Minish No Longer Represents Belleville

Judges' Ruling Causes Split In Town's Legislative District

By Phil White

Congressman Joseph Minish, who has served 21 years in the House of Representatives, is literally fighting for his political survival after being "ordered" to give up towns like Belleville, Nutley, Bloomfield and Montclair, and instead extend his 11th District westward into heavily-dominated Republican areas.

Before a three-judge federal court ruled over the weekend that a Republican-drafted map of revised Congressional districts met all legal requirements, Minish, a Democrat, was expecting to run his reelection campaign this fall from his offices in Bloomfield.

But right now, Bloomfield, as well as Montclair, Nutley and most of Belleville, will become part of Congressman Robert Roe's district.

Belleville is one of two towns in New Jersey which is actually split into two districts. Rep. Roe will represent most of the town but the Silver Lake section of Belleville will be lumped with the City of Newark represented by Congressman Peter W. Rodino.

Minish met this week with Senate President Carmen Orechio, the mayor of Nutley, who along with Assembly Speaker Alan Karcher have decided to appeal the new Congressional district lines to the United States Supreme Court. A speedy decision is expected because candidates, including the incumbent, Congressmen, must file petitions for the June Primaries no later than Monday, March 26.

Congressman Minish is the most affected by the redistricting. The boundaries of his new 11th Congressional District extend westward into Morris, Sussex and Warren Counties almost to the banks of the Delaware River. The towns that now fall within the revised 11th District boundaries gave President Reagan a 60,000 vote plurality in 1980.

Orechio said another basis of the appeal to the United States Supreme Court would be the division of Belleville and Kearny into two separate Congressional districts, and the fact that 40 percent of the population of New Jersey will be assigned a new district or Congressman as a result of the boundaries approved by the Third Circuit Court of Appeals over the weekend.

Mary Senatore, who is Belleville's town chairman for the Democratic Party, called the court decision "a major shock" and said

Deadline For Filing Today

Two More Candidates Enter School Board Race

By Ed Capparucci

With the filing deadline for the School Board election today (Feb. 23) two more candidates have filed petitions seeking one of the three seats available.

St. Peter's elementary school teacher Phil Linfante became the fourth candidate seeking one of two three-year seats open, while Richard Melham, a 17-year resident of Belleville, has been the only candidate to file for the one-year term as of Tuesday afternoon.

The filing deadline for the board election is this afternoon. All petitions must be submitted to the board secretary-business administrator Gerard Gruenfelder by 4 p.m. at the board complex, 190 Cortlandt St. Positions on the ballots will be selected Friday evening at 8 p.m. at the board offices.

Linfante joins incumbent board trustees Donna Rainone and Thomas Spillane, as well as former assistant superintendent of schools Sy Grossman, as the other candidates seeking one of the two three-year seats available.

An active resident, Linfante believes "that our school system needs the ideas and energy of an involved dedicated leader. An individual who can offer new and constructive programs which will benefit not only the student and the school system, but the entire community."

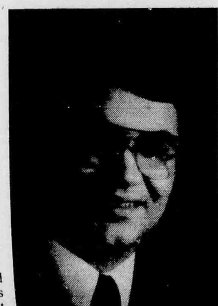

"My involvement in various youth, educational and community activities shows my concern for our school system and our community," Linfante said. "My background in education and my position as a teacher will help me in making effective and educationally sound decisions, while always considering the best interest of the children and the community."

A product of the Belleville school system, Linfante received his bachelor degree from Rutgers University, where he majored in history and minored in education. A former substitute teacher in the Belleville school system, he is now a teacher at St. Peter's elementary school in Belleville.

Linfante is currently a member of the Special Education Advisory Committee, the Belleville High School Athletic Council, the Belleville

Parents and Friends Soccer Association, Knights of Columbus, and vice president of the St. Peter's Parish Council. He is a former member of the Belleville Restructuring Committee and the Thorough and Efficient Education Committee. He also is involved in Belleville Little League, recreation baseball and touch football and serves as the recreational director of the Belleville (Please see "Melham" on page 9.)

Marotti is Hopeful In Regaining Aid

By Linda Telesco

Mayor Michael Marotti and Assemblyman Stephen Aduabato (D-30) expressed optimism that the township would be able to regain a $65,000 urban aid allotment withdrawn recently by state officials.

"Things looked bad for us to get the money we were promised when the state rejected our application, but now I think we have a better chance to get it," said Marotti last Friday.

Marotti and Aduabato testified last Thursday before a special investigative hearing of the Assembly Municipal Government Committee, seeking reasons for Belleville's rejection.

Belleville was one of several communities selected to receive an allotment from a $7.4 million emergency spending package approved last month by Gov. Thomas Kean to avert massive police and fire department layoffs in major urban areas.

Several legislators agreed to the package, as Kean wanted it, on condition that certain communities which border on urban areas receive a portion of the emergency monies.

Although originally awarded $65,000, Belleville learned two weeks ago that the Department of Community Affairs rejected the township's formal application for the funding.

Officials cited, in a letter to Marotti, "Belleville's fiscal stability" as a reason for denying emergency funds.

Displeased with the reason, Aduabato promised local officials at a recent township meeting that he would attempt to get the funds restored, labeling the state's act as "arbitrary" and opposed to "the spirit of compromise."

Both Aduabato and Mayor Marotti

Neighbors Lending Hand To Protect Local Kids

The children of the School 3 area will now be aided by the Helping Hand program, while going to and from school. This program consists of a selected number of homes who will display an outstretched red hand in their windows, which signifies that a responsible adult is available in that home for the children should they become seriously ill or injured, if they find themselves alone, or become victim to a crime, are bothered by a stranger or any other sort of serious problem.

The "red hand" tells the child they will be safe in that home and may stay there until the police and parents are called.

This program is instituted through the Belleville Police Department with Detective Fred Puleo in charge. All volunteers for the Helping Hand homes must submit to a criminal check into their background to ensure they can be trusted by the child in need.

Anyone interested in participating in the program or setting up a similar program in your school district, may contact Det. Puleo at the Belleville Police Department. He has been a tremendous help to the people of School 3 district in setting up this fine program.

Howard Halpern, New Chamber President

Howard Halpern, owner of Towne Deli, was sworn-in as president of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday afternoon at the chamber's annual officers' installation held at Nanina's in the Park Restaurant.

Halpern, who has been a member of the chamber since 1975, replaces Mrs. Jaye Tarantino, who was appointed as chairman of the board, after serving as the chamber's president for the past two years.

"I accepted this position not simply to be a figure-head, but to create awareness on the part of the business community in Belleville," Halpern said during the installation ceremonies. "I do not plan to just sit back and wait for someone else to think of ideas and then react, but instead to contribute ideas and help making them work."

"Negativism leads to apathy, while activism promotes progress," he continued. "The chamber is a working unit, which is made up of many representing individuals who have joined together for a common goal and that is to make it better in Belleville."

Halpern said his administration will stress involvement and he intends to get more people interested in the chamber's activities and keep the chamber extremely active and more visible in the community.

During Mrs. Tarantino's term as president, the chamber grew to new heights as members increased dramatically. "This is a special day for me as I turn over an organization which has accomplished so much during the past two years," Tarantino said. "We have acted like a team — a very good team, and I am thankful for all the support I received during the past two years. We have proven that it is truly better in Belleville."

Clara Maass Medical Center Receives 3-Year Accreditation

Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville, was awarded a three-year accreditation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, as announced by Robert S. Curtis, president.

The accreditation means that Clara Maass has voluntarily sought to be measured against the commission's national standards and in doing so has been cited for abiding by stringent regulations related to all phases of patient care. The accreditation program assists hospitals throughout the country in pursuing high quality health care through education, evaluation and consultation.

Clara Maass was evaluated by the commission during a three-day, on-site visit last October. Included in the visit were lengthy conferences with members of the medical and administrative staff, supportive personnel and members of the Clara Maass Board of Trustees. The Joint Commission inspected virtually every area connected with the care and safety of Clara Maass patients.

Formed in 1951, the hospital commission is a private, non-profit organization created by and composed of health care professionals. It is governed by representatives from the American College of Surgeons, American College of Physicians, American Hospital Association and American Medical Association.

Clara Maass is a 575-bed acute care hospital. The service area population of the medical center exceeds one million and primarily includes communities in Essex County, as well as several other communities in Bergen and Hudson counties. Last year over 21,000 patients were admitted to Clara Maass and more than 25,000 were treated in the emergency room.

Clara Maass Medical Center provides a broad range of medical and surgical programs. Specialized services available at the medical center include the cancer treatment program, level II perinatal center, inpatient psychiatric unit and the Mobile Intensive Care Unit. Other facilities located at the medical center include two medical office buildings, a school of nursing, and a school of radiologic technology.

Tax Tip

Dear H & R Block

Q. My wife died in 1981 and I filed a joint return for that year. Am I considered a "qualifying widower" this year? G.W., Orange.

A. You may be considered a qualifying widower if 1) you have not remarried; 2) you have a dependent child; and 3) you paid more than half the expenses of maintaining a home for that child all year. If you meet the qualifications for the two years following the death of your spouse, you need to file Form 1040 since this filing status is not available on the short form. The advantage is that you are taxed at the same rate as married filing jointly rather than the higher "single" rate.

Q. My refund this year was only $50. Does this mean I should have more taken out of my pay during the year? N.D., Belleville.

A. A small refund or small balance due is the most desirable result. If you have substantially underpaid your tax liability, you may assess a penalty based on the amount owed. The rate on this has been 11 percent annually since the beginning of this year. A substantial refund means that you have given the government the use of your money interest-free during this year. However, some people prefer to do this as a method of forced savings.

Q. I just moved to New Jersey last year. Can you explain what a "tenant credit" is? W.T., Newark.

A. The State of New Jersey allows you to deduct $65 from your state income tax if you paid rent for the entire year. If you are over 65 or disabled, the credit is $100. If you pay rent for less than 12 months you may prorate the credit for the actual number of months involved. The actual amount you pay in rent has no bearing on the credit. You are required to show the address at which you lived and the name and address of the landlord.

Q. I paid what I consider a large fee to have my taxes prepared and I still owed money. Why should I pay someone if they can't at least get me a refund? T.B., Clifton.

A. The fee paid to a tax preparer is for his time and expertise in applying tax law. You have a right to expect him to take advantage of every legitimate deduction and credit that apply to your situation. Should the end result be a balance due, he has an obligation to inform you of that fact. To charge a fee based solely on obtaining a refund would be unethical and illegal.

Most sore throats are due to virus infections which will not respond to antibiotics or mouthwashes. For sore throats that are due to bacteria, an antibiotic, administered in tablet form or by injection, will benefit the affected area. The only way to determine if a sore throat is viral or bacterial in origin is by a throat culture. This is very important for severe, long-lasting infections since the possibility of a strep throat is dangerous and demands penicillin treatment or the like to prevent further serious complications. Symptomatic treatment with a mouthwash would be harmful in that it may delay a trip to the doctor.

There are no delays in filling prescriptions when brought to ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. Program to be Housed in Geriatric Center

Commissioners Considering Proposal For Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center

By Linda Telesco

A proposal to establish an alcoholic rehabilitation clinic in Belleville was presented to Commissioners for review at their recent caucus meeting.

Officials of Mountinside Hospital in Montclair described plans to use two floors of the Essex County Geriatrics Center to house the rehabilitation program presently located at the hospital.

According to Lou Terreri, a vice president of facilities at Mountinside, the hospital does not have the facilities to accommodate all the patients being treated and the proposal, if approved, would permit them to transfer some to the center.

Joseph Cimerola, Mountinside's vice president for administration, told Commissioners the rehab program is a 28-day session for patients who have already undergone a detoxification at the hospital.

Cimerola said all admissions to the rehab program are voluntary, but the patients must remain for the full four weeks. "We do not have a high turnover rate," he said.

Cimerola assured Commissioners it was unlikely patients who entered the program would filter out before completing it, since many were referred by employers and could retain employment on conditions they completed the program.

"Most patients are referred by their doctors or employers," said Cimerola. He noted, though, that some patients admit themselves voluntarily or are referred by state services.

He conceded, when Mayor Michael Marotti asked, that some referrals might be out of county residents.

Officials said the patients in rehab were in "varying degrees of alcoholism," but had all been detoxified, a five-seven day process, before qualifying for rehab.

The treatment in the program consists of medical attention and counseling, said Cimerola. Although he told Commissioners patients would not leave the Center grounds unsupervised, other officials said they do plan some outpatient treatment there.

Cimerola said Mountinside treated 630 alcoholic patients in 1983. About half that number would be referred to the new site, if approved.

He added that the hospital ran a detoxification program since 1977. "We had no problems with the community of Montclair," he assured the Belleville officials.

"Does this board have the power to stop anything in the Geriatrics Center," said Commissioner Matthew Pica. The center is a county institution on county-owned property at the corner of Belleville and Franklin avenues.

The administrator replied that the county officials instructed hospital personnel to obtain local cooperation.

Mayor Michael Marotti said Commissioners would review the plan and make a decision later in the month.

Cimerola told the Times the hospital has filed a certificate of need with the state health department and the Essex County Chapter of Health Systems Agency.

"We have received approval for the program from all those authorities," he noted.

However, he repeated the hospital must get local approval before the county will negotiate a lease for the premises in question.

The administrator said the program would be operating in a now vacant portion of the center, a section that will require considerable renovation.

"If the plan were approved by the Belleville Commissioners tomorrow, there would still be architectural plans to draft, advertising for bids, negotiating a lease, and construction," said Cimerola.

He predicted the program would probably begin operating six months to a year from the time of approval, depending upon how much renovation is needed.

Umberto's Corner

Dear Umberto,

I used to use numbers 20 and 40 of Clairior and my hair color came reddish blonde. Not too long ago I decided to bleach my hair and color beige. I used 303 Clairior. The first time I took 2 1/2 ounces. I kept the remaining color which was 1 1/2 ounce. When I did the second time, I used the remaining 1 1/2 ounce plus 1/2 of an ounce. The color didn't come right. It washed out the first time I washed my hair. Why did this happen? Did I put the color on wrong?

Yours,
Unbecamed Beige

Dear Beige,

You didn't do anything wrong by putting the color on. It is simple to do, anybody can put it on. Being beige 303, a light toner when you used it, probably the cap of the bottle was not closed tight enough. The air got in and this caused the change of the toner (color). What I suggest is never keep and reuse any toner or light colors. They are subjected to spoil, and the color will not come right. Especially when it is used after a month or more.

GOP Insanity

The Republican members of the New Jersey legislature developed a Congressional redistricting plan which was adopted by a three-member panel of the Federal Judiciary.

It is political insanity. Can anyone imagine splitting Belleville in half — the east side represented by a Passaic County Congressman — and the west side (Silver Lake) by a Newark Congressman.

Moreover, the plan dumps New Jersey's most effective Congressman, Joseph Minish, into Morris, Warren, and Sussex counties, thus depriving us of Joe's invaluable services.

The plan will be challenged by Senate President Carmen Orechio and Assembly Speaker Alan Karcher via a petition to the U.S. Supreme Court. If the court permits the Republican plan to be operative, the party will pay dearly for selling out the interests of Belleville and Nutley — and Minish.

Minish is responsible for millions of dollars in federal aid to serve the needs of our district. He deserves better from Republicans.

Forty percent of New Jersey residents will have a new congressman under the Republican plan.

Minish has 21 years of seniority in the Congress — this adds up to a lot of power — and power translates to federal aid money.

The Republican party is a New Jersey minority party. It has problems of its own from last year's ill-fated legislative election. It certainly didn't need an angry Belleville, an unhappy Nutley — and a rejected Joe Minish.

Board of Adjustment

Happy news came from last week's meeting of the Belleville Board of Adjustment. It approved the application of the First DeWitt Savings and Loan to enlarge its Washington Avenue facility. Great news! Hopefully First DeWitt's project will provide the spark for a renaissance of the Avenue.

Congratulations and commendations are in order for everybody involved. First — the savings and loan leadership should be commended for manifesting a vote of confidence in the future of Washington Avenue by committing the financial institution to establish its regional headquarters at its present site. The project received the united support of the Belleville Redevelopment Agency.

The final, official stamp of approval came from the Board of Adjustment. Gentlemen — congratulations! Your decision has served the interests of future generations.

The rebuilding of Washington Avenue is on its way — which leads us to the door of the Belleville Redevelopment Agency. Outstanding, dedicated citizens were recruited by Mayor Mike Marotti to serve as members of the B.R.A. His continued support is needed now — more than ever — particularly in view of the First DeWitt expansion program.

Jaye Tarantino

On Tuesday Belleville Chamber of Commerce President, Mrs. Jaye Tarantino, turned over the reins of leadership to another immensely popular and capable Belleville merchant, Howard Halpern.

Jaye was a unique president. She gave the Chamber a new lease on life — adding many new members — and state-wide visibility. Jaye will be a hard act to follow. She now becomes chairman of the board — reflecting Jaye's continuing commitment to Belleville. Fortunately for Belleville and the Chamber, President Halpern is a strong leader, also totally dedicated to improving Belleville.

As always the Belleville Times — and now cable television, Channel 36 — stand ready to assist Howard and Jaye in their ongoing efforts to make a good town better.

Tenant Organizations Blamed For High Rents

To the editor:

Anyone who is looking for an apartment in Bergen or Essex County and finding the availability slight and the rents high, has no one to blame other than local and state tenant organizations and some tenant-vote seeking politicians. They are the prime cause for discouraging builders and mortgage lenders from building new rental apartments and landlords from maintaining old apartments. If more apartments were available, landlords would be competing for tenants and rentals would stabilize, if not go down. It is no coincidence that the highest rents anywhere in the country are in New York City, where rent control has been in existence since 1942. One is considered fortunate to find an apartment in New York at my rental. In 1972 most New Jersey communities instituted rent control because of a shortage of rental apartments and the gouging procedures of many landlords who were taking advantage of what should have been a temporary shortage of rental housing. Instead of phasing out rent control and encouraging builders to create more apartments and construction jobs, tenant groups and some politicians are considering making the rent control ordinances even more restrictive. Look at Tucson, Phoenix, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and Atlanta: the fastest growing cities in the country with the greatest increases in population. The average apartment vacancy rate is over 20 percent for beautiful, modern apartments. To entice a new tenant in those towns, landlords are lowering rents, giving two months free rent, free T.V. cable, etc. The tenant is truly the boss in those towns without the need of tenant organizations.

Picture, if you will, the tremendous shot in the arm our economy would receive locally if our politicians would permit a building boom to develop by phasing out rent control. There would be hundreds of thousands of newly created jobs in construction and rehabilitation of older buildings; new businesses to supply materials of construction, furniture, appliances and accessories for new households would automatically follow. All this new construction will create new tax revenues sorely needed for our older New Jersey towns which in turn would ease the tax burden on the homeowners.

The price might be a short term inconvenience to present tenants, but consider the tremendous long term benefits. Give our builders the opportunity to overbuild. The tenants and communities can only benefit. Continue the present restrictive rent control policies and watch the present rental housing stock disappear into condominiums. I, personally, am too old to benefit one way or the other, so I have no personal axe to grind. But I am concerned about the future of our area, even after I am gone. It is so obviously short sighted for us not to help ourselves when it can be done at no cost or effort. Phase out all rent controls and encourage the building of a half million or so rental units in the state. Builders and lenders would fall over themselves in a rush to create new rental housing if they were guaranteed they would be dealing with a free rental market.

Presently, as a landlord in New Jersey, I do not have to be a management expert to keep our complexes 100 percent occupied; and the courts are always available to guarantee a fair return on my investment. But there is no challenge.

I know nothing will happen as a result of this letter, but I feel better, having gotten it off my chest. Of course the reason nothing will result is because most politicians can see no further than tenant-votes for the next election, and nothing is more important than being re-elected. Not the economy, not newly created jobs, not modern creative housing at reasonable rents — nothing!

Very truly yours,
Samuel Geltman & Co.

Judges and Parole Boards Too Easy With Criminals

To the editor:

We have finally reached the peak of the mountain (of stupidity, negligence and irresponsibility) and there is no way but DOWN... and it's about time!

The judges, parole boards, and others involved in the dismissing of serious criminal charges against Agosto — a "natural" criminal who should have been jailed for life or executed after committing murder in 1977 — should be immediately dismissed from their jobs and fined, with the resultant monies being awarded to the widow and unborn child of the police officer who was killed in the performance of his job.

Many of us have never approved of parole boards, and firmly believe they should be abolished. What background and experience is required of such individuals? Is their appointment political or are they paid for their inefficiency? I believe it should be made public how parole boards are made up, their identities, and the requirements for being chosen. It appears that they are mostly cowards, afraid to face the criminal with the truth. And they certainly cannot be 100 percent honorable, when they excuse crime and criminals so wantonly and release them to the streets to perpetuate crime. I believe in capital punishment for all murderers; the "mitigating circumstances" occasionally allowed should be very much "mitigating" and very much "circumstance."

The judges are too lenient in their sentences. Are they afraid of being unpopular with or disliked by the criminal's family and friends? What excuse do they have for such unbelievably poor and/or careless judgments?

Let's stop this coddling of criminals and their protectors at all levels. The claim that capital punishment and long incarceration do not stop crime is so much hogwash! Has the coddling and "rehabilitation" really stopped crime? By no means! Crime is more prevalent than ever, and more repetitious. Perhaps we have become too "civilized" in our treatment of criminals, while they have never attained "civilization." Is the solution to be found in our retrogression in this particular area?

Local Resident Unhappy With Reagan's Policies

To the editor:

People should not be fooled by President Reagan's smooth talk, his lies and funny cornball wisecracks and jokes. He tries to cover up his faulty shortcomings and serious mistakes, the three biggies, like the huge budget deficit that he accumulated during his four years in office, the income tax cuts of the rich that contributed to the deficit, and keeping the Marines in Lebanon to be killed unnecessarily. He tries to pull the wool over the voters' eyes by saying "things are getting better" but we can see through his folly. We know what is really going on!

He keeps saying "no taxes" repeatedly and stubbornly. What he really means is: no "income tax increases" of the rich while he keeps digging into the middle class, the senior citizens and the poor, with his latest domestic and social cuts proposed in his latest public address. His big military spending and crazy idea to put billions of dollars into a space craft in orbit is so contrary to helping the budget deficit! He has big ideas at our country's expense that is ridiculous! He does not care!

We cannot endure another term of this administration that puts our country in grave danger. We must change for the better with Walter Mondale.

Sincerely,
Stella Draghi

Library to Host Poster Exhibit On Recycling

The Nutley Free Public Library is hosting an exhibit of recycling posters made by Essex County teenagers. These posters were part of an art contest entitled "The Art of Recycling," sponsored by the Essex County Division of Solid Waste Management to publicize and encourage recycling in the county.

Students urged the public to think about where their garbage goes and that throwing things away wastes energy, valuable resources and money. Students were also concerned with a related problem, litter, and made posters which asked the public to "Please Keep America Looking Good" and "Don't Throw It. Stow It."

This poster exhibit will be on display June 18-30. Anyone wishing information on having this exhibit set up may contact Tanis Rickmers, public information officer, at 759-3400.

Golden Comments

By James Golden

Utility bills going up, rate hikes asked for and Boards of Public Utility hold hearings and still grant raises in rates. Remember when gas and electric bills were around $20 a month. Just look at your latest bill...it isn't only what you use that you're paying for, it's for a $6 per month service charge on gas and a $4.40 service charge on electric every month whether you use any or not...that's $10.40, for what? The gas pipes and wires are usually only a one-time installation. Why a monthly service charge? Besides that, 13 percent of our charges go to the state for various taxes.

Now, because of the impending 1984 presidential election, President Reagan and his friend, Mark Fowler are "backing off" on the phone "access charge" because they know it will cost the Republicans votes, but, should they win you can bet they'll put it on early next year unless the Republicans lose control of the U.S. Senate or Mr. Reagan gets defeated in the November election. Who wants to pay even $4 every month for use of long-distance access services that won't be used? Only a fool would.

Paul Blustein and Jeffrey H. Birnbaum, staff reporters of The Wall Street Journal, write "The president's strategy will be to appeal to voters for a mandate to trim the deficit by slashing nondefense spending in a second term rather than by raising taxes now. He apparently doesn't plan to tell the public exactly how he would use that mandate."

If Mr. Reagan has a plan to reduce the deficit without raising taxes, it can't be detected in the outline of his 1985 budget presented to Republican Congressmen. One Republican Senate aide says, Mr. Reagan's budget "doesn't stand a snowball's chance in hell" on Capitol Hill. Leaders of both parties have been telling the White House that the president won't get the social-program spending cuts he wants, nor will Congress abide the huge defense-spending increases he wants.

It appears President Reagan's budget strategy is to defer dealing with big deficits until after the November election. Should he be re-elected, we feel he will reverse his supply-side policy and tax-hell out of everything to make up for his ruinous deficits. Why should he care at that point? He'd be barred by constitutional law from seeking a third term as President.

The recent televised talk by President Reagan about U.S.-Soviet relations seemed addressed primarily to the American and European public rather than to the Kremlin...there are diplomatic channels for that. The President's message: "Peace — it's wonderful," seemed like just the right cosmetic for an election year. With this administration image is everything. When it suits Mr. Reagan's purposes, he pictures the Russians in the darkest colors — as he has done repeatedly for the past three years.

Now, with an election less than 10 months away, with the American and European people made uneasy but belligerent rhetoric, the time evidently has come to change his tune. Advanced texts of his speech were accompanied by reports that White House aides hoped the speech would ease the people's tension about conflict with the Russians.

Although modified, his theme remained the same. The "world is a safer place," because of the U.S. arms buildup...the way to reduce arms is to cow the Soviet by spending more money for guns. It would appear that peace through military strength remains the Reagan administration's basic foreign policy, notwithstanding, that countless wars have been the price people have paid for years for similar searches by leaders for military balancing of power.

Is the President's attempt to picture himself as a peacemaker recognition of his poor foreign policy? You don't have to be a pacifist to be frightened by his proclivity for military solutions and his anti-soviet utterances. It is serious when even a pentagon committee chides the administration for favoring military over diplomatic moves.

It looks like there will be more "Peace — it's wonderful" messages as the election year goes by. It probably won't do much for peace, but it could do a lot to give Republicans and Mr. Reagan another four-year lease on the White House.

Congressman Paul Simon (D-Ill.) said, "If this had been the speech the president had made at the start of his term, we could have had three years of progress on arms control instead of three years of mounting tension and more danger."

ED-ITORIALIZING

An Editor's Apology

By Ed Capparuci

When you write a column for a newspaper, you want people to believe what you say is true, and therefore, you make a strong effort to see that all your facts are correct and in line. After practicing journalism for the past three years, I have had very few complaints about news stories which I have written, as being incorrect or misleading. And that is something of which I am very proud. But during the course of my short, but very rewarding career, I have tended to shoot my mouth off a little too quickly and arrogantly, especially when it comes to my column, EDITORIALIZING. And that was exactly the case of the column which appeared last week concerning special education children.

In EDITORIALIZING last week, I referred to comments made by a member of the School 8 Home and School Association, Phyllis Frantantoni, concerning the School Board's budget and the issue of special education children. Well, I made the most mistake a journalist can make. I misinterpreted her comments and caused her and her family a great deal of embarrassment.

I had the opportunity of meeting Mrs. Frantantoni this week, and there is no doubt in my mind that the woman has a big place in her heart for special education children, as well as children in general. During the School Board's budget presentation, Mrs. Frantantoni addressed two issues which I misinterpreted into one statement, thus making her look foolish. But it is I instead who look foolish for my inaccurate reporting.

The woman and her husband belong to a number of organizations involving children throughout the township and my attack was insensitive and uncalled for. There should be more families like the Frantantonis in Belleville who care about their community and children's welfare. I can only hope that she will forgive me and I can only promise to pay more attention in the future.

Old Folks Need Help In Adjusting to Change

Dear CMHS:

My grandfather is an 86-year-old man who, up until two years ago, was in perfect health. He would grow a garden each spring that could feed a block of families and would attend the different social clubs in the area. Two years ago, Grandpa began to have what we call "little strokes." He would be sitting at the table with us and then for a minute, have a far away look. We discovered that Grandpa did not remember what was going on during that minute but he had all his senses when he snapped out. The doctor had him take blood thinners at home but he continued to have these little strokes and got worse.

All he could see was shadows. We were frightened and asked the doctor to do something. The doctor hospitalized and operated on him, replacing the faulty blood vessel with one from his leg. Since the operation, he can't walk and has been sitting in bed crying a lot. When he becomes aware that we are in the room, he stops and lowers his head. We are having difficulty dealing with his sorrow along with our own sadness. Have you any suggestions that may help?

Concerned Granddaughter

Dear Granddaughter:

Your grandpa is in the process of adjusting to his disability. Often, it is similar to adjusting to the death of a loved one. One may rebel and become angry or withdraw and become depressed. A person suffering from a long-term illness more often becomes hopeless and depressed. Sleeping and eating habits may change. Patients may be tearful and put off well meaning relatives on whom the patient feels he has become a burden.

Family support is very important but your grandpa may also need to talk about his feelings with someone objective outside the family — perhaps the social worker from the hospital. The hospital may offer group meetings for patients who are having difficulty adjusting to new life circumstances after a hospitalization.

Of course, on-going family support remains a crucial element. It might be helpful to put a plant stand near grandpa's bed so that he can resume an activity that gives him pleasure.

HEALTH WISE

By Ralph J. DiMalo D.C.

Our everyday activities...our ability to move and function with normal good health...depends entirely upon the transmission of brain energy through our nervous systems.

Every muscle, every vital organ, requires nerve energy to direct and control its operation. Any impairment of the nervous system that pinches a nerve and thus interferes with the flow of nerve energy will result in illness somewhere, depending upon which nerves are involved.

Regular chiropractic examinations can discover and correct spinal misalignments before they lead to major problems.

Belleville Boy Scout Troops Enjoy Host of Activities at Annual Outing

Each January the Belleville District Boy Scouts of America meet at Scout Acre, located in Denville. This annual outing is planned with an aim toward meeting other scouts in the town as well as testing skills and competing in various tasks.

The previous year's winning troop plans the program and each troop comes prepared to earn awards for the troop as a whole. This year's host was Troop 302.

The first competition the scouts encountered was the snow-shoe race. Each patrol was required to have one pair of patrol built snow shoes. This consisted of hand-made, one foot by two foot long frame and twine or rope inner lacing with no shoes attached.

Troop 307's Polar Bear Patrol won second place in the snow shoe

Smoking Clinic Being Offered At Clara Maass

Trying to kick the habit? Clara Maass Medical Center, in conjunction with the Essex County Unit of the American Cancer Society, is offering a "Fresh Start" program to area residents trying to kick the smoking habit. The program consists of four one-hour sessions. The first one took place Feb. 21. The others will be held Feb. 28, March 6 and 13 at 8 p.m. at the medical center and is offered at no cost as a community service.

"Fresh Start" offers support for people who have found it difficult to give up cigarettes on their own. The sessions are entitled "Understanding Why and How," "Managing the First Few Days," "Mastering Obstacles," and "Enjoying It Forever," and include a series of films, educational materials and group discussions. This program is designed to teach a new way of life and to gain a sense of well-being without cigarettes.

For further information and registration, please contact Bob Califano, director of Recreation Therapy at Clara Maass Medical Center at 459-2177.

Another event was the night sled race. Each patrol had to have sled equipped with two two-and-a-half gallon water jugs (or equal), one tent, one patrol size cook kit. Five or six scouts was the limit per patrol. This was a timed long distance race at night and the route was marked on trees, not mapped out ahead of time for the patrols.

Troop 307 won first place in this race. This race was held in below-freezing weather. In fact, this year's derby weekend proved to be the coldest temperature for a long time.

Then there was judging of the campsite. This event was the Wilderness Campsite. Overall site appearance and use of materials for camp was judged. No live material was used. They were to construct a two-and-a-half man shelter, a useful pioneer project, consisting of rack, table, etc., and other basic needs of a site in the middle of a forest that a patrol would want to build. The time of use to be four to five days. The only tools used was saw, twine and rope, no tarps or plastics.

In this event, Troop 307, the Athapascans Patrol won the second place Pioneer Project award and second place Survival Site Award.

Troop 307's Polar Bear Patrol won first place in the Pioneer Project and first place in the Survival site event.

For the Patrol Flag, a flag must be created pertaining to a Klondike item, place or thing. The flag must be made specifically for the Klondike and was so judged. Troop 307's Polar Bear Patrol won first place on the Patrol Flag event.

There was an overall troop award for the troop as a whole. Troop 307 achieved the first place award.

Other areas of competition were the obstacle course, compass, first aid, knots, and the outdoor lunch which all troops were to cook their own lunch, each patrol to have at least a hot soup, hot meal, and hot cocoa, cooking fire and method of starting each fire, and each patrol's menu were judged.

First Place Patrol award went to Troop 307's Polar Bear Patrol. The scouts in this patrol were: Vito

Caprio, Frank Greco, Erich Hochstuhel, Steven Rita, David Rosamilia and Scott Simonetti.

Each member of this patrol was presented with a beautiful hand-painted plaque and a leather patch.

Nineteen scouts participated from Troop 307 out of the total approximately 80 scouts. Not all were involved with the Klondike patrols. Those patrols had the support of a patrol working on their cooking skill award. This team prepared the meals and made the cabin ready when the patrols needed rest and warmth. It was a coordinated and shared achievement.

The scouts themselves participate in the events, planning their strategies and preparing their equipment. Next year's Klondike Derby will be hosted by Troop 307.

The troop's second Court of Honor took place on Jan. 24. Three new scouts welcomed into Troop 307 were Dean De Stephano, Matthew Gourley and Ralph Guancione.

Skill awards were presented by Patrol Leaders Frank Greco and J.R. Di Vincenzo to the following: Danny Murphy, communication skill award; David Rosamilia, family living skill award; Ryan Trimmer, first aid, citizen, and hiking skill award; Chris Robe, first aid, citizen, hiking skill award; Michael Dias, first aid, citizen, hiking skill award; Ronald Meckler, first aid, citizen, and hiking skill award; J.R. Di Vincenzo, cooking skill award; Raymond Herschell, environmental skill award; Dean De Stephano, first aid and citizen skill award; and Frank Greco, community living award.

Frank Greco has now earned all 12 skill awards.

Patrol Leaders Erich Hochstuhel and Berj Akian presented the skill awards to their patrol members as follows: Scott Simonetti, communication skill award; Nick Juliano, first aid, hiking and citizenship award; Richard Matthews, first aid, hiking and citizenship award; Brian Sypher, citizenship, hiking and first aid; and Nelson Dias, hiking skill award.

The next badges required a lot of hard work also. These are the merit badges presented by Senior Patrol Leader Vito Caprio to Berj Akian, communication, wilderness survival and music; Steven Rita, wilderness survival and pets; Danny Murphy, wilderness survival, pets, camping, music and bugling; David Rosamilia, pets and camping; Bernie Blauvelt, pets, first aid; Vito Caprio, pets; and David Rosamilia, pets, camping, music and bugling.

Rank advancement up the trail of Boy Scouts, the following scouts made rank advancement from scout to tenderfoot: Richard Matthews, Chris Robe, Ryan Trimmer, Ronald Meckler, Nick Juliano, Michael Dias, Brian Sypher and Dean De Stephano.

From tenderfoot rank to second class came Nelson Dias. Scott Simonetti and J.R. Di Vincenzo came from second class to first class. David Rosamilia received Star Scout Rank, the Star badge presented by his parents.

Vito Caprio, Berj Akian and Frank Greco received Life Scout Rank, and the Life Scout badge, presented to them by their parents.

A special "Blizzard of '83" badge was presented to those who participated in the winter camping adventure on Feb. 12, 1983. This was a major feat just to drive up to Camp Glen Gray, Oakland, N.J., let alone unpack and hike to the cabins.

Those scouts were: Bernie Blauvelt, Danny Murphy, Scott Simonetti, David Rosamilia, Ralph Rosamilia, Vito Caprio, Erich Hochstuhel, Frank Greco and Raymond Herschell. There were fathers who ventured along. They were Ray Herschell, Frank Greco, Sr., Vito Caprio, Sr., Bernie Blauvelt, assistant scoutmaster, and Ralph Rosamilia, scoutmaster.

Religious Viewpoint

By Rev. Robert Paul

When riots were unthinkable, when you left your front doors unlocked at nights, when socialism was a dirty word, when the flag was a sacred symbol, when criminals actually went to jail without a T.V. set nearby, when you weren't afraid to go out at night, when a boy was a boy, and dressed like one, when a girl was a girl, and dressed like one, when college kids swallowed goldfish, not acid and pot, when young fellows tried to join the Army and Navy, when you knew what the Fourth of July stood for, when everybody knew the difference between right and wrong, when you knew that the law would be enforced, and your safety protected, when you considered yourself lucky to have a good job, and proud to have it, when the law meant justice, and you felt a shiver of awe at sight of a policeman.

Yes, I believe in America; I believe it became great because of the faith the American people had in God, and its love for freedom. I am grateful for America's glorious past; I am awed by its unbelievable future, and I am not ashamed to take my hat off and to stand at attention when Old Glory passes by. I do not apologize for the lump in my throat when I repeat the Pledge of Allegiance. I am not embarrassed by the tears in my eyes when I hear "The Star-Spangled Banner," our national anthem.

Like millions of Americans, I want a free choice, not a free handout. I prefer an opportunity to prove my abilities on the job rather than a license to demonstrate my frustrations on the street. After all, the Bible says: "Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained by God." (Romans 13:1.)

For this nation to remain a free nation under God, we must heed the Bible verse: "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land." (2 Chron. 7:14.)

Marotti, Aduato Testify In Hopes of Regaining Aid

ti testified before the committee that it was unfair to penalize Belleville for attempting to be fiscally responsible. Marotti said he emphasized to the committee, chaired by Assemblyman John Girgenti (D-35), that recent developments put Belleville in a position of need for funding aid.

"I told them that we lost ratables

School Ten Is Planning Fashion Show

Tickets are now available for the School 10 Home and School Association's fashion show, scheduled for Thursday, March 8 at the Fiesta on Route 17 in Woodbridge.

when the yeast factory (Universal Foods Company) moved out of town last year," said the mayor.

He also described several emergency expenses last year, including the costly court ordered rebids of the township's scavenger contract and the reimbursement of over $125,000 to Belleville's former scavenger for state mandated costs imposed at landfills which collectors passed off onto communities.

Most of all, Marotti noted the township was hit with a profound emergency last May when toxic chemical leaks in a Main Street plant launched a clean up that ran up to half a million dollars so far.

Belleville has received $250,000 from the state toward that toxic problem and has applied for another allocation in the same amount. "I think we are in a position to deserve any emergency money," said Marotti.

The state stipulated the funds were to be used for public safety reasons, and Marotti noted that withdrawing the funding might have a negative effect on the local police and fire departments.

According to the mayor, Belleville had 80 firefighters in 1980. "As they retired, we didn't replace them and the number dropped to 70 by last year," he continued.

Three weeks ago when the $65,000 was expected, Marotti said four more were hired, but numbers still remained below the 1980 mark. "Now we don't know what we'll do," he said, noting recent salary hikes won by the PBA and FMBA in contract talks.

The mayor said police forces, which increased by 10 last year, would remain intact as result of state funds provided through the "Safe and Clean Program."

Assemblyman Aduato said last week that he will appear on Feb. 27 before the New Jersey Local Finance Board to make an appeal for Belleville.

"When I appear there, I will urge the board to look at the issues of 1983 and how Belleville was affected," he said.

If these measures fail, Aduato plans to seek an emergency aid bill for Belleville, supplying the $65,000 sum in special assistance funding.

"It's just not fair to single out Belleville as the only town in Essex County that is divided. It doesn't make sense that a town of 37,000 people should have two congressmen."

"Joseph Minish has done a good job," she continued. "He's represented Belleville for three terms and the people here are satisfied with him. There was a time when Belleville had Rodino as a congressman, but Rodino would be a newcomer here. Does he really know our problems? Joe Minish is familiar with the 11th District and handled it well."

Meanwhile Angelo Risoli, Belleville's Republican party chairman said he is also "upset" with the redistricting plan.

"I am extremely disturbed by it because it splits Belleville and puts a few districts into Newark," he said. "I don't think the people of Belleville deserve to be with Newark. This will also make matters much more complicated for Belleville residents to contact their congressman. It's ridiculous to have two to one town."

"I must admit that the plan is good for the state and the Republican party," he added, "but I do not like the way it will effect the township of Belleville."

Another way to realize the scope of the change for Congressman Minish is to realize that up until Saturday, Minish represented only 65,000 citizens in Morris County. The boundaries just approved give Minish a total representation of 526,000 including 335,000 from Morris County and the remainder evenly divided by two towns in Sussex County (Byram and Green Townships), and four townships in Warren County, Allamuchy, Frelinghuysen, Independence and Liberty.

Towns assigned to Minish in Morris County are both the town of Boonton and the Township of Boonton, Butler, Chatham, Chester Borough and Chester Township, Denville, Dover, East Hanover, Florham Park, Hanover, Jefferson, Kinnelon, Lincoln Park, Madison, both the Borough and Township of Mendham, Mine Hill, Montville, Mountain Lakes, Mount Arlington, Mount Olive, Netcong, Parsippany, Troy-Hills, Pequannock, Randolph, Rockaway Borough and Rockaway Township, Roxbury, Victory Garden and Wharton.

In Essex County, towns that would remain in Minish's district are also Republican dominated. They include Caldwell, Cedar Grove, Essex Fells, Fairfield, Livingston, Maplewood, North Caldwell, Roseland, South Orange, Verona, West Caldwell and finally, West Orange, which happens to be Congressman Minish's home.

The new boundaries place Nutley and most of Belleville in Congressman Roe's district which is dominated by Passaic County communities including the cities of Clifton and Paterson which together have more population than all of the Essex communities assigned to Roe. Bloomfield, Glen Ridge and Montclair also are reigned to Roe.

The Silver Lake area of Belleville, specifically districts 1, 4 and 4 of the First Ward, are reassigned to Congressman Rodino who also represents East Orange, Irvington, Newark, Orange and Hillside. Of Rodino's 526,074, only 0.9 percent would come from Belleville. The new map preserves Rodino's 10th District as the one district in the state with a majority population that is black.

The courts ordered the new districts into effect for this year's congressional elections — including the June primaries — replacing a map which was declared unconstitutional by the U.S. Supreme Court last year.

Melham and Linfante Seek Board Position

Special Education summer program.

Richard Melham is the only candidate as of Tuesday afternoon to file petitions for the one-year seat, left vacant by Charles Miele. He is running for the board in an effort "to help the children of the community."

"I would like to see if I can do something to help the children of Belleville," Melham said in a recent interview. "I presently have two children who are in the Belleville school system and will be for the next nine years. So you can see I have a great interest in the educational system."

"As an instrumentation technician for the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission, I also know a great deal about computers and would like to see the board bring more computers into the elementary schools for our younger children, because that is where the future is," he continued. "I also have a few ideas for keeping the taxpayers bill down each year and I believe I could be a solid work-force on the board."

Politically active in the community for 17 years, Melham has the backing of former commissioner Mary Senatore, Assemblyman Stephen Aduato, Essex County Sheriff Thomas D'Alessio and 11 district leaders throughout the township.

A 1964 graduate of Woodbridge Senior High School, Melham is a member of the School 3 Parents and Teachers Association. He is also a member of the American Legion Post, the Disabled American Veterans and the Belleville Veterans Council.

"I have been politically involved in Belleville for many years, and now I would like to try and see if I can do the job on the School Board," he said. "That is why I am running for the one-year term. If I can do the job, then I will leave it up to the people to see if I deserve another three-year term come next April."

Freeholders Appropriate Funding Here

The Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders voted to appropriate $13,642 to finance a cooperative education program to be operated by the Belleville Board of Education, Freeholder Arthur L. Clay (R-District 5) announced.

The measure, passed at Clay's urging, provides funds to allow 14 students, ages 16-21, hands-on work experience in the private and public sectors. Participants will receive $3.35 per hour as well as five credits toward graduation.

Funds for the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA), provided to the Belleville Board of Education by the Essex County Division of Employment Training, will be used to assist with transportation costs for students in private employment and for salary assistance with participants in public employment.

"This work experience and education program will enhance the career potential and eventual job placement of its participants," said Clay. "In addition, it will go a long way toward insuring high school completion."

In addition to work experience, the JTPA provides training and career guidance, counselling, labor market information and supportive service.

Clay, who has represented Belleville on the Board of Chosen Freeholders for two years, said he was "pleased to have been instrumental" in the passage of the money measure and noted he will "monitor the program closely."

Grapplers Finish Regular Season Undefeated With 14-0-1 Record

By Dino Ibelli

It has come down to money time for the Belleville Buccaneers' wrestling squad and the team prepared for the upcoming districts by whipping two more foes last week, boosting the team record to 14-0-1 and giving head coach Gene D'Alessandro his first undefeated season since his arrival at Belleville in 1976.

The team is off this week and will begin work in the districts on March. More on the districts in next week's issue.

Last week, Belleville defeated Millburn, 34-19, and Bergenfield, 38-21, to assure the undefeated season. Both victories were against good schools and the strong competition down the stretch should stand Belleville in good stead for the districts.

Versus Millburn, Tim Buckley decided Todd Becker, 8-2. The victory boosted Buckley's mark to 7-7. The match with Millburn was televised by TV-3 and beamed back to Belleville wrestling fans a couple of times last week.

Dominick Cerrato won his 14th match in a row, pinning John Zardoriewicz in the second period. Freshman Vince Capriglione drew with Jim Costenbader, 8-8. Capriglione rallied in the waning seconds to earn the draw and keep Belleville ahead.

The draw gave Capriglione a 6-3-1 record entering the districts. Mike Giuffrida decided Mike Given, 8-5, to give Belleville a 14-2 lead heading into the 129 weight class. Millburn found its first victory there as Tom Murray defeated Darren Sneddon, 9-1. Belleville came right back as the "S & Z" team of Luke Siletti and Ralph Zarro extended Belleville's lead. Siletti decided John Rountree, 8-0, and Zarro breezed past Lou San Filippo, 9-1. For Zarro, the victory was number 13 against seven losses and a tie.

At 148, Jim Raccanelli was pinned, but Jimmy Meyler pinned Dave Zamara in 3:32 to make it nine in a row for him. Senior Jaime Lijo was on the short end of a 17-7 count, setting the stage at 188 and Mr. Mike Gibbons.

The junior, who hasn't lost a match since March 1983, pinned Ted Engler in 3:26 of the second period for victory number 20. Mark Criscione was beaten, 3-1 by Bob Rausch, to make the final score, 34-19.

Against Bergenfield, Belleville started off strong with Buckley winning, 9-4 over Tony Di Gennaro. Cerrato will take a solid 20-1 mark into the districts as he pinned Dan O'Donnell to give the Bucs a 9-0 lead.

Freshman sensation Capriglione continued to win, pinning Tom Huber at 4:24. Giuffrida also won, boosting his personal record to 14-3-1 by decisioning Frank Manning. "G," who took a second in the districts last season, will be looking to win the title this year.

At 129, Cam Rispoli returned to action following an injury but suffered a fall in the second period by Larry Neisterson.

Siletti, at 135, upped his record to 14-7 with a superior decision over Mike Illie, 15-0. Siletti has shown marked improvement over the course of the season and should be strong in the districts. Bergenfield gained some life when Delroy Dohm defeated Zarro, 6-3, and Greg Martin pinned Raccanelli at 148.

On to 158, Meyler won his 19th match in 21 tries by beating Bob Lucke, 9-6. Meyler won the districts last season and this year, he's gunning for a spot at Jadwin Gym in Princeton.

Over at 170, Lijo got back to his winning ways by pinning Spicos Macris in 1:08 of the first period. Lijo is 13-4 on the season.

At 188 pounds, well, what else did you expect. Gibbons won match number 21 without a setback, pinning Scott Connolly in 3:42 of the second period. Mark Criscione was pinned in 2:13 of the second period to close out the score, 38-21 Belleville, and wrap up the undefeated season. Next stop: A trip to the districts and a date with St. Benedicts.

NOTES: Wrestlers of the week go to Luke Siletti and Tim Buckley, both of who have really improved since the outset of the year. Gibbons' undefeated regular season marks the first time since Chris Musmanno's perfection in 1980 that a Belleville wrestler has entered post season with a perfect mark.

Charity Basketball Set For March 9

The Belleville High School Student Government Organization is sponsoring a benefit basketball game between the world famous Harlem Wizards basketball team and the high school faculty on Friday, March 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Belleville High School gymnasium. Proceeds from the event will be donated to the Katie Reilly Liver Transplant Fund.

The Wizards feature Tex Barwell, a master trickster with a basketball who demonstrates his own unique interpretation of basketball rules and who might even be seen cheering his teammates on from the stands.

Among the faculty players will be basketball stars Lenny D'Armento, Paul Sem, George Turturiello, Tom Finetti, Danny Grasso, Anthony Sorrentino, Carl Corino, Ray Ianuzzi, Joe Petrillo, Mike Early, Tony Salese and John Tosato. Also featured with the faculty will be Belleville's own basketball coaching staff, Joe Papasidero, Rocco Colucci and Don Roll. An added attraction will be the illustrious talent of Al Lo Balbo of St. John's University basketball coaching fame directing the faculty team.

Do not miss this opportunity to come and see basketball at its finest and funniest, a game that the whole family can enjoy. Tickets, courtesy of Printing Techniques, Nutley, are $3 if purchased in advance or $4 at the door, and may be purchased at Nino's, Union Avenue, Belleville; The Belle Maid, Joralemon Street, Belleville; Sally's Auto Parts, Franklin Avenue, Nutley; and from members of the Student Government Organization. For further ticket information contact Mrs. Pat Pugliese at 759-4700.

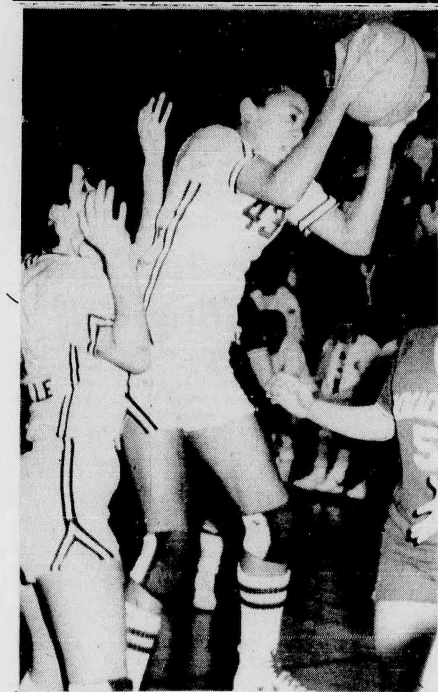

Boys Close Season Against Kardinals

It all comes to an end tomorrow night for the Belleville boys' basketball team when the troop hosts Kearny High School in a 7:30 p.m. tip off. For head coach Joe Papasidero and his walking wounded, the end of the season is a time of reflection, looking back to the way things might have been.

Last week, the Bucs dropped two more tough games, losing to St.

Joseph's of Montvale, 69-67 in overtime, and to Passaic, 65-55. In both contests, Belleville led at the half, but faltered in the stretch. On the season, the Bucs are 5-16 and are riding a 10-game losing streak. Since Phil Colafilio went down in early January with a ruptured appendix, the Bucs are 1-13.

(Please see 'Bucs' on page 13.)

Girls Advance to Semi-finals Of Essex County Tournament

While Jennifer Apicella does her job in exciting fashion, there is one contest that saw Nutley win by another player on the Belleville girls' basketball team that has been drawing raves from her coach for contributions that do not affect directly the team box score. The players' name is Loreli Wells and her defense is one of the main reasons why Belleville is 19-5 and competing in the semi final round of the Essex County Tournament.

Last week, Belleville won three victories in the semi final round of the more games, stopping Kearny, Essex County Tournament. The game Nutley Immaculate and defeating was played at Belleville High last Nutley in a rematch of an earlier night. On Saturday evening, the girls' will be at Seton Hall University, either for the championship game which starts at 8 p.m. or the consolation game which commences at six p.m. The other semi final game features defending champion Shabazz battling Newark City League rival West Side. That game tipped off at 8 p.m. also from BHS.

The win over Nutley was vintage Belleville from the start. With Wells' playing strong defense, Apicella and Dina De Aquino leading the offense and Donna Brooks controlling the

(Please see 'Girls' on page 13.)

Girls' Essex County Basketball Tournament Growing

Look out West Side, be careful Shabazz, don't look now, Irvington, but here comes Belleville High School's girls' basketball team, Karen Fucello's hand of running Buccaneers who are in the semifinals of the Essex County Tournament and thinking championship.

Last week, the girls ripped Montclair Immaculate, 58-42 to advance to semis for the second straight year and third time in six seasons. They advance to the semis, which were played last night. In top condition for the first time in at least four weeks were Jennifer Apicella, Dina De Aquino, Loreli Wells, Donna Brooks and Tracy Buono. They are the nucleus of a team that was picked by this paper to steal the tourney two weeks ago and now appear headed to do just that.

In defeating Immaculate last week, Belleville used a powerful running game to wear down Immaculate in the second half after Belleville held a two-point advantage at intermission. For Belleville, this year's team, which went into Nutley last Monday with an 18-5 mark, is one of experience.

Last year at this time, Belleville had defeated Millburn and earned the right to play in the semis. The competition then was Shabazz High School, a club ranked number three in New Jersey, the defending county champs and undefeated for the 1982-83 season. Belleville played it tough, trailing by four at halftime. In the third quarter, Apicella broke the 2,000-point mark, but it was all downhill after that as Lisa Long, the Lady Bulldog's 6'0" center, went to work on the boards and wore down the smaller Buccanette team.

Belleville battled Irvington in the consolation game of the tourney at Seton Hall University two days later. It was a game that Fucello and company would rather forget. There was little life in the girls and Irvington, paced by a freshman named Tammy Hammond, breezed to a 13-point win. Belleville finished with a fourth place showing and a determination to return to the counties and do better.

This year, Belleville has just that shot. Clifford Scott, the top seed in the tourney and a team picked by most of the experts to win the tourney, was upset by Irvington in the second round of the ECT. Scott was the one team that Fucello feared the most and with them gone, the tourney appears wide open.

Shabazz, perhaps the biggest surprise of the tourney, is back again, battling Newark West Side in the second game of the tourney, also held last night at Belleville High School. The Lady Bulldogs defeated Caldwell in the quarterfinals and despite the fact that Shabazz lost its entire starting team to graduation, it has come back strong, boasting a 16-1 record for the West Side game.

The Essex County Tournament is quickly picking up prestige as one of the top post season tourneys in the state. The winner of the tourney has done quite well in state action and is highly regarded when the season concludes.

Last year, Shabazz and Scott battled for the crown at Seton Hall. Scott had an 18-point lead in the fourth quarter, but Shabazz, in one of the greatest comebacks in girls' high school basketball, rallied to win by four points over the last seven minutes. Shabazz and Scott went on to win their respective state crowns. Shabazz in Group III and Scott in II. For Scott, it was its second straight state title and are favored to take a third straight crown this year.

In 1982, the same two schools battled

BUC SHOTS
By Michael Lamberti
Sports Editor

for the crown with the same result. Adrienne Bond, Shabazz's scoring sensation, led the way over Pia Frazier and Scott by 11 points. Frazier had to be carried off the floor with a knee injury late in the contest.

Clifford Scott and East Orange battled for the crown in 1981 with the Scotties upsetting defending champion East Orange by two points. Paulette Bigelow led East Orange, but it was the play of Carol Jones, Scott's fine guard, which gave Scott the big victory over its cross town rival.

In 1980, East Orange was voted the best team in New Jersey. The Panthers went 31-0 and won the county crown, stopping Columbia by 10 points. East Orange, whose closest call of the season came against Belleville, went on to win the state crown over Atlantic City.

In 1979 and 1978, Columbia was the state's best, beating Barringer and Glen Ridge respectively. The Lady Cougars were loaded, as were the 1977 Nutley Maroon Raiders, another team that went undefeated and won the county and state crowns.

Winning the Essex County Tournament would be a big boost to the girls' program. Fucello has done a tremendous job in building up the program to the point where it is now considered one of the best in the area. She has done a marvelous job with her team and right now, they appear to be playing with consistency and determination.

The big obstacle is Irvington. Belleville has never fared well against the Campers, losing in the counties and state tourney last season and the state tourney in 1982. The Campers boast a big team, with good coaching. Tammy Hammond, a sophomore scoring machine, leads the way. At 6'0", she will be tough to contain on the boards and is the one thing that Belleville has a tough time defending, the big center.

Another note of interest is that the girls will play at Seton Hall University on Saturday night, whether they win or lose the Irvington game. The winner plays in the championship game, the loser in the consolation game. On Saturday night, the chances are good that Apicella will break yet another record. The all-time leading scorer in New Jersey history will become the first woman ever to break the 3,000-point mark and only the second player in New Jersey history ever to do so. John Somogyi of St. Peter's in New Brunswick scored over 3,000 points in 1965-1968.

Apicella enters the week with 2,904 points and if she breaks this final obstacle, will have proven without a shadow of a doubt that she is indeed the best female basketball player ever in the state of New Jersey. Chances are, Apicella has already laid claim to that boast. You can't help but admire her tough play and marvelous achievements.

The Belleville High School athlete of the week is Loreli Wells of the girls' basketball team. Quietly, Wells has been doing a super job on the defensive team for the girls and will be a big player in the girls' games this week.

Here is the answer to last week's quiz. The question was, name the game in which Jennifer Apicella broke the 2,000-point mark in the result of that game and the quarter she attained the mark. The answer was in this week's column. Apicella broke the record against Shabazz, in the third quarter as Belleville lost by 16 points.

For this week's quiz, name the college that Julius Erving attended, the NBA team that selected him in the draft and the first professional team that Erving played for.

Indoor Track Finishes Good Season; Awaits Promising Outdoor Campaign

The Belleville indoor track team recently completed a successful season and head coach John Tosato is anxiously awaiting the start of the outdoor campaign, set to begin on March 8.

Twenty-two athletes completed the season, 18 of which were men, while four completed the season for the women's team. Tosato hopes to have a larger turnout for the outdoor season. Individually, Patty Bliss competed in the mile, two mile and the last leg of the spring medley. Her best effort was the last meet of the season, at Rockland Community College, when she ran a 12:31 two mile. Bliss also came through with a 3:13 1,000-meter run.

A senior, Bliss has been a hard worker for the harriers since her freshman year. You can't say enough of her never-say-die attitude, her hard work and dedication toward the program. Maybe, the third best runner in the program's history (Dana Caruso and Sue Smith the front runners), Bliss can be a successful collegiate athlete.

Junior Bob Hutchinsonson competed in the mile and two mile. His best effort was an 11:29 two mile at Rockland Community. Hutchinsonson will now turn his energies to the outdoor squad. He's been running since cross country season and should be in excellent condition.

Sophomore Joe Christ competed in the two-mile relay, the half mile and mile. His best time came in the mile run this winter, a 5:08 at the Essex County championships in Seton Hall's bubble. "That was an excellent time for him, especially at the bubble," praised Tosato. "Joe should do a good job for us in the outdoor season as well."

Sophomore Dominick Ferry competed in the mile, two mile and two-mile relay squad. His best time came in the mile run, a 5:13, also at Seton Hall. Ferry, like Christ, Hutchinsonson and Billy Huamani, should make the Bucs' outdoor distance team a respectable unit.

Huamani, a junior, came through with a 5:25 mile at Rockland Community and competed on the two-mile relay and distance relay squads. He was Mr. Reliable for the harriers, he can be counted on in a number of different events.

Sophomore Keith Clark competed in the 300 and 600 meters, senior Marshall Mason took part in the distance medley before an injury put a premature ending to his season.

Sophomore J.R. Di Vincenzo started the season late due to illness, but he came through with a good showing for the distance team and should be effective for the outdoor team.

Freshman Berj Akain and John Zurlo rounded out the running squad. Both men should have good futures in store for them. With proper training and dedication, they will be good athletes.

The shot putters were led by senior Tim Daudelin. Daudelin threw the shot 37 feet, two inches at

"The shot putters did a lot of weight lifting and all threw their personal bests this winter," said Tosato.

"There is a lot of optimism going into the outdoor season. We have a tough schedule with the new conference, especially Teaneck and Hackensack. Our field team should do well and we should be solid from the 800 meters on up. With a good turnout, our squad could be very good."

Bucs Close Season Against Kearny

"We had our opportunities, we just missed out down the stretch," said a frustrated Joe Papisidero about the St. Joseph's game. "We had a one-in-one with 40 seconds left that could have iced it and we turned it over with 20 seconds. We gave them the opportunity to tie and they did."

It was the second time this season that Belleville blew a big lead against St. Joe's in the fourth quarter and went on to lose in OT. Earlier, Belleville took a 12-point lead at St. Joe's home court, then fell victim to 6'10" center Mario Izzo and lost in overtime.

Once again, Izzo was tough on the Bucs. The senior center, headed for either Michigan or Michigan State next fall, scored 19 points and was a nemesis throughout.

"He's awesome," said Papisidero. "Our starting forwards are 6 feet and they have a 6'10" center, and two 6'5" forwards. Still, we should have won the game."

The Bucs grabbed a 20-14 first quarter lead and held a 37-36 lead at intermission. Belleville took what appeared to be a commanding lead, 53-45 going into the final frame, but St. Joe's outscored the Bucs, 20-12 to force OT.

Danny Ward, who has been super all season long, scored 30 points to lead Belleville. Steve Kimble had a season high 16 points. Joe Borrello had 10, Mike Sochaski, 10, and Brian Cook, two. In addition to Izzo's 19 points, John O'Donnell had 18 for St. Joe's.

Against Passaic, Papisidero was not too happy with the officiating. "It was a very good game, we played hard, as usual. However, the officiating was something to be desired. We played the same style of ball in both halves, but you figure it out. In the first half, we committed two personal fouls (Belleville led, 26-24 at the half). In the second half, we're assessed with 17 personal fouls. There were some questionable calls, to say the least."

Ward, the team's top scorer this year, fouled out of the game, further hampering the Bucs' chances. From a 26-24 halftime lead, Passaic outscored the Bucs, 17-8 in the third quarter and led, 41-34 entering the final frame.

There, Belleville played tough basketball, but fell by 10 points, 65-55. Anthony Kenner had 18 points for Passaic to lead the Indian cause. For Belleville, Borrello led the way with 16 points, Ward had 13 in limited action, Kimble scored eight, Nick Sotomayer, six, Brian Cook and Al Best, four each, Al Washington, two, and Sochaski, two.

The Bucs were in Hackensack earlier this week and are in Newark to battle Arts High this afternoon. The Kearny game will round out a season that has seen injuries upon injuries ruin a team that was given a good chance to post a winning season. Phil Colalillo has been out since early January. Dave Boyd has missed the last two weeks with torn ligaments in his ankle. He might play the Arts and Kearny game, but that's questionable. Sochaski has been hampered with a lower back problem and Kimble has a bad wrist, an injury incurred during football season.

NOTES: After 21 games last year, Belleville was 9-12 and heading toward an upset victory over Weequahic in the first round of the state tourney. The Bucs have not won a game in their section of the NNJIL and are hoping to pull off a victory at Hackensack. Belleville's losses have been close, its average setback has been by nine points or less. Colalillo has been feeling better and could be a legitimate college player next fall.

Girls Move Ahead In County Tourney

boards, Belleville gave a clinic on how team basketball should be played.

The first quarter was a see saw type game as both clubs battled for position. Nutley led the lead for most of the quarter, with Dawn Rosselli hitting some jump shots and Robin McDonald adding key points. However, Belleville came back late in the quarter, tallying the last four points and taking a 16-14 lead into the second frame. De Aquino, who finished the day with 14 points, and Apicella (36 points) added the last two field goals that gave Belleville the lead for good.

In the second quarter, the girls ran off five straight points as Tracy Buono hit a layup, and Apicella tallied a jump shot and converted a free throw. Nutley came close as 22-18 when Rosselli hit a jump shot, but Belleville pulled away for good, hitting eight straight points to take a 30-18 lead. Apicella hit for four points in the spree, and De Aquino had four. Robin McDonald tallied a jump shot before the half and Belleville led, 30-20 at intermission.

The third quarter saw Janet Serio of Nutley score the first two points on a jump shot, but that was all the Raiders would score the period. With Wells playing solid defense, the girls scored the last 12 points of the frame to tear the contest wide open. Brooks started it with a field goal, De Aquino and Brooks added free throws, De Aquino then hit a jump shot and free throw, and Apicella, not to be forgotten, tallied the last five points of the quarter to give Belleville a 42-22 lead entering the final frame. In addition to Apicella's points, Brooks had 12 and Buono, two for Belleville. The play of De Aquino and the all around hustle of the Belleville squad made the win a big notch in the victory column. "It was good to beat them after the first game," said Karen Fucello. "We should have won that game as well, but this effort was very good."

The final score of the contest was 64-39 and capped off a week in which Belleville pretty much dominated the opponent.

versus Kearny, the most exciting part of the game came after the final horn. The Board of Education, who voted unanimously to retire Apicella's number 22, honored the senior All American following the game with the official announcement that Apicella will indeed have her number retired at seasons end.

The game itself was one sided. The girls jumped out to an 11-4 first quarter lead and extended the margin to 29-10 at halftime. The third quarter was blowout city, 15-3 in favor of Belleville and a 44-13 lead going into the final frame. Belleville coasted, 62-29.

Apicella was on fire once more, hitting for 47 points, Brooks tallied 11 and De Aquino, four. Margie Kerzic had 11 for Kearny.

In a very good effort, Belleville stopped a strong Montclair Immaculate team, 56-42 in round two of the Essex County tourney. This was a contest that saw Belleville lead, 12-7 after one, but Montclair came back to cut the gap to 21-19 at halftime.

In the third quarter, Belleville started to pull away as the run and gun game went to work. The girls' behind Apicella and De Aquino, outscored MI, 17-13 and led, 38-32 entering the final frame. From there, Belleville took control, taking the tired Montclair Immaculate team out of the game and winning by 14 points. Apicella had 36 points, De Aquino, 13, Brooks, four, Buono, two and Sheri Sorrentino, one. Jenny Jenkins, Montclair Immaculate's 1,000 point junior scorer, was held to 18 points by Wells and Co.

Vinnie's Deli had a fine season finishing at 5-3 with Frank Genarelli (15 points against "US") finishing with the league's best scoring average, 14.4 points per game.

Village Video soared into the semifinals by thrashing the Opec Oilers, 52-33. P. Dorizas and I. Apucello combined for 38 points in lifting their record to 6-2. The losers were led by C. Marino (13) and H. Petrat (10) but suffered their sixth straight defeat and ended the season 2-6.

The closest contest of the night was between Z & Z Contracting and Jackie's Luncheonette with Z & Z coming up the victor. Leading the charge for the winners was F. Zangari who scored 15 points and lifted its record to 5-3. They now meet in a semifinal game against Walker Transport. Jackie's, who finished at 4-4, received eight from F. Wedekin and seven from J. Demgard.

Undefeated Walker Transport continued its quest to repeat as league champions as they walked past Viking Barbell, 47-26. D. Sinclair scored 14 and A. Rock and R. Wells scored eight apiece for the winners (8-0). The Martucci Brothers combined for 16 points for Viking who finished at 0-8.

First DeWitt Bank Expansion Okayed

A proposal to expand First DeWitt Savings and Loan Association at 463 Washington Ave. was unanimously approved by the Zoning Board at a recent meeting.

In a 7-0 vote, the panel — chaired by Joel Pisano — gave conditional approval to the bank's plan to construct a two-story addition to the north side of the present building.

A condition of approval is to provide fencing along the Floyd Street border of the property in an effort to satisfy some half dozen objectors, area residents who opposed any expansion that might increase what they termed already troublesome traffic and parking conditions.

During hearings, the bank president, Henrik Tvedt, testified that expansion would enable First DeWitt, which maintains six branches in other communities, to establish an operating headquarters in Belleville.

The executive said the bank has assets of $236 million and provides checking and savings services as well as offering home improvement, mortgage, auto, and student loans.

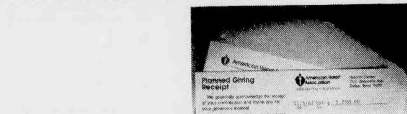

The expansion, he said, would enable the bank to extend services to providing safety deposit boxes as well as a 24-hour teller.

Tvedt also noted that additional space would permit the bank to consolidate several operations at one location. Presently, the bank's mortgage office is located in Bloomfield, but plans call for moving it to the Belleville branch.

First DeWitt employs a total of 62 full-time and 19 part-time employees. With 29 full-timers and five part-timers in Belleville, Tvedt predicts several employees will be relocated from other branches to handle the increased Belleville services.

The executive testified that the bank's on-site parking lot of what may be 23 spaces when construction is completed, and an employee lot — available to patrons if needed — with 25 spaces across the street, would adequately serve both the increased staff and projected increased patronage.
