Three Charged By Grand Jury

Indictments Handed Out In Toxic Chemicals Case

By Linda Telesco

An Essex County Grand Jury last week handed up a 16-count indictment against officials of Research Organic/Inorganic Chemical Corp., a Valley area firm closed by township officials as a toxic hazard since last May.

Company president Marianne Pratter of West Orange and chemists Mohammed Aslam and Nathan Desi were charged, according to the Essex County Prosecutor's office, with conspiracy and unlawfully releasing harmful or destructive substances into the public municipal sewer system and with illegally discharging pollutants and unlawfully disposing of hazardous waste.

Additionally, Pratter was charged with unlawful storage of hazardous waste and creating a risk of widespread injury in operating the business at its 507 Main St. plant.

If convicted, the president faces a prison sentence of over 22 years. The chemists could get sentences of 16 years each. The defendants are expected to be arraigned in Newark Superior Court within weeks.

Head chemist Aslam is presently free on $10,000 bail following his arrest on May 13 when state and local officials searched the premises which days later became the source of several toxic leaks polluting and frightening the area residents.

No other arrests were made to date. Last Thursday's case was presented to the grand jury by assistant county prosecutor Richard Verde, a member of the County's Toxic Waste Unit.

The May 13 arrest of the chemist resulted from reports to authorities by internal sources identified only as "disgruntled former employees" who knew of violations in handling chemical wastes at what was a food flavorings manufacturing plant.

In addition, local fire officials spotted several apparent storage violations when on duty in the area in late April. Those sightings led to investigation by local health authorities. On May 18, the township obtained a court order permitting it to close the business and seize control of all records and assets.

Ironically, two days later, a toxic irritant, benzyl chloride, leaked from one of the many improperly stored containers on the site.

That was the first in a series of leaks causing area residents to complain of respiratory and other problems, the closing of School 9, and of some businesses in the area.

Township officials hired Clean Industries, a private chemical firm of Linden to begin the massive cleanup and testing of the 1,006 containers finally determined to be housed in the facility.

Obtaining extended court approval to control the final disposal of the containers, Belleville agreed early this month to hire a West Milford firm, Solvents for Energy, to perform the final disposal for $100,000.

According to Township Attorney Frank Zinna, the cleanup has already cost Belleville over $200,000 and the township is seeking reimbursement from federal and state monies to cover the emergency appropriations made since last May.

Dog License Fees Are On the Uprise

New Jersey dog owners are facing increased costs of keeping their pets legal.

A notice from the state department of health, made public at the July 11 Commissioners meeting informed municipalities of their requirement to collect and remit to the state an additional 20 cents for each dog license issued.

The hike is already in effect and monies collected, the letter said, are earmarked for a "pilot clinic fund."

As if that weren't enough, beginning Aug. 2, officials are required by the state to impose an additional $3 charge on the regular license tag fee for any dog of reproductive age which has not had its reproductive capacity permanently altered.

"They (the state) are ridiculous," said Commissioner Matthew Pica upon learning of the regulation. Commissioners stressed the measure is state imposed on all municipalities and the monies which are collected locally must be forwarded to the state.

Presently, a dog license in Belleville costs $5. As of Aug. 2, that figure could rise, in some cases, to $8.20.

Licensing official Steve Vogel said each license is issued for a calendar year and it is the dog owner's responsibility to make application for renewal by each Jan. 1.

David Bryant Appointed As New Library Director

By Michelle Jeannotte

Within the past few years the Belleville Public Library has undergone some renovations — including an additional wing and a new air-conditioning system. Recently, however, there have been some changes made within the library's system itself.

On July 5 David Bryant, a Nutley native, became the library's new director, succeeding the retired Gerard Hickey. Concerned with meeting the needs of the people of Belleville, Bryant has begun making some major improvements in the services the library provides.

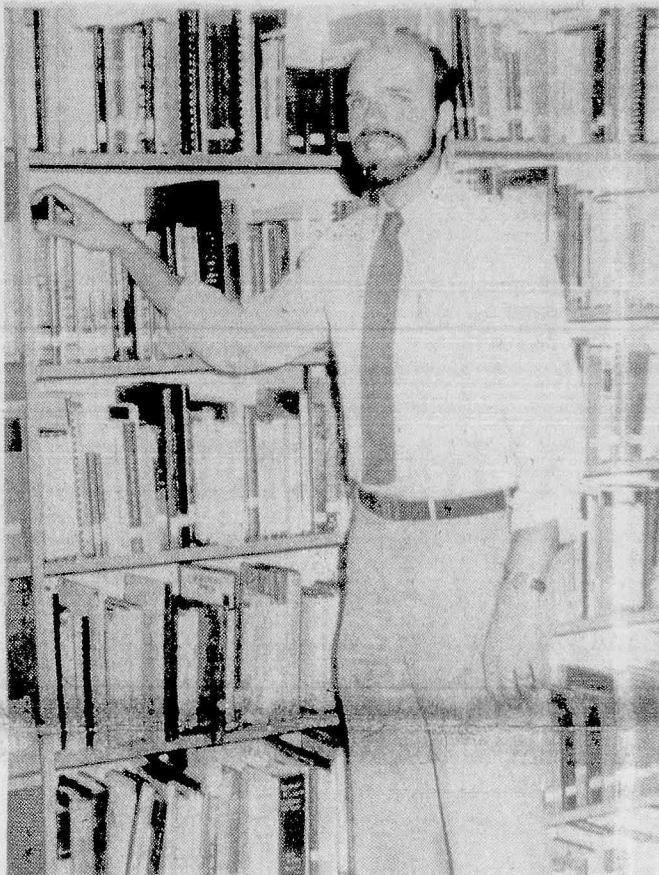

"As director it is my responsibility to see that our library services meet the needs of the people of this community," he said during an interview at the library last week. Enthusiastic about his new job, Bryant is also responsible for managing and coordinating the staff and budget.

"The first thing I wanted to do when I came here was to circulate computers for public use," he said. "We (the library) purchased six basic computers to start with and already have a waiting list for three weeks."

The computer, a Timex-Sinclair home computer, provides instructional use in how to make and run simple basic programs. Easy to use, the computer can be hooked up to any television set. Borrowers can check the computer out for seven days.

"Before the end of the year," he continued, "I would like to have two computers set up here for students and adults to use and have a staff capable of teaching them."

According to Bryant, the library bookshelves contain 86,000 volumes, of which 5 percent are

"People don't think we throw out old books but we do," Bryant said. "Approximately $25,000 is spent each year on new books." He said one-third of the book budget is spent on fiction because it has the biggest audience and has the best sellers.

Susan Friend — She's Got Victorian Style In a Modern Era

By Linda Telesco

In the genteel Victorian era, a young lady spent many hours polishing her skills in finer matters such as drawing, music, and learning.

In fact, to be called "a very accomplished girl" was a social advantage much sought after by those demure maidens.

Though times have changed, the value of accomplishments has not, and one Belleville girl pursues a myriad of interests that would have challenged her sisters of yesteryear.

"I have so many interests. It's hard to pick a favorite," said 13-year-old Susan Friend — a pianist, athlete, artist, and scholar.

A modest and gracious young woman, Susan conversed about her activities while relaxing with her energetic family in their comfortable

New Street home one night last week.

Much of the community may already know her from her many musical performances in the Belleville school system. A pianist since the age of 6, Susan recently performed at her own graduation from the Middle School and in school's spring concert last April where she also played on the synthesizer.

A township native, Susan studies piano with Carol Sargentelli, also of New Street. "I like playing all kinds of music, but if I'm preparing for something special, my teacher always makes me learn a difficult classical piece," she said.

"Susan is a natural with music," said her mother, Joanne, who is a self-taught guitarist and amateur composer. In fact, the entire family is harmonious in more ways than one. Susan's father, Ed, is a part-time musician with "The Carousels," a group that performs at weddings and banquets. Her 7-year-old brother, Ed, Jr., wants to be a drummer.

An easy-going type, Susan is not ambitious to compete musically. "I'm not even taking lessons in the summer because I'm busy with other interests," said the girl who admitted to "not practicing as much as I should."

But when she sat at the family piano, which was handed down through four generations, the room sang with sensitively performed melody.

A relaxed performer, Susan played 'Doll Dance,' a peppy piece by Nacia Herb Brown that was part of her school recitals.

Urged on by her visitor, she breezed through a score from the hit musical "A Chorus Line," and played the classical "Sonatina" by Muzio Clemente.

Most impressive, however, was a lyrical ballad called "One More Time." When asked the name of the composer, Susan said her mother wrote the song.

"I plucked it out on the guitar and Susan sat at the piano for a few minutes one day and set the whole thing to music," said Joanne, an outgoing, person eager to talk about her soft-spoken daughter.

Although she loves music, Susan is not planning a career yet. "I have no idea what I want to be," said the versatile girl. "I may someday decide to teach piano. I haven't decided."

One thing she is certain of is a goal to attend college and her present academic performance shows that determination. "Out of nine subjects I got eight A's in the last marking period," said the girl who will enter Belleville High School this fall.

In addition to her musical contributions, Susan also belonged to her school's Student Council and to the Builders Club, an organization of students who volunteer services to the elderly and sick through fund raising drives.

With soft golden curls framing her fair face, Susan resembles a Renaissance angel with a tanned, strong, athlete's body.

An avid softball player, Susan plays short center on the Pumas team coached by Times editor Ed Capparucci. "I like that position. It's in the middle of everything," she said, noting that she "would have played second" but being a southpaw ruled that out.

After the mental rigors of a school year, the intelligent young lady plans to double up her summer workouts at Le Terrace, a private pool in Nutley where both Susan and her brother swim in competitive meets.

"I just joined that team last year," she said. "At first, I was dead by the end of practice, but I'm much

Community Nursing Service Undergoing Change in Name

Community Nursing Service of Essex and West Hudson has changed its name to Community Health Care of North Jersey, Inc. Announcing the change, Board President Lawrence Zagarola state, "We want the public to have a greater awareness of the range of services available through our organization. Nursing is a vital part of the work we do, but 'Community Health Care' says it all."

Community Health Care of North Jersey will continue the strong tradition of home care which the organization has maintained since its first date of incorporation in 1902. "Home care is a less-costly alternative to hospital or nursing home care," says Dr. Ray Mentzer, Executive Director. "The increasing demand for home care has brought with it an increase in the kinds of care provided at home. Skilled procedures, which were once done only in a hospital, are now a routine part of home care," he continues.

Community Health Care is also involved in providing health care services outside of the home setting. These include health screening, child health conference and school nursing under municipal department of health contract. The organization also provides hypertension screening upon arrangement and offers a free speakers' bureau for community organizations.

Information on home care or any of the other services given by Community Health Care of North Jersey may be obtained by calling 673-0158.

Community Health Care of North Jersey is a voluntary, non-profit agency which is licensed by the State of New Jersey and is a certified Medicare and Medicaid provider. Its service area for home care are Belleville, Newark, South Orange, West Orange, Maplewood, and Irvington in Essex County and East Newark, Harrison and Kearny in Hudson County. In June of this year, service was resumed in the city of East Orange at the invitation of the East Orange Health Department which closed its home care division at that time.

Most clients are referred for home care by their physicians following a hospitalization, but some need skilled care which can be provided at home without a prior stay in a hospital. The health professionals who work together to meet the needs of the client are: nurses, physical, speech and occupational therapists; medical social workers; registered dietitian and home health aides. Emphasis is placed on assisting a client and/or family to become independent in the management of their health problems.

There are five different causes of nausea including pregnancy, nausea induced by an internal disease, motion, irritation of the stomach and mental upset. It follows then that the type of drug used to aid the nausea should be largely dictated by its cause. Antacids, for instance, neutralize irritating materials in the stomach. Anticholinergic drugs act to relax the churning action of the stomach muscles. Tranquilizers and antihistamines are particularly useful in counter-acting motion sickness. They are also sometimes prescribed for the nausea of pregnancy. Finally, the sedative-hypnotic type drugs help to soothe the mental excitement that contributes to motion sickness. Allow your physician to determine the cause of your nausea so that he may prescribe accordingly.

It Is A Year-Round Job

School Administrators Kept Busy During The Hot Summer Months

Everyone knows that during the course of a school year, administrators are kept extremely busy with discipline problems, teaching schedules and making sure everything during the course of the year runs smoothly. But few persons realize how tough and busy a work load administrators have during the summer months.

"Perhaps our biggest chore is scheduling," said Middle School Principal Mario DiMaggio. "There are teaching schedules to make, student schedules, club schedules and lining up the assembly programs. But that is just the beginning."

While the halls of the Middle School are empty with the exception of piles of furniture, the two school administrators, DiMaggio and Vice Principal Joseph Ciccone are busy, along with the custodians and secretaries in preparing the school for the students' arrival in September.

"Two things which are keeping me very busy during the summer months are transportation and locker assignments," said Ciccone. "All students who live more than two miles from the school must be bused, along with any students which come within the hazard formal. By order of the Board of Education any student who must cross certain busy streets on the way to school must be transported to and from school. So we have to find out who is in need of transportation, send them a transportation policy and student ID card. This year 154 students will receive transportation from the school district and a majority of the students fall into the hazard formal.

"Along with assigning lockers, a schedule for clubs and assembly dates must also be finalized," Ciccone continued. "Some of our clubs include golf, foods, fishing, computers, chess, soccer and aerobics. We try our best to give each student the club of his choice, and so far I have been able to accomplish that."

While Ciccone has been busy preparing to make life easier for the incoming students, DiMaggio has been busy interviewing teachers to fill the classrooms.

"We have three teaching openings at the moment which I am trying to fill," said DiMaggio. "The openings are for a science teacher, a social studies instructor and a librarian. We had other openings but they were filled by teachers who were called back to work." DiMaggio said he interviews an average of six to 10 persons for each position, before selecting the right candidate.

"I am in the process now of setting up a schedule for students who need assistance in computation and communications," DiMaggio said. "These students will be given additional training by working with our computer terminals which will be set up here in September. Beside their regular math and English classes, these students will spend approximately 100 to 120 minutes with the terminal in an effort to strengthen their skills. So right now I am figuring out a schedule for the nearly 200 students which will be involved in the program."

Not only do the two school leaders set the wheels in motion for the upcoming school year, but the summer months also give them a chance to "discuss certain goals."

"The summer gives us a chance to work on new things involving curriculum and student relations," said Ciccone. "I have been working on an idea of creating a single parent-students guidance program. Nearly 20 percent of the student population falls into this category and they have problems which seem to surface at this age."

"Some people may think that things slow up around here during the summer, but that is not the case at all," said DiMaggio. "We are here five days a week and serve a lot of functions. It isn't easy to finish up the work from one school year, while starting a new one at the same time, but it has to be done."

Tuition Tax Credits

Critics throughout the nation are claiming the United States Supreme Court decision on tuition tax credits violates the principle of separation of church and state.

The 5-4 decision makes complete constitutional sense and upholds the basic right of states to determine for themselves what tax credits they choose to adopt.

The case in point that triggered the U.S. Supreme Court decision dealt with a Minnesota law that permits parents of children in school to take up to $700 in tax credits. The law applies to all students, whether they attend public or private institutions.

As a practical matter, students in public schools incur very few expenses so the law mainly would affect parents of private school students who must pay tuition.

The Minnesota law applies equally to both religious and secular schools and grants no tax credit to promote a specific religion.

The value to the people of this country of the affirmative U.S. Supreme Court decision is enormous. Firstly, the U.S. Supreme Court has ruled the principle of state aid to private schools, including religious schools, is not a violation of the first amendment prohibition against laws relating to the establishment of religion.

Secondly, and from a pragmatic point of view and equally important is the financial relief afforded parents who send their children to religious schools. If all religious schools in America closed down, the additional real estate tax burden upon homeowners would be overwhelming.

In its most recent decision on tuition tax credits, the U.S. Supreme Court has rectified a long-standing wrong.

Speak English

Mayor Thomas Dunn of Elizabeth issued a memo recently to all city department employees and officials, informing them that employees are to speak only English when conducting their business, unless speaking another language is helpful and necessary to consummate city business.

Dunn's memo read, "English is the primary language to be spoken in the official conduct of city business." The Mayor added that employees should be told "not to converse in other than English in front of other city employees."

Time and again in this space we have reiterated our stand that in this great land of ours we should not tolerate a bilingual status. The official language of this country is English and if an immigrant doesn't like it, let him or her go back to the land from whence they came.

Our forefathers came from a foreign land. They did not ask

America to change its language. Instead, they learned the new language of their new country, and they learned to abide by its rules and regulations. Is that too much to ask of people who deliberately come to the shores of America seeking freedom — that is freedom the American way?

We agree with Mayor Dunn that it is rude for individuals to speak in a foreign tongue in the presence of Americans who do not understand the other language. It is time that we Americans stood up for America and all for which it stands.

Wish that there were more public officials as patriotic as Thomas Dunn.

Flower of Friendship

Life is like a garden
And friendship like a flower
That blooms and grows in beauty
With the sunshine and the shower...
And lovely are the blossoms
That are tended with great care
By those who work unselfishly
To make the place more fair...
And, like the garden blossoms,
Friendship's flower grows more sweet
When watched and tended carefully
By those we know and meet...
And, like sunshine adds new fragrance
And raindrops play their part,
Joy and sadness add new beauty
When there's friendship in the heart...
And, if the seed of friendship
Is planted deep and true
And watched with understanding,
Friendship's flower will bloom for you.

To the concerned citizens of the township of Belleville:

I would like to address an issue which has been on the minds of concerned Belleville citizens for many years — the issue being Washington Avenue.

This old time commercial strip has been the central issue of discussion, as well as controversy for the past 20 years.

I believe that the main reason the "town center" has never progressed is because the people and merchants of Belleville have only foreseen the doom of the "Big Bad City of Newark" creeping up Washington Avenue destroying everything in its path. It almost sounds like the plague and has been described at town meetings as "the element."

We the people of Belleville are only as strong and determined as we want to be, open your eyes, we are the element. The town meetings I've attended have left me appalled in which most of the people in attendance seem to have a chip on their shoulder and eagerly point their finger at the condemned person or group of people (usually the five commissioners) whom they claim are the fault of Washington Avenue. We have only ourselves to blame and we are the only answer to the revitalization of our town center.

There is no right or wrong answer to design. Design is like methodically gambling with a group of ideas or concepts. Design has to be continuous, in other words, constantly changing. One concept cannot always be followed exactly. Ideas must overlap to enable design to constantly change and so must the town. Our problems stem from the fact that we've been stagnant for the past 20 years on the south end of Washington Avenue. We must turn ourselves toward progressive architecture as well as progressive attitude not only for Washington Avenue but for the entire town.

This is why I strongly recommend the construction of a new police headquarters on Franklin Avenue next to the new firehouse and to leave the existing police headquarters as a precinct. The existing police station has become obsolete over the years and the township has an opportunity to use county land for a new police headquarters. We can then rehab the Town Hall and construct a three-tier parking deck on the existing parking lot adjacent to the Town Hall, as proposed in the Townplan Association concept. We should then consider the construction of a town civic center behind the existing Town Hall. This type of design I've just described is called revitalization, which can only be done today with the assistance of the local, state, and federal government or a willing corporate developer.

We must stop holding our heads and refrain from telling our historic town center tales of woe. In addition, we must stop using such demoralizing statements regarding our town in general. Finally, we must stop comparing ourselves to the surrounding municipalities and think more positively about ourselves. Pessimism, along with inadequate knowledge of the design process and not being able to coordinate our energies collectively are the sad but true results of most of our previous efforts.

Let us open our minds and work together in a professional, productive, orderly, and unsarcastic manner. We must stop dwelling on our past faults and work together for a better future with good design.

I know this can be accomplished.

Sincerely,
Robert Cozzarelli

Help Our Nation Buy American

To the editor:

I am confused. Please allow me the opportunity to present my dilemma. Unemployment numbers are on the increase and our state is impacted more than most. I personally have heard the cries of the anguished and I deeply relate to their individual concerns.

Now the dilemma. The people who bemoan their fate wear Gucci shoes, drive Volkswagens, use Japanese photography equipment and ask for imported foodstuffs. This is sheer folly.

The Federal Government cannot adopt a stand which will limit imports because of its over-riding consequences. But you and I can cause a ground swell if we follow a very practical philosophy. Buy American made products. Don't believe the old canard that foreign means better. Ask foreign car buyers what happens when their foreign "Chariots of Fire" breakdown. The interminable wait for parts and the tremendous cost for service and repairs should cause them to regret their foreign escapades.

Buy American. Create jobs and put this country where it rightfully belongs. At the top.

Sincerely,
Michael D. Nardiello

Commissioners Should Pass Vacancy Decontrol

To the editor:

I notice that a decision is still pending regarding proposed changes recommended by the Rent Leveling Board nearly a year ago. Those changes include implementing partial vacancy decontrol, which would permit a landlord to increase rents up to 25 percent when an apartment becomes vacant. The new tenant would then be protected by the rent ordinance as far as future rent increases are concerned.

In view of the fact that every real estate appraiser, every Borough and City Tax Assessor, all agree that restrictive rent control results in the homeowners carrying an ever increasing share of the tax burden; why the delay? Passage of this proposal does not in anyway affect present Belleville tenants, except that the landlord will have additional funds to better maintain his property. The homeowner will benefit because the town assessor would be more justified to increase apartment complex real estate taxes with a resultant decrease for homeowners.

Many New Jersey towns have changed their ordinances to permit vacancy decontrol because they discovered that the old ordinances as written was costing the town millions of dollars in successful landlord tax appeals which had to be passed on to the other taxpayers. Of all New Jersey towns with rent control ordinances, 60 percent now have a vacancy decontrol provision.

Parsippany-Troy Hills repealed their ordinance. Vacancy decontrol was passed last month by North Arlington, Elizabeth, and Highland Park, to mention just a few I know about. As a matter of fact, North Arlington which is just across the bridge, now permits a 7 percent annual rental increase plus a 30 percent increase when an apartment becomes vacant.

The present 6 percent annual rental increase permitted in the Belleville ordinance is reasonable today, when the Consumer Index is running at about a 5 percent rate. But it does not make up for the years when the C.P.I. was closer to 12 percent. Unfortunately, all economists predict the C.P.I. will now start a steady climb to who knows where.

So why not implement the proposed 25 percent rental increase on a vacant apartment now, while it would be painless for the present tenants? It can only help the maintenance of the Belleville apartment complexes and help ease the homeowners tax burden.

Very truly yours,
Samuel Geltman

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Back during the Belleville commission election campaign trail Joe Grande, seeking election, kept assuring the voters that he would be his own man, that he'd be the boss and that he'd get the job done right.

Anyone who knew Joe Grande, or who had worked with or for him, never doubted his word. They recognized him as a forceful, dedicated, sincere and determined man...When he set his mind upon a project or job his pertinacity asserted, in the most authoritative way, that the task had better be achieved without dalliance.

It was observed immediately after Commissioner Grande took over the Public Works Department that improved attention was being given to sweeping streets and cleaning up debris and discarded bottles and cans. Fire hydrants were tapped and water mains flushed.

According to reports, Commissioner Grande sternly outlined the scheduled working hours for employees while impressing them of the need of everyone to work together for the betterment of the department and improvement of service to the public.

Convinced that this quality of leadership displayed by Commissioner Grande and the employees of his department is no "flash in the pan" as demonstrated by their convincingly improvement in service; After the proverbial wait to see it was really true that "a new broom was sweeping clean" we now, belatedly, offer our kudos to Commissioner Grande and his staff...keep up the good work.

Congratulations are extended to Frederick Taylor, the son of an old buddy, on his graduation from Naval Boot Camp in San Diego, California, as a communications technician. "Good luck" says your pal "Mic" McHenry. We know your dad and mom are proud or you. We all are.

Scuttlebutt rumor has it that some politically initiated wisecracks are expressing concern over newly elected school trustee Gabe Nazzola's propensity to speak out at public sessions on matters, they feel, are far afield from school subjects.

We find this absurd. Mr. Nazzola is a knowledgeable, informed citizen with considerable rhetorical talent...the fact that he became elected a school trustee did not strip him of his rights as a citizen.

Should he choose to express his views or opinions on any relevant subject, it certainly should be within his province to do so, perhaps his commentary could lend some clarifying light to subjects which deserve airing at public gatherings.

We have found his voluble, well prepared dissertations on community matters both interesting and informative...could some politics be trying to impart a message for him to stay in his own league?

Some of Gabe's friends contend that could backfire. They say it would be tantamount to waving a red cape in front of an infuriated bull.

Belleville has always made money on the sale of water. The Revenue and Finance and Public Works Department share much of this profit to defray operating expenses. The township had been paying Newark, from whom we buy the water, $250 per million Cu. Ft., but is now billing at $425 per million Cu. Ft. which is in litigation.

Fearing this increased $175 cost, water rates were increased from $6.50 quarterly minimal charge for 1000 Cu. Ft. to $10 per quarter or $14 more per year. To maintain a comparable margin of return a rate increase was needed. However, some argue a lesser water rate increase could have provided an equitable profit to the township while less costly to consumers.

Illustration: 1,000,000 Cu. Ft. divided by 1,000 Cu. Ft. equals 1,000 customers. $6.50 x 1000 old rate $250 ($6,500 - $250 equals $6,250 profit.)

New rate: $10 quarterly minimum. $10 x 1,000 customers equals $10,000 - $425 cost of water leaves $9,575 profit each quarter x four quarters equals $38,300. Were we to presume there are 10,000 water users paying minimum water rates we'd multiply $38,300 x 10 equal $383,000 profit. Each 50 cents in rate increase could be estimated at a $20,000 increase in revenue at the present cost structure.

Yes! They're making money on the water, but for two years raises were given out. We changed from town to township getting $800,000 that paid for most of that. This year they granted another raise. It was an election year and taxes weren't raised. Wait until next year! Watch out for a tax increase...That water income may lighten the load a little. It's like the TV commercial...You pay me now or pay me later.

Umberto' Corner

Dear Umberto,

My husband is walking around with a rainbow on his head. Thank God he needs glasses and he can't see the three colors on his head. I feel guilty for the messy color job, but I don't know what to do. He is thirty-three and all grey. He looked sophisticated but old. I bought chestnut brown and mixed the color with peroxide and applied it. It came out very well. A month went by, his hair grew so I reapplied the same color. There was some difference in the color. I followed the same process the third month. It came out in three different colors. Why did this happen?

Your Reader With the husband with a rainbow on his head

Dear Reader,

Your husband had the hair that I would like to have - grey. If we could exchange, I would pay a good sum. First, don't apply that type of a mixture on a man. There are colors on the market which do not contain peroxide, designed for men. If you use those peroxide colors you must apply the color on the roots first. After 15-20 minutes you apply it all over. Try this method and you'll see a vast improvement.

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

Whenever a nerve is pinched, irritated and thus prevented from functioning properly, pain results. Pain is nature's warning to us that something is wrong. Where the pain is felt depends upon which nerve is involved.

If the nerve pinching is caused by a spinal segment becoming misaligned in the upper back or neck, pain will be felt in the shoulders, neck, or arms. If the misalignment is in the lower back area, pain will be felt there and perhaps down into the legs as well.

Perhaps chiropractic can give you relief from pain. Please for an examination which will determine the facts.

CMHS HOTLINE

Terminally Ill Spouse Needs Support, Love

Dear CMHS Hotline:

My husband and I have been married for 35 years. During that time, we had three children, all of whom are on their own and live away from home. Recently, my husband was told he has cancer and prospects for treatment are very poor. The news was devastating and we are finding it difficult to accept. We have always been close but lately my husband has become distant. He feels angry and defeated and I'm upset and worried.

Can you offer any suggestions to help us during this trying time?

Unhappy

Dear Unhappy:

Your husband's behavior is understandable and its effect on your relationship is a cause for concern. It is not unusual for one who is experiencing terminal illness to become depressed and angry. However, your husband's worries and fears may decrease in intensity if he is encouraged to talk freely to you about them. Your continued emotional support and affection at this time, therefore, is extremely important to your husband. Your children's role is also crucial and they should reach out to their father with phone calls and visits.

If possible, plan to have a family dinner out every few weeks. This will relieve your burden as well as lessening your husband's sense of alienation and depression. Perhaps family bonds can be strengthened and relationships improved. In time your husband may begin to feel more comfortable talking to you about his illness and your presence and support will draw you closer.

It is important also that you have an opportunity to share your feelings with someone you trust and can confide in — friends, relatives, your minister and your children can be called upon as sources of support and comfort for you. Undoubtedly this period will be a difficult one for you both. Support, comfort and closer family ties will help to alleviate some of the emotional stress and trauma you are all experiencing.

Seems Like Only Yesterday...

Anti-Recall Movement is Started; School Board Makes Big Changes

Thirty Years Ago

The Board of Commissioners describing Belleville as having an "acute housing space shortage," extended rent control from its date of expiration for another 17 months. Only 25 citizens attended the session, with 14 favoring the move and 11 opposed. The Town Attorney, Lawrence Keenan, pointed out to the citizens that the commissioners could cancel the rent controls at any time, once they are convinced the housing shortage no longer exists.

Action on an ordinance creating a Planning Board for Belleville, scheduled by the Board of Commissioners, was postponed one month to allow members of the commission to study the ordinance prepared by Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan and to study a state manual concerning planning boards.

The Planning Board would consist of six citizens, named at first to terms of one, two, three, four, five and six years; the mayor, one commissioner and one town employee.

Belleville American League Little League all-stars bowed out of the county tournament with a 1-0 loss to South Orange. The young Bucs had only one hit off of pitcher Tony Ciavatta and that was a double by Fred Riccio. Meanwhile Mike Morano pitched a two-hitter for Belleville in a losing effort.

Twenty Years Ago

Councilman G. George Addonizio announced that committees would be set up on the local level throughout Belleville to combat the current recall drive aimed at him, Mayor Robert Laterza and Councilman Vincent Strumolo.

"We will fight this thing neighborhood-by-neighborhood," said Addonizio. "This will be done on the issues involved. We will not aim at a counter recall movement at Councilman James Golden. That would be too much like grammar school — a 'you recall us, we'll recall you' type of thing."

The recall, headed by Robert Westpy, started last week at a meeting in the VFW Hall attended by almost 200 persons. The aims of the drive are petitions containing the names of 25 percent of Belleville's voters, or 4,208 names.

Also prominent in the movement is former Councilman Thomas Greco, who resigned from his four-year term last month because of what he termed, "the intractability of the council's three-man majority."

A vote to recall Councilman James Golden went down to defeat 178-4 by the group. Golden later thanked the group for its support and took a petition himself, implying that he would take part in the recall's actual signature gathering.

Meanwhile Town Manager John

Burnett denied being pressured by the so called majority bloc in any of his actions since he has taken office. He also blunted the recall drive.

"Never at anytime have the mayor or two councilmen tried to attempt to impose their will on me or any of my actions since I assumed this post," Burnett said.

He also created a stir in town political circles by issuing an administrative order which ordered town officers and employees from engaging in the political activities concerning the recall movement.

Ten Years Ago

The Board of Education voted a major shakeup of its top administrators during a session which left the board itself shaking from inner tensions and dissensions and sent several parents of School 9 away grumbling. Michael Rosamilia, assistant superintendent of schools, was given the post as principal of School 9 as well. Seymour Grossman, principal of the junior high school, was named assistant superintendent of schools in charge of curriculum. Nicholas Petti, principal of School 9 was sent to School 8. Arthur Pico, principal of School 2, was given the additional duties as director of special education and director of Title I. George Nucera, director of guidance at the high school, became administrative assistant to the principal.

Hailed by several members of the board as the first major progressive move taken in years, the shakeup is designed to promote efficiency, especially in the shaping of curriculum, where two men, instead of one, will be in charge.

Parents at School 9 voiced concern they would only have a part-time principal, since Rosamilia would also be in charge of lower grades curriculum.

The Board of Commissioners announced plans to purchase and renovate the Friendly House in Silver Lake as a town recreational facility. The ordinance calls for an expenditure of $80,000 from the Parks and Public Property budget, the figure being the asking price of the 35-year old facility owned by the Silver Lake Baptist Church.

Commissioner of Parks Michael Marotti, who introduced the ordinance, said that the house was being purchased because "the Silver Lake section of town needs a recreational facility badly."

CMHS HOTLINE

Terminally Ill Spouse Needs Support, Love

Dear CMHS Hotline:

My husband and I have been married for 35 years. During that time, we had three children, all of whom are on their own and live away from home. Recently, my husband was told he has cancer and prospects for treatment are very poor. The news was devastating and we are finding it difficult to accept. We have always been close but lately my husband has become distant. He feels angry and defeated and I'm upset and worried.

Can you offer any suggestions to help us during this trying time?
Unhappy

Dear Unhappy:

Your husband's behavior is understandable and its effect on your relationship is a cause for concern. It is not unusual for one who is experiencing terminal illness to become depressed and angry. However, your husband's worries and fears may decrease in intensity if he is encouraged to talk freely to you about them. Your continued emotional support and affection at this time, therefore, is extremely important to your husband. Your children's role is also crucial and they should reach out to their father with phone calls and visits.

If possible, plan to have a family dinner out every few weeks. This will relieve your burden as well as lessening your husband's sense of alienation and depression. Perhaps family bonds can be strengthened and relationships improved. In time your husband may begin to feel more comfortable talking to you about his illness and your presence and support will draw you closer.

It is important also that you have an opportunity to share your feelings with someone you trust and can confide in — friends, relatives, your minister and your children can be called upon as sources of support and comfort for you. Undoubtedly this period will be a difficult one for you both. Support, comfort and closer family ties will help to alleviate some of the emotional stress and trauma you are all experiencing.

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

Whenever a nerve is pinched, irritated and thus prevented from functioning properly, pain results. Pain is nature's warning to us that something is wrong. Where the pain is felt depends upon which nerve is involved.

If the nerve pinching is caused by a spinal segment becoming misaligned in the upper back or neck, pain will be felt in the shoulders, neck, or arms. If the misalignment is in the lower back area, pain will be felt there and perhaps down into the legs as well.

Perhaps chiropractic can give you relief from pain. Please for an examination which will determine the facts.

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,
My husband is walking around with a rainbow on his head. Thank God he needs glasses and he can't see the three colors on his head. I feel guilty for the messy color job, but I don't know what to do. He is thirty-three and all grey. He looked sophisticated but old. I bought chestnut brown and mixed the color with peroxide and applied it. It came out very well. A month went by, his hair grew so I reapplied the same color. There was some difference in the color. I followed the same process. The third month. It came out in three different colors. Why did this happen?

Your Reader With the husband with a rainbow on his head

Dear Reader,
Your husband had the hair that I would like to have - grey. If we could exchange I would pay a good sum. First, don't apply that type of a mixture on a man. There are colors on the market which do not contain peroxide, designed for men. If you use those peroxide colors you must apply the color on the roots first. After 15-20 minutes you apply it all over. Try this method and you'll see a vast improvement.

Anti-Recall Movement is Started; School Board Makes Big Changes

Thirty Years Ago

The Board of Commissioners describing Belleville as having an "acute housing space shortage," extended rent control from its date of expiration for another 17 months. Rain Washes Out Hoopster Contests

The opening of the heavens caused the cancellation of two games for the Belleville boys basketball team in the Bloomfield Summer Basketball League. The Bucs made up the Clifton game on Monday and yesterday squared off with arch rival Nutley. Next Tuesday, the team will face Bloomfield in a 7:45 p.m. start. A game with Bloomfield "B" team that was cancelled due to the rain will be made up, but the date had not been set as of press time.

Head coach Don Roll had a chance to assess his team's play through the first three games in which Belleville has posted a 2-1 mark. The Bucs only defeat was a 68-66 loss to Essex Catholic, a game where Belleville shot only 35 percent from the foul line.

"We've been doing a good job," said Roll. "However, we have to hit our foul shots and take advantage of what the other team gives us. We could have won that Essex Catholic game."

Phil Colalillo has been super all summer long. The upcoming senior tallied 42 points in the Essex Catholic game and gets better game by game. Roll has been using him as a power forward and Colalillo has come through strong. "He's our offense," said Roll. "The other kids look to him and Phil knows this. He's hitting his jump shots well and continues to improve."

Colalillo has been playing the entire summer with a flurry. When he's not playing in the Bloomfield league, he takes part in the Seton Hall league at the University. The Seton Hall league features some of the best players in New Jersey and is giving Colalillo some excellent experience. When not participating in the league, he's playing basketball in the playgrounds. He is indeed, an all-year player.

Mike Sochaski has come around very well at the center position. He'll be a junior this year and has been giving a good show in the summer league. "This is his first shot at varsity ball in the summer," said Roll. "He's going a nice job. He handles the pressure well and is not making the mental errors."

The guards this season have been Danny Ward and Dan Riordan. Riordan has been playing the point and is a very good outside shooter, something the Bucs could use this season. Ward has tremendous speed and leads the team in steals even though he has missed a game. He anticipates well and reads opponents' passes very well.

Nick Sotomayer and Joe Borrello have been used off the bench. Sotomayer should see a lot of time this year at the point. He has good speed and handles the ball well. Borrello has been the number one guard for the Bucs the last year and a half. He missed the start of the season because of baseball commitments and is just starting to round into shape.

The defensive whiz on the club is forward David Boyd. "He doesn't score a lot of points," said Roll, "because he works so hard on the defensive end. He did a great job on Essex Catholic's high scorer, holding him to 10 points. He can be a very good player."

The Bucs will be tested strongly the next two weeks. The Clifton, Nutley and Bloomfield A and B battles will decide the team's fate for the summer and will determine whether they will make the playoffs this summer. Most importantly, the games will give a strong indication of the work needed for the regular season, which begins in November.

Braves Must Win to Make Playoffs

Do or Die Situation Faces Belleville Team This Week

By Mike Lamberti

The Belleville Braves put themselves on the brink of disaster last week as they lost to Maplewood, 8-0 at Belleville High last Sunday.

The Braves, now 10-17, were in Union on Tuesday to face the Jayhawks and were at Millburn last night. Tonight, the Braves travel to Parsippany for a 6 p.m. contest and on Sunday will be home to Maplewood starting at 5 p.m.

"This is it," said head coach Sal Garilli. "We have to win. This week's games are a must. If we lose any more ground here, we're out of the playoff picture."

The Braves are battling

Maplewood, Millburn and the Union Rams for the playoff spot with one of those clubs missing out on the tournament once the regular season ends. If the playoffs were to start tomorrow, Belleville would be the odd team out.

Last week, the team did a good job in stopping the Union Jays, 1-0 as Scott Lutz hurled a masterpiece. Lutz went the distance in blanking the opposition and Mike Silvester drove home Gary Cook for the only run of the game in the sixth inning. "Scotty pitched great," said Garilli. "He did a marvelous job, perhaps his best game of the season."

After the strong showing, the Braves were ready for a key game with Maplewood last Sunday at Belleville High. They were throwing their ace pitcher, Anthony Coco, but Coco didn't have it in this contest and Maplewood breezed to an 8-0 victory. "What can I say," said Garilli, "He didn't have one of his better games. He's been pitching very well all season long, however he didn't have a good game last week."

The coach also gave praise to Maplewood for their good hitting. Belleville did have a few opportunities to score, including a bases loaded situation in the third inning, but the locals could not capitalize and they suffered a loss that greatly diminished their playoff hopes.

In addition to the loss against Maplewood, the team had a game with Irvington rained out that was later termed a forfeit on the part of Belleville. The details of that situation are sketchy at this time and Garilli is working on turning that ruling around.

"This is it, there are no more second chances for us," said the coach in closing. "If we don't pull out the wins this week, we can forget about the playoffs."

NOTES: Irvington continues to lead the Northern division of the ECBL, followed by Verona, West Orange and Belleville. In the south, Maplewood leads Millburn, the Union Jays and Union Rams. Garilli feels that the Maplewood club could be a surprise come playoff time. "They are mostly players from the Kean College team," said the coach. "They're good and have the pitching to carry them in the playoffs." The coach feels that Irvington, although the defending champs, might not repeat its crown. He also feels that Verona and West Orange don't have the arms in the playoffs to win.

Times Sports Flashback

Bellboys Find Hillside Tough, Beat An Overrated Nutley Team

January 17, 1982

Belleville upped its record for the season to six wins and two losses as the halfway mark of the season was reached by edging Hillside on Friday and humbling the Nutley team which did not live up to advance notices, 53-38 on Tuesday.

The Bellboys have an open date this weekend and do not play again until next Tuesday when they entertain a tough Clifton crew at the Belleville gym.

Belleville's fine shooting from both the outside and underneath the boards gave them their sixth victory Tuesday over an overrated Nutley five 53-38. The Raiders boasted a 5-2 record, as did the Bellboys. Belleville started to hit on its set shots and long ones from the side and kept it up throughout the first half to completely ruin Nutley's 2-1-2 zone alignment. As a result, Nutley trailed by 15 points at halftime and could not catch up.

Nutley's two publicized stars, Don Wallace and Richie Masters each got only three points although they played the entire 32 minutes. Paul Weinstein played the former Belleville Wallace on a man to man basis while the other four on the gold team played the traditional zone for which coach Wische is known. Belleville found Nutley's "Hard" baskets rather easy, not only found the hoops with their shots but controlled both boards. Hatcher scored with a set to open the game, Howie Fredericks evened it with a jump shot and Bob Machiorlete let go with one of those western type push shots to put Nutley ahead, 4-2.

The Bellboys broke into an 8-4 lead on two shots by Hatcher and a long set by Pete Benz. As the quarter ended, Paul Weinstein tossed in a jump shot to complete the scoring, but by that time Belleville was ahead, 16-10.

Belleville moved further ahead with a 14-5 second. A no lookie hook

(Please see "Hillside" on page 11.)

Laurie Scott Will Compete in Nationals

Bowling is one of the most popular indoor sports in America today. On many a winter afternoon, you will find bowling alleys throughout town crowded as leagues and tournaments heat up. The Pro Bowlers tour is one of ABC-TV's most popular draws and has been a regular on that station for 25 years. Bowling is a sport which is easy to score, not too easy to play but all in all, can be a lot of fun. You don't need too much equipment, other than a good pair of shoes and a bowling ball. It's a sport that the entire family can take part in and doesn't have physical limitations.

Here in town, bowling is especially popular. There are two bowling alleys in the area and both do a good business. The sport has also caught on big at Belleville High School where the varsity team recently completed a strong season, finishing second in the NNJIL, losing the crown by one game. The Bucs, coached by Mike Early, have a good nucleus returning in 84 and should put a good team on the floor.

One bowler, Laurie Scott, has been particularly impressive. The upcoming senior recently was selected to compete in the Coca Cola National Junior Bowling championships to be held in the Washington D.C. area. One hundred fifty nine bowlers will compete in the competition, with over $30,000 in college scholarships available. The tournament was held last weekend.

The bowlers are ninth through twelfth graders from the 50 states, two Canadian provinces and U.S. military bases in Europe. "It is with a great deal of excitement and enthusiasm that the Young American Bowling Alliance and Coca-Cola USA bring the State Junior Bowling Championship winners to Washington D.C. to participate in this tournament," said Executive Director of YABA, Charles F. Hall.

Scott, 17, is a majorette for the marching band, a member of the Key Club, choir and orchestra. She did a standout job for the varsity team as its only female member. On a number of occasions, Laurie was the top scorer for the Bucs. Upon graduation from Belleville, Scott hopes to attend Drew University with the ultimate dream of becoming an attorney.

Scott's excellence in bowling is another bright light for the town of Belleville. She is another example of the fine student athlete who has been a part of the sports scene the last six years. To reach a tournament of such prominence is a tremendous achievement and one that everyone in town should be proud of.

Competition for the championship started early this year when bowling centers conducted league tournaments. All junior bowlers through the age of 21 were eligible. Winners at the center level progressed to state tournaments. Then, the top bowlers in three divisions, boys' handicap, girls' handicap and scratch, advanced to the National Championships in Washington.

At the National tournament, there will be three four game blocks in each division. After these 12 games, the field will be cut to the top 24 bowlers who will participate in the four game semi-finals. Four bowlers from each division will go on to roll three head to head matches to determine their position in the step-ladder finals. The final round will match the fourth place against the third place bowler, with the winner pairing up against the second place winner.

The winner of that match then battles the first place winner for the ultimate championship.

The first place winner in each division will win a $5,000 scholarship, with $3,000, $2,000 and $1,000 for second, third and fourth places respectively. While in the National Capital area, the bowlers will tour many of the city's highlights, including the National Archives, the Library of Congress, the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, the Washington Monument, and the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

The tourney is being conducted for Coca-Cola by the YABA, formed Aug. 1, 1982 when the American Junior Bowling Congress, the Youth Bowling Association and the WIBC collegiate division joined to create one membership organization for all young bowlers. The YABA currently has 800,000 members.

Congratulations goes out to Laurie Scott on her marvelous achievement. The experience of competing against some of the top bowlers in the country should help her game a great deal and give the town of Belleville another prize athlete to take pride in.

The NFL training camps are under way and thank fully, the 1983 campaign will not be under the dark cloud of strike that the '82 campaign suffered. How will the Giants do, how will the Jets do, will the Redskins repeat their championship, can Dallas finally make the Super Bowl after three near misses, can New Orleans finally finish with a winning season, how about Seattle stealing the AFC West, could this be the year of the Charger, can the Colts win a game. All these questions will be answered in next week's edition of Buc Shots as we take a look at the upcoming NFL season. Also, our weekly NFL report will resume the week of Sept. 1 with weekly predictions of the upcoming games and analysis of the previous weeks' contests.

While we're talking about the NFL, have you noticed how many players have demanded to have their contracts renegotiated. There are a number of holdouts in the NFL this year, mainly because these players now have an alternative, the USFL. Some top line players have committed to the new league for upcoming seasons and now the current NFL players see this as a bargaining tool. Missing from their respective training camps are Laurence Taylor of the Giants, Anthony Munoz of Cincinnati and Gary Barbaro of the Kansas City Chiefs. These players are making in excess of $100,000 however feel that some of the rookies coming into the league are not worth the millions they are receiving. For example, John Elway and his one million per that the Denver Broncos are paying him. The players have a valid point. It also brings to mind a famous holdout back in 1977. That year, Steeler middle linebacker Jack Lambert demanded more money and missed the entire pre-season doing it. He returned with a new contract and has been a stalwart since. In 1976, Lambert made $35,000 as the premier linebacker in the game. How things have changed in seven years.

The major league baseball pennant races arsed hot as July comes to a close. In the National League East, there is a good possibility that we'll see a repeat of the '73 battle when the Mets won the crown with an 82-79 mark. This isn't to say that the Mets will win this year, but first place in the National League East boasts a .505 percentage. This isn't to say that the division is weak, because teams like Montreal, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and St. Louis are capable of beating anyone. Don't forget, the Cardinals are the defending world champions. Baseball has become a game of parity, a la Pete Roselle, and there no longer is that dominant team that was once so noticeable. You can attribute that to a better college baseball program throughout the country and players' salaries being so high. A team can no longer field a dominant team without paying a king's ransom. The good players are all over the league now. There is no sure bet in major league baseball today.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, who was the winning and losing pitcher in the seventh game of the 82 World Series and the series MVP. The answer: Juquin Andujar of the St. Louis Cardinals was the winning pitcher while former Card, Pete Vukovich lost it for Milwaukee. Darrell Porter was named the MVP. The Cards won game seven, 6-3 and Keith Hernandez drove in the winning run.

For this week's quiz, name the team with the most losses in the AFC championship game.

Heard At Ringside

By Steve H. Frank

Mustafa Hamsho, native of Syria, now residing in Bayonne, mauled and brawled his way to thoroughly dominating the boxer, Wilfred Benitez of Puerto Rico, at The Dunes in Las Vegas. Hamsho won an unanimous 12-round decision as the three judges, Lou Tabat, Chuck Minker and Dalby Shirley all favored Hamsho. They voted 118-109, 117-111 and 119-111, respectively. Twenty-year-old Hamsho is now 37-2-2. While the 24-year-old Benitez is 44-3-1. Al Certo of Secaucus is now managing the Bayonne battler since the passing of Paddy Flood. Hamsho will automatically become the middleweight champion if present titleholder Marvin Hagler does not abide by WBC rules. Otherwise Hamsho is ranked No. 1 contender for the crown.

Heavyweight Tim Witherspoon of Philadelphia pounded a 10-round unanimous victory over Floyd "Jumbo" Cummings of Chicago at The Dunes. Jackie Beard of Detroit successively defended his NABF featherweight title by outpointing Margrito Marquez of Chicago in a 12-rounder. In another heavyweight Anthony Davis of Las Vegas scored a seventh-round KO over Young Joe Louise a/k/a Eddie Taylor of Chicago.

Another old friend of the boxing world took the "long count" two weeks ago. Former heavyweight Sal Ruggirello died at the Irvington General Hospital at age 78. Sal was an outstanding fighter in the late 20's and early 30's. He was the European heavyweight champion claimant during the 1930's. Born in France, he lived in Newark for many years before moving to Irvington.

Teddy Mann of Philadelphia quit the fight jungle after three successive losses in 1982. May 16 lost unanimous 10-round decision to James Green at Atlantic City; Aug. 20 lost unanimous decision to John Collins in Chicago and Oct. 20 lost via TKO in sixth round to Doug De Witt in White Plains, N.Y. Teddy claims he has his head on straight and will return to the "wars" on Aug. 2, at Atlantic City's Tropicana. He will face Detroit's William Lee in a 10-round middleweight scrap.

Publicist Sy Roseman informs the monthly professional boxing show scheduled for July at the Golden Eagle Arena has been cancelled. Promoter Joe Verne of Philadelphia is busy putting together a show for Thurs., Aug. 25, featuring some top, young pros. In the meantime, some of the best prospects whom Verne has developed and has promotional rights — Rodney Frazier, heavyweight; Joe Frazier, Jr., junior welterweight and Greg Edelman, junior welterweight — have been booked for fights in Atlantic City. Chuck Verne is manager of the above fights with Joe Frazier, Sr.

NBC's "Sportsworld" will televise on Channel 4 the live coverage from the Palazzo della Sport in Rome, Italy, on July 24, a 10-round welterweight bout featuring Nino La Rocca vs. Pete Ranzany. Flashy La Rocca demolished Bobby Joe Young of Steubenville, Ohio, April 10. He now sports a 50-0 with 39 KO diary. Ranzany of Sacramento, Calif., boasts 59-7-2 with 38 KOs. La Rocca, a native of Mauritania (name was Tidjani Sidibe), is enormously popular in Italy. He legally had his name changed and has applied for citizenship papers in Italy.

Puerto Rican Carlos "Sugar" De Leon regained the WBC Cruiserweight crown by convincingly thrashing S.T. Gordon of Las Vegas, Sunday, at The Dunes in Las Vegas. De Leon used a stiff left jab to keep the slow, sluggish Gordon off balance thus setting him up for crushing right-hand shots. Gordon was dumped on the seat of his trunks in the first and 12th rounds. The judges saw the 12-round, all for De Leon, Ray Solis, and Jose Guerra had it 119-109. While Tomasito Tomihara handed in a 118-112. Twenty-four-year-old Gordon earned $120,000 while losing the title. De Leon, also 24, picked up $50,000 and a title. It was a Don King promotion.

Lou Duva of Totowa, is the successful manager of a number of fighters. On Tuesday evening it wasn't about boxing he called this meeting of 75 people at the Brownstone House in Paterson. It was an announcement that he has obtained the charter to the 10th Italian-American Hall of Fame in the United States. National headquarters is in Chicago, Illinois, and George Randazzo is president. Duva was elected president, Bill De Marco and Frank Fica were elected vice presidents.

Joe Comforte, former manager of a string of fighters including Colombian heavyweight Bernard Marcado, fled his Mustang Ranch in Reno, also known as "the best little house in Nevada," to Brazil. Comforte was evading the Feds for three years because of a tax evasion conviction. Now the government wants Comforte for a different reason. They would like to have him to testify in a bribe case against District Judge Harry Claiborne. In Joe's absence his wife has been controlling the fighters.

Michael Spinks' refusal to go through with his defense of the light heavyweight was justified according to the fight-beat fans. Eddie Mustafa Muhammad was forced to lose weight when he lost his title at Las Vegas, July 18, 1981. Eddie at the time screamed the scales were fixed. On Friday, July 15, 1983, promoter Butch Lewis paid to have the Federal Bureau of Weights and Measures check the scales. When Eddie weighed two-and-a-half pounds over the 175-pound limit he refused to lose the excess avoirdupois. He again hollered, "The scale is fixed!" When he came into the press conference, accompanied by about 20 leathered-jacketed toughs and attempted to take over the microphone from the promoter (Lewis), Eddie Mustafa by these unprofessional acts put him on the wrong track with the press. It took 20 city policemen and security guards to restore order.

Sounders, Rowdies Bow To Unimpressive Cosmos

By Mike Lamberti

They weren't artistic, and they weren't overly impressive, but the Cosmos won two ball games last week, boosting their overall record to 14-7 and keeping their hopes alive for the overall point championship of the NASL.

The Cosmos have a quiet week, playing the pesky Chicago Sting on Saturday at Chicago. The Cosmos are 0-2 against their Eastern division nemesis this season and regard this contest as crucial in their season. Next Wednesday, the team returns home to face the San Diego Sockers. San Diego, who has been to the NASL semi-finals the last four years, got off to a 2-10 start; however they have won three straight and will be a tough chore for the defending champs.

Last week, the Cosmos defeated Seattle, 4-3 in the shootout and stopped the Tampa Bay Rowdies 5-4 last Saturday night in Tampa. The win boosted the Cosmos point total to 117 points and gives them hope of catching the Vancouver Whitecaps who lead the league with 130. Just two weeks ago, the Cosmos were written off in their chances of capturing the point title. Now, they indeed have a good chance.

On paper, the Cosmos were supposed to beat Seattle and Tampa. The Sounders are struggling this year, holding a 7-11 record, a far cry from last year's team that went to the Soccer Bowl before losing to the Cosmos. The Rowdies came in with a 5-15 mark, an even farther cry from the great teams that dominated the late 70's and early 80's. Only 13,000 plus showed up at Tampa Stadium last Saturday when normally over 40,000 would fill the park for a Cosmos-Rowdies game.

Against Tampa Bay, the Cosmos got three goals from red hot Roberto Cabanas, who now leads the league in scoring by 13 points over Giorgio Chinaglia and Kevin Byrne of Toronto. Since Chinaglia went down with a pulled hamstring, Cabanas has done the job offensively. Also, Steve Moyers has come around after an early slump and is playing very well. Moyers tallied a goal in the Tampa contest and Vladislav Bogicevic scored the winner with just five minutes left in regulation time.

It was a topsy, turvy affair from the outset. The Rowdies played an inspired game, beating Cosmos keeper Hubert Birkenmeier four times. Only some great saves by Birkenmeier kept the contest from being a one sided Tampa affair. Hubert's fine play made up for some noticeable defensive lapses on the part of his teammates. To the Cosmos defense, the team has been hobbled by injuries, most noticeably Franz Beckenbauer, Wim Rjeisbergen and Chinaglia. Darryl Gee went down in the Seattle contest with a leg injury and Moyers has been playing with a sore knee. Head coach Julio Mazzei has been looking to the Cosmos top brass, Warner Communications, for additional help; however Warner is not in a good financial picture right now to spend the additional money. Thus, the team has been forced to play short handed.

Against Seattle last Wednesday, the Cosmos were in control until five minutes left in regulation time. The team had taken a 3-1 lead and seemed headed to an easy victory. However, the Sounders tallied twice in the last five minutes, stunning the 19,500 in attendance at Giants Stadium and sending the game into overtime.

This was a contest that the Cosmos tried to hand to Seattle. In the first overtime, Cabanas was fouled in the penalty area and the Cosmos were awarded a penalty kick. It appeared the game was won as Moyers lined up to take the kick, which many feel is an automatic goal. However, Sounder keeper Joe Corrigan had other ideas. The keeper made a diving save of Moyers's shot and the game went on.

In the shootout, Seattle jumped out to a 1-0 lead, but the Cosmos got goals from Moyers, Ricky Davis and Julio Caesar Romero to pull out the win. Once again, it wasn't their best effort of the season, but the Cosmos continue to win the ball games in key situations and are still on the heels of Vancouver for the point championship.

NOTES: Cosmos have opened up some space in the NASL east. They now lead Toronto by 16 points. Chicago has been coming on strong and if they beat the Cosmos, could make the race very interesting. The Sting trail the Cosmos by 29 points; however they have three games in hand and have been playing their best soccer of the season the last two weeks. Ft. Lauderdale and Tulsa continue to battle for supremacy in the Southern Division. Vancouver leads the west over Golden Bay.

shot which went through the basket after the buzzer for the half had sounded thrown by Hatcher counted, even though some Belleville fans felt the shot should not have counted.

The last half was marked by surges from both clubs. The third quarter, however, was livened by another shot by Hatcher. This one was a driving, double delay falling away layup. Benz, who finished with 13 points, hit with a very long set to bring the fans to their feet.

In the final period, Belleville worked on the perfection of its semi freeze, and the subs played the last two minutes going in with a 13 point bulge. Hatcher had a good night, with 18 points, Benz had 13 and Weinstein and Engel, 11 each. George Plosa didn't even aim a shot at the rim.

For Nutley, Fredericks had 16 and Machiorlette 10. Nutley's jayvee squad took the measure of Belleville's team in the second game.

In the Hillside game, some unbelievable shooting by the Comets was almost Belleville's downfall, but sloppy Hillside ball in the final quarter enabled Wische's boys to nip the latter by the scant margin of one point, 52-51 last Friday night.

With their jug or bottle zone and phenomenal one hand shooting, coach Joe Silver's boys had Belleville fans looking to the heavens for relief. They continued their erratic shooting when they were well into the lead when a freeze would have probably given them the game.

Going into the last quarter, the Bellboys were losing 39-34 and were given orders to get the ball to Weinstein in the pivot. Weinstein gave himself another birthday present as he started the quarter with a driving, leaping jump shot. Hatcher made a long set followed by a free throw by Dave Doremus of Hillside which gave the visitors a two point lead.

The enthusiastic crowd, which incidentally had been warned to remain quiet on foul shots by the officials, went wild as Engel tossed in a long push from the side to tie the score, 40 all. The lead then seesawed, Hatcher and Petti sparking the Belleville offense while Brogan and Massomino did the same for Hillside. With about three minutes to go after Brogan had made a long push to make the score 49-46 Hillside, a technical foul was called on the Hillside team for delaying the game. Engel made the free throw and with two and one half minutes left, Weinstein hit a jump shot, tying the score at 49.

Fifteen seconds later, Massimino of Hillside missed a foul shot that might have iced the game. Hatcher hit a beautiful jump shot to put Belleville ahead, 51-49. Then Hillside took a stupid shot with Belleville rebounding and the Bellboys held the ball out. The Comets broke to man to man and Paul Weinstein, who had the ball, tried in vain to call time out as he was being pressed and the referee didn't hear his cry. However, an instance later, he was fouled, made the foul and iced the game for Belleville. Just as the buzzer sounded, John Kovacks of Hillside drove through and made a layup which altered the score an insufficient two points. Belleville had made its record 5-2.

Hillside took an early lead and Belleville was hard pressed to cut the gap to 14-12 after one quarter. Corky Galtiere was doing most of the rebounding for the Bellboys and mostly on the defensive boards. He was continually fighting off big Skippy Rose of Hillside and this time though, Belleville's shooting was very poor. Only in the last quarter did Belleville outplay the visitors but it was when it counted. Although Belleville missed a lot of shots, they seemed to control the apple enough to make up for it. The Belleville jayvees continued their streak as they beat the Comets, 42-34.

EDITOR'S NOTES: Obviously, Belleville had a good team 31 years ago. For history buffs, back in 1952 the Giants were playing baseball in the Polo Grounds, the Dodgers were tearing up Ebbets Field and a rookie by the name of Mickey Mantle was making waves at Yankee Stadium. Billy Martin was breaking in as the Yankee second baseman and Tom Seaver was five years old. See how many of the names in this story seem familiar to you. Tune in next week as Flashback tunes in to another era of Belleville sports.

A Local Girl With A Load of Interest

stronger now and even won some ribbons," she smiled.

An articulate person who says, "I used to be very shy," Susan granted a peek at her room.

My father says its cluttered, but this room is really comfortable for me," she said, opening the door on a rose and pink colored haven, complete with a stereo, softball trophies, and posters of rock stars covering the walls.

Alongside photos of "General Hospital" soap stars, hangs a series of ribbons won in swim meets. On another wall, Susan's artistic sketches balance out her academic certificates, among them a 1982 citation from Johns Hopkins University where Susan was one of a specially selected group of seventh graders permitted by the State Department of Education to take — on a practice basis — the Scholastic Aptitude Tests administered to high school juniors for college entrance.

"I don't like to push, but I just want Susan to be somebody someday," said her mother who roamed alongside.

It's a pretty sure bet, she'll get her wish.

NOVENA TO ST. JUDE

This novena has never been known to fail. This novena must be said for 9 consecutive days. Publication must be promised.
O Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present urgent petition. In return, I promise to make your name known and call you to be invoked. St. Jude, pray for us all who invoke your aid.
Amen
Say 3 Our Father's, 3 Hail Mary's and 3 Gloria's.
