Commissioner Senatore Will Not Seek Re-election Plans to Remain Involved in Local Politics

By Ed Capparucci

Commissioner Mary V. Senatore has announced this week that she will not seek a fifth term on the Belleville Board of Commissioners, in order to "re-direct" her priorities in life.

"After giving up the best 16 years of my life," Mrs. Senatore said in an interview with The Times on Monday, "I have decided that I have had enough. I need more time to spend with my family and especially my grandson."

Mrs. Senatore, the only woman ever to serve on the Belleville Board of Commissioners, has been flirting with the idea of seeking a fifth term for the past two months. But after a weekend of discussions with her family, Mrs. Senatore said, "I knew what I had to do."

"This is a very difficult decision for me to make," Mrs. Senatore said. "I have given a lot to this community and I am proud to have had the chance to serve."

"There are many friends of mine who disagree with my decision and tried to change my mind," she continued. "But at the moment my health is back and God has been very good to me. Now is the time to go out, but it is a very sad time for me."

Mrs. Senatore was first elected to the Board of Commissioners in May of 1967. In that same year she also was instrumental in helping to change the town government from a council form to a commission style.

"When we had a council form of government, I felt that the people did not have a direct route to those people in charge," Senatore said. "With a commission form of government, citizens know who is in charge in case there are any problems."

Before becoming a commissioner Mrs. Senatore served on the town's Board of Adjustment for three years, including two as the board's chairman.

For the past 25 years she has served as Township Democratic Chairman, a position which she says she wants to remain active in.

"One of my top priorities will be to make Belleville a better Democratic community," she said. "I will put all my energy into strengthening the Democratic party here. That is where I first started my political career."

Mrs. Senatore was re-elected in 1971 when she placed second in the race gathering over 5,400 votes, which saw 14 candidates in the running. Mrs. Senatore also made a fine show in the 1975 election, but finished a disappointing fifth in 1979.

Mrs. Senatore has also played a major part in county politics including serving as secretary of the Essex County Planning Board for 13 years and serving one term as Essex County Democratic vice chairlady.

"I will also be spending a great deal of time involved in county affairs," Mrs. Senatore said. "Especially with the county Planning Board."

With all four other incumbents, Mayor Michael Marotti, Commissioners Vincent Strumolo, Joseph McGreevy and Matthew Pica, in the race, there will be one vacant seat to be filled on Election Day, which is scheduled for May 10.

Among the other candidates who have filed thus far are, Michael Pizzi, Joseph Fornarotto and Joseph Grande.

McGreevy and Grande File For Race As Field Reaches Seven Candidates

Incumbent Commissioner Joseph McGreevy, local official Joseph Grande, and activist resident Michael Pizzi, all formally filed as candidates for the May 10 Board of Commissioners election.

They join four other declared candidates to date, including incumbents Mayor Michael Marotti, Commissioners Matthew Pica and Vincent Strumolo, and local activist Joseph Fornarotto.

Adding to the drama of the races, Commissioner Mary Senatore announced Monday she will not run again, making her the only incumbent not seeking re-election.

With a March 24 deadline for filing candidacy, Senatore's decision will assure strong competition for at least one new face on the panel.

Seeking his fifth term on the board, McGreevy said his priority is to keep the town on a pay-as-we-go basis and to improve the condition of Washington Avenue.

As head of Belleville's Revenue and Finance Department, McGreevy is proud of the township's current debt-free status. "There are not many other communities around that can make that claim," he said.

First elected commissioner in 1967, McGreevy said he pledged to clear the township of its debts and kept that promise.

"Through strict fiscal management, Belleville officially attained debt free status on March 23, 1971," he said.

A resident of Cleveland Street where he also owns McGreevy's Bar, the finance commissioner will hold his campaign kick-off at the Bridge Street Knights of Columbus Hall at 8 p.m. on March 23, the anniversary of what he considers his strongest achievement as commissioner.

Also joining the race is another long-time public figure, Joseph Grande.

A lifelong resident of Belleville, Grande has served on the township's Planning Board for the past 16 years and as its chairman for 12 years.

"I'm proud to say that Belleville has one of the finest planning boards in the state," said Grande Monday, noting that his experience on that panel made him "aware of the needs of Belleville."

Specifically, Grande targeted as

Hearing Tonight

Trustees Working To Trim Budget

Members of the Board of Education's budget committee are continuing to make cuts to help alleviate a $310,000 reduction in state aid before tonight's public hearing on the $16.2 million budget.

The hearing is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the board's administrative offices at 190 Cortlandt St.

The budget committee, which consists of Thomas Spillane, John DiStasi, Grace Purdue and school administrators, have met several times since Sunday in an attempt to bring the budget back to its original zero tax base. But it is likely that when the board introduces its budget tonight, taxpayers may face an increase in taxes.

"So far we have not come up with the necessary cuts to bring the budget back to a zero tax line for this year," said Spillane, who is serving as chairman of the budget committee. "We are not where we would like to be, but we are not done yet."

The School Board introduced its $16.2 million budget back on Jan. 19. At the time the trustees proudly pointed out that for the second consecutive year the budget called for no tax increase. But later that week the trustees were informed of the state's $310,000 reduction in school aid, thus causing major concern for all the board members.

"The news of the state cuts was very upsetting to all the board members," said board President John DiStasi, when he announced the cuts back in February. "We will do everything possible to bring the budget back in line, but we may have to eat our words."

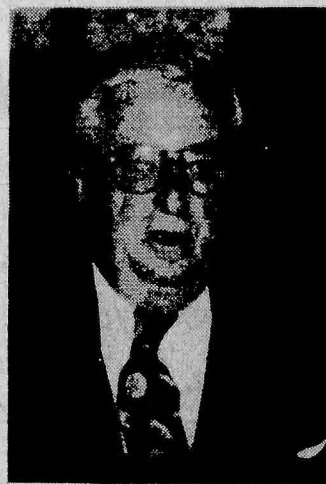

While the budget committee has not commented on the areas in which cuts will be made, one trustee has presented proposed budget cuts, which will make up the state reduction.

"It is my belief that with the

Overeaters Helps People Watch The Weight Problem

By Linda Telesco

Are you obsessed with thoughts of food? Do you eat even when you are not hungry or when depressed? Are you guilty, secretive, or dishonest about your preoccupation with food?

Those are all symptoms of compulsive eating and can be controlled, according to Overeaters Anonymous, a nationwide self-help group with a chapter newly established at Clara Maass Hospital.

The group meets every Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital's Nurse's Residence on Franklin Avenue and welcomes anyone with an eating problem to attend.

"The only requirement for joining OA is to be a compulsive eater," said a group member who asked to remain anonymous in accordance with the principles of the group.

Based on precepts similar to those of Alcoholics Anonymous, OA recognizes compulsive eating as a sickness, incurable but controllable on a day-to-day basis.

"It's not what you eat but what's eating you," said the OA member in an interview describing the group's philosophy that compulsive eaters are driven by mental and psychological pressures, not by gluttony.

Chronic overeaters often find themselves in a vicious circle where they eat to relieve anxiety then feel guilty and ashamed about eating which often drives them right back to food for consolation.

Many overeaters find themselves resorting to such practices as hiding forbidden food so they can eat privately or arranging their normal activities around their food obsession and permitting that need to dominate their lives.

To make matters worse, compulsive eaters find little sympathy from society which remains intolerant of the "foodaholic."

"OA is a non-judgmental fellowship of people who come together to discuss their problems with eating and find support from others with the same problems," said the OA member.

There are no professional advisors or counselors at the sessions, she noted, explaining that OA is a completely anonymous self-help group where members rely on internal support systems.

At the first meeting, a new member will learn about the different "tools" compulsive eaters use to get well. "The new person will choose a food plan he thinks he can live with and then be assigned to a sponsor who will help him or her to follow that plan," said the member.

In effect, the road to recovery is traveled one day at a time. The overeater commits himself to follow the chosen food plan for a given day. Each day thereafter, the commitment is renewed to the sponsor.

Because most overeaters find long-term "diets" intimidating or overwhelming, OA stresses the motto "I am going to abstain from overeating just for today." With that goal more attainable, the compulsive eater renews his vow to abstain each day, never thinking so far ahead he may despair.

Members who do not keep their commitments may choose during a meeting to discuss their weakness publicly. "Nobody passes judgment. We speak openly so that those who identify with eating problems can recognize they are not alone in this," said the member.

In addition to the regular sessions, OA also operates regular seminars on topics related to compulsive eating and its accompanying health problems such as overweight, high blood pressure, and negative state of mind.

The organization also publishes a newsletter providing members with encouragement and advice as well as with hot-line phone numbers to dial for help when in need of support.

A completely self-supporting group, OA is not affiliated with any sect, religious denomination, political viewpoint, or institution, the member said, stressing that the Belleville chapter only rents its space from Clara Maass Hospital.

There are no required fees for membership, but donations are welcomed to defray the routine costs of rental space and providing literature.

Block Tax Tip

Cars and Taxes

By Bert Tobia

Taxpayers who use their personal automobiles for business, charitable work, medical transportation, or to move their family or household may be eligible for a mileage deduction. Three different rates per mile may apply, depending on the purpose of the trip.

For certain taxpayers who use their automobiles for business, employment, work-related educational pursuits, or transportation between jobs, the IRS allows an income tax deduction of 20 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles and 11 cents a mile thereafter. The 11 cent rate is also used for automobiles that are fully depreciated. According to IRS, a car is fully depreciated after 60,000 business miles at the maximum rate.

IRS allows a deduction of nine cents a mile when a car is used for charitable work, such as church work, soliciting for charitable foundations, and similar qualified errands.

The nine cents a mile deduction also applies whenever the taxpayer uses his automobile for medical, dental, and hospital transportation, or, more simply stated, to and from the doctors' offices or to and from the hospital.

The IRS standard rate for computing deductions for family and household moving expenses is also nine cents a mile.

County Summer Jobs Are Available Now

Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro has announced that applications for summer jobs for low-income youth are available at the guidance office of public schools throughout Essex County.

Young people from low-income families between the ages of 14 and 21, who meet certain income criteria, are eligible to apply for the county's Summer Youth Employment Program (SYEP), which this year will place more than 1,400 young people in jobs as recreation aides, health care aides, child care workers, clerical assistants, camp counselors, greens keepers and library assistants.

Both students and out-of-school youth in all Essex County municipalities are eligible to apply for the county program.

Participants will work a maximum of 25 hours a week for eight weeks and will be paid the federal minimum wage.

Each participant in the program will receive one week of classroom instruction which will introduce the participant to the business world and provide training on how to find, get and keep a job.

Young people who wish to apply for the SYEP program should contact their school guidance counselor directly.

Persons wishing further information about the SYEP program are asked to call the SYEP hotline at 676-4040.

Parents Are People Too

'Toughlove' Philosophy Helps Parents In Dealing With Children and Guilt

By Suzi Hedrick

Problems with their children range from insolence to criminal convictions, but for parents who believe in "ToughLove" there is the common thread of concern and a need for help in dealing with their children from the age of nine to 23.

"It took a long time to get rid of the guilts," comments Maureen Devries who has followed the "ToughLove" philosophy for two years. "I looked at my other kids and saw that they were doing fine. I raised each of them; so the problem with the one boy couldn't be all my fault."

Getting rid of the "guilts" is an important step for parents involved in "ToughLove" but it isn't everything. Attending weekly meetings with other parents of troublesome children, parents learn a philosophy that advocates children take responsibilities for their actions.

"We do love our children. A lot of parents think that we want to throw them out into the street when problems come up. That's not true," says "ToughLove" parent Joan Diacheysn. "We simply want them to see what they've done wrong and the problems that behavior has created. We want to help them."

Must Not Endure

The "ToughLove" philosophy does allow and encourage parents to explain to problem children that loving them does not mean enduring their social behavior. A local network of parents is even set up to deal with a child whose parents can no longer deal calmly and effectively with him or her.

The parents' network allows an emotional adult to step back from a child's problem without abandoning it. In the case of an 18-year-old boy we will call Randy to preserve his family's privacy, his parents refused to see him when he was arrested on burglary charges. Randy had been in trouble before and this time his parents decided not to intercede, to "let the kid take the rap." Members of the "ToughLove" parent network were called on to visit Randy and bring him clothes, toilet items and other things he might need while in jail. They also told Randy calmly that he had caused his parents a great deal of pain and that he should try to understand that what he did was wrong, not only in his parents' eyes but also from society's point of view.

Later, when Randy's parents calmed down, they were able to talk with their son. Randy seemed more receptive to his parents' words because they were not spit out in anger and frustration but were spoken evenly and with forethought.

Peer Group

Much of the thought and planning behind those parents' conversation with their son was done during the "ToughLove" meetings. "This is our peer group. We have the same problems, the same desire to share things. We need support and this is where we get it," Mrs. Diacheysn explained during a luncheon meeting of the Nutley United Council. "If you came to a meeting to talk about your child, we would listen to the story and then make suggestions on what should be done. You make your own decisions. We are not professionals.

We are sort of a rap session group for parents with problems."

Although there are no professionals attending the weekly meetings, the "ToughLove" philosophy was originally charted by therapists David and Phyllis York. The Yorks attend meetings in spirit only through a TV-Guide sized pamphlet that outlines their philosophy. They also point out that "ToughLove" is not an organization, but a philosophy.

Facing Responsibilities

The philosophy says basically that a parent can love his child by making him face up to responsibilities and by using a support network of peers and community resources to confront the child with the plan of action. A "ToughLove" pamphlet outlines 10 beliefs that parents should adopt or become aware of to make their children responsible citizens.

Primary among the "ToughLove" beliefs is that parents are people too. Children often believe their parents are cruel or out-dated because they expect a certain standard of behavior. "ToughLove" says that often the parents' expectations are the same as society's. "We aren't the Partridge Family or the Brady Bunch. We want our kids to behave well but we make mistakes too. The kids have to understand that but first we do," says Mrs. Diacheysn.

Another belief is that change will almost certainly mean crisis. "A kid isn't going to like it if you say 'We're not going to put up with this anymore.' They will rebel but you have to expect that crisis and be prepared to deal with it," said Mrs. DeVries of Bloomfield.

In the on-going battle of the generations, "ToughLove" arms parents with a plan and the support needed to make changes. Society may never see the end of the generation gap, but through this increasingly accepted philosophy many families may.

A "ToughLove" support group meets each Wednesday night in the Nutley Parks and Recreation building at 44 Park Ave. The group welcomes any newcomers.

Religious Viewpoint

The Oldest Company

By Rev. Robert Paul

It happened at the noonday luncheon of the local Rotary. The dishes had been cleared away, and the meeting had been called to order. After the reception of new members and the introduction of visitors, the chairman asked who of those present represented the oldest company in the community.

A young man in the back of the room hesitated a moment, then arose and said: "I believe I do, sir, I am a minister of the gospel of Jesus Christ. The company I represent was founded more than 1900 years ago, and I am happy to say that it is still flourishing." His announcement was greeted with applause, for none of those present were inclined to contradict him. He did indeed, represent the "Oldest Company."

In nineteen centuries ago that the Founder of this "company" had said: "Upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." (St. Matthew 16:18.) How true the intervening centuries had proved His startling predictions to be! On every continent and on the islands of the seven seas, from East to West, from North to South, the company of Christ's redeemed have carried the message of salvation by faith, until today there are some 900,000,000 scattered over the face of the globe who claim membership in that blessed company because they have been born again. (John 3:3.)

It was that "company" that the young minister represented — indeed, the oldest, grandest, and the largest to be represented at the meeting, a "company" to which you too can belong by simple faith in the Lord Jesus Christ the Saviour of the world. "The just shall live by faith. When this takes place we are fellow citizens with the saints and of the household of God, and are built upon the foundation of the apostles, Jesus Christ Himself being the chief cornerstone." (Eph. 2:19, 20.)

How to become a part of this oldest "company" is stated for you in the Bible in the gospel of Saint John. "But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the Sons of God, even to them, that believe on his name." (John 1:12.)

FACT #3	$80,000 per month in advertising costs are not unusual for the "Go-Go" dealers. Guess who pays for all this advertising?

Air humidifiers provide a constant source of moisture in your home's environment. Raised humidity levels can greatly reduce the dry, scratchy feeling found in the throats of people who live with forced hot air heating systems. Humidifiers work with quiet efficiency. As a thin circular roll of moisture-laden sponge passes by a fan, atomized particles of water pass into the air. After a relatively short time, the air holds a healthy balance of moisture. Not only is this beneficial to a person's respiratory system, but humidified air greatly reduces the amount of static electricity found in dry homes. One will also experience greater comfort at reduced thermostat settings.

You'll find an experienced staff to help you with all your pharmaceutical needs at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. Cosmetics, toiletries, greeting cards and Russell Stover candies are available for Easter. We also carry baby needs, cameras and film. Hours: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays.

Mary Senatore

The first lady ever to hold a seat on the Township Commission is calling it quits, after 16 years of dedicated service. Commissioner Mary Senatore has decided to retire from the hurly-burly of town politics for the quiet environment of her home.

Mary Senatore is closing down only part of her public life. The former chairperson of the town's Board of Adjustment has served 25 years as Belleville Democratic Chairman. Over those 25 years her home has been open 24 hours a day to others less fortunate than she. At least 4,000 people have been personally aided by Mary Senatore. Who else in this beautiful town could lay claim to such an achievement?

Indelibly written in the hearts and minds and thoughts of Bellevillites is the knowledge that as Mary Senatore went through life, she really cared for the people about her.

Early on, Mary Senatore, a native of Belleville, decided to dedicate her life to the service of her fellow men and women. She did it very successfully.

It is a grateful community that acknowledges Mary Senatore's retirement from a Town Commission seat, hoping and praying that she will enjoy her retirement with long life and good health.

Mary, God bless you and keep you.

Anthony D'Agostino

Four years ago, School Board Trustee Anthony D'Agostino won election to a one-year unexpired term and three years ago he won an election to a three-year term which expires next month.

D'Agostino is seeking re-election. In the four years of his distinguished public career, D'Agostino has demonstrated that he cares about the welfare of our students, school staff, and Belleville taxpayers.

He is now involved in an effort to get the School Board to restructure the curriculum guide — a very enterprising objective.

By any measure, D'Agostino is an outstanding candidate. He has served the town well and deserves re-election.

Israel — Israel

Here we go again — Israel is on the chopping block, all because of America's interest in placating some of the Arab countries. The PLO is committed to the permanent goal of exterminating Israel. There is no outside security for Israel, only she provides her own. It is all well and good for President Reagan to promise Israel that we will guarantee her independence. The fact remains that we are thousands of miles away. A fired-up Syria, supported by the Russian military, and firepower, stands as a military threat to the security of Israel.

If Israel was invaded by united Mid-East countries, would the American public unite behind the effort to send American troops to defend Israel borders?

Let us be frank with the facts of life in America. Anti-Semitism has a significant hold in many parts of America. The cry would go forth to "let the Jews take care of themselves" — we will have a divided country along religious lines, which is the worst form of conflict.

Jews have made substantial contributions to the culture and progress of America, and the world. They are entitled to their homeland.

Jordan is 80 percent Palestinian and when one speaks of 80 percent, we are really talking about as close to 100 percent as one can get. The Palestinians have a homeland, it is Jordan. The sooner the PLO comes to terms with the facts of life in the Mid-East, that is, Israel is here to stay, the sooner there will be peace in the world.

And President Reagan should not compromise Israel's right to survive as a free nation.

What Are The Planners Of Belleville Doing?

To the Editor:

The Planning Board? What are they planning for? Certainly not the proper development of Belleville.

When I came to Belleville in 1965, it was a lovely residential town with a prosperous Washington Avenue business district. We had lovely stores where people received service usually from the owner himself. We also had a Master Plan for the development of our town. It was to include an industrial area along Main Street. It was supposed to provide us with high ratables and stabilize or reduce our property taxes.

What happened? Ah! Enter the Planning Board. Industry was discouraged to move into our town and some were almost literally thrown out. The Master Plan was disregarded and developers were able to get a shopping center approved on Main Street. Strike one for Washington Avenue and Belleville.

At one time the side streets of Belleville were lined with mainly one and two family homes. Ah! Enter the Planning Board. Developers were granted variances to build 6-8-10-18-36 unit apartment buildings on every tiny lot they could find. Strike two for Belleville.

At one time you could put up a business in Belleville in a business zone. Ah! Enter the Planning Board and/or the commissioners. They passed an ordinance requiring you to get a variance to put a business in a business zone. Strike three for Belleville! YER OUT!

BUT WAIT. Here comes "Townspan" the new chamber of commerce, the Planning Board, and the Commissioner's (the same people who have been in power for the last 10 to 15 years). They are going to save the day with the "Washington Avenue Redevelopment Committee." They are going to put business back on Washington Avenue.

A meeting was held in December of 1982, to collect ideas for enticing business back to "the Avenue." And ideas were flowing. Some as vague as "we need a major attraction" to some wild as "Washington Avenue being lined with 10 story office buildings."

So? Enter the Planning Board! On March 1, 1983, they granted a variance to someone to put a new business in a residential zone, 'two blocks from Washington Avenue.' Nice play, guys. That's strike one again. Trying for your second out?

Now why does this happen? Because of us, the residents of Belleville. At the December meeting, I was the only citizen there, even though it was advertised on the front page of the Belleville Times. At the March meeting of the Planning Board, I was one of two in attendance. The same is true for Town meetings, Board of Education, etc. Very few people show, so the politicians do what they please or what the special interest groups dictate. The fault lies with the people of this town and country who are so apathetic that they fail to police their own government.

Please note that Planning Board members are appointed by Commissioners. Keep this in mind on Election Day. And don't limit your involvement in government to your vote on election day. Get out and oversee our public officials in action at meetings. It's not only your right, it's your duty.

Officials Cheat Belleville Again

To the editor:

Again Belleville came away with the short end of the stick. Our girls played their hearts out, much the better team, but lost. I have never seen umpires so anti-Belleville with their calls. I also wonder why Coach Karen Fucello does not put her best players in or call time out when necessary. I have gone to every game and have seen this occur more than once. Sure we won 20 games. Thanks to having a future all-state who can and does take the ball from basket to basket going through the entire defense and still scoring. Plus girls like Dina, etc. Right calls by Coach Fucello we could still be in there. Hopefully we will be back and tougher next year.

God bless our girls. They are a tribute to the community.

Our Freedom of Speech Should Be Respected

To the editor:

In response to Mr. Michael Giordano on Media "nice guys" brainwashing the public:

In this day and age, media certainly does have a large influence on our lives. It seems to me though, that accusing the nation of leading the greatest brainwashing effort in the history of mankind is, well, perhaps a bit extreme. If you think the media gives a few one-sided stories, take a look at some of your own comments.

The priceless rights of free speech and press carry with them responsibility which can be taken advantage of or, as in your case, unappreciated. First of all, every American citizen has the right to an opinion whether they are Democratic, Republican, Leftist or just plain bigoted. Actors and entertainers do not give up this right when they step in front of a camera. This includes Ed Asner, whose personal political interests aren't ours to condemn. Henry Fonda, who was one of America's most talented actors, should certainly not be held responsible for his children's actions, not to mention those of his in-laws, even if, as you imply, they are anti-American.

No country, regardless of government, is more critical of its media than the United States. Your invalid declaration that the entire news media has already been all but taken over by the reformers has absolutely no empirical background, and is therefore an empty statement.

The reason people were so touched by the murder of John Lennon, is because it was a senseless murder of a peaceful man. It's a shame you are so insensitive to this fact. The real time to worry, Mike, is when people aren't touched by the senseless murder of a peaceful man. Broadcasters were not influenced by "four drugged deadened youths" but by some of the very real sentiments they so aptly expressed. Besides which, the taste in music held by people in responsible positions is certainly a private matter and has nothing to do with their capability or performance.

"It is easier to criticize others than it is to see yourself."

I hope you learn to appreciate your right to free speech, without which your opinions could never have been expressed in a public forum. For although I have clearly disagreed with your views toward the media, I would never question your right to express them.

Sincerely,
Cynthia Santiglia

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Mr. Cornelis P. Vander Zwan writes in a letter to the editor, that after having junketed on a month of travel spent at discount hotels and motels while enjoying discount meals, car rentals, shows and movies that indicates a lifestyle of a man of considerable means, not-withstanding, that he probably qualified for those discounts because of membership, as he has previously indicated, in the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP), suggests that on arriving home the first thing he did was to pick up The Belleville Times to read "Golden Comments."

Mr. Vander Zwan intemperately writes and accuses this scribe of "vilifying President Reagan." No one, with impunity, vilifies the President of the United States. No newspaper editor, who is responsible for the content of what is printed in his publication would permit such alleged libel. Yet, Mr. Vander Zwan impetuously attempting to serve as an apologist for the President's Administrative policies, which many news oriented writers disapprove of and criticize, attempts to improperly cast such aspersions upon those who, in the dutiful performance of advising their readers of how they will be affected by the radical changes being proposed by the National Commission on Social Security Reform and now being reviewed by the Congress.

There being so many distortions and irrelevancies in Mr. Zwan's dastardly, scurrilous and vicious attack that is fraught with snide vile inferences along with the unprincipled practice of putting in quotes such as "no good Reagan" giving the impression that another had made such a statement, when it is only that of Mr. Vander Zwan, lends credence to what might be considered deception.

Mr. Vander Zwan's complete misconception of what is about to occur, as it adversely changes and affects those receiving or about to soon collect Social Security benefits, including himself, is pathetic. He makes irrational comparisons of the value of the dollar back in 1940 and now; he ignores the effects of inflation and the cost of running government and the higher taxes that consume so much of the benefits that Social Security provides.

At the present value in comparison with condition then, it would take 17.5 years for one on Social Security to get back what they and their employer paid into Social Security. This man has no sense of changing values. He may be well off and doesn't care what is about to happen to the rest of us who are not in his secure financial position; he'd take a different stand if he were.

Mr. Vander Zwan, by false implication, infers our opposition to those on Medicaid getting free medical care. That is malicious "twisting" of our objection of the action of Congress in having permitted the use of money from the Social Security fund to finance Medicaid payments. That's what depleted the fund. Likewise, Mr. Vander Zwan neglects to mention that his champion, President Reagan, plans to change that by making those on Medicaid pay, at least a nominal fee.

Mr. Vander Zwan is wrong again, the Administration hasn't yet kept his commitment to cut Federal Taxes 30 percent and it is doubtful if Congress will permit it because of his questionable defense budget. Inflation was lowered primarily because of the depression and the action of the Federal Reserve Board, an independent agency, Social Security Taxes, contrary to what he erroneously stated, have been increased considerably.

Unlike Mr. Vander Zwan, who seemingly gathers random thoughts from thin air that he uses in a futile attempt to gain a point, we confirm our statements by documentation... an example: "As expected, the president's budget also proposes the tax increases recommended by the bipartisan Social Security Reform Commission... as taken from The Wall Street Journal."

"These include an acceleration of scheduled payroll-tax increases. The combined employer-employee tax rate... would rise to 11.4 percent next Jan. 1, to 12.2 percent Jan. 1, 1988, and to 12.4 percent Jan. 1, 1990."

Unlike Mr. Vander Zwan, most of us are not wealthy and must be concerned by what is going to be taken away. The AARP strikes out at cost-of-living adjustment cuts, taxing benefits and payroll tax increases as unnecessarily burdensome for current workers and for both current and future beneficiaries. We agree with their arguments and will present them shortly.

Sorry, Mr. Vander Zwan your discursive ambiguities and insolent sophistry, sprinkled with glaring inaccuracies, renders your baseless vitriolic sarcasm, as best exemplified by the inference you consider the President as the patron saint of the poor, as a product of what seemingly appears to be a confused mind.

Local Woman Arrested For Holdup

By Suzi Hedrick

Nutley detectives have arrested a 21-year-old Belleville bank teller for the theft of $43,000 from the Harrison Street branch of Security National Bank last Monday.

The thin, blond woman had tears in her eyes when Nutley Municipal Judge Anthony Amoscato arraigned her and set bail at $100,000. The Wallace Street woman is charged with theft and hindering prosecution by giving false information to police.

Detective Captain Donald Casciano and Sgt. John Holland arrested the woman at her home at noon last Tuesday after an intensive investigation by detectives and the FBI.

The suspect has been employed by the bank since last April. Police would not comment on whether the woman had any prior arrest record.

There was also no comment from police on whether an accomplice was being sought in the theft.

The robbery was made known last Monday at 2 p.m. when a teller suddenly began screaming that she had just been held up by a young white man. The woman reported that the thief walked into the bank, handed her a note saying he had a gun and demanded money.

Other tellers and bank patrons said they were unaware of the theft until the hysterical teller began screaming. No one could determine whether the male robber had left on foot or by car.

The teller suspect remained in Nutley police custody on the night of her arraignment and was to be transported to the county jail if bail was not paid.

Mr. Petrino of the Miles Feinstein law offices in Passaic is representing the female suspect.

Rape Seminar Is Scheduled For March 23

A free one-night seminar on assault and rape protection is being sponsored as part of the West Essex General Hospital's Community Health Education Series, Wednesday, March 23, in the hospital cafeteria at 8 p.m.

The program will be open to community residents from Belleville, Livingston, West Orange, East Hanover, Whippany, Parsippany and Bloomfield and will be conducted by Crime Fight International, a public service organization with headquarters in California. It is the first program to be presented in this area, according to Ms. Diane Ruhle, director of Inservice Education at West Essex General Hospital, who calls the seminar "a must for working women to become aware of basic tenets of self protection in case of assault or rape attempts."

"Nursing personnel from any of the other Essex County hospitals are also invited to attend," Ms. Ruhle concluded. For further information call 992-6550, extension 276.

Hospital Patients Are More Cheerful Thanks to the Clara Maass Library

Library Chairwoman — Mrs. Barry Shafter of Belleville, stands before some of the 4,000 books available to Clara Maass Hospital patients. Books have been found to help cheer up patients.

Patients at Clara Maass Medical Center can receive a bonus while receiving expert medical care — a good book to get well by.

According to Clara Maass Library Chairwoman Mrs. Barry Shafter of Belleville, the library now holds a whopping 4,000 books from which patients can choose from, while recuperating in bed.

The department, which is run by dedicated volunteers under the guidance of volunteer director Mrs. Irene Banaszak of Glen Ridge, includes Mrs. Helen Longo of Nutley, Mrs. Virginia Streeter of Belleville and Mrs. Millicent St. Ambrogio of Bloomfield.

The library was formed 25 years ago in 1957 when the hospital moved from its Newark location to Belleville.

Mrs. Shafter noted that the Belleville Public Library donated 100 books to kick off the new department a quarter century ago, and donation by community members and groups have increased that figure dramatically.

Mrs. Shafter, who is secretary of the Public Library Board in Belleville, said that this year at Clara Maass the Harlequin love stories, the "national best sellers," led the field in circulation.

But the library caters to serious readers, too, and mystery lovers can solve a stack of whodunits.

Among the organizations which collected and delivered books for Clara Maass throughout the year are the Woman's Club of Belleville, the Woman's Club of Nutley; the Woman's Club of Clifton; Professional Women of Belleville, Nutley and Bloomfield, the Nutley Old Guard and the American Association of Retired Persons of Belleville.

Library staffers also distribute magazines to medical center patients.

NLT's 'Best Man' A Disappointment

By Michael C. Gabriele

Nutley Little Theater opened its production of "The Best Man" last Friday evening at the NLT Barn with disappointing results. The play fell victim to miscues in act one and was never able to regain its balance and get back on track. Although there were several strong individual performances, the cast was unable to sustain the momentum necessary to keep the story line alive on stage.

The play, written by American novelist Gore Vidal, was a sardonic "behind-the-scenes" examination of a presidential campaign. William Russell (Fred Chomowicz) and Joseph Cantwell (David Williams) are the candidates seeking their party's nomination to run as a presidential contender. While each candidate has flaws it is Cantwell who is painted as the villain while Russell lives the role of the reluctant anti-hero.

Greg Dowling and Mike Magnifico (Dick Jensen and Don Blades) were well cast and able performers as the campaign managers who dig the dirt on the rival candidate, ward off the zealous press, and orchestrate the dirty tricks when necessary.

The story becomes a vehicle for studying the morality — or lack of it — in American politics. It provided a sarcastic glimpse of backroom political dealings, as well as questioning the motives and methods of the men who seek the office of President. Unfortunately, the production was uneven and didn't maintain the spark necessary to drive home the political commentary.

David Williams as Joe Cantwell was the outstanding individual performer in the cast. Williams' was on target as Cantwell — a politician driven to win at any cost and by any method. Williams maintained control of his character, letting him churn from within to create a powerful tension on stage.

Laura C. DeCesare as Cantwell's slinky, southern belle wife Mabel also provided a strong performance. DeCesare didn't take a conservative route with her character. Instead, she took the risk of over animating Mabel's saccharine personality and the result was most successful.

Other cast members included Terry Chalk as Arthur Hockstader, Katherine Gray as Alice Russell, Betty Rovell as Mrs. Gamadge, Art Turnbull as Senator Carlin, Fred Hutter as Dr. Artinian, Stewart O'Hara as Sheldon Marcus, Suzanne Little, Rick Hathaway, Joyce Babick and Adrian Gill as the anxious reporters.

A successful technical device was the use of staged television news commentary against the background of delegate noise and cheers. It was a most professional "special effect" with credit to sound man Richard Kaye.

"The Best Man," directed by Alexander M. Oleksij, continues tomorrow and Saturday at 8 p.m. There will also be a special Sunday matinee, as well as performances the following weekend (March 25 and 26). For ticket information call 667-5492. The Nutley Little Theater his priority concerns "bringing in commercial structures for a sound tax base in the community."

Barn is located on Erie Place, just off Brookfield Avenue near Yantacaw School.

He also said he will strive "to improve conditions for senior citizens and the taxpayer in this community."

For the past four years Grande has been employed as the supervisor of plant operations at the Belleville Board of Education.

Additionally, he served on the athletic council for seven and has coached recreation football for 27 years.

"Only as a town father can I be really effective in correcting Belleville's ills" said Grande, who is seeking a commission seat for the first team. "I may not always succeed, but I'll try." During his term on the Plannreduction of $310,000 from the state we can still offer a no-tax increase budget for 1983-84 and not hurt in any way our educational program," said Charles Miele. "I am in favor of staying with a zero-tax increase this year."

Miele's proposal calls for additional cuts 26 areas of the budget including a reduction of funds for board convention expenses, summer teacher employment, awards and printed materials, office supplies and furniture replacement.

The largest cuts in Miele's proposal are in non-instructional furniture and equipment, a new elementary librarian, custodial summer jobs and a $31,250 savings in a new instrumental music teacher and music instruments.

Miele also is looking for the board to trim $124,367 from its surplus to make up the additional cuts.

"We are doing our best in trying to make cuts which will offset the state reduction," said Spillane, "but I will not take part in decisions which will have an ill effect on our school system."

Senatore's Farewell To the Commission

(To the Citizens of the Township of Belleville:)

On April 1st, 1967, I formally announced my candidacy to seek a seat on the Board of Commissioners for the Township of Belleville.

Fortunately, and through much hard work by many fine friends, family and you the voters of Belleville, I was elected on Tuesday, May 9th, 1967.

I consider this an honor to have been the first woman ever elected to the governing body for the Town of Belleville. For this, I shall forever be grateful to the many persons who made this dream a reality.

Having served for 16 years in one of the most difficult and time consuming departments, I tried to fulfill all of the campaign promises I pledged.

During my sixteen years, I served both the citizens of the Township and the entire department of Public Works employees, with deep concern and devotion.

An open door policy was maintained throughout my tenure of office.

During the twenty-four hours I was on call, personal meeting, when requested, were never denied to any citizen, regardless of their essential need.

I maintained a very tight budget, held within the caps, without one service being denied to any homeowner.

I personally, have spent much time recently, reassessing my priorities, and have concluded, that I would like to concentrate, with God's help, my future time and energy with my family, my grandson and devote much of my effort with the Democratic Party, of which my political career was founded.

In the future, I will continue as Democratic Chairman to help obtain jobs for those in need, as I have in the past, in the town, county and state, wherever or when ever jobs are available. Presently 4,000 residents have obtained positions in government, private enterprises, etc. under my leadership.

As I sit here, with heavy heart, not for the sorrow in leaving, but for the joy received from so many of you each time our paths crossed.

For those I have served, for friendships I'll always treasure and for those who were so much a part of my life, but no longer with us, I shall always remember.

Also, I thank my present and past colleagues for their understanding and friendships, together they helped make my years on the board a very memorable and happy experience.

To each who have touched and been a part of my life, I might add, this has been a difficult decision, but look to this not as an ending, but merely as a redirection and broadening of my horizons.

I intend to remain active in the Town my family has been a part of for the past 75 years.

I leave office with the same spirit as when I entered into it and with continued enthusiasm for the future of Belleville.

In conclusion, I would like to personally thank the Publisher of the Belleville Times for his endorsements of my candidacy as a Commissioner for the past sixteen years, which will conclude on May 10, 1983.

Commissioner Mary V. Senatore

Third River Causes Floods Along Local Golf Course

By Ed Capparucci
Thirty Years Ago
Man-made changes in the natural food basin along the Third River in the vicinity of Joralemon Street brought complaints to Mayor James Tully after a heavy rain storm which hit the area.

Building operations on the east side of the Third River, both south and north of Joralemon Street have cut into the flood basin and stream channels to such an extent that after every storm the Forest Hill Field Club is put to a great deal of expense repairing damage done to at least one-hole of the 18 hole layout. After a recent storm three holes on the course were put out of commission.

Mayor Tully called the matter to the attention of the Public Works Department and Deputy Commissioner Hugh Welsh and Town Engineer Matthew Sheehan to investigate the matter. He also called in engineers from Bloomfield and Nutley to go over the entire problem.

Emil Schmidlin, architect for the proposed new Belleville High School, told the Board of Education after a study by his staff that he is convinced that the town property adjacent to the stadium is the best site for the proposed building. The site had been recommended as the most suitable by the now disbanded Lay Advisory Committee. He assured the board the land could be prepared for construction by sinking of pilings in the land. He also said the piling would cost no more than $175,000.

Twenty Years Ago
An interim report made to Councilman G. George Addonizio, who heads the investigating committee of the Department of Finance and Revenue Assessors Office, indicates there is a wide — and so far — unexplained discrepancy in tax assessments between those of 1963 and previous years when former Town Tax Assessor Emanuel DeNoia was in office.

The report, made by Vincent J. Indelicato, CRA in Jersey City, Soundation Will Perform At High School

The Belleville Soundations will host a concert performance at Belleville High School this Saturday, March 19 starting at 5 p.m.

More than 70 children from Belleville, Nutley, North Arlington, Kearny and Newark make up the Soundations, which have marched and performed in several local parades.

Tickets, which are $3 each will be available at the door.

shown tax assessments increases over last year ranging from 33 percent to 1,566 percent percent of evaluation on business and personal property.

The 1963 municipal budget was unanimously approved by the Town Council after a two-hour debate that brought no valid objections to its adoption from town critics.

The total budget of $2,703,429 was up some $170,177 over last year and represented a 20 point hike in amount to be raised by taxpayers. The proposed budget was based on last year's $8.82 per $100 of assessed valuation at 40 percent of true value.

The Board of Education cancelled a milk suppliers services after several children complained of its bad taste, announced board President Nicholas S. Juliano. Ceremi Dairies of Nutley lost its contract when a child at School 4 complained of the milk's taste. School 4 Principel Frank Spotts reported "the milk was actually green colored."

Ten Years Ago
The Belleville Board of Commissioners announced that $450,880 would be cut from the $995,113 increase requested by the Board of Education in its 1973-74 budget, which voters defeated last month.

The budget slash, representing 19 tax points, brings the 1973 tax rate hike to 35 points, broken down to a 23-point increase to the school system, seven points to the county, one point to the municipal and four points in reserves for uncollected taxes.

Board President Larry Schwartz said it was impossible to run the school system under the cuts and the board would meet to decide this course of action.

"At this point, our reaction is one of surprise and dismay," said Schwartz. "We had anticipated the cut, we had heard rumors about it, but we never thought it would be this high."

Commissioner Vincent Strumolo was appointed for the 11th consecutive year as chairman of the Community Cancer Crusade. Superintendent Anthony Greco said a drop of about 30-40 pupils is expected in kindergarten registration, which started recently due to a change in eligibility which requires kindergarten students to be at least five by Oct. 1. In the past, the cutoff date was Dec. 31. He also said a decline in the birth rate would also contribute to the sharp decline.

One Year Ago
After months of controversy the School Board voted to hire a 36-year-old New York administrator as its new board secretary-administrator at an annual salary of $40,000.

Gerard Gruenfelder of Garden City, New York was hired from his former post as assistant superintendent for business affairs by the Mineola School district. He filled the post vacated by former board secretary Mrs. Mary Shader, who retired in September.

Gruenfelder was one of five finalists interviewed for the post which drew 55 applicants.

The Board of Education adopted its 1982-83 budget by a 6-1 vote, with Trustee Caesar Romano casting the lone objecting vote. The budget, which calls for appropriations of $15.1 million, was rejected by Romano and several other citizens during a public hearing at the board offices, because of the $378,743 threatened cuts in state aid to the board.

But School Board budget committee chairman John DiStasi said if the monies are not restored the board could offset losses with the proceeds from the anticipated sale of School 2, which was estimated at $275,000.

High School Titles Are On The Line

This weekend at the Meadowlands Arena and Rutgers University, 12 high school basketball teams will walk away with group championships, culminating five months of hard work, dedication and long hours in the gym.

The state playoffs will draw to a close this weekend, and in the process, the 1982-83 basketball season will be history. It has been one of the most exciting seasons on the court and this weekend's action should epitomize what a great year it's been for high school basketball.

Over in Group I, Roselle High School is the favorite in the boys' section. Roselle won the Group I title last year and return with Tony Bowers, a legitimate Division I college prospect leading the way. Roselle has a nice combination of speed and size, and with the experience of having won the title last year, the Union county school has to be considered odds on favorites.

Over in Group II, the boys' favorite has to be West Orange, based on their stirring victories in last week's action. The Cowboys downed Clifford Scott on a buzzer shot, denying the Scotties a third straight Group II championship. Then, last Friday night at Kennilworth, the Cowboys and Tornados of Orange battled for the Group II, Section II title and a trip to the state semis played last night. Before a very vocal, packed (and I mean packed) house, the Cowboys rallied from a 13-point halftime deficit and won by 10, 64-54.

West Orange outscored Orange, 26-2 in the third quarter to erase a 32-19 Orange lead at intermission. Kyle Dodson, the Cowboys 6-5 junior center, was unstoppable for Roger Blind and company. It's been quite a story for West Orange this year. Last season, they were 2-20. For that matter, give some credit to Orange, which finished 1-17 last year. However, give the credit to the Orange players, certainly not their coach, Cliff Blake. Had Orange had some good coaching, they probably would have won.

Over in Group II for the girls, Clifford Scott seems a good bet to win its second straight title. The Scotties, one of the most consistent teams in the area, breezed by Caldwell in the sectional finals and should wrap up the group title assuming the players come ready to play. About the only problem with Scott is they seem rather bored sometimes, and in the process blow a big lead. Tom King's club is led by the tough Countess Irvin, a 5-6 senior guard who can do it all. Irvin might be the best guard in Essex County and is the team leader of a very talented Scott club. Scott's success will rely mainly on Irvin and Melissa Stevenson, a 5-9 junior forward.

Heading over to Group III, Cinnaminson is the favorite to repeat as state champs in the boys' section. The South Jersey power defeated Linden with a second half rally last year and will be challenged by Central Jersey champ, Ewing in the semi-final round. Should they get by that obstacle, Cinnaminson will probably face Emerson, the Group IV, Section I champ this weekend for the title.

The girls' favorite in Group III is Shabazz. The Newark school is 27-0, have won the Essex County Tournament two straight years and have captured the Group III, Section II title for the second straight year. Last season, Shabazz was whipped by Pascack Valley, 50-29 in the state semis. This year, Pascack Valley was eliminated in the section semis, thus making Shabazz the odds on favorite to bring home a state title.

The Lady Bulldogs are paced by 6-1 center Lisa Long. In Shabazz's 55-42 victory over Milburn in the sectional finals last weekend, Long was a terror under the boards and possesses extraordinary leaping ability. On one play in the third quarter, she was nearly called for goaltending. If Shabazz keeps the ball out of point guard Shopaine Horton's hands (Shopaine is a walking time bomb when it comes to handling the ball), then the Bulldogs could breeze to the title.

The Group IV titles will probably provide the most excitement. First off, give some credit to Paterson Eastside and Plainfield High School. Both schools boys' and girls' teams advanced to the state semis this week, a tribute to the fine coaching and talent found at those schools. In Group IV for the boys, Plainfield and Paterson Eastside met in the state semis while Atlantic City and Trenton battled in the other contest.

Plainfield got here by stopping Belleville, stunning Montclair, the defending champs and squeaking by Irvington. For Eastside, which might be the best team in New Jersey this year, the Ghosts breezed by its opponents, whipping Ferris, 56-41 for the sectional title.

Eastside is loaded from the word go. Lynwood Gorham and William Grady are the team leaders and both men have extraordinary leaping ability. Joe Papisidero, the head coach at Belleville, said of Grady, "Grady washes windows on the 15th floor of the Empire State Building. Just give him a squeegee and up he goes."

The other semi-final should also be a war. Both Atlantic City and Trenton usually play this game four feet off the floor. They are super quick and have great size. Trenton was the favorite to advance this far, however Atlantic City got here by doing something that is unheard of in this state, they beat Camden.

Camden was the state's number one ranked team, the 10th ranked club in America and many felt a team in a class all by themselves. Camden loses to a New Jersey team as often as the United States changes presidents. Atlantic City's victory, a 73-72 thriller, was the first time Camden had lost to a New Jersey club since March of 1981. That year, Camden was stunned by Neptune in the state semi-finals, a game which the Star Ledger would later call "The Night Neptune shocked the State."

Camden came into that game with a 30-0 record, the top ranked team in the country, never mind the state, and a team which possessed two all-Americans in Billy Thompson and Milt Wagner, both of whom now play at Louisville. Neptune came in undefeated, a great ball club, however one which was given no chance to win this game. Not only did Neptune win, they won by 20 points, sending shock waves through the state.

Last season, Camden finished 27-4, winning the Group IV title over Montclair at the Meadowlands. All four losses came to clubs outside of New Jersey. (Some say that Camden's four losses came to the Celtics, 76ers, Lakers and the University of North Carolina in triple overtime.)

Anyhow, you can see what a big win it was for Atlantic City. Camden had won seven straight South Jersey championships and seemed primed for an eighth. When the smoke clears this weekend, a dream match-up for the state title could exist: Paterson Eastside and Atlantic City for all the marbles. That game could attract over 10,000 fans.

The girls will also provide some excitement in Group IV. Once

'Poor' Officiating Decides

Irvington Drops Hoopsters; Girls Conclude 20-7 Season

By Mike Lamberti

Karen Fuccello was watching her team warm up before last week's sectional semi-final game with Irvington. She liked what she saw. The girls were fired up, seemed confident in the drills and Fuccello felt her club had a good chance against the talented Campers.

Suddenly, from the far side of the Bloomfield High School gym, two men appeared. From the look on Fuccello's face, you would have thought that the two men were from the IRS and Fuccello hadn't paid her 1980 tax return. While the two men were not from the IRS, they represented disaster as far as Belleville was concerned, they were the game officials.

You'll never guess who officiated this game. One guy was Belleville's favorite son, Jack Neupower, and as one coach in attendance called him, "the worst official in Northern New Jersey."

Enter the other official. This guy did one of those, "swallow the whistles" while Neupower went on to call his usual style of horrible officiating. Add that on to a very good Irvington team, and the result was a 69-63 Belleville defeat, an end to a great season, and some bitter grapes to swallow.

Next week, The Times will go over the girls' marvelous 20-7 record.

"I never saw that guy before," said Fuccello referring to the unknown official who will later make history as the guy who officiated with Jack Neupower. "Each team has a choice of one official for the state tournament," Fuccello continued. "I submitted by list of 11 officials I would prefer and Irvington did the same. Irvington submitted Neupower's name and 'our' selection was a guy that I never submitted and furthermore never saw before."

Fuccello did give credit to Irvington on a fine effort. "Don't take it away from them," the coach said. "Irvington did a great job. (Tammy) Hammond is a super player who killed us under the boards."

Hammond was indeed a marvelous performer. The 5-10 center scored 30 points, was unstoppable under the boards and is just learning this game. You see, Miss Hammond is just a freshman. She averages over 20 points a game and many agree that she isn't even near her best. If Hammond keeps working on her game, she will become one of the best players this state has ever seen.

Meanwhile, one of the best players this state has had in a long time, Belleville's Jennifer Apicella, finished her junior year with a 40 point effort. She shot 16 of 20 from the foul line, was 12 of 24 from the floor and did a nice job handling the tough Irvington defense.

For the season, Apicella was absolutely amazing. She scored 912 points, averaged 33.8 points a game, shot 78 percent from the foul line and for her career averages 30.3 points a game. Apicella was second in the state in scoring and of course broke the 2,000 point barrier this year. She will enter next season with 2,148 points, needing just 598 points to break the state scoring mark of 2,745.

Junior Diane De Aquino has established herself as a top scorer and should combine with Apicella to form a tough duo next year. De Aquino tallied 341 points for the year, an average of 12.6 points a game. Dina scored 12 points in the Irvington game.

For the record, Belleville led, 14-13 after one quarter, but fell apart in the second frame and trailed, 39-23 halftime. The girls made a valiant effort in the second half to make up the points but fell short.

"We knew we had to press to beat them," Fuccello said. "The problem was, our starters were in foul trouble by the second quarter and we couldn't be as aggressive. Against a tall team like Irvington, that can be disaster."

"We went for broke in the second half and I think that Irvington wore down a bit by the fourth quarter. However, they had enough to win and that's the bottom line."

The girls were also hampered by a number of missed layups, "at least 15" according to the coach. The girls were also out rebounded by the Campers, 65-29.

"We had a nice year," Fuccello said in closing. "We came farther this year than we had ever before. There were a number of good points."

It's just too bad that an incompetent like Jack Neupower had to spoil a nice year with his atrocious brand of officiating. Let's hope the state can see the light and keep this guy off of high school basketball games for future years.

NET NOTES: Donna Brooks scored five points. Marlene Talmadge tallied four and Theresa Critchley finished with a field goal in the Irvington game. Belleville shot 17 of 26 from the foul line. For the year, the girls shot 65 percent from the stripe. The team averaged 59.6 points a game. The girls lose Critchley, Talmadge and Kathy Woods to graduation this spring. Hammond scored 14 of her points in the big Camper second quarter. Apicella was held to one field goal in that second quarter.

Blocking The Alley — Belleville's DeAquino (c) blocks the passing lane for Irvington during the sectionals' semi-finals contest held last week at Bloomfield High School.

Boys Looks Back With Joy This Year While Eagerly Awaiting Next Season

When its season ended last week with a 76-58 loss to eventual sectional champion Plainfield, head boys' basketball coach Joe Papisidero was sorry to see the season end, but is anxiously awaiting the start of next season.

Although the team lost seven seniors, the Bucs have a strong nucleus to work with for next year. The Bucs return 1,000 point scorer Phil Colalillo for his senior season and point guard Joey Borrello for his senior year. Both men are expected to make major impacts on the team's success.

George Zanfini To Be Honored On April 14

On April 14 a testimonial dinner will be held in honor of George Zanfini.

Zanfini has decided to give up coaching as the head baseball coach at Belleville High School after eight successful seasons. He is recognized as one of the finer baseball coaches in the area and has achieved many accomplishments over that span of time, including a record of 135 wins and 50 losses, which is a winning percentage of .730. Zanfini also holds a 24-4 record during the 1976 season where his team had a 20 consecutive game winning streak.

In 1976 he was also named "Coach of the Year" by the Herald-News. In 1981 he guided the Belleville team to its first championship in the prestigious Greater Newark Tournament. He was also selected by the Herald-News as the "Coach of the Decade" (1972-1981). Zanfini, a fine gentleman, has helped to develop many all-star baseball players for Belleville.

The dinner will be held at the Chandelier Restaurant, 340 Franklin Ave. There will be a one-hour open bar before and after the dinner and it will begin at 7:30 p.m. For ticket information please contact Chick Puleo at 751-5174 or Belleville High School Athletic Director Jim Silvestri at 751-1534.

As for this season's campaign, the Buccaneers posted an 11-16 mark, the best record for a boys' basketball team at Belleville since the 1979-80 season. The Buccaneers battled state powers Paterson Eastside, Montclair, Passaic and Paterson Kennedy from the NNJIL and did a respectable job.

The highlight of the season was the 38-37 victory over Nutley at Nutley and the two victories over conference rival Bloomfield, the first coming in the initial round of the Nutley Holiday Tournament.

Colalillo scored his 1,000 point in the Bucs 76-32 rout of St. Cecilia's of Kearny. He thus becomes the first player in school history to break the 1,000 barrier in his junior year. Colalillo should become the all time leading boys' scorer at BHS midway through next year.

As mentioned, the team will lose seven seniors, seven men whom Papisidero has the highest respect for and admiration. "They were some of the nicest men I've ever dealt with," the coach said. "It was a pleasure to work with these guys. I know it wasn't easy for them, considering that we started two juniors this year, but they really kept together and gave us a great season."

Senior captain John Borrello was the team's shooting guard this year. "He got off to a good start and finished the season strong," said Papisidero. "If it wasn't for that shoulder injury which he hurt in football, Johnny might have done even better." Borrello's best game came against Weequahic in the first round of the state tournament, scoring 14 points and handing out eight assists.

Johnny Bocchino was a class act from the word go. "He had a hard luck career," said Papisidero. "As a sophomore, he was hit by a car, then was plagued by injuries last year. This season, although he didn't see a lot of playing time, he was a big help to the program." Bocchino was a strong supporter of the team and will be missed next season. "He was just a great competitor, I was very happy to have him on the team," said the coach.

Mike Di Stasi, a four-year member of the Buccaneers, is another of those class athletes. "Mike had one of the nicest outside shots I've ever seen," said Papisidero. He was also a class guy, a super hard worker who always gave 100 percent. He did a good job coming off the bench for us."

Lenny Russo, a 6-0 senior, did a super job for the team. "If you pet Lenny in a 6'6 body, you'd have an All-American," praised Papisidero. "He did some really good things for our program. He pulled down some key rebounds, made some big shots, played excellent defense. He worked hard at it too. Since his freshman year, Lenny dropped some 40 pounds. He's the type of kid you would say 'jump' to and he'd say, 'how high?' He's just a super person."

Ray Kimble also fits the bill of this year's senior. "He was a great defensive player," Papisidero said.

Belleville Grapplers Losing Seven Seniors

By Dino Ibelli

Once again the state champs were decided. It means wrestling has come to an end. For the seniors it was their last. For the underclassmen it means next year. Our District VII champs are losing seven seniors that will be missed. None were state champs but their desire and competitiveness made them the best.

The first-year men consisted of Derek Lombardi and C.C. Giuliano. Derek didn't wrestle much due to the packed line up at 122, 129 and 135 pounds. Derek was 2-0. In his junior year, he was a fine jayvee wrestler. Derek's humor will be missed.

At 170 pounds, C.C. Giuliano was the man. C.C. had eligibility problems at the beginning of the season which hurt his chances in the districts. C.C. took third in his first year of varsity wrestling. Good luck to C.C. in the future.

The other five are two-year starters. At 122 pounds, Anthony Stefanelli ends his career with many accomplishments. "Ivan" in his sophomore year won the Districts at 101 pounds and took a third in Region 2. He was injured his junior year and came back as a senior to take a third in the Districts. "Ivan" will be missed. It is hard to believe he has finished his wrestling career already. It seems like yesterday that he won the District.

At 129 pounds, Ricky DePrizio will vacate his spot. Ricky won the Districts his junior year. He took a third in the Districts his senior year. Ricky also played varsity soccer. He will be missed. Ricky was always quiet and "easy going" except on the mats.

At 135 pounds, a fine young man will be leaving. A two-year starter, Ron Caruso took a third in the Districts both years. Ronnie is a prime example of the experience necessary to become a fine wrestler. Ron had a "so-so" junior year to set up a great senior year. Good luck to Ron.

At 141 pounds, Al Henry ended a fine career. Al took the District his junior year. This season he took a second. Al was the most physical wrestler on the team this year and probably of the past couple of years. Al will not be forgotten for his rematch against O'Rourke from Caldwell.

Finally, the main product at 158 pounds was Ron Charles. Ronnie always had tough luck as far as tournaments by placing third in all of them. Ronnie was also a guard for the football team. Ron is also academically high in his class so a college career could be possible.

Unfortunately, we must graduate. The good times have ended. The only things that remain from the past is the memories which will always live. For these seven wrestlers, they will have many.

Heard at ringside

By Steve H. Frank

18-year-old, exciting lightweight Charlie "White Lightning" Brown of North Haledon, N.J., made a big hit with the fans at New York's Felt Forum. Brown remained undefeated by increasing his diary to 13-0 with his 12th KO when he won on a TKO in the fourth round over tough, veteran Arthur "Kato" Wilson of the Bronx, N.Y. Brown's manager, Lenny Shaw, was ecstatic after the bout and stated, "Brown can beat half the fighters in the top 10 right now. But none of those guys want to fight him. He'll be ready for world-class contenders before the year is over." Trainer Don Trainer was all smiles as he attended his charge in the dressing room. Madison Square-Felt Forum matchmaker Harold Weston said he wants to bring Brown back. "The fans really loved that youngster," Weston added.

Philadelphia, Pa., Golden Eagle Arena, Tuesday: Robert Adams, 151, of Philadelphia W-Dec. in eight rounds over George Burton, 147½ of Baltimore, in the main event of the Joe Verne promoted boxing card. In other bouts: Smokin' Joe Frazier, Jr., 137, of Philadelphia made an impressive pro debut by disposing of Tony Glaseo, 141½, of Philadelphia at 2:19 of first round; Joey Giardello, Jr., 130, of Cherry Hill, N.J. won his second pro bout by TKOing Thomas Perrin, 129, of Phila. at 1:50 of first round; Joe Bradford, 151, of Phila. W-Dec. in six rounds over Kenny Parker, 153½, of Phila.; Kenneth Lomax, 147½, of Phila. TKO'd in third round, Richard Gaine, 147, of Phila.; Rodney Frazier, 203, of Phila. TKO'd Ronald Anderson, 192½ of Phila. at :57 of first round. Smokin' Joe, Jr., 20, real name is Hector, is former heavyweight Joe Frazier's youngest son and Rodney is Joe Sr.'s nephew. Sy Roseman is director of Public Relations.

Personable Florence Anthony, one of the nation's better publicists doing public relations chores for many outstanding fighters, was honored with a group of Prolific Pisceans (on March 2) at Mikell's Restaurant in New York City.

NBC-TV Ch. 4 will present live coverage of the 10-round middleweight scrap between Lenny La Paglia of Melrose Park, Ill. and John Collins of Chicago on Sunday, March 20. Also a 10-rounder featuring Sean O'Grady of Oklahoma City, Okla. and Johnny "The Heat" Verderosa of Staten Island, N.Y. Both fights will be held at the Circle Campus Pavilion in Chicago.

Saturday, March 26, NBC-TV Ch. 4 will cover (live) from The Sands in Atlantic City a 10-round heavyweight bout between Pinklon Thomas and Alonso Ratliff. Thomas hails from Philadelphia. Ratliff from Chicago. And live coverage will also be given to a 10-round junior middleweight slugfest with James "Hard Rock" Green of Irvington, N.J. and Michael Dewar of Kingston, Jamaica, exchanging a lot of leather.

Light heavyweight Vic Valentino a/k/a/ Pat Cuillo of Niagara Falls, Canada, returns to Atlantic City, after an absence of several months from the Jersey shore. Promoters Don Elbaum and Ted Menas reported they have matched Valentino to swap haymakers with Willie Stallings of Hempstead, N.Y., on Tuesday, March 22, at The Tropicana Hotel-Casino.

Hazards of a sportswriter: At a press conference in a San Juan restaurant WBC bantamweight champ Wilfred Gomez of Puerto Rico suddenly punched San Juan El Reportero boxing writer Angel Oliveras in the belly. When questioned about the incident, Gomez answered, "Oliveras asked questions of an 'intimate and personal' nature." Several writers remarked that they heard no such questions. Gomez said, "Oliveras asked his (Gomez) manager, Yamil Chade the questions in a telephone conversation."

Junior middleweight titleholder Davey Moore of New York City, is young, sinewy and has plenty of punch-power. He has one flaw — he gets whacked too often for his own future. There is a saying among the busted-beak crowd, "Catchers don't linger long in the fight game."

Sportschannel previously went big in cabling baseball (40 Yankee and 50 Met) games. The channel will make its first try at broadcasting boxing. On April 4 Sportschannel will show, live, from Ridgewood Grove, Ridgewood, S.I., a Nancy Sciacca promotion. The card will feature two young, exciting junior lightweights Tyrone Jackson of New York and Paul Devorce of Yonkers, N.Y.

Duane Bobick, former heavyweight title contender who flopped after a big build-up as a white hope, etc., is now on the New Jersey Athletic Commission's staff of officials as a referee. The two occasions we caught him officiating it is suggested Bobick is lacking in ability. He should go back to broadcasting.

One mismatch on a fight card is not unusual, but two, that's rubbing it in. It happened in Northridge, California, where former WBA lightweight champion Sean O'Grady of Oklahoma City, beat up on a loser Jose Gonzalez of Allentown, Pa. Gonzalez lost 12 and won 11 in 23 wars.

Rec Volleyball League Starts Playoffs This Week

There was no action in the "B" Division this week. The Shooting Stars received a bye and the Misfits forfeited to De Bacco due to lack of players. In the playoffs next week, De Bacco plays the Misfits and the Shooting Stars will advance to the final automatically because they finished the season in first place.

In division "A" the Netters, led by the excellent play of Linda Forina, defeated the Jammers 15-11, 15-3. Pam Bloom put forth a fine effort for the Jammers in their losing effort. In the other division "A" game Tracy Quale and the Fragiles played well but it wasn't enough as the Set-Ups, led by Cindy Corris, took the match 15-10, 15-7. In the "A" division playoffs the Netters will play the Fragiles and the Set-Ups will play the Jammers. Standings are as follows:

"A" Division
Netters 8	1
Set-Ups	5-4
Jammers	4-5
Fragiles	1-8
"B" Division
Shooting Stars	8-1
De Bacco	6-3
Misfits	3-6

Bellboys Looking Forward to Next Year

"He always drew the toughest assignment defensively and did a good job. He was our sixth man this year and could always be counted on to mix it up under the boards."

John Healy was perhaps the most improved player on the team over the course of three years. "He is the most underestimated, underrated, underpublicized player in the league," said Papasidero. "He's been called upon to help out in the backcourt, he's made the key rebound, the key assist, the big defensive play. Johnny was a real team player, I'm really going to miss his hustle and determination."

Finally, a big hand should go to Dave Grant. The senior went through a tough winter, but came through it in super fashion. "From day one of the season, we knew that David was a legitimate Division I college football player," said Papasidero. "We didn't want to stand in his way as far as visiting a college or talking to a scout. He could have taken it easy and just traveled to different schools. Instead he played basketball and did an outstanding job. Once he chose his college (West Virginia) he had the pressure off and could just concentrate on basketball. In my opinion, he was the best center in our league over the last three weeks."

These seniors certainly were the backbone of the 1982-83 Buccaneers. They were and always will be class people and will certainly be missed when November comes rolling around next fall.

As for the rest of the squad, Papasidero has a strong young team returning. "Rocco Colucci (the JV coach) did an excellent job in molding these players. We think that next year's team will do really well."

In addition to Colalillo and Borrello, some key players to look forward to next year include, David Boyd, Danny Ward, Brian Cook, Mike Sochaski, Steve Kimble, Danny Riordon, John Apicella, Nick Sotomayer and Brian Tice.

"We've got some legitimate talent returning next year," said Papasidero in closing. "I'd like to think that this is only the start of something big."

Applications available for Rec sports activities

The Belleville Recreation Department has announced that applications for all recreation baseball and softball leagues for Belleville children ages 8 through 15 are now available in each public and parochial school, as well as at the Recreation House.

Children who are 8 years old before August 1, 1983 and who will not be 13 before July 31, 1983 are eligible for organized baseball in either the Peanut, Junior or Little Leagues.

Those children wishing to try out for Little League must completely fill out their applications and return them to their schools by March 4, 1983. Those preferring to play in either the Peanut or Junior Leagues must completely fill out their applications and return them in person at 407 Joramelon St. before March 18, 1983 with their birth certificates.

Boys ages 13 through 15 on July 31, 1983 are eligible for Intermediate or Senior League baseball. All applications must be returned with birth certificates to the Rec House by March 18, 1983. Boys who are playing organized high school ball are not eligible, however.

In all cases, the applications must be completed in full and signed by a parent, and all returning players must re-apply. Applications accepted after the March 18 deadline will be considered late and will be treated accordingly. The Rec House hours for baseball-softball registration are Monday-Friday 8:30 a.m.-noon and 1 p.m.-4 p.m. The office will also be open one night a week for registration — call 759-3121 for time and day.

Belleville Kings Win; Enter the Semi-finals

The Belleville Kings entered the semi-finals of the Bergenfield Invitational Tournament undefeated and kept its record unblemished, defeating Hoboken 12-2.

The league's leading scorer, Alex Araya, added four more goals to his total. Walter Capazucca, Mike Peloso, Frank Paparatto added two goals each. Steve Hywel and Oscar Valeira rounded out the scoring with one goal each.

Outstanding play by Moses Ferreira, Joe Barreiro, and goald Jack Conde shut down Hoboken and kept them in check throughout as the Kings opened an early lead and held it. Jose Tabaraz is the spark plug of this team and should be congratulated for his leadership and unselfish play that makes this outstanding team go.

The Kings will face the Riverdale Rebels in the finals.

The Division 5 Flash, sponsored by Chandelier, Casa Polizzi, and Pro Lumber, played the host team Wayne in Wayne.

Belleville's Past

In 1860, finally, the Paterson and Newark Railroad was chartered. Eight years later the first locomotive with its wide smokestack steamed proudly through Belleville's Main Street backyards.

The coming of the railroad was a source of much satisfaction to public spirited citizens of the town like Gasherie De Witt, of whom Reverend T. De Witt Talmage said: "He embodied a large part of the enterprise and enthusiasm of the place. He had his head full of railroads long before the first spike was driven for an iron pathway to the village."

John Smith, born in Belleville during Civil War days, remembered the trains which began to run at that time: "We lived close to the tracks of the Newark Branch of the Erie and the first I remember of that road was the locomotives with the wide smokestacks and the fireman piling on wood."

The Erie Railway Company, licensed to operate in New Jersey in 1853, eventually took over the Paterson-Newark and the Newark and Hudson railroads and established their terminus in Jersey City. Hugh Holmes' account of the change in control of Belleville's new railroad hints at the abrupt methods of industrial expansion in the 1870's. Holmes implied that the $60,000 worth of stock of the new road was "wiped out" when the Erie "allowed it to be sold" under what Holmes called "a fictitious judgment" of $500.

At any rate, railroad progress brooked no obstacles, as the trustees of Mt. Pleasant Cemetery could have testified. They had acquired Green Island, lying off the north end of the cemetery with enough water between it and the shore to enable river craft to navigate the channel, for the sum of $1,000, or as Hugh Holmes remarked, "so they thought."

Soon came those who bluffed them into buying it over again and this time they paid $10,000. When the Erie Railroad came, it claimed that the cemetery had no rights in Green Island at all, and calmly preempted it for trackage purposes.

The channel between the island and the shore was filled in and the tracks laid on the "fill."

Belleville itself and its neighboring communities, Woodside and Franklin, incurred heavy losses through these methods of railroad financing. One of the first official acts of Woodside, after it had broken away from Belleville in 1869, was to issue $100,000 worth of bonds to aid in the construction of the Montclair-Midland Railroad. But this new railroad venture failed and was taken over by the Erie; the bonds depreciated rapidly. When Woodside was annexed to Newark, the Silver Lake section returned to Belleville and with it its own share in the railroad bond debt, amounting to $25,409.89. To meet this obligation Belleville had to issue bonds of its own to the tune of $25,000.

Belleville's own share in the ill-fated railroad venture had been $17,000; these bonds were sold in February, 1880 for $2,064. In the words of Tax Collector William Knapp, "this was a judicious sale, for immediately afterwards the bonds became entirely worthless."

Despite these and similar drawbacks, railroad transportation ruled supreme for several decades. Frank J. Donlon, a retired agent of the Erie Railroad, recalled that passenger traffic on the Newark-Paterson branch increased until in the 1890's 32 trains daily were being run, almost twice as many as at present.

Freeholder Parlavecchio Pushes to Restrict Waste

Freeholder-At-Large Joseph C. Parlavecchio and District 1 Freeholder Angelo Cifelli have sponsored a resolution calling for the passage of an Assembly bill which sets restrictions on the establishment of hazardous waste facilities in cities with populations over 100,000. "I strongly support this bill," said Freeholder Parlavecchio. "It insures against hazardous waste dumps being established in and around densely populated areas."

Within six months after the passage of the proposed legislation, the Department of Environmental Protection must prepare and make available to all interested persons, preliminary criteria for the siting of new major hazardous waste facilities. The department must conduct public meetings on the preliminary criteria in the several geographic areas of the state, within eight months of the effective date of the proposed act.

Sheriff Awarded — Essex County Sheriff Thomas J. D'Alessio (l) was honored recently for his service as chairman of the Essex County Youth Services Advisory Board. Presenting the proclamation to D'Alessio is John Clancy, director of the county's Division of Youth Services.

Orechio Looks to Raise Fares or Sell Towers

Senate President Carmen A. Orechio (D-Essex) has introduced a resolution which will require Gov. Thomas Kean to submit to the Legislature for review and approval any agreement he may reach with New York Gov. Mario Cuomo to raise Port Authority bridge, tunnel or PATH commuter rail line fares, or to sell the World Trade Center.

Orechio, who was joined by nine Democratic senators in sponsoring the resolution, said recent reports that the two governors are negotiating fare increases and sale of the World Trade Center prompted introduction of the legislation.

"These issues are of critical concern to literally hundreds of thousands of New Jerseyans who use Port Authority facilities or are affected by Port Authority projects," Orechio said.

"Resolution of such important questions and issues should not be decided in secret, or private negotiations between Gov. Kean and Gov. Cuomo, but should have full public input and legislative oversight," Orechio said.

Orechio noted the New Jersey Legislature has already made clear its opposition to any increase in the PATH commuter rail line fare by approving a Senate resolution last year insisting the bistate authority hold the line on the existing PATH fares.

The Senate president also noted the Legislature has directed an inquiry into reports of chronic deficits in the operations of PATH.

"Any resolution of these issues must take into account the terms of the bistate agreement in 1962 which authorized the establishment of PATH and the construction of the World Trade Center in New York City," Orechio said.

"We forged a contract with the people of New Jersey and New York which provided for a fair division of services and responsibilities involving the operation of the Port

Authority," Orechio said. "If we intend to change those terms, the people who are party to the contract should have the right of review and approval."

State Sen. James Bornheimer (D-Middlesex) has legislation pending in the State Senate which would create a permanent commission to provide legislation oversight of Port Authority activities.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

Oh Holy Spirit, thou who art all knowing, who bringest every prayer that I may reach my idea, thou who givest me this divine gift of forgiving and forgetting wrongs done unto me and who in every instant of my life art with me, I'd like in this short dialogue to affirm my gratitude for all your blessings and I affirm once again that I never want to part from thee though the illusion of material things abound.
My desire is to be with thee and all my loved ones in perpetual grace.
Thank you for your mercy on me and mine. (Persons should pray 3 consecutive days without revealing prayer. Within three days grace will be attained regardless of how difficult the prayer may be.)
Publish this prayer, once grace is attained.
Grateful for grace attained. C.C.

He'd be the top chef in any cook's book.

He'd rather work for the Navy.

With what he knows about cooking, he could write his own meal ticket. But his restaurant is an aircraft carrier. And he serves several thousand satisfied customers a day.

From chefs and nuclear-trained engineers to machinists and skilled surgeons, some of the best people in their fields are in the Navy. And that makes us proud.

They're Navy-trained career people. Men and women who not only believe in being the best at what they do, but also believe it means more when it's done for their country.

Navy know-how.
It's working for America.

Health Van Coming Here During April

During the coming months, a mobile health van, owned and operated by the New Jersey Hospital Association, and designed to educate the public about health matters, will be visiting various communities in Essex County.

Commissioner Vincent T. Strumolo, director of the Department of Public Affairs, has announced that the van will come to Belleville on Wednesday, April 27 between the hours of 9 a.m. and noon. It will be parked on Washington Avenue, directly in front of the Health Department and all residents of Belleville are welcome.

The van is equipped with individual booths, where participants may view films, film strips, and slides, or may listen to audiocassettes on a variety of health topics. The subject that has been selected by the Health Department for emphasis is cancer — how we can help prevent it, the latest methods of treatment, and up-to-date information on the prospects for its eventual eradication.

Participants may help themselves to many different materials that will be available, not only on the subject of cancer, but also on many other health topics. They may also make appointments for free pap smears, breast and colo-rectal examinations.

No appointments for taking part in the health van programs are necessary. Visitors will be taken on a "first-come, first-served" basis. Further details will be forthcoming from the Belleville Health Department.

Lamberti's Buc Shots

again, Eastside and Plainfield will meet in the semis, while Lenape is favored in the other semi-final game. Eastside is a slight favorite, mainly because they possess the best player in the state this year, Venessa Payntor. The senior two-time all-American might be the difference against Plainfield, a club which made it to the state finals last year before losing to Atlantic City.

The pick here is Paterson Eastside and Lenape for the title next Saturday night. Check your local listing for the times of these big games from the Arena.

Finally, in Parochial A, Immaculate should win the title on the basis of their overwhelming victory against Seton Hall Prep. The Prep is a super ball club and anyone who can beat them by 24 points has to be the favorites to win it all.

Paramus Catholic should yawn its way to the Parochial A title in girls' play, thus winning the state crown. Paramus Catholic is 28-0, ranked number one in the nation and are awesome. They proved that by traveling to Towson, Maryland and defeating the previous number one team in the nation on their home court. By the way, NBC will be doing a special on Paramus Catholic next weekend and guess which films they will be using. The films will be the Belleville-Paramus Catholic game played earlier this season.

In Parochial B, St. Anthony's of Jersey City is the favorite in the boys' section while Gloucester Catholic should repeat its crown in the girls' section.

What a great weekend of basketball this should be. Come down to the Arena and watch some of these great athletes in action.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, which teams made it to the final four in last years NCAA basketball tourney. The answer: Houston, North Carolina, Georgetown and Louisville.

For this week's quiz: Name the winning and losing pitchers in the seventh game of the 1982 World Series.

Next week, we'll wrap up the state basketball tournament and preview the spring sports at BHS.

in first six-month period.

Take another look at U.S. Savings Bonds and take advantage of the biggest improvement in 40 years.

Bonds have changed from a fixed to a variable interest rate that's calculated every six months and compounded semiannually.

In the first six-month period, Bonds pay 11.09%. But there's no limit on how much you can earn. Although the overall yield may be higher or lower, it will never drop below 7.5%. That's the guaranteed minimum. Just hold your Bonds five years or more.

Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Save regularly and easily, and earn the new variable interest rate, too. For only a few dollars each payday, you can take advantage of this opportunity without risk.

So take another look at today's Savings Bonds. There's never been a better time to take stock in America.

Take stock in America.

Series EE Bonds purchased on and after Nov. 1, 1982 and held 5 years or more earn 85% of the average yield on the 5-year Treasury securities rate. Bonds held less than 5 years will earn interest on a fixed, graduated scale — 5.5% after 1 year to 7.5% at 5 years. Bonds held at least 5 years will earn a minimum guaranteed rate of 7.5% per annum, compounded semiannually to the 10-year maturity.
