Pica Resigning His Commission Post

By Ed Capparucci

After 14 years of community service, Commissioner Matthew Pica shocked town officials last week, by announcing he is resigning from his commission post effective Feb. 29.

Commissioner Pica informed Mayor Michael Marotti last week of his intentions to resign from his Public Safety commission seat, which he held for the past five years. After verbally informing the mayor of his decision last Tuesday (Feb. 24) Pica handed in his written resignation to the Mayor the next evening.

(See related story on Page 7.)

"Matty approached me on Tuesday night and informed me that he had made up his mind and he was definitely resigning," said Mayor Marotti. "At first I tried to change his mind, but I saw it was useless."

Pica said he was resigning because "it was becoming impossible to work two full-time jobs at once and at the same time he felt fair to them both and himself."

"This is something which I have been thinking about for the last seven to nine months," Pica said. "Belleville is no longer a little town, it has developed into a township and the part-time position of Public Safety commissioner has become a full-time job. I find myself working seven days a week trying to accomplish the work of two men and it is just impossible."

"I am in my town hall office each night and I wake up 4 in the morning to complete unfinished paperwork," he continued. "So I decided that I did not want to end up like other commissioners and get a heart attack. The body just cannot take the continuous pushing. I need a break and more importantly my family needs a break also."

Pica has served on the Board of Commissioners since 1979, after spending nine years as a member of the Board of Education, including two years as president. He was re-elected to the Commission last May, but finished a disappointing fifth, ahead of veteran Public Affairs Commissioner Vincent Strumolo. At the time of his re-election Pica said he was happy to have held on to his seat and felt honored that he was re-elected, since "most public safety commissioners are not well liked and last only one term." But the pressure of running an 83-man police force and fire department proved to be just a little too much to the lifelong Belleville resident.

"It is hard to walk away from a position like this, especially since the people of this community were the ones who elected to do the job for them," said Pica, "but I like to do a job right and I feel that it is not fair to the township or my other job to try and do both — and not do them the best I can."

"Taking that into consideration the decision to resign was not a very difficult one," he continued. "You go where your bread and butter is. I have a responsibility to my wife and children and they are my priority in life."

Mayor Marotti said that while he is disappointed by Pica's decision he is happy to have served with "a man who is a benefit to this community."

"I hated to hear Matty say those words," the mayor said, "but you have to respect his decision. He was always there when the township needed him and he put in a lot of time and effort in making his department one which ran smoothly and effectively."

"Matty mentioned to me before the last municipal election that he was starting to get tired and that the work was piling up, but I did not think he would resign," the Mayor continued. "He is someone people should respect, because he was always his own man. That is why some people did not like him. He did what he felt was right and did not use his office to do favors for friends. I, along with the township will miss his ideas and leadership."

Over the years Pica did take a considerable amount of criticism from his critics, but he says that has nothing to do with his decision.

"The critics and their criticism has been there for the past 14 years and they will be there for the next 14 years also," he commented. "There just comes a time when you have to take stock and set priorities. Well, I took stock and have set my priorities."

The remaining four commissioners must now decide if they wish to fill Pica's vacancy by appointing a fifth member to the board, or leave it open until the November election, when a candidate will be elected to serve the remainder of Pica's term.

"That is a decision which will be up to the other commissioners to decide," Pica said. "I will have no input and offer no opinion on the matter. My job is finished."

Grossman To File Petitions For School Board Election

Sy Grossman
School Board Candidate

Seymour Grossman, who retired after 10 years as assistant superintendent of schools last July, will file his petitions as a candidate for the April School Board election next week.

A 37-year veteran of the Belleville school system, the former administrator will be seeking election to one of the two three-year seats available this year on the board.

"I am running for the Board of Education because I am still interested in education in Belleville," Grossman said during a phone interview Monday afternoon. "After 37 years I am thoroughly familiar with every aspect of the education system here in Belleville. I feel I owe it to the people of this community to run for a board seat."

There are two trustees who are up for re-election this year, Thomas Spillane and Donna Rainone — both who have indicated that they will be seeking a second term. There is also a third seat available which belongs to trustee Charles Miele, who announced last month he is resigning from the board effective April 3. That seat will be for a one-year term, while the other two call for three years of service.

A native of Plains, Pennsylvania, Grossman graduated from the community's high school and went on to earn a B.A. degree in the combined disciplines of Latin, English, and social studies from the University of Scranton in 1942.

Six years later, he received his M.A. in guidance from Columbia University.

Holding only one position prior to his arrival in Belleville, Grossman taught for four years at Lehman High School in Lehman, Pennsylvania.

Now a resident of Tremont Avenue, he came to Belleville in September 1947 and began his distinguished career here teaching Latin and English for eight years in Belleville High School.

In 1955, he became principal of School 7, serving in that capacity until obtaining, in 1964, the principal's post at what was then the Belleville Junior High School where he remained for nine years.

Grossman became Belleville's assistant superintendent for instruction in 1973, a post he will have held for 10 years upon his retirement last July.

In addition, he has participated in numerous school panels, including the drug committee, and the business and professional committee, among others.

While devoted to his work in Belleville schools, Grossman maintained a strong profile in community affairs, serving as a Democratic district leader, past president of the Belleville Kiwanis and past president of the Essex County Assistant Superintendents Association. An active member of the local Congregation Ahavath Achim, Grossman also held office in the temple's P.T.A.

The Search Will Begin Soon To Fill The Commission Seat

By Linda Telesco

Only seven months after Commissioner Matthew Pica was sworn into his second four-year term on the Belleville Commission, the public safety director's seat may be vacant again.

Pica announced last week his decision to resign his post probably by Feb. 29, leaving the other four commissioners to deal with the vacancy.

Various officials say the law in this matter requires that an election for the vacant seat be held in November during the general elections.

Until that time, there are two alternatives, according to officials. One is that Mayor Michael Marotti may take over Pica's department as well as his own, until the seat is filled in November, or the other possibility is that the Commissioners appoint someone to fill the position until the election is held.

Mayor Michael Marotti declined to discuss what alternative the board will select until he has an official letter of resignation from Pica, which will take place Monday evening at the Commission meeting.

However, already activity is stirring among front line contenders for a possible temporary appointment.

A likely choice would be former commissioner Vincent Strumolo who just barely lost his bid for re-election when he came in sixth in last May's balloting.

Strumolo served a total of 19 years in Belleville government before his defeat last year, which many attributed to his unaggressive campaign.

In an interview last week, the former director of the public affairs department said he would "definitely accept an appointment" if offered to him.

"I have the experience and I know the community," said Strumolo, who noted that as a retired person he would not face the same conflicts that apparently motivated Pica to resign his post.

(Please see Strumolo on page 7.)

School Board Election Ballots are Available

Petitions are now available for prospective School Board candidates at the Board of Education complex on Cortlandt Street, for the April 3 election.

There are three board seats up for grabs in this year's School Board race. Board Vice president Thomas Spillane and trustee Donna Rainone are both up for re-election and voters will also be asked to fill the seat being vacated by trustee Charles Miele, who has announced his resignation.

According to Gerard Gruenfelder, board secretary-business administrator, petitions must be returned to the board complex by Feb. 23. The petitions can be picked up in Gruenfelder's office at 190 Cortlandt St., during any business day.

Requirements for candidates seeking to become a member of the School Board include being able to read and write, a resident of the community for two years and the candidate must be 18 years old.

A drawing for ballot positions will be held Feb. 24 at the board complex at 8 p.m. Elected members of the board will take office at the organization meeting April 9. For more information call Gruenfelder at 751-7242.

According to the board secretary, as of Tuesday, four petitions have been picked up thus far, but none have been returned.

Dr. LiPoma Named Chairman For Children's Dental Month

Dr. Vincent LiPoma has been named Belleville chairman for Children's Dental Health Month by Dr. Gene Napoliello and Dr. George Newman, who co-chair the preventive dentistry program for the Essex County Dental Society. Slated for February, CDHM will, for the 34th time, provide a focus to encourage children and parents to acquire the dental hygiene habits necessary for healthy teeth. "This year's theme, 'Smile America. A healthy smile brightens everyone's day,' reflects the thrust to relate a beautiful smile to proper dental care," said Dr. Michael Unger, the Dental Society's president. "We take this persuasive message into the elementary schools each year at this time."

"Brushing and flossing," said Dr. LiPoma, "will be demonstrated to school children this month. But parents should also be aware of other aspects of dental health," he said, "for example, fluoridation. No Essex County water supply is fluoridated," he pointed out. "Therefore, it is very important that children brush with fluoride-containing toothpaste and receive periodic fluoride applications either through the schools or from their dentists. Most of the 32 percent decrease in tooth decay among children aged 5 to 17 over the last eight years can be traced to the enamel hardening effects of fluorides," he said.

Dr. LiPoma, a recent graduate of the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, has joined Dr. Gene Napoliello in a general practice in Bloomfield. A member of the Essex County Dental Society, and the New Jersey and American Dental Associations, he was also elected to Alpha Omega Dental Fraternity.

The common cold and winter flu may be counted among mankind's greatest nuisances. However it looks as though a speedy and effective treatment for these viral infections may be near. Researchers at the Baylor College of Medicine in Houston report that an aerosol drug called ribavirin has been found to relieve the discomfort and halt the duration of fever from these illnesses. Ribavirin also minimizes the contagiousness of viruses to prevent their spreading as easily in the past. The aerosol application of the antiviral drug is more effective than oral administration because it reaches the respiratory tract more quickly.

Assemblyman Buddy Fortunato Reviews His Legislative Career

By Michael C. Gabriele
Assemblyman Buddy Fortunato, who was elected to his fourth consecutive term of office last November, is presently working with Gov. Thomas Kean on a major piece of legislation which will direct casino gambling funds into the redevelopment of Atlantic City.

Buddy Fortunato

Now in his second term as chairman of the powerful Independent Authorities and Commissions Committee of the Assembly, Fortunato gave his views on many issues during an interview at the Times office last Thursday morning.

Fortunato said the legislation to aid Atlantic City will have indirect benefits for the entire state.

"I've been working on a bill which will promote the redevelopment of Atlantic City by using a portion of casino funds to rebuild the neighborhoods," The assemblyman from Montclair described the municipal government of Atlantic City as being in "complete chaos." At one point last year the state nearly decided to take over the operation of the city.

According to Fortunato, there was legislation already in place to channel casino funds for redevelopment of the city. However, he noted the present laws were not effective.

"The present laws have proven to be unworkable. There was nothing specific in the guidelines which would trigger the industry into channeling funds for redevelopment. What I've tried to do is come up with a workable solution."

Fortunato said originally there was a difference of opinion between himself and the governor on the problem. "The governor wasn't ready for the initial presentation of my bill," he recalled. "His office then submitted proposals that I didn't agree with. But we've been able to resolve our differences and put the issue to rest. I believe that there will be an announcement from Governor Kean's office any day on this bill," Fortunato said that the rebuilding of Atlantic City would have statewide benefits as a safe, attractive place for investment, business and the creation of jobs.

As the chairman of the Independent Authorities and Commissions Committee in the Assembly Fortunato oversees such massive state operations as casino gambling in Atlantic City, the state lottery, the Turnpike and Parkway Authorities and the entire Meadowlands Sports Complex in East Rutherford.

(This is the final of a four-part Belleville Times series of interviews with leaders from the 30th Legislative District, who represent the township. Other interviews included Sen. Carmen Orechio, Assemblyman Stephen Aduato and former Assemblyman John Kelly.)

Another piece of major legislation with which Fortunato is involved deals with the problem of toxic waste — an issue which has gotten considerable attention in Essex County during the past year. The assemblyman said that the inspiration for his actions came as a result of a neighborhood meeting in Belleville.

Toxic chemicals were discovered to be leaking from the Organic-Inorganic Research Center on Main Street in Belleville last May. The story received widespread media coverage while forcing the evacuation of area residents and the closing of an elementary school.

"I sat in on a house meeting of local residents during the height of the crisis," Fortunato remembered. "After the meeting a woman came up to me and told me all of the problems she had encountered as a result of the problem. She told me that she had a daughter in the hospital as a result of the chemical spill; she had no husband and no way to pay for her daughter's medical bills. She was very distressed by the entire ordeal."

"After learning about this woman's problems I was very down," he continued. "I walked out of the house searching for a solution to the problems faced by this woman and other residents in the area." Fortunato said that he soon began to work with State Senator Dan Dalton of South Jersey on a bill which would give financial assistance to those affected by the toxic chemical spill and other similar situations. Fortunato and Dalton sponsored a Hazardous Waste Victims Compensation Bill, which the legislature should take action on within the next month.

"The bill would provide aid to families that suffer devastating medical bills from accidental exposure to hazardous materials," he said, noting that the bill would be beneficial to those in his home town of Montclair where radioactive landfills in neighborhoods were recently discovered. "If a resident could prove before a government panel that they received damages as a result of being a victim of exposure to hazardous materials, then the state would compensate them for their medical bills."

First elected to the assembly in 1977, Fortunato reflected over past elections and noted the tough competition he always faced, especially in Nutley.

"I was the top vote getter in all the towns of the 30th District except for Nutley," he said, adding that he finished second to Steve Aduato in Belleville last November. Fortunato gained the votes of 3,769 Nutley residents in the Nov. 8 election, as compared with 6,625 for John Kelly and 3,808 for Aduato.

"My power base has always been in the Montclair, Verona, Bloomfield area," Fortunato observed. "It seems like I always have a well known Republican incumbent to compete against here in Nutley," he said, referring to Kelly and former five-term Assemblyman Carl Orechio.

"Nutley has been lucky to have

Commissioner Matthew Pica

To the surprise of the entire township, Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica announced his resignation from the township commission post he won only eight short months ago.

Of course everybody is asking — "Why?" "How Come?" Public service is no bed of roses. It's a tough, thankless job at best. Family sacrifice is commonplace. Reputations hard-won are easily sullied. The cynical public is rarely grateful nor does it ever acknowledge the personal sacrifices required of a township commissioner.

Commissioner Pica obviously was pushed into reexamining his priorities and decided public service wasn't worth sacrificing one's reputation, family life and lost business opportunities.

Pica has proven to be an honest, honorable public official. He administered the most cumbersome, most visible, most difficult municipal division — the Department of Public Safety with wisdom and dedication. Pica, an able public official, is known to be outspoken. He tells it like it is. He rejects diplomacy for straight talk — a refreshing approach in political life.

The community owes Matty Pica a debt of gratitude for his unselfish effort to make a good town better.

Matty Pica leaves office in the knowledge that he did his best to provide the town he loves with the best of police and fire protection — and a fast-acting, competent ambulance service. For your public service Commissioner Pica, we thank you.

Ronald Reagan

President Ronald Reagan — to almost no one's surprise — is a candidate for re-election. He is the master TV performer — and like someone observed — he makes Johnny Carson look like an amateur.

For the Republicans, Reagan is their strongest candidate. For Americans generally — a Reagan versus Mondale contest presents a real choice. Political pros are predicting former Vice President Walter Mondale will be the Democratic nominee and will have the nomination locked up by April 1. If Mondale is going to be the ultimate Democratic nominee — the sooner the better for Americans.

Reagan has put into place tenets of a basic conservative philosophy. Many of the things Ronald Reagan stands for are opposed by Mondale. A Reagan-Mondale battle will be one of the rare times in American history when the voters of this nation will have the opportunity to choose between two different political philosophies.

Prayer For Today

Almighty Father, Source of all blessings, we thank Thee for the preservation of our life and for the joy of living, for the powers of mind and heart and for the wisdom that comes to us from seers and sages filled with Thy spirit.

Teach us to use wisely the blessings Thou hast bestowed upon us. May prosperity not enfeeble our spirit nor harden our heart. May it never so master us as to dull our desire for life's higher ideals.

And should adversity come, may it not embitter us nor cause us to despair, but may we accept it as a mark of Thy chastening love which purifies and strengthens. Let every obstacle become an incentive to greater effort, and let every defeat teach us anew the lesson of patience and perseverance.

Gird us with strength to bear our trials with courage. Let not the loss of anything, however dear to our hearts or precious in our sight, rob us of our faith in Thee. In light as in darkness, in joy as in sorrow, help us to put our trust in Thy providence, that even through our tears we may discern Thy divine blessing.

Investment Program Working For Board

An open letter to Times' columnist James Golden:

I was very pleased to read your column in the last issue of the Belleville Times. The investment of idle cash balances to generate a revenue return to boards of education is important to all of us.

I am in complete agreement with the suggestion that you make in your column. May I take this opportunity to point out that since I first came to work for the Belleville Board of Education, one of my major emphases has been the pursuit of an extremely aggressive investment program. I feel that the results of this program have been exceptionally beneficial to the taxpayers in the township.

For example, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1982, we earned a total of $197,494.66 in interest on investments. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1983, we earned $290,589.28 in interest on investments. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1984, we are projecting earnings in the amount of $250,000 in interest on investments. Thus, the total benefit to the taxpayers has been approximately $737,000, or just short of three quarters of a million dollars.

I intend to continue the pursuit of these dollars because I am very much aware of the need to minimize the burden on the individual taxpayer to the extent possible.

We have compared our performance to that of the New Jersey Cash Management Fund for the last fiscal year. We have found that we did better by investing ourselves than by placing investments with the fund. However, we are eligible to participate in the fund, and we will continue to solicit quotations from the fund on our investments.

Perhaps you could see fit to use your considerable influence to help us in another area which is costing the taxpayers money. At the present time, we receive our state aid payments in the form of checks. These checks are mailed to us via First Class Mail by the state of New Jersey Department of the Treasury. Between the time the check is placed in the mail, we receive it, record it, present it for deposit, and have the funds credited to our account, we will have lost some opportunity to earn interest income on this money. This, of course, represents an invisible burden of taxation to the taxpayers of the township.

Although the concept of electronic banking and electronic funds transfer has not yet been fully realized in any state to my knowledge, the availability of same-day wire funding transfers has been in existence for quite some period of time. I am certain that, were our situation made known to the appropriate officials, this obviously unintentional practice of the state would certainly be discontinued in favor of the much more efficient, effective, timely and accurate practice of wire transfers.

Very truly yours,
Gerard B. Gruenfelder
Board Secretary/School
Business Administrator

Joe Fornarotto Says Thanks

An open letter to the residents of Belleville:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people who have been concerned about my health during the past two weeks. I have received many letters, cards and calls from residents throughout the township, who have expressed concern with my condition.

The residents of Belleville have shown that they do care about their fellow neighbors, and I care very much about them. Once again thanks and God bless you all.

Sincerely,
Joseph Fornarotto

Adubato Asks For Help From NJ Commissioner

An open letter to State Community Affairs Commissioner John P. Renna:

I write to you in regard to the situation that has developed at the Bridgebrook Apartments in Belleville. As I believe you are aware, the owner of these apartments has notified the tenants of his intention to convert their dwellings into condominiums. The tenants are justifiably concerned about this prospect, and have brought their concerns to me.

The situation at Bridgebrook raises a number of questions. Has the landlord followed correct legal procedures in his attempt to convert these dwellings into condominiums? Do the existing tenants, excluding those who are senior or disabled citizens, have any recourse in preventing this conversion? If the apartments should be converted, what protections exist against exorbitant increases in maintenance and other fees? What will happen to middle-class tenants who are forced out into a tight rental market?

These questions deserve answers, not just for residents of Bridgebrook Apartments, but for all New Jerseyans who might find themselves in a similar situation. I would appreciate whatever help you and your department can offer in answering these questions and resolving this problem.

Sincerely,
Stephen Adubato, Jr.
Assemblyman, District 30

Belleville Times Thanked For Support and Coverage

To the editor:

Concerned Families for Improved Mental Health Services thanks the Belleville Times-News for the much needed help you have given us during the past year. Some of our readers have joined us.

By publishing our activities, your paper is helping to improve conditions in hospitals and after-care services, including better housing, for victims of mental illness, a condition which affects between 10 and 15 per cent of the population, according to the President's Commission on Mental Health.

Sponsored by the Mental Health Association of Essex County, Concerned Families provides support, encouragement, and a caring atmosphere to families with problems that can be overwhelming if faced alone. Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,

Mu husband is a handsome 33 year old man who is bald. I finally convinced him to buy a toupee which he puts on with adhesive and bands in his own hair. The toupee got dirty. He took it off and I shampooed it like normal hair. I tangled so badly that no chemicals could remove the tangles. He had to buy a new toupee. This, too, is human hair but doesn't match his hair color. We would like to color it. Should we do it or is there another way?

The Toupee Lady

Dear Lady,

I do not suggest coloring it by yourself even if the colors are easy to apply. You probably don't know that wigs and wigs are chemically treated and store-bought colors may react differently.

Try a temporary rinse that matches your husband's hair. To make the color lighter, add more water, for darker, go to the next shade. If you want a permanent dye, take it to a colorist.

As usual we are at your service. If you like, bring it in and I will examine it free of charge and recommend a solution.

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMaio D.C.

The upper torso and the legs get support and protection from the rib cage and the pelvis. In between, the low back area is more vulnerable. The lumbar vertebrae have only muscles and ligaments to support them and keep them in place. Yet it is in this area that most of the strain of lifting occurs.

Lumbago, a form of rheumatism, causes contractions and unbalance of the large muscles of the lower back. This in turn results in a shift of spinal posture, compressed and irritated nerves, and pain.

Chiropractic offers relief from the pain of lumbago. Make an appointment.

Township Officials Shock, Surprised About Pica's Decision to Step Down

By Linda Telesco

Surprise. That is the general reaction of officials and citizens to the recent announcement by Commissioner Matthew Pica that he plans to resign, by the end of the month, his post as director of Public Safety in Belleville.

Only last May, Pica was re-elected to a second four-year term on the Commission, a post he sought in a vigorous campaign.

A financial manager for Raia Industries in Hackensack, Pica cited the demands of his full-time job and the desire to spend more time with his family as major factors in his decision.

"Serving as a commissioner has become a full-time responsibility," Pica told The Times. He said the part-time Belleville post had become too burdensome for him to handle adequately.

Reacting to the announcement, Mayor Michael Marotti told OBC-TV news, "We're going to miss Matt. He was a good commissioner who worked hard and did what he thought was best for Belleville, not for individuals."

Marotti said Pica's announcement was "a little surprising," but he noted his colleague had previously mentioned the demands of his full-time job, saying he had "to make a decision. This was it."

The Mayor dispelled rumors that Pica may have left for other reasons. "I don't think there were any problems," he asserted.

Public Works Commissioner Joseph Grande commented, "I'm shocked. I never expected this from Matt Pica. I'm at a loss for words." Grande described Pica as a "very up-front person" who had his respect, despite occasional disagreements on policy.

Both Grande and Public Affairs Director Michael Pizzi were elected to their first terms on the Commission last May.

Pizzi said last week of the new development, "It's a real surprise to me. It is also an unfortunate situation for Belleville."

Describing relations among Commissioners as "harmonious" and "respectful," Pizzi said Pica's contribution to local government "will be missed very much."

As Public Safety Commissioner, Pica oversees the local police and fire departments. In months prior to last year's election, political observers noted the Commissioner's relationships with his subordinates was a tense and strained one, as a fact they said was reflected in his fifth place showing in the voting.

They felt this accounted for a dip in popularity that placed Pica in last place for a Commission seat in the voting, behind two newcomers and two incumbents.

However, Police Chief George Lister showed a different reaction to the news of Pica's resignation. "I'm very surprised. Pica worked hard and put in a lot of time here,"

Lister noted that Pica, in his tenure, "brought our manpower back up to the level it was several years before he took office," and also helped institute the neighborhood crime awareness program in Belleville.

The police chief particularly regretted the decision came during the crucial time when the municipal budget comes up for unveiling. "It's a tough time for this kind of thing. I hope it doesn't have a negative effect," he added.

While agreeing he was "taken by surprise" to hear of Pica's planned resignation, Fire Chief George Sharra declined all other comment on the matter. "I'm just not prepared to talk about it at this time," he said Monday.

Also reacting to the news were two activist citizens who ran unsuccessfully in the May race for a Commission seat.

Joseph Fornarotto said he did not believe Pica's reasons for deciding to quit were valid. "The second term is easier than the first," said Fornarotto, a strident critic of local officials.

Fornarotto feels the Commissioner was under pressure to resign from citizen groups formed to uphold "honesty in government."

Fornarotto is one of several outspoken citizens who at township meetings, regularly grill the officials on practices they label "questionable."

Pica has been subjected to criticism for "glossing over" investigations into activities of certain police and fire workers.

Most recently, citizens raised questions about vouchers and spending in Pica's department, but the "irregularities" were never validated or confirmed.

Another unsuccessful candidate in the last election, Kevin Kennedy, said Monday he was "really surprised" by Pica's decision.

"There were some things he did I questioned," said Kennedy, who frequently attacked Pica at Commission sessions. He added, though, "I think on the whole he did a good job in the department and kept good records."

Commissioner Joseph McGreevy did not return calls for comment on the matter.

Strumolo, Senator Could Be Answer

However, Strumolo also said he had plans to seek office again in Belleville and did not rule out the possibility of running for Pica's seat in November.

On that score, Mayor Marotti had said he knew of Strumolo's interest in both the appointment and the election. "I don't know yet what we'll do," said Marotti, who hinted he might favor an appointment for someone who does not intend to run for election.

In that case, another strong contender for a possible temporary stint on the board is former Public Works commissioner, Mary Senatore.

After serving 16 years in office, Senatore decided last year not to run for reelection. In April, she was appointed director of security in the Essex County department of public works.

"If I could be of help, I would definitely accept the appointment," said Senatore from her office last week. However, she insisted she would only do so on a temporary basis and had no interest in campaigning for November.

"I'm very busy in my job and I love it," she explained.

Commissioners Joseph Grande and Michael Pizzi both felt there should be a special election held to fill Pica's seat.

"I think the people should choose who they want there," said Grande, who does not favor appointing a caretaker commissioner.

Expressing similar sentiments, Pizzi felt that appointing one of the three losing candidates from the last election was not the answer.

"If it had been the people's will, then those candidates would be in office now," he said, dismissing even the suggestion that the sixth place holder might be the next best thing to a people's choice.

Finishing behind Strumolo in the May races were activist citizens Joseph Fornarotto and Kevin Kennedy, both of whom said they would accept an appointment if offered.

Fornarotto, however, expressed intentions to run for the office in the next election and may well be a contender in the November race.

By contrast, Kennedy said he would serve as caretaker if asked, but declared he has no intention of joining the race next fall.

"I'm going to run again but not before 1987," said Kennedy last week. He explained his intention to support Strumolo if the former commissioner should announce his candidacy for November.

There was no comment from Commissioner Joseph McGreevy who failed to return phone calls seeking his reaction.

The Pawned Bible

When W.P. Mackay left home for college at the age of 17, his mother gave him a Bible. On the inside cover she wrote his name, her name and a Bible verse.

He later graduated from medical school with high honors, and eventually became head of a large hospital. He was also president of an atheistic society and freely engaged in "high living." He was quite outspoken in his criticism of God and the Bible.

One day a severely injured man was carried into the hospital. As Dr. Mackay looked him over, he was amazed to see the peace and radiance on the man's face.

"Just what is my condition?" asked the man. "Oh, I guess we'll pull you through," replied the doctor.

"Doctor, I don't want any guess work. I want to know if it is life or death; I am ready to die because I have placed my trust in the Lord Jesus Christ as my Saviour. He paid the penalty for my sins and I know I will be with Jesus immediately when I die."

"You have at the most three hours to live," replied Dr. Mackay. "Is there anything you would like for us to do?"

"Thank you," said the man. "In my pocket is my paycheck. Would you send it to my landlady and ask her to send me the book?"

"What book?" inquired the doctor. "Oh, just ask her for the book. She will know." Later that day the doctor inquired, "Did he get the book in time?" The nurse replied, "Yes, just before he died."

Dr. Mackay went to the bedside, reached under the man's pillow and pulled out a Bible. As he did so it opened to the inside cover, and there in his mother's handwriting was his own name, her name and the Bible verse. It was the very same Bible his mother had given him when he had left home for college. One time, years before at college, while drunk, he had pawned it to be able to buy more liquor.

Dr. Mackay was amazed and overwhelmed by memories. He rushed to his office and fell on his knees and asked God for mercy and forgiveness for his sinful life. He realized "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." (1st Tim. 1:15.)

MINNIE RIPPE

"Some people come into our lives and quickly go. Some stay for awhile and leave footprints on our hearts, and we are never, ever the same."

Flavia Weedn Her grandniece, Carolyn, wrote "In spite of all of the problems she experienced in her life, she never seemed to let them get her or keep her down. As a child I always looked forward to her cheerful, love-filled letters; she always seemed to love us unconditionally."

Minnie was stricken with polio when she was a child which made her legs useless. Walking with crutches gave her spine a curvature so that early in life she became confined to a wheelchair. But it wasn't until she became completely helpless this last couple of months that I knew how very deformed she was.

When her mother died at 12 and her grandmother wanted to care for her, her dad said, "She belongs to me and I'm taking her home." Because of Pop she became a self sufficient, capable person, so that no one thought of her as handicapped. She kept house, cared for her father in his final illness, after which she lived in an immaculately kept one room apartment, took charge of her life, and earned her own sparse living which by faith and using her head she made adequate.

Day in, day out she tied black thread around vials which were for testing the sterility of surgical equipment. One day they sent her pink thread and she was ecstatic! May those in this world who always want more and are never satisfied remember Minnie who had little but always enough; who always had an orange for the elderly lady who visited her from the nursing home; always a fresh baked cake for a gift or a special occasion.

She was not only a reliable worker but a true friend. As one of the Friendly Visitors, although she couldn't visit in person, she called regularly and on time. Her visits weren't merely to check and find out if all was well; she'd chat for awhile to help fill the lonely hours of a shut-in. They became her friends and she enjoyed the contact as much as they.

So Minnie is already missed by many. And she inspired more people than she could ever know. Her cheerful courage, her faith, determination, and spirit have already seeded themselves in the hearts of others.

Thank God she's whole again, her struggles behind her.

God bless.

Assemblyman Buddy Fortunato Looks Ahead at Upcoming Year

outstanding men like Carl Orechio and John Kelly represent them in the Assembly," he continued. "And I'd also like to think that they've been lucky to have me as well," he said with a smile.

"This had been a very tough district for Democrats," he recalled. "Back in 1977 I was running against two Republicans: Carl Orechio and Roger Toner. People said that I was too young, that I didn't have the experience and that there was no way I would win. Apparently, people liked what I had to say. I've always tried to communicate with voters and be responsive to people's needs. My office in Montclair has always been accessible. I think that I've been sincere to the concern of the district, and that voters always know where I stand on issues.

"I've gained the reputation of being a Democrat who takes a bipartisan approach to issues. I don't like to force feed legislation. My relationship with Governor Kean has always been one of cooperation. We've reached a point in state government where we must put aside party labels and work in a statesmanlike manner."

As the chairman of the Independent Authorities and Commissions Committee of the Assembly, Fortunato offered his opinion on such issues as transportation and the dollars raised by the state lottery and casino. Mass transportation has always been cited by politicians as an area in need of improvement for New Jersey. But media critics and residents of Essex, Bergen and Hudson counties are quick to point out that it has been difficult to measure improvements in the transit system in recent years.

"The transportation problems we have in our area of the state stem from the fact that we have such a huge population in many different communities," he said, responding to the omnipresent daily traffic jams at the Lincoln and Holland tunnels, the George Washington Bridge and the Turnpike and Parkway. "We really don't have a centralized transit system, and our railroads have been neglected over the years. I envision the Meadowlands complex as being the future hub of state transportation. It's in an ideal location. Our rail system needs to be upgraded and I'd like to think that our tax dollars could be better spent on transportation."

There is always much confusion and debate over the issue of lottery and casino funds. Residents, through various media outlets, have expressed concern over these state institutions and doubts that funds are being properly spent.

"I also share these concerns," Fortunato admitted. "I know that people have questions and doubts over these commissions. I would have to agree with most of the concerns raised by citizens." Fortunato pointed out that the state lottery was set up to raise funds for public education and that casino revenues were supposed to be channeled to aid senior citizens.

"The fact of the matter is that the funds are being used in these areas," he stated. "The money raised by the lottery and casinos is all constitutionally controlled. It can't be tapped for anything else. People want to know why is a state income tax necessary if we already have these institutions raising money. That is an issue that the governor and the legislature is currently addressing. I'd like to think that the money can be used in a more efficient manner. What we really need to do is streamline our tax system so that we get more for our dollar. I'm not satisfied that we are using these funds in the most economical way. There's a great deal of room for improvement, and I hope that we can address that problem."

The 37-year-old assemblyman is a 1964 graduate of Montclair High School. A skilled and prolific athlete, Fortunato was named to the state all star team three times as a baseball player and once for football.

"I was considering a career in professional baseball but I sustained a shoulder injury," Fortunato, a centerfielder, said. He went on to play at Rider College, where he graduated in 1968. During his college career he played on a team ranked number three in the nation. He said that the injury to his right shoulder became so severe that he was forced to learn to throw left handed.

Though baseball was his main sport during high school, he also won awards for football. Fortunato played on a Montclair's state championship team during his sophomore year in 1962.

A resident of Montclair for most of his life, Fortunato now resides in Glen Ridge with his wife, Marion and two children, Jeffrey and Cissy. Since 1974 he has been the vice president of the Italian Tribune, a weekly tabloid newspaper in Newark. He has been an account executive with Merrill Lynch of New York City and Edwards and Hanley of Clifton.

County Seeking Funds

The Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders paved the way for the eventual establishment of Head Start program in Belleville and Bloomfield by directing the county to apply for state funds to finance the early childhood education and nutrition program.

Last week's action by the Board of Freeholders, passed at the urging of Freeholder Arthur L. Clay (R-5th), came as the result of studies showing both communities having a substantial number of eligible families who would benefit through Head Start program. Clay promised to work with county officials to see that Head Start centers are eventually established in Belleville and Bloomfield.

Golden Comments

By James Golden

Notwithstanding the universal consensus of the need to revitalize the vital business main artery of Belleville, Washington Avenue, there remains obstacles delaying the immediate implementation of the local redevelopment agency's plans to proceed.

State legislation provides for the establishment by local municipalities to create and appoint members thereto such an agency, with the state's designating a local resident member. Largely because of the desire of town officials to improve the business climate and growth of commercial development along this main strip of business concentration and the concern of animated chamber of commerce members, the Town Fathers established the Belleville Redevelopment Agency.

This agency is endowed with autonomous powers of declaring areas blighted which may be acquired, with proper compensation, for redevelopment to produce increased taxables and provide an improved modernistic atmosphere to enhance business and trade.

Along with these redeeming advantages is the reality that, unlike the local governing body which can condemn property for municipal purposes only, the redevelopment agency may acquire property for, as the name implies, redevelopment of commercial and business growth.

Presently, perhaps because of the innovative autonomous powers inherent in this redevelopment agency, a snag appears to be rearing its ugly head to delay immediate implementation of the agency's program which is engendered by concern over its state endowed power to float bonds encumbered by the township which would be responsible financially, thus, increasing the municipality's bonded indebtedness — a matter of great concern to the Belleville Commissioners.

Since all members, save one, of the Belleville Redevelopment Agency are appointees of the Commissioners, it is logically assumed they were properly "screened" to establish their competence and dependability of trust to function in accord with the views and aims of those who appointed them.

The urgency of overcoming the decadent blight of the southern portion of Washington Avenue betokens the need for prompt action to correct and repel the deterioration of that area. Time is of the essence. Every effort should be undertaken to resolve any differences or misunderstandings.

Any divergence of views on distribution of power authority should be fully reviewed and established to avoid any impinging or clashing that could precipitate discord and rivalry between the governing body and the agency created by it.

Likewise, transcripts of the redevelopment agency's minutes should be submitted to the Commissioners for review and occasional informal meetings of discussion should be held between the two bodies to facilitate communication and cordiality.

Hopefully any reservations that might exist that would produce a stalemate in delaying the program for redevelopment may be averted by mutual collaboration. There is a compelling need to revitalize the south Belleville area along Washington Avenue.

American Heart Month Honored By Township

Commissioner Michael P. Pizzi, director of the Department of Public Affairs, reminds residents that February is "American Heart Month."

"In these times, when cancer is the disease that is so feared by our population, many do not realize that diseases of the cardio-vascular system (the heart and blood vessels) cause almost three times as many deaths as cancer does," Pizzi noted. "In fact, they are responsible for 54 percent of all deaths in the United States — more than all other causes of death combined."

The Belleville Health Department has a booklet, on the heart, put out by the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Called "Medicine for the Layman," it is very readable, full of very good illustrations, and answers just about any question a layman might have. Among these questions are: Which is the most important factor in causing heart disease? Is Vitamin E effective in preventing heart attacks? Is there a danger in exercising when one's blood pressure is elevated? What types of exercise are more effective? Should we eliminate foods from our diet like cheese, eggs and shrimp thought to be high in cholesterol and take our chances with artificial foods containing chemicals that may also be dangerous? and Can bypass surgery prevent a heart attack? Many other questions are answered. To get your copy of this booklet, write the Belleville Health Department, 383 Washington Ave., Belleville, or call 759-2832. The staff will be happy to serve you.

Record Stands at 7-0-1

Grapplers Continue to Roll With 2 Impressive Victories

By Dino Ithelli

If there are any questions about the Belleville wrestling team, just ask a few of its opponents from last week.

The grapplers boosted the team record to a solid 7-0-1 by ripping Kearny, 42-20 and Passaic, 66-6. In addition, the Bucs worked in a tie with Paramus. Yesterday, the team hosted Paramus Catholic and tomorrow evening, St. Joseph's of Montvale makes the long ride south for a 7:30 p.m. start.

The Paramus match was probably the most exciting match to date. It started off bad for the Bucs when Tim Buckley lost an 11-2 decision to Jeff Katz. Vince Capriglione was on the short end of a 15-2 count, Mike Giuffrida managed a tie with Larry Goodman at nine and Vin Padula was shown the lights.

With Belleville on the very short end of a 17-5 count, Dom Cerreto got Belleville back on track with a 6-2 decision over Ken Harms. At 134 pounds, the Bucs spirits received a lift when Luke Siletti decided to fight. Siletti defeated Jeremy Bernstein, 12-6 and Ralph Zarro won a close match, defeating his opponent, 4-3.

With the count at 17-11, Carmen Cerreto caught some bad luck and ended up a pin victim early in his match. The win boosted the Paramus lead to 23-11. Paramus then ran into the Bucs solid three some of Jimmy Meyler, Jamie Lijo and Michael Gibbons and when the smoke cleared, Belleville suddenly owned a 29-23 lead and Paramus was grasping for straws, looking for a way to tie the match. The visitors had taken a 23-11 lead into the heart of the Belleville lineup and suffered three straight pins to make an apparent victory look like a sure defeat. The evening was not a total disappointment for Paramus. In the heavyweight slot, Belleville's freshman, Mark Griscione, was pinned and the visitors left BHS with a tie at 29.

The match with Passaic saw Belleville use about 14 minutes of wrestling time to cruise to the easiest victory of the season. Buckley, Padula, Meyler and Gibbons all won by way of forfeit. The Cerreto brothers both pinned, with the combined time of those victories in a little less than two minutes.

Vince Capriglione, Zarro and Giuffrida all pinned in the second period. Lijo (7-1) pinned at 1:02 of the first period. The Bucs forfeited the heavyweight bout and came away an easy victor.

The Kearny match was a good win for the Bucs. Tim Buckley was pinned in the second period, setting up the most exciting match at 107 between Tom Petrozelli and Belleville's Dom Cerreto. Petrozelli was a favorite in the match, but Cerreto (now 13-1) had other ideas and gave his team a big lift by pinning Petrozelli at the 5:06 mark of the first period.

Capriglione pinned Mark Geiger to boost the Bucs advantage to 12-6. Giuffrida, who has been wrestling very well the last month, breezed by Dan Cicchino, 17-1 in a one sided match from the start. Kearny had its last hurrah when Fred Tita pinned Vin Padula.

Following that setback, Belleville went into high gear, using the middle and upper weights to their advantage. Siletti beat Ernie Tita, 2-1, raising his mark to 8-6. Siletti has bounced out of his slump just in time for the Districts. Zarro forged a draw with Al La Tournais at four apiece. Zarro has a record of 8-5-1 and has shown marked improvement over the last three weeks.

At 147, Carmen Cerreto, had a battle with Joe Dawson and came away a victor, 17-12. Jimmy Meyler had an easier time at 157, beating Ed Evanchick, 17-0. Meyler boosted his record to 13-2 with the win and is another wrestler who should do well come post season time.

Lijo boosted his record to 8-1 with a pin over Mike Corolla at 1:15 of the first period. By the time the 187 pound match had come around, Kearny had seen enough. Mike Gibbons, the most consistent wrestler on the squad this year, won his second match by forfeit and Belleville was on its way to a very big win.

For Gibbons, he is still undefeated, and will be a very imposing man come tournament time. Not since Chris Musmanno defeated opponents with a vengeance in 1979 and 1980 has Belleville seen a man so devastating. Gibbons has the potential to make a mark in the districts, regions and maybe the states. A warning to opposing wrestlers: Gibbons is only a junior. Many good things will be coming from him.

Hoopsters Keep Battling the Odds

There is something in the hearts of a dedicated athlete that will never show up in the box score, will never show up on the scoreboard. It's called dedication, and despite all the bad things that have hit the Belleville boys' basketball team this winter, Joe Papasidero and crew are playing with desire and dedication. You can't ask anything more than that.

This week, the Bucs hosted Passaic on Tuesday, and will host Hackensack tomorrow afternoon, next Monday, Kearny comes to town and Tuesday, it's Teaneck. All contest start at 4 p.m.

Last week, the Bucs battled two teams that were much bigger than they, but in both instances, Belleville stayed close, nearly winning one game and coming very close in the other. One wonders how good this team would have been had Phil Colalillo not gone down with a ruptured appendix. By the way, a note on Phil, he's home from the hospital, is still weak and is going to need a great deal of time before he's able to work out again.

Belleville dropped games to Ridgewood, 64-56 and St. Joseph's of Montvale, 59-58 in overtime as the team record dropped to 5-9. The St. Joe's contest was particularly painful because Belleville had a 12-point lead entering the fourth quarter, but couldn't hold on as St. Joe's made a spirited comeback, paced by its 6'10" center, Mario Lizzo.

On the night, Lizzo tallied 22 points, and his 6'10", 235-pound frame was a constant nemesis. "Our press is what affected them," explained Papasidero. "They were huge up front, in addition to Lizzo, their two forwards were each 6'4". Our guards did a great job and that's why we did so well."

Danny Ward was the main reason for the Bucs' successful outing. The senior guard, who has received raves from his coach, tallied a career high 31 points and teamed with backcourt mate Joe Borrello (14 points) to make this an exciting game. "Danny played a great game," said Papasidero. "It was phenomenal, just an excellent job."

The Bucs trailed, 18-11 after one quarter, but used a marvelous defensive effort to gain a 29-22 halftime advantage. In the second quarter, the Bucs held St. Joe's to four points, all of which came from the foul line. It was the foul line that would do Belleville in. "They (St. Joe's) were in the bonus half way through the third quarter," said Papasidero. "We ran into foul trouble early, and don't get me wrong, the calls were good."

Dave Boyd and Steve Kimble fouled out of the contest, but Belleville still managed to keep an advantage. From 29-22 at halftime, the Bucs boosted their lead to 42-30 entering the final quarter. There, St. Joe's came back in the game, outscoring the Bucs, 24-12 and forcing overtime. The tying bucket came with just four seconds left in regulation time. The overtime session saw Belleville miss by one point and St. Joe's come away a victor.

In addition to Borrello and Ward's heroics, Boyd tallied four points, Mike Sochaski, three, Nick Sotomayer, Bill Nankervis and Brian Cook all had a field goal for two points.

Versus Ridgewood, the Bucs also came up against a big club, and fought hard before falling. Ridgewood led, 16-7 after one quarter and 35-24 at the half. They extended the margin to 52-38 after three and held on as Belleville cut the deficit to six in the fourth quarter before losing by eight.

Borrello had 14 points to lead the Belleville cause, followed by 13 from Ward, 10 from Kimble, eight from Nankervis, six by Boyd and five by Sochaski. Ted Evers had 18 points and Andy Nemetsis, 16 for Ridgewood.

"They were a good team," said Papasidero of the 10-3 Ridgewood club. "We held our own though, we played a good game. I can't say enough of these kids. They play hard, they hustle, they never give up. It hasn't been the easiest of seasons for us, but we're battling."

Jennifer's Back, as Girls Split Two Tough Contests

On Jan. 17, 1984, Jennifer Apicella became the victim of a vicious, unnecessary hit by an Eastside player who had become frustrated at the turn of events in the game, and as her coach later said, had "lost her poise." The result of this temper tantrum was a broken wrist for the most prolific scorer in New Jersey today. Many people felt she was finished, her career would finish prematurely and Apicella would fall just 233 points shy of the state scoring record.

Apicella, however, had different ideas. The senior swingman proclaimed just two days later, "I'll be back." It seems to be the Apicella way cry, because injury and setbacks have become a thing too common with the star shooter. Sprained ankles, broken fingers, chipped teeth, broken nose, split lip and broken wrist. She has gone through it all, and still, entering the game on Jan. 17, had missed just one game in her varsity career.

This injury was supposed to keep her out at least two weeks. Apicella had different ideas and low and behold, she was back, just two games later, with a protective cast on her wrist — a cast that is soft enough to play, yet gives her support. Apicella's return was unbelievable, it was like she never left. The senior tallied 41 points, but her club lost a 66-65 battle to Ridgewood and the officials last Saturday, in Ridgewood. What the box score of last Saturday's game did not indicate was that Apicella had gone down again, this time with a severely sprained left ankle, the same ankle that had been in a cast earlier this season.

In addition to the loss at Ridgewood, Karen Fucello's girls did not post a victory, edging a stubborn Kearny club, 34-31 in double overtime as Apicella watched from the bench. On the season, Belleville boasts an impressive 11-3 record.

This week, the girls hosted Passaic on Monday, are in Hackensack tonight for a 7:30 p.m. start and will host Kennedy High tomorrow afternoon. Next Tuesday, the club travels to Teaneck for a 4 p.m. start.

Apicella was whisked away to Mountsinai Hospital with her latest injury. Thankfully, the ankle was not broken and was placed in a soft cast of ace bandage and gauze. She was listed as questionable for the Passaic game, but knowing her, she will be in the lineup. The concern is for her future. She has sprained both ankles at least a half dozen times. Last Saturday, her left ankle was taped heavily and she was wearing high top sneakers, but she still twisted her ankle. How much more strain the leg will take is questionable.

To add to Apicella's woes, she went head first into the bleachers

Suburban Bucs 10-1 and Looking Toward Playoffs

When Joe Papasidero took the reigns of the Belleville boys' basketball program in November 1979, the coach knew that the key to long-term success would be a good program in the lower levels. If an athlete has a good knowledge of the program and the work it entails at the ninth grade level, then that athlete will have a better chance at success on the high school level.

Karen Fucello, the girls' basketball coach, has found that system very useful. Such players as Jennifer Apicella, Barbara Gundry and Dina De Aquino started their careers on the Suburban Basketball League and the girls' program on the varsity level has reaped the benefits over the last six seasons.

Winning is something that is not synonymous to boys' basketball at BHS. Papasidero has tried to turn that around and with his seventh and eighth grade players competing in a very good Suburban Basketball League, the feeling around the courts is that long-term success might be the result.

The coach of the seventh and eighth grade program is former varsity assistant, Rocco Colucci. Colucci's decision to move down to the suburban level was something that came convenient to him and has turned into a great move for the entire program. Papasidero has great respect for Rocco's coaching ability and with Colucci teaching the youngsters the same type of plays and drills the varsity uses, the transition on the high school level should be much easier.

"We're stressing strong, fundamental basketball," emphasized Colucci. "We're working all the rudiments of the game.

Most of these players are playing ball for the first time. I'm very big on fundamentals and I know that a younger player likes to shoot and run a lot, but the key to a solid program is one that is strong in fundamentals."

The coach also is working on defense. "I'm using a man to man principal," explained Colucci. "From there, we have gone to a little zone. We're trying our running game and we have some good height. At the eighth grade level, we have a few six footers already."

The results have been marvelous. The young Bucs are 10-1 entering this week's action. They have won a number of close games against some good teams, something that pleases Colucci. "We've been pulling out the close games, winning in the final minutes. The kids have adapted to pressure well."

The Suburban League is made up of two divisions, the A and B. In Division A, Millburn, Maplewood, Livingston, West Orange and Belleville compete. Over in Division B, it's Tenafly, Verona, Cedar Grove, West Caldwell and South Orange. The Bucs have also played an independent game against a good East Orange squad, in East Orange, and came away a winner.

Colucci also has two games scheduled with Montclair, always a strong basketball town, and a return match with East Orange that can be seen at Belleville High School tonight at 7:30 p.m., following the junior varsity game.

"We're running the program like a varsity program," said Colucci. "Basically, the plays are the same. When they get up to the high school level, the kids will know what weak side help is, they'll know how to turn a man into the weak areas, they will know how to fill the lanes. A guard will have an idea of how to run an offense, both against a man defense and a zone defense."

The coach is also happy with the turnout from the fans. "The Saturday afternoon games have been big. A few weeks ago, we played Millburn at Belleville and were down by eight points at the half and 10 entering the final quarter. The fans really got into the game and gave the kids some enthusiasm. We came back and won, 42-41. The fans have really been great."

There have been a lot of close games. The Bucs have beaten East Orange, 43-39, West Caldwell, 43-41, Maplewood, 40-35, Livingston in double overtime, 48-42, and suffered its only loss at the hands of Millburn, 58-53. "Maybe that loss helped us," said Colucci. "It told the kids that they have to play hard and practice hard all the time. We know we can win the close games, but we have to give 100 percent or more at all times. The league is very competitive, the teams are very well matched."

The biggest thing that Colucci stresses is discipline, the art of winning with style and losing with grace. "Sometimes the kids don't understand how important fundamentals are," said the coach. "We keep drilling them over and over, but it's the only way they will learn."

The coach is anxiously awaiting the playoffs. The format is the top two teams in each division earn playoff berths. There the top team in Division A battles the second place team in B, and the second place squad in A faces the top team in B. "There's a lot of good balance in this league," warned the coach. "Anyone can win the championship, the team who wants it the most will get it."

The coach also admits that his team has its shortcomings. Colucci noted the team can use a great deal of work in ball handling and free throw shooting, but that's something that will be corrected with time and patience.

"The key to success is communications," stressed Colucci. "There is some good talent here, I think the future of Belleville basketball looks very good. Communicating is very important. We have team meetings, we work on problems. The enthusiasm level is big, too. However, it's not all W and L, here. If we don't win, it's not the end of the world. After all, a billion Chinese don't know we're playing tonight. It's not the most important thing. Stressing participation is our goal."

The goal seems to be in good stead. The young players who make up the seventh and eighth grade program are the same young men who we will be rooting for in another two or three years. They seem to have injected new life into a once faltering program. Will the future of the Belleville basketball team be filled with a lot of victories? Maybe. But one thing is for sure. With a guy like Rocco Colucci on the lower levels and Joe Papasidero running the show on the varsity, the Bucs will certainly be in the running.

tainly be in the running.

Next week, the Belleville High School athlete of the month for January will be profiled.

The Belleville High School athlete of the week goes to Mike Giuffrida of the wrestling team. Mike has been doing a solid job for the grapplers the past month. The Bucs are currently 7-0-1 entering this week's action. Giuffrida, after a slow start, has come around with some impressive victories.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, name the 12 victories by the AFC in the Super Bowl and the MVP's in those wins. The answer: The Steelers won four Super Bowls, beating Minnesota, 16-6, Dallas twice, 21-17 and 35-31 and Los Angeles, 31-19. The Raiders have three wins, over Washington, 38-9, Minnesota, 32-14 and Philly, 27-10. Miami has two wins, beating Minnesota, 24-7 and Washington, 14-7. The Jets have the victory over the Colts, 16-7. Kansas City defeated Minnesota, 23-7 and Baltimore defeated Dallas, 16-13. The MVP's in Pittsburgh's victories were Terry Bradshaw, twice, Lynn Swann and Franco Harris. For the Raiders it was Marcus Allen, Jim Plunkett and Fred Biletnikoff. For Miami, Larry Csonka and Jake Scott. The Jets had Joe Namath, Kansas City, Len Dawson and for the Colts, it was nobody.

The year the Colts won the Super Bowl over Dallas, the Cowboys' Chuck Howley was named the MVP, the only time a player on the losing team won that honor.

For this week's quiz, name the MVP of the 1982 World Series and the score of the final game.

Fight manager Lou Duva had a profitable Sunday, Jan. 23 at Atlantic City, with two of his gladiators winning important battles. Johnny "Bump City" Bumphus, originally from Tacoma, Wash., now fighting out of Clementon, N.J. after a stopover in Nashville, Tenn. won the WBA junior welterweight championship by taking a unanimous 15-round decision from Lorenzo Garcia of Argentina. The judges saw the bout in Bumphus favor with scores of 146-143, 144-142 and 144-142. Bumphus, 23, in remaining undefeated raised his record to 20-0. Garcia, 27, saw his chart slip 53-2-7. In another bout on the card, Livingston Bramble of Passaic set himself in line as a lightweight title contender by taking a unanimous 10-round decision from previously undefeated Rafael Williams of Panama.

Efrain Maritz, regional vice president for the World Boxing Association (WBA) said Livingston Bramble, 21-1, and champion Ray "Boom Boom" Mancini must negotiate for a lightweight title fight by April 15 and fight before July 15. Johnny Bumphus, who won the WBA junior welterweight crown, has four challengers eying the crown, Leroy Haley, Steve Hearon, Ronnie Shields and Bruce Curry. Bramble and Bumphus are managed by Lou Duva.

Middleweight Andre Cooper of Blackwell, N.J. was handed his first setback in 17 pro fights by Allen Alexander of Chicago, Wednesday, at Atlantic City. Alexander in racking up this upset victory hurt Cooper with several solid shots to the jaw in the third round. The fight was all Alexander's after that 3rd-round until Cooper was unable to answer the bell for the ninth round. Alexander now displays a 14-2 diary. Cooper has a 16-1. The promoters will talk to the fighters and their representatives about a rematch.

Promoters Don Elbaum and Ted Menas announced, via their publicist Jim Taylor, they have signed Vineland, N.J.'s Mario Maldonado to square off with Pablo De Jesus of Rochester, N.Y. for Feb. 21 at Atlantic City's Tropicana.

Anthony Nardiello was born March 30, 1912 in Montclair, N.J. As a youth the family relocated to the Silver Lake section of Belleville, N.J. When he was in his teens he became interested in the fight game and took the name Ernie Ratner. Boxing in the East and Mid-West with his aggressive style and hard-punching Ernie became a contender for the featherweight title. During a career that spanned 10-years Ernie had 275 fights including battles with three champions of the time, Benny Bass, Jackie Wilson and Johnny Brennan. Among others he fought were: Tony Falco, Young Zazzarino, Buckey Jones, Joey Costa, Sal Falco, Carmen Roman, Frankie and Harry Carlton, Burt Isner, etc. He was known as the "Silver Lake Burnblebe" due to his perpetual motion fighting style. Today Ernie is a mild-mannered, charitable person who is always thinking about helping someone in need. He was inducted into the Boxing Hall of Fame September 23, 1973. Founder and 1st President of the Veteran Boxers Social Club which meets in the Nardiello Rec. Room, 177 Malone Ave., Belleville. Married to a wonderful girl, Antoinette and they have four married children. Back to Ernie Ratner's fighting days, he credits his trainers Neal Ferraro and Dick O'Connor, along with his famous manager, Willie Gilzenberg for his great boxing success.

HBO Cable sends word about changing the date of the Greg Page-Tim Witherspoon elimination bout for the vacant WBC heavyweight championship. Promoter Don King set the original date for Feb. 24. HBO said the new date will be sometime in March. Reason for the change: HBO made the change because they will televise the Sugar Ray Leonard comeback fight with Kevin Howard scheduled for Feb. 25.

Ray Mancini trained and stayed at The Eldorado Hotel-Casino for his title defense against Bobby Chacon. Chacon the same at the MGM Grand Hotel-Casino. Both training sites are located in Reno, Nev.

The "Earl of Hargrove," the hard-hitting 154-pounder out of Philadelphia, currently is rated as an elite challenger-8th in the WBC ratings, 5th among NABF junior middleweights, 10th in the latest Ring Magazine and Boxing Illustrated. Gary Heygi, Hanover's manager, is not happy that the WBA does not rate Earl. The fighter annihilated Muhammad Ali Shabazz on Dec. 17, at Atlantic City to maintain his successive KO record of 24 in 24 fights. Hargrove, 26, is trained by veteran middleweight title contender George Benton. His promotional rights are held by Bobby Connolly, Chester Springs, Pa. businessman. The signing for a March date on national television should be announced shortly. Prominent publicist Sy Roseman handles public relations for Connolly.

Boxing Writers of America announced the annual award winners for 1983 last week as follows: Edward J. Neil Award for Fighter of the Year: Marvelous Marvin Hagler; A Buck Award for Manager/Trainer of the Year: Pat & Goody Petronelli; Sam Taub Award for Boxing Sportscaster: Gil Clancy; Neil Fleischer Award for Outstanding Boxing Journalism: Vic Ziegel, New York Magazine; James J. Farley Award for Integrity in Boxing: John F. Condon and James J. Walker Award for Long Meritorious Service for Boxing: Thomas Kenville.

Emanuel Steward, Manager/Trainer of WBC welterweight champ Milton McCrory, said after McCrory knocked out inept Milton Guest in the fifth round. "McCrory wants Sugar Ray Leonard next." "We would like the fight to be made in May or before. If the fight won't be before June, we'll take a tuneup bout to stay sharp," Steward said.

Promoters Don Elbaum and Ted Menas has lined up an attractive lightweight matchup featuring the boxing card at The Tropicana on Feb. 7 as Joe Manley of Atlantic City battles Bobby Johnson of Easton, Pa. For Feb. 14 middleweight Charlie Boston of Trenton, N.J. meets an opponent to be named.

The Ring Magazine, known as the "Bible of Boxing," did not publish an issue in January. It is the first time the magazine was not published since it's beginning in 1922. The reason for the missed issue is due to a management reorganization that saw editor and publisher Bert R. Sugar being fired by the owners and associate editor Randy Gordon replacing.

Roger Mayweather, 17-0, of Las Vegas, Nev. who defends his WBA junior lightweight crown Feb. 26 against Rocky Lockridge, 32-3, of Maple Shade, N.J. said Thursday, "If I defeat Lockridge I want a title unification fight with WBC 130-pound champion Hector Camacho."

Victor "Flash" Gordon, 144½, of Hillside, N.J. outpointed Jorge Nina, 141½, of Passaic, N.J. at North Bergen's Scheutzen Park, Wednesday. Gordon returned to ring action after a 3-month layoff. He now has an 11-2 record. Heavyweight Bob Evans of Jersey City disposed of Young Louis of Detroit in the 3rd round.

Boxing returns to Allentown, Pa. Friday, Feb. 3 with veteran welterweight Willie "Fireball" Rodriguez of Allentown taking on Philadelphia's Ernest Jackson in a 10-rounder at the Holiday Inn. Rodriguez, who once held the WBC junior welterweight title from Mar. 22 1980 to Oct. 31, 1981, has been an in-and-outer recently. Jackson is a rugged boxer/puncher. It could be an interesting battle the first five rounds of the scheduled 10. The later rounds should be in Jackson's favor.

Angelo Dundee, Sugar Ray Leonard's longtime trainer, said from Florida, he would not join Leonard until two weeks before the Kevin Howard fight scheduled for Feb. 25. "I don't worry, Sugar Ray takes his training serious. When I see him he'll be ready to go. We'll just sharpen his punching a bit and discuss strategy for the Howard fight."

Indoor Track Squad Competes In Essex County Championships

The Belleville indoor track team took part in the Essex County championships last weekend and are gearing for the Ridgewood Invitational that will be held this weekend at Rockland Community College.

The competition at Rockland will mark the conclusion to the indoor season and head coach John Tosato will use the remainder of February for his squad to tune up for the outdoor season which begins in early March.

Tosato only sent six athletes to the county's that were held at Seton Hall University last weekend. The poor weather and consequently, the training schedule being off kilter, led to the coach's decision to field a small squad. This weekend, the coach plans to use his entire squad to close the season.

At Seton Hall, Patty Bliss placed sixth in the varsity two mile, coming through at 13:14. Tim Daudelin came through with his best throw in the shot put, heaving the iron ball 36'9.5". Joe Christ ran the mile, competing in the second heat, placing second in a personal best time of 5:08. Senior Nancy Cocco competed in the quarter mile.

Tosato's lineup this weekend will feature Bliss in the two mile and half mile, Bob Hutchinson in the two mile and mile, Tim Daudelin and Frank Trupia in the shot-put, Pete Gramatico and Larry Boscano in the sophomore shot put, Nancy Cocco will see action in the 300 and 1,000 meters.

Joe Christ will compete in the two mile, varsity, while Dom Ferry takes part in the sophomore mile. Sophomores Keith Clark and J.R. Di Vincenzo will take part in the competition, however, Tosato has not decided which events those two will take part in.

Freshman John Zurlo will see action in the sprints, as will another freshman, Berj Akain. Billy Huamani closes out the lineup with competition on the varsity mile and two mile.

"After this race, we'll work on the weights until the start of spring track," said Tosato. "We've had some good competition during the winter months. Because of the poor weather recently, we haven't trained as well as we would have liked, but we'll be looking forward to the outdoor season."

Lady Hoopsters Boost Record, 11-3; Apicella's Back and Scoring Again

early in the Ridgewood game, coming away with a bump on her head and a swollen shin. She's a tremendous competitor and just keeps fighting back. Jenny needs just 192 points, entering the Passaic game, to break the state scoring record.

Enough said on that, the girls played a good game with Ridgewood, but were hurt by some solid outside shooting and terrible officiating, the worst the girls have run into in a long, long time. Ridgewood jumped out to a 19-14 first quarter lead, extended the margin to 37-24 at halftime and kept pretty much in control during the second half. Ridgewood (11-2) was a very well drilled team and its height under the boards kept Belleville off track throughout the day, especially to 5'6" center Donna Brooks.

"Ridgewood's height really affected her," conceded Fucello of Brooks. "We need Donna's scoring, it takes some of the pressure off. Brooks was held scoreless for the day, fouling out with five minutes left in the game. Dina De Aquino was kept below her average, tallying eight points. Sheri Phelps, a sophomore whom Fucello is very high on, hit for five points, and Tracy Buono closed out the scoring with a field goal for two. "Sheri (Phelps) was very good," said Fucello. "Our younger players are moving into varsity positions because they listen and respond. That's why they're seeing more and more action."

Versus Kearny last Thursday, the girls were taken to the limit by a Kardinal team that showed just one victory (against 10 losses) coming in.

Belleville showed signs of taking command throughout the contest, but couldn't seem to put the Kardas away. Brooks finished the game as the high scorer with 14 points and De Aquino finished with 12, but Fucello, despite the win (her 150th of her career), wasn't too pleased. "We were lousy, we missed a ton of foul shots, we didn't show any killer instinct."

The Essex County tournament is just two weeks away. It's a tournament that will seed Belleville relatively high when the bids go out. Last season, Belleville finished fourth in the tourney. This year, Clifford Scott seems the early favorite, with Millburn, Nutley, Belleville and surprising Shabazz the front runners.

A few cinderella squads, mainly Columbia, might be in the running. It is a tourney that Belleville could win, but the girls will have to stay healthy and will need consistent performances as the most critical stretch of the season approaches.

NOTES: In 12 games, Apicella is averaging 33.8 ppg, and has scored 2,554 points in her illustrious career. Jenny is also shooting a solid 86 percent from the free throw stripes. Brooks is averaging 11.1 ppg, and hitting 59 percent while De Aquino stands at 10.7 and 52 percent. As a team, Belleville is shooting 70 percent from the line. Officials at the Ridgewood game were so bad that one school official commented, "They call all the stupid fouls and miss the obvious ones."

Jenny Apicella Named 'Athlete of the Month'

Jennifer Apicella of Belleville High School, the most prolific scorer in the state thus far this season, has been named the female New Jersey "Athlete of the Month" for December by a panel of statewide sportswriters.

The award winners were honored at a luncheon at the Bryne Meadows Arena, home of the New Jersey Nets. The Nets and First National State Bank of New Jersey are co-sponsors of this program, now in its second year.

Apicella, a pre-season All-American, continued her assault on the girls' state scoring record in December when she averaged 35.6 points in seven games. Currently sidelined with a fractured left wrist, the 5-9 forward has registered 2,513 points in her scholastic career and is just 232 points shy of Kate Larkin's all-time mark of 2,745.

A first-team All-State performer last season, Jennifer averaged 33.9 ppg. as a sophomore and 33.7 last year. This campaign, she's been beset with injuries, suffering a broken ring finger on her shooting hand in the second game (still scored 41 points), and incurred a sprained ankle two weeks ago before hurting her wrist when she was pushed into the bleachers on a layup attempt. Despite it all, she leads the state with a 33.1 scoring average and vows to return.
