American History Month — Mayor Michael Marotti was busy signing a proclamation declaring February as 'American History Month' in his office last week. Looking on is Mrs. Lenora R. Keeney, historian for the Daughters of the American Revolution. See story on page 9.

Many Activities Scheduled For Catholic Schools Week

Although gloomy reports about the decline of modern education fill the media these days, parochial schools look ahead with optimism.

In fact, "A Beacon of Hope" is the 1984 theme of national Catholic Schools Week which begins on Sunday and is being observed by three area schools with a full range of events and activities.

St. Peter's School on William Street and Nutley neighbors Holy Family School and St. Mary's School announce their plans for the special week.

"Catholic Schools Week" is a time when parochial schools can give themselves a pat on the back as well as make the community more aware of their existence," explained Sister Pat McCarthy, the principal of St. Peter's.

Discussing the place of parochial education in today's world, the administrator commented, "Educators everywhere surely have the same goals, to help each child be the best that he or she can be."

She continued, "All educators try to help youngsters become aware of their potential, but educators also have a responsibility to instill values and insight. In parochial education, the educator does this from the perspective of Catholic theology."

Sister Pat acknowledged that parochial schools have suffered declining enrollment in recent years.

"Much of that is the result of economic pressures," she said, noting that many parents who enjoyed a Catholic school education want the same for their children, but often cannot afford tuition costs these days.

Card Party Is Scheduled For School 3

The School 3 Home and School Association is holding its annual card party on Friday, Feb. 10, at the Branch Brook Manor Restaurant, 13 Washington Ave., at 7 p.m. Dinner and a fashion show are included in the $14 ticket. For more information and reservations, call 751-5361 or 751-7540.

However, she also noted that parochial schools reflect a national trend of diminishing enrollment as a result of lowered birth rates. "I think we'll see that turn around in the future, though," she said.

The principal is proud that the century old school enrolls nearly as many students as it graduates each year. She also said that of the 42 who graduated last June, 25 — more than half — went on to a Catholic high school.

St. Peter's, Holy Family and St. Mary's enroll students in grades K-8. In addition, the Nutley schools offer a pre-school program.

Combined, the three schools educate some 1,100 children, 301 of which are enrolled at St. Peter's.

All the schools also employ a faculty of both religious and lay teachers. Sister Pat notes that the schools enjoy a religious education tradition of some 200 years standing.

The Sisters Filippini of Morristown, who teach at Holy Family, this year celebrate their 75th anniversary while the Sisters of Charity from Convent Station, who teach at St. Peter's and St. Mary's, recognize their 125th anniversary. Both are teaching orders.

The three area schools all have functioning school boards and offer curricula that include programs for the gifted as well as courses in Family Life education.

Both St. Mary's and Holy Family have a computer literacy program, a course Sister Pat hopes to bring to St. Peter's in the future.

The principal's other long-range goals for the Belleville school include establishing a solar lab and organizing a program for the learning disabled that extends beyond the minimum that government allocations support.

"I can say that we have made great strides locally and have received cooperation from the municipal Board of Education. We're very pleased with the services they've provided," she added.

St. Peter's activities for Catholic Schools Week begin on Sunday with a prayer service and benediction at 3:30 p.m.

On Monday, students honor teachers during Faculty Appreciation Day featuring a coffee hour, luncheon and afternoon relay races.

Teachers return the favor on Tuesday for Student Appreciation Day with breakfasts and special films.

Grandparents Day is held on Wednesday beginning at noon until 3 p.m. with open house, luncheon, and entertainment. For the first time this year, senior citizens will be included in the activities as many students who do not have grandparents will

Tenants Upset Over Decision

State Denies Town's Request For Apartment Reinspection

By Linda Telesco

Belleville's request for the state to reinspect a controversial garden apartment complex was recently denied. Mayor Michael Marotti announced at the recent township meeting.

The request followed upon recent complaints by residents of the Bridgebrook Apartments at 775 Joralemon St., a complex in the process of converting to condominiums.

Distressed by both the conversion plans and reported health and safety violations, tenants have bombarded Commissioners with demands for action in having their apartments repaired.

Multi-unit dwellings are inspected by state authorities every five years. Tenants claim many of the existing violations are repeatedly overlooked on regular inspections and were again ignored when a special team of inspectors came up in December, in response to a protest group of residents who visited the Department of Community Affairs in Trenton seeking action.

Concerned about electrical, plumbing, and structural problems, the tenants asked local officials to pressure the state for some remedy.

Mayor Marotti directed a letter in early January to John Renna, commissioner of Community Affairs, asking that a special overall inspection be made of the premises, particularly since residents fear that anyone who may consider purchasing the apartment as a condo would immediately, as owner, become responsible for repairs they claim should have been made by the present owner.

In a Jan. 13 reply, Commissioner Renna reminded the Mayor, as state officials had in past conferences, that existing violations will have no direct bearing on whether the state approves Bridgebrook's application to convert to condo.

The owners must, however, disclose to authorities the "condition and relative adequacy" of services, said the letter.

Acknowledging that there may be violations of health and safety codes at a given site, Renna said specific citizen complaints will be taken into account when the state reviews the engineering survey supplied by Bridgebrook authorities for conversion purposes.

"Whenever we receive or develop information which calls into question the fundamental adequacy of an engineering survey," the letter continues, "it is our policy to require a second independent engineering survey to determine the real facts."

However, the scores of tenants who listened as Mayor Marotti reported Renna's reply howled at the letter's closing remark, "We have seen nothing to date which suggests that an independent survey will be necessary but we will not hesitate to order one performed if we do."

The Mayor promised the dismayed residents he would pursue the matter further. "I'll talk to Senator (Carmen) Orechio to see if there's anything we can do," he promised the citizens, reminding them that most matters related to the complex and its conversion are, by state law, out of Commissioners' jurisdiction.

Snow Storm Takes Bite From Budget

The biting cold of January '84 also took a bite out of the municipal budget. Snow plowing and salting of streets cost for the storm that hit on Jan. 10 cost Belleville $13,531 for labor and equipment, according to a report by Public Works Commissioner Joseph Grande.

Figures are not yet in on the costs for the Jan. 18 storm, but they may add up in view of an unexpected $6,700 expenditure for a new salt spreader.

For the period up to Jan. 16, total costs for parts, supplies, salt and grit totaled $8,107. DPW paid $5,983 for mineral salt alone.

With seven trucks out clearing township roads, Grande reported $5,423 in labor costs.

The Commissioner predicted labor costs for the second storm would be "minimal" since he had seven workers out cleaning streets immediately.

However, an emergency fire in one of the municipality's two salt spreaders cost the department a hefty sum.

Grande said the spreader caught fire about 5 a.m. Thursday.

The fire department responded immediately, he said, but the equipment shortage prompted Grande to purchase a highway type spreader.

He attributed the breakdown to the "cheap" equipment previously purchased by the department. The burned out truck is being repainted by a mechanic and will provide the township with a total of three spreaders.

The Commissioner feels two are not enough for a community of Belleville's size.

Many citizens remarked favorably on the job done this year by the DPW in handling snowfall. Grande said the department was prepared to handle any more storms that might come along.

Coloring Winners

They Stayed In The Lines — Sallieann DePasquale (l) and Tricia Iannuzzi, were among the winners of the K-Mart Christmas coloring contest. The third winner, who could not attend the picture taking, was Michael Mayerczak. Presenting the gift certificates to the children is Shirley Carbone of K-Mart.

Municipal Employee Arrested For Assault

Belleville's construction code officer was arrested and charged with assaulting a citizen in a municipal office Tuesday morning, according to police.

Robert Domenick, 45, of Belleville, was charged with assaulting activist township resident Joseph Fornarotto, 60, in the Public Affairs building at 383 Washington Ave.

According to Deputy Chief Frank Haight, the incident occurred shortly after 8 a.m. Fornarotto was talking with the township's registrar, Ralph Risoli, in Risoli's office on the street level of the municipal building.

"Domenick entered. An argument ensued between the two men and Fornarotto was struck in the face," police said. The citizen was taken by Belleville ambulance to Clara Maass Medical Center where he was admitted as a patient.

Domenick was released on his own recognizance pending a Feb. 2 court appearance.

Attempts to reach hospital officials for comment on Fornarotto's condition were unsuccessful. However, speaking from his hospital room late Tuesday afternoon, the citizen said he suffered from "lacerations about my face."

According to Fornarotto, he visited the Public Affairs office seeking Commissioner Michael Pizzi, who was in his office but immediately unavailable. "I stopped off to see Ralph Risoli first," said Fornarotto.

Shortly after 8:30, Fornarotto said Domenick, whose office is on the second floor of the Public Affairs building, came downstairs and confronted him.

Fornarotto, a persistent town critic and past political candidate, repeated rumors that Domenick had

Dog Licenses Due This Month

Belleville police officer Vincent Cosenzo, who is in charge of dog license law enforcement, is making a last minute appeal to all local dog owners to obtain their required dog licenses before the Jan. 31 deadline.

Cosenzo is hopeful of avoiding the confusion caused by last year's state-ordered May dog census count, which provoked many inconveniences and fines for dog owners throughout the township.

Any dog seven months or older must have a license, which is available at the tax office located on the first floor of the Belleville Town Hall on Washington Avenue. The fee is $5.20 for each dog that has been spayed or neutered. If the dog has not been spayed, there is an additional fee of $3.

PHARMACY FOOTNOTES

Vincent Cozzarelli

Dietetics are often prescribed for patients without their being apprised of the potential dangers. The instant slimming power of dietetics, commonly prescribed to relieve menstrual bloating, is seductive. Unfortunately many women think that they are losing weight when in reality they are losing salt and water. Soon they turn to the pills whenever they want to shed a few pounds in a hurry. When taken chronically, dietetics can pose a real danger. The chronic user's potassium level can become abnormally low leading to erratic heart rhythms, which in turn can lead to sudden death. Diuretic abuse can also lead to metabolic disturbances and deterioration of kidney function.

Never take prescription medications unless they are prescribed by your doctor. We have a pharmacist available at all times at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1908, 759-1956. Gifts, greeting cards, cosmetics, toiletries and candy are handled for all your needs including Valentine's Day. Open: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays.

It Can Kill You

Several Tips of Warning To Prevent Hypothermia

Recent bouts of winter chill have heightened the danger of an often-overlooked health hazard. It can strike without warning, particularly affecting both infants and the elderly, and may go undetected. It was the cause of hundreds of deaths when the Titanic sank in 1912, and today it remains a threat that can be fatal if left untreated. In many cases, however, simple precautions can prevent it.

This condition, called hypothermia, involves a drop in the temperature of the body's core: the chest and abdomen. It occurs when heat is lost more rapidly than the body can produce it. Since the core of the body houses vital organs, loss of heat could be life-threatening.

How can you tell if your body temperature is dangerously low? "You should be aware of the body's warning signals," says James McEnrue, M.D., a physician in the Emergency Department at Saint Barnabas Medical Center. For example, when the normal body temperature of 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit falls to 95, a person begins to shiver. "Shivering is a reflex mechanism used by the body to counteract heat loss," says Dr.

McEnrue. "It is the body's attempt to generate more heat by increasing its rate of metabolism." Shivering is usually the first outward sign of the body's need for warm shelter.

Other important warning signals in heat loss are changes in a person's mental status or vital signs, which vary greatly as body temperature drops. "Between 90 and 95 degrees, a person will begin to lose coherence and will become confused and uncoordinated," explains Dr. McEnrue. Protection from the cold should be found quickly and carbohydrate foods should be eaten to help the body generate heat.

"Below 90 degrees, more serious disturbances occur," adds Dr. McEnrue. "Severe shivering is soon replaced by muscle rigidity, and breathing may become shallow and irregular. At this point the heart rate begins to turn sluggish." Though survival has been recorded in persons with body temperature as low as 68 degrees, temperatures in the 80s indicate an extremely dangerous condition. Below 86 degrees, pulse and respiration slow down, accompanied by rhythm disturbances in the heart. Below 82 degrees, a deep coma sets in and vital signs may be absent.

Although hypothermia is often considered a cold weather sports injury, it need not occur outdoors or in arctic temperatures. The three major causes of hypothermia are immersion in cold water, cold weather exposure and subacute cold stress. In the first instance, for example, an otherwise healthy individual may develop hypothermia in minutes by being thrown into 50-degree water on a mildly cool day. The second cause, cold weather exposure, develops more slowly and can be a threat to skiers, skaters, hikers and others involved in winter sports. If the condition deteriorates, collapse usually occurs one hour after the first signs of physical exhaustion and confusion.

The most insidious cause of hypothermia is subacute cold stress, since it may develop over a long period of time. This cause of hypothermia is of particular risk to the elderly and debilitated because their rate of metabolism is slower and so much body heat can be generated to prevent heat loss. An older, mentally impaired person is especially susceptible to subacute cold stress since he or she may not be aware of a broken furnace or inadequate home heating. If you suspect hypothermia in an elderly relative, a low-reading thermometer should be used to check body temperature. On some thermometers, the lowest reading is 96 degrees; if a person's temperature dropped dangerously below 96 degrees, the usual thermometer would not show it.

Others at risk of subacute cold stress are those who take medications which impair the body's ability to produce heat, as well as newborns who are subjected to very cold temperatures. Infants lose heat more rapidly than adults because they have a larger body surface in relation to overall body mass and they are unable to increase their rate of metabolism to the level than an adult can.

An understanding of how the body loses heat can help a person prevent the risk of hypothermia. Loss occurs through radiation, convection and conduction. Loss through radiation occurs because the body emits heat; up to 20 percent of body heat is lost through the head alone. Precautions such as warm clothing, a hat that covers the ears, two pairs of socks or stockings, warm gloves and a scarf over the mouth can help prevent heat loss.

Convection is the transfer of heat by movement; since heat will be lost more quickly from the body when the air around it is moving, greater speeds of wind will mean a faster loss of body heat. When the wind chill factor is high, wind-resistant clothes are essential. "Cold and windy conditions are two of the worst risk factors in hypothermia," says Dr. McEnrue. "If a person begins to feel confused, he or she should get out of the wind immediately."

Conduction, the third cause of heat loss, occurs when moisture from your skin evaporates and carries heat with it. Several layers should be worn so that clothing can be added or removed as necessary to prevent excessive perspiration. A cross-country skier wearing one tight-fitting layer of clothes will perspire and then become cold because heat has been lost with perspiration and there is no option to modify the clothing. Instead, a number of layers of clothing will allow removal of them when the body overheats. Wool clothes that retain heat-reflective properties when wet are recommended for winter sports. A micro-porous fabric called "Gortex," for example, is water-resistant but allows dissipation of a certain amount of perspiration and maintains a shell against the wind. It is currently incorporated into many types of outdoor garments.

At the first signs of hypothermia, a person should act immediately to prevent further heat loss. "Rewarming" is the form of treatment used to reverse the imbalance in the body's metabolism. If symptoms of hypothermia develop while camping, wet clothes should be removed and the person should be wrapped in blankets or in a dry sleeping bag. (Please see "Some" on page 9.)

Water, Water, Water

Belleville township officials have done their part in attempting to obtain an ownership interest in a water supply by adopting an ordinance to participate in the new Wanauque South Water Project. This action will save Belleville residents a substantial amount of money in water costs.

The next step in the process for Belleville is for the community to make an application to the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection for permission to participate in the water project. New Jersey Senate President Carmen Orechio, who represents Belleville, has already opened informal conferences with the Department of Environmental Protection with a view toward expediting favorable approval when Belleville's case is heard. Five years into the future, Belleville residents should be saving at least 50 percent on their water costs. Moreover, Belleville will own its own water supply — a major accomplishment for any community.

We congratulate the township commissioners for their vision in taking action today to serve the needs of the next generation. Forty years into the future when the water project bonds are redeemed, the cost of water to that generation of Belleville residents will fall by two-thirds.

Our township commissioners have acted in the best interests of the next generation instead of thinking of the next election. Good for them — and good for the Township of Belleville.

First De Witt

The First De Witt Savings and Loan Association recently applied to the Zoning Board for permission to expand its premises at 463 Washington Ave.

President Henrik Tvedt has explained that the financial institution wants to establish its main headquarters at the Washington Avenue location, moving facilities from Bloomfield to the proposed new addition.

Mr. Tvedt, in testimony offered to the board, said, "We need a headquarters, if we don't get it in Belleville, we'll have to seek one elsewhere." Heaven forbid.

The $236 million savings and loan is an important asset to Belleville and especially Washington Avenue. The organization carries 1,000 loans worth $22 million in Belleville. This is expected to increase.

All Belleville officials at every level have often addressed themselves to the need to rebuild the Washington Avenue business district. When a $236 million institution is willing to put its money where its mouth is, there should be no hesitation on the part of Belleville public officials to greet Mr. Tvedt and his associates with open arms.

Mr. & Mrs. Joe DeBenedetto

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeBenedetto of Belleville celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. Sixty years of anything is a long time — but 60 years of a happy marriage is a cause for celebration. The children of Mr. and Mrs. DeBenedetto hosted a party recently to mark the occasion.

We join with their seven children and 11 grandchildren in congratulating Mr. and Mrs. DeBenedetto upon their 60th wedding anniversary and trust that God may keep them in good health to continue enjoying their future wedding anniversaries.

Prayer For Today

We come before Thee, O Lord, in the end of Thy day with thanksgiving.

Our beloved in the far parts of earth, those who are now beginning the labors of the day what time we end them, and those with whom the sun now stands at the point of noon, bless, help, console, and prosper them.

Our guard is relieved, the service of the day is over, and the hour come to rest. We resign into Thy hands our sleeping bodies, our cold hearths and open doors. Give us to awaken with smiles, give us to labor smiling. As the sun returns in the east, so let our patience be renewed with dawn; as the sun lightens the world, so let our loving kindness make bright this house of our habitation.

Butchers' Requests Are Unreasonable

To the editor:

The butcher workers in the ShopRite, Grand Union, Pathmark and Foodtown should all be ashamed of themselves. When I read in the papers (Star-Ledger) what they receive in wages and benefits, I just about fell out.

How dare they strike for more money. What will happen to food prices if they get what they want. Skyrocket, of course. Sure, it won't hurt them, their wives could easily absorb the price increase and even with a smile.

We senior citizens of low income certainly would be hit hardest where it hurts the most, not mentioning the increase in everything else we need. And on top of that, the rest of the workers for these supermarkets will not cross the picket lines and the trucks will be ordered not to cross the pickets also. Sounds great for the citizens doesn't it?

The companies are offering 3 percent which will give them a raise in pay alone of $971.64. Wow! What do they think they deserve? Wake up butchers and take it while you still have jobs.

Yours,
Lenny Vespucci, Sr.

Baby Contest A Big Success

An open letter to the Belleville Times:

My sincere thanks and deepest appreciation for your kind support to our annual "New Year Baby."

It is very gratifying to undertake a project as I have for 18 years and find the support that I do in people like yourselves. The pleasure and delight that these gifts bring to our new arrival, is worth all the effort.

Thanks again for supporting this Chamber project, and for making my job that much easier.

Sincerely,
Shirlee Sherman

Prison Inmate Seeking People to Write Letters

To the editor:

I am writing this letter asking to please print an ad for me. My name is Andy Neely 27544. I am an inmate at Westville Correctional Center. I am serving a six-year sentence and I only make $6 a month, and I have no family or no one to keep me in contact with the outside world. I'll tell you a little something about myself. I am a white male, 21 years old. I am 5'11" and weigh 175. I have green eyes and brown hair. I am not married.

Any letters that I will receive will be answered with the greatest of respect and all letters will be answered. I am very lonely and need someone to write to. Please help me if it is at all possible.

Sincerely yours,
Andy Neely

The program will be a 1983 review of the Friendly Visitors activities. There will also be a special slide presentation by Bill Crawford, a Nutley volunteer of the Friendly Visitors for six years, who will discuss his recent trip to Alaska and British Columbia.

The Friendly Visitors Program is a telephone reassurance and visitation program for the frail elderly of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley. For more information, call Marty Angelone, 450-3136.

Golden Comments

By James Golden

Back last fall we commented about an altercation at a meeting of the Belleville Italian-American Post stemming from an argument about claims of politics being injected into the club's activities. A matter the organization's officers and trustees are very sensitive about since its by-laws ban politics, and it is a social body dedicated to granting educational scholarships, community betterment and promotion of fraternal welfare and fellowship. Fortunately the issue which precipitated the contention engendering the incident which occurred was amicably and cleverly resolved by the unexpected withdrawal of a nominated candidate who deferred to the candidacy and election of long-esteemed member Chris Albanese as president by a 51-17 vote, with the trustees also winning by a 47-17 count.

Chris Albanese is a much respected a talented man whose leadership qualities are recognized and assures stability and harmony within the organization during his reign. He will wield the gavel with dignity, fairness and authority.

He has indicated that he frowns upon apathetic members who seldom attend meetings, but who only occasionally show up in closely knit blocs to thwart programs and policies they disapprove of. He alludes to the group of 17 dissenters whom he labels "the gang of 17" whom he hopes to cultivate and enlist in a salubrious cooperative movement that will prevent factional antagonisms which demean the good name of the Belleville Italian-American Club and cast distorted impressions which overlooks the good work accomplished by this organization.

We compliment Mr. Albanese upon his election and wish him well in healing any wounds that may remain from past untoward incidents in his group. Likewise, we must laud the gracious gentleman who, with subtlety and acumen, unexpectedly withdrew as a candidate which surprised and deflated the well laid plans of a few...the best laid plans of mice and men, of times gang go awry after them.

With all good wishes for a bright and successful administration extended to President Albanese and his trustees, we look forward for a serene and harmonious future for the Belleville Italian-American Club.

From the Wall Street Journal's front page "What's News — The White House said it will oppose a Senate bill to delay certain FCC-ordered telephone-user charges. It earlier came out against a House measure that would ban the charges, which might push local rates up."

The chargers, supported by Reagan-appointed FCC Chairman Mark Fowler, eventually could double or even triple under the FCC order. House Democrats led a successful campaign to kill the order through legislation.

Under the FCC order, local phone rates would rise by $2 a month for residential users, and by as much as $8 by 1990. In addition, certain intrastate access charges may be tacked on at the state level. The charges currently are slated to take effect this April 3rd.

Consumer groups are vigorously fighting to defeat the charges that President Reagan wants. Congress is pushing to delay or bar by legislation a pro-consumer measure to keep phone rates down. Mr. Reagan's support of this vicious, needless access charge will surely hurt him in his election efforts to return to office...he should be beaten if he persists in forcing this charge upon local phone users. Does he have money invested in AT&T? Even the phone company lobbyists want the access charge postponed.

Write to Senator Robert Packwood (R., Oregon), chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, Washington, D.C., 20510 and Senator Frank R. Lautenberg (D., N.J.) who also is on the Senate Commerce Committee telling them we don't want this ridiculous "rip-off" access charge. Who ever heard of being asked to pay for a service that may never be used? If someone calls long distance charge them for that, but don't "soak" the residential phone user who doesn't use long distant calls to subsidize the AT&T. Why must the little guy always be President Reagan's "fall guy"?

Congress should resolve this controversial ill-advised "access charge" issue and should not be fettered and shackled by the capricious whims of an obstinate President bent upon imposing his will upon the public who doesn't want this obnoxious, needless and uncalled for charge on our phone bills. FCC Chairman Mark Fowler and his Commission must be stripped of its authority to impose these access charges by Congressional legislation and if President Reagan vetoes any such legislation his veto should be overridden by 2/3 votes of both Houses of the Congress and Mr. Reagan should be defeated at the polls if he runs for re-election.

Some Wise Words About Hypothermia

Another person may climb into the sleeping bag to passively transfer body heat. Heated liquids such as soup should be given. A person's vital signs should also be closely watched. If the body is cold to touch, and if pulse is low and breathing abnormal, emergency medical help should be summoned immediately.

In the Emergency Department at Saint Barnabas Medical Center, the use of heated blankets is usually enough to rewarm victim of hypothermia, according to Dr. McEnroe. Patients with severe hypothermia who have stable vital signs may be treated with a combination of heated blankets, heated humidified oxygen and intravenous therapy. "However, if a patient's vital signs are unstable and rhythm disturbances are evident, a much more aggressive and newer technique of rewarming called gastric lavage will be given," says Dr. McEnroe. In this form of treatment, a heated saline solution is infused directly into the body's core through the stomach. In severe cases, continuous lavage of the body's peritoneal cavity becomes necessary.

When you venture outdoors, you should keep in mind that certain conditions accelerate hypothermia. Contrary to the popular image of the brandy-carrying St. Bernard, alcohol does not warm the body. "Rather than constricting blood vessels to prevent heat loss, alcohol aggravates the problem by dilating vessels at the surface of the skin," says Dr. McEnroe. "It quickens the loss of body heat and also dulls the senses."

Other conditions which speed the incidence of hypothermia are lack of food, fatigue, wind, wetness and injury.

A number of common sense measures can lessen the threat of hypothermia. "First, do not sit still in the cold for long periods. If you keep moving, this will help maintain your level of body metabolism," says Dr. McEnroe. "Also, if you are planning a trip outdoors, pack extra snacks and small meals that can be rapidly digested and used as fuel to heat the body." Dr. McEnroe also advises that a person not camp or hike for prolonged periods in the winter. "On any outdoor trip," he adds, "remember to bring along extra blankets, appropriate clothing and enough supplies to create a shelter against the cold."

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,

Mu husband is a handsome 33 year old man who is bald. I finally convinced him to buy a toupee which he puts on with adhesive and blends in his own hair. The toupee got dirty. He took it off and I shampooed it like normal hair. I tangled so badly that no chemicals could remove the tangles. He had to buy a new toupee. This too is human hair but doesn't match his hair color. We would like to color it. Should we do it or is there another way?

The Toupee Lady

Dear Lady,

I do not suggest coloring it by yourself even if the colors are easy to apply. You probably don't know that wigs and wigs are chemically treated and store-bought colors may react differently.

Try a temporary rinse that matches your husband's hair. To make the color lighter, add more water, for darker, go to the next shade.

If you want a permanent dye, take it to a colorist.

As usual we are at your service. If you like, bring it in and I will examine it free of charge and recommend a solution.

Belleville Women's Club Enjoys Holiday Celebration, Aids Others

The Women's Club of Belleville held a holiday celebration at its Dec. 12 meeting at the clubhouse, 51 Rossmore Place. Mrs. Virginia Streeter presided over a musical program of Christmas songs directed by Miss Edith Richards, chairman of the music department. Biblical readings were directed by Mrs. Lorena Clark, chairman of the drama department. Hostesses, Miss Daisy MacMillan, Mrs. Lillian Winfield and Mrs. Eleanor Kelemen, served home made cakes and cookies.

The literature department celebrated Christmas with a party at the home of Mrs. Clark Dec. 14. Hostesses were Mrs. Lillian Ferrara and Miss Ruth Hogan. Entertainment was given by the members who had each prepared a reading or story on Christmas. Sixteen members attended.

The American home and social service departments spent November baking cookies and making wool hats, mittens and scarfs. They filled 128 tins of cookies, delivering 116 of them to the Geriatric Hospital and 12 to the Belleville Rest Home. Two large packages of clothing, toys and hand knit hats, mittens and scarfs were mailed to the Skillman Home for Boys. The members also collected several hundred Campbell soup labels which were sent in the package.

Dr. Patricia Murray Returns From Clinical Nursing Congress

Dr. Patricia Murray, Ph.D., R.N., consultant to the Oncology Program and "Make Today Count" support group at Clara Maass Medical Center, recently attended the second European Congress on Clinical Nursing held in Amsterdam, the Netherlands. She was invited to present her paper entitled, "Imagery and Relaxation: Supportive Therapy in Life-Threatening Illness."

The paper discusses the use of relaxation techniques and patients' visual images of themselves and their illness as a supportive counseling measure. These techniques help patients and their families cope with the powerful mental, psychological and spiritual experience of living with a life-threatening or terminal illness.

Dr. Murray, who has been with Clara Maass Medical Center since 1978, is also a consultant for The Hospice Inc., Montclair. She lectures and presents seminars to nurses and other health care professionals on how to deal with life-threatening illness, has made video tapes and film strips for use in educational programs and is a contributing author for many professional journals and books.

A National Certified Counselor, Dr. Murray is a member of the Council of Advanced Practitioners in Psychiatric and Mental Health Nursing and a member of the National Honor Society of Nursing — Sigma Theta Tau.

Further information about "Make Today Count" can be obtained by calling Dr. Murray at 450-2230.

Mr. and Mrs. John Melilli — nee Wendi Knowles

Melilli-Knowles Nuptials Performed in St. Paul's

Wendi Knowles, daughter of Mrs. Frank Gurrieri of Belleville and Samuel Knowles of Nutley, and John Melilli Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Melilli of Nutley, exchanged wedding vows Oct. 23.

The Rev. Robert Cassels performed the ceremony in St. Paul's Congregational Church, Nutley. Mrs. Valeria Peed, minister of music at St. Paul's, and David Baldwin were organist and vocalist. A reception followed at The Chandelier, Belleville.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. Wilma Lee Cunningham was matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Linda Santore of Brooklyn, N.Y. and Miss Jean Alliger, Miss Kimberly Knowles and Miss Tracey Knowles, all of Belleville.

The honor attendant wore violet and the others were in orchid gowns.

Edward Giallulanna of West Paterson served as best man. Ushers were Peter Bartholomew and Brian McKenna of Nutley and Gerald Toppeta Jr. of Belleville.

Mrs. Melilli, an alumna of Belleville High School, is with Givaudan Corp., Clifton.

Mr. Melilli, a graduate of Fairleigh Dickinson University, Rutherford, is with Mutual Benefit Life, Newark.

The couple honeymooned in San Francisco, Calif. and Hawaii and have made their home in Belleville.

All are invited to attend St. Theresa's Mission Outreach candlelight bowling Feb. 4, 9:15 p.m. at Wallington Lanes, Wallington.

Admission is $22 per couple which includes three games, beer and soda while bowling and a buffet following. Trophies will be awarded.

Pre-paid reservations must be made by Jan. 30 by calling Ann at 661-1327 or 667-6679.

Belleville's Past

Public resentment against "the advent of the coolies" eventually crystallized itself in an indignation meeting held on October 2, 1870, in front of the Mansion House hostelry. It was attended by "some two-hundred persons, including a half-dozen reporters and four carriage loads of mechanics from Paterson." Robert S. Osborne was chairman, and as main speaker functioned Dr. M.H.C. Vail of Newark.

But by this time the tenor of the local press had changed, partly, no doubt, due to the fact that Dr. Vail, who later became county superintendent of schools, was then the editor of one of the Sentinel's competitors, the Newark Item. The Sentinel did not hesitate to charge that Dr. Vail "seemed bent on stirring up bad blood against the newcomers, and none who heard his speech could have held him guiltless, had riot and bloodshed followed."

Dr. Vail, who, in his own words, had "come out tonight to extend my sympathy to the workmen, and in every respect to protect them from idolatrous cheap labor" painted the yellow peril in dire terms indeed. He described it as "a little cloud, no bigger than a man's hand, that appeared several years ago in the West, and that has now spread all over the horizon. If not checked it will break yet upon us like a thunderstorm on a clear day."

Beside the sinophobic Item editor, the stump was taken by Colonel Rafferty, who "was present to bag whatever political capital may accrue therefrom," and Michael P. Kenney. This latter outstanding political figure of the day laid the entire blame for the "solemn affair" at the door of the "Radicals," as which he referred to the Republican party throughout. "While the Radical party struck off with the sword the mild shackles that bound the Southern slaves, they inflict upon us a slavery infinitely worse," he declared. He agreed with Dr. Vail that no one should vote for any one "who favors coolie labor, or has anything to do with the Chinese," and promised that "Democracy will, if necessary, put a total stop to this business by preventing men from importing them."

Hervey's Chinamen, who found themselves thus suddenly elevated to the statue of a political campaign issue, gained another stout defender in the Journal of Commerce. Though itself suspected of "Democratic proclivities," the paper summed up the proceedings of the Belleville indignation meeting.

"adopt" a local senior for the occasion.

Honoring the municipal forces that serve the community, St. Peter's holds Benefactors' Day on February 2. The Board of Education, Board of Commissioners, police, firefighters, and several local volunteer organizations are invited.

Another new entry this year is Civic Day. On Friday, eighth graders will have the opportunity to work for a day in municipal offices on health care, crime prevention, ambulance service and more.

A closing liturgy will be held on Saturday at 7 p.m.

For more information and times of events call St. Peter's 759-7239. St. Mary's begins its week with a Sunday liturgy at 10:30 a.m. followed by an Open House.

A talent show is slated for Monday afternoon and a Teacher-Staff Appreciation Day is scheduled for Tuesday.

Grandparents Day (K-3) will be on Wednesday and Thursday's events include Student Appreciation Day with a crazy hat contest and a prayer for peace service.

Volunteer Appreciation Day will be observed Friday with a liturgy and reception beginning at 1:15 p.m. Holy Family opens its week with a Sunday liturgy on Vocation Awareness and choral singing.

Monday is Peace Day and Tuesday features a Hat and Ties Contest and parade. Student Appreciation Day is slated for Wednesday and a Gym Show and Home and School night on Thursday.

Friday is Teacher Appreciation Day followed by Saturday's Buddy Walk for the primary grades and Baby Picture display of faculty members.

For more information contact the principals: Sr. Marie Charitina at St. Mary's, 667-0801; and Sr. Marie Gagliano at Holy Family, 667-2049.

Junior Woman's Club Looking For Members

The Junior Woman's Club of Belleville is emphasizing the month of January as recruiting new members for its non-profit service organization. Prospective members can be women between the ages of 18 and 35. Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend the business meeting on Feb. 13, at 8 p.m. at the Woman's Clubhouse at 51 Rossmore Place.

Belleville Juniors are young women who donate many active hours to many worthwhile projects. Club members work with the public schools, library, Geriatric Center, Cerebral Palsy Center, Clara Maass Medical Center, March of Dimes and many other organizations. Each member gives as much or as little as her own schedule permits. The Belleville Juniors have initiated many town-wide events such as the Halloween parade, pictures with the bunnies, luncheon with Santa, high school scholarships, poetry contests, puppet shows and dinner-fashion shows.

Many activities are organized for the member and her family. Pot luck suppers, husband and wife picnics, children's holiday parties, ice skating and Broadway shows plus informative programs are scheduled for today's contemporary working mother.

If you are interested in finding out more about being a Belleville Junior, call our membership chairman at 751-4975. The Belleville Juniors are affiliated with New Jersey State Federation of Woman's Clubs.

Nutley Irish-Americans Kicking Off Festivities

The Nutley Irish-American Association kicks off its St. Patrick's Week celebration by presenting Pat Roper, a world renown entertainer, on Friday, March 2 at 8 p.m. at the Nutley Elks Lodge.

Tickets for this event are $20 each and can be ordered by calling 235-1464 or 661-0717. Tickets are also available at Nutley Savings and Loan Association, 371 Franklin Ave. Joe McGuinness, past president of the Nutley Irish-American Association and chairman of the March 2 party, said the proceeds of the Pat Roper concert will go to defray the costs of staging the sixth annual St. Patrick's Day Parade in Nutley set for March 10.

"It takes a considerable amount of money to put Nutley's St. Patrick's Parade on the street. We are hoping for a big turnout on March 2 so we can present a big, beautiful and successful parade, as we have done in the past," McGuinness said.

Vinnie Dunn, president of the Nutley Irish-American Association said the March 2 performance will begin a week of Irish celebration culminated by the St. Patrick's Day Parade on March 10.

"Our association has always been very proud and honored to put forth a St. Patrick's Day Parade for all the people of Nutley and the surrounding communities," Dunn said. "This year we anticipate the same wholehearted support the people, the business community, town and civic leaders have given us during the past five years."

Religious Viewpoint

Misdirected

By Rev. Robert Paul

A terrible blizzard was raging over the eastern part of the states, making more and more difficult the progress of a train that was slowly forcing its way along.

Among the passengers was a woman with a small child who was much concerned lest she should not get off at the right station. A gentleman, seeing her anxiety, said:

"Do not worry, I know the road well, and I will tell you when you come to your station."

In due course, the train stopped at the station before the one at which the woman wanted to get off.

"The next station will be yours, ma'am," said the gentleman.

Then they went on, and in a few minutes the train stopped again.

"Now is your time, ma'am, get out quickly," he said.

The woman took up her child and, thanking the gentleman for his kindly interest, left the train.

At the next stop, to his surprise and alarm, the brakeman called out the name of the station where the woman had wished to get off.

"You have already stopped at this station," called the gentleman to the official.

"No sir," he replied, "something was wrong with the engine, and we stopped for a few moments to repair it."

"Alas!" cried the passenger, "I have put that woman off in the storm when the train stopped between stations!"

Afterwards they found her with her child in her arms. Both were frozen to death. It was the terrible and tragic consequence of wrong directions being given. Misdirected.

Still more terrible are the results of misdirecting the souls of men and women, boys and girls. Yet it must be evident to all that amid the babel of contradictory voices which are heard today, many of the directions must be false and misleading, even when given by well-meaning men and women.

The Bible does not tell us to live by the golden rule, or try to be good. It does say, "You must be born again." (St. John 3:7.) Believe God's word: "Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." (St. John 14:6.)

Retired Persons Meeting Feb. 2

The Belleville Chapter 2051 American Association of Retired Persons will meet on Thursday, Feb. 2, 1 p.m. at the Fewsmith Presbyterian Church, located at 444 Union Ave.

A representative of Public Service Electric and Gas Company will present a slide show. The topic will be "In the General's Footsteps," a historical journey with General George Washington.

The annual dues of $3 per member will be collected at the meeting. The hostesses will be Dorothy Barbig and Ann Robinson. The next official board meeting will be Feb. 10.

Daughters of the American Revolution Observing the Signing of Treaty of Paris

The Daughters of the American Revolution, in sponsoring February as "American History Month," are proud and grateful for the men who wintered at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania with George Washington. Although there were no battles at Valley Forge, these Continental Soldiers fought to survive through the winter and spring months from Dec. 19, 1777 to June 19, 1778 when they marched out of Pennsylvania to Monmouth, New Jersey to fight the Battle of Monmouth.

General Baron von Steuben, from Germany, trained the men at Valley Forge, Pa., to become soldiers. When the troops left Valley Forge, they were equipped to fight the British as they had never been trained before. The Daughters of the American Revolution encourage Americans to study and learn more about von Steuben who trained men to behave like professional soldiers.

Have you ever heard of the Jefferson's Manual? It was a compilation of rules of parliamentary procedure by Thomas Jefferson for his own use presiding over the Senate as vice president 1797-1801. These rules were later adopted as basic rules by both houses of Congress. The Daughters of the American Revolution encourage you to study the U.S. Constitution, the rules under which our nation is run.

The Yantacaw Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was organized Jan. 25, 1960. Mrs. Britton R. Hallowell was the organizing regent. At each meeting the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and the American's Creed are repeated by the members.

Each year there is a national observance which is honored by the Yantacaw Chapter. This year has been the Treaty of Paris.

Sept. 3, 1983 marked the 200th anniversary of the signing of the treaty between the United States and Great Britain. It was the official end of the American Revolution and the United States secured the independence so bravely declared in 1776.

Three of Yantacaw Chapter members attended the New Jersey State DAR celebration of the Treaty of Paris at Nassau Inn, Princeton, in November 1983.

Phil Out For Season, Jenny May Be Back

Apicella and Colalillo are Hit with Serious Injuries

By Michael Lamberti

At the end of their junior seasons, the talk of greatness surrounded Jennifer Apicella and Phil Colalillo. Apicella was on her way to the state scoring championship and Colalillo was going to be the all-time leading scorer in boys' basketball history at BHS.

Never, in the history of Belleville High, were there two fine basketball players of the calibre that Apicella and Colalillo possess. Their future was limitless, their senior season was destined to be one of greatness.

A tragic thing happened on their way to success. After working hard the entire summer in preparation for the senior year, both athletes have gone down to injuries they could not prevent. The players were in shape, they were having great seasons, when suddenly that intangible fate stepped in and reared its ugly head.

For Colalillo, his ailment is something that cannot be blamed on anyone. Shortly before the Bucs' contest with Bergen Catholic two weeks ago, Colalillo went down with a ruptured appendicitis. The immediate concern was for the senior's health. A ruptured appendix can be dangerous. Quick action by the doctors and excellent medical attention have kept Colalillo in good shape. His season, for all intents and purposes, is over. Most importantly, Colalillo will be okay, his health, the number one priority, is in good shape and Phil will be able to play basketball on the collegiate level. He is good enough to play college ball and chances are, he will.

Colalillo's absence leaves a big gap on the Buc basketball team. Phil was averaging 24 points a game, had broken the 1,000 point mark in his junior year and was rapidly closing in on Abdel Anderson's all-time Belleville High scoring record. He was so tough under the boards and possessed a fine outside shooting touch. The 6'3", 215-pound forward is not easy to replace. Head coach Joe Papasidero and crew are playing hard without Colalillo, but his absence is notable and will hinder the team.

For Apicella, well, everyone knows of her mishap. Versus Paterson Eastside, Apicella had broken the 2,500 point mark and was zeroing in on the state scoring record of 2,745 points. Calculations said that Apicella would probably attain the record by early February and had a shot at 3,000 points before her illustrious career came to an end.

Unlike Colalillo, Apicella went down with an injury that should have never happened. Apicella, playing hard as always, stole a pass, drove the length of the court for a coast to coast layup, but never found the points. Instead, she was pushed from behind, in mid air, by an overzealous Eastside opponent, a player who was frustrated by the big score Belleville was winning by and decided to try and stop the onslaught by herself. Apicella hit the wall of the Belleville gymnasium, suffered a broken wrist and will be lost indefinitely.

Injuries Playing Major Role in Bucs Failure to Come Away as Winners

It hasn't been the easiest of times for head coach Joe Papasidero. All summer long, the coach waited in anticipation of this season, knowing he had a veteran team with experience, a club that could post its first winning season since 1975.

Suddenly, the roof caved in. After a good start, Papasidero lost his catalyst, Phil Colalillo to a ruptured appendix, an ailment that will keep Colalillo off the floor the remainder of the 1983-84 campaign. Injuries have also beset the team, but through it all, the coach is keeping his sense of humor. He had to, considering the way his team lost to Teaneck last Friday night.

The Bucs, 5-7, battled Ridgewood at Belleville on Tuesday and will be in St. Joseph's of Montvale tomorrow evening for a 7:30 p.m. start. Next Tuesday, the Bucs host Passaic at 4 p.m.

In addition to the loss at Teaneck last week, the Bucs did win a game, defeating St. Aloysius of Jersey City, 59-56. While the Bucs are 5-7 for the season, that winning campaign is not out of reach, but might be if the team cannot pick up a win or two this week.

The Teaneck game was one of the contests that you would sooner forget about. "They had us beat after the first quarter," said Papasidero. "Don't even ask me who their high scorer was, everyone on that team scored, even the manager."

The coach was quick to point out that it was only a seven point game in the second half. Unfortunately, it was a 36 point difference at halftime and Belleville was never in the contest.

Teaneck jumped out to a 27-2 first quarter lead. "I called two or three timeouts in the first quarter, nothing worked," recalled Papasidero. The lead increased to 46-10 at the half, 64-21 after three quarters and the final count of 74-31. Actually, the Bucs managed to break even with Teaneck, 10-10 in the final frame.

Papasidero tried to keep a lighter side after the Teaneck defeat. Comments like, "It was a seven point game in the second half," are just some of the reasons why the coach keeps things in perspective. "You can't get upset about that type of game. We were prepared, we were just outmatched. Teaneck was big, quick, strong, they had a 6-9 center, they were loaded."

Enough said on that game, the Bucs did play a tough game with St. Al's, winning by three points, 59-56. Danny Ward, who was limited to seven points in the Teaneck debacle, had 21 points and Bill Nankervis, Flying Through The Air — Brian Cook goes for two points in a recent Bucs game. The hoopsters are now at 5-7. Looking on is Danny Ward.

Pro Wrestling Show Coming Here Feb. 4

A host of the best television professional wrestlers will invade Belleville, Saturday, Feb. 4 at 8 p.m. to headline a show in the Senior High School gymnasium.

The six-match show will include the popular Ivan "Polish Power" Putski versus the powerful-house Sergeant Slaughter. Also highlighting the evening of a competition will be the magnificent Don Muraco swapping tackles, holds and grunts with the Italian sensation Salvatore Bellomo.

Other bouts will include some of the best matmen in the sport as Tito Santana vs. Tiger Chung Lee, Eddie Gilbert vs. Charlie Fulton, S.D. Jones vs. Israel Matlock, and Brian Blair vs. Tony Colon.

This outstanding wrestling competition is sanctioned by the World Wrestling Federation (WWF) for the charity fund of the Michael V. Marotti Civic and Welfare Association. Winnie Cosenzo, chairman of the sports committee of the association, is coordinator for the show.

Further information is available by calling: 751-3994, 751-7069, 759-4722, 759-1956, 759-1069, 759-9850, 759-9803, 759-0012, 429-8393, 751-6300, 751-5089, 751-2973, 759-2324, 284-0345 and 429-8540.

Former Coach Rich Ruffalo Competing for the Gold

Nine years ago, 10 members of the Belleville cross country squad stood one summer's morning at the high school, waiting its turn for the annual physicals that were required before a runner could compete for his respective team, whether it be football, cross country or soccer. It seems like only yesterday, that warm morning in late August 1974.

The runners were waiting outside the school, waiting to see who this new coach would be, since Ray Haneke, the man who had run the program for many years, had stepped down. What they saw was a 22-year-old coach with a beard, glasses and a look of determination that said "this program will be a winner." The man's name was Rich Ruffalo and I should know about him, he was my coach for his first two years of coaching.

As Ruffalo got to know his athletes and as his athletes got to know him, a mutual respect quickly developed. Ruffalo was a fun loving guy, but a hard worker. He enjoyed hard work, expected his athletes to perform to their best and was often disappointed when an athlete fell below his potential.

As the years went on, Ruffalo's determination never faded, but something more valuable to him did, his eyesight. It was no secret around the high school that coach Ruffalo was having a hard time seeing, and Ruffalo, always a man in the nth degree, never denied it.

He will admit that the last few years began to get discouraging. "I felt like I was stifled," said the coach, "I couldn't see well and I felt like I couldn't do much. It was an empty feeling."

Ruffalo was an excellent athlete during his school days. He attended Bloomfield High School and was later graduated from Montclair State College with a bachelor's degree in science. He came to Belleville High School as a biology teacher and track and cross country coach. During his high school and college days, Ruffalo was an excellent javelin and discus thrower. His expertise is one of the reasons why the Belleville weight team is so effective during the track season. An avid weight lifter, Ruffalo has spent hours in the weight room, improving his conditioning. He can bench press well over 400 pounds and still throws the javelin with authority.

Recently, Ruffalo became involved in the ABANJ, the Association of Blind Athletes of New Jersey. He made the national team of the ABANJ, competing in the javelin and discus and will represent the state of New Jersey from June 3-9 in St. Louis, Missouri. Ruffalo is confident of success at St. Louis, hoping to bring home a gold medal.

However, Ruffalo's biggest achievement in the ABANJ came two weeks ago when he received a message from Dave Atkinson, who happens to be the track coach from the University of Tennessee. Ruffalo was selected to the international team that will represent the United States of America in New York and Long Island from June 17 through July 8. "I'm going there to win a gold medal," said Ruffalo. "Anything less and I'm not coming home. There will be athletes from all over the world there, the competition should be great."

Ruffalo will compete in the open class, competing with the younger athletes. He holds the national record in the master's division, but Ruffalo feels the master's division will not offer the competition he desires. "There will be no any real good competition there," Ruffalo said frankly. "Most of the good competition will come from the younger athletes in the open class."

Ruffalo, 31, is considered one of the older members of the squad and Atkinson feels that Ruffalo will answer a big void.

BUC SHOTS

By Michael Lamberti

Sports Editor

"He (Atkinson) told me I should be a big help to the younger men, helping them with technique and giving them confidence."

Ruffalo seems a good bet to take home a gold medal in his specialty, the javelin. He thinks he has an excellent shot at a medal in the discus but sees his chances in the shot put as questionable. "There are some excellent shot putters throughout the country, and throughout the world. I haven't thrown the shot competitively as much as the jav, but I'll be in there throwing my best."

There will also be power lifting in the Nationals in St. Louis and Ruffalo hopes to take part in that as well. Ruffalo is an excellent weight lifter and has credits that success to his very good friend, Phil Grippaldi. "Phil has been a great help to me. I don't think I would be as good as I am had it not been for Phil. He has given me rides to the gym, worked with me, spent a great deal of time in preparation. I can't thank him enough."

Grippaldi, of course, is an excellent teacher. The Belleville competed in the Olympic games in the weight lifting category and is still an avid lifter. The competition is divided into three classes, Class A—totally blind, Class B—low vision and Class C—legally blind. Ruffalo is classified in Class B.

Ruffalo is also gunning toward a world record in the javelin, a record currently held by a man from Finland. "His mark is 196 feet, 2 inches," explained Ruffalo. "My best official throw was 209 feet and I had a few that went 222 feet but were ruled a foul. I'm really psyched to break that record."

The coach has been training hard at the Essex Racquetball Club in West Orange. He has also been training with Mike Polard and Ross Sherman at the Belleville High School weight room in the stadium and also at his condominium in Belleville. "This is a new lease on life for me," the coach continued. "It's a real shot in the arm, it gives me something to shoot for. I'm really optimistic about this."

Ruffalo has a number of people to thank for his success. "First off, I have to thank the Belleville Board of Education and Joseph Ciccone (principal of BHS) for all their support. They have really stood by me. Also, Ross Sherman and John Controtto, along with Phil Grippaldi."

The coach also has his brother, Joe, and David De Notaris, a freshman from Belleville High School in competition. "If anyone would be interested in sponsoring an athlete, they should get in touch with me at the high school or write directly to the ABANJ, 94 Pine St., Montclair, N.J. It would really be appreciated."

Sometimes a handicapped athlete takes second best, but when people like Rich Ruffalo put their heart and determination behind a project and aim for the best, well the best is the only thing that can come out of it. Here's hoping that Coach Ruffalo brings home all the gold. He's worked long and hard for the improvement of Belleville athletes, and despite his handicap, he continues to be an inspiration to many people.

The Belleville High School athlete of the week goes to Jennifer Apicella for being Jennifer Apicella and making the entire township of Belleville proud to know her. She's a spirited competitor, a fine person and someone who will always fight back.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, name the results of the Raiders' previous Super Bowl appearances, the team quarterback and team coach. The answer: The Raiders won Super Bowl XV, 27-10 with Jim Plunkett and Tom Flores. They captured SB XI, 32-14 over Minnesota. Ken Stabler and John Madden are the quarterback and coach. The Raiders also competed in Super Bowl II, bowing to Green Bay, 33-14 with Lamontia the quarterback and John Rauch the coach.

For this week's quiz, the AFC has a 12-6 edge in Super Bowl games, including the 38-9 Raider rout of the Skins last Sunday. Name the 12 victories by the AFC and the Most Valuable Players in those 12 wins.

Heard At Ringside

By Steve H. Frank

New Jersey State middleweight champion and the most popular fighter to pull on a glove in Jersey in many years, Bobby Czyz of Wanakee, N.J., hasn't been in any action since his defeat by Mustafa Hamsho of Bayonne early in 1983. According to the boys along Busted-Beak Alley, Bobby is having weight problems. In his last fight at the Playbox in Atlantic City, Oct. 25, 1983, he appeared heavier than the 163½ pounds as announced. In that bout he scored a TKO over Bill Medei of Miami Shores, Fla., who weighed 157. In what direction he'll go is known only by him, his manager Lou Duva and trainer Tommy Parks and they're not saying.

Bill Kozerski of Gold Circle Productions, Inc., which is promoting the Tommy Hearn defense of his WBC welterweight title against challenger Luigi Manchillo, acknowledged two changes in the bout. The bout will be held in Detroit, Hearn's hometown, not Las Vegas or Italy as previously announced. The date has been switched from Jan. 27 to Feb. 11. Manchillo is from Italy.

Latest word out of Scranton, Pa., tells a sad tale to many of the best "club fighters" in the East and has there are no plans to promote fights at the popular Catholic Youth Center (CYC) arena through spring. After that?

Lightweight Howard Davis, Jr., was complaining from his Dix Hills, L.I., home about being the only boxer of the five gold medal winners at the 1976 Olympics who has not won a professional title (Leon and Michael Spinks, Sugar Ray Leonard and Leo Randolph). Davis blames it on the backstabbing deals, the under-the-table money passing and politics between commissions, promoters and managers. What Davis didn't include anyhow would not discuss was his own changing of managers (three) while ignoring valid contracts and the replaced managers had signed and not expired. He's in the courts more than he's in the ring.

Atlantic City, N.J., Ball's Park Casino, Friday: Junior middleweight Mike "Nino" Gonzales, 28-5-1, of Bayonne, N.J., and Wilbert Johnson, 24-3-2, of Indianapolis, Ind., fought to a torrid, non-stop 10-round draw; junior welterweight Joe Frazier, Jr., lost on a third round TKO to undefeated Mike Mungin. Referee Joe O'Neill stopped the bout after 57 seconds. Frazier, 7-1, is out of Philadelphia. Mungin, 10-0, of Mount Royal, N.J.; Heavyweight Rodney Frazier, 9-1, of Philadelphia scored a TKO over Woody Clark, 7-7, of Fayetteville, N.C., when referee Paul Venti stopped the fight at 2:53 of the fifth round. Rodney suffered a broken jaw in the second round and will be on the shelf for several months. The above fights were televised by ESPN Cable.

A judge threw out the slander suit by Florida's promoter Mel Ziegler against Ring Magazine. The judge ruled there were no grounds for such a suit based on the evidence presented. Ring owners were happy with the decision but they were not happy that the suit cost them $25,000 in legal fees.

Italian television showed the Ray Mancini-Bobby Chacon WBA lightweight title fight live with a 10-hour time difference. The fight was also shown in England on tape.

Howard Davis pulled out of his lightweight bout with Tyrone Crawley scheduled for Sunday at Atlantic City because of a bout with the flu. When Davis' representative, Jack Solewitz, was contacted if it was on the level, he screamed, "It's not a flimsy excuse. Howard was admitted to a New Brunswick hospital on Monday with a temperature of 103 degrees. He is willing to fight Crawley at the end of the month." When asked why a New Brunswick, not an Atlantic City, Solewitz did not respond.

Former heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Walcott announced he will retire as commissioner of the New Jersey State Athletic Commission effective on his 70th birthday, Jan. 31, 1984. He has been commissioner since 1976. Walcott fought from Sept. 9, 1930 to May 15, 1953. He won the crown by kayoing Ezzard Charles in round seven, July 18, 1951, and lost title to Rocky Marciano in Philadelphia, Sept. 23, 1952 via a KO in the 13th round. Walcott will be succeeded by Deputy Commissioner Robert Lee.

Grapplers Keep Rolling With Another Victory

By Dino Ibelli

The Belleville grapplers defeated Ridgewood last week, 4-9, to boost its team record to 5-0. This week, the Bucs faced a busy schedule. Yesterday, Paramus was in town, tomorrow evening, the team is in Passaic. On Saturday, they will be in Kearny for a 2:30 p.m. start and next Wednesday, it's Paramus Catholic, at BHS starting at 7:30 p.m.

The Bucs were slated to face Bergenfield last week, but the snow storm forced a cancellation to that match. The win over Ridgewood was a satisfying victory for the grapplers, especially since the football team lost a tough 20-14 game to Ridgewood back in October. For a good part of the campaign, the Bucs relied on the heavier weights for a good deal of its points. This time, the lighter weights came through with some big victories to put the match out of reach early.

Tim Buckley and Dom Cerreto recorded early pins to give Belleville a 12-0 lead. Newcomer Vince Capriglione won his first varsity match, defeating Frank Casey, 11-5. At 122 pounds, Vince Padula raised his varsity record to 3-1, defeating Corrie Campbell, 12-2.

Mike Giuffrida won his third match in a row, decisioning Joe Schimmel, 3-2. At 134, Luke Siletti also won, defeating George Halfat, 7-1.

Ralph Zarro lost a tough match at 140 pounds, bowing to Ridgewood's Chris Marino, 5-4. Zarro's setback gave Ridgewood its first three points, but Belleville was still in command, 25-3. Carmen Cerreto came right back to pin his man at 148, extending the Bucs' lead to 31-3 and clinch victory number five for the Bucs.

Ridgewood picked up a pair of consolation victories when Dawson Ross decisioned Jimmy Meyer, 13-6 and Roger Jones edged Jaime Lijo, 5-4. With the score 31-9, the red hot Mike Gibbons continued to plow through his opponents, pinning Dan Devine in the second period. The win boosted Gibbons' record to a solid 10-0 and makes Gibbons a solid threat in the post season tournaments that start in three weeks.

The heavyweight match saw Marc Griscione pin Tom Campanaco in 2:19 to wrap up a 43-9 win and give Belleville fans and wrestlers good reason to believe that this club should be state ranked.

NOTES: Ridgewood fell 2-3 with the loss. Wrestler of the week goes to the lightweights from 100-134 pounds, making it the second straight match in which the first six wrestlers won. With the lower weights performing so well, it takes pressure off the big guys if there is a commanding lead.

Girls Drop Heartbreaker to Teaneck; Schedule Starting to Get Even Tougher

It's a play that will run in Karen Fucello's mind for years to come. The situation, third quarter. Belleville leads by 27 points over Paterson Eastside. The Belleville girls, playing by far its best game of the season, force a turnover. Jennifer Apicella picks up the loose ball. Apicella drives to the basket. Apicella goes up, the rest is history. Apicella came down in a vicious manner, victim of an unnecessary hit by a sophomore named Lisa Forte. The basket never saw the ball. Apicella found the wall, using her wrist to shield the blow.

A gasp that would have swallowed Nutley was heard throughout the gym. Apicella lay on the Belleville floor, writhing in pain, having suffered a broken left wrist. "The moment I saw her wrist, I knew it was bad," said assistant coach Debbie Meola. "I just hoped that maybe she didn't break it."

Needless to say, Forte was ejected for her flagrant foul, the game continued without mishap and Belleville finished the game a 74-41 winner. At the conclusion of the contest, Eastside coach Barry Rossner, a noted disciplinarian, came up to Fucello, notably shaken, trying to explain how sorry he was for the accident. "I don't blame Barry," said Fucello. "I have too much respect for his program. Eastside was frustrated, he (Rossner) had just picked up two technical fouls and the emotions ran a little high."

There wasn't a great deal of joy following the win. Dina De Aquino had played by far, her best game of the season, pouring in 24 points. Donna Brooks had 16, Cheryl Marston four and Loree Wells, two. Apicella, who was whisked off to Clara Mazza Medical Center for the inevitable x-rays, finished the afternoon with a premature 28 points. On her career, the senior has 2,513 points, just 233 points shy of breaking the state scoring mark. Had it not been for the injury, she would have needed just seven or eight more games to crack the mark, now she'll have to wait a little longer.

"The first thing she wanted to do was go back in the game," said Fucello. "Her injury was bad, that was the first thing that had to be attended to. She's such an intense competitor, she never wants to come out." Eastside forfeited the jayvee contest and as Fucello waited on the phone, trying to get in touch with the hospital, her eyes wandered as the phone rang. "She earned everyone of those points," the coach said, her voice cracking a bit. "She earned every one of them."

Apicella will be out of action at least two weeks, although according to her, it won't be that long. "I'll be back," Apicella said. "As soon as the pain goes away, I'll be back. I know I can't play with a soft cast or anything, but I'll be back, I'm not going to miss that many games."

Last Saturday, the girls battled conference rival Teaneck High School at Seton Hall University. Playing without Apicella and battling a squad that was 11-0 and ranked 20th in the state, Belleville played a gutsy game, losing by a 34-31 count.

"We could have won the game," said Fucello. "How many foul shots did we miss, how many easy layups did we miss?"

The girls missed nine foul shots and at least, four easy layups. Teaneck led, 6-5 after one quarter and 15-13 at the half. The Highwaywomen boosted the margin to 23-17 after three quarters and boosted the lead to 25-17 early in the fourth. It was there that Belleville came back, with Brooks scoring seven points in the fourth quarter, Tracy Buono hitting two key foul shots and De Aquino adding four points. Desiree Johansen hit a foul shot, but it wasn't enough as Teaneck hit a few timely field goals and came away a very fortunate winner.

On the day, Brooks was the scoring leader, hitting for 14 points, De Aquino scored nine, Buono had two, Loree Wells tallied four before fouling out, Marion had one and Johansen, seeing her first extended action on the varsity level, had one point.

The girls are 10-2 as they enter this week's action. On Tuesday, they faced a tough task, traveling to Ridgewood for a 7:30 p.m. tip off.

Apicella and Colalillo Go Down With Injuries

The length of her injury is hard to determine. The chances are good that Apicella will be back soon. The injury was to her left wrist, which should not affect her shooting once the cast comes off. Of course, returning from a broken wrist will not be easy, but if anyone can come back, it's Apicella.

Both Jennifer Apicella and Phil Colalillo will be back, whether it's this season or next fall in college. Apicella's chances of returning this year are much better than Colalillo's, but thankfully, both will be fine in the long run. Both athletes will be big assets to the schools they attend. They have given us many hours of thrills and excitement. Jennifer Apicella and Phil Colalillo deserve our thanks and praise. They are hard competitors and first class individuals.

Hoopsters Split 2 Games As Record Hits 5-7 Mark who was shutout in the Teaneck game scored 17. Joe Borrello had eight, Brian Cook, seven, Dave Boyd, four and Steve Kimble rounded out the scoring with two. Vince Ferruli had 19 points for St. Al's and Mike D'Andrea, 18.

The Bucs and St. Al's were tied at 12 after one frame and St. Al's led, 29-26 at the half. Belleville came back in the third quarter, taking a 44-42 lead and coming away with a good victory.

The next two weeks should be a tough test for Belleville. Playing without Colalillo and battling some big teams in Ridgewood and Passaic, Belleville will certainly be tested, but the team, under a tough but understanding coach, will continue to play hard and give it their best.

NOTES: Papisidero on the game with St. Josephs this Friday night. "They have a 6-11 Oak Tree that we'll try and cut down," Papisidero commenting on the first quarter of the Teaneck game. "Steve (Kimble) was our high scorer with two points."

Vic Brown had 15 points to lead the balanced Teaneck attack, one that saw four starters in double figures. Believe it or not, Teaneck had five losses coming into the game, losing to Montclair twice, Kennedy, Eastside and Bergen Catholic. All man of three teams are state ranked and Teaneck lost four of the games in overtime. "They lost one other game, a two pointer to the Nets at the Arena, but that didn't count on

HOME IMPROVEMENTS
 Dear Homeowners,
 As you may already know, we have been in the home improvement business in this area for several years with 95% of our jobs being acquired strictly on a referral basis. We have found this to be a very rewarding as well as successful method of conducting business, one which has led us to a position where we can now provide our "referral oriented workmanship" as well as handle your financial needs all under one roof. As a result of these positive developments, we have established a small showroom and office, and it would be my pleasure to meet with you there to provide information on the construction methods and materials we shall supply.
 If it would be more convenient for you to have us visit your home to discuss your home improvement needs, simply call our office to arrange an appointment.

been "looking for me" ever since the Jan. 16 township meeting.

At that session, Fornarotto raised to the Board of Commissioners questions about Domenick's qualifications and authority in local building inspections, particularly of the Bridgebrook Gardens complex, a Joralemon Street complex in the midst of a controversial condominium conversion case.

According to Fornarotto, Domenick approached him Tuesday shouting, "I'm getting tired of you."

"He hit me with his fist or something and I fell to the floor," said Fornarotto, who alleged that Domenick struck him "several times more" as he lay there.

Commissioner Michael Pizzi, who was in his office adjacent to the registrar's room, said Tuesday he had the door closed and did not hear the scuffle in progress.

"I came out in the aftermath," said Pizzi, who confirmed he saw Fornarotto lying prone with a bloody face. Pizzi said Fornarotto was conscious and made the call to the police himself. "He requested a quarter to use the pay phone," said the Commissioner, who called the Health Department nurses to aid the injured man as they waited for the police to arrive.

Pizzi said Domenick was also there when he emerged from his office. "He was just standing by the door. He didn't say anything," said the Commissioner.

Apparently, the only eyewitness to the entire altercation was Risoli, who did not respond to telephone calls Tuesday.

After his release, Domenick apparently returned to his office, but attempts to confirm that or to speak with him were unsuccessful.

Mayor Michael Marotti declined comment on the incident. "I haven't read the police report so I can't say anything yet," said Marotti.

He said Domenick would remain in his position at least until the matter comes to court.

During his terms as Belleville's building inspector, Domenick frequently fell under criticism by Fornarotto and other citizens who claimed the inspector was not doing the job he was hired to do and not enforcing the municipal codes.

In the past, Domenick denied those claims, saying his department was overworked and understaffed to handle the quantity of cases generated in the township.

A strong and vocal personality, Fornarotto is a local critic and self-styled "political watchdog" who frequently attends municipal meetings demanding answers to his questions and justification for official actions, often in loud tones.

Fornarotto was involved in a similar assault case in March 1981 when he and then School Board president Ernest Zoppo and Zoppo's adult son exchanged blows in the same municipal building following a board session.

The Zoppis filed suit against Fornarotto and he countersued them. Five months later, a Nutley judge acquitted the elder Zoppi but found the son guilty of assaulting Fornarotto.

Fornarotto was found guilty of assaulting the elder Zoppi but cleared of charges involving the younger man. Both guilty verdicts carried $100 fines, in a decision that surprised many who were close to the case.

In the present matter, Mayor Marotti confirmed Fornarotto's statement that Domenick failed to qualify fully for his title as code enforcement officer.

Marotti explained the matter was a technicality, Domenick, he said, failed to file necessary papers by the state deadline.

Marotti said Domenick had taken all necessary training to qualify and was only waiting for state official approval. "He can continue inspections but he can't sign any papers," Marotti said.

In the interim, and on state recommendation, the township appointed plumbing officer Barney O'Connor to fill Domenick's official position.
