School Board Budget Finally Passes

D'Agostino, DiStasi and Nazziola Win Seats

Budget Passes For 2nd Time In 21 Years

There was one major upset during Tuesday's School Board election. For only the second time in the past 21 years the school budget passed — and it did so by a wide margin.

With only unofficial figures, voting went like this: current expenses, 917 yes votes, compared to 675 no votes, while the capital outlay totals read, 834, approving and 736, disapproving.

There was optimism in the air at the School Board administrative offices Tuesday night as the results showed in favor of the budget's approval.

"I am ecstatic with the showing that the budget made this year," said John DiStasi, who won one of the three seats available this year. "The budget has been one of my pet projects since I won a seat on the board three years ago, and I cannot express how happy I am to see it approved."

The two other winners, incumbent Dr. Anthony D'Agostino and newcomer Gabe Nazziola, also expressed extreme pleasure over the budget's passage.

"The passing of the budget demonstrates the trust and confidence the public has in the present members of the School Board," said D'Agostino. "It is nice to know that we will be able to continue to fund our children's education in a proper fashion."

"The passage of the budget is a very promising sign," said Nazziola, who was also celebrating his own election to the board. "I guess after two years of presenting a zero-base budget, the public realized that its passing was necessary in order to

Commissioners Amend Funds For Redevelopment Agency

By Linda Telesco

In an unusually quiet budget hearing last Tuesday, Commissioners unanimously agreed to amend the proposed 1983 municipal budget, pending state approval regarding appropriations for the Belleville Redevelopment Agency.

The amendment deleted the $35,000 allocation for the agency from the category of operations excluded from the 5 percent caps, moving it to capital improvements, which is also excluded from the 5 percent cap.

The move raised the line item of capital improvements fund from the originally $10,000 figure to $45,000 — a change township Treasurer Isadore Padula said was just a "technicality," since the overall budget and tax rate remains unchanged.

"The Commissioners amended the budget on the advice of the state," said Padula. He explained the township is waiting for approval of the allocation from the Division of Local Government Services, but in order to retain the allocation while waiting, the funds had to be budgeted outside the caps.

The Belleville budget cap is a 5 percent ceiling on spending increases over last year.

According to the treasurer, the amendment would permit capital expenses to be covered if the agency and Commissioners approve any.

The change does not alter the township's $13.9 million spending plan, up from last year's $12.9 million.

The municipality's tax rate of $1.36 remains unchanged from last year. The 1983 budget calls for $6,054,710 to be raised by local taxation.

With only half a dozen citizens present and most silent, the hearing concluded only 15 minutes after it began.

Not even the Redevelopment Agency's representative, John DiStasi, commented on the budget. Originally, the agency had requested $75,000 from the municipality, but Mayor Michael Marotti explained earlier this month Commissioners had to reduce the figure to $35,000 in order to stay within the caps.

Although state law raised the legal spending ceiling from 5 percent

Incumbents Do Well; Nazziola Edges Out Zoppi For Third Seat

By Ed Capparucci

During the first 15 minutes when ballots were being returned to the Board of Education administration complex for tabulation on Tuesday night, the race for the three seats looked very close between the four candidates. But after the results from School 5 were announced, the crowd realized that there would be no surprises this year.

Dr. Anthony D'Agostino, senior member of the board, finished in front of the field, followed by incumbent John DiStasi, while local businessman Gabe Nazziola edged out former board trustee Ernest Zoppi by more than 100 votes for the third and final seat.

Voting figures for the candidate seats went like this: D'Agostino, 1,858; DiStasi, 1,604; Nazziola, 1,424 and Zoppi, 1,318.

The election took place on a pleasant, but cloudy day.

"Thank God it is over," said D'Agostino, who will begin his fifth year on the board and experienced his third election campaign. "Elections are always trying times, but I am very happy with the results. I feel that the race offered four top-notch candidates this year to the voters. It was a very high-class campaign, with strong competition. I am disappointed about the low voter turnout, but that is the only thing I am disappointed about this year. It is a great feeling to finish at the top of the field."

John DiStasi, who served as president of the board for the past year, said he was honored to be selected to serve the public for another three years.

"I have to express my gratitude to the public for having confidence in my role as a School Board member and re-electing me for a second term," he said. "There are many

Belleville Awarded Stay In Garbage Contract Case

In an appeal action, Belleville won a stay of a recent court order to rebid for a new garbage contract this month.

According to Frank Cozzarelli, assistant township attorney, representing Belleville in the four-month-old issue, Judge Herman Michels of Superior Court Appellate Division in Newark issued early this month the stay, delaying an earlier Superior Court decision until a full appellate judge panel hearing on May 10.

The panel will review the March decision of Judge Richard Newman which pronounced invalid Belleville's recent five-year $2,778,992 contract with Browning-Ferris Waste Industries of North Jersey (BFI) and had directed the township to rebid for service by April 1 and have a new contract in place by May 1.

Newman voided the contract, effective since Jan. 1, because at the time bids were opened by the Board of Commissioners last December 14, BFI had failed to submit an affidavit of non-collusion and a financial statement for the North Jersey subsidiary of the nationwide firm, both required documents.

In a February hearing before Judge Newman, Cozzarelli maintained the failure to include the documents was "an oversight" and noted the company produced them on Dec.

Heavy Rains Cause Some Flooding Here

April showers are good for flowers, but the torrents that drenched New Jersey last weekend put a damper on some Belleville residents.

Public Works Commissioner Mary Senatore reported Monday her switchboard was as flooded as some local basements. "We got lots and lots of calls," she said, adding most residents with complaints of flooded basements were in the Franklin Avenue area, a problem she attributed to the overflow on Hendricks Field, the Essex County golf course located at the corner of Franklin and Belleville avenues.

Other problem areas, Senatore said, were on Carmer Avenue near the Nutley border. Both Belleville and Nutley workers went to the aid of those residents.

In two firsts for the Public Works Department, Chestnut Street reported flooding problems, but the usually troublesome Main Street did not.

"We had four men out pumping the flooded areas for five hours," said Senatore, adding two of those were on weekend call anyway and two others were added to the staff.

Chestnut Street was closed temporarily late Sunday afternoon when excessive water levels in the sewers caused manhole covers to pop.

Senatore said all the problems were under control by Monday, leaving only clean up work for her department.

The Commissioner said she could not yet determine if the costs for the weekend service could be covered by her present budget.

Police reported Monday no emergency calls as a result of the storm.

High School's Guidance Office Is Open Late

For the convenience of any parent who works during the day, the Belleville High School guidance office will be open during dinner hour on April 27.

Officials at the guidance office are aware that many parents work during school hours and cannot make an appointment with guidance counselors. The counselors who will be available on April 27 are Dr. Richard Benninger and Ms. Candiloro.

Police Dept. Applications Available Now

Applications for the police patrolman's entrance exam are now available at the Town Hall on Washington Avenue, according to Police Chief George Lister. The filing deadline for applying is April 30.

Applications are also available at the Department of Civil Service, located on Raymond Boulevard in Newark.

Two Chiropractors — Edward Dietz and Donna Camara, two local chiropractors, both received certification concerning scoliosis determination procedures from the New Jersey Chiropractic Society.

2 Local Chiropractors Receive Certification

Dr. Edward R. Dietz, Jr. of Family Chiropractic Center of 265 Franklin Ave., in Nutley and Dr. Donna M. Camara of Greylock Chiropractic Center, located at 318 Greylock Parkway in Belleville, were awarded certification concerning scoliosis determination procedures by the New Jersey Chiropractic Society.

This certification allows the doctors to perform scoliosis screenings within the school systems. The routine screenings have previously been performed by the school nurse. Scoliosis represents a form of spinal distortion defined as an appreciable lateral deviation in the vertical line of the spine. The ultimate effect of the disease is an extensive alteration in the mechanical structure of the spine. Because progression of spinal deformities is most likely during the periods of rapid spinal growth, combined with the knowledge that this particular deformity occurs without pain, periodic examination of school aged children is required by New Jersey State law.

A special device may be used to measure the structural deviation in degrees called the Scolimeter. This instrument provides objective examination and was developed by Dr. Michael A. Sabia also a Chiropractic Physician in New Jersey. Dr. Sabia is well known for inventing "Enswell" used throughout the world by champion, professional and amateur boxers.

Sherman College of Chiropractic and served his internship at the Sherman Health Facility, one of the largest out patient health care facilities in the Southern U.S. His undergraduate work includes a B.A. from Bloomfield College. Dr. Dietz is a member of the council of Roentgenology and is a certified CPR and first aid instructor by the Red Cross. He is also a diplomat of the National Board of Chiropractic.

Wishes He Could Have Done More

Zampino Ends School Board Career

By Ed Capparucci

When most people think about the life of a School Board trustee they envision endless Monday nights away from home spent at board meetings. But according to Thomas Zampino, who just completed his career as a board trustee after three years, there is a lot more involved in serving the community.

"Serving as a trustee of the School Board can take up your entire life if you allow it to," said Zampino during an interview last Friday in his law office on Union Avenue. "There are dinners, contract negotiations, special events, and of course meetings and more meetings. It can become very hectic trying to stay in touch with everything involved."

Zampino announced several months ago he would not seek re-election to the seat which he won back in 1980, during his first attempt at public office.

"Being involved in a campaign is an experience I will never forget," he said. "I had a lot of fun that year and I met many people during that time, which I would never of had the pleasure of doing so, if I did not run."

"I never really thought about running for the board until my older daughter started going to school and the opportunity came up," he continued. "It has been a great pleasure and honor to serve the community of Belleville and I am thankful that I was given the chance to do so."

Looking back at his three years on the board, Zampino sees many positive actions the board made.

"One major move we made was to cut down the time of the board meetings, while accomplishing twice as much work," he said. "When I first was elected to the board, we would spend hours debating the same subject over and over again, and what we were doing was accomplishing very little. Now trustees are informed ahead of time about what is scheduled to be on the agenda and we are more prepared, therefore the meetings move more efficient."

Zampino also points to a joint relationship between teachers, administrators and board members which has developed recently.

"At one time, the various members of the school system," Zampino said. "Now there is a more trusting relationship between the teachers, administrators and School Board members. Individuals are not afraid to voice their opinions. We are working as a unit."

"A lot of people have been saying there has been no controversy on the board in recent years, and there is a good reason for that," Zampino continued. "The board has been dissolving any problems at an early stage, before they developed into major problems. We didn't wait until the 11th hour of a crisis before making a decision. We tried to anticipate problems before they arose."

Zampino pointed to the board's decision to expand the high school by constructing two new classrooms as an example.

"The administration came to us and said that a large increase in special education kids was expected in September," Zampino stated. "Instead of waiting until the beginning of the school year to figure out what to do with the students, we decided right away to building two classrooms, therefore solving a problem before it developed into a crisis."

But Zampino feels the board's decision to move the ninth graders to the high school is the best decision they ever made.

"You can see the results of the move already," Zampino said. "Look at the number of children who were named to the honor roll last semester and you can see the positive results."

But Zampino is disappointed that the board could not do even more.

"At times we get so tied up with personnel, that we get away get the real issue — the kids," he said. "You find yourself dealing as an administrator much of the time, and that was something which upset me personally."

"We did give more responsibility to the administrators, but there is still a lot of personnel work which is required of School Board trustees," Zampino said. "I would have liked to see more attention paid to curriculum, especially in the elementary schools."

"There is also a need for more developed playgrounds throughout the school district. Kids should not have to leave school after 3 p.m., there should be facilities for them to enjoy," Zampino said. "If you look at other school districts, all the playgrounds in the school yards are developed, ours are barren, and they shouldn't be."

While the hours are long and many problems still exist, Zampino is happy that he had the chance to serve on the board.

"One of the first things you learn when first elected to the Board of Education is that you cannot do everything by yourself," Zampino said. "You are only one of seven votes. You start out believing that you can do more and then you find out that there are limits on everything you can do."

"It is a fulfilling job despite what many people may say about it," he continued. "You hear some people say that it is a thankless job, but it is not. When you realize that what you are doing is benefiting the kids, then you know that it is an rewarding experience."

Zampino has ambitions of one day being a judge, but for now he will settle for spending more time with his wife, Sandy and their two daughters, Alison, 8 and Beth, 7.

"My kids are at the age where I should be around," Zampino said. "As much as I would like to continue serving the community, I do not want to miss seeing my kids grow up."

Former Trustee — Two weeks ago Thomas Zampino sat in on his final School Board meeting after serving as a trustee for the past three years. Zampino, a local attorney, decided not to seek re-election so he could spend more time with his family.

Recreation Time

Spring is in the air and with it comes recreation sporting events for both the girls and boys of this community.

Each year children from the ages of eight through 16 participate in recreation programs in Belleville. There are softball leagues, Little League, Pee Wee League and other sporting events for kids.

But interestingly enough there never seems to be enough parents to volunteer to help the programs survive. Most parents use the excuse that they do not have enough time to involve themselves in recreation activities with their children.

While there are parents and even some people who are not parents involving themselves with the children of this community, there is always a need for more. With more parents there would be more active teams throughout the town, and with more teams, more children can participate in activities which help build their coordination and physical ability.

Last year there was a consistent cry from officials in Little League and the township's recreation program for coaches and umpires. The result of the pleas was very successful. This year once again coaches and other aids are needed to help the recreation program grow.

Do your part in helping the youth of this community to grow. Besides coaching and working with children, it will keep you active and feeling alive.

George Zanfini

Tonight members of the community's athletic populations along with other residents will pay honor to a gentleman who has made an outstanding contribution to the sports program at Belleville High School.

Tonight at the Branch Brook Manor George Zanfini, who served as head coach for the boys' baseball squad at the high school for eight seasons, will receive the credit which is due to him.

During his eight seasons coaching the Bucs, Zanfini built a record of 135-50, while leading the 1981 squad to the championship of the Greater Newark Tournament. Zanfini led his 1980 team to the finals of the Group IV, Section II title, where the Bucs were defeated by a mighty Livingston team.

During his career as varsity coach, Zanfini not only took young men and taught them how to play baseball, he gave them character. He taught them to be men and to be strong. Many of the players who were coached by Zanfini thought of him not only as a coach but as a friend.

Tonight the community of Belleville will attempt to give George Zanfini all the credit he deserves for his years of outstanding service, but what Zanfini gave this township could never be made up in one night.

We congratulate him and may God bless him always.

CMHS Hotline

Dear Community Mental Health Services:

We have just received word from school that my 11-year-old son is failing in school. He has always been a good boy with no problems in school and I don't understand why he isn't doing his homework or paying attention in class. The school wants him to be evaluated by the Child Study Team and I'm worried about it.

Worried Parents

Dear Parents:

There are many questions one would want to know about what is happening to your child and your family. If this is a new problem for your son, as you write, we would wonder what would be the precipitating factor or factors. Perhaps there are difficulties that have developed this year with his peer relations or with his teacher that need to be addressed. Also there might be some issues relating to the upcoming move to Junior High School. Many children who have been comfortable in grammar school begin to have problems as they approach the graduation to a more "grown up" school. Another possibility may be in the family context. Have there been any events in recent months that might have changed things for the family? A death, a job loss, a job change, are examples of stressors that can have impact on all family members. Sometimes the connections are not so obvious, but a family is a system and what affects one member affects everyone.

Finally, the Child Study Teams can be an excellent aid for you in trying to begin to sort out this problem. The team members will help isolate the needs of your son and develop a plan with you that will attempt to meet those needs.

Good luck.

Charges Dropped Against DeMarco

To the editor:

It has been some 19 months since headlines in The Belleville Times read "Belleville Police Bust Auto Body 'Chop Shop'" and "DeMarco Is Charged In 'Chop Shop Business.'"

Over that period I have suffered considerable loss of business income and irreparable damage to my good name. You will recall that due to the over zealous actions of 'Belleville's finest,' I was caused to be accused as the operator of a 'Chop Shop.' To add insult to injury, the Commission of Public Safety hastily saw fit to award a citation of merit to the police officer involved, even before a formal judgement was handed down. Subsequently, and up until this day, I have been subjected to all but constant harassment by the Belleville Police and various municipal agencies.

By way of updating you and your readers, allow me to point out that because of the total lack of any single valid piece of incriminating evidence, it took all of nine months to even get an indictment. It took another 10 months for the case to be dismissed because my accusers never had a strong enough case to bring to trial.

I want to once again thank The Belleville Times for its attempt at maintaining its objectivity in reporting this occurrence, despite misleading, inaccurate and unsupported statements by the Belleville Police which at best could barely have been referred to as 'allegations.'

Since I have committed several thousands of dollars to improving not only the fundamental, but the aesthetic appearance of my building, I will continue to work hard and make an honest living in the Township of Belleville.

Sincerely,
Richard A. DeMarco

Thanking The Police

To the editor:

I would like to thank the Belleville policeman who saved me from the inconvenience and expense of a dead car battery.

When I arrived home Easter evening, I did not turn off the lights in my car. About 12:30 a.m., I awoke to a tapping on my door. Half asleep I looked through the peephole and eventually made out the outline of a policeman. He was kind enough to take the time to find out where I lived so I would not have the burden of a dead battery in the morning.

Unfortunately, I did not get his name, but, I would again like to thank him for his concern and help. It was most appreciated.

Sincerely yours,
Linda A. Capone

Liberal Democrats — U.S. Communist Party

To the editor:

Has anyone noticed the similarity between U.S. Communist Party General Secretary Gus Hall and the American Liberal Democrat Party in Congress? They both use the same rhetoric in attacking the President.

Gus Hall is mouthing much of the same complaints against our President as do the Liberal Democrats. The difference is that Gus Hall admits that he speaks from the point of view of Karl Marx, while the Democrats say they speak from the point of view of aiding the poor and what's good for American workers.

Gus Hall says that Reagan's actions are day to day proof of the correctness of Marx's concepts. That Reagan is the most effective witness of the genius of Karl Marx. What are his examples?

Hall cites the dismissal of the striking Air Controllers and the tax loop holes for the rich as examples of how Reagan has conformed to Marx's predictions.

"Our country has a dangerous sinister, simpleton as President..." (CBS commentator Bill Moyers tried to pin this label on candidate Reagan before the election in a sickening biased attempt to sway voters against Reagan) Gus Hall proclaims.

Gus Hall blames all of the economic ills on Reagan, forgetting the past destructive policies of the Democrats which led to this mess, just as the liberals do. No where does Hall attack the liberals.

The similarity ends though when Gus Hall the communist refers to God. If your against Reagan then you are against God, and are agents of the devil, he says. Liberal Democrats would never admit that there is a God much less a Devil.

She Approves Of Hank Oliveri

To the editor:

Had there been an election for a new Deputy Chief in Belleville, Hank Oliveri would have been the people's choice.

Hank is not only an asset to the police force, he is an asset to the entire community.

Congratulations, Hank! It could not have happened to a more capable or deserving individual.

Very truly yours,
Ann Donatiello

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Since copy of this column must be submitted prior to publication date for perusal, review and emendation it becomes impossible to speculate upon the results of the local school board election, other than as previously expressed in last week's column. Regardless of the outcome, all those candidates who sought the office were eminently qualified.

We salute the victors, to the vanquished (there always must be losers) we compliment them upon a dignified and gentlemanly campaign with the reminder that there are always other wars (elections) to be won. Keep you powder dry and your troops on the ready should things go awry. Critics are not without honor, so long as their strictures and jeremiads have merit.

Now that the school board tussle for office is over for another year, focus is now concentrated upon the "big one," the township commission election, which offers a fertile field of candidates, including four incumbents, two close also rans in the 1979 town election, a popular Planning Board Chairman and a strapping young Irish lad still in his twenties, who has already gotten his feet wet in previous campaign elections.

Commissioner Mary Senatore's decision not to seek re-election, after 16 years on the Board of Commissioners, assures that one seat is open for grabs. With the election set for May 10th, and the drawing for spots on the ballot having been held at Town Hall March 31st, there is still more than three weeks of campaigning, which to date has been lackluster, prosaic and devoid of issues, that will contribute largely in determining the outcome of the final results.

Conventional precedent, which generally favors the re-election of incumbents, does not always prevail in a community possessive of the political volatility of Belleville which has in the past shattered dynasties and swept political titans from office. As the campaign progresses during the three weeks a clearer picture may be developed.

Our evaluation leads to the conclusion that front runner Mayor Marotti and strong running Commissioner Strumolo are winners, in a one-two order. Comm. Pica, after one term, that followed several terms on the school board, has a formidable organization that should return him a winner. His most serious obstacle to surmount is the realization that, in the past, being the director of the police and fire departments, which encompasses many men with considerable political influence upon the outcome of local elections, often feeling aggrieved, "do a job" on their boss...shades of the past: Noll, Smith, Laterza, Saletta or anybody else they find fault with.

Commissioner McGreevy, perhaps because of the awkward imbroglio arising from the ashes of the conflict over the Town Clerk job, seems the most vulnerable of the incumbents with three viable candidates in hot pursuit to snatch his office.

The contenders Mike Pizzi ran a strong sixth in the 1979 election with Joe Fornarotto close behind. Both are popular, strong candidates with hosts of friends and supporters. Joe Grande, a more mature gentleman, is presently Chairman of the Planning Board, head of school maintenance crews and well supported by powerful political forces in town. Any of these three can win. — one will, indeed, because of the open vacancy.

We can't envision the strapping Irish lad Kevin Kennedy a winner in this contest, but, he is a doughty, spunky fellow with the militant spirit of a son of the sod; We wish him luck and a lot of votes to fortify his confidence. May the wind be at your back lad in this election.

As the election date draws near there will no doubt be intensified campaign activity with all the fanfare that goes with it. Look for signs, throw-aways extolling the virtues of the candidates, ads in the newspapers, rallies, teas. Someone may even come up with a new, novel idea. Whatever! As Archie Bunker might say, it's the greatest American game of politics. So sit back and enjoy it, BUT, don't forget to consider the high stakes that hinge upon the outcome that affect ALL of us. Study the qualifications and records of the candidates. We NEED capable, experienced men of integrity to guide the destinies of this community for the next four years...prudence dictates we vote with our minds, not our heart. Remember it is WE who pay the bills.

Cherry Blossom Parade

By Ed Capparucci

As almost all nature lovers know, the cherry blossoms are in full bloom throughout Belleville and Branch Brook Park this week.

It is a beautiful sight to behold and everyone should take some time to go out and view one of the masterpieces created by Mother Nature for us to enjoy.

Going back and reading old issues of The Belleville Times for our weekly "Seems Like Only Yesterday..." column, I discovered that the town once made a major celebration out of the blooming of the cherry blossoms in the park. There was a parade down Washington Avenue, a beauty contest and a Cherry Blossom Ball held in Belleville to celebrate the coming of the pink and white wonders.

What ever happened to the cherry blossom parade and beauty contest? Wouldn't it be great if we would rejuvenate the celebration starting next year? The town of Belleville needs parades. Parades are a symbol of community pride and involvement. Each year there is one parade in town, that is the Veterans' Day parade and it always draws a large turnout. Look at the fire department centennial parade held last year. There was an excellent turnout for the event. Let's bring the cherry blossom festival back to Belleville. Perhaps that is a project the Belleville Chamber of Commerce could start on. I am sure that it would get great support, especially from The Belleville Times.

The final word on Interior Secretary James Watt's decision to ban The Beach Boys from performing at the Capital's fourth annual Fourth of July celebration, but first let me tell you that I am not an especially big fan of the Beach Boys. Watt stated that rock music groups would attract "the wrong element," with drinking and drug-taking youths participating at the celebration. But what about singer Wayne Newton, who Watt seeked as a replacement for the Beach Boys? Newton plays year-round in Las Vegas, which is not exactly known as the city of saints. If the Beach Boys represent the bad influence of drinking, sex and drugs, what about Newton. Las Vegas presents a city of gambling, drinking, drugs and certainly sex, where just outside the city, prostitution is legal. If you ask me I think Newton's crowd is comprised of the "wrong elements." And perhaps people like Watt should involved themselves in dealing with more important affairs concerning our nation.

We have to say good-bye to Tom Zampino from the Board of Education. Tom was always very cooperative with the press during his three-year term on the board and proved to be one of the township's better trustees. While maintaining a low profile during his term, Tom also voiced his opinions well, and always voted with his heart and in the best interest of the people of Belleville. Tom is definitely a top-class person and will be sorely missed on the board.

BHS Spring Concert Scheduled For April 28

The Belleville High School Music Department is presenting its annual spring concert on Thursday, April 28 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium, featuring the mixed chorus and orchestra.

The mixed chorus, under the direction of Thomas Finetti, will perform two Negro spirituals; the "Kyrie," from Puccini's "Messa di Gloria"; Handel's "Hallelujah, Amen" from "Judas Macabaeus"; Schubert's "Gloria," from "The Mass in G" and Mozart's "Ave Verum," as well as melodies from the Big Band era and the 1950's.

The orchestra, under the direction of Edwin Black, will perform the "Chorale," from the "Reformation Symphony" of Felix Mendelssohn and the "Farandole," from "L'Arlesienne Suite" by Bizet, as well as highlights from the musical "Annie" and popular themes from the movies "Exodus," "Rocky" and "Superman."

After a very active performance schedule during the Christmas season, the mixed chorus began preparing for a May 22 performance at the famous Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, D.C. The students participating in this trip to the Capitol will be staying at Marymount College in Arlington, Virginia. The chorus will also be entertained at the well-known Harlequin Dinner-Theatre in Rockville, Maryland where they will see a performance of Cole Porter's "Can Can."

The orchestra is also preparing for a competition-festival on May 5 at Great Adventure. Both the orchestra and select members of the chorus will be performing for elementary school students during their annual concert tour of three grade schools on May 13.

Chairman is Appointed To Girl Scouts' Drive

Mrs. Yvonne Klinger of Belleville has been appointed chairman of the "Friends of Girl Scouting" fund drive for the community of Belleville.

An active volunteer for the Girl Scout Council of Greater Essex, Mrs. Klinger has served as a troop leader, organizer and troop consultant in the town, while also serving on various special committees for the council.

The "Friends of Girl Scouting" campaign reaches out to all people and organizations who financially support the work of the council. Last year, membership in the Greater Essex Council grew. During the year more than 13,000 girls were served by the many varied activities of the Girl Scout Program.

In order to continue to bring the tradition, adventure and enthusiasm of Girl Scouting to all girls, Mrs. Klinger asks the cooperation and support of everyone in the community. "By contributing to the Girl Scout Council of Greater Essex County," states Mrs. Klinger "you will be a part of one of the most energetic youth programs in our area."

In the community of Belleville there are more than 250 girls, led by 70 adults. Dorothy Healy is district chairman for the community, heading the service team of volunteers who organize Girl Scouting in Belleville. Mrs. Gloria Corriveau will assume this position for the coming year.

Township Awarded a Court Stay In rebidding Garbage Contract

17, well before the Commissioners rendered their Dec. 28 decision awarding the contract to BFI at what the board majority considered substantial savings to the community.

The Belleville attorney also contended the oversights of BFI did not alter the fairness of the basic competition.

The decision was challenged in court by L. Pucillo and Sons, the company that serviced local trash collection for over two decades until its last contract with Belleville expired on Dec. 31.

Pucillo, a Belleville-Lodi firm, was the only other bidder for the new township contract last December and submitted the higher of the two bids.

Filing a complaint on Dec. 31, Pucillo's attorney Mark Lerner of Newark had argued, according to Cozzarelli the contract was improper because of failure to submit the affidavit and specific financial statements.

Lerner also charged there were other irregularities in both ambiguous bid specifications and the general procedure of accepting bids followed by the township.

Cozzarelli had labeled these added objections "immaterial technicalities" and Newman agreed they had no bearing on the present case.

In issuing the stay, Judge Michels ruled BFI must continue garbage collection on a per diem basis according to the rates specified in the challenged contract until a final decision is made.

Both the plaintiff and defendant scavengers, as well as other contenders, may participate in rebid-ding. Commissioners had voted last month to appeal Newman's decision in an effort to maintain a contract they thought economical.

Health Commissioner Vincent Strumolo, whose Public Affairs Department oversees trash collection, opposed the decision to appeal. "There were problems in the bid specs that should have been cleared up from the start," he said.

Strumolo had been opposed to awarding BFI a five-year contract from the start, favoring a one-year probationary term to determine quality of service.

Mavor Michael Marotti said he hoped to keep costs down.

"If we are forced to rebid this," he said, "we won't know if BFI or anyone else will come up with as good a price as we now have."

REWARD for air conditioners with low energy appetites.

"We'll pay you cash if you install air conditioners with high energy efficiency ratios."

"A compelling way to cut cooling costs."

When you install a high efficiency room or central air conditioner this summer, you'll save money in two ways. First, high efficiency air conditioners are more economical to operate. Second, when you buy a high efficiency air conditioner between April 1 and August 31, PSE&G will send you a cash rebate.

"Who qualifies?"

If you are a PSE&G Residential Electric Customer, just purchase an air conditioner with an Energy Efficiency Ratio (EER) or Seasonal Energy Efficiency Ratio (SEER) of 9.0 or greater, and you're eligible to apply for the rebate. The EER can be found on the yellow "Energy Guide" label attached to the unit.

"The particulars of our rebate plan."

When you purchase a room air conditioner with an EER of 9.0 or greater, PSE&G will rebate to you $5 for every 1000 Btu's of cooling capacity.

For example, a 9,000 Btu unit with an EER of 10.0 would qualify for a $45 rebate ($5 x 9).

If you buy a central air conditioner, you'll be eligible for even greater savings depending upon the SEER of the particular unit. Ask your dealer for details.

"Approved procedure for application."

When you've decided to buy a high efficiency air conditioner, be sure to ask your dealer for a rebate form and assistance in filling it out. Rebate forms are available to all dealers from PSE&G. Send the completed form with a copy of the sales slip to the address shown. We'll verify that your air conditioner qualifies, then mail you a check.

"To find out more ..."

For complete details on this rebate program, and for literature on other PSE&G energy conservation programs, clip and mail this coupon. Or, call our Energy Conservation Center toll-free at 800-854-4444. "Seal-up and save... it's elementary."

Belleville's Past

The town fathers, however, were far from siding with Holmes in appreciation of speed. In fact, many of the modern conveyances appeared rather terrifying to old-time Bellevillians, and "an ordinance to prevent immoderate or fast riding or driving upon the streets," passed on August 3, 1897, set forth:

"No person shall ride or drive any hearse or horses in or through any street, road or public place in the Township of Belleville at a greater speed than eight miles an hour, or faster than four miles an hour in turning corners.

"No person shall ride or propel any bicycle, any tri-cycle or similar vehicles without having attached to the handle bar of such vehicle a suitable alarm bell, which, when rung, may be heard one hundred feet distant, nor, between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise, without carrying and displaying a light lamp of such illuminating power as to be plainly seen one hundred yards ahead."

Nor was any "other wheeled vehicle" exempt from the eight-mile per hour speed limit. Occasionally even the street car company was warned by the town about the "excessive speed" with which its cars traversed Washington Avenue.

The town fathers relaxed their legislative sternness enough, however, to make a concession to the many "Wheelmen's Clubs" and their frequent excursions and bike races which were among the most glamorous features of the mauve decade. By a rider to the ordinance the "provisions of this section, in so far as the same respects the speed of bicycles, may be, on special occasion for one day or any specific part of a day and upon specific portions of the public ways of said Township, suspended by the Township Committee in its discretion and under such reasonable conditions as the township committee may deem proper."

At about the same time the Broad Street electric trolley line, then owned by the North Jersey Street Railway Company was extended to the "Big Tree" carhouse on Washington Avenue. Street car communication with neighboring communities to the north was introduced soon after. The Jersey City, Hoboken and Paterson Street Railway Company extended its Paterson-Passaic line also to the Big Tree carhouse. Out of the combination of these two lines later grew Public Service Coordinated Transport and the vast network of its lines.

Present-day citizens of Belleville saw transportation history made when electric all-service buses were substituted for trolley cars on the Newark-Paterson and the Broad Street lines on July 18 and September 5, 1937, respectively.

The Hospice Inc. Has Mounted Extensive Billboard Campaign

As part of an on-going effort to inform the general public of a new approach to care for the terminally ill, The Hospice Inc. of Essex County recently mounted a 21 billboard campaign in the area.

The Hospice Inc. is headquartered at 331 Claremont Ave., Montclair, and is affiliated with four major hospitals in the Essex County area. Space and production costs for the publicity campaign are being donated by Nutley Savings and Loan Association.

"Response to the billboards has been just tremendous," according to Honi Weiss, director of volunteers for the Hospice. "We've received numerous calls from families inquiring about the kind of services we provide and also from individuals interested in joining us as volunteers," she said, adding, "We've made a commitment to making the public more aware of our program."

"We are very grateful to Nutley Savings and Loan Association president John V. Kelly for his supports in our efforts," she concluded.

Hospice care is a concept which has its roots in England and which is rapidly catching on in the United States. Essentially, Hospice provides medical and social services, that enable a terminally ill patient to remain at home with his or her family during the final months of life.

Hospice care assures the patient an environment of dignity and it also diminishes the financial and emotional strain families often endure while caring for the terminally ill.

"It's apparent that we are filling a void," said Harry Gregg, president of the Hospice Board of Trustees. "In the short time that we've been in operation, we've received a great deal of support and encouragement from the health care community," he said.

"Public officials and business leaders have also been pitching in and it is largely due to people like John Kelly and Essex County Freeholders Thomas Giblin and Arthur Clay that we have made major strides on the road to convincing people of the value of our service," Gregg continued. "In fact, Freeholder and Mrs. Clay are hosting our annual fund-raiser at the Glen Ridge home May 1 and Governor Tom Kean will be serving as our chairman. I'd like to encourage as many people as possible to join us for our annual party and anyone interested in obtaining tickets can call the Hospice at 783-7879. It's a good cause," he concluded.

More Parking For Washington Avenue; Mary Senatore Files For Senate Election

By Ed Capparucci
Thirty Years Ago

Off-street parking in the vicinity of the Washington Avenue business district adjacent to Town Hall, came a step closer to realization at a conference of the Board of Commissioners. The parking area was proposed by Mayor James J. Tully, who was given permission several months ago to investigate the project. Tully discussed the project with fellow board members and won their support to proceed with additional phases of the plan.

The parking area would be created by taking the rear 50 feet off the 150-foot deep properties on the east side of Washington Avenue and Rutgers Streets and acquiring houses and property on Valley Street. The parking area would be designed to protect the business ratables along the Avenue and according to Tully's plan would be self-supportive through collections from parking meters.

The appointment of a new Lay Advisory Committee of 28 members was announced by Board of Education President E.J. Kelly. The group includes eight members of the original Lay Committee, plus five women, which was diabanded by the board earlier in the year.

The membership of the new committee was selected from nominations submitted by each School Board member, on a basis of school attendance areas, racial representation and business affiliations.

A group of interested citizens met with Ann Grahn, member of the National Field Staff of the Girl Scouts of America, at the office of Schools Superintendent Evan Thomas to discuss the possibilities of obtaining a charter for a new Girl Scout Council in Belleville. The National organization withdrew the local charter in 1950.

Town Clerk Florence Morey was honored for 25 years of service to the town of Belleville at a testimonial dinner at the Forest Hills Restaurant. Miss Morey started as a stenographer in the town clerk's office and succeeded John Daly upon his retirement.

Twenty Years Ago

Last minute plans were being rushed to completion by harried Cherry Blossom officials who scurried about town checking final details of Belleville's annual three-day Cherry Blossom festival.

Even the cherry blossoms in Branch Brook Park cooperated by bursting out in full-bloom over the weekend.

Eleven finalists were selected by judges for the Miss Cherry Blossom Pageant, with over $800 in scholarships going to the beautiful winner. Other events included a Blossom Ball at the Elks Club and the Cherry Blossom parade down Washington Avenue.

The Retired Men's Club of Belleville, held its seventh annual anniversary dinner at Fewsmith Church. A record turnout was recorded for the club, which started back in April of 1956.

Ten Years Ago

Commissioner of Public Works Mary V. Senatore filed in Trenton as a candidate for the state Senate race in the newly arranged 30th District.

Workers for the commissioner have been canvassing Belleville and surrounding towns in recent weeks collecting over 2,000 names for the petition for nomination. Only 100 names are needed, but Mrs. Senatore and her workers wanted to gauge her strength in the other towns included in the district after reapportionment was affected last month, placing Belleville in a district with Secaucus, Kearny, Harrison, East Newark and part of North Newark.

With only a week to go before the filing deadline, Mrs. Senatore said she has not heard of any opposition to her bid within the Democratic party.

The Belleville Board of Education filed a brief with Acting State Commissioner of Education Edward Kilpatrick detailing its side of the 1973-74 School Board budget dispute and outlining reasons for its request to reinstate $450,880 cut from the budget by the Board of Commissioners.

The Town Fathers will follow suit with their own brief and Kilpatrick will set a date for a hearing between the two parties.

Stricter measures will be employed in Belleville schools to curb vandalism if the current rate of property damage continues said board President Lawrence Schwartz.

Schwartz said costs of repairs due to vandalism amounted to $1,500 for the first three months of this year. He said the board was contemplating a "get-tough" policy featuring a closer watch on "trouble spots" and certain prosecution of all apprehended vandals, with a demand for full restitution of damages.

One Year Ago

Grace Purdue, the lone woman candidate in the School Board election, swept past three other candidates and placed first with 1,868 votes to take one of the two vacant board seats. Charles Miele, past board president, placed second capturing 1,644. Gabe Nazzola finished third with 1,232 and Kevin Kennedy was a distance fourth with 360 votes.

The School Board budget went down to defeat for the 19th time in the past 20 years by a wide 1,612 to 762 margin.

Fingerprinting Kids Will Start April 25

By Steve Frank

By the end of the month, the Belleville Police Department will begin the process of fingerprinting township school children.

The fingerprinting of elementary school students will start on April 25 at School 3. The complete schedule of schools and dates will be issued shortly by the police department.

The fingerprinting program, which was approved by trustees of the School Board last month, is to aid public safety officials in locating missing children.

Parents and guardians of elementary school students will be asked permission for their child to participate in this program. After permission is obtained, members of the Belleville Police Department will take one set of fingerprints from the student.

The hours of 7-9 p.m. on Thursday evenings at the scheduled school will be set aside for parents or guardians who are unable to be present for their child's fingerprinting due to work commitments during daytime hours. If an evening date is desired, please mark the appropriate space on the permission slip, which will be sent out shortly.

Upon completion, the fingerprint card will be held and controlled by the parent. The responsibility of the Belleville Police Department and the Belleville Board of Education ceases once the fingerprints are recorded and the fingerprint card is presented or mailed to the parent or guardian.

No child will be registered without parent or guardian permission.

Sergeant William Adelhelm, commanding officer of the Belleville Juvenile Division, will supervise the fingerprint program in the school system. Sgt. Adelhelm will be working in conjunction with Dr. John Greed, superintendent of schools.

Support Group Sets Meeting At Clara Maass

Starting this week, "Make Today Count," a mutual support organization which brings together people affected by serious illness, will meet at 7 p.m. rather than 7:30 p.m. on a weekly basis at Clara Maass Medical Center.

The program is open to anyone with a life-threatening illness or who is associated with someone who is. It is run by the patients and friends themselves, and focuses on two important points: dealing with treatment and dealing with life.

Members of the group, which is coordinated by Dr. Patricia Murray of Staten Island, N.Y., share experiences and discuss their own limits and changed ways of life.

"Make Today Count" was founded in 1973 by a terminally ill patient who sought to overcome negativism regarding his own illness.

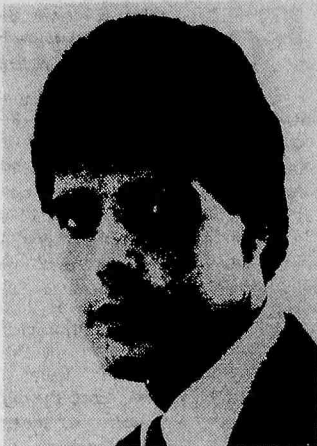

The Clara Maass "Make Today Count" group is one of 270 which exist across the country.

Steve Adubato Seeks Assembly

Steve Adubato, Jr., of Montclair, will announce his candidacy for the State Assembly in the 30th District on April 21, at the Belleville Senior Citizen Center on Belleville Avenue at 1 p.m. The 30th District includes Belleville, Nutley, Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Montclair, Verona and Cedar Grove.

One of the topics Adubato will be discussing is the issues confronting senior citizens in Belleville during our current administration.

Essex County Executive, Peter Shapiro, will be on hand along with Commissioner Mary Senatore, to introduce Adubato. Many other local officials are expected to attend and prominent senior leaders are inviting the public to join in the festivities.

Former Belleville Artist Gives Works To The Queen Elizabeth and the Pope

A Place of Solitude — This painting by Frank Livingston, formerly of Belleville, is entitled 'An Adirondack Glen — A Place of Solitude.' Livingston gave this painting to Pope John Paul II as a gift.

Frank Livingston, a former Belleville resident, has been giving his art to some very important people.

Livingston has been doubly honored by the acceptance of a regional landscape of the Adirondacks by His Holiness, Pope John Paul II, for the Vatican, and a set of drawings of Yosemite National Park by Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II, commemorative of her recent visit there.

The oil painting of a glen in the Adirondack Mountains of New York state, and entitled, "Solitude," depicts a region considered the most beautiful of forests and wild scenery with many lakes in the area. The wide stream in the painting flows into the "Lake Tear of the Clouds," which is the source of the chief headstream of the mighty Hudson River which flows for miles, ultimately emptying into the Atlantic Ocean. The footbridge in the picture is part of a mountain trail and made of fallen trees.

Because His Holiness was always an outdoors man, especially as a youth, this regional oil painting was selected by the donors. Its acceptance by Pope John Paul was confirmed by an official of the Vatican Secretariat of State, directly to the artist, stating His Holiness' gratitude for the gift and the donors' "thoughtful gesture and his appreciation of the kind of sentiments that prompted it."

The gift to Queen Elizabeth II was made by the English Speaking Union of Santa Barbara. It consists of three scenic drawings of the fantastic granite mountain formations and waterfalls. Livingston had been in the national park previously and his paintings and drawings were known to the President of the ESU. She has received an acknowledgement, as has the artist, that the "pleasing drawings" will be in Buckingham Palace.

While on the East Coast, Livingston painted many landscapes and seascapes from Florida to the New England states and onto Nova Scotia. His Hudson River Valley scenes, however, gained more prominence among collectors. Still painting his pictures along the same style, his works are in professional and executive offices, educational, government and religious establishments. And he has had many one man and group shows in many states and nine countries.

Though tutored in professional aspects by several internationally known artists, Livingston is considered a natural artist, principally self-taught. He works in all media and categorized as primarily representational.

One of his earliest paintings of the Adirondacks, close to the Canadian border, was given to the Convent of St. Peter's in Belleville sometime ago. There are other paintings in private collections in Essex.

Clara Maass Performs Many Tests

The keys to success for Clara Maass Medical Center's Laboratory Services department are highly skilled technicians and automation.

The volume of tests analyzed at the 575-bed medical center is staggering. Last year alone, 1,130,000 tests were performed.

According to Leonard Finkel, director of laboratory services, the department's five major pieces of automated equipment, worth almost half a million dollars, keep the medical center running smoothly. The lab results serve as an adjunct to physicians, helping them to make medical decisions and diagnoses quickly and accurately.

The SMA 12/60, a Sequential Multiple Analyzer, as its name suggests, performs 12 tests per sample, 60 samples an hour. And if that wasn't enough, it graphs and prints out the results.

The Dupont ACA-III, or Automated Chemistry Analyzer, tests samples for stat, or emergency patients.

"We do 36 separate tests on it," Finkel explained, "and it's very fast. The first results come out in about seven minutes; subsequent tests follow in 60 second intervals."

The instrument prints out the patient's name, date of test, normal range, time performed and the laboratory identification number to the sample.

"It really works beautifully, no problems," Finkel said.

The Coulter "S" does Complete Blood Counts, or CBC's, reading four tests and calculating three in 60 seconds.

In Microbiology, the Bac-Tec speeds detection of bacterial infections in the blood, usually within six hours.

In Urinalysis, the Clinitek reads and prints results quickly and accurately. Formerly, a technician would rely on the subjectivity of his eyes to color code results.

Another important piece of equipment, the Computerized EKG system transmits data over telephone lines to a computer. Interpretations are quickly sent back to Clara Maass via teletype.

In emergencies, results are returned to the Belleville Medical Center EKG Laboratory within five minutes.

New Fashion — Joanne Friend is a strong support of School Board candidate Gabe Nazzola, and she wanted everyone to know. So Joanne decorated a "Gabe Bug."

Showing Support With a Gabe Bug

Joanne Friend does not own a "Love Bug," she owns a "Gabe Bug."

Joanne, in an effort to show her support for School Board candidate Gabe Nazzola, decorated her Volkswagen Bug with pictures and colored streamers, endorsing Nazzola for the School Board.

When asked why she went to such extremes to promote Gabe's campaign for a seat on the Board of Education, she said, "I tend to be known as a 'transgressor.' A transgressor is a person who 'goes beyond.' I have gone beyond for Gabe Nazzola because his honesty and sincerity have totally moved me. I had a chance to work with Gabe in November when we both participated in the Belleville Middle School talent show. I had a chance to be acquainted with a real person who definitely is not afraid to open his mouth and express exactly what he feels even though he knows he might have to pay a price.

"His concern for the Belleville school system, the teachers, the people and our children would take your breath away. He has stated he would like to see more 'communication' between the teachers and the board. He is well aware that the world we live in is programmed to the necessity of more and better math and science teachers. We need these teachers so we can be competitive with other nations. When these new teachers come out of college — where do they go? Major businesses and industry takes them from us and our children because they will pay them what they are worth. Many of our teachers are well educated and highly qualified and we have them out of pure dedication. Some of their efforts go by unknown and not recognized, also, at a minimal salary.

"I could go on and on and 'beyond' about Gabe Nazzola's ideas but most of all his genuine concern for all our futures."

Treatment Program Is Started at CMHS

Community Mental Health Services in Belleville recently inaugurated a 'Brief Treatment Project' in cooperation with the Family Therapy Institute of New Jersey. The project is modeled after similar, internationally acclaimed programs at California, Italy and Philadelphia Child Guidance Clinic.

The project is designed to train mental health professionals and to provide an effective alternative to long-term psychotherapy. Rather than having one counselor work with clients on a weekly basis for an indeterminate period of time, which is usually the case in psychotherapy, the Brief Treatment Project uses the skills of six experienced mental health professionals for each case and tries to complete treatment within 12 sessions.

Client families are randomly selected for the project and make their first appointment fully aware that on-the-spot consultation is used and that several counselors will be involved. Although counseling begins on a weekly basis, the treatment team strives to meet less frequently as soon as possible; and twelve sessions are often unnecessary.

"Brief counseling saves families time and money and enables our center to serve more people," according to Alice Ricci, executive director of Community Mental Health Services. "Because we have a cooperative arrangement with a training institute, we are able to offer the Brief Treatment Project to the community and receive continuing education benefits for our staff at no additional cost to taxpayers."

Ricci went on to explain that professional counselors routinely consult each other about the difficult case situations they encounter.

"It's the same principle as a physician calling in a colleague for a second opinion." Because project members get on-the-spot feedback as they are involved working with clients, failure in treatment is minimized, new treatment strategies can be planned and implemented immediately, and the team effort helps ensure that treatment sessions are tailored to meet the particular needs of the clients being counseled.

The counselors who take part in the project come to the program because of their desire to keep informed of the latest developments in the family counseling field. Credentials screening and a personal interview are required for acceptance into the program and the project members pay a fee for their training. The professionals involved in the program include a special learning consultant from the State Department of Education, a psychologist, and three psychiatric social workers. These people have many years of experience among them.

Candidates Forum

The Belleville Democratic Club will hold a public forum dealing with the upcoming commission election on Wednesday, April 20 at the Chandelier Restaurant, 340 Franklin Ave.

According to Michele Dablo the program is to give the public a chance to examine the issues with the candidates.

The panel will consist of a moderator, Nicholas Amato; and the eight candidates.

Each candidate will be allowed a five-minute opening statement and a question and answer period will follow.

The public is invited free of charge. For more information call Michele Dablo at 751-5590.

Lawn Gone?

Time to call Lawn King

All lawns need an annual program of lawn care and every program must contain both granular and spray. Some chemicals work better when applied in a granular form, and others, like weed controls and post emergent crab grass controls, work better in a liquid form. All lawns also require periodic aeration and seed, but only Lawn King gives all these via LAWN COMBINE & SPRAY — THE BETTER WAY! WE KNOW IT'S THE ONLY WAY!!!

We are chemical applicators, not miracle workers. We know what your lawn needs and when it needs it. What you see in the program, is what you get. Top quality chemicals and seed — only the best — that's all we use. There's no such thing as specially formulated for drought.

Aeration, seed and lime are part of our program. Fungus controls and grub controls have always been part of our program — not options at extra cost when you need them. By the time you know you need them it's too late anyway. No slopes please. If we can't aerate twice a year we can't help you.

Someone will call to discuss the lawn with you. There's a one time charge if you need any extras like a preparatory service, extra seed or additional lime. We'll tell you what you need. We may not be the cheapest lawn service around but we are the only ones who give you your lawn everything it needs at a price you can afford to pay. You can figure your costs from the chart below. No contracts to sign, no guarantees, no promises, no slopes, and no nonsense. Pay from service to service or prepay for the year and we'll give you a 5% discount too!

If you compare our program and prices with any other company, you'll find that either they are charging too much, or we are not charging enough! Look at it real close and you may even arrive at the conclusion that not only is it better to do business with us — it's cheaper too!

FACT #1	Read & re-read the small print. Beware of phrases like, "none in stock," "8 weeks delivery," "one in stock," or "many others in stock with popular options."
FACT #2	Why do some dealers spend $4,000 for a full page ad to advertise "none in stock," "one in stock," "will order." You better believe there is a rip-off and you are the target.
FACT #3	$80,000 per month in advertising costs are not unusual for the "Go-Go" dealers. Guess who pays for all this advertising?
FACT #4	Factory charges to dealers are the same. It makes no difference if the dealer buys one or one thousand cars. Bigger is not necessarily cheaper.

Police Cracking Down On Narcotic Abusers

Belleville's Public Safety Commissioner, Matthew Pica, said this week that the single crime statistic that shows a consistent rise over the past three years "is a matter of pride, not tragedy."

Police arrests of narcotics violators, he said, have risen because of the concerted effort to rid the town of "the plague of drugs and the pestilence of pushers. The rising numbers represent official vigilance, not increases in the number of crimes. If anything, the narcotics violations have decreased as a result of this ongoing effort," said Pica.

Pica noted that in 1983, Belleville Police reported 346 narcotics arrests. In the previous year there were 220, in 1980, 185, and in 1979, the year Pica took office, 103.

"There's a message in those figures for the criminals who try to make their filthy living selling dope to our children," the commissioner commented. "And it isn't a happy message for them."

"It's a strong statement that to risk trading in Belleville is a rising risk of arrest and prosecution. We're just not going to stand for it any more."

Pica said the ultimate goal is, "of course, a drug-free Belleville. That may be a dream to some but, considering our growing success so far in apprehending the drug vendors, it is not an impossible dream."

Pica pointed out that records show much of the drug traffic in Belleville "comes over the border from other places, particularly Newark."

As a result, he stated, the police department has established a special patrol along Belleville's border with Newark whose special mission is to be on the lookout for peddlers entering the township.

"We're making, on average, six arrests a week," said Pica. "We've given good coverage to our schools and several of our more important arrests have been of people trying to sell dope to school kids."

"Drug pushers are among the worst criminals," said Pica. "They are merchants of death. Their product is responsible for growing numbers of crime in other areas, as addicts and users turn to stealing to support habits."

"Drug pushers maim and kill people with their drugs and then stand back and blame it on the users."

"While it may be true that a dealer doesn't force anybody to use drugs, it is also true that there wouldn't be so many users without the availability created by the pushers."

"Pushers and junkies are well told to stay out of Belleville," Pica said. "The chances of getting away with it grow slimmer by the day."

Planners Helping Attract Ratables

Since 1967, Joseph Grande has served on the Belleville Planning Board, and for the past 12 years as chairman. During his tenure, he has acquired extensive knowledge in township affairs. Working cooperatively with the present Board of Commissioners, his fellow Planning Board members, and various other community groups, the township of Belleville has attracted stable ratables and has created new employment opportunities for the community.

"We now have three new supermarkets available to the people of Belleville," said Grande. "The Pathmarks located on Belmont Avenue and Washington Avenue, and the Grand Union on Main Street. Twelve short years ago, there were no supermarkets in Belleville. Our citizens had to go to other communities to food shop in a supermarket. In addition K-Mart and other businesses have located in Belleville."

"Due to the foresight of the Planning Board, convenience and security of the shopper has always been paramount in the decision making process of the board," he continued. "As evidence of this process, increased site lighting and ample parking were required before Pathmark on Belmont Avenue was granted permission to expand their facilities. In planning, the board's main concern was to eliminate spot-zoning."

"The former Eastwood-Nealy Plant was permitted to operate in a residential zone in the Valley area of Belleville. This was done by variance, a case of spot-zoning," Grande said. "When K-Mart Shopping Center was constructed on this site, it was properly re-designated a commercial zone. The re-zoning of this section of town created employment opportunities and maximized ratables."

Grande has announced his candidacy for the Board of Commission and on April 18 will be opening his headquarters located at 525 Joralemon St. Everyone is invited to attend. For more information call 751-2525.

Tenants Meeting On April 18

The Essex County Tenant Resource Center and the Belleville Organization of Tenants, will conduct its free monthly legal clinic Monday, April 18, at the Parks and Recreation Building, 44 Park Ave., Nutley, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The housing clinic is open to all tenants of Belleville faced with housing questions or problems. The clinic is taught by Leigh-Ann Zaolino, housing paralegal for the Tenant Resource Center and Virginia Saunders, a housing attorney with Essex-Newark Legal Services.

Topics covered will vary, but generally include: how to get repairs made, tenant laws, rent control, organizing a tenant association, legal notices and more.

"We have been doing this service county-wide for over two years," said Zaolino. "The response has been very good, most tenants are unavailable for assistance during the day and cannot always afford to take time from work to discuss in depth their landlord-tenant problems, this program allows us to serve more people and provide better services for the entire community."

For further information contact the Tenant Resources Center at 744-4042.

There are a number of situations that can result in pain or stiffness in the joints. Such symptoms warn us that we may be suffering from a bacterial infection in the joint, worn cartilage, unbalanced muscles, pinched nerves or poor circulation, or other problems.

Pain killers or heating rubs may provide temporary relief. For more permanent cures, the cause of the problem must be identified and treated. Chiropractors are qualified to evaluate such problems, treat those that should respond to chiropractic treatment and refer other patients to other types of care.

Mound Conference — Members of the Belleville softball squad's infield gather at the mound for a conference. The Lady Bucs defeated Livingston 13-1 last week, with a no-hitter by Dina DeAquino.

Schedule Gets Tough

DeAquino Tosses 0-Hitter Against Livingston, 13-1

By Mark Foley

Junior Dina DeAquino, battling Mother Nature as much as the opposition, put on an incredible pitching performance last Thursday in no-hitting the Livingston Lancers, 13-1. The victory pushed the Buccaneers' record to 2-0. The team opened its inaugural Northern New Jersey Interscholastic League season yesterday in Little Falls against Passaic Valley. The schedule really begins to heat up tomorrow as they host Passaic and travel to Union Saturday. They then return home on Monday to face Clifton and visit Montclair for an 11 a.m. match with the Mounties on Wednesday.

DeAquino's no-hitter, her first and only the second in BHS history (Tracy Morrison and Debbie Jinks over East Orange, May 11, 1978, being the other one), was accomplished in a game-long downpour which threatened to cancel her no-hit bid.

"The only thing that surprised me was that Dina was able to throw strikes in those conditions," said Coach Carl Corino. "She could probably no-hit a lot of teams on a dry day."

The outcome of the game was never really in question. After Kim Indiero led off the contest with a walk, Desiree Johansen and Donna Brooks followed with back-to-back singles off of third base, leading them up for clean-up hitter Tracy Buono. She delivered a two-run single to left, as did Lois DeLuccio, the fifth batter. The Lady Bucs were able to coast from then on and watch the mound drama mount.

One of the biggest chances for the Lady Lancers came in the fourth inning when Indiero made a leaping stab of a line drive off the bat of losing pitcher Cindy Thell. Third baseman Oxiris Barbot kept the venture alive with an over-the-shoulder catch of a pop-up an inning later. Once Corino realized the situation, in the "fourth or fifth inning," he began to adjust the team's defensive strategy. "We moved Oxie and Lois in to prevent any bunts. The outfield was in a little bit, too. I didn't want a little dumper to spoil it. I would've much rather seen a shot for two or three bases than that. But we had a big lead and we were able to gamble."

The biggest threat came in the sixth, however, when, with a runner on second, Thell hit a slow grounder

Diamondmen Fall To Essex Catholic

By Dino Ibelli

When you play a six-inning baseball game and do a good job for five of those innings, chances are you will win the game.

For the Belleville baseball team, that one "bad" inning resulted in a tough defeat, sending the young Bucs down to defeat number two in two games.

The Bucs hosted Paramus Catholic on Tuesday and were home to Passaic Valley yesterday. Tomorrow, the Bucs will be in Passaic and on Saturday, will host West Essex starting at 11 a.m.

Last week, the Bucs lost to Essex Catholic, 7-6 in a rain shortened game at Belleville High School. "The conditions were certainly poor, but both teams had to play under them," said Ralph La Conte. "I don't make any excuses, I shoot from the hip. We had our chances in this one, no doubt. For five innings, we played very well. Then came the sixth inning and we made some costly mistakes and lost a ball game."

Essex Catholic jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first inning, thanks mainly to some poor infielding by the Bucs. "I don't think the ball left the infield and they still scored two runs," said La Conte.

The Bucs rallied for two runs in their half of the first to tie matters. Centerfielder John Guarino, who went three for three on the day, helped the rally with a single to lead off the frame.

The rain started after the first inning and hampered both clubs offensively. "We couldn't run as much as we wanted to," said La Conte. "The infield was slow and we couldn't do as much as I had hoped."

Nevertheless, Buc hurler Mark Riccardelli was pitching a good ball game. After a shaky first inning the senior settled down and was in command over five innings. "He pitched five effective innings, it was a good outing for him," said La Conte. "I think all the kids were nervous in the first inning, being the first home game of the season and all. After the first inning, we seemed to settle down and Mark was very strong."

The Bucs jumped out to a 5-2 lead entering the fatal sixth inning thanks to some good hitting by Guarino, a suicide squeeze by Frank Mozeika

(Please see 'Essex' on page 15.)

Waiting — BHS third baseman Oxiris Barbot awaits a play during a recent girls' game.

Tennis Squad Upsets Indians By 5-0 Mark

The Belleville tennis team started its season in strong fashion, posting a big upset over a highly ranked Passaic squad last week.

Lenny D'Armiento's squad hosted Nutley on Tuesday and traveled to Kearny yesterday. Tomorrow afternoon, the Bucs will be home to Paterson Eastside starting at 4 p.m.

In addition to the victory over Passaic, the Bucs lost to powerful Passaic Valley, 4-1.

"The kids are looking good," said D'Armiento. "I think if we play within our competition, we can be pretty tough. There are some good teams out there, teams with a lot more experience in playing tennis than we have. Our kids are great though, they are working hard and seem to be coming around."

Against Passaic, the Bucs swept to victory, winning by a 5-0 count. David Boyd won at first singles, 6-2, 6-3. Herbie Petrot was a winner at second singles, 6-2, 6-1 and Scott Doyle completed the singles sweep with a 6-2, 6-3 win.

"Herb (Petrot) has been playing real well at second singles," praised the coach. "I think he is definitely capable of playing first singles as well. David (Boyd) has the experience at this time and has done a good job at the slot. Both boys have looked real tough in practice and in the matches."

D'Armiento, trying to avoid a Richard Todd-Matt Robinson fiasco of 1979, is keeping both athletes happy. "Both guys will see plenty of time. I would say they both are equal in talent and the competition between the two should help to improve both players' skills."

The doubles also did a nice job against Passaic, which was ranked fifth in Passaic County. The first doubles team of Amadeo-Tutirello was a 6-4, 6-2 winner while the second team of Petrot-Skulite breezed, 6-3, 6-1.

Earlier in the week, the Bucs lost to conference rival, Passaic Valley, 4-1. In that match, Petrot was the only winner for Belleville, using a blistering serve to prevail. "That's his best asset," said D'Armiento referring to Petrot's serve. "He can beat a lot of people with it."

Thus, the Bucs are off to a 1-1 start with some tough matches on the schedule this week. "As I said, the competition in the NNJIL is tough," said the coach. "Tennis is tough in this town, it's rather new on the varsity level and we didn't have a very good turnout. We're just going to give it our best and see what happens."

DeAquino, Hard-working and Talented

Every once in a while, an athlete comes along who possesses all the key qualities. He or she is intelligent, hard working, talented, good looking and ambitious.

Belleville High has certainly had their share of top athletes throughout the years, athletes who have gone on to a fine college career and a successful business career.

Currently, at BHS, there is a female athlete who is quickly convincing the critics that she will be a major force for the next two years. Her name is Dina De Aquino, currently a junior, and she continues to excel on the athletic scene.

This past week, De Aquino hurled a no-hitter in a driving rainstorm, leading her team to a 13-1 rout of Livingston for Belleville's second softball victory against no defeats.

"It was a good win for us," said De Aquino. "This year's team is going to be good, we have some talented infielders, an experienced outfield and a super catcher. We're just taking it one day at a time right now, but we'd like to think we have one of the best teams in the county."

De Aquino has reason to believe her club can repeat last season's marvelous 8-0 rout of Livingston for the title. One of the main reasons, although she won't admit it, is Dina De Aquino. Last year, as a sophomore, she finished with an eye-popping 15-2-2 mark, winning all three games in the Essex County Tournament. In the finals, she allowed two hits, both of which came in the first inning.

"I said it earlier in the season, Dina is the key to this year's team," said head coach Carl Corino. "Now, don't get me wrong, I'm not trying to put any undo pressure on her, but pitching is what will make or break us this year and we think that we have one of the best in the area in Dina."

There is the possibility that De Aquino could win 50 games over her career. She holds every conceivable record in BHS softball history and could set a few county or even state marks before she's through.

Her talents certainly do not lie solely on the diamond. The versatile junior was selected to the first team all-NNJIL for her contribution to the girls' basketball team this past winter. De Aquino averaged 12.6 points a game, finishing the season with some impressive performances.

De Aquino also has a shot to break the 1,000-point mark next season, a very distinguished honor. In the fall, she can be found on the tennis court, where De Aquino is developing into a very aggressive player.

To top off this impressive athletic performance, you couldn't find a classier person. De Aquino is one of the most well-liked students in the school. She is a high honors student and hopes to take that charming personality and outstanding brain power to the University of Connecticut, Florida State or Seton Hall when graduation approaches in 1984.

Oh, by the way, don't mention the word graduation to De Aquino. "I'm not looking forward to that day," she said. "Being a part of the softball scene and the basketball team, meeting all these people and all the memories will be hard to forget. I can't say enough about the players or coaches, they're just super."

While De Aquino has piled up some impressive statistics along the way, perhaps her biggest claim to fame is her outstanding team play and enthusiasm that seems to rub on to her teammates.

When she does finally graduate BHS, we will see perhaps, the best female athlete in BHS history walk through the doors for the last time. We will also see a little history go with it, but certainly no one will ever forget the dark haired, curly pitcher who threw that no-hitter in the rainstorm back on a cold day in April, 1983.

For all you baseball fans, here is the BT picks for the 1983 season. First of all, the National League East should go down to the final week of the season once more. St. Louis, the defending World Series Champs, is the choice here, based on the experience of winning the crown and a man by the name of Bruce Sutter throwing fork balls in the bullpen.

Mark Foley's Expos should stay close throughout, as should the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Phillies might have their share of problems this year. After Steve Carlton, there isn't much to talk about on the mound. The Mets and Cubs should stage their usual fight for the cellar contest, with the Cubs winning the doormat this year.

Over in the National League West, the San Diego Padres just might surprise a few and win the entire thing this year. The Padres have a good pitching staff and with the addition of Steve Garvey, could steal it from the Braves and Dodgers. San Francisco and Cincinnati should battle for fourth place and Houston is the favorite to monopolize the cellar this season.

The American League will go with the Orioles winning the east, followed by New York, Milwaukee, Detroit, Boston, Toronto and Cleveland. The west looks like California, Kansas City, Chicago, Texas, Oakland, Minnesota and Seattle.

Look for the Orioles to stop California in the playoffs and play St. Louis for the World Series come October.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, who won the 1965 World Series and how many games did it go. Minnesota and Los Angeles played the 1965 World Series with the Dodgers winning in seven games.

For this week's quiz, name the two teams who played in the 1960 World Series, the team who won the series and the man who hit the dramatic homerun to win the final game.

Bantamweight Pedro Alindato of Paterson registered an impressive victory when he scored a TKO in the second round over previously unbeaten Anibal Ortiz of Brooklyn, at The Sands in Atlantic City, Thursday. Alindato raised his record to 11-2. Ortiz dropped to 5-1. Other bouts on the card came up with the following results: Welterweight Wesley Shuler of Syracuse, N.Y., WTKO in first round over Raphael Ortiz of New York City; Middleweight Osley Silas of Suitland, Md. W-Dec. in six rounds over Iran Barklev of Bronx; Middleweight Mark Mc Person of Hempstead, N.Y. W-Dec. in 10 rounds over Jeff Mc Cracken of Sand Point, Idaho; Junior welterweight Joe Manley of Atlantic City W-Dec. in 10 rounds over Tom Baker of Washington, D.C. and Middleweight Bruce Starling of Elizabeth, WTKO in second round over Don Franklin of Washington, D.C. Al Moore, Tommy Parks and Oscar Suarez worked in Alindato's corner.

In a previous column we stated that would be the last mention of the Holmes-Rodriguez bout. Somewhere in that item it was mentioned "maybe." I hope that takes me off the hook. But I was amiss by not mentioning the name of Florence Anthony, public relations consultant, who did a great job along with public relations persons Murray Goodman and Sv Roseman.

The sixth annual United States Boxing Association (USBA) Convention will convene from April 24 through April 27, at the Resorts International Hotel-Casino. The convention chairman is Ralph Citro of Blackwood. Included on the committee are Frank Gelb of Philadelphia, Hiawatha Knight of Detroit and Phil Newman of Bayonne, according to a communique from Newman, communications coordinator.

Film world's Rocky star and director Sylvester (Sly) Stallone has gained the film rights to a real Rocky. Stallone plans to make a TV film of the "Ray (Boom Boom) Mancini Story."

Promoter Don King held a press conference-luncheon at New York's Palace Hotel, Tuesday, to announce "Everything is Go," for the WBA and WBC heavyweight crown against Tim Witherspoon of Philadelphia; WBA heavyweight Michael Dokes of Akron, Ohio will defend against former champion Mike Weaver of Gatesville, Texas; Greg Page of Louisville, Ky. will take on Renaldo Snipes of Yonkers, N.Y. for the USBA heavyweight title and Osvaldo Ocasio of Puerto Rico tangles with Randy Stephens of Dallas, Texas for Ocasio's WBA junior heavyweight championship. "The Crown Affair" will take place at the Dunes Hotel-Country Club in Las Vegas on Friday, May 20. Publicist Murray Goodman arranged the press session.

Previously the World Boxing Council (WBC) president Jose Sulaiman, from his Mexico City headquarters, had notified promoter Don King, "The request to hold a WBC and World Boxing Association (WBA) joint heavyweight title defenses on the same program was not acceptable. King was seeking permission to put on the above fight card. No one talked about the problem, but it was worked out. Money soothes!"

Former world featherweight champion and Hall of Famer Willie (Guglielmo) Pep joined others who are familiar with boxing in opposing the proposals being mentioned by numerous legislatures who have jumped in for the spotlight. "If you're a fighter you should train properly. If you are in condition you can box and not get hurt," Pep told the Legislatures General Law Committee. Pep should know; he had 241 fights, won 229, lost 11 and drew 1. He won the title Nov. 20, 1942. Lost it Oct. 29, 1948. Regained the belt Feb. 11, 1949 only to lose it Sept. 8, 1950. He promoted boxing shows in Florida. Now with the Department of Consumer Protection regulating boxing and wrestling. With the above credentials Willie Pep should be heard.

When personable Paddy Flood took the "Long Count" at his New York City home two weeks ago, the shock was felt by all associated with the world of boxing. Paddy's life was boxing and he lashed out at those who did not play it straight. He had a rough, crude exterior, but beneath it was a sincere, considerate, thoughtful human. Al Certo of Secaucus, an intimate friend of Paddy's, will handle the business for the world-rated middleweight Mustafa Hamsho of Bayonne.

The heavyweight title fight at Scranton, Pa. that other networks didn't care to handle, turned out to be a bonanza for NBC. For their gamble channel 4 received a 13-5 listener-rating. It was NBC's "Sportsworld" highest rating burying the NCAA basketball tournament and USFL broadcasts.

Tim Witherspoon, the Philadelphia heavyweight, scheduled to fight Larry Holmes for the WBC title in Las Vegas, May 20, is talking confidently, if not convincingly. He poo-pooed Holmes' declaration of April 5, when he said he will fight one more time after the Witherspoon affair. The Philadelphian remarked, "After I get through with Holmes, he'll call it quits to his fight career right there-and-then."

Heavyweight Gerry Cooney of Huntington, L.I., said at Gleason's Gym in New York City, "I'm starting on the trail to a return bout for Holmes' WBC crown." The 26-year-old Cooney will go against former sparring mate Phil Brown of Columbus, Ohio in May and July he will fight Canadian clubfighter Gordie Racette of British Columbia. Holmes said about a Cooney rematch, "Cooney must prove himself against worthy contenders such as Renaldo Snipes or Greg Page." The lack of fighting ability who Cooney faces have often been criticized.

Le Roy Haley of Las Vegas has signed to defend his WBC lightweight title against Bruce Curry of Fort Worth, Texas, in a 12-rounder, May 18. A site will be announced shortly.

Received word that Charlie (Lefty) Luongo, boxing editor of the Boston Post-Gazette (formerly Gazzetta del Massachusetts) is being treated at the V.A. Hospital in Hollywood, Florida, for an undisclosed illness. Lefty is a very knowledgeable guy on the subject of boxing and those connected with the business. We hope Lefty has a speedy, successful recovery to continue on the fight beat.

Ron Katx of Momentum Enterprises, Inc. will finally start broadcasting over Sportschannel Cablevision from the Westchester Center in White Plains, N.Y. on Monday, April 25. The first presentation will have in the main go, Andre (Sugarman) Cooper of Blackwood crossing gloves with Don Lee of Gary, Ind. in a middleweight blast. For the May 9 venture, Ron has middleweight Marciano Bernardi of Paterson taking on either Kevin Moley or Lindell Holmes.

Crew Squad Strong Against Poughkeepsie

Sam Giuffrida, the head crew coach at Belleville High, has been around the boathouse for a good 15 years. He's had some good crew teams at Belleville High and has seen some great athletes come his way. So, when the coach says he's surprised by something his team does, you can bet that the oarsmen have been doing a marvelous job.

The Bucs will battle Nutley on the Passaic River this weekend starting at 11 a.m.

Last Saturday, Belleville traveled to Poughkeepsie and came away very impressive winners against a very strong home team. On the day, Belleville won five of six races, losing a tough battle in the varsity eight.

"I think that loss can be attributed to me," admitted Giuffrida. "I gave the kids a strategy for the race and they followed through perfectly. The problem was, I underestimated the speed of the river and we lost a race we could have won. Still, I wouldn't take that away from Poughkeepsie. They are a very disciplined, experienced team. They deserved the win."

The coach pointed out that the river was very fast, approximately 3:59 for a mile. The usual time for a mile is around 5:15 through 5:25.

"We used low strokes in the race," Giuffrida explained. "That wasn't the best race for that fast of a river."

In any event, the Bucs lost by 10 seconds to the same club that whipped a veteran Belleville squad by 14 seconds last year. Without a master's degree in math, it's easy to see the Bucs picked up four seconds against Poughkeepsie since last season.

The jayvee boys won by 19 seconds on the day and the freshman boys were winners by a whalloping 31 seconds. The girls' team, as usual, were standout victors.

The varsity eight posted a 7-

Belleville Blast, sponsored by Flowerama, lost a heartbreaker to Bayonne. The Blast was ahead throughout the game on an Emilio Farina goal and held the lead. Then with 10 minutes remaining Bayonne scored two goals to pull out a 2-1 win.

Belleville Americans, sponsored by De Bacco Bros., continued winnings ways, defeating Parsippany 6-3 on goals from Ronnie DePiro (two), Anthony Zarro (two), Richie Searls and Ray Zamloot. The assists came from Chris Oese (two), Steve Glogoza, Steve Tice, DePiro and Zamloot. Steve Tice and Kenny Sainz split goal time and played a solid game.

Belleville Kings defeated Sparta 5-2 at Sparta in a strong game for the Kings.

Belleville Flash, sponsored by Casa Polizzi, Chandelier and Pro Lumber, lost to Franklin Lakes 2-1. Joey Salamanca scored the goal from Marcello Hochreiter and Don Wohl. Rich Pretto saved eight at goal. Doug Phelps and Duane Sorrentino played powerful defensively.

Aquatic Captain

A Swimmer — Angelo Domenick, a resident of Belleville, is captain of the Phoenix Aquatic Club. His sister Maria is also a member of the team.

Netters, DeBacco Are Volleyball Champions

The final results are in and the Netters, with a record of 10-1, and De Bacco, with a record of 8-3, have taken their league championships.

The Netters, behind Jo Ann Monahan, defeated the Jammers, 15-4, 15-12. The Jammers couldn't get started despite good play from Cindy Pallante. In other "A" Division action the Set-Ups won the consolation game against the Fragiles 15-10, 15-3. The Set-Ups were led by Sue Groome and Joyce Reciniello led the Fragiles.

In the "B" Division De Bacco staged the comeback of the year by pulling a 15-11, 16-14 upset victory over the Shooting Stars. Denise Iacobelli played a fine game for De Bacco to counteract the play of Shooting Stars' Andrea Tisotto.

Joseph Catalfamo Wins College Powerlifting Title

Joseph Catalfamo, a Belleville native, recently won the 1983 Collegiate Powerlifting Championships at Texas A & M University in Bryan, Texas.

The 1981 grad of Belleville High School, is a sophomore at East Stroudsburg State College in Pennsylvania. Catalfamo is coached by Tim McClellan of Allentown, Pa.

At the powerlifting championships, Catalfamo captured the 114-pound class, ousting some all-Americans in the process. All tolled, he defeated eight competitors, racking up 953 points with some very impressive lifts.

In the squat, Catalfamo hit the 358-pound mark, tying the national record. He then benched 192.5 pounds and dead lifted a remarkable 402 pounds.

By winning the title, Catalfamo will travel to Virginia on June 4 for the junior nationals, the biggest meet in the United States. Earlier this year, Joe won the New Jersey State Championship at Teaneck.

BHS Golfers Are Prepared For Beginning Of Season

Next to the pitcher, the catcher is the most important man on the team. He is the only man in the field who can see all his teammates without turning his head. To be good, he must instinctively know what may develop on the next pitch, whether it is hit or not. He's the brains on a baseball team and can be likened to a quarterback in football.

It's interesting to watch a good catcher at work. He'll mix up the assortment of pitches that come to him, or sometimes if he has confidence in the control of his batterymate and thinks the pitcher has a fast ball with a deceptive hop (or stuff on it), he'll call mainly for a fast one with a curve only now and then to keep the batter from anticipating the type of pitch.

A catcher is also the only one on a team who is certain that a pitcher is losing his stuff. A manager may walk out to the mound and ask a pitcher how he feels when the bases are loaded with two out. Invariably, the pitcher will say he can get the next man out. But the catcher will have noticed a letdown in speed or control, or a less sharp break on the curve deliveries. He's the only one who is sure the pitcher has lost his stuff. A good manager first asks the catcher, "Does he still have his stuff?" The answer determines whether the pitcher is through for the day or not.

"I don't care whether a catcher

Receiving is the way a catcher handles the pitches he has to catch. He must be good at grabbing those wide-breaking curves, the high, fast balls that take off, saving wild pitches by digging 'em out of the dirt, and trying to handle every type of pitch cleanly.

Quick hands and agility are essential. Agility comes in when a ball is pitched into the dirt. Even the best catchers can't always glove the ball. A good catcher will block it, either with his glove, his legs, or his chest protector. He'll be in front of the ball, and that requires quick movement.

All fast ball pitchers like their catcher to be low targets. They like to throw down. It gives them a feeling they can get more speed on their pitches.

Foul files difficult

A good fielding catcher can stay in the big time longer than a fair fielding catcher. One of his most difficult chores is catching foul flies, especially those which go straight up over the plate with a creampuff sky

A catcher must be ready to lean out in front of the plate for bunts, but when the ball is bunted too far out for him to make the play, he must call to the pitcher or infielder whom he thinks is in the best position to field it.

A good catcher calls a lot of things besides pitches. For instance, on a throw coming in from the outfield towards home plate, he must decide in a split second whether to have an infielder cut off the throw to keep a baserunner from advancing or allow the ball to come through to him for a possible putout.

Catchers also are the guardians of home plate when the opposition is trying to score on a close play. Dickey and Campanella were great blocking runners sliding into home plate. They risked injury, that's certain, but they were fearless blockers and we don't recall either having the ball knocked from his hands after a tag, even when bowled over.

A catcher must back up first base (when second and third are unoccupied) on all throws to that position by infielders. Often he can grab an overthrow and prevent a runner from advancing.

A strong arm is an asset. A baserunner will respect a catcher who can whip the ball to a base with accuracy and speed. Yogi Berra is a fearless thrower, for he has confidence in his arm and often will try to pick a runner off second, or he'll throw through to second without hesitation when a double steal is in progress.

The linksters hosted Passaic Valley on Monday and were in Kearny on Tuesday. Yesterday, the Bucs were in Livingston and next Monday will be in Passaic.

As has been the case for all the teams, the weather has been a disaster for most of the month. "The weather has really hurt us," said head coach Rocco Colucci. "I don't even know if we'll get in any of the matches we had scheduled this week."

The Bucs got some practice time in last week at Hendricks Field in Belleville: Senior Joe Pontrella has been doing a nice job in practice and will be used in the number one slot this year. Over 18 holes, Pontrella shot a 75, a pretty impressive score. "He's been looking real good," said Colucci of his ace. "I'd say Joey is ready for the start of the season."

Jimmy Apple, a junior, tallied an 80 over 18 holes and will begin his third year of varsity play. Junior Brian Cook, in his first year of varsity play, has done well, tallying a 42 over nine holes. Cook could be the player Colucci is looking for to fill that very important fourth position. Junior Fred Widiken should round out the starting lineup for Belleville.

"Our top four players are the key," said Colucci. "If the guys can improve during the season, and they are doing a good job there, we can be pretty effective. Consistency in the game is the key."

The Bucs lost two seniors to graduation last spring. Frank Dunn and Jack Mallack. They were instrumental in the team's 9-4 record last year. "We'll do the best we can," said the coach. "The guys have some good talent, we're just waiting to go out there and prove it."

and some strong baserunning by Mario Silvestri.

Riccardelli started tiring late in the fifth inning, but worked out of a jam. He had trouble getting started in the sixth inning and La Conte decided to go to the bullpen. Enter Frank Tursi for his first varsity game on the mound. The junior is a top prospect for this year's team, but had a tough time against Essex, walking two straight and forcing in a run in the process.

The Bucs then had trouble with an Eagle bunt, saw a run score on a sacrifice fly and then gave up another Essex Catholic run on an error. All told, the Eagles came up with five runs in the sixth inning, taking a 7-5 lead.

Bellevue answered quickly, however. The locals tacked together some hits and cut the lead to 7-6 with runners in scoring position. "We couldn't execute on a bunt, which certainly hurt," said La Conte. "That's where our inexperience set in. It's going to take a while before everything starts to jell. The kids played much better than the opener (against Columbia) and I hope we can get a few wins this week to build up their confidence."

At the end of the sixth inning, the umpires called the game due to darkness, a dreary end to a tough afternoon. "They gave no indication that they were going to call the game," said the coach. "I was sur-to shortstop Indiero, whose hurried throw bounded past DeLuccio, allowing the home team to break the shutout. There was some confusion on the play, but after discussion by the scorers, coaches, and umpires, it was ruled an error. However, DeAquino got herself out of a jam and finished with six strikeouts and only three walks.

"Dina was really great," said Corino, "but the most important thing is that we went out there and won. The no-hitter was gravy. We scored, and that should help our confidence on offense. Plus the defense did a very nice job in those conditions."

Those same conditions which Corino referred to cost Belleville a game with Edison, a perennial state power. "I'm very disappointed," lamented the coach. "The game was rained out Saturday and rescheduled for Monday, but now it's questionable even if we'll play them at all. I'm upset because I was looking forward to seeing what we could

And although sad about losing the opportunity to play such a good squad, Corino did say that he is "happy with the things we've done so far. The ~~entire~~ ^{entire} has been superb and if it continues, we'll do well. And as far as the hitting goes, it'll come around. If we stay healthy, and take then one at a time, we'll be all right."

second triumph while the jayvee girls were winners by a tight one-and-a-half seconds, pulling out that race in the final 100 yards. The freshman girls were winners by seven seconds.

Finally, the junior four wrapped up a strong day on the water by posting a 3:5 second win.

"We didn't have our usual crew in the varsity eight," said Giuffrida. "Danny Passarelli rowed both the varsity and jayvee eight and did a super job. I was very impressed with him."

As a team, Belleville has posted a 17-2 record after three weeks of rowing. The Bucs will face a tough battle with an experienced Nutley squad this weekend.

NOTES: The varsity eight boat consists of Eric King at bow, John Apicella, Ron Charles, Dave Latkowski, Carlos Kingalahua, Rich Antolini, John Skrutskie, Jack McCabe and Mike Giuffrida at coxswain.

The varsity girls' boat is the same as the squad which won the national title last spring. Stephanie Aiello at bow, Jackie Mele, Karen McGuire, Sue Post, Annie Skrutskie, Cheryl McCarthy, Marueen Russo, Diane Black and Donna Marinelli.

Sen. Orechio Sponsors Bill to Create 17-member State Drug Abuse Council

Sen. President Carmen A. Orechio (D-Essex) has called for speedy action in the state Assembly on legislation he has sponsored to create a 17-member Drug Abuse Advisory Council in the State Department of Health, and to give permanent status to a drug abuse agency in the department.

The Orechio measure directs the proposed council to prepare and implement an annual drug abuse prevention and treatment plan and provide assistance and advice to narcotic and drug abuse control authorities in the state.

The measure cleared the Senate in a unanimous vote. It has been released from committee in the Assembly and is now ready for a full vote in the lower house.

"It is critically important that we have an ongoing, permanent advisory council on drug abuse in state government," Orechio said. "Although federal regulations no longer mandate such a council, the menace of drug abuse has not subsided and the need for prevention and treatment is as urgent as ever."

Orechio explained that since 1974, a drug abuse advisory council has existed in the State Health Department, as the result of an executive order that council was necessary to comply with federal law so the state could qualify for funds under the Federal Drug Abuse and Treatment Act. Congressional action in 1981, however, eliminated the federal mandate for a council.

"While the federal mandate has been lifted, the need for drug abuse prevention and treatment has not been eased a bit," Orechio said. "To the contrary, the need for effective drug abuse control in New Jersey continues unabated."

Orechio said his measure will give a drug abuse council permanent standing.

The Essex Democrat said the 17-member council will consist of eight ex-officio members — representing the state departments of Labor, Higher Education, Human Services, Health, Community Affairs and Education, and the Attorney General's Office — and nine public members appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the State Senate.

Orechio's measure requires the council to meet at least four times a year to prepare and implement a drug abuse program.

Fortunato Criticizes Reagan For Cutting Seniors' Funding

Assemblyman Buddy Fortunato criticized the Reagan Administration for its proposal to reduce funds allocated under the Older Americans Act by 77 percent.

Fortunato noted that the federal 1984 budget calls for a reduction in Title IV of the Older Americans Act of $17 million — from $22 million to $5 million. This section of the act deals with research and training.

The Assemblyman noted the adverse effects such a reduction would have on the government's ability to improve the way in which it provides important social and human services to the needy senior citizens of New Jersey and the nation.

"Equally important is the fact that there is a critical need for people trained in geriatric field, and Title IV is one of the few remaining federal programs which provides this sort of training," Fortunato added.

The assemblyman pointed out that just two years ago, funding for Title IV was more than $45 million. He added that the proposed Reagan budget makes cuts in the Older Americans Act — including the IV decreases — of $55 million. More than half of these decreases come from the nutrition portion of that act.

"As the life expectancy of the average American increases, so does the need for services and programs provided for them. Yet, rather than recognizing this need the Reagan Administration appears to be trying to devastate one of the few federal programs that addresses the needs of the elderly," Fortunato said.

"This reduction, if allowed to occur, especially hurts the needy senior citizen who most benefits from the programs that will be affected by the proposed decrease. For the good of these people, as well as all senior citizens, I am calling on our elected Congressional officials to restore funding to this very important program," he concluded.

Block Tax Tip

Head of Household

By Bert Tobia

A special tax filing status called 'Head of Household' is often overlooked by unmarried taxpayers who may benefit from a lower tax bracket if they qualify.

Widows, widowers, and divorced or legally separated parents who provide a home for a son or daughter and who furnish more than half the cost of maintaining that home are the most common examples of taxpayers who qualify as head of household.

The child must reside in the home for the entire year. However, temporary absences of the child due to illness, school or vacations will not deprive the taxpayer of the head of household status, as long as the parent continues to maintain that household during the child's absence.

Household maintenance — for which the qualifying taxpayer must furnish more than half the cost — includes such expenditures as property taxes, mortgage interest, utility charges, rent, upkeep and repairs, domestic help, property insurance and food. The cost of clothing, education, medical treatment, vacations, life insurance, and transportation are not included.

Religious Viewpoint

My Experience With a Kleptomaniac

By Rev. Robert Paul

I would never have dreamed that he was a thief! It started one evening at my front door. "An entertainer turned salesman" was his smiling approach to me. But I was not one to be taken off my guard. "With whom are you?" He mentioned that he had ties with several of the largest distilleries and also had an account with a prosperous tobacco company.

So I let him come into the living room, and listened to him for a couple of hours. On learning of his connections, I took pains to tell his of my Christian faith and love for Jesus Christ.

In a light-hearted moment he slipped off on an off-color story. I was quick to inform him such things did not go on in my home.

As you may imagine, I had reservations on the truth of many of his stories. After having an interesting evening together, I invited him to come back the following night.

Not only were his stories fascinating but he was also well versed in motion pictures. It seemed he couldn't talk about these without including sex, and this forced me to cut him off time and time again.

One day, after many visits I noticed several of my best books missing. I searched in vain for them. "This fellow may be something of a thief," I suggested. "If he is who can tell what else he's taken?" At one friend's home where he had visited I noticed no more Christian magazines. In another the Bible had disappeared. In yet another the husband told me their family altar was missing too.

At long last I realized my visitor was afflicted with kleptomania. He had stolen my books, magazines, and time. But the chief things missing were my close friendship with Christ, and the evenings spent in talking with my friends and family.

I've been trying to recall his name so you will be alerted about him. It escapes me, and I'm not sure now that he gave it, but I will never forget his initials...they were "T.V."

I wonder what T.V. has robbed from you? Time? Bible reading? Wholesome conversation? Church attendance?

Recent findings reveal by the time a child is 15 years old he will have witnessed the violent destruction of more than 13,000 human beings on T.V.

Friends, don't let T.V. rob you of your daily Bible study. "Study to show thyself approved unto God..." Say with the Psalmist, "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want." (Psalm 23:1.)

people who worked very hard on my campaign and without them I could not have been re-elected. We put in a lot of time and it was a hard effort, but the results are very pleasing, very pleasing."

Perhaps the happiest person in the room was Nazziola, who last year came up short in his first attempt for a board seat, when he placed third behind Grace Purdue and Charles Miele.

"At the present moment I am just numb," he said. "I really do not want to ever go through another close race like this again, it is simply nerve racking, but I am thrilled about winning a seat on the Board of Education."

"When the results first started coming in and I saw how close it was, I started thinking, 'Oh, no just like last year.' I was really worried, but right now I am nothing but numb," he continued.

All the winners were also unanimous in their praising the public for adopting the budget for the second time in the last 21 years. The budget's approval turned out to be the shocking development of the evening.

The School Board will be meeting on Monday, April 18 at the administration complex for its annual reorganizational meeting starting at 8 p.m.

continue quality education in our community."

Perhaps the most remarkable note is that the board did not attempt to sell its budget to the public in a strong fashion. In recent years the trustees presented the budget at different schools, while also making a cable television presentation.

"I believe the people of this community knew what the situation was concerning the budget this year," said D'Agostino, "and it's to the students' benefit that this thing finally passed."
