Marotti Will Seek Action For Tenants Residing in Bridgebrook Apartments

During Monday's heated Com-mission meeting, Mayor Michael Marotti promised angry tenants

from Bridgebrook Garden apartment complex he would seek action to remedy their complaints of building violations.

The Commission chamber was packed to capacity with tenants from the complex at 725 Joralemon St., in what has become an ongoing odyssey for them

Tenants' concerns are twofold. Many fear for their own security since their complex is seeking permission to convert the apartments into condominium units.

Secondly, they are outraged by what they claim is the negligence of Bridgebrook's owners and management in attending to alleged building, electrical, and plumbing violations on the premises. At past meetings, they specifically complained of recent plumbing backups resulting in raw sewage exposed on the property.

Sam Papa, leader of the Bridgebrook tenants' association, insists the residents are not protesting the conversion to condos so much as the inattention to health and safety cleaned up. How can they ask tenants to consider buying units in this kind of condition," Papa told The for up to 40 years after the conver-

William Govel, of Govel Realty, the complex's managing agents, said previously application was made to state authorities to convert the 250 units to condos last November.

Approval is expected some time in January. According to state law, tenants have 90 days from the date of approval to notify Govel if they wish to purchase their apartment for the approximate asking price of $62,000.

Tenants confronted Commissioners with requests that the township seek a court injunction that noted that because the township's would give them more time to gather their information regarding violations they want to have remedied.

"We're getting a whitewash on this," said Papa, who has been communicating with inspectors from the State Department of Community Affairs, seeking action.

Bridgebrook Gardens, because of its size, is inspected every five years October without being notified that a by the state. Outraged that the complex received approval at its last inspection in 1979, Papa complained to the state last week

"They keep referring me back to tates, in her lease. local officials, and you people tell me you can't do anything because its a state matter," Papa told the board.

The tenants were annoyed that last Thursday, the state sent up a delegation of, they said, some 16 in-"Not one of them was qualified to inspect plumbing, con-struction or electrical wiring," said a disgusted Papa, calling the issue "a political football.

The tenants demanded some support from the Commissioners and asked for the premises to be examined by the local fire, building, and health inspectors. "We need ammunition to face the state when they return." said one woman.

Tenants complained not only of the continuing plumbing back ups but also of non-functional fire escapes, fire alarm systems that go off so often they are now ignored, and structural weaknesses in their apart-

Papa complained that a prospectus — distributed by Govel regarding the conversions contain false and misleading information about the complex, overlooking many problems inherent to the units.

'We don't care if this place did pass the last inspection. Bridgebrook should be forced to meet 1984 condo conversion standards," said Papa to the Commissioners.

Seeking to create some harmony, Mayor Marotti promised to contact the Department of Community Affairs to see what can be done.

'I want to talk to these people who say you should come to the local officials," said an obviously annoyed Marotti. "I want them to tell us what we can legally do. We'll help you, but only the legal way," he said.

Marotti balked, however, at the request for court action, abiding by the counsel of township attorney Frank Zinna.

Zinna cited a recent Fort Lee case where the Bergen County superior courts determined that a municipality does not have the right to interfere in condo conversion mat-

"The state legislature has the exclusive jurisdiction here," said Zinna. He noted the only responsibility granted the municipality was to hear appeals from tenants who may be exempted from the decision to either purchase the condo or vacate.

Challenging Zinna's advice was Enrico Sanfilippo, a Bridgebrook resident and practicing attorney in New York, "You could get a judge to sign a restraining order and set a date for the people to have a hearing," he said.

Commissioner Joseph Grande also declared he would like to put the matter to the lest in a courtroom, despite Zinna's prediction of certain defeat.

In addition to health and safety complaints, tenants voiced fears about what will happen to them if their units go condo, an action that will affect some 500 residents.

"I can't afford to buy my apartment and I have no place to go," said Timothy White, an 11-year resident, who complained about the plight of the middle-class in this new wave of conversions.

Tenants have been approaching Commissioners for the past three sessions seeking information which is scant since Bridgebrook is Belleville's first proposed conversion issue.

According to attorney Zinna, the state law protects disabled tenants and qualifying residents over the age of 62 from being affected by the con-

Anyone who meets exemption standards, he said, may continue to live in his apartment units as a tenant

Other tenants have three years of protection and may be granted an extension of two more to seek comparable quarters if they choose not to purchase their units.

Tenants also want to know if they will be protected by rent control laws if an outside buyer should purchase their apartment and continue to rent it to them.

Zinna, after researching the matter, said protection may vary. He rent ordinance applies only to multiple dwellings of three or more units, the purchaser of a single condo unit may not be regulated under the law and could charge whatever rent he wanted to tenants who had previously been protected.

Also, one woman complained she had been rented her apartment in conversion was planned.

William Govel, who was present at the session, insisted such information was included, as the law dic-

However, other tenants agreed that several recently issued leases contained no information about the impending conversion.

Zinna said the management was bound to inform tenants of the conversion before they rented the apartments. "When the conversion comes up, you could challenge them on it,' said the attorney to affected tenants.

In a related action, Commissioners discussed establishing, as mandated by state law, a committee to hear tenant appeals for exemption from the conversions.

An ordinance naming the present rent leveling board as the special panel was withdrawn. Commissioners will hold a special meeting Dec. 29 at 6 p.m. to select the new committee.

Judge Edward Abromson

Shortly after being sworn in for a new four-year term the Belleville Township Commission, last May, took the unusual step of reappointing Judge Edward Abromson for another three-year term commencing this month. Making a judicial reappointment seven months in advance establishes a precedent of an unusual nature.

Obviously the commissioners wanted to have the action interpreted as a vote of confidence in the ability, integrity, and dedication of our eminent

Mayor Mary Mochary

There are published reports that Montclair Mayor Mary Mochary is interested in the congressional seat presently occupied by Joseph Minish and the seat occupied by United States Senator Bill Bradley.

Mayor Mochary, in campaigning for a seat on the Montclair Town Council, garnered approximately 4,500 votes, making her the highest vote getter in the council race — and thus through tradition —

We always held the lady in high esteem. Looked upon her with great respect for her legal

talent — the lady is an attorney - and for what we perceived to be a public official of great principle. An experience in the recent legislative campaign makes us take a second look at her campaign scruples. Virtually on the eve of the election, Mary Mochary, using stationery of the Office of the Mayor, sent a letter to all Montclair voters asking them to vote against Senator Carmen Orechio because of an alleged failure of the Senator to do right by Montclair 18 months earlier in a matter which involved a new law permitting the Township of Cedar Grove to phase in a tax increase over five years, while at the same time the event would result in a miniscule reduction in taxes for the Township of Montclair, Nutley, Belleville, Bloomfield, etc.

Voting for the legislation, in addition to Senator Carmen Orechio, were Republican Assemblyman John Kelly and Democrat Buddy Fortunato, a native of Montclair. Signing the legislation into law was Republican Governor Thomas Kean.

Mary Mochary saw fit to single out Senator Orechio for allegedly betraying the interests of Montclair. Mrs. Mochary concealed from the public the fact that she was Executive Director of the Essex County Republicn Committee, a relationship that may have prompted her hit-and-run attack upon the Senator at the last minute in order to help erect Republican Senate Candidate Ralph Salerno.

If ever in a political campaign a tactic could be labeled a dirty trick, Mary Mochary's letter was it. Why did not the fair lady raise the question in a reasonable time to make it a campaign issue so that Senator Carmen Orechio would have the opportunity to adequately respond to the attack?

For eighteen months Mary Mochary knew that Assemblyman John Kelly, Buddy Fortunato, Senator Carmen Orechio, and Governor Thomas Kean all did their part to make the legislation become the law. One wonders why Mary Mochary singled out the Senator when he shared the same responsibility in common with these other public officials?

If every a person disqualified herself from seeking public office because of a dirty campaign trick, Mary Mochary heads the list. The Mayor's behavior in this instance makes us wonder about her scruples.

Television in Russia Accents the Positive

Not too long ago I had a chance to look at what Russian television is all about. To be quite honest, I liked it. Their emphasis was on what is good in the country. For instance, who got married, building projects going on, railroad news, art of dancing and a little bit of sex. Of course, there was the usual Russian propaganda at the end of the newscast. This I could do without. This particular newscast had to do with guns

They did mention American television once. I find I must agree with the statement. That is that we report too much crime in this country. We spend far too much time reporting about this. Our newscasts consist of crime beginning, middle and end. Are they right when they say we are a violent nation? We Americans seem to thrive on sensationalism and I think it's about time we changed our focus.

You might say "Well, the Russian news is edited according to what the government wants." True! But do you think there is no editing done on ours? Sometimes our newscasters cannot tell the complete story either. As far as I know, the President, Senate or House don't censure it but the F.C.C. does! This organization is controlled by the government. If anyone doubts this, listen to some personal interviews on newscasters or listen to shows such as "Good Morning, America," "Today" and "Morning News." Sometimes comments are made on this subject. We do get most of the news most of the time. However, there are times when a movie is made or a book written in which a ful-

It was very interesting to see what other people are told through their news

I like 7 p.m. news more than 5 and 6 p.m. news because they cover around the world. I don't think there's any harm in knowing how other people live and dream and how their governments are run. I, for one, enjoy it and feel there is much we can learn from it.

Some People Are Very Kind

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to everyone who thought of me during my time of illness by sending me all of the many beautiful cards. The eards were so touching that I know they came from the heart. There were so many acknowledgements that I could never answer all of them individually. So I am taking this time and space to thank each and everyone personally. And I also would like to thank everyone who uplifted me in their prayers. With love to all of you, may the lord bless you and the joys of the holiday season be

Golden Comments

By James Golden

It's generally accepted that the ravages of time exact their inevitable toll; in like manner many of us experience the waning glow of friendships of yesteryears...the personal togetherness and propinquity of relationships that once abounded...dimmed by the harsh hand of time, distance and fate. At Christmas we particularly sense this loss of cohesiveness.

In reverie, memories of close bonds now untied by change reflect the loss of closeness radiated in the past. The genie of time and space has sundered the encapsulated "buddy" camaraderie associated with the festive and sportive pranks of by-gone years.

Missing is the personal touch, the frivolity and quaffing with all the joyous embellishments of the yule season...yeal friends were dearer then you know. The traditions of the past continue on, as well they should, especially in the Christian world.

For the oldsters, much like the waning days of the year watching the sands of time run out in Father Time's hour glass, thoughts linger back in hazy memory to Christmases past when the world was their oyster and of the glory heights they discussed and planned with their contemporary pals loomed high in their grandiose aspirations.

All of which brings back, in retrospection, days of attendance at Belleville High School during the early '30s — days when we had assembly every morning in the auditorium and the principal read a prayer from the Bible — Mr. Charlie Steele was the principal (also football coach) and one of his frequently read passages was..."many are called, but, few are chosen." How prophetic those words were to become to so many whose stairway to stardom dreams were dashed.

The march of time continues on as the vicissitudes of our motley variegated lives produce gaps of estrangement, differing views, separation caused by distance or changed circumstances that limit the immediacy of personal touch which characterized the contacts of the past.

Time, itself, is perhaps not so much the culprit, but, only our own aging process which has sapped our earlier verve and enthusiasm which slows us down and makes us crotchety. The exchanged Christmas cards only stimulate our fond memories of halcyon days that we are loth to surrender and carefully put away in our memory chest in the hopes that we may, in our walks down memory lane, relive the eventful episodes of a more carefree and tranquil youth spent in growing up in Belleville and the playing baseball with a lot of good players and fine friends.

Now with old Santa and his reindeer set to take off to spread his gifts of joy all around the world, to those who will share in joining in the true spirit of Christmas, we wish to extend our sincere best well wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year that will be replete with prosperity, health and peace.

P.S. A Note to Santa Claus: We'll leave the bottle and a glass on the kitchen table just like my father used to do. It comes in handy on a cold winter's night.

Merry Christmas to all!

ED-ITORIALIZING

An Editor's Christmas List

Once again - sooner than we may have come to expect - we are in the midst of another Christmas season. A time of year in which everyone has a song in their heart and peace on their mind. It is also a time for giving and sharing.

But when you think about it, it is a shame that most people have to wait until the holiday season to get themselves into a giving spirit. Could you imagine if everyone would carry the joy and happiness which Christmas means, with them in their hearts throughout the year. What a truly beautiful place this world would be. There would be no crime, war, jealousy, hatred, or greed. There would be nothing but brotherhood and people reaching out to one another giving comfort. But it is only a dream. And one, which I dread to say, seems impossible.

But now there are a few gifts which I would like to give out during this holiday season.

To our soldiers stationed throughout the world: Peace, peace and more peace.

To the parents of Baby Jane Doe: A right to make your own decision and the end of legal harassment by the federal government.

Residents of the Valley section of Belleville: The hope that you and your children will never be put through the hell which you endured

To my niece Boonie: Anything and everything that your little heart

To my mom: A son who has the consideration to phone home once in a while, especially since the fact that he lives in the same town as you do.

To my dad: A pair of earmuffs, so you don't have to listen to mom complain that her son never calls.

To Dave Salata: A Bambi coloring book and sharp arrow-tip

To Cessy Federico: Two dozen pairs of shoe laces for her collection band who will make more of an ef- peace which was meant to be of sneakers.

To Michelle Jeannotte: More hours in a day, so she can accomplish ry Christmas and happy, healthly all the things she wants to do.

To James Golden: Free lessons in a "Lower Your Vocabulary" course.

To former interior secretary James Watts: A muzzle.

To Grace Purdue: What do you spirational song. give a woman who shows as much poise and wit as this lady.

To the Belleville Redevelopment Agency: A chance to begin its project of turning Washington Avenue back into a productive market place.

To Linda Telesco: A chance to star with the American Ballet Com-

To Phil White: A free course in self-efficiency.

To Mayor Michael Marotti: Some peace at Town Commission To Mary Lou Hood: Some

To the three women in our classified department: An editor who will learn to answer his own phone once in a while.

To Charles Miele: News that the Giants are moving to Alaska.

ON THE GO!

A Visit to Duke Gardens; 'Perfection Under Glass'

Orchids, mums, hibiscus, cactus, palm trees, fruit trees (lemon, orange, grapefruit, banana), roses, zinnias, gardenias, bird of paradise - every species that one could imagine is here at Duke Gardens, a spectacular display of gardens from around the world. The 11 gardens are housed in as many greenhouses which have been called "Perfection Under Glass" and that they are!

James Buchanan Duke had these greenhouses built on his estate in Somerville 120 years ago to provide fruits and vegetables for the estate's needs. As transportation improved and the need to grow one's own food was no longer necessary, the greenhouses fell into disrepair and were abandoned until 1950 when Doris Duke had them restored for a pleasure garden. No expense was spared bringing the most beautiful plants and flowers from around the world to create a place of exquisite beauty

Tours are conducted by guides who are exceptional in their knowledge of everything that grows here. You will be fascinated to learn of some of the unusual plants, such as the cactus that produces a flower once in 17 years and then dies; the vine that blooms exactly at midnite; the plant called "mother-in-law" because it is shaped like "tuffet" and is covered with sharp prickly needles (a perfect seat for a mother-in-law) and the orchid that produces vanilla. The half mile walk covers such diverse garden styles as would be found in Japan, Persia, China, France, Italy, England as well as a succulant garden, cactus of the Southwest and a tropical rain forest.

As the seasons change, so do the plants and flowers. Now is 'mum' time. February will be spring bulb time. Daffodils, tulips, hyacinth will be displayed in profusion.

The gardens are open Oct. 1 to June 1 from noon to 4 p.m. and evening tours are conducted Wednesday and Thursday, 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. Admission is $2.50. Advance reservations are always required; telephone 722-3700. Cameras and high heel shoes are not permitted in the gardens.

Duke Gardens is Tocated one and a quarter miles south of the Somerset Shopping Center on Route 206. The entrance is not well marked, but it is on the right just after the third traffic light past the

The countries that are represented here are vastly different in their choice of garden settings. France is all symmetrical and sculptured while Italy grows free and unclipped. Persia uses water running through troughs cut into a walkway of geometric brick patterns. The rain forest includes many familiar house plants, grown to giant proportions. The Edwardian conservatory is alive with orchids of every color and size, the Japanese garden is tranquil and a place for meditation and a feeling of peace, the English garden is gay and colorful with a galaxy of flowers of every color and description but each one is a feast for the eyes and a delight to behold.

Be good to yourself one of these cold winte days and visit the Duke Gardens. You'll be glad you did.

Medical ID Could Be Important

As a community service, Clara Maass Medical Center provides the following important health care information. Mrs. Maria Marinelli, R.N., focuses on the importance of emergency medical identification. Mrs. Marinelli, Inservice Coordinator at Clara Maass, is responsible for providing educational programs for hospital staff, patients and the community.

There is an emergency medical identification system called Medic Alert. This organization provides special bracelets or necklaces to members engraved with the Medic Alert emblem. Emergency medical personnel are trained to look for this emblem when medical information is needed and the person is unable to speak. An emergency phone number is engraved on the emblem which can be called any time of day and in any part of the world. The member's medical information, the name of his doctor, or family member to contact in case of emergency is readily available. Conditions can be easily identified and appropriate treatment can be instituted.

This system can, and has saved lives. These emblems can be used for a wide variety of conditions, but may be of special interest to diabetics, heart patients, people with drug allergies or seizure disorders. If you or someone you know, may wish further information, please phone: 1-800-344-3226, or write: Medic Alert, P.O. Box 1009, Turlock, Calif., 95381-1009.

Christmas, and You

By Rev. Robert Paul

Several years ago a professor at a secular university asked each student in his sociology class to write down the first word that came to mind after he gave them a list of key words. One of the key words was Christmas. The answers were such words as tree, holly, mistletoe, gifts, turkey, Santa Claus, etc. Not one student mentioned the Lord

All of the trimmings, bells, carols, bright colors, trees, snow, etc., make a beautiful package. But the contents of the package is a person — a birth-day gift — Jesus Christ. God sent his gift to man nearly 2000 years ago, and we will celebrate his birthday again on Dec. 25.

Christmas did not happen by accident, it was planned in the throne room of eternity. Jesus Christ came to fulfill prophecies such as Isaiah 9:6, and Micah 5:2. Christ's family tree, his birthplace, even the time of his birth was prophesied. Jesus Christ came to save the world from sin. (John 3:16, 17). He did not come to be a teacher, to start a new philosophy, inaugurate a new social order, or build an earthly kingdom. He is the "Son of Man" called so 83 times in the New Testament, because he is the universal one. Christ came to save the world. (1st Tim. 1:15.) He came to give his life, for he that has the Son, has life, and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life.

Our 20th century society is interested in personal pleasure supposedly derived by accumulating things and having the moral restraints lifted so that we each can do our own thing. But remember as you sow, so shall you reap. Pursuing these goals leaves an emptiness and an insatiable desire for more of the same, only to discover again and again that satisfaction is just beyond reach. But the dedicated Christian finds happiness and fulfillment in a person, Jesus Christ, the Son of God, the real gift of Christmas. (St. Luke 2:11.)

Jesus came for you. He wants to save you (St. Matthew 1:21) and to give you a new life and real purpose in living. "For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved." (Romans

Years ago, the only people who ever invested in a house together were married. Today it's just as common for a single person to buy a house alone, as it is for two unmarried people to buy together. If you're considering investing in a house with another single in-dividual, you'd be wise to consider all of the options of ownership before making the purchase.

For example, if you choose "tenancy in common", then each of you would have equal use of the property. This means that either of you can Independently sell, mortgage, or dispose of your own interest

If this seems risky, it would be wise to draw a written agreement stating each persons interest in the property, as well as percentage of ownership, especially if each has invested different amounts in the

Through a "tenancy in common" agreement, if one of the owners dies, the other owner would only get the deceased's share if it was stated in the will. If there is no will, then state law would determine who gets the share.

Another option of purchase is "joint tenancy" which means each person has an equal share in the property regardless of the amount each invested. In joint tenancy, if one person dies, his share automatically goes to the other individual. Your last option in purchasing the home with another single is to put the title of the property into a partnership, in this case, the partnership, rather than the individuals, would own the property in a partnership, there must be an agreement to determine how each person will share in the management. Also, in the case of death, that partnership share would automatically go to his or her heirs. Drawing up a partnership when purchasing a home has many advantages. It will avoid problems if one of the partners has legal problems or goes bankrupt, and it protects one investor living on the property, as well as the other investor if he chooses to live elsewhere.

If you're considering buying a home with another unmarried person, talk to a member of the Board of Realtors who can advise you on the most practical arrangement for you both. Write or call:

The holiday season is the time of the year for joy, gift giving and gathering with family and friends. It is also, however, a time when burglars thrive, accidents flourish, and unexpected tragedies occur. A few simple precautions taken at this time can help people protect themselves, their families and their

If you are purchasing an artificial Christmas tree, make sure that it is certified fire resistant. Real trees must always be kept in water, and the water level checked at least once day. Preservatives, usually available where you purchase your tree, can be added to the water to helpkeep the tree fresher longer. Ask for some: it's extra protection against fire at little or no cost (many vendors give the packets away free).

Make certain that the strings of lights on your tree are not frayed at any point, that every socket has a bulb, and that the lights do not overload any single electrical outlet or circuit. Do not leave the lights turned on when no one is present. Also remember that only lights clearly marked for outdoor use should ever be used outdoors.

Several Residents Attempt To Make Holidays Brighter

"Deck the halls," sings the joyful sent home for the past 65 years. holiday carol, a tribute to the warm honor of Christmas spirit.

From the luminous lights along Washington Avenue to the brilliant tree atop Clara Maass hospital, the township is bright with holiday glow.

But two residents in particular make the Christmas much merrier for everyone when they decided to deck not only the halls, but their lawns, yards, rooftops, and porches in breathtaking beauty.

Carrying on a family tradition, John Auriemma of 90 Mt. Prospect Ave., mounts a wonderland of electronic wizardry.

A 10-foot lighted star atop the Auriemma roof guides all sightseers to the unusual lawn display

Each day and night, mothers bring little ones and lines of cars cruise by the Mt. Prospect yard to get a glimpse of the display, which spectators can set in motion by pressing buttons Auriemma, a retired electrical contractor, rigged up outside the yard's fencing.

On one side of the lawn is a giantsized Nativity scene set in a stable. Nearby stands a barn, housing Santa's elves and reindeer. With the press of a button, two of the reindeer wag their antlers high and low and a pair of elves hammer away at their merry work.

Little viewers squeal with delight at Santa's workshop in the rear of the yard. St. Nick himself waves Cortlandt Street. from the doorway while moving elves and little toys decorate the shop's windowpanes.

"I used to have 10,000 lights out there, but that got to be too much," he laughed, brushing off any suggestions of a large electric bill. 'That doesn't matter. Christmas comes only once a year," he said last Sunday afternoon as he watched from his window the children who came to see his handiwork.

Auriemma built the barn, stable, and workshop portions of the display and purchased the statues from various stores. He noted the ox in the manger scene is over 20 years old.

Head wrestling coach Gene D'Alessandro was pleased with his team's effort in the Essex County Coaches Tournament last weekend at Belleville High School, as the Bucs finished in a tie for third place, with Irvington winning the championship.

The Bucs battled arch rival Nutley yesterday and will take part in another tournament, the Bloomat Bloomfield High School. The tournament will be an all-day affair and the Belleville grapplers are look- unfortunately, was up against the ing forward to the matches and some defending tournament champion possible championships.

At 141 pounds, Jimmy Racanelli lost to Rick Moscowsky of Glen Ridge by a 14-3 count. This came after junior Ralph Zarro made a fine varsity start by taking a second place showing. His only defeat came to Joe Cocuzza of Seton Hall Prep. Zerro pinned Cy Gropper of Columbia and beat Vin Gonsalves of Essex Catholic to reach the finals. He will take a 2-1 record into the Nutley

Apicella Leads Girls in Opener

Paced by a 30-point performance from Jennifer Apicella, the Belleville girls basketball team continued its winning ways, beating a good team from Paterson Eastside, 44-43 last Friday night in Paterson, the season opener for both teams.

The girls were host to Montclair on Tuesday and will be in Clifton this afternoon, Tip off time is set for 4 p.m. Next week, the girls take part in the Essex County Holiday tournament. On Tuesday, Dec. 27, the girls will play Livingston at Belleville High School. Then, on Dec. 29, the tourney moves to Bloomfield High School for the consolation and championship games. Bloomfield and Becton round out the tourney and those two teams will play a first-round game from Bloomfield High School on Dec. 27

The victory over Eastside was a big boost to the girls confidence. "We won a close game, a tough game," said head coach Karen Fuccello. "In the past, we might have lost those tough games, this time we pulled it out and beat a good team on their home court.'

Eastside, which defeated the girls twice last season, had trouble with the girls zone defense. "We sat back and played conservative," commented Fuccello. "We couldn't afford foul Offensively, Apicella was the key. The senior All-American tallied 30 points, hitting 10 of 15 from the floor and a sharp 10 of 11 from the foul line. She also came through with eight rebounds and did a good share of the ball handling.

Apicella also clinched the game with two foul shots in the last 22 seconds of regulation time. Then, Loreli Wells, the girls' resident defensive genius, went to work, tying up an inbounds play and Belleville, following a jump ball, had pulled

"The fact that they (Eastside) lost two girls to fouls didn't hurt either," said Fuccello. "We were lucky to come out with a win. The girls listened down the stretch and we got the breaks."

Eastside actually outshot the visitors from the floor, 20-16, but Belleville was the master at the foul line, hitting 12 of 20 while Eastside converted three of six. Dina De Aquino contributed six points to the effort and Donna Brooks also popped home six. Brooksie was also the top rebounder of the day, pulling down nine boards.

Tracy Buono, who had a "baptism under fire" according to Fuccello, had two points and dished out six assists.

The coach used just seven players in the contest, but said that more will see time as the season progresses. She was especially pleased with be efforts of Brooks and Wells, saying "Loreli (Wells) has a nice offensive game. If she were to shoot the ball more, she could be a bigger threat."

Nevertheless, it was a victory over a good team on that teams home court. It was also the sixth straight season opening victory for the Lady Bucs. Some tough games are a waiting the girls, but a victory on opening night always makes the road look alittle smoother.

NOTES: No injuries to report. Apicella averaged 35 points a game last season. The victory was the 140th in the coaching career of Fuccello, compared to just 86 defeats. Eastside has three starters back from last years Group IV, Section I championship team, but lost an All-American in Venessa Payntor to graduation. Payntor now does her magic at Penn State.

Boy Hoopsters Start Season With Win Over St. Aloyusius game, the Belleville Buccaneers basketball team started the 1983-84 season on a solid note, whipping a good team from St. Aloyusius, 79-59 last Friday evening at Jersey City.

The Bucs received a strong test from Montclair on Tuesday and will host to Clifton this afternoon starting at 4 p.m. Next Tuesday, the team begins play in the Nutley Holiday Tournament at Nutley High School. As of press time, the Bucs were slated to face Bloomfield in the opening round, tip off set for 6:30 p.m. The championship and consolation games will be on Thursday, December 29, starting at 6:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. respectively.

The opening night win marked just the second time since 1974 that the Bucs have won an opener. The last time the feat was accomplished came in the 1979-80 year when the Bucs whipped Weehawkin. Needless to say, head coach Joe Papasidero was elated with the effort.

"It was a tremendous defensive effort. All ten players saw action and in the fourth quarter, we didn't use any starters. Phil (Colalillo) gave us a good effort, but we were well balanced all around. It was a nice

Colalillo, the teams leading scorer, came through with 25 points,

He tallied 23 in three quarters work lo. before sitting out the rest of the game on the bench early in the fourth quarter. The senior pulled down 11 rebounds and was a force the entire

Papasidero also got good news from senior Bill Nankervis. The 6-5 forward had his best day by far, hitting for a career high 18 points, and pulling down a game high 12 rebounds. If Nankervis can establish consistency in his inside game, the Bucs will be a bigger threat under the Danny Ward added 16 points on the evening and senior Joe Borrello had 14, hitting 6 of 10 from the floor. Defensively, forward David Boyddid the job once again, holding St. Al's top scorer to eight points over three quarters. Boyd was a solid defensive player last season and continues to give the Bucs a strong game.

Belleville established command early in the contest, jumping out to a 17-7 first quarter lead and extending the margin to 40-29 by halftime. The visitors then put the game away for good in the third frame, outscoring St. Al's, 25-11 to assume a 25 point

While Papsidero was pleased with the win, he warned that his club will not get too overconfident. "It was a good way to start the year, however the game is history and we have some tough games coming up. I hope this game doesn't give us too much confidence. I a was pleased with our transition game, 60 percent of our offense came from our defense.

The season is young and the big games are further down the road, but for a program that hasn't been used to winning in a number of years, the victory was a big step towards the continued development of the Belleville basketball program.

NOTES: Other than the victory in the 1979-80 opener, the last vic-tory on opening day for a Belleville basketball team came back on December 13, 1974 when the Bel-Iboys beat Garfield, 68-44. Abdel Anderson had 36 points in that game. The Jayvee team also won and the seventh and eighth grade team, under Rocco Colucci, is 2-0. Montclair has also started the season quickly, beating Teaneck and Orange and took a 2-0 record into lead, 65-40 entering the final frame. the Belleville contest. What did you think of the final season of the weekend of the NFL season? If you think the Jets and Giants got it tough, how about the New Orleans Saints. This team is destined never to make the playoffs. They blew a 24-23 lead in the last ten-seconds when the Rams kicked a field goal to win. Two of the Rams touchdowns came on interceptions that were returned for scores.

In the AFC, the Seattle Seahawks will be in the playoffs for the first time, hosting Denver in the wildcard game this Saturday. Try Seattle, the home field might be the difference. At the outset of the season, this column picked the Jets and Packers for the Super Bowl (don't laugh). Now, with some time to restructure that disaster, we'll try the L.A. Raiders and Washington Redskins for the big game in Tampa on January 22.

Congratulations to the Belleville basketball teams for their oustanding efforts in last Friday's openers. Phil Colalillo and Bill Nankervis led the way as the boys romped past St. Al's, 79-59 while the girls, paced by Jennifer Apicella, won, 44-43 over Eastside. Both victories came on the road and gives optimism towards the 1983-84 campaign. The girls are looking to improve on a 20ing to better the 11-16 record last year and are for the first winning season since the 1974-75 season.

Additional Christmas wishes go to Dana Caruso, may Santa buy you a pair of running shoes and lead you to victory in the New York Marathon one day.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, who is the only team not to have a winning record in the NFL. The answer: The New Orleans Saints, obviously. The Saints best records were 8-8 in 1979 and 8-8 this season.

Murphy, Mozeika and Walsh Lead Buccaneers Who Received Awards

The Belleville football teams fine 6-3 mark was a tribute to the hard work by the entire team to achieve that fine record. A number of Belleville gridman have received some post season recognition for their super efforts on the the field.

The list has to start with senior Mike Murphy. He achieved a number of honors, although the Star Ledger's picks are somewhat questionable. To start, Murphy was named by the Herald News as first team, All Area for his fine play at running back. Murphy tallied 1296 yards and led the county in scoring straight season in which the senior broke the 1,000 yard rushing mark and a number of Division I schools are after his services

Murphy also excelled at defensive end, and was named by the NNJIL to the second team for his performance there. The NNJIL also named Murphy to the first team at running back and the second team as a punter. Over to the Star Ledger, Murphy was named first team for his play at defensive end on the All County Team. He was named first team, All Group IV at defensive end with 100 points. It was the second and second team, All State, also for his talents at quarterback. Walsh his play at defensive end.

While Murphy was a fine defensive player, his forte was running and the Ledger's selections of running backs this year left something to be desired. This isn't to say that the runners selected weren't top notch, however when a man leads Essex County in scoring and rushing, common sense will tell you he should receive recognition at that position.

Senoir Dave Mozeika also received a number of accolades. Playing linebecker, Mozeika was named to the first team All Area, first team NNJIL, first team all county and second team, Group IV and All State.

Mozeika is also looking at some Division I schools. He was a stalwart linebacker and continued the fine tradition of linebackers at Belleville High School was also named to the second team All County squad for his play at safety.

Junior Mark Walsh was named to the first team, NNJIL for his play at

Junior Dom Di Paolo was selected to the first team, NNJIL at offensive tackle and third team, All County for his play on the offensive line. Junior Steve Kimble was selected to the NNJIL first team, for his play at defensive end.

Also selected to the NNJIL team were, Junior Steve Tribuna, defense, senior Ralph De Falco, defense, second team, Junior John Apicella, offense, second team, junior Steve Mulhearn, place kicker, first team, senior Billy Baber, honorable mention, running back and junior Anthony Gizzo, honorable mention, defensive rover back

All in all, 11 Belleville football players were named in post season recognition. Seven of those players will be back next year for the Bucs, a little stronger, a little smarter and

Bowling Team Opens Season With Victories

The Belleville bowling team opened its season in successful fashion, defeating Bloomfield and Montclair in duel matches and running the team record to 9-5 thus far.

The keglers battled Pope Paul VI on Tuesday and had a big match with a strong team from Passaic Valley yesterday. Following that match, the team will be off until early January. The bowlers use Leisure Lanes in Fairfield as the sight for all the

Against Bloomfield, the varsity lineup featured Chris Armstrong, Lori Scott, Anthony Paserchia and Rodney Battista. In the first game, Scott was the high roller with a solid 226. In the second, Battista led the way with a 170 and in the third, Paserchia was the top man, coming through with a 192

All tolled, the Bucceneers were 5-2 in their match with Bloomfield. The keglers are coached by Mike Early, who enters his fourth campaign as head coach.

a 199 and Scott with a 198. The junior varsity team is also 9-5 following matches with Bloomfield and Montclair. Their lineup consists of Rich Mangogno, Jack Russoniello, George Devies and Lou Sacchiero. The jayvee team won the NNJIL championship last season with a marvelous 105-13 record. Many of those bowlers, Paserchia included, are now on the varsity level. If that team can continue its success on the varsity level, there is every reason to believe that the Buccaneer bowling team will continue its suc-

NOTES: The Bucs should field a solid unit on the varsity level. In addition to Paserchia's hot game, Scott is considered one of the top female bowlers in the state. Last summer she bowled in some top notch tourneys and gained some valuable experience. Bucs were second in the NNJIL last year on the varsity level. Battista should also provide the Bucs with some solid leadership. Armstrong is new to the varsity

"SOMEONE YOU CAN TRUST"

Dear Homeowners.
As you may already know, we have been in the home improvement business in this area for several years with 95% of our jobs being acquired strictly on a referral basis. We have found this to be a very rewarding as well as successful method of conducting business, one which has led us to a position where we can now provide our "referral oriented workmanship" as well as handle your financial needs all under one roof. As a result of these positive developments, we have established a small show-room and office, and it would be my pleasure to meet with you there to provide information on the construction methods and materials we shall supply.

If it would be more convenient for you to have us visit your home to discuss your home improvement needs, simply call our office to arrange an appoint

Belleville's Past

Reflectors for the army's air defense searchlights, flood and searchlights for civilian airports and reflectors and mirrors for similar purposes are manufactured by the Bart Laboratories, 227 Main St. The firm was founded as the Bart. Reflector Company in Newark in 1931 and came to Belleville two years later.

The U.S. government is also one of the best customers for a machine for waterproofing cloth developed by the Thomson Machine Company of 232 Cortlandt St. The main product of the concern, however, is a broadloaf molding machine and other bakery equipment. The firm was founded by Charles Au Thomson in Kearny in 1896. Three years later the first loafmolding machine, which has remained the firm's main product, was developed.

Copper and chemicals, so largely represented in the town's industrial history, also were largely responsible for the coming to Belleville of the Thomas A. Edison Industries. In 1889, shortly after he had succeeded in developing a commercially practical copper-oxide primary battery, the famous inventor located his first factory in the Silver Lake section. Here about 30 people were employed to manufacture zinc and copper-oxide plates and to prepare caustic soda and oil. These materials were hauled by horse-drawn trucks to the main factory in Orange where the batteries were assembled and shipped. In the intervening half-century the plant grew until it finally stretched beyond Belleville's town limits into Bloomfield territory. It now covers about seven acres fronting on Belmont Avenue and employs 400 people.

The first addition to the original Silver Lake plant was made when in 1908 Edison improved on his original battery by substituting nickel and iron for the original copper plates. However, oxides of these two metals of the purity desired by Edison were not yet commercially available. Next to the older factory Edison constructed a chemical plant; here, after extensive research and testing, the famous steel-alkaline storage battery was developed. This plant eventually became known as the Active Materials Department of the Edison Industries; the iron-oxide and other chemical compounds needed in the main factory's production of storage batteries are still manufactured

Another enlargement of the plant became necessary after fire had destroyed the Orange main plant in 1914 and assembly and shipping departments had to be transferred to Silver Lake.

Almost immediately the plant also took over the manufacturing of several new products. Until the World War American industries depended for their carbolic acid mostly on England and Germany. Both countries immediately imposed an embargo and Edison Industries, at that time the largest consumer in the country, was forced to find a substitute for carbolic acid or cease a number of its operations. Within 18 days the Silver Lake plant was able to produce the acid synthetically in sufficient quantities for the company. Later with the erection of another addition to the plant, the need of other industries also could be filled.
