Planners Appoint New Board Leaders

Last Thursday's Planning Board meeting was a night of victory tape, red tape, and no tape.

In a most unusual session, the chairman resigned from his post, new officers were elected, two board workers unexpectedly resigned and did not appear for the meeting as expected, and because of that, the evening's agenda hearings were postponed since there was no stenographer or tape recorder available to record testimony.

In an emotional opening, Chairman Joseph Grande bade farewell to the board he served for the past 16 years. This week, Grande moved up to the seat of Belleville Commissioner, a post he won in the May 10 elections, crossing the victory tape in second place.

"For the past 16 years, I've watched a little baby grow from a nothing board to one of the finest planning boards in New Jersey," said Grande, adding, "Now I have to do a very sad thing."

Then the outgoing chairman, who always took his work as a planner very seriously, turned and bid individual goodbyes to each of his colleagues, including Henry Kellenbence, who retired from the board in January, but sat that night in the audience.

Vice-chairman Joseph Doyle, Secretary Chris Albanese, members Ed Heibert, Ralph Risoli, Al Simeone, Jack Hudson, and Al Schmitt each in turn received praise for "integrity," "dedication," and "being very dear friends."

Grande also commended board attorney Thomas DiBiasi who sat beside him and, wiping his eyes, said a goodbye to Grace Harris, the panel's consultant. "I love you Grace and I'll always call on you," he said, clasping her hand.

While bidding farewell, Grande apologized to the board's alternate members, Schmitt and Simeone, for not recommending either of them as Kellenbence's replacement.

"That was a goof on my part, but I would recommend one of them as the next replacement," said Grande. The chairman had recommended Douglas Cantarella for that post and the selection was approved by the Board of Commissioners in February.

Cantarella, who was not present at the meeting, serves on the Belleville Redevelopment Agency and has an active past in community service.

When asked afterward why he recommended Cantarella rather than an alternate who had already gained experience on the Planning Board, Grande again said, "It was a goof," he said. "I proposed Doug because I think he'll make a super planner and he has a lot of real estate experience."

Although members of the Planning and Zoning Boards are appointed by the mayor, Commissioners will consider recommendations. Both boards are composed of regular members and alternates who sit in for absent members when the additional votes are needed.

New Commissioners Take Oath

Marotti Chosen Again As Mayor During Quiet Town Hall Session

By Ed Capparucci

Belleville's new municipal administration took its place Tuesday afternoon, in what could only be described as a very "quiet" reorganizational meeting.

A full-house crowd, which spilled out into the hall of the commission chamber, gathered on Tuesday to see the five Town Fathers, including two new ones, sworn-in to office, while also witnessing the appointment of Michael Marotti as mayor for a third consecutive term.

"I would like to take the opportunity to thank everyone here for attending our ceremony this afternoon," the mayor said after his unanimous appointment. "I would like to take the time to thank my fellow commissioners for appointing me as mayor of this community once again. We have worked hard in the past and we will continue to work hard in the future to better this community."

Unlike past reorganizational meetings, there was no fuss or arguing over the mayor's spot. During the last reorganizational session, then-commissioner Vincent Strumolo sought the mayor's seat, but this time, it was Marotti vying for the top

Proud Of The Job He Did

Strumolo Leaves Office After 19 Years

By Linda Telesco

This week marks the first time in two decades Vincent Strumolo does not hold a public office in Belleville. One of the most successful figures in local political history, Strumolo lost his bid for a fifth term on the Board of Commissioners in the May 10 elections, taking him out of public service for the first time in a long time.

"It was the will of the people. I've enjoyed serving Belleville over the years, but now the people want a change and, in some ways, I feel relieved of a heavy burden," the Commissioner told The Times during an interview last Thursday in his Washington Avenue office.

In good humor, the longtime director of Belleville's Public Affairs Department spent an hour reflecting on his life, work, and service in the community and, of course, on the recent elections.

Strumolo actually missed reelection by a slim margin, running a close sixth to fifth-place winner Matthew Pica. When asked why he didn't run a more forceful campaign, Strumolo replied, "I did all I could and made myself available to anyone who needed me. I guess change was on the voters' minds."

He was, however, eager to respond to comments made by one of the successful candidates to the board. Newcomer Joe Grande said on election night, "The people showed they want their public officials to be involved with the community. A politician can't run on his record forever." Grande referred specifically to Strumolo's continuous re-elections amidst criticisms that he was unavailable or away at his Florida home.

"I want to reply to that," said Strumolo. "How much closer can a Commissioner get to the people than to bring them the kind of services this department has given?"

He continued, "When I started here, the Public Affairs Department had only a Baby Keep Well service and help for new mothers. Since I've been director, we've added free clinics, senior citizens transportation, and offered regular checkups to community groups like Little League.

"I don't want to sound like sour grapes," said Strumolo, "but that's my record in office and if an official doesn't run on his record, than what does he run on?"

In regard to criticisms about his absences, Strumolo said, "I was always available to the people," adding, "It's funny that people will criticize me for spending a weekend at my Florida home. What about Commissioners who spend that time at a shore home? Is that different?"

He candidly voiced the opinion that tenant groups organized voters against him, "They spread rumors I was against the rent leveling ordinance, but that's not so," said Strumolo, defending the record of his department's inspectors in responding to tenants' complaints.

When asked if he were even a little upset over the election, Strumolo said, "Of course I'm disappointed, but I've served Belleville many years and now I have time to relax, enjoy my family, and play with my grandchildren."

A lifelong resident of Belleville, Strumolo still lives in the township's Silver Lake section. "I love it there. Everyone knows everyone and it's like one big family."

The son of butcher Thomas Strumolo and the former Josephine Prezioso, he attended School 4 and graduated Belleville High School.

A WW II veteran, Strumolo returned to Belleville following military service and married local girl Helen Petrillo. Married for 35 years, they raised four children: Thomas, Vinnie Jr., Nicki Ann and Josephine and now have four grandchildren.

Strumolo's public life began in 1957 when he served as chairman of the town's Veteran's Council. Proud

Middle School Students Offering To Clean Up

Now that spring is once again here, it is time to think about the spring cleaning that may be needed around and in your home.

Maybe this year, if you are unable to do the work by yourself, or if you need some assistance, why not call Belleville Middle School students for a helping hand? Once again the students at the Middle School, under the direction of Bill Hollis, have volunteered to show their community that they are worthy and responsible youngsters by helping out those people in town who are in need.

The students will be available to babysit, do outside or inside work, go shopping, walk dogs, tutor, paint, clean up, or anything else that needs to be done.

Anyone interested in enlisting the aid of the Belleville Middle School students who are able members of the Student Council and Builder's Club should call 751-3440. Leave your name, address and telephone

Dr. Amirata of Clara Maass Hospital Is Named Medical Society President

Peter Amirata, Jr., M.D., president of the medical staff of Clara Maass Medical Center, has been elected president of the Essex County Medical Society.

Dr. Amirata has been practicing general surgery in Belleville for the past 20 years. He is a fellow of the American College of Surgeons and attending in surgery at Clara Maass Medical Center.

In his acceptance speech after election to the presidency of the Essex County Medical Society, Dr. Amirata pledged that his efforts would be directed toward the best possible patient care in New Jersey. The annual meeting of the society and election took place May 12 at Clara Maass Medical Center School of Nursing Auditorium.

"We have the best medical system in the world today but all physicians must do their utmost to satisfy the service and treatment demands of patients," he said. "In addition, we want to interest more young doctors in becoming active in our medical society and all of us should get more involved in medical education.

"The primary reason for our being here remains patient care," Dr. Amirata continued. "While everyone must be cost conscious toward those treated, physicians must be the final judges regarding what care and how much care is to be provided for each."

"We are the judges of how the health care system should be operated," he stated. "I for one, want no part in taking the care out of the system."

Born in Newark Memorial Hospital, the doctor attended Newark elementary schools and graduated from Bloomfield High School. Dr. Amirata received his bachelor of science degree in chemistry at Washington College, later pursuing graduate studies at New York University.

Dr. Amirata received his medical degree at Rome University, Italy. During his internship and residency in general surgery at Newark City Hospital, he was elected president of the interns and residents for two years. In addition to membership in the Essex County Medical Society, the largest in the state, he is affiliated with the New Jersey Medical Society and the American Medical Association.

Dr. Amirata and his wife, the former Heidi Mantell, a graduate nurse, reside in Roseland. They are the parents of four children: Paul Edwin, Adrienne and Ralph.

Russoniello Completes His Medical Education

Alexander P. Russoniello, M.D. has recently completed his medical education from Rutgers Medical School, in Piscataway.

Dr. Russoniello was born in Newark, and later moved to Belleville where he attended Belleville High School. During high school, he was a member of the Key Club and a varsity letterman in football, and track and field. He was nominated to 'Who's Who Among American High School Students.'

Dr. Russoniello completed his undergraduate studies at Rutgers University in Newark. There he graduated with high honors and was elected a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Beta Beta Beta (The National Biological Honor Society). He was also a member of the football and weightlifting teams.

As of July 1, Dr. Russoniello will begin a residency in Orthopedic Surgery at Downstate Medical Center, Brooklyn, New York.

Fortunato Pushing For School Study

Assemblyman Buddy Fortunato (D-Essex) introduced legislation that would direct the Joint Committee on the Public Schools to study how the findings of a nationwide commission on excellence in education can be applied to New Jersey's educational system.

Fortunato noted that the study released last week by the National Commission of Educational Excellence, entitled "A Nation At Risk: The Imperative for Educational Reform," concluded that American education has deteriorated so drastically in the past two decades "that our very future as a nation and a people is threatened."

"In its findings, the study asserted that the serious decline in educational performance among our nation's youth is in large part the result of disturbing inadequacies in the way the educational process is being conducted," Fortunato continued.

He added that the commission said the way in which to halt this rising of mediocrity in our nation's schools is to implement a wide range of educational reforms, including the strengthening of state and local high school graduation requirements; the adoption of schools, colleges and universities of more rigorous and measurable standards; the establishment of higher expectations for academic performance and student conduct; and the devotion of significantly more school time to learning.

"The commission called on educators, parents and public officials throughout the nation to assist in bringing about these reforms, and in response Governor Kean, the Commissioner of Education and the Chancellor of Education have expressed a commitment to the report's recommendations as general guidelines for educational reforms in this state," Fortunato said.

Premiat Romanian wines open in America to critical acclaim.

"The Pinot Noir is soft and smooth with an elegant bouquet... rich, lush grapes and a slightly semi-dry taste."

Saul Krieg, New York Post

"Clearly, one of the most impressive of the dry wines was Cabernet Sauvignon... it presented a complex nose, full body, good balance and tannin."

Enice Fried, Vintage Magazine

These are only two of Premiat's many rave reviews. When you try Premiat you'll see why they compare favorably with fine French vintages.

You can buy Premiat in a Cabernet Sauvignon, a Pinot Noir, or two dry whites, Tarnave Castle and Valea, for a very reasonable price. A price you'll appreciate on opening night.

Men Entering the Field of Nursing Is Increasing at a Very Steady Rate

Nursing Knight — David Feldt, a registered nurse in St. Barnabas Medical Center's Burn Unit, is one of the 3 percent of men currently employed throughout the country as registered nurses.

"I'm not a male nurse, I am a nurse!" proclaims David Feldt, 24-year-old registered nurse at Saint Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston. He echoes the sentiments of 11 other men at Saint Barnabas who have chosen nursing as a profession. Among them: Jerry Ramirez, R.N., operating room; Rob Berner, R.N., burn unit and Don Jaico, R.N., emergency room. Men comprise 3 percent of the total population of registered nurses currently employed in nursing throughout the United States. In the three-year period from 1977-1980 the number of men in nursing grew from nearly 27,000 to over 47,000 — a rise of nearly 64 percent.

The outmoded term "male nurse" displeases these men. They agree the term is sexist and suggests that they are not yet accepted. They believe that most males who become nurses are very secure about themselves, who they are and what they are. Ramirez, 45-year-old father of two, proudly refers to his work in the medical center's operating room as a highly technical and scientific professional which is very satisfying.

As nursing students, a few of the men encountered and overcame initial feelings of self-consciousness and teasing by their female counterparts. "Entering a profession which is comprised mostly of females did not deter my motivation one bit," says Feldt. "I wanted to become a nurse very badly." Being a nurse can include such untraditional males tasks as assisting in labor and delivery and instructing patients in breast feeding.

Why did nursing seem so attractive? Collectively, the men note patient contact and the gratification of helping people as a rewarding challenge. Feldt felt he had that unique combination of professionalism and ability to give emotional support.

"Nursing is a terrific profession. I enjoy the interaction with my patients," states Feldt. He began work in the burn unit as an orderly on the 11 p.m.-7 a.m. shift while attending a two-year nursing program at Morris County College. His studies, clinical experience and hard work left little time for any other activities. "Working as an orderly while attending nursing school was a tremendous experience. I viewed it as a complement to my studies."

Upon graduation Feldt became a registered nurse in the Saint Barnabas burn unit. Now that he has achieved his degree and has experience in the field, the highly motivated professional notes, "Nurses have a very special place in the patient's recuperation period. We deal with them at their most vulnerable time. We must be receptive, serve as good listeners and remain honest. The nurse's ultimate goal is to provide the highest quality care to the patient."

"There is no difference in the interviewing process of a male or female who wishes to be hired as a registered nurse," states Lorraine

Marino, employment supervisor for nurse recruitment at Saint Barnabas. "I take into account the applicant's experience, education, salary requirements, shift preference and area of interest. I do notice that men most often select critical care areas when given a choice." Mrs. Marino added that men tend to have to defend their career selection, which may account for the fact that one male and 58 females attended a recent hospital recruitment day for nurses.

Antacids have been promoted for many years as remedies for simple heartburn, mild indigestion, bloating, cramps, gas pains and morning sickness. While these products are generally quite effective in alleviating these symptoms, prolonged usage is not advisable. Sodium bicarbonate (baking soda) is the major ingredient in many antacids. If taken daily for more than a few weeks, by people with diminished kidney function, a bicarbonate-containing antacid may disturb the body's acid/base balance and cause body fluids to become more alkaline than normal. Prolonged use can also lead to the formation of calcium stones in the kidney. As a result, antacids should be taken in moderation.

The Fast Lane Township Commission

The five Commissioners who received their oaths of office Tuesday are to be congratulated — not only because they won — but equally important because of the high level campaigns they conducted.

Always present was the possibility of an upset — a condition that manufactures panic buttons. Happily — no candidate pushed the button.

Both winners and losers accepted the results gracefully — and it is a grateful community that expresses its appreciation to the Commission candidates who conducted clean campaigns free of personalities, charges, and counter-charges.

The harmony on the new Township Commission continues a new spirit for Belleville. An awesome and critical challenge lies ahead for the newly-seated Commissioners to accept and conquer.

Every winner campaigned on a promise that he would work for a better Belleville. In order to achieve that objective, with time running against us, they need to get into the "fast track." We need to build up Belleville fast before more suburban towns overtake us — not to mention the devastation to the business community that some foresee with the construction of a massive regional shopping center in the nearby Meadowlands.

We congratulate Mayor Michael Marotti upon his reelection as commissioner and mayor. We congratulate our peerless Revenue and Finance Director, Joseph McGreevy upon his successful campaign — by the way, a campaign conducted with very little visible organized effort and less money. The people of Belleville can again rely upon frugal Joe to watch their tax bucks as he has for all these 16 years.

Commissioner Matthew Pica is back at the Public Safety post, overcoming loud, vigorous, and effective opposition from members of his own staff. Some Public Safety members targeted Pica for defeat. But despite this handicap, Pica's effort prevailed.

Mary V. Senatore

While the Belleville Township Commission was being sworn into office without Commissioner Mary V. Senatore for the first time in 16 years, down at the Essex County New Courts Building Mary V. Senatore was receiving the oath of office as Chief of Security for Essex County Administration Buildings. Mary's new position is quite an accomplishment and achievement for any public-spirited citizen. After 16 effective years in office at Belleville Town Hall, Mary Senatore knows the ropes, knows public responsibility, and assumes her Commissioner Joseph Grande finished a not-surprising strong second place. All the smart money in town expected Grande to win — and he won in a very convincing fashion.

Public Affairs Director, Michael Pizzi finished third, in a strong field of seven. Four years ago, Michael Pizzi finished sixth. Pizzi is an example of a determined fellow who will not take no for an answer.

Former Commissioner Vincent Strumolo was a surprise loser after serving 19 years in government. Most politicians attribute Strumolo's loss to his failure to nourish a political organization.

Strumolo performed well for the people of Belleville. Even though he spent much time in Florida, Strumolo was one of the more effective Township Commissioners. Strumolo did not lose because he didn't perform well in his job. Some people believe his loss was attributed to his failure to run an orthodox political campaign, and the fact that he has been taking extended stays in Florida. A good man, Strumolo is expected to be heard from again in the future. And that development should not surprise anyone because Strumolo has accumulated an excellent public record over 19 years.

Joseph Fornarotto and Kevin Kennedy made excellent runs — Fornarotto especially so. They also conducted clean campaigns and they are to be respected for the manner in which they campaigned.

The losers should not be abandoned by the winners. We recommend to the Township Commission that Strumolo, Fornarotto and Kennedy be considered for appointment to public boards and agencies, for they have demonstrated their commitment and loyalty to the Township of Belleville.

new job with a savvy few people achieve in a lifetime. Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro performed a service for himself and the county he represents by the appointment of Mary Senatore. We congratulate Mary upon her appointment and know that she will perform the quality of service at the county level that made her a legend in Belleville.

Now Can We Stop All The Worrying?

To the editor:

That I, my wife, children, grandchildren, fellow Americans etc., etc. would relish to be incinerated as a result of a nuclear war, is of course absurd. How fortunate therefore, that the Catholic Bishops have now assumed direction of our National Defense Policy, and sent a (pastoral) letter (to the Kremlin) that we will not start a nuclear war, or retaliate with nuclear weapons, even if they should rain them down on us.

Now we can all go off to sleep, feeling safe and secure!!

After all, these stories about Russia having invaded Afghanistan, continuing to occupy it with a regular army, that continuing to occupy once sovereign nations on the Baltic, like Lithuania, that the people of Poland are not free, that there is a Berlin wall, and that the people of East Germany don't enjoy the same privileges and freedom as those of West Germany, is just a lot of bull.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

The shouting and the tumult has died, the captains and the kings departed. The local municipal election results tabulated some surprises, disappointments and jublations. The dwindling voter participation, in view of the exceptionally light vote turnout, reflected a public ennui and indifference to what some called a "phony" election that lacked the issues and rivalries usually present in elections of the past.

Popular Mayor Marotti, as expected, garnered the highest vote; the two newcomers to the township's governing body, Grande and Pizzi, finishing second and third in that order, were no surprises since both are established popular local figures who were recognized as potential winners once they "tossed their hats" into the election race.

Commissioner Joseph McGreevy, the old standby who guards the community's pursestrings, retained his seat for the fifth time as the head of the Finance Department over which he holds tight reins.

The startling, unexpected defeat of Vincent T. Strumolo paved the way for Matty Pica to retain his seat on the Board of Commissioners by a scant 117 votes. Both candidates had dropped considerable voting strength since the 1979 election, attributed largely to the lack of campaign activity and voter apathy.

Notwithstanding, the casual, quiet campaign efforts of the candidates which produced a torpid reaction by the people, it is a sad commentary upon the lack of concern of our local citizens to have displayed such a disinterest in how or by whom our community is governed.

There is an old cliché that goes, "The people get what they generally deserve, but, the politicians, at times, considerably more." Where were all those senior citizen votes for the good bus and health services they received from Mr. Strumolo's department?

Did Commissioner Pica comment, "The job of public safety director is the hardest one of all and traditionally Belleville does not elect its public safety directors." sound the tocsin alarm of things to come? We wonder.

Despite the formidable campaign that Mr. Fornarotto put on in the early stages of the race, it seemed to sputter considerably coming down the stretch, largely because his role as critic appeared to modify and he displayed less militancy...much of the old charisma and ebullience was missing.

Youthful Kevin Kennedy commanded respect by his surprising 1,432 votes; that should encourage him to continue to pursue the political trail in the future. We liked a few of the 10 points in his platform proposals. They had merit.

We commend staff writer Linda Telesco for the excellence of her comprehensive coverage of the election and her interviews with the principals in the race. We regret that a more sizable number of voters did not turn out to vote.

Our congratulations are extended to our new governing body and we wish it a successful administration. Our commiseration goes to the losers, but that's what makes for horse races. Of course, Commissioner Strumolo, after 19 years at town hall, will be sadly missed by his many friends and employees...he seems to possess great "comeback" powers though. He lost back in the '60s and came back a winner.

Who's to know what the fickle political climate of Belleville is yet to produce? Don't plan on it, but, should strife, dissatisfaction or disenchantment rear its ugly head...Yes, after one year, the law does provide for recall upon compliance with prescribed conditions.

While we frown upon the likelihood of such an occurrence, we sense a possible seething of revulsion, that subtly made its presence felt in this election, which if it continues to kindle just might spark such a movement.

The repressed, dissembled emotions cleverly contained, just as the bottled genie, could be waiting to be unleashed. Would the witches be stirring their hellish brew? Could coming events be casting their shadow beforehand? Time may tell. Who knows?

Letter policy

The Times continues to receive letters on a variety of topics which, unfortunately, may never find their way onto our editorial page. That is because they are unsigned.

As a matter of policy, The Times accepts only signed letters. "Signatures" such as "A Concerned Citizen" or "A Worried Parent" will not do. Only names will suffice. However, we will withhold names from publication upon request.

ED-ITORIALIZING

Election Surprises

By Ed Capparucci

Come on, admit it, the outcome of last week's commission election surprised you. Go on, admit it — I know it shocked me a little. But now, more than a week later, you can see all the underlining facts very clearly.

Let's start with the real shocker, the defeat of Vincent Strumolo, after 19 years of service to the community. Strumolo, who had always wanted to be mayor, had a history of running very strong in township elections, including a second place finish in the 1979 race. So who would have thought that he would lose his seat? Not too many people, that's who.

But in recent years many residents believe Strumolo had lost touch with the community. I have to disagree with that point, since he always seemed to be at most of the township events I attended. But one thing the former commissioner failed to do this year was campaign at all. He seemed to take his winning for granted. There were no rallies, no press releases or no solid campaign committee. If he would have pushed just a little, he probably would still be a commissioner today.

Matthew Pica, was definitely disappointed with his fifth place showing this time around, but he was just as happy to be given another term. It is true that the public safety official is never too popular, and rarely wins re-election, but Matt survived a strong push to oust him from his commission seat.

As usual, Mayor Michael Marotti's front-running job was a surprise to no one, but the showing of the two newcomers, Joseph Grande and Michael Pizzi, showed that the residents of this community were confident that there was a need for a change.

Both men put together a strong campaign effort and it paid off with high dividends. Grande is a man who is well known throughout town and very popular, as the voting showed, while Pizzi was an indication that the community is ready for some "young blood," taking the helm at the wheel.

And we cannot forget the efforts of Joseph Fornarotto and Kevin Kennedy. Fornarotto did extremely well, drawing over 3,000 votes. We will probably see him give it another try in 1987. Kennedy also did fairly well, tripling his vote total from the 1979 election. At the age of 28 he may be giving the commission and School Board several more attempts.

But now that I can sit back and look at the election in a clearer sense of mind, there is one thing I am definitely sure of, "I'm glad it's all over."

Perhaps I opened my mouth a little too soon — I know it is not the first time, and it will not be the last. I wrote an editorial last week concerning the news coverage given to the kids who take part in the Belleville Little League. I am not backing down on my point, I believe that the coverage could be better, but I would just like to set the record straight. My editorial was not meant to be an attack on the league, its officers or the volunteers. I have always been a strong supporter of the league and believe that the people who take the time out to help the kids of this community, are truly devoted parents and citizens.

The facility is one of the best in the state and kept up very well. The children of this town should be proud that so many people are concerned with their welfare. If it were not for the many people who volunteer their time and effort, there would be no Little League organization here.

One league official opened my eyes to the amount of work so few people do to maintain the league in a professional level. So, maybe I was a little harsh and quick with my comments, but I would still like to see more coverage of the Little League activities. I have been told there is a need for volunteers to umpire games, keep score, work in the kitchen, maintain the field and help with many other odd jobs. If you are interested in volunteering time call the mayor's office for more information, or me at The Times, 759-3200.

I have always considered myself to be a good and decent Catholic, but there are times when the Church issues decisions which I find totally unreasonable.

Last week officials at the Vatican announced that a nun would have to choose between her job as Michigan's welfare director and her religious vows.

Church officials objected to Sister Agnes Mansour's position as director of Michigan's Social Service Department because the job includes overseeing public-aid funding for abortions. So Sister Mansour was given an ultimatum by the church — quit as welfare director, or be released from her vows as a nun. Well, she didn't quit her post and instead sent her resignation to Pope John Paul II.

It is a shame, that a woman, who has devoted her life to God, the Church and others in need, be put in such an awkward position by church officials. The woman held a very respectable position in Michigan, aiding those who need her help. She wasn't an embarrassment to herself or the Church — yet she is being condemned. I do not understand it, and I believe many other Catholics feel the same way.

Belleville's Past

A Century of Home Rule

A board of five commissioners was created by the law to administer the polling district. The members of the board were Gasherie DeWitt, the railroad builder; Hugh Holmes, a well-known riverman; Theodore Sandford, who had been township clerk a quarter of a century earlier, and James Van Rensselaer and Andrew Little. John Spier acted as clerk.

This commission had been granted a large measure of municipal independence; in particular it had the right to grade and pave streets, contract for water supplies and street lighting, and make similar civic improvements, though the bill had to be footed not merely by the inhabitants of the polling district alone, but by the whole township.

Hardly had the polling district commissioners taken office when they inaugurated a large-scale improvement program on these advantageous terms. William Street and several other thoroughfares were paved. A contract was signed with the City of Newark to supply the polling district with water. As was natural enough the residents of the Third River and Franklin sections, continuing under the administration of the old township committee, objected to their share of the bill.

The old cry, "No taxation without representation!" was raised again. Indignation meetings were held, Governor Joel Parker was petitioned and tried to adjust things by appointing a bi-lateral commission. But nothing ever came of this peace move, for Franklin and Belleville members of the commission were hopelessly at loggerheads with each other.

The fight continued even on the floor of the Legislature when Franklin eventually applied for a township charter of its own. But "the bill was finally passed, March 12, 1874, and the township of Franklin came into existence with a population of about 1500."

The same legislative session which gave Franklin its municipal freedom also felt it necessary to put a patch on the feelings of Belleville. The township which had been shorn of two-thirds of its territory within half a decade was given a city charter.

The bill "to incorporate the city of Belleville," was not introduced, however, until March 17, when the Legislature's session was drawing to a close and the Trenton solons were already making plans for vacations and for the return to their law and business offices. But, as Hugh Holmes later told in his "75 Years of Belleville, Franklin and Newark," four undaunted Belleville patriots started out for the state capital with "that long dry city charter, having it passed by both houses with only three days in which to accomplish it, when it took 20 men night and day half of that time to print it. But the parties having it in charge knew all the ropes."

Seems Like Only Yesterday Harry J. Sullivan Resigns As Democratic Chairman

By Ed Capparuucci
Thirty Years Ago

Positive steps were taken toward obtaining a Girl Scout Council charter for Belleville by January, to replace the lone troop registration in force since 1950, at a meeting of the steering group, which met with Miss Anne Grahn, field staff member of the national organization of Girl Scouts of the USA.

One of the steps was the nomination of four women to take part in the future deliberations of the committee, to give women equal representation with men of the committee.

Over 250 persons turned out to honor Mrs. Florence R. Morey, Belleville town clerk, at a testimonial dinner at For-Hill Restaurant, marking her completion of 25 years of service to the community. Town and county officials lauded her devotion, capabilities and cordial service in office, while other town employees praised her as a fellow worker.

Deputy Mayor G. George Adonizio took over leadership of the township Democratic Party after incumbent Harry J. Sullivan resigned ending a 24-24 vote deadlock for the town chairmanship.

Sullivan explained his political abdication with a "conflict of interest" statement after he had found a provision forbidding a sheriff or under-sheriff from holding another civil service job while in office. Sullivan was an Essex County under-sheriff, who took the appointment shortly after his election as party chairman last year.

In the wake of the unprecedented 24-24 tie vote, County Democratic Chairman Dennis Carey, reneged on his duty to settle the matter by casting the deciding vote. Instead he left it up to the two men to decide the problem themselves.

Over 200 persons attended a meeting in the Belleville High School cafeteria to discuss the future of crew. The meeting was called to bring the parents up to date regarding the efforts being made to continue the sport in Belleville and Nutley.

The alignment of Route 21 along the Passaic River eliminates the possibility of facilities in either of the two towns and presented a problem needed to be solved.

An 18-year-old Belleville youth was sentenced to one-year in jail for the sale and possession of narcotics by municipal court Judge Edward Abramson.

Fifteen Years Ago

The Belleville Planning Board scheduled to have a public hearing on the proposed revisions in the town's land use plan. Hopefully Belleville would be revisited in the next 20 years, so that residents have adequate municipal parking, large complexes of multi-family dwellings and more parks and public properties. Residents had complained however, that they did not want the type of housing that the board suggested, and that the proposed parks would eliminate a large portion of existing housing.

The Belleville Board of Commissioners established an animal shelter committee, becoming the first town in the state to do so. The purpose of the committee was to check the animal shelter in Lodi, to insure that it was treating the animals humanely, and to insure proper disposition of the dogs and other animals impounded in the shelter.

Ten Years Ago

Commissioner of Public Safety Robert Laterza proposed a salary hike for the town treasurer, over the objection of mayor and finance director Joseph McGreevy.

McGreevy contended since the office of treasurer is assigned to the finance department, Laterza had no authority to move for a raise for the treasurer, and termed the move, as attempt to "usurp" McGreevy's power.

Laterza countered with a written opinion by town attorney John Scott saying the treasurer works for all commissioners and therefore any of the Town Fathers could introduce a raise.

New Belleville Commissioners Take Office Oaths

post with no opposition. Although there were rumors circulating last week that there was a strong possibility of department changes among the incumbents, the three men kept their same municipal appointments: Marotti, Parks and Recreation; Commissioner Joseph McGreevy; Revenue and Finance, and Commissioner Matthew Pica, Public Safety.

Newly elected Commissioner Joseph Grande took the Public Works Department, headed for the past 16 years by Mary Senatore, while Commissioner Michael Pizzi took over the Public Affairs Department, which was directed by Vincent Strumolo, who was defeated in last week's election.

While both men thought the two departments worked well in the past, they are anxious to get to work "making things even better."

"The services provided by the Public Affairs Department over the years have been very good," said Commissioner Pizzi after the session, "but there is room for improvement in everything. I am looking forward to getting in there and checking things out, seeing how they work."

"This is the department I wanted," said Commissioner Grande, who found himself filling the shoes of a woman he strongly supported for commissioner for the past 16 years. "Right now there are no major changes I see in the department."

New Leaders

Grande told The Times the next day, however, that he wanted to recommend from within the board but no one was available to assume the vacancy on a regular basis.

As Thursday's meeting continued, Grande nominated Doyle as new chairman. "We've fought in the past over issues, but you've been a super planner, Joe. It's my honor to nominate you." The motion won swift approval.

Ironically, Grande nominated the absent Cantarella as vice-chairman, again receiving full board consent. Albanese remained, by board approval, in the secretary's post.

Moving on to business, the newly organized panel discussed two letters of resignation received that night. Stenographer Ray Mastodonea resigned "due to increased workload." For the past several months, the reporter was added Belleville Commissioners meetings to his assignments.

Another resignation came from the board's clerk Carol Russo in a May 11 letter. The panel expressed surprise that neither one was present at the session that night.

Without a stenographer to take notes, and unable to locate the tape recorder Russo usually sets up, the board was advised by its attorney that it could not legally take testimony on the three applications scheduled for hearings that evening.

Commissioner McGreevy, who is starting his fifth term on the board, and finds himself now the senior member, said he will continue to do "exactly" what he has done in the past.

"For the last two years we have kept the budget at a zero-tax increase level," McGreevy said, "and I would like to continue that trend. I am looking forward to serving the people of this community once again and I am confident of the job this board will do."

Commissioner Pica, who is starting his second term, expressed delight over being selected as public Safety Director once again.

"I spent four years learning about the department and what it entails," he said, "and I am happy that I will be able to serve as director of it (Public Safety)."

Meanwhile Mayor Marotti was appointed to head the Parks and Recreation Department for the fourth consecutive term, but his thoughts were on larger problems confronting the community.

"One of the first things I hope to get started in the redevelopment of Washington Avenue," he said. "Hopefully we can get things done to improve the avenue."

Also reappointed were Municipal Town Attorney Frank Zinna and Judge Edward Abromson.

One major change was announced during the session, however, the weekly commission meeting, normally scheduled on Tuesday nights, were being changed to Monday nights.

"We had been holding our caucus sessions on Monday nights and the regular meetings on Tuesday," said Mayor Marotti. "We felt it would make more sense to schedule both meetings on a Monday instead of separate evenings."

A Little Help — Mayor Michael Marotti, with some help from his grandson Billy, is sworn-in as a commissioner of Belleville for the fourth time by Judge Abromson on Tuesday at Town Hall.

Second Term — Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica is sworn-in to office by Judge Edward Abromson on Tuesday afternoon. This is Pica's second term as commissioner. Standing with him is his wife Margarita.

Senior Member — Joseph McGreevy became the senior member of the current Belleville Board of Commissioners on Tuesday afternoon. McGreevy is now entering his 17th year on the board. With him is his son, Michael.

The case of the PSE&G zero-interest loan.

"If your home needs energy conservation improvements and your annual income is less than $30,000, PSE&G will lend you the money. Surprisingly enough, interest free."

"Permit us to assist you with energy conservation."

At PSE&G, we want to help you achieve efficient home energy use. Smart use of electricity and natural gas saves you money and helps to conserve our nation's resources.

One way we're helping is through our Seal-up & Save Loan Program, which was designed in cooperation with the New Jersey Board of Public Utilities. PSE&G is making loans available to you to help finance the installation of energy conservation measures.

"Incomes less than $30,000—no interest charge. Incomes $30,000 - $50,000—low, low interest."

If you qualify, and your family's yearly income is less than $30,000, you'll pay no interest charge whatsoever. Between $30,000 and $50,000, the interest is just half the current consumer interest rate.

Among the conservation measures eligible for financing are: Ceiling insulation • Wall insulation • Floor insulation • Weatherstripping • Low-flow shower heads and faucet flow restrictors • Caulking • Duct wrap • Clock thermostats and zone thermostats • Storm or thermal windows or doors • Attic ventilating fans.

"Pertinent considerations" You qualify for a PSE&G loan if you: (1) Are a PSE&G residential gas or electric heating customer at your primary residence. (2) Are the owner of your primary residence. (3) Have a family income less than $50,000 per year. (4) Have an acceptable credit rating. (5) Have not received a discontinuance notice for electric or gas service from PSE&G during the 12 months prior to your application.

If you are eligible, PSE&G will lend you $500 to $4,000 to install conservation measures in your primary residence if it is a one to four-family dwelling unit. Also, you must have a Home Energy Savings Program (HESP) audit performed on your home. The audit serves to pinpoint the energy conservation measures that will best reduce your heating and cooling costs. We can't process your loan application without the audit.

"For complete details, call us at once!"

To learn more about our Seal-up & Save Loan Program, call our Energy Conservation Center toll-free at 800-854-4444, 9 A.M.-5 P.M. weekdays. Or fill out the coupon below and send it to us. You'll uncover new solutions to energy conservation.

Former Belleville Resident K-9 Partner Makes Police Work Easier

Michael Nicolette, a former resident of Belleville and a graduate of Belleville High School, has been recognized for his police work with the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office.

Good Match — Michael Nicolette, a former resident of Belleville, poses with his partner Zero. Nicolette is a deputy sheriff with the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office in Florida, and he and Zero were awarded recently for their excellent police work.

Nicolette has been a member of the Palm Beach Sheriff's department for the past three years, including the past two with the K-9 division. His partner, Zero, was imported from Germany and only understands commands given in German.

In the two years they have worked together, they have made 54 apprehensions, including five in the month of March. These "catches" have included suspects for burglaries, shootings, stabbings and a kidnapping.

In one incident, Nicolette was brawling with an armed man, when his partner Zero jumped from the car window and attacked the man, wrestling him to the ground.

They recently went to Clearwater, Florida for the United States K-9 Association Regional competition. All K-9 handlers and their dogs from all over Florida competed in areas such as agility, obedience, tracking and attack work. After eight days of extensive workouts, a Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office K-9 took first place. Deputy Nicolette and Zero took fourth place. They returned home with two plaques and a trophy. They also qualified for national competition, which gives them a chance to compete this year again in Lakeland, Florida with K-9's throughout the United States.

Nicolette once worked as an auxiliary police officer for the Belleville Police Department, and for the FBI in Washington, D.C. as a fingerprint technician. In 1973 he moved to Florida and attended the police academy, graduating as a certified police officer. He worked for Dade County Public Safety Department in Miami. He worked for the South Miami Police Department then left to be a K-9 handler with the Pembrooke Park Police Department.

Deputy Nicolette is the son of Florence and Michael Nicolette of Belleville. He is also the brother of Bernice Vangieri and Michele Louis of Belleville.

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

We all breathe the air when it carries a great deal of pollen but only a few get the watery eyes and itchy, stuffed-up noses of hay fever victims. So, if pollen in the air causes hay fever, why doesn't everyone suffer from it?

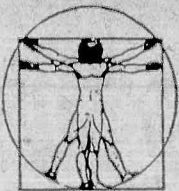

The reason is that some people's respiratory systems are better able to resist irritation than others. Hay fever sufferers may have spinal misalignments which pinch the nerves that serve the lungs, throat, nose, and sinuses and cause an inability to function normally. Correction of the spinal misalignment by chiropractic often provides relief in such cases.

For a chiropractic examination, please call our office.

Sandy Lane Nursery School Celebrating 10th Year

By Linda Telesco

This summer, Sandy Lane Nursery School turns 10 years old and with an enrollment of 175 children, is well out of its toddler years.

"We've come a long way since that August," said Elaine Perna, the school's founder and owner. Glancing out from her office window at the little blond, brown, and curly heads playing in the Friday sunshine, Mrs. Perna recalled, "We started with only seven children and a tiny classroom at this location in 1973."

Today, a tour of Sandy Lane travels through over half a dozen cheerily decorated classrooms, a preschoolers' sleeping and playroom, and a bright inviting kitchen.

Like its little charges, Sandy Lane grew by leaps and bounds over the past decade, adapting its schedule and curriculum to meet state requirements and community needs.

A Belleville native and graduate of Belleville High School where she was known as Elaine Peda, Mrs. Perna said she first went to work in the business world but soon saw a need for a place like Sandy Lane.

"No facilities in the area at that time provided for day care and I wanted to help working mothers make life easier," said the school's owner, who was herself pregnant at the time.

Following state and local guidelines, she opened her school in the premises still rented from neighboring Montgomery Presbyterian Church. Although Sandy Lane is not affiliated with the church, Mrs. Perna noted its pastor, Rev. Howard Day, agreed with the need for such a facility and, through his well known civic concern, welcomed the school to his neighborhood.

"This is not a babysitting service, though," the owner said. "Sandy Lane is a learning center that prepares children for school years. In fact, for many children this is a home away from home."

Operating Monday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 5:45 p.m., Sandy Lane provides pre-school, day care, and kindergarten programs for children two to six years old.

Mrs. Perna explained the pre-school program is an introduction to learning where children study colors, shapes, and other basics in structured classes. "Day care is an extended care program for those children whose working parents require the extra time."

A fully licensed, state-certified facility, Sandy Lane also operates a kindergarten program equivalent to those of regular public school systems. "We have even had some feedback that our kindergartners enter first grade with more knowledge than their classmates who attended a system's kindergarten."

While some children may be enrolled for the full day five days a week, others attend on part-time schedules geared to the parent's needs. "We have students who come a few days a week, or half-days only. We try to respond to what the family must do."

Although working parents are most likely to elect full day care, many non-working mothers are choosing to send their children to pre-school in order to develop their learning and social skills, Mrs. Perna noted.

"Non-working mothers can also be very busy and many don't have enough time or the facilities to play with their children in the kind of environment we can provide," said the administrator, adding, "Here, a child learns to eat, play, work, and get along with a wide circle of people his own age."

A busy day for a student at Sandy Lane includes a morning class, lunch, play time in the outdoor playgrounds an afternoon class, and a snack break.

Planned activities continue for those parents who work full time. A stroll through the lane last week found a dozen tiny tots napping peacefully on their little cots under the watchful eye of a teacher who had already set the little snack table with a juice and cookies wake-up treat. In other rooms, mini-Michaelangelos molded clay masterpieces or diligently traced letters.

The curriculum at Sandy Lane includes science, arithmetic, language, music, and art. Students also take educational field trips and drawings of dinosaurs lined the wall of one room, the reminder of last week's field trip to New York's Museum of Natural History.

The Lane's curriculum is designed by School Director Carol Montanelli, whose career there began when she was still in Belleville High School and worked as an aide in the nursery.

Today, the school has a staff of 15, including a licensed dietician and nurse, and a faculty all state-certified in early childhood education.

A fervent believer in pre-school learning, Mrs. Perna observed that in her ten years operating the nursery she discovered, "children today are much smarter and more mature than they used to be," advising public education systems to adapt themselves to this fast learning generation.

Keeping up with the times, Sandy Lane will introduce in September a computer program designed for preschoolers. "We'll be the first Essex County facility to have such a program," said the administrator proudly.

The special Commodore 64-K computer, which teaches children about shapes, colors, and other basics had a successful debut in Bergen and Somerset Counties and the Sandy Lane faculty is already in training for the local premier.

"Times are definitely changing, and we plan to respond," said Mrs. Perna who noted that despite a declining birth rate in the past decade nursery enrollment increased.

"Mothers returned to work and needed our services," she explained. However, she also pointed out that a growing number of fathers win custody of children and desperately need day care centers.

In fact, the school scheduled a special Dad's Day picnic last Saturday encouraging fathers to join their children in a day of play.

"We keep very close to the parents of the community," said Mrs. Perna, pointing to the flyers sent to parents to describe classroom activities for each month.

Many parents also volunteer as aides to teachers, helping with routine chores like serving meals and lavatory monitoring. In another cooperative venture, faculty fundraisers brought in the $3,000 that Sandy Lane will use to build for next Fall another playground on adjoining property, offered by Rev. Day.

Visitors to Sandy Lane see that work and play are both taken very seriously. Classrooms were industriously quiet and busy while the play area bustled with laughter and races up the jungle bars.

Each year, students who return to Sandy Lane participate in a special "promotion exercises" moving to the next age level group. Those "upperclass" members who will leave to enter first grade are treated to a June graduation. "It's the real thing with caps and gowns, and a lawn full of guests," laughed the owner.

The mother of two and co-owner of "Pinwheel Nursery School" in Roseland where she now lives, Elaine Perna has turned Sandy Lane into one of Belleville's special attractions.

A Few Smiles — Not everyone in this photo was very thrilled about having their picture taken, but all the children did have a good time at the Father's Day picnic, which is an annual event at the school. The school is celebrating its 10th anniversary this year.

Crew Squad Suffers Hard Regatta Loss

Sooner or later, it was bound to happen. The Belleville girls' crew team, the defending junior national champions, finally lost a race last week. However, it was a race that head coach Sam Giuffrida thinks will make the girls an even better crew in future races.

The Bucs are in Philadelphia for the Statesberry Regatta this weekend.

Last weekend, the team traveled to Poughkeepsie for the Poughkeepsie Regatta, a tough race with some of the best crews on the eastern seaboard participating. "Our boats did pretty good as a whole," said Giuffrida. "I guess the only race I wasn't happy with was the junior four boys' final race. They didn't row a good race, but I think they'll be back next week, too."

The big story of the day was the marvelous race turned in by the freshman boys. The Bucs ran away with their mile, winning the qualifying heat by some 25 seconds and taking the championship race by nine seconds. For the season, the freshman boat is undefeated with the tough Statesberry Regatta awaiting them this weekend.

"That boat has been strong all season long," said Giuffrida. "They rowed a tremendous race, I couldn't be happier with their performances."

Giuffrida gives a lot of the credit

Throwing Hard — Anthony Cammaro let's one go against Nutley last week. The Bucs lost to the Raiders of Nutley by a 13-8 score.

Taking A Break — It's been a tough season for the Belleville Diamondmen, who have lost many close one-run games this year. The team has dropped 13 of its first 19 this season.

Face Bengals Saturday

Girls Reach Finals Of County Tourney

By Mark Foley

The Belleville High School Girls' Softball Team continued its defense of the Essex County Championship last week by defeating first-seeded Cedar Grove, 8-0, behind a one-hit performance by junior Dina DeAquino. The only remaining obstacle on the road to back-to-back crowns is the Bloomfield Bengals, who the Buccaneers play Saturday at 8 p.m. at Bloomfield's Pulaski Park.

The girls, who are seeded fourth, jumped out to an early lead when sophomore Donna Brooks led off the game with a single, Kim Indiero's sacrifice bunt was thrown away by Cedar Grove's Kristen Peterson, and junior Tracy Buono delivered an RBI-single to score Brooks. Buono then got herself caught in a rundown, allowing Indiero to come home.

A similar play occurred in the third inning with Brooks on third and Buono again getting caught in a rundown. Belleville added another run in the fourth when loser Lori Schmitt walked home Donna Campana with the bases loaded. Leftfielder Brooks increased the lead to 5-0 with a solo homerun in the sixth.

Despite striking out only one batter, DeAquino was masterful. She allowed only two Panther baserunners as far as third while walking only three to bring her record to 12-3.

"I expected a tough game, and it was a tough game for a while," said Coach Carl Corino. "They had some opportunities early, but we were able to hold them. Once we had a three or four-run lead it changed the entire strategy of the game. They couldn't afford to take any chances on the bases, they couldn't bunt the ball, they had to play an entirely different game. Getting out of that first inning made it easier to play the game."

However, the victory was not without a great cost for the Buccaneers. Buono, who had 12 runs batted in through her last four games, was injured and was "questionable," according to Corino, for Monday's game with Kearny (which was eventually rained out). "I actually got hurt three times," she said. "The first time I got a base hit and was going down to second on the steal. The girl was standing in the baseline and, as I was trying to slide around her, she caught my thigh with her knee. The second time, again it was on the steal, I wasn't sure whether to go down or not, but I had to slide and I twisted my knee. The

The Losing Continues For the Diamondmen

It hasn't been the best of seasons for Ralph La Conte and the Belleville baseball team. The Buccaneers have hit hard times this spring, losing 13 of their first 19 games, many of which could have easily gone Belleville's way.

The Bucs hosted West Essex on Monday and were home to Secaucus on Tuesday. Yesterday, the team traveled to Paterson Eastside and tomorrow, the Bucs will be home to Paterson Kennedy. Finally, looking ahead, the Bucs will be in Bloomfield next Monday.

The Bucs had a rough time on the diamond last week, losing games to conference rivals Passaic, Montclair and Nutley. The week wasn't a total loss however, as the team blasted Clifton, 7-1.

"Right now, it's a matter of giving the younger kids varsity experience," said La Conte last week. "We've been very competitive in all the games we've played, it's just that the kids have got to learn how to win. Making the game close isn't good enough."

The week started off strong with the romp over Clifton. In this game, sophomore Tom Reid earned the victory, pitching the last five innings after starter Charles Bocchino went down with a sore shoulder. Reid was marvelous in his stint, allowing just two hits and one run. "Tommy's control was excellent," La Conte said. "He's been doing a nice job on the mound and picks up confidence game by game."

Belleville broke through with two runs in the third inning thanks to RBI singles by John Guarino and Joe Feith. The Bucs then broke the game open with five runs in the fifth inning.

Joe Borrello, who has been wielding a hot bat of late, pounded a single to lead the way. Dean Sternik, Robbie Cancelliere, and Feith also contributed singles in the big inning. Anthony Lombardi and Frank Tursi cracked doubles in the uprising.

"We played a strong ball game," said La Conte of the Clifton effort. "The guys all came together and did a nice job. Unfortunately, we haven't been able to keep that consistency."

That was evident the following day as the Bucs lost to Passaic, 7-6. The game was actually a makeup of a tie game the two teams played in early April. This time, the Bucs jumped out to a 3-1 lead, but fell to some solid Indian bats. "Passaic hit the ball well, no doubt," said La Conte. "We had our chances, but we couldn't get the key hit that could

Varsity Club Plans Dinner

Belleville Softball Squad Continues Its Consistent Program

Consistency. Perhaps that is the best way to describe the Belleville softball program. Since 1980, the girls have been consistent winners, posting marks of 20-8, 18-8, 24-2-2 and this seasons, 17-3 log entering this weeks action.

Last Saturday, the girls ripped top seeded Cedar Grove in the semi final round of the Essex County tournament and will advance to the finals this Saturday evening to face Bloomfield. It will be Belleville's second straight trip to the finals, the girls having won the tourney last season over Livingston. It's also the third time in the last four years that the program has reached the county finals. In 1980, the team played powerful Cedar Grove in the finals, losing 4-0 to Laurel Van Der May and company.

This years team has been bound and determined to repeat their county championship since practice started in early March. There were some skeptics who felt that the team would be in a rebuilding process after losing four starters to graduation. However, the underclassmen have come through to fill the vacant positions and the returning players have demonstrated poise and self discipline that has accounted for the teams tremendous showing thus far.

Belleville is a team that has capitalized on every mistake the opposition has committed to score big runs. For example, the girls hosted Lyndhurst two weeks ago at the Little League Field. The Golden Bears were an undefeated club coming in and possess a super pitcher in Luann Arminio.

In the second inning, Arminio struck out Oxiris Barbot, but the catcher dropped the ball. Barbot alertly ran to first, the catcher threw wild and Belleville scored two runs en route to a four run outburst. Last Saturday, against Cedar Grove, the team capitalized for two runs in the first inning on two Cedar Grove errors and tremendous, daring base running by the Buccaneers.

There are many heroes to talk about when it comes to this team. First and foremost, there is catcher Tracey Buono. The junior, an all state selection in 1982, is flying high now after a slow start in April. She leads the club in homers with four, ribbies with 35 and is second in batting at .372. She's scored 24 runs, has ten stolen bases, three of which were steals of home plate, and for her career is approaching the 100 hit and 100 RBI category.

Buono is a tremendous team leader on top of her marvelous talent with the bat. She is credited by her batterymate, Dina De Aquino, for keeping the game under control and has developed a reputation for a cannon of a throwing arm. Many coaches and fans have described Buono as the heart of the Buccaneer team. In truth, the Buccaneers wouldn't be the dominant, aggressive team they are, without Buono in the lineup. She is indeed, a super talent.

Over at first base is Lois De Luccio. The senior is a big surprise, filling the spot of Mona Stampe who graduated last spring. De Luccio leads the club in hitting with a robust .397 average. She has one homer, 17 RBI's and is a fine defensive player. De Luccio is a key hitter in the clutch, having stroked some very important singles to ignite key rallies.

The second baseman is Lorraine Bini, who won the job in late April. Bini, while possessing a light batting average, has added stability in the infield. Last year, of course, Rosie Leonidis occupied the second base spot, winning all county accolades. Bini has done a strong job in taking over the position and will be very valuable in the game with Bloomfield this Saturday.

BUC SHOTS

By Michael Lamberti

Sports Editor

At shortstop is senior Kimmy Indiero. Hitting .264, Indiero has scored 20 runs and possesses a fielding percentage of .940. About the only rap on Indiero in the past was her occasional erratic play at short, something that has been more than rectified this year.

Third base is the home of the incomparable Desiree Johansen, a position the freshman will probably occupy the next four years. When Nancy Coffey graduated last spring, head coach Carl Corino knew he needed a new third sacker, but probably never expected to get a gem like Johansen so quickly. She's hitting .288, with ten ribbies and is a rock at the hot corner. A pure, all around athlete, Johansen is quickly developing into a classy player who will soon be the heart of the Buccaneers softball team.

The outfield is solid with Donna Brooks, Donna Campana and Kathy Woods. Brooks, hitting .328, has powered two homers and has nine ribbies. Shortly after the season started, Corino inserted Brooksie into the leadoff spot and the sophomore has responded with a team leading .633 on base percentage. The fact that Donna is only a sophomore gives good reason to believe that the Bucs will be a solid team for years to come.

Campana, a senior, has nine stolen bases to her credit and is a pure fielder. Some of her sensational catches have stopped potential rallies and her strong fundamental play in the outfield has helped to stabilize the team.

When Woods isn't pitching, you can find the durable senior in right field. Woodsie shines on the mound, where she is 5-0, with a 1.48 ERA. She hasn't lost a game since the 1981 season, having compiled an 8-0 mark last season. She also possesses a sharp glove and has a good knack for getting on base.

Dina De Aquino is the starting pitcher, having put together a 12-3 mark entering this weeks games. For her career, De Aquino is 30-5-2 and this year, she's hurled three no hitters, pitched five shutouts and five games in which the opposition has scored just one run. For the year, De Aquino has given up just 25 runs and has 96 strikeouts in 106 innings.

The game with Bloomfield should be a natural. First off, the teams are big rivals and off the field are good friends. Earlier this season, Belleville upended the Bengals at Pulaski Park, 5-2 as De Aquino outdueled the Bengals ace, Jackie Vitiello.

The clubs should also be quite familiar with each other by next week. After this Saturday's contest, the two will battle next Monday for the championship of the NN-JIL. They could also meet in the state tournament which begins play next week.

A big crowd should fill Pulaski Park this Saturday night when the Bucs and Bengals meet for the championship of Essex County. "We're hoping for a big crowd," said Corino. "I know the Bloomfield people will have a large crowd behind them. They're sky high for this because they've never been this far. It should be a great game."

The Belleville High School athlete of the week is Tracey Buono. The junior catcher drilled two homers last week and played last Saturday's game with two banged up legs. She's been on a tear lately and her hot streak comes at the best time of the season.

Here is the answer to last weeks quiz. The question was, who has won the most National League East championships. The answer: the Pittsburgh Pirates have won six crowns, having won in 1970, 1971, 1972, 1974, 1975 and 1979. The Phillies are second with four titles.

For this weeks quiz, who has won the most American League Western division crowns and what years did that team win.

Once again, the lineup for June will be the year in review on June 2, the girl athlete of the year on June 9, the boy athlete of the year on June 16 and the coach of the year on June 23.

Heard at Ringside

By Steve H. Frank

Word coming from overseas has former European and world lightweight titleholder Ken Buchanan of Scotland tapped out; blew his dough, over a million, on hotel investments.

You want to be a world boxing champion — Marvin Hagler, Brockton, Mass. middleweight king, runs 10 miles every morning wearing combat boots. He runs the last mile backward. Most of today's prima donnas don't want to run one mile per week.

One of the best boxing shows seen in New Jersey was presented at The Claridge in Atlantic City, Monday night. Only the first fight on the card proved a mismatch, between Richie Bennett of Darby, Pa. who was quickly KO'd at 1:53 of first round by Larry Davis of Elizabeth, in a light-heavyweight bout. In the two 10-round features: Middleweight Curtis Parker of Philadelphia WTKO at end of fourth round over Kenny Bristoe of Guyana, now of New York; Middleweight Steve Traitz, Jr. of Norristown, Pa.: WKO at 1:52 of ninth round over Fred Creech of Fayetteville, N.J.; Light-heavyweight Lionel "Brown Bomber" Byarm of Philadelphia W (unan.) decision in six rounds over Mike Harris of Philadelphia; Middleweight Arthur Baylis of Philadelphia WTKO at 2:56 of second round over James Johnson of Philadelphia; Two welterweights making their pro debut put on an impressive four rounds — Vernon James of Philadelphia W (unan.) decision over William Hudson of Philadelphia. Rudy Battle and Frank Cappuccino handled the referee chores commendably. The broadcast was handled by Prism Cable.

We don't know how serious former lightweight and welterweight champion Roberto Duran of Panama is this time, but he's trying it again. Duran swears he can sing and would like to trade his trunks for a tux. He is busy rehearsing a 10-piece Latin band and has been visiting a few late spots looking to be hired. The Panamanian rehearsed a band last year that never got out of the rehearsal hall.

A patron in a night club, wearing brass knuckles, struck World Boxing Association (WBA) junior middleweight Davey Moore of New York. He caught the punch in the mouth. Moore was cut on his lip. A doctor said the cut was superficial and should heal quickly.

The new, young, exciting lightweight Charlie "White Lightning" Brown of North Haledon, gave another impressive performance at New York's Felt Forum. The 18-year-old "Jersey Bomber" fought tough, aggressive, Angel Cruz of Bethlehem, Pa. Cruz had fought Alfredo Escalera, Pete Padilla, Howard Davis, Jr. among other top-drawer battlers and was never knocked out. Charlie did the trick — he sent Cruz to slumberland in the eighth round. On his previous and only other appearance at Felt Forum he knocked out Kato Wilson. The first time Wilson had been KO'd. Gil Clancy, former manager, matchmaker at Madison Square Garden and now CBS boxing analyst, said, "The kid (Brown) is still green, but he has plenty of potential. He'll be ready for national exposure soon." Brown is managed by Lenny Shaw. Trained by Don Turner. Publicist is Sy Roseman.

England's No. 1 middleweight Tony Sibson injured his back while training and withdrew from his 10-round bout against veteran Philadelphia Bobby "Boogaloo" Watts. Sibson was advised by his physician that the injury was minor but said any strenuous movements would aggravate the injury. The pair was scheduled to throw punches at each other at the Wembley Arena.

The end of the trail is fast approaching for former WBC junior welterweight champion Saoul Mamby of New York. Age has slowed the 36-year-old Mamby. Also, Philadelphia's Frank "The Animal" Fletcher appears to be skidding. The middleweight has been in too many "wars."

Twenty-three-year-old Andre "Sugarman" Cooper, an undefeated middleweight, 14-0, of Blackwood, N.J. and an unidentified accomplice were arrested in Camden County, Tuesday, on an armed robbery charge. Cooper and the other person allegedly broke into the home of jeweler, Alfred D'Antonio in Washington Township, took his store keys and personal jewelry. The pair then went to the store in Gloucester County and committed the store robbery. Police recovered the car used in the escapade. Also two guns and most of the jewelry. Cooper is held in Camden County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bail set for the Washington charges and $10,000 bail from Gloucester.

Golf Squad Pulls Away With Three Victories

Led by the magnificent play of senior Joe Pontrella, the Belleville golf team roared its way to three victories last week, boosting the team mark to a very solid 8-3.

Rocco Colucci's team was favorites to extend that record this week. The linksters were in Kennedy on Tuesday and will host the Kearny Kards this afternoon at Branch Brook Park.

Last week, the team ripped Irvington, Paterson Eastside and Essex Catholic as Pontrella led the way in all three matches. "Joey has been playing some very good golf," commented Colucci. "He's been very consistent and has turned in some solid efforts."

Versus Irvington, he shot a 39 while teammate Jimmy Apple came through with a 41. Pontrella and Apple were the leaders as Belleville defeated Eastside by 42 points. In this match, Pontrella finished with a 35 on the back nine and Apple shot a 40. Also in the Eastside match, Brian De Furia shot a 41 and Greg Simone followed with a 42.

In the victory over Essex Catholic, Pontrella was once again under the 40 mark, hitting a 39 while Apple was right right behind with a 42. De Furia placed third with a 51.

While the Bucs are favorites to win their ninth and tenth matches this week, they will be in for some tough matches next week. Bloomfield, Caldwell and Clifton are on next weeks slate and all three teams will provide a solid challenge.

Bloomfield is a state power and ranks with Belleville and Nutley as the team to beat in the NNJIL. Caldwell, as usual, will be tough when the county tournament comes around and Clifton is always a powerhouse team from Passaic County. The Mustangs, too, could sneak away with the NNJIL crown.

"Things are starting to wind down," said Colucci, pointing to the county and NNJIL championship matches slated for later this month. "There will be a lot of solid golfers in the running and we'll need a strong effort to beat those guys."

Last Monday, Pontrella traveled to the state tournament and shot a very respectable 84 over 18 holes. "He did a nice job," said Colucci. "As a matter of fact, only two people from Essex County beat him."

The two players, Doug Luicci from Verona and a West Essex player are considered two of the best in the state. Luicci has already earned a full scholarship to Duke University. "You know how good you have to be to go to Duke on a full scholarship," asked Colucci. "Luicci is half way to the (PGA) tour already."

The fact that Pontrella was able to defeat the opponents from Bloomfield and Nutley should give him confidence for the counties which will tee off on May 31 at the Maplewood Country Club.

NOTES: The NNJIL championships will be held in two weeks. The top two players from each team will play 18 holes to decide the NNJIL champs. Belleville's two selections are of course, Pontrella and Apple. The Bucs finished second in the county tournament back in 1981, losing only to West Essex. This years county tournament should be a battle. West Essex is an early favorite to win, but Nutley, with their 11-0 record will be right there. Watch out for Verona, Bloomfield and of course, Belleville. Colucci was very happy with the play of Pontrella in the state tournament. "He missed the state finals by just two strokes, that's pretty good."

Tennis Squad Drops Two As Season Draws to an End

The Belleville tennis team lost two tough matches last week, bowing to conference rivals Nutley and Paterson Kennedy.

The Bucs were in Paterson yesterday to face Eastside and will host Kennedy this afternoon. Next Tuesday, the team will be in Bloomfield and will close out the 1983 season with a home match against Kearny next Friday afternoon.

Head coach Lenny D'Armiento is quite pleased with his players as his first year approaches an end. "I am more than happy with the team," the coach said; "We have a lot of first year players on the team and they've been working real hard. They're very intelligent kids, they're great to work with. They work hard in practice and give it all they've got in the games."

Last week, the Bucs bowed to Nutley, 4-1 and were edged by Kennedy, 3-2. The loss to Kennedy eliminated any chance for a winning season on the courts this year. The Bucs are 4-9 for the campaign, 4-8 in the NNJIL.

Against Nutley, third singles sensation Scott Doyle was the only Buc winner. Doyle won by counts of 6-3 and 6-4 and continues to be quite impressive. "I'm only sorry that he's a senior," said D'Armiento. "Scott has been a pleasant surprise. He has a winning record (7-5) and has won some big matches for us."

The match with Kennedy was a nail bitter. Herb Petrat, playing at second singles, lost a tough 6-3, 6-4 match. Doyle then came back, again, and whipped his opponent, 6-3, 6-2 to even the match at one apiece.

The first doubles team of Pat Tutirello and Mike Di Stasi were stopped in two sets and the second doubles squad of Jim Petrat and Rich Skulte evened the match with a two-set victory.

The match then came down to first singles player, Dave Boyd. The junior played an intense match, losing the first, 6-4, rallying to take the second, 6-1 but falling short in the third, 6-4.

"Dave has been playing super all season long," praised D'Armiento. "It's just that he's playing against some of the best players in the area. These kids have been playing a lot longer than Dave, but he battles them right down to the wire."

D'Armiento will lose four seniors to graduation and has five returning

Peanut Teams Start Season

The 1983 Belleville Peanut League season opened recently with a heavy schedule of play. The Peanut League is made up of boys and girls between the ages of 8-9. Games are held at 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday at Fairway Park, the Recreation House and at School 9. If you have some free time, stop by these fields and cheer for our youngest ballplayers in the Township of Belleville.

The Indians got off to a great start in the Monday-Wednesday League winning their first four games. Monday's opener saw the Indians beat the Dodgers 18-7. Anthony Petrillo, Mike Trupia and Bobby Roselli led the team in hits as the Indians scored 14 runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

The Indians won their second game 20-11 against a tough Astros team. James Gammara had three hits for the Indians. Robert Gialanella and Mike Trupia had three hits each also including a homerun.

Indians continued their winning streak by winning a close game against the Bombers. Indians scored six runs in the fourth inning to seal their third victory. Jason Gonzalez and Robert Gonzales led the hitting for the Indians with three hits apiece. Gialanella also had eight put outs at first base.

The Indians finished off the first two weeks of the season with a win over the Cubs 15-13. This could have been the finest game of the early season. Indians had two double plays, one to end the game. The hitting attack for the Indians was led by John Lowack, and Anthony Petrillo, each with three hits. Tommy Pontrella had two fine plays at second for the Indians.

The Tigers jumped off to a four-game winning streak in the Monday-Wednesday Peanut League which should set up some games this week against the 4-0 Indians. The Tigers with an awesome hitting attack and a strong defense increased their record to 2-0 defeating the Bombers 24-9. The hitting stars of the game were Michael Miele, Troy Talmadge, Michael (Rabbit) Citarella, Richie Quine.

The Tigers defeated the Dodgers 18-9 to up their record to 3-0. The hitting stars of the game were Michael Miele, Mike Citarella, Joseph Pastonino, Jr., Troy Talmadge, Jimmie Wandling, Anthony DeVito and John Durr.

The Tigers defeated the Astros 54-4 to up their record to 4-0. Players who contributed to the win were Dennis DeWork, Teddy Rajnes, Dennis Boniecki and Todd Connolly.

AVOID "THE...RIPOFF" READ

FACT #1	Read & re-read the small print. Beware of phrases like, "none in stock," "8 weeks delivery," "one in stock," or "many others in stock with popular options."
FACT #2	Why do some dealers spend $4,000 for a full page ad to advertise "none in stock," "one in stock," "will order." You better believe there is a rip-off and you are the target.
FACT #3	$80,000 per month in advertising costs are not unusual for the "Go-Go" dealers. Guess who pays for all this advertising?
FACT #4	Factory charges to dealers are the same. It makes no difference if the dealer buys one or one thousand cars. Bigger is not necessarily cheaper.
FACT #5	At Bigelow Motors, you deal with one salesperson & one manager. You are not subjected to pressure by six different "managers."
FACT #6	There is never any charge for "documentary fees" at Bigelow. These fees run as high as $95. (What the heck are documentary fees??)
FACT #7	Many highway dealers have an overhead of over $200,000 per month. Bigelow Motors is mortgage and rent free. Bigelow operates with a minimum overhead.
FACT #8	Bigelow Motors was founded in 1939. It is still run by the original owners. If you have a complaint you can enter their offices and talk to the owners.
FACT #9	You can't buy anything today that even comes close to Chrysler and Plymouth. We sell the best engineered, high mileage cars on the road. Note the absence of safety recalls. You and your family are safest in a Chrysler or Plymouth product.

Strumolo Gone From Office After 19 Years

of the work they did to erect the Union Avenue vets monument,
Strumolo said his veterans' activities led him to pursue more public service.

At the age of 35, he won his first office in 1962 as First Ward councilman, when Belleville was under the mayor-council form of government.

In 1964, he survived a town recall that affected two other council members, but lost his seat when his term expired at the year's end.

He returned to the spotlight in 1966 and won re-election to another council seat, but during that term, the community voted to change the municipal government to the present commission form.

In 1967, Strumolo won his first four-year commission term and served on that board until this year's defeat. His only bid for a higher office came in 1970 when he ran unsuccessfully for the post of Essex County Clerk.

The youthful ex-official, who turned 58 last month, said, "I was new blood back then, but I guess I'm old blood now. The people retired me," he smiled.

When asked if he'll retire permanently from politics, he replied,
"Right now I just can't say for sure,

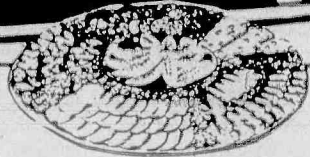

I want to retire for awhile
