Apicella Breaks Scoring Record

By Michael Lamberti

W.C. Fields once said, "I'd rather be in Philadelphia." If he were a Belleville basketball fan, he might have changed that phrase to "I'd rather be in Bayonne." Bayonne, not one of the top 10 vacation spots in the U.S., was the site as Jennifer Apicella accomplished the goal she set back in the fourth grade. Apicella broke the state scoring record, held by Kate Larkin since 1980, when she sank a foul shot in the fourth quarter to give her 2,746 career points.

"I'm glad she got the record, now we can get down to serious basketball," said head coach Karen Fucello. "This is a tribute to all the years of hard work, all the dedication it takes to be a good player. Jennifer started playing in the fourth grade and this is the culmination of many years of work."

About the only negative aspect surrounding the record evening was that Jenny's team lost, 66-59 to a good Bayonne squad as another all-American, senior

Bridgebrook Tenants Win Minor Battle With State

By Linda Telesco

In what is a victory of sorts, tenants of the Bridgebrook Garden Apartment Complex and township officials will meet with Community Affairs Commissioner John P. Renna, to discuss health and safety violations at the residence at 725 Jorammon St.

In what has been a continuing drama for them, tenants turned out in full force at the Feb. 6 Commissioners' meeting seeking pressing action on their protests against the management, Govel Associates, and the owners of the 250-unit complex. Tenants have been complaining to local officials since last November that they are forced to live with plumbing, electrical and structural violations in the complex, which is presently in the process of converting to a condominium development.

As a multi-unit dwelling, Bridgebrook technically falls under the jurisdiction of state health and safety officials, but tenants complain that those inspectors repeatedly overlook violations in their regular reviews given every five years.

Responding to tenants' request for official support, Commissioners wrote to the Community Affairs Department chief last month, asking for a special overall inspection of the premises.

In a Jan. 13 reply, Renna denied the request for the inspection. "We have seen nothing to date which suggests that an independent survey will be necessary," the letter reads.

Dissatisfied, Mayor Michael Marotti wrote another letter Feb. 2 repeating the request for some official action.

"What has been the response from the state," asked tenant spokesman Sam Papa at last week's meeting.

Mayor Marotti said a Feb. 2 letter from Renna offers to meet with the tenants and their attorney for discussion and further explanation of the state's position in the matter.

Donna Rainone Seeking Re-election as Trustee

By Ed Capparucci

Donna Rainone, a three-year veteran of the Board of Education, has announced she will be seeking re-election to board for a second term.

Rainone becomes the third person — joining board Vice President Thomas Spillane and former assistant superintendent of schools Sy Grossman — to announce candidacy for the upcoming April 3 election. But as of Tuesday afternoon no candidates had officially filed petitions with the board secretary-business administrator.

"For the past three years I have been working hard because I want what is best for the community of Belleville," Rainone said in an interview Tuesday morning. "and I want to continue to help Belleville and its school district by serving on the Board of Education for another three years. We have made many major accomplishments over the past three years, but there is still much work needed to be completed and I want to be a part of it."

Rainone was elected to the board in 1981, placing second among six candidates and just six votes behind first-place finisher Spillane. After her election, Rainone left her post as coordinator of the children's placement program for the Essex County court system, when county officials said her board seat was a conflict of interest. Instead of resigning her board seat, Rainone instead resigned from her job, saying she "owed it to the people who elected her, not to walk away from her responsibilities."

During her three-year term on the School Board, Rainone has served on several committees including the vocational education advisory council, the drug and alcohol abuse committee, the transportation committee, the adult school education council and the Blue Ribbon committee, which established goals for the school district. She also serves as the board's representative on the Essex County Educational Service Committee and the county's School Board Association Council.

"There are many accomplishments which have been made over the years by the Board of Education, and I am very proud of the board's working relationship," Rainone said.

"While members of the board themselves have individual differences, we continue to work as a unit with a common goal. I think it is important that we can recognize our differences and yet work together to meet the same goals. I am not saying that in the past the board's relationship has been bad, but during my term things have been basically smooth."

Rainone also points out the board's achievements in improving special education programs and administration appointments in recent years.

"I am very encouraged by the appointments which we have made in recent months concerning administration," she noted. "We were

Adubato Plans Action Over Fund Cutbacks

Action to restore $65,000 in state monies originally promised then withdrawn from Belleville will be taken this week by Assemblyman Stephen Adubato.

Adubato, who appeared before Commissioners last week to detail his plans, proposed to introduce legislation this week for a special assistance appropriation of $65,000 to be used by the township for public safety department purposes.

Along with the district's other assemblyman, Buddy Fortunato, Adubato also sponsored legislation calling for a Feb. 16 hearing in the Assembly Municipal Government Committee.

Adubato will testify before the committee which has the power to subpoena officials of the Department of Community Affairs, the division which withdrew the original allocation from Belleville, for an explanation of the decision.

The legislator told Commissioners last week he was outraged by the "arbitrary standard applied by this (Gov. Kean's) administration," a complaint he repeated in a recent letter about the decision to Community Affairs Commissioner John Renna.

The $65,000 allocation was to come to Belleville through an emergency $74 million spending package approved last month by the

Assault Case Transferred

A hearing on the assault countercharges involving Belleville's construction code official, Robert Domenick, and an activist citizen, Joseph Fornarotto, has been transferred to Bloomfield Municipal Court.

On Feb. 8, Belleville's Municipal Judge Edward Abramson granted the request for a change in venue made by the attorneys for both Domenick and Fornarotto.

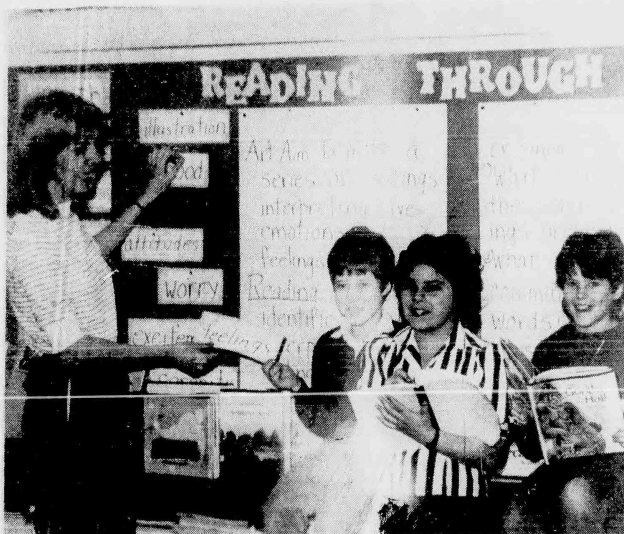

In agreeing to the change, Judge Abramson said Domenick's status as a township employee represented a conflict of interest to have a hearing in Belleville.

Belleville prosecutor Frank Cozzarelli is representing Domenick. Attorney for Fornarotto is Marvin Waxman of East Orange.

Both Domenick and Fornarotto have charged each other with simple assault resulting from a Jan. 24 altercation in the township's public affairs department on 382 Washington Ave.

According to Fornarotto, he visited the municipal office to speak with Commissioner Michael Pizzi who was in his office. While waiting for Pizzi, the citizen said he conversed in an outer office with township's registrar, Ralph Risoli.

Shortly after 8 a.m., Domenick

'American Silhouettes' At Library This Friday

The Belleville Public Library will present the play 'American Silhouettes' this Friday, Feb. 17 starting at 8 p.m.

'American Silhouettes' is a play with the humor, ambition, destiny and dreams that made the American pageant from the birth of liberty to contemporary times. In a 45-minute period, 12 dramatic portraits cover 10 historical periods which paralleled middle and high school curriculum for civics and American history.

'American Silhouettes' was conceived and will be performed by Gerald and Marge Fierst of Montclair. The Fiersts have appeared separately in such feature films as 'Author, Author,' 'Paternity,' 'Roller,' and 'The World According to Garp.' They each have appeared in off-Broadway productions and in a variety of television performances, from commercials to soap operas.

'American Silhouettes' is part of Belleville Public Library's focus on U.S. history during the month of February. There will be a $2 admission charged for this program, $1 for senior citizens and students. Partial funding and after-performance refreshments will be provided by the Friends of the Belleville Public Library. Please call 759-9200 for more information.

McDonald's Offering A Community Tour

McDonald's restaurant probably is a favorite spot of many members of the community, but did you know that they can come behind the scenes and see how the food is prepared?

Tours of McDonald's in Belleville are available for groups. The community is invited to bring its class or troop to McDonald's for one of our special "backstage" tours.

Not only is a McDonald's tour fun — but it has educational value, giving a chance to see first-hand what goes on behind the scenes in a restaurant.

The group, carefully supervised, will be guided through the entire operation by store activities representative Lovelle Melillo, and every step will be explained and pointed out to them.

If you are interested in planning such a tour of McDonald's for class or troops, please call Melillo at 751-6700, and we'll be happy to make arrangements for a tour.

Tax Tips

Dear H & R Block

Q. Every year I get a homestead rebate from New Jersey. Do I have to show it as income on my tax return? W.H., Newark.

A. You do not have to report the rebate as income. However, when you are itemizing deductions on a Schedule A you must deduct the rebate from the total property tax paid for the year. Only the net figure can be claimed as a deduction.

Q. In the restaurant where I work as a waitress, the owner is complaining about how he'll have to figure our tips for the IRS. Does this mean I just wait for him to tell me how much I made for the year? B.C., Belleville.

A. One thing the new regulations did not change is the fact that anyone receiving tips must report to his employer, before the 10th of the following month, if his tips were more than $20 during the month. The employer must then withhold federal income tax and social security tax from your wages to cover this tip income. At the end of the year the employer must follow a somewhat complicated formula to let you know the amount of tip income he is required to show on your W-2.

Q. For many years my wife and I have owned a three-family house and lived on the first floor. Now we plan to retire, sell the house, and move to an apartment in Arizona near our daughter. Am I correct in saying I don't have to report the sale because I'm over 55? O.C., East Orange.

A. You are always expected to report the sale of your residence no matter what your age or whether you sold at a gain or a loss. In addition, in your case you are talking about two separate transactions — your personal residence and business property. Since you are over 55, you can exclude from tax up to $125,000 of gain on the sale of your personal residence. The sales proceeds not allocated to your personal apartment represent the sale of the business portion of the house. Hear the senior citizen exclusion does not apply.

Q. I sent some money to one of the candidates for governor last year. Where do I take credit for this on my tax form? F.C., Nutley.

A. You may deduct half of what you donated as a credit — up to a $50 credit for a single individual or $100 for a married couple. A credit is a direct reduction of your income tax liability.

It is estimated that insomnia affects 13% of the men, and 20% of the women in this country. If you are one of them, be sure of the facts before turning to drugs as a cure. Sleeping medications become habit-forming after about 3 weeks. There is a continuing increase in tolerance and more of the drug may have been used to get to sleep. The problem with the group of drugs called the benzodiazepines, such as Dalmane and Valium, is that they suppress deep sleep and thus may keep you from feeling refreshed. In addition, most benzodiazepines remain in the blood for 30-60 hours, during which time you may be inclined to take even more. Therefore, you may end up feeling foggy during the day.

If you are getting this reaction from your sleeping medication be sure to speak to your doctor before continuing its use. Board of Education Moving Along To Update and Improve Curriculum

By Ed Capparuci
The Board of Education recently approved the hiring of 41 teachers on Saturdays to improve and update the school district's current curriculum guides in the elementary, middle and senior high schools.

The teachers will be meeting Saturday mornings for the first time in an attempt to revise and reconstruct the curriculum program employed by the Belleville school district.

"We feel that curriculum is an ongoing process which should not stop functioning at 3 p.m.," said Michael Lally, assistant superintendent of schools, during a recent interview.

Michael Lally
"An Ongoing Process"

"By having Saturday curriculum sessions, we are giving our staff an opportunity to work in a relaxed atmosphere, at their own pace, with resources at hand and under the direction of supervision. We believe that by providing this, the end product will be a very productive and effective one."

Currently curriculum revision is taking place in the high school and middle school, but Lally pointed out that the board has posted positions for curriculum work in the elementary level, which he hopes will come very soon.

"On the middle school level we are working on three areas of curriculum development at the present time — computers, writing and social studies," Lally said. "We have employed seven teachers and they have been meeting on Saturday mornings since Jan. 17. The program will end Feb. 18."

"At this point I am happy to say that we have eight disciplines (subject areas) at the high school level which are currently being developed and revised," he continued. "There are 27 teachers and five area supervisors reviewing the areas of math, social studies, business, science, related arts, physical education and health, art and music and English. The administration is very confident with the moves being made in these areas."

On the elementary level Lally pointed to the areas of language, art, social studies and science, which will be reviewed hopefully in March by 21 teachers on Saturdays.

"The curriculum guides in these areas need work," he said, "and we plan to take a long and hard look at these areas on the elementary school level. Right now we have posted the positions and hope to start the program in early March."

In creating a basic curriculum format, Lally said the instructors must see that they work closely together.

"When attempting to establish a curriculum format, teachers must keep in mind that they must maintain a standard approach in all the fields," he said. "You do not want teachers moving curriculum along at different paces and losing sight of the counterparts."

"Also it is very important to realize that no curriculum is developed without the philosophy of what you want to do, where you're headed, and it should be constant with the philosophy of the school district," he continued. "Once philosophy has been established then the objectives are defined and the procedure continues from there." Several weeks ago county and state officials visited Belleville in order to review the school system's working process — and one element they looked deeply into was curriculum.

"I believe that when the report is filed it will show that state and county officials were pleased with our effort to revise and update curriculum in the Belleville school district," said Lally. "Curriculum is the nuts and bolts of a school system, and a majority of the county's time was spent reviewing ours." What makes Belleville administrators even more happy is that the Saturday curriculum program did not cost them a dime.

"We were very fortunate to have applied for and received a block grant totalling $22,000," Lally said. "This money will be used not only for curriculum updating, but to purchase computer software and instruct teachers on how to use computers. We plan on spending every cent of the grant."

"I know computers inside and out, like Block knows taxes."

"I'm trained to know computers, not taxes. So I rely on H&R Block for tax preparation. Block keeps up with the tax changes. They're trained to spot every deduction and credit I'm entitled to."

They must be good; three out of every four Block clients get a refund."

Montclair School System Names Kealy as Director

Edward Kealy of Belleville was appointed the new director of special projects by the Montclair Board of Education last week.

In naming Kealy to the post, which pays $40,000 a year, the board hopes to develop new educational programs with the help of federal and state grants and private funding.

Kealy, formerly administrative assistant to the superintendent of the Bayonne schools, noted that some of his priorities are to "reverse the funding decline to establish more effective government relations, broaden the funding base, relieve the taxpayers' burden and establish programs for the corporate and business sectors."

Kealy replaces Stephanie Robinson, who left the school system to accept a position as education director of the National Urban League. Robinson has been special projects director since 1977.

Kealy received his doctorate in sociology from Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., in 1974. He joined the Bayonne Board of Education in 1978 as Federal Project Director for School Desegregation. He held that job until 1982 when he was named administrative assistant to the superintendent.

Jennifer Apicella

It came as no surprise that Jennifer Apicella broke the state record last week when Belleville played Bayonne and Jennifer scored 36 points, bringing the grand total to 2,755 — 10 points above the old record established by Kate Larkin in 1980.

Jennifer Apicella is a profile of courage. Playing with a busted wrist wrapped in bandages, two injured ankles, but with a heart full of grit — Jennifer went on to achieve another in a series of honors which are unique to this beautiful young lady.

Being the star of the Belleville High School women's basketball team is only part of Jennifer's claim to fame. She is an honor student with a standing in the higher reaches of her class. Her beauty of face and body are matched with a beauty of soul — for she is a caring, compassionate human being.

Although she stands out as a star, Jennifer is a team player. Her achievements through her high school years lay in the foundation for what may perceive to be a future outstanding college athlete and student.

Jennifer's newest success marks a proud day for the Township of Belleville. Jennifer's ribbons, trophies, crowns, only add to the civic pride of our community people. The Board of Education has announced it will be retiring her number — a first in sports for Belleville.

With a mended body but with full heart, Jennifer seemingly accomplished the impossible. When she broke her wrist a few weeks back, it appeared that Jennifer's opportunity to break the state record was gone forever. Led by her proud father, Tom Apicella, family members, teammates, coaches, and a few intimate friends who never gave up on Jennifer — and neither did she.

Jennifer, God love and bless you, and keep you. All Belleville is proud of your achievements. And may you serve as an inspiration for the young ladies who are following in your footsteps now and in the years ahead.

Baloney Politics

This week Congressman James Courter, New Jersey campaign manager for the Reagan-Bush campaign, stated Republicans will attempt to show that Democrats are to blame for the huge federal deficit.

It is outrageous to think that Republicans will blame Democrats for the huge deficits of the last three years and the anticipated $200 billion deficit of the current year.

Time and again we have read in the press and heard on television that the deficit accumulated during the Reagan years add up to a greater deficit than the combined deficits which existed since the founding of the Republic to the day that Reagan became responsible for his budget.

The interest cost of the Reagan deficits takes a deep cut of our tax dollars. There is no way Independent or Democratic voters can swallow the line that Democrats alone are to blame for the huge federal deficit.

There are many reasons why President Ronald Reagan should be re-elected. Blaming the Democrats for Republican deficit spending is not one of them. That's baloney politics.

Joseph Biancardi

Last week a Belleville benefactor took the long journey we all must take. Departing from this life was former Assemblyman and labor leader, Joseph Biancardi.

Belleville knew Joe as a dedicated family man. The center face of his family love and dedication was his daughter Arlene Pannullo. Joe's neighbors — and friends — for they were legendary, knew him as a charitable, caring individual. During his lifetime Joe Biancardi befriended many.

Joe Biancardi is gone, but he will never be forgotten — for his deeds of kindness and thoughtfulness will forever remain as reminders that a man with a big heart walked among us.

Letters in Print

Times Doesn't Cover Enough Rec Sports

To the editor:

I'm writing this letter concerning your coverage of youth events in the town of Belleville. Being affiliated with many youth programs, I know that within the last month we've had some tremendous events for youth, but absolutely zero coverage by your paper. The Juvenile Diabetes Foundation Tournament, co-sponsored by the Belleville Recreation Department and the N.Y. Cosmos, was a tremendous success and in fact Mr. Ed Capparucci was given tickets to the finals at the Meadowlands Arena but no Mr. Capparucci and no coverage. A Belleville resident, Susan Narucki, sang the National Anthem and Chico Borja of the Cosmos had his best day indoors as a professional. He is also a Belleville resident.

On Jan. 25, 1983 the Belleville Recreation All-Stars, composed of 18 boys ages 8-9, played at Madison Square Garden in a preliminary game before the Cosmos-Tampa Bay game. Mr. Capparucci was sent tickets to this event also. No coverage. No Mr. Capparucci.

In a discussion with Mr. Capparucci, he stated that space is limited to fit in articles every week. I know 10 articles on these and other events are submitted every week.

Wednesday night shows nothing for the directors of these programs because the articles are not printed.

I might add that the Belleville Post and Herald News give priority to Rec events. Maybe they feel their giving the youths recognition will aid their development and interest and, on the other hand, people buy papers when they know their sons' or daughters' names are in it.

Should I tell people to pick up the Herald News on Saturday and the Belleville Post (it's free) and they manage good coverage.

I feel that the youth activities of the town should have precedence over the Jets, Giants, and professional boxing. Your paper is local, keep it local. My opinions as stated above are strictly my own as a concerned parent and taxpayer.

Sincerely,
R.P. Travers

Resident Likes Snow Removal

To the editor:

I have resided in Belleville over 50 years and I have never seen snow without big problems. Commissioner Joseph Grande did a hell of a job. He had his men out at once salting and plowing all streets — this also means side streets.

Commissioner Grande did this with broken down equipment, some kept together with wire. Also had one truck burnt up. We of Belleville should see that this man has proper equipment and we will never have to worry about snow removal. Keep up the good work Joe.

Brave Little Girl Still Waiting For Transplant

To the editor:

We want to thank you for permitting our letters to be published in your newspaper. Your kindness is appreciated.

This letter is to keep you abreast of how our granddaughter, Katie Reilly, our liver baby, is doing. She re-entered Children's Hospital, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, in mid-January where she was hospitalized for four days. Katie was examined by teams of physicians — neurologists, cardiologists, internists and pediatricians. Two nights she went without food for 14 hours so that they could perform a multitude of x-rays and blood tests. She was pricked, poked, stroked, you name it, but a real sweetheart and trooper through it all. The good news is that she is a good candidate for a liver transplant.

More good news is that with the help of Nutley Mayor Carmen Orechio and Mrs. Barbara Lightner, an employee of the McDonald's Corp., as regional public relations coordinator of special events, we may also reach our financial goal. Through a program called "Sharing Is Caring," mayors throughout the state are being contacted to have their townspeople, businesses, schools and organizations help us in this effort. The response has been very gratifying. Softball tournaments, sing-a-thons, bowl-a-thons, bike-a-thons, cut-a-thons, etc., are in the planning stages. A television via Suburban Cable and Orechio Broadcast, Channels 3 and 36, has been scheduled for Sunday, June 10, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the Eighth Floor Restaurant, 800 Bloomfield Ave., Nutley. You'll be hearing more about this shortly. We'll keep you posted and advised of our progress.

New medication has helped curtail the itching Katie endures (from the poisons and enzymes through the pores of her skin). Her spleen has enlarged and more scar tissue has formed on her liver — signs of the disease's progression — but Katie is in stable condition at this time.

My son, Kevin, has had a beeper donated to him that will be used to contact him when a liver donor is found. And now we play the waiting game. We have very mixed emotions about this since a small child must die in order for our Katie to live. Most of the liver donors are from children who were involved in motor vehicle accidents. How does one approach a parent at a time like that? It is a very difficult decision. But we can't buy a liver, it can only be donated. And if another might live through the donation of a bodily organ, what better way to be remembered; what better way to be consoled.

May I take this opportunity to thank all of our readers — all of you who have sent donations and also written to us. Your letters have given us much encouragement and reinforced our hopes. Your donations have totalled almost $5,000. We cannot thank you enough for your support and for your prayers. God bless you all.

Pro Wrestling Is Appreciated

To the editor:

I would like to thank those people involved for bringing pro wrestling to Belleville. The bouts are enjoyable and the money goes to a worthy cause. I hope to someday see my favorite grapple, the 400-pound savage terror from Sudan, "Abdullah the Butcher" appear here. I also like "Ric Flair" and also "The Mummy." My guess is that the Masked Superstar is the third Valiant Brother who was known as Gentleman Jerry Valiant.

High School SGO Members Participate In Convention

The New Jersey Association of Student Councils, a state-wide organization designed to aid high school student council groups by furthering and improving student participation in school government, held its 58th annual convention on Jan. 5.

Dennis Bogdan, SGO vice president; Christina Hallam, treasurer; Nancy Ritschel, secretary; Tim Daudelin, Theresa Battista, Kelly Beetsch and Claudia Hartman, students at Belleville High School, attended the meeting at Trenton State College accompanied by Mrs. Patricia Pugliese, faculty advisor.

Delegates to the convention heard Charlie Plumb, a Vietnam prisoner of war, author and communications expert, address the 1,800 students and advisors in attendance. They also participated in workshops led by member schools and guest presenters. The day's highlights included the awarding of Honor School Certificates, of which the SGO was a third-year recipient, and the election of the 1984 NJASC officers.

Golden Comments

By James Golden

We are very much disturbed by our New Jersey Senator Frank R. Lautenberg's calling off his phone bill access charge fee fight at this time. He had been a key proponent of a Senate bill to impose a two-year moratorium on new residential and small-business telephone access fees.

In a floor speech, Senator Lautenberg abandoned the pending legislation and urged his Senate colleagues to do the same in light of the "substantial corrections" made by the FCC regarding the telephone access charges.

The FCC, yielding to congressional, consumer and election-year pressure, tentatively agreed to postpone the flat monthly $4 access charges until mid-1985. The FCC had planned to impose the fees in April this year.

The agency, under pressure from the White House and Republicans who were concerned about higher telephone rates in an election year, also made other changes that were compatible with the proposed Senate bill. One change included a mandate to provide lifeline telephone service for the poor and the elderly.

Lautenberg, who played a key role in getting the senate legislation out of committee, argued in his floor speech that the Senate should not put the FCC in a "legislative strait jacket." He said, now that the FCC has responded to congressional desires, the Senate should give the agency a chance to do its job over the next year and a half while the moratorium is in effect.

While Senator Lautenberg did say "If the agency again shifts its course or does not take appropriate action, Congress will not be precluded from adopting legislation." That may be true, but the time to act is now, not later. Now the FCC has the authority to invoke these charges at any time, they only "backed-off" because the President and the Republicans knew the outraged public would vote against Mr. Reagan. However, were the Congress to enact by law a ban on these vicious access charges, the FCC would be stripped of its power to assess these unconscionable charges. President Reagan has already stated that he will fight any effort to prevent the access charges.

That in itself is a clear indication that come the spring and summer of 1985 these fees will be tacked on to everybody's telephone bill, unless congressional legislation banning them is passed.

We sent the following signed letter to Senator Lautenberg: "I respectfully find myself at variance with your announced decision to call off the phone fee fight predicated upon the 'substantial corrections' made by the FCC.

"These corrections are a patent temporary pre-election palliative designed to enhance the President's 1984 election. Without congressional legislation banning the access charges the FCC may, at any time, impose these unconscionable $4 a month charges.

"Why should anyone be arbitrarily assessed for services they may never use, just to subsidize AT&T? The proper way to resolve this controversy is by congressional action. Charges should be only made upon long-line calls with the access charge levied upon that call, added to the prescribed rate for the call.

"Mr. Fowler is a protege of Mr. Reagan and probably will do his bidding. We already know the President has expressed his determination to fight Congress on any bills to prevent these faulty access charges.

"I have little faith in the promises of this Administration. Stick to the tenor of your floor action that the Senate should impose a two-year moratorium on residential access charges. Contrary to your floor speech, I feel the FCC SHOULD be put in a "legislative strait jacket" in this matter, otherwise, as sure as God made little green apples, you can bet your bottom dollar Fowler and the FCC will invoke the damnable access charge.

"The time for action is now. Why wait? Spring and summer 1985 will be upon us soon...We know damn well the FCC will rule to impose these charges then, if Congress doesn't act now. I am disappointed with your reversal of position on this issue. Hopefully you will see the light and avert criticism from your constituents. SIGNED. Respectfully yours."

Should you share these views on this vital issue, write these senators and congress persons. It can make a difference in how they respond to your sentiments. After all they wouldn't be there without your votes.

ED-ITORIALIZING

Comments About Special Ed Children Are Unnecessary, Ignorant and Rude

By Ed Capparucci

Sitting at Board of Education meetings, a newspaper person hears many interesting comments which do not always make their way into print. The reason being that the statements made would cause a great deal of embarrassment to the speaker and have nothing more than a negative effect on the community. Not to mention that the comments have absolutely no worthy news content at all.

The statements which I am referring to concern special education students in the Belleville school system. I have been attending board meetings for two years and at times it seems most people think of special education children as second-class citizens, who cause the system nothing but problems. At the School Board's recent budget presentation a woman made a comment that all special education students should be housed in the board complex on Cortlandt Street, thus saving the school system money in transportation cost. The proposal was absurd and immediately criticized by members of the board and administrators.

To segregate special education children is against the law and more importantly, a strike against human rights and decency.

Special education children may have handicaps and learning disabilities, but they are still children and must remain mainstreamed. For once their education is completed, they must function in the real world. The will have to deal with everyday situations and cope with problems we all face each day. How will they be able to make the transition into society — a transition many of us find hard to adjust to at the beginning — if they are kept segregated during their school careers.

But this comment was only one of many which have been made over the years concerning special education students and their needs. As one board member commented: "It is sad to see how insensitive and ignorant some people can be in our community when it comes to special education children."

It makes you wonder what it is that makes some people look down upon special education children. Are they afraid to have their kids surrounded by special education kids — there is no contagious disease to be caught. The only disease is the terrible prejudice which exists against special education students.

I must point out this is not an attack against the Board of Education, which has perhaps made greater moves in improving conditions and programs for the special ed students than any other board. It is also not an attack against a majority of the people in this community who are truly concerned with the special education program. This is not really an attack at all, but instead a plea for the few you run off at the mouth to think before they speak. They are an embarrassment to themselves and the community.

The Board of Commissioners seem to be stuck on what to do about the vacancy left by out-going Public Safety Commissioner Matthew Pica. Word has it that the post will remain vacant until the November election, that is unless the state law can be changed allowing an earlier election date. The thinking here is that to leave the seat empty would be a terrible mistake. A commission form of government is designed to operate with five leaders, not four. Granted Mayor Marotti, along with police Chief George Lister and fire Chief George Sbarra, could run the show smoothly until November, but once again the commission form of government is a five man operation.

Since the vacancy would only have to be filled for eight months, the remaining four commissioners should appoint a new member and logical thinking would leave you to guess that former Commissioner Vincent Strumolo, who placed sixth in the last commission race would be a solid choice.

Mr. Strumolo knows the community and he knows what the post of commissioner entails. And despite his loss last May, he is still a very popular figure around town. In fact, if Strumolo would have taken the time to campaign at all last spring, he perhaps would still be a commissioner at this moment.

The other choice the Town Fathers have is to select retired commissioner Mary Senatore. Mrs. Senatore stepped down from community politics last year after serving as commissioner since 1967. If the commissioners do select Mrs. Senatore she has made it clear that she will not be a candidate for re-election in November.

Whether it be Strumolo or Senatore, the Board of Commissioners owe it to the people of this community to make sure that the best possible representative is available to everyone. And the only way that proper leadership can be maintained in a commission form of government is with five — not four — town fathers.

Belleville Juniors Project

'Life of Mr. Newspaper' Will Be Shown in Schools

During the next few months, the Junior Membership Department of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs, in cooperation with Garden State Paper Co., the world's largest manufacturer of newsprint made entirely from newspapers, will be undertaking a program to educate school children in kindergarten through fourth grade about the importance of newspaper recycling.

"The Life of Mr. Newspaper," a slide show developed by Garden State Paper for elementary school children, will be featured as part of the program. The show traces in cartoon form the unlimited life of a recycled newspaper as it goes from the home to the paper mill to the printing plant where the cycle begins again.

Soon, the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville will be taking this program into the Belleville schools. Club members will be encouraging the children and their families to recycle their newspapers at their nearest recycling center to help conserve valuable landfill space, energy and natural resources.

Jeanne Bakelar, the state conservation chairman for the General Federation of Women's Clubs' Jersey Juniors, commented that many members are already involved in some aspect of their town's recycling program and that taking recycling information into the schools is a natural step in helping to increase public awareness.

"Service is the primary goal of our organization," stated Ann Quinn, director of the state's 117 Junior Women's Clubs. "Our members undertake a wide variety of community based projects, many of which involve children."

The Junior Woman's Club of Belleville is part of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the largest non-denominational, non-partisan, international service organization of volunteer women in the world.

The wedding is planned for June 29, 1985.

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,

Since I heard that the regular hair dye can give you cancer, I changed to a non-peroxide in an ash shade, I like it but it is not as dark as the other colors I was using. I would like to know how to get the desired color. I keep the color on my head the same amount of time as the other color. Is there a way that you can suggest?

Susan Murphy

Dear Susan,

I personally believe that when the time comes, we all have to go! If I were you, I wouldn't worry about cancer if you like the old color. If you still want to use the non-peroxide colors, they can be mixed. Take 3 oz. of the shade desired and mix with 1/2 oz. of the darker shade. Shake the mixture well. The longer you keep this mixture on your hair, the darker it will come. Leave it on until you achieve the desired shade.

Your non-worrier who enjoys every day of his life, Umberto

Times' Theater Review

Nutley Little Theatre's 'Mass Appeal' Survives Despite Small Setbacks

By Kim Kosko

The Nutley Little Theatre's first production of the new year may not exactly appeal to the masses, but you've got to give the group credit for its ambitious presentation of Bill L. Davis's "Mass Appeal." Not that the play is demanding or complex in any way. If anything, the comedy drama is perfectly suited to the intimate atmosphere of the Little Theatre. It's a two-act, two-character play that calls for a minimal, simplistic set. Yet, therein lies the problem.

Realistically, one would not expect the Little Theatre to attempt "The Sound of Music" within the confines of its playhouse. But a two-character play presents a considerable challenge to the players. It takes an extremely strong and powerful piece of writing to carry two players, and vice versa. When you have both meshing consistently, the resulting production can be electrifying. When you have one, it can still be outstanding. For the most part, the NLT presentation managed to achieve and maintain the level of performance that the play itself demands. It was only when the performers fell short sporadically throughout the first act that the play had a tendency to drag. By the end of the first act however, both the elements seemed to mesh and the resulting second act made for an evening of thoroughly entertaining theatre.

The play revolves around the relationship of a young seminarian (Dennis McConnell) and an aging priest (Fred Chomowicz) faced with the doubts and changes of the priesthood, and how they both come to grips with their respective realizations. Both McConnell and Chomowicz were able to reach into the depths of their characters and convey the vulnerability and passionate convictions of their characters. It was when the two seemed to connect and click that the play reached its full potential. McConnell's raw, unbridled energy throughout act two when he is faced with the reality of being forced to leave the seminary, seemed to encourage Chomowicz and the resulting interplay between the characters was enough to carry the performance to a believable, moving and dramatic climax.

Credit is due to Director Jack DeVries, Dennis McConnell and Fred Chomowicz. Heaven knows, "Mass Appeal" is not an easy undertaking despite its apparent simplicity. But the trio managed to meet the challenge and grace the audience with an evening of consistently satisfying theatre.

Essex County Holding Budget Hearings Here

The Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders announced it will hold a series of public hearings on the Shaprio Administration's proposed budget for fiscal 1984.

According to Freeholder President Jerome D. Greco and Vice President Corrina A. Kay, the hearings are being held at five locations throughout the county, including Belleville, "to give the public ample opportunity to communicate its concerns and ideas about a budget, or policy document, that will affect the lives of the almost one million people who reside in Essex County."

Hearings are scheduled to be held in Belleville, Verona, South Orange, Millburn and Newark at various times. Among the more controversial: The Division of Welfare, scheduled for Feb. 29, the subject of an ongoing freeholder investigation looking into allegations of wasteful spending.

"Budgets are puzzles which must be examined closely to see what they propose to do," said Greco. "Therefore it is important that the public participate in the budget process, for it affects their taxes and the government services it demands."

The Belleville meeting will take place at the Essex County Geriatrics Center, 520 Belleville Ave., on Feb. 27 starting at 3 p.m.

Donna Rainone Will Seek Re-election

fortunate that we did not have to go outside the system but instead could promote from within. The leadership we now have in the Belleville school system is solid and strong.

"I am also happy with the moves which have been made in the area of special education in our school system," she continued. "But what we must be done in the way of curriculum development and facilities for special education students."

Born and raised in Belleville, Rainone attended School 5, the junior high and graduated from Belleville High School in 1973. She attended Notre Dame University, where she majored in psychology and graduated in 1977.

She is currently the president of the Tri-Town Business and Professional Women's Organization, a member of Big Brothers and Sister of Newark and Essex, chairman of the Salvation Army Extension Unit of Belleville, a member of the Belleville Juvenile Conference Committee and was honored in 1982 by the Belleville Italian-American Civic Association for her outstanding service to the youth of Belleville. She was also voted in 1982 as the Outstanding Young Career Woman by the New Jersey Federation of Business and Professional Women.

"Being a member of the Board of Education is a big job," Rainone said. "It takes a lot of hours and hard work and anyone who thinks of running for the board for the sake of gaining awards and receiving praise is doing it for the wrong reasons. I am interested in the welfare of the children of this community and this is the way in which I feel I can do my best for them."

Plan For Tomorrow Today

All IRAs are not the same. An IRA from Fidelity & Guaranty Life provides all of the well-publicized benefits of tax-deferred retirement planning and more.

Our IRA may include a disability feature that guarantees to increase your IRA's value even if you become disabled. If you are ever seriously disabled for six months or more, payments equal to the average annual premium paid for the three years preceding will be made by us. Your annual balance continues to grow just as if you were making the payments yourself.

Why take a chance on your retirement funds? Our disability provision is an important benefit — one that banks and savings & loans cannot offer. It eliminates the possibility of an unfortunate disability forcing your retirement nest egg to come up short.

Build for tomorrow today — confident that your IRA will continue to grow even if you're disabled — with an IRA from Fidelity & Guaranty Life.

Religious Viewpoint

By Rev. Robert Paul

The word "failure" has vibrations all around it. The student who is told that he's failed the fifth grade hides his face in shame. The man who has applied for a job, takes a test and fails, leaves with embarrassment. Many have developed a "failure complex." There are four things you need to know about "failure."

Fact #1: Failing does not make one a failure. The Apostle Peter tried to walk on water, and failed. King David tried to live a pure life, but failed. St. Paul wanted to train John Mark to be a missionary, but failed. Because a person has failed in something does not make him a failure. Would you list St. Peter, King David and St. Paul as failures? No! Yet they failed. Abraham Lincoln failed in business in 1831; had a nervous breakdown in 1836; was defeated for speaker in 1838; was defeated for Congress in 1841; was defeated for the Senate in 1855; but elected President in 1860.

Fact #2: It is human to fail. The Bible says: "all have sinned (or failed) and come short of the glory of God." St. John said that if anyone says he has no sin (or failure) he is a liar. Be patient with yourself, remember you are made in the image of God. Don't enjoy sin, or failure, but realize all have some failures in their lives.

Fact #3: No one is a complete failure if he or she keeps trying. Failure is no disgrace when one has tried his or her best. A college board wanted to honor a man who had once been a student and had climbed to great heights. The board wanted to hold him up to the students as a hero so as to inspire them to follow him. However, when the board examined his college career, it found nothing noteworthy. Finally, the board settled for these words to inspire the students. "He never made anything but the scrub team, but he never quit."

Fact #4: Failure does not have to be final. The other Apostles probably laughed when St. Peter sank into the sea, but let me ask you one question. Who was it that the Lord chose to deliver the great sermon on Pentecost? None other than St. Peter. He said on one occasion, "We ought to obey God rather than men." Also "Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." Acts 4:12

The first seminar, "Parenting, Discipline and Caring," will take place on Monday, March 26, from 7:30-9 p.m., led by Tony Cutitta, MSW, director of the Belleville Family Service Bureau, which will define the parenting role, expectations, issues, and a brief explanation of parenting problems. "The Preschool Child," on Monday, April 2, from 7:30-9 p.m., led by Mary Beth Pavlec, director of the Family Life Program of the Community Mental Health Services of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, will focus on the joys and frustrations of managing the young child, while "How to Survive Adolescence," on Monday, April 9, from 7:30-9 p.m., led by Carol Kolton, MSW, director of the Outpatient Department, Community Mental Health Services of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, will highlight positive approaches to dealing with your adolescent child.

Additional seminars include, "You and Your Aging Parent," on Monday, April 16, from 7:30-9 p.m., led by Martha Angelone, director of the Friendly Visitors Program, Community Mental Health Services of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, which will discuss meeting your own needs while dealing with your aging parent. Also, on March 7, at the Silver Lake Branch Library, 30 Magnolia St., and on May 3, from 10-10:45 a.m. at the main library, Dr. Anthony Chirico, director of Special Services for the Belleville School District, will discuss the special services of the district.

Registration forms are available at the library, or you may register by calling 759-9200, the information desk of the library.

Applications Available For Cherry Blossom Run

Applications for the fourth annual Cherry Blossom Run, a 10-kilometer race through historic Branch Brook Park, are now available.

The popular Cherry Blossom Run, sponsored by the Essex County Department of Parks, Recreation and Cultural Affairs and many local businesses, is a favorite among runners, drawing participants from as far as Texas and Australia. More than 1,400 runners registered in 1983, and that number is expected to double this year.

The 6.2 mile race begins at 10 a.m. on Sunday, April 29 just north of the Branch Brook Arena in Newark. The course winds north using the East Drive into the extension area in Belleville where the bulk of the cherry trees are located.

Runners then return south using the West Drive to the finish line just south of Park Avenue, where the awards ceremony will take place.

The entry fee for Essex County residents is $5 and, for out-of-country, $7. Prizes will be awarded for top three men and women overall and top three men and women finishing in each of seven age categories. A total of 48 prizes will be distributed. Last year, island vacations, bicycles, health club memberships and sporting goods gift certificates were awarded.

To help prepare runners for the spring race, the county is sponsoring a runners' clinic on Monday, April 2 at 7:30 p.m. Co-sponsored with the South Orange Recreation Department, the clinic will be held at the Baird Community Center, 5 Mead St., South Orange.

For an application to either the 1984 Cherry Blossom Run or the runners' clinic, call 482-6400.

Belleville Times SPORTS

Record Stands at 12-0-1

Grapplers Sweep Three To Remain Undefeated

By Dino Ibelli

About the only thing that is eluding the Belleville wrestling team right now is a state ranking. Last week, the Bucs ripped Don Bosco Prep, 59-3, edged Bloomfield, 28-27 and defeated a good Bergen Catholic team, 34-21. On the season, the team is a marvelous 12-0-1.

Last night, the Bucs battled Milburn and will have a make up match with Bergenfield this weekend. At press time, the date and time of that match was unconfirmed.

The Don Bosco match was a warmup for the big test with Bloomfield. Tim Buckley pinned Nick Cirigliano late in the third period to start things off. Buckley is now 5-7 after a slow start and the sophomore will be tough in the districts. Dom Cerreto picked up a forfeit to boost Belleville's lead to 12-0. At 115, Vince Capriglione decided Ron Critchley, 3-0. On the year, Capriglione, only a freshman, is 5-3 and wrestling like a veteran.

Co-Captain Mike Giuffrida recorded his fifth straight win by pinning Mike Bet in the third period.

With a 21-0 advantage, Belleville's Darren Sneddon became the first and only Buc setback of the day when Silvio Bet pulled out a 12-11 decision.

Luke Siletti won his eighth straight match by beating Mike Parillo, 14-1. Ralph Zarro and Jimmy Raccanelli then picked up forfeit victories, boosting the Belleville lead to 38-3 with Jim Meyler due next. Meyler won by pin, showing his man the lights at 3:30 of the second period and winning his sixth straight match in the process.

At 170, Jaime Lijo beat Kie O'Connell, 13-8 to raise his mark to 12-3. Mike Gibbons continued his dominating wrestling, pinning another man, this time at 3:14 of the second period for win number 17 without a loss. At heavyweight, Mark Criscione pinned Ed Mott in :31 to make the final count, 59-3.

The Bloomfield match was a lot closer than it should have been. Some questionable officiating marred the evening, but Belleville came through with a big win, 28-27 over a solid Bengal squad.

Buckley lost an 8-0 match to Mark Vicari, but Cerreto came back with his twelfth consecutive victory, pinning Dom Di Grazio in the third period. With a 6-4 lead in favor of Belleville, Siciliano rallied back when Paul Siciliano beat freshman Capriglione, 15-3. Siciliano has been to the regions previously and his experience was the main factor.

Capriglione had Siciliano on his back in the third period but the official didn't see the pin. Mike Cuffari of Bloomfield decided Giuffrida, 14-2, extending the Bengal lead to 14-6. At 129, Joe Matarazzo defeated Darren Sneddon, 18-6. Over at 134, Luke Siletti lost an 8-3 match to O'Neil of Bloomfield in a highly contested battle that should have been officiated a little closer.

Zarro stopped the Bengal streak when he decided Tom Cutalo, 11-7. The victory boosted Zarro's record to 12-6-1 on the season. At 148, the most exciting match of the evening came about. James Raccanelli, who replaced the injured Carmen Cerreto, beat Cuzzy

West Virginia Bound — Michael Murphy, star offensive and defensive back for the Belleville High School Buccaneers made an official announcement on Feb. 8 that he will be playing college football next fall at the University of West Virginia. With Mike in this photo are Buc coaches Mike Welsh (l) and head coach John Senesky.

Girls Split Four; Record at 16-5

Thursday, Feb. 9, 1984, a date that will go down in the annals of Belleville sports as one of the greatest days ever. For it was that day that Jennifer Apicella broke the state scoring record, eclipsing the state record of 2,745 points, held by Kate Larkin of McCorristan High School since 1980. Apicella's heroics were the highlight of a week in which Belleville split four games to boost the team record to 16-5.

This week, the girls hosted Kearny in a 4 p.m. game yesterday. This afternoon, on Saturday, depending upon scheduling, Belleville will face Montclair Immaculate at Belleville in round two of the Essex County Tournament. As of press time, a definite date was not set. Next Monday, the girls go to Nutley for a rematch with the Maroon Raiders.

Last week, Belleville lost to Teaneck, 51-44 and Bayonne, 66-59, then rallied to post a big win over Ridgewood, 60-57 before a packed house at Belleville High and last Monday, ripped Mt. St. Dominic, 60-25 in round one of the Essex County tourney.

While the focus of attention was pointed at Apicella, the new scoring queen of New Jersey, a strong defensive effort on the part of Loreli Wells and Dina De Aquino accounted for Belleville's biggest win of the season, the thriller over Ridgewood, avenging an earlier loss to Ridgewood two weeks ago. "I've always said, it's nice to beat a club that beat you earlier in the season," said Karen Fucello. "I can't say enough of the effort that Loreli and Dina put forth. They held their top scorers well in check."

On the offense, there was Apicella, hitting for 38 points. De Aquino had 12, Donna Brooks, eight and Cheryl Marion, two. Belleville led, 14-12 after one and 32-27 at the half. Ridgewood, who entered the game with just three losses, came back in the third quarter, cutting the deficit to one point, 43-42 entering the final frame.

Belleville hung tough, hitting some critical shots down the stretch and coming away with a three point win over a very good ball club.

Of course, the game with Bayonne was the contest that many will always look back on. Apicella came in needing just 33 points to break the record. With 4:21 remaining in the fourth quarter of a tight game, Apicella hit the front end of a free throw to give her 2,746 points and put her past Larkin's record. At that point, the game was stopped and the

Hoopsters are Eliminated From County Tournament

Every day, Joe Papasidero awakes and hopes that what's left of his basketball team is still intact. It seems that every day brings a new obstacle, whether it's with his club or the team his club is playing.

The Bucs, entering the week with a 5-14 log, hosted St. Joseph's of Montvale on Tuesday and will host Passaic tomorrow afternoon at 4. Next Thursday, the Bucs are in Hackensack and Friday, will host Kearny.

The worst news of the week occurred in an off-the-court incident when Dave Boyd, the team's top defensive player, went down with a fractured foot and will miss the last two weeks of the season. Boyd injured the foot at home and his aggressiveness will be sorely missed. Add this dilemma to the fact that Phil Colalillo is out for the year, Mike Sochaski has missed a good portion of the season and you see why the Bucs have been dropping ball games. They have no help on the boards and are losing out in the second half to bigger ball clubs.

Last week, the team lost to Teaneck, 68-43, West Orange in the first round of the Essex County Tournament, 50-36 and Ridgewood, 75-52. The losses were the eighth straight for the Bucs. The sad part is that Belleville was in the thick of all three ball games at halftime but couldn't keep the pace in the second half.

Versus Teaneck, Belleville played a much stronger game than the previous meeting, but the Highwaymen were too strong on the boards. "They have a super club," Papasidero said of Teaneck. "They have so many players who can come at you. I would say that come state tourney time, they will be very difficult to stop."

In the first meeting, Teaneck won, 74-31 in a game that wasn't as close as the final score would indicate. Teaneck jumped out to a 20-0 lead and never glimpsed back. In this game, the Highwaymen led, 18-13 at the end of one and 29-24 at the half. "The kids played a good game; they just ran out of steam," said Papasidero. "The second half, they had too many guns."

Teaneck outscored the Bucs, 39-19 in the final two quarters to break open a close five-point game and win by 25. Danny Ward and Sochaski had 12 points each to pace Belleville. Joe Borrello had eight, Brian Cook, four, Steve Kimble, three, Lou Ba La, two and Boyd, two.

On to West Orange and the first round of the always tough, Essex County Tournament. Belleville was matched with a team that last year won the Group II, Section II championship before losing in the Group II semifinals. This year, the Cow-boys, coached by Roger Blind, were having a tough go of it when their top rebounder, Kyle Dodson, a 6'5", 215-pound center, broke his leg in the final game of the football season.

"Guess what," said Papasidero by telephone last week end, "Dodson is back and is West Orange going to be tough in the tourney." True, Dodson did make his first appearance of the 1983-84 campaign last Thursday and his presence along with 6'5" forwards Dore Stern and

It's Been a Very Exciting Week For Belleville Sports

Needless to say, the past seven days marked a period of excitement and pride in the township of Belleville. It wasn't just because Jennifer Apicella broke the state scoring record, although that helped, but two other events occurred that gave Belleville sports fans a lot to cheer about.

First off, Mike Murphy, the finest running back at Belleville High School in well over a decade and perhaps the finest runner in Belleville High School history, signed a letter of intent to attend West Virginia University next fall. Murphy made it official at Belleville High School on Feb. 8, the day most of the top high school football players throughout the state signed official letters of intent for next fall.

Murphy, who broke the 1,000 yard rushing mark his junior and senior year, will play running back at West Virginia (did you hear that Star Ledger?) and will work on his speed over the summer in preparation. "I'll probably lose about 10 pounds," said Murphy, who stands 6-2, and weighs 250 pounds. "I want to work on speed a little for next fall." Murphy, who visited a number of top schools, the University of Georgia included, was very impressed with the facilities at West Virginia. "That's what convinced me," said Murphy. "They have a great football program there. I'm really looking forward to it."

Murphy's head coach, John Senesky, was also pleased with the decision. "Mike will get a good education and will take part in a solid program," said Senesky. "We were looking for a school with a good all around program and Mike made a good choice."

Murphy will join Dave Grant, a 1983 BHS grad and currently a freshman on the West Virginia team. Grant has spoken very highly of the university and should be a big part of the program for the next four years. Also, Ron Charles, the 1983 Belleville High School Athlete of the Year, is also a freshman at West Virginia, competing for that schools' wrestling team.

West Virginia has become one of the strongest teams on the east coast. Many argue that WU should have won the Lambert trophy last fall, synonymous with superiority in the east. Instead, that honor fell on the shoulders of Boston College. It's something that West Virginia is shooting for next season.

West Virginia competed in the Hall of Fame Bowl this season, defeating Kentucky, 24-20. They graduate a top quarter-back, Dave Hosteler, but many experts feel that West Virginia will be in the Top 20 when the pre-season polls come out next fall.

Certainly, good luck and best wishes go out to Mike Murphy as he embarks on a new football career. The memories he gave Belleville fans the past two seasons will never be forgotten. Certainly, his performance this past season versus Passaic more than answers the question on who the best running back in the state of New Jersey was for the 1983 season. Good luck, Mike, you're a class person and dedicated athlete.

Hats off to the Belleville wrestling team and coach Gene D'Allesandro. The Bucs, who battled Milburn in a big match yesterday, started the week with a 12-0-1 record.

The only blemish on the mark was a 29-all tie with Paramus early in the season. As the season progresses, the Bucs continue to improve and when the district tournament comes up in late February, Belleville will be a solid choice to win. Many people know of the marvelous performance by Mike Gibbons, but don't take away the tremendous showings by Dom Cerreto, Mike Giuffrida, Jim Meyler, Jaime Lijo, Luke Siletti, Ralph Zarro, and recently, Jim Raccanelli. Tim Buckley has also been showing marked improvement over the second half of the season and will be tough in the districts.

In defeating Bloomfield last week, 28-27, Belleville won its toughest match of the season as the upper weights pulled through against a very good Bengal squad. In addition, the team ripped Don Bosco, 59-3 and defeated a solid squad from Bergen Catholic, 34-21. Certainly, you can't say enough about the Belleville wrestling program. Since 1974, they have been consistent winners and this year, they are shooting for that undefeated season, something that has just eluded them in the past. Good luck to the Grapplers down the stretch.

Unless you were in the Sierra Mountains, or in Georgia like I was, you all know that Jennifer Apicella made history last week by breaking the state scoring record. For someone who has been playing this game of basketball for at least eight years, the record is something to look back on with pride. She enters this week with over 2,800 points in her career and every game she plays, she makes a little more history. A sure bet for every post season honor there is, the biggest thrill for the senior would be a first-team selection to the Parade All-American squad. Last year, she was selected to the fourth team, indeed a big honor, but this season, with the distinction of being the all-time leading scorer in New Jersey history, Apicella deserves this one final accolade before going on to college to tear up some nets there. As for her team, they come into the week with a 16-5 record and a big game with Montclair Immaculate in the second round of the Essex County tournament. Should Belleville win the game, the girls will stay at home for the semi-finals of the Essex County tournament, which will be held on February 22. The championship game of the ECT will be at Seton Hall University, either on Friday, the 24th or Saturday the 25th. At press time, the date had not been confirmed.

Jenny's achievement shows that if you want something badly, and you're willing to work for it, you can attain your goal. Breaking a record, especially a scoring record, is not easy. For Apicella, it came with a lot of bruises, bruises and unfortunately, a few broken bones. However, it came to an athlete who wanted to achieve greatness, who worked hours on end to reach that level. Congratulations to Jenny on a job well done.

For Joe Papasidero and the boys basketball team, the season has been tough, to say the least. What many fans might overlook when they see a 5-14 log is that the athletes who make up this year's team have a certain degree of dedication that makes these young men winners in other ways. Dave Boyd, Joe Borrello, Mike Sochaski, Danny Riordan, Nick Sotomayer and a gentleman by the name of Danny Ward. Mr. Ward has quietly been the team's top scorer this season with Phil Colalillo having missed the majority of the season with a ruptured appendix. Ward is averaging 17 points a game and has earned a great deal of praise from Papasidero. His hustle, determination and never say die attitude is a tribute to his coaching and hard working teammates. The boys' basketball team owes no one an explanation on why they have a 5-14 record. If you've ever seen them play, you'll know that this group plays the game to win. It's the only way they know how to play.

The Belleville High School athlete of the week is Dom Cerreto of the wrestling team. Cerreto owns an 18-1 record this season, wrestling at 108 pounds. A solid choice in the districts, Cerreto has been one o thesoreans for the Belleville wrestling team's fine success this winter.

For this week's quiz, name the game that Jennifer Apicella broke the 2,000 point mark in, the result of that game and what quarter she attained the mark.

Two more promoters (Bob Arum and Don Elbaum) realizing the big gate to be made in the proposed Ray Mancini-Aaron Pryor fight made purse offers to Dave Wolf, Mancini's manager, and Buddy La Rosa, manager of Pryor. Arum is prepared to split $6 million between the two battlers. Elbaum has made an offer of $5 million to each fighter. Who will top it?

Steve Griffith, press rep for NBC-TV informs that they will televise live coverage of scheduled 15-round WBA junior lightweight fight between champion Roger Mayweather, 17-0, 11 KOs of Las Vegas and WBA No. 4-ranked contender Rocky Lockridge, 32-3, 26 KOs of Maple Shade, N.J. Sunday, Feb. 26, site to be announced. On Sunday, Feb. 19, NBC's "SportsWorld," will have live coverage of a 10-rounder pitting John Mugabi, 20-0, 20 KOs, of Uganda, now based in Germany vs James Green, 18-3, 16 KOs of Irvington, N.J. from the Hyatt Regency Hotel, Tampa, Fla.

Howie Albert, manager of World Boxing Council featherweight champion Juan La Porte, said Tuesday, "La Porte will defend his WBC title against former WBC bantamweight title Wilfredo Gomez on March 31 in San Juan, Puerto Rico."

La Porte hails from New York City. Gomez from Puerto Rico. Ralph Moncrief of Cleveland, Ohio was knocked out in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-round middleweight bout Tuesday by British champion Mark Kaylor in London. Moncrief, who now has an 18-8 diary, was at one time considered to be a threat to title holders. He never lived up to those expectations.

HBO Cablevision dropped plans last week to televise and finance the light heavyweight title fight between defending king Michael Spinks and former WB champion Dwight (Braxton) Muhammad Qwai. A spokesman for HBO said the reason for the channel's action, "Spinks breached the contract by signing for a fight (Eddie Davis) on Feb. 25 when it was agreed neither fighter would accept a fight after Feb. 10."

Joe Verne's very-active publicist Sy Rosman's latest communique informs that Jimmy Beechman, once the No. 5 rated middleweight in the world, has been named head trainer of the Joe Verne Boxing Club. Beechman, now 49, will handle all pros and amateur glove-slingers training at the one-time John Hennelly Boys Club. Jimmy will also bring welterweight Hughie (Buttons) Kearny, junior lightweight Anthony (Cobra) Williams, bantamweight Robert (Pop) Robinson, middleweight Anthony Rosser and light heavyweight Andre Samuels into the stable of battlers. Also future pros in amateur standouts, 147-pounder Jeff Brady and 166-pounder Sammy Speack.

Joe Verne, Philadelphia boxing promoter and owner-operator of the Joe Verne Boxing Club, said the appointment of Jimmy Beechman will have no effect on his relationship with ex-world and amateur glove-slingers training at the one-time John Hennelly Boys Club. Jimmy will also bring welterweight Hughie (Buttons) Kearny, junior lightweight Anthony (Cobra) Williams, bantamweight Robert (Pop) Robinson, middleweight Anthony Rosser and light heavyweight Andre Samuels into the stable of battlers. Also future pros in amateur standouts, 147-pounder Jeff Brady and 166-pounder Sammy Speack.

Up-and-coming middleweight fighter Tommy Merola, 27, of Newark was indicted by an Essex County Grand Jury Thursday on murder, assault and robbery charges. Merola is accused of shooting to death Omer Muhammed of East Orange, with robbing and shooting Byron Robinson Douglas of Newark and wounding of Michael Bambo of Nutley last November following what police describe as a drug deal. The incident took place outside Bambo's apartment complex on River Road, Nutley, N.J. 109-pound Jose Rosario of Jersey City left for Colorado, Feb. 3. Rosario, who trains at Lou Costello Gym in Paterson, N.J., will finish training to fight with the U.S.A. against the Cuban Boxing Team in Reno, Nev. Feb. 18. This will be Rosario's chance to even the score with the Cubans. He now is 1-2.

Middleweight Mustafa Hamsho of Bayonne, N.J., is finding it rough-going getting TV exposure and money fights. Arabs aren't wanted by the TV networks. Rhode Island promoter Bob Andreoli is willing to take a chance by promoting a Hamsho-Roberto Duran slugfest in April, TV or not, said Hamsho's manager Al Certo of Secaucus, N.J. Certo said then we want a return match with middleweight king Marvino Marvin Hagler of Brockton, Mass. Several readers have questioned why we refer to Marvin Hagler as Marvino? Hagler had his name legally changed to include Marvino.

Sugar Ray Leonard's manager/trainer Mike Trainer said Wednesday at a press conference on the eighth floor of New York's Time-Life Building, to create interest in the Leonard-Kevin Howard fight. "Reports of a bout between Leonard and Aaron Pryor are premature." Buddy La Rosa and I have had a few conversations about the fight, nothing really serious. Popular New Jersey state middleweight champion Bobby Cwyz of Wanauke, N.J., admitted he can no longer make the weight limit of 160 pounds. He will move up to the newly created (for Cwyz) 168-super middleweight division recently announced by the International Boxing Federation (IBF).

Halifax, Canada, heavyweight Trevor Berbick, who last fought Sept. 10, 1983 when he successfully defended his Canadian title, said Wednesday, he is ready to regain his credibility in professional boxing. Berbick has a TV fight in Miami on Feb. 19. He has another in London, England, on March 13. No other details are available.

Grapplers' Winning Continues Strong

Matarazzo, 19-16. It appeared that Raccanelli had recorded a pin in the third period, but once again, the official disagreed.

Meyler, knowing his club needed a win, came through with flying colors, pinning Tony La Vecchia in 1-44 of the first period. The victory rallied Belleville to a 21-18 defeat. At 170, Lijo put Belleville in front to stay as he pinned Ed Szek in just 41 of the first period.

Heading into 188, the Bucs needed just a major decision to assure victory. They got it as Mike Gibbons, who else, won his 18th match of the season, decisioning Nick Oliveri, 16-5 and giving Belleville a 28-21 lead. The Bucs forfeited the heavyweight match and came away one point victors.

The Bergen Catholic match was also a tough battle. The teams exchanged early pins with Cerreto winning once more to boost his record to 18-1. Caprigione won by forfeit and at 122, Giuffrida boosted his record to 12-3-1 by defeating Kevin Potter, 6-0. Bergen Catholic came back with a pin over Vin Padula, but Siletti came right back with a 7-0 decision over Ray Potter.

Zarro dropped a 10-3 decision to Mike Ryan and Raccanelli lost a 9-5 decision to Jaime Mc Brick. At this point, Bergen Catholic was facing the heart of the Belleville lineup, Meyler, Lijo and Gibbons. Once again, it proved fatal. First, Meyler defeated Greg Proto, 12-4. Then, Lijo lost a tough match, 6-4 to Jim Alois, cutting the Bucs lead to 22-21. A pin was all Belleville needed for victory, and guess who was up for the Bucs. None other than Mike Gibbons and the junior came through once more, pinning Darron Barred and assuring another Bucs victory. For Gibbons the win was his 19th without a loss. At heavyweight, Mark Criscione finished the job with a pin, boosting his record to 5-2 and the Bucs mark to 120-1.

Girls Split 4, Jenny Breaks Mark; Advance in Essex County Tournament

senior All American was presented with roses and the ball.

The record marks many years of work for Apicella and many obstacles to overcome in order to attain the mark. This year, despite a host of injuries, both nagging and serious, she has kept her concentration and dedication to the game and now, the biggest thrill of her career, being named as the leading scorer in the history of women's high school basketball in New Jersey.

What was overlooked was that Belleville lost the memorable game, 66-59 as Adrienne Goodson, an All American center, poured in 32 points to lead her team. Belleville led, 27-21 at the half, but with Goodson being switched in position, Bayonne made a strong comeback. "You can't keep a player of Goodson's potential down all game long," said Fucello. "When she is on her game, she can set up so many things."

Belleville led, 42-41 entering the final quarter, but it was there that the home team took command for good, outscoring the Bucs, 25-17 and winning by seven. Apicella had 38 points, Brooks 11, De Aquino, six, Loreli Wells, two and Marion, two.

Versus Teaneck, Belleville played one of its poorer games of the season. "We didn't play well," said Fucello. "Their big girl killed us. Our pivot defense was bad and against Teaneck, you can't expect to do well when the defense doesn't perform."

"We played one of our best games of the season," said Teaneck coach Curtis March. "We had one girl on Apicella the entire game. I told her to follow her wherever she went. Don't leave her alone for a minute." Teaneck's defense did keep Apicella below her scoring average. Apicella scored 20 points, but many of her shots were off target, a rare sight considering the hot streak she has been on the last two weeks.

Dina De Aquino and Donna Brooks scored 11 points each and Loreli Wells tallied a field goal for two. Teaneck led, 10-8 after one and 23-21 at the half. It was the third quarter that the hosts put the game out of reach, topping Belleville, 15-7 and leading by ten entering the final quarter.

Finally, Belleville began the Essex County Tournament with a rousing 60-25 pasting of Mt. St. Dominick. In this contest, Belleville jumped out to a 13-0 first quarter lead as Apicella scored ten points in the spree. De Aquino two and Wells, one. After one quarter, the girls led, 17-2 and boosted the margin to 31-9 at the half.

The final two quarters were more of the same as Belleville did pretty much what they wanted and cruised to an easy 35 point win. Apicella, once more, led the way, hitting 32 points. She was followed by Brooks with twelve. De Aquino with nine, Wells with five and two points from Angel Greco.

Thus ends a big week in the annuals of Belleville basketball. With the record now securely in the books, Belleville can concentrate on the Essex County tourney, a tournament that they can win if they play up to potential. "I'd like to make it to the finals," said Fucello. "We made it as far as the semis last year. Who knows, if we play up to our capability, we might have a chance."

NOTES: For her career, Apicella now has 2,821 points. Over her four years at Belleville, Jenny is averaging 31.3 ppg. This season, she is averaging 35.4 ppg and is hitting 85% from the foul line. Brooks averaging 10.7 and 54% while De Aquino is at 9.4 and 48%. The semi finals of the Essex County tournament will be held at Belleville High School on the 22nd of February. The finals are set for Friday the 24th or Saturday the 25th from Seton Hall University. At press time a definite date had not been set. Montclair Immaculate is 15-3 and possesses a fine player in junior Jenny Jenkins. Jenkins recently attained the 1,000 point mark and will be trouble for Belleville.

Hoopsters Eliminated From County Tourney

Rick Fox, were too much for the undermanned Bucs.

"We played a good defense, both teams did," said Papasidero. "But Dodson in the middle and their other two forwards were the difference. We couldn't contain them."

The Cowboys jumped out quick, taking an 11-5 first quarter lead. Belleville came back, however, outscoring the hosts, 16-13 and trailing by just three, 24-21 at intermission. It was the third quarter that proved decisive. The Cowboys outscored the Bucs, 11-4 and took a commanding 35-25 lead entering the final frame.

Ward, once again, led the way with 14 points. Boyd tallied nine, Borrello, six, Ba La, Nick Sotomayer and Sochaski all had two points and Cook closed out the scoring with a free throw. Stern led the way with 10 points for West Orange and Dodson had five. However, Dodson's rebounding and play under the boards was the big difference.

The week ended with a 75-52 loss to powerful Ridgewood. "I'm not one to cry the blues," said Papasidero, "but the officiating up there (Ridgewood) left something to be desired." It's true that when Belleville, whether it's the boys or girls, plays a Bergen County school away, the officiating does tend to be suspect. The girls' team ran into the same kind of whistle a few weeks back in Ridgewood and last week in Teaneck.

Ridgewood, of course, helped in dealing the Bucs their 14th defeat. Led by Ted Evers' 26 points, the home team took command early, leading 13-9 after one and 24-19 at the half. In the second half, the Bergen school put things totally out of reach, outscoring the Bucs, 51-33 in the final two quarters to put the game away.

Ward, who has been playing so well the entire season, had 13 points, Sochaski, nine, Borrello six, Cook five and Don Washington, five. Four other players also scored at least two points.

It is estimated that 15 million Americans experience headache pains on any given day. There are innumerable technical and medical aspects related to headaches but they all have a common denominator...pain.
It must be recognized that a headache can be a symptom associated with any of a number of diseases. However, chronic or recurrent headaches at the base of the skull and the upper neck are often caused by irritation of the upper three spinal nerves.

Aduabato Plans Action Over Fund Cutbacks

Governor to avoid massive layoffs of public safety personnel in the state's major urban areas.

Originally, however, certain portions of that package were to go to qualifying communities for use in public safety spending.

Belleville, Bloomfield and Montclair were all 30th district municipalities slated for an appropriation, but two weeks ago, the state officials decided to deny the official applications of Belleville and Montclair.

A Feb. 2 letter to Mayor Michael Marotti from Barry Skokowski of the state Division of Local Government Services cited Belleville's "strong fiscal position" as a reason for denying the township additional funds.

Marotti said the denial, if not reversed, might affect public safety services. The money was to be used to avert layoffs of police and firemen, hire more public safety workers, or expand safety services.

Just last month, local police and firemen won contracts granting retroactive 1983 and current 1984 salary hikes.

"We're going to fight this," Marotti told Aduabato at the last Commission session.

Vowing his support and action, Aduabato said, "We don't know why Belleville doesn't qualify and Bloomfield does. It is an arbitrary decision and we plan to do something about it."

Belleville's Past

Casebolt made the laundry "the largest and most complete establishment of the kind in the country." He also employed about 75 Chinese among his 200 workers, and even increased their number when his white workers formed a union and joined the Knights of Labor, the forerunner of the American Federation of Labor. As the contracts of his "Mongolian recruits" expired, he attempted to replace them with French-Canadian girls, but for some reason obscured by time this experiment also failed.

He continued to employ Chinese until he finally gave up the laundry business in 1895. To avoid the charge of idolatry against his Oriental workmen, he saw to it that they no longer went without benefit of clergy. Being a devout communicant of the Dutch Reformed Church himself, he herded his charges regularly every week to Sunday school.

Generally, industrial peace has reigned in Belleville since the turbulent 1870s. Mrs. Elinore M. Herrick, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, speaking on Dec. 6, 1939, before a joint meeting of the Belleville Rotary and Lions clubs, reiterated that to Belleville employers has been an old truth when she stated that "labor unions are here to stay." On occasion joint interests led employers and employees to close collaboration. Such at least was the case during the Congressional debate on the famous Underwood Tariff bill in 1913. Representatives of the wire weaving establishments, of the wire weavers union, and of the town jointly went to Washington to protest against the proposed reduction of the ad valorem duty of their product.

The Wire Weavers' union is the oldest existing in 1890 as the American Wire Weavers' Protective Association. Because of the highly skilled character of wire-weaving, it has remained one of the smallest international unions affiliated with the American Federal of Labor. John Campbell, a Civil War veteran, who died at 79 years old, in 1912, and who was one of the oldest Fourdrinier wire weavers in the country, was one of the organizers of the union.

Significant is the fact that even with the new impetus given to unionization with the founding of the C.I.O., most strikes of recent years in Belleville involved A.F. of L. unions. One of the few exceptions was the strike in March-April 1938, at the Fruit Products Corporation, which was called by the United Fruit Workers, a C.I.O. affiliate.

Domenick-Fornarotto Assault Case Transferred

who works in an office on the second floor of the building, entered the room and an argument ensued, according to police reports which indicate that Fornarotto had been struck in the face.

The citizen was taken to Clara Maass Medical Center where he remained several days for treatment of what he termed "lacerations about my face."

Fornarotto, 60, pressed charges of assault against Domenick. The official, apparently unhurt, told police he acted in self-defense when he struck Fornarotto.

According to the citizen, the 45-year-old code official acted out of revenge. Fornarotto, a persistent political critic, said Domenick was motivated by remarks the citizen had made during a township meeting in January.

At that session, which Domenick did not attend, Fornarotto questioned the Mayor and Commissioners about Domenick's qualifications.

"That man should not be holding his title," Fornarotto had said, noting that Domenick failed to receive necessary state certification for the position he was holding.

At the time, Mayor Michael Marotti confirmed the truth of Fornarotto's charges, but he said Domenick had simply failed to file required paperwork by the state deadline.

"He's qualified for the job. It's just a technicality," the Mayor said. He also noted that the code official had been temporarily suspended from his post while waiting for the papers to come through.

Marotti announced earlier this month that Domenick received his license approval retroactive to Jan. 1, 1983 up until Jan. 31, 1985.

A Feb. 2 letter to Domenick from Edward Harris of the state Bureau of Construction Code Enforcement verifies the license award.

In addition, Domenick was fined $500 for his tardiness in filing. A Feb. 2 letter from Charles F. Tarr, Jr., the supervisor of the bureau's compliance section, indicates Domenick has paid the penalty.

Apicella Breaks State Record

Adrianne Goodson, sank 32 points to lead a second half Bayonne rally. More on the game in the sports section.

Apicella finished the game with 38 points, giving her 2,751.

"This should serve as an example," said Fucello, "that with hard work, anything can be done. Jenny has overcome many obstacles, many injuries to attain this mark."

Certainly, for Fucello, the record will go down as one of her best memories in her long coaching career. Following last Monday's win over Mt. St. Dominic, the coach has led her squads to 155 victories, compared to just 91 defeats, an average of 13 victories a year compared to just seven losses. As for this season, the girls are 16-5 and gearing for a serious threat in the Essex County Tournament.

"It hasn't been the easiest of seasons," conceded Fucello. "With the record and Jenny's injuries, this is a nice change."

Apicella, of course, almost saw her season come to an end back on Jan. 17, when she was the victim of a malicious foul by Lisa Forte, a foul that sent Apicella into the BHS wall and to Clara Maass Medical Center with a broken wrist. She returned just two games later and has been averaging 36 points a game ever since.

St. Peter's Registration To Begin Soon

St. Peter's elementary school has announced that registration for preschool classes will take place Monday, Feb. 27 at 7 p.m. in the school's cafeteria.

The classes will be open to children who reach the age of four before Dec. 31, 1984.

Information regarding hours and tuition will be discussed at the meeting. St. Peter's admits students of any race, color and national and ethnic origin.

Tenants Will Meet With State Officials

While satisfied to get that far, tenants expressed disbelief that all efforts to turn up documents concerning the original plans for construction of the complex have failed.

"Why is everything that has to do with the building of Bridgebrook now missing from Town Hall," the tenants wrote in an open letter of protest to the mayor and Commissioners.

The residents claim they have sought municipal copies of the original specification plans for the complex, permits, local ordinances, fire codes, and building codes for 1968 — the period in question — and were told by officials "everything has been thrown out."

Their major concern is that Bridgebrook does not meet fire safety standards for multiple dwellings.

They made their point by quoting from the engineering inspection report included in the prospectus prepared by Bridgebrook Development Group, Ltd. and distributed as part of the condo conversion plans.

Tenants quoted the architect's survey in their letter as stating, "as multi-family buildings, these units are required to have a second means of egress. This second exit is provided presently by ladder rungs mounted on the exterior walls at each bed room window, leading down into the rear garage courts."

According to angry residents, state inspectors called those safety rungs "a joke," and considered them useless in providing escape from fire.

"Why is Bridgebrook Gardens the only development in town without platform type fire escapes," ask the residents.

They also noted the rungs are not mounted outside bedroom windows, as the prospectus describes for possible buyers of the condos, but are located outside of the kitchen windows.

"Windows only open 19' to 20' which is a violation itself," tenants complained.

While officials have been telling tenants that their complex met standards in effect at the time of its construction, tenants are questioning just what those standards were, noting the absence of all necessary documents in their search.

They also argue the complex should be brought up to modern standards, particularly since the owner is planning to convert and sell the units as condos.

Belleville's Past

There was a rivalry among the speakers to see who should hurl the most abusive epithets at the simple-hearted strangers who were then sleeping quietly in their humble quarters not far off, preparatory to another day's work in Captain Hervey's laundry. They are base idolaters. They live on rats and mice. They wear pigtails. They are slaves. These things, said over and over again, with the most tiresome iteration on the idolatrous customs of the Chinese, were the staple of the speeches made... If Dr. Vail is a D.D. — which we can hardly believe him to be — how can he stand up and utter such cruel, impious trash as the reporter ascribes him? If he is an M.D., why doesn't he stick to his pills and potions, and leave theology alone?

And the Sentinel, staunch supporter of the Republican cause, could not refrain from the added dig that "Dr. Vail pays his Irish servant $1 less per month than Capt. Hervey pays his Chinese."

Eventually Hervey carried his point. An agreement was reached by which the Chinese would be doing the heavier work on the "washer" and "dryer," while the female help merely did the ironing and sorting. Once the strike was settled and the commotion died down once more, there even developed a friendly relationship between the two groups of laundry workers. Occasionally one or the other of the Asiatics might even be severely smitten with some buxom colleen, as evidenced in the case of Himbra Shang, who followed the object of his affections to the Market Street depot, boarded the Sunday noon train for New York and, when he found the girl, threw his arms around her, hugged and kissed her and declared "me lobee you velly muche." At the piercing shrieks of the colleen, he was promptly arrested for disorderly conduct and lodged at the Jersey City jail but released the next day when the Hi-Pi tong interfered in his behalf.

What the press called Captain Hervey's "brave experiment" was followed with bated breath, and the slightest occurrence at Hervey's plant was front page copy for papers throughout the state. Yet, though Hervey augmented the original number of Chinese workers by another 90 the following year, his experiences were not altogether happy. It was reported that "his Chinese workers have been on several strikes; a number of them have violated their contracts even more flagrantly by surreptitiously deserting the laundry altogether."

In 1873, finally, according to the Princeton Press, Hervey "pronounced the heathen Chinese a failure. They smoke opium, quarrel, fight, strike, and do other unpleasant things, not to speak of going after their employer with sharp knives." Hervey thought of "procuring German women" instead, but eventually sold his plant to George T. Casebolt, scion of an old local family.
