Excellent Appointment

The Belleville Board of Education this week appointed a 32-year veteran of the Belleville school system as superintendent of schools to succeed Dr. John T. Greed, who recently was named superintendent of the Sparta school system.

Michael Nardiello's appointment is effective in September. His appointment was not unexpected — for he served three years under a great teacher — as assistant superintendent to Dr. John Greed.

Nardiello is expected to continue in the progressive ways established by Dr. Greed.

The School Board should be congratulated for going within the system and rewarding a deserving employee through the promotional process. It augurs well for the morale of its staff.

A word about Dr. Greed — he was a public servant unusually qualified for the high position he held. Dr. Greed was understanding of staff problems, as well as focusing on the need for staff discipline. Dr. Greed enjoyed the respect and support of the Board of Education and equally so with the teaching staff.

The students and parents are beneficiaries of Dr. Greed's dedication to providing quality education for the children of parents who are fortunate enough to recognize that Belleville is a class community.

Herbert Mercurio

Herbert J. Mercurio Sr., former Chief Sanitary Inspector for the Township of Belleville, died last week at the age of 68 — an age when most people expect to begin to enjoy the fruits of the labors of their youth. Indeed, Mr. Mercurio was too young to die.

As Belleville Chief Sanitary Inspector for 16 years, Mr. Mercurio did an outstanding job. He was a dedicated public employee serving in a difficult post with great distinction.

Mercurio performed a job that required a balance of compassion and law enforcement. He had the capacity to merge both objectives to the satisfaction of the people who were subject to the laws of our community and yet enforce the laws for the benefit of our residents.

Mr. Mercurio was a good and decent man, and an outstanding public servant.

Incredible Marriage

First National State Bancorp, the largest bank holding company in New Jersey, and Fidelity Union Bancorp, third largest, are heading for a marriage if stockholders agree, and the Feds approve.

The merger of these two great financial institutions will result in a single organization whose assets will reach $10 billion! The resulting organization would create a banking institution among the top 20 in the United States.

The new bank emerging from the marriage will have 305 full-service branches throughout New Jersey, serviced by more than 7,000 employees.

The announcement of this unbelievable business development was made by Robert R. Ferguson Jr., chairman and chief executive officer of the $5-billion-asset First National State Bank and Peter Cartmell, chairman and chief executive officer of the $3.5-billion-asset Fidelity Union Bank. Giving his full blessing to the agreement was W. Paul Stillman, Chairman of the Board of First National State Bancorp. Stillman is among the pioneers — if not THE pioneer of big banking in New Jersey.

The new bank will do much for New Jersey. Loans of $50 million or more can now be negotiated right here in New Jersey. This dimension should encourage large multi-national corporations to relocate in New Jersey — and that means jobs — jobs — jobs.

New Jersey has many attractions to which it might point with pride. It has the Meadowlands Sports Complex. It has the Atlantic City Casinos. It has its Turnpike — its Garden State Parkway — and now it will have a banking institution that could compete with the largest in America.

It is with native state pride that we make note of this fascinating financial deal which only a Ferguson — a Cartmell — and a Stillman could make.

Another Businessman Objects Police Move

To the editor:

As a local businessman operating "Jackie's Corner," I share the sentiments of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce and many other merchants of town in opposition to the proposal of the Town Commissioners to remove the police headquarters from its present location.

Because of my concern about the adverse effect this move would have upon the protection and security of all the business establishments in the immediate area and the feeling of abandonment of the governing officials of often discussed plans to rebuild the Washington Avenue business section, I attended the August 8th meeting of the Commissioners.

I was much impressed by the arguments of spokespersons of the Chamber of Commerce and others who expressed angered resentment toward the Town Commissioners for their complete disregard for the wishes and interests of our local merchants.

Contrarily, I found distasteful the apathetic indifference and evasive disinterest of the Commissioners to the concerns of the merchants. Because Commissioner Matthew Pica was absent, the questions of the Chamber of Commerce went unanswered.

Since all five Commissioners voted to move the police station, all of them should have had full knowledge of all the details involved, otherwise, they should not have voted on the matter. One was left with the impression that the men now entrenched in power don't concern themselves with the wishes of the Belleville business community nor its people...that they're there to run the township the way they want. Take it or leave it! The public be damned.

That is no way to rule. It begets anger and resentments. In this country the people have the final voice. These Commissioners have no option on their office, they can be removed.

Respectfully submitted,
Jackie Rega

Golden Comments

By James R. Golden

Just as the thermometer rose to uncomfortable levels during the torrid days of July and summer, so too, will the political temperature soar in Belleville, which very well may serve as the deciding cockpit in the impending fall election for the office of State Senator from the 30th legislative district of Essex County, which pits Republican Ralph Salerno, a former Belleville lad who grew up in the Silver Lake section of town and now an attorney, against the incumbent Carmen Orechio, Democratic State Senate President and acting governor when Governor Kean leaves the state. Sen. Orechio is the operator of the Nutley Travel Service, a Nutley native and Mayor of the town.

Both are of Italian lineage. Orechio is 58, Salerno is 44. Ironically, they both like each other and call their opponent a "nice guy." Carmen's third senatorial term, because of a quirk in the State Constitution is an abbreviated two-year stint which occasions his seeking re-election this year.

The Republicans concerned over the Democratic control of both houses of the State legislature are concentrating on Senator Orechio's district in the hopes of "knocking off" the opposition party's top man. They pin their strategy upon outspending the Orechio forces and gloat over the independent candidacy of Martin G. Scaturro, a former Essex freeholder and a Democrat, pointing to the slim margin of Senator Orechio's last victory, although, overlooking the popularity and voting strength of Bloomfield councilman John Crecco, Orechio's last opponent, and the fact that the Senator also had independent democrats drawing votes in that election.

Dave Murray, executive director of the Republican Legislative Campaign Committee, a union of the Republican national and state committees, and key legislative Republicans, said the GOP is prepared to spend "whatever it takes to win." He doesn't say how much that will be, but, they have already started with expensive form letters couched in snide allusions to cronyism and nepotism in politics coupled with inferences of supplying jobs to friends and family members. Accompanying the "Dear friend letter" is an endorsement of Salerno's candidacy by the Governor along with a call of volunteer service and a financial contribution as well as a photo of Salerno's family.

All political campaigning traditions are being shattered by starting the race before Labor Day. The well-heeled Republicans, in an expensive effort to help Salerno develop an identity with the voters, are using their well staffed and financed organization to compensate for Orechio's 12-year record of achievement as Senator in the 30th District.

Murray justifies the strategy of big spending on Salerno's candidacy by pointing out he is a political unknown. Salerno's only previous political involvement was the direct Republicans for Congressman Jim Florio, Gov. Kean's Democratic opponent in the 1981 election. A defection of this magnitude would normally be regarded as an unpardonable political apostasy, resulting in ostracism. Kean won by only 1,700 votes.

Governor Kean, being left to his own devices, hoping to gain a Republican Senate majority is backing Salerno, a law partner of Democratic Essex County surrogate Nick Amato. Murray, who was a front man in Kean's 1981 victory, is one of Salerno's principal managers.

State Democratic Chairman James Maloney says the contest for the 30th District Senate seat is the big race, the one to win, to retain Democratic control in the Senate. Admitting the Democrats lack the bucks to match the Republicans. He said Orechio, who had "substantial fund-raising capability," will have to raise his own war chest.

Maloney said, "We're probably talking $125,000, that's enough for a Senate race." He said the best the Democrats hope to do is at least spend $1 for every four or five the Republicans pump into the race. Hopefully he claims perhaps the Democrats will spend their limited funds more wisely than the Republicans, noting that "conventional wisdom says there is no one around listening now. More people will be listening later."

Maloney warned, "This has the potential for becoming a gloves-off campaign. Both sides have to cooperate to make sure its stays issue-oriented."

We feel elections should be decided upon the basis of the candidate's experience and proven record, respect for party loyalty and consistency. We frown upon opportunistic involvement predicated upon political machination and intrigue designed at "power grabbing" manipulation and the subtle "buying" of elections.

Suppertime Talks — Hakluyt's Voyages

By Russell Roemmele

"We understood in the East Indies by certain Portugales which we took, that they have lately discovered the coast of China to the latitude of nine and fifty degrees, finding the sea still open to the Northward: giving great hope of the Northeast or Northwest passage. Witness, Master James Lancaster, 1591, after a trip to the East Indies by way of Mozambique, Zansibar, Sumatra and points in the South Pacific."

Take a 16-year-old boy as he is about to enter his senior year in high school. Give him Richard Hakluyt's, "The Principal Navigations, Voyages, Traffics and Discoveries of the English Nation" in 12 worn volumes. Give him a light atop the roof of a three-story flat in the Ironbound section of Newark. And let him read of lands and people and adventures as he has never read before — but real, not fictional, and that is how I read Hakluyt's "Voyages" and why I have never forgotten Sebastian Cabot, John Hawkins, Richard Chancellor, Martin Frobisher, John White, John Davis and... and, above all, Francis Drake.

Listen to the description of Drake's attack on Lima, Peru, February 13, 1578 in the reign of Elizabeth I of England:

"To Lima we came, and being entered the haven, we found there about 12 sail of ships lying fast moored at an anchor, having all their sails carried on shore, for the masters and merchants were here most secure, having never been assaulted by enemies, and at this time feared the approach of none such as we were. Our general (Drake) rifled these ships, and found in one of them a chest full of royals of plate, and good store of silks and linen cloth, and took the chest into his ship, and good store of the silks and linen... and by the way (to Panama) met with a bark laden with ropes and tackled for ships, which he (Drake) boarded and searched, and found in her much weight of gold, and a crucifix of gold with goodly great emeralds set in it, which he took, and some of the cordage for his ship."

Hakluyt's "Voyages" is, of course, geography first. This is the subject that, alas, has been mostly dumped from the school curriculum to make room for, among other learning, the geography of the body (sex education). At any rate, historian Irwin Blacker said of the "Voyages":

"But more than geography charted, the 'Voyages' is geography revealed, the map unrolled, the light breaking across the unknown corners. It is Davis in the Arctic Straits; it is Willoughby seeking a route to China above the Scandinavian peninsula; it is Jenkinson seeking one through Russia and Persia.... It is geographic revelation — something which would never again happen on such a scale or make such an impact upon the minds of a generation."

Listen to Sebastian Cabot to his crew: "...that no blaspheming of God, or detestable swearing be used in any ship, nor communication of ribaldry, filthy tales, or ungodly talk to be suffered in the company of any ship, neither dicing, carding, tabling, nor other devilish games to be frequented, whereby ensues not only poverty to the playes, but also strife, variance, brawling, fighting, and oftentimes murder to the utter destruction of the parties, and provoking Gods' most just wrath, and sword of vengeance." Imagine that in her Majesty's Navy.

And Chancellor writes of the then comparatively more humane Moscow laws:

"If any man be taken upon committing of theft, he is imprisoned, and often beaten, but not hanged for the first offense, as the manner is with us: and they call this the law of mercy. He that offends the second time has his nose cut off, and is burned in the forehead with a hot iron. The third time, he is hanged."

And listen to Masters Philip Amadas and Arthur Barlow, who in 1584 discovered part of Virginia, talk of the Indian reception: "...After we had thus dried ourselves, she brought us into the inner room, where she set on the board standing along the house, some wheat, venison, fish (boiled and roasted), melons, and many roots (vegetables and grapes and other fruits: their drink is commonly water, but while grapes last, they drink wine, sometimes with ginger in it and blackberries, and sometimes sassaparilla and other wholesome and medicinable herbes and trees. We were entertained with all love and kindness, and with as much bounty (after their manner) as they could possibly devise. We found the people most gentle, loving, and faithful, void of all guile and treason and such as live after the manner of a golden age." No wonder, the "Noble Savage" so influenced the subsequent two centuries, especially in Jean Jacques Rousseau's writings.

41 Youngsters Enjoy Summer Camp Here

Summer camp has been an exciting experience for the 41 youngsters enrolled in Camps Sunburst and Starburst at Community Mental Health Services located on the grounds of the Geriatric Hospital in Belleville.

In six weeks the children's days have been filled with activities both recreational and educational. Some of the highlights have been trips to the Newark Museum, a Carvel ice cream store in Belleville, where the children learned all about ice cream making, and a "car wash" day at the agency. Sports and arts and crafts have also been a regular part of the camp day.

A longtime friend of the campers, Irvin Folk of Belleville, returned this summer to again delight the children with his fascinating hobby of rock polishing. On the final day of camp a grand family barbeque was enjoyed by all.

This year the camp was able to offer many more experiences off-site because of the generous cooperation of the Nutley Board of Education which made one of the school buses available to the camps. The camp director, Ellen Dimmey stated that because of this the impact of the camp experience on the children was more significant. Many of the counselors are professionally trained in the special needs of the exceptional child. The camp is structured to offer each child a therapeutic experience that will help the children to grow at their own pace.

The camp is supported in part by funds donated by the Roche Players of Hoffmann-La Roche.

Belleville's Past

Grist Mills and Copper Mines

Despite the restrictions the Crown put on Schuyler's exports, the mine continued to flourish. Benjamin Franklin, who visited Newark, Second River and the mine in 1749, waxed quite enthusiastic while describing it in a letter to a friend:

"I know of but one valuable copper mine in the country, which is that of the Schuylers in the Jerseys. This yields good copper and has turned out vast wealth to the owners. I was at it last fall, but they were not then at work. The water has grown too hard for them, and they waited for a fire-engine from England, to drain their pits."

Not until three years later did the "fire engine" arrive of which Franklin spoke. It cost the Schuylers 3,000 Pounds Sterling to have the engine brought on board "the Snow Irene, Capt. Garrison, in about 12 weeks from London."

With the precious piece of machinery came its designer, a young mechanic by the name of Josiah Hornblower. He and his father, Joseph, had built several of their "atmospheric" engines for the use in tiny mines along the Cornish and Welsh coast of England.

The many crates in which the engine and its spare parts were packed were carefully unloaded in New York harbor and floated up the Passaic in a barge. On September 25, 1753, the books of the Schuyler mine contain this entry: To cash — paid for eight days carting ye engine & boards to ye mine at $6. $2 — 8 — 0.

Once assembled and set up by Hornblower, the engine served the Schuyler mine a decade and a half. But then disaster overtook it. On July 25, 1768, the New York Gazette and Weekly Post Boy had to report:

On Monday Night last, a very costly and valuable Engine for extracting Water out of Col. Schuyler's Copper Mines at Second River, unhappily took Fire, and was, together with the Building which inclosed it, entirely consumed. This is the second Time the Fire has destroyed (I) their Engine, and as it is of great Value, and many Labourers had their chief Dependence on this Work, which they will now probably know the want of, the Damage will be very sensibly felt; it is unknown how the Fire began, but it is said not to be without some suspicion of Design.

Copper Comes Into Its Own

The mine remained idle for a quarter of a century. But in 1789 the New Jersey Copper Mines Association was formed. Prime movers in its organization were Philip Schuyler, who had been a brigadier general in the Revolutionary army, and Nicholas J. Roosevelt, a member of that far-flung clan that later was to give the nation two of its presidents. Their headquarters were at Belleville, where Josiah Hornblower had become a substantial landowner and also operator of the old ferry across the Passaic. He also added and advised Schuyler and Roosevelt and acted in general as what today may be called a consulting engineer to the New Jersey Copper Mines Association.

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

Not every case of soreness or pain in the muscles requires chiropractic care. We get sore muscles by simply overdoing. This is especially true when we resume doing something we haven't done for years, such as skating or playing tennis.

However, when pain occurs and there is no explanation in terms of recent over-exertion, misalignment of spinal vertebrae is often at fault. Either one severe wrench or a series of small injuries can build up to a condition of intolerable pain.

Relief from pain is usually provided by chiropractic care. Please our office for an appointment for an examination.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beresford — nee Donna Iacobelli

Beresford-Iacobelli Ceremony Performed

Donna Susan Iacobelli, daughter of Mrs. Josephine Iacobelli of Boyton Beach, Fla., and the late Mr. Richard Iacobelli, became the bride June 26 of Edward Phillip Beresford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beresford of Port Orange, Fla.

The Rev. Paul of Grace Baptist Church, Belleville, performed the ceremony at Nestor's Triple Crown, Little Falls. A reception followed.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Louis De Bacco, the bride wore a gown of white chiffonella with a mandarin collar, bodice and sleeves of Alencon lace trimmed with pearls and sequins. The scalloped hemline and train were appliqued with lace.

A headpiece of silk flowers held her three tier veil and she carried phalenopsis orchids, lily of the valley and coquet roses.

Lisa DeBacco was her sister's matron of honor in an off-the-shoulder pink Qiana dress fashioned with a scooped neckline. Her headpiece was a brimmed hat accented with ribbon and she carried a cascade of lavender iris, pink roses and pink and white carnations.

Walter Beresford of Belleville was his brother's best man. Another brother, Richard Beresford and Richard Gonzalez, brother-in-law of the bride, escorted the mothers of the couple.

Mrs. Iacobelli chose a champagne Qiana dress with matching jacket. Her corsage was of phalenopsis and baby roses. The groom's mother, in a pink dress, wore a corsage of orchids.

Mrs. Beresford, an alumna of Belleville High School, attended American Academy of Dramatic Arts, New York and is a part time student at William Paterson College, Wayne. She is with McDonald's Corp., Bloomfield.

Mr. Beresford attended Belleville High School and Bloomfield Vocational School. He is a self-employed independent truck driver.

The couple honeymooned in Cove Haven and Key West, Florida and have made their home in Belleville.

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,

My husband is walking around with a rainbow on his head. Thank God he needs glasses and he can't see the three colors on his head. I feel guilty for the messy color job, but I don't know what to do. He is thirty-three and all grey. He looked sophisticated but old. I bought chestnut brown and mixed the color with peroxide and applied it. It came out very well. A month went by, his hair grew so I reapplied the same color. There was some difference in the color. I followed the same process the third month. It came out in three different colors. Why did this happen?

Your Reader With the husband with a rainbow on his head

Dear Reader,

Your husband had the hair that I would like to have - grey. If we could exchange, I would pay a good sum. First, don't apply that type of a mixture on a man. There are colors on the market which do not contain peroxide, designed for men. If you use those peroxide colors you must apply the color on the roots first. After 15-20 minutes you apply it all over. Try this method and you'll see a vast improvement.

Sulfa drugs, like antibiotics, are chemical agents that either stop the growth of germs or kill them. However, while antibiotics are derived from living plants or animals, sulfa drugs are synthetically derived from chemicals, not living organisms. To understand how a sulfa drug works, it is necessary to first realize how a germ reproduces. Germs need the presence of a common body chemical called para-aminobenzoic acid (PABA). Sulfa drugs closely resemble PABA and trick the germs into taking on the sulfa drugs in their effort to reproduce. These efforts fail, of course, and the germs eventually die out. However, not all germ cells are similarly affected by sulfa drugs.

We make a special effort to give all our customers personalized service. All your prescription needs can be met at ROS-SAFORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. Free delivery is available. Greeting cards, cosmetics, toiletries, and other gift items are stocked. Hours: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm.

HANDY HINT:

Sulfa drugs produce a higher percentage of allergic reactions than many other drugs.

Seems Like Only Yesterday...

Golden Under Consideration For Recall; Young Peoples' Club Established Here

Twenty-five Years Ago

A tape recorder was used in a Belleville Board of Commission meeting for the first time, as a complete log of every word spoken was kept. The recorder was brought in and owned by Mayor Isadore Padule, who along with Commissioner Harry Sullivan, voted against an ordinance which limited accounts of public debate to the topic and the speaker's name. Padule said that the tapes would serve as unofficial accounts of town meetings.

In order to provide a meeting place for the town's young people the Recreation Department set up facilities at the Recreation House for a "Young Peoples' Club." Superintendent of Recreation Robert Cook said two rooms would be set up with chairs, ping-pong tables, record players, a coke machine and a television set. "There is a town ordinance prohibiting loitering in Belleville," said Cook. "That means no group is legally permitted to gather on the corner or anywhere else on the streets. Teenagers are too old for playgrounds and because there is little commercial entertainment in town, they are really hard-pressed to find things to do. This club will help."

Twenty Years Ago

The Belleville Veterans Town Committee announced it would study the possibility of adding Councilman James Golden's name to the recall movement. "We feel that the recall movement against Mayor Robert Laterza, and Councilmen George Addonizio and Vincent Strumolo is expensive and unnecessary," said Vincent Vecchione, chairman of the group. "However, if the citizens of Belleville are going to be required to pay for a useless, senseless recall, then Councilman Golden's name should be on the list also." The committee also requested a handwriting expert check the signatures of the petitions when they are submitted to the town manager.

Police were seeking two armed men who held up the General Public Loan Company on Washington Avenue, making off with $1,236. The two men entered the company just before closing, armed with a shotgun and short-barreled revolver. One of the gunmen put the gun to the neck of a woman employee and demanded the money. The men escaped with no one being injured.

The Chamber of Commerce upset with the parking conditions on Washington Avenue, appointed a committee to get the town council to form a parking authority. Retailers unanimously agreed that parking is the greatest need in the area and that many customers have been complaining about the lack of parking. It was also pointed out of the chamber president that 19 stores along the Avenue were empty and that a healthy retail trade in the community is important to all citizens and especially to the taxpayers.

Ronald Stack was appointed by an unanimous vote of the School Board as principal of School 3, replacing Paul Brennan, who retired at the end of June. He was selected from 29 applicants recommended by various universities and colleges in the New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Maryland area.

Ten Years Ago

Hearing at the office of the State Commissioner Of Education in Trenton, ended and a decision on the restoration of the $450,880 cut from the proposed 1973-74 Belleville school budget is expected within the next 60 days. However, Mayor Joseph McGreevy has made it clear if the decision goes against the Town Board, the money it cut after the budget was defeated by the voters is restored, the Board of Education can expect a drawn-out legal battle for the funds. School Board President Larry Schwartz criticized the mayor's stand, saying such an appeal "will only aggravate the worsening financial condition of the school system." He also said the dispute has already caused the scrapping of a work-study program, some additional curriculum and special education projects and again delaying "vital" maintenance programs.

Another cable company, West Essex Cable TV Inc., joined the growing list of cable companies seeking to place a franchise in Belleville. West Essex joined UA-Columbia and Suburban Cablevision in a pitch to add Belleville to its list of Essex County communities. West Essex Cable is headed by Edward Scudder, grandson of the founder of the Newark News.

School Board President Larry Schwartz announced that the board may consider closing facilities after regular school hours, if the vandalism which cost $1,500 in window replacements alone last year, continues. "I do not think the problem here is greater than in other towns in Suburban Essex," he said, "but it certainly is serious. The money alone spent on repairing vandalism in one year, is enough to pay the salary of a new teacher."

Braves Finally Found Chemistry Despite Falling Short of Playoffs

All season long, Sai Garilli talked about chemistry, which is a little strange for a man who coaches semi-pro baseball. However, Garilli was referring to the chemistry on his ball club and how difficult it is to get the proper chemistry during the first year.

After experimenting over 11 games, Garilli found that chemistry and the end result was a Belleville Braves baseball team which posted a 17-22-1 mark, not bad for a club that got off 0-5 and was playing its first season in the tough Essex County Baseball League.

The 17 wins sets a league record for most victories by a first year club.

Entering the final week of the regular season, Belleville was 12-19 and seemingly out of the playoff race. Instead of folding, the team played its best ball of the year, whipping defending champion Irvington, 10-4, rallying from a 9-1 deficit to stun West Orange, 10-9 and beating a solid team from Maplewood.

Only a heartbreaking 4-3 loss to Irvington on the next to the last day of the season prevented the Braves from making the playoffs. However, the strides the club took that final week should help them a great deal in the confidence department come next season.

"It took me a while to find the right chemistry," said Garilli. "I didn't realize until the 12th game of the season that Joe Corbalis was our best third baseman. I didn't realize how good Davie Starr was in center field. Once those guys started playing consistently, we looked pretty good."

Garilli noted that the middle of his infield will need some improvement next year. "We have to plug the middle of the infield and get more production from those positions offensively," said the coach. "That was probably our toughest spot."

Offensively, Dominick Vazzano, the first baseman, was super all year long. He finished the 40-game schedule with a .420 batting average and came through in a number of clutch situations. Starr batted .330 and was simply incredible in center field, making catches that Garilli termed "major league quality." That's not bad considering that Garilli is a scout for the Chicago White Sox and has seen his sample of major league talent come and go.

Corbalis was a .295 hitter at the plate and was making Graig Nettles' catches at the hot corner. He was a standout third sacker for Belleville High School and had the key hit when Belleville beat Glen Ridge, 10-4 for the championship of the Greater Newark Tournament back in May of 1981.

Another man who contributed to that '81 championship team was Anthony Coco, who posted a 4-4 record and team leading 2.55 earned run average. Coco, Corbalis and Starr all made the class of 1981 very proud with their standout play.

Defensively, Tim Walsh was solid behind the plate, giving the Bucs a big boost in that department. Walsh threw out 70 percent of the runners who tried to steal on him.

Another man who did a good job in the outfield was Steve Karlick. Karlick added a good glove and a solid bat as his .320 average will attest to.

Basketball Squad Gained Confidence

By Mike Lamberti

It was a summer of progress for the Belleville boys' basketball team as they participated in the Bloomfield Summer League. The Bucs won four of seven contests, missed the playoffs by a tie-breaking procedure, but picked up a great deal of confidence for the upcoming winter season that starts in late November.

Don Roll, who has been coaching Kearny High School's jayvee team the past two seasons, coached the Bucs this summer and did a nice job. He gave a number of players sufficient playing time and the former Belleville High alumnus of 1978 saw some good things from the squad. "We played good ball, especially the last two weeks," the coach said. "A number of kids got valuable playing time and we found some good talent in the players we worked with."

Joe Papisidero, who coaches the Bucs during the regular season, is very much interested in adding Roll to his staff in the future and was happy with Roll's work during the summer months. All tolled, the Bucs stopped Bloomfield twice, Parsippany and Lyndhurst, losing to Nutley, Clifton and Essex Catholic. The loss to Clifton was especially tough because the Bucs played without three starters, including high roller Phil Colalillo and lost by six points. Had Belleville won that game, they would have made the playoffs.

Colalillo was the main scorer on the team. The upcoming senior is on the verge of breaking every scoring mark at BHS for the boys' team and was solid this summer. In addition to playing for Belleville, Colalillo also participated in the Seton Hall League at the University, gaining good experience there against some of the best players in the state.

Dave Boyd was the Bucs best defensive player of the summer and started to show good potential on the offensive late in the year. He should be a strong asset for Papisidero.

Danny Riordon, playing his first summer of varsity ball, did a nice job of setting up plays and was described by Roll as "a heads up player with good intelligence." Riordon should see plenty of time in the backcourt this winter.

Billy Nankervis, at 6-5, could be the Bucs center this season. That's a big "could" because Nankervis has not seen a great deal of playing time the last two seasons. He's a man with good potential and with good size, could make a difference. It would be nice for the team if Nankervis decided to come to play this fall.

Mike Sochaski, the team roadblock, gave 110 percent all summer long. He plays the game with a great deal of enthusiasm and shows a great deal of hustle. His shot blocking abilities will be a big help to the Bucs this winter.

Nick Sotomayer and Danny Ward are two guards that will certainly see plenty of action. According to Roll, Sotomayer is a dangerous player when he plays under control. The upcoming junior handles the ball well and has a nice outside touch.

Ward is by far, the quickest player on the team. The junior has a knack for the quick, sharp pass and led the team in steals this summer. His speed and finesse will be his biggest asset.

The Bucs top guard, Joe Borrello, didn't see much action because of baseball commitments and vacation plans. However, Borrello is a sure bet to be in the lineup come November and returns to the Bucs with two years of varsity experience.

The summer Bucs were rounded out by Frank Morel, John Morel, Brian Tice, Brian Cook, Loung Bala, Steve Kimbel and scorekeeper Joe Scaparatta.

Times Flashback

Belleville's Diamondmen Start Season On High Note

May 2, 1958

The Belleville High School baseball team, unbeaten in its first three starts, have shown what a difference a year can make. Last year, the Bellboys ended up with a 6-9-1 mark, one of the poorest in the decade that Ed Berlinski has been coaching the Blue and Gold.

This year's squad is made up of just about the same material that made up last year's squad, but the results are slightly different. Belleville started off the campaign with an 8-1 shalacking of Passaic. Berlinski, saving his ace Jack Cullen, threw left-handed John Dattoli against the Indians. Dattoli responded with a neat two-hit performance and his mates backed him up to the hilt. Ed Syp, who is batting .700 at the moment, led the attack with three hits in four trips to the plate.

Extra base hits were contributed by Cullen, who played first base, Bob Tangredi, Lou DeBrowski and Dattoli.

Berlinski's strategy looked even better when Cullen took Bloomfield's Bengals and set them down, 10-2. Neither of the runs scored off the Belleville right-hander were earned. Cullen was tremendous. He had the strikeout pitch working for him and in one inning, got five batters via the strikeout route. The extra whiffs were necessitated by the poor support of the catcher who could not hold Cullen's pitches.

The pitching situation at Belleville is probably the best that has ever existed. With Cullen and Dattoli having racked up victories, "The B" gave the nod to his third basemen, Dom Klein. Klein, who gained recognition during the winter for putting the basketball through the hoop, had a little more trouble getting the baseball over the plate.

However, Klein still had enough speed and poise to hold off the Garfield batters for his six innings. Klein gave up four runs, several of which were unearned, but his inability to consistently get the ball over the plate hurt him. He gave up eight bases on balls in six innings plus.

With the Bellboys leading 6-4 in the top of the seventh, and final frame, Klein issued two passes to the first two batters. Berlinski then decided that his pitcher was tired. He called in Cullen from right field to put out the fire. The lean fireballer went to 3-0 on the first batter he faced, but then got him on strikes. He then got the next two batters to ground out to Dattoli at first base.

Cullen also contributed two doubles to the cause, helping to make it a pleasant day for Belleville fans. Dattoli was the big man in the RBI department, driving home three of his mates, while Szep stroked three singles in four appearances. With DeBrowski sitting out the last two games because of his injured knee, and Klein vacating third base to take the mound, Berlinski looked to his bench this past week and got good news.

Lou Long got a shot at center field and looked good. Ray Cozzere-li was stationed at second base against Garfield and he really impressed. He did commit one error but made several good plays in the field and banged out a run scoring single. He may force his way into the lineup.

EDITOR'S NOTES: Bob Gantry was the pitcher for Passaic. The Bellboys tallied four runs off Gantry in the first inning and came back for three more in the second to send Gantry home early. Bob Valsele led off the game for Belleville with a single to left. Fred Riccio then sacrificed him to second and after a ground out, Szep drove home Valsele with the first run. Cullen and Long helped the cause with run scoring singles. Dattoli had a no-hitter and shutout until the fifth inning. Other news back in 1958, the Yankees and Milwaukee Braves played in the World Series, Dwight D. Eisenhower was President of the United States with a man named Richard Nixon the Vice President. Before his retirement, Berlinski was a gym teacher at the Belleville Junior High School. Having had him for gym back in the early '70s, he was always good for taking out his old scrapbook and going over some of the old Belleville sports heros. Berlinski, by the way, was an outstanding athlete during his career and played professional

Mud and 0-0 Tie Highlighted Bucs-Raiders Clash of 1975

Part one of our series of great Belleville-Nutley football games of the past brings us back to the battle in 1975 at muddy Nutley Stadium.

It doesn't seem that long ago, but that battle is now eight years old and certainly a lot has happened since that game. On a national front, Gerald Ford was our nation's President and the Boston Red Sox and Cincinnati Reds were battling in the World Series, playing what many called one of the most exciting series in recent memory.

The Pittsburgh Steelers were in the midst of a dynasty that would later take them to four Super Bowl championships in six seasons. While the Reds and Red Sox might not dominate baseball and while Gerry Ford is now a regular citizen of the U.S. and the Pittsburgh Steelers no longer are the dynasty of the NFL, the Belleville-Nutley football series continues to build steam. With the opener coming up on September 24, the anticipation is starting to grow. What better time to start a series of great games of the past.

Saturday, Oct. 11, 1975. The sight is Nutley High School and a steady downpour that started the morning of the ball game is taking its toll on the field. Belleville comes into the contest with a mark of 1-1, having stopped West Essex, 14-3 before bowing to Bloomfield, 15-14 in a wild game at Municipal Stadium. Nutley also comes in 1-1, but this season, Belleville is the team favored to stop Nutley for the first time since 1971. The Raiders won the 1974 battle, 7-3 and have pretty much dominated this series since 1967.

The final statistics indicated the closeness of this ball game. The Bellboys would accumulate 18 first downs on the afternoon as compared to 17 for the Raiders. Total yardage favored the Bellboys, 148-121, with Nutley outgaining the locals, 109-92 on the ground. Belleville would take the measure of the Maroon, 56-12 in the air. The Bellboys picked up 56 yards in penalties, a figure that would later come back to haunt them. Nutley punted six times, Belleville four.

Individual statistics showed Allan Cervasio of Belleville gaining 82 yards on 23 carries, not bad for the poor conditions. Frank Pizzi of Belleville gained an additional 17 in five carries. For Nutley, Guy Albanese finished with 64 yards on 13 carries and John Sposato had 60 in 17 attempts. Many Nutley fans will later remember Albanese as one of the best athletes to attend NHS. In the summer of 1980, he was drafted by the New York Jets, and was later cut. The following season, he was playing pro football in Canada.

Ricky Loma was the Bellboy quarterback and in this game he completed three of 12 passes for 56 yards. Joe Pizzi caught two of those passes for 61 yards. Albanese contributed an interception for the Maroon, while Belleville did not manage an interception on their end. Cervasio returned three punts for 32 yards and Mike Lemongelli and Albanese did the punting for their respective clubs.

The weather conditions had to have an impact on the outcome. Prior to the Nutley game, Belleville's air game had shown steady improvement, having gained 120 yards in the tough loss to Bloomfield the week previous. Brian Koribanick, the Nutley quarterback, attempted only six passes on the afternoon, completing just one. It was a ground war all the way with each team punching at each other's line and Nutley gaining the slight advantage in overall ground yardage.

Mario Cocchiola was the head coach of the Maroon while Tom Testa was the head man for the Bellboys. Belleville got off strong, stopping the Raider running game cold and sacking the Raider quarterback on third down, setting up a punt situation. On their first offensive series, Belleville mounted a drive into Nutley territory, but hurt themselves with an illegal procedure penalty. Loma came through with a big play on third down, connecting with Joe Pizzi for a 20-yard gain and a first down at the Nutley 35. Loma went back to the ground with little success, and on third down, Loma was sacked attempting to pass. Lemongelli punted, but Nutley was caught offside, giving Belleville a first down and the Bellboy drive continued. With Cervasio and Mike Ranucci in the backfield, the Bellboys attempted to gain the necessary yardage by way of the ground, however, the Nutley defense was up to the challenge and Testa finally called on Michael Cancelliere to attempt a field goal from 31 yards out. The kick was blocked, Nutley took over on its 42 and the drive was over.

Albanese started to gain some valuable yards, picking up a big 24-yard advantage into Belleville territory. However, the Nutley senior was his own worst enemy on the next play as he fumbled and Belleville's

Scott Osche recovered to stall that drive.

This was a game of drives that either stalled or were stopped because of a crucial penalty. Albanese got the ball back for Nutley on Belleville's next possession when he intercepted a Loma pass intended for Pizzi. The Raiders could not mount a drive and perhaps the biggest play of the game occurred on their punt to Belleville.

Anthony Biafore of Belleville fielded the punt on his own 35, made some beautiful moves and raced 65 yards for an apparent touchdown. While the Belleville fans exploded, the Nutley side also cheered because the referee called a clipping penalty on the locals, nullifying the score.

Just before the end of the first half, Belleville would once again drive to the Nutley 10-yard line, however, the drive stalled there on fourth down and Nutley ran out the first half. The score at intermission would be the score at the final gun, 0-0.

To add to its misery, Belleville took the second half kickoff and once again, drove to the Nutley 10-yard line. For the third time in the game, the Bellboys had a golden opportunity to score, however, Loma was sacked on third down and Testa sent Cancelliere back in to attempt a field goal. This time, Cancelliere got plenty of foot into the ball, and many felt the kick was good. However, the official on the spot ruled the effort just wide and the game continued scoreless.

Nutley then presented its best drive of the day. The Raiders made a steady march from their own 40 to the Bellboy, however, the local defense tightened up and the Raiders attempted a field goal of their own. The snap went to quarterback Brian Koribanick, however, he never put the ball down to be kicked. Instead, Koribanick attempted to pass for a touchdown, but the Belleville defense was there and sacked him before he got the pass off.

In the last seconds of play, Belleville tried a desperation 40-yard field goal. Cancelliere's kick was short and Albanese almost turned the game into a total wipe out for the Bellboys when he made a fine return of the errant kick. A good tackle by Kevin Godfrey saved the Bellboys a possible fatal score and the game ended up scoreless.

It was a game that Belleville could have certainly won. The 1975 team was 4-4-1, losing three of those four games by scores of 15-14, 7-0 and 16-13. That club could have easily been 8-1. The 1975 Belleville-Nutley football clash was another good example of what a great rivalry the two clubs have maintained. Stay tuned next week as we look back at another clash from the past.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, when was the last time the Giants beat the Jets in a regular season game, who were the teams' quarterbacks and what was their records that year. The answer: The Giants beat the Jets in a regular season contest back in 1970 by a score of 22-10. Fran Tarkenton was the Giant leader and Al Woodall led the Jets, with Joe Namath injured. The Giants finished the '70 season with a 9-5 mark, losing out on the playoffs on the final week of the season. The Jets were 4-10.

For this week's quiz, in that 1970 season, the Giants lost their final game, thus missing out on the playoffs. Can you name the team that beat the Giants, their quarterback that season and where that game was played?

The Sands in Atlantic City will feature three 10-rounders to head the boxing card, Wednesday, Aug. 17: light heavyweight Mike Rossman, 42-7-3, of Turnersville, N.J., will continue his comeback, after some difficult personal problems, when he crosses gloves with Robert White, 15-5, of Pittsburgh; junior middleweight Earl Haragrove, 22-0, of Philadelphia, will try to put the sleeper on Darryl Penn, 23-22, of Portland, Oregon, for his (Haragrove's) 23rd KO. The third 10 will see junior middleweight Kevin Howard, 18-3-1, exchanging punches with Richard Nixon, 5-4. Howard and Nixon hail from Philadelphia and this could be a real Pier 6, grudge battle. The bouts will be shown on the PRISM cable television. The show will be co-promoted by Connelly Promotions and Russell Peltz. Sy Roseman is handling public relations.

Whoa! Back up! We jumped the gun when we wrote Floyd Paterson had been replaced by Jose Torre and Luis Rios by James Dupree on the New York State Athletic Commission. Last Friday at New York's Felt Forum the new commissioner and former Bronx assemblyman, John Branca, said, "The appointments have not been confirmed and until such time Paterson and Rios are still commissioners."

Former boxing promoter Harold Rossfields Smith, convicted of 29 counts of fraud involving the embezzlement of $21.3 million from Wells Fargo Bank, began serving a 10-year prison term. Smith, 39, chairman of the Board of Directors of Muhammad Ali Professional Sports (MAPS), was convicted 18 months ago. He has been free pending appeals. In addition to the prison sentence, Smith must pay a $30,000 fine. Sammie Marshall, 36, president of MAPS and fight promoter, was convicted on three counts and is serving three years in prison. Lloyd Benjamin Lewis, 47, the inside man at Wells Fargo Bank, was sentenced to five years in jail for manipulating the accounts that accomplished the embezzlement.

Boxing presented two questions on Sunday, Aug. 7: "Is Hector 'The Clutch' Camacho, native of Puerto Rico, now of Spanish Harlem, the WBC featherweight champion?" "Is the World Boxing Council (WBC) and its president Jose Sulaiman above the American court?" In turning back the clock we find Bobby Chacon on Oroville, Calif., defeating WBC champ Rafael "Bazooka" Limon of Mexico on Dec. 11, 1982. Limon was considered washed-out as a fighter after absorbing his 12th beating. WBC demanded Chacon fight their No. 1 contender Camacho. Chacon said he would honor the contract he had with promoter Don King to fight Camacho but wanted to fight several other contenders first. WBC relieved Chacon of the title. Chacon went to court. WBC ignored the court's injunction and matched Camacho against the once again ready to be taken Limon. Camacho destroyed Limon, as expected, via the TKO route at 2:52 of the fifth round. To Camacho's credit, he did fight a good, clean battle. The court claims Chacon is legally the champion until two petitions in the state court against the WBC is decided. Or is the above all a build up for a Camacho-Chacon-title fight being engineered by shrewd, street-smart promoter Don King?

Joe Piscione, former columnist for the Trenton Times, now an account executive with Merrill Lynch, was one of the judges at the Region 2 World Amateur Boxing Tournament at the Capitol Plaza Hotel. Joe has been official with the AAU for 12 years. Pete Rossi, of the Recreation Department, was time keeper and popular Dr. Paul Williams was ring physician. Rossi and Dr. Williams are also Trentonians.

Chicago's unbeaten middleweight John Collins' first nationally (NBC) televised bout, March 20, was a slugfest against rugged, tough hometown rival Lennie La Paglia that was awarded "Fight of the Month" by every leading sportswriter in America. Collins won the 10-round unanimous decision. The 23-year-old Collins raised his record to 29-0, Sun., Aug. 7, by stopping 22-year-old Kenny Whitestone, 22-2, a native of Columbia, S.C., now living in Holmstead, Florida, at 2:42 of the ninth round. Carlos Padilla did a first-rate job of refereeing. This action-packed scrap was viewed on NBC's "Sportsworld."

Promoter/president Dan Duva of Main Events will co-feature in 10-rounders lightweights Livingston Bramble of Passaic taking on Kenny Bogner of Trenton in a rematch and middleweights Bobby Cysz of Wanaque, N.J., swapping punches with Bill Medei of Miami, Fla., at Totowa's Ice World on Sept. 24. Bramble put the "sleeper" on Bogner in the seventh round on June 4, 1981, for Bogner's only loss in 19 battles. Bramble should do it again. Cysz is making his return to the square ring for the first time since he suffered his first defeat by Mustafa Hamsho of Bayonne, November 1982.

Ray Mancini has started training at Grossinger's in upstate New York for his defense of the WBA lightweight title against Orlando Romero or Peru, on Sept. 15. Dave Wolfe, the Youngstown, Ohio, scrapper's manager, said he had to get Ray away from the attention of personal appearances. We get requests from banks, a prison, a union, a PAL, hospitals, etc. He just couldn't divide his attention from his workouts.

Former WBA heavyweight champion John Tate of Marion City, Arkansas, was knocked out by Mike Weaver and Trevor Berbick in successive bouts during 1980. Tate started from the bottom of a comeback trail against unknown opponents and has won nine consecutive bouts. Friday, Aug. 19, Tate takes on Marty Capasso of Aston Township, Pa., at West Palm Beach, Florida.

Teddy Mann of Forked River, N.J., made his return to the "wars" at the Tropicana in Atlantic City a success by taking a 10-round decision over favored Dwight "Tiger" Walker of Newark in a featured middleweight bout. In his previous bout Mann lost a 10-round decision to Juan Domingo Roldan in Providence, R.I. Mann, 28-11, used an effective jab to keep the rushes of Walker, 16-3-1, off balance. Judges Frank Cairo scored it 6-4 and John Stewart had it 5-4-1 both for Mann. Judge Lindsey Tucker saw the scrap favoring Walker by a 6-4 chart. It was a Don Elbaum-Ted Menas production.

New York, N.Y., Felt Forum, Friday: Robin Adams, 150, of Philadelphia WKO in 10th round over Mike De La Rue, 149, of New York City; Billy Parks, 141, of New Orleans WKO in ninth round over Pete Padill, 139, of New York City and Elijah Muhammad, 129, of Newark, N.J., W-Dec. in eight rounds over Thomas Diaz, 132, of the Dominican Republic.

Casablanca born Lucien Rodriguez now of France, who fought champion Larry Holmes of Easton, Pa., on March 27, 1983, at Watres Armory, in Scranton, Pa., easily retained his European heavyweight crown, Friday, Aug. 5, 1983, when Albert Syben quit fighting in the eighth round. Syben of Belgium told the referee he couldn't continue due to the beating he absorbed in the earlier rounds.

Famous trainer of boxers, Angelo Dundee, who was with former world heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali from the start of his pro boxing on Oct. 29, 1960, said, "There's nothing wrong with Ali's mentality. He's just plain old and bored. Ali loved boxing, he needs boxing no matter what he says. Without boxing he's not happy."

More than 500 citizens of Ray "Boom Boom" Mancini's ancestral hometown of Bagaria, Italy, are planning to attend the Mancini-Orlando Romero bout at Madison Square Garden, Sept. 15. Four days earlier, Ray will be at the Feast of San Giovanni on New York's Mulberry Street.

Cosmos Corner

Cosmos Continue Their Strong Play Against Montreal and Team America

Fielding quite possibly their starting squad come playoff time, the Cosmos went out and disposed of Le Manic of Montreal, 3-0 at Giants Stadium last Sunday before 45,000 plus. Earlier last week, the team edged Team America, 2-1 at RFK Stadium in Washington.

The Cosmos battled Toronto last Tuesday and will host the always troublesome Chicago Sting on Sunday at Giants Stadium. The Cosmos conclude the regular season with home games against Tampa Bay (Aug. 28) and Toronto (Sept. 2). The playoffs are set to begin Sept. 6 at Giants Stadium. The Cosmos' opponent has not been determined as yet.

On the season, the team holds an 18-8 mark and leads Vancouver, who is 20-5, for the overall point championship of the league. A few weeks back, Vancouver seemed a shoe in for that honor, however, the Cosmos have been red hot, even without Giorgio Chinaglia, and Vancouver has cooled off a bit after its 13-1 start. The only problem facing the Cosmos is that Vancouver has a game in hand and could win the point title because they only trail the Cosmos by six points.

Nevertheless, a large crowd last Sunday was treated to some fine tactical soccer by the defending champions. The game marked the return of Chinaglia to the lineup after missing six weeks to a muscle tear incurred back on July 6. Although Giorgio was not a scoring threat in the game, he did keep the Manic defense on edge and this set the stage for goals by Julio Caesar Romero, Rick Davis and Steve Moyers.

The Cosmos might have scored six or seven times had it not been for Manic goalkeeper Ed Gettemeier. The keeper was credited with 12 saves, many of which came in spectacular fashion. "We didn't get much offense," said Gettemeier. "They (The Cosmos) had the offense and we seemed to play defensively."

While Gettemeier was keeping his club in the game, Bob Iarosci, the Cosmos stalwart defender was keeping his club in the contest. Iarosci made two marvelous saves when Cosmos keeper Hubert Birkenmeier came out of the net to challenge a Manic shooter. Iarosci ran to an open net in the nick of time, saved two sure shot goals and deflated the Manic attack, which up to that point was dangerous.

The Cosmos first tally of the night came six minutes before halftime. Romero put the club on the board with a beautiful header that eluded Gettemeier. Minutes later, Moyers put the Manic in a big hole when he drilled a shot home and the Cosmos led, 2-0 at halftime.

Davis added the clincher midway through the second half, beating defender Tony Towers and giving Gettemeier no chance for a save. "He (Towers) went for the fake and practically ended up in the tunnel," said Davis. "I had the free shot and it was a one-on-one with the goalkeeper."

The lineup employed by head coach Julio Mazzei saw Birkenmeier in goal, followed by Iarosci, Eskandarian and Franz Beckenbauer. The midfield is anchored by Davis, Johann Neeskens, Romero and Vladislav Bogicevic. Up front is Roberto Cabanas, Chinaglia and Moyers.

Cabanas, the leading scorer in the NASL this season, was hampered by an ankle sprain sustained in the Team America victory last week. Cabanas attributed the injury to a "cheap shot" by TA defender, Jeff Durgan, who is quickly developing a bad reputation in the league.

All in all, it was a good week of soccer for the champions and with playoff time approaching and a healthy team for once, the Cosmos might be on the right track toward defense of their title.

Playground Activities Include Decathlon

At the Stadium this week was highlighted with the first Belleville Recreation Department Decathlon. The competition was extremely competitive in each division.

In the junior division, Melissa Gialanella placed third, Bobby Gialanella took second, and the champion was Chris Marcantuno. In the intermediate division, Anthony Rodriguez placed third, Ray Caruso was second, and Mike Senesky was the champion. In the senior division, the competition was evenly matched with the four top place winners separated by only 25 points, placing fourth with 851 points was Dave Mc Niel; third, Sal Woodcock, 853 points; second, Rob Hutchinson, 860 points; and the champion, Al Best with 876 points.

Other activities during the week were softball, where the Stadium junior league team finished with a 7-3 overall mark, and anxiously awaiting the playoffs.

The Stadium was also collecting gifts and donations for the carnival and for the Bobby Travers Leukemia Fund. Participants were Anthony Zarro, Mike Senesky, Chad Lannon, Al Best, Sal Woodcock, Andy Martinez and the stadium weightlifters.

At the Little League field, the group took a trip to the Newark Museum. Some of the exhibits shown to the children were the original E.T. Phone Home telephone used in the movie, pottery from various Indian tribes, and a Masterdon skeleton. The trip was very educational as well as enjoyable.

The children also had a great time as their counselors took them on a nature walk along the Third River. Along the way, they picked some mulberries that were delicious. They also found some stakes which belonged to the railroad. While walking along the trail, the children found a place which made a nice clubhouse area. The rest of the week was spent fixing up the clubhouse.

Arts and crafts was a big hit at the field also. Donnie Taylor, Raymond Harris and Diane Rosikiewicz made jewelry boxes out of popsicle sticks for their mothers. The finished products were beautiful.

At Clearman Field on Monday in the junior league, Clearman defeated the Friendly House by the score of 7-6 as Anthony Oliver led the team in hitting.

The Clearman senior league beat the Friendly House 8-2. Five runs were scored in the first inning when the Friendly House had a defense lapse. Billy Garafolo had three hits to lead Clearman.

In the decathlon, held at the Stadium, two Clearman participants placed in the top three in the intermediate division. Ray Caruso placed second and Anthony Rodriguez placed third.

A backgammon tournament was held on Wednesday with it coming down to the finals between Bruce Melson and Lisa Molinari. Lisa held on to win a close game.

Michael Didonato continued to be the best knock-hockey player this summer.

Kelly's Court was very enthusiastic this week about the upcoming carnival. The kids went out collecting money to help support the Bobby Travers Leukemia Fund. They were unstoppable. The main participants were John Brodie, Lisa, Eric and Steven Scaperrata, Tina Montalbano, Mario Montalbano, Doreen Salkowski, Mike Petrillo, David Kascmar and Jennifer Wallace.

The games played were Carram Pool and knock-hockey. Some of the participants were Eric, Steven and Lisa Scaperrata, Raymond and Ruben Harns and Vinnie Marchesini. All had an enjoyable time.

At the Rec House three of the kids proved themselves a "dynamic family" by performing in the decathlon at Belleville Stadium. They were Bob, Melissa and Dana Gialanella.

The Recreation Department has also been collecting for the Recreation carnival proceeds to the Bobby Travers Fund. Special thanks to Joe Corio, Jeff Corio, Steve Rita, Dave Mc Niel, Joe Tower and Dave Fox.

Steve Adubato Wants 'Right To Know' Law

Steve Adubato, Jr., Democratic candidate for the State Assembly in the 30th District has called on Gov. Thomas Kean to sign the "Right to Know" bill.

The bill, which was passed by both the State Assembly and the Senate by overwhelming margins, has been awaiting the Governor's signature.

In a letter to the Governor, Adubato, a professor of public administration at Kean College stated, "as you know the bill before you is one of the toughest of its kind in the nation. It would guarantee that both workers and the public would be able to have vital information about hazardous materials in the work place."

Adubato went on to acknowledge that the Governor has stated that he intends to sign the bill but intimated that he might "conditionally veto provisions he finds objectionable."

Expressing his concern for the increasing number of New Jerseyans who die of cancer each year due to environmental causes, Adubato further urged Kean to sign the legislation without weakening its intent by signing the bill as it was passed by the legislature.

Adubato, the former assistant chief of staff to Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro, pointed out in his plea to Governor Kean that "one of the towns in the 30th District (Belleville) recently experienced a toxic waste spill that raised the concern and consciousness of not only the people of Belleville, but of all the surrounding communities in our district. A strong Right to Know law could help prevent future situations like the one in Belleville."

Adubato, who holds a master's degree in government administration from the Eagleton Institute, is running for office along with Senate President Carmen Orechio and Assemblyman Buddy Fortunato.

'A Lesson From Aloes' Playing At Actor's Cafe

'A Lesson From Aloes,' Athol Fugard's powerful, shattering South African drama about the effects of apartheid on its people will open a five-week run at the Actor's Cafe Theatre, in residence at Bloomfield College, Franklin and Fremont streets, Bloomfield, on Friday, Sept. 3 and then be performed every Friday and Saturday thereafter at 8 p.m. through Oct. 1.

Set in the white district of Port Elizabeth, South Africa, a white liberal Afrikaner, Piet Bezuidenhout, and his wife Gladys await the arrival of Piet's fellow comrade in the cause, Steve Daniels and his family for dinner, a forbidden act in this police state. The wife is attempting to recover from a nervous breakdown caused by a police raid on their home and the confiscation of her personal diaries after Steve's arrest for breaking a banning order. Steve is now leaving permanently for England with his family after release from jail, but first stops by to confront Piet concerning suspicions as to who has been the informer and traitor in their cause.

Marie Bridget Dundon of New York portrays Gladys Bezuidenhout. She moved from England two years ago, where she received her degree in Dramatic Art at London University and most recently appeared as Natasha in 'Three Sisters' in Oxford, England. She obtained her M.A. in theatre at University of Akron, Ohio. Lincoln A.M. Brown appears as Steve Daniels, coming from New York where he has appeared in numerous off-off Broadway plays, most recently in 'A Mid-Summer Night's Dream' in Manhattan. He holds a B.F.A. in Arts from North Carolina Central University. David G. Kennedy, producer-director, portrays Piet Bezuidenhout. Kennedy, in 28 years of theatre, 14 as producer of ACT, has appeared in over 150 productions in his career. He also directs this.

Reservations can be made by calling 429-7662 at any time. Tickets are held to 15 minutes prior to start. Prices are $4.90 and $5.90 on Friday;
