He's First — Ronald Michael Gesualdo, being held by his mother, Janet Gesualdo, was the first baby born to Belleville parents this year. Ronnie was a little late though, not making his debut until Jan. 3. Looking on is proud papa, Ronald, and Mrs. Shirlee Sherman of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

Welcome Ronald!

When Ronald Michael Gesualdo made his debut into the world on Jan. 3, he became the first Belleville baby born in 1984.

Born at 7:58 p.m. in Clara Maass Medical Center, and weighing 7 lbs., 1 oz., the boy is the first child of Ronald and Janet Gesualdo of Joralemon Street.

"I was surprised he was the New Year's baby," said the happy mother in a recent interview from her hospital room. "He was expected five days later," she added.

The proud father, who seemed a little nervous talking about the whole thing, laughed, "I guess I'm feeling pretty good."

Ronald Gesualdo works as a meat manager for a Lodi supermarket and his wife is a former bookkeeper. The couple have lived in Belleville since August.

Traditionally, the Belleville Chamber of Commerce honors each New Year's baby and the parents with a host of gifts.

Going Up 25 Tax Points

School Board's Budget Calls For Tax Increase

By Ed Capparucci

For the past two years members of the School Board have passed budgets which called for no tax increase, thus bringing smiles to the faces of Belleville taxpayers. But this year things are a little different.

Trustees introduced their budget for the 1984-85 school year on Monday night — a budget calling for an increase of 25 tax points. But that's not all. Voters will also be asked in April to approve a $5 million bond issue, which will be used to help repair the deteriorating buildings throughout the district.

The budget comes in this year at a cost of $16.9 million, which represents a 3.35 percent increase over last year's $16.3 million figure. But trustees were able to stay well under the imposed 8.6 State Caps, by presenting a budget which calls for a 6.1 percent increase in current expenses.

The break down for the budget is as follows: current expenses, $16,163,999; capital outlay, $238,000; debt service, $177,195; and chapter 74 debt service, $105,500.

The current expenses portion of the budget involves salaries, fuel, transportation, supplies and equipment. Capital outlay is monies used for construction and building renovations, while the debt service represents debts of the board.

Gabe Nazzola, who chaired the budget committee this year, said the increase was caused by salary increases and building maintenance.

"For the past two years the taxpayers in Belleville have been given a break by the School Board not asking for a tax increase," Nazzola said, "but the rate of inflation during the past two years has remained high and the school system cost has continued to rise. Now we need help in continuing to offer our children the proper education that is necessary.

According to Nazzola, the budget committee, which also includes trustees Thomas Spillane and John DiStasi, was first presented with a budget totalling over $18 million by the administration. After making some reductions, the committee then decided to cut the capital outlay portion by more than $1 million.

"Each year the board represents a budget with a capital outlay of $50,000 or more this is used to repair

Miele Resigning His Trustee Seat

Charles Miele, a five-year member and one-time president of the Belleville Board of Education, will be resigning from his board seat effective April 2.

Miele, who has one year remaining on his three-year term, will formally announce his resignation later this month. His seat will then be one of three up for grabs during the April School Board election.

A dedicated board member, who has been known as a trustee "who always does his homework," Miele said "a lack of time" was the reason for his stepping down.

"Because of the lack of time and my involvement in traveling, I have not been able to give to the board what I feel is necessary to be an outstanding board member," he said during an interview before Monday night's trustees' meeting. "I have always given 100 percent and I feel that I cannot continue at that pace, then my only alternative is to give up my seat."

Instead of resigning before the board election, Miele could have resigned after the April balloting, thus allowing the board to appoint

Mayor Marotti Previews What's Ahead For Belleville

Looking Ahead — Mayor Michael Marotti reviews some of last year's events affecting Belleville with Times reporter Linda Telesco in the town hall office. He also looked at the year ahead.

By Linda Telesco

1984 is finally here and with it come predictions about the future. In keeping with the trend, Mayor Michael Marotti last week talked with The Times about last year's major issues and the priorities he and the other Commissioners hold for the new year.

When asked if 1983 was one of the more difficult years he faced as a public official Marotti said, "I would have to say it was one of the toughest. The township had to face a lot of problems that never came up before."

Many of those problems will carry over as major issues in 1984. Last year, the Commissioners found themselves faced in May with a toxic chemical issue, still being resolved, in the Valley district.

In addition, the board faced court battles over the contract awarded last year to a new scavenger, failed in an effort to contain collection costs when ordered to rebid the contract last summer, and lost a separate court dispute over reimbursing the township's previous scavenger for state-imposed fee hikes at the landfills.

A longtime flooding problem in the Silver Lake area sprung forth again last August, causing extensive damage to homes of area residents.

Other important issues centered around the redevelopment of last Washington Avenue and the work by the local Redevelopment Agency. Also, 1983 brought Belleville its first case of condominium conversion involving the Bridgebrook Garden Complex on Joralemon Street.

Last year was a heavy introduction to municipal responsibilities for the two new Commissioners, Public Affairs Director Michael Pizzi and Public Works Director Joseph Grande.

Both were elected, along with incumbents Marotti, Joseph McGreevy, and Matthew Pica last May, ending what had become an era in Belleville long dominated by McGreevy, Marotti, and ousted Commissioners Vincent Strumolo and Mary Senatore.

Looking forward, Mayor Marotti saw as the new year's major issues more of the same: water, toxic chemical control, redevelopment, flood control, scavenger contracts, and the budget.

1984 Budget

With the new municipal budget scheduled for introduction by February, talk abounds from local sources it will be a big one.

Marotti said Friday he did not have figures available yet. However, when asked if locals would see tax hikes, the mayor replied, "After two years we kept the budget at zero, so it's very possible this year will show an increase."

Marotti noted the toxic leak and subsequent cleanup was a costly matter and accounts for some of the anticipated increases.

Belleville spent over $500,000 in fees to hire a private chemical firm to deal with the emergency and for experts to clean the premises of Research Organic-Inorganic on Main Street.

However, the township has to date received $250,000 in state funds to apply toward those expenses, and expects another allotment in the same amount.

The 1983 budget of $13.9 million maintained the previous year's tax rate of $1.36.

Another factor that may contribute to anticipated increases is the scavenger controversy. Belleville was forced to pay over $100,000 more than expected for a single year's collection from Browning-Ferris Waste Industries, the scavenger hired by the municipality last January.

Belleville also had to reimburse L. Pucillo and Sons, the previous scavengers, for over $125,000 in added landfill fees.

Scavenger

Marotti said next September will see another round of bidding for the local garbage collection. Presently, BFI charges $598,425 for one year, running from September 1983 to September 1984.

"We're looking into the feasibility of handling collections ourselves, but that's still being studied."

Flood Control

"Dealing with the flooding problems is one of our top priorities," said Marotti. Heavy rains last summer badly damaged many homes and belongings of Silver Lake residents.

Marotti said a coalition of representatives from various communities hooked into the Meadowbrook sewer system has been meeting monthly in search of permanent solutions.

"At least we are now meeting on a regular basis," said Marotti. "We hope to come up with a solution this year."

Development and Construction

Mayor Marotti commended the efforts of the Belleville Redevelopment Agency to renew Washington Avenue and revitalize the community's business district.

The agency had several studies made of the project by a private planning firm, and last November began a blight study of the Avenue, a major step toward possible major overhaul.

The BRDA has been included, for the first time, in the 1984 budget with funding of approximately $35,000. Marotti also said they will get a permanent home in Belleville's offices at 383 Washington Ave.

Marotti named the construction of a new police complex as a "major priority" for 1984. "It's a shame we lost out on Franklin Avenue," he said, referring to the controversial plan to build a new $1.6 million public safety complex on county-owned property adjacent to the township's fire headquarters.

Dr. Giampapa
Opens Practice
At Clara Maass

Dr. Vincent C. Giampapa, M.D., has recently opened his practice in plastic and reconstructive surgery and microsurgery at Clara Maass Medical Center and Mountsinide Hospital in Glen Ridge.

Dr. Giampapa is a graduate of Mt. Sinai School of Medicine in New York City. He trained in general surgery at Mt. Sinai Hospital and completed his plastic surgical residency at St. Luke's-Roosevelt Hospital Center in New York. This past year Dr. Giampapa completed a year as clinical research fellow in microsurgery at NYU where he was a member of the replantation team at Bellevue Hospital.

Dr. Giampapa is assistant clinical professor of plastic surgery at the University of Medicine and Dentistry in Newark. He is the author of several publications concerning procedures in both cosmetic and reconstructive surgery.

His offices are located at 5 Franklin Ave., Belleville, and at 194 Eagle Rock Ave., Roseland. An additional office in Montclair is scheduled to open this year.

New Look Bank — One of Belleville's oldest financial institutions has recently undergone a major facelift. Fidelity Union Bank, 144 Washington Ave., has modernized the interior of the bank to provide additional space for customer convenience. Here branch manager Joe Rokose shows his new quarters to two Belleville residents: Renee Simons (l) and Irene Decker.

Local Dermatologist Acquires
Modern Phototherapy Unit

Dr. Dominick Ligresti, a dermatologist at Clara Maass Professional Center West, has recently acquired the most modern phototherapy unit for the treatment of psoriasis and other skin conditions.

The unit, known as the Elder Psoralite, a product of Elder Laboratories, is a space age stainless steel cabinet 7.5 feet high and 5 feet wide. Internally it is lined with fluorescent type bulbs and sensors, and externally with a computerized digitally controlled panel to maximize efficiency of ultraviolet light therapy and minimize burning. Here the patient is inclosed and exposed to ultraviolet type A light (UVA) or ultraviolet B (UVB). For UVA to have a beneficial effect in psoriasis, it must be given to the patient two hours after he has taken Psoralen pills by mouth.

psoralen is a photosensitizing agent found in many plants, hence, the abbreviated term puVA stands for psoralen (p) and ultraviolet type A light (UVA). PUVA has been noted to be effective in the treatment of psoriasis, eczema, sunlight sensitivity, as well as a type of skin cancer known as Mycosis Fungoides. Psoriasis is a skin disease where there is a rapid turnover of skin cells every three or four days, compared to normal skin cell turnover time of 28 days. The end result are plaques of thickened, red, scaly skin all over the body, resulting in, at times, physical and emotional disfigurement.

PUVA treatment for psoriasis was approved by the Federal Food and Drug Administration in May 1982, and until that time, was used only in medical schools, and specialized research centers. PUVA treatment requires that the patient take the Psoralen pills by mouth two hours before an appointment and is then enclosed in the phototherapy unit for a short period of time. The ultraviolet light dose is dependent on the patient's weight and severity of the disease. PUVA treatment is required two or three times weekly for about three months. Once clearing is established, treatment intervals are reduced to monthly and subsequently semi-monthly.

Numerous studies have shown that clearing of severe psoriasis ranges from 88 percent to 100 percent. Severe itching may be a temporary side effect of PUVA, and the patient may be sensitive to light for 24 hours after taking Psoralen.

Besides clearing of psoriasis other advantages of PUVA treatment include elimination of the use of messy topical preparations including coal tar which stains clothing, it is less time consuming, elimination of hospitalization, and results in cosmetic and emotional satisfaction.

Dr. Ligresti is a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., graduated from Syracuse University and studied medicine at the University of Bologna in Italy, and Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York. He received his medical degree from Mt. Sinai in June 1978, and specialized in dermatology at the Ohio State University Hospital in Columbus, Ohio. In addition to his practice at Clara Maass, he teaches dermatology at Mt. Sinai School of Medicine to doctors in training. He has also written and published several articles of which he most recent has been given recognition for its in-depth research into the possible cause of psoriasis.

HEALTH WISE

It is estimated that about 20 million Americans suffer from chronic headache. This figure may be too low, judging from the prominence of "headache relief" advertising. Note that these preparations offer only "relief"...not a cure!

One cause of chronic headache is a blow to the head such as might be experienced in a fall, an auto accident or in a rough contact sport. In such cases, the spinal column above the shoulders is often involved and one or more vertebrae are misaligned, causing chronic headache due to nerve interference.

Chiropractic treatment is often successful in correcting the underlying cause of chronic headache. Please for an appointment.

Dangers of Drug and Alcohol Abuse The Topic For Middle School Kids

By Ed Capparucci

Drugs and alcohol. They are two evils which seem more and more to be playing a larger part in the way society functions and people act. In recent years drugs have been linked to organized sports, the entertainment world and in every aspect of life imaginable, including education.

While drugs have been with us since the beginning of time, it has only been in the last 25 years that officials have opened their eyes to the problems which exist on the school level. And officials at the Middle School have been no exception, making sure that drugs and alcohol abuse is something the children are aware of and understand.

"For the past 12 years the science department at the Middle School has been conducting a drug awareness program, which has had outstanding results," said Mario DiMaggio, the school's principal. "We want the children to be aware of different drugs, their effects and the legal consequences involved. We also want them to understand that if they do encounter a problem with drugs that they can seek help through the staff and guidance department."

Highlighting the 15-day awareness program, which is held each January at the Middle School under the direction of Vice Principal Frank Catrambone, are several guest speakers who make several visits on their own time to discuss the horrors and dangers of drug and alcohol abuse. Among the speakers are Joseph Pariso, a detective with the Essex County Prosecutor's Office; Tony La Vista, a detective with the Belleville Police Department; Dr. Paul Frageri, from Mountsinai Hospital; a representative from the Council on Alcohol Problems, and Frank Pomaco, a local attorney.

"We never have a problem getting guest speakers to come to the school and discuss drug abuse with the students," said DiMaggio. "Some of our speakers have been coming here for years, and they give

Pomaco, who is a partner in a Belleville law firm, has been lecturing kids at the Middle School on the legal implications of drug and alcohol abuse for the past eight years. During his 40-minute discussion he warns the students about the consequences of driving and drinking and also about drug possession.

"Don't mix drinking with driving, because when you get caught, nine out of 10 times you will be convicted and you deserve to be," Pomaco told a class of 25 students last Friday morning. "We have tough laws in this country about drunk driving because statistics show that a high percentage of deaths which occur during car accidents usually involve alcohol. You are usually the last one to know that you are not acting correctly after you have been drinking. You may think you are okay, but you're not."

"Drugs can be a major problem for many, even if you do not have the drugs in your possession, but are just around people with drugs," he said. "Don't go to parties where there will be drugs, because if the place is raided, you will be searched with everyone else and possibly arrested. Don't allow anyone in your car if you think they have drugs on them, if you get stopped and the drugs are found, then you are once again in big trouble."

Pomaco went on to explain what troubles will arise later in life if a student is arrested and has a record.

"A criminal record is something which will haunt you for the rest of your life," he said. "I have many people who come to me looking to get their record expunged, but there is nothing you can do. Once you have a record it is with you for life."

Drugs and the Law — Frank Pomaco, a local attorney, gives a lecture to a group of Middle School students, as part of the school's annual Drug Awareness Program. The program, which is under the direction of Vice Principal Frank Catrambone, serves to inform students on about the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse.

Prayer For Today

Lord, Thou knowest better than I know myself that I am growing older, and will some day be old.

Keep me from getting talkative, and particularly from the fatal habit of thinking I must say something on every subject and on every occasion.

Release me from craving to try to straighten out everybody's affairs.

Keep my mind free from the recital of endless details — give me wings to get to the point.

I ask for grace enough to listen to the tales of others' pains. Help me to endure them with patience.

But seal my lips on my own aches and pains — they are increasing and my love of rehearsing them is becoming sweeter as the years go by.

Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally it is possible that I may be mistaken.

Keep me reasonably sweet; I do not want to be a saint — some of them are so hard to live with — but a sour old woman is one of the crowning works of the devil.

Make me thoughtful, but not moody; helpful, but not bossy. With my vast store of wisdom, it seems a pity not to use it all — but Thou knowest, Lord, that I want a few friends at the end.

A Mother Superior: who wishes to be anonymous

Belleville's Past

The site of the Hendricks plant has been bought by the Andrew H. Jergens Company of Cincinnati, which is going to locate its eastern plant here. Sixth Street is being broken through from Newark to Belleville's Mill Street. Mill Street itself is being straightened out, and a new million dollar structure will rise in place of the old copper mill. Instead of the original 25 hands that drew copper wire on primitive apparatus, 1200 men will be employed together with the newest machinery to manufacture soap, hand lotions, cold cream and other beauty aids for my lady fair.

If plans of the company mature, an additional $1,000,000 factory unit will be constructed within five years, to give added employment to Belleville's industrial workers.

Withal Belleville has been singularly free of the strife between capital and labor that usually accompanies rapid industrialization. No doubt this fact has proved an added attraction to manufacturers intending to locate here.

Yet the town's past was not altogether without its periods of industrial turbulence. There was, for instance, in 1870, the wide-spread strike of the quarymen and stone cutters, who refused to accept a reduction in wages from $2.75 to $2.25 per day.

About the same time the resentment of Belleville's laundry workers against the importation of Chinese contract labor flared up. Significantly enough, public and press were at first solidly united behind the strikers.

The arrival of Chinese laborers on the Belleville scene was hailed by papers as far afield as the Camden Democrat in such unmistakable terms as were used in an editorial of September 24, 1870:

Workingwomen assailed

"Even women are to be driven from employment by Chinese Coolies. What plan will next be devised to rob the poor? What is to become of them? China is to furnish help for every department of labor, and our own working women will be left to choose between starvation and a life of shame. Look at this!"

"A Newark, N.J. dispatch says that 70 Chinamen from San Francisco arrived at Belleville on Tuesday night. They were to work in Hervey's Laundry, under a three-year contract.

"Could fiendish avarice inflict a greater curse upon society? Will voters go to the polls and deliberately sanction this outrage? Can any being calling himself a man, endorse this bold robbery — this unblushing plunder of bread from struggling women?"

"History of Belleville"

Sen. Carmen Orechio Isn't Everyone's Hero

To the editor:

A couple of days before the last election, I received some campaign literature from the N.J. Democratic State Committee, to promote the reelection of Senate President Carmen Orechio (D-Essex).

Underneath the name of Sen. Orechio appeared a quote from an editorial which appeared in the Trentonian of Oct. 24, 1983, as follows: "There are all too few STATESMEN in the Legislature now... (his opponent) will have to demonstrate a much better grasp of the responsibilities of a REAL LEADER if he hopes to fill Mr. Orechio's shoes."

The material also included the following statement: "Carmen Orechio puts the needs of the people ahead of politics."

These alleged qualifications in the very short time since the election have enabled him, with the invaluable help of his sidekick Assembly Leader Alan Karcher (D-Middlesex) to allow us to continue to enjoy the highest automobile insurance rates in the nation; allow us to continue to enjoy the envy of our fellow countrymen with our fishhook and crook restricting plan.

To further emphasize their totalitarian attitude of "the public be damned," their recent exercise which resulted in the closing of five Newark firehouses, after Gov. Thomas Kean responsibly had authorized some $5 million from surplus to help the "big cities," so that they could continue to provide the vital protection of life and property, must be labeled irresponsible or worse. Their behavior earned them the label of "Neros while Newark burns" from U.S. District Court Judge

H. Lee Sarokin. In other democracies there is no way these "?????" would be permitted to stay in office.

On Jan. 5, Gov. Kean signed a long list of various pieces of legislation. Standing out among them was one sponsored by Carmen Orechio... "Permitting garbage trucks to display their license plates 48 inches off the ground." How about an amendment, permitting one more just a little higher, like round his neck? It would look both distinguished AND appropriate. With a senate president like Carmen Orechio, God help New Jersey!

Getting Behind the Wheel And Drinking, Don't Mix

To the editor:

I would like to express my feelings on two points: drunk driving and seatbelts/child restraints.

I am presently serving overseas as a Military Policeman. During my time in the Military Police Corps, I have seen my fill of traffic accidents and deaths due to drunk drivers and the lack of seatbelt use.

The public is blind to these problems. A drunk driver is basically a murderer without any specific victim in mind.

A lot of people watch their friends leaving their homes or local bar, knowing their friend is drunk and is going to drive. These people are a major factor in the problem, yet they are too blind to see this.

I hope it doesn't happen, but someday they may see this friend for the last time. The next time will be the last, at the funeral home.

The same may occur due to a person not using a seatbelt, or placing a child restraint on their infant.

I grew up in Belleville and know a lot of people. I want to see these people each time I come home. If they or anyone else do not care about themselves, then it is obvious that they are not worthy of anyone's feelings.

It has been said by many policemen that they never had to unbuckle a dead person. I can tell you that this statement is true.

Injured Girl's Parents Thank Many Nice People

To the editor:

I'd like to take this means of thanking a few people.

On Tuesday night, Jan. 3, our daughter Jackie was struck down by a car on Stephens and Jorammon streets. To the fellow in the van that stopped to help her, thank you. We understand you tried to find our house to let us know about the accident. That was very kind and thoughtful of you. I'm sorry we don't know who you are. To our Belleville Fire Department, including firemen George Peddolino and Anthony DeBerto, ambulance crew and our town police, thank you for responding so quickly and for all you did to help. Last but not least to the staff in the emergency room at Clara Maass Hospital, thank you for the care you gave our daughter and the comfort you gave to my husband and myself. Our daughter's still in the hospital but coming along.

Phil and I are very grateful to all of you for your help and kindness.

Again, thank you all. God bless.

Letter policy

The Times continues to receive letters on a variety of topics which, unfortunately, may never find their way into our editorial page. That is because they are unsigned.

As a matter of policy, The Times accepts only signed letters. "Signatures" such as "A Concerned Citizen" or "A Worried Parent" will not do. Only names will suffice. However, we will withhold names from publication upon request.

Golden Comments

By James Golden

The mistletoe and holly and the Christmas joy and folly have been stored in memory and carefully tucked away in preparation for the return to the rational routine of daily everyday living with its daily chores and madcap pace of coping with problems besetting the average individual.

Those credit card bills for those presents will be coming due along with town taxes due Feb. 1, and don't forget Uncle Sam and the State of New Jersey, which expect the final quarter of estimated income taxes to be filed by the middle of January.

Social Security beneficiaries received a meager 3.5 percent payment increase for only one-half of 1983 while their Medicare medical insurance, the amount taken from their Social Security check each month, went up from $12.20 to $14.60 or $28.80 more this year.

Despite the fact that the School Board election is more than three months away reports have it that a strong ticket is forming linking Sy Grossman, former Belleville assistant superintendent of schools, with former board president Ernie Zoppi. They will offer formidable opposition to incumbents.

While it is premature at this time, it appears that a substantial hike will be proposed in the school budget for the ensuing school year which can only raise town taxes that are already threatened by binding arbitration raises granted retroactively through 1983.

Commissioner Joe Grande and his cohorts in the Public Works Department continuing to do an exemplary job in cleaning our streets and keeping them salted during hazardous winter storms, these fellows are doing a great job.

The Mayor's Christmas party in the town chambers was an outstanding illustration of Mike's popularity which was attended by celebrities high in the political circles of the entire county as well as by his host of old time supporters and friends whose ties go back a long time. Even Judge Abramson was present to see that proper decorum was observed. Magistrate Abramson is the doyen of all New Jersey municipal judges, save one, non-lawyer, holding over by a "grand-father" provision in the revised State Constitution.

Kevin Kennedy, who ran unsuccessfully in last year's commission election, still remains active by checking town vouchers, payrolls and civil service records to keep tabs on the goings-on at town hall.

A frequent attendant at town and School Board meetings, he looms as a new found town critic which has long been lacking for many years. At a recent town meeting he raised the question about a substantial expense voucher for which a commissioner was reimbursed for a trip to an Atlantic City seminar of the N.J. School Boards Annual Workshop.

While our commissioners receive a $2,500 a year expense account, Mr. Kennedy raises the question over the propriety of one of our commissioners, a politician, submitting a bill for his alleged participation in matters concerning Board of Education affairs...a taboo which separates and divorces political involvement in public school matters as unethical, other than when a school budget is defeated at the polls by the public, when then the town governing body, under Belleville's elective School Board type of administration, must sit down with the School Board to work out a compromise school budget for the School Board subject to appeal and the final determination by the State Commissioner of Education.

We, having long been regarded a critic, find nothing wrong in posing questions predicated upon objectivity, fairness and sincerity in challenging questionable actions or conduct of our public figures. It is regrettable that the media of this area is so derelict in its slothful indifference that it ignores significant information brought out at public meetings that the public would like to know about and have published...anything less, constitutes self-inflicted censorship.

It's School Budget Time

By Ed Capparucci

Now that the holiday season is nothing more than a memory for many of us, it's time to get back to more serious matters at hand — such as the preparing of the school and township budgets.

While little is known about the township budget at the moment — with the exception that taxpayers will be facing a definite increase — the situation involving the School Board's budget is frightening to say the least.

According to first-year trustee Gabe Nazzola, who has had the envious position as chairman of this year's budget committee, the Board of Education's budget will increase approximately 25 tax points this year. But that's not all my dear-worried taxpayers. On top of the budget increase, trustees will be asking voters to pass a $5 million bond issue, which will be used to help maintain the school district's buildings. While work has been done on several buildings throughout the district this year — including the Middle School — most of the buildings have been neglected for years, due to poor financial planning on the part of trustees seeking to trim figures just to make their re-election bids easier.

According to Nazzola, the budget committee trimmed the original budget from over $18 million to just $16.9 million, which represents an increase of 3.35 percent over last year's $16.3 million budget. It was also last year that the budget was passed for the first time in 19 years.

Now it is Nazzola's chore to sell this year's budget to the taxpayers, and that is a job which will require a lot of time, hard work and a great deal of luck.

"By not voting for this budget and bond issue, parents will be turning their backs on their children's education," Nazzola said recently. "They will be saying, 'Yes I want you to get an education, but I don't care where you get it, or under what conditions you must receive it.'"

Nazzola and members of the board will be meeting with members of the Parent and Teachers Association this week to explain how important the passing of the budget will be to the township's education system. If this budget and bond issue is going to pass — and the odds are against it — it is going to have to be done with a strong effort from parents in the community.

Watch Program Will Meet On January 25

The Belleville Crime Prevention Unit will hold a meeting for all Block Captains for all zones of the Neighborhood Watch Program on Wednesday, Jan. 25, at 7:30 p.m., at the Recreation House, corner of Joralemon Street and Garden Avenue.

Any other interested citizens may attend and we surely welcome their appearance.

During this meeting we will discuss the Neighborhood Watch Program and how you can help in keeping your property safe from intruders. As most of you are aware, the Neighborhood Watch Program is essential to any police department.

Adrenocorticotrophic Hormone (ACTH) is naturally produced in the pituitary gland of the brain. It directly controls the secretion of the adrenal glands which, in turn, produce cortisone. The primary use of cortisone is the temporary reduction of pain associated with inflammation. It does not matter where the inflammation is located. Cortisone is prescribed, not to cure anything, but to relieve discomfort. It may be injected, sprayed, rubbed on or swallowed by capsule. In prescribing cortisone, doctors usually start with a low dosage because administration of cortisone from an external source causes the pituitary to cease producing ACTH. In turn, then, the body stops the natural production of cortisone.

Stop by and see us for all your prescription needs. ROSSMORE PHARMACY is located at 338 Washington Ave., Tel. 759-1956, 759-1968. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. Baby needs, Russell Stover, candy, greeting cards, cosmetics, toiletries, camera and film are stocked. Open: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-10pm.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Weedo of 660 Belleville Ave., Belleville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Michele, to Bernard Lepore Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernardino Lepore of 357 DeWitt Ave., Belleville.

The troth was made known Sept. 22 at the home of the bride-elect.

Miss Weedo, an alumna of Belleville High School and Montclair State College, is with the Senior Care and Activities Center, Montclair.

Mr. Lepore, also a graduate of Belleville High School and Montclair State College, is with Matrix Instruments Inc., Orangeburg, N.Y.

The wedding will be held Sept. 22.

Medical Explorers Meet at Clara Maass To Discuss Careers

The Medical Explorers program at Clara Maass Medical Center is designed for young men and women interested in health-oriented careers. The group meets bi-monthly and takes tours of different hospital departments, goes on field trips, sits in on medical seminars and, at times, observes operations. The program is planned and executed by the Medical Explorers themselves under the guidance of advisors and consultants.

Clara Maass Medical Center highly endorses this program and sponsors a post there. Donald Hoch, assistant director of volunteer services, has been active in the post for 11 years with much help from Humphrey Smith, director of accounting services. Hoch encourages teenagers to learn more about the program. "For anyone interested in the health field, it's a great way to expose yourself and learn about the professional careers and opportunities available," he commented.

Hoch has just retired from his position as Explorers' advisor. The new advisor is William Reid, assistant director of the laboratory. His interest in the program sparked when he had the chance to meet past Explorers who were touring his department.

To qualify as a member of the Explorers, Post, one must be 14 years old and have completed the eighth grade or be 15 years old but not yet 21. The group meets the first and third Thursdays of each month, 7 p.m., in the ground floor lecture hall at Clara Maass. New members are always welcome. For more information, call Reid at 450-2072.

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,

I am married to a handsome guy. I love him so much, but he is losing his fine hair on the top of his forehead. I see that you opened a unisex extension, adjacent to your store, where you cut men's hair. I told my husband to go see you but he refused. He thinks you only do ladies hair. Is there really his hair can look fuller?

Your Guess Who Customer,

Yes, there is a method to let space, fine hair look fuller. Just a good cut permanent. You can give him the perm. Use smaller rods on the top and large ones on the sides and the nape of the neck. This will give him more cut on top, looking fuller all around. Yes, we do many men in our unisex extension. Let me take this opportunity to thank those wives, mothers, sisters, and girlfriends who recommend our hair cutting. Thank you for your many compliments and the praising of my coworkers. Believe me, I never forget that I was a worker. My weekly fondled to Linda, Ellen, Wightman and Paula Mc Curlich.

Nuclear Annihilation A Terrifying Thought

Dear CMHS:

My family, like millions of others, watched "The Day After" and I am worried about my daughter's reaction. She is 14 years old and has become depressed after viewing this movie. She feels hopeless about the future, sees nothing she can do to prevent a nuclear war and has begun having nightmares. I've tried to talk with her, but I must admit that my efforts have been half-hearted since the whole issue of nuclear war leaves me feeling angry and helpless. However, I'm really concerned about her and am not sure whether I should just leave her alone and let her get over it or what?

Anxious and Angry

Dear Anxious and Angry:

The subject of nuclear annihilation is indeed terrifying to adults and children alike. The thought that the world could be destroyed and that we are powerless to change the course of events is a painful reality with which to live. Thus, many try not to think about it and pretend the threat doesn't exist. For some, this is the only solution to an intolerable situation. The film and subsequent discussion made this denial more difficult. Your feelings of helplessness, helplessness and anger are understandable reactions to this nightmare.

For adolescents who are in the midst of developmental turmoil, the threat of nuclear devastation can be particularly frightening. In addition, the film underlined the reality of their own mortality, a difficult issue for teenagers who sometimes think they will live forever.

You ask whether you should "let this pass." While this may work for some, your daughter's nightmares may be an indication that she is unable to put her fears aside quite so easily. I encourage you to discuss this with her, perhaps with the entire family, since you note your own understandable reluctance to deal with this frightening issue.

This is certainly an issue around which parents and children can unite, as they share a common interest and face a shared threat. Your minister may be a resource with whom to consult. Many communities, schools, religious organizations have sponsored discussion groups which provide a forum for people to share their reactions and examine responses. Organizations concerned with this issue do exist and may offer you and your daughter an opportunity for involvement in the political process.

Should your daughter's nightmares persist, I suggest you contact a mental health professional for a consultation. (The Community Mental Health Services of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley is a non-profit agency serving the communities. For information, call 751-1630. Send letters to CMHS Hotline, c/o Irving W. Hahn, Community Mental Health Services, 570 Belleville Ave., Belleville, N.J., 07109.)

Religious Viewpoint

By Rev. Robert Paul

What makes the difference between Christians and non-Christians? They both look the same, eat the same food, work at the same kinds of jobs. Like nearly everyone they believe in gravity, the necessity of mowing your lawn in summer, and in paying taxes.

Yet there are a few truly different things Christians believe in. Not just believe but believe in — place their trust in, stake their life on. And this is what makes all the difference. Christians believe in the God of the Bible. Yes, they believe in the God who created the heavens to declare his glory and the earth to show his handiwork. The God who is all-powerful and all-knowing, righteous and holy, yet continues to love each of his creatures. The God who made each of us to yearn to know him.

Christians believe in Jesus Christ. A person who is fully God, and fully man, who said, "I and my Father are one." He lived a sinless life, and walked and talked on this earth for three remarkable years. He died on the cross taking upon himself the sins of the world, including yours and mine. God raised him up from the dead after three days, and was seen by many infallible witnesses. Christ is alive now, and seated at the right hand of God the Father.

Christians believe in the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit of God dwells in every born again believer in Jesus Christ. (Romans 8:9.) He also comforts the encourages and teaches of his redeemed children.

Christians believe in people. We believe people were created in the image of God. (Genesis 1:26, 27.) Yes, Christians believe the depravity of the human heart because of sin, and the need for justification by faith. True Christians believe in God as their Heavenly Father, and Jesus Christ died to take away their sins...that the Holy Spirit of God fills their lives.

Being a Christian isn't always easy. Christians still have problems and pain and disappointments. But God is for them, and we know that he will never forsake them, and we can enjoy his love forever.

You, too, can have this assurance of sins forgiven and everlasting life with God, if you will invite Jesus Christ into your life. (St. John 1:12.)

Marotti Previews The Year Ahead

The proposal, discussed last summer, was shot down after Washington Avenue merchants, residents, and BRDA officials protested it as the "downfall of the business district" if the "visible deterrent of crime were moved from the community's center."

Marotti said he has been talking with Congressman Joseph Minish in an effort to obtain funds for building a new police headquarters, probably on the municipal property behind Town Hall.

Municipal Services

Concerned about local services, Marotti noted the township has just added seven officers to the police force. Also, recent reports indicate Belleville may receive some $30,000 of the state's recently approved emergency funding to maintain public safety forces in urban areas.

Repairing township roads is another priority with the mayor. "If I can get the money, I'd like to see all the streets repaired," said Marotti.

He questioned why county funds allocated to Belleville for such projects must be used only in designated areas. "We could put that to use in other parts of town and I'd like to see if that can be done."

Toxic Sites

Last year's toxic leak on Main Street was an education for local officials. "It was something we never faced before and we responded the best we could under the circumstances," said Marotti.

He believes, "We probably could have saved some money if we knew more about it, but at the time the priority was to get the place as safe as possible for people living there."

If such a situation arose again, the mayor said he feels the township is better prepared to handle it. However, officials are taking precautions against a recurrence.

The toxic scare resulted, officials determined, from improperly stored chemicals on the site of a food flavoring manufacturing plant in town, since closed down.

Marotti said a plan is under way to conduct inspections of other local businesses which may have potential hazards on site. "We have an ordinance from another community which controls a similar situation and we're studying it to see what we can do here."

Water Supply

With continuing increases from the Newark Water Company and complaints about the quality of the supply, Belleville has been considering obtaining its own water source through the Wanakee South Water project.

Over a year ago, the township indicated a desire to participate with other communities in the project, but lost out on a place.

"We think there may be a vacancy and we introduced an ordinance last week approving our participating," said Marotti.

If Belleville does get into the project, the municipality will begin to enjoy its own water supply possibly by the end of 1985.

Condominium Development

Belleville officials recently faced hundreds of upset tenants from Bridgebrook Gardens, the township's first garden apartment complex going condo.

Seeking to answer questions of tenants who fear they'll be displaced, Commissioners discovered they have little authority in such conversions.

"The state has the power here. There's nothing we can do except try to help the people find the answers they need," said Marotti.

The municipality does have the responsibility for establishing a board to hear appeals from tenants who may be excluded from conversion efforts. Belleville established theirs last week.

Marotti noted the community can do little, if anything, to halt further condo development if that was their aim. "We can't do anything to stop them," said the mayor, who noted that while he doesn't object to some condos in town he does not "want an overload."

"Belleville is a residential one- and two-family home community and I'd like to see it remain that way," he noted.

Rec Pre-school Program Starts Registration

The Belleville Recreation Department is now accepting registration for the pre-school play program for 4-year-old children. The program consists of games, stories, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods and occasional holiday parties especially designed for pre-school children.

A session is from 9:15 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. five days a week with class limited to 25 students. The cost of the 15-week session is $45. The mothers of the children accepted will serve one day about every eight or nine days according to a published schedule.

School will begin again in late January under the leadership of Mrs. Susanne Iannini. For further information and enrollment, please contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 759-3142 as soon as possible — Monday to Friday 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m.

Times Play Review

'Alterations' Now at Whole Theatre

By Linda Telesco

Whenever two or more members of this family are in a room together, they fight. Innocent conversations lead to quarrels. They sit down to dinner and end up darting angrily from the table in different directions.

But they love each other too. They need to live together and can't stand the closeness at the same time. They haven't learned to compromise. Sometimes they just won't learn.

This is the substance of Leigh Curran's warm and wise new play, "Alterations," now playing at the Whole Theatre Company in Montclair.

With deep understanding of family relationships and the confusion they produce, Curran tells the story of a grandmother, mother, and daughter who struggle to resolve the very human ties between them.

Set in a Greenwich Village apartment, "Alterations" focuses on the struggle of Erica, an ambitious, talented costume designer for Broadway shows combines a high pressure professional life, with caring for an aging mother, and coping with her estranged husband Peter.

In addition, her 16-year-old daughter, Phoebe, is a brilliant student who wants to abandon the idea of going to college — she was accepted at Harvard — to live with a guru and "find her true self."

Tough, determined and ambitious that her daughter will get the education she, herself never had, Erica blames Phoebe's "religious nonsense" on the girl's grandmother.

Erica resents her mother's pouring "spiritual nonsense" into Phoebe. She also resents her mother's "God will provide attitude," since Erica found herself, as a teenager, responsible for her mother's welfare since the death of her father.

"Someone's always taken care of her," Erica says bitterly. "First Dad, then me." Even now, Erica's mother moved into the tiny Village apartment to remain in her daughter's care.

Beisel is both troubling to and troubled by her daughter. "You're a selfish woman, Erica," she reminds her, in a maternal tone resented by the grown woman.

Philosophical and touching, Beisel is also infuriating to Erica. She refuses to learn to use her walker, misplaces her hearing aid or tunes it out when she doesn't like what Erica says, and shuns all talk of moving to the retirement home where her friend lives.

"They break your spirit there," she says fearfully whenever Erica tries to convince her of the home's benefits.

The love-hate battles between Erica and Beisel were the force that drove Erica's husband, Peter, from the home.

The play is set on a day when Erica must decide whether to accept the vacant room available at the nursing home for Beisel.

On that day, Harvard's acceptance of Phoebe comes in the mail, but Phoebe decides to announce her attachment to her guru.

At a "surprise party" for the girl, Peter arrives to the delight of Beisel and Phoebe and the dismay of Erica. Tensions and emotions fly high as each one desperately tries to communicate his or her needs to the other. Comically, Erica runs back and forth from her family dinner party to working on Adrianna, a young actress who is being fitted for a costume and finds herself in what she calls a "zoo."

Tony-award winning actress Carlin Glynn is outstanding in the demanding role of Erica, conveying the cynicism, toughness, and hidden vulnerability of Curran's well-drawn character.

Together with Dortha Duckworth, who plays Beisel with sensitivity to telling details, Glynn brings the play to its touching conclusion.

As awkward, intelligent Phoebe, Kate Purwin was well-cast. She conveyed a clear picture of brilliant but idealistically impractical adolescent confusion.

The sole male figure in the play was portrayed by Stephen Newman, who handled effectively the role of likable Peter, a man much less ambitious than the wife he loves but awed by her drive.

Though not a member of the "family," Alexandra Gersten steals several scenes all for herself as the kooky, stagestruck actress whose city sophistication covers a child-like heart with a plaintive story of its own.

A play rich in meaning and entertainment, "Alterations" continues at the Whole Theater Company until Jan. 29. For information call 744-2933.

Family Discussion — Stephen Newman and Kate Purwin are part of the cast of "Alterations" now playing at the Whole Theatre in Montclair.

Library Issues New Guide On Drunk Driving

Anyone who wishes to have an impact on the drunk driving problem in Belleville can now get help at the Belleville Public Library. David Bryant, library director, has announced that a "Citizen Activist Guide to Fight Drunk Driving" has been made available to the Belleville Public Library by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, which published the document in cooperation with All State Insurance Company and the American Library Association. The guide provides "how to" information that will help individuals organize a task force to study the drunk driving problem and then get the study results translated into effective programs for their own localities. It also includes helpful suggestions about strategy, how to finance a program for controlling drunk drivers, how to draw public attention to the subject, and how to lobby for change. Bryant noted that at least 55 percent of all fatal traffic collisions are alcohol related, and 650,000 people will be seriously injured by drunk drivers in the United States during this year alone. The problem occurs and is most effectively handled at the state and local level, where citizens can make a difference if they know how to proceed. The "Citizen Activist Guide to Fight Drunk Driving" is available during regular library hours.

Belleville Times SPORTS

Defeat Bloomfield and Passaic

Girls Remain Undefeated With 2 Major Wins, 7-0

With some tough games coming up, the Belleville girls' basketball team warmed up to the challenge by whipping Bloomfield and Passaic last week. The double victories boosted the team record to 7-0 and set up a big showdown with undefeated Nutley.

The game with the Maroon Raiders was held last Tuesday evening. This afternoon, the girls battle a good team from Paterson Kennedy, in Paterson. On Saturday, the girls will host Hackensack starting at 1 p.m. from Belleville High.

Last week, the girls halted Bloomfield for the second time, 50-33 and breezed by conference rival Passaic, 82-38. In both contests, Jennifer Apicella was the leader, tallying 42 points against Passaic and 36 versus Bloomfield. On the season, Apicella is averaging 35.5 points a contest and is now shooting 86 percent from the foul line following an incredible week of foul shooting. In the two victories, the senior All-American hit 24 of 25 foul shots.

"We have some tough games coming up," said head coach Karen Fucello. "We got off to a good start this year, but the big games are approaching. Jennifer has been scoring well, but she will get even better as the season progresses. We need more scoring help from our forwards, however."

With the girls facing some tough games, it seems the worst time for an injury to hit Apicella, but that's what happened in the Passaic contest last week. Apicella, who has had ankle problems since her freshman year, twisted her ankle early in the contest. She finished the game, but the ankle had swollen over night and the prognosis for this week was listed as guarded. She should play, but the extent of her injury won't really be determined until she tries driving to the hoop and jumping.

In any event, the victory over Bloomfield saw Belleville jump out to a 6-3 first quarter lead and take an 18-11 margin into the lockerroom at intermission. In the third quarter, Belleville took command, outscoring the Bengals, 16-9 for a 34-20 lead. The fourth quarter was a workout for the younger players as the Buccaneers won their second game from the Bengals in six days.

In addition to Apicella's 36 points, Dina De Aquino tallied eight and Donna Brooks had six. For Bloomfield Mary Jane Skinner had 16 and Yvonne Toomey poured in 11 points.

"They showed us the same thing as the earlier game," said Fucello. "Therefore, we played them the same way as the earlier game. We felt our press would be effective and it was. I'd like for us to cut down on the fouling. A lot of the fouls are unnecessary and takes away from our press."

In the Passaic contest, three players hit for double figures to pace the Belleville win. Apicella hit for a season high 42 points, Brooks tallied 16 and De Aquino, 14. Loreli Wells had a season high eight points and Tracy Buono scored a field goal for two points. Kim Johnson led the Passaic cause with 14.

"Not too much to say about that game," said Fucello. "Jennifer's early injury took away from that game. Passaic is a young team and we were able to run pretty effectively."

Belleville did take command early, jumping out to a 21-8 first quarter lead and extending the margin to 35-14 at halftime. The second half was more of the same for Belleville with an easy victory awaiting them.

The Nutley contest figured to be a

Grapplers' Streak Reaches 3-0 Point

By Dino Ibelli

The Belleville wrestling team extended its record to 3-0 by defeating Fair Lawn, 28-23 and Hackensack, 34-30. This week, the Bucs battled Don Bosco Tech in a match held last night at Belleville High School. Tomorrow evening, in a 7:30 p.m. start from the High School, the team faces Teaneck.

The Fair Lawn match was the tougher of the two matches. Tim Buckley and Dennis Ives of Belleville lost early matches for the Bucs to give Fair Lawn a quick 6-0 lead. At 114 pounds, Dom Cerreto went back to his winning ways, defeating Joe Mocco, 13-0, cutting the deficit to 6-5.

At 121, Mike Giuffrida lost a tough 8-7 match at the hands of Joe Thompson. Fair Lawn extended its lead further when they took the 128 pound class from Belleville's Darren Sneddon and Neil Wright defeated Luke Siletti, 9-6. The victories boosted Fair Lawn's lead to 17-5.

As has been the case for many years, Belleville began to make its move in the upper weight classes. The Bucs Dave Siletti won a match without working a sweat, winning by forfeit. At 147 pounds, Ralph Zarro raised his record to 3-3 by defeating Phil Tabacchino, 14-6.

Fair Lawn's final victory of the evening came at the 155 pound category when Todd Anderson pinned Carmen Cerreto late in the second period. At 169 pounds, James Meyer defeated Tony De Caro, 6-0. Meyer raised his record to 8-1 and pulled Belleville to within four points, 23-19.

Jamie Lijo was an impressive winner at 185 pounds, defeating Dave Weiss, 8-5, closing the margin to 23-22 and setting up a big heavyweight battle for the match.

The Bucs used Mike Gibbons at heavyweight for the first time this season and the senior pulled through with saavy. Wrestling Ned Silano, the undefeated Gibbons needed only a victory to assure a Belleville win, but Gibbons, in true Belleville fashion, went one better, bringing back memories of George D'Allesandro in the mid 70's by pinning Silano in the third period, giving the Bucs a 28-23 win.

The Hackensack match was quick and physical. Phil Zlamoff of Belleville was pinned by Brian Kelly and Dom Cerreto of the Bucs returned the favor, pinning Pete Parisi. With the score knotted at six, Stan Woodcock of Belleville had a tough varsity debut, losing via pin in the third period.

At 121 pounds, Mike Giuffrida raised his record to 4-2 on the year, defeating Bob Torres, 19-8. Giuffrida's victory cut Hackensack's lead to 12-10. The Comets extended its margin to 18-10 when Rich Dass beat Belleville's Darren Sneddon and Mark Ligon defeated Luke Siletti.

Once again, the Bucs dug in and came back strong. Zarro pinned Anthony Capucci in 36 to narrow the gap to 18-16. Hackensack came right back when Tom Jordan pinned Sam Zlamoff, spoiling Zlamoff's varsity debut. The Bucs roared right back when Carmen Cerreto, Meyer and Gibbons pinned their opponents in less than six minutes total, rallying Belleville from a 24-16 deficit to a 34-24 lead entering the heavyweight match. With the Bucs assured of victory, head coach Gene D'Allesandro forfeited the class, giving Belleville the 34-30 win.

NOTES: Wrestler of the week goes to Mike Gibbons for the second straight time. What more can you say about Gibbons. He has an 8-0 record, has won the county championship, the Bloomfield Christmas Tournament and is building a reputation as one of the best wrestlers in the area. A further note: Gibbons is only a junior. You'll be hearing a lot of good things from this young man.

Buccaneers Fall to Bengals But Defeat Bergen Catholic

For the second time in a week, the Belleville boys' basketball team gave a game to the Bloomfield Bengals, but then made up for the loss with a big victory.

On the season, the boys are 4-3 and faced a difficult week of action. Last Monday they were in Bergen Catholic. On Tuesday they hosted Nutley. This afternoon Paterson Kennedy is in town for a 4 p.m. start and next Monday, St. Aloysius of Jersey City comes to town for an 8 p.m. start. On Jan. 17 Paterson Eastside is the opposition, in Paterson.

After losing a 66-56 game to the Bloomfield Bengals, the boys came back to rip Arts, 75-30. Despite the big win, Joe Papasidero was unhappy with losing to Bloomfield. "They didn't beat us, we beat ourselves," said the disgruntled coach. "For the second time they beat us in the fourth quarter. They hit the crucial shots, we didn't. Simple as that."

Since renewing the rivalry with Bloomfield, the games have been tight. Last season, Belleville posted two one-point victories over Bloomfield while the Bengals defeated Belleville once. This season, it's been Bloomfield's ball game, winning by counts of 59-50 and 66-56. In both games, one point separated the two teams in the early stages of the fourth quarter.

The game was tied after one quarter at 15 and Belleville led, 30-28 at halftime. In the third quarter, Bloomfield came back to take the lead, 42-41 entering the final frame. It was there that the Bengals took command of the contest, outscoring the Bucs, 24-15 to win by a deceiving 10 points.

Senior Phil Colalillo led all scorers with 28 points. He was followed by eight points from Danny Ward, seven from Steve Kimble, six out of Joe Borrello, four from Dave Boyd and three by Mike Sochaski. Bloomfield showed a balanced attack with four men hitting in double figures. Steve Barlow led the way with 19 points.

Victory number four came with an impressive 75-30 win over Arts. The Newark school came in with a 3-2 record, but were no match on this day to an eager Buccaneer team. "I don't think they were expecting us to run the way we did," said Papasidero. "We took them by surprise. Our defense was excellent. A lot of the things we should have done against Bloomfield, we did against Arts. When this team plays to its potential, it can be very good."

The Bucs took command of this contest very quickly. It was 11-6 after one quarter and 29-12 by halftime. The score ballooned to 44-17 after three quarters and 75-30 by the final buzzer.

Once again, Colalillo led the way, this time by scoring 27 points. Ward was also hot, hitting for a career high 25 points. Joe Borrello tallied eight, Boyd had six, Kimble, two, Brian Cook, four, Sochaski, two and Nick Sotomayer, a foul shot for one point.

Papasidero will be hoping his team can match its performance in the Arts game this week. The competition will be tough, to say the least. Bergen Catholic came into the Belleville game with one defeat. Nutley was undefeated and Paterson Kennedy was also undefeated.

Paterson Eastside, whom Belleville faces next week, is ranked fourth in the state with a 6-1 record. Its only loss was a two-point setback to nationally ranked Camden High School, number one in the state of New Jersey and ninth in the United States, according to USA Today. Needless to say, the next few weeks will be one of character building for the Bucs.

Lots of Hard Work Got Girls' Program Moving Forward

Eight years ago, Karen Fucello reclaimed a program that she left for one year. She found a program that was in an array, one that needed molding and would take at least three years to develop back into a winning one.

Now, seven games into the 1983-84 campaign, Karen Fucello and the girls' basketball program has arrived, make no mistake about it. Entering this season, the coach has led her clubs to a combined record of 139-86. Counting this year's 7-0 start, that's 146 victories and the way this year's club is producing, many more victories are on the horizon.

"I think the program has reached the expectations that I planned eight years ago," said Fucello. "I think the program is the envy of a number of schools who compete in the NNJHL with us. We have three assistant coaches working with girls from the fifth grade on up. It's a lot of dedication on their part, it's what has made this program so successful."

Fucello actually started her reign at Belleville High School in the early 70's. She led her teams to instant success, posting a 10-2 mark in the 1971-72 season and following that up with back to back 12-4 records in 1973 and 1974. It was after the 1974 season that Fucello took a sabbatical leave of absence. When she returned, she found a situation of disarray, inexperience, and not a good knowledge of the game and a general rebuilding from the ground floor.

The 1975-76 season saw the girls post a 6-16 record in Fucello's first season back on the court. "I decided if I couldn't turn it around in three years, then maybe someone else had better try. I hoped that three years would turn this program around." It was during that tough campaign that Fucello recalls, "a former player of mine, Janet Chamberlain, mentioned to me that a fourth grader in her elementary class had a big interest in basketball. That fourth grader's name was Jennifer Apicella."

In 1976-77, the record was the same, 6-16, but Fucello saw progress in the lower levels. "I was running everything, the elementary programs, the varsity and the jayvee. I emphasized camps, started to stress the need to play during the off season." The 76-77 season also was the first for assistant coach Debbie Meola, a woman who would play a vital part in the girls' later success.

1977-78, the girls turn it around, in Fucello's third year. The final record: 13-7. The players are Michelle Giordano, Karen Portuese, Karen Sciacca, Denise Guiliano and Denise Zarra. The girls also post a huge victory, stunning Nutley in the state tournament after trailing by 20 points in the second quarter of that game.

The 1978-79 season was a big lift for the girls. The team posted a 16-7 record, advanced to the semi finals of the Essex County tournament before falling to Barringer. "We became a very defense oriented team," recalls Fucello. "Thanks to Mark Corino, we worked on man to man defense. The girls were the defensive guts and heart type of players. They were able to come back from a deficit. They forced turnovers, they played with saavy."

That 78-79 squad consisted of Robin Giordano, Portuese, Guiliano, Zarra and Joycie Iacullo.

In 1979-80, the program regressed a little bit. The team jumped out to an 11-1 start, but finished the season with a 12-10 record. Perhaps the breaking point of that season came in early February, when the team battled East Orange, the number one ranked team in New Jersey, undefeated, and a team that would later win the state championship with a 27-0 mark.

In that game, Belleville received the rawest deal ever from a set of officials that were scared to death to call any violations against East Orange. Belleville would lose this game by one point and after that, the season would go downhill.

1980-81. A freshman by the name of Jennifer Apicella breaks into the starting lineup and makes an immediate impact. In her varsity debut, she scores 28 points and Belleville rips Verona in the season opener.

BUC SHOTS

By Michael Lamberti

Sports Editor

But that team was not just Apicella. There was senior center Dawn Ritacco, a player who averaged 14 points and 14 rebounds a game. Had it not been for an early season injury to dynamite guard Rosie Leonidis, there's no telling how good that team could have been. "We had the ingredients that year to be very good," said Fucello.

"That team came back from some tough losses and really showed character." The final record that season was 15-7. Players like Ritacco, Apicella, Barbara Gundry, Carolann Salerno and Debbie Gundry contributed to the success. The season also marked Fucello's 100th career victory, fittingly the milestone victory came in a win against Nutley. This was a team that had lost to Kearny by 30 points early the season, then beat the Cardinals in a game one month later. Belleville lost by 18 points to Nutley in mid January, then defeated them, in Nutley, in early February.

The 1981-82 season, the girls post a 17-6 record and might have done better had it not been for an injury to Gundry in a game against Kearny in early February. This was a team made up of Dina De Aquino, Donna Brooks, Apicella, Loreli Wells and Gundry. They played Shabazz to the limit in an Essex County tournament game before falling in the final quarter. They lost the Essex County Holiday tournament to Bloomfield, but rallied to defeat Bloomfield a month later in the Essex County tournament. Apicella had a tremendous year, scoring 779 points, averaging 34 points an outing and earning a number of post season honors. In only her sophomore year, Apicella would break the 1,000 point mark.

Last season, the girls posted a 20-7 record, the first time in the programs history that the girls won 20 games. "We had three goals last season," said Fucello. "One was to win 20 games, the other to return to Seton Hall University for the Essex County tournament and the third was to win the NNJHL championship. We managed two of those goals." The girls lost the NNJHL title by one game to Paterson Eastside and Vanessa Paynter. They did advance to the semi finals of the Essex County tournament before bowing to Shabazz, who would finish the season undefeated. Apicella was super once again, averaging 35 points a game and breaking the 2,000 point mark in her junior year. The state scoring mark of 2,745 points is now within reach as the 1983-84 campaign approaches.

This season, the girls are 7-0 and face some stiff competition in the next two weeks. Apicella is having an excellent year, averaging 34.5 points a game and Donna Brooks is doing a stalwart job, averaging 11 points a game and pulling down some key rebounds. Loreli Wells, the girls' defensive genius, is having a solid senior campaign and Dina De Aquino, after an early season slump, seems to have her game back in gear. Tracy Buono adds stability to this team, with good leadership and a positive attitude. That type of player is always welcome in the starting lineup.

When the season does come to an end, graduation will take a big toll. However, there are some fine young players on their way up, hoping to make a niche in the varsity program one day. "Jennifer (Apicella) and Dina (De Aquino) have given back to the program what they got from it," said Fucello. "They have been a big help to the younger players, and that's all you can ever ask for."

There was life before Jennifer Apicella, and surely there will be afterwards. What Jenny has added to the program probably will never be matched. "Jennifer dedicated herself to the game as much as any I've ever seen," said Fucello. "She's the one player who loves this game as much as I do."

Yes, there will never be another Jennifer Apicella, but maybe some day, in the not too distant future, another Janet Chamberlain will come up to Fucello with a fourth grader and say, "Coach, I've got a player you should be interested in."

The Belleville High School athlete of the week is Mike Gibbons of the wrestling team. Mike is 8-0 for the grapplers this season, has won the Essex County tournament and the Bloomfield Holiday tournament.

The answer to last week's quiz: The question was: When did Tampa Bay advance to the NFC championship game and who did they defeat to get there. The answer: Tampa defeated the Philadelphia Eagles, 24-17 in 1979 to advance to the championship game.

Heard At Ringside

By Steve H. Frank

Six of boxing's greats were born this month of January, Rocky Graziano was 61 on New Year's Day, Floyd Patterson, 49 on the fourth, Joe Frazier, 40 on the 12th, Muhammad Ali, 42 on the 17th, George Foreman, 32 on the 22nd, and Jersey Joe Walcott, 70 on the 31st.

Fight-beat sharpies are saying Sugar Ray Leonard's first comeback fight against Kevin Howard may be put on at the Meadowlands Arena. Also that promoter Don King is working on a fisticuff blockbuster featuring Tim Witherspoon versus Greg Page for the WBC heavyweight crown; Tommy Hearn, WBC 154-lb. champ, and Roberto Duran, WBA champ, in a unification title bout; Eusebio Pedroza defending his WBA featherweight belt against Johnny De La Rosa and Hector Camacho versus the winner of the Mancini-Bobby Chacon brawl. King is shooting for a late March or early April date.

Italy's Walter Giorgetti held on to his European bantamweight crown as he breezed by England's John Feehey in winning a unanimous 12-round decision. Giorgetti pushed his chart to 14-1-1. Feehey, holder of the Great Britain title, failing the third time to capture the EBU belt, fell to 27-7. The bout was fought at Campobasso, Italy.

Bob Holloran, in charge of special events for Caesars Palace in Las Vegas, informs that Mike Trainer, Sugar Ray Leonard's attorney-advisor, was in contact about putting the Feb. 25 bout between Leonard and Kevin Howard on at Caesars. Holloran said, "I'm optimistic we'll get the rights to the fight. Trainer's first money demand was too high. And he didn't accept my first offer." When it was mentioned about the arena machine having the bout going into the Meadowlands Ruma, he answered, "I don't think anybody will take Trainer's first money offer."

Rhode Island's Bob Andreoli and Newark's Murad Muhammad, who co-promoted the Larry Holmes-Scott Frank and Holmes-Marvis Frazier mismatches, are next promoting two fights that appear to be loaded with fast, hard-hitting, fire-power. But not together — Bob will promote the Ray "Boom Boom" Mancini-Bobby Chacon blast, while Murad will push the Juan La Porte-Wilfredo Gomez crowd-pleaser.

Some fans are saying Larry Holmes did the World Boxing Council (WBC) a good deed by accepting the Council's action. At least the fans will be treated to a fight when Tim Witherspoon and Greg Page exchange punches for the vacant WBC heavyweight crown. Holmes never received the recognition he deserved and he didn't help his own cause when he fought talent lacking fighters as Randy "Tex" Cobb, Lucien Rodriguez, Scott Frank and Marvis Frazier. And a John Tate fight won't help.

New York and Las Vegas fight-beat sharpies have challenger Bill Costello of Kingston, N.Y., favored to knock the crown off WBC lightweight champion Bruce Curry's noggin when they collide on Jan. 27.

Former heavyweight title contender Jerry Quarry, attempting a comeback of sorts at age 38 as a 195-pound cruiserweight after six years on the shelf, said he has no plans to quit after winning his first two efforts as rumored. He indicated he would like to fight former heavyweight champion Leon Spinks. Spinks, now classified as a cruiserweight, last fought March 6, 1983, at Atlantic City and lost on a TKO in the seventh to Carlos De Leon.

Heavyweight Joe Bugner, born in Hungary now fighting out of England, has applied to the British Boxing Board of Control to lift the ban imposed on him for fighting Marvis Frazier on May 4, 1983 in Atlantic City, when he was contracted to fight in England. If Bugner gets permission he will accept a bout in Randers, Denmark.

Jose Ribalta is a relative stranger to the New Jersey fight crowd. The promising heavyweight landed in Passaic from Cuba with a stopover in Miami. He started as an amateur in Florida and compiled a record of 65-8. Ribalta won two Florida Golden Gloves championships before turning to the fight-for-pay business. North Jersey's outstanding trainer Tommy Parks keeps Jose in top condition as he steers him to a pro record, to date, of 15-1. Ribalta's last bout was on Dec. 15 at Resorts International in Atlantic City. Jose was well ahead on points when his opponent, undefeated Juan Antonio Figueroa of Argentina, started to hit below the border. After being warned numerous times about his foul tactics, the referee stopped the bout in the seventh round. Ribalta was declared the winner on a disqualification. Ribalta is managed by Murray Gaby of Florida. Results of other bouts on the card were: Forrest Winchester, 135½, Columbia, Ohio, W-Dec, in 10 rounds over Thomas Baker, 136½, Washington, D.C.; Iran Barkley, 160½, Bronx, N.Y., WTKO in first round over Mariano Bernardi, 164½, Paterson; Mike Mungin, 142, Mt. Royal, N.J., TKO in second round over Andre Boyer, 140, Lindenwood, N.J.; Andre Harrell, 153, Baltimore, Md., WTKO in first round over Ronny Brown, 153½, Bronx, N.Y.; and Jerry Parker, 172½, Bronx, N.Y., WTKO in first round over Herman Epps, 172½, Forestville, Md. Officials: Vinnie Rainone and Zack Clayton, referees. Judges were Rudy Battle, Phil Newman and John Stewart.

Bobby Chacon of Oroville, Calif., who exchanges haymakers with WBA lightweight champ Ray Mancini of Youngstown, Ohio, for the title this Saturday, said, "There is only one big fight I want and that's to take apart Hector 'The Clutch' Camacho of New York." Bobby didn't say win or lose the Mancini fight. Las Vegas has pegged Mancini a 11-5 to defeat Chacon. We wonder if anybody told Chacon?

Upper Darby, Pa. lightweight Charlie "Choo Choo" Brown and Detroit's Alvin Hayes will exchange haymakers on Jan. 30 in Atlantic City for the IBF (formerly USBA) vacant title slot. Both pugs are power-punchers and can take a punch. It shapes up as an exciting, suspense-filled matchup with the fans waiting to see who lands the big one first.

Track Squad is Suffering With Several Ill Members

The Belleville indoor track team competed in the Paramus Catholic Invitational last weekend and will have the next two weeks off before starting competition in the Essex County tournament on Jan. 29.

The Bucs will compete at Seton Hall University on the 29th, battling some good schools from Essex County.

Head coach John Tosato was limited in the team he could field for the Paramus Catholic match. Sickness has held the coach in check as far as fielding a team and the coach has had to go with younger athletes with less experience. Right now, Dominick Ferry and Joe Christ, two relay members have been out of the lineup for two the last two weeks and Tosato hopes to have them back for the counties.

The shot put relay team of Tim Daudelin and Pete Gramatico came through with a solid performance. Daudelin and Gramatico both threw for personal bests last week, throwing the iron ball 35-9 and 31-5 respectively.

Tosato fielded a second varsity shot put relay of Frank Trupia and Larry Boscano, and they too, had a good showing. The Bucs have been a solid field team for many years and Tosato has to be optimistic with the good showings during the winter months.

The two mile relay team of Bob Hutchinson, Billy Haumann, Keith Clark and J. R. Di Vincenzo posted a 10:51 time, each man running 800 meters.

The girls varsity fielded a spring sprint medley squad, consisting of Nancy Coco, Christina Hallam, Donnae Daudelin and Patty Bliss. The four girls clocked a time of 5:30 for the event.

"This time off should help us," said Tosato. "It will give some of the athletes a chance to recover before the county championships. We've been hit with colds and flu and have been competing pretty regularly. This extra time should benefit the kids."

Girls' Basketball Team Continues To Win Big

good test for Belleville. "They do all those things we find difficult," said Fucello of Nutley. "They are big under the boards and are playing very well. I expect a tough test."

The waters will get a bit rougher for the next two weeks. Paterson Eastside is on the schedule for next week in a rematch of the season opener, won by Belleville, 44-43 at Paterson. Also on the schedule is a tough contest with Ridgewood, Teaneck and Hackensack.

"We'll find out a lot in the next two weeks," said Fucello. "We're going to need a good effort from our starters to keep the pace going."

NOTES: Fucello is very happy with the play of Loreli Wells. "She's probably the most consistent player on both sides of the floor right now. She's also providing good leadership." Fucello has now won 146 games in her career, compared to 86 losses. Brooks, averaging 10.8 points a contest and shooting 56 percent from the line. De Aquino is at 9.4 with a 57 percent ratio from the stripe. "Dina has to drive to the hoop," said Fucello. "She has a lot of points from it." Of Brooks, Fucello commented, "She can be so much more aggressive. Also she should concentrate on her foul shooting more. Dina can be such an explosive player."

Basketball Clinic Set For Jan. 21

The Belleville Recreation Department will again be conducting its junior boys' basketball clinic for ages 11-14, starting on Jan. 21. The program will run on Saturdays from 1-3 p.m. in the Middle School girls' gym, and is slated to last until the end of March. Instruction will be provided by members of the high school basketball team and coaching staff. If enough participants register, it is hoped that teams can be formed and the boys will then compete in league-type play. For further information, contact the Recreation Department at 759-3142 weekdays between 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m.

Recreation Department's Basketball Leagues Enjoys Very Busy Week

Men's Basketball

The fourth week of action took place in the Belleville men's basketball league as Nutley Pub rolled by Rocky's Raiders 76-50. Todd McDougal pumped in 24 for the winners and teammate Mike Cancelliere had 14. The Raiders received 13 apiece from Fran O'Keefe and Pat Blacer. Despite Allan Talmadge's 23 points, RLM Graphics fell to Ten-Two 49-47. The close game was tied at halftime, 26 all. The winners were aided by Frank Mauro who scored 18 and Ron Thompson nine. Clyde Robinson popped in 14 for RLM who remain winless.

For Pete's Sake, paced by Mike Hennessey 30 and Doug Whaley's 14, slipped by Tobler 70-53. The losers were led by Cecil Stetson with 26 and Pat Higgins 12. Tobler was down 30-28 at halftime but was outscored 40-25 in the second half.

League leading scorer Dan McLoughlin poured in 49 points and teammate Don Roll added 12 to propel Rosebud's Pub 88-67 over the Knicks. The losers were led by Mike Filian's 24 and 12 apiece from Gary Mascitelli and Bill Sherman.

Senior Boys' Basketball

Week three of the senior boys' basketball league took place on Tuesday night Jan. 9 with four games. Village Video rolled past Jackie's Luncheonette 34-18. Game high scoring honors went to Pete Dorizas (13) for the winners who also received six from Jim Petrat. Jackie's was led by Mike Debelak who scored 10 points.

Don Washington's 19 points and Ricky Well's 11 helped Walker Transport explode by "US" 43-25. The losers, who fell to 0-3, were paced by Tim Monahan's 12.

Z & Z Contracting beat the previously undefeated OPEC Oilers 33-22. The winners lifted their record to 2-1 and into a second place tie behind Walker Transport. Frank Zangari scored 17 points for Z & Z and Opec was led by Herb Petrat who had five.

Eric Anderson and Frank Genarelli combined for 31 points to lead Vinnie's Deli over Viking Barbell 50-22. Anthony Tucci had eight for the losers.

Over 30 League

Week two of the men's over 30 basketball league took place as in double as in double overtime Sally's Auto squeezed past Miele's Caterers 64-56. The winners received 19 points from Ed Peterson and 11 from Dan Dunn. Game high scoring honors went to Carl Corino (26) and teammate Anthony Sorrentino popped in 21 for Miele's, who were up by one at halftime.

Megaro beat Newark Beverage 37-30. Mr. Bruno and Al Iervolino combined for 21 points for the winners, who evened their record to 1-1. Newark Beverage was paced by Paul Magrone (14) and Leon Guy (10).

Joe Dattoli's 14 points and Rich Luzzi's seven helped Tobler near past the Belleville Knights 30-18. More than half the losers' scoring output was done by Jim Rinaldi who scored 11 points.

Balanced scoring by Sylvestro's Meat Market's Rich Lowack (12), Bruce Kaufman (10) and Bob Byers (nine) lifted the Meat Market over Radio Shack 37-32. Frank Carraciac led all scorers with 15 points for Radio Shack.

Eighteen points by Frank Carraciac was not enough for Radio Shack who fell to Megaro Memorial Home 46-41. The winners received 12 from Al Iervolino and eight by Steve Baris to sail to the victory.

Sally's Auto paced by Dan Dunn who scored 17 points edged Newark Beverage 46-40. Leon Guy popped in 14 and teammate Paul Wirtzel added 11 in a losing cause.

Marty Higgins' 21 points and 12 apiece from Jerry Lestardo and Butch Pavel ignited Tobler past Miele's Caterers 53-45. Carl Corino and Rich Della Terza combined for 26 points but the losers could not overcome a 10-point halftime deficit.

In a very close contest Vito Sylvestro's Meat Market squeezed by the Belleville Knights 34-33. The winners were led by Jack Rush 14 and Bob Byers who scored 12. Louis Burrell and Earl Wake combined for 18 points in a losing cause.

Suburban League

The Belleville Recreation entry into the Suburban junior girls' basketball league evened its record this past Saturday at 1-1 after they defeated West Orange 42-18. The seventh and eighth grade Buccanettes were led by Judy Nehila (18 points), Kathy Groome (12) who also was strong under the boards, and Sandy Brey (six). The winners were led defensively by guards Jackie Tillman and Sharon DiNicola.

Meanwhile, the Belleville seventh and eighth grade boys improved to 4-0 by staging a dramatic 42-41 comeback behind victory over a tough Millburn squad. Down by 10 points with five minutes to go in the game, the Bucs rallied to take the final one-point advantage. This win enabled Belleville to remain atop the Division B standings.

Rec Volleyball

Fourth-week action in the Belleville Recreation Men's Volleyball League saw undefeated Subs 'n' Stuff (4-0) topple Perfection Knife Grinding 15-6, 15-11. Staying close behind them in the standings, however, were Belleville Political and Social Club (3-1) who defeated Seifert Distributors (1-3) 15-8, 16-7; and the Fireballs (3-1) who rallied past Miele's Caterers (0-3) by 15-4, 15-10 scores. For Pete's Sake improved to 2-1 by besting The Slams (0-4) 15-5, 15-10.

Rec Department Holding Health-Fitness Program

The Belleville Recreation Department, in cooperation with Hoffmann-La Roche, the New Jersey Nets, the Garden State Ballet, and William Paterson College, will be conducting a community-based health-fitness program targeted to youths 10 to 12 years of age.

The program is slated to begin with an initial dance demonstration on Wednesday, Jan. 18, at 6 p.m. at the Friendly House on Frederick Street in Belleville. Present at this demonstration will be members of the Garden State Ballet teaching staff and/or dance company. This session will be open to an unlimited amount of participants who would like to attend.

The basketball aspect of the program will begin with an instructional clinic on Friday, Jan. 20, at 4 p.m. at the Friendly House on Frederick Street in Belleville. Present at this clinic will be a member of the New Jersey Nets basketball team, whom will be named later. The pre-clinic, as it is called, will be open to any youths in this age group, who would like to attend. The Nets' player will demonstrate techniques and the youths will have an opportunity to participate.

Following the opening day clinics, which should last approximately one and a half hours, will be an eight-week program for the 10-12 year old group. These activities will be open to both boys and girls, and will meet at the Friendly House from 6-8 p.m. as follows: dance will be on Wednesdays and basketball will be on Thursdays.

The focus of the program is the maintenance and development of good health habits through regular exercise, good nutrition and the development of lifestyle disciplines including good study habits.

Each session will consist partly of discussions of a health topic led by a health education student intern, followed by a dance instruction session on Wednesday and a basketball practice and skills session on Thursday. The dance will be taught by the Garden State Ballet staff and the basketball skills will be led by a physical education student intern. At times, the basketball presentation will be augmented by representatives of the Nets staff.

At the clinics on Jan. 18 and 20 the health-fitness program will be explained and the children will be invited to join the program which will begin the following week. The program will be limited to 25-30 boys and girls, each of whom will be provided with a notebook and instruction sheets, a T-shirt, one ticket to the March 11 Nets-Seattle basketball game at the Meadowlands Arena, one trip to a Nets "Shoot Around" practice session on Feb. 21, and one ticket to a Garden State Ballet Dance Performance on March 24 or March 25. To register, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 759-3142.

Rec Wrestling Team Wins First Match

The Belleville Recreation wrestling team, under the guidance of coaches Joseph Nisivoccia and Lou Riccardi, opened up the 1984 season with a very impressive 62-30 victory against West Orange. Registering pins were 80-pounder Bill Van Sychel in 2:19; 85-pounder John Stampone in 30 seconds; 90-pounder Joe Cerreto in 12 seconds; 119-pounder Armando Nardone in 23 seconds; 145-pounder Dawson Bloom in 18 seconds; and heavyweight Frank Pacheco in 1:28.

Winning by decision were 60-pounder Emilio Nardone 10-0; 65-pounder Ralph Perna 17-8; and 112-pounder John Ruimo 11-1. Mike Iuliano fought a hard and exciting battle in the 100-pound class losing 17-12 against his experienced West Orange opponent.

"We are without eight of the fine recreational wrestlers we had last year due to their entering a higher level of competition," said Nisivoccia, "however, we do have five extremely fine and talented wrestlers who will be the foundation of this year's squad."

Leading this year's Belleville squad are the mighty five veterans: John Stampone (85 lbs.), Joe Cerreto (90 lbs.), Mike Iuliano (100 lbs.), last year's 15-0 Armando Nardone (119 lbs.) and Dawson Bloom (145 lbs.).

Coach Nisivoccia feels, "This year our wrestling squad is young and with many wrestlers lacking time on the mat. We do, however, have some fine new promising prospects in Mike Miele, Bill Van Sychel, John Ruimo, and Frank Pacheco."

Finishing out the squad are Emilio Nardone (60 lbs.), Ralph Perna (65 lbs.), Angelo Torromeo (65-70 lbs.), Bob McGough (95 lbs.), Ken Henry (126 lbs.), Vin Frantantonio (135 lbs.) and Eddie Occhipinti (super heavyweight). There are also several other wrestlers who may enter the line-up and see some action this year.

Coach Nisivoccia adds, "The recreation wrestling team is designed to introduce to the elementary and middle school age boys the sport of wrestling and allow them to enjoy along with learning the sport of wrestling. My major objective is to teach and emphasize the skills and techniques of wrestling so that our wrestlers will not totally rely on strength as their means of overcoming their opponents. What the young wrestlers learn at this level is important because it carries over into the high school varsity level."

Pro Wrestling Show Returning To Town

Excitement will return to Belleville High School gymnasium when professional wrestling returns Saturday, Feb. 4.

The World Wrestling Federation, having promotional rights of the world's best wrestlers, has promised Vinnie Cosentino, chairman of sporting events for the Michael V. Marotti Civic Association, a card of outstanding wrestlers.

At this time the following inter-continental champions will be matched with other top performers: Tito Santana, Salvatore Bulommo, Ivan Putski and "Magnificent" Muraco. There will be others added.

Box office opens at 7:30 p.m. and the first match is at 8 p.m. Tickets are priced at $6 and $8.

All proceeds will be distributed to the New Jersey Foundation for the Blind, handicapped children, and Michael V. Marotti Civic Association Scholarship Fund.

Tickets are available at: Belleville Tobacco and Hobby Center, 759-9803; Bloomfield Sports Center, 429-8393; Fountain of Flowers, 751-5089; Flowerman, 759-0012; Sincerely Sandy, 759-2324; Fred's Sunco, 429-8540; Rossmore Pharmacy, 759-1956; Pico's Tavern, 759-9850; Lombardi Realty, 751-6300; Phil Molinar, 751-2973; Party Shop, 284-0345; Gail Boscano, 751-7069; Aldo D'Chiara, 759-4722; or Vinnie Cosentino, 751-3994.

Miele to Announce Board Resignation

his successor. But Miele decided against going that route.

"My feeling is that the people elected me and I prefer that the people have the chance to select the person succeeding me," he said. "A public individual is responsible for the people, and the people have the right to elect those officials."

Miele was first elected to the School Board in 1979 and then re-elected in 1982. He served as school president during the 1981-82 school year.

An active resident in Belleville for the past 30 years, he served as president of the School 8 PTA in 1972. He first ran for the board back in 1973 but was defeated.

During the interview Miele pointed to several major accomplishments during his tenure on the board.

"I was happy to see the closing of the two elementary schools in our district, including the sale of one for a substantial amount of money, which benefited the taxpayers of Belleville," Miele noted. "There was the vocational program which we established and expanded at the high school, and of course, of the two budgets which called for no tax increase.

"I was also very pleased with our program to renovate the elementary schools throughout the district," he continued. "The program is working well and I believe it was a major accomplishment."

Speaking about his fellow board members Miele said, "I have served on different types of boards, most of them were hard-working and harmonious. With this present board I would like to see them strengthen their minds on a business-management level."

"When I ran for the board, I promised the people I would be a trustee who acted in a like manner, and I believe I reached that goal. I have been an agency for the people and voted time and time again with the taxpayers in mind, while at the same time making sure that our children received a proper education."

"This was a very hard decision to make, but I feel that I am doing the right thing," he said. "I would just like to thank the people of this community for giving me a chance to serve as a trustee for the past five years. I really enjoyed it."

FISHIN' TIPS

from .Tom Mann

JUST WHERE IN THE HECK do fish disappear to during dog days when birds are panting and dogs' tongues are almost touching the ground? Well, at hour you seek out cool spots, out of the sun, and try to get comfortable, right?

That's just what fish do, too. They find shady areas where it's cooler, like back under lily pads, weeds, and brush. Or, they bask under overhangs such as undercut banks, deadfalls, logs, and piers. Also, they seek deeper, mid-lake water close to the thermocline where it's cooler.

To find the thermocline where fish hang out, tie a thermometer to a 50-foot string. Lower it a couple of feet at a time and take a reading. Normally the temperature drops about a degree for each foot of depth. But when you hit the thermocline it can drop from five to ten degrees. When you encounter this, then check the depth by your string length, and fish just above the thermocline because that's where the fish may be. If no there then fish around those shady spots mentioned, using jellyworms on the bottom, and surface lures on top.

BRER TOM'S CLOSING TIP: When you fish on a hot day, remember your comfort and you'll enjoy it more. Take along cold drinks and snacks, wear a broad-brim hat and sun glasses, and protect your hide with suntan lotion. Oh yes, don't forget to set the hook, hear?
