candidates. If the guidelines are out, into the public domain, the committee's ultimate decision will be accorded the respect it deserves.

Jerry Seiden

Lottery Commissioner Jerry Seiden has served with distinction as a member of that commission. For seven years Mr. Seiden has discharged the responsibilities of his office with integrity and good judgement. Recently there has been implied criticism of Mr. Seiden because he owns a few shares of stock in the Bally Corporation which happens to be one of several companies who manufacture video machines of a type the Lottery Commission wants to place in various communities on a trial basis.

There is not a scintilla of evidence that Mr. Seiden will make a killing with his stock if Bally machines were selected for a trial. Mr. Seiden has refrained from voting on the video machine matter and that is the normal posture of a person who may be perceived as having a conflict of interest.

Mr. Seiden is a good and decent public official who deserves commendation, not condemnation.

Auxiliary fire department is a strong town operation

To the editor:

I recently received a year-end report on the Belleville Auxiliary Fire Department and the men who assist us in this manner. I was amazed at the number of hours some of the men put in and wondered if the people of Belleville were aware that such a group existed in Belleville and of the time which these men donate.

Special thanks goes to Steve Strench (508 hours), Capt. George Royston (342 hours), Deputy Chief Sal Barretta (252 hours), Tom Byrne (106 hours), Tom Zarra (41 hours), Paul Long (17 hours), Larry Leads (15 hours), Ray Kinsley (12 hours), and Steve Chojnicki (10 hours).

Welcome aboard to two new members, Nick Nicolette and Pat Mobilio.

Congratulations and good luck to George Royston who is now a member of our fire department.

To the editor:

Deeming it almost impossible to thank all the individuals and organizations whose kindnesses have been manifested in so many ways; during my mother's illness, my own illness and the consolations offered at her passing; I take this opportunity to thank each and every one.

Your thoughtfulness is appreciated and a source of comfort.

Again, thank you from a grateful heart.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

What in the name of goodness is happening to this country, your land and my land — America? Have our supposed responsible leaders, both in the fields of government and in the private business domain, taken leave of their senses? Has the curse of the "Me" philosophy, seen by Sociologist Amitai Etzioni in the "hollowing of America" — the widespread for self-fulfillment which is crippling the families, the schools and other institutions that mediate between the individual and the state, taken hold to shape the destinies of all our people?

We endured the pangs of the great depression of the thirties, but things were much different then...unemployment and poverty brought on by it, reduced prices of foodstuffs and other necessities. Jobs and money was scarce, foreclosures ruined many households while a compassionate national government under on the country's greatest Presidents FDR boldly pulled us through with WPA, CCC camps for the male youth of the land and NRA.

That leadership seems lacking today; The despondent fill unemployment compensation lines with little hope of obtaining gainful employment; Those still working, especially those with strong union organization support, unmindful of those less fortunate, insist upon higher wages or salaries that can only increase the cost of products or services resulting from their labors.

Left in sad limbo, hovering upon the brink of disaster, are the aged, infirmed and retired who must struggle along with fixed incomes which leaves them little room to cope with an unreasonable increase in the cost of living. In this "Me" age of solipsism in which a philosophy of self-fulfillment — a feeling that ego needs, sensation and excitement take priority over work and the needs of others, including spouse and children — lends no consideration for this bedraggled element of our society.

It is this group of senior citizens who bore the brunt of the depression travail of the 1930s who are again singled out as the victims of our present day economy. Locked into a fixed income bracket, they are beset with impending increased costs for home heating, gas and electric, car insurance, telephone rate increases, rising taxes and a ruthless federal government administration bent upon freezing their Social Security payments, even possible taxing them, while increasing the amount they must pay for Medicare coverage.

What has happened to the once altruistic regard and esteem accorded our elderly citizenry? Are they not the innocent scapegoats of a selfish era that emphasizes the "quality of life" with wanton disregard for the concerns, safety and comforts of those who hewed the path to our present "good life" status? Why must they, now in the twilight days of life, be abandoned by those who are the beneficiaries of their strife torn bequeathed heritage? Is it fair or just to treat so harshly their generous bequest? We think not.

There would be no need for the fiscal stability concern of Medicare were it not for the fact that our Congressional leaders, back in the seventies, viewing the vast amount of money accumulating in that fund, decided to pass legislation that provided Medicaid, health care for the indigent, paid for partially from Medicare funds which those over 65 must pay into from their Social Security benefits to participate. This is what drained the fund to the point of depletion and should be stopped...it should not be the responsibility of those who worked all their lives and paid into Social Security and for Part B for Medicare coverage, to pay for the health care of indigents (welfare recipients) out of their Medicare funds. This policy is unfair. It should be changed.

U.S. Senator Bill Bradley (D-N.J.) says: "Today's crisis in Social Security rests largely on the effects of a very weak economy." He stated, "Under all but the most pessimistic economic conditions, the trust funds will be back in surplus by 1990 and will build up reserves until about the year 2015, when the 'baby boom' generation will start to retire."

Unless our Senator Bradley isn't "talking through his hat" what in hell is all the Reagan concern about Social Security's solvency about? If he'd realistically forget about needless, extravagant weaponry and futile senseless foreign aid grants to ungrateful nations, and instead divert these fruitless appropriations, provided from current federal funds from which they would be taken, and assign the needed amount (from current funds) to the Social Security fund until 1990 when they will be back in surplus there would be no problem until about the year 2015.

If that be the case, new pension plans affecting all present and future workers could be devised to cope with the time shattering changes of future pension retirement proposals, without adversely affecting present recipients of Social Security...Let's give it a try.

New Jersey public television needs support from viewers

By Eddie Capparucci

Drastic federal budget cuts and soaring costs of producing and purchasing television programs have put New Jersey public television in jeopardy. New Jersey Network is the only television service existing solely to serve the residents of New Jersey statewide, but the network has reported it will lose $200,000 in federal money this year alone, while next year the network stands to lose much more.

In order to keep New Jersey Network on the air, officials of the station have been forced to conduct fund raisers throughout the year. For many, this may seem to be annoying and a pitiful way of conducting a business operation. But for Channel 50 and 58 in our area, the fund raisers are a means of survival.

We are all aware of the TRASH which we see crossing before our eyes each night on regular television, and we are also aware that much of the good entertainment, like movies, concerts and specials are available only through cable, but many are not aware of the excellent program format available on public television.

The New Jersey Network is responsible for bringing us Masterpiece Theatre, New Jersey Nightly News, National Geographic Specials, Cosmos, Consumer Line, and a host of classic and great movies. And of course, Sesame Street. Just think where the little toddlers of this country would be without Bert, Ernie and Big Bird.

Many of you know what public television is all about and the great entertainment and cultural programs it offers. For those of you who have not taken the time to explore public television, please do. It will open a new world of enjoyment for you and your family which you never thought television could. And if you would like to make sure that public television will be around for us to enjoy, please feel free to pick up a pen and make a contribution. The only way New Jersey Network will survive is through our help.

I would like to extend a get well wish to Commissioner Mary Senatore, who has been suffering from asthmatic bronchitis. Mrs. Senatore was in the hospital for a week and is now resting at home. Hurry back Mrs. Senatore, we miss you.

A woman (who I will not name) attended the School Board meeting two weeks ago and started complaining to the Trustees about their policy of advertising bids. She raved about the board not accepting more than one bid for the Belleville High School crew team shell and demanded to know why the board, receiving only one bid, did not attempt to rebid the item in an effort to entertain more bidders. She proceeded to ask the Trustees why they advertised for the shells in The Times, which she referred to as "trash." Well, if she would have been reading our "trash," she would have found out that there is only one company in the country making the shell which was willing to bid on the item. That is why the Trustees entertained only one bid for the item. Once again, if she had read the weekly "trash" she would not have ranted and raved for more than 10 minutes wasting the time of our busy officials.

And speaking about reading, why doesn't the School Board appropriate funds aside each year in its budget to create a reading program for some of the board's strongest critics. I am sure that many people who come before the board do not know how to read properly, because they are always misinterpreting issues and making mountains out of mole hills. It is just a thought guys.

What about that 68 percent increase by the officials at Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission to the township of Belleville? They have to be kidding us. They claim the increase is due to underestimated cost of industrial usage in 1982. What did they use to come up with their estimate, a sun dial? Mayor Marotti and the commissioners may now be faced with a serious problem preparing the annual township budget due to this increase. Most of the tab is scheduled to be picked up by local industrial users, but like the mayor pointed out last week, "What if these businesses can't or won't pay their bills, then we have to take them to court." It is a crying shame.

What is not a shame is the continual decrease in crime statistics throughout the community. Police Chief George Lister has taken a lot of heat for residents and even The Times in the past, but figures do not lie. Take a bow chief, for a job well done.

And two personal notes. First to my dear friend Michael, who is a truck driver slowly making his way home from the west coast. Be careful Mike, it is only a job. And finally, Happy Valentine's Day Lizzy. I love you very much.

Salamagundi Party

A Salamagundi Party was given by the Seniors in the gymnasium Friday evening, February 20, 1920. Games were played until 9:30 and prizes awarded to Harold Smith and Frank Gerardo. Dancing followed the games.

Arthur Coleman and Richard Breckenridge know how to handle a broom very cleverly. They swept everything with which they came in contact.

Edward Taylor surprised everyone. He danced a good part of the evening and managed to keep his smiling face near a group of girls. Our noble Editor, Harry Hosking, followed very closely in Edward's footsteps.

Miss Lausway was the cause for several mourners. She said that she expected to come and then she didn't. In fact, none of the faculty were there except Miss Keenbolts.

The Freshmen girls formed a darling kindergarten, led by tiny (?) Gladys Minion.

The grab-bags caused much excitement. George Worthington looked like Woolworth's jewelry counter let loose.

The Seniors may add to their accomplishments the one of being good entertainers.

Girls' Exhibition

A number of the girls gave a gym exhibition Friday evening, February 27, 1920.

The dances of the girls seemed to be greatly enjoyed by the audience. Mand Kelsall led the Japanese dance, Lillian Castle the Spanish, Ruth Lewis the Flower Seller, and Florence Coryell the Irish jig. We never knew Belleville High had such talent. Ruth Lewis made everyone sit up and take notice by her toe dancing. Ruth Tillou and Margaret Webster gave a very pretty Dixie dance. All the dancers should be complimented for their pretty costumes which added so much to the picturesque effect.

Gymnastics were very ably commanded by Gladys Mathes. The girls in this number displayed some of their snappy movements. The apparatus work proved to be very good. Elsa Holberg and Florence Coryell topped it off with some tumbling stunts.

Dancing followed the performance, music being furnished by Hagan's orchestra.

This is one more example of a time when the girls got ahead of the boys.

Girls' Basketball Game

BELLEVILLE vs. NUTLEY
February 18, 1920

The girls had their return game with Nutley on February 18, 1920. Though they did not win, they lost fairly. The score was 22-14.

Many of the witnesses declared it a very fast game and showed no lack of interest during the whole contest. Belleville's "rooters" gave good support in numbers but not in "rooting." Nutley's "rooters" supported in yells as well as numbers.

The excellent guarding on the part of Edna Klein and Florence Coryell prevented the Nutley forwards from running up a large score. Every time the Nutley guards attempted passing the ball the Belleville center, Gladys Mathes intercepted it, promptly returning it to the Belleville forwards, who did some clever shooting under the close watching of the Nutley guards.

Boys' Inter-Class Swimming Meet

The inter-class swimming meet will be held March 15, 17, 18, 1920, in the High School pool. It will consist of relay racing by teams of eight from all the classes. After various tryouts, contestants have been chosen by Mr. Steele for the occasion.

Schedule
March 15th—Seniors vs. 2nd Yr. . .
March 17th—Juniors vs. 1st Yr. . .
March 18th—The winners of the other two meets.

Baseball 1920

Belleville High School expects to turn out a good baseball team this year, under the direction of Mr. Steele. Remaining with us from last year's team are Rick, Hank, Kliche, Bechtoldt, Jacobson and A. Dileo. They came in handy last year and we hope they will continue their good work this season.

Basketball Season Ended

The basketball teams of 1920 closed their successful season on March 2 by giving West Orange a hard game.

West Orange, while a competitor for the State championship, defeated Belleville by only one basket.

The boys have been playing wonderfully this year, and though the number of games won is low, the record of points is high. Belleville scoring 282 against the 289 of her opponents.

The Belleville forwards, did some very clever work at all times. Norris, at center, could be depended upon to hold his man. The guards, more than once, by means of fast work, completely changed the tide of battle.

The second team, although light, was very fast. Their record is a clean score, with one exception, South Orange.

All the students who gave the teams their support should be thanked, for many times they made victory possible.

Members of the Varsity Squad:

Mayor Marotti attends Washington conference

By Marianne Lombardi

Mayor Michael Marotti was in Washington D.C. last week attending a preliminary workshop outlining an agenda for the National Mayors' Convention scheduled for June of this year.

The three-day United States Conference of Mayors was held at the L'Efant Plaza Hotel and saw representatives from 162 cities throughout the country, including Newark, Phoenix, Toledo and Detroit. Other New Jersey municipalities in attendance were East Orange, Bloomfield, Jersey City, Trenton, and Atlantic City.

Although the conference is only of workshop caliber, Marotti said it is extremely important to attend.

"It is much more effective to act as a unit and analyze common problems facing our cities and towns throughout the nation," said Marotti. "Unless you go and are seen and heard, you can be cut out of a lot of federal funding."

Currently Belleville receives Revenue Sharing Grants and Community Development Block Grants from the federal government. There are no restrictions on the application of the Revenue Sharing Funds, however, CDBG funds must be applied to low and moderate income areas of the town.

The mayor said some of Congress's budget committees were suggesting grants such as these be lumped into one account. That idea received strong opposition from Marotti and several other mayors at the conference.

"If Congress were to combine this funding into one account we could lose some of it because they might alter the qualifications upon which it is distributed," said Marotti.

Another proposal made by the mayors was for Congress deduct $500 billion from the increased defense budget and apply it to domestic spending.

Marotti said all of the mayors shared a concern over unemployment plaguing the nation and urged the implementation of $10 billion for an emergency job bill.

But according to Marotti Belleville seems like a paradise compared to many other major cities across the country.

"We don't have half" of the problems facing some of the nation's bigger cities," said Marotti. "In Toledo, where auto manufacturing had been a main source of revenue, services have been cut. Garbage pick ups have been decreased to one per week burdening the city with serious health hazards."

The mayors also suggested $2 billion be applied to funding shelter for the homeless.

"The larger cities are experiencing a homeless problem," said Marotti, "more than 300 people camped out in a vacant lot in Phoenix and in Detroit 85,000 turned out for a piece of cheese." Only those receiving some form of federal assistance were eligible for cheese.

Five billion dollars was requested by the mayors be applied to reconstruction projects for "infrastructure repairs." Marotti feels the redevelopment of Washington Avenue may qualify for some of this funding.

Suppertime talks — Sean O'Casey

By Russell Roemmele

When I was young I read every play that Sean O'Casey wrote. I wanted to know why, deep within my heart, the Irish rebel was so restless. I wanted to know why my maternal grandfather fought the English in the streets of Dublin. I wanted to know why, from Thomas Moore to Sean O'Casey, the Irish sung so beautifully of life as they suffered most grievously:

"A sober black shawl hides her body entirely,
Touched be the sun and the salt spray of the sea;
But down in the darkness a slim hand, so lovely,
Carries a rich bunch of red roses for me."

O'Casey, born in Dublin poverty in 1880 and that poverty was one of the most wretched in Europe, never forgot his early pains. Like Dickens, he went back to them, over and over. And when he left his early life in his later plays, he lost his music. For the Irish sing best when poor or chasing Kathleen O'Houlihan or fighting the terrible English.

O'Casey got himself in trouble with the Irish government, the Irish Catholic Church, Irish newspaper critics, British newspaper critics and phony American patriots who could not see that the red flag he was carrying was really the red roses:

"We live together now; live in the light of the burning bush. I tell you life is not one thing, but many things, wide branching flame, grand and good to see and feel, dazzling to the eye of no one loving it. I am not one to carry fear about with me as a priest carries the Host. Let the timid tiptoe through the way where the paler blossoms grow; my feet shall be where the redder roses grow, though they bear long thorns, sharp and piercing, thick among them."

He hated war enough to believe that everyone else who had known war or poverty or pain also hated war. He raged against the generals and the politicians:

"I wish to God it was all over. The country is gone mad. Instead of counting their beads now they're counting bullets; their Hail Marys and paternosters are bursting bombs—bursting bombs and the rattle of machine guns; petrol is their hold water; their Mass is a burning building; their De Profundis is in the gun almighty, make of heaven and earth—and it's all for the glory of God and the honor of Ireland."

He was darn funny in his plays. No, not the sophisticated sex-ridden trash of modern Broadway. His humor was of the earth—or rather of what he called "The Plough and 'he Stars.'" Yet he was never vulgar o. obscene. Surely, the Lord—with wh m O'Casey could never get along with—welcomed Sean, so that now He hears the language the simple folks spoke.

He came to America and liked our country. He said America "would never have an ending, would never have an ending, would never have an ending." He could never get over the wheat fields and the skyscrapers. Brooks Atkinson, who used to write drama reviews for the New York Times, made O'Casey popular in America. I remember seeing three of his plays in New York City in the early 1950s. I told my Irish mother about it. She preferred the songs of Thomas Moore, sung by an Irish tenor: "It is not while beauty and youth are thine own,

And thy cheeks unprofaned by a tear,
That the fervor and faith of sour can be known,
To which time will but make more dear."

She was right. Moore is always first. Before James Joyce. Before George Bernard Shaw. Before William Butler Yeats. Even before Sean O'Casey. But, of all of them, I would have marched with O'Casey first—it is the Irish rebel in my heart, I suppose.

When he was leaving us, he penned most moving words:

"Here, with whitened hair, desires failing, strength ebbing out of him, with the sun gone down, and with only the serenity and the calm warning of the evening star left him, he drank to Life, to all it had been, to what it was, to what it would be. Hurrah."

And, down deep, Kathleen O'Houlihan always carries a bunch of red roses for Sean O'Casey.

Seems like only yesterday... Commissioners approve 1953 budget; Laterza tries to solve flooding problem

Thirty Years Ago
The Board of Commissioners passed its annual town budget by a 4-1 mark, with the lone negative vote cast by Mayor James Tully, director of Revenue and Finance. The 1953 budget was listed at $1,481,882 and called for a tax rate of $6.84. The Mayor's principal objection to the budget was aimed at the $500 salary increase for all members of the Public Safety Department. Tully requested the men receive only a $400 raise, which would still put them in the same salary bracket as their colleagues in neighboring communities.

James Golden, who attended the meeting, argued for maximum salary increases for all employees through imposition of new ratables in the form of a boost from $100 to $500 on household personal property. He also recommended that the Commissioner work for $1 per year and use the balance to help pay for salaries.

The local Amvets began a vigorous campaign to protest the proposed boosting of GI home loan mortgage interest rates from 4 to 4.5 percent. The campaign consisted of letters being sent to New Jersey Senators H. Alexander Smith and Robert Henderickson. Stephen Sikeley, national Amvets service officer, accused the real estate lobby of a deliberate attempt to line its pockets at the expense of World War II and Korean War veterans.

Twenty Years Ago
Mayor Robert Laterza advanced a plan to the Army engineers which would divert the troublesome Third River closer to its source and eliminate both Belleville and Nutley's perennial flooding problems, as well as providing extra town tax ratables and perhaps a recreation area also.

The mayor looked closely at a 39-page Army report which called for creating a 46-foot tunnel under Nutley and into the nearby Passaic River. This the Army said, would eliminate the multiple problems presented by the river.

The mayor decided that even a greater cut be made into the river's course, which would definitely assure the residents along the river bank, that they would not be confronted with flooding problems anymore. The mayor also commented with the flooding problem gone, ratables taxes and perhaps additional recreational facilities could be developed along the former course of the unstable Third River.

The Town Council cut $3,000 from the Planning Board's budget and aroused the wrath of board Chairman G. Fred Burlazzi. The cut was made in the board's attorney salary and various publication fees. Council members planned to make up the deficit by utilizing the service of Town Attorney Thomas D'Avella.

Burlazzi said the cuts would limit the board to its contractual obligations and very little else.

Town and Erie-Lackawanna Railroad officials resumed negotiations after a 12-year truce to have the Greylock Avenue barrier, a block east of Washington Avenue removed. If the deal would go through, the mile and a quarter length of Greylock Parkway would be expanded another three blocks. Several residents along lower Greylock Avenue have complained to the council members saying they are forced to use a round-about route to get to and from Washington Avenue.

Fifty residents attended a Zoning Board meeting to object to the construction of the Franklin Avenue-Joralemon Street shopping center. The board reserved its decision after listening to objections about the 13-store complex.

Most objections were leveled at buildings located in a business zone, which would overlap into a one-family residential zone at the rear of the complex. Daniel DeTufio objected, saying 20 stores along Washington Avenue stood vacant and additional construction would only increase the number of vacancies.

Ten Years Ago
Belleville voters elected Caesar Romano and Richard Mahmahrian to second terms on the Board of Education, while strongly rejecting the proposed $7.4 million school budget.

Steve Rogers, a 21-year-old Air Force sergeant, making his first bid for elective office provided the biggest surprise of the election, finishing only 112 votes behind Mahmahrian. Romano led the field convincingly as he pulled over two-thirds of the vote.

The Belleville grapplers clobbered Columbia 41-15 to finish undefeated in Big Ten competition and capture the league crown.

One Year Ago
Grace Purdue, an active resident in school and community affairs for the past 25 years, officially became the first candidate to enter the Board of Education election race. Mrs. Purdue said she was running for a board seat because, "I have been involved in the school system for the past 25 years and have always wanted to run but I did not have the time. I have decided that I have the time, energy and knowledge to do so now."

"My main objective is to serve the people of Belleville with dedication, sincerity and honesty," she said. "I plan to be responsive to the needs of the schools and make a real effort to make sure that tax dollars are used wisely and efficiently."

The girl hoopsters opened the first round of the Essex County Tournament with a 51-42 win over Bloomfield. Led by super sophomore Jennifer Apicella, who scored 34 points, the Bucs had a easy time advancing to the second round against the girls from Shabazz.

The Belleville wrestling team won the Essex County Coaches Tournament held at Belleville. Seven Buc grapplers reached the finals of the tournament including Dom Cerreto, Joseph Iacona, George Ritacco, John Bucciarelli and Ben Dominguez, who all won in the finals. Also reaching the finals for the Buccaners were, Al Henry and Dan Palumbo.

BHS cosmetology class continues to modernize

By Marianne Lombardi
Belleville High School has recently modernized its cosmetology curriculum by purchasing a machine that "permanently" and "painlessly" removes superfluous hair from the body. It is called Removatron and BHS is the first school in the state to introduce the technique into cosmetology instruction.

The machine retails for $4,000, but according to Victor DePauw, BHS related arts supervisor, a Boston-based company interested in promoting the machine in New Jersey offered a substantial discount to the high school for becoming the first to employ the technique into its curriculum.

"The machine was demonstrated at the International Beauty Show in New York City and I was impressed with its safe and effective process," said DePauw. "We want to prepare students in basics and the more advanced techniques used in cosmetology today."

Sandy Codomo, cosmetology instructor at BHS, has also had exposure to the Removatron and explained the process by which unwanted hair is removed from the body.

"The Removatron sends radio frequency heat energy to the root surrounding the hair follicle. This heat dries the papilla, the source of nourishment for the root, and in a few seconds the hair painlessly slips out, root and all."

Through this process hair can be permanently removed if it is at its early growth stage, called the "anagen stage." Since only 30 percent of surface hair is at the anagen stage a few visits would be required to remove hair permanently.

"You would only find this type of machine in the higher priced salons," she added.

The Removatron can also remove in-grown hair, which can cause infection and discomfort for some people, Codomo said.

The process differs from electrolysis, which uses a needle to penetrate the skin to remove hair.

"Along with discomfort, clients using electrolysis risk scarring and possible infection because a needle is used to penetrate the skin to remove the hair," said Codomo, "but with the Removatron these risks don't exist because only heat energy penetrates the skin through an insulated instrument."

BHS cosmetology class offers services to the public at discounted prices. All work is performed by students, and those interested may call 759-4805 for an appointment.

Fortunato dislikes Kean's state budget

Assemblyman Buddy Fortunato charged that if Gov. Thomas Kean's proposed 1984 state budget were to be enacted without modification, statewide increases in property taxes could total one quarter of $1 billion.

He added that the $6.8 billion budget is balanced with the income tax and sales tax increases Gov. Kean enacted New Year's Eve and through his "pilfering" of gross receipts and franchise tax revenue that should be dedicated for municipal use.

Following delivery of the Governor's budget address, the legislator pointed out that the expected increase in property taxes of a $240 million is attributable to:

A proposed reduction in state education aid of $104 million below formula level.

A reduction of $95 million in municipal utility tax receipts, monies meant solely for municipal use which Gov. Kean is again taking portion of for his own use.

A proposed reduction of $30 million in Municipal Purpose Tax Assistance.

A formula reduction of $6 million from county welfare equalization aid.

"Property taxes are the most regressive taxes and increases in this area could spell disaster for many of our poor and middle class families already hard-pressed to make these payments," Fortunato said.

The lawmaker also objected to Gov. Kean's insistence that this budget was formed without the need for any new taxes, noting that the revenues from the sales and income tax increases enacted by Kean at the end of last year, plus the increase in the cigarette tax enabled him to present the Legislature with a balanced budget.

"In fact, the one-cent increase in the sales tax and the income tax increase represent $352 million of the revenues in his budget. The five cent per pack increase in cigarettes he enacted adds $36 million to the budget," he noted.

Belleville's past

Indian Trails & Turnpikes

In 1839, when Belleville became a township in its own right, commuting was accompanied by the clatter and rumble of stagecoaches, the jingle of harness and the crack of the driver's whip.

In those days there was no Washington Avenue, nor anything that even remotely resembled the smooth highways upon which modern motorcars glide through town. A scant half dozen roads, rutted, muddy in spring and fall, deep with drifts in winter, and unbearably dusty in summer, were the only access early Belleville had to Paterson, Bloomfield, Newark and New York.

Originally many of these roads had been Indian trails; by a veritable network of such trails the Hackensack tribe of the Lenni-Lenape Indians traveled from their village on the site of the present city of Hackensack to their various hunting and fishing grounds between Passaic and Delaware. These Indian trails followed the line of least resistance; the winding, erratic course of some of Belleville's older thoroughfares — like that of Main and Joralemon Streets, for instance — is due to their originally being laid out along meandering Indian paths.

Thus the trail running "by the Great River side and along by the Meadows" became a "highway" by order of the Provincial Government in March 1707. "Beginning at the North end of Newark and running to Moccquanong, the path now runs." It followed roughly the course of the present-day River Road in Newark, Main Street in Belleville, and River Road in Nutley to Passaic.

Another Indian trail, running along the Second River, became a regular road in 1720. Then known as Brook Road, today's Mill Street was colonial Belleville's main connection with early Bloomfield. The Old Bloomfield Road, too, also known as the Long Hill Road, a remnant of which is today's Franklin Street, had once led Indian warriors and hunters up to the ridge of the Orange Mountains; there it connected with the most famous of Indian paths, the Minisink Trail. By 1839 the more important of these early colonial highways had become turnpikes.

Development of good roads — and consequently of stagecoach travel — had been somewhat retarded by the excellent transportation facilities which the Passaic River provided for early Bellevillians. But the beginning of the 1800's had seen the dawn of the turnpike era and with it had come stage travel as a daily reality. Previously, private coaches had been in use, and though America's first stage coach robbery took place in the Gully Road in 1793, it was not until two years later, when the ancestor of today's Rutgers Street Bridge was built across the Passaic, that any form of public conveyance connected Belleville with the outside world.

Whole Theatre is celebrating 10th anniversary

The fourth show of the Whole Theatre Company's 10th anniversary season will be the exciting Victorian mystery, "Angel Street." The show will be directed by Austin Pendleton, Tony Award nominee for his direction of Elizabeth Taylor and Maureen Stapleton in "The Little Foxes," and will run from Feb. 15-March 16.

Pendleton is continuing his long and personal affiliation with the Whole Theatre Company, where he is currently starring in the title role of "Uncle Vanya."

On Broadway Pendleton has directed "John Gabriel Borkman," with Irene Worth, E.G. Marshall and Rosemary Murphy, "Benito Cereno," "Say Goodnight, Gracie," and "The Runner Stumbles," both Off-Broadway and on Broadway. At WTC he has directed "The Cherry Orchard," and at the Williamstown Theatre Festival, a number of productions, most notably among them "Candida," with Blythe Danner and Edward Herrmann, which was taped for CBS Cable TV by the WTC with Mr. Pendleton as Marchbanks. He has appeared in such films as "What's Up Doc," "Catch-22," "The Front Page," "Simon," "Starting Over" and the forthcoming "Talk to Me" with Barbara eda-Young.

Barbara eda-Young will play Mrs. Manningham. Ms. eda-Young has appeared on Broadway, Off-Broadway and in regional theatres in many productions, most notably Stella in the Broadway revival of "A Streetcar Named Desire," Honey in "Operation Sidewinder" directed by Sam Shepard at Lincoln Center and Claudette in "Drinks Before Dinner" directed by Mike Nichols for the New York Shakespeare Company. Her film roles include "Serpico" and "Talk to Me."

Local cable TV may come here

said Chieffo who announced plans to produce a nightly local news report and other programming of local interest.

He also hinted at having the sports services of someone from the National Football League. "I'm not at liberty to divulge his name, but he will be an employee," explained Chieffo who will be majority stockholder in the operation.

However, Commissioners were confused about the legality of permitting a commercial venture on the public access channel and directed township Attorney Frank Zinna to confer with Suburban Cablevision on the matter.

Expressing similar interests, Phil White held forth the experience already gleaned by Orechio Broadcasting Communications, which provides a cable daily news report to Nutley, Passaic, and Clifton through the UA Columbia franchise.

"It took us seven years to get on the air and four years to build a studio," said White, the general manager of the Orechio company's television and newspaper services.

"We do the local news on a daily basis and 95 percent of our programming to receiving communities is public affairs," said White.

According to White, the Orechio enterprises have been in touch with Suburban Cablevision and discussed the idea of providing the community services the large franchise had always intended to do.

"We have the facilities," White said, describing $400,000 worth of electronic equipment and construction invested in the Nutley-based broadcasting studio.

He noted that like most cable services providing such programming, Orechio Broadcasting "has not been able to make a go" of the operations financially and seeks to regain some of the expenses.

White, who writes and reports on the news programs insisted, "We do not view this as a competitive situation with Mike Chieffo."

He did suggest, however, that in view of massive costs involved, Chieffo's plans may be unrealistic.

State reduces school budget by $310,000

before preparing its budget and all the board members feel the present budget is a fair and workable one.

"There were a lot of things we had to look at before sitting down and preparing the budget," Spillane said. "First we had to worry about the state, then we thought about how voters have turned the budget down year after year, therefore causing the commissioners to cut from it. Then to add to the problems, this is an election year and the commissioners could cut more from the school budget than normally."

"But we decided that if the commissioners would cut the budget we will appeal," he continued. "We have never done that before, but we believe the budget we have presented to the public is a fair one. We cannot cheat our children out of the proper education they deserve."

Provident Savings Bank promotes three officers

Three key officers have been promoted and given new responsibilities at Provident Savings Bank, says Kenneth Albers, bank president. Paul Pantozzi has been promoted to senior vice president-branch administration, Emmett Thompson to senior vice president-retail banking, and Kevin Ward to vice president and treasurer.

"These three key officers will assume a wider range of responsibilities in the overall operation of the bank," says Albers. "Their newly assigned duties include direction of management expansion in line with Provident's advancements in innovative banking and financial services geared to meet consumer needs in the 80s."

CMHS hotline

Dear Community Mental Health Services:

I've put off writing this letter for some time which is part of my problem: I'm a chronic procrastinator. It seems I just can't do anything unless it's at the very last minute. Sometimes I'll plan to do things early, but will forget or make excuses for why I have to put them off. I've come to accept that this is simply the way I am, but occasionally I get upset with myself. Do you have some advice for me?

Better-late-than-never

Dear Better-late:

If you want to get things done earlier, you need to increase your motivation and reward for doing so. How would you feel at the 11th hour knowing you had met deadlines three days earlier? Would you feel good about yourself? Make your own deadlines and you will be surprised at how good you feel when you take control over your own life? Good luck.

(The Community Mental Health Services of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley is a non-profit agency serving the community. For information call 751-1630. Send letters to: CMHS Hotline, c/o Irving W. Hahn, Community Mental Health Services, 570 Belleville Ave., Belleville, N.J. 07109.)

Health information shared as Friendly visitors meet

Mary Stark and Annette Clark, Union Ave. both of Chr-ill Service Inc., Montclair, were the guest speakers at the January monthly meeting for the Friendly Visitors Program of Community Mental Health Services, held at Fewsmith Church.

Stark, a public relations specialist and Clark, a community coordinator for the program, informed the group of volunteers of the many home health services available to persons residing in Essex County.

The next volunteer meeting will be held Thursday, Feb. 24, at 2:30 p.m. at Fewsmith Church, 444

As always, the Friendly Visitors Program is in need of volunteers, especially persons who live in Belleville. Anyone who can give a few hours of their time to call a homebound elderly or visit someone who is homebound one hour a week, please call Marty Angelone, at 751-1750, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Also, if you know of anyone who might benefit from the service, give a call. The Friendly Visitors Program provides daily telephone reassurance and/or weekly visits from volunteers.

Researching family tree topic at Friends meeting

The Friends of the Belleville Public Library will hold its next meeting on Thursday, Feb. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the meeting room of the library, 221 Washington Ave.

The speaker will be Kathleen Stavec, reference librarian for the New Jersey Historical Society, who will lecture on the steps in researching your family history and will highlight the tools of the New Jersey Historical Society uses to help someone study their roots.

Ms. Stavec is chairwoman of the Family History and Genealogy Section of the New Jersey Library Association.

The business portion of February's meeting has important agenda items for members to discuss: anniversary of the Belleville Friends, card party fund raiser, fall bus trips and annual library art show.

All interested persons are invited to attend and refreshments will be served.

Belleville sports program being taken for granted

This column is dedicated to every Belleville athlete who puts on a uniform with "Belleville" written across the shirt, takes the field, mat or court and give it their best. As they say in that famous beer commercial, "This Bud's for you."

It is my opinion, and one shared by many others, that our sports program is being taken for granted. Too many times, the people of this town expect miracles from these athletes. Let's keep in mind, the Belleville High School athlete ranges from the age of 14-17. They are high school athletes, trying their very best and if you look at the past records, have done a tremendous job of achieving success.

Let's start with the Belleville girls' basketball team. While people have been openly critical of Karen Fuccello this winter, remember that the girls have a record of 13-3. Also, remember that the girls' basketball program has been a winner since 1977, and last year posted a 17-6 mark, the best in the program's history. Fuccello, and Debbie Meola, have turned the program into one of the most respected in the county. Eight years ago, Fuccello started a youth program for girls' basketball and today it is paying off with consistent victories and tremendous records.

While everyone knows of the great talent that Jennifer Apicella possesses, don't forget that the girls are a small squad. They are probably the only 13-3 team in the state that starts a center (Donna Brooks) who stands 5-6. The tallest person on the team is Apicella, and she plays guard a good deal of the time. While fans are quick to boo the officiating and criticize the coaching, look around the immediate area. Do you see any other teams with 13-3 records? Certainly Bloomfield, Nutley, Passaic, Clifton and Glen Ridge aren't doing that well.

The Belleville boys' basketball team has been doing an outstanding job all year long. They take an 8-9 record into this week's play, having already assured themselves of a spot in the county and state tournament. Many predicted at the outset of the season that the boys would not win a game in the NNJIL clubs. How do you think the team has reached this level of respectability? It's done because people like Joe Papisidero, Rocco Colucci and George Tortoriello take the time and patience to work with their young athletes and teach them the basics of the game and how to play with class and determination.

The Belleville wrestling team has been on top for 10 years now. This season, they are 9-1 under coach Gene D'Alessandro. Basically a young squad, the Buccaneers have been overwhelming the last three weeks and should present a stiff challenge for the sectional championships later this month.

What more can be said of the Belleville football team? The record speaks for itself. 8-2 last year, 7-2 in 1981, 9-2 in 1980, 8-2 in 1979, 6-3 in 1978. It wasn't that long ago that the Belleville football team was lucky to break the 500 mark. John Senesky came to the reigns, and has turned the program into one of the state's best. Look around the area, not one team has been as consistent a winner as Belleville has in football over the last five years.

The Belleville girls' tennis team has been a quiet, effective winner over the last six seasons. This past fall, they finished third in the NNJIL under Karen Fuccello. The girls' volleyball team was second in the NNJIL this fall, losing the conference crown by one game. The Belleville soccer team has been a .500 club for the last two seasons.

In 1981-82, the girls' softball team captured a county championship and went on to post a 24-2-2 record. Over the last three seasons, the girls are 60-18-2 under coach Carl Corino. Look around the area once more, do you see any other teams with that type of consistency? The Belleville baseball team hasn't had a losing season in well over a decade. Last spring, under coach George Zanfini, they were 12-11, a bit of a disappointment, but none the less, they were winners. In 1981, the Bucs won the GNT championship and finished seventh in the state rankings.

Let's not forget the Belleville crew team. In 1982, the girls won the national championships and return that entire boat for this spring and next. The Belleville bowling squad is fighting for a conference championship this winter and the Belleville golf team, under Rocco Colucci, is vying for another winning season. In 1981, the linksters were 8-2, last season, they finished 9-4.

The point to all this is that Belleville athletics have given this town more excitement and memorable sporting events than any other town within a 50 mile range. Being a reporter for these athletes, I can't remember one year that didn't provide us with some thrilling moments. How can we ever forget: The 3-2 Belleville football victory over Passaic in October, 1982; the 10-4 victory Belleville over Glen Ridge, the GNT championship, May 31, 1981; the Belleville girls' basketball team stopping powerful Bloomfield, February, 1982 in the first round of the Essex County Tournament; the girls' crew team, capturing the national championship, May, 1982; the Belleville golf team, finishing second in the prestigious county tournament, May, 1981; the Belleville boys' basketball team, downing Bloomfield, 56-55, round one of the Nutley Holiday tournament, December, 1982; the Belleville wrestling squad, beating Pascack Hills and snapping that school's 56-match winning streak, February, 1976; the Belleville track team stopping state power Montclair, 68-54, May, 1975; the Belleville soccer team upsetting powerful Nutley, 1-0, September, 1982. Finally, the Belleville baseball team, and that incredible 20-game winning streak in 1976, a streak that vaulted the team into the number one ranking in the state over a five-week period.

That's just a small reminder of some of the great memories that have come our way. Perhaps we have gotten spoiled with all this success. Let's not forget, we're dealing with youngsters, athletes who are just starting to learn about life, the thrill of winning, the discipline of losing with grace. This is a very important time in these athletes' lives, let's not spoil it by expecting a winning season in everything they do. Just the thought that the kids are out there should be enough. It wouldn't matter if each team went 0-100, just as long as they tried and gave it their all.

The Belleville High School athlete of the week goes to all the coaches in the school system. Those who give their time and effort to help our very talented athletes achieve their extraordinary success.

For this week's quiz, thinking back to the old AFL. When the two leagues merged in 1970, Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Cleveland came over from the old NFL to joining the AFC. Since that time, the AFC has been dominant in the Super Bowl. Pittsburgh and Baltimore have accounted for five of the championships. Can you name the original AFL teams that have won the Super Bowl since the game's inception in 1967.

Finally, the "B.T. Top 10" in college basketball for this week is: 1) UNLV; 2) North Carolina; 3) Kentucky; 4) UCLA; 5) Virginia; 6) St. John's; 7) Indiana; 8) Oklahoma; 9) Louisville; 10) Missouri.

Face Montclair, East Orange and Nutley

Buccaneers looking forward to tough 3-game schedule

By Mike Lamberti

Joe Papisidero is a man who pulls no punches.

"This week, we are facing some big challenges. This week will tell us a lot about our ball club. I'm telling you this much, we're going to do a job."

What the boys' basketball coach is referring to is the Buccaneers' three big games scheduled for this week. On Tuesday, the team traveled to Montclair, and yesterday, the Buccaneers were in East Orange for the first round of the Essex County Tournament. Tomorrow afternoon Nutley comes to town for a 3:45 p.m. start. That contest also figures to be an exciting game.

Last week the Bucs split two games, bowing to Passaic, 64-31, then rallying to defeat Clifton, 65-60. Entering this week's action, the Buccaneers were 8-9, 4-7 in the NNJIL.

"The game with Montclair will be a big tuneup for the East Orange game," Papisidero explained. "If we beat East Orange, then we play Montclair in the second round of the tourney. We'll be ready for them (East Orange). We'll be going up there and chances are, East Orange will be looking past us and thinking about Montclair. That might be a mistake. Our kids are going to go in there and surprise a few people. We're not going to bow down to anyone."

The Belleville-East Orange game will bring back some memories of the 1970's when these two teams met on a regular basis. Although E.O. had the upper hand, the two teams often engaged in close contests. As a matter of fact, they met in the first round of the 1975 Essex County Tournament, the year the Panthers were 29-1 and the county champions. East Orange took that game, 85-55, but strangely enough, trailed Belleville by nine points in the second quarter. The last time the two clubs played each other in 1978, a 53-50 East Orange victory at Belleville.

Papisidero feels confident that his club can do a job against the Panthers. East Orange has been known throughout the years as a pressing ball club, something Papisidero smites about when reminded of that. "We've had some of the best teams in the state try and press us, it hasn't worked for any team yet this year."

The coach is specifically referring to the Belleville-Paterson Eastside game earlier this year. Eastside is ranked ninth in the state, but had to take their press off in the third (Please see 'Bellboys' on page 15.)

Girl hoopters upset by Clifton High; Essex County Tourney gets underway

By Mike Lamberti

Sooner or later, it was bound to happen. After blasting by its last five opponents, the Belleville girls' basketball team suffered a let down — and in the process, lost a ball game to Clifton High School.

The team hosted Orange in the first round of the Essex County Tournament on Tuesday and tonight will be in Kearny for a 7:30 p.m. tip off. Tomorrow evening, it's off to Nutley for an 8 p.m. start.

Since losing to Paterson Eastside back on Jan. 18, the girls had been on a rampage, ripping Paterson Kennedy by 26 points, Bloomfield by 23 and Passaic Valley by 14 (and it wasn't that close). The team then started this week by romping past Passaic 66-49 and then embarrassing North Bergen, 86-41. However, the following evening, the team traveled to Clifton and ran into some hot Mustangs, who put a halt to the five-game winning streak.

For the season, Karen Fuccello's squad is 13-3. The 62-56 loss to Clifton was a tough pill to swallow, but the coach put it all into perspective.

"We were outplayed," she said. "Our defense was terrible. You cannot give up 62 points and win. They also took 42 foul shots (hitting 30 of them). You cannot send a team to the line that many times and expect to come away a winner."

Clifton (9-7) jumped out early, grabbing a 4-0 lead and extending that margin to 15-8 by the end of the first quarter. The Mustangs, who were shooting one-in-ones by the end of the first quarter, outscored Belleville, 15-14 in the second frame and were in command, 30-22 at intermission. Belleville did cut the gap to five points in the third quarter, but Clifton would not relinquish the lead, hitting from the foul line with remarkable consistency.

Jennifer Apicella, as was the case all week long, did a marvelous job for Belleville. On the evening, the junior scored 44 points and tallied 20 of the team's 22 points in the final quarter. For the season, Apicella has scored 528 points, an average of close to 33 points an outing. It appears that the ankle injuries that plagued her earlier in the season have been fully healed.

Dina De Aquino did a steady job, hitting for 11 points while Theresa Critchley scored the team's final point. The loss dropped Belleville to 9-2 in the NNJIL.

"We committed 24 fouls," Fuccello said. "That has to be an all-time high for us."

Last Thursday, the girls hosted North Bergen and came away a surprisingly easy winner. North Bergen had beaten Belleville last season and were expected to be a difficult challenge. "They started off slow," explained Fuccello of North Bergen. "Then, one of their starters got hurt and everything went downhill from there."

For Belleville, it was a cakewalk from the word go. The Buccaneers led, 18-3 after one and extended that margin to 38-17 at halftime. The score was 59-33 after three quarters, and although Fuccello emptied the bench in the final frame and didn't press, the local girls outscored North Bergen, 27-8 over the final eight minutes and won by a whopping margin.

Apicella led the way, scoring 40 points despite an "off" day for the junior. At halftime of the game, she had 18 points, losing at least 10 more by the ball rolling off the rim.

"Nothing is falling," Apicella said at halftime. "Everything seems to be going in and then rolls out again."

De Aquino finished with 18 points and Marlene Talmadge scored a career high 14 points. Donna Brooks tallied eight, Loreli Wells had four and Critchley finished the scoring with two points.

The week started with an away game at Passaic. In that contest, Belleville prevailed, 66-49 with Apicella once again leading the way with 44 points. As has been the case for most of the season, the game was over by halftime. Belleville jumped out to a 20-9 first quarter advantage and extended that lead to 40-23 by halftime.

In addition to Apicella's heroics, De Aquino scored 15 points, Kathy Woods finished with five and Talmadge closed with two points.

"This week is going to be tough," said Fuccello referring to Orange, Kearny and Nutley. "Playing Nutley back to back isn't going to be easy, especially when both games are at night. They knew we would be flat for Clifton because we had played a day earlier (against North Bergen). This is the time of year when the games get a lot tougher."

NET NOTES: Shabazz got the top seed for the Essex County Tournament, followed by Clifford Scott, Irvington and Belleville. Among the teams to watch in the ECT is Vailsburg, with senior Lynn Kennedy. Kennedy and Apicella are in a nip and tuck race for the county scoring crown. Belleville and Orange played in the first round of the ECT in 1981 with Orange an upset winner at Belleville. Last year, Shabazz won the ECT, beating Clifford Scott in the finals. Belleville was eliminated in the second round of the ECT last year by Shabazz. The girls had stopped Bloomfield in the first round.

Grapplers gearing up for sectional matches

By Dino Ibelli

Once again the Belleville grapplers will be heading for the state sectionals as the probable number one seed over Columbia, Morris Knolls, Roxbury, Bloomfield, and Elizabeth. Four of these teams will compete in the semi-finals on Feb. 16 and the finals on the Feb. 19.

The Bucs faced Garfield yesterday and will face Millburn tomorrow in an away match at 3:45 p.m.

Belleville faced Bloomfield this week "half-bald" by beating them 38-15 and upping its record to 10-1.

At 101 pounds, Dom Cerreto tore apart Mark Vicari 22-0 raising his record to 16-1. But Bloomfield came right back with a major victory over Cam Rispoli 11-0 by district champ Paul Siciliano.

At 115 Mike Giuffrida picked up a major decision over Dan Freitag 9-1 and once again Bloomfield came charging back, as Chris Cufari beat Anthony Stefanelli 6-0 to make the score 9-7. It was now time for Belleville.

At 129 Rick De Prizio beat Joe Mattarazzo 3-1 in the best match of the evening. Rick, who is the returning district champ, is gearing up for the tournaments coming up.

In 76 seconds Ron Caruso and Al Henry teamed up for two pins to make the score 24-7.

At 148 junior Jim Meyler drew with Rick Fulipone 6-6. A couple of decisions for Ron Charles and C.C.

Giuliano clinched the victory for the Bucs.

At 188 Gibbons pinned his opponent in the first period. Heavyweight was not as pleasing for the Bucs when Mike Murphy was pinned at 3:29 making Bloomfield's record 8-2.

BUC FACTS: Wrestlers of last week went to Al Henry with three pins and Mike Gibbons with three victories. This week it goes to the freshman team for winning the tournament in Kearny. Also congratulations must be given to Coach Dennis Villano who won his 100th career match against Kearny.

Coaches wanted for softball

The Belleville Recreation Department is seeking coaches for its Girls' Softball Leagues. Women or men interested in coaching a team in the PeeWee League for ages 8-9, Pigtail League for ages 10-12, or in the Junior Girls' League for ages 13-15 are urged to contact the Recreation Department at 759-3121 as soon as possible.

Sportsmanship, basic skills and fun are the objectives of the leagues. Every player on each team who attends required practices will play in every game. Share your interest and knowledge with the youngsters in town.

Heard at ringside

Five Junior Olympic boxers representing the Lou Costello Sportsmen Club performed at the Middletown (N.J.) P.A.L. on Jan. 23. The results were: 85 lbs., Juan Zumiga of Passaic Boys Club WTKO in second round over Hector Sarden of L.C.S.C.; 100 lbs., Elliot Ruiz of L.C.S.C. W-Dec. over Dave Keats of Elizabeth Recreation; Marcelino Cotto of L.C.S.C. W-Dec. over Claudell Smith of Irvington P.A.L.; 125 lbs., Robert Keats of Irvington P.A.L. W-Dec. over Alvin Bruno of L.C.S.C. (The officials rendering the decision of Keats-Bruno bout must have gone to the men's room during the progress. The decision was a flagrant abuse of the rules and fair-play. Bruno toyed with Keats during the other rounds — outslugging and outboxing.) In an exhibition bout Ramon Garoia of L.C.S.C. boxed with Maurice Gatterson of Irvington P.A.L. They were 95 pounders. Bernie Taylor and Joe Kocsis accompanied and worked with the youngsters.

In an NBC "SportsWorld" February boxing feature, top-ranked middleweight Frank "The Animal" Fletcher of Philadelphia risks an upcoming world title shot with a scheduled 12-round United States Boxing Association (USBA) fight versus hard-punching, Wilford Scypion, native of Texas, now of New York, Sun., Feb. 13 (4-6 p.m. NYT) and former junior lightweight titlist Cornelius Boza-Edward native of Uganda, now of Las Vegas via England, meets rising young lightweight contender John Montes of Whittier, Calif. in a scheduled 10-rounder showdown from Las Vegas.

Middleweight Jose Cruz will take time off from his firefighter duties to don the mitts with Tony Denby of Atlantic City in a six-round bout at Hazlet, N.J., on February 25.

Derrick Cuttino, lightweight out of Paterson, will hit the road to Cohoes, N.Y. on Feb. 16 to throw leather with Danny Ferris of Latham, N.Y. in an eight-round.

It is evident the USA/ABF (Amateur Boxing Federation) requires a complete change of officers. 1983 is the second year in which the USA/ABF semi-annual meeting turned into a fiasco. As the USA/ABF could not conduct a meeting (to the officers' delight) the Board of Directors were prevented from any input into the affair of the organization until the annual meeting in September, 1983. The manipulation was accomplished by scheduling the meeting the last day of the tournament in order to discourage a quorum.

Two New Jersey prospective boxing champions will travel to the CYC Arena in Scranton, Pa., Feb. 16, to make their pro debut. They are 135-pounder Eddie Robinson of Paterson, N.J. Robinson will tangle with Matt O'Malley of Scranton. And 156-pounder Mike Dale of Newark will clash with Hector Jamian of Boston. Both will be four-rounders. The Jersey youngsters are busy preparing at Paterson Lou Costello gym.

State heavyweight champion Scott Frank of Oakland, N.J. continued his winning streak, 19-0, by defeating Steve Zouski of Brockton, Mass. on a unanimous 10-round decision at Totowa's Ice World. Zouski now has a 22-5 slate. Judges Paul Cavalier and Charlie Spina voted it 5-4-1. Harold Lederman saw it 7-2-1, all for Frank. The crowd booted at the conclusion of the Frank-Zouski bout. Frank won the close fight according to ringside observers, but not by five rounds as one judge saw it 7-2-1. 5-4-1 was more realistic. Other bout results were: Lightweight Charlie "White Lightning" Brown of North Haledon WTKO in the seventh round over Cookie James of Philadelphia; Light Heavyweight David Sears of Queens, N.Y. WTKO over Pop Nance of Trenton in the fourth round; Cruiserweight John Tyrell of Glen Falls, N.Y. WKO in first round over Marc Fichtner of Boonton; Junior middleweight Danny Mc Elnea of Essex Fells, W-Dec. in four rounds over Jake Riley of Troy, N.Y.

Former outstanding middleweight Jack Benito fought the best from 1934 into 1941, throughout New Jersey and New York. Jack was born in Greenwich Village section of N.Y.C., Feb. 12, 1910. He moved to Newark at an early age, but trained at Lou Stillman's and Billy Grupp's gymnasiums in New York, and was trained by the great lightweight Sammy Vogel. Benito often sparred with Tony Canzoneri, Leo Lomski, Solly Krieger, Jack Renault and Marty Silvers. Included among the 42 bouts (36 won) were: Rudy Marshall, Mickey Ashline, Billy Hayes, Frankie Albano, Jackie Herman, Kid Conlon, Joe Corelli, Paulie Sykes, Frankie Russo, Marlon Benton, Eddie Malleck, Tommy Turancy, Larry Estridge, "Italian" Joe Gans, Willie Harmon and Kid Kavo. He defeated Malleck for the Pennsylvania National Guard title in 1937. As an amateur he had won the New York A.A.U. lightweight crown by a third round K.O. over Sal "Red" Affinito at Madison Square Garden in 1932. Benito is vice president of Newark's Ring 25 and Boxing Hall of Fame. He received the prestigious "Lou Halper Award" in 1972 and inducted into the Hall of Fame 1978.

Promoter/matchmaker Gene Moore, who has always put on exciting boxing shows in small clubs, informs he will promote fights at the spacious Manhattan Center, 34th Street between 8th and 9th Aves. Moore is lining up a card of bouts for the initial program on Feb. 25. His second effort will be March 11.

Eddie Mustafa Muhammad of East Orange, won a unanimous 10-round decision in a lethargic, uninteresting bout with Jerry Celestine of New Orleans, Saturday, at the Sahara in Lake Tahoe. Mustafa, former WBA champion, now ranked No. 1 and Jerry ranked No. 4 are capable of a better performance. In the semi-windup heavyweight Gordy Racette of British Columbia, scored a TKO over Leroy Diggs of Swedesboro, N.J. at 2:44 of the eighth round. Both fighters were in trouble during this slam-bang, drag-out slugfest.

Recreation wrestlers are looking impressive

On Jan. 25 the Belleville Recreation Wrestlers lost a hard fought battle to top ranked West Essex 42-39. Belleville took an early lead building the score 39-18 only to lose the last four bouts, giving West Essex the edge by three-team points.

Registering pins for Belleville were Joe Perna in 35 seconds, Angelo Torromeo in :38, Phil Zamloot in 3:30, Armando Nardone in :23 and Jack Calandra in 2:28. Winning by decision were Anthony Velardo 6-3, John Stampone 8-3 and Mike Kraus 8-4.

On Jan. 27 the Belleville wrestlers displayed their talent by defeating Glen Ridge 50-39. Registering pins for Belleville were Joe Carreto in :20, Mike Kraus in 1:58, Mike Iuliano in :50 and Phil Zamloot in :40. Winning by decision were Joe Perna and Anthony Velardo 14-5.

On Jan. 29 the Belleville grapplers traveled to Livingston to pin 11 out of their 16 opponents and defeat their foe 75-17. Registering pins for Belleville were Joe Perna in :30, Angelo Torromeo in 1:30, Joe Carreto in :45, John Stampone in 1:25, Mike Kraus in :43, Mike Iuliano in 1:55, Phil Zamloot in 2:20, Eric Nazziola in 3:45, Armando Nardone in 2:28, Al Best in 1:55 and Dawson Bloom in :40. Winning by decision was Anthony Velardo 9-2.

Coaches Joe Nisivoccia and Lou Riccardi are very proud of the great improvement their recreation wrestlers have made, especially in their ability to work take downs and pinning combinations. Leading the Belleville squad are Armando Nardone, 112 lbs., with a record of 7-0, Anthony Velardo, 70 lbs., 6-1; Joe Carreto, 75 lbs., 6-1 and Mike Kraus, 85 lbs., 6-1.

Action heating up with rec basketball

This week in the Recreation Men's Basketball League, Ten-Two increased its record to 24-6 by defeating Tobler 64-43. Frank Mauro and Mike Hammond each had 19 points, Kevin Smith also had 14 points. Mike Liloia was high scorer for Tobler with 16 points.

Club 36 East held off the Knicks to keep a perfect 7-0 record 50-48. Anthony Carr and Bernard Cosby each had 15 points. Jeff Smedburg scored 24 points for the Knicks.

Freas & Pat's evened its record at 4-4 by defeating Santini's Pizzeria (3-5) 62-46. Bob Martucci and Gary Bell both scored 23 points for Freas

Try outs set for girls soccer

The Belleville Soccer Association will hold tryouts for its girls' Division 3 soccer team on Feb. 14 at School 10 at 6 p.m. All girls interested who are 12 and 13 years old are asked to call 759-6781 for further information.

Bellboys face tough three-game schedule

quarter because it was not working against the scrappy Buccaners. "Their coach told me later on he took the press off because we were handling it so well," Papisidero said.

In any event, the Bucs look at the East Orange game as a big challenge, and one they feel they can accept.

Last week, Passaic rolled by the Buccaners, outscoring the locals, 41-13 spanning the second and third quarters. Phil Colalillo was limited to four points and junior Dave Boyd was the high scorer with five on the game.

"We started off well in that one," Papisidero said. "We did a good job in holding them to 64 points, but our offense was no where to be found."

Passaic jumped out to an 11-2 lead in the first quarter, but Belleville tallied the last six points of the frame and were in business, 11-8 after one. However, the Indians took command in the second frame, outscoring Belleville, 21-8 to take command at the half. The third quarter was more of the same with the visitors outshooting the home team, 20-5. By the fourth quarter, it was bench clearing time.

Despite the big loss, Belleville came back tough last Friday evening, stopping conference rival Clifton, 65-60 for the second time this year. In this contest, Colalillo was back on track, hitting for 35 points on 15 of 23 shooting from the floor. Boyd, once again, was impressive, tallying nine points while John Healy and Lenny Russo finished with six points each.

"The kids were fired up, we wanted that ball game," Papisidero said. "We kept control throughout the second half after building up a nine point lead at intermission. Hovering around the .500 mark this late into the season is certainly a good sign for our program. I'm really psyched for this week."

Another thing that Papisidero is happy about is that Belleville has qualified for the Group IV, Section II playoffs. Only 12 schools from that section qualified this year, a rather low figure, and Papisidero is pleased that his team is one of the schools involved. "It says a lot about our kids, we are glad to have a shot at the state tourney as well."

NET NOTES: Clifford Scott was the number one seed in the ECT, followed by Irvington, Montclair, Seton Hall Prep, Shabazz, Columbia, West Orange and Newark Central. Montclair is the defending champion, whipping Shabazz, 76-42 in the finals last year. East Orange won the tourney in 1981 and captured five straight from 1973-77. Belleville won the first Essex County Tournament 25 years ago. Believe it or not, Bloomfield was one of the teams seeded in the tourney despite the fact they have lost to Belleville twice during the season. Does the fact that Bengal coach Dick Niblett works on the seeding committee have anything to do with that? Nevertheless, the Bengals play Shabazz in the opening round. The Bucs will play Morristown in the first round of the state tourney in early March.

Speaking of Bloomfield, a rather ridiculous headline appeared in the Bloomfield LIFE about a Belleville-Bloomfield girls' basketball game two weeks ago. The headline read, "Lady Bengals whip Nutley after loss to Jennifer's Team." That type of sarcasm is not necessary and is totally unprofessional. The Belleville girls' basketball team is a group of five players, not one. The chances are that Bloomfield would have beaten Belleville had Jennifer played the Bengals one on five. Petty jealousy over a player's talents is busch league and shows a great deal of immaturity.

Soccer Association scoring big victories

At Wayne PAL, Belleville Soccer Association Division 1 scored a 9-2 win over Cedar Grove. Goalie Fred Wendelkin was impressive in a fast moving game. Scoring from Carlos Kingalahu and Mike Van Emburgh with three goals each was the punch needed. Joe Hulley scored twice and Osvaldo Stesenon added one. The defensive standouts were Jamie Lijo, Carl Hauschild and Ed Chafar.

The Belleville Flash, sponsored by Casa Polizzi, Chandelier and Pro Lumber, received a forfeit from Vistola at Wayne PAL and stand 2-1-1.

Cougar-Adidas Invitational in South Orange saw the Belleville Americans lose a heartbreaker to Phoenix in Division 4 play. The Americans, sponsored by De Bacco Bros. Sporting Goods, took an early 1-0 lead on a goal from Ronnie DePiro on a back wall pass by Rich Searls. Phoenix got the breaks when a clearing kick took a bad bounce off the ceiling into an American player and was headed in by Phoenix. The final goal was late in the game and Phoenix walked off with a 2-1 victory. Strong play in goal by Steve Tice kept the game close. Aggressive defensive play by John Scorchiola and Anthony Zarillo stood out in this game.

At Bergenfield Indoor Tournament the undefeated Belleville Kings scored a 9-2 win over Hoboken. With the score at halftime 3-2 Belleville, the determined Kings scored six unanswered goals to show their dominance. Jack Conde in goal was again an outstanding player. Scoring came from all around. Steve Hywell, Mike Peloso and Jose Tabarez banged in two each while Alex Araya, Walter Capazucca, and Oscar Valeira added one each. In this game Belleville was on the ropes in the first half but the cream came to the top in the final score.

Standings are as follows:

"A" Division
Netters	5-0
Jammers	3-2
Set Ups	2-3

Applications available for Rec sports activities

The Belleville Recreation Department has announced that applications for all recreation baseball and softball leagues for Belleville children ages 8 through 15 are now available in each public and parochial school, as well as at the Recreation House.

Children who are 8 years old before August 1, 1983 and who will not be 13 before July 31, 1983 are eligible for organized baseball in either the Peanut, Junior or Little Leagues.

Those children wishing to try out for Little League must completely fill out their applications and return them to their schools by Friday, March 4, 1983. Those preferring to play in either the Peanut or Junior Leagues must completely fill out their applications and return them in person to the Recreation Department at 407 Joralemon St. before March 18, 1983 with their birth certificates.

Applications for girls' softball and senior/intermediate baseball are also available. Girls 8 years old on August 1, 1983 and whose 10th birthday falls after July 31, 1983 are eligible for Pee Wee League softball; girls 10 years old on August 1, 1983 and whose 13th birthday falls after July 31, 1983 are eligible for Pigtail League softball; and girls 13 years old on August 1, 1983 and whose 16th birthday falls after July 31, 1983 are eligible for Junior League softball. High school freshman or jayvee team players are not eligible, however. All applications must be returned to the Rec House with birth certificates by Friday, March 18, 1983.

Boys ages 13 through 15 on July 31, 1983 are eligible for Intermediate or Senior League baseball. All applications must be returned with birth certificates to the Rec House by March 18, 1983. Boys who are playing organized high school ball are not eligible, however.

In all cases, the applications must be completed in full and signed by a parent, and all returning players must re-apply. Applications accepted after the March 18 deadline will be considered late and will be treated accordingly. The Rec House hours for baseball-softball registration are Monday-Friday 8:30 a.m.-noon and 1 p.m.-4 p.m. The office will also be open one night a week for registration — call 759-3121 for time and day. All children attending required practices will play in every game. Our leagues stress sportsmanship, basic skills and fun.

High school boys who are not involved in interscholastic baseball nor the recreation baseball leagues and who would be interested in playing Senior League softball are urged to contact the Recreation Department for more information.

Throckmorton Announces Engage-A-Car Brokerage

R.C. Throckmorton has opened Engage-A-Car Brokerage at 215 Fairview Ave., Verona. The company will lease new cars, vans and light trucks — foreign and domestic — to individuals and firms.

Throckmorton says Engage-A-Car differs from other programs in that "it combines the best features of both open and closed-end leasing and introduces additional benefits. The customer is able to obtain the exact vehicle he or she wants with no down payment and lower monthly payments.

A Protection Plan Option offers clients a "no-lose opportunity," says the company president. "If, at the end of their 'engagement' period, the used car market is up he has the right to dispose of the car on his own and he is welcome to pocket all the profits. On the other hand, if the market is down, he can simply exercise his option to return the car and walk away," he explained.

"With the cost of new cars skyrocketing, something had to be developed to help the motoring public," Throckmorton says. "The answer is Engage-A-Car. The reason for the low monthly payments is that with our method the future trade-in value of the new car is deducted in advance and we are able to dramatically reduce the monthly payments. If the book says your $7,000 car will be worth $3,000 at the end of three years, we deduct that $3,000 immediately. That means your monthly payments have to be lower. The customer can utilize the funds he would have normally put into a down payment — for vacations, appliances, home remodeling or any worthwhile purpose."

A 12-page brochure, "Engage-A-Car...The Modern Answer to Soaring New Car Costs," may be obtained by writing R. C. Throckmorton, 215 Fairview Ave., Verona 07044 or by calling 239-3337.

Prized silver collection At Montclair

The Edward Whitney Collection of more than 100 pieces of antique English, Irish, Scottish and French silver — not shown since 1977 — is on view for five months at the Montclair Art Museum, 3 South Mountain Ave.

Displayed dramatically in illuminated cases, the objects gleam brilliantly against black velvet backgrounds, showing their fine design features to great advantage.

The collection was given to the Museum by Whitney in memory of Grace Kerruish Whitney. It includes British examples from the reigns of Charles I (1625-1649) through George IV (1820-1829) and French examples from the reigns of Louis XIII (1610-1643) through Louis XVI (1774-1793).

While the work of London silversmiths dominate, both Edinburgh and Dublin are represented. French examples represent the work of silversmiths from Orleans, Nantes and Paris.

Pieces include a rare George I Irish octagonal; a ball-shaped tea pot made by Jonathan Hamilton of Dublin, 1918; a William III silver tripod bleeding bowl by Jonathan Downes of London, 1699, and a George III silver tea service, possibly by T.W. Matthews of London, 1789-1799.

Exhibited for the first time are three pieces — a silver cream cup, 1736; an English coffee pot, London, 1733, and a silver tea tray, 1795 — that are recent gifts of Walter Remmers.

The silver is complemented by 10th Century British paintings by Peter Lely, George Romney, Cornelius Johnson, Sir Henry Raeburn and Thomas Hudson. There are mezzotints by Reynolds, Hoppner, Lawrence and Van Dyke and works by two American artists, Benjamin West and Gilbert Stuart.

The exhibition will continue through June 19. Museum hours are Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. Admission is free.

Several programs are scheduled in conjunction with the Whitney Collection exhibit.

There will be a gallery talk by Roy Davis at 3 p.m. Sunday, February 20. New Jersey silversmith Ubaldo Vitali will give a lecture-demonstration at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, February 27. With the help of several assistants, he will demonstrate techniques required to reproduce an elaborate coffee server from the Whitney Collection.

Weight Trimmers more than just a restaurant

When Ron Regen and Marge Regen (Mom) created Weight Trimmers Restaurant, it was more than a business venture. It was also a cause.

Founded by Marge Regen in Fort Lee in 1958, Weight Trimmers was conceived as a program that would serve the needs of individuals throughout a wide area. Now there are 33 weight reducing locations including five for industry.

Based on New York City's Board of Health program of no sodium, no fat, no sugar and exercise, the concept includes an element of Behavior Modification to change dietary habits. It is also ideal for people who suffer from Diabetes, Hypoglycemia and heart problems.

Weight Trimmers Restaurant was opened nearly seven years ago and it has served a dual purpose... fine cuisine with a special emphasis on good health. All employees are trained in the Weight Trimmers program.

When the restaurant first opened, more than 90 percent of its patrons were on the program. In fact, that's why it was established... to give people on diets a place to eat out while still observing the dietary principles of the program. Today, however, less than half the customers are on the Weight Trimmers program and regular diners have found it a fascinating place to enjoy a good meal in a highly stimulating setting.

All food at Weight Trimmers Restaurant is "normal" but it is all baked, broiled or microwaved. No sodium, fat or sugar and calorie counting is permitted.

With specialties such as Veal Salisbury Steak, Veal Sausage Parmigian, Hot Turkey Breast Platter, Lobster Salad Bowl and, of all things, Veal Cordon Bleu, the menu reads like anything but a weight-trimmer's paradise. But these and other dishes have been created with a special emphasis on healthfulness which is the reason for such loyalty among customers.

Adjoining the restaurant is a Weight Trimmers retail diet store. All ice cream is made in Mine Hill while the frozen foods are packaged in New York. Bakery goods are a product of New Jersey.

Ron Regen, who serves as president of Weight Trimmers, Inc., quit his job in New York City to join Weight Trimmers in 1979.

Weight Trimmers holds fashion shows and has an annual Christmas Party complete with Santa.

Weight Trimmers is opening three restaurant franchises this spring. They will be in Morristown, Parsippany and Livingston. All will follow the principles of the original Weight Trimmers Restaurant.

John Dailey

The chief officers of First DeWitt Savings and Loan report the nation's savings and loan associations, many of which during the past two years

Savings and loan associations in stronger shape, says DeWitt were victimized by soaring interest rates and forced mergers, are healthier now and in stronger shape.

The optimistic report comes from John Dailey, board chairman, and Henrik Tvedt, president. First DeWitt has seven offices in Belleville, Bloomfield, Cedar Grove and Hopatcong.

"The sharp decline in interest rates during the latter half of 1982 stemmed the tide for the industry," says Dailey, "and while many associations still face problems, it is anticipated that 1983 will be a year in which they will return to profitability. However, further challenges are expected as banking practices become more competitive."

Problems in the industry came when it had to offer higher rates to attract and retain deposits than it was earning on investments which were mainly long term low interest mortgages made years ago. Tvedt pointed out.

"Now that short term rates are approximately five points below their level at mid-1982, things are considerably brighter," says Tvedt. "The field is undergoing basic changes that portend better things through broader powers for savings and loans. For instance, a landmark law, the Additional Powers Act of 1982, permits thrift associations to work with new financial tools and services. They will be able to make commercial loans and act more like commercial banks in addition to fulfilling their historic role of being the nation's main provider of home mortgage money and financing the housing industry," says Tvedt.

"Recent legislation that permits us to compete with money market funds gives new flexibility to the industry and the opportunity to prevent further draining of funds to outside sources," says the First DeWitt president.

Dailey and Tvedt say that while the industry itself has been troubled recently, First DeWitt in strong contrast, had another good year in 1982, continuing a long term tradition of strength and growth supported by continued confidence of its depositors.

"It appears we have again bucked the trend judging by the usual benchmarks used to measure the progress of thrift institutions," First DeWitt's chief officers say. "Our reserves of over $10,000 are substantially in excess of minimum federal regulation. Our liquidity of $53 million is way above most associations our size and our assets have grown 25 percent to $235 million. In addition, we paid out to our depositors over $19.5 million in interest.

"The decline in interest rates has stabilized our costs of funds resulting in improved earnings during the last quarter of 1982," the two men said. "All in all, we have many reasons for optimism and we look forward to a more favorable climate for First DeWitt and the entire savings and loan field during 1983 and the rest of the decade.

Henrik Tvedt

Shaklee Slim Plan — scientifically tested

A clinically tested, scientifically advanced weight control program is available from Shaklee Corporation. The Shaklee Slim Plan is completely safe and comprehensive, resulting from years of collaboration between Shaklee scientists and some of the nation's leading weight control authorities.

The Slim Plan, unlike many weight loss programs, has been tested and proven safe and effective for weight loss in real-life situations, the company says. It features a unique 210 calorie drink mix which is convenient to use and nutritionally balanced.

Mixed with water, the Shaklee Slim Plan drink mix is a complete "meal in a pouch" which may be consumed anywhere, anytime. Three servings per day, totaling 630 calories, provide more than 100 percent of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance (U.S. RDA) for all essential vitamins and minerals and more than 100 percent of the U.S. RDA for protein. Available in natural vanilla and natural cocoa flavors, the Shaklee Slim Plan mix contains no artificial flavors or sweeteners and no added preservatives or colors.

The Slim Plan includes a five-day plan for losing a few pounds quickly and easily and a comprehensive eight-week program for learning about food choices. The plan incorporates an exercise program, behavior modification and meal plans. Low-calorie recipes, developed by the award-winning Maggie's Kitchen of San Francisco, are included.

The comprehensiveness and safety of the Slim Plan, Shaklee scientists believe, further distinguish it from other diet plans. The Slim Plan, they point out, enables dieters to learn to keep weight off as well as lost it — permanently.

The Shaklee Slim Plan is available only from independent Shaklee distributors who market products through the direct sales business opportunity.

The products can be purchased through Carol and Bob LaVecchia, 363 Hillside Ave., Nutley (284-0652); K & H Associates, 446 River Rd., Nutley (661-1544); J & M Jones, 11 Monroe St., Nutley (667-8530); and R.J. Smythe (774-8522).

Shaklee Corporation is a Fortune 500 company listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Shaklee manufactures and distributes nutritional, household and personal care products. Each product exemplifies the company's commitment to quality and harmony with nature and each is backed by an unconditional guarantee.

Shaklee products are sold to consumers by an independent sales force through distributors in a 50 states, Japan, Canada, Germany and the United Kingdom.

Area residents happy with decision

Zoning Board members unanimously deny extension of auto body shop

By Linda Telesco

A township neighborhood won a victory of sorts last week when the Zoning Board unanimously denied an area businessman permission to extend his auto body shop in the mostly residential location.

Concluding a case that began last October, the board rejected 8-0 Tuesday, Remo DiPopolo's application to construct a 17 x 26 addition in his yard in order to accommodate a spray booth for car painting at the premises of Remo's Auto Body on 10 Oakwood Ave.

Ironically, the applicant sought to extend an addition of the building that is already an existing violation, having been constructed without local approval in 1979.

That fact and the complaints of 14 area objectors weighed heavily with the Zoners.

"The neighborhood cannot accommodate a modern auto body shop," said board Chairman Joel Pisano. Although he recognized "the auto body shop has a right to exist there," the chairman thought the proposed addition would negatively system and improvement of facilities."

DiStasi has also been involved in numerous activities throughout the community. He is a member of the Varsity Club, The Matthew Pica Civic Association, The Michael Marotti Civic Association, financial chairman of the Blue and Gold Half-timers, trustee of the Craig Fund, Lector at St. Peter's Church, committee chairman of Cub Pack 301, coach of recreation baseball and has served twice as president of the Belleville Music Parents Association.

He is presently deputy commissioner of the Belleville Police Department and serves as a member of the Zoning Board.

He is married to the former Bridget Ascolese, an elementary teacher in the Belleville system since 1970. They are the parents of two sons, Robert who attends William Paterson College, and Michael, a senior at Belleville High School.

A graduate of Pace University with a Bachelor of Science degree in accounting and business administration, DiStasi is manager of taxes for the firm of Stone & Webster Incorporated, New York City. Among his professional affiliations is member of the Tax Executive Institute, New Jersey Taxpayers Association, and the Institute of Property Taxation.

The campaign will commence with a meeting at the Amvets Building on Newark Avenue, March 5, at 7 p.m.

intensify the site use.

The board's decision came as a relief to concerned area residents who testified at the hearing that the shop's activity infringed on the residential quality of life in the area with noise, pollution, unaesthetic appearance, and monopoly of scarce street parking.

Citizens' attorney, Allen Marra of Millburn, contended Remo's was not even an existing permitted use since the previous occupant of the premises operated a small repair garage, not a body shop.

Judge will make ruling on ailing Belleville woman

By Phil White

Nutley attorney William Strasser is scheduled to appear before the N.J. Supreme Court next month on a precedent-setting case involving a petition to remove a nasal-gastric feeding tube from an 84-year-old Belleville woman, hopelessly ill and semi-comatose in a Bloomfield nursing home.

"There is no possibility for Clare Conroy to return to what the Karen Quinlan decision referred to as 'a cognitant and sapient life,'" Strasser says. He is representing Conroy's nephew and guardian, Thomas Wittemore.

Strasser convinced Superior Court Judge Reginald Stanton last Wednesday that the tube be disconnected as an "extraordinary" means of supporting a life that has "become impossible and permanently burdensome for her."

Judge Stanton, however, stayed his order to permit a court-appointed attorney for Mrs. Conroy to file an appeal. That was done on Friday and March 8 was set for the hearing. Strasser on Monday went directly to the N.J. Supreme Court asking that the appeal be heard immediately, but the court denied that request and set March 8 for the hearing.

The legal debate is being widely publicized because Mrs. Conroy is not expected to survive more than a few days once the nasal-gastric tube is removed.

The woman is suffering from organic brain syndrome and lies motionless in a fetal position.

"She remains awake with her eyes open, but there is no higher brain function beyond that," Strasser says.

The Nutley attorney, with the firm of Donohue, Donohue, Costenbader and Strasser, admits he had personal reservations at the start of the case.

"But as I continued to do research, the conviction solidified for me that no human being should be subjected to the state of existence in which Clare Conroy is right now.

Residents testified last week the previous business had not been objectionable, but said since Remo's moved in March 1978, the operation became a nuisance and even a health hazard with the fumes from the paint spray.

DiPopolo's attorney, Robert Gaccione of Belleville, argued the objectors would hurt themselves if the application were denied since the booth is designed to reduce most of the paint fumes.

"My client just wants to keep the peace," said Gaccione in the first hearing last October. At that time, Remo DiPopolo testified that he had had many complaints from residents since he bought the business nearly five years ago.

On recommendation from the Suburban Regional Health Agency, an independent East Orange organization under contract to the Belleville Health Department, DiPopolo purchased a spray booth to control fumes but found he could not fit it onto his premises in a suitable location without an addition.

"I have the booth in storage now until I get the board's approval," said DiPopolo who had assured the Zoners that having the booth would not increase his business volume — a fear voiced by residents.

In fact, the businessman said he plans to sell his present operation and seek a larger garage elsewhere. The contract of sale, he said, is contingent upon getting the booth approval.

According to October testimony by the director of the health agency, John Farley, the booth would control 95 percent of escaping fumes and benefit both the shop employees and the area residents.

Farley also noted once the booth was approved by Zoners, Remo's must file for a permit with the state Department of Environmental Protection.

However, the objectors' lawyer argued there was still some five percent of fumes to deal with and cautioned the board against approving a device "you don't even know is accepted by the state yet," particularly since installation would require adding a smokestack.

Marra urged the zoners to "take care of these people because the state doesn't care about them. They're your people."

Valentine's Day is a day for love and merchants

Europe in elaborate fashion. Ten years later, Ester Howland, the daughter of a stationer in Worcester, Mass. imported satin, lace, ribbon and other fine quality supplies and began to design and market commercial valentines in the U.S. The intricately designed sentimental verses became so popular that Howland employed a staff to fashion them. Soon three dimensional features and honey comb pop outs were created along with and graphics such as turtledoves, love knots and cupids with bows and arrows began to enter the market. There were even mechanical valentines available.

Church ladies society celebrates anniversary

The Ladies Aid Society of the Belleville Reformed Church celebrated its 85th anniversary last week, with a dinner held in the church hall.

The society, which held its first meeting on Feb. 2, 1898, has been involved in the care of the church and parsonage property and any other church work which the society members may determine upon.

Back in December of 1897, women members met with Rev. Andrew Hageman, pastor of the church, in hopes of forming a Ladies Aid society.

Rev. Hageman explained the necessity of such an organization and a committee was appointed to draw up rules and regulations for the society. It was agreed to make the initiation fee 25 cents and the regular dues at least 10 cents a month.

After several meetings with Rev. Hageman, the society held its first meeting on Feb. 2, 1898 and adopted a constitution and by-laws.

"There have been many women through the years who have worked diligently, attended faithfully, contributed time, talents and money in the aid and care of the Church in the Valley," said Isabel Wittlinger, president of the society.

Other officers of the society are, Helen Morrell, treasurer; Catherine Mingles, secretary and Ann Tutsch, sunshine.

GIACOMO NOVIELLI

Novielli Named
Provident Officer

Kenneth F.X. Albers, president of the Provident Savings Bank, has announced the appointment of Giacomo Novielli to the position of Assistant Secretary. He is an Assistant Manager at the Bergen-Journal Square Office.

A Bayonne resident, Novielli joined Provident in 1977 as a part-time teller, becoming a full time member of the bank's Management Potential Group in 1981.

A graduate of Bayonne High School, Novielli was named to Who's Who in American High School Students in 1977 and received a Bachelor of Science Degree from St. Peter's College in 1981.

Samuel Crandell

Overcome your fear of public speaking

The fear of public speaking is reportedly the No. 1 fear of millions of Americans. This "fear" is proved in survey after survey which shows that Americans in general are "just plain scared stiff" by getting up and speaking in front of people.

Help is at hand for those persons, with the idea originating with a Bloomfield man. Power/Speak, a recently offered book, offers a completely new approach to the teaching of public speaking. Samuel Crandell is founder of Power/Speak and author of the book.

"We felt the traditional method of teaching public speaking — having the learner write the speech from scratch — did not allow enough practice in the most critical area of speech-making, its delivery," said Crandell. "We felt we had to come up with a method of instruction which overcame the great obstacle of writing a speech from the very beginning. We wrestled with this problem for years before the very simple answer occurred to us. We would write the speeches for the learner."

Power/Speak uses several unique methods. First, all of the practice speeches — 101 in all — are pre-written and a part of the course material given the learner.

Second, an original verbal exercise, "Power/Express," is performed in unison by the entire class at the beginning of each meeting. The exercise helps "stretch our expressive muscles," says Crandell, "so we have a greater range of expressiveness."

A simple but effective at-home assignment, "Power/Builders," complements the class work and allows a person to practice skills learned in class.

A Power/Speak class will begin in Bloomfield March 3 and run for 12 weeks. For a free brochure, call 743-1077. Crandell also conducts in-company courses upon request.

Diet Center
Holding Class

The Diet Center of Nutley, located at 166 Chestnut St., Nutley, will be holding a nutritional behavior class Feb. 10, at 7 p.m. The topic is "Basic Nutrition," and will include a discussion on vitamins, minerals, and nutrients, and what is a healthy well-balanced diet. The public is welcome to attend. For further information please call 667-8446.
