Township Holding Veteran Services

Belleville will hold its annual Memorial Day services Monday to honor those who sacrificed their lives serving their country in the armed forces. The township's veterans will begin the day of commemoration when they meet at 8 a.m. at the Rutgers Street Bridge.

The program chairman for this year is Donald Bellog, chairman of the Belleville Veterans Council.

The program at the bridge will start with the Massing of Colors by all the Belleville veteran organizations, followed by a memorial prayers by Stanley Nychay, chaplain of the VFW Post 275. The placing of the wreath on the water of the Passaic will be done by Bellog, and be followed with the volleys of the Belleville VFW Post 275 firing squad and the tolling of the bells of the Dutch Reformed Church. The Belleville Soudation will perform taps.

The program will then move on to Town Hall where there will be a memorial service dedicated to all deceased members of the Belleville Police and Fire Departments. Wreaths will be placed for the police and firemen on the town monument. The services at Town Hall start at 8:30 a.m.

Then it is on to the War Monument located adjacent to Fewsmith Church, 444 Union Ave.

There will be the Massing of the Colors by the veteran groups, followed by the playing of the National Anthem, performed by The Belleville High School Marching Band.

The two guest speakers will be Mayor Michael Marotti, a World War II veteran and member of the American Legion Post 105, and Willard Pritchard, Veterans of Foreign Wars District 4 commander.

Flowers will then be placed at the foot of the monument by various veteran groups, followed by the playing of taps by the BHS Band and the firing of volleys by the Post 275 VFW firing squad. Rev. Alfred Stone of the Fewsmith Presbyterian Church will offer the benediction and the services will conclude with final comments by Bellog.

The Belleville Veterans Council strongly urges the proper display of colors on this solemn day of remembrance and respect of the fallen heroes of past wars.

The following groups are participating in the ceremonial program: American Legion Post 299, American Legion Post, 105, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 275, Belleville Amvets Post 26, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6265 and the AV Chapter of Belleville-Nutley 22.

Semi-pro Baseball Is Back in Belleville

Summer baseball is back in Belleville once again.

Starting this Sunday afternoon, Belleville residents once again will be the proud recipients of a semi-pro baseball team — The Belleville Braves.

After more than a two-year absence, Belleville will be competing with teams throughout the Essex County Baseball League.

"Belleville has always been a good baseball town," said Sam Garilli, who along with Nenny Boffa, coaches the 25-man squad. "We are happy to have baseball back in Belleville and we think the people here are happy to have us back also."

The Essex County Baseball League is divided into two divisions, consisting of nine teams. Belleville, Verona, West Orange, Parsippany and last year's champs, Irvington, make up one division, while two Union squads, Millburn and Maplewood, are in the second division.

The Braves will play all their games on Saturday and Sunday afternoons starting at 5 p.m. Their home games will be played at the high school, and they kick-off the home season with the first contest scheduled for this Sunday against the Union Jaybirds. The first 50 children age 14 and under will receive free Brave t-shirts.

"We will be doing many promotions throughout the season," said Garilli, "including tickets to Yankee games. We are very excited about having a team here in Belleville once again."

Garilli is an assistant baseball coach at Kean College and works for Eric Gluck, a baseball scout for the Chicago White Sox. He is also the former head coach at St. Cecilia's High School in Kearny. The other team coach, Boffa, is a former coach of the Roseland team in the Essex County league.

Of this year's squad, there are several players from Belleville, including Dave Starr, Domenick Vazano, Joe Corbalis and Mark Roll.

"We have been working very hard over the past two weeks," said Garilli. "We are concentrating on fundamentals and I believe we can be very competitive if our pitching holds out."

Chemical Scare Upsets Residents; Town Officials — 'Not Dangerous'

Local Residents Will Honor Soliders Missing in Action

The residents of Belleville will make a strong political statement on Sunday, June 5, when Mayor Michael Marotti and the Town Commission will officially proclaim "The Red Ribbon Bell Ringer Sunday." This will mark the second time in the history of the nation that a whole community has responded to the tragic issue, of American servicemen missing in action. Prior to the Bell Ringer Sunday, Mayor Marotti will proclaim the week of May 30 through June 5 "Captured American Servicemen Week" in Belleville.

It will be highlighted by the reading of the proclamation and the raising of the P.O.W./M.I.A. flag, thus officially launching the major event. The program will be led by the Belleville Fire Department under the direction of Chief George Sbarra. The 45-minute salute will feature the singing of "A Ribbon Bright and Red," sung by Jim Cava, a Vietnam Veteran, who will introduce the song on Real People later this spring.

The opening ceremonies will take place on the steps of Town Hall at 11:30 a.m. Following the ceremony, the town's fire engines will move out, sirens sounding. The fire engines will cruise the streets of the town and residents will be asked to sign cards to President Reagan and the Vietnamese Ambassador to Southeast Asia. This response is a direct result of President Reagan's appeal for increased public awareness on prisoners missing in Southeast Asia. It is the fervent hope of the townspeople that this action will awaken other towns to this humanitarian concern for our captive GIs and collectively will help bring an end to the 10 years of agony endured by our servicemen and their families.

The event, sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville with the full support of the township, Operation Red Ribbon Inc., and the fire department has planned this as a community response to President Reagan's appeal for stepped-up public awareness on the tragic plight of American servicemen.

An urgent plea for volunteers is being made at this time. Mrs. Georgeann Ventola, public affairs chairman for the club, asks, "If you can spare two hours to help end the 10 years of captivity endured by our servicemen, you are urged to call the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville at 751-4975 as soon as possible, or attend its organizational meeting on Tuesday, May 31 at 8 p.m., 51 Rossmore Place. Your support if desperately needed to make this townwide event a success."

Toxic leaks terrorized the Valley area last weekend causing emergency evacuations of residents, the closing of a nearby elementary school, the shutdown of a Main Street manufacturing plant, and the arrest of one of its employees.

Blocked off by police barricades, the section of Main Street between Little Street and Greylock Avenue has been under investigation by local officials and a private chemical firm hired by the township, according to township Attorney Frank Zinna, designated by the Board of Commissioners as the official spokesman on the incident.

As of late Tuesday, three separate toxic leaks had been discovered in the premises of Organic-Inorganic Research Center at 505 Main St., a food-flavoring manufacturer closed down by the township last week, several days before the first major leakage which occurred on Friday.

Addressing nearly 200 angry area residents at Monday night's School Board meeting, Zinna reported that a team of chemical investigators from Clean Industries in Linden determined "the situation is not dangerous to the residents or operation of School 9 in the area."

According to Zinna, the investigators overpacked the problem drums which were leaking benzyl chloride — a toxic irritant nitric acid, and a third substance not identified as of Tuesday. "This corrected the threat of fire or explosion which is the only threat the experts said was possible," Zinna told a skeptical crowd, many of whom were fearful of harmful physical side effects.

Also the attorney confirmed rumors that a container of highly dangerous mustard gas had been found in the facility, which the army corps removed over the weekend.

Nevertheless, the School Board voted unanimously to proceed with its plan to bus School 9 children to other elementary buildings for the duration of the investigation, somewhat calming the hostile crowd that flooded the board's Cortlandt Street complex seeking answers they failed to receive from the local health department and officials who eluded public comment all weekend.

Reporters and television cameras descended on Belleville last Friday, when an apparently long-simmering environmental problem boiled over. Early that day, a leaking drum of benzyl chloride stored at the Main Street plant, sent foul air over the Valley.

Some residents complained of burning eyes and skin irritations. By (Please see 'Residents' on page 16.)

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

It's not unusual to notice people who are suffering from a spinal "subluxation"...an abnormal misalignment of one or more vertebrae. These people seem to be moving very carefully so as to avoid the pain of a "catch in the back" or perhaps they are favoring a sore shoulder.

Many of these people are simply waiting for the painful condition to "wear itself out" or to somehow correct itself. This is wishful thinking. It's like expecting a smashed fender on your car to straighten itself.

You may learn to ignore the pains caused by spinal misalignment but correction requires professional treatment. Phone us for an appointment.

A new drug called theophylline is the first drug especially formulated to be sprinkled on food. It comes in regular capsule form and is simply opened — allowing the beads to be added to almost any food but ice cream. Theophylline is intended to relieve the symptoms of very young asthmatic victims. In the past these young patients had a very difficult time swallowing the capsule form of their asthmatic medication so that they were deprived of much needed relief. Now the 2 to 3 million asthmatic American children can be helped by this easy-to-administer, sustained-release, anti-asthmatic drug. The new formulation makes it easier for elderly patients to receive their medication as well.

Making Fourth Appearance Tomorrow

Local School 5 Student is Doing Well On National Children's Game Show

By Linda Telesco

Easy tasks are often called "mere child's play," but for one bright Belleville boy, that label means prizes, intellectual competition, and a string of television appearances.

Tomorrow morning, 7-year-old Christopher Onjian makes his fourth pre-recorded appearance on the CBS morning game show "Child's Play," broadcast at 10:30 a.m. on Channel 2.

A witty, talkative lad, Christopher, who is a second grader at School 5, also attends a Saturday morning workshop for gifted children at Montclair's Kimberly Academy.

It was there that a team of scouts from the television production company spotted Christopher and several other workshop children and invited them to the program's New York studios for a trial taping.

"We didn't know if the segments they taped would actually be aired," said Donna Onjian, Christopher's mother, during a recent interview in their Bremond Avenue home. "The tapes were sent to California for review by the central studio. Some are broadcast and some are not."

Not only was her son's first tape aired, but the program officials called Christopher back several times since. To date, the little competitor has collected a wealth of prizes and cash from his appearances.

Carrying a radio he won on the show, Christopher shot back answers in rapid fire style during the interview stopping every so often to adjust volume, sing along, or select another rock music station.

Was he nervous taping the shows? "No, I wasn't nervous. I know about how television cameras work," said Christopher who is taking a children's course in television technology at the Montclair workshop.

He enjoyed watching himself on the programs and talks excitedly about his victories. "It's fun to win. I like playing the game, and I like guessing words myself," he said.

"Child's Play" is termed a game of "Kids and definitions." Hosted by television personality Bill Cullen, the format pits two adult competitors against each other. Vying for cash prizes, they attempt to guess a word based on the definitions provided by a team of five children.

The adult who wins that section plays "Turnabout," the portion of the game where the adult provides a definition and the children guess the words being defined.

The five children divide $100 for each correct answer on their part. They divide $1,000 for a total of all five correct answers.

While verbal ability is important to children contestants, poise, and a certain dramatic flair are equally valuable.

Christopher and Friends — Christopher Onjian, who has made himself popular by appearing on a television game show called 'Child's Play', poses with his classmates at School 5. Christopher is a second grade student in Mrs. Carlucci's class at School 5.

Energetic, outgoing, and articulate, Christopher is a perfect contestant. He is also passionately devoted to "Star Wars," proudly displaying force guns and model space ships.

"Come and see my room," he cries, running to the wood-paneled room that, with its posters, space medallions, and star maps, looks like a top secret organization.

"I write a lot of letters to NASA," said Christopher displaying the reading material and photographs he received in response from the United States agency.

"He was absolutely thrilled when we visited NASA in Florida last March," said Mrs. Onjian, a geriatrics nurse in Cedar Grove. She and her husband, Chuck, an auto mechanic for Belleville's Kar Kare, took their little space cadet for an up close view of the Challenger ship launched last April.

As he explained the craft's unique features, Christopher generously gathered up some of his best NASA material and gave it to his guest. "Here, you can have these. You'll like them," he said.

Like most of his pals, Christopher loves the space lore and talks excitedly about seeing "Return of the Jedi" this week, the third installment in George Lucas' Star Wars cycle. However, his ambitions are closer to earth, and he confesses a love of animals and desire to be a veterinarian.

"We have science courses at my workshop and we dissect worms and frogs. I even have my own microscope," he announced proudly.

Science is also his favorite subject at School 5. "I love my class. I love Mrs. (Anne) Carlucci," he said, adding, "I was lucky — I had her last year, too."

"He likes the subjects he's most interested in at both schools," said Mrs. Onjian, noting her son's grades varied depending on the extent of interest.

"Christopher is a bright child and at one point I decided to have him tested," she said, explaining the route that led her to enroll the boy in the workshop.

When accelerated classes were recommended to her, she scouted around until she decided on the Kimberly program which is an ungraded, informally structured one, divided into eight-week sessions.

"Belleville has an academically talented program but not for students as young as Christopher," explained Mrs. Onjian.

A Health Hazard

Suddenly Belleville Township found itself on the national airways all because waste chemicals were endangering the health and welfare of School 9 students and area residents. Health Officer Thomas Longo must be commended for his diligence and perseverance in staying with the problem until the satisfactory solution was achieved. Township Attorney Frank Zinna, in his usual competent way, is deeply involved in all the legal remedies, obtaining an order which closed down the offender.

The Board of Education, led by President Grace Purdue, must be commended for its concern over the welfare of the students. School 9 is temporarily closed with students assigned to other schools until the problem is satisfactorily resolved.

This location of poisonous waste on Main Street between Little Street and Greylock Avenue is in close proximity to the old Federal Leather plant and L. Sonneborn Sons, Inc. These companies were located in the area for many years, probably getting rid of their waste chemicals in the soil surrounding their acres of buildings. It is appropriate that someone in the community take a look at the potential waste-hazards arising from the manufacturing processes of the Federal Leather Company and the Sonneborn Paint Manufacturing Company. Dangers from these operations may lie ahead — but now is the time to do the research.

Memorial Day

This Monday morning, veterans, township officials and residents will gather to pay tribute to American veterans of war who lost their lives while defending our country's honor.

In recent years Memorial Day observations here have been well attended by patriotic citizens throughout the community. People have braved the rain and unpleasant weather conditions during certain years, to come out and pay their respects. We hope that this tradition continues.

There have been thousands of young men who gave up their most precious possession while serving their country — their lives. Hundreds of thousands more have suffered long-term injuries while fighting during battles of World War I, World War II, the Korean Conflict and of course Vietnam. Still others have been hurt and killed during time of peace. It was just recently that 17 Americans, including several Marines, were killed during a bombing attack at the American Embassy in Beirut. These men gave their lives protecting ours. Now is our chance to repay them for their heroic actions.

As Americans we should proudly display our nation's colors, by flying our flags. We should also pray not only for the fallen soldiers, but for their families also.

Too many of us take Memorial Day for granted. We think of it as just another holiday. A day off from school and work. A day for a family get-together.

Let each one of us look deep into our hearts this Memorial Day and pay the respect that is deserved of our brave veterans.

Lebanon

Soviet Russia's Middle East surrogate, Syria, has condemned the Lebanese-Israeli agreement, providing for a departure from Lebanese territories of all foreign troops.

40,000 Syrian troops, 10,000 PLO radicals, and 30,000 Israeli soldiers occupy various parts of Lebanese soil.

The Lebanese people want all foreign troops to leave their soil. Sounds like a reasonable request. The trouble is that the Soviet Russian toehold in the Middle East is maintained through its Syrian puppet.

PLO Chairman Yasir Arafat is calling for a new Arab war against the "Zionist-American enemy." Arafat's statement tells it all.

As long as Russian money keeps Syria and Arafat in business, there never will be peace in the Middle East.

Americans must reconcile themselves to the fact that our only proven friend in the Middle East is Israel. And we had better call a halt to equivocating over our military support to Israel. If we soften our support for Israel, we run the risk of asking for a Third World War, and inviting a mortal wound.

Letters in Print

This Township Needs Demanding Leaders

To the editor:

In reading your article on the outcome of Belleville's recent election, I would like to comment on one point in particular.

"Pica was viewed by some observers as too demanding and single-minded, traits that may have undercut his former strength."

These observers couldn't have paid Matt Pica a bigger compliment. Too demanding — on whom? Too single-minded — for whom? To me these are admirable traits for an elected official to have.

When I go to the polls and vote for a candidate, I like to believe that I'm doing just that — voting for the candidate, not his wife, or her husband, not his associations, or his backers, but for him/her — the candidate. I expect him to do what he believes will be best for all the citizens of Belleville not just a "selected few" or "pressure groups."

I expect him to make his own decisions with honesty and sincerity and not make decisions based on the fact that he may lose political strength, or gain political strength. Sooner or later anyone can lose an election. Decisions made with honesty and sincerity are a lot easier to live with if that day comes. Try asking anyone who has lost one.

I think it's time for all the people of Belleville to demand that "too-demanding, single-minded" elected official.

Belleville deserves nothing less.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

In a previous column (April 28) regarding auto car insurance surcharges, space limitations precluded incorporation of other related matters of great significance to the driving public of New Jersey, however, we concluded by indicating that there would be more on this later, so here goes.

Car insurance industry lobbyists are staging a "closed door" campaign to scuttle a bill designed to add two more public members and the Director of the Division of Motor Vehicles to the newly created 14-member Joint Underwriting Association's board of directors.

The insurance industry lobbyists are "pressuring" the senators and the Governor to defeat the bill, claiming that adding three more public members would take away from the industry effective control of the association on key issues.

They argue that with eight members on the association's board, representatives of the insurance companies has the majority vote, since the remaining board members consist of three persons from agents and brokers associations, and three public members — members the car insurance companies do not consider part of the industry.

The car lobbyists point out that if the DMV director and two more public members are added, the "public" members would have a nine-to-eight voting majority on the board — Is there any wonder why the public has been getting "shafted"?

There is also another sad commentary about this questionable surcharge scheme that remains little known, but, holds devastating prospects for many errant motorists caught in its toils.

The new surcharge system will apply to all drivers in the state who have picked up motor vehicle points for traffic violations after Jan. 1, 1983.

Under it, the motorist will have to pay $55 more a year for three years for his driver's license for three motor vehicle points; $100 more a year for three years for six motor vehicle points, and $25 more for each motor vehicle point more than six.

The money will be collected by the motor vehicles division and sent to the Joint Underwriting Association to pay for claims for those insured by association-designated companies.

Assemblyman Michael Aduato has estimated that $120 million a year will be collected through surcharges, with $100 million going to the association for claims payments and $20 million going into the state treasury.

He said the money collected will be sufficient to cover any losses suffered by the association-designated insurance companies.

We frown upon and deprecate this repulsive, inept law and have written Governor Kean expressing our sentiments. We advise him we regard this program as a palliative "patchwork" measure which we describe as an unsatisfactory repugnant method of temporizing offering no solution, other than reducing the state's Division of Motor Vehicles to an abject collection agency role designed to pull the insurance industry's chestnuts "out of the fire."

We suggest to Gov. Kean that it ignominiously perverts the motor vehicle points for traffic violations format from one of driver rehabilitation and improved driver skill into a revenue producing measure (state getting 20 percent). The question of legality arising therefrom was raised.

We infer it oppressively subjects errant motorists to double legal jeopardy in that a judge can fine a violator for an infraction, then DMV would subject that party to a penalty of $55 to $100 or more for three years, on top of his or her driving privilege fee, while their insurance carrier increases their premium because of the points accumulated.

This we tell the Governor constitutes a harsh and unreasonable bill. We indicate that it surprises most of the public that he would sanction such an inimical piece of legislation that impinges with all established and accepted concepts of insurance customary practice and policy.

In closing we urge that he exert his influence to have the threshold increased and that the present monstrous law be rescinded, as it should be.

A much more equitable solution must be found to bring New Jersey's car insurance rates into line with those of other states having no-fault car insurance. If the lawyer's bloc in the Legislature remains perversely adamant and refuses to budge... Let's kick them out in the November elections.

Toxic Chemical Scares

By Ed Capparucci

"Toxic Chemicals." That is a phrase which has many Belleville residents, especially in the Valley section of town, very concerned during the past two weeks.

But you have to wonder if too much has been made out of the latest chemical scare. One state official who was on the scene said incidents like this occurred almost every day in the City of Newark.

It seems that only in recent years people have become concerned with toxic chemicals being stored in their neighborhoods, but in reality there are toxic chemicals all around us.

What is a toxic chemical? Well according to the dictionary the word toxic is an adjective which pertains to a poisonous product. Therefore, it is a poisonous chemical. Now think for a moment, or better yet take a walk through your garage, kitchen or bathroom. Count how many different types of poisonous chemicals you come across. Now take all of them and place them in one barrel, and you will have yourself a crisis similar to the one faced by local officials last week.

Someone even mentioned that water, when dirty, can be considered a toxic chemical. I don't know if I would go that far, but it does make some sense.

Residents of the School 9 area, claim they have been complaining about strange odors for several years, but officials from the Department of Environmental Protection were at the site earlier in the month and said there was no danger. The two barrels which were leaking, probably only started to do so last week. So the fumes residents were subjected to most likely did not come from those barrels.

But you really have to be disgusted with the television media and the way it manipulated the fears of local residents with its sensationalism of the event. I was at the site most of the evening when the story first broke to the press, and I was receiving the same information the New York television news teams were getting, yet after listening to the reports, I think I was at a different site. It shocked me that members of the media would go on the air reporting what I can only term as speculation of the events which were going on. Some spectator at the scene mentioned to a newscaster that the chemicals were "potentially explosive." And also immediately on the air it was reported that in "Belleville, New Jersey," there is a potentially explosive factory being inspected by officials." They always tell you never to believe what you read, maybe that should include what you see on television also.

I would like to take the opportunity to express my disgust with some of the youngsters of this community, especially in the School 8 district. It is amazing how much damage the kids do so to the school playground and the adjacent Clearman Field. There are broken bottles all over the place, and last week, someone took a trash can and dumped it all over. Are you going to tell me that the children of this community cannot find something more useful to do with their time.

One day a child is going to fall and receive a serious injury, then township officials are going to open their eyes to this problem.

But the underlining factor is that the real culprits are the parents who don't discipline their children, or teach them about respecting public property.

While I am on the subject of the television media, did anyone happen to catch a news report on Channel 5 last Friday night? It seems that a New York man was shot while parked in a car down some isolated street. The police found him slumped up in the front seat of the car. The cameras for Channel 5 got some excellent shots of the dead man in his car, but was it necessary to place them on television? What about this man's family, who must see the film clip of the horrible crime? Isn't it bad enough that the man is dead, but the media must add more pain to their loss. Incidents like this bring up many questions about the media, and censorship. I believe that there should be some type of restrictions placed on the television media in what they can show to the public. How do you feel, write a letter to the editor and express your views.

Despite the fact that my girls' softball team has yet to win a game this season, having suffered three defeats, I would like to take this time to publicly acknowledge the fine job they have been doing on and off the field. We have lost our first three games, including two by only one run, while in the classroom, nearly 85 percent of the team has been named to their school's honor roll list. The girls which make up the team are: Cassandra Brew, Anne Carlucci, Lisa Cutalo, Joanne DePasquale, Elisa DePasquale, Susan Friend, Kathi Groome, Janet Reiman, Jennie Restaino, Tricia Serio, Hina Tailor, Tanya Tucker and last but not least, Andrea Faraone. Keep up the good work ladies.

Middle School Students Learn About Energy With a Robot

Students at Belleville Middle School have had the opportunity to participate in several auditorium programs recently.

A few weeks ago a program on "Energy Adventure," was presented to all seventh and eighth graders. Joseph Haubenreich, the master of ceremonies, brought several of his "friends" with him to help visually demonstrate the facts of energy. Probably his favorite side-kick was the walking, talking robot.

Children volunteered from the audience to participate in the experiments. The hands on approach was enjoyed by all and "shocking" to some. Haubenreich introduced the audience to several aspects of energy, supply and demand, the different types of energy, energy in our environment and what can be done to conserve existing forms of energy.

Haubenreich is well qualified in this field and visits hundreds of secondary schools throughout the country each year. The Oak Ridge Associated Universities which Haubenreich represents is sponsored, in this area, by the Exxon Company. Mr. Haubenreich is a graduate of the University of Tennessee in Knoxville and has received extensive training on the complex subject of energy at Oak Ridge Associated Universities in Oak Ridge, Tennessee, the world-famous energy research center.

In addition, several seventh grade classes viewed Walt Disney's filmed presentation of "Johnny" Tremain, "The Boston Tea Party" and "The Shot Heard Round the World." For some students, it was an opportunity to compare the book with the filmed version. However, from the film, all the students were exposed to colonial living conditions and the political atmosphere at the time of the Revolutionary War. All seventh grade students study the Revolutionary War in detail, in social studies.

Belleville's Past

A Century of Home Rule

In the playful spirit that characterizes all legislative bodies, for the last day of their session, both houses suspended all rules. The bill was passed unanimously by the assembly, was immediately rushed to the senate, was passed there, too, and five minutes after John W. Taylor, of Essex County, the senate president, had announced "The bill is passed!" the 30th Legislature of the State of New Jersey adjourned with a record of 534 new laws to its credit.

Its new urban status proved by no means an unmixed blessing for Belleville. In the beginning the citizenry, in the words of the Sentinel of Freedom, "was jubilant over its new charter and speeches were made and resolutions adopted...There is a great rejoicing." Belleville unhesitatingly recognized Hugh Holmes' leading part in securing the city charter by electing him mayor of the new city several weeks later.

On April 27, exactly a month after the passage of the bill by the Legislature, the new city government convened for its first meeting at Passaic Hall, on Main Street. The Reverend J. Paschal Strong, pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church, offered prayers, and Theodore Sandford, newly elected justice of the peace, administered the oath of office to Mayor Holmes and city officials. The common council was comprised of John H. Osborne, William McVay, H.J. Burritt, O.H. Perry, Joseph Moore, Amzi Rutan, Henry Lane and Charles E. Willet, two from each of the four wards. John E. Taylor was councilman-at-large. There were six Democrats and three Republicans among the councilmen. But there was no delay in the selection of the rest of the personnel for the new city administration. The councilmen chose Elias Osborne as tax assessor, his brother Henry, as city treasurer and tax collector, Julius Fitzgerald became city attorney, William Conolly, street commissioners, Richard Ferris, city surveyor, and Abijah Baldwin, overseer of the poor. A score of committees were named to take care of the various departments of the new administration.

Two days later the first business meeting of the new city council was held at Temperance Hall, a two-story frame structure on William Street, on the approximate site that was occupied by the convent of St. Peter's R.C. Church. Almost immediately the new government hit a snag. When they demanded that Theodore Sandford, who had also been the treasurer of the Belleville Polling District, turn over all the records in his possession, they were met with strict refusal.

Freeholder Clay Supports Students' Job Measure

Essex County Freeholder Arthur Clay this week threw his support behind a measure appropriating funds for a special jobs training program aimed at improving the employment opportunities of 55 Belleville youths.

Passage of the resolution by the full Board of Freeholders will free up $13,246 and enable the Essex County Division of Employment Training and the Belleville Board of Education to go forward with a summer youth employment program.

Under the program, Belleville youths 14-21 years of age will receive classroom training in such job skills as typing, business machine operations, and computer training. In addition, participants will be offered remedial education, labor market orientation and career counseling.

"This program is an investment in our most precious resource — the young," said Clay. "I can think of no better way for government to concentrate its energies than the training and education of tomorrow's citizens and taxpayers."

Clay's district encompasses Belleville, Bloomfield, Cedar Grove, Glen Ridge, Montclair and Nutley.

Seems Like Only Yesterday... New Minister Takes Over at Wesley; Local Man Arrested For Killing Wife

By Ed Capparucci
Thirty Years Ago
Members of the Wesley Methodist Church will welcome Rev. C. Albertus Hewitt as their new minister on Sunday morning. Rev. Hewitt comes here from the Methodist Church of Springfield to succeed Rev. Frederick Hubach, who begins his new duties at Trinity Methodist Church in West New Brighton, Staten Island. The transfer of the two ministers was made public during the Methodist Conference at Park Methodist Church, Bloomfield. Commissioner Patrick Waters, was one of four local persons named to head the Belleville campaign drive to raise clothing for Koreans. The drive will include a house-to-house canvass as well as a central depot collection in certain areas, which will be announced. The Essex County committee hopes to gather 500,000 pounds of clothing to allay the tremendous need of 10 million ragged, homeless Korean civilians.

Twenty Years Ago
Mayor Robert Laterza cut a ribbon opening the new Clara Maass Professional Building located on Newark Avenue. The building contained 30 custom-designed medical suites in a centrally air-conditioned environment, complete with its own clinical lab, pharmacy and modern x-ray facilities. The nearness to the hospital would allow emergencies at either the hospital or clinic to receive prompt, specialized help from either the hospital or private doctors. The Belleville Council of Churches Women commended the Belleville Public Library for its outstanding effort over the past two years in the improvement of library services and physical facilities. The council particularly praised library officials on their drive to increase the participation of more Belleville residents in the library programs and urged the commissioners and mayor to "see that this progress is continued and whenever possible, expanded."

Town manager Eugene Burnett said residents in the Rutan Estate area might have a park in their neighborhood if all went well. Burnett said that the town had filed an application with the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development to establish a park along the Third River, under the Green Acres local assistance plan.

Fifteen Years Ago
Belleville residents, attending a meeting of the Planning Board, complained of a lack of attendance at the meeting by members of the districts under discussion, due to insufficient publicity on the part of the board. Several motions were made to end the meeting to which less than 100 people attended and postpone it to a later date when more people could be gathered, but the chairman of the board ruled it was a public hearing, not a meeting, so it should not be ended through a motion from the floor. The Planning Board then scheduled a meeting for a week later as to whether or not it should hold any more meetings to discuss the plans that they were making.

Ten Years Ago
Five local residents were among the candidates for the upcoming Democratic and Republican primaries.

The five are running for party nominations at nearly every level from governor to the Board of Freeholders. The presence of well-known Belleville political figures on the ballots is expected to increase the turnout here.

Among the five are three members of the Board of Commissioners: Mary Senatore, who is seeking a Democratic Senate Seat; Mayor Joseph McGreevy, a Republican Assembly candidate, and Commissioner Vincent Strumolo, who is looking for a post on the Essex Board of Freeholders.

Also running is Michael Maglio, a lifelong resident of Belleville, who is seeking the Republican nod for governor and Frank Racanelli, who is running on the Democratic line for a freeholder seat.

Belleville voters will be casting votes for the first time in the newly reapportioned 30th District, which includes Secaucus, Kearny, Harrison, East Newark and part of North Newark.

Belleville police arrested a local man and charged him in the stabbing death of his wife, after the two participated in an all-night quarrel.

Police, who discovered a kitchen knife at the scene, took the victim to Clara Maass Hospital, where she was pronounced dead on arrival with six stab wounds. Her husband was held at the Newark Street Jail without bail.

A strike force of Essex County Prosecutor's detectives aided Belleville police, in cracking a gambling "bank" while coming away with nearly $2 million in bets, while arresting a husband and wife on Jefferson Street.

The aid was part of a coordinated month-long effort in Essex and Hudson Counties, which saw arrests in Belleville, Newark, Harrison and Bayonne.

One Year Ago
Classrooms gave way to condos as the long-awaited decision on the fate of the School 2 property located on Mill Street was announced by the Zoning Board.

With only one vote of dissent from the six members empaneled, approval was granted to construct a 36-unit condominium project on the site of the closed school building. Favoring the application were zoners Recco Constantino, DiChiara, James Landon, Kenneth Nash and Michael Ippolito. Joel Pisano abstained from the hearing. The lone dissenting vote came from board member Al Schmitt, who did not agree with the number of units to be constructed, because of possible parking and traffic problems.

The Belleville High School girls' crew team was named as national champs, with their win in the prestigious National Championships held in Delaware. What makes this accomplishment so note worthy is that the boat is made of six freshmen, one sophomore and two juniors.

A Historical Tour of Belleville's Graveyards

St. Peter's — This monument of Christ is standing in the St. Peter's Church Cemetery, located on Williams Street, behind the church.

A Beautiful Headstone — Years ago people went through great lengths to create headstones to be placed on grave sites. Now most markings are footstones.

Graveyards. To most people they are areas which one dreads to walk through. They have been the site of some of the greatest horror films ever made. Yet here in Belleville there are three which make-up a large part of the township's history.

Earlier this month the Belleville Historical Society held informative tours of the Dutch Reformed Church Cemetery, the Christ Church Cemetery and St. Peter's Church Cemetery.

"All three of these sites represent much of Belleville's history," said Eddie O'Neil, president of the Belleville Historical Society. "They are well-kept and it is very interesting to stroll through and look at some of the names which played a large part in the town's earlier years."

Perhaps the most beautiful of the three is the Christ Church Cemetery, located on William and Main Streets, the site of the former church.

Walking through the cemetery is almost like strolling through a garden, with its beautiful selection of flowers and trees. The grounds are taken care of by Ben and Bertha Zienkiewicz, and it is just a lovely site for all to see.

At the site of the cemetery is a cross which is made part of the old church which was moved in the 1930's to Washington Avenue.

Some of the well-known families who are laid to rest there include, the Schuylers, Staniers, Rutherfords, Kingsland, Sanfords, Ogdens and Williamstons.

The Dutch Reformed Church Cemetery is the oldest in Belleville and one of the oldest in the state. It is located on Rutgers Street, directly behind the church. Although it is not as beautiful as the Christ Church Cemetery, it has a lot of character and is filled with much of the township's history.

"Many of the families which are buried here are first settlers in Belleville," said O'Neil. "At one time the gates were open so that the horses which carried the bodies could come right into the cemetery."

Among the men buried there are more than 100 who served in the Revolutionary War. "In front of the church is a list of the men who served in the war and are now buried in the cemetery," said O'Neil.

Also buried there are the Rutgers family, the Cadmus, the Hornblowers, the Vrelands, the Spears, the Rutans, and the Kings, just to name a few.

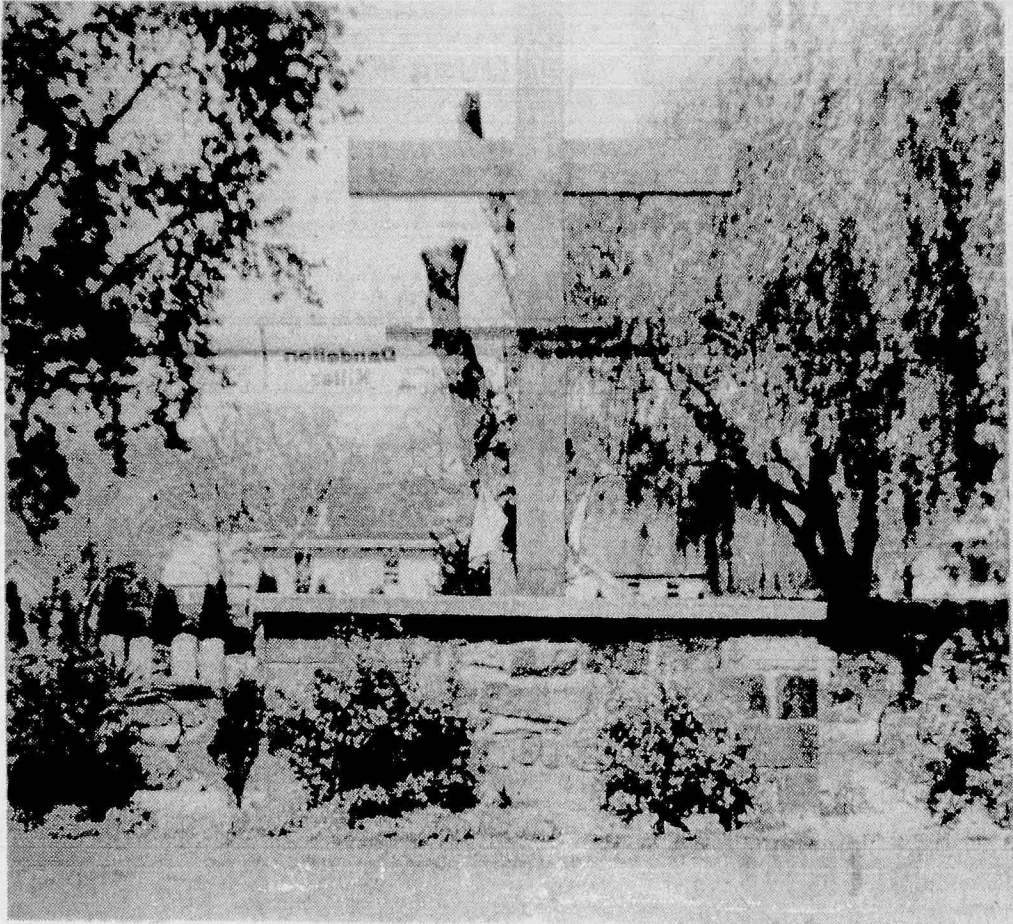

The cemetery is taken care of by Catherine Mingle and Rev. Charles Bridgman of the Dutch Reformed Church.

The third cemetery during the historical society tour was St. Peter's, located on William Street.

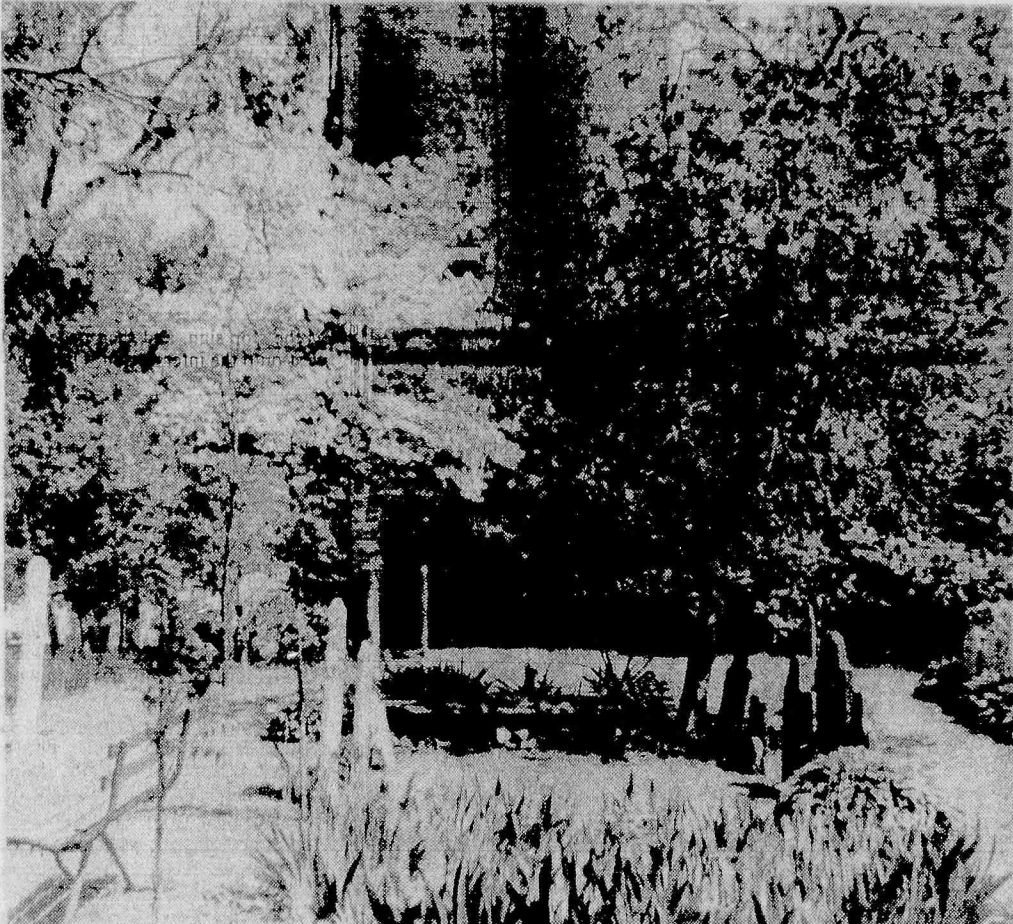

St. Peter's is the largest and the youngest of the three cemeteries. Although it, too, is not as beautiful as the Christ Church, it is well kept and cared for.

Among the families there are the Listers, Kiernans and Waters. Also buried there is the church's first resident pastor, Rev. Jonh Hogan.

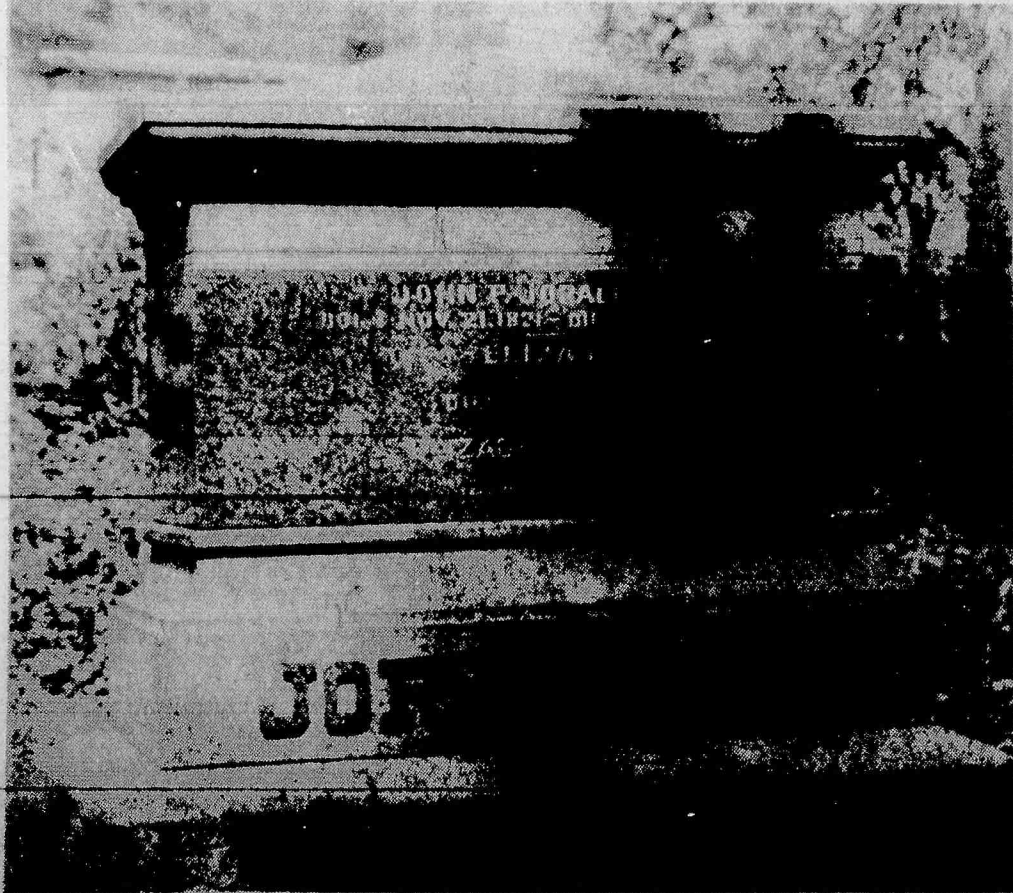

"Not many people would think to take a walk through a cemetery, but it can be very interesting," said O'Neil, "especially here in Belleville."

Old Cross — This cross and alter is located in the Christ Church Cemetery and made from parts of the old church. The church was located on the site of the cemetery, but moved in the 1930's to Washington Avenue.

A Garden Appearance — The Christ Church Cemetery is a beautiful garden of flowers, trees and bushes. During the early spring the cemetery flowers are at their peak.

A Famous Name — Joralemon, which was an important family in the Belleville area, is buried in the Dutch Reformed Church Cemetery, located on Rutgers Street. The cemetery is one of the oldest in the state, and is a site of much history in this community.

Old Cemetery — The Dutch Reformed Church is the oldest church in Belleville and its cemetery is one of the oldest in the state also. There are many famous Belleville citizens buried there.

Special Education Parents Hold Annual Olympics

Saturday, April 30 was the big day for over 100 special education children, their brothers and sisters, and their parents, as the Special Education Parents and Professionals Organization (SEPO) held its fifth annual special ed olympics.

Weather for the day was warm and clear and co-chairmen Bernadette Naso and Pat Caporaso made sure the smoothly-run games began on time. Dr. Anthony Chirico, director of Special Services announced the many dignitaries present and told the audience and participants what was in store for them. Dr. John Greed, superintendent of schools and Mrs. Grace Purdue, board of education president, made welcoming remarks next. After this the participants marched in to guitar music, the colors were presented by Troop 364 and the games were officially on.

The students ran relay races, shot baskets, and did broad jumping in the opening session. A new parent-child event was added this year and was considered a great success. A short break for a mid-morning snack was held with the valuable assistance of the Junior Women's Club of Belleville. Then back to the games. Participants ran in long distance competition and through an obstacle course. For the second year in a row the festivities were taped by students from WBHS under the supervision of Marilyn Mango.

After the athletic events ended, the students and their families adjourned to the Traffic Jam to enjoy their generously provided facilities as well as delicious food from Thomas Appicella's Chandelier Restaurant. A great time was had by all those children and adults who participated in the day's activities.

The Director — Dr. Anthony Chirico, director of special services in the Belleville school system, starts the annual festivities.

Tough Course — Anne Marie Moccero, of the WBHS camera crew, which filmed the annual special education olympics, tries her hand at the obstacle course.

Getting Ready — Miss Chris Macysyn, a special education teacher, (l) Charlotte Bowen and another student, await the start of the relay race.

Winners — Expressions of delight are seen on the faces of Donald Taylor, Tommy Escott and Michelle Frangos, as they enjoy their victory in the special olympics.

Three Titles On The Line

Girls Softball Squad Set For Championship Titles

By Mark Foley

It's that time of year again — what Coach Carl Corino likes to call "money time" — when every game carries an added importance. For the first time in over five years, the Belleville girls' softball team is in the thick of three championships: county, conference and state.

The defense of the Essex County title, which was postponed twice due to inclement weather, will come to a conclusion on Saturday at 8 p.m. at Pulaski Park against tournament host Bloomfield. A regular season contest between the two clubs scheduled for last Monday was also shelved. In fact, the only action the team saw last week was against Paterson Eastside, and the girls responded with a 13-5 win to bring their record to 18-3.

The stars of the game were Tracy

Buono and leadoff batter Donna Brooks, who led an 18-hit attack for the Buccanettes. Buono, who had not fully recovered from the injuries she received against Cedar Grove, was three-for-five with four runs batted in, a triple and her fifth home run of the year (tying the school record held jointly by Joanne Conte and Rose Leonidis). Brooks went four-for-four with a homer and five RBIs. First baseman Lois DeLuccio had three hits in four tries to raise her team-leading batting average to .422. On the pitching side, it was junior Dina DeAquino holding Eastside to four hits while becoming the first BHS pitcher to surpass the 100-strikeout mark in a season.

Today Belleville hosts Westfield in the opening round of the NJSIAA North Jersey Section II, Group IV state playoffs. Westfield's coach, Carol Donner, recently became one of the few coaches in the state to lead her team to over 200 wins. They also feature a strong pitcher, Nancy Kasko, and should provide a very interesting match this afternoon at Municipal Stadium.

DIAMOND DUST: The squad travelled to Paterson yesterday to play J.F. Kennedy...As of press time, no make-up date had been set for the conference game with Bloomfield, although it will be made up...Pending a change because of the state tournament, Belleville will play Kearny next Wednesday, June 1, at the Cardinals' Gunnel Oval...The seedings for the state tournament, which were based entirely on winning percentage, placed undefeated Union first, Bloomfield second and Belleville third. Westfield was seeded sixth...Several Buccanettes stand to reap post-season honors from local newspapers and organizations due to a team batting surge that has brought the club's average from a low of .215 in late April up to .285 going into this week's action...The last time they had a shot at three titles was 1978 when they captured the Big Ten, but were unsuccessful in the county and state tournaments...The banner for last year's ECT championship team is hanging in the BHS gym. The girls paid for it themselves through the sale of "I (heart) Belleville Softball" bumper stickers.

Ready To Hit — The Belleville High School boys' baseball squad will close out their season this week. The boys have lost a lot of close one-run games this year, but Coach LaConte is optimistic about next year's crew.

Bucs Concluding A Losing Season

One day, when the Belleville baseball team has a chance to catch its breath, they will probably look back on this baseball season and look at all the close games they played, and realize that with a few breaks, they could have won a few games.

The Bucs will close out their 1983 season with a home game against Kennedy this afternoon. Yesterday, the Bucs hosted Hillside and on Monday, were in Bloomfield.

Ralph La Conte's Bucs have been through a roller coaster season since the outset. The team enters the final week of the campaign with a 7-15 mark, but is priming for next season realizing they are a squad that is very close to being an outstanding team.

Last week the team lost to Paterson Eastside, 7-6, blowing a big lead in the process. Belleville did get some revenue, however, when they upset highly regarded Secaucus, at Secaucus, 3-2.

"Slowly, but surely, we're coming around," said La Conte, who feels the team is starting to mature and will be a solid club next spring. "We took our lumps this spring, no doubt, but when you look at the scores, you'll realize we were a very competitive club. We weren't blown out

Golf Team Ups Record To an Impressive 9-3

Paced by the efforts of Jimmy Apple and Joe Pontrella, the Belleville golf team upended conference-rival Paterson Kennedy last week, boosting the team record to a very impressive 9-3.

The Bucs scheduled match with Kearny was washed out. This week, the team hosted a tri-match with toughies Clifton and Bloomfield at the Forest Hills Country Club, on Monday. On Tuesday, the Bucs traveled to Caldwell and this afternoon will take part in the NNJIL tournament to be held at Freehold. More on that tourney later in the article.

Head coach Rocco Colucci was happy with the victory, a win that boosted the Bucs record to 5-1 in the conference. "We have some tough matches in the conference coming up this week," said Colucci referring to the tri-match with Bloomfield and

Stroke of Bad Luck Sends Girls Down to Defeat at Stotesberry

In 1982, the Belleville crew team traveled to Poughkeepsie and the girls' team ran away with the championship. A week later, the girls went to the Stotesberry Regatta in Philadelphia and left everyone in their wake, walking home with the team championship. The following week, the girls went to the National Championships and came home the junior eight champs, setting off a huge celebration in town.

Now, one year later, the girls have hit a snag. Two weeks ago, they went to Poughkeepsie and head coach Sam Giuffrida elected to race the boat in the senior eight race, a much tougher race. The theory being the girls would get better competition for the Stotesberry racing against older girls.

The idea seemed to work well, as the girls took a third place, a tremendous showing considering the Belleville boat consists of six sophomores, one junior and one senior. The girls, who were disappointed that they didn't win the senior eight race, were determined to walk away with the junior eight race at the Stotes.

Something happened to those dreams along the way. Perhaps the oarsman's worst nightmare, the crab, took its ugly toll on the Belleville girls last week, costing them the Stotesberry championship and sending the girls home, upset, extremely angry and very determined for the national championships which take place tomorrow afternoon in Virginia.

The girls' varsity eight, the freshman boys' varsity eight and the boys' junior four will all make the long trip to Virginia for this weekend's National Championships. The team will leave on Thursday and return home Sunday.

"It was just terrible luck," said Giuffrida, referring to the girls' loss in the preliminary round of the

Belleville High School Linksters Are Consistent Winners

Question: What varsity sport at Belleville High School boasts a winning percentage of .745 over the last three years, second only to the football team. The answer: The Belleville golf team.

That's right, the Belleville golf team has been one of the most consistent teams at BHS over the past three years and the future certainly looks good.

Under the guidance of coach Rocco Colucci, the linksters hold a 9-3 mark entering this week's action. Last season, they posted a solid 9-4 mark and in 1981, Colucci's rookie season, the Bucs were 8-2 and finished second in the Essex County tournament.

While those records have become common knowledge around town, what a lot of people don't know is that Colucci is in the process of building a very successful program at the school. Last season, the coach started a program for the students at the middle school, a program that has already begun to reap benefits.

"I started the program for the kids in the middle school," Colucci explained. "This gives the players a chance to start learning about the game, to get a general feel for the game. Believe me, the other schools in the area, most notable Nutley, have been doing it for a few years. The competition in Essex County is becoming tougher every year. This will be the only way we can compete with some of the top schools in Essex County and hopefully, the state."

Colucci loses only one senior to graduation this year and is looking forward to a large turnout for next season's squad. "We have five eighth graders who have indicated they will come out for the team. We have some seventh graders who have showed some tremendous potential. Our first graduate on the program, Brian De Furia, is now a starter on the varsity team and doing quite well."

Indeed, De Furia, a freshman, has come through very well. He has cracked the starting lineup and stands a good chance of competing in the Essex County tournament on May 31.

Colucci, obviously, is the advisor of the program. "When I started the program back in 1982, I brought in a film of the Masters tournament. It gave the kids a chance to watch some professionals compete and get an idea, right away, of what was entailed."

While the program has been working well, Colucci points out that it could be a lot better. "I'm surprised that more people are not interested. There are two golf courses in this area. The facilities are here and the opportunity is here. I would think that the lack of exposure about the game throughout the years has hurt the team, but now, with more media coverage and with the help of Mario Di Maggio (principal of the Belleville Middle School), we have an opportunity to do a lot more with the sport."

Colucci feels there are some good golfers coming up and sees a lot of potential, not only individually but as a team. "I'm hoping to eventually divide the team into an A and B squad," the coach said. "The A team would compete against their level of competition and the B team on their level. This way, the kids get a chance to play and get the exposure they will need."

Playing time, like in all sports, is the key to success. "I've seen the game of golf get to even the greatest of athletes," said Colucci. "It's a funny game, one day you're up and the next day, nothing right

BUC SHOTS

happens. That's why it's so important to play the game day in and day out. It takes a lot of time and discipline."

With that time and discipline comes a lot of rewards, however. "There are colleges who are practically asking coaches for golfers," explained Colucci. "The schools in this area, and there are some very good schools, have scholarships to give. If you can start at a young age, seek professional lessons and play as much as possible, you can write your own ticket. The golf schools are looking for scholar athletes, the person who can excel on the course and the classroom."

While the coach pointed out that many good golfers head south and west because they can play all year long, many have chosen to stay in the area. "Montclair State has developed a very good program," said Colucci. "Seton Hall, St. John's, Glassboro State, Trenton State College and a number of schools from the Pennsylvania area are all top notch golf schools with good scholarship programs."

It doesn't take a genius to realize that the cost of a college education these days is astronomical. If a young athlete, who has the desire and interest to play the game of golf, can reach his potential, there is no telling how far he can go.

"Golf has made the weak, strong," said Colucci. "There is a lot of maturity and discipline involved with being a good player. It certainly isn't impossible, but it does require work."

Belleville has been known as a good golf town for many years now. "There are some very good golfers out of Branch Brook Park," said Colucci. "Exposure at a young age is the key. The kids have to start playing and stay with it."

The golf program at Belleville High has been a very good one for a number of years. With the new program and continued interest, there is no telling how good the linksters from Belleville High School can be.

There is a slight change in the lineup for June. Next week, we will profile the Belleville High School athlete of the month for May. The following week, June 9, will be the BHS girl athlete of the year. The following week, the boy athlete of the year will be profiled and on June 23, the coach of the year will have his or her day. Finally, the year in review will be in the June 30 issue. As was the case last year, the athletes of the year and coach of the year will receive an award along with a picture and story. The award started in 1980 and has been very successful ever since.

The summer issues of The Times will feature the weekly exploits of the Belleville Braves, weekly articles on the Belleville basketball team as they return to the Bloomfield Summer Basketball League, the weekly flashback article and Cosmos Corner.

The Belleville High School athlete of the week goes to the entire freshman boys' crew team. They did a super job at the Stotesberry Regatta last weekend and finished their season with a 27-2 mark.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, who has won the most American League Western Division crowns. The answer: The Oakland A's have won six crowns, winning the title in 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974, 1975, and 1981. The A's also won the World Series in 1972, '73 and '74.

For this week's quiz, since 1968, the Stanley Cup has been won by only four different teams. Can you name those teams and the years they have won the cup?

Finally, good luck to the Belleville girls' softball team and the Belleville girls' crew team as they compete in the National Championships this weekend. For the softball team, they are looking to repeat their county championship and will face Bloomfield this weekend at Pulaski Park starting at 8 p.m.

Heard at Ringside

By Steve H. Frank

Promoter Bob Arum held a press conference at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, in New York, to hype the change of scenery for the Davey Moore-Roberto Duran fight for Moore's WBA junior middleweight crown. The bout originally scheduled for Sun City, South Africa, May 27, will now be held at Madison Square Garden on June 16. Moore of the Bronx has a record of 12 fights, 12 wins, with 9 KOs. Duran of Panama has a chart that reads 74 wins and 4 losses with 56 KOs.

WBC heavyweight king Larry Holmes said at an impromptu press conference Monday, "I would sign to meet Mike Weaver for the unification of the heavyweight title, immediately after I knock out Tim Witherspoon." The statement had several hidden "ifs." If Holmes knocked out Witherspoon. If Weaver beats WBC champion Michael Dokes. Holmes also added he would not fight Dokes if he retained the title. What Larry did not say — both (Holmes and Dokes) are committed to promoter Don King.

Frank Bruno, who wants to become England's first fighter to capture the world heavyweight title during this century, will take on New York's Barry Hines, May 31, at Royal Albert Hall in London. Bruno, undefeated in 15 pro fights — all knockouts inside of 5-rounds, stopped Scott La Doud of Minneapolis, Minn. at Wembley Arena, just one week ago.

Editor and publisher of Ring Magazine, Bert Randolph Sugar was host to one of his many parties for boxing personalities at O'Reilly's Pub down the street from the magazine's office on 31st Street. The guest of honor did not show up. Gerry Cooney was to be "roasted" to commemorate the second anniversary of his 54-second destroying of aged, washed up Ken Norton. Sugar explained, "I made a statement in Ring Magazine that I was going to throw this party for Cooney's last victory. Somebody didn't like the idea in the Cooney group."

The KO's Bobby Chacon-Cornelius Bozo-Edwards fight is OK'd. On Thursday, a Los Angeles Superior Court judge ruled WBC featherweight champion Chacon must fight Hector "The Clutch" Camacho before defending his title against Bozo-Edwards. The judge based his ruling on Chacon's signing a contract with promoter Don King to fight "The Clutch" first. Friday, a three-judge California Appellate Court over-ruled the Superior Court judge's ruling and said Chacon and Bozo-Edwards can fight as scheduled. He received $450,000 for the Bozo-Edwards bout; the Camacho affair will pay Chacon $210,000.

Under the condition that Bobby Chacon, recognized as WBC featherweight titleholder and Cornelius Bozo-Edwards' manager Mickey Duff defied promoter Don King and fought for Don Chargin, the head clown (Jose Sulaiman) of WBC refused to sanction the slugfest as a title bout.

Last episode: WBC featherweight champion Bobby Chacon, bleeding from a cut under the left eye, a bloody nose and cuts on both cheeks, took a unanimous 12-round decision from No. 1 contender Cornelius Bozo-Edwards in a non-title bout at Las Vegas. Judge Lou Tabat saw the fight 115-112, Duane Ford scored it 115-113 and Dave Moretti had it 117-111, all for Chacon.

The WBA granted their lightweight champion Ray "Boom Boom" Mancini another 180 days before a title defense due to the slow healing of his collarbone break. Mancini was injured while training for his defense against Ken Bogner.

May 26th co-promoters Murad Muhammad and the Newark Police Athletic League will present their third in the current series of boxing cards at Newark's Symphony Hall. The main event will bring the Houston, Texas-based hard-punching WBC's No. 2 ranked Steve Hearon against Juan Cantres. Hearon brings a 24-2 mark against the potential "spoiler" Cantres who has a 12-7-3 diary. "Steve was ranked No. 2 and Saul Mamby No. 1," said promoter Murad Muhammad at the press conference at Don's 21 Restaurant, Tuesday. "When Mamby lost in his bid to regain the title earlier this year, the former champ should have been moved down in the rankings and Hearon up to No. 1." Murad said. "Instead WBC jumped Ubaldo Sacco from No. 4 to No. 1." We protested to WBC president Jose Sulaiman who decided there should be an elimination bout." That will be scheduled on a later date. Carmine Bilotti, public relations person for Murad Muhammad, handled the details of the conference.

Men's Softball

Belleville Shoes, Suburban Are Tops In Recreation League Softball Play

Belleville Shoes swept a double-header last week to move into a tie for first place in the Tuesday "B" Division of the Belleville Men's Softball League. Belleville Shoes (4-1) won 9-8 in extra innings against Silver Lake Auto Service (2-3), before defeating Kasey's 6-4. Also at 4-1 is Suburban Cablevision, who slid by Kasey's (2-3) by a 5-4 margin and who rallied past Roselli's Amoco 12-4. Silver Lake Auto Service rebounded to decision Belleville Political and Social Club 12-9, but BPSC (1-4) managed to pull off a 4-3 extra-inning upset over Roselli's Amoco (2-3).

After three weeks of play in Wednesday "A" League, four teams are knotted at 2-1. De Bacco's (2-1) drubbed Charles Daniels (1-2) by a score of 16-2; Burger King (2-1) turned back Megaro Memorial Home (0-3) 12-3; and Rosmore/Hess (2-1) edged Michael's Roscommon House (2-1) 6-5.

DeLorenzo Construction stands atop the Thursday "B" League with a 3-0 record, after defeating Eastern Sales (2-1) by a score of 12-3. Campbell Tools (2-1) bested Garden State Pet (1-2) 12-5, and Red Shingle (1-2) bounced back to defeat International Paint (0-3) 12-9. Inclement weather cancelled action in the Monday "A" League last week.

For Pete's Sake and Suppa's Bar are tied for first place after three weeks of play in the Belleville Recreation Men's Softball League

Monday "A" Division. For Pete's Sake improved to 3-0 last week after beating Printing Techniques 17-6 and Joe's Alignment 11-6. Suppa's Bar (3-0) defeated J & R Insulation and Printing Techniques (1-2), 7-5 and 16-8, respectively. Other Monday results were: J & R Insulation (1-2) defeating DeWitt Savings (0-3) by a 15-11 count, and Joe's Alignment (1-2) shutting out DeWitt Savings 13-0.

In the third week of Tuesday "B" League action, Suburban Cablevision (3-0) bounced back in eight innings to decision Silver Lake Auto Service (1-2) by a 6-5 mark. Roselli's Amoco (2-1) bested Kasey's (1-2) 10-5, and Belleville Shoes (2-1) rallied past Belleville Political and Social Club (0-3) 16-4.

After two weeks of play, Michael's Roscommon House (2-0) stands atop the Wednesday "A" League standings by virtue of their 8-7 victory over Megaro Memorial Home (0-2). Rosmore/Hess (1-1) edged Charles Daniels (1-1) 3-2, and Burger King (1-1) handed DeBacco Brothers their first loss 12-11.

Eastern Sales and DeLorenzo Construction are both 2-0 in Thursday "B" League play after they defeated Garden State Pet 6-3 and Red Shingle 10-3, respectively. Campbell Tools (1-1) set back International Paint (0-2) by a 12-5 margin. Garden State Pet is now 1-1. Red Shingle falls to 0-2.

Opening day results are in from the Thursday "B" League of the Belleville Recreation Men's Softball circuit. Eastern Sales edged Red Shingle 6-5, Garden State Pet defeated International Paint 11-7, and DeLorenzo Construction rallied past Campbell Tools 7-2.

In the first round of Monday "A" League action, Printing Techniques slid past Joe's Alignment 6-5, Suppa's Bar topped DeWitt Savings 13-0.

Crew Squad Heads To National Contest

Stotes. "Our girls caught a tremendous crab in the early stages of the race. She completely lost the oar and a second girl had to help her retrieve it. By this time, we were in sixth place, one length out."

However, as Giuffrida pointed out, his team was not about to quit. "They gave it a gallant effort. They made some move. We passed two boats on the comeback and came within six seconds of reaching the finals. It was quite a comeback."

Despite the girls' heroics, there wasn't much joy on the dock following the race. "The team was shattered, the coaches were shattered," grimaced Giuffrida. "The loss made our girls even more determined. They asked for a practice last Sunday in preparation for the Nationals. It was a good practice, they're hurting inside because of the loss, but they rowed very well in practice and will be ready to go for the Nationals."

The day wasn't a total loss, however. The freshmen boat ended its fantastic season with a strong third place showing. "I think we were the smallest team there," said Giuffrida. "We finished six seconds out of first to St. Joseph's of Philadelphia. It was a good race and a great year for the freshman boat."

5, and For Pete's Sake came back to stop J & R Insulation 8-6.

In the second week of Tuesday "B" League play, Suburban Cablevision (2-0) moved into first place by outlasting Belleville Shoes 13-11, Roselli's Amoco (1-1) beat Silver Lake Auto Service (1-1) by a score of 15-6, and Kasey's (1-1) won a 9-5 decision from Belleville Political and Social Club (0-2).

Rec Cheerleaders Complete Another Successful Year

The Belleville Recreation Department cheerleaders have finished another successful season, under the direction of Marianne Gomulinsky, Runda Esquillo and Marybeth Del Tufo. The season started in October and finished in April, with a show for the girls' relatives and friends.

The girls were taught football and basketball cheers and chants as well as basic acrobatics. The show, presented by these girls, aged 5-12, reflected their hard work and dedication throughout the year.

The directors would like to extend their thanks and congratulations to the following girls who participated in the show: Kristen Caputo, Donna Conklin, Jennifer Kastner, Jennifer Lorig, Laura Nenninger, Cynthia Oese, Darlene O'Hara, Jennifer Pettigrew, Ginny Rajanes, Elizabeth Ramirez, Renee Schmidt, Tracy Smith, Wendy Smith, Kerri Spatcher, Mellanie Spillane, Suzanne Spirook, Patty Taylor, Jennifer Tower and Crista Trippodi. They would also like to thank School 3 custodian, Morris, for all his help and cooperation during the year.

Recreation Department Presents Awards to Rec Wrestling Squad

On Tuesday, April 26, the first Belleville Recreation wrestling awards assembly was held for the team members and their families, at Belleville High School. The gathering was organized by wrestling coach Joe Nisoviccia and sponsored by the Belleville Wrestling Parents and Friends Association.

After each wrestler was presented with a certificate of recognition and 11 trophies were presented for individual honors, the wrestlers were treated to a dinner of pizza and soda.

The 1983, 17-member recreation wrestling team under the guidance of coaches Nisoviccia and Lou Riccardi ended their season with a record of 8-3.

Coach Nisoviccia comments, "We had a relatively successful season, defeating many of the teams who had defeated us the previous year. Our three losses, which had very close scores were against the top three ranked schools in the league."

"Our wrestlers improved tremendously during the season in all aspects of the sport and I'm sure we should see from them many more fine accomplishments in the future."

This year the Belleville grapplers captured a fourth place finish in the very competitive Essex County Wrestling League Tournament which will be held in Belleville next year. They also captured a very impressive third place finish in the Kearny Invitational Wrestling Tournament.

Coach Nisoviccia adds, "This year many of our wrestlers lost very close matches, especially in the tournaments. It mainly seems to be a matter of time on the mat. Many of the opposing wrestlers have just been wrestling more years than our wrestlers."

"As for the Kearny Tournament, I was very impressed with our wrestlers. They skillfully out performed many of their opponents and the team finished in third place. This I feel was a great accomplishment considering we went into the four divisions tournament with only one division and still managed to finish in the top three."

This year Belleville also had two individuals qualify to wrestle in the Essex-Union Championship bout March 3. Both wrestlers, Joe Perna and Armando Nardone, lost close matches to their Union opponents. Al Best also qualified as a replacement because of injury.

Armando Nardone, a 112-pound seventh grader with a 16-0 record was, for his skillful performance, presented with the outstanding wrestler award.

Joe Perna, a 60-pound eighth grader with a record of 11-4, was chosen by the coaches to be the recipient of the 1983 Wrestling Coaches Award. This was for his great dedication, effort and sportsmanship.

Joe Cerreto, a 75-pound seventh grader (11-3) and Mike Kraus, an 85-pound eighth grader (12-2), both received a Buccaneer award for their excellent wrestling performances and accomplishments.

Eric Nazzola, a 100-pound eighth grader with a record of 7-9, received the most improved wrestler award for his extensive learning of skills during this year's wrestling season.

St. Peter's Team Is Going Strong

In a spectacular pitching dual, St. Peter's Pirates defeated St. Lucy's of Newark by a score of 2-0.

Jimmy Dunphy carried a no-hitter into the bottom of the seventh inning. A routine pop up was misjudged and dropped in between the second baseman and rightfielder for a cheap single. Dunphy finished with a one-hitter and struck out 13 batters, picking up his second victory. Catcher, Jose Santiago and shortstop, Gerard Salernitano successfully caught men stealing at second three times. First baseman, Bob Willis and Gerard Salernitano were successful in nailing two base runners in a run down, while Dunphy picked two base runners off at first base.

The St. Peter's Pirates softball team opened the season last Saturday with a tough loss to Nutley, 20-12. The girls were off to a slow start but exploded for 10 runs in the seventh inning as 15 Pirates came to the plate and turned the game into a real thriller.

Susan Scofi and Edie Rodriguez had two hits for St. Peter's. The St. Peter's Pirates intramural track team, grades 1-4 meet every Tuesday and Thursday in Branch Brook Park. This past Tuesday the following students won their races: Chris DiModica, grade 4; Michael Guzman, grade 2; Vincent Vacca, grade 3; Eric Esoy, grade 4; Cherylyn Esoy, grade 2; Johanna Santos, grade 2; Rose Guzman, grade 4; Meghan Burbank, grade 3 and Laurie Jacquin, grade 2. Fifty-five students are involved in this intramural program.

Fuccello Sees Promise In Future Track Teams

Working with a very young and inexperienced squad, head track Karen Fuccello and her squad endured a 1-10 season, however it was a campaign that Fuccello feels will help her squad in the next three years.

"We had nine people letter this season," said Fuccello, "which is pretty good considering we had a small squad with a lot of inexperienced athletes."

Fuccello went on to explain that her athletes had to have a certain amount of versatility in order to fill the different events. "We called on our athletes to fill different roles. We enlisted our talented people to do a lot of things."

One such example was junior Patty Bliss. The three-year letterwoman could be found running the 800 meters, the 1600 meters, the 3200 meters and even the anchor leg of the mile relay. She scored 74 points and ran her finest race of the season in the season finale. Her time of 5:54 in the 1600 meters was her personal best in that event.

Junior Faith Adams, in her first season of track, did a good job in the 400 meters and long jump. "Faith was sick for a few of the meets," said Fuccello. "Without her in the lineup, we were down 12 points per meet. She was very valuable to us and has a world of potential."

Senior Alison Burden was a durable athlete who did a solid job in a number of running events. Sophomore Sheri Di Piro earned a varsity letter while freshman Darcel Jackson did a super job in the 800 meters and long jump.

Sophomore Ursula Maassmann had a very good season in throwing the shot and discus. "Most of the time, Ursula came in first or second in her events," praised Fuccello. "A lot of credit has to go to (Karen) coach Portuese. She worked with Ursula and helped her a lot with technique. About the only thing she really has to work at is her foot speed."

Fuccello feels that Maassmann will soon break all the school records in the throwing events.

Freshman Tammy Mc Queen is another of those athletes with a world of potential. She did a nice job in the weight events and will be a tough competitor for the next three years.

Senior Sue Yampol also participated in the field events, earning her second varsity letter. Freshman Doreen Senti and Anna Turano did a nice job in the hurdling events. Senti competed in the 100-meter hurdles and 200-yard dash, while Turano could be found at the 400-meter hurdles and long jump.

"Both girls worked very hard," said Fuccello. "They both took part in the indoor track program and were in good shape for outdoors."

Victory Over Kennedy Ups Golf Team Record

Clifton. "It's always good to beat a team from the conference though. The guys have been playing well the last few weeks and with the tournaments coming up, this couldn't be a better time."

Apple, a junior, fired a 41 over nine holes while senior Pontrella hit for an unusually high 42 over the same course. Pontrella has been averaging a 38 over a nine-hole course, but as Colucci once said, "golf is a funny game. One day, you can be on top of the world and the next day, nothing goes right."

The final count read 187-220 as freshman Brian De Furia and sophomore Greg Simone closed out the scoring. "Simone has really improved," praised Colucci. "He's out there every day. Even on the weekends, when we're not practicing as a team, he's out there playing on his own. Right now, he's the number three player on the team behind Apple and Pontrella."

The matches with Bloomfield and Clifton were to be a big test for the Bucs. "Realistically, I'm hoping for a split on the afternoon," Colucci said. "Bloomfield is loaded, they beat us earlier in the season and have a solid club. Clifton is also tough, they have a few blue chippers. This isn't to say that we can't beat these teams, it's just to say that we'll need a top notch effort to do so."

The NNJIL tournament, which was slated for this afternoon, matched the top two players from each team in the conference. Belleville's entries, naturally, are Pontrella and Apple.

On May 31, the Bucs will travel to the Essex County championships at Maplewood Country Club. There, each team will bring their top four players. "Apple and Pontrella will definitely go," said Colucci. "After that, it's anybody's guess. We have four players vying for two spots."

The four players are De Furia, Simone, Fred Widiken and Brian Cook. "It will be tough to decide among those four," the coach said. "We'll get a good idea from this week's matches."

Colucci expects a tough tournament. Essex County has some of the best golf schools in the area and the coach expects some very tough competition. "I can name you seven teams right off the bat who have a chance," Colucci said. "The teams are much stronger than in 1981 (the year Belleville finished second in the tourney to West Essex). Verona, West Essex, Nutley, Livingston, Bloomfield, Caldwell and ourselves all have a good shot at it. It's going to be a tough tournament."

Residents Protest Handling Of Main St. Chemical Scare

2:05 p.m. police evacuated School 9, several nearby homes, and area businesses including the post office and the Nabisco Co. Approval for residents to return home came about 10 p.m.

Elaborating on this story, Zinna told the crowd, "We sought the help of federal and state agencies right away." He noted that the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection "had been reluctant to help there in the past." Zinna said the DEP said Friday they were unable to offer assistance when the 55-gallon drum of benzyl chloride was detected. "DEP said the problem was too big, so the township hired Clean Industries (CI)." The agency, however, agreed late Monday to step in.

Zinna said a team of CI experts were keeping watch on the site as they worked all weekend to inventory and label all the drums at the facility which number between 250 and 350.

On Saturday, the process was interrupted when the nitric acid leak was discovered and again on Monday by the still unidentified leak. In each case, CI overpacked the drums and sealed the containers.

Zinna told protestors, "There's nothing we'd like better than to pile everything in a van and get it all out of town, but experts say these substances must be handled correctly. To do that, they must first be tested and labeled."

All the overpacking was to be completed by Monday night and no further leaks were expected. The inventory process should be completed by the end of this week, Zinna said, assuring the crowd they were safe in the neighborhood during this activity until disposal can be arranged.

The attorney said the entire incident may cost Belleville an estimated $50,000. "We're trying to get federal help there from EPA (Environmental Protection Agency)."

The weekend incident is evidently the culmination of a longer problem. In fact, the township obtained a court injunction on May 13 to close operation of Organic-Inorganic and to take control of assets.

"There was a problem in the plant brought to the township's attention by an internal source which I can't reveal," said Zinna who added an investigation of that is under way by the Essex County Prosecutor's office.

Referring to certain chemicals found on the premises, not commonly used in the food-flavoring manufacture, Zinna said, "It seems there were violations in there."

In connection with the matter, the firm's head chemist was arrested May 13 and charged with soliciting another person to unlawfully release a harmful substance, acetone. The Herald-News reported Saturday. The chemist, 37-year-old Muhammad Aslam of Jersey City, was reportedly released on $10,000 bail.

Area residents said they often saw DEP investigators on the site in the past, evidently as a result of continued complaints about fumes and other irritations, but never heard of actions against the company.

Despite assurances of safety now, citizens were outraged that their earlier complaints went unheeded by local officials and that when matters came to a head last weekend, no one would talk to them.

"I called Town Hall and the Health Department and nobody would tell me anything," said one woman. "What's going on here? We live down there. We have children there. We want answers."

Citizens expressed outrage that in the wake of this incident, Mayor Michael Marotti went on vacation and is not expected back until tomorrow.

Other officials are keeping a low profile and directly comment through their attorney, Zinna.

"I want to say that I will not send my kid to that school. I'll have him taught at home," said Greg Noon, the father of a School 9 student and a prospective kindergartener.

His wife Alice described the burning eyes and rashes suffered by her son and other schoolchildren.

Mary Ann McCrea said, "My son has had a cough since Christmas and the doctor can't cure it."

Other residents complained of nausea, constant headaches, and skin bumps.

One parent said his children had been instructed by school personnel not to drink from the facility's water fountains an entire week prior to the Friday shutdown.

School officials denied knowledge of that. Parents also claimed several teachers confirmed the atmospheric problems in the area but did not attend the meeting to speak publicly.

The School Board and parents planned a special meeting for May 25 at the complex to discuss further actions.

Diamondmen Finishing Season; Looking Foward to Next Year

of many games. It's just that when a team is young and lacks varsity experience, they will make mistakes in tight ball games. Now, that they have a full year of experience under their belts, they should be much stronger next season."

Indeed, the Bucs have lost some tough games. Belleville has lost seven ball games by one run. They dropped two more by two runs. All tolled, that's nine games lost by a grand total of 11 runs. A key hit there, and a big out here, and this club could easily be 16-6 right now.

Anyhow, the team battled Eastside and lost to the Ghosts by a one-run margin for the second time this year. In the game, Belleville jumped out to a 4-0 lead after two innings, but the tough Eastside bats got to pitcher Mark Richardella, sending the senior to the showers after 4-1/3 innings. Sophomore Tom Reid came in and did a good job over five innings, holding Eastside to two runs.

The problem was, Belleville couldn't hit the ball after the second inning. Eastside's starting pitcher proved to be no match for the Belleville bats and the Ghosts went to a left-handed pitcher was shut the Bucs out over the last seven innings. "I think we got two hits the rest of the way," said La Conte. "That kid really shut the door."

The Belleville hitting parade which put the six runs on the board was led by senior Lenny Russo (three-for-five, two triples) and junior Frank Tursi who went two-for-four. "Russo's bat is really coming around," said La Conte. "He's hitting the ball very well and was very good in the field."

Eastside rallied from a 6-3 deficit, scoring twice in the fifth and once in the seventh inning to tie matters at six and send the game into extra innings. Reid did a nice job for the Bucs, getting out of some tough jams, before walking home the winning run in the 10th inning. "Tommy pitched very well," praised La Conte. "His control was good and he kept the batters off stride. We just couldn't give him any help on the offensive end."

Against Secaucus, the Bucs rallied with two runs in the last of the seventh to win a big game, 3-2. Secaucus came in with a 13-4 record, but Belleville, which is 4-4 outside the NNJIL, was not about to be in awe.

After falling behind, 2-0, Belleville scored one run in the fifth, when Robbie Cancelliere tripled and came in on a ground out by Anthony Lombardi. In the seventh inning, the Bucs put the winning runs on the board when Sean Sternik walked and advanced to second when John Guarino walked. Cancelliere was intentionally passed to load the bases. Enter Mr. Lombardi, a .350 hitter, who smacked a hard double to score the winning runs and send the Bucs home with a big win.

"I'm very happy with the play of Joe Borrello at shortstop," said La Conte. "He's really settled down and his bat is also coming around."

Borrello has improved his average from .115 in April to a solid .270 coming down the stretch. Like most of the starters in the Buc lineup, he will be back next spring, giving hope that the Belleville baseball program is indeed coming back.

Suburban Girls Continue On the Winning Trail

The Belleville Buccanettes of the suburban softball league continued their winning ways by defeating Nutley 28-6. It was the fourth win in a row for the girls. Again, as in the Summit game, a total team effort accounted for the victory on offense, while on defense, Laura Caruso picked up her fifth win of the season in holding Nutley to four hits. Samantha Russomanno also played well on defense.

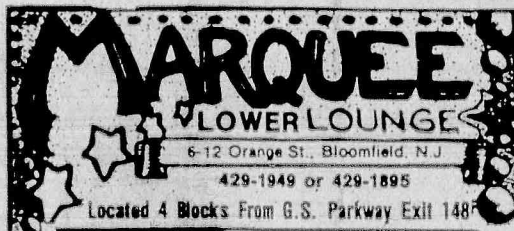

Last Saturday, the Belleville girls defeated Springfield by the score of 18-1 to close out a very successful homestand. The girls struck quickly for six runs in the first inning with Samantha Russomanno and Cindi Ruggiero delivering RBI singles. Laura Caruso went 3-for-4 with four RBIs to lead the team offensively and also pitched a one-hitter to go along with 10 strikeouts on defense.

As of this writing, the team has a 6-1 record and is believed to be tied for first place in its division. On Wednesday night, the team was back on the road for a game against Livingston and on Saturday the girls will travel to Florham Park for a 10 a.m. game. Next Tuesday, they return home to meet division-rival Caldwell in what should shape up to be an exciting game.
