Give The Gift Of Life

Donors Wanted — Linda Pignatiello, assistant store manager, urges donors to beat a path to Pathmark's Community Blood Bank, set for Saturday, August 13 at the Washington Avenue store. The drive, called for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., will be conducted in the parking lot by the North Jersey Blood Center. All healthy area residents between 17 and 66 are urged to come and donate. Seventeen-year-olds need written permission from parent or guardian.

Slow Chemical Clean Up Annoys Commissioners

By Linda Telesco

Tired of delays, Commissioners adopted a get-tough policy with the agency hired to perform the cleanup of Research Organic-Inorganic Co., the Main Street facility which was the site of several toxic leaks last spring.

Although the board hired West the Milford firm Solvents for Energy last month, the agency has not yet been able to begin clean up activities, claiming difficulties in obtaining the necessary bonding, according to Township Attorney Frank Zinna.

Commissioners voted 3-0 Monday to give the firm, which proposed to do the job for $100,000, until noon Wednesday to take action. If it fails to meet the deadline, the board will award the contract to another bidder.

Mayor Michael Marotti opposed the set deadline. "I don't even want to give them that long. They've had enough time."

Solvents for Energy won the job with the lowest of three bids presented to Commissioners. According to Zinna, the agency is actually a broker which will contract out the cleanup and disposal of some 1,006 chemical containers still at the Main Street site.

Zinna said he has a prepared contract, but despite calls to the firm's attorney, no action has yet been taken.

"They said they're trying to get a bond from a Boston company," said Zinna who noted the firm then offered to put up over $200,000 in cash to be held in escrow until the bond is approved.

However, the firm then decided against that plan. "We bent over backward for these guys because of the savings in dollars," said Zinna who had previously checked the company out with the state Department of Environmental Protection and found them to be it.

Annoyed, Mayor Marotti said, "I think they just can't find anyone to do the job. They knew they were getting this. Why didn't they apply for a bond three weeks ago?"

Commissioner Joseph Grande questioned the reliability of the agency. "If they were concerned, they would have sent a representative here tonight to explain themselves."

Grande also noted the need to act more quickly since school will be open in a matter of weeks. The contaminated site is located next to School 9 which has been closed since the toxic leak May 20 and students were relocated for the rest of the year.

In fact, the West Milford firm failed to appear at a June session held for bidders. A company representative who learned of Belleville's needs had telephoned Zinna personally and Commissioners found the price so attractive they held out for SOE.

However, if the company does not act decisively this week, the contract will be offered to the second lowest bidder, Applied Technology of Toms River.

AT told the board July 5 it could do the job for an estimated flat fee of $198,000, which would cover a cleanup and disposal project of four weeks.

Zinna told the board that AT had previously indicated it could get a bond and be ready to work within one day of notification.

Officials Debating Rent Hike Decrease

Adding to their recommended revisions of the Belleville Rent Control Ordinance, the Rent Leveling Board met with Commissioners Monday to propose lowering the present 6 percent annual increase landlords are permitted to impose on apartments covered by the ordinance.

Rent Board Chairman Ron Platt explained, "We suggest a 3 or 4 percent raise since many costs are going down."

His colleague Danny Del Tufo agreed. "Inflation is going down, so permitted increases should go down too."

Rent Leveling member Edith DeFeo objected to her fellow board members' proposal. "I would favor lowering the ceiling for those landlords who do not supply heat, but the others ones are getting hurt."

DeFeo claimed that with tax hikes, increases in water rates, and rising insurance premiums, landlords still experience increased costs regardless of inflation rates.

"Small landlords are getting clobbered," she said. "The big apartment owners don't suffer. They just go condo."

Her colleagues noted, however, that DeFeo's remarks did not apply to Belleville yet, since requests to convert to condominiums must come through the Rent Board and the panel said it has not received any to date.

As for the issue of relieving the landlords who supply heat, Del Tufo pointed out that past practices never provided relief for the tenant who paid his own heat. That tenant received the same 6 percent annual increase as the one who had heat supplied.

Member Viola Spray also favored reducing the increase ceiling. "Landlords can always make up the difference when they come in for a hardship increase." Also, Spray deplored the practice of landlords who obtained large hardship increases year after year while neglecting the property.

Hardship increases are granted to those landlords who apply to the board for permission to raise rents above the rent ordinance maximum in order to realize enough capital to make necessary repairs.

Additionally, Del Tufo reiterated his support for requiring landlords to get a certificate of occupancy from local health and building inspectors before they can rent an apartment.

Del Tufo argued that there is still a great housing shortage and people are being forced to rent apartments which are actually sub-standard. "Landlords rent them without fixing them because they know it's hard to find an apartment and people will take anything."

He said the certificate requirements would "upgrade apartments in Belleville."

Mayor Michael Marotti told the four rent board members present, that the Commissioners would review the suggestions and meet with them again in September.

Still to be formally acted upon are other revisions including vacancy decontrol, annual registration of rents by landlords, discretionary implementation of hardship increases, and rebate of rental overcharges by landlords, a package of recommendations that has been simmering for over two years now in local efforts to revise Belleville's ordinance.

Recreation Department Carnival on August 18

The Belleville Recreation Department will hold its annual playground carnival on Thursday, August 18 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Proceeds from this year's carnival will be donated to the Bobby Travers Leukemia Fund, to benefit the 12-year-old Belleville youth who has leukemia.

The carnival will be held at the Recreation House at 407 Jorammon St., and it promises to provide much enjoyment for children of all ages in the form of games, stands, prizes, and food and drink. The day's activities will be fully supervised by the summer recreation staff.

The rain date for the carnival will be Friday, August 19. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Merchants and Citizens Voice Disapproval Over Construction Of New Police Complex

With charges of unresponsive government and hints of forcing a recall of the newly elected Commissioners, the Belleville Chamber of Commerce staged still another protest at Monday's town meeting against recent proposals to construct a $1.6 million public safety complex on county-owned property adjacent to the Franklin Avenue fire headquarters.

Over 30 merchants and businesspeople turned out to repeat their objections against moving the police department away from the center of town.

Presently, the police are located in the basement of Town Hall at Washington Avenue, facilities considered inadequate and cramped by officials and citizens alike.

Last July 11, Commissioners approved a capital ordinance appropriating $1,725,000 and authorizing issuance of $665,000 bonds to finance construction of a new police building contingent upon receipt of a federal grant.

Preliminary plans call for constructing the complex, which will house police and municipal court, on property which may be leased to Belleville by Essex County for a nominal fee.

Distressed by what it interprets as an abandonment of the township's main business district, the chamber prepared some 17 formal questions put to the four Commissioners present Monday.

Absent was Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica, the main proponent of the new location and the Commissioner with the answers the crowd wanted, according to Mayor Michael Marotti, who said Pica was vacationing in Florida and "who have loved to be here."

Marotti said he believed Pica's reasoning was to keep the police and fire departments closer together for better communication.

Merchants object to the plan because they feel it shows lack of faith in the redevelopment of Washington Avenue — a campaign slogan touted by all the candidates — by removing the visible presence of police officers changing shifts from the central district. The chamber also claimed the move would result in higher taxes for Belleville citizens and is a risky project to spend local monies constructing facilities on property owned by the county.

Officials have been generally united in their rebuttals that the actual location of the police headquarters has no direct effect on response time in an emergency.

They also note the July 11 vote approved the bond but did not lock the board into a specific site for the project, which, they noted, will not even materialize if the federal monies do not come through.

Mayor Marotti also noted he and Township Attorney Frank Zinna recently conferred with Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro and Freeholder President Jerome Greco on possible lease terms.

Marotti said the township requested a 99-year lease, but the county officials offered a 50-year lease. "We asked for an option for another 50 years or even to buy the land ourselves," said Marotti.

The mayor denied suggestions that the county agencies will use the municipal building and said the only request from Shapiro is that Belleville police patrol the entrances and exits of adjacent county property.

Local businessman Joseph Dasaro, who is also a member of the Belleville Redevelopment Agency, argued that if the lease expires and the land reverts to the county, Belleville taxpayers will have, in effect, financed construction of a county facility.

Reading the list of questions, Dasaro asked Finance Commissioner Joseph McGreevy for an estimate of interest fees on the $665,000 bonds and consequent costs to taxpayers if the township succeeds in obtaining federal funds.

"I won't answer any hypothetical questions," shouted an angry McGreevy while Dasaro accused him of "unresponsive government."

However, under later questioning by citizen James Golden, McGreevy admitted taxpayers would definitely see an increase next year, if the plans go through and he alluded to a possible accumulated debt of $3 million.

On the matter of costs, Marotti said the $1,725,000 to be raised by township funds will cover only the building, not the furnishings.

Frustrated by the Mayor's insistence on waiting for Pica to return because he is the police commissioner to answer certain questions, the Chamber turned to the two newest Commissioners for reaction and got answers that pleased them more.

Public Works Director Joseph Grande said, "I voted for the funding. I don't know if they money can be shifted but I don't feel committed to a specific location."

More boldly, Grande said, "If I were director of public safety, I would be vehement in this. I believe in the redevelopment of Washington Avenue."

When asked, Commissioner Michael Pizzi said, "There's been no firm decision yet," but he conceded to merchants' argument about police visibility on the Avenue. "I can't argue with that. More people will see the building on Washington Avenue than on Franklin Avenue."

Dasaro further noted that one year ago, the township paid $14,000 for professional planners Township Associates to conduct a feasibility study for the redevelopment of Washington Avenue.

One of the major recommendations of that study was to maintain a strong, visible town center. The planners suggested making the police department the focus of that center.

Like many other diseases, epilepsy afflicts people through no fault of their own—four million Americans, in fact. Although epilepsy is a general term that is used for a number of different types of disorders, each usually involves seizures and convulsions. A seizure is a loss of awareness to some degree. A convulsion is some degree of involuntary body motion. In all cases, epilepsy is associated with a faulty firing of nerves in the brain. Today, more than 70% of epileptics can be rendered virtually free of their symptoms by utilizing anticonvulsant drugs as part of their treatment. Quite often, when such treatment is administered early, young patients can actually be cured.

When the treatment for your disease includes prescription medication come to ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1958. "Your Doctor Knows Us—Your Doctor Trusts Us". We handle the sale and rental of convalescent aids including: walkers, wheel chairs, crutches and canes. Open: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays.

HANDY HINT:
The oldest drug used in the treatment of epilepsy is the barbiturate phenobarbital.

Comparing the State's School Curriculum With National Board Recommendations

Urging more rigor in public education, the National Commission on Excellence in Education is recommending a minimum curriculum that every high school student should successfully complete before issued a diploma. How does New Jersey compare?

In this state, the setting of graduation requirements has traditionally been left to local control. That is, each community's school board decides what courses its students must pass to earn a high school diploma.

However, a few requirements do appear in state law, and the state board of education has also fixed minimum statewide requirements for graduation. The courses required by statute are encompassed by those adopted by the state board.

State law requires two years of American history in the high schools, including instruction about the U.S. Constitution. The legislature has also enacted general subject-matter requirements such as instruction on the effects of drugs and alcohol, the "principles of humanity," the prevention of fire and accidents, and "sexual assault prevention" to be taught in "appropriate places of the curriculum."

Moreover, New Jersey law gives the state board of education the power to "prescribe minimum courses of study for the public schools." Under this provision, the state education board, by the adoption of regulations has fixed seven requirements that every student must take and pass to earn a high-school diploma. Here's how New Jersey's requirements compare with those recommended by the National Commission's report:

The report recommended that four years of English be required for high school graduation. The State of New Jersey requires four years of "communication."

The report recommends that three years of math be required in high school. New Jersey requires two years of "computation."

The report recommends three years of science. New Jersey requires one year.

The report recommends three years of social studies. New Jersey requires two years.

The report recommends one-half year of computer science. New Jersey has no computer-education requirements for high-school graduation.

For the college-bound, the report recommends two years of foreign language. New Jersey has no foreign-language requirements for the college-preparatory diploma.

The state education board has fixed other graduation requirements in areas not touched by the National Commission's report. These include four years of physical education, health, and/or safety; one year of fine, practical, and/or performing art; and a half year of "career exploration or development." The State Board has also adopted a requirement for sex or family-life education throughout the grades.

The National Commission's report stresses that its recommendations are for minimums. All students should have at least the courses recommended, but the commission would prefer that they have more exposure in each recommended area.

The state education board's graduation requirements are also minimums. In the college-preparatory course at least, New Jersey high schools require more course work of students than that set by the state regulation.

Public Safety Building

Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica has proposed a plan that would build a new public safety building on Franklin Avenue, near the new fire station on land owned by Essex County.

Led by members of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, residents of the Washington Avenue area have expressed bitter opposition to the proposal.

Over the years, Belleville has produced great public servants — dedicated, able, and honest.

There is no money in or out of anybody's pocket if the public facility were to be located on Franklin Avenue as proposed by Commissioner Matthew Pica. On the other hand, there is no money in or out of anybody's pocket if further consideration is given to restructuring the present public safety building, updating it, and making it more useful.

Let us face a fact of life — the Police Department is in the basement of the Town Hall. It is time we brought members of that department into the last half of the century. Town Hall — and the public safety facility can no longer remain as they are. A decision has to be made.

Commissioner Pica has rendered his judgment. In the interests of satisfying the complaints of those in opposition to the change, it seems to be desirable to have several town meetings in various sections of the community to permit the input of more public opinion for the guidance of our elected officials.

Everybody we know, was — and is — in favor of rebuilding

Washington Avenue. The first one to be expected in the line of supporters for such an event is the Township of Belleville with its money.

There is all kinds of talk throughout the town as to what will happen to Commissioners who vote to move the public safety building off of Washington Avenue. A recall election against those who vote for the location change is a foremost in the minds of some people who sincerely oppose the change.

In its lifetime, Belleville has seen enough of recall elections. A threat of this nature will not benefit the community and will only stiffen the resistance of public officials who are at the center of those discussions.

Reason should rule the day. The initiative to convene evening meetings to give the public a chance to express itself in various parts of town, should be the responsibility of our public officials. The results of those public meetings may not change a single attitude, but at the very least, our people would be more knowledgeable of the whys and wherefores of both proposals. Before tempers heat up much more, the cooling off process could begin by scheduling a public meeting to discuss the single topic of the public safety facility location.

Frank A. Orechio

Dirty and Dishonest

The Republican Legislative Campaign was kicked-off recently with a direct mail to many 30th legislative district voters. If the first letter is any indication of what the Republicans have in store for the rest of the campaign, we can look forward to a Republican campaign based upon gutter-level tactics and dishonest campaigning.

One message included in the mailing was a message to voters to elect a Republican Senator who is honest and independent. The implication, of course, is that the incumbent Senator, Senate President Carmen Orechio, is otherwise. The perpetrators of this message are insulting, degrading, and dishonest. If there are two virtues Senator Orechio has in abundance they are personal integrity, unchallenged honesty, and total independence. Orechio has a 15-year public record to prove it.

This gutter campaigning is dirty and dishonest. It is now obvious the Republican leadership is prepared to stoop to anything and stop at nothing to win legislative seats.

The voters of the 30th District are too intelligent to fall for these tactics. They will not permit their votes to be stolen by deception. Neither will they permit their votes to be bought. The State Director of the Republican campaign told a Star-Ledger columnist that the Republican party will spend "whatever it takes" to win the Senate seat in this 30th District. In plain English, the Republican party is prepared to spend any amount of money to win the election.

At last report, Republicans look forward to spending $500,000 to beat Orechio. To spend "whatever it takes" simply means the Republicans are prepared to buy the legislative election in the 30th District.

Democrat and Independent votes are not on the auction block. Republicans, too — loyal Republicans — resent the idea that votes could be bought, even for a Republican.

Buying votes is very much a part of the dead past — the Republican campaign director will learn this fact of life in November.

Chamber Not Happy With Police Moving

To the editor:
This letter is in response to a citizen who says he's concerned: Robert Cozzarelli.

In his letter to the concerned citizens to Belleville he believes "the main reason the 'Town Center' has never progressed is because the people and merchants of Belleville have only foreseen the doom of the 'Big Bad City of Newark' creeping up Washington Avenue." It would seem to us that Mr. Cozzarelli hasn't been on the south end of Washington Avenue in many moons, or at least since he started writing with crayon!

He also states that we should "open our eyes," well, now we want to open his eyes as to the merchants who have invested hundreds of thousands of dollars into this area: Branch Brook Manor, Pariso Bros., Bigelow Motors, Husky Leasing, Casale Realty, Belleville Typewriter, Belleville Car Care, Act II Consignment Shoppe, King of Belleville, International Business Systems, Karl's Appliance Center, C'D Deli, Kerner's Belleville Travel Service, Crescent Press, Fran's Dry Cleaners, Jovial Card and Gift Shoppe, Michael's Men's Wear, Tarantino's Ristorante, Gorgan's Traffic Jam, Belleville Shoes, Head over Heals, Three Guys from Italy, Charles Jewelers, Belleville Honda, Troise Insurance, Flowerama, Flemings Bar Supply, Milt's Photo, an I've only listed businesses as far as Rutgers Street. There are many more fine establishments along Washington Avenue right up to the Nutley line. All of whom employ hundreds of people. All of whom put in long hours to serve the citizens of Belleville. These same people and their employees stand unanimous in their hopes for the revitalization of our main thoroughfare.

When the issue of the Police Station moving to Franklin Avenue was made public, the phones jumped off the hook at the Chamber of Commerce office and at my place of business. People were outraged, confused, and asked the question, "Why, what's the sense of it?" Our townspeople have a great respect for our police. Almost all the phonecalls mentioned that they have no complaint with the police force, in fact, they think they are doing an excellent job! Our streets are safe because of the deployments of the radio cars and the walking police patrol. For that we are all thankful! We are in agreement with the fact that the Police Department is in dire need of better working facilities and we feel that a new police facility is warranted ON WASHINGTON AVENUE! The Commissioners created the Belleville Redevelopment Agency of which Mr. Cozzarelli is an "appointed Commissioner." Town Plan Associates was contracted and paid $14,000 to project and survey Washington Avenue for revitalization, and submitted to the agency and Commissioners a propose plan which included new police facilities on Washington Avenue. Here is a quote from a letter from Thomas B. Thomas, president of Town Plan Associates dated July 8th:

"It is imperative that prior to proceeding with the relocation of the police facility that the impact of this move be evaluated. It is our opinion that the improvement of the 'Town Center' area could be significantly advanced if public improvement in the form of new construction for a police facility was made in the 'Town Center' area. This construction could function as a catalyst to stimulate private reinvestment."

On June 28th at a meeting of the Belleville Redevelopment Agency an opinion statement urging the Town Fathers to adhere to the projections of Town Plan Associates was unanimously approved by: Joseph Dassaro, Ron De Piro, Gabriel Nazzola, Andrew Colaninno and guess who? Robert Cozzarelli... You Voted For It!

In the past two years, the Chamber of Commerce has grown from 75 to 175 in membership. That is Not the sign of a dying town!... that's revitalization! I do not have to get on the phone when a new business opens in Belleville... they call us! These are industrious people who give of their time and money to make it "better in Belleville."

Once again, we wish to state that we are in favor of a new police facility on Washington Avenue. We will work just as hard and along with the Town Fathers when it comes to contributions or funding to keep the police station on Washington Avenue... Where It Belongs!

Sen. Orechio Gets Thanks

To the editor:

I wish not only to thank Senator Carmen Orechio publicly for voting against Senate bill S-597 but especially to bring this matter to the awareness of the public.

This bill would have wiped out the right of wives to be supported in the home. If passed into law, it would have had a devastating effect upon traditional family life by destroying the right — and the option — of a woman to be a fulltime homemaker as wife and mother.

Once again Senator Orechio has demonstrated his perception and his dedication to the family by refusing to support a bill, written by a member of his own party, which he knew did not reflect the wishes or interests of his constituents.

For his fortitude in resisting the pressures placed upon him to support this destructive piece of legislation, all subscribers to traditional family values owe him a debt of thanks and support.

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Never before in the memory of living students of Belleville's turbulent political past has a new local administration incurred the wrath of its citizens and the business community than the present Board of Commissioners by their wanton disregard of the will of the people.

The unanimous vote to move police headquarters and the court from its present convenient central location has infuriated the business community and the Chamber of Commerce which is circulating petitions calling for reconsideration of the high-handed manner in which their sentiments and views were ignored.

The petition accentuates the unexplained complete reversal of policy by the township governing body from the $14,000 Town Plan Associates proposal, paid for by the township, which was designed to revitalize the Washington Avenue business section and provided for expansion and modernization of the present Town Hall building for which plans had been submitted and published in the local press on its front page.

Why! What, people are asking, brought about this sudden change of policy? When people ask questions, they speculate on motivating reasons that possibly might contribute to the policy "about-face" of the present Board of Commissioners which has but two new members.

When the question was put at the July 11 Commission meeting as to the terms of the new Franklin Avenue fire station on county property, regarding the provision for an option by the township to renew the lease, it was established that NO such option existed. This provoked Commissioner Grande, an honorable man, to promptly interject that he had labored under the understanding that such an option existed and had so advised some people. He stated that he did not want to become a liar and seemed shocked at this revelation.

This could mean that at the expiration of that lease the county could take over the firehouse we built and paid for and force Belleville out. Do we want to make the same foolish mistake and now give the county a police and court complex that the county will eventually own?

What is more, many discerning people speculate that the county, realizing the reluctance of jurors, lawyers and judges to go to the present County Court House in Newark, might have its eye on a new court building built by Belleville taxpayers knowing that the present local court only hold sessions on Wednesday night and Thursday mornings. That could be a windfall set-up for the county. Could it not?

The spring election campaign for local commission office was long and brought a few surprises, but, none quite as disturbing as this earth-shaking proposal to move police headquarters to Franklin Avenue on county property. Surely, it was never discussed nor mentioned during the campaign. Who, what, when, where and why did this puzzling brainchild become conjured up in the minds of our Town Fathers?

Despite the strenuous opposition of the Chamber of Commerce, service groups and most of the citizenry, already concerned over increased water rates, unreasonably harsh treatment of dilatory dog owners in getting a dog license (the dog license statute provides that annually, any balance remaining in the account, in excess of the total amount paid into the account during the two fiscal years preceding fiscal year, shall be paid over to the municipality and become a part of the current surplus). The anxiously concerned taxpayers over the expected big tax hike coming next year, find an indifferent deaf ear is lent to the pleas of the people to keep police headquarters in its present location area in a modernistic new addition to the present Town Hall.

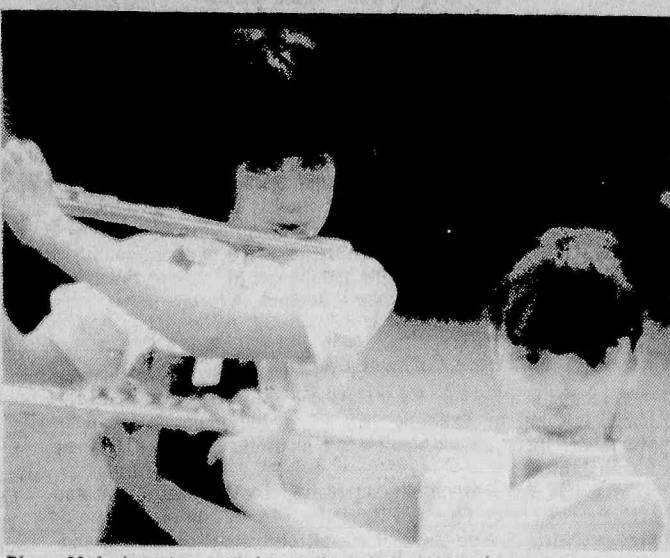

Tyranny that flouts the will of the people is ephemeral and militates against the confidence they have in their chosen leaders. As the Chamber of Commerce petition cogently states, "It is our opinion that the best interest of the community would be served by retaining the Police Headquarters in its present location subject to the construction of the facilities on the municipal owned property adjoining."

Those are the written words of Mrs. Jaye Tarantino, president of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, and clearly reflect the sentiments of myriad other business people and citizens of this community. Their voices should be heard and respected. We, too, support their cause.

Suppertime Talks — Longfellow

By Russell Roemmele

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow did not starve to death as a poet. To be sure, he became a national institution, unlike any writer previous and any writer since. But, alas, that has been his undoing in our times. Nobody reads Longfellow. Oh yes, some school children still memorize a few lines from one of his poems. I will always remember "The Village Blacksmith."

"And children coming home from school
Look in at the open door;
They love to see the flaming forge,
And hear the bellows roar,
And catch the burning sparks that fly
Like chaff from a threshing floor."

Sure, and there is that midnight ride of Paul Revere and the spreading chestnut tree and, well, so much of Americana can be found in Longfellow's poems. Of all our great writers, he is the least appreciated today. This is unfortunate, because his poems are readable and understandable. This most learned of poets — perhaps only Emerson was more learned, if one measures such things — wrote deliberately so that he could be read and understood. Come to think of it, all the New England writers emphasized such clarity, and especially Longfellow's close friends, Hawthorne and James Russell Lowell. Listen to Longfellow in "The Courtship of Miles Standish:"

"Meanwhile the bridegroom went forth and stood with bride at the doorway,
Breathing the perfumed air of that warm and beatiful morning.
Touched with autumnal tints, but lonely and sad in the sunshine,
Lay extended before them the land of toil and privation;
There were the graves of the dead,

American Legion Holds Elections

Elections were held recently at the American Legion Post 105.

Pat Wynn was elected post commander for the third time. Other officers elected were: Harry Tucks, first vice commander; Mario Puluso, second vice commander; Connie Miniffe, third vice commander; Fred McGarril, financial officer; Charles Trubella, chaplain; Betsy Newberry, historian; Bill Fisher, sergeant-at-arms; Gene Clark, judge advocate; Ray Kinsley, ritual officer; and John Woodbury, service officer.

Installation will be held on Saturday, Sept. 24, at 8 p.m. at the Belleville Post 105, 621 Washington Ave.

and the barren waste of the seashore,
There the familiar fields, the groves of pine, and the meadows;
But to their eyes transfigured, it seemed as the Garden of Eden, Filled with the presence of God, whose voice was the sound of the ocean."

Both of his wives died unnatural deaths. His first wife, Mary, whom he loved deeply, died of an illness on a trip to Europe. His second wife Frances was burned to death. Yet he never allowed these two intensive sorrows to sour his poems with personal bitterness at his lot or the ways of the Lord. He was of that sturdy New England stuff that buried sorrows deep within the soil and the soul, and then turned to the next field to plow or the next poem to be written.

Over the years I have read Longfellow, all of him. Often times I read him alone and aloud, for else someone might think me stranger than I am. Yes, I came to Longfellow through childhood poems, but I suppose it was his translations of Dante's immortal "Divine Comedy" that made me aware of his genius. Only a most daring and mighty poet would translate this masterpiece from the early Italian:

"I once beheld, at the approach of day,
The orient sky all stained with roseate hues,
And the other heaven with light serene adorned.

And the sun's face uprising, over-shadowed,
So that, by temperate influence of vapors,
The eye sustained his aspect for long while;
Thus in the bosom of a cloud of flowers,
Which from those hands angelic were thrown up,
And down descended inside and without,

With crown of live o'er a snow-white veil,
Appeared a lady, under a green mantle,
Vested in colors of the living flame."

Longfellow, we must remember, wrote when our country's history was beginning. The early settlers and the American Indian culture were much present in everyday life.

Perhaps that explains the success of his "Evangeline" and "The Song of Hiawatha." Who will ever forget the blue bird (Owaissa) and the robin (Opechee) singing to Hiawatha and his young bride:

"Thus it was that Hiawatha
To the lodge of old Nokomis
Brought the moonlight, starlight, firelight,
Brought the sunshine of his people,
Minnehaha, Laughing Water, hand-somest of all the women
In the land of the Dacotahs,
In the land of handsome women."

Instead of reading Longfellow to their children or grandchildren, today's fathers and grandfathers sit watching soap operas and then complain bitterly about "these bad kids we have nowadays." No, the child was innocent until he entered our adult world. So dear father, dear grandfather, if you want a better child — nevermind the world itself — read Longfellow to the kids!

"Then he beheld, in a dream,
once more the home of his childhood;
Green Acadian meadows, with Sylvan rivers among them,
Village, and mountain, and woodlands; and walking under their shadow
As in the days of her youth,
Evangeline rose in his vision.
Tears came into his eyes; and as slowly he lifted his eyelids,
Vanished the vision away, but Evangeline knelt by his bedside.
Vainly he strove to whisper her name, for the accents unuttered
Died on his lips, and their motion revealed what his tongue would have spoken.

Vainly he strove to rise; and Evangeline, kneeling beside him,
Kissed his dying lips, and laid his head on her bosom,
Sweet was the light of his eyes; but it suddenly sank into darkness,
As when a lamp is blown out by a gust of wind at a casement.
All was ended now, the hope, and the fear, and the sorrow,
All the aching of heart, the restless, unsatisfied longing,
All the dull, deep pain, and constant anguish of patience!
And, as she pressed once more the lifeless head to her bosom,
Meekly she bowed her own, and murmured, 'Father, I thank thee!'
Perfect poetry. Read Longfellow....

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Drake — nee Nadine Herman

Honeymoon in Bermuda For Mr. and Mrs. Drake

Nadine Erica Herman and Richard Sutcliffe Drake were married June 18 in Christ Episcopal Church, Belleville. A reception followed at Friar Tuck Inn, Cedar Grove.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Herman of Bergenfield. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Drake of 21 Reservoir Place.

The bride was attired in a gown of applied French lace on organza, handsewn by her mother.

Mrs. Susan Cutugno, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. Cathy O'Connell was bridesmaid. Both were in gowns of mauve chiffon.

Kenneth Drake was his brother's best man. Ushering were Robert Herman and Stephen Drake, brothers of the couple.

Mrs. Drake, an alumna of Bergenfield High School, is completing her internship at Rutgers College of Pharmacy.

Mr. Drake, a graduate of Belleville High School and Rutgers College of Engineering, is completing studies for a masters in civil engineering. He is with Burns and Rose Inc., Oradell.

The couple have made their home in Edison following a cruise to Bermuda.

Belleville Sub-Juniors Garner Awards at Spring Convention

— "Pages of the Year" was the theme of the 56th Annual Spring Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs — Junior Membership Department of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs held recently at the Americana Great Gorge Resort, McAfee.

Approximately 1000 representatives from the 121 junior and sub-junior clubs in New Jersey were in attendance. The Sub-Junior Woman's Club of Belleville was represented by Tricia Spillane, president and Beth Cantrella, Maria Govello, Georgina Janowski, Kim Kirby and Veronica Valvano, members.

Ann Quinn, director of the Junior Membership Department, opened the proceedings at the Friday evening department awards dinner whose theme was "Calendar Capers." The Belleville Subs received a certificate of appreciation from UNICEF and a first place award for creative writing was won by Meru Matthai.

The business session on Saturday morning included year-end reports from committees, advisors and chairmen. Delegates from each club voted on key issues including the selection of the 1983-84 state project.

The Saturday evening banquet entitled, "It Was A Very Good Year" featured awards for outstanding achievements by the clubs in department work. Belleville Subs garnered third place, best all around work in art; second place, best all around work in membership; first place, best all around work in international affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DiGiovanni — nee Suzanne Daidone

Suzanne Daidone Bride Of Joseph DiGiovanni

Suzanne Daidone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baker of 5 Charles St., and Joseph DiGiovanni, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank DiGiovanni Sr., were married June 18 in St. Anthony's Church, Belleville.

The Rev. Joseph Mirandi performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Chandelier, Belleville.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a Cinderella gown with puff sleeves, bustled sides and all-over appliques. A beaded crown held her veil and she carried silk orchids and white flowers.

Patricia Kunze of Elizabeth was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Debbie and Bernadette Daidone of Belleville, Sandy Fellanto and Carol Scharff of Irvington and Theresa and Jennifer McCafferty of West Orange.

The attendants were in orchid off-the-shoulder gowns accented with ruffles. Headpieces were orchid flowers and they carried a silk orchid surrounded by leaves.

Jerome Mongiori of Elizabeth was best man. Ushering were John Daidone, Frank and Jerry DiGiovanni and Richard Roy, all of Belleville, Chuck Butera of East Orange and Joseph Merola of Bloomfield.

Mrs. Baker chose a cloudy gown with silver threading and had a corsage of white roses. The groom's sister, in a mauve gown with beading on the shoulders, wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. DiGiovanni, an alumna of Irvington High School, is with New Jersey Bell Telephone, Newark.

Mr. DiGiovanni, a graduate of Belleville High School, is with New Jersey Highway Authority, Tolls Division, Woodbridge.

The couple honeymooned in Aruba and have made their home in Belleville.

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

When the nerves that carry messages from the brain to a particular set of muscles are irritated, the muscles themselves may lose their ability to relax. They are subjected to gradually increasing tension and eventually, painful muscle spasms can be expected.

The pain may come on suddenly or the condition may develop gradually over a period of weeks or months. Wherever pain has resulted from the irritation of nerves by misaligned spinal segments, chiropractic has proven to provide effective relief.

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,
My husband is walking around with a rainbow on his head. Thank God he needs glasses and he can't see the three colors on his head. I feel guilty for the messy color job, but I don't know what to do. He is thirty-three and all grey. He looked sophisticated but old. I bought chestnut brown and mixed the color with peroxide and applied it. It came out very well. A month went by, his hair grew so I reapplied the same color. There was some difference in the color. I followed the same process the third month. It came out in three different colors. Why did this happen?

Your Reader With the husband with a rainbow on his head

Dear Reader,
Your husband had the hair that I would like to have - grey. If we could exchange I would pay a good sum. First, don't apply that type of a mixture on a man. There are colors on the market which do not contain peroxide, designed for men. If you use those peroxide colors you must apply the color on the roots first. After 15-20 minutes you apply it all over. Try this method and you'll see a vast improvement.

Council Recall Movement Going Strong; Trustees Approved Third Vice Principal

Thirty Years Ago
Buses of the Trackless Transit Company deprived of their turnaround route, by notification of the National Yeast Company, started a loop through streets in the Soho section of town, which brought numerous complaints to Commissioner Elmer Hyde, head of the town's transportation committee.

The original turnaround route area from the buses was purchased by the yeast company for use as a parking lot for the firm. Since buses could no longer turn around, they have been looped through side streets.

Judge W. Eugene Turton, representing the bus line, said a new contract has been drawn up with the town attorney to lease part of the old Canal at the corner of Mill and Harrison streets, for the buses. The terms of the contract were for five years, at a cost of $100 per year.

According to the publication of the new telephone directory, Belleville is a normal American town — one out of every 100 families here is named Smith. The Smiths dominate, followed by Millers, Johnsons, Clarks and Williamses. For some reason, the Joneses do not keep up with the national average here. The Jones once followed the Smiths in frequency — now they follow the Ferraros and Davises.

Twenty Years Ago
According to Robert Westpy, leader of the Recall movement, the drive may be wrapped up very soon. What started three weeks ago as an effort to unseat Mayor Obert Laterza and Councilmen Vincent Strumolo and George Addonizio on charges they formed a "majority voting bloc" is heading to the end.

When Westpy said he had 3,000 of the 4,208 signatures necessary to force a recall, Mayor Laterza was quoted as saying, "It's ridiculous. That many names could not be gathered in one, let alone three weeks."

Meanwhile reports that various people have been 'duped' into signing the recall petitions, were cited by the mayor and two councilmen. "I've had various people come to me saying that false claims and statements were used to get them to sign petitions," the mayor said. "Others have told me they found out they were signing petitions too late."

Laterza said he will also ask for a complete audit of all petitions turned into the Town Clerk.

A former combat marine was the first man to enter the November election race for the Town Council seat vacated by the resignation of Thomas Greco. Bernard O'Connor, a Democratic town committeeman entered the race, despite the recall movement.

Ten Years Ago
Another cable television firm has applied for franchise rights to link Belleville with 12 other Essex County communities, setting the stage for a contest between firms for the Belleville license.

UA-Columbia Cablevision, joins Suburban Cablevision, which has filed in 19 Essex towns and three Passaic communities. The Commissioners will now have to decide, which if any of the cable franchises are right for the community.

Mayor Joseph McGreevy started the "wheels in motion" for the drafting and adoption of a rent-leveling ordinance, when he asked each commissioner to appoint a private citizen to form a study group into the matter. McGreevy said the panel would study and advise the commissioners on the rent situation in town and that town attorney John Scott would then draft a measure.

One Year Ago
The Board of Education voted 4-2 to establish a third vice principal position at Belleville High School. "We can not do without this position," said Schools Superintendent Dr. John Greed. "We're in business for the students. Michael Lally (high school principal) spent too much time serving as a vice principal this year and we want to free him up for principal duties."

Opposing the resolution were Trustees Charles Miele and Grace Purdue. Voting in favor were President John DiStasi, Donna Rainone, Thomas Spillane and Thomas Zampino.

The Little Zion UAME Church on Stephen Street welcomed a new pastor to town. Rev. Howard McBeth, was named as a church's new leader.

Belleville's Past

Only an occasional wrangle with a private concern or a neighboring community would bring a note of diversity into the municipal tranquility. Thus the DeWitt Wire Cloth Company was warned in 1891 "that the banks enclosing the Mill Pond are not of sufficient strength to resist the pressure of water in case of a flood... and that in case of damage by reason of overflow... said company shall be held responsible."

When Orange, East Orange, Montclair, and Bloomfield combined to have a new sewer laid through Belleville territory, Belleville threatened "to resist by every lawful means," because "the laying of such sewer and the emptying thereof into the Passaic River at Belleville would be a great nuisance and would be detrimental to public health and a pollution of the Passaic River whose waters are used for drinking purposes by thousands of citizens."

Again, the Montclair Gas and Water Company "entered upon the corporal limits of the Township of Belleville and commenced to dig up street and lay gas pipes... without having first asked or received Permission." The township committee saw red and directed its "peace officers to arrest any and all persons who shall be found digging up street or laying said pipes thereon."

Its hard-won municipal prerogatives remained a touchy subject for the township. Any infringement on them was not with bitter resentment. So in 1895 it came "to the attention of the township committee on Belleville that a Bill has been introduced in the Assembly of the State of New Jersey to Annex a portion of the Township of Belleville to the City of Newark.... Whereas the Township Committee has no knowledge whatsoever of any desire on the part of any portion of the Township to become annexed," it resolved to prevent the passage of the bill by any and all legal means.

For a while annexation plans were laid by the heel. But in 1910 Belleville stood once more in danger of losing its independence. Early in the year a Belleville Annexation Association was founded, headed by Dr. George Yarrow. The Belleville Times "canvassed the township, found public sentiment almost equally divided," and came to the conclusion that "the population of Silver Lake and adjacent districts are almost of the opinion that annexation to Newark would be advantageous" in regards to taxation, police and fire protection, lighting and hospital service.

Opponents of annexation, of the opinion that increased municipal prerogatives would take the wind out of the sails of the worthy doctor and vociferous associate, petitioned the township committee to change the constitution from that of a township to a town.

Belleville Times SPORTS

Braves Run Off Winning Streak But Miss Playoffs By One Game

There is a fine line between a team with character and a team that is running out the course of a season. Last week, the Belleville Braves entered the final week of the season with a 12-19 mark, little if no hope of gaining a playoff berth and could have easily finished the season just going through the motions.

A funny thing happened on the Braves' way to mediocrity. Last week, the team played an incredible nine games, won five of them, lost three before playing a meaningless tie with Parsippany last Monday. The team thus closed out its inaugural campaign in the ECBL with a 17-22-1 mark, missing out on the playoffs by just one game.

Next week, The Times will review the Braves' 1983 season.

"It was an incredible week," said head coach Sal Garilli, "just unbelievable. These guys never gave up and played some incredible baseball. I can't say enough about them."

This was a team that started off with an 0-5 mark, lost its opener to Irvington, 16-0 and later were blasted by Verona, 14-0. It was a club that was 3-9 and later, 10-16. This was a team, however, who gave it 100 percent and last week's performance can certainly attest to that.

This unbelievable final week of action started with a doubleheader with the Union Jays and Union Rams, at Union. Belleville won both games, stopping the Rams, 5-4 and the Jays, 13-5. Against the Rams, Steve Slotnick won the game and third baseman Joe Corbalis made two spectacular catches that Garilli later termed, "major league calibre."

It was an exciting game with the potential tying run for Union being cut off at the plate for the last out of the game. Earlier, Belleville had an easier time, stopping the Jays, 13-5 as Jim Walsh pounded two hits and drove home three runs while Steve Karlick had two hits and accounted for five ribbies.

Following the sweep, Belleville played the game of the season by stopping the defending champions of the league, Irvington, by a 10-4 count. This was a contest where Belleville blasted Irvington ace, Brian Karl and Brave Jeff Lauschute pounded two homers, "blasts" according to Garilli. On the game, Lauschute accounted for five ribbies, Scott Lutz got the win and Mike Shea contributed with two hits.

After a charged up victory, Belleville was flat the next day and lost to Millburn, 6-3 in a game that Garilli said, "broke our team's back." Shea, Slotnick and Jerry Werdann led the Brave charge, but some bad defensive mistakes cost the Braves the ball game.

Belleville came back, however, and blasted the Union Rams, 9-1 the next day. Anthony Coco pitched the first five innings to pick up the win and Dave Starr accounted for two ribbies in the fifth inning when Belleville scored six runs to pull away. Jeff Bradley also had a key hit in the uprising. Slotnick finished the ball game for Coco, who developed some soreness in his arm and left after five.

Basketball Squad Finishes Season

In order for the Belleville boy's basketball team to make the summer playoffs of the Bloomfield basketball league, they had to defeat the Bloomfield A and B squads last week and hope that either Nutley or Clifton lost a game.

Belleville kept its half of the bargain, stopping the Bloomfield entries, however, Essex Catholic of East Orange helped to keep Belleville out of the playoffs by bowing to Clifton and forfeiting to Nutley. In the E.C. loss to Clifton, the Eagles fielded their jayvee squad. Overall, Belleville finished the season with a 4-3 mark, however, Clifton also finished at 4-3 and defeated Belleville in their head to head meeting, thus the Mustangs advance to the playoffs.

"We couldn't get a break," said head coach Don Roll. "We win our games, however, Essex Catholic forfeits with Nutley and then fields a jayvee team to play Clifton. It just wasn't meant to be, I guess."

Despite losing out on a berth, Belleville did do a good job last week, stopping the Bloomfield B team, 55-50 then halting the A team, 65-59. It was Belleville's finest week of basketball this summer and should certainly give hope to Joe Papasidero and crew when the winter season starts in November.

"We showed good team work," said Roll. "Everyone played well and finished the season on a good note." Against the B team, Bill Nankervis led the way for Belleville with 19 points. Should Nankervis ever get his act together for the regular season, he could be a big help for the Bucs. At 6-5, Nankervis has the potential, however, he has been a disappointment the last two years.

Dave Boyd, who has been steady all summer long, tallied eight points, as did Mike Sochaski and Danny Ward. Nick Sotomayer and Phil Colalillo closed out the scoring with six points each. Colalillo did not play until the fourth quarter because he was participating in the Seton Hall league.

"Billy (Nankervis) picked up the scoring for us," said Roll. "Without Phil for most of the game, the other guys came through. We played a 2-3 zone and packed it in. We knew they didn't have an outside shooter so we packed the zone and did a nice job."

Against the A team, Colalillo led the way with 29 points and Boyd was outstanding defensively, holding Bloomfield's high man, Mike Barlow to nine points. Boyd also came through with 10 points, Ward finished with eight, Dan Riordan scored six, Sotomayer scored five, Nankervis scored four and Sochaski closed out the scoring with three points.

"That was probably the toughest game of the summer," said Roll of the A contest. "We had a good collapsing defense and we played a box in one with Boyd playing Barlow. David did a nice job defensively and was a big help on the offense."

The win over Bloomfield was big because the two schools have developed a strong rivalry that began last summer. The Bucs defeated the Bengals twice last season, losing once. Last summer, Bloomfield edged the Bucs in two tough contests: This summer, it was another tough game and should be an indication of future games this winter.

"If we had Phil for that Clifton game two weeks ago, we'd be in the playoffs now," said Roll. "However, we didn't have him and we missed out. We showed some good signs and these guys should be tough this winter."

NOTES: Essex Catholic, Bloomfield, Nutley and Clifton all made the playoffs. Essex, Bloomfield and Nutley all made it last summer along with Belleville. The Eagles of E.C. are the defending champions of the league.

Harriers Snap Loss Streak With Win Over Barringer

October 4, 1973

The Belleville High School cross country team ended a 17 meet losing streak last Tuesday by defeating Barringer High School in a meet held at Branch Brook Park in Newark. Later in the week, the harriers saw their record drop to 1-2 as they lost to Montclair, 17-42.

This week sees the schedule filled as the cross country team meets three opponents. On Tuesday, the harriers took on the notorious Kearny Cardinals. Today, the team meets Glen Ridge at Belleville Park beginning at 3:30 p.m. This Saturday, the team will take on Bailey Elard, a parochial school located in Madison, at Belleville.

In a fine display of team running, Belleville took eight of the first 12 finishes in the Barringer race. Senior Mike Freamon of Barringer copped first place in a time of 16:10 over the 3.1 mile course. Bellboy Bill Goodwin took second place at 16:21. The next four finishes were very exciting. In the battle for third place, Steve Budrick and Barringer runner Robert Freamon appeared about even with 50 yards to go. But Freamon then poured it on and sprinted to a two-second advantage over 'Bud' in a 16:32 finish. Next came Jim Beck and James Keaten, as they locked horns in a 16:53 tie. They were then followed 10 seconds later by Belleville runner Nelson Seda at 17:03. Behind Seda at 17:08 was Mike Fortino. The last Barringer runner in the top 12 was Dave Davenport in 17:09. He was leading Bellboys Walt Siubus, Doug Wamsley and Steve Dyba in times that ranged from 17:22 to 18:18.

Belleville had a definite plan entering the race. The ability to keep to the plan was a key factor to victory. The strategy was for Belleville to run in a pack. The reason to run in a pack has a two fold purpose. One is to keep the runners close to the leaders so that he does not build up an insurmountable lead, the second purpose is to set a pace that enables the weaker runners to stay close to the rest of the field. The strategy worked. After a mile, the Freamon brothers were ahead of the field. However, at the halfway mark, the Belleville runners were able to catch up to the duo and eventually catch Mike Freamon who then fell in back of the pack.

Other finishers for Belleville included Pete Fitzpatrick, at 18:55 in 15th place, Kevin Bradley in 17th at 19:59, Tom Coughlan, 18th at 20:35, Dominick Mobilio, 20th at 21:07, David Ritacco, 21st at 21:51 and Joe Vincenti rounding out the field at 24:45 in the 22nd position.

The race, unlike the Columbia meet, did not cover any large hills but did include a swamp that hamper many runners' pace. The last cross country victory was against East Orange and the margin of victory was a single point. This time, the margin of victory was a close five points, yet still a victory for the jubilant cross country team.

On Friday, the team took to the road for the third consecutive away meet, when they raced Montclair High School at Brookdale Park in Bloomfield. It is a course shared with Bloomfield High School, but the Mounties ran like the field was their's as they recorded a sound win over the Bellboys.

Three tough men from Montclair, Crandall, Denke and Laws, copped the win, place and show positions coming in at the identical times of 16:58, wrapping up a team victory at the same time. Captain Bill Goodwin could only take fourth place at 17:14. The second Belleville finisher was Steve Budrick who finished in seventh place at 17:59. Jim Beck and Nelson Seda finished ninth and 10th respectively with times of 18:06 and 18:07. Walter Siubus, Doug Wamsley and Mike Fortino finished up 12th through 14th in times of 18:27 and a tie at 18:38. Steve Dyba finished in 19th in a time of 19:20.

Trailing last were all Belleville runners with Pete Fitzpatrick at 20:25, Tom Coughlan at 22:03, Dominick Mobilio at 22:09, David Ritacco at 25:09 and Joe Vincenti at 25:45.

The thrill of victory runs deep and snapping the losing streak will stand out as one of the highlights of the season.

EDITOR NOTES: The 1973 cross country team posted a .500 mark, its best season in 14 years. The following season, the harriers would post a record of 7-5, their first winning season since the late fifties.

Belleville-Nutley Football Rivalry Ready To Continue

On September 24, 1983, there will be a football game at Nutley High School between two old "friends," Belleville and Nutley. It will mark the opening game of the 1983 campaign and there should be enough electricity in the stands to light up Manhattan.

While other old rivalries have faded, make no mistake that the Belleville-Nutley football rivalry is as hot now as it was in 1953. For the first time in many years, both teams enter the game on an up beat. After many years of one team doing well while the other team is trying for the upset, the 1983 Belleville-Nutley contest will offer two teams that will be considered among the best in Essex County.

Last season, the two battled at Belleville High School and both teams came in with 3-1 records. For Nutley, this was a return to prominence after years of floundering under the .500 mark. For Belleville it was just a continuation of success that has been a part of the program since 1978. While Nutley was fired up and perhaps more intense, Belleville had the experience of the big game, having downed Pasaic just two weeks earlier. You could see that Nutley was working its way to the top, but that Belleville was still the better team. The result was a 10-3 Buccaneer win. Nutley went on to a 6-3 record, losing only to Montclair, Passaic and Belleville, all three of whose teams advancing to the state playoffs and finishing in the top 10 in the state. Raider coach Pete LaBarbiera has done a good job in turning around that program.

It hasn't always been this way. From 1978-81, Belleville fielded one of the most consistent clubs in the state, posting a 29-7 mark over that span. For Nutley, these were lean times, especially 1981 when the Raiders played a scheduled that would be declared illegal in some states. Nutley's opponents that year included Belleville, Caldwell, Union, Westfield, Passaic and Montclair to name a few. Nutley finished 1-8 and would later revamp its entire football staff, adding LaBarbiera for the 1982 season.

Since '78, Belleville has dominated the series, winning 31-0, 7-0, 13-7, 26-0 and last year's 10-3 decision. The only touchdown that Nutley has managed in that five-year span was a 48-yard run off scrimmage by sophomore Nick Petti in 1980. Before the turnaround in 1978, Nutley was the dominant squad, taking most of the 70s and fielding some strong ball clubs.

In 1973, Nutley was ranked second in the state of New Jersey and battled the top team in the state, Westfield to a scoreless tie. In between that fine season, Nutley disposed of Belleville, 21-6 at Nutley High. From 1972-1977, Nutley posted five wins and one tie, a 0-0 battle in 1975 during a steady downpour. When Belleville tallied the 31-0 win in 1978, it marked the first time the Bucs had scored a point against Nutley since 1974 and the first time Belleville had scored a TD since 1973.

The key to the Belleville-Nutley rivalry's have been close, hard fought games. As Buc coach John Senesky pointed out, you can throw away the records when these two meet. A good example of that came in 1974 when Belleville came into the contest winless while Nutley was unbeaten and state-ranked. This was a contest Nutley was favored to win easily. Instead, Belleville took a 3-0 lead into the lockerroom as Anthony Speer kicked a field goal just before halftime. A third quarter TD was all Nutley could muster, but it was all they would need as they won, 7-3.

BUC SHOTS

By Michael Lamberti

Sports Editor

In 1975, the Bellboys had a strong squad and Nutley was a young team that had lost a great deal to graduation. The Bellboys scored two touchdowns, one of which a punt return by Chipper Biafore, but both were called back because of penalties and the game ended in a scoreless tie.

In 1979, Belleville was a club headed to the state playoffs and Nutley was rebuilding. The result: Belleville won, 7-0 because Ed Aulisi found Lenny Mendola all alone for a 41-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter. This was a tight contest, many did not expect it to be so close.

The following season, Belleville had perhaps their best team ever. So what happens, Nutley tches Belleville point for point and in the fourth quarter, the game is tied, 7-7. Only a desperation run by Buc quarterback John Melillo on fourth down gives Belleville the win here. Last season, Mike Murphy's 83-yard run was the only Buc offensive threat of the day, but the Belleville defense does the job and the Bucs win.

It's been the story of this rivalry for three decades. Chances are, opening day, 1983 will mark the same type of contest. The Raiders truly believe they can stop Belleville this time and have the guns to back that up. Belleville will counter with an experienced squad, one that posted an 8-1 mark last season and made it to the state playoffs. This game will feature everything. Most importantly, it will match two fine football programs and should be very exciting. For the next couple of weeks, Buc Shots will look back, in depth, to some previous Belleville-Nutley games and relive some of the old heroes who made this game so exciting and so special. Stay tuned, you should enjoy it.

Congratulations to the Belleville boys' basketball team on winning their remaining two regular season games in the Bloomfield Summer League. They finished the summer with a 4-3 mark, missing the playoffs on the tie breaking method. Most importantly, the league gave a lot of players the opportunity to play competitively and should bolster the program for the regular season come November.

Give some credit to the Belleville

Braves baseball team for its fine showing in the Essex County Baseball League. The team entered the week with a 12-19 mark and then went on a tear, winning five of six games. They still have an outside shot at the playoffs and have been doing it with some old heroes, Anthony Coco, Joe Corbalis and Dave Starr to name a few. Also, Dominick Vazzano has been super all season long at the plate.

In case there are any questions on how good a runner Dana Caruso is, just ask me. She has developed into a machine on the road, will probably be one of the top runners for the Montclair State cross country team and could very well earn All East honors. Dana has devoted many hours to running and is turning into a fine middle distance runner. Believe me, trying to stay up with her is a lot tougher than it looks.

In two weeks, we'll announce our format for the upcoming school year. Our sports department has a few new ideas to add to the existing ones and we feel that you'll like the additions to the sports page.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, who has lost the most NFC title games. The answer: Dallas has lost five title games, including the last three. The Cowboys have also won five games.

For this week's quiz, in the Jets-Giants rivalry, name the last time the Giants won a regular season game from the Jets and the score of that contest. For a bonus, name the teams' quarterbacks and their records that season.

Willie La Morte was born in Newark, on June 16, 1904, now resides in Belleville. He started his boxing career in 1922 at the age of 18. He was considered the hardest bangers in the flyweight division. Willie won a 15 round decision over then flyweight champion Corporal Izzy Schwartz in Newark on August 22, 1929, for the title. Schwartz claimed afterward the fight was a non-title fight, but would never fight La Morte a second time to settle the disagreement. Previously Oct. 4, 1928, they fought a draw. Among other top opponents Willie fought included Mike Ballero, Frankie Genero, Ernie Paluso, Joey Ross, Willie Davis, Tony Mack, Frisco Grande, Al Brown, Fidel La Barba, Midget Wolgast, Frankie Bauman and others for a total of 76 bouts. Today he is retired and can be seen working around his flower garden when he's feeling good.

Chris Dundee (Mirena) is enjoying much success with the promotion of good club-fights at the Convention Center in Miami, Florida. Chris is using mostly local youngsters. If he could get a TV or Cable it would help defray the expenses. Chris also matches the fighters for the cards. Many years ago he promoted at Newport News, Va.

Aaron Pryor, WBA junior welterweight champion, will defend his title again against Alexis Arguello, Nicaraguan, now of Florida, at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas, Nev. on Sept. 9. In the co-feature WBC welterweight titleholder Tommy Hearns of Detroit will defend against James "Hard Rock" Green of Irvington, N.J. The records to date for each: Pryor 33-0, Arguello 78-5, Hearns 37-1 and Green 17-2. Arguello will be trying to become the first fighter to win titles in four different weight divisions for the second time. In the first attempt he was KO'd by Pryor in the 14th round, Nov. 12, 1982 in Miami, Florida.

Victor "Flash" Gordon of Hillside, appears to be on the winning track again. Gordon, 143, recently scored a TKO in the 3rd round over Robert Gaddy of Elizabeth. Gaddy weighed 144. They fought at Totowa, N.J. Iceworld. A Dan Duva "Main Event" promotion.

Bill Miller, manager of Alexis Arguello stating Aaron Pryor's gloves in the first Arguello-Pryor title bout "were tampered with," is puzzling. Miller was in Pryor's dressing room all the time his trainer Artie Curley was bandaging the champion's hand and put on his gloves. The question: "Why didn't Miller complain right there and then?" Miller waited nine months after to squawk.

Another bout has been added to the Aaron Pryor-Alexis Arguello rematch for Pryor's 140 pound title. New York's Carl Williams will meet Sylvester "Sly" Stallone's fighter Lee Canalis. If Williams don't demolish the actor he had better hang 'em up. Another bout on the card is Detroit's Tommy Hearn defending his WBC 154-pound crown against hard-hitting James Green of Irvington, N.J. The card will be staged at Las Vegas' Caesars Palace according to sports director Bob Holloran.

WBC heavyweight champ Larry Holmes may now fight into 1984 according to Dick Lovell, publicist for Holmes. The undefeated titleholder announced in May he would retire by Christmas as a present to his wife and family. We accepted he was sincere. Larry did not perform well in his last two fights (Lucian Rodriguez and Tim Witherspoon). Promoter Murad Muhammad stated he has Holmes fighting Scott Frank of Oakland N.J. Sept. 10. Promoters Muhammad and Bob Andreoli of Rhode Island claim they have Holmes sewed up to battle Marvis Frazier of Philadelphia, Nov. 25. Promoter Don King claims he had WBC's president Jose Sulaiman backing for a Holmes defense against Greg Page in a mandatory bout.

Welterweight Bill Costello's manager Mike Jones is not happy with Dan Duva's Main Events and is threatening to have a hold put on the Pryor-Arguello rematch. Jones said Main Events signed Arguello-Costello to a contract for a July 17 scrap. Arguello was hospitalized in July with dysentery and Main Events has since disregarded the contract. Promoter Dan Duva said the Arguello-Costello fight has been "postponed" not cancelled.

In the main attraction Cincinnati's exciting, welterweight, 20-year-old Tommy Ayers won via a knockout in the 3rd round over tough Al "Earthquake" Carter of Alliance, Ohio. Bill Means handled the referee chores in a smooth, efficient manner.

Another retiree has decided to return to the ring after 6 years. Former heavyweight contender Jerry Quarry is planning a comeback. Quarry last fought in 1977, when he KO'd Lorenzo Zannon in the 9th round. Now at 38 he will have his return bout on Sept. 38 at the Catholic Youth Center in Scranton Pa. An opponent has not been named.

World Boxing Association (WBA) offered newly appointed New York State Boxing Commissioner John Branca the vice chairmanship of its classification committee. John, brother of Ralph Branca the former major league pitcher, succeeded Jack Prendville two weeks ago, has delayed answering.

Many readers have asked, "What does the name 'Kronk' as in Detroit's Kronk Gymnasium and Emanuel Steward's Kronk Boxing Team of Detroit, stand for?" Steward informs — John F. Kronk, a Detroit city councilman started a recreational center to get the youngsters off the corners. Manny Steward was a trainer of boxers at the center. When the councilman passed out of the picture Steward continued the operation and the boxers voted to keep the Kronk name.

Roger Mayweather of Las Vega via Grand Rapids, Mich. will defend his WBA junior lightweight crown against Benedicto Villablanca on Wed. Aug. 17, at Las Vegas' Showbo Hotel.

David Bey of Philadelphia formerly weighed in at 270 pounds. Manager Carl King suggested he lose a lot of that avoidupois to increase his mobility. The hard-hitting, heavyweight went out to King's Orwell, Ohio, training camp and dropped 60 pounds and is now ready for the top 10.

Heavyweight contender Gerry Cooney of Hempstead L.I. has not fought in 14 months, expects to start training in three weeks. Co-manager Mike Jones (Dennis Rappaport) said Cooney "may" be ready to meet his scheduled opponent and former sparring partner Phil Brown in November or December.

Promoter Don King wants WBC heavyweight champion Larry Holmes to honor his signed contract to fight the mandatory defense against Greg Page. "It's sad the Larry Holmes appears to be going out," King said. "If he can't act like the champion instead of fighting some unranked kids, then I wish he would retire."

Cosmos Getting Down To Business As Playoffs Loom Closer and Closer

It has come down to money time for the Cosmos and the defending NASL champions have shown a strong return on their investment.

The Kings of the NASL were in Washington, D.C. yesterday to face Team America. This Sunday, the team will host Le Manic of Montreal starting at 7 p.m. The biggest crowd of the season is expected at that one with the Beach Boys' concert scheduled right after the game.

Last week, the Cosmos battled two hot ball clubs, San Diego and Montreal and came away with two impressive victories. Versus San Diego, the Cosmos were 3-1 victors, snapping the Sockers' five-game winning streak at Giants Stadium. Then, the team traveled to Montreal last Saturday and came away with a 4-2 win as Steve Moyers tallied two goals for the winners.

On the season, the Cosmos hold a 16-8 mark, trail front running Vancouver by just five points for the overall point title and lead the NASL east by 21 points over Toronto and fast charging Chicago. Despite the injuries that have plagued the ball club all season long, the Cosmos are starting to play the brand of soccer that has made them the top team in the league four of the last six seasons.

Against San Diego, the team was at a huge disadvantage. Despite playing at Giants Stadium, the Cosmos were without their top scorer, Roberto Cabanas who had to sit out a one-game suspension because of too many yellow cards. Furthermore, Giorgio Chinaglia, who has been out of action since July 6 with a pulled hamstring, was scheduled to start, but he had problems with the leg in practice and head coach Julio Mazzei does not want to risk an injury at this point of the campaign. The Cosmos have done quite well without Chinaglia in the lineup and Mazzei isn't in that much of a hurry to rush Giorgio back in the lineup.

Despite their problems, the Cosmos came out and handled the hot Sockers, tallying a penalty kick goal in the first half, then putting the game away in the second half on goals by Rick Davis and Julio Caesar Romero, who also tallied the penalty kick. A crowd of 22,000 plus were entertained to a fine tactical display of soccer by the home team and a strong defensive showing spearheaded by the return of Franz Beckenbauer to the lineup. Franz was missing the last two weeks to a hamstring pull.

Goalkeeper Hubert Birkenmeier was tested early in the contest, but after Davis' goal midway through the second half made the score 2-0, the Sockers seemed to lose their drive and the Cosmos were in total control.

Against Le Manic last Saturday, the Cosmos were winners over their eastern rivals for the third time in three attempts this year. They did it with two goals by Steve Moyers, a tally by Cabanas and a game winner by Vladislav Bogicevic. Montreal played a tough game, keeping pace with the Cosmos but missing on some good opportunities and watching their record fall to 9-15 in the process.

The victory increased the Cosmos' mark against Eastern division rivals to 5-4 with games left against Chicago (at home Aug. 21), Montreal (home, Aug. 14) and Toronto (home, Sept. 2). The Cosmos of course are 0-3 against the Chicago Sting this season and need to beat the Sting in the Aug. 21 battle at Giants Stadium. A loss there would send the Cosmos on a psychological downer come playoff time.

Local Playgrounds Remain Very Active

At the Clearman Playground this week the junior softball team lost its first game to School 10, while Michael Marchello had some outstanding defensive plays.

The senior league saw Clearman defeat previously unbeaten School 10 by the score of 7-5. The game saw Clearman come back from a 2-0 deficit on a grand slam homerun by Jimmy Dunphy. Anthony Oliver also hit a homer, while Brian Reardon made outstanding plays at catcher.

On Friday, Clearman's junior team defeated Friendly House by the score of 7-6. Vinnie Vellero and Nick Poto were the hitting stars with Vinnie hitting a homerun, and Nicky going 3 for 3.

At the Kelly's Court Playground, Gina Cofone won the knock-hockey tournament that was sponsored by the Belleville Recreation Department by the score of 13-11. Knock-hockey participants were Vinnie Marchesini, Pepe Cofone and Gina Cofone.

Billiards was enjoyed by all. Some of the participants were Tina Montalbano, Marlo Montalbano, Joze Cofone, Gina Cofone and Pepe Cofone.

The Kelly's Court softball team is on the uprise winning many valuable games. Some of the participants are Donna Brooks, Gina Cofone, TRne Spera, Jack Bartetta, Mike Martinez, Donald Brooks, Ernie Brodie, and Joey Kazmer.

The big event at School 9 playground this week was a two-day jumprope contest. Each person was given three chances and the total number of jumps was recorded. Marcello Hochreiter, the winner, had a two day total of 319. He also jumped 159 times in succession. Other participants were Toni Briganti, Nicole Briganti, Tracy Burke, Joey Burke and Mike Alfrano.

Again, touch football was popular. After a long game, the kids enjoyed an ice-cream and lemon ice party. It certainly was a nice way to cool off in this hot weather.

This week at the Recreation House the smaller children decided to clean up the playground by seeing who could find the most garbage. Congratulations to Shannon Edwards. Also, we thank John Sternick for constructing a terrific spaceship. A McDonald's party ended the week.

This week's action at the Stadium was highlighted with a pizza party on Friday.

Once again the humidity was sticky, but the stadium still had its 12 dedicated participants. Softball was the activity, with the junior league team winning both its games, including a big win over School 10 giving them their first loss. Fine performances were turned in by Jamie Galioto, Sal Woodcock, Al Best, Mike and Danna Senesky, Rob Lupo, Anthony Zarro, and Rob Hutchinson.

Other activities were chess, lifting, knock-hockey, pool and wiffle ball. Rob Ferucci, Steve Linfanti, Carmen Fortunato, Bob Mozieka, Anthony Torvomo, Mark Walsh, and Mike Gibbons all participated.

At the Friendly House this week the junior league and senior league both lost their first game. The junior league lost to the Stadium 9-5 and the senior league lost to Clearman 9-4. They both fought back to win their next two, and are tied for first.

Frank Fazzini Named To All-American Squad

Frank Fazzini, a sophomore at Florida State and a native of Belleville, recently capped off his freshman year at Florida State by being named to Baseball America's freshman All-America team.

Fazzini, who appeared 69 games with the Seminoles this season, was one of only 15 players in the country named to the prestigious All-American team which honors the top freshman in college baseball.

A left fielder, Fazzini had an incredible season for FSU — leading the team in batting average (.366), home runs (17), total bases (156) and RBIs (63).

He had four-game winning RBIs for the Seminoles during the season and helped FSU to a 55-18-1 record and a seventh consecutive trip to the NCAA playoffs.

Fazzini was selected to the All-Metro Conference team and also was selected to the NCAA South Regional all-tournament team.

"Frank came to us as a player who was not highly recruited by a lot of major colleges and just had an outstanding season," Seminole head coach Mike Martin said. "His freshman statistics rank him very favorable with the freshman seasons of several of our All-Americans in the past. If he would have been eligible for the baseball draft this past June, I'm sure he would have been a high pick. I'm just glad he'll be playing for us for at least the next two seasons and hopefully for the next three years."

Fazzini, who was a standout football and baseball player at Belleville High School, is majoring in accounting at Florida State.

NY Renaissance Festival is a Place For the True Romantics at Heart

By Linda Telesco

Hardly a romantic living has not longed to go back in time and while away the days in the courtly land of Camelot where knights were bold and maidens fair.

Now that dream can be fulfilled by a short drive any weekend of the summer to Sterling Forest in Tuxedo, New York, the site of the sixth annual New York Renaissance Festival.

A yearly event staged by Creative Faires, Ltd., the Sterling Forest

Life of Fantasy — That is what you can find at the sixth annual New York Renaissance Festival, which is taking place each Saturday and Sunday until Sept. 11.

“They’re Playing Our Song” Sparkles At Summerfun Theater

The summer months always tend to make people lazy and laid-backed. It is a time to relax in front of the air conditioner, sipping the ice tea, while things slow down to a crawl and people attempt to beat the heat. But things aren't slowing down at the Summerfun Theater — they are full speed ahead, as the group presents its final project of the season, the upbeat and foot-tapping musical “They’re Playing Our Song.”

Based on the work of that incredible playwright Neil Simon, “They’re Playing Our Song,” has been packing them in at the Summerfun Theater, as fast as it did when it played on Broadway with Luci Arnaz and Robert Klein in the starring roles.

Involving basically two actors, the play is a light-hearted love story about two songwriters attempting to collaborate together while maintaining their sanity. It is a true indication that the statement “opposites tend to attract,” is right on target.

Ariel Robbins puts on a truly convincing performance as Sonia Walsk, a not-so-successful lyricist, who keeps the pace moving while also providing the audience its biggest laughs. She portrays an airhead, with a heart of gold, who seeks the most out of life. On the other hand is Greg Zerkle, who plays Vernon Gersh, a successful pop composer, who after meeting Sonia realizes that his life has been missing “something special” which is needed to make one happy. Vernon is level-headed and work conscious. For him there is no time to mix business with pleasure, therefore setting the stage for a happy mis-match.

The music, composed by Marvin Hamlisch and Carol Bayer Sager, seems to flow perfectly throughout the production, with both performers demonstrating beautiful voices.

While there are no hit songs, except for the title, the music is a mixture of ballads and upbeat tempos which keeps the audience entertained throughout. Some songs include: “Workin’ It Out,” “Just For Tonight,” “I Still Believe in Love,” and “If He Really Knew Me.”

“They’re Playing Our Song” is the sixth and final production for Summerfun this year. Earlier audiences packed into Montclair State College auditorium to see plays such as, “Chapter Two,” “Children of a Lesser God,” “Special Occasions,” “The Dresser,” and “Deathtrap.”

Final performances of “They’re Playing Our Song,” will take place Aug. 11, 12 and 13. All performances start at 8:30 p.m. and take place in the air-conditioned Memorial Auditorium on the Montclair State College campus. For ticket information call 746-9120.

Game played out on a 100’ by 100’ field with plenty of action.

Browse along Spendpenny Lane where craftspeople from over 18 states hawk their wares including everything from handcrafted jewelry to wood carvings, exotic clothing, medieval headgear, and even herbal preparations.

When hunger pangs strike, stop and grab a turkey leg and a pint of ale or choose from foods of every ethnic variety in true fair tradition.

Feasting done, make your way to the gamesgrounds where adults and children alike can play at walking the tightrope, climbing Jacob’s Ladder, or trying to “drench a wench” in a good old dunking game.

For quieter tastes, visit Mystic Way where psychics wait to reveal your future or wander over to the Globe Theater and see this season’s magical production of Shakespeare’s “A Midsummer Night’s Dream,” played by Actors Equity members.

Children will delight in the elaborate puppet shows and Maypole dances and in this year’s special attraction, a petting zoo featuring what everyone always believed was just a legend, “a real live unicorn.”

Get your place early to see the Mud Show, an unbelievable spectacle of gritty types who, at the prompting of the audience, will perform swan dives from high rocks into a pool of mud. For a small sum, one of them will even eat the stuff. For some reason, the crowds go wild over this one.

The grand finale of the day is a joust performed before the Queen’s assembly. Wave a pennant for your chosen knight and watch him, armor clad on horseback, battle his opponent for the sake of honor.

Blaring trumpets, beggars, belly dancers, and sorcerers. That’s the Renaissance Festival. Have fun being rude to the cruel Sheriff of Nottingham or lure a country lad into a romping barefoot dance.

Be the dashing, bold, colorful character of your dreams and spend a day at the fair. The festival runs every Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. until September 11.

Obituaries

Lucille Campana; Succumbs At 47

A Mass was offered July 18 in St. Peter’s Church for Mrs. Lucille A. Campana, 47, who died July 16 in Morristown Memorial Hospital.

Born in Newark, she lived in Belleville for 40 years.

Surviving are her husband, Frederick; a son, Dean of Belleville; two daughters, Mrs. Darlene Carmosino of Nutley and Miss Donna of Belleville; her father, Mr. Ernest Conforti of Belleville and five sisters, Mrs. Hope Limongelli, Mrs. Marie Nufrio and Mrs. Jean Curcione, all of Belleville, Mrs. Elaine Del Corsano of Bloomfield and Mrs. Joan Tuosto of Long Island, N.Y.

The John Scanlan Funeral Home made arrangements. Interment was in Immaculate Conception Cemetery, Montclair.

Mrs. Lillie Cullen; Former Secretary

Lillie E. Cullen, 95, of No. Bergen, died on Sunday, June 12.

Born in Jersey City, Mrs. Cullen lived in Belleville for 85 years before moving to North Bergen five years ago. She retired 25 years ago, as a secretary for the Box Insurance Agency in Belleville. She was a member of the No. Bergen Terrace Senior Citizens Association.

She is survived by two daughters, Florence Cullen and Lillian Burger of No. Bergen; two grandsons, Dr. Joseph and Susanne Burger of Hamburg, Germany; Col. James and Margriet Burger of Virginia; three great-grandchildren, Annetta, Thijs and Dominique Burger of Virginia and a sister, Florence Payne, of Upper Montclair.

Pasquale Rodino; Succumbs At 70

A Mass was offered July 21 for Pasquale Rodino, 70, who died July 17 in St. Joseph’s Hospital, Paterson.

Mr. Rodino was a clerk with the Newark Housing Authority for 23 years before retiring two years ago.

Born in Newark, he moved to Belleville in 1950.

Surviving are his wife, Conjetta, and his brother, Peter, who is a New Jersey congressman.

The Spatola Funeral Home, Newark, made arrangements. Interment was in Gate of Heaven Cemetery, Hanover.

Frank A. Orechio Appointed To Essex Industry Council

Frank A. Orechio, president of Orechio Communications Company and publisher of the Belleville Times, Nutley Sun and Bloomfield Life, has been appointed by Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro to the newly formed Private Industry Council of Essex County (PIC).

Appointment — Frank A. Orechio, president of Orechio Communications Company, confers with Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro and PIC Chairman Walter H. Hislop after being elected secretary to the Private Industry Council of Essex County.

The Private Industry Council elected Orechio secretary at its organization meeting held at the Gateway Hilton Aug. 4.

Orechio, whose appointment was confirmed by the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders, will join with other executives from local industry, leaders of the education community, labor representatives and private and public service delivery agencies to oversee the implementation of the new Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) programs in Essex County.

The JTPA is the new federal/state program established to provide job training for the unemployed and disadvantaged population of Essex County.

A Nutley resident, Orechio is president of Orechio Industries Inc. and was the chairman and member of the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission for the State of New Jersey for 16 years, serving as its chairman for 11 years.

Orechio is currently serving as the project coordinator of the Wanaque South Water Project.

Religious Viewpoint

Have I really sacrificed anything?

Two wealthy born again Christians, a lawyer and a businessman joined in an around-the-world tour. While in Korea they saw in a field by the side of the road, a boy pulling a crude wooden plow through the rice paddy.

The lawyer was quite surprised and took a snapshot of the scene. "That's a curious sight," I suppose they are very poor," he said to the Missionary who was their guide and interpreter. "Yes," was the quiet reply. "That is the family of Chi Novi." When the church was built after the war, they were eager to share in its construction but had no money. They sold their ox and gave the money to the church. This spring they are pulling the plow themselves."

The lawyer and the businessman were quiet for a few moments. Then the businessman said, "That must have been a real sacrifice."

"They did not call it that," said the Missionary, "They felt fortunate to have an ox to sell."

The tourists had little to say, but when they reached home, the lawyer took the picture to his minister and told him of the incident that had so impressed him. "I intend to double my giving to the church, and I want you to give me some 'Plow Work' to do. I have never given anything to Christ that really cost me anything. I had to go around the world to learn that."

Our Lord Jesus Christ put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself, and after he had offered one complete sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God. Hebrews 10:12. The least that you can do is to present your body a living sacrifice, holy acceptable unto God which is your reasonable service, and be not conformed to this world: but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, that you may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God. Romans 12:1,2. God gave His all for you. What have you given to Him? Proverbs 23:26.

Nardiello Named Superintendent of Schools

First Belleville-Born Resident To Be Named Superintendent

By Ed Capparucci

After serving for 32 years in the Belleville school district, Michael Nardiello has finally made it to the top.

Monday night the Board of Education unanimously voted to appoint Nardiello, who has served as assistant superintendent of schools for the past three years, to the top post of school superintendent, replacing Dr. John Greed, who formally announced his resignation from the board to accept a similar post in the Sparta school district.

"I am very happy with the appointment," said Nardiello, who becomes the first Belleville-born resident to obtain the post of superintendent here. "I believe that being a Belleville native, I know the district well and will work to maintain the same high level of education that Dr. Greed did during his years here."

Grace Purdue, president of the School Board, said that Nardiello was an excellent choice for the post.

"Mike Nardiello is truly a product of Belleville," she told the standing-room only crowd which gathered at the board complex Monday night. "He is a graduate of the Belleville school system and I, along with the rest of the board, are confident that he will be as much an asset in his new post as he was in his old one."

Born in Belleville, Nardiello is a graduate of School 4 and Belleville High School. He received his bachelor's degree in business-administration from Montclair State College in 1950, his master's degree in special education from Seton Hall in 1962 and his master's-plus in administration-supervision from Seton Hall in 1966.

Nardiello is also a three-year veteran of the Army.

He started his teaching career in 1951 with a seventh grade class at School 4. During his second year of teaching the superintendent of schools asked him to start a special education program. This was before special education classes were mandated by the state. After establishing the program, he was named the first director of special services. He served in that capacity until being named principal at School 4 in 1967. And on Aug. 28, 1980 Nardiello was appointed assistant superintendent of schools for personnel.

Nardiello says he has no goals set at this time, except to maintain "high educational standards here."

"I am not going into this with sweeping changes in mind," said Nardiello. "Belleville has a good educational system, and I just plan on keeping it that way."

Incoming and Outgoing — Michael Nardiello (r), who was appointed Belleville's new superintendent of schools on Monday night, poses with his wife, Marion, and Dr. John Greed, who formally announced Monday night his resignation from the superintendent position here. Dr. Greed has accepted a similar post in the Sparta school district.

Rec Carnival Set For Today

The Belleville Recreation Department will hold its annual playground carnival today, Thursday, August 18 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Proceeds from this year's carnival will be donated to the Bobby Travers Leukemia Fund, to benefit the 12-year-old Belleville youth who has leukemia.

The carnival will be held at the Recreation House at 407 Joralemon St., and it promises to provide much enjoyment for children of all ages in the form of games, stands, prizes, and food and drink.

Heavy Damage — A fire at 2 DeWitt Ave., early last Thursday morning left one Bloomfield woman and two Belleville firemen injured. Three other persons escaped unharmed from the blaze, which fire officials are investigating.

Woman and Two Firefighters Injured During House Fire

By Steve Frank

One woman and two Belleville firemen were injured during a blaze which occurred early last Thursday morning at 2 DeWitt Ave.

Patricia Morgera of 257 Bloomfield Ave., suffered burns on her arms, hands, shoulders and back during a fire at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Carmela and Thomas Tully. Also injured were firefighters Joseph Troise and Vincent Abbott.

Mrs. Morgera was babysitting her 19-month-old granddaughter, Rachel, when the fire broke out at approximately 1 a.m.

Meanwhile, the local hero involved in the incident, Miguel Colon, who was on his way home from work, saw the flames coming the enclosed porch of the two-family building and rushed into the house grabbing the baby away from Mrs. Morgera and then pulling her to safety. When Mrs. Morgera was pulled from the building, her clothes were on fire.

Colon, a 24-year-old Belleville resident, then raced up the stairs to awaken Brian Fredricks and his one-year-old daughter, Nicole. They were directed down the back stairway and escaped unharmed.

Mrs. Morgera was taken to the burn unit of St. Barnabas Medical Center, where she was listed in stable, but guarded condition. She was babysitting while her daughter was in Clara Maass Medical Center after giving birth to a second child. Her husband was at work at the time of the blaze.

The two firemen were injured when part of the roof collapsed while they were fighting the blaze. Troise, 28, was treated at the scene and Abbott, 30, was taken to Clara Maass Medical Center, where he was treated and later released.

Fire officials say they do not know what the exact cause of the fire is at the present time, but that a full-team investigation is under way.

Should Be Finished By Labor Day

Clean Up Operation Finally Started at Chemical Company

By Linda Telesco

The toxic cleanup of the Research Organic/Inorganic Corp. Inc. site at 507 Main St. is finally under way this week with a new agency handling the matter, said Township Attorney Frank Zinna on Monday.

Applied Technologies of Toms River began a $198,000 cleanup and disposal project on Monday and expects to be finished by Labor Day — in time for school reopening, the attorney said.

Zinna noted the agency is bonded and the township is presently in the process of obtaining a generator's license from the federal Environmental Protection Agency which will permit Belleville to maintain authority over the project.

To date, there are still 1,006 containers of chemical materials on the site of the food-flavoring manufacturing plant which was closed by court order last May, two days before the first of several toxic leaks that set off a health and safety scare in the neighborhood.

Applied Technology was one of three contenders for the cleanup contract last month and offered the second lowest fee.

Originally, Commissioners hired Solvents for Energy, a West Milford firm that agreed to perform the cleanup for $100,000 by contracting the work out.

However, frustrated by the company's delays in obtaining necessary bonding, the township decided last week to hire Applied Technology instead.

The third bid was a joint proposal by Peabody Clean Industry, Inc. of Linden and Environmental Waste Management of Morristown for over $300,000.

The Linden firm was had been working at the site since the first leak on May 20, retained by the township for the emergency, which resulted in closing several businesses temporarily and the neighborhood's School 9 for the remainder of the academic year, a situation school officials feared would drag on into the fall.

Zinna noted that in addition to site cleanup, AT would seek buyers for some of the virgin chemicals saleable on the site. By court order, Belleville has control of the closed company's assets and hopes to offset cleanup costs with monies from such a sale.

Another Drum Leak

Another toxic leak was discovered and corrected last week at the Research Organic/Inorganic Chemical Corp., on Main Street, the site of several leaks and an area-wide scare last May.

According to Police Chief George Lister, the leak was discovered at 7:30 a.m. by police routinely assigned to patrol the site of the food-flavoring manufacturing facility which was closed by court order since the hazard began last spring.

Lister said a guard is assigned to the grounds 24-hours a day seven days a week. The Friday patrol detected a strong odor and noticed a vapor coming off a container in the plant.

Township Attorney Frank Zinna said Monday the private chemical firm which worked to cleanup the original problems, Peabody Clean Industry of Linden, returned Friday to repack the newly leaking container.

Fire Inspector Tom Nisivocchia said Tuesday the chemical in the leaking five-gallon can was identified as phosphorouspentachloride, an irritant.

Commissioners Accepting Garbage Bids Once Again

For the third time since December, Belleville will seek bids on a scavenger contract in a special Commission meeting at 6:30 p.m. tonight (Thursday) in Town Hall.

The third round of bids results from litigation that prompted a Superior Court judge and an Appellate Court judicial panel to void Belleville's original five-year $2,778,992 contract with Browning-Ferris Waste Industries of Fairfield.

Effective since Jan. 1, that contract was awarded BFI on Dec. 28, two days before the only other bidder, L. Pucillo and Sons, Inc. of Belleville, filed a complaint against the new scavenger and the township claiming irregularities in the bid award.

The court declared the contract invalid in March and ordered Belleville to rebid. Following unsuccessful appeal, the township accepted new bids July 11 but rejected them as too costly.

In the second round of bidding, both BFI and Pucillo were again the sole competitors with BFI as the low bidder. However, the Fairfield firm this time asked a price of $3,685,742 for the same type of five-year contract awarded in December, a hike of over $900,000.

Commissioners decided to try again to save some dollars. Meanwhile, Assistant Township Attorney Frank Cozzarelli has the case under appeal in the state Supreme Court and the officials hope for a decision on the more economical original contract prior to awarding a new one.

Presently BFI has continued scavenger service to the township on a per diem basis according to the set contract rates.

Prior to the original contract award, Pucillo had served as Belleville's scavenger for over 20 years.

Religious Viewpoint

By Rev. Robert Paul

At Park Rapids, Minnesota, a tramp walked into a restaurant and asked the proprietor for a free meal. The hobo looked so hungry and bedraggled that the sympathetic restaurant man said "O.K." The tramp sat down at a table and had a good meal, a first-class hand out.

As the hobo was leaving, he walked up to the proprietor and even bummed a cigarette. He fished in a pocket for a match and along with the match he carelessly pulled out a $20 bill.

"Say, what's that," shouted the proprietor. "You come in here bumming a meal and you got 20 bucks." And he grabbed the bank note.

"But this was supposed to be a free meal," the hobo protested. "Not on your life. I'll just take $3.50 out of the $20."

The restaurant man handed the hobo the $16.50 in change.

The unhappy ending of the story is that when the proprietor took the money to the bank he found that the $20 bill he had taken from the hobo was counterfeit.

But money is not the only thing that is counterfeited. There are many counterfeit religions in the world today who proclaim that all one has to do to get to heaven is to be good, keep the law, join a church, and try to be honest. These things are good in themselves, but they do not take the place of personal trust in God's Son, the Lord Jesus Christ. The Bible says: "This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief." (1st Timothy 1:15). "And there is no difference, for all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God." (Romans 3).

Are you following a counterfeit religion or have you personally placed your trust in God's Son, the Lord Jesus Christ as your own Saviour and Lord? "Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." (John 14:6).

H & R Block Offering Income Tax Courses

Thousands of people are earning money in their spare time as income tax preparers.

H & R Block, the world's largest income tax preparations service, is offering a basic income tax course in Belleville and Nutley starting Sept. 12 and 13 with morning, afternoon, and evening classes available.

During the 12-week course, which will meet twice weekly, students will study all phases of income tax preparation and receive actual experience in preparing individual returns. Experienced Block personnel will teach current laws, theory, and application as practiced in Block offices nationwide. There is a classroom lecture on each subject and practice problems at every level. Courses are programmed to teach students increasingly complex tax problems as study progresses. Students will find the course both interesting and challenging.

Anyone may enroll. There are no restrictions or qualifications. Courses are ideally suited for housewives, retired persons, teachers, or persons wanting to increase their tax knowledge.

Qualified course graduates may be offered job interviews for positions with Block. Many accept employment with Block because of the flexible hours available. However, Block is under no obligation to offer employment, nor are graduates, under any obligation to accept employment with H & R Block.

The modest course fee includes all textbooks, supplies, and tax forms necessary for completion of the course. The course is licensed by the New Jersey Board of Education. Certificates and 7.5 continuing education units will be awarded upon successful completion of the course.

Registration forms and brochures for the course may be obtained by contacting the H & R Block, Inc., Registration Center at 155 Franklin Ave., Nutley, or by calling 235-1000 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Fortunato Wants Medicare For Intensive Care Units

Assemblyman Buddy Fortunato introduced a resolution in the N.J. State Assembly which will petition Congress to re-instate Medicare disbursement payments for Mobile Intensive Care Units (MICU's) operating out of the N.J. hospitals.

The bill, sponsored by Congressman James Florio would override an administrative decision by the Health Care Financing Administration to disallow the cost of reimbursing MICU's for emergency medical service supplied to heart attack patients and those who are severely injured.

The current billing procedure of MICU's are done as out-patient services. Two years ago the MICU was a free service funded through the state department of health using federal Medicare money. The billing procedure beginning this month could cost patients between $150 to $300.

"The implications of this decision are far-reaching," Fortunato said. "Because of elaborate agreements with both the State of N.J. and the federal government no other insurance carrier would be required to pick up the cost of MICU service if Medicare pulls out."

"This means that no medical insurance carrier such as Blue Cross would be required to pick up the cost of a heart attack victim if the MICU came to his home and saved his/her life," Fortunato continued.

"If the heart attack doesn't kill the victim, his subsequent Medicare bill will — This is an outrage!" commented Fortunato. "We cannot, in the name of cost-cutting, put people's lives in jeopardy. I am in favor of slashing the Federal Budget when warranted; but not at the expense of the health and welfare of the public. This kind of misguided approach to government must cease."

College Cost Continuing To Increase

The costs of attending college are on the rise, and the New Jersey Education Association fears the doors may be closing on the children of middle and low-income families.

In 1983-84, college attendance will cost $4,618 at the typical American public college and $8,939 at a private university, according to figures from the American Council on Education. The trend is increasing averaging 9 to 10 percent a year. At some Ivy League colleges, costs already exceed $12,000 per year.

The rise this year averages over 9 percent, the ACE reports, a rate that's much higher than inflation. Consumer costs rose by only 3.9 percent in calendar year 1982.

This rise in student costs is occurring at a time when both the state and federal governments are shaving aid to public schools and colleges. New Jersey's support of its public colleges is proportionally lower than in any state except Mississippi.

"You can eliminate repair bills on your gas house heater and water heater with PSE&G's new gas service contract."

Scott Ochse
Service Specialist,
Gas Transmission
and Distribution

You no longer have to worry about repair bills on your gas house heater or water heater with PSE&G's new plan. For one small annual payment the main operating parts and controls which may fail or become defective will be replaced at no additional charges.

This new plan is an optional service, which is being offered only to our residential gas house heating and water heating customers. Currently, when a replacement part is required, a charge is made to cover material and labor costs. This policy will continue for those who do not choose to sign up for the new plan. Of course, PSE&G will also continue to provide free gas appliance adjustment service whether or not you take advantage of the plan.

The Price Is Right

Coverage for your gas house heater is $19.95; for your gas water heater, $6.95; and a combination of both appliances, only $24.95. This one annual payment covers replacement parts including valves and motors.

How To Sign Up

Most customers have already received a complete description of these plans and a contract form in the mail. If you have, simply return your application with a check or money order by September 1, 1983, and you'll have full coverage until August 31, 1984. If you haven't received a contract form and are interested in the plan, simply call the number on your bill or fill out the coupon below and send it to PSE&G. You'll receive full details.

No Charge For Emergency Service

If you think you smell gas inside or outside your home, call PSE&G at once. Our emergency number is in the phone directory and on your bill. There is never a charge for emergency service.

Yes, I want to eliminate repair bills on my gas house heater and water heater. Please send me additional information about PSE&G's new gas service contract.
