Funding Appropriated For Chemical Clean up

By Linda Telesco

To handle the toxic clean up in the Valley District, Commissioners last Tuesday approved an emergency appropriations bill of $250,000 to fund the cleanup of the Organic-Inorganic Research Company at 507 Main St., the site of recent toxic leaks.

In a related move, Commissioners formally entered into an agreement with Peabody Clean Industries of Linden, the private chemical firm that has been handling on-site tests and clean up since the first leak on May 20.

According to township attorney Frank Zinna, the appropriated sum may be an overestimate. "We don't know what the final cost will be, but this figure should get us outside the analysis and up to the disposal stage," he said.

Presently, chemists from CI are in the process of doing compatibility groupings of some 1,000 containers in the facility which was closed by court order since May 18.

According to Zinna, experts cautioned against removing any of the drums from the site until contents were determined so method of transportation would be safe.

The chemists, he said, are not identifying individual contents of each container but have completed characteristic testing on 700-800 drums and are now grouping the drums with compatible qualities, such as acidity or flashpoint (temperature at which the substance ignites).

"The grouping will facilitate bulk disposal of the material," Zinna explained, adding that compatibility may be completed by next week.

The attorney said $65,000 has been expended as of last Tuesday's invoices, and he estimated Monday another $35,000 may have accrued in addition to the $10,000-$15,000 Belleville may owe to the backup testing teams.

Zinna told Commissioners that agreement with CI does not bind them to that agency for disposal if another means proves more economical.

In seeking reimbursement for its emergency expenses, the township has three possibilities, Zinna said, naming the state Department of Environmental spillfund, the federal Environmental Protection Agency's superfund, or special state legislation presently introduced by State Senate President Carmen Orechio, also mayor of neighboring Nutley.

"Don't count on any of the agencies," said Mayor Michael Marotti, expressing disillusionment over the lack of support Belleville received from both DEP and EPA early in their crisis.

Zinna suggested the township might realize some revenues, if it could sell some of the chemicals on the site. Belleville presently has control of all the firm's holdings under the court order permitting them to close the operation last month, only two days before the first toxic leak of benzyl chloride sent a terror through the surrounding community.

Newly-elected Commissioner Joseph Grande suggested as future protection for Belleville, all chemical plants in the municipality put up a half-million dollar performance bond to cover costs of such an unforeseen accident. "We want to make sure this never happens again," said Grande. Zinna agreed to study the matter further.

Legal

Belleville last Monday won an extension of its court order to keep the Main Street chemical company closed. Newark Superior Court Judge Reginald Stanton rescheduled to June 14 the hearing scheduled for last Monday where company owner Marianne Pratter must show cause why the May 18 court order closing her firm should not be continued.

According to Zinna, the township closed the site May 18 after noting numerous violations there. Belleville seized control of the company's books and assets, but Judge Stanton ruled that Pratter's attorneys may have access to those for purposes of the hearing.

Zinna noted, however, the township may supervise them at such

Township Ordered To Rebid Garbage Contract in 30 Days

Belleville recently lost its appeal of a Superior Court decision that voided the present municipal scavenger contract. The township was also ordered — in the new development — to re-advertise for new bids within 30 days.

However, assistant township attorney Frank Cozzarelli, who has represented Belleville in the seven-month old matter, said Tuesday afternoon, he plans to seek a stay of that order and take the matter to the New Jersey Supreme Court.

According to Cozzarelli, a judicial panel of the Appellate Division last week upheld a March opinion written by Newark Superior Court Judge Richard Newman, who voided Belleville's five-year $2,778,992 contract with Browning-Ferris Waste Industries, Inc. (BFI) of Fairfield.

The appellate panel — Judge Herman Michels sitting in Newark, and Hackensack Judges Sylvia Presler and Theodore Trautwein — upheld Newman's nullifying decision on grounds that BFI failed, at the time of original bidding Dec. 14, to submit an affidavit of non-collusion and a financial statement for the North Jersey subsidiary of the national firm.

Contending those omissions were "immaterial and curable," and corrected prior to the Dec. 28 awarding of the contract, Cozzarelli said he plans to file a petition for certification to the state's highest court requesting they study the lower court's decision.

Litigation began last Dec. 31 when Belleville's former garbage collector, L. Pucillo & Sons of Belleville and Lodi, filed a complaint against the township and BFI charging improprieties in the bidding procedure.

Pucillo, which had been Belleville's scavenger for two decades when its latest contract expired last Dec. 31, was the higher of the only two bids submitted for the new contract last December.

On Dec. 28, Commissioners awarded, in a divided vote, a five-year contract to BFI effective since Jan. 1.

A first court hearing was held

Feb. 8 where Cozzarelli said BFI had submitted a financial statement for its parent company headquartered in Texas. However, he argued the appropriate North Jersey statements and the required affidavit of non-collusion were both submitted on Dec. 17, after the bids were opened but well before the award was made.

Represented by Mark Lerner of Newark, Pucillo charged there were other irregularities in the bidding procedure, but Judge Newman dismissed those although he did uphold the other charges and ordered Belleville to rebid its contract.

Cozzarelli filed an appeal and obtained a stay of the first court order. In his petition to the Supreme Court, the attorney plans to argue, "there is no New Jersey statute dealing specifically with affidavits of non-collusion."

Fighting to keep a contract that he said represents a cost savings to the taxpayers of Belleville, Cozzarelli has repeatedly attributed Pucillo's action to "sour grapes in losing a lucrative contract."

Until further decisions are made, BFI may continue to collect trash in Belleville for reimbursement on a per diem basis calculated on the current contracted rates, Cozzarelli had said.

Both BFI and Pucillo as well as other scavengers may participate in any rebidding if that should result.

BFI's attorney in the matter, Arthur Kobin of Morristown, was not available for comment Tuesday. BFI president, Thomas Lov said he was not familiar with newest decision and declined immediate comment.

Primary Election Here Sees Very Light Turnout

Someone forgot to tell voters that there was a primary held here on Tuesday.

Less than 1,500 out of more than 16,000 registered voters turnout on Tuesday to vote for both the Democratic and Republican candidates for the Senate and Assembly.

Blessed with pleasant weather, the main reason most voters stayed home was that there was no serious contest in the Democratic race for Assembly, and no contest at all in either Senate race or the Republican race for the two Assembly seats.

And out of the 1,500 estimated voters, less than 300 Republicans turned out to the polls.

Sen. Carmen Orechio led field by gathering 1,094 votes. His Democratic partners, Assemblyman Buddy Fortunato and new comer Steven Aduato Jr., gathered 1,091 and 1,061 respectively.

The only opposition in the entire primary was in the Democratic Assembly race were Ronald Taylor and Jeffrey Yopez shown little strength gathering 97 and 72 votes respectively.

On the Republican side, Senate candidate Ralph Salerno gathered 290 votes, while Assemblyman John Kelly received 280. The other Assembly candidate Frank Riepe received 275 votes.

"You will see a very active campaign starting tomorrow," said Angelo Risoli, township Republican chairman on Tuesday night. "The president is looking good and the governor is demonstrating that he cares about the problems of the people. And that should help the Senate and Assembly candidates come November."

Vincent Cozzarelli Reg. Ph.

Aspirin has been the most popular drug in the world during the past fifty years. However, its origins actually go back thousands of years. The substance known as salicin is found in certain trees, shrubs and plants. The name is derived from the Latin, "salix", which means "willow". Ancient Greeks and Romans knew of the willow tree's pain-killing properties and made willow bark brews to be used as a general analgesic. By the mid-nineteenth century, the salicylates were combined with another chemical structure from the acetyl group. The result was acetylsalicylic acid, or aspirin. When two German scientists discovered an inexpensive method for its synthetic production in the 1890's, the common aspirin era was born.

Cancer Awareness Week Starting Here on June 13

By Ed Capparucci

Cancer is a word which many Americans fear. The reason for this is that most people understand very little about the disease, or its early warning signs.

But thanks to the hard work of one young Belleville man, local residents will soon be able to educate themselves about the disease and also help in the crusade for cancer research.

Barry Dunleavy of Fairway Avenue has gotten Mayor Michael Marotti to declare the week of June 13-19 as "Cancer Awareness Week" in Belleville. During that period there will be a cancer seminar involving aspects of cancer causes, treatment and research, and also a benefit concert and softball game.

"With all the people I have seen dying from cancer over the years, I thought something had to be done to teach the public the warning signs of cancer," said Dunleavy, 26, who is a commercial banker. "There are many people who are afraid each time the word cancer is mentioned, but they know little about the disease. I want to teach the warning signs so that they can get the help they need. If the disease is caught at an early stage, then sometimes it can be cured."

Dunleavy's also has another special reason for educating people about the disease. His father, Edward, was a member of the Belleville Fire Department, who died from cancer in 1980.

The cancer awareness seminar will be held on Wednesday, June 15 at the Belleville High School auditorium starting at 7 p.m. It will feature lectures from Dr. James Orsini, on "Cancer — An overview and Breast Cancer"; Dr. Mir Mousavi, "Lung Cancer — Effects of Smoking"; Dr. Corinne Devereux, "Radiological Oncology"; a nursing representative from Clara Maass Medical Center, "Supportive Care," and Dr. Frances Abel, of Hospice Inc., "Home Care for Terminally Ill."

A live rock-and-roll concert will be held at the Belleville Knights of Columbus Hall, 98 Bridge St., on Friday, June 17, starting at 8 p.m. The music will be provided by the group Resin and tickets, available at the high school or at the door, are priced at $2.

On Sunday, June 19 starting at 1:45 p.m. a benefit softball game will take place at Clearman Field between the radio staff at WNEW-FM and the cancer clobbers, a group of local softball players. Tickets for the softball game are also available at the high school or at the field on the day of the game.

All the money collected will be donated to the Community Clinical Oncology Program for Cancer Research in our community.

"What this group can do is take cancer research out of the major hospitals in New York and bring it into the community, where the cancer is," said Dunleavy.

Donations can also be made through the mail by writing to: Cancer Awareness, P.O. Box 101, Belleville, N.J., 07109.

Local Youth Dies From Head Injuries

Sixteen-year-old Richard Schmalz died Friday, June 3, after being hospitalized for over three weeks at Clara Maass Medical Center following head injuries suffered in a fight at Hendricks Field on Franklin and Belleville avenues on April 25.

Detective Michael Luzzi gave this account of the incident. Schmalz met an acquaintance at Hendricks Field to discuss a gold chain that was the property of the acquaintance's girlfriend when a fist fight erupted.

Schmalz left the golf course on his own, but passed out a short time later and was rushed to the hospital. While being attended at the hospital, he lapsed into a coma and never regained consciousness.

The juvenile acquaintance was originally charged with aggravated assault, but that charge has been changed to homicide, police said.

Schmalz, born in Newark, October 29, 1966, was a student at Belleville High School.

The burial was Monday, June 6, at Glendale Cemetery.

Missing In Action

Thousands of local residents made a strong political statement last Sunday as the township honored the missing in action in the Vietnam War during Red Ribbon Ringer Sunday.

Coordinated by the Belleville Junior Woman's Club, nearly 4,000 residents signed post cards which were sent to President Reagan and the president of Vietnam.

Since the ending of the Vietnam War and the return of the Prisoners of War, many Americans have tried together to forget the incidents which took place in that Southeast Asia country, thousands of miles away from home.

According to Red Ribbon, Inc., an all volunteer and non-profitable organization, fighting for the release of our MIAs, there are over 2,500 American servicemen unaccounted for from the Vietnam War, which ended 10 years ago. President Reagan has also urged that families of MIAs work together to create more public awareness on the issue of the forgotten servicemen.

What the people of Belleville did last Sunday was to open the eyes of many Americans across the nation. This marked only the second time that an entire community joined together to help our MIAs and their families.

Think about how the family and love ones of our soldiers remaining in Vietnam must feel, not knowing whether their husbands, sons or fathers are alive or dead.

The Junior Woman's Club of this community, along with Mayor Michael Marotti, who proclaimed last week as "Captured American Servicemen Week in Belleville," should be congratulated for a job well done. What they have attempted to do speaks for the quality of humanity which is alive and well in Belleville.

Let us hope that their cries will be heard very soon, and that all the American soldiers who served faithfully their country in Southeast Asia is accounted for soon.

Car Inspections

Annual inspections of automobiles is a nuisance. Florida abolished the system a couple of years ago and there is no noticeable increase in accidents.

Last week, a federal judge ruled that New Jersey must return to its annual auto emission testing program, stating that an odd-even system adopted last August represents a major change in the state's strategy for controlling air pollution.

If New Jersey refused to follow the edict of United States District Court Judge, John Bissell, the possibility of economic sanctions may be used against the state.

We are all familiar with the long lines at Motor Vehicle Stations. We don't want a return to those exasperating days.

Republicans favor a plan whereby motorists have the option of car inspection at a private garage or a state station. For the convenience of garage inspection, motorists will be obliged to pay $12 — another burden the motorists will be obliged to bear.

We think a plan to spot check motorists on highways, utilizing the present inspection force, should satisfy the emissions testing program requirements.

Frank A. Orechio

Robert Schuller's Creed for Success

The dogma, doctrine, law, universal principle, non-negotiable, beyond compromise, like-gravity-itself creed for success is love.

A young boy once asked a wealthy man, "How can I become successful like you when I grow up?" The man answered that first, you've got to fall in love with yourself! Second, you've got to fall in love with people! And third, you've got to fall in love with life!

He continued, "Be thankful for whatever job you have. Be thankful for your boss. Be thankful for your fellow employees. Be the first one to arrive and the last one to leave; except for coffee breaks, then be the last one to leave and the first one to return. And wear a red shirt so you'll stand out!"

Don't be afraid to show your love. Display your gratitude. And be interested in doing a job well. If you do these things, you won't need to look for success; it will find you.

Frank A. Orechio

Readers Are Invited To Join Hiking Club

To the editor:

Now it is spring, the perfect time to enjoy the beauties of nature and to get that healthy glow that comes from exercising outside in the fresh air. Both of these pleasures and more can be obtained by taking a hike with the Interstate Hiking Club. The club conducts day-long hikes every Sunday of the year. These trips go all over the New York metropolitan area. Locations range from Island Beach State Park, the Delaware Water Gap, Staten Island, the Wyanokies, the Palisades, Harriman Interstate Park, to Mount Beacon.

Several times a year, the club carries out camping trips to the Catskills, Adirondacks or Berkshire Mountains. These trips will take you to the most beautiful and interesting spots that the club has found in over 50 years of hiking. You will see wild lakes where beaver chew down trees, high cliffs where fine views abound, dark-cold caves and old mines full of history. You will see many new places and make many new friends, who like you, love nature and the out of doors.

Hikes vary greatly in length and difficulty; from a six-mile stroll down the towpath of the Delaware and Raritan Canal, to a 14-mile climb over Schunemunk. You may come out only on those hikes that match your abilities. The Interstate Hiking Club is open to all adults 18 years of age or older.

Families with teenage children are also welcome.

Visitors' fees are one dollar a person and membership costs only five dollars a year.

For additional information call 785-1865 or write to: Secretary, Interstate Hiking Club, 29 Donato Drive, Cedar Grove, N.J. 07009.

Very truly yours,

Not Enough Parks Here

To the editor:

As the mother of a School 8 child, I truly resent your comments in the May 26, 1983 edition of The Belleville Times. The "youngsters" you speak of are in fact 20-30-year-old adolescents who really can't find anything constructive to do.

Do you realize that the children in Belleville do not have a decent park with usable swings and miscellaneous equipment? My children and I must go to adjoining towns to enjoy their parks. I find this truly disgusting, don't you?

Respectfully,

Louise Gabriele

Free Car Wash Available To All Local Residents

To the editor:

Keeping America clean is one of the goals of the car wash industry and as an expression of good will, we would like to give a free car wash to all residents of this community on Thursday, June 30.

This is our way, on the occasion of the Fourth of July, of celebrating Happy Birthday America/National Carwash Day. It also gives us an opportunity to remind every one that car washing is a part of car care, and that God has blessed America.

We invite all our fellow citizens to be our guests on June 30th.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Tuesday, May 17 was a pleasant spring day. The matutinal sun broke early in the eastern azure sky as a welcome contrast to the somber rainy weekend. The harsh morning chill moderated by mid-day to render a propitious panoply for the inaugural ceremonies of the new township governmental administration scheduled for high-noon at town hall.

By 11:30 a.m. a gaggle of friends, supporters, well-wishers and the curious started to gather in the downstairs corridor of the venerable citadel of Belleville's political power structure that holds so many stark memories of the turbulent past.

The old time veterans of such events, either as participants or observers, made their way upstairs early to the Commission Chambers where seating facilities are limited on such occasions because several rows of seats are reserved for families and relatives of the Commissioners.

All the seats were occupied quickly as those using the middle aisle had to brush past a TV camera and operator who would tape the ceremonies for later cable viewers. Shortly before the Chamber clock's minute hand crept toward the noon hour the overflow crowd filled the room while late comers swelled the hall and stairs.

At precisely 12 noon the three re-elected Commissioners Marotti, McGreevy and Pica and the two newly elected members of the board, Grande and Pizzi took stations in a standing position behind the newly arranged seating pattern which places Mayor Marotti in the center of the quintet, flanked on his left by Commissioners McGreevy and Grande and on his right by Commissioners Pica and Pizzi in that order. Those in the audience stood and applauded their approval.

Local Magistrate Abromson swore in the commissioners and town attorney Frank Zinna in impressive ceremonies. Routine resolutions assigning departments and designating duties with the presentation of Certificates of Election and the presentation of the gavel of authority to the Mayor by Judge Abromson, accompanied by amusing banter that evoked smiles from the audience, climaxed the happy occasion that was sparked by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, Invocation, Prayer for Guidance and Benediction by local members of the Cloth.

Dignitaries in the audience were introduced, among them Senate President Carmen Orechio, Assemblyman John Kelly and Publisher Frank A. Orechio, also members of the commissioners' families.

Sitting obscurely among the audience, we perceived many old familiar faces dating back to the era of Bill William's reign as mayor of Belleville, people who played an active role in local politics since those pre-WW II days. Sadly we observed, with sentimental nostalgia, that the devastating hands of time had exacted its inexorable toll upon us so many of us...hair thinned and grey, wrinkled and a little wizened with age; little more, now, than faded memories of a past era that lingers faintly in the memorabilia of Belleville's political past. We saluted a new generation of inspired leaders eager to correct and improve upon the mistakes and pitfalls of the past administrations.

As the ceremonies ended and the people filed from the Chambers, some to linger in the downstairs corridor to exchange courtesies with old acquaintances while others scurried to attend parties of the inducted commissioners, we left with our editor, Ed Capparucci, who stopped to buy a fishing license. We walked home recalling an old Princeton University song, heard at commencements, entitled "Going Back To Nassau Hall" and in retrospection of its theme it sort of explained much of life's inevitable vicissitudes.

It goes, "Our sons shall give, while they shall live, three cheers for Old Nassau Hall, and when these walls in dust are lain, with vengeance and with awe, another throng shall breathe our song, in praise of Old Nassau Hall," (girls now attend Princeton University).

With a lucidity, difficult to find in words, the continuity of government is well defined in the words of this song...each succeeding generation provides the leaders to supplant their predecessors.

The confidence of the voters in their selection of our commissioners should produce an effective and capable board. Mayor Marotti's experienced and persuasive leadership should preserve harmony and effectuate efficient local government; The cooperative response of the new commissioners along with the re-elected members should produce a successful administration.

The changing of the commission meetings to the first and third Monday's of the month will facilitate the paying of tax and water bills on meeting nights, while enabling news of the meeting to be covered in The Belleville Times the same week of the meetings.

A List of Questions

By Ed Capparucci

Since this situation involving leaking drums of chemicals occurred in the Valley almost a month ago, there have been a series of questions asked by both the public and the media. And since town officials have been very quiet, due to an investigation by the Essex County Prosecutor's office, very few answers have been given.

So since we do not have the answers, we will just publish the questions. Perhaps once the questions are in print then the public will receive the answers they are entitled to.

* If the dictionary definition of the word "toxic" is poisonous, and the chemicals in question have been consistently referred to as "toxic chemicals," how is it possible that none pose any danger to the health of the people in the Valley?

* If none of the toxic chemicals at the location in question are in any way harmful to the health of the people in the Valley, did the 99 percent of the 234 who were interviewed and complained of skin rashes, nausea, and respiratory irritation, just imagining it all?

* Does the Township of Belleville have a building code ordinance requiring periodic (at least annually) inspections of commercial and/or industrial properties by the construction code official? If so, were the inspections made? By whom? When? And what do the inspection reports say?

* Does the township have a fire inspection ordinance requiring periodic (at least annually) inspections of commercial and/or industrial properties by a fire inspector, who as a part of his firefighting training would be trained to recognize dangerous, explosive or volatile chemicals? If so, were the inspections made? By whom? When? And what do the inspection reports say?

* What do Belleville police tapes of call-in-complaints indicate as the date of the first complaint about the location in question? What action or actions were taken?

* What do Belleville Health Department records indicate as a date of the first and subsequent complaints about the location in question? What action or actions were taken on each occasion?

* Not that we doubt the indications of any experts, whatever their field of expertise, but is there another company out there that makes food coloring, food additives and fragrances that will tell the public if low-level radioactive materials, benzylchloride, acetone, nitric-acid or mustard gas are chemicals used in their businesses?

* If all the chemicals found at the location in question were in fact used in the process of making food coloring, food additives and fragrances, why would it be necessary to put them in drums which are labeled as containing different chemicals?

* Is it not obvious that the quantity of chemicals found at the location did not appear there overnight?

* Is it not equally obvious that one or more persons in positions of responsibility had to be either looking the other way or just plain incompetent?

* How did 200 barrels, which was the number given to the public on May 20, increase to 400, then 600 and now over 1,000? Is it that someone just cannot count?

* Why was the $50,000 figure given as the cost to the township to have the outside company come in to analyze, re-pack and remove the chemicals, when officials announced last week that they signed a contract with the Clean Company at a cost of $7,500 per day?

* The Organic-Inorganic Company once had most of its chemicals cleaned out back in 1980 due to violations. Since officials knew the plant was a potential trouble spot, were inspections carried out regularly. According to township officials the DEP was responsible for keeping on eye on the building, but isn't it the township's responsibility to make sure the DEP does what it is must to protect the residents of this community?

* And finally, let's take a hypothetical situation. Let's say someone in a business that uses chemicals realizes that in a state like New Jersey — which has a high concentration of chemical companies — there is a need for a place to dispose of toxic and volatile chemicals "without" going through the red tape and extremely high cost of legal disposal. Let's say they circulate the word around to the chemical companies in the state that they will handle all their chemicals waste for a price. A price that varies with the toxicity and volatility of the chemical. As an example, legal disposal of a chemical like trichlorethylene cost one chemical company about $95 per barrel. Let's say the illegal disposal price was half that amount. Then the illegal disposal of say 1,000 barrels would be worth over $900,000 to the person or persons receiving the chemical waste. Let's say it would obviously be necessary to put these chemicals wastes in barrels with different chemical labels on them in an attempt to cover the accumulation. Sooner or later, they run out of space and have to start dumping the barrels to make room for more chemical waste. So where do you dump it, perhaps in the sewerage system leading to a river?

*****
This week the parents and teachers at School 8 are upset with me for the comment I made last week about "Youngsters messing up Clearman Field." When I said youngsters, I meant 12 to 15 year olds, not toddlers. Immediately parents started screaming, "It's not my kids." Well maybe not, but it's somebody's kids, and someone should do something about it. There is glass all over the field, and someday someone is going to get seriously hurt, and if it is a member of my girls' softball team, then you will really see a very upset fellow. And I can be nasty when I get upset.

*****
Steve Frank, who writes a very interesting and informative article each week in The Times called "Heard at Ringside," was presented with a certificate of recognition by the public safety department for his excellent reporting of township events. Mr. Frank also writes court news and covers police information. He was instrumental in the coverage given to the fingerprinting program here and also the school safety program. Matthew Pica, director of Public Safety, calls him an asset to the community and I could not agree with the commissioner more.

When I wrote my little note about my girls' softball team two weeks ago, I left out the name of a person who has played a major part in the building of the squad for the past two years, Bill Colonna.

Billy serves a coach and is a true asset to the squad, teaching the girls many of the finer points of the game. I consider myself lucky to work with someone like him, he is dependable and his heart is in the game. My wife and his fiancée cannot stand it when Bill and I get together, because all we do is talk softball. But after the season is over we will take the girls out for a nice dinner and we'll promise not to talk about softball, at least for most of the evening.

Nutley Squad To Celebrate Thirty Years

The Nutley Volunteer Emergency and Rescue Squad will observe its 30th anniversary June 12 with a parade and large celebration.

The parade will step off at the intersection of Harrison Street and Franklin Avenue at 1 p.m. Marchers will travel north on Franklin Avenue to Kingsland Avenue where they will proceed west to the Hoffmann-LaRoche parking lot across from Cathedral Avenue.

A first edition blue strobe light mug with its own numbered permit is now available for purchase. Interested persons may call the squad at 667-7487.

The organization started in 1953 with a handful of people dedicated to helping their neighbors with ambulance services.

Suppertime Talks — Donne

"Wilt thou forgive that sin where I begun,
Which is my sin, though it were done before?
Wilt thou forgive those sins, through which I run,
And do run still: though I do deplore?"

Those are the opening lines of one of the greatest religious poems ever written. Notice the conversational tone. The candor. And John Donne continues:

"Wilt thou forgive that sin by which I have won
Others to sin? and, made my sin their door?
Wilt thou forgive that sin which I did shun
A year, or two: but wallowed in, a score?"

His early poems were as revolutionary to his age as, say, T.S. Eliot's were to the generation before mine, as revolutionary, to be sure, as Allen Ginsburg's "Howl" of our days. Yet, after moving into the embrace of the Anglican Church and mostly out of the arms of women, he wrote poems of spiritual intensity, perhaps unequalled by any writer. And, even now, his sermons can be read in fear and in trembling and in love of Christ as few I have ever read.

Yes, of all the men who preached, John Donne in the early 1600s is the preacher I would want most to have heard. Luther thundering on the Rhine, Calvin terrifying in Geneva, Savaranaola scourging the evil Florence, Johnathan Edwards disturbing the Colonial New England farmers, and, well, an unknown clergyman (out of the millions of them) who moved the common man throughout the ages — I would love to have heard them. But John Donne, above all. He spoke at St. Paul's in London in the evening, Nov. 23, 1628:

"He that oppress the poor, digs in a dunghill for worms; and he departs from the posture, which God, in nature gave him! That is, ERECT, to look upward. For his eye is always down, upon them, THAT LIE IN THE DUST, under his feet. Certainly, he that sears up himself, and makes himself insensible of the cries, and curses of the poor here in this world, does but prepare himself for the howlings and gnashing of teeth in the world to come... HE THAT OPPRESSES THE POOR, REPROACHES HIS MAKER."

John Donne, running around London with Ben Johnson and sleeping with every woman available, could write earlier than his conversion:

"As the sweet sweat rose in a still,
As that which from chafed muskats pores doth trill,
As the almighty balme of the early East,
Such are the sweat drops of my Mistress breast,
And on her brow her skin such luster set,

They seem no sweat drops, but pearly coronets."

Reading Donne's purely human poems and his nasty satires and his complex elegies are almost too much for our modern insensitive minds. He could write (and if you shock easily skip the following lines) in "To His Mistress Going to Bed":

"Licence my roving hands, and let them go,
Before, behind, between, above, below,
O my America? my new-found-land,
My kingdom safest when with one man manned..."

Yet enough of such passion for eyes tainted with the electronics that has entered our bedroom. In those days, men and women needed no vicarious passion. They touched one another.

Local Police Officer Hurt in Car Accident

Belleville Police officer Frank Parrillo was taken to Clara Maass Medical Center, after his car was involved in a collision at the intersection of Division and Union Avenues.

Parrillo was traveling south on Union Avenue answering a call, when he was struck by a 1969 Pontiac Grand Prix driven by John Bocchino.

Parrillo was taken to the hospital complaining about back pains. The passengers in the other car were not injured.

Four women were injured during a car accident at Main and Rutgers Streets.

Antoinette Cataldo and three other passengers in her car were injured when the car she was driving was struck by a truck driven by Rudolph Kerziac of Bloomfield. Kerziac stated he had the yellow light when his vehicle struck Cataldo's car.

A Jersey City man was arrested for drunk driving after the car he was driving struck a signal box on the northeast corner of Washington and Overlook Avenues.

Ferdinans Danizik, 31, was charged while driving under the influence of alcohol and held on $250 bail. He was later released.

A New York woman was given summons for not having a drivers license or registration in her possession, following an accident at Mill Street and Washington Avenue.

Nancy Vitello of the Bronx was sitting at a red light at the intersection when she was struck by a van driven by a Newark man Celestino Lopes. Lopes said that Vitello started to make a left turn and suddenly stopped, while Vitello stated she did not have her car in motion.

Directing The Flow — Sara Tirone, a member of the Belleville Police Department, has been keeping the traffic flowing at the Rutgers Street Bridge.

Local Traffic Cop Keeps It Moving

By Linda Telesco

She is attractive enough to be a real traffic stopper, but Sara Tirone, a Belleville Police Department special officer, works hard to keep everything from Hondas to the big rigs rolling smoothly.

"I love it. This is great," said Tirone, whose present assignment is to untangle the daily snarls of traffic traversing the Rutgers Bridge which links the Valley section of the township to Kearny and North Arlington.

Always heavily traveled, the bridge has been doing double duty since last April when the state Department of Transportation (DOT) closed for repairs the nearby Avondale Bridge, connecting Nutley to Lyndhurst, and several lanes of Route 3 as well.

Serving as an alternate route, the Belleville bridge now carries a daily traffic volume which has more than doubled since April, according to Police Chief George Lister.

With DOT projecting the Avondale Bridge will take two years to complete, the Belleville traffic division plans to keep Tirone at her post until that time.

Wearing her luminous orange guard belt, the petite blonde stands at the intersection of Rutgers and Stephens streets, only blocks from the bridge entrance, and guides the lines of cars that sometimes stretch bumper to bumper up past Washington Avenue.

She eases the daily commuter crunch, working from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m. and from 4 to 6 p.m. Monday to Friday, an assignment she has held since May 9.

Previously, the police department had a regular officer at the scene, but needed the manpower for daily duty. "I knew Sara could handle the job," said Chief Lister. "I had watched her work at School 7 and had confidence in her."

A 20-year member of the BPD, Tirone began as a school crossing guard and for the past nine years served as a special officer, sometimes assisting with women prisoners or whatever special needs call for her services.

"I really love the traffic division," she said in a recent interview during an unusually slow Thursday night as she stood on the corner of her post keeping a watchful eye on passing cars.

Every so often a horn honked and the driver waved a greeting to her. "Some of them I know," said Tirone who lives on Joralemon Street. "Many of the commuters got very friendly when we saw each other on a daily basis, sometimes twice a day and they usually have a nice word for me while they wait their turn to move," she added.

Regular commuters of that route know how tense the situation gets when frustrated drivers are delayed, especially in hot weather.

"In the beginning, they were more impatient, but now most of the drivers are pretty courteous," said the guard who is credited by both commuters and officials with easing much of the original strain.

In fact, Chief Lister said his department has received five letters from Belleville, Nutley, Kearny, and North Arlington commuters complimenting Tirone's work.

Lister added, "A state DOT engineer called my office to commend her work," after an hour's observation of the guard who stands fearlessly amid blaring horns and screeching tires.

The youthful mother of a grown daughter, Tirone said some of her challenges come from drivers who ask her for dates. "I handle that one by fibbing," she laughed. "I tell them I'm married and have 10 kids."

With hot, humid summer days ahead, that kind of cool-headedness will keep commuter temperatures well below the mercury.

Local Knights Hold Awards Dinner

Knights of Columbus Council 835 participated in a family Communion supper and a Memorial Mass, which was officiated by Rev. Anthony J. Lionelli, on May 28.

Over 150 people attended a Communion supper at the St. Peter's School cafeteria. Richard Fantin served as chairman of the event.

Grand Knight Ralph Wendler and Past Grand Knight Frank Corbo made the following presentations: $1,500 to Vice President Julie Condon of Mal Condon Canteen, $3,500 to Sister Mary Ann of Camp Fatima, $500 to Pat Caparoso, director of Belleville Special Olympics Commission and $1,000 to Larry Dempsey, scoutmaster of Troop 364, Belleville Boy Scouts of America.

Joe Wolf, chairman of youth activities, presented the following with trophies and plaques: Michele Sweeney, Stacey Lynn Corris and Linda Pissotti, essay contest winners; Harry Burbank, Sean Natusch and Michele Kiernan, free throw contest winners and Sandra Valencia, spelling bee winner.

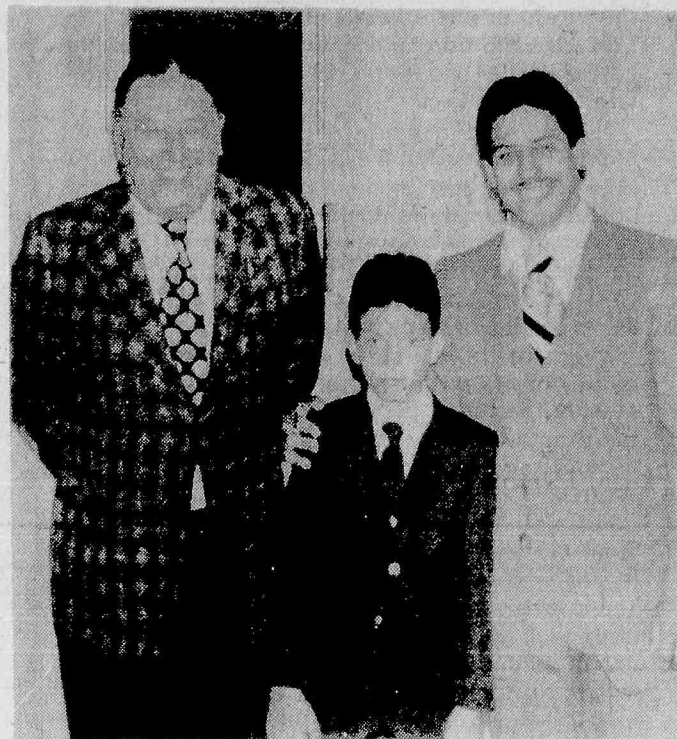

General Chairman Corbo, Past Grand Knight Tom Dillon and Grand Knight Ralph Wendler, who led the Knights in a special fund raising drive last month, inclusive to help such organizations as the Mal Condon Canteen, Belleville Boy Scouts Troop 364, a special unit for boys who are mentally handicapped, and Camp Fatima.

Camp Fatima — Sister Maryann of Camp Fatima received a check for $3,500 from the Knights during the dinner. Presenting the check is Ralph Wendler and Frank Corbo.

Scoutmaster — Frank Corbo, (r) past grand knight, presents a check to Larry Demsey, scoutmaster of Troop 364 in Belleville. Also present is Grand Knight Ralph Wendler.

Knight Officers — These are the gentlemen who made the awards dinner possible with their hard work and dedication. The Knights work all year long to provide for those in need and helping the youth of this country.

Religious Viewpoint

By Rev. Robert Paul

Planting the Wrong Seed

In his first attempt to plant a lawn at their new home, a man carefully prepared the soil, sowed the seed, watered it thoroughly — and waited. He kept up the watering faithfully for three weeks, often rushing home at noon just to water the new lawn for an hour. But nothing happened, just a few weeds began to grow. Then one Saturday morning he came into his house, announcing sheepishly to his wife, "I just found the sack of grass seed in the garage." His wife wanted to know what he had planted. With a chagrined sigh, he told her, "I planted 'Kitty Litter.'"

What a parable for the false and hopeless work going on today in the name of "Christian Service." Many social gospellers and deluded civil rights agitators are planting "Kitty Litter" in the fields of the world and the hearts of men, instead of the powerful and pure and infallible word of God, the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. "Preach the word," said the Apostle St. Paul to young Timothy.

How much of the word of God is planted in your church? The word of the living God is likened unto seed. "Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever." (1st Peter 1:23.) The Lord Jesus Himself said, "The seed is the word of God." (Luke 8:11.) This is the "Seed" all Christians are to plant and some fruit is sure to come from it.

In St. Matthew Chapter 13 we have the parable of the sower. In this scripture the Sower is the Son of Man; the seed is the Word of God; the soil is the human heart. The four different kinds of ground represent four distinct ways in which the Word of God is treated by those who hear it.

First you have the Wayside or indifferent hearer. Then comes the stony ground, followed by the thorny ground hearer or double-minded person. Then forth comes the good ground or honest hearer. If you are willing to know God's will, he will make himself clear to you, but you must be willing to open your heart to the good seed, the Inspired Word of God, the Bible. The character of the fruit betrays the nature of the soil, "Behold the Lamb of God who taketh away the sin of the world." (John 1:29.) Believe Jesus Christ loves you and died just for your sins and arose again for your justification, and invite his seed to take root in your life now.

Times Play Review

Nutley Little Theatre's Production 'Catch Me If You Can,' is Absorbing

By Michael C. Gabriele

Thrills, mystery, tension, comedy and a surprise, shocker ending; these elements were in abundance in the Nutley Little Theatre production of "Catch Me If You Can" which opened last weekend in the Little Theater Barn.

The highly absorbing and thoroughly entertaining play, directed by Vicky Chalk Little, benefited from an inspired cast with impeccable timing. A wonderful high strung curiosity kept the audience jumping over all three acts.

Jack DeVries and Ray Dreeman gave the play two delightful leading characters. DeVries, as Daniel Corban, was the center of attention throughout the performance. He was also the main source of energy on stage, working nearly non-stop as the excitable, slightly unstable newlywed who has lost his wife. Dreeman was a peach as the off-beat, cigar chomping Inspector Levine. It was Dreeman who was the comedian of the group.

Angela Moran and Carl Worner provided strong supporting roles as Elizabeth Corban and Father Kelleher. Both marked their NLT debuts with their roles in this production. Moran played the icy extortionist masquerading as Daniel Corban's wife. Worner gave a controlled, sinister portrayal as Elizabeth's accomplice in extortion. Moran and Worner each demonstrated a polished stage presence, molding their talents to enhance the production.

Bill Martin as Sidney turned out to be a true favorite of the audience at curtain call time. Martin gave a zesty performance as the deli owner who made great coffee. Terry Chalk and Nancy Maller made brief appearances near the end of the play as Mr. and Mrs. Everett Parker.

Director Chalk Little triumphed with a carefully constructed concoction of tension, intrigue and sarcastic humor. The performers were in command and operating at full throttle. The play challenged the audience from the opening act, always remaining one step ahead. As usual, Chalk Little's casting was most precise and a strong element in the production.

A most professional job of automobile sound effects was provided by Elyse Kelly, Madeline Nitti and Art Turnbull. You know, it really sounded like they had a car backstage. Maybe they did.

There was a very surprising ending to the play. Naturally, it will not be disclosed in this review. There was just one thing which remained a mystery throughout the play: why did Inspector Levine always pour coffee from a styrofoam cup into a glass before drinking it? Hmmm...?

"Catch Me If You Can," written by Jack Weinstock and Willie Gilbert, was a richly entertaining play; an end of the season treat provided by NLT. Attendance is strongly recommended. Performances will continue tomorrow and Saturday at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 3 p.m. There will also be performances June 17 and 18. Call Joyce Getting at 667-5492 for ticket reservations.

The Little Theater Barn is located on Erie Place, just off Brookfield Avenue and adjacent to Yantacaw School.

Summerfun Theatre Preparing For Another Enjoyable Season

The Summerfun Theatre, New Jersey's largest professional summer theatre, is presenting four production premieres as part of its six-show season.

The theatre's 12th season in residence at Montclair State College begins and ends with delightful works by America's best loved comic playwright Neil Simon. 'Chapter Two,' the season opener, will run for two weeks: June 21 through July 2. Simon's sentimental tale is about a recent widower and divorcee whose paths unavoidably cross, and their efforts to establish new beginnings in life — together.

The New Jersey production premiere of 'Children of a Lesser God,' Mark Medoff's Tony Award and Drama Desk Award winner for Best Play of 1980, is next on the Summerfun bill. Medoff's sensitive story of the romance which evolves between a spirited deaf girl and her insightful speech teacher will run from July 5 through 9.

'Special Occasions,' a tender romantic comedy by Bernard Slade, also in its N.J. premiere, runs July 12-16. This festive offering examines the changing relationship of a divorced couple as they are reunited again and again to celebrate the "special" occasions of their lives.

The recent Broadway success 'The Dresser,' new to the New Jersey professional stage, runs from July 19 through 23. This engrossing backstage drama focuses on a Shakespearean actor's dresser and the critical role he plays as friend, confidant, and guardian to the star.

Ira Levin's fast paced thriller 'Deathtrap,' full of wit, deaths, and never-ending surprises runs July 26 through 30. This chilling story deals with a once-famous playwright and his "plight" to create another successful murder-thriller.

The season's finale is the N.J. debut of the contemporary musical 'They're Playing Our Song,' running August 2 through 13. Neil Simon provides us with an upbeat love story between two songwriters working to establish "harmony" in both their professional and personal lives. The production features music and lyrics by Marvin Hamlisch and Carol Bayer Sager, and also runs for two weeks closing the 12th season of Summerfun.

Subscriptions and individual tickets are now available for all performances. Student and senior citizen rates are also available. For reservations or further information call 746-9120.

Roche Players Are Presenting 'South Pacific'

The Roche Players of Hoffmann-La Roche Inc., in Nutley, will present their 1983 production, "South Pacific," on June 10, 11, 16, 17 and 18 at the Montclair-Kimberly Academy, Bloomfield Avenue, Montclair. All performances will begin at 8 p.m. Tickets are priced at $4. All proceeds will benefit the Community Mental Health Services of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, and Clifton Mental Health Services.

"South Pacific" is the Roche Players' 12th annual musical. Previous successful performances have included such Broadway hits as "Brigadoon," "Oklahoma," "Hello Dolly," "Fiddler On the Roof" and "Guys and Dolls." Over the years, the Roche theater group has donated approximately $71,000 to local mental health organizations.

This year, the play is directed on stage and musically by D.J. Maloney, who has over 100 musical and dramatic credits for which he has been both director and music director of original music revues and Off-Broadway shows. The show is choreographed by Christian Saint-Girard, who has appeared in several Broadway shows, including "A Chorus Line."

Tickets may be purchased in advance. For further information, call 235-5728 weekdays between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. or 751-1630.

Funding is Approved Belleville's Academically Talented For Chemical Clean up Participate in County Exposition

In other litigation, the Essex County Prosecutor's office will present evidence to a grand jury that harmful substances believed to be in the acetone family were illegally dumped into the sewer system by the chemical company's employees.

On May 13, the firm's head chemist, Muhammed Aslam of Jersey City, was arrested and charged with soliciting another person to release a harmful substance. He is out on $10,000 bail.

Though few officials will comment on matters in litigation, Frank Zinna noted that information from an inside source in the firm resulted in the arrest of the chemist and the subsequent county investigation of the site, its operations, and employees.

Sources say the tip-off came from disgruntled employees who were recently fired from Organic/Inorganic.

Health Concerns

Belleville Health Officer Thomas Longo said a medical testing facility had begun operating in the School 9 facility this week to oversee health complaints of area residents exposed to the leaks at the chemical plant which manufactured food flavorings and additives.

In keeping with a promise by Gov. Thomas Kean, who visited the site on May 31 accompanied by state health and environmental officials, the extensive facility is staffed with state supplied doctors. Longo said Belleville's seven nurses are also there as well as nurses from nearby communities.

The medical staff is now taking complete case histories, blood analysis, urinalysis, and lung function tests, as well as a general physical on those people who live and work in the designated target areas reaching Main, Little, Ralph, and Cortlandt streets.

"We're not turning anybody away if they fear they have symptoms they want checked," said Longo Tuesday.

After the first weekend of toxic irritant leaks, area residents complained of burning eyes, rashes, sores, and troubled breathing.

An initial state health department survey of over 200 area residents revealed that 99 percent complained of skin and eye irritation and respiratory complaints.

The fifth and sixth grade academically talented students of Belleville participated in the second annual Essex County Creativity Exposition at Livingston Mall on April 29 and 30. The classes are housed at School 7, of which Michael Rosamilia is principal.

The students and their teachers, Mrs. Cathy Chirico, Mrs. Sue DiRuggiero, Mrs.

Angela Immediato and Mrs. Genieve Troccoli, were present on both days to explain the displays of work accomplished throughout the year.

Mrs. Carol Mateyka, the music teacher, and the sixth graders demonstrated the Orff-Schulwerk Method of music using instruments such as: the glockenspiel, xylophone, metallophone, cymbals, wood-blocks and tam-bores. There were two performances, one on each day.

Several children were science wizards and other children explained the locations of parts of the body by attaching paper representations of each part to their clothing. Also on display were autobiographies, original picture-storybooks, puppets and poetry. There were mathematics projects and games done by children as part of their curriculum.

The displays were very impressive and many positive comments were received. There were displays from 10 other districts in Essex County.

On June 8, 9 and 10, the academically talented students and teachers will be going to Boston where they will visit historic sites.

Talented Kids — Jennifer Bridge, Nicole Keller, Joyce Burke and Jennifer Harrison are ready to begin working during the annual Essex County Creativity Exposition at Livingston Mall.

Discussing DNA — Marilyn Zamora, a member of Belleville's academically talented group, explains a DNA model as Danielle Marcantunio looks on during the exposition.

Girls Capture Second Straight County Title

Sweep Bloomfield To Take Conference Crown Also

A Winner — Softball coach Carl Corino looks on as his girls defeated Bloomfield Sunday evening to capture their second straight Essex County Tournament by a score of 3-1. The girls defeated the Bengals again on Monday to also win the conference title.

By Mark Foley

There is an old adage in sport which states that "The true measure of a champion is the ability to defend his title against all challengers." The Belleville High School girls' softball team proved itself to be true champions, capturing its second straight Essex County Coaches Association Tournament and its first Passaic-Essex Division of the Northern New Jersey Interscholastic League crown in the girls' first year of competition in the circuit.

Both of those victories, which followed a 5-2 loss in the North Jersey Section II, Group IV State Championship game against Union, came against Bloomfield, making four consecutive Belleville wins over the Bengals this year, and seven straight over the past four years.

The girls started early in the ECT final before a packed house at Bloomfield's Pulaski Park, scoring a pair of runs in the second inning. Lois DeLuccio started things off with a base hit, and advanced to second when losing pitcher Jackie Vitiello walked Desiree Johansen. Donna Campana, who had a game-winning homer in a state game versus Westfield, came through with an RBI-single to drive home DeLuccio. Lorraine Bini followed that with a bunt single to load the bases. With two outs, Donna Brooks grounded to shortstop Kathy Donlon, who threw to third in an attempt to force Campana. However, third baseman Diane Jacquin dropped the ball, allowing Johansen to score for a 2-0 Buccanette lead.

The Bengals came back in the bottom of the inning to close the deficit to one when Dina DeAquino (17-4) walked Valerie Record. She advanced to second on a muffed pick-off attempt and to third on a passed ball before scoring on Tracey Kennedy's groundout. But Belleville soon regained the two-run lead when Tracy Buono blasted Vitiello's first pitch into deep left field for her sixth home run of the year, setting a new BHS single-season record.

That hit was to prove very important when, in the bottom of the third with a runner on base, Bloomfield's Anna Maria Martino, an all-county player, drove a ball deep into the right-center field gap which Campana, running at full speed, made a simply stellar grab on, saving at least one run and probably two.

The Bengals poised one more threat, that being in the fifth inning. Eileen Johnston and Donlon singled, and Martino walked with two outs. However, DeAquino got cleanup batter Chris Witczak to pop up to Bini to get out of the jam. "The county tournament was the big one," said an elated Carl Corino. "You couldn't find a happier coach than me right now. I'm very pleased with the girls' performance and with the outcome of the season. The pressure was really on us that game," he continued, "because we had just lost in the sectional championship and we only had two games left. Secondly, we had already beaten them twice and both of them were close games.

We were also the defending champs, but to win it again, that's the thrill of a lifetime."

As Corino told his team, they got the cake on Sunday night. Monday afternoon, they went for the icing — the conference title. Once again, they got things going early with two runs in the bottom of the first. Brooks beat out an infield single and went to third when Kim Indiero reached on an error. "Brooksie" came home on Buono's RBI-groundout. They got the second tally when the Bengals committed their second misplay of the frame, this being a dropped pop up off the bat of Johansen. The final run came in the third when Brooks singled, stole second, went to third on a hit by DeLuccio, and came home on a blooper by Johansen.

The only real chance for Bloomfield was in the bottom of the third when Brooks singled, stole second, went to third on a hit by DeLuccio, and came home on a blooper by Johansen.

Baseball Braves Start Season By Dropping First Two Games

"We're gonna get better." Those words, coming from head coach Sal Garilli, pretty much summarize the situation as the new entry in the Essex County baseball league, the Belleville Braves has gotten off to a rocky start.

The Braves were in Union to face the Rams on Tuesday and this evening will be at Millburn for a 6 p.m. start. On Saturday, Parsippany will be in town for a 1:30 p.m. start. Sunday, Maplewood is at Belleville High School for a 5 p.m. start. By the way, the game with Parsippany will be a twin bill and the team could really use a large turnout.

Entering this week's action, Belleville holds an 0-2 log, having dropped games to defending champion Irvington and last week, losing a tough game to powerful Verona, 11-3. The team has already lost two games to rain.

In the loss to Verona last week, Garilli saw some good things. "As a coach, you look beyond the box score. We're not losing because we're poor, we're losing because we're not playing well, and that can be corrected."

There are a number of familiar names on the Braves roster, players who led Belleville High School to some of its best years in varsity baseball. The coach is still adding new players to his roster, recently acquiring former Glen Ridge ace Bill Stoughton and Tom Owen, a standout hurler for Columbia High School. Both men should be a big help to the Braves cause.

Currently, the Braves infield sees Dominick Vazzano playing first, Mark Roll at second, Ronnie Wilson and Mike Shea sharing time at short-

Kim Indiero Chosen BHS Female Athlete of The Year

It was four years ago that assistant softball coach Carl Corino first noticed a skinny freshman named Kim Indiero and made her the starting centerfielder on a team that would eventually make it to the county finals before bowing to powerhouse Cedar Grove.

Man, have things changed since 1980. First off, Corino is now the head coach of the Bucs, taking over for his wife Eve following the '80 campaign. Secondly, Indiero moved to shortstop following her freshman year and did an outstanding job in leading her squad to the county championships in 1981 and a berth in the 1983 finals which were played on Sunday.

For her outstanding play, both on the softball field and the tennis courts, the senior has been named the Belleville High School athlete of the Year for 1983.

"I remember the first day of practice (in 1980)," said Corino. "I had all the infielders lineup and started to hit them grounders. I saw immediately that this girl (Indiero) was a player. Her hustle, enthusiasm and spirit won her a starting job in centerfield."

"I was just happy to play," said Indiero when reminded about her freshman year. "To be starting on the same team as Rosie (Leonidis), Joycie (Iacullo) and Nancy (Coffey) was a big thrill for me. Those players were my idols."

It was the 1980 season that Indiero was tabbed with the nickname, "The Kid." The name has followed her ever since. "Kimmy wanted to improve from the first day," said Corino. "She went to softball camps over the summer and put in a lot of hours. She won the shortstop job her sophomore year and hasn't missed since."

In the 1980-81 season, Indiero joined the tennis team, seeing sparse action in the second doubles position for Karen Fucello. That spring, she turned her attention to softball, where Indiero started at shortstop. "Shortstop is where I always wanted to play," said Indiero. "In my freshman year, Joycie (Iacullo) was the shortstop, so I knew I would have to wait. When she graduated, there were three players, including myself, who went for the job. I just wanted to play, so if I didn't make it as a shortstop, I figured to play in the outfield."

Indiero won the job and has improved steadily in the field since 1981. Her biggest disappointment on the field occurred in 1981 when Belleville met Shabazz in a first round, Group IV, Section II game. "I've had some disappointments along the way," said Kim, "but that Shabazz game was the worst. We would have loved to get that game back."

The girls were beaten by the Lady Bulldogs, 9-8 on a grand slam homer in the final inning. It was a disappointing end to an 18-8 season, but it gave the team more determination for the following year.

In the fall of 1981, Indiero returned to the tennis courts, earning a starting spot at second singles. "I had just started playing tennis regularly about three months before the season," said Indiero. "It was the biggest surprise for me to do as well as I did. I'm sort of a spastic person in tennis. I played against the wall and with Carol (Salerno) who was a great player. It made me a better player as well."

Indeed, Indiero was fantastic in 1981.

She finished the season with an 18-1 record, losing only in the county consolation finals to a Montclair player. Indiero had won her first 14 matches of the season before the loss and finished the campaign on a four-match winning streak.

The following spring, she returned to shortstop for the softball squad and helped the Bucs to a 24-2-2 season, culminated by the championship of Essex County, her biggest thrill, thus far. "When we beat Livingston for the finals, it was a super feeling. We had lost to them the previous week in the state semis and wanted to get that back."

Her senior year has been just as steady and impressive as the previous seasons. First off, she moved to first singles, taking over for Leonidis who had graduated. She posted a 12-8 mark, admitting she could have done better. "The competition was tougher, but it wasn't as hard as I thought. I shouldn't have lost eight matches, though. I had Tracy Everett of Kearny 6-4 in the first set, but then lost the next two sets. I could have beaten her. The Bloomfield and Nutley matches were two that I should have won as well."

She admits that Everett of Kearny was the best player she opposed during her tennis career. While Indiero is a top notch softball player, she will be attending Newark Rutgers to continue her tennis career. "I hope to be playing softball in college as well," she said. "However, I will be playing tennis in the fall and if my grades are good come spring time, I'll give softball a try."

This season, Indiero has come on strong as the team leader on a very young squad. "This year I was very nervous as the season approached. It was my senior year and I was going to be with a brand new infield. Rosie, Nancy and Mona (Stampe) had graduated and if you were to ask me who the starters were going to be back in March, I wouldn't have been able to tell you."

The Bucs had lost the nucleus of the infield along with outfielder Angela Chimento. However, the squad has come through strong, posting a 21-4 mark entering the county finals. "I knew that Lois (DeLuccio) and (Cathy) Woodsie would play, but other than that, the infield was wide open."

The team regrouped behind the strong play of Lorraine Bini at second base, Desiree Johansen at third and DeLuccio at first. Woods now plays center field and the pitching and catching are secured with Dina DeAquino and Tracy Buono. "People expected us to win last year," said Indiero. "This season, we were hoping for a shot at the counties. We never expected to go as far as the sectional finals. It's that will to win on this team that helps the most. We all stay be each other too."

She has played a good part of the season with an assortment of injuries, mainly bumps, bruises and most recently, a sore knee, but no way will that keep Indiero from occupying the shortstop slot for the county finals. "We're going to miss her," said Corino. "She stabilized the infield and she loved to play the game. She was a great competitor."

Having watched Indiero play the game for four years, it's easy to see why Corino will miss "the Kid." She is a tough competitor, a classy person and one who will be remembered for many years to come. Good luck, Kim, you were indeed a great competitor.

Next week, the Belleville High School athlete of the year for the boys will be profiled, followed by the coach of the year in the next edition.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, what year did the San Diego Padres have their only winning season and who was the Cy Young Award winner for that season? The answer: San Diego won 85 games in 1978, losing 77. Gaylord Perry was the Cy Young award winner.

For this week's quiz, when was the last time an NBA team swept the final series? The Philadelphia 76ers of course, did it this year, name the team who last swept the final round.

Heard At Ringside

By Steve H. Frank

North Haledon: exciting lightweight Charlie "White Lightning" Brown had to cancel out his scheduled bout with Alfredo Escalera of Puerto Rico on the Davey Moore-Roberto Duran card due to a wrist injury (hairline fracture). The 18-year-old Brown has compiled a 16-0 record during a seven-month pro career. He was injured in a motorcycle accident. The ex-junior lightweight champ Escalera with a 49-13-3 chart will face Gene Hatcher sporting a 17-1 record.

Duane Thomas of Detroit became the United States Boxing Association (USBA) junior middleweight titleholder Thursday in Atlantic City by scoring a TKO at 2:34 of the eighth round over Bayonne's Nino Gonzales. Thomas in winning the vacant title boosted his record to 19-1 with 13 KOs. In being stopped for the first time in his 33-fight career Gonzales now has 28-5 with 16 KOs. The title became vacant when Gary Guiden of Muncie, Ind. gave it up to fight as a middleweight.

Detroit's lightweight Greg Colverson boosted his record to 29-1 when he put the stopper on Jeff Passero of Mitchellville, Md. at 1:43 of the third round at the Tropicana in Atlantic City. Passero's record is now 18-7-1. Colverson ranked fifth by WBC, dropped Passero on the seat of his trunks twice in the third round. The second time for the full count. Colverson was scheduled to square off with New Jersey State champion Gerald Hayes until Hayes pulled out.

Unbeaten lightweight Robin Blake of Levelland, Texas, a world title contender, kept his record intact by defeating J.C. Kim of Korea, now of West Jordan, Utah, at the Showboat in Las Vegas, Thursday. The one-sided bout was stopped at 1:20 of the first round by referee Richard Green. It was viewed on ESPN Cablevision.

Brace yourself for the "yes, I will," "no, I won't" routine for a couple months by heavyweight king Larry Holmes. If you remember the contradictions proceeding Sugar Ray Leonard's retirement last year. Also a memory jogger: After Floyd Patterson was KO'd by Muhammad Ali in the seventh round on Sept. 20, 1972, Patterson just faded out of the picture. He never did announce his retirement. Dick Lovell, publicist for Holmes, said Monday, "Larry will change his story several times." Lovell added, "Everyone close to him is trying to convince Larry...to retire."

Patterson lightweight Derrick Cuttino traveled to Latham, N.Y. and held highly-acclaimed Wes Shuler to a six-round draw. In other bouts the results were: Clarence Hudson WTKO in second round over Joe Arduini; Louis Lasusa W-Dec. in four rounds over Ed Robinson; Tui "Hawaiian Punch" Aloha W-Dec. in four rounds over John Cogials; Jim Heir WTKO in seventh round over Dan Ferris in the main event.

A USSR amateur boxing team outduelled a USA team 6-4 at Indianapolis, Indiana. The USA came up with victories in the 132-147-156 and 165 classes. The USSR had winners in the 106-119-125-139 heavyweight and super-heavyweight classes.

Jack Rosa, 140½, of New York, raised his ring record to 13-4 when he defeated Manuel De La Rosa, 141, also of New York in an eight-round main bout at the Ridgewood Grove Arena, Friday. De La Rosa's record dropped to 17-6. It was a Nancy Sciacca promotions.

Girls Capture County And Conference Titles

field was in the fifth, as Donlon, who had three of the Bengals' four hits, doubled to put runners on second and third with two outs before DeAquino retired Cathy Kluxen on a come-backer to the mound.

"It feels good to be the conference champs," said Buono, "especially the outright champs. This is a really tough league, too. Clifton, Passaic Valley, Nutley, Bloomfield — they were all in the running for their county and state titles. Plus, we're the only sole champions from Belleville this year." (The football team split the title with Montclair.)

"We finished second by one game in volleyball and by two games in basketball," added senior Kathy Woods, "so it feels great to finally win it."

The only thing that could taint the 3-1 county championship and the 3-0 conference triumph was the defeat at the hands of the Union Farmers, only the fourth against a final total of 23 wins. Union took the lead early when Ilene Freeman scored on a single by Julie Brezezinski. They opened the floodgates in the next inning, scoring four times for a 5-0 lead.

The Buccanettes began a comeback in the bottom of the sixth when Oxiris Barbot led off with a walk off of winning pitcher Lisa Rever and went to third when Brooks reached on a two-base error. Buono followed with an infield base hit for one run, and an errant throw by the Farmers accounted for a second.

They put two runners on base in the seventh, but Rever came back and struck out the last two batters to end the contest. "It wasn't one of Dina's better performances," said Corino of the junior righty's six-hit, seven-walk game. "We hit the ball well, but it was right at people. If two or three balls go our way, you've got a different ending, but unfortunately we were unable to pull it out. Anyway, it was a step up in the states from last year."

And although disappointed with the defeat, Woods said that, "I'd have to agree with Mr. Corino that I'd rather win the county championship than the state." When asked if this was a cop out, she defended her statement by adding, "Even in basketball the county tournament meant more. It's probably because we have one of the strongest athletic counties in the state."

When asked the inevitable question of which ECT crown was better, Corino replied, "The first one was great. And the second one, with increase in competition in the county and with everybody gunning for us as the defending champs, was really a great feeling, especially beating them in Bloomfield. They're both great. I'm most happy for the seniors, just as I was last year. They're able to go out as champions, something no one can ever take from them."

DIAMOND DUST — Next week The Times will review the girls' triumphant 1983 campaign. They have become only the second team to win back-to-back ECT titles, joining the 1979-80 Cedar Grove Panthers.

Buono broke the four-bagger record formerly shared by Joanne Conte (1978) and Rose Leonidis (1982) at five...The Buccanettes finished with a conference record of 14-2...Although they fell one short of last year's school-record 24 wins, they actually equalled the total amassed on the playing field (last year's total included one forfeit)...The last time Belleville was in a conference (1978 in the Big Ten) the softball team also captured the conference title...Bloomfield finished with a 19-6 record.

WNBC and Giants Will Play Softball

The WNBC Grand Slammers and the Giants will collide physically, and probably verbally, on the softball field on Thursday, June 23, 7:30 p.m., to benefit Clara Maass Medical Center's Emergency Services. The game will be held at Breslin Field, Riverside County Park in Lyndhurst.

Co-chairpeople of the softball game are Irene Banaszak, director of volunteer services at Clara Maass and Gary O'Gwen, vice president, materials management.

3-Way Tie Established In Men's Softball League

Some heated action in the Belleville Recreation Men's Softball League last week brought about a three-way tie for first place in the Wednesday "A" Division. Rossmore/Hess (5-2) dropped a 10-7 decision to De Bacco Bros. (5-2), but rebounded to edge Charles Daniels 4-2. De Bacco's also defeated Burger King 7-4, after Burger King (2-5) slid to a powerful Michael's Roscommon House club 18-0. Michael's (5-2) also topped Megaro Memorial Home 9-2. Charles Daniels (2-4) and Megaro (1-5) are engaged in a protested game with the score 5-5 to be settled at a later date.

In the Thursday "B" Division, the first games of a scheduled double-header were rushed in before the rains came. Atop the standings is Campbell Tools (5-1), after they bested second place De Lorenzo Construction (4-2) by a 13-9 tally. Garden State Pet (3-3) rallied past International Paint (2-4) 11-4, while Red Shingle (2-4) shaved Eastern Sales (2-4) 10-9. Inclement weather postponed action in the Monday and Tuesday divisions on May 30-31.

Rossmore/Hess swept a doubleheader last week to gain possession of first place in the Belleville Recreation Men's Softball League Wednesday "A" Division. Rossmore/Hess (4-1) set back Megaro Memorial Home 6-4 before blasting Burger King 15-6. Top-contenders De Bacco's and Michael's Roscommon House split their pair of games, with both teams now locked at 3-2. Megaro Memorial Home (1-4) shocked De Bacco's 6-5 before De Bacco's rallied to a 12-6 decision over Charles Daniels (2-3), but Charles Daniels defeated Burger King (2-3) by a 9-2 margin.

In the Thursday "B" League, De Lorenzo Construction and Campbell Tools are tied at 4-1 atop the standings. De Lorenzo scored their fourth straight win, an 8-1 tally over Garden State Pet, but fell to International Paint in the nightcap 10-6. Campbell Tools swept a doubleheader, defeating Red Shingle 3-2 and Eastern Sales 11-8. International Paint (2-3) also topped Eastern Sales (2-3) 7-4, and Garden State Pet (2-3) edged Red Shingle (1-4) 9-8.

Suburban Cablevision (6-1) regained sole possession of first place in the Tuesday "B" League as they defeated Belleville Political and Social Club 9-5 and Belleville Shoes 4-1. Belleville Shoes (5-2) decisioned Roselli's Amoco 12-6, but Roselli's (3-4) rallied to a 14-7 win over Silver Lake Auto Service. Silver Lake (3-4), however, defeated Kasey's 4-2, and Belleville Political and Social Club (2-5) overpowered Kasey's (2-5) by a 15-10 count.

Suburban Girls Are Now 9-1

The Belleville Buccanettes of the Suburban Junior Girls' Softball League defeated Livingston by the score of 12-8 last week. The team jumped out in front 5-0 in the first inning, the key hit being a grand slam home run by winning pitcher Laura Caruso. Tracey Puleo and Daneen Rock delivered crucial RBI singles in the seventh inning to secure the victory while Racquel Melson and Lisa Zecca played outstanding defensively for the seventh-eighth grade girls.

On Tuesday, May 24, the team defeated division rival Caldwell by a score of 5-2 in a very well played game. Laura Caruso keyed the offense with a two-run homer in the bottom of the second inning. Michele Calderone and Daneen Rock also clubbed extra base RBI hits. Caruso pitched a four-hitter on the mound to win her eighth game of the year. The girls played a great defensive game in holding Caldwell to their two runs.

Then, on Saturday, May 28, the Belleville girls defeated Millburn by the score of 11-8 to win their eighth game in a row. In this game, the team clubbed out 13 hits, including three by Tracey Puleo, two by Laura Caruso, and a two-run home to centerfield by Giovanna Mallozzi. Racquel Melson, Daneen Rock, Laura DeAquino and Gina McDonald also hit well on offense. The team led 11-3 going to the seventh inning but sloppy fielding by the Buccanettes gave Millburn their last five runs to make the score close.

As of the beginning of this week, the team has a record of 9-1 and is in first place in their division.

This past Tuesday, the girls hosted Verona and this coming Saturday the team begins a three-game road trip in Maplewood in a 10 a.m. start.

Baseball Wrap Up

LaConte Hopes to Collect Dividends During 1984

When the Belleville baseball team concluded its 1982 season, they graduated a majority of its starters, people like Frank Fazzini, Eugene Cancelliere, Joe Britting, Joe Zangari, Billy Cook and Joe Murphy, George Zanfini, the coach for the past eight years stepped down, thus setting up a brand new regime in the sport.

One year later, foundation for future success has apparently been laid down, or as coach Ralph La Conte put it, "the investment has been made, now we'll try and collect some dividends."

The 1983 edition of the Buccaneer diamondmen finished at 8-17, a far cry from the 22-7 season in 1981, the 18-4 mark of 1978 or the 17-7 mark in 1980. However, the '83 team was certainly competitive, they played in 12 one-run games, three more two-run games and with a little more experience, there could have been some more victories.

La Conte, who has been with the program for 16 years, took the season in stride. "We took our lumps this season. We were hoping that our seniors could carry us early in the season, but they lacked varsity experience and thus we couldn't win those close games."

The seniors did a solid job, but once again, they lacked the most important ingredient, experience. The most experienced senior, Robbie Cancelliere, did a solid job in the outfield after starting the season at second base. "Robbie did a super job for us," said La Conte. "He got off to a poor start, but when I moved him to the outfield, he came around strong."

Cancelliere finished with a .288 batting average, had 21 hits, two triples and eight ribbies. He scored 14 runs and was an excellent defensive player. "A fine all around athlete," said La Conte.

First baseman Lenny Russo concluded his senior year with a .988 fielding percentage, tops on the team. He batted .200, but was a solid defensive player, committing just two errors the entire season. "He deserves a lot of credit," said La Conte. "He was the only senior member of the infield. He showed signs at the end of the season of being a good batter as well."

Seniors Charles Bocchino and Anthony Gammara started the season on the mound and did a good job in the early going. "They both lacked experience on the varsity level," said the coach. "They should have won some games in April, but didn't get much help offensively."

Senior Vinnie Colabelli was the team designated hitter and Vinnie Lombardo was the regular pitcher and catcher before a mid-season injury put an early dismissal to his high school career. Peter Arancio, the final senior on the squad, started as the third string catcher, but by tournament time had earned a starting role. "He had tremendous team spirit," said La Conte. "He assumed the role as a backup and made the most of it. When Anthony Lombardi came up with a sore arm in the GNT, Peter got a chance to start. He was a fine defensive player."

The team was carried by the junior class this season, something that La Conte feels will be a big plus for next season. Lombardi was the team catcher for most of the season, batting .309, hitting 19 ribbies, 21 hits, one homer, one triple and one double. He was the team leader in batting average and runs batted in.

Joe Borrello did a super job the second half of the season. "I can't say enough about Joe," said La Conte. "There were questions on whether he could do the job in the early going, but he came around strong in the second half."

Borrello, the only returning starter from 1982, batted .304 for the season, not bad considering he was hitting .110 on May 1. He had an on base percentage of .473 and moved from ninth in the lineup to second by season's end. He was tied with John Guarino for the lead with runs scored (17).

Speaking of Guarino, he was very steady in center field. The junior batted .286, and led the team in five different offensive categories. Guarino led the team in at bats (84), hits (24), singles (21), walks (16) and stolen bases (7 out of 9). Guarino also scored 17 runs and had a .939 fielding percentage. John was the leadoff hitter for the Bucs, compiling a strong .410 on base percentage.

Rightfielder Frank Tursi, another junior, batted .275, leading the team with doubles (5), homers (2), slugging percentage (.413) and had two-game winning hits, one a home run that beat Passaic. When not playing in the outfield, Tursi was the team's top pitcher, compiling a 4-1 record, hurling 48 innings and finishing with a tremendous 1.90 earned run average. He started six games, relieved in another six and struck out 37 players on the year.

Tursi was named honorable mention all NNJIL while Lombardi was named to the second team.

Sophomore Dean Sternik started the year on the jayvee squad, but by season's end was the regular second baseman for the varsity. La Conte feels that Sternik will be a solid team player the next two seasons. He batted second in the lineup, had five sacrifices, two doubles and drew 13 walks.

"We showed signs, at times, of being a strong club," said the coach. "Our victories over Caldwell and Secacus (both of whom have 19 victories this season) show we can play with and beat the good teams. We have the experience, now if the kids stay in shape and keep their minds on the game, they can be very good players next spring."

BHS Golf Squad Finishes 10th In Essex County Tournament

The Belleville golf team ended its season with a respectable 10th place finish in a field of 15 at the Essex County tournament last Tuesday.

The Bucs finished the regular season with a 10-5 mark, losing only two games in the NNJIL and finishing 6-2 in the conference for the season. It marked the end of another successful year for coach Rocco Colucci. In his three years on the links, the coach has compiled a 27-11 mark, with the 1983 season by far his most successful.

"We did a lot better than I had expected," said the coach. "I'm pleased with our finish in the NNJIL and with our overall record."

The coach did point out that there is a lot of rebuilding to do for 1984. "We lose Joe (Pontrella) to graduation, and he was a solid player. I'm expecting a lot from Jimmy Apple next year. It will be his senior season and I think he knows that he will carry the club."

Colucci was also happy with the play of sophomore Greg Simone and freshman Brian De Furia. "Both those guys did a lot better than I expected this year," Colucci said. "They both realize the work that has to be put in for the following season, but I think they will be up for it."

De Furia is the first graduate of Colucci's middle school program, fitting in very well in his freshman year. Also expected to help out next season are juniors Brian Cook and Fred Widjken. "Both guys will be instrumental to next year. I'm hoping they continue to play during the summer months and stay in shape."

Freshman Frank Riker, who started off slow this year, has looked strong and should fit in well next season. In addition, Colucci is looking to about five eighth graders who should be coming out for the squad.

"I'm encouraged by the younger guys," said the coach. "We have some good young players coming up and mixing that with our experienced players can make us a solid team."

Colucci is looking towards the 84-85 season as Belleville's big year in golf. "Next year will be strictly a rebuilding season," warned the coach who has been saying the same thing the last three years. "It's going to be working from ground up. We have a lot of young players."

Colucci loves to say his club will be struggling entering the season and then when the campaign gets under way, the Bucs put out a consistent winner game in and game out. Only time will tell, but the Bucs should certainly be a good club come next spring.

Sam Giuffrida Happy With Crew's Season

When the Belleville crew team hit the water back in March, Sam Giuffrida saw two totally different squads.

On the one hand, he saw a girls' team that as freshman had won the national title. In 1982, the girls captured the crown with six freshman, one sophomore and one junior. On the other hand, he saw a boys' team that lost 14 seniors to graduation back in 1982 and were green to say the least.

Now, two months and dozens of races later, the coach can look back on a season that can be termed excellent to say the least.

"We did a very good job this year," said Giuffrida. "The girls' team was under a lot of pressure from the outset. They are a very young team that won a national title in their first shot last year. Against their own competition, our girls didn't have of much a challenge. There was a lot of pressure on them and because they are so young, a lot of that pressure was self-imposed."

The girls won the Goodwill Regatta as did the entire program, before losing their first race in the finals of the Poughkeepsie Regatta, racing in the senior eight against girls two years older and more experienced. The team finished third in the Poughkeepsie before the "Disaster of the Stots" a week later. In that race, the team caught a terrible crab at the start of the race then struggled to finish fourth, missing the finals of that race by two seconds.

Despite the tough setback there, the girls regrouped and went on to place third in the national championships, a great finish, but one that has been questioned by a few observers, many of whom don't know the first thing about the sport. "When I said 'we finished third' in the nationals, some people had the feeling, 'just a third,' like it was nothing to sneeze at. When you finish third in the national finals, you've done something very well."

Indeed the team had a tremendous season, and anyone who feels they didn't is obviously quite naive to the sport of crew.

The boys' varsity finished 3-3, losing two races in a combined time of .3 seconds. "The kids worked very hard," said the coach. "They carried through with the Belleville spirit. They are tough competitors who had only 16 upperclassmen on the entire squad."

The entire jayvee boat finished undefeated, both for the boys and girls.

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

When walking on any slippery surface, a slip can be followed by a fall or a near-fall. Often, to prevent falling, people gyrate wildly and wrench their back, stretching muscles and ligaments.

Such stretching may permit spinal segments to shift into misaligned positions, with resultant pinching of the nerves which are enclosed within the vertebrae. Pinched nerves cannot function properly and so the strength and vitality of muscles and organs served by these nerves deteriorates.

Chiropractic locates and corrects spinal misalignments, whatever their cause. For a chiropractic examination, phone for an appointment.

stop and Joe Corbalis and Steve Karlick over at third. The catching duties go to Andy Gould, who played for Kearny High School and later Jersey City State.

"Garilli sees Roll as the best second baseman in the ECBL right now. 'Defensively, he's super,' the coach said. 'He covers a lot of ground.'"

The outfield sees former BHS star Dave Starr in center along with Nick Richella and Gary Cook. Cook has excellent speed and should be quite valuable. James Smith and Mike Wynosky will also see time in the outfield.

Garilli is also pleased with the performance of Jeff Bradley, a super prospect, at second base and Bobby Getz over at third. The pitching staff is headed by Anthony Coco, the star of the 1981 Greater Newark Tournament, Owen, Stoughton, Jerry Werdann, Steve Schlotnick, Scott Treverson, Rich Edwards and soon Mike Zinno who will be on the roster in early July.

In reviewing the loss to Verona, Garilli had nothing but praise for the opposition. "They are loaded, perhaps the best team in the league."

School 3 Kids Present 'Peter Pan of Neverland'

Belleville's School 3, the Fine Arts Magnet School, presented its version of "Peter Pan of Neverland" last week. The two-act musical production which incorporated the elements of drama, dance and technical theater, was presented on Tuesday afternoon for Schools 5 and 7 and again on Thursday and Friday evenings for the benefit of the Bobby Travers Leukemia Fund.

"Peter Pan is truly a performance we are proud of," said Principal Austin MacArthur, "not only because of the achievements of our students in the fine arts but also because we were able to realize over $720 in donations from the parents who attended the evening performances."

Bobby Travers who is a sixth grade student at School 3 attended the performance on Friday evening and joined his classmates in the finale.

They play was directed by Mrs. MaryAnn DiGuglielmo. Mrs. Carol Mateyka was musical director and Mrs. Francine D'Agostino was the technical director. Other School 3 teachers who assisted with the production included: Mrs. Patti Farina, Mrs. Judy Carbone, Ms. Camille Casaletto, Ms. Judy Spray and Ms. Marilyn Hawthorne.

The role of Peter Pan was played by Denise Lusnia and Wendy was portrayed by Dana Janik. Others in the cast included: John Hromoko, Captain Hook; Rene Alfone, Tinkerbell; Vickie Tighe, narrator; Ronnie Sibilia, Michael Darling; Anthony Cultrara, John Darling; Valerie Nesto, Mrs. Darling; Anthony Narciso, Mr. Darling; Lee Kazista, Nana; Ray Zamloot, Blackbeard; Lisa Cabanillas, Starkey; Brian Schweer, Smee; Ronnie DiPiro, pirate; Diane Matto, Tiger Lily; Denise Ives, Indian; Philip Gilbert, Curly; Jodi Pena, Slightly; Carol Morrison, Tootles; Chris Cantarella, Nibs; Michael D'Achille, twin, and Darin Fiorendino, twin.

In addition, some 50 other children worked as stage managers and crew members.

Belleville High School Students Hold Prom

By Gary Carfagno and Joanne Tamburri

On Friday, May 6, the seniors at Belleville High School attended their annual senior prom at the Birchwood Manor in Whippany.

The highlight of the evening was the arrival of the students in their formal attire. The young men wore tails with cummerbunds, vests, bow ties, ascots, and wing-tipped collars in a variety of colors. The stunning gowns worn by the young ladies added an elegant touch to the evening. The gowns were unique and suited to fit the individual taste of each young lady.

Hors d'oeuvres arranged with beautiful flowers and fruit punch spouting from a silver fountain accented the Promenade Hour. The dinner began with a green salad, followed by the main course of prime rib and vegetables. The desert was vanilla ice cream with strawberries.

After dinner, the couples began dancing to the mellow sounds of Ariel. The band performed many hits, including the class song "Don't Stop Believin'" and "Where Are You Going To," which was voted the Prom song.

The prom committee worked for many months planning the affair. The students involved were: Karen Pravata, president; Anthony Stefanelli, vice president; Joanne Tamburri, secretary, and Maria Gioino, treasurer. The prom committee consisted of Linda Cozzarelli, Helen DiCarlo, Gina DiPaolo, Michael DiStasi, Linda Insano, Nevay Naturale, Suzanne Preiser, Jeanne Rilli, Joy Santangelo, Lisa Santoli, Patrick Velardo and Donna Ziemer. As always, senior class advisor Mr. McDonough did a fantastic job in planning the prom.

It was a lovely evening that the seniors will reminisce about long after they graduate from Belleville High School.

School 8 Students Enjoying Activities

The mothers and daughters of School 8 had great fun shaping up together on April 14, in the school's auditorium.

An aerobic demonstration was performed by Sally Berthlon, and mothers with their daughters were asked to participate. Everyone had a great time. Refreshments were served.

On April 20 the children of School 8 and their families enjoyed an afternoon of roller skating at United Skates of America in the Westbelt Mall in Wayne.

The skating rink was only occupied by students of School 8 and their families. Two hundred and thirty-two participated in the skating fun.

A drawing was held and Rosalie Duff, Chris Talbot and Tracy Smith won free birthday skating parties for themselves and 10 friends.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT
Oh, Holy Spirit, thou who are all knowing, who brightens every path that I may reach my idea, thou who givest me this divine gift of forgiving and forgetting, wings done unto me and who in every instant of my life art with me, I'd like in this short dialogue to affirm my gratitude for all your blessings and affirm once again that I never want to part from thee through the issuance of material things abound. My desire is to be with thee and all my loved ones in perpetual grace. Thank you for your mercy on me and mine. (Persons should pray 3 consecutive days without revealing petition. Within 3 days, grace will be attained regardless of how difficult the petition may be.) Publish this prayer once grace is attained. Grateful for grace attained. E.A.
