Voters Head to Polls For School Board Election

Polling Places Open From 2-9 p.m. on Tuesday

$16.9 Million School Budget In Voters' Hands

A major upset was recorded during last year's School Board election when taxpayers approved the board's budget for the first time in 20 years. And board trustees are hopeful that the passing streak hits two this week, as voters head to the polls Tuesday to decide the fate of the district's $16.9 funding package.

funding package.
"I can say unequivocally to voters that they are getting 100 cents' worth of education out of every dollar," said Gabe Nazziola, who heads the budget committee this year. "We started out with a budget priced at $18.1 million and trimmed it some 29 tax points to reach the $16.9 mark. And we did it without cutting out any major programs which would affect our children's education."

Besides the budget voters will

Besides the budget, voters will also be selecting three School Board members, two for three-year seats and one for a one-year term. Polls open at 2 p.m. and close at 9 p.m.

The budget, which was adopted 6by the School Board last week, calls for an increase of 16 tax points. The proposal translates into an $80 tax increase on a home assessed at $50,000 and $112 on a property assessed at $70,000.

sessed at $70,000.

The only opposition to the budget came from outgoing Trustee Charles Miele, who said the school's budget combined with the Commissioners' 24 tax point increase for township operations, "would prove too much for the taxpayers to bear."

Last year voters approved the board's $16.3 million budget by a wide margin. It was the first time in 20 years that the bûdget had been approved by the taxpayers, therefore saving the School Board from bring-

Six Candidates Vying For Three Open Seats

By Ed Capparucci

The campaigning, rallies and parties will all be ending soon. The speeches, promises and debates are a thing of the past, and now it is time to sit back and wait for the final results to start rolling in Tuesday night at 9/15 p.m. On the line are three seats on the Board of Education, and after them are six candidates, including two incumbents.

Voters will be heading to the polls Tuesday, April 3 to elect three new members of the board. Two seats are for three-year terms and one seat calls for a one-year term. Polls open at 2 p.m. and will close at 9 p.m. (See page 15 for list of polling places throughout the township).

Looking to fill out the remainder of Charles Miele's vacant seat are Ernest Zoppi and Richard Melham, while seeking election to the three-year seats are: incumbents Donna Rainone and Thomas Spillane, along with former assistant superintendent of schools Sy Grossman and elementary school teacher Phil Linfante.

Spillane, who has served as the board's vice president for the past two years, is seeking his second term as a trustee.

"We have a very good school system in Belleville and I don't say that just because I am a trustee," said Spillane. 'And I don't believe that the system got that way in the last three years. The most important improvement in the last three years has been the emphasis placed on updating the curriculum."

Spillane, 44, was elected to the board in 1981 and has played a major part in budget preparation and the proper com-

Charges are Dropped In Fornarotto Case

All charges were dropped tast week in an assault case involving a Belleville official and a local citizen who is running for a seat on the township Commission.

According to the citizen, Joseph Fornarotto of Union Avenue, charges were dropped on his side as a preliminary step in taking his case to superior court.

Efforts to reach Robert Domenick, Belleville's construction code official, for comment on his successful.

Following several postponements, the hearing was held March 21 in Bloomfield Municipal Court before Judge Carl Stier.

Fornarotto, 60, was represented by Marvin Waxman of East Orange and Domenick, 45, by Jack Gold also of East Orange. Neither attorney returned repeated calls to comment on the case.

The case involves an altercation that occurred between Domenick and Fornarotto on the morning of Jan. 24 at the offices of the Public Affairs Department on Washington Avenue, where Domenick works.

Fornarotto claimed, according to police reports, Domenick struck him. He was taken to Clara Mass Medical Center that day for treatment of his injuries.

Domenick claimed he struck Fornarotto in self defense. He suffered no apparent injuries.

An activist citizen and political critic. Fornarotto charged the attack was provoked by his questions about Domenick's qualifications for his post during a town meeting held just days before the altercation.

Both parties filed assault charges. The case was transferred to Bloomfield Municipal Court in February when Beileville Judge Edward Abromson disqualified himself on grounds that the matter involved a local official.

Fornarotto said this week he planned to take the case to a higher court. "I wouldn't be satisfied with the decision of a municipal court." he explained. "I'm seeking damages and in order to go to a superior court. I have to withdraw all the charges in the lower court." Fornarotto expected his attorney to file-

The Belleville Apartment Owners Association says it will lobby for the abrogation of the borough's nine-year-old rent control law or, in the alternative, for the introduction of decontrol.

The existing law, which places a 6 percent ceiling on rental increases for trenants of Belleville's multi-family residences, has deprived landlords of a fair return on their investments, the coalition charges. Consequently, there has been a multitude of tax appeals, it notes.

the landlords and it is the single-family and two-family homeowners who bear the brunt in the form of increased taxes," explains Ralph B. Giordano, a spokesman for the apartment owners coalition.

Giordano, executive vice president of Govel Realtors of Belleville, which manages over 2.000 residential units in the borough, notes that the borough taxes are already threatened by higher costs of municipal services. The combination of these increased service costs and rent control is going to create an impossible situation for homeowners, many of whom are already struggling to make ends meet." Giordano adds. "But the politicians are ignoring this in favoring of courting tenant votes."

According to Giordano, rent control has actually proven ineffective in many cases in earning tenants the rights they deserve. Not only has it resulted in a severe diminishment of rental housing stock as more and more landlords convert their properties to condominium or cooperative ownership, but rent control in many communities has been completely abolished. Absolutely no new rental properties have been constructed in

"Throughout New Jersey, a number of towns have realized a failure with rent control," Giordano says. "In neighboring Montclair, for example, rent control was eliminated altogether because the community's tax base was being eroded by the number of tax appeals generated by rent control. Single-family and two-family homeowners are simply refusing to tolerate onerous tax hikes resulting from rent control."

The Belleville Apartment Owners Association points to Bloomfield and Nutley, where decontrol has been enacted, and to North Arlington, where a 30 percent rent control ceiling is in effect, to support its contention that the Belleville law is dangerously stringent.

Within the past few years, the cost of cosnetic treatment has risen substantially, causing consumers to pay top dollar for quality service. But through the skills of trained students at Belleville High School, residents can still find quality cosmetic services at moderate prices.

Since 1981 the cosmetology department at the high school has been providing a variety of services for the community, including hair styling, manicures, facials, and now even treatment of hair removal.

According to Sandy Giordano, who is in charge of the department, the Removatron system painlessly removes unwanted hair. "This process removes hair through radio frequency energy, unlike electrolysis which uses needles." she said. "Electrolysis can also leave scars because it breaks the skin."

The Removatron, which has been in existence for nearly 15 years, works with heat to destroy the papilla, which is the source of nourishment for hair growth. "The process."

However, depending on what stage your hair is in, regrowth can even occur with the Removatron process. But, according to Giordano, almost 30 percent of hair will never come back in any treatment. "Sometimes two or three sittings are required." She said, "but eventually the treatment does become permanent."

According to Vincent De Pauw, supervisor of Related Arts, the effec-tiveness of the Removatron system tiveness of the Removatron system was the main reason it was chosen overelectrolysis. "We looked at both systems and felt it seemed to do the better job, Electrolysis only distorts the follicle and can sear, whereas the Removatron process destroys the hair permanently."

In fact, the entire process takes only 15 minutes to an hour, depending on the extent of treatment, and the cost is only $3 for every 15 minutes. "If you went to a beauty shop the cost would be $15," said Giordano.

Recently, the department was recognized as a training center for the Removatron system by its

Prayer For Today

Lord, though I am a miserable and wretched creature, I am in Covenant with Thee through grace. And I may, I will, come to Thee, for Thy People. Thou hast made me, though very unworthy, a mean instrument to do them some good, and Thee service; and many of them have set too high a value upon me, though others wish and would be glad of my death; Lord, however Thou dost dispose of me, continue and go on to do good for them. Give them consistency of judgment, one heart, and mutual love. Teach those who look too much on Thy instruments, to depend more upon Thyself. Pardon such as desire to trample upon the dust of a poor worm, for they are Thy people too. And pardon the foll of poor worm, for they are Thy people too. And pardon the folly of this short Prayer.

School Board Election

The voters will be asked to decide next Tuesday who shall represent them for the one-year, unexpired term of former School Board Trustee Charles Miele, and the two three-year terms currently held by Donna Rainone and Tom Spillane. For the one-year term, former School Board President Truie Zonni and Richard

Frine Zoppi and Richard Melham are the candidates. Zoppi's experience on the School Board makes him the preferred choice - thus we endorse Ernie Zoppi for election to the one-year, unexpired term.

Donna Rainone is completing her first term as a School Board trustee. Soon after election, she was compelled to make a choice between serving as coordinator of the children's placement program for the Essex County court system, or remain as an unsalaried member of the Belleville Board of Education. There is a quirk in the law that prohibited Donna from serving in both jobs. Faced with the option, Donna quit her paythe option, Donna guit her paying job with the Essex County court system and opted to remain with the Belleville Board of Education, thus serving the needs of our students and taxneeds of our students and tax-payers. Donna has served well during the past three years and she is one of two females on the School Board, the other being the competent School Board President Mrs. Grace Purdue. When Donna Rainone gave up her paying ich for control son her paying job for service as an unsalaried member of the Bel-leville School Board, she grew 10 feet tall in our eyes. We respect her — we support her re-election

Incumbent Tom Spillane has compiled a record in office — and he is running on his record. During his tenure, Spillane has served two years as the School Board vice president. It is for the voters to either accept or reject Mr. Spillane's record. If the quality of education provided to our students today provided to our students today meets with the approval of the voters, obviously, Tom Spillane played a part in that quality of education.

Also seeking the three-year term are retired assistant superintendent of schools, Seymour Grossman, former Seymour Grossman, former principal of the Belleville Junior High School, and St. Peter's Elementary School teacher, Phil Linfante.

Seymour Grossman is a Belleville tradition — is a Belleville treasure — he is a personal friend. Seymour Grossman has been involved in the civic af-fairs of the community over many, many years. He is a selfless individual, caring more about others than himself. His character spells decency with a capital "D." As an educator, he is among the best. His past civic activities make it clear that Mr. Grossman has paid his dues to society.

Phil Linfante also is an Phil Linfante also is an educator, eloquent and competent. Next Tuesday's election present voters with a rare opportunity. All candidates, in their totality, present the voters with a cut or two of quality candidates above the average. This is unique. Because the candidates are so well qualified, the voters' choice will be difficult. In the end, there will not be a case of rejection — the choice will be between good and better. And for this, we are grateful. More important — voters must arouse themselves voters must arouse themselves next Tuesday to visit the polls and vote their best interests.

The Senatore Family Sends Their Thanks

To the editor:

(Special thank you to the people of Belleville.)

My family and I would like to acknowledge with grateful appreciation the expression of sym pathy demonstrated by many of the citizens of the Township of Belleville.

We are truly inspired by the individuals who on this occasion of human need so willingly accepted into their hearts the sorrow and burden of the passing of my mother, Mary Vuono Senatore.

For those of you who knew my mother, you know that she devoted all of her life to the Township of Belleville.

The entire family has been raised and educated in Belleville. My comfort will always be that of her hour of need, her life rested in the hands of capable people whom she trusted. To the M.I.C. unit. Belleville Ambulance Squad, who tried tirelessly to bring every ounce of life back, I say thank you for your compassion and desire to spare me until family and friends could be with me. To the Clara Maass Hospital emergency room staff who did their utmost to try to make us comfortable and alleviate some of the sorrows, my love and gratitude.

Special thanks to Sheriff Thomas D'Alessio and the men in his department who stood guard during both the wake and took part in the funeral procession.

Township Should Collect Its Own Garbage and Save

To the editor:

As an interested citizen and taxpayer, I. Joseph Fornarotto, suggested last year to the mayor and the commissioners to change the name of Belleville from a town to a township. By doing this I believe we receive about $800,000 in federal dollars from Washington, through a quote in the law.

Now with the help of the mayor and commissioners. I believe we can save $300,000 to $400,000 per year by picking up our own garbage, plus with recycling aluminum, glass and paper.
We will pick up more dollars. Making surveys with other towns in the area, I found it can be done.

This past week the mayor supplied me with information of a little town of Woodcliff Lakes. By picking their own garbage, they saved over $182,000 the first year.

With the increase in the township budget by about 25 points and the school budget by about 16 points, we the renters and homeowners need all the savings. we can get by modifying our ways of spending.

Through attrition, sound investments, and department cooperation, 1 believe that taxpayers of Belleville can get its dollar value. Joseph Fornarotto 523 Union Ave.

Labor Union President Appreciates Cooperation

To the editor:

As the president of a leading labor union in New Jersey, I am compelled to write to your paper to at least give some balance to the impression created by the steady stream of reports of labor-management strife and hostility.

The upturn in our economic recovery is not served well by what appears to be a broad public misconception of universal discord between companies and their respective unions. The consistent and successful efforts of both management and labor toward a sound and productive economy seems to have panies and their respective unions. The consistent and successful efforts of both management and labor toward a sound and productive economy seems to have been lost in the shuffle for the sensational headline-arresting news stories. It is this record that I wish to put into proper perspective and to this end, on behalf of our entire membership, express a thank you to AT&T Technologies (formerly) Western Electric) of Kearny, New Jersey.

Our local has been in existence nearly 40 years — at one time having a membership of over 22,000 employees of Western Electric in Kearny. Throughout the years, our union and management have had a relationship rooted in honesty and trust for the welfare of the company, employees and the community. This has been proven over and over again and is now demonstrated in these most trying times brought about by the phasing-out of the Kearny plant. Both the union and the company are cooperating to again serve the needs of the employees and the community. Some plants have been known to simply issue a last-minute notice of closing and simply giving out the last paycheck.

The announced plant closing of our Kearny facility is a modern example of a company's recognition of their socioeconomic and moral obligations to their employees and the community. It is not an easy task, but one that carries a costly price tag to be done properly. In a true spirit of cooperation for the ultimate common welfare of the company, employees and the community itself, we have set up labor-management teams to resolve differences arising out of the closing, instituted job-search seminars, provide relocation and retirement and severance benefits under our union contract. This also includes a posting and bidding procedure for job openings in all of the other AT&T Technologies facilities and throughout AT&T in New Jersey. For those relocated to other jobs, the company pays up to $5,000 toward expenses incurred by the relocation. 'The Entertainer' by John Osborne has open a five-week run at the Actor's Cafe Theatre, in residence at Bloomfield College, Franklin and Fremont streets, Bloomfield, and will be performed every Friday and Saturday night at 8 p.m. through April 21.

The Music Hall of England is dying, and Archie Rice, a glib, cheap, unscrupulous actor and promoter is going down for the last time, and dragging everyone else down with him. "This is hard drama and high theater that wrenches you with pity for the hopeless," says Frank Aston. A true theater-goer's play. The Music Hall numbers include "Why Should I Care." "Thank God I'm Normal." and "We're All Out for Good Old Number One." No one under 17 will be admitted without adult accompaniment.

Passaic Fish Contaminated

"Residents of Belleville are advised of the existence of a han on either selling or eating fish or crabs caught in the Passaic River between the Dundee Dam in Cliffon and Newark Bay." Thomas J. Longo. health officer of the Belleville Health Department, stated. "Because the chemical dioxin has been found in this section of the river; this han has been imposed by the New Jersey State Department of Environmental Protection."

Since no commercial fishing operations are carried on in this location, however, the main concern of the Belleville Health Department is not the sale, but the consumption of seafood caught by local recreational fishermen.

Longo further stated, "We want to emphasize that recreation fishing itself is not prohibited, only eating or selling fish or crabs caught in this area."

Since, except for the North Arlington Bridge, there is no access in Belleville to the Passaic River, the problem here seems to be not very acute. Nevertheless, all municipalities bordering the contaminated area have been alerted, and are informing their residents. Any questions about this can be answered by calling the health department at 759-2832.

Rally Planned For Spillane on April 1

Spillane has served as vice president of the board for the past two years. He has been a very active and vitale board member and is seeking a three-year seat.

Irrespective of the outcome, we may be certain that the quality of local public school education will be well served in recognition of the high quality and caliber of our school trustees.

ED-ITORIALIZING

It's School Board Election Time

By Ed Capparucci
It's hard to believe that Belleville voters will be heading to the polls once again, for yet another School Board election, I remember last April's election so well, it seems it took place only last month. There was the election of John DiStasi, Anthony D'Agostino and Gabe Nazziola to the board, as well as the shocking approval of the school budget. In most communities the passing of an education budget calling for no tax increase would not be considered abnormal, but on the contrary, odd if it fails. But as we all know, Belleville is a unique township and any budget which receives voter approval after a 19-year absence, has to be considered shocking.

This year the budget calls for a tax increase of 16 points. (See page one story for more details). And considering the break taxpayers have been given by the School Board in the past two years, a 16-point increase seems fairly reasonable. Although we would all like to see yet another budget calling for a zero-base tax increase, we must remember that the cost of education — like everything else these days — has risend drastically in recent years. Members of the board's budget committee started with a package priced a $18.1 million. Through long hours and much deliberation they trimmed the final product to $16.9 million, in an effort to save the taxpayers dollars, while maintaining a high level of education in the Belleville school district.

Children should receive the best education possible and it is up to concerned parents and residents to see that people in this community are aware that an approved budget is important to the future of education in Pathenille. * * * * *

This year three seats are available on the School Board, including one calling for a one-year term. The candidates for that race are Richard Melham and Ernie Zoppi.

Melham is making his first attempt at a public office, after spending the last 17 years involved in Belleville politics. A member off, amany civic organizations, he has been involved in numerous School Board and Commission campaigns.

Melham has voiced his concern about the school system in recent weeks during the campaign and says his work on the board will deal in the best interest of the children.

He lost his reclection bid in 1981 to Donna Rainone and Thomas Spillane. There are four candidates seeking the two available three-year seats next Tuesday, incumbents Rainone and Spillane, former assistant superintendent of schools Sy Grossman and St. Peter's elementary school teacher Phil Linfante. Rainone has been an active board member during her three-year term, demonstrating an excellent attendance record. Soon after her election in 1981. Rainone, who worked in the Essex County Children's Court system, was informed that by law she could not sit on the board while serving as an employee of the county. At the age of 25, she made a decision very few persons would have done—she quit her country post in order to remain a member of the board. During an interview shortly after her decision. Rainone said, "I feel I owe it to the people of Belleville who voted for me to serve on the board.

ing an interview shortly after her decision, Rainone said, "If feel I owe it to the people of Belleville who voted for me to serve on the board, not to walk away. They demonstrated a trust in me and I plan to come through for them."

Tom Spillane, like Rainone, has been active while serving on the board. During his term, Spillane served the past two years as the board's vice president. One thing a person who attends School Board meetings on a regular basis comes to realize about Tom Spillane, is that he is his own person, who many times votes against the majority of the board. He is someone who does his homework before voting on an issue and has been a benefit to the children and taxpayers of the community.

Sy Grossman is perhaps the most well known of all the candidates in leville voters, having once served on the Board of Education, including and tempted to run for any elective often eyear as board president. During his term, from 1978-81, Zoppi was involved in some major decisions, including the township's desegregation problem and the closing of Schools I and 2.

cheered, but mingled with the cheers were a few loud laughs.

In the Western Army war games, Private Glenn Sollie and Private Andrew Bearshield of the 15th Infantry had been ordered to make their way to a bridge and guard it. They were told to stand on duty at the bridge until relieved.

The two were faithful soldiers. They went and they guarded — and guarded. They stuck to it for three days and three nights without food and without blankets. Then they were — no not relieved — they were found: they were guarding the wrong bridge! The two brave warriors had lost their way and taken their battle station at a bridge seven miles away from the one they were to guard. They might still be there, if the 15th Infantry had not sent out a detail to look for them.

I suppose the two heroes might have been sent

I suppose the two heroes might have been sent to the guardhouse for going to the wrong bridge, but they also deserved military honors for guarding it so long. They got the honors — plus a laugh or two.

laugh or two.

A more serious mistake than guarding the wrong bridge is taking the wrong bridge to heaven. People are at the wrong bridge when they think they can work or earn their way into heaven. "There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death." (Proverbs 14:12.) People are on the wrong bridge when they think that joining a church or taking communion can take them to heaven. The Bible says: "The just shall live by faith."

Friend if you are at the wrong bridge, heed the words of St. John 14:6. "Jesus said unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me."

combine code enforcement efforts with other neighborhood oriented programs in an effort to provide a variety of support services to targeted neighborhoods.

DiRuggiero's program would focus on individual neighborhoods which would receive special attention from township personnel. The candidate emphasized, however, that the participation of individual neighborhoods would be crucial to the success of the program. "This would not be a case of Town Hall getting tough with neighborhoods," said DiRuggiero. "Those types of programs have been tried and failed far too many times. Instead my program would solicit the involvement and cooperation of people living in the targeted neighborhoods. I believe the people of Belleville have a great deal of pride in their community and I'd like to tap that feeling to make this program work."

According to the salary ordinance, the full-time post commanded a range this year of $19,856 to $22.397.

Pizzi said previously the new arrangement should save some $9,000 for Belleville.

Meantime, the full-time post of welfare director is now vacant. "I'm looking within my department first to see if I can find an appropriate person to transfer to the job," Pizzi said Monday.

He hopes to have the post filled within the week, but until then, the staff will perform the duties of Ippolito's former job.

Pizzi noted that Morello frequently did help out in investigations and is qualified to substitute.

The new appointment of the new director must yet be confirmed by the state, Risoli said Monday.

Joseph and Dreamcoat Glitters at Paper Mill

when the jeatous nusband tearns of the "involvement," innocent Joseph lands in a gloomy prison. It is favored destiny wins again, though, when Pharoah begins to have strange dreams.

Joseph's gift for prophecy protects Egypt from the ravages of a famine that destroy neighboring lands. His ability to read dreams wins him freedom, and an honored place in Egyptian society.

It all sounds unlikely as material for a successful Broadway musical, but it works like a dream, with the only drawback being the un-remarkable, though pleasant, musical score.

A competent singer, Gaines was particularly effective in the plaintive "Close Every Door" as he lamented his imprisonment and longed for his homeland Israel.

Davis was backed by a strong cast, particularly in Liz Larsen who handled the taxing role of the Narrator with warmth and humor, bringing a special dimension to a part originally designed for a male.

Truly the "King," this Pharoah.

Wayne Bryan was amusing as bureaucrat Potiphar who pays by credit cards. Nile style. He is mis-matched with a flamboyant wife per-formed in campy, racy fashion by sexy Lorena Palacios.

Real applause should go to the cast of brothers, a hilarious bunch who eventually make their way to Egypt to escape famine and find themselves reunited and forgiven by the brother they thought dead.

The show takes liberties with time and place as the brothers deliver to Jacob the message of Joseph's disappearance as a group of cowboys lamenting the loss but consoling thenselves that "there's one more angel in Heaven."

Throughout the show the brothers become Frenchmen and Mexican musicians in comic presentations of this ordinary man's life.

Bringing this dream to life were the imaginative sets of Karl Eigsti and the costumes designed by Guy Geoly whose masterpiece must sure-ly be the vivid, wild dreamcoat.

DeAquino and Buono The Only Seniors

Girls' Softball Squad Sporting A 'Changing' Look This Season

By Mark Foley
"Change" will definitely be the key word as the Belleville High School girls softball team looks toward the 1984 season. With a reorganized conference, a new assistant coach, an official captainey for the first time in five years, and at least five new players in the starting lineup, the success of the two-time defending Essex County champions will depend greatly on their ability to adapt to those changes.

For all of the question marks, tories away from the coveted 50-win plateau, has been hampered slightly by a leg injury that she suffered during basketball season and is currently throwing at about 75 percent of capacity, but has looked very consistence. capacity, but has looked very consistent in last week's scrimmages and should be recovered by opening day. Buono, Belleville's incomparable receiver and premier hitter, appears to be healthy and ready to continue her assault on the record books both offensively (103 RBI, 600 career slugging percentage) and defensively

(292 turnouts, .978 fielding average). Even more important than the playing prowess, the determination and leadership of these two young women will have a large influence on this year's otherwise young team.

The only other returning starters from last year's 23-4 club are junior Donna Brooks and sophomore Desiree Johansen, all-county players who will anchor the outfield and infield, respectively. Brooks, the fleet lead-off batter who hits for both power and average, will be shifting to centerfield after two years in left. An excellent contact hitter, Johansen is also adjusting to a new position, moving from third base to shortstop.

After that very strong core, however, there are a multitude of question marks. The only player who seems to have nailed down a starting spot so far is Cheryl Marion. The junior second baseman, who saw limited varisty time in 1983, has been impressive with both the bat and the glove in the early going. At present, the two infield and two outfield positions that remain are being hotly contested by a number of players including Suzanne Schuster, Dineen Nufrio, Michelle Petrillo, Cheri Tillman, Desiree Fazzini, Liz Goldrik, Debbie Patierno, Phyllis Bindi, Dena DiMedici, Karen Fulda, Trisha Tramutola, and Laura Caruso. The last two, freshmen Tramutola and Caruso, have shown the quality that will be one of the deciding factors in the fight for the starting lineup —versatility. They both play the infield and outfield, and one pitches and the other one can catch. Said Corino. "That versatility is going to be key this year, because I'm looking for the best athletes we have. Once they present themselves, the lineup can be juggled into position until we find the correct combination."

The coach is hoping that naming DeAquino and Buono as co-captains will have a stabilizing effect on this seam of underclassmen. In the past, all of the senior members were considered to have the responsibilities and duties of a captain, but with Buono and DeAquino as the only seniors this year, it was decided that

Rebuilding Campaign Awaits Golfing Squad

Rocco Colucci sees the 1984 golf season at Belleville as a rebuilding campaign. He has one exceptional player, a number of inexperienced, but dedicated players, and competing against a tough schedule, the coach is being realistic.

"We're going to have our problems." the coach said. "We have some good players, some kids with good attitudes and are willing to learn. We'll be playing hard, but we'll be up against more experienced teams than us."

Returning for his fourth season is senior Jimmy Apple. Colucci cannot say enough about this athlete. "He is a coaches dream. He has a great attitude, always listens and is good with the younger players. He is a hard worker, has really improved his game and is a mature athlete in all respects. He is a hellawa kid."

Apple has been steadily improving over the first three years of his career and last season, the hard work paid off with a third place showing in the NNJIL individual tournament. Apple is one off the reasons why Belleville has posted a very impressive 27-11 record over the last three seasons, all of which were under the tateloge of Colucci.

Colucci, also in his fourth year, also has junior Greg Simone and sophomore Brian De Furia returning to the lineup. Simone and Sophomore Brian De Furia returning to the lineup, Simone and Sophomore Brian both came on strong in the latter portion of the 83 campaign and both will carry a strong responsibility this year.

Junior Frank Riker is a candidate for the starting lineup and three first year players also are hoping to see action. Junior Brian Lewis, freshman Joseph Tower and freshman Frank Grea are all out for the first time and are looking for a shot at varsity competition.

The schedule will be difficult to say the least. The Bucs, who

The Bucs have been practicing at Hendrick Field and if the weather holds up for the next two weeks, the team should have enough practice time under their belt to start the new season with a good performance.

The Buccaneer boys' and girls' squads started off the 1984 season with a very strong showing, competing in the "Flicks" last weekend in Philadelphia and coming away with some very impressive showings. "It was very good for our first meet," said head coach Sam Giufrida, who enters his 20th season with the Belleville crew team. "We're a small team in numbers, but we have quality throughout. Everyone is doing a super job, everyone has an excellent attitude and I would say that everyone is thinking big for this season."

The "Flicks" is a new league that Belleville joined this spring, along with boathouse rivals. Nutley and Kearny. The teams will compete against some of the best squads in the Philadelphia area. "The competition is excellent," said Giuffrida. "This year, we'll be entering three of the flicks, next year, we're hoping for more. It gives us a chance to compete against some of the best teams in the area."

There are a few teams that Giuffrida admittedly says were special. For instance, the 1976 crew, a veteran team that tasted defeat only in the finals of the National championships. They were a group of very talented young men, both on the water and currently in the business world.

"I'd like to think that crew had something to do with the kids' success," said Giuffrida. "This year, that group qualifies for the (Belleville) Hall of Fame and I'm hoping it makes it. Of course, many fans will remember that in 1982, the girls' junior boat made school history by winning the Nationals. "I don't think that anybody was more proud of our girls than the boys on that team," said offurfrida. "But that's Belleville crew. It's something that Sam Giuffrida will never forget. The bond of friendship that was developed between athlete and coach, between the athlete and the water. It might have but sometime, it might have become frustrating, but the bottom line was that the athletes wanted to win and together, like a family, they did.

The Georgetown-Kentucky affair is being billed as perhaps the biggest game of the season, literally. Kentucky starts a front line that would have some NBA teams in awe. Georgetown, well you all know about them, Patrick Ewing and Cowho ran away with the Western Regional and advanced to the final four for the second time in three years.

How about Houston, who is in the Final Four for the third straight year and will attempt to win it all this season after being dunked on in the finals by N.C. State last March at the buzzer. If Akeem Olijuwan plays any way like he did against Wake Forest, I dan't think it will matter what Melvin Turpin, Sam Bowie, Ewing or Kentin Edelin do, there is no way Houston can be stopped.

Of course, if you're looking for a Ginderella team, look no further than Virginia. The Cavaliers, who had so much pressure during the Ralph Sampson days, have advanced to the final four without the Ya" giant. Can they beat Houston and keep the tide going? Doubtful. But they have made their mark and should be solid for years to come. Kentucky and Georgetown, a toss up, but Kentucky might have better balance and should win by a bucket. That leaves a final of Houston and Kentucky. If you're watching the game at home, make sure you're strapped into your seat because it will be a dandy. Phi Slama Jama versus the Twin Towers. Heard At Ringside

The boxing business is an entangled business at best or worse. Example: Behind the promotion of the Larry Holmes-Gerrie Coetzee fight is JPD Sports, Murad Muhammad and Cedric Kushner. And Mike Cohen of Mike Cohen Communications, who is handling the closed-circuit and pay-TV accounts. Cohen is also connected with Momentum Enterprises (promoters). Let's not overlook premoter Don King, who has an agreement with Coetzee to promote his first two defenses of the title (WBA heavyweight). Add to the above confusion, World Boxing Association (WBA) and International Boxing Federation (IBF) will each expect a sanctioning fee. Everybody wants to get in the act. The spokesmen for each of the above issues different press release versions of the progress, if any, about the above mess. We get the gut feeling this fight will never happen!

One of the nicest guys in the fight game is middleweight. Tony Sucro who grew up in Philadelphia and was a schoolboy football star at Mitchell Prep. Tony was offered a scholarship to Wake Forest to play football, but instead turned to boxing. He had a short amateur career, winning all four of his bouts. As a pro, Suero is 15-7-2. He is an aggressive fighter with a good chin who appeared headed for the big-time but never could master a defense. Perhaps he should not have turned down that scholarship as his future in boxing is limited.

Mike Jones, manager of the newly crowned WBC Junior welterweight champion Billy Costello of Kingston, N.Y. reported he has Billy signed for his first title defense against Ronnie Shields of Port Arthur. Texas, April 29. Location not selected. CBS Channel 2 will televise.

Dick Tobin, former New England heavyweight champion, is now a sergeant in the Miami Beach Police Department. The 6:3" Tobin is still in good condition at age 44. He visits the gymnasium and works out three times a week.

Ken Bonds of JP Sports and Murad Muhammad, copromoters of the fight that sheduled a mismatch between former WBA and WBC heavyweight champions John Tate and Larry Holmes booked to do so.

Promoter Don King notified the press Tuesday that Gerrie
Coetzee's WBA title defense against challenger Alfredo Evangelista on May 5 has fallen into the drain. King said he is interested in promotting a glove-duel between Coetzee and newly crowned WBC heavyweight champion Tim Witherspoon.

Her times on the Belleville Cross country course still stand and could last for a long time. In the autumn of 1981, Barbara Gundry became only the third gild in school history to break the 20-minute mark on the home course. Gundry, like Caruso, ran middle to upper distance in outdoor track. The 1982 girls' track team, the first under the leadership of Fuccello, posted a .500 record, the best mark to date for girls' track at BHS.

of Fucello, posted a .500 record, the best mark to date for girls' track at BHS.

Individually, Cecilia Graham won the 1981 Essex County Championships at Columbia High School when she cleared $72".adding another notch to a building program. Slowly, but surely, the team continues to improve. This year, Fuccello has approximately 30 runners uffor the team and the girls will need time and patience before they can expect to produce on the varsity level.
